Along The Waterfront

Staff Sergeant C. S. Ross, of Copperas Cove, was announced winner of Sea Gun's first annual fishing tournament. Sergeant Ross's 42 pound drum gave him a 12 pound lead over runner up Alvis Goetz of Sault St. Marie, Mich. Sergeant Ross and his family will receive a weekend at Sea Gun as grand prize.

Contest winners in April were Sergeant Ross, Division I; Mrs. Parry McClure of Dallas, Division II, with a 24 pound sheephead; and Johnny Johnson of San Antonio, Texas, Division III, with a 13 1/2 pound drum.

This past week, rain and threatening skies kept a lot of fishermen at home. However, C. A. Wheeler of Dallas, fishing with Capt. Jimmy Greeson, landed a nice mess of trout and sheephead. R. K. Johnson, of Corpus Christi and J. F. Kuhns of Austin, fishing with Capt. Danny Adams, brought in 120 pounds of nice trout. Capt. Warrach's party, the Leon Dennis' of San Antonio, brought back a nice catch of trout fishing in St. Charles Bay.

Pier fishing in Sea Gun's basin under the lights has provided action for several of the night anglers.

John A. Deauer, of Fulton has been making big catches of trout, reds and drum at different local piers.

The fish have weighed in at 3 to 8 pounds each.

Vets Reminded Of Educational Bill Restrictions

Post-Korean veterans planning to take advantage of the educational provisions of the new GI Bill should bear in mind certain restrictions, P. J. Mims, manager of the Veterans Administration Regional Office in Houston, said today.

The new bill does not permit apprenticeship courses and other on-the-job or on-the-farm training, such as were authorized under previous GI Bills.

Flight training by itself alone will not be permitted. It will become authorized only when it is part of a complete college or university program leading to a definite degree.

Veterans discharged from the Armed Forces after July 31, 1955, will be eligible to begin courses after June 1, 1966. Full information may be obtained in any VA office and in most colleges and educational centers. Applications are available in most colleges, County Veterans Service Officers, American Red Cross Chapters, and VA Offices, Houston and San Antonio, Texas.

Case of The Poodle Comes To An End

"How's the poodle case coming along?"

In barber shops, restaurants, drug stores, grocery stores, on the street, and almost everywhere in this area, that was the question asked over and over last week and early this week.

The word had gotten around. There was an interesting legal case going on in the courthouse with County Judge John D. Wendell presiding.

The case concerned ownership of a charcoal poodle dog.

The suit was filed by Mr. and Mrs. James A. Reddish, formerly of Corpus Christi, but now residents of Robstown, who claimed that the dog in question was theirs. They said the dog's name was Sheri, and that she ran away July 3, 1965.

C. OF C. SEEKS PROFESSIONAL MANAGEMENT

At this week's meeting of the Chamber of Commerce directors, the ways and means committee was authorized to seek professional management for the Chamber.

The committee is to present its candidate to the board as soon as possible.

At the present time a membership committee composed of the Chamber directors and other members is starting a membership drive. During the coming two weeks the assistance of the entire community will be needed to help make the campaign a success.

In order to accomplish the goal of a more aggressive Chamber, it will be necessary to double the budget, one of the directors stated.

At a board meeting, first vice president Jerre Ledbetter presided in the absence of president John Ross. Homer Faber gave a report on small signs, 40x48 inches, which cost $16 or $17 each without cost for location.

The board voted to allocate $300 to put up some signs now and add more each month as funds permitted. Regarding an existing sign at the intersection of Highways 181 and 881 at Sinton, the board voted to appropriate $100 to repaint the sign.

The resignation of W. R. Wright was presented and accepted with regret. The board voted to name Bob Eschberger to serve in Wright's place until the next regular election.

United Church Women May Fellowship Day

The United Church Women will observe May Fellowship Day, Friday, May 6 at 3 p.m. at St. Peter's Episcopal Church.

Mrs. Paul C. Sorenson, chairman, Christian Social Relations, will present the program using the theme, "People, Poverty, Plenty—Discover, Plan, Act."

Assisting in developing the theme will be Mrs. O. M. Brymer, Mrs. Harry Mills, Mrs. D. T. Adams, Mrs. Bill Straley, Mrs. M. L. Cochran and Mrs. G. L. Godwin.

The guest speaker will be Mrs. Charles P. Donnelly, director, Christian Education, Church of the Good Shepherd, Corpus Christi.

The offering will be used to develop and strengthen the work of the local and state councils.

A social hour in the Parish Hall will follow the program. All women in the county are invited to attend this service. An Executive Board meeting will precede the program, beginning at 2 p.m. and all officers and chairmen are urged to attend.

Falk won the top scholastic honor with a four-year average of 95.107.

County Joins Regional Planning Commission

Aransas County Commissioners have decided it will be beneficial for the county to join the Regional Planning Commission which has been spearheaded by Nueces County Judge Noah Kennedy of Corpus Christi.

With the addition of Aransas County, the Regional Planning Commission will have eight counties in this part of Texas working together on long range planning for orderly growth to keep pace with the expected population increase.

The action in behalf of Aransas County took place at the latest meeting of the Commissioners Court. The commissioners also voted to forward a check for $750 to assist the Regional Planning Commission with its work.

In other actions, the court:—Awarded a painting contract in the amount of $2987 to Bruce Mayes for labor and material to paint the masonry hangar at the airport.

—Agreed to pay $22.50 to Mrs. O. W. Brymer, County Librarian, for travel expenses incurred while attending the Texas Library Association convention in Austin.

—Decided for the Commissioners Court to sit as a Board of Equalization on May 16, June 2 and 6.

—Approved the monthly report of James W. Hunt, county service officer.

Attending Commissioners Court were County Judge John D. Wendell, Commissioners W. B. Allen, Precinct 1; Raymond Owens, Precinct 3; and Albert Wofford, Precinct 4; and County Clerk W. E. Beasley.

C. of C. Service Getting Response

Mrs. Mary Juergens, secretary-manager of the Chamber of Commerce, said this week that some activity had been generated as a result of The Pilot's news story last week describing the Chamber's new employment service.

"We now have personnel data application forms," Mrs. Juergens said, "ready to be filled out by persons seeking employment in this area. A few have come in and either filled out the forms or taken them home to be returned later."

As explained in The Pilot article, the Chamber is serving as a "clearing house" for firms seeking employees, and people looking for jobs.

Members of the Chamber or anyone looking for employees are welcome to use this service. It is recommended that both the job hunters and the potential employers come to the Chamber office to describe their needs.

Area Preparing For Summer

With Texas school commencement exercises just around the corner, and offices everywhere posting their vacation schedules, this area is bursting with activity preparing for its annual influx of summer visitors.

Out-of-state winter guests have returned to their homes, and motels, cafes and beaches are being readied for the summer season.

Rockport's 1 1/2-mile crescent beach, one of the finest in the state, is clean and shining, ready for the crowds of swimmers and sun worshippers that will soon blanket the area.

At the north end of the beach a large salt water swimming pool will attract many.

And to make it safe for the youngsters the Navigation District has fenced off the bathing places and provided additional parking area so that no vehicles are allowed that might be dangerous to the children.

Water along the beach is shallow, and lifeguards will be on duty as the crowds gather, making it one of the safest places for children in all Texas.

A scenic drive parallels the beach, lighted at night, and at the northern edge of this drive, as well as between it and the

No More Free Use Of City Docks

No longer will there be any free use of the city docks, either at Rockport or Fulton.

At a meeting of the board of Aransas County Navigation District No. 1 last night, a new rate was set for use of the docks. The charge from now on will be $5 per day, or a portion thereof, depending on the length of time.

Overnight docking will constitute two days, from the charge standpoint.

Any person desiring to use the city docks, at Fulton or Rockport, shall contact the Navigation District office and give the name of the vessel, name of owner, exact time of arrival at dock, and the purpose.

The board also agreed to lease to the Casterline Fish Co. a dock in the Fulton harbor for five years.

The Mustang Dredging Co. was granted an extension of time to clean out the salt water swimming pool.

Albert Silchenstedt Named RYSCO Vice President

Albert B. Silchenstedt, who has been associated with the Rockport Yacht & Supply Co., Inc., for 10 years, has been elevated to vice president in charge of design and production.

John P. Mitchell, Jr., vice president, announced today that the Board of Directors of RYSCO had elected Silchenstedt to his new position.

"Since joining our firm," Mitchell said, "Silchenstedt has designed boats which have proved to be most able, seaworthy and productive."

Silchenstedt studied naval architecture at the University of Michigan, Mr. and Mrs. Silchenstedt live in Rockport and have three children, Ann, Ivan and Edward.

Methodist Plan Mother's Day

The Methodist Men of First Methodist Church are planning to observe Mother's Day by providing a corsage for the oldest mother present, as well as the youngest mother present, at the morning worship services, Sunday, May 8.

In their meeting last Monday, the Methodist Men also elected their officers for the coming Conference year. As president, they elected Robert M. Hill, and as vice president, Chester Johnson. For secretary-treasurer, they elected Robert D. Mosier, Jr.

The Methodist Men meet at the Methodist Fellowship Hall for a breakfast meeting on the first Monday of each month.

Cage-Marshall Gives Plaque

At the last meeting of the Rockport Cemetery Association a report was given by the grounds beautification committee.

In one part of the report, special attention was given the Memorial Center, a central location where services will be held on Memorial Day.

A flag pole erected by the Veterans of Foreign Wars will have a plaque at the base in memory of the veterans of all wars. The plaque is being given by the Cage-Marshall Funeral Home.

In last week's Pilot, an incorrect name was listed as the donor due to the fact that the name given to the paper was erroneous.

SOCIAL SECURITY REPRESENTATIVE TO VISIT ROCKPORT

A representative of the Social Security Administration will be at the Grand Jury room of the courthouse in Rockport on Wednesday, May 11, 1966, at 9 a.m.

You may obtain information about your rights and duties under the Social Security Act. Eligible persons can secure assistance in applying for old-age, survivors, or disability insurance payments, and for Medicare benefits, from the representative at that time.

Local Pastor, Layman To Attend Synod Meeting

The Rev. Cecil H. Lang, Jr. and Norvell F. Jackson, Ruling Elder from the First Presbyterian Church, here, have been commissioned as representatives to the 111th annual meeting of the Presbyterian U. S. Synod of Texas. Jackson also is chairman of the Standing Committee on Schreiner.

The Synod, state-wide organization of Presbyterian Church, U. S., will meet May 17-19 at Second Presbyterian Church, Houston.

A major question facing the 500 ministers and laymen will be a proposal to change Austin College, a four-year liberal arts school in Sherman to a church-related, rather than a church-controlled college as it is now.

The Austin College board of trustees is asking for amendments to its charter, providing for a self-perpetuating board with one-half its members from the Presbyterian Church, U. S.

Other issues to come before the state-wide organization will be consideration of a statement on sexual morality, a budget asking of $1,680,000 for 1967, and suggested measures for increasing the church's membership growth rate.

At Pre-Synod Conference, May 16 in Houston, ministers and laymen will study some of the most crucial problems in Christian relations now facing the church: Alcoholism, mental health, religion and schools, birth control, race relations, sexual morality, and leisure.

The Synod of Texas includes 418 church in Texas plus five in New Mexico.

April Weather Was a Mixture

The month of April brought a little bit of just about everything from the weather standpoint.

Records kept by Paul C. Sorenson, Weather Observer, revealed a number of interesting facts:

—There was a total of 2.09 inches of precipitation, with the greatest amount of rain (0.85 inch) falling on April 28.

—Although this community had no tornadoes, there were two days during which strong winds were recorded. On April 14, winds from 35 to 42 knots were observed, and on April 20 the range was from 20 to 30 knots.

—Maximum temperature during the month was registered on April 25 when the mercury climbed to 82 degrees; a minimum of 50 degrees chilled the area on April 6.

—Fog occurred on April 18 and 25, with visibility on April 18 only 3/4 of a mile.

—Thunder and lightning shook things up on April 8.

Shrimp Landings Total 39,200 Pounds

Shrimp landings at Aransas Pass and Rockport last week totaled 39,200 pounds, according to Bert Strock, statistician for the Bureau of Commercial Fisheries.

The total at Aransas Pass was 32,100 pounds, consisting of 29,200 pounds of brown shrimp and 2900 pounds of white shrimp.

The Rockport total was 7100 pounds—6100 of brown and 1000 pounds of white shrimp.

A total of 32 vessels were involved in the operations.

The Democratic primary election will be held Saturday, May 7 with voting from 8 a.m. to 7 p.m.

There will be no contest for county offices except for two write-in candidates, Doug Fletcher and Lawrence Miller, seeking the job of justice of the peace in Precincts 1 and 1-A for which no one has filed. G. D. Johnson, present J. P. in these precincts, decided not to run.

The most interest in Aransas County will be in the outcome here and through the district in the battle between State Senators Culp Krueger of El Campo and Bill Patman of Galveston, incumbents, who are running against each other as a result of the merger of three districts into one.

Voting in Aransas County will take place at the following polling places:

Precinct 1-A, Aransas Pass Voting Center; presiding judge, Mrs. Glen Ellis; judge, Mrs. E. N. Oualine;

Precinct 1, Rockport Fire Station; presiding judge, Mrs. Faye Brundrett; judge, Mrs. Fred Diederich;

Precinct 2, Courthouse; presiding judge, Mrs. Elbert Mundine; judge, Mrs. Bernice Ingersoll;

Precinct 3, Fulton Fire Station.

Registration at the Rockport Elementary School will be held from 8:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. May 10, 11 and 12.

Parents are asked to bring their child's birth certificate or baptismal record, and an immunization record showing that the child has had shots to protect him against diphtheria, tetanus, whooping cough and smallpox.

Wildlife Travelogue At Sandollar May 11

"The Murder of Silence," an outstanding travelogue on Texas produced by the State Parks and Wildlife Department, will be shown in the Colony Room at the Sandollar Restaurant at 7:30 p.m., Wednesday, May 11. There will be no charge to attend.

The presentation achieves unusual depth and realism through the use of three slide projectors and screens rather than motion picture film. Music sound effects and narration accompany the showing of the color slides.

Don't Start Trash Fires

Assistant Fire Marshall Elva Mullinax warns local residents that in their spring house, garage and yard cleaning operations, they should be careful to do nothing that might start a fire.

"It is against the law to burn trash within the city limits without a permit from the fire marshal," Mullinax said. "You must use some means other than fire to get rid of your trash."

ACHS PTA TO MEET MAY 9

The Aransas County Junior and Senior High School PTA will meet Monday night in the cafeteria at 7:30 p.m. Guest speaker will be Chief of Police Bob Hewes.

PAWS AND TAWS HOBO PARTY

The Hobos took over at the Paws and Taws Square Dance Club last Friday night and a fine evening of good fellowship was enjoyed by more than 100 local square dancers.

This was the graduating party for the class of new square dancers just completing their three months of basic instruction under Club Caller Blackie Hardy, making them eligible for club membership. Ten couples received diplomas, which will add 2 1/2 squares of new dancers to the Club.

Nancy and Jimmy Jones and Belle and Jimmy Sparks were in charge of entertainment for the evening. With the variety of hobo costumes in evidence, the judges had a difficult time in selecting most representative hobos, but after much deliberation, Vernon and Patsy Miculka were judged "best dressed" and crowned King and Queen of the Hobos.

A covered dish supper was provided by club members in honor of the graduating class.

Krueger Uses State Tax Money To Hire Publicity Agent

... Violates State Law

The Real Story Behind The "Water Committee"

Senator Culp Krueger is hoping voters will forget he supported the big-city bank bill to raise interest rates to a whopping 17.5 per cent. He is also hoping voters will forget he staged a ruinous filibuster against the important economy commission bill aimed at saving taxpayers $8,000,000.00 per year.

But, Mr. Krueger, your ballyhoo "water study" committee isn't going to swing attention away from this bad record, and why should it? The biggest news your committee has made came when you decided to spend state money on a publicity agent to write press releases and speeches for you. And it is no coincidence that the publicity agent's family owns a chain of newspapers in the district, which are naturally pushing Krueger in this campaign. Is that what you think state money is for, Mr. Krueger? Is it to buy press agents who control a string of newspapers in your senatorial district?

Publicist Hired In Spite of Ban

By ERNEST STROMBERGER
Austin Bureau

AUSTIN — An advertising agent assisting Sen. Culp Krueger's water pollution study committee has been paid $2,400 despite a ban on use of state funds for a "public relations firm or agent." The Times Herald has learned.

Records in the state comptroller's office show Joe Malec has been paid $600 monthly since Oct. 1 from Senate operating funds. Malec's firm is listed in the telephone directory as an advertising agency.

The 1965 appropriations bill contains a provision that "none of the monies appropriated under this act shall be used by any agency of the state government for maintaining any publicity office or department, or for the employment of any person who has the title or duties of a public relations agent, publicity agent, or press agent, or for paying any public relations firm or agent."

Krueger, in Austin to attend to committee business Monday, said Malec has helped the legislator layman committee organize and digest the large amount of information it has received.

The El Campo senator said he considered a public relations agent most logical person to help the committee, and said he was hired with the knowledge of all committee members and Lt. Gov. Preston Battle and House Speaker Ben Barnes.

Asked about the matter, Barnes said he was aware of Malec's employment and would discuss the matter with the three House members on the committee.

"I've not considered him as a public relations man for the committee," Smith said when contacted at his home in Lubbock.

"I considered him an employee to work with Culp in helping the committee with research," Smith said. "I haven't checked into the personnel on all the interim committees — once they are created, I assume they will determine their policies."

Krueger said Malec had attended the various committee hearings in Austin, Houston, San Antonio and Dallas, had written some press releases in advance of the meetings and had helped him write some speeches on water pollution.

Krueger said he feels Malec's work with the committee is almost complete and that he will be released soon. The committee plans to hold hearings in West Texas before completing its report to the 1967 legislature, Krueger said.

3-MONTH SAVINGS BOND SALES TOTAL $13,623

Savings Bond sales for the first three months of 1966 in Aransas county totaled $13,623. Of this amount $7885 were purchased during March according to a report released by Fred Bracht, chairman of the Aransas County savings Bonds committee.

Sales in Texas for the first quarter of 1966 amounted to $38,640,779 which represents 26 per cent of the state's goal of $147.5 million.

"We are delighted to report that Series E and H Bond sales during the month of March were 12.5 per cent greater than March 1965. This fine sales increase can be contributed to the fact that the interest rate on Savings Bonds was raised recently to 4.15 per cent, compounded semi-annually when held to maturity. Also, more American citizens are putting part of their savings in Savings Bonds to help support our fighting men in Vietnam," Chairman Bracht pointed out.

Medicare Enrollment Deadline Extension Granted Until May 31

Older people in this area who did not sign up for the voluntary doctor bill insurance under medicare before the close of the first enrollment period on March 31, have been given a little more time, the Social Security District Manager announced.

In legislation signed by President Johnson, Congress has extended until May 31 the deadline for enrollment by persons 65 or over.

Nearly 90 per cent of the Nation's elderly were enrolled for the doctor bill insurance when social security offices closed at midnight on March 31. Only 5 per cent had turned down the protection which supplements the basic hospital insurance provided persons 65 and over.

Another 5 per cent had not made up their minds either way, or else were not aware of the deadline and the need to sign up for the supplementary protection.

Older people who have not yet applied for their medicare benefits should get in touch with the nearest social security office now. Some may find an added bonus.

About 370,000 people 72 or older who may never have worked under social security at all were made eligible for monthly social security benefits of $35 for a single person and $52.50 for a couple under a change in the law enacted last month. The new payments will begin with the month of October 1966.

'Bankers' bill' of 1965 is issue in solon races

By Bo Byers

Chief, Chronicle Austin Bureau
AUSTIN—One of the hot issues in Texas legislative races is whether a senator or representative voted for or against the "Bankers' bill" in the 1965 session.

Gov. John Connally vetoed Senate bill 59 on June 19, 1965, nearly three weeks after the legislature had adjourned.

His veto pointed out that the bill would have legalized a much higher rate of interest than the current legal limit of 10 percent on loans by banks and savings and loan companies.

A number of persons advised Connally prior to his decision that there would be political repercussions if he signed the bill into law. They said this might mean the defeat of legislators who are among his strongest supporters.

Texas bankers put on strong pressure to get the governor to sign the bill or at least let it become law without his signature.

The Texas state AFL-CIO denounced S.B. 59 as a measure that would legalize usury.

After careful consideration, Connally found it advisable to veto. "No evidence was presented to the legislature to justify these specific rates, either on the basis of reasonableness or need," Connally said in his veto.

There is disagreement as to exactly how high the interest rate could have gone under terms of the bill, which would have allowed a $9 per $100 add-on charge on consumer finance installment loans.

Connally's veto message said the "effective interest rates" authorized by the bill would have ranged from 13.6 to 16.2 percent.

The Texas Bankers Association, the main lobbying group for the bill, put out a 23-page booklet explaining proposed changes in the Texas banking laws.

The booklet said the $9 maximum charge "would generate a mathematical simple interest of 17.47 percent per annum."

The banking association also stated that such an interest rate would be 2 percent per annum less than that permitted by banks by the present statute.

The bankers conceded that they are relying on a statutory lending plan "that might be declared unconstitutional if tested in the courts."

One of their main arguments for the bill was that the 1963 Legislature had legalized up to 320 percent interest for Texas finance companies on loans up to $1500 so banks should be given the green light for 16 or 17 percent interest.

Connally apparently indicated his opinion on legality of the law under which banks now receive more than 10 percent effective annual interest when he referred to a current "legal limit of 10 percent" on consumer installment loans.

Aside from the high rate of interest proposed by the bill, there was provision for what Connally termed "open-end authority for a lender to require whatever insurance he may desire in connection with a loan."

The net result, he said, would be to increase the total cost of the loan to the borrower.

Connally's veto, however, did not eliminate the use of S.B. 59 as an election issue this year.

Whether it is an issue that will be decisive in its influence on the outcome of a legislative race is doubtful, but the fact that it has been made an issue suggests that the fight will be renewed in the 1967 session.

sea, there are shelters for family picnics.

Near the beach is a miniature golf course, and boat stalls are plentiful in Rockport's Yacht Basin and the harbor at Fulton, with numerous launching ramps at these places along the shores of Little Bay and at the Cove furnish facilities for outboard enthusiasts.

A number of "big party" boats and many smaller ones are available for fishermen who do not have their own boats, and one of the finest water ski areas in Texas consists of the sheltered channels of Little Bay.

The defendants were Mr. and Mrs. Curly Hunter who live on Highway 35 about a mile south of Rockport. The dog was in their possession and they said her name was Lucky Lady.

After four days in court during which tempers often flared when the opposing attorneys objected to this and that, only to be followed by chuckles from the lawyers, judge, jury and audience when something funny happened, the case was given to the jury at 6:50 p.m. Monday.

One hour and five minutes later the jury of six returned their verdict. They found in favor of the defendants, and thus the Hunters get to keep the poodle.

There were interesting aspects about this case.

The Hunters said they paid $50 for the dog, purchasing her from a junk dealer. A reporter asked Mrs. Hunter, during a recess in the case, if the report was correct that her lawyer was to receive a "pretty healthy" fee.

"Yes," she replied, "our lawyer, John J. Pichinson of Corpus Christi, will receive approximately $2000."

Another unusual incident had to do with whether or not the dog could swim. During testimony some questions had been raised about this.

Pichinson offered to take the dog and jury to a body of water and demonstrate that the poodle could swim. The offer was not taken up.

The jurors were James Furlong, Mrs. Volney Cavitt, Mrs. John Anderson, Mrs. Hugo Auler, I. N. Campbell and Mrs. Merritt Hullett.

Mr. and Mrs. Reddish were represented by Attorney Lola L. Bonner.

The State of Texas is so big, notwithstanding Alaska, that an Appellate Judge needs a local tie-in to have a personal interest in any community. Judge Onion has that in Aransas County as he says:

I always felt rather close to Rockport because my mother grew up there, though she moved away many years ago. My grandfather, James Collins, had a lumber yard there at one time and was a retired Baptist minister that took over the ministry of the First Baptist Church there when they lost theirs, and stayed there for many, many years. There are still a few of the Rockport people who still remember my family, Mrs. Bertha Harper on North Live Oak Street is one of those.

Shackling the Accused

His wrist imprisoned in handcuffs, the accused man sat awkwardly at the counsel table. He remained shackled while the witnesses gave their testimony, while the lawyers gave their arguments, and while jurors gave their verdict:

"Guilty." But when the defendant's lawyer appealed to a higher court, the guilty verdict was thrown out. The court held that unless there is a special need for it, to shackle a defendant in the courtroom is to deny him justice.

For it is a cornerstone of our legal system that every man must be presumed innocent until proven guilty. And the presumption of innocence may well fade at the sight of handcuffs, silently implying to the jury that "this man is evil."

So repugnant is the use of shackles in court that they are improper not only for the defendant himself but also for his witnesses. Even if a witness is brought straight from jail, he ordinarily must appear unfettered—so the jury will give a fair hearing to his testimony.

Still, shackling of an accused man may occasionally be justified by unusual circumstances in a particular case.

For example: Handcuffing of two defendants was held proper after one of them had assaulted several members of the jury and the other had heaved the witness stand chair at the prosecutor.

In a murder trial, there was good reason to fear that members of the defendant's cut-throat gang were planning to invade the courtroom and snatch him from custody. Here too, handcuffs were allowed.

As a rule the matter is left to the discretion of the trial judge. But his discretion must not be abused. In another murder case, the judge permitted the defendant to be tried while wearing prison clothing, with "County Jail" printed in large letters across the back.

Although the man was found guilty, a higher court decided that the label on his back was as wrong as handcuffs on his wrists. Granting a new trial, the court said:

"The presumption of innocence requires the garb of innocence."

SINTON BAND VISITS SEA GUN

The Sinton High School Band held its spring trip at Sea Gun last Friday.

Sam Guthridge, band director, introduced Tom Heffernan, biologist for Parks & Wildlife Department, and Bill Williams, director of Goose Island State Park.

Heffernan presented an interesting slide program on the area after which Williams entertained the group with a selection of folk music, accompanying himself on the guitar.

Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare John W. Gardner was in the news recently when he assured Southern political and educational leaders that his department was not trying to impose a formula of "instantaneous desegregation" of every teaching staff. The move was seen as an attempt to head off a full-scale revolt by Southern school districts. Part of the new opposition in the South is said to stem from a belief that the Office of Education is about to press for more integration in the South than exists in other regions.

TELL THE TRUTH—Bill Patman or get out of the race

Bill- You and I were there together—

We BOTH know that:

STRIKE ONE

Senate Bill 59 purpose was — LOWER — not higher — interest rates on installment loans by 2%. Absolutely NO VOTE in last session to raise ANY interest rate to 17½%. State Constitution limit is 10%.—Texas Finance Commission.

STRIKE TWO

Your so-called "Little Hoover" bill FAILED because it would have created ANOTHER GOVERNMENT AGENCY — more cost — and would have duplicated a program set up in 1963 with then acting Lt. Governor Culp Krueger saving Texans $5 million in 1963-1964; $7½ million in 1965; est. $9 million in 1966.—LEGISLATIVE BUDGET BOARD.

STRIKE THREE

TRUTH REVEALED - -

1. Senator Krueger's anti-pollution study has Texas leading the nation in this fight.
2. Senator Krueger selected in 1965 "Water Conservationist of the Year" by sportsmen's clubs of Texas, National Wildlife Federation, and Sears-Roebuck Foundation.

This and That
JOHN KINSEY

Every so often you'll be driving around Rockport, admiring attractive homes with well kept yards, the grass mowed and flowers adding to the beauty, when . . .

BAM, you see a house with a yard that looks like a junk yard.

One, two or maybe three ancient cars, rusted out, tires either flat or missing, give the place an abandoned look, and completely spoil the appearance of that particular block.

I'm sure there is no law against this, but couldn't something be done?

Couldn't the Chamber of Commerce or the new Junior Chamber of Commerce (Jaycees) form a beautification committee or a clean-up group to look into this matter?

What about calling on the owners or renters or homes whose yards are filled with junk cars and all sorts of odds and ends?

Isn't it possible that if some strong, hard working guys called on these folks and offered to remove the junk, that maybe the people would say, "Sure, go ahead."

How about it, Jaycees, you did a fine job on cleaning up vacant lots. Want to tackle this new job and combine diplomacy with a lot of work?

The folks next door to us are real experts in bird feeding. They fixed up a special contraption that even makes it possible for the birds to enjoy their seeds and stuff under cover in case it's raining.

My wife and I are trying to woo some of these birds away from our neighbor. We want to watch the birds and have them wake us up with their pretty songs.

So far, we aren't doing too well.

When my Dad was here, he bought a cylindrical feeder and tied it to a fence. Mostly sparrows patronize this bird "cafe."

Being an extremely handy person, I figured out something very special—a paper plate placed on the ground, with a stone holding the plate in place. Then I poured sunflower seeds around the stone.

More sparrows. The last few days, however, we have attracted several cardinals, a dove, a little bunny rabbit, lots of sparrows, and something I think was a gopher.

We'll show those folks next door.

Mrs. Elbert Mundine returned last Thursday after three weeks visit with Chief R. D. Torres, Mrs. Torres and children in Norfolk, Va.

Mrs. Mundine made the trip to see her new adopted grandson, Christopher Elbert. She also went to Washington and toured the White House, Capitol, and visited the grave of President Kennedy.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to take this time to express my deepest appreciation to my many friends, neighbors, the Masonic Lodge, the Eastern Star, the Rebekah Lodge, Dr. L. G. Wood and the Reverend Ben Bohmfalk for the wonderful way they came to me in my time of need. And for the wonderful words of consolation that means so much at a time like this. May God bless each and every one of you.

CRANE HAVEN RICH IN GAME FOR STOCKING

Austwell — Two big alligators slid lazily back into the swamp exposing only their bulging eyes as Bob Shields, manager of the Aransas National Wildlife Refuge, stopped his Jeep bearing a Texas Parks and Wildlife Department observer.

If the big reptiles' suspicions were converted into a general alarm along the Animal Kingdom grapevine the impact was negative because Shields' conducted tour was before a large and mixed audience, mostly unafraid.

The kaleidoscopic birdlife along the marshes had earlier been chronicled in water explorations well into the favorite natural feeding areas of the Whooping Cranes, high priority patrons of the 47,261 acres comprising most of Blackjack Peninsula.

Wild turkey, white tailed deer, javelina and Russian boar were seen in quantity, a few noted unhappily by Host Shields. He explained difficulties of holding the javelina herd down to the desired 400 and the problem of trying to exterminate the Russian boar altogether because of its dominant depredation ways.

The deer and turkey don't rate like the noble Whoopers but have a greater practical value from the sportsmen's viewpoint. Thousands of deer have been trapped and transplanted to many Texas areas approved for restocking by Parks and Wildlife Department technicians. Likewise, the great wild turkey flocks have been widely shared.

Not the least of the varied refuge benefits are the results of studies of wildlife diet made jointly by private and public authorities. One finding amazing to the layman, if not beyond, was that grass comprised only 3.6 percent of the deer's diet.

The largest contribution to deer's nourishment, of course, was the mast crop, comprising mostly oak acorns. This predominant percentage was 44.2 percent. Forbs provided 28.8 percent and browse, mostly live oak, 23.4 percent. Fat cattle, carefully controlled in number in order not to crowd wildlife, attested to the natural food left by deer.

So the majestic Whooper part-time tenants have many appreciative land-based comrades on historic Blackjack Peninsula. Perhaps one reason why refuge attendance is greater during the royal cranes absence.

"The Big Lie" Exposed!

Texas Bankers Association Sets the Record Straight About the 17½% Interest Rate Propaganda

A false, misleading and otherwise deceptive political advertisement concerning the scope and effect of Senate Bill 59 is being published in your area. As you may recall, this bill would have amended the Texas Banking Code in several respects, including one provision which redefined permissible rates of interest on certain types of installment loans.

Perhaps this effort is a product of desperation; certainly the allegations are reckless and irresponsible. To set the record straight, should the matter be of interest to your friends or customers, the following is the truth about this measure.

The ad charges that the bill would affect every Texan "who ever tried to make most any kind of loan from a bank." The truth of the matter is that the bill applied only to certain types of installment loans which constitute, as most, only a portion of less than one-fifth of the total loan portfolio of the average Texas bank. The bill would not have changed the rates of interest applied to normal banking transactions, which average considerably less than 10%. It would have allowed banks and savings and loan associations to offer a broader base of service by making available (at lower rates of interest) the same type of installment credit now provided by finance companies, implement dealers, department stores and others.

Nor is it true, as the ad asserts, that the bill "would raise legal interest rates in Texas to 17½ percent." Since 1943, the Texas Banking Code (Art. 342-506, V.C.S.) has authorized Texas banks to charge up to 19.47 percent per annum on installment loans by use of the certificate plan of lending. Recent court decisions have cast doubt upon the constitutionality of this statute, and Senate Bill 59 sought to remove such doubt. The bill would have actually reduced the maximum legal interest on installment loans.

The most distorted statement of all, however, is that the borrower would need "$1900 to repay a $900 loan" if S.B. 59 had become law. The $1900 figure is made up of imaginary insurance charges and other fees (which may be exacted by the finance companies who were the chief opposition to S.B. 59, but not by banks). Contrary to these exaggerated statements, Senate Bill 59 would have made NO changes whatsoever in the amount or kind of insurance which banks could have required in connection with a loan.
