Ten Year Term Assessed Each Of Defendants

Sentence Is Passed Wednesday In Surprise Move; Governor Lawrence Judd Frees All An Hour Afterwards

Will Leave Hawaii At Once To Never Return; One Hour Is Spent In Nominal Custody Of Palace Sheriff

(By The Associated Press)

HONOLULU, May 4.—Governor Lawrence M. Judd freed the four defendants of the famous Massie murder trial today one hour after they had been sentenced to ten years at hard labor at Oahu prison.

Sentence was passed, in a surprise move this morning, on Lieut. Thomas H. Massie, his mother-in-law, Mrs. Granville Fortescue and the two seamen, E. J. Lord and Albert O. Jones.

Spend Hour In Palace

Their hour of confinement was spent in the nominal custody of the sheriff at Iolani palace, across the street from the judiciary building where for several weeks they battled unsuccessfully for freedom on charges of slaying Joseph Kahahawai, asserted attacker of Mrs. Massie.

Governor Judd in commuting the sentence to one hour merely said he was acting on a petition of the four defendants in which their counsel joined and was commuting the sentence to one hour.

Massie, when informed of the governor's action, said:

"My only comment is that I wish I could be in Kentucky right now to see the smile on my mother's face when she learns I am free."

Clarence Darrow, veteran Chicago attorney, and head of the defense counsel, was "greatly gratified."

"It is as it should be," the 75-

Annual District Conference At Lamesa Ends Thursday With Selection Of Meeting Place For 1933

By Staff Correspondent

LAMESA, May 4.—Carrying on the larger part of the work of the conference through committees, the annual Lubbock district conference of the Methodist church settled down today to routine business. Reports were made and books and records inspected.

Tonight's session consisted of a special musical program by the local choir, led by the Rev. William H. Wallace, pastor followed by a splendid sermon by the Rev. J. O. Haymes, pastor of the First Church, Lubbock.

Hardy Speaks

A special feature was a talk on the benevolence work of the conference by the Rev. G. S. Hardy, Chillicothe.

Following this moving pictures of the Lamesa church "in action" Easter Sunday when $5,000 was raised for debt paying, were shown. The pictures were taken by Mrs. Dyer, a member of the church.

To Close Today

Thursday will mark the close of the conference. Selection of the 1933 meeting place and additional committee appointments comprise the main business. Asbury Methodist church of Lubbock is so far the only candidate for the place.

A report of a special committee on resolutions will be made. The committee, composed of Rev. O. W. Carter, Rev. M. L. Thurston and George R. Bean, Lubbock Layman, will draft resolutions expressing regret at the passing of Dr. Paul W. Horn, Lubbock layman who was an honorary member of the conference.

Bailey County Sheriff Declares He "Violated No Law;" Seeks Election

Credit On Receipts To Taxpayers Is Given As Cause

(Special To The Avalanche)

MULESHOE, May 4.—Sheriff H. Sterling of Bailey county, who resigned under pressure Tuesday following an alleged shortage in tax funds, probably will be a candidate for re-election in the Democratic primaries, he said today. Jim C. Cook, deputy sheriff, was appointed to fill the unexpired term by the commissioners' court, acting on recommendations of a district court grand jury.

"My conscience is clear; I had no intention to defraud, and I violated no law," Sterling said. "It was my mistake when I issued tax receipts and automobile license plates on credit.

No Cover Up Effort

"My office always was open to the public, and there was no effort to cover up. People whom I aided did not stand by me and make their payments when I needed help."

Sterling, who also was Bailey county tax collector, had been sued by the commissioners court which alleged a shortage of more than $1,400 in tax funds. It is Sterling's understanding that this suit is to be dismissed because he resigned, and that no further court action is to be taken against him.

The former sheriff appeared before commissioners court April 18, and an auditor reported the sheriff and tax collector's funds were short $1,471.01, Sterling attributed the shortage to issuance of tax receipts and sale of automobile license plates to responsible persons on credit. Given until April 22 to raise the shortage, he turned over $361.50, canceling the shortage in county moneys on that day.

Sterling said that since April 22 he had raised virtually all of the remaining shortage of $609.51, only to find nearly $600 of it was in worthless checks. E. A. Bills, Littlefield attorney, represented Sterling before the commissioners court.

At the time he offered his resignation, Sterling was a candidate for re-election. "So far as I know now, I will continue in the race," he said. He was serving his first term.

Two other persons already have announced for the office.

Court Says Man Must Not Forge His Own Name

AUSTIN, May 4. (AP)—A man cannot forge his own name.

This was the decision of the court of criminal appeals today in reversing and remanding the conviction of J. W. Graham, former county clerk of Uvalde county, on a charge of forgery. Graham allegedly made out and signed a draft on the county treasurer for $511.65 in payment of an account for $11.65.

The opinion, written by Associate Justice F. L. Hanwinks, and concurred in by W. C. Morrow, presiding judge, was dissented from by O. S. Lattimore, associate justice.

Hawkins stated the statute on forgery defined the offense as "purporting to be the act of another." He also held the statute had no application to Graham's act in signing his name in his official capacity.

In the dissenting opinion, Lattimore held there was a difference between the acts of an official and a private person and claimed the majority placed an improper construction on the statute. "His whole intention being to defraud, every reasonable construction necessary to bring to justice such an offender ought to be indulged." Lattimore stated.

Graham's conviction previously had been affirmed. The opinion today set aside the judgment of affirmance and reversed and remanded the case.

"I Got A Rotten Deal," Says Al Capone Upon His Arrival To Serve Long Pen Sentence

Boom Beginning A Social Visit

(By The Associated Press)

ROSENBERG, Tex. May 4.—Rosenberg saw today what it thought might mean the conditional beginning of a gubernatorial boom, but the principals—Governor R. S. Sterling and State Senator Walter Woodward—said it was just a social visit.

"I'm not here on matters of business or politics or religion," he said, smiling. "I'm just here on a social visit and I hope I may have the pleasure of coming back on some other occasion." As for the governor, he merely said it was "no time for politics."

Underworld Czar Is Taken To Federal Prison; Declares He Was Always "The Goat;" Is Over His Sulleness

(By The Associated Press)

ATLANTA, May 4.—Under the guard of federal officers and wearing handcuffs, Al Capone, notorious Chicago gangster and hoodlum, arrived in Atlanta at 6:53 p. m. central standard time today to serve a sentence of 11 years in the federal penitentiary for violating the income tax laws.

Capone, ruler of Chicago's gangland, faced his imprisonment in the Atlanta penitentiary tonight with the old refrain on his lips: "I got a rotten deal."

Taken To Prison

The underworld czar was taken immediately to the federal prison.

His conviction and 11-year sentence for evading income taxes were the result, he said, of persecution—he was always "the goat."

Capone even predicted he would be an issue in the next national political campaign. The picture of Capone as sketched by police records and numerous investigations has been that of a ruthless, arrogant overlord, ordering wholesale murders, perhaps even taking part in some himself to gain the upper hand in Chicago's underworld.

Public Attraction

The self-portrait he painted today in conversation was that of a public benefactor, keeping possibly desperate criminals off the street by giving them employment in his liquor business and actually assisting in the suppression of what he called "real crimes."

Fiend or philanthropist, he proved himself today to be a great public attraction in cities and villages of the south. All day long crowds turned out at the railway stations to gape at the familiar scarred face.

Majority Leader Declares Bill Does Not Have Chance

WASHINGTON, May 4. (AP) — A confident prediction that cash redemption of the $2,000,000,0000 soldiers' bonus will not become law was made today by the house majority leader. Meanwhile the ways and means committee prepared to act on the controverted proposal that the payment be made with currency issued for that purpose.

Representative Rainey, the Democratic chieftain, told newspapermen flatly that the bill "hasn't a chance" and that "the committee won't approve any fiat money plan."

Seven Escape In Car Crash

Two Cars Are Demolished In Smashup On Highway 9 Late Wednesday; San Angelo Man More Seriously Hurt

Seven persons narrowly escaped death or serious injury when two automobiles collided on highway 9 about two miles north of Lubbock Wednesday afternoon. Both cars virtually were demolished.

Former District Judge James Cornell of San Angelo was more seriously injured of two persons treated at Lubbock sanitarium. Judge Cornell, 55, attorney for the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers association, suffered brain concussion, cuts on his head and body bruises. He was unconscious about two hours, but his attending physician expects to release the judge Thursday.

Others Are Hurt

Miss Aimee Brock of 504 Avenue R was treated for knee injuries, a cut on the left hand and bruises. She was driving a light sedan which collided with a heavy, front-drive

Entire Police Force On Patrol Duty As Campaign For Safety Starts Here

BOTH day and night patrolmen were on duty on busy down-town street corners Wednesday afternoon as a result of more stringent enforcement of traffic laws here. Tickets were given to several motorists who ran red lights.

The campaign for safe driving began after an automobile-pedestrian fatality here Sunday, and was interrupted by a similar accident Monday night.

Condition of T. L. Simpson, jr., 10, of Lubbock, who suffered a severe skull fracture when hit Monday night by an automobile driven by a Miss Johnson who lives with her parents four miles west of Lubbock, was somewhat improved Wednesday. He still was not out of danger. Father of the youth last night said he was convinced the accident was unavoidable. He also said that Miss Johnson, whose name he did not know, had carried the boy to his home after the crash, and with her parents had visited the child at Lubbock sanitarium several times.

A proclamation issued yesterday by Mayor J. J. Clements asked Lubbock citizens to exercise more caution, and to

Texan Smashes To Victory In Major Contest

John N. Garner Is Swept From Ranks Of Favorite Sons To An Important Place In Rank Of Democratic Contenders

Heavy Demo Vote

Republicans Roll Up A Heavy Confidence Vote For Hoover; Garner Shows Appreciation For State's Support

(By The Associated Press)

SAN FRANCISCO, May 4.—California Democracy swept John N. Garner from the gallery of favorite sons in yesterday's presidential primary, giving him a smashing victory over Franklin D. Roosevelt and Alfred E. Smith in the contest for the state's 44 votes at the national convention.

The Texan, speaker of the house of representatives, emerged from the primary, his first major contest, as an important factor in the pre-convention contest for the Democratic presidential nomination. Not since 1916, when California turned Democratic and voted for President Wilson, has the state assumed such importance in national affairs of the party.

Assured Of Victory

A lead of 41,518 over Roosevelt, with only 564 precincts missing out of 20,271, assured victory for the Garner forces.

The vote was:

Garner, 211,257; Roosevelt, 166,628; Smith, 135,661.

Republicans rolled up a heavy "confidence" vote for President Hoover, for whom the state's delegation is pledged. With a record registration of Democrats in Hoover's home state, Republican leaders urged a big vote to encourage the president, impress the nation and show there had not been a heavy defection to Democratic ranks.

Oil Measure Of Interest

The count in 9,112 complete precincts gave the Hoover delegation 597,768. It was generally considered that interest in a referendum on an oil conservation measure, which lost out, brought many Republicans to the polls thus increasing the Hoover vote.

Interest in the fight for the Democratic delegation, bound up with which is control of the party in the state, was shown by the heavy Democratic vote. With about 850,000 registered, it appeared the complete vote would run around 500,000. In the 1928 presidential primary

She disappeared in a huff after the adoption proceedings.

In answering questions necessary to the infant's legal adoption, the screen and stage star revealed in court that she and her playwright husband, Austin Parker, were divorced. They had separated about a year ago.

She dashed out of Judge Edmund K. Jarecki's court, declaring she didn't want to talk about it or anything else for that matter.

"I hate all this publicity over a simple thing. I don't have to give any reason," she said to a reporter.

In court she told the judge she would rear the child as her own

Officials Say Aged Prisoner Will Be Freed

Justice Department Officials Clear Up Confusion Around Failure Of Albert Fall To Pay Heavy Fine

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, May 4.—Albert Bacon Fall will be a free man again next Sunday even if federal authorities have to act to bring about his release from the New Mexico state penitentiary.

Justice department officials today cleared up confusion over the former secretary of the interior's failure to pay a $100,000 fine imposed along with the prison term for accepting a $100,000 bribe. They said if necessary special instructions will be sent to Ed Swope, warden of the prison at Santa Fe.

Swope announced today he would hold Fall, unless otherwise directed, and require the former cabinet member to serve an extra 30 days and take a pauper's oath for defaulting the fine. Officials explained, however, Fall is eligible for release automatically.

Regional Farm Bureau Parley To Open Today

More Than 100 Visitors Here Wednesday Night And Others Are Expected To Arrive At Early Hour Today

Two-Day Session

Rio Grande Valley Sends Big Delegation; Farm Officials To Be Here; James C. Stone Not To Be Present

MORE than 100 delegates to the regional Texas Farm Bureau federation convention here had arrived Wednesday night on the eve of the opening of the two-day meeting Thursday, and others were expected during today. Attendance has been forecast at about 1,000.

Heading the visitors arriving Wednesday was President Frank Frist of El Paso. The largest delegation to arrive yesterday was a group of 63 farm workers, farmers and their wives who came in special pullman cars over the Santa Fe from South Texas.

Overstreet In Party

R. E. Overstreet, formerly of Lubbock, and now field representative of Navasota, was in the party. Others included J. W. Brousit, Navasota farmer; John Smithers and Doyle McAdams, Huntsville plantation owners; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Sommors of Brenham; State Representative R. E. Fuchs of Brenham; State Representative Fritz Englehard, Eagle Lake, and John A. Long, Houston county schools superintendent. Englehard is a Farm Bureau director.

H. G. Lucas, a past president, of Brownwood, and T. W. Hander, a board member, of Belton, are here also. E. F. Creekmore, general manager of the American Cotton Co-operative association, will arrive Friday from New Orleans.

Stone Not Coming

Chairman James C. Stone of the federal farm board will be unable to attend, and no board representative will be here, it was learned Wednesday.

Correlation of all the activities of the co-operatives under the parent organization will be one of the main topics for discussion in the convention, President Frist of El Paso said Wednesday soon after his arrival here.

"We feel that the time has arrived when the co-operatives must get behind the strongest general farm organization," Mr. Frist said, "and form an organization in developing teamwork to carry on activities of them all. I think there has been in the past considerable lost motion and duplication of activities with each organization attempting to carry on an individual

Crain Charges Wall Street Is Trying To Pay Debts Through Tax On Liquor

WALL STREET is attempting to force payment of World war debts through a tax on liquor rather than through increased taxation, charged Dr. James A. Crain, nationally known prohibition leader and member of the dry "Board of Strategy," of Indianapolis, at the First Baptist church Wednesday night.

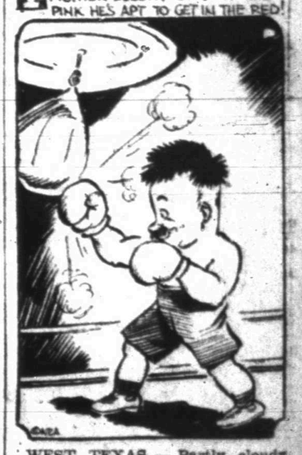

Dr. Crain, native Texan and graduate of Texas Christian university, has arranged 62 speaking dates in Texas within the next 32 days. He will appear at Big Spring and San Angelo Thursday, and will close his present tour with the state convention of the Christian church at Fort Worth.

"Faced with the necessity of paying for the World war through increased taxation, Wall street millionaires are resorting to the tactics used by the many interests following the Civil war, when a bill was forced through congress levying a tax on the sale of liquor in order to pay the Union war debts," the prohibitionist declared.

"That debt was paid, but it was paid by exploiting the weaknesses and the appetites

REFLECTIONS: 'S funny, but the columns you work hardest on and swell with pride over never draw comment while the ones that are slapped together in a hurry because space must be filled often inspire them welcome words . . . Another year over for the clubs. Nine months do roll around in a hurry these days. Get all the clubs started on their year's program when Christmas comes along and disrupts things. Start over and it is time to elect officers and end another year . . . We're told not to worry so and yet, if we didn't, how could we get around to all these things . . . Yet, away back when, it was a powerful long time between Christmases . . .

Things can happen in one town that can't happen in another . . . Down in Lake Charles the other day the cullud woman, Sarah, fumbled around in the kitchen and drew my attention. About that time my hostess called in to see what she wanted. IN FLORIDA, TOO

THOSE stories about Galveston's oleanders brought a letter from Anita Kirksey at Miami, Fla., in which she speaks of their beauty and adds, "They are gorgeous over on Miami Beach. They line the driveways—both sides — pink and white loveliness for miles. Here in our yard we have two large white bushes and a pink that reaches to the second story of the apartment house behind us. They are all in full bloom now and look like a giant's bouquet."

She had read of the animals and never seen one. She wanted to know, too, about the pronunciation as she had been puzzled over it . . .

FOR YOUR DAHLIAS

THOSE tips on planting dahlias might be interesting here as dahlias are among the easily grown and showy flowers. "Soil and exposure are the first requisites for dahlia success," the Central Press association tells us. The garden or bed must be well drained. Dahlias like water but do not grow well if the water stands. Looseness of soil is important so the roots may spread out.

This is the time of year you know to prepare for those blossoms that are to win prizes in the Panhandle-South Plains fair next fall.

FANCY'S TURN

BY THE WAY, the young man's fancy may turn to love and other things in the spring, but a lot of people's thoughts turn to gardening. At noon, office workers take a few minutes off to set the geraniums outside in beds or to scratch the soil around the radishes. Of evenings, many others are out digging in the ground and ruining the last manicure while housewives come panting to the 'phone of mornings with the explanation that they were out working in the yard.

For those people who like to see a sprig of green push its way through the soil along about this time of year, there is no thrill like starting another flower garden to feed the summer's worms and birds.

"The moon is cute.

The stars that shoot—
And all the things that are.
From Mammoth Cave to small white mice—
They're always cute, or else they're nice."

About Finicky Husbands and Coffee

Here's Why Changing the Brand of Coffee You Use Has Not Made the Coffee You Serve Any Better

IF you've changed your brand of coffee and your way of making it a dozen times without success, don't give up. There's a simple way to get the kind of coffee you want.

In spite of all the different "brands" you've tried, you have probably been getting the same kind of coffee all along. Almost 70 per cent of all coffee sold in stores is this one common kind. It's all grown in one producing country, though it's put up in countless packages. Do you wonder that you got the same flavor in all those different brands?

There's only one way to get a real change. Use coffee that comes from a different producing country. Any coffee expert will tell you this.

Rare Mountain Coffee

The world's choicest flavored coffees, as any expert will tell you, come from a few tiny districts. They are grown chiefly along the West Coast of Central America. From this famous region we procure coffees with a rare tang and rich mellow body, utterly unlike any coffee you have ever used before.

This is the coffee that Folger brings you today packed in vacuum. It's not only delicious, but thrifty. Its extra richness and quality make it go much further. And its rare flavor is kept fresh from the roaster right to your coffee pot by the latest type of key-opening vacuum sealed tins. If you want a real change—in coffee—and not merely in name, try it.

A 3-Day Test of Flavor

Just go to your grocer and buy a pound of Folger's. Drink it tomorrow morning.

Next morning serve the coffee you have been using. The third morning serve Folger's again. Then choose between them.

If for any reason you decide against Folger's, your grocer will refund your money. We'll pay him. That's fair, isn't it? ©F. C. C., 1932

Fishermen Busy At Shannon Park

Scores of fishermen are lining the edges of the lake in Shannon park, a half mile east of the city, and several excellent catches have been reported since Sunday, said Commissioner Claude A. Burrus who has charge of the lake.

The county court has adopted the same plan as in previous years, of allowing fishing in the lake. Daily permits, costing 25 cents each, are being sold. New stock of bass, crappie, catfish and goggle-eyed perch were placed in the lake last summer.

Negro Convicted Of Charge Of Aggravated Assault Here

A county court jury Wednesday morning found Willie Mason, a negro, guilty of aggravated assault on his wife, and imposed a 90-day jail sentence and an assessment of court costs.

Howard Hays, 19, was acquitted by a county court jury Wednesday morning of aggravated assault on his sister.

County Judge E. L. Pitt's court will continue trial of a criminal docket at 9 o'clock this morning.

Negro School Children Pick Up 641 Pounds Nails, Tacks

A total of 641 pounds of nails and tacks were picked up by pupils of the Lubbock negro school, E. C. Scruggs, principal, announced. Individual prizes in the nail pickup, a part of the third annual cleanup and paintup campaign here, were awarded by the principal, who had instructed the students to pick up only nails and tacks.

Confined to their own district, the negro children collected nails, many of them tiny and most of them rusty, which filled several large cans and sacks. Officials of the cleanup drive announced the poundage, and commented on the work of the pupils, saying the pickup not only would improve appearances but would lessen the grief of motorists. The nails are on display at the school.

Lubbock Boy Scouts picked up 9,510 pounds of junk on Lubbock streets Saturday, April 23, in connection with the cleanup drive.

Ingersoll's Ashes Buried At Capital

WASHINGTON, May 4. (AP) — The ashes of "Bob" Ingersoll, whose agnostic views made him one of the most talked of men in America in the closing years of the last century, were buried today in Arlington National cemetery.

Those of Mrs. Ingersoll were also buried in the grave on a knoll overlooking Washington.

The services were brief. At their end there was the crack of rifles as a firing squad paid a soldier tribute and "taps."

Men who knew Robert Green Ingersoll in the years when he gave up prospects for a brilliant career to argue for liberty of religious thought praised his memory.

Representative William E. Hull of Illinois told how his friends begged him not to talk publicly on religion.

"They pictured to him he might be governor, United States senator and perhaps president if he would simply hold his tongue," Hull said.

"To his eternal honor be it said that he never hesitated and shortly afterwards, he, himself, was astonished to find the great popular heart of the people was with him."

Ingersoll was colonel of the 11th Illinois cavalry during the Civil war.

Athletes Of South Plains Off For State Meet

The latest vocal eruption of Josef Paul Cuckoschay, alias Jack Sharkey, is among his best. Josef Paul says he would be glad to fight Max Schmeling, even in an empty stadium. The people who paid $748,-935 to witness the last meeting between those two probably wish that Josef Paul's pleasure in that respect could be realized.

A Word From Connie

Mr. Mack took his Athletics into the clubhouse the other day, locked the doors and poured a few gentle remonstrances into their ears. What Mack said is not recorded, for in all the 30 years that Mack has been delivering such lectures, nothing of what he spoke has been made public. But after the talk, several of the players, including Bing Miller and Al Simmons, went out on the diamond for a workout, even though it was raining at the time.

Collapse?

Many baseball writers already have heralded the collapse of the Athletics, based upon the performance of the team during the first few weeks of play. It is still too early to say. The A's can become uncollapsed very quickly when Al Simmons starts hitting, which he usually does about May 1.

They Like Hafey

Cincinnati has taken Chick Hafey, former Cardinal slugger, into its arms. In his first appearance he indicated there was nothing at all the matter with his eyes, when he backed unerringly up the slope in the Reds' left field for a long drive. And has he been hitting!

St. Louis Sorry

It might seem far-fetched to say that when the Cardinals traded Hafey to the Reds they put some silver into the pocket of Phil Ball, owner of the Browns. But that is exactly the case. A large group of St. Louis fans, in protest at the handling Hafey received, deserted the Cards and now unhoard their nickels to watch the Browns.

Kress Gets Wish

Ralph Kress, traded to the White Sox for Hadley and Campbell, was dissatisfied at St. Louis. He did not try to keep that fact a secret, either. St. Louis club officials looked upon the redhead as a "disgruntled ball player." And for several years Bill Killefer has been sweet on Bump Hadley as a pitcher, though Hadley inevitably disappointed Washington, where a great deal was expected of him.

The Sox Infield

Now the White Sox infield compares favorably with any in the league, with Lu Blue at first, Johnny Hodapp or Luke Appling at second, Kress or Appling at short and Carey Selph at third. Appling has shown great improvement. It is the belief of Lew Fonseca that he will become one of the best infielders in the league.

Seeds Can Go

The speed of Bob Seeds will add much to the White Sox outfield. Just to make a brash prediction, they will be ranking Seeds very soon with such outfielders as Mule Haas. And they are ranking the Mule pretty high. In some parts of the bleachers you can pick up the information that Haas is the greatest center fielder since Tris Speaker.

Saving Ball Games

A great many ball games are saved in center field. Mule Haas saved two this year from the Yankees. A couple of long drives of Ruth's to the remotest reach in center field, would have broken up the games in which they were made if Haas had not been there.

Cubs Support Warnecke To Win Over Pirates; Huck Betts In Third Straight Victory For Boston Braves

(By The Associated Press)

ST. LOUIS, May 4.—The world champion St. Louis Cardinals climbed back into the 1st division of the National League today when Flint Rhem shut out Cincinnati 7-0 and forced the Reds into second division.

It was Rhem's third pitching victory this season and came on the heels of Dean's shutout of the Reds yesterday.

CUBS 4; PIRATES 1

PITTSBURGH, May 4. (AP)—With flashy support, Lonnie Warnecke held the Pittsburgh Pirates to six scattered hits today, enabling the Chicago Cubs to win, 4-1.

Warnecke and Larry French put on a warm mound battle, but the Pittsburgh defense faltered several times and the Cubs were quick to take advantage of the misplays.

Hack's steal of home in the third inning was the bright spot of the game.

Chicago counted once in the second inning on a pair of hits. In the third inning, Hack was on third and Herman on second when Moore drew a base on balls.

Brenzel, Pirate catcher, whipped the ball to second on the fourth ball and Hack tore home. Piet's double in the fourth helped the Pirates to a run. Jurges secured the game for the Cubs in the ninth when he hammered out a triple to right with two on and two out.

Chagnon relieved French at the start of the inning and Richbourg and Grimm singled. Jurges drove them home.

Victory in the last game of the series gave the Cubs two out of three.

Gus Moreland Sets Pace In Dallas City Golf Title Go

DALLAS, May 4. (AP)—First and second round matches were played today in the Dallas city golf championship tournament. Gus Moreland, Texas amateur champion and second last year in the national amateur qualifying round, won both his matches.

In the morning round, Moreland stopped Johnny Noble, veteran municipal star, 6 and 5. Moreland was three under par when the match ended. In the afternoon the Texas amateur king beat Joe Bailey, another veteran campaigner, 4 and 3.

O'Hara Watts, Southwest Conference champion and medalist in the current tournament, was eliminated in the first round by David Clark, Oak Cliff High school youth, 2 and 1. In the afternoon round, Clark eliminated Louis Nowlin who led the first 18 holes of the qualifying round. Quarterfinals and semifinals will be played tomorrow.

Two Records Fall As A. C. C. Defeats Denton Teachers In Speedy Two-Way Track Meet

ABILENE, May 4. (AP)—Abilene Christian college, track champion of the T. I. A. A. for four successive years, today defeated North Texas Teachers, favorites of the new Lone Star Conference, 75 2-3 to 41 1-3, in a speedy dual meet.

With a stiff wind at their backs, sprinters and hurdlers made sensational time. Bill Weems of the Christians bettered the Southwest Conference record for the 220 yard dash, running it in 20.8 seconds. Jimmy Lawrence, also of the Christians, bettered another Southwest record by winning the low hurdles in 23.4 seconds.

Joe Medwick, Houston outfielder hit four home runs in the first five days of the 1932 Texas league pennant race.

'Rasslers Start Slugging And Toss Referee Out As Cops Come To Quell Bout

ATLANTA, Ga., May 4. (AP)—Pat O'Shocker of Salt Lake City and Paul Jones of Houston were wrestling away in regular fashion last night but suddenly they began a slugging match which required a squad of police to stop.

The referee was tossed from the ring in the melee.

O'Shocker accused Jones of punching him in the eye with his finger. The red headed O'Shocker thrust Referee Doc Lanford through the ropes and landed a right on Jones' jaw.

The Texan went down on his knees and rose only to meet another onslaught. He had little time to do anything but ward off O'Shocker. Then the police intervened.

The Atlanta boxing commission disqualified O'Shocker and suspended him indefinitely. Jones was awarded the match.

Dalton Blagg To Represent Lubbock High

Winner Of Broad Jump In District 2 Only Representative Of Lubbock; Plainview Sends District Champs To Meet

Lubbock High school will be represented at the Texas Interscholastic league track and field meet tomorrow and Saturday by Dalton Blagg, broad jumper and middle distance runner. Coach Weldon Chapman announced that Blagg would be the only official representative of the Westerner institution at the state tournament. Blagg will leave today for Austin.

Blagg placed first in the broad jump in the district meet here three weeks ago with a leap of 22 feet, one-half inch. The jump broke the former district record and puts Blagg among the state favorites.

The state record for the broad jump happens to be one of the two world's scholastic records held by Texas schoolboys. Scrimsher of Main Avenue High school, San Antonio, established the mark last year with an official jump of 24 feet and one-half inch.

Blagg will make the trip along with a team of literary entrants from Lubbock High. Coach Chapman plans to attend the state meet.

Coach Lovvorn Takes Plainview Champions

PLAINVIEW, May 4. (Special)—Coaches C. F. (Frosgy) Lovvorn, Dyle Vaughn and Finnis Vaughan and five members of the Plainview High school track team leave tomorrow for Austin where they will enter the state high school track and field meet to be held Friday and Saturday.

Leo Witkowski, captain, Milton Stoddard, Bill Isbel, Bill Smith and Ray Wester are the athletes who will make the trip.

The high school track team has had an unusually successful track season culminating a series of worthy achievements with a sweeping victory in the district meet held at Lubbock two weeks ago.

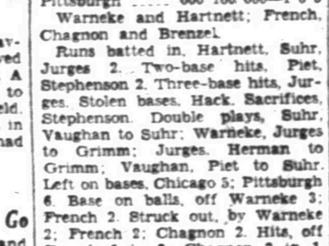

The most notable results have been in the half mile and relay events and it will be upon these two races that the efforts of the locals will be concentrated at Austin.

In Bill Smith and Bill Isbel, Coach Vaughn has developed two of the outstanding half milers in the state. They have an excellent chance to cop premier honors in this event despite the wealth of material which will be sent to the meet from all parts of the state.

The mile relay team composed of Witkowski, Stoddard, Isbel and Smith is a well balanced unit which is not expected to turn in a sensational performance but which can always be depended upon to be up among the leaders.

Stoddard, an all around athlete who easily took individual honors at the district meet, will also probably be entered in the discus, 220 and 440 events. Captain Witkowski will represent Plainview in the short dashes. Ray Wester is entered in the high jump and can handily fill in a vacancy on the relay team.

Preliminaries will be held Friday and finals Saturday.

Jellies Win, 7-2 Over Tough Guys

Bill Davidson plunged over the line from the one-foot line late in the game for a touchdown, then dropped back and booted a field goal for extra point as Coach Weldon Chapman's Jellies defeated Coach Burl Huffman's Toughies, 7 to 2, in a spring training, inter-squad football game yesterday afternoon.

The Jellies, with Davidson, Joe Nelson and Richard Godecke doing the ball toting, sustained a 75-yard drive on line plays down the field.

The Toughies got their two points when Joe Nelson, Jelly quarterback, dropped behind the goal line to punt, fumbled and was forced to step over the end zone. Automatically, the Toughies were awarded a safety.

The Jelly victory evened the count in games. Last week the Toughies took a 7 to 4 victory over the Jellies. In the first game of the spring season, three weeks ago, the teams battled to a scoreless tie.

Cleveland Wins 8-3; White Sox Defeat Tigers

Errors Rob Clint Brown Of A Shutout; Indians Hit Hard Against Two Hurlers; Home Runs Win For Detroit

CLEVELAND, O., May 4.—Robbed of a shutout victory by Johnny Brunett's two successive fumbles at second base, big Clint Brown nevertheless held St. Louis to six hits while the Indians were pounding out 15 bingles for an 8 to 3 win today.

The game closed the Indians' western stand and they go to Philadelphia tomorrow to open against the Athletics with a record of ten victories in their last 11 games.

The Indians had a field day against Sam Gray and Wally Herbert.

Montague collected a perfect score at bat, getting two hits and a walk, starting a squeeze play and sending three runs across. Willie Kam hit for three out of five and scored four times, while Myatt continued his hitting streak by getting three out of four and scoring twice.

Save for the third inning when Burnett's two errors on easy grounders allowed St. Louis its three runs, the Browns were in a position to score again only once.

That too, was in the third inning when Brown purposely passed Goslin to fill the bases with two out. Rick Ferrell grounded out to Brown to retire the side and pull the big Indian right hander out of a ticklish situation.

The White Sox hit Wyatt hard in the first two innings, but he hurled until the seventh and received credit for his fourth win of the season.

Golf STARS as the play it

by ART KRENZ

If the reader is a beginner at golf I would like to impress firmly on his mind that excessive strength is unnecessary to success in the game.

After the beginner has become familiar with the proper grip and stance, he should start practice with a mashie at a distance of about 20 yards from the green and hit short shots. A short stroke does not require much pivot, but is more of a wrist shot. It immediately shows the beginner the value of the wrists in the golf swing and demonstrates that he need not hit the ball hard to get distance.

By practicing the short shots first, many complications that might arise if he began with the driver would be eliminated.

Navy "Strong Enough To Keep Us Out Of War," Demanded By Chairman Hale

WASHINGTON, May 4. (AP) — A navy "strong enough to keep us out of war" was demanded in the senate today by Chairman Hale of the naval committee.

Opening the battle for his bill to authorize building the American fleet up to treaty limits, Hale scoffed at arguments that reduced armaments lessen the danger of war and said passage of the bill would "strengthen the hands" of the American delegates to the Geneva disarmament conference.

Denies Protection

Denying that existing treaties protect the United States from war, or eradicate the need for armaments, Hale called attention to what he called the "melancholy spectacle" in the Far East.

"The treaties in which we have placed such implicit confidence," he said, "have utterly failed of immediate effect, and with their prestige damaged may not be relied upon with any degree of safety as guaranties against future war. Under existing conditions it is folly not to recognize that little as our people want to go to war, a war may very well at any time be forced upon us."

Hale directed a warning at Japan that this country's agreement not to strengthen naval fortifications in the Pacific was based upon treaties guaranteeing the territorial integrity of China and the "open door" policy.

This country, said Hale, has taken the lead in disarmament since the Washington conference in 1922, but the net result has been that "we ourselves are now far weaker relatively as compared with the other powers than we were."

"That we should not keep our navy at least to the treaty ratios, in these difficult and hazardous times is inconceivable," he continued. "We must be strong enough to keep out of war, and that is precisely what we shall not be if we keep up our present policy of allowing our navy to deteriorate.

"The passage of this bill will further serve notice to the other powers that the United States intends to keep up a proportionate degree of preparedness with the rest of the world, and that if other nations insist on keeping up to the full allowances granted them by treaties, the United States will do the same."

She THINKS it's "RHEUMATISM" ...but it's really SELF POISONING

Do those twinges of pain in your muscles and joints mean that you have rheumatism? Not necessarily.

Thousands of people who think they have rheumatism are really suffering from self-poisoning. Poisons from putrid waste in the intestines have been absorbed into the blood. The polluted blood in turn carries the poisons all over the body. They not only torture the joints and muscles, but soon attack the kidneys and other vital organs. In time they even irritate the brain.

So if you have pain in the muscles and joints don't be in a hurry to call it "rheumatism." First make a little test to learn the truth.

AN AMAZING TEST

For the next three nights take a dose of B-L Tonic. If your case is like those of thousands of other so-called rheumatism sufferers you will be amazed at the improvement in three days. The pain will rapidly disappear. Your system will eliminate a startling amount of foul-smelling poisons. You will begin to feel healthier, happier. But that is only a promise of the reward to follow. Continue taking B-L Tonic every night for three weeks. You will thus keep the poisons from regaining a foothold in your blood. Meanwhile the stimulating properties of B-L Tonic will sharpen your appetite, improve your digestion, and thus help build up a more robust resistance to disease. Nine chances out of ten that's all you need to get rid of your "rheumatism." Get B-L Tonic at Mark Halsey Drug Co., and druggists everywhere

Do you inhale?

"Why bring that up?" —the cigarette trade asks!

FOR years there has been generally a striking avoidance of the word "inhale" in cigarette advertising. Why? Goodness only knows! For everybody inhales—knowingly or unknowingly! Every smoker breathes in some part of the smoke he or she draws out of a cigarette.

That's why it's all-important to be certain that your cigarette smoke is pure and clean—to be sure that you don't inhale certain impurities.

Lucky Strike has dared to raise this vital question—for it has solved the problem! It gives you the protection you want...because certain impurities concealed in even the finest, mildest tobacco leaves are removed by Luckies' famous purifying process. Luckies created that process. Only Luckies have it!

"Fifty million smokers can't be wrong!" So whether you inhale knowingly or unknowingly—safeguard your delicate membranes!

Taking A Backward Look

ON May 2nd—just three days ago—Senator Walter Woodward, of Coleman, announced in Abilene that "If Governor Sterling does not offer for re-election I will be a candidate for the governorship of Texas in the 1932 Democratic primaries."

What might be interesting to Lubbock and South Plains readers in this regard is an editorial which appeared in the Sunday Avalanche-Journal of August 17, 1930—just before the second primary of two years ago. For your perusal we offer a reprint of that now ancient comment, which was headed "Nothing But Gossip:"

"This is a funny state, Old Texas is, in matters political. Here we are, right in the big middle of a hectic gubernatorial campaign and despite the fact that we have enough to worry about at this very moment our political seers are looking ahead, thinking of 1932!

"Everybody likes a bit of harmless gossip now and then, so The Avalanche-Journal will slip a little 'low down' to its readers with the qualifying statement that you can accept it for what you think it is worth. It has to do with the political 'wise guys' and their opinions—the gentlemen of the capital press.

"The other day, when both Jim Ferguson and Ross Sterling were in Lubbock, there were traveling with these candidates a half dozen keen-eyed young men who make their living at Austin as representatives of press associations and the larger papers of the state. These young gentlemen hobnob with office-holders and politicians in the capital the year 'round, then trail leading candidates from stump to stump during the campaign years. Naturally, they hear a lot of political talk and forecasts and do considerable thinking of their own.

"Now here's what the boys of the typewriter troupe are saying and hearing. True or false, it affects all Texans and is interesting however you want to take it. Briefly, they say Walter Woodward, able Coleman senator and lawyer, will be a gubernatorial candidate in 1932 and, barring unforeseen occurrences, should breeze through to the governor's chair. Senator Woodward, you'll remember, was the nice looking forceful talking gentleman who 'skinned 'em alive' for Ross Sterling here on Thursday night.

"The reasons for the forecast, say the reporters, are numerous. First they point out, if Mrs. Ferguson is the next governor she won't hold the office more than two years because two years of 'Ma' and Jim will put the kibosh on their re-election plans, if any. That will leave a nice opening for some one, well known over the state and who has forcefully opposed Fergusonism, to 'bring home the bacon'. Senator Woodward, of course, fits the description nicely.

"In case Mr. Sterling is elected our forecasting friends point out, he won't want the office more than one term because he will have achieved his aim—his crowning success, the governorship. Mr. Sterling, they say, wants first to be governor and second to apply business principles to the chief executive's office. He wants to see if business and politics will mix and to carry to completion some of his ideas and ideals. One term will suit him fine, say reporters, and then, to repay Woodward for the latter's support of the Sterling drive this year, will shift his own aid to his protege. That also sounds logical.

"Then they turn to the West Texas angle.

"Senator Small's great race has put West Texas on the political map. There is a growing feeling that West Texas has earned a governor—should have one at the earliest possible occasion. Also, West Texans have learned to stick together—something that means support, 100,000 ballots strong, for any acceptable West Texas candidate. That much, the claim is, is in the cards.

"Now all this sounds as logical as such subjects can sound but a lot of things can happen in two years. You might clip this out and put it away for reference in another 18 months."

A lot of water has run under the bridge since the above comment was typed but the complexion of Texas politics has not changed a great deal and the young men of the Austin typewriter brigade are thus far batting near 1.000 in the prognostication league.

Many changes may yet come about—and probably will—yet as time rolls along it becomes more and more apparent that Governor Sterling, unlike Mr. Hoover, knows when he has enough!

Practical Health Problems

REGULAR EXAMINATION ESSENEIAL

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the third of a series of six articles by Dr. Fishbein on "Your Child's Health." Others will follow daily.

By DR. MORRIS FISHBEIN
Editor, Journal of the American Medical Association, And of Hygeia, the Health Magazine

THE laws of most states and municipalities now demand that the child be successfully vaccinated against smallpox before it is permitted to enter school. There is plenty of evidence from all over the world to indicate that smallpox vaccination actually protects against the disease. Millions of people have been successfully vaccinated without harm.

Nowadays the child should also be given the benefit of immunization against diphtheria with toxin-antitoxin or with toxoid. Here also millions of children have had the prevention without harm, and the scientific records show definitely that the death rates and the amount of illness from diphtheria are steadily decreasing.

Today these are the two methods of inoculation against disease which are fully established and which may well be recommended as routine for every child.

There are other methods which are sometimes used in the prevention of serious epidemics. The inoculation against scarlet fever has been proved to be practicable. However, epidemics of scarlet fever are infrequent and inoculation is not recommended unless special danger exists.

We have learned to protect children against many infections by making inspections and by putting the child with an infectious disease promptly out of circulation.

In most good schools children with coughs, colds and sneezing are promptly sent home. A child with fever has no business in school. The appearance of any unusual eruption on the skin should cause the mother to seek promptly the attention of a physician so that a proper diagnosis may be made and other children protected.

GOOD HABITS of hygiene, such as have been previously referred to, include plenty of rest, suitable exercise in the sunlight and the outdoor air, a proper diet, and attention to the teeth, the tonsils and the adenoids. This will also aid in cutting down greatly the amount of infectious diseases.

When a child has been sick with any of the usual infections of childhood, such as measles, diphtheria, scarlet fever, whooping cough, or mumps, or with some of the rarer but more serious conditions, it will, of course, require special attention.

Above everything, however, it is important to keep the child in bed long enough after it has recovered from the acute condition to make certain that its body is free from infectious discharges of any kind.

The prevention of disease is today as important as cure. It is an economic measure for every community which puts it into effect. One of the most important factors in routine prevention is regular examination of the child, perhaps on its birthday, so as to provide for control of conditions before they become serious. In the long run, money spent for prevention is far better spent than that paid for cure.

Public Held Responsible

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, May 4.—From the testimony thus far at the senate banking and currency committee's Wall Street investigation it is difficult to draw any other conclusion than that a get-rich-quick-crazy public was mainly responsible for whatever the stock market may have had to do with causing the depression.

CHAS P STEWART

Agreeing that the exchange folk provided the paraphernalia, it still is evident that there could not have been much of a game without plenty of patrons to come in and play it.

Practically the only thing there seems to be for the senatorial inquisitors to determine is whether it was run according to Hoyle or was fixed by the "talent" to skin its customers at a swifter rate than the law of chances and the "house's" legitimate percentage justified.

THE IMPRESSION I get from revelations by the committee's witnesses is that today's speculation differs from that of the pre-crash period in that the professionals are engaged now in cleaning out one another rather than outsiders. Not but that they would prefer outsiders, presumably. It appears that they are cleaned out already, however, for the present.

I do not pretend to understand it all very well, for it is highly technical, and puzzles even the investigatorial senators.

Nevertheless, I once lived in what is known as a "wide open" town. That is to say, vulgar, out-and-out gambling was permitted. As nearly as I can discern there is a certain analogy between actual gambling and stock speculation. If so, I believe I do have a fairly accurate comprehension of the situation.

AS RELATED by experts to whom the banking and currency committee has been listening recently, stock speculation is popular only when prices are in the ascendent. Either the average individual is uninspired to plunge except when they are on the rise, or maybe it is the reverse way about, and prices rise when he feels speculative—and has cash to back his hunches. Anyway, it is a commonplace that non-professionals are bulls, almost always.

From this it follows, that, during a prolonged decline, professionals are left to speculate largely among themselves, from the simple lack of enough of a public to keep things going.

And with a declining market, what more natural than for a considerable element in their ranks to play it for a further decline?—which it is quite possible does have an additionally depressing influence. Such, at all events, is the opinion held by the administration senators who precipitated the banking and currency committee's investigation. An election is coming; they want a market advance, and if "short selling", as they call it, is accentuating the slump, they propose to do their best to scare the short sellers into stopping it.

THE SAME SORT of thing used to occur occasionally in the old-fashioned "wide open" town I have referred to.

The mayor and municipal fathers of this burg looked with kindly eyes on a limited number of emporiums of chance in normal times. They were fined regularly, bringing into the city treasury a neat bit of revenue, which was pretty honestly administered. They also attracted visitors, who frequently left substantial sums in the community, and it was at least the theory that local business men indirectly got most of it.

Now and then, however, there would be a dull season and just surely as custom began to lag, trouble ensued. Gambler A, bored by inactivity, would drop in on Gambler B for a while at roulette; Gambler B would sit in at stud at Gambler C's; Gambler C would try his hand at faro at Gambler A's place. A would fancy something queer in B's "layout"; B would accuse C of ringing in a "cold deck"; C would catch A's dealer slipping a wrong card out of the box. Ugly rumpuses would start, ending in shootings sometimes.

THEREAT there would be an investigation. Gambling would be discovered. Officialdom would be scandalized. The chief of police would be severely rebuked. The "lid" might even be clamped on for a month or two.

But the inquiry never reached as far back as the prosperous period preceding the depressed interval. That would have been extremely awkward. It might have called for explanations covering too much past history. At best it would have interfered with the "lid's" removal presently.

By the same token there is strong opposition to an investigation by the senate's banking and currency committee into the stock market boom prior to the October, 1929, crash. Chairman Norbeck and a few of the more unruly committee members want to delve indefinitely into the boom epoch, but the moderate ones' interest ends with a thorough airing of "short selling."

What Other People Think

The purpose of the Senate investigation is to see whether the American buyer and seller has a fair market or whether it is rigged up against him, and whether or not there is a general movement on the part of bear raiders to destroy property values through the stock exchange.—Senator Peter Norbeck of South Dakota.

Women do not usually know a lot about national politics. But when women see men hungry everywhere . . . then they know something is wrong.—Nellie Tayloe Ross, ex-governor of Wyoming.

However regrettable it may be, the fact is that in mankind there is a well-established instinct to settle national discord by force.—Brigadier General Carlos E. Black, adjutant general, Illinois.

EXPLANATION OF YESTERDAY'S CARTOON

THE MATRIMONIAL WAISTLINE:

The Papuan "mary" (wife) is a valuable commodity for the reason that she is the breadwinner of the family and labors to raise its food. Obesity in a man lessens his matrimonial chances by raising the purchase price of a wife to an extravagant figure. A slim waist, indicating frugality on the part of the youth, is one of the prime requisites of a successful suiter. The young man I drew at Port Moresby, New Guinea, had bound his waist a few years previously and has succeeded in reducing his waistline to about 50 per cent below normal. The permanent bandage has considerably improved his chances for a bride.

THE BOWER BIRD:

The species is very remarkable for the curious bowers or playgrounds it constructs in the neighborhood of the nest. A platform is raised in the clearing of an undergrowth with the aid of twigs and branches. The platform is ornamented with bleached bone, bright shells, moss, berries, feathers, and any shining object within the reach of the builders. In the center of the platform the bird raises two bowerlike walls. Under the bowers the sexes disport themselves, flirting and paying court day after day.

THE WIDOW'S CRAWL:

The lot of the widow in New Guinea is a very sorry one indeed. For a week following the burial, she is obliged to spend the night outside of her house on the temporary grave of her departed husband. As soon as the body is placed within its permanent tomb the widow must crawl to it every daybreak in the wake of a spear, which an obliging friend drags on the ground before her. She must also refrain from eating pork during the first twelvemonth of her widowhood.

When these customs were called to my attention I tried to elicit some explanation of their meaning from the old natives. All I succeeded in obtaining was a cryptic "him belong long fashion" (that is an old custom) in the quaint pidgin English of the country.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

SUSAN CAREY, who lives with her AUNT JESSIE on Chicago's west side, has an unpleasant experience when she applies for her first job. BOB DUNBAR, millionaire's son whom Susan had met at business school, comforts her. She secures employment as secretary to ERNEST HEATH, prominent architect. BEN LAMPMAN, a moody young admirer of Susan's, invites her to a studio party given by some Bohemian friends. Susan does not enjoy the affair and decides not to see Lampman any more. Weeks pass and the girl is lonely. JACK WARING, Heath's assistant and divorced, shows the girl attentions but she refuses his invitations.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER X

On the way home in the hard brightness of the street car Ben said, "That's the way to live. Like Sonya and Arnold. Free and easy."

Susan stared at him. "You like that?"

Ben moved impatiently. "Oh, I knew what you'd say. I know the apartment's kind of messy. But they're not tied down. They live their own lives and have a good time."

Susan, remembering Arnold's unkempt appearance and the greasy loops of Sonya's pale hair, the spots on her smoke, was silent. She did not want to criticize Ben's friends.

"It's a great love, anyhow," Ben burst out after an interval as the brightly lighted trolley proceeded, in series of jerks and stops. "They were terribly in love. Arnold had a wife some place in Russia but they fixed that up. They're what I call a really happy couple."

Susan felt an hysterical impulse to laugh but she restrained herself. She had thought the whole crowd, the Strinskys and their unwashed friends (with the exception of that exotic blossom, Denise), dreadful people. With provincial simplicity she discounted whatever talent lay in Arnold's long fingers because, they did not look clean. She wondered how she could best describe the party to Aunt Jessie.

She let her hand lie limply in Ben's warm one at parting. "I can't ask you to come in," Susan said gently. "Aunt Jessie's gone to bed. Thank you for taking me to the party."

Ben muttered, "Wanted you to meet the crowd. You'll like them better when you know them. They're real people."

Susan withdrew her hand. "Good night, then," she said, avoiding his hot, uncomfortable gaze. He called after her, "I'll phone you." Susan waved to him through the screen door, glad the tiresome evening was over. There was something almost frightening about Ben's intensity. Even when he had talked of the Strinsky's romance he had made it seem a personal matter.

Those dreadful people! Their way of living might seem ideal to Ben Lampman but it certainly did not to Susan. She would not go there again.

But as summer waxed and waned the girl almost regretted her decision. Chicago's Bohemia might not be the social background she desired but loneliness was hard to bear and the warm nights brought with them an aching sense of missing something.

Rose Milton went to Sweetbrier Lake for two weeks and wrote back glowing accounts of her conquests. She sent snapshots of herself, the center of a merry mixed group. Susan, tossing sometimes on a hot and disordered bed, listening to the raucous music of the radio next door, would wonder about life. She was 19, not unattractive, intelligent. What promise was there ahead for her! Even if she held the job at Ernest Heath's (and it looked as if she might, with Miss O'Connell's convalescence lengthening out) what had she to look forward to?

Next year she might get $22 a week. In five years she might even be making $35. Well, what then? She would stay on with Aunt Jessie in the cottage. She would be 25,

Seventy-Four Churches In Lubbock's Methodist District Have 10,555 Members

By Staff Correspondent

LAMESA, May 4. —There are 74 church congregations with 10,555 members, in the Lubbock district of the Norhwest Texas Methodist conference of the Methodist Episcopal church, south, which is in session here now.

These are some of the facts about the church as given by the pastor-host, Rev. William H. Wallace jr.

"We have," he said, "about 27 charges, that is pastors, in the district. There are 74 congregations.

"Forty five of these congregations own their own meeting places. They are valued at over $600,000.

"Our membership at the last report includes 10,555. We received into the church for the last year, 1,600 new members. There are 8,739 members of Sunday schools, with 701 officials and teachers in 57 schools. We have 59 Epworth leagues, or organizations for young people, with 1,567 members and 32 missionary societies with 657 members.

"Last year for all purposes, local expenses, benevolences and mission work the district gave $75,596."

This year the district is expecting to add between 1,000 and 1,200 members on profession of faith, in addition to members transferred or replaced on the rolls.

District goals are: benevolences paid in full; a revival in every church; pastor's salaries paid in full and "make church membership mean more."

Pay Of Instructors In State Universities Exempt From Tax

WASHINGTON, May 4 (AP)—Compensation received by instructors in state universities is exempt from federal income tax.

It was so held today by the board of tax appeals which overturned its previous decision and ruled against the internal revenue bureau.

The decision was in the case of G. Ridgly Sappington, an instructor in the Maryland university law school.

Trade organizations of England are demanding that co-operative societies be taxed like other trading concerns.

They had their two ks' vacation, their one presen- le suit. They wore neat, sensible es and devoted themselves whole- rtedly to the concern for which y labored.

They neither charge accounts, nor uffeur-driven cars, nor trips h in the winter. They kept mns neat in big ledgers and d exquisite letters. They re- nbered to order flowers for Mrs. nk's anniversary. The words rang like a knell in Susan's heart yet, being a woman, she summoned a fixed smile to answer him.

"Going abroad?" she repeated, feeling rather stupid yet unable for the moment to find other words.

He frowned and played with his fork. "Yes. Thought I was to stay here and go into the business."

She said "I'm sorry" and the words struck her as being painfully inadequate.

"So am I." His mouth twisted whimsically as he looked at her. "I—It hasn't all gone as I thought it would. I wanted to be friends. I hoped—"

The waiter arrived with a tray of little silver dishes and Susan hated him. There was an interval and then they were alone again in the vast, scented, murmuring room once more.

"Well, that's that!" Bob Dunbar told her. His laugh sounded nervous and harsh. "Perhaps you'll still be around when I come back."

"When will that be!"

"Oh, late fall—by Christmas, at the outside."

Christmas—Christmas — Christmas—. Susan felt as though she were suffocating. To find love all at once, and have it snatched away.

Those large, fringed eyes, gray and black by turn, were raised to his.

"That's right. I wanted to tell you something. I would have before but the family's been pestering me all summer. Been keeping me out of town. Treating me like a kid in grade school. But you must know—you must have guessed before this—"

Susan felt joy suffusing her, washing over her like warm rain.

Into the waters of this tete-a-tete there dropped the tiniest of pebbles. A girl's voice, slow and drawling and insolent, broke across Bob Dunbar's. The strange voice said, "Where ever have you been, darling? I've been missing you so."

Susan glanced up to find the red-haired girl who had been at the Strinsky's party staring impudently at her. But the words were addressed to Bob Dunbar who had sprung to his feet.

"Miss Ackroyd, this is Miss Carey," he said.

Susan wished the ground might open and swallow that red-haired girl, Denise.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, May 4. (AP)—Cotton was generally easier in today's fairly active trading, declining 17 to 18 points during the morning to within 6 to 11 points of the season's lows but later staging a partial comeback. The market closed barely steady with prices showing net declines for the day of 8 points.

After mid-session and during the early afternoon the market rallied on good wire house buying and covering, recovering 8 to 11 points from lows of the morning. A shade easier at the end, July closed at 5.63 and Oct. at 5.87, showing net declines for the day of 8 points.

Liverpool is due tomorrow on New Orleans 2 to 3 penny points up.

of that section of our citizenship least able to bear the burden. Wall street sees little hope of collecting its huge loans to bankrupt European governments unless Uncle Sam can be induced to cancel the debts owing to the United States treasury. They are financing the propaganda for cancellation to enhance the chances of collecting their own obligations.

"To compensate the government they propose a sales tax and a beer tax, both of which will lay the burden on the common people. Before being caught in any such trap the workers of America should remember that beer constituted 94 per cent of the pre-prohibition liquor trade, and that a tax of three cents a glass will come out of the pockets of the poor rather than of the rich.

Stock Market Demonstrated That It Could Rally In Wednesday's Trading

BY JOHN L. COOLEY
Associated Press Financial Writer

NEW YORK, May 4. (AP)—The stock market today demonstrated that it could, upon occasion, rally.

Thanks to a late recovery, apparently based in the main on short repurchases, prices closed higher for the first time in a week, although advances averaged into only a fractional gain.

The market looked despondent through the morning.

Selling was in slightly larger volume during the decline. Roughly, it embraced all groups except oils and gold mining issues, the latter showing considerable spirit on the advance. When the rise came it quickly caught up many stocks whose weakness had created considerable technical strength and in a few instances net gains amounted to two or three points or more.

Few surprises developed out of the news. Senators plugged away at the tax bill and from the house came assurances that there would be no cash bonus at this session.

Sizeable losses by government obligations, especially treasury loans, and word that gold shipments were being resumed to Europe as a result of current conditions in the exchange market indicated which way the wind was blowing. Bankers pointed out that no concern need be felt over the gold movement.

In some quarters government security weakness was taken to reflect fears that the reserve system would curtail its open market policy in view of renewed pressure against our gold; elsewhere, however, it was said that no change in the program would be made.

cooperate with authorities in an effort to eliminate traffic mishaps.

Only in extraordinary cases will traffic ordinance violaters be discharged without fines, police said. All offenses are punishable by fines from $1 to $200, but small or minimum fines are assessed usually in first cases. "First offense" fines will run about as follows: Running a red light, $3; failure to obey stop sign, and double parking, $1 each; speeding $5; reckless driving $5 to $15.

A former police employe has been added to the department, O. E. Rush, a member of John Lemond's staff being in uniform again, during the drive to lessen accidents here.

Mayor Clements' proclamation was:

"That, whereas recent accidents involving both motor vehicles and pedestrians again have accentuated the necessity of greater precaution to safeguard children and adults of Lubbock against loss of life or serious injury in traffic, and whereas the Lubbock police department has undertaken an educational campaign preliminary to more stringent enforcement of traffic laws,

"Now, therefore, be it known, that attention is called to the tragedy, suffering and expense resulting from carelessness in the operation of vehicles and in the conduct of pedestrians in Lubbock, and further, be it known, that I ask the citizens of Lubbock to exercise caution and to so instruct their children, and to cooperate with the peace officers and other authorities in an effort to eliminate traffic mishaps.—Signed, J. J. Clements, mayor of Lubbock."

High School Boys To Offer Program

The Kiwanis club, at its luncheon Thursday at Hotel Lubbock, will take up Boys' Week observance with a program presented by high school and Texas Technological college students. The Tech boys will appear in a tumbling act.

Russell T. Smith is chairman of the committee directing arrangements for the program, which will include orchestra numbers, rope skipping, shadow boxing, and football, basketball and track demonstrations in uniform.

Boys directed the luncheon program of the Rotary club Wednesday at Hotel Lubbock, and about 50 youths were club guests.

Following the introduction of guests and boys present, a talk on the Boy Scout movement was given by James Hedges. Ralph Brock explained the scout oath, law and merit badge award plans. Out-of-town visitors were: T. J. Abel, Abe Kessel, and Claude Anderson, Slaton and Wilson Kimble, Floydada.

program of field work and service which causes confusion, duplication and extra expenditures.

Seek Closer Harmony

"We want to work out a centralized program and seek closer harmony among the co-operatives of all commodities.

"We feel that the Texas Farm Bureau Federation is the parent organization of all co-operatives in Texas and this plan should be built around it."

Mr. Frist revealed that 85 per cent of the farmers in the El Paso area belong to a co-operative of some sort. He also said that between 65 and 70 per cent deliveries of commodities are made to the co-operatives.

Supper Is Carded

Today's program will be climaxed with the Farmer's Supper at 6:30 o'clock tonight at Hotel Hilton featuring "Food, Fellowship and Fun." R. J. CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, May 4. (AP)—Export purchasing of 1,500,000 bushels of North American wheat, not counting cargoes taken for Russia, helped put new backbone into grain values today.

Temporarily, corn dipped to below the season's bottom price record, as well as cutting under quotations at Buenos Aires.

Wheat closed firm, 1-2 to 1-8 above yesterday's finish, corn unchanged to 3-8 higher, oats unchanged to 3-8 up, and provisions unchanged to a rise of 5 cents.

Estimates of the amount of North American wheat bought for Russia indicated that 1,000,000 bushels were taken from the Pacific coast and 500,000 from the Atlantic.

Acting at times as a notable offset to revival of speculative buying of wheat as a result of enlarged export business was unsettlement of securities. At one stage, wheat futures dropped to almost 10 cents a bushel under the market's recent high point.

Car Crash

sedan. Miss Evelyn Burlingame of Lubbock, with Miss Brock, escaped injury.

Minor bruises and cuts were suffered by Tom Williams, driver of the sedan, Mrs. Williams, Mrs. Cornell and Mrs. Noel Lawson, all of San Angelo. The San Angeloans had been to Amarillo and were returning in Judge Cornell's car.

Loses Control of Car

Two other automobiles were near the accident scene and were thought by those in the crash to have contributed to the wreck. Miss Brock's car was between two automobiles, all going north. She said the machine behind her was driven out into the highway as though to pass her as she was meeting the sedan. She turned her automobile off the right side of the pavement to give room, and when the wheels struck the loose dirt she lost control of the car. The front and left part of the coupe struck the left rear body of the sedan.

The heavier car overturned twice, throwing Williams clear, and pinning the four other occupants inside. The Brock car was turned completely around, to face the south.

Crash Investigated

A member of the San Angelo group said he believed brakes of the car in front of the coupe were applied just before the crash. The woman driver of this car, who stopped and rendered aid, said she did not apply the brakes.

Some of the victims were brought to the sanitarium in a Rix ambulance; others were carried by passers-by. Highway Patrolmen Jack Reaves and E. C. Dorris were investigating the crash last night.

Texan Wins

the Democratic vote totaled around 250,000, with the Smith delegation winning with an average delegate vote of about 134,000.

Setbacks Are Given

Predictions by Roosevelt leaders that they would carry every county in the state met severest setback in the southern counties, especially in Los Angeles.

John B. Elliott, campaign manager for Garner in southern California, wired congratulations to the Texan, naming him as presidential timber of the first rank. Replying, Speaker Garner said: "I am deeply appreciative of your interest and kind thoughts concerning myself. Regards."

Henry H. McPike, director of the northern California campaign, said the California delegation with the Texas delegation, "puts the speaker in the central place, around which the Democrats of the nation can rally, bringing all elements under his banner."

The oil conservation measure, which proposed control of production and storage by an elective commission, was overwhelmed, the vote being more than three to one against it.

William G. McAdoo, who leads the Garner delegation and campaigned for him, was outspoken against the conservation measure and it was considered this helped Garner's cause as opposition to the act was pronounced in the southern part of the state.

cago and started for prison, grinned broadly.

Capone bought big meals for the party and kept everybody supplied with cigars and cigarettes all day.

Although he has been suspected of hundreds of crimes from murder on down, it was the failure to pay taxes on his big income from liquor sales, gambling halls and vice dens that led to Capone's conviction and the long exile expected to rob him of his control over Chicago's underworld.

Interesting Facts Are Turned In As Ripley Contest Progresses In City

test and is also entered in the national contest in which Ripley is offering nine grand awards.

Young Pierce's contribution to the contest was only one of many that came in Wednesday and members of the local judging committee worked late last night deciding on the winning entry. A large number of other odd facts and statements came in for close consideration before Johnnie's was decided on.

The names of eight other persons who submitted entries received honorable mention in Wednesday's judging and their contribution will also be entered in the national contest, included in the list was Walter S. Ruffner of the West Texas Gas company, who received honorable mention in Tuesday's judging, who seems to be a source of unusual statements. He submitted three more Wednesday.

W. T. Jones, jr., Tahoka; Harold A. Cooper, Idalou; Mary Catherine Wilkinson, route one, Lubbock; Mrs. Lola Shuey, O. E. McGow, W. C. Rylander and Warren Poole, all of Lubbock, were the others receiving honorable mention.

The mail of the "Believe It or Not" editor of the Avalanche was increasing steadily Wednesday afternoon and indications are that his desk will be swamped with contributions in the contest by the latter part of the week.

Young Pierce also submitted another fact found in the same book along with his prize winning entry. It was taken from the same chapter and was as follows: "A pound of steel will make twenty miles of hair springs in a watch."

Ruffner's three odd facts were:

"Artificial gas (made from coal) can now be produced without first mining the coal. The deposit of coal is set afire underground. Lee Ranney, president of the Renney Oil Mining company, 26 Broadway, New York City, invented the process.

Bathing Against Law

"It's still against the law to bathe in Boston, Mass., without the authorization of a physician.

"A small black female dog lived in a cage of lions in Leipzig, Germany, for a number of years and was the 'boss'. In 1922 I saw the dog living with the lions, and watched it issuing orders to the lions by means of barking and snapping. This dog, so the keeper told me, had nursed the lions since they were small cubs. By having the dog mother the lions, the authorities were of the opinion that the lions might become slightly more domesticated."

Carbolic Not Acid

"Believe It or Not, carbolic acid is not acid but an alcohol." was the statement made by Warren Poole, Tech student from Floydada. And he furnished proof by giving its formula, "the formula for phenol, which is commonly called carbolic acid is C6H5OH. The Oh group distinguishes the substance as being an alcohol. Its similarity to ethanol, or whisky, is shown:

C2H5OH-ethanol; C6H5OH - phenoal (or carbolic acid)."

"There are three produce dealers in the town of O'Donnell, Texas, by the following names: A Minor, Cornett and Musick," was the entry submitted by W. T. Jones of Tahoka.

Rooster Is Guardian

Mary Catherine Wilkinson of route one, Lubbock wrote in:

"A rooster that is three years old and is still our faithful guardian. He was hatched by a hot water bottle. I learned him to fight a yo-yo ball at the age of three weeks old. I also learned him to fight your feet. Come to Wilkinson's XL dairy farm, four miles east of Lubbock, and you will find him on his guard."

One of the oddest statements came from Mr. McGow but he failed to furnish enough proof to win the first award. He wrote:

"I have seen and raised a very interesting and unusual 'freak'. In the spring of 1928, my mother set an egg containing two yolks under a Rhode Island Red hen. It was the first egg to hatch, so we know that two chickens came from that one large egg. The two chickens were perfect in all respects and finally proved to be a pullet and a rooster. They grew to be grown chickens. For proof, I refer you to Mrs. H. S. Capshaw, 212 South Ross avenue, Mexia, Texas."

Soldiers United

W. C. Rylander's entry was as follows:

"At age of 33, I was residing in the city of Temple, Texas, and was a salesman in a gent's furnishing store. An old man entered and hearing my name, 'Rylander,' immediately said, 'I was in the command of Maj. Rylander during the Civil War'. During the conversation, another old man entered the store and heard the name 'Rylander' and immediately said, 'I was in the command of Maj. Rylander during the Civil war. Two Confederate soldiers enlisting from different states—fighting in the same army—under the same commander in the same battle and each of them being one of four soldiers who carried a wounded officer to the rear, were united in that conversation. One is now residing in Oklahoma and the other in New Mexico." As proof of his statement, Mr. Rylander signed an affadavit before Notary Public G. V. Pardue here.

Harold A. Cooper, Idalou, was among those submitting good "Believe It or Not" during Wednesday. His entry was:

See But One Side

"Although the moon turns on its axis, man has never seen but one side. Proof: The day on the moon is 29 1-2 of our days and the movement along its orbit just exactly counteracts the turning on its axis. The result is that the moon always has the same side to the earth."

"The country where it rains mud" is the title of Mrs. Lola Shuey's entry. Mrs. Shuey resides at 1810 Thirteenth street, Lubbock. "In West Texas during a blinding sandstorm she wrote, "it has been known to suddenly transform into violent rain storm, thus raining mud. One being caught out in one of these freakish storms dressed in light colored clothes will find themselves all splattered with mud, 'Believe It or Not'."

From Hazel Cox, 2417 Twenty-Eighth street, who is a student in the low seventh grade, comes the following:

Bird Has Energy

"A bird has more energy than a man proportion to its size. Explanation—a bird has five times as much energy as a man. Birds can fly many miles without food and rest. They keep up their energy and heat by eating a great deal of proportion of food according to their size."

There is no end to these things. Maybe you know one. Of course, you know one. Everybody has a believe-it-or-not in their experience and most of them are good ones too. Come on, send them in!

If you don't find your name in the list soon don't be discouraged. Remember we are going to award these prizes every day for two weeks.

Write legibly on one side of the paper only. Put your name and address on every sheet. Submit proof for all statements. Mail your contribution to the "Believe-It-or-Not Editor" of the Avalanche.

Four Are Freed

year-old defender said. "I appreciate what the governor and the judge have done. I appreciate the work of the attorneys in the case and appreciate the fact that the newspapers have given the case wide publicity so that the case went before a jury of 100,000,000 people most of whom are not hampered by absurd rules of law and do not believe statutes are better than human beings."

Found Guilty Friday

The four defendants were found guilty of manslaughter last Friday after a harrowing trial in which Mrs. Massie told of the attack made upon her last September 12 and Lieutenant Massie admitted they had brought Kahahawai to the Fortescue home to obtain a confession from him.

He said Kahahawai admitted the attack and that then his mind went blank. The next thing he knew, he said, was when he was being taken to jail.

The defendants were scheduled to be sentenced next Friday.

No One Present

Virtually no one except the usual employes of the judiciary building were present when the quartet was brought there for sentencing.

Circuit Judge Charles S. Davis pronounced the maximum penalty, 10 years at hard labor. Under the law the jurist was forced to give the maximum penalty. The minimum to be served is later fixed by the territorial prison board.

Jones, Lord, then Massie and finally Mrs. Fortescue received similar sentences. In reply to questions of Judge Davis, all answered they had nothing to say before sentence was passed.

Each Smiles Happily

They then were committed to the custody of the sheriff and permitted to go across the street to the palace where Governor Judd's offices are located. Within an hour the commutation was announced. For the first time in weeks each smiled happily. Mrs. Massie was present, radiant in a bright blue dress.

Darrow said he had been informed of the governor's intention Monday.

Capt. Ward Wortman, Massie's commander who has been the custodian of the defendants at Pearl Harbor since they were arrested January 8, said Massie, Jones and Lord would retain their status in the navy unchanged.

All Are To Leave

He said the order committing them to custody of the sheriff of Oahu prison preserved their standing. If they had been sent to prison, even for an hour, Wortman said, federal action would have been necessary to clear their records and restore them to their status in the navy. This view was concurred in by Lieutenant Johnson, who represented the navy on the defense counsel.

Wortman said he anticipated orders at an early date transferring Massie, Jones and Lord to duty elsewhere.

The abrupt termination of the case probably will mean all the Massies and Fortescues will leave Hawaii permanently. Mrs. Massie probably will not remain to testify at the retrial of the assault case in which the remaining four defendants accused of attacking her will be tried. Plans for the retrial now are underway. Asked concerning her plans she referred all questions to Darrow.

"I am going to advise her to," Darrow said. "She has been through enough here. What is the use of her testifying again in this assault case. She has given her testimony twice already."

He said Mrs. Fortescue probably would leave Honolulu immediately.

Changes Made In Bus Schedules Here; Direct Connections Are Available Now

Direct schedules to El Paso, offered for the first time, will be placed in effect Thursday morning by South Plains Coaches, Joe Bowman, manager, said Wednesday. A change will also be made on the Westex Motor Stage lines to Spur.

On the Big Spring line of the South Plains Coaches, the early schedule departure from Lubbock will be at 7 a. m. instead of 8:30 and the afternoon departure has been moved up to 3:15 instead of 5 p. m. These changes will give direct connections at Big Spring both east and west with the Southland Greyhound bus and also direct connections with the Union Bus lines to San Angelo and San Antonio. A layover of several hours was necessitated on the old schedule.

Other Changes Made

On the Sweetwater line of the coaches, the afternoon bus will leave at 4:30 instead of 5 p. m., departure time now. This change was made to meet changes made in buses at Sweetwater.

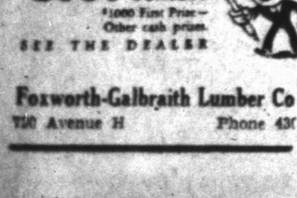

On the Westex Motor Stages to Spur, the afternoon departure was set back to 2:30 instead of 1 p. m. No change is made in the early schedule.

Mr. Bowman announced that plans were now in formation for the offering of special rates by the bus lines to the West Texas Chamber of Commerce convention in Sweetwater as well as excursion vacation rates to all points of interest throughout the U. S. this summer.

GOGGLES FOR FRENCH COW

Breech Clouts and HOARDED MONEY go hand in hand

Consider the scantily clad Hindu . . . symbolic figure of a vastly populous nation—a backward, primitive people who enjoy few of the necessities and luxuries required by our modern standard of living. Yet they dwell in a country of boundless natural resources, immeasurable potential wealth. And they have money, coin of the realm, enough, in fact, to make them one of the richest countries on earth. But they use their money either for ornaments, or they hide it away. The result: a nation of hoarders, a nation of poor!

Consider America: Her savings banks are bulging with money; strong boxes are full to the brim. Never in the history of the United States have there been so many billions removed from circulation, so much wealth hoarded. The result is a deadening of trade, stalling of factories, reduced transportation—curtailment everywhere. The unemployment of millions of people—who cannot buy—completes the vicious circle.

The moral is obvious: Those who have money and can spend, SHOULD spend. Not foolishly, of course—but wisely and to their own advantage. The National Publishers' Association says: THE DOLLAR YOU SPEND NOW IS WORTH $1.50; THE DOLLAR YOU SAVE NOW IS WORTH ONLY 75c. The comparison is based on the purchasing value and the investment value of the dollar in 1929.
