MASSIE DEFENDS DEAD ROBBER OFFER

State Files Big Oil Land Suit

UNCOUNTED NUMBER OF ACRES WHEELER AND GRAY COUNTIES IN SUIT AGAINST 192 DEFENDANTS

AUSTIN, Feb. 22. (AP)—Suit for title to an uncounted number of acres of north fork Red river oil land in Wheeler and Gray counties was filed Wednesday in district court by the attorney general's department for the state against 192 defendants, dozens of which are the major oil companies operating in Texas.

The state also seeks appointment of a surveyor to make a report and asks $100,000 cash damages. It claims the river lands properly belong to the state because the river allegedly is navigable.

Many of the nation's largest oil companies including Magnolia Petroleum, Mid-West, Humble, Roxana, Texhoma and Lone Star and prominent independent operators are among the defendants.

C. W. Truehart, assistant attorney general, asked that surveyors be appointed by the court to appear at the next term of court with maps and field notes. Judge George Calhoun, later named as surveyor, Arthur A. Stiles of Austin, former reclamation engineer for the state.

The boundaries of the land in controversy are from the north cut bank of the north fork of the Red river through Wheeler and Gray counties, to a point where the east boundary line of section 148, H. & G. N., block B-2, Gray county, crossed the stream; thence south with the east boundary of section 148 to the south cut bank and down stream through Gray and Wheeler counties to a point opposite the beginning, where the south cut bank intersects the 100th meridian and north along the meridian to the point of beginning.

HOME TOWN TALK

By B. D. D.

W. M. Massie, president of the Texas Bankers' association, warns the bankers of the seventh district against an over-expansion of credit. He says 1927 was a good year for bankers in Texas and that banks throughout the state are in good condition, and it is when there is danger of becoming careless about the extension of credit. Bankers, he believes, can be of great help in bringing about a reduction of the cotton acreage and they can encourage diversification, giving greater profits to the farmers, in lessened costs of producing the great ready money crop—cotton

Banking is a great vital service to society. The influence of bankers and their policies and the administration of the trust imposed upon them and in them affects the whole community. Banking calls to men of great ability and of forward vision. Bankers are seeing and acting upon their duty to work for agricultural prosperity. In a number of communities in Texas bankers, by the encouragement of diversification and of lines of agriculture for which their communities are particularly adapted have changed whole communities from conditions bordering upon poverty to actual prosperity. It is this kind of service, we infer, which President Massie is urging upon the bankers of the seventh district.

Picked up the Youth's Companion last night—yes, our boys subscribe for the Companion just as we did 35 years ago—and found a continued story with Wichita Falls and Call field as a setting.

The story is named "The Texas Nightingale" and is by Harford Powell Jr., and Russell Gordon Carter. Wichita Falls is called North Falls, the year is 1917, the hero is Shan Jones, the heroine June Allen, a girl with a wonderful voice, oil is found on the land of Gilly Marsh, a community character, there is a plane crash in which Cadet Jones is injured, June Allen contracts meningitis

WASHINGTON, Feb. 22. (AP)—Representative McClintic of Oklahoma, a Democrat on the house naval committee, said today that the navy report on the S-4 did not touch upon points "uppermost in the minds of the American public-safety devices for submarines."

He also said that the report did not touch the vital points of confidential information "given me as correct and that is, that the navy or the admiral in charge had no right to have had the S-4 out making runs at this particular time for the reason the submarine already had made its required runs."

LINDBERGH KEEPS DESTINATION SECRET AS HE FLIES AWAY

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 22. (AP)—Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh, with four passengers, left Lambert-St. Louis field in a Ryan monoplane at 10:12 a. m., today for an unrevealed destination. He headed northward over the St. Louis-Chicago air mail route. An unconfirmed report was that he planned to fly to Selfridge Field, Detroit.

Lindbergh said he was keeping his destination secret because he wanted to avoid the usual crowds when he lands.

He was accompanied by Harold M. Bixby, president of the St. Louis Chamber of Commerce; William B. Robertson, president of the Curtiss-Robertson Aircraft corporation; Harry H. Knight, president of the St. Louis Flying club, and B. F. Mahoney, president of the Ryan Air Lines, Inc., maker of the Spirit of St. Louis. The purpose of the flight also was kept secret, but there were intimations it concerned an aviation business deal.

H. G. Hatfield, governor of the Texas-Oklahoma district, who is to address the conference Wednesday afternoon, arrived here from Oklahoma City early Wednesday.

The meeting opened at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning with the singing of "America," led by William E. Young. Dr. Floyd Allan Bash, pastor of the First Christian church, gave the invocation.

Dr. F. R. Collard delivered the address of welcome and the response was made by J. R. Johnson of Mineral Wells.

J. L. Jackson Jr., lieutenant governor in charge of division four, presided and outlined the purpose of the meeting.

"The divisional conference was inaugurated to bring about a better understanding of divisional affairs," he explained. "It should enable lay members to learn more about Kiwanis principles.

"There are 13 clubs in division four and they are widely scattered. The four clubs meeting here today comprise section A. The clubs in the Plainview section will meet in that city Thursday, and the clubs from Coleman, Abilene, Brownwood and San Angelo will convene in Coleman Friday."

A discussion of Kiwanis education followed. Mr. Johnson said that every member whose time is not taken up with some other committee should be placed on the education committee.

Wichitan Tells Best Of All Frog Stories Happened Near Burk

By H. I. KIEFER

Here's the daddy of all the frog stories.

It is one related and vouched for by Will Daniel, local oil man who has offices in the Perkins-Snider building. He formerly was a banker in Burkburnett.

In justice to Mr. Daniel, let it be said that he was sought out and pressed to tell the story. His compliance with the request was reluctant in the extreme. It finally was told because he already had related it to a few groups of friends here and because it was given a measure of corroboration by the statement of Dr. William T. Hornaday, former director of the New York Zoological gardens as quoted in an Associated Press dispatch in the Times Tuesday. Doctor Hornaday told of finding a live frog in an almost "impermeable mass" of rock-like earth while he was digging for elephant bones and tusks in Ceylon several years ago. His story, in its turn, was recalled by the reported discovery that a horned frog entombed in the cornerstone of the courthouse at Eastland for more than 30 years was still alive when the cornerstone was opened.

Mr. Daniel's story dates back nearly 30 years, to the late summer of 1899 when he was employed at $18 a month at ordinary day labor on the ranch of Col. Herman Specht about four miles west of Burkburnett. About a dozen hands were employed on the ranch.

In 1899 plans were drawn for two buildings to be erected on the

CALL DUKES TO TRIAL HERE ON MURDER COUNT

Selection of a jury to try G. W. (Shorty) Dukes on a charge of murder got under way in the 89th district court Wednesday afternoon after Judge P. A. Martin had overruled a defense motion asking that the case be continued because of absent witnesses.

Belief was expressed that a considerable part of the afternoon would be required to complete the jury. Taking of evidence was to start immediately after the jury had been chosen.

Dukes is charged with murder in connection with the death nearly two years ago of Grady Morgan, a truck driver. Morgan was found unconscious on the Archer City road, it is alleged, and died here several days later without reviving. A fractured skull was given as the cause of death.

The arrest and indictment of Duke, who since has been at liberty under bond, followed.

McCUTCHEN CHOSEN PRESIDENT AND ABILENE GIVEN 1929 MEET AT DISTRICT CONVENTION HERE

The Texas Bankers' association is acting well within its rights under the law and under the provisions of the state and federal constitutions in offering a standing reward for dead bank robbers, and the policy will be continued as long as the association's membership will continue to support it, W. M. Massie, Fort Worth, president of the association, declared here Wednesday morning when he addressed bankers attending the annual convention of the Seventh District Bankers' association.

"We are getting results by offering the reward and the association is not infringing on the rights of any citizens, but, on the contrary, we are following a course which we believe to be in the interest of public welfare and in accordance with the soundest public policy," Mr. Massie declared.

No modification of the present reward system is necessary, the state president said.

Mr. Massie was the principal speaker on the business session of the annual convention of the seventh district held Wednesday morning in the Majestic theater.

W. U. McCutchen, assistant cashier of the First National bank of this city, was elected by acclamation to succeed J. C. Anderson Jr., cashier of the First National bank, Plainview, as chairman of the district association. Mr. McCutchen served as secretary of the association during the past year.

Will Rogers News Digest

SIOUX FALLS, S. D., Feb. 21.—I am up here in South Dakota. Coolidge found it in the summer time but I guess I am about the only one who ever came here in the winter. I am looking for that Democratic governor of theirs who made such a big hit at the Jackson Day dinner in Washington. He is the fellow that said they had a big game preserve up here and they just built a high fence around it and turned Calvin in there and gathered him and shipped him back to Washington in the fall. I am going to bring that old boy out of these hills and run him for something.

Yours, WILL ROGERS.

George Washington's 196th Birthday Appropriately Observed Wednesday

The 196th birthday of "the father of his country" was appropriately observed in Wichita Falls Wednesday with special programs at all of the schools, flags adorning most of the public buildings, and special programs at clubs and theaters.

Some school programs were given Tuesday, on account of the principals leaving for Boston to attend a convention of the National Education association, while others were presented Wednesday.

The day was further signalized here by the seventh district convention of the Texas Bankers' association, the divisional conference of Kiwanis clubs and the annual convention of the Rural Mail Carriers' association of the thirteenth congressional district of Texas. Final preparations were also being made for the annual meeting of the Texas-Oklahoma Peace Officers' association Thursday and Friday.

Local Masons will observe the holiday with a joint session of the Faith lodge, 1158 A. F. & A. M., and the Wichita Falls lodge 635, A. F. & A. M., at the Masonic temple at Tenth and Scott Friday night. Hiram Lively, grand senior warden of the grand lodge of Texas, will deliver the principal address.

Federal offices and banks were closed all day, and the postoffice was closed except from 8 to 9 a. m. There were no deliveries of mail.

WICHITAN TELLS BEST FROG STORY

farm, and hard stone was desired for the foundation. A search of the pastures was started, but for several days the search for a stone of sufficient hardness was unsuccessful.

Stupendous Task

Then, one day, an outcropping of a vein of rock about 12 inches thick was discovered on a hillside. The vein of rock was covered over by eight or 10 inches of dirt. Soft earth likewise was the under-lie for the stone.

Mr. Daniel doesn't know the technical name of the rock, although he intends to find out. All he does know, he said, is that it was extremely hard—a harder stone than any he has seen in this part of the country since. It was just what was needed for the foundation, so all hands set to work carving it out of the hillside in blocks about 12 inches wide, 24 inches long and of its natural thickness.

The work of cutting it out was stupendous, Mr. Daniel related. A 10-pound sharply pointed crowbar was used to trace a narrow trench about an inch in depth along the lines where it was desired that the rock should be broken. After digging down into the rock about an inch, Mr. Daniel related, the crowbar would not penetrate further. The hardest pounding, he said, served only to bring sparks of fire.

The next step was then to dig underneath the vein and place another large rock closely up against the stone bordering the desired line of break. The projecting portion was then pounded with a 16-inch sledge hammer. A dozen or so blows, Mr. Daniel said, were necessary to bring about the break, which usually was comparatively smooth and even.

All this is by way of explaining that the rock was hard.

About three wagon loads of foundation stone had been thus procured when Mr. Daniel noticed a tiny smooth dent about the size of a marble in the freshly broken side of one of the rocks. He called attention to it, and then glanced up to the stratum from which the stone had been broken. The other half of the hole was there, and it appeared to contain something. Mr. Daniel pressed with his finger and found it to be soft and spongy. He pried it from the hole and it fell to the ground.

The "something" was a small, ordinary "hop" toad, apparently dead.

Alive But Wouldn't Hop

It lay on the ground a few minutes when those gathered around saw its leg move, Mr. Daniel said. Then both legs moved and then it began wiggling and rolled from its back so as to sit upon its legs. Its throat was pulsating, apparently as it took big gasps of air. Several times it turned upon its back, and each time it promptly righted itself, sitting up but with eyes closed. But it refused to hop, despite vigorous prods.

But the workers were there to dig rock and not to play with frogs. There were no scientists in the bunch, so finally all hands went back to work and left the frog sitting there. Dr. Daniel declared, however, he often has regretted that he failed to keep the frog, or to return to the spot to see if it still was there. He believes, however, that he still can find the stone in which it was entombed. He, at least, intends to make a search and if it is found, probably to send it to Dr. Hornaday.

Four other men were working with Mr. Daniel at the time. One, as Mr. Daniels recalls the name, was Otto Dierker, a college graduate. The other was Arthur Hembry. He cannot recall the name of the fourth, and he doesn't know what became of Dierker and Hembry.

Hembry, incidentally, is described by Mr. Daniel as having been a mathematical freak. He had been to school less than a year, but for some reason that he could not understand himself, seemed able to solve extremely difficult problems of mathematics in his head.

So one evening around the campfire he decided to test Hembry, and gave him a problem on which he himself had work two days and nights to solve. Here's the problem: "If the minuend equals the subtrahend plus seven-eighths and the subtrahend equals the remainder plus three thirty-seconds, what is the sum of the minuend, subtrahend and remainder." Mr. Daniel credits Hembry, virtually without "school learning," with having worked the problem, "in his head."

Another Good One

Here is still another frog story, as related by W. L. Atwood of the American Refining company, in a letter to the Times:

"Rip Van Winkle, the horned toad of Eastland fame, has nothing on an obscure and nameless 'rusty' lizard that was extracted from an airtight pocket in a dead pine tree near Alexandria, La. Rip will go down in the history of scientists as being the only creature to live more than 30 years without food, water and air, while old Rusty is probably now peacefully slumbering under an old dead log in or around Holloway, La., unmindful of a horned toad's fame as a sleeper, and probably being unaware that old Rip is not a member of the frog brotherhood, but is listed as a lizard.

"About 20 years ago, I was living with my parents on a small farm near Alexandria, La., which my father had homesteaded from the government about 1858. My father and my two older brothers were splitting posts for a new fence. They had sawed down a large pine tree that had been deadened several years previously and sawed it into post lengths. They split one of the lengths open and in a small crevasse, about 12 inches long and one-half by one inch in width and depth, was a full grown scaly or 'rusty' lizard, a type that is quite common in that part of the country. There was absolutely no ingress or egress to the outside world. Old Rusty was still alive but lacked the pep generally found in his immediate family.

"The supposition is that the lizard had crawled in a small opening in the tree during the growth and the entrance had become closed, later the wood growing solidly all around the small cell."

MEDICAL EXPERTS CITE REASONS AGAINST FROG

GALVESTON, Texas, Feb. 22. (AP)—All the laws of biology and chemistry are against the possibility of a horned frog emerging alive after having been entombed without air or water for 31 years, in the opinions of Drs. Byron M. Hendrix and Meyer Bodansky, professors of biological chemistry at the state medical college here.

Both men, however, conceded that the possibility that the frog taken from the Eastland county courthouse was alive has not been disproved.

Horned frogs are not dormant animals, furthermore zoological records make no mention of animals hibernating in a temperature of 105 degrees to which figure the mercury frequently rises at Eastland, they said.

"It is possible that a live frog might have been found in the cornerstone. But even after six months of hibernation animals are emaciated," Dr. Bodansky declared.

DR. CHANDLER INSISTS SOBRIETY'S NECESSARY

HOUSTON, Feb. 22. (AP)—A horned frog may have lived 31 years in the corner stone of the court house at Eastland, Texas, without food, air, light or water, as Eastland dispatches claim, but Dr. Asa C. Chandler, department of biology Rice institute here, said Wednesday if the incident is to be given general credence in scientific circles a biologist of undoubted sobriety and recognized technical training should have been present to supervise the opening of the cornerstone."

"It may be the truth and it may not be," he said. He, however, attached great weight to the opinion of Dr. William T. Hornaday, former director of the New York zoological gardens, that it might be possible.

The horned frog, Professor Chandler explained, is really a lizard. It burrows into the ground, he said, and hibernates during the winter.

'BELIEVE IT OR NOT' IS EASTLAND'S ANSWER

EASTLAND, Texas, Feb. 22. (AP)—All known laws of nature have been defied and eminent scientists of America are "all wet."

This is the answer of thousands of citizens of Eastland county to skeptics of the country who doubt that a horned frog placed in the Eastland county court house cornerstone 31 years ago was taken alive from the receptacle last Saturday while more than 5000 persons, at first awed into silence by the preposterous suddenly turned into a fact, madly cheered as the live, wiggling reptile was held aloft in the hands of Rev. F. E. Singleton, pastor of the Eastland Methodist Episcopal church.

"Believe it or not."

This is the attitude adopted today while hundreds of curious people from all parts of West Texas continue to swarm into this city to view the toad who has outdid the feat of Rip Van Winkle.

The people of Eastland know there was no hoax perpetrated upon them because they have the unimpeachable words of Rev. Mr. Singleton, Rev. H. M. Sell, pastor of the Church of God; V. V. Cooper, county commissioner; E. S. Pritchard, county judge; J. R. Stubblefield, former county judge; J. A. Beard, capitalist, and scores of other reputable citizens. These all affirm that they saw the toad lifted from the cornerstone. Then this testimony, it was pointed out, is corroborated by M. W. McMinn, merchant of Olden, who stood by the side of Sandy Martin 31 years ago, when he placed the frog in the cornerstone. There is not a man, woman or child, it was declared, who know McMinn would doubt his word.

In the meantime E. E. Wood, former district clerk and the man who provided the horned toad for the ceremony years ago, is somewhat peeved at the jeers and suspicions of scientists. He said today that "if the scientists are so smart, why don't some of them tell me what to feed the thing and how to care for it."

The toad today was normal except for the fact it has not eaten or drunk since its liberation last Saturday.

Rallying to the defense of the West Texas tradition that a horned frog can live a hundred years without food or water, possibly without air, the old timers assert that a strong case has been made out in favor of the tiny reptile, which, while evidencing tendencies to go to sleep again, is on exhibition in an Eastland store window and daily is the object of astonished attentions from hundreds of persons.

To the statements of Dr. William T. Hornaday, former director of the New York zoological gardens, that a frog in Ceylon had hopped away after being released by a shovel from an ancient earth formation, and H. M. Law, geology instructor at Southern Methodist university, that "it could have happened," Eastland habitants add assertions that a hoax in connection with the frog's entombment was improbable.

M. W. McMinn, 63, a merchant of Eastland county, has offered to make affidavit to the fact that he saw a frog placed in a box in the cornerstone 30 years ago, although the man he believes placed it there is dead. W. H. Day, Tulsa, barber, and brother of Eugene Day, Eastland capitalist who lifted the frog from the box Saturday, declared that he saw the reptile incarcerated.

Stone Barrier Removed

Eye witnesses of the removal of the frog assert that shortly before the cornerstone was opened, workmen tore down with picks, eight feet of solid stone wall resting above the stone. To minimize possibility of substitution at the opening, several county officials and ministers of various denominations watched the frog's removal closely, they say, and declared the frog was in the box when the lid was removed.

"I was the first man to see the frog," said the Rev. F. E. Singleton, Methodist minister. "I asked Eugene Day to hand it to me, and he did. I am positive there was no hoax."

Similar expressions of belief in the square removal of the frog were voiced by the Rev. J. M. Sell, minister of the Church of God, County Judge Edward S. Pritchard, and County Commissioner V. V. Cooper, all of whom were present at the stone's opening.

Another Frog Yarn

Strongest support of the belief that it "might have happened" has come from Doctor Hornaday, who detailed his experience in Ceylon. In an impermeable mass of earth about two feet beneath the surface, excavators unearthed a frog which "was absolutely entombed there," Doctor Hornaday said. So far as could be observed, the sand had been lying there "for a thousand years," he declared. The frog ejected a quantity of water, he added, and hopped away.

Numerous reputable citizens have testified to seeing a live frog removed from the stone Saturday as the courthouse was being demolished, including the Rev. F. E. Singleton, Methodist pastor, the Rev. H. M. Sell, Church of God pastor, County Judge E. S. Pritchard, J. R. Stubblefield, former county judge, V. V. Cooper, county commissioner, Eugene Day, capitalist, and J. A. Beard, oil man. The Rev. Mr. Singleton had been delegated in advance to watch the opening of the cornerstone and to make certain that no tricks were played.

Pastor Knew Business

"I knew my business and I was not interested in anything else taken out of the cornerstone," the Rev. Mr. Singleton told the Associated Press. "I was watching to see if a frog really was in there, and that none other was substituted. When some of the articles were removed, I looked down into the box and was the first man to see the frog. I cried out: 'There's the frog.' Then I asked Mr. Day to pick it up and hand it to me. He did. I took the frog in my hand and suddenly it wiggled its hind leg. I then cried out 'it's alive.' I held it up for the crowd to see.

"I am positive there was no hoax perpetrated," he declared.

Wood Supplied Frog

The frog was provided by E. E. Wood, who was then district clerk. Wood said today that the only reason he did not see the frog actually placed in the box was that he was a member of the band that played that day and had to leave shortly before it was placed in the box. He said that he had heard of a live horned frog being taken from a solid rock in the railroad right-of-way at Longview, Texas, and wanted to see if such a thing were possible.

The frog is now in possession of Wood, and the only thing which worries him is what to do with it. The frog has not eaten or drank since its release. More than 10,000 persons have viewed the frog, coming from miles around for the purpose.

spiritual rather than the material things of life," he said.

Julian Bobo, past governor, said: "Kiwanis education should start before a man's application for membership is turned in. Members should discuss with a prospective member what the club will expect of him.

"When a new member comes into the club he should be put to work. He must be given an opportunity to serve his fellow men."

Paul Colvert suggested that the education committee have some member review the Kiwanis International magazine before the club each month in order to enlighten members as to the activities of other clubs and of the national and international organizations.

J. N. Sherrill, district trustee, led the discussion on club finance. Earl P. Hall of Henrietta, opened the forum on public affairs.

The morning session adjourned at 12:20 p. m. The delegates were scheduled to convene again at 2 p. m.

and the story goes on to France, and most likely in future chapters comes back to America.

Harford Powell Jr., is editor of the Youth's Companion. He was a cadet at Call field and was commissioned a lieutenant. He will be remembered by many who trained at Call field. He entered the service from a New York newspaper. Shortly after Call field was opened the Times supplied the need of a camp paper by a Sunday section which was called "The Call Field Camouflage." Harford Powell Jr., was one of the fine spirits who contributed stories for the Camouflage.

We remember one of them that had to be explained later to the censors. In one of its syndicate services the Times had received a mat of an airplane with an American pilot and some Chinese dignitary in the pit. Powell wrote a fake story of the American who was supposed to have come to Call field. The story told of the American pilot's experiences in training fliers for the Chinese army. One experience was a fall from a height of 4000 feet in an airplane. The ground was only 100 feet below. A crash and death seemed certain, when the hero had a sudden, happy thought—he reversed his engine and ascended majestically and safely again into the clouds. We remember that some of our readers for a time believed that the story was an account of a true exploit.

For a time after the war Powell was on the staff of Collier's. He is now editor of the Youth's Companion and is keeping that inspiring publication for youth up to the high standard of excellence it has always held.

It seems a long time since Call field was a training camp, ordered by military regulations and pulsing with the life of eager manhood, and Harford Powell writing humorous skits for the Call Field Camouflage—we had forgotten the name and had to refer to the files of the paper to find it.

Youth's Companion celebrated its centennial. Now in its second century it is even better than ever—although we doubt whether anything could be as inspiring and thrilling and as full of action and suspense and all the other charms of the written art as the Companion we read 35 years ago.

It won't be many years before there will be few physical reminders of the aviation training camp that was Call field. Before it entirely disappears we would like to see a monument or tablet erected on its site to the memory of the 16—we believe it was—young men who met death in accidents while training in this camp.

Libraries are being installed more rapidly than librarians with the necessary qualifications can be found to take charge of them. The number of library school graduates last year was 200 less than the number needed to meet the demand.

The glorious tints of Face Brick add charm, permanence and value to even the smallest home

As a jewel encased in a priceless setting . . . . such is the home which nestles behind the glorious tints of Face Brick.

By all means build the modest home of Face Brick. Cloak it pridefully in the permanent "burned in" tints of Face Brick that set it off among its neighbors. This added charm and dignity does not wear away . . . . the colorful personality is deep-bedded in each single brick and the ravages of the elements only mellow and soften the appearance.

Never any repainting or replacement—your home grows old gracefully and each succeeding year ripens its value and charm. The initial cost is no obstacle, for Building and Loan Associations encourage "better homes" and permanency in building and are only too willing to supply ample funds for this type of construction. Build your home of colorful and permanent Face Brick.

KIOWAS TO ASK FOR $250,000 APPROPRIATION

LAWTON, Feb. 22.—A committee of Indians will leave this week for Washington to request the Indian department for improvements to the Fort Sill Indian school and Kiowa Indian hospital, north of this city, which will cost approximately $250,000, according to plans formulated by a committee of Indians and a committee of the Lawton Chamber of Commerce. A request will also be made for appropriation of $40,000 for improvement of Riverside Indian school at Anadarko.

Present facilities of the Fort Sill Indian school are inadequate to the present needs of the Indians, the committee was told. The enrollment of 250 students already overtaxes the facilities and dormitories and prevents many Indian children from attending. Equipment is also inadequate, it is contended.

The Kiowa hospital is believed the best Indian hospital in the United States but it is far from adequate to care for all the Indians needing attention.

Items mentioned for which appropriations are asked include: Addition to hospital, $50,000; additional furnishings and equipment, $10,000; repairs and fixtures, $3000; nurses' home, $25,000; roads and walks, $10,000.

For the school: Gymnasium and chapel $50,000; dormitories, $50,000; other buildings, $20,000; landscaping, $5000.

Practically no improvements have been made in the facilities of the school since it was established, in 1884.

ENVELOPES CONTAIN POISON SENT NEW YORK OFFICIALS

NEW YORK, Feb. 22. (AP)—Envelopes containing a sufficient quantity of poison to cause death have been received by eight city and court officials in a resumption of similar attacks made last October.

The poison, wrapped in plain white papers and in envelopes addressed in a minute, childish hand, was mailed to Chief Magistrate William McAdoo and his secretary, two other city magistrates, a municipal court judge, the chief city clerk and two of his assistants.

New Hair Mode from Broadway

"Everyone admires my hair, now that I'm doing it the new way that nearly every really smart girl I know is using," says Miss Agnes Traney, popular dancer, now appearing in the Broadway hit, "Ric Rita." "My hair doesn't need shampooing more than once a month, now. My scalp feels better than it ever has felt. I have gotten rid of all my dandruff. My hair is much easier to arrange, and it stays that way. All I do to keep it like this is to put a few dashes of Danderine on my brush every time I use it. It's wonderful how Danderine adds to the beauty of your hair, makes it look so silky and lustrous."

Danderine is not oily. It removes the oily film from each strand of hair and restores the natural color and lustre. It dissolves dandruff, cleanses and invigorates the scalp. It is delightfully fragranced. The big bottles are just 35c at all drug stores. Beautiful, smooth, gleaming hair and a healthy scalp for a few cents.

STATE APPARENTLY IGNORES POSSIBLE SAVING OF $5000

WASHINGTON, Feb. 22. (AP)—Sale of the Fort Morgan, Alabama, military reservation, for which bids were to be opened February 24, has been called off by the war department because of a reported discovery of oil on the reservation. In the meantime, the department of commerce has been asked to investigate the discovery.

The Fort Morgan reservation, located at Mobile Point, Baldwin county, was offered for sale last September, but no bidders came forward. It again was put up early this year with the hope of obtaining funds urgently needed by the army for its housing problems.

LINDBERGH HOME PROPOSED AS A U. S. MEMORIAL PARK

WASHINGTON, Feb. 22. (AP)—A bill to authorize the purchase of the Lindbergh homestead at Little Falls, Minn., as a suitable memorial to the achievements of Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, through the sale of medals, has been introduced by Senator Shipstead, Farmer-Labor. A similar measure has been introduced in the house.

WURZBACH TO ADDRESS FT. WORTH REPUBLICANS

FORT WORTH, Feb. 22. (AP)—Congressman Harry M. Wurzbach of San Antonio will be the principal speaker tonight at a Washington birthday dinner of the Fort Worth Roosevelt club. Members of the club are prominent among those who are opposed to sending an instructed delegation to the Republican national convention.

CHINESE HOPE FOR BETTER DAYS AS NEW YEAR OPENS

CANTON, Feb. 22. (AP)—Thankful that the "year of the rabbit" just closed, is behind them, the people of China are hoping for better times under the fiery watch of the mystic dragon now presiding over the current year.

The "year of the rabbit" ended in the midst of crippled domestic trade, curtailed shipments abroad and in general a dreary commercial outlook, and Canton and South China ushered in the new year hopeful but with grave commercial misgivings.

CHAPTER XXXVI

Agnes finally consented, however, dolefully, to a sunroom on the house.

Emily's room was at the southeast corner and below its two front windows was the flat broad roof of the veranda. By employing Frances' workmen and buying materials at cost, the room could be added at very little expense.

And Emily reveled in the idea of it. She could have pretty, tasteful furnishings and make a refuge from the monotonous golden oak effects of downstairs.

Color—oh, she'd fill it with color! Blends, contrasts, all various and all melting into harmony. Wicker and cretonne and the walls pale gold like sunshine in a misty dawn.

And when her friends came she would take them straight to this lovely room and she's have a little brass kettle and make tea at the rounded wicker table and it all would be very cozy, very joyous.

She'd invite Kingdon Coles then.

She mused on this. Strange, it appeared to her all at once, that he never had asked to call. A man you expected to marry would want to meet your family, it seemed like. He never had mentioned it.

She felt embarrassed because she had allowed him to do all the entertaining. Because she never had said, "Come on over to the house, King," when he met her at the shop for a drive up the river.

Many times she had intended to do this, but some impulse always stopped her. She would have a sudden, half guilty vision of Nottingham lace curtains aggressively starched and of Steve and Agnes on their wedding journey staring with set crayon smiles out of the gilt frame.

Kingdon Coles' bored elegance—it just couldn't fit in someway. His sleek head against one of the crocheted tidies, feet on the red and yellow kittens romping on the rug. She felt a stinging sense of reluctance when she thought of bringing this about.

But now she felt the sunroom would settle everything. That would be modern enough; she would bring King late in the afternoon and give him tea there; his impressions would be formed on the attractive thing she herself had created.

Of course there was Agnes. Supposing she should guess at the way matters stood between Emily and King? Supposing she put up her hand, crying in that helpless way.

Why did life have to be so criss-cross? No smooth, langurous currents sweeping one on their crests. No sweet destiny spilling flowers in one's lap.

She brought in the workmen and shortly the sunroom was under way. The window at the end of the hall upstairs was cut through for a door and each night Emily would stroll into the unfinished enclosure, lingering before every wide window. Gazing happily up the hill toward the north where the locust patch was growing into tall trees; turning to the east and the Hudson flowing dark and silent, its far edge jeweled by the lights of Tarrytown; to the south where evergreens obscured the Brents'.

She wondered about Stella. Two or three times after she had gone away with Skeets, Emily had met her here or there. But Stella had turned away; she seemed always in a hurry. Once, standing at the south window, Emily caught a flutter of white under the trees and went out into the crisp autumn night and across the lawn. It was Stella sitting under the hedge, forehead on her knees, hands flat against the earth.

"Stell? Why, my dear!"

"Don't bother me, Em," in a choky, muffled voice. "Go away and let me alone."

Emily knelt beside the crouching figure, covering the spread-out hands with her own. "Don't say that, dear. Tell Em, won't you? Is it Skeets again?"

Now the bowed head jerked up in a desperate gesture, tears running from the closed eyes.

"It's always Skeets, isn't it? Lord, if I'd never seen him! Skeets—oh, God!" And she began to laugh, wildly.

"Hush, dear. He left you? But he can't just walk out. Listen to me, Stell—he can't do that. There are laws to protect girls who marry."

"Marry! Yes, girls who marry! Oh, yes, protect them—the married ones. Yes, oh, yes!"

"You mean—but you don't mean—"

"Oh, I went away with him. Myself to blame—well, he wanted it. I thought it would hold him. He said—what's the use of that, though. Finished now. They say he's going to marry Bess Tourney. All over. Except what usually happens—"

Emily sat back, a queer chill winding her. The end of a dream this was; a dream of love. Beauty twisted and soiled; disgrace for the girl here.

And the man gone free. . . .

Only the woman paid. But would that be always true? Class—had Stella been of Skeets' own class would he have taken the song from her heart, the sweetness from her soul, and cast her out?

He'd have given her the protection of his name, she told herself. No matter what misery he brought her afterward he'd have done that at least. His own blue-blood clan would have demanded that.

But a girl from up The Hill—what demand from the lowly would Skeets' kind listen to?

Still there were laws; they were supposed to protect all alike.

"Stella, you must tell your father this. Skeets has no right to marry anyone but you. There must be justice somewhere."

"Father'd kill me, Em. Oh, I know!"

"No he wouldn't. Promise me now."

Stella did promise, finally. Emily left her and crept back into her room and to bed, shaking with emotion. Things her father had said kept coming to her, feeding her sense of injustice.

It was long before she slept.

WALTER CALDWELL SPEAKS AT NOCONA MASONIC SERVICE

NOCONA, Feb. 22.—The auditorium of the new two-story building of the Nocona Masonic lodge No. 753, was crowded to capacity Monday evening at the Washington memorial services held by this lodge.

After completing all the arrangements, Messrs. R. D. Collins, W. M., N. R. Neal, secretary, and the committee, turned the ceremonies over to the visitors and speakers.

The opening address was delivered by Judge Calsway of Nocona, followed by a short introductory speech by Rev. Jess A. Russell, pastor of the Nocona Baptist church. The invocation was given by Rev. Cogswell, pastor of the Central Christian church of Nocona.

Walter Caldwell, Wichita Falls attorney, was the principal speaker. In his interesting eulogy of Washington, the speaker's main theme was "Consider the Other Fellow." He placed the life and character of the Great American before his audience as an example. Music was furnished by a local orchestra and choral club.

Those residing out of the county who were present, included Mr. and Mrs. Caldwell, accompanied by Messrs. Curd and Spotwood, prominent Masons of Wichita Falls.

The services were attended by visitors from Bowie, Montague, St. Jo, Spanish Fort and a number of other Montague county communities.

A total of $25,500,000 was earned last year by students in 408 colleges and universities in the United States. Thirty-nine per cent of the total enrollment of these institutions were wholly or partially self-supporting.

Wet feet

Watch your throat!

Wet feet, sudden changes of temperature, and exposure to cold, lay you open to colds, and sore throat, or worse. Never neglect these seemingly trivial ailments. At the first sign of trouble, gargle with Listerine, the safe antiseptic, used full strength. If improvement is not rapid, consult your physician.

Usually, however, Listerine will check colds and sore throat, before they become serious. Use it systematically during cold weather months. Lambert Pharmacal Co., St. Louis, Mo., U. S. A.

WIDOW OF SLAIN DRUGGIST NAMES HICKMAN SLAYER

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 22. (AP)—The confessions of William Edward Hickman and Welby Hunt, youthful pals in crime, to the slaying of C. Ivy Toms, will be entered by the state as evidence when their trial for the holdup-murder is resumed tomorrow.

The confessions were made to county officers shortly after Hickman was returned here to await trial for the kidnaping and killing of Marina Parker, for which he has been sentenced to hang in April.

Two state witnesses, who were in the Toms drug store during the fatal shooting, yesterday testified that Hickman probably was the one who fired the fatal shot in the case. The druggist's widow, Mrs. Ruth Toms, testified that Hickman did most of the shooting, while Hunt covered her with his gun. She identified the defendants as the holdup men who came in wearing Santa Claus masks, and Hunt as the one who lost his hat and mask in his hasty flight to escape the defending fire of Policeman James Oliver.

COLDS THAT DEVELOP INTO PNEUMONIA

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and helps the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and cold and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the infected membrances and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist.—Adv.

FORT WORTH, Texas, Feb. 22. Executive committee of the reorganized Republican party in Texas is in session here today to select a city and date for the convention to name delegates to the national convention. Sixteen negroes and 15 whites compose the committee which opposes the Taft-Roosevelt combination and Cecil Lyon as leader of the "regular" Texas Republicans. Two sets of delegates will go from Texas to the Chicago convention which will decide which delegates are entitled to seats.

The business at the local freight and passenger offices of the Fort Worth and Denver doesn't show any results of the financial stringency, which has been felt so keenly in other places. Agent M. A. Bundy states that the Denver's receipts in Wichita Falls for the month of January show an increase of many thousands of dollars over the receipts for January, 1907, and, in fact, that there hasn't been a single month since the recent financial flurry when the monthly receipts haven't been largely in excess of what they were for the corresponding months of the previous year.

MILLION-DOLLAR OIL CARGO LEAKS FROM WHALE SHIP'S HOLD

WELLINGTON, New Zealand, Feb. 22. (AP)—A successful whaling season ended tragically for the Norwegian whaler, C. A. ROBBERY ADDUCED MOTIVE IN SLAYING WOMAN BY FIRE

MORRISTOWN, N. J., Feb. 22. (AP) Robbery was believed by police today to have been the motive for the burning to death Monday night of a woman whom they identified as Miss Margaret Brown, 40 years old, employed until that morning as a governess in a home on fashionable Park avenue, New York.

Fred Roff, lieutenant of detectives of Morris county, said that when Miss Brown left the home of her employer, James P. Gillespie, she had with her $8000 in bonds and $1000 in cash. No bonds or cash was found in the woman's clothing.

Roff said identification had been made by Miss Mary Brown, a sister, of Fort Lee, N. J., from descriptions of the dead woman's clothing, a watch and a scar on the body.

The detective advanced the theory that the woman had been attacked and robbed in New York and brought to New Jersey in an automobile. The woman, her clothing soaked in gasoline and ablaze, was found by a motorist on the road between Bernardsville and Morristown. She died at a hospital early yesterday.

When Miss Brown left the Gillespie home she said she was going west to reside.

Mrs. Gillespie said Miss Brown had some money with her when she left, but she had no idea it was as large an amount as the police reported.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 22. (AP)—The per capita consumption of cotton cloth has increased from 57 to 64 square yards in the last 25 years, the department of agriculture has found in a survey of domestic mill requirements in grades and staples.

Mrs. John Lyons Speaks Before Members of Forum and Guests

"The time will come when opera will be given in our own language," Mrs. John F. Lyons of Fort Worth said Tuesday afternoon in an address at the Forum clubhouse when she talked to more than one hundred women on the operas, "Resurrection" and "Aida," both of which are coming events in this city.

Mrs. Lyons who is a past president of the Texas Federation of Women's clubs, and for four years chairman of the musical department of the National Federation, was introduced by Mrs. O. E. Nicholls, chairman of the music department of the Woman's Forum which sponsored the speaker's appearance in this city.

In the introduction, Mrs. Nicholls said that Mrs. Lyons had done probably more than any woman in Texas for the advancement of music in the state.

In the beginning of her talk, Mrs. Lyons said that many congratulate Wichita Falls for her new auditorium in which the operas will be produced, and are grateful to the city in giving the people an opportunity to hear grand opera.

"'Aida' and 'Resurrection' will bring a wonderful personnel," the speaker said, "and each is great in its own way, yet each is entirely different from the other," and Mrs. Lyons went into the story of the operas, first giving a synopsis of "Resurrection" by Tolstoi and then Verdi's "Aida."

"Resurrection" has more talking and less music than does the other opera, it was pointed out, but it is full of tune and tuneful melodies. Mrs. Lyons commended Mary Garden, who will take the leading part, as a great woman, a great actress and a great musician, all in one.

"The music of this opera is not a set aria, a duet—but Alfano, who wrote the music, has given us the musical accompaniment to the drama of a human soul." Mrs. Lyons illustrated "The Love Duet" in the first act and showed how a little syncopation runs throughout. A solo, "O God, Thou Great and Just God," was played on the Orthophonic through the courtesy of Nunn's Electric company.

Why Tragic Opera?

"The question is often asked, why are operas always so tragic?" The reason, perhaps, is that operas are not only plays set to music, a drama to analyse human emotions and human emotions are mostly tragedy," the speaker averred.

"'Aida'" was said to be the most gorgeous spectacle of all opera, a drama, a play all rolled into one. "It is the kind of opera you want to take those who say they do not like 'grand opera', Mrs. Lyons told her audience.

She unfolded the details of the story written by Verdi, and, assisted by Mrs. Nicholls, played the tenor aria, "Celeste Aidi." "As Conqueror Returned," ballet music, the "Triumphal March," and other numbers from the opera on the Orthophonic.

Preceding the address of the afternoon, Mrs. A. R. Bleakley announced the silver tea for the biennial to be held Saturday at the clubhouse, featuring the "Women of Today and Yesterday." She also announced the grand opera tea, March 1, to be given for out-of-town visitors who will be in the city to attend the opera.

John Erskine who is scheduled to be here late in March will be in Wichita Falls March 15, Mrs. Bleakley said, and the health and home program has been moved up to March 29.

Special hostesses for the afternoon included Mesdames O. E. Nicholls, Bernard Martin, C. E. Beavers, A. H. Holmes, W. B. Chauncey, M. J. Brashars, T. B. Greenwood, Fred Barron, Ed Howard, A. H. Carrigan, H. J. Streif, C. W. Beavers, T. M. Conrey, H. O. Newton, S. B. Heard, Paul von Allmen, M. A. Rutis, W. C. Bean, Archie Kautz, Ben C. Ackerman.

It was announced that the two original stories written by Eugene Sherrod, will appear in March issues of the "Out Door American" and "True Experiences" magazines. The title of the one to appear in the Out Door American is "Texas Nightingale" and in True Experiences, "Loyalty Counts."

MARYE and "MOM" Their Letters

BY RUTH DEWEY GROVES

Dear Marye: So hospitality has become an aid to business, has it? I'm sure I don't know what you young folks will do next to the traditions of your father's before you find out that you're destroying all the worth-while things in life.

We used to consider it an honor and a pleasure to entertain our friends and were glad to do it in the best way we could without thinking of the expense. And we didn't spend our money extravagantly either, just to make a splash. We stayed within our means and we had a feeling that hospitality was sacred. We would not have thought of offering it to anyone in expectation of benefitting financially from it. For us it was enough to have the company of our friends and we took a real interest in each other's affairs.

Today you girls take your guests to a hotel and while I suppose that has its advantages, it seems to me a sorry substitute for true hospitality. It used to be a woman's greatest pleasure when she entertained to prepare favorite dishes with her own hands and it was mighty nice to see how heartily they were enjoyed.

I'll never forget how your father's friends liked my lemon meringue pie. One time he brought a stranger home and I served him three pieces with meringue two inches thick. The next day your father told me he got a big order from this man but we hadn't either of us given a thought to that when we had him in our house.

Father had asked him to come because he knew there wasn't any place he could get a meal fit to eat. You couldn't satisfy a man with restaurant food in these days if he could get home cooking. And I'll venture to say you couldn't do it now if most of them hadn't forgotten what it tastes like.

But I suppose you're going to tell me that a man would rather look at your lily white hands, and maybe kiss 'em, than sit down before a big slice of fresh apple pie with spicy juice running out of it. We wouldn't have called such a fool a man in my day.

Well, I dare say some of you might be willing to make the pies, if you could wear rubber gloves to do it but that's one piece of lunacy I haven't heard of your getting to yet. I really don't know what you're coming to.—Lovingly, MOTHER.

Next: Wifely jealousy.

THREE CONVICTED IN LOCAL COURTS START TO PRISON

Three men who had remained in the county jail several weeks after conviction on charges here were started toward the penitentiary Tuesday afternoon.

They were Raymond Hall, sentenced to life imprisonment for assault with intent to murder; Earl Carter, sentenced to five years for robbery with firearms, and Raymond Tucker, sentenced to a year on a liquor charge.

Hall was convicted under the "habitual criminal" law which provides that only life imprisonment may be inflicted as punishment for a person shown to have been twice before been convicted on felony charges. Fifteen years is the maximum punishment for the first or second offense of assault with intent to murder.

Carter was convicted nearly a year ago, starting toward the penitentiary after every appeal had been exhausted.

GRAND JURY TO QUIZ BANK LOOT ACCUSATION

ARDMORE, Okla., Feb. 22. (AP)—District Judge Asa E. Walden of Marietta today accepted a petition signed by Love county citizens asking for a grand jury to investigate actions of County Judge James C. Mathers and County Attorney Wes Croy, who were acquitted Monday by a justice of the peace of charges of appropriating a part of the loot recovered after the robbery of the Love County National bank at Marietta.

Fred Hansen, assistant attorney general, yesterday agreed to head a grand jury investigation after O. E. McCage, Thackerville justice of the peace, had dismissed charges against the men at their preliminary hearing, held at Bomar.

The two officers were charged with retaining $5600 from a bag of money they dug from a hiding place on a farm near Marietta after they had been led to the spot by a confessed participant in the robbery which cost the lives of Sheriff Sam C. Long and one of the bandits.

Marlow Suggests Plan for Relief of Taxpayers of Wichita County From Present System of High Valuations

A plea for relief for Wichita county taxpayers from the present system of high valuations, and a suggestion of a method whereby such relief can be given, are contained in an open letter addressed to the county commissioners by J. B. Marlow of Wichita Falls.

Mr. Marlow suggests that the court reduce the renditions by one-third, and increase the county tax rate from 80 cents to $1.20. The present total valuation is $70,000,000; reducing it one-third would make it $46,666,666.

A saving of $156,000 to the taxpayers on state and county tax combined would result from this, Mr. Marlow points out, adding that even then, Wichita Falls would be paying more than a just share.

"We are now paying 80 cents per $100, county rate, on a total valuation of $70,000,000," Mr. Marlow says, "producing $560,000 in revenue for the county. By reducing the valuations to $46,666,666 and increasing the rate to $1.20, we produce exactly the same revenue for the county. But instead of paying the state $469,000 (on the present rate of 67 cents,) we would be paying only $312,666, a saving of $156,000."

Accompanying Mr. Marlow's letter is a schedule showing comparative valuations as between Wichita and other counties, showing that this county is paying on a higher valuation than any other county in Texas. The Rio Grande Valley lands, valued at $1000 per acre, it is pointed out, are assessed at $38 per acre, and the rice lands of Harris county, valued at $500 per acre, are assessed at $39. Mr. Marlow's letter follows:

"Honorable Commissioner's Court and County Judge, Wichita Falls, Texas. Gentlemen:

"I have intended for some time to take up with you the matter of the unreasonable amount of taxes paid by Wichita county to the state of Texas, but believing that some other interested taxpayer might draw your attention to it, I have delayed writing you till now.

"Believing that your honorable body is absolutely honest and conscientious and wants to do the very best you can for the taxpayers of this county, I am submitting you some figures (taken from the comptroller's 1927 report) which I think will convince you that a big saving can be made for the taxpayers of this county.

"I have just looked over the renditions of various counties in the state and find that our rendition of farm lands is from two to seven times more than any other county in the state.

"There is no one in particular to blame for this conditi. . as in 1919 values in Wichita county had gone sky-high and the owners did not hesitate to render their land for more than it was worth because leases were then unreasonably high.

"But that time has gone. I own a piece of land that leased then for $200 per acre which I would like to sell for $25 per acre.

"I am enclosing you (under separate cover) a copy of the 1927 comptroller's report. I hope it will be of some value to you in arriving at some reasonable figure for 1928 renditions.

"In my opinion it is not up to the individual to set up values, but your honorable body should assess property on an equal basis with other property not only in Wichita county but in other counties in the state.

"For the last few years the present tax assessor (realizing that our assessments were higher than in other counties) has tried to give us some relief, but owing to the great amount of building done in 1926 the total rendition for the county was still very large.

"Hoping that you will give this matter your serious attention, I remain, yours sincerely,

"J. B. MARLOW."

ZOË BECKLEY'S CORNER

ZOË BECKLEY

"Dear Zoe: I am 16 and like a certain young man very much and he likes me. He would like to go out with me but father says I am too young. What shall I do?—LIL.

Ask father to let the young man come to the house to see you. Let dad look him over. If he thinks he is O. K. surely he will let you be friends with him. If he won't, ask him why. It is a mistake for parents to forbid this and forbid that without making explanations. And it is a mistake for them not to teach their children so well that they can trust them at 16, 17 and 18 to have nice friends and know how to take care of themselves.

Life Story.

"Dear Zoe: I want to ask you a few questions as I have read your advice in the paper for some time.—COUNTRY GIRL.

The letter from Country Girl is interestingly human. We think it will interest you more than our comment upon it. Here is the letter.

"—Regardless of what folks think I am, I do not call myself a flapper. Somehow my relatives do not like me. I think they hate to see me get along good. But I don't care about them.

"Though I was not born in the country, I lived there all but three years of my life. I went to a country school of one room. I passed through eight grades. But my folks did not send me to high school as they could not afford to.

"So at the age of 14 I left my country home and went to work in a hospital. But I found it too dull for a bashful little country girl who had been bashful even in her own town. I didn't stay long and I ran away.

"Since then I have changed a great deal. I'm not afraid to talk to anyone now. I've done a little traveling, in fact I've worked in three different states. I've been mother's helper, cook for rich people, nurse girl, waitress, a washer, factory hand, dressmaker and have won several prizes for painting.

"I am now clerk in a store and like it better than any thing I ever did, although after I pay board and carfare I only have three dollars left. I put two in the bank and keep one for spending money, clothes, etc.

"I have a nice fellow who goes to college and when he is through and has a job we will get married. His family are very nice people of foreign birth. Mine are Yankees dating back to days of Charles the 1st and are nice in a common way.

"That is why I am writing this. I would like to better my manners and ways, my letters and English and also correct my dress and look different.

"Where could I find a way to do that? Could I hire a refined person to go out with me or go to their house and learn. I want my husband proud of me. Am not bad looking and dress plain but can't mix in with girls my place. My friend says my kind are hard to find nowadays. I do not smoke and have never drank. I have only one fellow and all the girls like him. Please tell me what I should do."

Worthy Ambition.

Country Girl's is the sort that gets somewhere.

She knows her good points and her shortcomings, and wants to climb upward.

Our advice is to take a few simple courses in English grammar at night school or some college or possibly at the Y. W. C. A. where they would be free or nearly so. It's not at all a bad idea to "hire a refined person . . . or go to their house and learn." Ask at the Y. W. C. A.

The head librarian at any public library will advise on helpful books to read. Just read and read and read—stories with a background of social life, modern novels and even etiquette books. Yes, sir! You can get a lot of help from them.

Best of all, try to make friends with the sort of people you want to be like. It is a mistake not to mix with girls of your own age; only choose the right sort. Go to whatever high class entertainments exist in your town—plays, concerts, lectures.

Read newspapers, not tabloids. Read editorials and try to think things out for yourself and get definite views. Join clubs of young people not devoted merely to dancing. Buy a good illustrated magazine or two and study the fashions. Look in the windows of department stores and dope out the kind of clothes that suit you.

Imitate the English of educated people. Don't say "I've did a little traveling—" but "I have done—." Don't say "I seen it" or "I done it." Heavens and earth, it's enough to set one's teeth on edge! Say "I saw it" and "I did it." Gosh. Yet we have letters from high school students using just such atrocities.

You are a good worker and a live wire. Work on your English. You have intelligence and ambition. Just polish your grammar and you will go clear to the top! Good luck to you.

Hot Biscuits for Breakfast—an easier and better way

Strange, isn't it, that when Mother announces "Hot biscuits for breakfast," everyone hops out of bed without any urging?

Just try this time-saving scheme and we'll wager your family will have hot biscuits for breakfast often.

Whenever you make biscuits for the evening meal, mix up enough extra dough for the following morning. Have your biscuits all cut out, put them in the pan and keep them overnight where it's cold. All you have to do the next morning is to heat your oven and bake them.

Try this tested recipe for biscuits given below. Made with Crisco they are light, tender, fluffy and snowy-white.

Master Recipe
for "Rolled" Biscuits

2 cups bread flour
4 teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
4 tablespoons Crisco
¾ cup milk or water (for "drop" biscuits)
or
⅔ cup milk or water (for "rolled" biscuits)

Sift dry ingredients together 3 times. Work Crisco in with fork. Add liquid gradually.

Form dough into shape, roll ½ inch thick, cut. For scone-shaped biscuits, cut squares, then diagonally in half. Brush top of biscuits with melted Crisco or milk. Bake in hot oven (450° F.) 15 to 20 minutes. Makes about 12 biscuits.

To use buttermilk or sour milk beat in ¼ teaspoon soda for each cup of milk. (If milk is very thick, use a little more milk.) Use same amount of baking powder and follow method for either "drop" or "rolled" biscuits.

You taste your milk—
You test your eggs—

NOW—taste your shortening!

Crisco's sweet flavor will delight you!

"You'll be careful, son, won't you?"

READY for school at last . . . yet the years have seemed so short. A farewell pat and kiss . . . eyes that are moist. Her heart goes with him . . . her baby . . . so soon a man.

She's proud of the way he looked . . . that little suit . . . chosen with so much care for this important event. Only by comparing one suit with another had she found it.

Comparison is helpful in everyday purchases also. With coffee, this is especially true.

Folger's Coffee has such a rich, marvelous flavor that it will astonish and delight you. And only in Folger's can you enjoy this perfect flavor because each grain of coffee in Folger's is the highest grade, highest type and highest priced coffee that the world produces in its respective countries of growth.

Compare Folger's Coffee by making the famous Folger Coffee Test:

The Folger Coffee Test: Drink Folger's Coffee tomorrow morning; the next morning drink the coffee you have been using; the third morning drink Folger's again. You will decidedly favor one brand or the other. The Best Coffee Wins. That's fair, isn't it?

THE NEIGHBORS AND THE OPERA SEASON

The success of the approaching grand opera season here depends in large measure on the patronage of Wichita Falls' neighbors. The season offers an opportunity for all of North and West Texas to attend grand opera, and for West Texas the opportunity is more convenient than any heretofore offered.

"A number of Childress people," says the Childress Index, "will go to Wichita Falls to hear grand opera. The citizenship of Wichita Falls have guaranteed many thousands of dollars to secure the program and music lovers should not fail to hear the best talent in grand opera. Let us try and make grand opera profitable in Wichita Falls."

Wichita Falls hopes that this advice will be followed by Childress folks and those of West Texas generally.

VIRGINIA'S ANTI-LYNCHING BILL

The Virginia Senate has passed the anti-lynching bill recommended by Governor Byrd. The House is expected to do so, without much opposition.

The bill is modelled closely after the Dyer anti-lynching bill which came very near to being passed by Congress. It authorizes the governor to employ special prosecutors and special officers in dealing with lynchers. It provides that the heirs of the person lynched may collect $2500 from the county in whose lawful custody he was. The big difference between Governor Byrd's bill and the Dyer bill, of course, is that the latter permitted the federal government to invade the rights of the States in dealing with lynchers.

Enactment of similar legislation by other states is a safe and sure way to forestall such legislation as the Dyer bill. And there is no reason why it should not be equally as effective.

HISTORICAL, NOT LEGENDARY, GREATNESS

One of the strongest testimonials to Washington's greatness, and one of the most convincing proofs of his right to an exalted place in the hearts of Americans, is the fact that his fame has survived the many attempts to write it into a legend. An impartial student, striving to discover the true Washington, could not make his way through the mass of folk-story and myth if the stature of his subject were not of heroic dimensions.

It is rather curious that, with all the historical evidence of Washington's statesmanship, his courage and his vision, there should be so many folks who would make his greatness legendary rather than historical. Such folk profess to be very angry when Rupert Hughes and others depict Washington's failings along with his virtues. They seem to think that Washington can be pulled down from his pedestal by such writings. They forget that in his own day, his name survived attacks that were both bitter and vicious. If we cannot know all that can be learned about Washington without lowering our estimates of him, our country is badly off for hero-material.

There are those, too, who attempt to honor Washington's memory by considering him in terms of present-day statesmanship. Washington would be in favor of this, and he would oppose that, they tell us. To use Washington's name in that way is at once pitiable and laughable. It is, by implication, a compliment to Washington, but it is no compliment to those who adopt such methods. Some of them, we are sure, would be greatly pained if Washington could return and give his views at first hand. And some of them, furthermore, would be in sad case if called upon to accept the leadership of a man who was not a trimmer and not a truckler.

Washington was a man of whom Americans today can afford to know the truth, as history, not legend, reveals it. The authentic record of his deeds and his character is enough.

JIM REED'S PLATFORM

The average thoughtful Democrat was probably conscious of a feeling of regret when he read the speech that Senator Reed of Missouri made at Dallas Monday night. That regretful feeling took different forms, according to the beliefs of the individual.

Some doubtless regret that Senator Reed is disqualified, from the standpoint of practical politics, for the nomination, and wish that it were somehow feasible to make him the standard-bearer. Others regret that Glass or Baker or Donaghey lacks the vigor and the fire that the Missouri senator has. Why couldn't a man with Reed's courage and Reed's insight have been a prohibitionist? If the party could keep all the good of him and eliminate all the objectionable features of him, what a candidate it would have!

It is a somber prank that Fate has played upon our party this year. Fate has furnished the party with two men of conspicuous ability, and yet ordained that each have affiliations that make him objectionable to a great part of the party. And against them is an array of possibilities whose affiliations are "right," but who are mediocrities insofar as ability is concerned. The right combination is sadly lacking.

Reed cannot be nominated, but he can point the way to the party's salvation and success. His Dallas speech defines the issues with startling clearness. He has written a platform on which the party should stand, regardless of its choice for the nomination, a platform on which Cleveland, Bryan and Wilson would surely stand, in a time like this, much as they might dislike the author of it.

CORNERSTONES.

There was much interest in the opening of the cornerstone of the old courthouse at Eastland last week, because a horned frog had been placed in the stone 31 years before, and everyone wanted to see if it were still alive.

It brings to mind the opening of the cornerstone of Wichita county's old courthouse, which was torn down in 1917 to make room for the new structure. There was much interest in that, too. The rumor had become current locally that when the cornerstone was laid, 30 years previous, a bottle of whiskey had been interred therein. Whiskey is supposed to improve with age, and 30 years is a long time. So there was quite a bit of interest manifested when the wreckers of the old courthouse finally got down to the cornerstone and prepared to open it. Some of the observers licked their lips. The Adams' apples of some others seemed to be vibrating in anticipation.

The horned frog in Eastland's courthouse was an object of scientific interest. Perhaps those who looked on while the contents of Wichita county's courthouse cornerstone were excavated also felt a scientific interest in what they thought would be found therein.

It was all a mistake, though. The cornerstone contained no liquor. And those whose expectations had been thus rudely shattered had to walk nearly two blocks to get to where there was some.

RELATIVE WORRIES

Bill owes the doctor and cannot pay
So Bill is a worried man today.
There are sixty dollars he'd like to get
To ease his conscience and square his debt.
Manage his money, howe'er he will,
There always lingers an unpaid bill.

Jim is rated a millionaire,
But his debts are piling up here and there,
And Jim is a worried man today
Because of a note which he ought to pay.
Income and outgo are quarreling still,
And always ahead is an unpaid bill.

And whether its thousands or ten we owe
The self-same burden of debt we know,
A note at the bank or a doctor's bill,
And the rich and the poor are worried still,
And who is troubled the more or less
Is something no sage in the world can guess.

For this is the truth as through life we go
The more we have that much more we'll owe.
Today will yesterday's care seem small,
But tomorrow another is sure to fall,
And rich or poor, till our journey's through
There will always be something we cannot do.

HORSE SENSE FROM THOREAU

By GLENN FRANK
President of University of Wisconsin and former Editor of the Century Magazine

This week I am taking a daily dip into the books of some authors who, while well known, are not read by the rushing thousands, in an effort to suggest the overlooked riches in these neglected highbrows.

Today I return to Thoreau, recording sample sentences from his pen that suggest the wisdom of throwing away much of the contemporary literature of private counsel and turning to this engaging rebel who ran away from the world to live an unhampered life of his own.

"Life is so short that it is not wise to take roundabout ways."

"Aim above morality. Be not simply good, but good for something."

"Civilization does but dress men. Inside the civilized man stands the savage still in the place of honor."

"The wisest man preaches no doctrines; he has no scheme; he sees no rafter, not even a cobweb, against the heavens. It is clear sky."

"A man sits as many risks as he runs."

"I say, beware of all enterprises that require new clothes, and not rather a new wearer of clothes. If you have any enterprise before you, try it in your old clothes."

"It is never too late to give up our prejudices. No way of thinking or doing, however ancient, can be trusted without proof."

"There is no odor so bad as that which arises from goodness tainted."

"A man is rich in proportion to the number of things he can afford to let alone."

"Our greatest blessings are very cheap."

"How vain to try to teach youth or anybody truths. They can only learn them after their own fashion, and when they are ready."

"If I were consciously to join any party it would be that which is the most free to entertain thought."

"All men are partially buried in the grave of custom, and of some we see only the crown of the head above ground. Better are the physically dead, for they more lively rot. Even virtue is no longer such if it be stagnant."

"All the community may scream because one man is born who will not do as it does, who will not conform because conformity to him is death . . . In the course of generations, however, men will excuse you for not doing as they do, if you will bring enough to pass in your own way."

As a starter, read "The Heart of Thoreau's Journals."

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

UPHOLD ALL CONSTITUTION NOT SINGLE AMENDMENT

Editor of the Wichita Times:
Your headline in The Times of February 19, "The Destiny of Nation at Stake" compelled me to read the call of the Dry Constitutionalists with attention. One cannot say that he is a happier or a better man after reading it. The atmosphere of war and hate is repugnant to every human being and the spirit of Christ is very conspicuous by its absence. The document speaks of a "vicious minority which seeks the nullification of the constitution". It is not many years ago when the prohibitionists were a minority. When Christ started to reform the Jews he was a very small minority. The anti-slaves movement was started by a minority. In fact, every step of progress that humanity has made was started by a minority. I suppose there were people at all times who condemned and called such minorities "vicious." However, that is their opinion and I have no quarrel with them on that account.

Further the document states that the new recruits are to begin a fight against any candidate who differs in opinion on the eighteenth amendment. Are we going back to the dark ages when people were persecuted, imprisoned, burned or hanged because they differed in opinion with the governing powers?

We have 10 original amendments to our constitution that have reached the venerable age of 137 years, we have 19 amendments in all. Congress has never voted one dollar to enforce any one of them, except the dear little pet baby number 18. The dear child could not stand on its own feet after one year of its birth and is still crippled. Congress is voting more millions every year, creating armies of doctors and nurses equipped with badges and guns, warships and canons, but the dear child is not growing. Only last week has congress voted another 25 millions for more medicine. Is it not reasonable to believe that there is something radically wrong with the poor child. This child has given our nation more trouble than all of the other 18 combined. Just think how this pet of ours has been spoiled, it has encroached upon and seriously wounded some of the older children, some thoughtful citizens are much worried about the lives of the older ones.

Since January 16, 1920, our country has seen more crimes than in its entire history.

Some of our good citizens would like to know the reason why the learned judge does not include in his defense some of the other amendments.

What about the fourth, relating to search and seizure?

What about the fifth, relating to the guarantee of life and liberty and private property?

What about the eighth against cruel punishment? Remember a man was given a life sentence for possessing a pint of whiskey.

What about the tenth?

A blind man can see that our state rights are being invaded by our federal government.

But this sounds like real melodrama, I can see the audience rise, applaud and shout themselves hoarse, when the hero who is to save our country draws his sword and cries out with pathos "The crisis is here. We cannot exist half wet and half dry. The destiny of the American nation is at stake."

When Lincoln said something like it, we had a Mason and Dixon line to contend with, but now we are a United Nation and will stand by and uphold the entire constitution without playing favorites.

I. SCHUSTER.

PROHIBITON HERE TO STAY SAYS COL. WILSON

I read four papers in the morning and one in the evening and I notice that so many letters from people in reference to the issue in the coming presidential election will be wet or dry. Cannot the people understand that prohibition is in this country to stay, that if Jim Reed, Al Smith, or any other candidate would be elected that they could not change that law; that the congress would be the only body to repeal the prohibition law, and then I am sure that it would have to go to the different states to vote on the matter for it took, I believe, 36 states to ratify it and would it not take 36 states to repeal it. I am sure that this could not be done for the reason that you will find all over this United States enough voters who would not want open saloons and a moderation of the liquor law.

I am in favor of prohibition to its fullest extent and I am positive that I speak for all well minded citizens of this great country of ours. So let us Democrats pick out the best man, one who is a Christian and a man who will enforce the prohibition and all other laws to the letter.

COL. ED. C. WILSON U.C.V.
Electra, Texas.

Constitutions? Democrats

Editor of the Times—Knowing that the Times is usually generous, I beg of your kindness a little space in which to defend the cause of the constitutional Democrats. The Times chides and scolds because the call to organize the defenders of the 18th amendment referred to Al Smith and Tammany as a "vicious minority."

It may not be politic to call names, but this is nothing to what the Times has done when it referred to the dry potential candidates as "light weights."

What political leader would not a thousand times be called "vicious" than a "lightweight?"

If all dry leaders are "lightweights," it would be interesting to know what kind of scales the Times uses in weighing candidates. There is Senator Glass. Surely he could not be called a lightweight. There is Daniels, Wilson's secretary of the navy, who dried up the navy in the interest of efficiency before the country at large saw the light on the prohibition question. There is Senator Walsh, one of the ablest men in the United States senate. To him belongs the credit of exposing Republican corruption in the oil reserve scandals. And there is William Gibbs McAdoo, who held down six goodsized jobs during the war with credit. When McAdoo resigned, Wilson had to hustle about considerably to find six men competent to fill the gap made by McAdoo's going out.

No one could call these men "lightweights." It may be said that these men are not candidates. But if they are not, it is because Tammany is muddying the water.

No friend of the Democratic party wants to see the party come to such an impasse as it did four years ago at Madison Square garden. Because their "light wines and beer" candidate was denied the nomination they went home and sulked in their tents. They would not support so good a man as John W. Davis. The same votes that elected Al Smith governor gave the Republican candidate for the presidency more than a half million majority.

Tammany acted the part of the spoiled child, and is still acting the part. McAdoo had a majority on a hundred ballots but still they would not give in.

In order to avoid the situation of four years ago McAdoo has not announced as a candidate. But Al Smith and his bunch are troubled with no such solicitation for the welfare of the party. Tammany is coming to the convention with warpaint and tommyhawk ready to scuttle the ship if they can not have their way, just as they did at Madison Square.

The prohibition question should not be in this fight. If mentioned at all, the Republican party should be vigorously scored for bringing the cause of prohibition into disrepute by inefficient enforcement. It is Tammany that is making prohibition the issue in the coming convention by its everlasting and pernicious insistence upon the nomination of a man who despises the 18th amendment.

It is too much to ask a nation to give up a constitutional amendment that was put over with such a tremendous popular majority. It is too much, to ask the Democratic party to sponsor a lost and discredited cause that will surely lead the party to the slaughter house.

Let us forget prohibition. The issue is as dead as slavery. But we can not forget it so long as a "vicious minority" insists upon nominating a man who declares publicly that he hates the 18th amendment.

Texas should show the visitors from New York an example of a dry, peaceful and prosperous state. This should do much to win them over to the viewpoint of the rest of the country on the prohibition question.

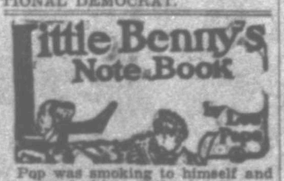

But pressure must be brought to bear, quietly, but firmly to force the withdrawal of Al Smith from the field just as McAdoo has done. Then the convention can get together and make a nomination. Of course it would be ridiculous for the convention to even consider any man for the place not in accord with the country on the prohibition question. The Democratic party can not exist half dry and half wet. It must solidify its forces. It is unthinkable that the party of the people should sponsor the return of the nefarious liquor traffic by harboring in the White House, a man whose every vote and public act has sought to destroy the constitution that he must swear to uphold and defend.

We believe that all good Democrats should rally to the cause of the constitutional government and uphold the law of our country.

We have no patience with that element within the party as well as out of it, that would compromise decency and honor and civic righteousness for party harmony.

We should not deviate from the high standards of Democracy. It is better to be right than to be president. It is better to go down into defeat with a clean banner than to victory over constitutional government and righteousness.

Make our national Democratic party clean and the nation's eyes will soon be clear.—A CONSTITUTIONAL DEMOCRAT.

Grand Opera Memorable Occasion Columbus, Ohio, Says Music Critic First Night Lavish, Spectacular

Grand Opera headquarters is in receipt of the following telegram, quoting criticism of Nelson Budd of the Ohio State Journal at Columbus, Ohio, following appearance of Chicago Civic Opera company:

"Columbus, Ohio, Feb. 21, 1928.

"Harry Hines, Hamilton building, Wichita Falls, Texas.

"Three column head front page in the Ohio State Journal Tuesday morning, February 21. 'Grand Opera first night lavish and spectacular.'

"Forty-five hundred thronged auditorium.

"'Aida' is gorgeously presented.

"Tremendous welcome given first big production in auditorium. Memorable occasion.

"Miss Raisa was a dominating figure throughout, she sang with dramatic fervor. She was equally the dramatic artist. Her singing was lavish and appealing.

"The last act contained more opulent work by Miss Van Gordon, who got a heavy ovation and closed with what is to me the most glorious music of the entire work, the 'Farewell to Earth.' The duet made unforgetable by Raisa and Marshall.

"Virgilio Lazzari as the high priest, whom I hereby nominate the king of basses.

"Rimini revealed some masterly singing. Chase Baromeo was an impressive king.

"The most spectacular thing of the evening was the second act. Here was a compact festival of the magnificent color lighting costume, choral, orchestral and solo effect that brought the audience to a fever of enthusiasm. Polacco handled his orchestra, chorus, mass and solo forces with the eagle eye of a Napoleon.

"Foregoing are exerpts from my three-column criticism and could write many more columns in praise of the Chicago Opera company's productions, having heard them in 'Gioconda,' 'Butterfly,' 'Carmen,' and 'Trovatore,' in Detroit."

cluded Wednesday night with a dance at the Kemp hotel, starting at 8:30 o'clock.

The business session was opened with the invocation by Dr. Nat F. Grafton, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of this city.

In formally opening the convention, J. C. Anderson Jr., chairman, cited the decline in the number of bank robberies in Texas recently. This, he said, was due to the effort put forth by the state association to remedy a situation that had become acute.

Mr. Anderson also pointed out the results obtained during the past year from the more general practice of farm crop diversification in the state and declared that it is now the duty of the bankers to convince the landlords of the advisability of this plan. The present program of reducing the cotton acreage is following up the diversification program, Mr. Anderson declared.

Judge R. E. Huff, chairman of the board of directors of the First National bank of this city, welcomed the visiting delegates to the city, declaring that he believed the state is facing an era in which all business should be fairly profitable.

Judge Huff urged that the bankers pay more attention to the candidates for the legislature and congress, declaring tht he had "little faith in the financial reasoning of the average member in the state legislature or congress."

Another Good Year

Graham Stewart, president of the First National bank at Graham, responded to Judge Huff's address of welcome, saying that Wichita Falls is today one of the most important cities of Texas, and that the visiting bankers were glad to spend the day as guests of "The City That Faith Built."

"Banking in Texas has had another satisfactory year," declared W. M. Massie, president of the Texas Bankers' association. "In a measure this is due to several causes. Smallness of the 1927 cotton crop, which brought about a stimulation in prices; favorable weather conditions which permitted the gathering of the entire crop, and the cheapness with which the crop was made, were all contributory factors to last year's successful operations.

"It is most interesting to read the tabulations made by the Federal Reserve bank of Dallas, made from member banks' condition reports of December 31, 1927, which shows that on that date the total borrowings of member banks were $1,334,000 as compared with $10,650,000 for the corresponding date of the previous year. Condition reports also reflect that the borrowings of the member banks reached the lowest level and their deposits the highest level reached at any year since the federal reserve system was established. This is a remarkable recovery from the condition of 1926.

"It is also most interesting to note the strong reserve position of Texas banks, as reflected in their December 31, 1927, statements. The effect of that position will enable them to meet most satisfactorily any decline in their deposits.

Shaw Next Speaker

"For some time business has been traveling along a smooth road and I sincerely hope that there is no turn in it or soft spot that will cause us to skid. Expansion has been going on in all lines. Prices have been stimulated, labor has been fully employed and wages high, real estate and securities' prices advancing, private building operations and public improvements going forward at an astounding pace. All of this has been made possible by a plentiful supply of credit at low interest rates. Some reaction is bound to occur and it behooves us to keep our house in order to meet such contingency," Mr. Massie declared.

"I believe that all banks should fortify their positions by carrying a substantial secondary reserve in United States, county and municipal bonds and prime commercial paper, and be ready at all times for emergencies that might arise," State Commissioner of Banking James B. Shaw declared when he addressed the meeting.

"Since last September 1 and up to February 1," Mr. Shaw said, "thirteen banks have been reorganized in Texas with entirely new capital in the aggregate sum of $350,000 paid in in cash, and deposits to the amount of $2,586,000 that were in insolvent banks have been protected. Forty-eight banks with impaired capital have been restored to the amount of $821,500 in cash paid in by voluntary contributions. Twenty-three banks, with combined capital of $733,500, with admitted losses of $558,700 and deposits of $1,914,000, have either voluntarily liquidated, or have been taken over by other banks, without a dollar's loss to depositors. In all, 296 banks have removed losses aggregating $4,214,750. The combined capital of these was $16,769,600 and the aggregate deposits $85,944,000. It is gratifying indeed that in this cleanup campaign, none of the 296 banks mentioned above have closed.

Kemp Talks of Valley

"I have in mind consulting a number of the loading bankers of Texas before the next session of the legislature convenes, with the view of presenting to that body for passage an adequate commercial practice act. This opens up a big subject, and one that will no doubt be widely discussed. As you bankers all know, you are now taking undue risks each day in the handling of items and in the transaction of affairs of the community that you should not take, and I feel that with the best minds working on this matter that a safe and sane law can be drawn that will protect you and other businesses against losses, and that the best interests of all will be conserved thereby. I believe a commercial practice act, clearly setting out the liability of banks and others in the handling of documents of all kinds, is badly needed.

"It is my policy to investigate fully the need for new banks, when charters are requested, and if the community's business does not justify, or if the proposed management is not what it should be, I will not hesitate to recommend to the banking board that the charter be refused. I think it wise to have fewer banks, in a strong position, and thereby able to serve the community, than to have too many and weaken each other," Mr. Shaw concluded.

The wonderful possibilities that exist for the further development of the poultry and dairying industry in Texas were stressed in a talk made by J. A. Kemp, president of the City National bank of this city.

"The people of Texas must get out of the idea of thinking they can grow only cotton, for this state can equal the wonderful work that has been done in Southern California if the same methods are employed as are used in that section," Mr. Kemp declared.

Mr. Kemp told of trips he has taken to Southern California and explained to the bankers why intensified farming is so successful in that state.

"Building Memorials" was the subject of an address delivered by Bert E. Low, vice president of the Citizens National bank, Abilene.

Mr. Low urged that the bankers work toward that end which would enshrine them in the hearts of posterity and stressed the need of helping the younger generations in their different tasks.

SEMI-FINALS IN TENNIS WILL BE PLAYED JUNIOR COLLEGE NEAR FUTURE

The semi-finals in the tennis doubles at the junior college will be played as soon as the courts are dry, according to announcement made by the Tennis club, and the four teams left in the race are prepared for some hard battles. From nearly 30 entrants, the doubles contest has been narrowed to four sets of partners. Jack Jamison and Raymond McPhail will meet Seldon Hale and Raymond Strong in one of the semi-finals games, and Ford and Couper will play Duke and Duncan, the winners of the two contests playing for the right to represent the college at the state tournament.

The local college won first place in both singles and doubles at the state tournament last year, and much good material is included in the entrants still left in the contest.

Flora and Coralie Roberts will play Melba McCallum and Peggy Walker for the girls doubles.

SINCLAIR TO FIGHT CONTEMPT PENALTY IN APPEALS COURT

BURNS AND DAY ALSO TO APPEAL FROM TERMS JAIL SENTENCES

SENATE TO CONTINUE ITS TEAPOT INQUIRY

Three Men Convicted by Court for Shadowing Jury Are Released on Bond.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 22. (AP)—Under jail sentences for contempt of court growing out of the Fall-Sinclair oil conspiracy mis-trial, Harry F. Sinclair, his associate, Henry Mason Day, and William J. Burns, the detective, looked to the higher courts today for exoneration.

With Burns' son, W. Sherman Burns, who was fined $1000 for his part in shadowing the oil jury as active head of the detective agency, they filed notice of appeals, last night shortly after Justice Frederick L. Siddons pronounced sentence in District of Columbia supreme court. They were at liberty today upon their promise that the bond fixed would be supplied.

Sinclair, the wealthy oil man who has been in one court or another for months since he leased Teapot Dome naval oil reserve, was sentenced to six months in jail, Day, who hired the Burns agents to shadow the jury in Sinclair's behalf, was sentenced to four months and the elder Burns received a 15-day term, although he had denied any connection with the shadowing.

Although Sinclair and his codefendants in the oil contempt case have been found guilty, much court procedure and considerable time must elapse before they can be either compelled to take their punishment or be freed.

Two courses of court action were open today for them to appeal to higher tribunals than that of Justice Siddons, of the District of Columbia supreme court, who sentenced Sinclair, William J. Burns, W. Sherman Burns and Henry Mason Day yesterday.

The men will have 90 days in which to get before the court of appeals the entire record of the case in which their counsel have noted an appeal. This time is seldom extended by the court except for very important reasons.

If the District of Columbia court of appeals does not at once certify the case to the United States supreme court the oil men and detectives can await a decision of the appeals court or they can ask the supreme court for a writ of certiorari. This writ would in effect be an order from the higher court to the lower jurisdiction to certify the case immediately.

Sinclair and his associates must first post a cost bond within 20 days to perfect their appeal. The 90-day period allowed them to get the case before the court of appeals starts from that time.

In the meantime they must file within 20 days in the District of Columbia supreme court a bill of exceptions covering the entire record but this time may be extended by the court.

The records in the contempt case consists of nearly two and a half million words and the drawing of the bill of exceptions is expected to require much time. Attorneys familiar with the case were inclined to believe that the oil men and detectives would ask the United States supreme court for a writ of certiorari as soon as the case reaches the court of appeals as the principals in the case and their counsel expressed during the contempt proceedings the belief that the higher court would free their clients.

Sinclair's appeal from the three months' jail sentence he received for refusing to answer questions before the senate now is before the court of appeals awaiting the filing of briefs by his attorneys.

"Summer rules," which did not compute the months from April to October in figuring the time for filing the appeal tended to hold up this case. The court recently abolished "the summer rule."

BANKERS TO BE QUIZZED IN TEAPOT INVESTIGATION

WASHINGTON, Feb. 22. (AP)—A number of New York, Chicago and Boston bankers were summoned to appear tomorrow before the senate Teapot Dome committee which is seeking to determine how much of the liberty bond profits of the Continental Trading company was used to pay off the Republican national committee deficit in 1922 and 1923.

Those asked to come with books and records were Wm. H. Gilks, assistant cashier of the Continental National Bank and Trust company, Chicago; John Prentice, assistant cashier of the Chase National bank, New York; N. C. Lenfestey, cashier of the National City bank, New York, and B. D. Blaisdell, cashier of the First National bank, Boston.

In following the devious trial of the Continental bonds the committee now has established that at least $75,000 of the $3,080,000 total reached the Republican national committee and were used by Will H. Hays, former chairman of the committee, to pay off a committee note at the Empire Trust company, New York.

Harry F. Sinclair has been shown to have participated in the Continental profits, he having been one of the moving spirits in its organization. Hays has testified that the lessee of Teapot Dome gave the Republican organization $75,000.

COLLEGE SENATE TO ASK HELP OF CLUBS OVERFLOW PROBLEM

The senate of the junior college met in regular session Tuesday evening. After a short talk by candidates for membership on "Methods of Advertising Our School," the senate adopted a resolution favoring the cooperation of the school organizations with the civic organizations of the city in an effort to bring before the public the need of more adequate accommodations for the overflow of students.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing eight weeks: Senator Bob Long, president; Senator Ralph King, vice president; Senator Charlotte Keevil, secretary and treasurer; Senator Jimmy Boyd, sergeant at arms; Senator Price McCully, critic.

Senator J. C. Cook was elected as press reporter pro tem.

The aspects of prohibition, Cisco horned frogs, and the rumors of the use of soap by certain senators almost upset the dignity of the senate before anxious members could move the adjournment.

Whee, Boys, No More Face Scrubbing; Push Of Button Will Do It

The American boy of today simply was born too soon.

His is the misfortune to live in the time when mother uses vigorous handpower to keep faces, ears and necks well scrubbed, and the youthful woes often arise from soap-in-the-eyes and baths on Saturday night.

But a few years from now it may all be different, if the vision of P. M. Cordell, public relations man of the Texas Power and Light company, comes true as sketched Tuesday night at the dinner of the Wichita Falls Technical club at the Wichita club.

The time will come, said Mr. Cordell, when the push of a button can be made sufficient to solve the problem of such matters as face cleansing, the removing of cover from beds and other irritating, but necessary daily chores. The time probably will never come when electricity is applied to those functions, he said, but the time will come when power can be put to those uses if it be desired.

The amusing picture was sketched by Mr. Cordell as he proceeded with the serious business of declaring that the present-day uses to which power is being put represents only a good beginning toward those things which the future holds. As time goes on, he said, man will put such of his slaves as electricity more and more to the tasks that now are done by hand.

Present-day civilization, he declared, is primarily due to the fact that work once done by hand is now done by power. Once there was a time, he reminded, when all deep sea travel was aboard oar-driven ships. It would take 300,000 oarsmen, he said, to propel one of the large ocean liners of today. Without power, he declared, there could be no automobiles, no airplanes, no telephones, no electric lights. There would be no United States, but in its stead, probably a large number of small, bickering nations. People would be forced to live almost entirely to themselves.

The United States, he said, has been foremost in application of power. The independence of spirit which is unfettered by ancient customs found in Europe has caused them to develop in such manner that the output of the average American worker with his machinery is three times that of the average wage earner of Europe.

Mr. Cordell's lecture was illustrated with stereopticon slides.

H. R. Voelcker, president of the club, was toastmaster. Several violin solos were played by Joe Rabinowitz, youthful Wichita Falls artist, to an accompaniment played by Mrs. E. J. de Montel. Gerold Pond introduced them.

RURAL SCHOOLS TO HOLD TOURNEY AT CLARA SATURDAY

All of the rural schools of the county have been invited to take part in the exhibition tournament to be held at the Clara school, Saturday, February 25.

The interscholastic league, under the direction of Supt. B. M. Dinsmore of Electra, county director general, offers the pupils from all schools in the county an equal opportunity to compete for honors. The preliminary meet is planned to give the children of the rural schools experience and confidence in the tournament to be held in Electra in March.

In the volley ball contests at Clara, the senior and junior classifications will be based solely upon age. Free lunch is to be served all volley ball contestants and cups will be given the winning teams in both classes.

Preliminary contests will be held in declamation, essay writing, spelling, arithmetic, extemporaneous speaking and debate. All events are to begin promptly at 9 o'clock.

Reduce the Acid

In sick stomachs—instantly

Sick stomachs, sour stomachs and indigestion usually mean excess acid. The stomach nerves are over-stimulated. Too much acid makes the stomach and intestines sour.

Alkali kills acid instantly. The best form is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia, because one harmless, tasteless dose neutralizes many times its volume in acid. Since its invention, 50 years ago, it has remained the standard with physicians everywhere.

Take a spoonful in water and your unhappy condition will probably end in five minutes. Then you will always know what to do. Crude and harmful methods will never appeal to you. Go prove this for your own sake. It may save a great many disagreeable hours.

Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acids. 25c and 50c a bottle—any drugstore.

"Milk of Magnesia" has been the U. S. Registered Trade Mark of the Charles H. Phillips Chemical Company and its predecessor Charles H. Phillips since 1875.

FOUR FREED IN PLOT AGAINST DRY OFFICERS

TEXARKANA, Ark., Feb. 22. (AP) Four of the 13 Miller county men on trial for conspiracy to kill two federal prohibition agents were freed today on an instructed verdict. The men released were: Henry Edington, Dave Philyaw, Wes Philyaw and Luther Hensley. Trial of the remaining nine was ordered continued.

TEXARKANA, Ark., Feb. 22. (AP) A mother and her daughter were placed on the witness stand here today to strengthen the government's case against 13 Miller county men on trial for conspiracy to assassinate two federal prohibition agents.

Mrs. Ivo Gillespie of Shreveport, and her daughter, Dorothy, 14, corroborated testimony previously given by H. T. Prudhomme, star government witness.

Mrs. Gillespie told of having attended two meetings of Prudhomme and George Crank, wealthy plantation owner and one of the men on trial, in Shreveport. The girl told of having seen Crank give Prudhomme $10.

Mrs. Gillespie testified Crank had offered to pay her $250 if she would bring A. E. Lambert, one of the prohibition agents against whom the alleged conspiracy was laid into Texas so he could be arrested under the Mann act and he would pay her $500 more when she had done that.

Crank declared he wanted the two dry agents out of the way before court opened because he could not afford to have them appear against him, Mrs. Gillespie testified. Under cross-examination, Mrs. Gillespie, when asked why she did not accept Crank's offer declared that she didn't care to. Lambert and John O'Quinn were witnesses against Crank in a liquor case.

State Treasury Receives Million Day Says Hatcher

Money from tax collections is pouring into the state treasury at the rate of about a million dollars a day, at present, according to W. Gregory Hatcher, state treasurer, who was in Wichita Falls Wednesday to attend the bankers' convention.

"The state was about broke on February 4," Mr. Hatcher said. "We had only about $68,000 on hand. Yesterday we had approximately $4,000,000 on hand, and for the next few weeks, we can expect receipts to be a million dollars a day. On the first of January we borrowed a million dollars from Austin and Dallas banks to tide us over, but paid it all back within a few days."

Mr. Hatcher is a candidate for reelection this year. Being a candidate himself, he was loath to talk about political matters in general.

"But I'll say one thing," he said, "I have my choice for president first, last and all the time. My choice is Jesse Jones of Houston."

Two Crack Liners Race Across Sea Rivals to Be First to Bring Paris Easter Styles to American Femmes

NEW YORK, Feb. 22. (AP)—Easter fashions had a race from Paris to New York on the liners Olympic and Paris both of which arrived today, 24 hours late on account of rough weather.

Each carried 200 dress designers and buyers from all over the United States, who had been attending the spring dress shows of famous Paris houses. So every day was fashion day on both ships in spite of rough seas.

Both ships left France February 5. The Olympic kept in the lead and reached quarantine first. But the Paris wriggled through quarantine first and docked an hour ahead of the Olympic.

Staterooms on both ships were plied high with mysterious boxes containing Paris' most treasured secrets and men and women designers were busy throughout the voyage designing gowns which will be rushed through workshops and sent by airplane throughout America.

There were fashion shows by day on the decks of both ships and the dinner and balls revealed the latest ideas from the Rue de la Paix.

Not a knee showed beneath any of the late models displayed day and night. Skirts are decidedly longer, and the evening gowns have skirts which are several inches longer behind. Bias evening gowns in silk, satin, velvet and lace were much in evidence. There were also many white evening gowns and a generous sprinkling of pale greens and dull reds.

All the buyers had crystal jewelry. Necklaces of all sizes, bracelets, brooches and rings of crystal made the ballroom of the Olympic acintillate. The women who had real diamonds were overshadowed by the Queens of Sheba in Paris' latest novelty ornaments. There were also ornaments in imitation rubies and emeralds, but the white stones were clearly the most favored.

Hats continue small in spite of the efforts of designers to steer the public away from the cloche, and various shades of fawn and light browns continue in favor. Furs were also chiefly in browns and reds, and the suits worn by the buyers were largely in various brown shades; with a sprinkling of blues and dull reds.

JUDGE HIRAM LIVELY

SENTENCE MAN TO 7 YEARS ON FORGERY COUNT

George V. Churchill avoided the danger of being sentenced to life imprisonment on a charge of forgery by entering a plea of guilty in the 89th district court Wednesday to an indictment.

As it was, he was sentenced to seven years imprisonment on the charge by verdict of the jury before he was tried.

Churchill went to trial as the second person in the history of Wichita county to be charged with an offense under what is commonly known as the "habitual criminal law." That law provides that a person convicted for a third time on a felony charge can be sentenced only to life imprisonment. The law requires, however, that the allegation must be contained in the third indictment that there have been two previous convictions.

Churchill first pleaded not guilty. He withdrew that plea before the case went to the jury, however, and prosecuting attorneys agreed, on their part, to submit to the jury that count of the indictment which did not allege previous convictions.

The wife and baby of the accused man were in the courtroom during the trial. The charge grew out of Churchill's alleged possession when arrested by police of money order blanks said by witnesses to have disappeared several months ago from the express office at Iatan.

J. E. Hill likewise went to trial in the 89th district court Wednesday, pleading guilty to six charges of forgery. The case reached the jury early Wednesday afternoon. Hill is alleged to have passed forged cashier's checks at several business places in Burkburnett a few weeks ago.

Ward Home Built In Early Eighties Takes a Journey

Another of Wichita Falls' landmarks is being removed to make way for the ever increasing demand for more space for downtown business houses.

The old J. C. Ward home, which was located at the corner of Eleventh street and Scott avenue, is being moved to the 200 block on Bluff street, where it will be rented by its new owner, D. L. Fritz of the Fritz Motor company.

Three rooms of the house were erected by Captain Henry Strong when Wichita Falls was nothing more than one of the several towns that dotted the rolling plains of Texas, according to Mr. Ward.

Mr. Ward says that he purchased the house in 1886 and that he added four rooms to the original structure. The Ward family lived in the residence until about three years ago, when they moved to 1104 Austin.

The lot upon which the house was located will be used by the Fritz Motor company as a used car lot.

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Ferrell were called to Gainesville early Wednesday morning by the death of Mr. Ferrell's father, M. F. Ferrell, at the family home in Gainesville.

Mr. Ferrell had just returned to Wichita Falls from the bedside of his father when the death message came. The other surviving children, three daughters, were all at their father's bedside when death came.

Funeral services were held at Gainesville Wednesday afternoon. Mr. Ferrell is associated with the Rock Island Railway company.

Patriotic Songs Feature Meeting Local Optimists

"The fact about George Washington that is going to live and be handed down to posterity for endless ages is not the fact that he drank strong liquor on occasions," said the Rev. Alvin F. White Wednesday noon to the members of the Optimist club, "but what will live about Washington are those things that are good. Providence has somehow arranged so that the righteous deeds men do live eternally, but the evil deeds are destroyed."

The program for Wednesday was largely impromptu, with Judge E. D. Sartin, president, in charge, in place of J. Will Gray, program chairman.

Joel MacGregor led a patriotic singsong at the beginning of the program.

Announcement was made of the annual "George and Martha" party, to be given at the Woman's Forum Thursday night at 7:15 by Tom Glass, entertainment chairman.

Watch Your Kidneys!
You Can't Feel Well When Kidneys Act Sluggishly
YOUR kidneys! Do you realize what an important part they play in your health and length of life?
Your kidneys are the blood filters. When they act sluggishly, waste poisons remain and make one tired and drowsy, with often nagging backache and annoying headaches and dizzy spells. That the kidneys are not acting right is often shown by too frequent, scanty or burning excretions.
Assist the kidneys with Doan's Pills. Doan's, a stimulant diuretic, increase the secretion of the kidneys and thus aid in the elimination of waste impurities. Doan's are endorsed the country over. Ask your neighbor!

This natal day signifies the birth of the Greatest American. Without George Washington, it is exceedingly doubtful if there would be this Union of the United States. How grateful we should be, that a wise Providence gave us such a leader. When days were darkest at Valley Forge, at Philadelphia, at Long Island and other battles, for the American cause, it was his patience and wise foresight that justified American arms in the end. A soldier, a scholar and a statesman, George Washington lived to see the young Republic on its road to destiny. To this man we dedicate all that we owe as a nation.

TEST OF RAIL LABOR ACT MAY FOLLOW APPEAL

HOUSTON, Feb. 22. (AP)—The Southern Pacific contempt of federal court cases which were given a push in the direction of the supreme court late Monday by a motion which attorneys said may result in a test of the Esch-Cummings railroad labor act will again come before Federal Judge J. C. Hutcheson on March 12.

The motion which seeks to set aside the injunction granted on August 3, restraining officials from interfering with employes' organizations also asks revocation of a decree issued on February 11 by Judge Hutcheson ordering the officials to inaugurate certain "remedial measures" under penalty of going to jail for contempt of court.

The motions was prepared by J. H. Tallichet, Clarence R. Wharton and C. L. Carter, attorneys representing H. M. Lull, G. S. Wald and J. G. Torian the three railroad officials who were cited for contempt.

The three officials last week filed an acceptance of Judge Hutcheson's decree agreeing to carry out the remedial measures thus purging themselves of contempt of court.

The measures were principally disestablishment of the Association of Clerical Employes alleged company union and recognition of the brotherhood as representatives of the 3500 clerks on the Texas-Louisiana divisions, until such time as a ballot may be held under the direction of the court.

The motion filed Monday declared that the court erred in ordering the disestablishment of the association. The railroad, the motion maintained exercised a valid right in recognizing the association after the holding of a secret ballot.

If Judge Hutcheson overrules the motion it is understood that the case will be appealed to the United States circuit court of appeals at New Orleans and may finally reach the United States supreme court.

Bankers Urged to Take Advantage Opportunity Grand Opera Season; 'Keess' Not 'Kiss,' Lazzari Learns

LAZZARI

Grand opera headquarters invited the bankers in attendance at the convention, to come back—or stay over—for grand opera. In the presentation in Wichita Falls, February 29 and March 1 by the Chicago Civic Opera company of the operas "Aida" and "Resurrection," the people of this part of Texas have an opportunity to see grand opera as it is given in the large cities.

The company will come in two special trains, bringing 18 carloads of scenery and costumes. The stage in the Memorial auditorium, where the operas are to be presented, is ample in proportions and equipped with every device known to the modern stage, insuring the same staging in elaborateness and detail that marks the presentation in their own auditorium in Chicago.

Don't think, "Oh, I can see grand opera some other time, some other place." You can by going much further and paying a lot more, for Wichita Falls is the only other place in Texas beside San Antonio having grand opera this season.

Don't confuse grand opera with musical comedy, or the thousand and one "road shows" that can be seen most any time, most anywhere. There is as much difference as there is between the two words "keys" and "kiss." This difference was brought home to Lazzari, the Italian basso who sings in "Aida." When he first came to this country he didn't know very much English, although now he speaks it quite fluently.

Some years ago he was in San Antonio, Texas, with the Boston Opera company on its tour, and stepped into his hotel to go to his room. He smiled at the good looking girl behind the hotel counter, and said, "Please geeve me keess." What he meant to say was, "Please give me the keys," but the young lady at the hotel desk thought he was asking for a kiss.

"I want you should geeve me keess," repeated the basso, "Keess—Keess—don't you understan' wot I want?"

"I understand perfectly," countered the young lady, "but why should I give you a kiss?"

"Oh, not keess with the face!" exclaimed the basso, "I mean you should geeve me keess to open door to my room." And he went through the pantomime of inserting a key in the lock and opening the door, to explain what he wanted.

The girl laughingly gave him the keys, and explained the difference in pronunciation between "keys" and "kiss," so that the singer would not confuse the two in the future.

TRAINING SCHOOL FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH TO START ON MARCH 4

At 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon, March 4, a training school for those interested in Christian education will begin at the First Presbyterian church, with Dr. B. A. Hodges who is a field representative of the Christian Board of Education of the Presbyterian church, U. S. A., in charge. The course will last until March 9, and classes will be held at the church every morning from 9:30 to 10:30, and in the evening from 7:30 to 8:45.

One of the outstanding progressive forces in the field of religious education is the Board of Christian Education of the Presbyterian church, U. S. A., which has its headquarters in Philadelphia, Penn. One of the objectives of this board is the standardization of Bible schools of the denomination. This requires a trained force of teachers.

The First Presbyterian church of this city is making an effort to have 100 per cent trained leadership in its Sunday school.

The general subject of the course is, "The Teaching Work of the Church," and the book to be studied is Bower's "The Educational Task of the Local Church." No charges will be made for registration, and everyone is invited to take advantage of this course, which is meant for those who are in the actual teaching work, as well as for those who are interested in a general way. Those who intend to participate are requested to phone the church office to register for the class.

DENISON LOSES FIGHT AGAINST GAS COMPANY

AUSTIN, Feb. 22. (AP)—The constitutionality of the "oil and gas conservation act" of 1919 conferring power upon the state railroad commission to regulate gas rates was upheld Wednesday by the supreme court in the city of Denison's suit against the Municipal Gas company.

The ruling affirms the right of the legislature to impose upon the railroad commission powers other than named in the constitution and consequently has an important bearing on right of the railroad commission to regulate motor bus traffic under the new law. The legislature could abolish the railroad commission, which was created by statute if desired, the court held in an opinion by Associate Justice William Pierson.

The city of Denison appealed from the dissolution of an injunction it had secured against operation of a monthly "ready to serve" rate authorized for the gas company by the railroad commission. The commission's powers were attacked, the plaintiffs claiming that the legislature could not add to or take from powers of the railroad commission as set forth in the constitution.

The judgment affirmed the action of the court of civil appeals at Dallas.

Disaster Blame Put on Shoulders Of Commanders Sub S-4 and Paulding As Court Martial Announces Verdict

WASHINGTON, Feb. 22. (AP)—Commanders of the submarine S-4 and the coast guard destroyer Paulding are held responsible by a naval court of inquiry for the collision that sent the submersible's crew of 40 to death off Provincetown, Mass., last December 17.

In addition the court recommended detachment of Rear Admiral Frank H. Brumby as commander of the control force, which includes submarines of the Atlantic fleet.

Brumby Called Inefficient.

Brumby was in charge of rescue and salvage operations on the scene and the court declared in its findings that he failed to "contribute that superior and intelligent guidance, force and sound judgment expected from an officer of his length of service, experience and position."

The court, composed of Rear Admirals R. H. Jackson as president, Julien L. Latimer, and Captain Joseph V. Ogan, with Commander Leslie E. Bratton as judge advocate, declared also that "no known devices or equipment not employed in the rescue operations, either in the navy or owned by commercial organizations, could have saved the lives of those on board the S-4."

Rescue Worked Logically

The report said the navy had assembled its best rescue crews as quickly as possible and that the rescue operations were "logical, sound and the most promising of early success." Weather conditions played an important part, the finding said, and "rescue under those conditions was beyond human power."

The court held that "serious blame" was incurred by Lieutenant Commander R. K. Jones, who commanded the S-4 and Lieutenant Commander John H. Baylis, of the Paulding. It declared the submarine failed to take the proper action to avoid the Paulding, while the latter failed to sight and clear the S-4.

Of Brumby, who has commanded the control force since last August, the findings said he had demonstrated before the court that "he had not the familiarity with the essential details of construction of submarines and the knowledge of rescue vessels, and the knowledge of the actual work being carried on by his subordinates necessary to direct intelligently the important operations of which he was in charge."

The court commended the rescue plans Brumby approved, "conceived by an expert staff of which Captain King was the senior," but said the admiral was unable to give the proper guiding hand.

The court has been called to meet again to hear a statement by Secretary Mellon, whose department has jurisdiction over the coast guard, which declares the treasury has concluded that Commander Baylis, of the Paulding was not responsible for the collision. Secretary Wilbur directed the court to set forth also the bases for its opinions and recommendations.

In a statement accompanying the court findings, Rear Admiral E. H. Cambell, the judge advocate general, pointed out that Admiral Brumby was not made a defendant before the court and expressed opinion that therefore no disciplinary action should be taken against him, other than a general court martial, until he is enabled to make a statement.

Major Blame on S-4.

Rear Admiral R. H. Leigh, chief of the bureau of navigation, also issued a statement declaring that personal responsibility for the collision should not be placed upon Commander Jones of the S-4 because it is not know what actually transpired on the submarine. He gave three reasons why the "presumptive major responsibility rests properly on the S-4." These, he said, were that the S-4 lookout should have sighted the Paulding; that it was the duty of the submarine to keep clear of the Paulding and that it was her duty to avoid surface vessels.

The court gave its opinion that the cause of the failure of the S-4 to take proper action when the destroyer was 75 yards distant, cannot be determined absolutely.

Lack of Vigilance.

"The cause lies with the commanding officer of the S-4," the report said, "due either to his lack of vigilance, or to the quality of his observations while the Paulding was approaching from 2000 to 75 yards; from which observations flowed an action which by an error of judgment, possibly as to the speed and distance of the Paulding, failed to insure the safety of the vessel.

"The inefficient lookout on the Paulding whereby the S-4 was not sighted until only 75 yards away, was due to the lack of a proper lookout solely charged with that duty, especially at a time when the Paulding was approaching at a high rate of speed the submarine trial course."

Thirty-two bodies have been recovered from the S-43. Six more are believed to be in the torpedo room and two are missing. The vessel itself is expected to be raised during the coming month.

Death by Asphyxiation.

Medical data attached to the court findings indicated that the 32 men found in the engine and motor rooms lost consciousness before 1:30 p. m. of the day following the collision, and that they probably died by asphyxiation from carbon monoxide.

The court, apparently cognizant of the flow of criticism of the navy that followed the accident, observed in its report that submarine safety lies only in the constant care and attention to minute details by commanding officers, and in their being ably supported by their crews. The court recommended that the navy and treasury departments confer to draw up regulations for vessel movements and suggested also that a technical board study rescue, salvage and safety devices.

Radio Sends Out Warning to Maid Bitten by Canine

NEW YORK, Feb. 22. (AP)—Sought by advertisements and stories in the newspapers and an appeal broadcast by radio, Mrs. Margaret Dougherty today was still unaware that her life was in danger.

The woman, a former maid in the home of William A. Donaldson of Douglas Manor, borough of Queens, was bitten by a white poodle of her employer's two weeks ago but left his employ before the dog developed rabies from which it died.

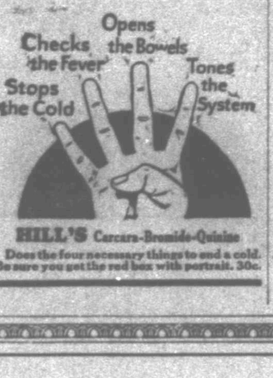

Mr. Donaldson advertised in the papers and sought the aid of police in finding the woman so that she might be given the Pasteur treatment, fearing she might contract the disease and die. Commissioner of Health Louis Harris ordered the appeal broadcast by radio.

At the time she was bitten, Mrs. Dougherty applied iodine to the wound, thinking it only a scratch, fellow employes said. She and her husband, the Donaldson chauffeur, had been working for the family only three weeks and little was known of them except that they came from Mount Vernon, N. Y.

"Look At My Daughter" says This Texas Mother

"Just look at my little daughter, Fernabelle. She's only six, and she weighs 55 pounds. She's always romping and playing, and is strong as any boy," says Mrs. A. C. Morris, 1114 Lynwood avenue, San Antonio. "Isn't she the picture of health, now? She wasn't always like that, by any means, though. Some time ago she began having little sick spells with her stomach and a little fever along with it. She would be fretful and restless, and wouldn't eat right or get enough sleep. Her breath was bad and she was losing weight.

"We found out her trouble was constipation. Then the first thing we though of was California Fig Syrup. It brightened her up so quick we kept on giving it to her four or five days. At the end of that time her little stomach and bowels were acting perfectly, and she hasn't had a bit of trouble since. She has a hearty appetite, sleeps fine and has been gaining weight right along. California Fig Syrup is wonderful. We always have it in the house, now, and all of us use it."

California Fig Syrup is purely vegetable. It works with nature to tone and strengthen the stomach and bowels, so food is digested and waste is removed in a normal way. Your child will like its rich, fruity flavor, and you'll like the quick way it clears up her biliousness, constipation, feverishness and makes her happy, rosy-cheeked and full of life again.

All drug stores have it, but to be sure of getting the genuine, ask for it by the full name, "California Fig Syrup," and look for these words on the carton, "Made by California Fig Syrup Company."

Does This Rank Among the Worlds Most Beautiful Love Letters?

NOTE: Letters of Armand to Camille, Keats to Fanny Brawne, Lincoln to Ann Rutledge have been classed among the world's most beautiful love letters. But, in our opinion, it remained for an average American business man to write the prize of them all. We present the letter here, not as a literary gem, but for the sheer beauty of unselfish love which inspired it.

My dear:

As I write you're still in the hospital. It was a fearful ordeal, but when that baby boy of ours is nursing, there's a look on your face to "make the angels sing."

I know now that the love we knew before he came was just a prelude . . . like a glimpse of heaven from outside the gates, eh! Martha?

I thought I appreciated the responsibilities of life before. But things looked different afterward. I began wondering and worrying a little about you and the baby . . . what might happen should anything happen to me.

What I'd accumulated wouldn't take care of you. My Life Insurance was about all you'd have . . . and that wasn't enough . . . not nearly.

I talked to ———— about it. He told me about the new idea of "programming" Life Insurance to meet every contingency. We worked out my problem together. I may never be a rich man, dear, but there's one thing certain—you'll never be a destitute widow.

Everything is provided for; you will not be compelled to work for the support of yourself and the boy. It is to tell you just how, that I write you this letter. It goes in my safety deposit box along with the policies. Here's what you'll have to take care of you and Sonny:

FIRST: A "clean-up" policy pays you $2,500.00 in cash. Please pay up all current debts; the doctor, hospital and other expenses.

SECOND: There's a policy to pay off the mortgage on our home. This will leave you free from debt, rent and interest.

THIRD: I leave you a fixed income of $100 a month from a Monthly Income policy. This pays as long as you live.

FOURTH: For the re-adjustment period (10 years) there's an extra $100 monthly. By that time Sonny should be through school and self-supporting.

FIFTH: One special policy is arranged to pay you $250 each year at Christmas time . . . just to cheer things up a bit.

SIXTH: And last, but not least: I've arranged one policy that's just a "surprise"; $2,500.00 to do with just as you please.

And now, Martha, dear, when the time shall have come for you to read this letter, please remember it is my wish that you do not grieve. You have Sonny to live for, and time is a great healer of sorrow. I know not the answer to the riddle of death, but one thing I do know: "Love does not die." So be of good cheer and carry on like the "good sport" you've always been. I love you, dear. Good-night!

Devotedly yours,

* * * * TOM.

"The Congressman's Son" to Appear Serially In This Family Journal

Aloysius Doakes, the poor hosiery salesman, who has written our next serial, "The Congressman's Son."

Despite the protests of Congressman Frisby, this newspaper has obtained serial rights to publish "The Congressman's Son"—an amazing expose of the private life of one of this country's outstanding statesmen.

To get down to brass tacks, "The Congressman's Son" is written by an old African trader, who claims Congressman Frisby is his father.

It seems that the old fellow was going from house to house selling lady's hosiery and chanced to step on Aunt Bella's foot as she was sitting on her back porch. One thing led to another until he told her an amazing tale about Congressman Frisby.

To make a long story short, he agreed to write "The Congressman's Son" for this newspaper. All those wishing to remain for this event kindly come closer and take the seats immediately in front.

CONTRACT FOR ROAD WORK IN WILBARGER AND HARDEMAN CO.

FOUR COUNTIES ASSURED IMPROVEMENTS TO COST ABOUT $1,079,000

TWO-THIRDS AID GIVEN ON YOUNG CO. HIGHWAY

Wichita and Clay County Delegations Fail to Obtain New Designations.

AUSTIN, Feb. 22. (AP)—Four counties were assured road improvements in contracts, to cost about $1,079,470, let Tuesday by the state highway commission and five others were promised future state and federal aid aggregating an estimated $420,000.

A Wednesday session will be necessary to complete the $2,500,000 program of contract letting and hearings on petitions for aid.

Following out its recently announced policy, the commission made only one new route designation, a road from Perryton to Spearman, Ochiltree county, despite the pleas of representatives of about a dozen counties seeking them. It redesignated a strip, however, from Yorktown to Kenedy. It previously terminated at Karnes City.

Aid granted: Young county, two-thirds state and federal aid for asphalt surfacing on highway No. 24 from Graham to the Jack county line; Marion, two-thirds state and federal aid for work on No. 49 from Jefferson to the Louisiana state line; Panola, $67,000 state aid for grading and drainage structures on 16 miles of No. 64 from Sabine river to county line; Karnes, one-half state aid for grading and drainage structures on No. 72 from Kenedy to Dewitt county line; Willacy, one-half state aid for surfacing 9.6 miles of No. 96 from Raymondville to Willacy county line.

In nearly all allotments, it was stipulated that the counties must pay all costs to be later reimbursed by the state when it is able financially.

Contracts Let

Womack Construction company, Sherman, concrete pavement on 11 miles of No. 1 from 10 miles west of Abilene to Trent, $257,217; and for concreting 1.6 miles of No. 1 from Trent to Nolan county line on same highway, both sections in Taylor county, $58,595.

F. P. McElrath, Corsicana, grading and drainage structures and concrete pavement on six miles of No. 14 from Freestone county line to a point near Mexia and to Navasota river, $168,855; and for grading and drainage structures and concrete from a point on No. 14, 1.6 miles north of Mexia south into Mexia, $48,719, both sections Limestone county projects.

J. S. Moore and Sons, Lufkin, grading and drainage structures on 13 miles of No. 35 from Polk county line to Liberty county line, $65,572; and for six pile bridges on same highway, $45,969; both contracts San Jacinto county projects.

Tibbetts Construction company, Fort Worth, timber bridges and approaches between Cold Springs and Walker county line on No. 45-A in San Jacinto county, $36,144.

Tibbetts Construction company, Fort Worth, rock asphalt on 18 miles of No. 36 between Huntsville and Madison county line, Walker county, $429,104.

Awarding of contracts scheduled for four other counties, Atascosa, Travis, Jim Wells and Dimmitt, was not reached due to lack of time and several county delegations seeking aid also were forced to stay over Tuesday night for a session Wednesday because the commission was unable to hear them.

Contracts for Carson and Fort Bend counties, originally set for letting Monday, again were not acted on Tuesday.

Among delegations failing to obtain new designations were those from Wichita and Clay counties, which petitioned establishment of a route from Wichita Falls to Byers bridge. While several such requests were taken under advisement or were ordered investigated by engineers, no important action was taken on them.

Contracts were let Monday for work in Fort Bend, Hardeman, Kerr, Lavaca and Wilbarger counties. Five other counties were promised state aid funds in the future, with local funds used to be credited. They were Knox, San Patricio, Jackson, Sterling and Mason. Various minor requests of 10 additional counties in connection with road matters were granted.

VERNON, Feb. 22.—Contract for the paving of highway No. 28 from Oklaunion north to Red river was let by the state highway department at Austin to J. P. Foty, contractor of Wichita Falls, according to a telegram from Austin to Wilbarger officials. Mr. Foty contracted to do the construction work for $2.28 per yard, which, according to local officials, is one of the lowest rates ever obtained for paving in this county.

The Wichita Falls contractor constructed the road from Oklaunion to Electra and from Vernon west on the Colorado-Gulf highway.

MERCHANTS AT LAWTON TAKE HOT CHECK FROM MAN POSING AS FARMER

LAWTON, Feb. 22.—Just another new scheme to make an "honest living" without work, and it is "working" in this section. Two local merchants, at least, have been victimized.

He said his name was Pearl and he had recently purchased a farm northeast of the city, and he named the man whose farm he had purchased. He needed a cultivator and selected one at a price of $155. But his check book showed he had a balance in an Anadarko bank of only $119 and he asked the merchants if they would permit him to pay $100 down and trust him for the balance.

Sure!

And by the way he had some business to transact at the courthouse and would they take his check for his $119 balance, giving him the $19 in cash?

Sure, glad to accommodate.

The man left with the $19 to transact his business at the courthouse but he did not return for his cultivator. The checks from the Anadarko bank returned, however, with protest fees.

Anadarko reported merchants in that city have likewise been stung by the honest-appearing farmer who is evidently harvesting a good early spring crop.

ATTORNEYS ARGUE LAWRENCE CASE IN COURT AT DALLAS

DALLAS, Feb. 22. (AP)—Only three arguments remained to be heard here today shortly before noon in the trial of John Lawrence, a former Mesquite Texas mayor, for the slaying of Jack Kimbell, Mesquite farmer.

It was expected these arguments would be completed late today, and the case given to the jury.

A charge of contempt placed against J. J. Elam of Elam, Texas, for alleged attempted jury tampering was the only notable development of the trial Tuesday.

It was alleged that Elam made a verbal offer of $50 to T. L. Lawler, called for jury service, to bring about a disagreement or a suspended sentence. Lawler was not selected as a juryman in the case.

Both state and defense rested at 10:30 a. m., on completion of rebuttal testimony, each side having presented about 20 witnesses during the eight days of the trial.

T. K. Irwin, a rebuttal witness for the state, denied on the stand that he had said that Lawrence would have to retain him as counsel or he would be a witness for the state. Stanly Grubbs had testified that Irwin made this assertion to him.

Testimony for the state that Lawrence's reputation as a peaceable, law-abiding citizen was bad was given in conclusion by J. W. Thompson, O. B. Paradise, F. O. Bennett, D. M. Lander, George Miller, W. W. Lindsey, A. J. Miller and W. B. Haley.

Previously, the state had placed Mrs. Charles Kimbell, wife of the slain man's brother, on the stand, but defense objections halted her testimony after she had said that her husband's revolver was in a closet at their home on the day of the fatal shooting on the public square at Mesquite.

Dick Turner, Henry Humphreys, H. W. Lawson, L. A. Vaughn, Charlie Motley, E. A. Hilderbrand, J. M. Jones and Ray Olinger testified that the defendant's reputation was good.

Moore, missionary from China, are directing the mission study classes.

ESTRANGED WIFE ACCUSED DOCTOR GIVES EVIDENCE

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 22. (AP)—The holiday recess in the trial of Dr. Charles McMillan for the "sack murder" of wealthy Mrs. Amelia Appleby today gave him a rest in preparation for his scheduled appearance on the witness stand in his own defense tomorrow.

The defendant's attorney stated in court late yesterday, after the state had rested its case and part of McMillan's defense had been put on, that the accused man probably would take the stand.

The accused man's estranged wife, Mrs. Katherine McMillan, who testified she had been separated from her husband seven years, created considerable amusement in the court room when questioned about jewelry of Mrs. Appleby's being found in McMillan's possession.

"Every now and then he would walk home with a woman's ring," she testified.

The testimony, which was ordered stricken from the trial record, was given in answer to defense counsel's questions. The defense was attempting to bring out that the physician accepted jewelry in lieu of medical fees.

Mrs. McMillan also testified that last Christmas, the day before which the slain woman's body was found tied in canvas near San Fernando, her husband visited her hotel to present gifts to herself and their daughter. She declared she saw nothing unusual about his dress or demeanor.

The latter testimony was corroborated by two other defense witnesses, both of whom saw McMillan at the hotel on the same day.

Damage estimated at $1200 was caused by flames which wrecked Whitehorn's barber shop, 717½ Seventh street, shortly after 7 o'clock Tuesday evening.

The building is owned by Mrs. W. Von Der Lippe, 1209 Bluff street. James Whitehorn, owner of the shop, had leased the building only a month ago. Practically all fixtures except the chairs were a total loss. All mirrors along the walls were cracked and broken.

Damage to the building was confined to charring and blistering of the inside walls, which will have to be refinished.

The stolen property consisted of about 10 pairs of shoes, about 10 suits of men's clothing, a number of shirts, several Stetson hats, and three suit cases and a hand bag into which the loot was loaded.

CLOSE COMPETITION EXPECTED IN DISTRICT CAGE TOURNEY

TEAMS LOOM EVENLY MATCHED WITH HARROLD AND OLNEY IN SPOTLIGHT IN ADVANCE DOPE

Teams looming more evenly matched than ever before, the district interscholastic league basket ball tournament here Friday and Saturday promises cage followers the most exciting basket ball of the season. Nine county champions and Wichita Falls High school compete in the elimination tournament, starting at 9 o'clock Friday morning and continuing through Saturday night.

The nine county champions are Electra, Harrold, Petrolia, Olney, Nocona, Jacksboro, Woodson, Seymour and Megargel.

The prospect of many closely fought battles and the presence of many new teams in the scramble should make for the most interesting and best attended district tournament of recent years. More than half the counties of the district have crowned new champions this year, leaving several well known district teams of the past out of the picture.

Harrold and Olney

Among the favorites to cop top honors are Harrold and Olney. The Wilbarger county champs are newcomers in the district warfare, this county having been transferred to this district only this year. The Hornets whipped everything in their own county in handy fashion in the Wilbarger tournament last week, Vernon and Fargo falling by decisive margins. Coach Vick has two classy forwards in Turpin and Douglas. The former is the scoring ace of the team, with Douglas a close second. McClure at center and King and Jackson at guards round out a highly efficient lineup.

The Hornets gave evidence of their strength Tuesday night in defeating Petrolia, 45 to 24, in a practice game at Harrold. This game might well indicate that Harrold is going to be a strong competitor and that Petrolia, Clay county champion, will have little chance in the tournament.

Coach O. P. Herm's Olney Cubs probably have the most impressive record through the practice season of any of the entries. The Cubs have lost mighty few games and have run up an enviable list of victories.

Coyotes vs. Tigers

One of the high spots of the tournament comes in the opening game at 9 o'clock Friday morning, when Wichita Falls and Electra teams clash. Both are considered as championship possibilities and the Coyotes and Tigers should stack up as closely matched.

The Wichita Falls team is taking things more or less easy in the remaining few days before the big event. Coach Bud McCallum planned a scrimmage session Wednesday night with a Commercial league team as the last strenuous workout before the more serious business.

The Coyotes' chief hopes will rest in the strength of its pair of classy guards, Captain Kenneth Mills and Maurice Allred, who have borne the brunt from the start of the cage season. Mills is the team's leading scorer, besides being a defensive factor. McCallum is expected to use Turner at center and Bain and Anderson at forwards, along with Mills and Allred. Curtis and Griffin will be in line for duty in the forward positions, with Hodgkiss as the first string reserve guard.

Big Program Friday

Friday is the big day of the tournament, eight games being on the program for opening day. The first round will be completed during the morning and afternoon, with the semi-finals in the evening.

The only game scheduled Saturday is the titular final, to be played Saturday evening. The remainder of the day will be devoted to the district volley ball championship. County championship teams will compete. The Electra girls won the Wichita county volley ball championship two weeks ago and are expected to be a strong contender for the district crown.

Season tickets for all tournament games will be on sale at the college Friday morning at a price of $1 for adults and 50 cents for students. Single game admission will be 25 cents, except for the final Saturday night, when the entrance charge will be 50 cents.

Landon-Hill company-Texas Electric Service company entry is riding high and dry Wednesday morning at the head of the Commercial league championship race. The first half champs won their third straight victory, defeating Draughon Business college, 27 to 11, while the National guards were taking their first licking of the half at the hands of Hub clothiers, 12 to 15. In the third game Wichita Falls Junior college outplayed Continental Oil company, 20 to 15.

The Hub-guards game was the best of the evening, the score remaining close all the way. The clothiers stepped out to a four-point lead as the result of goals by O'Leary and McLarry and were never headed, though the guards narrowed the margin to one point early in the second half. O'Leary's floor work featured the clothiers' victory. Walkup and Sehon split the losers' point total, with six each, but even these two could do little with the Hub defense, the guards tallying a grand total of three field goals.

The diminutive Kirkland, forward and captain of the junior college forces, added another brilliant performance to his string in guiding his team to a victory over Continental. The losers sorely missed the services of their scoring ace, Dickey. Kirkland registered 11 of his team's 20 points.

Landon-Hill-Electrics had a more or less easy time in disposing of the Draughon crew.

WALKER AND WILLIS TO ENTERTAIN COAST FANS

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 22. (AP)—San Francisco fight fans looked to Mickey Walker, middleweight champion, and Jack Willis, Texas slugger, to furnish them some holiday excitement here Wednesday afternoon. Walker's title is not involved in the scheduled 10-round encounter.

The slugging Texan was conceded but an outside chance, however, with Walker a heavy favorite at three to one odds. The pair stack up closely in measurements. Walker is 26 years old, three years more than his opponent. He will weigh about 160 pounds to 162 for Willis. Walker has a 70-inch reach, one inch less than his opponent, while he is two inches shorter. Willis stands 5 feet 9¼ inches.

Loughran Idle Due to Lack of Capable Foes

Light Heavyweight Champion Wants to Fight, But Contenders Are Hard to Find.

NEW YORK, Feb. 22. (AP)—The crown that Tommy Loughran captured from Mike McTigue and promised to defend once a month if possible against the best of the light heavyweights is going into mothballs for three months—but it's not Tommy's fault.

Lack of a suitable opponent and a date that doesn't conflict with either a welterweight championship match or one of the heavyweight extravaganzas in Tex Rickard's elimination "finals" has forced Loughran's inactivity, the 175-pound titleholder declared on his return Tuesday to New York after a month's cruise through the Carribbean.

Decision to sidetrack Tommy for the time being will permit a match between Leo Lomski, who already has failed to lift the champion's mantle, and Joe Sekyra of Dayton, latest sensation in the light heavyweight ranks. The match probably will be made for late in March with the winner meeting Loughran in a title test in April or May. An injury to Jimmy Slattery's hand has forced the Buffalo challenger from the lists temporarily.

VETERAN PARSON BACK IN TRACK COMPETITION

NEW YORK, Feb. 22. (AP)—The "Flying Parson," Harold Cutbill, returns to the board track Wednesday after six years of competitive idleness.

Declared ineligible in 1923, Cutbill, a full-fledged minister, has been reinstated and begins his come-back attempt in an 800-meter race at the Masonic meet here. In the field will be "Pinkey" Sober of the Holy Name club, who gave Lloyd Hahn a chase in a half mile race some weeks ago; Francis McCloskey of the Boston A. A., for which Cutbill also will compete; and Eddie Swinburne of the New York A. C.

Cutbill made his last start in March, 1922, but has been training hard in recent months.

In a 3000-meter event for the Hirshon trophy, most of the leading two-milers are entered, including Russell Payne of the Illinois A. C.

Roland Locke, University of Nebraska star, will compete in a special sprint series against Bob McAllister, the "Flying Cop," Bob Weise of the New York A. C. and others.

ORCUTT AND VAN WIE WIN IN FIRST ROUND

PALM BEACH, Fla., Feb. 22. (AP) Maureen Orcutt and Virginia Van Wie, respectively from Englewood, N. J., and Chicago, Wednesday continued to show the way in the Florida women's championship tourney, after blazing a path with tied medalists' honors at 77.

Miss Orcutt defeated Virginia Holdaderber, Baltimore, in the first round Tuesday, 4 and 2, while Miss Van Wie eliminated Virginia Forrest, Boston, 4 and 3. Helen Payson, another of the favorites of Portland, Maine, remained in the running by dint of a victory over Mrs. M. A. Luke of New York, 3 and 2. Mrs. O. S. Hill, Kansas City, whose medal score of 78 installed her as a favorite, fell before the attack of Harriet Ellison, Newton, Mass., one up.

TIGERS CHASE JINX IN DEFEATING JAYHAWKERS

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 22. (AP)—Eluding a jinx for the first time in seven years, Missouri has beaten Kansas at Columbia, and, as an added reward, prevented Oklahoma from clinching the valley basket ball title until Friday at least.

Coming from behind after an erratic start, Missouri trounced Kansas, 49 to 29, Tuesday night while Oklahoma was nosing out the Oklahoma Aggies, 37 to 36, at Stillwater. While the Tigers defeated the Jayhawkers at Lawrence this season, it was the first time since 1921 that Missouri had turned back the Kansans at Columbia.

VERNON LIONS TURN TO TRACK AND FIELD WORK

VERNON, Texas, Feb. 22.—With the close of the basket ball season, Coach E. A. Baggett's track prospects have been greatly augmented, and an increased number of cinder path candidates are now in training for the dual meet with the Wichita Falls Coyotes scheduled for March 3. The meet will be held in Wichita Falls.

Coach Baggett has not announced the names of the athletes who will represent Vernon in the various events at the meet.

DUNDEE AND HUDKINS MATCH SET MARCH 23

NEW YORK, Feb. 22. (AP)—Joe Dundee of Baltimore, the titleholder, and his foremost challenger, Ace Hudkins of Omaha, will fight for the world's welterweight championship at Madison Square garden on March 23 if Dundee's long standing difficulties with California boxing authorities are smoothed out in the meantime.

Thursday Is Last Day for Assault on Auto Speed Record

WINTER BOOK CHOICES - by Laufer

Although the Kentucky derby is off in the distant future, those who lay their dough on the line are already plunging heavily—and on Leigh Count!

This sturdy racer of Mrs. John D. Hertz of Chicago, look's to be "the one" for the coming Kentucky classic.

Mrs. Hertz has another heavily backed winter favorite in Anita Peabody, the gallant little filly that was one of the outstanding winners of last year, but Mrs. Hertz says she won't run her filly unless Reigh Count fails to start.

Of course, dope is against Anita Peabody winning. Only once in the history of the Louisville race has a filly won, in 1915, when Regret paraded home ahead of the field.

Winter book favorites don't win always, but that's not worrying the ones who want to get the longest odds possible and who are getting down on the most likely winner at this time.

FRESHMAN MENTOR IN LINE FOR PROMOTION

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 22. (AP)—The Post Dispatch Wednesday said J. E. Davis, Washington university freshman football coach since 1920 probably would be appointed to succeed Robert Higgins, head football coach, who recently resigned. It is understood that Davis will be offered a one-year contract.

Davis in college days was a star back on the Iowa university team prior to entering the service during the world war. He returned in 1919 to become head coach and director of athletics at Kansas Wesleyan university at Salina. The following year he accepted the position of freshman coach at Washington.

WHITE MAKING CHANGES IN 36 CYLINDER MACHINE FOR LAST MINUTE TRIAL FOR NEW MARK

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla., Feb. 22. (AP)—The trio of racing drivers here to attain new heights of speed with their powerful automobiles dedicated to that purpose, must make their official attempts by 5 o'clock Thursday afternoon.

This dictum, handed down Tuesday night by the contest authorities, is subject to variation only if beach conditions arise during the time specified which forbid efforts to eclipse the new mark of 206.9 miles per hour, set up Sunday by Captain Malcolm Campbell of London.

Hours Assigned

Captain Campbell, Frank Lockhart of Indianapolis and J. M. White of Philadelphia, drew lots and were designated certain hours during which their attempts to better all previous marks will be made.

To Captain Campbell went the hours between 1 and 2 p. m., Wednesday and 3 and 4 p. m. Thursday; to Lockhart, between 3 and 4 p. m. Wednesday and 2 and 3 p. m. Thursday.

The three speed pilots also consented to a gentlemen's agreement of officials that for protection of the record holder at this meeting a second official trial for a world's record will not be made at this beach within 30 days. A proposal to extend this time to a year was submitted and will be acted upon Thursday.

White has been busy for the past two days installing a reverse gear in his huge 36-cylindered Triplex Special, to make it conform with American Automobile association standards and thereby make it eligible for a trial.

Neither Campbell, with his Napier Bluebird Special which displaced Major H. O. D. Segrave's record of 203 miles per hour, nor Lockhart, with his comparatively tiny Stutz Blackhawk Special, got their mounts on the beach for tryouts Tuesday.

MUSTANGS CINCH SECOND PLACE IN BASKET CHASE

DALLAS, Feb. 22. (AP)—Southern Methodist university practically clinched runner-up honors in the Southwest conference basket ball race with a 24 to 31 decision over a doggedly-fighting quintet of Baylor Bears here Tuesday night. The Bruins forged into the lead early in the game and at one time held a 10 to 5 advantage.

Strangler Says He Is Ready to Battle 'Em All

Newly Crowned Heavyweight May Be Matched Soon With German Contender.

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 22. (AP)—E. "Strangler" Lewis, jubilant Wednesday in his triumph over Joe Stecher, pledged himself to meet any outstanding challenger for the heavyweight wrestling title, anywhere, any time a suitable offer was forthcoming.

Billy Sandow, his manager, received numerous offers, one of $20,000 from Chicago, for a match with Hans Steinke, the ponderous German. Steinke is recognized as the world's heavyweight champion by the New York Athletic commission and has been seeking a match with Lewis ever since he became a threat in the heavyweight ranks.

Stecher, and his brother-manager, Tony, were not discouraged by the defeat, but they protested mildly over the decision of Harry S. Sharpe, the referee, in awarding the third and deciding fall to Lewis. One of Stecher's legs was off the mat and the other was entangled in the lower rope of the ring when Lewis forced his shoulders to the mat.

No official figures were available, it was estimated the receipts were around $60,000 to $63,000, with a crowd estimated at 6500.

M'GRAW PICKS OUTFIELDER TO TAKE HORNSBY'S OLD PLACE

OTT STATIONED AT KEYSTONE SACK IN WORKOUT; MAJORITY OF CLUBS ARE DOWN TO WORK

NEW YORK, Feb. 22. (AP)—Experts who have been picking Andy Cohen or Andy Reese to play second base for the New York Giants apparently failed to take John McGraw into their confidence.

At Hot Springs, Ark., where the Giants' advance guard is training, McGraw stationed Melvin Ott, utility outfielder and pinch hitter, at the keystone sack.

Wilcy Moore, the "sinker ball" expert, has signed a two-year contract with the New York Yankees. It is generally believed that he is given a substantial increase over the $5000 salary he got last year.

Moore, who put on the "rescue act," for his brother hurlers so often last year that his name appeared in the box scores about as frequently as the regular infielders, won 18 games and lost seven. He leads the league in effectiveness, allowing only 2.28 earned runs per game.

More Cubs Start

CHICAGO, Feb. 22. (AP)—The second section of the pennant-bound Cubs is gathering here to start for the Catalina island training camp Thursday.

There are 18 members of the squad already at work on owner William Wrigley's isle, including a few infielders besides the batterymen. Manager McCarthy relaxed the discipline a bit Tuesday to permit some of the pitchers to put a little stuff on the ball so that some good pitching would be ready for the second delegation when the team is united next Monday.

Hornsby is Spotlight

BOSTON, Feb. 22. (AP)—Rogers Hornsby has taken over in an active way the proffered post of field captain of the Boston Braves. To cement matters the Rajah and Jack Slattery, new pilot, have become roommates at St. Petersburg, Florida.

Hornsby got in a little practice Tuesday and announced that he felt great. "It will take me about 10 days to limber up," he said. He declined to regard his former teammates, the Giants, as his especial foes during the coming season in retaliation for the trade which sent him to Boston. "I'll be trying just as hard against another club in the league," he said. "It's my nature to do my best every time I go to bat."

End of Scandal

CHICAGO, Feb. 22. (AP)—Another baseball scandal, nearly six years old, has been legally squelched. The suit of Sammy Bohne and Pat Duncan, former Cincinnati Reds, for libel because of published insinuations they had been approached by New York gamblers, was decided in their favor Tuesday by Federal Judge Walter C. Lindley. He instructed the jury to bring in a verdict of $50 damages each for the two players against Collyer's Eye, a Chicago publication.

When the players' attorney stated the two athletes wanted only vindication and not damages, the case was quickly closed.

The suit was filed September 7, 1923, and the New York-Cincinnati series on which it was based was played in August, 1922. Commissioner Landis was instrumental in pressing the suit to a verdict, as Bohne and Duncan are now members of the Minneapolis American association team.

The writer of the article testified there was no direct evidence that the players had dealt with the gamblers, but indicated there might be something to it because the work of the players appeared not to have been up to the standard around the time when the charges were made.

Battalions Entrenched

ATLANTA, Ga., Feb. 22. (AP)—Baseball's battalions are entrenched in Dixie, with eight major league squads pitching tents in Florida, while the Cleveland Indians prepared to start work at New Orleans, and the Detroit Tigers were ready to assemble at San Antonio.

John McGraw had his giant batterymen working at Hot Springs, Ark., preparatory to leaving for Augusta, Ga., within a few days, where the entire squad will train.

Four National league squads and a like number from the American already are in Florida.

Of the American campaigners, the Washington Senators were first on the firing range, unlimbering at Tampa for the second day in succession.

Coach Clyde Milan and Trainer Mike Martin are in charge of the squad of 20, with Manager Harris and the first string players due March 1.

The Boston Braves, with an old start in a new setting—Rogers Hornsby—led the Nationals to the training front, matching Washington's zealous activities with similar gestures at St. Petersburg.

Browns' First Work

The St. Louis Browns went through their first real workout Tuesday at West Palm Beach, a new camp. Manager Dan Howley and Coaches Killefer and Jimmy Austin have a full squad on hand.

The Philadelphia Athletics and the Boston Red Sox will get to work Thursday, Mack's men to be again at Fort Myers and the Boston Americans at Bradenton. Tris Speaker is with the Mackmen, Mack also has announced he is seeking Ty Cobb for his outfield again.

The Yankees will arrive at St. Petersburg Friday or Saturday. Burton Shotten, new pilot of the Philadelphia Nationals, had his squad working at Winter Haven Tuesday.

The St. Louis Cardinals have arrived at Avon Park and received greetings from Grover Cleveland Alexander, who has been golfing there for some time. The Cards start training Wednesday.

Cincinnati's Reds were due at Orlando Wednesday night. The Brooklyn Robins will arrive at Clearwater Saturday, being the last of the Florida contingent to get down to drill.

KETONEN TO WRESTLE CLAPHAM NEXT WEEK

Waino Ketonen will meet Sam Clapham, a Britisher of renown, in the feature event of Monday night's wrestling program, Promoter Alec B. Ross announced Wednesday. Clapham is the holder of the light heavyweight championship of the British Isles and the heavyweight title of England, Ross says, and is one of the best men in his division ever to appear in Wichita Falls.

The veteran Ketonen is well known hereabouts and Wichita Falls fans will expect him to hold his own with the Englishman, despite a weight disadvantage.

Jack Gorman and Teddy Waters are slated in a finish match as the preliminary.

TWENTY-THREE COYOTES EARN FOOTBALL LETTERS

A record number of football letters was awarded members of the Wichita Falls High school 1927 team Tuesday when Coach Bud McCallum announced a list of 23 men earning sweaters. Including those receiving reserve letters, the list included 23 names, as follows:

Smith, Duncan Perkins, Howard Scott, Henry Barton, Jim Turner, Chick Chewning, James Harvey, Olan Dickey, Ed Bell, Jack Leggett, Ross Saye, Frank Williams, Dick Hambrick, Gabbert Stephens, Martin Hodgkiss, John Weller and Beelor Pasley, manager.

(AP)—Coach Francis Schmidt's Arkansas Razorbacks finished their conference basket ball race with a perfect record when they defeated the Texas Aggie cagers of Coach Chuck Bassett, 46 to 31, here Tuesday night. It was the twelfth straight win for the Arkansas quintet.

RAIN FORCES DELAY IN SAN ANTONIO TOURNEY

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, Feb. 22. (AP)—Rain Tuesday forced postponement of second round play in the annual Southwestern circuit cup series.

The air corps training center quartet and the Camp Marfa riders were to have played to determine which team will enter the semi-finals with Fort Bliss, Fort Clark and Camp Wood. Semi-final matches will not be played before next week.

In the meantime the first round of the elimination cup play is expected to get under way. Abilene is drawn against the San Antonio Free Booters and Stonewall against the 12th field artillery in the opening matches which were to have been played Tuesday.

VETERAN REFEREE BACK TO OLD STAMPING GROUND

CHICAGO, Feb. 22. (AP)—Ed Purdy, one of the leading referees in New York for many years, has come back home and, after a year's residence, has resumed his officiating in Chicago rings.

Purdy has officiated in perhaps a score of championship bouts, and in the one between Mickey Walker and the late Harry Greb, he earned quite a bit of applause for his own gameness. He fell during the match and dislocated his knee. Snapping it back into place he continued hopping around the ring, and had to pull his knee into place half a dozen times before the match ended.

LONG PASS WINS GAME FOR MITCHELL'S TEAM

Mark up a victory for the "Navy." Ray Mitchell's "Navy" team defeated Duncan Perkins' "Army" eleven Tuesday afternoon in the first of a series of intra-squad games on the spring football program of Wichita Falls High school. A muddy gridiron and a light drizzle failed to detract from the contest, and it was a thriller.

For three periods neither team was able to score, but late in the final quarter the "Navy" put over a long forward pass, Smith to Patton, that produced the lone touchdown of the game.

The other two teams, "Reds" and "Blacks" probably will play their first game next Tuesday.

AMATEUR BOXING SLATED FRIDAY NIGHT AT GYM

Inter-city matches will feature amateur boxing night Friday at The Gym, with Fort Worth sending a bevy of scrappers under the guidance of Duke Trammel to mix it with Wichita Falls amateurs, according to announcement of Promoter Alec B. Ross.

Ten three-round bouts will make up the program as announced by Ross.

The first amateur night last week produced a great program and the fans are expected to show renewed interest this week.

ART GOEBEL WILL FLY FOR ENDURANCE RECORD

BARTLESVILLE, Okla., Feb. 22.—Belief that Col. Art Goebel, winner of the Dole flight contest, may start his proposed endurance flight from Bartlesville was expressed today by Frank Phillips, oil operator and backer of Goebel on his trans-pacific venture. Wichita, Kan., previously had been mentioned as the probable scene of the attempt. Mr. Phillips, who wishes the sustained flight record trial to be conducted here, will have a conference with Goebel in Bartlesville about March 1, he said.

Amateur Rules Too Complicated-Tunney

Nearly Every Branch of Sport Affected by Indistinct Line Separating Amateurs From Professionals, Champ Points Out

By GENE TUNNEY
World's Heavyweight Champion

The recent discussion as to whether or not Dr. Otto Peltzer, the German middle and long distance runner could compete on Amerian tracks, brings up the same old trouble that has caused squabbling in amateur athletics ever since I can remember. I would like to see some action taken this spring toward clarifying international rules on amateur standings and competition.

Track and other sports of less general appeal need boosting and simplification of the rules on amateur standings would go a long way toward making the sports more attractive.

The Olympic games are coming on again and when they are finished there will be another big group of amateur international stars who will be in great demand among the great majority of fans who cannot attend the games at Amsterdam. Four years ago Paavo Nurmi appeared as the world's premier long distance runner and the followers of the tracks were anxious to see him in action. His appearance in the United States helped this form of sport immensely and hard as it is, indoor meets in which he ran did better than break even. But the uproar that resulted as to whether or not Nurmi was being tainted with professionalism more than offset the benefit to track athletics.

One of the results of the Nurmi row was the complicated ruling which applied to Dr. Peltzer and again, when eager fans insisted upon seeing the German speed marvel, conqueror of the Finnish Nurmi and the Swedish runner Wide, the old argument had to be dragged out again and discussed pro and con until the visiting athlete must have felt anything but welcome.

Sorry Welcome

It was almost a foregone conclusion that Dr. Peltzer would be allowed to compete here, for his trip to America has been sanctioned by the German athletic bodies and there was no question about his amateur standing. But all the red tape had to be unraveled, only to be tangled up again for other athletes visiting our shores, to say nothing of American amateurs. Charlie Paddock, Loren Murchison and a host of others all have been hampered by the intricate, patched-up rules.

Billy Fawcett, who captained the winning American trap shooting team in the Olympic games at Paris, said that he had experienced the greatest difficulty in getting his team sanctioned before sailing. One of his best men was lost at the last minute because the officials, conducting a hair splitting probe, discovered that he owned a hardware store out in Minnesota.

"They reasoned," said Fawcett, "that a man who runs a hardware store might keep shot guns for sale and also might accept money for a box of shells now and again. Hence, he was guilty of rank professionalism in the trap shooting game and was utterly unfit to compete with amateur gunners. Another one of my men was crossed off the list at the start because in the winter he somtimes does a little hunting and trapping to fatten up his income. I didn't even try to enter the name of another man who is a blasting expert for a large powder company."

Even Golf

Again, amateur golfers are always being criticized and usually unjustly, while the well known tennis and football upheavals in which C. C. Pyle came out for open professionalism did neither sport any particular good.

Personally I cannot see why amateurism and professionalism should conflict. There rightly should be two divisions but it should also be realized that expense money and incidentals simply have to be paid in either classification, so why make a deep, dark secret of it? Putting the sports which need support on a sensible financial basis does not at all mean that the contestants have to be paid large purses for appearing. Nor does it mean a return to the old evil of hiring "ringers" for college and other amateur athletics, which, of course, was the source of the present complicated rulings.

In the first place I should like to see rules on the subject of amateurism made to fit each sport. The very nature of the various competitions does not permit of their being governed under a blanket code of ethics. Amateur boxing cannot be run like amateur golf, and track athletics do not present the same problems as amateur tennis. Moreover, American athletes visiting in Europe and Europeans competing here are not possessed of the same advantages and a wider latitude is absolutely necessary in their activities.

Case of Caldwell

I should say that an effective set of rules should first be based upon the supposition that the amateur athlete enters into various competitions with perfectly honorable intentions. Instead the spirit seems to be that he is guilty until proven innocent. The very nature of amateurism places a man upon his honor and the establishment of additional petty rules, which might be unintentionally violated, takes most of the pleasures out of being a loyal amateur.

Take for example, the case of Caldwell, the Yale football player who did not realize that in playing for Yale after playing a few minor freshmen games at Brown some years before, he was breaking the rules. A rule which when framed was never meant to apply to a case like this, kept him out of the big games. It is obviously framed to exclude the "tramp" athlete. Who could attempt to call Caldwell a "tramp" athlete? Yet he was disqualified.

If the line between amateurism and professionalism is sharply drawn before the next Olympic games, the next few years undoubtedly will see great developments in international sport and many forms of sports now being more or less neglected will attain the popularity they so well deserve.

WEST TEXAS TEACHERS NOSE OUT TECH, 36-35

LUBBOCK, Texas, Feb. 22. (AP)—In a game nip and tuck from opening whistle to closing gun, the West Texas State Teachers' college Buffaloes pacers of the T. I. A. A. cage race, turned the tables on Texas Tech's Matadors here Tuesday night to win, 36 to 35.

Stung by an unexpected 39 to 29 defeat the night before, the Buffaloes from Canyon engaged in one of their usual stampedes during the first half of Tuesday night's combat, closing the opening session with a 20 to 14 lead. The Matadors came back strong in the second spasm and the lead see-sawed, both teams taking advantage of a one-point lead from time to time to indulge in stalling.

Miss Mary Jane Nelson Leads in Beauty Contest

Misses Mary Jane Nelson, Cliftine Butler, Marjorie Hines, Elna Stovall and several other junior college co-eds stood good chances Wednesday noon to win the 1928 junior college beauty contest, all being rather close together in the number of votes. Miss Nelson came from second place to usurp the leadership of Miss Butler shortly after noon Wednesday, with a lead of about 300 votes.

Rumors of a dark horse (brunette) who might enter the race at the last moment with a good chance to win were prevalent in the school Wednesday morning, as several of the college beauties remained unnominated, and campaign managers were holding out their reserve strength of voting until the last moment. All except new students at the college remember how Miss Isla Cothran came from fourth place to a majority over all other candidates in the last 10 minutes of the 1927 contest, and the whole school is preparing for plenty of excitement.

Proceeds of the contest go to the Wai-Kun, junior college annual, and the winner's picture will be the feature of the "Favorites" section of the yearbook.

LITTLEFIELD CONSIDERED AS GUNTER COLLEGE SITE

LITTLEFIELD, Texas, Feb. 22.—R. O. Connor of Dallas, John R. Freeman of Gunter, president of the Gunter college, and F. A. Johnson of Turkey, the committee appointed to select a new location for the Gunter college, have visited Littlefield three times. They expressed themselves as being pleased with the location shown them, and stated that Littlefield would undoubtedly be in the run-off for location of this school. They are requiring 1200 acres of land, which is being subdivided into small farms, each one of which is to be improved with modern homes and conveniences and with a small pumping plant that will irrigate at least five acres. They state that 100 of these tracts have already been contracted to be purchased, and they feel confident that the school will open next fall with an attendance of about 400 pupils.

MEN'S APPAREL CLUB ELECTS NEW OFFICERS

FORT WORTH, Feb. 22. (AP)—All officers of the Men's Apparel club of Texas were re-elected at the closing session of the club's joint convention with the Texas Clothiers and Furnishers' association here.

The clothiers were balloting on officers early this afternoon. After it has chosen officers, the two organizations will choose the 1929 convention city.

Officers of the Men's Apparel club re-elected are: S. P. Cunningham, Sherman, president; R. C. Aymond, Dallas, first vice president; M. M. Greenbaum, Dallas, national director, and D. F. Taylor, Dallas, secretary-treasurer.

HARVEY GIVES PLEDGE TO AID LESS ACREAGE

The support of the Texas Cotton association in any movement to reduce cotton acreage was promised by R. O. Harvey, representing the state organization, at Wednesday's luncheon of the seventh district of Texas Bankers' association at the Kemp hotel. The Texas Cotton association has pledged itself to cooperate in the reduced acreage movement in every way possible, Mr. Harvey declared, and assured the bankers of the support of the cotton interests of the state.

More than 400 visiting and Wichita Falls bankers attended the luncheon, including the "flying squadron" of more than 75 bankers from every section of the country. W. M. McGregor, president of the First National bank, acted as toastmaster and announced that visitors would be given automobile rides to points of interest during the afternoon and gave assurance that the entire city was at their disposal.

Joel H. McGregor led the singing of "America" and the invocation was asked by Dr. O. L. Powers. William Covington Jr., of Alvord, accompanied by Mrs. O. G. Stephens, gave a cornet solo. The "Sextette from Lucia" was sung by Mrs. Wayne J. Holmes, Mrs. Luella B. Thompson, R. D. Ford, F. P. McDougal, W. E. Young and R. E. Shepherd, accompanied by Mrs. F. R. Collard. Joel H. MacGregor, F. M. Hansen, E. F. Bohmfalk and H. W. Gray, with J. S. Pitman as the accompanist, gave several quartet numbers. "Shay's Blues Chasers" also enlivened the occasion.

Miss Campbell Is Honored at Luncheon Here

Miss Phyliss Campbell, who for several years has been connected with the county clerk's department, was the guest at a luncheon given Wednesday noon in honor of her approaching wedding.

Those with whom Miss Campbell has been associated in her work were hosts at the dinner. Miss Elizabeth Hall, the county clerk, presented the bride-elect a chest of silver as a wedding gift from attaches of the office. The wedding is to occur Saturday.

Miss Campbell is to be married to Lyman Walker, an electrical engineer of Athens, Texas.

Those who attended the luncheon, which was served in the county clerk's office, were Mrs. Lucille Scott, Mrs. Grace Ray, Mrs. Dora Davis, Mrs. Elsie Pruitt, Mrs. Lenna Cottrell, Mrs. Roberta Fletcher and Miss Hall, Lucille Scott and Lora Eichelberger.

GEN. TARRANT'S BODY TO BE BROUGHT BACK TO FORT WORTH CEMETERY

FORT WORTH, Feb. 22. (AP)—The body of General E. H. Tarrant, for whom Tarrant county was named, will be brought back to Fort Worth in March for burial in the pioneer's rest cemetery.

General Tarrant died in 1858 at his farm in Italy, Texas, and his unmarked grave has been faithfully tended by a negro ex-slave. He will disinter the body and accompany it to this city.

Ceremonies will be held at the burial here. The moving of the body is to be supervised by L. W. Kemp, who has been active in locating bodies of pioneer heroes of Texas and has had several moved to the state cemetery at Austin.

General Tarrant was born in North Carolina in 1796 and when very young moved to Tennessee. He served under General Andrew Jackson in the war of 1812 and came to Texas in 1835. After serving in the army of the Texas republic he was in the ranger service.

Washington's natal day was generally observed by the petroleum industry and a majority of the larger companies closed their offices for the day.

Thornton Lomax, after drilling to a depth of 1829 feet, abandoned his No. 1 W. H. Chilson test in block 4, Margaret Ramsey survey, Archer county, in which failure crowned his efforts to uncover the "Lomax pool," has issued a proclamation to the effect that the rig is ready for another contract.

F. H. Gohlke and associates will drill deeper into the sand at 1563-66 feet in their No. 3 L. F. Wilson well, located in Geraldine townsite, Archer county, about 300 feet north of the No. 1 Parrish, or discovery well. The well in its present condition has the earmarks of a 30-barreler.

To E. H. (Hank) Shaw of the land department of the Roxana, February 22 will be a double cause for celebration hereafter, it being the natal day of his country's father and that of E. Henry Shaw Jr. The latter arrived hale, hearty and husky, in the seven-pound class, early Wednesday morning.

Gardner and associates' No. 1 L. F. Wilson in Geraldine townsite, and between the Gohlke No. 3 and Fain-McGaha wells, is drilling at 1230 feet.

The Texas Pipeline company is running oil from its temporary lines in the Loving pool in Young county from the Hill-West lease while awaiting the completion of its new four-inch line from this section now under construction to its Olney station, a distance of eight miles.

The Consolidated Oil company No. 1 R. C. Kinder, located in block 59, Clark-Plumb subdivision, east of Archer City in Archer county, has apparently bored outside the petroleum defines to a depth of 1400 feet and will likely move off to a more favorable location.

In Tuesday's Times, under this column, the writer erroneously reported the abandonment of the Nelson Holding company's location in the Salmon Gann survey, abstract 411, Midkiff lands in Cooke county. The test, which is in wildcat territory, expects to start operations in the near future.

J. F. O'Donohoe of the Petroleum Producers company, with his family, has returned from a two-week sojourn among the waving palms, sandy beaches and salubrious climate of Florida.

Panhandle-Harry Hines No. 1 Peeler, located in block 25, Club ranch subdivision, northwest of Archer City in Archer county, tested some water in a sand at 1533-37 feet and will drill deeper.

Texas company-Consolidated No. 1 G. W. Fields in the Balch survey, Jack county, has reached a depth of 2500 feet and is still boring.

Announcement that the Roberts Poultry store will be opened at 502 Indiana avenue Friday was made Wednesday by Lee Roberts, who recently moved here from Fort Worth. The business will be devoted to the handling of live poultry which will be dressed and delivered upon order, Mr. Roberts said.

CLAY COUNTY WOMAN WINS PROPERTY SUIT

AUSTIN, Texas, Feb. 22.—The supreme court Wednesday affirmed judgment of the court of civil appeals in the case of the Farmers National Bank of Stephenville, et al, against Mrs. Mary H. Daggett from Clay county. Suit was instituted in the district court by Mrs. Daggett to recover title to a part of block 17 in Henrietta. She lost out in the district court, but the court of civil appeals reversed and remanded the case, and this was affirmed Wednesday by the supreme court.

MANUEL BRIDGES GETS TWO-YEAR SENTENCE HERE

A two-year penitentiary sentence from Wichita county was added here Tuesday afternoon to the four-year term recently imposed by a Montague county jury upon Manuel Bridges, charged here with automobile theft.

Witnesses from Fort Worth, Montague, Electra and Wichita Falls were called to testify in the 89th district court in the case here. It was alleged that the automobile of an Electra man, stolen from a Wichita Falls street, was later found in possession of a Fort Worth man who testified he had obtained the car from Bridges.

In Montague county, Bridges was convicted on a charge of burglary. Renne Allred, county attorney of Montague, was in Wichita Falls for the trial Tuesday and said that another charge is pending against the man there.

Bridges was one among several suspects arrested at various times and places following closely a few weeks ago upon the burglary of a store at Sunset in Montague county. An automobile in which some of the suspects are alleged to have been fleeing from Sunset was brought to a stop after officers at Decatur had shot the tires from the machine.

"WHEN WILL THE DEAD RETURN TO EARTH?" TO BE LECTURER'S SUBJECT

In Judge R. V. Gwinn's courtroom Thursday night at 8 o'clock, H. H. Dingus will lecture on the subject, "When Will the Dead Return to Earth?"

Mr. Dingus has delivered this lecture in many cities and towns in the United States, and it is his claim that the majority of the human family will inherit everlasting life on the earth, and that only a small portion of the race will ever go to heaven. He further claims that to get everlasting life on earth, or "glory, honor and immortality" in heaven, it is necessary that a resurrection of the dead take place, and that the reason that the Bible mentions two resurrections is because a part of the race will be in heaven and a part on the earth.

"The heavenly hope, set before the true church class, is called by the Apostle Paul: 'The prize of the high calling of God in Christ Jesus,' while the earthly hope set before the rest of the race is called by the Apostle Peter: 'Restitution of all things, spoken by the mouth of all the holy prophets since the world began.' Restitution will mean for the race a restoring back to condition of perfect manhood, which Adam possessed in Eden," Mr. Dingus declares.

The lecture is free.

AT THE THEATERS

Entertainment of High Quality for Majestic Patrons

Not so much music but plenty of good entertainment is provided for the vaudeville program at the Majestic Thursday and Friday of this week. In fact, it is an exceptionally well balanced bill and one that is certain to please.

According to the argument that two heads are better than one, two Havels are better than one. Arthur Havel succeeded quite by himself in reaping bountiful harvests in the field of fun. Arthur's brother, Morton Havel was a very good farmer of the same sort and they decided to plow the field together and for this purpose they secure a little piece called "Oh Uncle." Their game is fun and they are experts at it. Assisting them is Helen Lockhart and Denise Dooley. Arthur and Morton Havel throughout the piece are doing their old antics with a few new ones for good measure.

Marie Vero

There are innumerable roads to the stage. Some are long and steep and then again there are a few short cuts. Those of course are far and few between, that to travel them is to journey to romance. Marie Vero just made such a trip. In a twinkling she was transferred from classroom to stardom. Marie Vero is a 16-year-old school girl with a phenomenal coloratura voice.

Massachusetts Twins

Two pretty, amiable and intelligent girls are Mary and Margaret Gibb, the Massachusetts twins, born joined together, and life to them is just as happy as it is for any normal girls anywhere. They are accomplished pianists, singers and dancers, and are the only linked twins able to fox-trot, waltz and two-step with partners. In appearance, vivacity, talent and general charm and intelligence, the Gibb twins excel any other similar cases of human beings joined together, and aside from the peculiarity of their physical bond they have enough to offer in the way of entertaining ability to make a success in the field they have entered.

Hap Hazzard

Hap Hazzard is an "extra added detraction," a detraction that has just the opposite effect. Hazzard attempts almost everything and succeeds at almost nothing. But the single success is sufficient to establish him as an exceptional gymnast. In the parlance of vaudeville, Mr. Hazzard's last act is a surprise. It begins as one thing and ends as another. In the beginning, Hap Hazzard demonstrates himself as a comedian of great ability and at the end, as one of the most expert of wire walkers.

Bee Torelli's Ponies

Bee Torelli's Ponies are not ponies at all, they are a group of intelligent dogs, cleverly disguised appearing in costumes, like so many well bred little horses. Torelli's training has been most accurate. It is said that his canine charges have been trained to the extent that their gait and general behavior is more that of a pony than of a canine. The featured player is King-Dog but as a matter of fact, they are all featured players.

On the screen, Lew Cody in "Wickedness Preferred," comedy and Paramount news.

Shot at Wife's Grave

PARIS.—Kneeling in prayer while his wife's body was being lowered into the grave, M. Parisot, Algiers business man, was instantly killed by pistol bullets fired by his brother-in-law. The slayer immediately surrendered to the police, but refused to divulge the motive of the crime.

LIONS CLUB TO STAGE BARBECUE CALL FIELD WEDNESDAY EVENING

Members of the Lions club will gather at the home of their president, Dr. R. H. Graham, at Call field Wednesday evening to stage a chicken barbecue as the final event in an attendance contest recently held by the club.

The team piloted by Roy E. Carter lost the contest and as a penalty was forced to give a chicken dinner to E. F. Bohmfalk's winning side. An agreement, made by the two team captains, forces Mr. Carter, as losing chieftain, to roll Mr. Bohmfalk around the field in a wheelbarrow.
