Council Approves Meter Ordinance

The City Council of Colorado City Tuesday night passed an ordinance establishing local city landowner's responsibility for the water that passes through their meters to their property and also awarded a bid for the purchase of a new backhoe for the water and sewer department.

As has been reported earlier, the city's present backhoe is about 15 years old. The money for the new machine will come out of revenue sharing funds which the city will receive from the federal government.

Three bids were received for the machine and the one which was accepted came from Costin Implement Co. of Colorado City. Costin submitted a bid for a Ford model backhoe for $22,426. The machine would have the cab assembly installed by the dealer. Also, as part of the bid, Costin will sell the city's present backhoe.

Costin also submitted a bid for the same machine for $25,024. The difference in the price was due to the fact that on the latter bid, the cab assembly would be installed at the factory and the city would have to pay for the shipping costs of the cab.

The two other bids for the backhoe came from Godsey-Evans Inc. of Abilene for a John Deere model backhoe, $23,931.64 and from Yellowhouse Machinery Co. of Lubbock, also for a John Deere model, $23,940.

Ordinance number 79-67 passed by the council Tuesday night established the city's and property owner's liability for their water meter and service line connections and stated as follows:

"The City of Colorado City is liable and responsible for the city's lines up to and including the meter. The water customer-property owner is responsible for the service lines from the point of the meter. Any water metered from that point will be the responsibility of the water customer-property owner."

Another section of the ordinance established rules against landowners tampering with their meters and read as follows:

"The City of Colorado City will charge anyone found guilty of tampering, defacing, obstructing, or in any way interferring with the operation of the water meter a fine of $200."

Ronnie Aston, vice president of the Mitchell County Girls' Softball Association, appeared before the council to make a request for $3,000 from the city's motel occupancy funds for lights for the league's baseball field at Ruddick Park.

Aston requested the money for installation of 36 quartz lights for the field so that the league could play games at night. He stated that at present they were having to quit playing every night at about 8:30. He further added that because of this it was difficult to attract teams from other area towns to come and play here.

Aston said that if the lights were installed, the league hoped to be able to schedule tournaments for all three of its age divisions with other towns.

Aston stated that the lights would cost $48 each plus $15 each for the bulbs. This adds up to a total of $2,268 for the lights. He said that $500 more would be needed for the purchase and installation of the 70 foot poles for the lights.

Aston said that the league would be willing to accept half of the $3,000 right now to get the project started.

After some discussion, the council agreed to appropriate $1,500 from the motel occupancy funds in June and $1,500 more in September for the lights.

Aston said that he thought that would be satisfactory since the league would have 30 days to pay for the lights if they were ordered immediately.

In other action, the board appointed a three member board of equalization which will meet on July 2 at the city hall.

The members appointed were the same as last year and in-

CONSTRUCTION ON A LOG CABIN located west of Colorado City by the Col-Tex Club is expected to be completed by July 1. The pre-fabricated cabin is being built by Greg Griffin of Austin, who is assisted by Jerry Jones of Big Spring. The cabin, constructed on two lots, is 1,038 square feet and a 748 square foot three-car garage will be added. The house will be total electric with central air and heat and will have two bedrooms, one and a half baths, a family room with a fireplace and a kitchen. When the house is completed, Griffin said that he plans to sell it. He estimated that the house and storage shed built on two lots overlooking Lake Colorado City will sell for about $55,000. Griffin and Jones have been working on the cabin for about three weeks.

Chamber Is To Award "Yard Of The Month"

Approval of a new brochure to promote Colorado City was one of the main items of business during the monthly Colorado City Area Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture Monday night.

The board also voted to initiate a "yard of the month" awards and recognition program. A chamber committee will select a "yard of the month" with the caretaker of that yard to receive a sign to be placed in the yard for that month and also will receive a plaque to remember the award by.

A "yard of the month" will be selected during the months of May, June, July, August and September. A yard cannot repeat as a winner. The first yard selected will be announced during the next two weeks. A yard does not have to be entered or be nominated but entries and nominations will be welcomed by the Chamber of Commerce office.

Also during the meeting the board discussed plans for the upcoming American Junior Rodeo Association (AJRA) rodeo and the July 4 Fly-In as well as heard reports from various committees on upcoming activities.

One activity coming up next weekend will be a personal development seminar for women entitled "NOW, New Options for Women," sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce Education Committee, Barbara Gray, director representative; Business and Professional Women's Club, Community Action Program and Wallace Community Education Center of the school district.

The seminar will take place Saturday, May 19, at Wallace Center and will include a general session on "Today's Woman," conducted by Bernice Proctor, an Abilene counselor; a career opportunities discussion led by Ann K. Carman of the Texas Employment Commission; a discussion of new directions and new goals led by Dr. Mary Hood and Bettie McQueen of Western Texas College in Snyder and a discussion entitled "Through the Looking Glass," led by Winnie Roach of Winnie's Merle Norman Cosmetic Studio in Colorado City.

Another session will be new options for fashions with commentary by Bobbie Steakley and music by Ann Gregory with fashions by Anthony's, Free's Friendly Shop, Landau's and Kirschbaum's.

Other topics of discussion will be on financial responsibility led by Barbara Darnell, an Abilene tax consultant and a session on conditioning–physical, emotional and intellectual–led by Patrice McKinney of Patrice's Shapin' Up Shop of Colorado City. There also will be a session on "Women and the Law."

The Cultural Committee of the Chamber of Commerce, with Fleta Lewis as director representative, has scheduled a Fiber Arts Show for July 15 and other committees are making plans for various upcoming work.

ELMER PICKENS arranged this part of his collection of Indian arrowheads in the shape of an Indian lady.

Pickens: A Legendary Colorado City Figure

By GARRY PEEBLES

Someone named Samual Ullman once wrote an essay entitled "Youth," which began with the following lines, "Youth is not a time of life, it is a state of mind...a matter of the will...a quality of the imagination."

These lines fit perfectly one of Colorado City's longtime citizens who is 75 and a young man.

Elmer Pickens of 862 E. 12th Street, was four-years-old when he came to Colorado City from Milam County with his parents and 10 brothers and sisters.

He says that he remembers coming out here on the train and that his father got a job at the salt works, east of town, the day they arrived.

Today, only he and one other brother remain out of the 11 children. He attributes his life and health during these years to the a fact that he has never slowed down–he is just as active now as he has ever been.

When you enter his saddle shop at the back of his house, he will greet you with a smile, a laugh and a handshake and after telling you one of his jokes–"Did you hear about the absent minded cowboy? He kissed his horse and rode his wife to town,"–he will point with pride to one of the saddles he is working on and gladly tell you all the details of a craft which he has practiced since 1921. He says that he has no idea how many thousands of saddles he has made since that time.

He learned the trade simply because he liked horses and had spent his entire life around them. He stated that he can still turn out a saddle in five days and he has many of the same tools which he first began with.

Pickens specifically pointed to a stitching machine which he bought in 1923. He says that he remembers the date because he bought a Ford at about the same time, when Fords cost considerably less than they do now.

Pickens maintains that to be a saddlemaker you also have to be an artist and he can demonstrate this by taking a piece of leather and in a few minutes carving a person's initials along with any other design which might come to mind. He says that the pressure he has had to use in cutting the leather over the years is the reason he still has the strength in his arms of men much younger.

If a person really wanted him to prove how strong he is, Pickens could probably be talked in demonstrating one of his favorite exercises which he calls "flagging a train."

He can grab hold of an iron post and hold his body perpendicular to the ground for–well, you'll have to ask him how long–and he also gives this exercise much of the credit for his physical fitness.

Another of Picken's favorite exercises is the lost art of walking. He takes hikes of four miles or more several times a week and he speaks as if it were nothing to hike to Sweetwater.

As if the walk itself weren't enough, Pickens carries a .45 caliber pistol along in case he happens to run into any rattlesnakes. This happens frequently since many of his jaunts take him acros[illegible] the area. He has a jar full of rattles to prove that there are plenty of the creatures still around.

Pickens makes his own shells for his pistols of which he has several and he has carved out new grips for the firearms out of walnut and maple.

Pickens showed another example of his lively sense of humor when he told the story of a young man who came into his shop one day to look at his pistols.

The man looked at one of them for a moment and then asked if it were loaded. Pickens said that he gave the man a shrug and then said, "I don't know, let's see if it is." He then stepped outside pointed the gun toward the sky and pulled the trigger. It WAS loaded.

Pickens stated that the man turned slightly pale and asked nothing else about any of the pistols.

Pickens stated that he used to go fishing a lot but that he doesn't seem to be able to find time for that anymore. He pointed to a fishing pole on the wall that he said was a really nice one. He added that he paid $30 for it back in the 1930's when $30 was a lot of money and in another sly bit of humor said, "You know, a fishing pole is like a woman–when you've found the right one, you'll know it."

Pickens' wife, Eula shares his sense of humor. They have nicknamed each other Ahab

See PICKENS, Page 12

WITH HIS SHOP IN THE BACKGROUND Elmer Pickens demonstrates his techniques in carving designs on leather which he has used since 1921.

clude–R. B. Baker, Eddie Mitchell and Henry Bilberry.

The council also appointed Jessie Munoz as its representative to the Parks and Recreation Board replacing former councilmember, Buddy Hertenberger.

At the beginning of Tuesday night's meeting, a delegation from Loraine appeared before the council to discuss the matter of a contract between Colorado City and Loraine for Colorado City sanitation workers to make a weekly run to Loraine to collect that city's trash.

Last week, Colorado City Manager Ray Mason appeared before the Loraine City Council and suggested a cost of $4.50 per person in Loraine for the Colorado City workers to make the run.

On Tuesday night, however, Loraine Mayor Vance Dickenson said that the city would be willing to pay Colorado City $4 per customer for the run.

Upon hearing this, Mason repeated his idea that $4.50 was a fair offer and he added that the extra 50c would be needed for gasoline and oil for the trucks and to put money away to purchase land for future landfills.

Councilmember Macca Findley also stated that he felt $4.50 was a fair price.

Another member of the delegation, Rev. Fred Witta stated that he had made a survey of the Loraine customers and found out that of the 370 customers who would need trash pickup, 81 of them were single people over the age of 60.

This meant, said Rev. Witta, that they would have relatively little trash to pick up since they probably ate out quite a bit.

Councilmember Ray Dillard answered this by saying that the volume of trash to be picked up wasn't the main issue. He said that the most important thing to be considered was the wear and tear it would put on Colorado City trucks to make the weekly run. He added that he felt that Colorado City would go into the hole charging Loraine customers $4.50 each.

The Loraine citizens agreed to discuss the matter further at their next city council meeting before making a final decision on Colorado City's offer.

Mason stated as part of his city manager's report that the city has as yet to find the cause for most of the water which it is losing every month.

He stated that in April, Colorado City was billed for 48 million gallons by Texas Electric. In turn the city only billed its customers for only 22 million gallons.

He added that 173 dead meters had been found in Colorado City and that these were being replaced but he went on to state that ever after these meters were replaced the city's water loss problem still wouldn't be solved.

In his report, Mason said that Colorado City has 500 miles of water lines within its city limits. He said that the large leaks in these lines were easy to find and correct, it was the small leaks which were difficult to locate and which probably accounted for much of the loss.

Mason finally said that a leak just the size of the tip of a ballpoint pen could waste 3,600 gallons of water in a 24 hour period.

He stated that he was determined that these leaks would be found and closed up but that it would take time.

City Secretary Brenda Tarter presented city's financial report for April which was also the final financial report for the fiscal year 1978-79.

Mrs. Tarter pointed out that with the aid of the $60,000 loan in April, the city's general fund ended the fiscal year with a plus figure of $24,986.83. Without the loan, the general fund wiould have had a deficit of about $35,000 on April 30. She added that this was a much smaller deficit than she could have hoped for several months earlier, that the city was in much better financial shape on April 30 than it appeared it would be in December.

In a matter which was on the council's agenda but which didn't come up, Colorado City Attorney Dell Barber was scheduled to discuss the Colorado City Airport with the councilmembers.

Mason said, however, that the decision had been made between Barber, himself and Mayor Bassham to postpone the matter until the new councilmembers could be given more information as to the history and background of the airport and its relationship to the city.

Mason said that the airport would again be put on the agenda of a later meeting.

TEX—TURF—10, a registered hybrid bermuda is the NUMBER ONE RECOMMENDED LAWN GRASS for this area of west Texas!

Regular mowing, fertilizing and watering will keep your lawn so green, dense and healthy that TEX—TURF—10 will choke out weeds and prevent others from becoming established.

TEX—TURF—10, (short for Texas Turf number 10) is a registered hybrid bermuda grass, propagated at Texas A&M in the 1950's. Although there are many registered hybrid bermuda grasses, TEX—TURF—10 is the very best lawn grass and recommended as the number one grass for lawns and playing fields in the West Texas area. TEX—TURF—10 is classified as a blue-green grass, with a blade slightly finer than common bermuda. It was originally propagated for golf fairways, so it is very resistant to all kinds of traffic. TEX—TURF—10 is very drought resistant and requires less water and less mowing than any other grass. TEX—TURF—10 has a very thick turf and only in times of stress will you ever see an occassional seed head. There is NO SEED for TEX—TURF—10, so sodding or sprigging is required to start a new lawn. # Brame Honored With Reception

Many old time friends and relatives made Sarah Brame's 90th birthday a happy occasion for her by attending the tea held for her in the lobby of the Loraine Nursing Home, Saturday afternoon.

It was hosted by her son and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Loyd Brame. Visiting and much reminiscing was done during the afternoon. They were joined by the residents of the home and home personnel.

Her only brother, Moody Richardson of Loraine was present as were her sisters: Mrs. Bertie Moore of Andres, Mrs. Cora Howell of Baird, Florence Walker of Colorado City and Pearl Preston of Loraine. Her only other surviving sister, Dink Anderson of Loraine was unable to attend because of illness.

Out of town guests were from Abilene, Andres, Clyde, Baird, San Angelo, Stephenville and Colorado City.

Crystal was used in the table appointments. Chosen colors of pink and white were used on the table and carried out on the happy 90th birthday cake. The centerpiece was made up of silk flowers in spring colors.

Eloise McDaniel, Shirley Graham and Jean "Sug" Bynum, great nieces of the honoree, served. Bobbie Wilkerson, a niece, registered guests and Doris Henderson, a great niece, assisted in registering guests and was photographer. Eva Wells and Sue Lankford, friends, were also in the houseparty.

Mattie Taylor played the Happy Birthday song while the group sang Happy Birthday to the honoree. Also playing piano selections during the calling hours were Corinne Taylor and Sherry Hackfeld.

Course To Be Offered

Psychology 231 will be offered in a Saturday-only summer class at Western Texas College beginning June 2, Dr. Joe Reaves, instructor, has announced.

Students will attend classes from 9 a.m. to 1:10 p.m. on Saturdays for the six weeks of summer school.

Registration for the course and for other summer classes will be on May 30 in the WTC Administration Building.

Esquivel To Lead Workers

Mrs. Ninfa Esquivel of Loraine will lead Bellringer workers in a house-to-house drive during May, Mental Health Month.

"As a voluntary agency, the association works on behalf of the mentally ill and to promote mental health. The association is not a state agency and relies on private contributions such as the money raised by the Bellringer campaign," said Dick Fredrick, state president of the Mental Health Association.

Since it is not a governmental agency, the association speaks as an advocate for the consumer, representing citizens who need mental health services.

"As citizen advocates, our job is to find out what needs to be done—at local, state and national levels—and then to work to see that what needs doing is in fact accomplished," said Fredrick.

The Mental Health Association promotes mental health by strongly promoting research into the causes of mental illness and by continuing mental health education programs crucial to preventing mental health problems.

Ladies Present Program On Tour

Mrs. Harvey Humphrey and Mrs. Bob Grayson of Colorado City showed slides of their recent trip to the Holy Land at the First Baptist Church in Loraine at 9:30 a.m. Monday.

Mrs. T. L. Holman presided and the meeting opened with Mrs. L. E. Crutcher bringing the prayer calendar and giving the prayer for missionaries who were celebrating birthdays on this day.

Mrs. Linton Ray Webb sang "The King is Coming," accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Grayson.

Mrs. Harvey Leach welcomed the group and introduced Mrs. Humprey and Mrs. Grayson. As pictures were reviewed and narrated by Mrs. Humphrey, it proved to be really "a trip to the Holy Land" for those present.

Mrs. Grayson showed slides of their tour group and described the setting.

Meeting closed with Mrs. Grayson singing "I Walked Today Where Jesus Walked" and prayer by Mrs. Herman Mitchell for people of that land who have never accepted Jesus as Savior.

After the program a covered dish luncheon was served in the church fellowship hall. Long tables held spring flowers and the meal was served buffet. The blessing was given by Mrs. Luke Smith.

There were 29 present.

Henderson Hosts EH Club

Mrs. Dessie Henderson was hostess when the North Loraine Extension Homemakers Club met for a regular meeting recently.

Mrs. Raymond Wheeler, vice president, presided in the absence of the president, Mrs. Shepherd.

After the prayer was recited in unison, Mrs. H. C. Taylor brought the recreation in the form of a quiz.

As the secretary called the roll, members answered with "My Favorite Vacation Spot."

After reading the minutes and treasurers report, a short business meeting was held. Several questions came up for discussion. One decision was made to make personal donations to the cancer drive instead of making a drive for the club.

Also discussed, though not finalized, were plans to decide how the club could best help in aid to the disaster area where the tornado struck.

Club members were urged to be thinking about nominating a prospective delegate to go to state meeting in Dallas, October 4-5.

Mrs. J. M. Templeton brought the program on "Places And Things To See In Texas." They were made aware that there are many places in Texas, both recreational and historical that are virtually unexplored by many people and some very near, and that are known by more out of state visitors than native Texans. After her interesting and informative talk, she asked for a discussion from the members on places of interest they had been.

Mrs. Henderson served refreshments to the following: Mmes. Wheeler, Holman, Jack Linam, Roy Wells, Hubert Meadows, Taylor and Templeton.

Wesley Class Has Luncheon

The Wesley Bible Class met Tuesday, May 1, for a luncheon and business meeting. Mrs. L.B. Elliott gave the invocation.

It was reported that four hearing aids had been installed in the church sanctuary for the benefit of those whose hearing is impaired.

Mayme Dozier reported having sent thirteen cards and flowers to two.

Mrs. Elliott gave the devotional. She read scripture from John's Gospel Chapter 3 Verse 7 "Ye must be born again." She also read a poem "For Today," by Betty Baker. She closed with a prayer.

Hostesses were Mmes. L. B. Elliot, Mayme Dozier, Louise Havard, Earl Hunter and Wilma Reynolds.

Attending the luncheon and meeting were Mmes. Lon Strain, Myrtle Womack, Frank Andrews, J.P. Nunn and E.H. Winn.

Also Mmes. Earl Brown, Ed Putman, Jewell Richter, Arnel Smith, Ora Fisher, Tom Glover amd Dewey Davis.

STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

Austin - Almost three weeks ago, Governor Bill Clements said he saw no "compelling reason" to raise the state's interest rate ceiling and vowed any legislation designed to do just that.

Luckily, the govenor left his options open, saying he would keep his finger on the pulse of the housing industry and if he felt a drop off in activity, he wouldn't hesitate to call a special session if that was the action needed to remedy the situation.

When Clements arrived at his press conference this week, he had just received the news that the Federal National Mortgage Association-better known as Fannie Mae-was backoff from accepting low-interest VA and FHA home loans offered in Texas. Clements said he was numb from the news.

The effect of Fannie Mae's announcement-a tighter money market-was soberingly clear to the govenor, lenders and people looking to buy or sell a home.

What Fannie Mae feared was purchasing VA and FHA loans in Texas that might exceed the state's legal interest rate of 10 per cent. Home buyers had been turning to the cheaper VA and FHA loans after finding the conventional money market all but dried up.

Lenders normally add points (one percent of what is borrowed) to get VA and FHA interest rates up to conventional money market levels. But when VA and FHA interest went up last week to 10 percent that meant lenders charging points on those loans might be in violation of the state's usury law.

Later in the week, Clements met with Sen. Bill Meier of Euless and Rep. Jerry Donaldson of Gatesville, the sponsors of legislation raising the usury limit from 10 to 12 percent, and said he was "reassessing and rethinking" what actions he might take in light of Fannie Mae's announcement.

After his meeting with Meier and Donaldson, Clements said he was evaluating a new twist to Meier's bill that would tie interest rates to those charged on long-term government loans. Twelve percent would still be the ceiling but lenders could let rates "float" up or down according to the conventional money market.

Sen. Bill Patman of Ganado, a long-time foe of bumping the usury limit, and Texas AFL-CIO President Harry Hubbard felt it was just more than just odd coincidence that Fannie Mae's announcement came on the heels of Clements statement that he would veto a hike in interest rates Unless something happened to change his mind.

Patman and Hubbard charged "collusion" between Fannie Mae and Texas lenders to "pressure the Legislature into raising the usury ceiling" FNMA officials vehemently denied such charges and said Fannie Mae's actions came at the result of vagueness over whether or not VA and FHA loans were exempt from state usury law penalties.

In the wake of Fannie Mae's announcement, it appeared that those with homes on the market were bearing the brunt of the tighter money market lenders continued to offer VA Loans with points charged not to the buyer but the seller.

The Budget

While Clements was announcing his support this week for the repeal of the prevailing wage law, he was softening his stand on another key issue-teacher pay raises.

In the past, the govenor has said flatly that he would veto any teacher pay hikes that exceeded 5.1 percent. But this week, Clements changed his tune, saying he had never pledged to veto pay raises of more than 5.1 percent.

The House appropriations bill bumps teacher salaries by seven percent in each of the next two years. Clements said that was unacceptable but believed it would be remedied in a conference committee. First though,the Senate must act.

Step One in that process was finished this week as the Senate Finance Committee completed work on its version of the 1980-81 state budget. That plan will cost taxpayers $600 million more than the House appropriations bill.

Senate Debate

Senate debate on the state budget will begin this week. The Senate's spending plan would give teachers only the 5.1 percent increase in pay that Clements says he can support.

The Senate's budget would cost the state $20.8 billion. The price tag on the House bill would be $20.3 billion. Earlier in the session, Clements proposed state budget-including a $1 billion cut in state taxes. Neither the House or Senate have left much for the tax relief Clements has been demanding since taking office.

Another interesting provision of the Senate Finance Committee's proposals that it eliminates over $400 million found in the House measure to reimburse school districts for revenues lost because of the Tax Relief Amendment approved by voters last November.

The Senate plans to take up reimbersement when it begins debate on school finance.

The Senate Finance Committee also did away with additional exemptions for the elderly and handicapped with yearly incomes over $10,000.

The House

With the Appropriations bill behind them for now, House members seemed to get a second wind this week as they passed a constitutional amendment legalizing BINGO for non-profit and charitable organizations, approved legislation giving voters the power to rollback property taxes that exceed five percent, made it legal for farmers to produce alcohol to mix with gasoline (making "gasahol," and, finally, overwhelmingly voted to require motorists to have liability insurance.

The "bingo" amendment, already passed by the Senate, was altered slightly and senators will now have to concur with a "local option" provision tacked onto the amendment before it is sent to voters for their approval.

"Gasahol"

Farmers are hoping they can squeeze a little alcohol out of some of their by-products and then add that to gasoline. The House made that a little easier this week by first making it legal to manufacture alcohol (for cars though, not human beings), and by authorizing the state to provide loans so farmers can build alcohol-producing plants on their farms and ranches.

What farmers will end up with is called "gasahol," simply a mixture of about 90 percent gasoline and 10 percent alcohol. "Gasahol" is one of the less bizarre alternative fuels being mentioned these days and it has already proved successful in such divergint places as Brazil and Nebraska.

CMS has two new bulletin boards in the main building. The bulletin boards were purchased for the students so they could keep track of the calendar of events for each month. This month's activities:

May 11 All Sports Reception; May 17 CMS Band Concert; May 19 NJHS Six Flags Trip; May 29 CMS Awards and recognition and May 30 last day of school.

The second board has a thought for the month.

Thank you for the new addition.

Eighth grade history classes have been studying the procedures of a court. Last week after we completed the study Mrs. Gierhart took each of her classes to visit the courthouse. The field trip was both interesting and enjoyable.

Mrs. Denson's advanced 8th grade English Class is rather busy with their assignments. One of the assignments is to memorize three poems.

The poems are "The Concord Hymns," "Stopping By Woods" and "The Gettysburg Address."

Also we are doing a procedure of the reading of Tom Sawyer. Each week we read a certain number of chapters, then we test on them.

On April 21 the National Junior Honor Society went on a fun trip. We went to Sweetwater to skate and eat pizza. We were accompanied by our sponsors and their wives.

The money used on the trip was money we earned and had left over from our Six Flags trip.

We will be taking our Six Flags trip in about two weeks.

Pictures Taken Of Winnie's

John Dow, a free lance photographer, who is traveling across country photographing interiors which appeal to him, was attracted by Winnie's (pink) Merle Norman Cosmetic Studio and requested permission to take pictures.

He took several "time exposures" and "flash" shots, listed the name, address and city in his journal of information for a book he is compiling.

Dow has taught "Photography–A Fine Art" at Princeton University and resides in Boston, Massachusetts.

He previously did the photography for a Bicentennial book on "Courthouses."

Colorado City Chamber Of Commerce News

By LARRY WINDERS

(Rummaging through some old files, I ran across the following article that was done five years ago in a period irritation with myself and the average American. The amazing thing to me is that the predictions have and are coming true much more rapidly than anticipated. At any rate what I said then still applies, only more so.)

Your average middle class American citizen is between 40 and 50 years of age, has one wife, one son almost grown and two teenage daughters. He owns a comfortable home with a management mortgage, a lawn that he mows himself and two automobiles. He attends church on a fairly regular basis and considers himself one who minds his own business.

The average middle class American citizen is a complacent and usually forgetful or unaware person. He accepts the blessings of his life and his nation with more grumbling than thanksgving.

He and his family have been favored by fate far beyond his ability to recognize his blessings. Our country has not been subjected to the horror of foreign invasion, nor even the devastation of war on our own soil, for more than one hundred years. There is no constant fear of plague or famine or revolution.

He and his family have had more comforts and privileges, and more freedom of choice about every aspect of his life; more opportunities for the pursuit of pleasure in what ever way appeals to him most; more security from crime and abuse, and a more peaceful and stable prospect for his future; more services provided by civilization and always available for his routine needs; more benefits ready at hand from the labor and knowledge and investments of other men, more catering by the unhesitating and automative response of an incredibly elaborate system, to all of his many desires and demands for hourly miracles, than any other group of people the world has ever succored.

The very greatest blessing of all, namely freedom, has simply been taken for granted and seldom really appreciated.

At least that was the basic situation for himself and his family until the last very few years. Then the whole climate of your environment began to change visibly and noticeably. Yet you have hardly raised a hand to preserve all that your ancestors and a kind providence have created for you and bequeathed to you as a tenent for life. Those who have the most to lose do the least about it.

Your only response seems to be to go on blindly about your business and pleasures as usual, with no real regard to the imminent drastic effects the potentially dangerous change in your lifestyle.

Since 1946 the value of the dollar has shrunk 60 per cent. This shrinkage has taken only 28 years; and, at this rate, the 1946 dollar will be worth only 16c after another 28 years. The main reason for this decline has been excessive federal spending—and particularly deficit spending. Should this state come to pass, 28 years from now prices will look very similar to the following examples:

—17,200 in wages will have to be $18,000.

—$3,000 cars will cost $7,500.

—$25,000 homes — $62,500.

—$4,000 college tuition—$10,000.

—$330 television sets—$750.

—$30 pair of shoes—$75.

This would be a splendid legacy for our children.

This country is in trouble because many Americans have been ignorant about how their economy works. They have demanded things before they could afford to obtain them. They have lived beyond their means. They have called on big government to meet all sorts of demands irrespective of the public's inability to pay for what was wanted.

Americans have placed unreasoning faith in big government to solve their problems and guarantee perpetual prosperity. Now the nation has arrived at a day of beckoning.

A continued decline in the dollar's value is not inevitable, and there is something Mr. and Mrs. Average Middle Class American Citizen can do about it; particularly in view of the fact that they with their taxes support most of the nations expenditures, 1974 is an election year. There is a political dimension of inflation; not politics in the partisan sense, but in terms of voting for political leaders who will keep the government regulations which assure the greatest productivity improvements.

The United States once and for all, must reject the political patent medicine of federal economic controls, more printing press money and massive deficit spending. The American people must demand that the Congress adopt, as a permanent rule, that federal expenditures shall not exceed federal revenues. If that rule isn't adopted, the American standard of living will deteriorate until it is on a par with wretched, dependent nations of the world.

The average middle class American citizen will be the one most affected so he should be the one most active in requiring our legislators to adopt a financial policy for our government like the one he has to use for maintaining his home.

Party In Abilene Honors Meadows

Miss Marla Meadows of Abilene, bride-elect of Tony Davis of Pecos was complimented at a gift party at the home of Mrs. Lonnie Baker (a former Lorainian) in Abilene Saturday.

Co-hostesses with Mrs. Baker were Miss Belinda Sheffield of Christoval, and Karen Fry of Abilene.

Guests brought recipes and appropriate cooking utensils to cook that recipe in.

A profusion of spring flowers were used through the party rooms and refreshments of coffee, punch, trays of fresh fruit and sweet rolls were served from an appointed table.

The honoree's mother, Mrs. Hubert Meadows of Loraine attended.

Miss Meadows will receive her degree from Hardin-Simmons University in commencement exercises at Berhams Chapel at 3 p.m. Sunday, May 13.

Bennett Presents Program

The First United Methodist Church of Loraine met for a regular monthly dinner meeting at the church on April 18 at 6 p.m.

Mrs. Sybil Walker was in charge of the program.

Rev. Fred Witta introduced Mrs. Lily Bennett who presented a book review on "China."

She noted that the main theme on China is "Self Reliance" and that the Chinese people proudly point to their progress in material things.

They do not mention or consider God for they feel that they can do everything on their own. Seemingly in a material way they have fed the people.

Mrs. Bennett told of a Christian native of China who returned home after 25 years in America. She told of the many changes there and how the people were given just the basic necessities of life, such as food, clothing, education and medical care, regardless of age, sex, class, influence or the ability to pay. Each person is treated the same and each one is given the same to live on regardless of talent or education.

China claims to be an oil producing and exporting nation without any millionnaires for no one gets rich in China. No one is more important or respected than the other in China and all are paid the same amount.

China doesn't have any prominent church life or Christian mission today. Christianity is looked upon as alien missions and is thought to be impractical philosophies and ideal theories.

All took part in the Bible discussion.

It was voted to invite Mrs. Harvey Humphrey of Colorado City and other women who made the trip to Africa and the Holy Land to show slides of the tour at the meeting May 7. The meeting has been set for 9:30 a.m. and a covered dish luncheon will be held at noon.

We Salute The DE & ICT Students

DE & ICT Beneficial To Students

Distributive Education (D.E.) and Industrial Cooperative Training (I.C.T.) are designed to provide knowledge and skills needed by high school students for entry into employment.

These programs of cooperative Part-Time Training at Colorado High School provides classroom instruction and on-the-job supervised training and work experience for high school students preparing to enter employment. In D.E. these job opportunities are in the area of marketing and distribution of products and services in retailing, wholesaling, and service selling establishments. The I.C.T. program provides experience in various industrial fields such as carpentry, general construction, mechanics of various kinds, welding, plumbing, masonry, equipment maintenance, electronics and many other industrial occupations.

I.C.T. and D.E. are one or two year courses offered to juniors and seniors. In addition to the regular academic course, the student has one period related instruction at school and works in a related job in the community for two school periods or a minimum of 15 hours per week. The students are paid by the employers so in addition to all the other benefits, they are earning while learning an occupation. Some of the students may wish to further their education in some specialized industrial or marketing and distribution field by attending a technical school two years or a four year college or university in order to achieve the levels of employment they desire.

Business and industrial establishments that are used as training stations for the students are very important. It is they that provide the occupation experience and supervision on the job.

The student organization for D.D. students is Distributive Education Clubs of America (DECA). This years officers are: Ricky McPaul, president; Janie Hines, vice-president; Chellye Beavers, secretary; Penny Edwards, treasurer; and Jim Bobo, parliamentarian. Vocation Industrial Clubs of America (VICA) is the student organization available for I.C.T. students. VICA officers are: Joe Landeros, president; Rusty Merket, vice-president; Steve Moore, secretary; Mike Webb, treasurer; and Ricky Espinoza, reporter.

In addition to the club officers mentioned, other members of the Distributive Education and Industrial Cooperative Training classes are Bertha Arispe, Wade Compton, John Garcia, Cyndi Geiger, Barbara Jackson, Pennie Laws, Doris Lindsey, Lori Long, Lupe Martinez, Sylvia Martinez, Kerry McMillian, Cynthia Owens, Ronny Owens, Corena Prichard, Danny Reyes, Janice Ridge, Anita Rivera, Susan Russell, Todd Shaw, Joe Sosa, Jimmy Spriggs, Coalen Swann, Jerry Vann, Sherri Williams and Kathi Wilson.

Wittas Honored With Open House

One hundred forty-six called during the hours of 2-5 p.m. Sunday when the Rev. and Mrs. Fred Witta had open house at their new home at 400 Kindred Street in Loraine.

The couple welcomed guests and members of the house party showed them through the beautifully decorated home.

Mrs. Leonard Coldewey presided at the guest book.

Autumn colors with touches of aqua predominate in colors in furniture upholstery and accessories. Dark gold carpet was used in their decor theme.

The serving table was laid in white crochet cloth from which various cakes, cookies, cheese's, sausage balls, turkey, candies, etc. were served.

Members of the house party included Mmes. J. M. Templeton, Harold Martin, Raymond Wheeler, Clara Butler, K. L. Taylor, Wiley Walker, Bernice Hallmark, Gladys Payne, Pauline Smiley, Lynne Compton, Vada Preston and Willie Taylor.

Guests left from the south entrance leading to the slat covered banistered wooden porch where they lingered for visits and refreshments, and descended to the concrete covered patio. Flower beds separated the porch and patio.

Work on the outside is not complete. They still plan and have work started on a large pebble terraced area enclosed in concrete curb. They have trees planted, flowers and a garden growing, which shows how much work has gone into bringing them this near to their hopes and dreams.

Celebration To Begin Tomorrow

Jay Adams Chevrolet announced it will be a key participant in the Chevy Nationwide Celebration which begins this week.

The national Chevrolet program runs from Friday (May 11) through May 28 and is designed to highlight Chevrolet's new Citation along with its full line of 1979 passenger cars and trucks.

"Chevrolet sales are booming at record levels through the first seven months of the model year with new car sales up more than four per cent and truck sales up over six per cent," R. E. Cook, Chevrolet General Sales Manager said in announcing the program.

"Our new Citation is meeting with unprecedented consumer enthusiasm and this Nationwide Celebration is designed for dealers to maximize the public's awareness of our dealer's products and services."

Cook called the campaign "a unique initiative by Chevrolet and its dealers to capitalize on the upswing in consumer demand for new cars and trucks just ahead of the summer vaction season."

He went on to say the program is being coordinated as a multimedia project utilizing advertising, dealer sales, promotion, merchandising and publicity at the dealer, zone, regional and national levels.

Nationally, Chevrolet is poised to set an industry sales record in 1979 of some 3.9 million cars and trucks. During 1978, Chvrolet dealers delivered 3,659,502 cars and trucks for an sll time sales record. (This included 2.3 million cars and 1.3 million trucks.)

and Jazebel after the infamous Biblical characters.

Mrs. Pickens has worked in the nursery of the First Baptist Church for more years than she would try to add up and Pickens himself has sung in the choir for just as long. He said that he gets kidded often about going to sleep in the choirloft during the sermon.

Before her marriage, Mrs. Pickens had an experience herself which could be called unforgettable to say the least. She was found unconscious after the 1923 tornado which hit Colorado City and she remained that way for 15 days.

Mr. and Mrs. Pickens have had six children, five daughters and a son, and their pride in their family is shown by an entire wall of pictures which they have of their children and grandchildren.

Their oldest daughter, Fayrene, lives in Midland; the second, Myrle, lives in Burkburnett, Tex., and the third, Pat, lives in El Paso.

Mr. and Mrs. Pickens have a set of twins–a daughter, Jane, who lives here in Colorado City and a son, Gene, who lives in Santa Fe, N.M. They have another daughter, Nancy, who is deceased.

It would appear with all of the above that Pickens has had enough to keep him busy down through the years but he has still another hobby of which he is very proud.

He collects arrowheads. He stated that he has been doing this since 1918 when he was out in the country somewhere one day and he found a number of them all in one place.

To merely describe the arrowhead collection can't do it justice because there are, according to Pickens, over 6,000 of them of every conceivable color.

There are several arrowheads as big as a person's fist which Pickens said were probably used to skin buffaloes or for some purpose such as that. There are others very small and fragile which may have had some kind of ceremonial purpose since it is unlikely they could have ever been used for hunting.

Pickens says that he doesn't believe that there have every been any Indians who actually lived around here. The ones who were here were merely passing through. He states as proof of this theory, the fact that in all of his hunting for arrowheads in this country there have only been a couple of instances in which he found other Indian artifacts or any indication that the area could have been used as a burial ground. He adds that the arrowheads themselves are much harder to find now than they once were because this area has just about been picked clean of them.

Pickens has his collection neatly and imaginatively framed in a number of wooden wall-type boxes. Along with the arrowheads that he has found, he has some that he has made. These are perhaps just as pretty as the real thing. They're more polished and refined but they don't have the history behind them.

According to Pickens, his arrowhead hobby has consumed a lot of his time over the years. A number of years ago he felt that it was taking so much of his time that he decided he would be better off without his collection and he sold it. It was an act which he regretted immediately but he was hesitant to ask the buyer, a man who lived in Midland, if he would consider selling it back.

After some time had passed and after some prodding by his wife, he finally decided to ask the man if he would be willing to consider selling it back.

The man agreed, saying that it surely meant more to Pickens than it did to him since Pickens had spent a lifetime collecting the arrowheads.

Today, Pickens shows no sign of regrets over the life he has lived here in Colorado City. He says that the thing he misses most from his past is the fact that people used to get together more than they do now.

He added that people used to be more interested in those around them. Now, however, most everyone is in too much of a hurry and is too concerned with his own affairs to have time for anyone else.

PICKENS stands by one of the saddles on which he is currently working. He can make a saddle in five days. They cost about $500 and he has been making them since the 1920's.

THE ARROWHEADS pictured above are part of the more than 6,000 which Elmer Pickens has collected in the past 60 years.

sets of pamphlets in an envelope and will be used to welcome new residents to Colorado City, to send to persons seeking information about the area and also will be sent to port of entries at the state border to give information to tourists looking for places to go in Texas.

The brochure is to be printed in six sections so that in the event one section becomes outdated, it can be replaced without having to redo the entire brochure.

This is a new concept in brochures and members of the board expressed their pleasure with the concept.

The six pamphlets will consist of:

–One on the Colorado City Museum and Playhouse.

–Another on general information about Colorado City.

–One will be about both lakes.

–A pamphlet will be devoted to agriculture and the oil industry in Mitchell County.

–Another section will be about the annual Arts & Crafts festival and the Mitchell County Fair.

–The final pamphlet will be in regards to the annual fly-in and rodeo on the July 4 weekend.

Each pamphlet will be on a different color paper and will include pictures of the various activities.

Chamber Manager Larry Winders also reported on work being done by himself, Ken Godsey and J. C. Britton to attract new industry to this area.

Webb To Head For State

Westbrook High School's Terry Webb competed in a state qualifiers track meet in Lubbock Saturday and finished fourth in the high jump with a leap of 6'2".

Webb will head for the state meet in Austin Thursday.

C. W. COX of the Soil Conservation Service observes Englemann–daisy plants along the highway southwest of Colorado City. Besides being an attractive flower, Engelmann-daisy is excellent for cattle, sheep and wildlife food, noted Cox. It is perennial and does not have to be seeded each year and is well adapted to this area. Seed is available commercially.

NOLEN BIRD of the Soil Conservation Service observes shrubs left for wildlife on the Lenton Ray Webb stockfarm just southeast of Colorado City. The pasture was rootplowed and seeded to desirable grasses under the Great Plains program. Shrubs and trees were left in draws and shallow sites for wildlife.

Local Residents Attend Branding Ceremonies

Brands Included At A&M University

The search is on throughout Texas for outstanding cattle brands to include on county panels at the Kleberg Center's "branded stairway" at Texas A&M University.

L. A. Maddox, chairman of the unique branding project, said that some 3,500 brands, or more, are expected to be imprinted on the 254 "county oak panels" in the University's new $9.5 million Robert J. Kleberg Animal and Food Sciences Center.

"County Extension agents are working with their local beef cattle committees to select eight brands per county, and with historical societies to select other brands for the panels," Maddox, Texas Agricultural Extension Service beef cattle specialist, said.

Recently, a delegation from Mitchell County added local brands to the county's oak panel. Participating were: Maddox Ranches, Powell Cattle Company, D. W. Wallace Estate, Wayne McCabe Ranches, Strain Cattle Company, F. L. Terry Estate, Wulfjen Family Ranch and Renderbrook-Spade Ranch.

There are some 200,000 brands recorded in Texas and on file with the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association in Fort Worth. This is the state's most complete record.

The "branding" was an idea of Dr. O. D. Butler, for many years head of Texas A&M's Animal Science Department and now associate vice president for agriculture and renewable resources. He said that not only are cattle brands a rich part of Texas livestock history but a prized possession of ranchers in identification of their cattle.

"We felt that the branding ceremonies would bring about a closer tie-in between cattlemen and our animal science facilities on campus as well as with research and educational work throughout Texas," Butler said.

Maddox said that branding ceremonies will be conducted by Extension district groups until "all panels are branded."

Health Check '79 Is Set In Abilene

A participant-centered health fair, Health Check '79, will be conducted May 15 from 9:30 a.m.-2 p.m. at the Abilene Civic Center.

Health Check '79 is free to all older persons in the area.

Throughout the day, actual health screenings will be conducted. Height and weight, anemia testing, hypertension and blood pressure screening will be available. In addition, glaucoma testing and diabetes screening and presentation by a podiatrist on proper foot care will be offered.

Screenings will be conducted by nurses from the West Central Texas Home Health Agency and from Public Health Region 4 and specially-trained volunteers will be on hand. Follow-up telephone calls will be made by volunteers to determine whether participants who had significant test abnormalities have received further medical care.

Although the emphasis at the Health Check '79 will be on activity and participation in on-the-spot services, exhibits and health education presentations will be scheduled. Information from service organizations and agencies will also be available.

Merchants and banks have contributed an assortment of door prizes to be given away during the day. All older persons who register will be eligible to win.

A noon meal will be provided by the Abilene Senior Citizens Nutrition Project. Contributions from persons 60 years and over will be accepted to cover the cost of the meal. There will be a charge of $2 per meal for persons under 60.

"Are You Planning on Living the Rest of Your Life?" will be the theme of the noontime program.

Health Check '79 is one of hundreds of health fairs being conducted nationwide in May as a project initiated by the Administration on Aging-Department of HEW.

Locally, Health Check '79 is being sponsored by the Abilene Coordinating County–Aging Cluster, Taylor County Red Cross and the area agency on aging.

You can do it yourself with Texas Electric's free booklets on caulking and weatherstripping. They're part of a series we're offering to energy-conscious homeowners who want to make their homes energy efficient. Using basic tools and readily available materials, even unhandy people can caulk and weatherstrip their own homes to keep energy costs down.
