Strictly golden bantam and the record "Take Me Back to Tulsa" by Bob Wills and his Texas Playboys, now mowing 'em down on the new nickelodeon. Any way, "Tulsa" is Eva Gresson's theme song though she doesn't like to have it mentioned.

Jane Morgan has been called the Hereford's young intellectual. She says it's just another name for sour-puss.

Question of the week: How high is the water in Umbarger Lake, and did it or did it not over the spillway? Fifteen persons who saw the lake with their own eyes have fifteen different versions of the story according to Alton Miller.

One Hereford Housewife says she is going to have to use graduation invitations for curtains in her living room--since the certain money is being spent for graduation presents. However, the lady, who is not sarcastic, intends to add that she's glad the children remembered her.

The City Drug now has a melodeon--features Artie Brown's swell treatment of "Be the Beguine."

Gertrude London is now working in Judge A. J. Schroeter's office.

Joe Caldwell is catching theateur photography virus--he from too close accosia--with Elmer Patterson. Any Lee took some excellent pictures of the flood waters at Friona last week. They would almost make this territory live up to the new name of "Lake Panhandle."

Mayor Paddock is our nominee for a fellow who is easy to use--he likes the weather, and staff--even says that his Eva Pittman is easy to get along with.

Selectees Will Leave June 12--Alternates Named

Correll Harkins, order No. 8, and James Woodrow Cawthon, order No. 13, will report to the draft board on June 12, and they will be sent to the recruiting office at Fort Harkins and Cawthon are the two actual selectees to be selected by the local service and as previous quotas have been filled by volunteers.

John Kenneth Criswell and Michael Hoffman, order 19 and 24, are alternates in this draft call.

The local selective service office announces that they will tomorrow, May 30, which is Memorial Day.

Quota Vote To Be Saturday

BETTER USE THAT UMBRELLA

J. A. Pitman, chairman of the Deaf Smith County A. A. A. Committee, again this week urged all farmers in the county to vote on the marketing quota referendum on May 31, emphasizing the great importance of the quotas in protecting wheat farmers from the dangers of a huge wheat surplus on the world market.

LOSS OF WORLD MARKET Because of the war, American farmers are faced with the loss of 1-4 of a world market which has been shrinking ever since the first World War. Mr. Pitman points out that, though American producers could grow 60 million acres of wheat, 55 million will supply the U. S. market, with a surplus for any emergency which might be created by national defense. "If quotas are not approved," says Mr. Pitman, "and there is a distinct possibility that they may not be because of opposition from smaller producers in the middle (Continued on Page 10)

Martin Dies

Chairman of the House Committee for Investigating Un-American Activities, Mr. Dies is using as his slogan, "Vote To Promote." He may face a joker in the fact that many voters like his work where he is, hesitate to change his job.

W. Lee O'Daniel

Texas' flour salesman governor may face the race of his life in the fight for the senatorship. In making the race for senate, O'Daniel refuses to resign as governor, thus making an issue on which his opponents will capitalize.

Lyndon Johnson

The fair haired boy of the administration in the Texas Senate race is Lyndon Johnson, who is campaigning on a platform of "all out for Roosevelt and defense." Mr. Johnson is not well known except in his own congressional district, but an active campaign is being staged to acquaint Texas voters with the young congressman.

Gerald C. Mann

Gerald C. Mann, who bases his campaign for U. S. Senator on a splendid record as attorney general. Mann also established a precedent when he returned to the state his salary earned during the time he is campaigning for the senate.

Candidates Plentiful For U. S. Senate Race

With the entry last week of Governor W. Lee O'Daniel, it became apparent that the race for the unexpired term of the late Senator Morris Sheppard is going to be what the old-timers call a "hoss race" with a field of 19 candidates, of whom at least four are given a chance of being out in front at the final count.

The election, to be held June 28, is for the business of electing a junior senator from Texas--and since it is only for the unexpired term, the race will have to be repeated in 1942; but the shortness of the term has not made the candidates hesitate about getting into the fight.

Most publicized candidates so far, have been Congressman Martin Dies, chairman of the congressional red hunting committee, Congressman Lyndon Johnson, who bears the indirect blessing of President Roosevelt, who has called him his "old friend," and Gerald C. Mann, who is capitalizing on a successful record as state attorney general. O'Daniel's entry caused several candidates, notably Hal Collins of Mineral Wells, to retire from the race, as "pappy's" competition has proved pretty potent in the past.

However, the Belden Survey of Texas Opinion last week showed the race as no set up for Governor O'Daniel, who is shown to hold 30 per cent of the vote at the present time--enough for a plurality; but should the administration help for Johnson take on a more concrete form than a mere blessing, the vote might swing from O'Daniel to one of his opponents.

Until O'Daniel entered the race, Mann seemed to be leading with Dies and Johnson following in that order and with Johnson showing much increased strength since the campaign started.

Also, if the issue of foreign affairs is made major, it may hurt O'Daniel's chance because, the governor, while an authority on old-age pensions and radio technique, may find his issues outdated in a campaign based on a subject on which he can claim little knowledge.

Other candidates in the race keep up Texas' reputation for bizarre political figures. They include Dr. John R. Brinkley of glandular fame, Cyclone Davis, Jr., whose vote-getting attraction is a full dress beard, and Sam Morris, radio temperance speaker, who is running on prohibition platform.

At all events Texas can look forward to a broadside of oratory for the next month--and amongst defense shortages can be listed no lack of would-be United States Senators.

Tom Ivey Injured In Road Crash Saturday

Tom Ivey, prominent rancher of this territory, was seriously injured Saturday night when his car crashed into a culvert west of Dawn.

Mr. Ivey was driving west on Highway 60 and crashed into the culvert when, blinded by the lights of an approaching car, he pulled too far to the side of the road. His car overturned and Ivey was pinned beneath the steering wheel, which jammed into his chest.

Tourists at first passed the scene of the accident, then, deciding that there had been a wreck, backed up and extricated Ivey, who was unconscious, from his wrecked car. They took the injured man to the Deaf Smith County Hospital.

Mr. Ivey's face was cut and bruised, some chest and rib bones were broken and it was feared that he had also suffered possible internal injuries. His condition this morning was reported as still grave, but somewhat improved.

Star Apts. Will Be Open For Inspection

The Star Apartments, just north of the Ford Garage, are nearing completion and will be occupied Monday, according to Speck Lunsford, manager. He said that the new $6,000 apartments will be open for inspection Sunday to visitors, although they are not entirely finished.

The six apartments feature modern improvements throughout, including hardwood floors, Venetian blinds, fluorescent lighting and built-in cabinets for utmost convenience. A canopy covers the rear entrance to the apartments and the hallways have been modernized.

Banks to Close

Both the First National and First State Banks will be closed tomorrow, May 30, for Decoration Day.

They will also be closed on Tuesday, June 3, for Jefferson Davis' Birthday.

Chas. Felts Is New Manager At Furr Food

Personnel changes this week at the Furr Food Store made Charles Felts manager of the store in the place of Wyman Howell, who has resigned to take a position with the Safeway Stores.

Bob Patterson of Littlefield has taken Mr. Felts place as checker and R. L. Barge and C. V. McCord will continue their work in the market department.

Mr. Felts has been in the grocery business in Hereford for several years and has many friends in the community. He announces that the Furr Store will continue the same policies of good value and courteous service which they have featured in the past, and urges all his friends to visit the store.

Plains Sailors Make Good As Tree Climbers

By Homer Fox

Boy, this rain and water is really working on most of us in some way or other. Seems to be a little rougher on the younger bunch, course you can easily see why, there is more water in Tleria Blanco Creek right now than most of these old timers have seen all their lives and these lads from 20 to 30 who have been raised here, just don't know what it is all about.

Last Sunday, a horse doctor and a wood carver that really had Navy ambitions earlier in life decided they would do some tall and fancy navigating and stop a lot of arguing by a bunch of these land lubbers on how (Continued on Page 10)

Bridges At Friona Still Intact As Record Flood Rushes Down Draw; Part of Town Is Flooded

Commencement Ends H. S. Career Of 1941 Seniors

With the class night program tonight at 8 o'clock and graduation tomorrow night at 8:30 in the high school auditorium, the high school careers of 55 Hereford seniors will end.

Beginning with the Baccalaureate Sermon, preached by Rev. Jas. Alken, Jr., Sunday night, the week has been full of activity for the 1941 seniors, who were honored Monday night with a picnic given by Mrs. Harry Seed (Continued on Page 10)

F. H. T. Organizes For Summer Program

Plans for summer homemaking projects were this week carried forward by the election on Monday afternoon at a meeting in the high school homemaking department, of the following: F. H. T. officers for the summer: president, Correnne Hamilton; vice president, Marie Compton; secretary-treasurer, Seletta Robinson; reporter, L. N. Farmer.

The club members will carry on individual projects on different phases of homemaking during the summer months. Many of the girls will participate in Junior Red Cross Activities and in the activities of the Hereford Youth Council.

Marie Compton is chairman of the committee to plan programs for the group meetings to be held from 3 until 4 o'clock, each Wednesday afternoon. In addition to these an over-night camping trip to Ceta Glen and a field trip to Amarillo are being planned.

Girls present at the meeting Monday were: Mildred Sheppard, Correnne Hamilton, Florene Lloyd, L. N. Farmer, Kathryn Acker, Christine Smith, Marie Compton, Marie Moreman, Ella Mae Parsons, Thema Malm, Vera Rea, Marjorie Morrison, Betty Jo Boeskin, Marjorie Malm, Josephine Hoffman, Billie Erlene Sexton, Edna Mae Wilhelm, Mary Sue Whitaker, Marcia Robbins, Pearl Prachar, Seletta Robinson and Mary Ellen Henslee.

Reports that bridges at Friona were washed out Thursday morning proved to be erroneous. All bridges were intact at noon. Although damaged, the highway bridge across Friona Draw just west of town was being used under directions of the State Highway Department and traffic, including heavy buses, continued as usual.

The Santa Fe bridge, also crossing the Friona just west of Friona, was reported to be damaged but was still standing. No trains are crossing the area and no definite knowledge was available as to the extent of damage. Tracks around Friona, west of town and about two miles east of town, appeared to have undergone much damage and to have been badly washed. No announcement was made as to when rail service will be resumed through the point. The Santa Fe depot was also surrounded by water.

The highway bridge suffered damage only in one point, where rushing waters washed the abutment away between the east end of the bridge and the road bed. Concrete surfacing remained intact, however, and heavy timber was placed from the bridge across to the roadbed allowing traffic to pass at a slow speed. All traffic was under direction of the highway department.

Approximately two miles of road was under water east of Friona. This strip was also crossed under supervision of the highway department but was giving little trouble at 9:30 Thursday morning and by noon most of the water was off the highway.

Gehres Funeral Is Held Sunday

Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon at the Black Funeral Chapel for F. J. Gehres, 87, who died Friday morning at his home in south Hereford following a grief illness. Services were conducted by Rev. W. E. Barnes.

Mr. Gehres is survived by his wife, Mrs. Anna Gehres, and six children--Mrs. C. J. Troxell and Mrs. H. E. Danforth of Hereford, Mrs. F. E. Graham and J. A. Gehres of Spring Lake, R. B. Gehres of Tacoma Park, Md. (Continued on Page 10)

Mosquito Blitzkrieg Is Repelled By Tommy Gun and G. I. Shoes; Fight At Ft. Benning Viewed By Local Boys

"Blitzkrieg by mosquitoes" is the description or army life given by Charles B. Short and John E. Weaver of Hereford, privates in the Second Armored Division at Fort Benning, Ga., in a letter received this week by the Brand.

The boys explain that they are writing to the Brand because they cannot buy enough stamps to write to all their friends on the princely army pay and go on to elaborate that they "took up a collection of rags, bottles etc. and so were able to mail this one and only letter."

Life in the army, according to Privates Short and Weaver, moves fast. They left Fort Bliss about eight or nine weeks ago and are now stationed at Fort Benning. Also, to judge by other soldier's experiences they may expect at any time to be sent to the Pacific or Atlantic coast on practically no notice whatever. In fact, when the present unsettled conditions are over, it may be question of "How You Gonna Keep 'Em Down On The Farm?" as it was after the last war.

The daily schedule is something like this "Up at 5 o'clock in the morning and back to bed at 9 or 10 o'clock at night--that is if you have completed all your work. During the day they "spend the time driving tanks, getting machine gun instructions or something else concerning defense tactics." "When we think everything is O. K.," he boys continue, "they put us on K. P. (K. P. is nothing more than a low-rated dish washer.) In fact, we have been on K. P. so steady that everyone in camp thinks we are mess sergeants."

The Brand, say Short and Weaver, makes them feel as if they were "still in the U. S." But after they have been revived by home town news, they are "called to chigger hollow to listen to a two-hour dry lecture, mostly concerned with the number of hours an improperly trained soldier may expect to live."

Concluding, the soldiers say that they are spending a few days in the wide-open spaces, where the other night, they were attacked by a "mosquito about the size of a turkey." This man-eating buzzard was successfully repelled by a tommy gun, and a battery of large G. I. shoes.

In a postscript, Weaver and Moore inform their readers that the army uniforms fit like "an elephant's pants on a baby rat."

The boys' addresses are: Pvt. Chas. B. Short, 2nd Armored Division, 193 T. Bn., H. Q. Co., Fort Benning, Ga.; and Pvt. John E. Weaver, 2nd Armored Division, 193 T. Bn., Co. "C", Fort Benning. They hasten to add that "letters from any person will be appreciated."

Story of Frio Rise To Be On Inside Page

A first hand account of the record rise in the Frio Draw as reported by John White of Friona will be found on an inside page of the Brand.

Mr. White's story is about the rise which occurred Wednesday night and has stopped train travel from the west.

Selective Service Board Mails Questionnaires Up To Order No. 675

The Deaf Smith County Selective Board this week mailed questionnaires to all men in the county with order numbers up to 675. Next week, the remaining questionnaires up to order number 818 will be mailed.

By the end of next week all questionnaires for men who registered under the October draft will be sent out, and it is expected that calls will probably come faster all the time in response to President Roosevelt's declaration of a full national emergency.

Adrian News

By MRS. GEORGE A. SYMS

There were only 16 present at Sunday School, because of rainy weather. Adrian territory had several inches of rain the past week, added to the previous moisture.

Rev. D. W. Binkley is leading the song service in a meeting at Miami, and did not have services at Adrian Sunday. Rev. T. M. Gillham will preach at the morning and evening hour next Sunday. It will be Rev. Binkley's regular appointment at Wildorado.

Because of the rainy weather and muddy roads, commencement exercises Thursday night and Seventh grade graduation exercises Friday night were not well attended.

Following the seventh grade graduating exercises, the awards for the year were given.

Certificates of attendance were awarded to Bobby Youngblood, Chloe Dell Fortenberry, Guyeth Bogle and Roger Gruhkey.

Scholarship awards went to Monte Gray Frazier, first grade; Donald Fortenberry, second grade; Robert Lee Jacobson, third grade; Billy Lynn Thomas, fourth grade; Betty Jo Thuet, fifth grade; Roy Fortenberry, sixth grade; Pat Maynard, seventh grade; Wayne Thomas, eighth grade; Robert Chapman, ninth grade; Clyde Phillips, tenth grade and Jean Spande, eleventh grade.

Letters in basketball were awarded to Verne Jacobson, Geo. Worsham, Clyde Phillips, Carroll Gruhkey, Bob Gruhkey, Jim Morris and Bobby Speed.

Typing awards went to Jean Spande and Bobby Speed. Buddy Chapman was the recipient of the Citizenship award for 1940-41.

The Seniors presented their sponsor, Mrs. Lora Fay Clemons Foster with an arm load of gifts containing a cookie jar, a glass cake set consisting of custard cups, a baking dish, and pie pan lid, and salt and pepper shakers. The seniors left on their trip, following the lunch hour.

According to the class history, three members of the class started together in the first grade. They are Bobby Speed, Buddy Chapman, and Jean Spande.

The Roller Skating was well attended at the school gymnasium Saturday night. The Saturday night skating will be held until harvest time.

Defense stamps will be kept at the Chapman Cafe during the summer months while school is closed.

Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Zaring, Jr., and baby son, Jimmie, visited M. H.'s parents over the week end.

Lowen Reynolds, eldest son of Mrs. A. L. Reynolds left Tuesday May 20 for Fort Bliss at El Paso. O. A. Fincher has employment at the smelter in Amarillo.

Everyone enjoyed Matador Day. Many of the towns-people and other patrons of the school participated in the parade, which has become an outstanding annual custom. There were more horses than ever in the parade and costumes and make-up of the school students were characteristic of the Spanish name Matador. The seniors met no classes, and enjoyed themselves immensely during the day.

Close of school parties were much in evidence—the Seventh grade enjoyed a skating party with about fifteen present. Mrs. Hurley Maynard and Mrs. Cord Hammock served fruit punch and cake to the group.

On Tuesday, the first and second grades had a skating party from three to four, and refreshments were served by the room mothers.

On Wednesday, the fifth and sixth grades substituted a skating party for a picnic, because of rain.

The Juniors held a skating party Wednesday night. The ninth grade held their skating party Friday night.

On Friday afternoon, the eighth grade and their guests went out to Wayne Thomas' where they enjoyed a hayride (in a trailer).

During the last weeks of school there were several dozen cases of German measles, and one case of mumps. Luckily the measles did not last long, and in most cases the effects were not severe.

Because of bad weather, and the absence of many girls on Wednesday, the 4-H Club did not meet. The girls and their sponsor hope to have interesting and profitable meetings every other week this summer.

Hallie Mostellar had charge of the American Legion Auxiliary poppy sale in Adrian.

R. E. Caldwell attended a meeting of elevator managers under the auspices of the Producers Grain Corporation in Amarillo, Thursday.

The Adrian Parent Teacher Association held the last meeting of the school year on Tuesday night.

The invocation was given by Frank Watson. The Rhythm Band, dressed in their white and red costumes under the direction of Jimmie Brown of the second grade, accompanied by their teacher, Mrs. Frank Watson, played "Onward, Christian Soldiers," "Dreaming" and "Country Gardens." A Maypole Dance given by the primary children in costume was enjoyed by everyone.

The program for the evening was in charge of Mrs. Hurley Maynard. Rev. D. W. Binkley, pastor of the Methodist Church spoke on "Physical Health and Vigor," stressing the need of proper environment and proper diet in order for the child to have a healthy mind and a healthy body.

Superintendent George A. Syms gave "Know Your School," the seventh in a series given by the faculty, discussing "The Twelve Grade System" which will be adopted by the Adrian school the coming year. Mesdames E. C. Chapman and G. A. Syms gave reports of the District Conference held in Dumas in April. The first and second grade room received the attendance picture for May.

Refreshments were served to the members and guests in the Home Economics room by the hostesses, Mesdames V. E. Lemke, Clarence Hollabaugh and Clayton Cook.

Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Fowler were honored with a buffet supper given by Mr. and Mrs. Geo. A. Syms, at which other members of the Adrian school faculty were guests on Wednesday night.

The faculty presented Mr. and Mrs. Fowler with an electric automatic toaster set. Those present for the occasion were: Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Baker, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Lorin Creitz, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Watson, W. W. Lindsey, Mary Lu and Adrian Syms, the honor guests, and the host and the hostess.

A meeting was held at the school building on Monday night in the interest of the voting to be held Saturday, May 31, 1941. Wheat marketing quotas, their meaning, how they work and to whom they apply were discussed by county agent, Nash Thompson, and Henry Creitz.

The Adrian teachers are all planning a busy summer. Mrs. Frank Watson, primary teacher will spend the summer at her home in Adrian. Mrs. Lorin Creitz, third and fourth grade teacher, at her farm home southeast of Adrian; Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Baker, Jr., high school English teacher and fifth and sixth grade teacher, respectively plan to be in Austin, taking part time work at the University, and acting as director at the University Baptist Church and Mrs. Baker to be pastor's secretary there. They plan to be in Austin about June 1, visiting Mrs. Baker's parents at Memphis and Mr. Baker's father and sister at Arlington and Fort Worth. Mrs. Lora Fay Slemmons Foster plans to live in Amarillo with her husband, assisting in bookkeeping at an elevator during harvest, and with her husband, plans a trip to the east later in the summer. Mr. W. W. Lindsey will assist Mr. Hurley Maynard with elevator work during the summer, and G. A. Syms will manage the Pullman elevator east of Amarillo.

Messrs. and Mesdames L. S. Dickey and T. S. Warren of Lone Wolf, Okla., are here in the interest of the wheat crop south west of Adrian. Mr. and Mrs. Roy Jackson, Sr., of Maplewood, N. J., are visiting Mr. Jackson's uncle, J. P. Collier and other relatives. Mr. and Mrs. Jackson will go to College Station to be at the graduation exercises of their son, Roy, Jr., who was a former student in the Adrian high school. Following his graduation, Roy, Jr., will enter the army as a commissioned officer.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Watson, Misses Dorothy and Jean Spande and Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Syms and children were Canyon visitors Sunday afternoon, eating picnic supper in the Palo Duro Canyon and attending Baccalaureate services in Amarillo.

Messenger News

MRS. J. N. MESSENGER

This community has received its full quota of rain during the past week. A total of 8 1/4 inches fell last week, bringing the month's rainfall to 11 inches.

The mail carrier failed to make his route two days last week because of the mud and the unsafe condition of the bridges.

Some of the local young people who took part in the graduation exercises at Friona, Friday night, had to go to Friona by way of Hereford. The culvert north of Messenger Store is washed out and all traffic has stopped both ways.

BY MRS. MERLIN KAUL

Carol Jean, the four-months old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Moody Stephan is ill at the hospital in Hereford.

The dinner, honoring Mr. and Mrs. Dodson and Monte Max, was held at the schoolhouse Sunday and was quite well attended in spite of rain and muddy roads. There was no Sunday School as it was almost dinner time by the time most folks could arrive. The occasion also welcomed the new teachers for this fall, Mr. Travis Dixon and Miss Olive Dunn, who were present. Those present besides the honor guests were the families of D. H. Allmon, F. A. Tucker, O. Wilder, R. M. Gunn, Joe Landers, L. O. Gore, Clarence Morrison, Earl Little, Paul Rudd, A. C. Pierce, and Merlin Kaul, also Jack Earp, Mrs. Stella Mae Flowers and Luther Roy, Grace and Neelie Reed.

Miss Grace Reed of Friona is spending the week with her sister Neelie Reed at the Foy Dodson home.

Rose Stephan was a guest

Monday night in the home of her aunt, Mrs. J. H. Patrick, at Hereford.

Jo Ann Witherspoon of Hereford was a week end guest in the G. C. Hartman home.

So much rain has fallen the past week—especially Thursday morning—that most of us began to think we were going to have to use boats even to do chores. Rain Sunday morning here measured probably 1-4 inch but in both, east and west parts of the community it was much heavier. Lakes in this community are nearly full and creeks have been raging torrents. Several acres of wheat were washed out at the Sam Smith home Sunday morning.

Junior Wilson and Junior Ward were over night guests in the M. S. Roe home in Hereford Saturday night.

Vernon Wilson left Monday morning for Abilene. He took his tractor and will combine wheat there. Larry Wilson spent Saturday night in Hereford as a guest of Jerry Ray Landers.

Elvin Wilson is staying in the home of his sister, Mrs. M. S. Roe, this week and attending school.

There was school here just one day last week as the bad roads made it impossible for the buses to run. School is being conducted every day this week and examinations will be given Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Grady Wilson, Donald Dean and Norma Sue visited in the Bud Hopson home in Hereford Sunday afternoon.

Frank Richards of Amarillo is visiting in the Kelly Gray home. He is an old friend of Mr. Gray.

Mrs. Merlin Kaul attended the Progressive luncheon of the Child Study Club in Hereford Thursday.

Junior Wilson and Junior Ward were supper guests Wednesday night in the Ethridge Ward home in the Ward community. Junior Ward is working for Grady Wilson.

Jim Bookout is tearing down the old house on the Alton Fraser Farm this week.

Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Parsons and boys visited Mr. Parsons, parents at Dawn Sunday. They went fishing in the afternoon (didn't say that they caught any).

Jim Dale went to Shattuck, Okla., last week and brought Mrs. Dale, Jennie Jean and their new daughter, Dorothy Irene, to their home here.

Mrs. Foy Dodson and Mrs. Merlin Kaul attended the B & P W Club luncheon in Hereford Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Orville Houser, G. C. Hartman, Roger and Nina Beth were dinner guests Sunday in the Gordon Witherspoon home at Hereford.

Merle Grigsby of Plainview was a guest Saturday night of his cousin, Jack Earp. He went to Friona Sunday where he preached for Rev. Carl Leeper. Rev. Leeper had his tonsils removed last week and so was unable to preach.

Ben Flower, the Borden milk man, made his route again Monday, the first time since last Monday.

Trade agreements between the United States and Canada have been modified to permit free entry of oranges into Canada during the months of January to June, inclusive.

Miss Katherine Rose Is Bride Of Carl Spratt Of Hereford

An impressive ceremony on Sunday morning, May 25 united in marriage Miss Katherine Rose of McAdoo and Carl Spratt of Hereford.

Because of the rains the nuptial vows, which were to have been read at the home of the bride's parents, were spoken in Ralls at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Kidd, with the Rev. J. A. Branaman, pastor of the McAdoo Baptist Church, officiating with the single ring ceremony.

The couple and their attendants stood before the fire-place which was banked with greenery and white blossoms. Four white tapers burned in crystal holders on the mantel and on either side of the mantel stood tall baskets filled with yellow lilies and fern.

Miss Daisy Jo Rose, sister of the bride, played the Bridal Chorus from Lohengrin as the processional and softly played "I Love You Truly" as vows were exchanged.

Attending the bride was her sister, Miss Juanita Rose, who wore a navy and white Jersey frock with a corsage of yellow rosebuds. R. C. Mitchell of Loring, former roommate of the groom served as best man.

Bride Wears Blue
The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a navy blue alpaca dress with unpressed pleats and matching bolero with white lace collar and cuffs, blue hat and veil and other accessories of white. Her corsage was of gardenias and her something old was a gold locket belonging to her great-grandmother.

The guests, young friends of the couple and intimate friends of the family, remained for a reception at which Miss Carrie Beyer of Plainview had charge of the guest book.

The lace covered table was lighted with white tapers in crystal holders and the centerpiece was a crystal bowl filled with yellow lilies and baby's breath, on a mirror reflector which was encircled with tiny white blossoms. The three-tiered cake was topped with a miniature bridal couple. Mrs. Robert Meeker of Wilson served the cake which was cut by the bride; and Mrs. J. G. Harmon of Lubbock presided at the coffee service.

Leave On Trip
After the reception the couple left on a short wedding trip to New Mexico and Colorado. They will make their home in Ralls where both will continue to teach in the Ralls Public Schools.

Mrs. Spratt is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Rose and is a 1935 graduate of the home economics division at Texas Technological College. She has been a member of the Ralls High School faculty for the past four years.

Mr. Spratt is the son of Mrs. I. I. Spratt of Hereford. He is a graduate of Hereford high school and of W. T. S. C. Canon. He did post-graduate work at Texas Tech and has been and director at Ralls for the past two years.

Final Meeting Of Season Held By B-P-W Club

The final regular session for the year for the Business and Professional Women's Club was held at the Courthouse Monday night.

New officers announced last week were installed; and the retiring president, Miss Belle Harris, was presented with a past-president's pin. The incoming president, Mrs. Lois Moore, was presented with a lovely flower corsage.

One new officer was added. Miss Evelyn Sachs was chosen as parliamentarian and the names of club pals were revealed as gifts from pals were presented. Delegates to the State Convention to be held in Lubbock in June were named. They included Clara Wedel, Lois Moore, and Evelyn Sachs. Alternates are Evelyn Stelzer, Erma Faye Robinson, and Jewell Dodson.

Mrs. Jewell Dodson was also chosen as delegate to the national convention, which is scheduled for July in Los Angeles, Calif. Mrs. Cecil Williams was named alternate.

Dinner-Dance At Buffalo Lake Entertains Club

With warm weather at hand, more and more people are deserting indoor affairs and planning outdoor occasions or trips to lakes and picnic grounds for diversion.

One such enjoyable affair was the dinner-dance given last week by Mr. and Mrs. Alton Fraser for members and guests of the Tuesday Dinner Club at Buffalo Lake.

One long table was laid for thirty six guests and fried chicken and its accompaniments furnished a delectable repast, after which dancing was enjoyed.

Those attending were Messrs. and Mesdames S. P. Rosson, J. A. Pitman, C. C. Acker, H. A. Close, Jack Wayland, W. M. Emmons, Colby Conkright, J. C. McCracken, W. L. Davis, E. B. Hedrick, A. R. Bateman, Jimmie Gillentine, J. W. Witherspoon, Oscar Easley, Mr. Clyde Smith of Lubbock, Gordon Taylor, Miss Eloyse Pitman, Mac Pitman and the hosts.

PAULINE MOORE

The rain that has fallen in this community during the past few weeks has really helped the crops of rye, barley and wheat to look 100 per cent better than this time last year.

All friends of the graduates of West Texas State College are invited to attend the Baccalaureate Sermon Sunday morning at 11 o'clock in the college auditorium and the commencement address Monday morning from 10 to 12 in the college auditorium. Students of this community that are graduating are: Harold Dean Fowler, Earl Norman and Pauline Moore.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Matthews were Sunday afternoon visitors in the W. R. Moore home.

Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Shugart, Will Shugart, and Mr. Bill Hudgens were in Hereford Monday.

Neta Jo and Harold Dean Moore, Ona Lee McCaughey and Zane Axe stayed in Canyon Friday night and Saturday with Mr. and Mrs. McBroom.

Because of the rains and bad roads, there was no school at Daniel during the past week.

The bus was unable to run.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Finney were visitors in the home of their daughters, Mrs. Horace Chilton and Mrs. Bernice Swett, in Amarillo, Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Finney recently bought a new mechanical refrigerator, and they have had ice cream everyday since they bought it because it is so easy to make.

BULL

By Jimmie Gillentine

Everyone you meet is talking about President Roosevelt's address Tuesday evening. Some people think the Chief Executive "told them plenty," while others feel that he more or less "soft pedaled" some important points.

Personally, it seems to me that our President came as close to openly declaring war as a president can. He said we will convoy. He declared the nation in a state of National Emergency and called upon us for nationwide cooperation. Most important of all, however, was the build-up and facts which he offered. This can easily mean open war, which can only be declared by Congress. Experience has taught us during recent months that Congress will do as Roosevelt says—in fact, most of the majority party ran on the ticket of doing as the President bids. Furthermore, it seems to me President Roosevelt waved his hand across the table and with it went our strikes and labor troubles. Henceforth, strikes will be quelled by the armed forces of the nation.

I am not, and never have been, an ardent Roosevelt fan—but it seems that his talk Tuesday evening was logical and to the point. Actually, this country has been a war for months. Today, it is a question of whether we get into the fracas and help England or whether we sit calmly by as did Norway, Holland, Yugoslavia, and several others—and wait until our turn comes to be wiped off the map. I am very anxious to know he reaction of our South American friends.

Monday night I went as a guest at a directors' meeting of the Chamber of Commerce. It looks like we have a pretty good bunch of directors coming into office. They include Robert L. Thompson, Cliff Acker, W. E. Dameron, Troy Moore, Alton Miller, G. W. Brumley and N. E. Gass, and I think the men pretty well represent cattle, farming, business and other important industries of the community. Bob Thompson sure picked up the Chamber of Commerce slant in a hurry. Someone mentioned wheat rust and Bob hurriedly put in: "That's not rust which is causing the wheat to fall. The bullfrogs are getting so big that they are kicking it over." The retiring board includes J. B. Stoker, John McLean, Louis Woodford, Oscar E. By, Tom Alderson, H. E. Henley and H. K. Fox.

The new board will meet Monday, June 10, to complete its organization. Mr. Stoker, retiring president, told a couple of pretty good jokes. He pointed out the need of "politeness and tact" in C-C work and used the following story as a poor example:

A negro, mentioned numerous times in connection with the stealing of chickens, was finally called into court and just before he went on the stand, the judge asked:

"Rastus, do you know what will happen to you if you don't tell the truth?"

The negro replied, "Ma'am, Mr. Judge, I'll go to the other place and burn and burn."

"That's right, Rastus, and if you tell the truth?"

"Yes, Mr. Judge, I'll just nacherly lose my case."

The other story was also about negroes, and is certainly a good example of a fellow who used his head in case of an emergency:

A negro applied for a job as hotel bellboy and after much cautioning was employed. The new boss kept drilling him up on the idea of being polite and using tact. The negro kept nodding his head, but didn't really know what the fellow meant. Finally, when he got away, he went to another bellboy and asked,

"Moy, what is his politeness and tact stuff, anyway?"

"Well," replied the second negro, "It am like this. I see cleaning up a room this morn'ing, when I goes into the bath room and there's a lady taking a bath. I says, 'Excuse me, Suh.'"

"When I says 'Excuse me,' that am politeness. When I adds the 'Suh'—that am tact."

Quite a number of folks have complained about the lack of a Bull Column in last week's paper, which goes to prove that people will read anything. Anyway, it is going to be very, very long this time to make up for last week.

A week or so back, Mrs. Streu was kind enough to let us publish a letter from relatives in London, England, and so many people were interested in the public reaction that I am glad to include this week another letter from England. This letter was written by a large manufacturer, and gives an entirely different point of view. It was directed to Davis M. DeBard, who in representing manufacturing interests in the electrical business, has traveled over the world several times and who comes here once each year to visit the local utilities office. The copy which follows was sent to Alton Miller, and I believe gives an interesting angle on the situation in England, although it is rather lengthy.

TEXAS-NEW MEXICO UTILITIES COMPANY

"The Electric and Musical Industries, Hayes, England, in peace time employ 10,000 workers. They are engaged in manufacture of Radios, Phonographs, Television, Electric Appliances, Bicycles, etc. Hayes is about 8 miles from the center of London. I have visited the factory several times, my last visit referred to being August, 1939, at which time I inspected bomb shelters numerous enough to shelter 10,000 workers."

"Davis M. DeBard" ELECTRIC AND MUSICAL INDUSTRIES, LTD. Hayes, Middlesex, England 20th March 1941

Mr. Davis M. DeBard, Stone & Webster Service Corporation, 90 Broad Street, NEW YORK, U. S. A. Dear Mr. DeBard,

Your letter of February 28th, the original air mail copy, came in yesterday telling me of the letters and parcels you have sent and also of Mrs. DeBard's letter to my wife. I see that my last letter to you was at the end of last July and I am very sorry that all yours to me have been lost. I know that Mrs. DeBard's letter arrived because, my wife being so ill, I replied to it. Mrs. DeBard said that you were away on a long trip and I asked her to let you see my letter... but probably that was lost as well.

It seems quite a long time since you were at Hayes and I gave you a fleeting glance of the air raid shelters. They have had a great deal of use since then, mainly at night and, it seems, always in a very bad weather. I am sometimes at the factory all night in charge of the Home Guard and I was very much impressed by the cheerful indifference of the work people, especially the women, about having to turn out several times and splash through puddles without any kind of light, over the Canal bridge and down into the shelters while air raids were taking place.

Many of our buildings, as you know, are multi-storied and there have been a number of cases of grievous tragedies on a large scale where such buildings have been struck by a bomb. So it is a nasty responsibility for the Management to decide whether people should work on through the raids and take the risk, or whether they should go out to the shelters and reduce the output. Until people got a little used to the raids they were made to go out to the shelters, except for those on some particularly urgent job when they worked right through. Here again it was noticeable how the women volunteered and carried on with the work in buildings surrounded by glass. At night times when it is apt to be a little terrifying they have been remarkably cool—and so far we have been fairly lucky.

We have now constructed an entirely new set of shelters, building them on to the side or up through the middle of the factory buildings so that people can get to shelter in a few seconds. They can thus stay on at their work until something is happening right overhead.

To help to settle the question of working versus going to the shelters we asked people to volunteer to work and to wear a badge if they did so. The vast majority volunteered and the showing of so many badges was an answer to those who might be inclined to say that the Management were driving people into unreasonable danger.

If you came along to the lunch room here, you would find many people you have met before. Some have joined the Services but thae rest are active—now almost entirely on direct Government work. The radio business is having to dry up in order to give complete priority to War work and the same applied to household appliances. I doubt if you would notice any change in the appearance of our people. Some have lost a little weight due to cycling and gardening, but the effect of having their homes bombed does not seem to get them down. Actually we have all been very lucky and there have been no actual casualties so far among the Managers or their families. Some have had their windows, ceiling and doors blown out and the tiles lifted off the roof—and some of them have had this happen several times. One man had a bomb land at the bottom of his garden which is clay soil; the bomb blew great masses of clay into the air and one dropped right through the roof and on to his bed but fortunately he was down in his shelter. In nearly all cases where a man's home has been wrecked in the night and he has some urgent jobs here in the morning, he turns up practically to time.

On the other hand, if you were out in the street and could see little procession of people, carrying their few remaining bits and pieces from their bombed homes, through the rain, to some center, and if you saw that sight night after night for weeks—you would feel pretty strongly about it. Poor people have very little margin on which to get started again after such a catastrophe and it is marvelous to me how cheerful they keep. Bad luck seems to follow some of them. They get bombed out of the East End of London and come out here—and often they are the ones to catch it when it is our turn for a raid; they go out farther west and sure enough it is their turn again.

During the last part of the winter it has been foggy in France and so the Germans have lost a large proportion of planes on the return trip—in trying to find their aerodromes and land. The raids were therefore not so frequent and wide spread, with the clearing of the weather in the last few days there has been a general increase in liveliness. Last September and October seemed the worst times; we had raids regularly night after night. There was considerable dislocation of transport and of the gas supply but over in this district there was only one interruption of electricity and that lasted for varying times in different places. It seems incredible that the electricity supply should have been maintained the way it was and I could never have imagined that we should come through the winter with an almost uninterrupted supply. The electrical industry has of course been busy arranging to provide a supply from alternative sources and in making plant for a certain number of new factories which are in course of being built and for equipping old factories which are being brought back into use. An Electrical manufacturer is not therefore much affected by the loss of his household appliances business. The electricity supply industry also has a very busy time with its new services to factories, its duplications and the exceedingly prompt repair of bomb damage. Up to now they have been able to keep pace with it.

Family living conditions are of course affected in many ways, the most vital case being where the husband has been called to the War, but everyone is affected by the rationing of food stuffs, by taxation which is intended not only to collect the money but also to stop us from worrying about not having things available for us to buy! Rationing of food does not necessarily imply that the individual goes seriously short; it is a way of arranging that everyone gets things. Most of us are learning quite well to manage on the allowances. The quality of the margarine is so good that it akes out the butter supply very well. The shortage of sugar must have worried the children till they got used to it, but in the main you can take it that we are all getting the essential food and we are getting fuel to cook it in the form of coal or electricity. Solid fuel is of course the most reliable in times like these and some of the modern cookers of this type are exceedingly economical, the total cost of fuel for the year being guaranteed not to exceed $20.00. At home we rely on electricity for cooking and we have not missed a meal as yet.

I suppose the biggest wrench affecting the nation as a whole is in abandoning all peace-time pursuits, ambitions and possessions but it has been done on a vast scale and the only real grumbles are perfectly proper ones when it seems that there are inequalities of sacrifice. A man comes to realize that a whole lot of things don't matter after all; compared with the few things that really are important.

The Government has complete power to take over everybody and everything for the purpose of the War. The people in whole areas around the coast have been ruined for the time being by the steps which have had to be taken to deal properly with the invasion threat. People have had to leave their homes and businesses, move to some other part of the country and find some other way of carrying on. These seem minor troubles in comparison with the concentrated, indiscriminate and ruthless destruction that comes from the sky in the night. When it comes it has a devastating effect for a few days, but people's courage and determination returns in a very short time and the rest of the country repairs such damage as can be mended.

Well, I expect you must know all this from the newspaper reports.

AN OPEN LETTER . TO

The Weather Man.

Dear Sir:

We understand there are some complaints about your service to this territory, and being a friend of yours (even if you are a low-down bum sometimes) we thought it our duty to advise you of the situation here.

Understand, we don't believe in gossiping or repeating stories and we don't carry tales, but since we've been personally acquainted with you and had lots of experiences in doing business with you, both pleasant and unpleasant, we see no reason why it won't do some good to let you in on the feeling that seems to exist here.

You've always been the most talked-about subject we know anything about. You've been called a lot of dirty names in our presence and we admit that the other fellow hasn't been the only one to do the talking. Frankly, a lot of us would be doing business with you, both pleasant and unpleasant, if you were always had us on your hip and never had any competition.

There's a lot of talk going around in the Hereford territory that unless you let up on this rain, and bring back those black dusters, that you are going to have this country so dog-gone pretty that everyone from California to Florida is going to try to come here. You've already fixed it so that there will be plenty of grass, lots of crops (if the farmer is properly equipped with a Farmall and other International Harvester farm machinery) and new folks are talking about fishing right here within a cane pole's length of Hereford's main street!

Of course you've fixed this country up in swell shape before, but we've talked with lots of the old-timers and they say they've never seen it so perfect. Now if you want to continue sending these wonderful rains along just as we need them, we are not ones to complain. We'll just keep getting new farm equipments as fast as we can, stocking our bins with all parts and repairs and keeping our mechanics busy helping these happy farmers keep their equipment rendering the maximum service at the lowest possible cost.

We hope you won't get offended about this because it is constructive criticism and we believe you'll appreciate it.

Very happily yours,
ROSSON-HAYS
(Your I.H.O. Dealer)

P.S.—Please let us know about this old story they tell about "paying the preacher so the weather man will be nice to you."

GRADUATES accept our Sincere GOOD WISHES

Because it has been a pleasure to personally know many of you and many of your Parents down through the years, it is indeed a pleasure at this time to acknowledge your achievement. We hope that continued success may be yours in future undertakings as you take your place as citizens and leaders of the community.

"Good Equipment Makes A Good Farmer Better"

HEREFORD

BULL

In my own family, Peter is flying a fighter in the Fleet Air Arm. My elder daughter, Bobby, is still nursing up in London; that hospital has not suffered as much as some of the others. The younger girl, Sheila, is still at school, which has moved from Brighton up to the Lake District in the north-west part of the country. They are all very well and happy and Peter seems to be quite at home in the air.

My wife is not so well. She has, you remember, been a diabetic for some years and that makes her more liable to the troubles when they are about. She has had various worries to contend with over the last year or two and last winter she had a bad throat and a cough that she could not shake off. Under the "Blitz" conditions of last year, when she had to spend a good deal of time in the shelter and the place got a good rocking every evening, she got into a very low state of health and later she had a touch of pleurisy after which it was found that one of her lungs was affected with tuberculosis. That and the diabetes inter-acted to make rather a complicated condition so she has been in the hospital since then and is likely to be away for some months. She is making steady progress and is quite cheerful. Fortunately at the place where we are now living there is a good deal of land and the man we had to look after it has left to go into War work so I have a number of ready-made small problems which keep me rushing about in the early mornings and evenings. As well as that I have the Home Guard, a turn at fire-spotting at night and also a part in an organization we call the Air Training Corps which is training up the lads of 16 or so before their entry at 18 into the Air Force.

Thus time passes very quickly and I am keeping very well.

Please give my best regards to Mrs. DeBard and Betty and Stuart. It is awfully kind of you to have sent those parcels of food, but please don't send any more, there may be pilferage as well as accidents.

Yours sincerely,
B. MITTELL, General Manager
Hayes Court,
Hayes, Middlesex,
26th March, 1941.

P. S. We have official notification from the Admiralty that Peter was killed in a flying accident near Camelford in Cornwall on Sunday.

I have heard, over the telephone from his particular friend, that it was in the morning, that he was flying a Gladiator, that he was alone, and that he crashed away from the aerodrome in very bad weather.

According to the map and to my recollection of it the country around Camelford rises steeply from the sea to a considerable height so I am imagining that he was coming round in country that he did not know very well, that he could not tell his bearing owing to the weather (it was raining and snowing at Hayes at the time) and that he crashed into the hillsides.

B. Mittell.
With the early morning mail comes the following note, which indicates that Hitler is not the only person who is well versed in the art of "Blitzkrieging." The note reads:

Maybe it isn't 'Christlike, but I'm mad enough to bawl. Why can't mothers look after their off-springs? After returning from town to find my clean wash dragged from the lines and to the front porch (through the mud) by a little girl who meant to do good, but had never been taught how, makes one see the need of a mother's school. And the darling little neighbor didn't stop at that; her toy doll tub was piled high with strawberries, big and little, all ready for you. How nice!!!

A Hereford Mother.
After looking at my desk here at The Brand office, I say in answer: "Don't blame the little girl. It sounds to me like she has the makings of a good newspaper reporter."

Dawn Items

By MRS. CARL WIMBERLEY

According to general estimates, three and one-half inches of rain fell here during the entire week. Most of the lakes have water in them. Roads have been very bad and the school bus did not get off the pavement except once, when it got stuck. Consequently, some of the children had to miss school part of the week. Mr. and Mrs. Ed East were reported to be living on an island during the big rise in the creek.

Walter Galley is the new teacher of the young people's Sunday School class. A splendid attendance of thirty-six was reported at Sunday School this week. Next Sunday, June 1 is the regular day for Rev. Clarence Wylie to preach.

Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Little left last week for Oregon, Utah where they will live. She has been visiting her parents. Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Frye several weeks. Dalby Fleming is driving a new car.

Among those who attended the patriotic rally, sponsored by the American Legion, in Hereford Tuesday evening, were Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Miller and family, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Frye, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. May and Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Frye.

Miss Elizabeth Bezner, who has been working for Mrs. Iverson Leake, has returned to her home at Hereford.

Don't miss the best time for the men here during the rain.

The Study Club closed this year's work with a luncheon in Hereford Tuesday, with Mrs. Cecil Walker, retiring president, presiding. Mrs. Walker and Mrs. Ernest May had charge of arrangements and decorations. Guests included Mrs. W. P. Caraway, Mrs. Dalby Fleming, Mrs. Carl Luke, Mrs. Iverson Leake, Mrs. W. A. May, and Mrs. Johnnie Womble.

J. P. Gandy of Wyche spent this week in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Oglesby. He is Mrs. Oglesby's father.

A patriotic program, reported by visitors to be the finest one presented by the pupils here this year was presented Friday afternoon at the school house. All the recitations given were from writings and addresses by famous Americans. The numbers presented by R. S. West's pupils were: "The National Flag," by Henry Ward Beecher, Carroll Miller; "The Home of the Republic," by Henry W. Grady, James Waits; "Happiness and Liberty," by Robert G. Ingersoll, Junior Miller; "Ambition," by Jerome K. Jerome, Alfred Bednor; "A Southern Court Scene," Kenneth Finley; "I Am An American," by Elias Libermann, Ida Kuhles; "Patriotism," by David James Burrill, Pat Miller; "The Haywood Trial: Plea for the Defense," by Clarence Darrow, Bob Coe.

The recitations presented by Mrs. West's pupils were: "The House With Nobody In It," by Joyce Kilmer, Charles Bednorz; "Keep A Goin'," by Frank L. Stapton, Robert Oglesby; "Under the Flag," by Thomas J. O'Donnell, John Scales; "Vacation," by Joy Miller; "Home," by Edgar A. Guest, Glenna Fae Finley; "America for Me," by Henry Van Dyke, Willie Waits and Lincoln's "Gettysburg Address," by Fred Frye.

Visitors included Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Scales, H. H. Miller, Mrs. J. G. Coe, Mrs. Julia Samuelson, Mr. and Mrs. John Kuhles, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Finley and children, Mrs. H. E. Miller and son, Robert, Misses Inez and Alma Miller and Mr. and Mrs. R. S. West, Jr. of Seneca, N. M. Mr. West read "Symbol of Our Nation" by Henry W. Grady as the closing number on the program. Mrs. W. A. May and Mrs. H. E. Miller helped with the poppy sale in Hereford Saturday.

Miss Doris Jean Bowers of Garden City, Kan., is visiting Miss Sarah Smith. She arrived Thursday with Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Dellevant who went on to Denver City. Mrs. Dellevant was formerly Miss Vivian Bowers.

Mrs. Jim White and sons, James and Joe Dale, spent Saturday night with Mrs. Ben Loudner in Canyon.

Mr. and Mrs. R. S. West visited Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Lemons and Mr. and Mrs. Bryce Putman in Clovis, Saturday night and Sunday. Mr. West reported that never before had he seen so many people going barefooted in Clovis Saturday afternoon. The water was in many of the places of business.

Miss Elvira Frye of Hereford, spent last week at home.

Word was received here Tuesday morning of the death of H. H. E. and N. R. Miller's father in Oklahoma.

Angry Frio Draw Reaches High Mark

Pictures Give Idea of Flood Waters In the Friona Area

(Editor's Note: The following article gives an eye-witness account of havoc spread early Thursday morning by raging waters of Frio Draw. The swollen stream was more than one-half mile across just south of the town of Friona; extensive crop damage, some damage to buildings and implements, tremendous damage to railway trackage and delayed highway traffic were visible to hundreds of spectators who gathered to view the swollen stream. Mr. White's article gives an accurate account of the flood. Residents of Friona were laughing and joking Thursday morning, despite obvious damage; and all were pitching in and doing their bit to get things back in shape as rapidly as possible.)

By John W. White
Editor Friona Star

Frio Draw which passes through the south part of Friona, some time during the early hours of Thursday morning, reached the highest stage of flood waters, ever recorded, when it reached a point at least three feet above that reached on Friday of last week, which was reported as 16 inches higher than any previous flood.

It is not definitely known when the highest stage reached Friona. When the people of the town began to stir the waters were going down but were still higher than the flood of Friday of last week, which was fourteen inches higher than any previous record.

Several buildings in the flood area of the city were destroyed or washed away, including a large garage building owned by Carl C. Maurer, the butane gas building of the Friona Consumers Company, which was washed out into the highway leading south from town, while the butane storage tanks of the company were washed about two miles down the draw, where they were seen lodged in Clyde Seamone's pasture. A brooder building owned by Mr. Kinney was washed from its foundation and lodged against Carl Maurer's grain elevator, and a tractor belonging to the Friona Consumers, was washed about 100 yards down the draw, and appeared to be lying on its side with only one fender showing above the water.

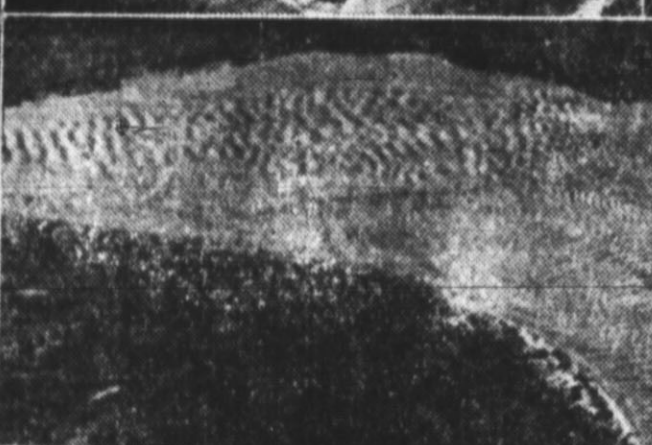

The floods this time reached the grain pits of one of Santa Fe Grain Company's elevators, something that had never occurred previously, while all the other elevators in the city were more deeply flooded than ever before. This makes the third time that the two elevators of the Friona Wheat Growers and Carl Maurer's elevator have been flooded within less than a week.

So far as has been ascertained, no lives were lost, but at the farm home of Jasper Bess, about two miles east of town, the water rose to a depth of probably three feet in the house, and Mr. and Mrs. Bess were forced to take refuge on the windmill tower, where they were discovered by Mayor Reeve about 6:30 o'clock this morning.

Mr. Bess was well up toward the top of the tower and was waving his hat to attract attention, but there was nothing the Mayor could do, as it was nearly a half mile through a raging torrent from the highway to the tower. Mr. Reeve asked Charley Bainum if he knew of any boat at Hereford that might be secured to rescue the stranded people, and Mr. Bainum replied that he knew of one at Bovina, which he secured, returning about 8 o'clock with the boat, and its owner, and with the aid of several men of Friona, the boat was soon launched in the draw, and Mr. Bainum and Chester Norton of Bovina, the owner of the boat, were soon on their way to the marooned persons, who were reached and rescued.

The flood waters had risen above the floor of the bridge across the draw west of Friona, something which had never occurred before; and the force of the current had washed the earth abutment away at the east end of the bridge, so that space of about four feet was left between the concrete abutment and the bank of the draw. This space was spanned only by the caliche slab of the highway pavement and was considered too dangerous to cross with cars or trucks. Traffic was held up there until the highway department had secured some heavy timbers and prepared an emergency crossing over the chasm.

At one time the draw was at least three hundred yards wide where the bridge spans the channel, and at 8 o'clock the water was swirling through a little below the bridge with terrific force, forming waves at least five feet high at the lower

The above pictures were made in June, 1937, when the Frio Draw went on a rampage and water ran knee-deep in Friona. The flood waters Thursday morning reached a point 16 inches higher than ever before in history of the community. By adding 16 inches more water to the picture, you get an idea of how things look in Friona today. The flood waters last week lacked three feet bearing on present conditions. Youth Council Sets Goals For Projects To Be Undertaken Immediately At Little Cost

Representatives of various Hereford youth groups, recently organized into a youth council, together with their advisory board, adults elected by the council, met last Wednesday at the home economies room in the high school and made plans for projects which may be expected to get under way this summer.

Organized about a month ago, the youth council is tackling the problem of recreation for Hereford youth, a problem which promises to become more pressing as the schools turn out for the summer, and leisure time becomes a problem for young persons and their parents.

At the meeting Wednesday, a report from the executive committee—Billy Dameron, president—was heard. The committee had made a study of possible community projects which could get underway with practically no expense.

Projects being considered are: tennis courts, community picnics, community playground, sing songs, use of high school gym for skating, construction of dutch ovens at Lake Park, band concert and talent hours.

Projects in longer range planning are a community house and swimming pool, attractions which would be of value not only to youth but to all the citizens of this territory.

Community planned recreation is a subject receiving more and more notice in this country, including as it does, the basic principle of making democracy work to fulfill the needs of its people; and in the organization of the Hereford Youth Council, with its aim to improve use of leisure time, this city will have an opportunity to co-operate with a worthwhile undertaking. Rev. H. M. Redford, chairman of the advisory board of the council, points to the enthusiasm of the young people as his reason for believing that the movement can succeed.

Billy Dameron, Richard Petersen and Mary Ellen Henslee, officers of the council, are pointing their aims at goals which can be accomplished immediately with little financial outlay. In the future, Hereford may look forward to a well planned directed system of recreation.

Dairy Industry Booms In April

Austin.—The Texas dairy industry went on a boom during April, with production of three major commodities—creamery butter, ice cream and cheese—shooting well above April a year ago and exceeding the usual seasonal gain from March to April.

The April output of butter was up 32 per cent over April, 1940, ice cream up 23 per cent and cheese up 8 per cent, the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research reports.

Production of butter climbed to an estimated 4,148,000 pounds—more than any April in the last ten years and 42 per cent above March. The normal seasonal gain over March is 32.6 per cent.

Nearly 50 per cent more ice cream was produced than in the preceding month—1,208,000 gallons, compared to a normal seasonal gain of 22.4 per cent. Cheese production gained 49 per cent—normally 42.5 per cent—to total 1,566,000 pounds.

PERSONALS

Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Redford left Wednesday for Dallas, where Mrs. Redford will visit her mother, while Mr. Redford is holding a revival meeting at Caddo. Mr. and Mrs. Redford were accompanied by Mrs. James Aiken and Mrs. Claude Witherspoon. The latter has been visiting her mother, Mrs. W. B. Dameron.

Mrs. Clara Sachs of Friona spent Monday and Tuesday here with her daughters, Misses Evelyn and Ruth Sachs. She was enroute home after a visit with relatives in Indiana.

Mrs. R. A. Singer and daughter, Doris Lee, of Slaton, left Saturday for their home after spending a week here in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Alexander.

Mrs. W. L. Alexander returned this week after spending three weeks visiting relatives and friends at Waco, Dallas, Denton and other Texas points.

Mrs. L. R. Brady is in Savannah, Mo., taking medical treatment.

Charles Ferguson of Los Angeles, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Ferguson of Hereford, will spend the next two weeks here. Mr. Ferguson has been connected with the Los Angeles Civic Opera Company for the past 18 months and will present a concert at the Tech Artist's Course at Lubbock on June 12.

Chicken Raising Aids Defense And Helps Income

Feeding chickens for more eggs is a real opportunity for farm families to aid defense and add to their incomes. Extension Service workers are telling rural people, following announcement of a Department of Agriculture plan for supporting the market price of eggs during the next two years.

Jennie Camp, extension specialist in home production planning has pointed out that plenty of feed for farm poultry flocks means more eggs, and more eggs help assure ample food supplies for this country, Great Britain, and other countries resisting aggression. She says since commercial poultrymen already are feeding their flocks to get the most possible eggs, extra eggs must come from special feeding of farm hens.

Here are some tips George McCarthy, extension poultry husbandman, gives farm families on their expansion of poultry flocks. "Feed plenty of mash, either home-mixed or commercial, and all the grain the hens will clean up at night," he says. "Keep fresh, clean water where the hens can get to it easily at all times. Wet mash is an excellent appetizer. It should be fed in a crumbly state, and once started, must be kept up. Extra eggs will pay for the additional work."

Both specialists explain that eggs are an ideal means of turning over-normal reserves of feed into defense foods, and that increased production can be maintained by better feeding. Their advice is: "Give the hens all they'll eat this spring. Don't make them rustle for their feed."

Commencement Is Here Again, And School Seniors Get Social Attention

Maytime means commencement time to a great many young people. The days are numbered for high school seniors, and last minute parties and social affairs are being given in their honor.

Mrs. Harry Seed entertained with a hamburger party Saturday in honor of a graduate, her niece, Miss June Dameron, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. Dameron, who is salutatorian of the class.

Hamburgers and delectable accompaniments were cooked in an open stone fireplace in the back yard and games of various types were enjoyed. Later the entire group was entertained at the Star Theatre.

Those attending were Nell Bradley, Margaret Ann Miller, Estelle Mae Landers, Troyce Stam-

SENIORS GET ATTENTION

Final all-senior affair was held Tuesday night in the form of a progressive supper party. At intervals during the year members of the class have been entertained in various manners by different groups of senior mothers, and twenty-two mothers acted as hostesses for the Tuesday night party. They included Mesdames T. W. Roberson, Bertha Henderson, A. T. Jones, W. A. Springer, Merrill, Lem Shugart, J. L. Davis, A. H. Davis, E. C. Jordan, Hazel Sparks, H. M. Beach, F. C. Benson, Jim Higgins, C. C. Cox, Frank Gyles, J. G. Evans, Walter London, Bonnie Brumley, J. M. Dixon, Leona Burleson, F. L. Lucas and O. G. Hill.

Thirty-eight seniors gathered at the O. G. Hill home for fruit cocktail which was served to groups on the lawn. The main course was served at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Lucas and later home made ice cream and cake were served at the Bonnie Brumley home. A line party at the Star Theatre concluded the evening's round of fun and frolic.

Miscellaneous Shower Given For Recent Bride

Mrs. Roy Baker, the former Miss Juretta Bird, teacher in the Progressive school, was complimented Tuesday afternoon with a miscellaneous shower at the home of Minister and Mrs. H. P. Cooper.

A pink and white color theme was carried out in flowers and appointments.

An appropriate program entertained the guests. Mrs. E. Ramey read the poem "Men" and Mrs. Christy Short replied with the poem "Women." Bonnie Lou Cooper entertained with a piano solo and Mrs. Ramey conducted a clever contest. Mrs. Elmer Patterson and Miss Edna Daughette presented a playlet "Precious Gift" which introduced the shower.

Refreshments were served to Mesdames Bill Knox, E. Ramey, B. C. Drinkard, Christy Short, S. B. Walker, Elmer Patterson, Hartland Caraway, Burl France, Lillian Smith, Chas. Felts, Misses Edna Daughette, Bonnie Lou Cooper, Alma Faye Knox and the hostess.

Those sending gifts were Mrs. B. E. Brumley, Mrs. Ulys Pierce, Mrs. J. H. Hamm, Helen Ray Hamm, and Mrs. E. J. Reynolds.

Mrs. George V. Stambaugh is visiting relatives in Amarillo this week.

Sponsors of the class, Vance Stalcup and Miss Lois McCaslin, also attended the party.

Tuesday Bridge Club Entertained With Games

A red and white theme furnished pleasing and attractive decorations when Mrs. Woodrow Ireland entertained members of the Tuesday Afternoon Bridge Club this week. Peonies of deep red, red roses, flowering Tamerix and fern were combined in attractive groups.

Mrs. Ernest Medkief was a special guest and Mrs. W. L. Davis played high for score award.

Those attending the informal party were Mesdames Knox Kinar, W. J. Stanford, Travis Dameron, W. L. Davis, Glenn Snyder, C. H. Dyar, W. M. Emmons, Mrs. Medkief and the hostess.

W. S. C. S. Studies Local Women's Work

The local work of the church furnished lesson topics for the W. S. C. S. of the Methodist Church at the meeting held yesterday afternoon with all circles joining in the program.

Mrs. J. F. Ward, general president, opened the meeting with a prayer followed by scripture reading given by Mrs. H. H. Hawkins. Special prayers for the local church were given by Mrs. D. H. Bryant, Mrs. D. W. Hawkins, and Mrs. E. W. Harrison. Mrs. H. D. Reed read a paper on "The Women's Work of the Local Church." Mrs. Ward spoke on "The Time and Talents of the Women of the Local Church."

A short business meeting was conducted when members voted to entertain the guests at the children's meeting of the Vacation Bible School next Wednesday night.

Tom Wilson, son of Mrs. C. C. Rockwell is leaving this week for Houston. He will attend Camp Rous Sterling Junior at Goose Creek this summer.

Mrs. John Haberer who spent several days last week in the Deaf Smith County Hospital has been removed to her home and is recuperating this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Easley and sons, Jimmie and Joe, left Wednesday morning for Milledgeville, Ga., where they will visit in the home of Mrs. S. L. Easley and attend the commencement exercises at Georgia Military Academy, where Paul Foster and Morris Easley are students.

Useful Gifts for the Graduate. Popular Store.

Mrs. T. E. Seigler will return Sunday from Lubbock where she has been staying with her daughter, Mrs. DeWitt Landis, for several days. Mrs. Landis underwent an appendix operation on Wednesday and is reported to be recovering rapidly.

Mr. and Mrs. Jep Todd of Canadian spent Tuesday night in the home of Mrs. Todd's brother, John Patton.

Mrs. Guy W. Ginn and son, visited last week in Floydada and Fort Worth. While in Fort Worth, Mrs. Ginn attended the homecoming at Texas Wesleyan College.

Mrs. Jack Moore and daughter of Athens are visiting this week in the home of Mrs. Moore's mother, Mrs. Sallie Carter, and other relatives.

Paul Coneway, who works for the General Electric Company at Schenectady, N. Y., is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. Coneway. Trade at the Popular Store. Quality merchandise at Savings, since 1921.

Teachers Leave for Summer

The end of this week will see Hereford teachers leaving for widely scattered destinations. Some will go to their homes while others are planning to attend school. Others plan varied vacation trips. Knox Kihard, superintendent, plans to look after school interests here with probable business trips downstate. High school principal, G. M. Hudson, will attend an administrator's conference to be held at Texas A & M College in June and the Hudson family plans visits with relatives in that part of the state. Miss Irene Crawford, English teacher, whose father and aunt have moved here from Fayetteville, Ark., will be in Hereford this summer. Mac Best, who has accepted a coaching position at Pampa, will be employed in Pampa with the Standard Oil and Gas Company. H. V. Stanton, assistant coach, plans to spend the summer here with a trip to Central Texas with his family in the offing. W. M. Emmons, agricultural instructor, will be in Hereford this summer but will attend the annual summer conference held at Texas A & M College. Miss Lois McCaslin plans to attend W. T. S. C. in Canyon and also plans a trip to the east coast. Miss Geraldine Pratt will attend school in Denton and Miss Robble Foster is making tentative plans to attend school in Chicago and to make a trip to Mexico City. Vance Stallcup hasn't made any definite plans yet and band director Ralph Smith is looking forward to attending a Summer Band School at Canyon. He will be in Hereford a part of the time. Miss Alma Hall, newest member of the high school faculty, plans to attend the summer session of the University of Texas at Austin. John Willoughby will attend W. T. S. C. again this summer and Miss Rhita Jean Sullivan, home economics teacher, will continue her work here through June and will be at home in Clyde later.

CENTRAL SCHOOL TEACHERS

Central School principal, Glenn Allison, plans to be in Clarendon for most of the summer. Miss Edna Daughette will be at her home in Pampa. Miss Mary Bradley and Miss Ella Aikman will attend W. T. S. C. Canyon. Miss Frances Fullingim plans to spend the summer in Decatur at her home and with relatives in Dallas. Chas. T. Reeve will go to school at W. T. S. C. as will Miss Madeline Bell for the first session. Later Miss Bell will take a trip to Palacios. Miss Ruth Conkright and Miss Eloyse Pitman both plan to stay at home in Hereford. Miss Imogene Cotton will go to her home in Abertathy and Miss Eunice Rutherford will be at her home in Tulsa. Miss Katherine Kirby will be at home here as will Miss Thelma McMinn. Miss Ethel Womble will be in Hereford a part of the time but plans visits with relatives in Oklahoma and New Mexico and a trip to New York. Miss Belle Harris is leaving for her home in Bluffdale and Stephen Milner will attend the University of Texas at Austin.

Eggs from hens getting a diet that is low in pigments but high in fish-liver oil will have light-colored yolks rich in Vitamin A.

MRS. B. A. WEST

Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Henderson and son returned to their home at White Deer after being in the Jack Ivy home for several days.

Theresa Heiselman, Preston and Fred West and Jack Redder have completed their course of study in the Heiselman school and will receive their diplomas Thursday with the grammar school graduates of Hereford.

Harold Browning, J. W. Buck, and Inman Larsen were in Amarillo Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Browning and daughters, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Browning and Mrs. M. G. Upton visited in the Floyd West home late Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Ivy and children and Mrs. M. G. Upton were in Amarillo, Friday afternoon. Mrs. Upton went on to Canyon by bus to join Mr. Upton there.

B. A. West and son, Fred, and Robert Hobbs were in Amarillo Friday on business.

This community received seven inches of rain in the past week.

Ward News

MRS. CHARLES B. MILES

Roads in this vicinity have been quite bad since recent rains. The avenue has been most difficult to travel and the school bus has been unable to make its rounds for nearly a week. Some of the pupils are staying in town to attend school.

The rains have greatly helped wheat in this vicinity. Some wheat previously thought not to be worth harvesting will now make a fair yield. There has been no report of rust so far. Row crops will have to be replanted.

Best irrigated wheat in this vicinity is Jim Bob Allison's, C. E. Hood's and Robert Viegel's.

Mrs. Willoughby of Bovina is visiting in the home of her son, Irving Willoughby, and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Lowery Walker and children who have been living in Hereford during the school term have moved to their farm northwest of the school house.

Mrs. Bill Nazler was hostess last week at a shower honoring Mrs. L. A. Mullins.

Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Williams of Electra visited last week in the home of his sister, Mrs. C. E. Hood, and family.

Junior Ward is working for Grady Wilson in Westway community.

Several from this community attended the Baccalaureate service in Hereford Sunday night.

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Smith visited Sunday with relatives at Mobeetie.

Terry Lovelady of Bovina is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Irving Willoughby.

Americans have increased the average life insurance protection per family from $1,125 in 1917 to nearly $4,000 today.

Texas produced 14,362,000 pounds of cheddar cheese in 1939.

Ideal American Under-Pinnings

June Cox, photographers' model, was judged to have the "ideal American legs" in a contest sponsored by a hosiery company. The Art Directors' Club of New York did the judging.

Ford News

BY MRS. TROY NEWMAN

Everyone enjoyed the past week of fine rain and everyone was real glad to see the sunshine again. The wheat and barley are looking fine and everyone is expecting a good harvest.

The roads got almost impassable during all the rain. The draw between the Floyd Benson and Larance Straffus place got up so high Thursday that traffic was stopped for several hours.

Mrs. F. D. Ferguson underwent a major operation, Monday a week ago, in Deaf Smith County Hospital. We are glad to learn she is doing fine and will soon be able to return home and we wish her a speedy recovery.

Mr. Bill Gentry of Hereford is building a new granary at the Jim Hill place this week.

The school bus was not able to make all of its route the last four days of last week because of road conditions.

The children who attended school at Vega are enjoying their vacation as their school was out a week ago, Friday.

Mrs. F. D. Ferguson's mother, Mrs. Allmond, is here visiting and will stay until Mrs. Ferguson is well.

Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Carnahan and son, James Perry, drove to Clovis, N. M., Thursday two weeks ago to attend the funeral services of Mr. Carnahan's aunt.

Little Delton Cochran of Amarillo, brother of Mrs. Joe Waggoner, spent last week with the Waggoner family.

Mrs. L. H. Schult's sister from Missouri, whom she had not seen in 12 years came to see her two weeks ago. The visitors were Mrs. John Kempker and family and Mrs. Tony Kempker and son. They all drove to St. Francis and enjoyed a big turkey dinner with Mr. and Mrs.

John Leven.

The Singing Convention Sunday, two weeks ago was enjoyed by all and so was the good dinner. There were singers from Amarillo, Friona, Simms, Progressive, Ward, Hereford, Westway, Adrian, Heiselman and other places.

Mr. and Mrs. Dean Mitchell and family took a trip to Throckmorton to visit his mother and family.

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Frost and Charles visited in Clovis, N. M., Sunday.

Ervin Frost returned home Monday evening from a trip to Carlsbad Caverns with the Senior class of Vega.

Mr. B. A. Atchley of Summerfield visited his daughter, Mrs. H. D. Hill and family, Thursday afternoon, and brought her a lot of sweet potato slips.

Bill Newman stayed in Hereford Friday afternoon to attend his class picnic and spent the night with J. D. Pouch.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Martin and family of Amarillo spent the week end with the Newmans. Mrs. Martin and Mrs. Newman are sisters. Their father, W. R. White, of Kirkland was with them.

Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Hill and sons drove to Tascosa, Sunday a week ago, to visit the Boys Ranch, but the river was up and they could not cross to the ranch.

There is a new granary, forty by eighty feet, being built on the Jim Hill place.

Don and Roy Crutchfield of White Deer are visiting their aunt, Mrs. Dennis Barnard this week.

Mrs. George Benson and Mrs. Floyd Benson shopped in Hereford, Monday.

F. D. Ferguson and daughter, Beth and son, Morris Earl, visited Mrs. Ferguson in the hospital at Hereford Friday. They had to drive by Amarillo and through Canyon to be able to get to Hereford.

Mr. and Mrs. Luther Cribbs of Wildorado visited in the Dean Mitchell home, Sunday. Mrs. is Mr. Mitchell's sister.

E. E. Frost made a business trip to Amarillo Monday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Coursey were visiting in Hereford Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnston and sons of Plainview are here. He is at work on the Tom Boyd place.

Rev. Rex Kendall of Vega preached here last Sunday and will be here the third Sunday of next month. The Bible classes begin every Sunday afternoon at 2:30. Everyone is urged to be on time. Minister H. P. Cooper of Hereford is to be with us Sunday week.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Waggoner and daughters visited in Amarillo Wednesday.

Miss Claudine Newmon is spending part of this week in town to be near school during test time.

Pressure Cookers Important Tools for National Defense

Whether farm women realize it or not, their pressure cookers are important tools for national defense.

Texas farm women this spring can put their pressure cookers to work in an "all-out" drive for better health. In addition, their pressure cookers are owned by schools, counties, community canning plants, and well-aid agencies, says Grace I. Kelly, specialist in food preservation for the A. and M. College Extension Service.

Usually pressure cookers cost from $9 to $15, but many farm women say they pay for themselves several times because they save fuel, spoilage, and time. Families with large food budgets need not only efficient canning equipment but steadily producing gardens if they are to keep their pressure cookers at work full time. In some Texas counties, the specialists say, some demonstration club women are raising a surplus of foods which will be canned for school lunch projects.

Poultry, beef, pork, and fish, as well as fruits and vegetables, can be canned safely in a pressure cooker. If homemakers follow directions, they can have a safe food supply with a minimum amount of spoilage, for the temperature under steam pressure canning is higher than in open-kettle babs, and it kills bacteria.

What most families like best about pressure cookers is that they add jars of peas, beans, carrots, corn and other things to their storage shelves—the kind of non-acid vegetables they couldn't safely can before, and the kind that changes tiresome and deficient diets to balanced diets.

Progressive News BY MRS. HOWARD HIGGINS

Last week with every day excepting Monday bringing rain, resulted in about 4 inches of moisture for this community. This makes a total of about 7 inches for May. The moisture is welcomed by all for row crop, but it is feared that quite a bit of the wheat will rust. Grass is the best in several months.

Mr. and Mrs. Emzy May of Jumbo took dinner Wednesday with Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Harvey.

Because of the rain and bad roads last week there was no school at Progressive except on Monday.

Misses Wilma Higgins and Dora Lee Burgess spent last week in Hereford with Mrs. J. C. Lance in order to continue their school work.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde W. Russell and children called on his brother, Edgar Russell and family in Hereford Sunday afternoon.

Davis and Brent Co-Star Again

Bette Davis and George Brent, shown above, star in "The Great Lie"—one of Miss Davis' best pictures in a list which includes some of the best films to come out of Hollywood.

Davis and Brent are ably supported by Mary Astor, who plays a nasty role convincingly.

ther, Edgar Russell and family in Hereford Sunday afternoon.

There were only 14 present at Sunday School Sunday afternoon.

A. S. Higgins lost five cows last week supposedly from poisoning.

Wet weeds of some kind were thought to have been responsible.

Mr. and Mrs. Luke McBrayer and daughters, Bettye Jeanne, Zola Faye and Lyndell, of Weche called on her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ira Ricketts, Tuesday afternoon.

Bill Boyer of Hereford and formerly of this community is now in the Army Air Corps, stationed in California.

The Progressive Worker's Club did not meet Wednesday because of bad weather. The meeting planned for that time will be held Wednesday, June 4, however. This will be the closing meeting of this club year.

Noel Higgins, who has been stationed at Ft. Clark, has been moved to Ft. Bliss. Noel is now shoeing horses. He received a knee injury last week but reports that he is improving.

Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Burgess and family took dinner Sunday with her brother, Roy Coker and family at Summerfield.

Some from this community attended the Baccalaureate services in Hereford Sunday night.

Misses Dora Lee Burgess and Wilma Higgins of this community are graduates, and Miss Lois

Texas Farm Real Estate Values Are Stationary

Farm real estate values on the average in Texas have not advanced in the past 12 months, in spite of a contrary belief in some places.

According to Tyrus R. Timm, extension economist in farm management, the index, which is based upon the period, 1912-14, has lost a point as compared with this time one year ago. The index now is 98, or two points below this base period. In selected areas, however, there has been some bidding up of land values. For the past 10 years the index has averaged 94, ranging from a low of 83 in 1933 to 99 in 1938 and 1940. Farm real estate values in Texas generally have remained almost the same during the past four years, making the biggest advance from 1933 to 1934.

For the nation as a whole a slight rise is reported. The index of the average value per acre of farm real estate at present is 86, as compared with 85 a year earlier. The largest gains in values since the low point in 1933 have been made in the east south Central, south Atlantic and north Central states.

Timm predicted no further general decline in Texas farm real estate values at least for the duration of the war and the current defense program. Prospects for larger farm incomes, coupled with bigger professional and industrial earnings, and the disposition of speculators in times like the present not to allow too many bargains to appear on the market, even point to a moderate rise in farm real estate values in Texas.

Forty-one states, including Texas have enacted laws permitting farmers to establish conservation districts.

Martin formerly of this community is also a graduate.

Miss Eunice Caldwell of Hereford visited her mother, Mrs. Kate Caldwell, Wednesday. Mrs. Caldwell is now visiting her daughters, Miss Eunice, Mrs. Velma Hodges and Mrs. Jeff Roberson and families in Hereford.

The lakes in this community have more water in them than they have had since May 1937. School at Progressive will be dismissed Thursday, May 29.

Texas Plains Have Wildflowers -- Most Luxuriant Crop In Many Years

Lubbock.—With the whole of West Texas as a setting, the coming of summer has occasioned one of the most brilliant coming-out parties ever staged by mother nature, as evidenced by the abundance of green vegetation and the myriads of multi-colored blossoms to be found by nature lovers on the south plains.

Abundant rains and excellent underground moisture, combined with the rich soils of this fairland of beauty have resulted in the blooming of literally thousands of native flowers and shrubs.

Some of the most common of these are the Fluttermill or yellow primrose, the Mallows or copper and red stars, the bright blue Tahoka daisy, the wine red Storks-bill geranium, the purple Plains Verbena, the yellow daisy like, Blue weed, the blue eyed grass, the four leaved, the silver leaved and the lazy daisies, and the Small Rabbit Tobacco, a very versatile plant sometimes called ladies tobacco, chewing gum and poverty weed. Poverty weed is a suitable name for this plant in the sheep-grazing section of Central Texas that has been heavily over-grazed. In many pastures it takes the place of grasses as a ground cover. Closely related to the cudwells and everlasting, the leaves of the plant may be chewed for gum.

One of the most popular drives for nature lovers near Lubbock is the campus of Texas Technological college, where, besides the wild flowers already mentioned, Shirley Poppies, Larkspur, numerous roses and flowering shrubs such as the Spiraea, Photinia, Firethorn, Mock Orange and Weigella are now in bloom.

Russell To Preach At Baptist Church Sunday

Rev. A. F. Russell of Dimmitt will preach at both morning and evening services at the Baptist Church Sunday. He will take the place of Rev. W. E. Barnes, who is in Carlsbad, conducting a revival meeting.

LOCALS

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Sherrib of Higgins spent the past week end here visiting in the Glenn Weir home.

Mrs. J. H. Gould, and baby of Louisville, Ky., are visiting her sisters, Mrs. C. C. Rockwell, Mrs. J. A. Pittman and her father, T. K. Wilson. They are enroute to Los Angeles, Calif., to spend the summer with Mr. Gould's relatives. In the fall Mrs. Gould will join her husband, Lieutenant Gould, who is stationed with the U. S. Army Air Corps at Albany, Ga.

Daniel Russell left yesterday for Abilene to attend graduation exercises at Hardin-Simmons University. His brother, L. B. Russell, is a member of the 1941 graduation class.

COLLEGE STUDENTS

Arriving almost daily by bus, train, and cars are College students to spend summer vacations with home folks. From Texas Tech have come, Floyd Ross, Merlin Conklin, George McLean, Bob Gilliland, Jeff Burk, Jack Nicks, Daniel Turrentine, Loy Cook, and Paul Lyons. Many students are expected Saturday or Sunday and all will be in by the last of next week except California students whose schedule runs through the second week of June.

HERE FOR GRADUATION EXERCISES

Many relatives of Hereford high school graduates are here for final graduation exercises this week. Among them are relatives of F. L. Lucas, member of the graduating class, who include his grandmother, Mrs. F. B. Crenshaw, and three aunts, Mrs. W. A. Sewell and daughter, June Ann, Mrs. Roy Chinn and Mrs. Frank Crenshaw and daughter, Jimmie Frances, all of Brownwood.

CARD OF THANKS
We wish to take this means of expressing our appreciation for the kindness and sympathy shown us during the illness and death of our dear husband, father and grandfather by our many friends. Especially do we thank the ladies of the Baptist Church for their thoughtfulness and help.
It is our earnest prayer that God's richest blessings be bestowed on each of you.

Careers

are like
HOUSES

Careers and houses aren't handed to you, wrapped in cellophane . . . they have to be built . . . of good material and with a solid foundation.

You graduates have succeeded, through application of the principles of earnestness and hard work, in building a solid foundation. These same materials are the stuff of which success is made. It is with a great deal of pride that we have watched the youngsters of our community approach this milestone. It is without any fear of the future that we proudly point to you as the future citizens and leaders of our community.

It with these thoughts in mind that we say,

Congratulations and Best Wishes to the Graduates of High Voltage Line Is Nemesis to Hawk—Who Is Headache to R. E. A.

The R. E. A. is not going into the restaurant business, but they seemed to be exhibiting a bill of fare in front of their office Tuesday morning—the menu being charred hawk, complete with a section of high voltage wire on which the hawk unwisely sat sometime Monday night.

If the crisp bird had been for sale he would probably have run into money somewhat like that charged for a high powered French dinner, because into his cost would have to be figured the expense of three cars and the salaries of five men who patrolled the R. E. A. lines Monday night trying to find out what had cut off the current on the line near the Winston Adams irrigation well—not to mention the current which might have been sold if the hawk had not picked such a dangerous place to light.

Crawford To Take Private Classes

Miss Irene Crawford, high school speech teacher, this week announced that she would take students, either adults or children, for private speech work this summer.

Miss Crawford's high school students have had excellent ratings in all speech contests and she is well qualified to teach all phases of speech arts.

Interest has been expressed by some club women in the possibility of a class which would help them in giving club reports and book reviews and Miss Crawford explains that she is especially interested in this type of work.

Odd Fellows To Have Special Memorial Day Broadcast

A special Memorial Day broadcast by "Mister Dodge" of Radio Station KRLD (1080 on your dial) has been announced here by Leonard Foster, secretary of the Odd Fellows Lodge.

The broadcast, which will be heard at 8:30 P. M., will be in the form of a salute to the Odd Fellows and Rebekahs of Texas and will feature a program by the children from the Odd Fellows Home at Corsicana.

Mr. Foster urges that all Odd Fellows and Rebekahs organize radio parties and invite their friends and neighbors to hear the program.

Gehres Funeral

and E. F. Gehres of Los Angeles, Calif., also by 11 grandchildren, 8 great-grandchildren and 1 great-great-grandchild.

Born in Lahill, Pa., on December 2, 1853, F. J. Gehres was married in 1880 in Carroll County, Ind., to Miss Anna Bricker. He came to Texas in 1908, settling in the Spring Lake area, where he was recognized as a pioneer active in all civic enterprises. In 1924 he went to California, remaining until 1932, when he returned to Texas to make his home in Hereford. He was converted in early life and had been a devout Christian.

Out-of-town relatives attending the funeral were Mrs. Leona Packard and family of Spring Lake and Miss Laveria Troxell of Lubbock.

Funeral services were held at 2 P. M. at the funeral home of F. M. Cogdell, L. Z. Oldham, R. P. Conway, O. O. Massie, J. S. Albrach, and Oliver Rudd.

Burial was in West Park Cemetery.

Quota Vote

west, we may face the same situation as Canada, where farmers can sell only part of their crop and then only at prices 30 cents below the price United States farmers receive.

NO LOANS WITHOUT QUOTAS
Quotas are an insurance of each farmer's receiving his fair share of the existing market for wheat. It also means, Mr. Pitman declares, that wheat farmers are assured of an income this year, barring crop losses, and even crop losses are impossible if the producer has taken out crop insurance.

In explaining the quota vote, Mr. Pitman said "If quotas are approved, the wheat grower will be assured of a price stabilizing loan on this year's crop. The government has supported the wheat price for the past two years with a loan, but the law makes a loan impossible in any year in which quotas are voted down. It is evident that it would be mighty poor business on Uncle Sam's part to make loans on crops if there were going to

Giant Tanks Lumber Off Assembly Lines To Form Backbone of Armored Divisions

America in Action

M 3, the army's new 28-ton tank, is heavily armed and is designed for speed and maneuverability as well as power.

BY DAVID A. STEIN

EARLY in 1942, the U. S. Army will have 5500 modern war tanks. Production has already begun on the mammoth "hell buggies" and they are lumbering off assembly lines in ever-increasing numbers.

Fast light tanks weighing 12 tons and carrying .50 and .30 caliber machine guns, can cross difficult terrain at speeds between 35 and 60 miles an hour. Medium 25-ton tanks and the new M 3, 28-ton tank carry heavy armament and can travel at speeds between 25 and 50 miles an hour.

Whole new plants have been built to meet the army's tank requirements. Tank capital of America is Berwick, Pa., where the American Car and Foundry Co. is turning out 15 tanks a day. Chrysler has built a tank plant in Detroit covering 800,000 square feet of floor space and capable of producing 10 tanks daily. The Baldwin Locomotive Co. and the American Locomotive Co. have government orders for tanks.

TANKS are highly mobile fortresses, equipped with concentrated gunfire. Their armor protection is two inches thick. Guns sweep all avenues of approach. They're tough, and they smash obstacles and sweep over rough terrain with ease.

ON order now are 5500 tanks, to be built at a cost of approximately $200,000,000. Each tank requires about 17,000 parts, and the blueprints alone weigh 186 pounds. A set of 2800 blueprints is required for a tank, and 2300 rivets must be driven into it.

The U. S. Army has learned its lessons from the success of the axis tanks in panzer divisions. American tanks are designed to outfight and outfire any of those which have run roughshod over Europe.

Lakes, Streams

Jumbo, Messenger, Ford and Frio reported some persons as being marooned and that traffic to Hereford, Dimmitt and Frio was at a standstill on those days.

All lakes in the Panhandle are full and Buffalo Lake is probably the largest in the territory, covering an area of 1600 surface acres. Reports Wednesday were that Buffalo Lake was still four feet below the crest of the spillway, and that water at the dam had reached a height of 26 feet. Reports have not been received since last night's record rise on the Frio Draw. Farmers report that some row over once, near the Brumley place, but started over again. Both declare they are going right on into the lake.

crop has been washed out and that re-planting will have to start as soon as the fields are dry enough. Some rust has been caused by the excessive moisture, but so far only red rust has been reported and dry weather and warm winds for a few days would probably prevent the wheat from falling.

The commencement program will feature an address by Wes Izzard of Amarillo, popular radio commentator. The program will be of great interest to all Hereford citizens because of the current emphasis in foreign affairs and Mr. Izzard's reputation as a news analyst.

Other speeches on the graduation program will be made by Wilma Higgins, valedictorian, and June Dameron, salutatorian. Scholarships awards will be given to two students, boy and girl, who make the highest grade average in the senior class. These scholarships will entitle the win-

Meet John Doakes Typical American Motorist

Meet Mr. John Doakes, the typical American motorist. He is between 40 and 45 years old, and has a wife and two children, a boy and a girl. He works and lives in a small community of less than 5,000 inhabitants, and the value of his home and farm is between $4,500 and $4,820. The chances are 50-50 that he owns the property himself.

Although he is self-reliant and self-supporting, his income is relatively low, only $20 to $30 weekly. His bank account shows a balance of $500, and the face value of his insurance policies show total $900.

This is the picture of the typical American motorist as revealed by studies of the American Petroleum Industries Committee.

The Doakes family rides in a closed car that is between four and five years old and is now worth about $225, although it was worth more when it was bought in the used-car department of the local automobile merchant more than a year ago. The fact is, the Doakes family has never bought a brand new automobile, believing they could get more transportation for their money by purchasing their vehicles second-hand.

The Doakes family drives about 8,500 miles a year. Most of this driving is to and from business, for family shopping, and other family and commercial business purposes. The remaining 45 per cent of the travel is done during social and recreational purposes. Only ten per cent of the trips taken, however, are farther than 30 miles from home.

Like all Americans these days, the Doakes family is becoming tax conscious. The federal and state gasoline taxes they pay each year on the 650 gallons of motor fuel they use totals $35.75, while their license plates and drivers licenses cost them $12.50 more. In addition, they paid federal taxes on lubricating oil, tires and tubes, parts and accessories, so that when the family budget was closed at the end of the year, the Doakes family discovered that their automobile taxes had amounted to almost $50.

Four Texas borrowers from the Rural Electrification Administration made advanced payments aggregating $17,000 on their loans during January, 1941. Since the REA charges its borrowers simple interest on the unpaid balance of their loans, this encourages them to make payments in advance.

Awards will also be made to other high school students who have made outstanding records in various phases of school work.

Texas Farm Income Up From 1940 Figure

Austin, Five dollars have clinked into the Texas farmer's pocket so far this year for every four he got last year, a University of Texas Bureau of Business Research report reveals.

Farm cash income, exclusive of government subsidies, for the first four months of 1941 has been chalked up at more than $85,000,000, compared to about $70,000,000 for the similar period of 1940, a 21 per cent gain.

In April, farmers sold $28,000,000 worth of farm products—not in much larger quantities but at higher prices—compared to $24,000,000 in April a year ago.

Further gains in farm prices were predicted by Dr. F. A. Buechel, bureau statistician and associate director.

He also forecast larger marketings of wheat, livestock and livestock products in the next few months, to widen the margin between total agricultural income for this year over last.

"Favorable range and pasture conditions, together with a rise in the level of prices of meat and milk, have further brightened the outlook for the beef and dairy industries of the state," he said.

Remember to take a boy or girl fishing with you whenever you can.

Faculty Eagerly Awaits Vacation

Ho Hum Here it is nearly summer time and everybody is dreaming about his summer vacation. Faculty members are no exception. Here are the places where the teachers of Hereford High are going to spend their vacation:

Miss Pratt is going to school at Denton. Miss Foster is going to spend part of her vacation in Canyon, part of it in school in California, and the rest in Mexico City. Miss Ramey will spend part of the time in Dimmitt, some time in school, and a trip to Mexico City. Mr. Willoughby will spend his vacation at W. T. S. C. Mr. Stanton is going to farm away his vacation. Miss Sullivan and Miss Crawford don't know what they will do. Mr. Kinard and Miss Hall will spend part of the time at the University of Texas, Miss Hall will also spend some time in Hedley, Texas; Miss Rigler, the only Gypsy in the group, intends to flip a coin to see where she goes—heads, she goes east—tails she goes west. Mr. Stallcup will spend some time in Hereford, some in Celina, and for the rest of the time, he seems to have a traveling complex. Miss McCaslin will spend her vacation in Canyon. Mr. Hudson will attend an administrators' conference in College Station in June, visit in East Texas, and possibly go fishing with Mr. Ney Oldham on the Gulf. Mr. Emmons will attend a meeting of Agriculture teachers in San Angelo in August and possibly visit relatives in the central part of the state.

Well, teachers, a lot can be accomplished in three months. We, the students of Hereford High School, want to say now that even though there have been a few rough places, we have enjoyed this year in school with you. You have helped us and guided us wherever the going was tough, and we sincerely hope that you will all have a good vacation and will be back with us in "Dear Old Hereford High" next September.

THANKS A MILLION!
We, the members of the staff, take this opportunity to express our sincere appreciation for the faithful cooperation of the classes and clubs, the Student Council, Miss Rigler, and the Hereford Brand.

Without your help, this paper could not have been printed.

Confidentially Yours

Well-l-l-l Folks,

Are you as tired as I am of examinations? But we're all through until next year with notebooks, tests, and such tormenting elements that go all together to make a complete school year for all of us who aren't as fortunate as those lucky seniors.

I hear that Billy Davis is going to take typing again next year, and it isn't because he flunked either!!! Could it be that he liked Miss Foster's new Pan-American hat?

Did you notice how warm the Seniors got Sunday night at the Baccalaureate Sermon? Could they have been scared or was it really warm in the building?

The Senior picture of the whole group is quite pretty; if you haven't seen it, you can find it in Mr. Kinard's office. When you look at it notice:

Troyce Stambaugh's name spelled Trayce.

Mr. Stallcup's cute little dimple.

The pleasant expression on Mary Lois Springer's face.

The serious look on Nell's face (that's something to notice).

Virgie Lee's pretty teeth showing so plainly.

That sly look out of Glenn Smith's eye.

That longing look coming from Elma Shugart.

No redness, but a slight dimple in Betty Roloson's picture.

The guilty, and yet a mischievous look about Hicks Robertson.

The dreamy look about Georgia Mae Reeves.

The stillness of Robert Peterson's picture spelled Peterson.

The integrity about Harold Parson's picture.

The pretty grin of Eleanor Paetzold and her cute little spit curl.

The refined look of Margaret Ohlig (as well as her dimple).

The naturalness of Mary Nicks and the two little palm trees on her dress.

The cute side grin of Carroll Newsum.

The jillion curls on Maggie Miller.

The whiteness in Christine Merrill's face.

The prettiness of Lois Martin's picture.

The valetudinarian look about Wilma Higgins.

The handsomeness of O. G. Hill, Jr., and the funny look out of his right eye.

The queer little grin on J. P. Jones (natural isn't it?)

The cuteness of Janie Jordan and gobs 'n gobs of pretty curls.

The half wink of Delbert Kasahn's right eye.

The queenly look about Marian Kuper.

The beautiful side view of Vesta Mae Landers.

The darkness about Nanette Little's face.

The striped tie on Baxter London.

The pretty smile on Gertrude London.

F. L. Lucas' pretty slick hair and pretty widow's peak.

The pretty lips and beautiful hair of Margaret Higgins.

Reynold Herr's short haircut.

The manly look about Donald Henslee.

The pretty teeth and rows of curls of Kathryn Henderson.

Did Roger Hartman happen to get a smell of hydrogen sulfide? Wilbur Harmon's name spelled Hanman.

The movie star look about Ewell Fox and Jean France.

The cute childish look about Raylan Evans.

Lurline Dixon's pretty teeth and striped blouse.

The dark complexion of Bobby Davis.

The lack of Maxine Beach's glasses, but the pretty look of her hair.

The scared look about Evelyn Benson.

The lawyer look about Calvin Brumley.

The cuteness about Doris L. Burgess' picture.

The genius look about Leonard Burleson.

The divine look about Aline Coker.

The cute little curl on the side of Donald Conklin's head.

The intelligent look about Clifton Cox.

The pretty smile of June Dameron and the tiny dimple.

The perk look about Billie

Crawford Will Head F. H. T.

The F. H. T. announces the following officers for the coming year: president, Billie Louise Crawford; vice-president, Evelyn Walker; reporter, Phyllis Radovich; secretary-treasurer, Barbara Robertson; and Arline Millard, historian. The historian will serve as chairman of the scrapbook committee, and the vice-president will serve as chairman of the year book committee.

Senior Personalities

Donald Conklin was born in Hereford in 1923. He has brown hair and brown eyes, weighs 136 pounds, and is six feet tall. He has been a member of the orchestra for three years, a member of the band for the past five years, in the F. F. A. for four years, and a member of the Boy Scouts. His favorite radio program is Fibber McGee and Molly. His favorite food is ice cream. Donald enjoys working with the Boy Scouts and getting English IV. He dislikes Freshman girls (?). Donald has made no plans for the future.

Marian Kuper was born in Happy, Texas, on September 18, 1932. She has received her schooling in Dawn and Hereford. Marian is five feet and nine inches tall; she has hazel eyes, blonde hair, and fair complexion. She is a former member of the F. H. T., Orchestra, and basketball squad. Marian expects to be a farmer's wife in about five years. She likes to read and to dance. Marian dislikes spinach and eggs, while she especially likes angel food cake. She does not expect to go to school.

Another of this year's seniors is J. P. Jones. He was born in Hereford in 1923. J. P. has gray eyes and brown hair; he weighs 148 pounds and is five feet ten inches tall. Six years of his schooling have been at Frío. He has been in the F. F. A. four years, and he has played football two years. J. P. plans to go to Canyon for college and major in agriculture.

Farewell To The Seniors Of 1940-41

By Mondaleen Miles
Seniors, oh dear Seniors, The time has come, you know, When you and we must part, Each one his way to go.

Tonight you are with us, Tomorrow you will be gone, But don't forget us as You journey on and on.

Tonight, Seniors, you stand On the threshold of life, Tomorrow may bring to you A world of toil and strife.

Though years may come and go, And bring a smile or sigh, Sometimes in dreams return To "Dear Old Hereford High."

Each time that you return, However long it seems, Someone will meet you here, Though it be just in dreams.

And now as you would leave Our school, Old Hereford High, We wish to say to you, "Good luck, Seniors, good-by."

And too, Old Pals, we say, "Never linger nor rest, For you have reached and opened The door labeled 'Success.'"

Now as we sadly part, We want to wish you well, But we can only say "Good luck, Seniors, farewell."

Miss Hall: "What is geometry?"
Lurline: "The little acorn grew and grew and one day woke up and said, 'Ge-om-e-try.'"

Louise Davis with her name spelled Billy.
(Now don't blame me for any of these things to be noticed because I was just hanging around and heard them said by students, teachers, and parents.)

Oh, yes! I just now heard Miss Ramey call Mr. Emmons "stupid"!!!! What is going on between them???

I've got to be on my way now and so I guess we'll have to say so-long until next year, and I hope all of you have a very merry summer.

THE SNOOPER

Show Your Age By Your Actions

By Jack Allmon
You are graduating. Do you realize what that means? Why, only yesterday you were a girl with your hair fixed in pigtails or a boy wearing short pants. Whether you admit it or not it's hard to realize that you have grown up. You are now an adult. You have been awarded honors that you have always hoped for but you are expected to pay for them. You have been thrown into a new life which is no bed of roses.

Now that you are an adult, you want to live the life of an adult. You do not want anything to remind you of the sissy and childish things that you once did in high school. You are walking away from boys and girls into the company of men and women, but watch your step. You may be appearing to be an adult, but at heart you are just a babe out of mother's arms.

Just think of all the times that you have walked up and down the steps in this building. You would come to school dreading the very looks of them, saying to yourself that if it weren't so close to graduation that you would walk out. But you trudged slowly up them and crept to your classes. The noon bell rang. You hit the hall on a run till you saw a teacher. You dashed by your locker—tossing your books in that general direction and grabbing your coat at the same time. Then you ran for the stairs. You did not touch the first step. As you were descending, you were thanking some infinite power that you were getting out of that horrible building. You hurried home to lunch. At 12:50 you found yourself repeating the same process. You slowly trudged up the stairs and glided back down at 4:00. You did this day in and day out. There are forty-five steps from the first floor to the third floor of this building. During your high school career most of you have used those steps approximately thirty-six months. Each step might represent nearly a month of work.

Friday night you will take your last step. You will trudge up those stairs in an entirely different mood. You are in the building your last time as a student. You are leaving everything you have worked with, taking only pleasant memory. It will probably be the last time that you will see the senior class of 1941. As you ascend and descend those stairs there will be a lump in your throat that is terribly

Pep Club Selects Kendall For President

The Pep Club Friday night elected officers for the following year. They are: Betty Jo Kendall, president; Matilda Williams, vice-president; Kathryn Acker, secretary-treasurer; Phyllis Radovich, reporter. The pep leaders are Billye Self, Rena Rae Renfro and Polly Dixon.

The club had a picnic supper in the gymnasium; and after electing officers, the group did some folk dances.

Take Up The Challenge, Seniors; Never Falter

Four years ago a group of students looked back over their grade school days, then happily turned their faces toward—what? While they looked back over their high school achievements, we can only hope that they have been what they and we would want them to be. But Seniors, don't spend your time looking back and feeling blue about your high school grades if they haven't been what they should have, because "Of all sad words of tongue or pen, the saddest are these—it might have been." Look forward and resolve that whatever comes next or whatever you meet, that you will do your best.

And as you go out away from the place that has been your home for the past four years, always keep a little room in your heart for us. Be proud of the fact that you're a child of "Mother Hereford High," and let the world know that you're coming, and make it make room for you.

The time has come now for us to part, and we want to wish you all the success that you could desire. So now the whole school says, Good-bye and God Bless You."

Charles Hill Is Elected President Of District F. F. A.

Charlie Hill, president of the local chapter of F. F. A., was elected to serve as president of the district F. F. A. next year. In the district there are eight schools: Friona, Tulla, Lazbuddy, Farwell, Bovina, Canyon, Happy and Hereford. The local chapter won honorable mention with the score book, making a total of 835 points; the lowest number for honorable mention is 700.

Mr. Emmons, Charlie Hill, Alvin Ward, J. P. Jones, and Clifford Vaughn went to Happy Tuesday afternoon, where the election of officers took place.

Life's Big Schoolroom

Today high school alumni are reliving in memory scenes of their school days. Many perhaps are contrasting the pattern of life as they saw it then with the later pattern developed in the big school room of "hard knocks."

The advanced course taken in the Big Room has corrected many imperfect lessons. Among many other things we have learned these are clear: The world owes no one a living—in the long run we get what we pay for—all is not gold that glitters—a failure is no dishonor, but staying down is—only the friendly have friends.

Our Bank wishes to be of helpful service if and when it can to all graduates into the Big Room.

POTATO GROWING

POTATO DISEASES

By Joe Ballinger
Growers commonly speak of potatoes "running out." This "running out" is caused mainly by potato diseases, which are classified in two groups:

The first of these are the parasitic diseases, caused by a known fungus or bacterium; the second group is composed of diseases known as the virus or degeneration diseases. Parasitic diseases are blackleg, fusaric Rhizoctonia, scab, early blight, dry rot and bacterial wilt. Virus diseases are mosaic, leaf roll, spindle tuber, witch's broom, curly dwarf, calico, unmottled curly dwarf, giant hill, yellow dwarf and haywire.

Some of these diseases are carried in the soil as well as on the seed. Black leg, the wilts, Rhizoctonia and scab will live from year to year in the soil; even though clean seed is planted, the resulting plants will become infected from the soil. For this reason, crop rotation is necessary to keep the soil from becoming too badly infected with these diseases.

RHIZOCTONIA

Most prevalent potato disease in the Panhandle is Rhizoctonia which accounts for enormous potato losses every year. This disease thrives when the potatoes are over irrigated, because heavy irrigation causes the air to leave the soil. This over-soaked, water logged condition can be partly overcome by deep cultivation after the soil dries somewhat. When the ground is too wet, the underground stem of the plant becomes woody and chokes off the starches and food materials manufactured by the leaves, thus depriving the tubers of these valuable materials. Small tubers will form at the ground line above the underground stem, thus cutting off the food which ordinarily goes to the tuber. When this disease attacks, the plants themselves become larger, and the stem and leaves take on a stiff appearance because of the accumulation of starch in the leaves. This disease can be overcome by rotating the crops by planting of sweet clover and use of manure as fertilizer. The seed should also be treated before planting.

SCAB

Scab is both seed and soil born. If scab once gets in the soil, it is almost impossible to get it out. For this reason, one should always plant seed free from scab. This writer has raised potatoes in the Panhandle for many years; and at only one time was scab severe—the cause no doubt being the planting of infected seed. Panhandle soil is relatively free from scab. To cut down the losses from scab, scab-free seed—must, of course, first be secured.

"Can you imagine that? After I spent two years keeping that hussy away from him, she gets appointed hostess at the same camp he's in."

Fusarium is another seed and soil born disease. The potato starts dying early in the growing stage. The disease causes black or brown streaks running from the stem end and sometimes going all the way through the tuber; and at times the stem end breaks down and rots. The best known way to prevent this disease is to plant disease-free seed and practice rotation of crops.

These three diseases—Fusarium, scab and Rhizoctonia—take the largest toll of potatoes in the Panhandle. There are 90 more known diseases and for this reason the grower must always plant good seed—as even the best looking potatoes do not always produce the best yield. In fact some times the best seed is in the knotty, rough looking tubers; and for this reason bin selecting seed should be avoided.

Trees Break Again—But Not Because of Icekrieg

CANYON—Add Panhandle weather vagaries:

Campus trees at West Texas State College bowed and broke last winter under a heavy coating of ice.

This week they bowed and broke again—but for a reason strange to this section. The weight now is that of luxuriant clusters of winged seeds of the ash tree. The limbs could not support the weight of these clusters, added to rain soaked leaves.

Not the least puzzled were Gloria Soto and Beatriz Martinez, Puerto Rican students.

"You told me this was a dry country," Gloria said accusingly. "Instead, it rains almost as much as it does in Puerto Rico."

Infantile Paralysis More Frequent In Summer Months

AUSTIN—"Infantile paralysis can be expected to occur more frequently during the next three or four months," declared Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer. "This disease is always more frequent during the hot months."

"The germ responsible for infantile paralysis is so small that it escapes detection even with the most powerful microscopes. The first symptoms are usually vomiting, headache, fever, stiffness of the neck, pain in the legs, irritability and drowsiness. Complete recovery may follow such an illness. In more severe cases, the germ penetrates the nervous system, resulting in paralysis of nerves controlling one or more groups of muscles. Infection spreads from person to person with the droplets attending coughing and sneezing. Children and grown people who are healthy may be carriers of the germs. When present in epidemic form, about one child in each hundred is likely to suffer an attack."

"Early recognition and diagnosis are essential. The use of immune serum may be a factor in preventing paralysis. A period of complete rest is essential for muscles that are affected. If parents note any symptoms of illness in their children, the family doctor should be consulted at once."

Summerfield

MRS. JIM CLARK

For the first time in several years farmers are saying "We have had enough rain" and hoping that this wet spell will soon be over. Total rainfall in this community the past week is estimated at 5 1/2 inches and seven inches for the month of May. Some of the wheat already has yellow rust on the blades but most of the men agree that this will do the wheat no damage unless the stalks become infected. The black rust is feared most.

Many Sunday drivers from this community went to Frio to see the water. It is the general opinion that the water is at least a foot higher than ever before in Frio draw. Both bridges are out and all the fences are down on the two roads.

People south of the draw had to go to the Dimmitt Highway to Cross Saturday. Traffic across that bridge was stopped Monday.

High School students stayed in town last week as the buses could not make their routes. Jim Clark got his bus to the pavement Monday and took the high school students, who met him there, on to Hereford. It was feared that Mr. Merrill would not be able to cross the bridge on the Tierra Blanca Draw.

Summerfield school was out only Thursday afternoon of last week, although only a few students were able to get there. This will be the last week of school. Examinations will be given by Judge Schroeter Wednesday. There probably will be a community picnic Friday if it does not rain again, since the rural school picnic was called off.

Lorena Storey, Betty Euler, Floyd Coker and Harold Head will receive seventh-grade diplomas at the graduation services in Hereford Thursday morning. Raylan Evans, Aline Coker and Christine Merrill are seniors from this district who are receiving diplomas.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Story and daughters of Plainview spent the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Noland and other relatives. Mr. and Mrs. John Renfro and Rena Rae were guests in the Noland home Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ky Lawrence, who returned from California, Thursday, reported a very interesting trip. They found rivers full and in some places the snow plow opened the road for them to pass. They saw much fruit and ate all the luscious red cherries they wanted. They saw rice being sown from an airplane.

Sunday School attendance was 47 Sunday with about the same number Sunday evening. Rev. R. G. Baucum, accompanied by Mrs. Baucum and small son, of Atlanta, were here over the week end. Rev. Baucum preached Sunday morning and evening.

MRS. ULLMAN HUNTER

Mr. and Mrs. Charlton Neeley and children of Amarillo, spent last Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Henry F. Neeley.

Miss Pauline Matthews, who is graduating from West Texas State College at Canyon in June has been elected to teach in the Flomot high school. She will be head of the Home Economics department. Miss Matthews was taught two successful years in this school and her many friends wish her well in her new work.

The graduation program at Dimmitt for the seniors was omitted Friday evening on account of the rains. Only the diplomas were awarded. C. C. Hunter, Jr., failed to get to Dimmitt to receive his diploma.

Addison Hunter was in Amarillo two days last week receiving medical aid.

Word has been received of the death of one of the twin girls born to Mr. and Mrs. Turney Sparks of Sweetwater recently. Mr. Sparks is a brother of Mrs. Ullman Hunter and he and his wife have visited here a number of times.

The families of Sam and Ullman Hunter and Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Baird motored to Buffalo Dame Sunday afternoon. On their return home, when they reached Frio draw they were unable to cross on account of the high water. They returned home by way of Buffalo Dam. Mr. and Mrs. Tom Evans of Frio and Mr. Carl Frye of Easter were in town when the creek rose beyond the bridge, also Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Axe.

Mesdames M. T. Sparkman and Clyde Renfro were hostesses to a very pretty May Day party at the home of Mrs. Sparkman Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Seated games were enjoyed by the guests. Punch was served from the dining table which was decorated with pretty spring blossoms. Those attending were Mesdames Clem Gilliam, H. C. Baird, Sam, Finis, Addison and Ullman Hunter.

The auxiliary voted to continue the birthday parties this year, but each member is to donate a quarter to the war emergency fund instead of presenting the hostess with a gift. This occasion was the birthday party of Mrs. Sparkman.

Mesdames Clem Gilliam and Ullman Hunter will be hostesses for the next party, which will be in July.

Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Pinkert and Bob and Mr. and Mrs. Henry F. Neeley were at Buffalo Lake Sunday afternoon.

"Enough Rain!" is the cry of all farmers in this vicinity. Rain has fallen the last six days totaling about three or four inches.

It rained everyday last week except Saturday and Sunday. Prospects for row crops are very good, but many farmers fear that rust has damaged their wheat.

Miss Lurline Dixon spent Wednesday and Thursday nights with Miss Pauline Dixon of Hereford.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Brooks announce the marriage of their daughter, Juanice to Deward Taylor of Hereford. The couple were married Saturday night by Rev. Alken at his home in Hereford. They were attended by Louise Lowery, Bobby Davis, Katherine Wilburn, Wayne Nelson, Ruth Taylor, the bridegroom's sister, and Billy J. Jackson of Plainview. The bride wore a powder blue dress and navy blue accessories. The couple will make their home in Hereford where Mr. Taylor is employed.

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Dixon were called to Amarillo Sunday night because of the illness of their grandson, Glennis Dixon.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Lowery of Stinnett spent Friday night with Earl's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Lowery.

The Frio draw was over the bridges and roads making them impassable by Wednesday morning. Thursday night a large head rise came down and one again Saturday afternoon. The bridge on the old Hereford-Dimmitt-highway was washed completely away and all other bridges were impassable. Many people say that this is the highest the draw has ever been. In some places it was a half a mile wide.

Mrs. Goats and daughter of Narvica, visited Mr. and Mrs. Wilburn Axe last Monday- and Tuesday.

Mrs. Jack Owen left Friday morning for Calton, Mo., where she will visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tjgen. She plans to be gone during the first week of June.

Let's Cook Something

4 egg yolks
1-2 cup sugar
1 lemon, juice and grated rind
Cook in double boiler until thick

Soak 3 tablespoons lemon jello, mixed with 1-3 cup of sugar, in 1 cup of hot water. Add the jello mixture to the thickened mixture and beat thoroughly until foamy. Beat whites of four eggs stiff and add 1 cup of heavy cream (not whipped). Add to the above mixture which has been allowed to cool. Line a buttered pan with finely crushed vanilla wafers (a ten-cent box), pour in custard mixture and sprinkle remaining crushed wafers on top. Place in freezing compartment and freeze.

Using this same recipe and substituting the juice of one orange for the lemon juice makes something to write home about. It's a delightful party food and it looks very tempting cut in two-inch squares and served from a large platter of silver tray, as a last course at dinner.

Mrs. Pat Lynch Is Honored With Post-Nuptial Gift Party

With a theme of roses to signify happiness and love, five hostesses entertained Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Glenn Oliver in honor of Mrs. Pat Lynch of Plainview, the former Miss Pollyanna Crawford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Crawford of Hereford. Hostesses included Mesdames Sank Ramey, T. P. McCollister, J. B. Harlin, Jack Roberson and Oliver.

Because of heavy rains the honor guest was unable to attend the gift party and her mother, acting in her place opened the gifts which were arranged in attractive groups about the rooms.

Entertainment for the afternoon consisted of a number of games directed by Mrs. Ramey and Mrs. McCollister, and a toast to the bride was given by Mrs. G. M. Hudson.

Climaxing the rose theme favors or rosebuds adorned the refreshment plate.

Approximately seventy five guests were asked to call during the afternoon.

Mrs. C. F. Moore was hostess Friday afternoon to members of the Coterie Club. Decorations were bowls of mock orange, roses and larkspur. The same color scheme was repeated in appointments for the bridge games and in refreshments.

Progressive Luncheon Marks Close Of Season's Activities For Club

Conclusion of the club year brings welcome vacations to many Hereford women who have spent much time in planning and preparing club programs during the past winter months. Members of the Child Study Club completed club activities of the year with a progressive luncheon held Thursday and as new officers were installed a glimpse of the year's accomplishments was reviewed.

Members met at the home of Mrs. Elvin Ridling for fruit cocktails, which were served in the living room. Mrs. Ridling entertained with a vocal selection "Lullaby" written by the club president, Mrs. G. M. Hudson. Mrs. John Sims accompanied and also played several informal selections.

A rose and silver theme was emphasized throughout as the series of courses progressed. At the Ridling home deep rose and white peonies were used and at the Rose Room where the main course was served, roses and honeysuckle were combined to carry out the effect. The long table was centered with a silver bowl filled with roses with garlands of pink satin ribbon extending to each guests place. Attached to the ribbons were clever and appropriate fortunes which added to the informal entertainment during the meal.

Later at the home of Mrs. Elmer Patterson the last course was served and again the rose and silver theme was predominant. Pink and white sweet pea corsages were presented to guests.

An impressive ceremony for the installation of new officers was conducted by Mrs. G. M. Hudson. A patriotic note was evidenced as retiring leaders relinquished duties and new ones assumed duties for the coming year, pledging allegiance to the American home and the nation.

Officers installed were Mrs. G. M. Hudson, president; Mrs. R. P. Conaway, vice-president; Mrs. Merlin Kaul, recording secretary; Mrs. Ira Foster, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Cawthon Bryant, treasurer; Mrs. Leo Forrest, parliamentarian; Mrs. Geo. McConnell and Mrs. James Alken, press reporter.

Mrs. Ira Foster reviewed an article "Artists Children Should Know" from World Famous Pictures by Oscar Neale.

Arrangements for the luncheon were in the hands of Mrs. J. B. Whitlow, Mrs. Ernest Wade and Mrs. Gordon Witherspoon. Those in charge of decorations at the Rose Room were Mesdames Leo Forrest, James Alken, Jr., C. P. Grimes and Ira Foster.

Looking forward to next year's work, plans were made to bring Miss Ruth Pirtle, speech instructor at Texas Tech, to Hereford sometime in November to address the club.

Flowers made up favors for club members.

Places were laid for Dyalithia Brady, Inez Clark, Belle Harris, Ann Holman, Ursalee Jacobsen, Leta Kaul, Lois Moore, Ethel Robinson, Evelyn Sachs, Gladys Skelton, Bessie Smith, Evelyn Stelzer, Clara Wedel, Vivian Williams, Inez Miller, Bobby Roles, Martha Schumann, Erma Faye Robinson, Virginia Bowsher and the honoree.

THE FAIR SEX By Lad Erzen

I owe my success to fiddling around.

Those attending included Mesdames Leo Forrest, J. B. Whitlow, R. P. Conaway, Jim Williams, Mac Balnum, Glenn Parker, Elvin Ridling, C. P. Grimes, Ernest Wade, George McConnell, James Aiken, Glenn Witherspoon, Merlin Kaul, Cawthon Bryant, Gordon Witherspoon, G. W. Newsom, John Sims, G. M. Hudson, Ira Foster, Elmer Patterson, and Chas. Newell, an ex-president.

Mrs. Miller Is Hostess For Club

New Deal Club members and guests were entertained at the new home of Mrs. Alton Miller Friday afternoon. Roses in profusion of pink and red were featured in decorations.

Two tables of players enjoyed the games with Mrs. Willis Edelman making high score and Mrs. Ralph Hastings second high.

After the games a colorful salad course was served to Mesdames Frank Huckert, Louis Woodford, Meade Halle, Sylvester Slagle, Ralph Hastings, T. E. Seigler, Jr., Willis Edelman, J. T. Gilbreath, Jr. and the hostess.

Pink And White Peonies Form Colorful Motif

Mrs. J. C. McCracken used pink and white peonies as a table centerpiece last week when she entertained members and guests of the Wednesday Luncheon Club with a bridge luncheon at her home on East Fourth St. Roses were arranged as other decorations and the floral colors and motif reappeared in appointments and accessories for the games.

Winners in bridge were Mrs. C. C. Acker, guest, and Mrs. Jack Wayland, club.

Those attending the enjoyable affair were Mesdames H. K. Fox, C. C. Acker, Knox Kinard, Colby Conkwright, J. A. Pitman, E. B. Hedrick, A. R. Bateman, H. A. Close, Oscar Easley, S. P. Ross, Jimmie Gillentine, Alton Fraser, Jack Wayland, W. L. Davis, W. M. Emmons, Miss Eloise Pitman and the hostess.

CONGRATULATIONS

BEST WISHES

We congratulate you upon the evidence of successful achievement demonstrated by your Graduation of 1941!

We, your parents and your friends, all hope that your successful achievements in school will grow into habits that will be helpful to you in attaining success in life.

We hope that you will accept these greetings in all the Sincerity with which they are made, for we feel that the future and development of our community depends not alone on our resources — but upon the advancement of our young men and women.

BEST WISHES

GRADUATES, we are proud of you, of the faculty which taught you, and of the Public Schools for which you stand. Your loyalty and faithfulness combined with the efforts of the patrons of the schools has made the system an outstanding one.

GRADUATES, we want to give you our word of praise for what you have already accomplished and we are expecting even greater success for you. We hope you will continue the work you have started in developing your own abilities to their fullest extent, and that a useful and happy life will be achieved by all of you.

Since 1901 it has been our pleasure to observe and co-operate with the schools of this community; therefore, we hope you will accept our comments in the Sincere manner in which they are spoken.
