LBJ ON FIFTH BALLOT???

'Overtake Kennedy' Next Big Hurdle For Johnson

By G. MILTON KELLY
WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson's campaign forces said today they aim to land the Democratic presidential nomination for him no later than the fifth convention ballot.

They conceded that overtaking the pace-setting Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts represents a large-sized order. But Oscar L. Chapman, co-chairman of the Citizens - for - Johnson campaign organization, issued the flat prediction that "we'll make it."

The Kennedy drive, Chapman said, "has gone about as far as it can go," adding that this is short of the 761 votes necessary to win the nomination.

Johnson formally announced his long-known candidacy only Tuesday and told a televised news conference "I expect to be nominated."

The Texas senator said his backers have told him a third-ballot victory is possible, but he added he feels no one can predict with certainty of which ballot the decision will come.

Chapman said the third ballot "will be crucial," and added in an interview: "That will be the key vote. The break in Kennedy's strength will begin to take place on the third ballot."

He said the fourth or fifth ballot should bring a Johnson victory, depending on the sharpness of what happens on the third.

Johnson himself said he does not know how many first-ballot votes he will have, but "my friends tell me I will have in excess of 500 and my leading opponent will have less than 600, and I believe this is correct."

of delegates shows Kennedy with 540 1/2 votes as the front runner, and Johnson next with 231. Others are uncommitted or spread among favorite sons and other candidates.

his Cape Cod summer home. He plans to fly to Los Angeles on Saturday.

Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo) said during a surprise visit to Harrisburg, Pa., he didn't think much of Johnson's chances.

"I've never felt Northern states would support Johnson," Symington said. He did not comment on Johnson's statements.

Without mentioning Kennedy or other aspirants by name, Johnson nevertheless aimed some thrusts at them.

Johnson said he had held up his announcement until after Congress adjourned lest it interfere with performance of his duties as the Senate majority leader.

"Those who have engaged in active campaigns have missed hundreds of these (Senate) votes. This I could not do—for my country or my party," Johnson said.

He keyed his announcement to a solemn tone. His thesis was that the next president will face "awesome tasks" and that evil forces will be poised to strike at any weakness the next president may show.

"These forces will have no mercy for innocence, no gallantry toward inexperience, no patience toward errors," Johnson said.

Again clearly with Kennedy in mind as his front-running adversary, Johnson pictured himself as an experienced official who has known "the presidency—and the men in it—intimately" since 1937.

Former President Harry S. Truman raised questions Saturday whether Kennedy's age and experience qualified him for the presidency now. But Kennedy replied Monday that he has served 14 years in Congress and said a new generation of leaders is needed to cope with new problems.

Kennedy is 43, Johnson 51.

Both Johnson and Chapman indicated they will not echo the charge of India Edwards, Chapman's co-chairman, that Kennedy's health should score against him as a candidate.

Johnson noted that Kennedy had been ill for several months in 1954, and that Johnson himself had suffered a heart in 1955.

Johnson said he felt that he and Kennedy both have demonstrated they are "tough enough" for the job.

Chapman said "I am not a doctor and I know nothing about Mr. Kennedy's health."

JEFF DENTON DIES INSTANTLY

Local Crash Kills One; Seriously Hurts Another

A car-truck accident claimed the life of one Snyder man and seriously injured another Tuesday afternoon at 5:15 p.m. on a curving downgrade on the East Highway near the Bar-V Motel. The car plowed into and under a truck-trailer that was parked at the side of the street. The truck was loaded with wheat.

L. Cartwright of Shelton, Wash., and three brothers, Fred Denton of Vaughan, N.M., and Jake and Rex Denton both of Evansville, Ind., were in the car. The driver, Jeff Denton, was killed instantly. The other three were seriously injured.

Funeral services will be held Friday in the Evansville Methodist Church with burial to be in the Evansville Cemetery. Local arrangements were handled by Bell Funeral Home.

Reds Hoping To 'Shoot The Moon'

By PRESTON GROVER
MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviets have started their new series of long-range rocket tests to pave the way for attempts at Mars, Venus or putting a man into space.

The first of the new rockets was fired into the central Pacific Tuesday, traveling 8,000 miles in "exact accordance with the pre-set program," the Soviets said.

The Soviet news agency Tass said the shot "marks the beginning of the testing of new types of powerful, multistage carrier rockets for space exploration."

The rocket was fired from the Baikonur cosmodrome in Kazakhstan. It traveled 8,000 miles in 100 minutes, reaching a maximum altitude of 100,000 feet.

Torrential Rains Fall Over North Texas On Tuesday

By The Associated Press
A mild cold front touched off heavy rains of up to 6 inches in North Texas Tuesday bringing moisture where it was badly needed.

Rains of more than one inch fell in dozens of areas as the front moved slowly across the state.

North of Lubbock an unofficial 6 inches fell and Paris got 4.74 inches in two days.

Welcome rains fell from Big Spring westward into the Big Bend country.

Jimmy Taylor, Howard County farm agent, called the rains a "life saver."

In the 24 hours ending at 6 p.m. Tuesday Abilene got 1.69 inches, Roscoe 1.18, Lueders 1.20, Novice 1 inch, Avoca 2.2, Snyder 1.80, the Ira community 12 miles south of Snyder got 2.50 and the Knapp community 12 miles west of Snyder received 3.35. Dermott, 16 miles northwest of Snyder got 3.30 inches in two days.

Cathedral Mountain Lodge south of Alpine received 3 inches of rain since Monday and Marathon got about the same amount. The rains at Marathon caused some flooding.

Alpine itself measured .38 inch and from 1 to 3 inches fell around Fort Davis and 1 inch fell at Fort Stockton.

Big Spring got 2.71 inches, North Howard County 3.5 inches, Borden County 3.5, Gall, the county seat of Borden County, got 3.8 inches. A ranch 15 miles southeast of Alpine had 3.5 inches.

High water halted Southern Pacific trains for a time around Sierra Blanca between Alpine and El Paso. And water ran across U.S. 90 east of Alpine between Marfa and Presidio.

Other rains included: Port 3.25 inches, Lamesa 3.20, Naples 2.83, Hegansport 2.59, Farmersville 2.57, Greenville 2.32, Arthur City 2.21, Mt. Pleasant and Quanah 1.42, Paducah 1.48, Farmers Branch 1.27, Dalhart 1.15, Colorado City 1.10, Childress 75 and Wink 73.

The cold front early Wednesday was along a line between Streport and El Paso through the northern part of Texas.

FASTBUCK FIDEL RIDES AGAIN

'Bribe America' Latest Brainstorm Of Castro

By ROBERT BERRELEZ
HAVANA (AP)—Fidel Castro's Cabinet today authorized him to expropriate all American property in Cuba and pay for it only if the United States buys more—not less—Cuban sugar at premium prices.

The new seizure decree, drafted by the Cabinet at a session lasting beyond midnight, authorized President Osvaldo Dorticos or the prime minister to take over any property owned by U.S. companies or citizens in Cuba "when deemed necessary in the national interest."

The law also provides for expropriation of companies in which U.S. citizens may have "interest or participation." An example is the British-Dutch Shell Oil refinery whose operation—along with the U.S. Esso and Texaco refineries—was taken over by the government last week.

The Cabinet said the expropriation was authorized because of

"the constantly aggressive attitude" of the U.S. government and particularly the authority given President Eisenhower by Congress to reduce Cuba's sugar sales to the United States.

Underlining the retaliatory nature of the action, the decree pinned compensation for the seized property directly to American sugar purchases.

It said the American owners would be paid in 2-per-cent, 30-year Cuban government bonds backed by a special fund. But the fund is to come from 25 per cent of the dollars paid for sugar sales to the United States in excess of 3 million tons a year and at a price of 24 cents a pound or more.

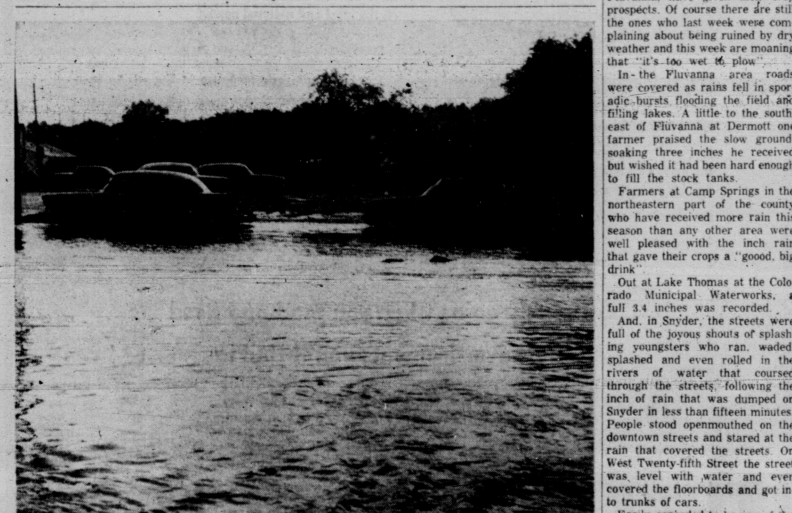

Cuba's sugar quota this year is 3,100,000 tons, and sugar industry sources in Washington expect Eisenhower to cut it perhaps 700,000 tons. That would put American purchases 600,000 tons below the figure at which the first dollar would go into the compensation fund.

The decree also put a premium price on Cuban sugar before the American owners can be repaid. The United States has been paying about 3 1/2 cents a pound, or about 2 1/2 cents above the world market price.

The decree specified that expropriation edicts could not be appealed.

It also contained what appeared to be a retroactive clause stating that it annulled all "legal dispositions and regulations that are opposed to the application of this law."

The decree gave no indication of the next target for seizure but the Cuban Electric Co. is assumed to be high on the list. Half of its 300-million-dollar valuation is American held, and it is the largest single American holding in Cuba.

RAINED 'TILL THE WORLD LOOKED LEVEL—25th Street (near Avenue U) was a raging torrent at 3:45 yesterday afternoon of the height of a flash flood which dumped a considerable portion of rain on the city during a ten-minute period. Water flowed from curb to curb, and was hubcap-deep on the cars parked along the streets.

Placid Views Aired By Sen. Yarborough

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Ralph Yarborough Tuesday said of Sen. Lyndon Johnson's formal announcement of his candidacy for the Democratic presidential nomination: "I think it was a very forceful statement. That about covers it."

Asked whether he will support Johnson's candidacy at the national convention, Yarborough said, "I certainly would not throw any stumbling blocks in his way."

"I will be in Los Angeles and will attend Friday before the convention's Platform Committee on national resources, education, veterans affairs and problems of the aged. I am not a delegate to the convention," he said.

"Yarborough said he felt the convention has a strong field of candidates and added: "I have no derogatory remarks about any of them."

"I'm not fighting anybody," he said, "and will support the ticket loyally."

Texas Democrats in the House and Texas Gov. Price Daniel, who was across the country on the West Coast, a longtime political mentor who will offer the Texas as a nominee at the Los Angeles convention, called Johnson's handling of his news conference here "a masterful performance."

Rep. Olin Teague of Bryan, another at the conference, declared: "I feel that any delegate throughout the country who will review the record, as Sen. Johnson suggested, will support him. I think he is the best man in the United States today for the presidency and has shown more leadership than any other man in or out of government."

Describing Johnson's statement as "magnificent," Rep. Homer Thornberry of Austin said: "He based his candidacy on the great need which exists for strong leadership for America and the entire free world. In my opinion, the people of the nation will respond to this splendid challenge."

Sen. Dan Claitor of the House conference were Reps. Clark Thompson of Galveston and J.T. Rutherford of Odessa.

Remarks that Johnson made a good statement came from four House members who are the only ones of 21 Texas Democrats in the House not named Democratic convention delegates—Reps. Albert Thomas and Bob Casey of Houston, John Doney of Athens and Jack Brooks of Beaumont.

Gov. Daniel, interviewed at Pinedale during a trip through Odessa, predicted Johnson's formal announcement would gain him votes from previously uncommitted delegates.

"I think also that Johnson will be helped by bringing the convention 'ragging' in the open," said Daniel, referring to charges by some Democrats that the convention has been rigged to capture the nomination for Sen. J.F. Kennedy. "I think that will hurt Kennedy."

Chicken and Corn Make Fine Companions

When the tassels on the corn are silky and full they serve as a reminder that tucked inside the husks there's a plump juicy ear. Yes, it's time for corn... with a favorite companion... chicken. At one time these good go-togethers were almost exclusively reserved for "Sunday-best." Not so today with frozen chicken parts carefully stored in the freezer. With little effort you can choose from packages of drumsticks, breasts, thighs, and wings... satisfying everyone's taste for light and dark meat. The next time you feature corn & chicken, try this recipe:

- 1 cup flour
 - 1/2 teaspoon salt
 - 1/2 teaspoon pepper
 - 2 tablespoons chopped onion
 - 1/2 teaspoon poultry seasoning
 - 1 small clove garlic, minced
 - 2 tablespoons butter
 - 1/2 cup (1/2 pint) condensed cream of chicken soup
 - 1/2 cup canned tomatoes
 - 2 tablespoons Cheddar cheese
 - White dinner wine
- Thaw chicken as directed on package; dust with mixture of flour, salt, and pepper. In skillet, brown chicken, onion, poultry seasoning, and garlic in butter. Add remaining ingredients. Cover; cook over low heat about 45 minutes or until chicken is tender, stirring now and then. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Rome Fall Fashion Show To Open Tues., Palazzo Venezia

By PATRICIA GREEN
Associated Press Fashion Writer
ROME (AP) — Rome's fall fashion show opens next Tuesday in the Palazzo Venezia and for the first time the designers will show their collections under one roof. In the past, the 11 members that make up the Roman "alta moda" couture houses showed their collections separately and at different locations, making it difficult for out-of-town buyers and fashion writers.

The last day will bring out the big guns: Fontana, Gattinoni, De Luca, Eleanora Garretti, and Baratta. Rumors are rampant that the unfitted-fit is the big news in Italian fashion, and color, long a mainstay, is brighter than ever. Fernanda Gattinoni and Eleanora Garretti are the feminists of the Roman group. Fluffy chiffon, one of Garretti's favorite mediums, is in every collection she makes. Gattinoni, famous for embroidery, always presents glittering examples of jewelry on the most elaborate fabrics. Gattinoni is also working on a new skirt she says is "a slight triangle with a lot of shape and a little stiffening." She claims it will be becoming to all figures. De Luca, who has done tricky dresses before, is planning to do something revolutionary with the arm. "I have created a new proportion that widens the top and skims the skirt."

4-H Clothing Program Is Celebrating Its 20th Year

Sewing is one of the oldest skills known to man. A stone needle with an eye at one end was found among Stone Age relics. It is believed that the Chinese were the first to use steel needles more than 1000 years ago. But it was not until the mid-19th century when needles, thread and sewing machines were manufactured in quantity that "home sewing" became a possibility. Among modern day advocates of the make-it-yourself vogue are some three-quarter million 4-H Club girls engaged in a clothing project. And many of their mothers learned the fundamentals of sewing in 4-H since the clothing program is now celebrating its 20th year, according to the National 4-H Service Commission. Under the auspices of the committee and the Cooperative Extension Service, the clothing program has been supported since its inception by Coats — Clark Inc., of New York. Over two hundred deserving young seamstresses have won college scholarships for making the "best" garment. Several thousand have been awarded educational trips to the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago. Miss Judy Andert, 18, of Bryan, won both state and national honors last year. Back in 1939 when she first enrolled in a clothing project, she says her goals were "to learn to sew a skirt and blouse and to keep my shoes polished." Now her ambition is to become a dress designer.

On July 12 boutique and accessory collections will be on view in the mosaic area that used to be the private office of Benito Mussolini. The actual showings will begin the following day in an adjoining room, massive with fresco and hung with a mammoth chandelier.

Marinated Whole Green Beans

INGREDIENTS: 1 pound green beans, 1/2 cup boiling water, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/2 cup red wine vinegar, 1/2 cup turmeric, 1/2 cup soy sauce powder, 1/2 cup firmly-packed dark brown sugar, 1/2 teaspoon salt, white pepper. METHOD: Cut off tips of green beans and scrub in cold water. Cook beans in boiling water and 1/2 teaspoon salt until tender crisp about 8 minutes. Pour off cooking water into measuring cup; if necessary, add enough water to make 1/2 cup. In a saucepan stir together the 1/2 cup bean cooking liquid, vinegar, turmeric, cup powder, brown sugar, 1/2 teaspoon salt and pepper to taste; stir over low heat until sugar dissolves, bring to a boil. Pour over cooked beans in refrigerator container; cover and refrigerate overnight. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Scurry Women To Make Mexico Trip

Scurry County will be represented on the Texas Farm Bureau Goodwill Tour to Mexico July 14-24, according to C. H. Stahl, president of the Scurry County Farm Bureau. Going on the 11-day tour from this county are Mrs. Buford Light, Route 2, Hermleigh, and Mrs. John Roscoe, Route 1, Roscoe. The tourists will leave from eight different offices in Texas — July 14 and return to those same cities on July 24. Included in the nine-day land tour of Mexico will be visits to places of agricultural interest, sight-seeing in and around Mexico City, a gondola ride in the famed floating gardens of Xochimilco (where orchids are raised each), stop-overs at such famous resorts as Acapulco on the Pacific and the Salto de Agua Purua in the mountains, plus visits to quaint and historic towns and cities such as Cuernavaca, Taxco and Morelia. A royal welcome is expected in Mexico. Sr. Julian Roscoe, Adame, Minister of Agriculture of Mexico, extended an official invitation for members of the Texas Farm Bureau to visit Mexico on this tour. Others who want to be included in the tour group should contact the Scurry County Farm Bureau office, 2425 Ave. S. Sterling Taylor, Agent, telephone number Hillcrest 3-4322. Time is short and tour spaces limited — the country Farm Bureau president said. "Anyone desiring to go should act now."

Those enjoying the trip were: Mrs. J. P. Morgan, Miss Nellie Cotton, Mrs. Fred Grayson, Mrs. Minnie Falls, Mrs. Mabel Belcher, Mrs. Stella Winston, Mrs. Ada Brown, Mrs. Ethel Bell, Miss Vela Bell, Mrs. John W. Lettich and Mrs. Blanche Myers.

Snyder Women Enjoy Social Party At Ennis Creek Home

A group of Snyder women enjoyed a delightful dinner and an afternoon of entertainment at the home of Mrs. Goldie West of Ennis Creek Monday for a group of Snyder women. Each lady received a decorated firecracker from her fortune was told, with 42 being the main game of the afternoon. Those enjoying the trip were: Mrs. J. P. Lettich and Mrs. Blanche Myers.

Summer Slaw

INGREDIENTS: 2 cups knife-shredded green cabbage (packed down), 1/2 cup finely sliced cucumber, 1/2 cup grated (medium coarse) carrot (2 small), 1/2 cup diced (2 ribs), 1/2 teaspoon celery seed, 1-3 cup commercially-prepared sour cream, 2 or 3 tablespoons tarragon vinegar, 2 teaspoons sugar, 1/2 teaspoon salt, dash of white pepper. METHOD: Toss cabbage, cucumber, carrot and celery into bowl. In a small bowl mix the celery seed, sour cream, vinegar, sugar, salt and pepper. Mix dressing into vegetables; chill several hours before serving. Makes 4 servings.

Fried Chicken

INGREDIENTS: 1 broiler-fryer (3 pounds, ready-to-cook weight), 1/2 cup flour, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon pepper, 1 egg, 1 tablespoon flour, 1-3 cup milk, 1/2 teaspoon salt, vegetable oil. METHOD: Wash and dry chicken pieces, thoroughly. Mix together the 1/2 cup flour, 1/2 teaspoon salt and pepper. Lightly beat together the egg, 1 tablespoon flour, milk and 1/2 teaspoon salt. Roll chicken pieces in flour; dip in batter; roll in flour again; fry in 1/2 inch hot oil until brown and tender (30 degrees for 25 minutes in electric fry pan). Makes 4 servings.

Summer Dessert

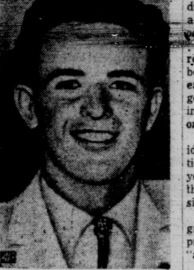

With a variety of frozen fruits and fruit juices in the freezer compartment of your refrigerator you can combine frozen with fresh fruits for some delightful effects. Try frozen lemonade over fresh blueberries; partially thawed frozen strawberries over seedless grapes; frozen limeade over fresh pineapple or melon balls. Let the fresh fruits marinate in the frozen juice concentrate for a few hours before serving. Incidentally, the ice-server in a modern lemonade, etc., in ice circles instead of the usual bulky cubes.

CHICKEN

Whether you fry chicken in deep fat or in a skillet, a uniform frying temperature of 350-375 degrees is important. When the temperature is too low, grease soaks into the chicken. The automatic pot burner heat control on the range provides accurate frying temperature. When cold pieces of chicken are added to the hot oil the flame increases quickly to keep the temperature even. To avoid spatter be sure chicken is dry before frying. Ever serve celery au gratin? Cook the diced vegetable and combine with a cream-sauce, top with grated cheddar cheese and bake until bubbly.

Women Play Leading Role At Democratic Convention

Teen-ager Banks On Ballads

By VIVIAN BROWN

BALLAD SINGING is big business, and a very profitable one. That's why Dennis Day Huggiey of Mayo, S. C., has tossed his guitar into the gold mine. "Heck, I've been singing" since I learned to talk," says the 18-year-old. "Mom taught me spirituals, and all us children were playing piano, strumming, singing — rock 'n' roll, ballads, folk music. I'll be no effort if I make the grade. Dennis is in New York as one of the semi-finalists in a talent contest conducted through Hi-Fi clubs around the country. The winner receives cash, an audition with a recording company, and appears on a nationwide television program. The handsome teen-ager, who just graduated from high school, says he has always loved a guitar but started out with a ukulele which he persuaded his dad to buy him.

"I got interested in the guitar listening to Chet Atkins and Merle Travis, whom I consider the best in the business. I think they're better than Elvis with the guitar." Dennis isn't knocking Elvis. He likes him. When it comes to singing he'll take Elvis, Pat Boone and Ricky Nelson. Chet Atkins doesn't sing. Matter of fact, he says, they all have their own specialties. "I think Pat Boone is the best singer. He has better quality to his voice, and wonderful deep tones. Elvis has a better beat. I think I like Ricky's soft style. It's different," he says. Dennis copied his guitar style from Atkins, he says. "He was the originator, you might say, of the ballad-folk type of entertainment. I don't know how to describe it. Maybe 'cause it's my style of music. I prefer it. It's sure the prettiest, though, and greatest." Dennis hopes to go into show business, but if he fails he has his future laid out. "If I don't click, then I'll go home and probably go to work at a textile place, a cotton mill maybe, and go to business school. I'll study to be a business accountant. But don't get the impression Dennis is a pessimist. "I think I'm going to do alright," he grins. "I've been told that I'm a cross between George Hamilton, TV, and Ricky Nelson, and I'm often compared to Elvis. It's good to see that they compare me with the best."

Washboard Cookies

INGREDIENTS: 2 1/2 cups sifted flour, 1/2 teaspoon baking powder, 1/2 teaspoon baking soda, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/2 cup shortening, 1 cup light brown sugar, 1/2 teaspoon vanilla, 1 egg, 2 tablespoons hot water, 1/2 cup flaked coconut. METHOD: Sift together the flour, baking soda and salt. Cream shortening, brown sugar and vanilla; beat in egg thoroughly. Stir in water and flour mixture until blended; then coconut. Chill until stiff enough to handle easily; shape dough into balls the size of small walnuts. Place on ungreased baking sheet; flatten well with the tines of a fork. Bake in hot (400 degrees) oven about 8 minutes or until lightly browned. Makes about 40 cookies.

Although not a delegate this time, Mrs. Roosevelt has been invited to be a Democratic Convention speaker once again. But she has said, her primary concern at Los Angeles will be promoting the nomination of Adlai Stevenson for a third try at the presidency. Mrs. Roosevelt, at 75, is chairman of the Civil Rights Advisory Committee of the Democratic Administration. She has been drawing up recommendations for a civil rights plank for the Democratic party platform. Mrs. Roosevelt, affectionately regarded by most Democrats, has been active in politics since the early 1920s and is credited with getting party recognition of the importance of women in political organizations. She was the first wife of a President to address a national convention when she spoke in 1940, the year FDR was nominated for a third term. She has spoken often since. In 1952, convention delegates gave her a 15-minute ovation and presented a scroll acclaiming her "an American citizen of the world."

MRS. RUDD BROWN — Mrs. Brown, granddaughter of the "silver-tongued orator," William Jennings Bryan, will be a member of the powerful 81-vote California delegation. Tall, attractive, 37-year-old Mrs. Brown, wife of Cal Tech scientist Harrison Brown, is also running a second time for Congress from her state's 21st district. Mrs. Brown's famed grandfather three times was an unsuccessful Democratic presidential candidate. Her mother, the late Ruth Bryan Owen Rohde, was a congresswoman from Florida.

MRS. VEL PHILLIPS — Mrs. Phillips, who made history as the first woman alderman in Milwaukee in 1910 years, is co-chairman of the convention committee on rules and order of business. She was the first Negro in modern times to be named by either party as chairman or co-chairman of any of the four standing committees. Mrs. Phillips also was the first Negro woman of the Democratic National Committee, when she was elected in 1958. Mother of two boys, she is active in law practice in Milwaukee with her husband, Dale Phillips.

MRS. MARGARET PRICE — Mrs. Price has the distinction of being the first woman chairman of the Committee on Permanent Organization. There has been a woman head of one of the major Democratic convention committees since 1948 when veteran politician Mrs. Mary T. Norton, congressional protégé of boss Frank Hague of Jersey City, N.J., was credentials committee chairman. Mrs. Price moves into the post held in 1956 by Gov. Leroy Collins of Florida, now the convention chairman. A native of New York, now living

MRS. DOROTHY VREDEBURGH calling roll at 1956 Democratic convention.

In Ann Arbor, Mich., 56-year-old Mrs. Price has virtually been commuting between her home state and Brazil where her husband, Hickman Price, is representative for an automotive export firm. Active in politics since the 1940s she was defeated when she ran in 1948 and 1950 for the post of state auditor general in Michigan. A delegate to the past two conventions, Mrs. Price also has been active as a member of several Michigan welfare and youth groups.

REP. EDITH GREEN(D-ORE) — Mrs. Green goes to the convention as chairman of the Oregon delegation — first woman ever to hold such a post at a major party convention. A congresswoman since 1954, Mrs. Green is in Sen. John F. Kennedy's corner in the presidential race. She was chairman of Kennedy's successful Oregon primary campaign against Sen. Wayne Morse (D-Ore). Mrs. Green, 50, heads the 34-member delegation from her state with its 17 votes pledged to Kennedy. There are about 19 women in the Oregon delegation. A former school teacher, she has led a long fight to get juvenile delinquency legislation through Congress to provide grants for research and better trained personnel. She has backed school aid and education bills as well. She's the wife of Arthur Green, a building contractor. They have two sons.

activities since 1953 Mrs. Louchheim is one of the best known lady Democrats. She not only has chalked up close to 200,000 miles on political trips, but has helped many women — and men — get elected to office. Katie, who is a resident of the voiceless District of Columbia, would love to be a senator or congresswoman herself. But nobody runs for those offices from D. C. and Mrs. Louchheim contents herself with plugging for other candidates.

A native of New York City, she is the wife of a private investment counselor who came to Washington in early New Deal days to work for the Securities and Exchange Commission. She has two married daughters and now devotes herself fulltime to politics. Her real name is "Kathleen" but nobody ever calls her anything but "Katie."

She did wartime work for the U.N. Relief and Rehabilitation Administration; got into politics at the national level working in the 1940 presidential campaign, and was elected to the Democratic National Committee in 1956. She frowns on women who stay out of politics or are non-partisan. Mrs. Vredenburg is no longer the rarity she was back in 1944 when the Democrats tapped her to be the first woman ever to hold the post of convention secretary in a major party. Then only 27, she replaced George E. Allen, who left the job to campaign for Harry Truman. Tall slender, attractive, with blue eyes, Mrs. Vredenburg earned a reputation of being an astute politician, an able campaigner and a diplomatic peacemaker. She was married to a wealthy

When Alabama left the party in 1948 over the civil rights plank, Mrs. Vredenburg stuck and campaigned vigorously for Truman. "I have always believed that states' rights and civil rights problems can be solved by sticking within the party and fighting it out as a family affair," she once said.

Summertime Is Visiting Time For Most Families

By INEZ ROBB

Any New Yorker with a spare bedroom is apt to find himself in business and giving brisk competition to the Messrs. Hilton, Sheraton, Knott, et al.

Especially in the good old summer time, when the livin' is easy with kissin' kin, one's loved ones are apt to keep the sheets hot in the spare room. That is, after all, what a spare room is for.

As of the moment the guest room at Cher Robb is strangely empty. None—yes, the head of the clan and I have a strong suspicion that we are entertaining a husband and wife who have decided to make their home with us for the season and perhaps to raise a family on our domain.

We have strong reason to suspect that somewhere on our terrace, a pair of urban sparrows, who are the very epitome of city slickers, have set up housekeeping. But so cleverly is the nest hidden from prying eyes that neither my husband nor I have been able to detect it in the shrubs or the trees.

Remembering my childhood and the partiality of sparrows for nesting in the ivy, both English and Boston, we have come to the decision that our guests have secreted their ranch house in the masses of ivy that cover the walls of our apartment.

Just another family of sparrows in the front or back yard certainly wouldn't excite anyone except a city dweller who lives 8 floors up in the metropolitan smog. But birds, at least the cosmopolitan city type, aren't high fivers.

In the years in which we have been laboriously turning our terrace into a green oasis in the city, we have only had an occasional daring bird as a visitor. Heights, apparently, made them dizzy. After a quick look around and maybe a swift dart into the flower boxes for a grub, our feathered friends have been off with a flick of their tails and a hurried spread of wings.

Hospitality in the form of such hors d'oeuvres as suet and cake crumbs, as well as pans of water, never tempted the sparrows heretofore to anything more than a quick lunch.

But for the past month, we have been increasingly conscious of a pair of sparrows who are certainly at home on the heights. They sit on the ledges, admiring our flowers and then the really sensational views of New York on all sides. They fly past the window as I sit typing. I can't honestly say that they look in and nod.

However, if I go out on the terrace when they are hopping about, they seem less and less disturbed. Indeed, I have begun to feel that I am tolerated in my own home.

I put out more and more hors d'oeuvres in the hope of distracting them from any thought of worms (although I am not certain that sparrows are worm eaters). If it is difficult to maintain the balance of nature at ground level in the country, it is a constant struggle to do so on a city terrace.

When we turn over the soil in the spring or autumn, and come upon an angworm, which I regarded with loathing as a child, we are as overjoyed as a "ther" striking a mother lode. No environment is more hostile to growing things than a terrace in New York where the fill-ridden air acts as a poison to all but the hardiest flora. I can never pick a bouquet for the apartment without first washing a layer of black soot from flowers or vines.

The worms we buy never go (using; they come to the terrace and are buried in the soil where we hope against hope they will be happy and multiply.

But if sparrows like worms, and if I will keep our guests happy, we are willing to make the sacrifice. For, somehow, we would feel ludicrously triumphant if at long last a pair of birds had come to make our city garden complete.

Johnson Reluctant To 'Go For Broke'

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—Of the Democrats' two leading would-be presidential candidates — Sens. John F. Kennedy and Lyndon B. Johnson — one says he is ready to go for broke. The other isn't.

These two men, Kennedy from Massachusetts and Johnson from Texas are now making an all-out effort to get the presidential nomination at the Democratic convention opening Monday in Los Angeles.

Both have been asked this natural question: Just in case you lose out on the ticket's No. 1 spot, would you accept the vice presidential nomination?

Kennedy says emphatically no. Johnson doesn't say. Whether this means Johnson is less confident of winning what he's going after is open to question.

It's hard to see why Johnson would swap his present job as majority leader of the Senate Democrats for the much less active, less powerful and less influential job of vice president.

Johnson astonished no one when he formally announced at a news conference Tuesday that he is a candidate for his party's top nomination. He has been a candidate without saying so, for months.

He was asked the question about accepting the vice presidency not only once but twice.

The first time he said that if he misses out on the presidential nomination, "I am prepared to support anyone who is nominated for president with all the vigor and intelligence at my command."

after is open to question.

Hal Is Hep To Tourist Grumblings

By HAL BOLYE

NEW YORK (AP)—American tourist remarks that people of foreign countries get tired of hearing—

"This is a nice-looking little country. Is it paid for?"

"Now that you people have got to take a chance on modern plumbing—"

"Don't bother to ask if it's okay to take her picture. She probably wouldn't know what you were saying anyway."

"Yeah, it's nice as cathedrals go, but I thought the one in the last town had more real class."

"Don't tell me you're out of ice. Go freeze a pond. Go do anything. But don't come back without ice. What kind of a country is it anyway, where a fellow can't get a simple thing like ice?"

"George, take me back to the hotel this very minute. I can't stand hearing any more of this foreign gabble."

"I don't care how poor they are. If they had any pride at all, they wouldn't let their kids go around in such rags."

"Why do you just stand there and keep saying 'No comprehend?' Anybody who will just listen ought to be able to understand the kind of English I'm using with you."

"Never mind the museum. How about showing us something that will keep us awake?"

"Well, Ethel, I guess we been in this country too long already. Some of the natives are beginning to look almost intelligent."

"Gee, what funny looking money. What do they use it for—wall paper?"

"Hya, Jo-Jo! Take me to your leader."

"Well, if you don't have any hot dogs or hamburgers, what do you have that is fit to eat?"

"Sure, I'll admit the view is fine up here. But tell me, what do you do for laughs?"

"The real trouble with a lot of these jokers is—they never had to meet a payor."

"Sh'd' give her money, Ethel. Sh'd' probably much rather have a package of chewing gum to take home to her kids."

"Yes, it is picturesque—but everything seems so terribly terribly dirty. If you pulled out a bar of soap, you'd probably start a panic."

Palmer Slam Would Top Jones' Record

By JOHN FARROW
ST. ANDREWS, Scotland (AP) — Gene Sarazen, the old master who won the 1935 British Open championship, said today that a grand slam by Arnold Palmer would be the greatest feat in the history of the game.

Palmer, who won the American Open last year, said he would like to see Sarazen win the British Open, the U.S. Open, the PGA Championship and the U.S. Amateur.

Giants Drop 3-1 Contest To Victoria

By The Associated Press
Victoria knocked off league-leading Rio Grande Valley Tuesday night in Texas League baseball, but the Giants lost no ground to second-place San Antonio as the Missions lost, too.

The Rosebuds, drew within a half game of San Antonio as they defeated the Rio Grande Valley team 3-1 while Austin was walloping the Missions 11-1.

Amarillo, trying to get out of the league cellar, defeated Tulsa 6-5 but had to take 10 innings to do it as the Oilers appeared just as determined to stay out of last place. Tulsa now heads last-place Amarillo by a full game.

Austin used a pinch attack to beat San Antonio and even then lost at a game each. Hank Hemmerly tamed the Missions on five hits and had a shutout until the ninth when Marvin Williams blasted a home run out of the park.

Kal Seigrist batted in three runs for the Rosebuds as Dick Smallwood hurled a six-hitter to keep the Rio Grande Valley Giants in his mercy over the nine-inning rout.

The Gold Sox outlasted Tulsa as pitcher Jerry Neal socked a run-producing double in the 10th for the winning run.

Well-Heeled Quartet Eyes KC Franchise

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Four Kansas Citians, backed by two million dollars, plan to fly to Chicago today to start dickering about purchase of the Kansas City Athletics Baseball Club.

They are Ernest Mehl, Kansas City Star sports editor; City Councilman Sal Capra; Earl Smith, chamber of commerce representative; and Byron Spencer, lawyer and business executive.

They will discuss the deal with Earl Vollers, secretary of the board of the Athletics and attorney for the estate of the late Arnold Johnson, president and principal owner of the A's.

The two million dollars is earnest money. The delegation will ask Vollers to put a price on the club. The group also wants to see operating statements of the club since it moved to Kansas City in 1955.

Vollers said Tuesday there was no rush to sell either the 52 percent held by Johnson's estate or the minority shares.

"There will by no means be a distress sale of the Athletics," Vollers said. "There is plenty of cash on hand to meet all expenses and taxes."

Several other groups reportedly are interested in buying the Athletics.

WARREN, Ohio (AP) — Defending champion Mickey Wright has the favorite role among the 31 women professional golfers here for the Trumbull Open Tournament at Trumbull Country Club's 6,246-yard, par 70 course.

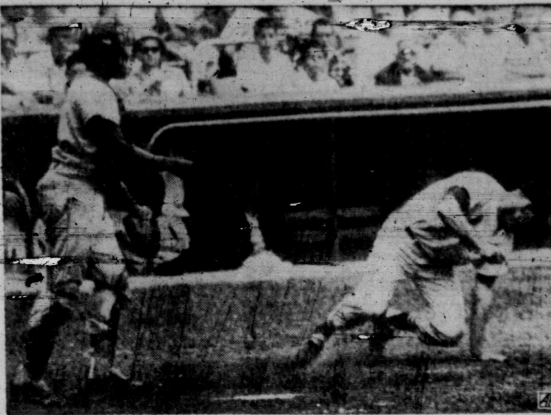

A pro-amateur medal play competition today serves as a preview to the 72-hole medal play tournament beginning Thursday with the first of four 18-hole rounds—ending Sunday.

Prize money for the tournament, which has attracted both youngsters and veterans of the pro circuit, totals $16,000. That is the biggest bundle of cash ever offered in a Ladies Professional Golf Assn. event. First prize is $2,500. There also are a score of amateurs entered.

Miss Wright is expected to get her stiffest competition here from Louise Suggs of Atlanta and Charles Cincinnati, and Betsy Rawls of Spartanburg, S. C.

Dead Boxer's Widow To Get Slice Of Gate

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — No matter who wins the Virgil Atkins-Luis Rodriguez welterweight fight tonight, the widow of a third fighter will be kept.

Promoter Bill King said 50 percent of the gross gate receipts will be turned over to the widow and six children of Rudolph Stutch.

Stutch, a sinking Louisville welterweight, died a month ago while trying valiantly to save a companion from drowning in the Ohio River.

Stutch was to have fought Rodriguez here July 21.

Bud Bruner, Stutch's manager, accepted an invitation to act as one of Atkins' seconds. Stutch and Atkins both lost once to Rodriguez.

The nationally televised 10-round-ABC 9 p.m. EST—could be a turning point for Atkins, who is hitting the comeback trail.

Stutch was the heights and down again. In his 12 years of fighting he has won the crown, lost it to Don Jordan and then lost a rematch with Jordan.

Atkins gained an upset decision over Charley Scott May 20. He will be a 12-5 underdog against Rodriguez.

Atkins has a 51-21 record compared with Rodriguez' perfect 28-0 mark. The Cuban won his four bouts this year by knockouts.

SPORTS

Between You And Me

By Jerry Jackson
The loss, procurement, and over-all shuffling around of coaching talent constitutes a never-ending cal-and-critch situation. And that is basically the reason why I was shocked, but already partially bolstered by a certain amount of reserved numbness, on hearing the rumor that Tiger baseball coach Speedy Moffet would next year take up residence in Odessa and coach Bronco rather than Bengals.

It wouldn't be fair to keep you "in suspensers" any longer, loyal fan. For that's all it was—a mere rumor and nothing more. But the chain of events which brought it on makes for somewhat of a fascinating anecdotal something.

For confirmation, I tried to call John Conley, who would surely know the details if anybody would.

"He's not here now," Mrs. Conley explained. "But at the golf course. But I'll have him call when he comes in."

Then, off-handedly, I asked her if she had heard anything concerning the Moffet resignation. "Heaven, no," she mouthed. "He (John) never tells me anything of that nature. Says the less I know about such things, the better off I am."

As had been assured me, Coach John phoned when he got home. "He (John) never tells me anything of that nature. Says the less I know about such things, the better off I am."

As had been assured me, Coach John phoned when he got home. "He (John) never tells me anything of that nature. Says the less I know about such things, the better off I am."

So To Settle It Once And For All . . .

SO there was nowhere to go but straight to the one man who would be sure to know, Mr. Moffet himself.

Mary Ann answered the phone, but her dad wasn't in at the time. So I proceeded to ask her just when the family planned to move to Odessa.

"Odessa," she asked blankly. "Oh," and then she snickered a girlish snicker. "You must be referring to what I was kidding Larry."

Crackdown On Karts Looms

In a sincere effort to keep the fast growing sport of karting at a maximum safety level, the United States Kart Association today announced the drafting of proposed legislation to control the sport.

"Karts do not belong on streets," declared Don J. Beebe, Executive Director of U.S.K.A. "We believe the legislation we have proposed will, if adopted by cities and states, put kart racing in its proper place, on recognized, controlled race courses."

"We are not attempting to dictate legislation to any group; we are merely suggesting a means by which the sport of karting can be an enjoyable and safe recreation for everyone."

Mr. Beebe noted that during the past year there were over 250,000 karts in operation in the United States and that 11 persons were killed. Of these, only four deaths occurred on race tracks and none of these tracks were recognized by U.S.K.A. as meeting their standards of safety.

In the proposed legislation, U.S.K.A. says in part: "It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation, whether he, she, or it, be owner, driver or operator of any kart as the same herein defined, to use, operate, drive or race the same upon any public street, public alley, public sidewalk or public park."

Further, the proposed legislation contains a clause whereby parents or guardians are liable for the actions of minors who are allowed to operate, drive or race a kart.

The amount of fine to be paid for violation of the proposed ordinance is left to the individual cities.

It was expected that many cities where the sport of karting has been booming will take a close look at the proposed legislation and either adopt it as written or use it as a model for drafting their own rules and regulations concerning the sport.

Yep, We've Been Had

NEWARK N.J. (AP) — A Little League baseball team reported it has been taken to the cleaners.

Abe Guritzky, of the Chancellor Ave. playground youth council, said Tuesday the playground's team uniforms—all that had been given to a laundry truck at the field. The truck hasn't been seen since.

Guritzky said the laundry failed to get a receipt and can't remember the laundry's name. Guritzky said the suits, usually cleaned at season's end in June,

Yankees Far From 'Cinch' Bet In Quest For Pennant

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer
Maybe this isn't going to be such a cinch pennant for the New York Yankees after all. Not when they use three starting pitchers in one game and get beat. And not when they lose two-in-a-row for the first time in more than a month, but find their American League lead whittled to one game.

That's what happened when they were held to three hits by Pete Ramon and Chuck Stobbs, blew a 3-0 lead and lost 5-3 in 10 innings at Washington Tuesday night. Art Ditmar, who had won five straight, was tagged for the loss after following Ralph Terry and Bob Turley to the mound.

After dropping only eight of 30 games in June, the Yanks now have lost two of five in July. That's not exactly a total collapse, but both losses were to the sixth-place Senators and they now lead second-place Cleveland, idle Tuesday by just one game.

They're also just two lengths ahead of the third-place Baltimore Orioles—who rapped Boston 9-4 in the only other game scheduled in the AL—going into the opener of a two-game set at Baltimore tonight. The Indians play six games in five days with Chicago's fourth-place White Sox, beginning with a two-game series at Cleveland.

Amateur And Pro Factions Meet Today

PARIS (AP) — Amateur tennis today arrives at a crossroads in its dealing with the professionals. The International Lawn Tennis Federation, after staring frostily at Jack Kramer from a distance for many years, must decide if it wants to play with the pros after all. And, if so, on what terms?

The question of open tournaments is on the agenda of the two-day meeting and will have to face a vote.

Another proposal up for discussion would create a class of "authorized players," a hybrid group who would be permitted to take money and still play with the amateurs.

The tennis bigwigs have been informally battling these revolutionary ideas around during the two weeks of the Wimbledon tournament. The consensus seems to be that open tournaments of some kind will be admitted on an experimental basis. But the proposal for authorized players seems to be doomed, and it may be withdrawn before a vote if preliminary discussion seems overwhelmingly against it.

Some of the pre-meeting talk has been that permission would be granted for the big four national championships — Paris, Wimbledon, Forest Hills and Australia — to accept professional entries in an open tournament. The French federation is anxious to open the doors. There have been hints, however, that Wimbledon and Forest Hills are happy with the present arrangement and see no reason to change.

Could Japs Have Executed Earhart?

LOS ANGELES (AP)—An Air Force officer says security forces are evaluating what he believes is a "highly probable" possibility that the Japanese executed aviator Amelia Earhart.

Miss Earhart and navigator Fred Noonan disappeared in July 1937 while crossing the Pacific on a projected round-the-world flight.

Capt. Paul Briand Jr. said Tuesday that an Air Force officer has photographic evidence and affidavits from 72 eyewitnesses to the capture and execution of Miss Earhart and Noonan.

And, said Briand, Capt. Joseph Gervais wrote him he had found, on the prewar Japanese mandate island of Saipan, "the original and only burial site of Amelia Earhart and Fred Noonan."

Gervais' investigation was not an official Air Force inquiry. It was the second time in five days that unofficial investigators have claimed finding evidence that the Japanese killed the U.S. fliers.

Briand is author of a book titled "Daughter of the Sky" in which he proposes a theory that the Americans landed far off course at Saipan and were executed to keep them from telling the world that the Japanese were secretly fortifying the island.

But in Tokyo a former imperial navy captain denied that such an execution occurred.

Zenshiro Hoshino was, in 1937, chief of the section of the Naval Affairs Bureau handling the Earhart case. He is shown here in a recent photograph.

Sam, Harry Among Stu's '3 Wise Men'

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP)—Along with Harry Truman and Sam Rayburn, I consider Gov. (David) Lawrence one of the three wise men of the Democratic party, said Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo.), who is seeking the presidential nomination.

"Only three," inquired the Pennsylvania governor, who is chairman of the state's 81-vote convention delegation.

"If you want to put me in the manner, I'll go there," answered Symington with a smile. "But I'm a little short of frankness and myth."

The exchange took place Tuesday as Symington and Lawrence sat together during an interview. Symington made an unexpected trip to Harrisburg to visit his wife's stepfather who is hospitalized.

Louisiana was admitted to the union as a state in 1812. In this same year the first steamboat, coming down the Ohio and Mississippi Rivers from Pittsburgh, reached New Orleans.

Mrs. Kennedy Expecting Second Child

HYANNIS, Mass. (AP)—Mrs. John F. Kennedy, whose husband seeks the Democratic presidential nomination, is expecting.

A spokesman for the family of the Massachusetts senator said Monday night the Kennedys expect the birth of a second child in late November or early December. They have a daughter, Caroline, 2.

The spokesman said Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy will not attend early sessions of the Democratic national convention opening in Los Angeles July 11 but hopes to get to some late sessions.

The family made its appearance after Newsweek magazine reported Mrs. Kennedy was preparing for an addition to the family.

ALL 'BREAD AND BUTTER'

Foreign Affairs Destined For Platform Back Seat

By OVID A. MARTIN

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Democratic "bread and butter" issues may overshadow foreign affairs in the coming campaign, a number of Democratic platform drafters predicted today.

A canvass of resolutions committee members indicated a majority feel the voters would be intensely interested in issues relating to:

Medical care for the aged, farm aid, housing, aid to education and economically depressed areas, employment and other pocketbook proposals.

This was true, most agreed, despite public attention paid recently to the U2 plane incident, the collapse of the summit conference, the withdrawal of President Eisenhower's invitation to visit Japan and an intensification of the cold war.

The committee is meeting in advance of the convention to weigh the pros and cons of various issues before coming to grips with the task of writing a party campaign document for presentation to the presidential nominating convention next week.

"It is difficult to dramatize foreign issues," said Carl Rice, veteran Kansas Democratic leader.

But from Maine's Allan A. Leland came the view that voters there are more concerned about how the man in the White House handles critical foreign relations.

Both Rice and Leland are members of the resolutions group. Generally, committee members from inland areas stressed domestic issues more than did their seacoast colleagues.

Agnes Geelan, a North Dakota committee member said the farm issue is tops in her part of the country. She cited apparent victory of Democrat Quentin Burdick in a special senatorial race in that state last week—a victory many Democrats credit to farmer dissatisfaction with Eisenhower administration farm policies.

At Tuesday's opening session of the committee the domestic issues had the better of it. Committee members debated at times with some heat—with spokesmen of the American Farm Bureau Federation and the American Medical Association on their proposals for farm and medical care plans.

The Farm Bureau urged the committee to put the position on record as promising to do away with the high farm price supports and crop controls, a position that would bring a party turnaround on this issue and put it in general agreement with the Eisenhower administration.

Tally Chosen New President Of Kiwanis

Chicago, Illinois — Joseph O. Tally, Jr., 39, Fayetteville, North Carolina attorney, has been named President of Kiwanis International. He was elected to the number one Kiwanis post Wednesday, June 28th, by delegates attending the 45th Annual Convention of Kiwanis International in Miami.

News of Tally's election was received today by officers of the Kiwanis Club of Snyder, Texas.

As head of Kiwanis International, Tally will be official spokesman for 260,000 Kiwanians in more than 4700 clubs located throughout the United States and Canada. He succeeds Albert J. Tully, Mobile, Alabama attorney. Tally has held the Kiwanis presidency since August of 1959.

Immediately prior to his election as president of Kiwanis, Tally served one year at the organization's president-elect. He was the first member to hold this newly-created post. Tally has also served two terms as a trustee of Kiwanis International and one year as its treasurer. He has also been president of the Kiwanis Club of Fayetteville, lieutenant governor and governor of the Carolinas Kiwanis District, and member and chairman of many district and international Kiwanis committees. He has been a Kiwanian for 13 years.

The new president is a practicing attorney and a past vice-president of the North Carolina Bar Association. He is also a former mayor of Fayetteville, a past president of the North Carolina League of Municipalities and a former professor of law at Wake Forest College.

Gov. Davis Fighting Segregation

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP)—Gov. Jimmie Davis didn't say how, but he has promised that New Orleans public schools will remain segregated next September despite a federal court order requiring first grade integration.

Following a meeting Tuesday with Atty. Gen. Jack Gremlion and representatives of the Orleans Parish (County) School Board, Davis said the schools "will continue to operate on a segregated basis and we will do what is appropriate and necessary to accomplish this purpose."

Just what his intentions are was not revealed, but Gremlion told newsmen after the meeting that something "positive and definite" is being worked out.

The attorney general said he will have "some good news" for the people of New Orleans by the end of the month.

Davis said he has urged Gremlion continue taking all legal steps possible and available to maintain the segregated school system in Orleans Parish.

Order For Vote On 'El Fuste' Killed

EDINBURG (AP)—An order calling for a vote on the incorporation of a new Hidalgo County town to be named "El Fuste" was rescinded Tuesday by County Judge Milton Richardson.

Richardson, acting on a petition, earlier signed the election order for a vote to be held July 9.

Mercedes officials then complained the area of the proposed town is in a section on which Mercedes will hold an annexation election July 18.

The Mercedes officials said residents of the area seeking to form the new city had already been served with notice of Mercedes' annexation proceedings.

Phone Strike Looms

SAN ANGELO (AP)—A strike against the General Telephone Co. of the Southwest probably will be called within a few days unless contract agreement is reached, a union spokesman said Tuesday.

Communications Workers of America spokesman Marvin Collins of St. Louis said a vote of the union had been canvassed and it supports its bargaining committee "even to the point of a strike, if necessary."

Federal Mediator Walter White said in during the contract talks, now in their 11th week.

The talks center around numerous union and company proposals such as grievances and accumulation of time. Wages are not an issue.

Purse Pilfering Pair Apprehended

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP)—Two boys arrested in purse-snatching charges couldn't have picked a worse time or place to pull the caper.

Standing in front of the police station Monday night were the chief of police, a chief inspector, two detectives and a patrolman.

The officers heard the shouts a block away of a man whose companion had lost her purse to a pair of 15-year-old youths. The policemen saw the boys running and began a chase. The chief, the inspector and a detective in an automobile and the other two on foot.

Around corners and across the streets the youths ran with the police close behind. Finally those in the car made the capture.

The boys' identities were not disclosed due to their age. They were charged with purse snatching.

Bombay Belle Wins Over Top US Stars

By BOB THOMAS

AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Juliet Browne, born in Bombay and brought up in South Africa, has managed to beguile both Frank Sinatra and Elvis Presley.

She is 23, but wise and witty beyond her years. She has a puckish pretty face and a dancer's disciplined frame. Although she has been in America only 18 months, she can speak the idiom equally well with Presley's mountain boys and Sinatra's hep crowd.

To use Frank's phrase, she's a real one.

Producers and critics seem to think so, too. She drew raves for her work in her first Hollywood film, "Can-Can." "That floored me because I had so little to do in it," she said.

She did enough to win the lead opposite Elvis in his comeback film, "GI Blues." Inevitably, his interest became more than professional and they did some dating. This was while Sinatra, who had been escorting her regularly, was on a trip to the Orient.

Whenever Elvis and Juliet had heart-to-hearts on the set, jokers would warn them: "Here comes Frank!" It got to be a running gag.

A couple of weeks ago, a Presley lieutenant shouted: "Here comes Frank!" and got a jeering reply from his leader. But surprise—there came Frank.

"It was a panic," Juliet recalled with a giggle. "I never in the world thought that Frank would ever visit me on the set."

All of which demonstrates the pull of the chestnut-haired charmer. It's also a tribute to her diplomatic skill that she managed to avoid a clash between the two singers and is able to juggle both dates without conflict. Until lately, everybody considered her Frank's girl.

Calm After Storm Of 4th Hits Market

By The Associated Press

Texas food markets have a chance to take a rest this week after handling tremendous volume of traditional July 4th picnic items. But consumers still have a wide selection of fruits and vegetables coming from farm gardens and orchards, the USDA Marketing Service reported.

Wholesale banana prices are extremely low as this year-around fruit competes with local supplies of watermelon, cantaloup, grapes and other fresh fruits. All of these and lemons fall in the best-buy category.

Prices also are low on cabbage, carrots, celery, lettuce, onions and green onions, blackeye peas, potatoes, and tomatoes.

Lower wholesale prices than a week ago are noticeable on cabbage, cucumbers, grapes, lettuce, watermelons, tomatoes and lima beans. Avocados, potatoes, and citrus, especially grapefruit, oranges and lemons, are higher.

Cattle prices are definitely lower than a few weeks ago while pork prices have advanced considerably. Both provide invaluable nutrition at reasonable costs. Consumers are finding more turkey available this summer as the industry attempts to move its large production of best-buy prices. Broilers remain priced for economy.

Accidents-Galore Plague Movie Set

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Things haven't been too funny on the set of "The Facts of Life," a Hollywood comedy.

Lucille Ball fell into a boat Friday during filming of a scene with Bob Hope, and suffered a black eye, scrapes, and bruises. She was hospitalized.

Then supporting actor Don DeFore hurt his back while doing a slapstick scene—aggravating an old injury. He went to another hospital.

Mel Frank, producer-director of the film, broke an ankle while golfing. He was back at work Tuesday—on crutches.

David Golding, the movie's publicity man, is down with the mumps.

Hope is keeping his fingers crossed.

Parking For Students Big Problem At UT

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—Finding room for an expected 30,000 students by 1970 doesn't worry University of Texas authorities as much as finding more teachers and parking spaces.

Dr. L. D. Haskew, university vice president for developmental services, made the observation Tuesday.

"We can handle 40,000 students on our campus now," Haskew commented, "but we can't handle the automobiles of 40,000 students," he said.

this weekend... why not load up the car and take the family for a weekend of fun at the lake or your favorite stretch? It's not far by car. There's boating, or skiing, or fishing or maybe you'll enjoy the peace and quiet of getting away. A trip by car is the inexpensive way to treat the whole family to a world of fun in the out of doors.

Before you leave, let your friendly Cosden dealer get your car "travel ready". He will give it bumper to bumper service and fill it with Cosden Premium Ethyl or Higher Octane Regular gasoline. For best mileage economy it's a better brand to GO BUY! You'll like the way Cosden performs. It's refined and "travel tested" especially for Southwest driving conditions. LBJ ON FIFTH BALLOT???

'Overtake Kennedy' Next Big Hurdle For Johnson

By G. MILTON KELLY
WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson's campaign forces said today they aim to land the Democratic presidential nomination for him no later than the fifth convention ballot.

They conceded that overtaking the pace-setting Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts represents a large-sized order. But Oscar L. Chapman, co-chairman of the Citizens for Johnson campaign organization, issued the flat prediction that "we'll make it."

The Kennedy drive, Chapman said, "has gone about as far as it can go," adding that this is short of the 761 votes necessary to win the nomination.

Johnson formally announced his long-known candidacy only Tuesday and told a televised news conference "I expect to be nominated."

The Texas senator said his backers have told him a third-ballot victory is possible, but he added he feels no one can predict with certainty which ballot the decision will come.

Chapman said the third ballot "will be crucial," and added in an interview: "That will be the keystone. The break in Kennedy's strength will begin to take place on the third ballot."

He said the fourth or fifth ballot should bring a Johnson victory, depending on the sharpness of what happens on the third.

Johnson himself said he does not know how many first-ballot votes he will have, but "my friends tell me I will have in excess of 500 and my leading opponent will have less than 600, and I believe this is correct."

The latest Associated Press poll

of delegates shows Kennedy with 540 votes as the front runner, and Johnson next with 231. Others are uncommitted or spread among favorite sons and other candidates.

Johnson headquarters said the senator plans no further public move in his campaign until reaching Los Angeles Thursday afternoon, when another Johnson news conference is planned.

Kennedy reserved comment at his Cape Cod summer home. He plans to fly to Los Angeles on Saturday.

Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo) said during a surprise visit to Harrisburg, Pa., he didn't think much of Johnson's chances.

"I've never felt Northern states would support Johnson," Symington said. He did not comment on Johnson's statements.

Without mentioning Kennedy or other aspirants by name, Johnson nevertheless aimed some thrusts at them.

Johnson said he had held up his announcement until after Congress adjourned lest it interfere with performance of his duties as the Senate majority leader.

"Those who have engaged in active campaigns have missed hundreds of these (Senate) votes. This I could not do—for my country or my party," Johnson said.

He keyed his announcement to a solemn tone. His thesis was that the next president will face "awesome tasks" and that effort will be poised to strike at any weaknesses the next president may show.

"These forces will have no mercy for innocence, no gallantry toward errors," Johnson said.

Again clearly with Kennedy in mind at his front-running adversary, Johnson pictured himself as an experienced officer who has known "the presidency" and the men in it intimately since 1937.

Former President Harry S. Truman raised questions Saturday whether Kennedy's age and experience qualified him for the presidency now. But Kennedy replied Monday that he has served 14 years in Congress and said a new generation of leaders is needed to cope with new problems.

Kennedy is 43, Johnson 51.

Both Johnson and Chapman indicated they will not echo the charge of India Edwards, Chapman's co-chairman, that Kennedy's health should score against him as a candidate.

Johnson noted that Kennedy had been ill for several months in 1954, and that Johnson himself had suffered a heart in 1955.

Johnson said he felt that he and Kennedy both have demonstrated they are "tough enough" for the presidency.

Chapman said "I am not a doctor and I know nothing about Mr. Kennedy's health."

WRECK SCENE—One Snyder man was killed and one seriously injured Tuesday afternoon when this 1956 Dodge plowed under a truck loaded with wheat that was parked at the curb on the East Highway. The crowd that gathered immediately stood stunned as the driver, center, told what happened. Police found no skid marks that were recognizable as such.

JEFF DENTON DIES INSTANTLY

Local Crash Kills One; Seriously Hurts Another

A car-truck accident claimed the life of one Snyder man and seriously injured another Tuesday afternoon at 5:15 p.m. on a curving downgrade on the East Highway near the Bar-V Motel. The car plowed into and under a truck-trailer that was parked at the side of the street. The truck was loaded with wheat.

Killed instantly was Jeff D. Denton, 55, of Route 3. He was pronounced dead at Cogdell Memorial Hospital.

The driver of the 1956 Dodge, W. J. Jeffers, suffered a skull fracture, two broken ribs and lacerations over most of his body, with the deepest cuts on his head and face. He is in serious condition at Cogdell Memorial Hospital.

"I couldn't do anything but just watch it," D. C. Strother of Roscoe, owner and driver of the truck told officers, adding that he had parked to put oil in his truck.

Jeffers was walking to the rear of the truck when he saw the car coming. "I just turned and ran for the front of the truck. This is the first time anything like this has ever happened to me," Strother continued.

"As yet police officers have not been able to talk to Jeffers."

"The car plowed under the left rear dual wheels of the parked truck completely demolishing the car and damaging all four truck tires."

Both men were employees of the Younger Construction of Snyder. Denton was born March 29, 1904, in Evansville, Ark. He is survived by two sisters, Mrs. William L. Lyons of Snyder and Mrs. Dess

L. Cartwright of Shelton, Wash. and three brothers, Fred Denton of Vaughan, N.M., and Jake and Rex Denton both of Evansville. He was a veteran of World War II.

Funeral services will be held Friday in the Evansville Methodist Church with burial to be in the Evansville Cemetery.

Local arrangements were handled by Bell Funeral Home.

PLUS MARS, VENUS, ETC.

Reds Hoping To 'Shoot The Moon'

By PRESTON GROVER
MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviets have started their new series of long-range rocket tests to pave the way for attempts at Mars, Venus or putting a man into space.

The first of the new rockets was fired into the central Pacific Tuesday, traveling 8,000 miles "in exact accordance with the pre-set program," the Soviets said.

The Soviet news agency Tass said the shot "marks the beginning of the testing of new types of powerful, multistage carrier rockets for space exploration."

It made no mention of the rockets' military potential as an inter-continental carrier for nuclear weapons.

The final stage of the rocket—a dummy of the instrument or man-carrying chamber that would be used in a space probe—"reached the water surface in close proximity to the target," Tass said.

The range claimed was 850 miles more than that reported for the rocket the Soviets test-fired into the central Pacific in January. The Soviets said that one came within a mile of the target.

The United States holds the distance record for rocket shoots. A U.S. Atlas ballistic missile traveled 9,600 miles on May 26, 1958, in the first Soviet Pacific rocket test, this service was announced in advance. Tass repeated previous warnings to ships to stay out of the impact area until the shots are concluded by July 31.

Of the latest test, Tass said the rocket's dummy last stage had been "adapted for passage through dense layers of the atmosphere." This could indicate that the Soviets are preparing to try to bring back and recover a nose cone from outer space, a necessary preliminary to sending a man into space.

At the time the Soviet Pacific rocket test, this service was announced in advance. Tass repeated previous warnings to ships to stay out of the impact area until the shots are concluded by July 31.

He based his candidacy on the great need which exists for strong leadership for America and the entire free world. In my opinion, the people of the nation will respond to this splendid challenge."

Among others at the news conference were Reps. Clark Thompson of Galveston and J. T. Rutherford of Odessa.

Remarks that Johnson made a good statement came from four House members who are the only ones of 21 Texas Democrats in the House not named Democratic convention delegates—Reps. Albert Thomas and Bob Casey of Houston, John Dowdy of Athens and Jack Brooks of Beaumont.

Gov. Daniel, interviewed at Portland during a trip through Oregon, predicted Johnson's formal announcement would gain him votes from previously uncommitted delegates.

"I think also that Johnson will be helped by bringing the convention 'rigging out' in the open," said Daniel, referring to charges by some Democrats that the convention has been rigged to capture the nomination for Sen. John F. Kennedy. "I think that will hurt Kennedy."

Placid Views Aired By Sen. Yarborough

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Ralph Yarborough Tuesday said of Sen. Lyndon Johnson's formal announcement of his candidacy for the Democratic presidential nomination:

"I think it was a very forceful statement. That about covers it. Asked whether he will support Johnson's candidacy at the national convention, Yarborough said, 'I certainly would not throw any stumbling blocks in his way.'"

"He will be in Los Angeles and will testify Friday before the convention's Platform Committee on national resources, education, veterans affairs and problems of the aged. I am not a delegate to the convention," he said.

Yarborough said he felt the convention has a strong field of candidates and added: "I have no derogatory remarks about any of them."

"I'm not fighting anybody," he said, "and will support the ticket loyally."

Texas Democrats in the House and Texas Gov. Price Daniel, who was across the country on the West Coast, a longtime political mentor who will offer the Texas as a nominee at the Los Angeles convention, called Johnson's handling of his news conference here "a masterful performance."

Rep. Olin Teague of Bryan, another at the conference, declared: "I feel that any delegate throughout the country who will review the record as Sen. Johnson suggested, will support him. I think he is the best man in the United States today for the presidency and has shown more leadership than any other man in or out of government."

Describing Johnson's statement as "magnificent," Rep. Homer Thornberry of Austin said:

"He based his candidacy on the great need which exists for strong leadership for America and the entire free world. In my opinion, the people of the nation will respond to this splendid challenge."

Among others at the news conference were Reps. Clark Thompson of Galveston and J. T. Rutherford of Odessa.

Remarks that Johnson made a good statement came from four House members who are the only ones of 21 Texas Democrats in the House not named Democratic convention delegates—Reps. Albert Thomas and Bob Casey of Houston, John Dowdy of Athens and Jack Brooks of Beaumont.

Gov. Daniel, interviewed at Portland during a trip through Oregon, predicted Johnson's formal announcement would gain him votes from previously uncommitted delegates.

"I think also that Johnson will be helped by bringing the convention 'rigging out' in the open," said Daniel, referring to charges by some Democrats that the convention has been rigged to capture the nomination for Sen. John F. Kennedy. "I think that will hurt Kennedy."

FASTBUCK FIDEL RIDES AGAIN

'Bribe America' Latest Brainstorm Of Castro

By ROBERT BERRILL
HAVANA (AP)—Fidel Castro's Cabinet today authorized him to expropriate all American property in Cuba and pay for it only if the United States buys more—not less—Cuban sugar at premium prices.

The new seizure decree, drafted by the Cabinet at a session lasting beyond midnight, authorized President Osvaldo Dorticos or the prime minister to take over any property owned by U.S. companies or citizens in Cuba "when deemed necessary in the national interest."

The law also provides for expropriation of companies in which U.S. citizens may have "interest or participation." An example is the British-Dutch Shell Oil refinery whose operation—along with the U.S. Esso and Texaco refineries—was taken over by the government last week.

The Cabinet said the expropriation was authorized because of the constantly aggressive attitude of the U.S. government and particularly the authority given President Eisenhower by Congress to reduce Cuban sugar sales to the United States.

Underlining the retaliatory nature of the action, the decree pinned compensation for the seized property directly to American sugar purchases.

It said the American owners would be paid in 2 per cent, 30-year Cuban government bonds backed by a special fund. But the fund is to come from 25 per cent of the dollars paid for sugar sales to the United States in excess of 3 million tons a year and at a price of 54 cents a pound or more.

Cuba's sugar quota this year is 3,100,000 tons, and sugar industry sources in Washington expect Eisenhower to cut it perhaps 700,000 tons. That would put American purchases 600,000 tons below the figure at which the first dollar would go into the compensation fund.

The decree also put a premium price on Cuban sugar before the American owners can be repaid. The United States has been paying about 54 cents a pound, or about 25 cents above the world market price.

The decree specified that expropriation edicts could not be appealed.

It also contained what appeared to be a retroactive clause stating that it annulled all legal dispositions and regulations that are opposed to the application of this law."

The decree gave no indication of the next target for seizure but the Cuban Electric Co. is assumed to be high on the list. Half of its 300-million-dollar valuation is American held, and it is the largest single American holding in Cuba.

At Lake Thomas at the Colorado Municipal Waterworks, a full 3.4 inches was recorded.

And, in Snyder, the streets were full of the joyous shouts of splash-splash-splash as the rain splashed and even rolled in the rivers of water that coursed through the streets, following the line of rain that was dumped on Snyder in less than fifteen minutes. People stood openmouthed on the downtown streets and stared at the rain that covered the streets. On West Twenty-fifth Street the street was level with water and even covered the floorboards and got into the trunks of cars.

Easily conceded to be one of the best benefits of the rain was the cooling in temperature that helped the cooling of tempers that were pretty short around town in the heat.

Prince Gullaws At Picasso's Exhibit

By COLIN FROST
LONDON (AP)—Prince Philip, a buff for science, art and sports, spent 32 minutes surveying the 65 years of artist Pablo Picasso's career Tuesday night and 30 minutes at the chow table that accompanied it.
"Ha, ha, ha," was the prince's comment on the art from the husband of Queen Elizabeth II.
What he thought about the food—that Spanish hash of chicken and rice called paella—was not reported.
The prince was the honored guest at the opening of the Tate Gallery's summer show of Picassos. The 268 paintings and other works from private and public collections in 12 countries, are the biggest showing of the noted Spanish artist's work ever assembled.
The artist stayed home at his chateau in France, keeping up the promissory output which has made him a millionaire at 78.
In addition to the paintings, paella and Philip, the 2,000 viewers who paid five guineas—$14.76—a head got to see movie stars Gregory Peck and Audrey Hepburn, to drink a sour red wine called sangria and to hear a background of canned flamenco music.
The show opened to the public today and will run until Sept. 18.
Proceeds of the preview went to the Institute of Contemporary Arts, a private group which has plans for an exhibition and study center in London. Fleur Cowles, American writer now married to a Briton, is a big wheel in the institute.
The collection ranged from Picasso's "Girl With Bare Feet," painted when he was 14, to stylized compositions completed last year.
More than 100 of the paintings came from the artist's own collection. American lenders included New York's Museum of Modern Art and Metropolitan Museum, the Buffalo, Cleveland, Philadelphia and Yale museums, Walter P. Chrysler Jr., Edward G. Robinson, W. Averell Harriman, U.S. Ambassador John Hay Whitney and Joseph Pulitzer Jr.

Demos Faced With Unusual Crisis At LA

By JOE LEWIS
LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Democrats who take pride in belonging to the party that repealed prohibition, are faced with a crisis of vat proportions.
As convivial a bunch of two-fisted drinkers as any other political party, the Democrats won't be able to buy, sell or drink liquor in the Sports Arena, site of the 1960 convention.
And when they go next door to the huge outdoor Coliseum for the final session and the Democratic presidential nominee's acceptance speech, it will be a time for sober reflection. The same rules apply there, too.
A raft of restrictions imposed by the state-county commission that runs the Sports Arena and the Coliseum won't even permit the party of the bourbon to buy a beer on the premises.
"No one around here is old enough to remember a similar ban," a spokesman at convention headquarters noted dryly. He added: "It looks like the har across the street is going to do a helluva business."
The Democratic party isn't seeking a reputation as guardian of guzzlers, he noted, but a cool brew or two has been known to allay the heat in the heat of a sizzling convention.
James E. Doyle, executive director of the Adlai Stevenson campaign committee, commented: "Liquor is not considered a necessity in the Democratic convention hall. Unlike the oratory at the Republican convention, the Democrats' speeches are never dry."
For those who need some form of liquid refreshment, there will be plenty of healthful California orange juice, soda pop, milk, iced tea and coffee.
That's the promise of Carolyn Latimore, coordinating secretary for the various California host committees charged with keeping the delegates happy.
"Besides," she added primly, "the convention will be stimulating enough without liquor."

Motorist Scratching Head After Collision

COLUMBUS, Ga. (AP)—A motorist climbing out of his car after a collision was surprised to discover that a piloted plane had caused the wreck.
The plane broke loose from its concrete block mooring at the nearby private airport during a storm Tuesday, soared 50 feet into the air and 100 feet to the expressway. J. Oliver Brasher's car was slightly damaged but he was not hurt.
"Nellie Bly," the newspaper woman who made her famed 72-day trip around the world in 1889, also ran a steel fabricating plant. It was given to Miss Bly, whose real name was Elizabeth Cochrane, by her wealthy husband, Robert L. Seaman in 1899.

Lexans Shine In Tri-State Net Tourney

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)—Lexans fared well Tuesday in the Tri-State Tennis Tournament here. Ken Uslan of Gladstone, Mo., and Mac White of Corpus Christi were defeated, along with Frank Bertram of Austin.
Ronnie Fisher advanced with two victories.
Betty Gray of Fort Worth was defeated in the women's division. Uslan was defeated in the second round by John Powless of Falmessie, Fla. after winning a first round match by default over Andy Patton of Ann Arbor, Mich. Powless won 6-2, 6-1.
Ramsay Earhart of Ventura, Calif., defeated White 6-3, 6-3 in a third round match. Reg Bennett of England took out Frank Bertram of Austin, 6-1, 6-4.
Carole Hanks of St. Louis defeated Miss Gray 7-5, 6-1 in a women's singles first round match.
Fisher of Houston defeated Nick Kala of Hammett, Mich. 3-6, 6-3, 6-4 in the first round and took out G. Castillo of Colombia, 10-8, 6-3 in a second round match.
San Antonio's Maribon Montemorey defeated Cindy Mason of Ohio 6-3, 6-2 and Fort Worth's Virginia Brown won over another Ohio girl, Martha Grine, 6-2, 7-5.

Junior Editors Quiz on BRIDGES

QUESTION: How is a suspension bridge held up?

ANSWER: Undoubtedly, man's first bridge was a simple log thrown over a narrow stream. But logs were not long enough to span rivers. Thus, more complicated bridges were developed.
There were bridges built on the pier principle supported by pilings sunk in the river bed; there were bridges constructed on the arch principle supported by the weight of the center against the sides.
The suspension bridge is a relative latecomer, developed less than 200 years ago.
Towers are embedded in the middle of the stream. Cables are strung from tower to tower. Then the bridge itself is built between the towers. Literally, it hangs—or is suspended—from the cables.
FOR YOU TO DO: The boy in this drawing is building a model suspension bridge across a stream. He has erected the towers and strung the cables. All that remains is to suspend the bridge from the cables. Following his example, see if you can build a model suspension bridge across a small stream.

Johnson Ultimatum Should Rally Forces

TEMPLE (AP)—Sen. Lyndon Johnson's formal announcement as a candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination should crystallize support for the Texan in a number of states, Bryon Skelton said Tuesday.
Skelton, national Democratic committeeman from Texas and one of the co-chairmen of Texas Johnson for president clubs, praised Johnson's press conference Tuesday in Washington. He said it showed Johnson's statesmanship and his grasp of government affairs and the world situation.
Skelton said that now that Johnson has formally announced, it would be possible to consolidate latent support for the Texan in other states.

Pecos Highway Crash Kills Two Odessans

PECOS, Tex. (AP)—Two Odessa women died Tuesday night in a highway crash which state highway patrolmen said, apparently, was caused when a truck driver suffered a heart attack.
Killed in the car-truck crash 17 miles east of Pecos in West Texas were Mrs. Shirley McGee, 34, and Mrs. Ella May McGee, about 32. Three small daughters of Mrs. McGee suffered injuries which were not thought to be serious.
Officers said truck driver Floyd M. Calley, about 63, of Pecos, lost control of his truck after suffering a light heart attack. They said he was expected to recover.

Former Wife Killed By Unemployed Cook

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—An unemployed cook used a butcher knife to kill his former wife as she lay in St. Joseph hospital bed, police said.
Charles Clifford Porter, 44, was seized by two orderlies Tuesday after he stabbed the mother of four in the chest, left arm and shoulder.
Another patient ran screaming from the semi-private room she had shared with Ella Porter, 26, who was under treatment for a nervous condition.
Police said the Porters had numerous kids in the past and that a divorce had become final recently. Porter was charged with murder.

Chicken And Corn Make Fine Companions

When the tassels on the corn are silky and fall serve as a reminder that tucked inside the sheath there's a plump juicy ear. Yes, it's time for corn. With a favorite companion... chicken. At one time these good go-togethers were almost exclusively reserved for "Sunday-best." Not so today with frozen-chicken parts carefully stored in the freezer. With little effort you can choose from packages of drumsticks, breasts, thighs, and wings... satisfying everyone's taste for light and dark meat. The next time you feature corn & chicken, try this recipe:

Chicken In The Skillet
2 packages (11 pound each) frozen chicken breasts, drumsticks, thighs, or wings

1 cup flour
Dash of pepper
1 tablespoon chopped onion
1/2 teaspoon poultry seasoning
1 small onion, minced
2 tablespoons butter
1/2 cup (1 1/2 cups) condensed cream of chicken soup
1/2 cup canned tomatoes
1 tablespoon Chablis or other white dinner wine

Throw chicken as directed on package; dust with mixture of flour, salt, and pepper. In skillet, brown chicken, onion, poultry seasoning, and garlic in butter. Add remaining ingredients. Cover; cook over low heat about 45 minutes or until chicken is tender, stirring now and then. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Rome Fall Fashion Show To Open Tues., Palazzo Venezia

By PATRICIA GREEN
Associated Press Fashion Writer
ROME (AP) — Rome's fall fashion show opens next Tuesday in the Palazzo Venezia and for the first time the designers will show their collections under one roof. In the past, the 11 members that make up the Roman "alta moda" couture houses showed their collections separately and at different locations, making it difficult for out-of-town buyers and fashion writers. Irene Brin, a pin-sized energetic writer for Italian, Spanish and American magazines, was instrumental in getting the fashion houses together. Miss Brin, with the Roman courtesies, worked out a compact, co-ordinated package at the Palazzo Venezia. The show will last three days. On July 12 boutique and accessory collections that will be on view in the mosaic art that used to be the private office of Benito Mussolini. The actual showings will begin the following day in an adjoining room, massive with fresco and hung with a mammoth chandelier. Sewing is one of the oldest skills known to man. A stone needle with an eye at one end was found among Stone Age relics. It is believed that the Chinese were the first to use steel needles more than 1000 years ago. But it was not until the mid-19th century when needles, thread and sewing machines were manufactured in quantity that "home sewing" became a possibility. Among modern day advocates of the make-it-yourself vogue are some three-quarter million 4-H Club girls engaged in a clothing project. And many of their mothers learned the fundamentals of sewing in 4-H since the clothing program is now celebrating its 20th year, according to the National 4-H Service Committee. Under the auspices of the committee and the Cooperative Extension Service, the clothing program has been supported since its inception by Coats — Clark Inc. of New York. Over two hundred deserving young seamstresses have won college scholarships for making the "best" garment. Several thousand have been awarded educational trips to the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago. Miss Judy Abbott, 18, of Bryan, Mo., was one of the winners last year. Back in 1953 when she first enrolled in a clothing project, she says her goals were "to learn to iron a skirt and blouse and to keep my shoes polished." Now her ambition is to become a dress designer.

Scurry Women To Make Mexico Trip

Teen-ager Banks On Ballads
By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newswriters
BALLAD SINGING is big business, and a very profitable one. That's why Dennis Day Hughes of Roscoe, Texas, has tossed his guitar into the good mine. "Heck, I've been singing" since I learned to talk," says the 18-year-old. "Mom taught me spirituals, and all us children were playing piano, strumming, singing — rock 'n' roll, ballads, folk music. I'll be no effort if I make the grade. Dennis is in New York as one of the semi-finalists in a talent contest conducted through Hi-Fi clubs around the country. The winner receives cash, an audition with a recording company, and appears on a nationwide television program. The handsome teen-ager, who just graduated from high school, says he has always loved a guitar but started out with a ukulele which he persuaded his dad to buy him. "I got interested in the guitar listening to Chuck Berry and Mervyn Truitt, whom I consider the best in the business. I think they're better than Elvis with the guitar." Dennis isn't knocking Elvis. He likes him. When it comes to singing he'll take Elvis, Pat Boone and Ricky Nelson. Chuck Atkins doesn't sing. Matter of fact, he says, they all have their own specialties. "I think Pat Boone is the best singer. He has better quality to his voice, and a wonderful deep tones. Elvis has a better beat, I think. And I like Ricky's soft style. It's different," he says. Dennis copied his guitar style from Atkins, he says. "He was the originator, you might say, of the ballad-folk type of entertainment. I don't know how to describe it. Maybe 'cause it's my style of music. I prefer it. It's sure the prettiest, though, and greatest." Dennis hopes to go into show business, but if he fails he has his future laid out. "If I don't click, then I'll go home and probably go to work at a textile place, a cotton mill maybe, and go to business school. I'll study to be a business accountant." But don't get the impression Dennis is a pessimist. "I think I'm going to do alright," he grins. "I've been told that I'm a cross between George Hamilton IV, and Ricky Nelson, and I'm often compared to Elvis. It's good to see that they compare me with the best."

Snyder Women Enjoy Social Party At Ennis Creek Home
A group of Snyder women motored to the home of Mrs. Goldie West of Ennis Creek Monday for a delightful dinner and an afternoon of entertainment. Each lady received a decorated firecracker from which her fortune was told, with 42 being the main game of the afternoon. Those enjoying the trip were: Mrs. J. P. Morgan, Miss Nellie Cotton, Mrs. Fred Gray, Mrs. Minnie Falls, Mrs. Mabel Belcher, Mrs. Stella Winston, Mrs. Ada Brown, Mrs. Ethel Bell, Miss Vela Bell, Mrs. John W. Leftwich and Mrs. Blanche Myers.

Summer Slaw
INGREDIENTS: 2 cups knife-shredded green cabbage (packed down), 1/4 cup thinly sliced cucumber, 1/4 cup grated medium-grated carrot (2 small), 1/4 cup celery (2 ribs), 1/4 teaspoon celery seed, 1-3 cup commercially-prepared sour cream, 2 tablespoons tarragon vinegar, 2 teaspoons sugar, 4 teaspoons salt, dash of white pepper. METHOD: Turn cabbage, cucumber, carrot and celery into food processor. Mix in bowl with the celery seed, sour cream, vinegar, sugar, salt and pepper. Mix dressing into vegetables; chill several hours before serving. Makes 4 servings.

Fried Chicken
INGREDIENTS: 1 broiler-fryer (3 pounds ready-to-cook weight), 1/4 cup flour, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon pepper, 1 egg, 1 tablespoon flour, 1-3 cup milk, 1/4 teaspoon salt, vegetable oil. METHOD: Wash and dry chicken pieces thoroughly. Mix together the 1/4 cup flour, 1/4 teaspoon salt and pepper. Lightly beat together the egg, 1 tablespoon flour, milk and 1/4 teaspoon salt. Roll chicken pieces in flour; dip in batter; roll in flour again; fry in hot oil until brown and tender (360 degrees for 25 minutes in electric fry pan). Makes 4 servings.

Summer Dessert
With a variety of frozen fruits and fruit juices in the freezer compartment of your refrigerator you can combine frozen with fresh fruits for some delightful effects. Try frozen lemonade over fresh blueberries, partially thawed frozen strawberries over seedless grapes, frozen lemonade over freshly frozen pineapple or melon balls. Let the fresh fruits marinate in the frozen juice concentrate for a few hours before serving. Incidentally, the ice-cream in a modern lemonade, etc., in ice circles instead of the usual bulky cubes.

CHICKEN
Whether you fry chicken in deep fat or in a skillet, a uniform frying temperature of 350-375 degrees is important. When the temperature is too low, grease soaks into the chicken. The automatic fryer burner heat control on the range provides accurate frying temperature. When cold pieces of chicken are added to the hot oil the flame increases quickly to keep the temperature even. To avoid spatter be sure chicken is dry before frying.

Marinated Whole Green Beans
INGREDIENTS: 1 pound green beans, 1/4 cup boiling water, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 1/4 cup red wine vinegar, 1/4 teaspoon turmeric, 1/4 teaspoon curry powder, 1/4 cup firmly-packed dark brown sugar, 1/4 teaspoon salt, white pepper. METHOD: Cut off tips of green beans and scrub in cold water. Cook beans in boiling water and 1/4 teaspoon salt until tender crisp about 8 minutes. Pour off cooking water into measuring cup; if necessary, add enough water to make 1/4 cup. In a saucepan stir together the 1/4 cup bean cooking liquid, vinegar, turmeric, curry powder, brown sugar, 1/4 teaspoon salt and pepper to taste; stir over low heat until sugar dissolves; bring to a boil. Pour over cooked beans in refrigerator container; cover and refrigerate overnight. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Women Play Leading Role At Democratic Convention

Editor's note—The day of politics being largely a man's domain has ended, as evidenced in the convention delegates and alternates to be a Democratic Convention since again. But, she has said. Her primary concern of Los Angeles will be promoting the nomination of Adlai Stevenson for a third year at the presidency. Mrs. Roosevelt, 73, is chairman of the Civil Rights Advisory Committee of the Democratic Advisory Council, charged with drawing up recommendations for a civil rights plank for the Democratic party platform. Mrs. Roosevelt, affectionately regarded by most Democrats, has been active in politics since the early 1920s, and is credited with the party recognition of the importance of women in political organizations. She was the first wife of a President to address a national convention when she spoke in 1940, the year FDR was nominated for a third term. She has spoken often since. In 1952, convention delegates gave her a 15-minute ovation and presented a scroll acclaiming her "an American citizen of the world."

DENNIS HUGHES — hopeful troubador.

Teen-ager Banks On Ballads
By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newswriters
BALLAD SINGING is big business, and a very profitable one. That's why Dennis Day Hughes of Roscoe, Texas, has tossed his guitar into the good mine. "Heck, I've been singing" since I learned to talk," says the 18-year-old. "Mom taught me spirituals, and all us children were playing piano, strumming, singing — rock 'n' roll, ballads, folk music. I'll be no effort if I make the grade. Dennis is in New York as one of the semi-finalists in a talent contest conducted through Hi-Fi clubs around the country. The winner receives cash, an audition with a recording company, and appears on a nationwide television program. The handsome teen-ager, who just graduated from high school, says he has always loved a guitar but started out with a ukulele which he persuaded his dad to buy him. "I got interested in the guitar listening to Chuck Berry and Mervyn Truitt, whom I consider the best in the business. I think they're better than Elvis with the guitar." Dennis isn't knocking Elvis. He likes him. When it comes to singing he'll take Elvis, Pat Boone and Ricky Nelson. Chuck Atkins doesn't sing. Matter of fact, he says, they all have their own specialties. "I think Pat Boone is the best singer. He has better quality to his voice, and a wonderful deep tones. Elvis has a better beat, I think. And I like Ricky's soft style. It's different," he says. Dennis copied his guitar style from Atkins, he says. "He was the originator, you might say, of the ballad-folk type of entertainment. I don't know how to describe it. Maybe 'cause it's my style of music. I prefer it. It's sure the prettiest, though, and greatest." Dennis hopes to go into show business, but if he fails he has his future laid out. "If I don't click, then I'll go home and probably go to work at a textile place, a cotton mill maybe, and go to business school. I'll study to be a business accountant." But don't get the impression Dennis is a pessimist. "I think I'm going to do alright," he grins. "I've been told that I'm a cross between George Hamilton IV, and Ricky Nelson, and I'm often compared to Elvis. It's good to see that they compare me with the best."

Summer Slaw
INGREDIENTS: 2 cups knife-shredded green cabbage (packed down), 1/4 cup thinly sliced cucumber, 1/4 cup grated medium-grated carrot (2 small), 1/4 cup celery (2 ribs), 1/4 teaspoon celery seed, 1-3 cup commercially-prepared sour cream, 2 tablespoons tarragon vinegar, 2 teaspoons sugar, 4 teaspoons salt, dash of white pepper. METHOD: Turn cabbage, cucumber, carrot and celery into food processor. Mix in bowl with the celery seed, sour cream, vinegar, sugar, salt and pepper. Mix dressing into vegetables; chill several hours before serving. Makes 4 servings.

Snyder Women Enjoy Social Party At Ennis Creek Home
A group of Snyder women motored to the home of Mrs. Goldie West of Ennis Creek Monday for a delightful dinner and an afternoon of entertainment. Each lady received a decorated firecracker from which her fortune was told, with 42 being the main game of the afternoon. Those enjoying the trip were: Mrs. J. P. Morgan, Miss Nellie Cotton, Mrs. Fred Gray, Mrs. Minnie Falls, Mrs. Mabel Belcher, Mrs. Stella Winston, Mrs. Ada Brown, Mrs. Ethel Bell, Miss Vela Bell, Mrs. John W. Leftwich and Mrs. Blanche Myers.

Chicken And Corn Make Fine Companions
When the tassels on the corn are silky and fall serve as a reminder that tucked inside the sheath there's a plump juicy ear. Yes, it's time for corn. With a favorite companion... chicken. At one time these good go-togethers were almost exclusively reserved for "Sunday-best." Not so today with frozen-chicken parts carefully stored in the freezer. With little effort you can choose from packages of drumsticks, breasts, thighs, and wings... satisfying everyone's taste for light and dark meat. The next time you feature corn & chicken, try this recipe:

Chicken In The Skillet
2 packages (11 pound each) frozen chicken breasts, drumsticks, thighs, or wings

1 cup flour
Dash of pepper
1 tablespoon chopped onion
1/2 teaspoon poultry seasoning
1 small onion, minced
2 tablespoons butter
1/2 cup (1 1/2 cups) condensed cream of chicken soup
1/2 cup canned tomatoes
1 tablespoon Chablis or other white dinner wine

Throw chicken as directed on package; dust with mixture of flour, salt, and pepper. In skillet, brown chicken, onion, poultry seasoning, and garlic in butter. Add remaining ingredients. Cover; cook over low heat about 45 minutes or until chicken is tender, stirring now and then. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Rome Fall Fashion Show To Open Tues., Palazzo Venezia
By PATRICIA GREEN
Associated Press Fashion Writer
ROME (AP) — Rome's fall fashion show opens next Tuesday in the Palazzo Venezia and for the first time the designers will show their collections under one roof. In the past, the 11 members that make up the Roman "alta moda" couture houses showed their collections separately and at different locations, making it difficult for out-of-town buyers and fashion writers. Irene Brin, a pin-sized energetic writer for Italian, Spanish and American magazines, was instrumental in getting the fashion houses together. Miss Brin, with the Roman courtesies, worked out a compact, co-ordinated package at the Palazzo Venezia. The show will last three days. On July 12 boutique and accessory collections that will be on view in the mosaic art that used to be the private office of Benito Mussolini. The actual showings will begin the following day in an adjoining room, massive with fresco and hung with a mammoth chandelier. Sewing is one of the oldest skills known to man. A stone needle with an eye at one end was found among Stone Age relics. It is believed that the Chinese were the first to use steel needles more than 1000 years ago. But it was not until the mid-19th century when needles, thread and sewing machines were manufactured in quantity that "home sewing" became a possibility. Among modern day advocates of the make-it-yourself vogue are some three-quarter million 4-H Club girls engaged in a clothing project. And many of their mothers learned the fundamentals of sewing in 4-H since the clothing program is now celebrating its 20th year, according to the National 4-H Service Committee. Under the auspices of the committee and the Cooperative Extension Service, the clothing program has been supported since its inception by Coats — Clark Inc. of New York. Over two hundred deserving young seamstresses have won college scholarships for making the "best" garment. Several thousand have been awarded educational trips to the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago. Miss Judy Abbott, 18, of Bryan, Mo., was one of the winners last year. Back in 1953 when she first enrolled in a clothing project, she says her goals were "to learn to iron a skirt and blouse and to keep my shoes polished." Now her ambition is to become a dress designer.

He likes him. When it comes to singing he'll take Elvis, Pat Boone and Ricky Nelson. Chuck Atkins doesn't sing. Matter of fact, he says, they all have their own specialties. "I think Pat Boone is the best singer. He has better quality to his voice, and a wonderful deep tones. Elvis has a better beat, I think. And I like Ricky's soft style. It's different," he says. Dennis copied his guitar style from Atkins, he says. "He was the originator, you might say, of the ballad-folk type of entertainment. I don't know how to describe it. Maybe 'cause it's my style of music.

Summertime Is Visiting Time For Most Families

By INEZ ROBB

Any New Yorker with a spare bedroom is not to find himself in business and giving brisk competition to the Meads, Hilts, Sheratons, Knotts, et al.

Especially in the good old summer time, when the kids are away from home, the spare room is not to find himself in business and giving brisk competition to the Meads, Hilts, Sheratons, Knotts, et al.

As of the moment the guest room at Mrs. Robb's is strangely empty. Not a head of the clan and I have a strong suspicion that we are entertaining a husband and wife who have decided to make their home with us for the season and perhaps to raise a family in our domain.

We have strong reason to suspect that somewhere on our terrace, a pair of urban sparrows, who are the very epitome of city slickers, have set up housekeeping. But we clearly are the new hidden from prying eyes that neither my husband nor I have been able to detect it in the shrub or the tree.

Remembering my childhood and the possibility of sparrows for nest are in the eye of the beholder. And we have come to the decision that our guests have nested their ranch house in the manner of a bird that ever the walls of our apartment.

Just another family of sparrows in the front or back yard certainly wouldn't excite anyone except a city dweller who lives a floor up in the metropolitan area. But birds, at least the metropolitan city type, aren't high fliers.

In the years in which we have been laboriously turning our terrace into a green oasis in the city, we have only had an occasional daring bird as a visitor. Heights, apparently, made them

Mail Is Hop To Tourist Grumblings

By HAL BOLY

NEW YORK (AP)—American tourists are grumbling about the mail service in Cuba. They say it is slow and unreliable. Some say it is worse than the service in Mexico.

"I've been in Cuba for a week and I haven't received a single letter," said one tourist. "I've been in Mexico for a week and I've received five letters."

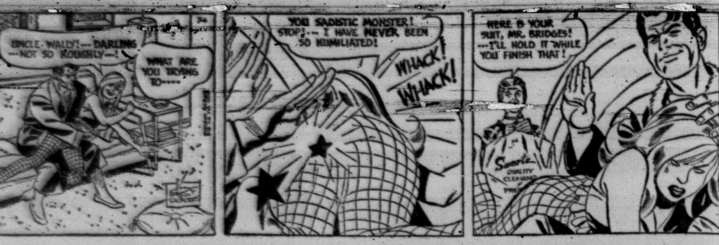

"I've been in Cuba for a week and I haven't received a single letter," said another tourist. "I've been in Mexico for a week and I've received five letters."

ALL 'BREAD AND BUTTER'

Foreign Affairs Destined For Platform Back Seat

By OVID A. MARTIN

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Domestic "bread and butter" issues may overshadow foreign affairs in the coming campaign, a number of Democratic platform drafters predicted today.

A canvass of resolutions committee members indicated a majority feel the voters would be intensely interested in issues relating to:

Medical care for the aged, farm aid, housing, aid to education and economically depressed areas, employment and other pocketbook proposals.

This was true, most agreed, despite public attention paid recently to the U2 plane incident, the collapse of the summit conference, the withdrawal of President Eisenhower's invitation to visit Japan and an intensification of the cold war.

The committee is meeting in advance of the convention to weigh the pros and cons of various issues before coming to grips with the task of writing a party campaign document for presentation to the presidential nominating convention next week.

"It is difficult to dramatize foreign issues," said Carl Rice, veteran Kansas Democratic leader.

But from Maine's Alton A. Lessard came the view that voters there are more concerned about how the man in the White House handles critical foreign relations.

Both Rice and Lessard are members of the resolutions group. Generally, committee members from inland areas stressed domestic issues more than did their seacoast colleagues.

Agnes Geelan, a North Dakota committee member said the farm issue is tops in her part of the country. She cited apparent victory of Democrat Quentin Burdick in a special senatorial race in that state last week—a victory many Democrats credit to farmer dissatisfaction with Eisenhower administration farm policies.

At Tuesday's opening session of the committee the domestic issues had the better of it. Committee members debated at times with some heat—with spokesmen of the American Farm Bureau Federation and the American Medical Association on their proposals for farm and medical care plans.

The Farm Bureau urged the committee to put the party on record as promising to do away with the high farm price supports and crop controls, a position that would bring a party turnout on this issue and put it in general agreement with the Eisenhower administration.

Calm After Storm Of 4th Hits Market
TEXAS food markets have a chance to take a rest this week after handling tremendous volume of traditional July 4th picnic items. But consumers still have a wide selection of fruits and vegetables from farm gardens and orchards, the USDA Marketing Service reported.

Wholesale banana prices are extremely low as this year-around fruit competes with local supplies of watermelons, cantaloupes, grapes and other fresh fruits. All of these and lemons fall in the best-buy category.

Prices also are low on cabbage, carrots, celery, lettuce, onions and green onions, blackeye peas, potatoes, and tomatoes.

Lower wholesale prices than a week ago are noticeable on cabbage, cucumbers, grapes, lettuce, watermelons, tomatoes and lemons. Avocados, potatoes, and eggplant, especially grapefruit, oranges and lemons, are higher.

Cattle prices are definitely lower than a few weeks ago while pork prices have advanced considerably. Both provide invaluable nutrition at reasonable costs. Consumers are finding more turkey available this summer as the industry attempts to move its large production of best-buy prices. Broilers remain priced for economy.

Parking For Students Big Problem At UT
AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—Finding room for an expected 30,000 students by 1970 doesn't worry University of Texas authorities as much as finding more teachers and parking spaces.

Dr. E. D. Hawkey, university vice president for developmental services, made the observation Tuesday.

"We can handle 40,000 students on our campus now," Hawkey said, "but we can't handle the 50,000 students of 1970 students," he said.

Several farm belt Democrats argued such a course would drive farm prices lower, create greater farm surpluses and bankrupt farmers.

Both Rice and Lessard are members of the resolutions group. Generally, committee members from inland areas stressed domestic issues more than did their seacoast colleagues.

Tally Chosen New President Of Kiwanis
Chicago, Illinois — Joseph O. Tally, Jr., 38, Fayetteville, North Carolina attorney, has been named President of Kiwanis International. He was elected to the number one Kiwanis post Wednesday, June 29th, by delegates attending the 45th Annual Convention of Kiwanis International in Miami.

News of Tally's election was received today by officers of the Kiwanis Club of Snyder, Texas. As head of Kiwanis International, Tally will be official spokesman for 260,000 Kiwanians in more than 4700 clubs located throughout the United States and Canada. He succeeds Albert J. Tully, Mobile, Alabama attorney. Tully has held the Kiwanis presidency since August of 1959.

Immediately prior to his election as president of Kiwanis, Tally served one year as the organization's president-elect. He was the first member to hold this newly-created post. Tally has also served two terms as a trustee of Kiwanis International and one year as its treasurer. He has also been president of the Kiwanis Club of Fayetteville, lieutenant governor and governor of the Carolinas Kiwanis District, and member and chairman of many district and international Kiwanis committees. He has been a Kiwanian for 13 years.

The new president is a practicing attorney and a past vice-president of the North Carolina Bar Association. He is also a former mayor of Fayetteville, a past president of the North Carolina League of Municipalities and a former professor of law at Wake Forest College.

Purse Pilfering Pair Apprehended
CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP)—Two boys arrested on pursuit pilfering charges couldn't have picked a worse time or place to pull the caper.

Wedding in front of the police station Monday night were the chief of police, a chief inspector, two detectives and a patrolman. The officers heard the shouts a block away of a man whose companion had lost her purse to a pair of 15-year-old youths. The policemen saw the boys running and began a chase. The chief of police and a detective in an automobile and the other two on foot.

Around corners and across the streets the youths ran with the police close behind. Finally those in the car made the capture.

The boys' identities were not disclosed due to their age. They were charged with purse snatching.

Could Japs Have Executed Earhart?

LOS ANGELES (AP)—An Air Force officer says security officers are evaluating what he believes to be conclusive evidence that the Japanese executed aviator Amelia Earhart.

Miss Earhart and navigator Fred Noonan disappeared in July 1937 while crossing the Pacific on a projected round-the-world flight.

Capt. Paul Briand Jr. said Tuesday that an Air Force officer has photographic evidence and affidavits from 72 witnesses to the capture and execution of Miss Earhart and Noonan.

And, said Briand, Capt. Joseph Gervais wrote him he had found, on the prewar Japanese mandate island of Saipan, "the original and only burial site of Amelia Earhart and Fred Noonan."

Gervais' investigation was not an official Air Force inquiry. It was the second time in five days that unofficial investigators have claimed finding evidence that the Japanese killed the U.S. fliers.

Briand is author of a book titled "Daughter of the Sky" in which he proposes a theory that the Americans landed far off course at Saipan and were executed to keep them from telling the world that the Japanese were secretly fortifying the island.

But in Tokyo a former imperial navy captain denied that such an execution occurred.

Gov. Davis Fighting Segregation

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP)—Gov. J. Morgan Davis didn't say how, but he has promised that New Orleans public schools will remain segregated next September despite a federal court order requiring first grade integration.

Following a meeting Tuesday with Atty. Gen. Jack Gremlion and representatives of the Orleans Parish (County) School Board, Davis said the schools "will continue to operate on a segregated basis and we will do what is appropriate and necessary to accomplish this purpose."

Just what his intentions are was not revealed, but Gremlion told newsmen after the meeting that something "positive and definite" is being worked out.

The attorney general said he will have "some good news for the people of New Orleans by the end of the month."

Davis said he has urged Gremlion continue taking all legal steps possible and available to maintain the segregated school system in Orleans Parish.

Order For Vote On 'El Fuste' Killed
EDINBURG (AP)—An order calling for a vote on the incorporation of a new Hidalgo County town to be named "El Fuste" was killed Tuesday by County Judge Milton Richardson.

Richardson, acting on a petition, earlier signed the election order for a vote to be held July 9. Mercedes officials then complained the area of the proposed town is in a section on which Mercedes will hold an annexation election July 18.

The Mercedes officials said residents of the area seeking to form the new city had already been served with notice of Mercedes' annexation proceedings.

Phone Strike Looms

SAN ANGELO (AP)—A strike against the General Telephone Co. of the Southwest probably will be called within a few days unless contract agreement is reached, a union spokesman said Tuesday.

Communications Workers of America spokesman Marvin Collins of St. Louis said a vote of the union had been canvassed and it supports its bargaining committee "even to the point of a strike, if necessary."

Federal Mediator Walter White sat in during the contract talks, now in their 11th week.

The talks center around numerous union and company proposals, such as grievances and accumulation of time. Wages are not an issue.

Zenshiro Hoshina was in 1937, chief of the section of the Naval Affairs Bureau handling executions.

"I absolutely deny it," he told newsmen who told him of Briand's report. "No such execution could have taken place without my knowledge and approval."

Japanese authorities earlier had denied a report publicized last Friday that Miss Earhart's plane had crashed off Saipan and that she and Noonan had been reportedly executed.

That report came from an investigation by a team of newsmen from the Columbia Broadcasting System and the San Mateo (Calif.) Times. They recovered a generator from a plane they believed to be Miss Earhart's Lockheed-built craft.

Aircraft technicians still are studying the device to determine if it could have been from her plane.

Briand, 39, an assistant professor of English at the Air Force Academy, said the Air Force had placed a security classification on the photographs and affidavits obtained by Capt. Gervais.

U2 Pilot To Have 'Open Trial'—Koslov

MOSCOW (AP)—Francis Gary Powers, the American U2 pilot held here on spy charges, will be given an "open trial," says Soviet Deputy Premier Frol Koslov.

Powers' name came up in conversation between reporters and Soviet officials at a U.S. Embassy Independence Day party.

Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan said it was up to the prosecutor to set the actual trial date. Mikoyan added he did not know when the trial would be held.

He commented that Powers will get justice, and Koslov chimed in with the statement "it will be open trial."

Powers has been held since last May 1. His U2 plane had been downed while on a spy flight over Soviet territory.

Mrs. Kennedy Expecting Second Child

HYANNIS, Mass. (AP)—Mrs. John F. Kennedy, whose husband seeks the Democratic presidential nomination, is expecting.

A spokesman for the family of the Massachusetts senator said last night the Kennedys expect the birth of their second child in late November or early December. They have a daughter, Caroline, 2.

The spokesman said Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy will not attend early sessions of the Democratic national convention opening in Los Angeles July 11 but hopes to get to some late sessions.

The family made its announcement after Newsweek magazine reported Mrs. Kennedy was preparing for an addition to the family.

ORDERED TO SERVE JAIL TERMS—Boston Industrialist Bernard Goldfine and his secretary Mildred Papernman enter Federal Court in Boston where both were ordered to serve jail terms for contempt of court. The 69-year-old Goldfine and Miss Papernman were sentenced for failure to turn over certain records in an income tax investigation. He will serve 3 months at Danbury, Conn., and she 10 days in nearby Cambridge. (AP Wirephoto)

Sam, Harry Among Stu's '3 Wise Men'

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP)—"Along with Harry Truman and Sam Rayburn, I consider Gov. (David) Lawrence one of the three wise men of the Democratic party," said Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo.), who is seeking the presidential nomination.

"Only three" inquired the Pennsylvania governor, who is chairman of the state's 81-vote convention delegation.

"If you want to put me in the manger, I'll go there," answered Symington with a smile. "But I'm a little short of frankincense and myrrh."

The exchange took place Tuesday as Symington and Lawrence appeared together during an interview. Symington made an unexpected trip to Harrisburg to visit his wife's stepfather who is hospitalized.

Louisiana was admitted to the union as a state in 1812. In this same year the first steamboat, coming down the Ohio and Mississippi Rivers from Pittsburgh, reached New Orleans.

'Draft Rocky' Move Stirring

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A news conference for disclosing details of a "draft Rockefeller" movement will be held by a group favoring the New York governor for the Republican presidential nomination.

William M. Brinton, San Francisco attorney, announced the 2 p.m. news conference would be followed at 3 p.m. by a televised conference.

It was understood the movement to block Vice President Richard M. Nixon and draft Nelson A. Rockefeller would begin in at least 19 other states this week.

Bombay Belle Wins Over Top US Stars

By BOB THOMAS

AP Movie-TV Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Juliet Browne, born in Bombay and brought up in South Africa, has managed to beguile both Frank Sinatra and Elvis Presley.

She is 23, but wise and witty beyond her years. She has a puckishly pretty face and a dancer's disciplined frame. Although she has been in America only 18 months, she can speak the idiom equally well with Presley's mountain boys and Sinatra's hep crowd.

To use Frank's phrase, she's a star.

Producers and critics seem to think so, too. She drew raves for her work in her first Hollywood film, "Can-Can." "That floored me because I had to little to do in it," she said.

She did enough to win the lead opposite Elvis in his comeback film, "G.I. Blues." Inevitably, his interest became more than professional, and they did some dating. This was while Sinatra, who had been escorting her regularly, was on a trip to the Orient.

Whenever Elvis and Juliet had heart-to-hearts on the set, jokes could warn them: "Here comes Frank!" It got to be a running gag.

A couple of weeks ago, a Presley lieutenant shouted "Here comes Frank!" and got a searing reply from his leader. But—surprise—there came Frank.

"It was a panic," Juliet recalled with a giggle. "I never in the world thought that Frank would ever visit me on the set."

All of which demonstrates the pull of the chestnut-haired charm of "It's also a tribute to her diplomatic skill that she managed to avoid a clash between the two singers and is able to juggle both dates without conflict. Until lately, everybody considered her Frank's girl.

Accidents Galore Plague Movie Set
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Things haven't been too funny on the set of "The Facts of Life," a Hollywood comedy.

Lucille Ball fell into a boat Friday during filming of a scene with Bob Hope and suffered a black eye, scrapes and bruises. She was hospitalized.

Then supporting actor Don DeFore hurt his back while doing a slantkick scene—aggravating an old injury. He went to another hospital.

Met-Frank, producer-director of the film, broke an ankle while golfing. He was back at work Tuesday—on crutches.

David Golding, the movie's publicity man, is down with the bumps. Hope is keeping his fingers crossed.
