PASSENGERS USE EMERGENCY EXIT

Navy personnel assist passengers through emergency exits of an American Airlines plane after it made an emergency landing at Glenview (Ill.) Naval Air Station. One of the plane's three landing wheels remained locked in a retracted position, but a safe landing was made without injury to any of the 40 passengers or crew of three. Among the passengers were Mrs. William C. Stratton, wife of the Illinois governor and Peter F. Mack, Jr., Democratic congressman from Carlinville, Ill.

Dulles Says Aggressive Role Of Red China Led To Treaty

No Opposition Seen In Senate

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dulles declared today that Communist China is showing an aggressive intent in Asia which belies its protestations of peace.

It was against this menace that the United States and seven other nations signed the Manila Pact two months ago, he told the Senate Foreign Relations Committee in calling for approval of the agreement.

Dulles addressed the committee for a half-hour, then submitted to questioning by members. While no effective opposition is expected, some senators — like Mansfield (D-Mont), who has traveled the Orient extensively — said they had some questions to ask.

Sen. Wiley (R-Wis) forecast quick committee approval of the treaty. At the same time Wiley, chairman of the group, hoisted a caution signal on new German sovereignty and rearmament agreements.

President Eisenhower yesterday asked the committee to complete its study of the Southeast Asia defense Pact during the current special Senate session. This would pave the way for speedy action after the new Congress meets Jan. 5. Senate leaders hope to confine the present session to the move to censure Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis).

The secretary said the Manila Pact marks a "major further step" in the Free World's efforts to sustain peace in the Pacific as elsewhere. Significant also, he said, is a companion document—the Pacific Charter which emphasizes the right of peoples to choose their own governments.

Dulles ticked off places and situations which he said showed Red China's "aggressive intent." Among these he listed:

1. Existence of a "Free Thai" movement inside China, just across the border from Thailand.

2. Doubling since the Geneva conferences of Vietminh forces in the portion of Indochina claimed by the Communists.

3. Domination by the Communists of two provinces in northern Laos.

4. Vigorous efforts to communize Chinese in Singapore.

5. Maintenance in China's Yunan Province, "where there certainly is no risk of attack," of a large armed force of Red Chinese.

There are other examples, he said, and all of them add up to "an aggressive intent which belies their protestations of a desire for peace."

"That fact," Dulles said, "is recognized by the nations which met early in September at Manila and signed the Manila Pact."

Dulles said the United States would have welcomed more members—presumably a reference to such Asian countries as India, Burma, and Indonesia. But he noted these and others could come in upon agreement of the signatory countries.

Even so, he said, the eight-power agreement is "important and adequate to build a very substantial defense against the menace to which I referred."

In general, he said, the treaty follows the lines laid down by U. S. agreements after World War II with Australia, New Zealand, the Philippines and Japan. But he said the Manila Pact has these key differences:

1. The treaty area is closely defined not only in the pact itself but also in a separate protocol which promises that the Indochina states, although not members, will be brought "within the mantle of its protection."

2. For the first time, subversion is staked out as a danger to the area. Dulles called for an early meeting of pact nations to search for "ways and means" of ending the threat of subversion.

Change Told In Detention Of Immigrants

NEW YORK (AP) — Atty. Gen. Brownell announced today plans for greatly reducing the detention time of immigrants or aliens who have to be sent back to their native lands.

In an address prepared to welcome more than 48,000 foreign-born taking the oath of allegiance to the United States in mass naturalization ceremonies in 109 cities across the country and in the territories and possessions, the attorney general announced these new policy steps:

1. A major broadening of pre-inspection procedures for aliens seeking U.S. residence, to avoid disappointments at the ports of entry.

2. A much wider use of parole for aliens whose admissability or possible deportation is under study.

3. Elimination, in this connection, of the special seaport detention facilities at Seattle and Honolulu, as well as New York where the immigration service is now folding its operations on Ellis Island under a plan announced several weeks ago, and at Boston, San Francisco and San Pedro, already closed.

Brownell's address was prepared for delivery first at Ebbets Field in Brooklyn, where some 6,000 became citizens, and later at the Polo Grounds, where some 7,500 other aliens waited to take the oath of allegiance.

Among other cities holding mass citizenship programs are Baltimore; Buffalo, N.Y.; Boston, Philadelphia, Newark, Paterson and Hackensack in New Jersey; Miami, Detroit, Chicago, Seattle, San Francisco, El Paso, San Antonio; Portland, Maine; and Honolulu.

The Western Pacific island outpost of Guam won the honor of touching off the nationwide mass naturalization ceremonies — because it lies west of the international dateline where the date advances one day.

As military units and veterans paraded in a heavy tropical rain, 81 persons became new citizens there. The group was made up of servicemen from the Philippines, Japan, Canada, European countries and some civilians living on Guam.

BIRTHDAY CANDLE

Mrs. Dwight Eisenhower, wife of the president, blows out a lone candle on a big cake in Washington at a pre-birthday party for her. Mrs. Eisenhower will be 58 Sunday. Holding candles in background are Mrs. Herbert Brownell, left, wife of the attorney general, and Mrs. George Humphrey, wife of the treasury secretary.

Capehart Seeking Delay On Censure

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Capehart (R-Ind) said today he will propose the Senate put off until January a vote on censuring Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis). Sen. Jackson (D-Wash) predicted any such move would be rejected quickly.

The Senate opened formal debate yesterday on the recommendation of a special six-man committee that McCarthy be officially rebuked on grounds that he acted "contemptuously" toward a Senate elections subcommittee which investigated his finances in 1951-52 and that he "repeatedly abused" Brig. Gen. Ralph W. Zwicker, a witness before McCarthy's investigating committee earlier this year.

Capehart said in an interview before the scheduled resumption of debate that he believes "the great majority of senators" would agree with him a two months' delay would mean "a far more judicial and deliberate consideration of this important matter."

But Capehart, who has announced he will vote against censure, appeared to lack any widespread support. Jackson, a McCarthy critic, said there was "not a chance" for such a delay move to succeed.

"The Senate wants to get this thing out of the way as soon as possible," he said. "It would reject any postponement."

Any such action as Capehart proposed would entail a new start on the censure move, since the resolution now pending and the committee report in its support will die with the present Congress.

McCarthy clashed yesterday with Sen. Watkins (R-Utah) and was lectured by Sen. Case (R-ND) for "personal abuse" of colleagues in an alternately spirited and dull session before filled galleries.

Asked how he thought he was progressing in his defense, McCarthy replied:

"I don't know. I can tell you more about that in three weeks."

McCarthy disclaimed any knowledge of delaying tactics or of proposed compromises which might fend off a direct vote on censure. Senators Dirksen (R-Ill) and Bridges (R-NH) were reported trying to draft a substitute for the committee's resolution, but they would not discuss it.

McCarthy gave no evidence that he has in mind anything other than a bristling defense of his position. He has predicted the Senate will vote to censure him.

Sen. Case, a member of the Watkins group, took issue yesterday with McCarthy's assertion—that in urging censure the committee had served as "the unwitting handmaiden" of the Communist party.

Case said senators ought to be able to accept unpleasant committee assignments "without being subject to personal abuse."

"I don't want the senator from Wisconsin to prove unintentionally to the country that count one is right," he said. That count involves McCarthy's alleged contempt of a committee.

McCarthy replied he was trying to show only that committee members had been "unwilling dupes" of Communists.

Sen. Butler (R-Md), elected to the Senate with McCarthy's support in 1950, urged the Senate to "limit, qualify and even repudiate" parts of the Watkins committee's censure report.

Butler, who announced he would vote against the resolution as it stands, said he did not approve of McCarthy's 1953 remark that Sen. Hendrickson (R-NJ) was "a living miracle. . .with neither brains nor guts." Nor did he approve, he said, of McCarthy's statement to Zwicker that he was unfit to wear the uniform of a general. He said this was "a private and personal thing with me" and he had never told McCarthy about it.

But he said the Watkins committee recommendations would set up "a binding code applying to senatorial conduct," a move that he regarded as "just plain ridiculous."

Among his reasons for voting against censure, Butler listed:

1. A fear that censure for the Zwicker incident might "aid subversives, or deter, or devitalize the Senate committees charged with the responsibility of combatting, exposing and ferreting them out."

2. A belief it was unwise to say that senators may not impugn the motives of other senators.

3. A feeling that it was unwise to establish a precedent that senators must appear and cooperate fully with committees conducting investigations of senators themselves.

4. "A deep conviction" that I vote to censure McCarthy on such grounds "will seriously jeopardize minority rights, now and in the future."

Officers Urge Sane Driving Friday Night

Football traffic control officers have asked all local persons who possibly can to share their cars, and obey traffic patrolmen in going to and from the Breckenridge-Snyder football game here at 8 o'clock tomorrow night.

Walter Suttle, police chief, said that neighbors and friends who can share a car in going to the ball game will be of great aid in alleviating the traffic problems caused by football games.

"In most cases two families can double up and use one car instead of two cars without being uncomfortable," he said.

Frank D. Stephenson, member of the American Legion-Veteran's of Foreign Wars volunteer traffic patrol for football games, asked everyone to please obey quickly traffic directions given by patrolmen in the stadium area.

Use of El Paso Avenue, which goes north from Thirty-seventh Street at the West Elementary School to the Lamesa Highway is urged. Traffic jams on other streets will be greatly reduced if persons who park on Denson Avenue and west of the stadium use El Paso Avenue, Suttle said.

Suttle also suggested use of Avenue V from Thirty-seventh Street to town to relieve the jam at Thirty-seventh Street and Avenue S.

Extra patroling of the business area will be done after the ball game to prevent reckless driving to celebrate the game, Suttle said.

He asked everyone to drive carefully to and from the ball game to prevent accidents.

Finn Shoots, Then Jumps

HELSINKI, Finland (AP)—A high government official said a top Finnish economics expert killed one security police officer and wounded another today before plunging out of a window at his home.

The source said Dr. Keijo Alho, director of the Economic Research Bureau of the Bank of Finland, was taken to a hospital with yet undetermined injuries.

Dr. Alho reportedly rushed into the headquarters of the Finnish security police this morning, shouting: "The Communist revolution is breaking out in Finland." Several police officials escorted him back to his home.

"As soon as they got inside the door," the source said, "Dr. Alho drew a gun and fired at the security officers. One was killed instantly and another seriously wounded. Dr. Alho then ran to the window and plunged."

Dr. Alho leaped from the fourth floor of his home.

The shooting occurred a day after the arrival here of a Soviet parliamentary delegation for a 10-day visit in return for one made to Moscow a few months ago by a Finnish parliamentary group.

Advanced Gift Section Of UF Goes Into Action

Some 40 workers were in the field today making the first push toward the Scurry County United Fund's $29,500 campaign goal.

The workers now making contacts are members of the advanced gifts committee, which is headed by D. M. Cogdell, Sr.

Many of the members of that committee were on hand for the kick-off celebration held at the Cogdell home south of Snyder last night.

Mr. and Mrs. Cogdell were hosts at a dinner session to the advanced gifts workers, several United Fund officials and special guests.

At conclusion of the event Cogdell predicted that the campaign would be successful "because we have such a good army" working in the drive.

Dr. Cecil Yarbrough, general campaign chairman, and Cogdell distributed the campaign supplies to the advanced gift division workers.

Committee members, most of whom were present at the kick-off meeting, include Lyle Deffebach, who also is president of the Scurry County United Fund, Inc., H. H. Eiland, A. C. Alexander, Nolan Watson, Harrie Winston, Weldon Johnson, G. B. Clark, Herbert Feather, C. V. Thompson, Sr., Hugh Taylor, Marvin Key, Nolan von Roeder, C. E. McCormick, H. L. Wren, Melvin Newton, R. H. Odom, J. T. Hughes, Bob Bickerstaff, C. O. Holder, W. W. Milburn, O. L. Nichols, Fred Cullum, Holman Odom, Wade Pipkin, Dr. Wilton Jones.

Among others present were Milton Ford of the United Fund's employe division; Walker Dabbs, branch house division; Dan Warren, chairman of the campaign committee; Max West, rural division; Harold Bennett, business division; Bob Crowell, manager of the Chamber of Commerce; the Rev. and Mrs. O. B. Lewis, the Rev. Tom Johnson of Dallas.

Mrs. John Casebier sang several numbers during a brief period of entertainment. She was accompanied by Mrs. E. L. Kubala at the organ.

Cogdell said he was particularly gratified at the manner in which committee members accepted their assignments. He said it was significant that busy men in the community would take time out from their various businesses and devote time to a community project.

The first report meeting for the advanced gifts division has been set for 10 a.m. Friday at United Fund headquarters, located on the east side of the square. Final reports are due Monday.

Earlier yesterday members of the Snyder Kiwanis Club heard Malven K. Stevenson, chairman of the budget and admissions committee, explain several aspects of the United Fund program.

The united campaign drive idea originated in Cleveland, Ohio, in 1913, he explained, and it had proved to be such a satisfactory method of providing for worthwhile agencies that hundreds of cities and towns now are using the same plan.

He said the United Fund is designed to help the community, the workers in the campaigns and the participating agencies. This is accomplished, he said, by requiring a minimum amount of time from workers, assuring the community that contributions will go to worthwhile agencies and by assuring the agencies that they will have funds for carrying out their programs each year.

Texan Thinks Comic Books Will Improve

NEW YORK (AP)—Atty. Gen. John Ben Shepperd of Texas, after a conference with comic book czar Charles F. Murphy, said here that a new national program to clean up comic books may solve the problem for Texas without state legislation.

Murphy, a former New York judge, recently was named by the comic book industry to police its output. Shepperd conferred with him yesterday after a Texas legislative committee instructed him to draft a bill banning unwholesome comic books.

An association of comic book manufacturers which claims it represents 90 per cent of the industry has drawn up a new code setting standards to eliminate objectionable sex, crime and horror material in the books.

"This voluntary control program within the industry will produce quick results," Shepperd said.

The results in Texas, he said, "will hinge on the cooperation of those who handle these books"—whether retail outlets for comic books sell only books from code-abiding publishers.

"With 100 per cent cooperation, the need for control legislation might be lessened, if not eliminated," Shepperd added.

Shepperd said, however, that he will follow the Texas committee's instructions and draft the requested bill.

Shepperd said Murphy estimated the Texas sale of comic books at 1½ million per month, with each book having six or seven readers.

Road Project Due In Spring

Widening of the East Highway to four lanes from the east city limits to the intersection of the Roby, Sweetwater, and Colorado City highways, and construction of a traffic integration system at the intersection is planned for next year, Jake Roberts, district engineer for the Texas Highway Department's Abilene district, said yesterday.

Roberts said that the intersection, which now has one intersection at the top of a hill, will be completely revamped to facilitate flow of traffic through the intersection and to increase safety at the intersection.

Estimated cost of the complete project is $129,000, which has been appropriated for the project from 1955-56 funds of the district.

Plans for doing the job last year were cancelled when repaving of the Lubbock highway north to the Fluvanna cut-off was necessary after the old paving became almost impassable, Roberts said. The money appropriated for the intersection project was transferred to the Lubbock highway project. A total of $100,000 had been appropriated for the intersection work.

The $100,000 was supplemented by $350,000 taken from the state highway improvement funds of another county in the district to repave the Lubbock highway to the Fluvanna cut-off. The other county could not have used the funds because it could not secure right-of-way for its state paving project.

Roberts said contracts for the East Highway widening and intersection work will be let next spring because paving cannot be done during cold weather.

Three Felony Counts Filed

Three felony complaints were filed here late yesterday and this morning, one alleging theft, one arson, and the other driving while intoxicated as a repreated offense.

Derward G. McDaniel, 35, of 1906 Avenue R, was released yesterday afternoon on bond of $500 when he waived preliminary hearing before W. C. Davidson, justice of peace, on the driving charge.

His attorney, Pat Beene, was surety on the bond. McDaniel was arrested by city police Tuesday night. He was convicted in county court here Oct. 29 when he pleaded guilty to driving while intoxicated as a misdemeanor and paid a fine of $73.50, including cost.

Bond was set at $500 this morning for Richard Cain, 21, when he waived preliminary hearing on a charge filed this morning alleging arson. He is accused of setting fire to a cottage of Canary Courts, 1111 Twenty-sixth Street, where he resided.

The cottage, which was his residence, was damaged by fire early yesterday morning. The building is the property of Charles Cooper, and the complaint was signed by Ivan Gatlin, fire marshall, and Renal Rosson, district attorney. The charge alleges damage at $100.

A warrant was issued this morning for the arrest of Guadalupe Charles, 25, Latin-American formerly of Snyder, charged this morning with felony theft.

The complaint alleges Charles stole two accordions, valued at $50 and $25, a suit of clothes valued at $40, 10 skirts worth $25, four blouses worth $10, two sweaters valued at $8, and four pairs of trousers worth $5 from Victor Ruiz.

Cole Reports Pact Signed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Cole (R-NY), chairman of the Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee, said today he has been informed that the Dixon-Yates power contract and a memorandum of understanding have been signed.

Making this announcement, Cole called a meeting of his committee for 2 p.m.

Cole had said that as soon as the contract was signed he would have a meeting of the group for further hearings and a vote on President Eisenhower's request for an immediate go-ahead on the contract.

Eisenhower's request was made in a letter yesterday.

Under the atomic energy law, a contract such as that with Dixon-Yates cannot become effective until it has been before Congress for 30 days unless the Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee waives this provision.

McConnaughey Okayed For Post With FCC

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Interstate Commerce Committee today approved, on what amounted to a party line vote, President Eisenhower's nomination of George C. McConnaughey to be a member and chairman of the Federal Communications Commission.

Sen. Monroney (D-Okla) immediately predicted that the nomination will not be confirmed by the Senate this session. He said the nomination definitely falls within the "c[illegible]" category.

Democratic leaders in the Senate agreed Tuesday that no controversial nominations would be approved during the special session of the Senate called to pass on censure charges against Sen. McCarthy.

Reading Rises To 69

Some shoppers in downtown Snyder discarded coats yesterday as the temperature rose to 69 degrees. A low of 35 degrees was recorded overnight by Mrs. D. P. Strayhorn, weather observer, with 38 degrees at 7:30 this morning.

Russians To Get Another Note Concerning Plane Incidents

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP)—The State Department is drafting a new note to Russia on the shooting down of a U.S. Air Force plane, hoping to find out whether the Soviets would seriously like to avoid such incidents in the future.

There is an unusual absence of belligerency in the attitude of both the American and Soviet governments, despite their opposing versions of last Sunday's Far Eastern affair, which cost the life of one American airman.

Only last Sunday Soviet Premier Georgi Malenkov expresed to U.S. Ambassador Charles E. Bohlen at a Moscow dinner the desire to make greater use of diplomacy in ironing out East-West differences. Malenkov said that means should be taken to prevent relatively minor problems from becoming major issues, according to a report from Bohlen to the State Department.

The new U.S. note, it is understood, will reflect the conciliatory tone in which President Eisenhower discussed the plane incident at his news conference yesterday. And it will be responsive to two paragraphs of a Russian note of last Monday which seemed to create a slight hope of avoiding such aerial clashes in future.

In that note, the Russian government expressed "regret" that what is called previous "violations" of Soviet borders by U.S. military planes had led "to absolutely unjustified losses."

It then said it would be in the interest of both the Soviet Union and the United States "to take measures for the prevention of further violations of the Soviet state border by American aircraft." The note added that Russia expects the United States to give "appropriate instructions" to Air Force generals.

Diplomatic officials rejected the Russian claim that the attacks on American planes result from flights over Soviet territory. But they were studying with considerable interest Russia's proposal, however one-sided, that something be done.

Just what, authorities said, is difficult to foresee unless the Soviets are willing to give rigid instructions to restrain trigger-quick pilots from firing on American aircraft.

However, there is at least a serious possibility that the whole matter will be further explored through diplomatic channels.

Talbott Says Modern Weapons Can Level Entire Continent

By ELTON C. FAY

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of the Air Force Harold Talbott said today there are weapons which "can lay waste an entire continent."

And efforts to keep these weapons from being used, he said, can succeed only if nations seek the help of God.

Talbott's address was prepared for a Veterans Day ceremony at the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier in Arlington National Cemetery. The Air Force chief was designated to represent President Eisenhower in the annual observance of what until now has been known as Armistice Day.

Talbott said he visited the national cemetery recently and walked among the graves of the dead of the past wars. Then he declared:

"The weapons which claimed the brave young men who lie here were formidable enough. And yet they were puny compared with the weapons that human beings can bring to bear against each other in this nuclear age. These are weapons of great destruction.

"They can lay waste an entire continent—men, women, children, even the beasts and the vegetation. They can abolish in a single night not only an army, not only a nation, but a whole civilization."

Talbott did not explain which particular weapons he had in mind. He apparently referred to hydrogen weapons.

He said that in his official position he has "intimate knowledge of these weapons," then added:

"Some of them are of such awful power that even the men who build them cannot fully visualize the carnage that would follow their use. This is not the time or place to dwell upon them, but I will say this much—just one of these weapons can cause more destruction than all the bombing done by all the nations in the last world war."

The trouble, he said, is with man, not the weapons. He said he knows no machine, "however ingenious, which destroys except at the command of man."

"Through the ages," he said, "men in great danger have sought inspiration from a source higher than themselves. It must be so now, more than ever. The more I see of modern engines of destruction, the more I believe that mankind needs the ancient guidance and compassion of religion.

"I do not believe that any government that deals in ruthlessness, in cynicism, in godlessness, can long endure. I do not think that we, or any nation, can face overwhelming dangers of the atomic age and emerge free, without the guidance, the wisdom, that only God can give to human beings . . .

"I believe with all my heart that we can keep the peace only if we seek His help, not to destroy our enemies, but to help us summon the patience, the courage, and if need be, the sternness that will be needed to prevent a war which would destroy us both."

The new designation for "Armistice Day" was authorized by Congress last June.

President Reviews Veterans Day Parade In Old Home Town

ABILENE, Kan. (AP) — President Eisenhower today reviewed a colorful Veterans' Day parade in this hometown of his youth.

Seated atop the marquee of the Sunflower Hotel with his three grandchildren and other members of his family, the chief executive saw a color guard made up of fellow members of the Abilene American Legion and Veterans of Foreign War posts. Next in line was the same Kansas band which led the Eisenhower inaugural parade in Washington in January 1953.

The parade was a prelude to the event which brought the President back to his hometown last night — dedication of the $325,000 Eisenhower memorial museum.

The President was up early this morning and visited the graves of his father and mother at Abilene Cemetery on the edge of town.

He was accompanied there by his grandchildren: his son John, an Army major; and his brothers Milton and Earl. They stood bareheaded at the graves and talked quietly.

On each of the graves was a basket of white, yellow and rust-colored baby mums placed there by the family.

Shortly after returning to the hotel, the President and his family stepped to the marquee to watch the parade.

A big crowd was assembled across the street and Eisenhower got a warm round of applause.

As he watched, the President occasionally rumpled the hair of his 6-year-old grandson David with his left hand while waving to the crowd with his right.

When he re-entered the hotel Eisenhower stopped to greet Rep. Ed Rees (R-Kan), who represents the Abilene area in Congress.

"Hello, Ed, I'm glad to see you," the President declared. "I'm glad you could be here — besides I wanted to meet my congressman."

Then the chief executive laughed heartily.

The President arrived here from Washington last night and got in a nostalgic 75-minute tour of his family's old homestead—still kept as his mother left it when she died in 1946—and the adjacent museum housing many of his World War II mementos and other keepsakes.

He visited the two buildings after being greeted warmly by old neighbors and newcomers alike on his arrival.

At the edge of the community—population 7,000—there was a big sign saying, "Welcome home, Mr. President." In front of the Sunflower Hotel, presidential headquarters for this stay, a brass band blared.

His homecoming meant a family reunion.

He was accompanied from Washington by Mrs. Eisenhower and his youngest brother, Dr. Milton S. Eisenhower, president of Pennsylvania State University.

On the way, the President's private plane, the Columbine, stopped briefly at Kansas City, Kan., to take aboard his grandchildren—David 6, Barbara Anne, 5, and Susan, 2—and their parents, Maj. and Mrs. John Eisenhower. The major is stationed at Ft. Leavenworth, Kan.

Already on hand when the President arrived was another brother, Earl, who publishes a newspaper in La Grange, Ill., and his wife. Also present were Mrs. Roy Eisenhower, of Junction City, Kan., widow of still another brother, and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Fagen, of Junction City. Mrs. Fagan is Mrs. Roy Eisenhower's daughter.

The family was sitting around reminiscing in the hotel after dinner when the President suggested they drive over to the old homestead. It was 9:45 p.m., but off they went—all but the grandchildren, who already were in bed.

At the home—now open to the public—the President had a wonderful time. Spotting a bedspread on a cot, he declared:

"Our great-grandfather wove that—he was a weaver."

Eisenhower roamed around looking at cookie jars, old clocks, and —just outside the back door—a patch of concrete walk which he and brother Earl and son John put in for the President's father and mother in 1938.

Eisenhower recalled how the three of them hauled cement from the garage and how their hands suffered.

After visiting the home, the President and his party walked next door to the museum, which stirred another flood of memories.

After today's dedication ceremonies Eisenhower planned to fly to Toledo for a round of Lake Erie duck hunting tomorrow and Saturday morning as the guest of Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey.

Consideration Of Drought On Quotas Asked

By TEX EASLEY

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Teague (D-Tex) urged today that individual cotton farmers who suffered crop failures because of drought be given special consideration in the allocation of next year's acreage quotas.

He has discussed the matter with agriculture department officials and has asked he be given acreage quota figures for counties in his Central Texas district as soon as they are available.

Secretary of Agriculture Benson recently announced the 1955 national cotton quota under the crop control program would be 18,113,208 acres, and that of this Texas would receive 7,612,779 acres.

Other department officials said the breakdown of quotas by counties for Texas and other states should be ready for announcement about Dec. 1.

"The department disclosed in announcing the Texas state quota," Teague said, "that it had added a million and a half acres to the 1953 base period used in calculating Texas' quota.

"This readjustment was made because of drought conditions," he said. "I have urged that in the distribution of the additional acreage allotments resulting from the increased 1953 base figure, special consideration be given the small cotton farmers who have been hard hit by the drought."

The increased figure credited to Texas for 1953, department officials said, will boost Texas' over-all, five-year planting average by some 300,000 acres. This, in turn, will give the state a bigger allotment in next year's acreage.

Board Head Raps Senate

TYLER (AP)—State Liquor Board Chairman Summers A. Norman of Jacksonville blames the state Senate for personnel and financial problems of what he calls "one of Texas largest revenue producing agencies."

"We have only 133 inspectors to work all 254 counties of the state," Norman told the Tyler Morning Telegraph in a telephone interview.

"We asked for 100 radio-equipped automobiles and two airplanes for spotting at the last sessions, but it was killed in the Senate," he said. "Apparently some lobby appeared against the board's appropriations because it was passed through the House of Representatives."

Norman said the board was unable to furnish its inspectors with radio or automobiles from the amount appropriated. He called the $100 expense money allotted per agent "ridiculously low."

Norman was asked for comment on the board's expense policy after Tyler business leaders agreed Wednesday to supplement the expense account of Liquor Agent John Hoyt in order that he might patrol Smith County more thoroughly.

Norman said he would ask the coming Legislature for radio-equipped cars for his agents, two planes for spotting, and a minimum of 50 additional inspectors.

British Ship Finally Sails

SOUTHAMPTON, England (AP)—The liner Queen Mary sailed for New York today with the storm over who should command her apparently all blown out.

A thousand of her 1,260 crew members threatened to strike earlier this week because their regular captain, Donald Sorrell, had been replaced for the voyage to New York and the ship's return with Queen Mother Elizabeth aboard.

The Cunard Steamship Co. ordered its senior fleet officer, Commodore Ivan Thompson, in command for the round trip. Asserting that no slur on Capt. Sorrell was intended, a company spokesman said it was customary for the line's top skipper to be on the bridge when such a personage as the Queen Mother is a passenger.

Thompson normally commands the Queen Mother's namesake, the liner Queen Elizabeth which took her to America.

Woman Is Acquitted Of Murder Charge

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Blonde Jean Marie Zint, 30, was acquitted early today of murder in the slaying of her husband, wealthy Charles Zint, 53.

The jury returned its verdict after seven hours deliberation. Zint was shot last Sept. 18 in the couple's apartment.

The woman testified that she shot her husband as "he came toward me with a dagger." The state made much of the fact in closing arguments that no dagger was discovered in the apartment.

The couple met in Chicago and wed two months ago. Police said Zint was a wealthy retired industrialist and she told him she was a former movie starlet.

TRUETT LATIMER

Latimer To Make Race For Senate

ABILENE — State Rep. Truett Latimer, Abilene, announced today that he will be a candidate in the special election to fill the 24th District Senate vacancy. The election will be held Dec. 11.

The post became vacant by the death of the late Harley Sadler of Abilene.

The 26-year-old Abilene insuranceman succeeded Salder as representative when Sadler moved into the Senate place in 1952. Latimer, who won over a field of four candidates in 1952 and was unopposed for re-election last summer, thus became the fifth candidate for state senator. He was in Austin earlier this week to file his candidacy with the Secretary of State.

Four other men, Pat Bullock, Colorado City; Dan Sorrells, Abilene; Juston Morrow, Rotan; and State Rep. David Ratliff, Stamford; have announced intentions of seeking the job. Deadline for filing is Thursday, Nov. 11.

In disclosing his plans to enter the race, Latimer said: "Many people from the district have urged me to run for state senator. After carefully considering it more than three weeks, I have decided to make the race. I believe my background and experience qualify me for the job. It is my desire to represent all of the people of the 24th Senatorial district."

Latimer, who was recently appointed to the Texas Commission on higher education, was present every day of both the regular and special sessions. He serves on five committees, insurance, common carriers, public health, public lands and buildings, and penitentiaries.

Born in Albany, reared in Lueders where he attended high school, Latimer made Abilene his home following his graduation from Hardin-Simmons University in 1951. Latimer is a member of the Abilene First Baptist Church, Rotary Club, Junior Chamber of Commerce, master sergent of the Texas National Guard, board member of the Abilene UMCA, and owner of a general insurance agency in Abilene.

The special election, called by Gov. Allan Shivers, will comprise voters from 13 counties, Dickens, Garza, Kent, Stonewall, Borden, Scurry, Fisher, Jones, Shackleford, Howard, Mitchell, Nolan, and Taylor.

If Latimer is elected he will be the second man to enter the Senate at the age of 26. Gov. Shivers was 26 when he entered the senate in 1934.

Reid Speaker At Banquet

Don Reid, managing director of the Iowa Press Association, was main speaker last night for the annual dinner given by Texas Electric Service Co. of this area to honor members of the firm's Quarter Century Club.

Reid, speaking before the gathering at Colorado City, stressed that the United States became great because its founders found that a country would be more successful if it "turned the individual loose and let him do what he pleased." Referring to the Tennessee Valley Authority, of which Texas Electric president J. B. Thomas spoke earlier during the program, Reid said the federal government cannot operate any kind of business more efficiently or more economically than can private enterprise.

Thomas, at the end of his earlier talk, made presentation of a wrist watch to Frank S. Bleck, new member of the Quarter Century Club, which is made up of employes who have been with Texas Electric 25 years or more. Snyder members are J. E. Blakey, office manager, and Mrs. E. C. Elland, retired.

The group at the gathering included employes and guests from Texas Electric at Snyder, Colorado City, and Sweetwater, as well as officials from the main office of Texas Electric.

Snyder Firemen Are Called Out Twice

City fire trucks were called out twice yesterday afternoon, once to fight a grass fire, and later to fight a drive-in restaurant awning fire started by sparks from the earlier grass fire, Ivan Gatlin, fire marshal, said.

The grass fire was on the east side of the Big Spring highway across from the Hilander Drive In. A few minutes after the truck had returned to the fire station from putting the grass fire out, the department was called to the awning fire.

"Burning grass stems must have been blown across the street to start the awning fire," Gatlin said.

One section of the three-secion awning was destroyed by the fire.

Tentative plans are being made to hold the funeral in the Twenty-fifth Street Church of Christ. Burial in Snyder Cemetery will be under the direction of Bolger Funeral Home.

Mr. McGuire was born March 6, 1873, in Scott County. He lived in Erath County until moving to Fluvanna to farm in 1922. The McGuire family moved to Snyder in 1937, and Mr. and Mrs. McGuire had lived in Sweetwater since 1952.

Survivors include the wife, Mrs. Amanda McGuire; three daughters, Mrs. C. N. Ainsworth of Fluvanna, Mrs. Carl Tarter of Hermleigh, and Mrs. C. E. Coleman of Mineral Wells; six sons, A. B. Texans Urged To Eat Beef

Snyder area residents are being urged to participate in "Eat More Beef" week in Texas, which is now being observed by proclamation of the governor.

Harrie Winston of Snyder, who is a member of the Texas Beef Council, said the program is gaining widespread attention throughout the state. Winston also is a director of the Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association and the Texas Hereford Association.

"Independence has always been a favorite word in Texas," Winston reminded. "It is virtually the cornerstone of our history, our attitudes, our heritage and our pride.

"The Texas cattleman has long been a symbol of independence and self-reliance. The history of Texas is the history of the cowboy. The state's true greatness began when pioneer cowmen licked drought, depredation and disease to build Texas grazing herds beyond local needs and made the great trail drives to northern markets.

"Today Texas is still the beef capital of America. With a cattle population of 8,587,000 this year, it leads the nation. Texas cowmen feel that Texas should lead in beef consumption, too, as well as in beef production. That is their answer to price problems. Not price supports, but 'Eat More Beef' is their watchword. The governor has proclaimed this as Beef Week in Texas, and the Texas Beef Council urges us to eat beef every day.

"It's a good idea, from every standpoint, and a good way to salute the self-reliant cattle industry in Texas."

Cub Scouts Appear On Program Of P-TA

Cub Scouts of Pack 36 led East Elementary Parent-Teacher Association members in singing "America" and the pledge of allegiance to the flag at the PTA meeting yesterday afternoon.

Wayland Holt, county attorney, reviewed the preamble and bill of rights of the constitution of the United States for the members in keeping with the program theme, "We the People Establish Justice."

"Our forefathers did establish justice when they wrote the constitution," Mr. Holt said. "We can protect that justice which has been established by improving the quality of our citizenship. One means of doing this is to exercise our right to vote, and to be correctly and responsibly informed on issues we are to vote for or against."

During the business meeting, Mrs. E. K. Featherston was elected secretary to replace Mrs. Guy Moore who resigned recently.

The sheriff's office and the offices of the justice of peace, and district and county attorneys were the only ones to remain open this morning at the courthouse. Others closed for observance of Armistice Day.

Harmony In Political Parties Could Toughen Voter's Task

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Democrats and Republicans may try to get along like brothers in the next two years — there's been mention of harmony — but it would be too tough on the voters if they acted like twins.

How could the voters decide between them in the 1956 elections if there was nothing but harmony?

The two parties probably won't try to be closer than third cousins: for political reasons, with 1956 in mind, and because of some differences in viewpoint although to many voters the differences may seem neither profound nor sharp.

The voters have shown in the past two elections they're having trouble making a choice.

In the 1952 elections the voters gave the Republicans control of Congress by a margin so thin that, if it was any thinner, the Democrats would have run the show. In 1954 they indicated Democratic control by an edge almost as fragile.

The overwhelming 1952 vote for President Eisenhower can be taken as a personal triumph for him. The amazingly narrow vote for Congress that year showed how the people felt about the two parties.

While it is possible the voters have been too nearsighted to recognize any great differences in the features and performance of the elephant and donkey, it may be that the differences were more apparent than real.

Once they're elected to Congress the Democrats and Republicans sometimes vote along strict party lines. More often than not at voting time on any given issue they break up into factions, with Democrats and Republicans making switches in bunches.

Since both parties have men who consider themselves conservative and others who consider themselves liberal, it is natural at voting time for the think-alikes to vote alike.

But what occurs on the floors of House and Senate at voting time is not, of course, all that happens. The two parties can make a lot of political hay and headlines in the committee hearings, where most of congress' work is threshed out.

And since the party which has a majority controls the committees, it is in the best position for haymaking, particularly in the field of investigations, by deciding what needs looking into and how.

A good example is the Senate's committee which keeps check on government operations and its Investigations subcommittee. In the present Congress, with its Republican majority, Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) is chairman of both committees.

But starting in January, with the Democrats taking over, Sen. McClellan of Arkansas, senior Democrat on those committees, may handle those jobs. Then it would be McClellan, not McCarthy, who would direct what the committee is to investigate.

McCarthy spent the first two years of the Eisenhower administration mainly hunting for Red influences in government. McClellan hasn't specified yet what turn his interest will take on the matter of what's to be probed.

The Democrats will probably use their committees to dig around in other Eisenhower administration performances for the past two years.

The Democrats have a wide field to choose from in asking questions. They will probably want to pin the Republicans down on their claims that they've rooted more than 6,000 security risks out of the government.

Just how many of those risks were Communists or otherwise subversive? Vice President Nixon threw a lot of security risk figures around in the recent campaign. He seemed to irritate the Democrats more than any other Republican campaigner.

Then there is the initial "hard money" policy of the Treasury Department in which Democrats have been showing interest. And they may want to ask questions, particularly, about the State Department's program for getting rid of security risks.

Crime Stories Pop Up Again

BUDAPEST (AP)—Crime stories have reappeared in Hungary's state-owned press. Stories about crimes in this country, that is.

Domestic crime, along with some other standard features of Western newspapers, had been a kind of taboo since the regime of Hungary's No. 1 Communist Matyas Rakosi came to power. The Hungarian was told only about murder in Chicago, rape in West Germany, banditry in Sicily, a stickup in London, etc.

Road accidents, airplane crashes and train collisions also were reported only when they happened in the capitalist West.

Under the government's "new look" policies, the period when the naive reader had to believe there was no crime in Hungary because there was no trace of it in the newspapers seems to be over.

As it did throughout the world, the letdown of morals after the war boosted crime in Hungary. The government's prosecutors met last month to discuss what measures to take.

Big Citrus Crop Is Due

WASHINGTON (AP) — Bumper crops of oranges and grapefruit for Texas were forecast by the Agriculture Department yesterday in a national prediction.

The Department's monthly crop report said the raise in prospective production was due largely to the continued improvement of conditions in Texas since the 1952 freeze in the Rio Grande Valley.

Valencia oranges in Texas, the report said would be about 60 per cent above last season. Total for Texas and Arizona was placed at 1,350,000 boxes.

Although the grapefruit crop was not so bright nationally, the report said the crop in Texas, Arizona and the California desert valleys would be about 8,100,000 boxes compared to only 4,900,000 last year.

Farm scientists say that hogs can be fattened more rapidly if they spend most of their time in the dark.

Needle Fatal Instrument

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A 35-year-old cabinet maker is dead from a darning needle in the heart. How it got there is a mystery the coroner's surgeon calls it "one of the most unusual cases I have seen in thousands of autopsies."

Peter Pivaroff died yesterday in a hospital, several hours after X-rays showed a 2 5-8-inch needle had penetrated his heart between the fourth and fifth ribs.

Dr. Frederick D. Newbarr, chief autopsy surgeon for Los Angeles County, said he found another puncture, "undoubtedly by the same instrument, between the seventh and eighth ribs.

Police said Pivaroff's wife told them her husband had been drinking heavily for the last two weeks. She said he denied to her that he had engaged in a fight and that he died thinking he was the victim of a heart attack.

Police Detective Lt. Fred Laughlin has ordered a microscopic examination of the needle's eye. He said he wanted to determine if the eye had been held by pliers or some other instrument used to stab the needle into Pivaroff's chest.

Mrs. Pivaroff's 10-year-old daughter Diana identified the darning needle as one she had borrowed to sew a Halloween costume. The girl said it had since disappeared.

Lt. Laughlin said that investigation so far has produced no evidence of "responsibility of any person" for Pivaroff's wound. He said he believes the wounds may have been self-inflicted.

France Worrying About Alcoholism

By CARL HARTMAN

PARIS (AP)—The average French working man thinks nothing of putting away a quart of wine at each meal. It costs him only about 70 francs (20 cents).

An active farmer can double that consumption without being considered a drunkard.

But many Frenchmen are stepping over the line. There has been considerable public comment on the increase of "alcoholism."

That's where Premier Pierre Mendes-France is stepping in with a quiet campaign for moderation.

The milk-drinking Premier wants to persuade the French to use less wine, brandy and other alcoholic beverages.

Nothing so drastic as prohibition is in prospect. Anyone who proposed that in France would be laughed out of public life. But the Premier wants to crack down on bootlegging and moonshining and slap some extra taxes on wine to make it more expensive.

Moving at his usual fast pace, Mendes - France announced last night a series of new measures designed to trim the nation's alcohol consumption. Among them are rules barring the sale of spirits between 5 and 10 a.m., limiting the number of bars and home distillers and closing cafes one day a week. Liquor taxes are to be raised 20 per cent.

Some of the new regulations—disclosed following a five-hour cabinet meeting—go into effect immediately. The Premier wanted to get a start on the program before he visits the United States and Canada next week. The majority of his proposals, however, require parliamentary approval.

There has been little public reaction so far to the Premier's plans. One reason is that, although the subject is close to his heart, he has not given it much publicity.

Laws now on the books, but not strictly enforced, include a five-gallon-a-year limitation on home distillers of hard liquor.

Many farmers make a great deal more than the limit. They sell the booze to traders who transport it illegally to the towns. It can be bought for 40 francs (about 11 cents) a shot. This practice has fostered a big bootlegging industry.

Reds Ease Up On Churches

MOSCOW (AP) — Soviet Communist party chiefs told Red propagandists today to continue their tub-thumping for atheism but to stop rough stuff against the churches.

"Insulting attacks against believers and the clergy can only lead to strengthening and even intensification of religious prejudice among the people," declared a decree of the party's Central Committee.

The unexpected order, signed by Party Secretary Nikita S. Khrushchev and published in the official party newspaper Pravda, followed a Soviet press campaign against religion.

The campaign, which began several months ago, apparently got out of hand in some places with local officials resorting to persecution of believers and the clergy.

The new decree does not mean that religion and the churches are to operate as freely in Russia as in the West. But it said it was aimed at protecting the "honest Soviet citizen" who still is "under the influence of all kinds of religious beliefs."

INTERNATIONAL DESIGNERS PATTERN

by PIERRE CLARENCE of FRANCE

The firm of Pierre Clarence in Paris, while not the headline-maker of one of its contemporaries, is nevertheless one that enjoys an enormous popularity with many of the best-dressed and style conscious Parisiennes. The reason for this whole-hearted acceptance is the designing genius behind the label, a young, attractive, vibrant personality—Christiane Francois. All her personal characteristics are reflected in her collections. This two piece, unlined dress is typical of her flair for creating youthful, wearable but always chic clothes. Cleverly cut, the underarm gusset is one with the sleeve. The front plastron effect is top-stitched with free edges. The blouse is put on overhead and has a side zipper closing. Originally shown in gray flannel but just as right in faille, shantung or novelty cotton. This pattern is cut to designer measurements, not standard pattern measurements.

FOOTBALL CAKE
. . . a high-scoring dessert for teen-agers

Helps For Homemakers

Send your questions to "Helps for Homemakers," Snyder Daily News, or call 3-3488.

Easy menu for a teen-age after-the-game party can start with make-your-own sandwiches. Then the youngsters can enjoy a frosted football cake and punch or hot drink.

To make a football cake, bake chocolate or gingerbread batter in a melon mold, greasing the mold well so the cake will come out easily. Cut the cake in half lengthwise; a serrated bread knife will do a good job of this slicing. Fill and frost the cake with this spicy lemon frosting, saving a little of it with which to "lace" the cake. Mix the reserved frosting with a bit of melted chocolate and, using a cake decorator or paper cornucopia, pipe short markings across the top of the cake and one long marking through the short strips, like the lacing on a real football.

SPICY LEMON FROSTING

1 pound (3¾ cups) confectioners' sugar
¼ cup soft butter or margarine
4 tablespoons undiluted frozen concentrate for lemonade
2 egg yolks
1 teaspoon cinnamon
¼ teaspoon nutmeg

Sift the sugar into a large bowl. Add butter, lemonade concentrate, egg yolks, cinnamon and nutmeg. Mix well with electric beater or spoon until blended. Makes enough frosting to fill and frost two 9-inch layer cakes.

The golden color of this punch will remind you of autumn leaves. When the sparkling water is added at the last minute, the drink has real tang.

AUTUMN GOLD PUNCH

3 cans (6 ounces each) frozen lemonade concentrate
2 cups apple juice
1 12-ounce can apricot nectar
2 large bottles (1 pint and 12 ounces each) sparkling water

Mix undiluted lemonade concentrate with apple juice and apricot nectar; chill. Just before serving stir in chilled sparkling water. Pour over ice cubes in tall glasses. Makes about 3 quarts.

Mrs. Jim Young and daughter, Janet, 3706 Austin, spent the week-end in Big Spring with Mrs. Young's brother, Charles Sweeney, and Mrs. Sweeney.

Peter Hurd And Texas Poets Are Discussed At Club Meet

A program on Fine Arts was given by Mrs. Wade Pipkin and Mrs. O. M. Fowler at the Cosmorama Club meeting yesterday afternoon with Mrs. L. J. Browning, 3101 Hill Avenue.

Peter Hurd, the well-known artist, was discussed by Mrs. Pipkin. He was born in Roswell, N. M., in 1904 and spent his boyhood on his father's ranch in that vicinity. In his early years, his ambitions for the future were centered on becoming a rancher or a research scientist but most consistently he wanted to become a soldier. He entered West Point as a consequent of this ambition and the well-ordered, austere regimen of the school was of great benefit to him.

He bought a box of oil colors that contained a booklet on painting. He began to read the book and to paint and it was not long until he realized that painting was of primary interest in his life. After two years at West Point he left the school and was fortunate enough to become associated soon after with the late N. C. Wyeth, the great illustrator and teacher. His influence was immediate and continuous. In 1929, he married Wyeth's daughter, Henriette. Mrs. Pipkin said: "Peter Hurd's ability to capture the play of light and shadow and the expansive sweep of the southwestern landscape have placed his paintings in many private collections and many famous galleries such as the Art Institute of Chicago, Metropolitan Museum of New York, and at Kansas City, San Francisco and El Paso. Fresco painting is the most difficult to execute and he has just completed a fresco mural of 16 panels on the walls of the rotunda at the Texas Tech Museum."

Mrs. Fowler reviewed the works of some of Texas' most outstanding poets. She chose poems whose topics were familiar to West Texans and her first reading, by Whitney Montgomery, was "Booger Red's Last Ride." Other readings she gave were "Cattle" by Berta Hartnance; "Cynthia Ann Parker," a ballad by Whitney Montgomery; "Conchita" by Grace Noll Corwell; "Today I Smile" by Tiny Byrd Powell; "Someone Planted Violets" by poet laureate Mildred Lindsay Raiborn of San Angelo; "Because of You" by Dollie Lee Davis Smith; and Lexie Dean Robertson's poem, "Whippoorwills Sang in the Night." Included in her readings were two of Mrs. Fowler's own compositions, "My Son" and "Goodbye."

A salad plate and spiced punch were served to 28 members and the guest speaker, Mrs. Fowler.

Golden Wedding Is Celebrated

HERMLEIGH — Mr. and Mrs. Walter O. Moore of Austin celebrated their golden wedding anniversary Sunday at an open house in the T. P. Henderson residence in Hermleigh. More than 100 persons attended.

Mr. and Mrs. Moore, long-time residents of Scurry County, were married Nov. 3, 1904, in Snyder. Mrs. Moore is the former Darcus Jane Bowen, the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Y. Bowen. Mr. Moore was engaged in stock farming until his retirement about 10 years ago. He was active in community affairs and served on the Hermleigh school board several years. He was instrumental in securing rural electric facilities here, and was a director of the REA for a number of years.

Mr. and Mrs. Moore moved to Houston in 1945 and to California in 1947. They have lived in Austin since 1950.

Assisting in the reception Sunday were Mrs. Don Moore of Nocona, Mrs. Fred Bowen of Hermleigh, Mrs. Foy Winn of Sundown, Sue Cross of Snyder, Mrs. Don Wemken of Midland and Mrs. Tom Bowen of Sweetwater. Out-of-town guests were from Colorado City, Alvin, Roscoe, Abilene, El Paso, Coahoma, Justiceburg, Post, Plainview, Dallas, Galesburg, Ill., Pomona, Calif., Covina, Calif., and San Diego, Calif.

Studio Schoolhouse Now Has Only One Enrolled

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The MGM schoolhouse, which once rang with shouts of students like Mickey Rooney, Judy Garland, Lana Turner, Elizabeth Taylor and Margaret O'Brien, now shelters but one regular student — a sad-eyed little 8-year-old named Sandra Descher.

Sandra appears to be the only child under contract to the movie studios today, and how she broke into the movies will amaze you.

I learned the story from the girl and her alert mother, Mrs. Audrey Descher. Sandra, who is small for her age and has large brown eyes and long lashes, nibbled on a cottage cheese and pineapple salad while her mother related:

"You may find it hard to believe. Sometimes I do too. You see, ever since Sandy was very young, people have been telling me how witty and bright she is. They said she should be in the movies.

"Well, I didn't think much about it until a couple of years ago. On an impulse, I called Warner Brothers and asked for the casting department. The secretary to one of the casting heads was out, so I was connected directly. I told the woman that I had a child who was very bright and people said she should be in movies. What should I do about it?

"If she had brushed me off, I never would have tried again. But she said, 'Can you be here in half an hour?'

"They were looking for a girl for 'Miracle of Our Lady of Fatima,' but Sandy was obviously too young. When director Michael Curtiz told her so, she started crying. Then he told her that someday she wouldn't be too young, and she smiled again.

"An agent saw her and figured if she could turn it on and off like that, she ought to make an actress. He landed her a role in Walt Disney's Christmas show, and she has been working ever since.

"A funny thing—one day I was in a casting office at RKO, where Sandy did 'The French Line.' The man hung up the phone and said to me, 'What a crazy woman! She just called out of the blue and said she had a talented child who should be in pictures. How could anybody break in the movies that way?'"

Since the Disney debut, Sandy has worked in 11 movies and most of the top TV film shows. After her role in "The Bad and the Beautiful," MGM offered a contract.

She signed with MGM and went into the important role as daughter of Eliabeth Taylor and Van Johnson in "The Last Time I Saw Paris." Then she played the understudy to love goddess Lana Turner in the biblical epic "The Prodigal."

Industry Feels Happier Over Outlook Now

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—Happy talk comes today from the centers of industry as well as from the nation's stock exchanges.

Factories and mills are getting more orders, turning out more orders, turning out more goods, rehiring more workers. Stores are reporting better traffic and higher sales volume.

It's the usual fall pickup, but it makes for happier reading because a year ago the trend was the other way.

The rush of trading on the stock exchanges has been variously described as psychological reaction to the election results and as the belief that a new and soundly based peacetime prosperity is coming up.

The news today from the industrial centers, while just as cheerful, is more seasonal and moderate.

Steel output is now at the highest rate of the year, and no longer is depressingly lower than a year ago. The nation's mills expect to turn out 1,842,000 tons this week. A year ago the output was 2,081,000 tons.

Steelmen say their new orders are coming from wide segments of industry although their biggest pickup is, as expected, from the auto makers.

Factory job totals are rising, also mainly thanks to the auto industry and to the shops that turn out parts and supplies for the car makers.

The rush to turn out 1955 models is under way at most auto plants and production this month and next should be at a high rate.

Some car makers are talking about record output and sales next year. If the public takes to the new models as the producers hope, the flow of dollars in the auto centers will cheer many a merchant.

Store sales are already making seasonal gains in many parts of the country. New York City department stores report sales running 8 per cent ahead of this time last year, and Los Angeles stores report sales 15 per cent higher than the previous week.

Merchants hope that this pre-holiday spurt foreshadows a big Christmas trade.

Rehiring of laid-off workers in many sections is giving trade its best nudge. The Labor Department reports that factory employment, which usually drops between mid-September and mid-October, rose instead this time.

50,000 People Are Taken In By Nation

By RAY KOHN

NEW YORK (AP)—Call it imagination, but the Statue of Liberty today has her chin raised a proud notch and her torch held even higher as she listens to the oath of allegiance fervently voiced by 50,000 new citizens of the United States.

It's our first Veterans Day—formerly Armistice Day — and our first holding of mass naturalization ceremonies, from coast to coast of the "48" and across the Pacific to Hawaii and Guam.

These 50,000 are men and women from many countries. Most are Displaced Persons.

They include a Catholic priest who narrowly escaped execution by the Nazis, a Rabbi who fled from invading Russian and German armies, a Russian seized by the Nazis and thrown into a concentration camp in Poland.

Imagine how "Miss Liberty" must look to them, with what warmth they recall the phrase graven on her statue: "...Give me your tired, your poor, your huddled masses yearning to breathe free."

Some 16,000 new citizens take "the oath" in New York City alone. Their swearing-in occurs in typically American surroundings — baseball's Ebbets Field in Brooklyn and the Polo Grounds in Upper Manhattan.

Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell speaks at both places.

Is it only the over-the-[illegible] tious, the young who want U.S. citizenship?

Take the case of Aron Rimsky. He was born in Odessa, Russia, 74 years ago. The first 43 years of his life he resided in his native land. Then came the Russian revolution.

The mass naturalization ceremonies, originated by the Immigration Service to dramatize the importance of citizenship, cuts batches of red tape to clear up the huge backlog of persons who have been waiting to be naturalized.

Among other cities holding mass citizenship programs are Baltimore; Buffalo, N.Y.; Boston, Philadelphia, Newark, Paterson and Hackensack in New Jersey; Miami, Detroit, Chicago, Seattle, San Francisco, Los Angeles, El Paso, San Antonio, Portland, Maine, and Honolulu.

Court Rules On Two Cases

The supreme court of Texas has issued formal opinions in two cases on appeal from this county, both having been tried in the civil district court here.

In the case of Everett C. Stone vs. Texas Employers Insurance Association, the judgment of the court of civil appeals at Eastland was reversed by the supreme court, and the judgment off the trial court here was affirmed.

In this case, one in which Stone sought compensation for an injury he alleged to have been total and permanent, the trial court found he had been totally disabled 133 weeks and partically and permanently disabled. The maximum comweeks and partially and permandisability is $25 a week for 401 weeks.

He was awarded by the court's verdict $7,133 in addition to $1,750 the association had already paid him. The court of civil appeals reversed the decision here, and the supreme court later reversed the Eastland court's decision. The recent opinion was by Culver, associate justice, with Will Wilson, another associate justice, concurring. A dissenting opinion was by Garwood, associate justice.

The high court refused application for writ of error and declared no reversible error in the case of J. S. Abercrombie and others vs. H. R. Bright and others. This case was tried here in December, 1952, and judgment was withheld about two months and rendered in favor of Bright, plaintiff in the original suit, styled then as H. R. Bright et al vs. J. S. Abercrombie et al, trespass to try title.

The suit involved 6.87 acres of tract 21, section 40, Kirkland & Fields survey, near the underpass of the Lubbock highway about five miles north of here.

The county government was also involved in the suit, having sold a lease to Bright. The suit was first filed July 6, 1950.

Curious Rodents To Be Displayed Here

A curious line-up of rodents from the South Pacific will be on display here Friday and Saturday under sponsorship of the local American Legion post.

The animals were brought here by William Barlow of Newark, N. J., who keeps the rodents in Florida during the winter.

The rodents are black, with yellow stomachs, orange teeth and their throats are lined with white hair. They measure up to three feet in length and weigh up to 15 pounds, which adds up to a fair-sized rat.

The jungle rats became known to American troops who served in the South Pacific during World War II, their native habitat being in the Caroline Islands.

The display truck will be parked at the southwest corner of the square on Friday and Saturday.

Visiting Teacher To Begin Duties Here

Miss Ila Fern Warren of St. Louis is expected to be here Monday to begin work as a member of the Snyder school faculty. She will be the school system's first "visiting teacher."

Miss Warren's duties will include visiting homes of students who have problems with their work in school. She has a master degree in physchological social service from Chicago University. She has about 15 years experience and has been working in St. Louis.

Miss Warren is, at least at present, to be paid by the state health department, which asked the school system to employe such a teacher. The department is to determine the value to the state of encouraging school systems in this type work.

New Building Flooded As Water Main Breaks

DALLAS (AP)—The new 40-story Republic National Bank building here, plagued by 10 fires and a half-million dollars in damage durings its construction, had five floors flooded today.

Firemen were called to the big aluminum-sided structure about 9:30 p.m. last night when a water main broke between the 17th and 16th floors of the structure.

The firemen said thousands of gallons of water flooded plush offices already opened in the building and stood shoe-top deep on the thick carpets.

The building was set for formal opening on Dec. 1.

Four Snyder Youths To Take AF Training

Four Snyder youths who completed Air Force physican examinations in Abilene Monday were flown to San Francisco Calif., yesterday to begin basic training.

Included in the group are Boyd McDaniel, the son of Mr. and Mrs. B. L. McDaniel, 2412 Twenty-eighth Street; Jackie McDaniel, the son of Mr. and Mrs. James McDaniel; Billy Tarleton, the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Tarleton, and Walter (PeeWee) Guynes, the son of Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Guynes. James Thompson, Jr., of Haskell also entered training with the Snyder group.

Girls Welcome Panty Raiders

DENTON, Tex. (AP)—More than 250 boys swarmed around a girls' dormitory at North Texas State College last night in what police described as a "panty raid which suited the girls fine."

Denton Police Sgt. A. B. Harbet said the disturbance, apparently a spur-of-the-moment affair, required two police squads to break it up but was "nothing like the one we had up here a couple of years ago."

Harbet said the youths started gathering in front of the music hall at NTSC about 11 p.m., then moved to Kendall Hall, a dormitory housing both freshmen and upperclass women students.

Police were summoned by the housemother, but "the boys had already gotten some underwear" when the officers arrived, Harbet reported.

"They were milling around, a lot of them hiding in the back of the dorm when our men got there," Harbet said. One youth, a Dallas student visiting the campus, was arrested and charged with window-peeping. Others scattered without being caught.

As for the girls, Harbet said, "it suited them fine. They were hollering and throwing panties out the window and having a fine time."

Texas Support Asked For Storage Project

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—Rep. Dawson (R-Utah) has asked Texas and California to support the proposed billion-dollar Upper Colorado River Storage Project. Dawson spoke here yesterday before the National Reclamation Assn.

The congressman said that when the House Interior Committee last summer approved the bill authorizing the project it was opposed by two representatives each from Texas and California.

He said such opponents "spread misleading propaganda such as the ridiculous statement it will cost $2,700 an acre to irrigate the land in the Upper Colorado states."

Dawson said he hoped the association could do something about Texas and California opposition. Utah, New Mexico, Colorado and Wyoming would be aided by the project, he said.

The Philippines provide about 975,000 tons of sugar to the United States each year.

Contrary to popular belief, most bats can see well in bright light.

Big Crowd Will See Tigers Meet Bucks In Last 3A-1 Year

The prospective crowd for tomorrow night's Snyder - Breckenridge game is looming larger every day, and it may even increase more than expected now that Breck has been released from the district effective at the end of this school year.

Art Nicholas, school business administrator, announced this morning that more than 1,000 temporary seats will be placed in the Snyder stadium for the game, somewhat relieving the situation. Yesterday general admission tickets were being sold with the understanding that there would be standing room only left in the stadium. With the addition of these seats, at least 1,000 of those buying those tickets will be able to sit at the game.

Nicholas reminded residents this morning that they can save themselves trouble by purchasing the general admission tickets either at the school administration building or at the office of Forrest Beavers in the courthouse before noon tomorrow. That would save their standing in line for tickets at the gate. No more reserved seats are available, since they were sold quickly, earlier this week.

It now appears that the crowd at the game may exceed 6,000 persons.

Breckenridge has had more following of fans this season than has any other school in the district, and more than usual may be on hand for the remainder of this season, to see the Buckaroos in their last games in this district.

The school yesterday failed to gain re-admission to District 3A-1. On motion of Vernon's superintendent, Dr. John McFarland, seconded by W. C. Blankenship of Big Spring, the group voted on admission of Breckenridge. The vote was four for, three against. Dr. Cecil Yarbrough, Snyder superintendent, had spoken for Breckenridge. Lubbock's Nat Williams did not vote. That left only Levelland, Lamesa, Plainview, and Sweetwater. Sweetwater has long been a supporter of Breck. Levelland superintendent O. W. Marcum told the group his school would be forced to try to keep the district down to eight teams.

The district committee, upon motion of Yarbrough and second of Marcum, expressed its appreciation for the Breckenridge school's teamwork, cooperation, and sportsmanship during its stay in this district.

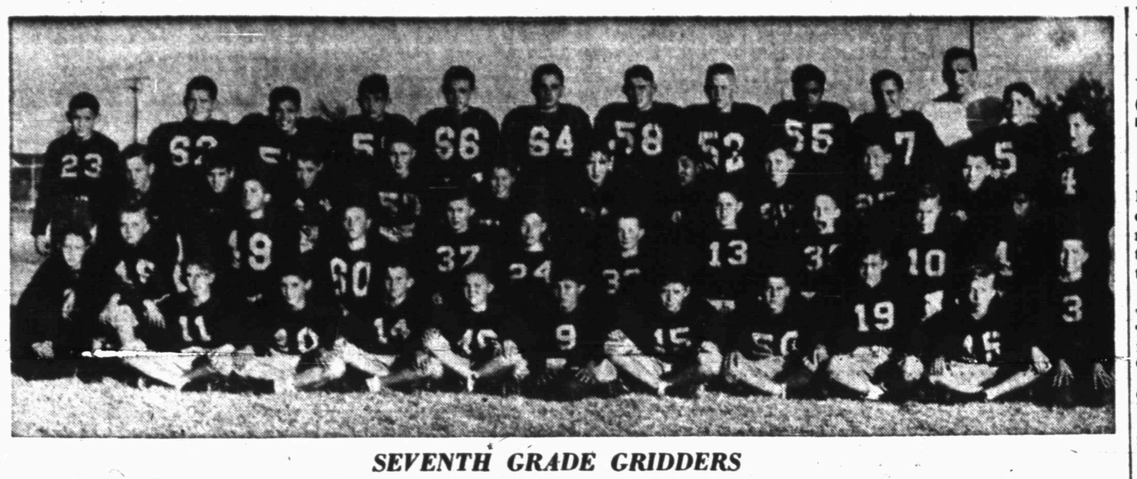

John Culwell, superintendent of the Breck schools, said plans are not yet definite but that the school will probably seek re-admission to District 3A-2, the one to which it previously belonged but was refused admission two years ago. That was when this district accepted Breckenridge.

Breckenridge must apply for admission to a Class AAA district each year. Its average daily attendance now stands at 416, which is large enough to gain acceptance with permission but smaller than the 550 needed for automatic designation as a Class AAA school. Breck's football team is a consistent winner. It is now leading this district, and last year it tied for the district championship. During two years in District 3A-2, it won the state championship.

Yarbrough and head coach John Conley of Snyder both expressed their desire for scheduling Breckenridge next year in a non-district game. Culwell said such was favorable to his school but that it must wait until it knows its future plans.

Conley this week has been drilling the Snyder Tigers hard for the coming game, in which the Tigers will try for the upset of the season.

Kickoff time Friday night will be 8 o'clock.

Fans Will Find Out About Razorbacks

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK (AP) — Football fans the nation over are wondering how good the Arkansas Razorbacks really are as the surprise team of the Southwest Conference prepares to go after its eighth straight victory against SMU Saturday.

"On Saturday in Little Rock," Cronley hauls off, "rags-to-riches Arkansas and its flinty defense plus a surprisingly versatile and beefed-up ground-air attack would have been the equal if not the master of the four other members of the nation's present big five.

"On this particular afternoon Bowden Wyatt had his 'pore little Porks' so intent on victory over Rice that it was impossible for them to settle for anything else. They would have given UCLA, Ohio State, Oklahoma and Notre Dame all that these other giants of the U. S. gridiron could cope with.

"Now just a darn minute. How would the Razorbacks stack up with the Oklahoma Sooners if the teams were to meet tomorrow? Well sir, I've seen the Sooners against California, Texas, Texas Christian and Colorado, to name the toughest foes so far in 1954. In their 13-point hammering of favored Rice the Arkansawyers were superior to any of those aforementioned foes of OU.

"They had class in their running and passing game and well mapped 6-2-3 defensive alignment which supplied the secondary with quick recovery facilities whenever All America candidate Dick Moegle slipped through, thus keeping the speedster from making a single long touchdown dash.

"This sophomoric gang had the poise of an all-senior team playing in some bowl, and above all it had both the courage and the tools to win it like a champion, by charging from behind in the last quarter and beating off the best the Owls had to offer during their desperation bids.

"Who can say which would prevail (each at its best), Oklahoma and its smooth split-T and two-line punch, or Arkansas with a powerful defense of its own and the finest functioning single-wing attack in America with the exception of UCLA. With both the Porks and Big Red right it would be a whale of a spin-the-coin contest, one which would be worth hitchhiking several hundred miles to see."

Many Titles To Be Taken Friday Night

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Writer

District championships will fall like autumn leaves throughout the far-flung reaches of the Texas Interscholastic League football campaign this week with probably half of the 80 titles to have been determined when the firing ceases in a crucial schedule.

At least two districts may have champions Friday night as Waco meets Wichita Falls and Galveston clashes with Galena Park.

Waco can grab the Dist. 5 title if it wins, but Wichita Falls, while taking the lead, would have more games to play before it could clinch the honor. Galveston can sew up District 8 with a decision over twice-beaten Galena Park.

One title is in the balance in Class AAA with Palestine able to take Dist. 5 if it licks McCallum at Austin Saturday.

Championships will be decided all along the line in Classes AA and A.

Class AA already has three champions — Littlefield, Dist. 6, Sulphur Springs, Dist. 14, and Waxahachie, Dist. 19.

Class A has five — Jefferson, Dist. 14; Grapeland, Dist. 18; Goesbeck, Dist. 21; Sealy, Dist. 25, and Deer Park, Dist. 26.

Feature games of the state match four of the undefeated, untied teams. In Class AA Canyon plays Phillips for the Dist. 1 title while in Class A Lefors tackles McLean for the Dist. 1 championships. These four teams are members of the state's list of 26 undefeated untied teams.

The teams with perfect records are likely to be trimmed to about 20 with this week's schedule, but there are two that won't fall since they have open dates. They are Gonzales in Class AA and Deer Park in Class A.

11 Horses Enter Exterminator Race

BALTIMORE (AP)—Eleven horses, including Stanley Mikell's Brush Burn, are scheduled to start Thursday in the Exterminator Handicap which Pimlico has revived as a turf race.

The Exterminator, originated in 1940 as a dirt race, was named for the 1918 Kentucky Derby winner. It was omitted from last year's Pimlico program, but returns this year as a $10,000 added event to become the track's first big turf event.

Brush Burn, 5-year-old gelding which finished third in Laurel's Washington, D. C. International last week, will carry top weight of 124 pounds in the mile and a half handicap.

Cash Cinches Two Depts. In Statistics

By The Associated Press

Norman Cash, the Sul Ross one-man gang, has wrapped up two individual championships in the Lone Star Conference football campaign with three games still to be played.

Cash is so far ahead in rushnig and total offense it's a virtual impossibility for him to be caught.

Cash has gained 889 yards for a 6.8 average in ball-carrying and that's 211 yards better than second place Bob Baldwin of Sam Houston State. He has made 978 yards in total offense for exactly 300 more than Baldwin, who gained all his way by rushing. Cash got 89 on passes.

Baldwin, however, is the scoring leader with 62 points while Cash has 54.

Allen Boren of Sam Houston State leads the passers with 664 yards, which is 201 better than Bob McBride of Southwest Texas State. Boren has completed 42 of 103.

Raymond Meyer of Lamar Tech is the top punter with an average of 9.7 on 17 kicks—just .4 of a yard better than Bailey Marshall of Stephen F. Austin.

Sam Houston State is the leader in team offense, averaging 379.3 yards per game. Texas A&I tops in defense, giving up only 233.5.

The Toronto Maple Leafs have the youngest team in the National Hockey League. Their average age is 24.5 years.

Ohio State, Oklahoma, Army, Arkansas Picked This Week

By HAROLD CLAASSEN

NEW YORK (AP) — Some semblance of sanity is returning to the college football scene. Probably by the end of the season it will seep down low enough to engulf the forecasters.

Last weekend's gridiron workouts resulted in 39 correct picks and 12 mistakes for a .765 average. The season's totals now are 721 correct and 111 incorrect for .709.

This week's selections:

Ohio State over Purdue: The Ohioans know that if they win this one they become a lead-pipe cinch to represent the Big Ten in the Rose Bowl. That will give them the needed incentive.

Oklahoma over Missouri: The Oklahomans continue on their merry Big Seven way—not a conference defeat in eight years. Missouri is crippled for the game that means so much for the Tigers' Orange Bowl chances.

Arkansas over Southern Methodist: Arkansas simply is too stubborn to lose.

Notre Dame over North Carolina: Notre Dame has won its last two games from North Carolina by 34-14 scores. This one should be decided by about the same margin.

Army over Penn: Navy took the Quakers 52-6 and Army will try to do it as well.

Southern California over Washington: Southern California's backfield trio of Arnett, Dandoy and Crow getting almost as famous as Tinkers, Evers and Chance.

The others without comment:

EAST: Navy over Columbia, Boston University over Boston College, Cornell over Dartmouth, Delaware over Lafayette, Holly Cross over Fordham, Brown over Harvard, Penn State over Rutgers, Colgate over Syracuse, Yale over Princeton, Temple over Scranton.

MIDWEST: Minnesota over Iowa, Wisconsin over Illinois, Cincinnati over Wichita, Kansas State over Iowa State, Michigan State over Michigan, Nebraska over Pittsburgh, Indiana over Northwestern, Oklahoma A&M over Kansas.

SOUTH: Mississippi over Houston, West Virginia over William and Mary, Florida State over Furman, Georgia Tech over Alabama, Kentucky over Memphis State, Louisiana State over Mississippi State, Maryland over Clemson, Mississippi Southern over Villanova, Richmond over North Carolina State, Davidson over Wofford, South Carolina over Virginia, Tennessee over Florida, Vanderbilt over Tulane, Virginia Military over the Citadel, Duke over Wake Forest, Virginia Tech over Waynesburg, Auburn over Georgia.

SOUTHWEST: Rice over Texas A&M, Texas Christian over Texas, Texas Tech over Tulsa.

FAR WEST: Oregon over Washington State, College of Pacific over Marquette, Stanford over San Jose State, Colorado over Utah, Colorado A&M over New Mexico, Montana over Montana State, California over Oregon State, Wyoming over Brigham Young, Arizona over North Texas State.

Kimbrough To Get Hall Of Fame Honors

COLLEGE STATION (AP) —John Kimbrough, All-America fullback of Texas A&M in 1939 and 1940, will be inducted into the collegiate football Hall of Fame here Saturday.

The ceremony will be between halves of the Rice - A&M game with Homer Norton, who coached Kimbrough, making the presentation.

Prarie View And Southern Still Leading

By The Associated Press

Prairie View and Southern of Baton Rouge lead the Southwestern Colored Conference football race with the championship likely to be decided Nov. 27 when these two teams clash at Prairie View.

Southern smashed Bishop 77-0 while Prairie View was downing Texas College 19-6 last week to remain undefeated in four conference games apiece.

In season play Southern is undefeated in seven games. Prairie View has a 6-1 record.

Texas Southern threw a scare into Tennessee A&I in an intersectional game of national interest at Houston last week. A&I won 18-15 and maintained its rating as No. 1 Negro college team of the nation.

Langston of Oklahoma retained a mathematical chance at the conference title by beating Wiley 7-0. Langston has a 3-1 record.

Saturday Texas College plays Bishop at Marshall in the cellar fight while Wiley goes to Baton Rouge to engage Southern. Arkansas AM&N plays Langston at Langston, Okla., Texas Southern plays Alcorn at Alcorn, Miss., and Prairie View meets Grambling at Grambling, La.

Rematch May Result From Close Fight

CHICAGO (AP) — The close decision of middleweight Al Andrews, a 7-5 underdog, over Chico Varona in Chicago Stadium last night has opened the way for a rematch, probably Dec. 22 in Detroit.

The International Boxing Club is working on the projected date and this time the national television audience will be let in on the fun.

Andrews, a rugged mauler from Superior, Wis., who six weeks ago knocked out Gil Turner, finished strongly to tain the edge over his clever, hard-hitting Cuban foe in a free-swinging scrap.

Andrews outweighed Varona 156½ to 152.

In another scheduled 10-rounder, Bob Satterfield, 182, Chicago, knocked out townsman Johnny Holman, 204, in 1:16 of the first round with a left hook to the chin.

Thursday was a day of new faces in the starting lineups of Southwest Conference football teams, as next year's players were moved up to gain experience and fill the gaps left by early-season action.

Every school in the conference except Baylor and Arkansas reported either definite or possible changes in the starting lineups for their next games at the close of long, hard workouts Wednesday.

University of Texas Coach Ed Price kept up the switches in Longhorn manpower that started two weeks ago, putting defensive end Paul Parkinson in on offense to share duties with Menan Schriewer and keeping Glen Dyer dividing time with Charley Brewer — the early-season regular — at quarterback.

Junior Stanley Bull was moved into the starting fullback's post at Texas Christian as the Horned Frogs went through a drill emphasizing defensive assignments against Texas.

Horned Frog Coach Abe Martin said more changes might be forthcoming for the Saturday clash here, including the moving of Bill Alexander to the first string right guard spot in place of Bill Yung.

Texas A&M may pick up a new starting fullback for its game with Rice, Coach Bear Bryant said after watching a scrimmage between the second and third teams. Bryant praised the work of Bob Easley — a third-stringer until now — and said Easley's play showed he "wanted to play ball."

The Aggies meet Rice Saturday at College Station.

Southern Methodist was readying anywhere from one to four new starters for the conference feature this weekend — The Mustang-Arkansas clash at Fayetteville. With halfback Don McIlhenny out for two weeks and fullback Hal O'Brien and ends Ray Berry and Doyle Nix on the sidelines with sprained ankles that may slow them against Arkansas, Coach Chalmer Woodard had a player juggling operation in prospect.

The Mustang starters worked on defense Wednesday against an Arkansas-style single wing offense.

Rice Coach Jess Neely said his second team might become the first squad if the present starters didn't show more promise working against an A&M-type Split T attack. Sophomores Phil Harris and Homer Borgstedte led the Owl reserves with considerable success while running A&M plays.

A long defensive drill occupied Arkansas as the Razorbacks prepared to meet SMU. Coach Bowden Wyatt worked the Porkers hard against both passing and running plays.

While the players toiled on the practice field, workmen moved more than 5,000 extra seats into Razorback Stadium for the game in which Arkansas will try for a clear-cut championship with a victory but would probably settle for a tie and a trip to the Cotton Bowl.

Baylor had a long scrimmage scheduled Thursday, following a hard and tough one Wednesday in which L. G. Dupre, Allen Jones and Reuben Saage all rolled up long gains against freshmen using an SMU-style defense. The Bears meet the Mustangs Nov. 20 at Dallas in their next game.

By DALE WALTON

Here goes again on guessing at games in this crazy football season, when underdog teams rise up and beat the great ones and then get beat by underdogs the following week.

Some of us are picking what would be known as the underdog in the Snyder-Breckenridge game, expressing hope that such will happen in that game. The Breck team, however, will be trying to score as many points as possible in this district before it pulls out to join another.

Guest picker this week is newly-elected constable Jack Craft. Just before him was head coach John Conley, who hit above average. Average now for the eight pickers through the season is 63.2 per cent, with 941 of 1,488 combined picks right.

Individual averages for the season are: McNair and Walton, 66.6 per cent, guests and Feather 65.5, Eckstadt 65, Pope 61.8, Watson 57.5, and Gregg 56.9.

* * *

We hated to see Breckenridge dropped from District 3A-1 yesterday, but there was little to be done about it. It takes only one vote to keep the school out of the district, and there were three against Breck.

While talks were made in support of Breckenridge, including a fine one by Dr. Cecil Yarbrough of Snyder, talking probably would not have done any good in case of one or two of the schools, since the superintendents may have come here with committals to their school boards and couldn't change their minds.

The Buckies have been kicked around from one district to another. One of the main reasons for Breck's being dropped from this district, at least the only one given, was expressed by the Levelland superintendent, O. W. Marcum. He said his school did not feel it could stand up to an eight-game district schedule, which would have been necessary had Breck been retained in the district. That points out clearly the need for re-districting in the state. While some districts have eight or nine teams, others have six. Why should there be such an unequal number? We could have understood the Texas Interscholastic League's placing Breck in a district to the east, had it re-districted and done so.

Turkey Shoot Set By Canyon Riflers

The Canyon Rifle Club has scheduled a turkey shoot for Nov. 21, the Sunday preceding Thanksgiving.

The shoot will be held at the club's rifle range two miles east of the Snyder Cemetery. There will be rifle and shotgun shooting, starting at 1:30 o'clock that afternoon.

Club members have invited all persons interested to attend its meeting at 7:30 o'clock Monday night in the Manhattan Coffee Shop. Hunting films will be shown at the meeting.

AAA Leaders Go Unchanged During Week

DALLAS (AP)—Nacogdoches replaced No. 10 Pharr-San Juan-Alamo, and other teams were shuffled a bit this week as Texas sportswriters voted for the top 10 teams in Class AAA schoolboy football.

Nacogdoches took 10th. Pharr skidded to 15th and Big Spring dropped to 7th in the poll published by the Dallas Morning News.

Leaders stayed the same, with Lufkin first, Breckenridge second and Port Neches third.

The top 10: (won and lost records in parentheses)

1. Lufkin (7-0)
2. Breckenridge (6-0-1)
3. Port Neches (7-1)
4. Garland (7-0)
5. McAllen (7-0-1)
6. Palestine (6-1-1)
7. Big Spring (61-1)
8. Texarkana (52)
9. Vernon (5-2-1)
10. Nacogdoches (

In the second ten are Austin McCallum (7-1); Sherman (5-2); Alice (7-1-1); Snyder (4-3); Pharr-San Juan-Alamo (61); Kilgore (43); Cleburne (4-2-2); Levelland (41-2); Harlingen (4-3); San Antonio Alamo Heights (53).

GETTING UNSTUCK..

Mud-caked and weary, this saddle horse was rescued at Paris, Ky., after spending a night in an abandoned well into which it accidentally fell. Owner Ed Shrout found the animal in the well when he went to feed it. After a warm bath the horse trotted away, none the worse for the mishap.

June Report On Cigarettes Not Limited To Cancer Alone

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—One of the most sensational reports of danger in cigarettes came last June with announcement of findings in the American Cancer Society's big statistical study.

Oddly, many people apparently missed one of its most significant findings—its evidence that cigarette smoking stepped up the risk of heart attacks. This aspect, new to most people, could have been overlooked in concern over cancer.

In main essence, this study found:

Men, aged 50 to 70, who smoke a pack of cigarettes or more daily run about twice the risk of heart disease and cancer as nonsmokers. Smokers run more risk not only of lung cancer, but other forms of cancer. Heavy cigarette smoking might cut an average of seven years from the life span.

This study, headed by Doctors E. Cuyler Hammond and Daniel Horn, attracted attention because it was based upon interviews with some 180,000 men about their smoking habits, then checks to learn what they died of later.

Said Dr. Hammond, who switched from chain-smoking cigarettes to a pipe:

The effect found on the heart is much more important than the effect found in lung cancer, because heart disease is so much more frequently a killer than lung cancer.

Again, there are many medical men who do not agree with Hammond that cigarettes play any great role in contributing to heart attacks.

It has long been known that smoking can make tiny blood vessels narrow down, kick up pulse rate and blood pressure. Nicotine is usually blamed for this.

In some diseases, particularly Buerger's disease—a plugging of blood vessels in the extremities—smoking is banned as a measure to save life or avoid amputations.

Publication of the Hammond-Horn results sent tobacco stocks tumbling. But they recovered just as they had from previous drops caused by research reports.

Apparently the announcements of cigarette-danger studies have knocked consumption down to some degree, and have been an impetus for greater sales of filter cigarettes.

They have persuaded some people to stop smoking, at least temporarily. A number have switched to cigars or pipes, since the cancer society study has so far at least found little risk in them.

On the other hand, a few surveys or observations do not find pipes and cigars as free of indicated hazard as the cancer society study does.

Clearly, one effect is that most Americans are aware of the questioning over cigarettes. New bits of news, pro or con, are coming regularly.

A month ago, the Public Health Cancer Assn., a small organization of cancer specialists in public health responsibilities, by a 13-3 vote adopted a resolution advising the public to stop smoking as a way to reduce lung cancer deaths, and suggesting that youths ponder whether the risks in smoking were worth the pleasure.

Some authorities now term cigarettes "a major factor in causing" lung cancer. The New England Journal of Medicine has said editorially that the evidence amounts to "proof within the ordinary meaning of the word."

But other authorities—physicians and scientists—say a link is by no means proved.

The American Medical Assn. has not yet made any editorial pronouncement, nor has its House of Delegates passed any resolution.

Life insurance companies have not raised their rates for smokers.

It would be simple to build a seemingly convincing case by taking just the findings by various qualified investigators or experienced men who have had something to say which could be interpreted as pro or con.

For example, one American statistician has figured that men who are now 40 or older and smoke heavily have 5 to 15 times more chance of getting lung cancer by age 80 than nonsmokers. But an English statistician wonders why the British cancer death rate is apparently double that of the United States, although he says the British smoke 30 per cent fewer cigarettes per capita than Americans.

To what they have heard or learned so far, many American smokers respond with a shrug. Some don't believe the accusative evidence. Others apparently feel that if there is a risk, well, there is a risk in everything, even crossing the street, and the risk is well worth the candle because of their enjoyment from smoking.

Others say they think they should stop smoking, and some wonder how best to do it?

On this score, a New York psychiatrist, Dr. Howard N. Cooper, can offer some tips.

1. If you tell yourself that "tomorrow" you will stop smoking, you'll find tomorrow rarely comes.

2. If you quit until some future date, like Jan. 1, you'll probably find that the desire to smoke flares up on that very day, regardless of how well you had been doing until then.

3. If you just cut down, you'll probably think about cigarettes far more, and this usually leads to smoking as much as ever.

4. If you really want to quit, quit forever and completely. Or quit completely "just for today," but do the same thing tomorrow, which is again a "today." You build up an investment, like an alcoholic who is just not drinking today, and enough todays can add up to years or a lifetime.

Smoking, he says, is a habit not an addiction, and it involves psychological satisfactions far more than physical satisfactions. People smoke partly because they feel some emotional need for reassurance.

The greater a person's tensions in life or competition are, the less chance he has of stopping smoking, Dr. Cooper says. Judicious use of crutches can help—like pipes or chewing gum or candy or more attention to an enjoyment of meals—but there can be hazards in them too.

If people didn't smoke, he says, "we might well have a nation of more alcoholics, more fat people who eat too much, more gum-chewers, more nail-biters, more people who simply talk too much."

Woman To Be Told Of Husband's Recent Death

DETROIT (AP)—Probably they'll tell Mrs. Maria Vrattos about it today.

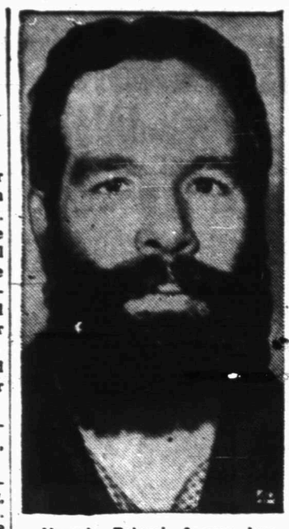

She arrived here yesterday from the Grecian island of Rhodes, where she had waited seven years for her husband Sam, 36, to make enough money as a $35-a-week dishwasher to bring her and their 9-year-old son to America.

In her pocket was Sam's last letter, telling how he had finally saved enough money through hard work and living in squalor.

Sam wasn't there to meet his 38-year-old wife. He died Oct. 20 of carbon monoxide poisoning when a faulty furnace flue flooded his tiny room with gas fumes.

Mary's brother, Nick Halkias, of Algonac, Mich., said he just couldn't tell her yesterday.

Estranged Husband Shoots Wife, Self After Suit Is Filed

SAVANAH, Tenn. (AP) — Pretty Betty Ann Brannon, 15-year-old bride of a year, yesterday filed suit for a divorce from her 19-year-old husband R. C. Brannon.

As Betty and her mother sat talking last night, Brannon walked into their room. He was carrying a .22 rifle.

He tossed some papers into Betty's lap, papers saying she had filed for divorce charging cruel treatment.

"This is a mess of lies you told on me," he said.

"You don't scare me," Betty replied.

He fired one shot into Betty's head and fled.

Policemen found him about 200 yards from the house — a single shot through his head.

Sheriff Edgar Doran ruled it murder and suicide.

Parades, Speeches Set In Some Cities

By The Associated Press

Many cities of Texas joined with the nation Thursday in observing Veterans Day—a tribute to both the living and dead of nine wars.

There were military parades, political speeches and the traditional minute of silence at 11 a.m. But it was in honor of all U.S. war veterans, not just World War I dead.

Two nationally-known speakers headed the state's observances.

In Fort Worth, Secretary of the Army Stevens spoke at a veterans day luncheon sponsored by the Downtown Kiwanis Club of Fort Worth. The secretary and Lt. Gen. I. D. White, 4th Army commander, also were to review a downtown parade and dedicate a new National Guard armory.

In McKinney, Rep. Sam Rayburn, who will be House Speaker in the new Congress, was the main speaker at a veterans homecoming celebration. there was a parade with veterans organizations from Greenville, Sherman, Forney, Terrell, Plano, Prosper, Frisco, Princeton, Wylie, Allen and Farmersville taking part along with McKinney veterans groups.

At Beaumont, there was to be a parade of area bands and military units Thursday morning followed by naturalization proceedings for 60 aliens in U.S. district court. An Air Force jet bomber will take part in a demonstration of aerial refueling during the parade.

School children in Houston were dismissed in time for a mid-afternoon parade. Banks, federal and county offices were closed but most business firms will remain open.

San Antonio planned a 4½ mile parade Thursday morning followed by an afternoon ceremony at which about 356 aliens will become citizens. Most city, county and federal offices were closed and the schools had a holiday. Four San Antonio men who have won the Medal of Honor were honor guests. They are T-Sgt. Cleto Rodriguez, Brooks Air Force Base; Col. Seth L. L. Weld, retired; Lucian Adams, and Will G. Harrell.

In Dallas there was a downtown parade of military, veterans' and patriotic organizations. At 11 a.m. there was to be a moment of silence followed by Marine Corps buglers blowing taps from the top of a downtown skyscraper, and three volleys fired by a rifle squad.

Scientists are puzzled by the fact that the U.S. infant mortality rate is one of the lowest in the world but that among people above the age of 10, U.S. death rates are higher than those in a number of other countries.

Belgian Families Honor 7th Child

By HAL BOYLE

BRUSSELS (AP)—The poor man's Baedker to Belgium:

There is no law about it, but by custom the seventh child in every Belgian family is the godchild of the King.

However, a mother doesn't have to raise that large a family to start getting something from the government. She gets an allowance equivalent to $6.30 a month for her first child. The figure gradually rises until the payment reaches a peak of $13.90 monthly for her fifth child, and any thereafter.

There are also small birth and death allowances, and a nonworking mother also gets an allowance from the government to stay home and raise her kids.

These family bonuses increase the birth rate in rural more than in industrial areas, however. The clear bracing air in rural zones is regarded by some authorities as even more important to the birth rate than government bounties.

Belgium's 8,725,000 people have three different national tongues — Flemish, French and German. Some 3,039,315 in 1950 spoke French only, 3,473,291 Dutch only, 49,033 German only.

It was also discovered that 334,206 inhabitants couldn't speak any of the three languages. It turned out most of them had a reasonable excuse—they were still under 2 years of age.

Belgium produces no romantic films, does go in heavily for serious home-produced documentary movies. But cinema fans here like American stars, and currently Jane Russell is ahead of Marilyn Monroe by a wide margin . . . Television is state controlled here, and separate networks are provided for the Flemish and French-speaking populaces. Two hours of TV are scheduled for the kids each Thursday afternoon (children get an afternoon off every week), but so far Hopalong Cassidy hasn't invaded the frontier. . . . So far there are only an estimated 40,000 TV sets in the nation, and most of them are in cafes . . . Here as in America the thoughtful bartender is in the forefront of any move that will help bring culture to his customers.

Kennedy Doing Well Following Operation

HYANNISPORT, Mass. (AP)—Joseph P. Kennedy, former ambassador to Britain, says that contrary to "disturbing rumors" his son, Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass), is doing well after a recent operation.

He said "unfounded" rumors imply that his son's condition "is such that he will be unable to resume his seat in the Senate. Such reports are not in accordance with the facts."

The Hospital for Special Surgery, New York, where Kennedy underwent surgery for a spinal condition, described his condition as "very satisfactory."

Season For 'Apple-A-Day' Arrives In Many Varieties

The name Jonathan Chapman doesn't ring a bell to most people, but refer to him by his favorite name, Johnny Appleseed, and immediately you can picture a friendly, slender fellow carrying large sacks of appleseeds and much good will wherever he wandered during his fifty year crusade of tree planting.

Johnny didn't get as far as the state of Washington in his journeys, so it was up to a sea captain from London to take seeds to the far Northwest in the early 1800's. One of the trees he planted still bears fruit, and the rest have produced generations of trees that now account for one-third of the apple production in the United States.

This is the great apple season of the year. During the fall months practically all of the dozen major varieties grown in the United States reach harvest time, and it is the best and most economical time of year for the slogan "an apple a day" to come true.

Apples retain their crispness and flavor when stored in the refrigerator at cool but not freezing temperatures. Also, apples should be purchased by variety name, for the use of the varieties is different. For eating and for use in fresh salads apples which are crisp, juicy and tender skinned are best. For cooking it is essential to select an apple which has a firm, fine-grained meat and will hold its texture under the cooking processes.

The description and use of the leading apple varieties being marketed now are given below:

BALDWIN: partially red to dull solid red; juicy, hard, crisp. Fresh eating and general cooking.

DELICIOUS AND RED DELICIOUS: Tender, fine grained, crisp, juicy. The Delicious has red stripes on red. The Red Delicious is a deep, glowing red. Both these varieties are broadshouldered and taper to five rounded points at the blossom end. Most popular apple for eating out of hand and for salads.

GOLDEN DELICIOUS: Bright yellow, with tiny green specks. Crisp, tender, fragrant, aromatic flavor. Fresh eating, salads and general cooking.

GRIMES GOLDEN: Yellow with small dark specks. Moderately juicy, slightly tart. Fresh eating and general cooking.

JONATHAN: Brilliant red; crackling crisp, very juicy, tangy flavor. All purpose.

McINTOSH: Bright deep red. Juicy, firm, tender. Fresh eating and general cooking.

NORTHERN SPY: Bright, striped red. Juicy, firm, tender. Fresh eating and general cooking.

ROME BEAUTY: Yellow or green, mottled with red, carmine striped. Fine-grained, aromatic flavor. King of the bakers.

STAYMAN: Dull striped red. Juicy, firm, crisp. Fresh eating and general cooking.

YORK IMPERIAL: Purplish red over yellow. Lopsided shape, usually. Hard, crisp. Fresh eating and general cooking.

It probably won't surprise you to know that the most popular pie in the United States is apple pie. In fact, it is our noblest culinary institution. The home-baked apple pie which we enjoy today is essentially the same pie that American housewives baked 300 years ago. Except for the addition fo a little lemon peel, lemon juice and nutmeg, the recipe has not changed.

TRADITIONAL APPLE PIE
Pastry for 2-crust pie
⅔ cup sugar
½ teaspoon cinnamon
¼ teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons flour
2½ cups sliced apples
2 tablespoons butter

Roll out slightly more than half of pastry on floured pastry cloth or board to circle one inch larger than inverted pie pan. Fit loosely into 8-inch pie pan, 1½ inches deep. Remaining pastry for top crust may be chilled while preparing filling. Combine sugar, cinnamon, salt and flour. Arrange apples in layers in pie pan, sprinkling cinnamon sugar mixture over each layer. Dot with butter. Roll out remaining pastry. Cut generous slits for escape of steam. Moisten edge of bottom crust. Place top crust over apples; fold edge under bottom crust. Seal well and flute. Brush crust with top milk or egg white. Sprinkle with sugar if desired. To avoid bubbling over of juice during baking, place drinking straws in slits in top crust. Bake in hot oven (425 degrees F.) 30 to 35 minutes. Serve warm or cold.

Some like their apple pie with whipped cream, others with a scoop of ice cream. Most pie eaters, however, prefer cheese, for, as the old English rhyme says, "An apple pie without the cheese is like a kiss without the squeeze."

If you like crumbly toppings and want your cheese baked right in with the pie, nothing could please you more than this cheese crumble apple pie. The nutmeg is an optional flavoring.

CHEESE CRUMBLE APPLE PIE
2½ cups sliced apples
1 cup brown sugar
2 tablespoons flour
1 teaspoon cinnamon
½ teaspoon nutmeg
1 tablespoon lemon juice
2-3 cup flour
1-3 cup butter
2-3 cup grated American cheese

Combine apples, ½ cup sugar, 2 tablespoons flour, cinnamon, nutmeg and lemon juice. Place in deep dish pie pan. Mix remaining ½ cup sugar and 2-3 cup flour; cut in butter with 2 knives or pastry blender. Add cheese, toss lightly; sprinkle mixture over apples. Bake in hot oven (400 degrees F.) 45 to 50 minutes. Serve with wedges of cheese on top.

Apple bread, another favorite, keeps well for lunch boxes and is perfect for snack nibbling. It owes its fine texture and flavor to the grated raw apples in it.

SPICY APPLE BREAD
3 cups sifted enriched flour
1½ teaspoons baking soda
1½ teaspoons salt
1½ teaspoons cinnamon
¾ teaspoon nutmeg
½ teaspoon allspice
¼ teaspoon cloves
¾ cup shortening
1 cup plus 2 tablespoons light brown sugar, firmly packed
3 eggs
1½ teaspoons vanilla
1½ cups grated raw apples
3 tablespoons cider vinegar plus water to make ¾ cup
¾ cup chopped walnuts

Mix and sift flour, baking soda, salt and spices. Cream shortening and sugar. Add eggs one at a time, beating smooth after each addition. Add vanilla. Stir in flour mixture alternately with grated apples and liquid. Stir in walnuts. Turn into 11¼"x4½"x2½" greased loaf pan, or 2 small loaf pans. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 1¼ hours, or until done. Cool on wire rack. Serves 10 or more.

Be on the lookout for some good Rome Beauty apples in your local store, for these are the finest baking apples. This recipe for party baked apples can be topped with either whipped cream or sour cream. If whipped cream is used, you might sprinkle in a little bit of peanut brittle for an extra interesting flavor.

PARTY BAKED APPLE
½ cup dark corn syrup
½ cup water
¼ teaspoon ground cinnamon
1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
1 tablespoon butter or margarine
2 tablespoons sugar
4 tart apples, unpared
Whipped cream or 1 cup sour cream

Combine syrup, water, cinnamon, lemon rind, butter or margarine and sugar. Bring to boiling temperature over low heat, stirring until sugar is dissolved. Wash and core apples. Pare the top third of each apple. Place apples in shallow baking dish. Pour hot syrup mixture over apples. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 30 to 40 minutes or until apples are tender, basting frequently with the syrup mixture. Serve hot or cold topped with cream. Makes 4 servings.

Apples are not just a dessert food. Combined with meat or vegetables they can stretch a dish in a delicious manner. The Irish recognize thrift, putting it to use just as well as their Scottish neighbors, and they've done it quite well in a dish called Armagh Pie.

IRISH ARMAGH PIE
1 pound pork sausages
2 apples sliced
2 onions sliced
1 tablespoons flour
Salt and pepper to taste
1 cup stock or bouillon
2 to 3 cups hot mashed potatoes

Fry sausage slowly until golden brown; drain; put in 9-inch pie pan. Fry apples and onions in sausage fat. Pour off all but 1 tablespoon of fat. Brown flour in fat left in pan. Add seasonings and stock, stir until thickened; pour over sausages. Mix lightly with fork. Top with mashed potatoes. Bake in moderate oven, 350 degrees F., until potatoes are golden brown.

Pork or bacon and apples are an always popular twosome, but add sauerkraut, and you have an equally popular threesome. This golden harvest casserole can be assembled in short order and gets its name from a mixture of mashed carrots and potatoes, which are layered beneath the topping of sauerkraut, apples and diced bacon.

GOLDEN HARVEST CASSEROLE
4 medium sized cooked carrots
4 medium sized cooked potatoes
2 tablespoons butter or margarine, melted
2 tablespoons hot milk
1 no. 2 can sauerkraut
2½ cups sliced apples
1 cup chopped onions
3 tablespoons brown sugar
5 slices bacon, diced

Mash vegetables. Add butter or margarine and hot milk. Beat until light and fluffy. Turn mixture into bottom of a greased 2-quart casserole. Combine remaining ingredients and place on top of mashed vegetables. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 1 hour.

These apple and ham roll ups can be fixed in just a few minutes, and can double as luncheon party dishes or a supper main dish.

APPLE AND HAM ROLL UPS
2½ cups sliced apples
½ cup seedless raisins
½ cup cooked rice
Few grains salt
10 large slices boiled ham
2-3 cup prepared mustard
2-3 cup currant jelly

Drain apples if from a can; combine with raisins and rice. Season with salt. Put an equal amount on each ham slice; spread out in an even layer. Roll up ham slices, jelly roll fashion; fasten together with toothpicks. Place side by side in heat-proof platter. Blend together mustard and currant jelly, spread over ham rolls. Bake in hot oven 400 degrees F. 10 minutes. Garnish with parsley. Yields 4 servings.

From Maine comes this recipe for Swedish cabbage, using apples.

SWEDISH CABBAGE
1 medium cabbage
2 or 3 apples
¼ teaspoon salt
½ cup water
½ cup white vinegar
2-3 cup granulated sugar
3 tablespoons butter

Cut cabbage coarsely and cook with peeled and quartered apples in salted water until tender. Drain. Cook vinegar and sugar for a few minutes; add butter. Pour over drained cabbage and apple and place over simmer heat to season. Add salt and pepper to taste. Serve hot.

The skins of apples suitable for salads are thin and tender and perfectly good when left on. They add rich color to a salad dish, too. This is a basic recipe, and could be changed with any seafood.

APPLE AND CRABMEAT SALAD
2 cups crabmeat, fresh or canned
3 apples
3 stalks celery, chopped
1-3 cup mayonnaise
¼ teaspoon pepper
½ teaspoon salt
Juice of 2 lemons

Wash apples and cut into bite-sized wedges. Dip apple wedges into lemon juice. Combine chopped celery and crabmeat, moisten with mayonnaise and season with salt and pepper. Add apple wedges and serve on crisp salad greens. Serve with mayonnaise or French dressing.

Zippy relishes are the grace notes of any meal, particularly if there is a curry dish involved. This recipe for apple chutney can be made in quantity and kept on hand.

APPLE CHUTNEY
2½ cups sliced apples
1 cup light brown sugar
¼ cup cider vinegar
½ cup slivered candied ginger
½ cup thinly sliced onion
1 cup seedless white raisins
1 teaspoon chili powder
½ teaspoon salt
2 teaspoons mustard seeds
½ cup diced pimiento
½ cup chopped walnut meats

Chop apples; combine with sugar, vinegar, ginger, onions, raisins, chili powder, salt and mustard seeds. Bring to a boil; simmer about 30 minutes. Add pimiento and nut meats. Makes about 2½ cups.

Texas To Need 50,000 New Teachers By 1960

By MARTHA COLE
Associated Press Staff

Experts figure that Texas will need 45,000 to 50,000 new persons to teach in her public schools between now and 1960.

And where will she get them?

That's what worries the experts.

As of now, Texas has approximately 65,000 school teachers for some 1½ million pupils.

Predictions are that by the 1959-60 school year Texas will have some 1,864,000 children in school.

That means 15,000 more teachers are needed to meet the increased enrollment by 1960.

"Add to this figure the annual demands for new teachers needed to replace those persons leaving the teaching profession for all reasons, and the total approximates a need for between 45,000 and 50,000 new persons to teach in Texas public schools between now and 1960," said Dr. J. W. Edgar, State Commissioner of Education.

Dr. Edgar said it simply — "The outlook for the next five years for staffing local public schools systems presents a strong challenge to Texas citizens and school officials."

Charles H. Tennyson, executive secretary of the Texas State Teachers Assn., said it also — "The situation facing us in the next few years is very grave. The way we solve the problem may well determine the [illegible]se of education for the next q[illegible] of a century."

It's the problem of a growing state.

It's a problem augmented by the fact that by 1960 the products of the high birthrate years in the early 40s will be distributed throughout all grades in Texas elementary and secondary schools.

Their prospective teachers are in college now, and they are of the small crop of depression babies born in the hardtime 30s.

Texas now has teachers for her children — but it gets harder to find more good ones each year.

A spot survey of the state by the Associated Press showed that at the present time teachers — like almost all other professions — prefer the big cities.

Cities checked, reported no pressing problem at present to find the teachers they wanted.

Robert R. Ashworth, superintendent of the Kilgore schools in East Texas, said "we are experiencing no great difficulty in getting teachers except in special areas such as science, math and special education." He said the larger schools in the area, who pay above the average, had no trouble either.

But Ashworth added the smaller schools who can't pay above the schedule have great difficulty. A minimum of $2,808 a year is guaranteed by the state for teachers.

Kilgore pays $3,005 to a beginning teacher with a bachelor's degree.

Waco pays the same teacher $3,060 a year.

E. N. Dennard, superintendent of Waco schools, said "We do not have a shortage of Negro teacher applicants. We do have a shortage of white teacher applicants.

Laredo pays its beginning teachers the state minimum plus $402 and has no immediate problem.

"Even though our salary schedule is $600 above the minimum, we still have difficulty securing the kind of teachers we would like to have," said Dr. William M. Hadley, superintendent of Midland schools. "It will be increasingly difficult each year to continue to attract capable teachers into the profession even with our present salary schedule."

In a big city — Houston has a minimum of $3,200. School officials there said there was no particular problem obtaining white teachers and there was a long waiting list of Negro applicants.

Houston has the advantage big cities have — colleges and universities in their own town to turn out teachers — and the lure of big city life.

There is heartening news for the years of 1960-1970, for then Texas is expected to grow by leaps and bounds in college enrollment.

What to do before 1960?

"A partial solution lies in teacher recruitment programs sponsored by citizens groups and by members of the teaching profession," said Dr. Edgar. "Also Texas needs to redesign the outmoded state statutes for the certification of public school teachers."

"The major assistance is going to have to come from the community grass roots," said Dr. Hob Gray, director of the University of Texas Teacher Placement Service. "Each administrator is going to have to assume some responsibility to get top high school students interested in the teaching training programs."

Superintendent Dennard at Waco said there are two main reasons for lack of teachers: salaries are too low and education has failed to give the teaching profession a high enough reputation — there is no "glamour to teaching."

Adenauer May Reduce Duties

BONN, Germany (AP)—Chancellor Konrad Adenauer may give up one of his jobs—that of foreign minister.

Western diplomats understand Adenauer plans to appoint Heinrich von Brentano as foreign minister if the Paris agreements to free and rearm West Germany are ratified.

Brentano, 50, and a bachelor has been floor leader of the Christian Democrat party in the Bundestag (lower house of Parliament) for four years.

He was first mentioned for the Foreign Ministry after his party won a whopping election victory in September 1953, but Adenauer decided to continue to direct foreign affairs until he had attained his main foreign policy goals.

Sleepy Car Owner Sells Out At Bargain Price

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—William D. Burns said he was sleepy when a neighbor telephoned an offer to purchase his automobile.

"Will you take seventeen-fifty for your new car?" he said the neighbor asked.

Burns said he agreed to such a sale, that the neighbor appeared a few minutes later and gave him a check in exchange for the title and keys to the car.

"I later looked at the check and it was made out for $17.50, not $1,750," Burns said yesterday.

A charge of felony swindle was filed against Ralph Wardlaw before Justice of the Peace Tom Maes.

A statewide police order has been broadcast for Warslaw's arrest.

Joseph Campbell, above, now a member of the Atomic Energy Commission will be nominated by President Eisenhower to be Comptroller General of the U.S. The post, with a salary of $17,500 a year, is for 15 years. The comptroller general is the watchdog for the Congress over federal spending. The post has been vacant since Lindsay Warren retired last spring.

The average school has nearly as much area devoted to corridors, gymnasiums, auditoriums and service areas as to classrooms.

Simone Silva Is Ready To Depart Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—British actress Simone Silva, who posed bare to the waist for photographers on the French Riviera, is hospitalied by what her doctor calls epidemic vomiting.

She told reporters yesterday she has lost 14 pounds in six days and hasn't eaten in a week.

She said worry over her film contract brought on the illness.

She said producer Al Petker, who arranged for her to come to this country, hasn't been paying her $235 weekly salary. Petker countered that he has spent $54,000 on her career to date and said he suspended her for failing to lose weight.

The 26-year-old actress said she is ready to call it quits and return home to England.

The father of William Penn, founder of Pennsylvanian was a British admiral.

Heir Plans To Refuse Legacy

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP)—Explaining she doesn't feel she deserves the $200,000 legacy of her grandmother, Mrs. Clementine Gardula Hess says she's going to refuse it.

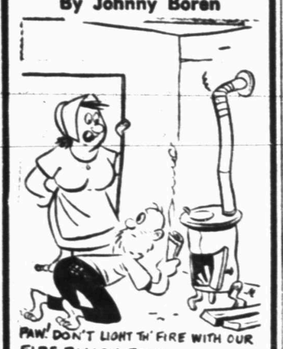

The 52-year-old Long Beach woman told newsmen yesterday she had been advised by her uncle, Joseph Gardula, that her grandmother, Mrs. Catherine Gardula, of Costinges, Luxembourg, had willed her extensive vineyards and a small inn there.

"I never had anything to do with the vineyards," said Mrs. Hess. "My uncle deserves the land. My husband and I and our two children could use the money, and I'd accept it if I felt I deserved it.

"Furthermore, I don't want to get mixed up with anything that might take me away from here. America is our home and we like it here. I've been here since I was 4 years old."

The world's greatest builder of V-8's presents

THE TOTALLY NEW '55 FORD!

with styling inspired by the Ford THUNDERBIRD

ON DISPLAY TOMORROW!

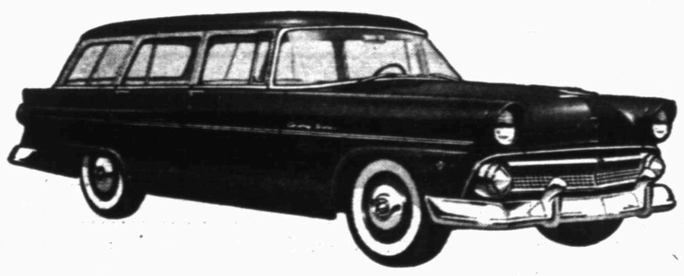

New FAIRLANE Series . . . The new Club Sedan, like all six models in Ford's new Fairlane Series, features the new wrap-around windshield, new luxurious interiors and wide choice of stunningly new, single and two-tone exterior colors.

Longest, Lowest, Roomiest...most Powerful ever built!

New CUSTOMLINE Series . . . The Tudor Sedan (above) and Fordor offer a wide selection of exciting new color and upholstery combinations. Like all 1955 Fords, they have a new wider grille, new visored headlights and sturdier, extra-narrow pillar-posts for better visibility.

New STATION WAGON Series . . . The new 6-passenger, 4-door Country Sedan (above) is one of five new do-it-all beauties. There's also an 8-passenger Country Sedan, an 8-passenger Country Squire and a 2-door, 6-passenger Ranch Wagon and Custom Ranch Wagon.

We invite you to come in and see for yourself. And we tell you in advance you'll be amazed. For this new Ford is totally new—outside, inside, and in thrillingly different performance.

The distinctive, long, low lines of the Thunderbird were its styling inspiration. Inside, you'll be greeted by rich, roomy luxury . . . by fabrics never before offered in a motorcar at any price.

Mighty engines, mightier than in any Ford before—supply its exciting power. You now have three engines from which to choose. And each gives you the safe, split-second response of Trigger-Torque Power.
