Killings Seen In Cambodia

Keeping tab on our neighbors:

If Uncle Sam wants to save some money, one way would be to reduce paperwork in government agencies, says Walter Buckel of the Lamesa Press-Reporter.

"Experts say that paper flowing into federal agencies each year fills 4.5 million cubic feet of space. Federal paperwork management adds up to $8 billion annually. The federal bureaucracy alone generates more than two billion pieces of paper every 12 months. This figures out at 10 forms to be filled out each year for every man, woman and child in the United States," Buckel notes.

"Perhaps the biggest tragedy to government paperwork is the simple fact that much of it is not needed, not necessary and tons go into the wastebaskets of offices throughout the nation who never take time to open up the massive amounts that flow in daily."

Of course, the fact that much of it goes unopened may actually be a saving. Some offices probably would have to put on extra employes if they opened and filed every piece of paper that came in.

Orlin Brewer of the Vernon Record discloses that the junior college there has encountered a problem in a construction project.

"Maybe next year, or year after next. Or 10 years from now," Brewer wrote. "But unless Vernon Regional Junior College can find some hidden funds among its reserves it hasn't uncovered to date, or discover a different approach to financing the project, a natatorium in connection with its new gymnasium appears to be impossible. That's a shame, because it was planned more for the community in general than for students at the college."

Although building costs seemed incredibly high when it was being built, perhaps WTC got its physical education facility just in time. Anyway, we did get swimming facilities in it.

Over at Big Spring, the Texas Parks and Wildlife Dept. sent some cave experts to explore some underground crevices at the State Park there.

And they reported that the "caves" in Big Spring State Park are merely crevices that possibly have been widened by water seepage. They didn't find any large caverns that could be developed and used as a tourist attraction.

There had been some speculation about the feasibility of developing.—WACIL McNAIR.

Today In History

By The Associated Press

Today is Friday, April 18, the 108th day of 1975. There are 257 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

In 1775, the American patriot, Paul Revere, made his famous ride from Charlestown to Lexington to warn the colonists of the approach of British troops from Boston.

On this date—

In 1847, American forces captured Cerro Gordo Hill in Mexico - the first point of resistance on General Winfield Scott's march on Mexico City.

In 1906, San Francisco was hit by an earthquake. The quake and fires destroyed half the city.

In 1942, early in the Pacific war, an air squadron led by Lt. Gen. James Doolittle took off from an aircraft carrier and attacked Tokyo and other Japanese cities.

In 1945, war correspondent Ernie Pyle was killed during fighting on an island off Okinawa.

In 1946, the League of Nations officially went out of existence.

In 1955, physicist Albert Einstein died in Princeton, N.J., at 76.

Ten years ago: The African country of Uganda became the first non-Communist nation to join the Soviet Union in formal denunciation of U.S. action in Vietnam.

Five years ago: President Richard Nixon greeted the Apollo 13 astronauts in Hawaii and presented the three with medals of freedom after their harrowing, unsuccessful attempt to make a moon landing.

One year ago: Egypt announced it was ending more than 18 years of exclusive reliance on Soviet arms supplies and seeking armaments elsewhere.

Farm Bill Goes Back To House

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate-passed farm bill that raises key crop price supports goes back to the House next week where it is expected to be approved.

The bill is essentially the same legislation approved by the House a month ago. That earlier version was sent to a House-Senate conference committee to iron out differences with the Senate bill. The final version reported by the conference committee bore a close resemblance to the House legislation.

The conference committee's bill was approved Thursday by the Senate with no objections.

Estimates developed by the conference committee staff put a price tag on it of $210 million in net cost to the taxpayers.

The Senate version rejected by the conferees would have cost an estimated five times as much.

Sen. Herman E. Talmadge, D-Ga., chairman of the Senate Agriculture Committee, said the Senate bill was rejected because of reports from White House aides that Agriculture Secretary Earl L. Butz had convinced President Ford the measure was unnecessary, would cost the government and consumers too much, and therefore should be vetoed.

"We have done everything within our power to trim the potential cost of the bill and to avoid a presidential veto," Talmadge said.

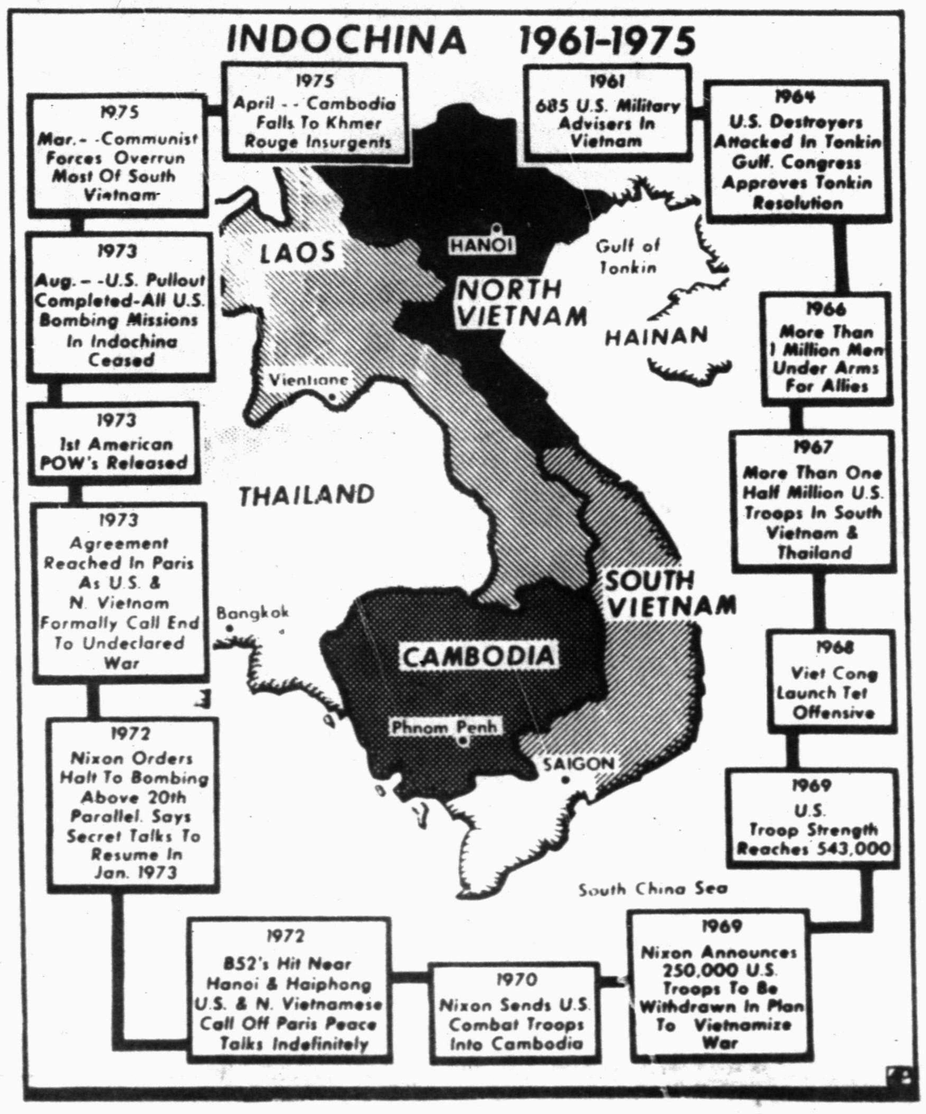

Those same Ford aides had passed the word again after the conference finished that a veto was inevitable.

In addition to the dairy provision's initial seven-cents per-100-pounds boost in the farm price of milk, the measure would hike target prices and production loan rates for corn, wheat and cotton, as well as establishing a 1975 soybean production loan program at an expected level of $3.94 a bushel.

Rep. Ezzell Due For Reception

Rep. Mike Ezzell will be on hand Saturday morning for a reception sponsored by the Scurry County Unit of the Texas State Teachers Association in the hospitality room of West Texas State Bank.

Rep. Ezzell is scheduled to be there from 9:30 a.m. to 11 a.m. to visit with constituents and to discuss work of the 64th Legislature now in session at Austin. The TSTA unit has invited the public to visit with Rep. Ezzell during those hours Saturday.

Reprisals Expected

By JIM ADAMS
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Predicting "great human suffering," Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger said today he believes there will be widespread killings in Cambodia.

"They will try to eliminate all political opponents," Kissinger said referring to the new Khmer Rouge government. "That was certainly the experience in South Vietnam."

Beyond that, Kissinger told the House International Relations Committee, there will be suffering because of the concentration of refugees in Phnom Penh, resulting in such problems as food shortages.

President Ford has said the fall of the Cambodian government to Communist-led rebels is viewed by the United States "with sadness and compassion."

In a two-sentence statement issued Thursday more than 12 hours after the Khmer Rouge insurgents took control of the capital of Phnom Penh, the President also said:

"I wish to express my admiration for the Cambodian government leaders and people, who showed great courage until the end and to their armed forces, who fought valiantly with their remaining supplies."

At about the same time, Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger was delivering a wide-ranging speech on foreign affairs to the American Society of Newspaper Editors without making a direct mention of the fall of the U.S.-backed Cambodian leadership.

Instead, he struck hard at the Soviet Union and China, accusing them of helping "to make a mockery" of the 1973 Vietnam peace accords by continuing to supply aid to the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong.

On Capitol Hill, House Speaker Carl Albert said he regretted that Cambodia fell to the insurgent forces but added he also was "sorry we got mixed up in it."

Sen. Dewey F. Bartlett, R-Okla., said the fall of Cambodia should spur Congress into approving aid for South Vietnam.

Active U.S. participation in Cambodia began five years ago when President Richard M. Nixon sent troops into the country in a two-month attempt to destroy North Vietnamese sanctuaries and supply areas.

There was no immediate comment on Cambodia's fall from Nixon.

The Pentagon said the U.S. airdrop of supplies into Cambodia ceased hours after the government surrender, with $6 million remaining from the $275 million Congress had appropriated for the current fiscal year.

At the Cambodian Embassy here, meanwhile, the half dozen diplomats said they intended to carry on business as usual until they received orders from the new regime in Phnom Penh. But communication with the capital was cut and no word arrived.

Attack On Saigon Is Believed Near

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON, South Vietnam (AP) — The North Vietnamese and Viet Cong closed in today on the Saigon government's last enclave on the central coast, jabbed at the edges of Saigon and shelled the big Bien Hoa air base 15 miles northeast of Saigon again.

There were still no indications that a North Vietnamese drive on Saigon had begun, but analysts predicted it was only a matter of time before the Communists consolidate their forces and attack.

Military sources said North Vietnamese troops mounted fierce attacks on Phan Thiet, a coastal city 100 miles east of Saigon and the capital of Binh Thuan province. They said radio contact between Phan Thiet and four district towns was lost, indicating they had been taken over by the Communists.

Phan Thiet and Phan Rang, 150 miles northeast of Saigon, were bypassed by the advancing North Vietnamese and Viet Cong when the Saigon forces fled from the northern and central parts of South Vietnam. Apparently the Communists did not have sufficient forces in the area to take them over. The Saigon command announced the loss of Phan Rang on Wednesday.

The situation in Cambodia was unknown. Radio Phnom Penh, now in the hands of the victorious Khmer Rouge, broadcast propaganda statements and reruns of accounts of the taking of the Cambodian capital Thursday. Commercial communication channels were not open.

Sources in Bangkok said Premier Long Boret, the head of the fallen Cambodian government, was taken into custody Thursday as he was trying to flee from Phnom Penh by helicopter. Earlier reports said he had escaped to Kompong Chhnang, 50 miles northeast of Phnom Penh.

Connally Hopes To Resume Political Life

By BROOKS JACKSON
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — John B. Connally says he hopes to resume his political life in some form following his acquittal on bribery charges.

"I hope as long as I live I never lose the desire to participate in political affairs," said the former treasury secretary and one-time presidential prospect.

"Now in what role, in what capacity, in what way it will be done, I don't know. I'm not about to describe it today, or even in the next few days or next week," he said.

Connally spoke to newsmen outside federal court Thursday evening just minutes after a jury found him innocent of charges that he took two $5,000 payoffs for helping dairymen by urging higher milk price supports in 1971.

The prosecution's case against him had been based primarily on the testimony of Jake Jacobsen, a former lawyer for the dairymen, who said he paid Connally the money. Jacobsen had admitted to the jury that he perjured himself in testifying about the case in other forums.

Connally was reading a Bible when the jury filed into the courtroom after deliberating for six hours. He sat poker-faced as the jury foreman announced the verdict of "not guilty." Then Connally beamed, embraced his wife Nell and shook hands with his lawyer Edward Bennett Williams. Connally's daughter Sharon wept with happiness.

He said he had no immediate plans except to return to Texas. "We haven't thought beyond this moment" he said.

Outside, he spoke to newsmen for the first time since the trial began April 1.

Did he feel vindicated? "I don't suppose I think of it so much as a vindication," he said. "I'm happy. Nell's happy. The children are. All of the family is. I suppose we never felt there could be any outcome but this ... I thought they made us worry about it for some time here today, but I'm happy about it."

Connally, a Democrat before he switched to the Republican party in 1973, had been considered a possible presidential contender. Before his indictment last year he was in constant demand for appearances at GOP fund-raising events around the country.

Had the indictment and trial derailed his presidential hopes? "Well, I don't know and I haven't given any thought to it, very frankly," he said. "I won't think about it for some time. I don't have a great deal more to say to you. At some later time I will have some more to say to you."

Still pending against Connally were two charges of making false statements to a grand jury and a charge of conspiracy to cover up the alleged bribes.

A spokesman for the Watergate Special Prosecution Force would give no immediate comment Thursday on whether these charges would now be pressed or dropped. The charges were part of the original indictment against Connally, but were severed for a separate trial by Chief U.S. District Court Judge George L. Hart.

Connally's acquittal is the first major case to be lost by the Watergate prosecutors. Only two other defendants charged by them, Richard M. Nixon's campaign lawyer, Kenneth W. Parkinson, and political donor Dwayne O. Andreas of Minneapolis, have been acquitted.

New Record Set By Bank Figures

For the second quarterly report in a row, both deposit and loan totals of Snyder banks have set all-time records.

The figures for the first quarter of 1975, issued today in response to a call for statements of condition from regulatory agencies, show bank deposits here at a new peak of $57,154,712.43, and loans at a new high of $22,412,786.86.

This represents an increase of approximately $1.5 million in deposits and about $150,000 in loans over the previous records set in the last quarter of 1974.

The statements issued today included figures as of the close of business on April 16.

The previous record highs, announced in the statements as of Dec. 31, 1974, showed deposits of $55,695,014.02 and loans of $22,065,158.84. The figures for the first quarter of 1974 were $53,154,401.41 for deposits and $20,541,869.12 for loans.

For the first quarter of 1975 West Texas State Bank listed deposits totalling $24,560,948.66 and loans of $9,730,165.38.

Snyder National Bank listed deposits of $32,593,763.77 and loans of $12,682,621.48.

Christina Denies Rumors

PARIS (AP) — The daughter of Greek shipping magnate Aristotle Onassis has denied that she and Jacqueline Kennedy Onassis are embroiled in a dispute over her father's will.

Christina Onassis, 24, also said a report that her father planned shortly before his death to divorce Mrs. Onassis was "totally untrue."

"In fact, the marriage of the late Mr. Onassis and Mrs. Jacqueline Onassis was a happy marriage and all rumors of intended divorce are untrue," Miss Onassis said in a statement issued Thursday in Paris.

"Her own relationship with Mrs. Jacqueline Onassis was always and still is based on mutual friendship and respect and there are no financial or other disputes separating them," the statement added.

Space Technology Applied To Earth

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — The aerospace scientists whose wizardry gave man a closer look at Mars, Venus and Mercury say they are plowing their experience back into the earth.

Sewage disposal systems, new energy sources and low-pollution cars are some areas being studied by researchers at the Jet Propulsion Laboratory as they apply space technology to problems on their own planet.

Several unmanned space missions, including the recently completed Mariner 10 encounters with Venus and Jupiter, have been controlled from JPL. Space exploration remains the lab's primary responsibility, but more than 150 scientists are now at work in the Civil Service Program Office, which has four divisions: energy and environment, transportation, public safety and biomedical systems.

Dan Schneiderman, head of the office, said the program "started when JPL gave up working on secret projects during the Vietnam war and turned to solving problems in the civil area.

"It has since grown, with NASA's backing, to speed up what we call technology transfer, the application of space technology to significant urban and industrial problems."

For example, he said, an engineer testing materials for a lightweight rocket motor insulator came up with an idea to improve sewage processing.

Noting that the insulator — activated carbon — could be made from manure, the engineer devised a system for converting solid sewage to activated carbon, which in turn helps purify incoming waste water.

Schneiderman said the test system which resulted is expected to meet tough, new Environmental Protection Agency standards for 1977, something that existing facilities can't do without billions of dollars worth of upgrading.

Power Struggle Renewed

SAN DIEGO, Tex. (AP) — A power struggle for political control of Duval County moved back into the foreground today as two separate commissioner's courts scheduled meetings.

It is between the "Old Party" faction now headed by ousted Duval County Judge Archer Parr and a faction including the Carrillo family.

District Court Judge O.O. Carrillo temporarily suspended Parr from office last month because of her perjury conviction.

What is known as the "Parr court" was scheduled to meet at 9 a.m. today. Then what is called the "Tobin court" was scheduled to meet at 1 p.m.

County Judge Dan Tobin Jr., appointed to that office last month by Judge Carrillo, heads the second court.

Both meetings were scheduled less than 24 hours after Judge Wesley Dice of Austin rejected a motion for a restraining order sought by Parr to halt all activities of the "Tobin court."

Wilcher Rites At Hermleigh

Funeral service has been set for 3 p.m. Saturday at the First United Methodist Church in Hermleigh for Doyle Midson Wilcher, 56, of Pasedena, who died Thursday in the M.D. Anderson Hospital in Houston.

A native of Oklahoma, Mr. Wilcher was a former Hermleigh resident, having moved to Pasedena 26 years ago.

The Rev. Loren Gardner will officiate at the funeral service, which will be followed by masonic rites at the graveside in Hermleigh Cemetery. Bell-Seale will be in charge of the burial.

Mr. Wilcher is survived by his wife; two daughters, Mrs. Barbara Butler and Kathy Wilcher, both of Pasedena; a son, Jimmy L. Wilcher of Worlan, Wyo.; two sisters, Mrs. Marge Feldman of Los Angeles, Calif., and Mrs. Ola Mitzer of San Francisco, Calif.; three brothers, the Rev. Dwight Wilcher of Abilene, Leroy Wilcher of Huntington and Ted Wilcher of Davenport, Iowa; one grandchild.

No Injuries In Unusual Mishap

James Lindsey of Honolulu, Hawaii, escaped injury in an unusual mishap on U.S. 84 10 miles north of Snyder at 2 a.m. yesterday.

Highway Patrolmen said the wheel and axle came off a trailer that was being towed south by a 1974 Model Oldsmobile driven by Mike McLeod of Merkel. Lindsey's 1972 Model Chevrolet struck the wheel and axle while he was traveling north. There was moderate damage and no injuries.

Young Activist Judges "Women Of The Year"

By JAY SHARBUTT
AP Television Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — At 22, Kathy Kelly is sort of young to be a judge. No matter that her term of office only lasted long enough to help pick winners in Saturday's "Women of the Year" awards show on CBS.

She says she's still wondering how she came to be among 15 prominent American women judging the finalists, but calls it "a fantastic personal experience. I really was in awe of a lot of those women."

Miss Kelly, an activist in the antiwar and feminist movements, already has gained a certain amount of youthful prominence as president of the National Student Association in Washington, D.C.

A former head of the University of Minnesota student body, she took a one-year leave of absence from school to head the NSA and says she'll finish her senior year after her NSA stint expires next August.

Many of today's college students are rumored to be veritble somnambulists compared to the fiery campus radicals of the late 1960s. What made her take up the activist's cudgel?

"I think a lot of it had to do with my parents and the way they brought me up," said Miss Kelly, whose parents live in Hopkins, Minn. "It was a liberal, middle class, really typical upbringing, but it had a lot to do with ideals and standing up for what you think is right.

"But I think the antiwar movement was really the impetus behind it all," she said, explaining that she first began taking part in antiwar demonstrations in 1972.

She says she'd eventually like to become involved in politics, particularly to help women.

"One thing I'd like to do someday," she added, "is run for City Council in either Minneapolis or St. Paul, depending on which city I'm living in.

"I think the kind of change that most directly affects peoples' lives happens at the local level, rather than the federal level. So I'd like to try that."

Solid Upturn Predicted In Months Ahead

By R. GREGORY NOKES
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Thirty-one communities were added today to the Labor Department's list of metropolitan areas with substantial unemployment. The additions bring the number of such areas to a record 105.

A year ago there were 41 such areas, which become eligible for preferential treatment in bidding for federal contracts. The designation goes to major labor areas with 6 per cent or more unemployment.

Earlier this month, the government announced that 8 million Americans, or 8.7 per cent of the labor force, were out of work.

The additional designations came amid predictions by economists that, if all goes according to plan, the biggest quarterly downturn on record in the nation's economy will be followed by a solid upturn in the months ahead.

"We now know it's not an avalanche, but a recession," said Arthur M. Okun of the Brookings Institution, indicating his feeling that any danger of a 1930s-style depression had passed.

Okun's comment came after the Commerce Department reported Thursday that the country's Gross National Product plummeted at a 10.4 per cent annual rate in the firs three months of 1975, the steepest quarterly decline in the GNP on record.

Both government and private economists confidently predicted, however, that the first quarter economic slide carried with it the necessary criteria for the start of an economic recovery later this year.

The biggest factor in the decline was a $35 billion drop in business inventories, and the Commerce Department's top economist, James L. Pate, said this will help insure a return to production in the future.

Economists said that also encouraging was a decline in the inflation rate to 8 per cent in the first quarter, down from a 14.4 per cent annual rate in the fourth quarter of last year and the lowest inflation rate since early in 1973.

"Both the improvement in inflation and the rapid progress in inventory correction bolster the prospects for growth in real output and purchasing power in the second half of this year," Pate said.

Pate, assistant secretary of commerce for economic affairs, predicted to newsmen that the economy would grow at a rate between 4 and 6 per cent in the second half of the year.

Dear Abby

Should Newlyweds Bill "No-show" Guests?

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1975 by Chicago Tribune-N.Y. News Synd., Inc.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I see eye to eye on almost everything, but we have one major difference of opinion. I can't stand people who use dirty four-letter words, and my husband says that that's the way some people talk, and that I should accept them for what they are and try to get over my hang-up.

Sorry, but I can't. I wasn't brought up that way. It's not that I'm a prude, Abby. I've heard all the words and I know what they mean, but I don't see why people who talk dirty can't go out of their way to avoid offending those of us who have this so-called "hang-up" about four-letter words.

What is your feeling about this?

HUNG-UP

DEAR HUNG-UP: I'm hung up, too, because I wasn't brought up that way, either. But some of the most humane, constructive and interesting people I know occasionally resort to four-letter words. And some of the most intolerant, hypocritical, narrow-minded bigots wouldn't think of using such language.

The sensitive, considerate person who normally uses four-letter words will watch his language out of respect for those in his company whom he knows are offended by it. But one can't always judge a person's worth and character by his language any more than one can judge a book by its cover.

DEAR ABBY: Please help settle an argument. Rob and I had a large church wedding for which we sent out formal invitations six weeks prior to the wedding.

The r.s.v.p.'s were addressed to my parents and stamped, so all the people had to do was sign their name and drop it in the mailbox.

Out of 175 invited guests, we heard from only 150.

We also had a formal reception, and of those who accepted, 15 couples didn't show up. My parents had to pay for 30 dinners that were not touched. (We never received a note or even a phone call from the no-shows.)

I am all for sending each of these "no-show" couples a bill for their dinners. Rob says to drop it and forget the whole thing. What is your opinion?

BURNED IN METHUEN

DEAR BURNED: I'm with Rob.

DEAR ABBY: Everywhere I go, I see more and more "how to" books!

The latest is on how to make love. I have nothing against that. I'm sure a lot of people need help in that area, but I would like to make one comment.

We read so much about the importance of "foreplay." (Most men are in too big a hurry to get right down to the sex act, not realizing it takes a woman longer to get warmed up.) Very little, however, is said about "afterplay"—which, I think, is equally important.

If a man would just take his lady love in his arms and hold her, and maybe give her a little kiss on the nose afterwards, it would mean so much.

So many men just roll over and give the little lady their backs for the rest of the night. Abby, will you please pass this along to your male readers, if you think it has merit? Thanks.

LOVES TO BE LOVED

DEAR LOVES: Consider it passed. I wonder how many women have suffered in silence from such a seemingly minor oversight?

Everyone has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, L.A., Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

For Abby's booklet, "How to Have a Lovely Wedding," send $1 to Abigail Van Buren, 132 Lasky Dr., Beverly Hills, Calif. 90212. Please enclose a long, self-addressed, stamped (20¢) envelope.

Hedy Lamarr Has Eye Problems

NEW YORK (AP) — Hedy Lamarr's eye problems aren't all that serious and she isn't broke either, her lawyer says.

Miss Lamarr was quoted Wednesday as saying she was nearly blind from cataracts in both eyes and had applied for Social Security disability benefits.

But her attorney, Richard H. Wels, said Thursday that any blindness was temporary and she filled out a Social Security form as a matter of routine in case treatment wasn't successful.

He said she continues to get requests to do commercials and engages in other acting-related work.

Here's the Answer

Q. — I am starting to do some wood finishing, partly to restore a few pieces of furniture and partly as a hobby. One of the aspects of finishing that I haven't quite gotten the hang of is filling the pores of wood. Can you tell me something general about it and, specifically, what's the difference between a liquid and paste wood filler?

A. — The purpose of a filler is, as you have said, to fill the pores of wood, but many woods have such close-grained surfaces that no filler is necessary. When you have an open-grained wood, such as oak or walnut, you have a choice of whether to fill or not to fill the pores. That's because some persons want an especially smooth surface and others prefer the textured appearance of an open-grained wood as it is. Generally, a paste filler is used. If, however, you have a wood which has a fairly close grain, such as maple and birch, you may still want to fill the pores, in which case a liquid filler will do the job. There are a number of liquid fillers on the market. Some persons find shellac satisfactory for this purpose. Remember that filler can be applied only to raw wood, not to a surface which already has varnish, lacquer or anything similar on it. However, it can be applied over stain that has thoroughly dried. The key to applying a filler is to put it on, wait 10 or 15 minutes until it starts to take on a dull appearance, then wipe off the excess with a clean, lintless cloth.

Q. — Part of the outside of our house has a stucco finish. I intend to paint it soon. There are a few cracks in it. Can I paint right over them or do they have to be repaired first?

A. — By all means, patch them first. Not doing so will permit the entry of moisture and the probability of further cracking. Besides, why go to all the trouble of painting your house and leaving unsightly scars on it?

Q. — I recently painted our wooden house. Everything came out all right except the area under the eaves, where the paint apparently didn't take hold. What happened?

A. — Paint usually doesn't grip a glossy surface. What happened is that the wood under the eaves didn't weather as did the rest of the exterior and so was glossy when it was painted. Sanding glossy areas prior to painting is necessary.

Carter Presents Program

Joe Carter, Assistant Professor of Science at Western Texas college, was guest speaker at the April meeting of the Twilight Garden club. His theme was Wilderness Wild Flowers.

Mr. Carter gave a slide presentation of the Guadalupe Mountain area of Texas, and discussed at length the various types of vegetation found there. He gave both the scientific and common names of plants and showed many of them in full bloom.

Of particular interest to Twilight Garden club members was his description of McKittrick Canyon. In this immediate area are to be found many rare plants thought to date from the Wisconsin Ice Age. This canyon is the only place in the Southwest where many of the plants are found. Some of these rare plants can be found in a few isolated places in the United States. A few are to be found no other place in the world. "For some yet unknown reason, these plants have survived the ravages of the elements and the carelessness of man," Mr. Carter told the group.

Texans and out-of-state tourists may visit McKittrick Canyon. It is necessary, however, to make arrangements in advance, Mr. Carter advises.

Only a few small groups are allowed on the trails at one time for fear of disturbing both the plants and animals to be found there. Visitors are required to stay on well trodden trails. No motorized vehicles are allowed in the canyon and visitors must walk from a designated parking area. "If you plan to visit the canyon, be sure to wear comfortable walking shoes," the speaker admonished. "This canyon is a nature lover's paradise," Mr. Carter declared. Persons wishing to visit McKittrick Canyon should write in advance for permission to Guadalupe Mountains National Park, in Springs, Texas.

Mr. Carter is well qualified to discuss the topic requested of him by the garden club, since he spent sometime with the Texas Parks and Wild Life department in the gulf coast region following his college career. Mr. Carter does his own photography.

No decisions were finalized, but Nixon gave assurances that Whittier will at least get a share, said Bewley, Nixon's first law partner.

Pepper Is The Top In Spices

By TOM HOGE
AP Newsfeatures Writer

Ever since my doctor told me to go easy on the salt, I have leaned heavily on pepper in seasoning food and find it the most versatile of spices.

As the late Louis Diat, the famed chef, once noted, no other condiment does so much for so many types of food. Pepper, he said, will often be used three times on the same dish: first as an ingredient in the preparation, then to correct the over-all seasoning and finally at the table if the diner really wants to spice up his meal.

Pepper has a long and varied history. The ancient Greeks thought so highly of it that they used it in various medical potions. An antidote for poison hemlock consisted of pepper and a victim of suffocation was given a mixture of pepper and vinegar.

In Rome, pepper was a rare luxury, since the voyage to the Far East where the peppercorns were grown was long and hazardous. At one point, the spice rocketed in price to $125 a Roman pound, which was actually only 12 ounces.

Originally grown mainly in the East Indies, pepper is now cultivated in the tropical zones of both the eastern and western hemispheres. The latest commercial producer is Brazil, where they began cultivating the spice in the jungles half a century ago, but did not export it in a big way until after World War II.

To make black pepper, the entire peppercorn is dried and ground. However, in some foods like cream soups, light-color sauces and salad dressings where the dark grains don't look too appetizing, white pepper is used. This is made by removing the dark skin of the peppercorn and using only the core.

Generally speaking, white papper is milder flavored and lacks the bouquet of black pepper. It is usually finer in grind than the dark type.

Pepper should be kept in a dry place at room temperature. The whole peppercorns will keep indefinitely, but even the grind has a long life.

Here is a recipe for a favorite of mine in which pepper plays a key role.

STEAK AU POIVRE

2 tablespoons coarse-ground black pepper
A four-pound boneless sirloin steak, about two inches thick
1 teaspoon salt, if desired
½ cup dry red wine

Rub black pepper into both sides of steak. Let it stand at room temperature 30 minutes. Lightly grease large, heavy skillet and heat well. Sprinkle both sides of steak with salt and place in skillet. Cook on each side till done as desired, or about 8 to 10 minutes. Remove meat to a serving platter. Add wine to skillet and stir for one minute. Pour over steak. Slice and serve. Good with a robust red Burgundy. Serves 6 to 8 people.

Dido, according to Greek mythology, was founder and queen of Carthage and stabbed herself when deserted by Aeneas.

3-3A Track Meet Should Be Close

"This could be the best track meet in the state this week," said Coach Bill Hartsfield of the Snyder High school track team. He was referring to the District 3-AAA Meet, which will be held Saturday at the Lubbock Coronado track.

Prelims begin at 10 a.m., field events start at 2 p.m., and finals get underway at 3 p.m.

Hartsfield said Lubbock Estacado will be favored, but they should receive plenty of competition from Brownfield, Lubbock Dunbar and the Tigers.

Several exciting races are in prospect. The sprint relay race will feature three teams that have run under 43.0 this year. They include Estacado (42.0), Dunbar (42.4) and Snyder (42.8).

Dunbar's Mark Gentry and Snyder's Steve Green could put on a close race in the 120 yard high hurdles. Gentry's best time is 14.6, and Green's best is 14.8. The two finished in almost a dead heat at the Canyon Reef Relays this year. A Lamesa boy also has been timed in 14.8 as well as another Dunbar entry.

Estacado's West has been timed in 9.6 in the century this season, but he will get plenty of competition from Snyder's Welton Cobb, whose best time in the event this year is 9.9. Welton has been bothered by a strained leg muscle, but the layoff last week could help him. He ran a 9.5 as a sophomore. Cobb also will be a strong entry in the 220 yard dash.

Hartsfield said Charles Greenfield will be running on the mile relay unit this week along with Levi Hill, Alvin Neely and George Willis. The sprint relay unit will include George Willis, Alvin Neely, Levi Hill and Welton Cobb.

Complete entries for the Tigers follow:

440 yard relay—George Willis, Alvin Neely, Levi Hill and Welton Cobb.

880 yard run—Greg Gafford, Henry Dever and Jerry Huddleston.

120 yard high hurdles—Steve Green, Chester Cobb and Tim Falls.

100 yard dash—Welton Cobb, George Willis and Ronnie Hines.

440 yard dash—Alvin Neely, Brent Terry and Greg Early.

220 yard dash—Welton Cobb, Levi Hill and Ronnie Hines.

330 yard intermidiate hurdles—Steve Green, Chester Cobb and Tim Falls.

mile run—Bryan Littlepage, Steve Fisher and Phil von Roeder.

mile relay—Levi Hill, Alvin Neely, George Willis and Charles Greenfield.

high jump—Chester Cobb, Tracy Knipe, Froilan Reyes.

long jump—Chester Cobb, Doyle Browning.

pole vault—Loyd Bachus.

shot put—Mike Freeman, David Rice.

There also will be a 9th grade division at the district meet.

Evert Eyes Top Prizes

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Chris Evert, this year's top money winner, says she has been working hard for a week preparing for this weekend's World Series of Tennis and its $50,000 first prize—the largest in women's tennis history.

The 20-year-old tennis pro said the reason for so much practice is that she meets Olga Morozova of Russia at 10:30 a.m. (CDT) Saturday in the first match of the four-player, $100,000 tournament.

In Saturday's second match at the Lakeway World of Tennis northwest of here, Billie Jean King faces Evonne Goolagong of Australia at 1 p.m. (CDT) before a national televisvon audience.

Evert said in most tournaments she has a chance to play some lesser pros before meeting someone as good as Morozova. "I know Olga's game," Evert said with respect.

She must know Olga's style because Morozova has yet to win a match from Evert. Last year at the Wimbledon finals Evert defeated Morozova.

Evert, who has pocketed $133,450 so far this year, said the World Series of Tennis is an important step in women's tennis because the top four players will be there.

"We don't get a chance to get together very often, especially with Billie Jean in semi-retirement," Evert said.

King announced earlier this year that she was reducing the number of tournaments in which she would appear.

The winners of Saturday's matches will meet at 1:45 p.m. (CDT) Sunday, again before a national television audience. Second place is worth $25,000.

The winner of the third-place prize of $15,000 witl be determined Sunday at 10:30 a.m. (CDT).

The tournanent is sponsored by L'eggs Products, Inc.

Tigers Face Tough Cubs Today

Can the Snyder Tiger varsity baseball team do it?

They've got their work cut out for them in Brownfield at 5 o'clock this afternoon when they go up against the Cubs' strong pitcher, Randy Rozean, for the third time. Rozean struck out 17 the first time he faced the Tigers, and he hurled a 3-hitter the second time.

Coach Speedy Moffett of the Tigers will start Gary Greenlee (4-2), who returned to action this week after recovering from a foot injury.

Moffett listed probable starters, according to batting order, as follows: Randy Gressett cf, Kelly Ragland 2b, Robert Alderete ss, Ernie Simons c, Richard Tovar lf, Danny Brumley 3b, Sid Perry lb, Barry Blalock rf, and Gary Greenlee p.

If the Tigers can beat the Cubs today, then the two teams will be fighting for the district lead when they tangle here at 5 p.m. next Tuesday in Moffett Field.

Coronado Nips JV

Lubbock Cornado's junior varsity baseball team whipped the Snyder JV, 6-3, here yesterday afternoon in Moffett Field.

The Snyder JV originally was scheduled to meet Abilene Cooper's JV here Saturday, but that contest has been postponed until 4 p.m. Thursday. Meanwhile, the local JV will visit Lubbock Coronado for a 4 p.m. engagement Monday.

The contest yesterday featured a sparkling mound duel between Randy Gressett of Snyder and Johnson of Coronado

Each pitcher gave up just three hits, but several Snyder errors contributed to the visitor's victory. Gressett fanned five, and Johnson struck out seven. Both hurlers went the distance.

Snyder scored once in the 4th frame and twice in the 5th. Coronado got a single run in the 4th, three tallies in the 5th and two in the 6th.

Coronado's first run resulted from an error, a sacrifice and a passed ball. Snyder's first tally resulted from a walk, a fielder's choice and a sacrifice.

Coronado got its three 5th inning runs on a walk and a single by Bowen combined with two errors, a stolen base and a passed ball.

In the bottom of the 5th for Snyder, Calvin Reese reached first on an error and scored on a triple by Kyle Sikes, who came in on a single by Gressett.

Coronado got its final two tallies on a single by Crawford and a walk combined with two errors.

LA Sweeps Cincinnati

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
AP Sports Writer

While the National League was keeping a watchful eye on the rematch between the Los Angeles Dodgers and the Cincinnati Reds, two unheralded teams — the Atlanta Braves and Chicago Cubs — were putting on quite a show of their own this week.

The Dodgers, who dropped three in a row in Cincinnati last week, completed a four-game sweep of the Reds in Los Angeles Thursday, winning 5-4 on an 11th-inning error. That left them tied atop the NL West with the Braves, who won their third straight from Houston, 2-1 in 10 innings.

"We're playing good ball. We're going to make the Dodgers and Cincinnati take notice," warned Braves Manager Clyde King.

Meanwhile, the Cubs, who brought up the bottom of the East Division a year ago and were picked to repeat, ran their winning streak to six in a row following an opening-game setback, edging the Philadelphia Phillies 10-9.

"We know this pace is impossible to keep up," said Rick Monday, who drove in five runs with a homer, single and sacrifice fly. "But a lot of people had us buried before the opening of the season. I hope their shovels get rusty."

Elsewhere in the National League, the Montreal Expos beat the Pittsburgh Pirates 7-4 and the New York Mets trounced the St. Louis Cardinals 14-7. In the only American League action, the Texas Rangers trimmed the Chicago White Sox 7-3. The California-Minnesota game was rained out.

Braves 2, Astros 1

Carl Morton scattered nine hits for his third consecutive complete-game victory — he blanked Houston after the first inning — and scored the winning run on Mike Lum's two-out single in the 10th. Morton opened the 10th with a single off Dave Roberts and was sacrificed to second one out later. After an intentional walk to Darrell Evans, Lum delivered his game-winning hit.

Dodgers 5, Reds 4

Jimmy Wynn raced home from second base on a two-out error by Cincinnati first baseman Dan Driessen in the 11th inning following a pair of two-out singles. Wynn started things by outlegging an infield hit down the third base line with two out off Clay Carroll. He moved to second on a single by Steve Garvey, who had five hits and whose two-out single in the bottom of the ninth tied the score. Willie Crawford's grounder then rolled through Driessen's legs, allowing Wynn to score an unearned run.

Cincinnati appeared to have won the game in the ninth, when Cesar Geronimo's leadoff homer tied the game and Pete Rose sent the Reds ahead with a run-scoring single off Mike Marshall. Dave Concepcion homered earlier for the Reds. But the Dodgers tied it on singles by Dave Lopes, Manny Mota and Garvey.

Cubs 10, Phils 9

Monday's three-run homer snapped a 2-2 tie in the fifth inning and the Cubs built a 10-4 bulge and held on behind the clutch relief pitching of Oscar Zamora. Pete LaCock also homered for the Cubs while Mike Schmidt connected for Philadelphia.

The Cubs salted the game away in the sixth, pounding Cy Acosta and Ron Schueler for five runs. The key blows were LaCock's homer, a two-run single by Bill Madlock and RBI singles by Monday and Jerry Morales.

Expos 7, Pirates 4

Larry Parrish scored the tie-breaking run in the seventh inning on a wild relay throw by Rennie Stennett attempting to complete an inning-ending double play. Montreal then added five runs in the ninth.

Parrish singled to start the ninth-inning outburst, which included run-scoring doubles by Pete Mackanin and Jose Morales, an RBI single by Pepe Mangual and a two-run double by Mike Jorgensen. The Pirates roughed up winner Dave McNally for three runs in the bottom of he ninth, two on Willie Stargell's third homer.

Mets 14, Cardinals 7

Jack Heidemann's three-run double capped a tie-breaking five-run sixth inning. The Mets chased Lynn McGlothen during a six-run first but Ted Simmons' three-run homer highlighted a four-run St. Louis rally in the bottom of the first. Simmons added a solo homer in the fifth.

St. Louis' Ted Sizemore tied a major league record for second basemen by committing three errors in one inning as the Mets were hammering relievers Elias Sosa and Ray Sadecki during their winning burst.

Rangers 7, White Sox 3

Mike Hargrove doubled across two runs and Jim Spencer tripled home two more in a six-run fifth inning that helped Ferguson Jenkins win his first game in three starts. Hargrove doubled home another run in the ninth. Jenkins, who entered the game with a 10.38 earned run average, allowed seven hits and one run in 7 2-3 innings.

"It feels good to finally win that first one," said Jenkins, a 25-game winner last season. "I kept the ball down and didn't make any bad pitches."

Dr. Lamb

Many diseases can affect muscles

By Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB—I read the letter in your column from the 17-year-old girl who went on a diet and became really slim but also developed a foot drop. She stated she started taking vitamins to correct the foot drop and it worked.

You suggested taking thiamin for her foot.

I have foot drop, too, but I am supposed to have "Charcot-Marie Tooth" disease. Doctors told me the drop went with the disease.

Can a foot drop be easily corrected by a certain vitamin or thiamin-containing foods as this girl's was? Or, does having a muscular disease make it impossible to correct a foot drop with vitamins? Would vitamin B-1 help me?

DEAR READER—A single outward sign of a disorder in function can be caused by many diseases or medical problems. That is why the treatment may vary for the same apparent condition.

A foot drop is a good example. To raise the foot you need well-functioning muscles, a good skeletal system for the muscles to act against as levers and good nerves that are able to carry the stimulus to the muscles resulting in a contraction or relaxation.

The muscles may have any number of diseases that cause them to be unable to function properly. If they fail entirely the foot drop will occur.

Any number of diseases can affect the nerves and the parts of the central nervous system they connect with. Then the muscles, depending on the nerves, may not function.

Polio may affect nerve cells in the spinal cord and cause the legs or arms to be paralyzed The disease is in the spinal cord. The nerves leaving the spinal cord may be damaged by some mechanical factor in the spinal area, or the nerves may be cut or injured some distance from the spinal cord.

Of course one of the disorders that can affect the nerves is poor nutrition. Vitamin B-12 deficiency may affect the spinal cord and cause degeneration of cells that relate to normal posture and walking. Vitamin B-1 or thiamin deficiency is more generally related to nerve function.

When the muscles are the primary problem, treatment is directed toward correcting the muscular disorder, if possible. To prevent damage from polio, one needs a preventive program to protect against the infectious disease – taking vitamins won't do this, nor will they correct the nerve damage that results from infection with the polio virus.

If there is a mechanical factor, such as a slipped disc, making pressure on a nerve the obvious course is to treat the disc problem.

The girl you asked about no doubt had vitamin deficiencies from her starvation diet. In these instances or in any disease that results in vitamin deficiencies, replacing the vitamins is a big help. Large doses of thiamin seem to be particularly useful in helping the nerves to regain normal function quickly.

So you might get a little benefit if you happen to have a low thiamin level in your body, but vitamins won't correct your basic problem. A reasonable amount won't harm you either.

Send your questions to Dr. Lamb, in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, N.Y. 10019. For a copy of Dr. Lamb's booklet on balanced diet, send 50 cents and a long self-addressed stamped envelope to the same address and ask for the "Balanced diet" booklet.

Hughes Asked To Dismiss Charges

DALLAS (AP) — The suspended secretary of House Speaker Carl Albert has requested U.S. Dist. Court Judge Sarah T. Hughes to dismiss mail and wire fraud charges against her because she says they were filed to embarrass Albert.

Judge Hughes next week is expected to hear Pauline Girvin's motion to dismiss a six-count indictment which named her and Joe Ben Champion, a 57-year-old Lewisville attorney, as being involved in a scheme to defraud money from criminal defendants and their families.

The indictment, returned in February, alleges Miss Girvin and Champion claimed influence with Albert and said he would help them "fix" the defendants' charges.

Miss Girvin's Washington attorney, Robert C. McCandless, charged in the motion filed here Thursday that U.S. Atty. Frank McCown caused a "highly political and prejudicial indictment" to be returned.

McCandless said that despite the fact that the indictment exonerates Albert, "it nonetheless sufficiently embarrassed (Albert), the ranking Democrat and the highest elected official in the U.S. government to cause him to place the defendent on 'administrative leave'."

Woman Arrested

DALLAS (AP) — Sheriff's officers arrested Luanne Barner, 33, Wednesday on charges of stealing $236,000 from the International Power Machines Corp. in suburban Mesquite, where she was employed.

Justice of the Peace Tom Naylor ordered her to jail in lieu of $100,000 bond.

The media magic of the Baptists

By David Poling

If you were handing out awards for the best use of mass-media by a religious organization, the southern Baptists would get an arm full of Oscars.

The airways are filled with a wild jumble of services, preachers, healers, phonies, Bible lessons, and part-time prophets. Some main-line demoninations do well with children's programs and others offer first-rate counseling. But week in and week out, the Baptists seem to have the knack for communicating ideas, projecting a caring image and challenging some of the rigid assumptions of this secular society.

In Albuquerque, N.M., the pastor of the First Baptist Church, Dr. Morris Chapman, has made effective use of television spots to advertise the concerns and programs of his congregation. Not only are these 20-second spots well produced, but the selection time is carefully chosen to hit a family audience. Sometimes these spots appear during the newscasts at other times in late evening. One key presentation was made just thirty minutes before the Super bowl.

Dr. Jimmy Allen covers the San Antonio metropolitan community with Sunday telecasts from the morning worship service. A powerful and persuasive speaker, he invited his viewing audience to telephone the church office after every program. Members of the pastoral staff handle the "phonies" and offer immediate assistance and guidance to those with a problem. Dr. Allen also makes personal comments on currentevents that are broadcast during a weekly news show—right there between sports and weather. And First Baptist is booming.

When the Baptists built their state headquarters in Louisiana in 1960, they located in Alexandria, the geographic center. Here is a nerve center for a dozen different agencies that serve the $1,300 cooperative Southern Baptist Churches and their small sign at the front door hardly reached the 100,000 who passed the building every day. So Dr. Robert L. Lee, executive secretary of the convention, came up with a block-buster: the largest religious message center in the world, up on the roof, facing north and south.

Costing almost $75,000 the message center is 80 feet square, with four-foot letters. The messages are flashed on 64 lampbanks, directed by a computer system downstairs. Messages, announcements, scripture quotations and inspiration words can be stationary or traveling. Most of the time—day and night—the letters move across the board. Some recent sentences: "God is Thy Refuge and Strength. . .God cares for you."

Lee is a communicator. He wanted the public to know that this is the Baptist building--but more than an office complex. It is the symbol of Christian conviction about man and God and the world. A couple of weeks ago the electronic pulpit said simply:

Tonic for the Times
Chin up Look up
Never Never Give up.

You don't have to be Baptist to appreciate the lift of their message.

The Wondrous World OF CHILDHOOD

This child is filled with wonder for God's handiwork. There's something rare in a young child's eyes. If only we could see the world through the eyes of a child we would know how wondrous is His work.

Jesus knew this when he said "Whosoever shall not receive the kingdom as a little child, he shall not enter therein." Mark 10:15

Open your eyes, try to see the world with a new-born's eyes. You will marvel at what you see.
