FD SAYS FREE PRESS UP TO NEWSPAPERS

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 15—President Roosevelt had today placed upon newspapers the major responsibility for maintaining a free press, in a letter he wrote for the sixtieth anniversary section of the St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

The president cited the Post-Dispatch platform written by the late Joseph Pulitzer Sr., "as the ideal for which all American newspapers should strive." This platform carried daily at the masthead says in part that the Post-Dispatch "will always fight for progress and reform, always remain devoted to the public welfare, never be satisfied with merely printing news, always be drastically independent, never be afraid to attack wrong, whether by predatory, plutocracy or predatory poverty."

DIRECTORS, COUNTY MEET NAMED LAST MONDAY

At a meeting of the Coryell County Interscholastic League Monday evening, the main business of the Executive Committee was the appointment of directors for the various events at the county meet this spring.

Those appointed were as follows: Director General, C. T. Humphries; Declamation, A. E. Whisenhunt; Debate, E. D. Shelton; Extemporaneous Speaking, B. O. Grant; Spelling, Mrs. Carl Eubanks; Ready writers, Mrs. J. P. Reesing; Rural Schools, W. D. Stockburger; Athletics, Virgil Jones.

Director Jones also named directors of the different athletic events and divisions, but we have not received a list of these.

Senior Boy and Girl basketball coaches met last night to make arrangements and schedules for the basketball play off, which will be completed before the county meet opens.

JACKSON & COMPTON ARE NOW IN NEW QUARTERS IN NAT'L BANK BLDG.

Jackson and Compton, insurance representatives moved yesterday to their new location on the second floor of the new National Bank of Gatesville building on the northeast corner of the square.

This firm, which has been in Gatesville, since 1909, has a suite of rooms, with a reception room, and a private office for each of the principals in the firm. In addition, Mr. Compton, who has established a reputation as a hunter of note in these parts, will have a separate room for his trophies.

Friends and business associates of this firm are extended a cordial invitation to visit them in their new home, and on Tuesday, when the National Bank of Gatesville celebrates their opening, these gentlemen will also have open house and extend a special invitation to all visitors to visit them on the second floor.

COUNTY SCHOOL BOARD TO MEET MONDAY IN COURTHOUSE

According to an announcement received from County Superintendent J. M. Witcher's office, there will be a meeting of the Coryell County School Board at the courthouse, Monday, December 19 at the usual time in the district court room.

Routine matters affecting the schools of the county will be taken up at this meeting, according to our informant.

COUNTY COURT DISPOSES OF ONE CIVIL SUIT WEDNESDAY

Wednesday in Court, the case of H. H. Howell vs. C. A. Morse, Suit for Debt, was judged in favor of the defendant, C. A. Morse.

Judge Zeigler said Thursday, there were a number of small misdemeanor cases which were to come up. Most of these were petty thefts, drunkenness, and other small charges. Most of the defendants were expected to enter pleas of guilt, and pay fines for the offenses.

W. J. Thompson Jr. was a Hamilton visitor Wednesday night.

HORNET CLUB BANQUET IS HIGH LIGHT OF SOCIAL SEASON

Coach Morley Jennings, Head Coach of Baylor University was the "headliner" at the Annual Lions Club Hornet Football Banquet Tuesday evening, which was attended by some one hundred and fifty people.

C. E. Alvis Jr., billed as "Referee" acted as Toastmaster, Rev. S. L. Culwell, Head Linesman, Miss Rebeckah Wilcox was the Announcer, Erle Worley and Ernell W. Brooks were Chairmen. H. K. Jackson substituted for Pat Holt as Timekeeper and the Water Boys and entertainment feature of the evening were John Easley Jr., Clarence Nunn, Gledell Brown, and W. L. Hasty, all colored, who furnished the rhythm and spirit.

A little behind-the scene work in radio was given out by "Butter" Schley, Steve Lindley, and Miss Rebeckah Wilcox. Just a bit of broadcasting about certain swans and swishes.

During the evening, the menu, which disappeared quickly, was composed of grapefruit cocktail, baked turkey, dressing, sweet potatoes, green beans, pineapple salad, rolls, coffee and minced pie.

John Albert Lester was presented with a medal from The Gatesville Messenger & Star-Forum as the Most Valuable man on the '38 Squad, Horace Jackson making the presentation.

Coaches Earle Worley and Fred Schwartz, and the Pep Squad Sponsors, Misses Ernestine Durham and Louise Hall were presented gifts by the fans and pep squad for their part in making the 1938 season the success it was. Out of town visitors were Sam Boyd, All-American end from Baylor University, who accompanied Coach Morley Jennings, and Mrs. Roy Townsend of Big Springs who was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Horace Jackson.

Coach Jennings, outlined briefly the history of football from the "beef trust" of the period of 1903 and afterward, on up to the open and very much less dangerous game of 1938. Safety, Coach Jennings said, is paramount in the minds of the National Rules Committee, Association of Coaches, and Association of Officials, when they meet to make rules for the game.

The United States, he continued, is divided into districts, equal representation is had from these districts for the meet and the game is discussed from every angle as it effects every district. With this thoro going over, the boy of today is in much less danger on the football field than he is riding in an automobile on the highways of the nation.

COUNTY H-D COUNCIL MEETING SATURDAY

Saturday, December 17, the Coryell H. D. Council will meet at the Jap Arnold home at 1111 Main, Gatesville for its annual December meeting.

Current business will include material given at the Waco Recreation training school attended by the H-D agent and Mrs. Paul Skinner, introduction of new council members, a demonstration on wrapping gifts, and next year's program.

WORLEY ANNOUNCES 1938 HORNET LETTERMEN AT BANQUET

During the banquet Tuesday, Coach Earle Worley announced the lettermen on the 1938 Hornet Football Squad, which included the following: Bayne Blankenship, Owen Edwards, Bob Foster, Horace Jackson, Jan Jones, Duncan Kirkpatrick, John Albert Lester, Bill Morgan, Billy McBride, Ben McDonald, John Frank Post Jr., Glenn Perryman, Joe Reece Robinson, Bruce Weaver, and the two managers, Pat Bone and D. I. Campbell Jr.

Letters were also awarded to the Football Sweetheart, Treva Davis; Banner Carrier, Frances Brown, and the Pep Squad Leaders, Flo Gene Martin, Martha Ann Powell, and Betty Burdett.

In reviewing the 1939 Squad, Coach Worley said there would be six lettermen on the '39 squad to start with, baring scholastic difficulties.

Besides the lettermen, a number of good prospects are coming up from Coach Fred Schwarz' Junior High School Squad.

MAN SAYS HIS CAR KILLED TWO BUT POLICE DOUBT HIM

KANSAS CITY, Dec. 15—Pearson C. Wattle, 38, insisted under severe grilling Wednesday that he was the hit-and-run driver who killed Mrs. Joseph Lorson, 64 and her 10-year-old adopted daughter last week.

Wattle surrendered at headquarters, apparently intoxicated, officers said, and they were skeptical of his story, in which they found many flaws.

Will Rogers' Humorous Story

By WILL ROGERS

IT'S hard to tell when a prize fighter intends to foul the other fellow. There's always a lot of difference of opinion about it. There's bound to be at least one guy that claims that there wasn't any foul. That's the guy that done it.

They tell about a big fighter that knocked another one cold in the ring. There was a lot of excitement, and the fellow that was still on his feet strutted around to his corner. "When is that palooka going to get up?" he says.

"Dunno," says one of his seconds. "There's some trouble, you know."

"Well, he can't say I fouled him, anyhow!"

"No, he can't for a couple of hours yet. But the referee can. You forgot to hit him."

ELABORATE CELEBRATION TO BE STAGED ON OPENING DAY

At 4 p. m. Tuesday evening of next week, the National Bank of Gatesville, the new combination of the old Gatesville National Bank and the First National Bank will officially open its doors for a nonparall celebration marking this incident in the history of this bank in Gatesville.

The celebration will be continued until 8 p. m. that evening, and probably, even longer since, it is expected the many friends of the institution will fill the time to overflowing and it will probably be necessary to keep the bank open even later.

As to the program, information is, there will be none. People of Coryell County, Gatesville and environs have been especially invited to be present at this opening, and it is safe to say, many representatives from banks throughout Texas will be present at the opening.

Refreshments will be served and souvenirs will be given to all those who attend the opening.

Officers of the bank are Dan E. Graves, Chairman of the Board; Leake Ayres, President; J. P. Kendrick, Executive Vice-President; Andrew Kendrick, Vice President; Dawson Cooper, Cashier; Chas. McGilvray, Assistant Cashier; Bailey Curry, Bookkeeper; Minnie Lou Witt, Stenographer, and Waldine Wharton, Bookkeeper.

Directors are R. M. Arnold, Leake Ayres, M. Blankenship, C. F. Caruth, H. S. Compton, Dawson Cooper, R. B. Curry, Dan E. Graves, J. P. Kendrick, Byron Leard, R. E. Powell, Morton Scott and Mrs. Vivian Straw.

The bank, plans for which were drawn by Birch D. Easterwood, well known central Texas Architect, is modern and up to the minute, and besides the banking part of the building, the second floor is renewed for a series of offices of other individuals in that part of the building.

A more complete and technical description of the bank, and a brief history, will be carried, if possible, in Tuesday's issue of the News.

Tuesday the bank will be closed for business, due to the fact that the "moving" will in process, but will re-open for the official opening at 4 p. m. that day.

Business will be resumed, regularly, Wednesday, the 21st.

SPORT SCRAPS

By JONES

It would be very hard to pick a better "Most Valuable" man than "John Albert" as he is affectionately called by his teammates.

Incidentally, his comrades in battle named him for this honor. Which, in our estimation, makes it even more valuable.

All eyes are following the basket now, and one coach has used the famous nonsense song "A Tisket, A Tasket, who's goin' to hit the Basket!", to garner more baskets. Don't know if it would work or not.

During the past week end, this was too much of a sportsman's paradise, there were two basket ball tournament that attracted, and some sixty or more fighters. There was certainly a cross-fire of interests. We could all see more. if there was a bit more care in billing or "dating" the events, so that the dates would not conflict.

A suggestion would be, as soon as you can name a date for your event, do so, and then, everybody else lay off.

Down at Waco, Wednesday evening Jack Purcell, World's Champion Badminton player put on a show. They say it's a dandy game.

It's played with a sort of a tennis racket, and the best description we've heard, is a tri-cross between table tennis, volley ball, and tennis. It's a gym game.

Saw a small sample of it at the Baylor gym this fall, and would liked to have seen Mr. Purcell.

Yes, football fanatics have an opportunity to a State Semi-Final High School Championship game in Temple between that team and Corpus Christi Saturday afternoon. That's the only attraction except

(With apologies to someone)

A GOOD EDITOR is one who has never made a mistake; who never has offended anyone; who is always right; who can ride two horses at the same time he is straddling a fence with both ears to the ground; who always says the right thing at the right time; who always picks the right horse as well as the right politician to win; who never has to apologize; who has no enemies, and who has worlds of prestige with all classes, creeds, and races. There has never been a good editor.—Minnesota Press.

A MECHANIC is a man, who knows a great deal about a very little, who goes along knowing more and more about less and less, until he finally knows practically everything about nothing.

Whereas, a SALESMAN, on the other hand is a man, who knows a very little about a great deal, and keeps knowing less and less about more and more until he knows practically nothing about everything.

A SERVICE MANAGER starts out knowing practically everything about everything, but ends knowing nothing about nothing, due to his association with MECHANICS and SALESMEN.—Captain Dick.

IT AIN'T RIGHT, OR IS IT?

A dentist who has been doing business himself in Gatesville has been forced by the State to quit—it's a law. Our information is, that he can't have two offices in different towns. It that right, or isn't it!

Wouldn't it be the same if a farmer had a farm in two counties? This particular party is Dr. Baker. He pays office space or rent here, does the work himself, but is only here, one day a week. If he had a 'hired' dentist, that might be different. Anyway it's some more of the 'interference' from our very own state government.

The Patrons of one dentist, may or not be the patrons of another, and this, is probably the case in this instance.

This, ladies and gentlemen, is a "hangover" of the recent law against "advertising dentists" and "Chain Anythings" which was jammed thru a recent legislature.

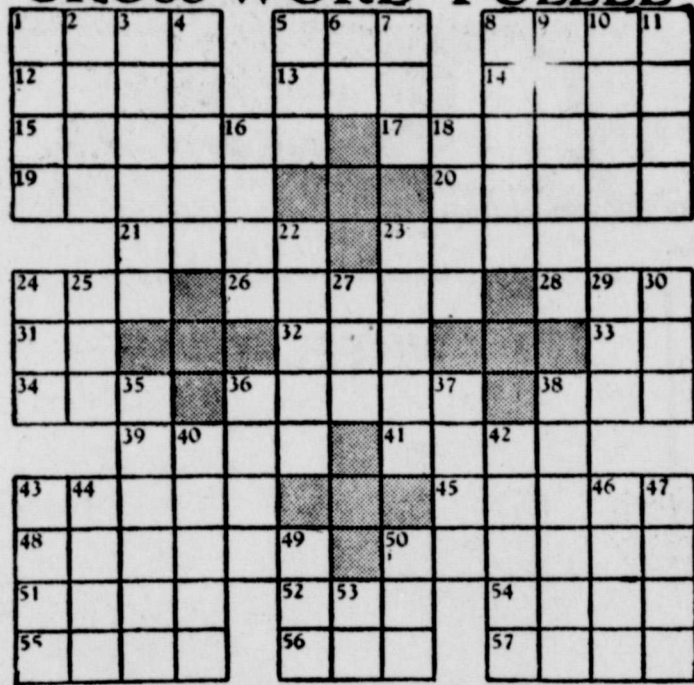

It is an attempt to break up "bigger" businesses, while at the same time, there is no "bigger business" than the very own people who are trying to bust these things up—the government itself.

Looms Produce Many Materials

This photograph taken in the Ford Exposition building at the Texas Centennial in Dallas shows a loom producing materials for Ford V-8 cars. The exhibit collection of soft, pastel-colored materials for ladies' gowns shows the wide range of manufacturing processes engaged in by Shelton Looms, a co-exhibitor of the Ford Motor Company.

Feminine visitors to the Ford exposition building at the Texas Centennial in Dallas are often surprised to learn that Shelton Looms, one of the co-exhibitors of the Ford Motor Company, manufacture soft, pastel-colored materials for ladies' gowns as well as a complete line of upholstery material for automobiles.

Shelton's exhibit shows how mo- velvet, the most popular up- erty material for motor cars, is n. Also a number of brilliantly ed pieces of material are dis- ed. Probably two of the most ul materials are La Loie s and Crystelle, which are y noted dress designers ened into gowns by many of the leading manufacturers of the country. La Loie Splendour is a translucent velvet, while Crystelle is known as needlepoint velvet.

Furniture fabrics also are made. Kinkimo is probably the best known material made by Shelton Looms.

A large loom is operated at regular intervals weaving two pieces of fabric at one time, one at the top and the other at the bottom. This is called "double-shuttle" weaving or weaving "face to face."

Weavers in charge of the Shelton Looms exhibit in the Ford building explain not only the manufacturing of the automobile upholstery but also the wide variety of gown and dress materials on display.

SERVICES AT HURST

Regular worship is announced for Hurst on Sunday afternoon 2:45. Rev. Ed Bayless will preach.

METHODIST CHURCH NOTES

The Sunday school attendance last Sunday set a new high record. There was present the largest attendance in three years so the secretary reports. The church attendance was also encouraging.

Our program of worship next Sunday includes special Christmas observances at the church hour and a full evening of music at the evening hour. The choir will present their Christmas Cantata, "Star of the Christ Child" at 7 o'clock Sunday evening. This is a beautiful arrangement of Christmas music. The choir has made thorough preparation and with the many well trained voices under the direction of Miss Mayo the music is delightfully inspiring and beautiful. You will miss a great treat if you fail to hear it.

The pastor will speak at the morning hour using as his subject "The Humanity of Jesus". We think so much about the divine nature of our Lord we are prone to forget He was also human and therefore able to understand and sympathize with our human nature. Do not forget Sunday is our Special Orphanage Day. The church membership is urged to make a special effort to be present in all the services next Sunday, including the church school at 9:45 with an other record breaking attendance and church worship service morning and evening. The public has a most cordial invitation.

SPECIAL CHRISTMAS MUSIC AT FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH SUNDAY EVENING

"The Music of Christmas" is the title of the Cantata to be sung by the choir of the First Baptist Church Sunday evening at the regular evening service hour, 7:30. The public is cordially invited to attend this, as well as all services of the church.

It is the custom of Baptist churches all over Texas to receive an offering for Buckner Orphans Home in Dallas, at the Christmas season. A love offering will be received at this particular service. This home is one of the most worthy institutions fostered by Texas Baptists. They lean quite heavily on the Christmas and Thanksgiving offerings every year, coming from churches all over the state. We are happy to remember them at this time.

UNITY PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH TO INSTALL NEW OFFICERS

Ordination and installation of an elder and two deacons is announced for Sunday morning at the Unity Presbyterian Church, Turnersville. These men, duly elected by the congregation in meeting four weeks ago, will be inducted into office at the hour of morning worship.

Martin Clary will be ordained ruling elder; Everett Williams and Emmet Hollingsworth will be ordained deacons; and then all will be installed as officers in the local church in a ceremony similar to the ordination and installation of a minister.

Rev. Ed Bayless, the pastor, will preside at the ordination service and preach a sermon on the subject, "The Macedonian Call".

At the evening worship, 7:00 o'clock, the pastor will preach a Christmas sermon.

PRESBYTERIANS ANNOUNCE PROGRAM FOR XMAS WEEK

The following program is announced for the First Presbyterian Church during Christmas week:

Sunday December 18: Sunday School, 9:45. Frank Kelso, superintendent.

Morning Worship, 11:00. Christmas pageant. "Unto Us a Son is Given."

Vesper Worship, 5:00. Sermon by the pastor, "The Day Called Christmas."

Wednesday December 21, 7:00 o'clock. Last of the Bible studies from Isaiah dealing with references to the coming Christ.

Subject of the study, "The Golden Passion" (Isaiah 53).

Friday December 23, 7:00 o'clock Christmas tree for the Sunday School. There will be a brief program, and Santa Claus will hand out gifts to the children present.

Christmas Day: Sunday School, 9:45. Classes regular, with special Christmas lesson about the Christ child.

Morning Worship, 11:00. Special Christmas music. Sermon by the pastor, "Peace, Good Will . . . ?"

Vesper worship, 5:00. Brief worship to close the day. Message by the pastor, "What Have They Seen in Your House?"

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

A Christmas pageant, "Unto Us a Son is Given," will be presented at the First Presbyterian Church Sunday morning at 11 o'clock. The church will be darkened and colorful lighting effects will be developed, to bring out the beauty of each scene presented.

The pageant will be given in the form of a series of living pictures. A reader will give the Christmas story as recorded in the Bible, together with explanatory remarks. At appropriate places the curtains will open revealing scenes from the nativity story: A chorus of women's voices will sing Christmas hymns suggestive of each scene presented.

List of the "living pictures" to be presented includes:

Scene I: The Annunciation.

Scene II: The Magnificat

Scene III: No Room in the Inn

Scene IV: Away in a Manger

Scene V: Gloria in Excelsus
Scene VI Adoration of the Shepherds

Scene VII: The Visit of the Magi
Under the directorship of Mrs. R. W. Ward and Mrs. E. S. Bayless, and assisted by Mesdames L. M. Stinnett, Claude Byrom, Frank Kelso, and P. H. Olsen, the pageant promises an hour of both worship and entertainment.

The hours for Worship will be regular during the day: at vesper worship, 5:00 o'clock, the pastor will bring a message entitled, "The Day Called Christmas." This will be a discussion of the history of Christmas as a special day and will deal with such topics as: the name "Christmas"; development of the date; attendant customs, such as trees, feasting, candles, etc., and Santa Claus.

COZY AND COMFORTABLE THE YEAR-ROUND

Here is a recipe for good living that your architect can help mix up in a jiffy: To almost any porch, add a generous expanse of insulux glass blocks, several bright rugs, some incidental furnishings, a few comfortable chairs and perhaps a sofa with pretty colored slip covers. Mix well with ingenuity and a dash of good taste—and there you are! A cozy, comfortable sun room that is bright and cheery yet always private and secluded because the glass blocks, being translucent but not transparent, admit light not sight.

The beauty of this sun room is that it does not have to be abandoned when wintry winds begin to blow. Its atmosphere is bright and cheerful at any season because the glass block walls not only usher in a wealth of natural daylight but have insulating properties that aid in keeping the room pleasantly cool in summer and comfortably warm in winter.

FRANCE WILL FIGHT BEFORE SURRENDERING ONE INCH OF TERRITORY

PARIS, Dec. 15.—Foreign Minister Bonnet told applauding members of the Chamber of Deputies foreign affairs committee Wednesday that both Italy and Germany have been warned that France would fight before she would cede an "inch" of her territory.

Members of the powerful committee quoted him as saying Italy must understand "she will never have an inch of any part of French territory no matter what means she uses."

The warning was given point by Navy Minister Cesar Campichi, who told the navy committee that despite the Italian arms program and delays in French building, the French navy was stronger than that of Italy.

Bonnet told the foreign affairs committee he had made France's position clear to the German foreign minister, Joachim von Ribbentrop, during Von Ribbentrop's visit to Paris Dec. 6 to 8, and he had won German assurances that the Nazis were "not interested" in the Mediterranean.

Italian Foreign Minister Count Galeazzo Ciano, Bonnet said, also was given France's views, with the warning she would not give up any of her empire, even if it meant war to oppose giving it.

Ciano was said to have replied that his government was not responsible for "spontaneous" Fascist demonstrations in the Italian Chamber of Deputies and on the streets of Italian cities and the anti-French campaign of the Italian press all hinting Italy would like more rights in Tunisia, French North African protectorate.

A communique issued after the committee meeting said Bonnet also had outlined a three-point plan for refugee relief:

1. Establishment of some refugees in French colonies.
2. Admission of other to France in proportion to the numbers the United States and Great Britain would accept.
3. Organization of a special committee to aid abandoned children.

Concerning the Spanish Civil War, Bonnet said that he had impressed upon Von Ribbentrop France's desire to see foreign volunteers withdrawn under the London non-intervention accord, and that the German foreign minister had replied only about 3,000 German volunteers remained in Spain.

Bonnet told the deputies recent reports of a German sponsored movement for an autonomous Ukraine were "exaggerated".

(Polish Ukrainian deputies have asked for autonomy under Poland's constitution. There are Ukrainians also in Czecho-Slovakia and Russia.)

Under questioning by the committee, Bonnet said there was no point in hiding the fact that the Chinese-Japanese war was a real danger to European interests in the Far East.

Departure from Paris Wednesday of Yotaro Sugimura, Japanese ambassador to Paris, although ostensibly for "reason of health", recalled the delicate relations between France and Japan. Going back to Tokio, Sugimura has asked his government to relieve him of official duties, the Japanese embassy said.

While Japan has repeatedly protested the alleged arms traffic between French Indo-China and China, the French have become increasingly disturbed by Japanese threats to her possessions and commercial position in the Orient.

Campichi told the chamber's navy committee that between 120 and 130 warships now are under construction although suffering delays of as much as a year because of strikes. He said 22 new seaplanes had been ordered from the United States.

JOURNALISM STUDENTS AT TCU NAME HITLER AND GERMANY

FORT WORTH, Dec. 15.—Hitler and Germany dominated the news of 1938 just as they dominated the affairs in Europe. At least that is the opinion of students in the Department of Journalism at Texas Christian University here.

These students, asked by Prof. J. Willard Ridings, department head, to select the "Ten Best News Stories of 1938," decided that Hitler's actions made the top three stories of the year.

Altogether the students nominated 37 stories in their lists of the "Best Ten," indicating that 1938 has been a year of important news breaks.

The Hitler stories—ranking one, two, three—were: The Munich Pact, the annexation of Austria, and the persecution of the Jews.

Big news breaks that polled heavily in the voting but failed to find a place in the first 10 included such items as the new U. S. defense plan, Los Angeles flood, labor troubles in France, Pan-American Conference, California forest fires, wage-hour law, C. I. O. A. F. L. labor war, civil war in Spain, and others.

The students' "Ten Best" list, with typical comment is as follows.

1. Munich Pact. The Czech crisis could have (and may yet) involve the whole world in another war. A new balance of power and a new map of Europe.

2. Hitler's Annexation of Austria. The greatest territorial conquest, without resort to arms, of modern time. Hitler's "trial balloon".

3. Hitler's Persecution of the Jews. One of the most appalling instances of intolerance in history. Interest appeal involves American love of fair play and equal opportunity, as well as instinctive sympathy for the under dog.

4. Japanese War on China. A slaughtering conquest that also finds Americans on the side of the under dog. World trade repercussions will be far-reaching if Japan succeeds. For one thing, it may spell the doom of the American cotton farmer.

5. Corrigan's "Wrong Way" Flight to Ireland. The American public loves dare-devil adventure and practical jokes. When the two are combined they make page 1 headlines for weeks.

6. New England Storm. The major disaster of 1938 in the U. S.

7. Howard Hughes' Flight around the World. A great and daring piece of work for the advancement of aviation.

8. Roosevelt's Purge and the elections. Government and politics have been steadily increasing in news value. The President's participation made this year's elections top news.

9. Mexican Seizure of Foreign

Oil Properties. Economic interests, diplomatic relations with a neighboring country, and European entanglements (because of Mexican oil sales abroad) are all involved here.

10. "Men From Mars" Radio Broadcast. A revealing incident as to the state of nerves in this country. Real terror combined with ludicrous incidents. The most unusual page 1 story of the year.

So stated Larry Boyd Burke handsome 25-year-old ranch hand, in his jail cell Wednesday after his amazing "design for living" arrangement with his latest two pretty 18-year-old brides was revealed.

Found in a hotel room where he and both schoolgirl wives had been living together in perfect harmony, Burke nonchalantly admitted having married both, and brightly added the revelation that as far as he knows he also is married to a third girl.

"They're all swell kids," he remarked.

Still wanting to know "what is this all about" were the two most recent Mrs. Burkes, Evelyn Hop-ping, a statuesque blond, and Lillian Olivera, of Modesto, a petite brunet.

Both are held for investigation. Police found them in bed in the hotel room, chatting gaily together. Burke arrived later from his labors as a milker at a ranch near Alvino.

Arraigned on a bigamy charge, he was returned to jail in lieu of $5,000 bail pending a preliminary hearing Monday.

RANCH HAND LIKES ALL 3 WIVES, BUT PREFERS 1 WED WHEN SOBER

O'DANIEL TELLS OF VISIT WITH AUTOMOBILE MAGNATE

DETROIT, Mich., Dec. 15—Texas' Governor-elect O'Daniel, who came to Detroit Wednesday to discuss the industrialization of his State with Henry Ford, described his meeting with the motor magnate "very profitable."

"I learned a great deal about industry in the two hours I talked with Mr. Ford. I found him keenly interested in the development of the vast natural resources of my State."

As an evidence of Ford's interest O'Daniel said that the magnate had asked him to submit samples of iron ore found in Texas. O'Daniel said that he had pointed out to Ford that Texas would be the logical place to build a tractor plant, because of the vast agricultural domain.

O'Daniel said that he was surprised at the keen interest Ford took in the problems of the State, and he said that time and time again he found himself being questioned. One of the questions he was asked was about labor troubles, O'Daniel said.

"I told him we didn't have any in Texas. All a man wants in my State is a job," O'Daniel said.

In discussing the agricultural resources, Ford asked about the

O'Daniel, who is making a tour of the East and North with his wife, Molly, his 16-year-old daughter, and Carr P. Collins, Texas insurance man, waited almost four hours to talk with Ford. He was met by Ernest G. Liebold, a Ford executive, with whom his party had lunch. After lunch he was met by Ford, who talked to him in his office at the Administration Building for two hours, while Mrs. O'Daniel and her daughter toured Greenfield Village.

After the meeting, Ford sent for O'Daniel's possessions, which were at a Detroit hotel, and invited him and his party to be his guests at Dearborn Inn. After attending church services at the Martha Mary Chapel in Greenfield Village, Thursday, the party will go to Akron as guests of Russell Firestone.

O'Daniel said that Ford made no comments about establishing a branch plant in Texas. There are two Ford branches in the State, an assembly plant at Dallas and a branch plant at Houston.

PLAY "PETER BE WARE" AT ATER TONIGHT AT SEVEN-THIRTY

Tonight at Ater, Purnela Dramatic Club will present the play "Peter Be Ware" at the school auditorium there.

Cleo Huckabee is the director, and the proceeds will be for the benefit of the school. The public is invited to attend and enjoy the fun.

"INSURERS" BET IT WON'T SNOW FOR COTTON BOWL GAME

Odds of 24 to 1 were quoted by the United States weather bureau today against snowfall for the third annual Cotton Bowl football game.

And odds of 17 to 8 were quoted for good weather during the entire period of the Cotton Bowl Jubilee in Dallas, December 30-January 2, the cotton industries committee learned. The committee is building a spectacular dramatization of King Cotton as a colorful background for the Cotton Bowl battle between the Red Raiders of Texas Tech and the Galloping Gaels of St. Mary's, which will be played Monday, January 1.

Records of the U. S. Weather Bureau at Dallas since its establishment 25 years ago show only one snow fall at New Year's, Two-tenths of an inch on Jan. 1, 1919. There have been traces of rain at New Year's only eight times during the 25 years, and rain fall on New Year's Day has never exceeded .75 of an inch. The average minimum temperature at New Year's in Dallas is only 34 degrees.

William H. Jones, general chairman of the cotton industries committee, dug into the weather data because many of the groups involve out-of-doors spectacles for King Cotton.

The prickly pear, a form of cactus native to the U. S. southwest, has spread so widely in Australia as to cause widespread concern.

LEVITA SCHOOL NEWS

About two week ago there were smiles, joyful remarks from the pupils when they moved into their new building. Each teacher has been in a spirit of work, with the help of the students in getting things into perfect readiness for finishing a school term that will be of great success.

The new building consists of five class rooms, each with built in cloak rooms, laboratories, with perfect lighting system, and base plugs for radio and visual aid equipment. The Gymnasium is a combination Auditorium and gymnasium, equipped with two dressing rooms, stage, and chair seating features. The office is an attractive place for the keeping of school records and filing system.

The contractors: Davis Bros. from Ireland lost only one half day from work from the time of beginning till the finishing. Their work is a credit in any building. The beautiful rock veneer work was laid in a manner of graceful lines and skill by Mr. Graves Bates. In this building he has a masterpiece of work.

This building was built for practical use and service to the school boys and girls, as well as the community. The board of trustees spent their unlimited time and efforts, in making the best available building for the financial means with which to use. The Trustees are to be highly commended, for their service rendered for the school district.

The play grounds will be adequate for one of the best in the county. There is space on the new location for base ball, volley ball, and out door games.

Tuesday night December 20, the dedication program will be given in honor of the new building and to the advanced step in art promotion of education. State Deputy Mr. A. M. Tate, will be there, as well as many local county school men: Supt. Brooks, Dickerson, Lemmons, with the County Supt. J. M. Witcher. Who gave his untiring efforts and advice in the construction of this hall of education, still doing service for the schools, as that seems to be one of his principle duties to the field of education.

Every one is invited to be present at the dedication program. And on Friday night the 23 be with us again, and on this occasion Santa Claus will be making little boys and girls happy. Every one is invited to join the Christmas tree Celebration.

"THE ARKANSAS TRAVELER"

By GEORGE CROSSITT

Novelized From the Paramount Picture Starring

BOB BURNS

FAY Bainter · JOHN DEAL · IRVIN S. COBB · JEAN PARKER

SYNOPSIS

When a Constable (Irvin Cobb) of a small western town informs him that there is a job open on the local paper, the Arkansas Traveler (Bob Burns), a hobo printer, decides to take it.

CHAPTER II

"SORRY I frightened you, son," the Traveler apologized. "Mebbe I can help you with that type-setting." As he spoke Arkansas tossed his coat over the back of a chair, picked up the stick, pegged the copy above the type case and expertly started setting type.

The boy watched the Traveler's deft fingers. "I guess you're a printer, all right," he said. "What's your name?"

"Oh, I get called a lot of things but most of my friends call me Traveler. What's your name?"

"Benjamin Franklin Allen," the boy said proudly, "but most folks call me Benny."

"All right, Benny—"

The Traveler's words were cut short by the entrance of Mrs. Allen, a sweet-faced woman in her early forties. She halted as she spied the stranger. "Oh . . . How do you do," she said. "I'm Martha Allen."

"Howdy, ma'am," the Traveler said awkwardly.

"His name is Traveler," Benny broke in excitedly. "And can he set type, Mom?"

"Do you want work?" Mrs. Allen eagerly asked.

"No, ma'am." Then as he saw the disappointment on Martha's face, the Traveler added. "But I reckon I could conquer myself—for a while."

"I'm both the editor and publisher of The Record, Mr. Traveler. My husband founded the paper—and since his death we've been trying to carry on. But we've had a difficult time keeping printers. The wages are not much, of course, but if you'd like to stay, I would like to have you work for me—"

"I'll help you out for a while, ma'am, but don't count on me stayin' too long," the Traveler answered. "There's somethin' inside me that a train whistle just throws into an uproar—then I just gotta get on and ride . . . Why, I've seen the time it got so strong that if there wasn't any other way to get on the darn thing, I've actually gone so far as to buy a ticket!"

And so the Arkansas Traveler became a member of the Record family—and almost a member of the Allen family. But the Traveler continued to live with his friend, the constable in the city jail paying his daily rate and passing long, gossiping evenings over a checker game with the town's representative of the law.

From the constable and other town gossips, the Traveler learned that the recently widowed Mayor Homer Daniels, although ostensibly one of the leading business men of the community, was in fact only the tool, both politically and in business matters, of the real boss of the town, Matt Collins. The latter had an interest in almost every successful business in the community, controlled the local bank and dominated all civic affairs.

The Traveler learned one other piece of local gossip: Three years before Mayor Daniels' only son, Johnnie, had quarreled bitterly with his father and left town, vowing never to return again. And it was the kindly constable who added that "it was a shame Johnnie and Judy Allen didn't get married before he left—they been sweethearts since they was little tykes."

Between young Benny Allen and the Traveler there sprang up a quick and deep friendship. It amounted to hero worship on the part of the youngster and to the childless, older man the boy presently became al-expression caught his attention. "Am I too late?" he said agitatedly.

"Yes, Johnnie," Martha said quietly. "Nearly a month too late."

"Oh!" There was silence for a moment. "Did she suffer much?"

"No, Johnnie. I guess she was tired. . . . She just closed her eyes and went to sleep."

Johnnie's face was bleak with pent-up emotion. Then pulling himself together, he said:

"Well, I better get along."

"But aren't you going to see your father?"

"I didn't come back to see him, Mrs. Allen. Goodbye. And say hello to Judy."

The Traveler had been a frankly interested listener to all of this con-most a son. Together they would take long walks into the countryside when their work on the Record would permit.

Judy Allen, Martha's attractive, nineteen year old daughter, also won the affection of the Traveler although he speedily discovered a stubborn streak in her that not infrequently made him want to spank her and send her to her room without her supper.

It was on one of their country rambles that Benny and Arkansas noticed a tall figure striding purposefully toward town. It was Benny who recognized him.

"Hi, Johnnie—Johnnie Daniels," the lad yelled and ran to greet the newcomer. "Where you been? Judy's missed—I mean we've all missed you. Come on with us—this is the Traveler, Johnnie—and let's go see Mom. Gee, she'll be glad to see you."

"My goodness, it's good to see you, Johnnie," Mrs. Allen said as the three entered the Record office. "Come in for a minute."

"Really I can't stop, Mrs. Allen," Johnnie said reluctantly. "I want to get to the house as quickly as possible." Then something in Mrs. Allen's version. As the tall figure strode away in the direction of the railroad, Arkansas watched young Daniels' retreat in deep thought. Suddenly he came to a decision. Whipping off his printer's apron, he hurried away without a word of explanation.

"Now where is he going?" Mrs. Allen mused as she started to read proof on the Record's anniversary number which is soon to go to press. If the Traveler walked out on her now—Martha Allen shivered a little at the dread thought.

In the tall shrubs alongside the railroad track, Johnnie Daniels waited for the late afternoon freight train—the same train that had brought the Traveler to town. Suddenly the constable and the Traveler appeared between Johnnie and the railroad track.

"There he is, constable," the Traveler said, pointing at Johnnie. "That's the man that stole my watch out of my coat while he was in the Record office this afternoon. I demand that you arrest him and hold him for trial. My uncle swapped a 1921 Maxwell for that watch—and that makes it grand larceny!"

THE OGLESBY WILDLIFE PRESERVE ASSO. ORGANIZED

By Frank Simmons

The Oglesby Wildlife Preserve Association was brought into being on the night of December 7th, 1938 when a large number of farmers, interested in the preservation of our valuable natural resources, gathered to sponsor some way to protect, and increase our wildlife species common to this area. On the night named above County Agent Mr. Guy Powell was here and directed the organization of the Association. Officers for the ensuing year were elected as follows—J. C. Fox, president; J. B. Foster, vice-president. Frank Simmons, sec.-treas.

After an interesting talk by Mr. Powell a committee to draft a Constitution and by-Laws was appointed as follows—High Davis, F. A. Morris Jr., and Walter Witte, this committee was assisted by Mr. J. C. Fox and Frank E. Simmons, and met in the home of High Davis on Monday night drafted the instruments of government for the Association. These Constitution and by-Laws, although conforming to the rules and regulations of the State Game, Fish and Oyster Commission; the State A. and M. College Extension Service, and the United States Biological Survey, are flexible enough to guarantee ampy protection to the flocks of domestic fowls owned by the many farmers who have become members of the association, from the ravages of predatory animals, in that the trapping season for fur bearing animals will be allowed to continue in accordance with State regulations; except that hunting with hounds will be discouraged. The Association elected that the rules and regulations of government shall become effective December 15th. Hunters should be particularly careful as to whose lands they shoot on, from that date on. Since we have approximately 25,000 acres in the protected area, that are signed into the Association rulings, it would be best to consult the owner of the land before shooting upon it. This area extends well north of highway 84, west of Coryell Creek, south of Leon River and to, and across the east Coryell County line, and many individual farms beyond this area.

PLAINVIEW 4-H CLUB

On December 2, the Plainview 4-H Club met with Miss Gibson. Our sponsor was not present on account of illness in the family. The house was called to order by the president and the minutes were read and approved. There was no old business.

Miss Gibson showed use the difference in sandpaper, and told us how to take the old finish off of the furniture and how to put them on again. She also told us which kind of sand paper to buy for this purpose. The coarse sand paper which is No. 1 is the kind to use in taking old finish off the furniture. Miss Gibson talked on home-made Christmas gifts also.

We then drew names for our 4-H Club Christmas tree. We also filled out our General Goal, which will be our Christmas party or Christmas tree.

There were 19 present and 4 absent.

ATTENTION, DAIRYMEN

MAKES MORE MILK

Most dairy feed is balanced to the muzzle of a cow—but the New Cow Chow is balanced for the udder. It's the result of a two-year experiment at the Purina Research Farm, showing that the richer a feed is in Milk-Making Therms, the more milk it produces. These are units of net energy in a feed. Some therms are used up in performing the work of digestion. Others are used up in body maintenance. Those that are left over are Milk-Making Therms that go to make the milk in the aveoli of the udder. . . . The New Cow Chow looks different . . . it is different! And when you feed it to your cows you are going to see the difference in milk production! Come in and get some this week. You'll be glad you did when you see your cows go for it—and you see the extra milk in the pail!

THIS WEEK in OGLESBY

By FRANK SIMMONS

Dr. H. H. (Harry) Muirhead who was born at Eagle Springs, but who has spent 29 years as a Baptist Missionary in Brazil, spoke at the First Baptist Church Sunday morning. Dr. Muirhead delivered an interesting sermon to his hearers. Many of our citizens knew Dr. Muirhead in his boyhood, and early manhood. Some of them were his school mates, here and at Eagles Springs in the dim distant past, and of course were glad to renew old acquaintance.

S. W. Martin of Hamilton, was here visiting his children, and old friends. Come again S. W.

Clem Perkins, a former resident of this place, but recently of Moody, had the misfortune to have his house, and all of its contents, destroyed by fire.

A shower was given, in the interest of the J. M. Moonys, at the Baptist Church, to collect materials to replace those that were burned when the Moonys lost their house, and its contents by having them burned.

Frederic Green was home from A. and M. to visit his parents, the G. I. Greens.

Alex and Mrs. Baker were visitors to the Speight Air Port at Waco Sunday and witnessed the stunt flying put on by the air birds. The saw an air plane crash into a truck, with disastrous results.

Christmas signs showing up everywhere, evergreens, mistletoe, striped candy and Christmas cards, and greetings of all sorts. Old Santa Claus is just such a good soul that no difference how recalcitrant we've been thru the previous years, he's coming around and deposit a little Christmas cheer to our credit.

C. H. Graham and wife visited their daughter, Mrs. Clyde Baker in Troy Sunday. They also went to Hillsboro to meet their relatives the O. F. Petersons.

Farland Hollingsworth of Earth was a recent visitor in the Tom Morrow home.

Maston Allen of Grand Prairie was a recent visitor here.

Miss Wilma Harrell of Waco spent the week end with home folks.

Bernard Fudge of Oklahoma City was a Sunday visitor in the Lee McCoy home.

John Huskerson of Dallas was a recent visitor in the Guy Huskerson home.

Misses Vivian and Edith Pardue were week end visitors to McGregor.

Miss Margaret Russell spent the week end in Waco.

Miss Margaret Porter was shopping in Waco Saturday.

Jim Stamford and wife of Seymour were Sunday visitors in the Lee McCoy home.

PRISCILLA CLUB MEETING

Priscilla Club members were entertained in the home of Mrs. Lonnie Flentge on Wednesday afternoon December 7. The afternoon was spent in quilting and embroidering. The quilt being completed, plans were arranged for the Christmas program. Refreshments of sandwiches, cookies, and hot cocoa were served to the following members: Mesdames J. D. Feggette, R. C. Dyess, A. B. Williamson, Bob Alford, Parker

Hirsch, W. E. Hayes, and the hostess. Visitors were Mrs. C. L. Robertson, Mrs. J. C. Bunnell, Misses Ashie Lee Bales and Mary Dyess.

Next meeting will be held with Mrs. W. E. Hayes on the 1st Wednesday in January, 1939.

"Aside from its purely business and emergency uses, the telephone is something that every member of the farm family can use and enjoy. It keeps Mother in touch with her friends and neighbors and the social activities of church and school. The children plan their dates and parties, and visit one another by telephone. And, of course, they all profit by its time and money saving services. If you are thinking of a gift for the whole family, and haven't a telephone, get one."

"FALSE GODS" GRAVE HUMAN PROBLEM

ANALYZING the "false gods of our own creation" which separate us into "nations and classes and sects so that we stumble and grope instead of walking straight and sure into our place in life," Celia Caroline Cole in the October issue of Pictorial Review classifies the little deities through which we become scattered and full of failures.

"Strange are the gods that scatter us," says Miss Cole. "Lack of quietness, separation, resignation, self-limitation, sense of duty, certainty, appearances, lack of enjoyment, ignorance, on and on—how wide is the gate which leads to futility."

The author places lack of quietness first "because it is only the quiet, seeing mind that observes true values. Those of you who make a daily practice of quietly listening, know what amazing results come of it. It is the practice of being one-pointed, of using pure concentration."

Miss Cole points out that the god of separation scatters more subtly than do other false deities for he deceives with lovely names.

Dwight L. Moody once said, "If there is a single drop of sectarian blood in my body, I shall let it out before I sleep tonight. If I have in my head one sectarian hair, I shall pull it out now." My church, my country, my family are among the little gods of separation which lead to the belief that we are somehow noble in our sense of possession. "If you stay down there on that plane of possessiveness, you stay down on the plane of war, of greed, of hatred, of fear. Come up to a higher level where you know that the pain of any country is the pain of your country, any church is your church . . . where you owe your family all the loyalty and harmony and love you can give it, but you owe all that to your neighbor, too."

Our vision of life's purpose is worthless unless it is worked into life itself, according to Miss Cole. We deliberately shut off that vision with these little gods of our own creation—such gods as resignation, which forces us into compromise on our goal; self-limitation, which "scatters us into restless, shallow, meaningless ways and values"; duty, which "scatters us into hard little resentments that sap us like parasites" when it should make us strong and serene; reason which "often keeps us from being one-pointed for it is not the power in us that gets results—what gets results is the place just beyond it, the lighted place of convinced faith"; appearances, which "scatters our strength both by belief and by denial"; lack of enjoyment, which robs us of our lust for life; ignorance, which scatters our energy most of all, because "it encompasses all the rest, for as we lose ignorance, we lose all desire to outshine other people, to possess many things, to separate ourselves from others as being a little superior to them; to separate ourselves from God as being human and frail."

Strange are the gods which scatter us.

Answer Call For Twins

Denton, Texas—Sixteen sets of identical twins and a half dozen "singles" whose twins were not in school answered the call of President W. J. McConnell for the formation this fall of a "Twin Club" at the North Texas State Teachers College.

Included in the group were 3 faculty members, Miss Donnie Cotteral of the physical education department, and Mrs. Georgia Collins, secretary to the Dean of Men, and Robert L. Marquis Jr. of the education staff.

Marquis was a member of a twin club formed by his father, the late President R. L. Marquis, at the North Texas in 1934-35. There was another twin organization at the Teachers College in 1924-25.

More recently N. T. S. T. C. has gained wide "twin publicity" because of the accomplishments of its four famous trackmen, Wayne and Blaine Rideout and Delmer and Elmer Brown, who set a world's indoor medley relay record at Madison Square Garden. The Browns have finished their eligibility, but the Rideouts, shown in the picture above will carry the Eagle colors again this year.

Second row: President McConnell; Donnie Cotteral, James and Lillian Currie, Fort Worth; Joyce and Doyce Greer, Vernon; Quana and Quentin Barber, Martins Mills; Susie Simms, Brownsboro; Georgia Collins.

Third row: Wayne and Blaine Rideout, Denton; Dan and Jim Campbell, Cleburne, Woodrow and Wilson Holbert, Denton; James and William Neale, Moody; May Morris, Lewisville; Bob Marquis.

Fourth row: Herbert and Hubert Riley, Lake Dallas; Marion Phillips, Denton; Robert and Young Sloan, Greenwood; Alton and Valton Redwine, Petrolia; Carl and Victor Hoeffner, Henrietta; Claude Everett.

G. G. DICKSON LIKES SCS ON HIS FARM NEAR HERE

"Strip cropping and contour tillage, fitting into a terrace system, surely suits me and my land," says Mr. G. G. Dickson of near Gatesville, who is cooperating with the Soil Conservation Service and the CCC Camp at Gatesville in order to put into effect erosion controlling practices on his farm, located near Moshier.

Mr. Dickson continued by saying "When we started to get this program into practice, making the strips fit the terraces and practicing crop rotation, it seemed somewhat complicated and I thought it probably would be hard to keep in practical use from year to year. But a thorough explanation by the technicians as we proceeded with the work soon showed me how simple and practical the whole program would operate. Cultivating these long curving strips is practically the same as working level land, and is a simple, natural practice that I should have been following for years."
