RESOLUTION FOR ELECTION MAY BE PASSED

City Commission May Take Steps Toward Purchase of Water System By City.

A resolution may be passed by the city commission this afternoon calling an election to vote bonds to purchase the water company from M. H. Hagaman. If this action takes place it will be after the recommendation of Major John B. Hawley, water expert who is now preparing an exhaustive report of the possibilities of the water system. This report it is thought, will be submitted to the city commission by Mr. Hagaman and Mr. Hawley.

If it is favorably considered it is thought possible that the resolution calling the election to vote bonds to purchase the system will be passed.

Water Will Be Pure.

Major Hawley has been working on the report for several days, and it is thought certain he will advise the water from Hagaman lake through the proper filtration plant can be made pure for general consumption and that the lake has the possibilities of a permanent supply of water.

A committee from the Chamber of Commerce has previously stated that it believes it would be good business for the city to own the water system. This committee, however, did not pass on the price or terms of sale. The price or terms of sale has not been gone into by the commission officially. This it will probably do at the meeting this afternoon.

ANOTHER MAN IS SOUGHT IN KABER MURDER

By United Press.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, June 14.—Police today are looking for a man not previously mentioned in the Kaber case. This man, police believe, can give them information regarding the alleged attempt to kill Daniel F. Kaber, about a year before he was murdered, July 18, 1919.

"A woman who came to my home around midnight furnished me with positive information regarding an attempt made by Mrs. Kaber to hire this man as an assassin," county prosecutor Stanton said today.

According to Stanton, the woman also informed him that she had positive information that on the day of the actual murder, Mrs. Kaber drove in from Cedar Point, and personally directed the assassins into the Kaber home, where they remained until Marian McArdle, Mrs. Kaber's daughter, gave the signal that the "coast was clear" by dropping water from an upstairs window.

Police early today located the silverware reported stolen from the Kaber home the night of the murder.

ONLY FIFTY MEN WHO WORE GRAY IN SIXTIES GATHER AT ARLINGTON

Special to the Times.

WASHINGTON, June 13.—How fast the gray line is thinning was shown at the Confederate Memorial exercises in Arlington cemetery here.

Once Washington was the Mecca for men who wore the gray, many Confederate soldiers coming here to live in the twenty or thirty years following the war.

At the memorial exercises but fifty Confederate veterans could be mustered to pay tribute to their dead comrades. The youngest of them was 73.

TEXAS REMOVED FROM STATE OF MARYLAND

Special to the Times.

WASHINGTON, June 13.—They have taken Texas out of Maryland.

The postoffice department today announced that Texas, a postoffice in Baltimore county, has been discontinued.

The Times' milk and ice fund is growing, but slowly. Club women who are acquainted with the situation in Ranger, declare that all the money subscribed will not be enough to fill the need that exists. They are speaking from expreience. Many of them through their church and club associations have been doing what they could to help.

'Floggers' Busy In Dallas and Houston

POLICEMAN SLAIN!

By Associated Press.

EL PASO, June 14.—Police Captain Harry Phoenix was shot and instantly killed and Police Sergeant S. C. Houston was probably fatally wounded last night by a Mexican whom the officers stopped to question. The Mexican escaped.

MARKS' DEATH FOLLOWED BY 11 ARRESTS

Gaming and Choc Beer Sales Charged; Murder Being Investigated.

Special to the Times.

BRECKENRIDGE, June 14.—A. B. Marks, former right of way buyer for the Hamon & Kell railroad, with headquarters in Ranger, was a personal friend of Jake Hamon. Marks was shot and killed in a wanton attack on an alleged choc joint and gambling house a mile west of South Bend, early Monday morning. Will Gibson, oil field worker who is expected to die, was wounded in the neck and jaw. O. R. Whitlaw, transient, was slightly wounded.

Motive for the attack is a mystery. Eleven men were playing poker in a tent establishment said to be run by J. W. Wells and L. F. Conley, when three revolvers were thrust through the flap of the tent and a fusilade of shots fired. Marks was the first hit, above the left eye, the shot passing clear through his head. There was no attempt at a hold up. Wells and Conley are held charged with selling beer and nine others for gambling. No arrests have been made for the killing. Sheriff John Faye and County Attorney F. V. Hinson are investigating.

Marks was en route to Breckenridge to try a law case. He had been superintendent of construction for the Wichita Falls & Southern since leaving the Hamon line. He resigned this superintendency to reenter the practice of law.

SIX BELIEVED TO BE DROWNED IN OKLAHOMA

SAYRE, Okla., June 14.—Six persons are believed to have lost their lives in a cloudburst and flood which struck this section of the state late yesterday, according to advices reaching here today. Wire communication with the stricken area has been crippled and it is impossible to verify the death toll.

No trace has been found of John Adkerson and four members of his family, residing south of here, and it was believed they may have been caught by the flood waters of Timber creek, and drowned. They were last seen at their home shortly before the cloudburst.

Mack Beeson, farmer, was reported to have been drowned at his farm, and his body recovered early today.

Rescue parties left here today for the flooded district. The exact number of lives lost will probably not be known until one of them returns.

The water in Timber creek was receding rapidly today, and no further flood damage was feared.

WOODROW WILSON STILL A POPULAR MAN

Special to the Times.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 13.—Woodrow Wilson, three months out of office, is today more popular than he was at the height of his presidential career.

That is the unbiased view of Washington. Wilson has come back. Crowds go out to the Wilson home every day, line up and wait for him to start his daily ride. He got his greatest demonstration a few nights ago as he entered a theatre. Recognizing him the crowd rose and cheered for several minutes. And Wilson is a private citizen.

INDIANAPOLIS, June 14.—John G. Emery of Grand Rapids, Mich., was unanimously elected national commander of the American Legion at a meeting of the national executive committee today.

'Big Tim' Murphy, Chicago Labor Boss, Is Mail Thief

By United Press

CHICAGO, June 14.—"Big Tim" Murphy, Chicago's most powerful labor leader, confessed complicity in the Dearborn station mail robbery early today, postal operators said.

Following his confession, "Big Tim" led inspectors to the home of his father-in-law, William Diggs, where $112,000 in small bills out of a total loot of $350,000, was recovered.

Murphy was charged with participation in the daring mail robbery which occurred April 6. He was arrested at the headquarters of the Gas House union, of which he is president.

Vincenzo Cosmano, head of the Street Sweepers' union, and Edward Geirun, Murphy's aides, were seized with him, and held incommunicado.

Postal authorities say Murphy confessed after two postal clerks, "inside dupes," had implicated him.

Murphy succeeded "Mossy" Enright, who was assassinated, as the labor czar of Chicago. He was arrested following Enright's death, but was released.

Dempsey-Carpentier Battle Will Make More Money for Uncle Sam Than for Pugs

NEW YORK, June 14.—Uncle Sam will make more money than both Jack Dempsey and Georges Carpentier by the fight July 2.

Figures which will doubtless bring sleepless nights to Jack Kearns, Dempsey's manager, and cause Francois Descamps, manager of Carpentier, more worry than a newspaper photographer, were quoted yesterday by internal revenue officials.

Dempsey's income tax on $300,000, approximately what he will receive for the battle, will amount to $161,270. Carpenter's toll, when exemptions for his wife and child are subtracted, will total $93,334.

That makes the score on the division of the purse read: United States government, $254,604; boxers, $245,396.

The marked difference between the taxes of the boxers is due to the surtax on the difference between $300,000 and $200,000, the sums which the boxers will get respectively. Dempsey, however, possesses an advantage in that he will have an entire year in which to pay in quarterly installments, the first payment due March 15, 1922. Carpentier before he sails must pay every dollar.

Government profits on the bout will be increased by the 10 per cent amusement tax exacted by federal authorities which will amount to approximately $100,000. The state of New Jersey will exact a like sum.

Promoter Tex Rickard, whose profits may be $100,000, also will be taxed, an amount which will bring the total government revenue from the encounter close to $400,000, the richest sporting plum in history.

INCOME TAX PAYMENT IS HALF BILLION

By United Press

WASHINGTON, June 14.—Approximately $500,000,000 will be poured into the government's pocketbook, as the second installment of income and excess profit taxes is payable before midnight tomorrow. Nearly 5,000,000 persons are paying taxes this year on earnings of 1920, despite the nationwide economic depression. The number is the largest in history.

Claims for refunds, readjustments and rebates also are the largest in years, officials said today. This is because of numerous interpretations of the revenue laws, permitting merchants and business men to claim deductions on account of losses through falling prices.

TRANSFER TRACK AT BRECKENRIDGE BEFORE COMMISSION TODAY

President Frank Ketch, Vice-President J. H. Fraser and Freight and Passenger Agent Strupper of the Hamon road are in Austin today for the hearing on a railway interchange track at Breckenridge. The hearing is before the state railroad commission and is called at the request of the Cisco & Northeastern railway. The Cisco road seeks to compel the Hamon line to build the track in order to give it direct ingress to the larger part of Breckenridge's industries, which are located on the latter road.

The Hamon road some time ago offered the C. & N. E. an interchange track at the station two miles south of Breckenridge, but this was declined.

SHRINERS PARADE!

By Associated Press

DES MOINES, June 14.—Ten thousand Shriners garbed in all the tints, shades and colors in the world passed in review here today before Ellis Lewis Garretson of Tacoma, Wash., imperial potentate of the Ancient Arabic Order, Nobles of the Mystic Shrine. The parade was one of the largest in point of numbers ever featured at a meeting of the Shrine Imperial council, which opened its session in Des Moines today. Fifty temples are represented by bands, patrols and drum corps. Medinah Temple of Chicago, the largest temple in Shrinedom had 500 marchers in line.

All of the 147 temples of the order are represented, including delegations from Panama, Hawaii and Mexico City. The chief business before the council is a decision with regard to the proposed national Shrine hospital.

HAWLEY TO TALK ON CITY WATER AT FORUM MEET

Major John B. Hawley, who has investigated the city waterworks and also made a report on the Russell creek project, will address the public forum meeting tonight at the Chamber of Commerce rooms on "Ranger's Water Supply and Its Purification." This will be the chief address of the evening.

Organization of the Chamber of Commerce public forum with a view to making its meetings so entertaining as well as valuable that no one will care to miss them, is the object of the meeting called for tonight. The meeting will held at 8 o'clock at the chamber's assembly room and will be snappy, it is assured. Refreshments will be served under the direction of Raymond Teal.

Principal business of the evening will be the appointment of attendance, entertainment and fellowship committees for the forum, and organization of the "In and Out" club, which will obtain new members for the chamber.

It also is expected that the discussion on new industries for Ranger will bear fruit in the way of suggestions that may be worked out. It is believed that Ranger, with its cosmopolitan population, possesses citizens who are in touch with practically every industry in America today. Some of these industries, either a new plant or a branch of one now existing, would pay here, it is felt, and it is hoped that suggestions will be made that will enable the chamber to take prompt steps toward obtaining such a plant.

It is urged that all citizens interested in the upbuilding of Ranger attend the meeting.

BONUS BILL BLOCKED BY FINANCE COMMITTEE

By United Press

WASHINGTON, June 14.—Efforts to rush the soldier bonus bill into the Senate today and get it up for quick action failed when members of the Senate finance committee refused to agree to get quick action. They forced a postponement of committee discussion until next Monday.

HAMBURG RECOVERING ITS TRADE RAPIDLY

By Associated Press.

LIVERPOOL, June 14.—Members of the Liverpool Steamship Owners' association, who have been in Hamburg recently, say they were struck with the rapidity with which that port is recovering its trade, especially during recent months and the extent to which the trade is being carried by American ships.

KU KLUX AND 'VIGILANTES' WHIP TWO MEN

Attorney and Oil Station Man Told to Leave Town After "Treatment."

By United Press

DALLAS, June 14.—Edward Engers, 32, was spirited away from his oil station here last night by a party of ten masked men, who carried him south of the city and flogged him with a heavy lash, according to a report made by Engers to the Dallas police.

After being unloosed from the fence post, used as a flogging post, he was carried in an automobile to Red Oak, 20 miles south of Dallas, and dumped out, with instructions to leave Dallas at once.

At a house near Red Oak, Engers notified Dallas authorities, and, hiring a taxi, was brought to the Emergency hospital here.

There were more than 20 welts on Enger's back and thighs, and a cut over his left eye, which he said was inflicted by a blow from a pistol in the hands of one of his captors. His injuries were not believed serious.

Got Threatening Letter.

Engers today declared that he received a threatening letter last Wednesday, written on the official stationery of the Ku Klux Klan. This letter has been turned over to the postal authorities, he said.

Engers was recently acquitted on a charge of lunacy in a Dallas court. He was divorced from his wife, Mrs. Frances Williams.

The alleged Ku Klux Klan letter was reecived by Engers just before the lunacy trial, he said.

Thrown Out of Car.

Engers, in a statement to newspaper men today, said:

"When I was thrown out of the car, I was told to leave town immediately. I was informed that I was being flogged for alleged trouble with my former wife. My captors gave me $5 to leave town."

"You know who we are," Engers declared the men asked him. "Yes, I think so," he replied. "You are the Ku Klux Klan." He said the answer was, "Yes, there are five thousand of us in Dallas, and you had better keep going when you leave here."

Engers said that a friend of his had called at police headquarters recently to ask police protection for him.

"The men said to me last night," Engers stated this morning, "that they would have gotten him, too, if they had known where he lived."

ATTORNEY FLOGGED.

By United Press

HOUSTON, June 14.—"Vigilantes" staged another "party" here last night.

W. J. Boyd, attorney, was horsewhipped and told to leave town by eight men, according to his story to the police. He had several cuts on his face and head. He refused to bring charges against his abductors.

Boyd has been arrested twice for annoying girls in movies, according to police records. Police said he had remarked he deserved a whipping.

ROTARY STARTS DISARMAMENT MOVEMENT

Written for the United Press.

EDINBURGH, Scotland, June 14—Rotary today planned to start the wheels turning for international disarmament.

Frank W. Wozencraft, of Dallas, Texas, once the youngest mayor in the United States, is prepared to introduce the necessary resolution if the resolutions committee does not act.

Wozencraft was instructed by the Dallas club by cable to work for an international resolution to be presented to the nations in which the club is established, asking that a pan-national disarmament congress be called into being.

Rotarys interest in international good feeling was the outstanding feature of the first days sessions here. Practically every speaker stressed the subject of disarmament.

GRAND JURY INDICTS TWO RANGER MEN

Dan Reese Faces Murder Charge and M. P. Mitchell Auto Theft.

Special to the Times.

EASTLAND, June 14.—Two charges of homicide, one against Jack Elkins of Eastland, and one against Dan Reese of Ranger, were returned by the grand jury which recessed Saturday. It also returned indictments against M. P. Mitchell of Ranger for the theft of an automobile from Joe Harness of Ranger and against J. E. Brunson and Sam Kellum for highway robbery. The latter charge in Texas is punishable by death where a conviction is obtained.

Elkins is charged with having killed his father-in-law, W. E. Cox. The shooting occurred in Eastland several weeks ago. Dan Reese is under indictment for the murder of B. Davis of Ranger.

The automobile stolen from Joe Harness, with the theft of which M. P. Mitchell stands charged, was recovered at Caddo on the same day it was stolen. Mitchell was arrested by Stephen county officials.

Of the hundreds of cars that have been stolen from Ranger, this is the first indictment that has been returned as far as is known.

The state has not signified its intention in the robbery case and it is not known if the death penalty will be asked.

BOY FOUND DEAD!

By Associated Press.

DENTON, Texas, June 14.—The body of Arthur Storme Denton, 15, was found early this morning near Garza, on the Denton-Dallas pike. His body was mangled and bruised. Marks on the road indicated his body had been dragged fifty yards by an automobile. Officers are investigating.

EJECTED PAIR FIRE TWO SHOTS FROM PISTOL

Conductor Rushed to Fort Worth Hospital Where He May Be Dying.

With two wounds through the body from the gun of one of two men whom he forcibly ejected from his train last night at Tiffin Mike Tighe, passegner conductor is in a hospital in Fort Worth probably in a dying condition. The gun-man and his companion are still at large. The men boarded the Texas & Pacific passenger train when it arrived in Ranger at 3:38 a. m. They refused to pay fare. At Tiffin he forced them to leave his train. As the train pulled away from the station Tighe was standing on the lower step looking back into the night. Two spurts of fire and he lay wounded.

Given Right-of-Way.

Beyond Weatherford the railroad company gave Tighe's train right-fo way. It became a special with the privilege of the best time it could make to get the wounded man to an operating table. An operation was had this morning and the conductor is reported as having a slim chance for life. Both bullets passed through his abdomen. He is about 45 years old and lives with his brother in Fort Worth.

One of the men, it is said, is about five feet two inches in height. The other is taller. One was dressed in blue unionalls and both wore black caps. The shooting was reported to the police and the statement came from them today that the descriptions tallied with that of a Mutt and Jeff pair who have been doing much highway robbing in this section.

Hijackers.

The theory has been advanced that the men boarded the train with the intention of robbing the passengers, however this cannot be verified in Ranger.

The only facts that bear it out are that one of the men was reported to have been seen on the blind baggage with a handkerchief over his face before the pair invaded the passenger coach and that the men were armed and shot Tighe in cold blood.

May Be Known.

Two names were given police and deputy sheriffs who went to the scene of the shooting. One of these names is the same as that of a man who was arrested in Ranger a short time ago on a charge of hijacking and was later rearrested in Breckenride on a similar charge. Beyond the names and the descriptions which tallys with that of the man formerly under arrest, the police or the sheriff's department have nothing to prove that it is the same man.

UNION LABOR WINS!

By Associated Press.

CHICAGO, June 14.—Union labor won its fight for negotiation of agreements with the railroads by federated shop crafts acting for employes comprising these crafts. The railroad labor board ruled agreements between the federated shop crafts and the carrier should apply to all employes of those crafts if the federation so elected.

MUCH DEVELOPMENT AWAITS OIL'S BOTTOM PRICES AND THE REBOUND

Independent operators last night were frank in saying that they do not welcome the periodicals cuts in oil. If it has been decided that oil must go to $1, or 50 cents, or whatever the price, they would be relieved if it dropped to bottom prices at once, despite the financial loss that would come to them through a sudden instead of a gradual drop.

Their reason for this is that most of the independents in this territory look to future operations for their larger profits. A large part of the independent holdings are merely proven by one to four wells, and with prices at bottom and a rising market to face, they could proceed with their development plans on a solid basis.

Not Scratched.

Every indication for the last few months has increased the belief that the immediate Ranger field has not been scratched, despite the millions of barrels that it has already yielded. Experts say that the entire territory will be drilled to 4,000 feet or deeper and that an oil sand will be struck which furnishes the oil heretofore found in lime formation. This sand must exist, they say, because lime is not an oil-carrying formation, and the oil in it is 'crevice oil," which comes from some sand not yet discovered in many parts of the field.

In support of this contention they point to the Frankell pool, where deeper drilling has discovered a sand on the Stewart and Nannie Walker leases.

Working over the old wells also will vastly increase production, as shown by the New Domain's Williamson well, west of town. This well, which is down below 3,600 feet, has been in for several months as a small producer. Last week it was cleaned out and drilled one foot deeper. The result:

Production jumped from 96 barrels daily to 800.

This is an instance, it is said, of what will be done in hundreds of cases when crude again brings a profitable price. For the present, it does not mean any new activity, as it is felt better to hold the oil where it is until prices rise. New production is not worth while, and the only reason for drilling is to protect leases.

There are several offsets which would be drilled on and near the Williamson if the price was right, as the tests there have shown it is a highly productive territory. The Eldorado's Williamson No. 1, the "discovery" well, is nine months old this month, and is still holding up to 250 barrels.

In the Frankell pool, there are several new wells going down and a few old ones being deepened. The Tee Pee, which completed its Stewart No. 4 last week—good for above 1,000 barrels—it is said will attempt no new development at present unless Ramey et al. get a good well. In that event, it is said, they would be forced to drill three offsets.

THIRTEENTH NO JINX FOR BRONCS; TAKE DOUBLE BILL FROM NITROS

First Game Exciting Pitchers' Battle, Lost on Error in Tenth.

"If me no ifs," said the Nitros yesterday, after they had perused the Daily Times and were therefore ready for their afternoon's toil. And then they went out and dropped a double-header, 3 to 2 and 8 to 4.

Losing the first one was an arduous task, due to the effective kinking of Mr. Lefty Johnson, who proceeded calmly and dispassionately about his task of subduing the Broncs. Five hits in ten innings was the sum total of the league fence busters' accomplishments. Only one of them helped spill any beans, that being a three-ply rap that scattered them all over the diamond. And it came after Lovey had pushed the kettle to the edge of the stove, as the opening event of the tenth session.

Fifty-Fifty.

It also might be said in passing that Nitro bats likewise failed to function, at least in part. Four raps they collected from Higginbotham, but two of them came when the rapping was timely, and two runs were spanked across the plate thereby, at a time when they were highly ornamental to the scoreboard. The third was not forthcoming. Therefore this melancholy tale. For otherwise, Mr. Conkrite would never have overturned any kettle, as synopsitized above.

In the second game, Red Hill was given better support, though Robertson had bad luck in stopping throws to the plate and Nitro domes betrayed their trusty throwing arms. However, eleven hits in seven rounds deserve some consideration as a factor in a baseball game. More especially so when Six O'Clock Weber was turning the Nitros back hitless for six rounds. He was highly generous with passes, but not with knocks. Robbed Peter to pay Paul with good effect. Despite his no-hit performance, Mr. Weber was summarily ejected by "Old Folks" Robinson when he passed the first two up in the seventh. Robbie knows a ball game in the win column when he sees it and he took no chances.

How They Scored.

In the first game, five scoreless innings, marked mainly by two fast doubles engineered by Murphy and Etz for the Nitros and the faultless pegging of Kelly, who nipped three pilfering Nitros, were followed by disaster in the sixth.

Jody Tate's wild heave put Higginbotham on second. He was sacrificed to third and scored on a squeeze, put on by Lewis and poorly handled by both teams. "Hig" was slow in coming in, and should have been nailed. But Johnson took the time to cock his throwing arm and his peg was so fast that Sled dropped the ball. Conkrite hit through short and Lewis beat the throw to third. He scored on Scoggin's bounder to Murphy.

Pinch Blows.

The Nitros tied it in the eighth with the assistance of Scoggins whose wild throw put Etz on second before a man was out. Allen promptly smacked a hot one to right and Etz came home. Johnson's bunt moved Sled to second and Murphy came through with a pinch rap that scored Allen, in spite of Conkrite's fast playing. Walks to Singleton and Tate packed the sacks, but Lovey hit the first ball pitched to Scoggins for the third out.

That was all until the tenth, when Lovey allowed Truesdale's tap to bounce off his ankle. Lewis' sacrifice put him on second and he came home on Conkrite's liner to center.

In the second game, Truesdale's two errors mixed up with walks and bunts gave the Nitros two runs in the second round. In the fourth the Broncs got to Hill for four solid swats, and kept up the assault in the sixth and seventh. Perhaps Red's shutout game for Breckenridge Saturday had something to do with his effectiveness.

Truesdale's third error gave the Nitros two more in the last chance.

SNAPPY SIDELIGHTS ON BIG AUTO RACES; AN UNLUCKY FRENCHMAN

No cry of "hard luck" can be raised over the failure of Ralph De Palma to finish the ninth international sweepstake run over the Indianapolis speedway on Memorial Day. The popular driver had a choice of making a pace at the average for the track so as to save his car and try for the $20,000 first prize, or, secure in the knowledge that he had the fastest car on the track, go after the $15,000 lap prizes. He decided upon the latter course, and sent his Goodyear equipped Ballot around the brick oval at an unheard-of speed of 93.66 miles per hour at the end of 225 miles. He earned $10,650 in lap prizes—equivalent to second prize—before his car went out on the 280th mile because of a broken crankshaft.

Jean Chassagne, driver of one of the Peugeot entries representing France in the Indianapolis race on Memorial Day, was the unlucky man who was followed by a jinx, being eliminated from the running by one of the most pecular accidents ever recorded.

On the 150th mile, terrific wind pressure tore the car's hood from its fastenings. To run that way is a violation of the rules, so Chassagne was notified that he would have to replace the hood or withdraw. The nervy Frenchman set out at touring speed to find the missing part. He and his mechanic scanned the grassy infield for a complete circuit—but no hood was to be found. A second circuit was made with frequent stops so that the grass might be searched—but the hood had vanished into thin air.

With a smile of resignation, the man who had traveled all the way from France to race, shrugged his shoulders in true Gallic nonchalance—and drove a hoodless but sweely running car to the pits; utterly out of the running.

PUEBLO INDIAN IS MADE POSTAL CLERK

By Associated Press.

EL PASO, Texas, June 14.—Cornelium M. Cruz, a Pueblo Indian of Chamita, N. M., has been appointed as a postal clerk on the Albuquerque, New Mexico, and Ashfork, Arizona, railway postoffice line, it was announced at the chief clerks office of the railway mail service in El Paso. He is said to be the first Indian ever appointed in the railway mail service.

Cruz is 23 years old, was born in Chamita and educated at the Santa Fe Indian school.

CISCO QUITTING?

CISCO, June 14.—A rumor has been current several days that Cisco would give up her franchise in the West Texas league. The rumor can not be verified at this time, owing to the absence from the city of some of the officials of the club. However, the rumor became so persistent yesterday that Manager 'Flagg communicated with President Morris, stating the situation, and asking for instruction. He was instructed to continue playing until otherwise notified.

John L. Kelly, who has been business manager of the team since the reorganization several weeks ago, has accepted a position at Breckenridge with the receiver for the Montreal Oil company.

BLEVINS HURLS SHUTOUT BALL AGAINST CISCO

Special to the Times.

CISCO, June 14.—Blevins, a recruit southpaw, was on the mound for Ballinger in yesterday's game, and won a shut-out game from the Scouts, 5 to 0. The Bearcats got to Anderson opportunely and slugged out eleven hits, four of them being for extra bases, two triples and two doubles. Pitcher Blevins, in addition to letting the Scouts down with four widely scattered hits, secured three hits out of four trips to the plate. Wrangling was very much in evidence in the game, there being much dissatisfaction at the decisions of Umpire Pennell. Fuller was parked in the eighth.

BIRDMAN WILL COURT DEATH AT GALVESTON

By Associated Press.

GALVESTON, Texas, June 13.—A new way to "flirt with death" is to be demonstrated before crowds week-ending at the beach in Galveston on Sunday, June 19, according to an announcement by W. L. Roe, secretary of the Galveston Beach association.

The new thrill will be provided by William (Wild Bill) Long, ex-army flier of Kelly Field, Texas, who is to take aloft a 150-horsepower ship and deliberately set it on fire when at an altitude of 1,500 feet over Galveston bay. The pilot will escape the burning plane by parachute. The stunt will be the hair-raising finale of a sham air fight betweene two ex-service pilots and is part of the air circus entertainment here on that day. Originally the aviation "field day" was set for June 12, but as many of the entrants could not arrange to be present on that date a postponement of one week was decided upon.

Five seconds, according to computation of experts, will be Long's "margin of safety." After setting fire to a bundle of gasoline-soaked waste, the aviator has something like five ticks of a watch in which to plunge headlong from his cockpit, in order to escape the immediate spread of the flames over the fusilage. Simultaneously with pushing the button that will fire the waste, Long will kill his engine and jam his control, plunging the plane nose-foremost toward the earth and throwing it into a tailspin. By these tactics danger that the plane might "run wild" and endanger spectators ashore will be averted.

According to ex-army pilots here, this will be the first time on record in which a pilot has fired his own ship, then attempted to leap to safety by parachute.

PROGRAM

TEMPLE—Mae Murray in "The Gilded Lily; also Universal comedy.

MAJESTIC—Alice Brady in "A Hungry Heart"; and comedy, "The Game Old Knight."

LIBERTY—William Russell in From the West"; also comedy, "Sweethearts."

LAMB—"The Concert" (all-star cast); also comedy, "Edgar the Detective," and Pathe News.

MAJESTIC.

It is a good many years since "Frou Frou" was last performed in this country. "Camille" and "East Lynne" were its only rivals as tear compellers, and many a great actress of a past generation. including Sarah Bernhardt, played foolist little Frou Frou, who wrecked her life without the shadow of a cause and died just as the pathetic truth was brought home to her.

The screen version of this French drama follows the stage play closely. Produced under the name, "A Hungry Heart," it has been given an excellent cast, Alice Brady heading the list The conduct of the elder sister, who gives up the man she loves in order to secure the future of light-hearted Gilberte, whom everyone calls Frou Frou and finds that her sacrifice has been in vain, is thoroughly French in motive. Frou Frou's abandonment of her husband and child for the lover that had been refused her hand by the girl's father, is also according to the traditions of the Scribe school of dramatics, the entire work coming under the head of the "well made" play.

LAMB.

To those who have not had the opportunity of seeing Leo Litrichstein in "The Concert"—and to those who have—a treat is offered in the film version produced by Goodwyn, which is being shown at the Lamb theatre for two days. The hit made by the play on the legitimate stage promises to be duplicated on the screen, for in every respect it is a remarkable entertainment.

"The Concert" is the story of a temperamental middle-aged music master and the impressionable young wife of a physician who together take a shy at "soul mating" under the chaperonage of wife and husband, respectively. The main point brought out by the story of the play is this: that some of us perhaps would like to take other wives, or other husbands, but a few of us would like others to take our husbands or our wives and that a fair exchange would be terrible robbery.

The humorous situations of which Mr. Ditrichstein made so much are carried out with splendid emphasis in the screen version. The cast selected to interpret the play is well proportioned, and the acting uniformly excellent. A surprising innovation is introduced to convey to the screen the impressions that are created by the piano playing of a genius—that is, the audience is made actually to "see" music which it cannot hear. This is done by the use of double exposures.

WORLD'S CHAMPION SWIMMER MAY GET GENTLEMAN'S JOB

By Associated Press.

HONOLULU, T. H., June 14.—(Delayed)—The muscular right hand of Duke P. Kahanamoku, world's champion sprint swimmer, which has ploughed the waters of many lands during the duke's long tenure of his natatorial crown, will be used in future to welcome visitors to Hawaii, if the plans of Governor Charles J. McCarthy materialize.

Governor McCarthy recently announced that he would appoint the swimming champion to the newly-created position of "official greeter" if he was still in office July 1, when the bill passed by the legislature providing a salary of $200 monthly for the post goes into effect. Should Governor McCarthy's resignation, already in the hands of the secretary of the interior, be accepted before that date, it is expected his successor would follow the unexpressed, but evident wishes of the legislature, and name Kahanamoku for the job.

TOM BELL DECIDES NOT TO MAKE RACE FOR REPRESENTATIVE

Special to the Times.

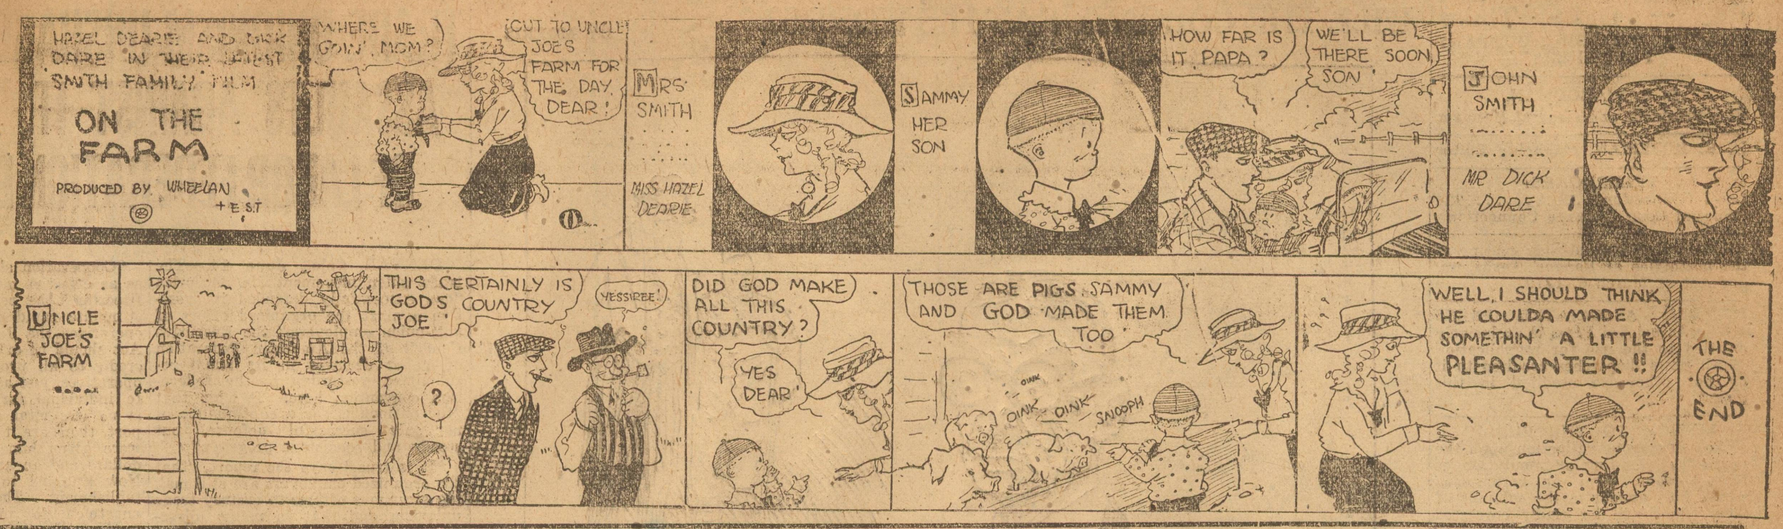

EASTLAND, June 14.—Tom Bell, secretary of the Eastland Merchants' association, who has been mentioned as prospective candidate for representative to succeed Hon. Joe Burkett, resigned, this morning authorized the statement that he would not be a candidate, saying he could not afford the financial sacrifice; that he had always been obsessed with the idea that this is an office that should seek the man rather than the man seeking the office, and that he could not find time to indulge in a scramble for this place, more especially when two of his close personal friends were already avowed candidates.

ROAD INSPECTION TRIP HAS BEEN POSTPONED

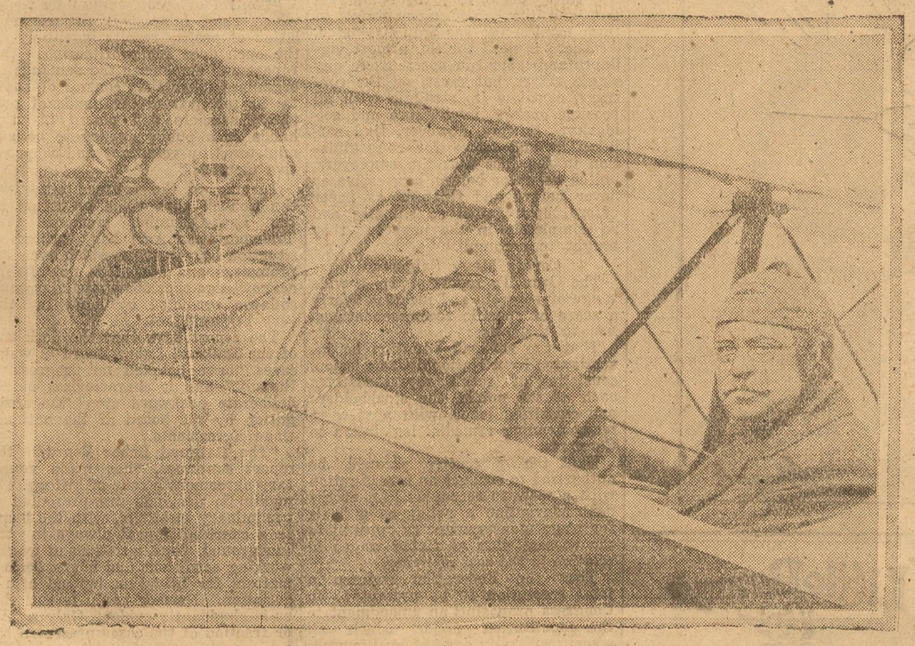

Special to the Times.

EASTLAND, June 14.—The Commissioners' court has announced the postponment of the proposed road inspection trip which had been announced for the 16th inst., until a more propitious time, due to recent rains and the condition of the roads. It is now proposed to make this trip July 14 for the purpose of giving those interested in the matter an opportunity of inspecting the work done on the roads in order that all who are interested may be correctly informed.

OFF ON 5,000-MILE FLIGHT TO VENEZUELA

From continent to continent by airplane on a business trip was the purpose with which James Otis, president of the San Francisco Aero Club, started recently, with Caracas, Venezuela, as his goal. Mr. Otis is accompanied by Pilot William Morris and Charles West, a mechanic. Five thousand miles lie between the intrepid pioneers and their destination. Mr. Otis, who owns a plantation at Caracas, proposes to demonstrate by his business flight that aviation has reached the stage where it is practical for long journeys. He plans to bring back maps and data of value in charting an air route up and down the two American continents. The photograph shows the three starting on their long flight from Marina Flying Field, San Francisco. From left to right: Pilot Morris, Mechanic West and Mr. Otis.

'BACK TO BRUSH' FOR SCORES OF BASEBALLERS

Some Youngsters Make Good and Stick in Big Game, Some Don't.

By Associated Press.

CHICAGO, June 14.—The annual tryout of scores of minor league baseball players by major league teams has ended and the youngsters who failed to make good have joined in the yearly pilgrimage.

Back to the minors for further experience, some to return for another chance next year, but many to remain in the bushes.

Every season two or three hundred youngsters are taken on the spring training trips by managers hopeful of finding at least one Cobb, one Sisler or one Walter Johnson among them, but when May 15, the day the clubs reduce to 25 players each, comes around the tryouts are ended and most of the youngsters are back in the minors.

This year sixteen major league clubs have sent 161 men back to the lower leagues for seasoning. Most of them are pitchers, for the heavy batting of the past two years has sent managers and scouts scurrying to even the smallest leagues in the hope of finding one or two good hurlers, but there is also a good proposition of outfielders and a fair number of infielders and catchers.

The New York Americans, with nineteen recruits sent back lead both leagues in the number of players found wanting. Manager Huggins kept only a few of his youngsters and with the exception of his pitching staff is depending almost entirely on his last years team.

Sox Crippled.

The Chicago White Sox, crippled by the loss of eight stars through the baseball scandal, took nearly fifty men south, but nineteen of the new players have found to be below major league calibre and sent back to the minors. The White Sox, however, probably have kept more youngsters than any other club, Sheely, Falk, Johnson, Mulligan and Mostill being recruits who have earned regular positions in the broken up club.

The Chicago Cubs were third in youngsters sent back. Seventeen of the men tried out by Manager Evers were found wanting. The Philadelphia Americans came next with fifteen turned back.

Washington occupies a position unique among the major leagues, for not a man has been released. Manager George McBride started the season with a small number of players and is holding all of them.

Recruits Released.

Virtually all of the men released were recruits, although there were a few veterans, such as Nick Cullop of the St. Louis Browns who played with several major league clubs, only to eventually return to the minors each time. Don Ayers and Bernie Boland were others who might be classed as veterans. Both were released by Detroit, but Boland is getting another tryout with St. Louis.

Many of the youngsters tried out this year were fresh from college and the number of semi-pros given chances in the majors each season seems to be increasing. At least one of the college men has more than made good. He is Stephenson of Cleveland, who came from the University of Alabama to play second base when Bill Wambsganns broke an arm. Stephenson ranks in the first ten batters in the league and has a good fielding record.

A majority of the players released were sent back to the minors with strings attached and will get another chance in the majors next year. Some of them already have had several chances, but these men are always cheered up by the numerous instances of players who did not make good until they had several outs in the senior circuits and then became stars.

The following table shows the number of men up to May 15 released by each major league club, according to records at league headquarters:

	National League	American League
Boston	7	5
Philadelphia	8	15

NINE INCHES OF RAIN FILLS LAKE EASTLAND

Special to the Times.

EASTLAND, June 14.—With a rainfall of approximately nine inches during the past week, Eastland county farmers are now assured a bumper crop. Stock water to last for several months has been supplied, and crops are reported in splendid condition. The two big lakes near Eastland have been practically filled, and Lake Eastland is nearly up to the spillway, with about two billion gallons of water in storage.

INTEREST BUILDS CITIES.

Cities that grow are cities that take an interest in themselves. Conversely, cities that take an interest in themselves are cities that grow.

That being true, if there are a sufficient number of Rangerites who want to see Ranger grow, and will take more than a passive interest in such growth, results are certain. For there are natural advantages here which are a lever with which to prize. There is an already established nucleus for the oil center of North Central Texas. There is a nearby population whose needs must be supplied. With these two things as starters, by the development of industries and transportation, Ranger will come more and more to be a center of West Texas activity.

Now one of the best evidences of interest in a city is attendance at meetings of civic bodies, hearing what the other fellow thinks and chiming in with your own ideas. Somewhere in the mass, something that is workable will be found—workable in Ranger or Podunk, either, if citizens will interest themselves in their accomplishment. And with one idea accomplished, another section will be added to the city. Then take up another idea, and another. It is very simple, theoretically, and as feasible as it is simple, if enough effort is applied.

The main reason Dallas is the largest city of North Texas, instead of Grand Prairie or Hutchins, is that at some critical time, Dallas citizens had more punch, more go-getiveness, than those dwelling at either of the other towns. The more one gets, the easier it is to get some more, because natural accretion sets in.

Ranger can follow the same course. By casting about for industries which will add to the business of the city, without detracting from the prosperity of businesses already here, it will grow. And with each step forward, longer steps can be taken, because the steps will be easier.

Come out to the forum meeting tonight. Get the habit. If sufficient interest is aroused in your own bosom and in the bosoms of your neighbors, Ranger will have laid the foundation for steady progress.

WILL THE COLONEL EAT HIS WORDS?

TINKER BOB STORIES

By CARLYSLE H. HOLCOMB.

THE KING GOES ON A JOURNEY

Tinker Bob went on his way to the river where he expected to see Three Legs, the Muskrat and Billy Mink, and if possible straighten out their trouble so's the Ferry could run. What ever prompted Billy Mink to act in such a manner was unknown to the King. Jealousy was all he could think about for he knew that Billy was full of that.

He reached he opening near the bend in the river and there came to his eyes a peculiar sight. He had asked himself not a few times where Chief Porky the porcupine was. Out in the midst of the opening near the edge of the river he spied Chief Porky. He was not moving. Of course that was nothing strange for he never did like to move and when he did it was with such a slow movement that it was scarcely noticeable to be seen. "What does all this mean?" said the King to himself. "I can't see why Chief Porky should be out here alone."

Then as quick as a wink there appeared another creature. He circled about Chief Porky stopping at intervals to look about. As Tinker Bob looked closely he saw it was Billy Mink. Evidently Billy was trying to find a way of attack but he made sure to keep a good distance from Chief Porky's tail. That was wise on his part for if he ever came in contact with that tail full of Thorn Quills he'd be sorry he'd ever met the porcupine. "I'll get you yet," Tinker Bob heard him say.

Chief Porky just grunted a little and kept a watchful eye on his enemy. Billy finally decided that the only way to get him was to make him dizzy and then he would topple over and he could get him from underneath where there were no thornquills. So round he went faster and faster and it kept Chief Porky busy to watch this swift fellow.

Chief Porky Just Grunted a Little.

Tinker Bob didn't say a word for he wanted to see just how Chief Porky would handle the situation. The King, however, was not the only one watching. It doesn't take long for the forest dwellers to learn that some of their friends are having trouble, and news in the forest travels very fast even without a newspaper. So there was quite a gathering of forest folks.

Then suddenly Billy Mink stopped and he thought that Chief Porky would be so dizzy that he would fall over and then he could make the attack and it would be all over with him. Well he thought wrong. They saw the Chief roll over all right and Billy ran toward him thinking the time had come. But Chief Porky rolled up in a ball and when Billy Mink made the attack instead of getting Chief Porky, he got a nose full of Thorn-quills.

Tomorrow—Billy Gets No Sympathy.

PUBLIC FORUM

To the Citizens of Eastland County:

I desire to thank my friends very much for the support given me in the recent election and assure them that I appreciate their efforts to the fullest. To those who opposed me I wish to say that I have no words of condemnation and am sure that they would not have opposed me had it not been for many gross misrepresentations made to them by some of my enemies.

Trusting that I will be able to serve the entire district satisfactorily and with benefit to all, I remain, very respectfully,

CHRISTIAN DENIES HARDING WILL PLAY GOLF ON SUNDAY

WASHINGTON, June 14.—President Harding is not going to play golf on Sunday with a golf cabinet of former associates in the senate. The White House today made such a report, originating at the capitol, the occasion to state again the president does not go golfing on Sundays. Secretary Christian said:

"The President does not play Sunday golf, and he has no intention of doing so."

KRASSIN REACHES HALIFAX TO CLOSE SUPPLY DEALS

MONTREAL, June 14.—Leonid Krassin, Russian soviet minister of trade and commerce, reached Halifax today on a steamer on her way to New York, according to F. A. Boyer, representing Russian interests here.

He said the soviet official was coming to Canada to close contracts for supplies.

Little Benny's Note Book

Lee Pape

Me and pop was taking a wawk, me asking questions and pop answering the ones he felt like, and we came to some little gerl setting on her frunt steps crying as if something fearse was the matter, and pop patted her on the top of the hed, saying, There, there, now, now, dont you know the war is all over?

Some boy nocked me down with his bysickle, sed the little gerl still crying, and pop sed, Deer deer, ware did it all happin? and the little gerl sed, Down there neer the telegraff pole.

Being a funny face little gerl, and pop sed, Well, well, its never so bad but wat it could of bin werse. Think how lucky you are you dident brake enything.

I did brake something, sed the little gerl still crying.

Nonsents, wat did you brake? sed pop.

My glasses, theyre all broak up in 3 peeces, sed the little gerl still crying, and pop sed, Now thats too bad, come on down and we'll find the peeces.

I dont want to, sed the little gerl still crying, and pop sed, Then you sit heer and wait and we'll find them for you, come on, Benny.

And me and pop went down to the telegraph pole and started to look erround, and 4 boys started to help us look without even knowing wat we was looking for, and we dident find enything so we went back and the little gerl was still crying, pop saying, Are you sure you had your glasses on wen the bysickle hit you?

No, I broak them in the house the day before yestidday, sed the little gerl still crying.

Confownd sutch a sex, sed pop. And we kepp on wawking, and after a wile I sed, Well, gash, she dident auxilly say she got hit by the bysickle and broak her glasses all at the same time, did she?

Go back and ask her if you wunt to know, sed pop.

Wich I dident wunt to that bad..

MANAGER OF CISCO LODGE OF ELKS HAS RESIGNED POSITION

Special to the Times.

CISCO, June 14.—John Kelly, business manager of the Elks lodge of this city, has resigned from that position to accept a position with William Little, receiver for the Montreal Oil company at Breckenridge.

Mr. Kelly has lived in Cisco since 1918, since he came here with J. M. Anderson, field superintendent for the Texas company, and opened headquarters here for the Texas company's operations in the West Texas oil belt. Later he became associated with the Sims Oil company and was with that concern last March when he was induced to take charge of the Elks lodge of Cisco. Under his direction the membership of the Elks has grown from 295 to 507 since March and the finances of the lodge have been put in a great deal better shape. The Cisco lodge is now the largest between Fort Worth and El Paso.

Recently Mr. Kelly accepted the management of the Cisco Baseball club of the West Texas league. It is generally conceded that the personal efforts of Mr. Kelly kept Cisco from losing the franchise in the West Texas league.

TRADE UNIONISM UNSHAKEN BY ASSAULTS AGAINST IT, REPORT OF LABOR FEDERATION DECLARES

DENVER, Colo., June 14.—The trade union movement in America "has successfully defended its position against the organized effort of anti-union employers," the Executive Council of the American Federation of Labor declares in its anual resubmitted yesterday to the federation convention here. It adds that "the outlook is for a continuance of not only successful defense, but steady and consistent progress."

"It is true," says the report, "that the organized employers are still making strenuous efforts to destroy trade unionism and that in many directions the campaign to reduce wages continues. What is equally true is, that these movements continue with constantly decreasing vigor and effect and that their momentum of three months ago has been dissipated.

"There is need for the utmost vigilance and labor can not relax in any single effort, but must, on the contrary, continue its struggle with all possible energy, intelligence and solidarity. It may, however, find satisfaction and cause for congratulation in the fact that the employers, united as never before, aggressive as never before and financed as never before, have failed so signally and so completely in the purpose they sought to accomplish.'

Covers Many Subjects.

The Council's report covers a wide range of subjects and includes nearly a score of specific recommendations. Among them are:

That the railroad situation be investigated by a National Commission, consisting of seven representatives each of the public, the stockholders and classified labor, with a view to recommending remedial legislation to Congress.

That the Executive Council be authorized to conduct an investigation with a view to recommending at the next convention a policy as a basis for wage measurement as opposed to the present plan of fixing wages in relation to the cost of living.

That the Federation endorse a joint resolution to be presented in Congress proposing an amendment to the constitution under which all measures finally enacted by Congress would be valid under the constitution whenever called into question.

That the Federation take a "firm stand" for the inauguration of a definite policy calling for the total exclusion from the United States of Japanese with all other Orentals.

That the excess profits tax be retained by the federal government and that the Federation oppose proposals for new taxes and "leave nothing undone to defeat the introduction of a turnover consumption or sales tax."

That the convention approve recent recommendations by the Federal Trade Commission to President Harding that the commission be authorized to obtain and publish information concerning ownership, cost, sales and profits in the basic industries as a means of "reducing the cost of living by compelling those who sell the necessities of life to accept smaller profits."

That the convention call upon the American government "to take the initiative or to co-operate with any other nation or nations for the purpose of a general agreement for disarmament, both of the army and naval affairs of the world.

That in view of "an apparently well-organized and systematic campaign by the National Association of Manufacturers to conduct a propaganda in the schools of the country in furtherance of the so-called "open shop" the Federation have prepared pamplets and literature bearing upon the questions involved for distribution to the colleges, universities and schools."

That the Federation continue to lend its aid to the United Mine Workers of America in the federal prosecutions growing out of the coal strike of 1919.

That the Federation oppose legislation that has for its purpose "the further weakening of the Department of Labor.

Federation of Strength.

The report gives the present strength of the Federation of Labor at 3,906,528 as against 4,078,740 in 1920 and says that the slight decrease in members is "naturally due to the large numbers of workers unemployed." It points to the membership enrollment as proof that the campaign against organized labor has failed.

"The American Trade union movement," the report declares, "has just gone through a year of unexampled struggle and difficulty. The enemies of labor and human progress have assailed from every side. The movement for reduction of wages, the movement to crush our organization, masquerading under the fictitious 'open shop' slogan, the wave of unemployment and perhaps the most sinister of all, the revival as a part of the general anti-labor campaign of the vicious, enslaving individual contract by which workers are bound to their employers in unwilling servitude, have been massed and concentrated against the most potential voluntary movement of the wage-earners of the country. Added to these have been legislative assaults and court decisions most destructive in character.

"We have checked the progress of those who have sought to destroy freedom through the annihilation of the organization of labor.

"We call for a great rallying, a great unity, a great movement forward for humanity. The message of Trade Unionism must be carried to every corner."

Under the heading of "Constructive Demands" the Council's report reiterates and reaffirms that "those contributing to production, should have a part in its control," and to this en dit urges "the setting up of conference boards of organized workers and employers, thoroughly voluntary in character and thorough in accord with our trade union organizations as means of promoting the operative effort."

"Cooperation should be encouraged as an effective means of curbing profiteering" the report cotinues. "To stimulate rapid development of cooperatives the Federal Farm Loan Act should be extended so as to give credit to all properly organized cooperatives, just as credit now is given to individual farmers. Co-operation is no less vital and worthy of support than are the railroads which were given hundreds of millions of dollars and an area of land equal to New England to facilitate their establishment. There should be legal enactment to protect co-operatives against discrimination by manufacturers and wholesalers.

Control of Credit.

"Control of credit capital by those whose chief interest is the accumulation of profits results inevitably in the open door for profiteering. We repeat and emphasize the demands of organized labor that control of capital be taken from the hands of private financiers and placed in the hands of a public agency to be administered by voluntary and cooperative methods."

Turning to the railroad situation, the Council says "The operation of the Esch-Cummins measure (the Transportation Act) has created a situation by virtue of which even its promoters and advocates now freely acknowledge that absolute failure and collapse predicted by labor in the very beginning.

The report says that the decisions of the Railroad Labor Board in wage cases "have betoken no progressive thought" and it characterizes as "a deliberate backward step" the abrogation by the board of the national wage agreements.

"The Railroad Labor Board," the report continues, "has made voluntary agreement a relic of history. The maximum demands are presented in preliminary meetings, with the board as a court of appeal always in the background. Thus, questions of wages, working conditions and hours, become matters for litigation instead of negotiation. Neither party is satisfied as is abundantly evident. Only a minor fraction of the cases presented has been decided. The breakdown is complete."

The report goes on to say that it is "necessary to look to the future for the development of a sound constructive program under which the nation may be assured of competent, fair and economical operation and control of the railroads with labor's right to exercise its normal activities and freedom safeguarded."

Regarding wages and the cost of living, the Council says the practice of fixing wages solely on the basis of cost of living is a violation of the whole philosophy in progress and civilization and, furthermore, is a violation of sound economic theory without logic or scientific support."

The practice, it is added, "results in a tendency to classify human beings and to standardize classes, each class having a presumptive right to a given quantity of various commodities."

The Council declares that profiteering in food continues.

About Profiteers.

"While wholsale prices decreased retailers continued to charge unreasonable prices," it aserts. "Of all the remedies proposed none is more to be recommended than those submitted to President Harding by the Federal Trade Commission that there was no justification for a reduction of wages. The commission held that the 'first object should be to increase, rather than lessen the purchasing power of the ordinary consumer.'"

Regarding proposals of the Trade Commission that full publicity be given to the results of investigation by it of the costs and profits in essential industries the report says that "If the people are in full possession of all the facts or costs of distribution and the profits made on the necessities of life, public opinion would have a powerful effect in reducing prices, and there would be no necessity of prosecution under the Sherman anti-trust law." It is added that "it is also believed that in all legislation providing for the regulation of corporations or monopolies the question of publicity should be incorporated."

Regarding Japanese exclusion, the Council has this to say:

"The citizens of California are justified in viewing with alarm and apprehension the results of the Japanese invasion in that state. The Japanese colonize together and have gradually driven out American citizens from the most fertile farm lands in the state. They undersell the American farmer because of their low standards of living.

The Gentlemen's Argeement.

"The 'gentlemen's agreement' (with Japan) has proven to be a failure because the Japanese in a cunning and steadily manner have outwitted the intent of the law. This peril is not only a serious condition for California, but it is a positive menace to our entire nation. The American Federation of Labor is fully justified in taking a firm stand to do away with the 'gentlemen's agreement' and in its place inaugurate a definite policy calling for total exclusion of Japanese with all other orientals. We should also go on record as favoring any legislation of the character that may be presented in Congress by the California delegation in the Senate and House of Representatives.

"Today our people are confronted not alone with the possibility of greater competition with oriental labor and manufacture; they are also facing the development of tendencies leading to the possible dangers of war. No one recognizes more fully than do the American workers the burdens and sacrifices entailed in a contest between nations. We are confident the Japanese workers are equally desirous for continued peace as are the American wage-earners. We feel sure that the workers of Japan would welcome whatever influence might be set at work to prevent a possible clash between the peoples of Japan and our country."

Explaining its recommendation that the federation endorse a constitution amendment to make valid under the constitution measures enacted by Congress, the council says the power exercised by the federal courts "to pass upon the constitutionality of laws enacted by Congress and approved by the President is one of the greatest menaces to measures intended to remedy evils in our government."

"The Constitution of the United States," the council asserts, "does not give such authority to the courts. It has been assumed by them. The history of the Supreme Court of the United States is replete with reactionary opinions.

"The anit-trust laws have been interpreted by the courts against labor and labor alone."

Against Sovietism.

A considerable portion of the council's report is devoted to a discussion of America and the Russian soviets and the council says that "America during the year has fully endorsed the stand of the American Federation of Labor at the Montreal convention," in resolving that the federation "is not justified in taking any action which could be construed as an assistance to, or approval of, the soviet government of Russia as long as that government is based upon authority which has not been vested in it by a popular representative national assemblage of the Russia people."

The report also says that "as a factor in the industrial life of both Canada and the United States the so-called 'One Big Union' has practically ceased to exist."

"This movement, which has been on the decline since the Winnipeg strike, is no longer considered an active movement of any consequence," the report declared.

The report also deals with recent court decisions relating to labor; international labor relations; legislation in the various states affecting labor and various matters pertaining to the internal affairs of the federation.

ANTI-VICE WAR IS DECLARED AT GALVESTON

Press, Public and Pulpit Supporting Port's New Mayor In Fight.

By Associated Press

GALVESTON, June 14.—Press, public and pulpit have come to the support of Mayor Charles A. Keenan, recently elected by the administration party, who has announced his determination to "clean up" this island city. In the municipal elections early in May, Mayor Keenan was said to have received the support of the "wide open town" elements.

Mayor Keenan's announcement came at a meting of the board of city commissioners, at which the name of Chief of Police Sedgwick came up for decision as to his reappointment. The mayor announced a crusade against "bootlegging," gambling and vice.

Galveston island became second only to Monte Carlo in reference to gambling for huge stakes, the mayor told the board of commissioners, citing alleged games at suburban roadhouses in which upwards of $200,000 was known to have constituted the stakes. Mayor Keenan detailed a report made by Captain Joe Brooks, formerly in command of Texas rangers here, made following a raid upon one of the "huge games." Captain Brooks' men entered and surprised the gamblers, according to the report, who were commanded to put up their hands. One man, holding $3,000 in bills of large denomination, dropped his money on the table in the excitement. This together with about $1,000 more which was in the center of the table, was seized by the rangers, who arrested all those present.

The men caught in the raid, numbering ten or a dozen, had in their possession, according to rangers, more than $450,000 in currency and certified checks. Several of these men were said to be "big gamblers from the oil fields," while others were from Beaumont, Houston and Dallas.

Defends Department.

A. P. Norman, commissioner of fire and police, who supports Chief Sedgwick for reappointment, declared that the record of the department speaks for itself. He said the Galveston force, contending with all the difficulties attached to the policing of a seaport town, is highly efficient.

"In respect to vice," Commissioner Norman declared, "it is well to remember that Galveston is a seaport. The vice district here has been aboished and, as a consequence, women of questionable character reside everywhere throughout the city. We must curb vice as much as we can; as much as we are doing, but it is a human impossibility to stamp it out entirely.

Nearly every minister in Galveston has, since the announcement of the newly elected mayor, come to his support in public statements and sermons. They charge that "painted women" by the hundreds are allowed to gather in Galveston from towns all over the state; that "bootleggers" ply their traffic almost at will, in some cases delivering illicit liquor to a great deal like the ice man delivers ice, and that drivers of taxicabs have become a menace to the morals of young girls and women residents here.

WILL SOCIALISM AMALGAMATE WITH SOVIETISM? ISSUE IS UP

DETROIT, June 13.—Whether socialism is to retain its present program and identity or be amalgamated with sovietism or communism is one of the issues which the soicalist national convention, set for June 25 here, will be called upon to decide.

Under the "agenda" system of voting, adopted by the socialists for the first time this year, all motions proposed for submission to the convention must be circularized in advance among the membership of the party for assimilation and discussion. Any faction or group within the party, however small and unrepresentative, may submit such a tentative motion for inclusion in the agenda with the distinct understanding, however, that this precedure carries with it absolutely no endorsement or sanction for the proposal by the committee who makes up the agenda.

Thus among a mass of other motions to be submitted at the meeting will be the following, taken from the printed copy of the agenda issued:

Would Join Soviet.

A motion that "the Socialist party of the United States renew its application for membership in the Communist International upon the basis of complete acceptance of the twenty-one points of affiliation."

Another motion on the same subject says: "That the Socialist party of the United States renew its application for membership in the Communist International with the reservation that we accept no binding formula for the attainment or organization of the Socialist society; and retain complete autonomy in matters of membership, or ganization and tactics and in regard to our program and declarations regarding questions which are primarily of domestic concern.

A resolution dealing with the opposite viewpoint will be offered, which states that: "Be it resolved that until such time as the Communist International has officially withdrawn the appeal for workers to leave the American Socialist party and others of a similar import, members of the Socialist party supporting or indorsing the Communist International or advocating affiliation therewith shall be subject to expulsion by their respective branches."

Another agenda motion says: "That the transitional period from capitalism to socialism may take a long time and will unavoidably be accompanied by civil strife in one form or another. At such a time the new order has a right to defend itself and the Socialist-conscious proletarian and his party is then duty-bound to disregard the formal rights of the bourgeoisie as a minority of the people and build the power of the workers as the majority, upon such a strong basis and with such guarantees that the revolution could not be endangered from within.

Power of Workers.

"This may be called the dictatorship of the proletariat, or it may be called under another name, but it will always means the same thing, the power of the working class, expressed through the workers' council, or such other organizations as grow out of conditions of the times and which will aim at the final abolition of exploitation and oppression.

Still another motion to be presented says: "The Socialist party of the United States advocates the dictatorship of the Proletariat. . . . The dictatorship must be established to suppress counter-revolutionary movements of the capitalists and to firmly establish the new order. The working class, having captured the political power, must use that power to entrench themselves as the dominant ruling class, unless such time as the expropriation of capitalist property and the abolition of interest, rent and profit has eliminated economic classes, class interests and class antagonisms."

Another motion states that "The Socialist party regards the general strike as a powerful weapon of the working class." This motion adds however: "However, considering that it requires a high degree of organization, discipline and solidarity, it is evident that the advocacy of a general strike in the United States under present conditions is folly. Years of education and organization lie before the American working class before the general strike can pass from theory to reality."

Political Strikes.

Political strikes are advocated in one motion, but warns that it is effective where there is sufficient sentiment to insure a general and willing compliance with the strike orders and that political strikes called for light or trivial reasons are foredoomed to failure and will result in discrediting this powerful weapon.

Another motion dealing with the Socialist attitude toward organized labor says in part: "As part of the militant forces of the working class of this country, we reaffirm that adherence to a policy of political begging, of political trading with the capitalists' parties, on the part of the labor movement is degrading and detrimental to the interest of the workers."

Still another motion says: "The working class government must not hesitate to use the most vigorous methods, if necessary, to suppress forcible opposition by the minority and maintain its supremacy. The workers must not allow anything to stand in the way of their being the ruling class as long as classes or remnants of classes remain."

Competitive motion, advocating exactly the opposite view to many of those here expressed are similarly guaranteed a hearing under the "agenda" system.

1 BANDIT SLAIN, ONE CAPTURED IN KANSAS CITY

By United Press.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., June 14.—Hundreds of pedestrians witnessed a down-town shooting here today which resulted in the death of Joe Clement and the capture of J. C. Williams, alleged members of the "daylight bandit gang."

E. A. Prosser, a bystander, manager of the Chillicothe Missouri Livestock exchange, was struck by a stray bullet. Patrolman George Beckwith who grappled with the bandits and then pulled his gun, was uninjured.

The shooting took place in the lobby of a building in the heart of the business district.

Patrolman Beckwith tipped by a small boy, who told of seeing three men change straw hats for caps, leave a motor car and board a street car in the residence district, followed the street car down town. Two of the trio left the street car. Beckwith stopped them. While he was questioning the pair, one of them swung his fist for the patrolman's jaw. Beckwith's first shot struck Clement in the breast.

After a short chase during which several shots were fired, Williams was captured by another officer.

PROSECUTION OF WAR "CROOKS" IS DISCUSSED

WASHINGTON, June 14.—Prosecution of war "crooks" was discussed at today's cabinet meeting, it was learned authoritatively. Profiteers who milked the government still are liable to meet justice, according to indications. Attorney General Daugherty is believed to have laid some information obtained by agents before the cabinet members to seek their views as to how he should proceed.

It was understood that some members of the cabinet favored aggressive action.

CRACK SHOT ARMY OF AUSTRIA IS DEAD

By Associated Press.

VIENNA, June 13.—Major General Stoeger-Steiner, the last war minister to receive appointment from royal hands, has just died here. Stoeger, who was reputed to be the best rifle shot in the old empire, distinguished himself on both the Russian and Italian fronts.

Acting entirely on his own initiative and in disregard of the plan of action drawn by the genereal staff, he beat back the first Russian invasion of Austrian territory at Gorlice on Aug. 23, 1914, and carried the war into Russia.

LABOR LEADER APPOINTED TO SHIPPING BOARD

T. V. O'Connor, of Buffalo, N. Y., president of the International Longshoremen's Union, who has been appointed by President Harding to the new United States shipping board for five years as representative of the Great Lakes region. Mr. O'Connor was for a time mentioned as a possible secretary of labor.

THREE RAILROAD EMPLOYES KILLED, TWO HURT, IN CRASH

SEYMOUR, Ind., June 12.—Three railroad employes were killed and two were injured seriously early today when two engines, pulling an eastbound Baltimore & Ohio freight train overturned at Medora, In., sixteen miles east of here.

The dead are: Hugh Seifker, engineer; Thomas Hill, fireman, and Harry McCulley, brakeman. The injured are: M. E. Downey, engineer, and C. R. Harding, fireman. All were of Seymour.

TEXAS MULES AND HORSES ARE SCARCER

WASHINGTON, June 13.—Both mules and horses were decidedly less numerous on Texas farms in 1920 than in 1910, according to figures given out today by the bureau of the census. In 1920 there were 995,598 horses on Texas farms as against 1,170,068 in 1910. The mules were 849,188 strong in 1920 and 675,558 strong in 1910.

The horses are made up as follows:

Colts under one year of age, 52,647; colts one year old and under two years, 52,125; mares two years old and over, 410,346; geldings two years old and over, 271,349; stallions two years old and over, 10,131.

Their long-eared brethren, mules, are made up as follows:

Mule colts under one year of age, 35,485; mule colts one year of age and not over two years, 753; mules two years old and over, 777,160.

IRISH QUESTION UP!

DENVER, June 14.—The Irish question came into the open today for the first time in the convention of the American Federation of Labor.

Jas. H. Thomas, representing the British trades unions, was asked what the unions of Great Britain were doing to help Ireland gain her freedom. "The British labor movement has always favored Irish freedom, but does not want an independent nation," he said.

Thomas had finished his regular address when the question was handed to him. He said he had deliberately refrained from mentioning the subject.

BETTER BE GOOD!

WASHINGTON, June 14.—President Harding and his cabinet today decided that all bureau chiefs of government departments found guilty of conducting propaganda against governmental reorganization will be dismissed immediately.

SCREW-WORMS ARE PREYING ON RANGE CATTLE

Special to the Times.

WASHINGTON, June 14.—Ravages of the screw-worm fly are already beginning to make themselves felt and warnings are being issued to cattlemen by the bureau of entomology. Field agents of the bureau are reporting an unusually devastating attack of the screw-worm.

While this is about the usual time for the fly to make its appearance, the rainy weather recently is very favorable to the rapid multiplication of the fly and especially in southwest Texas are they noticeable. Cattlemen are being cautioned to dispose of all waste animal matter.

Systematic destruction of all carcasses, preferably by burning will greatly lessen the losses due to the injury by the screw-worm fly to cattle, sheep, goats and other animals. This destroying of carcasses is one of the most economical methods used in combatting the fly. Destroying the carcasses does away with one of the most suitable breeding places which the fly habitates.

Another means of fighting the fly is by the use of fly traps on the ranges.

The Confederation of Mexican chambers of commerce to be held in Mexico City, will be attended by a delegation of the Women's chamber of commerce of the United States.

COCKSURE G. O. P. LOST ELECTION IN 4TH ALABAMA

Sent Big Guns to Spell-bind 'Em on Tariff Issues; No Use.

By BASCOM N. TIMMONS.
Times Washington Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, June 13.—Democrats here are deeply gratified with the result of the election just held in the Fourth Alabama district to choose a successor to the late Congressman Blackman.

The fight was made on the tariff issue. Because of recent activities of high-tariff men in the South, Republicans believed they had a chance to carry the district. They sent Congressman Harry M. Wurzbach, Republican, of Texas, and other big guns into the district.

The speakers told how all the South was aflame for a protective tariff. Republican leaders here sat up election night to get the returns. They believed that they would capture the district. The first returns were unfavorable. Later returns were even more unfavorable and when the final count was in Lamar Jeffers, Democrat, had defeated Judge A. P. Langdhere, Republican, by 4,365.

It was the first test in the South since the tariff agitation began. Democrats say the same result would have happened in any Southern district, where the issues were the same.

Opposed Free Trade.

Mr. Jeffers, the successful Democratic candidate, came out for a tariff for revenue only. His position is that of the most of the Democratic members. He is opposed to free trade and is opposed to a high protective tariff.

The scandal of the passage of the emergency tariff bill under the guise of relief to farmers, but which was exposed by Senator Moses, Republican, of New Hampshire, as a measure intended primarily to give a monopoly to the dye trust. The dye feature was inserted into the bill over the vehement protests of Congressman John H. Garner of Texas, and other Democratic leaders.

Watching Deadlock.

Democrats today were watching with interest the deadlock of Republican members in the ways and means committee over the permanent tariff measure, which makes it probable that a permanent tariff bill can not be passed before February.

Several weeks ago Democrats were locked out of the committee room and the Republicans began work on the measure. The Republicans immediately split and the breach has been growing every day.

Meanwhile members have grown irksome over the fact that the committee has no bill in sight after three months of wrangling and have began to talk about an adjournment because of the hot weather.

Queen Victoria of Spain, was at one time an enthusiastic amateur actress and was said to possess dramatic talent of a high order.

HUMBLE MEETS CUT IN CRUDE TO $1.25 BARREL

With the Humble Oil and Refining company meeting the cut this morning the last of the larger pipe line companies are now only paying $1.25 a barrel for Ranger and North Texas crude. The Magnolia posted the price several days ago, but it was not met until yesterday when the Prairie Oil and Gas and the Sinclair company posted the $1.25 price. The Humble this morning was the last to meet it.

Many local oil men view the decline with favor. It is the general opinion that oil is going to drop to a certain point and after that point is reached it will revive. Local men are now anxious for the bottom to be touched. The general opinion has been for some weeks that the lowest price will be $1 a barrel.

SHORTAGE OF FUEL OIL AT TORREON, MEX.

TORREON, Coahuila, Mexico, June 14.—A continued shortage of fuel oil exists here, despite improved freight traffic. The National lines of Mexico have turned over thirty-six engines to the Mexican railroad with the agreement that it deliver at least ten cars of fuel oil a day, to supply this district and to relieve congested freight conditions at Tampico.

Several of the short branch lines of the railroad running out of Guadalajara, Jalisco, Mexico, have suspended operation on account of the scarcity of fuel oil.

COX REFUSES TO REINSTATE BOSTON POLICE WHO STRUCK

BOSTON, June 14. — Governor Cox today declined to take any action toward reinstatement of Boston policemen who went out on strike in September, 1919.

In a letter to Michael Lynch, who as a representative of the former officers has twice written the governor, the latter said the responsibility for the conduct of the police department was vested in the police commissioner. He saw no occasion for action on his part, he wrote.

DOHERTY SEES HIGH PRICES FOR OIL LATER

Declares Consumption Overtaking Production and Supply Will Soon Be Short.

NEW YORK, June 14.—In connection with the reduction by the Magnolia Petroleum company in its posted price of Mid-Continent crude oil from $1.50 to $1.25 a barrel, Henry L. Doherty, president of Cities Service company, of which the Empire Gas and Fuel company and the Empire Refining company are subsidiaries, outlined the present condition and future prospects of the oil industry as follows:

"This reduction comes at a time when intrinsic conditions in the oil business are rapidly improving and, if the other purchasing companies follow the lead of the Magnolia and reduce the price of crude oil to $1.25, it will, in my opinion, react to the benefit of the producing companies and to the detriment of the public by curtailing production and forcing extremely high prices at a later date.

"Oil consumption is gaining at a rapid rate, giving promise of soon outrunning even our present record of production. Drilling is falling off at a rapid rate and, as much of our present output is flush production, fully one-third of all the production east of the Rockies being from wells drilled in the last year and fully 50 per cent from wells drilled in the last two years, we are bound soon to have a falling off in production at a phenomenal rate.

"Production and importation of oil are running to maximum amount in all previous history and yet, in April, only 6,000,000 barrels of crude oil went into storage.

"In other words, consumption in April was at a rate of 88 per cent of production and still gaining, indicating that, even under depressed business conditions and lessened foreign demand, consumption soon again will exceed the present production, while the great slump that already has taken place in drilling is bound to cause a falling off in production.

"If these low prices are long continued, I predict that crude oil prices will have to go far above anything which here tofore has ever been paid for oil and this regardless of any improvement in general business conditions.

"The large amount of oil now coming from flush production will cause a more rapid decline in production than anything we heretofore have experienced and it will require an extreme in price to stimulate production to enable the market demands to be met before the meager stocks of oil ground have been exhausted."

YOU certainly want to save money, and you would like to have better bakings.

Then use Calumet. It's the biggest thing you can do to improve the quality of your bakings—and lower baking costs.

Calumet is made in the largest, most sanitary Baking Powder Factories in the World. No Baking Powder is made under better conditions—none can be better in quality.

It contains only such ingredients as have been officially endorsed by the U. S. Pure Food Authorities. An absolute guarantee that it is pure.

It received highest Awards, World's Pure Food Exposition, Chicago — Paris Exposition, Paris, France—positive proof of its superior merit.

It is used by more housewives, domestic scientists and chefs than any other brand. That would not be the case, if it were possible to secure a higher quality leavener.

It is sold at a moderate price. All you have to do is to compare costs to determine how much you can save by buying Calumet.

Pound can of Calumet contains full 16 oz. Some baking powders come in 12 oz. instead of 16 oz. cans. Be sure you get a pound when you want it.

Calumet Cream Cake Recipe

—3 cups pastry flour, 3 level teaspoons Calumet Baking Powder, ½ cup butter, 1½ cups granulated sugar, Yolks of 3 eggs, ¾ cup cold water, Whites of 3 eggs, 1 teaspoon orange extract. Then mix in the regular way.
