Reds Reverse Field On Atom Plans; Ask Bomb Ban, Control

PARIS—(AP)—Russia changed signals unexpectedly Saturday and demanded the United Nations ban the atomic bomb and set up atomic energy controls at the same time.

The Soviet Union still insisted however upon veto over the control machinery.

Western Powers delegates saw no compromise in the surprise move nor any break in the deadlock over atomic energy control. They said they were going straight ahead with plans to demand a vote of confidence in their stand from the UN General Assembly.

Warren R. Austin, U. S. delegate, told newsmen the Soviet proposal was a typically "Oriental maneuver." He said the American delegation saw no assurance Russia is ready to accept the central plan of the UN Atomic Energy Commission, "the only effective system which would insure the harnessing of atomic energy in the service of mankind."

Vishinsky's Second Blast
Andrej Vishinsky, Soviet deputy foreign minister, put the Soviet resolution before the 58-nation Political Committee of the Assembly at the end of his second blast in two days at the Western Powers.

Once more Vishinsky hit at President Truman, Gov. Thomas E. Dewey and David E. Lilienthal, chairman of the U. S. Atomic Energy Commission.

This came when he charged former Premier Paul Ramadier of France with attempting to justify a course "inspired by his American inspirers, such as Messrs. Dewey, Truman, Lilienthal and others."

Vishinsky's resolution called upon the Assembly to recommend to the Security Council and to the Atomic Energy Commission that they continue their work toward finding an atomic solution.

Simultaneous Treaties
It called for the Council and the Commission to draw up one treaty banning atomic weapons and another on the establishment of an effective international control over atomic energy.

These treaties, the resolution specified, should be drawn up with a view that both are to be signed and put into force simultaneously.

Only Friday Vishinsky voiced flat opposition to international control of production of atomic raw materials as proposed by the United States and supported by all save the Soviet bloc.

The Soviet resolution however, put the Assembly on record as saying that the work of the Security Council and the Atomic Energy Commission so far had not yielded positive results.

This is directly contrary to the proposal by Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton of Canada for the Assembly to approve majority reports of the Commission.

Airmen Say U. S. Can Win Next War
WASHINGTON—(AP)—A couple of air strategists speaking for themselves believe the United States can win another war in from one to three months. They envision a "super blitz" of atomic bombs dropped by only a small force of planes.

The Soviet resolution however, put the Assembly on record as saying that the work of the Security Council and the Atomic Energy Commission so far had not yielded positive results.

These views are set forth in separate articles in the new edition of the "Air University Quarterly Review" by Col. Frederick L. Moore and Col. Dale O. Smith, both of the United States Air Force.

The publication is put out by the USAF's Air University at Maxwell Base, Ala. It takes pains to point out that articles carried by it do not necessarily coincide with, nor are they officially those of the Air Force.

Proclamation
WHEREAS, the civic bodies and service organizations of our community and the related departments of the local government have joined with the Junior Chamber of Commerce in a campaign to conserve lives and property through a program of fire safety of and in homes, stores, offices and public buildings;

WHEREAS, the campaign to this end will extend throughout the year; now
THEREFORE, I, R. H. Gifford, mayor of the City of Midland, Texas, do hereby establish the duration of the campaign as a period for special effort in the promotion of measures designed to bring about fire safety, and urge our citizens to cooperate in making the campaign successful.

Chiang Flies To Important Battle
FRIPPING—(AP)—Chiang Kai-shek flew to Mukden Saturday at the height of a battle which may decide the fate of the government's last holdings in Manchuria.

Chiang, who has been conferring with his military leaders in North China, flew from Peiping to the Manchurian city with Gen. Wei Lihuang, commander in Manchuria.

It was believed in Peiping that Chiang by his personal visit will make important decisions affecting Manchuria.

Aidland Will Have West Texas' Largest Office Building

Plans to expand the new McCullitt Building at Texas and Colorado Streets to 15 floors were announced Saturday by Ralph Geisler, manager of the new structure and also manager of the Petroleum Building. The McCullitt Building will be the largest office building between Fort Worth and Los Angeles, Geisler said, with 158,000 square feet of floor space. Four elevators will serve the air conditioned structure. Geisler now is taking reservations for space in the building. The basement and first six floors are nearing completion and construction of the additional floors is scheduled to start January 1. Wyatt C. Hedrick is architect for the building and Nathan Wohlfield is the contractor.

Midland's Second $5 Dollar Day Scheduled Monday

Midland's second city-wide $5 DOLLAR DAY will be held Monday, with practically all retail stores participating. The sales events are scheduled the first Monday of each month.

Benefit buyers and sellers were more than pleased with the September $5 DOLLAR DAY, and the October event is expected to be even better. One of Midland's largest shopping crowds of the year took advantage of the money-saving attraction last month.

Outstanding values in practically all lines of merchandise are offered by merchants whose $5 DOLLAR DAY ads appear in this issue of The Reporter-Telegram.

Scores of citizens from over the area are expected to join Midlanders Monday in "shopping the $5 DOLLAR DAY $5 values."

NOTED CRIMINAL LAWYER INJURED IN AUTO CRASH

BEVERLY HILLS, CALIF.—(AP)—Jerry Giesler, noted California criminal lawyer, was seriously injured Saturday when his automobile struck a tree at an intersection here.

Lucas of Illinois and Bill Fulbright of Arkansas, both Democrats, gave newsmen the slip the other day and paid a private call at the State Department. Their purpose was to put in a good word for Franco Spain.

Just back from a trip to Madrid, Lucas and Fulbright said they thought it was about time Spain was admitted back into the good graces of the Western nations. They urged the State Department to take the lead and review American policy toward Spain.

Record Crowds At Fair Set All-Time Attendance Mark

The 1948 Midland County Fair ended Saturday night on an appropriate note of rural rhythm after having set new all-time records for attendance and excellence of exhibits.

A square dance exhibition by Lum Harris and his team from Stanton was seen by hundreds at the Mackey Motor Company. The free entertainment program was concluded by a public dance to the music of Doyle Fitzgerald and his string band.

Nearly 4,000 visitors registered during the three-day event in order to qualify for attendance prizes given by the Midland Junior Chamber of Commerce. Officials of the Chamber of Commerce, sponsor of the fair, estimated several thousand other persons visited the fair without registering.

Tremendous Interest
The scores of Midlanders who worked long hours to make the event truly reflective of community achievements were pleased at the tremendous interest residents of the city and county showed in the fair. And thousands of visitors showed their pleasure at finding so interesting an exhibition.

Agriculture, the petroleum industry, home-making activities, hobbies and commercial enterprise all were represented among the booths in the American Legion Hall and the City-Country Auditorium. Free amusement events, ranging from professional performances to pie-chucking contests, provided gaiety each day.

Results of judging may be found in Section Two of this issue.

Forest Fires Rage In Eastern Texas
LIVINGSTON—(AP)—Livingston's fire chief drove through the city's streets Saturday, calling through a loud speaker for more volunteers to fight one of the worst outbreaks of forest fires in East Texas history.

Fire roared at tree-top level through 15,000 acres of pine woods in Polk County and in the Woodville district of Tyler County. Smoke billowed thousands of feet in the air.

More than 100 men, using eight jeeps and three bulldozers, dug firelines in an effort to halt the blazes. Some fire fighters had not slept in three days.

Stevenson Attorneys File Appeal Papers In U.S. Supreme Court

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Former Gov. C. R. Stevenson of Texas carried to the nation's highest court Saturday his fight to keep Lyndon Johnson's name off the November ballot as the Democratic nominee for the U. S. Senate from Texas.

Stevenson's attorneys asked the United States Supreme Court to reverse a ruling by Associate Justice Hugo Black which permitted Johnson's name to go on the ballot.

Black's order, issued early last week, stayed a temporary injunction against carrying Johnson's name for the ballot. The injunction was granted in mid-September by Federal District Judge T. Whitfield Davidson at Fort Worth. One-Week Delay Seen Stevenson's attorneys argued in their motion Saturday that a single Supreme Court Justice is without jurisdiction and power to issue a stay order. They said Black had "erroneously and improvidently" ruled in favor of Johnson.

Court attaches said copies of the documents filed by Stevenson's counsel, received through the mail, would be distributed among members of the court and may be considered when the court holds its first full meeting Monday; They said however, that any discussion of the case Monday probably would be informal and that formal consideration might not come until the following week.

OSLO, NORWAY—(AP)—A Norwegian flying boat capsized and sank near Trondheim Saturday apparently killing 22 of 48 persons aboard.

The Norwegian Airlines said three were killed, 19 are missing and 26 were saved. As there was no response to radio calls for missing survivors to report, it appeared certain all the missing drowned. Three of them were babies.

Work To Start In 30 Days If U.S. Approves

Contracts were awarded Saturday afternoon for construction of the 75-bed Midland Memorial Hospital, subject to approval of federal and state agencies which will supply one-third of the funds for the million dollar institution.

Contractors indicated work will be started within 30 days on the structures if no delay is experienced in the issuance of the work order, after government approval is obtained.

UN Failure Predicted By Red Leader

BERLIN—(AP)—The Russian commander in Germany told the world Saturday night to expect no solution of the Berlin crisis from the United Nations. He said agreement could be reached only by direct negotiation with the Soviet.

Debate on the blockade starts Monday in Paris. The U.S., Britain and France referred the explosive issue to the UN Security Council, accusing Russia of endangering peace and security.

Marshal Vasily Sokolovsky, indicated in a long statement the main price of any agreement is a dissolution of the Western German state which the Western Powers are forming. Western officials have said many times they will not abandon their plan.

Taken As Warning
Sokolovsky gave a strong indication the Western Powers' refusal to give up the West German state was the real reason for the collapse of the "Four" talks after an apparent agreement had been reached.

"Trying to get a solution of this question in other ways is only aiming at continuing the abnormal situation," he said, and it "will not lead to the results the Western occupation powers hope for."

Coming just as the UN discussion on Berlin is about to begin, Sokolovsky's statement was taken here as a warning the Soviet Union would not agree nor abide by any UN action.

Texas Population Rises To 7,230,000

WASHINGTON—(AP)—California has joined New York and Pennsylvania in the 10,000,000 population class, the Census Bureau reported Saturday night.

Releasing provisional estimates for the United States as of July 1, 1948, the bureau said California's 10,031,000 had been gained since 1940, when the last official census was taken.

Pennsylvania passed the 10,000,000 mark in 1944.

Total population for the country as of July 1 is estimated at 146,114,000, as compared with 131,669,275 in 1940. The gain is 11 per cent.

Aside from California, the biggest gainers in the United States are Michigan, up 939,000 since 1940; New York, 907,000; Ohio, 891,000; and Texas, 815,000.

Texas' estimated population as of July 1, 1948, is 7,230,000, a gain of 12.7 per cent over the 1940 census figure of 6,414,824.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By Drew Peinos

WASHINGTON—Senators Scott Lucas of Illinois and Bill Fulbright of Arkansas, both Democrats, gave newsmen the slip the other day and paid a private call at the State Department. Their purpose was to put in a good word for Franco Spain.

Just back from a trip to Madrid, Lucas and Fulbright said they thought it was about time Spain was admitted back into the good graces of the Western nations. They urged the State Department to take the lead and review American policy toward Spain.

State Department diplomats, however, cautioned against appeasing Franco at the risk of antagonizing the United Nations. It was by a UN vote that Spain became an international outcast, the senators were reminded.

Berlin Trouble
U. S. Air Force chiefs flatly deny it, but the Berlin airlift is expected to break down in November. Chief difficulty will be weather.

planes are subject to terrific wear and tear, with little time for overhaul. Also, it's significant that Britain's RAF is carrying 45 per cent of all freight into Berlin. Anglo-American cooperation has been excellent, though the British aren't getting credit for their part of the job.

In November, simultaneous with murky weather, the airlift will be called upon to carry much more coal. Several million people in Berlin will be howling for it. The city already is on minimum rations. A deep-freeze unit in Berlin is worth nothing. Reason: electricity is turned off most of the day. Housewives can't begin cooking until 8 p. m.

Berlin's complete blackout to save coal has made the city a paradise for burglars. They are now so brazen they have been breaking into homes while occupants were still awake.

November had weather also will coincide with probable political uncertainty in the U. S. If Dewey wins, as seems certain, the American government will be in a state of flux between November and January. That is the time to watch for real trouble with the Russians.

Merry-Go-Round
Back in the saddle in Georgia, Herman Talmadge now has his eye on Washington. Close friends say he doesn't intend to stay long in the governor's mansion, but will move on to the U. S. Senate.

"Hummer" will go after Sen. Walter George's seat in 1950, following whispers that George won't run again.

Ellenburger Ventures Staked In Scurry And In Andrews

Locations for Ellenburger wildcats in Central West Scurry County and in Central-Southwest Andrews County were reported Saturday. Drilling on both prospectors is to start at once.

Scurry Prospector Is Staked By Lion

Lion Oil Company No. 2 E. C. McLaughlin is to be an 8,200-foot prospector in Scurry County, approximately 10 miles west and slightly south of the town of Snyder. The well is 337 feet from east and 685 feet from south lines of section 197, block 87, H&TC survey. Drilling, with rotary tools, is to start by October 7. The driller is near the center of a block of 9,000 acres which Lion holds in that area. It is the same quarter section with Lions No. 1 E. C. McLaughlin, a shallow dry hole drilled in 1945. The new venture is two and one-half miles west and a little north of Sun Oil Company No. 1 Schattell, recently completed flowing discovery from a Pennsylvanian lime.

Mid-Continent Spots 10,000-Foot Wildcat

Mid-Continent Petroleum Corporation has filed an application with the Railroad Commission of Texas, requesting a permit to start operations at once on its No. 1-12 University, a 10,000-foot wildcat in Central-Southwest Andrews County. The exploration will probably try to locate and test the Ellenburger. It is 680 feet from south and east lines of the north half of section 33, block 12, University survey. That puts it between the Black 13 field and the recent discovery made to the south of that pool, at Humble Oil & Refining Company No. 42 Parker, on the Devonian. The new Mid-Continent development is 20 miles southwest of the town of Andrews.

Deep Strata Makes Oil At No. 1 Hinson

Seaboard Oil Company of Delaware No. 1 E. M. Hinson, Northeast Terry County wildcat, 10 miles northeast of Brownfield, has shown some free oil from a section thought by most observers likely to be the Ellenburger lime. This prospector, located 660 feet from north and west lines of section 81, block 4-X, psi survey, took a two-hour drillstem test at 11,112-130 feet. There was a blow of sweet gas at the surface after 12 minutes. The volume was not gauged or estimated. Recovery was 1,200 feet of clean oil, 100 feet of heavy oil and gas and drilling mud, and 150 feet of salt water. The venture is slated to be drilled and cored deeper to explore the full thickness of the Ellenburger horizon. Operator representatives have not officially verified the report that the current formation is Ellenburger, and no observer has picked a definite top on that formation as yet.

Upton Venture To Acidize And Test

Republic Natural Gas Company No. 1-E-A Barnett, East-Central Upton County wildcat, two and three-quarter miles northwest of the initial Ellenburger producer in the Benedum field, has given up efforts to develop oil or gas production from the Ellenburger, which was topped at 11,580 feet, and had salt water, with only slight shows of gas. The venture had perforated the casing at 11,242-310 feet in the Fuselman section of the Silurian, and will treat that interval with acid, said test.

Mitchell Failure To Plug And Abandon

Sun Oil Company No. 2 Ellwood, South-Central Mitchell County wildcat, about 15 miles south of Colorado City, and 660 feet from south and east lines of section 25, block 16, SPRR survey, drilled to total depth of 8,569 feet in granite wash, and found no signs of oil or gas. Operator has taken electric log surveys and is preparing to plug and abandon the venture.

Frankel Prospector Continues Deepening

Frank and George Frankel No. 1 Tankersley, Southeast Tarrant County prospector to about 7,000 feet to test the Des Moines zone of the Pennsylvanian, had reached 6,125 feet in dry lime and shale, and was making more hole. This exploration is 683 feet from south and east lines of section 32, block X, T&P survey, ran a one-hour drillstem test above 5,343 feet, total depth.

Outpost To Tucker Put On Production

Cities Service Oil Company No. 1 Brunson, stepout from the proven area in the Tucker field of Southwest Crane County, and 660 feet from northwest and northeast lines of the lease in section 26, block 1, H&TC survey, has been completed for a 24-hour potential of 1,177 barrels of 41.1 gravity oil, with a show-out of two-tenths of one per cent drilling water, from the Simpson pay zone. Gas-oil ratio was 486-1. The flow was through a one-half-inch tubing choke.

S & S 1 Honey Has No Shows On DST

About 20 miles southwest of Sweetwater, Sun Oil Company and Seaboard Oil Company of Delaware No. 1 Mamie Honey, Southwest Nolan County wildcat, 1,980 feet from north and east lines of section 32, block X, T&P survey, ran a one-hour drillstem test above 5,343 feet, total depth. A weak blow of air held at the surface for a part of the period. Recovery was 20 feet of drilling mud, with no shows. The venture is drilled.

ACCOUNTANT Desires Employment

preferably by independent oil production or drilling company, or other oilfield enterprise. Major company experience in income tax matters and all phases of oil accounting, and capable of assuming responsibility for all accounting functions. Box 943, Reporter-Telegram.

DST At 1-E Bryant Fails; Trying Again

Gulf Oil Corporation No. 1-E-18 Wilson, 14 miles south of the city of Midland, in Central Midland County, and 660 feet from north and 1,980 feet from west lines of section 36, block 39, TP survey, T-3-B, tried a drillstem test with the bottom at 13,310 feet in the Ellenburger, entered at around 13,150 feet. Mechanical difficulties prevented a satisfactory test from being obtained. Operator was to circulate and condition the hole, and was due to try another drillstem test early Sunday morning.

SW Lubbock Venture Recovers No Shows

Honolulu Oil Corporation No. 1 Radliff, Southwest Lubbock County wildcat, 10 miles southwest of the city of Lubbock, and 660 feet from north and east lines of section 10, block AK, EL&RR survey, ran a four-hour drillstem test in the San Andres-Permian at 4,990-4,640 feet. Recovery was 130 feet of drilling mud, with no shows of oil, gas or water. The project is to make more hole.

Albaugh Digs Shallow Test In NW Sterling

Ray A. Albaugh No. 2 Nellie Cannon Parramore, slated 3,000-foot wildcat in Northwest Sterling County, about 15 miles northwest of Sterling City, and 660 feet from north and 390 feet from east lines of section 201, block 29, W&NW survey, spudded Saturday and was drilling ahead.

W-C Reagan Venture Shoots Struck Pipe

In West-Central Reagan County, Plymouth's other two Benedum outposts were both making progress. After being held up on a total depth of 10,618 feet for a lengthy period by high-pressure gas kicking out, lost circulation, then stuck drill pipe, Plymouth No. 1-46 Elliott had succeeded in shooting off the drill pipe at 6,420 feet. It was coming out of the hole with the loosened section. Operator plans to go back in and fish out the remaining pipe.

White Eagle Wildcat Continues To Drill

Approximately eight miles northeast of the Slick-Urschel find for Ellenburger production in Upton, White Eagle Oil Company No. 1 R. E. Ringo estate, Reagan venture, was beyond 7,582 feet, penetrating shale. It is 660 feet from the north and east lines of section 8, block H, L&SV survey.

DREW PEARSON ON The WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

When Braden returned to Washington in September, 1945, Griffiths took over direction of this Democratic Union Campaign. His activities, however, were consistently hindered by John Cabot, who remained as U. S. Charge d'Affaires, and who had never sympathized with Braden's methods. After Braden departed, Cabot refused to cooperate with Griffiths in any way, even denying him access to cables received from Washington.

Following Peron's election and the appointment of George S. Messersmith as ambassador to B. A. Griffiths resigned from the U. S. Diplomatic Service, but remained in the Argentine as technical adviser to several U. S. export firms. Seven months ago, Griffiths was summarily expelled from Argentina, on the charge that he had fomented a strike of bank employees in Buenos Aires. Two bank-strike leaders, who had been fired from their jobs, submitted testimony that they had no connection or acquaintance with Griffiths. However, these statements were rejected by the court, and never published in Argentina.

Griffiths return to the U. S. last March, lined up three export representations from Uruguay, and departed for Montevideo in May. He has since been living there with his son, John Jr., 17, in a $25-a-month apartment, scantily furnished, making just enough money to get along. On a strictly voluntary and unofficial basis, without pay, Griffiths has also served as confidential adviser to Ellis O. Briggs, U. S. Ambassador to Uruguay, on various Argentine developments. Briggs, as this column revealed exclusively last December, is really the top man of the U. S. Foreign Service for the Southern part of South America. The "plot" announced in Buenos Aires named Griffiths as principal conspirator because he was the ideal goat. Although identified in the Argentine public and with Braden, he is now out of public life and can be accused without automatically causing an international incident.

Then, too, the fact that he went to Montevideo after being obliged to leave Argentina helps the story. The Uruguayan capital has long been the favorite refuge for Argentine political exiles. Just a few weeks ago, Ernesto Sammartino, the radical congressman expelled from the legislature for criticizing Peron, turned up there.

But chief significance of the whole "conspiracy" yarn is: 1. By openly charging U. S. "capitalist consortiums" with the plan to murder him, Peron lays new groundwork for the neutrality he will adopt in case of war between the U. S. and the USSR. 2. The "plot" and the hate-U. S. campaign create a fine diversion at home just when Argentines are being urged to look back to Peron's plan for rewriting the national constitution.

Army Reserves Protest: Army Secretary Kenneth Royall and Chief of Staff Omar Bradley are being asked questions when the Reserve Officers Association met better treatment for reserve officers under the new defense program.

In both wars reserve officers claim they have been kicked around, got few promotions compared with West Pointers and regulars. Now, with the Army being built up for potential war, they want to know where reserve-officers stand.

Bluntly, reserve officers' President AUSTIN—As the first step in a concerted offensive against the hazards of winter driving, which invariably bring an increase in fatalities, each member of the Texas Highway Patrol received a personal letter Saturday from Public Safety Director Homer Garrison urging redoubled efforts to keep their own toll from exceeding that of last year.

The 1947 fatality toll was 1,997. There has been a slowly rising increase this year, which, if not reversed, is expected to be on or over the earlier prediction of 2,150 deaths for 1948.

Colonel Garrison's letter to the patrolmen said in part: "All this year we have been fighting a slightly upward trend in Texas traffic fatalities. The beginning of the crucial period that will determine whether we can hold 1948 fatalities down to last year's total of 1,997 or whether another hundred or more lives will be lost.

"Darkness, fog, rain, snow, ice, drowsiness, drinking—these are the hazards that confront us during the remainder of the year, three deadly months of bad weather and increasing accidents."

Curtain Drops On Second Round Of Political Thriller

By The Associated Press
The curtain dropped Saturday on the tumultuous second act of the 1948 political thriller. Republican Nominee Thomas E. Dewey headed homeward to Albany after his transcontinental campaign trip, and President Truman, the Democratic choice, got back to Washington Friday from his own speaking tour to the Pacific Coast. Truman, after a brief rest and disposal of official business, heads out again Wednesday for a four-day stumping swing through Delaware, New Jersey, Pennsylvania and upstate New York. Greeted at the Washington Union Station by a crowd which included a half dozen members of his cabinet, the President said: "I have just begun to fight." At the time of Truman's homecoming, his Republican rival was rolling eastward through Kansas and heading toward the President's native Missouri.

The chance for a similar award for 1948 was nullified recently by a minor accident. Wayne Howell, Halliburton's McCamey supervisor, was in charge of the safety meeting.

Little Relief Seen In High Meat Prices

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The Agriculture Department said Saturday consumers can expect little relief in meat prices unless they cut down on meat buying. It predicted the 1949 supply per person will be between 140 and 145 pounds. This compares with 145 pounds this year, 155 in 1947, and an average of 134 in 1937-41. But next year should be the turning point, the department said, in a downturn in meat animal production. Bumper feed crops this year are expected to encourage farmers to expand production again. A short crop last year discouraged production.

Amerada To Dig C-S Lea Prospector To 4,350 Feet

ROBES, N. M. — Location for a 4,350-foot wildcat in Central-South Lea County, has been reported. Operations at this prospector will start immediately.

It will be Amerada Petroleum Corporation No. 1 Jordan. The drillsite is 1,900 feet from north and 600 feet from east lines of section 11-29-36. That makes it about six miles west of the nearest production on the west side of the Runjo-Monument field.

An old, deep dry hole in East-Central Lea County, six miles northeast of Runjo, has been re-entered and is being cleaned out for the purpose of testing the section between 7,500 feet and 7,800 feet.

Cleaning Out Old Hole

This project is E. M. Elliott No. 1 Federal Kennel, located 1,900 feet from north and 1,800 feet from west lines of section 8-21a-36e.

It was drilled several years ago by Humble Oil & Refining Company to a total depth of 9,004 feet, in granite. No shows of oil were reported in the lower zones and the venture was abandoned.

A string of 7-inch casing was cemented at 7,853 feet. The new operator has already cleaned out to 2,100 feet and will continue that activity until 7,600 feet is reached, and he will then undertake to try to develop production from the open hole section.

Oil Shows in Prospector

Stanolind Oil & Gas Company, et al. No. 1-U State, six and one-half miles south of Hobbs, in East-Central Lea County and 600 feet from south and east lines of section 2-20a-36e, was drilling ahead below 7,000 feet in lower Permian lime, after having shown indications of oil and gas on several drillsite tests between 5,903 feet and the current level of operations.

The latest tests were at 6,997-7,012 feet, and at 7,012-7,090 feet. On the first zone the tester was open 55 minutes. Recovery was 35 feet of oil cut drilling mud.

A two hour and six minute drillstem test was run at 7,012-90 feet. Gas showed at the surface in one hour and two minutes. The volume was estimated at 40,000 cubic feet per day.

Recovery was 450 feet of oil and gas cut drilling fluid. The sections which had carried the shows of possible production have not indicated any formation water.

This exploration is four and one-half miles south of the south end of the shallow Hobbs field.

Phillips Also Has Signs

Phillips Petroleum Company No. 1 Shipp, in Central-East Lea County, three miles west of the northwest side of the original Hobbs field, had reached 6,238 feet in middle Permian lime and was making more hole.

It has also shown possibilities of production in drillsite tests which have been taken recently in the middle Permian.

The interval at 5,950-90 feet was tested for 60 minutes. Recovery was 106 feet of slightly gas cut and heavily oil cut drilling mud, and 10 feet of free oil.

The venture deepened to 6,020 feet and 90-minute drillsite test was taken with the packer at 5,900 feet.

Recovery was 120 feet of heavily oil and gas cut drilling fluid.

This exploration, which is 600 feet from north and 1,800 feet from east lines of section 20-18a-37e, is scheduled to bore to about 10,000 feet to try to locate and test the Ellenburger unless it gets a good, commercial production from some zone between the middle Permian, and the original destination.

Crossroads Projects Drilling

In the Crossroads region of extreme Northeast Lea County, the four prospectors which were started after the discovery of flowing oil from the Devonian at Mid-Continent Petroleum Corporation No. 1-A Sawyer are all going ahead.

Magnolia Petroleum Company No. 1-C Santa Fe-Pacific, 660 feet from south and west lines of section 26-9a-36e, had reached 9,196 feet in lime and was continuing.

Skelly Oil Company No. 1 U. D. Sawyer, 690 feet from north and east lines of section 32-9a-36e, had penetrated below 10,187 feet in dry lime, and was making more hole.

Mid-Continent No. 1-B U. D. Sawyer, 690 feet from north and 1,980 feet from west lines of section 34-9a-36e, had progressed under 10,574 feet, in dry lime, and was boring deeper.

Skelly No. 1 Dessie Sawyer, 1,290 feet from west and south lines of section 27-9a-36e, had reached 9,772 feet in lime, and was digging deeper.

Each of the Crossroads ventures is slated to drill to at least 12,500 feet—if necessary—in order to determine the producing ability of the Devonian.

Barnsdall Venture Continues

Barnsdall Oil Company No. 1-A State, in East-Central Chaves County, and 660 feet from north and east lines of section 23-8a-32e, had progressed below 10,739 feet in lime and shale, in the lower Pennsylvanian, and was making more hole. It may be carried to 13,500 feet to explore through the Devonian.

Richfield Oil Corporation No. 2 Comanche unit, in East-Central Chaves County, about 16 miles southeast of Roswell, and 1,980 feet from north and 660 feet from east lines of section 24-11a-26e, is shut-in for the time being.

This project had indicated a possible discovery from the Devonian above the plugged back total depth of 6,110 feet.

However, extended swabbing and pumping failed to develop any oil yield of commercial amounts. Some water was produced with all the oil which has been taken from the wildcat. There is a possibility that it may be tested more some time in the future.

TEC Faces Task In Distributing West Texas Cotton Hands

AUSTIN — (AP) — Texas Employment Commission field crews faced a problem of distributing available cotton field workers to spots where they are most needed.

The TEC said there was plenty of help on hand for West Texas, but its problem was one of distribution in that area. There was still a shortage of workers in North and North Central Texas, but the TEC expected to fill it over the weekend.

The TEC reported many picketers moving into Arkansas, Louisiana and Mississippi, where there are good cotton crops and high wages.

A weekend demand for 12,168 pullers and pickers developed in West Texas. These were the requests:

Littlefield called for 1,500 pullers for irrigated land and 1,000 pickers for dry land. Pullers for irrigated land were drawing $1.75 delivered and pickers for dry land were drawing $2.25 delivered. Other area demands were: Paducah, 500; Matador, 300; Plainview, 250; Lockney, 250; Pecos, 625 (pickers); Lamesa, 1,000; Brownfield, 1,500; Tahoka, 700; Jayton, 400; Munday, 400; Stanton, 400; Ralls, 175; Spur, 400; Levelland, 250; Lubbock, 400; Roman, 300, and Roby, 200.

Indonesia's Blow At Java Reds May Ease Dutch Crisis

BATAVIA, JAVA — (AP) — The Indonesian Republic's initial success in efforts to wipe out the "Soviet state" in East Java may be the jolt that will break the three-month political deadlock with the Dutch.

Informal sources predict major diplomatic moves in the next few weeks in efforts to solve the stalemate between Indonesian Nationalists and the Dutch.

While armed clashes around Madjoe, the Communist stronghold, resulted in the Moscow-trained Mussu's Red Battalions being scattered, the diplomatic props were being moved behind a curtain of secrecy.

It was generally believed Uncle Sam was the stage manager, though officials deny this.

Tension is lessened.

Last week, it looked as though the lightning revolt led by Moscow-trained Mussu might succeed with a coup that would smother the Moderate Republican government of President Soekarno and Premier Mohamed Hatta.

If that happened, it was widely expected that the force of the Royal Dutch Army would sweep in to restore order.

The republic's victories over the Communists, however, have eased the tension somewhat, and talk now that the Hatta government deserves some sort of recognition for its effective handling of the Communist rebellion.

State Files Suit Against Pair For Usury Practices

SAN ANTONIO — (AP) — State authorities filed an anti-usury injunction suit in a Bexar County District Court Saturday against two men who reportedly own and operate eight finance and loan companies in Texas.

Listed as defendants in a petition recorded in 45th District Court were C. E. Groves of Bexar County and R. K. Eckerd of Nueces County.

Signing the suit as plaintiffs were Price Daniel, state attorney general, and William N. Hensley, Bexar County district attorney.

The state asked that a temporary writ of injunction be granted restraining the defendants from further prosecution of their business until a final trial.

Hearing October 25

The state asked that the court then grant a permanent injunction preventing them from engaging in such business in Texas.

Judge C. E. Cull of 57th District Court, Saturday set a hearing on the temporary injunction for 9:30 a. m. October 25 in his court.

The state claimed the two men, through their agents, had been charged and received interest upon contracts in excess of 10 per cent per annum, in violation of Section II, Article XVI, of the State Constitution.

Midlander Held Without Charge In Colorado Slaying

ARTESIA, COLO. — (AP) — Jim Malloy, 33, one of the first businessmen in this oil boom town, was slain Friday, 10 hours before he was to marry an attractive 29-year-old divorcee.

Sheriff Claude R. Johnston said he was holding for investigation Glen Jackson, 44, Midland, Texas, former husband of Malloy's intended bride. No charges have been filed against Jackson.

Malloy was killed by three shots from a .38 caliber revolver.

Mrs. Thelma Jackson, the sheriff said, has been living as a housekeeper at Malloy's residence. The Jacksons' three children, Eugene, 12, Mary Ann, 10, and George, 6, were asleep in a bedroom when Malloy was slain.

Jackson worked in the Rangely, Colo., oil fields about a year ago. Mrs. Jackson divorced him and remained in Colorado while he went to Texas. The sheriff said Jackson reported he had been working for the Tex-Harvey Oil Company at Midland.

Texas Oil Roundup Southwest's $3 Crude Has Oil Industry In Tight Spot

HOUSTON — (AP) — The Southwest's first "three dollar oil" since World War I has the oil industry in a tight spot.

Resistance to the new 35-cent barrel hike in crude oil prices is firm but the way is being left open for general acceptance.

Only a few small companies have met the hike, announced Tuesday by Phillips Petroleum. Many oil men, particularly major-company spokesmen, termed the hike as inflationary and unnecessary.

They point to Bureau of Mines figures which indicate the postwar increase demand for petroleum products is on the decline, being only 3.2 per cent in July (over July last year) as compared with 6.7 per cent the first six months of 1946.

Advocates of the increase, particularly the independent operators, claim the boost is long overdue and will insure even greater production of domestic oil.

The situation was the same last year when Sun Oil astounded the industry with a sudden 50-cent per barrel increase. That was on November 28.

A few small companies met the boost immediately. Not until December 8 did the major companies follow in rolling snow ball fashion.

It was another 10 days before an increase of 11-1/2 cents per gallon in retail gasoline prices became general.

(On the Southwest a 25-cent per barrel increase in crude postings normally leads to a one cent per gallon boost in retail gasoline prices.)

Resistance to the purchase price boosts becomes difficult when producers, anxious to receive the highest prices possible, begin to break from regular customers and turn to those paying the highest prices.

D. Harold Byrd, Dallas, president of the Independent Petroleum Association of Texas, last week said: "If the larger companies do meet the new price, independents will be forced to cut well connections and transfer them to Phillips or those matching the Phillips price."

No increase.

Hines H. Baker, president of Humble Oil, a Standard of Jersey subsidiary, summarized the thoughts of those opposed to the hike by saying "we intend to increase our prices unless we are forced to do so by a change in competitive conditions."

Robert E. Wilson, chairman of Standard of Indiana, said any reason for price boosts "are outweighed by the paramount importance of trying to halt the inflationary spiral."

Among the small number of companies meeting Phillips' price, effective in all of its purchase areas in Texas, Arkansas, Oklahoma and Kansas, are Southern Minerals Corporation, Shamrock Oil and Gas Company and the Co-operative Refinery Association of Kansas City.

Phillips' posting sets a high of $9 a barrel for the Mid-continent

New Petroleum Club To Open This Week

A party honoring members of the Petroleum Club and their ladies will be held from 5 to 8 p. m. Wednesday, when the new clubhouse and its facilities will be open for inspection. President John W. House announced.

The formal opening of the club is scheduled Thursday morning.

Dan Hudson, manager, said Saturday everything will be in readiness for the club's opening events.

The Petroleum Club, organized in 1946, last year purchased the Wolcott property at 219 North Big Spring Street, and an extensive remodeling and enlarging program has been underway for several months. The large clubhouse has been redecorated and refurbished throughout.

The attractive and well-equipped clubhouse is said to be the finest and most complete in the Southwest.

Your Newspaper Boy

The American year is full of all sorts of "weeks" and "days." Their sponsors may ask the public to support worthy causes or contribute to them.

So the newspaper boy has a real responsibility. It is not always easy to fulfill, for vacation days and after-school hours are beset with temptation for any normal youngster.

The ranks of the successful must have a good portion of men who learned the elements of business, and the obligation to give dependable performance for money earned.

The newspaper industry realizes its dependence on reliability and industry of these half-million boys. It appreciates the fine job that they do.

So when your carrier boy comes around to collect, why not give him a word of thanks. He's more than a neighborhood kid.

Russia's Price For Peace

"We Communists think that World War III is not inevitable," Eugene Dennis, Communist general secretary, told a party rally.

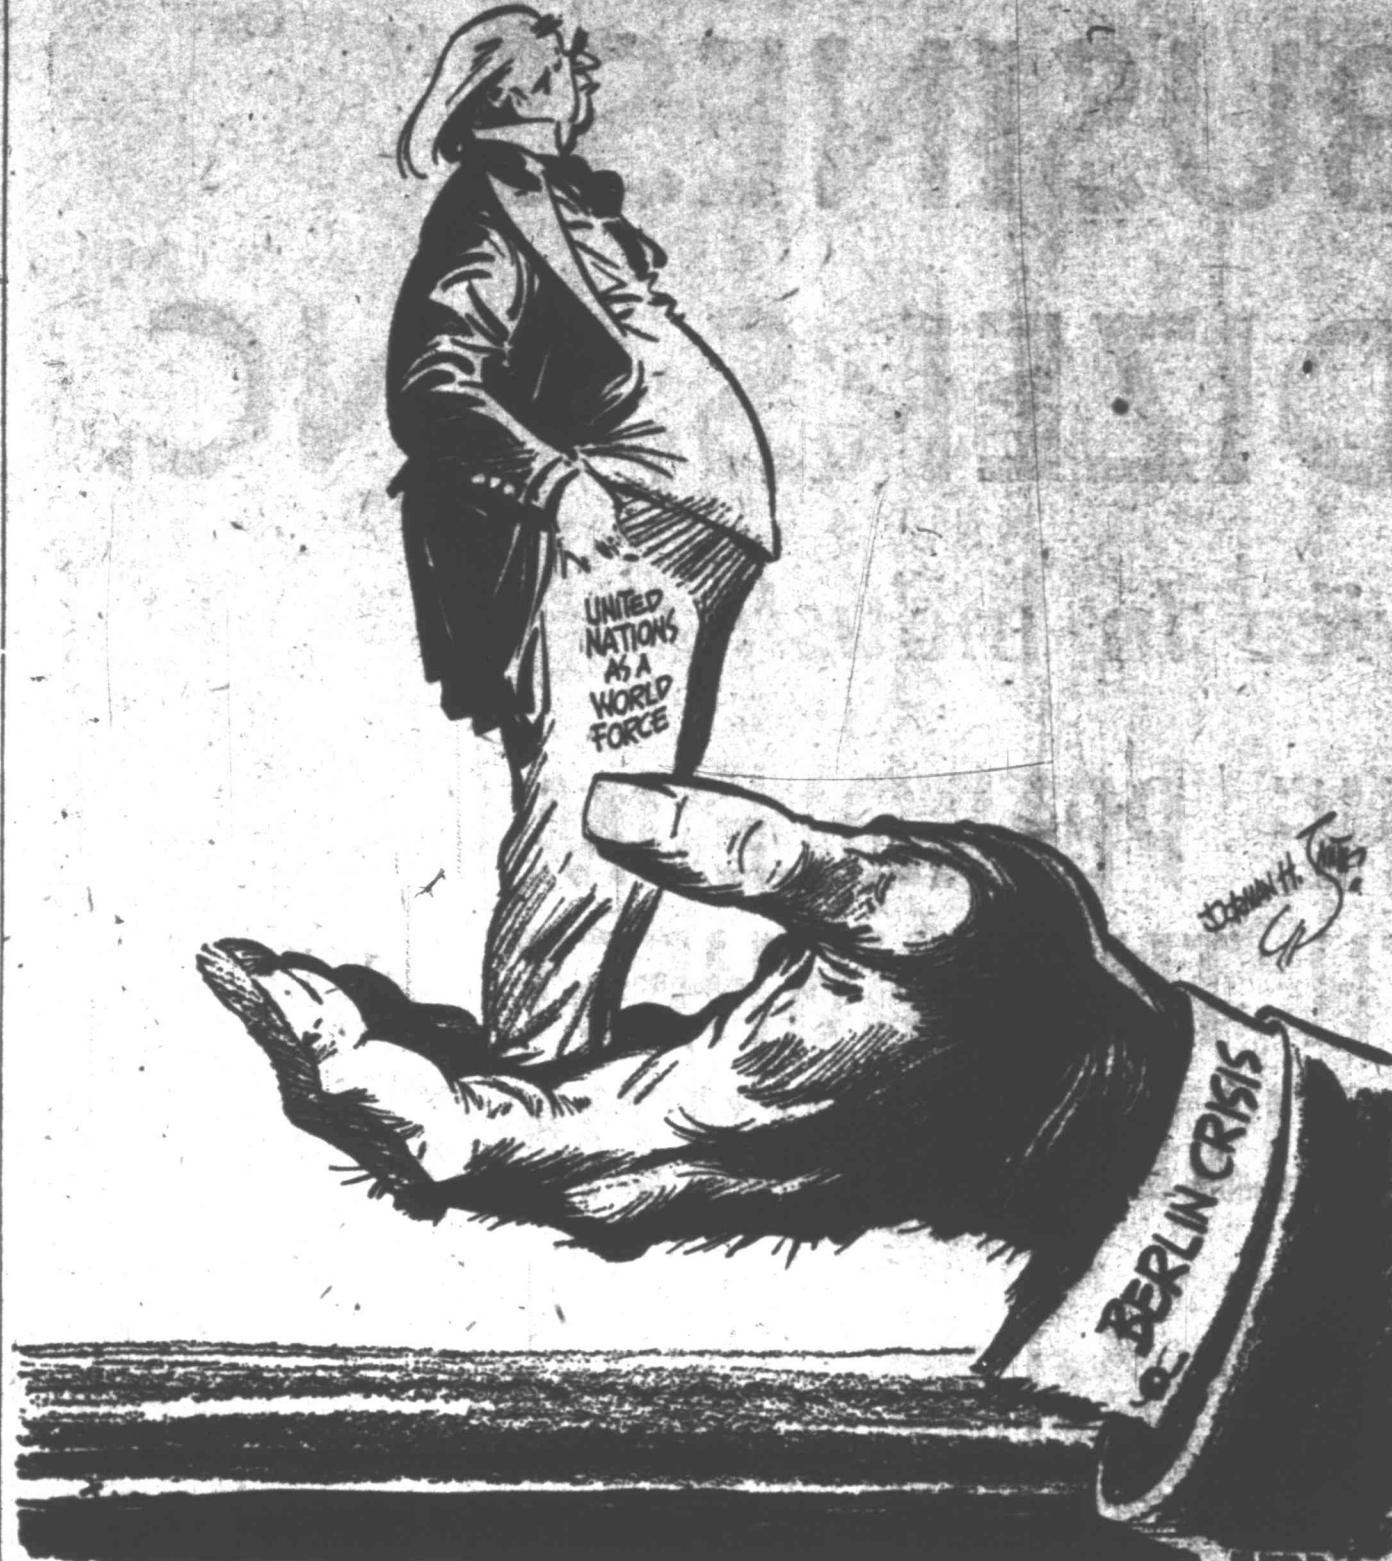

Dennis and the deputy premier were undoubtedly saying the same thing. "Mass action" against the "war mongers" and military and economic disarmament are simply two ways of announcing that Russia is ready to go to war with this country unless America capitulates to communism.

Recently an heiress married an officer of the Marines. Even to the wealthy a steady job is not sneezed at these days.

More and more people nowadays are doing without things their parents never had.

Legion Post Plans Bingo Party Monday For Don DeVore

A bingo party for Don DeVore, Midland youth now under treatment for polio at Hendrick Memorial Hospital, Abilene, will be held in the American Legion Hall at 2 p. m. Monday, Legionnaires announced.

Funds from the party will be used to defray the boy's expenses after leaving the hospital. It was reported, Ray Gwyn, chairman of the Midland County Chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, said Saturday the Foundation has taken care of Don's doctor and hospital bills since he contracted the disease and would continue to do so. More than $500 has been paid by the Foundation on the boy's medical bills, Gwyn said.

Three other Midland youngsters are under treatment for polio at the Abilene hospital, Gwyn said. These are Sammy Hoyt Vinyard, Lonnie Dale Steen and Jo Ann Clark. Sammy Vinyard is covered by polio insurance and his case has not been referred to the Foundation, but medical expenses of the other children have been borne by the Foundation, Gwyn said.

Doctors at the Abilene hospital said last week the Midland youngsters are recovering even more rapidly than they had hoped.

MIDLANDER IS BAND MEMBER AT MCMURRY

ABILENE—Audie Merrill of Midland is one of the more than 20 members of the McMurry College Band which already has started a strenuous schedule.

The band made its initial appearance this year at the Texas-Midland McMurry football game at Odessa. Other performances were at the East Texas Baptist College-McMurry game here and the opening parade of the West Texas Fair.

Don Jose impersonally at Don Jose

"You have sacrificed months of good behavior. You had a bright future in the Dragons. I advise you to avoid this gypsy," the colonel said.

Don Jose maintained a stiff-necked, bitter silence, staring at the wall behind the colonel.

"It is true she is an interesting type," the colonel went on. "But for a young man who takes his future seriously, a girl like that spells ruin. For an older man, who has nothing to lose and time for a little foolish indulgence, it is another matter—perhaps. The colonel took a deep pull on the black cigar and turned back to the business at hand. "Remember what I have told you," he said curtly. "You will take extra guard duty and be confined to barracks for 30 days."

DON JOSE snatched in the hottest sun and the wettest rain for 30 days with a pack on his back, carrying full equipment and a rifle, and it seemed to him that every soldier on the post and every cigaret girl in the factory pelted him ten times daily with broad jokes about Carmen's escape.

Marching in the hot sun, as the pack grew heavier on his back, resentment against her choked up his throat as he tried to imagine what she could be doing in freedom. This resentment was a strange new emotion to him for it bordered on hatred, and his reason told him that if he was to hate he could only hate himself because it had been of his own will that Carmen had escaped. This eased nothing for him.

He imagined her in Andy's arms. He remembered the cold invitation in her eyes as she had snatched out of the cigaret factory and onto the square. She must attract many men. Or, perhaps, in a foolish, suffocating wave of delight that lifted his heart so a wider, peculiar heat, she would be waiting for him, remembering the promise she made to him.

The Loves of Carmen

By SOPHIE KERR. Copyright 1948, NEA SERVICE, INC.

THE STORY: Don Jose, young officer in a fashionable regiment, has just come to Seville from the countryside of Navarra. On his first day in the city a gorgeous gypsy girl, Carmen, with her hair and eyes like fire, later he is in an alley in the square with his friend, Andrea, when she comes from the nearby cigaret factory across out at closing time. Among them is the gypsy, Andrea greets her warmly as Carmen, but her glances are all for Jose. Even so she makes a date with Andrea. Shortly after she leaves them, Jose has a moment's doubt as to the street. Carmen has gotten into a brawl with another woman and he has to go to her aid. He is led away, struggling, by two soldiers. She awaits him at the entrance. He tells her that one of the soldiers has pinched her.

Don Jose looked at her, shocked, as they reached the narrowest portion of the alley. She went on, "Nobody would know, then I could tell them I escaped, then I would be very grateful to you. I think you can tell that I am very nice when I am grateful."

He looked at her again, his eyes narrowed. This time he did not glance away so quickly. She slanted her eyes at him provocatively. "Remember? Eight o'clock tonight at Lillas Pastia?"

His face set as though he had already thought of what tonight might have meant to him. She moved closer. "How can we be together if I'm in a dirty prison cell?" Don Jose stammered a little, as the instigating words went on. "It would be so easy. I run very fast. You should see me run."

She stopped abruptly then and Don Jose stopped, too. She looked up into his face, laughed suddenly and pushed him violently and ran after her, but Don Jose caught them back. "I think I have hurt my ankle. Help me up."

They hesitated, then stopped, for this was an order. Carmen was gone as they helped Don Jose to his feet. They looked at each other knowingly because he avoided their eyes.

THE colonel bit into a cigar and lit it. He stared coldly

Air Force Considers Plans To Bolster Berlin Airlift

By DOUGLAS LAESEN, NEA Staff Correspondent (Peter Edson is on vacation)

WASHINGTON—Plans are under way now to make a major increase in the Berlin air-lift operation.

Apparently the defense chiefs have decided that there won't be any change in the Russian railroad blockade and that the lift has to be expanded to fly in enough coal for the winter. At the request of the Air Force, one of the major airlines is now making a study of how much it would cost to convert commercial passenger planes into cargo aircraft. The idea would be for the government to requisition commercial liners.

A preliminary study of this plan, however, reveals that the cost would be almost prohibitive. In addition to starting out the passenger seats and ripping out fancy interiors, a special cargo deck has to be built in to make them suitable for the needs of the Military Air Transport Service. It is believed that it would be even cheaper for the government to order brand new Douglas DC-6s and Constellations and have their interiors modified in the factory to make them usable for hauling freight.

Time is one of the big factors in this consideration. If new planes are bought they will be needed within a month or two. And the aircraft industry is always harping on how long it takes to deliver planes after orders are placed. Modifications of the big planes coming off the line, which were due to be delivered to the commercial airlines, would speed up deliveries, however.

Better Feasibility A more promising possibility from both a speed and expense point of view, Air Force officials have said, is the purchase of an aircraft which is relatively new in the field of commercial planes, the twin-engine Convair 440. MATS is giving the plane the most serious study.

Orders for 240s by U. S. and foreign airlines have them rolling off the assembly line at a rate of four a week. This could be increased. And total production of them could easily be restricted to military use. In fact, Convair has detailed plans for quick conversion of 240s into military cargo planes. The 240 has two big advantages, it's a 300-mile-per-hour plane, and it has a pressurized cabin. The pressurized cabin lets it fly above storms, making bad weather a reduced factor in holding up flights.

The competition among the aircraft manufacturing companies to sell transport planes to the government has suddenly become keen. The past few years have been compared to those during the war. Convair officials and other aircraft manufacturers logically point out, however, that if the services buy transports that are also used on the airlines, there is a ready market for the surplus transports when the emergency is over. And conversely, it is easier to take over planes from the airlines for an emergency when the services are already experienced in the operation of that type of plane. New pilots don't have to be broken in and maintenance crews can be taken over intact just as they were during World War II.

Lines Might Get Big There is still another possibility for expanding the Berlin lift with-

Committee Gets Loyalty Pledges And Some Protests

AUSTIN—(P)—Loyalty pledges and some protests from party officials are pouring in to State Democratic Committee headquarters.

Vann M. Kennedy, secretary of the State Executive Committee, said he had received "an outpouring" of responses, but he has not had time to look them over or to count them.

They included several protests from party leaders who took the pledge as loyal Democrats but who said they resented the action of the September 14 state convention in demanding such pledges.

At Corsicana, John C. Calhoun, chairman of the executive committee, said he had received a number of signed pledges and no refusals to take the pledge.

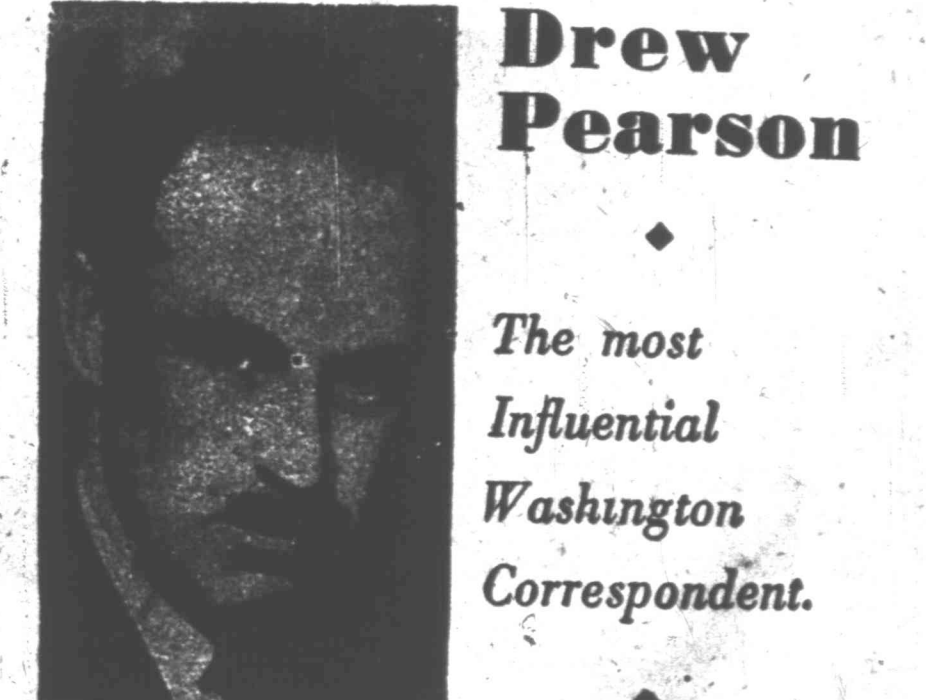

Calhoun said no date had been set for a committee meeting to decide what would be done about any party leader who refused to take the pledge.

The convention by resolution gave the executive committee the duty of replacing any of its own members or other party officials who refused to take a party loyalty pledge.

Kennedy mailed copies of this resolution to all county Democratic chairmen.

Vicki Evans Arrested Again

Deputy sheriffs of the anti-vice squad in Hollywood, Calif., swooped down on the Vet's Club, an "after hours" night spot, at four o'clock in the morning, nabbing a number of men and women who were taken to the county jail for booking either on gambling or vagrancy charges. Among those taken were Earl Carroll show girl Marie L'Angelle, left, and dancer Vicki Evans, right. Miss Evans was one of four arrested in a recent marijuana raid involving actor Robert Mitchum.

Slicks City Slicker While Attending NSA Chicago Convention

By RAY HOWARD
Staff Correspondent
Howard Sales Company

I have just returned from the National Stationers Convention in Chicago where F. definitely proved to residents of the windy, smoky city that yodels from Midland, Texas, are not to be city slicked. When the spire elevated train system was priced to be at $200,000, I was able to buy extra ahead, to buy it for only $35.00. Asking price on the Field Museum was $5,000, but I was able to get it for only $65.

Seriously, and all joking aside, many buyers of office furniture and office equipment have acted just as shrewdly in the past, getting big discounts from out-of-town suppliers. It works this way: some sellers raise the list price on cheap merchandise, often doubling it, and puts them in a position to sell at a discount and still realize list prices. It has been our experience in buying and selling that you get just about what you pay for. The best insurance that the dealer is getting is a fair deal is to buy from a dealer whose reputation backs up his merchandise.

Over 2,000 of the nation's leading office furniture, equipment, and stationery dealers attended the convention, held for five days in the Stevens Hotel in Chicago. Over 2,000 exhibits were displayed by the world's leading manufacturers. I was one of eight dealers registered from Texas, and the only one from west of Dallas. I returned to Midland with first hand information about what is available in wood and steel office chairs, desks, storage cabinets, filing equipment and related items for efficient operation of the modern office.

Naturally, the leading exhibitor at the Show was the Art-Metal Construction Company, world's largest manufacturers of better quality steel office furniture. Mr. Ed Keeling, vice-president in charge of sales for Art-Metal, advised me that the steel situation continues to be critical, and that he anticipates further price increases. It is his opinion that government buying will intensify the market for a long time to come.

Mr. Keeling understands that the Howard Sales Company is a small, 100 per cent veteran organization, whose only source of income is the sale of office equipment and fine printing. He was a visitor in Midland last May, and he knows how rapidly our town is growing. In order to help this company and to maintain Art-Metal's position as the largest seller in this market, Mr. Keeling kindly extended me a priority for the purchase of his equipment. This means that we will be able to give better delivery than most any office equipment house in the Southwest.

Speaking of desks and the like, I saw on display a custom made desk retailing for $850, with custom made matching chairs. I'm not going to tell my competitors the name of this manufacturer, but they have just completed remodeling the executive offices for the Chase National Bank in New York, and are the largest manufacturers of better grade custom built furniture in the country. They displayed the most beautiful line I have ever seen, and I've seen most of the offices in Midland and Stanton. I bought three of these desks, having in mind a half dozen persons who should have them.

We have several good lines of chairs, but the Sturgis line continues in our estimation to be the most practical steel chair we have seen. Jerry Mann of Sturgis accepted an order for 25,000 worth of his chairs which we had sold in Midland. He also set us up a priority, assuring us quicker delivery than anyone in Texas is able to make.

(You know, it is a fine feeling to know that so many of the national manufacturers are anxious to help an old sergeant get a business going.)

I was also able to obtain direct factory connections with many other companies, which will reflect in sizeable savings to West Texas buyers. Among the companies who promised to expedite orders for me are the nation's leaders: Sturgis, Marbel, Gunlocke (gave them a $1,000 order), High Point, Jasper Seating, Do More (what a chair line! Had I owned a few oil wells I'd have bought one for the floor), Stanley, Royal Chrome, Cramer and a couple of others.

The Gunn furniture people had a display showing a drawer from one of their StarLine desks in a tub of water and one in an oven, dramatically illustrating their new patented treatment of wood against the elements. They offered to extend me credit for an additional carload of desks, but settled for a continuation of our past priority system for delivery.

The Alms Desk is a much lower priced line than any on the market, and is a good product. With this line we hope to be able to compete with those companies from Dallas and Fort Worth who sell on price alone.

In the machines section, I was offered Speed-O-Print and Wobler duplicators, but did not buy any. We will not stock these machines, but will order as we sell. We can make almost immediate delivery.

Most of the sellers of duplicators were using the film stencils of American Stencil Mfg. Co., which we stock. They say it is the outstanding development in stencils in recent years.

The Columbia carbon people had one of the most popular booths at the convention. In addition to their Pinnacle and Marathon carbons they had many items which are big sellers in the East. Their hand cream for office workers is something we will begin to stock, as it removes ink from the hands, clothing, furniture, and even cleans stencils before storing.

Had I the time, I'd like to tell about all of the items displayed at the convention, but C. S. Jackson from the Reporter is at my elbow urging me to hurry. Furthermore, this type of advertising costs money, which isn't so abundant around here. We aren't hurting, understand, but $75.00 per month we didn't make enough to throw it around. We are, however, financially responsible, and are in a position to completely equip the McClintic building if it goes to 50 stories.

Jack says to chop it off here if we want to get it in Sunday, so we will, with this piece of advice to buyers of office equipment, office furniture, fine printing, or stationery items: we have a good stock and have excellent buying connections. We believe in treating the customer so that we get the repeat business. We appreciate your business, and if we can be of service to you, call 2518, the Howard Sales Company. —(adv.)

State Show Will Climax Season Of Texas County Fairs

By MARTHA COLE
Associated Press Staff Writer

It's the season of the fair. They're tramping down the skinnny mesquite sprigs in the Panhandle for the rodeo and they're winding in and out of the East Texas pine trees to look at the roses.

Eleven fairs in Texas folded their tents last weekend.

And at the end of this week, on October 9, what the advertisements called "the greatest show in the greatest state" will open in Dallas—the State Fair of Texas.

Sleek and curried livestock—homemade jams—grandma's patchwork quilt patterns—the ferris wheel—bucking broncos in the rodeo—hamburger with onions—comely queens of the fair—and in Tyler, the roses.

Winding up part or all of these last week were:

1. The 11th annual Tyler-Rose Festival which opened Thursday, September 30, with the coronation of Miss Mary Anne Nenny as queen. During the three-day run tours to the rose fields began at 9 a. m., and a huge two-mile floral parade Saturday spread the scent of roses.
 2. The Panhandle-South Plains Fair at Lubbock, where more than 100,000 came during the week-long celebration that ended Saturday night. Backers called it the most successful they had seen.
 3. West Texas Fair at Abilene which ran for a week and closed Saturday night. Horse races for the first time since the last war and a registered quarter horse show were added attractions.
 4. Midland County Fair closed Saturday night.
 5. Henrietta residents donned pi-ouner garb October 1 for the homecoming settler reunion and rodeo.
 6. The week-long Dawson County Fair opened at Lamesa Monday, September 27 and included the South Plains Horse Show.
 7. Texarkana celebrated its diamond jubilee anniversary with the Four States Fair opening Tuesday, September 28. It was to end Sunday night.
 8. Bonham was home of the Fannin County Fair during the last week.
 9. At Lufkin the Texas Forest Festival opened Monday, September 27 for a week's run.
 10. The Donley County Fair was held at Clarendon October 1 and 2.
 11. The Hansford County Fair ran for two days at Spearman October 1 and 2.
- And still to come—the Anderson County Fair at Palestine October 11-16, the South Texas Fair at Beaumont the latter part of October, and the crowds, the midweek hawks, the industrial exhibits and the hurly burly of the State Fair of Texas, October 9-24.

St. Louis Cards Blank Chicago Cubs

ST. LOUIS—(AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals, battling to retake second place in the National League race, handed the hapless Chicago Cubs a 9 to 0 lacing Saturday night. Home runs by Ron Northey and Red Schoendienst sparked the Birds' 13-hit attack, while Al Brasse and Jim Hearn blanked the Bruins with five blows.

National Schoolmen Name San Angelo

MILWAUKEE—(AP)—An independent federal office of education snatched removed from political domination was recommended Saturday by the National County Superintendents Association.

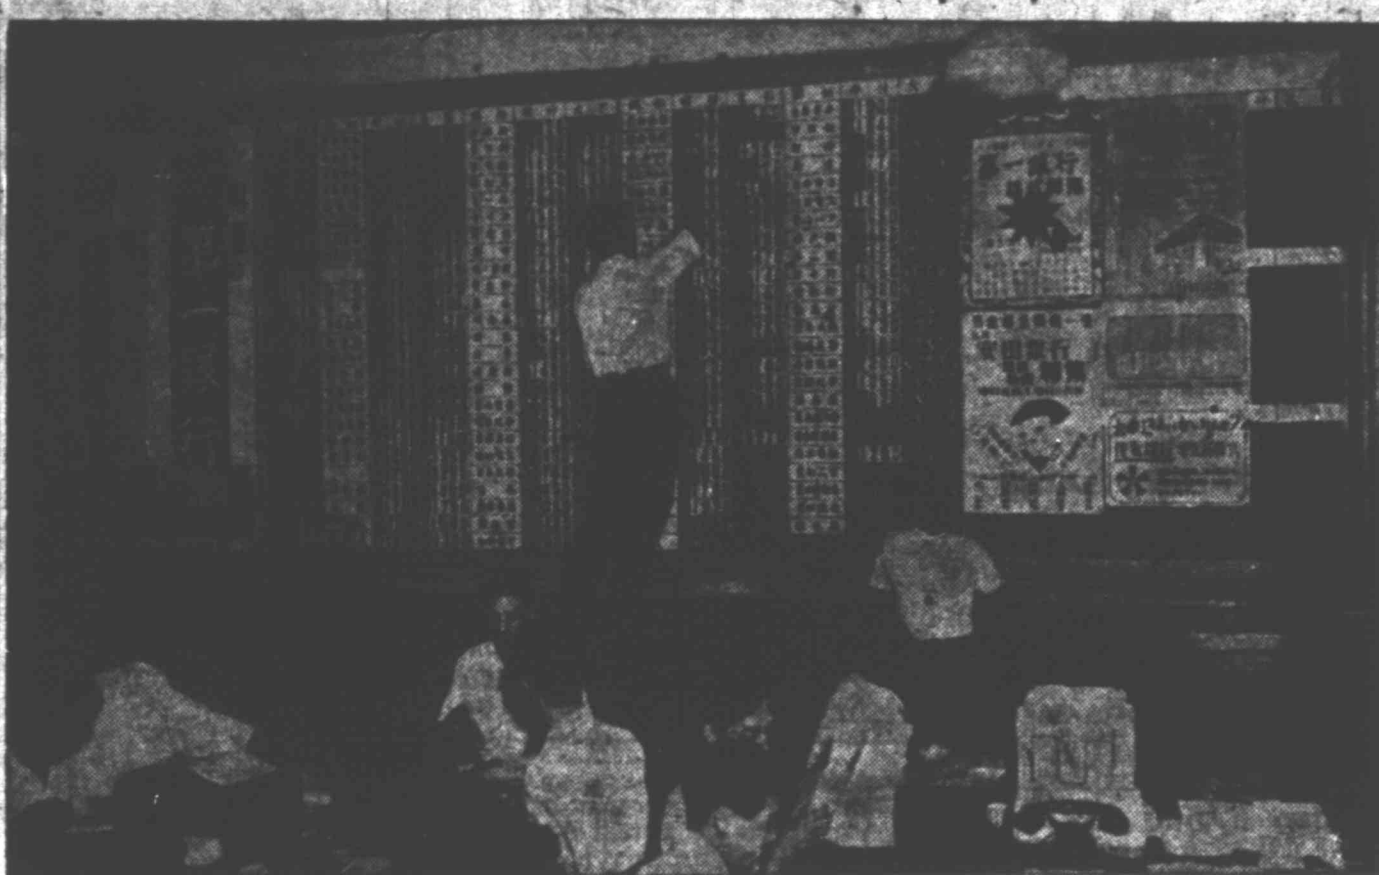

The group proposed the office be headed by a United States Commissioner of Education selected by a board composed of lay members.

The convention named two men to the executive committee for two-year terms, Bryan Wilson, Martinez, Calif., and Frank Jackson, San Angelo, Texas.

AND

Hear Him Over Radio Station KCRS 8:30-9:00 P. M. Monday

JACK PORTER'S EXPERIENCE AND KNOWLEDGE QUALIFIES HIM TO ABLY REPRESENT TEXAS IN OUR U. S. SENATE.

Jack Porter was born on a farm in Parker County, February 21, 1896, the youngest of seven children. His father raised cotton and corn on a 190-acre farm, 11 miles from Weatherford.

When he was four years old, Jack's father died. He was only eight years old when he went to work delivering meat for his brother's butcher shop before and after school and in the summer time.

Attending Weatherford schools, he graduated from high school in 1915. During the summer, he worked on farms and ranches and also held a job one summer as a roadmaster's clerk for the T & P Railroad to help defray his school expenses.

After finishing high school, he went to work for his oldest brother and his partner as a bookkeeper and stenographer in a country bank at Byars, Oklahoma. With his brother and partner as his associates, Jack Porter went into the real estate and automobile business after two years in the bank. He has been working for himself ever since.

In 1918 he went into the army as a private and was honorably discharged as a private. When the war ended he was in the Quartermaster Officers' training school. After the war he returned to Purcell, Oklahoma and resumed his real estate and automobile business.

The Mexia oil field was discovered in 1920 and the next year he returned to Texas and entered the oil business, in which he has been engaged ever since. It wasn't until 1924 that Porter got his first returns from oil royalty when a well in which he held an interest came in at Wortham.

During his career as an independent oil producer, he has lived at Mexia, Dallas, San Antonio, Tyler and Houston, where he moved in 1934.

In 1917 he married Ilona Campbell and on October 4th, the Porters celebrated their 31st wedding anniversary. They have one son, James W. Porter, and two grandchildren.

In addition to his oil business, Porter is president of a soft drink bottling company in Houston and is a director of the Aquanox Corporation of Houston. He owns a farm in Parker County.

One of the most progressive independent oilmen in Texas, he played a prominent role in organizing the Texas Independent Producers and Royalty Owners Association and has served as President for two years, his term expiring September 12. He has been a leader in the fight to save the tidelands for Texas and his activities as president of the Independent Association have made valuable contributions to oil conservation and the development of Texas oil properties.

The largest football crowd ever to see a game in the Southwest will watch the Universities of Texas and Oklahoma play Saturday afternoon in Dallas.

No matter that both teams suffered upsets at the outset of the '48 season, for this is the festival of Southwestern football, the forty-second meeting between the Sooners and Longhorns in a series famous for its thrilling play.

Some 67,500 will be on hand. The game is already a sell-out, and that crowd, moving into the enlarged Cotton Bowl stadium in Dallas, will far outstrip any previous grid gathering in this part of the nation. In this setting, these two teams will battle for a bronze cowboy hat trophy.

The long colorful series began in 1900, and in the 41 games since, Texas has won 28, Oklahoma took 11, and two have been ties. The main part of the series since 1940 in an eight-game winning streak for the Longhorns. Ironically, it was in 1940 that the State Fair of Texas donated the cowboy hat, and it never has been taken northward across the Red River to the Sooner campus.

But Oklahoma owns the biggest margin of victory in the series, a 50-0 whopping handed Texas in 1908. In the main, however, the series has stood for thrills and close scores—as 20-13 in '46, 12-7 in '45 and 19-16 in 1940, when Texas staged its victory streak.

But last year's 34-14 game, in spite of the sound of the score, was one of the most dramatic of them all, marked with long scoring plays, a debated touchdown, and a contention by many OU fans that the Sooners should have won the game.

Oklahoma looks this year toward retaining some of the success it enjoyed in the late thirties, when the Big Red squads took Texas apart. This year's renewal will match two T-formation units, losers by upsets in early games, but both potentially fine football teams.

The game will match tough lines, particularly.

Here is a rundown on the scores by years for the entire series (remember?)

Everyone in Midland should stress the importance of winning a football game October 29, the occasion of dedicating Memorial Stadium.

San Angelo's Bobcats are a worthy foe. The visitors will bring a fine ball club. These Bobcats will be out to spoil the Bulldog's evening—and rightly so.

We here should bear down and take this dedication battle and it is not too early to begin getting ready to do it. We realize the coaches like to bring their boys along and play the games one at a time. And that is all well and good.

But: This is no ordinary game. On the books of 3-AA it will go down as just another score. In Midland, it has more importance. For years and years to come, MHS teams are apt to be performing in Memorial Stadium. It would be fine if they might remember that the stadium was de-

Ohio State Bucks Bang Trojans 20-0

COLUMBUS, OHIO —(AP)—Ohio State's alert, fast-striking gridgers racked up their second straight win Saturday, taking a 20-0 defeat on Southern California—the first loss in three starts for the Trojans.

The first break came on the Trojans' opening play as Art Battle fumbled and end Bob Dorsey recovered on the Southern Cal 38. Eight plays later Joking Joe Whisler whistled through center for a touchdown.

Late in the opening period Whisler hit the line from the one-yard mark, but fumbled and tackle Jim Bird recovered for the Trojans. The respite was short-lived, for Jerry Krall ran the punt-out 24 yards to the 16. Savic hit Krall with a nine-yard pass, and Whisler again went over. That touchdown came just after the second session opened.

The Bucks took the ball to score early in the final quarter on a seven-yard pass from Savic to Krall.

Citation Boosts Earnings $72,700 In Gold Cup Romp

NEW YORK —(AP)—Citation led all the way to capture the $100,000 added Jockey Club Gold Cup Saturday at Belmont Park, running the two miles in 3:21 3-5 as he soundly whipped six rivals.

Jockey Eddie Arcaro sent the Calumet Farm three-year-old champion in front from the start, and he won just about as he pleased. C. V. Whitney's Phalanx, 1947 winner of the race, trailed by eight lengths in second position. The Andes Stable's Beaucheuf was third, 10 lengths back of Phalanx.

Citation paid $2,600 to win and $2,200 place for $2. Those who wagered on Phalanx got $3.30 for place. Citation's easy victory was worth $72,700, and shot his two-year earnings to $744,650, more than any horse ever before earned in that space of time.

Baylor-Mississippi State Battle Winds Up In 7-7 Deadlock

MEMPHIS, TENN. — (AP) — Baylor's "T" and Mississippi State's single wing fought to a 7-7 deadlock here Saturday in a thrill-spilled game witnessed by 21,000 fans.

State broke the ice in the second period when sophomore end Art Tait blocked Adrian Burk's kick and Murry Alexander took the ball over from the Bear 18. Baylor's tally came after a sustained drive launched at the outset of the third period. Both tries for extra point were good.

State's famed Shorty McWilliams led the Maroons in a ground attack that bested the Bears 118 yards to 57. But Adrian Burk's passing arm put Baylor ahead 23 to 15 in the aerial battle.

Strangely enough, the Bears' passing was only a minor factor in their touchdown drive which started with the second half kickoff.

Ground Drive Pays Off

Jerry Mangum and James Mott sparked a ground drive that netted four first downs and advanced the ball from Baylor's 22 to the State 30 before Hayden Fry tossed the first completed pass of the half.

Then a pair of passes by Burk and Ray Pinater took the ball down to the four, and Frank Boydston took it over from the two. Henry Dickerson kicked the point.

The first half was ruled by the Maroons, culminating in Alexander's touchdown dash. Baylor had taken the ball on its own 32, and two ground plays and an incomplete pass left the Bears on their 35.

The State line swarmed all over Burk as he took a low pass from center and Tait blasted him. Alexander grabbed the ball out of the air and was over before the Bears knew what hit them. Max Stainbrook kicked the extra point.

Longhorns Toy With New Mexico Lobos In 47-0 Whitewash

AUSTIN—(AP)—The Texas Longhorns toyed with the New Mexico Lobos as they chalked up a 47-0 victory here Saturday before 35,000 football fans.

Famed in recent years as a passing team, Texas quit the air lanes Saturday. The Longhorns tried only three passes—all in the first half—and completed two. All the scoring came on running plays.

Fullback Ray Borneaman, from Houston, started the touchdown parade. He took a pitchout from Quarterback Paul Campbell and went around right end 21 yards to pay dirt. The initial tally came three minutes 55 seconds after the game started. Frank Guess missed the try for extra point. The tally climaxed a 66-yard march.

It was Borneaman across the Lobo double stripe again a few minutes later, this time on an eight-yard gallop through the middle. Guess converted. Shands runs wild. The sweetest run of the day was turned in by H. J. (Bubba) Shands, substitute right half. He came tearing off the Texas left tackle in the second quarter, cut to the sideline and outdistanced the New Mexico safety in a 76-yard race to the goal. Randall Clay added the point, his first of four successful conversions in five attempts.

Georgia Jackets Sting Tulane 13-7
ATLANTA—(AP)—Georgia Tech's Yellow Jackets stung Tulane 13 to 7 before 35,000 football fans Saturday to remain undefeated in the Southeastern Conference.
Tech struck twice with lightning-like suddenness in the first half. Tulane came back in the second period when Joe Ernst passed to Dick Sheffield for 29 yards on the Tech six. Three plays later Ernst plowed over.

FIRE DAMAGES DENTON SCHOOL BUILDING
DENTON, TEXAS—(AP)—Pupils of Stonewall Jackson Elementary School here still did not know Saturday whether they would go to school Monday and, if so, where.
Flames Friday night gutted the school building. Fire Marshal Eugene Cook estimated damage between $20,000 and $40,000.

Takes 27-6 Tilt After Behind 6-0

The Plainview Bulldogs roared back in the second half to beat the Midland Bulldogs here Friday night 27-6. Midland held a 6-0 halftime advantage.

Midland scored in the second quarter with a 41-yard drive. Bill Little, fullback, made the TD with a three-yard plunge over guard. Larry Buckingham (wingback) missed the extra point. It was 6-0.

Plainview tied up the game early in the third quarter, driving 65 yards for a tally. The visitors never lost the ball after the second half kickoff. Jack Howton, quarterback, ripped 13 yards on a handoff for the touchdown. Horace Chaney's placekick for extra point was wide.

Fans enjoyed the halftime scene as more than 300 youngsters in football uniform representing the three elementary schools, Junior high and the B and C squads of the high school.

Doak Sparks Ponies In 41-6 Romp Over Battling Texas Tech

DALLAS—(AP)—Doak Walker set Southern Methodist on fire and kept the flame fanned Saturday as the Mustangs ripped battling Texas Tech 41-6 to keep one of the longest winning streaks in college football going full blast.

A crowd of 23,000 saw the Methodists bore to a sluggish 13-0 halftime lead with Walker alone playing up to standard, then the crowd winced before the terrific power of an aroused Mustang team that shattered the Techsans with two touchdowns in four and one-half minutes of the third period. Mustang reserves played the rest of the way and got a couple of touchdowns of their own.

Sooners Tee Off On Texas A&M 47-14

NORMAN, OKLA.—(AP)—The University of Oklahoma, picking up momentum after a shaky start, pounded the Texas Aggies 47-14 Saturday to hand the Cadets their third straight loss this season.

The Sooners scored a touchdown in each of the first three quarters and then cut loose with some healthy passing to help make three touchdowns in the final period. Twenty-five thousand shirt-sleeved persons watched the Sooners take the rubber game of the nine-contest series with the Cadets.

FIREMEN MAKE TWO RUNS
Midland firemen made two runs Saturday. At 4:05 p. m. they were called to 405 South Lorraine Street, but reported minor damage resulted in a blaze there. At 10:05 they were called to Permian Village, but this was a false alarm.

Lamesa Downs Midland Bullpups

The Lamesa Breezes beat the Midland Bullpups (seventh grade) 9-0 in a football game played Saturday afternoon in Memorial Stadium here.

The visitors tabbed a safety in the third quarter when the whole team swarmed through and covered a Midland back who had received a snap back behind his own goal-line. Midland had the ball on its own one-yard line when the safety occurred. The Pups took over the ball at that point after stopping a Lamesa drive on the one.

Lamesa scored a TD in the fourth quarter. Fullback Jones swept 30 yards around end. Left Halfback Burnett plunged over extra point. Lamesa had possession of the ball on the Midland 30-yard line after a puny Pup punt.

The two teams battled to a scoreless deadlock in the first half. Neither threatened. Deepest Threat: Midland's deepest penetration into Lamesa territory was to the visitors' 43-yard line.

Irish Powerhouse Smothers Panthers

PITTSBURGH—(AP)—Notre Dame loosed a football powerhouse against Pittsburgh Saturday and rolled over the Panthers 40-0. A sell-out crowd of 63,000 went away convinced the Irish could have scored 100 points if they had chosen to do so.

Captain Frank Leahy sent his first two teams out to get four quick touchdowns in the first half and then spent the rest of the afternoon experimenting with various combinations.

Frank Tripucka and Emil Sitko sparked the Irish to their first two markers. Then they joined other regulars on the sidelines for nearly three-fourths of the one-sided game as Leahy swept his bench clean.

Pittsburgh proved so feeble the Irish never hauled out their secret weapon—the explosive double-T which they used to come from behind a week ago against Purdue.

Notre Dame drove 65, 42 and 43 yards for half of their touchdowns and cashed in on pass interceptions for two others. The most beautiful scoring play came in the third period when Lanoster Smith, a 158-pound third-stringer from Lebanon, Ky., gathered in a punt on the Irish 15 and rambled 85 yards without a man touching him.

Florida law bans the possession, transportation, or vending of alligators less than four feet long.

Fort Worth Grabs Dixie Series Opener

BIRMINGHAM, ALA.—(AP)—The Fort Worth Cats worked the Birmingham Barons over for a 5-1 triumph Saturday night in the opening game of the Dixie Series before an estimated 17,000 fans.

Righthander Eddie Chandler set the usually hard-hitting Barons down with five hits. He gave up one run in the fourth when the Cat defenses lapsed momentarily.

Fort Worth Manager Bobby Bragan and third baseman Johnny Legros hit home runs in pacing the Cat attack.

The score: Fort Worth 5, Birmingham 1.

Dirt, Squirt and Quirt

— FARM, DAIRY AND RANCH NEWS —

Five hundred head of cattle sold Thursday at Midland Livestock Auction on a market that was slow and so cents to $1.50 lower.

Fat calves and yearlings went through the ring at $22.50 to $26.50 and medium kinds brought $20 to $22.50. Fat cows scored $18 to $20, medium ones $15 to $18. Canners and cutters brought $11 to $15, fat bulls $12 to $20, medium and common bulls $16.50 to $18.

Stocker steer calves and yearlings sold at $23 to $25.50, though no choice offerings showed up. Comparable heifers brought $18.50 to $23.

The three Midland gins Friday reported they had turned out a total of 374 bales of cotton. Ginning is expected to increase this week as picking gets into full swing throughout the county. Quality of cotton brought in this far is good, gin managers said; the crop is of good grade and fair staple, though the per-acre crop yield is far below that of last year.

Jim Eiland, Martin County agent, took in the Midland County Fair last week and invited Midlanders over to Stanton for the annual Martin County Fair which opens at 2:30 p. m. Friday and continues through Saturday.

The Texas Weekly Crop and Weather Bulletin for the week ending September 27 reported scattered showers in some Plains, Trans-Pecos and High Plains counties were temporarily helpful, but practically all the state, except the Southern and Coastal counties, were urgently in need of rain to start grass and weeds. Though livestock was gaining in weight in the Southern end of the state, stock was showing some shrinkage in the Northern two-thirds of Texas.

Marketing of cattle and sheep during the week was about normal for this season of the year.

James Kinney was here last week from his ranch near Carlsbad, N. M. The former Midland cowboy and nationally-known calf roper said the country between Carlsbad and El Paso is still dry.

Comes now the 17th Annual Texas Prison Rodeo, beginning October 3 and continuing each Sunday throughout the month, with an extra performance Wednesday, October 13.

Several hundred riders from all parts of the prison system were allowed to go to Huntsville for preliminary tryouts recently, and advance publicity indicates the 80 inmates selected to perform in the rodeo are top-bull and bronco peelers. The Texas Prison Rodeo, according to everybody who's seen it, is in a class by itself for roughness of stock and cowboys. The show draws the biggest crowds of any rodeo in the Southwest. A new stadium built by inmates using money from their own Education and Recreation fund will hold 40,000 persons upon completion. This stadium is not a "million dollar" affair as it has been called, prison publicists declare. It will cost only a fraction of that because the brick used in its construction was made within the prison system, and the cost of labor amounts to only 10 cents per day per inmate working on the project.

Hospital—

ment $24,000; laundry equipment $13,856, and cabinet and case work approximately $35,628.

To these expenses will be added architect's fees of approximately $68,000 and furniture and fixtures costing more than $100,000.

By the action, the cost of the project soared to more than $1,303,000. The government will supply a third of the funds.

Both the architects and O'Connell recommended immediate action on the contracts and the architects will meet with representatives of the state and federal governments in Abilene Wednesday to seek final approval.

Once contracts are signed, under terms of the agreements, negotiations will be started to prune expenses as much as possible without impairing the efficiency of the hospital.

More Money Needed
Another resolution, adopted unanimously by the trustees, authorized Dr. Thomas to execute preliminary forms and letters of intent as might be necessary in connection with obtaining the government funds. The trustees said they would do everything possible to obtain the necessary money, but if this is impossible they would get a loan to take care of the balance.

Cash and pledges for the Midland Memorial Hospital total approximately $750,000, and the foundation now lacks about $200,000 of having sufficient funds to carry out the program. Several trustees advanced the thought that when construction is started more money will be received from citizens. They want to make the institution the finest of its kind and the most efficient in this area.

Another resolution thanked Doctor Thomas for his untiring efforts and work to complete the hospital at the earliest possible date.

Standing In Tall Cotton

Speaking of being in tall cotton, what about this Midland County crop? C. C. Thomas of Midland holds erect a cotton stalk seven feet tall on the Merwin Haag farm 12 miles northwest of Midland. This cotton was watered with a sprinkler irrigation system, fed by a 1,500-gallon-per-minute well. While only a few acres of the crop grew to such extreme height, the 100-acre field is expected to yield a bale and a half or more cotton per acre.

Irrigated Feed In Midland County

This picture of combine maize on the Merwin Haag farm northwest of Midland shows what water can do for Midland County farm crops. C. C. Thomas, Midland Production Credit Association manager, is pictured in the outstanding feed crop. Unless early frost hurts the crop, this field is expected to yield more than a ton of grain per acre.

Three Men Charged In Jack Rose Death

MERIDIAN, TEXAS—(P)—Three men were charged here Saturday in the death of C. S. (Jack) Rose, 33, a Dallas salesman whose body was found in a shallow grave near Camden, Tenn., September 13.

Ranger Capt. M. T. Gonsaulas said Jim Harvey (Red) Corbett, 33, of Dallas was charged with murder in Rose's death. The ranger said all three men are now in jail at Cleburne. Rose was killed in Bosque County.

The other two, both charged with accessory to the act, are Frederick E. Miller, 24, Syracuse, N. Y., and Stanley A. Toussant, 23, Watertown, N. Y. They are held under bond of $2,500 each. No bond was set in Corbett's case.

The old fort was staked out by the late Gen. John J. Pershing in 1915 as a cavalry base for his chase into Mexico in pursuit of Pancho Villa. It will be sold by the War Assets Administration.

Choo Choo Justice
Leads Tarheels To Win Over Georgia

ATLANTA, Ga. — (AP) — North Carolina Saturday fumbled away two scoring chances in the first half and lost their punch when they needed it most, but in the second half the Tarheels, led by Charley Justice, ripped through Georgia 21-14.
Justice scored all three Carolina touchdowns. The third was an 85-yard punt return by the Asheville, N. C., speedster, easily the most spectacular play of the game.
The passing attack of Georgia's vaunted quartet, Johnny Rauch, was completely absent until late in the final period. Then he passed to end Gene Loredano to get the Bulldogs back into the game.
Georgia's first score was another crowd thriller. Halfback Eli Marich hauled in a pass thrown by Carolina's Hoses Rodgers on the Georgia 25 and out-ran some six tacklers for 75 yards and the first touchdown.

FORT WORTH — (AP) — The Arkansas Razorbacks took advantage of the breaks and manufactured a few of their own to whip Texas Christian University 27-14 here Saturday night.
Clyde Scott led the Razorbacks from behind and once the big, rough Arkansas boys started to roll, the Southwest Conference's first playoff game was never in doubt.
Scott, turning in one of his finest performances, scored the second-quarter touchdown that brought Arkansas even. He put the Porkers ahead in the third period and after Louis Schaufele built up the margin with a 30-yard runback of an intercepted pass, found up by scoring again in the fourth.
Some 25,000 fans watched the two undefeated Southwest Conference teams slug it out. A flurry of fumbles set up both first-half touchdowns.

LSU Tigers
Defeat Rice
Owls 26-13
HOUSTON — (AP) — Louisiana State scoring in every quarter, defeated highly favored Rice Institute Saturday night 26 to 13 before a crowd of 29,000.
After exchanging touchdowns with the Owls in a fast moving first period, the Louisiana squad cashed in on a blocked punt, a Rice fumble and a pass interception in successive periods for additional scores.
Rice outgained the Tigers both on the ground and in the air but a tight LSU defense kept the Houston team in its own territory except on four drives, including touchdown marches of 62 and 66 yards.
Tigers Strike Early
The Tigers moved out in front when the game was only minutes old with a 56-yard drive that saw Zolite Toth score from the two-yard line.
Rice immediately tied the count at 7-7 by mixing passes from Tobin Rote with the running of Bobby Lantrip. Rote passing to Froggie Williams for 15 yards and the score.
In the second period, guard Wren Woddy broke through to block Huey Keeney's punt and recover for LSU on the Rice two. It took Bill Schroll three tries at the line to give the Tigers a lead that was never lost.
Owls Take To Air
After Charlie Cucimano recovered John Kelly's fumble on the Rice 42, LSU drove 42 yards to the Rice 17, where George Glauser, reserve fullback, scored for the Owls.
Rice again moved rapidly to strike pay dirt. Ground gains by Sonny Wyatt and passes by Harmon Carlwell moved to the Tiger 18 from where George Glauser, reserve fullback, scored right end for the Owl's second and final score.
In the closing minutes, Dale Gray intercepted a Carwell pass and returned 88 yards to the Rice 17. On the third-play Charlie Pevey passed to Melvin Lyle for 17 yards to complete the LSU scoring.

Police reported they stopped a racket which might have drained money out of Midland citizens.

An itinerant photographer was taking baby pictures here and promising delivery of the prints later. He took checks for the down payment.

Police found he used the dark of the night for his dark room and could not deliver the prints he promised.

The checks were stopped. The picture taker was fined $50 for operating without a license.

TEC Predicts New Employment High

AUSTIN —(AP)— An all-time high for non-agricultural employment by mid-October was predicted Saturday by the Texas Employment Commission.

Such employment passed the 2,279,000 mark in August and a mid-October total of 2,312,000 workers gainfully employed was forecast.

TEC based its mid-October forecast of non-agricultural employment upon employers' statements that 23,700 additional workers will be added to Texas' already bulging labor market. Seven thousand two hundred of these new workers will be added by factories.

Geographically the biggest gain in non-agricultural workers was reported in the Houston-Baytown area where a jump of 2,800 occurred. Other areas reporting substantial additions to payrolls were Dallas, 1,200; Corpus Christi, 800; Fort Worth, 700; San Antonio, 600; Lubbock, 600, and Amarillo, 300. Decreases in employment appeared in the Harlingen-Brownsville area; Beaumont-Port Arthur; Galveston-Texas City and minor losses were noted in the Texarkana and San Angelo areas.

Only 17th century building still standing in Boston is the Paul Revere house, built about 1677.

WARREN PLANT HEAD DIES OF BURNS

WICHITA FALLS —(AP)— B. W. Mashburn, 39, superintendent of the Warren Petroleum Corporation gasoline plant seven miles east of here, died in a local hospital Saturday.

Mashburn died from burns suffered Friday when oil from a test tank burst into flames and ignited his clothing.

LOUIS SCOTT NAMED COMPACT COMMISSIONER

AUSTIN —(AP)— Gov. Beauford H. Jester Saturday named Louis A. Scott, El Paso attorney, as Rio Grande compact commissioner.

Scott will fill the unexpired term of the late J. E. Quaid, of El Paso.

Valley Vote Report To Be Made Public

DALLAS —(AP)— Reports of two commissioners appointed by U. S. Judge T. Whitfield Davidson to investigate charges by Coke Stevenson of election fraud and irregularities in three South Texas counties will be available to the press and public when filed, Judge Davidson said here Saturday.

The reports were scheduled to be filed with the U. S. district clerk in Fort Worth Saturday, but Judge Davidson said there might be some delay due to work of transcribing testimony of witnesses.

The investigation was ordered in connection with an injunction suit filed by Stevenson to keep Lyndon Johnson's name off the November 3 general election ballot as the Democratic nominee for the U. S. Senate.

Judge Davidson will open a court session in Abilene Monday. If he deems the reports of his two commissioners of sufficient importance he will order the reports delivered to him at Abilene, he said.

Bride In McCamey Wedding

Mrs. Harvey Gammage, married in the First Methodist Church at McCamey Saturday night, is the former Sarah Dillingham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mat E. Dillingham of McCamey. Gammage is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Glen C. Garrett of Abilene, and is employed in McCamey where the couple will be at home after a trip to Fort Worth and Dallas.

Dillingham-Gammage Vows Are Exchanged

MCCAMEY—In a candlelight ceremony marked with beauty and simplicity, Miss Sarah Dillingham became the bride of Harvey Gammage at 7 p. m. Saturday in the First Methodist Church, with the Rev. C. J. Mann officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mat E. Dillingham of McCamey, and Mr. Gammage is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Glen C. Garrett of Abilene.

The chancel rail was covered in white, banked with woodwardia and plumosa, centered by blue and white candles on either side of the altar. The altar arrangement was of a white wrought iron arch, through which a lighted cross shone. White floor candelabra with blue tapers on either side of the arch, was flanked by floor baskets of white gladioli.

"To Las Chaparritas" was played by Miss Claudine Brown while candles were being lighted. She also accompanied Sharon Hancy, who sang "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer." The traditional wedding march and recessional were played. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a bridal gown of pure white satin and marquisette, fashioned with a yolk of the latter sheet material, trimmed with a wide band of rosepoint lace, with a moulded bodice of the satin, and featuring long-petal point sleeves. The very full skirt of marquisette swept into a chapel length circular train. The bridal veil of imported illusion, fell from a coronet of white satin and pearls. She carried a white prayer book topped with a single white orchid with a shower arrangement of stephanotis and pearls on long white satin streamers.

Wedding Attendants For something borrowed, she wore the bridal gown and carried the prayer book belonging to her aunt, Mrs. Dee T. Carpenter, of Fort Worth. For something old, she wore a cameo brooch belonging to a friend, Mrs. Tommie Suddeth, of McCamey.

Library Has Books On Child Study

Information on child study and care is always in demand at Midland County Library, says Mrs. Lucille Carroll, librarian. A sample of the books and magazines on this subject to be found in the library collection is presented by Mrs. Carroll in the following list:

Growing Together (Bacmeister), Stop Annoying Your Children (Bauer), Guiding the Normal Child (Bowler), How a Baby Grows (Gesell), The First Five Years of Life (Gesell), The Child From Five to Ten (Gesell), From Infancy to Adolescence (Merry), Do Adolescents Need Parents? (Taylor), Give Your Child a Chance (Turner), Pointers For Parents (Wallace), Games for Younger Children (Webb), Does Your Child Obey? (Wiener), and Common Sense Book of Baby and Child Care (Spock).

Beside one usual women's magazines which have child care departments, the library has subscriptions to these periodicals: Parents of Children's Activities, Hysia, Recreation, and Junior Language and Arts.

The Girl Scout Association Council meeting in the Trinity Episcopal Parish House at 8 p. m. Monday. Council committees and troop committee members and troop leaders are expected to be present, said Mrs. C. E. Bissell, president. All other persons interested in Girl Scout work also are urged to attend.

Parents of girls of Scout age, assistants to troop leaders, and other persons who contribute to the Girl Scout program will be interested in the information Miss Prien will bring, Mrs. Bissell believes.

The program has been arranged to give the visitor most of the time, and to allow time for questions and general discussion. Girl Scout workers from Odessa have been invited to attend the meeting, and to visit with Miss Prien while she is here.

Brief reports will be given at the meeting by Mrs. Stanley Erskine on troop membership and leadership; Mrs. Robert Payne on activities of the past month and the program outline for October; and for Girl Scout Week, October 31-November 6; Mrs. Otis Baggett on the use leaders can make of the program; and Miss Dick Looby on radio program plans for Girl Scout Week. Mrs. J. C. Rinker, new equipment chairman, will be introduced.

To Fort Stockton Mrs. Bissell will accompany Miss Prien to Fort Stockton Tuesday. A dinner for Girl Scout workers there is to be followed at 7 p. m. by a meeting of the steering committee for the Permian Basin Area Girl Scout Council.

The committee, of which Mrs. Bissell is chairman, has the function of coordinating plans of the various local Girl Scout councils of the area. Other members are Mrs. G. W. Rammer of McCamey, Mrs. J. C. Coleman of Alpine, Mrs. W. R. Shelton of Monahans, Mrs. C. M. LaLonde of Odessa, Mrs. M. C. Puckett of Fort Stockton, Mrs. A. C. Williams of Kermit, and Mrs. J. E. Starley of Pecos.

District WTCC Clinic Will Be Held At Monahans

MONAHANS—A project clinic for Districts 6 and 7 of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce will be held in Monahans Tuesday, J. L. Pinkerton, WTCC executive board member, and H. A. Stone, Monahans director, announced.

One of the eight such meetings being conducted in West Texas cities, the Monahans clinic will hear D. A. Bandeen of Abilene, WTCC manager, speak at a luncheon in the Monahans school cafeteria at 12:15 p. m. The luncheon will be attended by Lions, Rotary, JayCee, and Chamber of Commerce members.

The clinic will begin immediately following the luncheon with a discussion of WTCC projects, including an industrial program, water development, state constitutional amendments, and soil conservation.

Among the topics to be considered is a special report of the WTCC-Texas and Pacific Industrial Development Committee, chairmaned by Frank Kelley of Colorado City. Inaugurated last year with the employment of economist Sidney L. Miller of the University of Pittsburgh, the committee has included in its work a survey of the leather goods industrial possibilities in West Texas.

Also to meet the scrutiny of the group is an enabling act for submission to the next session of the legislature, which would permit counties to levy for their own purposes, the 30-cent ad valorem tax now available to the state. This would be contingent upon passage of the proposed amendment to the state constitution providing that no ad valorem tax shall be levied for state general revenue purposes after Jan. 1, 1951.

A complete discussion of the eight constitutional amendments to be voted upon in the November 2 election will be undertaken during the clinic. In addition, steps will be considered to provide protection for the rights of West Texas water development, both as to surface and underground water.

Cities to be represented at the clinic are Big Spring, Midland, Odessa, Pecos, Monahans, Kermit, LaMes, Seminole, and Andrews. Both city and county officials of the districts are invited to the meeting as well as chamber of commerce officials.

Paris Stars Luxury Fabrics, Furs

Lavish use of fur trimmings distinguish these Paris fashions. Black fox lines the yellow duvetyne topcoat, left, and is used to make the toque and to border the gaiters. Shaved beaver trims the collars and cuffs of the elephant gray wool bolero which tops the front-buttoned dress, right.

By ROSETTE MARGROVE
NEA Staff Correspondent

PARIS—The unprecedented luxuriousness of Paris designers' collections is expressed by the lavish use of fur trimmings for coats and suits and of sumptuous satins and dazzling embroidery used for formal fashions.

Cloth coats are luxuriously lined with coney, mole, beaver or fox. Coney or mole linings are sometimes dyed to match fabrics of outstanding colors and black fox is used to provide sharp contrast with bright-toned woollens. A spectacular yellow duvetyne topcoat of Molyneux's design, for example, is entirely lined with black fox.

The season's luxury look is as elegantly expressed by the fur trimmings used for suits and dresses which quite often are completed by matching jackets or boleros. An ensemble, combining a flawlessly cut front-buttoned dress and fur-trimmed bolero, typifies the ultra-smart but restrained design to Robert Piguet.

The prevailing director's influence on evening fashions is interpreted in luxurious fabrics and in dazzling encrustations which enhance the rich fabrics. Fabulous embroideries which were never so exquisite are traced this season with beads and marcasite, such as the dazzlers seen on a graceful director's gown of Paquin's design. Gray-striped blue satin fashions this gown with a sweeping train and a fluted empire bodice which is a glimmer with bead and marcasite embroidery color-matched to the fabric.

NATIONALLY FAMOUS FASHIONS FOR HER

'How To Read Newspaper' Is Suggested By Editor

Written for The Associated Press by ERWIN D. CANHAM
Editor, The Christian Science Monitor; President, American Society of Newspaper Editors

Newspapers are not in the habit of making demands on readers. Our job is to serve readers.

And so when The Associated Press asked me to do 500 words on "How to read a newspaper" I was stuck.

My first answer was: "Why read it any way you please. Standing on your head, if you want to." Because we don't go around telling readers they should read their paper with care, or with intelligence, or between-the-lines (heaven forbid) or anything like that. Indeed, we think we leave readers alone.

But do we really? Isn't there a role readers have to play even more important than plunking down a nickel on the newsstand? It goes back to the primary purpose of newspapers.

Newspapers exist not simply to inform, although that is one way to put it. What is the purpose of the information? Isn't it in order that readers may be better citizens—more active citizens? Isn't it in order that they may do their part in helping to attain peace and otherwise helping mankind along its long and difficult road out of darkness into light?

Vital Things
What citizens do with the information they get from newspapers is the vital thing. It is summarized in the words of National Newspaper Week's slogan: "Your Right to Know is the Key to All Your Liberties." Newspapers and newspaper men have not struggled and sacrificed for the right to discover and tell the news, down through the years, just for the sake of making black marks on white paper.

This struggle of mankind was to make facts not only known, but operative. Free speech is a dynamic business. It is a two-way street, and nothing any newspaper prints is of the slightest value until it is read and enters into the thinking of the reader. Once it is in his thinking, the seed for action has been planted.

First Need
And so I say that the first need is to read a newspaper with awareness. With awareness of the citizen's role to utilize the information he is getting. He uses that information to assess the men and women to whom he has given political authority. He uses it to govern many of his own most important decisions in business. In his private and professional affairs. He uses it in determining his interests, his recreations, his entertainment. He uses it to enrich his cultural and spiritual life. He uses it—or his wife goes—to make better biscuits for breakfast.

If a reader realizes the operative and useful potential of newspapers, he will read them far more effectively. He will take the information he is offered, and forge it into a weapon of democracy. He will preserve and purify his liberties with it.

Awareness Urged
And so all the newspaper asks of a reader is this: Be aware of what you are getting. Take this material, which comes to you every day, and with it strengthen and enlarge your life. Take it, and make your community something worthier of your aspirations. Take it, and act—on an ever-broadening scale—so that ultimately men will not bring down on their heads the wars and destructions which this technical age threatens. That is all your newspaper has any right to ask.

For we want you to know that with the press of your newspaper, yours for the taking, is the information which marks you off from the slave in darkness and makes you a free man.

Rare Dolls Set New Styles

Coiffure of the doll, 19th century, above, lends itself to the modern short bob, right, for which hair is combed forward and cut to frame the face with "scallop." This hair style is keyed to the 1930-styled gown worn by the model which is copied from the costume doll's.

Coiffure of the costume doll of 1880, above, has been duplicated, left, to give today's wearers a formal hair-do when garded with flowers, informal when the wreath is removed. This hair style is copied to the evening dress shown with it which duplicates the doll's gown.

Spud Support Plan Strains Under Load

SPOKANE, WASH.—A bumper crop of early potatoes flooded the Pacific northwest and the government's price support program cracked under the strain.

Like last May's flood waters, the potato crop couldn't wait. To plug holes in the price support dikes protecting the market, the government was buying spuds at $2.80 a hundred pounds and selling them for 30 cents.

Claus Peters, Washington state chairman of the producing marketing administration, said the government has purchased 747,277 hundredweight of U. S. No. 1 and 421,317 hundredweight of No. 2 and 1-B potatoes in Washington so far. L. F. Renstrom, assistant director of the PMA in Idaho, said in Boise that "several hundred cars" of early potatoes had been purchased under the government support program there. Oregon's PMA is buying potatoes, too, and several other states are depending on the government to keep spud prices up.

Peters said the support price here is $2.90 a hundred for No. 1 and $1.30 for second grade potatoes.

Farmers who produce both potatoes and livestock, Peters said, can sell spuds to the government at support prices and buy them back as livestock feed at 30 cents a hundred, sacked and delivered. They get a 25-cent sack thrown in and the government "barely makes freight," Peters said.

If farmers want to haul them away in bulk, they can get them for 10 cents a hundred.

Judging School For Flower Lovers

Several Midland women plan to go to Odessa Tuesday and Wednesday for the Flower Show Judging School, which the Odessa Garden Club will sponsor in the First Methodist Church. An invitation has been extended to those who wish to take the course for credit, and also to those who want the information but do not care to take an examination.

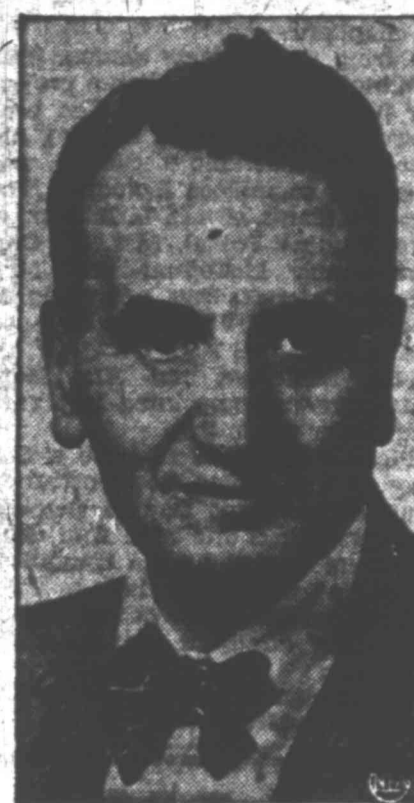

The course to be taught is the second in a series of five which are required for a person to be accredited as a flower show judge. Sixteen women in Midland have completed the first course, and some of these plan to take this one for credit.

Garden Club officers explain, however, that it is not necessary to take the course in order, so anyone who wants to earn the credit may do so without having completed the first course.

Mrs. O. E. Beavers of Fort Worth and Mrs. W. C. Hamilton of Wichita Falls, who are known in Garden Clubs over Texas as instructors and flower show judges, are to be the teachers.

The same course is to be presented in Lubbock on November 3 and 4, and interested Midland women are invited to enroll for it if they prefer.

Nation's Indians Ask Government For Claims Settlement

WASHINGTON (AP)—The nation's Indians are asking the government for upwards of $37,000,000 and in addition for value of lands amounting to many millions of dollars more.

James A. Langston, chief clerk and administrative officer of the Indian Claims Commission, told a reporter that Indian tribes already have filed 31 claims, most of them charging treaty violations or wrongful distribution of land.

"All of these claims do not state the specific amount of damages sought," Langston said. "The total amount of those that do is $37,000,000."

The largest sum sought is $1,200,000 by the Saginaw-Chippewa tribes of Michigan, who charge government violations of treaties. The smallest is for $144,000 by the Fond Du Lac and other Chippewa tribes.

Some claims are for value of vast areas of land which the Indians alleged were taken from them without proper authority.

The commission is due to expire in about nine more years. Before creation of the commission the only way Indian tribes could get claims considered was to have Congress pass laws permitting them to be filed in the U. S. Court of Claims.

The Osage say their lands were sold under a treaty with them to create the "Civilization" fund but the signers of the treaty did not understand that any of the money was to go for the benefit of other tribes.

The commission will hear arguments on the cases as fast as they can be reached.

When a decision is reached, recommendations will be made to Congress, which must decide whether to pay claims which the commission finds are justified.

Under the law creating the commission, Indian tribes have about three more years in which to file their claims. The commission is due to expire in about nine more years. Before creation of the commission the only way Indian tribes could get claims considered was to have Congress pass laws permitting them to be filed in the U. S. Court of Claims.

EAT PLENTY AND TAKE OFF UGLY FAT

Many people have reported amazing results with this home recipe. It's easy—no trouble at all and costs little. Just go to your drug store and ask for 4 ounces of liquid Baroprotein. Pour this into a pint bottle, and add enough grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Then take two tablespoons twice a day. That's all there is to it. If the very first bottle doesn't show the simple, easy way to lose ugly fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves, it's refundable. Money and boxes of excess fat don't just seem to disappear almost the magic, from neck, chin, arms, bust, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles. Just return the empty bottle for your money back.

Lost 47 Pounds
"When I returned to take my medicine, I weighed 115 pounds. I now weigh 68. I lost 47 pounds on the first two bottles. I feel so much better after taking that weight. I think it is a wonderful medicine and thanks to Baroprotein."—Mrs. George Greig, Chalpers Courts 4, Apt. 1, Austin, Texas.

Lost 28 Pounds
"I lost 28 pounds making four bottles of Baroprotein and I feel great."—E. Green, 812 24th Street, Corpus Christi, Texas.

Texans In Washington U. S. Reclamation Bureau Increases Texas Projects

By TEX EASLEY
WASHINGTON (AP)—The Reclamation Bureau, long a vital federal agency in the economy of Western states having big irrigation systems, is increasing steadily its activities in Texas.

Rex Reed, southwestern planning engineer for the bureau with headquarters at Amarillo, can reel off plenty of facts and figures showing the expansion in the state.

Here for conferences at the Interior Department about developments throughout Texas and in parts of Oklahoma and Kansas, Reed outlined the status of numerous projects between the Red River and Rio Grande.

They contemplate the distribution of water to tens of thousands of dry but potentially productive acres. One project in the Gulf Coastal region calls, not for the supplying of water to thirsty earth, but for the digging of large drainage canals to permit farming of low lands now frequently flooded.

At present, said Reed, the bureau is restudying several Texas projects and trimming their size to meet present high construction costs. Some had been found economically practical when passed upon just before the war but now will not meet minimum benefit-to-cost ratio requirements.

West Texas Projects
The war held up construction of the Robert Lee irrigation project on the Colorado River near San Angelo. The Balmorhea project in the Pecos-Marta-Fort Stockton area, and the Cotulla development on the Nueces River in South Texas, have increased out of proportion to the benefits since our original reports on them," Reed said.

"If materials and labor should drop again to about the 1938 level, with reasonable returns on irrigated crops, there is little question but that most of them again would meet requirements from an economic standpoint."

Under present reclamation laws, farmers who use water from such projects have to repay the cost of the canals and reservoirs—at least that part which is chargeable to irrigation as compared to flood control and power features. They have to repay this cost in a period not to exceed 40 years.

Extension of the repayment period is one of the ways by which these proposed developments might once again be considered economically justifiable. This would require an act of Congress. Irrigation users do not have to pay any interest on the costs.

Other Angles
Other angles are being considered in the restudy of projects now considered financially unsound on the basis of present costs.

In some instances towns and cities near them have grown so that there now may exist municipal and industrial needs for the water. In some instances the size of a project can be reduced.

New cost and benefit estimates on the Robert Lee project should be ready by next Spring, Reed said. A restudy also is underway on the Balmorhea project. A considerably smaller irrigation system than originally contemplated may be proposed. The new plan probably would call only for furnishing supplemental water to the acreage already under irrigation in that area of West Texas.

A restudy of the Cotulla project is expected to begin early next year.

Discussing other such projects in Texas, Reed said he anticipates that a survey will be started soon to determine what kind of irrigation system can be developed in connection with the North Concho River flood control dam near San Angelo.

An "inventory" survey is being conducted in the Colorado River watershed to determine just how much stream flow might be available for irrigation, and where such similar study of the entire Brason River Basin will be undertaken upon completion of the Colorado River survey.

Congressional Action
Once the bureau finds that a project is feasible it is recommended to Congress for authorization. Then, if authorized, the project has to receive a congressional appropriation for actual construction. Therefore, many years often elapse between the time a project is proposed and the actual start of work on it.

Reed said plans were discussed at a recent meeting at Lubbock for proposed dams on the Canadian River.

Army engineers once studied proposals for dams at Tascosa and Sanford, near Amarillo, but ruled they were not economically justified from the standpoint of flood control. It may be that delivery of water to Amarillo for municipal and industrial use, plus irrigation, would make the dam or dams economically justifiable.

A report will be completed in about a month on the Brownwood project, Reed said. There already is a lake there, but it may be enlarged.

The drainage project in South Texas, near Houston, would be on a tributary of the Brazos River called Big Creek.

Canal Project
About 100,000 acres is involved in the Big Creek project, he said, which is being studied jointly with the Army engineers and soil conservation officials. The Reclamation Bureau's role probably would be the construction of large ditches or canals to carry flood waters from the smaller ditches to the river.

An installation service written especially for the occasion was used when new officers of the Boone Bible Class of the First Methodist Church took up their duties Friday afternoon. Mrs. DeLo Douglas headed the committee that arranged the installation tea and wrote the service.

The Rev. Howard Hollowell, pastor, and Mrs. Ray Seifert, retiring president, took their places at a white covered table set before the altar. It was centered with white roses and unlighted candles, and flanked by tall baskets of white gladioli and chrysanthemums.

The pastor lighted the first candle in the name of the church, then installed the teacher, Mrs. D. L. Coleman, and assistant teacher, Mrs. O. M. Luton. As each lighted a candle, Mrs. Seifert presented her with a corsage of white roses. Mrs. Seifert installed her successor in the president's office, Mrs. F. A. Of St. Ann's Catholic Church October 10 Impressive Ceremony Set For Dedication Dedication services for St. Ann's, Midland's new Catholic Church located in the 2000 block of West Texas Street, will be held at 8:30 a. m. Sunday, October 10, officials said Saturday.

They said the completion of the building marks the fulfillment of a dream and labors of long standing.

In tracing the history of the Catholic Church in West Texas, members of the church here said it was in the Spring of 1841 that Francisco Coronado, the conquistador, swept across the Texas Plains. Beside him as he came eastward out of New Mexico rode a priest of the Franciscan Order. He was Fray Juan De Padilla, spiritual advisor of the volunteers who sought the wealth of Cibola, and it was on the Northern Plains of Texas, at a village called Amarillas that he left the army to establish a mission church. Here at the Indian settlement, he preached until 1844 when he fell in a native uprising.

Church Legends

Legends of the Church tell of the findings of missions in East and Central Texas, with many priests being killed by uprisings. But out of the chaos came the steady inroads of progress, and the missions of San Antonio brought the teaching and instructions of the Catholic faith to Texas to stay.

In 1881 three priests of the Carmelite Order came to the plains of West Texas, pausing at a settlement which now is the City of Stanton. From there they came to Midland, and before the turn of the century Midland had a Catholic family. Before church property could be obtained, Mass was said in the home of one of the families.

The present church building at the corner of Texas and Dallas streets was completed in 1938. It was dedicated by Bishop Forest of San Antonio.

By July 8, 1933, there were approximately 500 Catholics in Midland, and a parish was established under the protection of St. Ann, mother of the Virgin Mary. Father Edward Harrison, O. M. I. of San Antonio was appointed the first pastor by the Rev. A. C. Dusseau. The patron saint and title of the church was changed to St. George when a generous donation was made by Terence G. Brady through the Catholic Extension Society. Negotiations were started in 1937 for the purchase of a block of land on West Texas Street. This is the property which has developed into the new St. Ann's Church.

Obtained Chapel

Early in 1947 negotiations for obtaining the chapel at Midland Army Air Field were started. The objective was accomplished, the structure was moved to its new location, and remodeling began in January of this year. The building has been brick veneered and remodeled inside and out.

Father Frank Triggs, O. M. I., the pastor, and his assistant, Father Raymond Miller, credit the St. Ann's Altar Society with much of the success of the building program. They arranged for the sanctuary, sacristy, and furnishings of the church. Through the society plans were made to procure vestments, linen and other furnishings. Society officers are: Mrs. Albert Kelley, president; Mrs. Joe Beaky, vice president; Mrs. Ed Kent, treasurer; Mrs. Hugh Munn, secretary; and Mrs. O. C. Arnold, altar and sanctuary.

Program Announced

Program of the dedication ceremony will be as follows: blessing of the church, the Most Rev. L. J. Fitzsimon, D. D., LL. D.; officers of the Mass, the Very Rev. Thomas J. Kennedy, O. M. I., celebrant; the Rev. Edward Harrison, O. M. I., deacon; the Rev. Patrick Toomey, C. S. V., sub-deacon; the Rev. Frank Triggs, O. M. I., master of ceremonies. Bishop Fitzsimon will deliver the sermon.

Serving as acolytes will be Dick Monroe, Robert Price, Doyle Patton, James Patton, Joe Brodigan, and Billy Lillie.

The St. Ann's choir will sing "The Mass In Honor Of St. Joseph" by Richard Kaye Sings. The supplementary offertory will be "Cantata Domino" by William J. Marsh. The choir is directed by Mrs. Ben Densby, C. Ch. C., with Mrs. Howard Orr, accompanist.

Following the mass a banquet will be held for parishioners and visitors. Joe A. Kiegl will give the blessing. Father Triggs will give the welcome. The service will be followed by the introduction of visitors. A talk will be made by Alexander the Great, shaved clean, and started a school among the Greeks and Romans that lasted for the next 600 years.

Leisure Togs Shine For Fall

Glamorous fashions for the boudoir include the Mandarin-styled gold-threaded chambray pajamas, a boero, which are washable. Harem-styled blue jersey trousers and a broad-based boero toy make the lounging ensemble, left.

By EPIE KINARD

NEA Fashion Editor
NEW YORK—Fabrics glamorous enough to grace a ballroom will cut a shine in the boudoir this Fall.

Take gold-threaded chambray, for example. Because it is non-scratchable and non-farmishable and can take the washable like cotton flannel, this fabric makes pajamas which are as practical as they are glamorous. Intended for either sleeping or lounging, for example, are pajamas of color-striped gold-glinting chambray for women.

Designer Tina Leser takes her styling cues from a Chinese

Mandarin's jacket and trousers. Designed for lounging or for wear at informal "at homes" are glamorous togs which reflect Persian influence. One ensemble of Tina Leser's design combines harem-styled blue jersey trousers with a boero and sash of rich wine-red brocade. This sumptuous material, reproduces the peacock design of a museum-piece Persian fabric.

New Post Office At Terminal. Already Needs More Boxes

Several residents of Midland Air Terminal shared in "frustration" when the growing community's post office, known officially as Terminal, Texas, opened Friday.

Mrs. Jack Turner, postmistress, reported the 40 post office boxes allocated for the new office were far less than needed; at least 100 Terminal residents asked for boxes, she said.

Mrs. Fay Parker bought the first stamp from the Terminal Post Office. N. A. Green was issued "Box 1." The Rev. Curtis Rogers, pastor of the Terminal Baptist Church, received the first package. W. W. Beene received the first letter, and L. L. Theford mailed the first letter. Mrs. R. W. Plummer purchased the first money order. Mrs. Raymond Bourke received the first registered letter, and Jack Turner received the first special delivery letter.

Four sacks of mail were handled through the office the first day it was open, Mrs. Turner reported; she cancelled 94 stamps on letters and 96 on postcards.

Texas Business Still Going Strong But Little Likelihood For Further Expansion

By DR. JOHN R. STOCKTON
Professor of Business Statistics
The University of Texas
Written For The Associated Press

Business in Texas opened strong in the third quarter but showed signs of weakness that seemed to indicate that the peak of the post-war boom was at hand.

According to the state index of business activity prepared by the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research, the level of business in July was up sharply from June to hit a peacetime peak 127 per cent above the prewar average (1935-39). Since October 1945 there has been a steady rise of 42 per cent in the index, an advance of 14 per cent occurring in the last 12 months. Business in July was only 6 per cent below the wartime peak of January 1945. In the over-all index of activity there is yet no hint of a decline.

Nevertheless, there is little likelihood that business in Texas or the United States will be able to expand much further, except as prices rise and bring about an increase in the dollar business indicators. The economic system seems to be operating at as near full capacity as possible in a peacetime economy.

Full Capacity
The forces that are supporting the present boom, without doubt the most extensive ever witnessed by the American economic system in peace, are becoming weaker but are still strong enough to exert enough pressure to maintain production at full capacity.

Inventory buying was one of the chief inflationary factors immediately after the war, and although inventories are still increasing in some lines, buying for inventory in general has ceased to be a major support of the boom. Purchases of new plant and equipment, one of the chief factors in capital formation, continue at a high level, although in some lines the volume has ceased to increase. Consumer durable goods and residential building are still extremely strong factors in the present situation, and particularly for housing, automobiles, and refrigeration the demand shows little sign of declining. However, a general recession of business activity at this time would produce a rapid change in this aspect of the business situation.

Industrial Production
Industrial production in Texas showed signs of leveling-off in the third quarter, a condition that has prevailed nationally for 18 months. In July Texas industrial electric power consumption and manufacturing employment fell one per cent below June. Man-hours worked in the state's industrial establishments were up only 1.3 per cent for the first seven months of 1948 over the same period of 1947. After seasonal adjustment crude petroleum production and crude runs to stills were down two per cent and one per cent respectively, in July as compared with June. For the country as a whole, the outlook for industrial production is "good but not significantly better than the last half of 1947 or the first half of 1948" in the opinion of the President's Council of Economic Advisors.

Agricultural production in Texas held up well in the third quarter, but the year 1948 will not duplicate 1947. Livestock shipments declined 31 per cent, egg shipments 34 per cent and poultry shipments 50 per cent. The drop in milk production led to shortages in some parts of the state in late Summer. Although the cotton crop was slightly smaller, the fabulous wheat crop of 1947 was definitely history in Texas.

Less Cash For Farmers
The purchasing power of individuals may show some gain in 1948 over 1947, but it will be small. Texas farmers will definitely have less money to jingle in their jeans this Fall than last. By the end of July this year farm cash income was already off 12 per cent from the corresponding 1947 total.

Foreign trade remains an important support to Texas business activity, but it too has turned downward. Export and coastal cars unloaded at Texas ports were down 10 per cent for the January-July period of 1948 compared with 1947.

THE BUILDING

Written By The Journalism Class Of Midland High School

MHS Now Offers Six Speech Courses

Midland High School is offering six courses in speech this year, with a total of 66 students participating in the varied activities of the speech department. Two beginning courses present the fundamentals of speech. Advanced courses include dramatics and radio speech.

Two courses in debate and extemporaneous speaking have been introduced. The students enrolled in these courses, together with Miss Verna Harris, director of the speech department, are working toward state affiliation for the courses. Each of the above courses carries one-half credit.

During the past school year the department has been accepted into two national speech organizations, the National Thespian Club and the National Forensic League. The Thespian Club is an organization for students interested in dramatics. A student is received into this organization after he has completed points in the general field of dramatics works. Miss Verna Harris is the sponsor for this club. There are 11 members in the club now, and a new member, Nan Peterson, is joining this troop from Troop #28 in McAlester, Oklahoma. Twelve members of the club graduated last year and one member is attending military school this year. The members in the club now are: Patsy Bray, Eddie Joe Bryan, Don Linking, Donald Kirk, Sarah Lew Link, Jim McGraw, Royce Ray McKee, Billie Prothro, Patricia Fryor, Carolyn Schaefer, Bob Short, Charles Wheat and Peggy Lou Whitson.

The National Forensic League is composed of students interested in debate, declamation, and extemporaneous speaking. To become a member, a student must earn a total of 20 points by participating in one or more of the above activities. Students who have not earned the required number of points but are interested in speech and have been certified by the school principal or club sponsor as interested in such may become associate members of the organization. Sponsors for the club are Miss Josephine Weaver and Miss Verna Harris. At the present time there are nine members. Six members of the club graduated last year. The members of the club are: Virginia Breedlover, Shirley Bunt, Donald Kirk, Larry Lookamp, Jim McGraw, Maggie Murphy, Ken Nickols, Bob Short and Peggy Lou Whitson.

During the year the speech department sponsors and directs many student activities. Some of the activities are: junior class play, senior class play, a night of one-act plays, the Christmas Pageant, coronation of Catoico Queen and Interscholastic League work which includes declamation in all divisions, one-act play contest, debates and extemporaneous speaking.

Homemaking News

Homemakers of Midland High School had an Educational Booth at the County Fair September 30 to October 2. Theme of the booth was a "Family Life Scene." A happy father and eager children are enjoying the evening, while the mother prepares and serves the evening meal.

Gratitude goes to Midland Hardware, J. C. Penny and Dunlape for making the construction of the booth possible.

Garments worn by the manikins were made by girls in clothing classes. The food was planned by the foods classes.

To clothe, feed, manage, entertain, and house are essentials of a happy family life.

Future Homemakers bought a radio and an electric clock to make their work more pleasant.

Applied curtains made by second year girls have been hung in the clothing lab.

First year girls are making pillow slips, tea towels and guest towels. They will begin on pattern problems of blouses next week.

Second year girls are making infant and pre-school children's garments.

Jerry McDonald, MHS Senior, Named Bulldog Band Drum Major for 1948-49

By SHIRLEY BUNT
Jerry McDonald, senior at Midland High School, has been appointed drum major of the band, reports Ed. R. M. Lawton, director. Other officers of the organization include

Lovesick Schoolboy Is Junior Play Theme
The Junior play, "Remember the Day," had its first rehearsal this week. Leading the large cast is Dan Dickenson who plays Dewey Roberts, a school boy who is in love with a school girl named Norma Jean Krouse is the understanding teacher, Nora Trindell, who guides Dewey to his rightful career, one of the sea. Joe Dorsey plays Dr. R. Roberts, the famous man prominent in Washington affairs who idealized his teacher and dreamed of the sea. Jimmy Chauncey plays the High School coach, Dan Hopkins, who is interested in Miss Trindell.

Gold Jackets, Band Execute Formations
The snappy marchers of the Midland High School band and Gold Jackets made their third appearance in Memorial Stadium Friday night.

The band, led by Jerry McDonald, marched on the field from the north goal post while the Gold Jackets, led by Sarah Lew Link, marched on the field from the south goal post.

After meeting in the center of the field they marched into their formations which were a goal post and a football. While in these formations the band played "Football Days Are Here Again" while the drill squad sang.

The 10 majorettes of the band drill squad performed their routines while the formations were being made.

Then the band and Gold Jackets marched back into rank and off the field.

Editor's Notes

Midland High School students were given the opportunity Tuesday and Wednesday of having chest X-rays taken. This service was provided by The Texas Tuberculosis Association and The Midland County Tuberculosis Association. It was financed by the sale of Christmas seals.

The students will be notified as to the results of the tests in about three weeks.

It seems Midland's Youth Center has a new and unusual mascot. Bob Short introduced him at the assembly program Tuesday. The mascot is a skunk called "Stinky."

Well, well, now it's their turn. Midland teachers are having to go to school two afternoons each month. This is being done in an in-service training program under the direction of Dr. James Knight, University of Texas.

Pat Fryor has been highly elated this past week. She stayed in Paso an extra day and saw the President.

Last week you could tell at a glance who went to Juarez. The Juarez visitors wore back sporting rings, bracelets and trinkets of various sorts and sizes.

MHS students are looking forward to the coming of the Navy Band. It has been the subject of conversation among many of our students.

14 Nominated For 1949 Catoico Queen

Fourteen girls were nominated for the 1949 Catoico Queen in the MHS Auditorium Wednesday, September 22. The following girls from the Cole and Eddie Darnell went to the game last weekend: Lois Black, Melba Jean Clarke, Nell Wayne Cole, La Verne Estes, Mary Faye Ingham, Sara Krelshar, Sarah Lew Link, Royce Raye McKee and Peggy Lou Whitson.

Those nominated from the junior, sophomore and freshman classes were: Janis Slough, Jean Blackwell, Toya Chapple, Ann Stephens and Nancy Roberts.

Those who received the most votes become queens. The six runner-ups are her attendants. Votes are placed when you purchase a Catoico. The sale of these annuals begins Monday, according to Neal Adams. A few of the nominations were made by students giving short skits, but most of them were made by giving the name of their nominee to the secretary. Neal Adams presided as chairman and Dan Dickinson acted as secretary.

Sport Spoutings

By NEAL ADAMS
When Midland plays Sweetwater this week it will be sort of a reversed homecoming or something for Coach Gill, Coach Atkins, David Weaver and La Verne Estes because they all hail from that city. Of course you won't find many more loyal Midlanders now. Coach Gill has a kid brother on the Sweetwater team. Incidentally, last year's score was 19-0 in favor of Sweetwater. The Midland boys will be rated underdogs in this year's melee.

Many Midland fans are enthused because there are no outstanding stars on our football squad this year. They believe our squad is strengthened because there are no "sitting ducks" but what do you think about Odessa? When Doc Bevins got his shoulder bone in El Paso he spent a pretty restless night. In fact he didn't sleep a wink. Doc will be out of action for approximately three weeks. While on the excursion to El Paso, the football squad saw a game between Bowie and Cathedral, both of the city. Both were good but the boys tell us that Cathedral had the best team. Oh, well, it works out that way sometimes.

Coach Atkins tells a humorous story. It seems that while the coach was in college, he was selected as the ugliest male in the institution. The upshot of it was that he got a date with the prettiest girl in town. Move over, coach, my turn now.

Larry Buckingham, Larry Messersmith and Arnold Drake got lost in El Paso. They waited two hours (exaggeration?) on a street corner looking for someone they knew. Coach Milton finally found the strays.

Although not too much emphasis is put on girls' volleyball, Midland usually has a pretty good team. Our team copped only fourth place in the city. Boys are going to give somebody a bang-up good contest.

The "B" Bulldogs say that when they were playing Big Lake they were up against a much more experienced team. Experience is something that football players can't get too much of, and the "B" is a good place to get it. Inexperience is a major cause of fumbles, and fumbles hurt. Ask last year's team!

Midland is not recognized as a top contender for the crown in our district this year. That's good. Have you ever thought about the pressure that rests on a highly seeded team? Well, our guys are capable of doing plenty of damage to higher standing teams. And they aren't to be counted out of the running yet!

Maybe you've been wondering why the "B" Bulldogs aren't out for football this year. Alfred has been warned by his doc to stay off of an ailing right knee. Another knee injury is the property of Leon Cline. A ureche may be in the offing for Alfred and Leon may have to undergo an operation.

Students Journey To El Paso Game
Twenty-three students left school Friday, September 24 on a chartered bus to El Paso to play the Austin High Panthers at El Paso. The students arrived in El Paso at about 4:30 p.m., at which time they toured the city, yelling for the "Old Home Team." They were then taken by bus to Juarez, New Mexico where they had one hour to explore the city.

After the game they attended a dance given by the Austin High students in the Panther gymnasium. Students making the trip were Patsy Bray, Goss Yeager, Janis Slough, Max Allen, Bob Short, Atila Letwiche, Joy Guyton, Peggy Minear, Wanda Hankla, Ben Gray, Ben Alexander, Oats, Jerry Webb, Clinton Morgan, Dick Monroe, James Barber, Charles Shepherd, Leon Cline, Dan Dickinson, Joel Sims, Beverly Keating, Jean Ferguson, Louis Griffith, and Harold Drew.

Mrs. Ray Minear chaperoned the group. The students returned to Midland at 9 a.m. Saturday and all agreed that they had a wonderful time.

Annual Advertising Committee Selected
Miss Helene Miley has announced the committee to sell ads for the 1949 Catoico. Goss Yeager was appointed business manager of the staff.

Members of his staff include Melba Jean Clarke, Jean Ferguson, silver Hamilton, Wanda Hankla, Denzil Ann Kemp, Beverly Keating, Betty Luckett, Peggy Minear, Nova Alice Rogers, Roane Puetz, Nova Dale Smith and Ann Stephens.

Goss Yeager says "It is important that the ads are in by Monday so the work can begin on the writing of these ads."

Who's Who

By PATRICIA FRYOR
The cute, blue-eyed blonde you've seen shouting "Rui" at the Drill Squad lately is Tina Williams, the captain for 1948 and Drum Major for 1948-50.

When asked her reaction to being elected captain she said, "Why, everyone knows how tickled I was." Tina, who is fifteen, was born in Brownwood, She has attended school in Peock, Tucumcari, N. M., Fort Stockton, El Paso, San Antonio and transferred here from Abilene Christian High School.

A junior, she takes geometry, English, typing and Spanish. She says English is her favorite subject and Miss Gordon is her favorite teacher. On club days Tina reports to Los Habladores and of course, Gold Jackets.

Favorite flower
Her favorite flowers are roses, her favorite pastime is reading and her favorite song is "Because." She loves to watch basketball games and play cards and her pet idiosyncrasy is tearing up paper into bits. Her ambition is to be a nurse and her pet peeve is hillbilly music. She also is always afraid someone won't believe her when she is telling the truth.

Tina is student director of this year's junior play, "Remember The Day."

Corrections
These former students of Midland High School were left off the list in the last "Buildog" of those attending college:

Texas Tech—Joe Anderson, Patsy Bates, Turis Bates, Richard Clarke, Jimmy Ocker, Maurice Cox, Maurice Denton, Betty Joyce Gerard, Fred Lamb, Mona McGraw, Eddie Richardson, Marianne Tidmore and Billy Charles Velvin.

San Jose—A. A. Whitson and Kenneth Good.

Lucille Wemple is attending Hockaday College.

FFA Notes
The F.F.A. Chapter had an Educational Booth in the County Fair, September 30 to October 2. Theme of the Educational Booth was "Frigidation Walls in Midland County."

The F.F.A. Sweethearts and several members rode on a decorated float which entered the fair parade Thursday afternoon.

An old Greek superstition holds that it is unlucky to be married in May.

Midland's Band Shows Improvement

By MAX ALLEN
During the last few years Midland's band has improved greatly. This is due mostly to the band director and the students' enthusiasm for band.

Two years ago Midland won three first divisions in Class D, the class of 1948 year bands. The next year Midland was placed in Class AA because of increased enrollment in school and being a second year band. In this class it won a second, a third, and a fourth division.

Our band, although greatly improved, could be made better in the future if band instructions were given to students in the grade school and in junior high. This is planned for next year. Then when a student reached high school he would be ready to start playing in the high school band.

Through this method interest in band would be increased and our band would grow in size and quality.

Safety Is Theme Of Tuesday's Assembly
Mr. Tom Sealy delivered a short talk on safety Tuesday in assembly which was followed by another brief message on the same subject by Mr. Bill Collyns, editor of the Midland Reporter-Telegram. Jimmy Chauncey and Richard Patton opened the assembly by presenting the colors. Charles Wheat, master of ceremonies, then led the student body in the pledge of allegiance to the flag, followed by the singing of the National Anthem, led by Miss Helen Cope. Charles then introduced Mr. Charles Mathews, principal who in turn introduced Mr. Sealy.

After the program, Bob Short announced that there would be a Bingo Party at the Youth Center Saturday night. "Stinky," a baby skunk, was introduced by Bob as the center's mascot.

Charles Wheat dismissed students to their third period class.

19 Band Members Receive Awards

Awards for 19 band students arrived Wednesday morning. Twelve received jackets made of school colors and seven received letters. The students received these awards after earning more than the required amount of points in band. Some of the jackets were in school colors with leather sleeves and the remaining 11 were in school colors. All jackets had a tye in gold on the front.

The band operates on a system of merit and demerit. Each student must earn his grade in band by accumulating points day by day. For an A, a student must earn 100 or more points. For a B, one must earn 85 points. For a C, 75 points must be earned and 65 for a D. Points above 100 count toward a letter.

If more than 810 points are earned throughout the school year, the student receives both a jacket and a letter.

Students receiving letters were Frank Blackwell, Raymond Doyle, Tony Dunagan, Richard Hull, Jerry McDonald, Billy Morningstar and Janis Slough.

Those earning jackets were Nick Harrison, James Ireland, Beverly Keating, Arliss Ann Kiebold, John Klingler, Sara Krelshar, Ronnie McFadden, Bennie Scott, F. D. Smith, Obie Stalcup, W. L. Thompson and John Tortbett.

Episcopal Rector Conducts Unique School At Bonham

BONHAM — (AP) — The Fanning County school of lapidary art and silversmithing for disabled persons is the only one of its kind in the Southwest.

The school under the Texas State program of vocational rehabilitation for disabled persons, is conducted by the Rev. Charles G. Kehler, Episcopal rector of Bonham. Classes are held in the Bonham High School building.

J. J. Brown of the State Department of Vocational Rehabilitation rates the school as giving the most complete training in its field of any in the U. S.

The Rev. Mr. Kehler came to Texas from Canada last year, where he spent 18 years in mission work among the Indians of Ontario. He taught the gem cutting and jewelry making.

The enrollment in the school is small, but because of the highly specialized nature of the work, large classes are not feasible.

The disabled students are taught how to cut, engravings—gems or stones with smooth, curved surfaces. Jewels such as diamonds also are fashioned. Students work with gold, silver, aluminum, brass and copper and are taught plating, repolishing and graving. They also learn to recut stones and set them according to customers design.

the property of the graduates. Acquiring skill in transforming raw materials into attractive and unusual jewelry is giving a new start in life to the students, whose handicaps have barred them from other types of work.

WE, THE WOMEN

Oklahoma Woman Raises Foxes On Commercial Basis

TALIHINA, OKLA.—(AP)—On her Holsum Valley ranch near here, Mrs. Bee Smith is adding another job to her long list of accomplishments.

Oklahoma's first woman bus driver now is in the business of raising foxes on a commercial basis.

As one of Oklahoma's pioneer advocates of woman's rights to compete with men in any field of endeavor, Mrs. Smith operated the Bee bus lines in 1926, driving one of the busses. Before that she drove a taxi, another first for Oklahoma women.

She always has been a cowgirl, raising cattle at a profit. She got her start in Ardmore, Okla., where her father, W. B. Weaner, former U. S. marshal, taught her the fine points of the industry.

One of the busiest women in this vicinity, she rides herd over 80 head of cattle on the open range, keeps a large number of hogs—and finds time for her housework.

Her foxes, however, are her greatest care and interest. Although still in an experimental stage, she has 16 old breeders and 23 pups in her pens.

Varieties include silver and platinum, as well as a few white-faced silver fox.

Although a stranger walking about the pens will create a turmoil among the animals, Mrs. Smith handles them like pet dogs.

And each has a name, her original pair, brought in from Colorado, are Duke and Michael.

HIAS Flies Jews To New Homeland

PARIS—(AP)—Almost 900 homeless European Jews have been flown to Australia so far this year by the largely American-financed Hebrew Immigrant Aid Society.

"This can't be happening to me," an 80-year-old woman said when she boarded the plane last week in Brussels for a flight to Melbourne. "I've spent the last five years in freight cars and now I'm flying."

The last plane load was a flight of 50 which went to Melbourne by way of Karachi, Pakistan, Ceylon, Java and Darwin. They were destined to live at first in the homes of remote relatives whom they had never seen.

Shipping companies who offer a limited space to refugees, forced HIAS to arrange for the air route, an official said. Only 25 per cent of the passenger lists of ships plying between Europe and Australia can be secured by refugees.

The society is gathering up new plane loads of refugees every few weeks. The homeless assemble in the Paris office where they usually come with their bottles of wine, loaves of bread and extra clothes often wrapped in blankets.

In Paris the frightened homeless Jews, many of them graduates of the worst of Hitler's concentration camps, are given new clothes and medical attention.

From Paris the immigrants are taken to Brussels where they are put aboard giant Sabena airlines planes.

"Some of them are terrified at the thought of living in an airplane for four days," a HIAS representative said. "But none ever turns back."

Crane County Memorial Hospital Opens Sunday

Visitors Invited To Inspect Plant

By JOAN CROWNOYER

CRANE—Another forward step in Crane's progress, the new $180,000 Crane County Memorial Hospital with nurses home, to provide adequate health facilities for citizens of Crane and neighboring counties, will open Sunday.

Marvin L. Brister, superintendent, announced open house to be held Sunday afternoon from 1 until 5 o'clock, and the official opening to receive patients at 7 a. m. Monday. The public is invited to view the modern hospital Sunday afternoon.

Some of the equipment has not arrived, but this will not interfere with the Sunday program, officials said.

Estimating the hospital, Brister says, "It is not one of the best, but the best. We will be capable of taking care of anything in the various departments of surgery, pediatrics, orthopedics, and obstetrics, and patients will be served by a registered staff."

The staff, like the latest type equipment obtained, was "hand-picked," the superintendent assures, and several states were involved before they were obtained.

"A lot of people are still wondering how we did it," Brister asserted, pleased with the efficiency he is able to offer the public. "These are the doctors, and the nurses I would take my baby to," he stated.

The hospital is being registered with various hospital associations, namely, the American Medical Association, American Hospital Association, Texas Hospital Association, and the State Department of Public Health.

The Crane County Memorial Hospital Board of Directors includes Joseph A. Eyster, county judge, chairman; W. V. Stell, president; E. R. Hutson, vice president; G. Darrell Keltner, secretary-treasurer; C. C. Swift, J. P. Hickey, and Neal Cook. Keltner, Stell, and Swift were elected to two-year terms, and the others for one year.

The first business on the board's agenda was the selection of a managing head for the organization. Selection of Brister came on high recommendation, and personal impression, the directors said.

Two Surgeons
Dr. S. F. Robinson and Dr. Billy Joe Maynard will be practicing physician-surgeons. Both doctors are well known in Crane, the former having had long residence here. Doctor Maynard is a native of Crane, the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Maynard.

He returned to Crane last Spring, having completed his internship in the Missouri-Pacific Hospital in Little Rock, Ark. He took his training under the Navy-V-12 program.

Doctor Robinson has operated his hospital here since its opening on Easter Sunday, 1938. Last year 331 persons were hospitalized, and 70 babies were born in the hospital. The establishment becomes the Robinson Clinic with the opening of the county hospital. No patients will be retained there. Mrs. A. B. Hughes is receptionist bookkeeper under the new setup.

Doctor Robinson came to Crane out of internship in the Marine Hospital in New York. He received his training in Baylor, and his premed in Southern Methodist University.

Dean H. Culp is the X-ray and laboratory technician. He has 35 years of experience behind him. Mrs. Culp, floor and relief nurse, also will be X-ray and laboratory technician assistant. The couple came from Stamford, experienced nurses.

Mrs. Lila Alexander is surgical nurse. She comes from Peota. Mrs. Leona Fry is relief in surgery. Mrs. H. M. Laxton is secretary.

Miss Evelyn Gilbert, registered nurse, will be on duty as supervisor from 11 p. m. to 7 a. m. She came from Little Rock, Ark., and received training in the Baptist State Hospital. Miss Ethel Baker, R.N., is 7 a. m. to 3 p. m. supervisor. She came here from Leachburg, Pa., and had her training in the Baptist State Hospital of Little Rock.

Miss Declina Gill is from Stuttgart, Ark., and also had training at the Little Rock State Baptist Hospital. She is supervisor from 3 p. m. to 11 p. m.

Another out-of-stater is nurse, Mrs. Olene Eaton, from Los Angeles, Calif. Mrs. Maggie Strickland, nurse, is from Crane. Nurses' aid, Mrs. Eula Mae O'Rear, came from McLeansboro, Ill.

Mrs. Tessie Stokes, Crane, and Mrs. Jess Johnson have the kitchen duties. Jess Johnson is orderly. The Johnsons moved here from Haakel.

The new hospital offers 10 private deluxe rooms, and two wards with three and four beds, respectively.

Oil paintings and prints grace each room, and the halls are decked with brass wall receptacles of ivory. Other modernly equipped rooms include administrative offices, laboratory, X-ray, utility, nursery, dining room, and kitchen which boasts an automatic dishwasher. A 20x30-foot storeroom is to be constructed at the back of the hospital.

The hospital is of Mission-Spanish architecture, with masonry and steel frame concrete construction. The roof is tile, all walls are plastered and ceilings are acoustical insulated board. Windows are steel sash type.

65 Transfusions And 4 Operations Aid TB Patient

MEMPHIS, TENN.—(AP)—A tuberculosis patient who has had sixty-five emergency blood transfusions for hemorrhages arising from the disease is reported to be recovering. He has survived four operations, lost a kidney and both of his lungs collapsed.

Dr. Franklin C. Cassidy, manager of veterans hospital, termed the case "the most unusual I ever saw. He had every reason in the world to die." The patient now is able to be in a wheel chair.

Cassidy listed the patient as Charles W. Harvey, 32, of Smithville, Ark., a veteran of three years overseas service. Harvey signed a statement allowing Cassidy to give details of his case with the use of his name.

Cassidy told this story: Harvey was admitted to the hospital last October 10 and was admitted on June 8 for tuberculosis. He also was suffering from kidney stones which doctors planned to remove. The left kidney was enlarged.

A kidney operation brought complications and three secondary operations. Finally the large kidney was removed and doctors wondered whether he could survive with only one kidney and tuberculosis.

His left lung also had been artificially collapsed. And during the crisis the right lung collapsed twice.

He was given enough blood to replace his blood volume about five times before he was given his last pint of blood two weeks ago.

Black Cats Can Run Into Trouble

ROCKFORD, ILL.—(AP)—Oscar Skogberg was driving a truck down Charles Street. A cat leaped up on his shoulder.

The truck veered to the left side of the street, collided with an automobile and slanted off into a parked car. Skogberg turned his eyes on the cat in a high voltage look of disgust. Sure enough. It was black.

Mitchum's Career Is On Jag Since Arrest On Dope Charge

HOLLYWOOD — Bob Mitchum's career is following a crazy course since his arrest on marijuana charges. In New York, people are standing in line to see his latest picture, "Rachel and the Stranger." THE SOUND OF HIS MASTER'S VOICE
SYDNEY, AUSTRALIA — (AP)—When his hunting dog began disturbing his rest, a Sydney horse trainer put a loudspeaker in their kennels and connected it to the public address system he uses to reach his employees. Stanfords Take Over Big Store

The Stanford Furniture Stores of Texas, with headquarters in Dallas, have purchased the Barrow Furniture Company of Midland and its name will be changed immediately to Stanford Furniture Company.

The announcement was made Saturday by Steele Stanford who has moved to Midland to manage the organization.

The Stanford furniture organization now operates stores in Dallas, Austin, Abilene and Stamford, in addition to the Midland store. Founded in Dallas.

The first Stanford furniture store was founded in Dallas in 1935. The organization has since spread its operations over a wide area of Texas. J. W. Stanford of Dallas is the owner of the organization.

Employees of the Midland store are being retrained and the personnel will be expanded in the future, it was announced.

"We are very proud to bring our operations into Midland," Steele Stanford said. "With our large buying power and standardization in better lines of home furnishings we are able to pass on to the buying public conspicuous savings and an expert service made possible by many years of operation."

This service includes a liberal policy of installment credit terms, placing purchases of home furnishings in reach of a greater number of people.

Better Construction Is Aid To Fire Prevention

WASHINGTON — Fire loss in America is headed for an all-time record this year. If it continues at the present rate it will exceed $775,000,000, far above the 1947 total of $622,538,000, according to figures compiled by the National Board of Fire Underwriters.

In the first half of 1948, total loss reached $386,480,000, a 4.7 per cent rise over $369,278,000 in the first half of 1947. This brought the loss for the 12 months ending June 30 to $769,839,000, highest in the nation's history, and a rise of 12 per cent from the preceding 12-month period.

Looking at these figures, fire-prevention experts, insurance companies and municipal authorities have redoubled their efforts to modernize archaic building codes and secure the adoption of effective regulations in every community where none exist. The President's Conference on Fire Prevention reports progress along this line, but states that it is slower than it should be.

So serious has the damage from fire become that insurance rates in New York and a few other states have been increased. Still other states are expected to follow suit.

One of the chief means of lowering the enormous fire toll is intensive public education in fire-prevention methods and by better construction. It is stated by fire-protection experts. Information on removing home fire hazards is now carried into many schools, and fire departments are tightening up inspection of stores, public buildings and other structures.

The U. S. Department of Commerce has issued a basic building code covering greater fire-resistant construction. Emphasis is given to confinement of fire to its starting point, since it has been found that over half of the large-loss fires result from faulty construction.

Other Recommendations

Among other things, this basic code states: "It is desirable that fire-stopping in partitions between dwelling units should be incombustible." It further states that walls of dwellings or other structures less than 10 feet from another building shall have a fire-resistance of at least three-quarters of an hour. Because the National Bureau of Standards reports that a wood-lath wall filled with mineral wool insulation will retard fire one hour and that if the wall is plaster on metal lath the time is 1 1/2 hours, presence of this substance is regarded as compliance with the law.

Families Urged To Fight Home Fires For Safer Living

For many families home was not a haven in 1947. While home budgets were juggled to include improvements for more comfortable living, it seems that not enough time was budgeted to make home a safer place to live in.

Each year the same fire hazards, thriving in millions of homes because of carelessness and neglect, continue to wreak havoc and destruction. During the week of October 3 to 9, every city, town and village throughout the country will be observing Fire Prevention Week. A good time to make your date with safety.

For more enjoyable living, live safely by practicing effective fire prevention and sound fire protection. Always be prepared for fire.

Destruction Of Home Represents Big Economic Loss

With property valuations at an all-time peak, the destruction of a home by fire today represents a correspondingly high economic loss. This point is stressed by fire safety officials, who recommend that all possible precautions be taken to protect existing structures and eliminate hazards in new buildings.

This advice, it is pointed out, is good at any time. It is doubly important in the Fall and Winter, when the most common home fire hazards are working overtime.

Half of the 280,000 residential fires reported last year were caused by unsafe heating equipment, faulty chimneys, defective electrical appliances and flying sparks and embers. Seasonable checkups on known hazards will reduce loss from these causes.

It also is good fire prevention practice to consult competent authorities before building or remodeling. Only tested and approved heating equipment and electrical appliances should be used. The importance of building with fire-safe roofing and siding materials is vividly demonstrated daily.

Good Contractor Is Important Aid To Home Building

Whether a family about to build its own home employs an architect or deals directly with a general contractor is a question to be settled only by the family.

For a fee of 3 1/2 to 15 per cent of the total cost of the house, an architect will provide plans and specifications; supervise every detail; work closely with owner and contractor; and watch for legal pitfalls.

In any case there should be a written agreement between owner and contractor covering scope of the work, method and time of payment and time of completion. The contractor will furnish all material, award sub-contracts, and direct construction.

Competent Builders

Every community has many competent general contractors who welcome investigation of their reputation, integrity and relations with labor and sub-contractors. From their experience, material dealers and lending agencies will recommend several such firms or individuals.

Two methods of payment are used: lump sum, whereby the contractor agrees in his bid to build the house for a fixed sum including all costs and contractor's profit; (2) cost-plus, whereby the contractor is paid actual cost of materials and labor, plus a fixed fee, usually 10 or 15 per cent of total, for his overhead and profit.

'Every Housewife A Fire Chief' Is National Slogan

"Every Housewife Her Own Fire Chief!"

That's the slogan for American homemakers suggested by officials of the Fire Protection Institute, national fire safety agency.

The time to fight fire is before the siren sounds, FPI spokesmen say. They point to the year's record of home fires as an indication of tremendous fire waste that can be eliminated in this country through intensive campaigns.

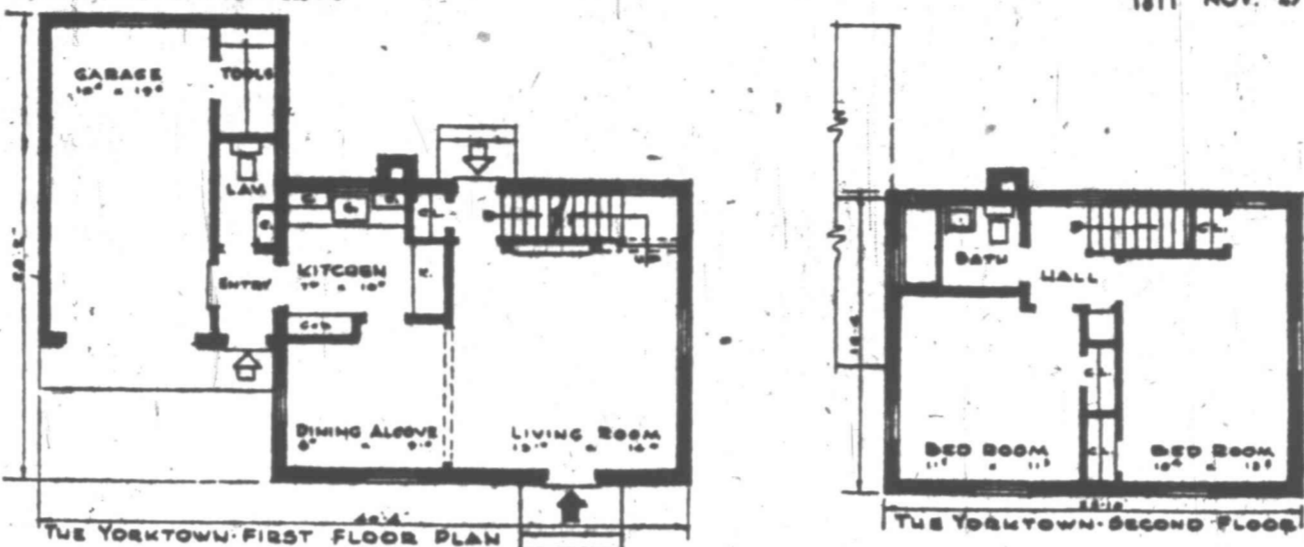

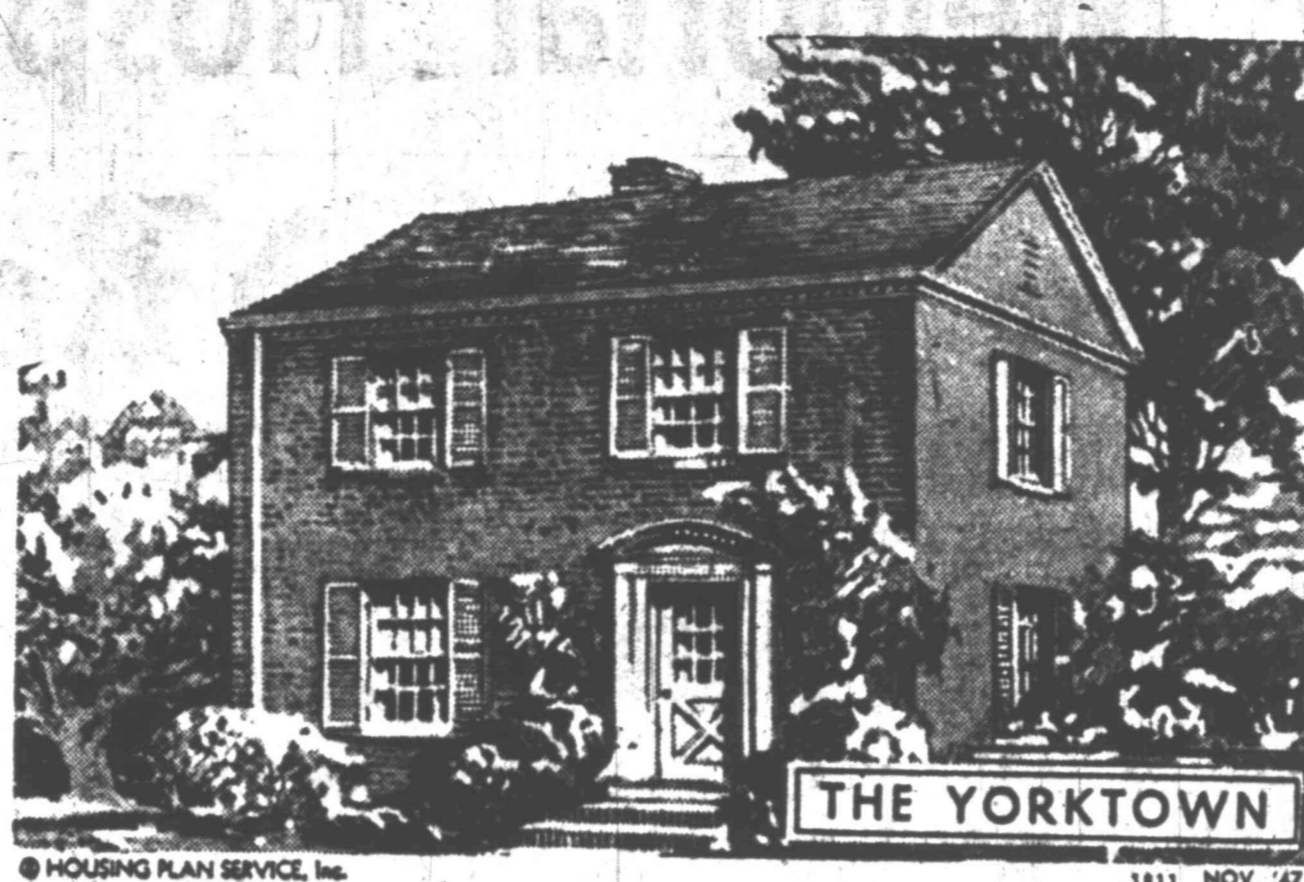

Three simple fire safety rules are all you need to be an effective household fire chief, the experts say. Here they are:

1. CLEAN YOUR HOME. If your attic or basement is an overgrown waste paper basket, you're inviting fire. Get rid of all rubbish. A clean house seldom burns.
2. INSTALL FIRE EXTINGUISHERS. Approved fire extinguishers are "first-aid" against fires.
3. CHECK FOR FIRE HAZARDS. Make certain that all your electrical equipment is in good working condition. Check all electrical cords to see if insulation is frayed or worn. Replace all broken or loose electrical sockets.

Fire plays for keeps. Every hour of the day, someone is burned to death. Every minute of the day two fires break out in your country. Don't fall for a flame—clean up or burn up!

Alfred Nobel stumbled on the discovery of dynamite when nitroglycerin, with which he was working, accidentally leaked into sand.

Yorktown Is Ideal Two-Story House

The wise family that builds this substantial home, the Yorktown, in brick or tile, or combinations of both, will insure its independence from upkeep and repair worries for many years. These sturdy materials also make the house virtually fireproof, especially if topped with a slate roof. The Yorktown is an ideal, small two-story house. Almost the entire first floor area is given over to living room, which includes a pleasant alcove for dining. The stairs rise out of the back of this room and lead to two splendid bedrooms with abundant closets and a conveniently located bath. The plans provide for a full basement and also show how a garage may be attractively attached to the house.

This Path Doesn't Seem So Thorny

MIKAMO, JAPAN —(AP)—Police tried to stop farm boys and girls from dancing in the fields.

"It is indecent," said the cops, "for young folk to clasp each other in their arms in the open like that."

One youth retorted that policemen "have heads as tight as stones."

The issue was taken before the police chief, who said:

"If the couple close their eyes and hug each other it is but natural they should get excited. It is dangerous."

But the youths paid no heed.

"In any age," they chorused, "the pioneers must follow a thorny path."

PREFABRICATED HOMES NOW NUMBER 100,000

WASHINGTON D.C. — The 100,000th prefabricated home produced by the nation's housing manufacturers since the end of World War II was erected somewhere in the United States during September, according to the Prefabricated Home Manufacturers' Institute.

Harry H. Steidle of Washington, institute manager, said the industry during the first nine months of this year shipped more than 25,000 permanent homes. Added to the 75,000 prefabricated homes built during 1946 and 1947, they boost the total number of factory-made houses sold in the post-war period above the 100,000 mark.

Some People Can Think Of More Ways—

LOS ANGELES —(AP)—The electric fan in Edward Renert's butcher shop wasn't exactly for the purpose of cooling him or the meat he tossed on the scales.

Renert, 40, pleaded guilty to short-weighting a customer. Inspector Patrick Gibbons of the Bureau of Weights and Measures testified that the butcher trained his fan on the sensitive scales—and the air stream depressed the scales.

Nation Begins All-Out Battle Against Fire

Officials Urge Care In Burning Leaves

So called "friendly fires," such as those of burning leaves, soon become menaces to a community unless they are kept under control at all times, fire prevention authorities warn. They say leaves burned in open piles often are blown to flammable areas and start destructive fires.

One of the safest ways to dispose of leaves, these authorities point out, is to burn them in galvanized steel rubbish burners. These burners have perforated sides and covers to permit their contents to burn rapidly without being carried away by the wind.

Flawless emeralds are very rare and are about twice as costly as diamonds of the same size.

This Is One Day's Fire Toll

Every day in the year, about $2,000,000 worth of valuable goods go up in smoke. It's worth money to guard against fires, and October 3-9 is Fire Prevention Week. Northchart above shows one day's fire toll, with data from National Fire Protection Association.

Firemen List Ways To Prevent Fires

1. Do not allow paper, oily rags or rubbish to accumulate.
2. Never use flammable cleaning fluids in a closed room.
3. Keep trash and flammable material away from heating plant.
4. Never put ashes in wood or paper containers. Use a metal can.
5. Stoves or furnaces should never be operated under forced draft, nor get red hot.
6. Clean soot from chimney before heating season begins each year.
7. Never leave an electric iron or other electrical appliance unattended with the current on.
8. Never hunt for a gas leak with a candle. Call a service man.
9. Keep matches in a metal container, stored out of reach of children.
10. If wood flooring near chimney or furnace feels warm to the touch, cover the wood with mineral wool insulation.
11. Never run an electric wire underneath a rug.
12. Do not light a closet with match, candle or other open flame.
13. Always keep fire screen in front of fire-place.
14. Never replace an electric fuse with a larger one, a coin or other piece of metal.
15. Do not hold electric cords in place with nails. This will break the insulation and cause a short-circuit. Use special fasteners made for this purpose.
16. Be sure to extinguish cigarettes completely. Provide plenty of ash trays.
17. Never smoke in bed.
18. Never throw a match away while it is hot, nor toss matches or cigarettes out of windows.
19. Never smoke in your own or a public garage or filling station.
20. Never use kerosene to kindle or speed up a fire.

PITTSBURGH—(AP)—H. G. Evans bragged he had won a life-long battle with alarm clocks. He invented one he says nobody can ignore.

Here's the gimmick. The fire-house-like alarm is close to the bed but the clock and silencing switch are downstairs. Evans, guarding against all hazards, rigged a special battery to clang the bell even in the event of power failure.

The whole thing has one catch. Evans recently retired as a steel mill inspector.

Jay Cees Sponsor Observance Here

With national fire losses approaching a staggering $760,000,000 annually, the nation has begun its observance of National Fire Prevention Week, October 3 through 9.

Simple Precautions May Save Children From Fire Tragedy

Seven simple precautions would have saved the lives of hundreds of children who died last year as a result of burns and conflagrations, the National Board of Fire Underwriters says. One-fifth of the fire victims in the U. S. are children under 14.

A study of typical fire deaths of children under 14 years of age indicates that the largest number were trapped in burning buildings, the National Board points out. Parents are urged never to leave children unattended in homes or apartments, and to instruct older children in methods of escaping from burning buildings.

Among the very young children, many deaths were caused by scalds resulting when the child pulled a pot of hot water or food off the kitchen stove, or tumbled into a tub of boiling water. Mothers can prevent such accidents by keeping the children out of bery kitchens and laundry rooms, and by turning all pot handles inward, out of the child's reach.

The dangerous habit of kindling fire with kerosene also took a heavy toll. Both child and adult are safer when paper is used for kindling, the National Board states.

Open Fires
Unprotected open fires brought sudden death to many smaller children. A high, tight-fitting metal screen in front of the fireplaces can afford full protection from both sparks and embers. Keep children away from outdoor bon-fires.

Three other simple precautions are recommended:
Matches should be kept in a covered metal box away from children's hands.
No flammable decorations or costumes should be used at children's parties or for holiday decorations.
No flammable liquids should be used for home cleaning.

Price Of U. S. Dollar Soars In Argentina

BUENOS AIRES—(AP)—The law of supply and demand is still working in Argentina, and right now it's making United States dollar bills an expensive commodity.

The economic law has the same effect on money as for instance, on strawberries. When there aren't many strawberries, the cost is higher. And since U. S. dollar bills are scarce in Argentina, you have to pay more to get them.

Exchange houses here usually do a big business in dollar currency. These houses are ordinary stores but instead of selling shirts, for example, they sell foreign money. Their window displays may be a couple of packs of 500 bills, a sheaf of 1,000-lira notes from Italy, and a pile of Mexican gold coins.

4.30 Pesos To Dollar
For years the exchange houses had been buying dollar bills for about 4.33 pesos per dollar. Foreigners selling dollar checks to the banks would get about four pesos per dollar.

But things began to change several months ago. Argentina ran out of dollars. To save what she had left, she put restrictions on the movement of money.

To get around these restrictions, Argentines themselves began to buy dollar currency. This resulted in a greater demand and the price began to creep up. It cost 4.50 pesos to buy a dollar; then five pesos, six, seven, and finally 7.65.

Importers Pay More
This quotation of more than seven pesos to the dollar was largely artificial. The peso still bought as much beefsteak or milk or butter as it had when it was quoted at four to the dollar.

However, if anybody wanted to buy a U. S. bicycle, for instance, it would cost more. The importer had to pay for it in dollars and the dollars cost more.

Protect Rubbish To Prevent Fires

Rubbish is a double fire hazard in homes because it may ignite spontaneously or from a stray spark, according to fire safety officials. They say all rubbish should be disposed of with regularity and in a way which will not invite fire.

The recommended procedure is to remove rubbish regularly from such places as cellars, attics, closets and other out-of-the-way places. Once it is removed from these areas rubbish should be kept in galvanized steel garbage cans until it can be disposed of permanently.

More Cities Join Fire Prevention Week Observance

More cities, towns and villages will join this year in observing National Fire Prevention Week, October 3-9, than ever before, the National Board of Fire Underwriters has announced.

One cause of the increased interest in this 37th annual observance is the work done by the President's Conference on Fire Prevention at its meetings last year.

The conference encouraged the selection of Fire Safety Committees in more than 500 cities.

In 1911, the Fire Marshals Association of North America suggested that the 40th anniversary of the great fire be set aside nationally to alert the American people to the increasing dangers from fire. Twenty-two governors acted upon the suggestion.

In 1920, President Wilson proclaimed October 9 as National Fire Prevention Day. President Harding made the observance a National Fire Prevention Week, and each succeeding President has issued a similar proclamation.

down, the kibitzers felt a little quiver of apprehension.

"Rip" played the jack of spades from dummy on the opening lead, and when it held, he immediately knocked out the ace of hearts. East returned the jack of clubs, declarer went up with the ace, picked up the trumps, then led the seven of diamonds. He did not bother with the finesse, but went right up with the ace in dummy and led back the queen of diamonds. East did not cover, so declarer discarded a club. When the queen held the trick, "Rip's" hearty laugh indicated that there was no more to it.

When the hand was over, I asked "Rip" if he had expected to make the hand when the dummy went down. "I certainly did," he replied, "I'm not a pessimist. Can't the cards be where you want them once in a while? And suppose they are wrong, does it really matter? I have only gone down on a tournament hand." Maybe "Rip" has an idea there.

Midget Auto Replaces Boy's Dangerous Bike

ROTHSCHILD, Wis. — (AP) — Young Bob Schiel doesn't have to worry about riding a bicycle to school—his dad has built him an automobile and likes the idea so well he may go into business.

In fact, Schiel, Sr., has constructed four small cars in his workshop and figures he can sell them at about $300 each. They have maximum speeds of 40 miles an hour and get about 100 miles—that's right—on one gallon of gasoline.

The Schiel cars at the moment are one-passenger vehicles, but their maker figures on turning out two-passenger models in the near future.

Ben Schiel made the first of the little cars when he started thinking about Young Bob, 14, riding his bicycle to high school in Wausau, of which Rothschild is a suburb.

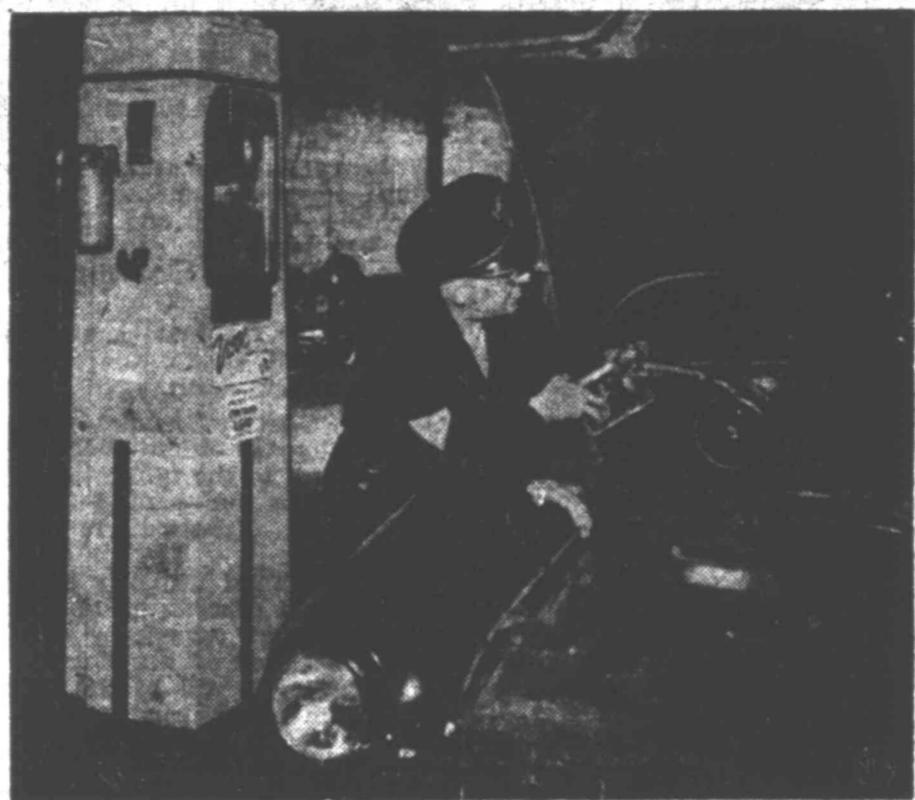

"I worried about the boy riding on a bike or scooter because they're too dangerous in traffic," Schiel explains. "I experimented around and came up with the little automobile."

His little car weighs 282 pounds. It's powered with a two-horse-power motor started with a rope pull somewhat like an outboard motor and has one speed forward but no reverse. Speed is controlled with a throttle patterned after a motorcycle hand grip and the car can be slowed down to walking speed.

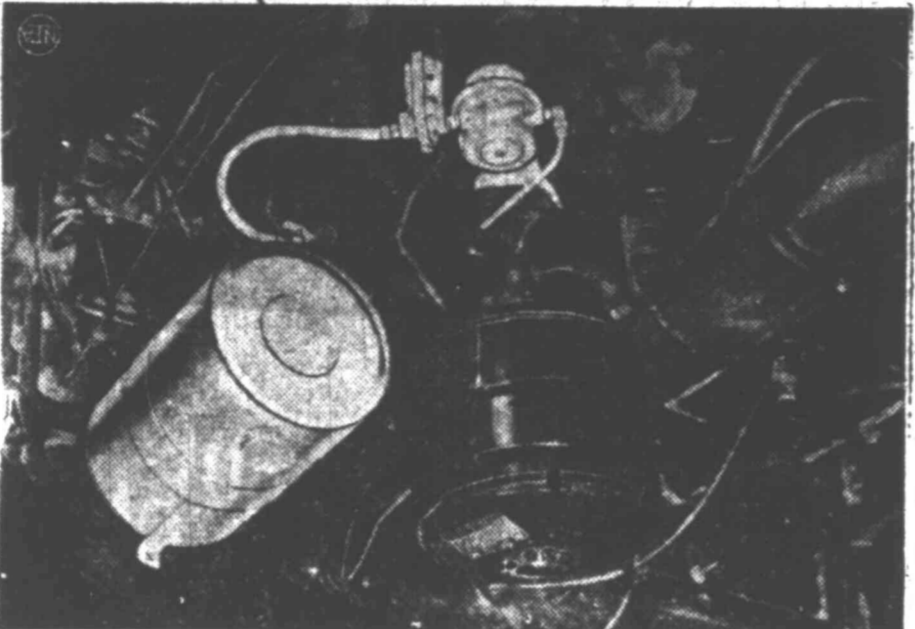

MOTOR TYPES REDUCED

Standardization, in the case of one electrical manufacturing company alone, has slashed the number of types of fractional horsepower motors produced from 25,000 to fewer than 4,000.

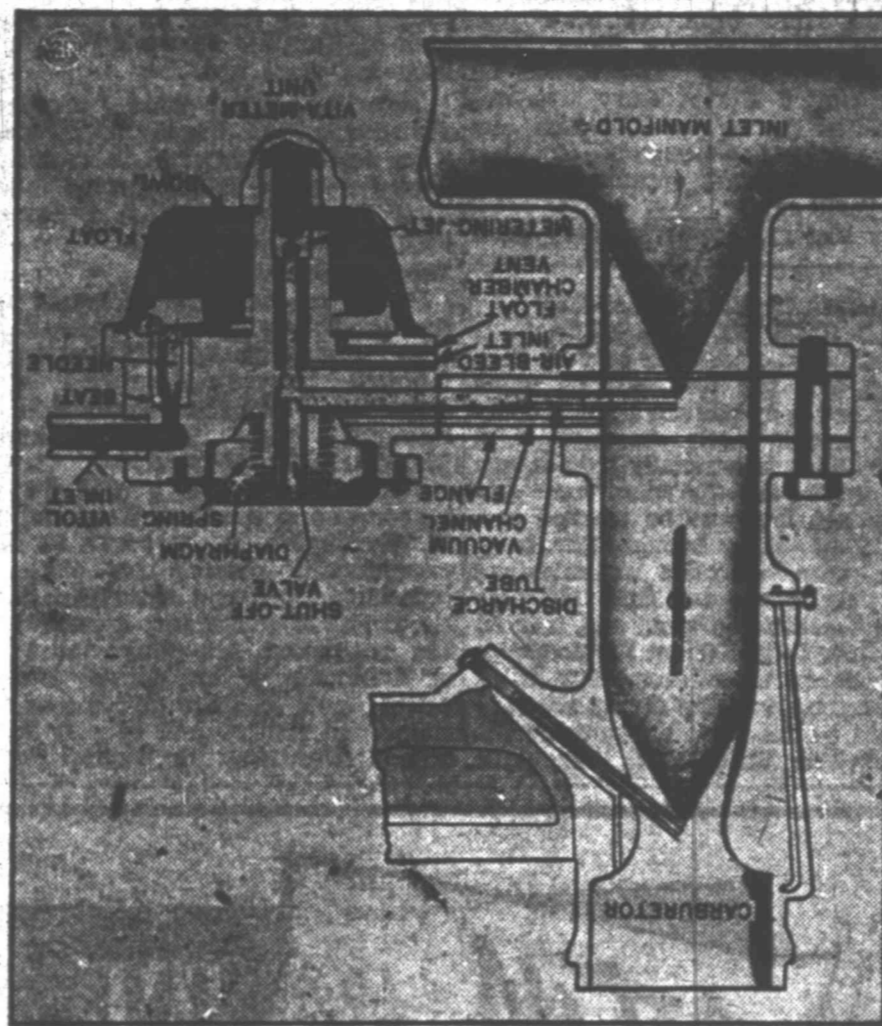

New 'Assistant Carburetor' Puts Jackrabbit In Your Gasoline

From a pump in a gas station, car gets its supply of Vitol.

The Vitometer unit installed on an ordinary auto engine.

Your auto engine can have added power, get more mileage per gallon and be practically knockless if a new device fulfills the promise seen in its recent first public demonstration at Cleveland, Ohio. The gadget is the Vitometer, developed by engineers of Thompson Products, Inc. Actually an auxiliary carburetor, it injects a special fluid into the cylinders, making ordinary gasoline act like high-octane aviation fuel. The average auto needs this super high-rated gas only about 10 per cent of the time—on hills, for quick starting or when the accelerator is pushed constantly to the floor. At these times, the Vitometer shoots the special fluid—Vitol—into the cylinders. When it is not needed, the device automatically shuts off. The fluid costs about the same as ordinary lubricating oil and a five-quart supply will serve for about 500 to 700 miles. As seen in diagram below, the Vitometer is installed between the manifold and the regular carburetor. The anti-knock fluid feeds from a five-quart tank attached to the back of the dashboard beneath the hood. Gravity takes it through a filter and into the Vitometer unit float bowl. Then it goes to the metering jet, where the solid fluid is broken into a spray by air entering small holes in the metering jet's walls. Vacuum action takes the aerated mixture up through the diaphragm shut-off valve, through the discharge tube and into the inlet manifold.

Episcopal Church Will Air Series Of Plays

NEW YORK — (AP) — As part of $2,000,000 advertising program, the Protestant Episcopal Church will broadcast a series of dramatic plays—without sermons, hymns, Biblical readings or prayers.

"The people we want to reach would be scared away by religion," said Robert D. Jordan, promotion director of the church's National Council, in announcing plans for the broadcasts.

The radio series to be known as "great scenes from great plays" will begin October 1 over the Mutual Broadcasting System, he said.

Traffic Violator Must Join Army—Or Else

DALLAS — (AP) — A 16-year-old boy who had been involved in 20 traffic violations, either as the driver of a motorcycle or an automobile, has been ordered to join the Army—or else.

The youth came before Judge Sarah T. Hughes in juvenile court recently. She told him he could join some branch of the armed forces within 60 days or face the consequences. The consequences, she indicated, might be worse than her accompanying decree forbidding him to drive any vehicle for a year. "The boy will be 17 next month—old enough to enlist."

U. S. Navy Band, 'World's Finest,' Will Play Concerts In Midland October 11

The United States Navy Band, appearing in concert here October 11 in Memorial Stadium, sponsored by the Lions Club, has been acclaimed "The World's Finest." Its official status as "The Band" of the United States Navy was established by act of Congress in 1925 and it has been one of the nation's proudest organizations in the years since.

Its history, however, dates back to World War I. More accurately, perhaps, its history dates back to the first musician ever to board an American Man-of-War, and that would be at least 122 years ago.

The first Navy band officially recorded in the Pay Table of the Navy Register appeared in 1838. It consisted of a Bandmaster, four First Class musicians and one Second Class musician.

Music Encouraged

From this year onward, bands in the Navy became more numerous and, although no specific plan was followed, most commanders of ships, fleets and shore stations encouraged music whenever and wherever they found it.

During World War I a 21-piece unit known as the Navy Yard Band of Washington, D. C., began to be exceptionally popular for official occasions. More and more this little group of musicians, dressed in the regulation sea-going uniform of American sailors, found itself called upon to help welcome distinguished visitors and to play for official functions in Washington.

By the end of the war it had improved greatly, in number and in quality, and had earned an outstanding reputation.

With the Armistice, many of the great bands that had stirred the nation began to disappear as quickly as they had been assembled. The big parade was over. But the Navy Department, fully conscious of the role they had played, demanded a musical unit that would adequately represent the United States Navy in the capital and throughout the nation for all time to come.

Navy Band Chosen

The Navy Yard Band was chosen. Reorganized, strengthened in membership and quality of musicianship, it had achieved great stature by 1923. It played its way into the hearts of thousands, including diplomats and a President who requested that part of its personnel (35 men) accompany him on a visit to Alaska. This was the ill-fated journey of President Harding. He died suddenly at San Francisco and the United States Navy Band bade their Chief farewell.

On March 4, 1925, the day he was inaugurated President, Calvin Coolidge signed the special act of the 68th Congress which recognized this band as the permanent representative band of the United States Navy. Its name was changed from the Washington Navy Yard Band to the United States Navy Band.

With new official status, the traditional sea-going uniform of the sailor was discarded and in its place the regulation chief petty officer uniform was adopted for all members of the band.

In 1941, for the first time since World War II began, the band started its tours again.

In 1947, Charles Brendler, U. S. N., conductor and officer in charge, was promoted to the rank of Lieutenant Commander—highest rank ever held by a musician in the Regular Navy.

The Navy Band will play matinee and night concerts on its visit here. Tickets are on sale by Lions Club members or at the Chamber of Commerce. It will be the first visit of the famed band to Midland.
