Army Lawyer In McCarthy Hearing Dies

HYANNIS, Mass. (AP)—Joseph N. Welch, Army counsel in the Army-McCarthy hearings, died unexpectedly today at Cape Cod Hospital of a heart condition.

He would have been 70 years old Oct. 22.

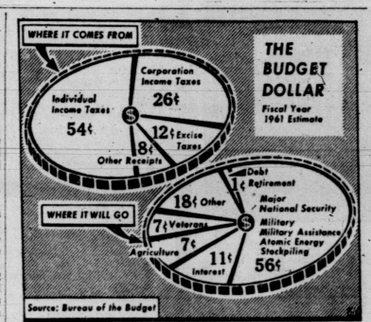

Welch, known as a lawyer's lawyer, gained national prominence as special counsel for the Army in its 1954 wrangle with the late U.S. Sen. Joseph McCarthy.

Welch, who had been living quietly at his secluded Cape Cod home for the past few years, was hospitalized at Haynnis with a heart condition early in September.

Until the Army-McCarthy hearings put his face—and his wry, sometimes devastating wit — on the nation's television screens, Welch was little known outside legal circles. But among lawyers, he was considered one of the best.

Colleagues said he was a lawyer — one who frequently was called by other attorneys and law firms for consultation on their cases.

In 1959, Welch moved from the courtroom to the movie set, to portray the judge in the film "Anatomy of a Murder." He appeared on television periodically, taking part in discussion programs.

3 Americans Are Included

By HAROLD K. MILKS

HAVANA (AP)—A platoon-sized invasion force from the United States has landed in east Cuba and headed into the mountains after suffering three casualties in a brush with militiamen, the Armed Forces Ministry announced today.

A ministry communique said the landing was made by 27 men, including three Americans, "at dawn yesterday" on a bay midway between the towns of Baracoa and Moa, the site of a nationalized American mining company.

The area is in Oriente Province, the revolutionary stamping grounds of Prime Minister Fidel Castro.

The communique was undated, and it was not specified whether the reported landing was Tuesday or Wednesday. The battle apparently occurred a few hours after the force touched shore.

The commander of the invasion force was killed and two of the men—one wounded — were captured, the ministry said.

The commander was identified as Armentino Feria, a follower of Cuban ex-Sen. Rolando Masferrer. Masferrer, a wealthy backer of the deposed President Fulgencio Batista, is a refugee in the United States.

"The remainder of the group cannot escape the revolutionary army and loyal militiamen," the communique said. "Our government is fully aware of this open activity by which imperialism is attempting to promote counter-revolutionary activity and acts of terrorism."

For months Castro has been predicting an invasion. This incident, as outlined by the Armed Forces Ministry, appears to be the first confirmation that opposition forces are ready to move men into Cuba to assist the insurgents already fighting in the Escambray Mountains in the center of the island.

Rumors that Masferrer's supporters planned a landing have circulated here for weeks. One version said 50 well-armed men had succeeded in landing in central Cuba and joined the other insurgents—estimated up to 1,000 men—in the mountains.

The communique named two prisoners. It said these are Enrique Torres Perez, who was wounded, and Arturo Alverez, described as a Batista ex-soldier sought for the assassination of three persons during Castro's war against Batista.

"Circles which direct policies of the United States government" were blamed for the invasion. The communique said that "Cuba's revolutionary government is gathering evidence of their activities."

The survivors of the band are apparently seeking to reach the higher mountains of eastern Cuba before Castro forces are concentrated to cut them off.

The invaders came from the United States—said the communique, issued by the Armed Forces Ministry — and landed between Baracoa and Moa, the location of a nationalized American mining company.

The announcement said the commander, Armentino Feria, was killed in a clash with Prime Minister Fidel Castro's militiamen and one other member of the band was wounded and captured.

Feria was identified as a follower of Cuban ex-Sen. Rolando Mansferrer, who was a backer of the Fulgencio Batista regime.

The remainder of the invading group, with 50 Cuban farmers as hostages, was reported to have reached an area called Nueva Mundo with Castro forces, including militiamen and local supporters, in pursuit.

Neutrals Push Drive

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—Embittered by defeat of their attempt to produce a Soviet-United States summit meeting, Asian-African neutrals pushed a campaign today to build a peace bridge between the world's two greatest powers.

The Communist bloc in the U.N. General Assembly, at the same time, reacted exuberantly to the developments, hailing the neutralist clash with the United States as a clear victory for Premier Khrushchev. As one Communist representative put it, the Soviet premier "did not even have to lift a finger" to achieve it.

U. S. maneuvers succeeded early today in heading off the neutralist proposal urging a conference of President Eisenhower and Premier Khrushchev. But American diplomats conceded the United States may have sustained damage as a result of the neutralist struggle.

Both Eisenhower and Khrushchev had made clear they did not want to meet, but the Communists simply stood by and abstained from voting while the United States led the strategy to defeat the neutralists' bid.

The neutralists finally gave up the struggle for their five-nation U. S.-Soviet summit proposal after the Assembly, at U. S. urging, voted to delete specific reference to the two government heads and call merely for rsumption of Soviet-American diplomatic contacts. But there was no one-sided majority such as the United States had enjoyed on other issues.

An indication of the Asian-African bloc's new tactics came at the outset of today's Assembly session. Iraq, a member of the bloc, appealed to all nations of Asia, Africa and Latin America to advocate "positive neutrality" and establish an East-West bridge.

Iraqi Foreign Minister Hashim Jawad told the Assembly that in view of the increasing danger of war, all member states should rally to support of the United Nations. He added that "the two blocs have not reached the point of collision, and there still exists space separating them which could be occupied by other powers.

"The time has come for the noncommitted nations and others who recently attained independence to hasten to occupy this space and to bridge the gap which separates East and West."

Jawad's address was taken as a clear indication of neutralist and Asian-African thinking. Iraq had lined up with India's Prime Minister Nehru in the efforts to bring about a U. S.-Soviet meeting.

Yanks Bomb Bucs, 16-3

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The New York Yankees bombed six Pittsburgh pitchers for 19 hits, including a pair of homers by Mickey Mantle, in crushing the Pirates 16-3 Thursday. This tied the World Series at 1-1.

The two homers, driving in five runs, and a seven-hit, seven-run spree in the sixth inning, wrecked the Pirates. The Yanks' hit total was only one behind the Series record of 20 set by the New York Giants in 1921 and the St. Louis Cardinals in 1946.

The teams will take Friday off and then resume the best-of-seven series in New York's Yankee Stadium Saturday. Whitey Ford (12-9) of the Yankees is expected to oppose Pittsburgh's Vinegar Bend Mizell (14-8) in a battle of left-handers.

Despite the big cushion his mates gave him, right-hander Bob Turley, shaky all the way, couldn't finish the game. He was replaced by Bobby Shantz with one out in the ninth and two men on. Shantz then ended the game by getting Don Hoak to hit into a double play.

Pickets Seal Off GE Plant

SCHENECTADY, N. Y. (AP)—"Shoulder - to-shoulder, belly-to-back" picketing by an estimated total of 3,500 union members today sealed the main plant of the General Electric Co., where 22,000 normally work.

No one passed through the gates, Local 301 of the International Union of Electrical Workers said.

In Syracuse, violence erupted at GE's Electronics Park for the third day. Sheriff's deputies arrested two persons and used fire hoses and clubs to force back angry pickets.

Four pickets were arrested at the Schenectady plant.

The IUE struck GE on a nationwide basis Monday in a dispute over a new contract. The union represents 70,000 of GE's 240,000 workers.

The IUE local in Schenectady originally had voted against the strike. But when a majority of other locals across the country voted in favor, the Schenectady local circulated petitions and said its members had decided to strike beginning today.

Unrest Reported In Congo Interior

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—The United Nations today reported continuing unrest in the Congo interior, mostly caused by workers dissatisfied with their pay.

Worker demonstrations were dispersed in Stanleyville and elsewhere. There were no reports of casualties.

One Killed, Another Hurt As South Texas Hit By Storms

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Violent lightning storms killed a man and injured a woman in Texas Wednesday and a tornado tore the roof from a San Antonio radio station transmitter as wide areas of the state were hit by fierce weather.

Trees and power lines were uprooted by strong winds in Bexar County, drenching rains stalled traffic in Houston and lightning set a small oil storage tank afire in the South Texas city.

By early Thursday the weather had calmed and only a few patches of clouds covered Texas. Temperatures ranged from 48 degrees at Dalhart to 72 at Laredo. No rain was reported.

Small craft warnings continued for the lower Texas coast south of Corpus Christi. The forecast for that area called for scattered thunderstorms and squalls with wind gusts of 30 knots.

Chester O. Odom, 31, of Houston burned to death Wednesday night when his home was set afire by lightning during a rainstorm that dumped 2.70 inches of rain on the city. North Houston Fire Chief E. F. Baudat said the fire was caused by a bolt of lightning.

The rain in Houston stalled traffic as streets and underpasses trapped for 15 minutes in a real estate office when lightning snapped a 12,000-volt power line which fell in front of the office's only door.

At San Anonio Mrs. Fred Ramsey, 43, was critically burned when hit by lightning after she took refuge during a violent storm under a tree at a golf course.

The chief engineer at San Antonio radio station KMAC, Al Knight, said a small tornado lifted the roof off a building housing the station's transmitter equipment and sent it 150 feet. The station was knocked off the air and rain caused heavy damage to the transmission equipment. The equipment is located 10 miles southeast of the city.

The Weather Bureau said hail the size of golf balls lashed Alta Loma, a small community just west of Galveston on the Texas coast.

Strong winds knocked down trees and power lines and damaged roofs in scattered areas in Bexar County, the county in which San Antonio is located. Rains of up to an inch fell in the county.

Heavy rains fell in South and Southeast Texas and along the Texas coast. Austin had hail larger than one inch in diameter.

Rainfall totals for the 24 hours ending at 6 p.m. included Houston 1.61 inches, College Station .95, Austin .68, Palacios .63, Beaumont .32, Galveston .32, San Antonio .10, Cotulla .05, Lufkin .04, Wink .02 and Abilene .01.

Bank Teller's Cage Damaged By Blaze

Fire of undetermined origin did light damage to a teller's drive in cage at the Snyder National Bank at 8 p.m. Wednesday night.

A spokesman for the bank stated that most of the damage was scorched and peeled paint.

The Snyder Fire Department had the fire out within minutes after arrival.

Tax Office In New Site

Taxpaying season is here, and apparently many taxpayers in the Snyder Independent School District have forgotten where the tax office is.

The school tax office moved to new quarters in the school administration building on West Thirty-seventh Street last February, following a tenure of several years near the police station on Twenty-sixth Street.

Hardy Scarborough, school tax collector, said several taxpayers have gone to the old location seeking to pay their taxes.

The school tax office now may be reached easily by going to the north entrance of the new wing of the school administration building.

Dominicans Want Envoy To Leave

CIUDAD TRUJILLO, Dominican Republic (AP) — About 25 pickets paraded in front of the U. S. Consulate Wednesday night with signs urging the Dominican Republic to expel the consulate staff.

The U. S. ambassador and his staff were withdrawn after a meeting of Western Hemisphere foreign ministers in San. Jose, Costa Rica, adopted a resolution for the American republics to break diplomatic relations with the Dominican Republic. The foreign ministers had agreed that dictator Rafael Trujillo was implicated in an attempt to assassinate Venezuela's President Romulo Betancourt in June.

JAYCEES PLAN FOR STAGE SHOW HERE

The Snyder Jaycees will sponsor the stage show "The Moon Is Blue" to be presented at the high school auditorium Saturday, Oct. 15, with all proceeds from the show to be donated to the Goodfellows organization for their Christmas fund drive.

The hit stage show, later a popular movie, is rated as light comedy involving a boy, a girl and a "wolf" in one apartment for one evening.

Intensive Search Made For Bandits Posing As Officers

EL PASO (AP)—A search for three vicious bandits who posed as police officers to highjack motorists has switched to Mexico.

El Paso County Sheriff Bob Bailey said, "We believe we have the three bottled up in Juarez," across the border from El Paso.

The bandits, while posing as police officers, stopped four cars on a lonely stretch of U.S. 82-180 Wednesday and robbed the travelers. One woman was raped by one of the bandits. Other motorists were beaten and left bound in a roadside pasture.

Bailey said, "The Juarez police are cooperating with us 100 per cent in trying to find these men. We have roadblocks all around the area."

At Wheeler, Tex., Texas Ranger Bill Henslee filed a charge of rape and highway robbery against Eldon Harold Hale, a fugitive ex-convict from Livermore, Calif.

Hale was charged with raping a 15-year-old California girl after holdup men halted the girl and her mother Sept. 29 between McLean and Shamrock on U.S. 66.

Henslee said the description of one of the men who held up motorists and raped a woman near El Paso resembles that of Hale.

A car stolen from one of the victims and used by the bandits in their escape was found abandoned in El Paso near one of the bridges to Juarez.

The high-jackings occurred about 40 miles east of El Paso in deserted, open range country. Following the robberies, one of the victims freed himself from his bonds and made his way to the highway and summoned help.

The victims said their attackers approached from the rear in a car equipped with a siren and spotlight and the leader of the group wore a policeman's cap.

Texas law officers added that two obscene-talking holdup men posing as officers and using red signaling flashlights, halted a car containing three women and a boy near Roby on June 3. The lives of the victims were threatened, but they were not harmed. A similar case was reported near Wheeler, Tex.

South Africans Apparently Voting To Form A Republic

By RICHARD KASISCHKE

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) — A diminishing anti-republican lead indicated today that South Africans have voted to cut their country loose from the British crown.

The forces opposing Nationalist Prime Minister Hendrix Verwoerd's plan to turn the British Commonwealth nation into a republic still clung to a lead of 102,000 votes with 86 of the 156 districts reported. But many heavily Nationalist rural districts were yet to be heard from.

Prof. Arthur Vicksley, running an electrical computer, predicted the margin in favor of a republic would approach 80,000 when all the votes were in from Wednesday's referendum.

United party leader Sir De Villiers Graaff, who led the anti-republicans, had not yet conceded defeat, however, and Verwoerd had not yet claimed a victory.

Dutch-born Verwoerd has declared that he will consider a majority of only one vote a mandate to submit to the Nationalist-controlled Parliament legislation to turn South Africa into a republic, substituting an elected president for Queen Elizabeth II as chief of state and recognizing the British sovereign only as head of the commonwealth.

Verwoerd says he hopes to keep South Africa in the Commonwealth as a republic as India, Pakistan and Ghana have remained. But this will require the unanimous consent of the other 10 member governments, and Asian and African members have shown strong signs of wanting to expel South Africa in retaliation for the Nationalist government's apartheid policy of strict racial segregation.

In the counting of the referendum vote, the Nationalists jumped into an early lead. Then the anti-republicans forged ahead by 102,000 votes when 61 districts—mostly urban—were in. But this lead began melting when rural districts began reporting at daylight.

A record outpouring of nearly 1.5 million votes apparently was cast from an all-white electorate of about 1.8 million. South Africa's 12 million nonwhites could only stand by and watch the plebiscite.

'LICKIN' GOOD EATIN' COMING UP—Snyderites have been licking their chops for months for a meal being prepared above by the ladies of the high school cafeteria staff. Put all those ingredients together and they spell the Downtown Lions Club chicken-spaghetti supper that will be served Friday from 5 p.m. to 7 p.m. prior to the Snyder-Breckenridge football game. Above on left, manager Joyce Smith watches as Veda Minor and Vera Wilson get spaghetti (in front), Texa Jones tests the coffee, Thelma Hale slices tomatoes, Plumie Jones and Ivy Lloyd attack the chicken, and Merle Williams and Pauline Lee put the finishing touches to the pies.

Says Guerrillas Trained In Cuba

WASHINGTON (AP)—A former chief of Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro's parachute troops says Latin Americans have been trained in Cuba in guerrilla warfare.

The testimony was given to the Senate Internal Security subcommittee by Capt. Alfonso Manuel Chanes de Rojo of Rio. He appeared at a closed-door hearing last January soon after resigning from the Cuban armed forces.

In his testimony, made public today, Roche said guerrilla training courses for the Cuban forces are attended by men from several Central and South American nations.

Specifically, he listed the Dominican Republic, Nicaragua, Paraguay, Guatemala, Salvador, and Costa Rica.

"I don't know for certain, but I am sure that there are representatives of all the countries that have dictators where Fidel would like to move in," Roche testified.

He was asked if these men, after finishing the training courses, returned to their own countries. "Most of them, yes," he replied.

Roche named Gen. Alberto Bayo as author of a manual on guerrilla tactics used by the Cuban armed forces and as director general and instructor in the school of revolutionary training.

He said that Raul Castro, Fidel's brother, and commander in chief of the Cuban revolutionary armed forces, is the boss of the training school, but testified that Ernesto Guevara, president of the National Bank of Cuba, actually controls it.

Raul Castro, Guevara and Bayo were among about a score of Fidel Castro's fellow rebels whom Roche named as Communists.

Roche is a 44-year-old Argentinian who joined up with the Castro forces after flying arms to them from Costa Rica in March 1958. He told of overhearing a conversation in which he quoted Raul Castro as saying: "Now we are going against Santo Domingo. Next against all the dictators in Latin America. And ultimately against the United States."

Did Raul say, "We must convince the Latin American countries that the United States is the chief enemy?" Roche was asked.

Amos Rites In Menard

Funeral services were to be held in Menard this afternoon for Mrs. Ed Amos, 66, who died at her home there Wednesday.

Mrs. Amos was the mother of J. H. "Ace" Amos, football coach at Lamar Junior High School here.

Rites were set for 2:30 p.m. today at Mission Funeral Home Chapel in Menard. Burial was to be in Rest Haven Cemetery there.

Mrs. Amos, a resident of Menard county for 36 years, is survived by her husband, two daughters, Mrs. Johnnie Sorrell of Menard and Mrs. A. M. White of San Antonio; two sons, J. H. of Snyder and Edgar Amos Jr. of Menard; two brothers, L. E. Riley of Stephenville and Fred Riley of San Antonio. Fourteen grandchildren also survive.

Ike To Appear With Women's GOP Group

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower will appear Monday night with a group of Republican women campaign workers on a televised program sponsored by Volunteers for Nixon-Lodge.

The President may make an opening statement in support of the Republican ticket, and then will reply to questions asked by the women volunteers. White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said the questions and answers will be unrehearsed.

Krush Agrees To Appear On Program

NEW YORK (AP) — Soviet Premier Khrushchev has accepted an invitation to appear Sunday on WNTA's "Open End" program. It will be broadcast and televised in the metropolitan area.

The station said Khrushchev would receive unlimited time to air his views during the program, which starts at 9 p.m.

Moderator of the program is Davis Susskind. After the Soviet leader leaves the air, a panel will discuss what Khrushchev has to say.

Youth Group Is Offering Free Rides

The Youth Against Alcohol group here will offer transportation to the polls for city voters Saturday during the wet-dry election, according to Buddy Patterson, president.

The service will be available to all voters. The group also will provide babysitters in homes while parents vote. The Scurry County United Drys will set up nurseries at the First Methodist and First Baptist Churches from 8 a.m. to 7 p.m. where parents may leave their children while they vote and shop on election day.

The youth group's transportation and babysitting service may be obtained by calling HI 3-3901.

The youth group has mailed "prayer cards" to voters in the city. One side of the card contains a prayer, while the other side carries a plea for all eligible voters to vote in the Saturday election.

Brother Of Two Snyderites Dies

Lonnie Wiggins, brother of two Snyder residents, died Tuesday in Maiysville, Wash., with funeral services in Maiysville pending this morning.

Snyder survivors include one sister, Mrs. Luther A. Rollins, and one brother Ernest Wiggins.

Of the Chicago White Sox first 27 games this season, relief pitcher Gerry Staley appeared in 35. He won nine games and made innumerable saves.

Murtaugh credits the comebacks Roberto Clemente and Bill Mazeroski with having much to do with the Pirates' showing this season.

A Message To The Voters Of The City Of Snyder

Among the Tennessee mountains some years ago, there lived a man who made a living by catching rattlesnakes. He put them in boxes covered with glass and exhibited them on his front porch upon the public road, and sold them to curiosity hunters. This mountaineer had one child, a fat-faced, chubby-handed, sweet little boy named Jim. Jim was the most precious object on earth to him. He brought a rattlesnake from the mountains one day, placed it alive in a glass-covered box, slipped the lid over it, and stepped out to the wood-pile to chop some wood. Little Jim came up, pulled back the lid, and with his chubby little hands, pulled the reptile out and on his lap. The snake planted its fangs in the little boy's cheek, while he screamed: "Papa! papa!" The father ran, slipped the axe handle into the coils of the snake, threw it into the yard and chopped its head off. Gathering little Jim in his arms he began to cry "Jim's dead! Jim's dead!"

His neighbor Tom, hearing his cry, ran over to his cabin home. As the little boy lay on his mother's lap, his body swelling and his eyes bloodshot, then the mountaineer said, "Tom, little Jim is going to die, and I would not give little Jim for every rattlesnake in these old mountains, and for every dollar I have made off of them."

Can we afford to take the serpent of strong drink and the bootlegger, off the back-alley, and set them up in glass-front stores on the public square? "At the last it biteth like a serpent, and stingeth like an adder." Prov. 23: 32. All the laws on earth can not make right that which God Almighty declares to be morally wrong. "Woe unto him that giveth his neighbor drink, that puttest thy bottle to him, and makest him drunken also." Hab. 2:15. The drunkard can not inherit the kingdom of God. 1 Cor. 6:10.

LEGAL SALES
...Make Sense!
...Make Dollars!

Every hour of the day and night, tax money from Legal Sales is spent to meet the real human needs of Texans. Taxes from Legal Sales since Repeal to July 1, 1960 have provided:

$161,248,533 For Schools And Teachers Salaries

$24,631,853.99 For Teacher's Retirement

$90,750,845.62 For Old Age Pensions

During the month of August, 1960, alone, 344 persons in Scurry County received $18,403.00 in Old Age Pension checks.

Prohibition Gave Absolutely Nothing!

Legal Sales mean keeping at home more than $1,000,000 a year

... that Snyder folks spend in Post, Big Spring and elsewhere for beverages. Legal Sales mean bringing in new trade. A good example is at Post, where they kicked out Prohibition last April. Sales there in ALL types of busineses are up 20% to 30% in some stores. Business has increased steadily since they voted for Legal Sales.

The total income of Scurry County was $41,712,510.00 in 1959. Retail sales in Snyder accounted for 54.32%. Retail Sales in Big Spring, during the same year, were $49,873,000.00 or 80.2% of Howard County's total income of $62,117,200.00 for that year.

It is time that money spent for licensed beverages be spent Legally and Wisely — and be spent in Snyder. Let's join the majority in Texas where the population of Legal Sales areas is more than 2½ MORE than that of the "dry" bootleg areas.

CHIC DRESS—No, it isn't a suit, it just looks like one! This smartly pretty dress is made of a very sheer worsted wool in red and green or lilac and purple miniature plaid, actually a one-piece dress. Buttons and belt are leather. Note the unpressed box pleats, the bracelet length sleeves, the notched lapels. Very light in weight, non-crushing, delightful to wear, it is the answer to many a "what shall I wear?" problem.

Mix all ingredients except eggs; slice eggs and arrange over top of salad. Makes 4 servings.

Students Tell Problems At P-TA Meet

The High School Parent-Teachers Association met Monday night in the school cafeteria for their regular monthly meeting.

A panel of five students discussed teen-age problems in the modern home. Participating were, Dickie Clemmer, George Holder, Sue Taylor, Candy Weyel and Keitha Walton.

Following a very informative presentation of teen-age problems, it was concluded that schools cannot discipline youth that parents do not train; churches cannot develop character while homes dodge their responsibilities; courts and laws cannot control the wildness which families fail to tame. It is the home that does most to help mold and shape character. A lively answer and question session completed the program.

For the benefit of those who were unable to hear the fine program, it will be presented again at the District P-TA Workshop to be held here at the High School auditorium Monday, Oct. 11.

U. S. Is Forced To Battle Neutrals In U. N. Debate

By LEWIS GULICK

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —Dismayed U.S. diplomats today took stock of the damage from a bruising fight in the U.N. General Assembly and pushed to heal rifts with angered neutrals.

The United States finally won early this morning through a parliamentary maneuver its battle against the neutrals' plea for an Assembly resolution urging a meeting between President Eisenhower and Soviet Premier Khrushchev.

But the long night contest was nip and tuck, compared with lopsided U.S. majorities in other days, and it made hoping mad such neutralist chiefs as India's Prime Minister Nehru whose influence the United States wants on its side in the expanding world organization.

The nine-vote Communist bloc could have swung the margin to the neutrals, but Khrushchev doesn't want to meet Eisenhower either. So instead the Reds attacked Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko watched with undisguised pleasure as the United States fought the neutrals.

American officials, who had maneuvered vigorously all week to avoid Eisenhower's being put in the embarrassing position of saying "no" to a U.N. mandate, were surprised and displeased with the results of the showdown.

Among the African nations, whose 24 members are the largest group in the U.N., only one—right-wing South Africa—voted on the U.S. side on the key vote.

In the Asian group of 21, only seven voted with the United States.

Even among the 20 Latin-American neighbors the support was less than solid. Only 13 voted with the United States.

U.S. strategists hoped to repair the damage by stepping up backstage efforts to woo the neutrals and persuade them U.S. policy is not against theirs.

One initial move supporting this was Eisenhower's White House date today with Indonesian President Sukarno. Other contacts were planned by Secretary of State Christian A. Herter and other top U. S. delegates at the U. N.

The Americans had to do some calming of their own tempers before they could get on with the job.

U.S. officials were put out by the failure of the neutral leaders who had seen Eisenhower, including Nehru, to inform the United States about their resolution before they issued it.

And the Americans figured the neutrals' move was much more of an embarrassment to the United States than to the Soviet Union, because of U.S. support of the UPW decided to mail a 50-star flag to the ship in care of the line.

Soviet Ship To Get Proper Flag

LANCASTER, Pa. (AP)—A Veterans of Foreign Wars post, which feels the Soviet ship Baltika should be "properly attired," says it will mail the ship a 50-star American flag today.

Pictures of the Baltika sailing into New York Harbor with Soviet Premier Khrushchev and a 48-star flag were noticed by the reese-hall VFW Post 8757 of nearby Mountville. Two stars had been pasted on the flag to make it current.

After a discussion with the Moore-McCormack Line, American agent for the Baltika, the VFW decided to mail a 50-star flag to the ship in care of the line.

'Becket' Is A Play To See

By WILLIAM GLOVER
Associated Press Drama Critic

NEW YORK (AP) — There's only one thing to do about this play "Becket." See it.

Starring Laurence Olivier and Anthony Quinn, the production which arrived Wednesday night at the St. James Theater contributes impressive grandeur to the Broadway season.

Through an amazing 17 curtain calls, spectators cheered its jolting impact.

From a scarlet page of history, French playwright Jean Anouilh in translation by Lucienne Hill takes a narrative of power politics and human conflict.

Becket, played by Sir Laurence, is the frivolous man who in middle age was thrust into religious authority and has since been remembered as the martyred Saint Thomas of Canterbury.

Dueling with him in dramatic tug-of-will is the English King Henry II of Anthony Quinn.

Through episodic scenes set within a framework of soaring Gothic arches Anouilh deftly lays bare the conflict between barbaric unfettered majesty and the enlightened humanity of a free spirit.

Quinn's black-browed, complex portrayal is a superb counterpoint to the silvery-smooth Olivier interpretation.

Along with them are a half hundred other performers, almost all of whom are precisely perfect under the direction of Peter Gregg ville. Particularly notable are the French King Louis of Robert Eckles, Earl Montgomery's venal Bishop of London, and Brian Crowe's troubled young monk.

Oliver Smith's sets are rich with a controlled splendor. For David Merrick, producing his fourth venture of the season, "Becket" is a notable accomplishment.

Strike Ends At Braniff

DALLAS (AP) — A strike of clerks against Braniff Airways was settled today, a spokesman for the National Mediating Board said today.

Terms of the settlement of the 10-day strike were not at once disclosed. Braniff said a wage increase "satisfactory to both sides" had been granted.

Leverett Edwards, mediation board member, said, "This is a very good and fair agreement and all parties seem to be well satisfied. In addition to the formal contract, the parties executed a back-to-work agreement and the strike is officially over."

The union struck for better pay and a closed shop. It did not obtain the closed shop.

The company claimed that only about 1,000 of the 2,400 workers under jurisdiction of the Brotherhood of Railway Clerks stayed off the job. The union claimed a few more joined the walkout. Other Braniff unions crossed the picket lines.

Braniff maintained full schedules during the strike that started Sept. 26.

Some vandalism occurred to cars of workers who crossed picket lines in Dallas, but the union said it had no part in such acts.

Before the settlement, workers in the union were paid from $1.18 to $2.71 an hour. The union had asked nearly 50 cents in increases in wages and fringe benefits over three years.

7 On Plane Escape Injury

CORPUS CHRISTI (AP)—Seven persons escaped injury Wednesday night when a twin-engine Beechcraft landed in weeds and mud at Cuddihy Field during a rain storm. All were from Mexico City.

The plane, piloted by Ernesto Hernandez, was bringing three couples to Corpus Christi from Merida, Yucatan. The passengers were Mr. and Mrs. George Escalante, Mr. and Mrs. Carlos Gonzalez, and Mr. and Mrs. Alonzo Gonzalez.

Hernandez said he sighted the airport and was attempting a landing when he was blinded by rain and lightning. He said he tried to "go up again but the engines stopped."

Kidney Stone Prevention

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — A urologist said Wednesday that medical science is on the verge of discovering a way to prevent kidney stones, a form of kidney trouble which can produce agonizing pain.

Dr. William H. Boyce of Winston-Salem, N. C., said kidney stones are made up primarily of calcium crystals, a normal ingredient of urine.

He said the stones form when these calcium crystals stick together on a large molecule made out of protein and carbohydrate.

Researchers are on the verge of developing a drug which will keep the molecule from joining up with the calcium bits, Dr. Boyce said.

Dr. Boyce, a speaker before the Texas Academy of General Practice, has won the American Urological Association's annual award for research five times.

He said prevention of stones is much closer to reality than a method of dissolving them after they have formed. As of now, the usual treatment of kidney stones is surgery.

SMOOTH DESIGN—Designers have applied smooth, graceful lines to the 1961 Chevrolet Impala, Bel Air and Biscayne passenger car lines. Rooflines, as noted in the Impala sport sedan, above, are freshly contoured and are separately styled for each series model. Overall body design features gently sloping lines. Rear trunk deck lid now opens even with top of bumper, affording easier loading and unloading.

Chevrolets For 1961 Going On Display Here Tomorrow

Snyder area residents will get a look at the 1961 Chevrolet automobiles tomorrow, when Lamb Chevrolet Co., Twenty-fifth Street and Avenue H, puts the new models on display.

Top seller of 1960 automobiles, Chevrolet promises to solidify its position in 1961 by significantly broadening its range of passenger cars.

Scheduled for display at dealer showrooms Friday, October 7, are 20 freshly styled conventional models; nine Corvairs including new passenger and commercial models, and the spirited two—place Corvette.

Complete new body styling, which provides easier loading for both passengers and baggage and establishes new heights in motoring comfort and convenience, is featured in the regular line of passenger cars.

The entire body, from floor to roof and grille to rear bumper, is all new. Prime design emphasis has been placed on functionalism with thrift.

High on the list of advantages of the all-new body are:

1. Easier entrance to passenger compartments.

2. Large, more accessible luggage space, with the trunk loading level lowered as much as 10.5 inches.

3. Improved chair height and over-the-hood visibility which will increase the ease of parking and add to driving safety.

4. Other safety items include improved brakes, overlap electric windshield wipers, and a new placement for the fuel tank which protests it from road hazards such as hard bumps and flying stones.

Although the conventional cars are shorter, narrower and slightly lower, the interior roominess remains about the same or better than comparable 1960 models. Riding comfort is improved.

From a styling standpoint, the new models feature gentle curves and smooth lines and a generally cleaner and airier appearance from all angles.

The Corvair models to be unveiled Friday also blossom out into a complete line of passenger and commercial vehicles. They include:

Passenger cars — Club coupes, four-door sedans and a new Lakewood Station Wagon in the "500" and "700" series, plus the deluxe Monza Sport Coupe and the new Greenbrier Sports Wagon.

Commercial — Corvan, Rampside and Loadside trucks.

Basic mechanical features of the Corvair — the air-cooled engine, combination of transmission and axle at the rear, and frame-body integration — are continued. So is the basic body styling, although a fresh appearance and the interiors are completely new.

Significant engineering improvements have been made, however, which will greatly improve luggage space, engine performance and fuel economy.

Other innovations include a 14-gallon fuel tank; a manual choke and more precise fuel metering to the carburetor; a new pattern of air circulation in the engine compartment to quicken warm-up; and increase in engine displacement to 145 cubic inches; an optional 98-horsepower engine and a four-speed transmission.

The spotlight in the Corvair field is expected to center importantly on the new Lakewood Station Wagon and the Greenbrier Sports Wagon.

Equipped with six doors and rated for a 1,600-pound payload, the brand new 95-inch wheelbase Greenbrier can readily be converted from a nine-passenger bus to a wide assortment of duties. It can carry six passengers and a 700-pound cargo or, with an optional third seat, nine passengers and 250 pounds of cargo.

The Lakewood Station Wagon is a four-door, conventional type six-passenger model. But, with the second seat folded down, it offers 68 cubic feet of cargo capacity. One exclusive feature is the 10-cubic feet of locable storage space under the hood.

Revised styling of the Corvette reflects the influence of Chevrolets recently displayed XP-700 experimental vehicle, especially in its streamlined rear quarters. A new underbody which slims down the transmission hump, better engine cooling and use of an aluminum transmission case are some of the other features.

As in 1960, the lineup in the conventional-size passenger cars will be offered in the Impala, Bel Air and Biscayne series. But, they have been expanded to include an Impala two-door Sedan not previously available.

The station wagon series also has been expanded so that there is a choice of either six or nine-passenger accommodations in each of them—the Nomad, Parkwood and Brookwood.

Reversal of the trend to longer, wider bodies also is noted in the fact that the new passenger cars are 1.5 inches shorter and 2.4-inches narrower. Overall length is 209.3 inches and overall width is 78.4 inches.

Distinctive design effects are achieved by matching exclusive roof contours of body types. Particularly noteworthy is the elimination of small, triangular windows at the rear of four-door sedans and station wagons. Also, the rear corner pillars of sport sedans have been widened to create a slightly hooded effect.

Navy Cranes Lift Plane From Harbor

BOSTON (AP)—Two Navy floating cranes today begin raising the forward section of the Eastern Airlines' Electra that carried 61 persons to their deaths in a take-off plunge into the harbor Tuesday night.

Federal Aviation Administrator E. R. Quesada suggested Wednesday starlings sucked into the air intakes may have disabled one or more of the four turbine-propeller engines. More than a hundred dead birds were found on the runway.

Only 11 of the 72 aboard the plane, bound for Philadelphia, Charlotte, N.C., Greenville, S.C., and Atlanta, survived the shattering crash. All were injured, six on the danger list at hospitals.

The pilot, co-pilot and engineer died but two stewardesses escaped serious injury.

Fifty-seven bodies have been recovered, all identified but one, a young Negro woman. Four persons are missing.

Two divers, James Walton and Jim Cahill, said the main section of fuselage, in 35 feet of water, looked "as though it had been ripped open with a can opener."

Davis, Britt To Delay Their Rites

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Blaming "legal complications," Sammy Davis Jr. and actress May Britt have postponed their wedding.

The negro entertainer and the blonde Swedish girl had set their wedding for Oct. 16. The new date is Nov. 13.

Miss Britt was divorced Sept. 30, 1959, from law student Edwin Gregson of Los Angeles. She did not disclose what complications had forced postponement of the forthcoming ceremony.

Miss Britt is 25; Davis is 34.

Tower Says LBJ No Texan

DALLAS (AP) — John Tower, Republican candidate for U.S. senator, said Friday Sen. Lyndon Johnson is a man "that has forfeited his right to call himself a Texan."

Tower, speaking to the Dallas County Republican Men's Club, said the vice presidential candidate "has even been going around the country apologizing for it by calling himself a westerner."

Tower said the senator went to Congress as a liberal, but "only rode that handwagon for a while 'till it became popular to be conservative."

County GOP leaders said at Brownsville earlier that Tower will make a return trip to the Lower Rio Grande Valley Saturday. Tower, of Wichita Falls, planned to make stops at Raymondville, San Benito and Brownsville. He visited the Valley two weeks ago.

Fat Men 'Sink' Commuter Train

LONDON (AP)—Too many fat men in one coach sank the 7:13 commuter train from Reading to London this morning.

There were 40 men in the coach, and more than half of them were sedentary types with paunches. Their weight caused the coach to sag, fouling the automatic brake mechanism.

The nine-car train wheezed to a halt twice before giving up the ghost just outside London's Paddington Station.

"About time you got a bit of weight off, isn't it?" said an irate thin passenger as the chubby occupants of the coach trudged along the tracks.

John L. Lewis To Address Convention Of UMW Today

By NORMAN WALKER

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Today is John L. Lewis' day at the United Mine Workers convention.

Lewis, now 80, quit his 40-year rule as UMW president earlier this year. He has stayed away from UMW convention sessions to give the spotlight to his successor, Thomas Kennedy.

But Lewis was scheduled to deliver today what could be his swan song to the miners' union.

At the same time Kennedy indicated the UMW will remain neutral in the presidential campaign, despite the many Democratic and Republican endorsements the union has made in congressional and state contests.

Sen. John F. Kennedy, the Democratic presidential nominee, arrived here Wednesday night for a day of campaigning in the Cincinnati area. But UMW President Kennedy said he had no plans to visit the Democratic contender or to invite him to attend the UMW convention.

It was reported that supporters of Sen. Kennedy specifically asked the UMW to give their man a chance to speak to the miners' delegates, but that the request was turned down.

UMW officials asserted the union has had a long standing policy against having political candidates address UMW convention sessions.

Lewis rather than his successor is reported mainly responsible for failing to give an endorsement to Sen. Kennedy. The new UMW president voted in the Pennsylvania delegation to the Democratic convention to give the party's nomination to Sen. Kennedy.

While Lewis may not be eager to throw political support to Sen. Kennedy, convention delegates appeared to be overwhelmingly for the Democratic nominee as opposed to Republican Richard M. Nixon.

Invitations to address the UMW convention have been extended to two Democrats, Govs. Michael V. DiSalle of Ohio and David L. Lawrence of Pennsylvania, and to one Republican, Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell.

UMW President Kennedy told reporters that the Labor Department in Washington has questioned the provisional status of the UMW's important District 50. Under a new labor law provision, union groups governed by trustees or appointed officers must be restored to membership control within 18 months, except under special circumstances.

Claim False Facts Issued

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Opponents of the proposed Toledo Bend Dam and Reservoir on the Sabine River in West Louisiana and East Texas were charged with issuing "propaganda and false facts" about the project.

State Rep. C. R. Ammons of Many, a member of the Sabine River Authority, said the Louisiana Forestry Association and lumber firms in the area which would be affected by the project were handing out false facts which would hurt the entire state.

The authority held a joint session here with the Toledo Development Association to map campaign plans for a proposed constitutional amendment which would authorize the state to lend $15 million to help finance the project. Texas has promised to match Louisiana's loan.

The project calls for a 65-mile long lake, half in Louisiana and half in Texas.

Gaitskell Is Holding On

SCARBOROUGH, England (AP) —British Labor party leader Hugh Gaitskell today defied repudiation of his defense policy by the party conference, confident of still holding the support of the party's members of Parliament.

Left-wing trade union delegates led the revolt Wednesday to override Gaitskell and put the party on record in favor of Britain's complete nuclear disarmament and neutrality in the cold war.

Gaitskell, 54, refused to resign despite the conference vote against his pro-NATO policy. While the convention lays down party policy, the selection of the party leader rests with the Labor delegation in Parliament, and Gaitskell and his supporters succeeded Tuesday in beating down a move to make party conference decisions binding on the Laborite deputies.

By clinging to the party reins, Gaitskell headed into another storm today on home-front policy and the prospects of another defeat.

The delegates appear certain to reject his efforts to modify the party's hard-line, old-Socialist doctrines and to demand instead more socialism—the "nationalization of the means of transportation, distribution and exchange."

Prisoners Bidding Their Own Contest

CUMMINS PRISON Farm, (AP)—Prisoners at this big state prison farm are engaged in ... cotton picking contest.

It's nothing like the National Cotton Picking Contest underway at Blytheville, with its $1,000 top money, bands and pretty girls. But there is a prize.

Lee Henslee, prison superintendent, offers any convict who picks more than 300 pounds in any 10-hour day a large T-bone steak dinner with all the trimmings.

TOMORROW THE GREATEST

SIXTY-ONEDERFUL CHEVROLET

Here's the car that reads you loud and clear—the new-size, you-size '61 Chevrolet. We started out by trimming the outside size a bit (to give you extra inches of clearance for parking and maneuvering) but inside we left you a full measure of Chevy comfort. Door openings are as much as 6 inches wider to give feet, knees, and elbows the undisputed right of way. And the new easy-chair seats are as much as 14% higher—just right for seeing, just right for sitting.

Once you've settled inside you'll have high and wide praises for Chevrolet's spacious new dimensions (in the Sport Coupes, for example, head room has been upped as much as 2 inches, and there's more leg room, too—front and rear). Chevy's new trunk is something else that will please you hugely—what with its deep-well shape and bumper-level loading, it holds things you've never been able to get in a trunk before.

Yet, generously endowed as this car is with spaciousness and clean-etched elegance, it holds steadfastly to all the thrifty, dependable virtues Chevrolet buyers have come to take for granted. Your dealer's the man to see for all the details.

IMPALA 4-DOOR SPORT SEDAN—one of five Impalas that bring you a new measure of elegance from the most elegant Chevies of all.

NOMAD 9-PASSENGER STATION WAGON. You have a choice of six Chevrolet wagons, each with a cave-sized cargo opening nearly 5 feet across.

Says Sales Tax Would Help State

DALLAS (AP)—A retail sales tax which would cost a family of four a little more than $1 per week would get Texas out of its financial hole, the president of the East Texas Chamber of Commerce said today.

Caldwell McFaddin of Beaumont said this to a meeting of 200 civic and business leaders seeking ways to solve the state financial crisis.

"If we follow the lead of 33 states and impose a sales tax, or if we follow the lead of 31 states and impose a personal income tax, then we can be reasonably certain that revenues will equal or exceed our expectations," he told the group.

A general retails sales tax is politically more palatable than a state income tax, McFaddin said.

"The broadest based retail sales tax at the rate of 2 per cent would cost a family of four about $1 a week. We may not need that high a tax, because it would produce more than $200 million a year, or about twice the maximum we'll need next year," he said.

The leaders from every section heard a warning that Texas must solve its money problems on a longrange basis if it wants to keep its economic and industrial growth great.

The group will make a tax proposal which can be submitted to the legislature in January.

Tom Sealy, Midland lawyer and chairman of the session, said a fair tax program is necessary for the state.

Other speakers included Fred Husbands of Abilene, executive vice president of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce; and Joe Bryson of Dallas, opinion research expert.

Magazine Printed By Refugee Staff

NEW YORK (AP)—A refugee editor and staff have printed the first edition here of Cuba's leading magazine, "Bohemia."

The front page was inscribed "Cuba Si, Russia No."

The edition, printed Wednesday, was titled "Bohemia Libre."

The magazine office said thousands of copies are being sent to the magazine's distributors in Cuba by the anti-Castro underground, the office said.

Editor Miguel Angel Quevedo and his editorial staff fled from Cuba recently.

Japanese Royalty Pleased With Trip

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP) — Smiling Crown Prince Akihito and Princess Michiko of Japan, reported well pleased with their two week goodwill tour of the United States, were homeward bound today.

The imperial party's chartered Japan Air Lines DC7C left the Anchorage International Airport for Tokyo early today. They spent an hour and 28 minutes here while their plane was refueled for the flight home. They were due in Tokyo Friday morning.

The prince and princess arrived here from Portland, Ore.; their last stop in the continental United States, 18 minutes ahead of schedule.

Macmillan Back Home

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Harold Macmillan returned from New York today and said there will have to be a summit meeting to negotiate outstanding world problems.

The British leader, in a cheerful mood, told newsmen Soviet Premier Khrushchev had failed to shake the position of United Nations Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold or to stampede U.N. members into reorganizing the world organization.

Macmillan was asked if he felt there is a chance of an East-West summit meeting early next year as a result of his two face-to-face meetings with the Soviet premier.

"I cannot tell," he replied.

"There will have to be a meeting eventually to negotiate on some of those world problems that we failed to discuss in Paris last May . . . I am hopeful that the Russians will agree. I hope it is going to happen, and it ought to happen."

Krush Shows Signs Of Slowing His Pace

By JOHN SCALI

NEW YORK (AP) —Soviet Premier Khrushchev is finally beginning to slow down after waging a day-and-night propaganda offensive against the West for the past 17 eventful days.

The 66-year-old Soviet premier seems to have lost some of the bouncy pep that has made him communism's No. 1 troubadour.

He is grimly pressing ahead with his one-man crusade. But the pace is beginning to tell on even his robust physique.

Wednesday night for the first time since arriving here he showed definite signs of being tired. He cracked fewer jokes, shook fewer hands and bragged less about the virtues of communism as he moved — just a bit slower than usual—through three diplomatic receptions.

His normally pink complexion seemed less ruddy. Security and other aides hovered around him solicitously as he limited himself to 20-minute stops at an Indian and Cambodian reception.

He wound up with a 45-minute stay at a Communist Romanian reception together. But instead of circulating through the crowd, he spent most of the time in a side room conferring privately with his European satellite chiefs.

Khrushchev is known to have some health problems. But there seems to be nothing wrong with him now except that he's tuckered out from jamming his schedule with some 25 private conferences, trips to about 20 diplomatic cocktail parties and about a dozen free-wheeling sessions with reporters.

In between he has hustled back and forth to the United Nations to lead the Soviet delegation every day in the international debate. His appearances during the past few days have been brief.

Top American officials have long felt that Khrushchev's love for personal diplomacy in far-off places was, beginning to sap his energy. It takes him a little longer to bounce back after each trip, they believe.

Even though he's slowing down, Khrushchev and his aides are guarding his departure date like the secret to the Soviet Union's success in rocketry. There are clues which hint he might leave about the middle of next week.

Some satellite delegations, which have acted as his personal cheering claque, hinted Wednesday night they might leave about that time.

For the third successive weekend, Khrushchev is planning to rest up at the big Soviet mansion in Glen Cove, Long Island. He might leave for this retreat Friday, instead of Saturday as he has in the past, an aide said.

Khrushchev made it clear Wednesday night he is not discouraged at the lack of Soviet diplomatic victories since he has been personally masterminding Soviet strategy in New York.

"Nothing has been decided," he said. "We have a Russian proverb which says the nightingale never sleeps."

Khrushchev didn't say whether he considered himself communism's nightingale. But Wednesday night he went to bed at 10:45 p.m.

Suspect Is Free On Bond

A Snyder Negro indicted by the grand jury Tuesday for assault with intent to commit murder, made bond Wednesday night and a Sweetwater man indicted for theft and swindling with a worthless check is in custody in county jail.

Andrew Wallace Jr., was released on $1,000 bond pending trial on assault charges in the shooting of another Negro, Willie Bell, in August. Another Snyder Negro, James Taylor, Jr., who was indicted on a similar charge against the person of Luther Tucker, was released on $1,000 bond Tuesday evening.

Elnon Flynn of Sweetwater was picked up in Sweetwater by the sheriff's department and is in county jail. Flynn was indicted on charges of swindling with a worthless check and theft.

Alger Criticizes 'Gloom Peddlers'

DALLAS (AP)—Rep. Bruce Alger, R-Tex., criticized "gloom peddlers" today, saying they are selling America short.

"There is no possibility that the Soviet economy will overtake our own at any time in this century," Alger told a luncheon club. "If those who would sell America short would bother to check the record, they would find that there is a constant gap over the years in our two economies."

Alger said the choice in 1960 is one of freedom or socialism.

"People can either rule themselves or they can be ruled by bureaucrats who plan to take over every phase of our lives under a Democratic administration headed by Kennedy and Johnson," he said.

SHOW ON WORTH! CHEVROLET

NEW '61 CHEVY CORVAIR More space . . . more spunk and wagons, too!

The newest car in America: the CORVAIR 700 LAKEWOOD 4-DOOR STATION WAGON.

CORVAIR 700 CLUB COUPE. Like all coupes and sedans, it has a longer range fuel tank.

CORVAIR 700 4-DOOR SEDAN. Provisions for heating ducts are built right into its Body by Fisher.

Here's the new Chevy Corvair for '61 with a complete line of complete thrift cars.

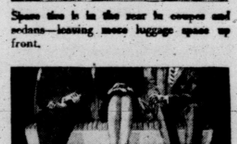

To start with, every Corvair has a budget-pleasing price tag. And Corvair goes on from there to save you even more. With extra miles per gallon . . . quicker-than-ever cold-start warmup so you start saving sooner . . . a new extra-cost optional heater that warms everyone evenly. Riding along with this extra economy: more room inside for you, more room up front for your luggage (sedans and coupes have almost 12% more usable trunk space).

And our new wagons? You'll love them—think they're the greatest thing for families since houses. The Lakewood Station Wagon does a man-sized job with cargo, up to 68 cubic feet of it. The Greenbrier Sports Wagon you're going to have to see—it gives you up to 175.5 cubic feet of space for you and your things.

Corvair's whole thrifty lineup gets its pep from a spunkier 145-cu.-in. air-cooled rear engine. Same rear-engine traction, same smooth 4-wheel independent-suspension ride. See the polished and refined 1961 Corvair first chance you get at your Chevrolet dealer's.

Space tire is in the rear in coupes and sedans—leaving more luggage space up front.

Even middle-seat passengers sit pretty, thanks to Corvair's practically flat floor.

Now in production—the GREENBRIER SPORTS WAGON with up to twice as much room as ordinary wagons (third seat optional at extra cost).

Bill Thrilled With Stab Off Berra's Bat

PITTSBURGH (AP) — A great catch by Bill Virdon against the green wall of Forbes Field 420 feet from home plate proved to be the turning point of the first 1960 World Series game.

It robbed Yogi Berra of the Yankees of an extra base hit that probably would have scored Roger Maris and Mickey Mantle and knotted up Wednesday's game at 3-3 in the fourth inning.

The Pirates, leading 3-1 at the time, went on to win 6-4 although Maris scored in the fourth on Bill Skowron's single.

"I probably have made better catches but none which gave me a greater thrill," said Virdon.

Both Virdon, the center fielder, and Roberto Clemente, the right fielder, raced for the smash off Berra's bat. Virdon came down with it, bumping into Clemente and cutting the back of his right shoe.

"I thought I could get it all the time," Virdon said, "I had a good bead on the ball."

Hayes Begins Tech Drills

LUBBOCK (Spl)—Seven members of the Texas High School North All-Star team bolster the Texas Tech freshman squad preparing for its opening game with University of Arkansas frosh in Little Rock Saturday night, Oct. 15.

Heading the group is the player voted the outstanding lineman in the North's victory in Dallas—[illegible] David Parks of Abilene. Others are end Jim Hacker of [illegible] guard Bev Herndon of Sweetwater, center Dan Hennig of Whitewright, backs Doug Cannon of Levelland, Dick Hayes of Snyder, and Charles Lipsey of Cisco.

Currently running first team for Coach Beattie Feathers' Picadors are ends Don Burch of Levelland and Parks, tackles Dennis Watkins of McCamey and Jimmy Webster of Wichita Falls, guards Dave Brummell of Albuquerque, N. M., and Bill Shaha of Dumas, center Ronnie Wassom of Lubbock Monterey, quarterback Cannon, halves Dickie Turner of Wichita Falls and Lipsey, fullback Dickie Rogers of Breckenridge.

Herndon was running first team until he sprained an elbow Tues. He is expected to be out for three weeks. Hayes just this week began practicicing, after recovering from an August job accident.

Tech also meets Air Force Academy in Lubbock Oct. 29, North Texas in Denton Nov. 4, and West Texas State in Plainview Nov. 10.

Gordon Assumes KC Managerial Position

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Joe Gordon, former Detroit Tigers manager, has signed a two-year contract to manage the Kansas City Athletics.

He'll replace Bob Elliott who was fired as Athletics manager Monday, the same day Gordon resigned as manager of the Tigers.

Gordon was signed Wednesday following a meeting with Parke Carroll, general manager of the Athletics. Gordon signed for an estimated $35,000 a year.

Detroit Tiger base runners were thrown out trying to steal only 17 times in 1959. It tied the American League record for fewest times caught.

Pep Rally On Agenda Today

U's "Boost the Tigers" day here, with the highlight of the activities being an open-air pep rally this evening which will be staged downtown.

The rally, which will begin at 5:15 on the south side of the court house, is taking place on the eve of the Snyder-Breckenridge clash of tomorrow night slated for Tiger Stadium. The annual non-district meeting has become a regular highlight of the grid season for Snyder fans, with the series dating back to 1933.

All townspeople and students alike are urged to attend and support the rally. Game tickets will remain on sale at the School Administration Building, 2900 West 37th Street, until approximately 11:30 tomorrow morning, after which they will be available at the gate prior to the game.

REG SCARBOROUGH

NOSES OUT WYLIE, HALE

Redoubtable Reg Scarborough Top Lineman Again

For his standout play during the Snyder-Odessa Permian game of Friday, big Reg Scarborough once again gets the nod as Tiger Lineman of the Week, although he was pressed for the honor by a pair of his teammates in the forward wall.

It represents the second week in a row in which the 198-pound senior letterman has gained recognition as "top hand" up front. A pair of defensive specialists in the forms of end George Wylie and tackle Mokey Hale were both high on the list as bright spots in the Tigers' losing effort, however. Due to Scarborough's exceptional "two-way" performance, though, he received the honor over that pair of performers.

During the Permian contest, Scarborough played the entire game with the exception of the Tiger kickoff which started the action of the evening. Brought to light by head coach John Conley for particular note were his offensive blocking and his repeated quickness in "getting down" under punts so as to hold the runbacks to a minimum of yardage.

Offensively, he played center, then shuffled over to guard on defense.

A special tribute to his spunk and desire can be seen from an instance which took place during Monday's practice. During that workout he inadvertently fell victim to a kick in the mouth, causing a severe laceration in his lower lip. "He didn't miss a down, though," Conley remarked, "and he's okay now (Wednesday). But he was on a 'milk diet' there for a couple of days because of it."

Recognition of the Scarborough prowess cropped up on a "foreign front" recently, also. Following the Big Spring game, Steer head coach Emmett McKenzie noted that he was "one of the best (linemen) we've seen all year," indicating that his vicious brand of tackling was instrumental in keeping the Big Spring running game off balance throughout the contest.

Wogs Whip Ags, 12-0

FORT WORTH (AP)—A record Southwest Conference freshman football crowd of 25,000 saw TCU's Wogs shut out the Texas Aggie Fish 12-0 Wednesday night.

Terrell Tyler pitched a 16-yard touchdown pass to Jakey Younger. Tommy Crutcher, the game's leading ground-gainer with 123 yards, speared the second TCU scoring drive. Garry Thomas made the touchdown with a 1-yard smash.

The Aggies could get no closer than the TCU 25-yard line.

Lou Lindsey's first season as Navy crew coach found his team third in the Eastern sprint championship, second in the IRA and first in the Olympic eight oared trials.

Unbeatens To Put Records On Line Here

A pair of top-notchers grace the local grid scene this evening, as two of Snyder's three still unbeaten junior high elevens see action here on the junior high field.

The opener matches Travis 7th against Sweetwater in a 6 o'clock fray, while the nightcap involves Travis 8th in a 7:30 clash against Sweetwater also. The 7th graders have already downed their foes of the evening in their only other contest to date, the 8th grade eleven also had its way with Sweetwater in its first game of the year, 16-0 and has since routed Big Spring Runnels, 42-14.

Road activity of tonight will feature a return match between Travis 9th and Sweetwater, it being slated for 7:30 p.m. The "revenge motive" will be evident in this one, as the only loss as dealt the local 9th graders was handed them by Sweetwater, 16-8. In other games Travis has walloped Lamesa by 32-0 and taken the measure of Runnels, 24-14.

Also on the far-flung frontier is Lamar 7th, which will engage Goliad in Big Spring this evening in a game which was to have started at 4 o'clock. The young Texans will be going out in quest of their first win of the season in that one, having been clipped by Runnels (20-0) and Colorado City (14-0).

Both Lamar 9th and 8th are idle tonight.

On the agenda for Friday is Breckenridge's invasion of Tiger Stadium, as the Bengals attempt to mount the win trail in a contest set for 8 p.m. Also on top for Friday in area games are the Hermleigh Cardinals' trek to Wylie and the Gail (eight-man Coyotes jaunt to Southland.

Two games will cap off the week's slate Saturday when the Snyder "B" team travels to Lamesa for a 7:30 joust and Lincoln High entertains Lamesa here on the junior high field in a tilt set for 8 o'clock.

Series Virus Strikes

PITTSBURGH (AP) — A wave of "colds" hit Pittsburgh school children Wednesday for the opening of the World Series.

One school in the city had 363 students absent, another had 172 and a third had 136.

Fears Confirmed, But Bucs Win It Anyway

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates, confident but not cocky after winning the opening game of the World Series, found out a couple of things about the New York Yankees that they suspected all along.

"They're like any other club," said Elroy Face. "They can be pitched to."

"And they can scare you," said Dick Groat.

It was Face, the scrawny relief pitcher who helped the Bucs get fat after 33 years between pennants, who saved the victory for starting pitcher Vernon Law. The little right-hander got rid of Yankee power with two on and none out in the eighth inning by striking out Mickey Mantle, retiring Yogi Berra on a fly, and fanning Bill Skowron.

In the ninth, pinch-hitter Elston Howard tagged him for a two-run homer, but Face then ended it by getting Hector Lopez to hit into a doubleplay.

"We knew they had power," said Groat, pivot man at short on the wrapup doubleplay, "but they strike so fast!

"You go into the ninth inning and you figure you've got it made. And then bing, bing, bing! You're in trouble."

The Pirates also were in trouble in the fourth inning, when Bill Virdon's running catch of Berra's long drive to right center saved a 3-1 lead. That catch, with Virdon reaching over Roberto Clemente as they bumped slightly, was the turning point.

Hardly any of the Yankees saw Virdon in the first inning, when he pulled a delayed steal of second that caught Yankee shortstop Tony Kubek napping. Kubek drew the error—after convincing the scorer that the responsibility was his, not Berra's—when no one was at second to take the throw by the Yankee catcher.

Law, who gave up a first-inning home run by Roger Maris, also admitted to some mistakes. "I think I made more mistakes in the first two innings than I did all season," he said. "I only walked one batter, but it wasn't my game. I was behind on a lot of hitters. I couldn't keep my pitches low."

Pitching was the Yankees' problem. "It was the type of game, I figure, where if we get any kind of pitching we win it because we got four runs," said Manager Casey Stengel.

"I pinch hit for (Clete) Boyer in the second inning because I'm trying to get even. How the hell do you know in the eighth or ninth inning you're going to get a man on base."

Attendance Skyrocketing In Raiderland

LUBBOCK, Oct. 4—Two attendance records have already been set at Texas Tech football games this season.

The 52,000 to watch the Red Raiders' 17-0 loss to University of Texas represented the largest crowd ever to attend a Tech game. In Tech's opener here, a 38-14 win over West Texas State, the crowd of 30,000 was a new high for a game in Lubbock.

Previous records were the all-time mark of 45,000 [illegible] Tech-Texas in Austin in 1955 and 27,000 for games here with Texas A&M in 1953 and with Texas Christian in 1955.

New home attendance marks are expected to be established at the Baylor and Southern Methodist games Oct. 15 and 22, respectively. Jimmie Wilson, Tech business manager of athletics, reports that both could fill the 41,500-capacity Jones Stadium.

Saturday's Lincoln Game Is Called Off

Word was received here late this morning that the scheduled game between Lincoln High of Snyder and Lamesa, which had been set to be played here Saturday night, has been called off.

In the weekly football contest as released in yesterday's Daily News, the game will thus have to be "thrown out" and not be included in the contest.

Opposites Put On Best Show

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — This would be a dull world if look-alikes faced each other. They haven't for some time, at home or abroad.

Instead, it's a matter of opposites. Take President Eisenhower and Premier Khrushchev, for instance, or the presidential candidates: Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Sen. John F. Kennedy.

Nikita Khrushchev is an actor, a highly charged, outgoing experimenter, unpredictable, ready to pop off in his assembly hall, on a sidewalk or on a balcony.

And he's no respecter of rules, as he demonstrated at the United Nations.

Eisenhower can throw up his arms to greet a crowd like a Tammany politician, grin in public as readily as Bob Hope, and pump a hand as hard as Khrushchev.

But he never seems at ease in a mob. He makes speeches from prepared texts, is as predictable as a clock, preserves his dignity, and follows the diplomatic rules.

And he's a conservative, not an experimenter. Witness his concern for balancing the budget.

Closer at home the presidential candidates are opposites, too. Here Nixon is the actor, Kennedy the reserved one.

Like Jack Benny, Nixon always has his ear cocked for a sound from the audience, and can acknowledge it with a smile just as fast. Trained in debating, he never forgets how he looks—and sounds—in public.

He wraps himself in the flag a lot (as does Kennedy) and once he finds something he thinks the crowd likes he plays it over and over.

For example: He hadn't been mentioning his running mate, Henry Cabot Lodge, then did, got a big audience response, and then repeated it every place he went, with trimmings.

Kennedy also knows some things which have crowd appeal—like repeatedly mentioning his war record. But he's no actor. He doesn't even know how to use his hands well.

For example: He gestures endlessly with his right hand, up and down, to emphasize a point like a man chopping meat.

His speaking voice, after one listens for a while when he's making a speech, gets irritating. Yet, although he was bent on the presidency a long time, he only recently began to take advice on using his voice.

He's not only not a baby-kisser, he's not a very willing lady-kisser, as a recent photo showed when a woman admirer burst through a crowd to embrace him and he jerked back like a man about to be stabbed.

There always seem to be opposites. Just go back a bit—to President Truman when he ran against Thomas E. Dewey.

The overheated Truman, quick with a crack, was full of fire and damnation for Republicans. Dewey, stiff as a starched shirt, never learned to unbend, even when playing to a crowd.

Customers Fly Off Without Paying Bill

BOUNTIFUL, Utah (AP)—Two men casually pushed a helicopter up to the pumps at Neil Riggins' gas station here Wednesday and ordered him to "fill 'er up." It took 31 gallons, but they flew away without offering to pay.

Richins said the men—he didn't get their names—told him they were en route from Idaho to Texas on a crop-dusting job.

Air Service Hearing Ends

DALLAS (AP)—Representatives from Midland and Odessa Wednesday in a Civil Aeronautics Board hearing urged services by both Trans-Texas and Central Airlines.

The 13 Midland-Odessa witnesses asked the board to authorize several flights, including one to Austin and to points northeast such as Lawton and Ft. Sill, Okla., and intermediate points.

The Midland-Odessa group was the last to testify before CAB Examiner Herbert K. Bryan.

Bryan earlier heard pleas from Laredo, Lawton, Little Rock, Paris, Magnolia, Ark., and McAlester, Okla.

The hearing reconvened at 10 a.m. today. It is one segment of a massive case in which the CAB is to decide what airlines and routes will best serve cities in the southern tier of states.

Former Policeman Is Holdup Victim

PONTIAC, Mich. (AP) — William Bailey, 38, a former policeman, went to the drugstore to get some cough medicine Wednesday night.

When he left the store a man stuck a gun in his back, took $1,100 from him and made him remove his clothes.

Bailey was left standing in his underwear.

Redstone On Good Flight

CAPE CANAERAVL, Fla. (AP) —The Army has lofted a Redstone missile on a successful 200-mile flight down the Atlantic range.

Project officials reported the 61-foot rocket performed perfectly on the short trip, which is similar to that which one of America's Astronauts may take early in 1961.

A modified Redstone stands on a pad only a few hundred feet from the launch area used Wednesday night. Within a few weeks it will attempt to carry an unmanned Project Mercury man-in-space capsule 125 miles high and 200 miles down range.

If this launching is successful, a chimpanzee, then a man will try to make the same journey. Orbit shots, using an Atlas booster, will follow.

Earlier Wednesday, a Polaris submarine missile was fired from a land pad on a successful 1,200-mile test flight.

Steger Raps Gov. Daniel

DALLAS (AP)—William Steger, Republican candidate for governor, Wednesday night urged Republicans and "true conservative Democrats" to take issue with the national Democratic party philosophy.

Steger called on Gov. Price Daniel to explain how he is supporting the Democratic ticket of John Kennedy and Lyndon Johnson but not their platform.

"I challenge Gov. Daniel to speak to the people of Texas and explain how this radical, socialistic platform will not be enacted into law though they vote for Kennedy and Johnson," he told a Republican women's club.

"I do not believe that Gov. Daniel has the courage to follow his own convictions about matters vitally affecting Texas when he refused to repudiate a platform that opposes the oil depletion allowance, the tidelands, the right to work law and many others involving states' rights," Steger said.

Steger is opposing Daniel, who seeks a third term in the November general election.

Lion Bite Leaves Lingering Infection

NORRISTOWN, Pa. (AP)—Doctors sought today to determine the cause of a lingering infection after Philip Berkes Jr., 38, who was bitten on the finger by a lion while visiting a zoo Sept. 24, had more of his left arm amputated.

Berkes Wednesday had his arm amputated near the shoulder at Montgomery Hospital. The lower part of the arm was amputated last Saturday.

Textbook Panel In Session

By LEE JONES

AUSTIN (AP)—The State Textbook Committee today is deciding what books it will recommend to local school districts. It heard testimony Wednesday from the Texans for America.

The conservative organization challenged 10 books it alleged cast a bad light on the American system. J. Evetts Haley of Canyon, a rancher and historian who once ran for governor, presented most of the case for the Texans for America.

The 15-member book committee will release its recommendations Friday. The books it endorses—not more than five in any one subject—will be adopted for a six-year period.

The Texans for America listed their grounds for opposing the 10 books in a 29-page bill of particulars. Included was a high school Texas history book, "Texas and Our Spanish Southwest" by Lynn Perrigo.

Haley objected to the inclusion of a reference to "manifest destiny" by Albert K. Weinberg, whom Haley said was listed in the House Un-American Activities Committee index.

The bill of particulars also said Perrigo showed a "liberal" slant in his presentation, including references to John Gunther's "Inside USA" and to historian Allan Nevins.

Banks Upshaw of Dallas, publisher of the book, said Weinberg is mentioned only twice. "I haven't heard of Allan Nevins ever being called left wing," he added.

Several vocational agriculture texts were criticized for not mentioning the "moral ramifications" of the federal farm program.

Dr. Ron Riddle, a Paris veterinarian and a member of Texans for America, said certain books instruct the student how to participate in the Federal Commodity Credit Corporation program. He said he opposes suggestions that farmers take advantage of federal conservation training and assistance.

"I've had to resort to the old-fashioned method of digging it out of books myself," he replied when a committee member asked how the farmer is to know how to use modern conservation methods.

"Our basic opposition to the promotion of this farm program is a moral one," Haley commented.

He also said a proposed English text suggests as reading works by four authors who Haley alleged are on the House Un-American Activities Committee index.

"Are we willing for communists and communist sympathizers to choose the literature our children read in the public schools?" Haley asked.

Closing the meeting, Committee Chairman R. L. Williams, superintendent of Corpus Christi schools, said "the charges of subversion are being checked." He said replies to the check are expected today.

Two Towns Vote Early

YANKEETOWN, Fla. (AP) — The adjacent communities of Yankee-town and Crackertown, both with populations of about 700, plan a straw vote Saturday under regular election conditions to settle the presidential race locally a month in advance of the general election.

They're making posters, handing out handmade campaign cards and talking.

A soap box has been set up in front of the Yankeetown postoffice for use by anyone who wants to talk.

Voting will be from 8 a.m. to 2 p.m. Saturday. Mayors of the two towns will lead motorcades to a point on the highway marking the boundary line between the towns to announce the results.

Yankeetown was incorporated largely by retirees drawn from many states. Crackertown is populated largely by native Floridians.

Klein's Version Of Make-Up Episode Spoils Good Story

BY INEZ ROBB

It is one voter's opinion that Herbert G. Klein, Vice-President Nixon's execellent press secretary, is an old spoil-sport with his quick and crushing solution of "The Great Make-Up Mystery" or "Why Nixon Looked Kinda Pekid in the First Kennedy-Nixon Debate".

It was loving Republican hands wot dun the Vice-President in, and not dirty Democratic work in the dressing room according to Klein. If Nixon looked "tired" and "haggard" in that first debate, it was the result of the amateur make-up efforts of his own staff and not the sneaky work of a Democratic saboteur posing as a professional make-up man.

Of course, the Klein denial will never catch up with the first accusation of political hanky-panky at the make-up table, first printed in a copyrighted story by a Chicago newspaper. And a great many Republicans will probably go to their respective graves believing that Nixon was the victim of Democratic deviltry.

In fact, I rather liked that Chicago story. It tended to inbue the Presidential campaign with an Alfred Hitchcock quality and to make the Democrats out to be a lot foxier and more cunning than they probably are. It was fascinating to contemplate the attention to detail and the dedication to skullduggery that would be required for the wily substitution of a Peter Lorre or King Kong-type make-up man for a true-blue Republican artist or Robert Montgomery.

Until Klein unravelled "the mystery" the whole sinister case seemed a natural for the talents of Ellery Queen, Hercule Poirot or Perry Mason. The idea of this trio messing around in a make-up studio, surreptitiously taking samples of paint, powder and mascara was irresistible, no less than their furtive examination of pockets, drawers, et cetera, to separate the card-carrying Republican from the card-carrying Democrats.

"The denouncement was readily imagined, with the dastardly Democrat, equipped with a false Republican identity card, brought to justice when the scraping under his fingernails exactly matched the ghost or ghoul powder heinously applied to the Vice-Presidential cheeks.

When Klein insisted on telling the truth he did more than destroy "The Great Make-Up Mystery." To the anguish of a good many tee-vee amateurs like myself, he killed the first good alibi we had ever found for the fact that in semi-occasional appearances on teevee we look like warmed-over death.

On the rare occasions when I have been on television, the compunction to tell the truth on the part of my family and loving friends has not spared me from the hard fact that the medium, in their tactful phrase, "does not do you justice." Translated, that means I would frighten little children, and probably did.

For a brief 24-hour period, or until Klein spoke up, I could see the perfect explanation for the fact that on teevee I tend more to resemble Sis Hopkins than the beautiful Annabel Lee. Innocent and trusting, I had obviously been the victim of ruthless Republican make-up men. I made a solemn vow, if ever again on television, to demand the political bona fides and affiliation of any make-up artist assigned to do what he could with my face.

I was briefly comforted by the thought that political agents provocateur had done me wrong. Then Klein, by speaking the truth, ended my dream. I had to face the painful fact that maybe, after all, I am just the Sadie Hawkins type.

Let us hope the Vice-President never had to face so painful a truth. He looks full of health and hope that professional make-up men can capture this bloom tomorrow night during the second Nixon-Kennedy debate, and that he looks good like a candidate should. At all odds, with the "mystery make-up" charge, the campaign has hit its nadir; it has no place to go now but up.

Speed Spoils Jet Accuracy

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—The inability of supersonic jets to strafe and bomb pinpoint targets is worrying Army leaders, the Army Aviation Director said Wednesday.

Brig. Gen. Clifton F. von Kamm said in the next 10 years the Army must spend hundreds of millions of dollars on airplanes built to perform jobs for which Air Force jets are inadequate.

Von Kamm, here for the fourth Army Aviation Conference, said the jets go too fast to be able to spot and destroy small targets.

He said the Army will have to replace practically all its 6,400 aircraft during the next 10 years because "our present fleet is getting pretty old and tired."

He said he doesn't foresee any clash with the Air Force over expansion of Army aviation.

Collection Kills Time In Office

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—One of the great ways to kill company time in the modern business office is to take up a collection for somebody.

In the old days you took up a collection for someone only when he died or retired.

Today any excuse will do. You take up a collection for a fellow if his sister-in-law develops a head cold or his son gets bad marks in high school algebra.

"Did you hear about poor old Charlie's trouble?" someone asks. And before you can miss out what's afflicting Charlie, three eager beavers are already going around the office to raise a fund for him.

If you have ever taken up a collection yourself, the following types will surely be familiar:

1. The selfish realist—"I could drop dead in my swivel chair and nobody would even bother to mail me a petunia," he grumbles. "When are you going to take up a collection for me? That's what I'm interested in."

2. The fatalist—"Don't bother telling me what the collection is for," he says. "Just tell me how much you want from me."

3. The artful postponer—He has a reputation for being generous, but the truth is he hasn't actually contributed a nickel to an office collection in the last 15 years. His stock line: "Gee, I sure want to be in on this one, but I don't have any change with me. Be sure and look me up tomorrow. Now don't forget!"

4. The helpful soul—He makes no move toward his wallet, but has a lot of sound and sage advice on how you could do a better job of taking up the collection. "You'll get more if you wait until after lunch before hiting everybody up," he says. "People give more on a full somach."

5. The topper—"You think old Charlie's got troubles?" he demands. "Let me tell you what real troubles are." If you spend 45 minutes listening to all the woes of his life, he will then grudgingly contribute a dime to your collection.

6. The tycoon—"I'll be glad to contribute $5—that is, if you honor credit cards," he says. "I haven't touched cash in years."

7. The big-talking tightwad—"I'd like to oblige you but I can't," he says. "I am against group philanthropy. With me its strictly a matter of principle."

8. The double dealer—"Lend me two bucks and I'll be glad to contribute one," he offers. You give him the two bucks and you never see either of them again. This guy actually makes a profit on every office collection — with your money.

9. The boss—It is awfully easy to identify him. If you're collecting quarter contributions, he's the guy who always hands you a $20 bill.

10. The rival—If you hand me a sheet of paper explaining why you are taking up a collection for good old Charlie, he whips a sheet of paper out of his pocket explaining why he is taking up a collection for good old Joe, who has even worse troubles.

Wright Claims Debt Hiked By $16 Billion

DEL RIO (AP) — Rep. Jim Wright of Fort Worth Wednesday night accused the Republican administration of increasing the national debt $16 billion.

Enthusiastic Nixon Carries Drive South

By JACK BELL

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon dips into the South today afloat a cloud [illegible] by the presidential campaign's biggest turnout in Philadelphia Wednesday night.

The Republican presidential nominee displayed new confidence in the oltcome of his contest with his Democratic opponent, Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts, as he winged into the doubtful border state of Tennessee.

Here he had a date at Memorial Square before taking off for Cleveland, Ohio. There Kennedy's street crowds of 250,000 had been tops until Nixon drew somewhere around a police-estimated 500,000 in Philadelphia, which used to be Republican but has been Democratic in recent years.

A crowd which left about 3,000 empty seats in Philadelphia's 14,000-seat Convention Hall—scene of many national conventions — made up in stamping enthusiasm what it lacked in numbers.

There is no denying, however, that Nixon had scored a 10-strike in Pennsylvania, with its 32 electoral votes.

On the more than 12-mile ride from the airport, where he landed in the late afternoon, the Republican presidential nominee was seen by more people than have [illegible] in the campaign.

Not all of them were supporters. There were many Kennedy [illegible] Shouting [illegible] from the opposition tickets.

But when his motorcade reached a spot near the University of Pennsylvania, surging students stopped it by main force.

While a cheer leader swung precariously from atop a red-and-green flashing traffic signal, Nixon talked some of the language the students seemed to understand.

Before him were signs demanding to know "Where's Checkers?" This was the dog he mentioned on a broadcast in 1952 when he defended, as the vice presidential nominee, his acceptance as a senator of an $18,000 expense fund.

But the Philadelphia crowds were generally enthusiastic for him.

The Pennsylvania welcome was doubly satisfactory to the vice president after a day in New York that found some of those who listened to his standard campaign speech not so responsive as they have been elsewhere.

Nixon told New York listeners that he talks the same way about civil rights in the North and South. But he said his opponents "talk out of both corners of their mouths" on the issue.

This was true, he said, because Kennedy and his running mate, Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, do not see eye-to-eye on civil rights.

Nixon said in his Philadelphia speech that the Republicans had "imitated in 1957 the first civil rights law enacted in 80 years." He did not mention that Northern Democrats had provided the margin of congressional votes for enactment of this statute. Johnson has contended that no law would have been passed but for his efforts as Senate majority leader.

"I am proud to say that I have a running mate who will stand with me instead of against me on this issue," Nixon said.

The vice president, however, eliminated from his Philadelphia speech a quotation attributed to Johnson about civil rights.

The quotation was included in prepared excerpts which Nixon's press aides had released earlier in New York. It quoted Johnson as having said: "I am not now and never have been an advocate of civil rights. I don't think I ever will be."

Nixon's press secretary, Herbert G. Klein, said the source of the quote was a column written by Drew Pearson. He said the column was published in March, 1960, and that it "referred to an incident which Pearson said took place during the 1956 Democratic national convention."

"When I called the source of the quotation to the attention of the vice president before he delivered his speech," Klein said, "he decided to eliminate this quotation from his remarks and instructed me to inform the press that he would not, in these circumstances, include the reference to Sen. Johnson in his delivered remarks."

Today, Klein told newsmen that the vice president had withdrawn the statement attributed to Johnson.

"As far as I am aware," Klein said, "the accusation has never been publicly questioned."

The press secretary went on to quote Pearson as attributing these additional words to Johnson: "However, I am a reasonable man. I hope this convention will write a plank that is acceptable to the North and that the South can live with it."

The excerpts were given newspaperman in New York and many of them wrote their morning paper stories on the basis they would be delivered in Philadelphia. Just after the excerpts were handed out Klein was asked where and when Johnson was alleged to have made the statement. Klein investigated and released the elimination statement in Philadelphia.

Big Supply Of Apples In Markets

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

It's the apple season at Texas fruit markets. Huge supplies of nearly all varieties are available at noticeably lower prices this week, the U.S. Agricultural Marketing Service reports.

Grapes, especially Tokays, continue readily available at reasonable cost.

Fresh vegetables that rate best buy mention, on the basis of supply and wholesale prices, include cabbage, carrots, celery, greens and green onions, iceberg lettuce, onions, potatoes, sweet potatoes and tomatoes. Especially reasonably priced are yellow medium onions and round red potatoes.

Priced lower than last week are celery, lettuce, okra, onions, and cauliflower. Pears and cucumbers are lower.

Avocados are higher as supplies are short. Snap beans and bananas also are slightly higher. A few local watermelons still show up at higherprices.

Grapefruit harvest in the Lower Valley is beginning but shipments will not be heavy for two or three weeks. Prices on all citrus held steady this week.

Cranberry shipments increased. A few pomegranates from California showed up this week. Rice is available in abundance and with economy, as the industry has designated October for its annual rice harvest festival.

Beef is now plentiful as production has increased steadily in recent weeks. Chicken turkey and lamb also are abundant. Watch for specials. Many Texas stores are cooperating with the dairy industry on October cheese festival. Cheese stocks are huge.

Junior Editors Quiz on NAMES

QUESTION: Why is Smith such a common American name?

• • •

ANSWER: Hundreds and hundreds of years ago, people didn't have last names. But as the number of Johns and Jameses increased, there had to be some way of distinguishing between them. One of these ways was by their occupation. A blacksmith named John became John the Smith, and in time simply John Smith. The miller named James eventually became James Miller, and so on. Smith became a common name because many of the trade names ended in smith. There were blacksmiths, silversmiths, goldsmiths, locksmiths and many others.

The reason why there are so many Smiths in America is because their forefathers, the blacksmiths and locksmiths, were members of the middle class. And it was this group that provided most of the early settlers of America.

• • •

FOR YOU TO DO: Look through your telephone directory and make a list of names that are based on occupations.

Dallas Police Alerted For Big Weekend

By JULIA SALTER

DALLAS (AP) — Dallas police officials alerted the entire uniformed force today for 12-16 hour-per-day duty in preparation for the mammoth Texas-Oklahoma football crowds.

Charles Batchelor, assistant police chief, said it was traditional for all Dallas police to work overtime on the Friday preceding the football game with the revelers on the street late at night.

"Street and mob violence has almost been eliminated, he said, since the Friday night dance for the two colleges was initiated two years ago.

"The Cotton Bowl game Jan. 1 also brings in large crowds, but, the Texas-Oklahoma game taxes the manpower of the police department more than any other weekend in the year," Batchelor said.

The county police department will also have additional squads to bring in the traffic from Oklahoma, Sheriff Bill Decker said.

"The day of the game the roads are pretty well choked with the migration from Oklahoma and Texas, and the traffic is our biggest problem," he said.

The hotels also have a problem. They will be jammed.

There's no reservation to be had in downtown Dallas for the weekend. Hotels have been booked solid for months.

Fred Brown, manager of the Adolphus Hotel, said the annual Texas-Oklahoma game is one reason two new downtown hotels have been built.

"I'm sure," he said, "that the demand and requests are for 10,000 more rooms than any other weekend in the year."

Says Defectors Had No U2 Data

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Rep. Paul Kilday, D-Tex., denied Wednesday that the two security agents who defected to Russia last summer had possession of U2 flight information.

He said the two National Security Agency code experts, William Martin and Bernon Mitchell, had no data on the flights.

Kilday, chairman of a House Armed Forces subcommittee probing the pair's flight said we were damaged by the defection but not catastrophically."

He said the men knew little of this country's top codes and had no information relative to the flight of Francis Gary Powers, sentenced to prison by a Russian court after his U2 crashed inside the Soviet Union.

Kennedy Eyes Cuban Issue

By ARTHUR EDSON

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)—Sen. John F. Kennedy, obviously cheered by the crowds he has been drawing, turns today to a subject on which there has been precious little cheering in this country lately: Fidel Castro and Cuba.

Kennedy was expected to spend most of the day working on the speech he will make at a fund-raising dinner tonight. But members of his staff couldn't say whether he considers the Cuban issue ripe for votes or if he will offer his solution to one of this nation's most troubling problems.

So far Kennedy has been critical of the way the Republican administration has dealt with Cuba, but he hasn't spelled out what he will do if he is elected president.

It looked like an exceptionally quiet day, by Kennedy standards.

Sometime in the afternoon he may visit a farm. His reactions there would be put on film to be used in short television spots later in the campaign.

But his formal program called for nothing until late this afternoon when he crosses the Ohio river for a rally in Covington, Ky.

After tonight's speech he will fly to Washington to prepare for the second round of his television debate with Vice President Richard M. Nixon Friday night.

But in the Kennedy camp the talk is almost exclusively devoted to the crowds the Democratic presidential nominee has been drawing, especially in Louisville Wednesday.

Rarely has the setting been poorer for enthusiasm.

As is his custom, he tried to work in far more than there was time for, and he got to the city after dark. Furthermore, it had rained.

Yet as he drove down Louisville's Fourth street, he drew as happy and bouncy a crowd as a rock 'n' roll king.

Police said the crowd was larger than the one Nixon drew a couple of weeks ago. They guessed that one at over a hundred thousand.

Eight Die In Road Crash

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP)—A taxicab skidded into a truck and careened head-on into a car killing eight persons, including a mother and her baby.

The death toll in Wednesday night's accident was believed the largest ever in a single Tennessee traffic accident.

Killed were Shirley Dorsey, 19, of Minden, La., and her son, Bradford, 11 months, in one car; and six Chattanooga Negroes riding in the taxi. They were identified as Amos Poole, 44, the driver; Delores Wilson; Nathaniel Bell, 29; Edward Robinson Jr.; Alice Ingram, 31, and Lattie Gamble, 34.

Mrs. Dorsey's husband, Carl, 31, was asleep in the back seat of their car at the time of the accident, and survived with undetermined injuries.

The driver of the truck, Edward J. Carlson of Bristol, Va., was unhurt.

Administration's Confidence In Business Still Unbowed

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—The administration's confidence in the business outlook is shaken but unbowed. It is notably stronger than that expressed by many business and banking economists and by the faint-hearted traders in the stock market.

The fiscal authorities spell out in dollars and cents their expectations of a business pickup in the making.

This is the positive side of this week's revision in U. S. budget prospects. The negative side is the acceptance of the fact that business profits have declined and thus undercut January's high hopes for much bigger treasury collections this year.

But to arrive at their new view, the fiscal experts start with the assumption that the bottom has been reached in the profit decline of the last six months. Earnings will have to increase rather than go on declining the rest of this year and the first part of 1961 if the Treasury is to collect in income taxes on corporate profits the total in the revised federal budget.

Budget Director Maurice H. Stans is betting the Treasury will. He looks for a fall business pickup perhaps better than usual and also views the first half of 1961 without alarm.

This view calls for an increase in the gross national product, the total dollar volume of goods and services produced. This was running at a rate of $505 billion or less this summer. But Stans thinks it will go to $510 billion or more by the end of the year.

In January the budget experts expected corporate taxes to reach $23.5 billion this year. Now they look for $2 billion less than that.

But many corporate economists, noting the sharp drop in profits from the first to second quarters this year, with only a holding action shown in the third quarter, say profits in the final three months will have to pick up better than now seems certain if the Treasury is to collect $21.5 billion this year.

Most of the drop in profits has been blamed on rising costs when competition kept prices down. A turning point is as yet unsighted.

Much of the slump in business activity has been laid to corporate policy of cutting back on inventories when possible instead of adding to them.

Rewrite Is Ordered For Swimming Bill

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP)—Maryland's Legislative Council has ordered a rewrite job on a bill aimed at giving the State Health Department power to regulate bathing beaches and swimming pools.

Delegate Marvin Mandel of Baltimore questioned a section that said regulations would include "any body of water maintained for bathing purposes in conjunction with a private residence and used only by members of the household and occasional guests."
