Herbicide Controls Studied By County

PLANS ARE COMPLETED

Aug. 20 Kickoff in Roundup For 1,313 District Scouts

Kickoff for annual roundup of Lone Buffalo District Boy Scouts is scheduled for Thursday night, Aug. 20, at Towle Park in Snyder.

The roundup will have as its goal a total of 1,313 boys in scouting within the district's three-county area of Mitchell, Scurry and Borden.

Final plans for the district roundup were made recently in Snyder at a district committee meeting, according to Frank Wilson, Colorado City vice chairman of the district.

In the planning have been G. D. Foster, James E. Payne, John T. Merritt, County Judge Elmer Martin, Wm. H. Clark, Morris Kirschbaum, E. J. Moser, A. C. Benson, Don Benson, A. G. (Red) Ballard, J. A. Sadler Jr., Tom J. Goss II, Ray Noble, Rev. Clarence Collins, Eddie Kissinger and others.

Invited to the kickoff Aug. 20 are all Mitchell County cubmasters, den mothers, scoutmasters, advisors, assistant leaders, commissioners, district committeemen, mothers and dads of scouts.

Full program in scouting will be explained at the kickoff meeting, program quarters will be distributed. Roundup plans will be explained by Dr. John Hamble, roundup chairman.

The roundup, which opens Sept. 1 and concludes Dec. 10, will be for enlisting boys actively in Cub packs, Boy Scout troops and Explorer units. It has been successful in the past. Infact, the Mitchell-Scurry-Borden district has shown a continuous gain in scouting for the last half dozen years. Last year the total number of boys in the district's scouting program was 1,259.

Although the goal is 1,313 this fall, the aim is not considered out of reach, according to Wilson. That's because total jumped from 1,115 in 1957 to the '58 total of 1,259.

Even more impressive, statistically speaking, is the fact that the '58 total was approximately double the district's total of 695 scouts in 1954.

Wilson said the roundup will place emphasis on "boy visiting boy" to increase the recruiting success. Necktie, slides, pocket knives will be given to successful recruiters among cubs, scouts and explorers. Inexpensive brief cases will be presented to recruiting cubmasters, scoutmasters and advisors.

It was emphasized by Wilson that the roundup is not a come quickly, easily die type of program. Infact, there has not been a single scouting unit dropped within the district in the last four years as the roundups have produced more and more for scouting.

AREA RURAL ACCIDENTS

County Leads in Traffic Damages

Mitchell County claims the dubious area honor of being near the top in number of highway traffic accidents causing personal injuries in its four county area during July.

Even more eye-catching is the fact that its accidents caused more than half of the property damage recorded by all four counties during the same month.

Mitchell County's record in rural traffic accidents is tabulated by Sgt. Paul Allen of Sweetwater sub-station of Texas Highway Patrol along with Nolan, Scurry and Fisher counties.

Allen said the patrol investigated a total of 45 rural traffic accidents in the four county area last month.

These accidents included 28 with property damage, 16 with personal injury and one with death, according to the sergeant. Total property damage for the accidents was $80,650 and total number of persons injured was 26. Fatalities were two.

Mitchell County had five rural accidents with property damage—approximately one third of the area total. It also had five personal injury accidents, although no fatalities were counted.

Property damage in the Mitchell County highway mishaps amounted to $42,740 more than a half of the $80,650 reported in Mitchell, Nolan, Scurry and Fisher counties together. Seven persons were injured in the county.

For Mitchell, the July mark is an increase of four accidents and a decrease of one death compared with the highway toll for the same month in 1958. Over the four county area there was an increase of five accidents (four of these credited to Mitchell) and a decrease of one death (credited to Mitchell).

Sgt. Allen reported the Texas Highway Patrol in the four counties last month made 539 arrests including 11 for driving while intoxicated, 466 for speeding, 10 for improper passing, 4 for driving on wrong side of road, 14 for defective equipment and 34 for other violations.

State Ag Official In Parley

Commissioners Court will take a good look into possibility of Mitchell County being placed under the state's herbicide control County Judge Elmer Marlow.

The commissioners, tin and representatives from three agricultural offices met Monday in a two-hour session with Charlie Chapman of Austin, chief of the Division of Plant Quarantine, Texas Department of Agriculture. They heard Chapman explain, section by section, the purpose and regulations of the law which was enacted after the upswing in use of hormone type herbicides near cotton areas.

Commissioners Court took no action in the session Monday, but indicated they will continue to study the law and discuss it with interested farmers.

Public hearings and action by the State Legislature, which has just concluded its '59 session, are necessary before a county can come under the law's supervision.

Chapman told the Court-house group that main advantages of the state law were:

1. That it requires those persons commercially engaged with hormone type herbicide application work to be bonded or insured for the protection of those who secure their services.

2. If damage is caused by the herbicide application, then the state sends in special inspectors to study the extent and cause of the damage. This state data may be used in court testimony.

On the other side of the ledger, the quarantine chief said, were these requirements which cotton farmers may not like:

1. A charge of 10 cents per acre when the hormone type herbicides are applied—a service fee that goes to the state for administration of the law.

2. Permit must be obtained for those using the herbicides, obtainable at dealers. This permit must be mailed to district control office for approval and return to the person preparing to apply the herbicides.

The control law makes it a joint responsibility of the ap-plier (or crop owner and customs applicator to supervise the application of herbicides in compliance with rules and regulations set up under the law for the individual county.

These include bonafide statements concerning whether equipment is owned or rented, regulations concerning wind velocity, requirements for condition of spraying equipment, type and concentration of herbicides, requirements concerning proximity to other land requirements for dealers of the herbicides, regulations concerning the applicators, plus other data.

Chapman told the commissioners that he was not trying to "sell" the law, that he was only explaining it.

If Commissioners Court declines the law is of enough concern to the county, then it must conduct a public hearing to determine if the county goes under the law.

Once a county is taken under the law, then the state is obligated to conduct public hearing anytime there is discontent within the county over the law.

Service will be conducted nightly at 8 o'clock during the two-week period, according to Fred Robertson, First Assembly pastor.

The church is located at corner of Oak and W. Seventh St. and the public is invited to attend, the pastor said.

Wolf Grid Squad Opens Workouts Monday Morn

Prospects for Colorado High's 1959 Wolf football team take to the field Monday as Coach Otis Holladay and staff open workouts.

More than 40 candidates are expected to be in the gang of youths who will report for equipment at 7 a. m. in Colorado High Gym.

Holladay and his six assistants will issue shorts, t-shirts and cross-country shoes, then send the boys onto the practice field at 7:30 a. m.

Opening workout will be a snappy drill of two hours with the coaches blowing a whistle on activities sharply at 9:30 a. m.

But that won't be all for the day. The squad will be back on the practice field for a late afternoon or evening workout before sundown. Holladay said the second workout also will be a two-hour time limit, starting around 5:30 or 6 p. m.

Immediately after the final practice session Monday, the footballers will line up in the gymnasium for a thorough physical check by medical doctors.

On the field with Holladay will be coaches Sam Christy, Joe King, Caddo Matthews — newcomers here with the chief mentor, Winn Talley, Jerry Reynolds, both 1958 assistants, and Bill Everett, returning to the coaching staff after being in business for three years.

All seven of the mentors will be busy with the squad during the two-week period before school classes begin Aug. 31. And they will be utilized to provide personalized coaching with small groups of players.

Holladay, who has been contacting youngsters by mail and at home visits during the last few weeks, said any youngster in the 10th, 11th and 12th grades who might like to play football is invited to report Monday and join the workouts.

The two-day practice sessions will continue throughout the first week. Shorts and t-shirts will be the uniforms until Wednesday afternoon, when full grid attire will be issued.

"While in shorts," said Holladay, "we will be doing a lot of movement drills."

"Our backs will be learning ball handling and the steps for our plays."

"Linemen will be going through blocking patterns while learning their steps."

"And, of course, we'll do a lot of pass catching, pass defense and other non-contact work."

Here's the way the coaches will work with the grid candidates:

First 75 minutes will be with squad divided into small groups, each group rotating between the individual coaches for close-up instruction in specific phases of offense and defense. Each coach will handle separate phase of instruction, from the ground up.

Last 45 minutes will be as a squad unit to put together the component parts of individualized instruction, including the running of dummy plays.

Blowing the signal to close the workout will be a brief bit of conditioning work.

Holladay believes the first 1 hour 15 minutes of small group instruction is a fine way for a squad to learn and develop.

"It allows for us to work with smaller groups, provide more individual attention to each youngster and gives more efficiency to our coaching," the head mentor said.

"We are expecting a lot of capable boys to come out for football," he continued, "and we are especially looking for some talented youngsters coming up from Junior High."

Right now, the coach's schedule calls for only one workout Saturday.

With the start in workouts Monday, the Wolves will have just about 16 actual days on the practice field to prepare for their first 1959 football encounter — a contest with Brownfield Cubs Friday, Sept. 4, in Brownfield.

Sharpshooting Scouts

Mike Simpson, left, of Silver and Mike Burson of Colorado City shot a score of 92 to win rifle shooting honors during their term this summer at Boy Scout Camp Sol Mayer. Burson, incidentally, scored a perfect 50, the first in history of the camp. The pair were among eight scouts from Silver Troop 446 and C-City Troop 22 at the camp under guidance of Scoutmaster James Herford of Silver.

Fair Crowd Appeals To Exhibitors

Mitchell County's 1959 Fair already is shaping up for its three-day run here Sept. 10, 11 and 12. Decision of Colorado City Garden Club to incorporate its fall flower show into the fair is no small boost for the program.

The flower show, established here from previous years as a popular event, will join with the women's division, agricultural division, fun and food concessions, commercial exhibits for attractions appealing to an entire family.

Behind The Stamp

The soil conservation postage stamp, to be issued Aug. 26, commemorates more than a quarter of a century of intensive work to protect and improve our most valuable natural resource — the soil. Formally released at Rapid City, S. Dak., at the 14th annual meeting of Soil Conservation Society of America and, available here at Colorado City Post Office Aug. 27, it is the world's first commemorative soil conservation stamp.

Issuance of the stamp is a tribute to farmers and ranchers of Mitchell County and the entire nation who have put to use soil and water conservation measures as those shown in the stamp design — terracing, stripcropping, pasture improvement, water pond construction and tree planting. It is a tribute to the soil conservation districts — like the Mitchell County Soil Conservation Districts whose aims and works we know so well — locally organized by landowners to marshal all possible effort toward stopping erosion and building up the productivity of the soil.

It is a salute, too, to the state and federal scientists and technicians who have carried on research, found better ways of protecting the land, helped landowners carry out conservation plans. And it is an expression of gratitude to those carrying on the programs of education, credit and cost-sharing — those which have helped farmers and ranchers install conservation improvements more rapidly.

The silhouette of a city in the background of the stamp is a reminder of the common concern city folk and farmers for the care of the land — our primary source of food, shelter, clothing and wildlife.

Last year Colorado City resurrected the annual fair with hope that the event could be strengthened and expanded from year to year. There is no use covering the fact that some of its leaders had doubts as just how popular the fair would be with county citizens.

But all doubts were erased the initial night, when immediately after crowning of the fair queen, more than 2,000 persons, overflowed Civic House and National Guard Armory to view the fair exhibits and partake of its fun. When the fair closed its doors the next evening — after only one night and one day of operation — a total of 3,500 spectators had joined the crowd.

The crowd which bought out all the concessions' fare and constantly inspected exhibits is the best reason why the commercial division of the 1959 fair should be definitely larger than last fall. For there are few instances when a merchant or dealer can place his goods in a traffic lane of 3,500 spectators every 24 hours.

Street Markings

Kiwanians, although not the fastest workers in West Texas, continue with their curb numbering project for local residences. The street addresses at the curb are a convenience to motorists and the residents.

But needed right along with the house numbers are plain and prominent identifications of streets. And in numerous locations throughout the city those identifications are becoming worn and obliterated.

It appears not the least out of line that attention be given to renovating those street markers at intersections so that motorists can easily identify the streets along with the new house numbers. The markers would be a dress-up for our community as well as a real convenience.

Local merchants should be interested with farmers in the fact that agriculture makes just as great an impact upon our nation's economy today as it did 20 years ago. Despite decline in number of farms and farm population, purchase of goods and services by farmers has quadrupled from the 1937-41 level — a gain approximately equal to the growth in gross national production, the National Industrial Conference Board reveals.

All Quiet on Capitol Hill After 202 Days of Budget Warfare

By VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association
Quiet has settled over Texas' Capitol Hill after 202 days of hubbub.

As legislators packed up to go home, directors and employees of state agencies were filling scratch pads with figures. For most state-supported activities, the new budget which goes into effect Sept. 1 will mean more funds. Altogether, $300,000,000 more.

There were some disappointments, of course, in the appropriations bill. Many programs got less than had been asked for, some salaries were cut, and there were riders and restrictions in other activities.

But, overall, there was more relief and rejoicing than tears and complaining. Most seemed to regard the new budget as the best that could be hoped for in such a "hard year."

For their parts, lawmakers were eager to get home and "mingle with the folks." A head lie probable showdowns on new spending for welfare and public schools, and, always, the inching up every two years in general spending.

BUDGET BREAKDOWN

Texas' new record high budget of $2,418,000,000 was reported out after 95 days of haggling in conference committee.

But once out, it zipped through both houses, with only 8 dissenting votes in the Senate and a 108-to-30 vote in the House.

Spending from the general revenue fund, the state's multi-purpose housekeeping kitty, totals $322,800,000. This is up $42,000,000 from the present biennium.

To show how hard on the state was, more than 56 per cent of total general revenue spending — or $185,000,000 — will have to come from the new tax bill passed this session.

Here's how the pie was finally sliced on major items: Public Schools — Received an appropriation of $774,904,500, an increase of about $85,000,000, mostly because school spending has an "escalator clause" which ties it to enrollment.

Higher Education — Got the biggest increase from the general revenue fund of any program. It was boosted by more than $12,000,000 to a total of $130,933,424 for the state's 18 tax-supported colleges and universities. Increase was only about half what was asked by the Commission on Higher Education.

University of Texas officials saw one of their fondest dreams come true in that the "available fund"

(income from the University's permanent fund) was left free for buildings and "excellence" programs. Hospitals, Special Schools, Youth Council — Allotted a total of $90,456,554, an increase of $6,348,252.

This is to be used to improve medical care in state hospitals and to build a new mental hospital at Denton, a new dormitory for delinquent boys at the Gatesville school and a new building at the Gainesville School for Girls. It will also cover some salary increases and cost of some repair and remodeling in the vast hospital and school systems. It does not allow for setting up the juvenile parole system ardently desired by the Youth Council and recommended by Gov. Price Daniel.

State Employees — Lower bracketed employees, from $2,400 to $6,000 annually, will get a $180 a year raise. It's not a lot — $15 a month more in the employees' pay envelopes — but it will cost the state about $14,000,000 for the two years.

Judiciary — Will receive $9,336,769 from general revenue, a $312,779 increase. Most of this goes for new district courts plus briefing attorneys and secretaries for the Supreme Court.

Prison System — Operating budget increased by $2,800,000 plus $7,720,000 to provide additional buildings for a prison population soaring toward 11,000.

Livestock Disease — A new program to control brucellosis was tabbed for $239,960, considerably under the $2,170,000 requested.

State Advertising — State Highway Department was authorized to use $100,000 to lure tourists and the Texas Industrial Commission $20,000 to seek new industries.

Construction — Texas Legislative Council was given $50,000 for a study of the State Constitution with a view to revising it.

Insurance Department — All the furor over top officials' salaries brought little change. Commissioner of Insurance William Harrison was cut from $20,000 to $15,000 a year; the three board members, from $15,000 to $14,000.

Building Program — To further the Capitol expansion program, $2,753,000 was appropriated for buying land, $2,924,000 for a second state office building.

Water Planning — Board of Water Engineers was allotted $2,037,000, an increase of $200,000, but nearly $800,000 less than requested. It will allow for some salary increases for board members and engineers and mapping to locate future damsites.

RIO GRANDE NAVY — Sen. Abraham (Chick) Kazen Jr. of Laredo, Texas' fourth "governor for a day" this year, used his time in the spotlight to call attention to needs of his South Texas border country, district.

As Senate president pro tempore, Kazen served as chief executive in the absence of the governor and lieutenant governor. He proclaimed Good Neighbor Day, created the Navy of the Rio Grande and urged Congressional approval for construction of Diablo Dam west of Del Rio.

Sen. Frank Owen III of El Paso succeeds Kazen as president pro tempore for the interim between sessions.

REPRISE FOR CHURCH — St. Martin's Lutheran Church, a beautiful, classic designed building one block north of the Capitol, was to be destroyed to make way for the state building program.

Texas Employment Commission's new building has already gone up within a few feet of it.

But the Senate, in a resolution sponsored by Sen. Charles Herring of Austin, has asked TEC to study the possibility of putting the church to some use, such as a non-denominational chapel, before deciding to level it.

A generation or so ago one often used to hear a distinction made between churchianity and Christianity.

It is a distinction that one seldom, if ever, hears made today.

The reason is probably that churches in general have approached more nearly to the Christian ideal. Sects and sectionalism are less emphasized.

In the wide range of Protestantism the so-called "ecumenical" movement, effective in the organization of National and World Councils, has done much to ease or obliterate, harsh boundary lines in emphasizing a common source and elements of a common faith.

Denominational labels are less significant. Methodists, Presbyterians, Congregationalists, Anglicans and Episcopalians are emphasizing to the world that they are Christians first of all.

That is as it ought to be. But there is still a need of a distinction between Churchianity and Christianity. In the wide range of religious movements one may observe a tendency for movements to become much diverted from the principles and convictions with which they began.

Churches need testing against the basic essential truths that they profess. There is a real sense in which churchianity may not be Christianity; and there is a possible actual discrepancy in the fact that church membership is not always the accompaniment, or evidence, of Christian life and character.

Individuals, as well as churches, need to check themselves against the life and teaching of the Master.

WASHINGTON REPORT

44 Now Critical Employment Age

By RALPH YARBOROUGH
U. S. Senator

Forty four is a critical age for American workers today. Once a man or woman passes that age many businesses and industries consider him or her "too old" and will not hire them.

This is a terrific waste of manpower and brain power and the situation grows worse as the person grows older.

Because of compulsory retirement policies, many people are forced out of jobs in which they have long experience. And, to add to the tragedy, people 20 years younger than the usual retirement age often find they cannot change jobs because many companies consider 44 a hiring cutoff age.

At the beginning of this year, 1.2 million workers past 44 were unemployed. And 30 per cent of the companies questioned in a recent survey admitted they have a policy of not hiring a worker who is past 44 years of age.

The Labor Department ran another survey and in 70 per cent of the cities considered, more than half the jobs listed with employment agencies set an age ceiling on hiring.

One way we can do this to assure that age will not be a major factor in consideration of an individual for a job.

For this reason, I am co-sponsoring a proposal which would prohibit discrimination because of age against a person applying for a job with any company which holds government contracts. The measure is now being studied by a Senate committee.

Older workers have statistically proven records of high production, good attendance and other assets. Men and women who are 40 years of age and older have a great deal of ability and experience to offer our nation. It is tragic and ridiculous to blindly refuse to use this great national resource of people past 44 years of age.

People need the assurance they can change jobs, or — if retired — find other employment to help them remain useful citizens and to earn money to pay for necessities. We have done a great deal to assist our retired people — helping them obtain medical assistance and other types of aid — but we need to do more to help them help themselves.

One way we can do this to assure that age will not be a major factor in consideration of an individual for a job.

IT'S what you might call a commonly recognized agricultural principle that if you want to do your harvesting on a particular piece of ground, that's a good place to plant your seed.

Using the same general type of reasoning, it is obvious that if you want to harvest some nice prosperity, better business, a better job, a better community in which to live . . . it's advisable to plant your trade dollars where they can grow for you rather than for somebody else.

The homes we live in . . . the businesses and jobs which support us . . . the schools and churches which teach our children and enrich our lives . . . the convenient service establishments that supply our everyday needs . . . none of these were built, nor are they supported, by the dollars that are spent in some other community or city.

PATROL WARNS

Local Check Due Scooter Drivers

Many motor scooters and motorcycles are being operated on the streets and highways by operators who are not old enough to get a drivers license and by some who are old enough but do not possess a drivers license. Sgt. Paul Allen, said of the Texas Highway Patrol in Sweetwater.

The requirements of the law for the legal operation of a vehicle of this type for an operator between the ages of 14 to 16 are:

1. The scooter or cycle must be registered.

2. A Motor Vehicle Inspection Sticker is required to be carried on the person or exhibited on the vehicle.

3. The operator must possess a valid drivers license.

There is a provision in the drivers license law for a person between the ages of 14 and 16 to obtain a commercial operator's license restricting them to a motor scooter or motorcycle, provided that this motor scooter or motorcycle does not exceed 5 brake horsepower.

This special license is for the operation of a motor scooter or motorcycle only and any violation of the restriction on the license could result in the suspension of the license for a period of one year.

The operation of a motor scooter or motorcycle by anyone under the age of 14 is a violation of the law, and a person must be at least 14 to obtain a license for this type vehicle, the sergeant informed the Record.

Sgt. Allen said "many violations of this type have been observed and called to our attention."

Regular checks will be made in all areas of Mitchell and Nolan counties in an effort to stop this violation, he said. This violation is a misdemeanor punishable upon conviction by a fine of not less than $1 nor more than $100.00 plus court costs which is $15.50 in most justice of the peace courts in this area.

The Drivers License office in Abilene is open 5 1/2 days a week from 8 a. m. to 5 p. m. on week days and from 8 a. m. until noon on Saturdays. Handbooks are available and the fee for this type license is $3. Drivers License examiners also make regular visits to the Courthouse here in Colorado City.
