Water cannons turned on protesters

BONN, West Germany (AP) — Riot police turned water cannons on angry protesters outside the Parliament building today and made 100 arrests as Chancellor Helmut Kohl reaffirmed his government's plans to deploy U.S. nuclear missiles this year.

"If negotiations remain unsuccessful, the alliance will establish the readiness of the first Pershing 2 missiles and cruise missiles by year's end," Kohl said in a 70-minute speech starting a two-day debate on deployment.

Several thousand police sealed off streets around the Parliament building with steel barriers to prevent thousands of anti-missile demonstrators from approaching closer than 100 yards.

About 100 demonstrators were arrested by late morning, said a Bonn police spokesman who declined to be named. He said the 2,000 to 4,000 anti-missile protesters were unable to carry out a threat to blockade Parliament and prevent the debate.

Reporters said a mixture of water and tear gas from five water cannon was sprayed on 400-500 protesters who tried to block traffic on a busy boulevard on the edge of the government district. However, the police spokesman denied that tear gas was used.

Hans-Jochen Vogel, floor leader of the opposition Social Democrats accused Kohl of failing to represent the West German interests in Washington.

Vogel said opinion polls showed a majority of West Germans oppose the deployment. "In the deployment question, the majority of our people stand against you," he said.

Kohl's right-center coalition government has a 58-seat majority in Parliament, so the missile plan is expected to win endorsement in a vote Tuesday.

An hour into Kohl's address, a half dozen deputies of the small anti-NATO Greens faction stood up and walked toward the podium carrying large posters showing victims of the Hiroshima atomic bomb. Parliamentary President Rainer Barzel called for order and the deputies were herded back to their seats by guards.

Referring to U.S.-Soviet arms limitation talks in Geneva, Kohl appealed "anew to the Soviet leadership not to persist in rigid principles but rather to make a result possible."

Kohl accused the Soviets of trying to pressure West Germany into abandoning the North Atlantic Treaty Organization deployment decision, but said he would never bow to threats.

The first battery of Pershing 2 missiles could be placed Wednesday.

Two 4-Hers due honors

Two outstanding 4-H members from Scurry County will be honored at the 26th annual South Plains District 4-H Gold Star banquet at 6:30 p.m. Monday in Lubbock.

Among the top 4-H'ers in the 20-county district to be honored will be Matt Cross, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Cross, of Ennis Creek 4-H and Patricia Romero, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Romero of Hermleigh 4-H.

State Senator Bill Sarpalius of Amarillo will address the banquet in the cafeteria of Coronado High School, 34th Street and Vicksburg Avenue. Master of ceremonies will be Dr. Kary Mathis, chairman of the agricultural economics department at Texas Tech University.

The award presentation will be narrated by 4-H'ers Earl Broseh of Lockney and Chris Caddel of Lubbock. Making the presentation will be Dr. Catherine Crawford and Billy C. Gunter, district extension directors.

Attending to salute this year's winners will be parents, government and community leaders and friends of 4-H. The banquet is sponsored by area electric cooperatives.

To qualify for the Gold Star, highest 4-H honor at the county level, a 4-H'er must be at least 13 years old, have completed three years of club work and be active in 4-H. The award is intended to stimulate winners to higher achievement and to encourage other young people to participate in the county 4-H program.

Fire department banquet Tuesday

The Snyder Fire Department will conduct its annual Thanksgiving Banquet Tuesday evening at the B&D Restaurant on the East Highway.

This year's celebration will feature the naming of a Fire Department Sweetheart for the first time in several years. According to Tommy Guynes, assistant chief, the sweetheart honor will go to the outstanding member of the Fire Department Auxiliary chosen by a department-wide ballot.

Other awards scheduled include the annual J.T. Hughes Fireman of the Year award and service awards for those completing five, 10, 20 and 35 years service with the department.

Designs 'special' for play

The costume shop in the Western Texas College theatre department's work area is literally humming these days.

The hum comes from sewing machines as students involved in the production of "Major Barbara" create costumes for the show, which will be seen by local audiences Dec. 8-11.

Director Jim Rambo has enlisted the services of a professional costume designer, Deborah Billow of Fort Worth, for costuming "Major Barbara." Billow is a graduate of Texas Christian University and is costume designer for the Casa Manana playhouse in Fort Worth. She is also a member of the acting company and, on occasion, does directing.

Casa Manana operates a children's theatre school and produces children's shows from fall through spring, then switches over to three months of musical productions during the summer. Since so many costumes are used in the musicals, Casa Manana rents these.

Billow is primarily concerned with creating costumes for the children's productions. One of her first assignments was to design costumes for the flying monkeys in "The Wizard of Oz." It was mind boggling at first, she laughs, but everything worked out.

"It's nice to do something different like this," she said, referring to WTC's new show.

"Major Barbara," written by George Bernard Shaw, is set in London in 1907 and research on the clothing of the period was Billow's first step in designing the costumes. The stylish female of that period has an "S" silhouette, she says, and this look will be created with padding. Most of the men's clothing will come from a costume rental service or from items in the theatre's wardrobe section.

Next comes selections of fabrics and colors, chosen to reflect the mood of the scene as well as the personality of the character. Billow has selected a soft peach fabric for a young

Award honors ex-Gold Coater

The annual Gold Coater of the Year award — given to the most active member of the chamber of commerce goodwill representatives — has been renamed to honor a past member of the organization.

The decision came during a Gold Coater meeting last Friday which included the election of new officers.

Beginning with the next chamber of commerce banquet, when the award is presented, it will be named in honor of Paul Sizemore, who passed away Oct. 4.

Sizemore, an active community worker, was a recipient of the Gold Coater of the Year award four times during his tenure with the chamber organization.

New officers named include: Ben Brock, president; Danny Lunceford, vice president; and Wedge Turner, secretary-treasurer.

The organization is comprised of 50 community leaders.

Jury selection begins

Jury selection got underway shortly after 9 a.m. Monday in 132nd District Court for the possession of a controlled substance trial of Gregg Merritt of Snyder.

The suspect was indicted for the felony offense in August following his arrest July 27 by city police.

He is represented by attorney Clifford Brown of Lubbock and District Attorney Pete Greene is prosecuting the case for the state.

Unattended kids, parked vehicles on city agenda

Two proposals which would prompt new city ordinances will be considered Monday during a called meeting of the city council. It begins at 6:30 p.m. at city hall.

These include a city ordinance prohibiting leaving a child under seven years-of-age in an automobile unattended; and an ordinance limiting the size and length of trucks and trailers allowed to be parked in residential areas.

The ordinance regarding unattended children is slated for a first reading Monday. Two council readings and approving votes are required before a city ordinance goes into effect.

The measure involving parked vehicles is listed on the agenda for council consideration only.

Other agenda items before the group Monday include:

—A request from local Billy Hafner to change parts of three lots at 418 and 420 24th St. from R-4 (general residential) to C-2 (commercial retail).

—A second reading of a city ordinance adopting procedures to be followed under the City's Emergency Plan.

—A second reading of an ordinance clarifying city policy regarding issuance of electrical wiring permits.

—Discussion to relocate the fire department's radio antenna currently located at the Central Fire Station to a radio tower in the 2100 Block of 8th St.

—The possible repeal of an ordinance requiring a $50 "cleanup" deposit for persons planning to move a house from a city lot.

Ask Us

Q. — Any idea what caused the mud coating over cars Friday night after that brief shower?

A. — We checked with the National Weather Service in Lubbock, and a spokesman there said that Lubbock had the same covering early Saturday morning. He indicated there is no reason to believe that volcanic ash might have caused the covering. His best speculation was that it was "just good old West Texas dirt."

In Brief

Arafat confirms advance

TRIPOLI, Lebanon (AP) — Palestinian rebels using Syrian-supplied tanks seized the northern entrance of Tripoli today and battled to within 1,000 yards of PLO chairman Yasser Arafat's headquarters.

The overnight push, accompanied by heavy artillery bombardment on central areas of Tripoli, severed Arafat's supply lines with his Palestine Liberation Organization loyalists fighting the rebels at the southern edge of the Baddawi refugee camp.

Arafat, meeting with reporters at his headquarters, said the rebel forces for the first time had crossed into areas of the city that had been controlled by Lebanese authorities. There was a lull in the fighting, and Arafat was asked if a cease-fire had been declared.

Mrs. Marcos resigns post

MANILA, Philippines (AP) — Imelda Marcos resigned today from the powerful Executive Committee and publicly renounced any ambitions to succeed her husband, President Ferdinand E. Marcos, "at any time."

The 54-year-old first lady Mrs. Marcos, in a rare speech in the National Assembly which was broadcast on government television, announced she will leave government when Marcos does.

Record trading is reported

NEW YORK (AP) — America's new telephone companies made their Wall Street debut in dramatic style today as trading began in stocks created by the breakup of American Telephone & Telegraph Co.

Within minutes after the 10 a.m. EST opening of the New York Stock Exchange, the first trades were completed in all seven of the regional companies that will take over local telephone service next year.

Shortly after that, the stock of the new, smaller AT&T also made its first appearance, in a massive block of 1.6 million shares.

A record total of more than 1.5 billion shares of stock resulting from the Bell breakup introduced into the markets this morning.

The regional companies and the new AT&T will not exist as separate entities until Jan. 1, when the Bell System divestiture becomes official.

Environmentalists are waging battle over land

LUFKIN, Texas (AP) — Environmentalists say they are making headway in their fight to keep chainsaws out of Texas national forests, but to East Texans who work for the timber industry, they are "fern fondlers" who want to take away jobs.

In Angelina National Forest, hundreds of giant oak and magnolia trees already marked for cutting were granted an unusual stay of execution last month when the U.S. Forest Service decided to delay a scheduled 36-acre timber sale.

The delay was hailed as a major victory by Texas environmentalists who are battling to preserve about 65,000 acres in the state's four national forests as wilderness.

A bill sponsored by U.S. Rep. John Bryant, D-Dallas, that would outlaw logging in the wilderness areas faces stiff opposition from an East Texas congressman labeled "Timber Charlie" for his support of the lumber industry.

U.S. Rep. Charles Wilson, D-Lufkin, has introduced a rival bill, backed by the Forest Service, that would set aside only 9,000 acres of wilderness.

"When my constituents visit the woods, they shouldn't have to use machetes — they want picnic tables and toilets," said Wilson, who ridicules environmentalists as "fern fondlers" and "orchid sniffers."

Bryant's bill is stalled in Congress. Meanwhile, the Forest Service has stepped up its timber leasing programs in Texas, environmentalists claim. Another 400 acres of timber, included in the wilderness proposal, will be sold in January to the highest bidder.

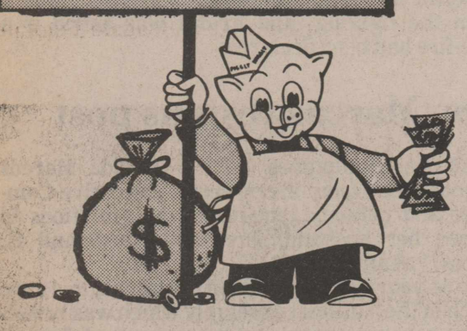

"It's a Catch-22 tactic," said Ned Fritz chairman of the Texas Committee on Natural Resources. "As soon as they start cutting, the Forest Service can deny that the land is wilderness."

Opposition to the bill is strong in Lufkin where thousands of workers are employed in sawmills, pul mills and paper factories.

"Wilderness means no jobs," warned a bumper sticker distributed by the Texas Forestry Association. According to industry estimates, forest-product industries employ more than 20,000 workers in East Texas.

Airmen, attention: You're going to get yourselves a new dual role fighter plane.

It may be the F-15E or the F-16 or both.

Our Air Force ace, Colonel Steve Ritchie, has test-flown both — has compared them with those in which he downed five Mig 21's over Vietnam. "There is no comparison!"

This is a report on one of those planes, the F-15E.

It is so sophisticated it's going to scare you.

More significantly, it's going to scare you-know-who.

The F-111 was pretty good for its purposees and is still the best fighter we have for low-level attack. But the fleet is aging, difficult to maintain.

We will know within weeks which of the new breed planes will be its successor. Two have tested flawlessly despite incredibly advanced and phenomenally complex technology

The escalation of sophistication in less than 10 years is almost impossible to believe.

Further, despite innovative advances in technology, the F-15 has the best so-far safety record of any fighter plane ever. (4.7 accidents per 100,000 hours) and it has been combat tested with no losses.

We have a new weapon that works!

I can reveal enough stats on his dual-role fighter to tweak the incredibility of any airman:

There are enough switches and buttons on the stick and throttle so a pilot will nevermore get shot at while looking at his feet!

Maneuverability? It's like dancing with Ginger Rogers.

Engine performance, radar, avionics — light-years ahead of anything previous.

Radar resolution at low altitudes and distances heretofore unknown.

Here this: The F-15E's radar can — with crispness — separate targets less than ten feet apart!

From 19 miles out you can see airplanes on the ramp — and then zoom in for closeup ID.

Says Ritchie: "it's got to be the best radar in the world."

The UHF radio — and no fighter instrument is more important in a battle arena — is vastly improved, virtually jam-proof.

Young fighter pilots who have never flown an F-4, an F-100 or an F-105 have no standard of comparison. They will strap on the F-15E imagining that all fighter planes were always like that.

Too bad.

And the F-15E "muscle factor" — the load-carrying capability for fuel and weapons — the brute power to push heavy payloads through thick air at high speeds and low altitude for many miles — is necessarily classified.

But when Colonel Ritchie mentions it — his eyes sparkle!

Oswald's daughter has never seen her dad's papers

NEW YORK (AP) — The daughter of Lee Harvey Oswald, alleged assassin of President John F. Kennedy, says crates of information concerning her late father remain unexamined at a Texas university, and not even she has been allowed to look inside.

June Oswald Porter, 21, says the papers were part of her late grandmother's library, which was donated by her uncle to Texas Christian University in Fort Worth. "No one, not even my sister and I," has been allowed to see the collection, she says.

The library consists of "probably the most complete collection of material concerning my father," she says in a bylined article in the current issue of People magazine.

Ms. Porter, whose mother remarried when June was 3, says the papers were given to TCU after Oswald's mother, Marguerite, died without leaving a will.

"Though we have fought to obtain possession of the library, the matter needs to be pursued through the courts," she says.

Kraft recalling cheese

GLENVIEW, Ill. (AP) — Kraft Inc. announced on Sunday a voluntary nationwide recall of some eight-ounce packages of Cracker Barrel sharp cheddar cheese, citing evidence of salmonella bacteria.

The food items marked with the "best-when-purchased-by date of MAR-8-84 C-1" are being recalled, Kraft said. No other dates or flavors of the product are involved, the company said.

Salmonella bacteria was discovered in some samples of the cheese, a company statement said, but it did not say how many or where the samples were located. Telephone calls to a company spokesman at the Kraft offices here went unanswered Sunday night.

The company said 4,367 cases of the product were distributed in 24 states and one territory.

Salmonella bacteria can cause food poisoning.

The sharp cheddar cold pack cheese is packaged in red, clover-shaped, rigid plastic containers sealed with gold foil and a reclosable lid. The purchase date is printed on the label on the bottom of the container.

The product was distributed in the following places: Alabama, California, Connecticut, Delaware, Florida, Georgia, Indiana, Maryland, Massachusetts, Montana, Nevada, New Jersey, New York, North Carolina, Ohio, Oregon, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, South Carolina, Tennessee, Utah, Vermont, Virginia, Washington, and the U.S. territory of Guam.

The company said consumers who have the recalled product should discard it and write Kraft for a refund.

Runaway Hotline Brings Parents Peace of Mind

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1983 by Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR ABBY: I am enclosing your column of Nov. 17, 1981, with a request that you please run it again. It changed our lives.

ALSO GRATEFUL IN ILLINOIS

DEAR ALSO: With pleasure:

DEAR ABBY: Our problem daughter, not quite 17, ran away from home 14 months ago. She had been giving us a rough time for about a year—skipping school, staying out late and lying to us constantly. After a noisy scene, she stormed out of the house with only the clothes on her back. We didn't have a clue as to where she went.

Only a parent who has lived through this kind of nightmare can realize what we went through. After a year of heartaches and sleepless nights, we were told by the police to give up and assume she was dead. But parents never give up. We continued to search and hope and pray that she'd return to us one day.

Well, our prayers were answered when, out of the blue, we received a telephone call from someone who said he was a volunteer with Runaway Hotline (formerly Operation Peace of Mind) in Houston. (We live in Michigan.) We were told that our daughter had read of the toll-free number in "Dear Abby" and she wanted to let us know that she was well and happy in Fort Lauderdale, Fla.! The volunteer said our daughter would call him again on the following morning in case we had a message for her.

We told him we would welcome a collect call from her. Sure enough, she called us the next day! She sounded wonderful and said she was working and was going to night school to finish her education. This story has a happy ending. Our daughter is coming for Christmas!

Abby, will you please publish that toll-free number again so other runaway kids can establish communications with their families? Our daughter said that she had seen your column with the number posted near telephones where runaways hang out.

We will never be able to thank you enough for giving us the happiest holiday we've ever had!

GRATEFUL IN MICHIGAN

DEAR GRATEFUL: With pleasure. Runaways, call this toll-free number: 1-800-231-6946. If in Texas, use this number: 1-800-392-3352.

An operator will take your call and telephone your parents anywhere in the United States with a message from you. There will be no lecturing or recriminations. Your call will not be traced. And only one question will be asked: "Do you need anything?" If you do, you will be told where you can get it, free. I repeat, no attempt will be made to contact you or bring you back home—regardless of your age.

If you are a runaway, I beg you to forget the past and send a message to your parents now. They will sleep better tonight and so will you. And you will all have the best holiday season you've had in years. God bless you.—ABBY

P.S. Runaway Hotline was established 10 years ago by a handful of public-spirited volunteers with the support of the governor of Texas. To date it has placed over 600,000 calls from runaways, assuring their families that they are OK. Beautiful!

Freethrows boost opponents to victory over Westerners

WACO -- Coach Barry Davis was taking it in stride, but there's no doubt he and his Westerners are glad to be home after a tough two-game road trip which saw Western Texas out-shoot its opponents from the field but fall under an almost unbelievable 62 freethrows.

"Well, you expect to shoot less freethrows on the road unless you play exceptionally well. We didn't play exceptionally well," said Davis, whose team beat McLennan Community College 66 points to 40 from the field, but made only three freethrows to the Highlander's 31. The final score was McLennan 71, WTC 69.

"We still had chances to win the ballgame. With 17 seconds left we had the basketball, they were up by one point. We went for the final shot because we were on the road and were afraid that we'd get a foul called if we scored and they got the basketball back. So went went for the final shot with Floyd Singleton to take it, but we never got it off."

Singleton got the ball, but was pressured. He passed off to an open teammate, but the teammate, expecting Singleton to shoot, wasn't prepared for it and McLennan got the ball back.

"I credit it to being freshmen," said Davis. "Floyd probably should have taken the last shot and he'll learn from this situation. He has made tremendous strides in his game. I'm hoping he can keep improving and a lot of good things may come his way. He does a real good job of putting the ball in the hole."

Singleton, 6-2 from Detroit, led the Westerners with 17 points while Victor Spencer had 12, Larry Banks and Richie Fells 8 each and Lorand White, Anthony Smith and Dwayne Lister 6 apiece.

The Westerners were whistled for 31 fouls while McLennan was caught for 14. WTC shot only five freethrows and made three. The hosts put in 31 freethrows.

In Friday's 85-70 loss to TSTI, Western watched as that opponent also scored 31 freethrows.

Next up for the Westerners is Angelo State University junior varsity and after that Midland College, but Davis said his team would not look ahead to the conference game.

"The biggest game we have right now is Tuesday night. We need to go out and play a good 40 minutes of basketball. We've been a little road weary but that's just college basketball life," said Davis, whose squad hosts the Bobcats at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in the coliseum. "We just need to try to play a good, solid game for 40 minutes and we need to start jelling together as a team. We're not playing very well right now and hopefully we can get on the track and play more up to our potential."

The game with Midland is there, 8 p.m. next Monday.

Cagers preparing to begin seasons

Snyder High School basketball teams open their 1983-84 seasons on the road Tuesday.

The boys will be playing in Midland against Lee High School, while the girls play in Brownfield.

The boys play a sophomore game at 4:30, followed by a JV tilt at 6:15 and the varsity game at 8. The girls will play a junior varsity game at 4:30, followed by a varsity game at approximately 6:15.

The boys return home to play Abilene Cooper on the 26th, a Saturday. A junior varsity game is set for 6:15 and a varsity game for 8. They will be held at the high school because Western Texas College's Dusters will be hosting the WTC Classic at the coliseum.

First home game for the girls is Dec. 6 against Brownfield.

Dorsett guides Cowboy victory

IRVING, Texas (AP) - The professor gave his former pupil, Kansas City Coach John Mackovic, another lesson Sunday on the National Football League law according to Dallas Cowboy Coach Tom Landry: You don't win without a running game.

The Cowboys yielded 391 yards and three touchdowns to Kansas City passers but rolled to a 41-21 victory behind the artful dashes of Tony Dorsett, who reached a rushing milestone.

"This is the stretch drive, the dash for cash," said Dorsett, who became the ninth National Football League player to rush for over 8,000 yards. "We have to run as well as we pass if we expect to accomplish the things we set out to do in July."

Dorsett bolted 28 and 32 yards for touchdowns and had 108 yards on 18 rushes as he passed the 1,000-yard mark for the sixth time in his seven-year NFL career.

"I guess 1,000 yards is still the criterion for a great back in the NFL, but I think for me it's just a mediocre season," said Dorsett. "I'll have to get 1,600 before I can say I had an outstanding year.

"It's my intention to play 10 years and after that I will reassess my desire to play."

Mackovic, the Dallas offensive coordinator for two years, could squeeze only 43 yards in rushing out of his attack.

The Cowboys upped their record to 10-2, good enough to stay in a tie with Wasington in the National Conference Eastern Division.

They built a 27-0 lead before Kansas City quarterback Bill Kenney hit Carlos Carson with touchdown strikes of 13 and 48 yards behind Everson Walls in the third period.

Clayton all-tourney...

Dusters take 4th Place

BIG SPRING -- A controversial last-second shot was ruled after the buzzer here Saturday evening, giving Tyler Junior College a 78-76 win over Western Texas' Dusters in the third place game of the Hawk Queen Classic.

Western, trailing by two points, had the ball with six seconds left. The ball went to All-Tournament choice Mary Nell Clayton, who penetrated inside and and took a shot. Her effort missed, but freshman Lyndy French rebounded it and put it in the hoop. The official ruled that the buzzer had already sounded, however.

It climaxed a day of frustration for the Dusters, who had lost to eventual champion Odessa, 66-59 in the semifinals that morning.

Duster Coach Joe Cushing said he thought the shot came before the buzzer, but added, "The call did not beat us. We were tired and we really didn't play real good defense or offense. We missed 12-14 shots inside that just wouldn't fall. The effort was there but things just weren't happening for us."

The loss overshadowed a career high of 32 points for Clayton, who scored 105 in four tournament games here.

"Mary Nell played another great game and Lyndy French had an outstanding night coming off the bench for us," said Cushing, who found some bright spots in the earlier game with Odessa, a team that is now 10-0 and picked to win the Western Junior College Athletic Conference this season.

"That was one of our best defensive efforts of the year. We did not do well on offense and shooting the basketball. But both teams played extremely well. We only had 12 turnovers but we were outrebounded 41 to 31 and that was the difference in the game," said Cushing. "With five minutes to go they had a five point lead. They came down the floor twice and didn't score. We rebounded but couldn't convert at the other end. I felt like if we could have, the momentum would have gone our way.

"It was a great confidence builder. We might have been a little in awe of Odessa going into the game, but we proved we can play with them."

Odessa won the tournament championship with an 82-74 victory over Howard. Odessa's Sharon Cain was voted Most Valuable Player.

The Dusters, now 7-3, go back on the road to play Cisco at 6 p.m. Tuesday, before hosting the second WTC Classic on Friday and Saturday.

Falcons defeat Niners on desperation bomb

by The Associated Press

Some have called the play "Big Ben." Others have dubbed it "Hail Mary." Steve Bartkowski says the Falcons call it the "Rocket" because "the ball goes up and comes down like a rocket."

Atlanta won a 28-24 National Football League thriller Sunday on the last play of the game with San Francisco on a so-called "Big Ben" desperation pass by Steve Bartkowski.

"That play never works in practice, it only works in games somehow," Bartkowski said following the Falcons' latest miracle.

It came on a 47-yard touchdown pass thrown up for grabs. Billy "White Shoes" Johnson came down with it. Bartkowski lofted a high, long pass down the left sideline into a crowd of players at the 5-yard line. The ball was tipped twice before Johnson, who had slipped down, grabbed it on the 7 and barely reached the goal line for the winning touchdown.

The Miami Dolphins, meanwhile, opened some daylight for themselves in the tight American Conference East race with a 37-0 thrashing of the Baltimore Colts in one of four shutouts Sunday.

Along with the whitewashing of the Colts, the Cleveland Browns whipped the New England Patriots 30-0, the Chicago Bears beat the Tampa Bay Bucs 27-0 and the New York Giants blanked the Philadelphia Eagles 23-0.

In other games, the Washington Redskins clobbered the Los Angeles Rams 42-20; the Dallas Cowboys whipped the Kansas City Chiefs 42-21; the Minnesota Vikings upset the Pittsburgh Steelers 17-14; the Los Angeles Raiders edged the Buffalo Bills 27-24; the Detroit Lions defeated the Green Bay Packers 23-20 in overtime; the St. Louis Cardinals bombed the San Diego Chargers 44-14, the Cincinnati Bengals crushed the Houston Oilers 38-10 and the Denver Broncos outscored the Seattle Seahawks 38-27.

The New York Jets play the New Orleans Saints Monday night in the Superdome.

The game-winning play for the Falcons capped a 73-yard drive that started with only 1:04 remaining, six seconds after San Francisco quarterback Joe Montana had given the 49ers a 24-21 lead by scrambling 11 yards for a touchdown.

Dolphins 37, Colts 0

Dan Marino's 85-yard pass to Mark Duper and Mark Clayton's 60-yard punt return for Miami touchdowns only 42 seconds apart in the second quarter triggered the Dolphins' rout of the Colts. The victory gave the Dolphins an 8-4 record and a one-game lead in the AFC East over the Bills.

Duper's scoring catch, just one yard shy of Miami's longest pass play ever, boosted the Dolphins' lead to 17-0 with 1:42 to go in the first half and they were on their way.

Marino said Duper "came up, I looked at him and he took off and I just threw it as far as I could. It was a great play by Mark."

Redskins 42, Rams 20

John Riggins smashed into the end zone on three short touchdown runs as the Redskins overpowered the Rams.

Wall Street expects record high trading

NEW YORK (AP) — Wall Street's financial storekeepers braced for record business today as they put some long-awaited merchandise on their shelves — more than 1.5 billion shares of stock resulting from the breakup of Ma Bell.

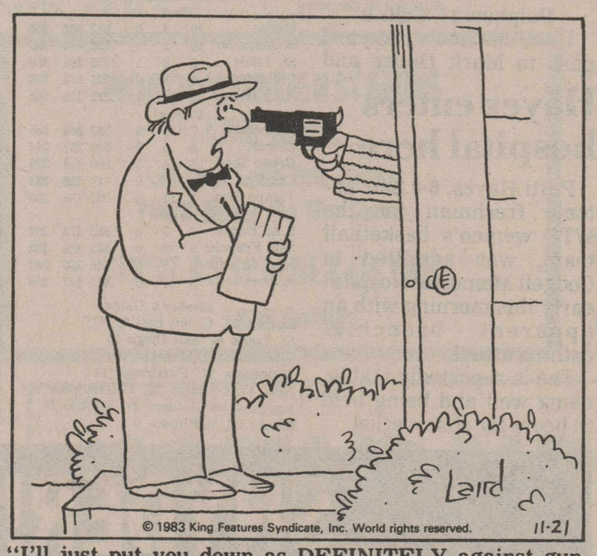

The new pared-down American Telephone & Telegraph Co. and seven regional companies taking over local telephone service will not actually exist as separate entities until Jan. 1, when the Bell System divestiture becomes official.

But as part of the breakup plan, their stocks were slated to begin trading at 10 a.m. today on a "when-issued" basis, with sales and purchases made now to be settled through payment and delivery of stock early in 1984.

The 1.5 billion shares make up the biggest one-day introduction of new stock in the history of the New York Stock Exchange.

The early trading allows the markets to put a price tag on each of the parts that will emerge from the divestiture and gives investors a chance to see what kind of yields their shares will produce.

Bypass not a miracle

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB — My father had a triple bypass two years ago for angina. I was talking to another man who also had a bypass. He had it 10 years ago, but he had a heart attack just this year. Now this man has diabetes and is overweight. Could these two things have contributed to the heart attack?

The reason I ask is that my father, age 57, thinks he is cured for good. He keeps himself in good shape, watches his diet (no salt) and takes his walks. But he has two beers every day before supper. Could he have a heart attack too? Should he go to the specialist and be checked over?

I don't want to worry my father if he doesn't need to worry. Is there a guarantee that he will never have problems for the rest of his life?

DEAR READER — Unfortunately, bypass surgery is not a miracle. The basic disease is the depositing of fatty-cholesterol particles in the arteries. Bypassing those that are already clogged does not stop the process. The vessels used for the bypass also may develop fatty-cholesterol. The arteries in the heart to which the bypass is connected may also become occluded, making the bypass vessels of little or no value.

How well a person does after a bypass operation usually depends entirely on how well the factors related to fatty-cholestreol deposits are controlled. This includes diet, blood pressure, not smoking and keeping cholesterol levels under control.

Diabetes and being overweight do indeed increase the risk of a heart attack after a bypass operation. So does cigarette smoking or high blood pressure. If your father is keeping in good shape by taking daily walks and controlling his risk factors, he is less likely to have a heart attack. But I must warn you that it is an unpredictable disease and no one can say for certain what will happen in any one case. He should have regular evaluations to be sure his risk factors are controlled.

You'll understand your father's situation better after reading The Health Letter 17-10, What You Need To Know About Heart Attacks, which I am sending you. Others who want this issue can send 75 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it to me in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

DEAR DR. LAMB — A relative has cancer that has spread extensively throughout the body. Is there any chance of the cancer being contagious to a 4-month-old baby? Please answer as soon as possible, because my family might visit this relative within a few weeks.

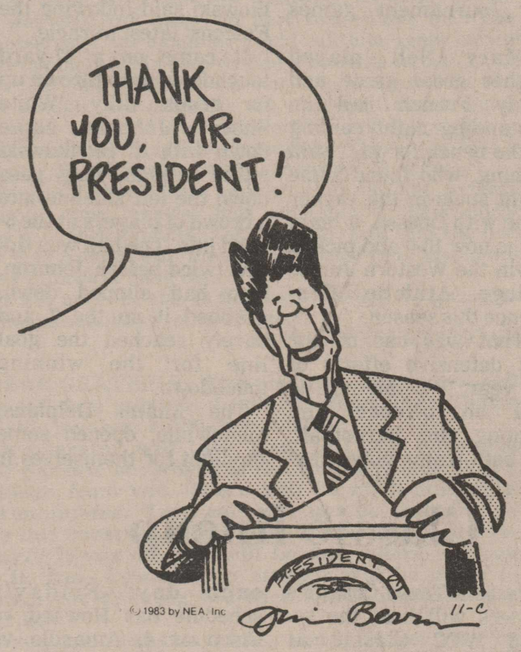

DEAR READER — No, your baby will not catch cancer from your relative. There are studies that raise the possibility that cancer of the cervix may be caused by a virus. Other studies show that some forms of leukemia may also be caused by a virus. Other than that, there is no evidence that cancer is a contagious disease.

While we do not know what causes cancer in all cases, we do know that if a susceptible person is exposed to a cancer-causing agent he is more likely to develop some form of cancer.

A good example is skin cancer from sun radiation. If you are susceptible to skin cancer and are exposed to lots of sun, you are likely to get skin cancer.

But visit your relative and don't worry about it.

Kennedy most popular president

NEW YORK (AP) — Twenty years after his assassination, John F. Kennedy is the favorite of all American presidents, according to a Newsweek poll released Sunday.

Most questioned also think that the United States would not have become involved in full-scale war in Vietnam if Kennedy had lived and that Lee Harvey Oswald did not act alone in the assassination.

Telephone interviews with 1,032 adults between Oct. 14 and 30 showed that of all the nation's presidents, 30 percent wished Kennedy were president today.

Opening lead: ♠J

By Oswald Jacoby and James Jacoby

Oswald: "The fertile brains of Edgar Kaplan and Jeff Rubens of the Bridge World magazine have conceived an opening lead problem to end all such problems. Just look at the West hand. The bidding has gone from two no-trump to seven no-trump and it is up to you to lead. Probably there is no hope, but if your partner holds a queen (a possibility) you don't want to kill it on your lead."

Jim: "They recommend the jack of spades! If your partner does hold that queen, declarer is likely to play you for leading from some Q-J holding. If your partner has some other queen, you haven't damaged it."

Oswald: "Maybe your partner will hold 10-x-x and South will take some finesse against a potential J-10-x-x in your hand. Farfetched, but possible."

Jim: "They have another reason for that jack lead. You want South to know that you don't have a long spade suit. You would never lead the jack from J-x-x-x or J-x-x-x-x. Therefore, he will play you for length in other suits and tend to finesse against you for that hypothetical queen."

Oswald: "Let's look at the play. South takes the spade lead, runs off four hearts and four clubs to note three spade discards from your partner and one from you. He assumes you started with three diamonds, plays you for the queen and goes down."

Winter hair

Say adieu to winter dry hair blues. When it's cold outside, you may have a tendency to over-blow dry your hair. Stop! Blow it dry until your hair is just barely damp and then let finish drying naturally. As long as you don't run outside with sopping wet hair, even the chilliest of weather won't give you a cold. Letting the air naturally dry your hair will help it retain its sheen and silkiness, usually pulled out and destroyed by too much blow drying.

Gas heat for penny pinching no one will suspect.

Whether you own a mansion or . . . well, something a little smaller, natural gas can heat your home for less. In fact, high-efficiency gas furnaces heat homes for about half the cost of non-gas types.

And they keep gentle, warm air flowing evenly. So you save money without skimping on comfort. And, just to make things even more comfortable, most come with a 20-year limited warranty on the heat exchanger.

So get more for your money and get a gas furnace for your home. Today. You'll be pinching pennies, but no one will ever notice.

Scurry County ABWA meets

The Scurry County Chapter of American Business Women's Assn. met Nov. 14 at the Martha Ann Woman's Club for their regular monthly meeting.

Barbara Scrivner, president, conducted the business meeting and Myra Martin, owner of Merle Norman Studio, presented a style show of "Hats and Belts." Those participating in the show were Irene Brooks, Janet Brown, Becky Winkler, Nona Williams, Lara Jones, Gwen Scrivner, Faye Lane, Pat Snider, Myra Martin, Tracy Williams and Jan Montgomery.

Turkey and dressing was served and a Thanksgiving theme was used in decorating. Maxie McNew was hostess.

Sunlight darkens skin, lightens hair

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — The sun darkens skin, yet it lightens hair.

Dr. Lowell A. Goldsmith, chief of dermatology at the University of Rochester Medical Center, explains that ultraviolet rays cause our cells to produce a brownish pigment called melanin. The more melanin, the more we tan. The same pigment determines hair color.

When the sun shines on hair, ultraviolet rays break down the melanin. Since hair is made up of dead cells, it cannot produce more melanin the way the skin does. Hair loses its color as its pigment breaks down. Black hair, with high melanin levels, lightens least, says Goldsmith.

Costumes readied for play girl's party dress, for example, while a dark brown wool-like fabric will be used for a suit for a mature woman.

To achieve the desired effect for the costumes being made, Billow drafts most of her own patterns. The patterns are cut from muslin for fitting before the costume fabrics are cut. When the costumes have been cut out, Billow is turning much of the sewing over to the students. Lorie Grandclair, sophomore from Sweetwater, is serving as supervisor in the sewing room.

Attention to finishing touches will be important to the costumes for "Major Barbara," Billow said. Since the audience is so near the stage, they can see detail work. This is an asset, she says, and she enjoys adding an extra bit of braid or ribbon to give the costumes a special look.

"I'm pleased that so many students have shown an interest in working on the costumes," Billow said. "They're working very had and it's a pleasure to help them see how to create special effects."

A native of Pennsylvania, Billow first enrolled at TCU on a music scholarship. She became interested in costume making when her roommate was Retha Boyd from Snyder. Retha was active in theatre at WTC and attended WTC on a drama scholarship. She is currently costume designer at the University of Texas at Arlington and makes her home there with her husband and son.

"Major Barbara" will be WTC's entry in the American College Theatre Festival at Texas Tech University before being performed for local audiences. Information about tickets can be obtained by calling the Fine Arts Division office at 573-8511, ext. 234.
