TUESDAYS—TWICE-A-WEEK—FRIDAYS

23RD YEAR, NO. 22

HEREFORD, DEAF SMITH COUNTY, TEXAS, FRIDAY, APRIL 6, 1923

400 BUSHELS COTTON SEED SHIPPED IN

WILL BE SOLD AT COST,
$1.75 BUSHEL, TO BUYERS

MEBANE VARIETY

Comes From Slaton With Guarantee of Being of
First Class

Four hundred bushels of second year Mebane cotton seed for planting was received by the Hereford Chamber of Commerce Thursday and is now on sale at the Jones & McLean Grain Company's warehouses. The seed was secured at Slaton and will be sold to the farmers at cost of delivery here, $1.75 per bushel. Jones & McLean are handling this shipment as they did the first one, without charge of any kind for their services.

This seed was ordered to meet any demands here for planting seed, in line with the policy of the Chamber of Commerce to encourage the planting of cotton in this territory in any legitimate way. It is now believed that this 400 bushels will be but a drop in the bucket, and that more seed will be needed before planting time is over.

First come, first served, will be the motto in selling this seed and those who will need good seed this year had better place their orders quickly before this shipment is gone. The price of seed is constantly rising as planting time comes closer and the next shipment will undoubtedly cost more than this one.

Methodist District Conference Meets Here 1924

The Hereford delegation to the district conference of the Methodist church at Plainview this week brought home the bacon in the shape of the next meeting, to be held in 1924, which Hereford won handily. This conference includes nineteen preachers and large delegations from all churches in the district, and usually brings between 200 and 300 people together. Some of these nineteen preachers have as many as twelve preaching points on their route. The date for this conference will be determined by the presiding elder of the district, Rev. G. S. Hardy.

The Hereford delegation that secured this prize consisted of G. A. F. Parker, L. W. Carlyle, W. B. Anthony and Mesdames J. A. Stegall and J. Frank Potts.

In addition to this it is announced that the next quarterly conference will be held here, sometime during the coming summer.

Mrs. A. C. Barnhart is Honored by Presbyterian Missionary Society Party

The Presbyterian Missionary Society met with Mother and Mrs. D. L. McDonald on Wednesday afternoon, April 4. This was the regular social meeting and after a short business session, the following program was rendered:

Missionary Paper—Mrs. Chas. Donald.

Song—Jake Witherspoon.
Porto Rico—Mrs. Chandler.

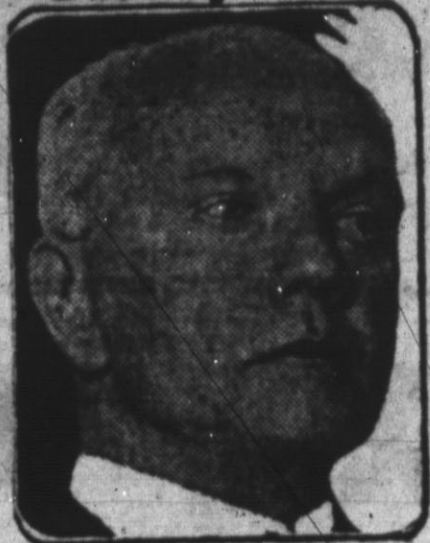

Mrs. W. F. Gabbert introduced a splendid biblical contest that was enjoyed by all. A birthday pantomime was then given that caused much fun. Some clever acting was developed in this connection.

As a farewell courtesy to Mrs. A. C. Barnhart, who is leaving Hereford noon, a beautiful guest book was presented to her by Mrs. Geo. Garrison.

Refreshments of hot tea, sandwiches and pickles were served by the assistant hostesses, Mesdames J. E. Gyles, H. H. Boardman, Chas. Paddock and Seth B. Holman.

The society was glad to have as guests for the afternoon, Mrs. P. W. Price, Mrs. H. H. Hawkins and Mrs. Jno. McLean. A group picture was taken of those present.

Millionaire in "Butterfly" Case

J. E. Mitchell, Philadelphia millionaire, and son-in-law of H. J. Stotenburg, partner of J. Pierpont Morgan, has confessed being the mysterious "Mr. Marshall" who lavished attention on the murdered Broadway burglar, George King.

School Trustee Election To Be Held Saturday

Ballots for the school trustee election were printed and delivered Friday, and everything is in readiness for the election.

There are six names on the ticket, three men and three ladies, with only three to be elected. All six candidates have been persuaded to allow their names to go on the ballot, and none of them are seeking the place, which involves a lot of hard and constant work, no financial compensation, and the usual quota of criticism. The entire ticket is a good one and the Hereford Independent School District is assured of a competent board, whoever is elected Saturday.

Golf Club Meeting Called Next Monday Evening

The executive committee of the Hereford Golf Club have decided to close the first round of the Stroke Contest now going on with next Tuesday's games. Matches that have not been played off by that time will be forfeited.

A meeting has been called at the Fox Mercantile Company's store for 7:30 o'clock Monday night when pairings for the second round of the contest will be made from among the winners of the first round. After these second round matches have been decided the third flight will be put on, etc., until the champion of the club is determined.

Three more completed matches of eighteen holes have been turned in to Secretary Homer Fox since last Tuesday's report, as follows:

W. R. Steckman eliminated Albert Herbst, 95 to 102 strokes;
J. J. Clark eliminated J. H. Pitman, 116 to 121;

Seth B. Holman eliminated Miles Robinson, 108 to 124.

W. R. Steckman holds the low score record for the tournament to date, with a mark of 95 for eighteen holes, and it is hardly probable that this figure will be lowered in the remaining matches, although this is merely a prediction and many surprises have been sprung so far in the contest.

The best score yet made over the course, an unofficial one, is that secured by the Rev. Paul J. Merrill last Tuesday afternoon when, while playing a practice game with E. B. Posey he made the remarkable record of thirty-six strokes for nine holes, or an average of four to the hole. Mr. Merrill's score by holes ran, as follows: 4 5 4 3 4 4 4 3—total 36. This record will probably stand for a long time.

Hereford High Plays Dimmitt Friday and Entertains Amarillo Saturday

The Hereford high school baseball team went to Dimmitt Friday afternoon for a game with Dimmitt High. Austin Reed was scheduled to pitch for Hereford.

On Saturday afternoon, at the high school grounds, the Amarillo Golden Sandstorm will be taken on for a return game. Amarillo won at home last week and the Hereford boys are determined to even up the score Saturday. Galbraith, sensational twirler, will again tackle the Amarillo aggregation and hopes to win his game this time. He is said to have everything a pitcher needs and his work will be closely watched.

The Hereford High boys deserve a decent crowd to watch them work Saturday, and local friends are working hard to get out a representative crowd to the game.

Cow-Sow-Hen Men Close Long and Successful Tour

Amarillo, April 4.—The Santa Fe Railway finished the most successful farm demonstration in its history when the cow, sow and hen train was dismantled here Tuesday night, according to T. B. Gallaher, general freight and passenger agent, who was in charge of the train.

"Ninety-two stops were made in three weeks and the total attendance was 101,027 or an average of 1,008 per stop," said Mr. Gallaher. "The train traversed forty-five counties in Texas and one in New Mexico and one in Oklahoma. Everywhere farmers in large numbers told the A. & M. College lecturers that they were thoroughly in tune with the program suggested for safer farming, namely: some milk cows, more brood sows, and more poultry on the farm, at least sufficient to keep up the family living expenses."

F. A. Lehman, vice president and general manager, F. L. Myers, assistant general manager, and other officials were with the train from time to time while it operated in northwest Texas. They were highly pleased with the demonstration and the notably large attendance at every stop. They were particularly impressed with the earnestness and the interest of the people in the program and the exhibits.

"This demonstration," said Mr. Lehman, "has apparently found a cordial response and should stimulate the development of the plains along broader lines. Farming has become a business and must be made continuous throughout the year to be successful. This requires live stock as a part of the farming system."

The train returned to Amarillo Tuesday evening after the closing meeting held at Shattuck. The three car exhibit went out next morning to the owners. The greater part of the dairy cattle exhibit came from the Texas A. & M. College dairy herd. Other excellent exhibits were loaned by public spirited stockmen who believe in better live stock on the farms to increase the income.

Baptising and a Special Sermon at Presbyterian Church for Next Sunday

Little Mary Katherine Sharp, infant daughter of Rev. and Mrs. J. R. Sharp of the Presbyterian church, will be baptized at the church at the eleven o'clock service next Sunday morning. The ceremony will be performed by Rev. Haynes, an old friend of the baby's father. Rev. Haynes will also occupy the pulpit during the morning worship.

Special music has been arranged and all members and friends are invited to be present.

Hollis Galley Announces General Sale on April 14

Fights White Man All Alone

Chief "Old Posey," of the Piute Indians, is making his last stand all alone against the white man in the hills of Utah. His small band of twenty-seven warriors was captured, but he escaped. J. Ray Ward, shown below, is in charge of Uncle Sam's men who captured the followers and will bring in the old warrior.

School Entertainment Pleases an Immense Crowd

The seating capacity of the Star Theatre was over-taxed, and the aisles were full of spectators, at the school entertainment offered patrons and friends Thursday night. And the exceptional audience was well repaid for its interest by the excellence of the play, "The First Day of School," and the specialties supporting it.

The program as given in Tuesday's Brand was followed closely throughout with the addition of two numbers, a reading by Ardelle and Earle Marie Foster and a song by Charles Galbraith and Joe Bailey Elliston. The Boys' and Girls' Glee Clubs made another hit, as usual.

The play, covering the "doings" of a typical country school, was cleverly acted by the entire cast and kept the audience in continual laughter throughout. The closing number, a drill by twenty girls, and especially the tableau, was above the average, and left a most favorable impression and brought a happy climax to an unusually entertaining and enjoyable evening.

Bad Wind Monday Caused Bum Score by Gun Club

A very high wind played havoc with the score of the Hereford Gun Club in last Monday's official shoot. The marksmen were bothered by the strong breeze and so badly that the score of 93 for the team was the best they could do. Reports from Amarillo show that their team turned in a card of 98, while Perryton reported the top score of 110.

GOOD HEREFORD DELEGATION ATTENDED JUBILEE CELEBRATION, AMARILLO, WEDNESDAY

ABOUT FIFTY CARLOADS MIXED WITH AMARILLO'S LARGEST CROWD AND ENJOYED
"THE DOUGHBOY" AT NIGHT

ALL FOR SPIRIT OF COOPERATION

Hereford's Band, Playing Under Difficulties, Stuck it Out
Loyally All Day and Deserves Praise. Amarillo
Entertained Largest Crowd in Her History

Something like fifty carload, all told, of Hereford people went to Amarillo Wednesday to participate in the Jubilee celebrating the passage of the West Texas Tech bill by the legislature. About half this number accompanied the Hereford Band boys in the forenoon, and the remainder came in during the day. Many of them stayed over night to witness the play "The Doughboy," and were well repaid for their trouble. The play was given in the new Coliseum building, which was dedicated to the service of the Panhandle of Texas on this occasion. The Coliseum is a dandy and reflects great credit upon the people of Amarillo who voted to erect it to handle conventions of the future.

The Hereford Band and boosters went to Amarillo, not as contenders for the show, but to be "good fellows" and to show a spirit of Plains cooperation. The citizens certainly owe the Band boys a vote of thanks for the splendid

Methodist Missionary Society in a Play "The Pill Bottle", With Big Moral

In order to reach the greatest number of people and to arouse a greater interest in missions and especially the medical missionary work in India, the Methodist Missionary Society presented a little play last Wednesday night at the church. The play, entitled "The Pill Bottle", required about twenty women in the cast of characters and was divided into four scenes. The first scene, "Sweet Girl Graduates", was laid in one of our typical American colleges and served as a setting for Barbara Lane, one of the girls, who after graduation is to sail for India to see her mother, father, uncles, aunts and cousins, who were living among the "brown natives, palm trees and mud huts" as missionaries, as the Lanes for over two generations before them had done. Barbara promises her chums that this is "just to be a visit to satisfy her mother's heart, then back to New York to carry out her dreams of being an interior decorator. Two months later, in the second scene, Barbara finds herself in India and when she sees how her mother and father are unselfishly "giving their all" and how even then women are dying from lack of women doctors and care, how "three knocks came in the night" and because she couldn't answer, three people died, she gives herself "to the call" and her consecration is made all the more impressive by voices singing in the distance "Have Thy Own Way Lord."

The third scene, which was four years later, shows the result of her services and of how her office is crowded with patients, poor pitiful women, high cast women, old grannies, young child wives, every class among the Hindus, in spite of their ignorance, superstition and priests, have faith in "her Pill Bottle" and in "the goddess or God's Wife" as they term her. While they wait in her office, the Bible Woman comes among them telling the old story of Jesus and his love for them which is "medicine for the heart." The closing scene, shows how great is the need of more doctors, more hospitals, more Bible women, more funds that more people may be helped, may learn of Jesus. Even the poor outcast woman wants to learn of Him and adds her plea to that of the patients "Just As I Am", which ended in a chorus of "Just As I Am."

The Missionary Society is indebted to Mrs. F. T. Rolison, who so unflinchingly helped the women in their parts and to Mrs. A. C. Thompson and Mrs. G. A. F. Parker for the music between acts, the orchestra for their two splendid selections given as a prelude to the play, Mrs. H. H. Hawkins and Carl Amerson who acted as stage directors, Mrs. Clarence Smith who prompted and each and every one of the ladies who gave of their time and ability by taking a part in this little play.—Contributed.

work they did under trying circumstances and the favorable publicity they secured for Hereford.

A big truck, donated for the occasion by W. C. Fallwell and driven by his son, Elbert, was fitted out with plank seats and railing by George Lloyd and was used in Amarillo for preliminary street concerts and in the parade in the afternoon. Big banners bearing the inscription, "Hereford, Oceans of Water," were erected on each side of the truck. Before noon this truck, loaded with bandmen, led by Rev. Paul Merrill, played on the streets and let the 7,000 visitors know that Hereford was on the map. In the big parade some twenty or thirty Hereford cars followed the band truck in double formation, all bearing placards with "Hereford" prominently displayed.

The feature of the parade, from the Hereford standpoint, was the work of the band and the stunts of Hank Ramsey. Hank, dressed in evening clothes and with a high silk hat, twirled the leader's baton and got a laugh all down the line. He pulled some clever stuff and was busy most of the day preserving his costume, and especially his tall hat, from the clutches of the boisterous crowds.

The Jubilee was the largest thing Amarillo ever attempted to handle. Conferences on the Tech situation were held during the day, Hereford being represented by E. W. Harrison, and several Hereford men were present at the banquet at the Amarillo Hotel at night. The play, "The Doughboy," was gorgeous in costumes, scenery and scenic effects and a stupendous undertaking for amateurs. It was hugely enjoyed by the Hereford delegation. Memphis, Plainview, Lubbock, Floydada and many other towns, candidates for the school, were present en masse and spared no expense to make a favorable impression upon the milling crowds. Hereford's good fellowship delegation made good in every way and returned feeling that they had had a splendid day's entertainment and had upheld the spirit of Plains unity and cooperation in behalf of their city.

Abraham, the Hero of Faith

Gen. 12:1-5; Heb. 11:8-10, 17-19

Abraham, a son of Terah, a descendant of Noah, was born in the city of Ur, capital of Chaldea in the Euphrates Valley. He was a rich, commercial center, a holy city which boasted of great temples for moon worshippers.

Heathen worship and heathen custom must have been very repulsive to Abraham, as he watched the heathen priests chant hymns to the moon.

Abraham was a man above his average possessing a strong mind, capable of great faith.

Abraham stands foremost among the great men in the world's history, not as a statesman, nor as a literary genius, nor as a warrior, but as a founder of a great nation whose especial purpose on earth should be to perpetuate the knowledge and the worship of the one true God, marking the real beginning of the Christian era.

Now the Lord spoke to Abraham thru his inmost soul, thru his conscience saying: "Get thee out of thy country, and from thy kindred and from thy father's house, unto a land I will show thee."

God promised to make of him a great nation; to make his name great; to bless him and that thru him others should be blessed. He promised to bless those that blessed him, curse those that cursed him and that in him all nations should be blessed. This promise has been literally fulfilled. Terry says: "This promise is as broad as mankind, as deep and high as human wants and aspirations, as far reaching as immortality itself."

From Abraham came a nation that has preserved the holiness of God amid heathenism, from him came the Bible and from him came the Redeemer.

So when God told Abraham to "Go" Abraham went. He was seventy-five years old. He took with him Sarai, his wife, Lot, his nephew, and all their substance. He took with him a guard, servants, and tribesmen numbering possibly several hundred. He took his cattle, sheep, asses, camels and camp equipage, making a great caravan.

And they went forth, a distance of three hundred miles to the land of Canaan.

By faith Abraham obeyed, undertook the journey, trusting that he would be led to the right place.

By faith, Abraham, when in the strange land, journeyed as a wanderer, homeless, dwelling in tabernacles, Isaac and Jacob, his sons, showing the same faith and promise. Was he disappointed? No, he was looking beyond the present. For he looked for a city whose builder and maker is God.

Before him was a vision similar to the one seen by the Apostle John, a vision of the heavenly Jerusalem.

By faith, Abraham, when he was tried, offered up Isaac, believing that God was able to raise him from the dead and holding that thru his sacrifice his promises would be fulfilled.

"Faith is a force, and those who grasp it lay hold of that which makes them mightier than themselves."

"Faith explores continents, tunnels mountains, lays submarine cables, believes in chaos, builds airships. It is the most practical thing in the twentieth century."

Russell says: "Compare a Chinese doctor who thinks that the way to relieve pain is to puncture the skin with a needle and let it out, with great American surgeon like the Dr. Howard Kelly of Baltimore, who has the more faith? Set alongside of a fatter worshipper in Africa, Phillips Brooks, and who has the more faith? In every case it is the superior the more fully developed person who has the more faith."

SUMMERFIELD

March is gone but we can't tell it by the weather as the wind still blows, however, it is quite a bit warmer and the trees are beginning to leave out and fruit trees are in bloom, and the wheat is up and looking fine.

J. A. Nolan and family were shopping and taking in the dollar day program at Hereford last Wednesday, and sold a lucky number. Also Mrs. Ben Robinson and Miss Mary Belle Stachley held lucky tickets.

The school fair Friday was a splendid success. The program was a delight to all present and the dinner was great. Mr. Duffot and Mr. Phillips of Mayon Normal gave very stirring and helpful addresses. So also did Judge Egert of Hereford.

The sewing girls had many beautiful garments on exhibition that bespoke time and talent on the part of the pupils and teacher.

A little son has come to make his home with Mr. and Mrs. Leland McInn, mother and child doing fine, they are being cared for in the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Storey.

Mrs. Crow and little daughter returned to their home near Tulla Sunday, after a week's visit in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lookingbill. Cecil and Frank Lookingbill accompanied her home.

Mr. and Mrs. Amens and family of Spring, N. Mex., reached here a few days ago. They drove through their wagon, having moved there a year ago. Mrs. Amens is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. N. A. Laughlin.

There was a large crowd gathered to enjoy the program rendered by the High Quarter last Saturday night. It was well worth the time and effort. We all laughed so much we got the puckers out of our face Sunday.

Mrs. Martha Townsend spent the weekend in the J. A. Nolan home. She is enroute to Mr. Walter Craig's in the Blanco neighborhood, being a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Craig.

A Tierra Blanco neighborhood will play at Summerfield school Friday night. Admission 15c and the proceeds to help buy piano for their schoolhouse, so let us play their play and help in a good way.

A delegation from our neighborhood attended the combined school at Dawn last Monday. The Rice and Dawn schools were combined. Each school furnished of its own production and rendering. The Umbarger was also present as a visitor and exhibits but helping with them and taking part in the after the program. This was a affair and a sumptuous dinner on the grounds. Many appreciative commendations in behalf of the progressive school teachers. They need not for theirs is no easy job. The folks class of our Sunday to give a little play at our school on Friday night, April 13. Next to the fund to procure books. No admission will be charged. A collection will be called for.

and son, Howard, and son, Walter, went to Monday of this week to the of the directors of the Sorghum Association.

PROGRESSIVE

Rev. Paul Merrill of Hereford was out to preach for us last Sunday. Many availed themselves of the opportunity to hear a fine sermon.

Next Sunday O. E. Phillips, evangelist, who is holding a series of meetings in Hereford, will preach at the schoolhouse. Everybody is invited to come. A special invitation is extended to the neighboring communities.

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Glaspell of Davenport, Iowa, who until recently had lived in Hereford vicinity for about fifteen years, might be pleased to know that Susan Glaspell, author and dramatist, is a sister to Mr. Glaspell. A fine article in honor of her, under the title "They Stage the Modern Woman," by Helen Bullitt Lowry appears in the April edition of the Pictorial Review. Her plays, novels and magazine stories have won for her nation-wide renown.

Otto Massie left by motor for Eldorado, Okla., Tuesday. Mr. Massie will be gone several days.

C. C. Bowman and family were dining in the home of F. D. Perkins Sunday. All attended preaching services in the afternoon.

John: "You seem to have an awful cold. What are you doing for it?"

Elmer: "Coughing."

From the career of Sarah Bernhardt we learn two important and helpful things: First, the power of mind over matter; Second, Success is due as much (possibly more) to will power as to natural ability, training education and influence. The mightiest force within you is your will power.—Wichita Beacon.

The P. H. S. boys played their first game of baseball Friday afternoon. At the suggestion of the winners the game was unfinished, ending with seven innings, score 31-21 in favor of Hereford boys. The P. H. S. boys do not need practice, but know they need practice. Several of them promise to make excellent players.

Madame Ezra Norton, O. J. Christy and several others from Hereford were out to witness the game.

WYCHE

Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Hough and family spent the day with Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Robison last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Vern Witherspoon and two sons of Hereford had dinner with Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Paddock last Sunday.

Miss Alfreda Henderson spent last week end in Canyon returning home Monday.

W. M. Sawyer and family have moved on one of the B. L. Elliston places. We are so glad to have some new neighbors.

A very interesting basket ball game last Friday afternoon between the boys and girls ended with a score of 16 to 8 in favor of the girls. This was no doubt, the result of much practice on the part of the girls since the boys' victorious game the Friday before.

Warren Hough spent the last Wednesday night with his friend, Ervin Elliston.

Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Paddock have a beautiful new car, a five passenger Buick.

Miss Alfreda Henderson visited in the Wyche home Saturday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Mitchell are moving on Mrs. G. B. Ward's place this week.

The pie supper at the Wyche school house Friday night was well attended. Every pie sold at auction for as much as 50c and some brought $1.75. A cake which caused much merriment, was to be awarded to the ugliest man. Several were nominated and each nominator worked faithfully to get votes for his nominee. With each vote a fee had to be paid for the privilege of voting and this cake brought about $6. The ugliest man who received the most votes was to get the cake, but by some magic turn in the wheel of fortune it was awarded to the best looking. All agreed that Mr. Clayton could eat more pie than anyone in the house. A total of something over $23 was made, which will go for Sunday School literature.

April is here but the "roaring lion" of March seems to claim part of April, as it is still roaring. Everyone would be glad to see some beautiful spring weather now.

Monday, J. A. Reed received a shipment of frost proof cabbage, ever-bearing strawberries, and Bermuda onion plants from a Clarendon Nursery Co.

The school children in Miss Jannette Combs' room enjoyed an Easter Egg hunt Friday afternoon. All reported a good time. However, they failed to find the gold egg. Therefore there was no prize given.

Some attraction at the egg hunt for Mr. Norman Jacobsen of near Adrian. Wonder if there will be any attraction after Friday week as school will close close that date?

The Western National Bank offers its services to this community upon its record of twenty years.

Twenty-Second Anniversary Celebration

Twenty-two years ago at this time we began our present business in Hereford. We have never had occasion to regret that we cast our lot in this community.

We have at all times tried to do our full duty as a citizen. We have deemed it a privilege to "yoke-up" with every forward movement for the good of the town and country.

By the splendid co-operation which you have given us in our business and by your liberal patronage, our business has grown from a small beginning to its present proportions.

We have made every possible effort to procure the best values obtainable for our trade. We have always been satisfied to sell our goods at a small profit. Hence we have tried very hard to merit your full patronage, as well as confidence. We are strongly determined to push forward with renewed vigor to make this year a good one for you as well as ourselves.

We have a splendid selection of goods in every department of our big store and we guarantee to save you money on your every want.

Sincerely,

E. B. Black Co.
