

Casualties Set Record

SAIGON (UPI)—Heavy fighting by U.S. Marines on the North-South Vietnam border sent American casualties soaring to a record high for the second straight week, military spokesmen said today. They said 2,941 Americans were killed, wounded or listed as missing last week.

This was 291 more than the record of 2,650 casualties the previous week when a joint American and Vietnamese force pushed into the border Demilitarized Zone (DMZ) for the first time in the war.

Spokesmen said 313 Americans were killed last week. Another 2,616 were wounded and 12 were reported missing for a total of 2,941 casualties.

A total of 337 Americans was killed the previous week, a record that sent U.S. combat deaths past the 10,000 mark.

The previous week's figure included 2,282 wounded and 31 missing. But officials later said a large number of the wounded were quickly returned to duty.

Spokesmen said four Communists died for every Allied soldier killed in combat. They said 2,216 Communists were killed last week.

South Vietnamese troops reported they lost 212 dead and other Free World forces lost 29.

The increasing tempo of the war also was reflected in air action. Spokesmen said 36 U.S. planes were shot down in May, the highest monthly total of the war.

The previous high was last July when 33 American planes were reported lost.

American pilots reported shooting down 27 Communist MIG fighters in May—also a record.

North Vietnam claimed it shot down 148 U.S. planes in May and damaged 16 American warships.

U.S. pilots pounded North Vietnam with a record 112 raids Wednesday and Communist gunners shot down another Navy A4 Skyhawk. It was the 565th plane shot down over North Vietnam.

The pilot was missing and feared dead.

The new casualty figures in ground fighting sent the number of Americans killed, wounded or missing in the war to 74,648 including 10,566 dead.

Britain's Wilson Flying To Canada for Mideast Talk

Friday Conference Set With Johnson

By WALTER LOGAN
United Press International

British Prime Minister Harold Wilson flew across the Atlantic today for emergency talks with President Johnson and Canadian Prime Minister Lester Pearson on the Middle East crisis and the East-West cold war it threatens to revive.

Wilson was reported aiming at a grand alliance of maritime powers to secure free shipping through the Gulf of Aqaba, blocked by the United Arab Republic.

"I think everyone realizes that last weekend we were very much on the brink of a most serious explosion which could have escalated," Wilson told newsmen at London Airport.

"I think the restraint which we urged did operate because of the feeling that other action was being taken to ensure that the Gulf of Aqaba remained open," he said.

As Wilson flew to keep a date with Pearson in Ottawa and with Johnson in Washington Friday, American, Soviet and British warships sailed in and towards the troubled waters near the Holy Land where the Israeli-Arab confrontation was in its 18th day with no solution in sight.

Soviet support of the Arabs, Arab charges of Anglo-American policy being pro-Israel and the Gulf blockade made the crisis a worldwide worry. It involved the superpowers as well as the Arab and the Israelis, whose armies still stood poised for combat.

At the United Nations and elsewhere diplomats reported no success thus far in solving the crisis that many considered capable of putting America and Russia on collision course.

In Cairo, where Egyptians hailed Soviet support and busily worked for unprecedented Arab unity against Israel, the semi-official newspaper Al-Ahram painted President Johnson as a major villain in the crisis. It accused the U.S. chief of state of directing personally a pro-Israeli "imperialist" military, economic, political and psychological campaign against the United Arab Republic.

Leaders Worried
In Jerusalem, Israel, worried Israeli leaders moved to call back to military power Gen. Moshe Dayan, the one-eyed national hero of the 1956 destruction of Egyptian armies in the Sinai desert.

At sea the warships moved. Invariably officials called the movements routine. But their presence in the Middle East at (See MIDEAST, Page 3)

Goldberg Backs 'Breathing Spell' Proposal in U.N.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI)—A simple American resolution calling for a "breathing spell" in the Middle East appeared headed for defeat in the U.N. Security Council.

Soviet Ambassador Nikolai T. Fedorenko made it clear he would not hesitate to use the 105th Russian veto, if necessary, to support Arab objections to the resolution.

The time could come Friday when the council meets again. Fedorenko and U.S. Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg clashed repeatedly during Security Council discussion of the crisis Wednesday. Their remarks were laced with un concealed sarcasm.

Goldberg referred cuttingly to Fedorenko's habit of quoting Chinese proverbs.

"On legal questions," Goldberg said, "the distinguished representative of the Soviet Union speaks like the great authority on Chinese literature that indeed he is. I will leave him to rely on Chinese proverbs and I shall continue to rely on international law."

The U.S. resolution asks both sides "as a first step" to heed Secretary General Thant's appeal for a "breathing spell." It urged the council to encourage "the immediate pursuit of international diplomacy in the interests of pacifying the situation and seeking reasonable, peaceful and just solutions."

The Arab nations represented by the United Arab Republic objected to the proposal, possibly because it represented a threat to the Egyptian blockade of the Aqaba Gulf against Israeli shipping.

'Copters Make Historic Trip

PARIS (UPI)—Two U.S. Air Force helicopters landed before a cheering crowd at Le Bourget Airfield today after a nonstop trip from New York, the first direct helicopter flight ever made across the Atlantic.

The trip took 29 hours and 48 minutes. They landed at 6:35 a.m. CDT.

The Sikorsky HH3E "Jolly Green Giant" helicopters flew the same course Charles A. Lindbergh used 40 years ago when he made aviation history by flying solo nonstop in the "Spirit of St. Louis."

The helicopters carried crews of five men each from the 48th Aerospace Rescue and Recovery Squadron of Eglin Air Force Base, Fla.

The trip stole the show at the Paris International Air Exposition when the two copters landed opposite the U.S. pavilion at Le Bourget field.

The choppers are one of America's most important aircraft in the Vietnam war. Flying out of Thailand, the "Jolly Green Giants" are used in rescuing downed pilots in North Vietnam.

Dozens have been fired at. At least two have been shot down in combat.

The United Aircraft Corp., one of the American exhibitors at the air show, announced Wednesday that the U.S. Air Force promised a "history-making surprise" for today.

U.S. Department of Defense officials refused to confirm the helicopters were en route and insisted the "surprise" would be announced today.

However, it was learned the huge choppers left New York shortly after midnight, CDT.

Mortgage Rate Fall Not Expected Now

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Prospective homebuyers are in for some bad news this summer—mortgage interest rates are not going to be falling as much as had been hoped.

That was the significance of Wednesday's announcement by the Federal Home Loan Bank Board that the nation's $500 Federal Savings and Loan Associations will be permitted to keep paying savers the same high rates of interest after June 30 that they have been paying since last year.

With some exceptions for big cities and for California, Nevada, Hawaii and Alaska, the Savings and Loan Associations (known as S & Ls) can go on paying 4.75 per cent a year to passbook savers and 5.25 per cent to holders of savings certificates.

This is fine for savers but not so nice for anyone who wants to finance a home this summer.

The Home Loan Bank Board took the action so that the S & Ls could continue to hold their own in competition for the saver's dollar with the banks and, more importantly, the money markets.

But the problem is that if S & Ls have to pay more for their money—or cannot pay less—then they will also have to charge more for a mortgage, or at least not reduce their mortgage lending rates.

Administration Investigating Price And Quality of Prescription Drugs

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Johnson had the drug industry and its critics puzzled today over the administration's entry into the fight over higher quality of prescription drugs at lower prices.

The Department of Health, Education and Welfare (HEW) announced Wednesday that a task force would recommend in six months whether Medicare coverage for 17 million elderly Americans should be extended to cover rising prescription drug prices.

But Congress may decide the issue before the task force gets off the ground. The Senate Finance Committee will hold hearings this summer on just such a Medicare extension.

Dr. Philip R. Lee, assistant HEW secretary and chairman of the task force, said that even if the study is incomplete HEW will take a stand anyway on the finance committee bills this summer. One bill would finance Medicare coverage of drugs by increasing from $3 to $4 the cost of monthly premiums for the voluntary doctor bills.

insurance program for Americans 65 and over.

Generic Drugs Cheaper
Sponsored by Sen. Joseph Montoya, D-N.M., the bill would cost $300 million a year and would provide that generic drugs rather than the expensive brand name products be used whenever possible. Without generics, the estimated cost would be more than $500 million.

Another committee bill is sponsored by Chairman Russell B. Long, D-La., the Senate's leading critic of the drug industry. It would spur generic purchasing for all federally connected welfare programs.

Both the Long and Montoya bills aimed at what is generally agreed upon as the heart of the issue—quality of generics and trade name drugs. The measures would create a federal board of physicians and scientists to grade the quality of all drugs used in the program. The government would pay only the cost of generic drugs for a Medicare or welfare patient unless the trade name product had proven superiority.

The drug industry, represented by the Pharmaceutical Manufacturers Association (PMA), is campaigning against both the Long and Montoya bills. Increased sales of generics would cut into trade name drug profits.

Gov. Connally Predicts Tax Bill in '68

AUSTIN (UPI)—Gov. John Connally said Wednesday "I think we will be looking at a tax bill next year," but a special legislative session on the matter would probably come after the first of the year.

"I'm not going to speculate on the magnitude or the source" of the tax bill, he said, disagreeing with reporters' comments that $150 million would be required, probably from a state sales tax increase.

"The prospects for holding it (special session) this fall are not very good. My thinking is that it will be after the first of the year sometime," he said.

The governor was mum on plans for a fourth term.

He called the 1967 session "a basically good session," but with some "disappointments."

Passage of a $4 billion state budget for 1968 "more nearly reflects my recommendations than any appropriations bill since I have been governor," he said.

Other successes he listed were highway safety, air and water pollution control, industrial safety and water legislation.

"I was disappointed that we didn't pass liquor by the drink," he said.

The governor said he would have a "very careful" look at a bill increasing legislative retirement benefits by 50 per cent.

He said he thought the manner in which it was done "is open to question."

Connally also indicated some doubts about Senate action in voting themselves $1,000 a month expense accounts.

Of $125,000 appropriated for maintenance of the governor's state-owned airplane, Connally said "I didn't know it was in there."

Police Lt. Robinson Turns in Resignation

Charging that his recommendations and suggestions for eliminating departmental "deficiencies and adverse working conditions" had been ignored, Lt. Bill Robinson, a 13-year member of the Pampa police department, submitted his resignation late yesterday to Chief Jim Conner.

Robinson also sent copies of his letter of resignation to Mayor Jim Nation, City Manager Jim White and City Commissioners Hugh Burdette, M. McDaniel, Joe Taylor, Elmer Radcliff and The Pampa News.

The letter follows:

"Dear Chief Conner:

"For the past 13 years I have served on the Pampa Police Department, first as a patrolman, then as lieutenant, in what latter capacity I have served since Jan. 1, 1961.

"I have tried, on several occasions, to bring to your attention the deficiencies and adverse working conditions within the department. You have elected to ignore my suggestions regarding procedures within the department which are in need of improvement and your consistent answer has been, 'If your men don't like it, they can quit.'"

"It appears to me that your attitude has never wavered in this respect. I herewith submit this notice of my resignation to become effective June 15, 1967 at 3 p.m.

(Signed) Bill Robinson."

Robinson stated he would finish his actual duty with the department tomorrow evening. He stated the remainder of the period before his resignation becomes effective would be earned vacation time.

The police lieutenant declined to elaborate on the charges in his letter, other than to indicate what he was talking about was common knowledge among other members of the department.

"I just decided I could no longer work under existing conditions," Robinson added.

When asked for his comment on the resignation, Chief Conner said:

"I had a dissatisfied employee and he resigned. I accepted his resignation."

Conner was asked if he knew what deficiencies Robinson was talking about in his letter of resignation.

"The only thing he said anything to me about, Conner stated, 'was the matter of rotation of shifts. But he had been told a week or so ago that I was working on this problem and it is something that can't be resolved.'"

U.S. Has Supplied Military Aid To 10 Countries Backing Egypt

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The United States has supplied at least $345.9 million in military aid to 10 of the Arab countries backing Egypt in its showdown with Israel, a review of Pentagon reports showed today.

Additional undisclosed millions of dollars worth of U.S. military equipment have been purchased by Arab nations outside the military assistance program.

Israel itself, according to reports through the 1966 fiscal year, has received $27.6 million worth of U.S. military aid. It also has placed orders for what the Pentagon described as a "modest amount" of military sales, including Hawk missiles, aircraft, recoilless rifles, small arms and other weapons, ammunition, vehicles, and communication and other equipment.

Israel has yet to receive the 24 F4 fighter-bombers the United States promised to sell her a few months ago.

The State Department Wednesday declined to say whether arms shipments would stop to Israel and Jordan, which under a new military pact has pledged its U.S.-equipped army to support Egypt.

Even if a stop order were issued today on U.S. arms shipments to the Mideast, American weapons would figure prominently on both sides of any Arab-Israeli clash.

The Soviet Union, with large shipments to Egypt and its more militant allies, is the major supplier of the Arab armed forces.

But the United States through the 1966 fiscal year had provided military aid in varying degrees to these members of the Arab league:

—Iraq received $46.6 million in U.S. military grants, most of it in the 1953-58 period.

—Jordan received $55.6 million under the military aid program, including $40.6 million in grants and $15 million in credits.

—Lebanon received $8.7 million worth of grants and purchased a relatively small amount outside the aid program.

—Libya, site of Wheelus Air Force base, received $12.5 million in military aid grants.

—Morocco received $37.3 million in military assistance, with $31.3 million in grants and $6 million in credits.

—Saudi Arabia is the major Arab recipient of U.S. military aid with a total of $161.7 million, most of it in credits.

—Tunisia received $19.8 million worth of military aid, including $18.8 million in grants and $1 million in credits.

Army Presents Rebuttal In Court Martial of Doctor

FT. JACKSON, S.C. (UPI)—A civilian surgeon told an Army courtmartial board Wednesday that Green Beret medics showed a "good deal of interest and ethics" in the treatment of sick and wounded in Vietnam.

The testimony came as the government presented rebuttal witnesses to Capt. Howard Levy's contention that he had a legal right to refuse to train the medics to treat skin diseases prevalent in the humid climate of Southeast Asia.

Testimony covering more than 2,000 pages was expected to end today with the 10-officer board possibly beginning its deliberations Friday. Levy, a dermatologist from Brooklyn, N.Y., is charged with disloyalty and refusing to obey an order.

His conviction on both counts could bring a maximum sentence of 11 years in prison.

Dr. Edward E. Kimbrough, a Columbia, S.C., physician who spent two months in Vietnam as a volunteer doctor, said U.S. Special Forces were doing a good job and he would "have no hesitation to train them."

Several doctors testified this week that they had grave ethical reservations over the teaching of medicine to persons whose main mission is to kill. Some said they would refuse an order similar to the one Levy disobeyed.

Maj. Billy E. Jones, chief of the dermatology clinic at Ft. Gordon, Ga., said he has taught Green Beret medics the past and refusing to obey an order.

MODERN FREEWAYS can sure handle the traffic these days, even though things tend to bunch up sometimes. Motorists are slowed occasionally at Thousand Oaks, Calif., when shepherds move their flocks out to pasture. Cars back up for blocks, but oddly enough, motorists don't seem to mind. The strange sight actually appears to relax and entertain them.

Four Treated After Accident

Four persons were treated and released from Highland General Hospital early Thursday morning following a one-car accident in the 300 block of W. Brown.

According to a Pampa police report, a car driven by James David True, 33, Borger, turned off of Frederic onto Brown and went across the roadway, slammed into a picket fence at the El Capri Motel, then hit the side of a building at Pampa Tent and Awning Company.

True and passengers, Juanita Gray, 27, Pampa, Bob Cecil, Borger, and Richard McGee, 52, N. Ward, were all treated and released at the hospital following the accident about 1:15 a.m.

True was charged by investigating officer S. B. Patterson with exceeding a safe speed.

CoC Postpones Group Meeting On Agriculture

The Pampa Chamber of Commerce agricultural committee meeting originally scheduled for today was postponed because it conflicted with a district county agents' meeting.

Four Pampans attending the district one meeting in Amarillo today to discuss 4-H work are County Agent Foster Whaley, Home Demonstration Agent, Miss Jimmie Lou Wainwright, Ben Johnson and Mrs. Gail Nunez, assistant agents.

'KASH' Explained To Rotary Club

Frank Patterson spelled out "K-A-S-H" in describing successful selling to members of the Rotary Club yesterday in the Coronado Inn.

"Each letter represents an important factor," he said, "K for knowledge, A for attitude, S for skill and H for habit."

He also stressed that 75 per cent of ideas put forth are by 25 per cent of the people.

Patterson, who heads Patterson Customer Relations and Sales Clinic, will conduct a clinic in Pampa later this month.

It was also announced that the club's annual installation Banquet would be held Tuesday evening, June 27 in the Inn.

Nixon Must Shed 'Loser Label' to Command Support at '68 GOP Convention

By RAYMOND LAHR
United Press International
WASHINGTON (UPI) — A short and simple answer is being offered to Republicans who believe that 1968 presidential primaries will be as meaningless as pre-season baseball games.

The answer goes like this: "Nixon must show he can win." Richard M. Nixon, former vice president and a tireless campaigner for Republicans support for another try for the presidency. But he was defeated by a thin margin in his first try in 1960 and then soundly beaten as a candidate for governor of California in 1962.

Hence he must shed the "loser" label to command the support of a majority of the delegates to the 1968 GOP national convention. Favorite Son Season With that convention still 15 months away, this is still the season to talk about favorite son candidates and uncommitted delegations. This attitude tends to vanish when candidates win key primaries. Barry M. Goldwater's 1964 victory in California clinched the presidential nomination for him despite earlier defeats in New Hampshire and Oregon. A long look ahead indicates that the more important Republican primaries next year will come in New Hampshire, Wisconsin, Nebraska and Oregon. Collisions between Nixon and Gov. George Romney of Michigan appear likely in all of those states, and they probably will confront other possible candidates in Nebraska and Oregon. Despite the slippage shown after his easy reelection in November, recent public opinion polls have indicated that Romney is back in front. But much can happen in 15 months setbacks for Romney or Nixon, a surge of interest in such back-up candidates as Sen. Charles H. Percy of Illinois and Gov.

Ronald Reagan of California. Republicans for Progress, an organization with a list to the liberal side, said in its April newsletter last week that much nonsense already had been spoken and written about 1968. It added that any aspirant for the White House could expect to be much written and talked about "no matter how fuzzy and inconclusive the presidential picture is bound to be so far in advance of the fact." The newsletter said that the Republican presidential primary would win the second in Wisconsin. A dissent has been heard from Rep. Melvin R. Laird of Wisconsin, chairman of the House GOP caucus. He thinks Romney has the edge in Wisconsin if the primary were held now.

Teen Girls Fight Weight War

THERE IS SOME FORM of exercise every day at Camp Seaside. This active group is having the waves for a bit of natural excitement. The girls also have talks about fashion, poise and personal elegance.

By PATRICIA KING
Beauty Editor

NEW YORK (NEA) — Appalling as it may seem, there are several million young people in America today who are handicapped by extreme overweight.

To help combat this serious national health problem and at the same time give help to many young girls, Camp Seaside on Cape Cod was organized. It was founded primarily to provide consistent motivation, guidance, education, diet and abundant activity to help put the obese young girl on the hard road to normal weight.

In re-educating the campers, their attention to food and eating is diverted. "It is very important to replace the calories we take away with something else. The something else need not be edible, however. It need only be an interest in something else. Instead of a full stomach we prefer an interest in a full life," explained Dr. John Spargo, director of Seaside.

Upon their arrival at Seaside, campers are organized, by age, into groups. They live, compete and work together as campers, therefore making it easy for them to understand their common problem.

Actual weight is de-emphasized. The emphasis being placed rather on dress size and appearance. This is the realistic approach as far as the girls are concerned, here they see results.

According to Mrs. Peckos, nutritionist at the camp, "We do not advocate dietary foods as a remedy for obesity. More is to be gained by teaching these overweight children how to use ordinary foods and get back to normal weight. Portion control is the watchword."

success of diet control after they leave camp.

Adolescent obesity is a serious illness and parents can help the child only if they take proper interest in their child's weight problem.

Dr. Spargo points out that, "rearing a child is like growing a petunia. You can never make an orchid out of it but you can help it grow well and proudly."

Dear Abby
By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of a widowed mother who dresses and undresses with her bedroom door wide open? That is exactly what our mother does. She has a small, but beautiful figure, and we all know it, but does she have to show it off in front of her children?

When I remind her she has a 20-year-old son in the house, she says, "So what? He doesn't pay any attention to me!" I am 14 and have much more modesty than my mother. Please tell me what I can do about this terrible situation as it is getting worse every day.

EMBARRASSED DAUGHTER

DEAR DAUGHTER: Your obvious annoyance over the possibility that Big Brother might catch a glimpse of Mamma's "small but beautiful figure" gives me more cause for alarm than anything else. Quietly close Mamma's bedroom door while she's dressing and don't make a federal case out of an attractive nuisance.

DEAR ABBY: We recently moved to a new city. In our former city we knew a girl who babysat for us. She came from a very poor family in all respects. She has at least average intelligence and good moral values, although the only time she ever attended church was with us. Now the girl is pregnant at 16. Thank God she isn't considering marriage. Her immediate family has dissociated themselves from her, and she is now living with a divorced aunt who is apparently more interested in her as a housekeeper than anything else. My wife and I are considering asking this girl to live with us. All we would ask is that she finish high school and stay out of trouble. If she decided to go on to college, we would send her. We feel that a fresh start in a new community may be just what she needs. On the other hand, could we be asking for more than we can handle? Sometimes when people stick their noses into places they shouldn't they get no thanks and lots of grief. So far we haven't made the offer. What do you think?

ANONYMOUS
DEAR ANONYMOUS: I say, give the girl a chance. Invite her to make her home with you and see her through her unfortunate situation. If your efforts are appreciated and she appears to respond, do whatever you can for her. But make only one "offer" at a time.

DEAR ABBY: My 11-year-old daughter read your plea for mail to lonely service men, so she wrote to one and sent it to the address you had in your column. I am inclosing part of the reply she received from her "pen-pal":

"Dear Mary: 'First I want to thank you for being concerned about the GIs overseas and their lack of mail. It is girls like you who are interested enough in giving some of their personal time that makes this place a little easier to bear.'

"I am stationed at an air field in southern Thailand. Perhaps you aren't old enough to know about Vietnam and what we are doing over here. We are fighting for what we Americans believe in. Freedom. — I hope we will never have to fight for it on United States soil."

"I have 9 months (to go) before returning to the United States to be discharged. As you might guess, I will be a happy man. I don't enjoy being separated from my wife."

"Write only if you have time. As I remember, I had a lot of

POLLY'S POINTERS Work From Bottom Up Cleaning Siding

By POLLY CRAMER

By POLLY CRAMER
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
DEAR POLLY — I am answering Mrs. C. L. who wanted to know how to clean the aluminum siding on her house. Work from the bottom up to avoid streaks. Soak an area about three feet wide and six feet up with the garden hose turned on very low. Apply warm, rich detergent solution with a sponge and then rinse with clear water from the hose. Work quickly and the results will be beautiful.

—MRS. J. J. S.

Polly's Problem
DEAR POLLY — I washed two wool sweaters according to the instructions that came with them. As they were drying, the dye from the contrasting color ran onto the white so I want to homework when I was in 7th grade. No matter how much you may dislike it, as a favor to me, Mary, promise me you'll work hard in school. Is that asking too big a favor?"

Isn't this beautiful, Abby? A young married GI taking time out from a shooting war to write to a little 11-year-old school girl.

HER MOTHER
DEAR MOTHER: Yes. Aren't people wonderful?

know if there is any way to remove this dye off the white wool.

—MRS. J. P.

DEAR POLLY — I discovered a use for two-year-old's car bed, which he no longer needs. I opened it up, taped the legs open and use it for a toy box. It is just the right height and holds much more than an average-sized box. I put a piece of cardboard in the bottom so it does not sag.

—KATHY

DEAR POLLY — I want to tell Banya that I use nylon net to remove the lint from nylon sweaters. Make a big ball of the net and brush the sweater to remove lint, as well as the "balls" off of wool sweaters. Also I use nylon net for washing windows, bathtub, wash bowl and woodwork. Try it. I read the Pointers even if I do not have time to read the news and get lots of help from them.

—MRS. L. Z.

DEAR POLLY — I now have a too-long slip so it can be bloused or pulled up a bit.

All the Polly's Pointers for the past month, a scrapbook and a roll of magic tape recently made a bride very happy.

Search For Identity Causes Concern Among Young People

Woman to Woman.

By PATRICIA MCCORMACK
United Press International

NEW YORK (UPI) — They know their names, area codes, social security numbers, zip codes, addresses and checking account numbers.

But today's college students, despite such identification, are deeply worried over their search for identity.

A United Press International poll of contestants in the annual National College Queen pageant showed the search for identity the most pressing problem along academic trail.

Lower moral standards — "sex without love" — is the second biggest worry among students, according to the survey. As one put it:

"Sex without love causes all too many guilts, frustrations, and crises in an already critical period of a person's life."

Moral laxity, accepted by fellow students, was cited by another collegian, who said:

"To be accepted or have a good time, students often give in to the pressures applied by others."

"Unless this can be corrected, it threatens to destroy our society. Each generation tends to imitate the preceding one, only usually they become a bit more liberal."

If the trend continues, according to the collegian, anarchy will result.

Stress Individuality

Other comments from students asked to describe "the most important problem facing college students today":

"Individuality. Students floundering in school are searching for purpose. If they permit themselves to think about stressing unique characteristics that they possess instead of following the crowd they would benefit greatly."

"College students today have a tremendous need for self expression and they must have a constructive avenue for doing this. I think the problem stems from the fact that the world is moving at such a rapid pace and we feel as though we are caught in the undertow, and must get out before it is too late. The only thing they know is—rebel."

Pressures of all sorts repeatly were listed among the problems. Pressures for high grades, social pressures and even some pressure of a physical sort from crowded corridors and classrooms.

CHERRY CAKE for teen-age parties.

Cherry Cake Pleases Active Young Ones

By GAYNOR MADDOX
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
A reader with two teenaged sons sent us a bright red recipe which she says her children always want when their friends come to the house for a party. We tried it. It's the goody type favored by active young people. Very, very cherry and very, very good.

CHERRY UPSIDE-DOWN CAKE
1/4 cup margarine
2 tablespoons sugar
1 (1 pound) can sour cherries, drained with 1/4 cup juice reserved for sauce
1 cup minus 2 tablespoons sifted flour
2 tablespoons corn starch
1 teaspoon baking powder
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 cup margarine
1/2 cup sugar
1 egg, well-beaten
1/4 teaspoon vanilla
1/4 teaspoon almond extract
1/4 cup milk
2 tablespoons sugar
1 1/2 tablespoons corn starch
Reserved cherry juice. . .

Melt 1/4 cup margarine in small saucepan. Add 2 tablespoons sugar; bring to boil, stirring until sugar is dissolved. Spread in bottom of 1 (8x8x2-inch) baking pan. Cover with drained cherries. Set aside.

Sift flour, 2 tablespoons corn starch, baking powder and salt together. Blend margarine and sugar in mixing bowl. Add egg, blending until smooth. Add vanilla and almond extract. Stir in sifted flour mixture alternately with milk, beginning and ending with flour and mixing.

*Porch Party
Perfect With Potato Salad*

Porch party potluck is a family affair where platters of cold meats, potato salad, and deviled eggs are carried to porch or backyard for a leisurely meal. It takes only minutes to arrange a platter attractively and the eye appealing result is well worth the extra time.

SOUR CREAM POTATO SALAD
Yield: 8 servings
5 cups cooked diced potatoes
1/2 cup finely diced cucumber
1 tablespoon finely diced onion
1 teaspoon celery seed
2 teaspoons salt
6 eggs, hard-cooked
1/2 cup dairy sour cream
1/4 cup salad dressing
2 tablespoons vinegar
1 teaspoon prepared mustard
Toss together lightly the potatoes, cucumber, onion, and seasonings. Remove yolks from eggs. Chop egg whites and add to potato mixture. Press egg yolks through a sieve and combine with sour cream, salad dressing, vinegar, and mustard. Fold dressing mixture into potatoes. Chill well. Serve with a variety of Swift's Premium Sliced Luncheon Meats.

It's A Wise Bride Who Knows To Serve Her Man Beef And Often

By GAYNOR MADDOX
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

In many new American homes beef, not music, seems to be the food of love. As a balanced diet requires at least two servings a day of beef, lamb, pork, poultry, fish or seafood, and as most young husbands say they like beef best, it's a wise bride who serves it often — for enjoyment and health.

HE-MAN BEEF STEW
2 pounds boneless beef for stew, cut in 1 1/2 inch pieces
2 tablespoons flour
2 teaspoons salt
1/4 cup lard or drippings
1/4 teaspoon pepper
1 1/2 cups hot water
2 bay leaves
1/2 cup uncooked elbow macaroni
1 can (16 ounces) tomatoes

3 medium carrots, cut in julienne strips
1 package (10 ounces) frozen Italian green beans, cooked and drained. . .

Combine salt, flour and pepper. Dredge meat in seasoned flour. Brown in lard or drippings. Pour off drippings. Add hot water and bay leaves. Cover tightly and cook slowly 1 1/2 hours. Discard bay leaves. Add macaroni, tomatoes and carrots. Cover and continue cooking 30 minutes or until meat and vegetables are tender. Add cooked green beans and cook until heated through.

The peanut is a legume, not a nut.

The original territory of Virginia was established in 1609.

Banana Bran Muffins . . .

Highlight Breakfast

A moist, tender muffin can make any breakfast a real joy for the bread lover in the family. These Banana Bran Flake Muffins will readily prove this point. They are rich tasting but not too rich because of their small amount of fat. Mashed banana contributes moistness. Dieters, in fact, will find they can be savored without spreading with butter or jelly. A cup of bran flakes poured from your cereal package on the shelf provides toasty flavor and sturdy texture, plus a bonus of nutrition. Cereals are economical sources of food energy, protein, minerals, and the B vitamins.

Banana Bran Flake Muffins
1 1/2 cups sifted flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup sugar
1 egg, beaten
1/4 cup melted shortening or oil
1/4 cup milk
1 cup mashed bananas
1 cup bran flakes
Combine flour, baking powder, salt, and sugar; sift into mixing bowl. Add egg, shortening, milk, and bananas; stir just until dry ingredients are moistened. Fold in cereal. Fill greased muffin pans (2 1/2 x 1 1/2 inches) 3/4 full. Bake in hot oven (400° F.) until done, 18 to 20 minutes.
Yield: 12 muffins.

Try Beer Soup Served In Mug

By GAYNOR MADDOX
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Bee in soup? Why not. For centuries European mothers have been making beer soups for their families. Today, the idea is catching on with Americans, too.

We've selected two really delicious combinations of beer and canned soups that you'll like, we think. They have very special flavor, body and are something new and easy to prepare. Good for a soup and sandwich supper on the porch or patio or in the air-conditioned dining room.

HOT POTATO-BEER MUG
1 can (10 1/2 ounces) condensed

cream of potato soup
1/2 cup can beer

1/4 soup can milk
Snipped chives

In blender, combine soup, beer and milk. Blend until smooth. Heat, but do not boil, stir now and then. Serve hot in mugs. Garnish with chives. Makes 2 to 3 servings.

Soviets Begin Discrediting Of Defection

MOSCOW (UPI)—The long expected campaign to discredit Svetlana Alliluyeva apparently started today. A Moscow newspaper called her a "defector" and said she is "as unhappy as a prisoner" in America.

The Komsomolskaya Pravda reprinted an angry article from the French Communist newspaper L'Humanite D. M. A. which accused Josef Stalin's daughter of "helping operations aimed against her country."

The Moscow newspaper added its own preface, charging that "agents of special services of the United States are directly uninvolved with the new best seller"—Svetlana's coming autobiography.

The French article managed to make Svetlana appear both innocent and venal at the same time.

Quoting reports she only wants to live in peace, it added, "wonderful sentiments always rouse some sort of anxiety when they are decorated with a dollar."

Her decision to go to America was "unusual" because "she has chosen a country where Negro children are imprisoned for stealing half a loaf of bread, a country which supports all fascist regimes in the world," the article said.

Americans "cooked up everything" about Svetlana's defection while she was still in India, it said.

When Svetlana flew from New Delhi, after burying her Indian husband, to Rome to Switzerland, the Soviets issued a brisk statement left the door open for abroad and "how long she stays abroad is her own affair." Her intentions were not known. The statement left the door open for her return if she wished.

But since she went to America a campaign to discredit

Foreign Commentary

By HENRY SHAPIRO
 United Press International

MOSCOW (UPI)—Observers surprised the Kremlin has decided on a display of naval power in the Mediterranean waters of the war-threatened Middle East.

Because of Russia's strong support of the Arab cause in the crisis, the observers said, the Soviet ships will probably be given full use of Syrian and Egyptian ports.

These ports have always been denied to the United States 6th Fleet in the Mediterranean. An American flotilla has moved from bases in Italy to the eastern Mediterranean. British ships are also standing by in the area.

Ironically, in reaching the Middle East, the Soviet ships are making use of the same kind of right that Egypt is now denying Israel in the Gulf of Aquaba by blocking the Tiran Strait.

Straits Are Vital
 The Russian fleet must pass through the Turkish controlled straits of the Bosphorus and Dardanelles.

The Soviet Union would probably go to war if it were denied this vital passage to its Black Sea ports.

The principle of free navigation of international waterways was strengthened by the Geneva agreement of 1958 which specifically provided for the right of "innocent passage" through the Tiran Strait.

The Soviet Union and the United States subscribed to that agreement. Egypt did not.

Formally, Moscow has not committed itself on the legality—or lack of it—of the Egyptian blockade.

The Russians would also be blocked in the Baltic and the Gulf of Finland if the Danes and Swedes chose to block the narrow Skagerrak passage. The straits were opened to international passage two centuries ago, partly as a result of frequent wars between Russia and Turkey.

Montreux Convention
 The present rights stem from the Montreux Convention of 1936, signed by Turkey, the Soviet Union, Great Britain, France, Bulgaria, Romania, Austria.

Under the convention which was renewed in 1956, merchant vessels of all nations have the right of passage through the straits in peace or wartime.

Black Sea powers have freedom of passage for all their warships, while other nations may send through only small warships.

In wartime, if Turkey is not a belligerent, passage of warships of belligerent nations is forbidden.

The Soviet Union was not satisfied with Turkey's position in World War II and frequently accused the Turks of violating the Montreux Convention by letting enemy warships enter the Black Sea.

After the war, the Russians demanded the right to have a voice in the control of the defenses on Turkish shores. But Turkey, with the support of the North Atlantic Allies, refused and preserved the status quo of Montreux.

WITH MIKE EPSTEIN, THE MOST CELEBRATED ROOKIE IN BASEBALL, IT'S NOT A QUESTION OF ABILITY (HE HIT .309 AT ROCHESTER) — BUT THE CHANCE TO USE IT ON A TEAM LIKE THE ORIOLES!

Dickson Leads US In British Golf Play

FORMBY, England (UPI)—Favorite Bob Dickson led a field of nine Americans, all but two of them Walker Cuppers, into today's fourth round of the British Amateur golf championship.

The schedule also called for the survivors to play the fifth round this afternoon over the course.

Things have moved quickly for Dickson, the bespectacled golfer from Muskogee, Okla. No sooner did he polish off England's Rodney James 5 and 4 Wednesday when he found himself in the favorite's role.

Dickson went to England the No. 2 seed and advanced to the top seed when top-ranked Bill Campbell of Huntington, W.Va., was upset by Tim Bull, a sales executive, Tuesday.

The spotlight didn't appear to bother the cool-headed Dickson, who drew Scotland's Hugh Frazer for his fourth round opponent.

"I think I can win this one," said Dickson, who went out in 34 Wednesday to be three up and made it five with birdies on the 10th and 11th holes.

Besides Dickson, the other Walker Cuppers who advanced into the fourth round were Jim Grant of Wethersfield, Conn.; Ron Cerrudo of San Rafael.

Deadline Set For PCC Tourney

Golfers have only until Friday to qualify for the annual partnership tournament scheduled Saturday and Sunday at Pampa Country Club.

Golfers, either male or female will play 18 holes each on Saturday and Sunday with low ball being played on Saturday and scotch with selective drive Sunday.

Dr. Frank Kelley and Jim Tripplehorn are defending champions.

LADY KEGLERS

COLUMBUS, Ohio (UPI)—Six members of the Women's International Bowling Congress have been chosen to participate in the sixth Federation Internationale Des Quilleurs world tournament in Malmö, Sweden, July 3-8.

Those who will compete are Mrs. Carol Miller, Miss Helen Weston, Miss Vivian Trumper, Miss Eleanor Jones, Miss Jean Staley and Mrs. Alice Nye.

Parnelli Couldn't Believe It

By MILTON RICHMAN

INDIANAPOLIS (UPI)—Sitting there, staring straight down at the floor with his heart breaking in a million tiny pieces, poor Parnelli Jones looked for all the world exactly the way wretched Ralph Branca did 16 years ago.

Jones was sitting in his garage, only it was far more like a funeral parlor.

Andy Granatelli, the usually exuberant owner of the million dollar, turbine-engineered racer which failed Jones only after four laps from the end of the Memorial Day 500-mile classic, had tears in his eyes.

His wife, Dolly, also was crying and Jones looked like he'd join them both any minute.

State Of Shock

Like Branca, who simply sat and sat and sat long after Bobby Thomson hit that home run off him in 1951, Jones was in a state of shock for nearly half an hour after Wednesday's race and couldn't bring himself to believe it.

Outside on the track, less than 200 yards away from where he sat in his inconsolable misery, they were cheering the new champion, A. J. Foyt.

If Jones heard the cheers, he never showed it. He never even moved a muscle.

"It was the gear box," muttered the dejected, 33-year-old driver when he finally decided to talk with someone. "I had no advance warning. All I was trying to do was get enough lead to come home comfortably. But the bearing went out in the quick-change box and that caused the gears to go."

Jones led the race for 173 laps and was a shoo-in at the time his trouble occurred.

He was such a shoo-in that Jackie Stewart, who had been forced out with 18 laps back in his pit, talked about how glad he was that Jones was going to be the winner.

"He deserves it," said Stewart. "He drove a superb race."

Foyt, running second at the time, also figured Jones for a sure winner.

"I told myself I was gonna finish second, Foyt confessed after they handed him the winner's trophy which Parnelli Jones figured he had all wrapped up.

"I was going real slow those last few laps simply trying to keep my position. That's what saved me from getting involved in that three-car smack-up at the end. If I was going faster, I would've been right in the middle of it."

Jones, of course, didn't hear all this where he was. He watched silently as four mechanics went over his car looking for the cause of the trouble in much the same way coroners perform an autopsy.

"Your biggest disappointment," someone asked Jones. "He rumbled a moment before answering, then said:

"I'd have to say it was pretty large. I led this race twice before I won in 1963. I lost my brakes in 1962. That was a big disappointment, too. But maybe this is my biggest. Who measures things like that?" "When did you know you had it?" was another question fired at Jones.

"Well, when you pull the car outta gear and you can't get it back in, you might as well give up," he said.

"I dunno," he went on, "when you're only four laps away and you're running under the caution flag like we were, and you still don't win. I guess you're not meant to. That's all I can figure."

Before the race even started, there was much criticism over the radically new turbine in Jones' car and it was expected there would even be protests if he won, but Jones had repeated praise for the engine.

Nye's Arm, Bat Nips Hot Cincy

By United Press International

Rich Nye never joined the ranks of the protesters at Berkeley but the National League hitters are bound to be picking him soon.

Nye, a civil engineering graduate of the Berkeley campus of the University of California, pitched and batted the Chicago Cubs to a 6-5 victory Wednesday night over the league-leading Cincinnati Reds.

Nye posted an excellent 32 grade average while gaining his civil engineering degree and he will study in the off-season for his masters. In high school in Walnut Creek, Calif., he was salutatorian of his class.

"I guess the only way to mix baseball with my college degree is to build stadiums," Nye laughed.

Cincinnati manager Dave Bristol was more impressed with his baseball than his grade average.

"He mixes up his pitches well and makes his fastball look better, he looks like he's going to be a good pitcher," Bristol said.

Nye acted like a hitter, too, although his best average came in his junior year at California when he was a part-time infielder and batted just .280.

Nye's double and a single by Vienn Beckert gave Chicago a

1-0 lead in the third and Nye singled home a second run in the sixth after the Reds had tied it 1-1 in the fourth. The Cubs made it 3-1 in the seventh and then exploded for three runs off Bob Lee in the eighth with Ron Santo's bases-loaded single scoring the last two runs.

Pappas Loses

Milt Pappas started for the Reds, went seven innings and lost the game.

Elsewhere in the National League, San Francisco clubbed Pittsburgh 15-4, Houston topped New York 6-1, Philadelphia blanked Los Angeles 6-0 in 11 innings and the Atlanta-St. Louis game was rained out.

The Dodgers and Phils duelled for 10 scoreless innings before Bill White singled in an 11th inning run to start a six-run outburst. White, hampered by an offseason ankle injury, had been hitless in 18 at bats this season before he connected on his game-winning hit off Don Drysdale.

Dave Giusti pitched a four-hitter and Houston exploded for six runs in the sixth inning to down New York. It dropped the Mets into the cellar for the first time since 1965. Giusti gave up a fifth inning homer to Bob Johnson and blanked the Mets the rest of the way.

AMERICAN LEAGUE ROUNDUP

Wilhelm Proves He's Still Got It

By United Press International

Hoyt Wilhelm celebrated his 40th birthday almost four years ago with the stunning announcement that he still might be pitching at the age of 50.

The ancient Chicago White Sox fireman proved Wednesday night that he is still worth his pay check by pitching 2 1/3 innings of hitless relief ball as the Sox edged the Baltimore Orioles, 3-2, in 11 innings.

Other Results

Elsewhere around the American League, the Yankees whipped the Kansas City Athletics, 3-0; Washington defeated the California Angels, 6-3 and the Boston Red Sox edged the Minnesota Twins, 3-2.

In the National League, White Sox manager Eddie Stanky juggled his pitchers, using four to help pull his Sox out of a three-game losing streak.

Big Game

"I'm happy to see us break that losing streak," said the fiery White Sox manager. "It was a big game for us. We're back in contention for first place."

Wins First Start

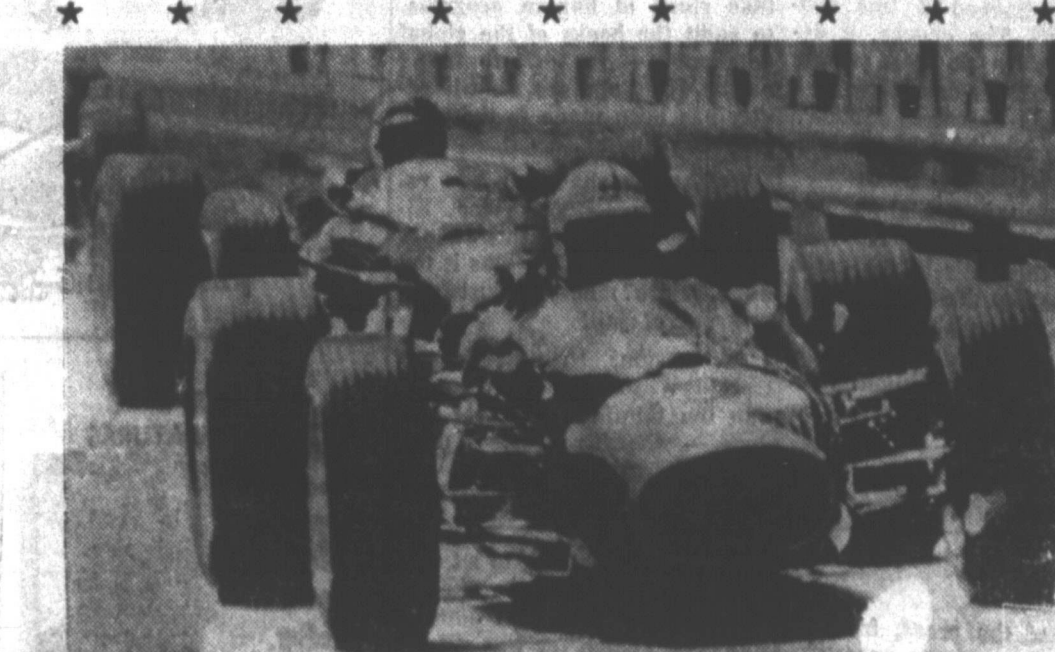

Thad Tillotson, rushed into a starting assignment by the Yankees after Whitey Ford's retirement, made his first start a winning one as he set Kansas City down with five hits in the 8 1/3 innings he worked. The Yankees, who are fast becoming the hitless wonders, collected only four hits, two by Steve

Whitaker, including a two-run homer.

The Boston Red Sox got two homers from Carl Yastrzemski his ninth and 10th of the season, but still needed Mike Ryan to squeeze in George Scott with the deciding run. Boston starter Darrell Brandon chalked up his second victory in seven decisions when reliever John Wyatt choked off a Minnesota Twin rally.

Ken McMullen and Cap Peterson hit third-inning homers to account for five of the six Washington runs. They were all pitcher Joe Coleman needed to even his record at 3-3.

TURBINES COMING UP? Victory Worth $171,227

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (UPI)—

The gold and the glory of this year's 500-mile auto race went to winner A.J. Foyt and his piston-driven Ford but the speedway future clearly belonged to an experimental turbine machine that finished sixth.

Wednesday's race was barely over when drivers and veteran Indy buffs were betting that next year's entries would contain as many as 15 cars like the one Parnelli Jones drove to within 10 miles of victory.

Jones gobbled up almost all of the cash lap prizes, setting a silent, sizzling pace for 172 of the race's 200 laps. A broken gearbox which forced him out after 492 miles cleared the way for Foyt to thread his way through the wreckage of a three-car crack-up to victory.

All that glittered was not one of the many speed records set, there was more gold too. The Speedway said Wednesday night the unofficial purse of $727,346 was $30,000 higher than last year's previous record.

The awards—not official until the final standings of the race were posted Thursday—gave Foyt $171,227.

Secondplace Al Unser received $69,777 Joe Leonard got $43,427 for third; Dennis Hulme, the "rookie of the year," got $28,271 for fourth; Jim McElreath got $22,127 for fifth, and Jones got $48,392 for sixth, $7,000 of it in lap prize money.

"This is supposed to be a proving ground for automobiles and not for airplane engines," Foyt said of Parnelli's car. But when he talked of next year's race, he said, "I wouldn't want to come back here with anything that's not competitive."

Turbines in Future

The turbine got another vote from Graham Hill, the 1966 winner who went out Wednesday after 3 laps. Hill said he would enter the 1968 race in a turbine-powered machine.

Foyt was the only driver besides Jones to set the pace.

He did it for 27 laps, and he was ready to take over when Parnelli went out.

At the finish, Chuck Hulme, Bobby Grim and Carl Williams tangled in a three-car smashup. Foyt came almost to a stop behind the spinning cars, then threaded through to take the checkered flag as the yellow caution flag came out—and then almost instantly the red flag to stop the race.

Foyt was the only driver to finish 200 laps, (500 miles) and he did it at record speed, 151.207 miles per hour.

PEAY SIGNED

NEW YORK (UPI)—The New York Giants have signed offensive tackle Francis Peay to a 1967 contract. Peay was an All-America at Missouri but saw little action last year because of a fractured bone in his left foot.

ROTE TO REPORT

NEW YORK (UPI)—The National Broadcasting Company has signed former football great Kyle Rote to a long-term contract as a sports reporter for WNBC-TV and for the NPR radio network's "Monitor." He also will serve as a color analyst for American Football League games.

Moments before, she was screaming in an argument with a neighbor and had even armed herself with a stick, but anger turned to frustration or perhaps remorse as her own harshness, she felt for a good cry, and the two made up.
