

Three More U. S. Diplomats Charged As Spies By Soviets

Total Of 7 In 3 Months

By PRESTON GROVER

MOSCOW (AP) — Three more U. S. Embassy staff members were accused by the Russians Saturday of a part in a spy plot as dramatic as a pocket-size thriller. That boosted to seven the number of Americans to face espionage charges here in the last three months.

Pravda published the accusations, complete with a declaration that charcoal markings on a Moscow boulevard lamp post were the means for the relay of information.

The Soviet Communist party newspaper illustrated them with two photographs, apparently taken with concealed police cameras, purporting to show two Embassy staff members in the act of working out a system for collecting Soviet science secrets.

Headlined "red-handed," its obviously official name, it named: Cat. Alexis H. Davidson, 31, Atlanta, Ga., a physician attached to the embassy as an assistant air attaché to permit him to act as doctor for the embassy.

Robert K. German, 35, Dallas, Tex., a second secretary.

Hugh Montgomery, 39, Springfield, Mass., embassy security officer.

It appeared likely all will be put on the diplomatic blacklist and obliged to leave the Soviet Union.

The four previously named have already left. They are:

Chief Raymond S. Smith, 41, Brooklyn, N.Y., assistant military attaché, ousted Oct. 8.

Kenneth S. Mithun, San Francisco, first secretary of the embassy's political reporting section, ousted Oct. 16.

Richard Karl Jacob, 26, Egg Harbor City, N.J., secretary, ousted Oct. 15.

Rodney W. Carlson, 30, Alhambra, S.D., assistant agricultural attaché, who left voluntarily Friday after Embassy officials decided a reference to him in a spy story by the Soviet news agency Tass impaired his usefulness as a staff member.

All three named Saturday were accused of espionage, contacts with other U. S. personnel, 45, a Soviet scientific worker, to pipe scientific and military secrets out of the Soviet Union.

The Russians had also linked the names of Jacob and Carlson with Penkovsky, who was arrested Dec. 11.

According to Pravda, this is how the spying operation was supposed to work:

Secret scientific, technical, political and military data was available to Penkovsky because he was a consultant guide for foreign visitors traveling through Soviet scientific institutions.

When he got secret material he was to write it on paper with visible ink put it in a mailbox and hang it on a book labeled a notebook containing the story of building on Pushkinsky Street near the center of town.

When the information was there, he would mark a circle with charcoal on lamp post No. 35 near a bus stop on Kutuzovskiy Prospekt. There is a row of apartments here, many occupied by Americans. Then he would telephone either Davidson or Montgomery. When they answered, he simply put down the receiver, without speaking. This was repeated. Then they would go look at the lamp post for the circle and next day would get the information from behind the radiator.

If Penkovsky, who was called Alex, was having trouble, he would put a cross on the lamp post. Then he would telephone Davidson and Montgomery. But instead of speaking, would blow three times into the mouthpiece.

If the news was good, Jacob and German were to go over to a certain book store and see that everything was all right. Then Jacob would collect the match box in the building around the corner.

When the secret information was picked up, the Americans would make a black smudge on a door in the fish department of a certain food store. Then Penkovsky would know the transfer was complete.

Then, one time—according to Pravda—the police sprung a trap. "What happened after that was not planned by Mr. Jacob, Mr. German, Mr. Davidson or any other of the misers," it said. "New people appeared on the scene who acted so quickly that Richard Jacob had no time to get away."

Mild Weather To Endure For Texas

By The Associated Press

Temperatures Saturday with generally mild weather and the weather bureau said Sunday should be about the same with a little more sunshine.

Light rain and fog shrouded much of East and North Texas Saturday morning. The fog was so dense that Fort Worth's Southwest International Airport had to shut down for three hours, starting at 5 a.m.

Except for extreme Southeast Texas, where light rain continued to fall, generally clear skies prevailed during the afternoon.

Temperatures were mostly in the 60s.

Man Slays Daughter, Wife, Self

NOCONA, Tex. (AP) — A Nocona floor finisher, using a .30 caliber rifle, shot his estranged wife and a 14-year-old daughter to death today, then turned the gun on himself.

Peace Justice Pete McGuire returned the rifle after the three bodies were found in a blood-spattered bedroom of the woman's home.

The dead were identified as T. J. Horn, his estranged wife, Frances, and their daughter, Pamela, 14.

Neighbors told police of seeing Horn, who operated a painting and floor sanding company, enter the home about 6 a.m. They said about 15 minutes later they heard muffled sounds that could have been shots.

The bodies were discovered shortly after 10 a.m. by a Mrs. Horn's brother, Jake Ewing of Ringgold, and City Marshal Roy Epps. Epps forced his way through a back door after Ewing called him to the house.

Ewing was called to the home by a woman who was to drive the Horn girl to nearby Henrietta where she was to play in a high school basketball tournament.

Ginning Pace Up Sharply

Clear skies and improving weather conditions have caused a decided increase in cotton ginning and picking in Scurry County.

In the past two weeks 4,918 bales have been ginned compared to the previous two-week period which saw only 2,488 bales ginned in Scurry County's nine gins. The total for the season is now 21,336.

Here are the totals reported at noon Saturday by the various gins: Coqui, 5,204; China Grove, 4,819; Paymaster, 2,921; Indale, 2,825; Hernandez, 2,251; Planters, Snyder, 1,880; Layfield, Ira, 1,100; Planters, Dunn, 1,065; and Planters in Fluvanna, 351.

Most gins are working around the clock, and estimates of the amount of the harvest ginned run from "a little less than half" in the southeastern part of the county, to "just well started" in the north west.

R. A. Hardee Rites Today

Funeral services will be held at 3 p.m. this afternoon for Richard Arthur "Dick" Hardee, 63, of Dunn.

Mr. Hardee died unexpectedly early Thursday morning at Cogdell Hospital.

Services will be held at the First Baptist Church with Dr. Jimmy Nelson, minister of the Colonial Hill Baptist Church officiating. He will be assisted by the Rev. Alex Campbell of the Dunn Baptist Church and Rev. R. O. Browder of Big Spring.

Burial will be in Hillside Memorial Gardens under the direction of Bell Funeral Home.

The crash plunged a wide area into darkness in this suburb, a part of the City of Los Angeles.

Six Civil Aeronautics Board investigators, with more on route from other field offices, probed the smoldering wreckage strewn Sunday, seeking the cause of the crash. Firemen pried into the ruins, looking for possibly many bodies.

The Flying Tiger Line offered food, clothing and shelter to half a dozen families reported by the Red Cross to have lost all or most of their possessions in the tragedy.

SANTA, SAMMIE—Sammie Jarrell of 2806 Forty-second Street leans coily on Santa's shoulder in this shot snapped at her front door entrance and reminds everyone that it's not too late to enter the Jaycee-sponsored Christmas Lighting Contest. Three prizes in two divisions—outdoor lighting and religious and window decoration—will be given upon completion of judging December 20-21. Mrs. Jarrell's door is not eligible for a prize since her husband is a Jaycee, but she decorated the door as treat for the kiddies.

Probers Seek Cause Of California Crash

NORTH HOLLYWOOD, Calif. (AP)—Civil Aeronautics Board investigators dug through charred wreckage Saturday, trying to learn why a four-engine cargo airplane crashed in flames in a San Fernando Valley residential area Friday night. Nine persons died.

The Flying Tiger Line Super Constellation, arriving after a regular daily flight from Boston and Chicago, tore down cracking power lines and smashed or burned nine houses and two industrial plants. Two houses were destroyed.

The plane, flying eastward, crashed at 10:15 p.m. about a mile short of its goal—Lockheed Terminal. Its gas tanks exploded, flames engulfing a house. One engine fell to a truck.

The Constellation, the 250-ton plane, crashed for about 300 feet, battering into the bathroom of a home where a couple—unhurt—watched television.

Some of the wreckage was scattered and burned, making their counting difficult. Coroner's aides awaited dental charts and other clues to identification.

Police Sgt. T. H. Geisler said, "We have four female bodies and five male bodies—parts of bodies. We're making nine death reports."

The coroner's office said, however, it had only eight bodies—four males, four females.

A Flying Tiger spokesman said four men aboard the plane were presumed dead although the coroner's office had identified only the body of Flight Engineer Jack W. Grey, 33, San Mateo, Calif.

The airline spokesman said the others were Capt. Karl C. Rader, 38, Burlingame, Calif., pilot, a veteran of 12 years with the company; Captain David L. Crane, 25, Compton, Calif.; and John A. Olsen, of nearby Sunland, a passenger. Olsen's wife Janet works in the accounting department of Flying Tiger's nearby Burbank office.

Flying Tiger said Violet Blazek, 37, Chicago, also was tentatively identified as having been on the plane. Mrs. Blazek was the mother of Mrs. Jack Elliott of nearby Northridge, wife of a Flying Tiger employee, and had a pass to ride the plane here.

It was the line's fourth crash this year. A transport carrying 107 persons vanished in the Pacific last spring. Another later crashed in the Atlantic, killing 29 of 75 aboard. A crash off Cold Bay, Alaska, killed one man.

Search and rescue service said its search planes reported no sign of life at the crash scene. He said the air force therefore decided against the risky operation of parachuting rescuers into the jungle or dropping supplies.

Ground teams were hacking through the jungle toward the wreckage, he said.

Communications in the Amazon area are poor. This apparently accounted for erroneous announcements by the Air Ministry and the airline that the plane had been located Friday. The Air Ministry said its false report that all aboard had survived a forced landing on a lake shore—came from its Search and Rescue Service based in Manaus.

SNYDER AREA OIL

Continental Oil Company staked location in Northeast Scurry County for a 7,200-foot Ellenberger Wildcat 14, 4 miles west of production in the Ocho Juan pool.

It is No. 1 Jessie Koonsman, 467 feet from north and west lines of section 138, block 2, H&TC survey and five miles north of Camp Springs.

In Southwest Scurry County, 10 miles southwest of Snyder, Scurry Mount Oil Company, Inc., will attempt to quadruple complete No. 13, W. R. Sterling in the multiphase Sharon Ridge field from the San Antonio, Clear Fork, Wichita, Albany and Wolfcamp.

If successful, the Wolfcamp will be made into a salt water disposal zone.

The project is bottomed at 4,800 feet and has 2 1/2 million stringers set as follows: San Antonio at 2,010 feet; Clear Fork at 3,670 feet; Wichita, Albany at 3,675 feet; and Wolfcamp at 4,800 feet.

The Wichita Albany has been perforated at 3,452.3-3,522 feet and fractured with 40,000 gallons, and the Wolfcamp at 4,520-4,640 feet and acidized with 2,000 gallons.

The Clear Fork zone was completed through perforations at 2,978-3,182 feet. On potential it pumped 30 barrels of 20% gravity oil plus one per cent water in 24 hours. Gas-oil ratio was 81:1.

The 1700-foot San Andres zone was completed through perforations at 1,775-9 feet. On potential it pumped 30 barrel of 22.8 gravity oil plus 64 per cent water daily with a gas-oil ratio of 301:1. Testing of the other zones continues.

The No. 13 Sterling is a north-west offset to the discovery well of the Wichita Albany pay of the Sharon Ridge field and 700 feet from north and 838 feet from west lines of the northwest quarter of section 130, block 97, H&TC survey.

Texas Inc. No. 42 M. A. Fuller, a Scurry County well, was plugged and abandoned at a depth of 8,300 feet. The venture is located 13 miles northwest of Snyder, 660 feet from north and east lines of section 569, block 97, H&TC survey.

In Southeast Fisher County, 7 1/2 miles southwest of the Neuman (Swastika sand) pool, James G. Brown and Associates of Midland have staked a 4,100-foot Swastika wildcat.

It is No. 1 J. H. Hoover, 990 feet from north and 1,380 feet from east lines of section 12, block 21, T&P survey and seven miles north of Sweetwater.

First Engineering Company of Abilene scheduled the Fisher well to be 2,600 feet to test the Cisco, five miles south of Sylvester and 1 1/2 miles south of the South Sylvester (Noodle Creek line) well.

It is No. 2 A. Huddleston, 330 feet from south-east east lines of section 13, block 33, T&P survey and 1 1/2 miles southwest of its No. 1 A. Huddleston, active recently wildcat.

In Southeast Fisher County five miles south of Sylvester, First Engineering Company of Abilene will re-enter and clean up to 3,000 feet for a test of the Flippen line in No. 1 A. Huddleston.

It is a former 6,950-foot Ellenberger failure, 467 feet from north and 3,000 feet from east lines of section 5, block 1, H1&B survey and 5 1/2 miles southwest of the opener of the South Sylvester Noodle Creek line pool, which formerly produced from the Flippen line.

The project originally was drilled by American Liberty Oil Company and General Crude Oil Company as No. 1 Huddleston and plugged in 1948. It was re-entered by Dugger and Herring and others as No. 2 Huddleston and plugged on the second time in 1961 after tests of the Flippen were unsuccessful.

Continental Oil Co. completed No. 1 Roger Smith, section 18, block 3, T&P survey, Roger Dunn, Noodle Creek field, project six miles north of Rotan.

Daily potential was 10-11 barrels of 41 gravity oil on a pump. Production is from two perforations at 2,743 feet. Well was acidized with 14,000 gallons.

Hoscard and Fitzerald of Abilene staked the Kent County wildcat 15 miles northwest of Rotan and contracted to 5,600 feet to test the Wolfcamp.

It is No. 1 A. Robert F. Frost, 660 feet from south and 1,960 feet from east lines of section 33, block K, J. B. Rector survey and 6 1/2 miles northwest of the Rough Draw Noodle Creek pool.

Tenneco Corporation No. 1 Paul Adams, Northeast Hoscard County wildcat, 18 miles northwest of Big Spring, has been completed as a Canyon reef discovery for a calculated 54,000 barrels of oil per acre.

Geage is based on an actual flow of 91.66 barrels of 43 gravity oil through a 20x4 inch choke, in four hours. Gas-oil ratio measured, 1:117:1. No water was produced.

Production is from perforations at 9,143-92 feet which were treated with 250 gallons of mud acid.

The project is bottomed at 10,017 feet and plugged back to 9,150 feet.

It is 1,900 feet from north and 660 feet from east lines of section 42, block 33, T&P survey, 2 1/2 miles northeast of a recent Strauss discovery and 1 1/2 miles southeast of a depleted Canyon reef discovery in the Southwest Modesta pool.

Snyder Public Schools will present the annual Christmas vocal concert at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in the high school auditorium.

For more than a decade the choir from all schools in the city have participated in the program of old and new Christmas music.

The program this year will consist of music from the masters, as well as music from the stage and even a few novelty tunes of the season.

Featured on the program will be the 150 voices of the combined sixth grade choirs from all elementary schools, all choirs from the junior high schools, and the choir from Snyder Senior High School.

In all, more than 400 boys and girls will present their vocal talents on the program.

The combined elementary school choirs will appear first on the program. They will be followed by Lamar Junior High, Travis Junior High and Snyder Senior High, in that order.

The public is invited to attend the program and there is no admission charge.

LIGHTEST MEXICO

BY JOHN ABNEY

MEXICO CITY Sitting around on a gorgeous Fall afternoon in this land of Eternal Spring chatting with Mr. Francisco Gonzales de la Vega, who is the boss of the government Tourist Department.

And Mr. Gonzales de la Vega mentioned that while Hans Christian Andersen was pretty active in the Fairy Tale industry, Mexico has a volume of miscellaneous items about witches and talking animals in situations that have a happy ending.

Naturally, there is a moral to all stories and while Don Pancho did not go into this angle, he did relate a mighty interesting tale which came from the Quintana Roo Territory.

It seems there was a wealthy farmer with three sons and a tremendous cornfield which was suffering heavy damage every night at the hands of a mysterious beast of some sort.

So the farmer told his sons he would make a wealthy and respected citizen of the one who caught the corn burler and brought it to dead or alive.

The oldest brother got first try and he loaded his shotgun and rode his horse to the cornfield on a bright, moonlight night just like John Wayne searching for the Comanches.

All he found was a singing frog at a well in the middle of the field and when the frog offered to show the big brother who was eating all the corn, brother got so furious he threw the frog in the well and rode away.

And of course, he got back home at sundown with nothing but saddle sores and a vile disposition.

Then the second son went through the same routine and came to the same well where the frog was in the second act of Aida. Same old story. The boy told the frog to powder out and when the frog insisted he could help, the son said something rude and threw him in the well and walked around the corn field.

All around him he could see tremendous damage and piles of corn and suddenly, a big fluffy bird flew up and the lad shot, gunning it on the south side as it went flying north.

So he picked up a hat full of feathers, which he took home to his father but Dad was a practical man and refused to settle for anything less than whatever the feathers grew on.

Out went the youngest boy, same route, same well, same frog doing a passable job on the Barber of Seville. However, this youngster was friendly and listened with great interest to the frog.

"What would you like, kid?" the frog asked "Fame? Wealth? The party who is eating up your Dad's corn?"

And the boy said, "On sir, I would love to have a beautiful wife and a good house and save Pop's corn. If you could help me I will give you part of my supper and take you everywhere with me."

Of course, you promise a frog all this and he will do anything. It wound up that after supper the frog led the boy to one corner of the field and there was this bird (minus a few feathers) eating away. And just as the boy was signing in, the bird said for Heaven's sake don't shoot because she was not really a bird but had been changed to one by a wicked witch.

Last seen, the boy and the bird and the frog met Dad at home and the boy explained the bird had been eating corn but said she was not a bird and nothing was her fault. Then the frog changed her into her true form, which was along Miss Universe lines, and she explained how people under evil spells are not responsible for their acts.

The boy and his ex-feathered friend got married and the frog built them a beautiful mansion and lived happily ever after with them.

Moral (as far as I can see): Women may be experts at rationalizing but they are still for the birds.

Fluvanna's FFA Going To Banquet

Plans have been announced for the Fluvanna Chapter of the Future Farmers of America to attend the district banquet in Sweetwater on Dec. 20. The group will leave at 6 o'clock Thursday evening.

Officers of the club are Charles Barryhill, president; Bobby Stansell, vice president; Dennis Ball, secretary; Dennis Beley, reporter; Richard Contreras, treasurer; and Joe Beaver, sentinel. Other club members making the trip will be Tommy Hall, Joe Stansell, Daryl Shafer and Mike Landrum.

Accompanying the students will be Mr. and Mrs. James Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Helm along with Mr. and Mrs. Clay Reeder who are accompanying their daughter, La Rue.

Miss Reeder, the chapter sweetheart, will compete with 12 other representatives of Lone Wolf district chapters for the title of district sweetheart.

A state FFA executive will speak at the banquet and banners will be presented to winners of last year's judging contest. Plaques will also be awarded to the Lone Star farmer, the Star chapter farmer, and the Star Greenhand Farmer.

The Fluvanna FFA chapter at present is raising nine calves, 60 lambs, and 4 pigs.

IT'S ACTION! CAMERA!—Raymond Graves Jr. shoots the shepherd scene for the Grace Lutheran Church's own color Christmas movie, "The Tree," on the Roy Reeder ranch. The film will be presented as a feature of the annual Christmas program of the church tonight at 7 o'clock. "The Tree" was written for the church by Mrs. Roland Graves of Brownwood.

Grace Lutheran Produces Movie

When Grace Lutheran Church presents its annual Christmas program at 7 o'clock tonight, the youth of the church will actually see themselves in the church's own film production, "The Tree."

Rehearsals and shooting of scenes for the color movie have been underway since October.

The film story, "The Tree," was written by Mrs. Roland Graves of Brownwood. Mrs. Graves is a writer of radio and television comedy, and an employee in that capacity by a Brownwood radio station.

Included in this year's story also is a poem by Mrs. Graves, "The Tree." Three years ago she wrote a playlet for the local church, "The Little Gold Coin."

"The Tree" is the story of a destitute family at Christmas who have been brought new hope and faith for the future by a strange, miraculous tree—a tree that might have been in the stable at Bethlehem.

Director and narrator for the movie is the Rev. Walter L. Lentz. Raymond Graves Jr. is cameraman. Charles Turner is director of music and choir. Charles Littlejohn is organist, and the casting committee is composed of Mrs. Charles Littlejohn, Mrs. Charles Turner, Mrs. Fred Marr and Mrs. Raymond Graves Jr.

The costume committee is composed of casting committee members, along with Mrs. Roy Darden, Mrs. Elmer Eckert, Mrs. Calvin Lange, Mrs. Gale Finke, Mrs. Bob Fime and Mrs. J. C. Schwartz.

In filming the movie, the pastoral and nativity scenes were filmed in the Fluvanna community on the Roy Reeder ranch and the Tenner Lohse farm.

As in years past, the youth of the church will bring an offering or gift of canned food or fruit to be presented to the Goodfellows.

The special offering at the program will be to defray cost of production of the film and also for the congregation's current fund.

Housing Program Starts In Mexico

SAHAGUN, Mexico (AP)—President Adolfo Lopez Mateos inaugurated Friday a housing development, costing $2,800,000 to house 324 families of this huge industrial area as part of his social security plans.

Lopez Mateos promised to extend the benefits of the social security system before the end of his regime.

The new development is equipped with a school for 500 children, two laboratories, a technical school, kindergarten, sports center and other facilities.

Borger Bops Lufkin, 28-0

DENTON (AP)—Unbeaten Borger unveiled a relentless ground attack Saturday to crush Lufkin 28-0 and surge into the finals of Class AAAA schoolboy football.

Twice delivering a long-distance knockout punch, the crippled but still powerful Bulldogs methodically punched across touchdowns in each period to extend their winning streak to 13.

The red-shirted West Texans, evading their first state title untested, leashed a trio of charging backfield acres to tear down the stubborn Lufkin resistance.

Sophomore speedster David Dillingham first lighted the scoreboard five minutes deep in the game on an electrifying 71-yard scamper that originated through the middle of the Lufkin line.

A C. Tillman, sidelined eventually with a hip injury, streaked 40 yards in the second period to give the favored Bulldogs a 13-0 lead at halftime.

Demons Warp Jacksonville By 42-12

WICHITA FALLS (AP)—The Demons Demons, defending Class AAA schoolboy champions, crushed Jacksonville 42-12 Saturday and rolled into the finals.

The Demons scored 28 points in the third quarter to make it a rout.

The Demons found Jacksonville tough for a half but scored a touchdown in each quarter.

The first came when Julian Miller ran 21 yards and a 15-yard rushing penalty pushed the ball to the shadow of the Jacksonville goal line. Gary King smashed over from the one and Joe Ballard converted.

The second touchdown was scored by Miller with a 10-yard run over left guard after Dumas got the ball on the Jacksonville 10-yard line where Kelly Baker recovered a fumble. Again Ballard converted.

The roof fell in on Jacksonville in the third period when Norman Bonner raced 75 yards for one touchdown. Joe Parsons passed 32 yards to Baker for another and Robert Houlette, reserve half-back, crashed over from the 1. A pass interception by Miller set up this score. Ballard converted after all three touchdowns.

Jackieville finally came to life in the fourth period. James Martin scored one touchdown on an 18-yard keeper and Richie Robertson, sophomore quarterback, faked a pitchout and ran 92 yards for another.

A crowd of 3,500 turned out.

Davis' Mark Is Confirmed

CINCINNATI (AP)—Tommy Davis' victory in the 1962 National League batting race was confirmed Saturday. The Los Angeles Dodgers' outfielder hit .346, four points higher than runner-up Frank Robinson of Cincinnati.

The official averages also disclosed that Davis paced the circuit in runs batted in with 153 and hits with 230. He thus became the first National League leader to lead in batting, RBI and hits in the same season since Stan Musial of St. Louis in 1949.

Musial finished third in the 62 batting competition with a .330 mark. He was followed by teammate Bill White .324. Hank Aaron of Milwaukee .323. George Altman of Chicago .318. Felipe Alou, San Francisco .316 and Roberto Clemente of Pittsburgh, the 1961 tri-champion, .312.

Willie Mays, San Francisco's star outfielder, won the home run crown with 49 while Robinson led in runs scored with 134 and doubles, 51.

Maurice Williams of the Dodgers, the league's Most Valuable Player award winner, stole 104 bases and broke the modern hit league record of 96 established by Ty Cobb of Detroit in 1915.

San Francisco had the highest team batting average, .278. The game St. Louis .271. Cincinnati .270. Los Angeles and Pittsburgh .268 each and Philadelphia .260.

Valley Team Advances To Final Round

VICTORIA (AP)—Pharr-San Juan - Alamo came from behind Saturday to beat the Orange Tigers 20-13 and advance to the finals of Class AAA schoolboy football.

The Rio Grande Valley Bears will play defending champion Dumas, 42-12 conquerer of Jacksonville, for the state title next week.

All arrangements for this game will be made at a meeting in Fort Worth Sunday afternoon.

Orange scored the first time it had the ball on a crushing 55-yard drive and led 7-0 at the half.

Danny Potter, Orange halfback, electrified the capacity crowd of 6,000 with a 94-yard runback of the second half kickoff to hike the Tigers' advance to 13-0.

The game club from the Rio Grande Valley stormed back and drove 80 and 83 yards for touchdown to post a decisive victory.

Only five plays were needed in the 80 - yard surge which was climaxed as Mark Seitz made a diving catch in the end zone of a 17-yard pass from Carlos Vela.

The big gainer in the march was a 41-yard pass play from Johnny Warden to Larry Hendrick.

Poppy Rodriguez, slippery 146-pound halfback, intercepted a pass four plays later on the 17-yard line and the Bears drove 83 yards in 17 plays for the go-ahead touchdown. The score came by 9-6 to play on a 17-yard stab by Seitz. Bucho Gomez kicked the second conversion.

Five first downs were made in this payoff drive with a 35-yard run by Warden featuring Steve Korbey passed three yards to Billy Fissette for Orange's first touchdown in the opening six minutes of play and Fissette kicked the extra point.

Pharr - San Juan - Alamo got its touchdown with 22 seconds left in the first half, beating the clock with a desperate 74-yard drive in five plays. Hendrick made a great catch in the end zone of a 10-yard pass from Warden.

In the march Vela had passed to Hendrick for 12 and had completed a 30-yard pass to Seitz to move the ball to the 10.

The leading ground - gauger of the game was Rodriguez who made 107 yards in 21 carries.

Bulldogs Fell Tigers To Take Reef Title

The Plainview Bulldogs, with a well-oiled and well-balanced scoring attack, swept to the Canyon Reef Basketball Tournament title here Saturday night, slipping past host Snyder in the finals, 64-53.

Earlier in the day, they had stopped tourney co-favorite Aspermont by the same 11-point margin, 65-53, to gain entry into the finals. Their first-round battle of Friday against Breckenridge was won without working up a later 81-24.

The outcome provided a moral victory for Snyder's Tigers, who only a week ago had been swamped by the Bulldogs, 66-52, in the opening round of the Plainview Tournament. Snyder also experienced little difficulty in its Friday opener, victimizing Stamford 65-40. Eyebrows were raised Saturday morning, however, when they put the skills under defending champ Seminole by 55-45.

Seminole went on to topple Aspermont 64-55 to gain access to the third-place trophy.

Rangy sophomore Ronnie Peret was the big gun in Plainview's winning onslaught on Snyder in the finals battle. He poured 20 points through the hoops to pave the way home, while Stuart Long and William Robinson were tallying 17 and 16 for Snyder.

Breckenridge, after knocking the props out from under Snyder, B to make it into the consolation finals against Big Spring, was unable to return for the finals match.

Snyder-B was inserted in the place of the Bucks and thumped 73-28 by the power-packed Steer quintet.

Peret, Long and Robinson were each placed on the 10-man all-tournament team which was announced following conclusion of Saturday night play. Sharing berths with them on the team were Keith McKeever of Stamford, Al Pardo of Big Spring, Leslie Anderson of Big Spring, Leslie Anderson of Big Spring, Leslie Anderson of Big Spring.

The Plainview Bulldogs, with a well-oiled and well-balanced scoring attack, swept to the Canyon Reef Basketball Tournament title here Saturday night, slipping past host Snyder in the finals, 64-53.

Earlier in the day, they had stopped tourney co-favorite Aspermont by the same 11-point margin, 65-53, to gain entry into the finals. Their first-round battle of Friday against Breckenridge was won without working up a later 81-24.

The outcome provided a moral victory for Snyder's Tigers, who only a week ago had been swamped by the Bulldogs, 66-52, in the opening round of the Plainview Tournament. Snyder also experienced little difficulty in its Friday opener, victimizing Stamford 65-40. Eyebrows were raised Saturday morning, however, when they put the skills under defending champ Seminole by 55-45.

Seminole went on to topple Aspermont 64-55 to gain access to the third-place trophy.

Rangy sophomore Ronnie Peret was the big gun in Plainview's winning onslaught on Snyder in the finals battle. He poured 20 points through the hoops to pave the way home, while Stuart Long and William Robinson were tallying 17 and 16 for Snyder.

Breckenridge, after knocking the props out from under Snyder, B to make it into the consolation finals against Big Spring, was unable to return for the finals match.

Snyder-B was inserted in the place of the Bucks and thumped 73-28 by the power-packed Steer quintet.

Trent Gets Past Ira

TRENT—The Trent Gorillas dropped Ira in a pair of Friday night games here, winning the boys contest 51-40 and the girls duel 61-49.

Lanning paced Trent's boys in scoring with 21, while Robert Sterling and Norman Turner each meshed 12 for the losers.

Delores Barnes had 26 for the Trent girls, but was forced to relinquish scoring honors to Tra Patsy Jones, who sank 34 for the night.

Baker Sprints To TD; Beavers Win

By RALPH BERNSTEIN
Associated Press Sports Writer
PHILADELPHIA (AP)—All-America Terry Baker raced 99 yards for a touchdown that gave Oregon State a 6-0 Liberty Bowl football victory over a Villanova team that was its own worst enemy this frigid Saturday.

Giants, Birds Put Hurlers On Shuttle

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The San Francisco Giants and Baltimore Orioles made a wholesale exchange of 1962 pitching assignments Saturday and threw two young hurlers into a six-man deal announced only a few hours before the inter-league trading deadline.

The National League champions sent Stu Miller, Mike McCormick and catcher John Orsino to the Orioles for Jack Fisher, Billy Hoft and catcher Jim Coles.

Miller, who will be 35 Dec. 26, was the National League earned run average champion in 1958 and a 14-game winner in 1961 as he led the Giants' bullpen staff. But the right-hander, slugged to 5-8 and a 4.12 ERA last season as wildness plagued his effectiveness.

McCormick, a 6-year veteran though he is only 24, signed with the Giants for about $65,000 in 1956. He won 15 games in 1960 but was only 5-5 in 1961, complaining that his left pitching arm hurt whenever he threw hard.

Fisher, at 23 the youngest pitcher in the deal, won 12 games at Baltimore in 1960 and 10 in 1961, but was 7-9 this year with a poor ERA of 5.09. He is a right-hander. Hoft, 30, has been in the majors for 11 seasons. He won 16 games at Detroit in 1955 and 20 the next year, but has won no more than 7 in any year since 1958. The lefty was 4-8 with a 4.62 ERA in 1962.

Orsino returned to the Giants in mid-season after a tour of military service and rapped 13 hits in 48 appearances. Orsino, 24, bats and throws right-handed. Coles, 26, a right-handed batter, was formerly with the Philadelphia Phillies but spent 1962 with Buffalo in the International League.

San Antonio Team Moves Into Finals

HOUSTON (AP)—San Antonio Brackendridge overcame a 26-pound-per-man weight disadvantage with the passing of Victor Castillo to upset previously unbeaten Houston Spring Branch, 30-23, Saturday to move into the state class AAAA schoolboy finals against Burger.

Spring Branch, which frequently throughout the season was listed the state's No. 1 team, led at the half time but Castillo moved Brackendridge into the finals with three second-half touchdowns. All of Brackendridge's scoring resulted from Castillo passes as he completed 15 of 26 for 349 yards.

The running of Paul Fry paced Spring Branch to a 2-0 lead but Castillo's passes dominated the second half. Castillo used a 25-yard pass to Johnny Breaux to put the Eagles in front for the first time, 18-15, in the third period.

West in the first period after a 32-yard punt by Villanova's Bill Sherlock was downed by halfback Larry Gluck on the State 1.

Baker, the second best total offense gainer in college football history, surprised the ganged up Villanova defense by rolling to his left, brushing off a tackler in the end zone and racing up the sideline for a touchdown.

This was the only score of the fourth annual Liberty Bowl game played in sub-freezing 22-degree weather before a crowd of 17,043 hardy souls bunched up in 100,000 seats Philadelphia Stadium.

Villanova, a 14-3 point underdog, fumbled away its scoring opportunities and was the victim of a holding penalty in the second period when its husky fullback Billy Joe, raced 12 yards into the end zone with what would have been the tying TD. This drive from its 32 to the Oregon State 12, finally expired on an end zone pass interception.

Villanova, invited as the host team on its 7-2 record, made a bid to pull the game out in the final four minutes on a drive carrying from its 30 to the Oregon State 9, where quarterback Ted Accetti fumbled and end Paul Scale recovered for the Beavers.

The winners then ran out the clock Oregon State 6-0, 0-0-0.

Congratulations go out to Ticker senior end Tim Hardin, being named to the 3-AAA All-District team released today.

One regret is also in order, however — that no more than one of the 23 players named to the two teams carried the Black and Gold banner. Some very deserving Tigers seem to have been left in the wake.

Also, a word of clarification concerning the selection of the teams. As was mentioned in a column of last week, Speedy Newman of the Brownfield News to have conducted the all-district poll of both coaches and sports writers from the district's schools and newspapers. That he did, B.T.

The district hierarchy then took an alternative and called all the 3-AAA coaches together to vote on what should be the most representative teams — one for offense and the other for defense — with no coach being allowed to vote for his own players.

These teams are the ones released today and comprise the official list.

Just so you'll know, Newman's ballots requested a first and second team rather than a first team offense and a first team defense. That poll will probably never be made public, but stick with me and I'll fill you in on how Snyder players would have fared on it.

Pete Greene would have made it as a first team guard, while second-team Tigers would have been end Hardin, tackle Paul Daniel, and back Leslie Brown. Mentioned honorably were tackle William Robinson, back Darrell Aldridge, and center Kenny Wellborn.

That's the way the oval ball bounced.

Had you noticed? Brackendridge's Canyon Reef Tournament entry had a pair of brothers on it I assume them to be twins with the plausible last names of "Ditto". Gary and Larry were their front names. Reminds me of a couple of sets of twins I knew once. Kate and Duplicate were the girls and Pete and Repete were the boys.

TIM HARDIN
All-District Selection

All-District Units Picked

The champion Brownfield Cubs field Tim Hardin of Snyder, and dominated the 3-AAA all-district selections chosen by coaches of the competing schools by landing nine berths on the two teams named.

No second team was designated, instead first teams on offense and defense were released.

Hollmann was named to the 3-AAA first team in 1961 as a central of six on the dream teams, later, an honor shared by Larry Lamesa five, Lake View two, and Snyder one. Colorado City was the only district member failing to have a player named to either team.

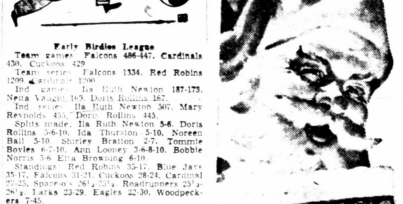

Due to a tie in voting, three ends of Lamesa and Lehman Cauley of emerged on the offensive unit. Lake View — are graduates of the. They are Jimmy Purcell of Brown, 1961 second unit, both as backs.

Houston Clinches AFL Title, 40-10

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—The Houston Oilers routed the New York Titans 44-10 Saturday to clinch their third straight Eastern Division title in the American Football League.

George Blanda, Billy Cannon and Charlie Tolar sparked Houston to its 11th victory against three defeats for the power-packed Oilers' best record in their three-year history.

The victory earned the Oilers the right to meet the Dallas Texans for the league championship in Dallas Dec. 23. Boston's second place Patriots, with a 10-3 record, cannot overtake the Oilers even if they defeat Oakland's Raiders in their final game Sunday.

Blanda, completing his 13th professional season, threw three touchdowns passes, kicked a 30-yard field goal and added five extra points. The 35-year-old quarterback completed 15 of 32 passes for 225 yards before coach Pop Ivy replaced him with Jacky Lee at the start of the fourth period.

Trojan Cagers Lower Boom On Crane

Lincoln's Trojans, fired to the gills, rose up to knock off powerful Crane in Lincoln Gym Friday night, winning their second district contest in three attempts, 74-63, to move into second place in the standings.

Crane, which has cornered the district title for the last three years in a row, thus tasted its first district defeat of the season after opening with a triumph.

Ronald Green paced the Trojan attack with 37 points, while Linwood Durst chipped in 24 to ward the cause. All-state George Morris was the top point producer for Crane with 26.

Green's 37 points gave him a total of 80 in district competition. He also sparked the Trojan rebounders with 11, followed closely by Raymond Johnson and Kenneth McClain with 10 each.

The Trojans clung tightly to their district lead with an easy 47-22 victory over the Crane girls. The win was the third of the campaign for them, and they have yet to be defeated.

Pearlie Jo Scott and Mary Goosby shared scoring honors for Lincoln with 15. Emma Garrett also hit in double numbers for the locals, hitting a total of 10 points.

Mary Johnson was Lincoln's leading rebounder with 11.

Boys — Green 37, Durst 24, Barnes 6, McClain 3, Clay 3, Johnson 1.

Girls — Scott 15, Goosby 15, Garrett 10, Brooks 3, Sanders 3.

Cannon, the foot-footed half-back from Louisiana State University, scored two touchdowns, one on a 33-yard pass from Blanda and the other on a spectacular 64-yard romp for the longest scoring run of his professional career. He gained 103 yards in nine carries.

Tolar scored Houston's first touchdown and was the game's leading ground gainer. The chunky little fullback from North Louisiana, churned up 107 yards in 28 rushes to close out the regular season with a total of 1,012 yards.

Both teams scored in each period of this wild, free-scoring game, witnessed by a crowd liberally estimated at 10,000 people. Ross raced 92 yards with a kickoff return for a touchdown in the second period and scored again on a 75-yard drive over center in the final period.

Mira, who was voted the most valuable player in the game connected with 24 of 46 passes for 321 yards, a Miami record.

Two of the passes were for touchdowns, a 10-yard toss to Ben Rizzo in the first period and a 33-yard heave to Nick Spinelli in the second period.

Although Nebraska had only four first downs in the first half and trailed badly in the statistics the Cornhuskers left the field with the score tied at 20-20 at the half.

Bill Thornton also scored two touchdowns for Nebraska each on 1-yard plunges and Claridge hit Mike Eger with a 6-yard TD pass just before the half ended.

The score was tied at 6-6, 20-20 and each team led at two different intervals before Nebraska finally pulled out front for keeps.

Lincoln Scoring: Green 37, Durst 24, Barnes 6, McClain 3, Clay 3, Johnson 1.

Girls — Scott 15, Goosby 15, Garrett 10, Brooks 3, Sanders 3.

Jaycees Hold Session Here

Routine business was conducted at Friday's noon meeting of the Snyder Jaycees. President Billy Joe Brown presided at the session, which was held at the Town House.

One guest—Nolan von Roeder—was introduced to the group. Business of the day included the making of a $100 contribution to the local Goodfellows organization.

Reports were heard from Doug McGlaun and Frank Taylor, chairmen of the by-laws and screening committees, as the other items of business during the meeting.

PREPARED FOR PAGEANT—"Forty Little Angels," a Christmas pageant, will be presented for the second straight year in the auditorium of the Northside Baptist Church on Wednesday evening at 7:30. The pageant was written especially for presentation at Northside

Baptist Church by Mrs. Cecil Mearse. In the pageant are children from the cradle roll through the junior departments. Members of the youth choir will provide background music of Christmas carols. (Wolfe Studio Photo)

Kennedy Bucks Tradition On Off-Year Tax Cut Proposal

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy is bucking political tradition by asking for a non-election year tax cut. His program faces lengthy and stormy consideration in Congress.

When it is in a tax-reducing mood, Congress traditionally likes to act in even-numbered years, when all the representatives and one-third of the senators are up for re-election.

The feeling among members is that the voters have short memories and it's politically wiser to give them the benefits of lower taxes in the months just before election.

While this feeling may not necessarily block action on the President's proposal to shave 1963 taxes, the practical matter of getting a revenue bill through both houses of Congress promises to take many months.

The House Ways and Means Committee, which must originate such legislation, seems to share the view of its chairman, Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., that there is no present economic justification for reducing taxes effective Jan. 1, 1963.

Kennedy has apparently backed away from his advocacy of such timing. He told a news conference Wednesday that he is proposing tax cuts involving 1963 and told the Economic Club in New York Friday night he will not ask for junior reductions.

This indicated the administration has swung around to Mills' view that revenue law revisions must be incorporated in a single bill with any tax reduction. Before such revisions can be refined into legislative language, there will be hearings that could run for many weeks.

As he has in the past, Chairman Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., probably will resist any effort to get the wheels of the Senate Finance Committee turning until after the House has passed a bill.

Then more mountains of testimony will be piled up before the Senate committee and the Senate itself will be ready to act. Whether it would be practical in August or September to make any tax reduction retroactive to the previous Jan. 1 remains to be seen.

The administration obviously is cutting the pattern of its program to fit what it believes will bring the widest possible acceptance in Congress.

The President personally has discussed a program with Mills.

Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon and his undersecretary, Henry H. Fowler, have a date this week to talk to Byrd.

Kennedy clearly indicated he had the viewpoint of some members of Congress in mind when he told the Economic Club the new budget will hold domestic expenditures to approximately their present level although there will be some necessary rise in defense and space outlays.

This is designed to meet the objection of Byrd—and most congressional Republicans—to making what the Virginia senator called "tax reductions out of borrowed money."

Kennedy obviously is going to be hard put to produce a balanced budget for the fiscal year beginning July 1.

This problem will be complicated when the gloomy deficit figures for the current year are ready for all to read next June 30. Byrd has estimated the deficit for the current year will be nearer $10 billion than the $7.8 billion the administration forecasts.

Kennedy's theory that proper tax adjustments can stimulate the economy to the point where revenues will rise rather than fall has strong support from a sizable segment of business. This business support should help him get a tax bill, although there remains strong dissent in Congress to the lower taxes-higher revenue theory.

BLACK AND GOLD

By Janis Atwood

Monday and Tuesday nights audiences were entertained by the cast of "The Matchmaker."

This was the junior play, which was presented to make money for the junior class.

Although it was the junior play, there were many members of the cast and stage crews from the senior and sophomore classes, as well as the junior class.

Those in the cast were Jimmy Laster, Tommy Shelburne, Dan McCowen, Jan McLeod, Dalton Walton, Sally Wade, Richie Smedley, Judy Buchanan, Charlie Park, Diana Ator, Phyllis Burns, Mike Graves, Ronnie Anderson, Bobby Covey, Charlotte Womack, and Virginia Jackson. Of course there were many other people behind the curtain who also helped make the play a success.

SHSers were given a preview of the play Monday in assembly. The play was produced by Thespians Troupe 378, and was directed by Mrs. Marshall Farham. The assistant director was Kay Logan, and the stage manager was Hillman Bearden.

Advisory groups started working on their door decorations Wednesday. The theme is religious and the first prize will be $7.50, second prize $5 and third prize $2. The first prize is being awarded by Snyder Jaycees. Second and third prizes will be furnished by the Student Council.

Run-off elections were held to elect class favorites. Those in the run-off for senior favorite were Malcolm Bolger, Paul Daniel, Felicia DuPont, Judy Richardson, Karen Robinson and Kay Smith.

Junior class nominees were: Judy Buchanan, Phyllis Burns, Mike Graves, Ronnie Anderson, Bobby Covey, Charlotte Womack, and Virginia Jackson. Of course there were many other people behind the curtain who also helped make the play a success.

Quill and Scroll officers were elected. Quill and Scroll, a national honorary society, is for journalism students. Officers include Judy Richardson, president; Deborah Scott, vice president; Janet Head, secretary; Sandra Brenner, treasurer, and Felicia DuPont, reporter.

The Coronation will be held Jan. 28 for Mr. and Miss SHS. Everyone should be planning to come to the pageant. This is being sponsored by the annual staff.

OUR VIEW

Annual Plea For Traffic Safety Is In Order Again

The annual plea to motorists has gone out, along with predictions of many tragedies during the Christmas holidays.

Last year's holiday traffic toll in Texas totalled 80, an all-time low since 1948 for the holiday season. The Texas Department of Public Safety doubts that the state's motorists will do as well this year, predicting 92 persons will die on Texas highways before the holiday season comes to an end.

Nevertheless, Gov. Price Daniel believes that Texas has a good chance of setting a new, all-time life-saving record. All that is required for such a record is for all motorists to drive as if their lives depend on it, the Governor pointed out.

Rapid strides have been made during the past five years toward reduction of the number of traffic fatalities at Christmas season. The average for the past five years is 87 deaths, compared to an average of 105 deaths for the preceding five years.

One bad year could spoil the average for the next five years. It will require cooperation of drivers, law enforcement agencies, traffic safety supporters and local and state officials to cut the figure further.

And, of course, all should remember that no matter what the record is and how much improvement is made, one traffic death is too many.

Backstage...

We know that everyone often wonders how the little baby that depicts a new year can change in just 12 months to the old man that symbolizes the old year. We found something else that seems to have that accelerated aging process. And that's police cars. It seems like just yesterday the cars that are now being replaced were new, shiny, and smelled that new-car good smell. A lot of miles and a lot of use have made them, like the old year, tired and old before their time. The new ones, now in service, have the same future, but for a few days they'll be gloriously new.

From The Scurry County Times
Dec. 16, 1937

At the annual Big Spring Chamber of Commerce banquet Monday night at the Settles Hotel, the 212 persons present were served with the best of everything.

One of the chief objectives for 1938 of the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce in cooperation with the Snyder Chamber of Commerce is a paved all-weather road from Big Spring to Snyder.

Two members of the 1935 graduating class of the local high school were married in a simple service held in Breckenridge Tuesday evening with Miss Florentine Winslow becoming the bride of J. Sam Joyce Jr., at the home of Rev. and Mrs. Philip G. McGahey, former Snyder residents.

Announcing—that we have taken over for operation one of the oldest business institutions in the modern town of Snyder. The place of business formerly known as Texas Hotel and Cafe on the northeast corner of the square. It will now be known as Walton's Cafe and Hotel.

Rotary Rig Activity Up

A slight increase in drilling activity in the Permian Basin oil fields was logged in Reed Roller Bit Company's weekly survey. The latest tabulation showed 243 active rotary units in the basin, compared to 238 a week ago. However, the Friday count was 23 below the 266 active units reported on Dec. 15 of last year. Scurry County's rotary rig count was unchanged at 6, as were those of Borden, Fisher and Garza counties at 5 each, and Kent County at 2. Lea County, New Mexico, the usual leader, continued ahead with 38 active rotary rigs. Pecos County had 17 and Ector County 18.

Market Has Long-Awaited 'Correction'

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market last week had its long-awaited "correction" from the great rally following settlement of the Cuban crisis. Trading dwindled to the lightest in nearly two months.

The list gave up only a minor portion of the gains scored in a six-week rally.

Taking its first weekly loss in seven weeks, the Dow Jones industrial average dipped 4.01 to 648.09.

Wall Streeters who hope for higher prices expressed themselves as pleased with the action of the market as it refused to be panicked into a selling spree.

The small turnover was attributed not only to a lack of interest in selling but also to some special circumstances.

Newspaper strikes kept many investors cut off from their main supply of financial news. Cold weather discouraged people from making unnecessary trips, including those to brokerage offices.

A wrangle over President Kennedy's tax program for 1963 seemed to be developing among key congressional leaders and others, leaving the outlook for the coming year in that respect somewhat cloudy as the week ended.

Volume fell to 18,364,700 shares from 23,901,000 the week before. It was the smallest for a full, five-day trading week since the week ended Oct. 20, when 16,682,390 shares changed hands.

The logic of taking profits, after six weeks of virtually a straightline advance, was in the air as the week started and the market did what was expected of it, dropping sharply but on trading which was actually below the daily average.

The decline, however, was the steepest in nearly seven weeks, the worst since Oct. 23, when Wall Street reacted fearfully to news that President Kennedy had ordered an arms quarantine of Cuba.

Selling continued early on Tuesday but early losses were wiped out as resistance to further profit-taking developed. The list ended about on an even keel, with some averages showing very slight gains.

The ability of the market to contain its profit-taking so well was encouraging to traders, and Wednesday brought the first clear-cut market advance in a week, with considerably more stocks rising than falling. The list failed to hold its best gains to the close, however, and the declining trend continued Thursday, when the market sank to a very slight loss on the lightest trading in six weeks.

Friday was a very dull session until the close, when motors rallied on news that the latest statistics on auto sales showed them at a record level. The market as a whole enjoyed a moderate gain. Bonds registered scattered price gains last week in a relatively quiet market. Some U.S. Government issues touched new 1962 highs. Most issues were within a point of their peaks for the year. Corporates displayed a generally firm tone. Both rail and utility components of the Associated Press averages finished within a hair of 1962 peaks set the previous week. Volume on the exchange shrank to $25,141,000, a value from $32,225,000 the previous week.

Grays Mark Their 13th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Gray are celebrating their thirteenth anniversary the month as operators of Gray's Style Shop in Snyder.

The Grays, who have almost a lifetime tradition in ladies' ready-to-wear, operated a similar shop in Baird for about 10 years before coming to Snyder and locating in a shop in the 2400 block on Avenue R.

In November of 1959 Gray's Style Shop was moved into a new building at 2511 Avenue S and completely modernized to offer more pleasant surroundings to go along with the personal service which they offer the area.

Gray's carry items normally associated with an exclusive ladies' ready-to-wear shop—fine dresses and suits, millinery and lingerie, plus selections of sportswear and the well-known brands of coats and suits include Rothmore, Maurice and Moordale. In the sportswear lines Gray's feature such famous creations as Jantzen, Korset, Robbie Brooks, Junior House and Knitella Knits.

The popular Vanity Fair line of lingerie and dresses by Fred A. Block, Georgia Bullock, Caryle, Nelly Don and Gay Gibson are a part of the mainstays that are popular with Gray's customers. Gray's Style Shop is the oldest exclusive ladies' shop in Snyder and has become a fashion center for a wide area of West Texas.

Rotary Rig Activity Up

A slight increase in drilling activity in the Permian Basin oil fields was logged in Reed Roller Bit Company's weekly survey. The latest tabulation showed 243 active rotary units in the basin, compared to 238 a week ago. However, the Friday count was 23 below the 266 active units reported on Dec. 15 of last year. Scurry County's rotary rig count was unchanged at 6, as were those of Borden, Fisher and Garza counties at 5 each, and Kent County at 2. Lea County, New Mexico, the usual leader, continued ahead with 38 active rotary rigs. Pecos County had 17 and Ector County 18.

CHARLTON HESTON plays the title role of Spain's great warrior-hero in "El Cid" which is coming to the Canyon Drive In Theater here Thursday, Dec. 20. Starred with Heston is Sophia Loren.

There's Little To Mutiny About On Hollywood Bounty

By HUGH A. MULLIGAN

ABOARD H.M.S. BOUNTY (AP)—Orders crackled in the pre-dawn darkness like the lash of a cat-o-nine-tails.

"Pilot's aboard, sir."

"Very well. Cast off bow line."

"Cast off stern line."

"Stern line away."

"Starboard easy. Midships. Steady as she goes."

"Midships. Steady, sir."

The sailing ship slipped down the Delaware on the slack tide, bound south for strange waters and strange ports with a cargo of precious handouts to placate the natives and enrich the coffers of the owners. Chief placater and coffee enricher was an enormous cardboard cutout of Marlon Barndo stored in the main hatch just aft of the great cabin and hard by the frozen food locker.

Not even Capt. William Bligh with his floating aboretum of breadfruit trees carried a stranger cargo.

Thus, more than 173 years after the famous mutiny, the Bounty rode the waves again. This time she was in the service of the movie lords at Metro-Goldwyn Mayer, who built the replica at a cost of $750,000 as a set for a remake of the movie "Mutiny on the Bounty." Then she was launched on a two-year, 40,000-mile publicity tour.

Bligh and Fletcher Christian, the mutinous first mate, would have had much to admire in the handwork of the shipbuilders at Lonsberg, Nova Scotia, who recreated the bounty with loving attention to detail. Particularly the saucy carving of the English woman in riding habit lifting her skirts above the billowing waves of the bowsprit.

But they would have flipped their periwigs over the soundproofing and air conditioning below decks, the stainless steel galley, the bearded guitar player bawling "All night, Mary Ann" into a microphone in the crew's mess, the twin diesel engines purring a path of progress through becalmed waters, the radar scanner flapping its ears among the topgallants, the Japanese transmitter radio lashed to the mizzenmast so the helmsman could tug at the great wheel in tempo to Perry Como's crooning of "Moon River," and all the other manifest benefits of modern civilization.

There was, alas, precious little time for such rumination.

As we slipped under the Benjamin Franklin Bridge, a pink finger of dawn was drawing the darkness from Philadelphia's receding skyline.

"Breakfast now being served in the great cabin," called out, sally, apple-cheeked lad who off a few moments before had been scampering through the rigging.

Having signed aboard the Bounty for a weekend as a supernumerary at the munificent sum of 25 cents a month, to get around a Canadian regulation that forbids passengers on certain-sized commercial ships, we went below to take up our duty as quondam historian and permanent chog board of the cruise.

"We should be in the Chesapeake Canal in a couple of hours," muttered Capt. Elsworth Coggin, debonairly placing a glass of frozen orange juice amid the charts and maps spread out on the navigation table. Framed in the porthole behind him, an atomic cruiser rode at anchor in the Philadelphia Navy Yard, its workmen no doubt matching the Bounty's deck crew gape for gape.

Coggin, a retired Canadian naval commander, has sailed the rebuilt Bounty across both the Atlantic and Pacific oceans. His worst experience so far had nothing to do with a mutiny, which is highly unlikely among his well-paid crew of Nova Scotian sailors. Rather, it involved transporting a cargo of well-oiled Italian and French photographers across the English Channel.

Baking Firm Head Dies In Amarillo

AMARILLO (AP)—The president of a four-state baking firm, E. P. Mead, 62, died in a hospital Friday.

WELCOME BACK—Sgt. Doug Shamburger, administrative assistant at the National Guard armory, left, visits with Kemp McMillan on McMillan's return to Snyder. Another Snyder man, Larry Devers, also completed his six-month active duty training and returned to Snyder last week. Both will become members of the local guard

2 Guardsmen End Active Duty Tour

Two Snyder men have returned after completing six months of active duty with the army.

Kemp McMillan has returned to his position with Snyder National Bank after completing his active duty training at Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo. While there he was given training in military ceremonial procedures and typing.

Larry Devers performed his active duty tour at Ft. Ord, Calif. Devers graduated from Snyder High School in May. He plans to enroll at East Texas State College in January.

Both men will continue to fulfill their military obligations as members of the National Guard.

The Snyder National Guard Unit reported Saturday that as a result of the accelerated recruiting activities the following men have enlisted this week: Carl Stewart, Jimmie Kubena, David Taylor, and Tommy Cotton.

Snyder unit commander Capt. Billy J. Brown, urged anyone interested in joining the National Guard's six-month program to do so before Jan. 1, 1963. He said that at a meeting between National Guard chiefs and the state governors last week, such matters as restrictions on recruiting and strength of priority units was discussed.

As a result of this meeting, Brown said, it is possible that a restriction may be placed on recruiting on Jan. 1. Men interested in the program should contact any member of the guard units or Sgt. Doug Shamburger at the armory.

Letters To Santa

Dear Santa:
I am 2 years old and looking forward to Christmas this year. Please bring me a big red wagon, some nuts and candy. Remember Melissa Anne and John Robbie, my brother and sister. And remember all the little kids everywhere.
Zane Todd Sterling

Dear Santa:
I am in the first grade at West Santa. I would like for you to bring a watch and BB gun. I will be real careful with it if you will bring me one.
Santa, Melissa Anne wants a Mary Belle doll and please remember Zane Todd and my mother and daddy.
John Robbie Sterling

Dear Santa:
We are 3 boys, 8 and 9 years old. We go to school at Central and love all our school mates and they are many.
Roxanne Ainsworth

We are not asking for much—bring us some games and anything you can. Don't forget our teachers, mother and daddy. Daddy has been sick but hasn't worried many days since June. Don't forget Grandmother Clay and specially Grandpa Parker who is ill in Arkansas.
We will be nice big boys and we love you Santa.
Jay, Terry and Kerry Clay

Dear Santa:
I would like a watch for Christmas. I am 8 years old. I like a doll and her name is little Miss Echo. I would like a DeLuxe projector with a screen. I would like an Annie Oakley and gun. I would like a majorette outfit. I have been pretty good.
Edwin King

Dear Santa:
I want a Kissy Doll. Every girl and boy thinks that you are good Santa, and there are more things I want for Christmas. I'll have to go to sleep when you come down the chimney.

The Gardeners Corner

BY EARL ARONSON
AP Newsfeatures

If you are planning to buy a living Christmas tree this year and plant it outdoors after the holiday season, dig the hole now, before the ground is frozen hard.

But a tree with a balled root of earth wrapped in burlap to hold it intact. Make sure the tree is one that will survive the climate in your part of the country. The tree should be checked for freshness and deep color. If the tree has been a long time out of its original home, it may be dull in color and brittle.

While indoors, keep the tree well watered and away from radiators that will dry it out.

After the holiday move the tree gradually to cooler places—a hallway, garage, porch—and after it has become hardened to the cold, put the tree into the hole. Protective burlap with it. If the earth is too hard to pack closely around the ball, add moss and sawdust. Then build up around the tree a mound of shavings, pear moss, straw, branches or other guarding material (organic preferred). Shelter the tree from drying winds with a plastic cape or burlap sack.

THE CUT TREE

If you buy a cut tree take precautions against fire. First make sure the needles aren't falling out when you purchase it. This is a sign that the tree has been out of the woods for a long time. One test is to lift the tree and let the stump drop against the sidewalk. If you keep the tree a long time before bringing it indoors, store it standing in a bucket of water or at least in a cool, windless place.

Just before taking it into the house, saw an inch or so from the bottom. Even in its corner of the living room, keep it standing in a watertight container. If possible, the new cut will permit the tree to absorb moisture.

WHAT KIND OF TREE

Perhaps the most common tree on the market is the fragrant, shapely spruce. This variety has a drawback. It sheds its needles quite rapidly. Fir trees are among the best but they grow more slowly than some others and generally are more expensive. Scotch pine and balsam are good selections.

DECORATE THE HOUSE

The holly with which you decorate your holiday home was a symbol of good will and friendship before the Christian era. It was carried to England by the Romans.

Holly wreaths or branches were used in Roman rituals and brought into the home to brighten the winter days. Because of pagan association, Christian leaders were against use of holly during the Christmas season, but eventually this opposition faded.

Much of the decorative holly available in America is of the English variety but hardy new plantings are being introduced in this country. Their color, foliage and berries are excellent.

Among new varieties are the appropriately named Merry Christmas and Santa Claus. Others are Old Heavy Berry and Cronenberry.

Mrs. Terry Speaker For Altrurians

Seventeen members of the Altrurian Club were present at their regular meeting recently at the Martha Ann Woman's club. Mrs. Ross Blanchard presided and an important change in club policy was voted in. Instead of voting each year, and individually, upon the donations to the various funds, these matters will become a part of the budget.

For the program, the members were seated advantageously before three long tables, upon which attractive objects pertaining to seasonal decorations were arranged.

Mrs. C. T. McLaughlin presented Mrs. S. L. Terry, explaining that Mrs. Terry would give the origin and use of the artistic objects displayed.

To the surprise of the viewers, Mrs. Terry disclosed that the rich golden vase, of grecian shape, was made up of a necessary placing of spoons, tuna cans and jello molds; topped with a candle it became a handsome decoration.

Old phonograph records softened and allowed to shape themselves, became bases, containers or trays; wreaths from vegetable growth; used flash bulbs delicately tinted became garlands, and ideas too numerous to mention.

There were several references to the invaluable Elmer's glue, and to the generous use of spray paints. These held together, or enhanced lovely objects so that they reflected the glow of candles, or made beautiful some unused spot in a room.

The demonstration was a lesson in utilization of these, otherwise cast off bits, and that Christmas beauty might depart from the orthodox ideal.

MRS. ROY DALE WILLIAMS

Miss Tankersley And Roy Dale Williams Exchange Vows In Mertzon Church

The First Methodist Church of Mertzon was the setting for the marriage of Evelyn Annette Tankersley and Roy Dale Williams, both of Snyder, Saturday afternoon, December 15, at 3 o'clock. The Rev. Gordon Miller, pastor, officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Claude Lail Tankersley of Mertzon, and Mr. and Mrs. Cecil A. Williams of Eldorado. Mrs. Foyette C. Tankersley of Midland, sister-in-law of the bride, presented traditional wedding music on the organ, and accompanied Mrs. Gordon Miller, soloist.

Robert Williams of Eldorado, cousin of the groom, and Jackson L. Tankersley of Mertzon, brother of the bride, seated guests. Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a street-length jacket dress of winter white lace over silk. Her short veil fell over a petal cap of winter white satin. She carried an arrangement of white rosebuds and fringed carnations atop a white Bible.

Mrs. Jackson L. Tankersley of Mertzon was matron of honor, and Billy Williams of Eldorado, cousin of the groom, was best man. A reception followed in the church parlor. The houseparty included Miss Maxine Van Court of Midland, Miss Sue Lawdermilk of San Angelo, and Miss Patricia Young of Snyder.

Following a wedding trip to South Texas, the couple will be at home after January 1, 1963, at 2802 Forty-second Street, Snyder. The bride is a graduate of Texas Woman's University and the groom graduated from the University of Texas. He is a petroleum engineer for Texaco in Snyder, and she is a teacher in the Snyder Public School system.

WEDDING PLANS—Rev. and Mrs. O. D. Carpenter, 323 Thirtieth Street, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Mary, to Larry Edwards, son of Mr. and Mrs. Boswell Edwards of New Home, Texas. The wedding vows will be solemnized on January 25, in the Avenue D Baptist Church.

AAUW Has Christmas Meeting

Mrs. Travis Rhoades was hostess for the Snyder Branch of AAUW's Christmas party at the Village Thursday evening at 7 o'clock.

Traditionally, the program was brought by the Snyder American Field Service student, Tommy Sheburne, who spent last summer in Cremona, Italy. He delivered an excellent speech on Italian customs and showed beautiful color slides of his trip. He commented that the food is excellent except for the breakfast of half coffee and half milk, with toast. "The pastries, chocolate and cream-filled are delicious," he said.

Italians eat a great deal of fresh fruits, which are in abundance in the Po Valley. Most of the art is seen in the churches. "Italians have an odd custom of driving at night without the lights of their cars turned on."

The speaker traced the history of the AFS and expressed appreciation for the AAUW's part in the program here in Snyder. Tables were centered with Christmas candles and marshallows. Christmas trees, individual favors were ceramic Santa Claus mugs filled with mints and candy canes.

Members voted a donation to Goodfellow and gave their president a gift certificate. Two new members present were Mrs. Eloise Adams and Mrs. Jewel Hodges.

Don't throw away those bits of candied fruit leftover from holiday baking. Use them to bake Christmas-bright muffins. Stir the candied fruit in with the dry ingredients, then mix and bake as your recipe directs.

Some Trees Crowd Walks And Drives; Select With Care

Some trees, like the neighbors' children, can get out of bounds and intrude into your property where they have no business.

Overhanging branches and sprawling roots both cause trouble. It's hard to thrill to tree beauty when a too-chummy branch brushes your car in the driveway, or a low limb over a walk conks the visitor. Stumble on a pavement upheaved by roots and you'll agree, "Tree's a crowd."

Best way to avoid such mishaps, states A. B. McKinstry, is to plant trees that are appropriate for the location. In tree talk this usually means one of the ornamental types that won't grow too large. If you're shaky as a judge of tree character, professional advice—and for free—is usually near at hand.

Nurseries have now developed a wide choice of ornamentals including some upright types that can be planted within thirty inches of a walk. Standard types of ornamental trees are widely available. Far less common but highly recommended are upright or pyramidal selections of flowering crab apple, flowering cherry, blue beech, and glossy buckthorn, the latter a large shrub rather than a tree.

Established trees with overhanging limbs can be pruned, of course, but this mars the charm of such graceful drooping trees as pin oak, maple, tupelo and many elms. Best avoid such favorites for close quarters.

If you already have root trouble, or see it ahead, you can have parts of the roots cut out. But be sure to feed and water to make up for the root loss. Or you can build low walls against the roots.

A Great Building Isn't Controversial

THE EVOLUTION OF AN ARCHITECT. By Edward Durrell Stone.

On the night of Nov. 22, thousands of Americans attended fund-raising dinners for the $30 million National Cultural Center, to be built in Washington.

In a sense the occasion (linked by closed-circuit television) was a coast-to-coast tribute to the center's architect, Stone. Speaking in Washington, Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy described the plans as "Mr. Stone's beautiful building." At a companion dinner in New York, the master of ceremonies called Stone "America's greatest living architect."

Stone, a chronically modest man looked pained. Nevertheless, in the past 10 years or so critics around the world have placed him beside the giants of architecture, Frank Lloyd Wright, his own idol, LeCorbusier, Gropius, Saarinen and Yamasaaki, to name only a few.

His book is more than an autobiography. It is much more than a treatise on architecture—also, a collection of 400 photographs, drawings and sketches. It will be a "must" for budding builders. It is primarily a commentary on our times by an urbane and civilized observer. Its chief quality is his stringent Arkansas humor. (He was born in Fayetteville, "a hotbed of tranquility.") You need not be interested in architecture to enjoy this book.

He traces the sequence of events that led a mountain boy from his carpenter's shop in the Ozarks to a drafting board in New York City. He relates the reasoning behind his widely admired buildings.

the Museum of Modern Art in New York the U. S. Embassy in India, the American Pavilion at the Brussels World Fair, university buildings in California, New York North Carolina and the Middle East and a profusion of others around the globe.

And he has a good deal of fun as he goes along. Example — "I recently told my Catholic friend, Father Ford, that in anticipation of getting to Heaven I was taking no chances. I was working on a synagogue in Washington, a mosque in Pakistan, a monastery in South Carolina, a Presbyterian church in Washington, a Unitarian church in Schenectady, a Methodist church in Alaska, and for the 1964 New York World Fair, a Christian Science pavilion. I suggested to him that out of this list somebody was bound to have the right word and assure the salvation of my soul."

On some present day architects: "Not content with a simple solution to a problem, they design self-conscious buildings, shocking to the sensibilities of the beholder. These buildings are often tagged 'controversial'—actually they are just plain ugly. A great building should be universal, not controversial."

Mrs. Granahan Hopes For Pursestrings

By Frank Cormier
WASHINGTON — Kathryn E. Granahan, a gray-haired widow from Philadelphia, will become treasurer of the United States in January.

Ironically, she messed up her first financial transaction after getting the job. President Kennedy nominated her for the important money-handling post Sept. 18 when she was en route to her home from Washington. Arriving at her front stoop she owed a cab fare of $2.25.

Quickly Mrs. Granahan handed the driver two bills and some small change. "Lady," the startled driver said, "You just gave me $11 — ten and a one." She thought she had given him two one-dollar bills.

At that point, Mrs. Granahan began to think seriously about the possible wisdom of printing multi-colored paper money, with a different hue for each denomination. This idea was pushed, without success, by the last treasurer, Mrs. Elizabeth Rudell Smith Gato, who quit in April to return to Democratic politics in California.

Actually, Mrs. Granahan says she has a completely open mind about multi-colored money. She does note, however, that many of the 6,000 congratulatory messages sent her in the weeks following her appointment said, in effect: "Don't change the color of our money."

Dustoff Tradition
When Mrs. Granahan takes the oath of office, who will become the fourth straight woman to hold the treasurership, which is not to be confused with the more august position of secretary of the treasury. Former President Harry Truman started the dustoff tradition by by naming Mrs. Georgia Neese Clark to the job in 1949.

While Mrs. Granahan's move to the Treasury will fit into the new tradition, it will set a precedent on another count. She is the first member of Congress appointed to the post.

Since 1956, Mrs. Granahan has been a member of the House of Representatives, where she was best known for her efforts, through legislation and otherwise, to curb the distribution of pornography.

The first woman ever elected to Congress from her state, she succeeded her late husband, William T. Granahan. If it weren't for the 1960 census, she would be continuing in the house.

The census results stripped Pennsylvania of one seat, because the state's population growth during the 1950's fell short of the national average. Democratic politicians decided to combine Mrs. Granahan's district with a neighboring "safe" Democratic district, and to force her retirement.

Mrs. Granahan did not take kindly to the idea but, as a loyal party worker and ward leader of many years' standing, she accepted the decision. The grateful bosses moved into action to land her the treasurership.

Still in House
At present, who remains a member of the House and will not resign until she moves down Pennsylvania Avenue to the aging Treasury building, next door to the White House.

There is at least one good reason why Mrs. Granahan might wish to delay the move. As a Congresswoman, she is paid $22,500 a year. Her salary as treasurer will be $20,000.

The fact that Mrs. Granahan can take her time about moving to her new office is indicative of the new fact that treasurers of the United States are not exactly indispensable. The work gets done, by career experts, whether or not there is a full-fledged treasurer in residence.

Frustrating Job
Since Mrs. Gato's resignation, the office has been operated by William T. Howell, the deputy treasurer and a 26-year veteran. Even after Mrs. Granahan takes over, Howell presumably will continue to shoulder many of the day-to-day administrative burdens.

One reason for Mrs. Gato's resignation was a feeling of being "trapped." Since the treasurer has no policy-making powers, and is rarely consulted on policy matters, Mrs. Gato felt outside the mainstream of the new frontier. That was not to the liking of a bright, energetic woman of her temperament.

CANDIDATES—The girls above have been chosen as D. E. Sweetheart candidates by the club members. The sweetheart will be crowned at the annual Christmas banquet to be held Monday evening at 7:30 p.m. The girls and their escorts are: Virginia Cain escorted by Jimmy Smith, LaQuita Read escorted by Paul Daniel, Carolyn Hollis escorted by John Greene, Ann Chapman escorted by Jimmy Don Everett, and Linda McCormick escorted by Dean Powledge.

HOSTESSES—These three ladies, Mrs. Charlie Miller, Mrs. Frank Miller and Mrs. Charles McCaleb, Jr., were hostesses to 42 members and guests at a lovely Mexican guest day luncheon of the Snyder Garden Club Thursday. Mrs. Frank Miller presented an enlightening program on "Natividad", a small Mexican boy who lived in poverty in Mexico and who came to know the true meaning of the coming of the Christ child. The large auditorium was completely bedecked in authentic Mexican style. Members brought Christmas centerpieces that are to be donated to the State Hospital, Big Spring.

One of the concerns of the building industry is how to make the modern house more quiet. There's no question that it can be done; the big problem is how to do it without too great an increase in costs.

There are far more noise-makers in today's homes than there were 50 years ago, chief among them motor-driven appliances. In addition, most homes are smaller than they used to be, yet have more open planning, a condition conducive to the spread of noise.

In an effort to find a solution, House and Home, a building industry publication, assembled 40 experts on the subject for a roundtable discussion of the matter. Some of their conclusions are interesting to anyone who owns a home or contemplates building, buying or remodeling one.

It was agreed that the controlling of noise at the source is the chief responsibility of manufacturers and builders. Appliances can be made to operate at lower noise levels. Noisy rooms and the hallways connecting them to the quiet part of the house should have acoustical ceiling tile. Staggered studs, with insulation woven through them, or slotted studs will cut noise sharply.

Where common studs are used, a soft buffering material between the wall surface and the studs can help. The fewer holes cut in the wall the better. It was also agreed that back-to-back wall switches and outlets, as well as back-to-back medicine cabinets in adjoining bathrooms, make easy paths for sound through a wall.

The authorities felt that separate return air ducts reduce sound transmission; that quiet-flush toilets are necessary where noise must be cut down; and that carpeting is one of the most effective ways to block through-the-floor noise.

From these and many other conclusions, a participant in the roundtable, a builder from Dallas, Tex., decided to build a test house incorporating the sound-controlling features. He adapted a production house which sold for $18,000 and which already had a number of the approved ideas about sound. Twenty-four changes were made at a cost of about two and one-half times the selling price of the house. This was slightly more than what the roundtable considered a reasonable cost for a "peaceful" house, but it was considered acceptable, since some of the more expensive changes might be omitted in production houses of this type.

Many prospective home purchasers have indicated a desire to buy a quiet house. It will be interesting to see whether sound conditioning, at a slightly higher cost, will prove to be a strong sales feature.

QUESTION: I want to put down a tongue-and-groove hardwood floor over a subfloor. Can you give me some advice?

ANSWER: We hesitate to recommend that you tackle a project of this sort unless you have had some previous experience with a similar installation or, at the very least, with some kind of woodwork.

However, on the assumption that you have reason to believe you can handle the job, the following may help. Be sure all loose boards in the subfloor are nailed down securely. Cover the floor with strips of building paper, running them lengthwise; that is, in the same direction in which the hardwood floor will be laid. Place the first strip parallel to the wall but with a space of from one-quarter to one-half an inch. The groove of the board should face the wall.

The first board is nailed through the top of the board into the subfloor, with the nails at intervals of 10 inches or so. The same board is then nailed into the floor underneath through the tongue. The nailing is done at a 45-degree angle until it is almost flush with the wood, after which a nailset is used to drive it the rest of the way. Each succeeding board is placed so that its groove fits over the tongue of the preceding strip. Keep a piece of scrap flooring handy. When you run into a stubborn fitting, place the groove of the scrap over the tongue of the board about to be nailed. Hammer the sides of the scrap, thus driving the flooring together without damaging the wood. The last board, on the other side of the room may have to be cut to fit in place, but whether it is or not, it will have to be face-nailed, just as the first one was.

HEAD TABLE—This unique tortilla tree in all its authentic grace was the center piece for a Mexican luncheon presented Thursday by the Snyder Garden Club at Martha Ann Woman's Clubhouse. Note the 20 luminarias that edged the stage in the auditorium. Thirty-six of the true Mexican lanterns led members and guests to the beautifully decorated horseshoe table. Smaller lights were used down the center of the table. The meal was presented in complete candlelight. The tortillas hanging from the tree were decorated with fresh red peppers and constructed by Mrs. Frank Miller.

Make Gifts

Many young people are making their own Christmas gifts again this year — not fancy, big or expensive remembrances.

They are favoring down to earth personalized gifts. Fancy initials or names and designs may be written with pencil in the corners of plain handkerchiefs that may be bought boxed. These can be embroidered with ordinary white or colored thread.

One teen-ager is crocheting bands of inch-wide insertions for pillow slips. Others are making needle-point book marks, lasting friendship gifts. Initials may be embroidered on ski or skating head bands in a contrasting wool.

At a Christmas sale of the Home Fashions League in New York two items were unusual and easy to put together. One was a Christmas handbag, spelling Noel; the other was a zippered case in gaily printed cottons by fabric designer Jack Lenor Larsen.

A Carry All
The hanging is a lovely adornment in a room or on a door. It's the choice of fabric that sets the case apart, just the thing for carrying anything from papers to sandwiches.

The felt hanging is 51 inches long but could be shorter. It is 8 inches wide, and each letter is 6 inches long with 4 inches between letters. Two extra inches are left at the top for a dowel.

The bottom comes to a point below the "L" so an extra inch, making 5, is left for that. Letters "N" and "E" are in one color, such as red, and "O" and "I" are in another color such as green. Letters could be one-inch or half-inch wide with a narrower width.

Bright Letters
The background could be white but you don't need to stick to Christmas colors — chartreuse, snocking pink or brilliant blues may be used.

Outline the place for the letters so they can be glued on easily, then put gold or silver braid or rick rack over them. Center the braid or rick rack between letters also as a divider. Or run braid around the entire hanging. Turn back one inch or more at top. Insert a 9-inch gold painted dowel into the hem. Attach a piece of soutache to each end so that the felt may be put on the door. Here's Another

The zippered case is not an involved project.
Cut heavy fabric — 11½ in. by 16 in. for front; 13½ by 16 inches in back. The lining is 10½ in. by 14½ in. in front; 12½ by 14½ in. in back. You'll need a 14 inch zipper with tab pull. The Home Fashion League girls used Pellon for a lining. Here's how:

Join fabric front to back on 16 in. side, making a ½ in. seam, using large sewing machine stitch. Press seam open. Center lining on wrong side of front and back sections, being sure it is under raw edge of seam and touching it. Pin to hold in place. Pin zipper face down on wrong side of seam.

Have front of case under arm of machine and zipper tab at start of seam. Stitch each side and across ends of zipper with zipper attachment.

When complete, slit seam open. But open zipper first to avoid case being sealed closed with stitching. Almost Done Fold fabric, right sides together, so raw edges are even. Pin to both sides and lower edge. Clip corners. Fold lining away from fabric in other direction, having raw edges even.

Kathy Keller Top Student In Music Class

The students of Mrs. Charles Small presented their first annual Christmas recital at Lamar Junior High auditorium Friday evening at 7 o'clock.

The early arrivers were entertained by Christmas music presented by advance and intermediate students. Thirteen students comprised the program.

Following the program awards were made to students for memory work. The minimum to be eligible for an award was six pieces. Terry Loving was the outstanding student for memory work. He had completed 19 pieces.

The highlight of the evening came when Kathy Keller was given the award for the semester's "top student". She was judged on attitude, desire and continual progress according to her abilities. Her runnerup was Robin Finley, who had also completed an outstanding semester of work and fulfilled each qualification.

Golden Wedding To Be Observed With Open House

Mr. and Mrs. Joe A. Thompson will be honored with an open house from 7 to 10 o'clock Friday evening, Dec. 28th, commemorating their golden wedding anniversary.

Hosting the event will be their children and grandchildren, Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Thompson, Curtis and Susan of Durango, Colo., Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Dove of Ira, Cheryl Dove of Abilene, Mr. and Mrs. Troy Bentley, David and Joe of Brownfield, Mr. and Mrs. Mutt Thompson, Jimmy, Richie, Bobby and Larry, Mr. and Mrs. John Bailey, Sandra, Gary and Karen, all of Snyder.

The event will be held at the Ira community center. Mr. Thompson was born in Bell County near Rogers, May 9, 1891, and came to Scurry County in 1908. Mrs. Thompson was born in Coke County in Brodie, August 2, 1893 and came to Scurry County in 1898. They presently live on a farm within a few miles from where they both lived when they first came to Scurry County.

Chocolate Frosted Cake

1 sponge-type cake (9 inch tube pan size)
1 cup heavy cream
1/2 cup sweetened ready-to-use dry cocoa mix
1 teaspoon vanilla
Brush crumbs from cake and place on serving plate with strips of waxed paper protecting plate. Add cocoa mix to cream; whip until thick, adding vanilla. Cover cake with frosting. Remove paper strips. Refrigerate until serving time. The mix we used in testing this recipe contains cocoa, sugar, dry milk solids, salt and flavoring; the amount listed in the recipe ingredients gives the frosting a sweet flavor and pleasant chocolate taste and color.

If you want to follow out an Edam cheese, you may find an apple core helpful. The cheese you've removed may be mixed with other ingredients such as sour cream and blue cheese and returned to the shell. Nice to serve at snacktime to guests!

Neighboring Schools Using Opposite Reading Approach

By G. R. HODENFIELD
AP Education Writer
CHAMPAIGN - URBANA, Ill. (AP)—On the 26th day of his first year in school, Geoffrey, 6, sat in a tight little circle of pupils at the front of his classroom.

He watched as Miss Hyde, his teacher, wrote two letters on the blackboard, "A" and "L." He listened as she said, "Now children, we know how these letters sound. Let's push the sounds together and hear what they say."

Geoffrey looked at the letters again. "A-L," he said. "A-L, at. A-L, it's 'at.'"

Geoffrey had learned to read and the world was a wonderful place to be.

In another classroom two miles away, Marian, 6, on her 26th day in the first grade opened "My Little Green Story Book" to page 25 and began to read for her teacher, Miss Saddoris.

Mother said, "Stop here, father. I see something here."

"I see something for dinner," Tom said. "I see something."

"Can I stop here?" Marian had not yet learned the word "at," but she could read at least 30 other words, and a happier, prouder little girl it would be hard to find.

Geoffrey and Marian have this in common: they are bright youngsters, fascinated with the idea of reading, and apparently well on the way to becoming fast and efficient at it.

By circumstance of geography, however, they are following different paths toward their common goal.

Geoffrey lives in Champaign and Marian lives in Urbana.

Wright Street, the zig-zagging, traffic-cluttered thoroughfare which divides these sister cities, also marks a boundary line in education's most bitter battle—the phonetic approach to reading versus "whole-word recognition," or "look-say."

Briefly, phonics is the science of sound as it applies to reading. Children are taught to read phonetically and learn to attack new words by the way the letters sound as in Champaign. With look-say, on the other hand, children memorize whole words by the way they look, as in Urbana.

Urbana's look-say system is the more traditional method, although it has undergone recent modifications.

Urbana uses reading materials and a program typical of the whole-word recognition approach found in most public elementary schools.

Champaign uses a basic book, "Phonetic Keys to Reading." It differs from most phonics methods in that it is designed as a complete reading program, not as a supplement to a series of look-say readers.

Both reading programs teach phonics, and both are "sight-words," which are memorized at units by their length and configuration. The difference—and it is a vast difference—is the emphasis given these two components.

The Urbana study series presents a first-grade reading vocabulary of 326 words, most of them sight-words. The Champaign series has a first-grade reading vocabulary of 440 words, including only 47 taught as sight-words.

But many children in both cities will learn ahead of their books. It must have been a big day, indeed, for Marian when her teacher passed over the first pre-primers, "My Little Red Story Book."

"Let's look at the name of the first story," Miss Saddoris said, and placed her hand under the word "Tom" at the bottom of page 3. "Will someone read this name for me?" Now, who can take this word and find a word in our book just like it?

The children looked at the word on the card she was holding, looked at the word on the bottom of page 3 of their book.

Suddenly, and easily, they had learned to read the word "Tom." As the story continued, they learned new words and repeated old ones they had already learned.

After 10 illustrated pages, the Urbana reading series had presented five words. Each word is repeated over and over until the child has only to look at it to

Cooperative Attitude Is Crumbling

By MAX B. SKELTON
HOUSTON (AP)—The oil industry's cooperative attitude toward development of area price controls for wellhead prices of natural gas is beginning to crumble.

Various trade groups which have cooperated since the Federal Power Commission (FPC) adopted its area pricing formula in late 1961, are returning to old policies aimed at seeking relief from Congress from federal controls.

The cooperation, in most cases, has been given without abandoning hopes for remedial legislation. Most groups merely stopped pressing for congressional relief under the belief such a bill would have little chance while ground rules for the area formula were being developed.

Recent actions indicate definite discouragement within the industry.

The 7,000-member Independent Petroleum Association of America resumed its remedial legislation policy.

Directors of the Texas Independent Producers & Royalty Owners Association sharply criticized recent changes and proposed changes by the FPC.

L. F. McCollum, president of the American Petroleum Institute (API), said legislative relief is imperative and inevitable. Two days later API directors adopted their first formal policy statement on natural gas but details of the statement have not been released.

The Interstate Oil Compact Commission reaffirmed its old position and asked the 33 member states to continue to insist remedial legislation be enacted.

All of this action has taken place since the Independent Natural Gas Association—the major pipeline-endorsed area pricing in August.

The Compact adopted its new resolution this week after discarding a proposal that merely objected to a proposed change in the FPC formula for prices in the vast Permian Basin area of West Texas and New Mexico.

The area formula calls for price controls for each of the nation's major producing areas. It replaces an old FPC policy under which each producer's case was handled on an individual basis.

The FPC staff has recommended a ceiling price instead of a minimum or floor price be set for the Permian Basin.

have the meaning pop into his mind.

It was a very different story at Colonel Wolfe Elementary School in Champaign, where Geoffrey opened his pre-primers, "Tag," to page 2 and didn't find a word to learn, as Marian had. Instead he saw a capital "O" and a small "o," and pictures of a home, road, boat and coat. At the bottom of the page were the printed words: load, nose, soap, rose and toast.

Miss Hyde, his teacher, said: "This is a picture of a big 'O' and a little 'o.' Do you know what an 'o' is? It is a letter. Words are made of letters, and if we know the sounds of letters, it will help us learn to read. The first sound we learn will be an easy one. It is 'o,' and that is the name of the letter."

It was on the day Geoffrey learned the letter "T" that he made the glorious discovery that he could analyze and read the word at. He immediately tackled and conquered the other words on the page: tea, tie, ate, it and toe.

Junior Editors Quiz on HELICOPTERS

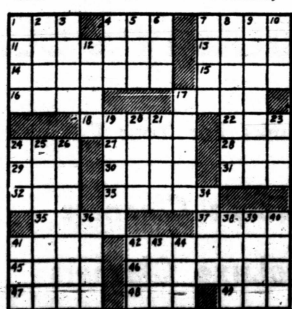

ANSWER: The helicopter principle of the moving wing has been known for a long time. Leonardo da Vinci made sketches along these lines 450 years ago. Edison experimented with the idea. A breakthrough came with the conception of rotating blades each of which could be given a twist or "pitch" (A). The pitch of each of the helicopter's three blades changes as it whirls around. To fly forward, the blades get a flat pitch as they come to the front; they then twist until they have a sharp pitch in the rear. To fly backwards it's just the reverse, the greatest pitch is in front, the flat pitch to the rear. Drawings to the right show how other changes in rotor pitch enable the helicopter to hover and fly directly up and down. The helicopter has proved to be of great value in many ways. It can come down and land on the roof of a building in a city, hover in the air and let down a line to rescue people on sea or land, land soldiers behind battle lines, fight forest fires, spray fields and orchards with insecticides. Recently, the helicopter "rotor" has been combined with the airplane wing for faster flight. We illustrate one such "convertiplane."

FOR YOU TO DO: Look at the picture of the single-man helicopter and dream a bit. Such a job has actually been flown. Wouldn't it be fun, some day, if you could climb into your own little "egg-buster" and chug over to the store for a box of potato chips?

(Mark Beynart of North Dighton, Mass., wins $10 for this question. Mail yours on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of this newspaper, and you may win $10 or the weekly grand prize of a set of Britannica Junior Encyclopedias.)

A CONTRACT

A contract is a promise... a compact... an agreement between two or more persons. It simply binds the contracting parties to abide by the conditions set forth therein. It could be a marriage contract, or a business contract. It may be a contract with your church and your God. A contract is a serious piece of business. Do you fulfill the terms of the contracts you make? You promised to be true to your life partner until death. You signed to discharge your financial obligations on a certain date. You contracted to be a faithful member of your church... to attend regularly and support its work. Are you doing that? Do you honor your contract... your word? The integrity of your own soul determines the value of all the contracts you make. They are as good as you or as bad as you. Church attendance will help you prove yourself worthy of the confidence of both man and God. Attend every worship service.

HE THAT DWELLETH in the secret place of the most High shall abide under the shadow of the Almighty.

2. I will say of the Lord, He is my refuge and my fortress: my God; in him will I trust.

3. Surely he shall deliver thee from the snare of the fowler, and from the noisome pestilence.

4. He shall cover thee with his feathers, and under his wings shalt thou trust: his truth shall be thy shield and buckler.

5. Thou shalt not be afraid for the terror by night; nor for the arrow that flieth by day;

6. Nor for the pestilence that walketh in darkness; nor for the destruction that wasteth at noonday.

7. A thousand shall fall at thy side, and ten thousand at thy right hand; but it shall not come nigh thee.

8. Only with thine eyes shalt thou behold and see the reward of the wicked.

BECAUSE THOU hast made the Lord, which is my refuge, even the most High, thy habitation;

10. There shall no evil befall thee, neither shall any plague come nigh thy dwelling.

11. For he shall give his angels charge over thee, to keep thee in all thy ways.

12. They shall bear thee up in their hands, lest thou dash thy foot against a stone.

13. Thou shalt tread upon the lion and adder: the young lion and the dragon shalt thou trample under feet.

14. Because he hath set his love upon me, therefore will I deliver him: I will set him on high, because he hath known my name.

15. He shall call upon me, and I will answer him: I will be with him in trouble; I will deliver him, and honour him

16. With long life will I satisfy him, and shew him my salvation.
