Great Armada Is Mapped By Great Britain

CONSTRUCTION OF 80 NEW WARSHIPS PLANNED IN 1937 AT HUGE COST; NAVY'S PERSONNEL WILL BE BOOSTED BY THOUSANDS OF MEN

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, Mar. 3.—The British navy announced to parliament today it share of Britain's huge rearmament program for 1937, would cost £105,065,000 ($525,325,000) and include construction of 80 warships.

At the top of the list detailed by Sir Samuel Hoare, first lord of the admiralty, were placed three additional battleships of the type of the King George V and the Prince of Wales, now building, with a displacement of 35,000 tons and carrying 14-inch guns.

Sir Samuel told the house of commons the stepped up naval and naval air programs would add 11,000 officers and men to bring the total naval personnel to 112,000.

Two aircraft carriers, five cruisers of the "standard" 8,000 ton class, two cruisers of about 5,300 tons, 16 destroyers, seven patrol type submarines and 45 smaller vessels of all types, the admiralty lord announced, would swell Britain's mighty armada.

Only $135,000,000 of the cost will be borne by Britain's new $2,000,000,000 defense loan, Sir Samuel declared, forcing the nation's tax payers to dip into their pockets for the additional $390,325,000.

The 1937 new program of construction, he said, was an increase of $118,000,000 over the 1936 figures.

The increase in man power, Sir Samuel told parliament, was made necessary by the increased program of new construction for 1936 and 1937, including expansion of the fleet and the fleet air force.

Great Britain, he said, would continue to observe the qualitative limitations of the London naval treaty.

Famous Suffragist Took An Early Start In Life In Her Drive For Rights

(By The Associated Press)

MONTEREY, Calif., March 3—A hoop skirt that wouldn't stay on started Carrie Chapman Catt on her famous crusade for woman suffrage.

The incident of 70 years ago was disclosed here today by Mrs. Catt, now actively campaigning for world peace.

All Wore Hoop Skirts

"My earliest recollection of any influence that stirred the idea in my mind—that women did not have quite a fair chance in the world—occurred when I was six year old," Mrs. Catt said. "All the little girls wore hoop skirts."

One day there was a sudden clatter in the schoolroom. The hoop-skirt of one girl had fallen to the floor.

The boys tittered, and one of them, a red haired lad a bit larger than the others, chuckled audibly

DINNER TO BE STAGED HERE

RESERVATIONS ARE IN FOR AFFAIR TO BE HELD ON FRIDAY

Reservations for the dinner at Horn Hall at 6:15 o'clock Friday evening for the eighth annual meeting of the West Texas Museum association are coming in rapidly, according to H. L. Allen, president of the association.

The meeting, composed of three sessions, will be held in the museum building on Texas Technological college campus and the men's dormitory.

Presentation of the museum building to the association will be made by Lieut. Governor Walter Woodul and Coke R. Stevenson, both of whom have notified local committees they will be here for the affair.

Stevenson will deliver the main address at the dinner and Woodul will speak again Friday night on "Texas Centennial Celebrations."

Dr. Bradford Knapp, president of Texas Tech, will deliver the welcome address to the superintendents, county superintendents, city and county officials, members of county Centennial chairmen, members of the museum board, Tech faculty and many other persons from Lubbock and West Texas who were instrumental in obtaining funds for and construction of the building.

Dr. Wm. M. Craig of Texas Tech and Frank P. Hill of Tahoka will

NO TROUBLE EXPECTED IN UNIONIZATION OF OIL FIELD WORKERS

(By The Associated Press)

KILGORE, Mar. 3.—Unionization of laborers in the vast East Texas oil field will be attempted without strikes and attendant "difficulties" but labor leaders emphasized today they were ready to meet any trouble which might arise.

J. T. Allen, organizer for district three of the International Oil Field, Gas Well and Refinery Workers, affiliated with John L. Lewis' Committee on Industrial Organization, said groundwork for a widespread union labor enrolling movement would be completed in the next few weeks.

Ready For Trouble

"We shall make every effort," said Allen, "to avoid strikes and difficulties but we have funds available in the event such trouble arises."

Two hundred "crack" Cio organizers, headquarters at Kilgore, will start the unionization drive early in April.

The April drive, including all oil belts between Shreveport and Fort Worth with a potential membership of 60,000, will be preceded by an "educational campaign" in which labor leaders expect to show the public the meaning of organized labor, Allen said.

Meetings Are Held

Meetings are being held now in Gregg, Smith and Rusk counties. Allen outlined the meeting schedule as: Monday nights, Kilgore; Tuesday, Joinerville; Wednesday, Gladewater; Thursday, Longview and Ty-

Texan Charged In Dog's Fiery Death

SAN ANTONIO, March 3 (AP)—Alleged to have poured gasoline on a stray dog and then ignited it, a 36-year-old east side man had been arrested today on complaint of the San Antonio Humane society.

Police were told the dog died of burns in spite of the efforts of several children to extinguish the flames with their coats.

SAVAGE DEATH OF CHILD BARED

CRUEL ATTACK IS RELATED TO POLICE

FOUR-YEAR-OLD BABY VICTIM OF RAPE; THREE CHARGED

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, March 3—Howard Magnussen, 26 years old, was charged with the murder and rape of 4-year-old Joan Morvan.

George Morvan, 24-year old father of the dark haired child who died Monday afternoon, and Mrs. Norma Gatto, with whom he had been living in Queens, were booked on charges of felonious assault and improper guardianship. Magnussen is a brother of Mrs. Gatto.

Man Admits Assault

Assistant District Attorneys James J. Conroy and James P. McGratten, of Queens county, said Magnussen admitted the criminal assault on the child Sunday afternoon.

Reconstructing a tale of savagery and horror, police detectives said the story of little Joan's death, the discovery of the crime, the conditions surrounding those involved, "made Tobacco Road look like Park Avenue."

Suspicious that the child had not died from injuries supposed to have been suffered falling downstairs, chief of Queens detectives, John J. Ryan, started an investigation yesterday that led to an autopsy by chief assistant medical examiner Dr. Howard W. Neail.

Branded As Murder

Dr. Neail immediately branded the case as murder.

"It is the most brutal murder I have ever seen," he said. "The child was criminally assaulted. Her body is a mass of bruises."

Most of the story, the police said, came from young Frank Magnussen jr., six year old brother of Mrs. Gatto. He told Detectives George Campbell and Fred Trumpf they said, that Morvan, Mrs. Gatto, Joan and another child, two year old George Morvan, visited the Magnussen home Sunday afternoon.

The youngsters were put to bed upstairs, little Frank told the detectives, Howard, accused of the crime, also sleeping up there at the time.

Soon, the boy said, the family downstairs heard little Joan screaming. Everyone rushed up the stairs,

REBELS SEEK TO CUT OFF FLIGHT

(By The Associated Press)

Insurgent commanders, believing Madrid's defense leaders planned a mass retreat from the city, drove their forces hard today at the Madrid-Valencia highway, the main avenue of flight remaining to those besieged in Madrid.

Shock troops, tanks and heavy artillery were thrown into action.

In the Jarama front fighting has raged for three weeks as the insurgents sought to complete encirclement of Madrid.

The insurgent command at Navalcarnero, to the west, estimated 2,000 government soldiers had been killed in the Jarama fighting and said Madrid's hospitals housed at least 11,000 wounded.

Dog Remains True To His Instincts

AUGUSTA, Ga., March 3 (AP)—Brilliant Joe remained true to his bird hunting instincts but it cost him his life.

The Llewellyn setter pointed a covey of birds on a railroad track as a train approached.

Paul R. Chance, sr., a hunter, shouted at the dog, he related today, but the setter remained immobile to the end.

TWO BADLY BURNED

AUSTIN, March 3 (AP)—Mrs. C. D. Waide, formerly of Houston, was in critical condition today from burns received last night when she attempted to throw a pan of burning grease from her kitchen. Her husband, former member of the Houston Chronicle staff, was painfully burned.

TRIBAL SECRETS OF NAVAJO LOST AS DEATH HITS

(By The Associated Press)

REHOBOTH MISSION, N. M., Mar. 3—The spirit of the greatest of Navajo medicine men winged a weary journey around the world today, and with it flew many a precious secret of the tribe's religious life.

Four times, says Navajo religion, the soul of Hosteen Klah will encircle the earth—four times for the four points of the compass—and then it will soar away to a world beyond to reside in ever-lasting peace and beauty.

Dead At Age Of 70

For Hosteen Klah, kindly, beloved and versed in spiritual knowledge as no other Navajo of his time, is dead at the age of 70. And the sacred chants which he alone knew died with him

BATTLE NEARS FOR FORTUNE

HUNDREDS ARE ASKING SHARE IN WEALTH OF IDA WOOD

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, March 3—The millions which Mrs. Ida Wood used to screw on the parlor floor to amuse herself were a little closer today to the pockets of her heirs—whoever they are.

Justice James A. Foley of surrogate's court was ready to begin sifting out the 1,107 claimants to the eccentric widow's wealth. Claims to the fortune Mrs. Wood carried around in paper bags will be entered until April 10.

A Complex Problem

The problem is one of the most complex in the history of New York courts. It was made so because the little old lady willed all her money to people who died before her death in March, 1932.

Degrees of kinship are expected to decide who gets how much of a board that goes back to the gold rush days and was estimated in 1936 at $877,598.32.

Benjamin Wood, the old lady's husband and owner of the old New York Daily News, won much of his wealth in gambling. After he died, Mrs. Wood sold the newspaper for $340,000.

In Headlines Again

She was 93 when she entered the headlines again, in late 1931. She had been declared incompetent, and placed under the guardianship of a nephew, Otis P. Wood.

For several years she had refused to leave her hotel apartment, but visitors said she spent her time covering the parlor floor with $50 bills.

Forty trunks, unopened since the days of the California gold rush, yielded a treasure in securities, gems, laces and silks before she died of pneumonia.

Kidnaping Suspect To Grow Whiskers

ABERDEEN, S. D., March 3 (AP)—Police officials were sitting it out today with Tony Cansellas, Mattson kidnaping suspect, until he can regain the growth of whiskers he shaved off Tuesday.

The 32-year-old former resident of Ohio was scheduled to have his picture taken while he wore his coat and hat—apparel that fitted the description of clothing worn by the kidnaper of 10-year-old Charles Mattson of Tacoma, Wash. But ceremonies were postponed when Cansellas emerged from his cell with the tonsorial operation.

Rehearing Denied By Court's Ruling

AUSTIN, March 3 (AP)—The supreme court refused a motion for rehearing today made by the City of Wink in a suit seeking to stop operation of theater bank nights there.

The effect of the action was to leave unchanged a recent judgment which knocked out a city ordinance prohibiting bank nights without determining whether they were in violation of state statutes.

PEACE REIGNS TODAY OVER BIG STEEL

WAGE ADJUSTMENTS TO THOUSANDS ARE MADE BY STEEL FIRMS

(By The Associated Press)

The vast steel industry's momentous move toward better relations with organized labor overshadowed the discord wrought by strikes in scattered sections of the nation today.

One after another the big steel corporations announced wage boosts, shorter hours and other concessions, probably forestalling labor disputes in the entire industry.

Contract Is Signed

A contract between the Carnegie-Illinois Steel corp. and the steel workers organizing committee, an offshoot of the Lewis Committee for Industrial Organization, signed last night at Pittsburgh, was hailed by union officials as labor's greatest victory.

The contract, considered a guarantee of peace in the industry, established a 40-hour week and a $5-a-day minimum wage and recognized the organizing committee as the bargaining agent for 120,000 employes who are members of the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers.

Other companies which have announced wage and working adjustments and the number of men involved were:

Others Announce Adjustments

Bethlehem, 85,000; Republic, 52,000; Youngstown Sheet & Tube, 16,000; Inland, 9,000; Pittsburgh Steel, 7,000; Sharon Steel, 3,500; Otis Steel, 3,000; Wheeling Steel, 16,000.

ARMS RACE IS TAKING FORM

ITALY IS TO COMPETE WITH BRITAIN FOR GREAT POWER

By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, March 3—Mussolini is the first of the masters of men to give Britain a concrete answer to her colossal armaments program—advertised as designed to insure peace—and the reply is far from reassuring for Il Ducee has squared his famous jaw and slammed down his gauntlet.

Italy has decided to compete against England.

To Increase Forces

Specifically, the fascists have decreed what amounts to lifetime military service for all citizens between the ages of 18 and 55, and have inaugurated a five-point plan to increase war forces and armaments.

What is perhaps even more impressive, Italy has started a fresh drive to raise the birthrate. They need more boys to rear as soldiers.

How far Mussolini will be able to complete against England's $7,500,000,000 program is problematical, but economic experts say he cannot go all the way, or anything like it. He would bankrupt Italy.

This was what England had in mind in providing for a program

Production Tax On Oil To Be Boosted

AUSTIN, March 3 (AP)—The house of representatives passed finally today and sent to the senate a bill to raise the oil production tax more than 100 per cent. The increase would be from the present 2 3-4 per cent of value or 2 3-4 cents a barrel, whichever is greater, to 6 per cent or 6 cents.

ACCIDENTALLY KILLED

MEXICO CITY, Mar. 3, (AP)—Ramon Ramos, former governor of Sonora, was reported today to have been killed accidentally yesterday when a rifle in his automobile discharged.

Texas Liquor Laws Are Made Stronger

BILL AUTHORIZING ISSUANCE OF SEARCH AND SEIZURE WARRANTS IS PASSED BY SENATE

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, March 3—Senator Weaver Moore of Houston backed away from a floor test today on his proposal to permit sale of hard liquor by the drink.

The Houston senator had attached the provision in committee as an amendment to a house bill authorizing issuance of search and seizure warrants. He withdrew the amendment when the bill came up for floor action.

Several Friends Absent

Moore explained that several friends of sale by the drink were absent and that there would be a later opportunity to vote on the question.

The bill then was passed unanimously and sent to the governor. Sponsors considered it an emergency measure to permit liquor law enforcement in dry communities. The court of criminal appeals recently has reversed several liquor convictions because of the lack of a search and seizure statute.

Advocates of more liberal old age pensions failed by several votes in an effort to bring up a liberalization bill for house floor consideration. The vote was 73 ayes and 46 nays, whereas a two-thirds majority would have been required.

To Remit Taxes

The senate passed and sent the governor a bill to remit Galveston county taxes for five more years from September 1, 1938. The money would be used to retire bonds issued by the City of Galveston to protect itself against hurricanes.

All state ad valorem taxes, three-fourths of the occupation taxes and all state poll taxes collected from Galveston county would be remitted.

Final passage was by an oral vote.

Bills Await Action

Bills prohibiting dog racing and bookie shop gambling with heavy penalties for violation today awaited floor action by the house after receiving unanimous approval of committees.

The bookie wagering proposal, recommended yesterday by the state affairs committee, would provide a five-year penitentiary sentence for operators and a $100 fine for placing a bet. Telephone companies which knowingly would handle betting information also would be severely penalized.

The criminal jurisprudence committee favorably reported a bill to outlaw dog racing, imposing a two to four year sentence for operating a track or keeping premises for the purposes of betting and $50 for individual wagering.

HIGHER COURT HAS RULINGS

LIFE SENTENCE GIVEN IN FORGERY CASE IS REVERSED TODAY

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, March 3—The court of criminal appeals reversed and remanded today a life conviction of E. G. Gammell of Liberty county for violation of the habitual criminal statute.

It reversed his conviction on a forgery charge on grounds the indictment failed to allege the signature of the endorser of the instrument was forged.

Act Was Unauthorized

It reversed and remanded also a $100 fine for possession of liquor for sale in a dry territory against Joe Stephens of Grayson county on grounds there was no law authorizing a warrant for search for violation of liquor laws.

Bert McKee of Bowie county was assured a new trial for murder in the death of John Sloan, jr., and Ludie Johnson, passengers in a truck struck by McKee's car on the Texarkana-Shreveport highway because the trial court admitted "irrelevant and inflammatory" testimony regarding the injury of other persons in the same accident.

Thirty Oil Men On Trial In Wisconsin

MADISON, Wis., March 3 (AP)—Thirty men prominent in the nation's oil industry pleaded innocent in federal court today to charges they violated the Sherman anti-trust act.

They were the first group of the 67 individuals named in indictments charging conspiracy to fix retail gasoline prices and jobbers' margins of profits.

Judge Patrick T. Stone, who said, "these are not ordinary defendants," ordered the usual fingerprinting of defendants omitted.

Many Patrons But No Beer Is Sold

JOILET, Ill., March 3 (AP)—The crush of patrons at Goof's tavern was terrific again today, but nobody bought, just sat.

They crowded into every seat in the place and reiterated intentions of staying on a sit-down strike until Proprietor Anton Grohar once more sells a 10-ounce stein of beer for a nickel.

Madrid Is Placed On Daily Rations

MADRID, March 3 (AP)—The Madrid governor has issued a decree putting the city on a daily bread ration of 300 grams (about ten ounces) for each individual.

A similar order was issued at Barcelona, where the ration was put at 250 grams (around 8 ounces).

TO CUT STAFF

WASHINGTON, March 3 (AP)—Resettlement administration officials said today between 600 and 700 workers in the capitol would be dismissed to cut the agency staff of 2,735 persons.

SAFETY RULES ARE STUDIED

COURSES ARE OFFERED IN SCHOOLS; STATE PLAN CONSIDERED

Training in promoting traffic safety will reach approximately 750 students of Senior High school before end of this school year and perhaps will become a graduation requirement next school year, officials said this morning.

Should Texas schools adopt a recommendation being considered in the Governor's Traffic Safety committee, Lubbock High school will thus be a leader in the movement for required traffic safety courses in schools.

Plans Worked Out

Dr. Kenneth E. Oberholtzer, superintendent, and R. W. Matthews, principal, had worked out plans for traffic safety courses even before organization of the state committee.

Dr. Bradford Knapp, president of Texas Technological college and chairman of the sub-committee on schools and college education in the governor's committee, will speak on traffic safety in an assembly at Senior High school Thursday, March 11.

Doctor Knapp is sending letters to the 22 members of his committee recommending that the committee attempt to secure required courses.

Two weeks' courses will be offered in each of five social science classes

Car Travel Bureau Law Held Invalid

AUSTIN, March 3 (AP)—The court of criminal appeals ruled today the automobile travel bureau law passed by the last legislature was unconstitutional.

It reversed the case of E. R. Talkington of Tarrant county and ordered his release.

The appellate tribunal said the law "seems clearly a violation of the 14th amendment" because it prohibits anyone from engaging in the occupation due to "unreasonable requirements impossible of performance."

THREE OTHERS ARE INJURED IN TRAGEDY

ACCIDENT OCCURS AT DAM PROJECT EARLY THIS MORNING

(By The Associated Press)

POLSON, Mont., March 3—Seven men were killed and three others seriously injured in a rockslide at the Polson dam early this morning.

The dead are: Tony Adams, Evaro; Henry Couture, Joe St. Germaine; Clifford Gendron, of Arlee; Dave Sanchez, Jack Anderson, of St. Ignatius; Charles Ross, Polson.

Buried In Second

The three men were injured in a second slide when they rushed to help the men buried under the first.

The injured are: Foreman Wally Rush who suffered a broken leg, Kirk S. Booth, bruises and Harold McNeeley, skull fracture.

The slide occurred shortly after the "graveyard" shift had gone to work at midnight. The buried men were doing mucking work on the river bottom. The rock was loosened by fast melting snow, authorities said.

Work was expected to start today to recover the bodies. Ross is survived by a widow and two children, Anderson, two children; Sanchez, widow; Germaine, widow and child. Others were unmarried.

STEEL CLIMBS IN MARKET TRADING

NEW YORK, Mar. 3. (AP)—Steel stocks crashed through to new recovery ground in today's market with gains of $1 to around $7 at the best as strike fears displayed further fading tendencies in Wall street.

Heavy overnight buying orders followed announcement the U. S. Steel corp. had joined the ranks of companies effecting a truce with labor through raising wages and shortening hours.

The trading rush at the start put the ticker tape as much as 4 minutes behind dealings on the floor of the stock exchange. The volume dwindled later as profit selling appeared and extreme advances were reduced in numerous instances.

U. S. Steel opened with a block of 10,000 shares and climbed to above $121, up nearly $3. Bethlehem reached $100 a share, a new mark since the depression.

State Paving Act Is Declared Valid

AUSTIN, Mar. 3. (AP)—The supreme court today upheld validity of the state paving act of 1927.

It ruled in the case of Owen M. Murray, receiver, against Dora Reagan from Floyd county. Foreclosure of a paving lien against a lot in Floydada was involved. The trial court ruled for Murray, the civil appeals tribunal reversed the judgment and the supreme court sustained the trial court.

The highest court overruled contentions the paving act was invalid because of a defective caption and the subject had not been included in the call of Governor Dan Moody for a special session of the legislature which passed the law.

Vet Newspaperman Claimed By Death

ST. LOUIS, Mar. 3. (AP)—John T. Rogers, 56, veteran St. Louis newspaperman, died of a heart attack last night.

Ace reporter for the Post-Dispatch, Rogers gained national recognition for his work on several major stories. Dr. Isaac D. Kelley, wealthy St. Louis physician, was released by kidnapers to Rogers in 1931. He negotiated for the return of Alexander Berg, fur broker, abducted in 1932. Mrs. Nellie Tipton Muench, now under ten-year sentence for mail fraud, volunteered to him that the "gift of God" baby hoax was perpetrated to hold the love of Dr. Marsh Pittman.

BANKER IS DEAD

St. Patrick's Parties Are First Expression Of Springtime Social Activity

Fresh Greens Are Featured In Ideas

Spring and St. Patrick's Day—they come in hand and hand. Fresh greens and golden harps, delicate foods and strong devotion to old Erin, these things combine fortunately into a time for celebration and most of the world goes in some sort of St. Patrick's Day party. For the bridge-playing section of humanity, there's nothing quite so appropriate as a Spring Luncheon where little shamrocks and gay colleens give the table its proper note.

For a green and white luncheon, you'll find this menu fresh and tender, delicate and seasonal and very simple to prepare. Begin with such a bowl of spring salad as will cause the heart to dance with delight. Follow with a second course of broiled young chicken, new potatoes in parsley and butter, tiny baking powder biscuits and your best mint jelly. The third course brings in fresh asparagus, hot, with a smooth, golden Hollandaise sauce.

Dessert In Holiday Spirit ; ;

And then the dessert—remember, it too, must be as light in spirit as a young lamb that gambols over the new green hillside. Use sections of fresh pineapple, cut lengthwise in eighths, rolled in powdered sugar and served on green glass plates.

With the pineapple serve special St. Patrick's Day confections such as Lucky Shamrocks and Macaroon Horseshoes. Then small cups of thin china and as fragile as the breath of dawn, with coffee as clear as the spring beneath the rock. Such is the mood of the first week of spring, the time when all loyal sons of Erin celebrate the birthday of their great patron saint.

Spring Salad—rub the bowl lightly with garlic and chill. Toss in fresh crisp watercress, pieces of escarolle, shavings of celery, a few radishes cut into wafer slices, a scraped scallion, and 1 teaspoon chopped parsley. Use this French dressing: 1-4 teaspoon salt, 1-8 teaspoon pepper, 1-4 teaspoon finely chopped parsley, 1-3 teaspoon dry mustard, 2 tablespoons vinegar, 1-2 tablespoon lemon juice, 6 tablespoons olive oil. Place the dry ingredients in jar. Add a little vinegar and stir. Then add oil and stir, then the lemon juice and remaining vinegar. Stir well, add a slice of onion or a tiny piece of garlic. Chill before serving. A little sugar is sometimes used. That's a matter of taste

Lucky Shamrock

(24 pieces)

One-half cup peanut butter, 1 1-3 cups sweetened condensed milk, 1-4 teaspoon salt, 1 cup graham cracker crumbs.

Blend the peanut butter and condensed milk thoroughly. Add salt and cracker crumbs. Mix well. Butter baking sheet. Drop mixture by spoonfuls to sheet. Bake in moderately hot oven (375 degrees F.) for 15 minutes. Remove from pan at once and cool. Frost and decorate with shamrocks from crystal clear green gum drops.

Macaroon Horseshoes

24 pieces)

Two cups shredded cocoanut, 1-2 cup sweetened condensed milk, 1 teaspoon vanilla extract.

Mix shredded cocoanut and condensed milk. Add vanilla. Shape into horseshoes. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 10 minutes, or until delicately brown. Remove from baking sheet at once.

Good Luck Cookies for St. Patrick's Day (frosted hermits with gum drop shamrocks) and Good Luck Horseshoes made of macaroons—no wonder the colleen in her green paper bonnet and her beribboned escort with his golden shamrock regard the green plate with hearty approval.

Mrs. Roy Furr Leads Circle Lesson

Mrs. Roy Furr was lesson leader at a meeting of the Lubbock circle of the Child Conservation League Tuesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. L. L. Kelso, 1809 Main street.

Mrs. W. H. Logan talked on "Health Habits for the Young" and Mrs. George M. Garrett discussed "Teach Child Truth." Myriam Louise Kelso, daughter of the hostess, gave two readings.

Mrs. Seth Bertram was received as a member. Others present were Mesdames W. G. Alderson, W. E. Boyd, Huddleston Wright, C. H. Hamilton, J. D. Hassell, Ethridge W. Eagan, W. D. Benson, jr., John B. Rountree and Marlin R. Smith, jr.

The circle planned a covered dish luncheon for the next meeting.

Awakened Wesleyans Attend Meeting

A monthly meeting of the Asbury Methodist Awakened class was conducted at the home of Mrs. Paul Williams, 2017 Ninth street, Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. F. R. Pickens led a devotional. Twenty-five women attended.

Paul Frank Smith, 7, Party Honoree

Mrs. Walter F. Smith and Mrs. Stanton Rhea entertained Monday afternoon in the home of the former, 1627 Eighteenth street, in honor of their son and nephew, Paul Frank Smith, on his seventh birthday.

Guests played games. Winners of prizes were Marlyn Willgus, Wenton Butler and Jimmy Johnson.

Those present were Cecile Sunshine Butler, Jo Ann Murfee, Shirley Jackson, Gladys Earl Rhea, Bennie Lou Pridmore, Patricia Sue Rhea, Betty Ann Willis, Johnanna Wisdom, Mary Jane Ruffner, Brenetie Sue Thompson, Lula Kate Rhea, Marlyn Willgus, Kenneth Williams, Jimmie Earnett, Wenton Butler, Jerry Beck, Jimmy Burgess and Jimmy Johnson.

Mrs. Fred Simss also an aunt of the honor guest, assisted in serving.

Happy Twelve Party Given Tuesday

Mrs. L. D. Montgomery entertained for the Happy Twelve Forty-Two club Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. W. F. Merrell of South Plains and Mesdames Tom LeMond and J. E. Miller were special guests.

Members present were Mesdames J. T. George, Alton Lindley, George Kinyon, Solon Clements, Ira S. Doak, J. G. Sims, H. B. Adams, Lilla Ford and E. P. Norwood.

Mrs. G. H. Ater Leads History Lesson

1933 Study club members met with Mrs. R. F. Stokes, 2518 Twenty-third street, Tuesday afternoon for a program led by Mrs. G. H. Ater. Mrs. R. S. Wilkinson, vice-president, presided for a business session in the absence of the president, Mrs. A. W. Evans, who is ill.

Mrs. Henry Turner was received as a member.

Mrs. M. E. Ogdon discussed "Early Expansion of the United States" and Mrs. Ater talked on "Religion."

Reception Honors Mrs. James Weiss

Mrs. James Weiss, who was Miss Eva Knight before her marriage in Portales, N. M., last Saturday, was honored when her mother-in-law, Mrs. J. R. Weiss, 1905 Twenty-seventh street, entertained with a tea Tuesday afternoon.

The receiving line was made up of the hostess, the honoree, and Mesdames Wilburn Morris, H. S. Weiss and J. A. Fortenberry.

Mrs. A. T. Cocanougher presided at a bride's book.

The refreshment table was covered with lace over pink. A crystal bowl of lavendar sweet peas centered the table and pink tapers burned in crystal holders. A silver service was used.

Mesdames J. E. Hamilton, S. H. Weaver and J. W. Broome alternated in presiding. They were assisted in serving by Misses Mary Burke Yeager, Marguerite Gibson and Louise Fortenberry.

About sixty guests called between 5 and 6:30 o'clock.

The Rev. J. F. Grizzle, pastor of the Portales Baptist church, officiated for the Saturday ceremony.

Mrs. Weiss has been attending Texas Technological college this semester. She is a pledge to D. F. D. social club. She is a sister of Mrs. Garland E. Davis, who is her guardian.

Mr. Weiss is associated with his father in business.

The couple is at home temporarily at 1905 Twenty-seventh street.

Jean Ayres Is To Head Association

Women graduates of Texas Technological college elected officers Tuesday night at a session in the home economics building. Miss Jean Ayres, secretary to Mrs. Mary W. Doak, was elected chairman. Others elected were:

Vice-president, Mrs. J. T. Hutchinson; recording secretary, Mrs. Aubrey Edwards; corresponding secretary, Miss Madeline Dederick; treasurer, Miss Glenys Honey; reporter, Miss Margaret Turner.

By-laws were read and approved.

Meetings of the association will be conducted on first Tuesday nights in each month at 7:30 o'clock in the home economics building.

Thirty attended last night's meeting.

Two Books Reviewed At Group Meet

Dr Bessie League reviewed "The Shining Scabbard" by Hutchinson and Mrs. M. V. Gray reviewed "The Fighting Angel" by Buck at a meeting of the Tuesday Night Readers group with Mrs. Earl Thompson, 2321 Eighth street, Tuesday night. Mrs. J. Sam Lewis was assistant hostess.

Mrs. J. W. Clapp of Memphis, Tenn., has arrived for a visit with her son, K. N. Clapp, 1642 Thirteenth street.

D. F. D. Club Gives Anniversary Party

Celebrating the sixth year since founders' day and honoring pledges, members of the D. F. D. club entertained with a formal dinner in the Chimayo room of the Hilton hotel Tuesday night.

The table was arranged in horseshoe shape with strips of blue cellophane, decked with gold leaves, extending down the center. Blue and gold candles furnished light.

Miss Ruth Lewis, president, was toastmistress. Miss Jane Woodruff proposed a toast to pledges and Miss Ernesteen Lockhart responded. Miss Janet Hambright gave the history of the club.

Three Are Honored

The club trio, Misses Lewis, Merle Haynes and Virginia Knapp sang. Miss Annah Jo Pendleton, sponsor since the club was organized, was presented with a pin by Miss Lewis on behalf of the club; Misses Lockhart and Beatrice Seitz, voted most representative pledge and member, respectively, were presented with bracelets.

After this there was an impromptu program. Misses Mary Katherine Rice, Mollie Davis and Ina Bacon, pledge trio, sang; Misses Pauline Stafford and Lewis played piano selections; Miss Knapp played and sang and Miss Betty West gave a humorous reading.

Others attending were Misses Anne Ruth Williams, Virginia Carlock, Romayne Dodson, Eron Gafford, Grace Stengel, Elva Mae Hunt, Margie Opp, Betsy Wilson, Dorothy Abernathy, Eloise Smith, Mary Elizabeth Stafford, Helen Lehmberg, Linda Treadwell, Josephine Powell and Mesdames Schacht McCollum and Jack Bradley, members; Misses Dorothy Lynn, Dorothy Kersh, Janet Barnett, Ada Williams, Harriet Robb, Mary Price, Mary Virginia Whitehead, Helen Jane Grafke and Emily Martin, pledges.

Alumnae attending were Misses Geraldine Wicker of Wilson, Madeline Hughes of Meadow, Louise Fortenberry and Mesdames Dayle Vannoy, Lloyd Zellner and Wilburn Morris.

Mrs. Lonnie Langston, sponsor, also attended.

There will be a formal initiation of pledges at 5 o'clock this afternoon at the residence of Dr. and Mrs. Bradford Knapp. Officers will be elected tonight at a meeting in the administration building.

Two Entertain For Doctors And Wives

Mesdames Henrie Mast and R. H. McCarty were hostesses to the auxiliary to the Lubbock Medical society Tuesday night in the home of the former at 1919 Twenty-eighth street.

Doctors joined their wives for a refreshment hour following lecture meeting at Hotel Lubbock.

Those present were Doctors and Mesdames E. M. Blake, O. W. English, M. M. Ewing, Ben Hutchinson, O. R. Hand, Ewell L. Hunt, Arthur Jenkins, J. H. Stiles, Allen T. Stewart, J. D. Wilson and Mrs. Olan Key.

Berean Class Elects Three Officers

Officers were elected by the Berean class of the Asbury Methodist church Tuesday night in a meeting with Mrs. J. R. Taylor, 2124 Twentieth street. Mrs. W. T. McQuary, assistant hostess, was elected president to succeed Mrs. Taylor who is moving to Hobbs, N. M.

Mrs. A. T. Sommers was elected vice-president and Mrs. B. E. Adair, secretary-treasurer of the class.

A St. Patrick's motif was used in appointments.

Others attending were Miss Hallie Wall and Mesdames J. R. Hartsfield, W. D. McCarty and B. R. Powell.

Fourteen Forty-Two Club Has Party

The Fourteen Forty-Two club met Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. V. L. McKinley, 1614 Fifteenth street. A St. Patrick's theme was used in tallies and refreshments. Mrs. E. H. Shackelsford of Dallas was a special guest.

Members attending were Mesdames W. G. Kent, M. C. Kinser, J. B. Martin, J. W. Morris, Joe Swift, J. E. Schornick, J. E. Harvey, C. L. Hamilton, W. E. Renfrow and Rufus Bundy.

The club will meet with Mrs. Morris, 1613 Fifteenth street, on March 16.

Mrs. Hamilton Gives Party For Club

Mrs. Bill Hamilton, 1943 Avenue N, entertained for the Sew-A-While club Tuesday afternoon in her home. An Easter motif was used in decorations. Attending were Mesdames Clyde Rogers, George Long, Vernon McCullough, Sterling Jones, Marvin Casstevens, Homer Moss, Craig Bond and Raymond Land.

The club will meet on March 16 at 2 p. m., with Mrs. Long, 2117 Ninth street.

Texas Day Is Kept By Shakespeareans

An annual Texas Day program was observed by the Shakespeare club at a guest tea given Tuesday afternoon in the F. R. Friend home at 2005 Broadway.

Guests were met by Mrs. A. C. Jackson. Others in a receiving line were Mesdames George Soash, O. A. Terry, J. D. Jones and J. A. Raley.

Mrs. H. W. Moore sang "Beautiful Texas" and "Texas, Our Texas," accompanied by Mrs. W. R. Vivrett. Dr. W. A. Jackson of the department of government at Texas Technological college discussed phases of Texas government.

During the tea hour Miss Doris Kolb played piano selections.

Red and white roses centered the refreshment table. Corsages of sweet peas were plate favors.

Mrs. Raley presided at the table, assisted by Mesdames Soash and Jones.

Mrs. Maude Bradley, 1810 Avenue W, left Tuesday night for extended visits in Temple, Houston, and Corpus Christi. She plans to be gone about two months.

Paul Barrier, manager of Barrier-Durham store, left Tuesday for St. Louis to buy stock for the store. He will be gone about 10 days.

Follow this Practical Guide to Better Control of Colds

1. To Help PREVENT Many Colds

At the first warning sneeze or sniffle or the slightest irritation in the nose—quick!—put a few drops of Vicks Va-tro-nol up each nostril. This specialized medication is expressly designed for the nose and upper throat, where most colds start. Used in time, Va-tro-nol helps to prevent many colds—and to throw off head colds in their early stages.

2. To RELIEVE a Cold Sooner

Of course, some colds strike without warning, or get by even the best precautions. Then you need your dependable Vicks VapoRub. Go straight to bed and massage it briskly on the throat, chest, and back for 3 full minutes. Then spread a thick layer of VapoRub over the chest and cover with a warmed cloth. Long after you relax into restful sleep, VapoRub's famous poultice-and-vapor action continues hour after hour—loosening phlegm, easing your cough, relieving irritation, helping to break up local congestion.

Sickness from Colds Cut In Half!

The two simple steps outlined above, together with a few sensible health rules to build up and maintain resistance, are the basis of Vicks Plan for Better Control of Colds. In the biggest colds-clinic ever held—with 17,353 people as subjects—Vicks Plan resulted in fewer colds and shorter colds. It cut sickness from colds more than half!

You'll find full directions for following Vicks Plan in your packages of Vicks Va-tro-nol and Vicks VapoRub

OPEN RACE IS BEING SEEN

MRS. BUCHANAN WILL NOT SEEK PLACE IN CONGRESS

AUSTIN, March 3 (AP)—A wide-open race for the seat in the national house of representatives made vacant by the death of James P. Buchanan was assured today after the late congressman's widow decided against entering the contest.

Several prospective aspirants had said they would not oppose Mrs. Buchanan if she chose to run.

Seven persons had their hats in the ring. They were C. N. Avery of Austin, manager of many of Buchanan's successful campaigns; Merton Harris of Smithville, who made a good showing against Buchanan in 1932; Lyndon B. Johnson of Austin, former National Youth administration director for Texas; A. K. Ross of Austin, Townsend pension advocate defeated by Buchanan last summer, former Senator R. S. Bowers of Caldwell, State Senator Houghton Brownlee of Austin and Edwin Waller of San Marcos.

Ferguson Mentioned

Among others prominently mentioned was former Governor James E. Ferguson of Austin. He said he had not had time to consider the matter fully since being informed of Mrs. Buchanan's decision.

Governor Allred had not set a date for the election but the general expectation was that it would be in late March or early April.

President Roosevelt's proposal to enlarge the supreme court loomed as one of the major campaign issues. Johnson, the first candidate to announce, promised wholehearted support of the president's program.

Funeral Services Being Held Today

John T. Smith, Church of Christ minister, was to be in charge of services for Mrs. L. G. Bull, 74, held at Sanders chapel at 3 o'clock this afternoon. Burial was to be in Memorial Park cemetery. Body of Mrs. Bull arrived this morning from Austin where she died at the home of a daughter, Mrs. W. R. Southwell.

Two other daughters, Mrs. Edna Romby of Sudan and Mrs. Ruth Alvis of Austin survive, and two sons, John Bull of Lubbock and W. J. Bull of Austin, as well as 17 grandchildren and [illegible] great-grandchildren.

Killed Father

Billy Meagher, 15 (above), is shown at a Denver police station as he was questioned about the killing of his father, William F. Meagher, oil company president. Detective Capt. Lawrence Stone, jr., said the boy shot his father because he thought he mistreated Mrs. Meagher, Billy's mother. (Associated Press Photo)

Perkins Services Are Set For Today

Last rites will be read for Mrs. Joe W. Perkins, 65, at 5 o'clock this afternoon at the First Baptist church with Rev. C. E. Hereford, pastor, officiating. Death was at 11 o'clock Tuesday morning of a heart ailment.

Mrs. Perkins had been a member of the First Baptist church since moving to Lubbock 29 years ago.

She died at her home 1 1-2 miles northeast of Lubbock.

Burial will be in a local cemetery with Sanders Funeral home officiating.

Perkins is a farmer.

Mrs. Perkins was survived by her husband, three daughters, Mrs. Lattie Rankin and Miss Myra Ann Perkins, both teachers in Lubbock public schools, and Mrs. M. D. Newton, also of Lubbock; and one son, A. W. Perkins of Globe, Ariz.

Bearers will be Dr. F. B. Malone, Ed D. Allen, Irving L. Jones, John Spikes, M. E. Witt, J. R. McCook, Roy Moore, and H. R. Roberson.

Honorary bearers are: Luther Green, W. N. Lemon, A. J. Hicks, A. J. Humphries, W. G. Jennings, P. W. Austin, and Morgan Dickerson.

WEATHER REPORT OF MONTH GIVEN

Mean temperature for February was 44.4 degrees, according to a report released by Don L. Jones, superintendent of Texas agricultural experiment substation 8, at Lubbock.

Maximum temperature for the month was 81 degrees, minimum 14 degrees, a range of 67 degrees.

Other data found in the report: Maximum relative humidity, 95 per cent; minimum relative humidity, 25 per cent; total wind run, 4,339 miles; normal wind run, 5,109 miles; total evaporation, 3.113 inches; number of clear days, 12; number of partly cloudy days, 7; number of cloudy days, 9; total precipitation, .01 inch; normal precipitation for the month, .73 inch; departure from normal rainfall, .72 inch minus; total precipitation Jan. 1 to Feb. 28, inclusive, .27 inch; normal precipitation for above period, 1.11 inch; departure from normal, .84 inch minus.

MADE FAST MONEY

SAN ANGELO (AP)—John P. Lee of San Angelo says he once had a horse he didn't want and traded it for 125 goats. He ran the flock up to 2,500, sold then for $5 a head, and quit the business. "It was the fastest money I ever made ranching," he says.

The average Nebraska taxpayer of a county seat town paid $30.06 in taxes for every thousand dollars' worth of property he owned in 1936.

Ordinarily a genial colored man pumps the "afromobile" around Palm Beach, Fla., but society beaus got a chance to find out what hard work this form of transportation is in a race at the Everglades Club—among them Allison R. Maxwell of Pittsburgh, whose passenger is lovely Jane Spalding of New York. Even though Maxwell rolled up trouser legs to pedal the better, he was left in the ruck.

JUDGE FINES MAN

SOUTH BEND, Ind., (AP)—Cupid juggled things nicely for Harold Hammink, 25, and Miss Beatrice Stevens, 24, of Grand Rapids, Mich.

Hammink was arrested for speeding while driving with Miss Stevens. He pleaded guilty before Justice of the Peace Lloyd E. Clark and explained he was hurrying to get a marriage license.

Justice Clark said, well, he could take care of that, too. With the assistance of a deputy sheriff he married them—after collecting the $5.50 speeding fine.

Judging Team For Tech Is Selected

Several weeks' competition for places on the junior livestock judging team at Texas Technological college was ended this week when five members were chosen. They will compete March 12 in the Southwestern exposition and Fat Stock show judging contests in Fort Worth.

Team members are Lewis Dunlap, Spur; G. C. Shearer, Tulia; Clifton Cole, Lubbock; Leslie Browning, Fluvanna; M. J. Williams, Meadow.

Ray C. Mowery, animal husbandry professor and team coach, chose the team from 13 candidates.

WITH YOUR ENGINE OIL-PLATED

OIL-PLATING differs widely from other forms of lubrication in this plain, understandable way: It remains lastingly fastened to pistons, bearings and all the other engine parts, even when they are not in motion. This is made possible by the Germ Process—patented—which gives Conoco Germ Processed oil its strong attraction for metals, so that every working part becomes durably Oil-Plated.

Oil-Plating is not like any lubrication that merely goes on-and-off. Once Germ Processed oil covers the parts it never leaves them bare of Oil-Plating . . . Never when the pistons are racing thousands of strokes a minute . . Never on any hills, despite any load . . Never while you park at dozens of different stores.

So it's nothing to you, when engineers blame more than half of all engine wear on so-called "dry starting." Nor need you worry over all the rest of the annual Spring oil scare. Whether your car is new or old, you can make your longer runs . . . hit your higher speeds . . . enjoy your hotter sunshine. Oil-Plating can take it like the longest-lasting part of your engine. For Oil-Plating really becomes a long-lasting part of your engine, as you change to long-lasting Conoco Germ Processed oil. Continental Oil Company

The BRITISH are coming---with TELEVISION!

While U. S. engineers are trying feverishly to perfect this latest development in radio, their rivals oversea are giving two systems their final test, using both portable "camera" and an ingeniously speedy film transmitter

Not much more cumbersome than a movie newsreel camera, and looking vaguely like a cash register on a tripod—a Marconi "emitron" television camera in use in the Alexandra Palace studio. A second "emitron" is in action at right of the picture.

LONDON.

IT may be a few years yet before people will want to discard their present radio receivers and buy types that will bring them not only the sounds out of the air, but the pictures of actual events. For at least a decade scientists have said that television, much like prosperity, was just around the corner.

But the promise of actually sitting in your living room and seeing the reproduction of a scene just as you would see it in the flesh is no mere political harangue. Select audiences, even now, are marveling at the wonders of television, just as others did years ago when the talkies first came in and when sound first came through the air.

And not New York, but London, seems to be the center of greatest activity toward actual transmission of sound and scene at the same time.

In the Alexandra Palace, not far from London, the British Broadcasting Company has set up an experimental station by which two rival systems for television will be tried out. Some $5,000,000 has been appropriated for the purpose, and that doesn't include the almost prohibitive cost of the equipment furnished by the television engineers.

In one section of the palace is the apparatus installed by the company in which Senatore Guglielmo Marconi, the great Italian radio genius and actual inventor of radio, is the guiding spirit. In another section is the arrangement set up by the 43-year-old Scottish inventor, John Logie Baird. Both systems are so highly developed that the B. B. C. engineers seem to think all they need for practical use is a little ironing out of some kinks.

IN fact, the actual limitations center not so much in these systems as they do in the transmission of the televised scenes.

Radio engineers still are handicapped by the undependability of the extremely short wave lengths that are necessary for television transmission. So far, they have been able to transmit on short wave lengths, with any degree of reliability, only up to a distance of about 25 or 30 miles, or about as far as a straight horizontal line, from a high tower, can reach.

That is why the B. B. C. has erected a tower that reaches 300 feet above ground, at a corner of the Alexandra Palace. Beyond this distance, the short waves seem to "skip" out of control, once they strike the ground. While engineers are trying to extend the area of effective short wave transmission, television experts are waiting with cameras, transmitters and receivers in as practical a state of completion as was sound radio apparatus in 1923.

Actual "shots" and transmission of studio acts and outdoor sports have already been made. It was a memorable thrill for a select audience recently to watch a golf match while sitting in the auditorium of the B. B. C. in London. Sharply defined images appeared in black and white on a glass screen a little less than a foot square, while through the loudspeaker came the voice of the announcer reporting the event, and the sound of club against ball.

The "camera" that caught this action is what the Marconi company calls an "emitron." It looks something like a small cash register, with a large lens poking out in front, and a heavy cable leading out of its bottom to the amplifying unit in an accompanying truck. The "emitron" is carried about the field of vision on a tripod, just as is any newsreel camera, and the sounds are picked up in the same way that they are recorded in connection with movie photography.

But there is no film to adjust, no cranking to be done. The operator merely focuses his camera, pushes a button and the scene is on the air at the same instant. The recording ends when the current is shut off.

WHAT is inside that camera is the inventor's secret, but enough is told about it to know that the scene picked up by the lens is received on a sensitive mosaic plate, and there is converted into an extremely rapid succession of electric charges, or signals. These signals are no stronger than two one-thousandths of a volt.

So sensitive is the plate in back of this camera that the apparatus can be used under normal daylight conditions, or studio lighting, and there is no need for special make-up on the part of the actors. The instrument can pick up views even in dull weather.

The extremely low current by which the light variations of the televised scene are converted into electrical impulses has to be amplified a million-fold before it can be transmitted by radio. First stage of amplification is within the camera itself, so that the current will be strong enough to pass through the connecting cable to the apparatus on the television truck, and thence to the transmission studios.

The signals have to go through various stages of modulation, mixing, correcting for any variations from the standard, and further amplification before they arrive at the unique aerial atop the palace tower, to be hurled into the air.

This aerial consists of a series of eight comparatively short wires hanging vertically around the tower, in the shape of an octagon. The wave length for television transmission is 6.67 meters, mighty short as compared with the sound broadcasting wave lengths of from 200 to 500 meters.

Above this aerial is a similar arrangement of wires for accompanying sound transmission. The sound for television, also, goes out on extremely short wave length—7.23 meters.

The control room of a Baird television broadcast.

Although such sound could be transmitted more easily on higher wave lengths, the scenes require so wide a band of transmission that only the short wave lengths will suffice. The shorter the wave, the broader is the "band," or scope, of transmission.

UNLIKE the movie camera, however, the "emitron" records a scene only momentarily, and once transmitted, the scene is gone forever.

An unusual feature of the "emitron" is that it has an electric memory—that is, it will store up and retain a scene after that view has disappeared before it. If, for instance, upon exposure to a scene, the lens is capped and the current shut off, after the current is switched on again, the camera will transmit what it had seen before the lens had been covered.

But, to retain a scene like a movie camera, television engineers have to resort to the Baird invention. Here is an ingenious film loading side, in the same way that mobile movie cameras are set up in the Hollywood studios.

Two or more may be directed at the same scene from as many angles. The action of two "emitrons" can be observed on a control panel, while one is going out on the air, and the control engineer or director may switch from one perspective of the same scene to another, by proper handling of the controls.

Baird has introduced three different stages of television equipment.

There is first the spotlight scanner, by which a sharp beam of light is thrown on the subject to be televised, across and down, 240 crossings or lines to the complete picture or scene, and 25 times a second. The scanning beam, varied in intensity by the lights and shadows of the subject that is televised, is converted into a rapid series of electric charges.

These are hurled out into the ether, to be caught by the receivers that are tuned in on the wave length which carries these charges, and then to be converted back to similar light beams that make up the received image.

The present Baird apparatus takes close-ups and three-quarter length shots. The accompanying sound and the necessary signals which hold the picture steady also go out on the air at the same time.

Because the Baird system uses a film as an intermediate step in television, the second stage, it is also prepared to televise talking pictures—the third stage. For this purpose two machines are used, so that it is possible to fade from one unit to the other when consecutive reels of film are to be televised, just as is done in the movie theaters.

Guglielmo Marconi and his wife, photographed in London, where Marconi's "emitron" television camera is undergoing experimentation.

Bulky but amazingly rapid in operation is the Baird television apparatus. Here is the scanner, with monitoring and control racks in the background.

television camera that actually records a picture on a moving film, just like the movie news cameras, but is hooked up with an apparatus that permits transmission of the scenes it records within 30 seconds from the time of the action!

The sound track is recorded on the moving negative at the same time, and the film is passed through a developing and fixing tank which prepares the film for transmission within a half minute. In its wet state, the film then is passed through the television "scanner," which picks up the scenes on the film by means of a fast-moving light.

The light, in all its variations, comparable to the gradations of light and shade in the film exposures, is then converted into corresponding electric impulses and these are transmitted to the receivers that happen to be tuned in.

It seems like a long, tedious and complicated process. Complicated it is, but it lasts only 30 seconds. And the televised scene is recorded on a film that can be used over and over again.

The apparatus which Baird uses for this purpose is much clumsier and heavier than the Marconi "emitron," and can hardly approach the latter in mobility. In fact, about as far as this unit can be moved is to a terrace outside the studio where exteriors, or special outdoor programs, can be televised.

FOR interior scenes, however, the Baird system seems to have the edge over the Marconi apparatus. The same cameras that Marconi uses for exterior scenes, he also sets up in-

THE whole secret back of this development in television is the progress made in the use of the photo-electric or light sensitive cell.

This marvel of science is based upon the sensitivity of a chemical like selenium to light. Exposed to light and connected by wires to a current source it will switch this current on or off as the light is turned on or off.

It will vary the strength of the current with the varying intensity of the light to which it is exposed, and it will act almost instantaneously. Because of its sensitivity to light, the photo-electric cell now is being applied to turning on lights when it becomes dark, to sorting various manufactured articles for their quality, size, or appearance, and for doing other tedious operations for which manual labor previously was employed.

The photo cell used in the Baird apparatus is 3000 times more sensitive than any used previously. As a result, not only the small 35-millimeter film, but the 17½-millimeter size that is used in the Baird television scanner, can be "scanned" through the photo-electric cell at the rate of 240 lines within the one-twenty-fifth of a second in which it is exposed to the light!

That makes 240 times 25, or 6000, electric impulses per second, flashing through the transmitting apparatus and into the ether, each impulse varying in intensity with the light or shade it represents.

STOMACH GOES DOWN SIX INCHES; VAN-TAGE WORKS OUT AWFUL GAS & BLOAT

Well-Known Texan Says: "I Was Terribly Bloated With Gas. Kidneys Were So Sluggish They Got Me Up All Night." But Now My Swollen Stomach Has Gone Down And My Other Suffering Is Relieved. Van-Tage Is Wonderful!"

"I Am Simply Amazed at What VAN-TAGE Did For Me. This Medicine is Nothing Short of Wonderful and I Want to Endorse It to Others Who Suffer as I Did."—MR. W. I. HEDRICK, 411 Olive St., Dallas, Tex.

"I never saw ANYTHING act like Van-Tage! The way it cleans a person's system—the way it eases gas and bloat misery—the way it helps weak, sluggish kidneys—the Blessed Relief it gives from headaches, rheumatic pains, backache, clogged bowels—oh! it's simply WONDERFUL! May many others take it and get relief like I did!"

All over this section people are talking like that about VAN-TAGE, the Amazing New Medicine now being introduced to the local public at Mark Halsey Drug Store, 1219 Broadway. For instance, just a few days ago, Mr. W. I. Hedrick, of 411 Olive St., Dallas, Tex., said:

Swollen, Gassy Stomach Kept Him In Misery

"I don't think I'll ever be able to praise Van-Tage enough," said Mr. Hedrick. "For many years I had a gassy, upset stomach. My food wouldn't digest, but fermented and turned into gas and regular rolls of bloat would form around my waistline. I even suffered with gas pressure around my heart and had a miserable feeling at the pit of my stomach continually. I had weak, sluggish kidneys which kept me rising all night long.

Works 6 Inches Of Gas From Swollen Stomach

"Well, finally I found Van-Tage, and I want to endorse it for I think it would be awful for any such miserable person to not know about it. It worked so much gas and bloat from my stomach organs that my waistline has gone down SIX INCHES. Oh! what relief! Now my gas pains, heavy feeling at pit of my stomach, and it also acted on my bowels as a laxative; and even my night rising, due to weak, sluggish kidneys, has gradually stopped. This medicine is nothing short of wonderful."

Is Like Taking Several Medicines At Once

VAN-TAGE contains over 30 Ingredients. So it is like taking several medicines at once. Moves loads of gas and bloat, helps cleanse the bowels, invigorates sluggish liver and kidneys, so that people declare it made them feel different ALL OVER. And—due to the immense volume in which it sells, the price of Van-Tage is reasonable. So, get it—TODAY at Mark Halsey Drug Store, 1219 Broadway.—Adv.

Teaching Problems Will Be Discussed

Teachers in intermediate grades in West Texas schools will discuss their teaching problems in a section meeting over which Thomas E. Pierce will preside during the West Texas Teachers association convention in Lubbock Friday and Saturday.

The intermediate section will meet at 1:30 o'clock Friday afternoon in Senior High school auditorium and rooms. Three other sections, primary, high school and school executives, will meet.

Program for the intermediate section follows:

Twenty minutes melody band demonstration. Lamesa elementary school students, directed by Mrs. W. A. Lindsey; "The Melody Band as a Part of the Music Program," G. M. Roberts, Lamesa principal; "Lubbock elementary Grades Social Studies and Language Arts," Mrs. Chas. Fagg; "Arithmetic and Physical Education," Cecil O. Schwalbe; "Arts and Crafts," Miss Opal Sloan; "Music and Nature Study," Mrs. Willie C. Smith; "Snyder elementary School Course of Study in the Elementary grades," Hadley Reeve, principal Snyder elementary school; "Languages Arts Core Area," Miss Dorothy Strayhorn; "A Guidance Program in the Elementary Grades";

STOPPED-UP NOSTRILS due to colds.

Use Mentholatum to help open the nostrils and permit freer breathing.

THIEVES FORE AND AFT

TOLEDO, O. (AP)—Bernard Gode was robbed so frequently when he parked his car in a garage that fronted on a dark alley that he decided to leave the car in front of the house. He tied two large lanterns, front and rear, to avoid any "no-lights" parking tickets. Someone stole both lanterns the very first night.

Listen For Song Of Triumph

Judge Lamiere, Belgian canary expert, and his assistants lend four pairs of sharp ears to the task of selecting the best warbler at the international canary singing contest in Paris. They had a difficult time detecting the note of triumph that brought top honor to one of the warbing finalists who engage their attention.

Goodwin Speaks At Technical Meeting

Dr. R. C. Goodwin, head professor of chemistry at Texas Technological college, discussed possibilities of water softening plants in this section at a meeting of Lubbock Technical club in the engineering auditorium on the campus Tuesday night.

Relatively inexpensive, the plants precipitate the hardening substance in the water, and the precipitate is allowed to settle or the water is filtered in sand, said Doctor Goodwin. His estimates show 1,775 tons of hardening substance was in the water used in Lubbock last year.

A wisteria vine, believed the world's largest, is a show place on Fern Lake ranch, near Montell, Tex. It was planted 52 years ago and has more than 10,000 feet of tendrils. At the ground the vine has a 49-inch circumference.

Slaton Woman Dies After Long Illness

SLATON, March 3 (Special)—Last rites for Mrs. T. J. Castleberry, 74, who had lived at Slaton many years, were read at the First Baptist church at 3:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon. Burial was in Inglewood cemetery.

Death was Monday afternoon, after an illness of several months.

Mrs. Castleberry, who had lived several years with a Slaton daughter, Mrs. D. Adkins, was born in Parker county, Aug. 11, 1862. She was married to T. J. Castleberry in 1884. Eleven children were born, seven of whom survive and were at funeral rites: C. C. and J. T. Castleberry of California, Jim Castleberry of San Angelo, and B. B. Castleberry of Slaton, and Mrs. W. A. Marr, Mrs. Adkins and Miss Fannie Castleberry, all of Slaton.

The oldest member of the Slaton Order of Eastern Star, Mrs. Castleberry was paid tribute of that order at her rites. She had been a member of the Baptist church since 1910 and of the Slaton church since 1918.

WHEN WE STOP GREASY INDIGESTION WE FEEL JUST FINE

Our stomach can't digest grease. Neither can our bowels. Only our pancreatic juice, working with our bile juices, can digest grease.

When we get bad taste, headache and that nasty grouchy feeling which comes from greasy indigestion, take 1 Carter's Little Liver Pill before each meal and 1 after.

Carter's Little Liver Pills bring a large flow of our pancreatic juice and bile juice into our bowels. The large flow of these juices digests the grease we have eaten. Then we burst into life and into our work like a joyous skyrocket.

But if you want this glorious relief from greasy indigestion, ask your druggist for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name and stubbornly refuse to buy anything else. 25c. Adv.

Sailor And Indian To Tangle In Mat Feature

SPORTOGRAPH

by COLLIER PARRIS

Copyright, 1937

HERE'S A HEARTY howdjado to three of our newest citizens—Mr. and Mrs. Charles Akey and Junior.

The greeting is a day or so late, but the Akeys have been that long getting set up for housekeeping at the Lubbock Country club cottage and haven't had time to miss being welcomed.

Charles Akey, you recall, is the Country club's new pro and general manager. He comes here from the Big Spring Municipal club, which he helped build and which is one of the neatest in this part of the country.

CHAS. AKEY

A golfer, golf instructor and golf club executive of considerable experience and ability, despite his tender age of 27, Akey was pointed out as the logical man for the Country club job, and the board of directors reached over and snatched him up from Big Spring. He was elected several weeks ago, "purchased" for March 1 delivery. He was here on the dot, and already there seems to be increased interest and enthusiasm at the club.

Akey was chosen, not as a professional golf instructor alone, but for his knowledge of a golf club, inside and out, and from the start he has made already, one can tell that he knows his way around the traps and bunkers. His knowledge of grass greens, his ability to build and attend them, has been demonstrated long since. The Country club made a wise move when it brought the tall young golf engineer here to run its clubhouse and golf course.

A serious young man where business is concerned, but a personable, smiling character at all times, Akey should prove popular with the golf crowd here. He does not plan to put up with any monkey business, but he'll make the folks welcome out there.

A member of the National Professional Golfers association, Akey is not, to use his own words, a playing pro. He is a maker of clubs, designer of golf balls and golf courses, an instructor in the fine art of swinging and hitting, but he does not set himself up as professional or money tournament player. In other words, he'll be on the job around the club house instead of running around the country with the touring pros. He shoots a nice game of golf, to be sure, but doesn't gain his livelihood that way.

To qualify for membership in the P. G. A., a golfer must at one time or another have been a designer and maker of clubs. In the display case of the shop are examples of Akey's handiwork, two woods, a "one-and-a half" and a "three-and-a-half," bearing the Akey signature. He has designed two balls, manufactured by Spaulding, and they also bear his name. Club shafts are a specialty with him, and he is known to be able to produce "tailor made" or costum built clubs to "fit" the individual golfer.

The "Akey influence" as regards improvement and upkeep of a golf course already has been observed. From the day he was elected, he has kept an eye on the course. His first official service was to revolutionize the tee system by causing larger and more stable tees, or "teeing areas" as they are known now, to be constructed. He changed the locations of some of them, caused others to be overhauled completely, built up, enlarged and sodded. Not only will the members play on spacious grass greens this year, but they'll tee off from modern teeing areas. Some of the tees are nearly as large as the greens, and they will receive the same meticulous care that is given the greens.

AS FOR THE organization itself, Lubbock Country club seems bound for the best season in its history. Old members, many of whom dropped out, lost interest and severed relations, are back in the fold, thanks to energetic work of the board of directors, Cotton McAfee, the retiring manager, and President Cliff Dean. Those boys have done some real work. The financial status of the club is adequate. When Cotton and the boys proved that they meant business, formed the nucleus of a sure-enough Country club, others fell in line. The financial campaign has met with fine results. A bona fide membership of nearly 80 paid-up members has assured the success of the "new deal" venture, and the employing of Akey tops off a season of "inside" work that certainly should be recognized.

The club has done another thing for which it should be commended. It has agreed to cooperate with Texas Tech to the extent of making special memberships possible for members of the Tech golf club.

Since most of their intercollegiate matches are played on grass greens, it is not only fitting but highly essential that the Tech players do their home work on grass.

It is a generous gesture on the part of the Country club. The college officials should feel extremely grateful and should respond by paying whatever dues the club asks for each Red Raider golfer on the squad, at no expense to the player. They do not charge football players for use of the gridiron. It should not be necessary for individual members of the golf team to pay for use of a links.

RECORDS FALL AT LAREDO

TWO NEW CHAMPIONS ARE CROWNED AT TRACK MEET

LAREDO, Mar. 3. (AP)—Six new records and two new champions emerged from the fifth international border Olympic finals last night.

North Texas Teachers' college track and field men outscored the defending champion University of Texas team to top the college division. Thomas Edison high school of San Antonio scored a point more than a home-town rival, Thomas Jefferson, to win in that division. Edison scored 17 points.

North Texans Far Ahead

North Texas' athletes scored 39 3-5 points; Rice institute 29 and Texas 25. Other schools fared as follows: Southwest Texas State Teachers' college, 5; Texas A. and M., 4; Abilene Christian college, 4 1-5; East Texas State Teachers, 2 3-5.

Behind Edison and Jefferson in the high school group came Lockhart with 10 points, Alamo Heights (San Antonio) 9, Corpus Christi 8, San Antonio Tech 7, Brackenridge (San Antonio) and Donna 4 each, and Lanier (San Antonio) and Hebbronville, 1 each.

New Records Set

Vickery of Texas jumped 6 feet five and a half inches for a new border Olympics record. Other record makers were: Patterson of Rice, 120-yard high hurdles, 14:9 seconds; H. Morgan, North Texas, mile run, 4:29.1; Weichert of Rice, pole vault, 12 feet nine inches; North Texas, mile relay, three minutes 24 seconds.

For the high schoolers, Terry of Lockhart ran 880 yards in two minutes eight seconds. Lockhart's relay team ran the half mile in 37.7 seconds for another new mark.

About 200 athletes from Texas and Mexico took part.

Anton Tournament To Open Thursday

ANTON, March 3 (Special)—The third annual Anton Independent basketball tournament opens Thursday night in the local high school gym with Pettit and Shallowater playing the curtain raiser.

First game is at 7 o'clock. At 8 o'clock, the Lubbock and Littlefield CCC teams play. Anton High meets Berry Cafe of Amherst in the third game, Spade plays Tip-Top Cafe "mystery men" of Lubbock in the fourth, starting at 10 o'clock.

Other first round games are scheduled for Friday night, Ralls playing Southland, Abernathy meeting the Tech Drug of Lubbock, Whitharral High battling the Texas Tech freshmen, and the Anton Independents playing the Kraft Cheese club.

BRIEFS FROM CAMPS OF THE BIG LEAGUES

(By The Associated Press)

CLEARWATER, Fla.—Gordon (Babe) Phelps is hoping to do big things for the Brooklyn Dodgers this season and that doesn't refer to his size. The catcher has been chopping wood all winter, Phelps explained, and is down to 216 pounds as compared to the 240 he brought to camp last year.

HAVE GOOD NEWS

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla.—Although only the batterymen are officially in training yet, the New York Yankees have good news from their outfield department. Myril Hoag, who was badly hurt last July and had to remain out of action the remainder of the season, arrived from California yesterday and reported he was in perfect condition.

FIRST WORKOUT TODAY

PASADENA—Today was reunion day for Manager Jimmy Dykes and his Chicago White Sox pitchers and catchers. The party which left Chicago Monday night was due and Dykes planned to hustle all hands to the training site for the first workout of the season.

HAS ONE REQUIREMENT

NEW ORLEANS—Pitcher Bill Zuber, tall, knock-kneed German, drew attention today from Manager Steve O'Neill of the Cleveland Indians. "If he didn't have anything else I'd have to give him a chance on account of those legs," said O'Neill. "I wouldn't say you have to be knock-kneed to be a good pitcher but Matty, Alexander, Ray Caldwell and Wes Ferrell couldn't walk without wearing calouses on the insides of their knees."

CHUNKY GAS HOUSERS

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla.—The "gas house gang" has moved into the heavyweight class. Chunky, almost corpulent are the Cardinals. Manager Frankie Frisch has been putting through rigorous opening training schedules. Only "Stu" Martin, recovering from an attack of appendicitis, and Lon Warneke remain the thin men on the club.

OPEN TOMORROW

CINCINNATI—Eight Cincinnati Redlegs, five of them regulars, left with Manager Charley Dressen today to open spring training tomorrow at Tampa, Fla.

OLD HEADS AT GRUNT GAME ON CARD

ROD FENTON TO MEET ANDY TREMAINE IN SEMI-FINAL GO

Sailor Popeye Kirby Watkins, who does right well for himself in a rough-and-tumble and who is not entirely without recourse when it comes to manhandling the "scientific" grapplers, is expected to play a wary game tonight against the heap clever Injun, Yaqui Joe, in the main event of Sled Allen's wrestling show.

Tonight's card contains a couple of supporting gestures that are not due to escape the eyes of a critical and appreciative fandom. Rod Fenton, the drop-kicking, eye-gouging, slambang ex-lumberjack from Alberta, takes on Andy Tremaine, the drop-kicking, hard-tackling ex-collegian from Tucson, Arizona, in the semi-final. A new face is promised in the prelim when Ivan Rasputin meets Joe Bauer.

Fixed Markus Up

Joe earned a shot on a main event by whipping Jabbery Jerry Markus last week in the semi-final. He did it so completely and effectively that there was no doubt regarding the better wrestler. He may find it tougher going against the hardened Sailor from the South, who takes keen delight in mussing up "foreigners," his name for everybody who doesn't wear cowboy boots.

The supporting card promises (1) a new face, if you can see it for the alleged whiskers, and (2) a hot semi-final featuring Andy Tremaine and Rod Fenton.

Bauer Tests Newcomer

The Canadian kid came back last week in fine physical shape and faster than he has ever been to give Sailor Watkins a tough 20 minutes in the prelim. He gets Handy Andy, the clean wrestler who sometimes turns rough, tonight, and Andy should have learned by now that he who hesitates to get rough against a rough opponent is wasting his time, and that of the customers.

Ivan Skavinski Rasputin, a bearded Russian, since all Russians are supposed to be bearded, makes his debut tonight, meeting Joe Bauer, the veteran German who tries out most of the newcomers. If they pass Bauer, they are fit to be seen in a wrestling arena.

Wanna Bet? Then Here Are Selections In Big Sports Events Of Coming Year

(NOTE: This is the first of two stories showing how a group of leading sports editors forecasts the outcome of the 1937 major sports events. It covers the professional side of the picture. Tomorrow, a forecast of amateur events).

BY ALAN GOULD

NEW YORK, March 3 (AP)—If you care to parlay expert opinion on the outcome of this year's major offerings in professional sports competition, for or against, here's the forecast:

Joe Louis to whip Jim Braddock for the world heavyweight title in Chicago, Pompoon to capture the Kentucky derby, Harry Cooper to wear the United States open golf crown, and the New York Yankees to play the St. Louis Cardinals in the next World series.

These are the concensus selections of America's leading sports editors who gazed into the crystal ball at the request of the Associated Press, crossed their fingers, and put themselves on record for the campaign of 1937 on all major fronts. It's Broadway Jack Doyle's opinion this five-star parlay is a 500 to 1 proposition.

A year ago, the ringside experts wouldn't have given Braddock one chance in a hundred to keep his fistic crown safe from the assault of the brown bomber. So rapidly have subsequent events altered opinion that our poll shows a tally of only 27 to 20 in favor of Louis. This tallies pretty well with the present view of betting men that the bomber will be no better than a 2 to 3 shot when he challenges the champion in Comiskey park, June 22.

Derby selections give Pompoon, the winter book favorite, only a 13 to 10 edge. The rest of the ballots cast on Kentucky's three-year-old classic were scattered.

Cooper Hottest Choice

Harry Cooper seems likely to be the hottest choice for the U. S. open crown since Gene Sarazen won in 1932 in the favorite's role. Cooper is the pick of 26, with no other player close. Henry Picard received four votes and Denny Shute three.

The world champion Yankees, despite their holdout troubles, are top-heavy choices to repeat in the American league. They polled 38 votes out of a possible 47. The Detroit Tigers received six votes, Cleveland Indians two, and the Chicago White Sox one.

Scarcely less overwhelming is the support for the Cardinals in the National league. They received 36 votes, with the New York Giants picked by only five sports editors to repeat their surprising triumph of last year.

Methodists Beaten By Owls Of Rice

HOUSTON, March 3 (AP)—Southern Methodist university packed away its first Southwest conference basketball championship today and along with that its second defeat of the season.

The Mustangs, closing a schedule in which previously they had bowed only to Arkansas's lanky cagers, yielded to Rice's battered Owls in a slam-bang battle last night, 35 to 32.

Big Ike Klindworth led a whirlwind Rice attack and scored 17 points. J. D. Norton, Mustang sophomore flash, trod on Klindworth's heels for scoring honors with 15 points.

ASSERTS FANS WILL SEE A FAST BOUT

CHAMP DECLARES THAT HE PLANS TO THROW STIFF PUNCHES

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Mar. 3. (AP)—Jimmy Braddock began a two weeks' vacation today by calmly stating he would knock out Joe Louis in their forthcoming Chicago fight in the sixth round.

"Sure," he answered when asked if he would retain his heavyweight championship next June. "In the sixth round."

Will Throw Punches

"It won't be like the Bob Pastor fight. I want to get in there and throw some punches myself. Besides, the fans are going to pay big money to see this fight, and I feel they're entitled to get something for their money."

Braddock said he had read the magazine articles in which Max Schmeling detailed how he beat the brown bomber but he's not mapping out any special campaign for his fight. He'll just fight as he goes along.

He thinks Louis is a sucker, not only for a right, as Schmeling found, but for any punch.

Has No Protection

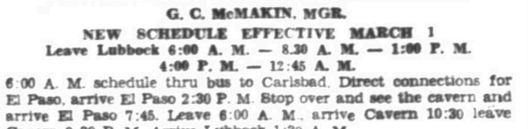

"All he knows is how to hit," Braddock observed. "He doesn't protect himself."

The champion will spend a couple of weeks swimming and soaking up the sunshine and then go up to the Wisconsin woods for six weeks of hard training.

He said he had little to do to get into fighting trim, and he looked it.

SUL ROSS WINS

SAN ANTONIO, March 3 (AP)—Sul Ross defeated St. Mary's university in a basketball game here last night, 50 to 32.

NO AID GIVEN TO TEXANS

COUNTY LEADERS FAIL IN THEIR EFFORTS AT WASHINGTON

WASHINGTON, March 3 (AP)—Works Progress administration officials told a group of Texans today they could do nothing to assist cities and counties which no longer can contribute some part of the cost of WPA projects.

The County Judges and Commissioners association of Texas and a number of house members laid before Corrington Gill, assistant WPA administrator, and Malcolm Miller, regional WPA director, complaints that many counties have even "gone into the red" to obtain funds to purchase materials and equipment for projects.

Miller said that with fixed congressional appropriations the WPA would have to reduce considerably the number of men employed if it were to devote a larger share of a state's allotment to "non-labor" uses.

Would Need Millions

Gill asserted that if relief officials suddenly started to provide funds for material in all states they would need about $10,000,000 a month more than the present expenditure of $90,000,000.

W. R. Nelson of Carthage, president of the association; Henry Cook of Fort Worth, WPA projects engineer, and Hale County Judge Harold Lafont of Plainview, of the group of 16 from the association, cited figures showing that Texas' per-man-year allotment—$486—was considerably below many other states. They asked that the WPA increase this basic figure.

Gill and Miller explained the rate was computed from a wage scale which business men, as well as labor interests, drew up in Texas cities and towns. They asserted they could do nothing unless this figure was increased.

Rep. Clyde Garrett of Eastland and W. D. McFarlane of Graham contended the county commissioners and judges of the state were not consulted and would have insisted on a higher wage.

Announcements Of Revue Are Mailed

Mailed today to more than 600 retail merchants of ladies' ready-to-wear, millinery, men's clothing, and general lines were formal announcements of the fashion revue and the merchants' ball Friday night, March 12, in connection with the West-Tex New-Mex Wholesale Clothing Market association's semi-annual market week March 11 to 14.

Both the style show and the dance will be held at the Lubbock hotel starting at 8 o'clock.

To Present Stage Show

Between showings of new spring garments by wholesale merchants from leading manufacturing centers of Texas, New Mexico, California, Missouri, New York and Illinois, Larrymore and his orchestra, with 25 special entertainers will present a stage show of many features and novelties.

Inclosed in the invitations were cards asking that merchants mail to the committee in charge of the revue and dance the number in their party. The affair will be limited to "retail merchants, their employes and immediate families," says O. J. Sexton, president of the Wes-Tex New-Mex Wholesale Clothing Market association.

To Select Models

Selection of eighteen models for the style show will be made from a group of about 50 girls to meet in the east ballroom of the Lubbock hotel at 7:30 o'clock Thursday night, according to J. H. Brock, director.

Mannequins selected will be trained in several rehearsals for the style event by Miss Marie Tyson, professional model, make-up artist and ballet dancer, originally of Dallas, who is expected to arrive soon.

Selection of models will be made by directors of the style event, the floor show and the dance. This year they are being picked earlier to allow more time for training and rehearsals, said Brock. Lewis Walker and Jack Fuller will direct presentation of the stage show and dance.

Outstanding among the novelties and features already announced by stage show directors is "Doin' the Suzi Q," a new dance step.

Rehearsals will begin immediately after selection of Mannequins, those selected will be given a short course in modeling and make-up by Miss Tyson.

Models for last year's show are invited to participate in the try-outs Thursday night. Girls will be selected on a competitive basis.

Texas Tech Frosh Beaten Last Night

Manager Joe Bob Stevens' Slaton Oilers, outstanding independent cage team of the section, came to Lubbock for a victory last night, defeating Aubrey Butt's Texas Tech freshmen, 49 to 37.

The Oilers, undefeated through a stiff independent season and now preparing to enter the Texas AAU tournament at Dallas this week, were reinforced by the addition of three Texas Tech regulars, Hugh Snodgrass, Curly Wilkinson and Leroy Crews for last night's game. The trio will be with the team moving into Dallas Thursday.

Jim Neely led the Oilers scoring with 12 points, and got "assists" for two other field goals. F. M. Sasche of the Picadors took individual honors with 17 points. Truman Neal made 11.

The score was 16-12 at the half, favoring Slaton, but the Fish drew abreast, 16-16 soon after the second half started. The Oilers pulled away in the closing minutes for their 12-point victory.

The Freshmen, who play in the Anton independent tournament this week-end, defeated Meadow's Independents, 35-26 Monday night. They clash with the local independent club, Peel Packing company, at 8 o'clock tonight at the Tech gym.

Crosby Residents Claimed By Death

RALLS, March 3 (Special)—Two well-known residents of Crosby county, both living near Ralls, died Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Ella L. Sargent, 72, wife of C. W. Sargent, had been ill one month before her death at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon. She had been living in the Cone community, where the family moved 16 years ago from Foard county, until a year ago.

Death of Mrs. Jamima Jane Hawkins, 66, wife of E. B. Hawkins, was yesterday after an illness of two weeks of pneumonia. Moving there from Denton county in 1913, the family lived 10 miles south of Ralls.

Rites for Mrs. Sargent will be read at 4 o'clock Wednesday afternoon at the Ralls Church of Christ, R. L. Travis and H. Hall officiating, and burial will be in Ralls cemetery.

Mrs. Hawkins' services will be at 2:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon at the First Methodist church, Mr. Travis and Rev. J. Edmund Kirby officiating.

Mrs. Sargent leaves her husband and seven children, Mrs. Hawkins her husband and nine children.

WHICH, by the way, lends a suggestion. Since the President wants youth on the bench and his appointment of "Madame Secretary" has proven out his theory that the feminine sex should be represented in high places, why not name Shirley Temple to succeed Charles Evans Hughes?

At that she probably would make a better hit with the public than General Johnson and Doctor Tugwell.

JOHN B. O'Meara, whom we are informed, has "been everything around a hotel but a waitress or a maid", is at Hotel Hilton holding classes to improve the service at the hostelry.

Already a good hotel, the Lubbock Hilton is to be commended for trying to be even better and The Plainsman is perfectly willing to accept Mr. O'Meara as a hotel expert.

But one of his remarks made to a Journal reporter might leave the wrong idea and as a veteran Lubbock eater-outer, we make bold to step forth with an opinion.

Mr. O'Meara told our reporter that "the day of the sexy, cosmetic-laden waitress is as obsolete as the day of the horse and buggy" and we agree. But there is an inference there that the great army of waitresses were, at one time at least, "on the make" for their male customers.

This The Plainsman denies and his opinion is not merely plucked from the air. It is based on long observance.

For well over a dozen years this writer has eaten at Lubbock hotels and restaurants on every hour around the clock.

There are a dozen or more waitresses who have been shoveling him ham and eggs and other delicacies of the public eating houses ever since the days when Harve Hicks ran the old Elk cafe where Bill Pollard's cafe is now and since Sled Allen ran his Busy Bee Beanery next door to The Avalanche-Journal. In all those years—and for quite a few of them The Plainsman was picking up three squares a day down town—we've never had anything but ladylike, polite service. Not a single cafe girl has ever "made a pass" at this writer.

The wise guy will say: No wonder. Nobody wants to fool with a fat bald-headed guy." But, by gosh, The Plainsman wasn't always fat and baldheaded! And, what is more, he's never seen a waitress make a pass at even the handsomest of the restaurant counter Don Juans.

ON the other hand, through long residence in hotels and experience as a down town eater, The Plainsman has seen countless smart mugs get fresh with waitresses, cigar counter, switchboard and elevator girls.

You'd be surprised at the self-appointed sheiks who consider it their prerogative and a necessity to wisecrack restaurant and hotel women employes.

Most of them don't mean any affront. But The Plainsman will bet his last chip that on more than one occasion the average girl longs to smack her tormentor right in the eye!

This column approves the campaign against too many cosmetics and, of course, against these red fingernails that are as popular with the "Medames Astor" as they are with Lizzie Shultz of the Greasy Spoon. But if you ask an oldtimer among the eaters-out, from a standpoint of gentility the waitresses as a whole have always been a long jump ahead of the majority of wiseacres they've served—and some of those wiseacres include a portion of our otherwise polite and well-behaved gentry.

W. H. "BILLY" MEADOR is having a lot of fun these days. Son of a Confederate veteran, he is singing the praises of Postmaster-General Jim Farley for making it possible for him to lick three damyankees all at one time.

The latest stamp issue is a 3-center carrying the likenesses of General William T. Sherman, General U. S. Grant and General Phil Sheridan, and the stickum on the back is simply scrumptuous.

A lot of dyed-in-the-wool Southerners didn't take the new stamp issue as goodnaturedly as Billy Meador does.

The legislatures of Georgia and South Carolina raised an awful howl when they heard of the new design, especially because General Sherman was included.

In case you didn't read "Gone With The Wing", we'll remind you that Sherman, the greatest looter, depredator and all around Public Enemy No. 1 of American military history, was the guy who laid waste to the beautiful Shenandoah Valley, to Georgia and parts of South Carolina in his march to Atlanta.

We don't blame the Georgians and the South Carolinians for kicking about honoring such a guy.

Some of the marks of his army's depredations still may be seen in that part of the country.

DIPLOMAT FARLEY, who hopes lightning will strike him and he'll be his boss' successor at 1600 Pennsylvania Avenue, Washington, D. C., was pretty nice about the situation.

After he had ok'd the stamp issue without thinking of Civil war repercussions, he couldn't call the thing off without making the damyankees mad, because there are a lot of damyankees and most of them vote. So the General did the next best thing.

He promised that the next stamp issue will honor General General Robert E. Lee.

We might add in closing that when the damyankees lick General Lee via the stamp route it will be the first time they ever licked him!

Here's a bit of philosophy passed along to The Plainsman by Hubert L. Allen, who is contemplating taking up golf soon:

"You've been wishing you had time to take up golf? Or tennis? Or horseback riding? Or any one of the numerous sports which will keep the old human machine in smooth running order? Then take time to do one or two of them. Just grab a handful of hours and set them aside for yourself. Other activities will arrange themselves so that there isn't much crowding. Give it a trial and it'll repay you a thousand-fold."

AND Dr. M. C. Overton employed Uncle Sam's mail to bring in the following yarn which doubtless is a part of the swelling passel of jokes aroused by Lubbock's bid for the new West Texas asylum—if and when.

"A farmer was passing an insane asylum with a load of fertilizer. An inmate called through the fence. 'What are you hauling?'

"'Fertilizer', answered the farmer.

"'What are you going to do with it?'

"'Put it on my strawberries.'

"The inmate countered quickly: 'You ought to be in here. We get cream and sugar on ours!'"

READY MADE WIFE

BY CORALIE STANTON

SYNOPSIS: Laurie is worried out of mind. She and Rex Moore love each other, but Rex is engaged to Wanda Steele and Laurie to Mark Albery, who employs both Rex and herself. Albery is in Berlin, after unsuccessfully trying to force Rex into an airplane "accident." And Laurie has gone to see a friend of her dancer sister Gladys, because she is sure Gladys and Jimmy Dallas, young man about town, are up to mischief.

Chapter 44
THE TRUTH

"Is Gladys with that young Dallas? Don't lie!"

Nellie nodded.

"He's left London. Where has she gone with him?"

Nelly broke down altogether. It was with difficulty that Laurie got the sense of her disjointed words.

Paris—Hotel Meurice—rue de Rivoli—they left yesterday—were to be back in the middle of the week—a dead secret.

"Are they married?" Laurie asked in a dull voice.

"I don't know. Glad was awfully close about that. But I expect so. She wouldn't have gone, would she? I couldn't get anything out of her."

"Nelly you've done a cruel thing," said Laurie unmercifully. "You ought to have told me at once. You ought to have stopped her going somehow. I'll be getting on now. I must get to Paris as soon as it can be done."

Laurie knew well enough that girls went away on holiday trips with their young men nowadays. She knew that the world at large thought little of it. But Glad was her sister, the apple of her eye.

The quickest way to Paris was by air, of course.

She found the nearest telephone call box and rang up Rex Moore at Gretton, only to find that he was in London. Half crazy with anxiety, she got the Chelsea flat, and when his voice answered, she felt sick with relief, but spoke in the calmest voice.

"I want you to take me by air to Paris at once. Can you?"

He did not show the faintest surprise.

"Of course, I can, Laurie. As it happens, I flew my plane to Croydon this morning, and it is there. But what about Albery?"

"I must get to Paris as soon as possible." She took no notice of his question. "Could we get there tonight?"

"Certainly. I'll ring up the airfield. Where are you?"

"In Streatham."

"Then you'd better meet me at Croydon."

"I haven't any money. Perhaps just enough to pay a taxi."

"That doesn't matter. I have plenty. You're in trouble, Laurie?"

"Yes."

"Get to Croydon as soon as you can. I'll be a little after you, but when we get there, we won't waste any time."

Laurie did not have to wait long for Rex Moore at Croydon.

His plane was ready for him when he arrived.

He gave her a swift handshake and a piercing look from his grey eyes, lit up with the energy of action. He also gave her pads of cotton wool to put in her ears to shut out the noise of the engines, and borrowed a flying coat for her, as it was going to be chilly up aloft.

* * *

It was a scene that Laurie never forgot. The last lingering rays of daylight swallowed in the glaring lamps of the field. The sense of unreality, of adventure; and, in the midst of it, the casual chatter of a party of Americans who had just landed from Cherbourg, and the calmly sleeping little face of a baby in the arms of a nurse.

Rex Moore did not ask her a single question.

Laurie was too preoccupied to experience the sensation of flying. It was perfect weather. She noticed nothing, not even the noise of the engines.

She sat in a kind of trance behind Rex Moore. Now and then she caught sight of his profile, as he turned his head. His face was set. He had no thought, she felt, but that of steering them across the night skies of their destination.

But she was wrong. Rex Moore was thinking of her. His thoughts were gloomy and harsh. He was remembering what Wanda Steele had said to him yesterday. Her words of sympathy had been like so many stabs.

"You know how I hate gossip and scandal, Rex, but you were well rid of your wife. I hate running down women, too, but I can't forgive her treating you as she has done.

"With my own eyes I saw her coming out of that young Dallas's chambers the other day. They were on the best of terms, evidently. He was in his dressing-gown, talking to her on the landing. And my friends, whom I had been visiting, tell me that he leads the wildest kind of life.

"He has a shocking reputation, and a young woman often visits him there quite late at night. I suppose it's she. I do feel you ought to know, as you're making the sacrifice of letting her divorce you. I can't think how she's going to get away with it. I suppose it's Albery's money that has turned her head."

He had silenced her with a few words, but the poison worked in his veins.

Was this girl who sat behind him that sort of woman? Of course, he knew young Dallas and she had met at Gretton. But was she carrying on an intrigue with him—when she was going to marry Albery? She was mercenary; she must be. She was not in love with Albery; he was sure of that.

The journey to Laurie was like a dream. They flew steadily on and on. It grew dark. Every now and then she looked down and saw lights, like fire-flies, far below. She did not know whether it lasted six

IT'S "UNFAIR" TO OPPOSE THE PRESIDENT!

Opposition to the President's plan to revamp the judiciary must be stronger than most of us realize. It must be making difficult what Mr. Roosevelt and his advisors thought would be a relatively easy matter to take control of the courts as he has captured the legislative branch of the government on so many occasions.

"Red in the face and his voice rising to a roar", press reports describe, Senator Joe Robinson, of Arkansas, jumped up in the senate Monday to defend the Roosevelt plan. Always one of the President's most obliging "Congressional rubber stamps", Senator Robinson, majority leader in the upper house, amazed his colleagues and the nation by pitching his defense of the proposed court streamlining by shouting that it is "unfair" to oppose the President!

That's a curious situation, indeed.

Rapping organized efforts to preserve the courts, Senator Robinson completely overlooked the fact that the President has organized his aides in an effort to have his way. On the night of the very day Senator Robinson shouted "it's unfair to oppose the President", Harry Hopkins, the administration's No. 1 boondoggler, was taking the air waves in the first of a series of speeches organized to try to ramrod Mr. Roosevelt's plan across. Nor did Senator Robinson mention that the President, himself, will take to the ether March 9, climaxing his organized drive and doing his bit to bring about his demands that the judiciary be revamped to suit the purposes of Franklin Roosevelt!

The court remodeling camp must be fairly close to defeat or even bumbling Senator Robinson would have found something more in favor of the Roosevelt plan than to charge that "to oppose the President is unfair".

When did free Americans have to agree with everything proposed by Franklin Roosevelt, or anybody else, in order to be "fair"?

Senator Robinson's anguished argument is not only woefully weak. It is an asininity born of desperation!

From Hollywood MOVIE SIDELIGHTS

Behind The Scenes With The Stars Of Talkietown

BY PAUL HARRISON
Journal Hollywood Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, March 3—It's always vacation time for somebody in the screen capital, and that doesn't include the tourists who come here on vacation.

Every movie player has the urge to get out of Hollywood for a rest, and quite a lot of them are successful. Stars who make only two or three, or even four, pictures a year have a good deal of leisure—time to swim in Hawaii, lose a few francs on the Riviera, or visit innumerable places closer to home.

NOT A BIT CHOOSEY

A movie actress — NOT Mary Astor — got engaged the other evening and, in front of a party of friends, asked her fiance where he'd like to go for a honeymoon.

He said, "Oh, I don't care particularly. Where do you usually go?"

At this writing, Gary Cooper is basking in Bermuda, George Brent is seeing the shows on Broadway and whooping it up at Leon and Eddie's, Errol Flynn is South America-bound, and George Raft is teeing off in Florida.

Dozens are broiling at western desert resorts, and a few are wallowing in the last snows of winter in the mountains.

Kay Francis and Marlene Dietrich recently returned from Europe. Miss Dietrich made a picture in England, but had a few months left for Paris and for Swiss ski trails.

This heavy traffic of pleasure-bent filmites keeps them bombarded with high-pressure campaigns to lure them to this or that place. The presence of a real, live movie star at a dude ranch in Canada or a hotel in Arizona makes priceless publicity for the proprietors.

If Bing Crosby runs out of gas while motoring and hikes to the Bar-None Ranch for a gallon, the place will prosper for a couple of seasons as a happy haven where cinema celebrities drop in.

* * *

On The Cuff

Any frugal star who enjoys free vacations enough to pose for plenty of pictures can take a wide assortment of pleasures on the cuff.

Recently the syndicate developing an American Switzerland at Sun Valley, Idaho, offered an expense-free trip to screen people who wanted to do a bit of skiing and tobogganing at the newly opened resort.

Two Pullman loads of actors and actresses jumped at the chance. Manufacturers of sports clothes were right on the job with complimentary outfits for some of the cuties.

For three days they had a dandy time for themselves while photographers mushed around and fell into snow banks getting trick pictures.

These pictures now are enticing cash customers by the score to the frosty playground. The ballyhoo boys followed up that stunt by persuading a working film company to come there on a location trip.

Hawaiian Hospitality

Ever since he let slip to an interviewer the fact that he'd like to visit Hawaii, Robert Taylor has been deluged with leis and ukuleles and engraved invitations to come on down and break breadfruit with the Chamber of Commerce.

He also has a grass skirt, a surfboard, and a case of pineapples, and is worried lest the expressman deliver a hula gal wrapped in cellophane one of these mornings.

A hotel in Ensenada, Mexico, just below the border, long has been a favorite week-end resort for weary movie players who find resuscitation by staying awake in distant hot spots.

The establishment has a bustling publicity staff and is jammed with tourists and fans who don't mind a pain in their hip pockets so long as they can rub elbows with the stars.

* * *

"Drop Inn"

A dude ranch in Arizona sent a fancy bridle to Warner Baxter as an invitation and a makeup box tooled in saddle leather to Loretta Young.

The hotels of Palm Springs are in brisk competition this season; one even sent a Neon-lighted sound truck through Hollywood streets proclaiming the hostelry's charms.

Difference In Opinions And Philosophies Among Justices Is Real Issue In Court Reform Plan, Is Dutcher's View

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
Journal Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, March 3—Side issues in the Supreme court fight have tended to bury the fact that th struggle is based on a difference in judicial philosophies among the nine justices.

Roosevelt seeks fewer justices who construe the Constitution as Justices Sutherland, Buter, Van Devanter, McReynolds, Roberts, and sometimes construe it, and more justices who interpret it as Brandeis, Stone, Cardoza—and, again, sometimes Hughes—interpret it.

Conservatives, and many in the legal profession, insist the court has merely carried out the mandate of the Constitution in its opinions. Roosevelt contends that personal convictions, theories or prejudices have guided the majority.

"Only One Duty"

The conservative position was taken by Justice Roberts when he read the 6 to 3 adverse opinion in the AAA case, as follows:

"When an act of Congress is appropriately challenged in the courts as not conforming to the constitutional mandate, the judicial branch of the government has only one duty: to lay the article on the Constitution which is invoked beside the statute which is challenged, and to decide whether the latter squares with the former."

Dutcher

Roosevelt, as if in answer to this, said in his message to Congress Jan. 6, that means must be found to adapt "judicial interpretation to the actual present needs of the largest progressive democracy in the modern world."

"We do not ask the courts to call non-existent powers into being," he said, "but we have a right to expect that conceded powers or those legitimately implied shall be made effective instruments for the common good. The processes of our democracy must not be imperiled by the denial of essential powers of free government."

Roosevelt takes the position that the Constitution needs no amending, provided justices will interpret it liberally.

AAA Key Case

The key case in this argument, if one may be singled out, was the AAA decision. This involved the federal program to control agricultural production, in which compliance was obtained by offering benefit payments, the proceeds of which were derived from processing taxes.

The majority held that production was a local matter, that the law invaded state rights. It held the regulation was not voluntary, but compulsory. It held that such legislation was unconstitutional, because the Constitution did not expressly grant Congress the power to regulate agricultural production.

"Congress cannot invade state jurisdiction to compel individual action; no more can it purchase such action," said Roberts.

Uses Strong Language

The violent split within the court was evidenced by the dissenting opinion read by Justice Stone on behalf of himself, Brandeis and Cardozo.

"A tortured construction of the Constitution," Stone called the majority opinion. He added that it curtailed the power of Congress "by judicial fiat," and that its argument "hardly rises to the dignity of argument." Furthermore, it was "contradictory and destructive of the power to appropriate for the general welfare, and is incapable of practical appl ation. . . The limitation now sanctioned must lead to absurd consequences. . . . While unconstitutional exercise of power by the executive and legislative branches is subject to judicial re-s aint, the only check upon our exercise of power is our own sense of self-restraint."

Six months ater, when the court killed New York's minimum wage law 5 to 4, holding that it violated freedom of women to contract to work at low wages, Stone charged the verdict was governed by "personal economic predilections." This was in direct conflict with Roo assertion that the court merely up to the letter of the Constitution.

ANNUAL MEETING SET

AMARILLO (AP) — Directors announce the annual convention of the Panhandle Press association will be held here April 23 and 24. Banquets by Col. Ernest O. Thompson, member of the Texas railroad commission, and the Amarillo News-Globe, together with a visit to the West Texas State Teachers college at Canyon, will be the chief items of entertainment for the publishers and editors.

BLACK-DRAUGHT

For Clean System Helps To Prevent Sickness

One of the advantages of Black-Draught is that, if it is taken at the first disagreeable feeling of constipation, one or two doses usually bring relief. Prompt relief, such as that, is well worth while. Constipation is too dangerous to be neglected.

"A clean system for health" plan has saved thousands of people much useless sickness. They keep a package of Black-Draught in the family medicine cabinet and take this purely vegetable laxative at the first sign of constipation. They say the relief it brings is mighty hard to beat.

Find out by trying it, why so many people prefer Black-Draught when it comes to buying a laxative. Adv.

PRESIDENT TO VISIT TEXAS

ROOSEVELT HOPES HE WILL FIND TIME TO DO SOME FISHING

WASHINGTON, March 3 (AP)—President Roosevelt got out a big blue chart of the Gulf of Mexico today and mapped a tarpon fishing trip for himself for late April.

He told a press conference he hoped official affairs would be such at that time to permit him to get away on a little seagoing vacation off the Texas coast. He said he would probably use the presidential yacht Potomac and go to New Orleans to embark there.

The chief executive will have had most of his legislative program for this session in the lap of congress by then. Yesterday's message transmitting a factual study of the good and bad in the defunct NRA was his 13th special communication of the two-months-old session.

The president said his 14th, proposing an appropriation for work relief in the next fiscal year, would be ready late this month after he returns from Warm Springs, Ga. He will leave for the southern resort March 10.

Meanwhile, he will continue work on speeches he will deliver Thursday night at the Democratic "victory" dinner and the night of March 9 on his court reorganization and other objectives.

Organized labor leaders figured the pay boosts will fatten workers' pocketbooks by $100,000,000 a year.

Settlement of two strikes involving an estimated 2,500 men further brightened the industrial picture. Some 2,000 sit-down strikers evacuated the Detroit plant of the Motor Products Corp. A five-cent an hour pay increase ended a sit-down strike of 500 at the Textileather Corp. at Toledo, O.

Many Are Unsettled

Numerous other strikes remained unsettled, however. Waitresses, cooks and kitchen hands at a large Detroit restaurant ended their sit-down strike pending negotiations. Sit-down demonstrations continued at two other restaurants, two five-and-ten-cent stores, and nearly a score of other Detroit business and manufacturing concerns.

An estimated 4,000 workers were on strike in New England. They were truck drivers and shoe, textile, rubber and shipyard workers.

Police protection was given 5,600 employes while at work in the Douglas aircraft plant at Santa Monica, Calif., where a strike was in progress.

Seventy-five union iron workers struck at Cleveland, halting construction of a $15,000,000 strip mill at the Republic Steel Corp.

Blind On Strike

Sightless sit-down strikers remained entrenched in a factory of the Pennsylvania Association of the Blind. The 107 blind men took turns in maintaining a "watch" at the factory door when they weren't playing games with Braille cards. They struck for higher wages.

A strike of 1,300 Oklahoma employes of the Mid-Continent Petroleum Co., at Seminole, Okla., was predicted by an official of the International Association of Oil Field, Gas Well and Refinery Workers union, a C. I. O. affiliate which recently announced intentions of unionizing 1,000,000 oil industry workers.

The U. A. W. A. sought recognition as the sole bargaining agency of Chrysler corporation employes at a conference with motor officials today.

UNION DRIVE

and Friday, Henderson. Similar meetings, he said, are held each Friday in Shreveport and Thursday at Fort Worth.

The East Texas organization now has about 5,000 members and Allen predicted membership would swell to 20,000 by June. He said the union had grown at the rate of about 450 members per month during the past four months.

The East Texas field drive will start immediately after an executive board meeting at Houston early in April, Allen said.

Allen estimated the average oil worker's monthly salary as $105. He said union contract would provide a minimum hourly wage of 60 cents with 36 as the maximum number of hours per week.

Congress has revised the tariff 22 times.

NAVAJO MEDICINE MEN ARE HOLDING DECISION IN WEATHER FORECASTING

GALLUP, N. M., March 3 (AP)—Whether it is the intimate speaking acquaintance with their gods, as some insist, or only a close communion with nature, the fact remained today the Navajo medicine men held a decision over the great white father in weather forecasting.

Last fall, when "winter and summer were back-to-back" as they say in Navajoland, government meteorologists forecast a temperate winter was at hand. But the venerable wise ones shook their heads gravely and promised there would be many frigid days and much snow.

Winter Is Breaking

Now, with one of the most severe winters in many moons stubbornly breaking over the mesas, the Navajo soon will go on the search to find what the summer holds.

The practical traders say medicine men read the signs of nature. If the bunch grass grows seven stems, they say, the winter will be hard. If the stems are few, the sheep may be grazed without fear of storms.

GOVERNMENT MEN SCOFF AT IDEA

WASHINGTON, March 3 (AP)—Government forecasters scoffed today at the long-range weather-man, Indian or otherwise.

"We just give them enough rope and they finish themselves," declared one meteorologist.

An interior department report that the Navajo Indians of the southwest were better forecasters of this winter than the weather bureau met a smiling request to "prove it."

The weather bureau never made a winter forecast, they said, and does not predict the weather for longer than 24 hours in advance.

"We find that job difficult enough," one expert said.

Special Blanks On Payments Offered

Employers complying with the state unemployment insurance laws are asked by the Texas Unemployment Compensation commission of Austin not to submit payments of January taxes until they receive special blanks for this purpose, according to information received Tuesday by Ed Merriman, field representative stationed here by the commission.

Merriman was instructed to "caution employers not to make payment on their January payroll . . . before forms are received."

"This commission will have in the hands of the employers who have paid their 1936 taxes the necessary forms within the next ten or fifteen days in sufficient time for January reports to be made," Merriman was informed.

The commission is not in a position to handle payments with respect to this months payments, it said.

Employers have until March 25 to pay January taxes to avoid penalties.

GIVEN FOUR YEARS

UVALDE, March 3 (AP)—Leroy Pettit was found guilty of slaying his father, F. H. Pettit, here last May, and assessed a four-year term in a juvenile training school by a district court jury today. He was tried as a juvenile delinquent.

Cotton Market

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, March 3 (AP)—Cotton futures opened firm, 5 to 13 points higher on higher Liverpool cables, active buying by commission houses, the trade and foreign interests. March 13.46; May 13.04; July 12.81; Oct. 12.30; Dec. 12.22; Jan. 12.20.

Quite heavy realizing developed on the advances but there was little reaction, renewed active trade, foreign and speculative buying causing prices quickly to rally. This advance carried March up to 13.56 and it was holding at the best at mid-day while May which had rallied to 13.16, was selling at 13.13 and prices generally showed net advances of 13 to 22 points.

A new high of 13½ cents was established for March and other months were carried along the new high ground on a broad general demand which readily absorbed hedging and realizing.

Nervousness created by various aspects of the rearmament race and the firm spot cotton situation were the principal factors on the advance which carried prices about ½ to 1 cent a pound above the low levels of last week.

At these prices considerable realizing and some hedge selling, partly from foreign sources developed and prices reacted moderately from the best, but for the most part contracts were readily absorbed by trade and speculative demand.

May which had sold up from 13.03 to 13.11 was quoted at 13.07 after the first half hour when prices were generally 7 to 12 points net higher.

At Liverpool heavy general speculative buying caused advances while offerings were light.

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, March 3 (AP)—Cotton continued on the upgrade in early dealings today, moving ahead approximately 25 cents a bale in an active opening.

May opened at 12.99, July at 12.75, Oct. at 12.23 and Dec. at 12.24. March continued to be sold at the highest price on the board, changing hands at 13.28 at the first call today.

Foreign markets were better than due an dthe higher trend at Liverpool aided first prices at New Orleans.

As in previous sessions the best demand came from spot houses and other trade sources, although speculative interests were beginning to show more attention to the current advance. Selling was mostly profit taking with some hedges against purchases of loan cotton.

Prices added another 75 cents a bale to the current advance during the morning. Even the March position, called on to absorb notices for 2200 bales, managed to gain 7 points above the previous close in the first half of trading.

The market appeared to derive bullish enthusiasm from European developments, particularly foreign secretary Eden of Great Britain's plea for some kind of a disarmament program. Liverpool was actively higher right up to the close of the English market.

Higher prices in domestic stock and commodity markets also spread to cotton. An increase in public and professional participation was noted in the market at New Orleans. A broad increase in demand, with supplies still relatively limited in the spot cotton division was another favorable factor behind the price rise for futures.

Weather predictions were for rains and warmer weather in the central belt, with occasional showers in the west.

Stock Market

WALL STREET REPORT

NEW YORK, Mar. 3. (AP)—Reflecting further subsidence of steel strike fears, stocks swept upward 1 to around 7 points in today's market, many reaching new high recovery territory.

After a fast opening in which the ticker tape was about 4 minutes behind for a while, profit selling interrupted the advance. This was absorbed without much unsettlement, however, and the forward swing again got under way around noon. Near the fourth hour prices were about at the best.

Spurring resumption of buying was the overnight announcement U. S. Steel had joined with other companies in signing up for higher wages and shorter hours.

U. S. Steel led with a startling block of 10,000 shares, up nearly 2 points. It later dropped back, then picked up fresh momentum for a gain of nearly 4. Brokers reported heavy losses were taken by shorts in this issue.

Well out in front during the greater part of the session were Gulf States Steel, Sloss-Sheffield, Ludlum, Republic, Crucible, American Rolling Mill and National Steel.

Following with upturns of as much as 2 points were such rails as Santa Fe, N. Y. Central, Southern Pacific, Illinois Central, Baltimore & Ohio, Chesapeake & Ohio and Delaware & Hudson.

Chrysler got up about 4, but General Motors was hesitant. Prominent on the topside were Dupont, Allied Chemical, Johnsmanville, American Can, Standard Oil of N. J., Texas Corp., Kennecott, Cerro De Pasco, Deere, Sears Roebuck, Montgomery Ward and Westinghouse.

Utilities failed to do much either way.

Time Too Dear

Joseph Krehmar, above, lives on borrowed time and thinks perhaps the interest is too high. Three years ago Dr. Claude S. Beck, Cleveland surgeon, took the only chance of saving Krehmar's life, grafted a muscle from Krehmar's arm to his heart, checked angina pectoris by the novel operation. Krehmar, still not strong enough to work at his trade of ditch digging, is on relief with wife and three children, looks on life drearily, isn't so sure he is lucky.

SAVAGE DEATH

and he said the little girl, whom he called "Jo," was writhing in bed.

"There was blood everywhere," police quoted him as saying.

Charges of felonious assault against Morvan and Mrs. Gatto are based on the terribly bruised condition of the child's body. Police said many of the scars and bruises were old, and apparently had been inflicted by hairbrushes, sticks, and metal combs. There were over a hundred scars and marks on the body, they said.

Mrs. Gatto, divorced several years ago by her husband, also served a term in Hempstead, L. I., for shoplifting, police officials said.

Other Relations Told

Howard Magnussen, a good-looking young man, also admitted, police said that he had been having improper relations with three younger sisters, one eleven, the second twelve, and the third fourteen. The Magnussen children number ten, with the oldest 31, an inmate of a Queens park sanitarium.

Police said Howard Magnussen sought to justify his conduct by relating other examples of improper relations within the family in which he did not take part.

with which nobody could compete except the United States, and Britain doesn't regard America as a competitor, but as a friend, in matters of arms, Britain hoped that her gesture would be staggering enough to dampen the warlike spirit of other nations.

Thus far the only thing Hitler has said is that Germany wants peace, and wants it badly.

British statesmen have charged that Germany and Italy are mainly responsible for the necessity of rearmaments.

Big Plans Under Way

France and Russia both have been rearming on a big scale for a long time, and have pretentious plans under way.

One of the most ambitious of the major powers is Japan. Her armaments program is so big it has plunged the country into economic difficulties and precipitated a political crisis.

Nippon's main worries are caused by Russia and the United States, and she is building against both.

Dutch Steamer Is Halted By Rebels

GIBRALTAR, Mar. 3. (AP)—The Dutch steamer Rambon reported on her arrival here today she had been halted by Spanish insurgent warships and forced to discharge her cargo at Ceuta, Spanish Morocco.

It was reported, without official confirmation, the ship's cargo was a consignment of guns and ammunitions for the Madrid government.

SLAYER OF YOUNG WOMAN IS SOUGHT

CINCINNATI, Mar. 3. (AP)—The broken, beaten body of 20-year-old Edith Caudill lay in the city morgue last night as police sought a well-dressed man with whom she spent several hours of reveling, quarreling and taxicab rides which ended in the killing in Inwood park.

Police Lieut. George Schattle established Miss Caudill's identity through fingerprints. Formerly of Huntington, W. Va., she was sentenced to 30 days in jail in October, 1936, on a petty larceny charge.

Schattle said Miss Caudill had been attacked. A trial of blood indicated the body had been dragged into the shelter house.

Accompanying Chappelle to San Angelo will be Howard Weatherby, McLean; Truett McCuistion, Stamford; C. B. Bentley, Lubbock; William Hall, Hale Center.

Girl's Body Found By College Studes

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va., Mar. 3. (AP)—Sheriff J. Mason Smith declared last night he was "definitely satisfied" 18-year-old Cleo Sprouse, whose chloroformed body was found near the University of Virginia cemetery, was a murder victim.

Dr. W. N. Weaver, university pathologist, reported that an autopsy on the body of the girl showed no signs of criminal attack.

He reported to Albemarle County Prosecutor William Fife last night the girl was a victim of suffocation by ether or chloroform. Doctors who have not yet completed the full autopsy said they had found no bruises or other signs of violence.

The girl, whose body was found at 10:30 a. m., by two university engineering students, had been missing from her home since Monday afternoon. She told her mother she was going to attend a downtown movie.

Cash Is Demanded From Tulsa Mayor

TULSA, Mar. 3. (AP)—A crudely-written note demanding $5,000 from Mayor T. A. Penney was regarded by him today as "the work of some crank."

The note was turned to Postal Inspector George Hill and two agents of the federal bureau of investigation.

OFFICERS ARE CHOSEN HERE

MARJORIE ELDER WINS AWS PRESIDENCY IN TECH BALLOTING

Miss Marjorie Elder, junior home economics student from Quero, won over two other candidates for presidency of the Association of Women Students of Texas Technological college in balloting Tuesday.

Miss Elder received 168 votes; Miss Lila Marie Brannen from Aspermont, 132; and Miss Doris Jobe from Rule, 97.

Other AWS officers chosen were: Vice-president, Miss Frances Elaine Price, junior arts and science student from Colorado; secretary-treasurer, Miss Pauline Edgett, junior home economics student of Lubbock.

Dorothy Mann Wins

Miss Dorothy Mann was chosen president of the Junior council. She received 212 votes and Miss Grace Stengel from Menard received 179 for the office.

Votes cast for Miss Price for vice-president of the AWS totaled 227 and for Miss Hazel Pollard from Snyder for that office, 169. Miss Edgett received 219 votes and Miss Marian Hurmence, other candidate for secretary-treasurer, received 177.

The AWS is composed of all women students and serves principally as a governing body. All women students are members.

Votes were counted by AWS officers and faculty representatives Tuesday night.

Miss Lois Spraggins, senior from Sherman, is retiring president of the association.

INSPECTION FOR CCC IS PLANNED

Captain John C. Montgomery, district surgeon, and Captain Mitchell Shipley, district veterinarian, both of the Fort Worth Civilian Conservation corps office, are expected to arrive today to inspect the local CCC camp, said Captain Charles M. Krausse.

Second Lieutenant Bennie L. Parner, second in charge at the camp here, has been transferred to the camp at Paris. He and Mrs. Parner left Sunday. He had been at the camp here about eight months.

He has not been replaced, but probably will be soon, Captain Krausse said.

First Lieutenant John T. McKee, former quartermaster at the CCC distributing office here also has been transferred. He now is in the quartermaster division at the Fort Worth district office. He has been replaced by Second Lieutenant S. B. Savage, formerly of the Fort Worth office. Lieut. McKee had been stationed at Lubbock since this district was established in August, 1935.

Real Estate Board To Meet Thursday

Monthly meeting of the Lubbock Real Estate board will be held in the Chimayo room of the Hilton hotel at 7:30 o'clock Thursday night, according to an announcement by R. A. McKinney, president.

All members are requested to be present, McKinney said, as important business matters are to be discussed.

Regrets were sent to the Lubbock organization by J. C. Mytinger, president of the Texas association of real estate boards, concerning the death of Roger Q. Pierce, sr., who recently died. Mytinger also complimented the association here on its cooperation and work stating if all were like it "there would be no limit to the possibilities of accomplishment by the state association."

McKinney, formerly first vice-president of the Lubbock board, succeeded former President Pierce.

STUDENT GIVES RAT A 5TH LEG BETWEEN EARS

BY AURELIUS KINSEY
AP Feature Service Writer

CHICAGO, Mar. 3.—A white rat with a fifth leg growing out between its ears runs across the table and Justin V. Schwind, 24, Loyola University medical student, smiles—the operation is a success.

Schwind picks up another rat, points to an extra leg growing out of its back and says, "Watch it move." It moves whenever he squeezes one of the rat's hind feet.

Schwind is transplanting legs from one rat to another in such a way that the bones, muscles, nerves and blood channels grow together and work.

One Step Forward

Medical records show that legs have been transplanted in salamanders and dogs but never before, says this youth from Perrysburg, Ohio. have scientists been able to regenerate nerve and muscle activity.

He hopes that some day missing or diseased legs, arms, lungs, livers, stomachs or other parts of the body may be replaced with healthy members.

Schwind's method is like that of plastic surgery. Instead of severing a member completely and trying to make it grow elsewhere he makes the transfer in two steps.

Binds Two Together

First he binds the donor and recipient together. Then he severs half of the leg to be transplanted, unites exposed muscles, nerves and skin to where he wants them to grow and lets his work mend. After several days, when the mending is complete, he cuts off the leg entirely and ties in the circulatory connections and other muscles and nerves.

Schwind says his success lies in the fact that between the first and second steps the part being transplanted is kept alive with the donor's blood. He is not certain if the blood courses through the two bodies but he thinks this to be the case.

READY MADE WIFE

BY CORALIE STANTON

hours or one. If they rose or dipped, she was unaware of it.

They did not exchange a single word until they circled down into a sea of light and landed at Le Bourget as easily as a gull drops on to the sea.

* * *

"A little after midnight," Rex Moore said, looking at his watch, when they stood once more on land. "Not too bad time. Did you like it, or did it bore you?"

"I don't know," she answered truthfully.

He said nothing more, but took her through the Customs and the Passport office.

They found the car waiting to drive them to Paris.

"Where do you want to go to?"

"I don't want to tell you."

"And you don't want to tell me what you are here for?"

"No. It is private business."

"It must be deucedly important," he said in the old mocking way.

"It is."

"Does Albery know you are coming over here?"

"No. I don't want anybody to know. That's why I asked you to bring me."

"A compliment, I'm sure." The ugly poison still worked. Was she over here to meet this young Dallas? Impossible. She couldn't have asked him to pilot her in that case. She would have to be insane to do that.

There were no other passengers for Paris.

"You must tell the driver where you want to go," he said coolly.

"To the Place re la Concorde." Laurie had been in Paris only once before, last year, when she and Glad had spent a week there on a conducted tour. She knew that the rue de Rivoli ended at the Place de la Concorde. "Are you coming to Paris, too?" she asked him suspiciously.

"Naturally, I don't want to spend the night here. May I ask, do you want me to take you back?"

"I don't know—oh, no, of course not!" She realized that there was no room for Gladys in the plane. And she was not going to leave Paris without Glad.

The car moved away.

Again the journey was made in complete silence.

When they drew up at the corner of the Place, Rex Moore helped her out of the car, and asked her:

"Laurie, won't you trust me?"

"I can't. Please don't keep me talking!"

"Do you expect me to leave you alone in Paris at this time of night?"

"I'm quite all right. Please, I must hurry!"

He looked at her and his voice changed.

"All right, Laurie. I am going to the Grand Hotel, close to the Opera. Promise me that you will let me hear from you later on in the morning. I'm not asking any more questions, but I'm not budging from Paris until I've heard from you."

"Thank you, Rex. I'll let you hear from me if I can, but I'm not going to promise."

Tomorrow, Laurie tries to find her giddy sister.

On The Hoof

ZION, Ark. — Milk delivered every day to the Holbrook brothers, living a quarter mile apart, is fresh—and how.

Every morning a jointly-owned Jersey cow appears at Leonard Holbrook's home. He milks her. That night bossy shows up promptly at Loy Holbrook's home and he repeats the chore.

Both brothers say the cow never has missed a delivery.

them. While cleaning the well his son found tthe 44-year old brew. Schillinger reported it was in "excellent" condition.

FLASHES OF LIFE

You're Next

CAMBRIDGE, N. Y. — The mayoralty race drew these comments:

Mayor Robert Byrne: "It may be a close shave but I'll win by a whisker."

Candidate William Robertson: "I've had an itch to be mayor ever since I was a little shaver. This election is in the bag and I've got it tied with a barber shop cord."

Both men are barbers.

Prerogative

CONNERSVILLE, Ind. — Mrs. Everett Ketchum's decision to change her mind was pretty disastrous.

After filing charges of assault and battery against her husband, she testified in court her affidavit was false. Her husband was all right she said. The court held her affidavit was not all right and sent her to jail on a perjury charge.

Stop, Look And—

BELMONT, N. Y. — Yes, explained Willis McOmber, that red reflector light on the back of his overcoat was there for a purpose. He was just out of bed and still on the mend from injuries suffered when he was struck down by a car.

"Tail light," said McOmber.

Better With Age

ALTON, Ill. — If age improves beer, George Schillinger has quaffed the best.

In 1893 Schillinger hung two bottles of beer in his well. The string broke and he forgot
