Gubernatorial Race In Texas Is Complex

THIRTEEN IN RUNNING FOR STATE OFFICE

PARRISH IS SAID TO BE STRONG MAN IN CAMPAIGN

(By Associated Press) DALLAS, June 3.—Still bearing all the earmarks of a Chinese puzzle, the political situation as it involved Texas democrats was little clearer today, although the deadline for filing applications for a place on the democratic ballot was passed last midnight.

Thirteen candidates for governor had been definitely placed in the race, subject only to their refusal. A half dozen or more others, who announced earlier in the campaign, may have their applications in the mail, and if they were mailed before last midnight, the executive committee will accept them.

Confuses Situation Instead of clarifying the situation, the last day for filing added to the confusion when the name of Senator Pink L. Parrish of Lubbock, one of the strongest political figures in West Texas, was mailed in by Crosby county friends.

The enforced candidacy of Parrish placed three of the admittedly stronger candidates—Parrish, Governor Dan Moody, and Lynch Davidson of Houston—in the commanding position of taking their time about making known their decision as to participating in the race.

HOOVER VETO OVERRIDDEN

BOTH HOUSES MAKE STAND AGAINST PRESIDENT

(By Associated Press) WASHINGTON, June 3.—Enacted over the veto of President Hoover a new law for the payment of pensions to veterans of the Spanish-American war today took its place upon the statute books of the nation.

WASHINGTON, June 3.—President Hoover said today he had not changed his opinion that the Spanish-American war veterans pension bill enacted over his veto yesterday by congress was unwise.

Despite the chief executive's disapproval, the senate vote was 61 to 18 and that of the house 298 to 14.

Democrats Solid On both roll calls the democrats voted solidly against the president while a group of administration dependables supported his position. The western independent republicans joined the democrats of the senate in approving the bill.

Although it was Mr. Hoover's second veto, it was his first to be brought to a vote. Several months ago he vetoed a bill to provide for the minting of special coins in connection with the celebration of the Gadsden purchase, and his veto was permitted to stand.

"Tests of the concrete are exceptionally good," said Mr. Johnston. "The highway department requires that 7-day tests have a compressive strength of 2,000 pounds per square inch. Recent tests on this pavement reveal 3,400 pounds per square inch."

CANNON REFUSES PROBE

BISHOP WON'T ANSWER ABOUT SMITH DRIVE

METHODIST LEADER SAYS "PERSECUTION" IS ATTEMPTED

(By Associated Press) WASHINGTON, June 3.—Bishop James Cannon, Jr. today flatly declined before the senate lobby committee to answer a question about his political activities in the 1928 presidential campaign.

Senator Walsh, democrat, Montana, in adjourning the committee, informed the bishop that "of course you will have to take responsibility" for declining to answer.

"I am 'persecution' Cannon replied the committee's investigation of him was 'persecution'.

"This stirred the crowded committee room into laughter, applause and hisses.

"I cannot help but get the implication in that statement," said Walsh.

Cannon hastily replied: "I do not charge you, senator, with persecution."

Charges Catholics Just previously, the bishop had charged that wet and Roman Catholic interests had tried to discredit him. Walsh is a Catholic, and a dry.

For more than two hours, Walsh and Senator Blaine, republican, Wisconsin, the only members of the committee present, had questioned Cannon about his relations to various temperance organizations.

The bishop had answered freely so long as the questions related to the temperance organizations, but when asked about the Asheville Anti-Smith conference he first read a statement of protest, then flatly declined to answer.

Walsh did not immediately indicate what further action he might take. In the past some of the witnesses who have refused to answer the senate committee have been adjudged in contempt of the senate and punished in various ways.

PARRISH NOT HEARD FROM ON CANDIDACY

LOCAL MAN IS ENTERED BY CROSBY FRIENDS; IS IN CANADA

Due to action of his Crosby county friends, the name of State Senator Pink L. Parrish, of Lubbock, has been placed into the complex and multiplying gubernatorial race of Texas.

Notified by a telegram sent last night by James H. Goodman, of this city, Senator Parrish, who arrived in Toronto, Canada, today to attend an international Shrine convention as official delegate of Khiva Temple, Amarillo, had not responded early this afternoon.

Whether or not the Senator will consent to make the race is debatable. Several weeks ago he announced that he would not be a candidate, following solicitations of numerous friends who sought to place his name on the ticket.

Forty Crosby county friends of the Lubbock man, who was formerly judge of that county, signed the petition and the necessary certified check to have his name placed upon the Democratic primary ballot.

Petition Is Mailed The petition and the check were put in the mails Monday, addressed to D. W. Wilcox, of the State Democratic executive committee, at Georgetown. Among those who signed the petition were W. E. McLaughlin, of Ralls; Bruce Mitchell, of Crosbyton; Dick Hyatt, of Ralls; Fred Weise, and Dr. D. R. Durham, of Lorenzo, and P. B. Ralls, of Ralls.

Senator Parrish received state-wide attention last year when he introduced and succeeded in having a bill passed making drastic changes in the state's fee system. He was looked upon as a friend by such divergent politicians as Love and Barry Miller and Dan Moody and Jim Ferguson, winning their open expressions of commendations.

MORE LAND UNDER WATER

LEVEE WORKERS SEEK TO HALT FLOODS IN LOUISIANA AREAS

ALEXANDRIA, La., June 3.—The expanse of overflowed area in the Red River valley was greater than ever today and the number of homeless refugees had increased, but levee workers labored with undaunted courage to hold to a minimum the loss here, with a rise of three-fourths of a foot. The peak was anticipated within a few days, followed by a fall.

The number of homeless in the entire flooded basin was estimated at 15,000. Private and tributary levees giving way yesterday and the day before, today placed several thousand more square miles under water, including much valuable farm land.

The Red Cross and other agencies continued their efforts to alleviate the hardships of the flood refugees. Their endeavors thus far have been successful and neither hunger nor disease has been able to gain any extensive foothold among the homeless.

WATERS RECEDING ALONG RIO GRANDE

BROWNVILLE, June 3.—(AP)—A gradual recession of the Rio Grande last night and today eliminated all danger of the river's inundating the town of Matamoros, Mexico, across from here.

The river broke out of levees near Las Huastecas, two miles south, covering fields and damaging several small houses. Mexican soldiers and volunteers worked on levees all yesterday afternoon and last night to save Matamoros from being flooded.

TRAGEDY ENDS LOVERS' ROW

SAN ANTONIO, June 3.—A lover's quarrel was assigned by Sheriff Ed Bierschwalke as the cause of the death of Miss Ellen Dietert, 16, and Arledge White, 21, found shot to death in a car on the San Antonio highway near Comfort, 50 miles from here, last night. Louis Faust, justice of the peace at Comfort, rendered a coroner's verdict of murder and suicide.

The bodies were discovered by Faust, the employer of White, who lived at Boerne but worked in the Comfort garage. Miss Dietert lived at Comfort.

Miss Dietert disappeared Sunday night while her parents, Mr. and Mrs. August Dietert, were at a picture show. The parents believed the couple had eloped. When a motorist, however, notified Faust Monday afternoon that he had seen a car parked near the road, Faust went to the scene and found the bodies. A note in the car asked the mother of the dead girl to forgive the slayer.

Sheriff Bierschwalke said the two had quarreled because of Miss Dietert's having gone out with another boy.

OIL IS BEING BLOWN OVER AREA TODAY

TWO THOUSAND IS PRODUCTION NOW; MUCH GAS BLOWING

(Special To The Journal) NEW HOBBS, N. M. June 3.—Endangering the countryside with its inflammable source, the Shell A-1 State came in unexpectedly last night at a depth of 4,004 feet and has today 2,000 barrels of oil in an estimated 50,000,000 feet of gas.

The calcitrant well, aided by gas and high wind, is sprinkling oil for a distance of two miles. It has not yet been put under control.

Southwest Oil Powers This well is located in section 22-18-38 and is one mile southeast of the Humble No. 1 Bowers, which is a producer at 4196 and has been estimated at 7,000 barrels.

All rigs under the threatening influence of the Shell well have been closed down as the fires could be turned out as a safety measure.

Nature seems to have meant in the beginning that a well should be brought in at this particular location. Just one hundred yards south of the well is a natural basin, which probably holds 250,000 barrels of oil. The hand of man could have done no better in preparation for a storage pool.

STOREY SEEKS TO ENTER PEN

FUGITIVE IS RETURNED TO DENTON BY RANGERS

(By Associated Press) HUNTSVILLE, June 3.—Arrested here yesterday as he was seeking admittance to the state penitentiary, Yancey Storey, Denton county "bad man," was en route to Denton today in the custody of two rangers.

Yancey was taken into custody at Warden Harrell's office, where he had gone on a second quest to obtain entrance to the state penitentiary, presumably to serve a five year term for robbery of the Krum State Bank.

Bonds Forfeited It was the Krum State Bank robbery conviction and his subsequent appeal from the conviction that made Storey a fugitive from justice, sought most intensively by five bondsmen who had signed his bond for a total of $33,000 on 25 felony charge only to have them forfeited.

After the Krum conviction, an agreement was reached by which other charges were to have been dismissed if Storey would forego appealing the conviction. He appealed, however, and the sentence was affirmed. Subsequently, Yancey disappeared and his bonds were ordered forfeited.

He has been sought since April 14, and had been variously reported as being on his farm near Denton, and as being in hiding.

Charges against him included five for burglary, five for theft of more than $50, one of arson, four of robbery, three of robbery with firearms, three assault to murder, three assault in disguise and one of accessory to murder.

MOODY, FORT WORTH LAUNDRYMAN, OUT FOR GOVERNOR; WANTS TO CLEAR UP "THE FAMILY NAME," HE DECLARES

FORT WORTH, June 3.—The newest hat in the ring for governor of Texas is off the modest head of C. C. Moody, who has piloted a laundry delivery wagon in Fort Worth for the past fifteen years.

His campaign promises to be a thoroughly unique one. His platform is for strict economy, "better schools instead of castles for convicts," and vindication for the family name.

Moody interrupted his deliveries today long enough to drop in at a barber shop and set up campaign headquarters. It was the first and last time he intends to use any of his working hours on promoting his candidacy. He'll pass out his cards along with bundles of clean linen, of course, right up to election day, but he won't spend much time talking about them.

"You know there's a bare possibility that I might not be elected governor," he explained, "and I can't afford to find myself one of those days without a job."

OILERS CLING TENACIOUSLY TO LEAD IN TEXAS

OTHER CLUBS STRIVING TO BETTER GAME

By Gayle Talbot, Jr., Associated Press Sports Writer.

Four northern clubs of the Texas league were settled behind their own battlements today for an extended engagement with a quartet of very determined antagonists from the southern provinces.

Leading the invasion were the Houston Buffaloes, clinging stubbornly to second place, who were backed for three days against the unfortunate Dallas Steers. It looked like a first class break for the Steers, as the leading Wichita Spudders were due to have their hands full with the truculent Beaumont nine. The Steers are receiving reinforcements by almost every train, and it is just possible that Commander Atz will rally his forces in time to beat off the Buffs.

Indians Get Tough

The San Antonio Indians, grown surprisingly tough during the past week, were at Shreveport for a trial, and Ed Pratt led his harassed Waco Cubs into Port Worth.

Chances of overhauling the Spuds appeared even more remote at the Williams clan prepared to meet the four southern clubs on home soil. Two and one-half games ahead of the pack, there was slight chance that the others would lose any of their advantage in the next fortnight. Rather, it appeared probable they would enhance their margin.

They pulled a little further ahead of the Buffs yesterday by mauling Fort Worth, 10 to 1, in their series final. It was clear profit, as the six other teams rested from their labors of Sunday. The victory gave the leaders three out of four for the series.

Steers Gain In Form

Mill Steenegrat pitched scorching ball against the Cubs, allowing only four hits and holding the opposition scoreless until the ninth, when Joe Bonowitz planted one over the left palace. The Spuds had a field day at the expense of Hardesty and Whitworth—especially Levy. The Oilers' shortstop collected four hits, including a homer and a double. He also stole a base, scored four runs and handled eight chances perfectly to round out the deal. Short had a triple and two singles, and Fitzgerald a double and two singles.

SHARKEY MORE MATURED, CALMER

Close Battles Loom In Chicago Meet

By Alan Gould (Associated Press Sports Editor) CHICAGO, June 3.—Sensational battles in the sprints, hurdles and mile run figure to feature the National Collegiate A. A. track and field championships, furnishing the grand climax of the college campaign June 6-7 at Stagg Field.

The meet brings together, for the first time this year, the sprint ace of the Southwest, Middle West and Far West. If there are no changes in the state, Cy Leland and Claude Bracey, the twin tornadoes from Texas, will leap off the marks against their big Ten rivals, Eddie Simpson of Ohio State and Eddie Tolan of Michigan, as well as the California comets—Hec Wykoff of Southern California.

All Make 8.5

All six of these dash men have done at least 8.5, the world's record time, for the "100." Four of them, Wykoff, Simpson, Bracey and Leland, have been clocked in 8.4, under varying conditions.

It will be unanimous if Hubert Meier of Iowa State, credited with 8.4 at Lincoln in the Big Six championships, moves into the sprinting line.

Steve Anderson, Washington's great hurdler, divided honors with Dick Rockaway of Ohio State last year, but both will need to be in shape to outstep Lee Sentman, the sensational Illinois timber-topper. Sentman is the most improved college performer of the year. Anderson has been nursing a bad ankle.

Milers Fast

The fastest pair of college milers in captivity will renew a duel for supremacy if Ralph Hill of Oregon and Rufus Kiser of Washington toe the marks. Hill is the hero of an American record mile victory over Kiser at Eugene, May 17, in 4:12 2-5. Hill will be in a class by himself if he can repeat this great performance. One of his leading Middle Western rivals is Orval Martin of Purdue, the Big Ten champion.

Ed Hann of Georgia Tech, outstanding favorite in the broad jump, will try to beat 26 feet and set a world's record. Warner of Northwestern and McDermott of Illinois figure to flirt with 14 feet in the pole vault. Eric Krenz and Harlow Rothert, the Stanford weight-tossing twins, should dominate the discus and shotput.

Ohio State, with 50 points, captured the team crown last year from Washington by an eight-point margin. Illinois, Southern California, Stanford, Iowa and Michigan trailed in that order. All seven have strong teams for the 1930 battle.

LOTTS THINKS HE'LL BE HARDER TO BEAT IN DAVIS CUP

PLAY AGAINST FRENCH THIS YEAR; IS CONCENTRATING

By Ted Vobrurn (Associated Press Sports Writer) NEW YORK, June 3.—All because of a public criticism made by Vincent Richards, young George Lott of Chicago thinks the French will find him harder to beat in the Davis Cup challenge round this year than last. Lott sails with six others tonight for the racquet wars abroad.

"It was funny," remarked Lott. "Richards wrote something about me in the paper while we were practicing in Philadelphia for the Davis Cup matches with Mexico. Richards criticized my game."

"Well, the funny part of it was that he was working out with us there, and the next day we played each other. I beat him. I think the scores were 6-1, 6-1."

Lott paused and suddenly became serious.

"Do you know what it was he wrote about me? He said I lacked concentration."

"Well, he's right. That has been the trouble with me in a lot of my matches—against Borozza, maybe in last year's challenge round, against Allison in the national championships and again against Allison this spring, for instance."

"It just happened that I read that article of Vincent's the day before I played against him. Right there I began to concentrate."

George thinks the task of concentrating will be a little easier this year than he found it when he stepped into the ring at the Roland Garros stadium at Antwerp, a suburb of Paris, for his baptism of fire last July.

HE PREPARES TO HOLD HIS TEMPER IN BOUT WITH SCHMELING

By Edward J. Neil (Associated Press Sports Writer) ORANOEURG, N. Y., June 3.—The dining room of Gus Wagon's fight camp was jammed with the froth of the ring game—sparring partners, handlers, hangers-on, beer barons and baronesses, visitors and curious neighbors all munching food and killing time at the end of the warm last day.

"They were there because Jack Sharkey was on the pre-bout, training for the climax of his third campaign for the heavyweight championship. Some of them, the sparring partners for instance, had seen more of Sharkey than they wanted. To the handlers, however, it was an old story, but for the remainder he was the object of a long dusty ride from the city, the savage demerol of the prize ring that stirs the primal in ordinary citizens as nothing else in sport can."

Calls for "the"

An itinerant negro musician, strumming his guitar and singing blues, amused the eaters with his melodies and annoyed them frequently by passing his hat around for coins. Then Sharkey, who had been strutting, lured by the music, stroled into the room.

"Give me that uk," he demanded. Sharkey tilted his hat down over his eyes, leaned a chair against the wall, and twanged a few chords. He played in a way that amazed even the negro's facile strumming. He played it with variations, and it was good. Then in a soft tenor voice he sang the blues.

Sharkey tossed the instrument back to the negro, the show was over, and the curious were satisfied. The house cleared and he came across the room to sit and talk. The thing that fills his mind every minute of the day and follows him to bed at night.

"Learned to play that thing to the navy," he said with a big grin. "Didn't know I could sing tenor, huh? I'm not so good in a quartet, but I can be drafted."

More Matured, Calmer

This Sharkey, priming for his June 12 battle with Max Baer, seemed more matured, calmer, and more capable than at any time in a career that has carried him twice within one fight of the heavyweight crown. He "blew" a battle to Jack Dempsey when he seemed to have won in hand, and a victory that would have meant a match with Gene Tunney in the man mauler's place in 1927. He fought lazy fights against Johnny Risko and Tom Heener in the elimination tournament to decide Tunney's final title opponent and lost the nomination.

He seems mentally and physically "right" for his third opportunity. His training has been uneventful, and ten days before the 15-round test in the Yankee stadium he is a marvelous picture of a fighting machine—stronger than ever about the shoulders, thinner through the legs and thighs, the best boxer in the heavyweight ranks, a sharp, punishing hitter. There hasn't been a single irritating incident in the preparatory campaign to loose his hair-trigger temperament.

The big problem Sharkey has always faced—that of controlling his own emotions, restraining himself so that he fights sensibly—seems a worry of the past. He is buoyed by recent public acclaim, strengthened by the thought that he is the American, defending the championship against an invading foreigner.

"For five weeks," the Boston sailor said, "I've been studying to hold myself in check. When my sparring partners hurt me, I pay no attention and stop them with lefts. I won't use my head against Schmeling."

ROVING THE SPORTS WORLD

WITH ALLAN CARNEY
JOURNAL SPORTS EDITOR

Lubbock baseball fans will likely go another week before they are permitted to witness another classic like the Kiwanis-Lion affray of May 23. Today's scheduled struggle between the A. B. C. "Primer Boys" and the Never-say-die Kiwanians has been postponed because the Kiwanis sluggers refuse to play without their manager, Frank Jones.

The second game of the current civic club series should prove a riot when the two teams are brought together. Vaughn Wilson and his Victorious Lions failed to offer the sort of competition necessary to interest the slugging Kiwanians but the youthful A. B. C. aggregation has all the earmarks of a tough diamond combination. Latest reports from the Primer Boys' camp indicate Clarence A. Call Me Sheff) Sheffield will cover the hot corner for his club instead of leading the cheers, as had previous been announced.

Manager Winfield Watkins has such an abundance of material that he has not yet decided on the starting lineup for the A. B. C.'s but he's the layout which appears to hold the inside track. Bert Finson, elongated drug store mogul, has practically enched the first base job. Sheffield has just about talked himself into the third base position but the second base-shortstop combination is yet to be filled. Roberts at shortstop and Bell at the key-stone sack are mentioned as the most likely performers. Lydel, Kling and Coffman have put in their bid for the outfield jobs, but the following reserve list will have to be watched—Shell, Deck, Martin, Noblett, Carnott and Watson.

When the Shreveport Sports returns home June 23 from an extended road haul they will find their home park equipped with 30,000.000 candlepower lighting system. Prospects are that the first night game in the Texas League will be played that night with the Wichita Falls Spudders arrayed against the Louisiana entry. Six club owners in the circuit have indicated their willingness to try night baseball but there are two who are standing pat in their opposition to the idea. These are Ted Robinson of Fort Worth and Hubie Stewart of Beaumont.

THIRTY-TWO ARE IN TULSA PLAY

TULSA, Okla., June 3.—Thirty-two feminine welders of wood and iron, representing the best of the middle-west's golfing talent, entered play here today for the 1930 championship of the Women's Trans-Mississippi Golf Association.

The 32 remained out of a field of 156 players who sought to qualify in yesterday's 18-hole test. While most of the favorites survived the qualifying round, they were forced to battle against a stiff crowd and the threats of many lesser known players whose cards failed of admittance to the select group by only two or three strokes.

Mrs. Dorothy Klotz Pardo, Sioux City, Iowa, star, who declined an invitation to become a member of the American women's team now playing Europe, carried off medalist honors with an 83 for the qualifying round. Mrs. Hubert Clarke of Oklahoma City stroked her way into second place with an 84, and Mrs. Tom Wallace of Sapulpa, present Oklahoma titleholder, and Mrs. Leon Solomon of Memphis, Tenn., scored 85s to tie for third honors.

PHILS STRIVE TO COME OUT

CARDS ARE BEATEN IN INTERSECTIONAL PLAY ON MONDAY

By Herbert W. Barker (Associated Press Sports Writer)

The lowly Phils, battling to get out of the cellar, have turned back the first western assault in the National League this season.

While all other major league clubs rested yesterday in preparation for general east-west engagements, the Phils outlugged the St. Louis Cardinals at Philadelphia, 9-5, in a preliminary skirmish of inter-sectional warfare.

The victory lifted the Phils a half game closer to seventh place, while the Cards, league leaders not long ago, now hold a lead of only one game over the fourth place Pittsburgh Pirates and trail the second place Cubs by one full game.

The Cardinals apparently had yesterday's battle won as early as the first inning when Chick Hafey hit Collins for a home run with two on, bringing the total count for the inning to four runs. The Cards touched Collins for two more home runs in the fifth, but could do nothing at all with Ace Elliott who relieved him in the seventh. Bill Hallahan, the Cards' special ace, called along smoothly for three innings but the Phils reached him for pairs of runs in the fourth and fifth innings.

Entering the seventh, the Cards held a two-run lead but Hallahan was driven out of the box in the last half of that frame as the Phils rushed into the lead with three runs. Bell pitched the rest of the game and was nicked for two more runs in the eighth. Arthur Whitney was the batting star of the day with two doubles and two singles.

The American League scored two victories over the National in exhibition games: The New York Yankees defeated Cincinnati, 8-3, and the Philadelphia Athletics conquered Pittsburgh, 8-2.

KIWANIS-A. B. C. GAME POSTPONED

The Kiwanis-A. B. C. baseball game, which was scheduled for today at Merrill Park, has been postponed until the return of Manager Frank Jones, it was announced last night by Clark M. Mulligan, president of the Kiwanians.

Jones is visiting relatives at Gainesville and will not return until next week. Absence of their manager was the sole reason given by the Kiwanians for calling off the contest.

The A. B. C. aggregation is fully organized and ready to go, says Windy Watkins, manager of the city's youngest civic club team. Officials of the two clubs were unable this morning to say just when the second game of the city series would be played but it is understood that the battle will be staged within the next ten days.

BLED SOE RACE TO BE GIVEN SUPPORT HERE

MEETING IS HELD LAST NIGHT TO TALK CAMPAIGN

One hundred Lubbock citizens attended a meeting last night in the district court room, where primary steps toward formation of a "Bledsoe for Lieutenant-Governor" campaign were started.

The proposed organization is to sponsor the candidacy of W. H. Bledsoe, of Lubbock, former state senator.

For Whole State Judge Mullican pointed out that Mr. Bledsoe has meant much to West Texas, but stated further that "we will advocate his candidacy for the whole state, and not for just a section."

A campaign organization, composed of a ways and means committee, a finance committee and a publicity committee will be named by Judge Mullican within the next few days. Headquarters will be established in the candidate's office.

The chairman last night explained that the campaign as it will be waged in Texas, will be largely one of letter writing to one friend or another. It is planned to enlist every group of business and professional men in the city, every line of endeavor, and spread the name of Bledsoe to every nook and corner of this state.

Senator Bledsoe will leave Wednesday morning for an extensive campaign tour of the south and east portions of Texas.

The candidate expects to be away from Lubbock for the greater portion of the time between now and the election.

SPUR PHYSICIAN IS PAINTER TOO

(By Staff Correspondent)

SPUR, June 3.—This city is the home of a professional man, who as a young man apprenticed to a well known painter, helped paint the murals and historical pictures in the then new state capitol at Austin.

He is Dr. J. H. Grace, who has lived in Spur for about fifteen years and who is one of the well known and popular physicians of Dickens county.

"I was a green student, raised in New Orleans," the doctor said. "I was apprenticed to W. A. Huddle, who had the contract to paint the pictures of General Sam Houston, Sul Ross, Davy Crockett and those other heroes of early day Texas. That was forty years ago."

"I had come to Texas from New Orleans, where I was born. This was not much of a country then. Mr. Huddle was a great portrait painter, one of the best in the southwest. It was a pleasure as well as an honor to work under his direction. I helped him on all those pictures, and many others."

Completing his apprenticeship, the young artist later turned to the study of medicine and became a physician. He followed his chosen profession but retained his youthful love for painting.

Coming to Spur, the doctor found his love for beauty had a splendid opportunity to be satisfied. As a result many of the rich scenes and historic spots around Dickens county have been placed on canvas and are to be found in Spur, Lubbock and other towns.

"I painted a picture of Marton Smith, of Lubbock, and it now hangs in his home," the doctor said. "It is a life sized painting."

"Another painting I have done in recent years is of Old Soldier mound, north of Spur. Tradition has it as the scene of one of the early day fights here."

The doctor still does some painting. He frequently will paint a special scene for a personal friend or will execute an order on request.

THERE'S MONEY IN EGGS, DICKENS COUNTY MAN DECLARES; MAKES GOOD

(By Staff Correspondent)

SPUR, June 3.—There's money in eggs if you know how to get them out of the hens.

Take the case of Jessie Higgins, as reported by E. L. Tanner, county agent. Jessie had 180 hens and he fed them 750 pounds of mash during April. The eggs he got netted him 24 cents per hen above feed costs, or $43.56.

Cost per dozen was 61 cents and Higgins received 20 cents per dozen. Feed costs amounted to $20.17 for the month.

County Agent Tanner reports the day's schedule as follows: feeds the hens some grain after arising at 6 a. m., fills feed hoppers and gives fresh water in five 3-gallon buckets; lets hens out of house at 9 o'clock.

At noon he refills the feed hoppers and puts out fresh water. An hour before sundown he repeats the performance.

Cleaning of the modern hen house takes about an hour one day a week. During April he average 21.8 eggs per hen per month.

TEXAS REPUBLICANS CHOOSE THIRTY-FIVE CANDIDATES TO ENTER RACE; GIRAND NAMED

LOCAL MAN IS AMONG LIST DRAFTED FOR JULY PRIMARIES

DALLAS, June 3.—Texas republicans have drafted a list of 35 candidates for state offices for the July primaries, at a state-wide rally held here Saturday in connection with a called meeting of the state executive committee.

The "drafting" was accomplished by a committee of 25 headed by C. K. McDowell of Del Rio. Discussion of possible candidates throughout the conference was marked only by an insistence upon two things: To have Dr. George C. Butte leave his duties as assistant auditor general at Washington and return to Texas as a candidate for governor and to draft more than one candidate for each office in the primaries.

Five In Race
Heading the list were the candidates for governor, including John P. Grant, Houston; John E. Elgin, San Antonio; Dr. George C. Butte, Austin; and H. E. Exum, Amarillo. The conference voted to inform Dr. Butte by telegraph at Washington of the desire that he be a candidate.

National Committeeman Rene E. Creager of Brownsville, unable to attend the session because of being delayed in Washington at a hearing, was believed endeavoring to persuade Dr. Butte to make the race.

Tribute To Exum
McDowell paid tribute to Exum, one of the four candidates for governor, in an address in which he commended successive democratic administrations in Texas for the last 30 years. He said the situation this year was hopeful because of the "sixteen or twenty" democratic candidates and added that, therefore, "two or three republicans ought to make a stir." Exum was not at the meeting, instead attending his daughter's graduation.

The Butte sentiment arose after a telegram had been read from Butte, the man who polled the largest republican vote ever accorded when he ran against Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson for governor in 1926. Butte in his telegram declared that the future welfare of Texas was "bound up in the republican party" and pledged his support.

H. H. Haines of Fort Arthur was drafted as a candidate for United States senator and C. O. Harris of San Angelo and Mrs. Lena Moore of Wichita Falls also were announced as candidates for that office.

List Announced
The list of other candidates drafted follows:

- Leutenant governor: Mike H. Thomas, Dallas; Dr. H. B. Tanner, Eastland; R. J. McMillan, San Antonio.
- Attorney General: George S. Atkinson, Dallas; Litten Taylor, El Paso; Clarence A. Miller, Houston; Walm H. Sanford, Wichita Falls.
- State treasurer: Ed. King, Paris; C. W. Johnson, Graham.
- Comptroller: Charles Back Hillsberry, Mrs. R. E. Dorsey, Dallas; Mrs. P. A. Welty, Natalia.
- Superintendent of public instruction: Mrs. Alma Baker Rea, Hamilton; Mrs. R. L. Cooner, Gorman; Mrs. Hallie Reynolds, El Paso.
- Railroad commissioner: Charles D. Turner, Dallas; L. J. Beckenstein, Beaumont; Howard Stacey,

Plainview Farmer Hardly Had A Well Day In Four Years

Wants Everyone To Know The Good Argotane Has Has Done For Him; Gains Daily

"I was determined to try Argotane after hearing and reading about the good results it was accomplished so I bought a bottle and began taking it and the results are, I have gained in health and feel better than I have in four years." This is what C. J. Sprague residing on rural route 2, Plainview, Texas said.

"I have suffered from indigestion and stomach trouble until it just seemed as if nothing was ever going to help me at all. I hardly knew what it was to have a well day in five years until Argotane straightened me out. I had gotten to where I couldn't eat anything without suffering from it. After every meal gas would form and bother me for hours after and cause me all sorts of trouble.

"I was in a very bad run down condition and had no appetite, as all and what I did eat would turn sour on my stomach. No one but those who are troubled with indigestion know how I did suffer and although I tried everything nothing seemed to reach my case or do me any good.

"I kept on going down hill and the day I started on Argotane I was suffering with the same old troubles. I started to feel better in a few days after I began taking Argotane and have gradually picked up ever since. I now feel like my old self again and have not only gained strength but can eat anything I want and as much as I want without it bothering me in the least. My indigestion is broken up, I sleep like a dog and simply feel like a different man."

Genuine Argotane may be purchased in Lubbock at the BOWEN Drug Store. Adv.

Superintendent Clark announces the department will be moved from its former location in two rooms in the basement of the first floor of the high school building. AMESA BOASTS OF EXCELLENT ARRAY OF INDUSTRIES FOR SMALL TOWN; IS CENTER FOR PRODUCTS OF 4 COUNTIES

BY VIC LAMB
Special Staff Correspondent
AMESA, June 3.—Hand in hand with agriculture, the backbone of life on the Lower South Plains, Amesa is building up in an industrial field that has proven her position as a central point for a trade area of five counties in West Texas. There are at present seven large industries in Amesa which form the nucleus of the Dawson county plant.

Products manufactured by the Amesa factories and plants are made from raw material grown on the Plains, which are finished into commodities that are distributed in Texas and neighboring states.

Cotton Oil Mill Leads
One of the leading industries here is the Amesa Cotton Oil Mill, owned by Amesans as an incorporated company. The mill, established in Amesa in 1923, is valued at $23,000. It manufactures such products as cold pressed cake and meal, linters and cotton seed oil. The products, manufactured from material grown in Dawson and surrounding counties, are marketed in South and East Texas, New Orleans and other cities of the South-west. The mill handles 40,000 tons of seed per year. It has been estimated, S. R. Simpson is president of this company. L. F. Keating is vice-president, W. K. Crawley, secretary and treasurer and R. V. Collier, director.

A large percentage of the Lower South Plains feed crop is consumed by Lambeth and White Feed mill in Amesa, makers of the "L" brand feeds. This plant, owned by O. Lambeth, W. O. White and Gus White, all of Amesa, was established here in 1928 and is valued at $3,000. Dairy feeds, mixed feed for hogs, chickens, feed, horse feed and other rations for livestock are manufactured from grain grown in this section. Two car loads of feed per day is the capacity of this plant which serves a territory of over 200 miles around Amesa. The mill is at present interested in feeding operations experiments with sheep and beef cattle. They are using their own feed to finish beef and hogs in their own pens for market.

Congress Is Large
The East Texas Congress, one of the largest on the Plains, handles practically all of this section's early crop. Last season the congress handled 30,000 bales, shipping them to all parts of the South-west. Cotton grown in Dawson and four counties usually comes to this congress here before leaving the Plains. All cotton is fumigated, according to the Pink Boll Worm law before it is shipped. The plant, owned by A. S. Underwood of Athens and managed by J. H. Harp of Amesa, was erected in 1923.

Amesa has the most modern equipped and sanitary ice cream factory in West Texas. The Purity Ice Cream company, owned by L. E. and L. I. Serface, was built here in 1925 and is worth $30,000. It serves four counties on the Plains. It uses local products in manufacturing its "West's Best" ice cream and can turn out 200 gallons a day.

The Coca Cola Bottling works, owned by W. H. Bartlett, of Amesa, serves three counties with soft drinks and has been doing this since 1926 when the plant was constructed. The plant is equipped to turn out a case of drinks a minute and over 33,000 cases were manufactured in Amesa last year, according to Bartlett.

Milk Plant To Open
Besides the industries mentioned above, the $200,000 powdered milk plant, which will be under way this fall, will be the biggest boon to farmers of the South Plains since it will furnish a market for their whole milk. Nine counties will furnish milk for its daily capacity of 120,000 pounds of milk. This plant is being built with capital furnished by over 100 South Plains merchants and farmers and the Douthitt Engineering company of Chicago. The building which will house this new industry, the only one of its kind in West Texas, is with its advent here the chain linking industry with agriculture in Dawson county will be strengthened.

Amesa has three printing plants, two of them equipped to publish newspapers and the third for job work, which handle a large part of South Plains printing. These plants are equipped with modern machinery and can print book work.

Nine guns in Amesa and twelve outside of the city are constantly employed during the cotton picking season here ginning Dawson county cotton.

HALF MILLION TO SEE BRITISH RACE

EPSOM DOWNS, England, June 3 (AP)—England's greatest sporting event, the Derby, will be run here tomorrow before more than half a million spectators.

The nineteen probable starters in the great turf classic, run annually since 1780, include two American entries, William Woodward's Scout Second and A. K. Macomber's Parthenon.

Parthenon is a decided outsider at odds of 100 to 1 against, but Scout Second, winner of the recent New Market stakes, is considered one of the best of the "dark horses," despite the fact that the betting odds on him are 25 to 1 against. A victory for Scout Second would give Mr. Woodward the distinction of owning the winners of both the Derby and its Kentucky namesake, Gallant Fox, which galloped to victory at Churchill Downs, is owned by Mr. Woodward.

Tradition has placed Sir Hugo Birt's Deltin in the favorite's role at 5 to 2 against.

Much Cotton Up In Crosby Area

By Staff Correspondent
CROSBYTON, June 3.—More than two thirds of the cotton planted in the Crosbyton trade area is up and growing. Edgar Hutchins, county judge, estimates.

Rain of the past several days will give added impetus to cotton planting. Other crops are in good shape and barring unexpected adverse weather conditions, good yields may be expected.

TOLD DAUGHTER TO TRY CARDUI

Mother Had Taken It and Thought It Would Help Weak Young Woman.

Elizabeth, Ind.—Mrs. C. O. Sutton, of this place, writes as follows, describing her experience in the use of Cardui:

"My mother first recommended Cardui to me. I was weak and could not do my work."

"I had pains in my back and side. It seemed like when I would get up, I would drag around to do my work, and had had headache."

"I seemed to need a strength builder, so my mother told me to try Cardui. She had taken it herself and had found it a good medicine."

"I took several bottles of Cardui and it helped me very much. I felt stronger and was able to do my work without any trouble. I rested well at night and had a good appetite. I think Cardui is a good medicine."

Many other women have reported that they began taking Cardui on their mother's advice, for this medicine has been in use so long its real worth is known by several generations of women.

Thought For Today

Their works do follow them.—Revelation 14:13.

We will work for ourself and a woman, forever and ever.—Kipling.

"Always Managed"

One of the last "real" daughters of the American Revolution died the other day in Richmond, Mich. She was Mrs. Helen M. Barrett, who was 98 years old and her father was a soldier in the Revolutionary War, serving under Gates in the battle of Saratoga.

Records of the D. A. R., of which Mrs. Barrett was a member, show that there are eight other women in the country whose fathers served in the Revolution. Distinct as the local days are, they seem close when one thinks that in these cases at least, they are only a scant two generations away.

Nevertheless, the story of Mrs. Barrett's life brings home forcibly the immense contrast between modern times and the times in which she grew up.

Born in upstate New York, the next to the youngest of 27 children—her soldier-father was 78 when she was born—Mrs. Barrett was taken to Michigan by boat and horse and wagon, when she was 7 years old. At 14 she was married.

"Her early married life would seem impossible now," said one of her sons after her death. "Her daily work included cooking over a hearth fire, spinning her own yarn, weaving, making stockings and all the clothing for 10 children, doing all the cooking and baking for a large family, part of the time milking four and five cows, even making her own soap and candles."

"But she always seemed to manage. She kept us clean and we always had plenty to eat and wear."

That one sentence—"but she always seemed to manage"—might serve as an epitaph for untold thousands of pioneer American women.

They always seemed to manage, somehow—they had to! They went into dreary wildernesses and wore out their lives in drudgery of a kind that is almost inconceivable to us of the present. They bore huge families, they often did a man's work as well as a woman's, and if, now and then, their faded photograpns show them with tired, brooding eyes and bitter mouths, can we wonder at it?

We are not half proud enough of these pioneer women. The people of Ponca City, Okla., have erected a statue in their honor. There ought to be such a statue in every city and town in the land. If it is a distinction to trace one's ancestry back to a Revolutionary War veteran, is it not even more a distinction to list a pioneer mother or grand-mother among one's forebears?

The ragged Continentals endured for a matter of seven years; the pioneer women endured for whole lifetimes. "She always seemed to manage." That tells their story.

"Auto Statistics" Statistics about automobiles are interesting. The National Automobile Chamber of Commerce recently issued a booklet telling all about automobile registrations for 1929; and some of the facts disclosed are a bit surprising.

THE PLAINSMAN

That Girl on Broadway says the fact that a woman is never too old to learn must be why some keep putting it off.

WELL, it's all over now—that is, all over but the shouting and the actual work of making campaigns. We refer to the over-crowded field of candidates for the democratic nomination as Governor of Texas.

With adding machines and comptometers working far into the night, the comptroller's department down at Austin announced this morning that the names of 13 candidates had been placed on the list of gubernatorial aspirants and, unless there were some still enroute after having been mailed Monday, that was the crop. A tidy little group, we call it.

Here are the "baker's dozen" candidates. Let's see that they look like, first, of course, is Pink Parrish. We all know him. Then comes Dan Moody, who we also know, and then our old friend Lynch Davidson, of Houston, who has made the race before but is really regarded as too wealthy and too good a business man to ever be elected Governor. These three were filed by their friends and had nothing to do personally, with getting in the race. They may stay in, they may not. The chances are that two of that three will withdraw.

The other ten in the ring are Senator Earle B. Mayfield, a smooth politician; Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson, former Governor, skirt-severer, her barred husband and always dangerous when the vote is being cast in a hot Texas political fight; Clint Small, Wellington, who's make a good governor if elected; Tom Love, Hoovercat boss from Dallas; Barry Miller, now lieutenant-governor, also from Dallas; R. S. Sterling, Houston financier and present highway chief, and Jim Young, dyed-in-the-wool East Texan with experience in Congress. Each of those in this list have an "outside chance" to win—in other words, their candidates are not hopeless, although of course, some have better chances than others.

Left to enumerate are C. E. Walker, Grapevine; Frank Putnam, Houston; and C. S. Moody, Wrentham. They're running for exercise, publicity or 'just for fun' and comprise the 1930 list of those who enter Texas gubernatorial debates to the complete puzzling of everybody else. None of this type ever gets elected—nobody expects them to. They're like the packing you ship glassware in—to be thrown away as soon as the shipment is completed.

Now in addition to these above-named political pilgrims there are others who announced they were making the race but up until late last night had not been officially heard from. The State Executive committee had not received their checks for a hundred dollar apiece, which means a great deal in the campaign. Here they are: Oscar F. Holcomb, former mayor of Houston who likes to have his picture taken in cowboy boots; E. G. Senter, Dallas, who always writes his opinions on everything to the newspapers everywhere; Miss Kate Daffin, Ennis, whom The Plainsman never heard of before; T. N. Mauritz, Ganado, in the same class with Miss Daffin; F. G. Thompson, Sherman, in the same class with Mauritz; and Paul Love of New Braunfels, whose claim to fame is the fact that he's a cousin to the dyed Senator, Morris Shephard but is not a dry himself. There's his whole flock, folks. Look 'em over. You'll probably never see a complete list again.

THE real race, of course, is going to be between Moody, Mrs. Ferguson, Mayfield, Sterling, Young and either Pink Parrish or Clint Small. The two latter named gentlemen are handicapped in that they're split West Texas support and really only one should run. Pink is the stronger of the two the state over, and as we all know here is a whirlwind campaigner of the old school. If he can convince Texans generally that he's a real compromise candidate and that it's time for a new face to be seen in the high political bodies he'll be there like no-body's business.

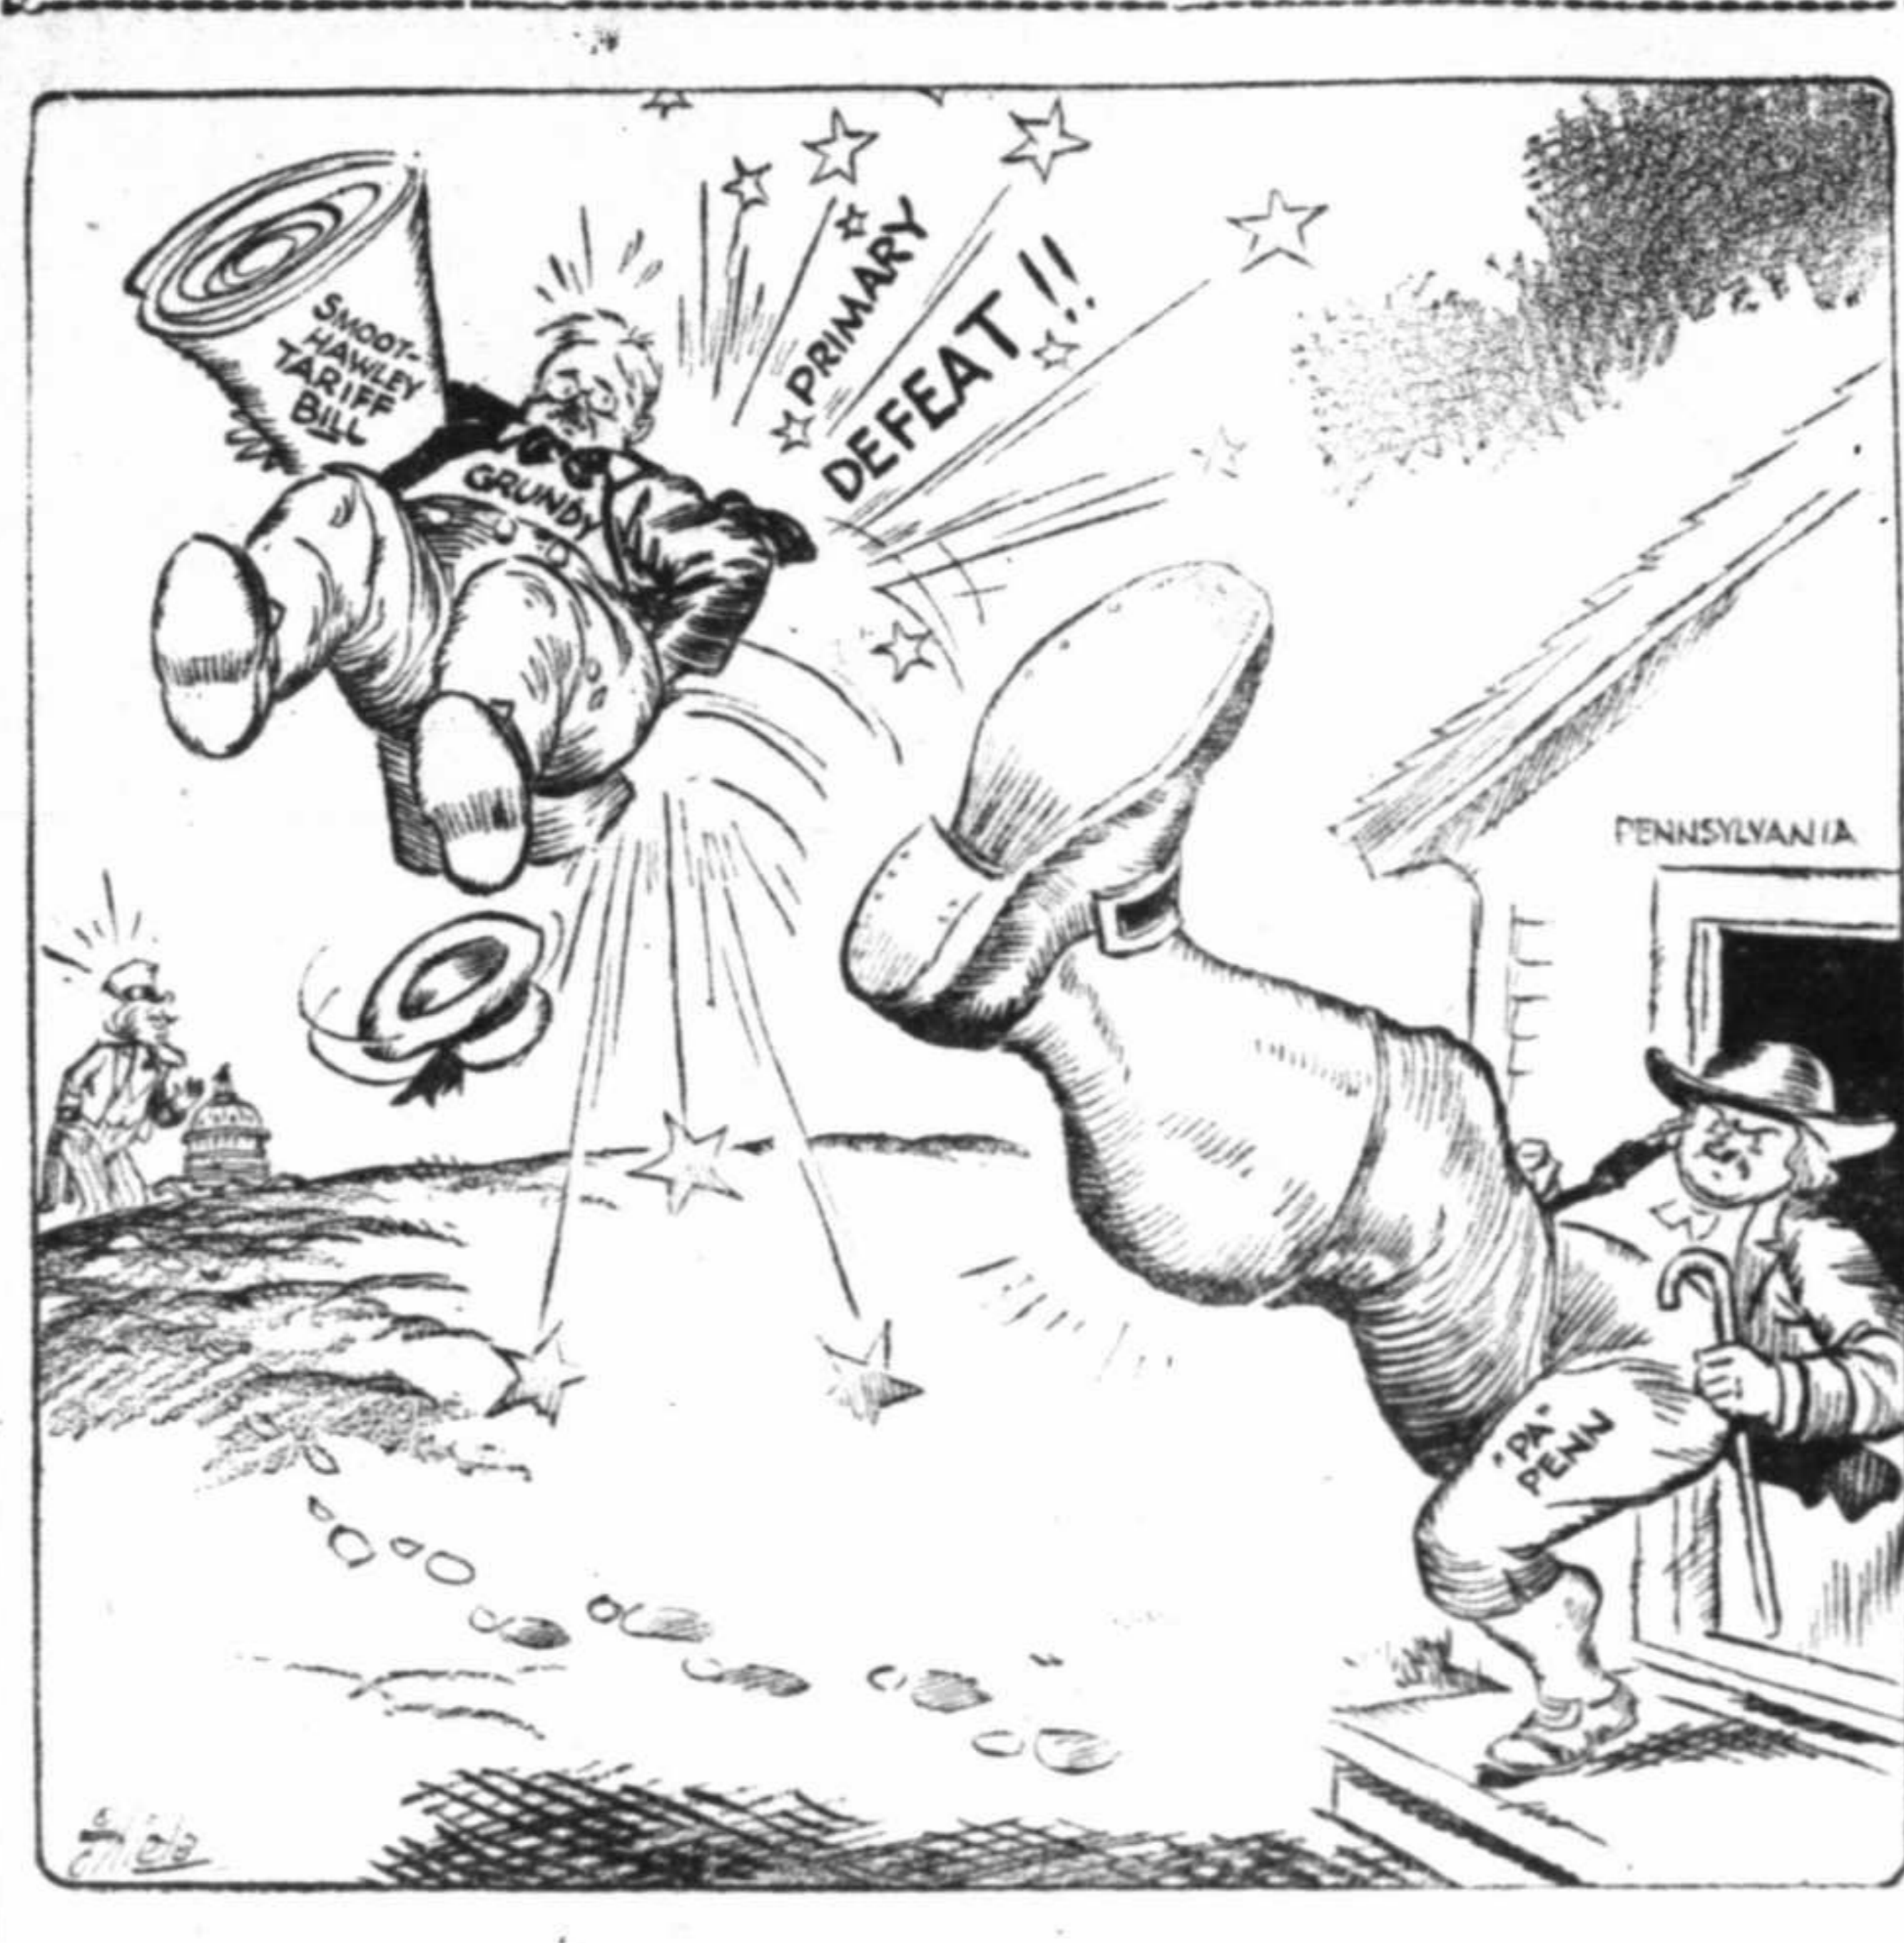

The whole thing is going to be lots of fun to watch and almost anything can happen. If you ask us, it looks like a busy summer. The prognostications in this column, as you have probably suspected, aren't worth much, but everybody has the right to do a little guessing—which is the average man's only pleasure in state politics. Take it or leave it—but anyway, watch the outcome.

That Man on Avenue Q says good habits are cultivated; bad ones grow wild.

We would respectfully call your attention to the fact that Yoakum county is the only one of the 17 counties in this census district which reports no unemployment. Further than that, it will probably be the only county similarly reported in Texas and from a territory embracing many other states. Yoakum's record is outstanding in this era of Hoover prosperity.

Lots Of Cheap Rides Available In Washington Now With Taxi War Raging; You Can Still Buy Hops, Dutcher Says

BY RODNEY DUTCHER WASHINGTON, June 3.—Plenty of things happen which interest everyone in Washington, but which are never heard of outside. Lately the people of the capital, including the statesmen and legislators who don't mind saving a few dimes, have been excited over a "taxicab" rate war. Cab rates have gone so low that Washingtonians have had a taxi ride for the first time in their lives.

The streets are full of 35-cent cab taxi rides that used to cost a dollar or more. A 30-block ride can now be had in fifters for 35 cents. Generally speaking you can ride almost anywhere in the District of Columbia for that price. Before someone decided that money could be made taking passengers at the "flat 35-cent rate," Washington wanted much of a taxi town, but so many small companies have sprung up in the last two or three months and so many individual car owners have suddenly entered the business that there is now perhaps as much proportional cab-riding here as anywhere.

Before this all began there were two large cab companies holding the railroad station and hotel corners and operating at 25 cents for the first two-fifths of a mile and ten cents for each additional two-fifths. They still do. There was a third company, the Diamond, operating at 15 cents for the first two-fifths and 10 cents for each additional two-fifths, with some small independents using the same rate.

Recently as the 35-cent competition forced more and more of the old cabs into garages the directors of the Diamond decided to add the flat 35-cent rate. At the same time they warned that so much increased speed would be necessary that more accidents were reasonably sure to result. Officials replied that speed-up taxicab drivers would have their licenses taken away. Meanwhile most Washington taxi users are riding quickly and economically and the old cab companies are demanding congressional intervention.

And if you want to know how people here can save pennies just ask the fellows who run the Senate restaurant. They have had to cut prices on the popular brands of cigars from 15 cents straight to two for a quarter. Sales had fallen off seriously because patrons were buying their cigars at the bottom rate in chain stores down town.

In case your local malt and hops stores have been closed as a result of the recent supreme court decision, you can still stock up on bottles, caps, gin, rum and whisky flavorings, siphons, crocks, etc. in stores operating in Washington. Since the court ruled that such material might be seized when previously displayed to encourage law violations sales have been especially heavy, as if home brewers thought it advisable to lay in large stocks in case the supply were cut off.

Customers are now given a printed card which says: "It is expressly understood and agreed that all merchandise sold here is to be used for legal and nonalcoholic purposes only. The buyer assures and guarantees that said merchandise will be used according to the above specifications, by his or their purchase contract." Mr. Thomas L. Blanton, the fiery former congressman from Texas, New York milk fund but you can bet that they'll get all the cream.

Diet and Health

By Lulu Hunt Peters MD Author of "Diet and Health" and "Diet for Children"

Swollen Ankles "Dear Doctor: I have not-soiled limbs and pretty ankles when I get up in the morning, but before dark, my ankles are so swollen I can hardly bend them. I have been to several doctors and they have not helped me in any way. As I am coming to 39 for advice."

My dear girl, you have been to doctors who probably examined you a few times, and they haven't helped you, and you ask me to give you advice and I don't know anything about you except that your name is Jessie and you have swollen ankles.

I can tell you this, though. Jessie: that if your doctors haven't found anything wrong with you it may be possible that your ankles swell from "rubber" can happen" was do not wear tight, round garters that impede the circulation. Perhaps you stand on your feet all day and they just swell from the stagnation caused by gravity. It may be possible that you have some weakness of the blood vessels, which doesn't show in any other way, so there is a little stagnation of the blood and seepage of blood serum into the tissues. Perhaps you have not been to a doctor who has given you a complete examination, including an urinalysis. Do that.

Mrs. L. Yes, cancer can occur in young people but it is rare. There is a tumor referred to as cancer because it is also a malignant growth—that is, the cells may be carried by the blood and lymph stream to other parts of the body (this process is known as metastasis), forming new tumors, and unless removed before this happens it may cause death. We use the word benign tumor when we mean one whose cells will not be transported. The word benign, of course, would indicate harmless. I remember reading a health report from Japan which had been translated into English evidently by a Japanese, and he referred to these benign tumors as good natured tumors.

But these good natured tumors may cause trouble if they are situated so they press on a vital organ, such as in the brain, or if they are near the surface of the body, as in the case of epitheliomas. The termination of a tumor to the skin, as in the case of epitheliomas, is a late stage of cancer. New York City.

Dear Doctors: Have you been disappointed in not receiving what you ask for? Remember, it takes two or three weeks after you write, anyhow, but if it doesn't come after that, your request has either been lost in the mails or you haven't observed column rules. So try again and this time don't be careless. And how can we send you the printed material you ask for when you don't enclose a self-addressed stamped envelope, nor give your full name and address, even though you do enclose the coin? You'd be surprised at how many so thank you!

In New York

NEW YORK, June 3.—From time to time down through the years, elderly and obscure women leap suddenly out of anonymity for a moment as herds of reporters descend upon them breathlessly with information that they are the one and only, long-missing Nan Patterson.

For in all the histories of sensational and provocative murder cases, no heroine so suddenly and completely vanished into space as the notorious Nan.

Some three years ago, word went about New York that an aged washerwoman up White Plains way was none other than Nan. But when she was found the poor frightened creature was at least three other people.

And so, it may be that the mystery of Nan Patterson may always go unsolved.

To the youngsters, the Nan Patterson murder trial may provide something of a study in that late-Victorian era of 25 years back when cabbies drove their fares about in hacks, amplitude was still considered beauty, lovely ladies wore large hats perched high upon piles of puffed hair, champagne corks popped in the fancier cafes and when one was very, very naughty one went to Turkish baths.

It was the old-timers may recall references to Turkish baths which helped give the Patterson case its particularly pungent and spicy flavor.

Just to help your memory out a bit—Nan Patterson, to some extent, set the styles for future pretty maids who may or may not have done away with the particular sweets. That is to say, she found two parties quite unwilling to find her responsible for the shooting of Caspar Young, rich and chubby young gambler and horseman.

Nan was an actress—aye, even a chorus and had achieved the station of a chorus girl in one of the No. 2 companies that took to the road with "Morador." She was it Young had a wife and family, but she was a sextetter with a road company.

And while traveling she was indiscreet—oh, very, very! She talked with a strange man on the train and the man was Caspar Young and she had a wife and family, but at the moment he was on the road, following the ponies around a middle west circuit.

When the light of love had burned down a bit, he was back in the bosom of his family, content to be again all over again and get away from it all. Wherefore, on a certain day in 1904 the gay blade was about to sail for Europe. But he didn't sail. For he was found dead in an omnibus, a bullet through his head and a gun, cooling in his pocket. In that cab was Nan Patterson. She said she had committed suicide. The law said she had murdered him.

And so came the great, pulsating trial of those early years when sensationalism was on its way to modernism. Austere lawyers held crocodile tears and pointed to the "poor little girl."

The "poor little girl" sat in court and flouted chivalry hiding in every corner. Floutism circled and swayed through the courtroom, and all the country waited for the next edition of the newspapers.

There were, if you please, mentions of beer saloons and hundred dollar bills tossed upon the bark. David Belasco, getting notes for the press and for future dramas. And one day it was all over with and Nan Patterson had been turned loose for a second and final time. Then, as now, the more lurid dramatic producer sensed sensation and sent her upon the road. Then, as now, it was a transient sensationalism that trailed her to a quick curtain. So she vanished. And has remained vanished ever since.

IMMIGRATION OFFICIALS MUST WAIT TEN YEARS LONGER TO DEPORT ALIEN

(By Associated Press) FORT WORTH, June 3.—United States immigration authorities have waited a long time to deport Paul S. Gillespie, who pleaded guilty here recently to a charge of robbery and was given ten years imprisonment but it appeared today that they would have to wait about ten years longer.

Gillespie has been identified by Guy Smith, immigration inspector, as the man who two years ago escaped from immigration authorities in El Paso where he was in detention pending deportation to Canada on his prison record; the government alleging he served a term in the New Mexico state penitentiary for grand larceny.

The government had been looking for Gillespie since his escape at El Paso but found him only when he was arrested here. Gillespie claimed Paris, Texas, as his birth place but Smith said the prisoner came into the United States illegally at Detroit and that Canada had accepted him for deportation. He cannot be deported now, however, until after he serves his term in the Texas penitentiary.

WASHINGTON, June 3.—In present expansion activities of American corporations, Julius H. Barnes sees a preparation for enlarged learning power in the future and confidence that such will be the result.

As chairman of the national business survey conference, organized at the suggestion of President Hoover, Barnes issued a statement for publication today saying that new capital obtained by domestic producing and distributing corporations totaled $2,100,000,000 during the first four months of 1930. In addition, he reported borrowings by public authorities to a total of $460,000,000, as compared with $230,000,000 for the corresponding period of 1929.

Buildings Increase Public building for the same period, the report said increased from $447,000,000 last year to $500,000,000 this year. Non-residential building dropped from $950,000,000 in 1929 to $823,000,000 and residential building fell off from $887,000,000 to $460,000,000.

The report noted an improvement in the financial condition of building and loan associations and a six per cent increase in life insurance purchases in April, as compared with April of 1929. At the same time a nine per cent drop in fire insurance premiums for the same month of this year as compared with last was reported.

Barnes said class one railroads expended $97,000,000 more in the first quarter of this year than in the same period of 1929, and that on March 15 the employees of these carriers aggregated 1,547,000, which although $1,000 less than a year ago, was 43,000 more than a month before that time. He also reported decreased delinquencies and repossessions in installment purchases and increased installment paper handled in April as contrasted with the month before. Retail and wholesale stores and chains of stores, showed gains in April over April of 1929 in spite of lower commodity prices, he added, with retailers and wholesalers following a policy of cautious buying.
