Abra Youth Dies in Farm Accident May 4

Tommy Eugene Smith Jr., 14 year old youth of the Abra community, died about 7 p.m. Wednesday, May 4, when he touched a charged ground wire leading to a barn near which he was working. The wire was believed to have become charged when it touched a live electrical wire whipped loose during an electrical storm a short time before the accident.

He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Smith Sr.

According to Sheriff John Rainey, the accident occurred on the W. R. Breeding farm at Abra. The Smith family works for his brother-in-law, Dee Kinnannon.

The youth had gone to the barn for a bucket and apparently caught hold of the wire. Mr. Breeding, hearing his cry, found him and used a stick to knock the wire loose, then applied artificial respiration until an ambulance arrived.

He was pronounced dead on (Continued on back page)

As a freshman, he was president of the Greenhands and participated in the junior quiz and chapter conducting contests.

The next year he was president of the Greenbelt district, chapter treasurer, attended the state convention, was on the radio team and increased his projects.

Two Board Members Resign

Two members of the Wellington school board tendered their resignations and the board in a meeting Monday night named two replacements.

Dr. D. V. Watkins, vice president of the board, told other members that his National Guard duties, now centering in Amarillo, make it difficult for him to attend the board meetings.

Grant Wooldridge resigned under the law that no state employee can hold public office.

Named to replace Dr. Watkins was John Holton, who will serve a one-year term, and Jones Singley, replacing Wooldridge for a two-year term.

Joel Lowry

Lowry has been president of his class all three years in high school, plays basketball, and is active in the Lutie Baptist Church.

Jenkins, Rainey, Wood Win; Two Runoff Races

Collingsworth County voters Saturday, May 7, returned two county officials to office, but forced a run-off in a county and a precinct election. Precinct 1 voters also returned one officer and put one new man in office.

With election interest developing only at the last minute, the county attorney's race took the spotlight. Leading the three-man field was former County Judge R. L. Templeton with 963 votes while Paul Spillman, the incumbent, polled 750. Jack Lackey received 352.

Sheriff John Rainey received 1410 votes to 670 for Donald Nunneley.

Mrs. H. L. Jenkins was re-elected county clerk by a vote of 1343 to 707 received by Mrs. Clark Anderson. Mrs. Jenkins was appointed to this office in November 1959 and therefore had to run in the next election.

Woody Wood was elected commissioner of Precinct 1 with 617 votes, to 406 received by Eddie Smith, and 132 by A. C. Shipley. Jack Brewer, the present commissioner, did not seek re-election.

A run-off faces Commissioner Pat O'Hair and J. C. Emmert in Precinct 3. O'Hair received 266 votes and Emmert 206. A. Y. Bell, the third candidate, polled 92 votes.

These candidates for county and district offices were unopposed:

Tax assessor-collector, Miss Louise Fulcher. 2072 votes. Bruce Hite, constable of Precinct 1, 1155 votes.

L. B. Bratten, county democratic chairman, 2070.

Grainger McIlhenny, state representative, 2079 votes.

$50,300

Johnson Asks Funds for Salt Fork Study

Approval of investigation funds totaling $50,300 has been asked by Senator Lyndon B. Johnson for study of Salt Fork and Prairie Dog Town Fork.

The request went to the appropriations subcommittee.

This is part of $19,640,430 asked on 11 reclamation projects in the state.

The primary object of the study of water resources in Collingsworth county is the proposed construction of the dam across Salt Fork, according to a United Press International report from Washington.

Also included would be a study of the development of water resources in Prairie Dog Town Fork in western Hall county.

It was not known here that Senator Johnson was asking for the money for the Salt Fork study, although Paul Spillman, legal advisor on the dam project, had talked with him about the proposed dam recently.

Core drilling is under way on the proposed site south of Samnorwood. Work was delayed when trouble developed removing the pipe from the drill holes at the site northwest of Wellington.

Lubbock Safety Speakers

Form County-Wide Safety Council Friday Night

An organizational meeting of the new Collingsworth County Safety Council will be held Friday, May 13, at 8 p.m. in the county court room.

Mrs. John Coleman is temporary chairman and called the Friday meeting. Working with her is Police Chief Troy Marsh and members of the B&PW.

Two speakers widely experienced in safety work will speak. One is Sgt. Fred Marshall, regional safety officer for the Texas Department of Public Safety. The other is Collin Dunham, safety director for the city of Lubbock and secretary of the Lubbock Safety Council. They will discuss an overall safety program and outline the work of a safety council. Discussion will follow.

"We want everyone interested in greater safety in Collingsworth county to come—it is a county-wide meeting, and we need the co-operation of people from every part of the county," Mrs. Coleman declared.

Permanent officers of the Safety Council will be elected and other organizational business attended to.

Our Youths Bring Much Honor to Collingsworth

There should be pride in Collingsworth's youth. When one youngster of a similar area wins an honor on an area or state level, it is an accomplishment. But during the last ten days, more than a dozen boys and girls from the four schools have won honors in areas ranging from the Panhandle to the entire state.

It was Eddie Hunt of Dodson who was named best actor in Texas in the Interscholastic League one-act play contest in Austin, and the Quail team of Jimmy Peters and Danny Wheeler was Texas first in journalism. Quail's Travis McGuire did nearly as well, winning a second in state extemporaneous speaking. These were in Class B competition.

At Samnorwood, Joel Lowry has been named an Area I officer in the Future Farmer of America.

District 4-H honors went to four boys—Don Amerson of Samnorwood, winner in extemporaneous speaking; Lynvel Black, Glen Hunt and Kenneth Norman of Dodson, soil evaluation winners.

From Wellington, Sharon Campbell and Jackie Daves recently went to the regional finals in tennis.

Then this week, Wellington's Jennifer Singley and Ralph Coburn receive their awards as two of the regional winners in the state-wide soil conservation essay contest.

There are others, but we name the group above because their honors came so close together, all within the last ten days.

And so . . . When some juvenile delinquent spatters his name across the front page of a newspaper, pause, and remember with pride these boys and girls of Collingsworth who bring honor to their county.

Fallacies of Foreign Aid

Some cogent arguments against continued large-scale foreign aid were given the House appropriations sub-committee Monday by two leaders of the Citizens Foreign Aid Committee.

"It is most unrealistic," as Walter Harnischfeger, Milwaukee industrialist and chairman of the organization said, "to assume that 6 per cent of the world population . . . can indefinitely support 94 per cent of the world population by a hand-out program."

He declared that continuance of this and other unsound fiscal policies can only result in pulling our standard of living down to the level of the underdeveloped countries.

Clarence Manion put his finger on the fact that foreign aid spending results in vast amounts of unneeded domestic government spending and consequently federal deficits and debt.

"The average congressman cannot save his political life by voting money for roads, dams, housing and highways in Thailand and India" while he votes against appropriations for the same purposes at home. Consequently federal spending runs wild, debt accumulation and inflation gets worse.

Manion put the blame for continued foreign aid squarely on President Eisenhower. "For the past half dozen years," he said, "foreign aid appropriations have been continued by Congress solely and only because of the insistence of the President of the United States."

The citizens committee recommends that the President's foreign aid request be slashed from $4,175,000,000 to $2,000,000,000. That seems to be about right for next year, keeping termination of the program as a goal for not many years hence.

Spotlight on Leaks

The conviction that the General Accounting Office is a mighty useful watchdog over federal spending is further strengthened by reports of its role in spotlighting a bad Army contract for aircraft engine repair. Its charges prompted an investigation and preventive action which otherwise might have been delayed, or not undertaken at all.

The contract in question was negotiated on the basis of manufacturers' prices for new parts, and later modified to permit use of parts bought from surplus sources. Surplus parts were used, and purchased at far lower prices than those for new parts, but there was no reduction in the contract amount to adjust to this, though in another instance the contract total was increased to cover higher prices for certain parts.

The result, according to GAO, was that the contractor paid only $145,500 for parts as compared with $270,839 allowed for this in the contract. The difference was a neat $125,000 additional profit for the contractor, by GAO's reckoning.

One hundred twenty-five thousand dollars is a relatively minute sum when measured against total government contract expenditures. If many such amounts were to leak away through carelessness or graft, however, the total would soon become a very respectable one. The General Accounting Office, by calling attention to such leaks, performs a most valuable function in our federal government.—Hannibal (Mo.) Courier-Post.

CROSSROADS REPORT

Dear Editor:

I see where Mr. Eisenhower says cutting foreign aid funds would bring on crushing defeat in our fight against Communism.

My marble-top neighbor says he can see how short funds would handicap us, say, by letting Russia get an ice show on tour in Africa before we can get there with ours.

Says the experts figure Africans will move into camp with whoever is first to show them some ice-skaters, but he has seen several of these ice revues and all they ever sold him on was short skirts.

I note that a new type of government is taking over in some parts of the world, and I guess you could call it studentocracy.

Seems that when the juvenile world fixers of a nation get worked up over how an election turns out, or want to cut classes for a while, they hold a riot and change the government.

My beat-brain neighbor says after reading about all this, and watching parents and teachers these days, he reckons man is about the only animal which is afraid of its young.

I see where an economical expert says the average family's income 40 years from now will be $20,000 a year.

My figure-fuddled neighbor says he has been doing some calculating on the basis of this prophecy, taking into account that the dollar has lost 50 per cent of its 1940 value in the last 20 years.

And, the way he figures it, in another 40 years at this same rate, our money will have depreciated 150 per cent, and a man on a salary of 20,000 of these minus 50-cent dollars will be going in the hole $10,000 a year.

I see where the census is about took, and I guess the bureaucrats are waiting anxiously for the returns on Question H5, Section D, as to how many people have got kitchens and cooking equipment.

My reasonable neighbor says the experts may get the wrong message from this information, though, as not all kitchenless families eat their food raw.

Says likely most of them are actually tame enough, only they have just quit trying to get anything cooked during these short TV commercials and are living on sandwiches.

Junior High Gridders Play 16 to 12 Game

Two conversions after touchdowns gave a 16-12 victory to the Whites, one team of the junior high annual spring football game.

Each team scored in the first and fourth quarters.

The Reds took their first six points when Richard Layton broke loose and, leaving everything behind, ran 80 yards to score.

They scored again in the fourth when Mike Wolf, quarterback, sent a long pass to Dwayne Poteet to set up the touchdown. On the next play, Wolf took the ball and on a quarterback sneak, crossed the goal line.

Bobby Thomas, playing for the Whites, set up their first touchdown with a 40-yard run, then Glen Thomas, fullback, plowed through his own guard for the score. Thomas then added the extra two points over tackle.

Their other score came when Quarterback Chester McLain ran for 22 yards and a touchdown, then Bobby Hudson ran over the extra two points.

This was a hard fought game all the way, Coach Harvey Mill-sap reported, and all boys out for spring training got in the play.

Ticket sales brought in $260.40 and this will pay for equipment ordered.

Playing for the Reds were Gary, Bergvall, Walter Campbell, Mickey Carter, Jackie Duncan, Skippy Duncan, Ray Floyd, Ricky Futch, Glenn Gilmore, Byron Hatch, Bobby Holtzclaw, Phil Hughey, Ronny Ketchum, Richard Layton, Kenneth McClendon, Olan Moore, Kenneth Patterson, Dwayne Poteet, Joe Rudy and Mike Wolf. Second, Third Places

TWO CLEAN-UP ESSAY WINNERS GIVEN HERE

Following are the second and third place winning essays entered in the essay contest sponsored by the Collingsworth County Chamber of Commerce recently.

By BARBARA DOBBS

Human life is no less costly now than it was during the war. Homes and streets and factories must be made at least as safe as the trenches were.

This is a famous quotation written by Harriet E. Beard. It could very well apply to the subject of "Why Wellington Needs a Cleanup Campaign."

Have you ever really stopped and looked at our town? Have you ever really seen it and noticed how dirty it is?

In our city, maybe even in your own back yard, trash, waste, and junk have accumulated until they have ruined the looks of our town and could even be endangering the lives of our citizens.

In yards and vacant lots people have allowed waste to pile up and stand around. Most of this is just junk that they "hate to throw away."

On our highways and streets there are cans and waste paper and many other miscellaneous items discarded by motorists.

Cleanliness is essential to the human body and for our bodies to stay clean and healthy, our environment must be kept clean. If ever you would take part in cleaning up and keeping clean our city, it would be a wonderful place to live and to visit.

From a point of view other than the safety and looks of our town, a cleanup campaign could bring by improving our city, more factories, business and industry in general. With these Wellington could grow and thrive to be a large, beautiful, prosperous city.

Wellington is a nice town with nice people in it. We think our town is pretty but even to us it sometimes looks pretty dirty. The people visiting here are

Welfare Office Head Resigns

Mrs. Donnitta Blain has resigned as field worker for the State Department of Public Welfare and she was succeeded by Mrs. Murray Dodson, who has been working in that capacity in Quanah.

The change was effective on Monday, May 2.

Mrs. Blain joined the State Department of Public Welfare in December, 1952. In addition to administering the program in this county, she also handled part of the Childress county work.

Mrs. Dodson was living in Dodson when she entered this work and was assigned to Hardeman county.

She has bought the home of Mr. and Mrs. Duggie Jameson at 1700 Park street.

going to leave with either a good or a bad impression. To give them a good impression our town must look clean and inviting.

The streets will probably meet their eyes first. If they are lined with paper, pop bottles, boxes, beer cans and such, that certainly won't give a favorable impression. The trees along the streets can look pretty or they can look awful. In a neighborhood with pretty trees and nice looking yards, unshapely and dead trees ruin it. Of course, there should never be cut down trees or limbs lying around in the yard.

Now, take a look at your alley and back yard. Does it look becoming? Well if it doesn't, let's do something about it. We could get a lid on our trash can. That should eliminate a bad odor and a few germs. The weeds could be plowed or hoed up. Now, that dirty alley and that messy looking back yard should look pretty and clean.

The vacant lots and old shacks need to be cleaned up and the shacks repainted. A cleanup campaign could do this and all the rest. But it can't be done by just a few citizens. It will take every citizen in Wellington. We could do it and we should. So let's all back up the Chamber of Commerce cleanup campaign and make Wellington look like a new town.

Everything is perfect that I can see and I sincerely hope all exes will be there next year.

Thanks very much to all of you,
Clyde and Henrietta Miller.

Wellington EX-STUDENTS NEWS

• By Donald Curry

Dear Ineva:

You have asked for our opinion of the reunion. As far as I am concerned the fault that the crowds seem fewer each year is all on the shoulders of the ones who are invited—not the ones who work so very hard to put the celebration over. I don't know of one thing you could add to the entertainment that could make it better. I go down each year to see friends it would be impossible to see otherwise. We appreciate friendship more as we grow older and to go "down memory lane" with the ones who walked with you is an experience I look forward to from one year to the next.

There are many living in Wellington that never come to the reunion. Frankly it makes me a little angry that everyone doesn't enjoy the two days as much as I do. Your wonderful people work so hard to provide a place for us to meet and spend your time working while we sit and visit. If there is any way we can help to get bigger crowds, please let us know. I would like to see Wellington so full of us old exes that the seams would burst.

The only thing I can think of that might hinder people from coming is a lack of places to stay. Why not ask some of the ones there to rent their spare rooms for the two days? The ones who have small children—like ourselves—like a home better than being cooped up in a hotel. Also maybe a few baby sitters could be available for those who don't have grandparents handy.

Everything is perfect that I can see and I sincerely hope all exes will be there next year.

Thanks very much to all of you,
Clyde and Henrietta Miller.

Reunion Honors Five Whose Ages Range from 79 to 89 Years

Four brothers and their younger sister, whose combined ages is 417 years, met in Wellington Sunday, May 1, for their first reunion in twenty years. They were B. B. Johnston, 84, who divides his time between the home of his daughter, Mrs. Milford Harris here, and Shamrock; J. E. Wellington Juniors Honor Seniors in Shangri-la Setting Saturday

Shangri-la was the theme for the Junior-Senior banquet held at the community building Saturday night, May 7.

Oriental decorations were used throughout the building. The guests entered through a door of tinkling metal streamers. The ceiling was hung with streamers, Japanese lanterns, tinkling chimes and butterflies.

Centering the large room was the Lord's Pagoda Lantern, lighted. On each wall was a large dragon covered with glitter and spotlighted with red lights.

The seniors were presented from the stage. At the back of the stage was a mural of a Chinese Pagoda. To one side of the stage was a silver tree with red blossoms and at the other side was the doorway to the Pagoda. Standing at the doorway were Elaine Yarbrough and Ellen Stall in Japanese kimonos. They parted the curtains for the seniors to come through the doorway and escorted them to the edge of the stage, where freshmen and sophomore girls, also in oriental costumes, took them to their individual tables.

Each table was centered with varicolored candle holders. Favors were chop sticks.

John Wolf, president of the junior class, was master of ceremonies. Robert Weir, also a junior, gave the invocation.

John Wolf gave the welcome and Harry White, senior class president, gave the response.

On the program, Bill Estes and Cecilia Anderson sang "Shangri-la," accompanied by Elaine Crawley. Mike Rainey gave the class prophecy. Vickie Glenn and Frances Hill did an oriental dance dressed in oriental costumes.

Water Rates Raised Outside City Limits

An increase in the city water rates paid by users living outside the city limits was announced this week by Mayor Hiram Cudd, after an ordinance was passed by the City Council setting the new rates.

This applies only to customers who receive water, sewage or garbage collection service from the City of Wellington, and who live outside the corporate limits, the mayor emphasized.

There is no change in the minimum domestic rate.

The domestic rates now in effect are:

Minimum charge for 2,000 gallons or less, $3.33; next 2,000 gallons, $1.34 per thousand; next 3,000 gallons, $1.08 per thousand; next 3,000, 80c per thousand.

Commercial and industrial: minimum up to 2,000 gallons, $6.66; next 3,000 gallons, $1.34 per thousand; next 10,000 gallons, $1.08 per thousand; and next 10,000 gallons, 80c per thousand; for all in excess of 25,000 gallons per month, 60c per thousand.

The rates for sanitary sewer service to commercial and industrial users outside the city limits are: minimum, $2.00; 10,000 to 50,000 gallons of water used, 20% of the water bill; 50,000 to 100,000 gallons of water used, 15%; in excess of 100,000 gallons, 10% of the water bill.

Council members pointed out that the city has embarked on a program of improvement of streets, the community building, air park and other phases.

"These projects require more money, and since all people in the immediate vicinity benefit from them, the city council feels that it is only fair that people living outside the corporate limits pay their proportionate share by the increased rates. This is especially true in the light of the fact that city taxes have been raised 30% in the last two years," the council said in a letter to those water customers affected by the raise.

Seven Divorce Cases Heard in Court Monday

Eight cases, all concerning domestic problems of the couples involved, were heard by Judge Luther Gribble in a one-day session of District Court Monday, May 9.

Five divorces were granted, two suits for divorce were dismissed, and one child support case was heard.

In the suit of E. W. Roberts vs. Roma Roberts, the plaintiff was granted a divorce and the custody of two minor children was awarded to the defendant. The plaintiff was ordered to pay $75 per month for their support.

The case of Minnie Garcia Saldana vs. Marcial Saldana was dismissed for lack of residence qualifications.

In the next suit, the plaintiff, Alvin Leon Dodge, was denied a divorce and the defendant, Winnie Delores Dodge, was granted a divorce. The plaintiff was ordered to pay $50 per month to support their child.

A divorce was granted in the suit of Betty Jo Bland vs. Willie Leroy Bland. There are no children.

Novella Hall was granted a divorce from Adonis Hall and the defendant was ordered to pay $50 a month child support.

Yvonne Thomas was granted a divorce from Elvis Lee Thomas and the defendant was ordered to pay $75 per month child support.

The case of Lavon Mae Brown vs. Grady Everett Brown was dismissed.

In the child support case, Winnie Ruth Powell vs. Lawrence C. Powell, the defendant was ordered to pay $150 per month for the support of their five children.

IN MEMORY OF
TOMMY SMITH

By Eddie Hale, a Classmate

Now my beloved do not weep,

For Tommy is not dead, but only asleep.

He has gone to that land so bright and fair,

Where death and sorrow can not enter there.

Some day in that far away promised land,

Why he had to go we'll understand.

We will miss him, yes I know,

And hope to meet him when we go

To that land so bright and fair,

Where all joy is beyond compare.

We thank the Lord he was with us

These short fourteen years, But wish we didn't have to shed these tears.

We will miss his bright, smiling face,

For there will never be one to take his place.

Oh, Lord, help us bear these burdens, we do pray,

And guide our steps to meet him some sweet day

In that land so bright and fair,

Where there will be no more parting there.

Nearly 1,000,000,000 American men, women and children were injured or killed last year because an automobile driver exceeded the speed limit.

A TRIBUTE TO MARGARET FRANCES FUSON

By Willie Cummings

She was weary and heavy laden,

And her load was getting so hard to bear,

God looked down with compassion,

And now she is resting in His care.

For she was an angel while on earth,

So He has called her to reign up above.

Reign as one of His chosen angels,

Endowed with all of God's bountiful love.

Her journey here on earth is now over,

But her memory forever will be

Entwined in the hearts of her loved ones

For her light shined forth for all to see.

It was never hid under a bushel,

But shined brightly, a beacon to see,

To keep her loved ones safe on His pathway,

A good worker for her Savior, as was she.

She's gone and I know you do miss her;

It was sorrowful to have to part.

But the ones that die aren't really gone,

As long as they remain in your heart.

God said, Blessed are they that mourn,

So be comforted in the fact that you know

She was eagerly awaiting her Savior,

And was ready and willing to go.

Will we be ready, willing and eager

When God calls us home for our rest?

Will our sins be washed whiter than snow,

Or will we even pass the test?

So like Mrs. Fuson, let's prepare our mansion

Of works here on earth, what ever they be above,

For someday the death angels will knock on our door

And hand a summons to you and to me.

Deck's DIDACTICS

—By Deskins Wells

There will be a safety meeting held Friday, May 13, at 8 o'clock in the county court room. At that time a safety council will be formed. The purpose is more than just traffic safety but will include a study of safety in the home, industry, farm, school and church. A representative from every business is invited to attend the meeting, as well as any other interested person.

The census is going to show a decline in population in both Wellington and in the county. There is nothing to be alarmed about this. We have known it for a long time. If your business has been doing well for the last few years, you have nothing to worry about except a continuation of quality products, better service and better promotion. The exodus of population actually reached its peak in that period between 1951 and 1955. There are fewer people here, but most of them are better off than they were in 1955. They spend more for food, more for clothing, more for cars, more for appliances and some of them are even managing to save some money in spite of taxes.

In proportion to what they are worth people owe a lot less on their homes than they did 10 or 15 years ago. I know of farmers who are four and five years ahead on their payments on their farm loans. We have fewer people, but we actually have a more stable economy than we did 10 years ago.

The commissioners and the county judge expressed their complete surprise at the sudden resignation of Gene Jenkins. Well, they were not a bit more astonished than your columnist. You see, I spent two days driving over some 400 miles of dirt roads with Gene Jenkins week before last—all of them in Collingsworth county and not once in any of the four precincts did he hint that he was contemplating resigning.

It was the sort of trip that soothes your nerves and gives you a better perspective of the county as a whole. I am wondering if Gene Jenkins had not already made up his mind before we started on our long two-day trip and if he were not trying to give me a guide for his successor. Perhaps it might be very well indeed for the commissioners and the county judge to go together over all the county roads at least

Burial Here for Edgar Shields, Former Resident

Edgar A. Shields, who was born and reared in the Quail community, died in Farmington, N.M., Tuesday, May 3, of a heart ailment. His home was at Aztec, N.M., where he was a welder for an oil company. He had checked into a Farmington hotel and later was found dead in his room.

Funeral services were conducted at Bowie Street Church of Christ Friday with Minister John Gay officiating. Burial was in Quail cemetery under the direction of Kelso Funeral Home.

Pall bearers were nephews, and included Paul Bell, Guy Bell, Jerry DePauw, Wilbur DePauw, Leon Shields, and Jimmy Shields.

Mr. Shields was the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Shields, who were early settlers in the Quail area. He was born August 29, 1912, and as he grew up he attended the Quail schools.

He left this county more than 20 years ago, and lived at Childress 12 years before moving to the Farmington area.

Cary Dysart, County Pioneer Dies at Mobeetie

Cary Allen Dysart, 79, of Mobeetie, died at his home Apr. 29, following a long illness.

Coming here with his parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Dysart in 1889, he was one of the first children to call Collingsworth county home.

Although he moved from here in 1916, he never lost his identity with the county.

He was the brother of Mrs. J. W. Loter and Mrs. Jennie Holcomb of Wellington.

Mr. Dysart was born February 9, 1881, near Ennis. The family moved to Young county in 1885 and remained there until his father homesteaded on land in the Fresno community, but neither the community nor the county then was named.

Cary Dysart was present for the first church service in Collingsworth county, held in the Dysart home. He attended the first school taught here.

He knew the hardships of growing up on the frontier, but he experienced the pleasures, too. He often recalled the cattle drives, religious services and social life he and others of the area enjoyed. Both parents died here before he was 18 years of age.

Mr. Dysart never forgot the home of his childhood. He proposed several years ago that a marker be set up at the site of the first church service, and he took a lead in the old settlers reunions as long as they were held. Besides his visits here with relatives, he retained many contacts in Collingsworth county.

He was married to Miss Minnie Lee Kessler, daughter of another pioneer couple, on June 27, 1909, here. They farmed here until 1916, when they moved to Mobeetie.

Mr. Dysart was a deacon of the Baptist Church at Mobeetie, and for a number of years was chairman of the board of deacons. He was active in community affairs until his health began to fail about four years ago.

Funeral services were conducted at Mobeetie Baptist Church by the Rev. L. T. Field of Forrest, N. M., Rev. Charles Uzzle and Rev. C. C. Lamb.

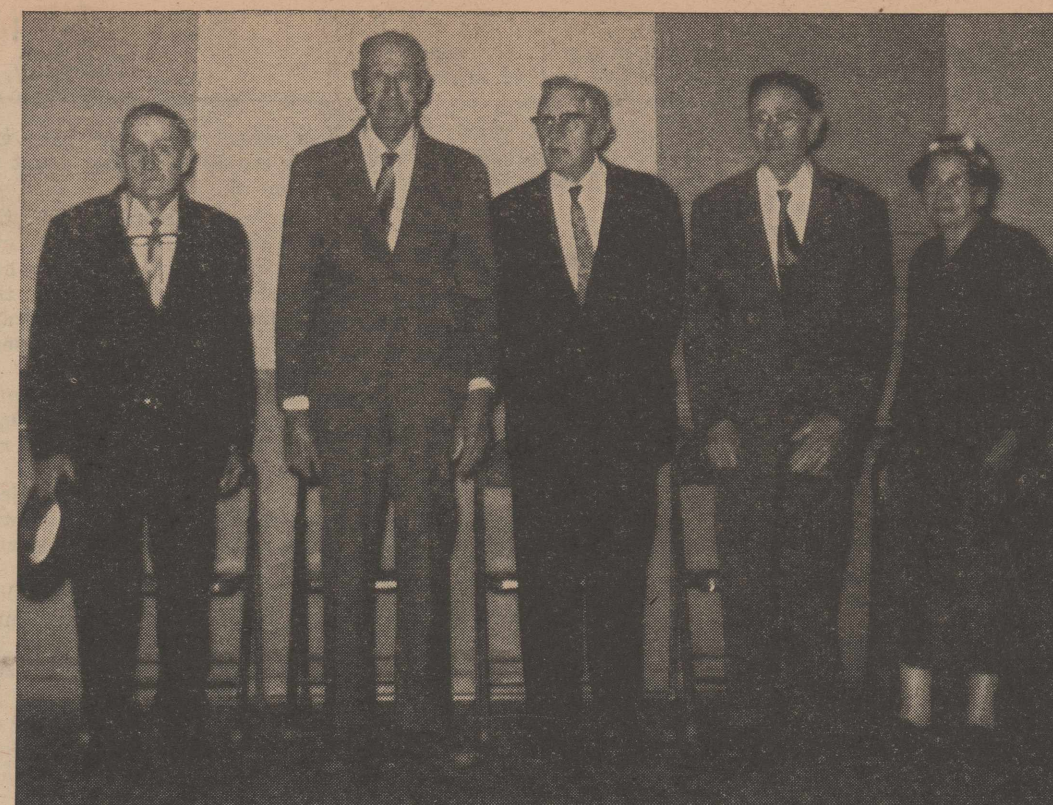

Pall bearers were nephews: Dan Culp, Elbert Kessler and Reece Kessler of Amarillo; Dr. Carter Holcomb, Oran Starkey and W. C. Harwell of Wellington, and Allen Loter of Lubbock.

Surviving Mr. Dysart are his wife and five children, Mrs. Alwyn Savage of Hereford, Mrs. Laverne McPherson and Norman Dysart of Amarillo; Elwyn Dysart of Dalhart, and David Dysart of Wichita, Kan. One son, Cary A. Dysart Jr., preceded him in death.

Other survivors are his two sisters and a brother, Mrs. Loter, Mrs. Holcomb, and Charley Dysart of Clayton, N. M. Two brothers preceded him in death.

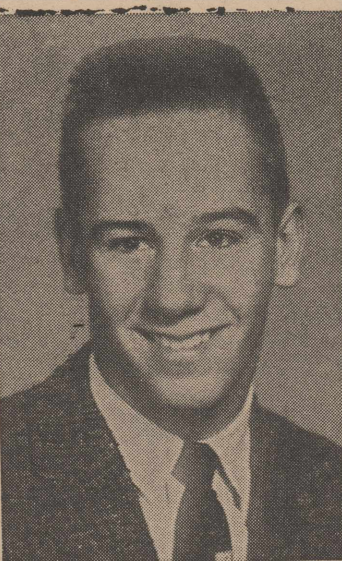

Attending the funeral from here were Mrs. Holcomb, Mrs. Loter, Dr. and Mrs. Carter Holcomb, Mr. and Mrs. Oran Starkey, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Kessler, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Harwell, Mr. and Mrs. Winfield White, Homer Kessler, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Lowe, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Lowe, and Mrs. P. E. Lowrie.

Barley is the world's fourth most important cereal.

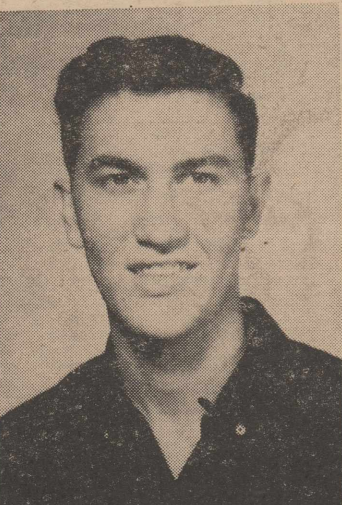

MORE THAN 400 YEARS AMONG THEM

These four brothers and their sister, who gathered here recently for a reunion, have total ages of 417 years. The brothers are 80 to 89 years of age; the sister is 79. From left, they are J. E. Johnston, 89, of Crosbyton; Dan Johnston, 85, of Hollis; B. Johnston, 84 of Wellington; Jess Johnston, 80 of Oklahoma City and Mrs. H. L. O. Riddle of Silverton, 79. This was the first time they had been together in 20 years.
