DEFICIT IS $66,677.73

McBroome Compiles Record Showing Big Corporations to Blame

The city of Wichita Falls is endeavoring to operate as a municipal corporation and is limited by charter requirements and low valuation assessments to the annual amount of $66,677.73, which is below actual running expenses, according to figures just compiled by City Clerk W. E. McBroome.

The city clerk in his compilation has made a complete investigation of the financial standing of every department of the city government. The data thus obtained is to be presented in an endeavor to try to get the city tax business under the Somer system of unit taxation. This system has been adopted by the larger progressive cities in all parts of the country, including a number of the leading cities of Texas.

Walter W. Pollock of Philadelphia, president of the Somer system of taxation company, will be in Wichita Falls next week. Arrangements were completed by Secretary McBroome whereby Pollock will address the state tax assessor's convention which will be in session here next week. Secretary McBroome has compiled data on the city departments which will be turned over to Pollock for inspection.

Data Reveals Finances

This data reveals much as to just what condition the city's finances are in at the present time. It also reveals just how much tax money the city is failing to get from the large corporations who have not been assessed correctly because of the present system.

"Lowest Valuation"

"Wichita Falls has the lowest valuation of any city its size in Texas. With $32,000,000 total assessed valuations for the city, it is even below a number of cities much smaller. For instance, Amarillo, half the size of Wichita Falls has $29,000,000 assessed valuation as compared to our valuation of $32,000,000," the city secretary said.

OFFICER ON WAY TO RIOT SCENE

By The Associated Press.

RALEIGH, N. C., Sept. 27.—Governor Cameron Morrison late this afternoon directed Adjutant General J. Van B. Metts to proceed to Spruce Pine in Mitchell county at once to handle a serious race situation which is reported to have arisen there as a result of an alleged assault on a white woman by a negro.

Reports received by the governor indicated that a concerted attempt is under way to drive all negro labor from the Spruce Pine section. The executive immediately wires authorities that he would afford the community protection and would see that rights of both races were protected.

The governor's telegram addressed to two officials of Spruce Pine and two citizens is as follows:

"Please call on local authorities to uphold the law and protect everybody in their rights, including the colored people. I am directing Adjutant General Metts to leave for Spruce Pine tonight. I will afford all protection the local authorities may require."

Find Torture Club In Ballard Mystery

Negro and Four White Boys Held in Jail, Stormed by Posse—Auto Not Yet Identified.

By The Associated Press.

WINFIELD, Texas, Sept. 27.—One negro and four white boys, the latter all members of prominent Mt. Pleasant families, were held in jail at Mt. Pleasant jail tonight, in connection with the slaying of Otis Ballard.

Ballard was killed about midnight Monday, according to the police. His body was dragged to a biding place for which the police and sheriff's departments are now searching near Mt. Pleasant.

A posse from the sheriff's department stormed the jail today and grilled the negro.

A long bludgeon, two feet long, with tacks on the end covered with blood and hair marked further development in the mystery day. Searchers found the death instrument in a clump of weeds. Near the bludgeon was a pool of blood and more hair.

The last seen of the slain youth was at 10 o'clock Monday night at a school house in Mt. Pleasant. An automobile, driven and occupied by persons not yet identified, was seen to rush away from the school house about 10:30 o'clock. The next day school children found a pool of blood on the school grounds. A blood trail led to a spot about 300 yards away where automobile tire tracks were plainly visible.

POLICE HAVE SECOND PONZI

Brilliant Financier Lands In Jail

Another Ponzi started out on a high finance scheme in Wichita Falls yesterday and if Police Chief Hodgins had not interferred would have probably made a name for himself.

The man came from Dallas Wednesday night and had a 15-year-old boy with him.

Bright and early Thursday morning the capitalist started out to throw conternation in Wichita Falls business circles.

Going to a ment market first, the financier said, "It's only fair to tell you I'm starting a chain of meat market here in Wichita Falls. Do you want to sell or do you want to try to compete with me? I advise you to sell and maybe I can give you a job in one of the stores." He inventoried the stock in a business way with his eyes.

The market man didn't know what to think. He said he might sell out. "How much do you want?" An offer was made. "Sold," the capitalist said without questioning. "I'll just send a wire to my Dallas office for funds," the man said and sent for a messenger.

Throughout the morning the man went into grocery stores and meat markets, making offers, closing deals, and wiring his "Dallas office." "I hear this Piggly-Wiggly crowd has a good string of stores. I am going to make that bunch sick and run 'em out of business with my grocery chain," the financier saids.

He worked fast.

Chief Hodgins got dozens of telephone calls from business men, telling him to find this business plunger. Following close on the man all morning, the financier was not located until noon. He was trying to buy the store building where the Dixie Tire service is located. He wanted to put one of his chain stores in there, he was saying when Police officers arrested him.

The man kept up his jaunty air on the way to the police station. "That's alright I have a little money, $500 or so, on me. That'll pay me out alright," Ponzi the second said impatiently.

At the police station the chain store magnate was searched. He had not a dime. The 15-year-old boy who came here with the man, said the fellow had picked him up at Dallas and brought him over to run one of his chain stores.

Police are not decided just what to do with the capitalist they are now entertaining.

MAY RECONVENE HENRIETTA JURY

District Judge May Do So Because of Sudduth Murder Case.

Special to The Record News.

HENRIETTA, Sept. 27.—Speculation is current as to whether the grand jury for the Ninety-seventh district court now in session will be reconvened to consider the case of C. F. Kinnamon, who was bound over without bond at the preliminary hearing last Tuesday in connection with the fatal shooting of Frank Sudduth last Sept. 16.

County Attorney Vincent Stine is said to take the position that the reconvening of the grand jury is unnecessary to consider Kinnamon's case, as it would involve needless expense to the county. The county attorneys said that should the grand jury reconvene and indict Kinnamon the trial could not be held until the next term of court, sometime in December.

District Judge Paul Donald is said to be seriously considering re-convening the grand jury as so many persons have questioned him regarding the case. The district judge is said to have the power to call the grand jury back and let it consider this particular case. That article 423 of the state code of criminal procedure gives a district judge power to reconvene a grand jury at any time during the term of court in which the grand jury was originally called, is pointed out by those desiring the recall of the jurors.

Whether Judge Paul Donald will be governed by the attitude of the county attorney in the matter or will call the grand jury within the next few days, is the latest development in the case.

ATTAINS SPEED OF 230 MILES PER

By The Associated Press.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Sept. 27.—The first test by an army entrant in the international air races here next week shattered by twenty five miles an hour the mark set by Lieutenant R. L. Maughan, winner of the Pulitizer trophy at Detroit last year, when Lieutenant Alexander Pearson attained a speed of more than 230 miles an hour in a trial flight this afternoon.

Due to the inclement weather Lieutenant Pearson was the only flier to attempt a practice flight.

The speed attained by Lieutenant Pearson, air officials declared, indicated that a record of better than four miles a minute may be expected during the coming week.

SITUATION NOW UNCERTAIN ONE

Stresemann and Bavaria Both Proclaim State of Emergency

By The Associated Press.

BERLIN, Sept. 27.—A state of emergency has been proclaimed by both the Stresemann government and the Bavarian government presided over by Premier Von Knilling, and for the moment the situation in Germany is a complicated and uncertain one.

No indication is manifested around government quarters tonight, however, to take an unduly tragic view of the turn of affairs created by the latest exchange of amenities between Berlin and Munich and the appointment as dictator in Bavaria of Dr Von Kahr, who during his days as premier of that state, was the especial bane of the Berlin chancellor.

Although Stresemann and his assistants were visibly nettled at the precipate manner in which the Bavarian action was carried out, the Berlin government heads tonight professed the belief that they once more have become the victims of Bavarian "idiosyncrasies" and seemingly realize their own inability correctly to appraise Munich psychology despite their past experience with Bavarian diplomacy.

The talk of revolt and secession by Bavaria is scouted in official circles in Berlin, where the impression is given that the two governments are in complete accord with respect to common aims and that their proclamations in no way collide. At the chancellory it was stated that Herr Stresemann was convinced that Premier Von Knilling was sincerely desirous of co-operation with the cen-

Slain Egyptian's French Wife Cleared Of Murder In London

Mme. Marie Marguerite Fahmy

By Central Press.

LONDON, Sept. 27.—Mme. Marie Marguerite Fahmy today is trying to forget.

It is all like a nightmare to her now. That death-chilling oath on the Koran. The struggle. The killing. The agonizing suspense.

Women have been executed in England for murder.

But madame was beautiful, French and temperamental and the British jury without much ado acquitted her of the charge of murdering her young husband, Ali Kemal Fahmy Bey, a descendant of the pharaohs.

Now the past is but a dream.

Once more a free woman, Mme. Fahmy is trying to forget the sordid days of her past.

Madame succumbed to the ardent wooing of the hot-blooded young Egyptian and they were married in Cairo. But almost immediately she recognized that east was east and west was west and storms continually hovered over the horizon of her married life.

There were quarrels, angry words and mistreatment and once in a fit of rage her swarthy husband laid his hand on the Koran and swore to kill her with his own hand.

Some days later attendants in the Savoy hotel here found his body in the Fahmy suite after the beautiful French girl had fled—shrieking down the corridor.

He was dead. A bullet wound and a pistol told the mute story. Madame was arrested. Charged with murder. Tried.

With her life at stake she told how to scare him when he attempted to beat her she grabbed the pistol and in the struggle accidentally shot her husband.

The jury said "not guilty."

COLORADO, Texas, Sept. 27. A collection of whiskies consisting of Scotch, cognac, and other high grade bottled in bond varieties, totalling 230 quarts, were removed from a new sport model car today and L. W. Foreman, of Tulsa, Oklahoma, was placed under arrest.

SPECIAL SESSION INEVITABLE—THOMAS

AUSTIN, Texas, Sept. 27.—"A special session of the legislature is inevitable," State Senator J. W. Thomas of Bell county declared here Tuesday.

"The first of the new year would be the logical time for this session," Senator Thomas said further.

There are numerous matters including further tax bills, requiring legislation," he said. "The session should be held before state campaigns reach the primary elections, he declared.

Unless a session be held before July, little good could be accomplished over waiting until the regular session, January, 1923, he said.

All senators will be making campaigns next summer instead of the usual one-half the number, owing to effectiveness of the senatorial redistricting law, it was pointed out. Candidates for all state offices, and for the 150 places in the lower house of legislature, will be making races, so that a session very much after the first of the year, but ahead of the election, would seriously interfere with races of present office-holders for re election.

War Between Governor and Legislature Passed to Courts

LEGISLATORS LEAVING

Sign Pledge to Return If Court Gives the Authority

By The Associated Press.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 27.—Troops of the Oklahoma national guards were ordered into Murray county tonight by Governor J. C. Walton, in response to an appeal from citizens of Sulphur who charged local authorities with neglect in apprehending the perpetrators of numerous mob outrages there recently.

"Under the present reign of ku klux klan officers in this county, conditions are deplorable and are becoming worse," the governor was told by the committee from Sulphur, which included Scott Ferris, nephew of former Congressman Scott Ferris of Oklahoma, and the mayor of the town.

"Persons who are not members of the ku klux klan," they declared, "are totally unsafe in person and property and unless relief is accorded us and martial law is established in this county there will be trouble and possibly bloodshed."

Acts Of Violence

The petitioners in a written statement to Governor Walton, detailed several acts of violence in the county and said numerous threatening letters had been received by citizens, but that officers have done nothing.

They declared that the editors of the Sulphur Democrat had been threatened with personal violence by the sheriff for publishing articles relating to the latter's office; and that the governor and numbers of citizens had been labelled by an anonymous circular distributed recently throughout the county "by parties well known and confessed ku klux klansmen."

Prosecutions of numerous crimes cannot be made, they asserted, because they have been committed by members of the klan.

Military Court

Governor Walton said a military court would be set up at once to investigate the charges. He added that he would request Representative Murray Gibbons, speaker of the house of the ninth legislature, to direct the inquiry.

Questioned as to speaker's eligibility as a citizen to sit with the military court, the governor pointed out that "he easily can be made a member of the national guard."

Murray county is in the southern part of the state.

War Into Courts

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Sept. 27. The protechnics that have kept Oklahoma aflame since Governor J. C. Walton opened his war on the ku klux klan, and state legislators in turn instituted a drive to impeach the executive, began to fade out tonight with a long dull court battle in prospect.

The first move to test in the courts the legality of the special session of the lower house of the legislature called by members who hold it is their right to investigate the official acts of Governor Walton, was taken in state district court here late today. Sixty seven house members applied for a temporary injunction restraining Adjutant General B. H. Markham and all members of the Oklahoma national guard from interfering with meetings of the house.

No order was issued by the court during the brief proceedings and by agreement of all parties, hearing on the petition was set for next Tuesday before Judge J. I. Phelps.

Meanwhile the house members who gathered here yesterday and attempted to convene, only to be dispersed by military authorities acting under instructions from the governor, began

ELECTRA'S FAIR GREAT SUCCESS

Was Larger Than Last Year With Bigger Crowds In Attendance

Special to The Record News.

ELECTRA, Texas, Sept. 27.—The second community fair came to a fitting close Thursday evening with the final awarding of prizes to the winners for the different exhibits. The fair this year was much larger than last year with bigger crowds in attendance. A much wider interest has been shown this year by the farmers, public and local business men—all of which resulted in a better fair.

The fair committee consisting of Clyde Orr as chairman, S. B. Merchant and Earl Hembry, with the assistance of the chamber of commerce, were responsible to some extent for the success and good showing of the fair. All of the department superintendents have been of inestimable value in arranging the displays. And all of the committees have been helped by Miss Lansford and Jury R. Jones of Wichita Falls.

Near the entrance of the fair was a booth for the display of the women's department, consisting of canned fruits and vegetables of all kinds, fancy needle work and home-made clothing. This display was presided over by the different department superintendents. Mrs. O. A. Wittenbach was superintendent of the textile department, Mrs. N. D. Cooper in charge of the canning, Mrs. Grace Jennings superintendent of the culinary department, Mrs. T. M. McClendon superintendent of the home-made conveniences and Mrs. George McCann was in charge of the fine arts.

The girls' club had a display which was similar to the women's department. Mrs. Georgia Lansford directed and supervised the work in this department.

An exceptionally large display of poultry was on exhibit under the supervision of H. C. Obanhain. Chickens of all kinds, turkeys, ducks, geese and pigeons. In one pen there were a couple of wild geese and several wild ducks.

A number of beautiful horses were on display. The superintendent of this department was N. D. Cooper.

A representative display of excellent milch cows was shown by a number of exhibitors. The X. J. A. Lee Whey dairy and the North Side dairy had a large display of dairy cows. This department was under the direction of J. A. Bradley and A. L. Robb.

J. C. Guyer was in charge of the hogs. Quite a number of exhibitors were showing their hogs. One boar in particular, owned by Asa Boaz, was the occasion of much interest. The hog weighs 900 pounds, is 21 months old and is still growing. J. C. Guyer of Harrold had several pens of the big type Poland China pigs.

At the agricultural display there were some huge watermelons, a fine assortment of cotton, corn, alfalfa, grains, tomatoes and many other products.

Following the fair, the committee issued a bulletin thanking those who had worked to make the fair a success and with the promise to make the fair next fall a still bigger and better fair. Exhibitors have been requested to take their exhibits to the Texas-Oklahoma fair which will be held in Wichita Falls next week. Electrans last year were successful in winning a number of first prizes there.

SITUATION NOW

tral government in the present perturbed internal situation, but the Bavarian premier, naturally was forced to take full cognizance of the conflicting currents which complicate the Bavarian situation and which in no event could be controlled by the Berlin government.

The central government's proclamation takes precedent over the Bavarian manifesto and also establishes that General Von Lossow, of the Reichswehr, who has been apointed military commander in Bavaria has superior authority to Von Kahr, in that he reports Dr. Gessler, who has been virtually created military director for all Germany by the terms of the government's proclamation.

There are about twelve thousand government troops permanently garrisoned in Bavaria, and they are the immediate disposal of Von Lossow and Von Kahr. They are augmented by the Bavarian police, and it is believed these can be relied upon in an acute emergency.

The chancellor has notified the entente of the government's decision to cease passive resistance in the Ruhr and the Rhineland, and a special number of the gazette is published rescinding all passive resistance orders.

BERLIN, Sept. 27.—One man was killed and 25 injured, 14 fatally, Wednesday night at Nuremberg, when fire, between the nationalists and workmen. The police were forced to intervene to put down the disorder.

PARIS, Sept. 27.—All orders and regulations issued by the allied authorities in the Ruhr will be maintained, it was said in official circles tonight, until the situation in Germany clears and it becomes known to just what extent the passive resistance has ceased in consequence of President Ebert's proclamation. Today's disquieting flop Berlin gave no basis for any conclusion as to what turn events may take, and the allies can only continue to wait and watch.

Former Chancellor Cuno's reparation offers are regarded by the allies as having been superceded by the later developments. It is learned, and the Germans will be expected to make entirely new proposals. If they decide to do so, then the allies are ready to turn the reparations clock back to January 11, and consider the whole situation anew, provided they are assured earnest co-operation from the German government.

BERLIN, Sept. 27.—Chancellor Stresemann this evening notified the entente ambassadors of the German government's decision to cease passive resistance in the Ruhr and the Rhineland.

The chancellor received the representatives of the entente and discussed the political situation with them. He informed them of the German government's intention to cancel the ordinances relating to passive resistance. Semi-officially, it is announced this will be done tonight.

The German minister for the occupied territory has been instructed by the government to take all necessary measures in the new situation, and he will accordingly represent the government in all negotiations.

DUESSELDORF, Sept. 27—A Berlin dispatch received here announces that the German government has issued orders to the officials in the Ruhr to resume work and cease passive resistance.

A pledge was signed by the legislators that should the courts finally decide they have authority to meet as an impeachment body, they will convene at any time upon call of representative W. D. McBee of Stephens county, one of the leaders of the "rebel" legislators.

No further attempt will be made to convene, it was agreed, until the issue is decided in the state supreme court and then remains the possibility that the case will go through the long stages of final examination in the United States supreme court, a temporary injunction if granted by the district court will not be made the basis for another attempt to assemble, the legislators decided.

Walton Satisfied.

Expressing satisfaction with the situation, Governor Walton declared today "the fight is over so far as the house is concerned." The executive will be represented in the action by Attorney General Short and his assistants.

There were indications tonight that within the next few days the governor would modify his martial law regulations and refire the greater part of the troops now mobilized.

No relaxation in the investigation into cases of mob violence will follow, however, it was made plain.

Demurrer Filed.

A demurrer to the petition was filed by the attorney general to which attorneys for Sheriff Sanford are given an opportunity to make a reply. Oral argument was set for Friday, October 5.

The action was filed by Sheriff Sanford immediately after the supreme court granted his application to institute the proceedings. The sheriff asked leave to file the suit in the high court on the ground that the issue would prove embarrassing to Tulsa county court in view of the martial law situation there. The attorney general's department agreed to the proposal.

68 Signed.

Sixty-eight members of the house, more than a majority, were named in the petition as plaintiffs.

Attorney General George H. Short for the state waived the summons on record. Charles E. McPherren, state senator, appeared for the legislators.

Hearing was set for Tuesday at 9 o'clock.

The petition prayed the court to grant a temporary injunction pending a final hearing to prevent B. H. Markham or his successor, and each officer and enlisted man, under his command and their successors from interferring with the plaintiffs as members of the house of representatives in assemblage" and to prevent the military "from dispersing them when assembled."

PANTHERS OFF FOR THIRD OF SERIES

FORT WORTH, Sept. 27.—Confident of winning the Dixie championship before they return to Fort Worth, members of the Fort Worth baseball club, champions of the Texas league, occupied a special car on a special train of 14 cars which departed at 5 o'clock this afternoon for New Orleans, where they will play the third game of the series with the New Orleans Pelicans, winners of the Southern Association championship, next Saturday.

Two special trains carrying Fort Worth fans pulled out of the station amid cheers of thousands unable to attend the New Orleans games. The New Orleans team, with several hundred fans from the place, left for the Crescent City this morning on special trains. Each team has won one game and the manager of each team is confident of victory.

JUVENILE PARADE TO BE IMMENSE

"Entries for the children's parade the opening day of the fair are assuming imense proportions," stated Mrs. Homer McGregor, chairman, Thursday. "Great interest is being shown and the numbers are growing."

Entries may be made as late as Saturday afternoon, according to Mrs. McGregor. Saturday there will be a committee to take the children's name at Wilford Harrison's drug store.

The children are asked by the committee to be at the fair grounds at 10 o'clock Monday morning for the parade begins at 10:30. All particulars in regard to the parade will be given in the Sunday issue of the paper.

ADD BATTLE ROYAL TO LEGION PROGRAM

A battle royal has been added to the attractive scrap program to be held at Legion arena Saturday night, it was announced by officials last night.

The bill will be a feature in itself from start to finish, is the boast of those in charge. Not only will Joe Furguson of Amarillo and Battling Simmons of Henrietta furnish with Speedy Binyon and Country Boy Lance the double final, but Soldier Guy Williams and Duke Lionel will do a semi-final worth it. Other additions to the go are expected.

It's all a matter of taste

A MAN can kiss a cow if he wants to—after all it's nobody's business but his own.

A man can use valve cups, that fail to deliver the goods, year after year—his own pocketbook is the one that suffers.

For 15 years oil men everywhere have known the name Darcova as a mark of the valve cup that wears longer and pumps more oil.

Those who buy valve cups with the ultimate cost in view are boosters of Darcova. Those who prefer to save a few cents at the time of buying and waste labor, oil and money at the time of using, are satisfied with substitutes.

It's all a matter of taste.

Interest Strong In World Series

By The Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Sept. 27.—Interest in the coming world's series has not slackened because of the prospects that the same teams, the New York Yankees and Giants, will battle for baseball supremacy for the third successive year, if advance ticket applications pouring into the offices of both clubs can be taken as proof. Executives of both organizations said today they were being flooded by requests for seats from all parts of the country.

The Yankees, American league champions, having won the right to open the series at their new stadium, already have tackled the task of filling orders. They are being taken on the basis of games one, three and five, providing the Giants capture the National league flag and for games one, two and five, in the event that Cincinnati lands the rival league pennant. According to Edward G. Barrow, business manager for the club, orders for boxes so far have exceeded the number available.

Montgomery-Bonner Wedding Solemnized

One of the most prominent and well as one of the most beautiful weddings of the early fall was that of Miss Louise Montgomery, daughter of Judge and Mrs. J. T. Montgomery, to Stayton Bonner, the ceremony taking place at the First Presbyterian church Thursday evening at 9 o'clock, Dr. N. F. Grafton, the pastor officiating.

A large assemblage of friends and relatives witnesses the ceremony which was of a picturesque character the mid-victorian style being featured in the costumes of the maids, matrons, and small girls of the wedding party and the pink and orchid colors.

The dignified interior of the church was charmingly decorated in myriads of pink and orchid blossoms entwined with greenery and strings of southern smilax with an improvised altar formed of flowers surrounded with baskets of pink roses and orchids, the handles tied with tulle. Streamers of satin ribbon marked pews for the relatives and intimate friends.

The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a handsome imported hand-made wedding gown a Reeve's model of white princess crepe trimmed with rhinestones and crystal beads. The skirt made in tiers with court train of the princess crepe. She also wore a veil of tulle caught with a pearl bead band and carried a shower bouquet of orchids and lillies-of-the-valley.

Matrons and Maids.

Mrs. Landon H. Cullum, was matron of honor and wore a gown of orchid chiffon over silver cloth with trimmings of cream lace and silver slippers. As did all the maids and matrons, Mrs. Cullum also wore a French flower bracelet and carried an arm wreath.

Other matrons were Mesdames Leslie Stringer, Charles J. Francis, Alfred Miller and John Z. Martin of Breckenridge and maids were Misses Thelma Kahn, Annette Walsh and Hallie Madde Neff of Austin. Both the maids and matrons carried out the mid-victorian idea in their gowns with long tight waists with rosettes and full draped skirts made in the lovely pastel shades of pink and orchid of fluffy chiffon and sheer crepe chiffons over gold and silver cloth and slippers in the metal cloth. Each wore French flower bracelets and carried garlands of flowers over one arm.

Preceding the bride were her small flower girls little Misses Olive Daugherty, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Daugherty, and Ona Bell Britain, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Britain. Both wore the orchid and pink georgette frocks over silver cloth, with trimmings of silver taffeta ribbon and lace made in the mid-victorian style. Little Miss Martha Britain also wearing a frock of the chosen style was the train bearer. All wore wreaths of ribbon around their heads.

Best Man and Ushers.

Mr. Bonner had for his best man, his brother-in-law, M. T. Chamberlain, and ushers were Messrs. Aiken Montgomery, C. J. Norton, Peery Hancock, Landon H. Cullum, Leslie Stringer, Charles L. Francis and Alfred Miller.

A delightful musical program preceed the ceremony in which Mrs. T. B. Greenwood gave as a violin number, "Meditation," from Thais and Mrs. Luella B. Thompson sang "Believe Me If Those Endearing Young Charms," and Guonod's "Ava Maria," the latter with violin obligato by Mrs. Greenwood. Mrs. O. E. Mehr played all organ accompaniments and a musical program, also the wedding marches.

The bride who is one of Wichita Fall's most charming girls is also a member of one of the oldest and most prominent local families. After completing the high school she finished at Ward-Belmont and later received her A. B. degree at State university. She then took special work in costume designing in New York City and while there took an extensive trip to South America. She is one of the most attractive members of the younger social set.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Bonner, a prominent family and is one of the city's most promising young business men. He is president of the Boncil Oil company and previous to the wedding erected a lovely colonial brick cottage at 1506 Hays street for his bride.

After the ceremony a delightful informal reception was given at the home of the bride's parents on Buchanan street. Out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Bonner of Houston Miss Henrietta Lightfoot of Austin Mrs. Edgar Schumate of Dallas, Miss Hallie Maude Neff of Austin, Mrs. John Z. Martin of Breckenridge and R. M. Darnell of Tulsa, Oklahoma.

Mr. and Mrs. Bonner left after the reception for a wedding tour and will be at home at 1506 Hays street.

For her going away gown, Mrs. Bonner wore a handsome brown satin tailored one-piece dress with brown hat trimmed in ostrich plume and brown fox fur and shoes and gloves to harmonize.

Pre-nuptial Suppers.

Among the many lovely pre-nuptial events given for Miss Montgomery, none proved more unique or delightful than the buffet supper at the palatial new home of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Britain Wednesday evening following the rehearsal of the wedding party at the church.

The chosen color scheme for the wedding, orchid and pink was carried out in the floral decorations while the dining table was most uniquely centered with a mirrow on which appeared a sail boat bearing a bride and groom carrying out the idea "embarking on the sea of matrimony" this was surrounded by a miniature wedding party, and the scene was made more impressive by being lighted by the soft glow of many candles. Two lovely birds perched on the door sill while Mr. Britain read original wishes brought by the guests before pasting them in a bride's book the gift from Mr. and Mrs. Britain to the bride and groom. Mr. Britain after reading the verses gave a delightful informal talk, reminiscences of incidents in the life of the bride whom he has known from infancy. Bruce Greenwood toasted the bride and Mrs. T. B. Greenwood and Mrs. Alfred Miller gave a violin number.

Plate luncheS were enjoyed on the lawn and porches and the guests included all who were in anyway connected with the wedding.

At the rehearsal which preceded the supper, Miss Montgomery remembered her maids and matrons with lovely little sautoir necklaces and to Mrs. Landon H. Cullum she presented a string of pearls. The little girls in the party received colorful fountain pens and the musicians, dainty manicure sets. Mr. Bonner presented his best man and ushers with handsome seal leather bill folders.

B. O. P. Class With Mrs. Olen Berry.

Members of the B. O. P. class of the Floral Heights Methodist church, enjoyed a delightful meeting at the home of Mrs. J. W. Murph on Grant street Thursday afternoon with Mrs. Glen Berry, Mrs. James Elliott, J. W. Murph and Miss Kerns, joint hostesses.

The house was prettily decorated in cut flowers and tables were arranged for "42."

A dainty ice course was served at the close of the afternoon to Mesdames Pat Jarrett, Paul Cotner, T. R. Millican, J. B. Ferguson, J. B. Reighard, P. S. Richardson, Jasper V. Beverly, Hugh Cotner, Hal Yeager, Paul Hawthorn, Houston Cowden, K. C. Spell, Wigley, C. C. Parfet, F. L. Bronson, Frank Shackelford, Ernest Archambeu and Louis DeMont.

WELFARE COUNCIL AHEAD OF BUDGET

That the organization members of the Municipal Welfare council, have stayed within their budgets with probably a balance on hand at the end of the fiscal year was brought out in the first meeting of the council since June in the city hall yesterday morning. All members had representatives present, who reported on conditions through the summer.

Mrs. H. E. Gorsline, secretary, stated that all the pledges had not been paid and that the member organizations would not receive their full quotas until such had been done. She urged that all people making pledges pay as soon as convenient.

The following are member organizations: Y. W. C. A., Red Cross, Day Nursery, Texas Children's Home, and Aid Society, Boy Scouts, American Legion and the Salvation Army. Mayor Frank Collier presided at the meeting.

It Was Realistic.

And there is more than one way of taking snuff, as Bowditch "Smoke" Turner will likewise testify.

Mr. Turner was being initiated into the intricacies of this archaic art for his portrayal of Le Chapeler in "Scaramouche," Rex Ingram's Metro picturization of Rafael Sabatini's romance of the French revolution.

Now, "Smoke" has no fondness for tobacco, whether in or out of cigarette paper, and he decided to use a brown powder substitute. When all was in readiness the director requested that "Smoke" allow the property man to take his snuff box. Under the guise of wishing to put some more of the powder into it Ingram secretly instructed the helper to substitute real snuff.

With the camera grinding and blissfully ignorant of what he was about to experience "Smoke" raised to his nose a plentiful supply of the contents on his fingernail and inhaled it with great gusto.

The resulting facial expressions and the accompanying sneeze were just what Mr. Ingram desired.

"Scaramouche," coming here in the early winter, is a Rex Ingram production for Metro, by arrangement with Charles L. Wagner. Willis Goldbeck made the screen adaptation. The cast numbers 10,000, with 30 principal players, headed by Ramon Navarro, Alice erry and Lewis Stone.

Japs Turn To Movies.

In the hour of their distress the Japanese are to use motion pictures to preserve their morale and turn their thoughts from the devastation caused by the earthquake.

Tom D. Cochrane, Paramount branch manager in Tokio, has wired the home office to the effect that he understands that one of the first acts of the Japanese government in the devasted areas will be to erect motion picture theatres.

"Motion pictures," he wires, "are expected to carry a great part of the burden of keeping up the morale of the people."

The Famous Players-Lasky offices in Tokyo were totally destroyed and Mr. Cochrane has set up new headquarters in Kobe. He has already cabled for large numbers of prints to take the place of the film destroyed.

Studio Stuff.

Buster Keaton's scenario staff dug down into a lot of historic data about the first American railroad train. The information was for use in Buster's forthcoming full length feature comedy, "Hospitality," which deals with the building of the first American railroad in 1830.

"On the first train," says Buster, "the conductor was called a 'captain.' The captain sat at the end of the train and communicated with the engineer by a string running forward into the engine and tied to a piece of wood. When the captain pulled the string the wood fell at the engineer's feet. The engineer, however, served warning that he would not heed the signal. On the first run the captain pulled the string, but the engineer kept right on. The captain crawled forward and ordered him to stop.

"'I'm running this train and I'm not going to take orders from nobody' said the engineer.

"They decided then to use their fists. The engineer stopped and they climbed down and went to it. he captain won. After that the engineer obeyed when he pulled the string. And that's why conductors and not engineers direct the starting and stopping of trains today."

Viola Dana who is now at work on her latest picture "In Search of a Thrill" when on an eastern visit recently had occasion to visit one of the outlying villages of New York. She travelled by way of one of the well known eastern railroads whose main station is in New Jersey. The train made innumerable stops at small box like stations.

"A few nails and a box"—said Miss Dana's companion, "that's the way this railroad builds it stations. There are hundreds of them like this all along their roads."

Barbara La Marr who appears in "The Eternal Struggle," Reginald Barker's recently completed, Metro-Louis B. Mayer production is fond of relating the following story.

"My little adopted son has an ardent admirer named Frances, who is several years his senior and still uses "baby talk." One afternoon when it was raining, she decided she wanted to come over to play with him. Her mother refused to let her out in the rain. She began to cry bitterly, and repeated over and over again—"I want my Suzanne." That was all that could be understood. Frances' mother knew all her playmates and wondered who Suzanne could possibly be. The little girl was finally quieted long enough to be asked who Suzanne was. She answered with the tears streaming down her face—'My suze and stockings, of course!'"

Among the persistent pests that haunt the film studios in Hollywood is the "would-be" scenarist. Their numbers are legion and each is a familiar figure on every lot on the west coast. Latterly one young man attached himself to the unit engaged in filming "Long Live the King," Jackie Coogan's first Metro picture. His intrusion was irritating but Victor Schertzinger, the director, permitted him to remain.

One day he sidled up to Jackie, who was resting near a huge bronze "prop" stove on the set. Wishing to enter the good graces of the young star, the pest pointed to the stove and, said patronizingly: "Isn't that a nice big stove? Now, what do you suppose they burn in it?"

The pest disappeared soon after!

"To be a director and instruct inexperienced 'extras' in their scenes is usually amusing," says Edward Sloman, director of the Metro Premier feature, "The Eagle's Feather."

"One afternoon a movie cowboy who had a small part with a wild bull appeared on the lot, and under his tan make-up I thought I saw signs of pallor. I disregarded this suspicious sign and explained the way the scene was to be shot.

"'Now the bull chases you for 50 feet, and then you turn to the right and stop suddenly,' I said. 'He chases you for about 50 feet—do you understand.'

"'Oh, I understand all right,' was the hoarse reply, 'but does the bull understand?'"

ROTARIANS HOLD A FAIR CONFAB

Shepherd Estimates 200,000 Will Come—Parade Discussed

Approximately 200,000 people will attend the Texas-Oklahoma fair this year, stated assistant secretary of the fair association, R. E. Shepherd before the Rotarian club at the Kemp yesterday noon. The entire program for the day was given over to reports from the chairmen of the several departments of the fair, Mr. Shepherd presiding.

The children's pageant, which will open the fair Monday morning, was discussed by Ed Goodner, head of this department. Led by Herman Staton, the boy mayor of Wichita Falls for that day, the procession will pass before the grandstand with the mayor's cabinet accompanying. Admission to this event will be free.

The coronation pageant, crowning social event of the fair, will take place Monday evening at 8:30 o'clock in Maskat temple, it was announced by George Gutsman.

R. H. Henry of Burkburnett, told of the preparations for the school exhibits from northwest Texas and southern Oklahoma. "He stated that 25,000 tickets have been sent out to school children for that day.

Livestock and poultry exhibits promise to be the greatest yet, according to President George Keith of the fair association and Mr. Shepherd. Over a thousand entries have already been made.

Entertainment features were introduced with "The Old Gray Mare" in honor of R. Wright Armstrong, leader of that famous band from Brownwood and secretary of the chamber of commerce there. Captain Armstrong was introduced by Mr. Shepherd. The races, fireworks, vaudeville, football games et al were sketched.

President Walter Cline commended his fellow Rotarians for their active aid to the fair and L. L. Albritton of the Wichita Traction company, for extending the street car lines to the fair grounds. Mr. Albritton received a round of applause when he announced that all school children would be taken free on the line from 8 to 1 o'clock Monday morning.

Today's Poem

IN THE AMPHITHEATRE OF LIFE.

Relinquishment.

You could not love me
I, who loved you so, knew the soul
Oof you as a crystal prism,
Radiating to a slumbering me,
Scintillating rainbow hues
Of gleaming lights and restful shadows.
To have imprisoned you in my
Darkened heart would have been
The extinction of glimmering sunlight.

The joy of your heart lay in
A freedom from my possessing love.
In torturing anguish I struggled
Between a love of self, which wanted
You, and a love of you,
Which wanted, your happiness.
In loving you beyond my own desires
I learned the meaning and earned
The blessings of relinquishment.
In losing you I gained you
For the nature and essence,
Of the real you, I found to be
An inexhaustible supply of which
There is no impoverishment either
In the giving or taking thereof.

You were like a mirror.
In which I saw reflected, an image
Of the possibility of my own soul.
In glimpsing the inner you
I awakened to consciousness the seed
Of the same beauty ofspirit in me.
That was the secret
Of my love for you.
But in possessing a thing
We feel no necessity to Become the thing we love.
That is why relinquishment meted
A fuller measure than would have
The realization of possessing you.
For in reality we possess
Nothing. We only have what we are.

FUNNY SIDE OF POLITICS.

Former Vice President Thomas Riley Marshall in a recent communication declared that there is always a funny side to American politics and the funny side of today is the political combination "between laboring men who are insulted at less than a dollar an hour as their wage and farmers who are raising wheat at one dollar a bushel."

In the good old days when the farmer was raising wheat at fifty cents a bushel the laborer was receiving for his toil fifty per cent less than he is today. Cheap labor would not create high prices for farm products.

China has the cheapest labor to be found in the world. There are four hundreds of millions of workers in China and they go in rags from cradles to the grave. They live in huts. India is another cheap labor country. There are three hundred millions of toilers in that historic land who are worthless to the producers of the western hemisphere.

They are worthless to the grower of wheat, the grower of cotton, the grower of corn or the manufacturer of the finished product.

Mexico has its peon population. Not many years ago thirty cents a day was a fair wage for a peon toiler. Now what could he buy for thirty cents a day? Senator W. E. Borah of Idaho says the consumer paid for the farm crops of 1922, omitting tobacco, cotton and animals, $22,500,000,000. Of this amount the senator says the farmer received only $7,500,000,000; the railroads for carrying received $500,000,000 and $14,500,000,000 went to people who live between the farmer and the consumer—commissions, storage, local distribution and so forth. And this is what a prominent farmer said to the Idaho senator: "Here is the situation. We are producing fully up to the point of the peoples needs. There is an abundance. The consumer is paying all that that consumer should pay and perhaps more and yet the farmer is facing bankruptcy. There is something wrong."

The wage earner is a consumer. There is a vast army of wage earners. They constitute the bulk of the urban population of the United States. They pay the peak prices for the food they buy.

There are some things this venerable Hoosier democrat does not appear to know. If the farmer is to go in for political action he must go in to win. It will be impossible for him to make a political combination with those who received $14,500,000,000 as their share of the $22,500,000,000 the consumer paid for the farm crops of 1922.

Senator Borah is responsible for the figures. This is his indictment of conditions, "The farmers is back to pre-war prices for all he sells but the war is still on as to all that he has to buy and his taxes are up 120 per cent."

GERMANY A HEAVY LOSER.

Germany imported from the United States in American values in July more goods than any other country in the world but two, notwithstanding the German mark had hit the bottom and wasn't worth the paper on which it was printed. Canada came first as a buyer, England second and Germany third.

According to consular reports and foreign trade statisticians the same comparison holds good for the seven months ending with July. America shipped $168,733,000 worth of goods to Germany. Excepting for England and Canada no other country came within $32,000,000 of that amount.

German importers took from Americans in July more cotton than any other country in the world. American exports of cotton to Germany were 82,218 bales. How greatly these exceeded the takings of any other country may be judged from the fact that the next largest importer of our cotton in July was Japan, which took 25,599 bales and England only 12,384 bales.

Of copper also Germany was the largest purchaser in this market during July. American shipments to that country, 16,729,000 pounds, were 5,500,000 pounds ahead of the next largest, which was France. During the seven months also, shipments of copper to Germany have been substantially greater than to any other country in the world.

All Americans are interested in the settlement of the Ruhr controversy; all Americans are interested in the settlement of the reparations issue; all Americans are interested in the stabilization of European governments. Prosperity would come to all classes and conditions of American society and continue throughout the years if the foreign market was what it should be and the people of the countries involved in the world war could find themselves. Texas is a cotton producing state. Texas produces 36 per cent of the American crop.

Regardless of this Germany has made an extraordinary showing in its purchases of American cotton and copper this year and, as the trade reports show, is one of the best of the foreign buyers of this country.

THE LURE OF SOUTH AMERICA.

John Bull knows a good thing when he sees it. His subjects have invested vast sums in the Argentine which is the most advanced of all South American countries. Argentine has a total population of 8,693,000.

Italians are partial to Argentine. There are 1,400,000 natives of Italy who are citizens of this South American republic and more than 400,000 children of Italian parentage. British invested capital in the state is said to exceed five hundred million dollars. Britons are buyers of Argentine bonds. They are large investors in the industries, including the railroads of Argentine.

Germans prefer Brazil and there are upwards of two million of the population of Brazil who were born in the Fatherland. They control huge investments and they rank among the leading farmers and builders of Brazil regardless of its large Poreguese citizenship.

Argentine has no large war debt. Argentine has cheap lands. Argentine extends a cordial welcome to all Europeans who are worth while.

The Farm Situation is Very Grave But It's a Bad Season of the Year to Make Other Folks Believe It.

MOTHERS AND THEIR CHILDREN

A Little Extra Caution.

One mother says:

I am always very particular that the children's garters, knee bands and belts, are perfectly comfortable. Children's clothes shrink and children grow. Each week I check upon the bands to be sure that none of them are binding.

WHAT TODAY MEANS

By MARY BLAKE

LIBRA.

Today is of good omen for business but uncertain for traveling. Risky ventures had best be tabooed. Conditions greatly improve after 7 p. m. making the evening particularly favorable for social entertainments and affairs of the heart.

A child born today will be imaginative, active in dispisition, versatile and industrious.

You are versatile if today is your birthday, and like all adaptable people your success in any one line of indeavor will depend on the destruction you suffer from your other interests. However, you have a will which dominates others and should be made to dominate yourself.

Intellectually you are active and curious and you have the convenient faculty of being able to remember just the right thing at the right time. You are likewise original and inventive, and you have your own way of doing a thing that is always whimsical if not always efficient.

Your interests are as varied as your tastes. You like to know at least the essential theory of everything you encounter. You are fond of art and music and you should have a marked talent for writing because you feel your experiences emotionally and you have a necessity of expressing your emotions.

You are inclined to be sentimental on the subject of the opposite sex, and you are extremely fond of home and children. You are somewhat of a flirt, but like all lovers of a poetic turn of mind, you are relatively harmless because you are quite content to take it out in conversation.

Sometimes you are fussy and medlesome, yet you will give away the largest half of what you possess and never expect an equivalent. You are very careless of your belongings and are invariably losing things, a bad habit which can be easily overcome. This is rather a distorted form of generosity which comes from never giving any thought to yourself.

TIMELY VIEWS on WORLD TOPICS

COAL COMMISSION'S REPORT FAILS TO GIVE COAL PROB-EDITORIAL—TIMELY VIEWS .. LEM SOLUTION, SAYS ECONOMIST

The report of the United States coal commission did not get to the bottom of things, declares Dr. W. H. Ingalls, New York mining engineer and economist, in the official journal of the American Institute of Mining and Metallurgical Engineers. Dr. Ingalls urges free competition in the coal industry, which he says, would bring about the elimination of the unfit.

"The coal commission report," he asserts, "really gets no further than the conclusion that anthracite is a necessity whereof not enough is produced, and, if the operators and miners quarrel, with the result of a strike and the cessation of production, there is bound to be grea. misery for the public.

"Neither the public interest nor public sentiment will permit such a thing to happen again. Therefore the coal commission recommends that in such a juncture the president of the United States be authorized to take over the operation of the mines and the transportation and distribution and marketing of the product, with full power to determine the wages to be paid to mine workers, the prices at which coal shall be sold, and subject to court review the compensation to be paid to land and mine owners.

"This is on the same lines as the threat whereby President Roosevelt settled an anthracite strike many years ago. No matter how repugnant be the idea, this is perhaps the only possible, immediate expedient. But what would happen if, after the president had taken over the mines and determined the wages to be paid to mine workers, the latter should still refuse to work?

"It seems to me that there is a broader solution of the anthracite problem, complex though it be. The coal commission dwells a good deal upon anthracite being a limited natural monopoly. It is only in the sense that it occurs in a single region of the United States but in that region the beds are widespread and the ownership is diverse.

"There exists already a competition as is evidenced by the different prices of the independents and the railroad companies. The railroad companies sell for what is substantially a uniform price, which is to their credit considering that they might get more. This very discrepancy implies lack of freedom in action.

"There should be a removal of all economic restrictions and the establishment of free competition, which would tend naturally to the extinction of the unfit. If it should prove that even so the demand were in excess of the supply high prices would naturally prevail.

"The compete unionization of anthracite labor will keep the workers and the operators in partnership and the workers will be bound to get a big share of the produce. In such an event the public can only pray for the early offering of a satisfactory substitute.

FRENCH WINE CROP UNUSUALLY SMALL

PARIS—The gathering of grapes for wine making is now in full sway in France, but the outlook gives promise of the poorest wine crop since the armistice. The prolonged excessive heat waves, and the ravages of plant lice, followed by tremendous storms, played havoc with what remained of the standing vineyards. No wine shortage is feared, however, as according to one journal the stock on hand in the vaults of the wholesale wine merchants Sept. 1, amounted to 182,511,000 gallons. Bordeaux wines led with nearly 33,000,000 gallons. Champagnes were a good second with 27,000,000 gallons, while Burgundy was a poor third among the better known vintages, with a paltry 8,000,000 gallons.

So Goes It

By G. H.

Once there was a bird that sat down to write a few pithy, peppy paragraphs for the newspaper on which he depended for a livilhood. He sat down at his typewriter (they don't "take their "pens in hand," as they did in days of old.) That's as far as he got—

For someone called him on the telephone. After a breezy conversation in which it developed that the paragrapher was not the man wanted, he returned to his typewriter, and started to put on paper a bright idea which he had thought of on his way to work, but—

It had slipped his mind. In a minute he had recovered the elusive thought and had written the first word of a sentence. Then—

Then someone came in and tried to establish a hurry-up friendship, which would make a small loan possible. He got away with it because time was short, and the paragrapher wanted to return to his cherished paragraph. He did. He even got so far as to write another word, when—

An insurance agent came in. He went out, quickly and quietly. Back to the paragraph. By this time the paragrapher had forgotten what it was all about. He'd start something else.

About the time he got well under way an old friend called him on the telephone. Wanted to see him right away. Important. Responding to the call of possible duty, and sensing something unusual, the paragrapher beat it to the office of the friend. A half hour later, he returned to the daily column. But he'd lost his nip. He'd given up hope. So, in order to get by—

He wrote what you have just read.

England Satisfied With Net Results Of Season's Sports

By The Associated Press.

LONDON.—The season of international sporting events in Europe is drawing to an end, and Britain, glancing back at the spring and summer is rather satisfied with her achievements. America didn't win everything. That alone is considerable satisfaction to those who have defended the British against their own critics, who have been crying out that the race had become decadent upon the fields of sport.

Perhaps the beginning of the sports season was the craze over non-stop dancing. Britain was the first to contract that fever. Her human butterflies flitted to fox-trot tunes for 15, 20, 24 hours without a pause, and then the epidemic caught America. A day and a night was just a good start over there. The marathon dancers kept going several days and several nights until, finally, one man dropped dead with his dancing pumps on. Well the British thought, let them have the silly old championship; one ought to be moderate about such things.

In racing the British watched an American horse, Sergeant Murphy, win their Grand National, supreme among steeple-chase, but the Yankee jockeys got no where in the derby, so that was all square. Most joyous of all was the British successes against the invading American golf players. The amateur championship remained at home and the open championship was won back from the United States, and both by young players. Wethered, the new amateur champion, and Havers the open title holder, are in their middle twenties. Although they kept their championships. The British lost golf honors to America. The St. Georges Gold vase was won by Francis Ouimet of Boston in a play-off with Dr. Willing of Portland, Oregon, and—worst of all—the American amateurs retained the Walker cup over the sacred fairways of St. Andrews, after the British had all but won it. That afternoon, when the fighting Yankees crushed the British after the latter had seemingly made the cup sure for themselves, is still referred to as "the blackest day in the history of British golf."

The British expected to be beaten in tennis and the were. After watching two Americans, William M. Johnson and Francis T. Hunter, fight out the finals at Wimbledon, and seeing Suzanne Lenglen of France for the fifth time beat the best of their women players, they are beginning to think less of orthodoxy and more of slamming the ball with all their might. They still believe that orthodoxy is pretty, but they have began to ask themselves if it is art. In general the prevailing impression is to remodel the game over here on the speed and the dash of the conquering Americans and the French.

In yachting, dear to the hearts of the sea-faring race, native skippers beat the six meter craft brought over from America to race in the Solent. On the cinders Oxford and Cambridge triumphed over Harvard and Yale.

The Diamond skulls, historic rowing trophy, came back to British hands after a year in the possession of Walter Hoover, American star. Hoover was eliminated in the first heat of this year's Henley regatta when he cracked an oar, and M. K. Morris of London, succeeded to the title.

Fencing honors also went to Britain when an American team lost an international match in London and with it the Robert M. Thompson trophy held by the United States since 1921.

George S. Covey, holder of the world's professional court tennis title, repelled the invasion of Walter Kinsella, of New York.

Boxing flourishes but nothing in the way of a world-champion is in sight in British rings. Joe Beckett, more amusing now than mighty, seems unable or unwilling to defend himself even against the magazine humorists.

For the most part the English stick to their dear old leisurely cricket in the summer and football in the winter, but in every other sport they are more up and doing this year than at any time since the war.

Cannot Resist Dollar Bills.

BUCHAREST, Rumania. — Complaints of the handling of foreign mail in this country, particularly that coming from the United States, have resulted in action being taken by the International Postal union. Unless there is improvement, the union says, Rumania may have to withdraw.

One cause of trouble has been the habit of Americans, when writing to friends in Rumania, of enclosing American currency. Mail sorters know this, and many an American letter has been purloined.

Painful Rheumatic Swellings Disappear

Discoverer Tells Druggists Not to Take a Cent of Anyone's Money Unless Allenrhu Completely Banishes All Rheumatic Pains and Twinges.

Mr. James H. Allen suffered for years with rheumatism. Many times this terrible disease left him helpless and unable to work.

He finally decided, after years of ceaseless study, that no one can be free from rheumatism until the accumulated impurities, commonly called uric acid deposits, were dissolved in the joints and muscles and expelled from the body.

With this idea in mind he consulted physicians, made experiments and finally compounded a prescription that quickly and completely banished every sign and symptom of rheumatism from his system.

He freely gave his discovery, which he called ALLENRHU, to others who took it, with what might be called marvelous success. After years of urging he decided to let sufferers everywhere know about his discovery through the newspapers. He has therefore instructed druggists everywhere to dispense ALLENRHU with the understanding that if the first pint bottle does not show the way to complete recovery he will gladly return your money without comment. Palace Drug Co., and Central Drug Co., will supply you. Mail orders accepted.—Adv.

More Truth Than Poetry

By James J. Montague

THE WAY UP

Young Smith was ambitious to carve a career,
So he toiled with a compass and rule,
Over black and white lines that compose the design
Given out at a technical school.
He learned about amperes, transformers and ohms,
He toiled till each morning at three,
To figure the voltage, a high tension voltage,
Would give to the luckless joltee.
But in spite of the formulas, tables and rules,
That he had committed by heart,
For years he did stunts upon trolley car fronts,
A job that he took for a start.

But Smith was ambitious, in spite of his job!
He hankered for power and wealth,
And twisting a brake doesn't make one a stake,
Though undoubtedly good for the health.
And so one fine day, at the end of the line,
He brought up his car with a yank,
Scrubbed the oil from his face—and applied for a place—
He didn't care what—in a bank.
And when he had climbed to the job of cashier,
They gave him a chance to advance,
And soon he became an adept at the game
Of modern electric finance.

Now Smith is the boss of a half dozen lines,
Which he runs from his suite in the street.
Ten cars he has got, and a white private yacht,
And a thirty-nine room country seat.
The technical skill that he painfully gained
Faded out long ago from his mind.
For he's learned that the brains that bring in the real gains
Are all of the Big Business kind.
And his offspring aren't going to technical schools,
To start—later on—in the ranks:
With pencil and pad, they are toiling like Dad,
In a couple of big Wall Street banks!

CHEERING

Half the members of the senate went to Europe this summer. That means 45 new peace plans next session.

A REAL ACHIEVEMENT

The Germans are credited with being imitators rather than originators but they must be given credit for the invention of a collapsible government.

STATISTICS UNAVAILABLE

Perhaps Mr. Ford is the richest man in the world, but we can't be certain till some means of checking up the bootleggers is discovered.

Many Long U. S. Faces In France

PARIS—Americans living in France are feeling the effects of the drive of Minister of Finance de Lasteyrie, to collect five billion francs in excess taxes in 1923. They are being asked to pay two years' income tax in one year. Some of them heretofore have been overlooked by the tax gatherers and are now required to settle for three years back.

Foreigners in France are not obliged to declare incomes if they prefer the tax department arbitrarily to fix the amount they owe, computed on an equivalent of seven times their yearly rent. The tax collector is greatly behind on the tax rolls, and many foreigners have been altogether overlooked during the past three or four years. The finance minister therefore is now determined to bring tax collections up to date, and, if he succeeds, the past year's revenue will be increased three billion francs by income tax alone and by two billion francs on areas and other direct taxes.

The finance ministry lost 3,000 employes in killed or incapacitated during the world war and the tax gathering machinery therefore was crippled just at a time whe its duties became complicated by the enactment of new imposts, including the income tax. But a trained staff now once more is on the job and tax notices are being sent through the mails with extraordinary rapidity. In consequence there are many long faces to be seen of persons who thought the tax collector had overlooked them entirely.

COTTON NERVOUS AND IRREGULAR

But Market Generally Closed Steady With 15 to 20 Advance

By The Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Sept. 27.—Cotton futures closed steady.

	High	Low	Close	Previous Close
Oct.	28.70	28.38	28.68-70	28.50
Dec.	28.56	28.15	28.42-46	28.20
Jan.	28.08	27.68	27.96	27.80
March	28.00	27.62	27.90-94	27.70
May	27.94	27.55	27.86	27.71

Opening: Oct. 28.70; Dec. 28.45; Jan. 28.00; March 27.88; May 27.87.

NEW YORK, Sept. 27.—Between the tropical storm threat and a disposition to even up commitments in advance of next week's government crop report, the cotton market showed continued nervousness and irregularity today. After selling at 28.50 at the start, December broke at 28.15 but later rallied to 28.56 or 31 points net higher. December closed at 28.42 with the general market closing steady at net advances of 15 to 20 points.

The opening was firm at an advance of 16 to 22 points on reports that the tropical disturbance was central about 150 miles east of Florida and was moving northwestward. Its course caused a fear that it would bring rains to Georgia and the Carolinas. As soon as the initial buying order had been supplied, however, the market eased off under a renewal of scattering liquidation, attributed chiefly to uncertainty as to the showing of end-September crop figures. October broke from 28.75 to 28.38 and January from 28.00 to 27.68, or about 10 or 12 points net lower, but the market turned up again during the afternoon on a favorable view of the political news from Europe, apprehensions of less favorable weather in the southwest and rumors of more bullish private condition figures. October rallied to 28.79 and January to 28.07, making net advances of about 27 to 31 points, but the close was several points off from the best under renewed realizing.

New Orleans Cotton.

By The Associated Press.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 27.—An easier feeling regarding weather conditions over the belt and less anxiety because of the hurricane off the Florida coast caused moderate declines in the early part of the session in cotton today but later on shorts covered in a large way and the market rose again. From declines under yesterday's close of 16 to 21 points there was an advance to 18 to 25 points over, the market finally closing at net gains on the day of 8 to 16 points. December traded as low at 27.53 and as high as 27.98 and closed at a range of 27.80 to 27.91.

Much less rain than expected was shown on the weather map and the hurricane appeared to be moving parallel to the Atlantic coast rather than toward the cotton region. A private crop report, putting the indicated yield at 11,300,000 bales, increased the selling.

Much attention was paid to English dispatches which pictured more friendly relations between England and France and this caused a heavy covering move among shorts, on which the declines were recovered and the market moved up to the highest levels of the day. Steadiness lasted well into the late trading but just on the close offerings increased sufficiently to cause small recessions again.

MONEY At Work

Brief but Important Lessons in Finance, Markets, Stocks, Bonds and Investments.

There are three big factors in every investment: (1) Marketability; (2) safety; and (3) income. Look for them.

It is common for some one to ask for a security which is absolutely safe, both as to principal and income; readily marketable; with a high interest rate. There aren't any.

The best bonds are safe, income is assured and they are readily marketable, but they have a low yield.

If you are investing for a long time and are willing to give up a quick market, a higher yield can be obtained. Also if you want less safety, a higher yield can be found.

All three factors are valuable. They determine the price of securities Figure out which ones you want. You can't get all three combined with a high yield.

Cotton Seed Oil.

By The Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Sept. 27.—Cottonseed oil was more or less erratic, closing 6 to 10 points net lower. After starting steady with lard and cotton, prices declined sharply under outside liquidation, and lack support but a fair rally followed on commission house buying of new crop months. Sales 15,600 barrels. Cash trade continues fair, prime crude nominal; prime summer yellow spot 12.50; October 11.67; December 10.29; March 10.33, all bid.

MARKET SHOWED LITTLE CHANGE

Those On Long Side Failed to Follow Up Recovery

Total stock sales 671,00 shares.

Twenty industrials averaged 88.33, net unchanged.

High this year 105.38; low this year 86.92.

Twenty railroads averaged 81.75; net gain .21.

High this year 90.51; low this year 79.53.

By The Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Sept. 27.—Marked irregularity characterized today's stock market with closing prices generally showing little change on the day.

Failure of operators on the long side of the market to follow up the recovery started just before the close yesterday by Baltimore and Ohio's constructive dividend action led to a renewal of bear pressure after a buoyant opening. Speculators for the decline succeeded in uncovering several weak spots, such as Jones Brothers Tea, which broke more than 9 points to 35½, a new low for the year, but the usual leaders offered good resistance and prices turned upward again in the late dealings.

Cable reports indicating serious differences between Bavaria and the German reich were generally regarded as a disturbing factor and undoubtedly were responsible for the reactionary trend in foreign exchanges.

Demand sterling dropped more than half a cent to around $4.555, French franc slipped back five points to 6.15 cents and German marks were off 14 points at 68 cents a hundred million.

Baltimore and Ohio was again the most active stock on the board, nearly 80,000 shares changing hands during the day. The stock touched 57 and then eased off to 56 3-8 where it was up 1 1-2 on the day.

A good inquiry developed for the tobacco shares, inducing rather extensive short covering and resulting in some sharp gains in that group.

Union Pacific went through a sinking spell after having sold two points higher, but snapped back to 128 1-2 for a slight fractional loss.

Call money opened at 5 1-2 per cent but eased off to 5 before the close. Time money rates were unchanged with more business being done at 5 1-2 per cent rate for the longer maturities. Brokers continue to bid 5 1-4 for all dates. Only a moderate amount of new commercial paper is coming into the market, the ruling rate being 5 1-4 per cent.

Paving At Crosbyton

CROSBYTON, Texas.—Crosbyton is the latest West Texas town to consider a paving program. The matter has been placed before the city council after a public discussion in mass meeting. It is also proposed to purchase the privately owned water plant here and operate same as a municipal plant. The West Texas chamber of commerce pave-the-square program will probably be used here in specifications for street paving.

WHEAT MARKET SLIGHTLY SAGS

Was Believed Due to Washington Assertions of no Tariff Change

By The Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Sept. 27.—Largely as a result of assertions from Washington that no emergency change in the wheat tariff appeared probable, wheat today averaged lower in price. The market closed unsettled at the same as yesterday's finish to half cent down, with December 1.05 1-4@1.05 3-8 and May 1.10@1.10 1-8. Corn finished 1-8 to 1 1-2 cents higher, oats 1-4@3-8 to 1-2 cent up, and provision showed 2 cents to 15 cents gain.

Nearly all deliveries of corn reached a new high price record for the season and so too did May oats. Further frost damage talk was largely responsible.

Provisions reflected corn strength as well as better German demand for lard.

Fort Worth Livestock.

By The Associated Press.

FORT WORTH, Tex., Sept. 27.—prices were steady to lower on calves and hogs again today, but on other classes of livestock the market held to a steady basis. The cattle market was active and the hog trade made good progress after a slow start. Receipts amounted to 2,000 head of cattle, 2,000 calves, 3,000 hogs and 1,500 sheep.

Very few steers were here and the market was steady and active. Two cars of good cattle from the Weider ranch in San Patricio county sold at 7.00 and topped the market. A few cars of cattle cleared at 5.50@6.50.

Cows, heifers and yearlings changed hands on a steady basis and the demand was broad for canners and cutters. No good cows in carlots were here and neither were ther any topsy heifers or yearlings. Bulls sold around steady, 2.50@3.75.

Calves were weak to 25 cents lower and on all grades except the best lights the market was fully $1 lower than at last week's close. Bulk sales ranged from 5.00@5.75, heavy calves selling up to 5.75.

On the good hogs the market was steady with yesterday's close but other kinds averaged 10 to 15c down. One car sold at $7.85, and most of the run went at a range of 7.50@7.75.

Sheep house receipts consisted mostly of feeder lambs selling at 10.00. Sheep steady.

KEITH PREDICTS RECORD CROWDS

Fair President Says Exposition Bigger and Better Than In 1922

A record attendance is predicted for the Texas-Oklahoma fair and exposition to be held here Oct. 1 to 7, inclusive. Everything is in readiness, and every exhibit and amusement feature is bigger and better than in 1922, according to George D. Keith, president, fair association.

"There are many reasons why we look for big crowds on each day of the fair," says Keith. "The principal reason is the big interest in the fair by exhibitors and persons looking for concessions of all kinds. Whenever interest in these things is large, good crowds can always be expected. If the weather does not interfere we will hang up an attendance mark.

"Inquiries about the fair program have been received in number from persons living long distance from the fair, who are planning on coming by automobile. Twenty years ago, when horses had to used if a trip were not to be taken by railroad, parties by wagon or buggies rarely traveled more than 20 to 30 miles. It is possible to make such a trip to the coming fair in an hour's time. In fact, we are expecting visitors from Michigan, Oklahoma, New Mexico, Colorado and other states in the south and middlewest to attend the exposition. The automobile has revolutionized fair attendances all over the country the last few years.

Automobiles Help.

"The increased attendance which good roads and automobiles have made possible has had a big effect on our planning of the fair program this year. Knowing that we can count on attracting people to the fair from unusually long distances, making bigger crowds possible, we have not hesitated in contracting for the very best attractions offered.

"Every superintendent has worked hard to make his or her department a success. The amusement features are under contract to give the crowds the best in them. Exhibitors of stock, women's work, farm products, and boys' and girls' work will put up a big battle for the premiums offered by the fair. Visitors will find every detail for their entertainment worked out. The stage is all set for a record breaking fair."

Discussing the room problem Secretary C. H. Verschoyle says:

"The best advertisement a city can get is for its people to be good entertainers when visitors come to town on occasions like the big fair. Treat them like you would guests in your own homes, send them back home feeling good and they will always be boosters for your city.

"The practice of doubling prices, which has given a black eye to many cities, must be forgotten here during the fair. If proprietors of restaurants, hotels and similar places will just remember that they are going to do many times their normal business during the fair they will not overcharge the strangers. Once stung in a town people will not come back and we want them here every year.

Thousands of Strangers.

"It must be remembered that there are going to be thousands of people here during fair time who have never been in Wichita Falls. Others who have been occasional visitors are going to become boosters for our city if we treat them right and the benefit to be reaped by merchants the year round by increased out of town trade cannot be estimated in dollars and cents. The big exposition will get them here as a starter and fair treatment while they are here will make them regular visitors, not only to the exposition once a year but as regular visitors and shoppers in the stores of the city."

NEW SYSTEM

get along without enough men or means to keep the city going respectably. The city secretary's report is an eye-opener and explains all.

"The reason for our low valuation is that this city has been operating under the antiquated tax assessment system of taking the other fellow's word for it. It is easy enough to get the thousands of small home owners' and business houses' valuation. These pay their share annually and there is no dispute. Where we lose out is that in assessing large public corporations and utilities, under our present system of assessment we have no way in the world of getting their real value. They submit a value many times less than what their properties are worth. The assessor doesn't know, the board of equalization doesn't know. The result is the city of Wichita Falls loses millions on assessments by having to take the other fellow's word as to property valuation," McBroome explained.

Should Be $50,000,000

When asked how much the Wichita Falls valuation should be at the present time instead of only $32,000,000 if the proper assessments were made, the secretary said it should be no less than $50,000,000 annually.

The actual present financial conditions of the city departments as shown in the compilation reveals the fact that only one department is making expenses. This department is that of city parks and cemeteries. The other departments are running far behind despite the fact the employee forces have been cut to the minimum.

Taking the general fund first, the city charter only allows the assessing of but 60 cents on the $100 valuation for this department. With the assessed valuation of $32,000,000 this 60 cent rate means the city will get for this department $172,000 annually if 90 per cent tax collections are made. Added to this is a fund of $40,000 from fines and a few minor sources. This totals $212,800; all that can be realized annually for the running of this, the largest city department.

To run the general department of the city government, it takes $251,800 annually. With only $212,800 realized from all sources a deficit for this department is left of $39,800. This deficit is made up by the cutting down of the police department, the firemen personnel and in other manners which puts the city administration to a dangerous point.

Taking the street department, the low finances received from the low valuation for the city, reveals another alarming situation. It requires annually $63,836.50 to run this department and look after properly the 150 miles of graded streets in Wichita Falls. The charter allows only a 15-cent tax on the $100 valuation for the street funds. On a $32,000,000 assessment, this department can realize but 48,200. Needing $63,836.50 and realizing only $43,200, because of the low valuation, there is a discrepancy of $20,436.50 which the street department faces. This means it is impossible for the street department to successfully operate and makes only a farce of the department, the report reveals.

For the park and cemetery department the city charter allows 12-cent tax on the $100 valuation which on the present valuation realizes for this department $38,400. As only $25,774 is required, the park and cemetery fund is adequate, being a striking exception to the other departments, which are so far behind in their finances.

The library fund is inadequate under the present assessed valuation the reports show, though not so much so as some of the others. With 3-cents on the $100 valuation allowed by the city charter, $9,600 is realized. To keep the library going as it should be $11,079.20 is required, which shows the amount realized is insufficient by nearly $2,000.

This report shows exactly how the city finances stand. Until the assessed valuation is raised by the Somers system or some other means for raising the assessment is found, no bonds can be voted. This simply means, the report shows, that higher assessed valuation is the only way out. Waco, Houston and Beaumont have wired the city secretary telling the merits of the Somer tax system. If the system were installed it would more than pay for itself the first year in the added amount of revenue it would bring in, the city clerk believes.

THIS MAN KNOWS NOW WHY JUSTICE IS BLINDFOLDED

Special to The Record News.

FREDERICK, Okla., Sept. 27.—If a man hasn't the right to a pistol with which his wife took a shot at him—who has? That's the question that's puzzling Dan Carter, who appeared at the sheriff's office here Thursday morning and asked for the gun. His plea was denied.

Carter looked crestfallen when the sheriff informed him that his wife claimed the pistol as her own—by right of conquest.

WAY CLEAR FOR SPECIAL VOTING

Oklahoma May Have a Special Election On October 2

By The Associated Press.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 27.—The way was cleared for the special state election called by Governor Walton for October 2 when the Oklahoma supreme court today reversed the action of the Oklahoma county district court in granting an injunction restraining the state election board from proceeding with plans for the referendum.

The fate of five constitutional amendments, including a $35,000,000 soldiers' bonus proposal, and an initiated bill to legalize special sessions of the legislature upon call of a majority of members, is bound up in the proposed election.

With only five days remaining before the date set for the vote, some doubt existed tonight as to whether the polls would be opened October 2.

No ballots yet have been printed, but all other election material has been ordered, according to W. C. McAllister, secretary of the board. All ballots could be printed and distributed throughout the state in time for an election Tuesday in the event the remaining legal technicalities are surmounted, it was said.

The one remaining barrier is certification of the supreme court mandate to the district court and then the serving of formal notification on the election that the injunction has been dissolved. It was indicated that this would be done promptly, the attorney general, who was the losing party in the friendly suit, having agreed, it was understood, to waive certain rights permitted him so that no further delay would ensue.

The decision of the supreme court today on the five constitutional amendments had no bearing on the initiated bill which would allow either house of the legislature to convene without the governor's call.

The fate of this measure rests on the action the supreme court takes upon a request for re-hearing filed by a citizen for Governor Walton after the court had held that the measure should be placed on the ballot.

If the court denies the petition for re-hearing promptly the measure will go on the ballot.

JAIL ENDS FRAY OF LOCAL GIRLS

A ring was the cause of it all.

The girl had been in the hospital. Naturally her lover came to see her. She let him have her ring. The girl didn't get well very fast and the lover got another girl. When he left town recently he gave his first girl's ring to his new girl.

The first girl wrote her errant lover for the ring. Being miles away he told her that another girl had the ring. Enraged feminity was out looking for revenge instanter.

Girl No. 2 was found by the original sweetie in a down town restaurant last night. "Give 'me my ring and be quick about it you Karo haired hussy," No. 1 said.

"I'll die before I do," No. 2 said.

Police officers interferred and finally took No. 2 to jail. After two hours incarceration she gave up the ring.

The sheik missed it all, being away.

AGED MAN RUN DOWN; BOYS FLEE

Running down an elderly man, who was walking across the river bridge about 7:30 last night, three young men in a Ford car are said to have left him laying on the bridge, pretending they were going for a physician and never returned, some women taking him to the General hospital, where he was found to be painfully bruised.

The man gave his name as E. M. Theairres and said he lived at 1013 Indiana. He is also deaf, which may have been the reason he was run over. Officers hope to find the three young men who drove away and left their victim suffering.

APPRECIATION IS PAID TO MRS. CRANE

The following life history and appreciation of Mrs. J. C. Crane, who was buried from the family residence on Ninth street Wednesday, is dedicated to her memory by her many friends.

Mrs. Ora Cress Crane was born in Washington, Ill., November 18, 1860. She was married to J. C. Crane November 10, 1882, to which union was born three sons, J. C. Jr., Clyde C., and Earl P. She came to Texas with her husband 23 years ago and settled in Denison, where she lived until her removal here. Five years ago she moved with her family to Wichita Falls, where she lived until her death.

An active life in the church was spent by Mrs. Crane, from her conversion at the age of 12 until recent years. As a member of the Waples Memorial Methodist church at Denison she acted in the capacity of president of the missionary society and as officer in the Sunday school. Her church here was the Floral Heights Methodist, which she attended as much as her health allowed. Besides church activities, Mrs. Crane was devoted to literary work. Mrs. Crane is said by friends to have been reserved and modest, not radiating in a large circle, but loved and appreciated best by close friends.

New Lamp
Burns 94% Air

Beats Electric or Gas

A new oil lamp that gives an amazingly brilliant, soft, white light, even better than gas or electricity, has been tested by the U. S. government and 35 leading universities and found to be superior to 10 ordinary oil lamps. It burns without odor, smoke or noise—no pumping up, is simple, clean, safe. Burns 94% air and 6% common kerosene (coal oil).

The inventor, J. T. Johnson, 609 W. Lake St., Chicago, Ill., is offering to send a lamp on 10 day's FREE trial, or even to give one FREE to the first user in each locality who will help him introduce it. Write him today for full particulars. Also ask him to explain how you can get the agency and without experience or money make $250 to $500 per month.—Adv.

MIGHT BE GOOD FOR NEW FATHERS, TOO

A Wichita Falls store window has been extracting quite a peculiar line of comment from passersby, for instance—"that cap would just fit Bill, he thinks he's some potatoes in that new red Buick," and, "talk about the swellhead, Eddie can't even see you with a pair of prism binoculars since he turned that deal and got his raise. Let's bring him over here and buy this cap."—and from a trio of high school girls, "Oh, isn't that cap a whopper? All three of us could wear it—there's one just made for Tommy, he's such a pinhead!"

The window is that belonging to J. C. Penney Co., and the cap display causing the varied line of comment includes a giant cap with a head size of 56 inches, and two tiny caps measuring 12 inches around. Other caps in the window are attractive fall showings in chinchillas and wool weaves in normal sizes.

The caps are made by the Woverly mills who manufacture caps expressly for the J. C. Penney stores, and the sight of a tan chinchilla cap larger than a dishpan is causing more than one person to stop and look at the interesting window display.

ASSAULT CHARGE FOLLOWS FIGHT

Local Fray Ends at Police Station With Court Aftermath

The aftermath of an altercation at Sixteenth and Lamar streets Thursday morning resulted in B. D. Gray filing charges of assault to murder against Cy Elliott and his son, Estel, in Justice Gwinn's court later in the day.

The fight, the police say, aroused a whole neighborhood and resulted in the discharge of a pistol aside from several abrasions and bloody noses and lips distributed among the combatants. Elliott is said to be a plumbing contractor. The trouble with Gray began several days ago, according to their stories at the police station, when Gray stopped his car near some sewerage pipes belonging or in charge of Elliott. The car is said to have coasted down hill and ran into the pipes, damaging some of them.

Gray told Police Chief Hodgins he offered to pay Elliott and that Elliott told him to come back. Gray said Thursday morning when he went back and did pay Elliott for the pipes, the fight started. Gray, if the stories of spectators is true, had to fight two men most of the time and others are said to have interfered. One of the men is said to have hit Gray over the head with a pistol, the gun discharging and throwing more consternation in the residence section where the fight occurred.

Gray, Elliott and another workman put up $10 cash bonds in police court. The assault to murder charge was filed later.

No Longer Dread Pimples

No better news could be given people who suffer the embarrassment and disappointments these skin disfigurers subject them to, than the announcement made by the worlds' best known skin specialists that a few years after the universal use of Black and White Ointment recently perfected will show a positive decline in such skin diseases as pimple, blotches, eczema, rash, tetter, breaking out, etc.

This prediction is already coming true, judging from the tremendous demand for this Black and White Ointment. It is already selling at the unprecedented rate of nearly two million packages a year, and dealers everywhere are enthusiastically recommending it to their friends and customers. It is economically priced, in liberal packages. The 50c size contains three times as much as the 25c size.—Adv.
