Cancer Cure Is Believed Found

Combination Treatment Developed By Trio Of Scientists After Five Years Work

BY GERALD MILLER
Associated Press Staff Writer

CHAMPAIGN, Ill., March 29. — Three scientists, working together for half a decade, have developed a combination treatment they believed today might be of great benefit for cancer.

Although the trio announced they had apparently cleared up diseased cells in the cancerous tissues of several human patients, they warned against "undue enthusiasm," stating the development yet is in its experimental stages and that much must be done before their findings are to be accepted as conclusive.

The three are Dr. R. M. Parr, a professor of chemistry of the University of Illinois; Dr. C. S. Bucher, physician and surgeon, and Dr. R. S. Funk, bacteriologist associated with the latter. Dr. Parr and Dr. Funk are women. The announcement was made here today simultaneously with the scheduled delivery of a paper at the American Chemical Society in New Orleans.

The case histories revealed, the announcement said, that in several cases where the disease was so far advanced that death was considered only a matter of weeks, the disease appeared arrested, sometimes rapidly disappearing. In other cases, where cancerous growths were yet in their early stages, the affected areas have cleared up until all indications of the disease have vanished. In no cases to date has the cancerous growth reappeared.

The development started when Dr. Parr began to experiment with the rare element "selenium" which had previously been used in connection with the treatment of cancer and rejected by Wasserman, Keysser and others.

In each case, however, Wasserman and the others rejected selenium in its various combinations because, while it appeared to cure cancer, it killed the majority of the rodents on which it was used.

Dr. Parr worked the selenium into a solution which, in its final

Action Taken Late Tuesday After Battles

Delegates Also Instructed To Vote As Unit On Questions; Cries Of "Railroading" Are Hurled By Opponents

Maine Democrats Assembling; Roosevelt Is Very Likely To Get 12 Votes; Pro Law Question Is Up

(By The Associated Press)

DAVENPORT, Iowa., March 29.—The state Democratic convention late today instructed its 26 delegates to the national convention for Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt of New York.

The action was on a separte resolution brought in by the resolutions committee, pledging the national delegation to "use all honorable means," to bring about the nomination of the New Yorker for president.

To Vote As Unit

It also instructed the delegates to vote as a unit on all questions.

Adoption of the resolution came in a stormy session in which state convention members opposed to pledging of the delegates hurled cries of "railroading."

The national delegation also was instructed to work for the nomination of Gen. M. A. Tinley of Council Bluffs for vice president.

Dispute Foreseen Over A Keynoter

WASHINGTON, March 29. (AP)—A dispute over the selection of a temporary chairman and keynote speaker for the Democratic national convention was foreseen today in the decision of supporters of Governor Roosevelt of New York to advance Senator Barkley of Kentucky for the dual assignment at Chicago.

Leaders of the "stop Roosevelt" movement are backing Jouett Shouse, chairman of the party's national executive committee, for keynoter. The committee on arrangements has been called to consider the question at Chicago next Monday.

Advocates of Governor Roosevelt for the presidential nomination are believed to be in a majority on the

President Hoover States Veto Awaits Bonus Bills

Declares He Opposes Any Legislation For Payment

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, March 29.—President Hoover served emphatic notice upon congress today that a veto waits at the White House for any new soldiers bonus legislation that might be passed and delivered there.

Speaking to newspapermen gathered in his private office the president declared he was "absolutely opposed to any such legislation." The $2,000,000,000 expenditure necessary to pay the balance on veteran compensation certificates he asserted, would preclude any balancing of the budget.

Opposition Aroused

Immediately, opposition was aroused on capitol hill. Representative Connery, (D., Mass.) said he would use every power within his means to push through the house one of the 16 bills already introduced to provide additional payment upon adjusted compensation certificates.

Connery declared that if a bonus bill is not placed before the house he would "fight it out the petition way," obtaining 145 names upon a request to bring up the question. The Democratic controlled ways and means committee has placed the bonus first on its order of business following disposal of the troublesome tax question.

Prompted By Agitation

The president's lashing statement today apparently was prompted by growing agitation within the house. Republican leaders have informed him that sentiment among a majority appears to favor new bonus legislation.

The chief executive's face was stern as he arose from his desk at the start of his press conference. Even the informal polls on this subject already conducted within the house, he said, have "created apprehension in the country."

"Such action," he continued, "would undo every effort that is being made to reduce government expenditures and balance the budget. The first duty of every citizen of the United States is to build up and sustain the credit of the United States government. Such an action would irretrievably undermine it."

New Yorkers Are Blamed By Murray For Economic Distress Of The Nation

Three Men To Make Efforts To Find Baby

Colonel Lindbergh Requests Trio To Continue Contacts With Kidnapers; Optimism Still Prevails

(By The Associated Press)

NORFOLK, Va., March 29.—To expressions of hope they might bring about the early return of the kidnaped Lindbergh baby, one of three Norfolk negotiators today added the assertion that Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh had requested they carry forward their efforts.

Returning from a trip to the flier's Sourland mountain estate the very Rev. Dean H. Dobson-Peacock told reporters "all I can say is that things are satisfactory so far. We want to keep on with our work. We are still optimistic."

Dean Dobson-Peacock said Colonel Lindbergh had requested that he, together with John Hughes Curtis, Norfolk boat builder, and Rear Admiral Guy H. Burrage, retired, continue their negotiations but he declined to answer all questions as to details of the plan on which they are working.

Replying to specific questions as to whether or not he and his associates had any means of definitely identifying the kidnaped child and whether he had carried anything of this kind on his trip to the Lindbergh estate yesterday, Dean Dobson-Peacock said: "Leave that to me." He added that "when the proper time comes," it would not take long to establish the identity of the baby.

A report from Baltimore said the wife of Charles H. Consolvo, Norfolk hotel owner, had said his yacht had been requested by the intermediaries in order that they might meet the kidnapers beyond the 12-mile limit, off the coast was discounted.

Mr. Curtis said he and his associates were not considering the use of the yacht, which has been here most of the winter, and took on fresh fuel and supplies yesterday.

Oklahoman Is After Support For His Own Candidacy

(By The Associated Press)

JACKSON, Miss., Mar. 29.—Pledging himself "to prevent the nomination of a New Yorker" at the Democratic national convention in June, Gov. William H. Murray of Oklahoma in an address here tonight sought the support of Mississippi for his own presidential candidacy.

Surrounded by state officials and members of the legislature, the Oklahoma executive urged Mississippi "not to instruct its delegation to the national convention, thereby keeping yourselves from being traded off for postoffices and jobs."

Can Not Be Elected

He declared "no New Yorker can carry his own state on the Democratic ticket and no New Yorker can be elected president," adding: "even the Republicans have more sense than to nominate a man from New York."

He assigned responsibility for economic distress to "Wall street speculators" and said "the condition was brought on by design and will continue until 1934, when the lever will swing the other way and we will elect a new administration."

He turned a scathing attack on the Republican regime, with particularly sharp thrusts against Andrew Mellon, former secretary of the treasury, who he said "cut off the hand of credit to the little commercial man."

United Effort Is Started To Pass New Bill

Speaker Garner Relinquishes His Gavel To Assume Active Leadership And Bring House From Tax Debris

Response Is Seen

Leaders Of Anti-Sales Tax In Support Of New Plan Led By Snell; Ringing Appeal For Balance Is Sounded

By CECIL B. DICKSON,
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, March 29. (AP)—All warring factions of the house laid down their arms today at the behest of Speaker Garner and began a united effort to pass a revenue bill that is expected to maintain the financial stability of the federal government.

Relinquishing his gavel to assume active leadership in a legislative chamber floundering in the debris of a tax bill it had wrecked, the whitehaired Texas Democrat brought antagonistic groups together for a single purpose—to balance the budget.

Join In Support

Responding to his dramatic speech that thrice brought the members to their feet, leaders of the anti-sales tax bloc joined Representative Snell of New York, the Republican chieftain, in pledging their support toward enacting a billion dollar tax measure.

Taking the floor shortly after the ways and means committee had approved substitute proposals to replace the beaten $600,000,000 sales tax program, Garner explained the purpose of his unusual action and to his colleagues he solemnly said:

Is Congress' Duty

"It is the duty of congress to balance the budget. I am convinced of the importance of maintaining the financial integrity of the republic."

Relating the consequences of the dollar falling on foreign exchanges and of the doubt that spread throughout the world after the house last week defeated the sales tax, the Texan dramatically asked all those in favor of balancing the budget to rise. Only a few stayed in their seats.

When he asked those who did not want to balance the budget, no one rose.

Serve Your Country

"No one rises," Garner said. "I think this ought to restore to the American people confidence in our country.

"Try to serve your country, gentlemen, and let us put through this legislation at the earliest date possible in the interest of our country."

The speaker received a prolonged ovation while the packed galleries applauded.

Agriculture Department Is Termed "Prize Boob"

Federal Loans For Farmers Rapped By Secretary

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, March 29.—Government loans which serve to increase the farmer's surpluses and keep down his prices today drew the fire of Secretary Hyde.

Any crop loan which is not based on an actual need in a drought or storm disaster was called "unjustified" by the secretary of agriculture.

Is Prize Boob

He termed his department—the lending agency for the $50,000,000 now available for 1932 loans—the "prize boob in the history of finance," and said it was "lending more money on thinner security and sustaining more losses than ever before in the history of money lending in the world."

Soon afterward, Senator Robinson of Arkansas, the Democratic leader, said Hyde was "manifestly not in sympathy with the relief which the law provides should be administered through his department."

Loans Are Enormous

Crop loans are now being made through regional offices at the rate of $1,000,000 daily—the total from the $50,000,000 fund being in excess of $6,000,000 to date. Last year the department loaned approximately $48,500,000 and has collected approximately $27,000,000—almost half represented by commodities held as collateral.

"What farmers need most," Hyde said, "is a market. Fundamentally it is a question of balancing production and demand.

"My attitude toward crop loans can be expressed in the words of a South Dakota woman who wrote the department: 'Lending money and mortgaging the future of farmers and their children will never restore prosperity'."

The police department last night wired Sheriff Gallegos to determine whether a number of pairs of trousers were found in the car. Between 25 and 30 pairs were stolen this week-end from A. L. Jap Flier Is Crash Victim

Flaming Plane Plunges Into Waters Of Bay; Man Leaps To Rescue But Finds Body Of Pilot In Cabin

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, March 29.—As final arrangements were being made for his contemplated non-stop flight across the Pacific, Capt. Yoskiri Nagoya, Japanese flier, was killed today when his plane, a mass of flames, plunged into the waters of a Jamaica bay inlet.

Hopeful the aviator might have survived his injuries and might still be rescued from drowning, Le Roy Turner of the naval reserve leaped fully clothed into the icy waters, but was only successful in rescuing the crushed body.

Had Taken Fuel

Capt. Nagoya had just taken on 450 gallons of fuel and announced his intention of flying to Newcastle, Del., to have final adjustments made on the plane. He had hoped to start his ocean hop, for a $25,000 prize offered by Tokyo newspaper Hochi-Shimbun, within several weeks.

The plane left the ground with difficulty, in a series of bounces, then burst into flames and fell into the water.

Sturdy And Urbane Quaker Will Take Place Of Morgan In U. S. Steel Firm

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, March 29.—Myron C. Taylor, the sturdy, urbane and capable Quaker, today became chairman of the United States Steel corporation.

His election, announced by the board of directors, fulfills a destiny which New York business and banking circles long ago had selected for him. It placed him in the seat once occupied by the late Elbert H. Gary, to which he has slowly been climbing since he became a steel director in September, 1925.

Mr. Taylor succeeds J. P. Morgan, who became chairman soon after the death of Mr. Gary. The international banker's tenure of office was admittedly an interim measure.

The new chairman for four years has been head of the corporation's important finance committee, a position held by Mr. Gary, who was likewise Steel's chief executive officer. It was assumed Mr. Taylor would assume that title, too, since the formal announcement of the change said he was to have "duties similar to those formerly exercised by the late Judge Gary."

Mr. Taylor brings to his new office a broad experience in banking and industry. Although he began his business career as a cotton textile man, he worked his way into varied interests, including finance and railroading, finally becoming a close associate of George F. Baker, president of the powerful First National bank of New York.

ONE ON FRANK

THE book section of a current New York Herald Tribune recounts an amusing incident which concerns that much-loved writer, Kathleen Norris, and Frank Sullivan. Meeting Mrs. Norris at a literary party and inevitably liking her, Mr. Sullivan saw her a little later on the street . . . He hastened to overtake her, and tapped her on the shoulder murmuring some coy compliment . . . Mrs. Norris turned around and with a perfectly straight face said loudly: "My good man, why do you not apply to the charity organizations? And she opened her purse, with gestures, while a large crowd collected and commented freely on the distressing situation . . . Frank disappeared abjectly.

Before the new Kellogg's WHOLE WHEAT Biscuit was introduced, the Kellogg Company submitted it to the Medical Arts Laboratory of Philadelphia, which found it so rich in food value that every package could be certified.

This means that mothers can now know definitely that their children are getting a well-balanced food whenever they serve the new Kellogg biscuits and milk—rich in minerals, vitamins, proteins—nourishing and healthful.

And Kellogg's WHOLE WHEAT Biscuits offer many other features. The biscuits are "pressure-cooked" by a special process that bakes in the delicious flavor. At the same time, it retains all the valuable food elements of the whole wheat.

Kellogg's WHOLE WHEAT Biscuits are much crisper and tastier because they are toasted a tempting brown on both top and bottom—not just one side. They are baked in a more convenient, economical size. Two biscuits just fit the cereal bowl—and you get 15 to the package.

Naturally this tasty new biscuit is welcome for breakfast, lunch, children's suppers—any meal, in fact. Ready to serve with hot or cold milk or cream. Sold by grocers in the red-and-green package. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

A World's Record

MORE than three thousand births without a single loss of either mother or child! That is the official Piatt County record of Dr. W. B. Caldwell, in fifty years' family practise in Illinois.

No wonder mothers have such entire confidence in giving little ones Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin!

If you have a baby, you have constant need of this wonderful preparation of pure pepsin, active senna, and fresh herbs. A child who gets this gentle stimulant for the stomach, liver and bowels is always healthier. It keeps children's delicate systems from clogging. It will overcome the most stubborn condition of constipation. It builds them up, and is nothing like the strong cathartics that sap their strength and energy.

A coated tongue or bad breath is the signal for a spoonful of Syrup Pepsin. Children take it readily, for it is really delicious in flavor. Taste it! Take Syrup Pepsin yourself, when sluggish or bilious, or you are troubled with sick headaches and no appetite. Take some for several days when run-down, and see how it picks you up.

It is a prescription preparation which every drug store has ready; in big bottles, just ask anywhere for Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.

Lubbock Meets Lamesa In Dual Track Meet Here Today

District Two Champs Offer 1932 Showing

Track And Field Events Start At 4 O'Clock This Afternoon On Texas Tech Field; Bearden Brings Champions

Coach A. G. Bearden's Lamesa High school Golden Tornado track and field team will engage the Lubbock High school Westerners this afternoon at 4 o'clock in a dual meet. The games will be held on the Texas Tech track and field.

Winners over the Brownfield Cubs week before last, the charges of Coach Weldon Chapman slipped at Plainview last Saturday in a quadrangular meet with Amarillo, Slaton and Plainview to take third place, bunt the experience gained there and the absence of handicaps here should prove beneficial to the Westerners.

Favorites of Section

The Lamesa team comes branded as one of the favorite high school track teams in this part of the state, having won the district interscholastic meet here last year and also the first annual Texas Tech relays. Last week they took second place in an invitation meet at Midland. The team is featured by the work of Norris, runner and weights man.

Coach Chapman indicates that the relays this afternoon should be of exceptional interest. Both schools are working toward fast relay teams and both coaches favor that particular event. Two races, a regular mile relay, and an 880-yard relay probably will be run. A 440-relay, in which exceptional low time is expected, probably will be run.

Lamesa has already sent in its entry to promoters of the Texas Tech relays, at which, on April 9, it will defend the title won a year ago.

Officials of the league state several remarkably good athletes will enter the state meen and may shatter previous records.

Two scholastic world records now are held by participants in past Interscholastic League meets. The records are in the discus throw and the running broad jump and both were established last year when Petty of Kaufman hurled the discus 154 feet six and one-half inches and Scrimsher of Main Avenue High of San Antonio leaped 24 feet and one-half inch in the running broad jump.

SHREVEPORT, La., March 29. (AP)—The Chicago White Sox registered their ninth consecutive victory of the training season by beating Shreveport today 5-1. The exhibition was the first of a three-game series.

Carey Selph, former Texas Leaguer, led the visitors' attack, making two hits and driving in four runs.

McCABE BELIEVES PANTHERS READY TO WIN A BALL GAME

FORT WORTH, March 29. (AP)—After tightening several defensive weaknesses before a rain set in, Manager McCabe felt today his Panthers would snap into winning ways against the Columbus Red Birds of the American Association in the first of a three-game series tomorrow. The Red Birds are perching here for the trio of days en route home, having broken camp at Houston.

SAN ANTONIO'S CARDED GAME IS CANCELED

SAN ANTONIO, March 29. (AP)—Flying orders prevented the 46th squadron of Randolph Field from meeting its date for a baseball game with the San Antonio Indians in League Park this afternoon.

The Indians went through their usual batting drill, during which they faced the southpaw slants of Otis Johnson, a rookie, to practice against left hand pitching.

Pitcher Joe Vance, recovering from the flu, was on the field for a light workout.

YANKEES JUMP INTO 7-RUN LEAD EARLY TO BEAT REDS

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March. 29 (AP)—Jumping into a seven run lead in the first three innings, the New York Yankees pounded out a 9-7 victory over the Cincinnati Reds today.

The Yanks put across three runs in the third inning and added four more in the fourth when Earl Combs and Jack Saltzgver hit successive home runs. Babe Ruth failed to get a hit in the six innings he played.

GALVESTON HURLER TOSSES FIVE HITTERS INNINGS

GALVESTON, March 29. (AP)—Del Pratt sent his Buccaneer baseball candidates through five hours of work here today, topping off a three-hour session of fielding and hitting with a nine inning intra-camp game, in which the Ryes beat the Pratts, 4-3.

Pitcher Frank Tubbe worked five hitless innings against the Pratts and allowed only 2 men to reach first on walks.

HIGH WINDS BOTHER SEVERIED'S SPUDDERS

WICHITA FALLS, March 29. (AP)—The Spudders' daily toil was cut short today by a high wind which kept the players off the field until noon. A three-hour batting practice followed. Skipper Hank Severeid knocked off shortly afternoon to make a booster trip to Olney.

UNCLE WILBERT SEES OLD PUPILS TAKE BEATING

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., March 29. Wilbert Robinson, for 18 years manager of the Brooklyn Dodgers, returned to the game as a spectator today and saw his former charges beaten by Indianapolis of the American Association. The score was 11-7.

Stanford's spring football practice, extending 10 weeks, will not start this year until April 10.

Vines Beaten By University Netter Early

Ranking American Amateur Is Defeated By Texas Star In First Match Of Invitation Tournament At Houston

HOUSTON, March 29. (AP)—The ranking American tennis amateur, Ellsworth Vines, was eliminated from the second annual Houston Invitation tournament today in his first match by a 20-year old Texas University sophomore, Martin Buxby.

The scores were 4-6, 6-2, 7-5.

The upset, the most astounding in a long time in tennis circles, left Buxby to enter the third round tomorrow, playing against Jimmy Quick of Dallas.

What happened to Vines, seeded number 1 in the tournament, and national singles champion, was not entirely clear. He set off playing in a fashion poor for him, and ended the match in the same manner. Many times he overshot, his placements were inaccurate and he seemed shaken and lacking in confidence.

Other Favorites Win

Other favorites did not find such rough treatment. Junior Coen, the Kansas City youngster, seeded number 5, had no trouble in disposing of Leslie Coleman of Houston, 6-4, 6-1 in the second round. Coen drew a first round bye.

J. Gilbert Hall, Canadian indoor champion, seeded number 4, turned back W. B. Baker of Houston, 6-1, 6-0 in a first round match.

Fred (Pop) Braggs, patriarch of the annual tournament, was one of the first to fall this afternoon in first round play.

The veteran New Yorker went down to Karl Fisher, a youth from Detroit representing Rice Institute, 12-10, and 6-3.

Fifty-two coveys of birds were found in one day during the Southern Amateur field trials at Albany, Ga., this year.

Hundreds Are Seeing Train

Santa Fe-Texas A. & M. Group Are In Area; Shallowater, Anton And Littlefield Are Visited Tuesday

By Staff Correspondent

SHALLOWATER, March 29 — More than 550 persons from the northwestern section of Lubbock county late Tuesday inspected the Panhandle and Santa Fe Texas A. and M. agricultural train as it stopped here for a two-hour visit on its tour of the P. S. F.

Groveville and Hardy schools were let out to permit the children to come here for the visit. Superintendent R. L. Hooten of the local schools, with his faculty, brought the students of the Shallowater district to the train. The youngsters all enjoyed the trip through the cars.

Business Suspended

Scores of farmers also drove into town. Most of them brought the youngsters who were not in school. Business suspended for more than an hour.

Counters showed 554 visitors on the train, County Agent D. F. Eaton, and R. N. McClain, assistant, and Miss Ila Mae Chitwood home demonstration agent, came up to accompany the train back to Lubbock. They met a large number of farmers and farm women.

Anton Band Greets Agriculture Train

By Staff Correspondent

ANTON, March 29—The Anton Chamber of Commerce was accused today of combing all of Bill Ellwood's huge ranch to bring the folks into town to visit the P. S. F.-A. & M. agriculaural train.

It wasn't quite that bad, but the Anton schools closed and Superintendent Williams had all of his children here for the stop. He also, with the cooperation of the chamber of commerce, arranged for the schools at Spade, Whitharral, County Line, Hart's camp and Fieldton to come in. They swelled the crowd to 1,123.

Band On Hand

The Anton band, under the direction of J. G Thornhill, with Mrs. Paul Whitfield as drum major, 40 strong, greeted the train. Said J. A. Gillies, division superintendent of the Santa Fe who joined the party Monday: "Anton was named for a Santa Fe division superintendent, that is why they like to see a Santa Fe agricultural train."

Spade school district sent six bus loads of school children here. The other districts did not have as large delegations because their schools are not as large an enrollment. But they were equally as well represented in proportion.

Littlefield Has Large Attendance

By Staff Correspondent.

LITTLEFIELD, March 29.—With the largest attendance at any stop on the Panhandle and Santa Fe so far, Littlefield welcomed Santa Fe-A and M. agricultural train this morning. Persons passing through the train here numbered 1,410, according to the official counter, A. M. Hove. Of this number approximately 1,000 were school children.

Yesterday's attendance at the train was 3,913, the record day for the P. S. F. Sudan contributed 1,334 and Amherst 663, the rest being in Bailey county at Muleshoe and Lariet.

In Excess of 100,000

At Littlefield this morning the visitors to the train numbered in excess of 100,000 since February 15, J. D. Tinsley, agricultural agent for the P S. F. said. Mr. Tinsley took charge of the train at Sterling City and has been in charge since March 10.

Lamb county has had 3,407 visitors on the train, one of the largest for any one county.

When the train pulled in Mayor T. S. Sales and the Littlefield band, under the direction of Monte Bowron, of Lubbock, met the party and the band gave a short concert. There are 25 people in the band and it has been functioning for several weeks.

The Littlefield schools closed to permit the students to visit the train. The business section was almost deserted for a time as people went to the depot to see the train.

Maureen Orcutt In Form To Take Lead

PINEHURST, N. C., March 29. (AP)—Maureen Orcutt, Englewood star, rounded into top form today to beat Jeanette Hunter, Pittsburgh, nine and seven, and advise a fast field that she is bent on retaining the North and South championship which she won last year.

The match between Mrs. Leo Federman, New York, and Katherine Singer, New York, was the best of the day. Two down at the turn and later four down. Mrs. Federman won four holes, halved another and won on the nineteenth.

In the only real upset, Mrs. Sarah F. Wadsworth, Pittsburgh, eliminated Mrs. Charles R. Harbaugh, Cleveland, yesterday's co-medalist, four and three.

Mrs. Hill Wins

Mrs. O. S. Hill, Kansas City, who tied with Mrs. Harbaught for the medal yesterday, easily beat Elizabeth Abernathy, Pittsburgh, six and four. Mrs. Hill was out in 40 despite a six on the ninth where her drive was trapped.

They Keep Us Wised Up!

MRS. WINCHELL'S Bad Little Boy Walter, who writes sensational news for the tabloids and chirps "O. K., Montreal!" over the radio, may disgust some people but you'll have to hand it to him when it comes to digging up common-place facts.

Latest success along this line is Mr. Winchell's announcement that it's "Greeta," not "Gretta" Garbo—yet, on the other hand, it's "Gretta," not "Greeta" Nissen. Millions of Americans have been wrong. It remained for Mr. Winchell to right them.

Just what we would do without Mr. Winchell and his more ethical rival, Mr. Ripley, is hard to say.

One thing we've got to hand both those boys is that they wise us up on a lot of things we otherwise would never have suspected.

UNDELIVERED MAIL

The postoffice department at Washington has been trying for years to educate the users of the mails to write legibly, address carefully and place names of streets and numbers of houses on their communications, but without appreciably reducing the number of pieces of mail matter that find their way to the dead-letter office.

While trying to impress users of the mails with the need for care in packing and addressing, the department recognizes that much of the vast tonnage of dead-letter mail might be delivered if more care were exercised by local postal employes. Sometimes it seems the civil service clerk doesn't use as much ingenuity and patience in deciphering blind addresses as he did in the days when John Wanamaker was postmaster general.

How many postal employes in the dead-letter office or in the local post offices could safely deliver to an obscure person in Oswego county, N. Y., a letter addressed to, "Horsewigger, Horsewigger county, America?" It was done under the administration of Wanamaker by a woman employe who had the happy thought that the h's and r's were superfluous.

Let it be remembered, however, that the volume of mail has multiplied many times since Wanamaker's day and that the difficulties of making deliveries have increased with it. Investigation might even disclose that the percentage of mail that reaches the dead-letter office now is smaller than ever, although troubles of the postal service keep pace with increasing population.

LONGER LIFE

While he agrees that the United States is underpopulated and Europe over-populated, a European visitor to this country advises that this country would benefit itself and Europe by absorbing the latter's surplus population, but an observer from Australia believes the United States could increase wages and therefore its purchasing power by enforcing more rigid immigration restrictions.

For some years past this nation has been committed to the Australian's philosophy, and has gone farther by not complaining of its unsettled and untilled lands.

One thing is certain. If Europe continues to increase its surplus population it will not be due, as in the past, to a reckless birth rate. The overcrowded European countries are more concerned with lowering the death rate than with increasing the birth rate.

Before the World war there was much concern over birth rates and "race suicide." The governments were little interested in the rate of death of women and men past military age, but they kept informed on the variations in the birth rate and cultivated a high rate by the pensioning of parents and other schemes.

It is significant that since the war these same nations have been striving to lower the death rate and have not troubled themselves over declining birth rates. It is even discovered now that the race suicide so much talked of in France before the war was due to a low birth rate but to a high death rate.

Practical Health Problems

RADIUM USE BY QUACKS DANGEROUS

By Dr. Morris Fishbein, Editor Journal of the American Medical Association, and of Hygeia, the Health Magazine

It has long since been recognized that radium is of special virtue in the control of cancer. Today early diagnosis, surgical removal and treatment with radium and X-ray constitute the main reliance in all cases of this disease.

Radium is, however, such an important substance from the point of view of its effects on the human body that all sorts of methods have had to be developed to protect those who use and apply radium.

Injury From Contacts

CASES are on record and have had wide publicity in which girls who painted watch dials have suffered destructive bone conditions from continued action of radium. The skin, especially that of the hands, must be protected at all times from direct contact with unfiltered radium.

For this reason, the radium must be handled with long forceps, preferably made of wood, so long that the radium will be at a considerable distance from the body and the hands.

In addition, it is customary to put between the person handling the radium and this material itself a shelf which has been covered with at least one centimeter of sheet lead or its equivalent.

Containers Of Lead

WHENEVER radium is moved from one room to another, it should be carried in boxes made of lead. The room in which the radium is kept is usually a lead-lined room, and a room in which people do not work constantly.

Dr. E. S. Ernst recommends that radium, when not in use, should be stored in a safe with lead protection equivalent to five centimeters of lead for every 100 milligrams of radium.

During the period when the radium is being applied to the patient, his room should not be frequently visited, except by those who are taking care of him, and a sign should be placed at the head of the bed indicating that radium is being employed.

There are records of serious injury and deaths of people who have walked off from hospitals carrying radium in their bodies. The use of radium is not a simple matter.

It has to be applied under controlled conditions and according to the physical changes that have taken place in the individual patient.

Quacks And Radium

EXPERTS nowadays use both X-ray and radium in a combined attack on cancer. The supply of radium available for the treatment of cancer is limited. Its use is, therefore, controllable by the reliable institutions that have it.

Unfortunately a considerable number of charlatans of one type or another have exploited the word "radium" without themselves having actual radium or radium products for the purpose. The general interest in an element so potent and so valuable as this has made the very word "radium" a selling word for quacks.

Hailed As A Wise Man

BY CHARLES P. STEWART

WASHINGTON, March 29.—"Rain-making," relates Senator Robert B. Howell of Nebraska, "once was a great industry out in the farm belt.

Senator R. B. Howell

"As surely as a drouth set in and the crops began to dry up, a rain-maker would arrive on the scene. 'I can make it rain,' he'd say. 'Well, for heaven's sake, do,' the farmers would urge him. 'I will, for $1,000,' he'd promise. 'But suppose you fail?' the farmers would suggest. 'Then you don't have to pay me a cent,' the rain-maker would answer.

"So they'd make a bargain. If it happened to rain, the rain-maker got $1,000. If not, he went on to the next place, no worse off. It always was sure to rain sooner or later."

"Our whole hokus-pokus of Reconstruction Finance corporations, Glass-Stegall bills, anti-hoarding campaigns, et ceters," said the senator, "is on a par with rain-maknig.

"In the regular course of nature economic conditions undoubtedly will improve ultimately.

"Thereupon the author of the latest scheme, preceding the improvement, will win a deal of credit. The earlier schemes will not have yielded anything to their originators, but they will not have lost anything on them, either. They simply are betting nothing against the presidency, maybe, that conditions will improve—just as the old-time rain-maker used to bet nothing against $1,000 that there would be a downpour."

"I KNOW BETTER than to try to cure myself with patent remedies when I catch a bad cold," observed the Nebraskan, shifting his comparison from the meteorological to the medical, "but I almost invariably do attempt it.

"Arising in the morning, all stuffed up, I fill myself full of some sort of pellets and finally feel pretty well; so I start for business. But it isn't a genuine recovery. Before long I'm perfectly miserable again. The second time I try to doctor myself out of it, it doesn't 'take' so well or last so long.

"Then I relaize that the only thing for me is to go home and to bed until the infernal cold wears itself out.

"Depressions have to wear themselves out also.

"It's true," added the senator thoughtfully, "that a cold occasionally runs into pneumonia."

"Just a cold is quite a simple complaint, though frequently it gives rise to complications which puzzle noted specialists," went on the cornhusker statesman, "our present depression, in itself, is understandable enough. Superficially it may be complicated; not basically.

"Of this country's inhabitants 44 per cent depend on agriculture.

"Today it takes two wagonloads of farm products to bring the cash return that one wagonload was good for at the time our farmers incurred the vast bulk of the obligations they are doing their best now to carry—interest on their mortgages, which most of them have; their taxes, which are higher than ever they were, and about to be tilted still higher.

"This situation alone is sufficient to account for the depression.

"Forty-four per cent of our population has had its income cut in two, with its fixed charges undiminished. What does that naturally do to its purchasing capacity?"

"That," said the senator, "is why I voted for the two rain-making measures—the finance corporation and Glass-Stegall bills—as promising a form of controlled inflation.

"If they fulfill their promise, a wagonload of farm products will again more nearly represent a full wagonload, instead of only half a wagonload.

"How it will work remains to be demonstrated. I admit it's a case of rain-making. A stimulant requires an interval to take effect. And the danger in stimulants is that the patient will grow into dependence on them, also needing more constantly. Still, some risks must be taken in emergencies."

LAUGHING AT DANGER

That man is adventuresome, daring and courageous being witness him as he runs the gamut of daily life. It is a trait that comes to him naturally instinctively. He needs no provocation to urge him to deeds of daring nor can he be deterred by the cautious fears of the timid members of the species.

It is known that all animals experience the sensation of fear and that all fear is based on a premonition of bodily harm or death, but, although this sensation is strongest in man, man is most prone to court it.

In spite of thousands of fatalities annually men, women and children daily climb perilous crags, tempt the deeps in flimsy craft, take to the air, participate in dangerous sports, speed in automobiles and otherwise disport themselves as though they would laugh at death.

We know that man loves life and fears death. We also know that he momentarily tosses the dice with the grim reaper and thinks nothing of the experience. The only explanation for this seeming paradox is the fact that the spark of eternal hope is stronger in the human mind than either his fear of death or his love of the risk that thrills. Sometimes our hope leads us into disastrous over-confidence. A little caution is good for all men.

What Other People Think

I have been through six or seven depressions and can generally predict their course. We are on the upgrade. Have confidence and work—good times are heading this way.—Captain Robert Dollar, shipping magnate.

IF the bootleggers and panderers and fixers were abolished they would be missed because they perform a social function for which there is a public demand by the respectable members of our communities.—Rabbi Barnett R. Brickner of Cleveland.

BECAUSE of their increasing efficiency, fewer farmers may be needed to feed the nation. Nevertheless, the basic industry of agriculture will prosper equally with railroads, commerce and manufactured products.—Herbert D. Allman, president, National Farm School.

It is my belief that the motion picture industry stands on the threshold of a financial rejuvenation and that the next few months will bring a definite improvement to the industry.—Samuel Goldwyn, movie magnate.

EXPLANATION OF YESTERDAY'S CARTOON

THE CAPTIVE EAGLE:

An eagle's takeoff is preceded by running, a gradual extension of its wings, and an acceleration of its pace until the speed is sufficient to lift it from the ground. Accurate measurement from the points where it had stood motionless to the point where the scratches of its talons on the ground had disappeared established that the eagle required a minimum of sixty feet for a takeof.

Therefore an area of forty-five feet square enclosed by a low wall will hold an eagle captive as effectively as a building.

The dime-a-dance girl

BY JOAN CLAYTON

BEGIN HERE TODAY

Beautiful ELLEN ROSSITER, employed at Barclay's Department Store, works nights as a dance hall hostess. She lives with her mother, MOLLY RISSITER, her elder sister MYRA, and her baby brother, MIKE.

STEVEN BARCLAY, 57 and owner of Barclay's, is in love with Ellen. Twice she refuses to marry him because she loves LARRY HARROWGATE, an artist she has met at the dance hall. She loves him despite the fact that his engagement to ELIZABETH BOWES, a debutante, has been announced. Larry asks Ellen to meet his mother, then sends a note saying he can not keep the engagement. He also says he will be unable to see her for some time. Heart-broken, Ellen reads in a newspaper that Elizabeth Bowes had returned from Europe.

Ellen flings herself into work, trying to forget Larry. Gradually she comes to think less of him and more of Steven Barclay. One day at the store she receives a message that her brother has been struck by a truck. Rushing home she finds the child is dangerously ill.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XXVII

The doctor's distressed eyes peered uncertainly at the tense, trembling girl. He had known Ellen for years.

"My dear child, a private room isn't necessary," he said. "I know you well enough to tell you you can't afford it. Mike might be a little more comfortable if things were otherwise, but he's getting the best of care. You understand, Ellen, private nurses, private rooms —those things have to be paid for in advance."

He had put it all as gently as possible but the girl burned with agonizing shame. She wanted to cry out to him that it wasn't necessities she wanted for Mike but all the luxuries, all the comforts that only money would buy. Instead she turned abruptly away.

"Come on, mother," she said quietly. "We must go."

When they reached home Molly was still crying bitterly, softly, hopelessly. Steven's car stood in front of the apartment house. Lorene must have told him what had happened. Ellen saw him before the others did and thought that never had she been so glad to see anyone.

She ran from the cab to meet him. As she felt the clasp of his hands and looked into his anxious, troubled eyes she thought she could break into tears of thanksgiving.

From then on everything went as she had known it would. There was no need for her to ask anything. Steven arranged it all. He telephoned the hospital and ordered a private room for Mike.

He arranged for special nurses. He made an appointment for his personal physician to call at the hospital to see the child. He reserved a room at the hospital for Molly so she might stay there if she wished.

They saw Mike that night. He was conscious but tired and wan, too sick from ether and exhaustion to smile at those who loved him. He only turned his rumpled, boyish head and looked at them.

The girls left then but Molly stayed on.

Queer, topsy-turvy days followed. Molly spent day and night alike at the hospital. The two girls went on working but with Molly and Mike away everything at home seemed different.

The sisters spent so much time at the hospital that there was no time to keep the apartment going smoothly. Still Ellen refused Steven's offer to provide a maid, refused also to take a vacation from the store. With debts piling up so rapidly she dared not. She knew Steven did not consider the money he had spent for Mike as a debt but she was determined the sum should be repaid.

One thing Mike's illness had accomplished. The immediate exigencies had thrust into the background of Ellen's mind all thought of Larry Harrowgate. When she remembered him it was with pain but pain was routine now. Larry had gone with a part of her own youth. The gayety and laughter he represented were gone forever for her but there was no time to grieve about it.

Mike's improved health, doing her work from day to day—these were the important things.

Other people helped. Salomon was kind, indulgent of her frequent absence. Lorene was kind, too. Ellen felt she hardly deserved so much thoughtfulness.

What had she done for Lorene or for Salomon that they should take such pains to make things easy for her? Above all, what had she done for Steven that his business, his other interests, his other friends should give way before her immediate need of him?

Ellen did not call him. She had hours of weakness and despair.

Mike did not rally from the operation as they had hoped he would. To be sure he was cross and irritable but those healthy signs were outweighed by spells of languor when nothing interested or amused him.

Steven could always be counted on in these queer, strange days. It was almost as if he had always been the friend and confidante of the Rossiters. They depended on him and he never failed them. One of his cars was constantly at the door to carry the girls where ever they wished to go. He remembered to keep flowers at the hospital, remembered a daily surprise for Mike. Myra and Molly admired him, looked up to him, adored him. Even Bert one morning shyly confessed to Ellen

Single Variety Districts Will Be Established

DALLAS, Mar. 29 (AP)—Establishment of single variety cotton districts in Texas is being encouraged by the bureau of plant industry, U. S. department of agriculture, the extension department of Texas A and M. college and the Texas Cotton Cooperative association.

State-wide success of the project, it is contended, will increase the purchasing power of Texas cotton growers millions of dollars a year, place the Lone Star state in a commanding position in domestic and foreign markets, broaden the demand for high grade cotton goods and bring about profitable cooperation between cotton growers and textile mills.

Can Reduce Waste

Waste which mills experience in spinning ordinary cotton can be reduced 30 per cent, it is claimed, by using uniform staple instead of mixed staples. And most mills pay premiums for large lots of quality cotton.

Several hundred farmers in Simpson county, Miss., last season increased the value of their cotton $4 a bale and reduced production costs by concentrating on single variety cotton. To protect their project, buffer crops a mile wide were planted around their community to prevent insects from carrying pollen from low-grade cotton fields to the single variety community.

Homeseekers who are claiming nearly 100 square miles in Cotabato Province in the Philippines are threatened with expulsion, following a complaint filed by an influential Moro of Belatican.

Pains Stopped When Lady Got Stronger

"ABOUT a year ago, my health was not good," writes Mrs. W. F. Sivley, 8800 First Court, N., Birmingham, Ala. "I felt weak, tired. I had pains in my back. I knew by these symptoms I needed something to build me up. My mother advised me to try Cardui, which I did. I found it was what I needed, for it built me up. The pain in my back stopped, and I felt better and stronger than I had in some time. I took about 7 bottles of Cardui in all."

The dime-a-dance girl

BY JOAN CLAYTON

hat her beau was practically per-ect.

Her beau? Ellen flushed and then et Bert's statement go uncorrected. Her beau? Was Steven her beau?

She realized that she was thinking more and more of him. So often she had said to Myra, "How would we have managed if it hadn't been for Steven?" She knew the neighborhood was wondering about the car that was always at the door. Her beau? Where could one find a beau more kind, more considerate?

Late one August afternoon Steven came to the saprtment a little in advance of Bert. They had fallen into the habit, the four of them, of having an early supper together and then driving to the hospital. It was a comfortable, informal arrangement that was always subject to unannounced revision.

Ellen and Myra were in the kitchen when Steven arrived. He brought with him his usual offering, a large box of flowers. They were old-fashioned garden flowers this time. After being assured that there was nothing he could do to aid the supper preparations Steven ignored orders to wait in the living room and seated himself on one of the kitchen chairs. For some time he watched the sisters at their housewifely tasks and then he spoke suddenly:

"Are you two satisfied with Mike's progress?"

"Satisfied?" Ellen echoed, a faint frown on her forehead.

She had been pulling threads of silk from golden ears of corn but she stopped now and turned to face him.

"Well, I'm not," Steven announced definitely.

"I'm not either," Ellen confessed in a low, reluctant tone. "But there's nothing we can do, is there?"

"I'd never have brought it up if there hadn't been," he replied, his eyes grave and unsmiling. "But there is and I've done it."

"Last week I cabled Vienna and asked Dr. Stengel to come have a look at Mike. He'll arrive this evening. Wait a minute before you say anything. I didn't do this on a hunch or without advice. I did it because Dr. Ellis assured me, as did the other doctors at the hospital that it was the thing to do. I had your mother's permission. I couldn't ask for yours."

Myra was silent, but Ellen gave a muted cry.

"You shouldn't have. You shouldn't have."

"Why not?" he asked her levely.

She found herself confused and trembling before the question. What he had done was so sensible, so logical, so altogether wise.

"It's only," Ellen said thickly as her arguments seemed to melt away, "it's only that it'll be years and years before Myra and I can hope to pay you back."

She glanced at Myra and saw that her sister was in silent agreement. Strangely she could find no pleasure in that knowledge. All at once she knew that she had been silly and school girlish to let so small a thing as price stand in the way of Mike's welfare. Myra too was being silly.

"Ellen," Steven asked in the silence, "are you being fair to want to shut me out now? Who would I help if I couldn't help you?"

"No, Steven," she said slowly, "I wasn't being fair."

Throughout the dinner she was oddly subdued. Afterward when Myra and Bert mentioned the dishes she insisted that the washing up be left for her and Steven. Myra hesitated, then saw something in Ellen's face that made her hurry Bert into the living room. Ellen closed the door that shut her and Steven into the little world of the kitchen. She turned to his puzzled expectant eyes.

"If you would still like to marry me, Steven," she said softly, "I would like to marry you."

Big Total Would Be Paid Veterans

If the full-payment bill became a law, World war veterans holding adjusted service certificates in Lubbock county would receive a total of $642,078.68 in addition to what they have been paid thus far, according to approximations from the information obtained from the veterans' administration.

The information is in the congressional record carrying a recent speech by Wright Patman, Texas member of the house of representatives, on "Why the Adjusted-Service Certificates Should Be Paid In Cash."

A total of 3,600,000 such ceertificates are held by that number of world war veterans, the average value of the certificates is $1,000, and $2,200,000,000 will pay the debt in full, the Texas congressman reported.

Nearby counties' totals which would be paid if the house resolution became a law follow:

Bailey $85,154.12; Cochran $32,232.46; Yoakum $20,738.46; Gaines $45,976; Lamb $286,561.54; Hockley $152,673.16; Terry $145,858.86; Hale $331,503.38; Lynn $203,184.24; Dawson $222,868.66; Crosby $180,997.86; Garza $91,722.12; Dickens $141,228.42.

Cotton

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, March 29 (AP)—While not as active as on the previous day, there was fair trading in cotton today. Although prices rallied from time to time, the general trend of values was downward. Following an opening gain of 5-6 points on relatively fair cables despite the advance in sterling, prices turned easier and declined 15-17 points from the early highs on rather general liquidation. After recovering all of the loss in the early afternoon, the market weakened again practically to the lows in late trading, May making a new low 19 points below the high. There was a rally near the end, which was not fully maintained, and the market finally closed easy at net losses for the day of 6-7 points.

Cancer Cure

stages, consisted of sodium selenite, calcium germananate, and sodium chloride. This solution, diluted a thousand times, was injected into the muscles of the patients or administered orally.

Working with Drs. Bucher and Funk, she discovered the blood of cancerous patients, which contained an increase of lactic acids and a decrease of calcium, potassium and blood cells, immediately returned to normal.

Further experiment demonstrated the selenium solution had an affinity for the cancerous areas. Not only did it pass up other, healthy cells, but it immediately arrested the growth of and tended to destroy the diseased cells.

It was at this point that Drs. Bucher and Funk introduced an x-ray or radium treatment. They discovered that the solution, localizing after a couple of days into the cancerous cells, served as a reflective agency, setting up secondary radium rays. Thus, the radium rays, which also are destructive tocaner cells, were worked into the scheme so that double destruction was wrought in the diseased tissues.

In addition to the radium treatments, and the injections of the selenium solution, the patients are placed on a full diet rich in vitamines.

Stocks Close With Small, Irregular Changes; Tax Increases Are Favored

BY JOHN L. COOLEY
Associated Press Financial Writer

NEW YORK, March 29. (AP)—Firmer quotations for U. S. government securities and a quick evaporation of European dollar selling were the chief reactions in today's financial markets to the unified support finally given the bill in the house of representatives.

Stocks, closing with small and irregular changes, appeared rather nervous in the final hour. Wall street feels that however disagreeable some of the proposed tax increases might be hey were decidedly preferable to even a threatened impairment of national credit. President Hoover's statement against the bonus fell on sympathetic ears in the financial district.

Several wide deviations from the generally narrow line followed by leaders appeared during the session. International telephone came under heavy pressure before noon, breaking 2 3-8 to 5, a record low.

Welcome Death Is Brought To Three

CHICAGO, March 29. (AP)—Carbon monoxide fumes pouring from the exhaust of their automobile brought apparently welcome death yesterday to a 64-year-old Quaker minister who had spent two decades in missionary work in Japan, his 62-year-old wife and their 21-year-old son.

The minister, Rev. Horace E. Coleman of Bloomingdale, Ind., sent a farewell letter to Dr. Willis Walker, a friend, and told him he intended to take his life with those of Mrs. Coleman and Horace E., Jr., at a south side garage, just seven blocks south of the University of Chicago campus.

He notified the police who found the bodies of the three members of the family in the rear seat of the auto, their hands clasped in a symbolic gesture of their faith. The gasoline had run out but the ignition was still on.

The last wish of the minister, contained in a note found on the front seat of the car, was that the bodies be cremated together if possible and sent to Japan to the American Sunday School association or scattered at their summer home in Karuizawa.

Invasion Of Oil Man's Home In Oklahoma Is Investigated

OKLAHOMA CITY, March 29. (AP)—Invasion of the Holdenville home of Thomas E. Nix, oil man, was investigated by officers today as a possible attempt to kidnap 3-year-old Tommy Nix, but the father declared here he believed it was a case of "just prowlers."

Two men who broke a window early today in a bedroom at the home were frightened away by Mrs. Nix's screams leaving a can of ether and an inhaling mask near the window.

DALLAS, March 29 (AP) — James B. Walker, secretary-treasurer of the Dallas Railway & Terminal company and the Dallas Power & Light company, was in a serious condition here tonight with a bullet wound in the chest. Walker was found shot today at his Highland Park home.

Graf Zeppelin Returns To Home Port Following Hop

FRIEDRICHSHAFEN, Germany, March 29. (AP)—The Graf Zeppelin returned today from its recent flight to Pernambuco, Brazil, completing the first of a series of round trips this year between the two ports with passengers and mail.

The homeward flight was made in 16 minutes over three and one half days, the dirigible landing here at 4:30 p. m.

Livestock

MIDWESTERN LIVESTOCK

KANSAS CITY, March 29. (AP)—A slow demand at eastern dressed beef markets reflected itself on the live cattle trade, and most killing classes were under pressure. Packers failed to obtain any material price concession on the lower grades but the rank and file of steers and yearlings ruled weak to 25 lower. Bulk of the fed steers and yearlings sold from 5.25-6.50 with a scattering of strictly good and choice offerings, mostly kinds with weight at 6.75-7.75. On the Kansas City market a five-car shipment of medium weight and heavy Oklahoma fed steers cashed from 5.60-6.50 and two loads of good medium weight Colorados made 6.10. Stocker and feeder classes were in limited supply with demand ample to maintain steady prices. Aggregate receipts at eleven markets were estimated at 32,000 as compared with 25,363 last Tuesday.

Hogs closed with a general decline of 10-20. Chicago had an early top of 4.30.

FORT WORTH LIVESTOCK

FORT WORTH, March 29. (AP)—Hogs, 1,200; weak to 15 lower; top 4.25; for medium weight rail butchers; bulk medium to choice 175-250 lb. truck hogs 3.90-4.15; packing sows 3.25-50.

Cattle, 2,400; including 600 calves with 196 calves through; slaughter yearlings slow to lower; steers and other classes cattle mostly steady; good fed steers up to 5.25; very plain killing steers 4.00; top choice yearlings 6.75; few cows 3.25; some good stock steers yearlings 5.10-35; slaughter calves good heavies 5.00; plainer grades 4.30 down.

Sheep—4,500; few spring lambs strong, old crop lambs weak, wethers steady; good spring lambs mostly 7.00; wooled and fresh shorn lambs 5.00-50; few aged weathers 3.50.

Their romance began when the two met as members of the cast of "The Silent Witness," a recent picture. Neither has been married before.

It's Not What You Pay... It's What You Get

In choosing a new range for your kitchen, there are a number of interesting yardsticks for measuring the value of the various types of cooking equipment offered. Here are the things every woman should consider first of all:

1. How much will it cost to buy?
2. How much will it cost to operate?
3. What will it do for me?

Let's see how the Modern Gas Range measures up to these yardsticks of value. The first cost of the most modern and beautiful of the new Gas Ranges is no greater than other ranges and the installation charge is considerably less. The yearly bill for GAS will be less than for any other up-to-date cooking equipment.

Even more important, however, are the Services you get in buying a Modern Gas Range. There is (1) Oven Heat Control that changes cooking hours to leisure hours, and insures perfect results with each recipe; (2) Oven Insulation to protect you from over-heated kitchen; (3) ideal equipment for cooking with GAS, the world's speediest cooking fuel.
