Tito Charged With Joining 'Imperialists'

Reds Say Hostile Actions Of Slavs Revealed In Trial

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, Sept. 29—Soviet Russia scrapped her friendship treaty with Yugoslavia today, declaring that Premier Marshal Tito's regime has lined up with "foreign imperialist circles."

The decision ending the alliance signed in 1945 was disclosed in a Soviet note to Yugoslavia. It was broadcast by Moscow radio.

The note declared the Budapest treason trial of former Hungarian Foreign Minister Laszlo Rajk, sentenced to death Saturday, disclosed Yugoslavia had been carrying on hostile activity against the Soviet union.

Charges Are Hurled

Rajk was accused specifically of plotting with Yugoslav and American agents to overthrow the Moscow-backed Communist government in Hungary. Marshal Tito denounced the trial as a Russian propaganda move aimed at weakening his Yugoslav regime.

The Russian action was the sharpest diplomatic slap at Yugoslavia since the Moscow-led Cominform (Communist International Information bureau) expelled the Yugoslavs in June, 1948.

Since that time Russia and her eastern European satellites have clamped an economic boycott on Yugoslavia.

Marshal Tito on Tuesday accused Russia of rattling the saber and digging trenches in the satellite countries along the Yugoslav border in an attempt to intimidate his country.

Diplomats Are Expelled

There was immediate speculation here that other Communist nations may follow Russia's lead and sever formal ties with the Yugoslavs.

Yugoslavia has friendship and mutual aid treaties with Albania, Bulgaria, Czechoslovakia, Hungary, Poland and Romania.

As a result of the Budapest trial, Hungary expelled 10 Yugoslav diplomats from Budapest and Tito retaliated by expelling nine Hungarian legation attaches from Belgrade.

"In the course of the trial," the Soviet note to Yugoslavia declared, "it was revealed that the Yugoslav government has already for a long time been carrying on profoundly hostile disruptive activity against the Soviet union, hyprocitically masked by mendacious assurances of 'friendship' for the Soviet union."

Plane To Seek Italian Fliers

NEW YORK, Sept. 29. (AP)—TWA announced today it had received a dispatch from its Paris office indicating two Italian fliers, missing since Sept. 17 in a Trans-Atlantic flight, were adrift in their plane near the Bahamas islands.

The fliers, John M. Brondello and Camillo Barioglio, were on a planned non-stop flight from the Azores to New York in a single-engined plane.

The U. S. coast guard said an army plane already had left San Juan, Puerto Rico, for the local given—a point due east of the middle section of the Bahamas group.

TWA said the dispatch from Paris was relayed at the request of the coast guard.

The message indicating the fliers were alive was relayed from the Italian marine radio which picked up a blind message.

The coast guard said the blind message said. "Alive drifting near Bahamas. Insufficient food. Radio inoperative No search planes sighted."

Arms Aid Approved By Top-Heavy Vote

War Equipment Available For Allies In World-Wide Struggle With Communists

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29—Final and enthusiastic congressional approval of the overseas arms aid bill gave the administration authority today to start big stocks of war equipment on the way to America's allies against communism.

Congress sent the $1,314,010,000 one-year foreign arms bill to the White House yesterday by a top-heavy margin.

The measure makes immediately available $125,000,000 in cash from the Reconstruction Finance corporation to throw the arms plan into gear.

Senate leaders say these funds can be used to process and ship $450,000,000 worth of surplus American equipment to the nations which have stood with the United States in the cold war with Russia.

The House passed the bill by a two-to-one vote—223 to 109. A short time later the Senate shouted its approval.

Enough To Start Plan

There was only a flurry of oratory in both houses to delay the passage. Critics called the bill a wasteful move toward war. But friends of the program defended it as a strong peace measure.

The $450,000,000 worth of surplus arms provided in the bill is in addition to the cash and contract authority.

Most of the cash and contract rights must yet be approved by congressional appropriations committees. But the $125,000,000 from RFC is enough to get the program rolling.

The greater part of the arms aid will be funnelled to the North Atlantic pact nations. The bill earmarks $500,000,000 in cash and another $500,000,000 in contract authority for the western European nations pledged to defend the Atlantic area.

Except for $100,000,000, the President can't release this fund until he approves defense recommendations by the Atlantic defense committee.

The balance of the funds will go to helping Greece, Turkey, Korea, the Philippines, Iran, and the China area.

PRESSURE ON STEEL COMPANIES

Ford Action Will Aid Steelworkers

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 29. (AP)—Agreement of Ford Motor company to finance pensions for aged CIO United Auto workers today increased pressure on steel negotiators for a settlement.

Neither the United States Steel corporation, biggest producer and industry leader, nor the CIO United steelworkers would comment on the Ford settlement as bargaining teams gathered here for new contract talks.

They are working against a Friday midnight strike deadline.

Advantage To Union

Ford's willingness to pay for a 10-cent hourly pension and insurance package places a new weapon in the union's hands.

The auto pact conforms to the recommendations of the steel industry fact finding board and leaves steel companies standing firm on their refusal to go along on the recommendation that employers bear all expenses.

U. S. Steel and other big producers want employes to share in the costs. The union says that all companies which don't switch over will be struck at 12:01 a. m. Saturday.

Determined Philip Murray, president of both the CIO and the steelworkers, went ahead with plans to flash the strike signal to

News Finally Gets Around In Capital

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29. (AP)—Fred Bailey, an official of the National Grange, went to see an Agriculture Department official. While waiting he casually asked a stenographer what she thought of the Brannan plan of farm price supports.

"Who's Brannan?" asked the stenographer.

"Why," replied Bailey, "he's Secretary of Agriculture!"

"He is? Then what became of Clinton Anderson?"

Two Circuses To Play Here

Lubbock will not be visited by the "Big Top" this season, but in its stead are coming two smaller circuses, and both on the same day!

Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey Combined Shows have been forced to eliminate Lubbock from its 1949 schedule, Waldo T. Tupper, general agent, has notified A. B. Davis, manager of the Panhandle-South Plains Fair, where the circus was scheduled to exhibit on Oct. 14.

But no more had the letter been received on the big show's cancellation, than C. S. Primrose, advance agent for the Clyde Beatty Circus, paid his visit to Lubbock and announced that the Beatty show will be here on Tuesday, Oct. 11.

Jaycees Are Sponsors

That day happens to be the same date announced for a showing of the Rogers Bros. Circus, sponsored by the Lubbock Jaycees. Jaycees have been selling tickets for this show for about two weeks. It will set up in the fair grounds.

The Beatty Circus will show on a vacant lot just south of the Parkview lodge on east Broadway, Primrose announced.

"Looks like we're right in the big middle of a circus war," Russell (Curly) Wilkinson, Jaycee president, said today. "We have to go on with our commitments on the Rogers show as we have sold a number of tickets and advertising. It is regrettable that both shows are coming to town on the same day."

Employe Of Lumber Company Is Injured

J. R. Bridges of route 6, yard foreman for the Forrest Lumber company, suffered possible internal injuries about 8 a. m. today when a keg of nails fell on his stomach while he was working in the company's yard at 1300 Fourth.

He was taken in a Rix Funeral home ambulance to West Texas hospital, where he will remain for observation.

J. B. Cole, jr., manager of the yard, described the mishap as "one of those peculiar things that just happen." Bridges was walking through the warehouse and stepped on a small truck, or dolly. As he did, the truck began to roll and Bridges reached up to catch something to permit him to maintain balance. What he grabbed was the keg of nails which, as the man fell, toppled over and struck him in the stomach.

Bridges, about 62, lay on the warehouse floor for almost 20 minutes before he was found by fellow workers.

History-Making Pension Plan Signed By Ford, CIO Union

(By The Associated Press)

DETROIT, Sept. 29.—The Ford Motor Co., and the CIO United Auto Workers reached agreement early today on a history-making pension plan to be financed by the company.

It will pay $100 monthly—including social security—to Ford workers over 65.

The agreement, based on a ten-cent an hour package recently recommended by a presidential fact-finding board in the steel industry, averted a strike of 115,000 Ford production workers.

The marathon negotiations ran nearly 35 hours without recess and set an endurance record for the auto industry. As late as midnight, when the old contract expired, UAW President Walter P. Reuther said there was still a 50-50 chance a walkout might be called.

Provisions Outlined

The new pact runs two and a half years, giving hope of long peace in the industry.

Effective Oct. 1, providing it is ratified by rank and file Ford workers, the new contract is unique in the auto industry's history in at least three respects:

1—It calls for the first major pension plan, and the company agreed for the first time to shoulder the entire financial responsibility for pensions.

2—For the first time, the union let its demand for an hourly wage increase go by the board in favor of security provisions. The present wage rate of $1.65 an hour will be continued.

3—The 30-month duration, a record in the auto industry.

The pact may well affect mil-

STUDENT JUMPS FROM WINDOW

Passing Motorist Saves Nine Persons From Blazing House

(By The United Press)

DALLAS, Sept. 29—A passing motorist saved nine persons in a raging house fire today.

W. O. Smith, 38, noticed smoke pouring from windows of a two-story house. He stopped his car, beat on the front door of the home and failing to gain admission, went to the rear of the house and forced his way in.

In the kitchen, he found Mrs. F. E. Rice, owner of the house, who was unaware that the blaze was raging. Smith "ordered" her out, then braved the fire to arouse eight other persons, including seven business college students who roomed there.

Carried Woman Out

One of the students received a sprained ankle when he jumped from a second story window. Another was painfully bruised in "shinnying" down a column at the front of the house.

The ninth person in the house was Mrs. Lulu H. Chote, Mrs. Rice's mother, a 91-year-old semi-invalid.

Smith carried her out of the house seconds before flames blocked all exits.

"It was close," said Smith, "Just as I came out the back door with her, flames came out right behind us."

The interior of the brick house was a total loss.

Canadian Dam Gains Ground

AMARILLO, Sept. 29. (U.P.) — The proposed Canadian river dam project gained ground yesterday in Washington, according to word received here last night by Panhandle friends of Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson.

Johnson wired that New Mexicos' Clinton P. Anderson had agreed to accept a suggested amendment to the Worley bill authorizing the undertaking.

To Seek Fast Action

Johnson said he would offer the amendment in Senate committee at the earliest possible time and "will do my best to bring about passage of the bill this session."

Briefly, the amendment agreed upon by Anderson is that there will be no construction started on the project, near Sanford, Texas, until agreement on an interstate water compact between Texas, Oklahoma and New Mexico.

The next real action on the bill is anticipated when the legislation reaches the Senate floor.

Dynamite Blast Gunfire, Stone Hurling Occur

Wrath Of Unions Brought Down On Defiant Workers

(By The Associated Press)

A dynamite blast rocked a coal company tipple today in a fresh outbreak of violence in the nation's coal fields.

John L. Lewis' United Mine workers were to resume negotiations today with two big branches of the coal industry amid a stormy background of blasting, gunfire and stone hurling.

The mine workers' wrath against non-union men working the pits in defiance of the union brought this fast-breaking chain of events:

1. A blast at a tipple of the Junedale Coal company at Grass Flat, Pa., ripped off the roof, tore off part of one side and damaged generators and motors in the building.

School Buses Halted

2. A gunfire-flareup at Jasper, Ala., reportedly resulted in the death of one miner and the serious wounding of another. The sheriff there said he could not confirm the death, however.

3. Governor William M. Tuck declared a state of emergency in Virginia.

4. The Kanawha county, West Va., school board, ordered its school buses off the highways in fear of battling between pickets and non-union workers.

It was with this background that Lewis' union was to confer with leaders of the southern coal operators and of the northern and western men.

Stocks Dwindling

The walkout of 480,000 miners entered its 11th day today. Lewis, who wasn't expected to attend either meeting, said it was a spontaneous demonstration by the union men, that it was not a strike.

Coal stocks were dwindling rapidly. Thousands of men had been laid off because of the coal stoppage.

The Grass Flat episode came this morning. State police, already bulwarked by extra details, said they were investigating the dynamite blast, but had made no arrests.

Bobely M. Smith, president of the company which employes 45 men, said it'll take a week before he can resume operations. The tipple is valued at $10,000.

Some 1,400 non-union miners were at work in Pennslyvania pits.

Talks In Fifth Month

Governor Tuck in his state-of emergency directive, reorganized the Virginia council of defense and directed it to secure "every possible pound of coal" for Virginia's

Lubbock Residents Are Polio Victims

The illnesses of two Lubbock residents have definitely been diagnosed as polio, attendants at the West Texas polio center at Plainview reported today.

Most seriously ill with the dread disease is Mrs. Jess Koger, jr., 31, who lives on Route 1, seven miles east of Lubbock.

Attendants said both of her legs are paralyzed from the hips down and that her condition is only "fair."

The other victim, an August graduate of Tech, is Robert A. Lofland, 27, of 2503 College. Attendants said his case is very mild and his condition is "good."

They were taken to the Plainview hospital from St. Mary's hospital Tuesday. Mrs. Koger was admitted to the hospital here Sunday and Lofland on Monday.

NEW AIR LINES AID TRAVELERS

Japan Hopes For Fast Return Of Pre-War Tourist Business

By O. H. P. KING
Associated Press Staff Writer

TOKYO, Sept. 29.—Japan is quaint, scenic and tourist-hungry.

Tourism used to be big business here, in prewar days. Japanese are actually aware they are only a frog-hop away from a continent full of natural-born tourists. The problem is how to get them across the pond.

When the fifth transoceanic air line service (Canadian Pacific) opened through Tokyo recently, chamber of commerce officials hoped to tap a hitherto uncultivated source of potential spend-thrift travelers.

Before the war no chartered airlines paused in Japan. But the tourist business was significant, even after tension cut it down. In 1935 customs records show 42,629 foreigners visited Japan.

Travel Now Light

Although the total had sagged to 32,051 by 1939, it still meant a valuable flow of hard-currency revenue to the islands.

Now, since the war, half a dozen airlines send planes in and out of Tokyo weekly. Yet travel is the lightest, except for war years, in the memory of career greets like hotel managers.

Steamship companies are offering attractive tours for those with leisure. The airlines make it possible for those with more money than time to see far away places and still get home quickly.

Canadian Pacific air lines, a subsidiary of the Canadian Pacific railway, started service recently between Vancouver, B. C., and Hong Kong. Other lines operating through Tokyo are British Overseas Airways corporation with weekly round trips between here and London; China National Aviation corporation with weekly flights to Hongkong; Philippine airlines making weekly flights to Manila; Northwest airlines with three weekly flights; and Pan-American World airways, also with three flights weekly from the United States.

Await Peace Treaty

Real tourist business may be months away from any appreciable volume—in fact it may not amount to much until after a peace treaty is signed—but when it does the Japanese expect visitors from all over.

At the peak of her popularity, 1935, Japan was host to 9,111 Americans, 7,290 British, 1,280 Russians, and 260 Chinese—to mention only the leaders.

There were only 375 from Canada, but if Canadian Pacific airlines gets the business it counts on, Japan will realize a tidy income from this source.

Relaxed regulations have recently been announced by supreme headquarters as another step toward eventual withdrawal of occupation forces.

In the years ahead, this land of 80 million people who fought so fanatically against now-friendly victors may again be one of the world's favored vacation spots.

It has the scenery—and the ambition.

Ruling On Tech Fee Aids Lubbock Youth

AUSTIN, Sept. 29. (AP) —Attorney General Price Daniel said Wednesday that Jerry L. Shelby, 19, may enter Texas Tech without paying the fee for nonresidents although his parents live in Oklahoma.

Shelby is married, has one child, and has been living and working in Lubbock since May, 1948, according to District Attorney Lloyd Croslin of Lubbock.

Technically, any student under 21 is a nonresident if his parents live in another state.

Daniel cited various laws making exceptions for minors who are married, holding: "Since the minor in question has acquired a family of his own, it is our opinion that under the facts presented such minor is not to be classified as a nonresident."

Emperor Gets No 'Royalty' On Book

TOKYO, Sept. 29. (AP)—Emperor Hirohito's latest literary effort hit the bookstands today. But he'll get books back instead of a royalty.

It did not make the best seller list as do most of the emperor's poems.

Its title is "Sea Cows of Sagami Bay." The book is based on a 20 year study of marine life by the emperor.

The official bookseller reporter only a "fair sale," and added that he was sending the emperor 300 copies instead of a royalty check.

Minimum Of 51 Is Recorded In Area

The expected coolest temperature reading of the season failed to materialize this morning, observers at the U. S. Weather bureau station at Municipal airport said today.

A minimum of 51 degrees was recorded early this morning. Observers had expected a minimum in the upper 40's. Coolest temperature so far this season was 49 degrees, recorded on Sept. 13, 14 and 25.

The mercury was predicted to climb to the high 70's by mid-afternoon today. Some increasing cloudiness was expected, although it was expected to remain generally fair on the South Plains.

Higher temperatures are expected again Friday afternoon.

Farmers who had been anxiously awaiting warm dry conditions for maturing cotton were beginning to find things a little too dry, as lack of dew the past morning or two forestalled the possibility of defoliating cotton.

Road Projects In Crosby Authorized

Six farm to market roads in Crosby county were authorized by the State Highway commission meeting in Austin Wednesday. The six roads were among 16 projects approved over the state by the commission, at an estimated $640,-316.

The commission also awarded contracts for the first two farm to market roads to be constructed under the new $1,250,000 per-month farm road building program.

Cost of construction of the Crosby county roads is estimated at $210,950. Crosby county's share in the project will be $185,950.

Roads approved in Crosby county are as follows: (1). From Farm Road 378 north of Lorenzo to road intersection, 8.5 miles; (2). From end of Farm Road 1063 west of Farmer west to proposed farm road, 3.0 miles; (3). From Farm Road 378 at Robertson west to Lubbock county line and from Robertson east to county road, 5.8 miles; (4). From end of Farm Road 378 at Robertson south to road intersection, 3.0 miles; (5). From Farm Road 378 2.0 miles north of Robertson west to Lubbock county line, 3.8 miles; (6). From proposed farm to market road approximately 6.5 miles north of Lorenzo west to Lubbock county line, 2.2 miles.

No Glamor Puss Can Get Away With His Panda

Bogie Denies Shoving High Fashion Girl At Night Spot

NEW YORK, Sept. 29 (INS) — Movie tough guy Humphrey Bogart turned on the charm today and declared he would never strike a lady.

Bogie solemnly denied having shoved one glamor girl, who fell down, and clipping another in New York's swank El Morocco club.

"I'd never hit a lady," he said, adding: "They're much too dangerous."

Bogie, however, admitted walking into the night spot Saturday night with a giant-sized panda he called his "girl friend."

But as far as the blonde he's reported to have sent sprawling, he said he clearly remembered:

"She tripped!"

Story Claimed Exaggerated

According to the New York Journal-American, the blonde was Robin Roberts, one of New York's high fashion models. The newspaper reported the incident occurred when she picked up Bogie's panda to look at it.

Bogie said the story was "highly exaggerated" and gave his modified version:

"I was just sitting there with my friend Bill Seeman, minding my own business when suddenly I heard a high-pitched voice behind me saying she had made a bet she could get away with my panda."

Bogie said he turned around and told Miss Roberts "no, you can't," but she grabbed the black and white woolly toy and "was off with it."

Although Bogie admitted he was "just a little hazy" about the ensuing events, he insisted he remembered that the model was "half way across the room from me when she fell."

Panda For Baby

"I'm sure I couldn't have knocked her down," he asserted.

Bogart was sure too that he couldn't have struck the second glamor girl, Peggy Rabe, who also became interested in the panda.

And if Miss Rabe's escort sent a few dinner plates flying through the air at that point, he couldn't recollect it.

"I don't think it happened," he said. "But if it did, I didn't see it."

As far as the panda was concerned, Bogie denied having brought it into the night club to start trouble.

"I bought it for my eight-month-old baby out in California," he explained, "and being as baby (his wife) was home in bed, I thought I'd better carry it with me for a girl friend."

His wife, Lauren Bacall, was in her suite at a New York hotel when the incident occurred.

"I guess that's where I belonged," Bogie said, a bit sheepishly.

He made no comment on being barred from the El Morocco club from now on.

Man Held After Nose Of Wife Is Cut Off

"I did it with the razor," during an argument, he said, according to a statement made by Police Sgt. E. Driver in magistrate's court.

Mrs. Smith's condition is critical.. Smith was ordered detained for a hearing Oct. 13 on a charge of causing grievous bodily harm.

Duke And Duchess Moving To More Modest Quarters

ANTIBES, France, Sept. 29. (INS)—Devaluation of the pound reportedly is forcing the Duke and Duchess of Windsor to quit their rented $400,000 Riviera villa today and move to more modest quarters in Paris.

The story about pinched pocketbooks could not immediately be confirmed but it is true that the Windsors are returning to Paris.

Insurance Value Falls

More than 13 truckloads of furniture, paintings, and personal souvenirs will leave the plush Chateau de La Croe at Cap D'Antibes tomorrow for the Paris Rue de La Faisanderie home near the Bois de Boulogne.

These possessions are insured for 100,000 pounds, or $403,000 until Sept. 18 when the pound was devalued to make them worth only $280,000.

The owner of the Mediterranean villa, Lady Burton, is said to have told the Windsors that she wanted the place vacated by the end of the months unless they wanted to buy it for $400,000.

At Home, Woman Is Model Wife And Mother But In Public She Makes Play For Men

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: Shouldn't a woman nearing 40, who has been married 16 years and has two children, ages 8 to 11, be able to recognize the wolf type of men and avoid them, if she loveh her husband and doesn't want to "step out?"

I have a very good job and my wife works also; and in her job she has only a slight casual contact with men, but later she goes out of her way to make them notice and speak to her in public places.

I have tried to convince her that it isn't good taste for her to take the initiative in speaking as an old friend to men with whom she's had only the slightest dealings, possibly once in six months, at her place of work. However, she's always said it is because she is friendly by nature and I have tried to believe her, but I am beginning to wonder.

SHE DOESN'T BRUSH OFF WOLF APPROACH

A small crowd of 10 or 12 of us have been friends for some years and we go dancing together at least once a month, and with the exception of Myra (my wife) we always stay in our group. She always dances with some outsider once or twice during the evening, usually someone none of us know, and she seems to enjoy it much more than dancing with our friends.

She doesn't seem to try in any way to keep strange men at their distance, and I know that some of our friends are of the opinion that she could be "picked up." Do you really think a woman can be so dumb as to believe such behavior is simply "friendly" or "polite?" Or do you think Myra is deliberately trying to make me jealous?

After putting up with this for almost 16 years I might be getting narrow minded; but whether I am nor not, I know that I am becoming thoroughly disgusted. At home Myra is a model wife and mother and I love her very much. She seldom goes anywhere by herself and I have no real cause to distrust her character, aside from the complaints set forth above. What is your opinion?

Signed: K. B.

ACUTE SHORTAGE OF SELF ESTEEM?

DEAR K. B.: In my opinion there is something psychological off balance about Myra's giddy, man-baiting, almost man-chasing behavior when she is out with her husband and friends for a social evening—and I think the trouble may be that she is "overcompensating" for a hidden acute shortage of self esteem.

It seems that she is gripped by excessive anxiety when placed in a social situation that includes "mixed" company; that she tensely, involuntarily feels that she is up against a ruthless array of female competition for masculine favor or special notice; and that she goes instinctively into a nervous tizzy of striving to seem most popular.

In short, I interpret her flightly, flirty, embarrassing bad manners to mean that she is a case of "arrested" development in the party role; that she is perennially trying too hard in a desperately juvenile way to make a hit; and that her failure to mature (on the social front) into a well poised, nicely reserved matron is due to traumatic fear of being a wallflower—a fear that has been a hidden thorn in her side since her earliest party-going experiences, probably.

TAKE FIRM STAND AGAINST PRETENCE

POSSIBLY she has a vague intent at such times to draw your attention to the thought that she isn't a has-been in the field of romance; but fundamentally she is anxiously engrossed in trying to convince herself (most of all) that she has real charm and lovability, that will always last and be her insurance against rejection or aloneness.

As I see the picture, she isn't interested in other men as individuals, even when she courts their notice. She is only using them as prosps in her make-believe game of being belle of the ball and everybody's darling—and the best way to help her outgrow this puerile pretence is to take a clean cut stand against it. When she understands you're not uneasily jealous, but rather honestly disgusted, she may turn over a new leaf and practice dignity.

Charge Against Russia Pushed

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., Sept. 29 (AP)—China's drive to pin aggression charges on Russia moved into the United Nations main body today.

The 59-nation assembly meets here to decide whether the accusations go on the general discussion program over the strong objections of Russia.

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Vishinsky lost his first battle to keep the charges out of the United Nations when the 14-nation steering committee voted yesterday 11 to 2 to accept the Chinese accusations. Only Poland supported Vishinsky; Assembly President Carlos P. Romulo, who presided, did not vote at all.

The trend was clear and China's next fight, after expected assembly approval, was to get a high priority for the charges on the debate calendar of the 59-nation political committee. Then the Chinese Nationalists expect to unfold a mass of evidence designed to show Russia is a big force behind the Chinese Communist campaign to crush the government.

The political committee delayed until today a vote to set up a conciliation board to arbitrate peace among Greece, Yugoslavia, Albania and Bulgaria, and settle the Balkans war fever.

Its next order of business was to consider disposal of pre-war Italian colonies.

Third on the list was Vishinsky's proposals that the big five—Russia, the United States, Britain, France and China — sign a new pact to strengthen peace in the world.

Federal Charges To Face Californian

DALLAS, Sept. 29. (U.P.)—A California ex-convict today faced federal charges, following his admission that he forged six U. S. savings bonds.

Secret Service agent Emmett Hargett said William Alec Sukovitzen, only recently freed after a five-year term at Folsom prison, Calif, confessed forging names on six bonds during his recent travels from the west coast to Dallas.

Sukovitzen said he bought $3,000 worth of stolen bonds from a Los Angeles "fence" for $400. Officers here said he would welcome federal charges if the alternative was a return to California. He could face habitual criminal charges, carrying a penalty of life imprisonment there, they said.

Thrice convicted for felonies in California, Sukovitzen was arrested at a downtown hotel Tuesday night after he tested a revolver by firing it into a pillow.

Tip To Gardeners: Beer On Tomatoes

FLEETWOOD, Eng. Sept. 29 (AP)—Retired skipper Thomas Jinks has a tip for gardeners—if your tomatoes aren't doing so well, give them beef and stout beer.

Jinks said he found the combination was a wonderful pick-me-up when his tomatoes showed anemic signs recently.

"The result," he said, "is simply amazing. A bumper crop on a dozen bottles of stout and half as much beef broth. And the flavor is greatly improved."

A. Simmonds, secretary of the Royal Horticultural Socity, took a show-me attitude.

"I think the water content of the broth and beer contributes largely to the successful crop," he said.

Seminole Indians In South Florida Hit By Infections

CLEWISTON, Fla., Sept. 29 (AP) Eleven Seminole Indian children were discharged from Sugarland hospital here yesterday following an outbreak of streptococcic infection. Two grownups and 10 children were still hospitalized.

Dr. Albert B. Johnson, resident physician, said he would like to keep some of the children in the hospital for a few days more but their mothers wanted to get back to the Big Cypress reservation.

The outbreak began Thursday. Mothers accompanied their children to the hospital and helped Dr. Johnson and the three nurses care for them. At one time there were 24 patients in the little hospital operated by the U. S. Sugar corporation.

Appeals For Aid

In Miami Princess Red-Rock appealed for canned foods and blankets for the sick children. The princess, prominent in Indian welfare work in south Florida and a granddaughter of the Algonquin chief Black Deer of the Ojibways, said conditions at the Big Cypress reservation 43 miles southwest of here were "shameful."

She said the children were returning to the "conditions of filfth and inadequate housing" to spend their convalescence "because they have no other place to go."

Washington Shades Boston Red Sox For 2 To 1 Triumph

Wild Pitch By Mel Parnell In Ninth Chalks Up Winning Run

By RALPH RODEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

"If you can't beat 'em, buy 'em."

That's the advice Boston fans are offering the Red Sox management today following Rae Scarborough's 2-1 triumph for Washington over the Sox last night that dumped the Back Bay millionaires into a first place American league tie with the New York Yankees.

The Sox management attempted to buy Scarborough from Washington last winter, but no soap. Owner Clark Griffith couldn't use one of Tom Yawkey's silver mines.

Scarborough, a tall 31-year-old North Carolinian, hurt the Red Sox American league pennant drive last year and his victory last night may ruin their current hopes.

WALTERS IS RELEASED

CINCINNATI, Sept. 29 (AP)—Bucky Walters was released as manager of the Cincinnati Reds today. Warren Giles, general manager, said no successor has been chosen to succeed him.

Yanks Down A's

The Senator righthander beat Boston three times in 1948, including a 4-2 triumph a year ago last night that the Sox blamed for their eventual tie with Cleveland and their eventual loss in the playoff.

Boston entered last night's game boasting an 11-game winning streak and aware that a defeat would knock them into a tie with the Yanks for the Stengelers had downed the Philadelphia Athletics, 7-5, in the afternoon.

While tension mounted in the American league pennant race the picture in the National remained unchanged due to rain in Pittsburgh and Boston. The league-leading St. Louis Cardinals' game in Pittsburgh was rained out as was the runnerup Brooklyn Dodgers' contest in Boston. The Cards are one game in front of Brooklyn.

Scarborough's 13th victory was not achieved until the last half of the ninth inning. Scarborough had allowed only four hits and fanned seven but a fluke double by his opposing pitcher, young Chuck Stobbs, and Dom DiMaggio's line single resulted in a run in the sixth inning.

But Stobbs, who had yielded only four blows, blew up in the ninth. The Senators put runners on first and third with only one out. Al Kozar then slashed a single to left to score Gil Coan with the tieing run. Stobbs was through.

Ellis Kinder, 23-game winner, came in to relieve. Sam Dente, who played brilliantly, afield, greeted Kinder with a single to right but Ed Robinson, who was on second, was forced to stop at third as Al Zarilla fielded the ball quickly.

Lefty Mel Parnell was rushed in to face pinch-hitter Buddy Lewis, a lefthanded hitter. The Senators put on the squeeze play but Parnell detected the move and pitched so wide to Lewis that he couldn't reach the ball and Robinson was an easy out at the plate, Kozar moving to third.

Yanks Use Squeeze

Parnell followed up the break with a wild pitch and Kozar romped home with the winning run on the errant heave.

The Yanks successfully worked the squeeze play in nipping the Athletics. The New Yorkers blew a 4-0 lead, the A's scoring five runs in the seventh inning to go out in front but the Yanks came right back with three in their half to win.

Lefty Alex Kellner walked Billy Johnson with the bases loaded to force home the Yanks' first run in their seventh inning rally. Phil Rizzuto then squeezed Hank Bauer home with the tie-breaking run and Kellner followed with a balk to push across the clincher.

Tommy Byrne blanked the A's on two singles until the seventh when he suddenly lost his stuff and granted a walk, single and two run, double. Fred Sanford took over but was no improvement. He retired the first hitter he faced but issued two walks in between an infield hit to force home the third run. Joe Page relieved and after an error by Bobby Brown admitted the fourth run, Page walked Ferris Fain to force in the fifth. Sam Chapman ended the frame by hitting into a double play.

Allie Reynolds checked the A's on one hit the rest of the way and fanned the side in the ninth to save the victory for Page.

In the only other games yesterday the Philadelphia Phillies shut out the New York Giants, 2-0, and the Cleveland Indians turned back the Chicago White Sox, 4-2.

Pioneers To Tangle With Plainview "B"

Three football games today, two away from home and one in Lubbock, will usher in this week's football parade for Hub City schools.

The Pioneers of Lubbock High will meet the Plainview "B" in the top game tonight at 8 o'clock in Plainview. The Cowboys of Carroll Thompson will travel to Lamesa for a tilt with Lamesa Junior High school at 3 p. m., and Brownfield and J. T. Hutchinson play at Chapman field at 4 p. m.

Price of admission to the Hutchinson-Brownfield tilt has been set at 50 and 25 cents.

Friday night the Westerners play at Plainview in a non-district tilt, with a game at Chapman field Friday at 4 p. m. between the seventh and eighth grades at Thompson and O. L. Slaton.

On Saturday the grid battles continue with the Cowhands playing in Odessa at 8 p. m. in a game which follows an afternoon battle between the O. L. Slaton Redskins and Odessa Junior High.

The Pioneers will be out to avenge a 12-0 loss last week to Meadow when they meet Plainview tonight. Earlier the locals

Lubbock Team Picked To Win

By ED FITE
United Press Sports Writer

The 54-game week end schoolboy football schedule gets under way tonight with five games in the City conference districts.

Most of the state's top teams were in a favored role, but two games will match unbeaten teams and the ranks of perfect record elevens were sure to be pared by at least that number.

Of the top 10 teams, Port Arthur doesn't appear to be in danger from unbeaten, untied Houston San Jacinto, nor does Amarillo from Fort Worth Paschal, Marshall from Dallas Adamson, Baytown from Orange, Texarkana from Nacogdoches, or Lubbock from Plainview.

Selections Are Given

Of the others, Wichita Falls could run into trouble against Abilene, as could Austin against Fort Worth Arlington Heights, Dallas Sunset against Gladewater and Corsicana against Paris.

Here's this week's selections, by districts (all games Friday unless otherwise noted; winners marked with "W"):

1—Fort Worth Paschal at Amarillo (W), Borger (W) at Albuquerque, N. M., Lubbock (W) at Plainview.

Dyer Asserts Cards Are "Over Jitters"

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 29. (AP)—Manager Eddie Dyer declared today that his St. Louis Cardinals had overcome their bad case of jitters, and predicted they would go onto win the National league flag.

Billy Meyer, whose Pittsburgh Pirates have done more than any other team to prevent the pennant from flying in St. Louis, thinks today's final clash between the Pirates and Cardinals will decide the race.

"If the Cards can beat Dickson (Pittsburgh pitcher Murry Dickson) today," Meyer said, "they're in. If they don't, then Brooklyn most likely will overtake them."

TEST PLAINVIEW FRIDAY NIGHT

Westerners Slate Final Drill Today

Lubbock and Plainview meet Friday night at 8 o'clock in Plainview, and the Westerners footballers are scheduled to go through a speedy workout today in preparation for the tilt.

Emphasis will be on timing on offense and defense against the expected Bulldog attack. The condition of the squad is good, both mentally and physically, and an action-packed game is anticipated.

The Bulldogs and Westerners will be playing a non-conference game this year for the first time, both teams having been in District 1-AA before this year when Lubbock was moved into 3-AA.

The local team boasts two wins and no defeats while Plainview has won one and lost two games this season. Lubbock defeated Childress and North Side of Fort Worth. Plainview dropped Big Spring in the first game of the year, then was beaten by Poly of Fort Worth and Lamesa.

Gray, Wienke Captains

Co-Captains for Lubbock in the Bulldog battle are Guard Freddie Gray and Center Douglas Wienke, two regulars who have shown up will thus far. Wienke was bothered by a sprained ankle in early season practice but is all right now.

The addition of Gene (Sleepy) Nelson to the Westerner roster is expected to give more depth to the tackle positions, Nelson is a junior and saw service last year.

The squadmen Wednesday seemed to be taking the forthcoming tilt in stride, and the enthusiasm marking previous pre-game workouts seems to have worn off somewhat as Coach C. R. Pattison sent the team through the practice.

In the few minutes of scrimmage yesterday, the second team was rushing hard and fast, but several plays went for good gainers and possible scores before the whistle called a halt to the play.

Teams alternated on offense and defense throughout the scrimmage and dummy scrimmage.

New plays came in for a long practice-period, with alternating teams carrying the ball against a dummy defense. Stress was placed on opening holes in the defensive line, with downfield blocking being closely watched. Timing was off occasionally, and several plays were stopped because of fumbles.

Following the team drills, a short session of head-on tackling was held, and Coach Pattison noted improvement by several of the players in their tackling.

Following tackling practice were sprints and a lap or two.

Twenty members of Rice's football squad are seniors.

Dunbar Meets Midland Team

Midland invades Chapman field at 8 o'clock tonight for a game with the Panthers of Dunbar High school.

Ducats for the contest may be picked up at the gate tonight for 74 and 30 cents. A large crowd is expected to pack the grandstand at the field for the second home appearance of the Panthers.

Last week the Panthers, coached by Damon Hill, defeated Amarillo, 20-7, for their second victory of the season, having defeated Hobbs a week earlier, 40-12.

With perhaps the best offense in the city, with the exception of the Westerners, Dunbar is pointing to a district championship this season and is well on its way to such a season.

In the game last year with Midland, the two teams played to a 6-6 tie in a hard, bruising conflict, and Coach Hill is not very confident over the outcome of this game, remembering the tough game the last time the two met.

Stars of last week's game with Amarillo were Quarterback Fred Wright, with his smooth ball handling, and left Halfback Lawrence Robinson with a 61-yard touchdown dash for the first score of the evening. A power on defense was Center Odell Gary.

Probable starters for Dunbar are Arthur Jones, le; Dennis Sanders, lt; Nathaniel Sampison, lg; Gary, c; Joe Billy Hewing, rg; Layfayette Locket rt; William Moore, re; Wright, qb; Robinson, lh; Charley Harvey, rh; and Eddy Bullock, fb.

O'Dowdy Wins Mat Feature

Sled Allen's arena today settled down to peace and quiet, but for 28 action-racked minutes last night it resembled Times Square at midnight on New Year's Eve.

Rowdy dowdy Pat O'Dowdy, the scourge of Big Spring, successfully stomped Vic Weber of Plainview into submission in the third and final fall of the Australian tag team feature event. But not before the fans raised the roof yelling.

O'Dowdy had been clamped on his back by Weber for 15 minutes by the timer's watch, but the referee didn't choose to see it. He was too busy trying to break up Wayne Martin, Weber's partner, and Rod Fenton, O'Dowdy's mate, both of whom had rushed into the ring.

Crowd Goes Wild

Finally, O'Dowdy managed to slip out of the back breaker and pounced on Weber, getting him with an arm lock. The referee cleared the other two grapplers from the ring and returned in time to count Weber out.

The crowd, in pandemonium, screamed that Weber actually had won the fall, but the referee raised the arms of Fenton and O'Dowdy in token of victory. The losers stormed in protest, but to no avail.

Pat Uses Armlock

O'Dowdy won his team's first fall with an armlock and stomp over Martin in 14 minutes. Martin returned to pin Fenton with a rocking chair after only four minutes to even the score and send the match into the riotous final fall. That went to the winners after 10 minutes of action.

In the preliminary event, Bill Brooks won two out of three falls from Gorilla Poggi in a good match that was rough all the way.

Pggi won the opening fall in 14 minutes with an inside stepover toehold, but Brooks came back to make the match even by winning the second flop in five minutes, using an armlock and stomp. In the deciding fall, Brooks finally won out with the same hold after the round had gone 18 minutes.

Bowling Results

Hub Laundry and Household Supply scored three-game shutouts over their opponents last night in Business league bowling game, Hub defeating Sears and West Texas Gas forfeiting to the Householders.

Pacing the Laundrymen to the victory with a 198-529 series was W. L. Bumpass, and Paul Burby was high for the losers with 168-483.

Roy Garner rolled a 162 game for the Householders.

Mark Halsey won two of three matches from Reeves, with Ray Peeples kegling 185-524 for the high game and series.

Topping Reeves was Fee Wee Bean with 193-531.

In the final match Dahlson Furniture defeated Stanolind Pipe Line two games and dropped one.

High for Dahlson were Tom Taylor with 192-509 and L. D. Cunningham with 192-501. All Stanolind scores were below 400, with G. L. Maciula posting a high 154-396. Stanolind benefitted by a 199-point handicap.

Thompson, Maloney Spark Tech Varsity In Impressive Drill

Varsity and freshmen teams at Texas Tech probably will come to the parting of the ways today as both prepare for their games this weekend, the frosh meeting the West Texas State college freshmen Friday night and the varsity meeting the Buffalo varsity Saturday night.

Yesterday brought cheer to Coach G. B. Morris and the other coaches as the offensive Red Raiders opened gaping holes in a defensive freshmen team. Fullback J. W. Thompson and Halfback Walter Maloney stood out in the drill. Both backs were running hard and went the distance almost every time they carried the ball. It was a most heartening exhibition of offensive work.

But the defensive work was not so impressive. The freshmen, using Buff plays during dummy scrimmage, managed to operate enemy plays too effectively. It was the type of scrimmage that both encouraged and discouraged the coaches.

Morgan In Good Health

Coach Dell Morgan directed the defensive units and appeared in good health, despite rumors apparently starting in Montgomery, Ala., that he had died of a heart attack. The Associated Press queried The Avalanche-Journal about the report, but there was no basis for it.

The freshmen were picking up experience all the time for use tomorrow night, when they open the season against the West Texas freshmen at 8 p. m. in Jones Stadium. Tickets for the game will sell for $1 each and may be obtained the night of the game at Jones Stadium.

All-staters will dominate Tech's freshman team, with such men as Jimmie Williams at center, Buddy Barron at guard, Marlan Ribble at tackle, Alton Linnie at end, Carl Madison of Atmore, Ala., at quarterback, Waldo Young at one halfback position and Ronnie Miller at fullback. And even the second team boasts an all-stater in Chuck Reynolds of Atlanta, Ga.

Other members of the freshman squad expected to see action also were rated high in the state, both in Class AA and Class A.

Injury Jinx Continues

Meanwhile, the injury jinx continued to strike the Raiders. Bill Barbee of Littlefield, one of the few remaining right halfbacks available, suffered a shoulder dislocation just before practice ended Tuesday night. He will be out of action for at least this game and possibly the Tulsa battle.

Further bad news for the Picadors came out of Amarillo this week when it was learned that Marvin McNeil, fine passer with the Amarillo High school team last year, had enrolled at WTSC. McNeil originally enrolled at Oklahoma A & M, but dropped out to attend the Buff school. He will see heavy action here Friday night.

The Buffs will bring a veteran squad here Saturday night under Coach Frank Kimbrough's tutelage. Kimbrough has come up with players mainly from the Panhandle and South Plains, welding them into a compact, hard-hitting team. They operate this year under the winged T and will cause trouble.

Kimbrough believes in wide use of laterals, end runs, short forward passes and the more sensational long aerials. One of his ace halfbacks this year is Jimmie Draper of Spur, a junior, who has speed, deception and is a rugged line buster.

Last year the Raiders eked out a 19-0 victory in the season's opener. So far this year the Buffs have beaten East Texas State college 41-7, but have lost to McMurry 34-7.

Henderson Is Winner By KO

CARLSBAD, N. M., Sept. 29 (Special)—A group of fighters from Lubbock, Tex., and the Texas Plains were on their way home today with no worse than an even split in four bouts here last night.

The visiting fighters were headed by Bill Henderson of Lubbock, who chilled Billy Jones of Cincinnati, O., at 2:08 of the eighth round in the main event here. Henderson weighed 132 pounds; Jones, 131.

In the semi-final, Leonard Duncan of Hale Center gained a six-round split decision over Young Amado of Mexico City, Mexico. Joey Kramer of El Paso outpointed Charley Neff of Petersburg in a four rounder. And Baby Saminego of Mexico City, Mexico, knocked out Billy Brackeen of Slaton at 2:30 of the fourth round.

Henderson was taken to a local doctor to have a blood clot drained from his left ear. The Lubbock fighter had injured it in a sparring session in Texas and a blow last night caused additional trouble. He will return to Lubbock today.

Henderson had trouble lowering the boom on the Cincinnati negro, but when he finally found the range, Jones was in trouble. Henderson decked his opponent several times before finally landing a solid right that sent Jones down for the count. The fight, which had been scheduled for 10 rounds, was Henderson's all the way.

Duncan fought a cautious fight, but scored with a pile-driver right often enough to outpoint the clever Amado in a middleweight scrap. The Hale Center puncher took everything that Amado could throw and weathered every storm. He gained the nod on the referee's card.

Neff put up a game effort against Kramer, but the El Paso boxer had the upperhand all the way. And Brackeen went out in the fourth round of the preliminary after taking heavy punishment.

West Texas State Picked Over Raiders

Michigan Rated Seven-Point Favorite Over Stanford Team

By DR. E. E. LITKENHOUS

Bennie Oosterbaan must think that things get tougher every Saturday. His Michigan powerhouse, ranked No. 1 in the nation by the Litkenhous System, had a near thing against Michigan State last week.

Another close one is forecast for the Maize and Blue when they tangle with Stanford. The system sees only a 7.0 power point margin for the Wolverines. Stanford is ranked seventh among the nation's finest.

Two Dixie dreadnaughts clash at Chapel Hill where North Carolina throws open the door for Georgia. The Tar Heels figure to take the Bulldogs by 9.4 points. In another Southern battle of major proportions Duke is a small 3.1 favorite over Tennessee. Vanderbilt should make amends for its showing against Georgia Tech by clipping Alabama by two touchdowns. In the S. E. C.'s banner battle, make it Georgia Tech over Tulane by 5.2.

In the East it will be Army by 15.1 over Penn State, Columbia by 12.2 over Harvard, and Yale by 17.6 over Fordham. In the Southwest give me Texas over Idaho by 14.6 but make Southern Methodist a 3.7 point underdog to Missouri.

Notre Dame is due for another shoo-in, this time by 37.5 over Washington. In Big Ten engagements Michigan should lick Marquette by 50.3, Ohio State will measure Indiana by 27.4 and Purdue will victimize Iowa by 10.8.

Between the Lines
by Joe Kelly

You Won't see a much closer finish in the two major leagues if you live to be 100 years old, providing you've just been born, or are 99 years old now. As of Wednesday afternoon, for example, the first two teams in each league had the most remarkable parallel records imaginable. Boston's Red Sox and St. Louis' Cardinals each had 95 victories and 55 defeats. New York's Yankees and Brooklyn's Dodgers each had 94 victories and 56 defeats. Each of the four teams had four games to play. Each of the two second place teams were one game behind. Three of the four clubs had all their remaining games on the road (The Yanks have all theirs at home). Three o fthe four teams had two-game series with two teams (St. Louis had one more with Pittsburgh, three with Chicago.

● ● ●

We doubt if we ever live to see another race in both leagues as tight as this one. They are carbon copies of each other and the only way they could be tighter would be for the Cards and Red Sox to lose, the Dodgers and Yankees to win. That would be a dead heat and, if they should end the season that way, would result in one of the zaniest league finishes in the history of baseball. Right now we doubt if anyone knows how the pennant races will end. Both second place clubs have a chance, even though it is slim. The Yanks, of course, have the chance of deciding the final outcome themselves, providing they get no farther behind. They meet the Red Sox Saturday and Sunday in games that will have all the atmosphere of the World Series. And there is a strong possibility that they'll have Joe DiMaggio back in the lineup for those two games.

● ● ●

Although we know that we will get nowhere with this suggestion, we think that it would be a good idea this year, in view of the pennant races, to stage a double round robin for the world championship. After all, if four clubs come down to the wire so tight that they almost touch each other there can't be much difference between them. Therefore, let's have a Shaughnessy playoff. If they finish as they are today, the Yanks could play the Cards in the first four out of seven games and the Dodgers could play the Red Sox at the same time. Then the two winners could play and the losers could play. You'd have a real ranking then of the four best teams in the American and National leagues.

One of the best gags pulled in a long time was the one Aggie exes sprung on Bones Irvin, athletic director, at the Texas A. & M. exes dinner Saturday noon in San Antonio. While Bones was speaking to the exes, a player walked in, broke into the speech and asked Bones when he, the player, was going to get his second $100 payment. Bones sputtered in amazement, finally asked the guy who he was and what he was talking about. The player told him he was a member of the Aggie squad and had gotten his first $100 all right, but unless he got the next payment, he was going to quit. Moreover, said the player, unless other members get the money promised them, they're going to walk out. They won't play Texas Tech tonight. About that time somebody else rushed in waving a newspaper.

It was a front page dummy of a San Antonio paper and carried a screaming banner that said the Aggies had staged a walkout and would not play Tech. In their place, Trinity university had been substituted for Saturday night's game. The rest of the paper was straight news of the day and mighty realistic. Bones, by this time, was apoplectic. He stormed that no player had ever been paid and that the alleged player was an imposter. He said a lot of other things, fighting all the time for control, since the board of directors was in on the luncheon. After they had given the tempest a chance to rage for a while, someone finally told Bones that it was all a joke. Too bad the joke didn't reach the football players in time.

Don't be surprised if the Westerners don't roll up a big score against Plainview. Not that the Bulldogs have the type of team this year that should cause Lubbock a great deal of trouble. They turned in a good performance against Big Spring the night we saw them, but the Steers hurt their own cause and lost two touchdowns. At the same time, they don't appear to be in the same class with the eleven that Coach Pat Pattison has lined up. But Pat isn't going to take any unnecessary chances on losing some of his better boys. If they can get a touchdown or two ahead, he'll probably use his reserves a lot. At that, the second and third string should go against the Bulldogs. They aren't too far behind the varsity in ability and most of the boys playing behind the first liners will be first string next year.

Tech has been learning, painfully, that Glenn Lewis, Zac Henderson and Charley Reynolds were pretty good hands in the Raider backfield. Not that the trio would have made a whale of a lot of difference in the three games played so far, but they are being missed and missed greatly. Lewis, for instance, was a good runner, combining speed with finesse that made him hard to stop. He also was a pretty fair hand on the defense, and Tech's halfbacks have been woefully weak against passing so far. Reynolds gave the Raiders a breakaway speedster who, once given an open field, was almost impossible to catch. Of course, the faster backs on this year's team have been injured enough so that they haven't been able to break into the clear. Henderson, besides being pretty good on defense, also was a fine punter. And Tech's punting so far has been high schoolish. Nope, you can't lose three good backs like that without feeling the loss.

DALLAS, Sept. 29. (AP)—President J. Walter Morris said the East Texas baseball league would hold its annual meeting in Longview Sunday afternoon.

Youth Admits Axe Assaults

HOUSTON, Sept. 29 (U.P.)—A 19-year-old Latin-American youth has confessed to the brutal axe attack last February on the family of Manuel Rodriguez, police revealed today.

Police said the boy's statement would be checked carefully with evidence at hand before any charges were filed.

He was arrested yesterday on a sodomy charge, and then told officers he "knew about" the attacks on Rodriguez, his wife and three children.

Shown Attack Weapon

Mrs. Rodriguez died instantly from axe blows, apparently inflicted as she slept. Rodriguez, a laborer, and three small children were hospitalized for weeks after the attack.

The youth wept when shown the murder weapon and then confessed, according to Detective John Stinson.

It was the second confession made in the Rodriquez case. A 15-year-old boy confessed several months ago, but police did not accept his statement and he was turned over to a psychiatrist.

about 500,000 unionists in the basic steel industry. Some plants already have begun to curtail operations in preparation for a possible strike.

Mediators Stand By

He gave no sign of giving up his fight to force the steel industry to pay the entire cost of a pension-insurance program.

Government mediators stood by in Pittsburgh and 44 other key negotiating points—to help avert the strike set for tomorrow midnight.

Murray had nothing but scorn for a big steel offer of 10 cents an hour per employe to help finance pensions and insurance for the men who make steel. After the offer yesterday, the veteran labor leader declared:

"It must be plain to all that the corporation is deliberately seeking to force a steel strike."

A few hours later big steel began banking furnaces of its Chicago-area subsidiaries. A spokesman said no curtailment had yet been ordered in the Pittsburgh district. He added:

"I know the negotiations seem deadlocked. However, we're still talking. But we have to start banking furnaces as closing down a steel plant is an involved process and we have to protect our property."

lions of workers in the nation's other heavy industry—particularly the steel workers.

Ford Vice President John S. Bugas said his firm's pension agreement was based on the expenditure of the 10-cent an hour limit recommended by a presidential fact-finding board in the steel industry.

That "package" has not yet been granted to steel workers and a strike has been set for midnight tomorrow.

"This agreement," Reuther said, "points the way in the steel industry, where they are resisting a principle established here—that a pension should be entirely company-financed. It will lay the groundwork in our industry for moving forward."

Bugas estimated his company eventually would be paying $20,000,000 a year for pensions.

Today's meeting between representatives of the UMW and the Southern Coal Producers association was called for 12 noon CST. The talks now are in their fifth month. The SPCA represents about one-sixth of the soft coal industry.

John Owens, secretary-treasurer of the UMW, announced after yesterday's meeting that one major company was holding out against payments to the welfare and pension fund. He said it was the Island Creek Coal company, a West Virginia firm.

The idle miners have adopted the slogan "no pension fund—no work."

Talks between the northern operators and the union are to be resumed at White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., today but Lewis is not expected to be present. The union chieftain was reported to have been called to Springfield, Ill., by the illness of his mother.

Barbecue Is Staged By Panhandle Town

HIGGINS, Sept. 29. (U.P.)—The little Panhandle city of Higgins which was damaged three years ago by a tornado said "much obliged" yesterday to more than 2,500 guests at a municipal barbecue.

The visitors were from neighboring towns who helped the city rebuild. It was an unusual appreciation feast in that no speeches were made. Everything was free including picture shows.

Rains Help Control Idaho Forest Fires

McCALL, Idaho, Sept. 29 (AP)—A widespread rain storm over southern Idaho forests aided fire crews today in whipping the last of 68 fires set by lightning during the past week.

The 1200-acre fire on Cuddy mountain 14 miles northwest of Council was brought under control last night. It was the largest fire in the Boise and Payette forests during the outbreak.

The Capitol Building in Washington, D. C., covers about three and a half acres.

Daily MARKETS

Stock Market

DEMAND CENTERS ON RAILS

NEW YORK, Sept. 29 (AP)—A nervous stock market closed a bit higher today but lost a good part of the gains scored in a brisk early rally.

A mid-morning buying gust lifted the market as much as 2 points. Demand centered on the railway group, with steels and autos runners-up.

The rise was pretty well sustained for a couple of hours but toward the close buying interest faded away and prices slowly sagged.

Volume expanded as prices moved up, slowed down on the decline. Turnover was at the rate of around 1,300,000 shares for the full session.

Wall street quarters thought the market made a pretty good showing in view of the deadlock between steel management and labor in negotiations for a new contract. The possibility of a strike loomed large with the deadline less than two days away at Friday midnight.

Higher prices were paid a good part of the day for U. S. Steel, Bethlehem Steel, General Motors, Chrysler, Santa Fe, Southern Pacific, Consolidated Edison, United Gas Corp., Sears Roebuck, Admiral Corp., and Standard Oil (NJ).

Among the wobbly spots were Republic Steel, Douglas Aircraft, American Woolen and Johns-Manville.

There were no October transferable notices issued at New York or New Orleans.

The ECA announced new authorizations of $13,000,000 for cotton purchases. Dealers estimated that this would cover about 80,000 bales.

Grain Market

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Sept. 29 (AP)—While December wheat and corn contracts backed down on the board of trade today, distant deliveries gave an exhibition of strength.

Weakness in December contracts, particularly wheat, was tied in with a belief that more grain soon would be offered in the country. Trade sources said there had been a slight expansion of cash wheat offerings.

In corn, traders felt that some of the good demand for cash corn may dry up with the end of this month. They reasoned that a part of the buying came from those who had been short when September futures were closed out and needed to acquire grain to make deliveries by the end of this month.

Wheat closed 1¼ lower to 1¼ higher, December $2.14-$2.13⅞. Corn was unchanged to ½ lower, December $1.18 ¼-⅜, oats were ¼-½ lower, December 67⅝-¾, rye was ½ to ¼ higher, December $1.45 ¼.

Tiny, Fast-Ripening Watermelon Is Found

DURHAM, N. H., Sept. 29 (U.P.)—Two new watermelons, only slightly larger than a cucumber, have been developed at the University of New Hampshire.

Seeking a melon that would ripen in August, the horticulturists developed these two varieties that ripen about 65 days from planting time. The new varieties have been named the New Hampshire Midget and the Merrimac Sweetheart.

"The flavor is delicious, the flesh color beautiful, and the melons will fit in the refrigerator," said Assistant Marketing Specialist Norman F. Whippen.

FATE UNDECIDED—An expressionless Tokyo Rose, Mrs. Iva Toguri D'Aquino, leaves federal court in San Francisco accompanied by Deputy Marshal Herbert R. Cole, after hearing the jury announce it was unable to reach a verdict in her treason trial. The jury was called back to continue deliberations today.

Jury Studying Treason Case

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 29 (AP)—A federal court jury, weary but determined to reach a verdict, tried anew today to decide the fate of Mrs. Iva Toguri D'Aquino.

The 33-year-old Los Angeles-born woman is charged with treason in connection with "Tokyo Rose" broadcasts to American troops in the Pacific during the war.

Night Off Refused

Judge Michael J. Roche offered the jury of six men and six women the evening off last night to relax, but they reported they wanted to keep at the case they took Monday noon.

However, when a long-winded wrangle by prosecution and defense attorneys developed over what parts of three depositions should be kept from the jury, the jurrors recessed at 7:45 p. m. (10:45 p. m. EST) last night. They were called back at 9 a. m. (12 noon EST) today.

The prosecution argued that both the questions and answers should be stricken where they were not admitted as evidence; the defense said only the answers should be inked out. The prosecution won.

Testimony Is Given

The depositions requested were those concerning the testimony of Ruth Hayakawa who, like Mrs. D'Aquino, broadcast on Radio Tokyo's "Zero Hour"; Lillie Ghevenian, a Tokyo woman who testified it was generally assumed that Iva was the person dubbed "Tokyo Rose," and George Azasa, a Radio Tokyo employe.

Azasa's testimony concerned the surprise playing of The Stars and Stripes Forever" on Radio Tokyo after American capture of Saipan. He said Iva was called on the carpet by Radio Tokyo officials over the incident because only she and Norman Reyes were in the broadcasting booth at the time.

Mrs. D'Aquino contended during the 12-week trial that her broadcasts were harmless entertainment.

Defenses Of Hong Kong Are Improved

HONG KONG, Sept. 28 (U.P.) — The defense of Hong Kong against Chinese Communist forces, if it becomes necessary, will be vastly different from the situation prevailing here in December, 1941, according to Lt. Gen. Francis Festing, commander-in-chief of Hong Kong land, sea and air forces.

When an estimated 60,000 Japanese troops attacked the colony overland on Dec. 8, 1941, it took them just 17 days to force a surrender on Christmas Day.

Now, General Festing said, there are three "basic and vital" differences from the situation which confronted the colony's defenders at that time.

1. The British forces have command of the sea.
2. They also have command of the air.
3. The 40th Division, which soon will be complete here, will be an "adequate and well balanced force" which was sent here for a specified purpose.

In 1941, General Festing said, the Japanese commanded both sea and air, and the colony's defenses were sighted for a sea attack. The meager defense force was largely a "last-minute affair" and staff officers who arrived to direct operations were confronted with a defense plan that had been changed about four times.

"Any comparison with the past is largely fruitless," he declared, pointing out that substantial sea and air reinforcements are arriving to supplement the estimated 30,000 troops posted here, ready to meet an attack from any quarter.

Vice President Barkley also is scheduled to attend. He arrived in St. Louis yesterday by commercial airliner.

While Mr. Truman has indicated he will play "hands-off" on the Democratic primary races for the Senate and the House, he has said he intends to maintain an active role in the campaign to elect members of the party to Congress.

Mr. Truman came to St. Louis primarily as a 33rd degree Mason and a former grand master of the Missouri lodge, however.

He brought along an historic gavel to present to James Bradford of St. Louis, the new grand master.

"It's a lodge meeting and you can't attend," Mr. Truman told reporters.

The ceremony, starting at 9 a. m. (CST) was expected to last three hours. The gavel was made from wood from the Van Buren elm tree of Plainfield, Ind., Martin Van Buren, campaigning for the presidency, got stuck in the mud under the elm while Traveling through Indiana in a horse-drawn buggy.

Nine Men Missing In Mexico Fishing Boat

TAMPICO, Mexico, Sept. 29 (U.P.) The Mexican fishing boat "Neptune" was reported missing today with nine men aboard.

Port authorities feared the small craft sank during a small hurricane which lashed the Gulf of Mexico off Vera Cruz and Southern Tamaulipas states last week.

They said also, however, that the Neptune might have taken refuge off the island, Isla De Lobos, about 70 miles south of here, with a number of other small boats caught out of the port by the hurricane.

Fair Attendance

Slagle, Lubbock school boy. He entered a lone New Zealand.

Don Donathan, was the 1948 winner of the giant silver cup given by the American Federation of New Zealand Breeders, Indianapolis. He attends shows all over the United States.

The first class to be judged was the Checkered Giants. Jerry Donathan, 13-year-old Idalou boy and a relative of Don Donathan, took best of class honors in this division.

OWNER IS PUZZLED

Don Donathan, Amarillo barber and rabbit fancier, left Amarillo with 30 New Zealand Whites which he had entered in the third annual Panhandle-South Plains Rabbit and Cavy show here at the fair grounds.

When Donathan arrived this morning he found he had 31 of the handsome rodents, all grown. Donathan made several recounts and each time he came up with the same answer, 31.

Donathan is still puzzled. Being an experienced rabbit breeder, Donathan is well aware of the rabbit's propensity for mathematics, especially multiplying. The extra rabbit apparently is the result of some new fangled combination of addition, multiplication and subtraction, which Donathan hasn't yet figured out.

First and second places in the Californians class were won by Seven Acre Rabbitry, Lubbock.

Chinchillas Shown

Despite few entries the Chinchilla giants drew a lot of attention. Lewis Lee Gilbert, Lubbock, was the only exhibition and took prize money for both does and bucks.

Judging in all classes was conducted in a close and business-like way. Davis disqualified many entries that might automatically have won prize money. Small hidden defects were pointed out to breeders and audience.

L. E. Settles and Elton G. Settles aided Davis in the judging. L. E. is also secretary for the show.

Other classes to be judged later in the day and Friday include, New Zealand Rex and Reds; Flemish Giants; Chocolate, Lilac, Blue and Black Dutch; Black Flemish and Angoras.

Towns To Be Honored

The first of the two traditional Children's days Wednesday attracted 15,369 visitors — most of them of school age and from out-of-town, and the prospects are that the second "Kid's day" today will swell that figure by a substantial margin.

To be honored along with the school children of the area today will be the residents of Brownfield, Denver City, Gail, Lamesa, Meadow, O'Donnell, Plains, Ropesville, Seagraves, Seminole, Slaton, Southland, Tahoka, Wilson and Wolfforth.

College Day Friday

Friday will be the annual College day, saluting the students and faculty members of all colleges of the area. Saturday, usually one of the biggest of the annual fairs, will be New Mexico day.

Expected to be among the visitors today are the members of the Slaton High school band, an organization of about 50 members which consistently has won ranking in competition among the best in the state.

The band will play several times during the day, although no definite schedule of appearances has been arranged.

Student visitors also are expected from many of the schools of the South Plains and Eastern New Mexico, many of them traveling in their school buses. Most schools have arranged for the dismissal of the students who wish to attend the fair.

As was the case Wednesday, special arrangements have been made for the entertainment of the youthful guests of honor. Special prices will be in effect for all midway rides until 6 p. m., and Capt. Hugo Zacchini will give a special performance of his "human cannonball" act on the midway at 5:30 p. m.

The children, as usual, have been supplied with complimentary tickets to the fairgrounds.

While there have been larger Children's day attendances, the turnout Wednesday was above average. School buses brought many of the young visitors.

The turnout was far short of the 47,913 who entered the grounds on the first Children's day last year, to set an all-time record for any day in the history of the fair. The presence of the Ringling Brothers-Barnum and Bailey circus, however, accounted for the record-breaking total.

The second Children's day turnout at the 1948 fair was 12,586. The chances are this figure will be exceeded — perhaps substantially, today.

Attendance for the first three days totaled 40,480, far short of the 70,795 for the same period last year. The circus, however, accounts for this apparently unfavorable comparison.

Hospitals Well-Prepared For Sick, Injured

Lubbock Nurses Take Intense Training To Enter Profession

Lubbock's 125 registered nurses and more than 120 student nurses are prepared for a big fall accident season. In the opinion of the nurses on night duty in the city's two largest hospitals, the colder the weather gets, the higher the wreck figures climb. The results of these collisions usually end up under the competent hands of the hospital nursing corps.

However, these modern-day "Florence Nightingales" are well equipped to handle these emergencies as well as the other chores to be done in Lubbock's hospitals, Miss Lillie L. Deimler, educational director of student nurses at Lubbock Memorial hospital and secretary of district 18 of the Texas Graduate Nurses association, points out.

Training Is Extensive

The nurses go through an intensive period of training and education before they are allowed to place the initials R.N. behind their names and care for the sick and injured. They must complete three years of class work and floor training before they are permitted to take the examinations given by the hospitals and state.

The long climb to a registered nurse's rating begins with the status of pre-clinical student nurse. The candidates must be unmarried, between the ages of 18 and 30, and must be a high school graduate.

For nine months the girls are on a "probationary" period. This is to see if they can meet the rigid physical and mental requirements of the profession. After, and if, passing this stage successfully, they are "capped." This, Lubbock nurses agreed, is the biggest moment in the career of a nurse. The capping means the student is allowed to wear the nurse's headpiece as the symbol of her profession.

Many Quit Along Way

At the end of one year as a student nurse, the trainee becomes a junior and is permitted to sew a stripe on her hat to proclaim her new rating. As the nurse enters her senior year, another ("chevron" is added.

At the conclusion of the three-year period ,the student can try to pass the examinations necessary for the position of registered nurse.

Many of the nurses drop out along the way—some to get married, and others, explained Miss Johnelle Spencer, night supervisor at Lubbock Memorial hospital, just can't make the grade. "It is just like any other form of education," she said. "Some persons haven't the proper qualifications."

The students work under the supervision of the registered nurses at the hospitals and other officials. They put in about eight working hours a day, most of it in class room work. A minimum of time is spent "on the floor" until the girls are capable of handling most cases.

Must Keep Calm

Nurses see very little of the "brutal" angles of life until they have learned to keep their heads as well as their stomachs, Miss Spencer remarked. "We do not become calloused by any means in our profession," she quickly added. "But we realize that a level head can save lives."

Most of the city's nurses feel that they are "grossly underpaid." This, they said, might answer any questions to the nurse shortage still suffered across the nation.

While in training the students earn $15 a month for the first nine-month period. They receive $20 a month for the second year and a monthy wage of $30 the final year. After they graduate, their salary depends a great deal on the location and position. Lubbock's salaries range between $160 and $225 monthly.

Special Dormitories Provided

The student nurses are required to live in special dormitories until they receive their registered rating. Pre-clinical and freshmen students live in Hutchinson hall here in Lubbock while juniors and seniors reside in Krueger hall, explained Mrs. Mary Lafley, night supervisor at West Texas hospital.

One of the longest records of nursing service held in the city in that of Miss Adele Johnson. She is a graduate of the first nursing class held at West Texas in 1925. Miss Johnson still is on special and private duty at the hospital.

Miss Deimler is very emphatic when she states that today's nurses are educated not trained. "The term training went out 25 years ago," she said. "That is what is done to animals. We teach our girls to think, not just react to certain signals."

One of the possible objections in the life of a student nurse is the iron-clad rule that marriage means the end of her class work. Only when a nurse receives her registered rating can she marry. More than 95 per cent of the city's registered nurses are married, according to Miss Spencer.

Excavation To Begin Monday On Wings To Texas Tech Building

Construction tool houses of the W. G. McMillan company were moved onto the Texas Technological college campus Wednesday as plans were made to begin work on two wings to the Administration building Monday.

Completion of the wings is expected in time for classes to be held in them next fall, McMillan reported Wednesday afternoon. Workmen will begin Monday digging the excavation for a basement, and concrete footings, and framework on one wing is expected within 30 days from that time.

Full Basements Planned

McMillan was granted the contract for erection of the wings at a meeting of the Tech board of directors in San Antonio Saturday. He will receive $492,450 for the annexes and an extra $5,600 to construct full basements instead of the half basement originally planned.

Current plans are to construct both wings simultaneously, according to McMillan, but the plans may be altered if greater speed can be attained otherwise. The contractor hopes to have both wings "out of the mud" before wet weather begins to slow up construction.

College To Use Dirt

A crew of 20 men is expected to take part in digging the excavation for the basements. All dirt taken out will be used by the college buildings and grounds department for landscaping and road construction on the campus.

Concentration will be placed on the completion of administrative office space in order that administrative personnel may move into their new homes at the beginning of the 1950 fall term even should the wings not be entriely completed, McMillan said.

Materials in the additions will match those of the original building and the architecture will be the same .

Wedding Bells Ringing In Film Capital, With One Sour Note

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 29 (AP)—Wedding bells are ringing loudly in the film capital, with but one discordant note.

The score: two marriages, two announcements of wedding plans—and one separation.

Tennis star Beverly Baker and Actor Scott H. (Scotty) Beckett, each 19, were wed in Las Vegas, Nev. In the same city the sixth marriage of actress Helen Gilbert, 33, was disclosed. Number six is James E. Durant, 45, a hotel casino manager.

However, Miss Gilbert returned here yesterday without the bridegroom and refused to discuss her marriage.

Actress Judy Clark, 24, and George Myers, 31, Hollywood insurance man, obtained a license and plan to wed Saturday. Parents of Jane Powell, 20, actress-singer, announced she and Geary Steffen, 24, ex-ice skating partner of Sonja Henie, will marry Nov. 5 in Beverly Hills.

The only sour note in this romantic symphony is the disclosure by actor Cornel Wilde, 33, and his wife, actress Patricia (Pat) Knight, that they have separated. Friends said a divorce is likely. The Wildes were married in 1937 at Elkton, Md., and have a daughter, Wendy, age six.

Television Station For Lubbock Asked

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29. (AP)—The communications commission today received applications for three new television stations in Texas.

Lula Mae Harrison and A. W. Smith asked for a station at Beaumont. Glenn Terry, Watt W. Winn, Warren E. Massey and Dave C. Edwards asked for one at Lubbock and one at Amarillo.

Winn, Massey and Terry are Dallas physicians. Edwards is connected with Hillcrest Memorial park in Dallas.

Edwards said at Dallas that his group planned to build stations if they could secure permits.

He said he understood no television permits were being issued now and none would be until the communications commission made decisions on very high frequency and color television.

A hearing on these matters is now going on. Edwards said he had been told the hearing may last into January.

He said he did not recall the exact channels in the applications of Lubbock and Amarillo.

Jury Awards Couple $1,750 For Damages

A 99th District court jury hearing evidence in the damages action of L. R. Rodden and his wife, Milly, against Gerald Dunlap, returned answers to nine special issues to Judge G. V. Pardue about 6 p.m. Wednesday.

The jury, which had received the charge shortly after 5 p.m., recommended damages of $1,000 for Rodden, and $750 for his wife. It was believed the plaintiffs would move for judgment today.

The case is the outgrowth of a March 23 automobile accident at Twenty-third and Texas Ave. Mr. and Mrs. Rodden set out they had suffered painful injuries as a result of defendant's alleged negligence. The original petition of the plaintiffs had asked nearly $7,500 for physical injuries, property damage and loss of wages suffered as a result of the mishap.

MORGANTOWN, W. Va. (U.P.)—A partial answer to critics who say experimental results from lower animals cannot be applied to man was prepared by West Virginia University's medical school. Tests conducted at the school have shown blood pressure among dogs, like humans, is higher in males than in females.

THE QUESTION

How did you happen to get into show business, and do you find it attractive?

(All persons answering this question are members of casts of shows at the Panhandle-South Plains fair.)

THE ANSWERS

DON BALDON, Seattle, Washington, master of ceremonies at Trampoline show: "I had been an athlete in high school, so I took up acrobatics for exercise after I had finished school. I was tumbling on the beach in Chicago when a man hired me to perform with an Arabian tumbling act, which I stayed with for 6 years. Altogether, I have been in this business 22 years. I have been with this show for three years. Do I like it? I don't think anyone would stay in this business 22 years if they didn't like it."

RITA DUDEK, Chicago, captain of chorus line in the Avery show: "I started taking dancing lessons when I was a little girl. Then I tried out for the chorus line in the Avery production and made it. My sister and I have been with the show for three years now. We have also danced at servicemen's centers before joining the fair."

JOYCE MARSHALL, Chicago, singer with the Avery shows: "Three of us started out in Chicago. Then our agent suggested that we go on a fair tour. This is our second year on the road. We have done a lot of club dates out of Chicago and also some work in the 'long hair line'."

ERVIN MAR VELL, Sheboygan, Wis., member of Mar Vell teeterboard act: "I started this as a hobby; sort of a gym organization. There are seven of us who have been together for four years. I became a professional mainly because I liked it. We have been with this show for about three weeks. We like it very much. It's a good life; much better than working in a factory."

JUNE BUCKNER, Chicago, singer with the Avery shows: "There are three of us called the 'Three Debutantes.' We started singing in Chicago, went to college together, and then came on tour with this fair. Do we like our work? Yes, very, very much."

LARRY GRISWOLD, Cedar Rapids, Iowa, comedy diver: "In college I tried out for a diving team. I had never done any actual diving, but had read numerous books on it. When I tried out for the team, I used my interpretation of the diving book in doing my dives. I made it all right, and the night we were to perform before an audience, the crowd laughed and cheered when I began my dives, until I felt that I was really a big success. But they were really only laughing because I was so funny. So as a result, I decided to be a comedy diver rather than just a "plain diver."

Oklahoma Drys To Fight 3.2 Beverage

OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 29 (U.P.) Oklahoma's drys, feeling the glow of their victory in the state's repeal election Tuesday, will meet next week to draw plans for outlawing now-legal 3.2 beer.

Directors of the United Drys association said they also would try to gain more rigid engorcement of present anti-liquor laws.

The drys yesterday called upon the U. S. Justice department to help drive bootleggers out of Oklahoma. The state legislature last summer gave the Justice department authority to move against Oklahoma rum runners.

Anti-alcohol forces pledged a fight to do away with 3.2 beer if they succeeded in defeating the proposed repeal plan. The drys won an overwhelming victory at the polls.

Polio Hits Yale Grid Squad

Fordham Tilt Is Called Off

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Sept. 29 (AP)—Doctors kept the Yale football squad under close scrutiny today because one player has developed infantile paralysis. The Fordham game, scheduled for Saturday in the Yale bowl, has been cancelled.

Whether other games on the varsity schedule, particularly that against Columbia in New York a week from Saturday, would be called off remained uncertain. One university official, declining to permit use of his name, said that would depend on whether additional cases of polio develop among players exposed to the disease.

First Cancelled Game

The university announced the cancellation of the Fordham game late yesterday. It was the first time since the bowl was opened in 1914 that a game had been called off. Athletic association officials estimated 18,000 tickets already had been sold for the contest, which would have marked the first appearance of a Fordham team in Connecticut.

Also cancelled were Saturday's Yale freshmen-Cheshire academy game, and all intramural football games for the next ten days.

No restrictions were placed on general student activities, and the university's announcement said:

"No other precautionary measures are contemplated at this time."

The stricken player, Richard D. Liechty, a 22-year-old back from Lake Geneva, Wis., is one of three Yale seniors to be afflicted by polio in recent days. The others are William C. Butler of Winnetka, Ill., and Salvatore Miani of New Briton, Conn.

Cases Are Mild

The university described all three cases as "mild." None is paralyzed, but the university said one of Liechty's legs was becoming weak, and Butler has complained of "slight stiffness."

Liechty entered the Yale infirmary immediately after last Saturday's game against the University of Connecticut, in which he played. He was at first thought to have suffered a back strain, but symptoms indicating polio soon appeared.

Both the cases of Liechty and Butler, stricken about the same time, were diagnosed definitely as polio yesterday after they had been transferred to New Haven hospital. Miano was taken ill last weekend while visiting his home and is now in Hartford hospital. Yale health officials said there was no apparent relation between the three cases.

Players Downcast

News of their teammate's illness reached the Yale squad and Coach Herman Hickman shortly before the close of yesterday's practice

CONFEDERATE VETS CLOSE REUNION—Two Confederate veterans of the Civil war are shown as they arrived in Little Rock for their annual convention which closes today with a parade. Seated in the wheel chair is W. W. Alexander, age 100, Rock Hill, S. C.; dressed in Confederate uniform is Gen. James W. Moore, 98, Selma, Ala., commander-in-chief of the vets. At left of Gen. Moore is John Robert Thomas Rives, 74, commander-in-chief of Sons of Confederate Veterans. Beside Gen. Moore is Col. R. D. Strickler.

REUNIONS WILL BE HELD AS LONG AS TWO ARE ALIVE

Parade Is Last Event For Confederate Vets

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Sept. 29. (AP)—A parade today brings the 59th annual reunion of Confederate veterans to a close.

The four old soldiers attending the meeting will ride in automobiles over the same route that President Truman marched here last June.

As the aged comrades-in-arms prepared to say their farewells for another year, one big question remained apparently unanswered. Where will the 1950 reunion be held?

Two cities have made a strong bid for the meeting—Charleston, S. C., and Biloxi, Miss.

The veterans' commander-in-chief, Gen. James W. Moore, has announced through his adjutant that Confederate reunions will be held as long as there are two veterans living.

A. Belmont Dennis, newspaper publisher and radio station operator of Covington, Ga., was elected commander-in-chief of the Sons of Confederate veterans yesterday.

Mrs. Roscoe Gerard Rackley of Charleston, S. C., was named president general of the Confederate Southern Memorial association.

Both organizations met in conjunction with the reunion.

MOORE MAY RUN

HOUSTON, Sept. 29 (AP)—State Rep. Carlton Moore may run for the office of Lieutenant governor. He said yesterday he is studying the situation.

HILTON PROPOSAL MADE PUBLIC

Expansion Plan Of Hotel Is Outlined

Proposals looking to the enlargement of the Hilton hotel here to nearly double its present size were presented to directors of the chamber of commerce late Wednesday by Spearl Ellison, of El Paso, vice president of the Hilton Hotels corporation.

Ellison outlined a two-step program designed to provide Lubbock more adequate hotel facilities.

The first would be the addition of three floors containing 60 rooms to the present building, raising its height to 15 stories.

The second would involve the erection of a new wing on the north side of the present building.

The entire program would add about 148 rooms to the present 200-room capacity of the hotel, directors were informed.

Ellison estimated the three-story addition would cost approximately $420,000, and said local financing to pay half of it would be required.

Cost of the larger program was estimated tentatively at $1,200,000, with nothing said as to how much of this would have to be financed by Lubbock capital.

Most of the discussion at the special meeting of directors, attended by only eight of the 15 board members, was concerned with the proposal to add three floors to the present building.

Ellison said his work probably could be completed and ready for occupancy by early next fall. It would be the quickest way, he argued, to provide some relief from present shortages.

This would not interfere in any way with the larger expansion on the north side of the present building, fronting on Texas ave, directors were told. But this expansion would require 18 months to two years for completion because of being a much larger building operation. The work would necessitate the strengthening of the foundation to support a structure of 12 to 15 floors, which would take a good deal of time.

Under the proposal to add three floors to the present building, those contributing to the $210,000 of local financing would receive debentures payable within 15 years.

The directors took the proposal under advisement without comment, but Chamber President Homer D. Grant said an answer probably will be given the Hilton corporation next week after the proposition has been discussed fully by the entire board.

Rotarians To Meet Tonight

Gov. Thomas J. Mabry of New Mexico is scheduled to arrive in Lubbock between 4 and 5 p.m. today to take part in the Rotary club's 26th annual Inter-City Relations meeting tonight at Jones Stadium and the Tech gym.

The New Mexico governor will be principal speaker at the meeting which will attract an estimated 600 Rotarians and guests from more than 45 clubs in West Texas and eastern New Mexico.

Governor Mabry, accompanied by his wife, will arrive by car. They will stay at the Hilton hotel. They are scheduled to start their return trip early Friday morning.

Mrs. Mabry, still on crutches after receiving a broken hip in an accident nearly a year ago, will be entertained by Rotary Anns, wives of Rotarians.

More than 450 out-of-town reservations had been made Wednesday night for the meeting, which will include a chicken barbecue at 6:30 p.m. under the east side of Jones Stadium and a program at 7:30 p.m. in the Tech gymnasium. In addition, some 200 Lubbock Rotarians and their guests are expected to attend.

Guy C. Victory, president of the local Rotary club, will serve as chairman for the night program. He said Governor Mabry will speak on "Good Government, Citizenship and Peace."

District Governor Expected

Dr. E. N. Jones, vice president of Texas Tech, chairman of the local committee in charge of the program, said Dr. William O. Gordon will speak on the work and advancements made by the Lubbock Cerebral Palsy center.

The Noteables quartet, composed of Tiny Jones, Ray Dickey, Dick Richards and Jim Black, will sing. A feature solo, "The Bells of St. Mary," will be sung by Frank Day, Plainview Rotarian.

SUSPICIOUS INFORMATION CHECKED

Background And Results Of Loyalty Program Described

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29—President Truman's program for checking on the loyalty of government workers is two years old Oct. 1.

This is a brief review of how the program came about and what's happened in these two years.

Before 1939 the various agencies and departments of government decided whether to employ a man on the basis of his ability and character.

An old rule of the Civil Service commission, dating back to 1884, blocked questions about the religious or political beliefs of a man applying for a civil service job with the government.

On Aug. 2, 1939, just one month before World War II started, Congress passed the Hatch act to keep out of government employ any one who advocated overthrow of this country's form of government.

Commission Set Up

There were various congressional acts and presidential orders after that date, along the same line, making an employe's loyalty a direct factor in his holding a government job.

In 1946 the House civil service committee finally suggested that a commission—made up of various government department officials—be created to study ways of protecting the government against disloyal employes.

On Nov. 25, 1946 President Truman set up the commission. It made its report to him early in 1947. And on March 22, 1947 he issued his order creating the loyalty check program.

Money was needed to get it started. Instead of voting the money right away, Congress played around with the idea of passing a law to establish its own loyalty program.

Finally Voted Funds

It gave up the idea of a program of its own and at last, in July, 1947, voted money for the President's program. The program got going Oct. 1, 1947. It had a double purpose:

1. To check on anyone, employed by the government before Oct. 1 of that year, whose loyalty might be in question.

2. To check on anyone looking for a government job after Oct. 1 if there was any reason to question his loyalty.

This didn't mean the FBI would begin a full-scae investigation of everyone in, or coming into, the government.

Checks would be made on the record of each one to see if there was any doubtful stuff on file about him.

If any suspicious information was found, then the FBI made a full investigation.

Accuser Kept Secret

And this could happen: Jones had been in government service but his record was clear. Later, some one informed the government that Jones' loyalty was questionable. An investigation could start then.

In each department a loyalty board was established. If an investigation disclosed doubtful information about an employe, he was called before the board.

He could bring his own lawyer and his own witnesses but in almost no case would he ever be told who had given information against him.

If the department board thought he was disloyal—or thought his loyalty was questionable—it could find him unfit for a government job.

In that case the man could appeal to the head of the government department. If turned down there, he had one final appeal: to a special loyalty review board of 22 men appointed under Mr. Truman's program. If that board considered him unfit, he lost his job.

Results Given

(A number of regional boards were established around the country to deal with persons looking for work with the government.

(If a man's job application were turned down on loyalty grounds, he could appeal to one of those regional boards. If turned down there, he could appeal to the special loyalty review board).

That loyalty review board reported yesterday that, of 332 persons whose loyalty was found questionable by the lower boards, this had happened:

102 were found unfit; 70 were found all right by the review board or the department heads and allowed to have their jobs; 12 were sent back to the lower boards for a rehearing; and 148 are now in the process of appealing to their department heads or the loyalty review board. There are around 2,000,000 federal employes.

(Employes of the Atomic Energy commission and civilian employes of the Army do not come under this loyalty program. The AEC and the Army have their own programs for loyalty checking).

MISPLACED AID

CHICAGO (U.P.)— Priests at St. Peter's Roman Catholic Church could see that the young man needed their help. They fed him for two days. They gave him money and spiritual guidance. Then, one night they saw him flee after a burglar alarm in the church started clanging. They found he had taken $25 from offering boxes and a cleaning woman's purse.

Chinese Nationalist Armies On Offensive

CANTON, Sept. 29 (AP) — The newly reinforced defenders of Kwangtung province were reported officially today to have driven Communist regulars out of Chihing, gateway town of the northern border region 135 miles from Canton.

Central news agency dispatches said the defenders, bolstered by fresh troops from both Canton and Hengyang, were pushing toward Chihing, Nanhsiung and Yanfa (Jenhua). The three towns are on a line roughly parallel to Kwangtung's extreme northern frontier and east of the important rail and river city of Kukong.

The news agency said the Communists retreated from Chihing under pressure and Nationalist forces were advancing eastward. It was possible Chihing already had been left behind or bypassed by the resurgent Nationalists.

News dispatches predicted the Nationalists soon would start an offensive to sweep the Communists out of Kwangtung province.

Mother And Son Found Guilty In Lonely Hearts Death Trial

DOVER, Del., Sept. 29 (AP)—A plump farm woman and her 16-year-old son were found "guilty as charged" in Delaware's lonely hearts murder trial but a recommendation of mercy may save both from the gallows.

A jury of 10 men and two women, after deliberating five hours, last night returned a verdict of first degree murder guilt against Robert Brennan in the shotgun slaying of Wade N. Wooldridge, 67-year-old carpenter from Stone Mountain, Va.

The jury also found Mrs. Inez Brennan, 46, guilty as an accomplice. A recommendation of mercy was made in the case of Robert but not for his mother.

Judges Not Bound

Under Delaware law, the maximum penalty for a principal or an accomplice in a capital case is death by hanging. An accomplice, may not receive a more severe sentence than the principal and the mercy plea for Robert may result in life imprisonment for both mother and son.

The three trial judges are not bound by the jury's recommendation, however, and could sentence Robert and Mrs. Brennan to hang.

Immediately after the verdict was returned, defense counsel Benjamin R. Donolow asked for the usual four days extension to file petition for a new trial. The court granted him until Oct. 14 and set Nov. 3 for hearing of the petition.

The trial, which started Sept. 12, was held in the Court of Oyer and Terminer (find and determine) under legal procedure patterned after old English custom. Two tipstaves stood by during each session holding long spears.

Police Testify

Each spear head was painted white on one side to represent the presumed innocence of the defendants. The other side—painted a brilliant red—was turned toward the courtroom as the jury brought in its verdict of guilty.

Robert turned pale as he heard the finding. His mother wept as Robert's fate was announced but heard her own judgement without show of emotion.

During the trial, the state contended that Mrs. Brennan met Wooldridge through lonely hearts correspondence and that the Virginian came to Delaware on Oct. 10, 1948, as the woman's suitor.

State police testified Robert told them he shot Wooldridge for his money on his mother's orders, buried the body in a pigpen, later burned the remains and scattered the ashes on a Dover city dump.

Housekeeper Witness

The state's star witness, Mrs. Dolly Dean, 26-year-old former housekeeper, testified Robert told her "I killed the old man—I shot off half his face."

Robert himself testified he shot Wooldridge in self defense during an argument over attentions the youth said Wooldridge paid Mrs. Dean. He told police the slaying was prompted by his mother, Robert said, because he was ashamed of an illicit relationship with Mrs. Dean. She returned to the stand later to deny this.

Mrs. Brennan's two other sons, Raymond, 23, and George, 18, were seated in the courtroom. They are free in bail awaiting trial as accessories in the Wooldridge slaying.

Also present in the courtroom was Mrs. Augustine Elste, of Suncook, N. H., sister of Hugo Schulz, New Hampshire farmer whom authorities in that state charge was killed by Mrs. Brennan.

Before the verdicts were returned last night, Attorney General William L. Phinney of New Hampshire announced his state would bring Mrs. Brennan to trial for Schulz's slaying if she was acquitted in Delaware.

session. There was no comment, but the players appeared downcast as they filed into the dressing room.

The ban on football was fixed at ten days because Yale doctors estimated that amount of time remained of the "standard incubation period" of two weeks for the appearance of polio.

The football squad will be permitted to do "light conditioning work" during the period but will be kept under "constant medical supervision," the university announcement said. The players will be given a physical examination twice daily.

Cattle Show To Open At Clovis

CLOVIS, N. Mex., Sept. 29 (Special)—The second edition of the Southwestern Cattle festival, Clovis' annual three-ring show, opens here Monday, October 3, for a three-day stay.

With over 2,000 head of top quality cattle consigned for sale and with four times that many visitors expected, the show will combine the second annual carlot stocker and feeder sale, the New Mexico Hereford Breeder's annual sale, and the New Mexico Aberdeen Angus Cattlemen's annual show and sale.

Parade First Event

Opening the activities will be a mammoth parade in down-town Clovis, which is expected to be the greatest and most colorful parade ever staged in this cattle capital of the Southwest.

The cattle festival queen, who will be named Saturday night, will be honored during the parade and will reign over the three-day event. Ten county girls are contending for the title under sponsorship of county 4-H clubs and FFA chapters.

Highlight of the festival will be an appearance of Herb Greggerson of El Paso, southwestern authority and author of books on square and folk dancing.

Greggerson will conduct training classes in square and folk dancing during the mornings and afternoons of October 3, and 4, and will make an appearance at a mammoth Square Danec Roundup in the Clovis armory each of the two nights.

Schedule Given

Other entertainment on docket for visitors includes a thrill exhibition of Heil Driver's on Monday night, popular dances at Hotel Clovis each night of the festival, and a tea and style show for visiting ladies.

Schedule of events during the festival is:

Monday, October 3: Judging of Angus cattle in the Wertheimer Cattle company pens. 11 a. m., crowning of the queen and the parade. 2 p. m., sale of Angus cattle in the Rancher's and Farmer's Livestock Sales company barns. Evening: square dance round-up at the armory; popular dances at Hotel Clovis, and Hell Driver's exhibition at the Mounted Patrol arena.

Tuesday, October 4: 9 a. m., judging of carlot stockers and feeders in the Clovis Cattle Commission company barns, with the sale to follow. 2 p. m., sale of Herefords in the R. and F. barns. Evening: square dance round-up, armory, and the popular dances at Hotel Clovis.

Wednesday, October 5: Sale of commercial stockers and feeders.

Episcopal Church May Abolish Restriction Of Negro Members

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 29. (AP)—A proposal to abolish so-called "Jim Crow" restrictions within the church was before the 56th general convention of the Protestant Episcopal church in America today.

A resolution introduced by Dr. Clifford P. Morehouse of New York, a lay member in the house of deputies, proposed:

"Every communicant or baptized member of the church shall be entitled to equal rights and status in any parish or mission church thereof."

"He shall not be excluded from the worship or sacraments of the church, nor from parochial membership because of race, color or nationality."

Marriage Laws Studied

There was no indication when the resolution would be acted upon.

More liberal interpretation of the Episcopalian marriage laws was recommended by a special committee of the house of bishops. No change will be made for at least three years, however.

The committee recommended appointment of a joint commission on holy matrimony. It would consist of three bishops, three presbyters and three laymen. They would study the matter three years and report to the next general convention on possible amendment of existing cannons.

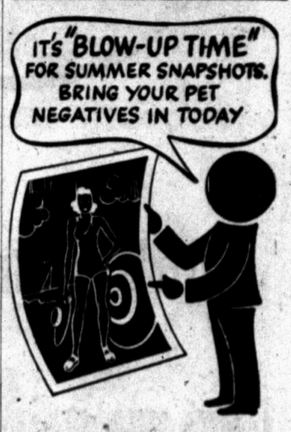

Classify Divorce Grounds

A major question has been whether the stated grounds for nullifying a marriage, in the eyes of the church, must have existed before the marriage, or if they are valid whe nthey occur after the marriage. The committee took the position that the grounds are acceptable if they occur after marriage.

The Episcopal church, prior to 1946, would remarry only the innocent party in a divorce resulting from adultery. In 1946, the house of bishops and the house of deputies authorized nine grounds for nullifying a marriage. These ranged from fraud and duress to venereal disease.

STORE HOLDUP IS CONFESSED

Police Trying To Link Man With Bank Robbery Attempt

DALLAS, Sept. 29. (U.P.)—Police detectives checked today to determine if a confessed liquor store robber arrested yesterday just before he committed a planned grocery store holdup has any connection with a recent attempt to rob the Dallas National bank.

Cruising police patrolmen nabbed Lester T. Weakley, 24-year-old carpenter and ex-Navy man, as he walked along a street yesterday.

Check Is Found

Searching him, they found a bank check drawn like this:

Amount—"cash-me one thousand dollars."

Signature—"I have a gun on you."

A .38 caliber revolver was found in Weakley's possession. He admitted he was en route to rob and A-&P supermarket on the Dallas southside, and that he was the gunman who robbed a liquor store of $60 Monday.

No Past Record

Detective Capt. Will Fritz said Weakley had no past police record in Dallas. The patrolmen arrested him only because he fitted the description of the liquor store bandit.

Fritz said he was interested in the "written note technique" of robbery and was checking to see if the planned grocery store robbery had any connection with a recent attempt by a blonde young woman to rob the Dallas National bank.

The blonde thrust a note into a teller's cage Sept. 1, ordering the teller to hand her the cash and threatening to use a gun if he didn't. The teller slammed the cage window and the woman fled without showing the weapon she claimed to have.

Boy Scout Exhibit Winners Selected

Results of judging on the Boy Scout exhibits at the Panhandle-Plains fair were announced late Wednesday night by Gene Quest, superintendent of the exhibit.

The grand prize trophy went to Troop 8, sponsored by the Allen Brothers post of the American Legion here, for their exhibit of a model of Boy Scout Camp post. The model was made to scale by reference to an air map of the camp.

First place went to Grassland Troop 66, one of the newer troops in the district, for their model of the camp. Lubbock Troop 4, sponsored by the First Presbyterian church, took second with Scouts acting as demonstrators for their miniature camp display. Lubback Troop 6, sponsored by St. John's Methodist church, won third.

First place for the senior division went to Explorer Post 5, sponsored by the First Christian church. Their display was a model of their summer camp in the mountains near Tres Ritos, N. M.

Cub Pack 3, sponsored by George R. Bean, won the prize for their division with a handicraft display. The exhibits will remain on display in the Scout building for the remainder of the week.

Furniture Dealers' Lecture Scheduled

A lecture on personality and furniture selling will be given at 8:15 p. m. Friday at the Chamber of Commerce building for the benefit of furniture dealers, employes and wives by Mrs. Rene Denman of St. Louis, author, commentator and sales training expert.

Harold Griffith, who will preside, said the lecture will be available to dealers without cost of registration fee and that reservations will not be necessary to attend.

Mrs. Denman plans to write a series of articles on personnel training after she completes her tour in Texas. The articles will be published by Southwest Furniture News, official publication of the Retail Furniture Association of Texas, sponsors of her tour.

Texan Returns Home After Agricultural Work In Near East

Hunger, Misery In Saudi Arabia Could Be Relieved By Dams, Tech Graduate Asserts

JOE T. SMITH

An old Arab stood beside an American geologist and watched a C-47 take off from a sandy strip in Saudi Arabia. The plane had just unloaded a cargo after a four-hour flight. Many camels would have had to travel for days to have accomplished the task.

"What do you think of it?" the American shouted so that he could be heard above the thunder of the powerful engines. If he expected wide-eyed astonishment he was mistaken. The Arab merely shrugged.

"Isn't that what it's supposed to do?" he answered.

And that answer, according to Joe T. Smith, Texas Tech graduate just returned from Saudi Arabia, pretty well expresses the Arab's acceptance of American attainment.

Tech 1946 Graduate

The 28-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Smith of Floydada put it this way:

"Engineers of Arabian-American Oil company move in with the most modern equipment, and if they don't want a hill where a hill is they just set it over to one side.

"The Arabs stand by and watch. It is slight wonder that they expect an American to step up to one of their wells, operated by a camel for motive power, and get twice the production with the same camel."

Smith was graduated in December of 1946, a few weeks earlier than scheduled, from the department of agricultural economics at Tech. In another month he was in Saudi Arabia and engaged under contract in a salt land reclamation program that had attracted other agricultural graduates as well to the kingdom of the fabulous Ibn-Sa'ud. He spent two and a half years there, which was longer than any of those others who went with him from Texas. He was superintendent of the 250-acre Hofuf experimental and demonstration center the last year of his stay.

There he was tucked away in a huge oasis of approximately 100 square miles in an angle formed by the Red and Arabian seas. South is the great Rub 'Al Khali, or Sandy desert. Approximately 600 miles to the northward is historic Tehran. The oasis and the walled city of Hofuf lie in an artesian water belt. There are 12 flowing wells, one of which produces from 15,000 to 20,000 gallons a minute.

Project Is Watched

What the Americans were able to get accomplished there—by means of modern machinery, new seeds, better fertilizer and other improved agricultural methods—must have attracted considerable attention, for young Smith was invited to Lake Success to read a paper on conservation of agricultural resources. His hosts? The United Nations. He was the youngest one to seat himself behind one of the much-pictured microphones. He also was asked to criticise a paper another agricultural authority from another nation, and remained for days of conferences.

Aramco engineers have done the next-to-impossible in physical accomplishments, but one doesn't convince nature so easily. The oasis of Hofuf, 100 miles from Dharhan and about half that distance from te Persian gulf, is dotted with farms and orchards which, because of their smallness, are unsuited for being worked with Americans' modern machinery. Date palms, planted with an expectancy of being worked by hand, have to be chopped down here and there to allow tractors to take over.

The inertia of the centuries lies heavily over the country. The Arab's enthusiasm over tractor farming may even be superficial upon occasion. Smith recalls driving to the project of one Solley Rished.

"Well, Solley, how's the tractor doing?" he asked.

"Very good," the Arab assured him.

Smith looked around and saw that the field work was being done by laborers equipped with hoes.

It turned out that Solley Rished was using the tractor and attached plow only as a vehicle upon which the hoe hands rode to and from the field.

Plans More Study

Limitations of agricultural development in Saudi Arabia far exceed those in another eastern section Smith is watching closely, near te Tigris-Euphrates confluence.

He plans going to the University of California a year. Then he may return to the East.

Sitting with his brother Jack and with Arthur Gamble, a Lubbock business man, over coffee in a hotel coffee shop, the handsome young agriculturist sat forward in his chair and spoke rapidly and with animation of his plans. Another possibility for the future is an association with a great Far Eastern university, which may organize an agricultural department.

"All the displaced persons who are so unhappy at the possibilities they face in returning to Israel could find a happy and profitable work environment if the Tigris-Euphrates valley is developed as proposed," he said.

Smith has seen enough misery stemming from undernourishment and even hunger, and those who worked with him in the Saudi Arabian desert know that much of that misery can be relieved. It will take water to do it, and patient know-how tht is backed by the resources of schools and factories of the more enlightened countries. What he hopes to see is a series of dams and hydroelectrical plants in the Tigris-Euphrates valley that will make a great garden where now the possibilities are virtually being wasted.

Lubbock Man Suffers Broken Leg At Fair

Robert L. Vetterman, 21, of 1911 Twenty-fifth, suffered a broken left leg about 2 p. m. Wednesday at the fairgrounds when a horse from which he had fallen stepped on him.

Vetterman, employed as a special watchman to patrol fences around the grounds, was admitted to West Texas hospital.

CIVIL SERVICE SALARIES BOOSTED BY HOUSE

Senators Hope To Pass Pay Raise Bill For Top Officials Without Further Retreating

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29. (AP)—After swallowing one compromise, administration leaders hoped to push a pay raise bill for top government officials through the Senate today without retreating further.

At a snappish session that lasted until midnight, senators voted to trim salary boosts already approved by the House and strongly urged by President Truman for cabinet members an dother upper-bracket executives.

The vote in favor of that was 36 to 16. Administration leaders escaped another setback with the defeat of an amendment that would have tied the pay raises to the balancing of the federal budget.

Civil Service Aided

The bill as revised is expected to cost $700,000,000 a year. A much bigger sum was approved quickly by the House yesterday for civil service workers generally. It would give 885,000 government employes a raise costing $95,062,000 a year—averaging $113 per worker. It now goes to the Senate.

The civil service raise was the third such measure the House passed within a span of 24 hours. Tuesday the members voted $300,000,000 a year more in military pay and $180,000,000 more for postal employes.

Still pending in the Senate when the weary, temper-frayed members went home early today were 16 amendments to the cabinet-officials pay raise bill. Democratic Leader Lucas, of Illinois, said he was confident all would be beaten.

Substitute Adopted

He told a reporter, however, that he might accept an amendment that would direct President Truman to submit a balanced budget to Congress next January for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1951.

Senator McClellan (D-Ark), a leader of the Senate economy bloc, has offered the amendment as a means of forcing the President to show how federal spending could be kept within revenues. The president still would be free to submit this regular budget recommendations.

Another economy amendment which Senator Ferguson (R-Mich) is trying to tack onto the bill would direct the President to trim government expenditures by 5 to 10 per cent. Lucas predicted it would be rejected.

In scaling down the salary increases asked by Mr. Truman for his top executives, the Senate adopted a complete substitute for the House-passed bill.

The compromise was offered by 19 Democrats and 14 Republicans. Lucas had conceded in advance it would be adopted.

Raises 50 Percent

It would raise the pay of cabinet members to $22,500 instead of the $25,000 provided in the house bill. They now get $15,000. Undersecretaries of departments and such officials as the director of the budget, the chairman of the National Security Resources board, the Federal Security administrator and the Veterans administrator would be raised to $15,000 instead of the $20,000 the House had voted.

The Senate substitute in general would limit raises to 50 percent and not increase salaries above $15,000. Exceptions were made for cabinet members and a few White House aides.

The President would be allowed to pay two of his assistants $20,000, three others $18,000 and seven more $15,000.

Lucas said the Senate's action did not give him what he wanted but he added "it is an increase in salary and does give some help."

Inducement Offered

The amendment which would have made the proposed pay raises effective only when the President declared, on the basis of estimated revenues and expenditures, that he expected the budget for the fiscal year to be balanced was proposed by Senator Williams (R-Del). He said it would "dangle salary increases before these boys as something they can get if they balance the budget" and thus induce them to clamp down on spending.

The Williams amendment was rejected, 39 to 17. Lucas shouted that it was an attempt "to kill the bill by indirection."

The bill, as it passed the House, would have added $1,200,000 to the salaries of federal officials. The substitute would cut the cost to $700,000 a year.

By voice vote, the Senate adopted an amendment of Senator Douglas (D-Ill) to require that the pay raises be paid out of money already appropriated. This can be done by not filling some job vacancies, he said.

Pay Boost Is Given Construction Crafts

HOUSTON, Sept. 29. (AP) — A 12 cent hourly pay boost has been given five AFL construction crafts.

Cement finishers local 681 last night voted to accept the increases offered by contractors, thus ending a two-month layoff. Acceptance by this craft automatically set up an immediate identical wage adjustment for carpenters, pipe wrapper, pile drivers and two classification of teamsters.

Yesterday, however, AFL general laborers filed a strike notice with the National Labor Relations board. The union turned down a five cent wage boost ,asked 12½ cents hourly hike.

More than 200 AFL asbestos workers are still on strike for a 25 cent demand.

Crowds Gather To View Royal Procession

Nephew Of England's King To Marry Austrian-Born Pianist

LONDON, Sept. 29 (AP)—An Austrian-born commoner marries today into the British royal house of Windsor.

The Earl of Harewood, shy 26-year-old nephew of King George VI, and Miss Marion Stein, 22, a concert pianist whose family fled when Hitler entered Vienna in 1938, will exchange wedding vows this afternoon.

Ten Mayfair streets have been blocked off and 500 police were on hand to handle the crowds gathered to see King George and Queen Elizabeth lead 900 guests into fashionable St. Mark's church for the ceremony.

Groom Is Music Critic

The king and queen came down by royal train from Balmoral castle, in Scotland, last night for the ceremony. With them were Princess Elizabeth, the Duke of Edinburgh and Princess Margaret. The Duke and Duchess of Gloucester joined the train at Perth.

Harewood's marriage is London's most socially important wedding since Princess Elizabeth married Prince Philip in 1947.

Both the bride and bridegroom are Church of England members.

The earl is the music critic for a London publication and president of the London Opera club.

Miss Stein's father, Erwin Stein, is employed by a London music publishing firm. The family left Austria just before the Nazis marched in.

Harewood himself was taken prisoner during the war, in the Italian campaign in 1944.

Plans For Program Discussed By Club

Plans for a "Boss Night" were discussed at the weekly dinner of the Lubbock 20-30 club at the Lubbock hotel Wednesday night.

Each member will bring his employer and other guests to the dinner, arrangements for which are in the hands of a special committee composed of members T. J. Vallas, jr., Roy Pace, and Ira Parks.

Parks, who recently moved to Lubbock, was introduced as a new member to the club by Pres. A. L. "Chuck" Hawkins.

James Bavousett gave a short talk on his observations of the progress being made at Girlstown. A skating party for members was scheduled for next Monday night.

Miss Ann Bentley entertained with selections on the piano. Guests were Mickey Tarkenton of Lubbock, and Bob Greiner, from Arizona.

SAN ANTONIO, Sept. 29 (AP) — The threat of a plumbers strike is still strong in San Antonio.

Lucille Robison, negro woman, drew $60 in postal savings from Lubbock postoffice Wednesday and then lost it somewhere between there and a laundry in 1000-block Ave. G. The money, in $20, $5 and $1 bills, was wrapped in a handkerchief. Anyone finding the money was asked to telephone Mrs. Bob Howard, 2-4142, for whom the negro woman works.

Gene Mahan, 21, of Idalou route 1, Wednesday afternoon was admitted to West Texas hospital for treatment of a compound fracture of the right leg suffered when a piece of metal flew from a tractor he was driving on a farm near Idalou about 5 p. m. His condition was reported as satisfactory. The leg was broken below the knee.

Mrs. J. W. Harris, 45, was brought to West Texas hospital from her home in Abernathy Wednesday after she had injured her right hip in a fall about 5:30 p. m. Hospital attendants said she suffered the injury, a possible fracture, when she tripped over a car jack in her garage. Her condition was listed as satisfactory.

A negro boy who jumped up and ran home after he had been struck by a car while riding his bicycle Wednesday night was apparently uninjured, police said. The youth, Raymond Johnson, of 312 East Twentieth, was knocked to the street in the 1300 block Ave. A about 9:50 p. m. when his bike collided with a 1937 Dodge Pickup truck driven by C. Switzer, of 1708 Ave. E.

LEGAL PRIVILEGES DEMANDED

Catholic Requirements For Peace With Reds Published

NEW YORK, Sept. 29 (AP)—The editor of the Vatican newspaper says the Catholic church's minimum requirements for peace with Communism are those which guarantee to the church "the ability to live."

Count Giuseppe Dalla Torre, editor-in-chief of the Vatican newspaper L'Osservatore Romano, discussed Catholic-Communist relations in an article published today in the magazine United Nations World. The magazine has no official connection with the United Nations.

Subordination Unaccepted

Count Dalla Torre, for the past 30 years the confidant of popes and cardinals, wrote:

"The Catholic church has never accepted and cannot accept the subordination to the state of religion and of human conscience. The church thinks that collaboration between the religious and secular powers is the most just and the most beneficial system; because Chrisianity is not only a religion but also a civilization, and religion in itself is not exclusively an individual but also a social phenomenon. But if there must be a separation between temporal and spiritual authority, the reciprocal independence and freedom of the state and of the church must not inhibit or limit the practical cooperation of the church for the common good. . . .

Reds Started Conflict

The initiative for the conflict between the Vatican and the Kremlin did not come from the Catholic church, Count Della Torre said. He added:

"When Communism arrived, the church was holding its traditional place in world affairs. The trouble began when the church found that it had to defend itself against Communist onslaughts."

He said the "Catholic church asks from the Communist countries neither more nor less than it asks from other countries where separation between church and state exists. This means, he continued, that the following five privileges should be legally established and respected:

"1. Freedom of worship and of the administration of the sacraments.

"2. Freedom of evangelization and of proselytism (seeking new converts).

Other Freedoms Asked

"3. Freedom of religious administration: The right of the church to nominate priests and bishops; to maintain communication among the faithful and the priests, the priests and the hierarchy, the hierarchy and the holy see.

"4. Freedom of religious instruction and of the Christian school.

"5. Freedom of the means of dissemination of the faith, of defense, and of affirmation of the thought and the mission of Catholicism before public opinion—in short, freedom of Catholic speech, press and action."

Oklahoma Luggage Seller On The Ball

OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 29 (AP)—The day after Oklahomans endorsed prohibition again at the Sept. 27 special election, this luggage advertisement appeared in a newspaper here:

"Special suitcase, folds to surprisingly compact size when not in use—the perfect grip to take along when you're planning on returning with more than you started."

"A further feature," the ad said, "is a side-opening fitted with two leather covered pint flasks, four jigger-cups, a corkscrew and bottle opener."

Dallas Posse Makes Raids On Lotteries

DALLAS, Sept. 29. (AP)—A posse of more than 50 officers made seven simultaneous raids here last night to climax a six months investigation of a policy lottery racket in Dallas.

The raids included two business houses, a hotel, and two residences.

Officers said they were timed in an effort to be at the "wheels" as night numbers were being drawn.

Do You Really Want to Take Off That Ugly Fat?

Recently there has been a number of new reducing preparations on the market, some of them based on the diet and vitamin "plan." It is obvious that vitamins will not reduce the body weight, so one must depend on diet to reduce. But it is also obvious that one cannot go on a strenuous diet over a protracted period, and any weight lost will be restored if the former eating habits are gone back to.

So what to do? Well, here is a tip to you "overweight gals" who want to fight "the Battle of the Bulges" in a different way. Ask any well stocked Texas druggist for four ounces of Barcentrate. Mix with 12 ounces of grapefruit juice and take two tablespoonsful twice a day.

This preparation contains nothing harmful and the makers agree to refund your money on the very first bottle if it does not show you the way to lose ugly fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves.

Barcentrate is low in cost and is not based on the diet and vitamin "plan." You need never know a hungry moment while reducing with Barcentrate.

Salt Water Imported For Aquarium's Fish

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 29. (AP)—Philadelphia is going to get some better drinking water for the fish at the city aquarium.

In recent months, a number of deep sea specimens have either died or been ailing. Their keepers blamed the situation on the city water mixed artificially with salt now being used in the fish tanks.

Yesterday, park superintendent Charles W. McFadden went to Atlantic City, N. J., and arranged to have 50,000 gallons of honest-to-goodness salt water shipped to Philadelphia.

You just can't fool all the fish all the time.

Requiem Mass To Be Celebrated Saturday For Deceased Judge

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 29 (AP)—Solemn requiem mass will be celebrated Saturday for Federal Judge James F. T. O'Connor, close friend of the late President Roosevelt and early New Deal comptroller of currency.

Judge O'Connor, 63, died yesterday of a heart ailment after a long illness.

"Jefty," as he was called by FDR, managed the president's 1932 campaign in California and became comptroller of the currency when Roosevelt took office the next year.

Rosary will be recited tomorrow. The Most Rev. J. Francis A. McIntyre, Roman Catholic archbishop of Los Angeles, will preside over the requiem mass. Burial will be in Grand Forks, N. D., near his birthplace. He was the law partner of the late Sen. William Gibbs McAdoo, famous Democratic figure.

Organized Bank Reforms

In North Dakota, Judge O'Connor was a member of the state legislature and unsuccessful candidate for governor and U. S. senator. In 1938 he ran for governor of California on the Democratic ticket, but was defeated by Culbert Olson, later elected.

Unmarried, Judge O'Connor received many honorary law degrees and wrote a book, 'Banks Under Roosevelt."

He had a hand in organizing many of the early New Deal banking reforms, chiefly the Federal Deposit Insurance corporation.

AUSTIN, Sept. 29 (AP)—Two new members for both the state board of water engineers and the game, fish and oyster commission were named yesterday by Gov. Allan Shivers.

He also appointed J. C. Wilson of Pecos as Pecos river compact commissioner for Texas to fill the unexpected term of the late Charles H. Miller of Barstow. The term runs to May 5, 1955.

Andrew P. Rollins, Dallas engineer, and James S. Guleke, Amarillo, irrigation farmer and rancher, were nominated for places on the state board of water engineers.

Walter Lechner of Eagle Mountain lake, Tarrant county, and Scott Schreiner of Kerrville, will be new members of the game, fish and oyster commission.

Background Cited

Schreiner, former University of Texas board of regents member, is a rancher, sportsman and game conservationist. He succeeds Frank Jones of Marfa.

Rollins is a Texas A. and M. engineering graduate, class of 1906, served in both world wars, and has had wide experience in water engineering problems.

Guleke, 27, will fill the unexpired term of E. V. Spence, who has become interstate compact commissioner for the Canadian, Sabine and Red rivers. He will serve to Aug. 19, 1953.

He left naval service in 1946. He is married and has two children.

Rev. Blakeslee Is Speaker At Meeting

Members of the Lubbock Business and Professional Women's club and guests meeting in the Hilton hotel Wednesday night heard the Rev. William F. Blakeslee, pastor of St. Elizabeth's Catholic church, speak on recent governmental trends observed among European countries.

"The most noticeable trend in Europe is that Communism is losing ground," Reverend Blakeslee said.

He said Communism in Italy definitely has slipped into the background, even more than it has in France.

England has not recovered from war conditions, Reverend Blakeslee said. "She is not able to export and is in worse shape than any other country in Europe," he said.

Of all the countries he visited, Belgium has recovered most rapidly, he said, while Ireland is better able to feed her people than any other country.

Presiding at the meeting was Mrs. Claud H. Dalton, chairman of the legislative committee in charge of the program.

Miss Rossie Ann Stiles, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. J. H. Stiles, was presented as the high school girl of the month by Mrs. DeAlva Roberts. Mrs. Paul Glasgow presented a soprano solo, accompanied by Mrs. H. D. Woods, jr.

Guests were Mrs. Rayburn Robinson, Mrs. Lawrence Alexander, Mrs. G. A. Lynch, Mrs. Bernie Moeller, Mrs. Rex Tynes, Mrs. Maretta Gilbert, Miss Gertrude Graham, Miss Evelyn Matthews and Miss Billie Storrs.

MEET THE MANAGER—John B. Malouf, owner and manager of Malouf's for Men, 1108 Ave. K, was born at O'Donnell, Jan. 11, 1927. His family moved to Post when he was a few months old, and he grew up and graduated from high school there in 1943. Malouf likes to play tennis and dance, but says he doesn't have much time for hobbies any more. He belongs to the Hub City Kiwanis club, Unmarried, he lives at 1208 Ave. X. (Staff Photo).

Member Of Argentine Consulate Is Warned

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 29 (U.P.) — Chancellor N. Gregorio Chertudi of the Argentine consulate here was back on the highways today with an admonition from a traffic judge to "start being an emissary of good will."

Chertudi paid a $60 fine for parking violations in Municipal Judge Roger A. Pfaff's court yesterday after first pleading innocent. Pfaff urged him to change his mind.

"I urge you to mend your ways," the judge said, "and start being an emmissary of good will. A thing like this does more to undermine good relations than all the work of those trying to promote friendliness."

SERVICES ARE SET

BEAUMONT, Sept. 29 (AP) — Burial services will be held in San Antonio Saturday for Mrs. Ralph E. Jackson, widow of the late Dr. R. S. Jackson of Beaumont and San Antonio. She died here last night.

Plainview Man Heads Area USO Fund Drive

Chas. H. Dean, Plainview attorney, has been named chairman of the Texas USO reactivation campaign for Hale, Floyd, Lubbock and Crosby counties, T. E. Braniff, state campaign chairman, announced Wednesday from Dallas.

The Texas campaign has a goal of $500,000 toward the national goal of $10,1000,000 for the USO, Braniff said.

The first blast furnace was built in 1792 in what was destined to become the steel center of Pittsburgh.

LOS ANGELES—Whether or not it is true what they say about Dixie is a moot question, but almost anything you say about Los Angeles—good, bad or indifferent—can be supported by testimony.

This is the capital city of Never-Never Land; a city of strange paradoxes; a city of architectural beauty; of great civic pride—yet, withal, it is also a city of ugly slums and of sizeable graft and corruption.

Almost anything can happen in "L. A.", and often does.

Maybe that's one reason why so many people are attracted here because there's never a dull moment.

Los Angeles today is a great business city and its environs embrace an ever-growing and expanding industrial empire.

But in becoming a big business and industrial metropolis, Los Angeles has forfeited the one great natural resource which attracted people here in the first place: its weather.

By all odds the No. 1 problem in this conglomeration of municipalities today is the "smog," which causes eyes to smart, chests to heave and tempers to fray. It also mars the finishes of automobiles, homes and buildings and may some day result in death, as a similar life-killing gas did in a little Pennsylvania town last winter.

Los Angeles' "smog" is a combination of the light fog which almost daily rises off the Pacific and drifts lazily over the city, and the smoke and other chemical impurities coming from its industrial plants.

These industrial plants, swelled many times over by the war, now have turned to peacetime endeavors and their fumes are being increased almost daily.

Thus, with almost every sunrise there is more smoke to add to the fog—more bad air, more eye-smarting and more people laid wide open to diseases of the chest and the throat.

THUS far, Angelinos haven't done very much about the "smog" except cuss it.

There has been some little research, but actual work has been put off because of the cost involved.

"Smog" can be conquered here and eventually will be, just as it was in Pittsburgh and, to an even more sensational degree, in St. Louis.

But where "smog" correction in Pittsburgh and St. Louis cost only a million dollars or so per year for several years, here it will cost many times that much. Reason for the increased cost is, of course, the vast area covered by Los Angeles and its adjacent industrial sections—the most "spread out" city in the world by many, many miles in every direction.

This much can be said for sure: Los Angeles simply has to conquer "smog" for the physical well-being of its people and to safeguard its economic position.

It's much better to spend millions that way than to lose many more millions, already invested, but which will become almost worthless unless conditions are bettered.

During the pre-war and war years, this section of the U. S. boomed as no other section did, with the one exception of the Texas Gulf Coast.

Site of countless new industries and military installations, the Los Angeles area drew new investments by the billions and new citizens by the hundreds of thousands. Naturally, this change in conditions wasn't all on the credit side of the ledger. Much of it, in fact, was on the debit side.

Along with the many good new citizens came the usual run of parasites and with the sound businesses came some that were not sound at all.

As a result, the post-war years of 1947-48 dumped problems here which were—and continue to remain—vexing.

THE housing situation here is still as tight as Dick's hatband despite the fact that the over-all population is less than during the war's peak years.

There is considerable unemployment—with accompanying relief problems—despite the fact that the job situation is much better today than it was six months ago, and unemployment here at the moment stands slightly under the national average.

The crime situation, also improved over the 1941-46 era, continues bad, while the now easy availability of automobiles has made the city and environs one of the world's most dangerous places in which to walk and drive.

Add to these problems those of municipal finance; the need for expanded utilities and conveniences which plague every city, and you get the picture here: the picture of a great city of nearly 2,000,000 souls which has become much too big for its pants and is hard pressed to find more cloth.

★ ★ ★

But there are bright sides to the Los Angeles picture, too. Quite a number of them, in fact.

The City of the Angels has "grown up" quite a bit these last few years and it is continuing to grow up.

Despite its over-powering traffic problem made worse than normal because of an unsatisfactory public transportation system, Los Angeles is gaining ground in its never-ending battle for safety on the streets.

Little by little, it is extending and improving its system of boulevards and other "through" streets. Little by little it is courageously working out new methods of traffic control and putting them into being. And more than any other city in the land, Los Angeles is cracking down on the speeders, the reckless drivers and those who drink then get behind the wheel.

In fact, Los Angeles' all out attack on the traffic front is one of the most heart-warming experiences to be found over the nation.

LOS ANGELES still has its notorious "screwball" element, always very much in evidence around Pershing Square, the local counterpart of Hyde Park, London; and wherever there are gathered the pseudo intellectuals.

The Communists are quite active here in leftwing labor groups, on the various college campuses and among the self-appointed intelligentsia. You still see an occasional long-haired, long-bearded guy clad in a sheet and walking barefooted down a sidewalk carrying a shepherd's crook, or some queerly arrayed, hatchet-faced female passing out literature having to do with a new religious cult allegedly right out of Tibet—or Greenwich Village.

But over-all, Los Angeles has settled down a great deal. Its goon population has become almost infinitesimal in ratio to normal people who are the carbon copies of their fellow Americans on all the Main Streets of the land.

That is encouraging to the visitor—and must be cause for great pride on the part of the permanent citizenry.

Los Angeles' highly publicized "Skid Row," which at one time bade fair to some day rival New York's bowery, has not kept pace with the city's general growth.

"Skid Row's" still there, of course, on South Main and nearby. The shambling alcoholics, with vacant stares and twitching hands, still mumble unintelligibly as they make their painful way along the sidewalks rimmed by cheap bars with their B-girls and burlesque shows. Down there the other day we had the disconcerting experience of seeing among South Main's denizens a former Avalanche-Journal reporter of the early war days—a man who once filled the pulpit of a city church and later was a foreign correspondent for a New York paper. Highly educated and the possessor of the finest vocabulary we ever encountered, this one-time co-worker now has sunk as low as the lowest bum on Los Angeles Street of the Forgotten.

But on the sunny side, let it be reported that "Skid Row" here today is less populated than during the boom years and that local efforts to clean it up and to rescue the fallen are bearing good fruit.

CAUGHT on the Fly: There probably is no more incidence of vice here than in any other city this size in the country—it is just more publicized here. A flambouyant city demanding flambouyant news, it gets it—hence so much stress on sin in the public prints . . . Biggest crime problem at the moment has to do with the moving in here of racketeers from the East, notably from New York and Chicago. Efforts are being made by gangsters to take over and expand the gambling, dope-running and other kindred activities and with plenty of money to hire the right shysters, the invaders thus far have been able to fend off legal punishment for misdeeds . . . Next to New York, and Miami in the Winter, Los Angeles has more swank shops for both men and women than any other city in the land. Many of the stores may best be described as "scrumptuous." . . . Restaurants here are "growing up" with the rest of the town, too. The cuisine is varied and cafe trappings are very attractive. On "Restaurant Row," on La Cienega, you can eat in a room which has a growing lemon tree in the middle of it; in another place with growing flowers adjacent to your table; in still another place where the lights are so low you can't see to add up your check! Som fon, hey?

BY DREW PEARSON: WOULD-BE JUDGE EMBARRASSED BY GOP CAMPAIGN CONTRIBUTION

Goldsborough Makes Important Air Route Ruling

WASHINGTON—The battle over old-age pensions in the steel industry is being watched by several million people not only in other industries but especially in southern California and Florida where Dr. Townsend's old-age pension movement and the ham-and-eggers have been so strong.

PEARSON

Regardless of how the steel dispute comes out, more and more demands for old-age pensions will follow.

One little-realized fact in the steel dispute is that, during the President's fact-finding board hearings, CIO Chief Phil Murray appealed to the steel industry to settle the old-age pension issue by supporting the social security bill now before Congress. He said:

"Look here, you fellows, there's a bill before Congress right now calling for increased old-age pensions for everyone. Will you join me in supporting it?"

Murray's remark was addressed to Enders Voorhees and John Stephens, executives of U. S. Steel; to C. M. White of Republic Steel, A. B. Homer of Bethlehem, Ben Moreell of Jones-Laughlin and several others. However, he got no response. None offered to support the congressional bill for old-age pensions.

Murray's inference was that if Congress had handled the pension matter for everyone, his union would not need to threaten a strike. As it is, however, the unions with sufficient strike power, such as the coal miners, auto workers, steel workers, et al, can get pensions. But unskilled labor, farm labor, white-collar workers and oldsters who never belonged to unions will get second-rate pensions—or none.

Trygve Lie's English

Friends of U. N. Secretary General Trygve Lie explain privately why the jovial diplomat doesn't like to make public utterances in English. He is fearful of a faux pas. For example:

One day, in a conference with his U. N. staff, Lie was discussing the proposal to build a prayer room in the new U. N. headquarters. Some had suggested that it be called a temple of prayer.

"No," said Lie, "that sounds too formidable. Let's just call it a rest room."

CHARMING Dave Bazelon, assistant attorney general in charge of alien property, dropped in to see Paul Douglas, the hard-hitting senator from Illinois, to get his help in being made a judge on the U. S. Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia.

As Bazelon sat down he noticed on the senator's desk a clipping from a Chicago newspaper telling how Bazelon had contributed $200 to the campaign of G. O. P. Senator Curley Brooks, whom Douglas defeated.

"Perhaps that's not a very good introduction," remarked the red-faced Bazelon, referring to the clipping.

"I don't keep political books," replied the good-natured Douglas.

Bazelon's explanation is that Ed McGinnis, who was running Senator Brooks' re-election campaign, had persuaded him to make the $200 contribution. But this glosses over the fact that Douglas and Truman were running against uphill odds, were never expected to win, while Senator Brooks had all the power and money of the Chicago Tribune crowd behind him. In brief, Brooks was considered a sure bet, and the delightful Bazelon, though appointed to a job by Truman, was betting against him.

Trans-Atlantic Air Threatened

Judge T. Alan Goldsborough, who wasn't afraid to fine John L. Lewis, signed a little-noticed order last week which is diplomatic dynamite. He cast serious doubt on the State department's right to enter into agreements with other governments without ratification by the Senate.

Ruling that the Canadian-American air agreement may be illegal, Judge Goldsborough required the executive departments to define where the President's power of executing agreements ends and the Senate's right to ratify treaties begins.

Forty-nine senators have protested the Canadian agreement on air routes as a State department invasion of the Senate's ratification powers. Meanwhile Canada has put the State department on the spot by threatening to throw out every U. S. line from Gander airport in Newfoundland tomorrow (Sept. 30). Gander is the most important base on the trans-Atlantic hop, and the constitutional issue raised by Judge Goldsborough is probably the most important since the Dred Scott decision.

THE American embassy in Rome has informed Edda Ciano, Mussolini's daughter and widow of Italy's fascist foreign minister, that she can soon expect 30,000,000 lire from the U. S. A. The money is part of the royalties earned in the United States through the sale of Ciano's diaries. Secretary of the Treasury Snyder's office made the decision—believe it or not—on the grounds it can't be proved Edda was a fascist.

Robert Haggerty of Detroit will be the new director of census, and as such will dole out 150,000 jobs to find out how many people live in the United States in 1950 . . . Secretary of the Air Force Symington had a personal reason for snubbing the navy court that is investigating the B-36 smear. Under navy rules, Cedric Worth, who wrote the smear sheet attacking Symington, would have the right to cross-examine the witness. Rather than face Worth's questions, Symington ducked the hearing. (Feared he might lose his temper!) . . . One reason Democratic moguls have been worried about a steel strike is because it would cut off the sheet steel now desperately needed for new grain-storage bins in the farm belt. Democrats feel they won the election partly because of the grain-storage issue—and if they don't come through for the farmers it'll be bad news . . . President Truman is so pleased with the Democratic conferences in the midwest and far west that he is considering another in the deep south—now very hostile territory . . . Several Truman advisers are urging him to bring up the civil-rights bill just before Congress is supposed to adjourn, with the idea that this would keep southern congressmen filibustering until Christmas—when they might get tired and give in.

New Broadway Play Success Despite Panning By Critics

NOTES of an Innocent Bystander—The Broadway Lights: The Irving Berlin-Moss Hart-Robert Sherwood musical, "Miss Liberty" (which divided New York's 10 critics), has beaten the raps. Did $45,000 this week way above capacity, due to standees at every performance. It's the Truman of Show Business. Berlin's score sold 430,000 copies of sheet music to date . . . Vaudeville is now booking 100 theatres — coast-to-coast. Starting Thursday, the Palace bills will tour intact, starring Pat Rooney, Sr. now 70 years young . . . James Courtney, who replaced Steve Cochran as Mae West's leading man in "Diamond Lil," was a waiter in the Maxwell House java shop at 45th and Broadway a month ago . . . Comm. Murtagh, kho bludgeoned the ticket specs, now wants the Mayor to campaign for new fireproof theatres. Says not one new temple has been erected since 1930 . . . Two of the ticket brokers unlicensed by Murtagh simply moved across the Hudson, where they are operating in Jersey City. Need no license there and can charge what they please . . . There isn't a handful of new plays in rehearsal . . . Variety summed it expertly: "Angels now fear to tread on B'way" . . . Ashton Stevens' greeting card for Tennessee Williams' "Summer and Smoke," which opened in Chicago: "I doubt if the new season has in store a longer stretch from 8:30 to 11:15."

"Better Find Permanent Shelter, John!"

BY RUTH MILLETT: TO THE LADIES

The Feminine Viewpoint

IT looks as though we women may have over-estimated the advantages of "intuition."

According to a study made by Dr. Horace Gray, of the Stanford University School of Medicine, intuition may actually be a handicap in staying married.

MILLETT

Divorced people, Dr. Gray has observed, are more often intuitive than are the married or the widowed.

Come to think of it a woman often does employ her intuition to the end result of making herself unhappy.

It's intuition more often than a nosey neighbor that tells her her husband is interested in another woman.

It's intuition that all too often makes her get an unsatisfactory answer when she starts putting two and two together, like observing that her mate used to take her on business trips but hasn't asked her to go along lately. Therefore—says her intuition—he must be finding other feminine companionship while he's away from home.

• • •

POSSIBILITIES UNLIMITED

IT'S intuition that makes her think her husband doesn't love her as much as he used to because he is forgetful about kissing her goodby in the morning.

Her intuition may be correct or as wrong as the pre-election polls during the last presidential campaign. But if she uses it to get an unsatisfactory answer, then a woman is going to be unhappy and she may jump to conclusions so fast she lands herself in court asking for a quick divorce.

But intuition could help to make a marriage happier, if women worked it overtime to make themselves happier instead of to make themselves miserable.

If they put two and two together in order to find out what is wrong with them as wives instead of what's wrong with their husbands, intuition would be their friend.

But for some strange reason when a woman says: "I had a hunch"—her intuition is usually telling her something she isn't going to like. And chances are it is something about her husband, not about herself.

A small patch of silver lining: Following an atomic war, if one comes, there won't be any parking problems.

By Bennett Cerf

"Try And Stop Me"

THE MAJOR sports event of Barnard college is an annual hocus-pocus called "The Greek Games," wherein comely and thinly clad Barnard freshmen and sophomores cavort as charioteers, gladiators, Arabian steeds, and goddesses, and in general make fools of themselves for the edification of mystified parents and instructresses.

The "games" once precipitated a crisis in my own life. Years ago, when I was an editor of the Columbia Spectator, Barnard Dean Virginia Gildersleeve posted a stern edict that while Greek met Greek, no Columbia vulgarian was to be allowed on the premises. Through the friendly offices of a lovely maid named Marie, however, I was smuggled into one of the frolics, watched appreciatively while she pranced about in a flimsy and revealing wisp of purple gauze (she was playing the part of the ancient watchman of the sacred temple), and rushed back to the Spectator office to bang out a blow-by-blow description of the goings-on for the next morning's edition.

I thought my piece was reasonably funny. Dean Gildersleeve, unfortunately, did not. She came charging over to the Spectator office and delivered an address that shook the residence of Prexy Nicholas Murray Butler, several blocks away. For a brief spell, my college career trembled in the balance. I was saved by the late Dean Hawkes, who persuaded Miss Gildersleeve that nobody read Spectator anyhow.

BY ROBERT C. RUARK

Government Urged To Map Out Clear Plan For U. S. Defense

NEW YORK, Sept. 28 — The informal reaction to President Truman's proclamation about Russian possession of the atomic bomb, that I have encountered,, has been largely calm, and somewhat heavily mixed with relief. I have talked to no generals or physicists — merely to the people who would have to catch it if the Russians threw it —and they seem remarkably unhysterical about the whole thing.

RUARK

As a matter of fact there seems much less public hysteria about the A-bomb now than just after the war, when it was the No. 1 cocktail topic, and the ladies were muttering nobly about raising no children in such a doom-sure world. The fact that the Russians have it rather relieves the tension of waiting for the worst. It is roughly comparable to a childish expectation of a whipping, which turns out to be not so bad, after all.

A weekend has passed since Mr. Truman made his baleful announcement, and we still are not dead in our beds. The voices from on high have already begun to speak soothingly of the length of time it will take for the Soviets to stockpile enough of the big apples to mount an offensive with them. This estimation could be as wrong as the prediction that the Russians couldn't posibly find the combination before 1952, thereby setting us two years behind in our military program.

• • •

Theory Is Blasted

We now walk again into the popular theory, that since both sides have it neither will dare to use it, just as gas was not employed in the last war. We didn't use gas because it was largely impractical, not for any sentimental reasons about its horrid effect on its victims. It was tricky to control, its use made terrain inhospitable to advancing troops, and it was not devastating as a killer except under certain rare circumstance, such as touching off a gas-blast into a cave.

We encounter the hopeful thought that the futility of blasting cities on both sides would take some of the profit out of war; that it would be silly to polish off New York if our guys rubbed out Moscow in swift retaliation. We come to the ethical end; would the usually queasy United States willingly bomb Rome, London or Paris if the Russians took them over?

• • •

NONE of these approaches indicates a great deal of desire to bury the head under the pillows and kick and scream that the world is finished, with total destruction around the corner. Maybe we are becoming too skeptical of threat; maybe our fear reflexes have been blunted by a too-constant hammering from Washington. Maybe we will all be dead as door-nails in the near future, but the people I've met don't seem to be overly apprehensive about it.

It is possible that we have had the atom on our hands for sufficient length of time to rob it of its menace, like a tiger grown fat and slothful in his cage, and since we have not loosed the tiger, we lull ourselves with the idea that the Russian tiger is just as fat and just as lazy as ours. This feeling might place us all neck-deep in a slagpile, some day, but the feeling exists.

One thing President Truman's announcement has inspired is an impatience with the petty bickerings of the armed forces — forces which, in the four years of peace, seem farther away from unification than ever. The shoddy political squabbles in Washington, the naked animosities between the services, inspire little more than disgust today, if some sort of program must be solidified to meet whatever menace the Russian A-bomb holds for us.

• • •

Action Is Urged

I suppose it would be presumptuous for an ordinary citizen to call on his leaders to behave themselves, now; to quit politicking aimlessly over deep-freezes and anonymous letters and get back on the ball; to choose the best of plan and equipment and knock off grinding axes to suit the cause of selfish interest. I suppose that would be too much to demand of our elected peers and their appointed experts, but the wish to demand it is here.

We on the street cannot know if the Russians wish to use their bomb, or how long it will take them to prepare it in sufficient quantities for use. We have little faith in the United Nations' ability to control it. But we would like its menace either to be amply to met or prayerfully ignored —not a mixture of both, with futile fiddling and the shouts of doom intermingled with the whistles in the dark.

HOUSING FOR LAFB PERSONNEL

A good many Lubbock residents doubtless are in position to render an important community service, if they are so disposed.

The need for housing continues acute for many of the personnel of the recently reactivated Lubbock Air Force base. This is due primarily to two conditions: First, not enough places offered for renting; and, second, too many landlords who demand excessive rentals.

This problem might be eased, if not solved, if more people with quarters to rent at a reasonable figure will list their places at LAFB, telephone 3-1951, extension 144.

It might be the best answer to landlords who persist in trying to gouge for the people with more civic spirit to give preference to the needs of the personnel of a base which could mean a great deal to the future of Lubbock.

Student Faces Life Sentence

EVANSVILLE, Ind., Sept. 29 (AP) Richard Merle, 26, Evansville college student, faces a life sentence for the killing of his 35-year-old wife last May 28.

The sentence is mandatory under conviction of second degree murder returned by a Vanderburgh circuit court jury last night. Merle who was charged with first degree murder, is scheduled to be sentenced Monday.

Merle's wife, Helen, 1948 homecoming queen at Evansville college, was shot at the home of her parents as she was dressing to go to a dance. Merle, a junior at the college at the time, had been separated from his wife. Their two-year-old son, Daryl, witnessed the shooting.

Missionary Admits Indian Girls Were Whipped With Cord

DANIA, Fla., Sept. 29 (AP) — Three Seminole Indian girls on the Dania reservation were whipped "because they had been drunk and had otherwise misbehaved," a missionary reported.

Stanley Walker Smith, 38-year-old Creek Indian missionary, admitted yesterday he administered the whipping as a disciplinary measure. His son, Joseph, 19, was also similarly punished.

The girls were identified as Juanita Fewell, 23; Agnes Billie, 19, and Sadie Tommie, 17. They made a notarized statement that Smith whipped them with a light cord.

Tribe Approved

Smith said several members of the tribe approved his method of punishment.

The missionary denied charges he had converted to his own use money obtained by selling Seminole costumes and souvenirs.

Smith said he plans to hold Sunday services on the road outside the Indian camp. He was dismissed from his post by the Baptist home mission after the whipping incident was reported, but refuses to leave.

Fifty-three were returned upon instructions of next of kin residing in Texas, the Army department announced.

The Army also stated that each next of kin had been notified in advance of the arrival of the vessel and would be notified again after arrival of the bodies at the regional distribution centers of the American Graves Registration service.

Other war dead from the Panhandle-South Plains area returned to the United States aboard the transport, with next of kin as listed by the Army, were: Second Lt. Wesley M. Green, Air Force, Alvus V. Green of Wellington; and Pvt. Samuel L. Sheets, Air Force, Claude Sheets, Spearman.
