HEREFORD VOTERS PUT OVER BIG BOND ISSUE

HEREFORD, Texas, Feb. 2.—Hereford took a giant step towards progress Tuesday when local taxpayers put over the huge paving bond issue 218 to 40, thus making it possible for over forty blocks in the residence section of Hereford to be paved. The election called for the issuance of $67,000 worth of bonds for paving and the vote was nearly six to one favoring the project.

The water extension issue calling for $7,500 worth of bonds to be issued was also voted upon and carried by a greater majority than the paving feature. Two hundred and twenty-nine votes for the water extension and thirty opposed it.

A number of ladies worked all day Tuesday trying to get people out to the polls. Predictions were that both issues would carry by a large majority and many of those favoring the projects failed to go to vote.

Avan C. Thompson, Ricketts D. F. Ashbrook and John Mosley, with A. L. Biggs as clerk, were in charge of the election.

CONGRESSMAN AND WIFE ASK DIVORCE, BUT JUDGE DECLARES NEITHER PARTY ENTITLED TO DECREE; TO TRY AGAIN

DETROIT, Mich., Feb. 2.—Congressman Frank D. Scott, of Alpena, Mich., was sued for divorce on grounds of desertion here Tuesday by his wife, Mrs. Edna James Scott.

Divorce Is Denied.

Both parties to the present suit were denied a divorce at Alpena, Mich., last September following a sensational trial in which Mrs. Scott charged "congressional junketing" in connection with a trip of a house committee to Panama. Scott countered by alleging intimacies with other men on the part of his wife. Judge Frank D. Emerick held neither party was entitled to a decree.

Walter D. Beck, counsel for Mrs. Scott, said that the divorce proceedings were now under way in Washington, attending sessions of congress.

If It's Pajamas Rudolph Has Them

By United News
KANSAS CITY, Mo., Feb. 2.—After disillusioning flappers and incurring the enmity of Kansas City reporters, Rudolph Valentino again is speeding westward where rumor has it, he is to marry Pola Negri.

The sheik still was pursuing an apparently elusive Morpheus when reporters knocked at his state room door as his train stopped here Tuesday. With his thin hair standing straight on end and a weary, sullen look in his eyes, he certainly was nothing for the girls to write home about. His pajamas, however, were truly Valentino. They looked like a conventionalized design of an explosion of a paint factory at sunset.

Texas Republicans Say Commissioners Dallas Are Unfair

By United News
DALLAS, Texas, Feb. 2.—Protesting the action of the Dallas commissioners in issuing ballot boxes to the Democratic party and ignoring their request for ballot boxes the Republican state headquarters issued a statement here today outlining their protest.

The Republicans characterized the action of the commissioners as hasty and "unfair," inasmuch as they did not give the Republicans a chance to be heard on their request. The statement said that this action constituted sharply with action in Galveston and other counties where additional boxes were ordered for use in the Republican primary without question.

AUSTIN, Texas, Feb. 2.—Campaign plans for 1926 are believed to have been discussed at a conference here today between Governor Miriam A. Ferguson, her husband, James E. Ferguson, and Judge Arthur R. Eidson, chairman of the state democratic executive committee.

No announcement followed the conference, however, as to whether Mrs. Ferguson or Mr. Ferguson would be a candidate for the office.

DRENCHING RAINS ARE DRIVEN FAR INTO THE INTERIOR

By United News
SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 2.—Squalls of hurricane force are sweeping the Pacific coast, whipping the seas into fury and driving drenching rains far into the interior.

Fourteen men were fighting off death aboard the water-logged schooner Ecola Tuesday as rescue ships hovered about the floundering craft, unable to approach closer because of towering waves.

Steamer in Distress

The Ecola, a five masted lumber carrier which left the Columbia river a week ago for Shanghai, was commanded by Captain Reiner Peterson. She was in distress soon after her departure and the steamer Los Alamos started to tow her to this port. The Los Alamos lost the Ecola in Monday night's heavy weather but radioed Tuesday that she was again standing by, that Peterson wanted to abandon his ship but that the heavy seas prevented the launching of small boats. The steamer Noya which put out from Fort Bragg, also was in the vicinity.

An eighty mile gale was reported from Point Reyes north of here. The storm extended from British Columbia to Mexico. Wire communications with several inland points in this section were disrupted.

The lightship San Francisco, anchored outside the Golden Gate, was torn from her moorings while coastwise ships were bucking tremendous seas in their effort to reach port. Vessels not already at sea remained in harbor. From her position 500 miles at sea the Matson liner Wilhelm radiated that she was in the center of a sixty mile gale.

Considerable damage to beach property was reported from California resorts.

Rain fell in torrents in the bay region and inland points of central California, with heavy snows falling on a reserve water supply, in the Sierra Nevada mountains throughout the state.

The rain fall to benefit them enormously.

MOTHER AND YOUNG DAUGHTER SENT TO PRISON

By United News
SIOUX FALLS, S. D., Feb. 2.—Mrs. Katherine Rogers, 40, and her daughter, Zora, 19, who were found guilty last week of the daylight robbery of the First State Bank of Renner, S. D., today were sentenced by Judge Flegler to serve three years each in the state penitentiary here.

Mrs. Rogers and Zora accepted the sentences meekly and have now been assigned to cells in the state penitentiary here.

Eight sentences were recommended by the jury, which found them guilty, defense witnesses having testified that Mrs. Rogers and her daughter were trying to operate a run down farm and care for an invalid husband and father, without help.

At a loss to know what to do when debts began coming due, the two women walked into the little town of Renner, held up the cashier of the State Bank during the noon day lull and went back to their farm with $400, much of it in small change.

When confronted by the cashier they admitted their crime, but stood firm because their attorney believed the fact that they were nearly destitute might result in their acquittal.

VERDICT OF "NOT GUILTY" INSTRUCTION OF COURT IN WHITFILL LIQUOR CASE—EVIDENCE DIDN'T WARRANT CONVICTION

The State of Texas yesterday failed to sustain its charges against J. W. (Shorty) Whitfill, incident to his recent indictment reciting violation of the prohibition laws by the sale of intoxicating liquor.

When the case was called in the 72nd Judicial District Court yesterday morning it was learned that no witnesses had been subpoenaed, and after the jury had been selected and both sides had announced ready for trial it was necessary to recess court until afternoon while a subpoenae was ordered by District Attorney Witcher to be issued for Ransom King, Tech college student.

Mystery Women Seek Fortune of Deceased Senator, W. A. Clark

By United News
BUTTE, Mont., Feb. 2.—Mystery continued to cloud the appearance of a trio of Kansas City, Mo., women who claim to be daughters of the late Senator William A. Clark, copper king.

Details of the claim of relationship were set forth in the petition filed in court here seeking a share in the enormous Clark estate.

The petition by Alma Clark Hines, Effie Clark McWilliams and Addie L. Clark Miller, the claimants were filed by John A. Shelton, Butte, yesterday and Edward Hyde, Kansas City, Mo.

Meanwhile Montanans remained baffled by the strange developments in administering the estate of their former senator. No one here, old timers of the early day in the copper fields, can recall any relationships such as the three Kansas City women describe.

SWIFT JUSTICE TO END CAREER BLACK KILLER

JURY REACHED VERDICT WITHOUT LEAVING COURT ROOM

LEXINGTON, Ky., Feb. 2.—The Queen City of the Blue Grass was again being trusted to behave itself Tuesday night as a thousand state militiamen were gradually withdrawn from participation in one of the most bizarre and impressive military demonstrations Kentucky has ever seen.

Kentucky had shown her sister states with race problems that the life of a negro murderer was worth $10,000 of the state's funds and more, when it became threatened with extinction by other than the due process of law and order.

Edward Harris, the negro who had killed a man and his two children and assaulted the mother, had been tried in 18 minutes, sentenced to hang publicly here March 5 and had been taken back to the state prison at Frankfort where he exclaimed to the warden:

"I sure is glad to get back." The restricted area about the court house here was guarded by machine guns and tanks; since midnight no one had been allowed by the troopers to enter the city; business houses and banks were closed as part of Kentucky's assurance that there would be no violence or disorder.

A record for speedy conviction was set with the sentence of Harris for the attack on Mrs. Clarence Bryant. He was not tried on charges of murdering her husband and children; it wasn't necessary. Harris pleaded guilty and the jury voted its verdict without leaving the room. Judge R. C. Stoll asked Harris if he had anything to say and the negro shook his head, whereupon the court sentenced him to hang publicly—the punishment specified in this state for the crime committed by Harris.

The negro was rushed into the automobile in which he had come, guarded by a large squad of deputies. The automobile was guarded by cars with additional guards as it returned to Frankfort.

VOISTEAD TO END SALE RUBBING ALCOHOL

By United News
ST. PAUL, Minn., Feb. 2.—A legal war on the "body rub" alcohol industry which, if successful, would virtually wipe out the sale and manufacture of that commodity in the United States, has been launched here by Andrew J. Voistead, "father" of the prohibition law.

Voistead, who is now serving as legal adviser of the Northwest Prohibition Enforcement Division, opened his legal attack with a "surprise contention" before Judge John B. Sanborn, in federal court in a hearing to determine the legality of seizures of "body rub" alcohol by federal agents.

If the court upholds Voistead's contention, it would mean the virtual outlawing of the entire body rub alcohol industry, involving millions of dollars invested capital, according to Lafayette French, United States district attorney, who is conducting the case for the government.

JOINT CONFERENCE OF OPERATORS AND MINERS HAS ADJOURNED SINE DIE; IS NOT STRIKE BUT LOCKOUT, SAYS LEWIS

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 2.—The latest attempt to end the strike of 158,000 anthracite miners, which has lasted since September 1 and caused the loss of hundreds of thousands of dollars to workers and owners, failed Tuesday night when the joint conference of miners and operators here adjourned sine die.

The conference, which broke up Tuesday was the third and ended with the two factions probably further apart than at any time since last summer, when negotiations started. As in former parleys the demand of the operators for arbitration and the miners opposition to it was the rock on which the latest peace plan failed.

President John L. Lewis, of the United Mine Workers, issued a statement after adjournment in which he said that the anthracite

DEMOCRATS AND NEWS-PAPER WRITER COMMENT ON CHANGE

BY RAYMOND CLAPPER
United News Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—The 1926 political season has opened with President Coolidge taking a vigorous offensive, somewhat in contrast to his usual tactics of silence.

The White House spokesman, a sandy haired little man from Vermont who has been closely associated with President Coolidge for years gave warning to the country through the newspapermen at the Tuesday press conference that the political season has arrived and that speeches made in congress and elsewhere from now on should be discounted.

Holds to Old Rule.

Democratic senators were incensed and accused the president of using his great power to mislead the country and cast suspicion on the motives of any who criticize the administration. An incipient newspaper revolt occurred at the White House over the incident. The president of the White House Correspondents' Association requested Everett Sanders, secretary to the president, to obtain suspension of the White House rule that the president may not be quoted at the press conferences.

The correspondents said it was unfair to expect them to report a political speech such as that made in the press conference and not be permitted to attribute it to the president.

This request was carried to the president, who refused to suspend the rule. Then the correspondents said it was unfair to expect them to report a political speech such as that made in the press conference and not be permitted to attribute it to the president.

Announcement of Engagement of Miss Robertson and Mr. Kimbro Made At Elaborate Reception Tuesday Afternoon

The approaching marriage of Miss Muff Robertson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Robertson, of the V Ranch near Slaton, and Mr. Kenneth Kimbro, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Kimbro, was announced Monday afternoon at a most charming and elaborate reception held in the home of Mrs. J. E. Vickers, with Mrs. Vickers, Mrs. John Jarrott, and Mrs. M. D. Abernathy, as hostesses. On entering the guests were met by Mrs. Vickers and introduced to Mrs. Robertson and Miss Robertson who stood at the head of the receiving line composed of the following: Miss Ruth Slaton, Mrs. Dick Jarrott, of Post; Miss Evelyn Posey, Mrs. John Herd, of Post; Mrs. Briggs Robertson, of Slaton; Miss Mary Alice Johnson, Mrs. H. T. Kimbro, and Mrs. John Jarrott. Flowers in pastel colorings were effectively used in decoration in the large living room and dining room. Shaded lights, and the soft glow of pink tapers gave a fairy-like atmosphere which formed a perfect setting for the petite figure of the bride-elect. Miss Robertson wore an adorably developed frock of rose-hued chiffon taffet with a tight little bodice, cut rather low, and a bouffant skirt, lengthened by a wide band of soft maline.

The costumes of the other members of the receiving line and the party were equally smart and becoming. A spirit of gaiety and happiness prevailed and the honoree seemed to be having quite as delightful a time as heart could wish.

Tea and coffee were served from the dining table which was covered with a banquet cloth of light lace over soft pink. Sweet peas and tuberose were held in gonzola-like flower bowls, and the candle holders with dainty pink lighted tapers completed the table appointments. The refreshments consisted of heart shaped sandwiches, cake, salted almonds in pastel colored nut cases, coffee and tea with cream. Plate favors were little gold Cinderella slippers tied in multi-colored maline. The secret of the engagement was announced in a tiny roll of white paper in each slipper, with the names "Muff Robertson and Kenneth Kimbro."

Miss Della Wilkinson, Mrs. A. B. Conley, Mrs. E. G. Murray, Mrs. A. V. Weaver, Mrs. E. E. Wheelock, Frank Winn, Mrs. Elmer Conley, Mrs. C. J. Leland, Mrs. Roscoe Wilson, and Mrs. Sam Denman, helped in dispensing the hospitality of the dining room.

The guests registered before leaving, Mrs. Joe Flaig, and Miss Frances Hoffman presiding over the beautifully decorated brides box.

Mrs. Flaig and Miss Hoffman furnished delightful music, in addition to orchestra music by the college orchestra.

About two hundred guests were received, a large number from Post and Slaton.

Miss Robertson's marriage is to take place Tuesday evening the twenty-third of February, at the First Methodist church, Lubbock, Dr. E. E. White reading the ceremony. She has chosen as her maid of honor, Miss Ruth Slaton who is a schoolmate of hers in Miss Hockaday's school, Dallas. Mrs. John T. Herd, of Post, is to be Matron of honor, and Evelyn Posey, Mary Alice Johnson, and Helen McDavie, of Abilene, will be the bridesmaids.

Mr. Ross McWhorter will be best man, and the ushers are the bride's brothers, Wade and Sug Robertson, and Frank Jones, and Louis Price.

The bride couple will be attended by a miniature bride and groom, little Miss Harriet Gates, of Austin, Mr. Kimbro's niece, and Master R. J. Murray, Jr.

Miss Robertson spent three years in a convent in Fort Worth, and two in Miss Hockaday's school in Dallas, where she specialized in music and dancing. She is an accomplished and attractive girl.

Many parties and other social affairs are planned in her honor for the next three weeks in Lubbock, Post and Slaton.

Incidentally, Miss Robertson is the grand-daughter of Mr. A. B. Robertson, one of the best known figures of early plains history.

Miss Weeks Hostess To Bridge Club Monday Evening

Miss Margaret Weeks delightfully entertained the evening bridge club which has been formed among members of the college faculty Monday evening at her home on Broadway. Dr. Plummer won high score, and received a deck of cards as prize.

D. Galbraith, Mr. F. L. Dahlberg, Dr. Leroy T. Patton, and Dr. A. L. Plummer.

A Simple Suit for Junior

As a rule the styles for grownups leave their impress upon the modes for youngsters—both male and female, but this suit for a small boy has a distinction and simplicity all its own.

Classic little suits are made for the men of the younger set and they are made of linen, cotton rep, rajah, flannel and various other smart materials. This model has straight trousers and a blouse that hangs straight to the hips.

The trimming consists of a vest of contrasting color, but is the same material, a collar and cuffs to match the vest. If preferred, the lower edges of the trousers may be gathered to a straight band and instead of turn-back cuffs, the sleeves may be finished with narrow bands.

The diagram shows how the vest is made.

Boys' Suit No. 191, cut in sizes 2 to 6 years, will be mailed, postpaid, upon receipt of 15 cents. Be sure to give correct number and size of pattern desired when ordering. Write name and address plainly. Send orders to Pattern Editor, this newspaper.

"YW" and "YM" to Meet Jointly.
A joint meeting of the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. will be held Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock in room 302 of the Administration building. This is the first joint meeting to be held by the organizations since the opening of school and a good program is scheduled. All students of the college are invited to attend. A banquet is planned for Monday night at the Cafeteria for the state speakers who will be here.

Mrs. Doak to Entertain Club Presidents.
Mrs. Doak, dean of women, has invited all the club presidents and chairmen of organizations to meet in a supper at the college cafeteria Thursday evening at 6 o'clock. All presidents are requested to go to her office and sign if they will be present.

Plans and programs for the next All-College Party will be the purpose of the meeting. Quite a bit of interest was shown in the last party, and it is hoped that the next one will be better than ever.

Dr. Horn to Attend Inauguration of Oklahoma University President.
President Horn left last night for Fort Worth, where he will attend the meeting of the board of regents of the college. From there he will go to Oklahoma City, where he will attend the inauguration of W. B. Bizzell as president of Oklahoma university. Dr. Bizzell and President Horn are both great educators and have been associated with the schools of Texas for a number of years. Dr. Bizzell left A. & M. College last year to accept the position of presidency of Oklahoma University.

Percy Grainger to Appear in Concert Friday Night.
Percy Grainger, the noted Australian pianist and composer, will appear in a concert at the Baptist Church Friday night. All students who hold Artists' Course tickets are requested to call at the business manager's office and exchange them for reserve seats. No extra charge will be made, but the students will not be admitted on their Artists' Course tickets.

Professor Waggoner Calls for Orchestra Players.

At the initial meeting of the College Orchestra, it was decided to open the organization to people of the town who could make the grade. A real good concert orchestra is the goal. Professor Waggoner announced last week that the orchestra needed several instruments and that all town people are eligible for the organization. Two flutes, a clarinet, double bass or cello is needed. There is at present thirteen violins and a number of brass and wind instruments represented. If these other instruments are secured a fairly good concert or symphony orchestra can be formed.

At the last meeting the following officers were elected: President, Officer, and secretary, Lucille Davis. Rehearsals are held every Wednesday night at 7:30 in room 302. A short rehearsal will be held tonight after the basketball game, and any town people who are interested are invited to attend.

College Quartet Entertains at Convocation.
Yesterday at the regular student convocation held in the Stock Building Pavilion, the College quartet made its first appearance before the entire student body. They sang at the first All-College Party Saturday night but many of the students did not attend. The quartet is composed of students of the Tech, the personals: H. P. Cooper, 1st bass, Horace G. Morre, 2nd bass, Vernon Eagan, 1st tenor and Etheridge Eagan, 2nd tenor. The boys gave several selections to the students and received many encores. Every one being thoroughly enjoyed by the students. The Tech Boosting Song seemed to be the favorite. The quartet plans to make concert tours to neighboring towns during the spring term. They will work on a collection of new songs and present them to the students in the near future.

Most of the time of the convocation was spent in singing songs from the new college song book compiled by Prof. Waggoner. Dean Gordon made several important announcements. The Registrar gave notice that he wants the students to turn their record books back to his office sometime during the week. It is important that they do this or a dollar fee will be charged for a new one. A special convocation will be called February 8, when speakers of the "Y" will be here to address the organization and the students.

Matadors Meet Sul Ross Lobos Tonight

Another hard game is scheduled for the Tech quintet tonight when they meet the Lobos of Sul Ross Teachers college of Alpine, Texas. The Lobos have a good combination and have defeated several strong teams this season. Texas University was one of the victims of the Lobos. They are coached by an old West Texas Teachers man and the fans will see practically the same system as the Teachers used Saturday night.

Higg has several sick men on the list and will run an entirely new team on the floor tonight. He has been working the past few days on developing teamwork and working up the passing feature of the game in which the Matadors have been slow. The game will start at 8 o'clock tonight and the fans will be assured of a contest packed with thrills.

Pre-Medic Club Meets Today

The Pre-Medic Club meeting was postponed from yesterday afternoon on account of the faculty meeting. The Club will meet this afternoon at 5 o'clock in room 306 of the administration building. Dean J. M. Gordon of the school of liberal arts will make a short address.

Banquet Be Staged By Farmers of The More Feed Contest

The More Feed contest that was launched by the Lubbock County Farm Bureau early in 1925 for the purpose of increasing feed production in this county, will be closed at a meeting of those who participate in the contest and chamber of commerce officials here Monday, County Agent David F. Eaton announced yesterday.

All farmers who entered the contest, together with some 15 of the Boy Club members who were entrants and who made unusual records during the year; members of the boards of directors of the chambers of commerce of Lubbock, Slaton, Idalou and Shallowater; the commercial club of Slaton; and members of the Lubbock County Farm Bureau Cotton Association, will attend the meeting and will be guests at a Dutch lunch to be served.

ed by the Lubbock County Farm Bureau at the Lender building basement at noon.
The farmers and club members who will come to Lubbock on that day to attend the meeting are asked to meet at the office of David F. Eaton, the county agent, at the court house at 11:30 o'clock Monday morning from where they will go to the Lender building to attend the luncheon.

All winners in the contests will be announced at this meeting, and prizes will be awarded. No announcement of winners will be made before this meeting and farmers whose crops made heavy production records will doubtless be eager to see the results that will be announced at this time.

I. J. Thornton, Lubbock county club boy who made the Chicago trip with the Santa Fe club, will be among those attending the meeting here Monday and will make a report of his trip. Young Thornton has done some splendid club work during the past year and his report of his work will be interesting aside from the account he will make of the Chicago trip.

Working Girls Offered Help Of The Law

District Attorney Walter C. Wither is very eager to see that the laws regulating the number of hours women and girls shall work are enforced throughout the 72nd Judicial District, as is evidenced by the following statement made public by him yesterday.

"My attention has been called by the Department of Labor to the fact that many of the employers of female help in this section are violating Art. 5168 of the Revised Civil Statutes, regulating the number of hours per day and week for female employees to work.

"The law as given in Art. 5168, limits the total number of hours for females to engage in work during anyone week to 54 and no more than 9 hours in any one calendar day. This is a just and righteous law. It was made to protect the poor girls and women who must make their own living by daily toil, and I hope that every employer in this district will see to it that no female employee is permitted to work longer than the number of hours indicated by the statute. If there are any who violate this law and persist in it, prosecution will follow.

"It is bad enough that girls have to work at all in sweat shops much less to be compelled to work over time, and particularly those who have dependent children.

"Let us hope that this condition if it exists, will be eliminated at once."

Drill Contests To Be Staged By Local Cadets

A series of drill contests between members of the military organizations of the Tech college and the Lubbock high school will be conducted by Lt. Killin of the college on the 15th or 19th of this month. Prizes amounting to about $25 will be awarded by Mr. Killin, who has stated that businessmen or others wishing to contribute to the fund will have an opportunity to do so.

Those wishing to give to the prize fund may call on Mr. Killin at the college.

Cope Announces For Commissioner Of Precinct One

M. R. (Mel) Cope, local agent for the Pierce Petroleum Corporation, and who for the past 17 years has been a resident of Lubbock county, yesterday authorized the Lubbock Morning Avalanche to announce his candidacy for the office of Commissioner Precinct One, Lubbock county.

Mr. Cope stated yesterday that he has never before made application for an office in Lubbock county and that he believes he is in a position to know something about what is expected of the holder of the office which he seeks.

Mr. Cope is well known to the people of Lubbock county and especially of those living in Precinct One, and his announcement for that office finds him in readiness to make the campaign, as he believes that before the election he will have interviewed practically all of the voters in that precinct.

Courts Decision Favors Wall In Civil Suit

District Judge Clark M. Mullican yesterday returned a verdict in the case of J. L. Noah vs. Elmo Wall, involving the sale of real estate amounting in value to $10,000.

The court's decision favored the defendant Wall, who was represented in the trial of the case by the law firm of Ratliff & Burks, of Lubbock.

Homer L. Pharr and Richard L. Douglass, attorneys for the plaintiff have given notice that the case will be taken to the court of civil appeals.

FARMERS NOT AGREED

From the reading of a number of farm papers
 and studying the views of various leaders of the several farm groups, it appears that there are wide differences of opinion regarding what Congress might do or ought to do with respect to farm legislation.

News from Washington, describing the various conferences held by Secretary Jardine, reflects this situation, and also makes it plain that the farmers have not yet been able to solidly
 unite upon a program of government aid.

While immense numbers of farmers are affiliated with organizations formed in their interest, such as the American Farm Bureau Federation, the Farmer's Union, the Grange, various cooperative associations and so on, in some cases
 these bodies are working for widely different measures. The natural result is that the administration and members of Congress are some what at sea in trying to formulate measures which may meet the farmers' desires.

Every right minded person really wants to see agriculture share equitably in the national prosperity, but until the farm leaders can get together
 upon a definite program it is not likely that any effective legislation can be passed for their benefit.

In fact, many are of the opinion that so long as the supply of certain farm crops exceeds the demand, nothing that Congress may do will help the situation very much, in spite of what politicians promise.

A BUSINESS NATION

It has long been the fashion for certain writers
 and speakers to criticize the American people for their commercialism—their desire to make money.

While it is true the mere making of money
 is not a very high ambition, it must be remembered that it is through our genius for business
 that we have been able to provide the funds for innumerable things worth while, such as
 are not enjoyed by any other nation in the same degree.

Great sums devoted to educational, religious,
 charitable and artistic purposes have been made possible through successful business pursuits.
 Scientific research, the advancement of health
 measures, better homes, and the comforts and refinements of civilization generally have been due to the ability of our people to acquire money
 and to their willingness to spend it for these things.

Most of the high-brow critics of business obtained their education at colleges and universities
 endowed and made possible by business men.
 Business and money-making are not the end of our national ambition, but the means whereby civilization may be promoted and preserved.

BIG POWER MERGERS

Recent mergers of large power companies
 in the northeastern and southeastern sections of the country have served to bring forth expressions
 of apprehension from certain newspapers and politicians, who profess to see in these combinations
 a threat of monopoly and exploitation of the nation's waterpower resources.

From the standpoint of the public, however, there are several important facts which should be kept in mind.

In the first place, all waterpower developments in recent years have been made under the provisions of the national waterpower act, sponsored by Roosevelt, Pinchot, and other leading conservationists. This act was deemed adequate to protect the interests of the people, so far as providing for a systematic and intelligent use of potential waterpower sites is concerned.

In each state a public service commission,
 elected by the people, has full authority to control
 rates and conditions under which service must be performed.

In order that all the developed hydro-electric power of a given section of the country may be utilized for the benefit of that entire section,
 it is manifestly necessary to have interconnected
 transmission lines, so that a temporary shortage
 in one locality may be relieved by diverting power
 from other parts of the territory. The benefits of such arrangement were amply demonstrated
 last fall, when the mills and factories of the Carolinas and Georgia were able to draw power
 from Alabama to tide them over during a severe drought. Without interconnection this would have been impossible.

With government control over the development of sites and state control over rates, it would appear that the interests of the people are amply protected, while economy of operation undoubtedly results from such cooperation as these mergers contemplate.

One thing is certain: These developments
 are making possible more industrial plants and payrolls, which will in turn provide greater employment for labor and wider markets for the products of the farm.

OIL MEN EMPLOY HUGHES

Charles E. Hughes, former justice of the United States Supreme Court and candidate for President in 1916, has been employed to represent the oil industry in hearings before the Federal Oil Conservation Board.

This board was appointed by President Coolidge in December, 1924, and is composed of members of his cabinet, Secretaries Work, Hoover, Wilbur and Davis. It is not a board of investigation
 in the sense of assuming that there is crookedness in the oil industry. It is, as its name indicates a board appointed to cooperate with oil men in endeavoring to adopt conservation measures, such as better methods of producing, refining and marketing, so as to avoid waste, in case wasteful
 methods are found to exist.

Hearings have been held and many facts
 have been presented to the board by a committee
 of eleven composed of leaders in the oil industry.
 Further hearings will be held in Washington, and at these Mr. Hughes will assist the oil men in presenting the information desired by the government.

The oil industry has welcomed the inquiry
 and is aiding the President's board in getting at the facts, which when made public will, it is believed, offset much of the unfavorable criticism
 of the industry, which has been heard since the Teapot Dome scandal came to light.

While the industry as a whole had no responsibility whatever for the Teapot Dome affair, it being merely a matter concerning certain individuals, that fact is not understood by the people at large.

Because of the high standing of the President's board and Mr. Hughes, it is believed that the conclusions reached will command the confidence of the people and give them a better understanding of this great industry.

CONFEDERATE MEMORIAL WORK RESUMED WITH HUGH HALL FEATURE OF NEW PLANS.

Under the direction of Augustus Lukeman,
 New York sculptor, electric drills are beating a monotonous tat-tat-tat on the sheer side of Stone Mountain, scene of the gigantic memorial to heroes of the Confederacy. Lukeman assumed direction of the carving of the mountain after the dismissal of Gutzon Borglum. Work was suspended for nine months but the carving has been resumed and the hope was expressed by officials that it will be completed in two years. The new sculptor has completed a model of the Memorial Hall, which will be carved out of solid granite at the base of the mountain underneath the central group of Confederate figures and will be dedicated to the women of the secession. Memorial Hall will be an immense semi-circular chamber cut into the mountain, according to Lukeman's plans.
 Across the front of the hall will be a colonnade of six solid granite columns, standing 42 feet high, 7-1/2 feet thick and 13 feet apart, the largest monoliths in the world. Inside the hall, in the center of the floor, will stand a colossal block of granite, carved into the figure of a woman. This figure will be at least 20 feet high, larger than the marble statue of Lincoln in Washington. Around the semi-circular interior wall of the hall will be carved 13 classic columns rising from floor to ceiling. The spaces between them will be dressed down and polished and each panel will be dedicated to a state of the Confederacy. At the foot of each panel will be cut a vault in which will be deposited a duplicate of the Confederate roster of that state. Each panel itself will bear suitable inscriptions. Memorial Hall itself will be approached by two majestic flights of granite stairs,
 the first flight containing 13 steps, each flamed
 for a state of the Confederacy, and the second a flight of 48 steps, each named for a state in the union. The second flight will be flanked on either side by a pier on top of which will rest bronze urns. Incense will be burned in these urns on special occasions. In front of the stairs will spread a plaza, and at each end will be a lagoon, 350 feet long and 150 feet wide, surrounded by a wide esplanade on four sides. At the head of the lagoon will be erected a granite sarcophagus
 in which will be deposited the dust of an unknown Confederate soldier. On top of the tomb will rest the recumbent figure of a Confederate soldier wrapped in a Confederate flag. At the foot of the lagoon will be an imposing entrance,
 consisting of twin columns and at each outside
 corner will be a granite building, one for the custodian and the other for the office of the Stone Mountain Memorial Association. Running across the entire entrance will be a wide boulevard. The steps and terraces surrounding the lagoon and the benches between the formal rows of trees will have a seating capacity of 15,000 persons.

MORE PROHIBITION RUMORS

Press dispatches continue to indicate that the faith of General Andrews, dry czar, in his ability to satisfactorily enforce prohibition is weakening.
 Several months ago it was stated in International News Service dispatches that the administration had decided to make an intensive drive for prohibition enforcement for a year, at the end of which time, in case success had not been attained, it would ask for a modification of the Volstead act.

Now the United Press declares that General
 Andrews will resign unless conditions can be improved. It states that he has given his administration three months in which to get results or get out. These reports are quoted as coming from
 "officials close to Andrews."

As to the actual results obtained since Andrews began his much-herald campaign last fall, opinions differ. But it can not be denied that these results have been disappointing to those who sincerely desire to see prohibition enforced.

Will This Eliza Be Luckier Than the Others

SO THINK WE

We think true friends are always more anxious to get to the side of his friend when in distress than at any other time. This is a sure evidence of friendship.

We think that the world's greatest friend was the world's greatest comforter, and we are sure that most of us might be better and more useful people if we would seek more to comfort
 people than to make them miserable.

We think the best of friends
 will sacrifice for your sake, and there is not much love if there is not a willingness to sacrifice.

We think it is a mighty good indication that old Man Pessi-
 mist has been defeated when we hear the report of new brick business houses being erected in different parts of the city.

We think if the farmers of this section will only map out a diversification and intensification
 program for 1926, when crops
 are short, and the merchant and
 the banker will enjoy a more regular program of business.

We think the banks that are requiring the farmers to have some sows, some cows and some hens on the farms are doing
 a mighty good turn toward helping them, better than they would have to loan them a large amount of money to plant cotton on every acre of the ground.

We think the Chamber of Commerce, the Retail Merchants Association and every other organization in the city should lend every assistance possible to furnish a ready market for everything that the farmer brings here to sell. This done, and it will soon be noised about that Lubbock is the best market in the Southwest, and farmers will travel
 many miles to come here with their produce.

We think that possibly the
 most colorful romance of recent years is that of Rhineland.

We think now that the government can check up and see how many equine guffaws they got out of the laugh month in January.

We think that possibly the newspaper reporters might get a better story form President Coolidge by taking a course on lip-reading.

We think that is the farmers of Switzerland do not stop their immigration to Canada and the United States it may be that a lot of the former employers of the cheese makers will go singing

 "I miss my Swiss."

We think that expert who sampled 9,000 drinks last year
 and resigned could hardly be blamed for it, if they are like
 some of them we have heard about in Lubbock.

We think the dancing craze
 has certainly tied on to England.
 Even the passenger trains are being equipped for dancing in that country.

IT IS REPORTED

That it is very hard to convict
 a person of crime without you have some witnesses to appear against them.

That the night editor of this paper now has five hundred chickens (feathered) on his string
 and with the duties of telegraph
 editor seven nights in the week
 he is kept rather busy.

That the traffic cops are after the delinquents who are still carrying their 1925 license plates.

That J. E. one of the governments will not enter the race to succeed his wife.

That half a dozen nice brick business houses are now under construction in Lubbock. That does not look much like there is stagnation in this city.

That the lumber dealers of this city are getting more inquires about homes than they have had for several months,
 which seem to indicate that there
 is going to be an opening up of building activities in the residential section of the city very soon.

That large orders for shade
 and fruit trees are being filled
 in this section this year, and that there will be a great many trees
 planted between now and the opening of spring.

That there are some conditions in Lubbock that should be changed in regard to the sanitation. There are some alleys that are not as well kept as they should be, and we believe that we should begin early to clean up, before fly time.

That an effort will be made by the Rotary club to raise quite a sum of money to be loaned
 to worthy boys and girls who want to attend school, and who cannot do so unless they have some assistance. This club is going to push forward in this good cause.

WHO'S WHO

SIR THOMAS LIPTON

A picturesque figure in the sports
 world, Sir Thomas Lipton, the Irish
 yachtsman, is now in his 78th year.
 As a small boy living on the banks of Clyde, near Glasgow, he learned
 to sail and
 heard of the races
 for the American Cup. He determined to contend
 for the cup some day in an Irish
 built yacht which would name the
 "Shamrock."

In later years
 unable to have
 the boat built in Ireland he employed a Scotch craftsman to build the boat. The "Shamrock"
 first raced here in 1889 and was defeated. In 1901 and 1903 Sir Thomas tried again, then once more in 1914 after a lapse of 10 years "to let someone else try." However,
 plans for the race had to be abandoned because of the World War.
 Six years later the tea merchant
 again came to these shores only to have the "Shamrock IV" beaten by the "Resolute."
 Sir Thomas owns large tea and

POULTRY FLOCKS PAY BIG DIVIDENDS IN LUBBOCK COUNTY

Poultry development work in Lubbock county that has been encouraged by David F. Eaton and Miss Lela DuBose, county agents, has made such rapid forward strides as to give rise to the belief that Lubbock county may soon take a leading place among the big poultry producing counties of the state.

Market conditions have been developed to a high degree of efficiency, prices being at favorable heights here whenever such is the case anywhere in the country, and natural advantages surround the poultry growers.

Mr. Eaton has on file in his office some splendid reports of owners
 of flocks who have realized sizeable dividends from money invested in poultry.

A report from Roy Smalley, of Shawwater, shows that a flock of 147 hens netted him $39.36 after all expenses of feeding had been paid.
 H. E. Henson, of the Carlisle community, netted $61 during January
 from a flock of 225 white leghorn hens.

Numerous other favorable reports
 have been received by the county agents.

DINNER STORIES

While building a house, a Connecticut man had occasion to employ a carpenter. One of the applicants was a plain Connecticut
 Yankee, without any frills.
 "You thoroughly understand carpentry," asked the employer.

"Yes, sir."
 "You can make doors, windows
 and blinds."

"Oh, yes, sir!"
 "How would you make a Venetian
 blind?"

The man scratched his head and thought deeply for a few seconds.
 "I should think, sir," he said finally
 "about the best way would be to punch him in the eye."

A negro servant, on being ordered to announce visitors to a dinner party, was directed to call out in a loud, distinct voice their names.
 The first to arrive was the Fitzgerald family, numbering eight persons.
 The negro announced Major Fitzgerald, Miss Fitzgerald, Master Fitzgerald, and so on.

This so annoyed the master that he went to the negro and said, "Don't announce each person like that; say something shorter."

The next to arrive were Mr. and Mrs. Penny and their daughter. The negro solemnly opened the door and called out, "Three Cents!"

A Duluth pastor makes it a point
 to welcome any strangers cordially,
 and one evening, after the completion of the service, he hurried down
 the aisle to station himself at the door.

He noticed a Swedish girl, evidently a servant, so he welcomed
 her to the church, and expressed the hope that she would be a regular attendant. Finally he said if she would be at home some evening
 during the week he would call.

"Thank you," she murmured
 bashfully, "but say have a fella."

 tual life of the community.

Poems That Live

TO NIGHT
 Mysterious night! when our first parent knew
 Thee from report divine, and heard
 thy name,
 Did he not tremble for this lovely
 frame,
 This glorious canopy of light and
 dew,
 Bathed in the rays of the great setting flame,
 Hesperus with the host of heaven
 came,
 And lo! Creation widened in man's view.

Who could have thought such darkness lay concealed Within thy beams, O Sun! or who could find,
 Whist fly and leaf and insect stood
 revealed,
 That to such countless orbs thou
 mad'st us blind!

Why do we the abash death with anxious strife?
 If Light can thus deceive, wherefore not Life?

—Joseph Blanco White.

DESIDRIA
 Surprised by joy—important as the wind—
 I turn'd to share the transport—O
 with whom
 But Thee—deep buried in the silent
 tomb,
 That spot which no vicissitude can find?

Love, faithful love recall'd thee to
 my mind,
 But how could I forget thee?
 Through what power
 Even for the least division of an hour

Have I been so beguiled as to be
 blind

To my most grievous loss—That thought's return
 Was the worst pang that sorrows
 ever bore
 Save one, one only, when I stood
 forlorn,

Knowing my heart's best treasure
 was no more;
 That neither present time, nor years
 unborn
 Could to my sight that heavenly face restore.

Sul Ross Lobos Are Here Tonight vs Tech Matadors

ONE OF TEXAS STRONGEST QUINTETS TO CLASH WITH BULL FIGHTERS AT STOCK JUDGING PAVILION TONIGHT

The Tech gymnasium will be the scene of the fourth game for the Matadors this evening at 8 o'clock when the crack Sul Ross College basketball club will appear in a contest with the Bull Fighters of the state's youngest educational institution.

The Lobos of Alpine have one of the strongest quintets in the state defeating major college clubs of the state in games of late. "Doleful Doc" Stewart's five, of State University, were the victims of the Lobos recently. There are other schools with crack clubs that have become losers to the Lobos in the past few weeks. The Sul Ross Quintet is composed of good material that are of typical West Texas stuff with Townsend, a former Ralls Jackrabbit holding down the running guard position and "Big Ford" a former Tulsa high school lad who won the bi-district championship last year and was the representative club for the Plains-Panhandle at the state meet in Austin last spring is in the center position. Also Carrett, another former Tulsa high school lad, is playing forward. All of these men are known throughout the sport circles of the Plains-Panhandle and will be at home in Lubbock.

The weakness of the fighting Matadors has been strengthened to an extent that they show up some better since the recent defeats that they have suffered. "Higg" has forcefully drilled the Matadors in passing, team work, and more accuracy in their basket shots, which has been the great weakness of the club since the start of the season. It is not that the Matadors have not the hustling fighting club that goes to win the games for none of this is lacking—as was in the grid affair—the Matadors possess plenty of fight and willingness throughout the entire affair.

Mowery president of the Lubbock high school Athletic Association presented the boys with the sweaters and congratulating them on their good work for the past gridiron season.

Those that received the sweaters are: Captain S. Smith, Captain-elect C. Ing, Payne, Roark, Moore, Dollahite, L. Smith, W. Jones, Bryan, Thomas, Brothers, and Adkinson.

Yellow Jacket Sextett Makes Good Showing

MULESHOE, Feb. 2.—The Yellow Jacket sextette high school girls of Muleshoe, captained by Leo Green and coached by McClure of Canyon Teachers' College, have established a good record and challenge any high school squad in West Texas for a series of games.

The Muleshoe team has played the following schools with the given results:

Muleshoe and Sudan, 44-16 in favor of Muleshoe; Olton and Muleshoe, 28-10 in favor of Muleshoe; Clovis, New Mexico, and Muleshoe, 30-24 in favor of Muleshoe; Littlefield and Muleshoe, 55-10 in favor of Muleshoe; Littlefield and Muleshoe, 23-6 in favor of Muleshoe; Y. L. and Muleshoe, 21-4 in favor of Muleshoe; Littlefield and Muleshoe, 29-11 in favor of Muleshoe; Sudan and Muleshoe, 49-4 in favor of Muleshoe; and West Camp and Muleshoe, 23-5 in favor of Muleshoe.

This leaves the Yellow Jacket sextette with 312 scores to their opponents 90. The Muleshoe sextette boasts of having the best team in West Texas; few teams will play them. Anyone desiring games may write Coach McClure, Muleshoe, Texas.

WESTERNER TRACK MEN WORK OUT

MUCH NEW MATERIAL TO START IN FIRST TRAINING

"Pinky" Lowery's gang of track men went into training for the track season that is to come in the early spring. Lowery states that there is a better prospective club this year than there has ever been since he has had charge of the Lubbock High school. For the past few years Lowery has put out good track teams winning the interscholastic meet of this district each year and has represented Lubbock and the Lubbock district in the state meet that is held in Austin each spring.

The Westerners have met two times with the Amarillo track team in a tri-city meet at the Abernathy meet and has broken even with the Sandstorms in the meet. Yesterday something like ten or more lads suited out in the track uniforms and were given instructions to take it easy for the first few days. They are taking daily workouts on the Texas Tech campus.

Several of the last year's club will be back for this season among them are: Bowen, dash and pole vault; Payne, weights and high jump; Thomas, dash and high jump; S. Smith, quarter mile; Among the new ones that will take part in the track this year are: C. Ing, Crosby, Sheely, Oldham, Ray, Wilson, Hardberger, Dollahite and Adkinson.

International Race Drivers To Take Parts In Auto Races at Jaurez on Feb. 7th Benefit of Jaurez Hospital Fund

JUAREZ, Mexico, Feb. 2.—Sunday February 7th is the day Juarez will attain National recognition as being the home of one of the fastest dirt tracks in the world, is the enthusiastic prediction of one of the American Automobile association officials during a recent inspection of the local oval. Also on this date the world's foremost speed kings will vie for cash purses and glory in the five race programs scheduled by the Chamber of Commerce.

Angel Martinez and N. Escobedo of the Jaurez Chamber of Commerce.

who are active in the promotion of the race announced today that several of the best drivers in the country had been engaged to enter the race. Peter De Paolo, a champion driver of the world, H. A. Stry and will be seen at the wheel of his world famous Junior six—the same car with which he won his fame. De Paolo has agreed to try for a new world's speed record for one mile. Leon Duray, celebrated French "Ace" of the speedway world and the proven nemesis of the great De Paolo on the dirt tracks has also been secured by the management. Bennett Hill, another of the speed luminaries and noted driver of the California Hill, wired the chamber of commerce that he will pilot a Duesenberg Special. "Red" Shafer the Texas Terror of the Speedways will also face the starter in the coming event and promises to make the competition mighty stiff. Frank Lockhart, will again be seen at the wheel of his famous "27" and is determined to finish ahead of the great De Paolo. Arrangements are under way to bring the Canadians Champion, Jack Pettit here for the races and the chamber of commerce are hopeful that this can be done as it would add greatly to the field of stars already entered.

Manuel M. Limon, chief of immigration in Juarez, is in communication with officials in Mexico City regarding the lifting of all passport restrictions for the day of the race and according to Signor Limon the request will be granted. Working along these lines the chamber of commerce is preparing to handle the largest crowd in the history of the city.

J. Bert Mitchell, house manager of the Palace Theatre, who was painfully injured by the accidental discharge of a small calibre pistol Sunday a week ago, is resting as well as could be expected, according to information given out at the Ellwood Hospital yesterday.

Mr. Mitchell will be able to leave the hospital within another week, physicians believe.

Mr. Mitchell was slated to take charge of a large playhouse at Beaumont on the first of this month, and had made arrangements to leave Lubbock last week, but these plans were frustrated by the accident.

Organized Forces To Boost Tech Athletic Fund; Work To Begin

Colonel Walter A. Myrick, Jr., head of the team organization of Lubbock Thursday in an effort to erase the deficit from the books of the Tech athletic fund, has issued a call to his majors and captains to meet at the Chamber of Commerce offices this morning at 9 o'clock.

The four majors that were announced last week have called in three captains each to assist in the drive. These captains will enlist five lieutenants each to complete the organization.

The following majors and captains will respond to the call of Colonel Myrick for the meeting this morning: Major Owen McWhorter, Captain Pink L. Parrish, E. T. Adair, and W. T. Raybor; Major Garland Woodward, Captains Ed Hall, Ed Inman, and F. A. Norman; Major E. C. Patton, Captains Ross McWhorter, C. E. Maedgen, and W. E. Davis; Major J. W. Riley, Jr., Captains Floyd Bowen, G. P. Kuykendall, and E. L. Roberson.

The drive is being fostered by the Matador Club, which was organized last fall in order that the business men of Lubbock might better cooperate with the athletic officials of the Tech College in putting Tech athletics on a par with sports in other schools in the Southwest. The members of the club believe the total deficit of $3,700 can be raised and the slate of the Tech athletic department wiped clean with a couple hours work Thursday and Friday mornings by the team organization which is being formulated.

Members of the board of directors of the Tech College have wanted from the red side of the ledger since the close of the football season, according to the statement of H. T. Kimbro, at a meeting recently when the Matador Club decided to make the drive. The members who live in other cities of the state have offered to assist in removing the deficit, but have indicated their belief that Lubbock, the city that is deriving the vast amount of benefit through additional trade from the students and immense advertising should bear the heavier portion of the burden in paying off the deficit.

Kimbro will be in attendance at a meeting of the board of directors in Fort Worth when the drive is launched here Thursday, and hopes to report to the board that Lubbock is still lacking the Tech a hundred per cent, and that the athletic fund has been balanced by the drive made by the Matador Club.

Arrangements are almost complete for the holding of the annual meeting and banquet of the Retail Merchants Association Tuesday, February 9, according to W. W. Royalty, chairman of the committee appointed at the last regular meeting of the association.

Edgar H. Kemp, field representative of the Retail Merchants' Association of Texas will be one of the principal speakers for the meeting. At this meeting the regular election of officers will take place, a review of the past year, and a look into the future, outlining a program of work for the coming year will be made by some member of the association. Secretaries and presidents of all the Retail Merchants' Association on the South Plains will be invited to attend the meeting, in an effort to bind closer co-operation between both the merchants associations and the merchants of Lubbock and the South Plains towns.

The arrangements committee, composed of W. W. Royalty, J. D. Hassell, Fred Owen, L. A. Howard, and P. L. Sherrod at a recent meeting decided to sell tickets to each of the members of the association as a means of financing the banquet, and committees will probably go out today to see the membership in this regard. Each member will have the opportunity to invite a neighbor who is not yet a member of the retail merchants in for the meeting and banquet, at which time he will be advised of the workings of the organization, some of its benefits and uses with the purpose of enrolling additional merchants into the association.

The banquet will be held in the basement of the Leader building at 7 o'clock Tuesday evening, February 9. The Music Club will serve the banquet, according to an announcement from the arrangements committee recently.

A good attendance from the membership and their guest and from secretaries and presidents of the other associations on the South Plains is expected, according to W. W. Royalty.

RETAIL MERCHANTS TO ORGANIZE IN BROWNFIELD

The Lubbock Retail Merchants Association has been assisting business men of Brownfield in organizing an association there in the past few days and the organization is just about complete at this time, according to a letter received by the local association this week from Messrs. T. Conneland of Brownfield.

The local association furnished the Brownfield men copies of their constitution, by-laws and other documents of interest in organizing the new Retail Merchants Association. In addition to these papers and documents, a copy of cards, blanks and other data in regard to the policies and practices of the local office was furnished the Brownfield merchants.

Having heard of the annual meeting and banquet of the local association which will be held here February 9, the new board of directors of the Brownfield organization has asked that they might be allowed to attend and receive the benefit of the addresses to be made by Edgar H. Kern, field representative of the Retail Merchants Association of Texas and local men. The directors of the new association, consisting of 12 men were assured of Lubbock's cordial invitation to attend the meeting here February 9.

In addition to the visitors from the Brownfield organization, the president and secretary of all other associations on the South Plains have been invited and are expected to be in attendance at the banquet.

LUBBOCK CAPTURES BIG WHOLESALE PLANT

Believing that Lubbock offers better advantages as a wholesale distributing point for the best service to the north, central, and south plains territory, the Seiberling Rubber Company of Akron, Ohio, is moving their West Texas Branch from Abilene to Lubbock, according to an announcement from the Chamber of Commerce here Tuesday morning following a visit from E. E. Perry traveling representative for the company who called at the office to express appreciation of the services rendered by the chamber of commerce in making local arrangements for the location of the branch here.

H. H. Austin and R. R. Ragan, who have handled the Seiberling tires at Lamesa will be in charge of the branch here, both the retail store and the distributing branch. The business which will be an exclusive Seiberling tire house will be known as the "Plains Tire Company," and will be temporarily housed at 1301 Avenue H until the building at 1308 and 1310 Avenue H which will be a modern fire proof building can be completed.

The building which is being constructed for Wm. D. Green has already been leased by the Plains Tire Company and will be occupied as soon as completed. D. N. Leaverton has the contract and will rush the building to completion. The Plains Tire Company will carry about two car loads of tires as stock until business necessities add additional stock according to Perry. A salesman will work Lubbock daily to cater to the needs of the city in addition to the force in charge of the wholesale trade over the Panhandle South Plains area.

Consolidation of Abstract Firms Is Announced

Consolidation of the Brown & Smith Abstract Company and the Lubbock Abstract Company was announced yesterday following a conference here Monday between Franklin D. Brown and Charles H. Smith, owners of the Brown & Smith Company, and Pink L. Parrish, founder and owner of the Lubbock Abstract Company.

The consolidated companies will operate under the firm name of Lubbock Abstract Company, and all records and equipment of the two companies are being moved into the old location of the Brown & Smith Company on the ground floor of the Conley building at the corner of Broadway and Avenue I.

The Brown & Smith Company was formed here during the fall of 1923, since which time it has been one of the big business enterprises of the city and has engaged the attention of a highly trained corps of abstractors.

Mr. Parrish has been in Lubbock during the past four years and some time ago established the Lubbock Abstract Company, which has done a great deal of business in its field. Mr. Parrish came to Lubbock four years ago from Crosby county, and prior to going there had resided in this county during the early days and had had a big part in the early development of Lubbock and Lubbock county.

A farm loan business will be operated in connection with the abstract business of the enlarged firm, and this will be made one of the big units of the business, engaging a great deal of the attention of Mr. Parrish and Mr. Smith.

Franklin D. Brown, who maintains a law office at Tahoka, will continue in his work there, but retaining his interest in the abstract business in Lubbock.

Charles H. Smith has been a resident of Lubbock county since 1914, and he and Mr. Brown are court reporters for the Seventy-second Judicial District Court.

Wm. Green Having Brick Home Built For Tire Company

D. N. Leaverton, local building contractor, has moved materials to the ground and is completing the foundation for a modern brick business house on Avenue H between 13th and 14th streets for Wm. D. Green, of the firm of Green & Hurlbut.

The building has been leased to Austin & Reagan, who will occupy it immediately upon completion with a wholesale tire business, serving a large territory of which Lubbock will be the center.

The building will be modern in every particular and will be 50 by 121 feet, giving ample room for the business of the tire company.

Stone, brick, plate glass and fine wood fixtures at the front of the building will lend much to the attractiveness of that section of the city.

N. A. A. H. SERVICE BEEN SECURED IN LUBBOCK

Seeing that Lubbock was numbered among the most progressive cities of Texas, the National Advertising Highways Association, represented by G. D. Neiman of Denver, Colorado, has just closed a deal whereby a modern camp cabin will be constructed at the East Canyon Tourist Park, which is owned and operated by J. H. Goodrich.

The cabin is modern in every detail, having overhead electric lights, running water and other modern conveniences of the tourist's recreation.

The cities that are to be connected with the N. A. A. H. will be marked on the maps that are to be published in more than 100,000 copies of an atlas that is being promoted by the N. A. A. H. Also marked will lead into each city that has the N. A. A. H. service on every highway that leads into the city. Lubbock will have the Red Circle markers leading into the city on three different state and national highways.

Other cities that have this service in the Panhandle are Amarillo, Dalhart and Tulsa.

JACK JENCKS' PLAYERS IN "FOOLISH WIVES" AT LINDSEY THEATRE

The Lindsey Theater was again filled to overflowing Tuesday night to see Jack Jenks' Players present "Foolish Wives." Mr. Jenks had promised that the audience would laugh and say that they had thoroughly enjoyed the evening, and his show made good in every respect.

Many comments were heard to the effect that "Foolish Wives" carried a strong moral as well as comedy in abundance and this combination surely seemed to please the large audience.

Mr. Lindsey says that he personally wishes to recommend this company of players as high class and all their shows to be absolutely clean and well worth seeing.

The Jenks Players will be here all this week, changing plays each night. The play for Wednesday night is entitled "The High Cost of Living."

COOLIDGE PLAYING POLITICS IS CLAIM

respondents asked that inasmuch as they had to report the substance of the president's remarks on their own authority, that they be given a copy of the stenographic notes for the sake of accuracy. This also was refused.

Recent conferences of Democrats who are formulating their campaign strategy prompted the president to forestall them by attempting to attach political color to all of their future activities.

President Laughs.

The White House spokesman discarded the sheaf of written questions handed in by the correspondents and spoke from notes which the president had jotted down for him on a small slip of paper. The spokesman, obviously referring to criticisms provoked by the aluminum case, prohibition enforcement, and the difficulties in the federal trade and tariff commissions, said in substance that the administrative branches of the government were functioning well and that business conditions were good. All questions of law violation are being and will be examined and attended to. The president hoped that the country would remember that this was the season of the political calendar when selfish political motives often underlay criticism of the party in power and that the country would not take too seriously the speeches being made in congress and in the country.

The president also complained of the propaganda of the army and navy. He said that always at this time of year when the appropriation bills were before congress and attempt was made to give the impression that the defenses were in bad shape. He regarded the army and navy as very adequate. Four billion dollars has been spent on them in the last six years. He hopes the country will not take the propaganda going out of Washington from the army and navy publicity bureaus too seriously.

Also the president discredited the assumption that entrance into the world court meant that later the United States would go into the League of Nations. He said this did not follow at all, rather to the contrary.

This Rooseveltian utterance from such a meek, silent person as the president's spokesman normally is—he is as almost taciturn as the president himself—astonished the correspondents, much to the amusement of President Coolidge, who had been looking on all the time.

"Bunk" Say Senators.

As soon as the news reached the capitol, Senator Harrison, Mississippi, Democrat, interrupted the tax bill debate to reply. Ignoring the fictitious spokesman, Harrison said:

"The president called the newspapers in this morning and told them to wage the country against speeches in congress as having a political bearing. He is using the mighty power of his office to make the country believe there is an adroit conspiracy and that our speeches are nothing but politics. That is unworthy of the president of the United States."

"Of course there was no politics in the speeches the president made to the Chamber of Commerce in New York and the fly-by-night trip to address the farmers at Chicago."

"Isn't the majority playing politics when it makes a tax reduction just before every election," asked Robinson, Arkansas, Democrat, and minority leader.

"President Coolidge admitted in his budget speech the other night that another tax reduction would be possible before the next presidential election two years from now," Harrison replied.

ed in the written statement caused the abrupt ending of the trial yesterday.

Expelled From College.

Ramson King, the witness, was expelled from the Texas Technological college early last fall for violating college rules regarding drunkenness, and an investigation that was made by college authorities and officers led to his being called as a witness in the case that was so quickly thrown out of court here yesterday.

Whitfill was indicted on two counts, and will be haled into court again Monday to stand trial for manufacturing intoxicating liquor.

Due to the fact that several cattle theft cases are set for trial Monday of next week, the setting of the Whitfill case at that time does not mean that it can go to trial during next week, however the developments that will occur regarding the cattle theft cases will determine whether or not the Whitfill case can be tried, and it is being watched with unusual interest.

Where an American Hangs his hat

ONCE a hat was not just a hat; it was also a badge of sectionalism. That was when the broad-brimmed stetson and the nobby derby seldom met. When the South, East, North, West lived differently, dressed differently thought differently. When a traveling American could feel like a stranger in his own land.

Before advertising—

But now Mrs. Green of Boston and Mrs. Brown of El Paso use the same vacuum cleaner, face powder, soap; Adams of Boston and Sims of Seattle are alike in the cut of their clothes. And where an American hangs his hat, within the borders of the United States, he feels at home. Advertising did that.

Advertising is still at work helping to make these states united. Here is a better bed, a handsomer shoe, a more delicious food. Let it be known from Washington State to Florida! OUT COMES THE NEEDLE
Peter bent over his new friend, felt gently of his nose, then gave a long, low whistle.
"Well, I don't wonder you're growling. It's just as I feared. A cactus needle is sticking in your nose, just where the fur begins. Hold perfectly still and I will pull it out for you, but I warn you, it is going to hurt."
"Pull ahead!" growled the fellow, and Peter took the beast at his word and pulled.
"There, your troubles are over!" cried the Boy, the sharp thorn in his hand. Then he laughed.
"You may not be a cat, but I declare you look exactly like one. Our Tabby always washes her face with her paw just as you are doing now."

"I never said I was not a Cat. I am a Cat. I belong to the Cat family, anyhow. I told you my name was not Pussy. It isn't!" The creature went on rubbing his nose.
"Well, who are you?" demanded the Boy. "Don't you think it is high time you told me?"
The fellow nodded.
"I am Step-Lightly, the Lion Cub!" declared he, and proudly threw back his head.
Peters gasped.
"You, a Lion?" cried he. "Why, I thought a lion was big and fierce and had a bushy mane and huge mouth, and you are little and soft and fat."
"Well, to be big one has to grow doesn't he?" asked Step-Lightly. "I am only a youngster, to be sure, but I can stretch my jaws pretty wide, even now."

Making good his boast, Step-Lightly opened his mouth and Peter found himself looking into a small cavern.

"And when I am as old as father I shall have a mane as fine as his." The little Lion Cub was quite decided, and Peter did not dispute him. It wouldn't have been polite, and besides, there was a look in Step-Lightly's eyes that told Peter he'd better take the Cub's word for it if there was to be friendship between them.

Dwight Moody Evangelist Is Honored

CHICAGO, Feb. 2.—Dwight L. Moody, founder of the Moody Bible Institute and the man who placed the Bible in every hotel room in America, will be honored by hundreds of churchmen from all parts of this country and Canada who gathered here today for observance of the twenty-first Founder's Week of the Institute. The meeting will close the night of Feb. 5.

The gathering will include prominent members of the clergy and laity of the country who will join members of the institute's alumni association in honoring the memory of late Biblical work leader. Moody's birthday anniversary is Feb. 5. This date is to be observed as "Founder's Day."

The institute's purpose as set forth in its articles of incorporation, is "to educate, direct, encourage, maintain and send forth Christian workers, Bible readers, gospel singers, teachers and evangelists competent to effectively teach and preach the gospel of Jesus Christ."

The institute with this object in view, was organized in 1886 under the name of the Chicago Evangelization Society. Moody was president of that organization. The institute as now organized was opened in Sept. 26, 1888. Three months after Moody died in that year the institute was renamed, in his honor.—The Moody Bible Institute. Each year thereafter Founder's Week has been celebrated and attended by church leaders of America.

One of the features of this year's gathering will be the address by Rev. Maitland Alexander, D. D., nationally known for his views on

Toys To Appear Next Christmas Being Sought

NEW YORK, Feb. 2. (United Press).—Santa Claus set up his headquarters here today to begin his ten month long planning and building of toys for next Christmas.

In the commercial world it is known as the Toy Fair, the international exposition of the art of the world's toymakers which opened here today. Buyers from the toy departments of most of the world's department stores swarmed about the exhibition rooms to place orders which will be filled during the next ten months by the toy manufacturers.

Since the war New York has become the toy market of the world. Other and older toy expositions in other countries are confined largely to toys produced in the section concerned. But toymakers of all the world send their exhibits to the New York Toy Fair and the collection is said by its sponsors, The Toy Fair Chamber of Commerce of the United States, to include about everything Santa Claus will need to make his selections.

During the next few days the buyers and the manufacturers in the commercial give and take of filling orders will decide upon the character of the toys which next December will delight the imagination of American children. Toy designers have racked their brains to produce new and original toys to exhibit to the buyers but it is the latter who will decide with their order books which design will appeal to the children and through fundamentalism. Rev. Maitland, who is pastor of the First Presbyterian church, Pittsburgh, Pa., and former moderator of the Presbyterian assembly, will address the gathering tonight.

Other clergymen who are to speak include Bishop Frederick D. Leete, Indianapolis, Ind.; A. Z. Conrad, for twenty years pastor of the historic Park Street church, Boston; Rev. John Timothy Stone of the Fourth Presbyterian church, Chicago; Rev. Harry L. Strachan, of the Latin American Evangelization Campaign; Rev. John Alfred Faulkner of the Drew Theological Seminary, Madison, N. J.; Rev. Oswald Seminary and Dr. Robert P. Wilder, founder of the student volunteer movement for foreign missions.

William Phillips Hall of New York, who introduced the automatic block signal system for railways, a device invented by his father, will be the principal speaker on Layman's Day, Wednesday.

Henry S. Dulaney, Baltimore and C. M. T. Smith, grain merchant, Winnipeg, Man.; also will be among the speakers that day.

them to the ultimate buyer, the American parent.

The toy market is guided in a measure by geography, according to H. D. Clark, secretary of the Toy Fair.

"Although many toys enjoy general popularity the country over, the play spirit in some sections finds an outlet very different from that in other parts," Clark said. "For example, the toy buyers from Boston, New York, Philadelphia and other large cities of the East stock up heavily on fire engines, automobiles and similar apparatus. Buyers from Omaha and other points west make big purchases of horses and wagons, stuffed animals and the like. Even in dolls one finds variations in popularity. Bob-haired dolls find special favor in Chicago. In the Far West, however, the old-fashioned doll with hood and gingham dress still holds its own."

"The task of supplying playthings to the jaded appetite of the younger generation is no mean one. The public takes toys at Christmas as a matter of course, little realizing that in their production there is as much romance as in the creation of novels and plays. How few know of the many wakeful nights of toy makers in perfecting their models, followed by anxious days when their masterpieces are exhibited for the first time at the toy fair, to be rejected or approved by the toy buyers of the country."

"Repeaters" in the Goshen, Ind., high school have been reduced about 10 per cent by an effective system of checking up every two weeks children who are threatened with failure in their studies. Teachers and the principal co-operate in the effort to reduce student mortality, and problem cases are given special diagnosis and receive individual attention.

FACTS OF WEST TEXAS SHOW AUTHOR OF "THE WIND" THAT THERE IS A STEADY PROGRESSIVE MOVE IN WEST TEXAS

SWEETWATER, Texas, Feb. 2.—A letter addressed to the Sweetwater Press, from "one who is a booster for West Texas", strikes back at the anonymous author of the recent, much-discussed novel, "The Wind". West Texas, as the mysterious author of the novel pictures it, is virtually a desert and is certainly not a place that would attract anyone to it.

The letter to the press, however, gives us some astounding and interesting information that shows the true West Texas as it is today and completely destroys any false "atmosphere" that might have been created by the author of "The Wind".

"In the last twenty years more than 1,000,000 people have moved to West Texas. Comparatively none of these were mere transients but came with a foresight of West Texas' possibilities and the idea of establishing homes. The percentage of increase in population of West Texas towns is not surpassed by any colonization 'wave' in the history of the country. Florida is not excepted. Roughly estimated West Texas contains 100,000,000 acres of land. The 1925 crop of West Texas cotton (already ginned) has exceeded the million-bale mark. At present low prices this cotton represents $175,000,000 cash. West Texas is the only large cotton producing region in the country that has not been over-run by the dreaded boll weevil.

"In 1924 West Texas raised 19,000,000 bushels of wheat. The poultry industry grossed $35,000,000. In the peanut production of the country West Texas holds undisputed leadership. The live stock industry is not overlooked when West Texas industries are being reviewed. West Texas contains 2,000,000 sheep; 1,000,000 goats; 3,000,000 cattle; 450 horses; 395 mules, and 1,100,000 hogs, with a total market value of $160,000,000. Last year the oil production of West Texas amounted to 50,000,000 barrels, and the ratio of West Texas towns that use natural gas for heating and lighting purposes in comparison to other Texas towns is twenty to eighty.

"Lubbock, a typical West Texas town, has more young people in her schools today than her entire population in 1920, as computed by federal census takers."

OPPOSING CONGRESSMEN TAKE THE AIR TOGETHER

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—Dual talks on government and politics by a Democratic and a Republican Congressman are now weekly features from radio station WEC and WJZ.

The series of talks was initiated by a discussion of politics recently by Reps. John Q. Tilson of Conn., and Finis J. Jarrett of Tenn. Republican and Democratic floor leaders, respectively.

The discussion provoked wide interest. It was followed by talks on government finance by Rep. Martin B. Madden, Rep., Ill., and Joseph Byrnes, Dem., Ill.

HEART-HOME PROBLEMS

BY MRS. ELIZABETH THOMPSON

The Value of Good Looks in Marriage

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I have been going with a man for about two and a half years and I have grown to care for him very much. We do not get along as well as we should, and sometimes when we quarrel I feel as if I never want to see him again, but the next day everything is a. k. I can overlook all these quarrels because I care for him. I am 29 years of age and I am considered a very attractive and pretty girl. My relatives all object to my going with him because they say that I am too good looking to go with him, as he is not good looking and I could do so much better. I have gone with a number of fellows since I was 14—good-looking and nice boys—but I have never felt towards them as I do John. It must be because I love him, and do you think my people take the right attitude? I myself do not think it is looks that count (of course they are nice) but that character and disposition are more essential. They say that after marriage good looks mean quite a bit. He is a good, fine, upright boy and has a way about him (even though not good-looking) that has endeared him to my heart. It does make me feel bad when my people say, "So-and-so said that you are so pretty, and they do not see how you can go with him." Please tell me what you think.

HANNIBAL.
You are right. Patience, a good disposition, enthusiasm, are qualities more necessary to happiness in marriage than good-looks. If you two are unable to get along now without quarrels, they are likely to continue during your married life, unless you both subject some of the selfishness which is no doubt at the bottom of the differences. Parents seldom are satisfied with their children's choices; if his homeliness is their only objection to the young man, you need not worry about their opposition.

IGNORANT—If you follow this column as regularly as you say you do, then you must have read the answer to your first question several times. But here goes again: Where there is a double ring ceremony, the bride buys the bridegroom's ring. It is customary for the bridegroom to give the bride a wedding present and she frequently reciprocates. Candles belong on birthday cakes.

EDNA—I think it best for you to let matters stand as they are. You should not want to marry the young man now if it will prevent him from completing his education, and he certainly shouldn't be thinking of taking a wife unless he is in a financial position to support a home. No doubt the boy's inability to take care of you is the foundation of your parents' opposition.

BOBBIE: You certainly haven't created any respect for you in the boy. If he is so rude and bold as to tell you now that you lie and deceive, he would be no less outspoken as a husband. Really, Bobbie, can't you see that he doesn't care for you?

TOO MUCH TROUBLE—There

seems no reason why you should let your husband come back on the terms which separated you. You are right in the stand you have taken, and while your attitude now should be one of conciliation because you love him, there is no need to make any useless concessions as they would only lead to another parting.

To encourage thrift many savings banks in Czechoslovakia give to each new pupil in the elementary schools a passbook with a beginning credit of 1 krone. Texas State Board of Health Weekly News Letter

Smallpox
AUSTIN, Tex., Feb. 2.—Calling attention to the fact that 59 cases of smallpox were reported to the state board of health by city and county health officers of the state for the week ending Jan. 23, Dr. H. O. Sappington, state health officer, urges that vaccination be used as an immunization against this disease.

"There is no need," stated Dr. Sappington, "that anyone in this enlightened age should have smallpox yet the recent report of the Surgeon General of the United States gives the surprising information that the smallpox case-rate in the United States is at present the highest of any civilized country in the world. Smallpox cases in Germany and other countries where vaccination is compulsory are almost unknown, cases that do occur being mostly among tourists."

"The increase in smallpox in the United States during the last two years is probably due in a large measure to a let-up in the use of vaccination since the World War. The great tendency of the general public towards interstate travel by means of the automobile also offers greater opportunity for the spread of this disease."

Vaccination Urged
Vaccination against smallpox practically protects one from this disease for a period of seven years, and where smallpox is contracted after being vaccinated once, the disease is always in a very mild form. The best method is to be re-vaccinated every seven years, since one vaccination does not always immunize one for life. Children should be vaccinated at an early age, and then re-vaccinated every seven years. If this rule was faithfully followed, then smallpox would soon be banished from the land."

Health Clubs
The organization of Junior and Adult Health Clubs will be one of the major activities of the public health nursing service of the state board of health during the spring months, according to Miss L. Jane Duffy, state supervising nurse.

"School health work," stated Miss Duffy, "was the outstanding activity of the service during the fall months and this work is now well in hand, attention of the public health nurses will be given more to other phases of health work, one of which will be the organization of health clubs."

"The term, Little Mothers' League, has been changed to Junior Health Club, in order that boys may be included for instruction in personal hygiene, simple rules in first aid, and other health instruction which would be as valuable to boys as girls. In conducting Junior Health Clubs, particular stress is placed upon the proper care of children and the importance of the formation of health habits."

"Adult Health Club, is the broader term given to include prenatal classes, mothers' classes, home nursing, etc. We have enrolled in Adult Health Clubs, married and unmarried women over twenty years of age. Calls for instruction for help in the organization of health clubs in some counties have been so numerous that she has found it difficult to comply with all requests, this demonstrating the popularity of the "Health Club" movement.

"Child Health Conferences are held in the larger communities of each county, many mothers taking advantage of this opportunity to bring their children for examination and to receive instruction as to how to best care for their health. Mothers are always vitally interested in the welfare of their children and many of them have been known to ride more than twenty miles over bad roads and in all kinds of weather.

"Classes for midwives, nutrition classes for preschool children, the establishment of health centers, community demonstrations, birth registration campaigns, public talks, home visits, are all a part of the routine work of each public county health nurse. She has a job that demands, courage, determination, versatility and stickability."

TO BE HEALTHY, A RICH MAN MUST LIVE LIKE A POOR ONE

It is natural that more, probably, has been said and written about money than any other subject under the sun; for is not money "the root of all evil?"
Let us remember, however, that money is the FRUIT of evil as often as the ROOT of it.
But it is more important to have impressed on the mind Dr. Johnson's remark, "MONEY, IN WHATEVER HANDS, WILL CONFER POWER."

Money amassed SERVES no RULES us. It is for YOU to say which.
But do not be in a hurry, and surrender everything to get rich. If, says Ruskin, "you do not let the price command the picture, in time the picture will command the price."

Though few can expect to make large fortunes, any industrious and economical person can make a comfortable livelihood and this is true in America than in any other country in the world.
We often hear of riches not honestly acquired, but poverty is seldom come by honestly either.
Money is more easily made than kept, for as the adage goes, any fool can make money, but it takes a wise man to spend it.

"No one need have much anxiety about the real necessities of life. Nature needs LITTLE and gives MUCH.
Americans eat twice as much as they should, and most humans wear more clothing than their body needs.

"If a rich man wishes to be healthy, he must live like a poor one," it was observed long ago.

PRIZE WINNERS OF GARDEN CONTEST ANNOUNCED

COLLEGE STATION, Texas, Feb. 2.—The committee in the Garden Contest for all Women's Clubs, Extension Service, A. and M. College of Texas, carrying on programs of work under the direction of a county home demonstration agent, have announced the prize winners as follows: First prize of $35, Maple Springs Club, Harrison County; second prize $25, Gil Gal Club, Harrison County; third prize $15, Minter Club, Lamar County; fourth prize $10, Glory Club, Lamar County; fifth prize $7, Hampshire Club, Jefferson County; sixth prize $5, Athens Club, San Patricio County; seventh prize $3, Crystal Farms Club, Rusk County.

These prizes were awarded by H. G. Hastings Seed Company of Atlanta, Georgia, for the purpose of inspiring interest in this contest.

In commenting on the contest, Miss Mildred Horton, State Home Demonstration Agent, said that the object was to encourage continuous production of a variety of vegetables of good quality and to encourage a wide utilization of those in the daily diet.

This garden contest was open during any eight months period between January 1 and December 31, 1925, and it was open to all Women's Clubs carrying on programs under the direction of the county home demonstration agents.

In order to win this contest it was necessary for the club to have two fresh vegetables shows each year, one in the Fall and one in the Spring, and it was necessary to have kodak pictures made of these shows. It was also necessary to have a county judging committee to list and attest all vegetables at these exhibits. Likewise each member had to submit, at the time of the show, a report showing the production of vegetables, their utilization, and what she had exhibited that the show. There were thirteen counties represented in this contest, and thirty clubs containing 357 women, sent in complete reports.

RABBITS TO BE TURNED LOOSE IN PHILADELPHIA
DENVER, Colo., Feb. 2.—A horde of huge Rocky Mountain jack rabbits and a delegation of "Rocky Mountain canaries" will accompany the Colorado delegation to the American Legion national convention next September.

A "trench drive" in which the rabbits will be captured, already has been planned by commanders and adjutants of Legion posts throughout the state.

The rabbits will be driven into trenches, where the largest can be captured alive and caged to be taken with the delegation.

A few of the animals will be released in every town through which the delegation passes, according to the present plans. Two thousand will be kept to be released on the streets of Philadelphia if nothing upsets the program as it has been outlined.

The delegation of burros also will accompany the Colorado Legionaires.

NEW COMPETITOR FOR CHEWING GUM
LOS ANGELES, Feb. 2.—The chicle, a chewing gum ingredient, may have competition from a substitute produced by the chicle tree, now being grown in the state of Nayarit on the west coast of Mexico. Mexican planters have made a chemical analysis of the gum of the tree and decided on a campaign to exploit the product for chewing gum, according to advices to the foreign trade department of the local chamber of commerce.
