N. C. HUSTON'S FATHER BURIED LAST SUNDAY

Gerard Huston, father of N. C. Huston, local manager of the West Texas Utilities company, was buried at Paint Rock Sunday afternoon, February 8.

Mr. Huston was 82 years of age, and was born in Cincinnati, O., in 1860. He came to Texas in 1893 and engaged in the newspaper business, being the oldest newspaper man in his section of the country when he retired a few years ago. Death occurred at the home of his daughter, Mrs. W. E. Wright, in Sonora.

Survivors are Mrs. Wright, Mrs. N. T. Underwood, of Haskell; N. C. Huston, Cisco, and Private Robert D. Huston of Fort Scott, Ill. Mr. Huston's wife preceded him in death about two years.

120 ENJOYED W. RASMUSSEN SCOUT AFFAIR DIED AT HOME LAST NIGHT AT MIDNIGHT

Cisco Boy Scouts and their scoutmasters—Sim Ledford, J. A. Smith and S. E. Hittson—attended a district court of honor meeting in Eastland, last night. The meeting was held in the First Christian church and approximately 120 scouts and scoutmasters were present.

Presiding officers were R. S. Bailey, district advisory chairman, and W. M. Jessop, Eastland scoutmaster.

The invocation was by Dr. Gary L. Smith of Cisco.

Two Eastland scouts, Dan Hightower and Bobby Collier, read anniversary song messages from Walter B. Head, national president and Dr. James E. West, chief scout executive.

Numerous awards were made, among them an Eagle badge to Lieut. Robert Herring, formerly of Ranger troop 12, but now in the army. Three life scouts made application for Eagle rank, as follows: Bill Blackstock, troop 49 of Cisco; David Jameson, troop 12, Ranger and Bobby Joe Lamb, troop 29, Carboon.

Other Cisco scouts receiving awards were Billy Bob Carswell, Bobby Wilson and Tommy Sharp, troop 101; Jack King, Eddie Jackson and Jay Warren of troop 49, who received second-class awards.

Advanced to first class were Yancy McCrea, Karl Armstrong, of troop 101 and Harry Grantz of troop 49.

Those receiving Star rank were Marion Paschall, troop 101; Bill Morrison and Bobbie Poe, troop 49.

Life rank was awarded Bob Davis, troop 101; Homer Lee Hensley, Bill Blackstock and Joe Tom Poe, troop 49.

Bob Davis, troop 101, was presented the Acorn award and O. W. Ford, troop 49, received four merit badges.

The thoroughly enjoyable affair was closed by Lieut. Robert Herring, who led the assembly in a pledge to the flag.

ENEMY MAKES READY

Movement of enemy troops indicated early resumption of an attack in force against Gen. Douglas MacArthur's forces in the Philippines, the war department said Wednesday, although the fighting on Bataan Peninsula and enemy air activity have lessened.

There have been intermittent interchanges of artillery fire between the American island fortifications at the entrance of Manila Bay and Japanese batteries on the Cavite shore of the bay, the department said.

The war communiqué also said that six of the seven enemy planes reported shot down Tuesday were destroyed by American fighter planes over Cavite Province in one of the most spectacular air battles in the Philippine campaign. One American plane was reported missing.

Allied arms in the Pacific faced their blackest hours since Pearl Harbor.

The Japanese evidently were intent on following up their spectacular Singapore campaign by annihilating the only other potential threat to their southern drive—the stubborn American-Filipino forces on Bataan Peninsula.

War department communiques left scant room for doubt on the desperate, almost forlorn nature of MacArthur's fight, but President Roosevelt brought out by indirection the value of his contribution to the present grand strategy of the United Nations.

The prime objective of that strategy, Roosevelt explained to his press conference, was to prevent an enemy breakthrough on the world front, while inflicting the maximum punishment on the foe and his resources during the period the Allies are creating a superior military machine.

The Japanese, it was acknowledged here, have broken through past the Philippines into the Indies, but MacArthur's resistance is still exacting a heavy toll from the enemy both in men and material.

The war department communiqué Tuesday night gave some indication of the greatly superior enemy forces which MacArthur has been keeping from other theaters of operations. On Bataan, it reported, at least five enemy divisions have been identified as participating in the heavy fighting of recent days. The strength of a Japanese division is 25,000 men and the fact that at least five have been in action gives some idea of the tremendous pressure the enemy has been able to apply on the peninsula front, which is believed now no wider than 15 miles.

SINGAPORE'S FATE SEALED IS ADMITTED

The British are still fighting at Singapore. All day the battered defense forces battled against an overwhelming Japanese offensive on the little island that once symbolized the might of empire in the Far East.

Hour after hour in the tropical heat and under relentless bombardment, they held out, while women and children were rescued by British and Dutch naval and merchant ships from Singapore harbor.

As night shielded the island the fight was still in progress and there appeared to be no hope in London that any considerable number of the defenders could be evacuated in a Far-Eastern version of Dunkirk.

Japanese broadcasts reported the city area of Singapore had been penetrated, but acknowledged the defenders were offering most stubborn resistance and the Singapore radio --- heard at intervals --- made it clear the battle was still in progress.

Eventual fate of the island bastion already had been decided by thousands of Japanese troops pouring in from the north and by virtually unquestioned air superiority of the yellow men. But blows still were being struck by British forces determined to take the greatest possible toll of enemy strength.

ORAN L. CLARK OF AIR FORCE IS PROMOTED

Oran L. Clark, native-born Ciscoan and son of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Clark of this city, has been promoted to staff sergeant in the air corps. He is with the headquarters air corps training detachment at Corsicana.

Clark, who graduated from Cisco high school in 1940, joined the air corps at Kelly Field on July 1, 1940.

Actually, Sergeant Clark is what is termed a supply sergeant. That is, he supplies, on order from superior officers, any part of an airplane that might be needed from time to time. This requires a very intimate knowledge of all airplane parts.

Sergeant Clark is 20 years of age now and, in writing to his parents, makes it very clear that he is wholly pleased with his work and hopes to remain in the army permanently.

CAPITAL NOW IN DANGER

CHUNKKING, China, Feb. 11.—Japanese forces driving northwest toward the Burma Road have occupied coastal Martaban and are using rubber boats in crossing the Salween river, the Rangoon radio said tonight.

The broadcast said Chinese forces had contacted the Japanese and that the invaders were in an undisclosed sector of the Burma front, on the west side of the Salween estuary, opposite Moulmein.

At Martaban the Japanese would be at the terminus of the railroad which skirts the Gulf of Martaban, extending 160 track miles to Rangoon, Burma capital.

FBI CORRAL JAP OFFICER AND 20 OTHERS

SALINAS, Cal., Feb. 11.—Two high Japanese police officials, one of them a former police chief of Tokyo who came here as a Buddhist priest, are among a score of Japanese seized by federal agents in their relentless raid on a ring of Nipponese colonies in this area.

A raid on a Buddhist temple here netted three priests Tuesday, along with a truckload of contraband. One of the three, Rev. Koyo Tamahana, was described by officers as a former Tokyo police chief.

Yaichi Takatayashi, the proprietor of a Salinas laundry, was identified as a former high police official of Japan and a close friend of Emperor Hirohito's brother.

Agents said the three priests and Takatayashi had come to this country in the last few months.

ROOSEVELT PUSHES HIS PET PROJECT

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11.—President Roosevelt today urged passage of the $965,000,000 omnibus rivers and harbors bill, which includes the St. Lawrence waterway, considered by many congressmen as far removed from a defense project.

Mr. Roosevelt said the measure would help stabilize employment and promote national security.

SUNDAY PAY

The original purpose of double pay for Sunday work was all right. It encouraged doing the week's work during the week, with Sunday rest for the worker. When a five-day week became normal, it seems to the mere onlooker that the basis disappeared. If a man is going to get one or two days off every week anyhow, what difference should it make in his pay which days they are?

Many people misunderstand about the seven-day, 24-hour week. The industries which work through a 168-hour week do not work the same men seven days. Days and hours are staggered over four shifts. The second-shift man comes up to take over the machine as the first-shift man leaves. Every man gets his day off, in every week, though the work does not cease. In general, a man should have his day off. It keeps him fit, lets him keep on working without breaking under strain.

NATIONAL HEALTH

Any extensive effort to increase the number of physicians graduated each year, as has been proposed in some quarters, will mean a lowering of professional standards, and the ultimate effect will be serious both on the army medical service and on service to the people, the American Medical association warns.

In this country, under our system of private medicine, the people have been given a quality of health service unequalled elsewhere. Standards for admittance to practice have been high and have been steadily raised. That is why this country has become the world center of medical research and education—and it is also the reason for the tremendous improvement in the general average of public health which has taken place in the last few decades.

Various specific suggestions which have been made for speeding up the production of doctors seem impractical no less than unwise. It has been suggested, for instance, that summer vacations be eliminated so that students could give all of the year to study. But that would mean that the high proportion of students who must finance themselves in whole or part would have to give up their work or find finance elsewhere. It has also been suggested that the tempo of training be upped—but that would require slow and difficult readjustments in our medical schools, along with great expansion of teaching and technical staffs.

REAL ESTATE WAR

The British seem to have been caught in a crisis with too much real estate. Many of us know how that is. The sheriff, in the form of Fate, is after them. Envious neighbors, particularly Japan and Germany, are bringing against them ouster proceedings of a military nature. Uncle Sam, as "next friend," is doing all he can to prevent a big crash. There is hope of victory, but at best the proceedings will be very costly.

It may be obvious now, even to the British themselves, that it was a mistake for so small a nation to acquire all that property, in localities so widely scattered and hard to defend. Yet on the whole they seem to have got it rather naturally, in that great period of expansion and annexation which distinguished the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries. And they have operated those properties, on the whole—in spite of such lapses from governmental virtue as occurred for a time in India, South Africa and North America—with unusual decency and intelligence. Because we Americans know this, we have mostly forgotten our old grudges. We ourselves seem to have gone too far in the opposite direction, being content, on the whole, within our own continental borders. It might have been better if we had reached out farther, thus promoting peace and making sure that great resources now endangered would never be used for criminal world conquest by barbarians.

CHECKING UP

Good ideas are sometimes amazingly slow of acceptance. Most people now are pretty well convinced that a periodical medical check-up is a good thing. They may not actually have it, but they believe in the idea. It seems like a precaution that would occur to anybody.

Yet, according to Dr. William W. Bauer, this recommendation was made first only in 1861, the author being Dr. Horace Dobell, an English physician. His suggestion got nowhere. Dr. Dobell, like many another pioneer, was ahead of his time. Not until 1922 did the periodic health examination receive official endorsement of the American Medical association and National Health Council.

Now the idea has firm backing and is becoming widespread. It ought to mean much for the coming generation.

MEN AND WOMEN OF THE FBI

Women Find Careers in the FBI With Many Clerical and Stenographic Positions Open

The F B I Girls' Basketball Team, 1941 Champions of the Government Basketball League.

The U. S. government is tremendously busy these days—which means increased opportunity for young men and women to carve out careers for themselves in the government service. The Federal Bureau of Investigation, which is working overtime in its task of law enforcement and counter-espionage, provides a grand chance for ambitious young United States citizens—women as well as men.

While there are no "G-Women", the FBI boasts of a large and growing feminine contingent in its stenographic, typist and clerical staff. Stenographers who must take dictation at 120 words per minute start at $1620 a year, typists and clerks at $1440 a year and once a year to keep their work up to date and improve their positions.

Life in the FBI is not all work and no fun. The FBI Recreation Association sponsors dramatics, bowling, swimming, basketball, softball and other activities to keep its girls happy and healthy. For newcomers to Washington, these social and sport affairs are particularly welcome, as the FBI stenographers and clerks have the opportunity to meet their fellow employees and other government workers after hours on a purely social basis.

GARDEN SEEDS VERY SCARCE, DEALER SAYS

J. L. Thornton, of Thornton's feed mill, announces the completion of his new grist mill and states it is already in operation. He can now give top-notch service in any kind of grinding.

Thornton also says his quotations for new bulk garden seeds show an acute shortage in most all seeds, with some not obtainable at any price. He adds that his present supply is just received and shows very little advance in price, but he can't say what the next will be, even if he is able to get any at all. Thornton's advice to farmers and gardeners is to buy their needs now, whether they buy from him or elsewhere.

Census bureau figures reveal that in some states less than half of the persons convicted of rape received prison sentences.

PENSIONS FOR CONGRESSMEN RIGHTLY STIR THE PEOPLE; TOM CONNALLY VOTED "NO"

AUSTIN, Feb. 11.—Bundles for congressmen would receive their annual payment beginning at the age of 60 years. He can also be paid the annuity after 15 years' service, at the age of 62. There is a provision also which makes the present worth of an annuity available at 50 years of age.

A congressman who began his term on March 4, 1907 (the 59th congress), could retire Jan. 1, 1943, and if he is 62 years old then receive $4,175.44 a year for the rest of his life. If he had entered congress as late as 1915 the annuity would be $3,139 a year. Eligibility dates and amounts that Texas congressmen can receive would have to be figured out on actuary tables.

A compilation made for the entire congress shows that on Jan. 1, 1943, 10 would be eligible to begin drawing $3,000 a year for the rest of their lives; 41 could draw $2,000 a year; 66 would get $1,500; 112 could receive $1,200; and 64 could demand $1,000.

To become eligible they have to pay in five per cent of their salary from the time they exercise an option to take advantage of the act. They do not have to make back payments.

This excuse from "back payments brought the stiffest fight against the plan. It was defended by its supporters on the precedent that in the past additional civil service employees to whom the annuity plan has been opened, have not had to make back payments, although the annuities are to be paid out of a fund to which un-elected federal employees have been contributing for years.

Hatton Sumners of Dallas has the longest service in the House of Representatives among the Texas delegation. His first term was in the 63rd congress which began in April of 1913. Speaker Sam Rayburn of Bonham joined him in Washington in the next session, Dec. 6, 1915 and Joseph J. Mansfield of Columbus became a member of congress in the 65th session which opened in April of 1917.

Other Texas congressmen, and the congress sessions in which their pensionable service began follow:

Fritz Lanham, Fort Worth, 66th; Luther Johnson, Corsicana, 68th; Wright Patman, Texarkana, 71st; Martin Dies, Orange, Richard M. Kleberg, Corpus Christi, and R. E. BUND MEMBERS AND SABOTEURS SUSPECT

OAKLAND, Cal., Feb. 11.—A young draftsman was arrested by the FBI Wednesday on charges of bund connections and found in his possession a bundle of dynamite. The draftsman, James Charles Gribble, 39, was arrested at his Berkeley residence on a charge of dynamite. He waived extradition to Paul, Minn.

But federal agents suspected mainly in the American bund movement in his possession a set of prints from vital documents in this area.

The card was issued by New York City on July 12, 1936, to Carl Gribble. He was an alias, agents said, and had participated in bund drills in New Jersey. He was, however, that he carried prints merely as samples of work.

FULL COST OF OIL IS HARD TO ESTIMATE

HOUSTON, Feb. 11.—Oil companies have spent more than $37,000,000 for oil field development in Mississippi since oil first was discovered in that state in August, 1939, a committee of the American Petroleum Institute has reported.

In the same period, operators received gross income of only a little more than $16,000,000, or $21,000,000 less than they have spent.

Although the gross income includes all revenues from the sale of oil except for royalties to the land-owners, the expenditure data are low because they make no estimate of drilling, exploration, or land-leasing costs prior to the opening of the Tinsley discovery pool, nor of the untraceable expenditures by hundreds of individuals and small companies.

More than 250 unsuccessful wells had been drilled in Mississippi before the first field was found.

The drilling of the 516 wells from August, 1939, to Jan. 1, 1942, and the installing of producing equipment in the 333 of them that were successful oil wells, cost more than $15,000,000, the report states.

Leasing and rental payments to farmers and other landowners in 1940 and 1941 alone are estimated to have amounted to more than $11,000,000 and geophysical exploration cost nearly $6,000,000. In addition, over-head expenses are conservatively believed to have totaled $4,500,000.

"What did you think of the big fight last night, Bill?" asked the sailor of his pal. "Fight?" returned Bill, scornfully. "If the missus and me had put on a show like that on a Saturday night, the kids would 'ave loved us."

There is approximately one milk-cow in the United States for every six persons, according to the 1940 census. The nation's 21,936,556 cows and heifers produced 11,508,243,769 gallons of milk that year, or 525 gallons per cow.
