MONAHANS

Boy, 6, Kills Friend

MONAHANS, Tex. (AP) — A 6-year-old boy described as "emotionless" by police officers shot and killed a 7-year-old playmate after they argued Thursday, then dragged the body to a weedy patch.

THE VICTIM, Abel Acosta Jr., 7, was found beside a house on the north side of this West Texas city Thursday night. Police investigators at first thought the Acosta boy had been beaten to death. Monahans Police Chief Bob Patterson said the boy was shot with a .22 caliber rifle wielded by a 6-year-old friend. The two boys were playing at the home of the 6-year-old when the shooting happened, Patterson said.

Monahans Police Capt. Ben Keel said the 6-year-old told him the older boy wanted to fight.

"HE SAID he just got the gun and shot him," Keel said. Keel said the boy showed no remorse. A hearing was scheduled for later today in juvenile court.

There were no other children in the house at the time of the shooting, officers said. The Acosta boy lived about a block away. His parents initiated a search after he had been missing for about two hours.

Volunteer firemen who joined the search stumbled upon the body beside the home of the 6-year-old.

POLICE investigators said the Acosta boy was shot in a bedroom of the younger boy's home. A steady track of blood led through the house and to the spot where the body was found.

Asked what action could be taken against the 6-year-old, Keel said, "I don't know. I just don't know what can be done."

BARNES ANXIOUS

Stop Draft

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Texas House Speaker Ben Barnes said Thursday he is anxious to stop any talk of his being drafted for the governor's race.

Barnes said he's flattered at the letters and requests he has received to run for governor since Gov. John Connally announced he would not seek a fourth term. But the speaker said he was determined to resist the efforts to draft him.

"My plans remain the same," he said. "I'll be a candidate for the Democratic nomination for lieutenant governor."

Tot Found Safe

FAIRFIELD, Conn. (AP) — Two-year-old Tod Plancon, missing since Thursday when a car in which he was seated was stolen, was found unharmed today on an enclosed front porch of a Fairfield home.

POLICE SAID Mrs. Stephen-Sherwood found her child on her porch shortly after 7 a.m. Precisely how Tod got there was not immediately determined, but police said he had apparently been put out of the car by the person who stole it and made his way to the Sherwood porch.

The car was recovered by police late Thursday night after it was apparently abandoned near Mountain Grove cemetery.

BOTH THE boy and his small plastic car seat were missing from the car, authorities said.

Little Tod, son of Mr. and Mrs. William K. Plancon Jr. of Fairfield, was riding in the back seat of the car earlier Thursday when his mother Elaine, 21, stopped to visit a neighbor.

Mrs. Plancon told police she left the child in the car with the motor running while she went to the neighbor's front door.

BEFORE SHE could ring the doorbell, she said, a boy about 17 years old jumped into the car and drove off.

The mother and the neighbor, Mrs. Burt Adren, were unable to catch the car in the Adren's auto.

Romney Worries

DETROIT (AP)—Gov. George Romney, pumping for an open housing law in the wake of Detroit's riot, is finding his toughest problems in his own party and his chances of winning seem slim.

Romney's efforts suffered a setback Thursday when the Senate voted 17-11 to adjourn for three weeks—postponing consideration for the open housing bill.

Republicans cast all 17 votes in favor of the adjournment resolution which earlier had been approved by the House, thanks to the Republican majority in that chamber.

Men Take Ring, But Leave Kiss

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Two masked men raided the penthouse apartment of wealthy Mr. and Mrs. Carling L. Dinkler today, took a 22-carat diamond ring valued at $110,000, and left Mrs. Dinkler with a kiss on the cheek.

Police said the robbery took place at the plush Palm Bay Yacht Club, which Mrs. Dinkler helped build in 1965 as a place where "the potentially rich young people can enjoy themselves while they're making it."

Returning to the eighth-floor apartment after a United Fund dinner at the club, Dinkler walked into the bedroom and found two men waiting. He said each carried an automatic pistol with silencer.

"We're being held up honey," the multi-millionaire owner of hotel chains called out to his wife, who had gone into the kitchen.

After binding the couple with tape, the men took the pear-shaped diamond from Mrs. Dinkler's finger, found two emeralds while ransacking the apartment, and apparently left down an interior fire escape.

Just before leaving, the men taped the mouths of their victims and one of them leaned over and kissed Mrs. Dinkler's cheek.

A police spokesman confirmed a robbery but said, "I'm not releasing anything."

He said officers were attempting to come up with clues before disclosing details of the robbery. The FBI said it was investigating to determine if a federal law was violated.

Mrs. Dinkler and financier Walter Troutman formed a partnership to build the Palm Bay Yacht Club in 1965. It was Miami's first new private club in 20 years.

Nixon Leads GOP Field

NEW YORK (AP) — Richard M. Nixon has topped an Associated Press poll of delegates to the 1964 Republican National Convention as their favorite for the presidential nomination next year, and California's Gov. Ronald Reagan emerged as an overwhelming choice to be the vice presidential nominee.

A majority of those participating in the survey said they favor a Nixon-Reagan ticket.

However, a combination of Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York and Reagan received a substantial number of votes and ran second as the strongest potential GOP team.

Reagan received support, mostly for the vice presidential nomination, in all 50 states.

Associated Press bureaus submitted questionnaires to the 1964 delegates in the nationwide poll. The response was slightly more than 44 per cent.

Of those replying, more than 42 per cent said they expect to be delegates again in 1968.

The principal questions and results were:

Whom do you favor for the 1968 Republican presidential nomination?
Nixon—46 per cent
Rockefeller—20
Reagan—19

MAKES PHOTOGRAPHS OF ITS FOOTPRINTS Surveyor 6 Takes Hop On Moon

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Surveyor 6 made an historic "hop" on the moon today, scientists say, becoming the first earth rocket to lift off the lunar surface.

The three-legged, picture-taking spacecraft, which soft-landed on the moon's Central Bay on Nov. 9, reached an altitude of about 10 feet on a 4½-second flight initiated by signals from Pasadena's Jet Propulsion Laboratory.

The American mooncraft landed about eight feet from its original position. Scientists said the maneuver was designed to tell them more about the lunar surface.

"This will help the Apollo people know the strength of the surface since they'll have to fire rockets to return to earth," a JPL spokesman explained.

Other prime purposes were to determine the depth of the original "footprints" made by Surveyor 6 and to obtain a "stereo" effect by placing new photographs being taken next to some of the 12,764 photos already relayed by the spacecraft's cameras.

"The Surveyor is in good shape," the spokesman declared after the flight. He added that "the new pictures coming in look good."

The spokesman said the possibility that the craft would topple over in its brief flight was considered, but that detailed calculations indicated it wouldn't.

The Surveyor's three rocket engines—used as stabilizers with the huge main retro rocket—were fired at 5:32 a.m. EST for 2½ seconds at a thrust level of 150 pounds.

The craft weighs 600-plus pounds on earth, but just over 100 pounds on the moon, scientists say.

Commands for the experiment were generated in JPL's Surveyor control center at Pasadena and were transmitted from the deep space network station at Goldstone, Calif.

First television pictures taken from the new camera position showed the three original imprints of Surveyor's landing feet.

Spokesmen said it would be some time before scientists could determine the depth of the footprints.

Johnson Expects No Hike In Troop Level

Some Agreement On School Boycott

MADISON, Ill. (AP)—"It's the kids who are getting hurt." That statement by an adult leader was one of the few grounds for agreement today as a boycott of 1,300 Negro pupils moved into its fifth day in the Madison School District.

It all started over the only Negro cheerleader on the varsity squad. The boycott began following the suspension from athletic competition of 17 Negro football players who skipped practice sessions in an effort to have more Negro girls named to the cheerleading squad. About 40 per cent of the 750 high school pupils are Negroes.

Mrs. Thomas Weston, chairman of the Madison NAACP Branch, said, "Feelings couldn't get any harder. But it's better this came out into the open to clear the air." The NAACP called for the boycott last week-end.

Chester McManaway, a member of the school board, said the problem is "no longer a school problem, but a community problem."

branch of government." Earlier, James A. Perkins, president of Cornell University, and Ray L. Heffner, president of Brown University, took issue with the proposal in separate articles.

Perkins urged, in a telephone conversation with Douglass Catter, a special assistant to President Johnson, that the White House abolish the Hershey proposal.

Hershey recommended three weeks ago that local draft boards find evidence that students with deferments are interfering with recruiting by U.S. military representatives remove the deferments and make them available for call-up to duty.

Fortas spoke Thursday night at Colgate University when he asked his opinion of the proposal. He also said Hershey's statement probably did not "have the approval of the executive

Mother, Five Children Die

VALATIE, N.Y. (AP) — A mother and five of her 13 children died today when a kerosene stove exploded and fire roared through their large house.

Her eight other children and another family of eight persons fled safely.

The bodies of Mrs. Laura Hagadone, 41, and the children were found in the charred rubble about five hours after the cooking stove burst aflame, state police said.

The children were 2 to 7 years old.

Repeats His Firm Stand In Vietnam

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson said today that criticism is "one of the things that goes with the job" although he thinks "we have perhaps more than our share sometimes."

Johnson also told a news conference that his Vietnam commander, Gen. William C. Westmoreland, anticipates no increase in the troop level there. But he didn't say specifically when he thought a phase-out of troops could start.

To a request for a current appraisal of the way he looks at things—the most satisfying and the worst things he has experienced, Johnson replied at first that if he went into that he would be charged with filibustering.

But he went on to say that "we have made revolutionary strides in education and health and conservation."

Johnson turned the conference into an ad lib address to the American people on Vietnam.

Removing his glasses and stepping away from the podium which held his notes, Johnson spoke for more than five minutes on the central issue of U.S. politics—the Vietnam war.

Standing before newsmen in the White House East Room, Johnson was on the dramatic side, gesturing more than usual, clapping his hands for emphasis, and bobbing his head.

SMILING

Smilingly, Johnson said he will cross when he comes to it the bridge of decision on running again for the presidency. He had been asked about surveys indicating he might be in trouble on Vietnam.

Anyone who believes that Uncle Sam, whoever is president, is going to pull out of Vietnam, is making a serious mistake, the President said.

If Ho Chi Minh has any doubts about it, "I want to disillusion him this morning," Johnson said. "We're going to keep our commitments."

Johnson was asked his assessment of the situation in Vietnam after talking with Gen. Westmoreland and Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker.

"I think every American heart should swell with pride" at what U.S. forces are doing in Vietnam, he said.

The American people want wars and other contests to be decided quickly, he said, adding "that's not the kind of war we're fighting in Vietnam."

ECONOMICS

Johnson was asked about the economic situation.

"We want very badly to have a tax bill just as quickly as we can get it," he said, adding that there is no indication that the House Ways and Means Committee plans to report one this year.

One of his administration's failures, he said, has been the inability to convince Congress of the need for a new tax bill.

"I think that's one of the great mistakes the Congress will make," he said, saying that Chairman Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., of the Ways and Means Committee and House Republican Leader Gerald R. Ford, of Michigan, "will live to rue the day" because of the inflation and federal deficit, in the event no tax increase is approved.

He said the people have supported tax increases during other wars. Congress, he said, has cut only $1 billion from federal spending but is cutting $2 billion in revenues.

DON'T HELP

He said he knows tax increases don't help in political polls, but "I think we can do it. I think we should do it."

Squadron's Men Hold Wake Thursday For Webb's 4760th

They held a wake out at Webb Air Force Base Thursday night.

The mourners were members of the 4760th Combat Crew Training Squadron. It was their own outfit that had been dealt the fatal blow.

PHASE OUT

The 4760th is being phased out within the next few weeks, with some 200 officers and men being sent to other duties and the F-104 aircraft, which the squadron has employed, also being dispersed.

All squadron members got together at the NCO club for an affair which brought forth some humor in spite of sadness.

A group of sergeants staged a pantomime skit in which they brought forth a mock casket and solemnly placed in it a model of the F-104, the squadron insignia and their own work-duty caps.

The squadron commander, Lt. Col. Jack E. Bailey — himself destined to move soon to a post in the Tactical Air Command at Langley AFB, Va. — said the last rites. But, with a bright side, "This has been a good outfit," he said, "and we can be proud of it. And you can be sure that many of our paths will be crossing again." An honor guest for the informal buffet-dance was Maj. Gen. James C. Jensen of Colorado Springs, deputy commander of the Air Defense Command.

While the squadron personnel and their wives were enjoying fellowship of the evening, the major question on most minds was "where do we go from here?" Many of them are awaiting orders.

TENANT UNIT

The squadron, a tenant unit at Webb, for years functioned as a Fighter - Interceptor Squadron, then was reorganized for combat crew training with Mid-East nationals sent here as students. That program was closed abruptly after the Mid-East conflict a few months ago.

Farewell To The F-104

A couple of officers attending a farewell affair for the 4760th Combat Crew Training Squadron at Webb AFB last night look longingly at a model of the F-104. They are Maj. Gen. James C. Jensen, deputy commander of the Air Defense Command, here from Colorado Springs for the "last rites," and Lt. Col. Jack E. Bailey, commander of the 4760th. The squadron is being phased out within a few weeks, its members being dispersed from Big Spring, and the F-104 inventory here being sent to other bases.

Texas Democrats Push Shooting Halt

HOLLYWOOD, Fla. (AP) — The nation's Young Democrats struggled with a variety of resolutions on the Vietnam war today with peace forces joined behind a proposal calling for the halt of bombing over North Vietnam.

Peace forces formed a coalition Thursday night to join behind one "stop the bombing" resolution and a single candidate for president of the Young Democrats, but the combined vote of the coalition—estimated to control about one-third of the convention's 1,068 votes—would not be enough to face a solid bloc of hawks.

The thrust of the coalition proposal was a call to immediately halt the bombing in North Vietnam, then seek negotiations that would include the National Liberation Front, the political arm of the Viet Cong.

However, a group of moderates rallied during a midnight hearing around a proposal from the Texas delegation calling on the convention to "encourage all efforts of President Johnson to reach a negotiated settlement." The Texas draft also said the Young Democrats would accept any of a scatter-gun series of measures including cessation of bombing in the North, a freeze on troop strength, recognition of the Viet Cong, and a bilateral cease-fire.

The Texas draft was the only one to propose that both sides stop shooting.

'DUMP LBJ' FIZZLES
The subcommittee framing resolutions on Vietnam worked to draw up proposals pro and con with perhaps a third statement offered as a compromise.

A majority of the resolutions committee is expected to send one resolution to the floor of the convention by tonight. One third of those present and voting can also submit a dissent, a probable move that observers forecast would lead to a shouting floor fight.

One certainty after the so-called peace coalition lined up behind Allen Reed of Lincoln, Neb., a candidate for president, was the absence of a heralded "dump Johnson" move. A Boston delegate, Thomas A. O'Brien, who circulated a proposed "dump Johnson" resolution drafted by the dissident College Young Democrats organization, withdrew his draft to preserve unity in the peace coalition, he said.

HAWK CANDIDATE
The strongest hawk candidate remained R. Spencer Oliver of Bowie, Md., who supports Johnson without qualification. Oliver claims solid commitments totaling 242 votes.

But it will take 535 votes to elect a president Saturday and the clinching votes apparently still are committed to the other eight candidates, including four favorite sons.

One candidate, Gerald Grant of Aurora, Colo., withdrew Thursday night and joined the Reed coalition.

Hold Outs Bat An Even .500

WASHINGTON (AP) — Union members who reject contract proposals negotiated by their leaders and hold out for even bigger pay hikes are successful about half the time, indicates a government report issued today.

William F. Simkin, chief federal mediator, said that in about half of some 2,000 such cases over the past two years, union members won an additional penny or more an hour by killing the first offers put to them for a vote.

"It didn't pay off" in the other 50 per cent because the union members eventually accepted virtually the same offer later, he said.

PAY GAINS
Simkin emphasized that many strikers who held out and won bigger pay increases may actually have been over-all losers, because of wages lost through a longer strike.

But some union members did make "very substantial gains" by voting down one or more contract proposals before finally accepting one, he said.

Simkin, director of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, made the comments Thursday in releasing the first comprehensive report of a relatively new phenomenon: Militant rank-and-file unionists tossing back contract proposals accepted by their own negotiators and demanding more gains.

IT'S TRUE
Simkin called it "rejection backlash" that made labor relations more complex.

The contract rejections the past two years occurred in "one of the most turbulent periods in our whole labor relations history," Simkin said.

The study covered rejection cases involving more than 50 unions.

One major factor, said the report based on information from federal mediators all over the nation, was the youth of today's average union member.

"They're harder to please than the old-timers," Simkin said, and most have grown up in a period of relative affluence when jobs were easy to get.

U.S. Agency, Firm Admit Funds Wasted

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Defense Department and a major aviation contractor agree with the government's financial watchdog agency that at least $12.5 million was wasted in ground support equipment for the F4 Phantom II plane.

The Defense Department said Thursday it will act to curb the waste.

UNUSABLE
The General Accounting Office said its study of $265 million in defense contracts with the McDonnell Douglas Corp. of St. Louis found:

—Screwdrivers costing $26 each went unused in favor of ones costing 20 cents each. A total of 109 of the expensive ones were bought for $2,840.

—Cleaning equipment bought at a cost of $225,000 was found to be unusable much of the time.

McDonnell concurred with the Defense Department that there had been waste.

The GAO, in a report to Congress, also said the Air Force and Navy should have better coordinated their needs and should have bought common equipment.

POOR SCREENING
On another subject, the GAO said the Defense Department failed to use millions of dollars worth of equipment it already possessed to fulfill aid requirements abroad. Again, the Defense Department, joined by the Army, agreed with the findings except for some specifics and said corrective measures are being taken.

Johnson Hopes To Check Expanding Dollar Drain

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Johnson Administration is now drafting "selective measures" to encourage U.S. industry to cultivate foreign markets more aggressively. He noted a White House announcement of a government-industry task force to recommend steps to increase foreign travel to the United States.

Both these measures are designed to lessen the drain which occurs when Americans spend more money overseas than foreigners spend in this country. Each outgoing dollar represents a potential drain on U.S. gold stocks.

RATES WARNING
Fowler declined at a news conference to spell out the export promotion measures until more details are drafted.

Blame for the continuing deficit has been placed by Fowler and other officials on the Vietnam war.

The Federal Housing Administration reported meanwhile that interest rates on conventional home mortgages remained stable at 6.55 per cent nationally during October.

Administration officials have warned a sharp upturn in home mortgage interest rates is likely unless Congress passes President Johnson's proposed 10 per cent income tax surcharge. Failure to enact the tax hike, they contend, would force heavy federal borrowing that would take money out of circulation for conventional loans.

Mrs. Oswald Doubts Scars

FORT WORTH (AP) — Mrs. Marguerite Oswald, mother of the man the Warren Commission named as President Kennedy's assassin, says she wants to exhume the body of her son.

Lee Harvey Oswald was killed by Jack Ruby in Dallas two days after President Kennedy was shot as he rode in a motorcade. Mrs. Oswald, 60, said she wants Oswald's body examined in the belief that such an examination would discredit portions of the Warren Report.

She told an interviewer at her modest Fort Worth home that the Warren Report contains references to two scars said to be on Oswald's body. One is a slash mark, said to have been self-inflicted, on Oswald's left wrist. Another was listed as a gunshot wound suffered when a gun went off while Oswald was in the Marine Corps.

South's jump to six hearts over his partner's two no trump response, was strictly a shot in the dark. While he has the values to consider a slam, the two small spades should alert him to the desirability of making North the declarer so that the latter's spade holding is protected against a deadly assault at the opening gun.

The suggested rebid by South is either a temporizing call of three hearts or else a raise beyond game to four no trump, inviting North to carry on if he has a maximum two no trump response.

Had West opened a spade against the slam, there would be no story to tell for, after East scores the ace of that suit, West cannot be denied the king of hearts for the setting trick. The latter chose to play a waiting game, however, and he led the nine of diamonds.

When the dummy was spread, South observed that the contract ostensibly hinged on the location of the king of hearts. If East held that card where it was finessable, declarer might be able to take all 13 tricks inasmuch as the dummy had plenty of discards available for his losing spades.

If the heart finesse lost, then South's only chance was that East had the ace of spades and West failed to find a spade shift. In an effort to draw a red herring across his trail, declarer decided to run the remote risk of an adverse ruff in diamonds by cashing three rounds of that suit.

After winning the opening lead with the ace of diamonds, he overtook his queen with North's king and continued with the jack on which the jack of clubs was discarded from the closed hand. Now the nine of hearts was led for a finesse and West won the trick with the king.

West chose to take his opponent's plays at face value, and assuming that South held the ace of spades, and was trying to fish for the queen, West exited with a trump. Declarer pulled two more rounds of hearts and then discarded his spades on North's high clubs.

It was in West's power to make sure instead of having to guess on the deal. All that he need do is to duck the first round of hearts. When a second heart is led, East will discard the nine of spades to make it clear where his high card is located. When West gets in with the king of hearts, a spade shift becomes obvious.

There was no rush in the trump suit, inasmuch as West's honor is well guarded. He might just as well have given his partner an opportunity to speak his piece too—instead of relying solely on declarer's false clue.

There was no rush in the trump suit, inasmuch as West's honor is well guarded. He might just as well have given his partner an opportunity to speak his piece too—instead of relying solely on declarer's false clue.

It was in West's power to make sure instead of having to guess on the deal. All that he need do is to duck the first round of hearts. When a second heart is led, East will discard the nine of spades to make it clear where his high card is located. When West gets in with the king of hearts, a spade shift becomes obvious.

Says Teachers Should Let Up

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — "We are making more nervous wrecks out of school children than we've ever done before," an educator told the Texas Conference of Parents and Teachers.

This is true, he said during a panel discussion Thursday, because teachers are assigning more work than public school pupils can do.

E. A. Wells, state chairman of audio-visual services, said hard-ship results in particular for the average scholar "who has to work so much harder to keep up with the gifted child."

Wells said, "since Sputnik, the education program has been stepped up. Some schools seemed to feel the only way they could step up the program was to assign busywork."

He expressed a hope that "the P-TA some day will take the initiative in saying, 'Let's let our kids just be kids for a change.'"

Delegates elected four vice presidents of the state parent-teacher organization. They are Mrs. Travis Ellison of Axtell, Mrs. Red Lambeth of Vernon, Floyd Manry of Odessa and Mrs. Harold Pugh of Laredo.

If Workers Edgy, There's A Reason

FORT WORTH (AP) — If workers at the Forest Park Zoo's reptile house seem to move with unusual caution these days, there's a reason.

Zoo director Elvie Turner disclosed that an 11-foot king cobra slithered through a crack in his cage and escaped Tuesday. He hasn't been seen since.

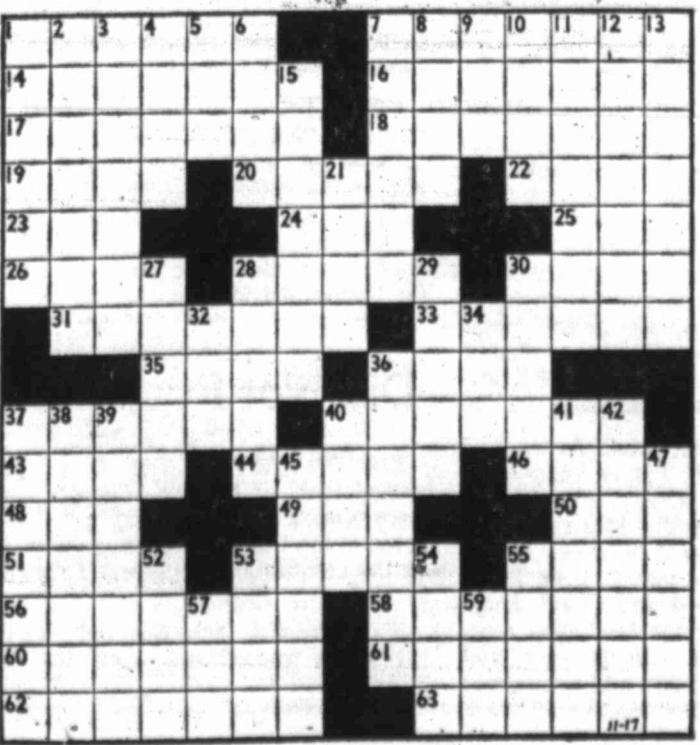

Turner said, "We believe the cobra is somewhere in the building. There is little chance it could have gotten outside."

U.S. SLOWLY WINNING WAR

President Making Bid To Persuade Americans

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson is engaged in an extraordinary effort this week to persuade as many people as possible the United States is slowly but surely winning the Vietnam war.

This apparently is the primary purpose of his consultations here with his ambassador in Saigon, Ellsworth Bunker, his military commander, Gen. William C. Westmoreland, and other top officials involved in the Southeast Asian conflict.

And the President provided himself with an opportunity to talk to the people by scheduling a news conference for today—one of the few this year he has opened to live television-radio broadcast.

PROGRESS

Bunker is making an unusual number of public appearances—unusual for an ambassador summoned home for White House consultation. Westmoreland has a less heavy schedule but his engagement list could grow.

Bunker's message in public statements and private meetings with congressional groups is that the United States and its allies are making "steady progress" in the war. Westmoreland returned to Washington Wednesday, a few days behind Bunker, declaring: "I have never been more encouraged in my four years at Vietnam."

Bunker sounded his progress theme at a White House news conference Monday after spending 90 minutes with the President. The following morning he was interviewed briefly on a national network and he has agreed to tape a brief interview with another network.

In other major appearances he is scheduled to speak at the Overseas Press Club in New York tonight and to participate with Westmoreland in a nationally broadcast interview program, (NBC's) Meet the Press on Sunday.

The Sunday interview is unusual in bringing together two such men as the ambassador and the general. Furthermore the White House has been considering also scheduling them for a joint appearance before the National Press Club next Tuesday.

Privately, Bunker has met with the House Foreign Affairs Committee and the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

He is reported to have told these groups that progress in the war can be measured by the formation of the new government in Saigon and by the expanding control of the government over the Vietnamese population. He uses the figure of 67 per cent.

VICTORY

Bunker also has told the congressional groups he does not believe any more U.S. troops will be needed in South Vietnam beyond the present authorized limit of 525,000 by mid-1968.

The word inside the government is that President Johnson has "orchestrated" the continuing policy conferences at the White House during the week with the public appearances by Bunker and Westmoreland.

The President himself set the stage with his speeches during a tour of military bases late last week on the occasion of Veterans Day.

Johnson appealed for support for his policy of seeking "limited victory" in Vietnam and said

"peace will come more quickly when the enemy of freedom finds no crack in our courage, and no split in our resolve ..."

Another development apparently designed to set the stage for the Bunker and Westmoreland appearances came with the Saturday release in Saigon of new intelligence estimates of the strength of enemy forces in South Vietnam.

POPULARITY

For the first time in almost three years the estimate of North Vietnamese and Viet Cong troop strength went down radically from 285,000 to 242,000. The drop was explained in Saigon dispatches partly as a result of new calculations, partly as a result of increased enemy casualties, plus decreased enemy troop replacements.

Whether President Johnson can get his message of "steady progress" toward victory across to the country in the words of Bunker and Westmoreland and through his own statements is questioned here, even by some distressed officials within the administration.

Bonnie's Kin Seeks Million

DALLAS (AP) — Bonnie Parker's youngest sister filed a $1,025,000 suit in district court Thursday alleging the movie "Bonnie and Clyde" "blackened" the memory of her sister.

The damage suit was filed by Mrs. Billie Jean Parker Moon and her husband, A. B. Moon of Mesquite.

Named in the suit were Warner Brothers, Inc., Interstate Theaters, Inc., and the director and star of the movie, Warren Beatty.

The movie, the suit contends, was made contrary to Mrs.

Moon's wishes "with an utter disregard to and for the plaintiff's reputation."

A Devotional For The Day

If it be possible, as much as lieth in you, live peaceably with all men. (Romans 12:18)

PRAYER: Dear Lord, make me an instrument of Thy peace in a world torn with strife. Help me to see that whenever I patch up a quarrel or avoid a misunderstanding I become a peacemaker for Thee. In Jesus' name. Amen.

(From the 'Upper Room')

Proliferation Of Personnel

A bureau or an agency is as near immortality as anything on this earth, and there is nothing so permanent as a temporary department. There seems to be an inexorable law at work which dictates the increase of personnel by geometric progression.

While this works at all levels of government—local, state and federal—it seems to reach its fullest flower at the federal level. Most recent figures show there now are 3,812,367 employees (exclusive of men and women in uniform) on the federal payroll. In 19 years, federal employees have increased by 618,124, a 21.7 per cent increase for the decade. This is several times the rate of population increase.

Granted the war effort has created jobs, and the Defense Department is up by 137,306 workers, the number of jobs in other civilian agencies jumped 480,813 at the same time.

Some new agencies have entered the picture, but the existing ones are the ones showing greatest gains. For instance, the Department of Agriculture jumped from 86,000 to 128,000 employees within the past 10 years. Health, Education and Welfare added 66,000 in the same time, doubling its force.

Figures on state government increases are not available at the moment, but it will be surprising if they are less than the federal gains.

In the war years we had a slogan: "Is this trip necessary?" We might well raise this question about public service fringe jobs.

Toward Cleaner Water

Engineers for Gulf Oil have developed a new water purification system at the company's Cedar Bayou olefin plant east of Houston. As a result, this will return cleaner effluent to streams and will reduce fresh water requirements of the facility.

During the manufacture of ethylene, the plant's principal product, cooling water becomes contaminated with various hydrocarbon fractions, it was explained. Under the new procedure, solvent treatment, settling and filtration removes these fractions. A final step involves a drum in which minute particles of oil are caused to lump together and rise to the top, and in which sand in the drum tends to retain particles of carbon released from the entrained gases.

This may sound a bit technical, but it adds up to a significant contribution in cleaning up industrial water (not to mention easier re-use). Water returned to Cedar Bayou is within the standards of the Texas Water Pollution Control Board, and the new system will permit return of still cleaner effluent. This should be an example not only to other Texas industries as a means of whipping the problem of stream pollution, but also to municipalities and others which return sewage and other effluent to streams. This is tremendously important, because somewhere downstream all of these are trapped in supplies which have municipal and domestic consumption uses. Clean water—like clean air—is a must.

The U. S., Russia And China

WASHINGTON — The Vietnam war has been getting attention from the American people, not just because it costs many billions of dollars, but because of the loss in human lives now and the possibility of an unprecedented number of casualties if a third world war is precipitated.

THE SACRIFICES already made, however, are perhaps little realized throughout America. Up to the end of the year 1965, there were 1,636 Americans killed in action in Vietnam. In 1966, there were 5,098 additional lives lost, and 7,800 were listed as killed in 1967 up to Nov. 4. Thus, battle deaths in the Vietnam war total more than 14,000.

Approximately 91,000 have been wounded since 1961, but more than half — namely, 53,400—were in 1967.

enter peace negotiations. But the Hanoi government has made it clear that it not only wishes the bombing attacks to cease, but wants American forces completely withdrawn from Vietnam.

THUS, IN effect, the United States would have fought a futile war. Whatever principles were espoused in behalf of the "self-determination of peoples" would be forsaken if, as some of the antiwar critics suggest, the United States should pull its forces back into the Pacific and take up an observation post there.

The most significant fact about the Vietnam war, however, is the news that is coming out of Moscow. In a United Press International dispatch on Nov. 13, it was stated:

"TWO KREMLIN leaders said today the Soviet Union supplies 80 to 85 per cent of all aid currently flowing into North Vietnam from abroad.

"Communist party Politburo member Mikhail Suslov and Secretary Boris Pomarev said this aid will continue and increase despite the problems of land shipments across China.

"The comments by Suslov and Pomarev were reported by Koichi Yamamoto, general secretary of the Japanese Socialist party, who talked with the two Soviets for 90 minutes."

No specific figure was mentioned to the Japanese spokesman on the cost of the aid, but "high Pentagon sources" have been quoted as saying that Moscow was spending five billion dollars yearly on the Vietnam war.

SO THE PROBLEM is not simply a matter of withdrawing from Vietnam and ending the war. The question is what the effect will be on both Red China and the Soviet Union if the United States pulls out? Would such a move be construed as an appeasement, just as happened prior to the outbreak of World War II? The problem, therefore, doesn't involve Vietnam alone. It concerns the future relations of the United States with the Soviet Union as well as with Red China.

Billy Graham

I know the evangelical theory that Christ can transform the individual, and hence through the individual, society; but can you give any concrete illustration where this has actually happened in a real life situation?

I could give you hundreds of concrete illustrations where Christ has changed lives.

For example, there lives in London a young, popular pop singer. He is the idol of Britain's youth, and can command $300,000 and more for a single motion picture. But he came to know Jesus Christ, and his entire outlook on life changed. First, he decided to leave the entertainment business and give his time and talents to teaching religion in schools. Being a public figure, he felt that the children might listen to him, when they might not to others.

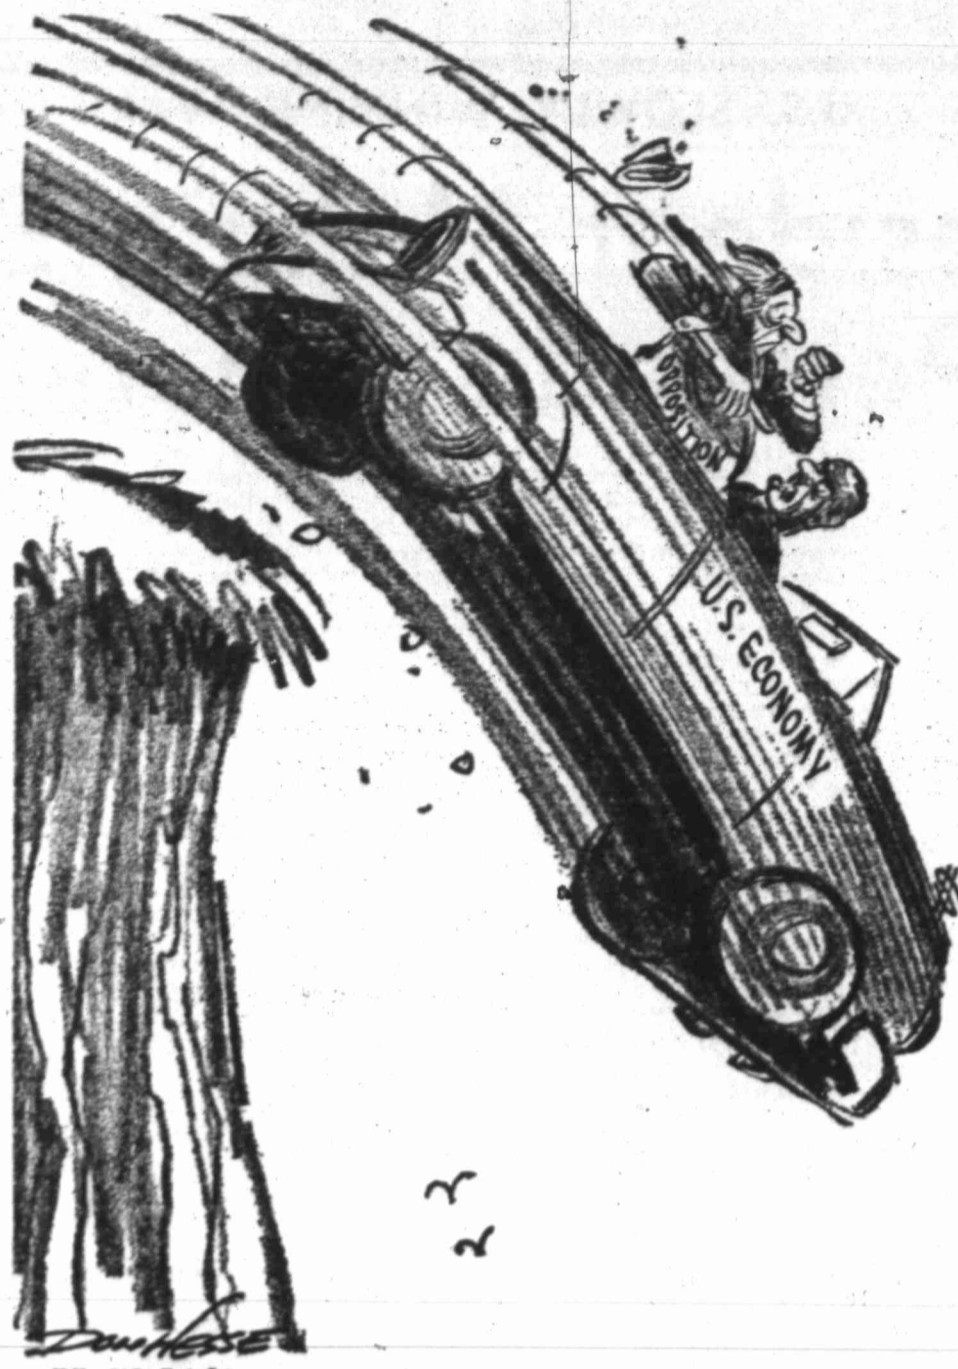

We are producing a new evangelistic film in England, and needed the services of a professional actor. He was approached, and he said that although he usually received $300,000 per film, he would do a film which glorified Jesus Christ for nothing.

One of his former colleagues in the entertainment business, is reported to have said: "He is very sincere about his faith and we would not dream of interfering. We admire him tremendously. He's a happier man than I will ever be because of it, I'm sure." This is just one of hundreds of "concrete illustrations" I could give you. If you would like to read more, write our office in Minneapolis for "Persuaded to Live."

Misconceptions Of Columnist's Job

NEW YORK (AP) — "What is it really like to be a newspaper columnist?"

That is the question readers most frequently ask and, after only 24 years in the industry, the one I find hardest to answer.

IT WAS best described, in my opinion, by the late Don Marquis, who was a columnist for many years before he repented and became a playwright. He said of his former occupation that it amounted to "digging a daily grave."

There do seem to be some public misconceptions of a columnist's pattern of existence.

For example, some people feel he is a person who dwells in a penthouse, rides to work in a chauffeur-driven limousine, and has a salary adequate for the ransom of 12 captive princes. He is supposed to have lunch with industrial tycoons, spend his afternoons giving confidential advice to world-renowned diplomats and his evenings running his fingers through the minds, if any, of beautiful movie stars.

BELOVED friends and dear questioners, that ain't quite the way a normal red-blooded American newspaper columnist really lives.

He lives, as most people do, on the edge of his personal desperation. He has two big problems in life: (1) to find a new idea each day that will save him from mental bankruptcy, and (2) to earn enough money to provide bread for his children and milk to keep his ulcers quiet.

HIS BIGGEST yearning in life is somehow to find a way to surprise his wife with a fur coat — made of any kind of fur — before she expires.

The next-most-often-asked question that makes a newspaper columnist sigh is this one: "What do you do besides writing your column?"

The clear implication here is that it is somehow undignified or un-American for a man to do nothing but compose 500 words of prose a day, Monday through Friday. He is expected to have more than one arrow in his quiver.

SOME columnists may do other things. Some moonlight by driving taxicabs over the weekend. Others try to achieve respectability by pretending they are writing a book.

The actual truth of the matter, however, is that a majority of columnists spend any spare time at their disposal in gnawing their fingernails or going to parties.

Several times a day a columnist gets by telegram or mail missives that begin:

"You are cordially invited to

"We'd be sincerely delighted to have your presence at—"

These invitations are for functions that run the full gamut from boredom to tedium.

Blood Baths Next?

WASHINGTON (AP) —Tolerance has a crooked neck. This comes from leaning over backwards not to appear intolerant.

The result is that violent demonstrations are getting more violent.

Freedom of expression, including the right to dissent, is a basic American right. But expressing dissent through violence is not a right. Only the peaceful kind is.

Violent expression is a national disgrace. If permitted to continue, it opens the door to anarchy since it is a defiance of law and order.

BUT THERE seems to be a great public reluctance — and particularly on the part of government leadership — to urge and take strong action to prevent mass violence or to crush it fast if it occurs.

Both whites and Negroes have committed historic acts of violence in the past few months, even though for different reasons.

IN DETROIT last summer

IN A SINGLE day it is possible for a columnist to be invited to the unveiling of a new tractor at the Waldorf, to gnaw cold salmon with a literary lion at the Plaza, or to act as a judge at the Americana in a contest to determine which secretary in Manhattan has the prettiest dimple on her left cheek.

But a columnist's health is not measured by the number of cocktail parties he helps launch but by the number of such functions he has the strength to abstain from.

Most of the time he can have more fun just sitting there before an ominously silent typewriter, a vacant look on his face as he stares hopefully up at that same old familiar spot on the ceiling, wondering when the lightning will strike.

See you next Monday.

The Great Toy Dilemma

In the pre-Christmas season, a rage of softs is growing across the U.S. about a made-in-France boy doll. Dolls these days walk and talk and eventually will be driving cars. Not the boy doll. Its claim to fame—and it is a seller—is that it is an exact replica of a tiny boy in his birthday suit.

SALES ARE being fanned by the American unending search for something new and different and an argument between those who hold the boy doll is indecent and should be banned, and those who hold that it is educational. Big city sales are good, and it could take off for the Christmas trade.

Big Spring? I rambled out on the boy doll caper and learned the dolls aren't yet being sold here.

Talking to merchants, you can feel downright sorry for the guys and gals who must stay on top of what goes in the toy business (but the real pity goes to the buyers).

ONE HECK of a lot of junk is being peddled on the market. TV kids show-biz commercials make the toy, not craftsmanship, educational use, or fun. And most of the stuff is designed to bust fast.

Several retailers just as soon wouldn't carry the junk, but that would leave the market open for others—and a jillion brainwashed kids screaming.

"YOU THINK you got troubles?" says a cute clerk. "Right now we've got a decision to make. Another little doll is out. It's a nothing doll, except that when you press the tummy, a balloon comes out of one nostril. Crazy, eh? It would offend some. Others? They'd buy it. So whadya do?" She hasn't figured it out.

I would mention her name, but I don't know how to spell it and am too bashful to ask.

Toys? Wild.

And you thought Vietnam was complicated.

FROM THE WAY the federal government keeps piling up those deficits it will just be my luck for all my old age pension checks to turn out hot and start bouncing.

LBJ, we read, has given up spirits for golf. As an economy measure "Fore!" certainly is shorter than "Down the hatch!"

Scientists don't know the purpose of a firefly's light. In fact science can't tell you why a lot of creatures get lit up.

TODAY'S "sit-in" was preceded by the old-time invitation to "come in and set awhile."

Oklahoma's senior Sen. Mike Monroney says a major cause of poverty appears to be low wages. Some day he should meet the other expert who declared that "when a large number of people are unable to find work unemployment results."

Johnson Rolls With The Punches

WASHINGTON—How does the President of the United States react when he reads day after day that his standing in the country has dropped to an all-time low?

Here from one of his close associates who sees him at least two or three times a week is a picture of the Johnson suffering the hammer blows of adversity as against the triumphant Johnson of 1965. Skeptics as well as the hard-line Johnson haters will laugh the picture of a new Johnson to scorn. But this reporter has checked it against observations of those in the official family who also have frequent access to the President and they confirm it with some reservations.

TODAY—AND THIS is the basic change—the President has arrived at a philosophic plateau of acceptance of the harsh realities he confronts. His attitude is colored with a certain fatalism. He no longer believes that he can tailor every situation to his own demands.

It follows that he is far less given to the explosions of temperament that sent his staff into a state of shock. He is easier to work with. He shows flashes of humor that occasionally even turn on his own person.

AT THE SIGNING of the bill creating a public television authority, which showed Mr. Johnson, the passionate believer in education, at his best, he could joke about the White House telegraph intercepted during the governors' conference on the independence. His remarks at the end of a long evening at the Gridiron Dinner at Williamsburg had a good-natured humor without any emotional rhetoric.

THE PRESIDENT no longer believes that by cajoling and coercing editors, columnists and publicists he can shape public opinion and change his standing in the country. The stream of those who were given the full Johnson treatment in two or three hours in the hopeful belief that they would inoculate the public has slowed to a trickle.

Johnson is more of a listener than at any time since he entered the White House. At the dinner he gave for the doleful senators he heard out their views. He has sought out opponents of his policy in order to hear their views.

THIS VIEW of the new Johnson, from a friendly associate who has nevertheless been relatively objective, does not signify that in any degree whatsoever the President has modified his stand on Vietnam. With all his drive and energy, he intends to push, as he did this past weekend, for unity behind what he believes is a limited war. Nor has it altered his conviction that he can reverse the present downward trend well in advance of next year's elections. He will fight as an underdog and this, if one accepts the view of his friend, is not so much a calculated decision in the image-making department as it is a philosophic realization that it is the only option open to him.

GIVEN HIS philosophic outlook, if the picture of the new Johnson has validity, he could listen calmly to a tale of official well-intentioned harassment without taking it as a personal affront.

The friend who projects this view of the President has long been familiar with the troubles and the rewards of the presidency. His own great success is testimony that he is not given to delusions. But, granted the picture is valid, the change has come late, and whether it can be translated into a changed trend is a very large question.

No Time For Obstructionists

WASHINGTON — You wouldn't think, would you, that fellows like Javits (R., N.Y.) and Muskie (D., Maine) would throw themselves athwart a Senate effort to find out what happened in more than 100 riots in 140 American cities since January, 1964?

You'd like to believe, I guess, that Javits and Muskie would want to pull their weight, instead of dragging their oars, in this important expedition of the Ship of State.

I MEAN, the President has set up his own commission to investigate civil disorders. The House of Representatives has assigned a committee, chaired by Rep. William Tucker (D., Va.) to go into the same matter. And the Senate, after a tentative start by the Judiciary Committee, to find out what's going on, turned the investigation over to its crack outfit for fact-finding.

THE ELITE truth-seeking unit, by common consent, is the Senate Permanent Subcommittee on Investigations, chaired by John McClellan (D., Ark.), the most masterful committee chairman in the nation. The investigations subcommittee originated as the celebrated Truman Committee of World War II made its name by uncovering some live Communists, like William Remington in 1948, went on to expose five-percenters, labor racketeers, the bugs in the TFX aircraft and I dunno what else.

DON'T ASK ME what Javits and Muskie are up to. I only know what I see and hear. Every time I drop in at the theater-like hearing room, there's a competent witness, like a police officer or a mayor, from Houston and Nashville, trying to get things on record so that the McClellan committee can get on with its work, and there's Javits, Muskie and sometimes Harris (D., Okla.), trying to fudge the facts. The facts are you can't blame the riots in these cities on the horrible conditions you find up north in housing, unemployment and schooling. A cop was killed in Houston and bystanders were stoned and snipped at in Nashville, and everybody knows these were SNICK operations.

THEY WERE deliberately planned and brazenly organized. In Nashville, unless you want to say that Mayor Beverly Briley is a liar and came in with rigged testimony, the regional office of the War on Poverty not only helped to promote a Hate School but is rife with ineptitude and fraud.

McClellan's committee, manned with more than 20 skilled investigators, is just beginning. After it collates the data on Houston and Nashville, it will look into disturbances at Plainfield, Englewood, Newark, Detroit and the other battlegrounds.

I WOULDN'T want to anticipate McClellan's findings as to a pattern, if there is any, and I haven't talked with him on the subject. But the other day Javits broke down and half-apologized for obstructionism. It was about time he did, and the same could be said for Harris and Muskie.

Huckleberry House For Teen Runaways

Runaway teenagers are wanted in the hippies' San Francisco capital.

Yet unnumbered girls and boys flock out there, where they are fugitives.

This is part of a grave nationwide distress, for the Federal Bureau of Investigation reports that last year more than 90,000 juvenile runaways—almost half of them girls—were arrested, a 10 percent increase over the previous year.

Because teenagers who run away from home "need competent assistance from people they can trust," churches have set up a shelter for them close to the center of the celebrated Haight-Ashbury district in San Francisco.

This sanctuary, known as Huckleberry House (named after Mark Twain's immortal runaway character), is staffed by two full-time directors, two house managers and about 25 professional consultants, counselors, attorneys and social science personnel.

It offers shelter, meals, legal aid, medical treatment, and counseling to girls and boys between 13 and 17.

However, this haven is not a heaven, it is shown in the December Together magazine.

First of all, teenagers must obtain parental permission before they may enter. This means that the runaways must get in touch with their homes.

Then there's the matter of rules—there's an 11 p.m. curfew; the kids have to share in the chores; romance and use of narcotics are banned.

Huckleberry House is designed not just as a safe refuge for runaways, but as a place where they have time to straighten out their thinking.

Members of the staff do a great deal of straight-talking to parents and to sons and daughters alike, thus helping to dispel confusion on both sides.

The Rev. Larry Beggs, director, finds that in addition to the frequent troubles stemming from divorce, drinking and mental illness, there are two basic conflicts between teenagers and their mothers and fathers. First, parents who were born during the depression tend to consider security the primary necessity, a view which many teens do not share.

Second, adolescents want more freedom than many parents are willing to allow.

For some teenagers, running away from home "is the result of tension and fracturing of relations between husband and wife, parent and child."

Robert Fitch reports in "Together," Methodist magazine for families, "Others are repelled by what they see as the values and goals of their white, middle-class parents," the article continues.

"They see a whole system of hypocrisy, dehumanization, and treadmill meaninglessness in family life.

"Parents, they say, don't listen, don't understand, don't care.

"For older teenage boys, running away also may be an escape from the draft or school or may mean an absence of vocational challenge," says Fitch.

And the Rev. Beggs comments: "It's a lark for very, very few."

The Huckleberry House experimental ministry is administered under direction of the Methodist Glide Urban Center in cooperation with other denominational and civic organizations.

Baylor Choir Sings Sunday

Leading the 11 a.m. worship service Sunday at the First Baptist Church is the Baylor University Choir, recently returned from a performance in New York's Carnegie Hall.

Since its reorganization in 1958 under its present conductor, Dr. Euell Porter, the choir has performed in many of the major cities of the United States and has released several recordings. Composed of juniors and seniors, the choir has sung for the Southern Baptist Convention, the Texas Music Education Convention and the Convention for National Association of Teachers of Singing.

In addition to a brief tour of several West Texas cities, the choir is scheduled to sing in the Atlanta, Ga., area in March, Jones Hall of Performing Arts in Houston in April and at San Antonio's HemisFair in May.

The choir is striking in appearance with the women dressed in wine-velvet full-length formal and the men in azure blue coats with black accessories. For more formal appearances the choir is robed.

The choir, numbering 56, is made up mostly of music students. Dr. Porter, graduate of H-SU, holds masters from Texas A&M University and University of Texas, a doctorate from Howard Payne, as well as graduate experience in Colorado University and Westminster Choir College. He has taken the choir on coast-to-coast tours during the past decade.

Catholic Views Vary On New Book

By GEORGE W. CORNELL, Associated Press Religion Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — It's being praised, argued about, banned, boosted and broadly bought. That's the treatment accorded a recently issued Catholic book, "A New Catechism," which puts some old doctrines in new perspective.

Already, it has sold more than 60,000 copies.

The book, designed as an adult exposition of the faith, was prepared under auspices of Dutch bishops by theologians, Roman Catholic Church historians and other scholars, and issued in this country Oct. 31 by Herder and Herder, a Catholic publishing house.

The first comprehensive catechism for laymen growing out of the doctrinal developments unleashed by the Second Vatican Council of 1962-65, the volume also has aroused questions in Rome and consideration of possible revisions.

But many American Catholic reviewers have widely commended it. "An excellent guide," said Archbishop Paul J. Hallinan of Atlanta. "The book for every Catholic in this year of 1967."

In Los Angeles, however, Cardinal James Francis McIntyre reportedly ordered the catechism kept out of the archdiocesan store, the Charles Borromeo Guild Bookshop, for the time being.

The 502-page catechism departs from the Church ban on birth control, saying couples must be free to follow their consciences in methods of regulating births. It also bypasses some traditional doctrines, such as "transubstantiation."

This doctrine asserts that in Communion the bread and wine become in substance the body and blood of Christ. The catechism warns against a literalistic material view and also against a purely symbolic view, saying: "It is better to say that the bread is essentially withdrawn from its normal human meaning or definition, and has become the bread which the Father gives us, Jesus himself."

Baptist Laymen Plan Special Meet In 1968

DALLAS — Plans are being made to hold a special meeting before March 1, 1968, for Texas Baptist laymen.

Their task will be to approve a constitution and by-laws for a new state auxiliary, to be known as Texas Baptist Men. The new organizational setup for Texas Baptist laymen will replace the present Brotherhood Department of the Baptist General Convention of Texas, effective Jan. 1, 1969.

Messengers to the annual session of the 1.8 million member BGCT approved initial plans in Lubbock for the new men's organization.

The new laymen's organization was one of a number of structural changes recommended by the Committee of 100, a group of 50 pastors and 50 laymen appointed in 1966 to examine the workings of the BGCT.

Roy Akers, a prominent San Antonio funeral home owner, is the newly named president of Texas Baptist laymen and will have a key leadership role in the organizational changeover.

Other officers elected to serve are C. L. Boyle of Harlingen, Joe Lenamon of Fort Worth and Lewis Timberlake of Austin, vice presidents, and J. D. McPhaul of Lubbock, secretary.

The new president, Akers, succeeds Bruno C. Morgan of Corpus Christi. He is a deacon in the First Baptist Church of San Antonio and has served as president of the church and associational brotherhood.

The 56-year-old layman is active in civic and community affairs and has served as a past chairman of the Mexican Baptist Bible Institute, San Antonio. Boyle, co-owner of the Harlingen Automotive and Supply Co., is a member of the Memorial Baptist Church of Harlingen. Boyle served as a secretary of the brotherhood this past year. Lenamon, trust officer for Fort Worth National Bank, is a deacon in the Travis Avenue Baptist Church and is active in civic activities. He served as Royal Ambassador representative this past year.

Timberlake is president of Western Republic Life Insurance Co., serves as a deacon in the Allendale Baptist Church of Austin, is a former president of the Texas Junior Chamber of Commerce and past national vice president of the U.S. Jaycees.

McPhaul, active in Lubbock's First Baptist Church, is a former chairman of the board of trustees at Wayland Baptist College, Plainview, and served as a member of the executive board of the BGCT.

"During this time we serve from three to six months in different Texas cities, knocking on doors, checking referrals of friends and telling people about our church," they said. They explained that all expenses are paid by the individual.

Before assignment to any state, the elders receive one week of instruction in Salt Lake City, but no formal training is conducted.

Mormon Elders Serve Here

Two temporary residents of Big Spring, one 19 and the other 21 years old, are here with a purpose—serving as Mormon elders and teaching local citizens more about the Book of Mormon and the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints.

Richard W. Newbold and Michael P. McPhie are two of 250 missionaries of their church serving in Texas. Both interrupted college studies when they were called for two years of service.

"During this time we serve from three to six months in different Texas cities, knocking on doors, checking referrals of friends and telling people about our church," they said. They explained that all expenses are paid by the individual.

Before assignment to any state, the elders receive one week of instruction in Salt Lake City, but no formal training is conducted.

Amazing Progress

LONDON (AP) — At the close of the 11th World Methodist Conference, it adopted a message declaring that "amazing progress" is being made in cooperation among Christian denominations. It added: "The roads of unity in Christ begin to converge."

Sin always separates, but because God is holy love, He has to do something about saving His people.

Such is the message of Hosea 11:1-4, 8, 9; 14:1-4, basis of this week's uniform lesson. Through these verses it becomes clear that when man and God lose the close relationship they once had, it is never God's fault. In Hosea, Israel and her wayward ways repaid God's early love and kindness with ingratitude and unfaithfulness, refusing to obey His commands and turning instead to idolatry.

All kinds of punishment failed to bring Israel back to God, yet in Hosea 11:9 He restrains His anger, saying, "I will not execute the fierceness of mine anger, I will not return to destroy Ephraim; for I am God and not man; the Holy One in the midst of thee: and I will not enter into the city."

In Hosea 14:1-4 Israel repents, seeking the help of God when Assyria comes to plunder and not help the troubled state. Aware of their sins, they seek God's aid, "for in thee the fatherless findeth mercy."

When Israel turns from sin and to Him, God turns from His anger, offering a promise of redemption in 11:4. "I will heal their backsliding, I will love them freely: for mine anger is turned away from him."

Israel disregarded God's wishes and had fallen over and over again — yet He forgave them. Today the same is true; there is hope for every sinner. Those who truly repent are forgiven their sins and cured of backsliding.

Talking It Over

College Opens Shaw's Play Here Tonight

"Pygmalion," George Bernard Shaw's prize-winning play of an English flower girl turned lady, will come to life tonight when the Howard County Junior College drama department presents it as the first offering of the fall semester.

Opening at 8 p.m. in the HCJC auditorium, presentations are also scheduled Monday and Tuesday, according to M. W. Landers, head of the drama department and director of "Pygmalion."

Sandy Miller appears as Liza Doolittle and Howard Atkinson as Henry Higgins.

Other cast members are Joe Kelly, Col. Pickering; Mike Butler, Freddie; Cecelia Arcand, Mrs. Eynsford-Hill; Libby Oglesby, Miss Clara Eynsford-Hill; Kathy Howell, parlor maid; Sherry Vest, Mrs. Higgins; Linda Long, Mrs. Pierce; Duane Coffman, Mr. Doolittle; Mary Evans, ambassador's wife. David Thomas and Carl Dorton will play two parts. Robert Sullivan is stage manager. Tickets are $1 for adults, 50 cents for students and service men.

Cooperative Meat Check Plan Urged

WASHINGTON (AP) — The American Meat Institute urges speedy enactment of a law to establish a federal-state cooperative meat inspection program and deplores the administration's "apparent confusion and vacillation" on the issue.

This statement was issued by A. P. Davies, the institute's vice president, responding to a shift in the administration's position announced by Betty Furness, the President's special assistant on consumer affairs.

FEDERAL AID Miss Furness told the Senate Agriculture subcommittee Wednesday the administration now supports a bill to expand the federal inspection program to cover meat produced and sold inside the borders of a single state. Such meat is now subject only to state inspection and regulation.

Originally, the administration backed a House-passed measure to create a voluntary cooperative inspection program backed by federal aid to participating states.

THREE YEARS A third version, written by Sen. Joseph Montoya, D-N.M., and endorsed by the Agriculture Department, would give states up to three years to initiate satisfactory programs. The federal government would set up its own program if a state did not act. The Meat Institute said promptly.

action on any program has been endangered by administration shifts in position, and contended that "regardless of charges and countercharges the vast majority of meat offered for sale in the United States is safe and wholesome."

The industry group asked Congress to "bring some sense and an appropriate conclusion" to the issue and concluded: "The responsible officials of the federal and state governments should be given the tools to carry on with a sound, adequate, enforceable and comprehensive federal-state cooperative meat inspection system."

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — The car thief apparently didn't bother to check the contents of the blanket-wrapped bundle beside him on the front seat.

Mrs. Celeste Christian, 26, a nurse, had left her infant son, Artie, 2 months, asleep on the front seat while she went to a babysitter's home to pick up an older son Thursday.

The car was stolen while she was in the house. It was abandoned some 10 minutes later. Baby Artie was unharmed.

Family Service Accents Worship The first statewide family Thanksgiving service emphasizing worship will highlight the Training Union Convention, to be held Nov. 23-24 in San Antonio, according to Gerald Dunlap, Houston, convention president.

"We've always had conferences and general sessions, but this time we're emphasizing the worship aspect," said Dunlap. The Training Union Convention, sponsored by the Baptist General Convention of Texas, will be held in San Antonio's First Baptist Church. Sessions will be held Nov. 23-24 in San Antonio, according to Gerald Dunlap, Houston, convention president.

Rep. Burleson stated that facts do not support the contention of members from the New England States that the East Coast faces a major shortage of No. 2 heating oil this winter. "The record clearly shows that the domestic supply of No. 2 heating oil is increasing instead of decreasing. The supply on the East Coast, and for that matter the entire country, is keeping pace with demand," he said.

Rep. Burleson pointed out that information available from the department of interior shows that stocks of home heating fuel oil on the East Coast are in greater supply than last year. To compensate for the disruptive conditions caused by the Middle East crisis, the domestic industry has filled the gap, he added.

CONNALLY CALLS VALLEY ELECTION AUSTIN (AP) — Gov. John Connally has called a special election Dec. 2 to elect a state representative for the 47th District, Place 2, Cameron County, Henry Sanchez Jr., a Democrat, was first in the Nov. 11 election followed by Republican Manuel Sanchez.

Both are from Brownsville. WAPAKONETA, Ohio (AP) — City Council here will give Christmas presents in the form of paid electric bills for the month of December to its electric company customers.

It will cost the city-operated company an estimated $32,000, the council estimates. "Noting a $400,000 balance in the electricity fund, the council approved the gift, continuing a practice started here 20 years ago.

BLOOMINGBURG, Ohio (AP) — After Max Grim was elected without opposition as mayor of this central Ohio village of 800, he named his brother George a special consultant.

Two other brothers, Robert and Raymond, then were elected to the Board of Public Affairs, and their mother, Mrs. Irene Grim, was elected to the Village Council—all by write-in votes.

TEENAGER TELLS FIB TO COVER SHORTAGE A 15-year-old youth was turned over by the juvenile authority Thursday after he reported a burglary at the Pizza Hut Wednesday night and later admitted that the report was false.

The youth stated that he had taken the $10 and reported a burglary to cover the shortage.

BRITAIN CAME IN LATE Thursday with a compromise draft. Both the Israelis and the Egyptians withheld comment on the British plan until they heard from home, but there were reports that the Russians gave the formula a cool reception.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Prospects of Security Council agreement on a Middle East peace formula appeared remote today as members studied three rival plans. None of them were believed acceptable to both the Arabs and the Israelis.

The 15-nation council was moving toward a showdown on the proposals, but some delegates predicted that the ballot may not come until next week. Some members were awaiting instructions from their governments.

Skipper Due To Wing Home

If final check by his doctors proves out as expected Skipper Driver, young Howard - Glasscock County rancher will be flown home Saturday night from the John Sealy Hospital in Galveston.

E. P. Driver, his father, said that he thought Skipper would be released this weekend from the hospital where he has been a patient for several weeks undergoing treatment for severe burns.

Driver said it had not been decided where Skipper would stay in Big Spring while he continues his recovery.

The young rancher was gravely burned when a pipe he was welding exploded Aug. 30. He was removed first to Midland and a few days later to Sealy Hospital in Galveston. There he has undergone extensive skin grafting.

Corporate Profits Spiral Gives LBJ New Ammunition

WASHINGTON (AP) — Corporate profits reversed a nine-month downward trend during the third quarter, jumping $1.2 billion to an annual rate of $80.1 billion before taxes, the Commerce Department reported today.

At the same time, the department said overall economic growth in the third quarter was greater than at first believed.

GNP JUMPS It said the gross national product, the value of all goods and services produced in the economy, increased by $1.6 billion—instead of $1.5 billion—to an annual rate of $79.2 billion.

The report gives the Johnson administration new ammunition in its battle with Congress over President Johnson's proposed 10 per cent surcharge on individual and corporate income taxes.

Government economists contend the economy, which was slowed by strikes, will be moving faster in the fourth quarter.

$84 BILLION Corporate profits before taxes reached their peak during the third quarter of last year at $84 billion but declined during the next three quarters.

Profits after taxes rose from a second quarter rate of $46.5 billion to $47.2 billion in the third quarter, the department added.

In revising the GNP, the department said consumer and defense spending was less than believed earlier.

Prescription Plan Killed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has killed a plan to include the cost of prescription drugs in medicare insurance coverage for nearly 18 million elderly Americans.

The vote Thursday was 37 to 33 to uphold Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen's move to table an amendment to the Social Security bill offered by Sen. Joseph M. Montoya, D-N.M.

Dirksen, saying the plan would cost $690 million in the first year, contended the federal government couldn't afford the $345 million which would be its share. Montoya insisted the cost would be $220 million equally shared by medicare enrollees and the government.

Montoya said this would mean only 50 cents extra a month in premiums for each enrollee. The monthly fee now is $3 but indications are it will go up to $4 next year.

Montoya said his plan would require government testing of drugs and provide reimbursement only for the lowest cost drug appropriate for a particular ailment.

Sen. Carl T. Curtis, R-Nebr., said this would mean opening "the back door to control of the nation's drug industry."

Trial Of Debt Suit Continues

Trial of a lawsuit brought by Texcrete Co. of Odessa against Jones Construction Co., Big Spring, continued Friday in 118th District Court. It was said the testimony in the case had not been completed at mid-morning and it was not certain when the matter would be given to the jury. The suit is over a debt.

Meantime, a plan to hear a motion today by Carrol Trantham, charged with robbery by assault, to strike testimony of two important state witnesses in the matter of his identification, was left unsettled. It did not seem likely, court officials said, that the matter could be heard today.

NEW YORK (AP) — It was pelican roundup time at the Bronx Zoo Thursday and the doughty keepers donned the hip boots and readied rowboats for the fray.

Seven pelicans, obviously determined not to be corralled and sent to their winter quarters, skinned in opposite directions over Lake Cope in the zoo.

The bird flapped but the boatmen paddled furiously and 2 1/2 hours later the last recalcitrant was safely stowed for transportation in the back of a station wagon.

"They used their half-wing flip-flop offense this year," sighed Gordon Cyle, membership chairman of the New York Zoological Society. "We just weren't prepared for them."

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Gaines Wilson Jr. didn't campaign and didn't spend any money while running for office last May but he still wound up in the red, $44.95 worth.

Wilson was fined $10 and ordered to pay $34.95 in court costs after he pleaded guilty to failure to file financial reports with the Kentucky Registry of Election Finance.

Wilson, who had sought the Democratic nomination as secretary of state, was the first person to be indicted under the new state law tightening requirements on reports of contributions and expenditures.

'Short Hair—Long Smoke'

Mia Farrow is the name of a girl, and lately, adds something new, a cigar. She added the name of a coffure. Here, the girl, actress and wife of singer Frank Sinatra, displays the hair style that bears her name and innovation during press conference in Berlin where she is starring in "A Dandy in Aspic."

Designers Do Holiday Creations

Roy Peet and Q. T. Coats Jr., floral designers at Estah's Flowers, demonstrated holiday centerpieces at the Thursday meeting of the Airmen's Wives Club. The group met in the John H. Lees Service Club at Webb Air Force Base.

The designers made a variety of arrangements including one using a loaf of dried French bread as the base, and another was a Spanish Christmas cedar tree decorated with red peppers and miniature Spanish sombreros.

Mrs. Wayne Lister received the attendance prize which was an arrangement made by the designers.

Mrs. James Charnawskas presided during the business session and announced that the club will present a Christmas basket to a needy family. Canned goods will be brought to each meeting. Members will prepare and serve Thanksgiving dinner at the service club to airmen on base. Those in charge of arrangements are Mrs. Charnawskas and Mrs. James Sasser.

The club will be joined by Brownie Troop No. 200 as they go caroling Dec. 21 at a local hospital.

The next meeting will be Dec. 7, and a guest speaker will talk on the responsibilities of airman's wives.

A LOVELIER YOU

Expressions 'Stick,' So Keep It Pretty

By MARY SUE MILLER In your childhood days were you warned about making faces? You stuck out your tongue or scrooched up your nose. And then your mother said, "Better watch out, your face will grow that way."

No one, of course, believed that your expression would stick. The admonition was a kind of joke. But once you've left your youth behind, the joke's over. Habitually unpleasant expressions are stamped on mature faces in ever-deepening furrows.

Just watch the facial expression of women travelers next time you ride a bus. You will be astonished by how much the look on a face reveals, even about strangers. You spot worry-warts by their frowns and spoiled sisters by their pouting lips. By her droopy, pessimistic mouth you peg a harbringer of gloom. None of the characters is attractive to look at, much less to know.

Your judgment could be mistaken. The grimacing ladies may simply be having an off day. There's one sure way to tell — look at the expression lines. If they are deeply etched they reflect an unattractive attitude of long standing.

You see, beauty is more than skin deep. A lovely's attitude makes the difference between positive and negative appeal, between a laugh line and frown wrinkle.

WINNING MANNERS To open a door on increased poise and popularity, send for our booklet, "Winning Manners." Topics included are Introductions, Invitations, Table Manners, The Charming Hostess, You — The Guest, Dating Manners, Formal Dances, Travel Tips and Tipping, Small Points, like when to wear a hat or check your coat. For your copy, write to Mary Sue Miller in care of the Big Spring Herald, enclosing 25 cents in coin, and a long, self-addressed stamped envelope.

Car Wash Slated

The Big Spring High School Girl's Choir will wash cars Saturday from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. at the west end of Highland Center. Cost will be $1 per car, and proceeds will be used to purchase new uniforms. Mrs. David Garrett, choir director, will sponsor the activity.

BSP City Council Has Salad Supper

The city council of Beta Sigma Phi hosted a salad supper Thursday evening in the First Federal Community Room where the evening's entertainment was "crazy" bridge. Game winners were Mrs. Tommy Tompkins, high, and Mrs. Jack Blizzard, low.

The buffet table was covered with a lace cloth with gold underlay. The center arrangement was of dried materials, and a large black key symbolizing the study theme, "Turn the Key." Hostesses wore name tags shaped as keys, and 33 attended.

Birth Announced

Mr. and Mrs. Tommy C. Beeson, 517 1/2 Streeter, San Antonio, are announcing the birth of a son, Tommy Chris, at 6:23 a.m., Nov. 16. The infant weighed five pounds, 14 ounces. Maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. R. V. Fryar, Garden City Route, and paternal grandparents are Mrs. Don Beeson, Columbus, Ga., and Don Beeson who is serving with the Armed Forces in Vietnam.

Stanton People Go To California

STANTON (SC) — Mrs. Alta Henson and Leman Henson flew to Riverside, Calif., Wednesday for the funeral of her son-in-law, Olvis Johnson. Mrs. Henson plans to remain with her daughter for several weeks. Others from Stanton attending the Thursday funeral were Mr. and Mrs. Bob Costey and Dwain Henson.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Polk have returned from visiting his mother in Wingo.

Mrs. Lela Knowles of Midland was a guest of the Stanton Rebekah Lodge Monday.

The Don Keatons and the Lee Keatons have returned from Russell, Kans., where they visited Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Keaton.

Rainbow Girls Go To Andrews Meet

Ayn McGlothlin, worthy advisor of the Order of Rainbow for Girls, presided at the Tuesday meeting at the Masonic Temple. Plans were completed for the girls to attend a school of instruction in Andrews, Wednesday at 5:30 p.m. Approximately 50 girls and eight adults attended the meeting.

Speakers Tell Views Of Republicans, Democrats

W. J. Sheppard and C. V. Riordan debated the subject, "The Political Rally," at the Tuesday evening meeting of the Spoudazio Fora Study Club in the home of Mrs. W. W. Lansing, 1003 Bluebonnet. Mrs. Don Farley was cohostess.

Sheppard and Riordan expressed their views concerning both the Democratic and Republican parties, pointing out that many problems of the day were "pocketbook issues." The speakers were united in urging the group to abandon apathy and apply strong individual effort to support causes and candidates of their choice. The speaker stressed that good federal government begins on a local level, progressing through county and state offices before reaching the pinnacle of strength in Washington, D.C. Mrs. H. O. Hudgins presided and announced the Christmas party will be held Dec. 9. Hostesses will be Mrs. J. W. Dickens, chairman; Mrs. Jo Bright and Mrs. Hudgins. The refreshment table was laid with a beige checked linen cloth and centered with a fall arrangement. Crystal and silver appointments were used. Seventeen members and a guest, Mrs. Rosa Riherd, attended.

HINTS FROM HELOISE

Stitch Fancy Aprons For Christmas Gifts

Dear Heloise: I needed nearly a dozen "fancy aprons" to give as gifts, but hesitated buying readymade aprons because of the cost.

My husband suggested I purchase cafe curtains which already had lovely lace inserts near the hem.

Using the section at the top where the rod slides through, I made the apron band which also was trimmed like the bottom.

Then I cut off two strips below this for the ties. In no time, I had my dozen beautiful aprons which normally would have taken hours and hours of sewing.

Nancy Shenkle

Nancy, these husbands are smart in many ways. Using cafe curtains to make aprons for a church bazaar would be ideal. They come in so many beautiful colors and patterns.

So watch the ads in the paper, folks... Heloise

Dear Heloise: Try adding a few drops of peppermint flavor to tea. It tastes like real mint tea. Millie

Dear Heloise: Have you ever tried black liquid shoe polish to touch up the "toe space" at the bottom of your kitchen cupboards and sink?

Applied with the dauber, it does a very nice job of covering up little marks and scratches until time for a regular paint job. "Jn"

Dear Heloise: Many babies are said to have cradle cap because mothers are afraid of washing their baby's head.

I use a baby hairbrush and a gentle scrubbing motion and now don't even have to worry. Nancy Gibson

Dear Heloise: In order to straighten the yarn for reuse after ripping out knitted articles, wrap it around a cake rack!

Dampen the yarn and, when dry, it is good as a new skein. (The rack will hasten the drying.) A Reader

Dear Heloise: For my artificial floral arrangements, I use a child's package of modeling clay as the frog to hold them in place.

The clay has an oily base, won't dry out and can easily be reused many times. I just mold it in the shape I want, cut the stems of my flowers to the desired length and stick them down in it.

When they become dusty, I simply lift up flowers, holder and all, and wash them off without having to remove them from the clay. Dolly Patterson Dear Heloise: Our children graduate from a high chair to a padded, plastic boat seat snapped on a kitchen chair.

Clean Glazed Tile With Soda Wash

Washing soda may do a good job in cleaning glazed ceramic wall tile. If the tiles are badly discolored, wipe the tiles with a damp rag on which a little of the powdered material has been sprinkled.

For them, this is the next step down to a standard-size chair. Cleo Dietsch

Cleo, you came up with a nifty idea. Some of those plastic-covered boat seats do have ties and snaps. Also think how easy it would be to wipe off spills — and what cheerful colors they come in.

They may cost a little bit more, but are a safety factor because they won't slide off the chair the way other pillows often do. Heloise

Dear Heloise: It is painless to use rubber bands to hold pony tails if two bobby pins are placed on each end of the rubber bands and it's wrapped around and tucked inside the hair.

Saves breakage of hair and it's more simple to remove. Shirley Viltz

Dear Heloise: When I wash dishes after serving fish, I use two teaspoons of soda in the dish water and my dishes are deodorized. Donna Soyster

Dear Heloise: I iron in my bedroom so I set

By TOMMY HART

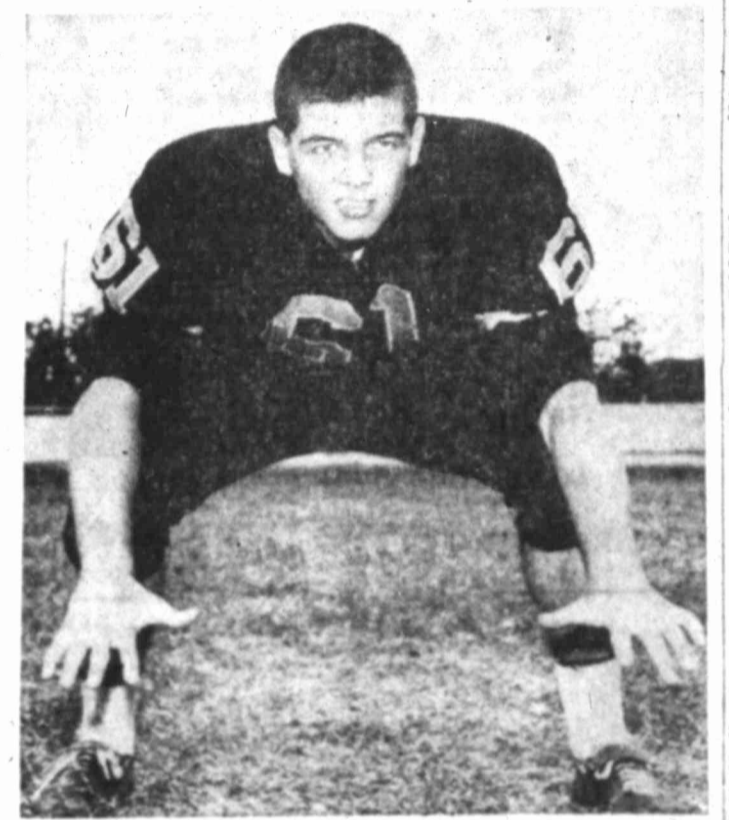

Big Spring comes down to its final football game of the season tonight in the unrealistic position of playing a club that is not in the catbird seat in the District 2-AAAA race.

Year in and year out, a 5-4 Longhorns' opposition, San Angelo, is either in first place in the title scramble or threatening to take charge. This, however, is "the year the Yankees lost the pennant." The best the Cats can do is win third place in the eight-team league. A victory by Big Spring would deadlock the locals with the Felines for the top spot in the second division.

Because there is little at stake in the contest, the two teams are likely to have quite a time of it. And upwards to 9,000 patrons of the sport — including a sizable following from Big Spring — likely will be there to see how the clubs get the job done.

Each team will carry a 5-4 record into the field, and are even in conference standings.

One Of 21 Seniors

One of the 21 seniors who will be playing their final high school football game when Big Spring goes against San Angelo at 8 o'clock tonight in San Angelo is co-captain Gary Don Newsum of the Steers, a 170-pound guard.

Flower Grove And Sands Tangle At 7:30 P.M.

ACKERLY — Form usually goes out the window when eight-man football clubs of Sands and Flower Grove play.

The two collide in the final game of the season at 7:30 o'clock this evening on the local field. Sands is favored but the two teams scrimmaged before the regular season began and the Dragons performed very creditably.

By winning, Sands can wind up with one of its finest records in many seasons. The Mustangs, coached by James Blake, are now 6-2-1.

Seniors on the Flower Grove club include Tony Barbara, Maxie Fly, Pete Guerin, Neil and McMorris and Jimmy Walker. Those who will be playing for the last time with Sands include Larry Newcomer, Freddy Hodnett, Joe Grigg, Ricky Graham, Kenny Gillespie, Claude Fryar and Alfonso Calvo.

Two other members of the club, Gary Romine and Alvis Jeffcoat, are seniors but will not be able to play due to physical miseries.

This is Sands' last season in eight-man ball. They go into 11-man circles next year.

If Sterling City defeats Garden City in another 4-B game tonight, Sands can tie for second place.

COLORADO CITY — Stamford's Bulldogs and the Crane Golden Cranes will meet at Colorado City Saturday night at 7:30 in Wolf Stadium in a district game matching the champions of districts 5AA and 6AA.

Both teams were undefeated in conference play and season records for both were impressive, Stamford losing only to triple A Graham and absorbing a tie with Quannah. Crane was beaten by Odessa Ector and Monahans.

The Golden Cranes have a squad of 34 and will outweight the Bulldogs slightly in the line, but will field a lighter backfield. Ronnie Willis, 134-pound junior and Ricky Anderson, 119-pound freshman will alternate at quarterback for Crane and halfbacks Dannie Alvey 119-pound freshman, and Thurmond Noland, 132-pound senior will see service at halfback. Either Jackie Jeffery, 166-pound junior or L. V. Tennison, 168-pound sophomore will start at fullback.

Probable starters: E-Mike Gortman 165 and Joey Baker 160; T-Jerry Ryan 210 and Don Malone 175; G-Chuck Smith 185 and Gary Don Newsum 170; C-Bobby Purdie 170; QB-Bill Burchett 165; HB-Lonnie Clinton 160 and Snake Tucker 181; FB-Doug Robinson 190.

SAN ANGELO E-Raymond Mullins 183 and Jerry Sykes 163; T-Jerry Rauterkus 200 and Richard Walker 201; G-David Burnett 172 and Louis Williams 194; C-Bobby Lara 200; QB-Mike Phelps 155; HB-Mark Clark 144 and Mike Ingram 162; FB-Bill Rich 175.

Maverick 11 Wins, 18-0

Goliad's seventh graders started things off on a successful note for their school by defeating Runnels in an all-star game unrec'd in Memorial Stadium here Thursday, 18-0.

In the first period, after Ricky Steen blocked a Runnels punt, Goliad took over on the enemy 15 and drove on in. Mike Treadaway picked up four yards and Steen went the other 11 around right end on an option play.

Randy Crittenden led a Goliad surge in the second that threatened the Runnels goal but the Mavs were stopped on Goliad's 10.

In the third, Goliad scored again on a 45-yard power play off left tackle. Barry Truette counting the TD.

The Yearlings drove to Goliad's late late in the third on power lunges by Dick Conley but Truette recovered a fumble for Goliad in the end zone.

In the fourth, a bootleg pass from Steen to Nathan Poss, good for 45 yards, produced Goliad's final score.

Goliad suited out 33 boys and all played. On offense, Tredaway, Truette, Steen, Crittenden, Poss, John McCasland, Mike McLendon, Bobby Roe, Danny Cramer and Rob Lawlis excelled for the Mavs while line-backer Alan Davis was impressive on defense for the winners.

Packers, Cowboys Likely To Roll

NEW YORK (AP) — Baltimore, Green Bay, Dallas and St. Louis should roll along in the National Football League and the New York Jets and Oakland in the American Football League as the pro teams head into the home stretch of the schedule Sunday.

Thanks to Murray Rose's expert 9-1-2 job while the old hand-picker was battling the flu bug, the season record is up to 72-26-9 (46-19-7 in the NFL, 26-7-2 in the AFL). All the games this weekend are Sunday. Let's take another guess:

NFL Baltimore 24, Detroit 14—John Unitas usually finds chinks in Lions' tight defense. Mel Farr will find Colts tough to run against. Baltimore still unbeaten, playing consistent ball. Lions must go well again Thursday at home against Rams.

Los Angeles 31, Atlanta 10—First of two between same clubs in next three weeks. Rams should run up early lead and ease up for Thanksgiving date in Detroit. Les Josephson and Dick Bass pack too much punch for Falcons who have given up more points and scored less than any in NFL.

Cleveland 21, Minnesota 17—Loss of Ernie Green and Erich Barnes hurts battered Browns but Frank Ryan should get enough help from Leroy Kelly and Garry Collins. Browns won preseason game 42-14.

Philadelphia 24, New Orleans 21—Eagles are hurting but Saints already have beaten them once 31-24. Eagles' injury-riddled defensive backfield open invitation for Gary Coozzo. But Philadelphia has way of snapping out of it at Franklin Field. Anything can happen.

St. Louis 20, Chicago 17—Cards have Johnny Roland to run at Bears, giving Jim Hart a chance to exploit passing game. Bears racked up Fran Tarkenton last week but Cards have superior offensive line, despite off day against Steelers.

Green Bay 28, San Francisco 14—Last Green Bay home game until Dec. 17. San Francisco in three-game losing slump get Dave Parks back. How many can Travis Williams run back this week?

Dallas 35, Washington 28—Another wild one. Cowboys seem to be having troubles getting untracked despite two straight wins. Redskins could upset with return of Charley Taylor. Cowboys just did eke out 17-14 margin Oct. 8. Don Maynard still rusty. Overall class says Dallas.

New York 28, Pittsburgh 27—Giants get edge on return to form of Fran Tarkenton after two-game slump. Steelers at full strength are coming on, smearing Cards' passer five times and intercepting three in 14-14 tie. Don't watch unless you have a strong heart.

AFL Buffalo 21, Denver 14—Buffalo just did win 17-16 in first meeting Oct. 8 but Bills have beaten Broncos nine straight since 1962 and Denver has lost nine in a row. Jack Tensi almost pulled it out for the Broncos last week. No offense either side. Lou Saban's return to Buffalo as enemy coach.

Oakland 35, Miami 14—After a week off it will be difficult to hold Raiders in check but they have tough date Thanksgiving at Kansas City.

New York 27, Boston 20—Joe Namath threw for two TDs in 30-23 victory over Pats at Shea, Oct. 29. Mike Holovak experimenting with Don Trull over Babe Parilli but Pats hurting

DAVE CRESWELL MOVED TO CENTER

Hermleigh Boy Blossoms As Star At Kansas St.

MANHATTAN, Kan. — Every-thing is supposed to come in big portions in Texas, and Dave Creswell is no exception. Creswell came to Kansas State this fall as a 6-foot-4, 239-pound freshman. He must have been the population explosion in one lump sum to Hermleigh, Tex., a town of less than a thousand. Though he now weighs a mere 228, he's still called the "big'un" by his teammates. He was named to the Coaches' All-State football team and played in the Texas all-star game. And, yet, he wasn't flaunted with scholarship offers to play big-time college football.

"We thought he would be a longshot," said K-State freshman coach LeRoy Montgomery who signed Creswell, "but we've been real impressed with him. Coming from a small school, he hasn't had the technical coaching and he's fundamentally weak."

Seldom does a player from a small school make the all-state team, and equally seldom is he highly sought after.

Creswell realizes his weakness on fundamentals. "I'm weaker in techniques than the guys from the bigger schools, and that's what I'm concentrating on now — techniques and fundamentals," he said.

Naturally, coming from a school of 90 and playing against teams of equal size, Creswell is going to be taking a big step into college football. But Dave is not going to sell himself short.

"When I came up here I was underestimating myself. I guess, because I thought I would have a lot harder time. Don't get me wrong though, it's not easy," commented Dave.

The big curly headed Texan was moved to offensive center this year, switching from tackle. "You have a whole lot more to worry about playing center," he said. "You have to get the snap just right and then go after your block. You have to be a lot quicker, and losing the weight has helped. I move a whole lot better this year."

Today at 2:30 Creswell will be at the hub of the Wildcat frosh offensive unit in their final game of the season. The K-State yearlings are 0-3 and would like to close out the season with a win before the home crowd.

"The season is a real disappointment to me," said Dave. "We've got a better team than anybody we've played so far, I think. It's just getting our team work down."

Creswell is one of two West Texans who have been starting with the Kansas State freshmen this fall. The other is James Carver, 205-pound right tackle from Big Spring.

Hawks Launch Play Tonight

HCJC's basketball legions start another busy season tonight, meeting the powerful Hill County JC in Hillsboro at 9 o'clock.

The contest will be the second part of a doubleheader, the first game of which pits the McLennan County College Highlanders against New Mexico Junior College of Hobbs. That one is down for 7 p.m.

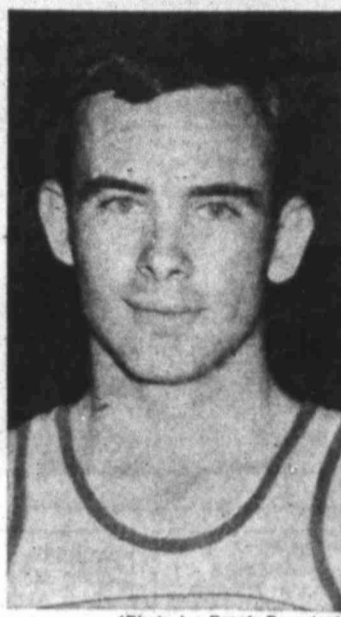

The Central Texas teams switch opponents Saturday night, Howard County opposing McLennan at 7 p.m. and Hill County tangling with New Mexico at 9 o'clock.

Both games involving Howard County will be aired over radio station KBYG Big Spring 1400.

Probable starters for the Big Springers tonight are Terry Fields, Hiron Hubert, Robby Lemons and Larry Linder, all sophomores, and freshman Robert Jackson.

Jackson and Linder will be at the post positions. The other

ROBBIE LEMONS
 Jayhawk starter

will play outside. Howard County has good depth at the post position, with 6-7 Barry Linder ready to back up his 6-5 brother, and Wallace Stewart ready to fill in for Jackson.

HCJC has looked exceedingly good in scrimmages with senior college outfits, having more than held its own in workouts with Angelo State, the ACC JV's, Tarleton State and the HSU JV's.

The Jayhawks will have to go some to beat their record of a year ago, when they copped 23 of 34 starts and wound up as the Western Conference titlist.

Others who made the trip include Simon Terrazas, Bruce Belcher, Mickey Vernon, Victor Lopez and Arthur Collins.

Jackson is 6-3. Lemons stands 6-1. Fields comes in at 6-0 while Hubert is no taller than 5-11.

The two doubleheaders will serve as a final warmup before the Nov. 23-24-25 Garden City, Kans., tournament. HCJC plays the host school at 9 p.m. Nov. 23 in the Kansas meet. The Hawks play their first home contest Dec. 1, at which time they tangle with Hill County.

Goliad Wins 12-8 Battle In Last Go

Underdog Goliad rose up to defeat Runnels, 12-8, in the eighth grade football game here Thursday evening that ended the season for both schools.

Goliad hadn't won a game all season but carried the fight to the opposition. In so doing, the Mavericks scored twice as many touchdowns as they had in all their previous contests.

Runnels scored first in the opening period when halfback Billy Woods roared 28 yards on a counter play, after which quarterback Gatlin Jones added the two points on a rollout.

Goliad stormed back to score before the period ended, fullback Bill Stewart scattering 45 yards off tackle.

The Mavs failed to add the two points, however, and still trailed, 8-6.

Goliad scored what proved to be the winning TD in the second and it was again Stewart who went over from the six at the end of a 45-yard march.

Runnels took the kickoff to begin the third period and kept it five minutes, eating up yardage to the Goliad 20 but Goliad dug in to hold.

The Mavs threatened twice later in the game. On one occasion, Mike Cramer broke for 75 yards but was caught from behind inside Runnels' 20 by Gatlin Jones. A short time later, the Mavs yielded the ball on a fumble.

Vernon Hewitt intercepted a Runnels pass on his own 40 and returned it to the Yearling 20 but Goliad found it couldn't move the ball.

Hewitt, Bobby Carlisle, Ricky Lansford and Mike Smith excelled on defense for the Mavs. Goliad coaches expressed themselves as highly pleased with the flaming spirit their boys showed. It was a perfect way to end a season, they added.

Score by quarters:
 Runnels ..... 8 0 0 0—8
 Goliad ..... 6 6 0 0—12

Sands Triumphs In Two Games

UNION — Sands won two games in the first round of the Union Junior High Basketball tournament here Friday, shading Gail representatives in both instances.

The Sands boys prevailed, 42-22, after the girls had won, 12-11. For the Sands' girls, Janet Nichols scored 11 points for Sands and Mary Anderson II for Gail.

The Sands teams return to play at 7 and 8 o'clock this evening.

Traffic Jam Looms In SW Grid Race

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
 Associated Press Sports Writer

Two games that can pave the way to the first Texas-Texas A&M showdown for the Southwest Conference championship in 25 years also can produce the biggest jam.

It is quite possible that four teams will be tied for the lead after Saturday's action that brings all conference members into traditional games.

Texas and Texas A&M right now are deadlocked for the lead with 4-1 records. Texas Tech is 3-2 and Texas Christian is 2-2. Texas hosts Texas Christian, which would pull into a virtual tie for the top should it fell the Longhorns.

Texas A&M plays Rice at

Houston and should the Owls knock off their offensive peak, Texas Tech should be mad and humiliated enough to play down-to-earth football and beat the Bears.

It's not supposed to come out this way except in the case of Texas Tech whipping the Bears.

Two out of three last week (TCU ruined the average with the upset of Texas Tech). Here goes for Saturday:

Texas-Texas Christian at Austin, 2 p.m.—Texas knows enough about the Horned Frogs' super effort against it not to be overconfident, and the vote is for Texas.

Texas A&M-Rice at Houston, 2 p.m.—The Aggies' can see daylight ahead for their championship hopes and Rice doesn't seem quite up to bursting the bubble. It's Texas A&M by perhaps a field goal.

Arkansas-Southern Methodist at Dallas, 2 p.m.—Too much defense for SMU to hurdle even with Jerry Levias heroics, so Arkansas by a touchdown.

Texas Tech-Baylor at Lubbock, 2 p.m.—Texas Tech should be mad and humiliated enough to play down-to-earth football and beat the Bears.

Arkansas-Southern Methodist at Dallas, 2 p.m.—Too much defense for SMU to hurdle even with Jerry Levias heroics, so Arkansas by a touchdown.

Texas Tech-Baylor at Lubbock, 2 p.m.—Texas Tech should be mad and humiliated enough to play down-to-earth football and beat the Bears.

SEVENTH WIN JV's Vanquish Colts, 49-6

SWEETWATER — Big Spring's JV's enjoyed one of their most productive nights of the year, bombarding Sweetwater's B team here Thursday, 49-6.

When the two clubs scrimmaged earlier in the year, Big Spring escaped with a one-touchdown edge and considered itself lucky to win.

The coaches carried 42 players to Sweetwater and all of them played.

Sweetwater managed its lone touchdown on a 50-yard pass play in the third against Big Spring's third unit at a time it trailed, 35-0.

Big Spring held the ball, the first eight minutes of the game and finally scored when Gary Hinds lofted a pass to Ricky Peurifoy, good for 14 yards. Fernando Mendoza kicked the PAT to make it 7-0.

The Shorthorns didn't score again until the second period when Mendoza took a 28-yard pass from Hinds. Mendoza made good on his PAT kick and the count mounted to 14-0.

Not long before the half ended, Johnny Rutherford intercepted a Sweetwater pass and ran 65 yards to pay dirt, after which Mendoza converted again.

Big Spring took the kickoff which opened the third period and drove for a score, Jimmy Wilson getting the tally on a five-yard run up the middle. Mendoza made it 28-0 with his boot.

Later in the round, Kenny Barfield went 70 yards on a punt runback for still another Dogie tally, only to have the play nullified by a penalty.

In the fourth, Kyle Rosene circled left end for 40 yards and another Big Spring TD, at which time the sophomores had taken over for Big Spring. Mendoza converted.

After Sweetwater got its tally, Big Spring collected two more touchdowns, Barfield taking the ensuing kickoff 90 yards for a tally and Wilson intercepting a Mustang pass before

Roses Will Blossom For Bruins Or Troy

Roses will be blooming in the thoughts of UCLA, Southern California, Indiana and Minnesota football players Saturday, but for Army, no matter what happens, the season will be one of bittersweet memories.

Top-ranked UCLA will battle No. 4 Southern California in Los Angeles, with a Rose Bowl invitation and probable national championship at stake.

The other Rose Bowl berth will be decided at the Indiana-Minnesota game at Minneapolis. Even if third-ranked Purdue beats Michigan State Saturday and then fifth-ranked Indiana the following weekend, the Boilermakers will be ineligible for the Rose Bowl under Big Ten rules because they played in the last one.

But Army has nothing to look forward to but victories at Pittsburgh Saturday and over Navy Dec. 2 for a 9-1 record, the best at West Point since the 1949 team was 9-0.

Some of the sweetness went out of the Cadets' season Thursday when the Pentagon announced the Army football team will not accept a bid to the Sugar Bowl or any other postseason game. The Sugar Bowl had indicated an interest in inviting the Cadets.

Other games involving Top Ten teams Saturday:

Second-ranked Tennessee plays Mississippi at Memphis; No. 6 Wyoming is at Texas-El Paso at night; seventh-ranked Oklahoma is at home against Kansas; No. 8 Oregon State, which has beaten Purdue and Southern Cal and tied UCLA, entertains Oregon, No. 9; Notre Dame is at Georgia Tech and 10th-ranked North Carolina State is at Clemson. Maryland is at Wake Forest in the only game involving major teams Friday night.

The big game of the weekend has to be the one between UCLA, 7-0-1, and Southern California, 8-1, which will be televised nationally (ABC, 4 p.m., EST).

Not only does it involve a race for the Rose Bowl and national honors, but it also will pit two of college football's super stars—UCLA quarterback Gary Babban and Southern Cal halfback O. J. Simpson.

It shapes up as a battle between UCLA's offense and Southern Cal's defense, but in this traditional game surprises are the rule.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hoyt

Dan LaGrasta, the head football coach at San Angelo Central, said it as he departed the press box after the Odessa-Big Spring game here the other night:

"We should have a good game with Big Spring. They should have scored 40 points tonight. Spike (Dykes) has done a fine job with the Steers this year."

San Angelo and Big Spring come to grips tonight in San Angelo and, although there won't be a thing riding on the outcome, both teams will likely be revved up for the action.

A few years back, Dykes and LaGrasta worked together on Emory Bellard's coaching team at San Angelo. Firm friends, they should know each other pretty well.

LaGrasta had his whole coaching staff up here looking at the Longhorns. Dykes took most of his aides with him to Odessa Saturday night to watch the Bobcats in a losing effort against Permian.

The Steers played unevenly against Odessa last week but they played the game to the hilt throughout. No one has any complaints as long as the boys give it everything they've got.

Odessa High came here for its assignment against Big Spring, assured by some of its staff that it would be their "easiest" game of the year.

Of course, the Bronchos hadn't won all season and their losing streak endured here. As it turned out the Red Hesses came closer to beating Midland High, Midland Lee, El Paso Coronado, Lubbock High and Abilene High than they did the Steers.

The Odessans are on the verge of experiencing their worst season in 34 years, and they were a one-high school town back in 1933. Their record that year was 8-8.

The Bronchos have won two games or more every season they've been fielding a team in all but two years. They were 1-4-1 in 1927.

Two of the Steers suffered similar injuries within five minutes of each other in a practice session prior to the Odessa game.

They were tackle Jerry Ryan and end Luven Flores, who twisted their knees. Flores didn't even play against the Bronchos.

One official who worked a recent game for the Steers won't be rehired here any time soon. He called a clipping penalty against the locals at a time Big Spring had a drive going and the film proved him in error.

He also gave the opposition a first down on a fourth down play when the ball carrier didn't even get to the line of scrimmage. He might have been having a bad night but such occurrences seem to happen frequently in games involving Big Spring.

A freshman, one Bill Smith, is being heralded as "the best basketball player we've ever had at Syracuse" and some call him the Lew Alcindor of the East.

He's 6-11 and weighs 230 pounds and he played his high school ball at Rush-Henrietta Central High School near Rochester, N.Y.

Syracuse must think highly of him because Dave Bing, now a star for the Detroit NBA team, played his college ball at Syracuse.

Kathleen Morgan Williams, a 1919 graduate of the local high school, won a letter in girls' basketball her senior year in school.

That's all the athletes got then—a letter. The school couldn't afford sweaters. Six members of the girls' cage team, along with 12 football and eight basketball boys, were similarly rewarded.

The graduating class consisted of 26 girls and seven boys in '19.

Scouters Face Fund Challenge

Opportunities are great for substantial advancement this year, but the Buffalo Trail Council faces a real challenge in financing an adequate program for boys, Earl McKeehan, Scout executive, told the quarterly meeting of the council executive board in Midland Thursday evening.

With some United Fund and chest accounts not yet received, and independent finance campaigns just getting underway, the council had a $7,000 operational deficit in October, he reported. If the council is operated as budgeted, an estimated $50,000 will have to be raised over the 18-county area, Dick Ream, council finance chairman, said plans were being developed to do just this, principally in the sustaining member enlistment next spring.

1,400 SIGN

McKeehan said that so many boys (1,400) were signed up in the fall roundup that a number of new units were going to have to be organized to take care of them.

David Dunbar, assistant national director of camping for Boy Scouts of America, spoke to the board briefly, urging that long range plans take into account adequate land to offer boys real outdoor experiences to the year 2000.

TRAINING COURSE

Woodbadge training will be made available to volunteer leaders at the Scout Ranch May 11-19, O. F. Hedrick, Midland, chairman of leadership training, said. He announced a junior leader training course at the ranch June 25-July 5. Ben Johnson, Big Spring, advancement chairman, said that the traditional council Eagle recognition banquet would be replaced this year by district recognition ceremonies.

The summer camp rate of $17.50 per boy was approved. The board for the annual council meeting was set for Jan. 18 in Midland. Introduced were two new district executives, Paul Dunlap, Kermit, and Jacob Amato, Snyder. A meeting in Midland Friday of Protestant ministers and Ernie Hogan, assistant national director of Protestant affairs, was announced. Dr. W. A. Hunt, vice president, Big Spring, presided over part of the meeting.

Guadalupe Park Prospects Glow

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — This country's 33rd national park, a wedge of West Texas one-tenth the size of Rhode Island, was a step nearer development today and will become the Guadalupe Mountains National Park.

"It is a magnificent breathing place, one of the scenic masterpieces of the country," said Interior Secretary Stewart Udall, who accepted a deed from the State of Texas Thursday to 46,000 acres of mineral rights in the park area. Texaco Inc. already had signed over mineral rights to 25,000 acres, and another 6,000 acres was given to the National Park Service by Wallace Pratt of Tucson, Ariz.

The park, on 77,000 acres in Culberson and Hudspeth counties, will be the second national park in Texas. Big Bend, also in West Texas, is the other.

Udall predicted as many visitors would take a look at the Guadalupe Park as now go to nearby Carlsbad Caverns in New Mexico.

Udall attended deed ceremonies in Gov. John Connally's Capitol reception room, packed with West Texans and New Mexicans, and then answered newsmen's questions.

AGREES TO SELL

He said J. C. Hunter Jr. of Abilene, Tex., has agreed to sell 72,000 acres of the park to the federal government for $1.2 million, a little over $16 an acre, and that would complete the acquisition of land.

Connally said President Johnson had "dreamed" of creating the park, "with its peaks rising out of the alkali desert, a truly magnificent spot of nature."

The park "will refute the belief that West Texas is a flat, barren wasteland," said John Ben Sheppard of Odessa, chairman of the citizens committee which worked for the park.

The national park was created by Congress in 1966 and includes Guadalupe Peak, the tallest spot in Texas at 8,751 feet, and its twin peak, El Capitan, 8,078 feet high. Its timberland and canyons are said to include some of the most unusual and beautiful plants in Texas. Elk, bighorn sheep and mule deer roam at will, and well-watered McKittrick Canyon is loaded with mountain trout and flanked by Ponderosa pine.

Thugs Loot Store Again

Broadway Grocery, 1231 W. 3rd, was burglarized Wednesday night for the third time during the past week and a large number of grocery items were stolen.

Police are also investigating two other burglaries that were reported Thursday. Brackenridge Grain Co., 403 E. 1st, reported the theft of a truck radiator. The home of Jesse Ortiz, 109 N. Nolan, was entered through a back window but nothing was reported missing.

Eighteen Traffic Warrants Issued

Fifty charges were filed in Corporation Court from Tuesday through Friday of this week with fines totaling $546.

Eighteen warrants were issued for traffic violations that had not been answered. Two gaming charges were set for hearing on Nov. 30 and one charge of theft over five dollars was transferred to County Court.

Traffic violations filed totaled 25 and fines assessed $296. Twelve charges of being drunk brought a total of $250 in fines.

Divorce Bill For Italians Clears Hurdle

ROME (AP) — Divorce at home never looked so close before for Italians, but the bill to legalize it still has a long way to go despite its first legislative victory.

A parliamentary committee voted 21-20 Thursday to approve the first section of a bill to make divorce possible in Italy under limited circumstances. The entire bill still has to clear the committee and then both houses of Parliament.

LANDMARK

But the vote was a landmark. It was the first time a divorce bill was voted on by members of Parliament in the 107 years that Italy has been a unified nation. The bill would permit divorce in these cases:

—After five years of unbroken legal separation.

—When a spouse has been sentenced to a prison term of at least 12 years.

—When one spouse has been convicted of sexual crimes against close relatives, or of any crime against the other spouse or their children.

Money Woes, 'Spy' Image Damages NSA

WASHINGTON (AP) — The 1.3 million-member National Student Association, rocked last February by revelation of its long-standing ties with the Central Intelligence Agency, is finding out painfully that political and financial independence is a tough way to make a living.

The NSA-CIA divorce after an apparently happy although secretive marriage left NSA with little money, little purpose and a "child spy" image that was, at the very least, embarrassing.

RADICAL IMAGE

Now there is no money, no apparent purpose and an image that some NSA members and even a few of its own staff call radical.

After its break with the CIA, NSA underwent a complete reorientation. The CIA had funneled $3.3 million into the NSA international programs and those programs had become NSA's primary activity. When the CIA went, so did the international programs.

So NSA, with affiliates on some 300 campuses, turned most of its resources, energy and time to the American campus, expanding its tutoring programs, its studies of stress on students, its drug education program and its interests in improving curricula.

LEFTISTS

One of the primary money sources for those programs was the Office of Economic Opportunity. But the antipoverty agency is having its own financial problems and NSA has not seen OEO money for months.

So far, reorientation has been political and the politics—by NSA's own estimate have been somewhere left of liberal.

The first major steps taken in that direction came late last summer at the SA congress in College Park, Md.

Some 500 delegates from colleges and universities across the country voted resolutions against the war in Vietnam, for Black Power "by any means necessary," against the present draft system and in demand of a greater student voice in university affairs.

GHOSTS

"We have moved to the political left," said NSA President Michael Schwartz in an interview. "I'd say we fall somewhere between ADA (the liberal Americans for Democratic Action) and SDS (the far-left Students for a Democratic Society)."

On some campuses, the new NSA activities have caused repercussions. Some universities among them the University of Michigan and George Washington University—have disaffiliated, although Schwartz says this has not been a mass movement.

City Dads Boot Four Newsmen

AMARILLO, Tex. (AP) — City commissioners held a session so secret that they asked even the city attorney and the city manager to leave Thursday.

The meeting started getting exclusive when Commissioner Bill Mays requested a secret ballot on a choice of cable television companies to be awarded a franchise.

Mayor J. Ernest Stroud then asked the four newsmen present to depart.

TV CONTRACT

After a bit, City Manager John Stiff emerged, along with his assistant, Leland Nelson, and City Atty. C. J. Taylor.

A reporter asked whether the three also left by request and one of them replied, "What does it look like?"

Stiff told newsmen the commissioners directed that he and Taylor try to work out a contract with Total TV, which was chosen in preference to Plains TV Cable Co. and Amarillo Home Electronics Co.

Three network television stations in Amarillo and Viewmore of Oklahoma City joined in forming Total TV.

NEXT WEEK?

Another half hour passed before the city commissioners started leaving.

Asked what was discussed in private, City Commissioner Henry Beverly said, "Oh, just the weather." He added, however, that the reporters would learn about it next week.

Commissioner L. O'Brien Thompson was silent on what he and his colleagues talked about after sending Stiff, Nelson and Taylor outside.

"But as I understand the law," Thompson went on, "it was a legitimate executive session from that point on because we were discussing matters pertaining to personnel."

Alfred H. Barr Jr., former director of collections at the museum and an authority on Picasso, said the city should applaud its acquisition.

Barr said Picasso first dreamed of the colossal sculpture 40 years ago and completed a series of figure drawings, "but no one stepped forward to make the dream come true until the 1950's."

"Now, in our city, we shall have a monument sprung from a two-foot-high painted bent sheet metal, the head of a girl with ponytail hair, as big as the head of the great sphinx of Egypt."

ONLY TWO REJECTED SALES TAX 30 Cities Have Voted

Local voters in each of six Texas cities adopted the one per cent municipal sales tax in Nov. 14 elections. The tax was rejected in another city voting the same day.

According to information collected by the Texas Municipal League, 30 cities have voted on the question and at least 100 more will vote before the end of the year.

In recent elections citizens of Hughes Springs, Georgetown, Granger, San Marcos, Alpine, and Marfa approved the municipal sales tax by margins of from 1 1/2-to-1 up to 5-to-1.

The tax failed to pass in Lufkin by a vote of 1,237 to 1,522—the second city to reject the revenue source in all elections held in Texas since the 1967 Legislature extended the tax to cities on a local option basis.

At least five more cities will vote on the local sales tax this month: Commerce, Huntsville, Llano, and Uvalde on Nov. 21 and Seguin on Nov. 28. By Jan. 1, 1968, an estimated 120-150 Texas cities containing more than six million people will have voted on the tax question.

'Popendipity' Tent Show Fails To Please Reviewer

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — There was a trade rumor recently that a variety show called "popendipity" featuring popular music and musicians was a strong candidate as a replacement series for one or another of ABC's midseason drop-outs.

It failed to make the schedule, but the pilot show was used Thursday night as the emergency replacement for the Carol Channing special. The latter has been postponed for at least two weeks pending the end of a technicians' union strike against the network.

TOUGH TASK

The hour program consisted of an edited tape made at a performance in a Rhode Island tent theater last summer. It was something less than satisfying—particularly because we have seen many of the artists—soloists Astrud Gilberto and Duffy Saint Marie and groups like the Buffalo Springfield and the Four Seasons—performing under happier circumstances in the made-for-TV variety programs.

A theater is a confining place for a camera and a tent theater makes interesting effects almost impossible.

BIG EFFORT

Flip Wilson, a young comedian and host of the show, tried hard to make jokes between the musical acts. Judging from the audience sounds on the tape, he had as little success with his live audience as he had with the living room viewers later.

Presumably Miss Channing's audience is one that includes large numbers of the "mature" viewers—and in televisionese that means people over 35.

"Popendipity" was aimed at the younger segment of the audience—the college and high school crowd.

Get A Lawyer's Advice

DEAR ABBY: My son married a girl he had known a very short time. They met last summer in Europe on a college student tour. (She's an American.)

My sisters gave this girl a beautiful bridal shower, and my husband's family as well as my own gave the couple some very expensive wedding presents.

After living together for 20 days, this "bride" left her husband and filed for divorce. Her only reason is that he refused to use a deodorant!

She didn't send one thank you note for her shower gifts, or her wedding gifts, and she won't give me the list of gifts so I can thank them. (I doubt if she even made one.)

But the biggest problem is getting the gifts back from our side of the family. Neither she nor her mother will answer my letters or telephone calls. So what do we do? INCENSED

DEAR ABBY: Talk to your lawyer. Too bad your son didn't work up more of a sweat over this girl before he married her.

DEAR ABBY: I have been going steady with a girl I'll call "Dotty" for about a year, but there is another girl I like better. I don't want to hurt Dotty's feelings, but I would like to get out of going steady with her so I can openly date this other girl.

Dotty is a very nervous girl and every time I have even hinted at breaking up, she gets sick. I would appreciate any help you can give me. I am 22 and Dotty is 19. STUMPED

DEAR STUMPED: I feel sorry for Dotty, but I feel sorrier for you if you continue to go with her because you haven't the courage to break it up.

Level with her! And the sooner the better. Dotty may get sick, but she'll get over it. Take my advice before you find yourself married to a woman who "gets sick" every time she doesn't get her own way.

DEAR ABBY: This is for "BAFFLED" who quit having birthday parties for her children because the mothers would bring their children, and instead of going home, they would stay for the party, too, which meant having more uninvited guests than invited ones. Here is how I solved that problem:

On the day of my child's birthday I would take ice cream and cupcakes to school and treat the whole class. The teacher was very cooperative; that way, no one (but the teacher) knew of the party in advance, so there was no need to bring a birthday gift (which many could not have afforded, anyway).

No cleaning up afterwards, and no frayed nerves. Good idea?

MRS. SMITH

DEAR MRS. SMITH: Great! If your child's birthday doesn't happen to fall on a weekend, holiday or during summer, Easter or Christmas vacation.

How has the world been treating you? Unload your problems on Dear Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif. 90069. For a personal, unpublished reply, enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope.
