BLUE SKY LAW PROPOSED BY SENATOR CARLOCK TO PREVENT STOCK SWINDLING

NEINAST PROBE REPORT IS FILED IN LEGISLATURE

Committee Which Conducted Hearing on Contested Seat in Lower House Concludes Work.

Rumor Says That Representative Not Proved Guilty of Sufficient Charge to Warrant Ousting.

By Associated Press.

AUSTIN, Texas, Feb. 1.—The house committee appointed to investigate charges against H. J. Neinast, representative from Washington county, contesting his seat in the house compiled the report of its findings this afternoon and will submit it to the house tomorrow morning. However, Representative Fly, chairman of the committee, announced that the report may be changed before it was filed with the speaker.

Mr. Neinast is charged with having been convicted on his own plea of guilty to conspiring against the United States during the world war and that his attitude during the war was one of disloyalty and un-Americanism. The charges were on the initial roll call at the opening of the legislature and were signed by Representatives Robert B. Thrasher of Travis and Thomas G. Pollard of Van Zandt.

The committee heard testimony of approximately 25 witnesses during the investigation. Mr. Neinast was represented by John M. Mathis, an attorney of Houston, who made an eloquent appeal before the committee for the vindication of Mr. Neinast. He claimed that Mr. Neinast pleaded guilty to the charges solely on his advice.

It was learned unofficially today that the committee did not find sufficient evidence to sustain the provision of the charge relating to Mr. Neinast's disloyalty and un-Americanism.

Harding Must Pay His Salary Back in Tax

By Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—Warren G. Harding as president of the United States, will receive something like $18,000 less compensation from the government annually than Woodrow Wilson has received. The treasury will pay Mr. Harding the same amount that it pays Mr. Wilson—$75,000 annually—but internal revenue bureau officials say that Mr. Harding must return nearly one-fourth of this income tax.

President Wilson was exempted from the income tax under a supreme court ruling because he came into office before the enactment of the 1918 revenue laws under which taxes were sought to be imposed on the salaries of the president and of federal judges.

WILSON GIVES SENATE NEWS OF DESTITUTION

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—Further information received from state department officials regarding destitution in Europe was transmitted to the senate today by President Wilson in response to a senate resolution of inquiry. Among the documents was a report from the state department agent who visited several European countries last summer.

The state department matter supplants previous claims of necessity for American relief in Austria, Hungary, Poland and other Central European countries, with the exception of Serbia, where food was reported plentiful.

Bank Building and Masonic Hall Destroyed

GUTHRIE, Okla., Feb. 1.—Damage estimated at $100,000 resulted from a fire at Marshall, Okla., in the northwest corner of this county, early today. Buildings destroyed include the Marshall State bank, the Masonic hall, an opera house and two merchandise stores.

Governor Neff Puts Signature to Bill Extending Time on Land Lease Permits.

By Associated Press

AUSTIN, Feb. 1.—Consideration of the Blue Sky law by Senator Carlock occupied most of the session in the senate today. This bill proposes to prevent fraud in stocks, bonds and other securities offered for sale in Texas and licensing the companies, brokers and agents making such sales and placing the administration of the act in the hands of a commission, created in the act, to be known as the Texas securities commission. The bill was still pending when the senate adjourned.

The university land bill which grants an extension of five years to persons holding permits to develop university and public school lands was signed by Governor Neff today and became effective with the governor's signature. The governor signed four other bills of minor importance.

New College Agreed on.

A bill creating the West Texas Agricultural and Military college was agreed upon today at a meeting here of W. B. Bizzell, president of A. & M. college, and six directors of that institution. A similar bill had been introduced in the house, but certain parts of it were objected to by the directors present today. The bill prepared today provides for the West Texas school to be located west of the 98th meridian and north of the 30th parallel. A committee composed of the governor, lieutenant governor, speaker of the house, attorney general and the commissioner of agriculture will select the site of the new institution. The committee will not be influenced by gifts or bonuses, the bill provides. It carries no appropriation, that being left to the legislature. However, $51,500 is carried in the bill, $50,000 for purchasing the site of not less than 640 acres and $1,500 for expenses of the locating committee.

Request Prison Survey.

Representatives of the Texas League of Women Voters, State Federation of Women's clubs and the Texas Congress of Mothers appeared before the house and senate committees on penitentiaries in join session and requested that a scientific survey of prison conditions in Texas be made. They were informed that a resolution is now pending in the senate calling for an investigation of the prisons of Texas, following charges of brutality published in state papers and that an amendment incorporating their survey would be presented to the senate.

After devoting almost the entire time of today's session to the discussion of the bill by Cox of Wheeler, relating tot he jurisdiction of the supremecourtand amending the statutes making it mandatory for the court to pass on writs of error covering points of law in which the amount in controversy exceeds $5,000, the house passed the bill to engrossment shortly before adjournment. The bill was passed after several amendments had been added.

Ask Pension Increase.

The house joint resolution by Marshall of Hardeman providing for an amendment to the constitution calling for an increase in the confederate pensions passed on the final reading. The resolution increases the tax levy from 5 to 7 cents on each $100. The bill by Lawrence of Camp providing the payment of $2 in lieu of working on the public roads was also passed.

Action on the house joint resolution by Rountree of Brazos providing for the calling of a constitutional convention was carried over until tomorrow for final action. The bill by West of Bexar to encourage the building of homes by furthering means in securing financial aid was indefinitely postponed, which kills the bill.

Placing the interurban railways of the state under the jurisdiction of the railway commission is provided in a bill introduced today by Malone of Tarrant. Other bills were introduced by Johnson of Wichita, making it unlawful to prevent witnesses from testifying in trial of a case; by Williams of McLennan, making it unlawful for compresses and gins to extract unnecessary cotton from cotton bales; by Hill of Wheeler providing that Nov. 11 be made a legal holiday, and a bill calling for a uniform rate of ginnings. Where companies have more than one gin in the state.

No Fire, no School Not Complied With

By Associated Press.

HALEYVILLE, Ala., Feb. 1.—No fire, no school. That ultimatum by a number of rural school teachers of Marion county was not complied with by trustees and as a result several schools are today reported closed.

The trustees are said to be making the improvements demanded, which not only include modern heating arrangements but up-to-date blackboards and other equipment.

TARIFF BUREAU MEETING.

DALLAS, Feb. 1.—The next meeting of the Texas tariff bureau will be held at Dallas, Feb. 9, according to an announcement made today by C. A. Ponca, chairman of the bureau.

SENATE TO BE CALLED INTO EXTRA SESSION

President Will Convene Upper House to Pass on Harding's Appointments for Cabinet.

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—President Wilson is expected to issue soon, on request of President-elect Harding a call for a special session of the new senate for March 4, to act on Mr. Harding's nomination of cabinet and other important officers. Such a special session is customary at the change of each administration, and usually lasts only a few days.

Mr. Harding's request that the president call the new senate together was contained in a telegram to Senator Lodge of Massachusetts, the republican leader, and was transmitted to the White House today by Senator Underwood of Alabama, the democratic leader, acting as the behest of Senator Lodge.

President-elect Harding will issue, after his inauguration, a call for a special session of the full congress for early spring, but he desires to have the more important officers' appointments confirmed before that time, so that the administration machinery can be permanently established with the least possible delay.

TARIFF BILL BUFFETTED IN SENATE AGAIN

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—With Senator McCumber, republican, North Dakota, as its only consistent defender in the debate, the Fordney emergency tariff bill went through another series of hard knocks in the senate today, opponents of the measure accepting every opportunity to attack it.

Whether the bill will be sidetracked or consideration continued under limitation of debate will be decided tomorrow, when the Penrose recolution for cloture comes to a vote. The most ardent supporters of cloture and of the bill admitted tonight that defeat of the resolution to limit future speeches on the bill was inevitable. They said opponents of cloture would control from eight to ten votes more than would be necessary to defeat the resolution.

Prospects of cloture, however, caused a deluge of amendments, especially after Vice President Marshall had ruled that all amendments must be submitted and read before the vote on cloture, set for 1 o'clock.

Every senator who wanted changes in the bill, therefore, began loading it down and demanding that they be read.

Then there was the declaration by Senator Townsend, republican, Michigan, that he proposed to call up the postoffice appropriation bill for consideration immediately after the cloture vote. He criticised the senate for wasting time when important legislation was pending and challenged opponents of the Fordney measure to continue filibustering against "legitimate legislation and take the consequences."

Mr. Townsend's statements precipitated a heated debate, in which half a score of senators participated. It was the first day in which the bill actually was to the fore in all discussion, and its enemies picked flaws in every item. Although Senator Thomas, democrat, Colorado, delivered a lengthy speech against it, the full force of the attack developed afterward and continued until the senate recessed.

BOWIE POLL TAXES.

By Associated Press.

TEXARKANA, Texas, Feb. 1.—Poll tax payments in Bowie county total 3,642, as compared with 5,156 for the preceding year. The tax collector estimates that about 30 per cent of the state and county taxes have become delinquent because of non-payment.

WAXAHACHIE ELECTS

By Associated Press.

WAXAHACHIE, Tex., Feb. 1.—Carroll Todd was elected mayor of Waxahachie today, defeating Alderman T. O. Cheatham, city council man, by approximately 150 votes.

WHISKEY WAS RESPONSIBLE FOR ROBBERY

State's Witness in Dallas Postal Hold-Up Case Asserts Defendants Were Drinking.

Testimony Introduced to Prove That Rowan Was "Master Mind" of Daring Sub-Station Hold-Up.

By Associated Press.

DALLAS, Tex., Feb. 1.—W. S. Scrivner, confessed participant in the robbery of a United States sub-postoffice here Jan. 14, testifying today in federal district court in the trial of himself, Albert L. Rowan and Ben Luna, charged with the robbery, declared that the men had been drinking whiskey before the robbery was committed. Scrivner also testified that Rowan was the "master mind" of the robbery, having been in the near vicinity when the robbery was committed.

Testimony of two other alleged participants in the robbery have not been completed.

Scrivner, who is an escaped convict, declared that immediately after the robbery the men drowe to Rowan's home, where the money was divided. The money was in two mail sacks, which were cut open with a pocket knife. He said that after the spoils had been divided, he, accompanied by another participant in the robbery, decided they would go to Fort Worth. Their automobile overturned near Fort Worth and the companion was killed. Rowan and others stayed in Dallas, he testified.

Rowan, Scrivner and Luna are under federal indictments charged with the postoffice robbery. Scrivner and Rowan are also to be tried in county court for the killing of G. W. Street, a postal clerk, who was fatally wounded in the holdup. Approximately $250,000 figured in the robbery, authorities declare. It is said that all but a small amount was recovered. Rowan is the son of a wealthy Dallas property owner.

Several other witnesses were heard this afternoon. M. A. Morris, who operates a cigar stand, said that Rowan came to his place of business on the afternoon of the robbery and gave him $50 and asked him for two guns which had been left with his (Morris') business partner. He got the guns and wrapped them in a newspaper. Morris testified that two guns presented by federal officers were the two best of his recollection like the guns be delivered to Rowan. Morris' partner had loaned Rowan $50 on two guns the day before. The district attorney declared tonight he expected the government would be able to rest its case by noon Wednesday.

Dissolution Of Eastman Co. Is Ordered

By Associated Press.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Feb. Judge John R. Hazeln today entered a decree in the case of the United States vs The Eastman Kodak Company under the Sherman antitrust law directing the dissolution of the company by the sale and disposal of certain of its factories, together with certain lines of photographic supplies.

The decree is handed down in consequence of yesterday's action of the Eastman company in withdrawing its appeal to the United States Supreme court from the adverse decision of the federal court here in an anti-trust case tried in 1915.

DANIELS APPROVES PHELAN'S OIL BILL

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—Secretary Daniels has given his approval to a bill of Senator Phelan, democrat, California, authorizing the president to embargo petroleum exports. The Phelan bill is pending before the senate naval committee and the California senator said today he would press the matter.

Exportation of California oil to Japan caused Senator Phelan to introduce his bill.

"Ragged Stranger" At Last Identified

By Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Feb. 1.—The "ragged stranger" whom Carl Wanderer hired to stage a mimic hold-up the night Mrs. Wanderer and the stranger were shot to death, today was identified by Mrs. Cora Oppendorn of Danville, Ills., as her nephew, Earl Kesee of Danville.

Kesee was identified by a growth on one ankle. His identity had remained a mystery since last summer.

Wanderer now is under a 25-year penitentiary sentence for the murder of his wife, and will go on trial soon for the murder of the "ragged stranger."

RAILROADS PLAN TARIFF REDUCTION

Body of Unknown Hero Will Be Laid to Rest In Arlington Cemetery

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1. — The return from Flanders fields of the body of an unidentified American soldier for interment in the new amphitheater at Arlington National cemetery, was approved today by Secretary Baker, General Pershing and Maj. Gen. John A. Lejeune, commandant of the marine corps, and one of the war time commanders of the famous Second division of marines and regulars.

In a letter read to the house military committee, considering a resolution for this purpose, Secretary Baker said he could conceive of no more fitting inauguration of the use of the amphitheater "than to place there the body of a soldier whose name and identity are lost, who will typify and represent the imperishable part of the sacrifice which he and his comrades made for their country and their country's cause."

Predicting that ultimately the Arlington amphitheater would become "the Westminster Abbey of America's heroic dead," the war secretary said, no place could be more suitable than it for "this significant and symbolic interment, which would be a national tribute to one great aggregated value of our army."

Appearing before the committee in person, General Pershing approved the proposal as a fitting national tribute to the other Americans who fell in the great war.

MRS. HARDING IS SELECTING HER CLOTHES

Next "First Lady" Spends Eight Hours Choosing White House Gowns.

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—The wife of the president-elect began selecting today the contents of her White House clothes cabinet. Mrs. Harding did not go shopping, but conducted a hotel suite campaign for clothes. Fifth avenue's modistes, tailleurs, furriers and jewelers went to her rooms at the Ritz-Carlton, where she spent nearly eight hours inspecting their offerings.

Scores of fabrics, gowns, hats and a few models were taken to her suite, but the crowd that momentarily expected the future first lady of the land to appear for an automobile ride or shopping tour waited in vain. She granted admittance only to a large group of photographers and reporters and those who sought to have their goods chosen for the White House wardrobe.

Style dictators, pondering over the impressions they received, predicted that the laws of fashion will be blue after March 4. This is the favorite color of Mrs. Harding. She selected a tea gown and evening gown of blue today, and this taste was reflected in her choice of gems.

Mrs. Harding also made it clear that there will be no foreign frills in her wardrobe. "I'm 100 per cent American," she told a reporter who inquired about her choice in clothes. Her jewels, also, are "all American," the favorite being colonial types, such as cameos worn on black velvet bands for neck and wrist.

WRIT IS FILED IN SUIT AGAINST FORD

By Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Feb. 1.—The praecipe in a $5,000,000 damage suit against Henry Ford and his paper, The Dearborn Independent, was filed in circuit court today by Morris Gest, theatrical producer, who alleged that an article in the Independent on January 22, 1921, contained "libelous, slanderous and false statements" concerning Mr. Gest and certain stage productions he has handled.

Arrested by Police On Robbery Charge

Upton Henderson, negro, was arrested Tuesday by Patrolmen Farmer and Wilson for alleged shoplifting at the Perkins-Timberlake store Tuesday morning. According to the police, several silk shirts waists and other merchandise stolen from the store were recovered from Henderson following his arrest.

KILLED BY AUTO.

Lewis died today as a result of his injuries.

PRESIDENT AT THEATER AFTER YEAR

Wilson Sees First Performance Since He Was Stricken With Illness.

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—President Wilson, accompanied by Mrs. Wilson, tonight went to the theater for the first time since she was taken ill, more than a year and a half ago.

The president and his party, which included Mrs. Wilson and the latter's brother, John Randolph Bolling, made their appearance unexpectedly at a performance of John Drinkwater's "Abraham Lincoln," having entered the theater through a stage door.

As the president made his way to one of the lower boxes he was recognized by the audience, which rose and cheered. Mr. Wilson responded by bowing. The visit to the theater tonight also was the president's first appearance in public since he was taken ill.

DEATH SENTENCE PRESCRIBED FOR HIGHWAY ROBBERY

By Associated Press

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Feb. 1.—The state senate today passed, without a dissenting vote, a bill making robbery with arms a capital offense and prescribing the same penalty for violation as are assessed for murder in the first degree—electrocution or life imprisonment. The bill, as amended since its introduction by Senator W. A. Jackson applies to robbery of business houses, residences and highway robbery.

The senate also passed a house bill enabling women to hold office in Arkansas.

The senate and house met in joint session this afternoon to hear an address by Chief Justice McCulloch of the supreme court of the judicial situation in the state. He said the volume of business before the supreme court has grown so great in recent years that more judges are needed.

A voluminous vehicle tax law was introduced in the senate this afternoon which would provide for a sliding scale of license fees based on weight and horsepower, to take the place of the present flat license tax.

AUTHORIZE AIR TRIP.

By Associated Press.

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, Feb. 1.—Orders issued today at headquarters Eighth corps, United States army, authorized a transcontinental air trip from Pabla Beach, Fla., to San Diego, Calif., by Lieutenant Alexander Pearson of Douglas, Ariz. The flight, it is planned, will be made in a single day, February 22 having been chosen as the date on which Lieutenant Pearson will take off.

ROBBED OF $100.

Request for Abrogation of Agreement Claimed to Be Forerunner of Lower Freight Rates.

By Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Feb. 1.—The railroads of the country asked the railway labor board to abrogate the national agreements so that an ultimate reduction in rates without an immediate reduction in wages could be brought about, Thomas Dewitt Cuyler, chairman of the Association of Railway Executives, said tonight in a telegram to President Wilson, replying to one sent the chief executive last night by representatives of seven labor unions.

Mr. Cuyler denied every charge made against the railroads by the labor leaders in their telegrams, declaring that they were "deliberate and gross misrepresentations, and propaganda instead, to discredit private management of the railroads in the interests of the Plumb plan and to defeat efforts being made in good faith to abolish rules and working conditions which were war measures."

Will Make Adjustments.

Mr. Cuyler said the roads had refused a conference with labor leaders because such a conference could not adjust conditions for all roads in all parts of the country. The roads, however, were willing individually to adjust conditions with their employes, and were, in fact, urging this upon the labor board.

"The action requested by Brig. Gen. W. W. Atterbury of the Pennsylvania lines, (abrogation of the national agreements) is the only action which, with government sanction, can free the hands of the railway executives and enable them by orderly procedure with their men to develop appropriate rules and working conditions," the telegram said.

"The only rules that stand the test of practical operation and don't involve endless controversy are rules negotiated between each management and its own men and the opportunity of securing is required by the railroads, not only to enable the roads to achieve the earning power contemplated in the transportation act but in the interests of an ultimate reduction in rates to the public.

In Interests of Men."

"Last but least, the roads request is in the interest of the men who work on these railroads. We recognize as the wages of railroad employes were the last to go up, they should also be the last to come down and if by restoring the conditions necessary to efficient and economical operation the railroads can prepare for a reasonable period the reduction of basic wages, which will ultimately be required, they will be only too glad to do so in the interest of the great body of their employes.

"The pressing financial necessities of the railroads are such that if denied the opportunity of economy through proper rules and working conditions, their only other recourse must be in a reduction of basic wages.

"The railway executives are proceeding in this matter with the keenest sense of obligation to the public. They feel that they are trustees of a great public interest and that they are representing not only their own interest, but the inverests of the farmer, the consumer, labor and manufacturers in other industries, and the railway employes themselves. They have every confidence that, when the various industries and workers are making their respective contribution to a decline in the cost of living, the great body of railway employes will certainly not refuse to make their similar contribution."

COVINGTON BANK ROBBED OF $2000

By Associated Press.

ENID, Okla., Feb. 1.—Two masked and heavily armed men entered and robbed the State bank at Covington, near here, at 3:15 o'clock today and escaped with more than $2,000 in cash, according to reports made to police headquarters here. The men are said to be heading toward Enid in an automobile.

Mrs. Peete Wanted to Tell of Denton Murder

By Associated Press

LOS ANGELES, Calif., Feb. 1.—Mrs. Louise L. Peete, on trial for the alleged murder of Jacob Charles Denton, wealthy mining man, told him October 12, last, she "would like to tell him all about the murder, but could not, because of her husband and child," William C. Doran, chief deputy district attorney, testified today.

WAIVE EXAMINING TRIAL.

Special to The Record News.

DALLAS, Feb. 1.—Lawrence Smith and Marvin Laswell, charged with murder in connection with the death, Sunday afternoon of Frank Johnson, who was shot and killed at Hutchins, waived examining trial today and their bond was fixed at $5,000 each.

HOUSE FIGHTS ATTEMPTS FOR LARGER ARMY

Responding to "Public Demand for Economizing" Representatives War on Appropriation Bill.

Measure When Finally Adopted Will Limit Personel of Land Forces to but 150,000 Men.

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—Taking up the $328,000,000 army appropriation bill, the house in the first flurry of debate showed it was ready to fight any attempt to put the enlisted personnel above 150,000 men provided for in the measure. Chairman Anthony of the appropriation sub-committee, in charge of the bill, declared that in reducing the amount provided for the army's maintenance, it had responded to public demand and effort now was being made to put an end "to the waste and extravagance that has characteried the military establishment for the last few years."

In the hour's time allotted him for explaining provisions of the bill, the chairman was interrupted by a volley of questions. The questions—and they flew thick and fast from both sides of the chamber—indicated strong support for an army of 150,000 men and approximately 14,000 commissioned officers.

Mr. Anthony insisted this number would be sufficient for all requirements, that the National guard would become an invaluable adjunct if given the whole hearted support and sympathy of the war department, and that there would be no difficulty in bringing down the present total by July 1, the end of the fiscal year.

The total cost of the military establishment this year was $404,000,000 the chairman said, while for the next fiscal year the department had asked for $692,000,000.

Representative Sisson of Mississippi, ranking democrat on the sub-committee, declared that in adopting a resolution directing the secretary of war not recruit beyond 175,000, congress was not prevented from raising on a less figure. He said there were entirely too many civilian employes, and told the house if he could write a new military law he would abolish the army general staff and shift its duty to the secretary of war.

"The general staff" he added, "serves in the magnificent capacity of the greatest buck passer of the army."

Consideration of the bill was delayed by filibustering tactics, which included many quorum calls and a demand for the reading of the 90 pages of printed text by Representative McClintock, democrat, Oklahoma, who also objected to unanimous consent for four hours debate. The house got around his objections, however, with a formal motion adopted on a roll call vote, 272 to 2.

KRASSIN ASSERTS AMERICA TO ENTER TRADE RELATIONS

By Associated Press.

LONDON, Feb. 1.—M. Krassin, who recently returned to Moscow from London, where he acted as Russian soviet trade commissioner, declared in an interview that it may be supposed, after the conclusion of a commercial treaty between Russia and Great Britain that America will enter trade relations with soviet Russia, although the American line of action will only be made clear after the final transfer of the presidential power to President-elect Harding, says a Moscow wireless message today.

Krassin, the message adds, pointed out the importance of creating a great stock of goods for export on which, he said, the whole matter of Russian trade exchanges with the western countries depends.

Arkansas Prison Control Member Resigns Office

By Associated Press.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Feb. 1.—Z. M. McCarroll, a member of the state board of control for the last four years, today tendered his resignation to Governor McRae, effective at once. Governor McRae stated that in view of the fact that a bill providing for abolishing the board of control now is spending before the legislature, he would not appoint a successor to Mr. McCarroll.

ROCKEFELLER GENEROUS.

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—The general education board of the Rockefeller Foundation has increased its resources to the extent of $70,000,000 through gifts of John D. Rockefeller in the past year, the annual report of the board, made public today, said.

DOLLAR DAY EXPECTED TO HAVE RESULTS

Many Wichita Falls merchants began preparations Tuesday for the celebration of "dollar day" which will be observed Thursday by merchants and buyers. One merchant declared that he is going to place on sale an array of shirt bargains that will take the eye of every one.

Other merchants were quoted as contemplating similar bargains supplemented by socks, neckties and numerous other such smaller articles which seem to have a continuous demand from the buyers.

John W. Thomas, secretary of the Retail Merchants association, declared this sale should furnish a wonderful opportunity for both buyers and merchants.

Full announcements of the sales will be made in The Record News Thursday morning.

Traducers to Answer, Says Knickerbocker

Critics whose pronouncements have tended to "traduce" his character, and the newspapers which have published same, will have to answer for it, declared Rev. H. D. Knickerbocker, pastor of the First M. E. church, South, in making public a message from Pat M. Neff, governor, confirming a recent statement by Rev. Knickerbocker with reference to an interview with the governor.

"I don't care how much they lambast and ridicule my position," Rev. Knickerbocker said, in presenting his telegrams, "but when it comes to statements which tend to traduce my character, they will have to answer." This statement, he said, was directly pointed to the published statement of one of his critics, which, in the opinion of his attorney and of several "unprejudiced witnesses," to whom he had showed them, was intended to call him "a liar twice in the same sentence."

This sentence and those which preceded it he quotes as follows:

"He says he did not read them. (The criticisms to which Dr. Knickerbocker had published an answer.) Why, you or I or anybody else knows just as well that he read it, as we know that Governor Neff did not speak to him about the blue laws."

Governor Neff's telegram answers the second point, Rev. Knickerbocker declares. In support of the first statement that he did not actually read the criticisms, he says that he has other proof than his own statement.

If his critics are any part of gentlemen, Dr. Knickerbocker says, they will apologize to him for these criticisms. He states that he is not yet determined on a course of future action, even though he has consulted an attorney.

His wire to Governor Neff, and the reply from the governor, he announces as follows:

"My enemies are interpreting the Associated Press dispatch in which you deny conferring with anybody about the blue laws as a denial of my statement that I conferred with you about the Sunday law, and that you authorized me to state that you were emphatically opposed to any weakening of the present Sunday law. Please wire me confirmation of my interview and your statement as above quoted."

The reply presented by Dr. Knickerbocker:

"Replying to your wire desire to say there will be no weakening of the Sunday law so far as I am able to prevent during my administration. I so stated to you some days ago, and you had authority to so quote me.

"PAT M. NEFF, Governor."

Sneak Thief Takes Child's Savings Bank

A child's savings bank, containing $15, a similar amount of savings stamps, a lady's gold watch and a plain gold ring were stolen from the home of J. W. Kelly at 1608 Fourteenth street Tuesday night, according to a report made to the police. It is thought the burglary was the work of an amateur.

The burglary was discovered when the Kelly family returned from a drive about 10 o'clock. A light in the house was burning, but the burglars had apparently left several minutes before. According to the police the burglars apparently knew the place where the valuables were concealed before they entered the house.

Bacon-Deppen Nuptials Solemnized Tuesday

Miss Gertrude Deppen and Sumner Bacon were quietly married in the presence of a few friends Tuesday night, Rev. J. Lem Keevil performing the ceremony.

Miss Deppen is well known and popular here, where she has been connected with the Chamber of Commerce for the past few months as publicity director.

Mr. Bacon is chief engineer for the Fort Worth and Denver railroad, and is the son of Captain John Bacon of Denton, Texas, a pioneer in railroad construction in this state.

Town Topics

Miss Rose Murphy, who has recently returned from a three weeks' stay in New York and other eastern points has taken charge of the millinery department of Baum & Gardner's.

While in the north and east she visited the millinery markets to place orders and gain an insight into the new creations. The new styles in ladies hats this spring will surpass any previous season in splendor of color and original designs, Miss Murphy says.

Mr. and Mrs. Conner O'Neill, who were recently married in Houston, returned Tuesday from an extended honeymoon trip to southern resorts. Mrs. O'Neill was formerly Miss Elizabeth Hemkele of Houston and the marriage is reported to be the culmination of a romance begun in the school days of the bride and groom. Mr. O'Neill is well known in local oil circles.

Mr. and Mrs. O'Neill announce that they will be at home to their friends at the Kemp hotel.

Breaking out during the absence of the occupants, fire of undetermined origin caused damages to a residence occupied by Mrs. Effie Hill, 1504 Broad street, estimated to be approximately $4,000 Tuesday evening at 7 o'clock.

Firemen said that the blaze first developed under the floor of the bath room, in which was a trap door. The building was owned by J. M. Childers, 1500 Broad street.

The furniture and furnishings of the house were practically a total loss, according to firemen.

Plans to stage a "stag party" that will include a trip to the annual "Mardi Gras" fete at New Orleans and quail hunting and fishing in the lowlands of Louisiana were made known by Mayor W. D. Cline Tuesday.

Mayor Cline said that one of his life-long ambitions has been to witness the New Orleans fete. He announced that with a party of men friends he expected to charter a special Pullman for the trip.

"Something exciting every minute from 8 o'clock until as late as you wish to stay" is promised all Yeomen and their friends who attend the Yeomen meeting Wednesday evening, according to announcements of the evening's entertainment.

Members declare that they propose to make this event the greatest meeting in the history of the local Homestead and promise that the evening "supper" will provide something different in the way of refreshments.

Wilford Harrison is in Fort Worth on business.

L. L. Donnell and family, former residents of this city, who have been living in Fort Worth for the past few months, have returned and are now at home at 2012 Ninth street.

Shipping Board Will Account on All Expenditures

By Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—Emphatic assurance that the shipping board would be able to account for every cent spent for the construction of vessels was given today to the house committee which is conducting an inquiry into the board's operations, by Alonzo Tweedale, general comptroller of the board. Searching audits of accounts, he declared, had revealed no evidence of fraud or misappropriation of funds.

During his testimony Mr. Tweedale also contradicted the assertion made before the committee by Colonel E. H. Abadie, his predecessor as general comptroller, that he (Abadie) had been "railroaded" out of his job by Martin J. Gillen, former executive in the office of the chairman of the shipping board.

Mr. Gillen repeatedly defended Colonel Abadie's methods, which did not meet with the approval of some members of the board, according to Mr. Tweedale, who denied also that he had made any attempt to dislodge Colonel Abadie in order to get his job.

Condemnation Verdict Will Come Monday

Final decision in proceedings brought by the city to condemn certain property in Block T, owned by A. R. and O. T. Watland, and assess damages to be incurred by the owners in taking over the land, will be rendered Monday, it was announced late Tuesday after an inspection of the property by three special commissioners at the conclusion of a hearing which consumed the greater part of the day.

The appointment of special commissioners to appraise the property and render a reasonable compensation to the landowners, following filing of proceedings in the county court-at-law came as the outgrowth of several unsuccessful attempts by city officials during the past several months to agree with the property holders on the amount to be paid them for damages in opening a paved road through their property.

The Watland brothers contend that the route of the road as laid down in the city's plan will cut them off from valuable frontage and that this could be avoided if the city would build the road according to their specifications.

At the hearing Tuesday, they declared that they would be damaged to the extent of $20,000 by the following out by the city of their established route through 38-100 acres of the land. The difference in damages which would be incurred by them between routing the road according to their plans and that of the city's is $18,000, they said.

This means that if the city would conform to their plans, they would only have to pay $2,000, whereas in carrying out their own specifications, they are requested to supply an additional $18,000.

The Watlands based their claim for damages to this amount on the fact that if the city carried out its proposed road plan, parts of the property which have already been leased to business concerns will be cut up and that they will not only be deprived of the revenue from the leases, but will also be subjected to depletion in property valation, caused by the removal of the commercial enterprises.

Several contracts, leasing portions of the property to different parties were introduced at the hearing by the owners in an endeavor to condemnation of the land would nullify the present agreements and force holders of the leases off the property.

City Attorney Mann, who represented the city's interests, declared that the contracts were not ironclad in that each was a "conditional" agreement; that the Watlands had made them only to "boost" their damages; and that they were all made toward this end since beginning of the controversy.

Efforts to prove the city's claim that the damages set by the Whtlands were far in excess of a reasonable amount, were made by City Attorney Mann with the introduction of Otto Stehlik and J. Wilkie Talbert, local real estate men, as unbiased witnesses.

Mr. Stehlick, who was the first called to the stand, estimated that the damages to be incurred would not exceed $1,000, according to present property valuation.

A comparative valuation of the property with that of other sections of the city was made by Talbert. He asserted that the advantage of a paved road through the property would more than offset the damages and that if he were owner of the property, he would even consent to pay the city for routing the road through the property. He estimated on this basis that no damages, or none that would not be offset by greater assets, would be incurred.

W. P. Barker, who followed Whtland to the stand, testified that he had sold the property to the present owners in March of last year for a sum of $12,000, only a few days after purchasing it for $7,500. He finally estimated that the damages involved would not exceed $4,000 or $5,000. He however, favored the proposed route of the Watlands rather than that of the city.

W. M. McGregor, part owner of the property, before it passed into the hands of Parker, said that he did not know the cash valuation of the property, in view of the speedy trade which was made soon after he disposed of it, but that he was of the opinion that the road would greatly enhance its value. He said that there would undoubtedly be damages but that he was not qualified to estimate the amount owing to his ignorance of present valuations.

R. B. Morton, who now holds a three-year lease on a corner of the property, which the city proposes to acquire, appeared before the commissioners and testified that he would be cut off entirely by the routing of the road, according to the city's plan. He said that he intends erecting a filling station there and that he already has material on the ground for this purpose. He claims that the city's routing of the road would force him back 15 or 20 feet and cut him off entirely from the corner.

No report was made by the commissioners as to the outcome of their inspection of the property.

The commissioners acting as the board of arbitration are: Judge Harvey Harris, chairman; N. O. Monroe and J. M. Bland.

Charge Grows Out Of Operating Still

A charge of delivering and manufacturing whisky is made in a complaint filed Tuesday before Justice R. V. Gwinn against Frank Krizan, who was arrested Monday night in connection with a raid upon a still four miles south of the city by Texas Ranger Taylor, Constable Frank Morgan and the police.

Bond of $500 was set pending examining trial on February 7.

No federal investigation has been made.

EXCHANGE IS UNDER SPELL BULLS CREATE

Bulls were in evidence at the Central stock exchange at the night call Tuesday. Opening with sales at 55, East Wichita kept soaring, closing with numerous sales at 67½ with some as high as 72½. The usual packed house was in evidence at the night call with no lull in the biding during the hour and a half call.

Bulls also got in their play in the bidding on Checkerboard, opening with sales at 7½, active bidding soon brought the sales to 15 and the call closed with none offered at that figure. Rumors are current regarding activity on one of the company's several leases.

The night call was marked with the return of two well known stock exchange characters, "Colonel" L. D. Sparks, the first, a figure at the Central exchange for a year and a half, returned here Tuesday from Wichita, Kan., called here by the reports of the East Wichita.

He mounted the platform in front of the board at the night call and went into action in his old time form, taking charge of the last call of the day.

The other figure was R. Iida, "the Jap," probably the best known combination "bear" and "bull" known in the local stock exchanges during the boom days. The Jap was a bull Tuesday night and his activities in bidding was closely watched by the crowded exchange. The Jap was as usual, non-commital as to the reason of his reappearance at the local board.

Some Delano receivership holdings got on the board again Tuesday, the stock of the Burk Senator and Burk Divide No. 1 sold at par with a few sales.

The opening of the old root beer barrel at the front of the exchange added to the appearance of old times. "Aleck Alexander," manager, announced that a restaurant would be opened in the rear of the exchange within a few days.

Larkin et al Well Fulfils First Rumors

Pumping 80 barrels during the first ten hours the Larkin, Seay & Cranfill well, in the new 950-foot sand opened by the Gulf's No. 13 Burnet, Lease A, Tuesday, was fulfilling earlier predictions that this would prove better than the discovery well, which settled down to a 50-barrel pumper, after showing up for more production, when first drilled in. The opinion is expressed that some of the sand was cased off in the Gulf's well, due to the fact that the territory was new. The Larkin et al well is estimated as a 100-barrel pumper.

Some operators, who have been watching the district are inclined to discount the discouraging report that the Gulf's No. 14, offsetting the discovery well to the south, failed to get the sand, and the general opinion seeming to be that the sand was drilled through. The log is said to show several feet of sand bearing oil around 950 feet, but no test was made. Drilling for the 1,400-foot sand is now in progress, the test being below 1,000 feet.

Production Here Steady

Production in the Wichita Falls district continues steady, the daily runs for the past week showing averages around 79,000 barrels daily, with practically no change in the production from any of the pools, except in the Kemp-Munger-Allen and Iowa Park shallow, off about 400 barrels a day. These figures would be even higher, it is believed, if the pipeline situation in Young county would permit of opening wells in the South Bend pool to their full capacity. As it is now an estimate must be placed on the production, this being around 2,500 barrels a day.

The average run by pools follows:

| | Barrels |
|---|---|
| Burkburnett, all pools | 60,000 |
| Electra | 10,800 |
| Kemp-Munger-Allen and Iowa Park | 4,600 |
| Holliday | 200 |
| Petrolia | 400 |
| Young county | 2,500 |

JACKSON SAYS STATE FRAMES AGAINST HIM

Vehemently denying all statements of George Dewey Bland which implicated him as the slayer of A. E. Berlin at Newton on the morning of January 9; claiming that he was in bed at the time the shooting took place; and that the testimony of Bland and all other state's witnesses was a "frame up to fix him," Heinie Jackson, charged jointly with Bland with the murder of Berlin, caused a stir among court officials and interested spectators when he took the stand in his own defense late Tuesday afternoon before a jury in the Thirtieth district court.

Contrary to all witnesses who testified Tuesday and those also who were examined at the trial of Bland, Jackson declared that he did not see Bland after a little "run in" with him at about 4 o'clock on the morning of the slaying just before going to bed. He also said that he went to bed immediately afterward with a man named Eugene Taylor and that he knew nothing of Berlin's death until several hours later when he got up and walked over to where a crowd had collected around his body.

Bland, who was summoned from the county jail where he is being held pending a new trial, as a witness for the state, reiterated all statements made to the district attorney in a signed confession shortly after his arrest and insisted that Jackson was the murderer of Berlin.

His testimony which was corroborated by other witnesses, was to the effect that he had been forced by Jackson at the point of a gun to accompany him from a cafe early in the morning after participating together in a "jake party" at the domino hall. He testified to a "stick-up" of Uncle Bill Musser and failing to obtain anything of value, of subsequent departure to the Thrift rooming house to go to bed.

He declared that when he and Jackson got to the house, they met Berlin and that Jackson went up to him, pointed his gun at him and upon meeting with resistance, fired the fatal shots. Bland said that he ran as soon as the shooting started and went to the thouse of Myrtle Ray, where he was found a few minutes later by Jackson and forced to leave with him.

Bland also testified that Jackson took his gun away from him during the fracas at the cafe and that he used it on Berlin.

In his testimony Tuesday, Jackson, who declared that his real name was Walter Henderson and that Jackson was only a nickname, said that he left Bland just outside of the cafe near 4 o'clock on the morning of the shooting after having been subjected to repeated threats by Bland, who flourished his gun and said that he was going to kill him.

He said that he went straight across the street to his friend Taylor's room and went to bed and that he participated in no hold-ups with or without Bland. He denied that he went to the Thrift rooming house, where Berlin was found dead, and said that he did not see Berlin until several hours after he had been killed.

He also denied following Bland to the house of Myrtle Ray after the shooting had taken place.

T. R. Smith, who was sleeping at the Thrift rooming house when the shots were fired, testified that he got up in time to see two men hurrying away from the scene and that to his best judgment they were Jackson and Bland.

At the conclusion of examination of Jackson or Henderson, with one more witness to testify before closing the case, Judge H. F. Weldon, late in the afternoon, ordered a recess until Wednesday morning.

Indications are that arguments of counsel will be heard shortly before noon Wednesday and the case go to the jury before the end of the day.

SUIT AGAINST LOCAL POWER FIRM STARTS

After hearing the testimony of two of the twelve witnesses, the $40,000 damage suit of A. L. Huey vs the Wichita Falls Electric Company, which was begun Tuesday in the Eighty-ninth district court was continued to Wednesday.

The suit sets forth that the plaintiff laid out an addition on the promise of the defendant that light and water service would be furnished, and acting on this agreement, made sales of lots under the same guarantee. He further sets forth that a loan of $17,500 for the purpose of having light and water service installed, after an official of the defendant company had declared that they did not have sufficient funds to furnish the service, and alleges that the defendant never did extend the service.

Mr. Huey is represented by Attorneys Cox, Key and Nixon and Henry Turner of Wickliffe, Ky., and light company is represented by the firms Bullington and Boone of this city and Templeton and Whll of Dallas. The case is being tried before the jury for the week.

GRAND OPERA FANS.

Mary Garden's business manager, probably at her direction, is out with a plan of action involving a real innovation in matters operatic. He says that in the matter of dress, social dictation is to go down under the wave of advancing democracy; that men attending the opera are to be a new law unto themselves and can wear overalls if it so pleases them. "We are going to remove the dress suit fetich," he announces, "and popularize opera with men so that they will take as much interest in grand opera as in baseball."

It is something of an undertaking to bring down grand opera from its theoretic giddy heights of intellectual amusement and change its exotic state into the common or Garden variety, so to speak, which will appeal to all minds. And this assurance becomes boldness when it is sought to place classic music on the same level of interest as baseball and make men thrill at an aria as they do at a home run. Still, it may be done. There are plenty of music lovers whom the dress suit fetich drives from the gratification of their tastes, though it is to be doubted whether few or even any of them have breasts so savage (against social tyrannies) for music to charm as to bring them to the opera under the extreme of overalls.

But more reforms tread upon the heels of this one of dress suit regulation. Will the opera be stripped of all its marks as a social function and conversation be forbidden except between the acts, so that the figuratively overalled patron can hear the music? And will the ban placed upon prescribed full dress extend to the operatic singers' long-recognized privilege of indulging caprice at a moment's notice and cancelling engagements at will? For popularization will be nipped in the bud with these handicaps.

And, most important point of all, will lowering of the high cost of opera form part of the general program of popularization? For, after all, that, even more than the privilege of wearing overalls, is what counts with the musical proletariat. —Baltimore American.

FOREIGN STUDENTS IN AMERICA.

In addition to the missionary and special work that is being carried on by churches and missionary societies which are sending out their representatives to many lands, teaching American standards and American methods, there is being carried on another important branch of missionary work, to which a professor of Tsing Hua college in Peking, China, who has come to the New York university for a year as an exchange professor, calls attention in an interesting manner.

The Chinese student, the professor from China, Dr. George H. Danton, declares, is intimately linked with the economic and the cultural future of the land, and knowing this to be true, it is of the utmost importance that these Chinese students coming to America should receeive the best of impressions of America, the country to which they turn for the training by which they may become molders of the destiny of their land.

What is true of the Chinese students is true of the students from nearly every land under the sun who come to America to complete their training. There are scores of such students in this country, and they will become missionaries from our land to theirs.

During his residence in China Dr. Danton has been greatly impressed with the importance of the Chinese students in the United States when they return to their own country and the almost unbounded influence which they have. "It is the returned students who are filling all the high diplomatic posts in China," says Prof. Danton; "It is the returned students who are principals of normal schools and presidents of colleges; returned students are building railroads and erecting mills and factories."—Flint (Mich.) Journal.

THE WICKED TOOTHBRUSH

We're all wrong again. Sir John Cantile, K. E. B., eminent British health specialist, says so.

We have just become converted to the idea of dental cleanliness and are beginning to get one hundred per cent efficiency with the toothbrush, when along comes Sir John and says it's a huge mistake. We coddle our teeth too much with brush and powder, he says. He picks on poor old great grandfather to prove his point. The old gentleman, says he, never brushed his teeth and died without one missing.

Sir John is right. We had almost forgotten great-grandfather, but now we recollect him and his teeth very well. He had a remarkably fine set, strong and white. He used to take them out every night and keep them in a glass of water while he slept.

Only once can we remember did great-grandfather's teeth go back on him. He tried to eat a hunk of taffy candy before it had been "pulled." He had to live on a diet of bread and milk for several days while the sticky mess was being dissolved.

A set of teeth as sound and serviceable as we recall great-grandfather's to have been is to be envied. But if we can't have them except by giving up our tooth brush, we shall have to sigh in vain while we continue in error. We like to feel the friction of hog bristles against dental enamel and are like to go through to the end abusing our teeth with our favorite brand of well advertised dentifrice.—Omaha World-Herald.

On the Spur of the Moment

THE LADY BANDITS.

When a gentleman is held up by a lady
On a lonely country highway late at night,
And she aims an automatic at his cady
And stops his car and tells him to alight;
When she frisks him for his watch and chain and boodle
(And this may happen any night to you),
If he does not want a bullet through his noodle,
Pray, what is any gentleman to do?

For you cannot beat a lady, even slightly,
And if you strike a woman you're no gent.
You must stand and take your medicine politely,
And with a genteel protest be content.
No, you cannot bang a lady on the beezer,
And you cannot fell a flapper with a club.
You must treat her as the faultless wife of Caesar,
And remain a gentleman, although a dub.

And then a married man is used to having some lady go through his clothes. There's really nothing new about it.

"Don't tell my husband!" screamed several ladies simultaneously when pinched by the police in a gambling raid the other day. And now the husbands are all puffed up about it—to think, after all that has happened in the way of equal rights, they are still afraid of us.

LOOKING FORWARD.

From the New York American: "Every sinner is going to be punished with an overdose of his own sin. A tobacco smoker will be locked up in a den full of tobacco smoke. A chewer of the filthy weed will be immersed to his neck in a vat of tobacco juice. A drinker will pass his term of purification in a natatorium filled with beer, wine and whisky." O Death, where is thy sting?

A SNAPPY WEEK.

Here is the program for the week at a moving picture theater:

Monday—"The Forbidden Thing."
Tuesday — "Once to Every Woman."
Wednesday—"Half an Hour With Dorothy Dalton."
Thursday—"Something to Think About."
Friday—"Idols of Clay."

Maybe it is time to investigate the cost of investigations.

DINNER STORIES

Bacon—Do you believe a college career is an aid to business?

Egbert—I certainly do.

"Why do you think so?"

"Well, my son's in college and he smokes about 7,000 cigaretes in a year."

"I don't follow you."

"Isn't he helping along the tobacco business?"

"Whenever anybody is ill at our house we always call in the doctor right away," said a man to his neighbor.

"Don't you wait a day or two to see how things are going to turn out?"

"No, siree. The cemeteries today are filled with people who weren't sick enough to call in a doctor."

"What did you do with that man you caught dealing off the bottom of the deck?"

"Committed him to the asylum," remarked Cactus Joe. "Anybody who would try a trick like that in Crimson Gulch don't leave enough doubt over his sanity to be worth arguin' over."

A country housewife of good intentions but with little culinary knowledge decided to try her hand at cake making. The result was somewhat on the heavy side, and, after offering it to the various members of the household she threw it to the ducks in disgust.

A short time afterward two boys tapped at her door.

"Say, missus," they shouted, "your ducks have sunk."

The wages of chorus girls in New York range as high as $100 a week, according to their good looks. The average pay, however, is nearly $25 a week. The minimum wage for chorus girls in England, as fixed by the Actors' association, is $15 a week, although, in a few cases, as high as $25 is given.

Editorial Digest

UNTERMYER ACCUSES PALMER

An investigation of A. Mitchell Palmer, which, according to Samuel Untermyer, will disclose "a series of the most mortifying scandals that have ever befallen this country" is demanded by the latter and seconded by the former. Now, the American press echoes this demand, some writers with the assurance that the Attorney-General will be completely vindicated and others already convinced that his conduct as head of the Department of Justice or as Alien Property Custodian, or both, was anything but correct.

"With Mr. Palmer himself requesting an investigation of the Department of Justice during his incumbency," says the Springfield Republican (Ind.), "The Senate Judiciary should not hesitate," and, the paper adds, "whatever it investigates, the senate committee should not neglect the office of the alien property custodian, particularly in the period when Mr. Palmer was at the head of it." This step should be taken, the New York Evening Post (Ind.) believes, "in justice to Palmer himself, in justice to his accusers, and, as the brief against him argues, for the purpose of determining precedent on the whole vital question of civic liberties under war-time conditions." The Oklahoma City Oklahoman (Dem.) quotes Palmer's statement that lawyers for "deported" and "enemy" aliens are at the bottom of the charges against him. It continues:

"Similar attacks which have been made upon him before, especially in his conduct of the office of alien property custodian, have been proven without foundation. However, the truth or falsity of the new charges should be established. Mr. Palmer's accusers should be made to put up or shut up. If the attorney-negeral is not guilty of any wrong-doing, he is entitled to a vindication. If he is guilty the public should have the facts."

The Fort Wayne Journal Gazette (Dem.) carefully points out that if Mr. Palmer "used or misused" his powers, it was in no way fault of the democratic party and adds that since "many millions were involved" in the alien property transactions "it is inevitable that he should be hated." While no one "would defend the alien property custodian if he is guilty as Untermyer intimates" the Journal-Gazette adds that "perhaps a barrel of salt should be taken with all the charges." Still more enthusiastic approval of Mr. Palmer "who should have gratitude, not criticism comes from the New York Mail (Ind.). It says in his defense:

"However detached from the realities of actual life, a limited number of academic gentlemen may be, they must allow the rest of us the privilege of believing that a very short shrift indeed is due to the criminal anarchist whether he has actually consummated his crime or is merely making preparation for it. If Mr. Palmer erred at all, it was in his scrupulous regard for respecting all the rights which any just interpretation of the law might give these outlaws. More especially when we remember that one of their bombs meant for himself barely missed its mark."

Unless Mr. Untermyer can "produce some new and startling evidence" the Washington Post (Ind.) declares that the Attorney General need only produce the record of the hearing before the senate committee when charges were made against him "that would ruin the public career of any man—if they had been sustained." This record vindicated Mr. Palmer, it declares, and caused his nomination for attorney general to be confirmed.

But not all the newspapers stand back of Mr. Palmer. Even his apparent willingness to have his conduct toward the deported reds examined is considered "a herring" across the trail by the Springfield Union (Rep.). It says:

"Mr. Palmer is making a great todo of welcoming an investigation of the methods employed by him in rounding up the alien radicals. It is true that an insignificant and unimportant group of radical sympathizers has been demanding an investigation of the attorney-general's methods in rounding up the radicals. But no one least of all Mr. Palmer, has paid any attention to them until now. But the other demand for an investigation, voiced by Mr. Untermyer, is an entirely different matter and one which apparently Mr. Palmer would like to dodge."

Plans Discussed For Bridge Over Wichita River

Charles R. Moore, president of the Austin Brother Bridge Company, of Dalls, advised with several members of the county commissioner court at an informal meeting Tuesday relative to drawing up plans and specifications for repairs to the bridge over Wichita river at an early date.

The bridge, which is at the foot of Ohio street, was pronounced dangerous for traffic and in need of immediate repairs as the result of an inspection made recently by County Road Engineer J. M. Isbell.

No definite arrangements have as yet been formulated, although it is expected that they will be completed within a few days. Mr. Moore said that he will go to Dallas early this week but will return within two or three days.

Present at the meeting Tuesday were J. P. Jackson, commissioner of precinct No. 1; Lee Prescott, commissioner of precinct No. 2; County Judge J. P. Jones, County Auditor Pat Murphy and County Road Engineer Isbell.

Do the Busy Days Show Up Your Strength?

The busy day is a true test of your physical condition. The way your mind and body forces respond under stress indicates the extent of your reserve power; discloses the strength or weakness of your staying qualities.

When your work piles high, with matters of importance surging in upon you in a seemingly endless stream, and it's hurry and confusion on every hand, do you feel that sensation of being on the verge of "flying to pieces," under the crystallizing effect of the high tension? If you do, then there's something wrong.

Your inability to keep cool and collected, your readiness to petulancy, your tendency to nervousness, your inclination to lose your temper and "fly off the handle" are indubitable signs of a disordered and out-of-gear condition of your general system.

Such symptoms are a real barometer of your physical and nervous condition. They tell of a threatened breakdown, cautioning you to slow up and take observation of yourself.

In such situations there is safety in FORCE, the master rebuilder. It is your protection against the peril of a general and nervous break-down, because it will tide you over the danger period, and bring you back to normal health by its sustaining and reconstructive properties.

FORCE might well be called a tissue and nerve food, because its real tendency is to supply the nourishment needed by the impoverished organs of the body. It feeds the hungry nerve cells and rebuilds the broken down tissues.

If your nerves are shattered and your physical powers exhausted, don't run the risk of a collapse—commence at once to fortify your system with FORCE. It will bring you increased energy, renewed strength and greater endurance.

FORCE is sold by reliable druggists everywhere, and is equally beneficial to men, women and children

BRITAIN SAYS COMMON TRUST NOT FEASIBLE

The tendency of the higher courts in this state is to hold that the responsibility of shareholders in a joint stock association is practically the same as in a partnership organization declared A. H. Britain, local attorney at the regular luncheon of the University Club held Tuesday at the Kemp hotel. Mr. Britain speaking on the subject of "Common Law Trusts" pointed out that the decision pointed out that the decisions in this state regarding the different forms of business organizations were at variance in some respects with the general consensus of legal authority in other states.

Due to the limited time the scheduled talk of H. L. Hunter on the subject of "Farm Loans" was postponed until the next luncheon of the club. Elmer Scott, president of the Civic Federation of Dallas, the guest of W. B. Hamilton at the luncheon, was introduced and made a brief talk on the work of the University Club of Dallas.

Two of the vocal solo numbers by Mrs. F. C. Barron, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. A. H. Britain, featured the entertainment at the luncheon.

In tracing the development of the various forms of business organizations, Mr. Britain said that the type of common law trust was being used by the larger organizations as it was the only type that adapted itself to big business. The partnership was not practical he declared because of the liability of the partners and the corporation which he said was the most outstanding development in business organization of the last half century had grown into disuse because of the burden of taxation that had been placed on it.

Not Feasible in Texas

The common law trust he said had met the objections to both the other forms of business organizations, not being incorporated, of limited liability and cntrolled by a trustee not responsible to the certificate holders.

The remainder of his talk was taken up with a discussion of the varying legal opinions as to what constituted a discussion of the varying legal opinions as to what constituted a partnership, corporation and common law trust in different states. He gave in detail the two legal opinions from courts in this state which pertain to the subject. He warned against investing in this state in joint stock associations declaring that under existing court decisions the shareholders were to a large extent liable as in a partnership organization.

The success of the University Club of Dallas in managing an arts and science course for that city, was told by Mr. Scott, who was introduced by Mr. Hamilton as "a successful business man who was devoting a large part of his activities to civic betterment." Mr. Scott paid high compliment to the University Club here declaring that he had seen and heard enough regarding it to convince him that the Dallas club would do well to pattern after it in several respects.

Cultured Entertainments

In sponsoring and managing the arts and science course in Dallas he said that it had brought to the city of Dallas, the best cultural programs of outside talent at a minimum cost. He said that during the last year, the club had brought sixteen cultural entertainments to Dallas at a cost of $5 per season ticket which had they been brought there by a commercial organization would cost $17.50. He expressed the hope that by co-operating with similar organizations in this and other cities, an itinerary for cultural entertainment could be worked out which would greatly decrease the cost of such talent.

William Viner announced that the cup purchased by the club to be given to the High school student who excelled in athletics and in his studies, had been awarded to Leo Haney.

His father, Edgar P. Haney, a member of the club, was present and was called upon for a talk. He expressed appreciation for the honor conferred upon his son and expressed the hope that the club in addition to co-operating with the schools of the city would be successful in its campaign for the establishment of a junior college in this city.

Athletic Committee Reports

In the reports of the different committees Mr. Viner, chairman of the entertainment committee announced that a dance would be given by the club at the Kemp hotel on February 9. Dr. T. J. Strong, of the athletic committee, stated that one of the buildings at Call Field, suitable for indoor athletics of all kinds, could be secured for a monthly rental of $75 per month. Due to distance from the city, it was decided to take no action on the proposition at this time. The athletic committee was instructed to make arrangement, if possible, for a gymnasium in the down town district.

C. A. Rogers spoke briefly of the work being done by the club in co-operating with school activities. He praised the spirit shown in the local High school in all lines of work.

C. F. Carter, publicity director for the Chamber of Commerce, told of the plans of that organization to charter a special car to attend the annual meeting of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce to be held at Ranger February 7 and 8. Members were urged to attend the meeting.

Fleet Delayed By Dense Fog

By Associated Press.

CALLO, Peru, Feb. 1.—The vessels of the United States Atlantic fleet arrived here this afternoon, having been delayed by a dense fog. The Pennsylvania, flagship of Admiral Henry B. Wilson, commander of the fleet, was escorted into the harbor by the Peruvian cruisers Grau and Bolognesi. The warships took up anchorage in the harbor behind the destroyers which arrived yesterday. The Pennsylvania fired a salute which was replied to by the batteries on shore.

Many excursion vessels put out to meet the American warships, and at least sixty thousand persons greeted the visiting fleet.

The United States ambassador to Peru, William E. Gonzales, visited Admiral Wilson aboard the Pennsylvania, and the admiral returned the visit later. Admiral Wilson, accompanied by the members of his staff, Ambassador Gonzales and Peruvian naval men visited President Leguia in Lima.

Admiral Wilson was given an ovation when he appeared in the streets of Lima and everywhere the American sailors were greeted enthusiastically. The city has been lavishly decorated and illuminated.

This evening the American officers were given a banquet in the American embassy, which was followed by a ball in the exposition palace.

CRIME GAINS HERE DURING FIRST MONTH

Petty crime in the city during January showed a decrease over December with an increase over that of January a year ago, according to figures compiled Tuesday by Desk Sergeant Ehlers of the police department. Final figures for the month show that $3,600 was collected in fines with 494 arrests. The approximate total for December was $5,000 in fine collections with 700 arrests.

Of the total arrests approximately 30 percent were for traffic violations, 40 percent for vagrancy, 20 percent drunkenness and the remainder which includes several violations of the sanitary ordinance listed as miscellaneous. The decrease in the number of arrests and the amount of fine payments is largely due to fewer violations of the traffic ordinance.

Of the total collected in fines, 60 percent represented $10 fines, 25 percent $5 fines and the remainder $25 fines.

"January always is our worst month in collection of fines" declared sergeant Ehlers when asked whether he believed that the figures indicated a decrease in crime in the city "for some reason, possible New Year resolutions, people are always better the first month of the year than the remainder."

The fandango was derived by the Spaniards from a Moorish dance.

Judge Restrains Disposition of Oil Properties

A temporary injunction in the case of the Hightower Oil company against Constable Shannon Layne was granted Tuesday by Judge H. F. Weldon in Thirtieth district court, restraining Layne from disposing of certain property at a constable's sale in Burkburnett, which the Hightower company claims to be theirs and which is said to have been advertised as that of the Young Petroleum and Development company.

The petition sets out that F. E. Butler has secured judgment against the Young Petroleum and Development company and that property of the company was supposed to have been attached to meet the judgment. Instead, however, of securing the proper machinery, it was said that that of the Hightower company was put on sale.

No date for final hearing has been set.

Preliminaries Held for Music Contest Finals

Elimination tests in the music contest being held among all the pupils of the Wichita Falls city schools, which is to close in a final contest Friday night at the First Christian church, were held Tuesday by Miss Henrietta Pyle, supervisor of music in the city schools and Miss Blanche Clark, secretary to Superintendent Clark.

In the elimination test, Miss Pyle took twenty different pieces of music, some of which were played on a piano and some on a victrola, and required each pupil to give the name of the music played. The pupils making the highest grades will be entered in the final contest.

AUTO PHONES TO BE READY IN 3 MONTHS

Completion of the installation of an automatic telephone system in Wichita Falls, which was commenced Tuesday afternoon, will require about 90 days, according to C. C. Kirby, manager of the local Southwestern Telephone offices.

The automatic phones which are being installed will be used through the local exchange after the old manner of putting through telephone calls until the new system is completed and the switch to the automatic system will be made after due notice has been given all patrons, through newspapers and by personal notice, according to Mr. Kirby.

The new phones are equipped with a metal dial above numbers, which the management requests patrons not to handle until the new system is in use. Mr. Kirby said that a representative of the company will visit each telephone user and give personal instruction in the automatic telephone methods. Also a booklet of instructions will be forwarded each user.

Wichita Falls is the first large city to establish an automatic telephone system, according to Mr. Kirby.

Schools of instruction for the newly appointed women magistrates are conducted in London.

ARGUMENT TO QUASH MOTION BEING HELD UP

Arguments in the motion to quash the indictment against County Judge J. P. Jones, charging malfeasance in office, which was filed Tuesday in Thirtieth district court by his attorneys, Dan Boone and Wade Nelson, will be heard upon the return here from Austin some time this week of District Attorney Fletcher S. Jones, according to an announcement from Judge H. F. Weldon at the time motion was filed.

Efforts will also begin Wednesday to secure dismissal of similar charges against Lee Prescott, county commissioner of Precinct No. 2, with the filing of a similar motion, it was said late Tuesday night by Judge W. B. Chauncey, his counsel.

At present, both are acting in their official capacity and no action to carry out recommendations of the grand jury that they be removed from office has been taken.

In the motion filed Tuesday in Judge Jones' case, it is set out that the indictment as drawn shows that there has been no offense committed and that the three counts in it show that he is not guilty of an offense against the laws of the state.

Charges are made that the return of the indictment against him is only an effort on the part of some few men to bring disgrace and shame on his name.

GRAND OPERA FANS.

Mary Garden's business manager, probably at her direction, is out with a plan of action involving a real innovation in matters operatic. He says that in the matter of dress, social dictation is to go down under the wave of advancing democracy; that men attending the opera are to be a new law unto themselves and can wear overalls if it so pleases them. "We are going to remove the dress suit fetich," he announces, "and popularize opera with men so that they will take as much interest in grand opera as in baseball."

It is something of an undertaking to bring down grand opera from its theoretic giddy heights of intellectual amusement and change its exotic state into the common or Garden variety, so to speak, which will appeal to all minds. And this assurance becomes boldness when it is sought to place classic music on the same level of interest as baseball and make men thrill at an aria as they do at a home run. Still, it may be done. There are plenty of music lovers whom the dress suit fetich drives from the gratification of their tastes, though it is to be doubted whether few or even any of them have breasts so savage (against social tyrannies) for music to charm as to bring them to the opera under the extreme of overalls.

But more reforms tread upon the heels of this one of dress suit regulation. Will the opera be stripped of all its marks as a social function and conversation be forbidden except between the acts, so that the figuratively overalled patron can hear the music? And will the ban placed upon prescribed full dress extend to the operatic singers' long-recognized privilege of indulging caprice at a moment's notice and cancelling engagements at will? For popularization will be nipped in the bud with these handicaps.

And, most important point of all, will lowering of the high cost of opera form part of the general program of popularization? For, after all, that, even more than the privilege of wearing overalls, is what counts with the musical proletariat. —Baltimore American.

FOREIGN STUDENTS IN AMERICA.

In addition to the missionary and special work that is being carried on by churches and missionary societies which are sending out their representatives to many lands, teaching American standards and American methods, there is being carried on another important branch of missionary work, to which a professor of Tsing Hua college in Peking, China, who has come to the New York university for a year as an exchange professor, calls attention in an interesting manner.

The Chinese student, the professor from China, Dr. George H. Danton, declares, is intimately linked with the economic and the cultural future of the land, and knowing this to be true, it is of the utmost importance that these Chinese students coming to America should receeive the best of impressions of America, the country to which they turn for the training by which they may become molders of the destiny of their land.

What is true of the Chinese students is true of the students from nearly every land under the sun who come to America to complete their training. There are scores of such students in this country, and they will become missionaries from our land to theirs.

During his residence in China Dr. Danton has been greatly impressed with the importance of the Chinese students in the United States when they return to their own country and the almost unbounded influence which they have. "It is the returned students who are filling all the high diplomatic posts in China," says Prof. Danton; "It is the returned students who are principals of normal schools and presidents of colleges; returned students are building railroads and erecting mills and factories."—Flint (Mich.) Journal.

When a man doesn't know very much about a subject, he likes to talk about "the common sense of it."

Eve's wardrobe was doubtless limited, but the apple incident proves that she was clothed with authority then as now.

Examine the proudest family tree, and you will discover that the ancestors had to root for a living.

The year 1920 is dead, but the mourners will not assemble for the last sad rites until March 15th.

The advertisements of Southern winter resorts should explain that fur-lined overcoats are not prohibited.

Americans are the only people able to appreciate the wickedness of land grabbing. They don't need any.

Philosophy enables a man to reflect, when he can't get his car started, that walking is cheaper anyway.

"Food Prices Break," says a headline. The line seems incomplete without the addition of the word "Father."

There isn't anything in America worth as little as a ruble, unless it be a corkscrew.

This will be the first time in American history that material for the cabinet has been seasoned in a dry kiln.

Now that the world has abolished war, Mars doubtless sees a sinister menace in the erection of new poison-gas factories.

Before it is too late, it might be a good idea for the Smithsonian Institute to collect a few natural complexions.

Petrograd has troubles enough, but with 71 per cent of the population gone she isn't worrying about a house shortage.

Denied war profits, the next generation will be unable to support our hold-up men in the style in which they were raised.

THE WICKED TOOTHBRUSH

We're all wrong again. Sir John Cantile, K. E. B., eminent British health specialist, says so.

We have just become converted to the idea of dental cleanliness and are beginning to get one hundred per cent efficiency with the toothbrush, when along comes Sir John and says it's a huge mistake. We coddle our teeth too much with brush and powder, he says. He picks on poor old great grandfather to prove his point. The old gentleman, says he, never brushed his teeth and died without one missing.

Sir John is right. We had almost forgotten great-grandfather, but now we recollect him and his teeth very well. He had a remarkably fine set, strong and white. He used to take them out every night and keep them in a glass of water while he slept.

Only once can we remember did great-grandfather's teeth go back on him. He tried to eat a hunk of taffy candy before it had been "pulled." He had to live on a diet of bread and milk for several days while the sticky mess was being dissolved.

A set of teeth as sound and serviceable as we recall great-grandfather's to have been is to be envied. But if we can't have them except by giving up our tooth brush, we shall have to sigh in vain while we continue in error. We like to feel the friction of hog bristles against dental enamel and are like to go through to the end abusing our teeth with our favorite brand of well advertised dentifrice.—Omaha World-Herald.

On the Spur of the Moment

THE LADY BANDITS.

When a gentleman is held up by a lady
On a lonely country highway late at night,
And she aims an automatic at his cady
And stops his car and tells him to alight;
When she frisks him for his watch and chain and boodle
(And this may happen any night to you),
If he does not want a bullet through his noodle,
Pray, what is any gentleman to do?

For you cannot beat a lady, even slightly,
And if you strike a woman you're no gent.
You must stand and take your medicine politely,
And with a genteel protest be content.
No, you cannot bang a lady on the beezer,
And you cannot fell a flapper with a club.
You must treat her as the faultless wife of Caesar,
And remain a gentleman, although a dub.

And then a married man is used to having some lady go through his clothes. There's really nothing new about it.

"Don't tell my husband!" screamed several ladies simultaneously when pinched by the police in a gambling raid the other day. And now the husbands are all puffed up about it—to think, after all that has happened in the way of equal rights, they are still afraid of us.

LOOKING FORWARD.

From the New York American: "Every sinner is going to be punished with an overdose of his own sin. A tobacco smoker will be locked up in a den full of tobacco smoke. A chewer of the filthy weed will be immersed to his neck in a vat of tobacco juice. A drinker will pass his term of purification in a natatorium filled with beer, wine and whisky." Bacon—Do you believe a college career is an aid to business?

Egbert—I certainly do.

"Why do you think so?"

"Well, my son's in college and he smokes about 7,000 cigarettes in a year."

"I don't follow you."

"Isn't he helping along the tobacco business?"

"Whenever anybody is ill at our house we always call in the doctor right away," said a man to his neighbor.

"Don't you wait a day or two to see how things are going to turn out?"

"No, siree. The cemeteries today are filled with people who weren't sick enough to call in a doctor."

"What did you do with that man you caught dealing off the bottom of the deck?"

"Committed him to the asylum," remarked Cactus Joe. "Anybody who would try a trick like that in Crimson Gulch don't leave enough doubt over his sanity to be worth arguin' over."

A country housewife of good intentions but with little culinary knowledge decided to try her hand at cake making. The result was somewhat on the heavy side, and, after offering it to the various members of the household she threw it to the ducks in disgust.

A short time afterward two boys tapped at her door.

"Say, missus," they shouted, "your ducks have sunk."

The wages of chorus girls in New York range as high as $100 a week, according to their good looks. The average pay, however, is nearly $25 a week. The minimum wage for chorus girls in England, as fixed by the Actors' association, is $15 a week, although, in a few cases, as high as $25 is given.

Editorial Digest

UNTERMYER ACCUSES PALMER

An investigation of A. Mitchell Palmer, which, according to Samuel Untermyer, will disclose "a series of the most mortifying scandals that have ever befallen this country" is demanded by the latter and seconded by the former. Now, the American press echoes this demand, some writers with the assurance that the Attorney-General will be completely vindicated and others already convinced that his conduct as head of the Department of Justice or as Alien Property Custodian, or both, was anything but correct.

"With Mr. Palmer himself requesting an investigation of the Department of Justice during his incumbency," says the Springfield Republican (Ind.), "The Senate Judiciary should not hesitate," and, the paper adds, "whatever it investigates, the senate committee should not neglect the office of the alien property custodian, particularly in the period when Mr. Palmer was at the head of it." This step should be taken, the New York Evening Post (Ind.) believes, "in justice to Palmer himself, in justice to his accusers, and, as the brief against him argues, for the purpose of determining precedent on the whole vital question of civic liberties under war-time conditions." The Oklahoma City Oklahoman (Dem.) quotes Palmer's statement that lawyers for "deported" and "enemy" aliens are at the bottom of the charges against him. It continues:

"Similar attacks which have been made upon him before, especially in his conduct of the office of alien property custodian, have been proven without foundation. However, the truth or falsity of the new charges should be established. Mr. Palmer's accusers should be made to put up or shut up. If the attorney-negeral is not guilty of any wrong-doing, he is entitled to a vindication. If he is guilty the public should have the facts."

The Fort Wayne Journal Gazette (Dem.) carefully points out that if Mr. Palmer "used or misused" his powers, it was in no way fault of the democratic party and adds that since "many millions were involved" in the alien property transactions "it is inevitable that he should be hated." While no one "would defend the alien property custodian if he is guilty as Untermyer intimates" the Journal-Gazette adds that "perhaps a barrel of salt should be taken with all the charges." Still more enthusiastic approval of Mr. Palmer "who should have gratitude, not criticism comes from the New York Mail (Ind.). It says in his defense:

"However detached from the realities of actual life, a limited number of academic gentlemen may be, they must allow the rest of us the privilege of believing that a very short shrift indeed is due to the criminal anarchist whether he has actually consummated his crime or is merely making preparation for it. If Mr. Palmer erred at all, it was in his scrupulous regard for respecting all the rights which any just interpretation of the law might give these outlaws. More especially when we remember that one of their bombs meant for himself barely missed its mark."

Unless Mr. Untermyer can "produce some new and startling evidence" the Washington Post (Ind.) declares that the Attorney General need only produce the record of the hearing before the senate committee when charges were made against him "that would ruin the public career of any man—if they had been sustained." This record vindicated Mr. Palmer, it declares, and caused his nomination for attorney general to be confirmed.

But not all the newspapers stand back of Mr. Palmer. Even his apparent willingness to have his conduct toward the deported reds examined is considered "a herring" across the trail by the Springfield Union (Rep.). It says:

"Mr. Palmer is making a great to-do of welcoming an investigation of the methods employed by him in rounding up the alien radicals. It is true that an insignificant and unimportant group of radical sympathizers has been demanding an investigation of the attorney-general's methods in rounding up the radicals. But no one least of all Mr. Palmer, has paid any attention to them until now. But the other demand for an investigation, voiced by Mr. Untermyer, is an entirely different matter and one which apparently Mr. Palmer would like to dodge."

Plans Discussed For Bridge Over Wichita River

Charles R. Moore, president of the Austin Brother Bridge Company, of Dalls, advised with several members of the county commissioner court at an informal meeting Tuesday relative to drawing up plans and specifications for repairs to the bridge over Wichita river at an early date.

The bridge, which is at the foot of Ohio street, was pronounced dangerous for traffic and in need of immediate repairs as the result of an inspection made recently by County Road Engineer J. M. Isbell.

No definite arrangements have as yet been formulated, although it is expected that they will be completed within a few days. Mr. Moore said that he will go to Dallas early this week but will return within two or three days.

Present at the meeting Tuesday were J. P. Jackson, commissioner of precinct No. 1; Lee Prescott, commissioner of precinct No. 2; County Judge J. P. Jones, County Auditor Pat Murphy and County Road Engineer Isbell.

Do the Busy Days Show Up Your Strength?

The busy day is a true test of your physical condition. The way your mind and body forces respond under stress indicates the extent of your reserve power; discloses the strength or weakness of your staying qualities.

When your work piles high, with matters of importance surging in upon you in a seemingly endless stream, and it's hurry and confusion on every hand, do you feel that sensation of being on the verge of "flying to pieces," under the crystallizing effect of the high tension? If you do, then there's something wrong.

Your inability to keep cool and collected, your readiness to petulancy, your tendency to nervousness, your inclination to lose your temper and "fly off the handle" are indubitable signs of a disordered and out-of-gear condition of your general system.

Such symptoms are a real barometer of your physical and nervous condition. They tell of a threatened breakdown, cautioning you to slow up and take observation of yourself.

In such situations there is safety in FORCE, the master rebuilder. It is your protection against the peril of a general and nervous break-down, because it will tide you over the danger period, and bring you back to normal health by its sustaining and reconstructive properties.

FORCE might well be called a tissue and nerve food, because its real tendency is to supply the nourishment needed by the impoverished organs of the body. It feeds the hungry nerve cells and rebuilds the broken down tissues.

If your nerves are shattered and your physical powers exhausted, don't run the risk of a collapse — commence at once to fortify your system with FORCE. It will bring you increased energy, renewed strength and greater endurance.

BRITAIN SAYS COMMON TRUST NOT FEASIBLE

The tendency of the higher courts in this state is to hold that the responsibility of shareholders in a joint stock association is practically the same as in a partnership organization declared A. H. Britain, local attorney at the regular luncheon of the University Club held Tuesday at the Kemp hotel. Mr. Britain speaking on the subject of "Common Law Trusts" pointed out that the decision pointed out that the decisions in this state regarding the different forms of business organizations were at variance in some respects with the general consensus of legal authority in other states.

Due to the limited time the scheduled talk of H. L. Hunter on the subject of "Farm Loans" was postponed until the next luncheon of the club. Elmer Scott, president of the Civic Federation of Dallas, the guest of W. B. Hamilton at the luncheon, was introduced and made a brief talk on the work of the University Club of Dallas.

Two of the vocal solo numbers by Mrs. F. C. Barron, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. A. H. Britain, featured the entertainment at the luncheon.

In tracing the development of the various forms of business organizations, Mr. Britain said that the type of common law trust was being used by the larger organizations as it was the only type that adapted itself to big business. The partnership was not practical he declared because of the liability of the partners and the corporation which he said was the most outstanding development in business organization of the last half century had grown into disuse because of the burden of taxation that had been placed on it.

Not Feasible in Texas

The common law trust he said had met the objections to both the other forms of business organizations, not being incorporated, of limited liability and cntrolled by a trustee not responsible to the certificate holders.

The remainder of his talk was taken up with a discussion of the varying legal opinions as to what constituted a discussion of the varying legal opinions as to what constituted a partnership, corporation and common law trust in different states. He gave in detail the two legal opinions from courts in this state which pertain to the subject. He warned against investing in this state in joint stock associations declaring that under existing court decisions the shareholders were to a large extent liable as in a partnership organization.

The success of the University Club of Dallas in managing an arts and science course for that city, was told by Mr. Scott, who was introduced by Mr. Hamilton as "a successful business man who was devoting a large part of his activities to civic betterment." Mr. Scott paid high compliment to the University Club here declaring that he had seen and heard enough regarding it to convince him that the Dallas club would do well to pattern after it in several respects.

Cultured Entertainments

In sponsoring and managing the arts and science course in Dallas he said that it had brought to the city of Dallas, the best cultural programs of outside talent at a minimum cost. He said that during the last year, the club had brought sixteen cultural entertainments to Dallas at a cost of $5 per season ticket which had they been brought there by a commercial organization would cost $17.50. He expressed the hope that by co-operating with similar organizations in this and other cities, an itinerary for cultural entertainment could be worked out which would greatly decrease the cost of such talent.

William Viner announced that the cup purchased by the club to be given to the High school student who excelled in athletics and in his studies, had been awarded to Leo Haney.

His father, Edgar P. Haney, a member of the club, was present and was called upon for a talk. He expressed appreciation for the honor conferred upon his son and expressed the hope that the club in addition to co-operating with the schools of the city would be successful in its campaign for the establishment of a junior college in this city.

Athletic Committee Reports

In the reports of the different committees Mr. Viner, chairman of the entertainment committee announced that a dance would be given by the club at the Kemp hotel on February 9. Dr. T. J. Strong, of the athletic committee, stated that one of the buildings at Call Field, suitable for indoor athletics of all kinds, could be secured for a monthly rental of $75 per month. Due to distance from the city, it was decided to take no action on the proposition at this time. The athletic committee was instructed to make arrangement, if possible, for a gymnasium in the down town district.

C. A. Rogers spoke briefly of the work being done by the club in co-operating with school activities. He praised the spirit shown in the local High school in all lines of work.

C. F. Carter, publicity director for the Chamber of Commerce, told of the plans of that organization to charter a special car to attend the annual meeting of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce to be held at Ranger February 7 and 8. Members were urged to attend the meeting.

Fleet Delayed By Dense Fog

By Associated Press.

CALLO, Peru, Feb. 1.—The vessels of the United States Atlantic fleet arrived here this afternoon, having been delayed by a dense fog. The Pennsylvania, flagship of Admiral Henry B. Wilson, commander of the fleet, was escorted into the harbor by the Peruvian cruisers Grau and Bolognesi. The warships took up anchorage in the harbor behind the destroyers which arrived yesterday. The Pennsylvania fired a salute which was replied to by the batteries on shore.

Many excursion vessels put out to meet the American warships, and at least sixty thousand persons greeted the visiting fleet.

The United States ambassador to Peru, William E. Gonzales, visited Admiral Wilson aboard the Pennsylvania, and the admiral returned the visit later. Admiral Wilson, accompanied by the members of his staff, Ambassador Gonzales and Peruvian naval men visited President Leguia in Lima.

Admiral Wilson was given an ovation when he appeared in the streets of Lima and everywhere the American sailors were greeted enthusiastically. The city has been lavishly decorated and illuminated.

This evening the American officers were given a banquet in the American embassy, which was followed by a ball in the exposition palace.

The ordinary varieties of ferns are in great use in China and Japan as articles of food.

CRIME GAINS HERE DURING FIRST MONTH

Petty crime in the city during January showed a decrease over December with an increase over that of January a year ago, according to figures compiled Tuesday by Desk Sergeant Ehlers of the police department. Final figures for the month show that $3,600 was collected in fines with 494 arrests. The approximate total for December was $5,000 in fine collections with 700 arrests.

Of the total arrests approximately 30 percent were for traffic violations, 40 percent for vagrancy, 20 percent drunkenness and the remainder which includes several violations of the sanitary ordinance listed as miscellaneous. The decrease in the number of arrests and the amount of fine payments is largely due to fewer violations of the traffic ordinance.

Of the total collected in fines, 60 percent represented $10 fines, 25 percent $5 fines and the remainder $25 fines.

"January always is our worst month in collection of fines" declared sergeant Ehlers when asked whether he believed that the figures indicated a decrease in crime in the city "for some reason, possible New Year resolutions, people are always better the first month of the year than the remainder."

The fandango was derived by the Spaniards from a Moorish dance.

Judge Restrains Disposition of Oil Properties

A temporary injunction in the case of the Hightower Oil company against Constable Shannon Layne was granted Tuesday by Judge H. F. Weldon in Thirtieth district court, restraining Layne from disposing of certain property at a constable's sale in Burkburnett, which the Hightower company claims to be theirs and which is said to have been advertised as that of the Young Petroleum and Development company.

The petition sets out that F. E. Butler has secured judgment against the Young Petroleum and Development company and that property of the company was supposed to have been attached to meet the judgment. Instead, however, of securing the proper machinery, it was said that that of the Hightower company was put on sale.

No date for final hearing has been set.

Preliminaries Held for Music Contest Finals

Elimination tests in the music contest being held among all the pupils of the Wichita Falls city schools, which is to close in a final contest Friday night at the First Christian church, were held Tuesday by Miss Henrietta Pyle, supervisor of music in the city schools and Miss Blanche Clark, secretary to Superintendent Clark.

In the elimination test, Miss Pyle took twenty different pieces of music, some of which were played on a piano and some on a victrola, and required each pupil to give the name of the music played. The pupils making the highest grades will be entered in the final contest.

AUTO PHONES TO BE READY IN 3 MONTHS

Completion of the installation of an automatic telephone system in Wichita Falls, which was commenced Tuesday afternoon, will require about 90 days, according to C. C. Kirby, manager of the local Southwestern Telephone offices.

The automatic phones which are being installed will be used through the local exchange after the old manner of putting through telephone calls until the new system is completed and the switch to the automatic system will be made after due notice has been given all patrons, through newspapers and by personal notice, according to Mr. Kirby.

The new phones are equipped with a metal dial above numbers, which the management requests patrons not to handle until the new system is in use. Mr. Kirby said that a representative of the company will visit each telephone user and give personal instruction in the automatic telephone methods. Also a booklet of instructions will be forwarded each user.

Wichita Falls is the first large city to establish an automatic telephone system, according to Mr. Kirby.

Schools of instruction for the newly appointed women magistrates are conducted in London.

ARGUMENT TO QUASH MOTION BEING HELD UP

Arguments in the motion to quash the indictment against County Judge J. P. Jones, charging malfeasance in office, which was filed Tuesday in Thirtieth district court by his attorneys, Dan Boone and Walter Nelson, will be heard upon the return here from Austin some time this week of District Attorney Fletcher S. Jones, according to an announcement from Judge H. F. Weldon at the time motion was filed.

Efforts will also begin Wednesday to secure dismissal of similar charges against Lee Prescott, county commissioner of Precinct No. 2, with the filing of a similar motion, it was said late Tuesday night by Judge W. B. Chauncey, his counsel.

At present, both are acting in their official capacity and no action to carry out recommendations of the grand jury that they be removed from office has been taken.

In the motion filed Tuesday in Judge Jones' case, it is set out that the indictment as drawn shows that there has been no offense committed and that the three counts in it show that he is not guilty of an offense against the laws of the state.

Charges are made that the return of the indictment against him is only an effort on the part of some few men to bring disgrace and shame on his name.

SPUDDERS ACCORDED HONOR OF PLAYING EXHIBITION IN DOAK ROBERTS' HOME TOWN

Wichita Falls drew a unique honor with the framing of the 1921 Texas league schedule, being down to play a go with the Buffaloes from Houston at Corsicana, the birthplace of the Texas league, on June 30.

As the town, in addition to being the birthplace of the league, is also the home town of Doak Roberts, president of the league, late president of the Houston club, and one of its organizers, as well as of Walter Salm, the Spudder president-manager, it is expected that the day will be somewhat of a gala occasion.

Holiday Dates.

Despite the fact that neither of the main holiday dates are played at home, the schedule makers were extremely kind in the placing of the club on July 4 and on Labor day, playing on those occasions in Pantherville and in the home town of the Marines.

Both these dates are complimentary to the drawing power of the local club on the road. The Wichita Falls club has always been a premier drawing card in Fort Worth, just as the Cats have outdrawn any other club here. The reason is not far to seek, and it has a little more back of it than the rivalry between the two towns. The Spudders were the hardest nuts for the Atzmen to crack last year, and fought them on practically even terms throughout the season. The Spudders won a handsome majority of the games dropped by the Panthers in the last half.

Wichita Falls has also drawn well at Dallas, the second city in the league, and stronger than San Antonio for baseball purposes. The Labor day fracas between the Spudders and the Dallas crew should cause the turnstiles at Gardner park to click up a near record.

The Round-Up.

Officials of the baseball club and representatives of Tom Burnett and J. B. Marlow, who are arranging for the spring round-up are dickering on the use of the ball park for next year's round-up, it became known Tuesday, and a trade may be announced within a short while. It is reported that the roundup may be dated to come during the first away from home series of the local club—starting 11 days after the opener on April 15.

It is also reported that the baseball club is asking a considerably stiffer ante for the use of the park than was charged last season, on the ground that the sum charged then was not sufficient to compensate for the tearing up of the infield at the round-up.

Infield Showing Up.

The rains of some weeks ago, coupled with several weeks of nice weather, is bringing out the newly sodded infield at Athletic park in great shape. Last season the Spudder were forced to be content with a skinned infield, but the field has since been sodded and will rank with any seen around the entire circuit.

Dressing Up.

The fences, club house, stand and outbuildings at Athletic park are getting their new spring suits, Salm having signed a contract for the annual painting job Tuesday. Practically all of the advertising space on the stands and the fences have been sold, it is announced from club headquarters.

JESS WILLARD, IN NEW YORK, PREPARES TO REGAIN HIS LAURELS FROM DEMPSEY

All doubt about Willard's seriousness in seeking to regain his heavyweight title from Jack Dempsey was removed when Willard arrived in New York recently to complete negotiations with Tex Rickard and select training quarters near New York. The bout originally was scheduled for March 17 at New York. Now, however, it probably will be staged later in an open air arena. Willard appeared to his friends to be in fairly good condition, due to his work on his farm and to light training in which he has been indulging for several months.

SPORT SNAP SHOTS
BY JACK KEENE

Youthful baseball recruits who are fortunate enough to be on the roster of the Chcago White Sox are showing an eagerness and enthusiasm for the coming season seldom seen among the youngsters coming up for big league trials.

Three of the aspirants sent in their signed contracts recently and all expressed confidence of earning places on the regular Sox outfit, which is to be reconstructed from the wreckage of last fall.

The latest youngster to sign is Tom Jonnard, recruit catcher, who appeared with the team last fall just about long enough to get a cup of coffee, but at the same time long enough to show Manager Gleason a bit of baseball ability that looked promising. He is wintering in Nashville.

Jonnard's contract followed that of Stanley M. (Bud) King, a swarthy Kentucky lad who for four years was called the champion high school pitcher of that state. Last year he starred with a semi-pro club, winning twenty-one and losing four games, two of his loses being against the Louisville American association team. King was recommended by Harvey McClellan, who lives in the Kentucky hills.

The other youngster who signed is Peter Monahan, a lefthanded first baseman off the lots of Cincinnati, where he was spied by a Sox booster. He is only twenty-one years and weighs 175 pounds.

Infielder Eddie Mulligan of the Salt Lake club of the Pacific coast league has been sold to the Chicago White Sox.

The consideration includes three players from the Chicago club, to be selected by Salt Lake prior to March 5, according to H. W. Lane, president of the Salt Lake club, who made the announcement recently at San Francisco. Mulligan came to Salt Lake in 1919 from the Kansas City club.

With Mulligan in the lineup, the Chicago infield may be made up this year of three former Salt Lake players—Sheely at first, Johnson at shortstop and Mulligan at third base

The unconditional release of Charles Herzog, the veteran infielder was announced recently by William Veeck, president of the Cubs. Wavers were asked on Herzog about two months ago.

In a letter to Herzog, telling the player of his release, Veeck wrote:

"Your release was not the result of any known conduct on your part that reflects in any manner upon your honor or integrity."

Herzog's name was linked with several others in the baseball scandal that resulted from a game played in Chicago last season between the Phillies and the Cubs. The game was said to be fixed so that the Phillies would win.

When waivers were asked on Herzog the infielder made a determined effort to clear his name of any dishonesty, and asked both Veeck and John A. Heydler for a hearing. Herzog stated his case clearly and proved that he was not mixed up in any scandal. He probably will manage some minor league team during the coming season.

Contrary to reports, Hank Gowdy is not going to quit the Braves. The catcher has signed a contract with the Boston club, and will leave with a number of other players for the training camp in March.

Dick Rudolph, the veteran pitcher, however, has probably pitched his last game for the Braves. Rudolph has been given permission to negotiate with some other club by George Washington Grant, president of the Braves.

FEBRUARY.

February resembles a sausage: It is short, but they've crowded a lot into it. For instance, both Washington and Lincoln managed to get born in this month, and St. Valentine got in with a day dedicated to the sending of love letters which are later read in open court at a vast expense to the sender. Sometimes February is not long enough, so another day is added. When this happens the year is called leap year, for the reason that all the unmarried females of marriageable age and older leap at any member of the slower sex unless he is properly chaperoned. So you can see that, in addition to all the other advantages leap year gives the ladies it adds an extra day on which they can hunt their quarry. This is rank extravagrance—they don't need it.

February was not in the Romulian calendar. It evidently came in later with woman's rights. Besides, the Roman ladies didn't need any Februarys. When the Roman lad wanted a wife he went out and grabbed her, as the Sabine flappers would tell you if you asked them. His motto was "Nunc aut nungaum, soc et tuum," which, translated rather freely, means "Catch 'em young, treat 'em rough, tell 'em nothing." Today if a young fellow wants a wife he's the last one to find it out. The glad news has already percolated through the entire feminine contingent of the parish and is rapidly spreading throughout the state. I might add parenthetically that in certain portions of Thibet leap year is not so popular with the mothers of the young man hunters, since the rather original custom is established of cooking and eating the mother-in-law at the wedding feast. Jolly custom, what?

Among other happenings which grace February are the reappearance of the Christmas Bills which you couldn't pay in January and which you had hoped the vulgar tradesmen would forget to send again—the bottom of the coal bin begins to show numerous unexpected places—wives begin to talk about spring cleaning—the great American indoor game of Figuring Your Income Tax starts—the Landlord comes around with the new lease, he has a man to help him carry it—therent is so much larger.

If you are North, you wish you were at Palm Beach—if you are at Palm Beach, you wish you were back home. You begin to look forward to March because right after that there will be only April to struggle through before it is May again, when you can figure on how you will spend those few good days in June in order to rest up for the hot month of July.

Well, says you, haven't you got one nice thing to say for February? Yes, says I, there isn't so much of it.

Fire Destroys $117,450 Worth Of Properties

The total value of property in which blazes developed during the month of January was $117,450 and the total amount of losses to Wichita Falls citizens was approximately $44,425, according to figures of Fire Chief McClure for the month of January. This total does not take into consideration the nearby buildings which might have been destroyed except for the timely work of firemen, but includes only the value of the buildings in which fires broke out, according to firemen.

A total of 25 alarms were answered by the local fire department during the month, according to the report, of which 11 were reported to have caused no damage. More than $37,000 of the total loss was caused by four fires, one of which caused damage estimated at approximately $18,500 and another at about $8,000.

The relief work of the American Friends include the daily feeding of 600,000 children in all parts of Germany.

Frank Bancroft.

The most regretable feature of the grand old game of baseball is that, one by one, the men who helped make the game in the last two or three decades must drop out.

Frank Bancroft is one of these men. He has retired as business manager of the Cincinnati Reds after thirty years of service with that club. His retirement was voluntary, due to poor health. He will receive a substantial pension the rest of his life.

Bancroft's services were not confined to the Reds. He boosted baseball in many ways. The present popularity of baseball in Cuba is due to his enterprise in being the first one to take a team of stars there to play.

He was, when he resigned, the dean of baseball officials. He learned to play the game while a soldier in the Union forces back in Civil war days. When the war ended Bancroft saw a future in baseball and stuck to it.

In 1877 "Banny" drew attenton by managing successfully a team at New Bedford. Jim Mutrie, famous old time player, was captain and shortstop on that team. And each month a truck unloaded Mutrie's salary at his door—it was $60. Harry Stovey was a member of the outfit.

Two years later Bancroft formed the "Hop Bitters" team at Rochester, N. Y., and it was the team that he took to Cuba. The next year "Banny" went to Worchester and in 1881 and 1882 managed the Detroit team in the National leage. The next year he built up a team for Providence in the National league. This team won the first world's championship from the Metropolitans of New York. After that Bancroft was with Rochester, Philadelphia, Indianapolis and Milwaukee before joining the Reds in 1890.

SOX SCANDAL AGAIN UNDER INVESTIGATION

CHICAGO, Feb. 1. — Robert E. Crowe, state's attorney, today personally conducted a grand jury investigation to reports that the indictments voted some time ago against eight Chicago American League baseball players and others for alleged complicity in the throwing of 1919 world series games were to be pigeonholed and the men never brought to trial.

Among those called before the jury today were: Maclay Hoyne, former states' attorney; George T. Kenney, his secretary; Thomas D. Nash, attorney for four of the indicted players; Hartley Replogle and Henry Berger, former assistant states' attorney, who conducted the baseball investigation, and L. G. Edwardson of Chicago, correspondent for a New York newspaper, which was said to have printed the report that the case was to be dropped.

While no official announcement of the proceedings before the jury was made, it was said that Mr. Nash denied that he ever had said that the case would be dropped or that he had been offered copies of the original testimony for a certain price.

Shortly after Mr. Crowe took office, it was reported that the original copy of the testimony had been stolen and later that Mr. Hoyne had ordered a copy of it made. An investigation then brought a statement from Mr. Hoyne that he had ordered the copy made for the records and that all of the records of the case were in the state's attorney's safe. He was said to have repeated this statement today to the grand jury.

Mr. Crowe reiterated previous statements that the case would be brought to trial just as quickly as it could be prepared.

All the White Sox players have furnished bond except "Chick" Gandil, Claude Williams and Joe Jackson. These three men, Mr. Crowe said, would be treated as "fugitives of justice," if they did not appear at the trial, and an attempt would be made to force them to surrender.

Mrs. W. L. Smith of 1909 Lucille street, assisted by other members of Mrs. J. C. V. T. Christensen's division, composed of Mesdames F. E. Fisher, G. R. Walker, Sarah Smith, S. E. Curtis, F. E. and H. E. McConnell, J. Lem Keevil, J. L. Downing, Ewing Claggett, G. C. Jensen, B. F. Nix, J. C. Allbright and J. B. Lawton, were hostesses to the Ladies' Aid society of the First Christian church and their friends at the home of Mrs. Smith Monday afternoon at the regular monthly social meeting of the society.

During the business session plans were completed for a church party to be given at the church Thursday evening, which will combine the regular monthly social affair of the men's class with that of a kitchen shower to be given by the aid society, in which utensils will be donated to the church kitchen.

A general contribution, amounting to $348, was given at the meeting Monday, which consisted of dues, free will offering and the monthly dues from the various divisions. The addition of 15 new members was also reported by division leaders.

Following the business session, a short program was rendered, in which Mrs. J. C. Albright gave a vocal selection, Miss Vaughn Buchanan a reading, and Miss Ina Merle Robinson a violin solo.

Delicious refreshments were served during the social meeting, consisting of banana salad, beaten biscuits, assorted cakes and coffee to 125 members and friends.

Fried Smelts.—To clean smelts open outer gills and with the forefinger take hold of the inner gills and pull gently. The parts unfit for food are all attached to these inner gills and come away together, leaving the smelt in perfect shape. Rinse thoroughly and wipe dry. If smelts are small dip in milk and roll in flour or in egg and breadcrumbs. Fry in deep fat.

Fish Timbales—One cup fish, one cup mashed potatoes, one egg, salt one cup softened bread crumbs, one-quarter cup milk and one-eighth teaspoon paprika.

Combine the ingredients in the order given. Pour the mixture into small well oiled moulds and cook either in a steamer or on a rack in a pan, surrounding the moulds one-third of the way up with hot water. Cover each mould with waxed paper and tie it securely with string if there is any danger of the tops coming loose. Steam until the mixture is firm. Serve with egg sauce.

Fish Salad—Break fish into small pieces, marinate with French dressing. It may be combined with diced celery or with shredded cabbage. Mix with a little mayonnaise, serve on lettuce leaves with mayonnaise on top and garnish with parsley. Sliced hard boiled eggs, peas, nuts or green peppers may be combined with fish. Boiled dressing may be used in place of mayonnaise.

Planked Fish—Have the fish cleaned, skin side on, and a heated hardwood plank. Brush over with melted fat and sprinkle with salt and pepper. Bake in a moderate oven, basting frequently. When fish is cooked surround with a border of duchess potatoes, shaping by means of a pastry bag and star tube. Brush the potatoes over with egg yolk mixed with an equal quantity of milk. Let brown in the oven and serve with maitre d'hotel sauce garnish with lemon and parsley.

Dressing for Baked Fish—One and one-quarter cups bread crumbs, one-third teaspoon salt, one-eighth teaspoon pepper, two tablespoon of chopped parsley, two tablespoons of onion juice, two tablespoons melted shortening, one-half teaspoon of mixed seasoning (thyme, sweet marjoram.)

Soften the bread crumbs in hot water. Add the seasonings, then the melted shortening.

TASTY [illegible].

Foamy Sauce—Beat the whites of two eggs stiff and with cup of granulated sugar, beat again and add the juice of half a lemon. Mix this in, add a cup of boiling milk and serve.

Diplomatic Sauce—Boil two cups of water with sugar until they are well mixed and not a syrup. Thicken with flour mixed smooth in a little cold water and then add until clear. Add half or the same amount of red wine strawberry, raspberry or fruit juice—currant juice—and lemon juice—and a squeeze or red lemon. Sprinkle of half a teaspoon of mace and serve.

About 70 species of the extinct great auk are preserved in museums.

WITH THE WOMEN OF TODAY

By EDITH MORIARTY

Mme. Marie Gradowski, formerly the Countess Devier, and a famous miniaturist, has arrived here a refuge from Russia. She had been high in the favor of the czar and had painted the portraits of nearly all the imperial family before the fall of the empire. She has with her in this country her young son, who left Russia with her and has shared all of her adventures. She has now started her career anew in a strange land although she is past middle age.

Mme. de Gradowski lived in Moscow with her son, who was at that time twelve years old, when the outbreak against the regime of Kerensky developed. She was ordered to leave the city and was sent to Petrograd, where she arrived safely after an arduous trip during which she was subjectede to many insults.

From Petrograd she finally went to Finland and was later received with much cordiality at Copenhagen. She painted miniatures of members of the royal family. The mother of the former Russian czar was living in Copenhagen at the time.

Mme. de Gradowski was born in Platwa, the home of the Deviers in south Russia. She studied art in Paris, where she was taken when fifteen years old. She was taken into the household of the czar on her return to Russia, and it was at that time that she did many of the most famous of her miniatures. Many of her portraits were destroyed to keep them from falling into the hands of the bolshevists.

Countess Marie de Gradowsky.

One Woman's Advice.

Mrs. Ernest Thompson Seton, who is business manager for her husband, the author and lecturer on animal life, has had much opportunity to study public affairs. She says that, in her opinion, women should assert themselves in Washington and should force their point of view upon congress. Women can make men think directly in terms of human life. She suggested that women's organizations have committees in Washington to interview congressmen and urge upon them important action advocated by women. She also urged that women should work in their own communities in various parts of the United States, to arouse sentiment for the important movements backed by women, and should induce their neighbors to send letters to congressmen. She said that women must let the legislators in Washington know that they were alive and intended to vote when elections came around.

CHICAGO, Feb. 1.—Butter higher; creamery extras 46c. Eggs higher, receipts 11,223 cases; firsts 35c. Poultry alive, unchanged.

NEW YORK COFFEE.

NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—The market for coffee futures was lower today under scattering liquidation accompanied by reports of easier firm offers from Brazil. The general market showed a net decline of 14 to 19 points. March 8.46; May 8.33; July 7.26; September 7.66; October 7.76; December 7.95.

Spot coffee was reported in light demand at 4⅝ to ⅞ for Rio 7s and 9⅝ to 10¾ for Santos 4s.

NEW YORK SUGAR.

NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—The local market for raw sugar was weak and lower under increased offerings with demand light. There were sales of 79,300 bags of Cubas at 3 3-16 cnts, cost and freight, late last night and 5,600 bags of Venezuelas sold today on the same basis. Crop advices from Cuba were a little more favorable and receipts there had increased materially.

The market for refined was somewhat demoralized and prices broke 50 to 65 points, with fine granulated quoted at 6.85 to 7.00 or the lowest prices recorded in over two years.

The more favorable crop advices from Cuba and the weakness in both raw and refined led to freer offerings in the futures markets and prices at the close were 19 to 24 points net lower.

ASSEMBLY ADJOURNS

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—The national assembly of Pan-America adjourned yesterday, the state department was informed today. The advices also told of the apointment of Narciso Garay as minister of foreign affairs.

In some propical regions where coal is scarce teakwood boxes blackened inside, properly insulated, are in common use for baking and cook-

WHEAT PRICE GETS SETBACK ON BAD NEWS

CHICAGO, Feb. 1.—Untoward industrial and financial conditions, together with a big new break in Argentine prices led to a sharp setback today in the wheat market here. The close was weak, 4 to 5¾c net lower, with March at 1.55 to 1.55¼ and May 1.43⅜ to 1.44. Corn finished unchanged to ⅜c down, oats off ⅛@¼ to ⅜c and provisions at 15 cents to 40 cents decline.

Notwithstanding efforts of some bulls to show that the United States wheat trade is at present virtually on a domestic basis, the big discount on Argentine wheat as compared with domestic proved to be a heavy weight on the market. The close was at the bottom prices of the season, with May at the lowest level yet for the crop.

All deliveries of corn and oats touched new low record prices, but profit taking brought about rallies. The declines were ascribed to sympathy with wheat and to liberal receipts of corn.

Provisions went lower, reflecting the course of hogs and grain.

Stamford Legion Gives Smoker to C. C. Members

STAMFORD, Tex., Feb. 1.—The local post of the American Legion entertained the business men of Stamford last night with a smoker and banquet. There were over 200 present. Sandwiches and coffee were served in kits as they were served in army, several of the boys acting at K. P's. The visitors with their plates, knives, forks and cups lined up and marched by the kitchen and were served as they were in the army. The local high school orchestra furnished music for the occasion and the program was as follows:

Introduction of toastmaster by Lois Langford, post commander.
Toastmaster, E. V. Hardwick.
Welcome address, W. M. Bule.
Response, R. L. Haynie.
Legion's finances, W. Otis Caton, finance officer.
Bits of by play, Ed Layne.
Etiquette of the flag and national anthems, Dr. Dallas Southard.

STEADY TONE IS SHOWN AT COTTON CLOSE

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 1.—While the trend was lower during the better part of the session in cotton today, there was a sudden turn toward steadiness in the last half hour of the day, when shorts took profits and the consequences and last prices showed losses but 5 to 22 points.

The selling was due to a variety of causes, chief among which was the unfavorable opinion regarding to political situation abroad. Liverpool came in worse than due and this caused the lower opening. A little later the break in the foreign exchange market, the fall in silver and in English consols, and reports of tighter money in domestic market attracted attention.

Trade levels followed the irregulation of a government publication calling attention to figures showing that production was far in excess of consumption.

NEW YORK COTTON.

NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—The cotton market showed continued nervousness today, and there was a further sharp break in prices. The general market closed steady at a net decline of 12 to 19 points.

The market opened steady at a decline of 5 to 11 points in response to lower Liverpool cables, the lower opening of foreign exchange and reports of declines in southern spot markets late yesterday. Selling was not particularly active or general, but there was scattering liquidation as well as local and southern pressure on the break which carried active months 30 to 47 points net lower. There was a good deal of covering at the lower levels of prices. Last prices showed rallies to 26 to 30 points from the lowest. The conflicting opinion expressed with reference to the German indemnity agreement seemed to have had a confusing effect on sentiment, and the possibility of increased spot offerings with the advance of the planting season. Liverpool cables reported continued depression in Manchester and said mills had fair stocks on hand. The reports of an easier spot basis, were considered partly responsible for the renewal of March liquidation and relative weakness of near months.

LIVERPOOL COTTON.

LIVERPOOL, Feb. 1.—Cotton, spot, in limited request, prices easier; good middling 10.05; fully middling 9.33; middling 8.48; low middling 7.33; good ordinary 5.82; ordinary 5.05.

Sales 2,000 bales, including 1,700 American; receipts 2,000 bales, including 1,700 American; futures closed quiet; February 8.87; March 9.01½; May 9.30; July 9.51; October 9.64; December 9.60.

COURT AT LAW.

Suits against four local citizens charging illegal practices will be called for trial in county court at law according to an announcement Tuesday by Judge Guy Rogers.

The cases are divided as follows: Three against W. E. Nelson; 15 against F. A. Black; 10 against C. H. Black and 3 against P. L. Meyers.

Appearance bonds in four criminal cases which were set for trial Tuesday morning in county court-at-law, were ordered forfeited by Judge Guy Rogers when defendants failed to answer for trial.

The cases were:

J. M. Rice, charged with carrying a pistol.

B. M. Fugitt, charged with aggravated assault.

H. Wolf, charged with gaming.

M. E. Wolf, charged with gaming.

Warrants for their rearrest were ordered issued by the court and announcement was made that the cases will be reset for trial during the present term.

In taking this action, Judge Rogers said that the defendants had been given ample notice of the date for their trials, the complete settings having been published in the daily papers here two weeks ago, and that it showed nothing less than negligence and carelessness on their part in failing to appear or to have their attorneys answer for them.

Other cases disposed of during the day were:

Guy Little, charged with aggravated assault, dismissed.

F. B. Manley, charged with petty theft, dismissed.

F. Bishop, charged with carrying a pistol, dismissed.

W. R. Batchel, charged with vagrancy, information quashed.

A verdict of guilty and assessing punishment at confinement in the county jail for a term of 90 days was returned Tuesday by Judge Guy Rogers in county court-at-law in the case of Clyde Peltz, a youth, charged with operating an automobile without the owner's consent.

Peltz was arrested Friday by the police in connection with the disappearance of an automobile belonging to Dr. M. M. Walker, city and county health officer, Thursday night. The car was later recovered.

A motion by counsel for defendant that trial of the case be passed until next week on grounds that there had been insufficient time in which to prepare a defense, was overruled by the court. A jury was waived.

TURNOVER ON STOCK MARKET NOTEWORTHY

NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—Dealings in the stock market today were chiefly noteworthy for their extremely light and narrow turnover, total sales of about 425,000 shares representing almost the dullest full session thus far this year.

The sluggish movement was accompanied by a general impairment of quoted values which extended from 1 to 3 points in the prominent issues and rose above that range in several more speculative stocks.

News and general developments of the day hastened the reaction which found substantial expression in the important commodity markets, domestic money rates and virtually the entire range of international remittances.

Specific features of weakness comprised the leading oils, steels, and allied specialties, including American woolen and motor accessories. Rails also contributed moderately to the reversal.

All the leading rates of foreign exchange moved in favor of this center, the reaction from recent gains being attributed to dissatisfaction of European interests over the terms outlined by the reparations committee.

Weakness of industrials and liberty issues, especially the latter, was the outstanding feature of the bond market. The general list, however, displaying a heavy tone.

LIBERTY BONDS.

NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—Liberty bonds closed: 3½s $1.90; first 4s 87.20; second 4s 85.70; first 4¼s 86.70; second 4¼s 85.70; third 4¼s 89.06; fourth 4¼s 86.; Victory 3¾s, 97.18; Victory 4¾s 97.20.

Payment Begins On Income Tax

The opening day of the current income tax drive showed a decidely heavier payment than the first day of the 1920 drive, according to Internal Revenue officers, at the close of business Tuesday.

Henry Wampler, chief of the Wichita Falls division, internal revenue, has asked that individuals who desire assistance in completing their returns file their reports early, as the last days of the drive are always too crowded to permit giving personal aid.

On your way home tonight, stop in at the Kemp Hotel Lunch Room and carry home some of our French pastry, baked fresh today.—Adv.

JAP PROBLEM SOLUTION TO BE POSTPONED

By Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—Settlement of diplomatic problems with Japan, especially as a rising from the enactment by the state of California of anti-alien land ownership legislation, will be postponed until the Harding administration assumes office, it was indicated today by state department officials.

While no formal announcement on the subject was made, it was intimated by officials that because of the short life left the present administration and the long standing character of the problems now in process of solution between the two governments, it would be unwise to hasten unduly their final adjustment merely for the purpose of concluding a treaty under this administration.

Officials also said that the recommendations submitted to the respective governments by Roland S. Morris, United States ambassador to Japan, and Baron Shidehara, the Japanese ambassador to the United States, as a result of their recent informal conversations, directed to a solution of the problems, were not to be interpreted as in the nature of an agreement. It might be necessary, they added, for the ambassadors to resume their conversations after the two governments had studied the reports.

Both Secretary of State Colby and Under Secretary Davis, during the last few days, have been engaged in studying Ambassador Morris' report but they have not as yet reached the point of taking up the question with President Wilson.

Amusements

PALACE

Bothwell Browne's Musical Revue with the famous Browne sisters will be seen as the headliners in an excellent all-around bill at the formal opening of the Palace theater today.

In addition to his dozen or so beautiful bathing beauties who pose and parade to their heart's content, Bothwell Browne's Twentieth century revue carries the names of the Browne sisters as well. These two beautiful youthful and artistic entertainers are seen throughout the revue, and in addition come out before the huge plush curtain and simply "stop the show" with their jazz accordeons. The Browne sisters were the originators of the white accordeon. They have appeared in the big time vaudeville houses ever since they were youngsters, and they are both still under twenty. They have been engaged at various times in some of New York's greatest and most stupendous productions and have always made good—and then some.

Mr. Browne appears in the finale of his revue and is discovered in a huge oriental setting in which he is assisted by the bathing girls adorned in gorgeous Egyptian apparel. The famous "Dance of Jealousy" enacted by Browne has been proclaimed by all as one of the best Oriental bits seen in a long time. All of the costumes in this revue were designed by Bothwell Browne himself and while the bathing girls do not give fancy exhibitions of their skill in water on the stage, they much more than make up for it in their individual poses, fashion parades and specialties. So all in all Bothwell Browne and his bathing beauties can well be regarded as one of the season's vaudeville treats.

James Mullen and Anna Francis present "I Get What's Left." This is the same James Mullen that worked with Allen Googen. His new partner is Anna Francis, a thoroughly capable and charming young woman who does "straight" for Mr. Mullen's antics.

Laurel Lee is billed as "The Chummy Chatterer." Singing exclusive songs, and radiating friendliness and good cheer, with a dash of mischievousness, Laurel Lee, a new luminary in vaudeville, is as sunshiny as her native state of California. She disports herself before the footlights with the confidence of one born on the stage, and makes herself decidedly welcome. Miss Lee had experience in musical comedy before entering vaudeville.

Robert Yman and Virginia Mann present "$5,000 a Year," which is a comedy sketch dealing with the trials and troubles of a couple in keeping up appearance. The moral of the sketch is that woman's intuition is further reaching than any business system that has ever contributed, and a man would do much better by leaning on his wife's wits than upon his own wisdom.

Tozart as "The Vagabond Artist" is painter of pictures. During the execution of his pictures, a colored light effect changing from sunlight into the chill, blue moonlight enhances the effect most wonderfully.

Nelson Story and Elsie Clark are in an act called "Songs" by Lew Brown. The act as a whole, is good and entertaining in the highest degree. They have played all over the world which has made them international favorites.

James and Etta Mitchell complete the bill with a novelty acrobatic act called "Fun in the Air."

EMPRESS.

Owen Moore and "The Chicken in the Case." That will be the comedy combination on view at the Empress theater for two days, starting today, so, Mr. and Mrs. Screen Fan, if you have smiles to smile, prepare to smile them then.

In his latest Selznick picture Mr. Moore has been provided with another of his well known and exclusive type of screen characters, and it is prophesied that his role of Steve Perkins will be long remembered as the funniest thing he has ever done.

The story, by Victor Heerman, is straight comedy verging into farce, and the hero is a young man who tries to delude his aunt, who is also his financial guardian, into believing he has married and settled down, whereas he is merely single and trying to get enough money to settle up. To carry out the deception he enlists the aid of his pal, Percy Jones, from whom he persuades the "loan" of his newly acquired wife. What happens from then on is better described in action than in words, and the action, and there is lots of it, will be found in this most hilarious screen comedy.

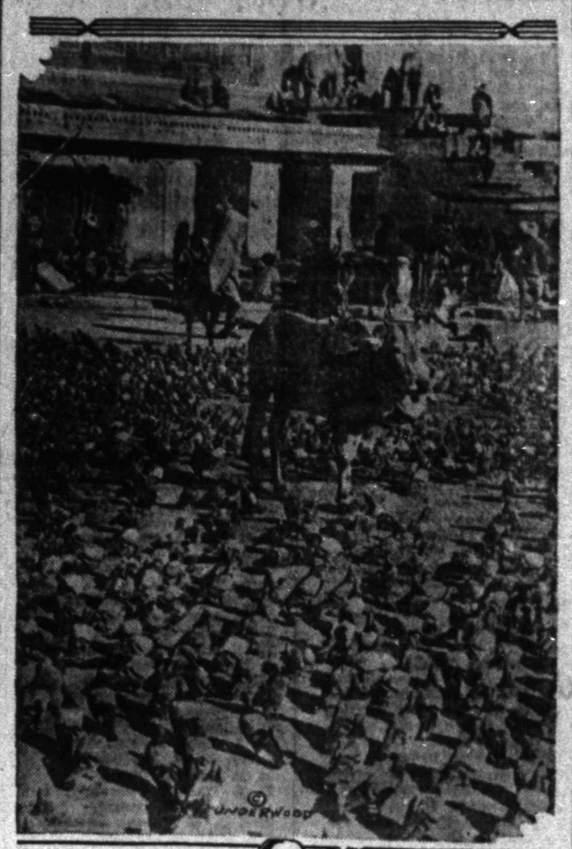

OLYMPIC.

Here she is again! The good-little-bad girl, or, more properly speaking, Bebe Daniels, the Realart star who scored such a success in "You Never Can Tell" and "Oh, Lady, Lady!" has completed a third starring picture, "She Couldn't Help It," which will be offered to local playgoers today at the Olympic theater. It will show for two days longer and is a treat which no picture lover should miss.

Those who know the play and the story "In the Bishop's Carriage," from which this photoplay was adapted feel that this is the best opportunity the star has yet had to display the great possibilities of the type she has made so essentially her own. Nance Olden is a little orphan girl, adopted by crooks and taught to be a clever pickpocket. She doesn't know the difference between right and wrong until a chance encounter "In the Bishop's Carriage" opens up to her a new world of romance and reformation. There are many comedy opportunities, especially when Nance, afraid of the police, resorts to calling the bishop "father," pretending that she is a school girl who has become mentally unbalanced through over-study. The story is well put together and carries the beholder breathlessly through a series of very entertaining complications. Humor, pathos and drama are blended to form an ideal entertainment.

Emory Johnson, six feet tall and very good-looking, plays opposite Miss Daniels. He came to her direct from two leads with Betty Compson, having also played with Dorothy Dalton, Ethel Clayton, Wallace Reid and other well known stars. Herbert Standing is cast in the fine role of the old bishop; he will be remembered for his work in "Her First Elopement." Other parts are handled by Vera Lewis, Z. Wall Covington, Gertrude Short, Helen Raymond, Wade Boteler and Ruth Renick. Maurice Campbell directed.

KILLING OF TWO PIGEONS CAUSES RIOT IN BOMBAY; STOCK EXCHANGE CLOSES

Flock of sacred pigeons in streets of Bombay, India.

The killing of two sacred pigeons in Bombay, India, by two European boys, started a riot that resulted in several persons being injured. The excitement caused the stock and cotton exchanges to suspend business for the day and a religious strike is proposed in consequence of the incident.

SEVERAL MAKE RESERVATIONS FOR C. C. TRIP

A considerable number of reservations have already been secured for the special car to carry representatives of Wichita Falls organiations and business institutions to Ranger for the annual meeting of the membership of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, it was announced Tuesday by J. W. Chatham Jr., secretary of the Chamber of Commerce. A number of local business concerns, as well as all of the banks, are among those making reservations for representatives.

Wichita Falls business men are taking particular interest in this meeting on account of the fact that towns in the Wichita Falls trade territory will be well represented at the meeting, and it is considered important that Wichita Falls have a large representation, particularly as Waco, Dallas and Fort Worth, who compete with Wichita Falls for trade in that territory, are reported to be planning large delegations.

The chartering of the car which is to carry the Wichita Falls delegation was authorized at a special Tuesday meeting of the board of directors of the local Chamber of Commerce. The car will be set out at Ranger for use of the members of the party.

The special car will leave Wichita Falls Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock over the Wichita Valley railroad and is scheduled to reach Ranger at 2:55 Monday morning. On the return trip the car is scheduled to leave Ranger at 2:55 o'clock Tuesday morning and reach Wichita Falls at 1:50 Tuesday afternoon. Expenses for the round trip, including meals, are estimated at $20 per person.

DETECTIVES RESPONSIBLE FOR BOMBING

By Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—Private detective agencies were suggested today by Charles Recht, New York lawyer, as having been partially responsible for bomb outrages in the United States. He declared it was to the interest of such agencies to "keep the pot boiling" and called attention to a confession which he asserted was made to a "reputed Chicago lawyer" by an employe of a private detective agency in which the confession said he was employed to write threatening letters.

Mr. Recht had occupied the witness chair before the senate judiciary committee for more than two hours when he referred to the private detective agencies. He had spoken with reference to the France bill providing for general amnesty to prisoners held for violation of the espionage act, which is before the committee. Mr. Recht said he had acted as counsel for many of the deported aliens, including Ludwig C. A. K. Martens, the deported Russian soviet agent, and testified as to his belief in the innocents of those whom he had defended.

Senator King, Utah, suddenly interrupted him, saying, "How about the bomb outrage."

"If some instrumentality could be found," replied Mr. Recht, "to make a thorough and impartial investigation, I have good reason to believe that the outrage could be traced to different sources than those suspected."

ELECTRA AND YOUNG GIVING INDICATIONS

Electra and Young county pools furnished the feature completion for the week just passed.

The Larkin, Seay and Cranfill No. 1 Burnett, rated as a hundred barrel producer from the 950-foot sand with it's first flush production almost double this, the Bryan Oil Corporation's No. 4 Burnett, reported as a 200-barrel well from the 1420-foot sand, and the Texas Federal Oil Company's No. 1 Fisher, 100 barrels from the 800-foot sand are the largest of the new Electra shallow field completions.

The first producer from the 1900-foot sand in Young county's South Bend district is credited to the Godley Oil Company, in its No. 2 Graham reported a 200-barrel well. A number of the wells in this section have found showings at this depth, but none have been reported as making successful completions.

Three Distinct Sands

This gives the South Bend of the Clear Fork three distinct producing sands, all with good production, at the 1900, 2100 and 2500-foot depths.

The largest completion for the week in this district is reported as the Seaboard Oil and Gas Company's No. 1 State Lands, drilled in the bed of the Cleark Fork, reported making 400 barrels, three feet into the sand, struck at 2150 feet. The Seaboard's No. 1 Graham is reported making 100 barrels, with the 2100-foot sand drilled into five feet.

The fourth completion of the week from the South Bend is the Shamrock Oil Company's No. 3 Graham, 40 acres, reported making 200 barrels of oil, and about five million feet of gas from the top of the 2100-foot sand.

Completions at Electra

Electra completions, in addition to the above mentioned include the No. 9 Burnett of the Barr-Davis Oil Co., 75 barrels, 940-foot sand; The Texas Federal Oil Company, No. 1 Fisher, 15 barrels, 860-foot sand; Texas Federal Oil Co., No. Fisher, 10 barrels, 860-foot sand; Texas Federal Oil Co., No 3 Fisher, 15 barrels, 860-foot sand; Texas Federal Oil Co., No. 4 Fisher, 60 barrels, 860-foot sand; Texas Federal Oil Co., No. 5 Fisher, 100 barrels, Texas Federal Oil Co., No. 6 Fisher, 30 barrels, 860-foot sand; Texas Federal Oil Co., No. 7 Fisher, 35 barrels, 860-foot sand; Hub Oil Co., No. 4 Fisher, 10 barrels, 860-foot sand; Hub Oil Co., No. 5 Fisher, 35 barrels, 850-foot sand; Arcadia Oil Trust Co., No. 1 Kallmeris, 25 barrels, 350-foot sand; Arcadia Oil Trust Co., No. 2 Kallmeris, 20 barrels, 350-foot sand; Arcadia Oil Trust Co., No. 3 Kalimeris, 20 barrels, 850-foot sand; Arcadia Oil Trust Company, No. 4 Kalimeris, 25 barrels, 350-foot sand; Blue Oil Co., No. 3 Fisher, 20 barrels, 860-foot sand; Planet Petroleum Co., No. 11 Burnett, 8 barrels, 860-foot sand.

Serrien Completions

The Serrien Farm, South Iowa Park, shallow field, has had several new producers completed recently in the 850-foot sands, the new wells belonging to J. Blevins. The new wells include No. 17 Serrien, 80 barrels, No. 20 Serrien, 35 barrels, No. 21 Serrien, 35 barrels, No. 23 Serrien, 15 barrels, No. 24 Serrien, 15 barrels, No. 27 Serrien, 10 barrels, No. 28 Serrien, 15 barrels, No. 29 Serrien 15 barrels, No. 30 Serrien, 10 barrels and No. 32 Serrien, 10 barrels.

The Texhoma field has had only few completions, according to available reports. The Donovan Oil Co's No. 2 Roller is reported a hundred barrel well from the sand at 1060 feet and the A. D. Robinson No. 2 Roller is also reported making 100 barrels.

Mechanical arrangements similar in many respects to that of an automobile is the distinguishing feature of a new form of gasoline-driven interurban car described in Popular Mechanics Magazine. Though the body is like that of a standard modern street car, there is a long hood extending in front, in which the fifty horsepower engine is mounted. An auto-type gear shift is provided, and a shaft transmits the power to the rear wheels. Air brakes, electric lights, and a hot water heating plant are other details of the equipment. The car makes a round trip of forty miles in a little more than two and one-half hours, consuming about five and one-half gallons of gasoline, or one gallon to seven miles.

During his fifty years as pastor of the Congregational church in Winchester, Conn., Dr. Arthur Goodenough has preached 6,000 sermons, performed 155 marriages and conducted 541 funerals.

TEXHOMA OIL COMPANY BUYS GAS STATIONS

The Texhoma Oil and Refining Company has purchased nine additional wholesale filling stations scattered throughout East Texas, according to information from the local office Tuesday. The stations were purchased from the Hercules Petroleum company of Dallas. The consideration involved was not announced.

The purchase gives the Texhoma company approximately 40 wholesale stations in different parts of the state. In addition the company has recently completed and now have in operation two large retail filling stations at Henrietta and Abilene. The retail stations are similar in construction to that of the company located on the corner of Tenth and Broad streets.

The newly acquired wholesale stations are located at Bonham, Blossom, Bells, Pecan Gap, Orney, Edgewood, Big Sandy, Atlanta and Omaha.

WHY DO BANKS PREACH "THRIFT"

There is little direct profit in conducting savings accounts; wherein does the bank benefit? In just this: if you learn to save, your own financial welfare and that of the whole community, are improved that much.
