Prison meeting overwhelmingly positive

By GEORGIA TYLER
Staff Writer

If the power of positive thinking is all it's cracked up to be, Hereford and Deaf Smith County should stand a good chance of snaring a new industry -- a correctional facility.

During a public meeting Monday night, 698 of 752 persons attending signed in favor of the effort being made to influence the Texas Department of Criminal Justice to locate a minimum security prison here.

Only 24 residents at the meeting in the Community Center registered disapproval while 30 admitted to no opinion on the subject.

Offering an opportunity for both supporters and dissidents to voice their opinion, the meeting began and ended on a high note, almost to peppy proportions, as public officials and residents declared their support.

The format of the meeting was designed to allow persons to express their opinions, either in favor or opposed to the prison proposal. Each speaker was allotted two minutes.

At registration tables, prospective speakers signed up. Two persons indicated a desire to speak against the prison. Eight public officials and 23 citizens requested time to speak in support.

What's next for local task force? Waiting...

What's next for the Hereford Prison Task Force?

Hurry up and wait.

The Deaf Smith County site is one of 47 candidates for the maximum security, minimum-medium security and substance abuse centers to be built by the Texas Department of Criminal Justice. Hearings, just like the one in Hereford on Monday, are being held in all 47 cities.

The information from the public hearings is one part of the formula to determine who will get what from the Texas Department of Criminal Justice. Board Chairman Selden Hale and former chairman Jerry Hodge, both of Amarillo, will take staff input and determine the sites. The announcement will be made April 10.

"Selden Hale and other staff members have indicated they really don't want a flood of postcards or letters or anything else," said O.G. Nieman, chairman of the local group. Nieman will leave next week on a golf vacation with friends. He said vice chairmen Tom LeGate and Tom Simons will be in Huntsville on April 10.

"We've done all we can, and we've done the best we can," said Nieman. "It's out of our hands."

State Rep. John Smithsee and State Senator Teel Bivins lent their support, Smithsee appearing in person while a Bivins aide, Tammy Shaklee, read a letter from him. Bivins was unable to appear because he is recovering from recent surgery.

was Randy McLeod, warden of the Clements Unit in Amarillo.

Presiding during the evening, Deaf Smith County Judge Tom Simons welcomed the standing-room-only crowd and introduced speakers.

Hereford Mayor Tom LeGate reviewed the events that led to the preparation of a proposal to bring a prison to Deaf Smith County and expressed appreciation to the task force that accomplished the work in a few weeks. Speedy Nieman was chairman of the task force.

Although two names were on the opposition list, only one spoke. The other apparently left the meeting early.

R.L. Johnson addressed the crowd, saying he is not opposed to locating a prison here, but would prefer another site.

"The site is only a mile and 27 steps from where I live," he said.

City and county officials speaking in favor of the project were Roland Saul, criminal district attorney; Margaret Perez, county tax collector; Lupe Chavez, county commissioner, precinct two; Raymond Schroeder, president of the Deaf Smith County Hospital District board; Irene Cantu, Hereford city commissioner, and Troy Don Moore, county commissioner, precinct three.

Here is a sampling of remarks made by speakers supporting the proposal:

"I know and think everyone knows that this is a top agriculture area and we have a more than adequate work force ready to go to work. In spite of how good we are, we can do some more." -- Justin McBride.

"I grew up in Joliet, Ill., where there is a state prison. I'm in favor of a prison here." -- Vida Grady.

"No one has mentioned retirees, but look down the road 30 years and there would be some. This is a good place for retiring." -- T.H. Thurston.

"I pledge my support. Hereford is known as a progressive city and this proposal is another step." -- Rita Bell.

"Hereford has experienced a prison, the POW camp. I've lived here 50 years and I'm in favor of this." -- Grant Hanna.

"The ministerial alliance looks forward to working with prison families, to minister to those who come here and their families." -- The Rev. Larry Cothrin.

"I've been a merchant here for 19 years. I've had the opportunity to visit with people about a prison, and I've found no one opposed." -- LaJean Henry.

"It's obvious that we have the tangibles, land, schools, hospital, but we also have more intangibles, especially the desire to have a prison here. I'd say 99.7 percent of the community is looking forward to it." -- Jigger Rowland.

"We have a very creative educational community and a superintendent that sets the tone for a progressive school system for children who come here." -- Nena Veazey.

"If I didn't believe in it, I'd speak up, but I see benefits in civic spirit. We're ready, waiting and willing." -- Clint Formby.

"I've never been involved in anything with this kind of unity. We have an agriculture economy, that's stable and we could assist the prison with vegetable production." -- Wes Fisher.

A couple of local senior golfers made news at Pitman Municipal Golf Course recently. Don T. Martin, retired school administrator, shot under his age last week. Martin, who is 78 years of age, shot a three-over par 74. And, John "Doc" Channer, 80, shot his age Monday. Way to go, guys!

Hereford doesn't have to worry about evidence of community support when the Texas Department of Criminal Justice Board selects prison sites on April 10.

Residents gave overwhelming approval to the project during a public meeting here Monday night. As chairman of the Prison Task Force, I join other members of the group in expressing thanks for the strong showing of support.

I don't know how the meeting could have been better, as far as the task force as concerned. Speakers for the proposal had many good things to say about the community, about the work done on the project, and about their willingness to cooperate with TDCJ in placing a facility here.

Only one speaker chose to make comments against the project. R.L. Johnson, Rt. 1, stated he was not against a prison, only the location. We respect his opinion--and so did the audience, who gave him as much applause as those speaking for the proposal.

As Clint Formby stated Monday night in endorsing the project, the task force would not be presenting this project to our community if we didn't think it would be a great asset. All that remains now is to wait for April 10 and learn if Hereford is one of the communities selected for a prison facility.

We've said it before but it bears repeating: Whether we are selected or not, the people working on the task force have taken a step forward for this community, and we hope they will continue to work for a better Hereford!

Interested observers at prison hearing

Speedy Nieman, left, chairman of the Hereford Prison Task Force, and Randy McLeod, warden of the William P. Clements Jr. Unit of the Texas Department of Criminal Justice react to a speaker at Monday's hearing in Hereford. McLeod will submit his comments to the hearing to TDCJ to use in determining Hereford's suitability for a prison.

CMTV set for debut on Cablevision

Country Music Television (CMTV) will be added to Hereford Cablevision on Wednesday, on Cable Channel 34.

CMTV is a 24-hour country music video channel. It is similar to MTV and VH-1, except it features top country artists like Garth Brooks, Reba McEntire and Randy Travis. CMTV mixes big hits with new videos and old standards.

CMTV is being added to the local system at no additional charge, according to Hereford Cablevision Manager Lloyd Ames.

"By adding CMTV, Hereford Cablevision is delivering the best in quantity and quality of cable entertainment. We now have 29 channels of basic service with four premium channels," Ames said. "The selection of basic channels is one of the most complete and diverse of any cable system in West Texas or Eastern New Mexico."

Doctors honored Monday at DSGH

Touch-tone enforcement set by SWBell

If you have a Touch-tone telephone in Hereford but aren't paying for Touch-tone service, you won't be able to make a call after today.

Southwestern Bell Telephone officials said Monday that today would be the last day that persons with Touch-tone telephones would be able to use the service. Wednesday, persons who aren't paying for Touch-tone service will not be able to get past the dial tone with a Touch-tone telephone.

"Many of the telephones sold today have buttons that let you switch between pulse and tone," said Gary Stevens, manager for external affairs for Southwestern Bell. "If you have a Touch-tone telephone, you have to order Touch-tone service. It's $1 a month, and you can call 951-2922 to get Touch-tone service."

Stevens said the company has been charging the $1 a month to some, but not all, customers. Southwestern Bell wasn't able to monitor who was using Touch-tone telephones until the new digital switch was installed here last fall.

World/National

LOS ANGELES - Jack Palance, the tough-as-nails cattle boss in "City Slickers," and Mercedes Ruehl, the warm-hearted video store owner in "The Fisher King," won Oscars for best supporting performances. "Silence of the Lambs" won most of the major honors.

ACROSS THE USA - A baby who lived nine days without a full brain has forced the nation to grapple with its definition of death and the ethical boundaries of organ donation.

ALBANY, N.Y. - Gov. Mario Cuomo now has the budget deal he says kept him from running for president. But while lamenting that the race has passed him by, he promises not to be a wallflower with the New York primary a week away.

WASHINGTON - Some large unions are beginning to rally around Bill Clinton, but the AFL-CIO is reluctant to choose between the Democratic front-runner with a spotty labor record and Jerry Brown with a slim chance of winning the nomination.

WASHINGTON - For the first time, the Strategic Defense Initiative has become the Bush administration's No. 1 priority in the weapons budget. Yet the anti-missile project is not everyone's favorite at the Pentagon.

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa - The white-minority government proposes what would be the country's first election with black participation, a vote for a parliament that would write a new constitution for a democratic South Africa.

TOKYO - The Japanese are quietly exerting control over America, a character warns in Michael Crichton's new Japan-bashing best-seller, "Rising Sun." The book itself may have been a test case of that allegation. Was it shunned by several Hollywood studios, despite good market potential as a film, because their Japanese owners were, well, quietly exerting control?

Texas

WASHINGTON - President Bush could be jeopardizing the future of the superconducting super collider and space station by goading Congress to trim $3.6 billion from the current budget, a member of the House Appropriations Committee says.

EL PASO - Even if the Supreme Court overturns a federal law forcing states to build low-level radioactive waste disposal sites, Texas probably will continue building one.

DALLAS - General Motors chairman Robert Stempel, sounding a call for flexibility in manufacturing, said the era of mass production is ending.

DALLAS - Cyrix Corp. is back in court with Intel Corp. and in the marketplace with a new computer chip. Richardson-based Cyrix on Monday formally unveiled its Cx486SLC, a low-cost chip that performs like Intel's next-generation 486 microprocessors but fits in the space of the 386, the current standard for PCs and Intel's best-selling chip ever.

SPACE CENTER, Houston - Atlantis' astronauts took a star turn at the Academy Awards with a videotaped salute to "Star Wars" creator George Lucas.

CORPUS CHRISTI - The U.S. Army has suspended the security clearance of a top Texas National Guard officer "pending further investigation to clarify allegations of drug smuggling operations," a newspaper has reported.

KERRVILLE - The slayings of an elderly couple and their adult daughter were apparently carried out by someone they knew, Kerr County Sheriff Frances Kaiser says.

HOUSTON - A grand jury has launched an investigation into allegations that probationers at a county-run detention camp for young offenders suffered beatings and other physical abuse.

AUSTIN - State Board of Education members are getting mixed reactions to proposed changes in the state's standardized test program for public school students.

A bridal shower was held for Karyn De McCuistian Saturday morning, March 28, in Ward Parlor at First United Methodist Church. The honoree, April 18 bride-elect of Michael Sharkey, welcomed guests with, from left, her mother, Mrs. Lewis McCuistian; the prospective bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Wayne Sharkey of Amarillo; and his grandmother, Mrs. W.W. Stansbury of Hereford.

Bridal shower honors Karyn De McCuistian

Karyn De McCuistian, April 18 bride-elect of Michael Sharkey, was honored with a bridal shower Saturday morning, March 28, in Ward Parlor at First United Methodist Church.

Greeting guests with the honoree were her mother, Mrs. Lewis McCuistian; the prospective bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Wayne Sharkey of Amarillo; and his grandmother, Mrs. W.W. Stansbury of Hereford.

Becky Brownlow of Amarillo invited guests to register.

Refreshments of mini cinnamon rolls, bacon crisp, sausage balls, fresh fruit, punch, coffee and nuts were served by the honoree's sisters-in-law, Pamela McCuistian of Dallas and Veronica McCuistian of Lubbock.

A fresh flower arrangement with accents of spring green, antique mauve and burgundy centered the refreshment table which was further enhanced by crystal and silver appointments. The table was covered with an ecru lace cloth with a spring green underlay.

Miss McCuistian was presented a fresh flower corsage by the hostesses. She was also given a set of cookware and a vacuum cleaner.

Hints From Heloise

REUSING OLD DISHES

Q. I would appreciate it if you could give me some suggestions for reusing chipped, cracked or broken dishes. — D.R., Pittsford, N.Y.

A. These dishes can be used for a lot of different things! To give you an example, chipped or cracked plates can be used as plant saucers or as a free cake platter at a bazaar (you don't have to worry about your good ones being returned).

Chipped or cracked mugs can be used as planters or to hold small odds and ends around the house.

Broken dish pieces can be used in the bottom of planters for drainage.

Just put that thinking cap on and I'm sure you'll find many more uses. — Heloise

Women's Forum set tonight

Cyndi Rohrer of Lubbock will speak at the Women's Forum at 7 p.m. today at the Hereford Community Center. The event is sponsored by Deaf Smith General Hospital.

Rohrer is the director of the Lifestyle Center for Preventive and Rehabilitative Services at Methodist Hospital in Lubbock. She will speak on positive lifestyles designed to prevent heart disease.

The speaker has spent the last eight years teaching cardiac patients and managing cardiac rehab programs. She is a frequent speaker on the subject of preventing heart disease through healthy lifestyle choices. She began her professional career as a high school science teacher and basketball coach in northern Iowa.

Rohrer was on the founding board of directors and is the 1992 president of the state society for the American Association for Cardiovascular and Pulmonary Rehabilitation. She completed a bachelor of science degree in biology at the University of Iowa and earned a master of science degree in sports medicine from Texas Tech University. She is nationally certified by the American College of Sports Medicine as a Preventive and Rehabilitative Program director.

TROY, N.Y. (AP) - Restaurant employees were pleased when Michele Pfeiffer stopped by - especially when they saw the tip.

Pfeiffer, in town for shooting of the Martin Scorsese film "Age of Innocence," slipped into Manory's Restaurant this week with an unidentified companion.

Wearing a trench coat, baggy clothing, sunglasses and no makeup, Pfeiffer ordered barbecued chicken, green beans and sweet potatoes.

Of the five great lakes, only Lake Michigan is wholly in the U.S. The others are partly in Canada.

Thanks for promoting Hereford!

The Hereford Brand extends its sincere appreciation to a group of merchants and individuals who continue a tradition of stewardship for our town and county.

Their recent involvement and participation in promoting Hereford as a prospective site for a new prison facility was further supplemented this past Sunday with placement of ads in the Brand. The ads encouraged the public's attendance and support of this project at Monday night's public hearing here.

As observers, we believe the hearing was considered a big success, and we further attribute a great deal of the public's attendance and favorable response to these community-minded leaders.

We appreciate the extra advertising lineage you gave us in our Sunday run, but more importantly, we appreciate your desire to invest in this community's future.

Hereford netters finish third in Borger tourney

Hereford's tennis team lost out to Borger and Amarillo High in a close finish at the Borger Tennis Tournament.

The Bulldogs won three of the four brackets to win their own tournament with 92 points. Amarillo High was second with 87 points.

Hereford had 82. Torey Sellers' and Jamie Kapka's win in boys' doubles provided a quarter of those points. Sellers and Kapka have not lost in a tournament this season.

Pampa was fifth with 62 points, 20 behind the Herd. This was the first tournament that included all three of District 1-4A's best teams: Pampa, Borger and Hereford.

"This tournament gave us a taste of what district will be like," Hereford coach Natalie Sims said. "There are no gimme matches. Each point has to be earned."

Hereford got third place finishes in both girls brackets. Teresa Baker fell 2-6, 6-0, 6-0 in the girls' singles semifinals to Justine Smith of Amarillo High. Baker beat Plainview's Candy Cook 6-3, 6-2 for third.

In girls' doubles, Robyn Sublett and Bri Reinauer lost to the eventual champs in the semifinals. Dawna Denny and Lyndee McNeese of Borger beat them 6-3, 7-5. The Hereford pair beat Pitts and Lewellen of Plainview for third.

Hereford's No. 2 girls also did well, finishing in the upper half of the brackets. Michelle Berend finished fifth after losing to eventual champion Dannett Jordan of Borger 6-1, 6-0 in the second round. Berend beat Pampa's Leigh Ellen Osborne 1-6, 6-2, 6-3 for fifth.

Emily Fuston and Sherry Fuston lost in the first round, then won the rest of their doubles matches. They beat Plainview's Bates/Jeffers team 6-3, 6-0 for eighth place.

Sellers and Kapka were challenged in the semifinals by Nguyen and Wilson of Palo Duro, but they won 6-4, 4-6, 7-6 (7-5). They defeated Pampa's Mohan/Wellborn team 6-4, 6-2 in the finals.

Hereford's other boys' doubles team, Chris Lyles and Bobby Perales, took tenth after losing to Horton/Allen of Pampa 3-6, 7-6, 6-4.

Donny Perales was fifth in boys' singles, beating Palo Duro's Thavone Mienphilom in the fifth-place game. A score was not available. Richard Drager took 15th.

The Hereford team will play a dual match in Pampa Saturday, starting at 10:30 a.m. Also, Sims announced that the date for the regional tennis meet was changed to May 1 and 2. The meet will be in Lubbock.

Girls' track team fourth at Lubbock Invitational

Hereford's girls' track finished fourth at the Lubbock Invitational Saturday, a finish that disappointed Coach Martha Emerson.

"We had several girls perform really well, but overall I was disappointed in our varsity performance," Emerson said. "The relays did not do well, and we need more depth. In four events, we were scoreless. We will work very hard this week to try and take care of some weaknesses."

Several Hereford girls placed, but only one won. April Roddy threw the discus 106 feet, 7 inches for the Herd's lone win. Roddy also put the shot a personal-best 35-1 for second place.

Jeannie Barrientez, hampered by an Achilles tendon injury, finished fourth in the 100 hurdles and didn't place in the 300 hurdles.

Hereford's 74 points were a distant fourth. Tascosa won with 132 points, Clovis was second with 115 and Midland Lee was third with 106 1/2. Post was close behind Hereford with 66 1/2 points, followed by Coronado with 44, Dunbar with 39 and Lubbock High with 4.

Ricka Williams ran her personal-best times in both the 3,200- and the 1,600-meter runs. She was second in the 3,200 with a time of 12:56.7 seconds and third in the 1,600 in 5:55.1.

Minerva Salazar finished third in the 400-meter run with a time of 63.6 seconds.

Shantel Cornelius' discus throw of 104 feet was also good for third-place points.

Angie Jowell was fourth in the 300 hurdles with Rachel Alaniz right behind her in fifth. Jowell' time was 52.17; Alaniz' was 52.63.

Renee Banner and Brandy Dunn both placed in two events. Banner was fifth in the 1,600 run in 6:28.02 and sixth in the 800 in 2:39.68 (a personal best). Dunn was fifth in the long jump (15-8, a personal best) and fifth in the triple jump (31-4 3/4).

Michelle Brock was sixth in the shot with a put of 32-7.

Finally, the 1,600-meter relay team of Jowell, Salazar, Krista West and Laura Rangel placed fifth with a time of 4:29.2 seconds.

Hereford finished fifth in the junior varsity competition, with nine freshmen among the 11 JV runners. Following are those who placed, listed by finish.

First--Melissa Shipp, 400 run, 66.25 seconds.

Second--Mindy Salazar, 400, 67.42; Robin Chandler, 300 hurdles, 54.39.

Third--Chandler, 100 hurdles, 18.52.

Fourth--Erin Dunn, 100 hurdles, 18.54; Becky Henderson, 400 run, 71.95; Karon Harder, 3,200 run, 14:45.86; Linda Martinez, 1,600 run, 6:33.6; Clarissa Ramirez, Discus, 83-7.

Fifth--Martinez, 3,200, 15:05.4; Harder, 1,600, 6:37.7; Crystal Kelley, triple jump, 28-11 1/2.

Sixth--Chandler, 200 run, 28.6.

The 1,600-meter relay team of Salazar, Henderson, Kelley and Shipp finished fifth.

Two boys place in San Angelo

The Hereford boys' track team found out what it's like to run with the big boys.

Hereford boys placed in only two events at the huge San Angelo Relays held Friday and Saturday. Leo Brown was fourth in the triple jump and Petey Colvin was fourth in the 100-meter dash.

The relays drew teams from all over north Texas. There were four divisions. Hereford was in Division II with 16 other 4A teams, including ones from Georgetown, Kerrville and Corpus Christi.

"It was a tough old meet, one we probably shouldn't have gone to," Coach Ron Young. Shotputter Stephen Blea, who has placed in several meets this season, threw the best he has all year, but he didn't place, Young said. The same was true for Monroe Timberlake in the discus.

"We went down there mostly for Leo, so he could see what he was going to run against at regionals" in the 110-meter high hurdles, Young said. A false start in the finals disqualified Brown. "He ran a 14.89 (seconds) in prelims, which means he was probably going to run a pretty good race."

Jason Breisch of Mineral Wells won the event with a time of 14.55. Anthony Casas of Dumas was third at 14.84.

Brown placed fourth in the triple jump with a leap of 42 feet, 5 1/4 inches. Estacado's Chike Lewis won that with a 46-8.

Colvin's time in the 100 of 11.06 seconds was fourth.

"We're looking at him probably finishing second behind (Ronald) Knighton of Borger at district," Young said.

Johnny Smith of Mineral Wells won the 100 in 10.75.

Hereford's eight points was good for a 14th-place tie with Granbury. Estacado won with 84 points, followed by Sweetwater with 72; (tie) Georgetown and Mineral Wells, 68; San Angelo Lake View, 61; Corpus Christi Tuloso-Midway, 50; Kerrville Tivy, 40; Dumas, 38; Brownwood, 16; Randall, 12; Frenship, 10; and (tie) Andrews and Caprock, 9. Lamesa scored three points.

Congratulations, Joey!

Bibbs' second-chance homer makes Herd settle for tie

Sometimes one little mistake means the difference between a win and a loss. Or a tie.

Hereford was up by a run in the bottom of the seventh inning against Estacado in Lubbock. Estacado's Tashani Bibbs hit a foul pop-up, but Hereford missed it and let it drop. On the next pitch, Bibbs homered.

The teams played another inning, but darkness ended the second game of the double-header before anyone scored. The game ended with the score tied 8-8. Hereford lost the first game 10-3.

Hereford's record is now 3-10-2. Estacado improves to 4-9-1.

Hereford had an early 3-0 lead in the second game. In the first inning, Rene Cano scored on Tab Hathaway's single. The Herd got two more in the third when, with the bases loaded, Michael Campos reached on catcher's interference. Richard Rodriguez knocked in a second run with a groundout.

In the bottom of the third, Estacado broke through with seven runs. Zebbie Letheridge's two-run homer helped the Matador rally, but two Hereford errors added to the damage.

"The errors seemed like they snowballed," Herd coach T.R. Sartor said. "It always seems to happen that way. If you do something, it seems to come back and haunt you."

Hereford came back in the fourth inning. The Herd sent eight men to the plate, and the first five scored. Cano walked, Fonzie Enriquez singled and Ruben Ramos knocked Cano in with a double. Hathaway walked to load the bases and Jake Head followed with a two-run double. Russ Watts had an RBI single, an Campos drove home the fifth run with a sacrifice fly.

Both teams went scoreless in their next three at-bats, until Bibbs' homer tied the game.

Sartor also praised the pitching of Andy Kalka in the second game. Though he gave up eight runs, only three were earned. He gave up seven hits, struck out seven and walked one in going the distance.

Richard Rodriguez started the first game and went five and a third innings. He gave up 10 runs, eight earned, on 10 hits and two walks. He struck out four Matadors. Ralph Holguin pitched the final two outs of the game.

Hereford scored two runs in the first inning. Ramos walked, and courtesy runner Chris Brummett scored on Hathaway's double. Head drove Hathaway in with another double.

Estacado answered with three runs in the bottom of the first. They kept up the offense with two in the third, two in the fourth and three in the sixth.

Hereford's other run came in the fourth. Enriquez walked, moved over on Ramos' single and scored on Hathaway's single.

The Herd was to play Canyon today at 4:30 p.m. in Canyon. Hereford opens the district season at 1 p.m. Saturday in Dumas.

Rickman wins all-around girl

Chasity Rickman took all-around girl honors at Saturday's Tri-State High School Rodeo Association rodeo in Adrian, while Samantha Winters won the goat tying event.

Rickman, who lives near Hereford but rodeos for the Adrian club, won both the poles and the barrel race, with times of 20.895 seconds and 18.251 seconds, respectively. She also was fourth in both the goat tying (11.485) and breakaway roping (4.799).

Winters, a member of the Hereford club, won goat tying with a time of 10.534, beating out Sonya Coy of Wheeler by just more than a quarter of a second.

Hereford's Justin Henderson was second in bareback with a score of 43 and eighth in bull riding with a 52. The TSHSRA also had a rodeo in Dumas Sunday. Rickman beat out Winters for second place in goat tying. Rickman's time was 9.333. Winters' was 9.505. Sonya Coy of Wheeler won with a 9.251.

Also on Sunday, Rickman was seventh in breakaway roping with a time of 3.539 seconds.

The TSHSRA comes to Hereford April 18 with performances at 10 a.m. and 3 p.m. Team roping will be at 3.

Pitman taking tee times

Pitman Municipal Golf Course will start taking tee times for weekends and holidays, it was announced Monday by Pro Dave Kaeshmeyer.

City players can reserve tee times eight days in advance, and out-of-town golfers can make them seven days ahead of time.

The golf pro also reported that John "Doc" Channer, an 80-year-old regular at the course, shot his age Monday. Last week, Don T. Martin, 78, recorded a three-over par 74 on the local course.

JV golfers play in tournaments

Hereford sent boys' junior varsity golf teams to two tournaments last week.

In Dalhart, a team of five freshmen took fifth with a total of 401. Carlos Mendez led by shooting a 96. Following him were Sabin Bradley and Joe Borden, each at 100; Clint Robison at 105; and Robert Brorman at 118.

In Olton, four JV players came in tenth at 395. Drew Radford shot 88, followed by Cameron Bell and Martin Carnahan with 101's and Dominique Dominguez with a 105.

Bell traded to White Sox

By The Associated Press

The American League West just keeps getting better and better. Now it has George Bell, too.

The former AL MVP was traded by the Chicago Cubs to the Chicago White Sox Monday for outfielder Sammy Sosa and reliever Ken Patterson.

Bell, a nine-year veteran, spent seven turbulent years with the Toronto Blue Jays before signing as a free agent with the Cubs in December 1990 for a guaranteed $9.8 million over three years.

"We got the guy we wanted," White Sox general manager Ron Schueler said. "We got the pure hitter."

Bell, 32, has averaged 154 games, 28 home runs and 100 RBIs during his eight full seasons in the major leagues. He won the MVP award in 1987 after hitting .308 with 47 home runs and 134 RBIs for the Blue Jays.

The left fielder hit .285 with 25 home runs and 86 RBIs for the Cubs last year.

"What we're giving up is an outstanding hitter," Cubs general manager Larry Himes said. "George will always be a good hitter, and he's going to fit in very well in the White Sox lineup."

Bell's addition bolsters a strong lineup that already includes Tim Lincecum, Steve Sax, Robin Ventura, Frank Thomas, Dan Pasqua, Carlton Fisk and Ozzie Guillen.

The White Sox finished 87-75 last season, second to Minnesota. Every club in the West last year was .500 or better.

A high-ranking Washington official, Jack Kemp, played as a pro quarterback for 11 seasons.

Irish luck into NIT finals with Virginia

NEW YORK (AP) - On Oscar night, Rick Majerus gave a great performance.

The burly Utah coach banged his fist on a scorer's table three times, slammed down a clipboard, punched in the air, shouted, stomped, stared and pointed at a referee. Silence of a lamb, certainly not.

For that 10-second clip, Majerus did not win an Academy Award. Instead, he earned a technical foul with 9.7 seconds left Monday night that enabled Notre Dame to rally past Utah 58-55 and reach the championship game of the NIT.

A foul called on Utah during a scramble in the middle prompted Majerus' outburst, and the resulting luck o' the Irish sent them into Wednesday night's game against Virginia for the National Invitation Tournament title.

Virginia, which beat Florida 62-56 in the first semifinal behind Bryant Stith's 27 points and 15 rebounds, routed Notre Dame 83-56 in Charlottesville, Va., on Jan. 18.

Still, all anyone wanted to ask MacLeod and Majerus about after their game was the ending of their game.

Utah (23-11) had taken its first lead of the night at 55-54 on Phil Dixon's 3-pointer with 34 seconds remaining. Notre Dame (18-14) missed a couple of shots, got the rebound both times and called a timeout with 12 seconds to go.

On the inbounds play under the basket, LaPhonso Ellis bounced the ball off his foot and Utah recovered. But Paul Afeaki was called for pushing Ellis, triggering Majerus' tantrum.

Tyson refuses to eat prison food

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) - Mike Tyson has declined to eat prison food and to cooperate with an educational assessment, two actions Indiana correctional officials say represent "pretty typical behavior" for a new inmate.

Prison officials confirmed Monday that the former heavyweight champion hadn't taken solid food during his first five days in prison and that he faces disciplinary action for giving his autograph to fellow inmates.

Tyson, 25, was sent to prison last Thursday after he was sentenced to six years for convictions for rape and criminal deviate conduct. He was found guilty of assaulting Desiree Washington, a Miss Black America beauty pageant contestant, in his Indianapolis hotel room last July.

His attorneys filed a partial transcript of Tyson's trial Monday with the Indiana Court of Appeals, which is considering the attorneys' request to set Tyson free on bond pending the appeal. No action was taken on the request Monday.

Kevin Moore, a Department of Correction spokesman, said Tyson has taken fluids but refused to eat solid food during his first five days at the Reception and Diagnostic Center in Plainfield, about 15 miles west of Indianapolis.

"He's not eaten since he's been at the facility. He's told the staff he wants to lose weight," said Moore. "He goes to the dining room with the other people assigned to his group and he interacts with people very well. He just doesn't want to eat."

Moore said counselors have talked to Tyson about the ramifications of failing to eat over a long period. The boxer told his attorney during his February trial that he was about 30 pounds heavier than his normal 220-pound fighting weight.

"Not eating is not atypical of people who are into the (prison) system for the first time," said Moore. "They lose their appetite because of the uncertainty."

Lee B. McTurnan, an attorney helping to represent Tyson in his appeal, said he knew nothing about his client's refusal to eat.

"No comment. I have no information on that," he said.

Moore said Tyson will go to a disciplinary hearing with the prison officer assigned to him today. Like all prisoners, the boxer was warned that it is a violation of prison rules to give anything of value to another inmate, and his autograph is considered valuable, said Moore.

"Mr. Tyson was specifically counseled that included his autograph, and we found a couple of offenders who had autographs," said Moore. "He said, 'Yeah, I gave them. That's what I always do.'"

As a result, Tyson received his first disciplinary write-up for what Moore called a minor offense. At the disciplinary hearing, Tyson faces sanctions ranging from a reprimand to loss of his good-time credit for days served so far, Moore said.

Jazz inch closer to Midwest title

By The Associated Press

Two years of frustration appear to be coming to an end for the Utah Jazz.

Having lost the Midwest Division on the final day the previous two seasons, the Jazz took a big step towards clinching the division title Monday night, beating the Milwaukee Bucks 120-100.

Jeff Malone scored 30 points on 15-for-22 shooting and Karl Malone had 27 points for the Jazz, who clinched a playoff berth and handed Milwaukee its 21st consecutive road loss. Utah, an NBA-best 32-4 at home, now leads two-time defending division champion San Antonio by 5 1/2 games.

Despite the 20-point final margin, the Jazz didn't take control until the third quarter, when they extended a one-point halftime lead to 82-65 with 1:09 left.

"We're not coming out with the right intensity, and we may be looking over our shoulders at San Antonio," Jeff Malone said. "We are getting into a relaxed mode, and we can't afford to do that. We need to keep playing well and get some momentum going into the playoffs."

"We need to play well every night out, and right now we're not," Jazz forward Blue Edwards said. "San Antonio is 5 1/2 games out and there's not a lot of pressure on us. It looks like we might win it easily, but anything can happen. The main thing for us is to keep winning and be ready for the playoffs."

Elsewhere in the NBA, it was New Jersey 117, San Antonio 109; Charlotte 123, Orlando 112; and Golden State 124, Philadelphia 106.

Olajuwon ready to play

HOUSTON (AP) - Coach Rudy Tomjanovich has two game plans for his Houston Rockets' showdown with the Los Angeles Lakers.

And that's one too many. Tomjanovich would like to use the plan that includes his power lineup with Hakeem Olajuwon anchored at center but he may have to do without his six-time All-Star for two more games.

Olajuwon, suspended on March 23 for refusing to suit up after a team doctor cleared him to play, declared his left hamstring healed Monday and returned to practice.

Olajuwon has been suspended for three games but league rules stipulate that a suspended player must stay out for five games and the Rockets have petitioned the leagues' other 25 teams to waive the rule.

If 21 teams do not approve of Olajuwon's early return, the six-time All-Star must miss Tuesday night's game against the Lakers and Thursday's game against Denver, before returning against Orlando on Saturday.

CLASSIFIED ADS

Classified advertising rates are based on 15 cents a word for first insertion ($3.00 minimum), and 11 cents for second publication and thereafter. Rates below are based on consecutive issue, no copy change, straight word ads.

TIMES	RATE	MIN
1 day per word	.15	3.00
2 days per word	.26	5.20
3 days per word	.37	7.40
4 days per word	.48	9.60
5 days per word	.59	11.80

If you run ads in five consecutive issues with NO changes, you get the same ad in the Reach 4 More free. The regular charge for that ad would be $4.00.

CLASSIFIED DISPLAY

Classified display rates apply to all other ads not set in solid word lines those with captions, bold or larger type, special paragraphing; all capital letters. Rates are $4.15 per column inch; $3.45 an inch for consecutive additional insertions.

LEGALS

Ad rates for legal notices are same as for classified display.

ERRORS

Every effort is made to avoid errors in word ads and legal notices. Advertisers should call attention to any errors immediately after the first insertion. We will not be responsible for more than one incorrect insertion. In case of errors by the publishers, an additional insertion will be published.

Yesterday's Cryptoquote: A MAN HAS MADE GREAT PROGRESS IN CUNNING WHEN HE DOES NOT SEEM TOO CLEVER TO OTHERS. — LA BRUYERE

Ask Dr. Lamb

DEAR DR. LAMB: I have had ulcerative colitis since age 26. I'm 30 now, and my condition is not as severe as it was in the beginning. Recently I read that ulcerative colitis is not caused by stress. When I first discovered that I had ulcerative colitis and was hospitalized for it, I really believed that it was stress-related and still do.

By watching my diet, exercising, changing jobs and letting my wife do our bills, my life is a whole lot more pleasant. At its peak of pain I was having as many as 20 to 22 bowel movements a day — a roll of toilet paper a day. Now I'm at three bowel movements a day. The last time I was on medication was over three years ago.

I started working for another company with the same job title as my former job. The only difference: My new boss is a factual, appreciative person. My old boss was over-demanding, constantly threatening my job security and rarely appreciative of my work — a basically difficult woman. I have to say that stress was very influential in my ulcerative colitis. No one in my family going back four generations on both sides had ulcerative colitis. I would appreciate your comments.

DEAR READER: You are probably dealing with a problem in semantics. Stress does not cause ulcerative colitis. The tendency or genes for it are there. BUT stress is frequently the factor that precipitates the attack. I don't doubt for a moment the job situation you described was a major factor in causing you to have an acute attack. It is quite important to control stress in patients who have ulcerative colitis.

I don't believe there is one ulcerative colitis personality, as was once suggested. People with all different types of personalities have ulcerative colitis.

I would have sent you a free copy of my new Special Report 122, Is it Ulcerative Colitis or Crohn's Disease?, for more information as you requested, but your address was not on your letter. Those who want this special report can send $3 with a long, stamped (52 cents), self-addressed envelope for it to THE HEALTH LETTER/122, P.O. Box 122, Riverton, NJ 08077.

Ulcerative colitis may be so mild that it is not recognized. There are probably a lot of people who have this disease and it is never diagnosed. They may have only several bowel movements a day or minor complaints that do not cause them to seek attention. Others may have severe diarrhea that requires hospitalization just to replace the fluid and salts that are lost. Still others have severe hemorrhage with the attacks.

DEAR DR. LAMB: The other day I was talking to a friend of mine. I was talking fast because I was excited. When I took a short break, I felt something in my throat. I had not had anything to eat at all that morning. I went to the restroom to cough it up and there were about four or five white balls in my hand. They were very small and had a horrible odor. A couple of days later the same thing happened. I notice this occurs when I am talking vigorously. What in the world is making these white balls appear?

DEAR READER: They are probably food particles. The most likely explanation is that you have crypts in your tonsils. Food particles lodge in these, and yes, they are acted on by bacteria. When you are talking fast and squeeze the tonsils, the food particles are dislodged. Use a flashlight and look in the back of your throat to see if you can see white particles in your tonsils. These can cause bad breath. Ask your doctor to check your throat.

DEAR DR. LAMB: I drink over six quarts of liquids a day: skim milk, diet soda, water, fruit juice and tea. I am thirsty all the time. My throat gets sore and I start coughing if I haven't had any liquid in the past hour. I carry a can of diet soda in my purse at all times in case of emergency. I also eat a lot of soup and ice cream.

I restrict my liquid intake for an hour or so before going to sleep to keep from having to get up. My doctor says I'm in good health. If I had diabetes, wouldn't it show up in the urine and blood tests? What could be wrong?

DEAR READER: Your story suggests you may have diabetes insipidus, not diabetes mellitus (sugar diabetes). It is caused by a lack of the antidiuretic hormone that prevents your kidneys from eliminating lots of water. Then a person drinks to replace the water lost through the kidneys. Ask your doctor to check you for this. It is unrelated to sugar diabetes.

Diabetes insipidus can also be caused by a lack of the kidney to respond to the hormone or a defect in the kidneys' ability to concentrate urine.

New by-laws accepted by Fire Department Auxiliary

Members of the Hereford Fire Department Ladies Auxiliary accepted new by-laws when they met March 24 at the Hereford Fire Department.

With President Dee Hamilton presiding, the minutes of the previous meeting were read by Lina Ruiz, secretary, and the treasurer's report was given by Lisa Paetzold.

Krista Farrell finalized the details for ordering convention T-shirts. New caps will also be ordered for the convention.

Several announcements were made. Pumper team practice recently began and will continue until the April convention. Also, it was noted that the Hereford Police Department Ladies Auxiliary extended an invitation to the group to participate in a self-defense program in April.

Cindy Henson provided refreshments to Hamilton, Ruiz, Paetzold, Farrell, Wanda Spain, Marva Spain, Ginger Gaddy, Aida Lemus, Trena Shelburne, Diane Riddle, Leticia Valdez, Anita Frausto, Kathy Lucero and Jenny Harbison.

Hargrave gives protection tips to Cultural E.H. Club

Jewel Hargrave presented a program on "It Can Happen To You: Tips For Personal Protection" when members of the Cultural Extension Homemakers Club met March 17 at the Hereford Senior Citizens Center.

Perry Keyes reported on "The Two Most Dangerous Hours of Your Day" and Fannie Townsend gave "Tips On Driving."

Townsend voiced the prayer and Vernis Parsons led the pledges to the flags. For the opening exercise, Keyes read "Tonic For the Soul" and Hargrave read an Ann Landers column. Roll call was answered with "personal tips for safety."

During the business meeting with President Keyes presiding, the minutes of the previous meeting were read by Townsend. Parsons reported sending four cards, and the council report was given by Wilma Goettsch. She reminded members of the district meeting April 7 in Amarillo.

Keyes announced important dates that have been scheduled: Council meeting and covered dish luncheon, April 27; 4-H County Roundup, April 13; and the Sew New Workshop at the Community Center, 7 p.m., April 28.

Goettsch noted that the Golden Plains birthday party is planned April 17. She, along with Parsons and Hargrave, will furnish the cake and punch.

In honor of the observance of birthdays celebrated this year by members, Winnie Wiseman, Parsons, Edith Hunter, Goettsch and Townsend, refreshments were served by Hargrave.

Those present were Keyes, Townsend, Hargrave, Parsons, Hunter, Edna Marnell, Naomi Hare, Goettsch, S.T. Walton and Daisy Steele.

Annual High Plains Regional Science Fair set Saturday

Amarillo College will host the annual High Plains Regional Science Fair from 8 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Saturday, April 4, in Carter Gym.

More than 300 students in grades 3 through 12 from schools in the top 26 Panhandle counties are expected to compete in three divisions: elementary, junior and senior levels in 13 categories. The categories include behavioral and social sciences, physical sciences, biological sciences, environmental sciences, computer science, mathematics and medicine.

The fair is open to the public from 2:30 to 4:30 p.m. with no charge for admission. An awards assembly will follow.

Ribbons will be presented to first, second and third place winners in each of the 13 categories along with various special awards offered by the Army, Marines, Eastman Kodak and professional societies. Trophies will be presented to the school with the most exhibitors and for the school with the greatest percentage of winners.

The top two winners in the senior division will have the opportunity to exhibit their projects at the International Science and Engineering Fair (ISEF) in Nashville, Tenn. Air transportation will be provided by American Airlines.

Sponsors of the High Plains regional Science Fair include Mason & Hanger-Silas Mason Co., Inc., Crouse-Hinds Electrical Co., Institute of Electrical and Electronic Engineers, Amarillo Globe News, ASARCO and the Society of Petroleum Engineers.

Ann Landers

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Credit card interest rates are a matter of considerable economic and political interest these days. Should the rates be forced down by Congress from the current 20 percent levels to perhaps 14 percent?

May 1, a professor of finance at a major university, suggest two better alternatives?

1. Pay off the FULL amount owed every month. Never let a balance remain on which you will be charged interest. Even 14 percent is too high for most consumers. If you don't have enough monthly income to do this, select the next option:

2. Get your scissors, cut up ALL your credit cards and cancel ALL your charge accounts. Then pay cash for all purchases (except homes and cars). If you can't pay cash, don't buy it. Use your head. If you charge something you still have to pay for it one month later, or stretch out the payments and get stuck with high interest charges. Paying cash would:

a. speed up your interest-free payments by one month.

b. delay retailers' sales by one month.

c. decrease interest revenues to lenders—banks, finance companies and department stores.

d. help you stay out of financial difficulty and perhaps even bankruptcy.

e. allow you to sleep better.

I offer this advice to my students every year. Nobody yet has accused me of encouraging un-American buying habits—Professor Peter Rosko, University of Minnesota suggestion that makes the most sense for people who always seem to be in debt is suggestion No. 2. Cut up all your credit cards.

DEAR PROFESSOR: The

The main function of a credit card is to allow you to leave your cash at home while shopping. People who charge because they don't have enough money to pay for purchases, thinking "next month it will be easier," make a big mistake. By the time "next month" rolls around you don't have much left and before you know it, you are paying horrendous interest rates and your "bargain" costs you double. Cut the darned things up and liberate yourselves, folks.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: After seeing the letter from "Any Woman" about the Desert Storm soldier, I had to write.

Before the Gulf War, my children received a letter from their father, letting them know "Daddy" was going to Saudi Arabia. He said, "I haven't been a good father but please write to me anyway." I told them it was up to them if they wrote to him or not. They chose not to write.

After a couple of months, I sat the kids down again and asked them to write their dad one time and see if he would answer. I did it more for the kids' sake than for his. I was afraid that if something happened to their father and he didn't make it home, they would feel guilty for not writing.

If he only knew what it took to get the youngest one to write. It was like pulling teeth. The oldest one's letter sounded as if he was writing to a stranger. In a way, he was.

Well, "Daddy" has been back in the states for several months and has made no effort to contact his children. I tell the mit's his loss, not theirs, but isn't it sad?—Midwest Mom

DEAR MOM: Yes, but better no contact than showing up occasionally, creating ambivalence and false hopes. Count your blessings.

Do you have questions about sex, but no one to talk to? Ann Landers' booklet, "Sex and the Teenager," is frank and to the point. Navy Airman Apprentice Kyle C. Walterscheid, son of Kenneth A. Walterscheid of 201 Elm, is currently in the Persian gulf aboard the aircraft carrier USS America, homeported in Norfolk, Va. and is in the middle of a six-month deployment.

Over the past couple of months, the carrier and its crew spent the holiday in Naples, Italy, where some of the crewmen helped to rehabilitate a shelter for the homeless, donating more than 1,000 hours to the project.

His ship then travelled to Souda Bay, Crete, becoming only the second U.S. carrier to visit the port in over 20 years. Afterwards, Walterscheid spent some time in Athens, Greece, where the carrier hosted a parade, that included a performance by their 65-member Marine Corps detachment. More than 200 international dignitaries attended a reception and toured the carrier and its aircraft following the parade.

Most recently, Walterscheid visited Antalya, Turkey, for a five-day port visit, before transiting the Suez Canal. The USS America is on its second major deployment in less than a year and was operating in the Mediterranean when reassigned to the Gulf.

DETROIT (AP)—Aretha Franklin threw herself a birthday party and invited some fellow recording artists to perform.

The Duke Ellington Orchestra and singers Keith Washington, Shanice and Dee Harvey were among 125 people on the guest list for the party at Franklin's suburban home on Wednesday.

Her age? "Why, 35, of course," Franklin said.

Early Childhood Education Clinic

April 7, 1992

Hereford Community Center

Hereford Independent School District's Special Education Department is offering a FREE clinic for children 3, 4 and 5 years of age. This clinic is to identify children who may need early classroom experiences because they seem to have problems in--

- HEARING • TALKING • SEEING
- PLAYING LIKE OTHER CHILDREN
- LEARNING ABOUT THEIR WORLD
- USING THEIR HANDS

or who may have a PHYSICAL HANDICAP.

Certified specialists will be working with children at the Community Center on April 7th from 9:00 a.m. to 6:00 p.m. Appointments are required and can be made by calling 364-5941.

A parent or designated adult will need to accompany the child to the screening to provide permission and needed developmental information.

If you need additional information, call Nena Veazey at 364-5941.

Bride honored recently

Kristie Tidmore feted with bridal shower

Kristie Allison Tidmore was honored at a bridal shower March 14 in the home of Cindy Fangman, 115 Pecan. The honoree and Jeffrey Tidmore were married Feb. 21.

Guests were greeted by the honoree; her mother, Kathy Allison; and her mother-in-law, Lanita Tidmore of Canyon.

Kyla McDowell invited guests to register and Kirsten Abney served refreshments of fresh strawberries, sausage egg casserole, homemade cinnamon rolls, almond tea and coffee. The table was covered with white Battenburg lace and centered with a navy and burgundy silk floral arrangement. A silver service was used.

A lawyer's bookcase was presented to the bride by the hostesses, Cindy Fangman, Helen Ann McWhorter and Janet Brumley.

A simple, but soothing, gargle can be made by dissolving a teaspoon each of table salt and baking soda in a pint of water.
