INDICT "FAT" ARBUCKLE

MAINLY ABOUT PEOPLE

By H. N. F.

"Things have changed considerably down in Texas," writes a New York correspondent. "Will Hogg, son of a famous Texas governor, was discussing Texas with a choice group of actors and newspaper men in the St. Regis dining room. 'When a man reaches for his hip now down there you do not know whether it is a threat or a promise.' Will Hogg should know better. When a Texan reaches for his hip it is time for the other fellow to shoot—just as it was in the good old days. Very unwise is the man who carries his kerchief in his hip pocket. Its proper place is in the right hand coat pocket. The hip pocket custom has a strong hold away down here in Texas. State Senator T. W. Davidson of Harrison county made an attempt at the regular session of the legislature to stamp it out by law. His bill was put to sleep. There were too many of his colleagues who are opposed to the assassination of any more of the 'land marks of the fathers.' This hip pocket movement or defense in murder cases was invented by the fathers many decades ago. Four-fifths of the Texas law makers are lawyers; Davidson is a lawyer; more than one-half of the four-fifth are for the ancient landmarks of the fathers, some of the traditions of the fathers and most of the practices of the fathers. The moral of this tale is that if you have a row with a man and brother keep your left hand over your heart and your right hand high in the air. If you fail to do this and he shoots you in the back there will be witnesses for the defense to prove that the man in his grave was guilty of a hippocket movement and died with his boots on. Will Hogg is a millionaire. All three of the Hogg boys and their sister are 'just tolerable, thank ye.' Not long before his death their lamented father on a hunch given by an old negro who idolized him, purchased a large plantation down in the Brazos river country. His three sons and daughter did not sell the place. Years rolled on and oil scouts visited 'the diggins.' What happened is ancient history. Petroleum was discovered and gushers came in and for two or three years the sons and the daughter of the greatest constructive statesman Texas has ever known took down, rumor hath it, $200,000 a month in royalties. This placed Will and Tom and Mike Hogg and their sister, Miss Irma, on Easy street, near the top of Quality Hill where the velvet grow and the man who worries never ventures. Will Hogg has many of the traits of his father; he has much of the ability of his father but he was robbed of the advantages his father had in early boyhood. James Stephen Hogg was a wage earner in a printing office at twelve, a law student at eighteen, a justice of the peace before he was twenty and every dollar he had made up to the time that he hung out his shingle was made by and in the sweat of his face. This is a splendid start in life for a youngster. He knows the value of a dollar; he gets to be an excellent judge of the traits of character and the follies and foibles of his fellow men; he has to hustle for all he gets and most of the fighters of the world are educated in the College of Exnerience and they acquire their primary training in the School of Hard Knocks. Will Hogg was robbed of these early advantages and this has kept him from being Governor of Texas. He is one of the foremost champions of education, a stalwart friend of Texas University, has all the equipment necessary to hold a high office, and is backed by a very wide acquaintanceship the state over.

Congressman Fritz G. Lanham has returned to Fort Worth. Fritz is a product of Parker County and an adopted citizen of Tarrant. This is what he told the Fort Worth Kiwanians: "The United States has a practical monopoly of all the helium in the world. Since the period during the war the cost of producing the helium has been reduced from $1,700 a cubic foot to less than 6 cents a cubic foot. I think that the people of Fort Worth should take a great deal of pride in the plant here and should familiarize themselves with the plant and the factory and its output." Helium isn't a liquid. It isn't sold at a bard or a soft drink stand. It isn't an ice; it isn't a game of chance; it isn't a prize fight or a wrestling match; it isn't to be found at the packing houses or the stock yard. Fritz is a humorist as well as congressman.

"The oil industry in this country will be in a pretty bad shape unless the oil tariff is passed." Senator J. W. Harreld of Oklahoma said it to a bunch of reporters who boarded his train at Amarillo. He further said that a tariff on oil importations was the only salvation for the independent oil producer. Senator Harreld was on his way to Silver City, New Mexico to speak in support of the election of O. H. Bursum. When Harding called Albert B. Fall to his cabinet Bursum was appointed to the senate by the republican governor of New Mexico. A special election to fill the senatorial vacancy has been ordered and O. H. Bursum is the republican pitted against R. H. Hanna, the democratic nominee. Harreld is a republican; he is a protectionest; he knows that oil is to be kept on the free list by a republican congress; he knows that the champions of a tariff on oil importations had fair sailing until President Harding made public his famous letter in which he buried the white house knife deep in the back of the organization

CLAY COUNTY WILL VOTE ON ROAD BONDS

Commissioner Sets October 1 as Date for Election on Proposed $2,000,000 Election.

With Issue Approved and Roads Built, Paved Communication With Fort Worth to be Reality.

Special to the Record News.

HENRIETTA, Sept. 13.—On October 18, Clay county tax payers will vote on a bond issue for $2,000,000 with which to give Clay county a system of paved and otherwise improved highways.

This was decided Tuesday morning when such an election was ordered by the Clay county commissioners' court without a dissenting vote.

The bonds will bear 5 1-2 per cent interest, and will be 30 year serial bonds.

The commissioners ordered the election after petitions asking for such an election, with more than 800 signers, had been presented by J. S. Dickey, chairman of the recently organized campaign committee for the good roads issue. This election, the successful issue of which Mr. Dickey and his fellow workers expressed confidence in, is the outgrowth of several months agitation on the part of the Henrietta Chamber of Commerce, with the prompt joining and backing of the residents of Byers, Petrolia, Bellevue, Charlie and other towns of the county.

Confident of Success

While confident of the success of the issue, the campaigners are not minimizing the difficulty which may confront them, opposition from residents of outlying communities in the county being one of the chief of these. The fact that Montague county on one side of them has a system of good roads, and that Wichita County on the other side is building a system of paved highways, with Wilbarger county still beyond on that side, and Wise county on the other, moving in the same direction, will be put forward as one of the main issues in the campaign. The desirability of undertaking public work in times which are comparatively quiet is another issue which is expected to be a big one.

In the course of the campaign figures to show just what the issue would mean in taxation to each individual are expected to be prepared and disseminated. A strong effort to convince outlying communities of their benefit from the sysem will also be made.

To Outline System

While the roads to be improved with the proceeds of the bond issue are not specified in the election, they will be determined upon before the election and all committed to a definite program of road building as the result of the bond issue, Mr. Dickey said.

To this end a conference with representatives of the state highway department, at which it will be determined which roads can carry state and federal aid, and consequently be constructed to least cost, will be held in the near future. Any system which will be devised, it is expected, will call for the paving of both branches of the main east and west highway across Clay county, hooking up with the Wichita and Montague county systems.

In addition to Mr. Dickey, as chairman, the central committee has A. V. Slagel as secretary and W. S. Caldwell as treasurer. A publicity committee with Edley Cox as chairman, and with W. E. Edwards, A. V. Slagel, L. C. Kelly and A. B. Stagg as the other members, were named for the carrying of the campaign through the newspapers. M. Dickey was named chairman of the speakers committee.

HAD $100,000 BUT DIED IN DREARY LITTLE ATTIC ROOM

By Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Sept. 13.—"French Sal," 84, who died yesterday in a dreary little attic room, was found today to have $100,000 in stocks hidden in her room. For years she begged from the well-to-do near her home and dispensed philanthropy to the poor. Her true identity is not known.

WILL OF NEFF'S MOTHER IS FILED

By Associated Press.

WACO, Texas, Sept. 13.—The will of Mrs. Isabella Neff, mother of Governor Pat M. Neff, was filed for probate here today. Governor Neff is named as executor without bond. The estate is valued at $15,000.

DETAIN M'DOWELL FOR TEXAS OFFICERS

NEW YORK, Sept. 13.—Federal Commissioner Hitchcock today held for the Texas authorities Frank McDowell, former officer of the Graham National Bank, Graham, Texas, who is wanted there on a charge of embezzling $35,406 from the institution. McDowell was arrested at a hotel here as a fugitive from justice.

STAR OF SILENT DRAMA SITS SILENTLY AS REEL OF TRAGEDY IS UNWOUND

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 13—An indictment charging Roscoe (Fatty) Arbuckle with manslaughter in connection with the death of Miss Virginia Rappe, was voted late tonight by the San Francisco county grand jury.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 13.—Roscoe (Fatty) Arbuckle, motion picture star, was a silent spectator today at the inquest into the death of Miss Virginia Rappe, an actress, with whose murder he is charged. The inquest was not concluded and will be resumed tomorrow, it was announced, when it was proposed to summon Miss Zey Prevost and Miss Alice Blake, show girls, who were guests of Arbuckle on the afternoon of September 5 at the party in a local hotel where it is alleged Miss Rappe received injuries which resulted in her death.

Their testimony was not offered today at the inquest in order that they might first appear before a special session of the county grand jury tonight. The grand jury last night considered the Arbuckle case but adjourned without completing its work.

Miss Prevost was a witness at last night's session of the grand jury and District Attorney Matthew Brady today announced she then told a story which differed from the statement she had given his office of circumstances attending the Arbuckle party. Brady said he was conducting an investigation to learn if any inducement to change her story had been offered Miss Prevost.

Sits In Rapt Interest.

Arbuckle, the central figure, sat in rapt interest at the inquest today while Mrs. Bambina M. Delmont, friend of the dead actress and her companion at the Arbuckle party, testified. The alleged attack was detailed by Mrs. Delmont as she has detailed it a number of times before. She told Coroner T. W. B. Leland in response to question, that although she had taken several drinks of whiskey her memory had remained clear.

"Roscoe hurt me," Miss Rappe said, according to the witness. The girl's clothing was torn, she testified, and she seemed to be in great agony.

Mrs. Delmont admitted having brought liquor up from Los Angeles in the automobile which her party drove here. She said, however, that Miss Rappe did not touch this liquor.

During Miss Rappe's illness she tried to induce Arbuckle to visit the girl, but he refused to do so, she said.

Refuse To See Her.

Mrs. Delmont was followed by Ira G. Fortlouis, a salesman who attended the party and by Semnacher, who was Miss Rappe's manager. They denied being present when the alleged attack took place, but Semnacher testified that he returned to the party in time to see Miss Rappe lying in great pain on the bed. He afterward visited the girl, he said, and she told him:

"Roscoe hurt me." Arbuckle's mood throughout the day was one of indifference to everything but the weaving out of the story of the tragedy in the inquest.

He paid no attention to newspaper photographers snapping him from all sides and disdained the many questions that were asked him by newspaper and other interviewers.

Roscoe (Fatty) Arbuckle was taken before federal prohibition director, Forest E. Mitchell today in answer to a citation ordering him there to tell where the liquor alleged to have been consumed at his party was obtained. Mitchell questioned Arbuckle closely and the only answer he was able to get was "never had any."

Arbuckle was questioned nearly one hour and then taken back to his cell.

FIND BODIES OF RAILROAD MEN

By Associated Press.

WACO, Texas, Sept. 13.—The bodies of F. W. Leatherberry and M. Robertson, officials of the Santa Fe railway, missing since Sunday, were found a mile from the trestle of the railroad in Little river near Cameron. They were inspecting damage to the railroad in a small boat when it was upset and both men drowned.

Two prominent men of Cameron, Bailey Turner and H. C. Sullivan, are missing and are supposed to have perished in the floods.

RAIL GROUP PLANS MAY BE ADOPTED

Would Place Wichita Falls on Principal Routes of World's Greatest Railway Systems.

Wichita Falls would be on the principal route of two great railway systems, one dominated by the Santa Fe and the other by the Southern Pacific, if the latest plan for the grouping of railroads into larger units permitted under the transportation act, is adopted by the interstate commerce commission. The present grouping plan was drawn by a national railroad authority for the interstate commerce commission, and details of the plan are given in a recent issue of an eastern publication.

Under the proposed plan there would be 20 groups. One of these would include the Santa Fe, Colorado Southern, Fort Worth and Denver and Trinity and Brazos Valley. The last three named, tributaries of the Burlington system, would give the new system a direct route from Denver through to the Gulf. Wichita Falls of course would be directly on this route. Another group includes the Souhtern Pacific, the Rock Island and several minor lines, with the M. K. & T., an alternate member of the group—the latter being considered a more logical member of the group than the other one suggested for it.

The dominating roads of the two groups are noted for their high class management and methods of operation and with the acquisition of the lines suggested, would form well rounded railway systems which are expected to make for economy of operation as well as for the upbuilding and advancement of the weaker roads taken into the group.

The transportation act provides for a maximum of about 20 systems, and is safeguarded so that competition can not be eliminated through the grouping. Whether these groups as suggested will get any further than the stage of discussion is not known, but it is evident from visits of higher railroad officials in Wichita Falls that the grouping question is proving one of absorbing interest among higher railroad men.

FALL FROM WINDOW FATAL TO YOUNGSTER

By Associated Press.

WAXAHACHIE, Texas, Sept. 13.—Fada May High, 18 months daughter of R. E. High, was fatally injured here today when she fell from a second floor window of the Texas Baptist Orphanage. She had been placed in the window to play, unfastened the screen and fell into the yard below. Death came in 45 minutes.

ORDERS PROBE OF KU KLUX OF KLANSMEN

Florida Jurist Sitting in New York Admonishes Grand Jury to Investigate Masked Societies.

"* * * One May as Well Ask What Difference Between United States and Bolshevistic Russia."

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Sept. 13.—Judge William B. Sheppard of Florida, sitting in federal district court today told the federal grand jury it had the power and authority to investigate secret societies which are reported to be interfering with the constitutional rights of citizens.

"Any organization," he said, "which holds its meetings by the light of bonfires in secret places, and the members of which wear white suits and masks, which attempts to prevent orderly citizens from enjoyment of their constitutional rights, freedom of speech, conscience and right of trial by jury is a prior subject for investigation by a grand jury. Because such behavior on the part of a secret society is a conspiracy and the law can be brought to bear upon them."

Continuing his charge, Judge Sheppard said:

"There is a law here that can be brought to bear upon any groups of people or secret organization which administers justice in the woods.

"It is not within the province of secret societies to say who is or is not a desirable citizen. When they, by a demonstration of power seek to prevent others from the enjoyment of their constitutional rights they are amenable to prosecution in the federal courts."

Judge Sheppard remarked according to newspaper reports, "there is a certain organization now in existence the members of which are undertaking to censor the conduct of their fellow citizen."

"When you get to that state of affairs, one may well ask what difference there is between the United States and Bolshevism in Russia," he added.

MRS. MALLORY WINS FIRST MATCH IN EASTERN TOURNEY

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 13.—Mrs. Molla Bjurstedt Mallory, womans national tennis champion, easily won her first match in the middle states tennis tournament, which began on the courts of the Philadelphia cricket club today. She defeated Mrs. Gilbert Harvey, Philadelphia, 6-0, 6-1, after the latter had won from Miss E. Sherwood, Philadelphia, in the preliminary round. Miss Eleanor E. Sears, Boston, defeated Mrs. A. Sauers, Harrisburg, Pa., 6-1, 6-2. Miss Virginia Carpenter, Philadelphia, defeated Mrs. C. Blanchard, Boston 6-1, 6-4. Miss Molly Thayer, Philadelphia, won from Mrs. W. Ellis, New York, 6-0, 6-2.

In the doubles, Miss Mary K. Brown, California, defeated Miss Anne Townsend and Miss Phylls Walsh, Philadelphia, 3-6, 7-5, 6-3.

HOLD THIRD MAN FOR MURDER OF JAMES M'NEAL

By Associated Press.

BRECKENRIDGE, Texas, Sept. 13.—A third man wanted in connection with the murder last week of James McNeal, Fort Worth service car driver, 16 miles west of Fort Worth, was arrested here early today. He confessed complicity in the crime, according to District Attorney Claude McCaleb.

After signing the alleged confession, the man, who is about 18 years of age, was placed in an automobile and, heavily guarded, started for an unknown destination. Mr. McCaleb stated the confession was substantially the same as that made by two men already in custody at Fort Worth.

PIONEER CATTLEMAN CLAIMED BY DEATH

By Associated Press.

DALLAS, Texas, Sept. 13.—Captain D. H. Snyder, 88, pioneer Texas cattleman and church worker, died last night at his home at Georgetown, telegrams to relatives here announced today. He was one of the original organizers of Southwestern University at Georgetown.

AS FLOOD WATERS SUBSIDE VICTIMS AMASS IN NUMBER

By Associated Press.

TAYLOR, Texas, Sept. 13.—As the flood waters of the San Gabriel river and Brushy Creek recede in Williamson and Milam counties the list of dead now amounts to eighty-five. However, all reports are unofficial and made by messenger or people passing through the inundated districts. The limited telephone and telegraph facilities of the smaller surrounding communities were almost completely wiped out by the flood and tornado.

The flood victims were found mostly along the San Gabriel river, a usually peaceful stream that rises in Burnet county and crosses Williamson and Milam counties to empty into the Little river. Brushy Creek took the toll of life south of Taylor.

The newspapers here compiled the list of dead. While the newspaper men said that all of the dead reported had been reliably accounted for, they could not vouch for the exactness of the list. However, attempts at verification proved almost futile but the few that were verified stood as reported. Names were available in only a few instances.

The majority of the dead are Mexicans, with negroes next in number and Americans being the least toll of the streams.

Late today Major David R. Nelson, farm agent for a local bang, returned from the Youngstown community, fourteen miles northeast and reported that twenty-seven Mexican farm laborers had drowned in the San Gabriel. He said that a Mexican had swam the river to tell him of the death of his neighbor. Newspaper men were of the opinion that these Mexicans included the twenty-two that drowned on the Bowers farm nearby. However, there was no way to verify the report.

The newspapermen also believe the forty-five bodies reported found at Thorndale were drowned near here and floated down th San Gabril.

The belief is prevalent in Taylor that the total loss of life will reach 100. As the debris is cleared away from the banks of the streams more bodies are expected to be found.

Sleep in Graveyard.

TAYLOR, Texas, Sept. 13.—A nightly graveyard is ordinarily an unpleasant thought, but last Friday night the families living on the Henry Hamilton farm near here cheerfully accepted the protection of a graveyard.

One of the Mexicans living on the place could not sleep on this night. When the water began to rise he roused the members of other families and they sought the highest point near the farm. This happened to be the graveyard. Not a person balked at entering.

LAMONT WILL GO TO MEXICO FOR BANKERS

Associate of J. P. Morgan Plans Investigation of Internal Financial Affairs of Obregon.

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Sept. 13.—Thomas W. LaMont of J. P. Morgan & Company will leave for Mexico City the end of this month to discuss with Mexican government officials the status of that country's external obligations.

Mr. LaMont will make the trip at the request of the international committee of bankers of Mexico of which he is chairman.

Accompanied by a secretary at staff and statistical assistants, Mr. LaMont will receive suggestions of the Mexican government and report back to the committee.

The committee represents British, French, Swiss, Dutch and Belgian interests. It was reported on the street thta the state department was cognizant of Mr. LaMont's proposed visit and that the government of the various foreign interests involved had given hearty encouragement.

The external debt of the Mexican government has been roughly estimated at $200,000,000. That is exclusive of accrued interest, long in default, amounting to about $40,000 additional. England is said to be Mexico's largest creditor, with France probably ranking second.

FIRE DAMAGES ROOM OF HOTEL HERE TUESDAY

Chief McClure Declares Cotton Mattress Found Saturated With Kerosene; Furniture Destroyed.

Between $1,500 and $2,000 damage was sustained by fire which broke out Monday afternoon about 4 o'clock in one of the second floor rooms of the St. James hotel, according to a rough estimate by Phi Taylor, part owner and proprietor of the establishment.

A strong odor of kerosene was declared by Fire Chief McClure and Phi Taylor to have been found emanating from the cotton mattress on the only bed in the room, in which the blaze was said to have had its origin. An empty half gallon fruit jar, which was found in the room, also was said by Fire Chief McClure to have borne the odor of kerosene. In an adjoining room, which was also damaged by the blaze, a fruit jar, broken near the center, was reported by Fire Chief McClure to have been found containing approximately a half pint of kerosene.

The blaze was discovered by J. C. Judd of Decatur, Ill., who had just been registered and assigned to his room. Mr. Judd said that when he approached his room the flames were leaping to the heighth of the ceiling and were plainly discernible through the transom above the door.

The furnishings of the room, in which the fire had its origin were declared a total loss, while considerable damage was done to furnishings of an adjoining room, to which the flames spread.

WANT CIVIC CLUBS TO GO ON JUNKETS

Representatives From Each Organization Urged to Join Trips to Seymour and Breckenridge.

Final Plans for Excursions to Be Worked Out at Meeting of Business Council Today at Noon.

Representation of all civic organizations on the two "neighborhood" visits to Seymour and Breckenridge scheduled by Wichita Falls for the next seven days will be vigorously urged, as one of the best ways of getting a full and well rounded representation of the city, it was decided at a meeting of the Excursion bureau of the Chamber of Commerce Tuesday afternoon. Responsibility for this representation was apportioned among the members by W. W. Anderson, vice chairman of the bureau, each club being assigned to a certain individual, who is responsible for action being obtained from the club asigned.

Final details of both trips will be worked out at a special meeting of the business council and directors of the Chamber of Commerce to be held at the Kemp hotel at noon today. All members of the Chamber of Commerce are invited to attend the meeting. Frank Keil, Mayor Cline and W. W. Anderson are among the speakers scheduled for this meeting.

Endorse Plan

Thorough endorsement of the plan suggested by B. F. Johnson of making the return visits of the oil towns along the Wichita Falls and Southern, scheduled for early in October, a mammoth meeting at Wichita Falls of people of all towns in Northwest Texas for the common planning of the progress and development of the section was contained in a letter to Mr. Johnson from A. A. Widane, president of the Eliasville Chamber of Commerce.

Further measures in this connection are expected to be discussed in connection with the planning of each of the two trips which are forerunners of this at the Wednesday luncheon at the Kemp.

After Large Delegations

The Seymour trip, which is scheduled for Firday, the second day of the Baylor county fair, will, it is hoped, enlist 100 car loads of Wichita Falls business and professional men and women.

Each local organization is asked to sponsor a car on the Breckenridge trip.

The Breckenridge trip will be run on the following Tuesday, and will be by a special train over the Wichita Falls and Southern, the completion of which the trip is in celebration of. The tran will leave at 7:30 and will arrive at Breckenridge at about 1:30, with fifteen minute stops at stations en route. The return trip will start at about 5:30, arriving here at 11:00 p. m.

The railroad company has announced a round trip fare of $3.50, including war tax, which, with another $1.00 for the other expenses of the trip, will bring the cost of tickets to $4.50. The railroad fare is just about one way fare. Proportionate rates are quoted for intervening points.

Varied Program At Seymour.

A varied line of entertainment is being planned by the Seymour people, who are determined to make this year's Baylor county fair, which opens September 15 for three days, the biggest thing of the kind ever pulled off in Northwest Texas.

The promoters announce they have obtained the most expert rodeo ropers and riders to participate in the steel and outlaw horse riding events and have also arranged for various goat and steer roping and bulldogging contests. Baseball games between fast teams are also scheduled for each afternoon.

A building, 100 by 40 feet, has been erected to care for various farm exhibits for which numerous growers are expected to send exhibits including fine art, poultry, farm products and everything else that goes to make up displays for any fair. A live stock show and Hereford sale is also scheduled to be held.

Sign Carnival.

To assist in providing amusement for the restless crowds expected the promoters announce they have signed for a large carnival with various amusement features, while aerial stunts will be done daily by an aviator who is to be on hand during the three days.

The officers of the fair association are F. F. Fisher, president; G. B. Morris, vice president; Jim Brittain, agricultural manager; W. Snyder, J. T. Lively and W. H. Miller, committee on concessions; C. L. Caldwell and G. S. Plant, managers of rodeo, and W. W. Wood, secretary.

Frank Rhodes and John Davis of Throckmorton, Elbert Elliott and Elmer Stevens of Seymour will be field managers of the rodeo.

FIVE BEAUTIFUL AUTOMOBILES SOON TO BE GIVEN TO WINNERS

The Record News is going to give away five beautiful cars in just a few weeks from now. Five young ladies are going to step into them in front of the Record News building and whist away to her home—the car her own proud possession—reward for energy and ambition. Will that young woman be YOU? It CAN be—it rests entirely with you. Votes alone will win it.

Right now is the best time of all to win the race—you will climb up the first rung of the ladder that leads to success. And success in this memorable campaign means joy and happiness for all time.

A motor car—one of your own that you can drive anywhere, any time you please is one of the greatest joys that life holds forth. Motor cars cost money—lots of it. But here is where money doesn't enter. The Record News will GIVE you a car and be proud of you and the splendid spirit you will show in winning it.

Decide now while opportunity is brightest—don't wait for someone else to do it for you. Never before have you had such a glorious opportunity—at one bound you may land squarely in the very lap of luxury—and in the driver's seat of a big, powerful touring car.

Every $15.00 worth of subscription payments turned in between now and October 1st, at 7 o'clock, counts 50,000 EXTRA VOTES, over and above all regular votes. Hustling candidates who realize the opportunity that confronts them will make every minute of this week count. This liberal inducement makes starting easy—a huge vote total can be rolled up owards one of the handsome cars before the period ends. There is no limit to the opportunity—$30.00 worth of subscriptions means 100,000 extra votes, and so on. NOW is the time to start to work.

R. D. Kennedy Asserts Any Honest Business Booster Deserves Support

Any sane, legitimate, honest advertising, whether it be trade trips, barbeques or excursions to will tell the Wichita Falls trade territory of the advantages of this city as a shopping place, should be supported by all merchants and business men, says R. D. Kennedy, manager of the Perkins-Timberlake Company Department store.

"It is important that the proper methods of going about advertising Wichita Falls be used. Sometimes," Mr. Kennedy says, "a brass band going along with a trade trip will sometimes apply that needed something which is hard to define but which arouses great interest."

Personally, Mr. Kennedy said he had rather not give his ideas as to what Wichita Falls could do in the way of trade trips and bettering the business and social relations between this city and its neighbors.

"If I knew the recipe for unfailing success, I would indeed be fortunate," he said, "but unfortunately there is no royal road which can be set down.

"What problems we are confronting in trying to enlarge the trade territory of Wichita Falls are the same ones which are confronting business men all over the country.

"One elemtent, however, is almost indespensable in drawing the trade of a larger territory and a wider group of customers. That is being able to produce the goods, being able to back up what you say with complete stock of goods, courteous staff of salesmen and saleswomen.

"This we believe we have right here in Wichita Falls. Buyers from this city and the trade territory can secure goods here of the better quality and at a financial saving."

"The trips to Seymour and Breckenridge by Wichita Falls boosters and the visits, which towns of this section contemplate making to this city during the coming month will go a long way toward further acquainting people in this section of the desirability and economy of trading in Wichita Falls.

"Wichita Falls is a natural center of this territory for a radius of 100 miles. With this natural advantage and the excellent railroad connections it is up to Wichita Falls to merit the trade she asks. This done we will get it."

LLOYD GEORGE MAY COME FOR ARMS MEETING

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13.—Should the Irish question permit the temporary absence of the premier from England in November, it was said today in informed circles here to be reasonably certain that David Lloyd George will head the British delegation to the Washington armament conference and that he will have as his principal assistants, Andrew Bonar Law, who retired from the cabinet because of impaired health, but who now has recovered.

The British delegation is expected to be completed by the addition of Sir Meamington Worthington Evans, secretary for war, and Lord Lee of Fareham, first lord of the admiralty.

The desire of the British dominions for representation in the conference is expected to be met by placing the names of certain of their statesmen such as Premier Meighen of Canada, Hughes of Australia and Massey of New Zealand and perhaps General Smuts of South Africa, on the list of advisers to accompany the delegation.

PRESIDENT ENDS VACATION PERIOD

ATTORNEY GENERAL UNABLE TO ACCOMPANY PARTY, BECAUSE OF ILLNESS

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Sept. 13.—President Harding spent the afternoon at the Piping Rock Club, played a foursome at golf and at six o'clock tonight steamed away on the Mayflower for Gardiner's Bay. He will land at Southampton in the morning, go to the national golf club for another round on the green then plans to start the return trip to Washington in the afternoon on the presidential yacht.

Attorney General Daugherty, who, it was learned, is suffering from ptomaine poisoning, was unable to go ashore with the party, being confined to his state room on the Mayflower. His condition is not considered serious.

AMERICANS PAY OIL TAXES TO GEN. OBREGON

By Associated Press.

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 13.—Payments made by various oil companies in compliance with President Obregon's export tax decree of June 7, last were returned yesterday by the government in accordance with an agreement said to have been reached last week with the five American oil company heads who visited here.

Such taxes as were paid were proportionately small as compared with the usual payments, as the larger companies had postponed their payment.

EMPLOYMENT MEET CALL TO BE SENT OUT IMMEDIATELY

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13—Formal call for the national unemployment conference in Washington will probably be issued by President Harding soon after his return from New York, administration officials said tonight. The plans, they added, have been practically completed and have been sent by wireless to the yacht Mayflower so that President Harding can discuss them with Mr. Hoover before the return to Washington.

A definite date for the conference was said to be still undecided although September 26 now appears most probable.

ERZBERGER'S SLAYERS KNOWN TO AUTHORITIES

By Associated Press.

MUNICH, Bavaria, Sept. 13—Baden authorities announced today they had ascertained the names of the murderers of Mathias Erzberger, former vice chancellor who recently was assassinated in the Black Forest. They are Heinrich Tillessen, a student and Heinrich Schulz, a merchant.

Both men were members of the brigade of General Erhardt which was prominent in the Kapp insurrection. Neither have been arrested.

FAMOUS LAND CASE ENDS IN OKLAHOMA

By Associated Press.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 13.—The long contested case of Canfield vs Cornelius involving the title to oil land worth approximately $8,000,000 in which Indians living in Creek, Tulsa, Muskogee and Oklahoma counties are interested, ended here today when the supreme court denied a second petition for a hearing.

THIRD ADMITS COMPLICITY IN MURDER PLOT

By Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Sept. 13.—Clarence Wilder, named in the alleged confession of Leon Parks and Harvey W. Church in connection with the slaying of two automobile men to obtain possession of a $5,400 automobile will be in the custody of the police soon, it was announced tonight.

According to the police, Wilder was the leader in the plot which led to the killing of Bernard J. Daugherty, motor car salesman, and Carl Ausmus, demonstrator. Both were slain while attempting to complete a deal with Church for the purchase of an automobile.

The plot, according to statements attributed to Church and Parks, was a simple plan for the robbery of the men and the eventual sale of the automobile, the money to be divided three ways.

PROPOSED RAILROAD APPROVED

Building of a railroad from Byers to Waurika, connecting through the Byers branch of the Wichita Valley with Wichita Falls, will meet with the hearty approval as well as with co-operation of a more concrete nature, a delegation of Waurika business men, headed by E. T. Kelly, told Frank Kell Tuesday morning.

They declared their anxiety to make the road a reality, and expressed a willingnes sto proceed at once with right of way work. Mr. Kell replied that it was too soon for this work, but that the project would be pushed as fast as conditions warrant.

The Waurikans expressed themselves as anxious to see the road built, and ready to join with any individual or group of individuals who could build it.

SHOPMEN WILL VOTE ON WAGE CUTS SUNDAY

By Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Sept. 13—Railroad shopmen of the six federated shop crafts unions in Chicago and vicinity will meet next Sunday to determine what action shall be taken on the wage cut of last July and recent changes in overtime rules made by the railroad labor board.

A countrywide ballot was taken somet time ago on the wage reduction question and it was understood to have rejected a formal acceptance of the cut.

THREE FIREMEN INJURED WHEN TRUCK WRECKS

By Associated Press.

GALVESTON, Sept. 13—Three firemen were injured, and an automobile pumper was badly damaged today when the driver of the fire truck to avoid a collision with a milk wagon. The truck was answering an alarm. As the fire truck struck the curbing, it became overbalanced and turned over, pinning the driver, George Meyer, under the wheel and breaking two ribs. Vincent De Pulio and P. Bassett, were badly bruised.

MISSISSIPPI REMOVES EMBARGO ON TEXAS COTTON

AUSTIN, Texas, Sept. 13.—Acting Attorney General W. A. Keeling announced late today that he had been advised that the state of Mississippi had revoked its order forbidding cotton in any form and seed from Texas to pass through Mississippi unless the railroad cars be sealed in heavy paper so as to prevent any pink boll worms from escaping through the cracks.

EXCESS PROFITS TAX APPROVED

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13.—Corporations would be required to pay excess profits taxes for another year under a decision today of the senate finance committee, which finally approved the provision in the house bill repealing these taxes of next January 1, instead of last January 1, as recommended by Secretary Mellon.

The committee also inserted a provision in the house measure repealing the capital stock tax, effective next year and adopted an amendment increasing the corporation income tax from ten to fifteen percent instead of 12 1-2 per cent effective January 1, 1922.

READY TO MAKE BIG FARM LOANS

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13.—The war finance corporation announced tonight it was ready for business in connection with the distribution of upward of $1,000,000,000 in agricultural and livestock loans under recent congressional authorization.

Circulars have been mailed to all farmers organizations, banks and financial institutions in agricultural and livestock sections of the country.

REPORTER AND BURCH ENGAGE IN LONG TALK

By Associated Press.

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 13.—Excerpts from a conversation alleged to have taken place last night in the county jail between Chandler Sprague, reporter for the Los Angeles Examiner and Arthur C. Burch, indicted with Mrs. Madalynne Obenchain for the murder of J. Belton Kennedy, broker, were made public here tonight by W. C. Doran, chief deputy district attorney.

The conversation, Mr. Doran stated, related to a copyrighted article published this morning in the Los Angeles Examiner, in which Sprague asserted under his signature that Burch, August 14, confessed to him the slaying of Kennedy on August 5.

Mr. Doran said the conversation between Sprague who today was called before the Los Angeles county grand jury and Burch, which took place in Burch's cell, was obtained through the efforts of Malcom McLaren, a detective who has the investigation of the Kennedy tragedy in charge for the district attorney's office.

McLaren, Doran added, obtained a record of the Burch-Sprague conference last night by means of a device for recording conversation and made a 17-page transcription which already has become part of the official records in the case.

The matter made public tonight by Mr. Doran follows:

"Excerpts from 17-page transcript of conversation between Chandler Sprague and Arthur Burch, night of September 12, 1921, at county jail, beginning at 8 o'clock. Malcolm McLaren and stenographer also present.

"Question by Mr. Sprague: Arthur, you and I understand each other?

"Answer by Burch: We understand each other?

"Question: I know you told me the truth. I know you told me the truth.

"Answer: Yes.

"Question: I don't think, if I am put in a position where I have to give testimony, I don't think you personally are going to have any hard feelings against me.

"Answer: Not at all. Why, certain facts that you know are true, that you think are true—

"Question: That I know are true, so far as you are concerned. I am the only person that does know it.

"Answer: Absolutely.

"Question: What motives were those you had for telling me?

"Answer: In the first place, it gives a man a certain amount of relief to express himself.

"Question: You and I, nobody else in the world, knows that you have told me the truth.

"Answer: You and I—It is a question of my life or Mrs. Obenchain's.

"Question: You know, as man to man, you told me the truth.

"Answer: That is all right.

"Question: Is there any one else in the world that knows the true story of this but Chandler Sprague, anybody, any one else

"Answer: No sir. It has never been told. That is God's truth, absolutely.

"Question: You told me everything?

"Answer: Yes sir."

Sprague in his article published this morning stated he had promised not to make Burch's alleged confession public until he was forced to do so, under oath and that he regarded a summons before the grand jury today as releasing him from his promise.

Burch and Mrs. Obenchain today denied allegations in Sprague's article.

United States District Attorney J. D. Hartman announced the appointment of Norman J. Morrison of El Paso as assistant attorney for this district.

HITCH RISES IN PARLEY ON IRISH PEACE

Irish Couriers Leave for Ireland to Confer With Esmon DeValera.

By Associated Press.

LONDON, Sept. 13.—An unexpected hitch has arisen in the Irish negotiations. Premier Lloyd George, who is at Gairloch, Scotland, today received Harry Boland, secretary to Eamonn DeValera and Joseph McGrath, another Sinn Fein representative, according to an official communication issued tonight and Messrs. Boland and McGeath are returning to Dublin with the prime minister's explanation of certain points in the government's proposals for consideration by the Dail Eireann.

It is said that Mr. DeValera's reply dealing with the question of accepting or not accepting the invitation to a conference will not be delivered until Friday or Saturday.

It is understood that the latter, which Couriers McGrath and Boland bore to the prime minister asked for a fresh explanation respecting the British government's latest communication and that those points are of vital importance necessitating the return of the couriers to Dublin for consultation with Mr. DeValera and his colleagues.

Today's conferences lasted an hour or more, the delegates leaving immediately for Ireland. The new developments will delay the proposed conference between the government and the Irish plenipotentiaries beyond September 20, the date suggested by Mr. Lloyd George. Apparently nothing has been definitely decided as yet on the composition of the Irish delegation.

ABILENE ANNEXES WEST TEXAS FLAG

ABILENE, Texas, Sept. 13.—Abilene won the pennant of the West Texas League for the second consecutive year today when they defeated Sweetwater in the sixth game of the playoff series 6 to 1.

SCOUTMASTERS HOLD OFFICERS

Election of officers for the scoutmasters' association of the local boy scouts featured the first meeting of the scout leaders training class at the Floral Heights Methodist church Tuesday evening.

J. Chester Powell, scoutmaster for Troop 4, was elected president; Assistant Scoutmaster Jess McLary, Troop 8, was elected vice president; and H. B. White, scoutmaster Troop 6, scribe.

Talks on the scout laws and the scout oath followed by round table discussion of problems of scouting completed the program. A committee to form a football schedule for the scout troops was appointed. The president instructed that the schedule be announced by Sunday.

The scout leaders are starting a ten weeks' course of instruction. The men will be started as candidates and advanced as they complete the various scout tests. The first month will be devoted to Tenderfoot requirements.

MAY OFFER CALL FIELD TO U. S.

AVIATION GROUNDS SUGGESTED FOR AIR MAIL LANDING GROUND.

Call Field will probably be offered the government mail service for a landing field on the proposed air mail route from Dallas to Amarillo when the matter is placed before the Chamber of Commerce directors this morning.

Call Field is fully equipped for this purpose, and is not further from the city than the landing fields in most large cities.

Should this field not be satisfactory, it is expected that other arrangements can be made.

BIG GIFTS TO ROCKEFELLER FOUNDATION

NEW YORK, Sept. 12—The Rockefeller Foundation spent over $7,000,000 on public health measures in 1920, its annual report published here today shows.

The Foundation's chief work was in preventative medicine and in world-wide fights against malaria, yellow fever and the hookworm.

Following is a summary, compiled by George E. Vincent, president of the Foundation, of the work done during the year:

Aided six medical schools in Canada. Give a large sum to a medical training center in London. Appropriated a million francs for the Queen Elizabeth Foundation for Medical Research in Belgium. Agreed to contribute toward the complete rebuilding of the medical school of the University of Brussels. Provided American and English medical journals or laboratory supplies for eleven medical schools and medical libraries in five European countries.

Continued to construct and to maintain in Pekin, China, a modern medical school, with a pre-medical department. Aided thirty-one hospitals in China to increase their efficiency in the care of patients and in the further training of doctors and nurses. Supported the School of Hygiene and Public Health of the Johns Hopkins University. Contributed to the teaching of hygiene in the medical school at San Paulo, Brazil. Provided fellowships in public health and medical education for ninety individuals who represented thirteen different countries. Brought to the United States commission of medical teachers and hygienists from England, Belgium and Czecho-Slovakia.

Continued to support a campaign against yellow fever in South and Central America and in Wese Africa. Aided government agencies in the control of malaria in ten states of the South. Prosecuted hookworm work in nine Southern states and in eighteen foreign countries. Helped to expand anti-hookworm campaigns into more general health organizations in counties, states and nations.

Brought a war-time anti-tuberculosis work in France to the point where it could soon be left entirely in French hands. Assisted the government of Czecho-Slovakia to reorganize its public health laboratory system. Rendered various services in organizing committees to study the training of nurses and of hospital superintendents. Lent experts for conference and counsel, sent officers abroad to study conditions. Brought to a close its participation in war-time emergency relief by giving a million dollars to the fund for European children.

These things were done in part by the Foundation, but chiefly through its departmental agencies—the International Health Board, the China Medical Board and the Division of Medical Education.

Great progress is reported in the campaigns against disease, especially in malaria and hookworm districts.

High tribute is paid to the work of the late General Gorgas, who died in the service of the Foundation while on a mission to the West Coast of Africa to study yellow fever.

The Foundation announces that it will in 1921 continue its previous policies.

ANSWERS LURE OF WEST IN OLD OXEN DRAWN "SCHOONER"

FREDERICK, Md., Sept. 13.—Prosperous, but with an innate aversion for the automobile which has New England stubborness will not permit him to forget J. C. Berrang, living near West Chester, Conn., sixty years old, and his white-haired wife are migrating to the West in search of further fortunes, as the are traveling in an oxen-drawn pioneers of sixty years ago did. Their wagon. They don't anticipate reaching the "promise land" until late in 1922.

Already Berrang and his wife have been on the road nearly a year. They left their Connecticut farm December 2, 1920, and their destination is the fruit belt of Oregon.

The procession is quaint. The "wagon train" is headed by two huge oxen, drawing a canvas-covered wagon with bulging bows. This is folowed by a more modest outfit—a cart drawn by an ox. They make ten miles a day. They have no speed records to break. Mrs. Berrang, white haired, who shares this adventuresome spirit of her husband, has walked beside the unique train the greater part of the distance from Connecticut.

Berrang is unable to account for his great desire for adventure in the late days of his life. He has money enough to live comfortably. His home is Connecticut. He knew no other country. He prospered. Then he had his first misfortune. His barn and home burned down. But that didn't financially wreck him. Instead it created in him the desire to go West and see for himself the wonderful opportunities which he believes he'll find there.

Once he reaches the goal he says he wants to "settle down" and begin all over again. He's going to buy a small farm, raise fruit and just putter around the farm. He confesses that to him his trip is his "gold strike of '49." That rush for gold nearly three-quarters of a century ago has always had glamour for him. Now he's off to search for another kind of gold.

In Ohio Berrang will switch off to the Lincoln highway. In Winter he will be headed for the South, and in Spring he'll turn North, and then the final lap—to Oregon and to his apple orchard.

HORSE, WISER THAN MASTER, SEEKS HOSPITAL; IN PAIN

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Sept. 13.—Use of common horse sense ofttimes is valuable to horses as well as humans.

A horse belonging to a farmer four miles from here became ill iwith cholic, kicked the barn door away and appeared at a horse hospital in the city for treatment. The veterinarion after treating the horse remembered that about a year ago he had treated it for the same ailment. The owner said he had not taken the horse there during the intervening period.

U. S. DELEGATES TO ARMS PARLEY STAND OUT AS POLITICAL LEADERS

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13.—An examination of the personnel of the American delegation to the conference on limitation of armament reveals that it differs quite radically and in various ways from the delegation named by President Wilson to represent this country at the Versailles peace conference.

Mr. Wilson headed the commission to Versailles himself and dominated it by direct leadership. His associates were not outstanding political leaders; they were men chosen with the idea that they were to be merely the executors of his orders.

On the other hand, the delegation chosen by President Harding does not include himself and is composed of men who have distinct places of their own in American public life, apart from their association with the president. Secretary Hughes was the republican candidate for president in 1916, while the other two republicans on the delegation, Mr. Root and Senator Lodge, have been regarded in convention after convention as presidential possibilities. Senator Underwood, the democratic member of the delegation, is not a "Harding Democrat," but a virile partisan, leader of the minority in the upper branch of congress, who has been discussed for the democratic presidential nomination in years past.

The Harding appointees differ radically from the delegates to Bersailles also in that all are lawyers. Root and Hughes have been leaders of the New York bar for years. Underwood is in active practice. Lodge is a lawyer, though he has devoted most of his life to literature and politics.

Mr. Wilson, on the other hand, disliked and distrusted lawyers, and practically ignored them in making up the Versailles delegation.

It is also significant that while Mr. Wilson ignored the senate in his selection of peace delegates, two of the four Americans named as delegates to the arms conference are senators and a third, Mr. Root, is an ex-senator.

OLD ENGLISH CUSTOMS HIT HARD BY HEAT

LONDON, Sept. 13.—England's most remarkable summer of half a century is drawing to a close. Two or three such summers and ice cream parlors would blossom on every corner; Englishmen would wear Palm Beach suits, instead of staring at them in wonder; refrigerators would appear in every home, and John Bull would take to drinking ice water like a civilized person, instead of making the obtaining of any drinking water at all a problem that would baffle a Sherlock Holmes.

For England has had a comfortably hot summer. England has suffered Americans in England have revelled in the sunlight, lived in comfort and chortled at the discomfort of their English friends.

For years immemorial the Englishman has pulled the leg of his American friend for freezing in England's summer time. This year tables have turned. The Yank has twitted John Bull for sweltering in what has really been—excepting for a few days—really comfortable warm weather.

The newspapers have given John some solace. Hardy travellers who have ventured into America's heat belt, in the vicinity of Forty-second street and Broadway, wrote back almost daily to the press, giving melting accounts of a much hotter land.

Actually Removed Coats

The heat has had its recompense for the Englishman. He is an outdoor animal, as far as his weather will permit. He has never before had so much perfectly usable outdoors. For months not a drop of rain fell. Never was so much tennis and cricket and golf played. Never was the Thames—from the point of view of amusement the most "used" river in the world—so constantly encumbered with pleasure craft.

The Americanizing of the island continued. Folks who hadn't the slightest idea how ice cream was made, who hardly knew whether it was made from milk or water, bought freezers. Then followed diplomatic advances to the "fishmonger." The The fishmonger became a man of importance, to be smiled upon. Folks wanted ice. Whether they had freezers—"ice machines" they call 'em—or not, English people actually were wanting ice. You have to live in England to understand the marvel of it.

There supervened, of course, an ice faminine. Something always supervened in England at the time one wants something the most.

Furthermore, the English who have no front porches or back ones, for that matter, began to talk of different kinds of houses—American style, specially designed for hot months.

Crops Suffer—Sports Thrive

Englishmen actually took off their coats! Sometimes even in their offices. Nothing short of a miracle, this.

The reverse side of the medal was the crops and the gardens. Crops suffered badly, of course. This meant money and concern to the farmers. But the state of the gardens meant something to everybody. For, when it isn't raining—between showers, as it were—England lives in its back garden, which is, properly speaking, its front garden, for the houses face backward, dining room and perhaps "smoke-run" in front, but drawing room facing the garden.

London, a city of greenery and blossoms, became seared and brown. There was, of course, a water famine. In many parts the water pipes yielded to the turn of the tap only during a certain part of the day, while everywhere it was against the rules of the water companies to use a hose.

Herculean efforts were made to keep the gardens green but it was useless. England is drifting into Indian summer, already taking on the colors of fall.

Despite the grousing that the heat, England, on the whole, has liked its sample of American summer weather very much. It's helped John Bull's play and play is an equal partner with work hereabout or perhaps a majority stockholder.

MEXICAN OIL MEN ASK PAY FOR LOST TIME

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 13.—When the oil companies decide to resume operations on a large scale in the Tampico districts worken will not rush back to their old positions, according to labor leaders here.

The workers will demand payment for all of the time they have lost since the shutdown, due to the low price of oil.

It is believed, however, that this plan to collect for days of idleness cannot be carried out, as many of the oil field workers are in great need, and will rush to get employment at the first opportunity.

But the claim for back pay many be used by agitators to cause friction after operations are resumed.

Extraordinary precautions against the spreading of disease are being taken at Tampico because of the great number of idle and indigent persons there.

WHERE TO GO

Olympic—"The Old Nest."
Strand—"Over the Hill."
Empress—"What Women Will Do."
Majestic—"Man's Law" and Eddie Polo in "Do or Die."
Gem—William Russell in "High Geered Jeffery."

ASK ME

Pixie—Helen Chadwick's next picture will be "The Sin Flood." And by the way, she has the only feminine role in the picture. Richard Dix plays opposite her. No, she is not married. I do not know her favorite sport, but her pet book is "Omar Khayham."

Mac—You are right about Tom Mix. He was a real cowpuncher before appearing on the screen.

Rub—I am unable to tell you what constitutes a "camera face" as it is difficult to tell just what elusive quality is necessary to photograph well. It often happens that a fascinating, attractive face is a failure on the screen. Send your photograph to some of the beauty contests and you will soon find out if you have a "camera face."

Mrs. H. J. S.—Otis Skinner was born in Cambridge, Massachusetts. He was one of the very well known stage actors before appearing on the screen. His first picture was "Kismet," his great stage success.

Clinton—Gladys Hulette played the part of Beth in "Little Women." She will soon be seen in "Tol'able David" oposite Richard Barthelmess.

Sincere—The winner of the Los Angeles beauty and popularity contest is Miss Bessie Waters. She has been given a role in "Kindred of the Dust."

Florence C.—Joseph Swickard played the role of Marcelo Desnoyers in "The Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse."

Newell—Lou Tellegen played opposite Geraldine Farrar in "Flame of the Desert." Be is shortly to appear in "Don Juan," a stage play.

Vann.—Kenneth Webb is a motion picture director, at present directing Pearl White in her latest picture.

Clifton Webb is a dancer and comedian. They are not related.

Brown Eyes—Alice Brady is playing in "Drifting," an Oriental stage play. You ask what has become of Mary Dean. According to reports she will shortly return to the screen. It is said that she is considering several offers to star.

Reader—"Moonlight and Honeysuckle" has been adapted for the screen. Mary Miles Minter will be seen in the leading role. The cast includes Monte Blue, Willard Louis, Grace Goodall, Guy Oliver, William Bird, and Mabel Van Buren.

Firely.—Caroline White played opposite Caruso in "My Cousin." In this picture Caruso plays a dual role. No doubt you will be able to see the picture again, as there is a brisk demand for a re-issue since the death of the great singer.

Dhruska.—Jacqueline Logan has appeared in two pictures. Her first was "The Perfect Crime." Later she appeared opposite Thomas Meighan in "White and Unmarried," in the role of a dancer in a French cafe. Now that you speak of it, she does slightly resemble May McAvoy.

ARRAIGN WIDOW FOR MURDER OF FOURTH HUSBAND

By Associated Press.

TWIN FALLS, Idaho, Sept. 13.—Mrs. Lyda Southard was today arraigned in district court here on a charge of first degree murder of her fourth husband, Edward F. Meyer, here last fall. She took the statutory 24 hour period in which to enter her plea.

Mrs. Southard appeared in court with her left hand bandaged. One of her attorneys stated that she had scratched her hand and an infection had set in.

MORE HOUSES MEANS PEOPLE MUST PUT MORE MONEY INTO CHANNELS WHICH BUILD THEM.

(Editorial in the Satueday Evening Post.)

Numerous elements enter into the housing shortage, but chiefly the lack of funds seems to have attracted public interest and indignation. Credit, however, is like a horse; it can be led to water but it cannot be made to drink. Individual cases of extortion, of legal evasion and of dubious practice may be prevented by new laws or by investigations which run all the way from just exposure of corruption to one-sided, unfair, notoriety-hunting, muckraking expeditions. But the real object is to build houses, and a large volume of creditor capital will not flow into building merely because someone beats the tom-tom.

Capital has hung back from building for many reasons. For one thing, a vast proportion of all the capital and credit of the country, both short and long term, was absorbed, and still is absorbed, into the Liberty Bond and Government-certificate issues. Through the exigencies of war the Federal Reserve system had to turn its energies into the distribution of these obligations, a task for which it was not primarily designed.

Coincident with these vast, all-devouring bond issues came the super-taxes, imposing a burden upon the larger individual investors in real estate mortgages, which shut off a large supply of funds when the need was greatest. And as if these diversions of credit from building were not enough, the flow was still further blocked by the swallowing up during the war and immediate post-war periods of other tremendous sums in mere trading, speculation, hoarding and the production of consumable goods rather than in housing, transportation and the development of national resources.

Obviously, then, no permanent, fundamental improvement will come until the causes of obstruction are removed or are in fair way of being removed. Ample capital for building and transportation waits upon the time when the public debt and taxes are reduced or at least are kept from increasing. Also relief must depend upon the clearing away of frozen credits, just as traffic on a street waits until the slush and debris of a great storm are removed. Until the losses of deflation have been taken care of and fresh accumulations of capital have had a fair chance to pile up, there can be no ample supply of funds for building or any other purpose.

No petty meddling, legislative or otherwise, will accomplish much. Certainly those who advocate a sharp interference with the law of supply and demand in this field have a heavy burden of proof upon them. As a recent report of the United States Senate Committee on Reconstruction and Production said:

Our experiences with our shipping railways and public utilities in fixing rates by the government on one hand and in absorbing losses through funds raised from general taxation on the other hand, do not form promising precedents for fixing rentals on housing and for paying housing subsidies from funds raised through general taxation.

An interesting recent development in New York furnishes a striking illustration of the fact that interference with the law of supply and demand, while perhaps permissible as a stop-gap, is wholly undesirable as a remedy. A year ago office space in New York was almost unobtainable, six, seven, and even eight dollars a square foot being quoted for choice locations on long leases. Demand was made for legislation to restrict rents on business Buildings as had been done in dwelling houses. No restriction, however, was placed because, perhaps, of the doubtful constitutionality of such action. Capital immediately flowed into office buildings, hotels were converted into suites of offices under the stimulus of the high prices offered, with the result today that office space in New York exists in quantity much greater than the visible demand, and new leases for office space are being made at figures much below those quoted a year ago.

But it appears that the life-insurance companies, or at least some of them, do not lend as large a proportion of their assets upon real-estate mortgages as certain critics saving banks and other moneyed institutions exact onerous terms on second and third mortgages. Large losses have been sustained by some of these institutions in their stocks and, to some extent, in their bond holdings, and in a recent public investigation insinuations were made that interlocking directorates and community interests accounted for the failure, in certain cases at least, to sell out these securities at a time when the losses would have been smaller than now. But in the end it cannot be denied that these funds have been administered with integrity, conservatism and a very large measure of success from the standpoint of policyholders and depositors.

Even insurance company presidents are not prophets, and if they invested the trust funds in their care ten or twenty years ago in railroad bonds and stocks, which have since declined in value, they did no otherwise than the investing community in general. Their judgment then was the best that could be had. Nor is it clear that the duty of an insurance company or saving bank to invest in real estate mortgages is greater than it is to direct capital into transportation or into improved highways, streets, parks, water and sewer systems, which it does when it buys the securities of railroads, states and cities.

Perhaps these moneyed institutions might shift somewhat to their own advantage the proportion of their investments, but no such slight change in percentages will solve the building problem and any substantial or radical change would make the railroad problem many times more hopeless than it is today, and put off still further an adequate high way system. For the merest tyro in finance knows that these institutions form the best part of the market for railroad, state and municipal securities.

The repeal of the usury law on the larger real estate transactions, and the establishment of an adequate system of long-term banking, or home-loan banks, which will supplifent and complement the Federal Reserve system without competing with it, are suggested by competent authorities as remedial measures. Certainly it is absurd to forbid by law the payment of more than 6 per cent interest on highly risky and speculative real estate loans when the greatest corporations in the country are paying 7 to 9 per cent for money. If the usury law on large real estate mortgages were repealed capital would move into this field more freely, and more open methods would prevail.

It has been suggested that, with the existing building and loan associations as a basis, a national system of long-term banking somewhat similar to that in various European countries might be devised and developed. Though thousands of these associations in all parts of the country now enable many citizens to buy or build small homes they are not knit together as a national system, and the securities which they offer for sale, though a safe place for the people's money, have only a comparatively small and narrow local appeal and a local market.

Frankly, there will be no solution of the housing problem from the financial standpoint until the people save more capital for that purpose. If the people want more houses they must put more money into the channels which build houses. We have been spending our money for other purposes, and the building shortage is one result. It will be remedied as capital again flows in that direction.

Theodore H. Price says railroad traffic continue to gain, the net revenue for July exceeded $75,000,000 and August earnings were larger. There are bright spots in the business heaven; stocks and bonds are higher and the New York Press says Judge Albert H. Gary, the American steel king, is going to Mexico to recognize President Obregon. Obregon's administration is going to get recognition. He holds a steady mount. He knows what he wants and the American captains of industry know what they want.

Imperial black and white flags were displayed on buildings and in the streets of Leubeck, Germany during a recent fair. This display provoked hostile demonstrations by the people. They demanded the immediate withdrawal of the Imperial emblems. Moreover the authorities promptly complied and the flags of the republic were greeted with cheers. Gone are the Hohenzollerns. Gone is the Black Eagle of war. Gone is militaristic depotism. Germany is finding herself.

"The Vision Message" is the title of the first movie made in Mineral Wells. It is a five-reel feature and the entire cast is composed of Mineral Wells people. It is as good as a hundred to one shot that the Hon. Charles W. Wilson, perpetual law maker and editor of the Mineral Wells Index, modestly held the center of the stage in order to be sure that the picture would be a crowning success.

Mining operations of the Texas Pacific Coal and Oil Company at Thurber have been resumed. Wage scale paid will be based on the scale paid by the company in 1918. Approximately 1,000 men can be placed to work if all shafts of the mine are placed in operation. This is good news for the Jones who burns coal.

THE MAN.

(B. B. in Baltimore Sun.)

"I am the man," you hear men say,
"Who built the temple and rolled away
The stone from the tunnel that progress might live."
"I am the man," you hear men cry,
"Who mounted the moon and learned to fly."
But the man in the shadows who had the dream
That brought us the beauty and life and gleam,
He has no whistle to help him scream!

The man, the man with the vision rare!
Little he worries and what does he care
That one seeks the glow of the limelight there?
"I am the man!" While he smiles and goes
His way with a song—for the dreamer knows
That never a temple would reach its height,
Nor a stone be rolled from the door of night
Had he not come with his dreamer's light!

So, strut, proud gods of a little strength,
And stretch your arms and measure your length;
But never a cubit of all you seem
Shall match the measure of one small dream
That has helped men struggle through cloud and mist
To the truth of truth—like the alchemist
Watching and waiting with life's desire
The alembic heating upon the fire,
Sorting and shifting the ores of earth.

Rippling Rhymes

HARD ON HIRAM.

Low lies the form of Hiram Horner, out in his boneyard bower; he swung his car around a corner at forty miles an hour. He might have made the curve at twenty, with safety first in view; for he had time to spare a-plenty; no urgency he knew. Before him stood a mighty hoarding that shut the street from sight; but madly he went henryfording, and turned sharp to the right. Around the turn a truck was plugging, a truck of ample power, and into it old Hi went chugging at forty miles an hour. It was a mad and foolish caper for one possessed of brains, and with a sheet of blotting paper we soaked up his remains. Now other fools may go-a-flying, inviting sudden death, but Hiram in his crate is lying, beneath the dewey heath. And other nuts will make us shiver as up the pike they pass, but Hiram, in his little flivver, no more steps on the gas. And fans will still be pinched for speeding, and made to dig up rocks, but Hiram Horner, little heeding, is resting in his box. Oh, horns will honk and cut-outs thunder, and cylinders will hit, but poor old Hi is sleeping under three wagon-loads of grit.—Copyright by George Matthew Adams.

LUDEY AT BAT AGAIN

Old Boy Ludendorff,
Former assistant passenger agent
Of the German army
And the right arm of Hindy,
Of blessed memory,
Has, according to cable,
Just made a speech before
Representatives of several
Branches of the old army.
He told them to prepare
For another war and to Prepare for one very soon.
We don't like to butt in
On the old bird of paradise,
But we would like to ask
One thing, and that is
That he will kindly refrain
From pulling off the next
War until after the fifteenth
Of this month, so that
There will be no increase
In the income tax instalment
We must pay on that date.
Also, if he must have a war,
Let him get an airship
And go up 25,000 feet
And fight it out single-handed
With Eddie Rickenbacker.
That would save us all
A lot of trouble except Eddie,
And it wouldn't cause him much.

A Broadwayite told a taxicab driver to drive him to San Francisco. And still some people believe that prohibition prohibits.

Some kind friend has sent me a booklet which is designed to teach me, and others, how to whistle all the bird calls. I don't know just why I should want to make a noise like a bobolink or an English sparrow, but I have been practicing these calls and can now imitate several birds at one time and nobody knows which ones I am imitating. It has accomplished some good, however, as it has driven the amateur bugler in the next block out of business.

I went into a barber shop to be shaved and found the two proprietors of the shop engaged in a furious game of seven-up. They were so excited over the game that neither looked up as I entered.

I waited five minutes and grew impatient.

"Come," I said, "which one is going to shave me?"

"Just wait a minute," snapped one of them. "Wait till we find out who owns the shop."

If there is such a man in the audience, let him rise up. I should like to see him." In the rear of the hall a mild-looking man in spectacles timidly arose. He was the husband of the eloquent speaker. This was the first chance he had ever had to assert himself.

WOMEN'S AUXILIARY TO LAUNCH MEMBERSHIP DRIVE

Every unit of the Woman's Auxiliary of the American Legion are urged to launch a membership drive and make a special effort to recruit during the next two weeks, according to a bulletin received by the local auxiliary from the headquarters department of Texas at Austin. The call for the special effort to be made immediately, according to the bulletin is on account of the First National Convention of the Women's Auxiliary, which will be held at Kansas City, November 1 and 2.

The representation of the local unit at this convention will be based on the paid up membership at national headquarters on September 30, thirty days before the convention, according to the bulletin.

The report of the unit secretary must reach the national secretary on September 30, which means it will be at the national headquarters not later than September 26. Any members secured by the unit after that date will be of no benefit to the unit as far as representation is concerned at the convention, according to the bulletin.

The addition of new members will also entitle the local auxiliary to more delegates to the state convention from which the delegates and alternates will be selected for the national convention.

All members of the woman's unit to the Pat Carrigan Post are requested to assist in this membership drive.

Princess Xenia and William B. Leeds.

William B. Leeds, son of the late American tin plate king, and Princess Xenia of Greece, second daughter of Grand Duchess Marie of that country, are to be married this month in the palatial home of Leeds' mother in London, known as Spencer house. The princess is recovering from an operation for appendicitis. Mrs. Leeds is now Princess Anastasia, wife of Prince Christopher.

A WIFE IN THE MAKING

BY PHYLLIS PHILLIPS

THE UNINVITED GUEST.

A great buzzing broke out after this. One and all had some story, some problem to propound to the charmed circle. Cherry, as official head of the meeting, was kept busy answering questions and giving advice to the various members.

She managed marvelously for so young a wife and one and all seemed to hang on her every word with almost childish faith.

"Alice, dear child, how is the baby? And is everything going the way I told you it would last time I saw you?" asked Cherry of a girl at her right.

"Everything's just splendid, Mrs. Randall. Tom is a reformed Character. I don't nag at him any more, no matter what he does. It has worked like a charm. Honor bright. Why, he actually brought he home a box of candy tonight and didn't seem a bit angry at my coming to the meeting, either. Only two weeks ago, you remember, he snered at us and told me he'd be hanged if he'd let his wife belong to any such nonsensical club. I think he was so surprised the first time I let him drop his ashes on the carpet without saying a word, like you told me to, that he hasn't got over it yet. He says a new woman has come to live with him. He just acts like a big boy, same as he used to, before I got to teling him how to behave in the house. It's wonderful, really. I never have to ask him to help me with little things round the house any more. He just does them. Mrs. Randall, you are a wizard."

"No, indeed, not that. But I know a thing or two even if I have been married such a short time," answered Cherry. "You see, what you told me about Tom showed me that you were irritating him by being over-fussy, my dear. A man hates to be nagged at when he comes home tired. Better to let him relax and do even the wrong things he wants to do. Such as strewing ashes on the floor and everything. Bless their hearts, they earn the right to be a wee bit untidy after the day's work is done."

Beth Wilders, alone, had a bad report to make. Dick, her husband, refused to see light, according to her, and in fact was up in arms against any rebellion, spiritual or physical, on the part of his wife.

"I'll not support any woman who is chuck full of 'isms,' he had told her in pretty positive tones. "And I'm surprised to see you acting so childish after five years of marriage, Beth." Hard words to have to listen to when one has suddenly become a modern young woman, with all the new hopes and beliefs.

"I'll talk that over in private with you tomorrow, Beth," said Cherry, smiling. "We'll have lunch together, you and I. So don't worry about it any more, dear girl. Everything'll be all right."

It was as the words were flying fastest that there came a knock at the door and upon opening it Beth disclosed to view the scrawny form of Miss Lutie Ferry, the town gossip, standing grimly in the hallway.

BEGIN WORK ON DOMITORY FOR UNIVERSITY GIRLS

AUSTIN, Texas, Sept. 13.—Excavations have been started for the basement of the Scottish Rite dormitory for gilrs in the University of Texas. This half-million dollar building is being constructed by Texas Masons, and it is to be ready for occupancy by the opening of the fall session in 1922. Buildings on the property formerly occupied by Whitis School have been razed, and the work of erecting the new structure of brick and concrete is to be rushed as rapidly as possible.

Building permit has been issued by the city, and the estimated construction cost is $400,000. The cost of building and equipment of the dormitory is to be paid entirely by the Scottish Rite bodies of the state and a vigorous campaign for funds has been conducted among the Texas Masons.

More than 300 students will be accommodated in the new dormitory and it will thus contribute greatly to the solution of the housing problem of university students. It is predicted by university authorities that the new dormitory will have some influence in reducing the rate of rent now demanded for rooms in the neighborhood of the campus.

MISS ADEN QUITS TEXAS UNIVERSITY TEACHING STAFF

AUSTIN, Texas, Sept. 13.—Announcement has just been made of the resignation of Miss Eunice Aden from the faculty of the University of Texas. Miss Aden has been director of physical training for women in this institution for the past 13 years. She expects to rest from the strenuous work of teaching and to spend some hime in study before continuing her work again. She has just finished a successful summer camp for girls on Medina Lake. This is the first time that a camp of this kind has been conducted in Texas, although there are many girls' camps annually held in the north.

Miss Aden will be succeeded by Miss Anna Hiss, who has been an instructor in the physical training department of the University for several years. Miss Hiss is a graduate of the Sargeant School of Physical Education in Cambridge, Mass. She has spent the summer in Aloha Camp for girls in Vermont.

Miss Aden was born in Paris, and spent the early part of her life there in Austin. She graduated from the University of Texas in 1896, and later spent five years at the Chautauqua School of Physical Training, three of which was in attendance. She received her diploma from that school in 1908, and was made director of physical training for women in the University of Texas. During her career here the athletic department has exhibited a wonderful growth. There is now a staff of six instructors, as well as an assistant and pianist, and three years' physical training are required of all women students. Several inaovations trace their origin directly to Miss Aden. These are the cabins and houseboat, where University girls are encouraged to spend the week-ends under the supervision of some member of the physical training department. Sheis well known throughout the state for her work and influence with University girls.

PREPARING FOR WINTER TERM AT TEXAS VARSITY

AUSTIN, Texas, Sept. 13.—Dormitories in the University of Texas are now being put in order for the winter by the business manager. As they are all occupied during the summer session the only time for such fumigation and thorough housecleaning for they ear is in the interval of time between the close of the summer school, August 31, and the opening of the fall session, September 25, and during the Christmas recess.

New equipment is being added to the Woman's building, according to Miss Anna L. Hendricks, business manager; and a large force of workers is now employed in a thorough cleaning of floors and windows, and in general inspection of furnishings. About 150 girls are cared for by this building and the three annexes. A mammoth refrigerator, thoroughly modern in arrangement, is one of the additions to the furnishings.

Mrs. Martha R. Johnson, business manager of Lubbock Hall, is supervising a similar gigantic housecleaning of that establishment. No new furnishings or improvements are being made, however, as this will be the last year for the Masonic dormitory to be housed in this building. At the beginning of the fall session in 1922 the new building now under construction by the Masons will be occupied. This new dormitory will accommodate over 300 girls, while only 100 can be taken care of in the present quarters, including the two annexes. Lubbock Hall was formerly the Presbyterian Theological Seminary, and has been leased by the Masons for a temporary dormitory for girls. The lease will expire at the end of next year, and it is not known for what purpose the building will then be used by the owners.

Newman Hall, the Catholic dormitory for University girls, is also having a thorough renovation and housecleaning, according to the business manager, Sister Sebastian. Very little improvements or new equipment are necessary, however, as the building is practically new, and was thoroughly and modernly furnished when first opened for occupancy three years ago. About 45 girls are comfortably cared for in this building.

MOVIELAND

Timothy Callaghan and Wesley Barry. Do You know which is which?

When young, freckle-faced Timothy Callaghan saw freckle-faced Wesley Barry in "Dinty" at the neighborhood picture show in Riverside, California, where Timothy lives, he decided that he would like to play in pictures and maybe his freckles would bring him fame. He took his fate in his own hands and journeyed to Los Angeles. There he met his hero, Wesley, and asked to be his understudy. The likeness between the two boys was certainly striking enough to warrant hiring Timothy, but alas for adventure, Mr. and Mrs. Callaghan also journeyed to Los Angeles where they rescued their young son and heir from his movie career.

The two boys had their pictures taken together anyhow and here they are. They boy in the street suit is Timothy, while the head is the well known "Dinty" who is soon to play "Penrod."

IN THE "SPEAKIES"

Jaunita Hansen, the serial star, has signed a contract to play fourteen weeks in vaudeville on the Pantages circuit. She is appearing in a "single" turn, devised by herself, and is to be shown executing several of the film stunts which have made her famous.

Monroe Salisbury, before he starts his second independent production, will play a short stage engagement in San Francisco.

WON'T SHE BE EDUCATED?

Bessie Love has been going to every possible school lately. Not that she is flunking in any of them, but when she gets through, she'll be "some" girl—if she expects to be as accomplished as the schools will make her. Painting, sculpturing, language have been listed. Now it is said that she has developed considerable technique as a toe dancer—under the guidance of Theodore Kosloff. The previous report on Miss Love was that she was writing "good night" stories for children.

BOB GORDON TO REMAIN

Robert Gordon was inveigled west by Messrs. Selig and Rork to play the leading juvenile role in "The Rosary" which has just been completed and the chances are he will remain there, as his work in the picture is said to have elicited an excellent offer.

YOU NEVER CAN TAME A WILD-CAT

Mr. Dodson Warns Against Use of Treacherous, Dangerous Calomel.

Calomel salivates! It's mercury! Calomel acts like dynamite on a sluggish liver. When calomel comes into contact with sour bile it crashes into it causing cramping and nausea.

If you feel bilious, constipated and all knocked out, just go to your druggist and get a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone for a few cents, which is a harmless vegetable substitute for dangerous calomel. Take a spoonful and if it doesn't start your liver and straighten you up better and quicker than nasty calomel and without making you sick, you just go back and get your money.

If you take calomel today you'll be sick and nauseated tomorrow; Besides it may salivate you, while if you take Dodson's Liver Tone you will wake up feeling great, full of ambition and ready for work or play. It's harmless, pleasant and safe to give to children; they like it.—Adv.

Grateful Women.

Gratitude and appreciation for health restored by that good old-fashioned root and herb medicine, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, is what prompts so many women from all parts of the country to write to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. of Lynn, Mass., the letters of praise which we publish from time to time. Women who have always had their health cannot realize what it means to others, many of whom have suffered months and even years from such ailments, and are now well and happy through the use of this natural restorative, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. (Adv.)

FOR COLLEGE WARDROBES

—The momentous question of "What Shall I Wear?" is agitating many a feminine mind these days, in families where there are girls who are getting ready for college. For after shool activities start, girls never want to be bothered with the clothes question. For all activities of campus, class room or for social affairs, the new Fall displays of apparel for the college girl, will be found very thorough.

The Sub-Deb Will Welcome Fall Coats

—The most critical of Sub-Debs will find no weak point in the comfy, wrappy coats among new Fall arrivals. For they slip on in the jiffy that is the prerogative of every Sub-Deb, and their soft-piled fabrics are so suitable to her youthful charm. Great, enveloping collars and cuffs of o'possum, krimmer, beaver and squirrel are pretty contrasts to coats of marvella, panvelaine and velour.

CATS WIN HIPPODROME GAME BY LOPSIDED SCORE, PLAYERS GIVING BURLESQUE EXHIBITION

By C. F. CARTER

The vaudeville season opened yesterday at Athletic Park with a hippodrome act between the Fort Worth Panthers and Wichita Falls Spudders—a burlesque baseball game, a travesty on the sport which men, women and youngsters pay good money to see. The only chance the spectators had was for rain to fall before the fifth inning—but no rain fell, and some 600 fans sat patiently through the rotten exhibition, and filed listlessly out of the gates when it was over.

Players on both teams loafed throughout the long, hot afternoon. Pitchers slow-balled the apple over the plate, and catchers didn't bother with battery signals. Outfielders handled the easy ones, and loped lazily after the hard ones. Infielders played the game largely to suit themselves. Batters hit the ball to every corner of the park and several corners outside the park—and strolled to first base on two-base hits and to second on three-baggers. Jake Atz and Walter Salm sat on the bench, while Tiny Goodbred and Rube Marshall handled the coaching situation at first base. Rube had a tin badge pinned on his shirt, and a toy whistle in his mouth, while Goodbred boasted a loud voice and a bunch of foolish instructions to each batter.

The players all had a good time. There wasn't a harsh word spoken. They kidded one another, laughed and joked and patted one another on the back and had a general holiday. We would urge every fan in the city to attend these final games at home as a reward for the fight the Spudders have put up (and also so we'd have that many more folks to sell our book of baseball verse to!)—but we don't intend to do any more urging of the kind. We have fought hard enough, the Lord knows, for Wichita Falls recently, but this morning we haven't a kindly word left to say for either the Spudders or the Cats. Were we a fan who didn't HAVE to go to the park as a part of our regular work, we'd rather go see a Twilight league game on a corner lot than pay real money to witness another burlesque such as yesterday's. So let your conscious be your guide, fellers; go today or stay in town. Perhaps they'll really try today; perhaps not—we don't intend to pose as a reader of the minds of some forty baseball players.

Two errors gave the Spudders a run in the opening frame yesterday, but the Cats came back with six scores in the second chapter, and from that point on they scored in every inning except the fifth. Wachtel began lobbing the ball over without waiting for signals from Haworth, and the Spudders finally ran up four runs in the sixth inning, and also recorded another tally in the ninth—but the game was a joke throughout. Thirty-one hits were made by the two teams, which just about tells how seriously the players took their afternoon contract.

Do you all want the box score, fans? Seriously, now, do you? Well, that kind of baseball is not worth a box score, and we see no particular reason why we should flatter the players of both clubs by recording such things as the terrific hitting made off of careless pitching. Here is the score by innings. Let it be sufficient:

LEADERS IN TORRID FLAG DRIVES AND A DARK HORSE IN NATIONAL

Branch Rickey, Cardinal boss, the dark horse; Manager McGraw of the Giants, center, and Miller Huggins, Yankee pilot, right. Below, Boss Tris Speaker of the Indians and George Gibson, manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Four teams are struggling, straining, fighting to the last breath in the greatest pennant scramble in baseball's history. In the American league the Yanks and Indians are fighting it out. In the National league the Pirates and Giants are battling for the lead. And, climbing rapidly in the last month, the St. Louis Cardinals, led by Branch Rickey, have made the other two teams worry. It would be possible for them to beat out either team.

WISDOM and WORSE

By C. F. C.

We like vaudeville. Like the funny stuff, the nutty comedians and the jokes and foolish songs. Also we like baseball. But we don't care for baseball inside a theatre, nor vaudeville in a ball park.

The Methodist club of the Twilight league set a new corner-lot record last evening, when they defeated the Morgan Seeders in a league game 2 to 1 without making a hit off the Morgans' twirlers. Errors and bases on balls accounted for both scores by the winners.

In the same league the University club and the Super-Sixes seem unable to trounce one another. Last evening they battled five innings into darkness with neither team unable to score, "Sniper" Conley and Murphy both hurling beautiful ball. This is the third tie these two teams have played and they'll probably still be trying to get that one league game off the schedule some warm day next December.

T. A. Ardis, a local fan, has sent in a letter calling our attention to a game of baseball played in 1888 between the teams of Marshall and Kildare, Texas, in which the Marshall club made 60 runs. The game was called in the seventh inning with Marshall still hitting 'em out. The Marshall team, according to our informant lined up as follows:

Joe Bohnnan, catcher; Charlie McCormack, pitcher; Jack Blackburn, first base; Sid Coleman, second base; Daddy Cross, shortstop; Ed Ryan, third base; Jake Goldsmith, left field; Kelse Powell, center field; Ike Hockwall, right field.

"The Kildare team," writes Mr. Ardis, "had three of the McGreavy boys, two of whom have since made good in vaudeville and another one of the brothers was pitching for Beaumont a few years ago.

"Several of these men are still living in Marshall, and can well remember this game."

That game must have been a humdinger, Brother Ardis. We don't wonder two of the players later made good in vaudeville—and it's possible the Cats might have equalled that 60-run record yesterday had they exerted themselves.

Only twenty-three players hit over .300 in the West Texas league during the last half of the season. Speck Comstock, of Abilene, property of the Spudders, clouted .281, hitting a slump late in the season after being for some time in the .300 class. Speck played in 58 games, was at bat 228 times, scored 46 runs, made 64 hits for a total of 82 bases, and pilfered 10 cushions. His record was unusually good, considering the fact that Abilene played him both in the outfield and infield. He was always a dangerous hitter in a pinch, and broke up many games for his club.

Danny Clark is going to winter in Wichita Falls. He and Roy Rhodes have formed the partnership of Rhodes & Clark, and have opened a tailoring and pressing business on Seventh street between Indiana and Ohio avenues. Caddy Works already has been supplied with three new suits, and Caddy's friends say the elongated first sacker is now a Beau Brummell for fair.

HOUSTON PLAYERS TO TAKE MEXICO TRIP WITH BEARS

SAN ANTONIO, Sept. 13.—The names of the players who will make up the San Antonio Texas League team going to Mexico City with the Dallas team for a six game series this month, were announced today. The outfielders will be Booe of San Antonio and Bailey and Whiteman of the Houston club. Henry, Fuller and Nee of San Antonio and Blades of Houston will be the infielders. Brock of San Antonio and Griffith of Houston, will do the catching. Couchman, Tiner and Hill of San Antonio will be the pitchers.

JUNIOR POLO TITLE PLAY GOES OVER TO MONDAY

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 13—Postponement yesterday because of rain of the match between the Philadelphia country and the army second team in the tournament for the junior polo championship of the United States will carry the final in the event over until Monday. It was to have been played Friday.

ARDMORE WINS 7-6, BEATING PARIS IN FOURTH T-O GAME

CHICKS AND CATS FIX DETAILS OF SERIES TODAY

Memphis, Tenn., Sept. 13.—Details of the post-season series for the baseball championship of the south between Memphis and Fort Worth, respective champions of the Southern Association and the Texas League, will be worked out at a meeting here tomorrow, it was announced today. The meeting will be attended by John D. Martin and Doak Roberts, presidents respectively of the Southern Association and the Texas League, and by officials of the two clubs. Rules governing major league world's series probably will be followed, it was said.

The governors of Tennessee and Texas will be asked to attend the series as guests of the two leagues, it was explained.

JOHNSON AND TILDEN WIN BRILLIANTLY

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 13.—Playing tennis of a calibre seldom seen even in international competition, William M. Johnston of San Francisco and Wm. T. Tilden of Philadelphia won their way into the 4th round of the national singles championship tournament here this afternoon. As a result of their respective victories over Vincent Richards of Yonkers and Zenzo Shimidzu, the present and former title holders will meet tomorrow afternoon in a match which will decide the finalist in the lower half of the draw.

Johnston in defeating Richards, 2-6, 3-6, 6-3, 9-7, 6-2 had a much more gruelling five sets battle than Tilden in eliminating Shimidzu in straight sets 6-4, 6-4, 6-1.

Richards entered the grand stand courts confident that his day to defeat the titleholder of 1915 andi 1919 was at hand and the manner in which the youthful player raced through the first two sets made it appear as though his confidence was going to lift his game to the point where he would overcome Johnston and enter the 4th round against his tennis mentor, Tilden. He failed to count upon the fighting courage and uncanny skill of Johnston, however, and the latter rose to the challenge of the player still in his teens and erased him from the titular tournament after one of the most thrilling and sensational matches staged in many years.

In the Tilden-Shimidzu, the world's champion adopted different tactics against the Japanese player than was the case at Forest Hills in the Davis cup challenge round. Tilden in place of exchanging comparatively slow, chop stroked balls went out to win with sheer speed of pace and accuracy of placement. Against an ordinary tournament opponent this form of tennis campaign in Tilden's hands would have been crushing but Shimidzu is far above that type. He took the champion's cannon ball service and shot it back without a change of exprssion; raced after clean placement shots and astonished even his opponent by sending the ball back as though it was merely a preliminary warming up exercise.

In the other more important matches of the day J. O. Anderson defeated his team mate on the Australia Davis cup team; John B. Hawkes, R. Norris Williams, II of Boston, former champion eliminated the Brooklyn veteran, S. Howard Boshell, Willis Davis of San Francisco won from Phil Neer of Portland, Oregon, in a four set match and F. Gordon Lowe of Manchester, England defeated Dean Mathey in three sets.

The Kinsey brothers, Howard and Robert, won with comparative ease from W. T. Knight of Philadelphia and Frank A. Fall of New York.

With the Pugs

CLEVELAND, Sept. 13.—If Tex Rickard comes to attend the 12-round bout between Johnny Kilbane, featherweight champion, and Danny Frush, the Baltimore challenger, here September 17, as he has said he will, he will be asked to be one of the judges, it was intimated today by members of of the Cleveland boxing commission.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 13.—Bill Brennan of Chicago and Hugh Walker of Kansas City, are expected to arrive here today to prepare for their bout Thursday night. The bout is for the benefit of disabled former service men.

ST. PAUL, Sept. 13.—Weather permitting Mike Gibbons, the St. Paul "phantom," and Young Fisher, the Syracuse, N. Y., battler, will stage their argument at Lexington Park here tonight, the bout having been postponed last night because of rain.

CHICAGO, Sept. 13.—Pal Moore, of Memphis, Tenn., was matched today to meet Midget Smith, New York bantamweight, in a ten-round bout at Aurora on September 23. The match was substituted for a match in which Smith was to have met Jack Sharkey.

FROM AROUND THE STATE

QUANAH

QUANAH, Texas, Sept. 13.—Cotton opened yesterday at 21.50 and then declined to 19.28. Farmers are busy and cotton is coming to town.

Near the new Red river bridge, owners of horses are making money pulling autos across the river. Consideration, $2 per pull. Many tourists say they have been charged $5 per pull. It is announced that the bridge will be finished by October 1 and this will do away with the rich pickings of the owners of horses and mules.

One of the striking exhibits at the woman's building during the Hardeman County Fair was an old woman's gown, which has a history. It was made by Mrs. Ann Pore, who lived in Finceastle, in Henderson county, moving there in the forties. She picked the cotton from which the gown was made, carded it, spun the yarn, dyed it—this in 1853—and later wove the cloth and made and wore the dress. It is a heavy blue and white check, plain round neck, and looks as if it would be good for daily wear of another generation. The gown was entered by Miss Wilmar Selman, a teacher in our public schools, who is a grand-daughter of Mrs. Pore.

Speaking of the fair of last news the Quanah Tribune says: "The Hardeman County Fair proved to be a financial success this year. Over $4000 were taken in which proved sufficient to pay all current expenses. Complaint is heard, however, that too many passes cut down its revenue and that this must be prevented next year. The Hardeman County fair eclipsed this year all former records; it was bigger and better than it ever had been, and the crowds were immense. Autos were parked by the hundreds in and outside the grounds, and during the races the cars stood in line from the grandstand to the racing stables. The grandstand frequently was taxed to its fullest capacity."

W. J. Altman and family of Wichita Falls, motored to Quanah to take in the fair and spend a few days with his father. They returned Tuesday.

George Naron of Star Valley exhibited a 40 pound turkey gobbler. This gigantic Tom is a pet at the Naron home, and does not object to his master picking him up off the ground. It is a handsome bird, of a size and plumage not usually seen. Of course, it is a blue ribbon turkey.

SOUTH BEND

SOUTH BEND, Texas, Sept. 13.—Field Manager McBride of the Roxana has been transferred to the new fields near Burbank, Oklahoma, and Fred Staler, who has been assistant to General Superintendent "Jack" Bates, has been sent to this district. The company is shipping several car loads of casing and oil well supplies to South Bend from Oklahoma, to be used in drilling four new wells on the Ford farm, west of town.

The bood people of South Bend owe a debt of gratitude to the Wichita Falls and Southern Railroad Co., its President, Frank Kell and Chief Engineer McFarland for building, at a cost of $3,800 a new wide road across the point of the hill west of town, in order to do away with the two dangerous railroad crossings that formerly existed.

LOCKNEY

LOCKNEY, Texas, Sept. 13.—The Floyd County Pure Bred Swine Breeders Association have held their first sale in Lockney. There was a splendid collection of big bone Poland China and Duroc Jersey hogs offered for sale, which found ready buyers. The hogs did not bring the price they should have brought, owing to feed prospects and short money conditions. The hogs came from the herds of Floyd County breeders, and were the pick of their herds. Some as fine stock as could be found anywhere was sold last Saturday. Advices to the West Texas Chamber of Commerce state that the sale was conducted by Messrs. Nash and Seale, veteran auctioneers of the Plains country. The people turned out in large numbers, and the buyers assembled were numerous and quite interested in the stock offered for sale. The Floyd County Pure Bred Swine Breeders Association plans to hold these annual sales, and as a result the people who have not started in the pure bred hog business will have opportunities of getting a start with some of the best raised in the Panhandle Plains country. A number of Panhandle hog men will show at the various county and state fairs this fall.

STAMFORD

STAMFORD, Texas, Sept. 13.—Rains have fallen in many sections of Central West Texas. Reports coming into the Chamber of Commerce office today, indicate, that a two inch rain fell at Munday, a three inch rain at Rule, and a inch and a half at Sagerton, and a good rain on all points on the Stamford and Northwestern railway to Spur. The weather is unsettled in Stamford but at this writing, there has been no precipatation. The slight slump in cotton is not causing any discouragements in this section because it is believed that the prices will range around twenty cents, and since the farmers planted and cultivated their crops on a basis of fifteen cent cotton, they are getting good returns at twenty cents, and this together with the high orie of seed is adding materially to the price of the staple.

The Stamford public schools opened yesterday with an enrollment of something like twelve hundred, the largest enrollment in the history of the city. Additional housing is being arranged, and even with all available room the school buildings will be crowded. Already steps are being taken to call an election for a bond issue for the erection of a high school building, and this will be needed badly before the end of the term is completed. The Parent-Teachers association will be hosts to the faculty of the public schools Friday night of this week, and a very elaborate program is being arranged for this occasion.

POTENTATES COMING WITH SHRINE HEAD

A wire to Potentate Cline, Maskat Temple, indicates that Frank C. Jones, imperial second ceremonial master, A. A. O. N. M., of Houston, and member of Arabia Temple; W. C. Temple, illustrious potentate, and Dr. Harrison B. Cave, chief rabban of Hella Temple, Dallas, will accompany Imperial Potentate and Mrs. Ernest A. Cutts on their visit to Wichita Falls on September 22 and 23, when Maskat Temple will be constituted.

After the business of constituting the new temple, Mr. Cutts will look after his Wichita Falls interests in the cotton business. He is not only imperial potentate of the Mystic Shrine, but he is also "Imperial" when it comes to the handling of the southeastern cotton business. He had the honor of selling at public auction from a boot-black's stand, in front of the cotton exchange at Savannah, the first bale of cotton of the 1922 season in the entire state of Georgia. The sale price was 68 cents per pound, the highest price paid in ten years, except in 1921, when $1.30 per pound was paid.

Elaborate preparations are being made by the local Shriners for the entertainment of the guests.

HOUSEBREAKERS HAVE BUSY TIME MONDAY NIGHT

Monday night was a busy time for house breakers, accoording to reports filed Tuesday with city police.

The theft of an automatic revolver and silver pencil by a burglar who entered through a rear door during the absence of the occupants, was reported to police by E. Mays, fourth and Burnett streets. An arrest was made by City Detective Humphries in connection with this case.

Police declare that a suspect is under surveillance in connection with the theft of three automobile casings Monday night from the garage of C. A. Kaufman, fourth and Burnett streets.

The theft of two casings were also reported to police by C. O. Matthews, 207 Bridge street.

The fourth robbery reported was the theft of $7 in currency from a handbag at 316 Ohio street.

GARY AND GERARD GO TO MEXICO CITY

By Associated Press.

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 13.—Elbert H. Gary, chairman of the board of directors of the United States steel corporation; James W. Gerard, former American ambassador to Germany, and a party of friends, were expected to arrive here early today, travelling in two special cars.

CORRESPONDENTS TO AID PUBLICITY FOR ARMS MEETING

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13. — A council of fourteen Washington correspondents, composed of officers of the seven newspapermen's clubs and departmental organizations here, was formed today to advise and assist government officials in the arrangement of publicity facilities at the conference on limitation of armament.

The new organization adopted the name of the American Press Council and arranged to confer in the near future with President Harding and Secretary Hughes to outline suggestions regarding the allotment of press space at the conference, the housing and entertainment of visiting correspondents, the issuance of correspondents' credentials and similar problems. Both the president and Mr. Hughes have expressed the desire to hear recommendations on the subject.

NEFF APPOINTS BOOK COMMISSIO

By Associated Press.

AUSTIN, Texas, Sept. 13.—Governor Neff announced the appointments today of members of the state text book commission as follows:

PROSPERITY JUST AHEAD, KAHN SAYS

NEW YORK, Sept. 13.—Otto Kahn, the financier of Kuhn, Loeb & Co., who has just returned an extended vacation abroad, enumerated in an interview some of the principal signposts along the road to readjustment of world conditions.

"The road lies before us, broad and straight," said Kahn.

"I fwe will take it resolutely, refusing to be enticed into byways or alleged short cuts, we shall soon find ourselves within sight again of prosperity and national well being.

"The matter and the manner of the reparations to be met by Germany is something which directly affects us," he said. "Unless Germany is permitted and directed to discharge her obligations to the allies, mainly in furnishing raw materials and services, it is manifest she can meet the huge burden imposed on her only by a correspondingly huge expansion of her export trade. And such expansion, to the extent that it is feasible, can be effected only at the expense of the trade of the leading industrial nations.

Europe Has Changed.

"It may be worth mentioning that, in comparing my European impressions this year with those of last year, what has struck me as perhaps the most interesting and significant development is:

"The theories of bolshevism are wholly discredited and have ceased to be a contagious influence and an article of faith with all but a small fraction of the bonafide working people of Europe.

"The eyes of the industrial nations of Europe are on Russia as the new land of unlimited possibilities.

"There seems to be almost universal recognition, even in strongly antagonistic quarters, that for the commercial penetration and the proper economic ordering and development of a regenerated, or to be regenerated Russia, the active co-operation of Germany is requisite and essential, owing to her contiguity and her knowledge of Russian ways and qualities and conditions.

"America looms so large as an actual, and still more a potential, facvtor in world affairs that her domestic affairs form an appropriate subject for discussion in even so cursory a survey of world matters. Our own house must be in order before we can be effective in those affairs abroad which are of concern to us. It seems to me the time has come when we should rouse ourselves out of our slough of industrial despondency. And I believe we can do so if we make a determined effort and pull together and follow that road which is marked by these signposts of economic soundness.

A Wise Tax Policy.

"We cannot have a return to normal business conditions, we cannot have vigorous enterprise, until we shall have corrected the most glaring, at least, among the faults of our present system of raising revenue.

A Wise Credit and Loan Policy.

There has been too much willingness in certain financial quarters to promote enterprises, to float securities for public sale and to falilitate business expansions when prices were abnormally high and a policy of caution and restriction was indicated.

"In times like the present, the attitude of those who are in charge of the business of loans and credits should be one of active encouragement, of a ready willingness, within the limits of prudence and capacity, to extend adequate facilities to borrowers for legitimate needs at home and abroad.

A Wise Tariff Policy.

"If we want the foreigner to buy from us we must be willing he should also sell to us. Trade in the long run cannot be a one-sided matter of sensational export balances.

"I am in favor of the principle of a protective tariff for America to the the extent its application is necessary to preserve our industries and the American standard of wages and living. But the American standard of wages and living does not mean that extravagant and wholly fortuitous standard, which resulted from the war and from its after-effects.

"In order to use the capacity of our industrial plants and to give full employment to our workers we must make every effort to hold our own in the markets of the world. And that is possible only if the cost of production can be brought into line with existing conditions. All of us, including labor, will be better off in the long run by getting away from an artificial level which has been of genuine benefit to no one and of considerable harm to a large part of our population.

Measures to Aid Farming.

"Second only to agriculture in national importance is the railroad industry, affecting, as it does, the public at large, the shipper, the investor and many industrial and commercial activities dependent on it to a considerable degree. It is greatly to be hoped that the long pending settlement between the government and the railroads will at last be consummated without further delay.

MARSHAL FOCH WILL BE GUEST OF BIG DINNER

By Associated Press.

PARIS, Sept. 13.—Marshal Foch has received and accepted an invitation from Elbert H. Gary, chairman of the board of the United States steel corporation, to be a guest at a dinner given by the Iron and Steel institute in New York City, at which there will be a great gathering of financiers and industrialists. The marshal will not go to America with General Pershing on board the cruiser Olympia when the body of an unknown American soldier will be returned to the United tSates. He considers that on so solemn a voyage that there is no place for even an ally.

Marshal Foch plans to sail on the liner Paris, on October 22, but his further plans are as yet undecided, except that he wil stop in Washington for a day on his way to Kansas City where he will attend the convention of the American legion. He will not be present at the first day of the convention, as that will be reserved for organization.

NEW YORK COFFEE

NEW YORK, Sept. 13.—There was further decline in the market for ee futures today owing to the unted showing of Brazilian cables, rehensions that the recent unsetruling of European exchange rates might interfere with any broadening of continental demand for coffee in the primary markets, and further liquidation or realizing. First prices were 3 to 6 points lower and the market sold 15 to 33 points below last night's closing figures with December easing off to 7.30 or about half a cent below the recent high level. That delivery closed at 7.44 with the general market closing at a net decline of 10 to 20 points. Sales were estimated at about 88,000 bags. September 7.24; October 7.20; December 7.44; January 7.52; March 7.70; May 7.87; July 8.00.

Spot coffee was reported in less active demand with quotations on the basis of 7 3-4 for Rio 7's and 10 3-4 to 11 3-4 for Santos 4's.

STOCK MARKET HESITANT ON BEAR ACTION

NEW YORK, Sept. 13.—The stock market was hesitant ta the outset of today's less expansive dealings but by noon and for the remainder of the session a firm to strong undertone prevailed, notwithstanding occasional bearish activities.

Relax conditions in the money market and subsidence of the recent disquieting fluctuations in grains and cotton probably contributed to the better feeling in speculative circles. German exchange rallied slightly but most other foreign remittances were inclined to react.

Financial interests seemed hopeful of favorable action by the senate on the railroad financing bill and the vast over-subscription of the new $60-,000,000 treasury notes was cited as additional proof of a sound investment situation.

More than half of the days trading was limbited to established favorites, notably the Mexican oils, general asphalt, Baldwin and American locomotives, crucible and United States steels and Studebaker. Rails were apathetic until the final hour when news of the regular dividend of Great Northern strengthened most investment transportations and extended to junior rails. Gross gains of one to four points suffered slight impairment at the active finish. Sales amounted to 635,000 shares.

Call loans opened at 5 1-2 per cent but dropped to 5 per cent when it was found that outside offerings were being freely made on a 4 1-2 per cent basis. The money was more plentiful and merchants paper was in better demand.

Firmer conditions ruled in the broader bond market, convertible rails again being favored. Liberty issues were mainly better. Internationals, including Mexicans eased variably. Total sales per value, $13,275,000.

TWENTY-TWO POUND PACKAGES ACCEPTED FOR PARCEL POST

By Associated Press.

BUENOS AIRES, Sept. 13.—Shipment of merchandise packages weighing up to 22 pounds will be possible under a parcel post convention adopted yesterday by the Pan-American postal congress, in session here.

The other provisions of the convention were that there would be freedom of transit through contracting countries, that payment of from 20 to 40 cents United States gold would be made by the country of origin to the country of destination on packages weighing from 11 to 22 pounds and an agreement on the part of the countries of destination not to make more than a single local charge not exceeding ten cents.

The parcels post agreement provides for the formation of a Pan-American parcels union, embracing the United States and all countries of Latin-America.

One case cited to show previous agreements were faulty was of a package mailed from the United States containing articles worth 30 cents. The finally cost the addresses more than $6 as a result of various changes.

The cause of waves is the wind, which presses unequally on the surface of the sea and depresses one part more than another. Each depression causes a corresponding elevation and the undulations are the waves.

COTTON AGAIN SUFFERS LOSS OF TWO CENTS

NEW YORK, Sept. 13.—Continuation of the decline which had been checked by the maximum fluctuation rule yesterday carried the cotton market about two to 2 1-2 cents per pound below recent high prices during today's early trading. Offerings then became decidedly smaller and there was a recovery of fully a cent from lowest, December selling up from 19.10 to 20.19 and closing at 20.02, compared wtih 19.60 at the close yesterday. The general market closed firm and irregular at a net advance of 41 to 58 points.

Liverpool was relatively steady, but the opening here was easy at an advance of 8 points to the decline of 10 points, and active months sold 35 to 67 points net lower before the end of the morning with October touching 18.90 and March 18.75. The better showing of the early weather map promoted liquidation of long contracts and probably some selling for a further reaction on a belief that attention of the trade was turning from reduced estimates of the yield to the prospect for increasing new crop receipts. Selling by houses with Liverpool connections was a feature on the break during the first hour, but offerings from that source were light after the close abroad, and the market here turned firm during the early afternoon on trade buying, re-buying by old bulls who had taken profits last week, and reports that a prominent New Orleans map reader looked for another rainly spell in the southwest. The afternoon advance was also encouraged by bullish private spot advances from the south and reports thta an Atlanta bank was advertising in Georgia papers that it would advance 75 per cent of the market value of cotton. October sold up to 20.00 and March to 19.76, while January advanced from 18.90 to 19.90, or about 43 to 65 points net higher on the general list. The close was a few points off from the best under realizing.

LIVERPOOL SPOTS

LIVERPOOL, Sept. 13.—Cotton spot in steady demand; prices weak. Good middling 13.98; fully middling 13.29; middling 12.84; low middling 12.04; good ordinary 10.99; ordinary 10.24; sales 18,000 bales, including 11,000 American.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, La., Sept. 13.—Further reports of crop damage in Texas, as the result of overflowed bottom lands in some of the richest portions of the state and the rumor that a private bureau report was coming out with a condition report for the entire belt of but 39 per cent of normal, indicating a crop of only 6,-535,000 bales, put the price of cotton higher today, following a period of easiness in early trading, resulting from extensive liquidation of long contracts. At lowest of the session trading months were 37 to 64 points under advances of 50 to 73 points over close of yesterday. Last prices were at net gains on the day of 40 to 60 points. October traded as low as 18.51 rose to 19.65 and closed at 19.55.

Near months were steady at a rise of one to three points on the opening call in sympathy with a higher Liverpool but the steadiness did not last the call and immediately after the whole list slumped under pressure from liquidation.

There were several partial recoveries from the decline, but these were not sustained until rumors were heard of a very low private bureau condition report.

In late trading price movements were much narrower but the market took on a steadier tone and closed very steady.

SUGAR PRICE GOES TO NEW LOW LEVEL

NEW YORK, Sept. 13.—The lowest prices recorded for sugar futures since the inauguration of such trading were reached today when contracts for March deliveries sold at 2.35 cents a pound on the New York coffee and sugar exchange. This was due to continuation of the decline which has been in progress for the past several weeks as the result of the large available supply and a poor demand for refined.

CROPS ROTTING IN MANITOBA

By Associated Press.

WINNIPEG, Man., Sept. 13.—Crops are rotting on thousands of acres around Creelman, Sask., because labor cannot be obtained at wages which farmers are able to pay.

DROUGHT NEWS IN ARGENTINA BOOST WHEAT

CHICAGO, Sept. 13.—Argentina drought advices together with some revival of export business in this country led to a material upturn today in the price of wheat. The market closed firm 2 1-4 to 3 1-2 net higher, with December 1.32 to 1.32 1-4 and May 1.36 3-4 to 1.37. Corn finished unchanged to 1-4@3-8 higher; oats up 1-4 to 1-2@5-8, provisions varying from 25c decline to 5c gain.

Bulls in wheat were prompt to take advantage of the failure of predictions for rain in Argentina. On the other hand, the apparent increasing likelihood of serious curtailment of the Argentine yield was given as the chief reason for numerous orders to purchase. During the resultant upturn, houses that were conspicuous sellers of late became chief buyers. Estimates were current that export business for the day totalled 1,000,000 bushels and there was gossip that for the first time since 1914, Japan was acquiring wheat on a large scale.

Only a moderate reaction in prices was caused by late sales to realize profits.

Corn and oats sympathized with wheat strength. Rural offerings of corn were said to have fallen off.

Provisions averaged lower, influenced by downturns in hogs.

To Our Customers

—In order to make you better prices, and meet out-of-town competition, we have consolidated our printing plant and stationery store, now having all in one, right in the heart of the city, thereby curtailing our expenses, besides we have made reductions in various other ways, which will enable us to make prices on printing that will meet your approval.

—In future it will not be our policy to bother you with salesmen, excepting an occasional visit on the part of our superintendent. We do not mean by this that we have plenty and do not need your work; we need it the worse kind, and want to figure on all your printing but we are satisfied you had rather we give you the benefit of this expense in price, however we shall be glad to call should it not be convenient for you to come to our store.

—We are in Wichita Falls, interested in the welfare of Wichita Falls and whenever possible we will meet or better, legitimate competition.

—Let's keep this money at home.

citation once each week for four successive weeks previous to the return day hereof, in some newspaper published in your county, to appear at the next regular term of the 89th District Court of Wichita County, to be holden at the Court House thereof in Wichita Falls, on the First Monday in October, A. D. 1921, the same being the 3rd day of October, A. D. 1921, then and there to answer a petition filed in said Court on the 6th day of September, A. D. 1921, in a suit numbered on the docket of said Court No. 11517-C, wherein Joe M. Slama is Plaintiff and Block 60 Oil Co., C. W. Morgan, Warren Law, W. R. Walker, The Kenbrook Oil Co., R. M. Harp, Chas. F. Noble, T. J. Martin, R. M. Kemper, Swift Drilling Co., Hoffman Trust Co., and J. W. Dyer are defendants, and said petition alleging, That he is lawfully seized and possessed of in fee simple of the N. W. Qr. of Block 60 of Red River Valley lands Subdivision Wichita County, Texas; That on the 25th day of January, 1919, defendants unlawfully entered upon said premises and ejected plaintiff therefrom and unlawfully withholds possession thereof; That on the 25th day of January, 1919, this plaintiff made a lease contract with Ben F. Shulz whereby said lessor was permitted to prospect for Oil and Gas for five years, or as long thereafter as oil or gas was produced therefrom, or pay a rental of $75.00 per month, which lease contract is recorded in Vol. 125, page 87-88, deed records of Wichita county, Texas; That said lease contract provides that upon failure of lessor to produce oil therefrom or pay rentals as provided therein, said contract shall be forfeited; That since said day and date said lease contract has been assigned and transferred to various parties and that all the above named defendants claim some interest therein which interest is unknown to this plaintiff; That all of said defendants have abandoned said lease for more than one year, and no oil or gas has ever been produced from said land by the said defendants or either of them or by any one holding under said lease, thereby breaching their said contract; That said lease, assignments and transfers are a cloud upon the title to said land.

Plaintiff prays that all the defendants be cited by publication to appear and answer, that he have judgment cancelling said lease and assignments and transfers thereunder and holding same for naught and removing cloud from plaintiff title, and quiting plaintiff in his title and possession, and costs of suit.

Herein Fail Not, but have before said Court, at its aforesaid next regular term, this writ with your return thereon showing how you have executed the same.

GIVEN UNDER MY HAND and the Seal of said Court, at office in Wichita Falls, Texas, this the 6th day of September, A. D., 1921.

TO THE SHERIFF OR ANY CONSTABLE OF WICHITA COUNTY, GREETING:
You are hereby commanded to summon G. Watson Smith by making publication of this citation once each week for four successive weeks previous to the return day hereof, in some newspaper published in your county, to appear at the next regular term of the Eighty-ninth District Court of Wichita County, to be holden at the court house thereof in Wichita Falls, on the first Monday in October, A. D., 1921, the same being the 3rd day of October, A. D., 1921, then and there to answer a petition filed in said court on the 20th day of August, A. D., 1921, in a suit, numbered on the docket of said court No. 11425-C wherein, Highland Irrigation and Land Company is plaintiff and G. Watson Smith is defendant and said petition alleging, that on or about the 2nd day of June, 1916, the plaintiff was lawfully seized of the following described property, situated in Wichita County, Texas, to-wit: Lots Nos. 10 and 11 in Block No. 53 "A" of the Highland Addition to the city of Wichita Falls, Texas, said plaintiff holding and claiming the above described in fee simple. That on said date the defendant, G. Watson Smith unlawfully entered upon said premises and ejected plaintiff therefrom and now unlawfully withholds from plaintiff the possession of said property, to its damage in the sum of $3000.00. That plaintiff holds and is entitled to and claims a superior title to said property under and by virtue of a certain vendor's lien retained by plaintiff in and to the above described property. That the reasonable annual, rental value of said premises is $500.00.

Wherefore, plaintiff sues, prays for service upon the defendant, for judgment for the title and possession of said property, for writ of restitution, for judgment for its damages and rent, for all costs of suit and for general and special relief.

Herein fail not, but have before said court, at its aforesaid next regular term, this writ with your return thereon showing how you have executed the same.

TOUSSAINT "PULLS" NEW THRILLER

Henry John Toussaint, whose plea of insanity failed to find weight with a jury who returned a death penalty against him for the killing of his father, to which he had confessed, and who since the trial, from time to time has staged some hair-raiser in his cell in the jail, pulled off, or rather started, another Monday night, it became known Tuesday.

For the prisoner Monday night wrote a letter to his wife in which he advised her of an intention to end his life. The letter, as is universally the custom af jails and prisons everywhere, was examined by Jailer Cass Tarver, who immediately after searched the prisoner's cell.

He found that the prisoner had braided a rope from strips torn off his blanket, the strips being torn with a width of about four inches, and folded once. Evidence of the starting of another and smaller rope was also found under the prisoner's pillow, but that had evidently been abandoned as inadequate and the larger one was fashioned.

Toussaint in the letter, which as aforesaid, was intercepted, told his wife that he had planned to take his life before his removal from the main jail.

He said his removal interfered with his plans, officers said, as he had not completed the ropes at this time Saturday, according to the officers.

The prisoner was removed to the third floor of the court house after he had set the jail on edge at 2:30 Saturday morning, first by setting his bunk on fire, and later amusing himself by banging the tinware against the sides of his cell. Saturday he went into a deep sleep from which he did not arouse despite the efforts of the officers.

Toussaint was originally sentenced to hang on September 30, but the appeal taken by his attorney from the original conviction automatically stayed the execution.

CHARGE WOMAN WITH THEFT OF DIAMONDS

SON IN LAW CLAIMS SHE WILL NOT RETURN JEWELS

Charges of theft over $50 were filed Tuesday afternoon against Mrs. M. Graves of Iowa Park, following her arrest by City Detective Bob Hembree.

The charges were said to have been filed upon the complaint of a son-in-law of the woman, who asserted that Mrs. Graves had gotten possession of two diamonds and refused to return them. According to detectives gems were valued at above $500.

Jailor Cass Tarver reported Tuesday that the woman was released on bond, the amount of which he did not know.

VARSITY CLUB HEARS TALK ON LATEST LAWS

Representative B. F. Johnson gave members of the University club all of the "inside dope" on what happened at the sessions of the Thirty-seventh legislature with regard for the retrenchment activities affecting the state institutions, the senatorial and representative redistricting bills, the irrigation bill, and the truck bill, at the regular weekly luncheon Tuesday noon at the Kemp hotel.

On the program with Mr. Johnson was John A. Lomax, secretary of the Ex-Students association of the University of Texas, and an authority on the cowboy songs of the west, who read several songs from his collection; which has been published, and lead the audience in singing several.

Mr. Johnson said he was proud to have been one of the minority who fought to keep the "retrenchment wing" of the legislature from cutting the educational appropriations. At the present time the fact that the state lawmakers have control of the finances of the university is a great hindrance to the cause of educating the young men and women who need the opportunity of the state schools, Mr. Johnson said.

Blow to Morale.

"The retrenchers have dealt a blow at the morale of the state university by their fight to cut down the salaries of the teachers," Mr. Johnson said, "because it casts a veil of uncertainty around the teaching contracts to be made. They sign up to teach at one of the state institutions and do not know whether they can afford to teach for a period of two years."

Removal of the control of the state educational institutions from politics and financing them by a tax assessment on land values were suggested by the speaker as his idea of a solution of the matter.

Mr. Johnson threw cold water on some of the aspirants for pobs at the new state asylum, which will be opened at Lake Wichita shortly, by reading a list of the small salaries paid to employes of the state institutions, ranging from $2,500 and board for the superintendent to $500 for the lesser jobs.

Sing Old Songs.

John A. Lomax, well known for his activities concerning the welfare of the university, was introduced by Orville Bullington, president of the Ex-Students association of the Texas university. Mr. Bullington told of the activities of the association in helping deserving students by the loan fund and said the association had some funds available for deserving students who sought an education at the university.

Something like the "old campus spirit' was imparted to the meeting when those present joined with Mr. Lomax insinging some of the cowboy songs. Everyone seemed to enjoy casting off the shell of formality.

So great was the appeal of the few poems and songs which were read that Mr. Bullington consented to offer as the attendance prize at next week's luncheon a copy of the collection of cowboy songs by Mr. Lomax. This book, which contains songs collected by Mr. Lomax during a years travels through the cow country of the west, at the instance of Harvard university, and is said to go used by schools of England and Australia as a text book of American folk lore.

Jarrell Gose, talented violinist, gave several selections and responded with an encore which was well received. Prof. Frank Loew played the accompaniment.

Announcement was made that the University club will undertake to finance a young lady of this city, whom they helped last year, in her second year at the University of Texas.

LAST LAUGH SOMETIME IS BEST LAUGH

"He laughs best who laughs last" and W. J. Webb, secretary of local masonic bodies believes that he has last laugh as a result of Monday night's entertainment during which Mr. Webb was forced to take swimming and high diving lessons as well as dance the shimmy for a dozen or so tormentors, all because he had recently become a benedict.

C. O. Fritz, recorder for Maskat temple, was declared by members of the "entertainers" to have been an aggressive instigator in all plans for the "torture" of Mr. Webb and to have, when the fun started, gone home to bed. Members of the squard declared that this could not be tolerated. Consequently a committee visited Mr. Fritz' home. When he, partially clad appeared at the door he was snatched by powerful hands, placed in a automobile and whisked away to the Seventh street swimming pool, where Mr. Webb was at last permitted to exit from the center of the stage and join the spectators.

GIRLS' CLUB PLANS WORK FOR WINTER

Discussion of plans for the coming year's work featured a business meeting held by the executive board of the Business Girl's club at the Y. W. C. A. recreation rooms Tuesday evening.

It was decided at this meeting to invite the teachers of the city schools who would be here this fall and winter, as well as business girls who were not already members of the club, to join.

Miss Nina Mae Durham, who attended the Y. W. C. A. general convention at Estes Park, Colorado, while on her vacation, gave a brief report of her trip, and a report was also given by the chairman of the year book committee, who announced that the club year book would be ready by Tuesday evening, when the first regular meeting of the club for the fall and winter season, will be held. Those present included: Misses Florence Jackson, Era Dawson, Carrie Webster, Mina Seivers, Maud Thomas, Evelyn Coffield, Frances Brooks, Nina Mae Durham, Ethel McDowell and Mesdames C. F. Carter and Mary Gross.

RECEIVE PARTS FOR NEW DESKS

Cast iron parts for the approximately 1,000 desks ordered about two months ago were located late Monday on a railroad side track at Sherman, it was announced Tuesday by W. W. Brown, business manager of city schools, and are expected to arrive here some time Wednesday. The wooden parts to the desks arrived some time ago. School officials expect to have the desks installed and in use by the latter part of the week, if the cast parts arrive on schedule time, Mr. Brown announced.

Students, at present, in several of the newly constructed school buildings are being temporarily seated in chairs borrowed from churches for that use. In the Bowie school the pupils are using the pews of the Bowie school addition church building.

Superintendent Lee Clark announced Tuesday that officials are well pleased with the prospects and expect to see the attendance reach a higher mark than that of last year before the end of the scholastic semester. Teachers were unable Tuesday to give report of the total attendance.

A school board meeting called for Tuesday afternoon at 5 o'clock to decide on a few minor changes of district lines to more evenly distribute the attendance among ward schools was postponed because of lack of a quorum.

Miss Genevieve Goff, coach of last year's successful high school orchestra, said Tuesday afternoon that efforts will be made in the near future to organize another for this year.

Town Topics

G. B. Johnson, postoffice inspector expects to leave Wednesday for New York where he is called in connection with cases filed in New York while he was assigned at New Orleans.

OBITUARY

FRANK AMEN.

The body of Frank Amen, 28 years of age, who was killed Monday when the dome was blown from an oil tank, near the Lone Star Tank Car Co., three miles from town, was shipped Tuesday night to Pilot Point, his former home. The body was accompanied by Frank Amen, father and Mike Amen, brother of the deceased.

Rosemont Burial Park is located away from the din and dust of this fast growing city, south of Call Field, on grounds free from rock and wat so suitable to its purpose.—Adv.

WHIFFLE TREES AND "MULE" DON'T MIX

BEING THE STORY OF A VERY ROUGH PARTY AT BRIDKETOWN

Corn whiskey, cast iron whiffle trees and fiery temperaments just won't mix Sheriff Fred Smith said Tuesday in commenting on a trip made Monday to Bridgetown, where he declared it was found that three men had made a hasty departure for Oklahoma, while a third was equally as hastily dispatched to a hospital, following such a mixture.

A fractured forearm, fractured collar bone and numerous body bruises were reported to have been suffered by the man who was sent to the hospital.

Jailor Cass Tarver reported Tuesday evening that three of the men, said to have been engaged in the dispute, had appeared here and paid fines for connection with the affair.
