

Utah's Fight Against Polygamy Seen As Long, Difficult Chore

By JOHN V. HURST
SALT LAKE CITY, (AP)—State
local law officials say Utah's drive against polygamy is to be a lengthy, difficult despite a start made this with charges filed against men.
The difficult getting the evi
against these people," said
Atty. Gen. E. R. Callister
because for the most part of them practice polygamy
And a lot of them have wives in different houses in differ ent sections of the city—or of the state, for that matter."

Callister commented as Salt Lake County officers continued to look for two men already named in complaints accusing them of "unlawful cohabitation." Two oth ers named in similar complaints have been arraigned and released
on bond.
Are others to be charged with polygamy? Not immediately, offi cials indicated. Salt Lake County

Atty. Frank E. Moss says his of fice is looking into "six or eight"
possible cases.
An investigator who declined to be identified had this to say on the difficulty of pinning down evi dence of polygamy.
"Some of the men," he said,
"keep moving back and forth to a different home. That's one of their habits. Another one is, of course, they don't allow their chil dren to talk to strangers or asso ciate with other children in the neighborhood. They're kind of set apart even at school."

The unidentified investigator says it's his guess that there are "about 20,000 men, women and children in Utah" involved in the multiple marriages.
"If you do enough legwork on them and watch enough people," he said, "one group leads to an other group."
The neighbors usually know all about it. But they're usually very reluctant to talk. They don't feel they want to be called on the witness stand. And also they feel that, of course, the wives will still remain there afterwards and they would like to try to get along with them.

"Of course, it's been going on so long in the state that these people have grown used to it.
There is even the attitude among some of wanting to show respect for others' religious beliefs.
"And in many cases, the neigh bors worry about what will happen to the wives and children."

Officials say none of the persons charged with polygamy are mem bers of the Latter-Day Saints Mormon Church, which discon tinued the practice more than 50 years ago.
Being sought were David B.
Darger, 52, accused of cohabiting
with four women, and Heber C.
Smith, Jr., 39, charged with hav ing three wives. Both men are insurance salesmen.

Free on $2,500 bail is Louis
Alma Kelsch, 49, Salt Lake County tile setter and stonemason, who was arraigned yesterday on a com plaint charging him with having five wives. Moss says Kelsch ad mits being the father of 31 chil dren. He faces preliminary hear ing Nov. 23.
In neighboring Davis County,
54-year-old Farmington electrician
Carl Eugene Jentsch surrendered voluntarily "to keep them from chasing me all over the country."

He was freed on $1,000 bond after Justice of the Peace H. H. Robin son gave him until Monday to de cide if he wants a preliminary hearing.
Jentsch is charged with co habiting with five women, and Davis County Atty. Milton J. Hess says "we're sure he has at least 20" children. Asked how many children he has, Jentsch told a newsmen:
"One is enough to make it il legal."

Food Poison Believed Cause of Carlsbad Woman's Death

CARLSBAD (AP)—A 24-year-old woman died and her 1½-year-old son was in serious condition today after what doctors think may have been a case of food poisoning.
The death of Mrs. Geneva Chavarria first thought to have resulted from botulism, but an autopsy to showed no signs of that poi which usually comes from improperly canned food.
The Health Department was

Travel Route Of Rutherford Case Suspects Sought

ROSSELL, (AP)—Police of two counties were attempting today to verify the travel route of two California brothers held here for ques tioning in the roadside slaying of M. M. Rutherford of Alamogordo.

The brothers, Preston and Kenneth Merritt of Los Angeles, also are charged with armed robbery here.

Sheriff J. C. Jones said this morning that the pair disclaimed
any knowledge of the Clouderoft shooting on Oct. 21 and said they were in Carlsbad at the time.

Sheriff's officers said the Mer
ritts related they arrived in Ros well from Duncan, Ariz., via El Paso, Carlsbad and a brief stop at Lake Arthur.

They were questioned as sus pects in the Clouderoft slaying
when officers noted a similarity between what is believed to be the method of death in the murder and the alleged roadside armed rob bery near Roswell Tuesday night.

While nothing definite has been established, additional trouble
loomed for the two Californians
after questioning yesterday by FBI agents. The federal agency en tered the picture when it was learned the car the two were driv ing when arrested here was re ported stolen in Oregon.

Officers said the car also bore stolen Arizona license plates taken in Phoenix.

Apart from the stolen car angle,
the federal agency has no jurisdic tion in the Rutherford murder in vestigation.

Dist. Atty. C. C. Chase of Las Cruces questioned the Merritt brothers late yesterday, but the results of the questioning have not been released.

Chaves and Otero County offi cers still are trying to run down reports of 1. Similarity of a car seen just west of Clouderoft about the time the murder took place and the Merritt vehicle and 2. Un confirmed reports that clothing, apparently stained with blood, had been found, which may have a bearing on the investigation.

Woman Admits False Data on License to Wed

PORTALES (AP)—Mrs. Louise
Williams, Friona, Texas, today de clared that she had "signed a lie"
on a marriage license application
"to save my boys."

She pleaded guilty to a charge of falsely swearing that Grace Lee Smith, her daughter, was 18 when she was actually only 15, in order for her to obtain a marriage license to wed her son, Walter Glen Wil liams, 18.

She faces a similar charge in Lovington where her other son Od ell married Loretta Bean of Texas.
In Lovington the license was signed
"Mrs. Louise Bean."

In Portales the application was signed "Mrs. Louise Smith" as the mother of Grace Lee Smith.

Mrs. Williams told Justice of the Peace F. T. Burke that she knew when she signed the application she was doing wrong, and that she signed her correct name to the marriage license after the ceremony. "I couldn't sign a lie on a sacred thing like that."

Justice Burke had performed the ceremony here Wednesday.

Mrs. Williams said the two girls and her two sons had been away together for three days before they came back to her home "beg ging and crying for us to help them out." She said the parents of the girls demanded that the two boys
be compelled to marry their daugh ters.

Mrs. Williams paid a $50 fine here and was released by the sher iff who had in the meantime called the Lea county sheriff and obtain ed permission for Mrs. Williams to go there without escort to answer the charge.

Texas' Three Top Democrats Renew Scuffle for Control

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—Texas' three top Democrats squared off today in another round of the three-year-old hit and run scuffle for con trol of the Texas Democratic vote.

Recent moves to patch up hurt feelings between the feuding fac tions of the party apparently died with the last rose of summer.

Last night the rafters of an ex grounds here shivered from the busty yells of 2,000 partisans who approved a show of power put on

by House Speaker Sam Rayburn and Senate Majority Leader Lyndon Johnson.

the Republicans run for president.

called his only political talk in Texas this year.

Earlier yesterday, Gov. Allan party who has drawn the glories of Rayburn and Johnson since he swung the party machinery for El

Rival Plans Mar Path to Secure Peace

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

GENEVA (AP)—Russia and the Western powers clashed in the Big Four foreign ministers meeting to day with rival and apparently ir reconcilable plans for European security.

The United States, Britain and France got in first, presenting to Soviet Foreign Minister V. M.
Molotov a nine-point "treaty of assurance on the reunification of Germany." It would become fully effective only if East and West Germany were united and the new Germany became a member of the North Atlantic Treaty Alliance.

Molotov responded with a 15-point proposal for a European se curity treaty, delaying German unification indefinitely. Under the Soviet program the North Atlantic Alliance would be destroyed, Com munist China would become an "observer" in Europe and all American troops would eventually have to be withdrawn "from the territories of European countries."

By the time Molotov acted the Western ministers had already re jected his proposal. They based their statement, in advance of its presentation, on Russian proposals which had been made at the Gene va summit conference in July.

"France, the United Kingdom and the United States of America," they told Molotov, "are not pre pared to enter into a system of European security which, as in the Soviet proposals, put forward at Geneva (in July) does not end
the division of Germany."

Opposition Paper Bitterly Attacks Times' Stand On Meg's Romance

LONDON (AP)—The widely read London Daily Mirror today bitterly charged the influential London Times with an "ill-disguised at tempt to force Princess Margaret into giving up the man she loves by a bullying ultimatum."

In one of the most savage at tacks ever made by one British newspaper upon another, the ta bloid said the Times' editorial lec ture to the princess Wednesday bore "no relation to the wishes of the vast majority of people."

The Mirror, which claims a daily circulation of more than 4½ mil lion, the world's largest, described the Times as a "newspaper selling 221,972 copies a day."

"It speaks for a dusty world and a forgotten age," said the Mirror.

"Any idea that the Times and its stuffy cronies speak with authority and finality must be scotched."

The Times editorial said the marriage of the 25-year-old Mar garet and the 40-year-old Peter Townsend, a hero of the Battle of Britain but a divorced commoner, would put the royal family in an impossible position. The paper said such a marriage would force Mar garet's own retirement from pub lic life as did the love of the Duke of Windsor for Wallis Warfield
Simpson nearly 20 years ago.

The Archbishop of Canterbury, ranking prelate of the Church of England, is on the paper's Board of Trustees.

Margaret, at her own request, went to see the archbishop and had a dramatic 52-minute inter view with him yesterday in his Lambeth Palace.

As head of the church, the arch bishop is perhaps the most deter mined opponent of the princess' marrying a divorced man. A stoutly held tenet of the church is against re-marriage of divorced persons whose former mates are still living.

A press spokesman for the arch bishop said, "It was a private meeting and I can't say what was discussed."

The Mirror said the Times
editorial was the "first sinister move in a plan to force upon the princess a cruel choice." The Mirror said this was "to give up Peter Townsend forever" or "be banished from the royal circle."
"She must presumably spend the rest of her life, like the luck less Windsors, without roots, with out purpose and without hope,"

said the Mirror.

The Mirror said a poll of its readers showed 96 per cent of those voting believed the princess should be allowed to marry Town send, but the Times was "trying to keep up the myth that the royal family must live with priestly dedication while pursuing a varied and busy public life."

The princess accompanied the rest of the royal family last night to Covent Garden to hear the show
"The Bartered Bride," and un
smilingly listened to a duet, "Noth ing in the World Can Part Us
Two."

In "The Bartered Bride" the romance was a happy ending.

Laura LaPlante, Star of Silent Films, to Make Comeback on TV

By Bob Thomas

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Look who's coming back — Laura LaPlante!

Yes, the same Laura LaPlante who starred in silent films and early talkies. Remember the villain's hand reaching out at her from behind the bedstead in "The Cat and the Canary"? Yipes!

It's a pleasure to report that the years have done little to Laura. She's frank to say she'll be 51 on Tuesday, but she looks much like the impish blonde who delighted film fans of another generation. She has the same boyish bob, clear skin and bright eyes.

For the first time in almost 20 years, she has made a return to acting. As something of a lark, she portrayed a one-time movie star in the TV comedy series, "It's a Great Life." The film will be shown Nov. 13.

This is an about-face for the actress who gave up films to be a wife and mother. In the early '30s, she left Hollywood to go to England with her husband, producer Irving Asher. She did some films and stage work there, then gave birth to her daughter, now 19.

That seemed like a good time to stop acting," she remarked. "So I did." She also has a son, 16. "Now that they are just about grown, they don't need me as much," she reasoned. "In fact, I think it's better for them if mother isn't around now and then. I want all of us have a tendency to think our children to remain babies."

When the TV producers came to her recently with the notion of acting for them, her first impulse was to say no. But her husband urged her to at least see the script. He thought it was amusing and suggested she do it.

So she did. She confessed to being frightfully nervous. But one of the things that brought her through was the encouragement of fellow workers. The word spread around the Hal Roach lot that she was working there. Crewmen who had been on her pictures years ago dropped in to wish her well.

Laura's career started in 1919 for the Christie Brothers. She came here from San Diego to visit a cousin and wangled a job in a comedy. It seemed like an easy way to earn money, so she stayed.

Her big break came when Carey Ray chose her to co-star in "The Old Swimming Hole." Universal signed her and she starred there for nine years.

You may have wondered where she got her name, which sounds like the epitome of silent star names. She was born Laura LaPlante.

Reducing Diets Vary For Each Age Group

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

YOU'VE got to cut down your daily calorie intake if you want to reduce. And there's only one way to do that—eat less.

Yet the body's food needs vary with age, so a diet which may be ideal for you, won't work for your young daughter or your mother.

How Diet Works

Now, when you go on a diet, don't expect to lose two pounds the first week, two pounds the second week, and so on. Dieting generally just doesn't work that way.

You may not lose anything for a week to ten days. Then you'll probably drop four or five pounds within the next week. Thereafter, you'll level off with an average loss of up to two pounds per week.

And let me remind you that it's just as important to diet during the approaching holidays as at any other time of the year, if you really want to lose weight.

Extra Fat

Excess weight isn't good for anyone. You may pay for a mere 20 pounds of extra fat with about 10 years of your life.

On the other hand, taking off weight improperly can be dangerous business. This is especially true during adolescence and middle-age, since in these stages you need the special protection that only the right sort of food can give.

How much you lose under a diet depends on how long you follow the regimen in your age group. Whether you diet at all, and how much you should lose, is, of course, a matter for your physician to decide.

Typical reducing menus for one day, for teenagers, the 20-40 age group and the 40-and-over group follows:

TEENAGERS
Breakfast: Orange juice, 1/2 cup (4 oz.) 55; Whole-grain biscuit, 1/2 50; Banana, 1/2 small 45; Toast, whole-wheat, 1 slice 55; Butter, 1/2 tsp. 16; Milk (whole) 166; 387
Luncheon: Omelet, 1 egg 120; Bread, whole-wheat, 1 slice 55; Butter, 1/2 tsp. 16; Apple, 1 medium 78; Milk (whole) 1 glass 166; 433
Dinner: Liver, broiled, 3 oz. 172; Green peas, 1/2 cup 55; Potato, baked, 1 medium 97; Carrot, raw, 1 large 22; Bread, whole-wheat, 1 slice 55; 550

Pineapple comes in a dietetic pack. You can have the pineapple in tidbits or sliced. The buffet-size can of tidbits (9 ounces) will give you two-thirds cup of drained fruit and one-half cup of juice. The sliced pineapple comes in a No. 2 can (1 pound and 4 ounces) and gives 10 slices and two-thirds cup of juice.

Take down that chafing dish—the one you got for a wedding present—from the closet where it's hidden. Use it for keeping food warm when you are giving a party. This way you'll find it wonderfully useful, elegant looking! If it is the kind of chafing dish that uses canned heat it may give better service in keeping food warm than in actually cooking it.

Barrymore Art Treasurers to Be Auctioned

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The things that Lionel Barrymore couldn't take with him — prized mementos of his long interest in art, music and literature — will go to the highest bidders.

The collector's items that the old actor loved so well are in the dusty back room of an auction gallery today, being prepared for public sale Monday through Thursday.

There are countless record albums of Brahms, Liszt, Mendelssohn, shelves of well-thumbed books and even a skull that was used in a production of "Hamlet."

"This is more of a connoisseur's sale than anything," said auctioneer Arthur B. Goode yesterday. "Everything here is a collector's item — every bit of it. Without qualification this is the finest collection of art properties I've handled — and I've been in the business 20 years."

Goode said there are more than 1,000 articles and he expects the collection to bring $50,000. "The sensation seeker won't be interested," he said. "Barrymore wasn't that kind of person. He had three interests, painting, sketching and music, and his devotion to those fields — a lifetime of it — is right here."

Barrymore died last Nov. 15 at the age of 76.

The collection includes a marble head of John Barrymore, Lionel's brother; Whistler and Rembrandt etchings; paintings by the actor himself; and ancient theatre programs, including one dated 1816 for "As You Like It" at Covent Garden.

Also there are rare musical scores and several ship models of intricate detail.

Baptists Schedule Barbecue Saturday

All day Saturday at the Bethel Baptist Church the members will serve barbecue chicken, beef and pork. Other than chicken will be beef, pork, beans, bread and salad.

By dialing SH 6-4552 a meal will be delivered to your home.

Rev. J. H. Horton, Pastor, announced that Sunday will close the Harvest drive which opened Oct. 1. The money derived from the sale Saturday will be used to help make the quota.

The 1954 Memorial Day auto race at Indianapolis was the first of these classic races in which nylon tires were used.

"VERA CRUZ," in Technicolor and Superscope, an action-packed film opening Saturday at the Ocotillo Theatre through United Artists release, is story of two tough, gun-slinging Americans in Mexico, ready to see their services to the highest bidder in the Mexican Revolution of 1866. Starred as the adventurers are Burt Lancaster and Gary Cooper, two tough hombres of which there are no tougher.

Talent Search Underway In U.S. Schools

CHICAGO (AP) — A nationwide talent search got under way today in 10,000 American high schools. The prizes are 350 four-year college scholarships for the country's most promising seniors.

More than 50,000 youngsters are taking examinations in their high schools that will narrow the field for the scholarships. It is the official start of the biggest privately financed scholarship program in the history of American education.

The National Merit Scholarship Corp., set up last summer with a 20-million-dollar grant from the Ford Foundation and a $500,000 grant from the Carnegie Corp., of New York, is conducting the program.

Besides scholarships financed with its own money, the corporation is administering scholarships given by the Sears-Roebuck Foundation and Time, Inc., publishers of Time and Life magazines. The corporation said other business organizations are planning eventually to take part, increasing the size of the program in future years.

The students competing were picked by their local principals as the most promising 5 per cent of each senior class. The 4,000 seniors who survive this first test will be eligible for a second examination Jan. 14, 1956. Top scorers will receive $1,000 scholarships.

Forrester Leads Pro's In Final Nine Of Pro-Am

Hobbs Golfer Holds 4-Stroke Lead at Noon

Dode Forrester, Hobbs, appeared a likely bet to win the pro side of the New Mexico West Texas Pro-Am tournament at noon today. Forrester shot 32 on the first nine holes this morning to put him four strokes ahead of the field.

DODE FORRESTER—Four strokes ahead of the field at noon today in pro play was Dode Forrester, Hobbs. (Advocate Photo)

Wind yesterday dried out the greens making them lighting fast and played havoc with scores.

The top pro players and their combined two day scores at the end of play last night were:

Dode Forrester, 140; Kenneth Shields, Plainview, 141; James Dixon, Andrews, 142; C. A. Dewees, Big Spring, 143; Joe Estrada, Artesia, 144; Hardy Loudermilk, Jai, 144; Joe Lopez, Brownfield, 144; and Fred Atkins, Carlsbad, 144.

Top men in Class A amateur play were:

John Farquar, Amarillo, 143; Bobby Wright, Big Spring, 144; and Zade Watkins, Hobbs, 147.

In class B competition at the end of play last night the top men were:

J. R. Farmer, Big Spring, 152; Jim Miller, 154; and Bill Breeden, 154.

Class C top players were:

Fuller Rogers, 164; C. A. Baker, Carlsbad, 165; and Cliff Gilbert, Hobbs, 169.

The women's flight didn't finish last night and there were no scores for the day. Mrs. Dick Turner, San Angelo, was low the first day with handicap score of 67.

NMC Crown on Line as Adams, Highlands Meet

By The Associated Press

The New Mexico Conference and possibly the title—goes for grabs on neutral ground at Walsenberg, Colo., this week-end.

Adams State of Alamosa, Colo., and Highlands of Las Vegas, N. M., tied for the league lead with 10 wins, will clash in the vital game.

A Highland victory would clinch them the title, while if Adams win, they'd still be bothered by the dark horse New Mexico Military Institute Cadets.

Both teams have 4-2 overall records, they're rated about even in most books and a comparison of common foes does little but confuse the issue. For example, Highlands beat NMCI, while Adams lost to the Cadets. And Adams lost to Panhandle A&M of Goodwell, Okla., but Highlands lost to the Aggies. Both have beaten Arizona State of Flagstaff and New Mexico Western.

New Mexico Military, responsible for the jump at the top of the schedule by upsetting Adams last week, hopes to stay in the race against Western at Silver City. NMCI now is at 2-1 in league play. A Cadet victory coupled with an Adams' victory would give NMCI very much in the running. A Highlands' victory would lead them out of it.

Arizona State and Panhandle complete the full slate of conference play with a battle at Goodwell. Panhandle, the defending conference champion, is heavily favored to take a homecoming victory over the winless Arizona State.

Perez Steps Up—The "new" Lu Perez, stronger at 135 pounds, won Johnny Gonzales tonight at Nelson Square Garden in his first important test as a lightweight.

Clark Griffith, Long-Time Baseball Leader, Dies at 85

WASHINGTON (AP)—Clark Griffith, one of the greatest figures in the history of baseball, died last night at the age of 85.

Summing up the career of the man he called "Unk," Calvin Griffith observed today:

"The old man lived an exciting life and he loved every minute of it. He had a wonderful life and a peaceful death. No man could ask for more."

Calvin is now heir-apparent to the Washington Senators, the club of which the elder Griffith had been president since 1919.

Few men have had as significant a role in the development of the national sport. Griffith helped organize the American League at the turn of the century and gave it added stature by luring the President of the United States to throw out the first pitch as far back as 1912.

They called Griffith the "Old Fox" because of his cute antics as a pitcher before the turn of the century. And the name stuck through a series of maneuvers and deals that earned the Senators a prominent role in the American League for many years despite a dearth of big money.

A lifelong friend of Connie Mack, now 92-and-one-time owner-manager of the Philadelphia Athletics, Griffith had a high place in the hearts of baseball men. He and Mack stood as the last big figures linking the sport with its early days.

Griffith entered Georgetown University Hospital a week ago suffering from neuritis. Later he suffered stomach hemorrhages and lung congestion. After a week of apparently steady improvement, he suffered a relapse and died at 8:40 p.m. last night.

With him at his bedside were his wife Ann and Calvin.

Funeral arrangements are to be announced today.

Tailenders Have Chance to Mix Skyline Standings

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Three second division teams—two of them winless—get a chance to shuffle the Skyline Conference football picture tomorrow, but their upset chances are about as likely as the Rockies tumbling.

Also on tomorrow's bill of fare is a non-conference engagement matching Utah State (2-2) at home to Fresno State.

Utah, a pre-season pick to dethrone defending champion Denver, is idle. The Redskins were dumped last week by Wyoming, 23-13, and next take on Colorado at Boulder Nov. 5.

Colorado A&M's surprising Aggies are prohibitive favorites to extend their unbeaten league string to five at Missoula, where they meet Montana. The Grizzlies gained their second win of the campaign last week by downing New Mexico by a touchdown, but look to absorb their fourth loss.

The Aggies, one-point victors over tough Denver and Wyoming, are better than two touchdown favorites to keep intact their league lead.

Wyoming (3-1) is host to Brigham Young (0-3) and Denver (2-2) visits New Mexico (0-3) in other games.

Quarterback Jimmy Bowen, who has thrown seven touchdown strikes, and his Pioneer mates will be seeking to spoil New Mexico's homecoming festivities. Though the Lobos have lost five straight this season, Coach Bob Titchenall says his injury-ridden squad is "high" for the clash.

Dukes to Raise Admittance Fee

ALBUQUERQUE (AP)—Directors of the Albuquerque Baseball Club voted yesterday to raise a $10,000 admission fee to enter the Class A Western League.

"If the necessary cash is not available through stock by Nov. 2," President Harry Corcoran said "the club will make up the deficit by posting bond with the Western League."

The Albuquerque Dukes and the Amarillo Gold Sox of the Class B West Texas-New Mexico League were invited last weekend to enter the six-team Western League.

Irish To 'Make or Break' Navy In Top College Tilt

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press

The Fighting Irish of Notre Dame, geared to "win one for Rock," figure to make or break Navy's fourth-ranked Middles tomorrow as college football passes the midfield stripe of the 1955 season.

Notre Dame's run-in with Navy at South Bend, Ind.—designated as the Knute K. Rockne Memorial Game by the Irish—is the No. 1 game of the day what with Maryland and Oklahoma, the nation's two top clubs, engaged in a couple of breathers.

Maryland, No. 1 in this week's Associated Press poll, rolls against South Carolina. Oklahoma, No. 2, goes against Kansas State. Both are favorites.

Notre Dame, ranked No. 9, has lost only four times in 28 games with the Middles and is favored by a touchdown. Navy, on the threshold of its first unbeaten season since 1925, pins its hopes on George Welsh, the nimble-minded quarterback and passer, and its defensive might—best in the nation.

Notre Dame has quarterback Paul Hornung, the runner-passer, and the memory of Rockne, the coaching immortal who aimed for the heart as well as the head in readying his Irish for big games.

Michigan and Iowa are on the national TV stage at Ann Arbor. Mich. The Wolverines, who fell from favor with a 14-13 decision over Minnesota last week and wound up third in the national poll, are out to get another leg on the Big Ten title and Rose Bowl bid as well as regain the No. 1 spot.

Michigan is favored by a touchdown and maybe a little more. So is Michigan State, No. 5 in the nation off its decision over Notre Dame, in its Big Ten game at Wisconsin.

UCLA, No. 6, beaten only by Maryland, doesn't figure to have much trouble in a Pacific Coast Conference game with California. West Virginia, No. 7, is favored by two TDs and then some at Marquette. Auburn, No. 8, heading for its first Southeastern Conference crown, carries the same weight against Tulane.

Southern Cal., No. 10, determined to snag the PCC crown and Rose Bowl berth from UCLA, is favored by two touchdowns over Minnesota. But Minneapolis weather may set up an upset.

Only Nine High School Games On Light Grid Slate Tonight

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Gadsden and Ruidoso risk impressive records at the top of the light high school football slate this weekend.

Only nine games are on for today and tonight and six tomorrow in the lightest weekend of play of the season. Many teams are idle and several games were played earlier in the week to allow coaches to attend the teachers' convention in Albuquerque.

Gadsden, riding a string of 28 straight victories and already assured of its third straight Dist. 3A title, will pit its remarkable record, ord, a strong line and the great Sal Gonzales against Cathedral of El Paso.

Gonzales, a two-time all state fullback and the spark of the Panther drive for its third straight Class A title, is expected to lead the charge—as usual—against Cathedral. The up-and-down El Paso team is considered about the greatest threat of the season to break Gadsden's winning skein.

Tomorrow, Ruidoso will risk an equally remarkable record against Corona. It's a Dist. 3C battle, but the Warriors have already clinched the title. Corona, however, has the opportunity to do two things no other team has accomplished this season. First, they could spoil Ruidoso's record by whipping the Warriors. And they could score a moral victory just by scoring.

The Warriors are unbeaten, untied and have yet to be scored upon.

The Ruidoso-Corona game is the only district game of the weekend. Hobbs and Albuquerque will tangle in an important cross-district battle at Albuquerque. Hobbs will look to the game as a chance to gain back some lost prestige from a 20-19 licking by Artesia last week, while AHS wants to fatten its record before next week's vital game with Las Cruces. Hobbs has a 2-4 season record, Albuquerque 3-1-1.

Farmington and Santa Fe are the only other Class AA schools to see action this week. Santa Fe will host little Aztec, while Farmington will be at home for Durango Colo. in a Saturday game.

The rest of the Friday schedule has Hot Springs at Western, Grants at St. Mike's, Ariz., Antonito, Colo., at Chama, Navajo Mission at Cortez, Colo., Our Lady of Sorrows at Menaul, and Eunice at NMCI.

The Saturday slate has Espanola at St. Mike's, Fort Wingate at Albuquerque Indians, Carrizozo at Fort Sumner and Jay at Capitán.

Highland Whips Hobbs Golfers

ALBUQUERQUE (AP)—Highland High School linksmen defeated Hobbs High School 13½ to 7½ yesterday.

The results:

Guy Wimberly, Highland, defeated Don Nix, Hobbs, 84-88.

Henry Hodde, Hobbs, defeated Jack Miller, Highland, 77-86.

Keith Gilbert, Highland, defeated Ben Jensen, Hobbs, 80-91.

Tyrone Campbell, Highland, defeated Butch Gibbs, Hobbs, 82-95.

Jim Abbott, Highland, defeated Dick Lasby, Hobbs, 96-110.

Nix and Hodde defeated Wimberly and Miller, and Gilbert and Campbell defeated Jensen and Gibbs in match play.

It Applies in Business, Too

NOW and then we have those who only participate in politics once in a while and they are free with their condemnation of some of the things that occur in political parties.

Most of us are concerned about some of the things that politicians do as well as political parties but we have been doing a lot of these things a long time. These things are done to win and politicians are out to win.

While we condemn certain things and certain practices in politics we seemingly feel that these practices are all right in private business.

We know of one individual who has condemned the politicians right and left. He has accused them of most everything and probably a good many of his charges are right. He has a perfect right to believe what he thinks is true. He has a right to condemn these practices.

But this same individual seemingly carries out just as sharp practices in his own private business if he can get away with it as some of the practices he condemns the politicians with employing.

We sorta feel that he has saved himself off on a limb now and that what he has to say about the politicians doesn't ring so true because he does the same thing in private business if he can.

But there is always a way to halt the politician if we don't like what he does and the way he does it. We can go to the polls and defeat him or his party.

We can refuse to do business with the businessman or professional man who employs just as sharp practices as the politicians and perhaps teach him the lesson he needs.

The politician may deny he is guilty but he usually knows he is and appreciates he is expected to deny it. The business man, however, not only carries out the practices but he will deny there is anything wrong with them or that it is any of the public's business what he does.

Most of us know and do not expect very good business practices in politics but we do expect them to be followed in private business.

Mercer Agrees Godfrey Can Fire Anybody

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP)—Few incidents in television have moved me less than the news the other day that Arthur Godfrey had fired three more of his hired help.

It's true that you feel sorry for anybody who gets fired. But it's also true that if you or I get fired the event will hardly make the news—unless we shoot the boss or abscond with the treasury.

When Godfrey first began firing members of what used to be called his radio and television family, the public was enchanted by the mystery of why he did it. Godfrey explained that he was trying to improve his shows. A lot of people refused to accept his explanation.

On this round, when cornered by a reporter in Harrisburg, Pa., he said:

"Do I have to give reasons? I'm running this job and if I can't fire and hire people to suit myself, I'm going to quit myself. It's my show and when I see it's time to make changes, I make them."

In his making, "Do I have to give reasons?" I choose to believe that Godfrey was questioning the point in further explanation. In the past he fired Julius La Rosa on the air and was bitterly criticized. He tried firing people privately and was criticized for that. He explained that he was trying to improve his shows—and many didn't believe him. He tried offering no explanation—and was criticized for that.

Personally I'm not much of a fan of Godfrey's programs. As several people suggested by mail after I panned one of his shows, maybe I have a hole in the head. But, hole in the head or not, I think he's within his rights in firing anybody he desires without explanation to the public.

There was a time—back in the days when Godfrey maintained the theme that he and his employees were one big happy family—when it was necessary for him to explain why he'd changed his tune and kicked somebody out.

But by this time it's obvious that Godfrey's entertainment empire is not just one big happy family. So what's all the excitement about?

There are many important things happening in the world of television and radio today. But the relationship of Arthur Godfrey with his employees is not one of them.

Hero Goes, Legend Stays

Gen. William F. Dean Leaves Brilliant Army Career in Week

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—The United States Army will lose a hero next week but keep a legend.

The hero is Maj. Gen. William F. Dean, one of the bravest and best-loved officers in American military history.

The legend this holder of the first Medal of Honor won in Korea leaves behind him is the epic story of the valor he showed on the battlefield and his fortitude during more than three years as a prisoner of war.

At 56, Gen. Dean, a one-time street car conductor and policeman, is winding up a brilliant 32-year military career. He will retire Monday as deputy commander of the 6th Army after a final troop review in his honor at the historic Presidio of San Francisco.

No man has better earned retirement, but thousands of veterans will hate to see him go. He has been truly "The Soldier's Soldier," exemplifying in both deed and manner the best that it taught at West Point, a school Gen. Dean never attended himself.

Although some of his men revered him almost as if he were a 49th star in the flag, the general shrank from being publicly labeled a hero.

"I'm just a dog-faced soldier," he always insisted. He was, too. His men liked him for that. But he was something more also. He was a general of the old type, a commander who, when the going got really tough, oiled to go up front and lead his men in combat personally.

That style of leadership presumably went out of style after the Civil War, but it never went out of style with Dean. Where his troops needed him most, there he was.

In World War II he won the Distinguished Service Cross, the nation's second highest award for valor, for leading his men on foot through a continuous artillery barrage to knock out an enemy battery.

It was the same brand of courage that gained him the Medal of Honor in Korea. He became separated from his men while helping them fight a Red tank with hand grenades and bazookas during a desperate holding action.

Dean hid for more than a month behind enemy lines—most of the time without food—until a Korean civilian betrayed him to the enemy.

During his long ordeal as a prisoner kept in solitary confinement Dean's reddish hair turned gray. He counted flies and worked mathematical problems in his head to keep from going crazy. Once, fearing he would lose his mind or break under torture and reveal the secret of America's plan for the defense of Japan, he even plotted suicide.

Since his release, Dean has shown a remarkable sympathy and understanding of the problems of American war prisoners. With a recititude painful to behold he has resisted attempts to lionize him, even implied he was a darn fool ever to let himself get caught.

All to no avail. He has proved himself a hero on many battlefronts, and whether he likes the idea or not, he will live as a top hero in his nation's annals. It is difficult for any honest man with a sense of humor to regard himself as a hero, but heroes are necessary to the human race as food and water.

party of New York State supported Truman in 1948 for the presidency. The letter came back to Evans. He showed it to reporters last night. Scrawled across the bottom was this note:

"That was the year you worked and voted for Henry Wallace and the state went for Thomas E. Dewey—Ain't you funny?"

Evans told reporters he was sending a reply that said in part: "Thanks for your unkind remarks—applesauce. I worked for your election. After you had gone to bed election night."

barbecue, beans and two hours of fast-paced politics.

Shivers name was never mentioned, although it was apparent that a number of remarks were aimed in his direction.

"I am here without any handles on my politics," Rayburn told the crowd. "I'm a Democrat and that is all, whether you spell it with a big or little D."

He let the applause die down then raised his voice and spoke straight into a television camera. "And I'm not a Democrat 18 months of the two years then something else the six months when voting comes up."

Rayburn said he believed it was every person's right to attend or not attend a party convention but he felt that delegates should be "morally bound to support nominees of that convention."

In a brief talk Johnson predicted victory in 1956.

It would take 1,000 ships the size of the 80-ton Santa Maria, largest in the Columbus fleet, to equal today's liner Queen Elizabeth, 80,000 tons.

The World Today

Despite Optimism Disarmament Still a Long Way From Reality

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON, (AP)—The possibility of world disarmament has been given a lot of publicity since July's summit meeting when President Eisenhower made his sensational "open skies" proposal. On its face, it may have seemed simple.

The President suggested the United States and Russia exchange complete blue prints on their military establishments. Then, as a check on each other's honesty, he proposed they agree to aerial inspection of each other from the air.

In spite of repeated optimistic statements about eventual agreement by Harold E. Stassen, the President's special disarmament adviser, the two sides are still far apart.

And any agreement on disarmament at the Big Four foreign ministers' meeting, which began yesterday in Geneva, has a splendid chance of getting nowhere. A look at the problem shows why.

For years the United States has said that before this country would agree to disarm—which would mean getting rid of the atomic weapons on which it had spent so much time and cash—there would have to be this kind of agreement:

Before any disarmament the big powers must agree on a foolproof system of checking to prevent cheating. This country backed the idea of international teams of inspectors free to roam around inside the territory of the big powers.

The Russians wouldn't buy. They traditionally had refused to let outsiders poke around inside Russia. Then last May, no doubt as part of their so-called new look, they agreed to inspection but in a very limited way.

They suggested international inspectors be stationed only at airfields, railroads and harbors. That left a lot of territory uninspected. The United States wouldn't buy.

Then in July at Geneva, Eisenhower offered his suggestion. After many weeks the Russians insisted they wanted Eisenhower to accept their idea of limited ground inspectors.

Eisenhower replied in effect: "All right, if it'll make you happy, I'll agree on limited inspection. But I want you to agree on the aerial inspection too. How about it?"

So far—no answer from the Russians. But there is a point which the Russians certainly would want cleared up which this country hasn't cleared up at all. The President had spoken of aerial inspection only over each other's territory.

He didn't say anything about letting the Russians inspect American overseas bases inside countries friendly to this country. Yet it is from those bases in the United States would hit Russia if the Soviets tried to attack.

Russian Foreign Minister Molotov at Geneva yesterday pointedly said the Soviet Union has liquidated "all its military bases on foreign soil"—in Finland and Manchuria.

Liquidation of the American overseas bases is one of the things the Russians want most. They placed liquidation of overseas bases. The United States doesn't argue that aerial inspection is the beginning and end of all agreement on disarmament.

It takes the position that that one of the early steps. The United States and Russia could be said to be a little closer than they were in the late 1940s.

But they are still so far apart that almost certainly it will be years before they reach a full agreement, if they ever do. They have to build up a lot more confidence in each other's good intentions than they have now.

Pvt. Vernon Coor In Army Maneuvers

CAMP POLK, La.—Pvt. Vernon Coor, son of Vernon I. Coor, R. One, Artesia, is scheduled to take part in Exercise Sage Brush, the largest Army-Air Force maneuver since World War II.

The exercise will be held in Louisiana Nov. 1-Dec. 15. Some 10,000 Army troops will test the latest concepts of atomic, bacterial, chemical and electronic warfare.

Private Coor, a mail clerk in the 7th Transportation Battalion's 528th Company, is regularly stationed at Fort Carson, Colo.

A graduate of Artesia High School, he entered the Army in February 1955 and completed basic training at Fort Carson.

YANKS BLANK CHAMPS
OSAKA, Japan (AP)—The New York Yankees today blanked the Nankai Hawks, pennant winners of Japan's Pacific League, 7-0.

Lefthander Tommy Byrne led the Yankee attack from the mound and with a two-run homer in the second inning.

Law of the Lord

I
 Thou shalt have no other gods before me.

II
 Thou shalt not make unto thee any graven image, or any likeness of any thing that is in heaven above, or that is in the earth beneath, or that is in the water that is under the earth: thou shalt not bow down thyself to them, nor serve them: for I the Lord thy God am a jealous God.

III
 Thou shalt not take the name of the Lord thy God in vain; for the Lord will not hold him guiltless that taketh His name in vain.

IV
 Remember the sabbath day, to keep it holy. Six days shalt thou labor, and do all thy work: but the seventh day is the sabbath of the Lord thy God: in it thou shalt not do any work, thou, nor thy son, nor thy daughter, thy manservant, nor thy maidservant, nor thy cattle, nor thy stranger that is within thy gates: for in six days the Lord made heaven and earth, the sea, and all that in them is, and rested the seventh day: wherefore the Lord blessed the sabbath day, and hallowed it.

V
 Honor thy father and thy mother: that thy days may be long upon the land which the Lord thy God giveth thee.

VI
 Thou shalt not kill.

VII
 Thou shalt not commit adultery.

VIII
 Thou shalt not steal.

IX
 Thou shalt not bear false witness against thy neighbour.

 Thou shalt not covet thy neighbour's house, thou shalt not covet thy neighbour's wife, nor his manservant, nor his maidservant, nor his ox, nor his ass, nor anything that is thy neighbour's.
