COOP FOR FSA BORROWERS TO BE ORGANIZED

Regional Official from Dallas Will Be Present at Friday Meeting to Explain Workings of Plan

Organization of a Marketing and Purchasing Cooperative Association will be taken up Friday evening, 8:00 o'clock, in the county court room at a called meeting of all FSA borrowers in the county, Hugh Birdwell, acting local FSA supervisor, stated Tuesday.

Present for the gathering, besides local FSA officials and clients will be Robert Fisher of Eastland, district rural supervisor for FSA, and Gus Hill, representing the regional Farm Security Administration office at Dallas.

Hugh Birdwell is joined by Mrs. Jacqueline Crosby of the local FSA offices, over Bryant-Link Company, in urging all county clients to attend Friday evening's meeting.

Organization of a marketing cooperative in Scurry County would allow FSA clients to get a better price for what they produce, and purchase needed supplies cooperatively—and at substantial savings, Birdwell reports.

"Farm Security Administration clients in Scurry County are faced with new and perplexing problems in this changing age," Birdwell points out.

"National defense needs make it imperative that we produce more feed and food. We are concerned with the price we pay and receive for our products, and for this reason we want to hasten organization of a cooperative so we can mutually profit from any price changes which may occur," Birdwell concluded.

Big Haul Made in Raid at Chicken Green's Thursday

In a surprise raid conducted last Thursday afternoon by Texas Liquor Control Board members out of Big Spring, in cooperation with J. G. (Pop) Galyean and Earl Strawn, local night watchman, a large haul of liquor and wines was netted at the C. W. (Chicken) Green place in East Snyder.

C. W. (Chicken) Green, described by liquor control officials as a perennial liquor law violator, and Pat Boyer, recently charged with the possession of intoxicants in a dry area for the purpose of sale, were caught in possession of the illegal spirits, liquor board officers declared.

Haul at the Green place, which has been operating as a cafe for some time, officers state, included 27 half cases of canned beer, three cases of bottled beer, 24 half-pints of assorted whiskies, three gallons of wine, six half-pints of wine and five cans of beer—separate from the brew found in cases.

BALLOTING ON WHEAT QUOTA SLATED MAY 31

Growers Will Be Given New Urge To Vote Following Conference Of Officials at Big Spring

Claud D. Cotton, county administrative officer for the Triple A, Dessie Parsons, clerk and Perry Echols, a member of the county AAA committee, represented Scurry County Monday at a district Triple A meeting held in Big Spring.

The Big Spring meeting was held for the purpose of explaining wheat marketing quotas for the 1941, 1942 and 1943 crop years.

Present at the confab were three representatives of the state Triple A office, and two representatives of the Washington Triple A office. These representatives explained the methods available for reducing our present wheat surplus, and suggested means of equitable marketing quotas for the next three crop years.

Jack B. Hall, Triple A field officer for District 6, North, of which Scurry is a unit, reported on progress made in Scurry and other counties of the district in quota work.

Scurry County farmers will ballot May 31, at Snyder and Hermleigh, on wheat marketing quotas for the next three years. Triple A officials are very anxious, as a result of the Big Spring conference, that farmers get out a record vote on the quota question.

It was pointed out at the Big Spring meeting that the United States will have on hand, when this wheat crop is harvested, enough grain to furnish the nation two more years if no more wheat is sowed.

In similar vein, it was shown that Canada, at the conclusion of this year's harvest, will have sufficient grain to run the nation of the Maple Leaf and England for another two-year period—without drilling in any wheat at all.

Although Scurry County is not vitally interested in wheat as a major crop, the AAA officials present at the Big Spring meeting voiced the hope that every eligible grain producer in the county would cast a vote in the May 31 referendum.

A pre-referendum survey, made by a private grain purchasing firm this week, indicates that grain producers in Scurry and other counties of the Southwest are anxious to keep wheat marketing quotas for the 1941, 1942 and 1943 crop years, lest wheat sag down to the starvation level grain hit in 1931-32.

COURT ACTION FOLLOWS CAR CRASH DEATH

L. E. Barker Named in Complaint Signed by Sheriff Lynch After L. T. Vaughn Succumbs

In a complaint signed by Sheriff John Lynch, charges of negligent homicide were filed in county court Saturday afternoon against L. E. Barker, Lubbock truck driver, following a collision Friday afternoon, 4:45 o'clock, six miles southeast of Snyder on Highway 7 in which L. T. Vaughn, 55, also of Lubbock, sustained fatal injuries.

State Highway Patrolmen E. B. Underwood and J. V. Walling, sergeant, completed an investigation Saturday morning at the scene of the accident.

Conflicting accounts were told of the cause of the accident, but the duet of highway patrolmen reported that Barker, driving a Phillips 66 truck, was en route from Sweetwater to Lubbock at the time.

Barker, awarded a safety medal only recently by Phillips Petroleum Company in recognition of his safety record, rounded a curve in the highway and was approaching the Whitehead hill when he saw Vaughn coming from the northwest at a rapid rate of speed.

Vaughn, according to Barker's signed statement, was driving on the left hand side of the road, and when it was determined Vaughn wouldn't pull on the right side, Barker swung his truck to the left. Vaughn, evidently, hearing Barker honking his horn, pulled to the right with a resultant crash.

First account of the accident was reported to the sheriff's office by Bert Masterson, United Press man of Dallas, who was en route to Amarillo. Masterson, stopped by several gathered at the accident scene, summoned a Maples Funeral Home ambulance.

Vaughn, sales representative for General Foods Sales Company, sustained a crushed left lung, crushed left hand, head and scalp wounds, and had the flesh on his left shoulder blade cut to the bone.

Vaughn was rushed to a local hospital, where emergency aid was administered. He never regained consciousness, and passed away Friday evening at 8:10 o'clock.

The battered, twisted wreckage of Vaughn's 1940 Plymouth coupe was towed to the Manhattan Garage by a Miller Body Works associate. Those who saw the twisted wreckage described it as the worst seen here in many years.

Front end of the orange Phillips 66 truck was caved in, and both wheels were sheared loose, but the driver escaped with only minor cuts and lacerations. The truck belonged to E. F. Haley of Seagraves.

Vaughn, who called on local grocers and was known to a number of county people, is survived by his widow, Mrs. L. T. Vaughn, 2705 20th Street, Lubbock, and a daughter, Mrs. J. E. Scott-Boog of San Angelo.

Body of the Lubbock salesman was taken overland Saturday morning in a Maples Funeral Home coach to Paris, where final rites were held Sunday afternoon. Burial was in a Paris cemetery.

April 26 Marriage of Irene Taylor And Murray Gray Announced Here

Claiming interest of local social circles is the announcement made last week by the bride's parents of the month-old marriage of Irene Taylor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sterling A. Taylor, and Murray Gray, son of the R. L. Grays, local ranch people.

Miss Taylor became the bride of Gray in a simple marriage service read by Rev. W. J. Parmenter, Methodist minister, at his home in Roby at 9:00 o'clock Saturday evening, April 26.

BANQUET HELD FOR FLUVANNA GROUP FRIDAY

Fluvanna High School students and faculty banqueted Friday evening at the Manhattan Hotel in Snyder in a setting of lovely spring flowers, miniature cocoanut trees and other decorations typical of native Hawaii, land of flowers, romance and memories. Soft blue lights shed a moonlight-like glow over the banquet tables.

Annual junior-senior banquet was the occasion for the Hawaiian setting and the enjoyable evening. Sponsored by Alleen Ott, the junior class committee responsible for the unique decorations and other plans for the evening included Eva Mae Parks, Patsy Snodgrass, Dick Miller and others.

Souvenir programs and place cards followed the cocoanut tree theme used for table centerpieces, and Hawaiian dishes predominated in the three-course banquet menu. Approximately 75 Fluvanna students and teachers attended the affair.

Fred Barton, speech instructor from Abilene Christian College, was the main speaker of the evening. Traditions in Hawaii were discussed by the ACC professor in poetry reading.

Gilbert Mize, high school principal, gave the invocation. Welcome was by Patsy Snodgrass, junior class president, who was master of ceremonies for the evening, and Faye Mathis, senior closs officer, responded. A quartet of junior girls—Eva Mae Parks, Meari Sneed, Doris Lightfoot and Doris Davis—sang a group of Hawaiian melodies; Fred R. Duncan, local violin instructor, played a group of numbers; Mr. Barton spoke; and the evening closed as the group joined in singing the school's "Alma Mater."

Travis Speaks to Snyder Seniors at Sunday Services

"Life is not always a series of paved roads," Rev. Hubert C. Travis, First Presbyterian Church pastor, told Snyder High School seniors Sunday evening as a high point of his baccalaureate address to them.

"While life isn't at all times a paved road," Rev. Travis continued, "you can help pave it for yourselves and others. We should always strive to keep our town, state and nation Christian."

Superintendent E. L. Farr had the audience to stand facing the flag to repeat the oath of allegiance to the U. S. flag as a local observance of "I Am an American" Day.

Rev. Travis, who subject was "Wanted, Youth for Christ," pointed out that "America is one of the few countries in the world to enjoy the freedom of religious belief and freedom of the press."

Processional by Polly Harpole preceded the baccalaureate invocation by LeMoine G. Lewis, Church of Christ minister. Rev. M. E. Hutson, First Christian minister, gave the scripture reading, and Rev. I. A. Smith, Methodist pastor, pronounced the benediction.

Willard Jones directed choir numbers, and E. L. Farr, school superintendent, was in general charge of the program.

Superintendent Farr states there will be about 95 high school graduates, who will receive their diplomas Friday evening in informal graduation exercises.

Darby Explains New Auto Tax Effective In Texas April 30

Herman Darby, county tax assessor-collector, stated Tuesday that House Bill No. 8 recently approved by the 47th Legislature, requires that a tax of 1 per cent of the total consideration be paid on all automobiles sold in Texas, or other states for use in Texas, after April 30, 1941.

County car owners are advised by Darby that such a tax on automobiles is payable immediately after purchase of a car. Those who have purchased vehicles since April 30, and who have not yet paid their tax, are urged to do so at once.

Violators of the new act, the assessor-collector continues, are subject to a fine or imprisonment, or both.

All Scurry County automobile owners are also notified by assessor-collector officials that every motor vehicle in use upon Texas highways January 1, 1942, must have issued for it a certificate of title to the owner in person.

Any car owners who do not have certificates of title are urged to contact the assessor-collector's office as soon as possible.

HOME DEMONSTRATION CLUBS

Estella Rabel, County Home Demonstration Agent

Plainview Home Demonstration Club met Tuesday at the home of Mrs. E. Y. Thompson. Estella Rabel, county home demonstration agent, gave some interesting suggestions on clothing made of cotton materials.

Members present at the Plainview meeting were as follows: Mmes. John Woodard, Buford Light, Raymond Pylant, A. M. Weller, Dock Morton, J. A. Farmer, J. W. Tate, Lowell Thornburg, Ida Huffstuttler, and Misses Joyce Floyd and Emma Woodard.

Next meeting of the Plainview club will be held at the home of Mrs. John Floyd.

This year's short course at A. & M. College will be held the week of July 13-19, Scurry County Home Demonstration Club members were advised Tuesday.

Eight women, the county home demonstration agent's office announces, will attend the short course from Scurry County.

Six girls and one sponsor will attend the 4-H Club Short Course, which begins Wednesday, July 16, at 7:30 p. m., and closes Friday night, July 18.

Members of the county home demonstration clubs are urged to notice the seed crop on their Chinese elm trees this year. The seeds are scattered all over the ground, after they fall from the tree.

Club ladies are urged to pick up the seed, dry them and plant them in October or November. Sow a row, the home demonstration agent advises, through the garden, planting six to 10 seed per foot, and cover them one inch deep.

Keep the soil moist through early spring, and the elm seed will come up. In the fall they can be dug and put out as yard trees or utilized handily for wind breaks.

In a message to county club members, Entomologist Cameron Siddall says:

"To lay our harlequin bugs, squash bugs, cucumber beetles and tomato fruit worms, use rotenone as a dust or spray.

"The rotonene should be in combination with sulphur and the mixture should contain at least three-fourths of 1 per cent rotonene. Commercial rotonene mixtures are available in seed stores or drug stores, and may be used as a dust or spray."

Thin your peaches or plums to six inches apart before they are the size of a quarter, Miss Rabel advises. Pull off those on the lower branches with your hands, and those on the higher limbs should be tapped off with a stick five or six feet long, to which a piece of rubber hose eight to 10 inches long has been attached.

This month spray the peach trees and fruit with five pounds of wettable sulphur, three pounds zinc sulphate and 50 gallons of water. Repeat this spray every three weeks until harvest.

Tomato Troubles

Wet weather brings on tomato diseases. The first spray of two pounds of calcium arsenate, two pounds of basic copper sulphate and 50 gallons water may be applied when the first fruit is about one-fourth inch in diameter. Basic copper sulphate and copper hydroxide knots are available in suitable forms for dusting. The spray or dust applications should be made seven to 10 days apart to within 10 days of harvest. (Recommended by Dr. P. A. Young of Jacksonville.)

If your St. Augustine grass has yellow spots sprinkle with a solution made by dissolving one tablet of bichloride of mercury in a quart of water. Several applications 10 to 14 days apart, followed by a top dressing of nitrate of soda fertilizer, using one pound per 100 square feet should restore normal growth.

If you have red bugs or chiggers on your lawns, dust the lawn at intervals of 10 to 14 days with finely ground dusting sulphur (cotton dusting sulphur) at the rate of one and one-half pounds per 1,000 square feet.

Neva Joyce Hall, demonstrator for her 4-H Club at Independence, made a pair of attractive pillow cases using mash sacks. She has also made a slip, pot holder, cup towel, slice rack, bonnet and helped her parents plan and make a clothes closet.

Eddie Elizabeth Fikes, poultry demonstrator for the Independence 4-H Club, has 400 Rhode Island Reds. She sold 50 at 35 cents each, average weight two pounds. She has seven Mother Nature brooders. Elizabeth plans to sell and eat her roosters and keep her pullets. Her father promised her she could give a chicken fry to her club members.

Serving a two-fold purpose, to use more cotton and to teach people to make mattresses who are financially unable to have them made, the cotton mattress program moves forward.

"I don't mind making my mattresses correctly, because I want them to be good ones," and "It's a hard job, but I'm proud of mine." Such remarks as these are heard at the mattress centers.

Do not use these mattresses until they are sunned and beaten daily for two weeks and then continue taking care of them by beating and sunning them often. Make a mattress cover to keep them from being soiled.

A total of 482 mattresses have been completed since the work began in April.

The Ennis Creek 4-H Club girls met Tuesday, May 13. Materials for slips were selected, to be of a cotton material and made by a simple pattern. Two slips made by other 4-H Club girls were examined and criticized.

Marinel Wilson, Virginia Robertson, Charlene Prather and Bobbie Bee and Lilly Mae Walker told about their frame gardens. They have greens, carrots and lettuce to eat from their gardens.

During the business hour it was decided to have the Achievement Day program June 24 at the homes of Charlene Prather, poultry demonstrator, and Bobbie Bee and Lilly Mae Walker.

Present for the meeting were: Marinell Wilson, Virginia Robertson, Charlene Prather, Bobbie Bee and Lilly Mae Walker, Maxine Panter, Mary Frances Rodgers, Pattie Jean Hart, Veldean Davis, Wanda Jean Rainwater, Wynell Floyd, Darley Goswick, Mrs. Edgar Shuler and Estella Rabel, county agent.

The Independence 4-H Club girls met Monday with their sponsor, Mrs. Hall, and Miss Rabel, county home demonstration agent.

Plans were made for the Achievement Day program to be held Monday, June 23, at the homes of Neva Joyce Hall and Eddie Elizabeth Fikes. All the girls in the community and the mothers will be special guests.

The girls made plans for their cotton dresses.

Thurman Higgins Is Stationed at Army Camp Up in Alaska

Thurman Higgins, listed in the U. S. Army as Private First Class Olen T. Higgins, is now stationed in the 329th Signal Aviation Company at Elmendorf Field, Fort Richardson, Alaska. Report of the local youth's move northward came this week from his mother, Mrs. H. M. Higgins, when she subscribed to The Times for [illegible] Paso September 17 last year and spent six months at March Field, California, before going in April to Alaska. The six-day boat trip from Washington state was the local youth's first time asea, but he enjoyed every minute of it, Mrs. Higgins said.

Despite the fact that three-foot deep ice is cut from nearby water for refrigeration and the same ice is cut so the soldiers may do a little Alaska fishing, young Higgins reports that the cool, but definitely not cold, climate is invigorating.

The fact that Higgins is a long way from home is clearly illustrated by Mrs. Higgins' statement that The Times will reach her son about 10 days or more after it is mailed in the local post office.

Mrs. A. D. Murphey and son, G. L. of Texas City were week-end visitors with Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Glen. The two returned home Monday, accompanied by Mrs. Murphey's sister, Willie Pearl Glen, who will spend several weeks in Texas City.

FFA Boys at Pyron Vaccinating Animals

Following a thorough course of class room instruction on livestock vaccination, members of the Pyron FFA chapter have administered over 1,100 doses of vaccine to livestock in the Pyron community, Dale McWhirter, Pyron vocational agricultural teacher, reported Tuesday.

As a result of recent activities by Pyron Future Farmers of America members, practically all livestock in Pyron's [illegible] been immunized against three widely prevalent cattle diseases. Diseases for which vaccine was given are black leg, pink eye and hemorrhagic septicemia.

Cost to farmers of the Pyron and surrounding communities of the livestock vaccinations was only that of the vaccine itself, since the FFA members were glad to donate their services for the practice obtained.

ANTHONY BACK TO VISIT

Howard Anthony, formerly connected with the Snyder Implement Company as bookkeeper, was visiting local friends last Thursday and Friday. One of Scurry County's first Selective Service draftees, Anthony has been stationed at Camp Bowie, Brownwood. However, he has been at his home in Ralls the past two weeks, after spending the four previous weeks in the army hospital. Anthony sustained a bad shoulder fracture in a fall in late March, and was confined to the hospital. He will return to the camp soon.

How to make horsepower out of Thin Air!

Buick SPECIAL 6-passenger Sedanet, [illegible] white sidewall tires extra.*

JUST consider these plain facts about the engines in this 1941 Buick SPECIAL:

The engine that regularly powers this Series develops 115 horsepower and turns up 20.1 miles per gallon at a steady 30 miles an hour in Proving Ground economy tests.

But add Compound Carburetion,† and the same engine in the same model develops 125 horsepower and goes 21.5 miles per gallon by exactly the same tests!

There's more from less gasoline – and it comes, literally, out of thin air.

Because the two carburetors in this exclusive Buick feature handle a larger air volume than can be provided efficiently by a single mixer.

We'll let you figure out what extra power and extra mileage mean in extra fun, extra thrills, extra satisfaction.

We'll let you size up, too, how nice it is to travel farther more pleasantly – on as much as 10% to 15% less gasoline than former Buicks used.

But for the whole picture, just go get actual, local, delivered prices on a Buick.

You'll find that nowhere else can you buy the same size, the same style, the same power, the same comfort at the same low bargain Buick figures.

BUICK PRICES BEGIN AT $915* for the Business Coupe

†Available at slight extra cost on some Buick SPECIAL models, standard on all other Series.

Traffic Rerouted After Gail Road Bridge Collapses

Representatives of Cocke & Braden, contractors on the 14.8-mile stretch of Highway 15 in eastern Borden County, reported Wednesday that culvert work on the east-west route was virtually complete all along the line.

Traffic on the old Highway 15 roadbed, approximately 16 miles west of Snyder, was detoured around by Post—both west and east bound—Monday after flooring to a one-way bridge west of Bull Creek gave away.

The bridge gave away when a heavily loaded truck, en route from Seminole to Abilene, attempted to cross the wooden structure with a 70,000-pound oil well drilling rig. Traffic on the old Highway 15 roadbed was resumed late Tuesday afternoon.

It's Just Plain Horse Sense to Insure—

Bombs may be new to warfare, but they're no novelty to crops. For as far back as recorded history goes we read of Hail Storms. When Hardy Hailstone rides the skies, dropping his bombs on defenseless fields, there are no "fighting planes" to rise and drive him off.

When there are no crops, there's no money. That is, unless you have Hail Insurance. Get your insurance before your crop has been "bombed" for it's too late after hail has fallen on it.

Cotton Moves Upward

Cotton's place in fact and fashion is formally recognized by Scurry County farmers, merchants and ginners in the local observance of National Cotton Week which began Friday and will continue through Saturday of this week. During this period, May 16-24, considerable volume of cotton goods, prints and piece goods has been moved into the proper channels of trade with the result that some of the supplies on hand have been noticeably reduced.

Proof of the vital importance of cotton to defense is being emphasized by people in all parts of West Texas—people who believe that the surest way to increase the price of the fleecy staple is to move the finished product into homes of this area.

If National Cotton Week accomplishes nothing more than to get people of the nation cotton-minded, the objective of the observance will not be entirely lost. In fact, one of the purposes behind such a movement is to get people to thinking in terms of purchasing cotton in finished materials.

Information gleaned from various sources early this week, however, indicate that National Cotton Week, not only in Scurry but in other West Texas counties, is resulting in increased purchases of cotton goods and work clothes which have a cotton content.

West Texas cotton, the world at large is now aware, is a defense commodity, and as such deserves a place of first mention all along the line of business. People in all lines of business realize that prosperity with the cotton farmer means prosperity for business people. With this idea in mind, merchants and professional people are buying cotton goods heavily themselves, in order that their neighbors and friends—the cotton farmers—may be financially benefitted by better prices this fall.

More Wild Flowers

With the whole of Scurry County as a setting, the arrival of late spring weather has occasioned one of the most lavish coming-out parties ever staged by Mother Nature, as evidenced by the unusual abundance of green vegetation and the myriads of wild flowers to be found by nature-lovers almost any place in the county.

Abundant rains within the past few weeks have resulted in wild flowers, of every hue and size, springing up in the most unexpected places. Flowers in the yards of many Snyder homes are said by witnesses to be the loveliest they have been in many years.

To give the nature lover just how many varieties of wild flowers may be found in Scurry County, George C. Burns, highway maintenance foreman for Scurry and Borden Counties, found over 100 varieties last Wednesday when he collected some choice specimens for exhibition last Thursday at a flower show in Sweetwater.

Some of the most common varieties of wild flowers in Scurry County include the flutter mill, or yellow primrose, the Mallows or copper and red stars, the Tahoka daisy, verbena, poverty weed, Indian blankets and many others.

A drive in the afternoon almost any direction from Snyder will reveal varigated patches of wild flowers, blooming in delicate patterns, that rival the imagination of the most versatile artist. If you want a spring tonic in the way of something to rest the eyes, why not check up now on the wild flowers that are not far, any direction, from your own hearth-stone?

Editorial of the Week

PRICES ON THE RISE

For so long economists have talked about the danger of inflation of prices without materialization of their prophecies that the public and many economists themselves have come to believe that there really is no danger. For such a rise of about 2.5 per cent in food prices throughout the United States during the month ended April 15 is significant.

During the last 10 years the credit resources of the national government have been enormously exploited, but prices have remained steady because this government had the greatest reserve of credit ever accumulated and because economic depression came partly as result of an accumulation of surplus consumers' goods. The country was bulwarked against both of the two great causes of inflation.

Now the nation turns to a defense program that will consume accumulated goods at an unprecedented rate. At the same time, a new war debt must be piled on top of the tremendous depression debt, which in turn was piled on top of the huge unpaid balance of the World War debt. It is not time to become panicky over the nation's finances. But it is time to be careful. There is much knowledge of economic cause and effect today that did not exist 20 years ago. Wisely used, it can be effective in maintaining fairly stable prices under abnormal conditions such as are ahead. But there must be wisdom and caution and fearless facing of realities. The danger of inflation does exist.—The Dallas Morning News.

The United States Treasury Department decided last week to authorize the substitution of synthetic fibers, such as rayon and nylon, for the traditional silk threads in currency. . . . Ace sleuths of the FBI state the substitution of synthetic fibers in U. S. currency will not make the path of the counterfeiter any easier to follow, since the exact process by which future runs of currency will be handled will remain a guarded secret with treasury officials.

Current Comment

By LEON GUINN

Editor's Note—Expressions or opinions contained in this column are those of the writer and do not necessarily reflect the opinions or policies of The Times. Current Comment is merely carried as a feature column.

Within the next few weeks we will likely hear much about an entirely new bullet that will be gradually adopted by the U. S. Army for all weapons which use .30 calibre ammunition . . . Available information indicates the new bullet is streamlined and has six fins forged as a part of the tail. . . . The new creation also has two copper bands around the middle to guide the bullet through the barrel and keep gas from escaping around it.

★

Army experts state the fins on the new bullet will make the projectile travel straight without the need of a rifled barrel—a development that will allow a still greater speed-up in the production of essential guns. . . If the new winged type of bullet talked of by army officials gets the o.k. from engineers, it is expected to increase the range of .30 caliber bullets by approximately 50 per cent, and the speed by almost 100 per cent.

★

In scattered sections of the nation, a wild panic has developed among hoarders of large denomination bills, which are beginning to turn up at banks in increasing numbers lately. . . . Movement of large bills to proper depositories has been brought about by persistent rumors that the U. S. Treasury would shortly call in all bills of over $50 denominations, and give the holders smaller bills in return. . . . Income tax evaders, aliens and Fifth Columnists who do not want their transactions to ever come under Treasury scrutiny are converting the big bills into smaller "folding" money at a rapid rate.

★

Key army and navy officials now have become convinced that Germany's warplane production is currently only about 1,500 planes a month, as opposed to 3,600 a month last fall. . . . Without actual knowledge of the Nazi reasons for decreased production, army officials place these as three of the most logical reasons: Germany is believed to have sufficient reserves built up to permit a slackening in production. . . . There is an acute shortage in some of the planemaker's vital materials, and German factories are reportedly undergoing extensive retooling for the production of new plane models—planes that will probably turn out to be extra long-range bombers capable of "token" raids on the United States and Canada.

★

Suggestions for protecting civilians from air raids were made available this week to state and local defense councils by Frank Bane, director, Division of State and Local Cooperation, with the admonition that there is no necessity for constructing any shelters at this time. . . . The information on aerial attacks and means of defense were contained in a pamphlet, "Civil Defense Protective Construction," which was prepared last week by the War Department with the help of federal agencies.

The issuance of the bulletin to key business men and employers is not, of course, the signal for starting work on any of the protective structures described. . . . The booklet is being distributed as a gentle reminder to people in all walks of life that the United States will be prepared—if need be—against any type of emergency, even that of possible air attacks at some distant point in the future. . . . "This is the time," the booklet points out, "for careful analysis of what the needs might be for the protection of civilian population from air attack, and for laying plans—even though we hope they will never have to be put into effect."

The pamphlet, based largely on experience of European cities in the present war, includes a discussion of the weapons used in air raids and plans for protecting civilians, utilities and industries. . . . Much of the information is of technical nature, but this does not necessarily mean all the reading matter is dry. . . . The booklet, in fact, is absorbing reading to those interested in future protection, if the worst were to become a stark reality along the road ahead.

★

An interesting and confusing situation between the National Defense Commission and the Rural Electrification Administration cropped up last week in this form: Defense executives have been currently doing everything in their power to curtail the sales of refrigerators and other objects that compete with defense production, and in spite of this, REA officials last week ordered 25,000 electric refrigerators to be sold to rural families of the nation on a five-year payment plan. . . . Office of Production Management officials plan to impose priorities on the steel industry within the next few days, with stress to be laid on ferrous alloys.

★

Of interest to people having relatives and friends employed in national defense industries is an announcement this week of a new inert compound which stops the combustion of magnesium and other metallic fires in industry and in incendiary bombs. . . . The powder forms heavy, air excluding vapoor and smothers the first almost instantly. . . . The new compound will shortly be placed on sale by the Pyrene Manufacturing Company and Dow Chemical Company.

★

If an Arizona cow kicks while being milked, her taxable value is automatically reduced by law and the taxpayer gets, as the popular expression goes, a kickback a bulletin released this week by agricultural authorities in the Grand Canyon State. . . . Texas farmers get the same type of kick, but probably with not such taxable results—as occurs in Arizona.

Sam Morris Speaks To Voters of Area At Snyder Friday

"Changing the name of liquor or wine doesn't change the name of what's in the bottle," Sam Morris of Del Rio, nationally known as the "Voice of Temperance," declared Friday afternoon in an address to voters of this trade area.

Morris, a candidate for United States Senator to succeed the late Morris Sheppard, was greeted with applause when he scored the "sots" [illegible] state, who 'dry' stand [illegible] curse the government and the people who are for the [illegible] prohibition."

Other excerpts from the Morris address follow:

"In 1917 we had 23 dry states in the nation. Today with world conditions becoming worse by the week, not a single state in the Union is dry. This is a reflection upon the 'boys' we put in office—from dog-catcher to Congressman.

"When voters of Scurry and other counties in the state go to the polls on June 28, they should remember that the liquor crowd will sell them out every time. Voting for a dry candidate is the only way to bring prohibition back into effect," Morris concluded.

Another Bond

Henry Rosenberg, commander of the local Will Layne American Legion Post, reports that the Legion's building bond No. 8, held by Maurice Brownfield, has been retired.

Brownfield, as have others who held building bonds, refused to accept any interest for his $25 bond. The taking up of bond No. 8 brings the total number paid off to date to 10.

New Fronts on North Side Near Completion

A modernized front and new display space will be completed this week at Stinson Drug No. 1, J. C. and L. T. Stinson, operators, stated Wednesday.

The Shipp & Butts Barber Shop, one door east of Stinson No. 1, is also being brought into the modernized parade with a new front and a single door entrance.

Mr. and Mrs. D. N. Pittman and daughters, Nelda Lee and Sandra Kay, of Dallas were guests here from Thursday until Sunday of Mrs. Pittman's parents, the H. T. Seftons.

Ira School Seniors Make Pleasant Trip To Carlsbad Cavern

The Times is grateful to Katherine Autry, junior student in Ira High School, for her colorful story of the recent Ira junior-senior trip to Carlsbad Caverns in New Mexico. Using expressions and words that usually are foreign to high school writers, Katherine's description of the trip is delightful reading. Lack of space prevents its being published, however, and the publisher regrets it.

The students were chaperoned on the three-day trip to Carlsbad by Mmes. Ralph Payne and Lewis Dunn and E. W. Baldwin, teacher in the Ira School. The group made the trip by school bus, leaving Friday and returning Sunday.

Their trip was perfect in every detail, according to Katherine, even to the detail of personally meeting the caverns superintendent, Thomas Boles, who loaded them with advertising booklets on Carlsbad Caverns and other wonders of New Mexico. She described the trip through the caverns in glowing terms.

Prentice Riley, enlistee in the U. S. Army at Fort Bliss, visited relatives and friends over the week-end.

Mmes. W. W. Smith and A. M. Curry drove to Midland Saturday, Mrs. Smith going there to her new home and Mrs. Curry for a week-end visit with her daughter, Mrs. Herman Morton.

Mrs. Marlin Leech of Brownwood is spending the week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Emil Slovacek, and Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Leech of Hermleigh. She will return to Brownwood Sunday.
