Paratroopers Stab One, Club Another In Clash Near Little Rock School

By RELMAN MORIN

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—Hard-eyed paratroopers, in battle dress and with bayonets at the ready, brought nine Negro students quietly into Central High School today in a new climax to the hate-filled struggle over integration in Little Rock.

One man was clubbed and another stabbed in the arm by the soldiers in fights that followed.

A few white students left the school after the Negroes entered, but there was no sign of a mass exodus. A school official said 1250 students were in class today, making 750 absentees. It was 50 more than yesterday when it was known the Negroes would not appear.

At 11:20, about two hours after the Negro students entered, the school grounds suddenly filled with students and teachers.

Reporters said they were told it was a fire drill, but there was another report that police were investigating a report of a bomb scare.

Two Negro girls, Thelma Mothershed and Minnie Brown, came out with the white students.

Minnie Brown walked beside a blonde white student. They were talking together and laughing.

A reporter called from across the street:

"Are you making any friends, Minnie?"

"Quite a few," the girl called back, flashing a smile.

Thelma Mothershed was with one of the teachers, talking.

The white students were laughing and joking with the paratroopers as they waited on the lawn.

In an arc two blocks wide around the high school, the paratroopers kept breaking up clusters of people, moving them back, herding them onto porches, and keeping the area clear.

They moved with swift, purposeful action.

It was in these operations that the two men were injured. C. E. Blake, 46, a railroad employe, tried to grab a paratrooper's rifle, soldiers said. The trooper, quickly reversing it, struck Blake over the eye with the butt. He fell to the street but did not appear to be seriously injured.

Paul Downs of Springfield, Ark., got a bayonet cut in the arm apparently when he was too slow in obeying an order.

Jess Matthews, principal of the high school, reported "everything is calm inside the school and education is proceeding normally."

Outside, the scene was identical with those that developed in the last two wars of the United States.

The high school was the command post.

A line of paratroopers, spaced about three yards apart, stood in the street fronting the school. Behind them, jeeps equipped with walkie-talkies, were stationed at

States' Right Plea Made By Governors

SEA ISLAND, Ga. (AP)—Southern Democratic governors, alarmed by the historic movement of federal troops into Little Rock, Ark., sought means today of preserving states' rights.

The governors found scant comfort in the assurance by President Eisenhower in his televised speech last night that the presence of federal soldiers in the Arkansas capital would turn out to be advantageous and that the bayonets are not there to force integration.

Several possible courses of action were topics of immediate discussion by the heads of states in the last outpost of legal racial segregation.

Of the three Republicans attending the Southern Governors' Conference, two endorsed Eisenhower's stand and his action in sending armed federal troops into Little Rock. The third declined to comment.

The Democrats gave serious consideration to proposals by Gov. Frank Clement of Tennessee that they name a committee to meet with the President and discuss the Arkansas situation.

They also considered a proposal by Gov. Luther Hodges of North Carolina that they adopt a resolution asking the President to leave the maintenance of law and order in Arkansas up to Gov. Orval Faubus of Arkansas as it "is considered to be the primary responsibility of the governor."

Gov. J. Caleb Boggs, a Delaware Republican, is chairman of the Resolutions Committee, which would act on the two proposals. He declined to comment on the President's address and had no comment on Clement's and Hodges' plans.

Another Republican on the Resolutions Committee, Gov. Theodore McKeldin of Maryland, said he would not approve any resolution "which even suggests the possibility of President Eisenhower's improper or unwarranted exercise of federal power."

The third Republican among the Southerners, Gov. Cecil Underwood of West Virginia, said he was unalterably opposed to the resolutions.

Clements made his proposal after, he said, losing sleep over the situation the night before. He suggested that a committee of Southern governors call upon the President and "submit at the conference table those things that would be resolved in the streets of Little Rock, or any other American city, by guns and bayonets. Surely a pencil, a piece of paper and a good heart can do more good than a gun and bayonet."

Hoffa Is Indicted

NEW YORK (AP)—James R. Hoffa, vice president of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters, was indicted today on five counts of perjury by a federal rackets grand jury.

The indictment charged that the 44-year-old union leader, a candidate for the presidency of the Teamsters to succeed Dave Beck, lied to the grand jury, during its probe into alleged wiretapping of Teamster headquarters in Detroit.

The grand jury also indicted Benjamin Franklin Collins, secretary-treasurer of Local 299, which is headed by Hoffa. It accused him of 12 counts of perjury in connection with the same investigation.

Navy Copter Rescues Men

GEORGE WEST, Tex. (AP)—A helicopter from the Kingsville Naval Air Station rescued two South Texans stranded late yesterday on a ranch west of here by the swollen Nueces River.

They are A. R. Luedecke and D. R. Polk, both of Alice. They had gone to the Walker Ranch 35 miles west of here Saturday to inspect a hunting lease. Heavy weekend rains sent the Nueces on a fast rise, and the two were trapped.

Polk, an oil company employe, had a short wave radio in his car and asked the Highway Patrol for help.

Four Navy Planes May Have Crashed

LONDON (AP)—The U. S. Navy reported today that four of its planes, carrying 10 men, were missing and are feared to have crashed in the Atlantic while taking part in giant NATO sea exercises.

The Navy identified the planes as two F4D Skywarriors, single-seater jet fighters capable of speeds of more than 1,000 miles an hour, and two S2F antisubmarine planes each carrying four men.

A Navy spokesman said the antisubmarine planes were based on the 33,100-ton carrier Essex. He said he did not know on which carrier the Skywarriors were based.

The carriers are part of a seven-nation NATO fleet taking part in exercise "Strikeback," designed to guard the Atlantic against Russian attack, especially from submarines.

The exercises were immediately suspended and ships and planes were ordered to search for the missing planes and possible survivors.

Wick radio in Scotland said it had picked up reports that two planes crashed 100 miles northwest of the Lofoten Islands off the west coast of Norway. It gave no other details.

The Navy spokesman in London said it was believed that the two Skywarriors may have collided while carrying out a sortie.

The NATO exercise is pitting a "Blue" striking force against an "Orange" fleet of submarines in the Atlantic between Iceland and Norway.

The Blue force is supposed to be attacking land targets in north Europe with carrier-based planes and guided missiles.

Three Persons Are Hurt In Area Mishaps

Three persons were seriously injured in area traffic accidents last night and this morning.

A Los Angeles man was severely hurt in a motorcycle-truck collision north of Justiceburg this morning. Two were injured when their car overturned last night near Cogdell Memorial hospital.

George Hudgins, motorcycle rider, was involved in an accident with a truck half a mile north of Justiceburg on U. S. 84 about 11 a.m. today. He was rushed to Cogdell hospital in a Bell ambulance. His injuries had not been completely determined at noon.

Injured in the accident about 11:30 last night was James Cagle, 2242 Cook Street, Abilene, an employe of Proctor and Gamble, and James W. Wlash, 810 South 11th, Abilene, employed by American Chiclet Gum Co. Cagle was identified as the driver.

The two men were taken to Cogdell hospital in a Bolger ambulance. Walsh reportedly suffered a broken leg and Cagle a broken collar bone.

SPOT MUSE

ONE MAN laughingly accused administrators of the Snyder schools of putting a temporary building at West Elementary School in plain view of the public to point up the need of more class room space, since a bond election will be coming up soon with a new elementary school proposed. Actually the building was placed there because it was the best place for it, not just so the public could see it. And while we are on the subject there are many temporary frame buildings which were forced into use this year by an overload of students. Those old buildings were first put into use several years ago, and they have been mighty handy, although they are suffering from being shifted from one school to another as needed.

ESTIMATES ARE that Scurry County will need about 850 Mexican National laborers for the cotton harvest, and the domestic labor force working in this area is expected to be larger than usual. Crews from South Texas are not expected to pass over the crops here in favor of irrigated cotton on the Plains as readily as they have in the past. Some of the cotton here, particularly in the east and southeast parts of the county, is said to look as good as much of the irrigated crops.

Savings & Loan Association Now 'In Business' In Snyder

Snyder Savings & Loan Association, Snyder's third major financial institution, is now "in business."

Max West, president, said the association has received word by telegram from Washington, D. C., that effective immediately its accounts are insured by the Federal Savings & Loan Insurance Corp.

This means the association, which has been awaiting this word, can now officially take deposits and make loans. Up to this time, the association has been only taking pledges for deposits and making some commitments for loans.

The association was required to have at least $200,000 and 175 depositors. It has about $230,000 and more than the required number of depositors. Most of the depositors who have made pledges so far have pledged $1,000 or above, but many pledges are from $10 to $100, the president said.

The association pays three and one-half per cent interest on deposits. West said deposits as of Dec. 31 and June 30 each year will be those eligible for dividends.

The association was organized nearly a year ago, on Nov. 21, 1956, and its office at 2605 Avenue S has been open since March.

Open house will be held at the office Oct. 4.

West and Mrs. Bill Early, secretary and bookkeeper, operate the association's office.

Other officers are Gene Best, vice-president, and Lee Smyth, secretary-treasurer. They are all directors, and other directors are C. O. Holder, Fred Auforth, Harold Bennett, and Dr. Robert H. Hargrove.

Pay Stopped On Shoemake Policy

AUSTIN (AP) — Judge Charles Betts ordered payments discontinued today on a million dollar term life insurance policy for A. B. Shoemake.

Shoemake was head of the defunct U.S. Trust and Guaranty Co. of Waco. He fired a bullet through his brain shortly after the collapse of the banking-insurance firm.

Medical experts offered testimony in 98th District Court today that recent examination of Shoemake showed he had a life expectancy equal to any other individual of the same age, 62.

"It is too much of a gamble," said Betts in his decision to stop payments.

The state receiver had been paying almost $5,000 every 3 months on the term policy, which now is worth about $719,000. The present payment was due Sept. 1 and had to be paid by Oct. 1 or it would be discontinued.

"His life expectancy is as good or better than any other individual of a comparable age," said Dr. Albert La Londe, Austin neurosurgeon who examined Shoemake at the Waco Veterans Administration Hospital last week.

"Since he obviously will be relieved of most of the stress and strain of ordinary living, he might be expected to live longer because of his brain injury," said Dr. L. F. Paggi of Austin.

Paggi said the bullet apparently had similar effect to an operation which would remove that part of the brain that would cause anxiety and worry.

Paggi said "there is no doubt in my mind that he is completely mentally incompetent and probably will be the rest of his life."

Investigators thus may never learn all the facts leading up to the fall of his companies.

State receiver-liquidator J. D. Wheeler said he had studied alternates on converting the policy from term insurance to full insurance but decided there would be no advantage to this step. He recommended dropping the payments.

The million dollar policy was bought in 1954. As a term policy the value decreases over the life of the policy, in this case 10 years. If Shoemake lives to 1963, the receivership would have paid in as much as the policy would net in case of his death.

Insurance statistics and the medical evidence offered showed Shoemake would live more than 15 years.

La Londe said Shoemake was "most cooperative throughout the examination." He said Shoemake denied he had ever received any gunshot wound and "stated he was in the Veterans Hospital because of numbness of his left foot."

Shoemake was able to name the state's two senators and governor and could read a newspaper article and explain what the article meant, La Londe said.

"In reading, he mispronounced words and omitted words, but this did not interfere, apparently, with his interpreting what he was reading," La Londe continued.

"The patient has made marked improvement in both his neurologic status and in the profound behavioral disturbance which was present following his injury as well as almost complete recovery from the paralysis of the left extremities," he said.

County ASC Committee Is Relected Here

The Scurry County Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation committee which has served for the past year was reelected this morning at the annual county ASC convention.

Members of the committee are Judd McGaha, chairman; Charlie Eastman, vice-chairman; Roy Coston, member; Clyde South, first alternate; and Martin Murphy, second alternate.

The county convention was held by chairmen of the four community ASC committees, who were elected earlier this month by ballot vote of farmers throughout the county.

The new year for the committee to serve will begin next Tuesday. The new ASC practice year, however, does not start until Jan. 1.

Members of the county convention were Everett Clarkson, LeRoy Key, Mozell Roggenstein, and James Davidson.

Two Clarinets Are Recovered In Snyder

Police recovered two clarinet music instruments yesterday which were stolen from a car at a tourist court here about a week ago.

The clarinets were owned by Odis A. Claxton, Jr., employe of Caldwell Music Co., Abilene.

T. L. Steele, police chief, said that the operator of a service station on the East Highway found the clarinets when he went behind his station near the Santa Fe railroad tracks to burn some trash. The clarinets had apparently been dumped there by the thief.

Parity Program Explained Here

There are too many misconceptions on the part of the American public about the meaning of parity, a word important to farmers, Alex Dickie of Denton, president of the Texas Farmers Union, said at a meeting here last night.

Dickie spoke at a supper held by the Scurry County Farmers Union for members and their families in Towle Memorial Park. About 100 farmers and their families attended.

The group was entertained by the Vittio Quartet of Rotan prior to Dickie's talk.

Many American people think that parity means only subsidization of farmers, which is untrue, Dickie said, adding that parity is only the fair share of the American dollar.

The farmer, Dickie said, gets only $5 out of every $100 spent by the federal government for subsidies.

The American farmer cannot continue to exist under the present farm program, the Farmers Union man said. The price of a commodity cannot be cut without that commodity's production being raised.

Dickie discussed a possible solution to the farmer's price-production problem. He must follow the pattern set by industry and set his price, cutting production. He must produce only what the public will buy.

A new bill will be coming up in Congress in this connection. Industry operates with national boards, and the new bill proposes a national farm board which can figure what production is needed and set the price of the commodity.

Dickie also discussed the alarming rate of loss of farmers in the U. S. Local family units are disappearing from farms rapidly, he said.

Local organizations have also pointed out the loss of farmers here. Aubrey Headstream, local manager for Sweetwater Production Credit Association, said a check through their records shows that the average age of the Scurry County farmer is 54.

According to a recent survey of Midwest Electric Cooperative, it has in the last two years lost 600 farm families in its nine-county area.

SAYS CAGE

It's Like A Cancer Inside

AUSTIN (AP)—BenJack Cage refused today to answer Senate investigators' questions about the collapse of ICT Insurance Co., then pleaded with them emotionally to understand his position.

"It's like a cancer inside of me to sit here and resort to my personal privileges," he told Sen. Charles Herring after cold-shouldering 30 critical committee questions.

Much of his spontaneous speech to the five man group was disjointed and he repeated himself numerous times. In refusing to answer questions previously, he had been smiling and occasionally he chuckled.

Cage's plea came when Herring stopped the futile questioning and appealed to the ICT promoter personally to have "concern for the losses suffered by ICT stockholders."

"We can't find out what happened unless we know what the facts are," Herring said in a loud voice, leaning toward Cage a few feet away.

"It is no more pleasant for me than you, for me to sit here and resort to my personal privileges," Cage replied after talking to his attorney, M. R. Irion, briefly.

He explained that he could not answer questions because records of the defunct ICT and its 74 subsidiary corporations are scattered over several states, many of them locked up with investigating grand juries.

"Largely, some of the people who ran these companies have suddenly found themselves Indians instead of chiefs," he said. "If I had time and the money I might be able to get the true issues."

PARATROOPERS IN CLASH

strategic points all around the school.

Four soldiers stood just outside each of the first-floor doors, and others guarded the long, slanting steps leading up from two sides to the main entrance.

They were all in olive-green battle dress, carrying rifles with short combat bayonets.

The commanders were there, on the school grounds.

A "front" began to develop before 8 a.m.

The first move came when Maj. James Meyers of San Antonio, Tex., ordered a squad of soldiers to disperse about a dozen boys and men who gathered around the gas pumps in a service station just across the street from the high school.

"Move on out," Meyers told the group.

Sullenly, but with no word, the men began walking down the sidewalks. They gulped soft drinks first and then dropped the bottles.

For a while, an unearthly silence settled over the school. Only the squawking of the walkie-talkies, as messages came in from other points, broke the morning calm.

Then a bigger crowd began to congregate at a corner, a full block from the school.

People gathered on a lawn, flowed over into the sidewalk, and were standing six and eight deep down the street. A youth in a pink shirt, glaring defiance at the soldiers, jeered, "Why don't you tin soldiers go home."

Meyers picked up the speaker on the public address system of a mobile transmitter unit.

"You are again instructed to go to your homes peacefully," he said. "Disperse and return to your homes."

The people did not move. They were not menacing. They said nothing. But they did not move.

Meyers quietly picked up the walkie-talkie, connecting him with the command post.

He called for two platoons.

Almost instantly, the helmeted soldiers came dog-trotting down the street, rifles held across their chests.

Meyers broke the platoon into two groups, and ordered them to approach the crowd from the flanks.

Breaking into a run, the soldiers separated. One group headed for the crowd on the sidewalk, the other moved in on the people on the lawn.

They did not appear to touch the people with the bayonets. But they forced those on the sidewalk for down the street. Those on the lawn were hered in the porch.

Lt. William F. Neff of Cincinnati, was saying: "You can go to school or you can leave. You can move out or I'll have you moved out."

"Take your choice—now."

The people were curiously silent. There was some muttering, but no shouting or real noise. They kept falling back.

The same scene, on a smaller scale, was repeated several times between 8 and 9 o'clock.

Then, suddenly, at the south end of the school, the barricades parted and an Army station wagon rolled through, with jeeps ahead and behind.

Shouts broke out, "There they come."

The Negro students were in the station wagon with an Army officer.

The car came to a stop opposite the front entrance of the school inside the line of paratroopers. The students got out quietly.

Again, without hurrying, they walked across the spacious grounds toward the steps.

The six girls were all wearing summer dresses, gaily colored. The three boys were in open throat shirts.

Windows on the second floor of the school suddenly filled with the heads of white students, watching.

Cold Front Hanging Out In Gulf Area

By The Associated Press

General rains were forecast for Texas for the next two or three days Wednesday.

Streams in South Texas, already soaked by three days of often torrential downpours, spread further over lowlands.

The Weather Bureau said a cold front which moved through Texas last weekend was hanging out in the Gulf, circulating moisture over the state.

Skies were cloudy over the entire state Wednesday with light rain and drizzle extending from the coast north to Austin and San Antonio and hitting scattered southwestern points.

Rain or drizzle was reported at Galveston, Houston, Palacios, Cotulla, Junction, San Antonio, College Station, Austin, Beeville, Alice, Brownsville and Laredo.

A flood threat to the Falls City area by the San Antonio River ended Monday night when the stream crested at 9 feet, well below the 12-foot flood stage.

At Three Rivers, the Nueces reached 33.15 feet Monday night and was expected to crest at 36.5 feet Tuesday. Flood stage at Three Rivers is 36 to 37 feet. No serious flood was expected.

Several other South Texas streams were over their banks or threatening. Many cattlemen moved livestock to higher ground.

Eye Cornea Transplanted

DALLAS (AP)— Rush Ivey, 23, blinded 16 months ago by a refrigerator unit explosion, awaited today results of a cornea transplant done yesterday.

Eye surgeons performed a total transplant of the cornea, the window of the eye.

An eye was removed from a woman in Tyler yesterday and flown to Dallas. The woman had lost the sight of the eye through glaucoma, but the cornea was normal.

One eye was destroyed in the blast. The other, with the cornea covered with scar tissue, was believed in excellent shape if the damaged cornea could be replaced.

It will be 30 days before he knows if sight has been restored.

Ivey's wife expects their third child soon.

Wheat Law Agreements To Be Signed

A new federal feed wheat law has been recently approved and will be administered by county Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation committees.

The new law provides for up to 30 acres of wheat which can be grown on the farm, with all of that produced used for feed seed or human food on the farm where it is produced.

None of that crop may be sold, bartered, or exchanged, and none will be eligible for price support.

If the agreement were violated, the regular marketing quota penalty provisions would apply, as on wheat under the price support program.

Farms participating in the wheat acreage reserve will not be eligible for the feed wheat exemption.

All producers on a farm must sign an agreement if anyone wishes to participate. Agreements must be signed prior to wheat seeding on the farm, or Oct. 15, whichever is later.

White, Negro Crowd Forms

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Fifteen teenagers were arrested yesterday when they ignored orders to move on after police broke up, without disorders, a crowd of several hundred white and Negro high school pupils in South Philadelphia.

The youngsters, after questioning, were taken home in police patrol cars.

Police said the crowd assembled after false reports of a drug store shooting. The teenagers were mostly students from South Philadelphia High School and Bok Vocational School.

The area where they assembled was the scene last Wednesday of an attack by six young Negroes on a white girl in a school yard. The six are being held for grand jury action.

Police said the false report was that the shooting scrape was between a white and Negro boy.

Capt. Frank Nolan said the rumors evidently spread as the result of a police mission to the drugstore to help a man who had become ill.

Residents of the section told police racial tension seemed to be growing among the high school students.

Police Capt. Harry Wilhere said some of his associates called the assembly a potential brawl.

Mrs. B. Zimmerman Hostess To Antheneum Study Club

The Atheneum Study Club met Tuesday at 3 p.m. at the Martha Ann Woman's Club, with Mrs. Bill Zimmerman as hostess.

Mrs. Zimmerman, president, presided over the meeting. The club voted to participate with the Acacia Study Club in presenting the Corgill Production. Mrs. Fickas Bell gave the parliamentarian report.

Mrs. Bill Brown presented the program, with the topic, "Christian Science." She reviewed the life of Mary Baker Eddy, known as the discoverer and founder of Christian Science.

Mary Baker Eddy was born on July 16, 1821 and was considered a delicate child from birth, therefore her education took place at home. She started publication of many daily papers and monthly journals. She also founded a college and served as president and taught most of the classes. She died at the age of 90.

Refreshments were served to 11 members and two guests, Mrs. Lindy Clark, and Mrs. Max von Roeder.

Fashion Story Calls For The Use Of Jewels

Jewelry has a many splendored role to play this season, as an important footnote to the story of studied simplicity in the new fashions.

One prominent designer describes the current styles as a "showcase," in which women can express their own feelings for fashion and beauty. The studied simplicity of the new clothes demands that a woman add something of herself — her own taste and ideas — to the ensemble to make it truly hers.

It is in this task — of glamorous addition, of accenting the basic story of fashion, of giving it a stamp of true individuality, that jewelry plays such an important role this season. According to the Fashion Coordination Institute, a survey of basic fall trends shows that this fashion companionship between the new jewelry and the new clothes is a planned and pretty thing.

A major trend in suits, is to ease the collars away from the neckline, to give a delicate new look to the easy suit lines. Specially designed footnotes to this strong fashion trend are the burnished little tailored necklaces designed to fit the neck snugly and carefully. Others sparkle with color, like jeweled collars, to eliminate the "bare" look so unflattering to all but the very young.

Several top desingers, have dramatically plunged necklines to a new low front and back on cocktail and evening clothes. The newest of the necklaces have followed the elaborate jeweled pendants, to put a modest and fashionable accent on the new bare fashions. Pins also accent the backs of these new "bare" beauties.

Top hat desingers have covered the hair for fall in smart berets, toques, modified peach basket hats. Earrings have grown to dramatic oversized buttons, embellished, ea with raised surfaces or glowing jewels, to eliminate the "snatched" look of the hairless beauties, and to lend emphasis and drama to the new stark lines. Small drop earrings give visible accent to the deep cloche hats.

The easy sheath, with its undefined lines, understated wearable simplicity, cries for the accents of the new dramatic and beautiful pins.

Young 4-H Girls Elect Officers

The Snyder Elementary 4-H Club girls met Tuesday afternoon in the County Home Demonstrations office. Carolyn Engler and Glenda Maddox, junior leaders, were in charge of the meeting.

Election of officers was held with the following girls elected: Doris Rhodes, president; Connie Sue Morton, vice president; Sue Christian, secretary-treasurer; Sheila Dupree, reporter; Nancy Merritt, and Vanita Bunt, recreation leaders.

New members of the club are Virginia Coldazer, Sheila Dupree, Vanita Bunt and Connie Sue Morton.

DE Class Holds Called Meeting

The Distributive Education Class of Snyder High School met for a called meeting in the D. E. room Monday.

Plans were discussed for the annual chicken fry. Committees were appointed to work on the concession stand, selling programs and pillows at the football game.

Discussions were held on local state and national dues for the new year. Thirty-five members attended.

Ever prepare "steeped" coffee? To make it, pour boiling water over the coffee and let it stand over very low heat about 10 minutes. Be sure to keep the heat so low that the water doesn't simmer. Throw in a tablespoon or so of cold water and the grounds will settle. Then strain and serve at once.

BUCKIN' THE LINE

By BUCK FRANCIS
News Sports Editor

IF YOU'LL NOTE today's college football rankings you shouldn't have any doubt, then, that the state of Texas isn't the top producer of football talent.

Nogless than six Texas teams are in the top 20 in the AP poll which may be found elsewhere on this sheet. Five of those are SWC teams, Texas A&M, Baylor, Texas, SMU and Rice. The other is Univers / of Houston, a member of the Missouri Valley Conference.

Add Oklahoma to the list and you really have the answer to "which is the capital state in football." One-fourth of the Sooner squad is made up of Texas boys.

Oklahoma, incidentally, is the only Big 8 school in the top 20. And only two teams on the OU schedule this season are in the top 20 at the moment, Texas 13th and Pitt 16th.

Just another sample of Oklahoma's "powder puff" schedule.

Tigers Climb

While on the subject of ratings, the Tigers jumped from 12th to 9th in the weekly UP state Triple-A poll this week on the strength of last week's 33-0 victory over Dumas.

The Tigers were rated 8th in this poll before the season started but dropped to 12th after losing to Borger.

Two of the teams the Tigers must meet during the regular season are rated above the Bengals in the UP poll, Breckenridge (3rd) and Levelland (7th).

Here is the top 10 in the UP ratings:

1. Nederland; 2. Graham; 3. Breckenridge; 4. Kilgore; 5. Port Neches; 6. Edison of San Antonio; 7. Levelland; 8. Andrews; 9. Snyder; 10. Palestine.

In still another state poll, the Tigers are ranked 6th in the Fort Worth Star-Telegram ratings. The Tigers have been in this spot since the season started.

Nederland also tops the Star-Telegram poll.

Spikes Fares Well In Debut

For a sophomore, ex-Tiger Jack Spikes did all right in his college debut with TCU last Saturday.

Spikes gained 33 yards in nine carries against Kansas in a game that saw rain fall throughout the game. One observer at the TCU-KU game said it rained as hard and steady during the game as it did in the Tiger-Monterey game two years back.

In other words, it almost came a flood on the TCU campus Saturday.

Spikes, in addition to his ball carrying chores, kicked an extra point that enabled the Frogs to tie Kansas, 13-13.

Spikes, who started the Kansas game at right half, has been switched to fullback to replace the injured Buddy Dike. Dike, who scored the first TCU touchdown against Kansas, will be out at least three weeks with a cut leg.

Jack played the fullback position only one time last fall as a freshman — against SMU in the season finale.

The 200-pound Spikes will give you a good performance anywhere you put him.

SCOUTS SAY

Big Spring Has Rugged Outfit

The Tigers are confronted with a major problem this week in figuring ways and means to break up Big Spring's passing attack Friday night.

Freshman coach J. P. Ward, who has scouted Big Spring in both her games to date, told the Quarterback Club last night:

"I don't see how our short backs are going to be able to knock down passes thrown to the Steers' giant wing back, 6-6 Jan Loudermilk."

Quarterback Jimmy Evans has been throwing to Loudermilk quite frequently and with good success, Ward pointed out.

Also posing a big problem for the Tigers is how to stop the Steers' power-running fullback, 190 pound Wayne Fields.

"Fields runs with a lot of power and he's also fast," Ward said.

Fields was Big Spring's leading ball carrier against the Tigers last season, gaining a net of 59 yards in 14 carries.

V. V. Shearburn, who scouted Big Spring's defense in the Steers' games with Andrews and Levelland, said the Steers are double tough from tackle to tackle.

Most of the yardage Andrews and Levelland gained on Big Spring came on passes and wide stuff, Shearburn said.

Coach John Conley, commenting on last week's game with Dumas said the Tigers showed much improvement over the game with Borger but added:

"We still have a long way to go."

In business matters last night, the Quarterback Club elected to stage a membership drive.

QB prexy, F. G. Hoefer, announced that about 175 had paid membership dues to date.

Several committees were appointed for the drive. They include:

The square — Bob Crowell and J. W. Phillips.

East Hiway — Jimmy (Hoss) Clayton.

Lamesa Hiway — Doug McGlaun and Dan Cotton.

Big Spring Hiway—Bill Eiland.

Lubbock Hiway — Joe Williamson.

Supply houses — Bo Meyers.

Standard Sacros No. 1 — M L. Broman and Joe Luther.

Sacroc No. 3 — Ross Carroll.

Sacroc Unit Manager — Johnny Pitner.

Gin, Feed and Seed — W. J. (Bill) Ely.

The Quarterback Club membership goal has been set at 250.

Tigers Out To Even Series With Steer 11

Friday's game pitting the Tigers and Big Spring will be the 8th meeting between the two schools with the Steers holding a 4-3 edge in the previous seven outings.

The Tigers have won the last two games from the Steers, 26-7 in 1955 and 39-0 last season.

In the previous seven games, the Tigers have outscored the Steers, 121-108.

Last season's 39-0 Tiger victory was the most lopsided game of the series.

The largest Big Spring victory margin in the series was 32-15 in 1954, the year Big Spring advanced to the state finals.

Following are the scores of all previous Tiger-Big Spring games:

1928 — Snyder 7, Big Spring 0.
1929 — Snyder 7, Big Spring 19.
1952 — Snyder 13, Big Spring 28.
1953 — Snyder 14, Big Spring 27.
1954 — Snyder 15, Big Spring 32.
1955 — Snyder 26, Big Spring 7.
1956 — Snyder 39, Big Spring 0.

HITS GRANDSLAMMER

Hank Aaron On A 'Hot' Streak

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press

If streak-hitter Hank Aaron can keep his big bat boomin' it may be "Katie bar the door" when the Milwaukee Braves and New York Yankees, the power clubs of the majors, start swinging in the World Series next week.

Hammerin's Henry, who hits in spurts but remains dangerous any time he comes to the plate, is on a whale of a ride at the moment, batting .415 with four home runs and 12 RBIs in a 10-game streak. It's no coincidence that his streak overlaps the eight-game streak that brought Milwaukee the National League flag.

It was Aaron's two-run homer in the 11th that nailed the pennant in Monday's 4-2 victory over St. Louis, and it was his first major league grand-slam home run that made last night's 6-1 decision over the second - place Cardinals a cinch.

It was Aaron's 44th home run of the year, third in three days, and kept him in the major league lead while southpaw Warren Spahn, Milwaukee's probable choice for the World Series opener a week from today, won his 21st.

With the pennant decided, the rest of the NL clubs scrambled for the leftovers last night. Brooklyn's Dodgers, playing what probably was their last game in Ebbets Field, nailed no worse than a share of third with a 2-0 victory over Pittsburgh. Cincinnati clinched fourth and stayed in contention for a third-place tie by beating Chicago's Cubs 4-3 and 11-9 in a twi-night pair.

Philadelphia's fifth-place Phillies defeated the New York Giants 5-0.

In the American League, the Chicago White Sox outlasted Kansas City's Athletics, the club that killed their flag bid Monday, 7-6. Ted Williams' 38th home run gave Boston a 2-1 edge over Washington in the only other game scheduled.

Aaron's big homer came in the first after a pair of singles and a walk off right-hander Sad Sam Jones, who didn't finish the frame.

Spahn cracked the Cards again with a five-hitter, giving up the run in the third when Stan Musial doubled and Del Ennis singled.

Rookie southpaw Danny McDevitt gained his second shutout with a five-single job on the Pirates. He struck out nine for a 7-4 record. Bennie Daniels, a right-hander making his first major league appearance, was the loser.

Bob Thurman was 4-for-7 and drove in four runs for the Redlegs in their sweep while Wally Post homered in both games. Thurman's single broke a 3-all tie in the first-game fourth and his two-run homer triggered a clinching three-run nightcap fifth.

Curt Simmons won his 12th with a four-hitter for the Phils with Hank Sauer and Valmy Thomas splitting the Giants' singles.

Bums Bid Ado To Brooklyn

By ED CORRIGAN

BROOKLYN (AP) — Ebbets Field looked the same as always today. The admission price signs still were hanging. The flags of the eight National League teams still wafted in the Flatbush breeze. Even the tarpaulin was spread across the infield.

There was one big difference, though.

It was a ghost ball park. Barring an unforeseen miracle, the Brooklyn Dodgers never will play there again. Only the official signing of contracts stood between them and moving to Los Angeles next year.

To a man, Brooks were sad at the thought of leaving the little sandbox.

"It's an eerie feeling," said Duke Snider.

Said Manager Walt Alston: "When I came here, I heard that this was a tough town, that the fans could get on you. But they treated me good. I'm slow making friends but when I make them I hate to leave them."

"Gosh, I hope last night's game wasn't our last one in Brooklyn," said catcher Roy Campanella.

"I'm afraid it was the last game in Brooklyn," observed outfielder Carl Furillo sadly. "This is a sorry bunch to have to leave here. It is a good town."

Captain Pee Wee Reese, the senior Brook in point of service, shook his head and said: "I don't think any ballplayer anywhere ever had better treatment that I here in Brooklyn. It's tough."

A crowd of 6,702 turned out for the finale and it resulted in a 2-0 victory for the Brooks over the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Organist Gladys Gooding kept up a running selection of sentimental songs and when the ball game was over, she played Auld Lang Syne.

And the wake ended.

SOONERS HOLD 1ST

Aggies 2nd In AP Grid Poll

By The Associated Press

The Oklahoma Sooners, whose decisive opening victory over Pittsburgh supported the preseason balloting that nominated them as the nation's No. 1 college football team of 1957, can't lose this week.

After reaching the heights to smash Pitt, regarded as the East's best, 26-0, Oklahoma has an idle Saturday before meeting its first Big Eight rival Iowa State Oct. 5.

Meanwhile, the sports writers and broadcasters, who picked Oklahoma first in the preseason Associated Press ranking poll, reiterated their belief by voting the Sooners the No. 1 rank in the first weekly poll after the start of the season.

The results of Saturday's games brought several changes in the preseason ranking order. Of 74 writers and broadcasters participating in this week's poll, 65 voted Oklahoma first; 4 put Michigan State on top; 2 voted for Duke and single first-place votes went to Navy, Minnesota and Iowa.

In the point scoring on the usual 10-9-8 etc. basis, it was Oklahoma 720, Texas A&M 460, Georgia Tech 374 and Michigan State 354. Completing this week's first 10 were Navy, Minnesota, Duke, Tennesse, Oregon State and Michigan.

The top 10 with first-place votes in parentheses:

1. Oklahoma (65)	720
2. Texas A&M	460

6. Minnesota (1)	275
7. Duke (2)	249
8. Tennessee	247
9. Oregon State	223

Tech Guard Is Ruled Ineligible

LUBBOCK (AP) — Guard Ray Campbell was off the Texas Tech football squad today, hitting the Raiders at one of their weakest spots.

Campbell is a Texarkana Junior College transfer and former Little All-America. He entered service before graduating from high school and didn't have a diploma. He studied in the service and got a diploma there.

The Southwest Conference refused to honor it and declared Campbell ineligible.

Claasen Picks Buckeyes Over Frogs; Purdue Over Irish

By HAROLD CLAASSEN

NEW YORK (AP) — Blocks and tackles, bumps and bruises, winners and losers—here's your preview of this weekend's college football games. (Last week's masterminding resulted in 28 correct selections and only six losses for an average of .824.)

Princeton over Rutgers: These two colleges started all this business almost a century ago, so they head the week's selections. Princeton is the Ivy league favorite.

UCLA over Illinois: The Californians have no seniors, Illinois claims it has no halfbacks. It will be played Friday night on the Pacific Coast and that gives UCLA the edge.

Northwestern over Stanford: Bob McKeiver is one of the finest running backs in the Big Ten and Stanford no longer has John Brodie. This is the week's TV game.

Tennessee over Auburn: Could be the Southeastern Conference title will be settled right here. Auburn on the search for a quarterback.

Purdue over Notre Dame: But don't bet the family jewels. Notre Dame's defense still on the patchy side and Purdue has a horde of running backs.

Michigan State over Indiana: The Hoosiers haven't the talent and their coach has been suspended for a year. Michigan State has everything.

Michigan over Southern California: The Trojans not only lost 11 lettermen via graduation but eight more by conference rulings.

Ohio State over Texas Christian: Both teams in the process of rebuilding.

Pittsburgh over Oregon: The Panthers had better build a fence to stop Jim Shanley or it will be the Oklahoma debacle all over again.

Skipping over the others in a hurry:

FRIDAY NIGHT

Denver over San Jose, George Washington over The Citadel

SATURDAY

EAST: Army over Nebraska, Florida State over Boston college, Brown over Columbia, Cornell over Colage, Dartmouth over New Hampshire, Holy Cross over Virginia Military, Navy over William & Mary, Syracuse over Iowa State, Villanova over Furman, Yale over Connecticut, Delaware over Lehigh, Penn State over Penn.

SOUTH: West Virginia over Virginia Tech, Florida over Wake Forest, Vanderbilt over Georgia, Kentucky over Mississippi, LSU over Alabama, Maryland over North Carolina State, Clemson over North Carolina, Mississippi State over Memphis State, South Carolina over Wofford, Georgia Tech over Sothern Methodist.

CONFERENCE SOUGHT

Most Southern Officials Hit Decision On Use Of Troops

By The Associated Press

Most Southern officials hit hard at President Eisenhower's decision to use federal troops to enforce school integration in Little Rock while Northerners backed his action as necessary to preserve law and order.

"Federal force must be used in this situation to put down force," said Adlai Stevenson, twice beaten by Eisenhower for the presidency. Stevenson termed the Little Rock situation a national disaster, but he said the President had no choice. He said Gov. Orval Faubus behaved irresponsibly in using the Arkansas National Guard to thwart integration.

A Southern governor, A. B. Chandler of Kentucky, agreed that Eisenhower had no choice. Chandler, an avowed candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination in 1960 said, "We can't have anarchy and mob rule."

Sen. Olin Johnston (D-SC) talked of armed resistance.

"If I were governor and he (the President) came in, I'd give him a fight such as he has never been in before.

"I'd proclaim a state of insurrection and I'd call out the National Guard and then we'd find out who's going to run things in my state."

Gov. Averell Harriman of New York said the President had "contributed to the making of the present situation" in Little Rock by not taking strong action at the outset of the school crisis.

"Any trouble we have from now on can be laid at the door of the President's complacency and policy of appeasement of Gov. Faubus while this crisis was developing," the New York Democrat added.

"This sort of totalitarian rule may put Negro children into the white schools of Little Rock, but it will have a calamitous effect on race relations and the cause of national unity," Russell declared.

At Sea Island, Ga., where Southern governors are in conference, Gov. Frank Clement of Tennessee proposed a committee of seven governors from the conference to confer immediately with Eisenhower to seek a solution to the school problem without recourse to federal troops. Some of his colleagues welcomed the suggestion, but Gov. Theodore McKeldin of Maryland said he was opposed to the idea.

Flu Begins To Slacken Off In State

By The Associated Press

The flu, which swept parts of Texas like a grass fire over the weekend, appeared to have slowed Wednesday.

TCU spokesmen at Fort Worth said they appeared to be over the hump of a flu wave which hit the college last week. Southwest Texas State College at San Marcos resumed classes as its sick toll diminished.

Texas A&M College, with 1,600 students bed-ridden from attacks, reported 200 new cases Tuesday, compared with 500 new cases Monday.

None were diagnosed as Asian flu.

The Health Department said Tuesday that as of Saturday there were 9,151 cases of influenza-like illness in Texas suspected of being Asian flu. The Department said, however, only a score had been definitely confirmed by laboratory tests as the new disease.

Dr. J. E. Peavy, Department epidemiologist, said priorities suggested for distribution of Asian flu vaccine do not include football players.

Spokesmen at both the University of Texas and Texas A&M said their football teams had been given shots.

At Fort Worth, County Health Director Carl Jordan said Tarrant County's first cases of Asian flu had been definitely diagnosed.

Leader Is Seized

ALGIERS (AP) — The French claimed today they had seized the Algiers' leader of the nationalist rebellion in Algeria. Picked up by parachute troops in a raid in the native quarter yesterday, he was identified as Yacef Saadi, 29, a baker.

LIVING IT UP

Portugal Has Many Palaces

By INEZ ROBB

BUSSACO, Portugal—For every castle in Spain there are 10 palaces in Portugal. King, queens, princes, potentates, bishops and rich adventurers built them by the dozens during the days of the Portuguese glory when her overseas empire in the 15th, 16th and 17th Centuries was one of the greatest the world has ever known.

Often the 20th Century traveler may stay in a palace, prudently turned into an inn or hotel by its owner or the government itself. In lovely Sintra, which is to Lisbon what Greenwich, Conn., or Old Westbury, Long Island, N. Y., is to New York, we stayed in the relatively small, perfect Palace of Seteais (Seven Echoes), in one woman's opinion the most exquisite hotel in Europe.

And now we are living it up in the Palace of Bussaco, a resplendent hotel that once was the hunting lodge of Portugal's royal family. Indeed, the monarchy ended a little more than a decade after Bussaco was built, and no wonder! Thaw definitely shot the wrong architect.

Bussaco was built in the last gasp of a peculiarly Portuguese architechtural style known as Manueline — which is, in three words, gussied-up Gothic. Its early use of marine motifs in decor, ropes, anchors and cable was a logical outgrowth of Portugal's preoccupation with the sea, from which she drew so much of her early wealth.

The Manueline style at the peak of perfection and beauty can be seen in the exquisite Jeronimos Church, begun in 1502, in the Lisbon suburb of Belem. Like the Saint Chapelle in Paris and the royal chapel at Windsor, it is unique. This whitestone church, so full of light, air and grace, scarcely seems anchored to earth. And when I saw it again a few days ago, decorated entirely in white flowers for a wedding, it was more ethereal than ever.

But Manueline, like the monarchy, was in its last decaying gasp when Bussaco was built. The traveler can only look upon it with the same awe in bad taste that he reserves for the Albert Memorial.

I never step into one of Bussaco's florid rooms or terraces without feeling that I am about to intrude on Prince Rudolph pinching the maids or chasing Audrey Hepburn around the tables.

The palace is situated 2,000 feet up the Serra do Bussaco above the Mondego River in the midst of a great state forest of towering cypresses. It is truly a place where every prospect pleases, with always another series of mountains on the horizon as far as the eye can see.

Below, the Mondego cuts its way through a deep, green gorge, terraced everywhere by the thrifty, hard-working Portuguese peasant save where the great granite outcroppings foil him. There are terraces only wide enough for a row of grape vines, or only large enough for a single olive tree, that great benefactor of mankind that can cling to a slope too steep for a mountain goat.

My husband, Add, and I are living in luxury at the one-time royal hunting lodge for $17 per day for the two of us, and that includes three excellent meals. To this must be added a 10 percent service and a three percent tourist tax. And we are surrounded by persons who seem to want to make us happy. By Portuguese standards, such prices are scandalous, if not downright robbery.

But we shall know how to beat this expensive rap another time. Today we stumbled on the tiny and beautiful village of Penacova on a cliff high above the Mondego, with views of its valley that can only be described as breath-taking. There I examined a Grade-A Portuguese pension, immaculate in every detail, where a double room and three meals per day for two ranges from $3.50 to $4. I honestly don't think we can afford to come home.

BILL BAYLESS
. . .Branch manager

Former Resident Gets New Post

Bill Bayless, former resident here, has been named Odessa branch sales manager for Sivalls Tanks, Inc., according to an announcement by S. P. Kroeker, executive vice-president.

Bayless replaces Jack Gray, who resigned to join Eton Metal Products Co. as manager of the special products division in Denver, Colo.

The new Odessa branch manager moves there from a position as Midland city sales representative for Sivalls. He has been with the company since April 1, 1955, starting as a trainee and later serving as a sales and service representative in the Big Spring-Snyder-Lubbock territory.

A native of Hermleigh and longtime resident of Scurry County, Bayless attended Texas Tech, Lubbock.

He is married and has one son and one daughter.

Santa Claus To Get Big Funeral Rites

CHICAGO (AP)—A police captain acted speedily yesterday when he learned Santa Claus died and his body was destined for potter's field.

He wasn't really Santa Claus to everybody. But William Moss, 65, was St. Nick for the last half dozen years to the kids around 79th and South Halsted streets, where he donned beard and bright red suit for the merchants' association.

Capt. William Hennessey of the busy South Side Gresham district said Moss was a friend to a lot of folks. He liked children and he had a hearty laugh.

Hennessey, Moss' landlady and a friend, Sam Kaplan, in whose restaurant Moss dined daily, never did learn any information about his family.

"They live out East," Moss would say. "I've been here 22 years. This is my home."

When Hennessey was told Moss had no money for burial he ordered the body taken to an undertaker — and then spread the word. Businessmen, policemen, the waitresses in Kaplan's restaurant dipped into their pockets.

"We've got enough for a fine funeral," Hennessey said.

When it was learned Moss was Jewish, Rabbi Jacob S. Rich agreed to officiate at today's services.

"Sure he'll have flowers," said Hennessey, "and a motorcycle escort to the Beverly cemetery with some squad cars too.

"It isn't every day you lose Santa Claus."

Marine Had Rather Have Longer Term

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP)—A Marine Corps sergeant surprised a municipal judge when he told him he preferred a 90-day sentence rather than 30 days.

Sgt. Richard K. Battershell, 27, Camp Pendleton, Calif., was ordered to serve 30 days for cashing five forged checks totaling $625. He told Municipal Judge Beach Vasey: "If I serve 90 days I'll receive a bad conduct discharge from the Marines without a court-martial.

With a 30-day sentence, however, the Marines could court-martial him and make him serve additional time in a military prison, Battershell explained.

Judge Vasey granted the request.

Four To Serve On Labor Group

Four Scurry County citizens will serve as a county farm labor committee during the cotton harvest season.

They already have met with David E. Harlow, office manager of the Texas Employment Commission office, to review the total seasonal employment needs developed by the TEC.

On the Scurry County farm labor committee are the Rev. Edward Chrisman, Bentley Baize, Paul Keaton and George Vicary.

The committee has been presented with the figures of the TEC indicating that Scurry County will be short 850 cotton pullers during the peak period of the cotton harvest.

The committee will function under Public Law 78, obtaining facts relevant to the supply of domestic farm workers existing in Scurry County and the shortage of workers, if any must be met by importing Mexican Nationals to harvest the cotton crop.

Under Public Law 78, the TEC must supply this information to the Secretary of Labor, who must limit the number of Mexican Nationals to be used in this county by granting a "ceiling." The committee consults with the local office manager and assists him in estimating the number of workers who will be needed, based on current local conditions affecting the cotton crop.

Ceilings granted by the Secretary of Labor limiting the importation of Mexican Nationals to this area will be posted in the post offices in Snyder, Ira, Dunn, Fluvanna, Hermeligh, Knapp and Dermott, and in the county agent's office and courthouse.

At present the TEC has estimated that 850 Mexican Nationals will have to be imported into this county to harvest this year's cotton crop.

County Attorney Is Real Ball Of Fire

FRANKLIN, Tex. (AP)—Franklin County Atty. Bryan Russ, a prosecutor in a murder trial, came into the courtroom a real ball of fire.

He smelled smoke and saw a wisp emerging from his clothing.

A handful of kitchen matches had caught fire in his pocket.

Louis Armstrong May Take Trip After All

DAVENPORT, Iowa (AP) — Louis (Satchmo) Armstrong says he may go to Russia after all.

After hearing President Eisenhower's televised explanation of why he sent troops to Arkansas, the famous Negro jazz trumpet player last night declared: "Things are looking better than they did before."

Armstrong had planned to make a government-sponsored tour of Russia but canceled it in bitterness when the school integration problem developed in Arkansas this month.

Woman Gets Little Help

CAPE GIRARDEAU, Mo. (AP)—Curious stares greeted a loan company clerk's appeals for help as she hopped onto a busy street yesterday, her hands and feet bound by holdup men.

"I tried to get help," said the clerk, Mrs. Dan Nenninger, 21. "I asked them to help me but they wouldn't do it.

"One man said he would, but he walked off and left me."

The passers-by apparently thought it was a prank.

Her feet still bound, Mrs. Nenninger finally hopped into a nearby store. There a clerk removed her bonds and listened to her story.

She said two holdup men entered the Superior Loan Co. and took $199.

Crackdown Is Paying Off In Galveston

GALVESTON (AP) — Atty. Gen. Will Wilson's crackdown on vice conditions June 6 bore additional fruit in 101 gambling indictments yesterday.

The Galveston County grand jury delivered the indictments to Dist. Judge Donald Markle and said it was nearing the end of nearly four months of investigations.

Markle previously had granted 65 temporary injunctions against gaming and other illegal activities. These followed raids by Texas Rangers and destruction of several hundred slot machines.

Names of those indicted were withheld pending issuance of warrants and arrests by the sheriff's department, expected sometime today.

In advance of defendants' arraignments, Markle set bonds at $1,000 for those named in each indictment.

Describing the indictments as the first against organized gambling ever returned in the county, the Galveston News said the number was exceeded only by 196 such indictments handed down March 30, 1928. It reported the last such indictments in Galveston County were returned in November, 1951.

The newspaper said most of the 1928 and 1951 indictments subsequently were dismissed on grounds of insufficent evidence.

Dist. Atty. L. F. Benson said the indictments charge keeping or exhibiting gaming tables or banks, keeping premises for the purpose of gaming, permitting premises to be used for gaming and possession of slot machines. These carry penalties on conviction of two to four years in prison.

Hearing Set On Policy

AUSTIN (AP)—A court hearing today determines whether $20,000 a year should be risked on a million dollar life insurance policy of A. B. Shoemake.

A $5,000 quarterly payment is due now and must be paid by Oct. 1 on the policy of the man who headed the defunct U.S. Trust and Guaranty Co.

Shoemake has been in a hospital about two years since firing a bullet into his brain shortly before the collapse of the multi-million dollar Waco banking-insurance firm. Dist. Judge Charles Betts named an Austin neurosurgeon to re-examine him Sept. 13.

Policies on Shoemake are with the Occidental Life Insurance Co. of California. They were issued for a 10-year period in 1954.

The policies are among assets of the company and its U.S. Automotive Service receiverships.

Son Of Comedy Pair Gets Labor Sentence

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP) — Ronnie Burns, actor son of George Burns and Gracie Allen, has been sentenced to spend two Saturdays doing "manual labor" for the Beverly Hills police chief.

Burns, 22, was given the sentence in Municipal Court yesterday as a condition of a 10-day jail term. He also was given one year's summary probation. Burns was sentenced for speeding 85 m.p.h. in a sports car in a 25-mile zone here.

EARTH CLEARING MACHINE DEMONSTRATED—A giant earth clearing machine whose developers say is capable of clearing jungles by yanking out trees by their roots and smashing them into splinters, is shown during a demonstration at Longview. Built by R. G. LeTourneau, Inc., and labeled the "Tree Crusher" the machine can cut a path 20 feet wide and clear an acre of land every 15 minutes. The machine is expected to be of great value in areas such as Africa or South America.

WITNESS CLAIMS

Girard Chased Scavengers

By GENE KRAMER

SOMAGAHARA, Japan (AP) — A prosecution witness testified today that minutes before William S. Girard fatally shot Mrs. Naka Sakai he chased other Japanese brass collectors on a U.S. firing range.

The witness, Hidetsugu Onezeki, said Girard pursued six or seven Japanese for more than 50 yards on the range near Somagahara.

Girard, of Ottawa, Ill., is charged with placing an empty cartridge case in a rifle grenade launcher and killing Mrs. Sakai.

Testifying at the final outdoor session on the range, Onezeki gave this account:

After chasing the scavengers, Girard returned to his foxhole and threw cartridge cases toward the Japanese. Mrs. Sakai approached and Girard called to her in Japanese:

"Old woman, there's really a lot of brass, isn't there?"

Mrs. Sakai went to a foxhole to which Girard pointed and climbed in, Onezeki said.

Girard fired at Mrs. Sakai and she tumbled to the ground, he said.

The testimony was taken as rain fell on the firing range. Presiding Judge Yuzo Kawachi was dressed in a raincoat and a large straw hat.

The trial will resume tomorrow. There will be no further outdoor hearings.

The testimony of Onezeki agreed in part with that of soldier Victor Nickel, of Inkster, Mich., who was with Girard just before Mrs. Sakai was shot Jan. 30.

Nickel testified yesterday that Girard called to Mrs. Sakai shortly before firing the shot that killed her. Onezeki gave the same testimony.

Nickel, the only American witness for the prosecution, said he believed Girard fired at Mrs. Sakai as a joke. Nickel said he did not believe Girard intended to hit her.

Lurid Age Winding Up

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Today's young people are far more conservative than their elders in their attitude toward sex, says a California theologian.

"It isn't that today's college-age generation is against the mass exploitation of sex," said Dr. Robert Elliott Fitch. "They are indifferent to it."

Fitch, dean of the Pacific School of Religion, Berkeley, Calif., told a luncheon meeting yesterday that the "lurid age," which began in youthful revolt following World War I, is drawing to a close.

The dean had a final word, however.

"It is ridiculous to speak of the fall of sex. It just can't happen," he said.

"Sex is here to stay."

Canned Smog To Be Sold For Souvenir

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Ever since the land boom days that preceded citrus and film production, Southern Californians have had a reputation for capitalizing on anything.

So now come two San Fernando Valley men to package smog, in cans and other containers, as a souvenir "of the nation's third largest city."

Charleton Young and Noel T. Young of Van Nuys have filed articles of incorporation.

Farm Worker Tells Of Fortune In Gold Coins

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Police held farm worker Isaias Ramos, 48, for questioning today about his reported discovery of a fortune in gold coins.

He was said to have uncovered 40,000 to 50,000 coins while digging on a farm near Montemorelos, south of Monterrey. They were estimated to be worth millions of pesos.

A son of the finder tried to spend one of the coins in a saloon. The news prompted Gustavo de la Garza, owner of the farm, to enter a claim.

Electric Lights Used For Filling Oil Lamp

BRISTOL, England —Officials of the state-run electrical system said today light is dawning on this dark mystery: Why backwoods farmers make so little use of newly installed current.

A district inspector said one old cottage dweller told him she found the electric light very useful.

"I always switch it on at dusk," she explained, "so that I can see to fill my oil lamps."

Comedian To Marry

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Comedian Doodles Weaver, 40, and actress Reita Ann Green, 21, will marry Oct. 6.

Sad Little Girl Left

DALLAS (AP)—Policemen played clown yesterday, trying to make a sad-faced little girl smile.

She is known only as Joyce, a tiny, blue-eyed blond of about 2 or 3, with a deep-set sadness in her face.

Patrolman B. L. Stround took her, and the doll she never uncradled from her arms, to police headquarters when an Oak Cliff woman complained the tot had been abandoned with her. Stround said the woman told him a man she had never seen before brought the toddler to her house Monday.

He said someone had recommended the woman as a good baby-sitter. And before she really knew what was going on, the man had fast-talked her and left.

When he failed to return after 36 hours, she called police.

Joyce was turned over to the juvenile home.

Weekend Rains Skip Big Part Of West

AUSTIN (AP) — Weekend rains were timely in East and South Texas, but they skipped ranch and farmlands in most of the west, the Department of Agriculture says.

The USDA said the bulk of small grains and legumes had been planted or were ready to plant in East Texas.

The rain fell south and east of a line from Gainesville, Abilene, and Del Rio, tapering off westward.

Good progress was reported in cotton harvesting on the upper coastal, south central and central counties.

Prospects for vegetables remained favorable.

Bogus Check Suspect Offers Judge A Pen

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Pietro Pugliano and his 18-year-old wife were arraigned yesterday on charges of passing about $3,000 worth of bad checks.

As magistrate E. N. Johnson was about to sign a legal form, his pen went dry. Pugliano smiled and handed his pen to the magistrate.

"Here judge, try this, it made a lot of money for me," he said.

Johnson did just that and, held Pugliano and his wife for court.

Pleasant Autumn Weather Prevails

By The Associated Press

Pleasant autumn weather was the rule in most all parts of the nation today.

Only a few areas reported wet weather and amounts were generally light. Showers sprinkled northern Michigan and parts of southern Florida and southern and western Texas.

It was a little cooler in most of the Atlantic Coast region except Florida.

Door Is Barred To Reds

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The U.N. General Assembly has barred the door to Red China for another year over bitter opposition from India and the Soviet bloc.

The Assembly voted last night in favor of a U.S. resolution to shelve the seating issue for the current session.

The vote was 47 in favor, 27 against and 7 abstentions—virtually the same lineup that defeated Peiping's bid for a U.N. seat last year.

With the perennial Chinese question out of the way, the Assembly resumes its general debate.

India spearheaded the Peiping campaign with a proposal to place the issue on the Assembly agenda for formal debate. While failing, India succeeded in getting plenty of debate on the record—the main thing the U.S. resolution sought to avoid.

Several Scandinavian countries supported the effort to stage a China debate. So did Ireland, although it condemned Peiping for aggressive policies.

Advocates of seating Red China actually picked up three votes over last year, when their bid was defeated 47-24 with 8 abstentions. They were Ireland and Morocco, who voted in 1956 to shelve the question, and Ghana, a new U.N. member.

U.S. Chief Delegate Henry Cabot Lodge declared that the United States does not oppose seating Red China because of its political beliefs, but because the Communist regime was not "peaceloving."

Russia's Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko declared that the U.N. could not bar Red China a seat just because "the United States does not happen to like the way of life" there.

Hurricane Kicks Up Waves Around Britain

LONDON (AP) — High waves kicked up by Hurricane Carrie pounded the coast of Britain today. There were at least three deaths and property damage was heavy.

At Mount's Bay in Cornwall, 22-year-old Christopher Mann was swept off a 40-foot cliff by a towering wave and drowned. Two men drowned after waves overturned their motorboat.

Court Order Is Attacked

DALLAS (AP)—The Dallas School Board furthered its attack today on U.S. Judge William Atwell's order that Dallas schools integrate at mid-term.

Andrew Thuss, board attorney, said yesterday a formal appeal of the order would be filed this weekend.

The board's petition that the U.S. 5th Appeals Court in New Orleans overrule the order went before the higher court. Thuss said the petition was sent to the court Friday and was received yesterday.

Atwell, after being twice overruled when he allowed the board more time to prepare for integration, ruled last month the schools must integrate at midterm.

Singapore Raids
