We've learned this much about the second act of the Lions minstrel: Dr. H. H. Hicks, Harry Kelley, Otto Studer, H. L. Polley, R. R. Watson, and Roger McConnell have been seen gathering for secret practice on some kind of a stunt. We're still snooping on them.

Does Pampa wish a fling at professional baseball? The answer may be asked shortly in a very definite way. Baseball is being made cheap enough for a city of this size to support if it really wishes the sport. It's beginning to look as if Pampa is a football-golf town. What have the baseball fans to say?

KIPNAPERS TO BE PAID HUGE RANSOM SOON

DEAL IS LIKELY TO BE CLOSED OUTSIDE OF CITY

SAY ABDUCTORS KNOWN

CHIEF CLAIMS THAT HE KNOWS TWO BUT HOLDS NAMES

DENVER, March 1. (AP)—The Post said today a deal for the payment of the $60,000 ransom and the release of Charles Boettcher, 2nd, by his kidnapers at a city some distance from Denver will likely be consummated within the next 24 hours.

Two of the abductors of Boettcher, 2nd, are known, Police Chief Albert T. Clark announced as the sixteenth day of the capitivity of the young broker passed. Clark declined to name them.

Beyond this, the chief said, there are no new developments in the case, although his office is still checking numerous clues. One check is being made of hired workers for a reform movement in which Mrs. Anna Lou Boettcher, wife of the broker, was interested in the November election. Mrs. Boettcher told police she believed one of the men who kidnaped her husband resembled a man she had seen at campaign headquarters.

With police withdrawn from guard duty within the homes of the missing man and his father, Claude K. Boettcher the family hopes to be able to deal more freely with the extortionists who demanded $60,000 when they took the young clubman away about midnight February 12.

Cermak Likely To Recover Now

MIAMI, Fla., March 1. (AP)—Barring unforeseen developments, Mayor Anton Cermak of Chicago will recover from Giuseppe Zangara's bullet wound and the complications that followed it, his attending physicians announced today.

"Mayor Cermak definitely is on the upgrade now," Dr. Frederick Tice said. His lungs and heart sound good.

"Barring unforeseen circumstances, we now can say he will recover."

Dr. Karl A. Meyer and other physicians concurred in the statement.

Full chest examinations today showed a lessening of the pneumonic consolidation in the lower lobe of Cermak's right lung.

The colitis that caused some concern last week about Mayor Cermak's chances to recover has lessened considerably, and he now is able to take by mouth sufficient foods to sustain him. The kidney action also has improved.

RAISE IN CRUDE PRICE IS STILL EXPECTED HERE

Humble Lowers Price As Allowable Is Increased

THE percentage of proratable oil to be taken from Panhandle wells was increased from 9.34 per cent to 11.44 per cent this morning when the new schedule from the railroad commission office here became effective. The schedule was released yesterday.

Field allowable was increased from 41,000 barrels to the old allowable of 43,000 barrels. The field potential was set at 148,978 barrels. Only 1,844 wells in the field are producing.

Humble's cut in the price of crude yesterday afternoon came as a surprise and shock in this section. Their cut of six cents a barrel for Gray county crude and 11 cents a barrel for Carson and Hutchinson county crude was not anticipated, but conformed to the previous Phillips company reduction.

Indications last week pointed to a substantial increase in the price of crude. Many believe that the hike will still come through.

Northeast Moore county has been made a separate proration unit and as a result only nine wells remain in the Moore county field connected with the rest of the Panhandle in the schedule, which allows more oil to be produced from wells in the other counties. The Moore allowable was set at 1,500 barrels.

The schedule effective today shows 1,844 wells, of which 866 are marginal, 148,978 barrels allowable, 26,513 barrels marginal oil, 2,941 barrels exempt oil, 119,524 poratable oil, 43,000 barrels allowable.

Gray county's summary includes 814 wells, 239 of which are marginal, 108,649 barrels potential, 13,886 barrels marginal oil, 1,183 barrels exempt oil, 93,580 barrels proratable oil, and 25,641 barrls allowable.

Fort Worth Man Due To Visit Pampa In Campaign

CITIES in the Texas-New Mexico baseball league are still looking to Pampa to be the sixth city in the area to become a member of the league and round out the circuit. Wilbur Hawk, president, has declared that if the first ball is pitched in the league, the last ball of the schedule will also be thrown.

Mickey Shader of San Francisco, who has the franchise in Amarillo, and Jerry Malin, of the Amarillo News and secretary of the league, were in Pampa yesterday conferring with local ball fans. They also announced that Fincher E. Withers of Fort Worth, former owner and manager of teams in the East Texas and West Texas leagues, would like to come to Pampa to discuss plans for a team.

The Fort Worth oil man and baseball enthusiast is reported to have stated that if Pampa would give him a baseball park, he would give Pampa a winning baseball team. It is possible that Withers will be in the city tomorrow in time to visit with local backers of the idea. A league meeting will be held in Amarillo Sunday afternoon.

Roswell has practically decided to place a team in the league if Pampa comes to the front. That would leave Pampa, El Paso, Amarillo, and Lubbock in the Texas division and Albuquerque and Roswell in New Mexico.

Backers of the idea are thinking of calling a meeting to hear the new plans.

Borger's Drive For Boy Scout Fund Is Planned

Borger, like Pampa, will launch a Boy Scout finance campaign in a few days, it was said by Scout Executive C. A. Clark as he left for that city this morning to confer with adult leaders.

Pampa's drive will open Monday under Mr. Post's direction with a large group of solicitors seeking funds with which to finance the movement here. Announcements are being made at civic meetings and will be made at the churches Sunday.

Pampa is the center of a great Scout territory covering the fifteen counties of Cimarron, Texas, and Beaver in Oklahoma, Gray, Hansford, Hutchinson, Carson, Ochiltree, Roberts, Donley, Hall Lipscomb, Hemphill, Wheeler, and Collingsworth. District centers are located at Clarendon, Panhandle, Memphis, Wellington, Borger, Spearman, Follett, and Guymon.

The goal of the council this year is to enlist one of each four boys in the movement on reaching the age of 12 years and to keep these boys active for at least four years. Heavy enlistments are being made

SELECTION OF MISS PERKINS IS PROTESTED BY LABOR PRESIDENT

WASHINGTON, March 1. (AP)—William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor said in a statement today the officers and members of the federation were "keenly disappointed over President-elect Roosevelt's selection of a secretary of labor."

The statement by Green came after officials of the national league of women voters, the woman's party and other prominent women had joined in praising the selection of Miss Frances Perkins for the labor post.

Green said that "labor has consistently contended that the department of labor should be what its name implies and that the secretary of labor should be representative of labor, one who understands labor, labor's problems, labor's physchology, collective bargaining, industrial relations and one who enjoys the confidence of labor.

"In the opinion of labor the newly appointed secertary of labor does not meet these qualifications. Labor can never become reconciled to the selection made."

CHAMBLESS TO PLEAD GUILTY IN BANK CASE

ATTORNEYS FOR STATE INSIST ON 50-YEAR SENTENCE

FATHER IS WITH SON

JUDGE ASKS BOY HOW MANY YEARS HE SHOULD HAVE

FORT WORTH, March 1. (AP) — Rather than face a 35-year term in the penitentiary, Odell Chambless, 21, confessed robber of the Grapevine Home bank, decided to take his chances before a jury here today.

Chambless and Les Stewart, 20, were called for trial and agreed to plead guilty.

Assistant District Attorneys Wade and McGregor said a 50-year term would be the least they could offer, but C. C. Peters Jr. appointed to represent Chambless, objected.

The prosecutors agreed to lower the sentence to 35 years but, after a conference with the defendant, Peters asked for a jury trial. He said Chambless would plead guilty.

"What do you think you should get?" Hosey asked. Chambless replied: "I don't know, judge." "I know I've done wrong. I'll leave it up to you."

Stewart and his attorney, Levy Pressley, apparently decided to await the outcome of the Chambless case before deciding whether to ask for a jury.

In the court room with Chambless were his father, Joe Chambless of Pampa, and his sister, Mrs. Jean O'Dair of Wichita Falls.

Chambless is charged with the Grapevine robbery and with the theft of an automobile from Walter Hamilton of this city. The automobile was stolen on the morning of December 30, an hour or so before the bank holdup.

Little Theater Has Burlesque For Next Play

"Gold in the Hills, or The Dead Sister's Secret," is just what it sounds like: a burlesque comedy on stock company thriller of the '80s and '90s. It will be the next production of the Little Theater, and will be presented April 17 and 18, it was decided at a meeting of the board of directors of the Little Theater last night.

The play was highly recommended by Dick Hughes who saw it produced by the Denver Little Theater last week. It was also produced with great success by the Fort Worth Little Theater this year.

The play should prove to be the most amusing ever given here. It is replete with such lines as this, spoken by the villain, "Ah-ha, muh proud beau-ty! Now I have you in muh powah!" The author has crammed almost every favorite expression of the old-time melodramas into the play. The heroine sings "I'm Only a Bird in a Gilded Cage," and other sob tunes of the '90s. The scenes will include the Old Homestead (which is about to be sold to a mortgage-lusting Shylock) and an old-time bar-room. The play will have a big cast.

Two Pampans To Attend Inaugural

Pampa will be represented at the inaugural ceremony for President-elect Franklin D. Roosevelt and Vice-president John Nance Garner, by B. E. Finley, president of the First National bank, and Warren Moore, teacher at the high school.

Mr. Finley left yesterday. Mr. Moore is accompanying James Garner, nephew of Mr. Garner, to Washington. Mr. Garner will be remembered as a member of the high school faculty here during the last semester of 1931.

SENATOR WALSH AND BRIDE

"THIS is what you get my dear, for being the wife of a man in public life." So said Senator J. Walsh, who is to be Attorney General in the Roosevelt cabinet, as he and his bride smilingly posed for news photographers in Miami. The 74-year-old Senator and his wife, who is the former Senora Perez Chaumont, of Cuba, had flown to Florida within a few hours after the civil and religious marriage ceremonies had been performed in Havana.

MOTHER DIES WITH FIVE OF HER NINE CHILDREN AFTER RESCUING THREE FROM HER BLAZING HOME

TULSA, Okla., March 1. (AP)—In a vain attempt at rescue,, a mother was burned to death with five of her nine children in their little home at Sand Springs, suburb, this morning.

The dead:

Mrs. Ernest C. Kepner, 34, wife of a cotton mill worker.

Robert and Charlotte, her 13-year-old twins.

Jewell, 14 a daughter.

Wayne, 10, and Frank, 7, sons.

Three other children escaped the burning house or were rescued while Kepner and a 17-year-old son, Earl, were at work in the cotton mill.

A wood stove, left burning in the bedroom in which all the children were sleeping, was blamed for the fire by Fire Chief J. A. Taylor of Sand Springs.

When firemen reached the four-room house before dawn, the roof had caved in and adjoining houses were blazing. But it was daylight before the bodies were found, that of Mrs. Kepner near the door trapped apparently as she attempted to reach the bedroom, and those of the five children in the ruins of their beds.

Mrs. Agnes Wagoner, a neighbor, told investigators she was awakened by the crash of breaking glass as Magale, 18, oldest daughter of the Kepners, fought her way through a window, screaming:

Mrs. Earl Meade of Miami is a guest of her sister, Mrs. P. C. Ledrick.

SCHOOL BOYS LEAVE

Two school boys, H. B. Line and Bobby Carr, each about 13 years of age and small for their years, were being sought by their parents and officers today. They disappeared yesterday and meager clues indicated that they may have left for Colorado. The sheriff's department was attempting to trace them.

The governors of Tennessee and Kentucky declared bank holidays in their respective states today, but the proclamations were not mandatory and many financial institutions in both states gave evidence of their confidence and stability by remaining open as usual.

LOCAL "SCANDALS" OF REVUE TO BE REVEALED IN PRACTICE

Plenty of unreserved seats at 25 cents each will be available Thursday and Friday evenings at the Lions club minstrel show and musical revue, it was announced today.

AFTER resting yesterday, the cast of nearly 60 persons in the 1933 Lions minstrel show and musical revue will have its dress rehearsal tonight, for the performances to be presented Thursday and Friday evening at the city auditorium.

This rehearsal will reveal for the first time the "Lions Varieties" which have been prepared by Dr. H. H. Hicks, H. L. Polly, Harry Kelley, Otto Studer, R. R. Watson, and Roger McConnell.

It is reported that the "varieties" will be a series of brief black-outs in the form of sketches of local scandals. For this reason the plots have been kept secret.

"Varieties" will be the first part of the minstrel second part and will form a sharp contrast to the musical first part. To get back to the original theme, the club will present Miss Dorothy Doucette, John Sturgeon, Jackie Jones, and Clyde Fatheree in "music and mirth," then will come the grand finale. The entire show will not require more than 1½ hours. The curtain will rise at 8:15 p. m.

Ticket sales at Fatheree Drug No. 4 have broken all previous records. Those who wish reserved seats will have to get them immediately. There will be several hundred hundred unreserved seats at each performance. All proceeds will be used in the club's program for the underprivileged.

Fight Against Farm Baseball Lost by Landis

CHICAGO, Mar. 1. (AP)—The long fight of Baseball Commissioner Kenesaw M. Landis against the "farm" system, today was a lost cause, with the acceptance by the minor leagues of the transfer rule adopted last December by major league club owners.

The new rule will permit major league clubs to release a player on option three times and release him the fourth time to one of its farm clubs. The old rule, in the enforcement of which Landis went to court two years ago, permitted three optional releases, but the fourth release had to be outright to a club not affiliated with the major league team.

Landis contended that the new rule was illegal, until the minors accepted it. The minors were represented by Judge William G. Braham of Durham, North Carolina, president of the National Association of Minor League clubs. President William Harridge, Edward G. Barrow of the New York Yankees, and L. C. McEvoy of the St. Louis rBowns, sat in for the American league, and the National league representatives were President John A. Heydler, and Sam Breadon and Branch Rickey of the St. Louis Cardinals.

Landis successfully went to court to compel the Browns to release outfielder Fred Bennett, after he had been shifted about among St. Louis subsidiaries three times and was about to be optioned out again.

Tech Necessary Says Dr. Knapp

DALLAS, Mar. 1. (AP)—Dr. Bradford Knapp, president of Texas Technological college, told Forrest Avenue high school students today that Texas needs technical education to enhance her glory far beyond anything known before.

He explained the need for future leadership in his address, given at the opening "Texas Week" assembly at the school.

"A country has three things that go to make up its greatness," Dr. Knapp said. "First is natural resources, including climate and minerals, about which nothing can be done. Second is natural endowment of its people, little of which can be changed and only then very slowly. Third is that which is acquired, such as intelligence and skill and this is governable. It is education. Pointing out that cost of raw materials made up not more than 18 to 20 per cent of the finished product, Dr. Knapp urged technical training in Texas for turning that material into manufactures without sending them out of the state.

R. H. "Cowboy" Mumford, precinct deputy constable, underwent a critical operation in Pampa hospital yesterday afternoon. His condition this morning was somewhat improved.

Japanese Call Britain's Arms Embargo Foolish

By GLENN BABB.
Associated Press Correspondent.

TOKYO, Mar. 1. (AP)—The British government's embargo on new arms shipments to Japan and China has caused that country to momentarily replace the United States in the villain's role of the international drama as seen through Japanese eyes.

America's failure to follow suit was regarded as surprising.

Keen resentment at yesterday's announcement by Foreign Secretary Sir John Simon of Great Britain was manifested in official circles. Authorities, however, agreed Japan was self-sufficient and that the embargo would only handicap China.

As long as the embargo is impartial and confined to finished munitions there is little likelihood of trouble over it, said a government spokesman today. But if an embargo is applied to Japan alone the government will have to consider seizure of arms shipments to China, he said.

Bitterness caused by the embargo resulted in America's adhesion to the League of Nations advisory committee, charged with carrying forward attempts to settle the Sino-Japanese controversy, passing almost unnoticed.

Spokesmen had doubted if the British embargo would be effectuated unless America joined. The United States' abstention evoked some gratified comment although officials expressed the belief that America would have joined had Washington executives the same freedom of action as those of Great Britain.

There was evident uneasiness in both official and business quarters lest the embargo turn out to be merely the first of a series of actions bringing pressure against Japan, increasing in severity until they eventually culminate in full economic sanctions.

VALIANT DUST

by Percival Christopher Wren (Author of "BEAU GESTE")

SYNOPSIS: The Citadel of Mekazzen and the desert nearby seethe with intrigue. Inside the citadel the Kaid and his advisers plot with a stranger they believe is from Germany for help against France; not far away Major Napoleon Riccoli of the Foreign Legion schemes to betray France to the Kaid and the Kaid to Riccoli's own Napoleonic ambition. Margaret Maligni, English wife of an adviser to the Kaid is oppressed by the Citadel; she does not know that Otho Helleme her childhood sweetheart, is in Riccoli's command. Raisul, the Kaid's son promises his father many foreign troops.

Chapter 18

MORE PLOTS

"A PRINCELY gift, oh Raisul my beloved son," smiled the Kaid. 'But how shall that come to pass?"

"Have patience and give me a little time, and it shall come to pass, oh my father," assured Raisul in a tone of firm conviction. "Soon you will receive a strange letter from one who is commander of a column among them."

"Allah grant it, my son," replied the Kaid. "His men would be as leaven is to bread, as the forbidden liquor is to the water in which it is mixed . . . Among the mountains, behind rocks, my men are wolves, yea, our tribesmen are the best soldiers in the world. When charging they are swooping eagles, yea, the foot-men are as cavalry.

"Could we but get them to stand in line, to obey words of command, who could then withstand them? What foreign foot could tread the Country of the Gun? We could clear this land of them, and I would soon be Sultan of Morocco."

"You shall, oh Kaid," murmured Maligni.

"Insh'allah," whispered the Kaid, and rising to his feet, signified that the council was ended.

"Stay a moment, Raisul, my son," he added, resuming his seat, and, waiting till the hall was empty, continued,

"What is this talk of bringing me foreign soldiers, willing volunteers from the great regiment of strangers that fights for the French? Do you mock me, my son?"

"By Allah, I do not, oh my father," replied Raisul. "Hearken to plain facts—a tale I had not intended to tell you until it had proved its own truth.

"In Algiers, as was my business, I met an officer of the 19th army corps—from the island of Corsica—where once our ancestors ruled and had their watch towers and forts. I became his friend, lent him money and having helped him to spend it, lent him more.

"Women were his weakness, women and overwhelming ambition. 'There is a madness in his blood,' thought. I made myself necessary to him, and just when things were getting interesting he was sent to the Sahara. Soon I went to the Sahara—and soon he owed me more money . . . we grew ever more friendly and intimate, I learnt more and more of his ambitions, his hopes—yea, his intentions.

"The madness in his blood was increasing—and his weakness for women (of whom he had known too many) and his insane ambition. Sometimes he talked as one smitten of Allah. But only to me. He knew that at any moment I could ruin him, by prosecution for debt; knew that he was already absolutely in my power; so he cared not what he said, cared not what I knew—and he opened his mind to me.

"Then he got himself sent to Ain Broudja—and thence with a little desert column to where the borders of the French Sahara meet those of Mekazzen . . ."

"And had you a hand in this, oh Raisul my son?" smiled the Kaid.

Raisul's smile matched that of his father.

"A hand, my father? Nay, nay. But, perchance, a voice. A voice that was but a whisper—in his ear. Just a suggestion . . . or the hint of a suggestion—of a suggestion. Just a tiny seed in wondrous fertile, fruitful soil.

"An independent command—far, far away from superior authority, from observation—indeed, from any thought or care or interest in his doings or his fate.

"Who so keen and zealous an officer—who so devoted to his profession, his career and his country—as he who would volunteer, nay, beg, to be sent on such duty, establishing a chain of outposts at the very back of beyond, in the depths of the forsaken desert, in that roasting hell of loneliness, thirst, hardship and deprivation?

"This to his superiors. . . . A zeal that would ask for a station in hell.

"This to himself . . . A small, compact, self-contained and self-sacrificing army, at his absolute disposal. A nucleus for a greater army, an ever-growing army, a mighty army, such as that with which the Mahdi of the East swept down upon Africa, or Abd-el-Kader fought the French."

The Kaid stroked his beard as he closely watched Raisul's animated face.

"A moment, my son . . . You go too fast . . . This man is a foreigner, an officer of France in command of French troops . . ."

"And he would throw off his allegiance to France. He would use those troops for his own ends. He would lead them into this country, lead them here to Mekazzen city—and place them at your disposal, my father."

"By Allah!" cried the Kaid. "He would? He would? And you have brought this about, my son? I cannot believe it . . .

"No," he continued, "and if he did—what would be his true and hidden intention? What would he hope to gain? No. It is a trick, I say.

"On his part. On his part, I mean, my son," he added hastily.

"What would he hope to gain, oh my father? Power. Wealth. Freedom. Relief from the bonds of irksome discipline and the restraints of the slow promotion that will not make him a great and powerful man until he is an old and feeble one.

"As I showed him—by careless remark and casual hint—he could rise in a day from the rank of major to that of general, field-marshal, commander-in-chief, if he joined you, bringing a well-armed, well-equipped force with him—and found favor in your sight.

"And in truth he could be to you what Kaid Sir Harry Maclean was to the Sultan—and much more. In one brief campaign he could make you Sultan of Morocco, in another he could sweep the French and Spaniards into the sea. In another reconquer Algeria—with the help of the countless hordes of the Bedouin of the Sahara.

"Then Tunisia. And how long would the Italians resist in Tripoli—with the Senussi helping in their overthrow? The English in Egypt—that once great English people that now lets its Empire fall to pieces—how long? Then Africa for the Africans . . . Islam united . . . The Pan-Islamic Holy War against the usurping Infidel at last . . ."

"Led by this French officer, my son?" interrupted the Kaid.

"Led by you, oh my father—at the head of an army trained and taught and disciplined by this French officer, and drilled by the soldiers he will bring with him."

"And who will control him—even then he is but commander-in-chief of my present army, and has defeated the Sultan and conquered Morocco in my name?"

"I will, oh my father," was the prompt reply. "I will control him. And when he has outlived his usefulness, or his gratitude, his humble allegiance . . ."

Raisul drew his hand suggestively across his throat.

The Kaid nodded, smiled again, and stroked his beard.

"A great and battle-scarred boar of the mountain forests once invited a lion of the desert to enter into his secret grove and into a hunting partnership with him," observed the Kaid. "The lion of the desert agreed, and was led to the secret grove of the boar of the mountains . . . They entered into a partnership that day—and that night when the lion felt hungry, the boar entered into the lion."

"You have spoken, oh my father," smiled Raisul. "For you are the lion. This officer shall enter into your den and into a hunting-partnership with you, and when the time is ripe, you shall eat him up."

The Kaid sat silent for a few minutes, while Raisul watched him.

Suddenly he laughed his famous hearty laugh.

"Let him come, my son," he said. "And let him bring all that he can bring . . . but let him bring his command piece-meal, detachment by detachment, and not as a conquering army . . . Yea, let him come, and let him go again—when Allah wills."

"I do not think Allah will decree that he go again, oh my father," smiled Raisul, and, rising, respectfully took his leave.

AT THE SPRING TRAINING CAMPS

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 1. (AP)—Only two batterymen, Charley Ruffing and Bill Dickey, were unsighted as the New York Yankees prepared to open spring training activities today.

Of the 17 pitchers and catchers ordered to report today, 12 already were on the ground and two others, Vernon Gomez and Joe Glenn, were reported en route. Herb Pennock was given permission to remain away for another week.

Ruffing and Dickey, two important cogs in the machine, are engaged in a "hold-out" campaign.

Max Sees Rookies.

MIAMI, Fla., March 1. (AP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers have barely had time to loosen up their muscles in spring training camp but already two rookies have caught Manager Max Carey's eye.

They are Chick Outen, catcher, who was with Jersey City last year, and Charley Sheerin, outfielder, who was out of the game with a broken leg in 1932. Outen's hitting has been impressive in the few workouts the Dodgers have held so far while Sheerin has attracted attention through his fielding prowess.

Sens Busy.

BILOXI, Miss., March 1. (AP)—A hard working battery quartet is setting a snappy pace at the Washington Senators's training camp. It is composed of Luke Sewell, catcher, and Earl Whitehill, Walter Stewart and Jack Russell, newly acquired hurlers with something of a reputation already behind them for their pitching against Washington, New York, and Philadelphia.

Whitehill and Stewart, both left-handed, are looked to for effective work against the Yankees' five left-handed regulars. Russell probably will be a "spot" pitcher, Manager Joe Cronin said.

Miller Retains Feather Crown

LOS ANGEES, Mar. 1. (AP)—The National Boxing association feather-erweight crown rested securely on the head of Freddie Miller today after he easily repulsed Alberto ("Baby" Arizmendi, outstanding challenger from Mexico City, in 10 rounds.

Miller's first defense of his recently acquired title was climaxed with a gallery shower of bottles, fruits, peanuts and programs. This barrage from Mexican partisans was delivered with somewhat more effectiveness than the sensational rushes of Arizmendi, which seldom disturbed the cool headed southpaw.

The champion weighed 125 pounds and Arizmendi 125½.

Bowling Scores

The City League bowling race became more complicated Monday night as the Voss cleaners took two out of three games from the Kiwanis No. 2 and the Phillips boys, with handicap, won three straight from the Kiwanis No. 1. The games placed five teams in a huddle near the top of the list with the Kiwanis No. 1 team trailing.

Dean of Phillips rolled high game of the night, toppling 243 pins, and also high series with 587 pins. Phillips rolled a high game of 963 pins.

PRINCETON'S CRISLER KEPT CHECK ON BOYS IN SUMMER

Coach's Letters To Players Inspired Them to Hold Morale, and Keep Fit

(Note: In this, the second of a series of intimate stories on Princeton's comeback in athletics, Edward J. Neil describes methods installed by "Fritz" Crisler, the new athletic director.)

By EDWARD J. NEIL
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

PRINCETON, N. J., Mar. 1. (AP)—Suppose you're a big, husky fellow, a football player at Princeton, a hero in your home town, and the grind of the college year has ended.

Ahead lies a happy, carefree summer, perhaps, a little work. The hard bruising days when condition becomes paramount again lie off in the distance somewhere.

It used to be like that for men of Princeton, but those days have forever departed the new regime of Herbert Orrin "Fritz" Crisler. This tall, dark man from Minnesota, in one short year as athletic director and head football coach at Nassau, has rejuvenated the Tiger sports system.

It doesn't take long to discover that behind this is the personal power and magnetism of one man, "Fritz" Crisler, a simple system of training and teaching, and a psychological understanding of college boys that keeps them grinding for him, thinking, practicing, living football.

For example, last July each football candidate got a letter from Crisler, explaining how difficult was the task ahead, pointing out the reasons why they had failed; suggesting each practice specialties such as kicking, passing, catching, dodging.

A month later he checked all around on the conditioning work that had been outlined. The tone of his second letter was stiffer.

The men he wanted must be loyal fighters with a "superabundance of courage, determination, perseverance; conscientious, serious minded, hard working men; men with team enthusiasm, ready to study and work to develop every feature of their positions and the technique of play; unselfish, compionable, with plenty of enthusiasm and will to win."

Then a few weeks later he told them what types he could not use at all.

"In order that there be no misunderstanding," he baldly listed the undesirables who should stay far, far away from him as follows:

"Complainers, knockers, whiners, quitters; men who think they're not getting a square deal; men who get moody, discouraged and thereby hurt morale; those with an exaggerated opinion of themselves; selfish men; men who consider themselves hospital patients at every little bump they get; men who think they need a personal valet; those who leap to the easy assignments, slide over the hard ones; lazy, indifferent fellows who can't stand the gaff; shadow players who don't mix in the rough stuff; alibiers, social heroes; those satisfied just to be members of the squad."

To a man his squad snapped back from a busy summer mentally stimulated, in fine condition. They tied Cornell, Navy and Yale and almost overthrew Michigan.

West Texas Loop Plans Will Be Made On Sunday

AMARILLO, Mar. 1. (AP)—Final plans for the season and the posting of forfeit bonds of $500 will be arranged at the meting of club presidents in the newly organized West Texas-New Mexico baseball league, called by Wilbur C. Hawk, president, for next Sunday.

Amarillo, Albuquerque, N. M., El Paso and Lubbock already have signified willingness to start the league off in class D baseball.

Pampa, Roswell, N. M., and San Angelo baseball interests were reported considering membership.

BOXING BOUTS ARRANGED FOR TUESDAY NIGHT

WRESTLING MATCH AND FOUR FIGHTS ON PROGRAM

Pampa's first weekly athletic show will be held next Tuesday night in the Pla-Mor auditorium. Matchmaker Andy Andrews has arranged an all-star card that will include wrestling and boxing. Red Michael, local wrestler, will meet Tex Thrower, Borger ice-man, in a one-fall, 30-minute limit affair, to open the card.

The attraction will be 30 rounds of boxing headed by Fritz Stanke of Henrietta, Okla., but formerly of Pampa, and Kid Smith of Borger, who will go 10 rounds, or less. There will be one six-round bout and three four-round bouts on the card, which will start promptly at 8:30 o'clock. Admission will be 25 cents for children, 75 cents general admission, and $1 ringside seats. There will be no tax added.

Sammy Squyres, local boy, will meet Johnnie Peltz of Borger in the six-round semi-final on the big card. Squyres will weigh 155 pounds and Peltz 148 pounds. Grier Bowers, Clayton, N. M., and Virgil Eckroat of Borger have been matched for one of the four-round battles.

Tuffy Simons, Borger, and Roy Young, Perryton, will be the boys in the ring in the 100-pound class. The boxing show will open with Baby Martinez of Pampa and Kid Mex of Borger in action. They will weigh 75 pounds.

Matchmaker Andrews is trying to match Pug Grubbs of Borger and Kayo Kitchens of Fort Worth but formerly of Pampa, for the next big card.

Proceeds of the show will go to the American Legion.

Grid Aspirants Looking Well And Are Working Hard

Notice to Pampa football enthusiasts—It is a real sight to watch the 80 young football prospects work out on the Sam Houston playground every afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. Coach Argus Fox should have three or four more tongues and a couple of other sets of eyes to handle the bunch, but he is doing a remarkable job.

The boys have been out less than two weeks and already they are having light scrimmages. Two teams of little fellows battle with a will while a couple of teams composed of the bigger boys do battle on another part of the field. Coach Fox said yesterday that he believed there would be Harvesters of first-string ability among the boys.

The youngsters who have not played any previous football will be kept out for probably another week before the rest of the hopefuls are called to the colors. At that time the green squad will be cut to a minimum and hard practice will get under way.

The training period will be long and hard. Captain Jess Patton will be the only first string man to return. Seven substitutes from the 1932 squad will be back to fight for positions left vacant by graduation and the eight-semester rule. Gorillas of 1932 will also be battling for the same honors and an interesting time should be had by all.

Taylor County Women Operate A 'Raw' Market

ABILENE, Mar. 1. (AP)—Failing to get what they considered a fair price for their products "in the raw," farm women of Taylor county, through the aid of the county agents and some of the business men here, are now offering their wares two days weekly through the Taylor county farm homemakers' market, a co-operative effort for display and sale.

A building has been arranged in the business district, with booths for the individual, and practically everything for the family table is offered. The products were all produced and canned at home.

OFFICER MAKES TRIPS

Deputy Sheriff E. G. Stark went to Perryton to attend court today. Yesterday Sheriff C. E. Pipes and Deputy R. B. Stout made a business trip to Amarillo following a visit by W. B. Jones of Amarillo, chief special agent of the Santa Fe.

Over 175 Miles Road Now Needs Topping Badly

AMARILLO, March 1. (AP)—More than 175 miles of untopped caliche base highway construction in the Panhandle is threatened with serious and immediate damage unless the highway department makes provision for topping work to be done soon.

W. J. Van London, division construction engineer in charge of the Panhandle district, warned good roads enthusiasts at a meeting here that the topping should begin by March 15, and that every day the work is delayed after that date will add to the cost of putting the caliche base in shape to receive the topping.

Almost $1,000,000 has been spent in laying the caliche base for these highways, and the investment is threatened unless the highways are completed, Van London said, after being called into the meeting to advise what action should be taken. Deterioration, caused by high winds and heavy traffic, already is showing up in places, he said.

Nailpicker Has Made Good Haul

QUANAH, March 1. (AP)—A magnetic nailpicker of the state highway department has gone over the roads of Hardeman county. The operators state they do not pick up many nails on the paved highways, but on the dirt roads they "make their haul."

Between Kirkland and Childress they removed 700 pounds of nails, and on highway 4, north of Childress, 600 pounds. They stated they would probably not get nearly that amount here, as highways are paved across the county east and west, and north and south.

The mechanism of the nailpicker is simple. The electric magneto is behind an auto, about four inches above the ground, and magnetized by an electric motor. When sufficient nails adhere to the magnet a piece of canvas is put under it, the current shut off and the nails collected.

"Is Electricity PADLOCKED In Your Home?"

Electricity will make you wealthy in leisure—in comfort in happiness if you'll welcome its services into your home. But Electricity is like hoarded treasurer. It cannot be enjoyed so long as you keep it padlocked behind your walls. Put an electric outlet in every wall so that you may "plug in" your electrical servants quickly and conveniently.

In the living room, there should be outlets to provide a shaded reading lamp for every member of the family. In the kitchen, outlets are needed for a refrigerator, mixer, iron and an electric range. In the dining room, for a toaster, percolator, waffle iron, egg cooker and grill. In the bathroom, for a heater, sun lamp, vibrator and curling iron. The present low prices for extra outlets will surprise you. Call your dealer.

LESS BRILLIANT SOCIAL LIFE PREDICTED IN WASHINGTO

FUTURE FIRST LADY TO MAKE FUNCTIONS IN WHITE HOUSE AS INFORMAL AS POSSIBLE

CABINET WIVES ARE TO START CAREERS IN HOTELS

By BESS FURMAN

WASHINGTON, March 1. (AP)—An official social life less resplendent, more centered on home and family and distinctly more feministic was forecast by Washington today as the new administration began moving in.

Setting its swift and informal tempo will be the numerous, vigorous Roosevelt family in the White House—four generations of it.

For the most part cabinet wives will start their careers in hotel apartments that preclude entertaining of the type done by the Stimsons in stately Woodley.

Outstanding figure in the new social life, of course, will be the exceptional Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, artistocratic of birth, democratic of instinct, whose habit is to entertain at informal affairs and to make the new formal ones as informal as possible. She'll be assisted, on occasion, by pretty and vivacious Anna Dall and her daughter-in-law.

Home Is Stressed

Mrs. Roosevelt logically heads up a cabinet group more stressful of the "home and children" theme than has come here in many a quadrennium.

Herself a writer, she also meets that new note in the hiterto conservative cabinet circle—the "career woman" whose job cuts into mere social amenities.

There are three: Miss Francis Perkins, bona fide cabinet member with the labor portfolio; Mrs. John N. Garner, secretary as well as wife of the vice-president; tall, dark-haired Mrs. Harold L. Ickes, (wife of the secretary of interior), active republican member of the Illinois legislature.

Contrast Provided

In contrast with these professional women are two whose tradition has been to shun the limelight—that Virginian-bred socially-gifted pair, dark-haired Mrs. Cordell Hull, (state) and diminutive, blonde Mrs. Claud Swanson (navy).

Mrs. Hull is of the group—a majority—who with Mrs. Roosevelt and Mrs. Garner have declared for "as simple a social life as possible."

"Probably more interested in my six grandchildren than in thoughts of public life," Mrs. Woodin (treasury) was quoted as saying.

"Just an old-fashioned wife and mother who doesn't want any fuss made about her," was the description given of herself by Mrs. Daniel C. Roper (commerce) whose grown children number seven.

"Home and family always have been her chief interest to the exclusion of social functions," was the report of young Mrs. Wallace (agriculture), mother of Henry, Robert and Jean.

"Light, plump, jolly, full of life and ginger," was the word-picture for Mrs. Farley (postoffice department), said to be far more actively interested in her two girls and one boy than in politics.

More feministic, Mrs. Dern (war) was listed as former Utah regent of the Daughters of the American Revolution and once the democratic national committeewoman of that state. Her two daughters, three sons are grown. And she has grandchildren.

Colorful among the cabinet wives will be the beautiful Cuban bride of Attorney General Walsh, called "Mina the Magnificient" in Havana. Socially brilliant also are her two Cuban daughters, and Senator Walsh's daughter, Genevieve—Mrs. Emmet Gudger—is a hostess of rare charm.

Albany Hereford Show, March 10-11

ALBANY, Mar. 1. (AP)—Plans for the annual Hereford show and sale, and a cured meats show here March 10 and 11 have been announced. The opening day will be given over to an exhibition of baby beef produced by 4-H club boys in Shackelford county.

The event is sponsored by the Shackelford County Hereford Breeders association, a pioneer among cattle associations in Texas. At least 34 head from the best strains of Herefords will be offered on the block.

The cured meats department of the show is sponsored by County Agent D. F. Eaton and Home Demonstration Agent Mille H. Halsey. Prizes for canned and cured meats are to be offered, and extensive displays are being arranged.

NOT ALL RETIRED

COLEMAN, Mar. 1. (AP)—Uncle Sam hasn't retired all the large-sized paper currency.

Evidence was presented by payment to the Coleman County Loan and Building company by a Santa Anna woman of an $800 debt, for which the old-style bills, out of general use since 1929, were used.

The payment included four $100 bills, four 50's, ten 20's and one $100 note printed in the 80's.

TO ALL CONCERNTD

We wish to thank our many friends for their help and assistance in replacing our home and furnishings which were destroyed by fire February 20, 1933.

Plans Formed For St. Patrick Party

Plans for a St. Patrick's day party were made by the Glad Girls' class of the First Baptist church at a meeting Monday afternoon in the home of Mary McKamy.

Those at the meeting were Alvada Gilcrease, Christine Dickinson, Ella Harmon, Georgiana Gray, Waldean Dickinson, Anna Mae Gotcher, Hattie Margaret Harwell, Hildred Brake, Ethel Hamilton, Inez Sumner, Helen Jo Daugherty, Mrs. R. L. Edmondson, and the hostess.

Council of Clubs To Plan Function

Dues are to be paid at a meeting of the Council of Clubs tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock in the club rooms at the city hall, and plans will be continued for the open house which has been set tentatively for March 23.

This meeting will be preceeded at 8:30 by a meeting of the executive board.

Baked Food Sale Will Be Saturday

The Madonna and Dorcas classes, Central Baptist church, are to have a baked food sale of home-made cookies, pies, and cakes at the Furr Food Stores March 4. Members ask that persons get their cakes early.

Plans for the sale were made at a recent meeting of the Dorcas class, when plans also were made to give a farewell party for one of the members.

Chief Secretary To Ford Found

DETROIT, March 1. (AP)—Ernest G. Liebold, Henry Ford's chief secretary, was coming home today from an unannounced "vacation" that had the entire state hunting him for nearly 24 hours.

He had not been seen or heard from since 11 a. m. Monday, anxiety was growing and searching parties laboriously were following his trail northward when he telephoned from a Traverse City, Mich., hotel last night to say he was all right but "very tired."

For two weeks Liebold, who is entrusted with most of the Ford fiscal policies, had been working literally night and day on Detroit's tangled banking situation. During the latter part of that period his labors had been intensified by the apparently imminent entry of the Fords into the banking business.

Last night he told Harry Bennett, chief of the Ford service department, to whom he first talked, that "I am worn out—mentally exhausted."

"I didn't know what I was doing," Bennett said Liebold told him. "I couldn't think of anything but to get away from everything. I wanted to drive and drive—somewhere to get some rest."

Later he talked with Henry and Edsel Ford.

ExSlave, Now a Farmer Asks Loan

HOUSTON, Mar. 1. (AP)—An 85-year-old ex-slave, Warren Hill, Sr., is among the Fort Bend county farmers seeking help from the reconstruction finance corporation.

Hill wants a $60 loan to aid him in cultivating his 30-acre Brazos bottom patch. The land, clear of all debt, represents more than half a century of struggle against floods, drouths and storms.

He was born in 1847 in Rappahannock county, Va.

C. L. Baker of San Angelo is visiting friends here this week.

Mrs. Joe Mullins of Pure camp was a Pampa visitor yesterday.

TOO BUSY TO SEE GAMES

MARGARET Honahue, above, secretary of the Chicago Cubs, is the only woman holding an elective executive position in the big leagues. Her success in handling the weekly "ladies' days" gained her her job.

CHICAGO, March 1. (AP)—The only woman in the United States holding an executive position in big league baseball never gets to see her team play—although she's at the ball park practically every day of the season.

Miss Margaret Donahue, secretary of the National league champion Chicago Cubs, used to see a lot of ball games when she was just a stenographer for the Bruin organization.

But for the last six years—as cub secretary—she has been on the job at the Wrigley field office, within earshot of the crowd's roar but too busy to watch the ball field goings on herself.

Miss Donahue's rise to a position of importance in baseball is "a success story" that ties in closely with the success story of the Cubs in becoming, in recent years, the National league's "best-drawing" club.

"Miss Donahue joined our then modest office force in 1919 as a stenographer," said President William Veeck, "and for awhile she just about constituted a whole office force herself.

"As we expanded she become boss of all the girls. Then our 'ladies' days' began to get tremendously popular, and she handled that work in such enthusiastic and efficient manner that she became an invaluable cog in the organization.

"When John Seys resigned as secretary to become vice president in charge of concessions, Miss Donahue was elected secertary of the corporation and has thoroughly proved her qualifications for the job.

"Not only is she unique in being the only woman to hold an elective secretaryship to a big league club, but I doubt if anyone in baseball knows and is known to as many regular fans—via telephone and correspondence—as Miss Donahue," the Cub president said.

"DARKIES" SERVE EASTERN STAR MEMBERS AT PARTY ON MONDAY

Dressed as darkies and in black clothing, Mrs. W. C. Mitchell, Mrs. Roy Sewell, Mrs. P. W. Beck, Mrs. Katie Vincent, and Mrs. W. B. Murphy played the roles of humble servants in entertaining the Order of the Eastern Star Monday evening in the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Grove. The event was the culmination of a contest, in which the hostesses were on the losing side.

A variety of games was enjoyed, and refreshments of cherry pie, topped with whipped cream, and coffee were served.

The following attended: Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Donnell, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Manson, Mr. and Mrs. P. W. Beck, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Hankhouse, Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Gomillion, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Hoffman, Mr. and Mrs. W. Wilkes, Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Sunkel, Mr. and Mrs. Luther Pierson, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Sewell, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Grove, Mr. and Mrs. M. P. Downs, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Murphy; Mesdames W. C. de Cordova, Katie Vincent, Artie Shepherd, W. C. Mitchell, W. B. Murphy, Charles W. Hester, and S. A. Burns, Dr. W. A. Seydler and O. M. Anderson.

Official Family Of Roosevelt Is Now Completed

HYDE PARK, March 1. (AP)—President-elect Roosevelt completed the selection of his official family today and with a serious mind and light heart turned toward the White House.

He picked "Louis, Mac, and Steve" for his secretariat—Louis M. Howe, senior secretary, and Marvin H. McIntyre, of Kentucky, and Stephen T. Early, of Virginia, as his other chief aides in the White House.

The cabinet was completed officially last night with the announcements of Miss Frances Perkins, New York state commissioner of labor, as the secretary of labor and Daniel C. Roper, of South Carolina, as secretary of commerce.

So far as immediate appointments are concerned, Mr. Roosevelt has finished his task and has summoned himself with trusted friends.

He will carry on the present White House staff that has continued through past democratic and republican administrations—Rudolph Foster as executive clerk; Pat McKenna, as executive office doorkeeper, and Edwin H. Hoover, as head usher. These are men who know American officialdom and how to keep the wheels spinning smoothly at the White House.

Mr. Roosevelt planned to leave late today by automobile for New York to spend the night.

R. M. Caldwell of Tonkawa, Okla., is a Pampa visitor for a few days.

Oran Speer of Alvard, Okla., is transacting business here this week.

Inauguration Will Be Busy Time For Future First Lady

NEW YORK, March 1. (AP)—For Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt the social activities incident to the inauguration of her husband will not be confined to next Saturday, inauguration day.

They will start at 2:30 p. m. Friday, and between that hour and midnight she will attend two receptions, call with her husband at the White House, receive President and Mrs. Hoover at the Mayflower, attend a formal dinner and a concert, make a speech, and finish the evening at a formal reception.

Her program the following day will begin with a church service at 10:15 a. m. and end after midnight at the inaugural ball. During the afternoon and early evening she will be hostess at the White House to more than 2,500 guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Roosevelt will arrive in Washington Thursday evening.

Kellogg Cereal Is Distributed Here

Local people who were surprised by appearance of a Western Union boy at their doors yesterday—thinking perhaps that grandma had died—learned that they were to receive a box of the new popped cereal, "Wheat Krispies."

This new cereal is made by the Kellogg company of Battle Creek, Mich. The company has an advertising campaign on here to introduce the wholesome breakfast food.

Canyon Museum To Be Accepted Early in March

CANYON, March 1. (AP)—The museum of the Panhandle-Plains historical society will be completed and accepted by the state and the society early this month.

Judge Henry Paulus, Yoakum; J. E. Hill, Amarillo, and Jack Josey, Houston, all members of the state board of Teachers college regents, will represent the state in inspecting and accepting the building, and a committee not yet named will represent the historical society.

Although the museum is rapidly nearing completion, it will not be open to the public until after April 14, the date set for its dedication and the annual meeting of the historical society.

When workmen leave the building all the time up to the dedication will be needed to move the exhibits and get them arranged in the new quarters.

EL PROGRESSO ASSEMBLES IN LEDRICK HOME

PLACES OF PATRIOTIC INTEREST ARE DISCUSSED

EL PROGRESSO club voted yesterday afternoon to cooperate with other clubs of Pampa in giving a kitchen shower for the club rooms at the city hall.

The meeting, held in the home of Mrs. P. C. Ledrick, was featured by a program on the Potomac region given under the direction of Mrs. H. L. Ledrick.

Mrs. Ledrick spoke on the beauties of Washington and their history. She told of the Washington monument, which was started in 1848 and completed in 1884, and of the Lincoln memorial. She stated that each of the 36 colonnades of the memorial represented one state, and that the collonnades were the largest of their kind in the world. She also discussed Arlington cemetery, which was started during the civil war and which contains the bones of 2,111 soldiers picked up during the civil war. She showed pictures to illustrate her talk.

Mrs. William M. Craven gave a timely paper on the most interesting of the women who have inhabited the White House. Most of her paper is to be printed in The NEWS this week.

The hostess served a salad course at the close of the meeting.

Places of interest were given in answer to roll call by Mesdames John V. Andrews, George W. Briggs, J. M. Dodson, William M. Craven, T. D. Hobart, C. T. Hunkapillar, H. L. Ledrick, P. C. Ledrick, Carson Loftus, J. M. McDonald, Charlie Thut, and George Walstad.

Mrs. Earl Meade of Miami was a visitor.

'The Queen City Of The Plains'

—GEORGE TYNG

(Note: In recent years The NEWS has been besieged with requests, especially from "newcomers" and school students, for information dealing with the early history of Pampa. What is usually referred to as the "younger generation" has shown a lively curiosity in the early days in this commmunity. To satisfy this interest The NEWS has compiled a series of articles which will be published, beginning today in installments. The information has been gathered from old-timers and records, and is as accurate as the memories of the pioneers and the contents of those records.)

The Santa Fe railroad, built across Gray county in 1787, left what is now Pampa in its wake. Before that time there was nothing here that resembled a town, and the cattle, the wind and the cowboys roamed unhampered over the plains. Pampa's first resident was T. H. Lane and he lived here continuously from 1888 until his death in 1931. Much of the early history of Pampa was obtained from Mr. Lane before his death.

When Mr. Lane came here, the place, for it was only a place, and not even a wide place in the road because there were not any roads, was known as Glasgow. From 1891 until 1893, the place was known as Sutton. When the Santa Fe laid its track through Pampa in 1887, the stop was named Glasgow; though why it was given that Scottish name has never been revealed by the Santa Fe. Mr. Lane suggested that the men who named it were probably born in Glasgow, Scotland. At that time there was a town in western Kansas by the name of Glasgow, and freight shipments meant for this place were often unloaded at the Kansas town.

Irked, Santa Fe officials changed the name of the stop to Sutton. Almost immediately it became known there was a town in Southwest Texas as called Sutton, because freight shipments meant for Pampa were sent to that village. This kept up for three years, and thoroughly exasperated by that time, the Santa Fe accepted the suggestion of George Tyng and named it Pampa. Mr. Tyng was fond of saying that some day Pampa would be the "queen city of the Plains."

Mr. Tyng had traveled over most of the world before he came to this section. When he was 14 years old he ran away from home and went with another boy to Germany on a frieghter. He had seen the Argentine pampas in the course of his travels and the similarity of the Panhandle plans prompted him to give the name of Pampa to this town. Mr. Tyng was manager of the White Deer Land and Cattle company in the Panhandle for 16 years—from '87 to 1903, and the early history of Pampa is almost inextricably bound up with the history of the White Deer Land and Cattle company.

Mr. Tying must have been a man with a powerful and sympathetic personality. Old timers who live on the pampas now speak of him with a reverence that is born of a high type of personal and intimate friendship. The old timers will tell you that when Mr. Tyng would come into town from the White Deer headquarters he would meet a friend with, "Well, is there any of the boys in town we know—who's here?" And as he walked up the street he would assemble all his friends and take them to dinner. Mr. Tyng was sent to perfect the titles to the White Deer land and it took him 16 years to do it. It was a gigantic task. The Franklin Land and Cattle company started its ranch here in 1882. It became the White Deer Land and Cattle company in 1886 when the bondholders took possession. B. B. Groom of Franklin, Ky., was the chief holder in the Franklin company. Thousands of Franklin cattle—60,000 at one time—grazed over this section when the White Deer company took possession. Mr. Tyng had no love for cattle and he disposed of them as quickly as he could. He foresaw an agricultural empire in the Panhandle. "I never owned a cow and I hate the man who owns one," was a favorite if jocular remark of his, because Mr. Tyng never hated any man. When Mr. Tyng left in 1903, the White Deer land titles had been partially perfected.

John Wheeler of Tulsa transacted business here yesterday.

Bridge Refreshments

Creamed Fish in Ramekins
Parsley Garnish
Irish Rosettes*
White Frosted Layer Cake
Coffee
(* Recipes given below)

Hollandaise Sauce

(For Green Vegetables or Fish)

1 tablespoon butter	Salt, pepper, cayenne
1 tablespoon flour	1 egg yolk
½ cup milk	1 tablespoon lemon juice
4 tablespoons mayonnaise

Melt butter in double boiler over low flame. Add flour and stir to a smooth paste. Add milk gradually, stirring constantly. Add seasonings. Slowly add egg yolk, beaten and mixed with a little of the sauce. Continue stirring and add lemon juice. Then add mayonnaise. Remove from fire. Serve with cooked green vegetables or fish. Makes 1 cup sauce.

Green Vegetable Salad

1½ cups cooked string beans	1½ cups cucumber, dice
1½ cups cooked new peas	1 teaspoon onion, finely chopped

1/3 cup mayonnaise

Cut cooked string beans lengthwise and then crosswise in ¾-inch pieces. Add cooked peas, cucumber, and onion, and marinate in French dressing 30 minutes in ice box. Serve on crisp lettuce with mayonnaise as garnish. Serves 6.

Avocado and Grapefruit Salad

½ cup mayonnaise	2 avocados
3 tablespoons cream, whipped	2 cups grapefruit sections
	Endive
	Green pepper

Fold mayonnaise into whipped cream until thoroughly blended. Peel avocados and cut each lengthwise into 16 strips. Marinate in French dressing 30 minutes in ice box. Place alternately 4 strips of avocado and 3 sections of grapefruit on 5 crisp stalks of endive for each serving. Garnish top of each grapefruit section with tiny green pepper strip. Serve with mayonnaise and cream mixture. Serves 8.

Irish Rosettes

¼ cup mayonnaise	1 loaf sandwich bread
2 packages (6 ounces) cream cheese	Sweet pickles

To mayonnaise add cream cheese and blend thoroughly. Remove crusts and slice loaf of bread lengthwise. Spread lightly with cream cheese and mayonnaise mixture. Place a whole sweet pickle across end of each slice and roll bread around pickle. Wrap tightly in waxed paper and put in ice box. When ready to serve, cut in slices like a jelly roll.

Auxiliary Asks Adequate Defense

The women of the American Legion auxiliary have been increasingly active this year in support of an adequate defense for the United States. Thousands of addresses on the need of maintaining an adequate national defense were made by speakers, speaking under auxiliary auspices. Hundreds of national defense meetings open to the public were sponsored by auxiliary units. Units assisted in enrolling cadets for the Citizens' Military Training camps. Essay contests on national defense were conducted. The auxiliary was co-sponsor of a national women's conference on national defense and promoted similar conferences in eleven states.

LIBERTY IS 'METALLIC'

ROME—Filippo Tomaso Marinetti, author famed as the father of Futurism, has tried something new—a book printed on tin.

It is entitled "words on the Liberty of Futurism as Regards Touch, Heat and Smell. "Liberty," says the author, "is too sacred a word to be printed on paper. It demands a metallic elasticity."

The pages are of very light, bendable white tin. The printing is in black. Illustrations are in brilliant tri-color.

FEE REPORTS MADE

Complicated fee reports have been made by Gray county officials who are paid under the fee statutes. These reports are necessarily incomplete because of delinquent fee accounts, and most of the officials will not know for several months or even years what their actual income was last year. Incomes were smaller than usual last year in most cases.

WOULD REFORM BOYS

Boys' work committees of local civic clubs will be asked by County Judge C. E. Cary to assist him in aiding lads who have drifted into trouble because of bad associations or poor home environment. In some cases, the clubmen will have opportunities to find work for the boys. The advice of older men and the influence of adult minds are greatly needed in juvenile court activities, Judge Cary said today.

RELIGION FOR SOVIET STATE IS DISCUSSED

MRS. VICARS DIRECTS PROGRAM AT HOME OF MRS. FISHER

"THERE is something darkly fascinating about a nation's attempt to abolish God," said Mrs. Edwin S. Vicars in leading a program on religion in Russia when the Twentieth Century club met in the home of Mrs. R. B. Fisher yesterday afternoon.

Mrs. Vicars asked the following questions: Will they succeed in abolishing God? Will they really prove that we believe in God only because we have been taught to do so and that man is not fundamentally religious? Or, once their immediate wants are satisfied, will they find deeper wants which bread will not satisfy or scientific materialism explain? Will they learn that man cannot live without God?

Assisting Mrs. Vicars were Mrs. F. M. Culberson, who spoke on the Vatican and the Kremlin, and Mrs. H. H. Hicks, who used as her subject The Struggle for the Russian Soul.

A business meeting was presided over by Mrs. Raymond W. Harrah, and a social half-hour was held, during which Mrs. Fisher served pecan pies with whipped cream, coffee, and mints.

Current events were given in answer to roll call by Mesdames Lynn Boyd, Clifford Braly, W. A. Bratton, I. E. Duncan, R. B. Fisher, J. M. Fitzgerald, Raymond W. Harrah, H. H. Hicks, I. B. Hughey, Paul Kasishke, T. E. Rose, A. R. Sawyer, W. J. Smith, H. Otto Studer, John F. Sturgeon, and Edwin S. Vicars, W. R. Campbell, and F. M. Culberson.

Utilities Bill Given Favorable Report in Senate

AUSTIN, March 1. (AP)—A bill providing for an elective public utilities commission of three members to supervise operation of concerns providing public service of all kinds has been reported favorably by the the house committee of municipal and private corporations.

The new commission would perform some of the duties now falling to the Texas railroad commission.

A bill setting up the natural resource commissions to take over some of the work of the railroad commission previously had been reported favorably. The oil and gas commission would supervise administration of the conservation laws, now under the railroad commission.

Under the public utilities bill, cities would have original jurisdiction over rates, with the commission's services limited to appellate jurisdiction. When asked to do so the commission would lend assistance to cities in making valuations of utilities for rate-making purposes.

The three commissioners would be appointed by the governor, but beginning in the election of 1934 they would be chosen by the voters. Their salaries would $6,000 annually each.

The commission would be supported by a tax of one-fourth of one per cent levied on gross receipts of the utilities supervised by it, including gas pipe lines, gas distributing systems, electric power, and telephones and telegraph. Municipal plants would not be subject to supervision by the commission.

DUMAS INVITES SINGERS

Pampa singers have been invited county, to attend an old-fashioned singing convention March 5 at the high school.

S. H. Haile, secretary of the chamber of commerce ,wrote that "we will appreciate very much if you will lbe here with a large delegation of high-powered singers from your territory and we will try to take care of you at the noon hour, as we will have dinner on the ground and will try to feed everybody who comes." The letter was addressed to George Briggs.

C. F. Scudder of Amarillo, district plant chief of the Southwestern Bell Telephone company, was here on business today.

Clinton Freeman of Skellytown was a Pampa visitor last night.

TRIAL OFFER AT DRUGGISTS' ON NEW MOUTH-WASH THAT SAVES HALF THE USUAL COSTS

It's the year's big news for millions of people who use a mouth-wash—a new antiseptic by makers of Vicks VapoRub — which does everything that any mouth-wash or gargle can and should do—at half the cost!

So that people everywhere could prove for themselves the quality and amazing economy of Vicks Voratone—five million trial bottles were supplied to druggists below cost . . . a 25c value for 10c! The demand, however, has been enormous and many druggists report that their stocks are exhausted. If your own druggist's supply has gone, do not hesitate to get the regular 10-ounce size of Vicks Antiseptic. It is an even bigger bargain.

Furthermore, every bottle is sold with this positive guarantee. If, after a week's trial you are not delighted with the quality and the economy of Vicks Antiseptic, return the unused portion and get your money back.

You can use Vicks Antiseptic in your usual way for all your customary uses . . . to counteract bad breath . . . as a daily mouth-wash or gargle.

In addition, Vicks Antiseptic has this unique advantage over other quality antiseptics. Born in a depression year, it is priced accordingly . . . big 10-ounce bottle . . . a usual 75c value . . . for only 35c. ad.

Teachers Visit After Business Session Tuesday

Teachers and officers of the beginners' department of the First Baptist church met in the home of Mrs. Charles Kentling Tuesday afternoon. Problems of the department were discussed, and a complete report of work accomplished during the last six months was read by the secretary. Each lesson for March was sketched by the superintendent.

At the close of the meeting, refreshments of cake, sandwiches, and cocoa were served, and the entire group left to make visits in the homes of the sick and absentees. The first place visited was the home of Mrs. G. R. Cecil, a former teacher in the beginners' department, and the new arrival, little Peggy Joyce Cecil, was presented a lovely gift by each member.

Those attending were Mesdames Frank Eastup, Charles, Zermial, A. L. Lee, R. L. Young, H. C. Price, B. B. Yates, Victor H. Taylor, Chas. Kentling, Henry T. Cox, and Miss Meda Cox.

The next meeting will be in the home of Mrs. A. L. Lee, 1009 Twiford street, at 2 o'clock March 28.

Burl Willis of Borger transacted business here Tuesday.

OLD RUSSIA IS CONSIDERED BY CULTURE GROUP

MRS. C. L. CRAIG NEW MEMBER; MRS. JNO. GLOVER LEAVES

A SERIES of five programs based on Russia was begun by members of the Twentieth Century club yesterday afternoon at a meeting in the home of Mrs. F. Ewing Leech.

The club began with a study of Old Russia. On March 14 it will continue with a study of the revolution, the collapse of old institutions, and new leaders for old, while the following program will be devoted to a study of the triumph of communism, the relation of the new Russia to education and religion, and the relation to family life. Economic progress later will be studied, and the final lesson will deal with the debatable subject, "What shall we do with Russia?"

Russian provinces were given in answer to roll call by Mesdames O. H. Booth, C. S. Boston, E. M. Conley, John Glover Clyde Gold, Olin E. Hinkle, H. D. Keys, C. E. Lancaster, R. S. Lawrence, F. E. Leech, Marvin Lewis, A. M. Martini, L. N. McCullough, T. F. Morton, A. G. Fost, Philip R. Pond, C. H. Schulkey, J. Powell Wehrung, E. C. Will. Miss Jerry Young of Mangum, Okla., was a guest.

Mrs. E. M. Conley opened the program with a concise contrast of the lives of peasants and the nobility. She gave three viewpoints regarding the situation in Russia—that of the nobility, the peasants, and neutral persons. The luxurious living of the nobility and the bare existance of the peasants seemed all the more extreme when compared with the other. The peasantry and the nobility had one thing in common, she pointed out—both were thrust into a new life for which they were wholly unprepared.

Mrs. Clyde Gold read a comprehensive paper on the education, art, and religion of Russia. She stated the three chief dialects—great Russian, little Russian, and white Russian.

The economic and governmental position of Russia was described in a paper by Mrs. T. F. Morton, leader of the lesson.

Announcement was made of a new quartet, Mrs. Conley, Mrs. Martini, Mrs. Morton and Mrs. McCullough, to represent the club. Mrs. Glover, who is to move to Clarksville this week, submitted her resignation to the club, and Mrs. C. L. Craig, who has been on the waiting list, will automatically become a member.

Sweet peas, which were a gift from Mrs. Tom C...on, adorned the living room, and Mrs. Leech served attractive plates of salads and ices.

LONG DRIVE RECALLED

DALHART, Mar. 1. (AP)—Civilization's march westward was recalled recently when Mon D. Thaxton and Cecil Gullett and his family moved to Dallam county from near Lamesa in a covered wagon and on horseback.

The 300-mile drive was made in 18 days, across ranches and almost virgin agricultural lands. Eighteen horses and three milch cows made the overland trek behind the covered wagon.

Charles Puckett of Miami was in the city this morning.

Legislative Redistricting During This Session Appears Improbable

AUSTIN, March 1. (AP)—While the legislature may pass a congressional redistricting bill before the end of this session, chances for legislative redistricting in accordance with the 1930 census appear remote.

The constitution provides that Texas shall be redistricted into state senatorial and representative districts after each census. The 42nd legislature failed to assume the responsibility of redistricting. Present indications are that the 43rd legislature will do likewise.

Senator Archie Parr of Benavides introduced a bill to provide for senatorial redistricting. The committee on senatorial districts voted against the proposal, 6 to 2. That was the only senatorial redistricting bill which had been offered in the senate.

Many members of the house were opposed to redistricting of the representatives until a constitutional limit is placed on the number from large cities. Representative Moffett of Chillicothe was seeking submission of a constitutional amendment to limit the number of representatives from any county to six. If the state were redistricted on the basis of the last census, Harris, Dallas, and Bexar counties each would be entitled to more than six representatives.

Many population inequalities exist among the various representative and senatorial districts. For example the 119 representatives district, comprising Gaines, Dawson, Yoakum, Terry, Lynn, Cochran, Hockley, Lubbock, and Crosby counties, contains 190,279 people. The average for each district is only 38,831. Ellis county with a population of 53,936, has two representatives.

Senator Parr has approximately 360,000 people in his district along the Mexican border. The average population for each senatorial district is approximately 188,000. Several districts in East Texas have smaller population than that.

Massacre of Foes Of Hitler Rumored

BERLIN, March 1. (AP)—There were no signs today to give credence to wild rumors that the week-end would bring a terrible fate to the foes of Chancellor Hitler. These rumors, circulating in European capitals, appeared based on the recent orders issued by Minister William Goering to Prussian police to protect nationalisitic groups such as the Nazi storm troops and steel helmet war veterans and to ruthlessly suppress others.

The London Herald reported what it called a plot of Hitlerites in Germany to "carry out during the coming week-end the most staggering massacre the world has known." It said "all progressive leaders and Jews" in large Prussian towns were already listed as intended victims. The London Times said "the threat of a general massacre. . . . cannot be treated so lightly now that the Prussian police have been reinforced by Nazi bands."

B. B. Wrikht of San Antonio is visiting here this week.

CONTRIBUTOR'S DAY

Contributions will make up the rest of this column. First comes M. D. Sloan, deputy collector for the department of internal revenue, who says he will be in Pampa March 3 and 4 to help those who are required by law to file income tax reports. To avoid payment of interest and penalties, income tax returns must be filed not later than March 15, and Mr. Sloan will assist with or receive such returns. He will be at the city hall both days. Don't forget the date of his coming.

RUFE KNOWS CHILI

Mrs. Pampan hands us the following:

The cooking school has revealed that Pampa men, as well as Pampa women, are skilled in art of cookery, and that Rufe Thompson can make "cowboy chili" that even his wife admits is good.

Mr. Thompson suggests the following ingredients: 5 lbs. good chili meat; 1½c tallow; ¼c chopped garlic (or 1t chili salt); 1½c chopped onions, ½ bottle Eagle chili powder; 1 small can paprika, 4t Comena seed, salt to taste. Sear meat well in melted tallow. Fry onions separately until soft; do not brown. Mix together and add other ingredients. Cook slowly for several hours.

COMPARATIVE FRIGIDITY

Pampa News: Up in Dalhart they will tell you that they have the coldest weather in Texas. It may be a dubious distinction, but they are proud of it just the same. Why, according to the Texan, even the jelly-beans wear long-handled underwear in winter. All glory to Dlahart! Indeed, if we had a leased wire to Dalhart our weather forecasting worries would be over. As Dalhart goes, so go we all, except to a lesser degree. —State Press in Dallas News

Dalhart is very good, but it is doubtful if it did as well in the recent unpleasantness as Plains did. Plains is not a region in this case, but a town, the county seat of Yoakum. And the mercury dived to 27 below, or plunged to the bathysphere, scientifically speaking. We have this on the authority of a gentleman who lives at Plains and keeps a thermometer. Whether the young gentlemen of Yoakum county wear long-handled underwear or are content with the miniature garments we sometimes see advertised and illustrated by the lingerie shops, State Press is not advised. But he dares to say the styles are not more slavishly followed in Yoakum than in Dallam. Anyhow, the prolonged ypsilantes which used to wander downward to the wearer's snakles and fasten with a tape tied in a bow knot were considered de rigueur if good society in those days had discussed underwear. In the period when the wilderness was being conquered gentlemen wore long underthings in the winter time and none at all in summer. No wonder we call those times the good old days.

OUR PET LUXURIES

A very good friend wisely remarks that timse like these make most of us do without too many necessities in order to have our pet luxuries.—Pampa Daily NEWS.

It may also be said that our pet luxuries may be at the bottom of our dire lack of necessities. There never was a time in the history of the world when the common people enjoyed as many luxuries as today. Modern living is a luxury that most people think little about because we are all so used to things that we think we must have because everybody else has them and until recently the way was easy to buy what one wanted, even those things beyond our means. Today people are up against the proposition of not being able to pay for necessities because they still owe for luxuries. In the days of high prices and high wages, things did not seem to be luxuries. There has been little or no dividing line between the employer and the employe. The wage earner's family was not stinted and his home had the latest and best of labor saving equipment. Good clothes, radio sets, cars, movies, golf, soda fountain drinks and cream, excursions and trips on vacation and otherwise, pet luxuries of every kind and description were indulged in and nothing was thought about the matter. Things came easy. Things went just as easy. And when the pinch came, nobody was in favor of doing without the luxuries but still had to have the necessities. Work did not provide as much money as was needed; crops did not bring as high a price as was necessary to lift up the farm mortgage; the wage cut was a big drop for the employe and the employer was also bearing a heavy burden. Men were discharged and the way to finance the family became a nightmare. All these things are now too well known to be pleasant reading. And the end is not yet. Will we go on speculating and we will keep up gambling, or will we wake up to the fact that it is far easier to lose than to win? Will we lay the foundation for a safe future or will we keep on mortgaging the future? Time alone will tell.—Higgins News.

INCOME TAX FACTS

Deductions for losses are divided into three classes, and to be allowed must follow closely the wording of the income tax laws. Losses are deductible if incurred (1) in the taxpayer's trade, business, or profession; (2) in any transaction entered into for profit; or (3) from fires, storms, shipwreck, or other casualties, or by theft.

Business losses result, usually, from the purchase and sale of merchandise. Such losses usually are ascertained by means of inventories, which are required whenever in the opinion of the Commissioner of Internal Revenue their use is necessary to dtermine the income of any taxpayer.

The term "transaction entered into for profit" means any kind of business proposition. For example, a taxpayer purchases an automobile to be used solely for business purposes, and which is sold at a loss. As this is a business proposition from start to finish, the loss is deductible. But if he had purchased the automobile to be used for pleasure or convenience, the deduction would not be allowed; it was not a transaction entered into for profit.

A loss sustained in the theft of an automobile purchased for pleasure or convenience is deductible, as it falls in class 3. If, because of faulty driving but not of "willful negligence," an automobile maintained for pleasure is damaged, the taxpayer may claim the loss sustained, as it comes within the meaning of the word "casualty." Where damages result from the faulty driving of an automobile with which the automobile of the taxpayer collides, the loss occasioned the taxpayer likewise is deductible.

All losses are deductible only to the extent by which they are not compensated for by insurance or otherwise.

Bill To Modify Dry Law Given First Approval

AUSTIN, March 1. (AP)—A resolution proposing modification of the prohibition amendment to the state constitution today had passed its first test. The house committee on constitutional amendments voted yesterday, 11 to 3, to give it favorable report.

Representative P. L. Anderson of San Antonio, one of the authors of the proposed amendment, said he hoped to obtain action on the house floor by the end of the week. Two-thirds of the membership of each house must approve the resolution before it can be submitted to the electorate. Considerable doubt has been expressed that proponents of prohibition modification could muster that majority.

The proposed amendment would provide for return of the local option method of handling the liquor question. Return of saloons would be prohibited. Communities which were "dry" under local option before state prohibition would continue dry until the people in those communities voted for a change.

Modification of state prohibition would not become effective until and unless the 18th amendment is repealed.

Thompson Looks With Favor On Crude Oil Tax

AUSTIN, March 1. (AP)—Ernest O. Thompson, member of the railroad commission, told the house committee on revenue and taxation last night that a high severance tax on oil should provide a just source of revenue to drefray governmental expenses.

Thompson commended a bill by Representative Gordon Burns of Huntsville proposing a graduated tax of from one cent a barrel on production under five barrels to one dollar a barrel above one thousand barrels.

Burns said under the present basis of production of oil his plan would raise in excess of $55,000,000.

Dan Harrison of Houston opposed the Burns bill on the ground it would "ruin" the independent operators.

Barney Flynn and Tom Perry of Wichita Falls opposed the bill, stating it would place the independent operators on an unfair basis of competition and that it would increase "oil racketeering" by making it more profitable to avoid taxation.

George Morgan of San Angelo told the committee there was too much competition between Texas and other oil producing areas to force Texas producers to pay any additional taxes.

Mrs. R. S. Lawrence has as her guest Miss Jerry Young of Mangum, Okla.

Legislator Of Kingsville Has No 'Wind' Record

By CHARLES E. SIMONS.

AUSTIN, March 1. (AP) — Representative E. D. Dunlap of Kingsville is looked upon as an ultra-conservative when it comes to making speeches before the house.

Dunlap started his legislative service in the 38th legislature and has served continuously since. Although he has taken an active part in legislation he refrained from making speeches.

A few days ago he was called upon by Speaker Coke Stevenson to handle a local bill sent over from the senate.

Speaker Stevenson announced it was Dunlap's maiden speech in the legislature and the Kingsville member was heartily applauded. He talked exactly one minute.

One member then moved that Dunlap's brief talk be not regarded as a speech before the house so that his record for not making a speech would not be marred.

Speaker Stevenson has been presented with another gavel, marking about the fifth that has been sent him since he was elected to preside over the house.

The head of the gavel was made from a rail split by James S. Hogg in 1869. The handle was fashioned from a branch of a tree planted at Mineola by the famous Texas governor in 1884.

The gavel was presented to the speaker by G. C. Adrian of Van Zandt county and Representative Ben Cathey of Quitman.

Speaker Stevenson has reserved the gavel for use only on special occasions in the house, since it is too small for the heavy duty ordinarily demanded of gavels during turbulent house sessions, when order is sometimes hard to get and maintain.

To prevent further splintering of the sounding block, Speaker Stevenson has had it covered with a metal plate.

Five Fire Alarms Reported in Month

The Pampa fire department answered only five alarms during February, according to Chief Clyde Gold's monthly report presented City Manager C. L. Stine this morning. One of the calls was a false alarm.

The loss for the month was less than $50, Chief Gold estimated. Two calls were to extinguish automobile fires where the loss was negligible. Most of the damage was at a small fire in an apartment. The other fire was a trash box.

Fire loss for January and February was less than $350.

ORDINANCE NO. 150

AN ORDINANCE PROVIDING FOR THE LICENSING OF TRANSIENT PHOTOGRAPHERS AND PHOTOGRAPHIC SOLICITORS; PROVIDING A PENALTY; AND DECLARING AN EMERGENCY.

BE IT ORDAINED BY THE CITY OF PAMPA:

SECTION I: As used in this ordinance, the term "person" shall mean and include individuals, partnerships, associations, corporations, however formed.

The term "transient photographer" shall mean and include any person carrying on the business of photography in the City of Pampa by going from house to house, or place to place, and taking or making photographs, or making negatives, exposing plates, films, or paper for making negatives or positives from which photographs are made, for the purpose of sale, or for the purpose of giving away said photographs or selling same as premiums or inducement to buy merchandise or other property; also any person conducting by solicitation any other phase of said business in said city who does not have a regularly established photographic studio, office, or quarters in said city, at which photographic work is done, or from which it is distributed or sold.

The term "photographic solicitor" shall mean and include any person engaged in selling coupons, certificates, or other instruments of writing in said city which coupons, certificates, or other instruments are, or are represented to be, redeemable in photographic work; also any person soliciting or canvassing at any place in said city, other than a regularly established photographic studio or place of business, for the sale of photographs, enlargements of photographs, copies of photographs, or any other photographic work; also any person selling, distributing, or otherwise disposing of coupons, certificates, or other instruments of writing which are, or are represented to be, redeemable in photographis work to be used for the purpose of giving away said photographs or selling same as premiums or inducement to buy merchandise or other property.

SECTION II: All persons engaged in or conducting the business of a transient photographer within the City of Pampa shall obtain from the City Secretary of said city a license so to do. The person obtaining such license shall pay to the City Secretary in advance a license fee of $10.00 per day for each day or part thereof such person desires to engage in such business.

SECTION III: All persons in the business of photographic solicitor shall obtain from the City Secretary of said city a license so to do. The person obtaining such license shall pay the City Secretary in advance a license fee of $10.00 per day for each day or part thereof such person desires to engage in such business.

SECTION IV: Any person who shall violate, or who refuses to comply with, the provisions of this ordinance shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and, upon conviction, shall be fined in any sum not less than $10.000 nor more than $200.00. Each day on which a violation occurs shall be considered a separate offense.

SECTION V: EMERGENCY. It appearing that the City of Pampa is now without a proper ordinance covering the provisions herein contained, and it further appearing that the public welfare demands that this ordinance be immediately effective, an emergency is hereby declared and the rules prescribing three separate readings of an ordinance are hereby suspended, and this ordinance shall be in full force and effect on and after its passage and publication as prescribed by law.

PASSED AND APPROVED this the 27th day of February, 1933.
