Briton Won't Leave Colony Governorship

Fidel Castro Blames U. S. For Attack

HAVANA (AP)—Prime Minister Fidel Castro has blamed the United States for a hit-and-run attack by two boats on a residential section of the Havana waterfront. One woman was reported injured slightly.

Meanwhile, the U.S. government bgan a sealift of refugees from Matanzas, Cuba. The chartered excursion boat Skipper K took 108 Cubans to Key West, Fla., Saturday night and another 94 Sunday.

NO REPLY

The State Department had no comment on Castro's charge of U.S. responsibility for the strafing attack early Sunday. But Cuban exile sources in Miami said it was the work of RECE —the Cuban Representation in Exile—and that the two boats returned safely to their base "somewhere in the Caribbean."

The Communist newspaper Granma said Mrs. Rosa Reyes Almaguer was hit in the left foot by a 50-caliber machine-gun bullet while she was asleep in her apartment building. No other casualties were reported.

WRONG TARGET

Castro, in a nationally televised speech, said gunfire from one of the boats was intended to hit the waterfront residence of President Osvaldo Dorticos but hit the nearby National Aquarium instead. The newspaper said Dorticos was at home at the time.

Waving his arms, Castro said: "Whom can we make responsible for these stupidities except the government of the United States? Whom can we blame except the CIA which has sponsored all types of stupidities against this country?"

Granma said the attackers used 20mm cannon and automatic rifles as well as 50-caliber machine guns. Dorticos was the main target and the other attack was a diversionary action, Granma added.

3,000 ARRIVE

The voyages of the Skipper K followed weeks of private small-boat crossings that carried 3,000 refugees to the United States. At least six drowned in rough waters during the 90-mile trip.

A second U.S.-chartered ship, the New Pan American, was reported heading for Key West from Biloxi, Miss., to help complete the sealift of an estimated 2,000 refugees.

The sea operations are preliminary to a big U.S. airlift expected to bring an average of 3,000 to 4,000 Cubans a month to Miami.

Texas Leads Nation With 'Head Start'

AUSTIN (AP) — Texas has received $47,658,595 in federal anti-poverty grants and contracts since the Johnson administration's so-called war on poverty began.

Gov. Connally's office made public the figures today.

The figure showed that Texas led the nation this summer in project Head Start, a program supposed to prepare culturally deprived children for the first grade. Texas had 44,952 children in the program at a total cost of $6,341,486. Cost per child was $141, lowest in the nation.

Connally has approved 405 projects and vetoed one — a neighborhood Youth Corps project sponsored by the Texas Farmers Union. Connally's veto provoked angry words from Sen. Ralph Yarborough.

Neighborhood Youth Corps projects approved for this fall involve 13,230 youths in 59 programs receiving $8,321,050 in federal funds, the report said.

The report said a proposal for a third Job Corps center are "in the final stages of consideration in Washington." The center would be at the old McKinney Veterans Administration Hospital and would train 600 girls at an annual cost of $3,711,671. Texas has a rural Job Corps center for men in Sam Houston National Forest near New Waverly and an urban center at Camp Gary in San Marcos.

Rhodesia Orders Gibbs To Get Out

LONDON (AP) — Britain's Labor government planned to push its emergency Rhodesian legislation through Parliament today. Meanwhile, the British governor of the rebellious central African colony rejected Rhodesian Prime Minister Ian Smith's demand that he get out of Government House.

The legislation to pave the way for stronger economic sanctions against Rhodesia's white minority government was expected to be rushed through Parliament without a formal vote.

Such Conservative diehards as the Marquess of Salisbury in the House of Lords and Patrick Wall and Robert Turton in the House of Commons were opposed to sanctions. But party leader Edward Heath, Reginald Maudling and other members of the opposition party's dominant moderate faction approved the government's action so far.

IMPORT BAN

The chief actions taken against the Rhodesian regime are a ban on import of Rhodesian tobacco, which usually amounts to about $70 million a year, and various financial restrictions.

The Rhodesian government after its declaration of independence Thursday relieved Gov. Sir Humphrey Gibbs of his office and told him to vacate Government House, his official residence and office.

In a statement addressed to the Rhodesian people Sunday, Gibbs replied that Smith's government was illegal and that the governor was the only "lawfully constituted authority in Rhodesia."

UP TO QUEEN

"I hold my office at the pleasure of Her Majesty the Queen and I will only resign if asked by Her Majesty to do so," Gibbs said. "Her Majesty has asked me to continue in office and I therefore remain your loyal governor and the lawfully constituted authority in Rhodesia."

Smith made no immediate move to eject Gibbs from Government House but in a statement said the governor "is representing not the queen but the British prime minister, thus aiding and abetting him in his obvious endeavor to create a division among the people of Rhodesia."

SEES DANGER

Prime Minister Wilson's office said it feared Gibbs is in danger from Smith's government and that anyone who ordered or carried out his forcible expulsion commits an "act of treason."

Few Rhodesians knew of the governor's statement. Government censorship kept it out of the local papers and off the Rhodesian radio.

But the congregation at Salisbury's Anglican Cathedral heard Bishop Cecil W. Alderson declare that the seizure of independence was wrong and illegal. He said Christians should disobey laws enacted by Smith's regime to "subvert the spirit of the displaced constitution," which Smith threw out after his declaration of independence.

Recuperating LBJ Returns To Capital

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson, looking well after a recuperative stay of more than three weeks at his Texas ranch, is back at the White House today and plans to stay there at least until Thursday.

But despite a favorable medical report over the weekend, Johnson has told friends he still doesn't feel as well as he did before his Oct. 8 gall bladder-kidney stone operation and has some pain from the operation.

VETERANS VISIT

In the final day of his Texas stay Sunday, Johnson was visited at the LBJ Ranch near Johnson City by two Army enlisted men, both veterans of Viet Nam. They accepted Johnson's invitation to accompany the First Family to church services in St. Barnabas Episcopal some pain from the operation.

"Come on, we've got a lot to pray for — particularly for our men in Viet Nam," Johnson told Sgt. 1.C. Robert S. Vandiver of New Orleans and Spec. 5 Robert G. Sullivan of San Antonio, Tex.

TWO ARRIVE

Vandiver and Sullivan showed up at the ranch at 8 a.m. and made their wish to see the President's home place.

Johnson made no advance commitment to see them, but had coffee ready when they arrived. Vandiver and Sullivan told the President about their experiences in Viet Nam.

Next he drove them 15 miles to Communion services at St. Barnabas.

The car was jampacked. In addition to Johnson there was his wife and daughter, Lynda Bird, Vandiver and Sullivan. Sullivan's wife, Maryellen, Vandiver's wife, Patricia, and the two Vandiver daughters, Cynthia Ann, 7, and Kathleen, 5.

HEAR PRAYER

They heard a prayer by the rector, the Rev. Jack Langford, for all veterans and particularly those in Viet Nam.

After the services Johnson again piled all kinfolk and guests into a white station wagon for the trip back to the ranch. Trailing newsmen and photographers were invited in for coffee and cookies.

Johnson's White House schedule includes a reception tonight for John A. Gronouski, former postmaster general who is leaving soon to take up his new post as ambassador to Poland.

ENTERTAIN ROYALTY

Wednesday night the Johnsons will give a dinner dance for Britain's Princess Margaret and her husband, the Earl of Snowdon.

Meg Leaves For Capital

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) —Britain's Princess Margaret and her husband, the Earl of Snowdon, leave today for Washington, D.C. after a 10-day visit to various places in the western United States.

They will stay at the British Embassy as guests of Ambassador Sir Patrick Dean and Lady Dean and attend a reception given by the National Press Club and the Women's National Press Club tonight.

Tuesday, they will lay a wreath at Arlington Cemetery on President John F. Kennedy's grave, tour Mount Vernon, have lunch at the British Embassy, visit Washington Cathedral and attend a reception given by Ambassador and Lady Dean.

The Snowdons leave Thursday for New York, the final leg of their 20-day U.S. tour.

U.S. Infantrymen, Reds Slug It Out

IA DRANG VALLEY, South Viet Nam (AP)—B52 bombers pounded rear positions of a North Vietnamese regiment today as two American infantry battalions continued to slug it out with the Communist enemy in heavy fighting near the Cambodian border.

Two battalions of 1st Air Cavalry Division's 7th Regiment—an outfit that followed Gen. George Custer into the Battle of the Little Big Horn—held their own through 36 hours of at-times savage fighting.

At least 129 enemy bodies were counted and as many as 150 more were believed to litter the battlefield in front of the American lines.

U.S. casualties were termed moderate, but it required more than a dozen helicopters to take out the American wounded. Most of the dead still were in the battle zone. It was too dangerous for helicopters to fly except on urgent missions.

The American troops captured from 60 to 70 automatic weapons of every kind during three major assaults by members of the North Vietnamese 304th Division which infiltrated into South Viet Nam earlier this year.

The B52s hammered at an area of the more than two square miles where a main element of the North Vietnamese force was believed located. The U.S. cavalry men pulled back before the air attack.

In earlier air action, North Vietnamese gunners blasted one American A1E Skyraider out of the sky, a U.S. military spokesman reported. The pilot was killed when the plane exploded near the battleground 200 miles north of Saigon in the central highlands.

WOODED VALLEY

Most of the U.S. force was inside a narrow, heavily wooded valley while North Vietnamese units held the high ground.

Sniper fire was intense during the lulls between North Vietnamese attacks. American casualties mounted by the hour.

Three North Vietnamese battalions—about 2,000 men—were engaging the U.S. troops and it was possible that others were waiting farther back.

The figmting broke out Sunday afternoon after one battalion of the 1st Cavalry's 7th Regiment was lifted in for an assault. Another battalion was thrown into the battle today.

One battalion commander, Lt. Col. Hal Moore of Bardstown, Ky., said: "We're expecting anything tonight. We definitely hurt them today. But if you go to sleep for one minute around here, you lose men."

HEAVY LOSS

One American company took very heavy casualties when it bore the brunt of one of the Communists' main thrusts. A platoon suffered the same fate when it was cut off from the main unit for 36 hours. In each case only a comparative handful of Americans escaped unscathed.

Moore said at no point did the Communist assaults — one of them battalion size — penetrate American lines.

"We were in control of the situation pretty much throughout the fighting," he said.

"The acts of heroism I've seen by my men are unbelievable. We showed them that American soldiers can fight their kind of war."

He cited Lt. Joseph Mar of Chicago who charged a machine-gun position and took it out single handed with a barrage of grenades and his steel bayonet.

The site is six miles from the Cambodian border and about 12 miles west of the Special Forces camp at Plei Me.

Pressure Grows For Lifting Of Farm Output Restrictions

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pressures are rising an many areas for the United States to lift some of the production restrictions on its farmers and to make greater quantities of food available to avert hunger and starvation abroad.

Proposals along this line are bobbing up not only in farm and government circles, but also among business, social welfare and religious groups.

The new year may bring the Johnson administration face-to-face with a problem of shifting its farm policies from one of restricted abundance — that is, plenty for Americans and cash markets and limited assistance programs abroad — to those allowing farmers to produce without restrictions.

Prompting the agitation for such a change in farm policies has been an explosion in world population, accompanied by growing demands of underdeveloped peoples for more of the good things of life. These demands obviously carry with them the threats of increased world disorder and revolution unless satisfied.

This matter is being given serious thought by all of the major farm organizations, including the American Farm Bureau Federation, the National Grange, the National Farmers Union and the National Farmers Organization.

Inauguration by this country of a big production drive to feed the hungry abroad is being pressed in Congress by Sens. George McGovern, D-S.D., and Walter Mondale, D-Minn. It has the backing of Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey.

Out in the great Plains, the Farmers Union Grain Terminal Association, headquartered at St. Paul, Minn., is waging a campaign in behalf of such a program.

Forcing Registration Of Reds Held Illegal

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court today declared unconstitutional a requirement that members of the Communist party must register with the government.

The requirement is contained in a section of the 1950 Subversive Activities Control Act.

Justice William J. Brennan delivered the 8-0 decision.

CASE AT HAND

Specifically involved in today's decision were William Albertson of Brooklyn, N.Y., and Roscoe Quincy Proctor, of Oakland, Calif. The Subversive Activities Control Board in 1962 ordered Albertson to register. A similar order to Proctor was issued in 1963.

The Justice Department said Proctor was a member of the Communist party's national committee and was on the New York State governing board. The Communist party of New York expelled Albertson on July 7, 1964, calling him a "police agent." He asked, however, that the Supreme Court rule in his case as well as that of Proctor.

HAIR APPEAL

Albertson and Proctor appealed to the high tribunal after the U.S. Court of Appeals here upheld the board orders.

They contended the individual registration requirement violates the Fifth Amendment privilege against self-incrimination and impinges on First Amendment rights of freedom of belief and association.

The Supreme Court was told that outcome of the case would affect board orders against 34 other persons and seven similar cases pending at the board level.

RISKS "OBVIOUS"

Justice Brennan said the risks of self-incrimination involved in individual registration "are obvious."

The requirement to fill out and file a specified form, he declared, "is inconsistent with the protection of the self-incrimination clause" of the Constitution.

Adlai Said Truce Attempt Rejected

WASHINGTON (AP) — The late United Nations Ambassador Adlai Stevenson was quoted today as having said Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara twice opposed proposals by United Nations Secretary-General U Thant for negotiating a cease-fire in Viet Nam.

This account was written by Eric Sevareid, radio and TV news commentator, for Look magazine.

Sevareid reports a talk he had with Stevenson shortly before the ambassador died suddenly in London.

Land Speed Record Set

BONNEVILLE SALT FLATS, Utah (AP) — Craig Breedlove cracked the 600 mile per hour barrier today and set a world land speed record on the western Utah salt flats, the Utah Highway Patrol reported.

His two-way average was 600.6 miles per hour.

The California speedster was clocked at 593.178 m.p.h. on his second run. The average speed is computed from these times plus wind and track conditions.

Breedlove had held the record for jet cars four times before. He broke it only two weeks ago but lost it five days later to Art Arfons of Akron, Ohio. It was Arfons' mark of 576.353 m.p.h. that Craig exceeded today.

Webb Sergeant Killed In Wreck

A Webb Air Force Base sergeant was killed early Sunday when the car he was driving was involved in a collision with a car occupied by two men reportedly fleeing from police.

Sgt. Robert C. Williams, 30, Big Spring, died at 1:30 a.m. Sunday in Odessa's Medical Center Hospital as a result of injuries sustained in an accident at the intersection of Headley Road and US 80.

Injured in the collision were his wife, Wasuko (Sue) Williams, 34; Mrs. Wilma Dorsey, 26, Big Spring, a passenger in the car; and the two occupants of the vehicle reported fleeing from officers.

A Midland policeman was also injured. He is Henry G. Norton, 25, in one of eight patrol cars which pursued a car containing two suspects.

All injured were in satisfactory condition Sunday night.

A suspect stopped by officer Bill Knight in Midland, on a "routine investigation" of a fight jumped from his car and ran when Officer Gayle R. Reeves arrived.

Richard Love, another officer, arrived in a car, jumped out and chased the man on foot for two blocks, but the man got into a car with another man and sped off. This started a high-speed chase, with the suspects' car clocked at up to 80 miles per hour. It ran a hastily-built roadblock and drove west on US 80 at speeds over 100 miles per hour, according to police. Between Midland and Odessa, four Midland police units, a highway patrol vehicle and two Midland County sheriff's department cars continued the chase.

Called into action at Odessa, three Highway Patrol units set up another roadblock, at the Headley Road intersection. Williams' car was turning east onto US 80 when the collision occurred.

Officer Norton had to swerve to miss the wreck, and his car flattened center markers along 200 feet of highway.

Charges against two suspects are expected to be filed by the Department of Public Safety today.

Services for Williams are pending at Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home. His wife was the only survivor.

High Court Grants Dr. Sam Hearing

WASHINGTON (AP) — Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard, former Cleveland osteopath, was granted today a hearing on a new appeal to the Supreme Court from his conviction and life sentence for the slaying of his first wife.

Sheppard pressed in the new appeal a contention that publicity about his case made it impossible to impanel a fair and impartial jury.

The high tribunal in 1956 refused to review Sheppard's trial and his unsuccessful appeals to Ohio state courts. He then began habeas corpus proceedings in lower federal courts. Losing in this move, Sheppard again appealed to the Supreme Court.

His first wife, Marilyn, was pregnant when she was beaten to death in 1954 in their home. Sheppard said she was killed by a bushy-haired intruder.

A federal district judge in 1964 ordered Sheppard's release from prison on the ground he did not get a fair trial. The U.S. Circuit Court in Cincinnati overruled the district judge, but permitted Sheppard to remain at liberty pending his appeal to the Supreme Court.

While at liberty Sheppard married a German-born divorcee, with whom he had carried on a mail correspondence while in prison.

List Of Missing Climbs To 83 In Sea Disaster

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Coast Guard investigators probed today into the deadly fire at sea that sent the cruise ship Yarmouth Castle to the bottom while the list of missing and presumed dead soared to 83. One person died of burns.

Yarmouth Cruises Inc. added two more names to its roster of those who evidently failed to survive the tragedy—stewardess Phyllis Hall of Jamaica and the ship's doctor, Lisardo Diaz Torrenz of Miami.

At Vero Beach, Fla., news editor William Jackson of the Press Journal said his wife, Louise, surely perished in the fire.

Mrs. Jackson was listed as a passenger and shared a cabin with her daughter, Ann Martin Jackson of Rochester, N.Y.

Ann, in Miami's Jackson Memorial Hospital in critical condition from burns and shock, said her mother awakened her but she lost her in the panic and the confusion of the fire that was already razing the ship. Mrs. Jackson has not been heard from.

One person died of burns in a Nassau hospital, bringing the toll of the disaster to 84.

Sheriff Solves Human Problems

DALLAS (AP)—Bill Decker is many things to many people.

Fellow officers talk of his skill as a sheriff. Officials talk of him as an outstanding administrator. Reporters recall his courage.

The "little people" of Dallas County know him best.

Distraught mothers with runaway sons, married couples with serious disagreement, angry fathers whose daughters are "in trouble," a convict's wife who has run out of money . . .

The whole spectrum of people with human miseries finds its way to Decker.

None of them ever gets turned away.

"He's constantly talking with the little people," said one staff member, "and I've never seen anyone walk out of his office dissatisfied. He has a rare common sense."

A visit in the large, glassed-in office where Decker sits daily showed just how people depend on him.

In a brief time he helped solve a family squabble, advised a divorcee to see a lawyer about getting her child, calmed an angry father whose daughter was pregnant by a man in the county jail, and arranged for the girl and the prisoner to marry. He found time, too, to advise a new judge on selection of his bailiff.

Criminals know Decker as the lawman who always keeps his word and delivers a square deal.

His secretary for 32 years, Mrs. Ann Price Turner, said he gets numerous letters daily from the state prison and from ex-convicts.

"Everybody says you're a square shooter," she quoted from one. This theme is mentioned in most of the letters, Mrs. Turner said, and it's a key to the success of the Dallas lawman.

Many officers regard Decker as one of the smartest interrogators around. His approach is more like that of a minister than a tough lawman.

An example is the Thurman Priest case in 1954.

Priest, 48, of Grand Prairie, was arrested by Lebanon, Mo., police in the disappearance of his niece, Jeannette.

Officers tried for three days to get a story out of the man, and even truth serum failed.

Decker flew to Missouri and officers brought Priest to meet him at the plane.

Priest looked hungry and had no cigarettes. The Dallas sheriff stopped on the way to the police station and bought the man some food and smokes.

When they arrived at the station, Priest asked to talk to Decker in private. He then showed officers the location of his niece's body and assisted in a search for the murder weapon.

Decker, 66, looks more like a businessman than a sheriff.

He wears conservative business suits, black horned-rimmed glasses and a snap-brim hat. He carries his stocky frame with military precision.

Decker speaks softly, pausing occasionally to find the right word, and laughs easily.

Mrs. Turner said she has known Decker to take a vacation only twice. He took his wife with him once to Florida and another time to Denver. Both trips were to pick up prisoners.

Decker has built an immense number of contacts since he became an officer 42 years ago. Thus he solves many crimes without leaving the courthouse —informants call him up and tell who's behind the crimes.

His record has created respect for him from the underworld. For example, within hours of a 1949 gangland killing, nearly all the known hoodlums in the area had checked in with Decker to see if they were wanted.

Local Artists Win Honors

Six Big Spring paintings won high honors at the Permian Basin Exhibition Committee Exhibit in Midland Sunday.

Mrs. Winnie Unger won first place in the professional oil exhibit with her offering, "Guatemalan Jungle." Vallie Parker placed an honorable mention in this division with "Ghost of the Past."

Lynn Patton won the first honor in the amateur oil division, showing "Tomb of a Tree." Estelle Howard received an honorable mention ribbon for "Panther Draw."

Mrs. Unger also won an honorable mention for her entry in the watercolor and mixed media professional division, with showing "Summer Sails."

Mrs. Parker also won the Carrousel award for the school circuit, which is considered the second best exhibit of the show. Her oil, "Cap Rock," captured this honor.

Barber's Home Is Vandalized

A neighbor told officers Sunday the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ned Barber, 604 Abrams, had been entered. Officers said a screen door had been forced, and one of the bedrooms was a "shambles." The owners are in Florida, and officers said they could not yet determine if anything was taken by the intruders.

Billy Joe Arnold, 3901 Connally, told police early today he discovered his .30 calibre lever-action rifle missing when he went to the closet to get it in preparation to go deer hunting. He said he had cleaned the rifle some days ago, and had not looked at it until he discovered it missing.

Burgess, Banks Back At Work

John Burgess, city attorney, and Jay Banks, chief of police, returned to work today, following a three-day seminar on the new Code of Criminal Procedure in Austin last week.

"The seminar attracted about 300 more persons than had been expected, so it was crowded," Burgess said today.

"But we learned some things at the seminar (held at the Law School of the University of Texas) concerning the code that we hadn't known before. It was a valuable experience for both of us."

Both said attorneys, peace officers and judges from all over Texas, including attorneys for the National Association for the Advance of Colored People from Dallas, attended the seminar.

Lectures were given by top criminal law authorities and law professors at the meeting.

Ways To Hike Mobility Of Capital Differ

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Treasury and the New York Stock Exchange have almost directly opposite views on the type of changes needed to unlock large amounts of investment capital.

A survey sponsored by the Exchange indicated that many billions of dollars would be shifted if the maximum tax on capital gains were reduced from 25 per cent to 20 or perhaps to 12.5 per cent.

The administration advocated an increase in capital gains taxes in the 1964 tax bill, but Congress knocked out this provision. Another measure rejected by Congress would have placed a tax on accumulated capital gains transferred at death to a person's heirs.

BULL MARKET

A $10,000 investment in a growth company which has been putting most of its profits into expansion instead of dividends might grow to $20,000 in the bull market of the past few years. The holder of such an investment pays no tax on his $10,000 paper profit until he decides to sell.

If he has held the stock for more than six months, the tax on the $10,000 profit would be half his regular income tax rate up to a maximum of 25 per cent. Thus, if he is in a 50 per cent or higher bracket, he would pay $2,500 in taxes.

Suppose he holds the stock valued at $20,000 when it is inherited by a son. If it grows to $30,000 after a few more years, the son would have to pay taxes on $10,000 profit if he sells it, but there would be no tax on the original $10,000 profit.

"LOCKED IN"

The Exchange-sponsored report said many investors feel "locked in" and refrain from selling large investments because of the capital gains tax. Even a reduction of from 25 to 20 per cent in the maximum tax would cause enough selling to bring extra revenue to the Treasury, the Exchange said.

A recent private study concluded that high income taxes do not deter businessmen from striving hard to make more money, but its questionable whether this premise applies to the handling of investments.

Assistant Treasury Secretary Stanley S. Surrey, the foremost administration tax expert, recently described the provision permitting tax-free transfer of capital gains at death as one of "our most serious" structural tax problems.

Leash Law Violation Alert Brings Lion Death

FREMONT, Calif. (AP) — What started as a policeman's response to a routine leash law violation report ended with the death of a pregnant 250-pound lioness.

Sandra Hayes, 25, had been keeping the lioness, named Dolly, in the garage of her suburban home here as a favor for a friend who owned it.

Dolly heard the noises of the city, didn't like them and broke away.

When officer Oscar Breiling arrived on the scene at neighbors' requests Miss Hayes asked him not to shoot the lion. She said a veterinarian was on the way with a tranquilizing drug.

A second officer drove up and frightened away Dolly, who had been standing for five minutes rubbing against Breiling's leg in a nearby field.

Breiling moved off into the field after Dolly, but lost sight of her. Then someone called, "Look out behind you."

He turned around and there was Dolly stealthily approaching. Breiling lifted his 12-gauge shotgun and fired seven times.

He was unhurt, but Dolly was dead.

Youth Charged After Melee

Prospero Padilla Yanez, 704 NW 5th, 19, was charged with "rudely displaying a weapon" in Howard County Court today, made $500 bond, and was released following an incident early Sunday morning involving a number of Latin-American Big Springers and several police.

According to police reports, about 2 a.m. Sunday morning a car-load of youths pulled into the police ramp behind the city police department. Sheriff A. N. Standard, who was nearby, said the youths yelled obscenities, directed toward officers, then raced off in the car.

Police gave chase, finally cornering the car in an alley, where the occupants had attempted to elude officers by turning out the headlights. Two were apprehended, the others fled. A gun was displayed by one youth, officers said.

About 3 a.m., four officers appeared at the Yanez residence with a warrant for Prospero. They said Clarence Yanez, the father, told them he would go get Prospero, who was in the house. A scuffle ensued inside the house, and officers, who said they got a yell for help, entered.

One of the policemen was swung at with a machete, but grabbed a youth's arm in time to escape injury, though the flat of the blade struck him in the back of the head, police said today.

Police were still trying to straighten out the incident this morning, but most of the suspects were rounded up Sunday morning for a discussion. Investigation continues.

Youth Injured, Car Hits Pole

A Saturday night accident at FM 700 and Goliad sent a local youth to Cowper Clinic and Hospital, officers said today.

Tommy Joe Newsom, 17, 1600 Donley, was reported in good condition this morning by Cowper attendants. Police said the car young Newsom was driving struck a telephone pole, destroying the car, at 11:37 p.m. Saturday.

Two accidents Sunday injured none of the persons involved, officers said. Involved were the parked car of Alene Laird Bond, 701 San Antonio, which police said rolled into the parked car of Leonard Rockwell, Colorado City, in the 400 block of East Ninth at 5:40 p.m.; and the cars of Joaquin C. Valdez, Levelland and Jesus Ariaz Alvarez, 704 N. Goliad, at the intersection of Northwest Eighth and Gregg.

The deaths included 25 in traffic—six of them in one crash near Jacksonville.

Detective Shoots Self Accidentally

SLIDELL, La. (AP) — Detective Al Lewis shot himself in the leg Sunday while competing in a "quick draw match event" against a Jefferson Parish deputy.

Lewis was admitted to a hospital for treatment.

Police Chief E. Schilleci said the Slidell policemen won four of the seven events.

Blackout Blamed On Broken Relay

WASHINGTON (AP) — The massive power failure that blacked out most of the Northeast last Tuesday was attributed today to a broken relay at Sir Adam Beck Plant No. 2 at Queenston, Ont., a part of the Ontario hydro-generating system on the Niagara River.

This was reported by United States and Canadian officials after nearly a week of inquiry into the cause of the failure that rolled over New York City, much of New York State and New England.

IS SPECIFIC

In Toronto, hydro chairman Ross Strike was most specific. He said the failure was caused by a broken relay at the Sir Adam Beck Plant No. 2 at Queenston, Ont.

Strike told a news conference hydro was importing a total of 1.6 million kilowatts in power on the six lines going into the plant and the relay break caused all other relays to go out.

The 1.6 million kilowatts were thrown onto the U.S. distribution facilities, causing a very rapid increase in frequency, Strike added. He said this tripped safety equipment but all of it didn't work and the Northeastern states and New York City were most badly hit by this surge of power.

Chairman Joseph C. Swidler of the Federal Power Commission said today that beginning of the power failure "seems to have occurred in the Ontario hydro-generating plants on the Niagara River."

POWER INRUSH

He said this "resulted in a major inrush of power into the upstate New York systems . . .

"There followed a series of trip-outs of transmission lines and generating plants of these systems," Swidler added.

His report was made in a statement he said had been sent today to the White House and to Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara and Buford Ellington, director of the Office of Emergency Planning.

The series of "trip-outs" Swidler said "resulted in the transfer of a large block of load to the New England and southern New York systems, including the New York City system.

Swidler said that the commission is continuing its investigation of the reasons why the power failure spread through so many northeastern power systems "and will suggest measures to minimize the possibility of a recurrence."

New Juvenile Officer Here

Bob G. Wakefield, Howard County's new juvenile officer, assumed his duties here today. He spent his morning going over the files of the office and planned to devote most of this week to orienting himself.

He, his wife and their 17-month-old daughter, have established their home at 3714 Hatch.

Wakefield comes here from Corpus Christi, where he has been with the juvenile department for nearly two years.

He said that he was pleased to be in Big Spring; that he liked what he had seen of the community and its people.

He plans to contact the police and sheriff's officers and familiarize himself with local conditions.

Wakefield was employed by the Howard County Juvenile Board to replace Bob Darland, who resigned some time ago. Darland left the post to become a counselor for a Youth Corps camp which is slated for activation this fall in New Mexico.

India Prepares For Red Hostility

NEW DELHI (AP) — Indian Defense Minister Y.B. Chavan told Parliament today India must "presume" the possibility of joint Pakistan-Chinese action and prepare for it.

Answering questions about Saturday's border incident, in which India says Communist Chinese soldiers opened fire on Indian soldiers, Chavan said:

"One can intelligently assume that the Chinese and Pakistanis might presumably plan joint action, and it's much better and wiser for us to presume the worst and be prepared for it."

MOSCOW (AP) — Pravda announced today the Soviet Cabinet and Communist party Central Committee have approved the budget and economic plan for 1966, and laid heavy stress on a goal of higher living standards. The official party newspaper mentioned defense needs only briefly.

The budget and defense plan, said Pravda, "are aimed at further developments of the national economy, the improvement of people's living standards and the strengthening of the country's defense potential."

This was the only mention of defense.

No Work Ready For Jury Panel

A jury panel was to report to the 118th District Court at 1:30 p.m. today, but it was doubtful if any work would be ready for it.

When Judge Ralph Caton sounded the docket at 10 a.m., one or two of the cases were tentatively announced ready. However, as the discussion developed it began to appear none could be called up at this time. Possibly, one or two might be tried later in the week.

Judge Caton had not announced the plans for the jury panel at 11:15 a.m.

Mamie Making Swift Recovery

FT. GORDON, Ga. (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower's doctors said today they are "immensely pleased" with the recovery he is making from his heart attack.

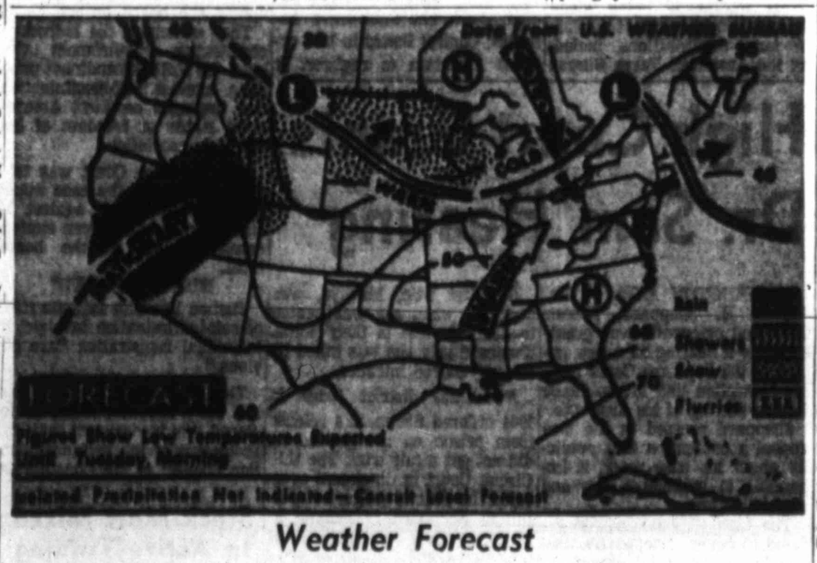

The former president's wife, Mamie, who has been in bed for the last couple of days suffering from strain, loss of sleep and what her son, John, described as a respiratory infection apparently is recovering swiftly.

She felt well enough today to get out of bed and go to her husband's adjoining room for a chat.

Eisenhower's doctors sent only a brief report to newsmen through Capt. Wallace C. Hitchcock, Ft. Gordon public information officer.

Youth Accidentally Shot, Burglary May Be Cleared

City detectives claimed today they had at least partially cleared up the Nov. 1 burglary of the City Pawn Shop, 207½ Main, following a "quick-draw" contest which resulted in the accidental shooting of a Big Spring youth Sunday.

Henry Otis Washington, 18, 101 NW 9th, was taken to Malone and Hogan Foundation Hospital after police said he and another youth, practicing "quick-draw" with single-action pistols, had an accident at a Northside home. The other youth's pistol went off, the small-calibre bullet striking Washington in the stomach, officers said. Officers said both pistols, fashioned after the old-time Colt six-banger, were loaded with .22 rim-fire ammunition.

Washington was taken to Malone and Hogan Foundation Hospital, where he was reported in fair condition by attendants this morning.

Police said the serial number on one of the pistols matched one reported stolen in the City Pawn Shop burglary.

The other youth was being questioned by detectives this morning.

Detective Sherrill Farmer said the arrest of another man, Donald Wheat, 19, who gave an address in the 700 block of North Cherry, resulted from following up the incident. Wheat was charged with burglary Sunday night in a local peace justice's office, and is in County Jail today in lieu of posting $2,000 bond.

Farmer indicated several of the missing City Pawn Shop guns had been recovered along with other items, such as holsters and belts, missing since the burglary.

'Voice' Fuss With India Finally Over

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — With Soviet help, the biggest political rhubarb of U.S.-Indian relations in 1963 finally has been buried.

The Soviet Union has agreed (for a price) to supply a 1,000-kilowatt radio transmitter that India will try to use in countering Red China's propaganda in Southeast Asia.

Thus ends the celebrated Voice of America case that touched off angry leftist demonstrations in India two years ago, annoyed Washington and, probably, aroused laughter in China.

BORDER WAR

It started with the China-India border war in 1962 and India's sudden realization of how antiquated its propaganda machine was in comparison with China's.

New Delhi decided to contest Peking's radio propaganda in Southeast Asia, and a search began for a powerful transmitter.

The United States offered one of a million watts, ready to be installed in Calcutta to begin chasing the Chinese off the air waves.

This $2 million transmitter was to cost India the token price of one rupee (21 cents).

India quickly accepted. Then somebody discovered the Americans had fied a string to the deal.

Voice of America, owner of the transmitter, also had a few things to say to China's listening audience and wanted to use the transmitter three hours daily for five years.

STIRS UPROAR

There was an immediate uproar in India.

Communist members of Parliament tried to introduce a no-confidence motion against the late Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru on grounds that the deal compromised India's nonaligned foreign policy. Demonstrators, sometimes 5,000 strong, gathered in New Delhi to protest.

Newspapers called the deal a U.S. cold war weapon.

Nehru badly wanted that transmitter but he wanted political peace more. So he called off the deal, saying it had been made without his being aware of the details.

For the next two years, India searched for a nonaligned transmitter. Private bids were considered from many countries. But somehow a new deal never shaped up.

Then, the Soviets made their offer: 8,434,000 rupees ($1,771,140), 2.5 per cent annual interest and repayment in five years for a 1,000-kilowatt transmitter. Not exactly a 21-cent deal but there were no strings attached.

INDIA ACCEPTS

The Soviets, with plenty of transmitters capable of reaching Asia, didn't want any air time on the new transmitter. India accepted.

Trouble is, the transmitter isn't expected to begin operating until 1968 — which means the Chinese will have had a full five years of unrivaled broadcasting to Southeast Asia since the whole fuss started.

'Break' Eludes Soviet Farmer

MOSCOW (AP) — The new Soviet leaders more than a year ago ordered a change designed to give farmers a break and to put more food on the tables of Russian homes.

That decision is still being sabotaged by old-line local officials, the magazine Kommunist reports.

Nikita Khrushchev's successors ordered that farmers once more be allowed to work their own small private plots of land after finishing their chores on the state's large collective farms.

Local officials have illegally restricted farmers from obtaining the fodder they need for livestock raised on their private plots.

Bob Hope Gets Guild's Award

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Bob Hope, who never has won an acting Oscar, got an Oscar of sorts Sunday from actors.

President Charlton Heston of the Screen Actors Guild presented the comic with the Guild's first annual award "for outstanding achievement in fostering the finest ideals of the acting profession."

The award is an onyx and bronze version of the ancient Grecian masks of comedy and tragedy.

Meanwhile, military officials in Bangkok said Hope will visit Thailand and Viet Nam next month to entertain U.S. troops during Christmas.

Younger Byrd Follows Dad

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Harry F. Byrd Jr. is demanding the same kind of fiscal responsibility his father advocated as the price of cooperation with President Johnson.

Congratulating the 50-year-old Virginia Democrat on his appointment to fill the seat Sen. Harry F. Byrd, 78, resigned last Thursday, Johnson said in a telegram he wants to work closely with the new senator.

On this score, Byrd made it plain he will apply as his father did before him the yardstick of how much Johnson's programs will cost and how they will be paid for.

The younger Byrd said Johnson has his support in the course the President is pursuing in the Viet Nam war. But on the domestic front, the new senator said he will examine each White House legislative proposal on its merits but will not be committed in advance to blanket opposition to the "Great Society" programs.

The elder Byrd, who sat beaming as his senatorial successor son was interviewed Sunday at Rosemont, the family home in Berryville, Va., has gone down the line in opposition to practically all of the social welfare legislation Johnson has sponsored.

The junior Byrd made it clear that while he expects to follow the course hewed out by his father in 32 years in the Senate, he regards himself as a forward-looking conservative in tune with the changing times and conditions.

Byrd will be running in the Virginia primary next July not only on the Byrd name but on the record he hopes to make in six months as a senator.

"My father has made his record; now I must make mine," he said.

"LOOK FORWARD"

"I feel that legislators, like businessmen and individual citizens, must continuously look forward — as times and conditions change. I would like to consider myself as a progressive in the sense that it is important to continue to look forward in order to serve the best interests of all the people. There are certain fundamentals that don't change — the constitutional concepts of government, and I feel that true progress can only be made through fiscal responsibility."

In other weekend political developments:

—Sen. Russell B. Long of Louisiana said he had heard nothing of any move to force him to give up his post as assistant Senate Democratic leader when he succeeds the elder Byrd as Senate Finance Committee chairman in January. He said he sees little prospect for a tax cut in the next year or so.

—Barry Goldwater said he doesn't think John V. Lindsay's victory in the New York City mayor's race is causing any great furore in the Republican party. The 1964 GOP presidential nominee added, "I think there's an attitude of let's wait and see what kind of job he does."

—A spokesman for the Republican National Committee said Republicans will soon start a full study of national nominating conventions that could lead to revamping the 1968 session. Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower had proposed such a move aimed at cutting down convention confusion and noise.

In his interview, Byrd aired his views on a number of issues that seem likely to come before the Senate in the session beginning in January.

He said he does not believe any additional civil rights legislation is needed. It would be a mistake, he said, for Congress to repeal a section of the Taft-Hartley Act which permits states to ban the union shop.

The new senator said he favors and would vote for a proposed constitutional amendment to permit state voters to apportion one house of their legislature on other than a population basis as the Supreme Court has decreed.

On budget balancing, the new senator said, "I feel that sooner or later we'll need to put our fiscal house in a little better order and I hope that a start can be made toward bringing the budget into balance."

Historic Sea Battle Shown Up As Mess

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV - Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — England's defeat of the Spanish Armada almost 400 years ago was, as every schoolchild of my generation was taught, a magnificent victory and one of the world's great naval battles.

It was something of a shock to be informed by NBC's fine news department special, "The Spanish Armada" Sunday night that the whole thing was a mess; the two fleets missed each other a few times and when they finally got together, fired cannon at each other for hours without sinking any ships; and that fierce storms and lack of supplies did more damage to the Spanish than Britain's naval might.

What has been taught as a great confrontation between two mighty nations actually was "a muddled engagement" which has been deliberately built by the British into a myth, according to the narrator.

ANSWERS TO BRIDGE QUIZ

Q. 1—Neither vulnerable and as South you hold:
♠K43 ♡8652 ◇1094 ♣KQJ
The bidding has proceeded:

North	East	South	West
1♠	Pass	1NT	Pass
2♣	Pass	?

What do you bid now?

A. — Three spades. Something must be done to compensate for the discouraging nature of your original response. Inasmuch as your high card values fit in so well with partner's hand and he has shown a distributional type of holding, game prospects are bright and a mere return to two spades by you would be inadequate.

Q. 2—As South vulnerable, you hold:
♠742 ♡J109765 ◇42 ♣J7
Your partner opens with two hearts. What is your response?

A.—Four hearts. The double raise of a demand bid is a specialized response which promises good trump support but no special high card strength. It denies possession of an ace, king, void or singleton.

Q. 3—Both vulnerable and as South you hold:
♠A6 ♡QJ863 ◇A753 ♣A4
The bidding has proceeded:

West	North	East	South
1◇	1♠	Pass	?

What do you bid?

A.—Two diamonds. It is recommended that you make it clear, here and now, that this hand must be played at a game contract. Then will follow the process of determining the best contract. A mere bid of two hearts would not be forcing and a jump shift of three hearts would be placing too much emphasis on the heart suit.

Q. 4—Both sides vulnerable and as South you hold:
♠107 ♡K106 ◇K754 ♣AJ103
The bidding has proceeded:

West	North	East	South
1◇	Pass	Pass	?

What do you bid?

A.—One no trump. You have just enough high card strength to make a reopening take-out double but such action is not recommended in view of partner's expected spade response. A bid of one no trump in this position shows a slightly better than average holding, not 16 to 18 points. With that big a hand, you would double first and rebid no trump subsequently if the opportunity presented itself.

Q. 5—Neither vulnerable and as South you hold:
♠AQ75 ♡J95 ◇AK962 ♣64
The bidding has proceeded:

East	South	West	North
Pass	1◇	Pass	2♣
Pass	2◇	Pass	2NT
Pass	?

What do you bid now?

A.—Three spades. While you have the values to raise no trump, it won't do any harm to check up on the possibility that partner might have some four card spade holding he did not consider worth showing.

Q. 6—As South vulnerable, you hold:
♠AQ7 ♡AQ982 ◇7 ♣AQ32
The bidding has proceeded:

South	West	North	East
1♡	Pass	2♡	Pass
3♣	Pass	4♣	Pass

What do you bid now?

A.—Four spades. Despite the mild nature of partner's initial response, prospects for slam are bright since the hands appear to fit well. If he has king of hearts and king of clubs which seems likely from the bidding, all he needs, in addition, is a secondary spade control which your cue bid in the suit should ferret out.

Q. 7—Both vulnerable and as South you hold:
♠3 ♡A1072 ◇AKJ54 ♣AJ9
The bidding has proceeded:

South	West	North	East
1◇	Pass	1♠	Pass
2♡	Pass	3NT	Pass

What do you bid now?

A.—Pass. Despite the strong nature of the bidding there is no apparent fit present, and no trump appears to be the spot. At no trump your hand is worth 17 points. Since partner has about 13 or 14, slam seems out of the question.

Q. 8—Neither vulnerable and as South you hold:
♠AQ7 ♡4 ◇98432 ♣K987
The bidding has proceeded:

West	North	East	South
3♣	Double	Pass	?

What do you bid?

A.—Pass. While a game is very probably available to your side, it will be difficult at this level to satisfactorily explore for the best contract. We recommend that you settle for a sure profit which, in view of your club holding, should prove quite substantial.

British Colony Volcanic Spot

ADEN (AP) — By day, the streets of Aden are filled with Arabs, Indians, British housewives and an occasional goat.

By night, they are lined with armed guards and patrolled by British troops searching for terrorists who have killed two score residents and wounded 250 more with pistols, bazookas and grenades.

Huddled beneath the jagged mountains of South Arabia, Aden is Britain's only colony in the Middle East. Its volcanic cliffs and scenic beaches surround a major military base.

A century and a quarter of colonial rule began when a single ship of the East India Co. took over a wasteland of rock and desert.

TO FRONTIERS

Britain is determined to give Aden independence by 1968. The plan is to merge Aden with 16 sultanates and emirates that sprawl from here to the frontiers of the Yemen, creating a South Arabian state.

Aden's political leaders, supported by President Gamal Abdel Nasser of the United Arab Republic, oppose Britain's terms. Terrorists demand immediate independence and the removal of the military base.

Faced with politicians' refusal to cooperate, Britain last month took full control of the colony. It fired the government of Chief Minister Abdel Qawi Mackawee after he suggested the terrorist National Liberation Front be accepted as a legitimate political party.

MOB VIOLENCE

The infuriated mobs poured into streets of the crater district. They burned churches, wrecked cars and smashed water pipes to wash away tear gas thrown by more than 500 British troops sent to restore order.

Some politicians now apparently are intimidated by the terrorist movement, and note growing unrest among the colony's Arab youths.

They urged the short cut to independence recommended by the United Nations in 1963: Elections throughout Southern Arabia under U.N. supervision, the withdrawal of the British base and the lifting of emergency regulations.

They calculate the back-country sultans, who rule through traditional tribal power, would be voted down in elections, making the more sophisticated town dwellers of Aden a ruling power in the federation instead of just its 17th state.

APPROVE ELECTION

The tribal rulers who make up the federation's present government have agreed to hold elections but consider any U.N. supervision an affront. Realizing the presence of British troops guarantees their feudal powers, they contend that a decision on the future of the military base can be discussed only after independence.

The terrorist campaign began in December 1963, when a bomb at Aden airport killed the colony's deputy high commissioner.

Tracking down the Yemeni agents is complicated by the fact that 90,000 of Aden's 240,000 residents are Yemenis.

British forces are posted in Aden as a mobile reserve for the Middle East and Africa. The base links Britain's defensive lines with Singapore and protects the oil sheikdoms of the Persian Gulf. It employs 7,000 Adenis and spends $33 million a year in the colony.

A-Smasher Team Will Visit Odessa

DALLAS (AP)—Much of the Dallas-Fort Worth area's hopes for a $340 million atom smasher rode today on a ground and aid tour by four men of the Atomic Energy Commission.

The team left Love Field about 8:30 a.m. for an aerial inspection tour of the area, and during the morning studied two sites by ground and helicopter.

These were proposed site C, 13.7 miles east of Lewisville, and site J, 18 miles north of Arlington. They also looked over the location of the planned Dallas-Fort Worth regional airport.

TEAM MEMBERS

The team is composed of Dwight Ink, assistant general manager of the AEC; Walter Hughes, assistant director for administration, AEC Division of Research; Olaf Pruss, AEC division of construction and supply; and Dr. Robert Walker, high energy physicist with the California Tech.

The team will go to Amarillo Tuesday and Lubbock Wednesday, Odessa Thursday, Austin Friday, San Antonio Nov. 22 and Houston Nov. 23.

FOR BRIEFINGS

Leaders for the Dallas - Fort Worth proposal for the national accelerator laboratory and other prominent scientists and citizens were to meet with the team for briefings several times during the day.

A list of proposed sites for the gigantic sub particle accelerator has been narrowed to 85.

Originally, a deadline had been set for Jan. 1 for selection of a site.

The super accelerator will have an energy output of 300 to 1,000 billion electron volts, 10 to 30 times more powerful than any other accelerator in the world.

340 MILLION

The original investment is conservatively estimated at $340 million, with the capital funds expected to reach $1 billion by the time the laboratory is operating. Some $75 million annually in operating funds would be involved.

The accelerator would allow scientists to break particles into smaller units than have ever been seen by man, bringing the cosmos into the laboratory, and revealing knowledge that has heretofore been held from man.

Reserve Cutback Prompts Concern

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. L. Mendel Rivers says the Defense Department's immediate elimination of 751 Army Reserve units "probably is legal, but it isn't the intent of Congress."

Rivers, chairman of the House Armed Services Committee, was reached Sunday night at his home in Charleston, S.C., following Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara's announcement of the cutback.

The McNamara action affects 55,000 men in more than a dozen states, including Rivers' own South Carolina.

It came despite a request by the Senate Armed Services Committee that the secretary delay any such action until next March.

"DISTURBING NEWS"

Most members of that committee couldn't be reached, but one, Republican Margaret Chase Smith, said at her home in Skowhegan, Maine, that the decision was "very disturbing."

She said, however, that she had been traveling over the weekend, and hadn't had time to analyze the full McNamara statement issued Saturday night.

Rivers, who feuded with McNamara earlier this year over Defense Department plans to merge the Reserve into the National Guard, said his committee will examine the elimination and all laws regarding the reserves when Congress reconvenes in January.

Rivers said he believes some realignment of units is in order, but that he opposes widespread elimination of units or McNamara's earlier proposals for abolition of the Reserves.

The Saturday announcement referred to the merger controversy by saying: "The inactivation does not involve any merger or consolidation of the Army Reserve into the National Guard."

MULL RESOLUTION

The Pentagon said McNamara, Deputy Secretary of Defense Cyrus R. Vance, Secretary of the Army Stanley R. Resor and Gen. Harold K. Johnson, Army chief of staff, "carefully considered the resolution of the Senate Armed Services Committee.

"They decided that the immediate inactivation of these units, which are not required by contingency war plans, is essential."

The men in the disbanded units have the option of switching to a priority reserve reinforcement pool where they would have no unit connection.

The elimination hits hardest at six divisions — the 63rd of California, the 77th of New York, the 90th of Texas, the 83rd of Ohio-West Virginia, the 102nd of Missouri-Illinois and the 81st of Georgia-North Carolina-South Carolina-Tennessee.. These outfits include some 42,090 men.

A Devotional For The Day

(Jesus) said to the woman, Thy faith hath saved thee; go in peace. (Luke 7:50)

PRAYER: Our Father God, give us a living faith—faith we shall not fear to trust. And may it not be the kind we have to keep. May it be that kind which keeps us—always, whatever befalls. In Christ's name we ask it. Amen.

Optimistic Outlook

Add Harold Hood of the U. S. Bureau of Reclamation to those who believe that fresh water from the ocean may be available at competitive rates in the near future. Hood, who is chief of the bureau's power marketing and sales, bases his judgment on the possible development of nuclear desalinization plants in Southern California.

He cited a prediction by the U.S. Office of Saline Water that fresh water might be produced by such plants within 10 years at rates as low as 12 cents per 1,000 gallons. "This would be competitive," Hood said in an address, "with imports (of fresh mountain water) from Northern California."

The significant point is that this Bureau of Reclamation official and others well acquainted with what is being done along these lines seem increasingly optimistic about the prospects for fresh water from the sea. If only the development program can be kept rolling, there is good reason to believe that this approach to solution of America's water problems will pay off long before the pessimists think it can.

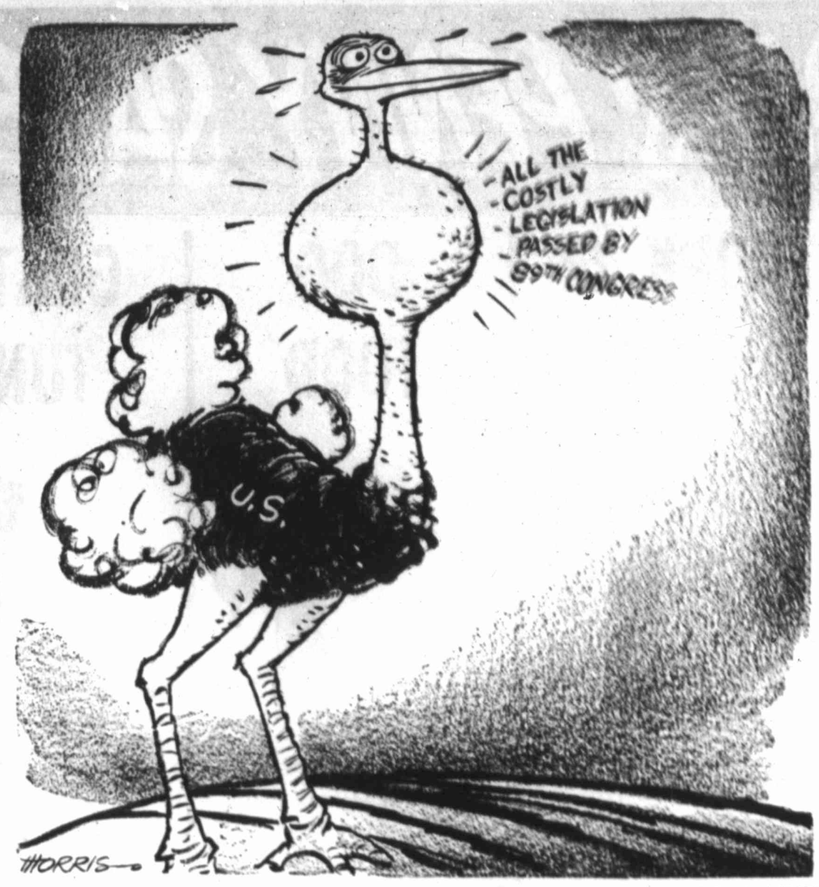

Aspirin Bill

One of mankind's most useful home remedies is aspirin. It reduces fever and relieves muscular and rheumatic pain. But it can, as with so many useful drugs, be dangerous if taken in excess.

Adults can read instructions and therefore are responsible for their own dosages. But children, even if they can read, cannot be depended on to exercise proper discretion. As a result, an average of about 150 children a year die from eating too much aspirin.

The less discriminating palate of children may even like the taste of plain aspirin. But in the flavored form they may think of it as candy, eating it freely and occasionally fatally.

This danger to children can be avoided if the second session of the 89th Congress approves a bill, now in committee, which would limit to 25 tablets the number of aspirin for children in any one container. There is fairly general agreement that 25 tablets of children's aspirin is below a fatal dose. It is a good bill. We hope Congress passes it early next year and that adults will keep their aspirin out of reach of children.

How To Bring On A Rain

No one complains about the breathlessly beautiful weather West Texas has during the fall of the year, when the sun is headed south and eases up a little in trying to overcook the land.

No one tries to fry an egg on the sidewalk. The wind generally stays down. You still feel comfortable in short sleeves and a hike in the evenings as the sun is going down isn't out of line.

WHAT DO YOU do at most any time of year, though, if you want to conjure up a rain? Do you subscribe to a series of rain-dance lessons started by the Hopi Indians or lend support to the theory that man can cause moisture to fall scientifically by firing pellets into the sky?

A substantial minority of your neighbors and mine reason there are easier ways to get nature to act up.

THEY MAINTAIN all they have to do is have the car washed. That is a tried and true weather breeder that has been proved out so often that some of the people use that avenue as a last resort—mainly because the exercise can be costly.

Another approach to the problem of breaking a drouth is to plan a picnic or a street dance. Plan at least a week in advance to spread a meal at the lake or the park and the risk is great that you will lure a curious rain cloud from a distant sky.

ADVERTISE a street dance far in advance and then be sure and take your slicker and galoshes with you—there's something about music and shuffling feet that Jupiter Pluvius and his cronies like.

The ladies find they can tempt the elements into really acting up by venturing to the beauty salon to have their hair fixed. The weather man has been known to save some of his best shots for those times when La Femme exits from the beauty shop. If he can't respond with a little rain, he'll invariably pepper milady with a mixture of wind and sand.

OF COURSE, you can improve the chances for rainfall by putting a mattress out to sun, washing your drapes and curtains and hanging them out to dry or allowing junior to invite a couple of neighbor kids over for a "sleep-out" under the stars.

The weather god likes for you to know he's not asleep at the switch under such conditions.

If all else fails, try painting the house with a substance that takes a full 24 hours to dry. Or, better still, pour some concrete and expose it to the elements.

There are any number of ways we could double our rainfall in this area if only we'd plan it carefully and operate in relays. —TOMMY HART

Government Running Business

WASHINGTON — President Johnson may have made in the last few days a political mistake of far-reaching importance by placing the Democratic party in the unenviable position of being completely responsible hereafter for the economic well-being of industry, of agriculture and of the individual citizen throughout the country.

By asserting as a right of the government the power to fix the price at which aluminum can be sold, the administration has taken control of the metal market and, by implication, has assumed a mastery of all the businesses of the country which produce or use the various commodities in the government's stockpile or are dependent on federal contracts involving tens of billions of dollars.

THE ADMINISTRATION has already been exerting pressure on the Federal Reserve Board to hold interest rates down even as bank loans are today at an unprecedentedly high level. But not until the President stepped in to order the defense department to sell 300,000 tons of aluminum in the government stockpile did it become crystal clear that the role of government as an adviser and counsellor of business had been expanded to the role of disciplinarian and boss.

WHETHER IT BE called an economic dictatorship or an unwarranted extension of executive power without any specific authorization by Congress to fix either wages or prices, the net effect of the latest interference in the natural operation of the laws of supply and demand is the same. For today the chief executive of the United States government has become the chief executive of what has hitherto been regarded as a private - business system in America.

IT HAS COME as a shock to American businessmen, who have thought that Mr. Johnson was sympathetic with the business viewpoint, to read what he did in threatening and then clubbing the aluminum companies into the rescinding of price rises they had felt were necessary to achieve a fair return on the investment of capital.

How can investors expect satisfactory dividends to flow from the initiative and ingenuity of business management where there is a veto power exercised against business operations by the President of the United States? How long will it be now before the prices of securities will be seriously affected, and will citizens be inclined to put their savings into companies that are limited in what they can pay in dividends?

AS FOR THE wage earner, he sees the federal government sanctioning $10,000 a year wages for the average steel worker, and wonders why the administration doesn't arrange it so the employes doing comparable work in other industries can get a similar wage. Will the cost of living now keep on going up, and will the dollar be further depreciated at home and abroad?

America has entered into an era of government dictatorship on the economic scene without any specific sanction by Congress. All this inevitably will have a far-reaching influence on future elections. Whether times are good or bad has always been a factor with many voters in either supporting or rejecting a party in power. Now there will be a greater awareness of this issue, and it could be decisive.

THE ADMINISTRATION hereafter will find itself even more the recipient of blame or praise for every important change in wages or prices or in the purchasing power of the dollar. It's an awesome responsibility for any administration to assume.

Rhodesian Situation Parallels Viet Nam

WASHINGTON (AP) — Critics of American policy in Viet Nam can test the validity of their thinking by asking themselves what they believe should be done about Rhodesia.

The principle is the same in both cases: an attempt by a minority to take over a government. In Viet Nam the Viet Cong guerrillas were in the minority. In Rhodesia the whites, outnumbered 17 to 1 by Negroes, were the minority.

The United States, when all else failed, used force to try to crush the Viet Cong in Viet Nam. Critics say the United States should not have intervened. Would the same critics say that force, if all else fails, should not be used to crush the new white government in Rhodesia?

IN THE British colony of Rhodesia, with 225,000 whites and four million Negroes, the whites last week declared independence and set up their own government, a white man's government.

That was the purpose: to be sure the whites, who have been the masters, remain masters by ignoring the wishes or rights of the overwhelming Negro population.

This was the defiance of the British government which had been willing to grant independence if the Negroes were guaranteed eventual control of the new government in a land where the whites are mostly of British origin.

But the leaders of other African nations in the United Nations assailed Britain for not taking more drastic action and rammed through the General Assembly a resolution demanding that Britain stamp out the "rebellion."

ONE OF them, Diallo Telli of Guinea, secretary-general of the Organization of African Unity, told a news conference that if the Rhodesian problem could not be solved by peaceful means, the African states would take other measures.

He said the Africans would "defend" themselves to make sure that Rhodesia's black masses are not "enslaved" by 225,000 white settlers.

It might be argued that since Rhodesia is a British colony, Britain would be justified in using force to crush the action of the Rhodesian whites to make sure the millions of Rhodesian Negroes could run the country.

But would other African states be justified in butting in with force to correct this injustice? Those who oppose the American intervention in Viet Nam could hardly say yes to the question without contradicting themselves.

After the French were driven out of Viet Nam in 1954 and the country was divided into halves, Communist North Viet Nam and non-Communist South Viet Nam, the United States stepped in at the request of the Saigon government to help the South survive.

Women Turn To Booze

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

Accidents now cost America over $15 billion a year. Last year, accidents killed 104,000 people, hurt about 50 million—roughly one out of every four persons in the nation.

Kids are getting bigger. In the last four decades, 15-year-old boys have gained four inches in height and 20 pounds in weight, girls two inches and 10 pounds.

TELL YOUR wife not to hurry through the supermarket. A University of Missouri survey found that 15 extra minutes of comparative food shopping could result in saving 5 per cent on a $20 purchase.

Did you know that no living person is portrayed on any U.S. stamp or coin?

Odd legislation: In 1659 the General Court of Massachusetts passed a law making the observance of Christmas a penal offense.

Barbering is one of the world's oldest occupations. Egyptian relics indicate the nobility and priesthood patronized barbers 6,000 years ago. There are more than 20 mentions of barbering in the Bible.

Quotable notables: "If you practice an art, be proud of it and make it proud of you. It may break your heart, but it will fill your heart before it breaks it; it will make you a person in your own right" — Maxwell Anderson.

WOMEN ARE TURNING more often to the cup that cheers. Six out of 10 women now indulge at least occasionally in alcoholic beverages compared with eight out of 10 men. But the bad news is that one out of every 13 so-called social drinkers in America is an alcoholic.

History lesson: The custom of holding egg rollings at Easter on the White House lawn began during the administration of Andrew Jackson, who loved children but was childless himself. Five other presidents had no children. They were George Washington, James Madison, James Knox Polk, Warren G. Harding, and, of course, our only bachelor president — James Buchanan.

A leaflet prepared by the U.S. Public Health Service gives this warning: "The risk of death from all causes is 70 per cent higher for cigarette smokers than for nonsmokers."

IT PAYS TO TAKE a business prospect to lunch. One firm found that its salesmen who never entertained customers averaged only $330,000 in annual orders, but those who took potential buyers to lunch three or four days a week averaged $729,000.

Prosperity note: Better than three out of every four American families own automobiles; more than eight million families have two or more cars.

Back To The Small Towns

WASHINGTON—The main street of Teotihuacan was called the Street of the Dead, and in view of what happened to the town it was an apt designation.

Teo, etc., is near modern Mexico City. It flourished during the first thousand years after the birth of Christ, and today is no more than a poorly defined gridwork that is identifiable as the remains of a metropolis only from high in the air.

CITIES HAVE a disheartening way of dying. They live out a life span and then they perish, from the Moon Temple of Ur to the obviously nonviable megalopolis that Americans lump under the inadequate name of New York City. New York was moribund before the great short circuit paralyzed it, of course, but the power failure showed just how far it has wandered down the road taken by Thebes, Babylon and Eridu.

Regard just the last year in the gaudy chronicle of New York. During that time it became sere and withered for want of water, it wheezed and coughed through a three-day smog that plainly portended more, and now it has endured a catatonic episode (the second such in recent memory) that was the result of ordinary corporate incompetence raised to its ultimate power.

IT IS UNFAIR to single out New York as an example of the dawning truth about cities. They all have their own built-in death wish. Witness Los Angeles, an unimaginable sprawl whose unfortunate prisoners attempted to burn late last summer. Or London. Even the good sense and good manners of Englishmen can't make London work; it coughs and dies in smog, its traffic is a nightmare that might have been created by Kafka, and no man alive can comprehend the deadening treadmill of boredom upon which its unhappy people toil away their lives.

THE CITY is the real enemy of our civilization. It possesses, dehumanizes and drains the very substance of the wretched creatures who inhabit it. A city housing more than 50,000 souls automatically becomes an affront to the human spirit. Small towns (in spite of the libels of such career misfits as Sherwood Anderson) are more tolerable places, and occasionally much more than that.

For example, recently we had a grisly—and very nearly tragic—accident with a chain saw in the precipitous pea patch in the Blue Ridge Mountains where we go weekends to restore our spirits. The nearest hospital was 30 miles distant, in a town of no more than 3,000, and it was with misgiving that we headed thither.

BUT THE HOSPITAL was magnificent—new, spotless, and served by dedicated men and women. The surgeon who coopered our fallen sawyer was, as it happens, an erstwhile Londoner and a man whose skill, we learned later, was celebrated as far away as the nation's capital.

Contrast that blessed place with the huge, cold, impersonal production-line hospitals of the big cities. There the unfortunate patient is a number, his kin are sheep to be sheared, and the food would kill a Turk.

THE NATION has lately undertaken various means of coping with the growth of the city. We have a Department of Urban Affairs, and all—or very nearly all—of the poverty, education and health spending by government will take place in cities. The growth of social problems can be shown to parallel the growth of cities, and the malignant growth of American cities is a dreadful harbinger for our society. By 1970 no less than 80 per cent of our people will live in cities—sitting targets for all manner of human and technological failures.

AT OLD HOLLOW, Rockahominy County, Va., we know what to do when the electric goes off. We light candles, stir up the fire and wait for it to return. One day it won't, of course, and when that happens we'll know that the city has finally just plumb collapsed of its own weight.

Billy Graham

Should a Christian be ambitious? Is it permissable for Christians to seek recognition? G. W.

Lack of any ambition would be fatal to anyone, Christian or not. Everyone should have a normal amount of ambition. It takes ambition to make an honest living; to get up in the morning; to wash the dishes; even to mail a letter. So, let's not eradicate ambition altogether.

Selfish ambition is another thing. The heart of sin is ego or self-centeredness—this is what Christ meant by denial of self.

It can best be explained this way: If we are ambitious for self glory, this is wrong? If we want to become well known for the glorification of our ego, that is sinful. Paul said, "I (my ego) has been crucified with Christ." God looks upon our motives. For example, if we want to get a higher education just to inflate our pride, then the motivation is wrong. But if education is a means of serving God and others better, then the desire is justified. So, anything that is selfish is wrong—anything that is for God's glory is right.

Our greatest ambition should be to glorify Christ, and to be conformed to His image.

WHAT OTHERS SAY

While proponents of "truth in packaging" and other so-called pro-consumer bills prepare to press their programs anew when Congress reconvenes, they might take a look at what's been going on in Britain. There, the government has become upset about the price of soap products, with interesting results.

After investigating rising prices of soaps and detergents sold in Britain by divisions of two major U.S. producers, the socialist government's National Price and Incomes Board concluded that unduly heavy advertising and promotional expenditures were instrumental in pushing those prices up. The board thereupon asked the firms to "exercise restraint" over such expenditures, which the soap makers graciously consented to do without a fight but without setting forth just how it is to be done.

In the board's view, although advertising and promotion "permit volume output and economies of scale in marketing," at the same time "the consumer would benefit if the area of price competition could be at the expense . . . of outlays on advertising and promotion."

Now this somewhat fuzzy reasoning has implications for marketers in the U. S.

If a governmental agency is empowered to "restrain" companies' advertising expenditures, how big a step is it to regulating the frequency of ads, or their size or content? Or to still more inhibiting rules?

In any event, the serious fact is that the line between the exercise of restraint and the exercise of constraint is thin indeed. Before the consumer protection-by-government movement gets much farther, it might help to inquire what seeds of future control lie nestled in the package Congress is being urged to buy.

Athlete's Foot A Fungus Infection

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: Please tell me what to do for athlete's foot. I have had it a long time. Does it spread to other parts of the body? I itch like mad, even in my scalp. In hot weather it is worse.—MRS. M.S.

I'll tell you what to do for athlete's foot — but first promise me that you'll go either to your doctor or to a dermatologist, because what you have doesn't sound like athlete's foot. Or it may be athlete's foot compounded with something else, and the first thing you have to do is find out what it really is.

As for athlete's foot, yes, it can spread, usually to the hands, but it isn't likely to go creeping all over the body.

It is a fungus infection, and not always the same kind of fungus. Sometimes a medication will work in one case and not in another.

The apparent answer is "Use a fungicide" — something that will kill fungi. The trouble is that general fungicides, if used in such strength and quantity that they can knock any fungi, will be too strong for the skin to tolerate. In severe cases, they can do more harm than good, so I conscientiously recommend that you have your doctor guide you.

For minor cases, the various drug store remedies for athlete's foot, used in moderation, often keep you comfortable — but the fungi, being tough, can hole up in the tiniest crevices in the skin and presently spread until itch and soreness return.

What to do if it is so difficult to kill fungi? Why, try to change conditions so they won't suit the fungi. Fungi want to be warm and moist. Therefore try to make things cool and dry.

Scrub the feet every night. You can't wash the fungi away, but you'll get rid of flakes of dead skin and other debris in which the fungi can thrive. Then dry the feet carefully, especially between the toes.

Change the socks daily. Sometimes twice a day. Foot powder in socks and shoes absorbs moisture, so use it. Sandals or ventilated footwear cool the feet and help moisture escape. If you can't wear sandals all the time, you can do so at home at night.

Socks should be laundered after each wearing — although you don't need any special precautions. Ordinary laundering is sufficient.

You perspire more in summer so you have to be especially careful then, but even in winter close attention to the rules pays off.

Lastly, it's always safer to start by seeing your doctor, just to make sure that it's athlete's foot and not something else. And, if he recognizes the case as a genuinely severe one, he can use some of the newer prescription medications, or even resort to ultra-violet or even X-ray when a case warrants it.

NOTE TO MRS. M. H.: No, pituitary hormone is too powerful to be sold over the counter. Anyway, it is hardly a cure-all for infertility, and would be useful only in certain cases.

Dr. Molner welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

What's 'Free Enterprise'?

What does "free enterprise" mean? And to whom?

On Oct. 30, President Johnson, in a glow of achievement, said: "Our free enterprise system has produced the greatest abundance in history . . . The magnificent record . . . during 1965 shows that we are moving steadily toward our ultimate goal: The end of want and the beginning of opportunity for all who seek it."

SUCH WELL-BEING prompted Olin Mathieson Chemical Corp. to exercise "free enterprise." It advanced the price of aluminum ingots from 24½ to 25 cents a pound, and Reynolds Metals and Kaiser Aluminum followed.

President Johnson quickly let the word go round that this did not conform to his idea of "free enterprise." But it suited the definition of Aluminum Co. of America to a T-plus. Alcoa matched the Olin advance on ingots and went beyond on fabricated products.

THEREUPON, Secretary of Defense Robert McNamara, an ex-free-enterpriser from Ford Motor Co., decided that what's good for the aluminum companies can also be good for the government. A market strong enough to warrant a price rise is strong enough to take some of the government stockpile. He'd sell! The price rise was rescinded.

Government actions often are louder with words. To Gardner Ackley, chairman of President Johnson's Council of Economic Advisers, the aluminum industry's "free enterprise" was not "responsible enterprise."

Such is "free enterprise," crica November, 1965. It's a far different "free enterprise" from that of Woodrow Wilson.

ON JUNE 23, 1913, President Wilson asked a joint session of Congress to emancipate businessmen from the tyranny of inelastic credit and resulting money panics. Businessmen, he said, must "have at hand and ready for use the instrumentalities of free enterprise which independent men need when acting on their own initiative." These words foreran the Federal Reserve System.

In that pre-World-Wor I era, the government was a bystander in the marketplace. Laissez faire was not regarded as economic anarchy. Enough buyers and sellers higgled and haggled over prices to suggest realistic competition.

IN 1938, President Franklin D. Roosevelt decided that government must participate. He criticized monopolistic pricing: "Private enterprise is ceasing to be free enterprise and is becoming a cluster of private collectivisms."

And in opposing the power of Big Business, Roosevelt set up, as a counterweight, Big Unionism. Soon coal prices were influenced less by decisions of coal magnates than by wage demands of John L. Lewis and his United Mine Workers. Under Truman, Eisenhower, Kennedy and Johnson, wage settlements in key industries set prices and under Kennedy the government began to set wage-price guidelines.

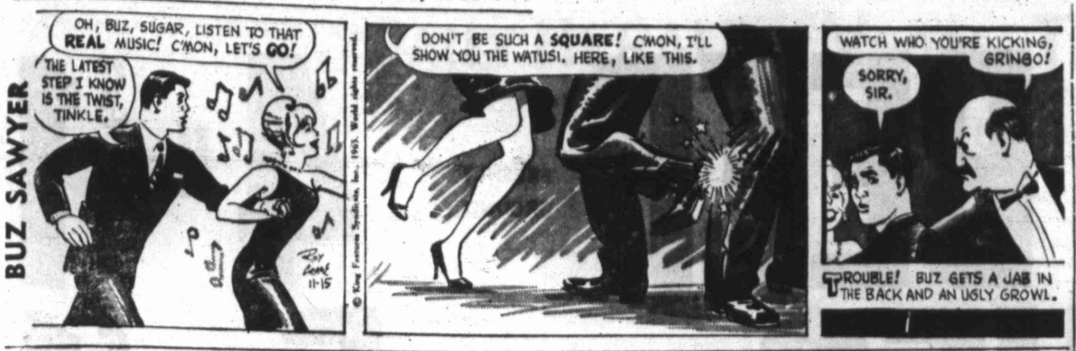

THE GOVERNMENT has been too often too deep in price-influencing to get out. President Roosevelt had his "plague on both your houses" in Little Steel, and President Kennedy his confrontation with Roger Blough in Big Steel.

Walter Heller, when chairman of the Council of Economic Advisers, criticized the automobile industry on profits and prices. Last December President Johnson rolled back the increase in the prime interest rate by the First National Bank of Boston. And now he is intervening in the aluminum market by jawbone (words) and muscle (inventories).

If this is free enterprise, then spare your breath!

BIG SPRING DAILY HERALD

SEC. B BIG SPRING, TEXAS, MONDAY, NOVEMBER 15, 1965 SEC. B

Highlights From Day In Capital

WASHINGTON (AP) — The new Sen. Byrd of Virginia dubs himself a progressive dedicated to fiscal responsibility.

The Defense Department eliminates 751 Army Reserve units, and a critic says it violates congressional intent.

The Army assigns some new duties to its veterinarians.

BYRD: "My father has made his record," says Harry F. Byrd Jr. "Now I must make mine."

The younger Byrd has been appointed to fill the U.S. Senate seat resigned last week by his ailing, 78-year-old father.

Democrat Byrd, 50, expects to seek election in his own right next year.

What kind of a record does he hope to run on?

"I would like to consider myself as a progressive in the sense that it is important to continue to look forward in order to serve the best interests of all the people."

He adds: "There are certain fundamentals that don't change —the constitutional concepts of government, and I feel that true progress can only be made through fiscal responsibility."

RESERVES: The Senate Armed Services Committee asked that he wait until next March, but Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara said it couldn't be done.

As a result, the Defense Department has eliminated 751 Army Reserve units.

Rep. L. Mendel Rivers, D-S.C., chairman of the House Armed Services Committee, says the move probably is legal, "but it isn't the intent of Congress."

VETERINARIANS: The Veterinarian—famed as the horse doctor of cavalry days—is finding his Army duties more diversified.

"The emphasis," says Lt. Col. H.G. Brown, "has switched from horses to monkeys, mice and rats."

Brown, chief of the programming branch of the Veterinarians' Division, says the Army now needs vets to assist in laboratory research.

One aspect, he says, is studying the 106 diseases which can be transferred from animals to man.

Survivors Tell Of Sea Ordeal

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Survivors of the Yarmouth Castle are coping with problems of replacing money, keys, personal papers and other belongings that went down with the cruise ship. They also tell vivid stories of their escape.

"I was lucky. I never got wet," said Terry Wise of Markham, Ont. As flames swept the white-hulled vessel, Wise, purser aboard the ship, said he was picked up by a lifeboat from the Bahama Star.

An East Cleveland, Ohio, couple, who lost their eyeglasses as the ship sank, said finding a lifeboat wasn't that easy.

TUMBLE IN

"We asked several passing crewmen, who wore lifejackets, 'where is a lifeboat?'" said Dale Herman. "Some didn't pay any attention to us, but one pointed to a companionway leading up to the deck." He said they tumbled into a boat along with 50 others.

Terry Eliseunson, 22, a St. Paul, Minn., secretary, said she and a girl friend opened their stateroom doors to find the corridor so full of smoke that they despaired of leaving that way.

"I smashed the porthole with my fist," she said. "One crew member said we might as well give up hope and die because that was it."

PICKED UP

They slid down a line into the water and remained about 45 minutes before being picked up by a lifeboat from the Bahama Star.

"We were wearing our nightgowns. Some people jumped in without clothes," Miss Eliseunson said. "It was awful — you just can't imagine."

Three Iowa vacationers recall seeing "some pretty bad sights." They said they had to pick their way through milling fellow passengers — some injured — and scramble aboard a lifeboat to escape the inferno.

Mrs. Leo Simons, 56, Cedar Rapids, said, "We had to step over a badly burned man who apparently had been brought from elsewhere on the ship and placed on the main deck."

Threat On LBJ Charged

ATLANTA (AP) — A house painter is being held on a charge of threatening the life of President Johnson.

Billy Ray Pursley, 31, of Summerville, Ga., was arrested Sunday by Secret Service agents on a warrant issued by a U.S. commissioner at Concord, N.C., Saturday. Pursley allegedly threatened the President while buying a rifle in Charlotte, N.C., last Thursday, A.G. Vial of the Secret Service said.

Pursley is married and the father of a child.

Vial said that Pursley bought a rifle at a Charlotte discount house Nov. 11. Witnesses to the purchase stated he threatened to use the rifle upon the President Vial said.

Vial said the man admitted buying the rifle, but denied having made any threats.

Vegas Takes On Political Weight

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — America's gambling capital, the place where you can either shoot craps, or get a shoeshine, or buy a can of prunes at 4 a.m., finds itself a political heavyweight today.

For if present population trends continue, by 1970 the booming southern Nevada city will completely dominate both houses of the legislature.

The door to domination was opened this weekend when legislators, in special session, agreed on a reapportionment plan they say meets the requirements of the Supreme Court's "one-man, one-vote" decision.

BIG GAIN

As it stands, Las Vegas will gain nearly half the legislative seats right away.

Until the early 1940's, Las Vegas billed itself as "Gateway to Hoover Dam." At the time 8,000 called Las Vegas home and 8,000 others lived throughout Massachusetts-sized Clark County.

Bugsy Siegel changed all this. In 1946, the underworld figure eyed Nevada's legalized gambling and built a luxurious hotel-casino.

High-rise casino followed luxurious casino, until the Las Vegas "Strip" resembled the rocket gantries along Cape Kennedy. Banking, services, atomic testing, the military and light industry moved in to flesh out the boom now sparked by 20 million tourists each year.

NOW 264,000

Clark County today has grown to 264,000, compared with the 1960 census of 127,000. For the 1964 general election, Clark had 80,000 registered voters, half the state total.

But until this weekend, Clark County only had one of 17 state senators and 12 of 37 assemblymen in one of the nation's most malapportioned legislatures.

Under the reapportionment proposal, Clark was awarded 8 of 20 senators and 16 of 40 assemblymen.

Judy Garland, Actor Married

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Judy Garland was married Sunday to actor Mark Herron, her one-time traveling companion.

Casually Yours

By JO BRIGHT

Grandmother Carroll used to say that as long as people were clean and covered, it didn't matter much what they wore. Believing that people's circumstances often determined how they were garbed, she didn't judge a person's character by their clothing and was POSITIVE plumes would not be considered in the final judging.

I've felt much the same way—but have had fun doing the women's fashion shows, and now it looks like the men are going to make them share the spotlight. We had a page on men's fashions a couple of weeks ago, and while in San Angelo this weekend, I notice the Standard Times gave men's clothing quite a bit of coverage. The fellows are going to be strutting like peacocks—and just about as colorful.

Mrs. Z. M. Long called this morning to say that her niece, Mrs. B. J. (June) DeVoy, a former resident who worked in the county clerk's office for many years, had surgery Saturday in Baylor Hospital at Dallas. She's in Room 319 and would like to hear from her friends.

Mrs. Mary Ragsdale is back at work after a few days hospitalization.

Lots of our people were in Dallas for the football games and accompanying festivities. Mr. and Mrs. Barney Bickley came here from El Paso to join the Bill Colemans for the trip, and R. E. McKinney and Dr. Floyd Mays made the trip together.

Harold Canning and Barry went to Houston instead and are back this morining — and I believe Marvin Miller and Champ Rainwater are due back today from Puerto Rico where they flew to see George Grimes. The weather should have been warm, and they were planning on some golf at San Juan. George will be here the middle of December and stay until after the first of the year. His son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Grimes, spent ten days with him in Ponce last month.

Noticed George Zachariah lunching at Cosden with John Norman of Odessa, and the R. J. Reams with a friend. Mrs. Reams is very proud of the award received by Dick from the Girl Scouts last week. She said he worked for this one!

Some of the bridge players were taking time out for a snack. Among them were Mrs. R. L. Tollett, Mrs. Joe Moss and Mrs. Ray Boren. I heard that Mrs. Jo McCullough left a game the other day to go to Amarillo where her daughter was ill but haven't been able to get anymore on it.

Mrs. Omar Jones and Taylor went to Lubbock to see Larry at Texas Tech (and the game) while Omar was hunting this weekend.

The T. C. Skanchys at Webb are expecting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Peterson who ranch near Van Croft, Idaho, to be here soon for a visit, and Kay Loveland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Rosene, will be getting home more often now. She's working with George Mahon in the Lubbock office until time for them to return to Washington.

The Clyde Thomases are glad to have their daughter, Mrs. Jerry Grimes, here for the next few months while Capt. Grimes is in Asia. Jane was in the office the other day with the grandson, Speights.

Call me.

Agriculture Gains Laid To Research

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — University research, with the results virtually hand-delivered to the nation's farmers, has made American agriculture the envy of the world.

And, says a panel of prominent educators, there's no reason why the same techniques can't solve the pyramiding problems of the big cities.

"University extension has worked wonders for agriculture for the past 100 years," said President Mason W. Gross of Rutgers University.

"Urban extension agents should be as effective as their counterparts in the rural areas — although the problems are vastly more complex and difficult in the cities."

Dear Abby

Wrong Party

DEAR ABBY: I recently read some advice in your column which just didn't sound like you, and it's bothered me ever since. A mother who signed "OUTMANEUVERED" asked what to do about her two little boys, ages four and five, who'd sneak out of their beds in search of "goodies" after the family had retired. They'd get into the cupboards and refrigerator and help themselves to whatever was available. YOU told that mother to take the door off the boys' room and install a METAL GATE, which could be opened only from the outside! Abby, I'm surprised at you. You should have told her it was time she started to discipline her boys. A mother can't lock up her kids until they leave for college.

DISAPPOINTED IN YOU

DEAR DISAPPOINTED: That advice didn't "sound like me," because I didn't write it. (It must have appeared in another column.) I wouldn't have told a mother to LOCK UP her kids because, if a fire should break out, it could be disastrous. There are some crimes for which people are sentenced to "burn" — but raiding the refrigerator is not one of them.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: I wish you would say something to those merchants who start in with Christmas the day after Halloween. They should be ashamed of themselves for using the natal day of our Lord to boost their sales! Why, I haven't even started to plan my Thanksgiving when I have Christmas things shoved in front of me. With a two-month running start, Christmas is all worn out before it even gets here.

DISGUSTED IN NEWARK

• • •

DEAR ABBY: I have heard so many people complain that the merchants are starting so early to cash in on the Christmas season that Christmas has become just one big commercial sales promotion. Abby, I for one am so thankful that Christmas gifts, wrappings and ribbons are available in October because that's when I have to do my Christmas shopping. I have a son and daughter-in-law in Japan, and if they're to get their Christmas gifts in time, I must mail them no later than November 1st. I couldn't enjoy my Christmas at home knowing my children were alone in a foreign country without their gifts. Please tell your readers not to think the merchants are trying to make all they can out of Christmas. They are making it possible for parents to give their children in faraway lands a merry Christmas.

AIR FORCE MOM IN RICHMOND, CAL.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "PERPLEXED": No, it's not some newfangled custom: Neither is it proper to send a gift with the price tag and sales slip enclosed. Had this occured only once, I would assume it was a case of careless clerkmanship. But since you've received three such gifts from the same party on three separate occasions, you may assume that it was intentional. (Could the giver be trying to tell you something?)

Cuozzo Has Passed Test

By The Associated Press

Gary Cuozzo, who passed up a scholarship to Yale Medical School and instead took Johnny Unitas' free-agent course, has passed Unitas in his first test.

Cuozzo, subbing at quarterback for the injured Unitas, threw a team record five touchdown passes Sunday as the Baltimore Colts crushed the Minnesota Vikings 41-21 in the National Football League.

The victory, their seventh straight, kept the Colts one game in front of the Green Bay Packers in the Western Conference.

BESTS UNITAS

Cuozzo's touchdown tosses totaled one more than Unitas ever has thrown in a game. The Colts' brilliant regular, who has flipped four scoring passes in a game 12 different times, sat out this one with a back injury suffered last week.

"He knows that someday the job will be his, and he wants to be ready," Coach Don Shula said of Cuozzo after watching his second-stringer complete 16 of 26 passes for 208 yards.

When the Phi Beta Kappa from the University of Virginia does take over from Unitas, it will be a case of one free agent following another. The Colts picked up Unitas in 1956 without the aid of the draft and did the same with Cuozzo in 1963.

OTHER GAMES

In other NFL games, Green Bay edged Los Angeles 6-3, Cleveland thumped New York 24-21, Chicago trounced St. Louis 34-13, San Francisco defeated Detroit 27-21, Dallas beat Pittsburgh 24-17 and Philadelphia topped Washington 21-14.

Don Chandler's second field goal of the game, a seven-yarder with 37 seconds to play, carried Green Bay past Los Angeles. Lionel Aldridge set up the score by recovering a Bill Munson fumble forced by Ron Kostelnik.

Jimmy Brown ran for 156 yards and scored three touchdowns while Ernie Green caught seven passes for 160 yards and one touchdown as Cleveland opened a two-game lead in the Eastern Conference. Earl Morrall passed for all three New York touchdowns.

CARDS BLITZED

Gale Sayers committed a costly fumble against St. Louis but came back with an 86-yard kickoff return that set up an 11-yard touchdown run by Jon Arnett. The flashy Chicago rookie also ran seven yards for another touchdown.

Clark Miller raced 75 yards with Milt Plum's fumble, highlighting San Francisco's triumph over Detroit. Earlier, Dave Wilcos scooted eight yards for a touchdown with a fumble by Tom Watkins.

Dallas defenders intercepted five of Pittsburgh's last nine passes, the next-to-last by Dave Edwards setting up the winning touchdown. That came on Don Meredith's 28-yard pass to Bob Hayes.

Earl Gros drove less than one yard for Philadelphia's winning touchdown against Washington after a 78-yard pass from Norm Snead to Pete Retzlaff carried the ball to the Redskins' seven.

Defense Saved Cowboys' Lead

DALLAS (AP)—The offense tried to fumble the game away but the defense wouldn't let them.

So the Dallas Cowboys beat Pittsburgh 24-17 Sunday to make it two straight, after dropping five in a row, and have climbed into a tie for third in the Eastern Conference of the National Football League.

Cleveland, the leader who Dallas plays here next Sunday, would have to lose three out of five and the Cowboys would have to win all their remaining five to even tie for the championship.

But the Cowboys are having a lot of fun playing it loose and easy and winning ball games with breaks that used to go against them.

The Cowboys intercepted five passes in the last quarter Sunday and two of them were turned into touchdowns to beat the Steelers, who licked them 22-13 the last time they played.

The pass interceptions wiped out some untimely fumbling by offensive stars Bob Hayes and Don Meredith. Hayes fumbled a punt and Lee Folkins, showing off against his former teammates, ran 18 yards for a touchdown with it to put the Steelers ahead 17-10.

But Cornell Green intercepted a pass to set Dallas up for another touchdown to tie the score.

Then after Mel Renfro intercepted another pass to put Dallas in position to score again, Meredith, the Cowboys quarterback, proceeded to fumble the ball to Pittsburgh on the Dallas 29 and it looked like the Pokes were sunk.

But Obert Logan intercepted a pass to get Meredith off the hook.

Then later Dave Edwards intercepted a pass on the Pittsburgh 31 and Meredith and Hayes chose the occasion to make up for their shortcomings. Meredith lofted a pass to Hayes for 28 yards and the winning touchdown.

Another bright feature of the Dallas drive down the stretch is the attendance. There were 57,293 in the Cotton Bowl Sunday, making the total for five games 274,162. That is the all-time high and is 5,501 better than last year when seven games drew 268,661.

Lamar Tech Wins It Again

By The Associated Press

Lamar Tech is football champion of the Southland Conference the second year in a row and the closing schedule this week doesn't mean a thing except to decide second place.

Tech won the title Saturday without turning a hand—the Cardinals were beating West Texas State 21-14 in a nonconference test while Arlington State was upsetting Arkansas State 27-12 and Abilene Christian was whipping Trinity 30-27 to hand the title to Tech.

Lamar Tech closes the season Saturday night against Arlington State at Arlington.

Thousand Yards Again

Jim Brown's five-yard run in the third quarter of yesterday's game against the New York Giants put the Cleveland Browns fullback over 1,000 yards for the seventh time in his nine-year pro grid career. Brown is dogged by Dick Lynch (22) and Bill Swain (52) of the Giants but not before he gained the magic figure. He went on to 156 yards and scored three TDs in the Browns' 34-21 victory. Chiefs' Sunday Star Likes Defensive Starting Slot

By The Associated Press

Kansas City's Johnny Robinson, who started his pro football career by signing with two teams, has developed one theory that would shock most players.

Robinson thinks playing offense is a waste of time.

An offensive player turned corner back, Robinson wasted no time Sunday by intercepting two passes in crucial first-half situations as the defense-minded Chiefs rolled to a 31-7 American Football League victory over Western Division - leading San Diego.

It was another typical performance for the 26-year-old former Louisiana State star who started his career on the wrong foot and then had to learn how to run backward instead of forward.

A running mate of Billy Cannon at LSU, Robinson became a double signee by winding up with two contracts — one with the Detroit Lions of the National League. He eventually was awarded to the AFL but found his path to a first-string job blocked by Abner Haynes and Jack Spikes.

DEFENSIVE DEMON

Facing that situation, Robinson was made into a defensive back but he admits he did not like the idea. However, he since has changed his mind and now pointedly says:

"Ball players waste their time playing offense. There's more satisfaction — more of a feeling of accomplishment — playing defense."

Robinson certainly got that feeling against the Chargers.

His first interception, at the two-yard line, halted a 96-yard San Diego drive and protected Kansas City's 10-0 lead. Then, after the Chargers closed to 10-7, he stole another John Hadl pass at midfield and set up a Kansas City touchdown by returning 14 yards.

BUFFALO NEAR

Buffalo, meanwhile, moved to within one victory of clinching the Eastern Division title by edging Oakland 17-14 on Billy Joe's one-yard smash with seven seconds to go. Denver whipped Houston 31-21 and New York defeated Boston 30-20.

Clem Daniels scored on a 41-yard run and a 25-yard pass from Dick Wood as the Raiders tied with Kansas City, built a 14-7 lead in the fourth quarter.

But Pete Gogolak's 38-yard field goal and a 62-yard closing drive engineered by Jack Kemp and climaxed by Joe pulled it out for the Bills, now 8-2.

HAYNES HOT

Abner Haynes pulled Denver into a 14-14 tie with Houston in the third period by racing three yards for a touchdown, then put the Broncos ahead to stay in the fourth quarter by returning a punt 57 yards for another touchdown.

Joe Namath hit Don Maynard with 22 and 36-yard touchdown passes and Jim Turner kicked three field goals in the Jets' victory over the Patriots. New York never was headed after turning three fumbles into 17 points in the first quarter.

Blanda Loses Six Passes

HOUSTON (AP) — George Blanda started off beautifully and then bombed as his Houston Oilers dropped their fifth American Football League game to Denver Sunday, 31-21.

The 37-year-old veteran completed his first five passes, including a 37-yard shot to Charlie Frazier for a touchdown. Of his next five passes he completed three.

Then it got bad. Blanda ended up completing more passes to Denver players than Denver's quarterback John McCormick.

The Broncos picked off six interceptions in all. McCormick connected on only five of 28 passing attempts for 20 yards. Denver returned the interceptions five times that far: 104 yards.

Denver amassed a paltry 193 yards total offense. Cookie Gilchrist, a 251-pound running tank, accounted for more than half of that with 119 yards on 16 carries.

It was the Broncos' defensive play that won the game.

Marlene Vaults Into 2nd Place

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—Mrs. Marlene Hagge won the $10,000 Alamo Open golf tournament Sunday—her third in the last four weeks—and vaulted into second place among the money-winners along the women's tour.

Her closing one-over-par 73 was good for 216 over 54 holes and it won her $1,500 first money by three strokes over Kathy Whitworth, the leading money winner of the year, and Carol Mann.

Miss Whitworth had a Pecan Valley course record 69 but couldn't catch Mrs. Hagge. Miss Mann shot a windup 73.

Mrs. Hagge now has won $20,998. Miss Whitworth leads with $27,158.

Clifford Ann Creed, the second place winner Mrs. Hagge supplanted, didn't play here—she's on tour in Australia.

The tournament here closed the women's tour for the year. All that's left is the Titleholders at Augusta, Ga., Nov. 25-28.

SHOWDOWN TIME

Upstart Texas Tech Could Whip Razorbacks

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Writer

It's showdown time this week in the tumultuous Southwest Conference football race and most of the action will come high in the Ozark hills at Fayetteville Saturday when Arkansas clashes with Texas Tech.

Arkansas, hoping to complete its second straight perfect season, could lose more than a ball game should upstart Tech, riding with an 8-1 record, upset the brilliant gridiron legions of Frank Broyles.

Then Arkansas would not only have to share the title with Tech but also surrender the host spot in the Cotton Bowl.

There would be little question that Arkansas would be in a bowl game even if it lost but the Razorbacks also would be giving up their high national ranking, which they hope and expect will be No. 1 this week.

Arkansas fought off the challenge of Southern Methodist last week, beating the Methodist 24-3 to knock them out of the race. Texas Tech was hanging in there, however, by walloping Baylor 34-22.

Texas Christian handed Texas its fourth defeat of the season—the most Coach Darrell Royal has had in a year since going to Texas in 1957. The Frogs beat the Longhorns 25-10.

Southern Methodist and Texas Christian are tied for third place with 3-2 records. SMU plays Baylor at Waco Saturday while Texas Christian hosts Rice.

There are only three games. Texas and Texas A&M take out to get ready for their Thanksgiving Day clash at College Station.

Tech Boosters Wearing Cotton

LUBBOCK, Tex. (AP) — Cotton corsages were being worn in the crowd that saw Texas Tech beat Baylor 34-22 here Saturday afternoon.

Nothing was said about it — that is, nobody made a big to-do. It was only a gentle hint that next Saturday night Texas Tech's followers might be wearing the corsages officially.

Because Tech can get into the Cotton Bowl by beating Arkansas at Fayetteville, Ark.

That, though, is another question. Tech never has beaten Arkansas and it has tried eight times.

Hopefully, however, the Red Raider adherents point to the past two years. The Raiders rallied from a 20-0 deficit in 1963 to score 20 points and lose only 27-20.

Last year the score was 0-0 at the half and the Raiders had gotten close enough to miss a couple of field goal tries. Arkansas eventually won the game, 17-0.

Actually, there is considerable surprise even in Lubbock that Tech has done as well as it has. The Raiders were generally relegated to fourth place in the Southwest Conference in preseason forecasts.

When the Raiders took a 33-7 licking from awesome old enemy Texas, the pre-season predictions seemed to have been perhaps a little charitable.

But Tech hasn't lost one since then, has an 8-1 record, is good bowl material, is in possition to stop college football's greatest winning streak — the 21 owned by Arkansas — and to share the conference championship.

Nebraska Confuses The Bowl Situation

By The Associated Press

Nebraska has made its decision. But instead of clarifying the college football bowl situation, it's just confused things.

You see, 'most everyone figured unbeaten Nebraska for a return appearance in the Cotton Bowl, opposing the Southwest Conference champion.

Only Nebraska, unbeaten and ranked third in the nation, decided to accept an invitation to the Orange Bowl after a 21-17 decision over Oklahoma State Saturday.

"The players thought it would be a new experience," explained Nebraska coach Bob Devaney, whose Cornhuskers were beaten by Arkansas 10-7 in the Cotton Bowl last Jan. 1.

Missouri also accepted a spot in the Sugar Bowl and Georgia Tech a berth in the Gator. Michigan State, the nation's No. 1 team, came from behind for a 27-13 victory over Indiana. That wrapped up a 7-0 Big Ten season for the Spartans and it appears that selection as the conference representative to the Rose Bowl is only a formality.

And with Alabama apparently headed for the Orange Bowl, it left the Cotton Bowl selectors in something of a scramble.

A lot of the questions — not only about bowls but on such other items as national and conference titles — will be cleared up in four key games this weekend. Those are:

Michigan State, 9-0, vs. Notre Dame, 8-1 — Has no bearing on bowl berths but could determine the national champion. Michigan State currently is No. 1, Notre Dame No. 4. The Irish blanked North Carolina 17-0 for their seventh straight victory.

Southern California, 6-1-1, vs. UCLA, 6-1-1 — The winner will claim at least a share of the Pacific Athletic Coast Conference title and almost certainly goes to the Rose Bowl opposite Michigan State. Southern California, No. 6, beat Pitt 28-0, No. 7 UCLA clipped Stanford 30-13.

Arkansas, 9-0, vs. Texas Tech, 8-1 — Arkansas, No. 2 in the nation, rolled over Southern Methodist 24-3 for its 21st straight victory, ninth this season. Texas Tech trounced Baylor 34-22. The winner gets a spot in the Cotton Bowl, the loser probably going to another major bowl.

Princeton, 8-0, vs. Dartmouth, 8-0 — The winner gains the Ivy League title but no bowl bid since the conference prohibits it. Princeton, with place kicker Pete Gogolak setting still more records, crushed Yale 31-6 for its 17th straight, while Dartmouth took Cornell 20-0.

That makes the major bowl situation — with lots of ifs attached — look something like this:

Rose Bowl — Michigan State vs. Southern California or UCLA.

Cotton Bowl — Arkansas or Texas Tech vs. Tennessee, 4-1-2, or Auburn, 6-2-1.

Orange Bowl — Nebraska vs. Alabama, 7-1-1.

Sugar Bowl — Missouri, 6-2-1, vs. Texas Tech or Arkansas.

Gator Bowl — Georgia Tech, 6-2-1, vs. Tulsa, 6-2, or Florida, 6-2.

The Cotton Bowl is the biggest puzzler, since Alabama, 35-14 victor over South Carolina and the nation's fifth-ranked team, appears headed for the Orange.

Cotton Bowl secretary Howard Grubbs listed six teams as likely contenders Sunday—Tennessee, Louisiana State, Syracuse, Auburn, Kentucky and Florida.

Of those, Tennessee and Auburn have the best records — and the biggest challenges. Tennessee, No. 8 in the nation, was upset by Mississippi 14-13 for its first loss but still has to face Kentucky, Vanderbilt and UCLA. Auburn, 6-2-1 after a 21-19 edge over Georgia, has one game left, Alabama. Kentucky, another prime contender, was upset by Houston 38-21 and is now 6-3.

Angelo Game Tickets Due

"On to Angelo" was the slogan this week for football fans who are eager to see the Big Spring Steers in their last appearance of the season.

San Angelo is sending over a block of 800 adults for the game, plus the student tickets. Sale will open to season ticket holders on Wednesday morning and to the general public on Thursday to continue through Friday noon. Student tickets will be on sale at the business office and the high school.

Friday's game against Odessa turned out to be a home affair. Of the total crowd of 3,487, only 94 adults and 68 students were from Odessa. The gate of $3,819 was the smallest of the season.

Return Meeting Highlights Race

By The Associated Press

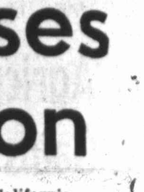

A return meeting between Fathers Image and Spring Double in the $300,000 Garden State Stakes for 2-year-olds at Garden State Park Saturday highlights thoroughbred horse racing this week.

Fathers Image beat Spring Double by one length in the $213,990 Pimlico Futurity at the Maryland oval last Saturday, but was disqualified from first and placed second for bumping Spring Double at the head of the stretch.

Spring Double, owned by Mrs. Milton Erlanger, paid off at $112.40 for $2 in taking first-prize money of $134,543. The son of Double Jay-Sunset Gun isn't eligible for the Garden State at the moment, but his owner is expected to pay a supplementary fee of $10,000 before the entries close Thursday.

Fathers Image, who led all the way in the 1 1-16-mile futurity, is a regular eligible and his owner, John M. Olin, is confident his colt will make amends in the Garden State.

CATCH-UP on the bills. No, Charlie, we don't mean the Buffalo Bills in the AFL. We mean the ones that pile up every month... the ones that are scalping your budget and make you have to watch all your football on TV. How do you "catch up" on old bills? Just ask for a Bill Consolidation Loan from S.I.C. The money you apply for could pay 'em all off... and leave you with just one much smaller amount to repay each month. That's right. State Playoffs Begin This Week

By The Associated Press

Alpine and Three Rivers will be the favorites this week when the state playoffs open in Texas schoolboy football but there's plenty for them to worry about before they can stow away the trophies.

The bi-district round is scheduled in Classes AA and A while Classes AAAA and AAA wind up the district race and complete their playoff brackets.

Texarkana, the favorite in Class AAAA, and Dumas, which has that tag in Class AAA, are safely in the playoffs already.

Eighteen of the 64 teams in the AA and A playoffs are undefeated and untied and when Ballinger rolls against Alpine at Big Lake Friday night, it will be matching two of them.

A couple of other teams with unsullied records in Class AA also get together in the opening round as Dalhart and Iowa Park tangle at Amarillo Saturday night.

Other undefeated, untied teams left in Class AA are Denver City, Granbury, West, Mineola, Cameron and Edna.

White Deer, Sonora, Coahoma, Goldthwaite, Forney, Wills Point and Three Rivers have that distinction in Class A.

The sites and dates of all playoff games were set over the weekend except Pilot Point and Honey Grove in Class A. That one will be arranged today.

The playoffs:

Sul Ross Still May Have Tie

By The Associated Press

The Lone Star Conference football race comes to a close this week with Sul Ross seeking the undisputed championship in a clash with Sam Houston State at Alpine.

Sul Ross, winner of nine games in a row, five of them conference affairs, clinched a tie for the title last week when it slammed Howard Payne 35-27.

Texas A&I beat Sam Houston 14-6 to hang in second place, a game back.

If Sul Ross defeats Sam Houston Saturday it will win the title outright. A Sul Ross loss and Texas A&I victory, however, would mean Sul Ross and A&I tied for the title.

Southwest Texas is at A&I and Stephen F. Austin is at East Texas State in other final conference games.

Steers Want To Upset Bobcats

Bruised and battle weary but full of fire, the Big Spring Steers are taking light drills this week in an effort to muster strength to upset San Angelo Friday night.

Looking more like the team they want to be, the Steers hard-nosed Odessa 21-0 here Friday. It was a case of the team coming up with the big play when it had to have it — both offensively and defensively. The three TDs came that way, and on one occasion when Odessa was threatening to get back into the ball game, a great fourth-down crash by Yogi Anderson broke the Bronchos' back.

Coach Donald Robbins made no effort to conceal his pride in the effort the boys are showing. He decreed work in sweat shirts this week in hopes he can have his key troops ready. Rey Navarette has a bad knee and played no offense and little defense Friday. Joe Juare, who saved what looked like a sure TD (it turned out Odessa was clipping) with a great defensive effort, has a bruised shoulder. Yogi Anderson, a defensive hero, has a game ankle, and Eddie Crittenden, tackle, is hobbling. Berry King, who played perhaps his best game last Friday, also has a knee injury, and Gary Rogers, who has come up with some defensive gems, has a weak ankle.

How to contain San Angelo's great speed is the big problem for the Steers. The Bobcats have such scat backs as Julio Guerrero, Dan Williams, Terry Collins and Frank Stringer, any of whom can go all the way. The other threat is Gary Mullins and his pinpoint passing.

Most of the work this week will be on defensive recognition, trying to get ready for patterns from various formations and to watch for certain players. The Steers let it be known they aren't making a 90 mile trip just for fun; they're aiming to make it three in a row over Angelo.

Steers Assured Of Edge In Season's Statistics

The plucky Big Spring Steers reversed the field Friday night against Odessa and assured themselves a statistical margin in all departments for the season.

With only the San Angelo game remaining, the Steers hold a 566-yard advantage in rushing, a 215-yard margin in passing. Even in punting, the Steers hold an average edge of four yards per kick. And in one department they had just as soon not boast about, they lead in fumbling away the ball 8-3, but offsetting this they have picked off 11 enemy passes while losing only five by this route.

Joe Jaure is the leading rusher with 474 for a 6.3 yard average, but Bobby Griffin made a fine showing last Friday and boosted his average gain to 7.9 to lead in this respect. Gregg Pate, gaining poise and confidence, has upped his pass completions to 21, a fairly respectable 44 per cent. He's been climbing each week in his percentage of completions. Wayne Nail continues as the leading receiver with 19 receptions, one of them a touchdown. Joe Jaure has caught three passes for TDs. Pate has come on strong to peg an average of 40.1 yards per kick, which is pretty good in any league.

This is the way it looks:

Rookie's Victory Is A Big Thrill

MEXICO CITY (AP) — The Mexican Open Golf Championship belonged today to Homero Blancas and winning it was the 27-year-old Dallas, Tex., rookie's biggest thrill.

"There is no doubt about it. It is the biggest thrill of my life," Blancas said after posting a par 72 Sunday for a 72-hole total of 284 and his first tournament victory as a professional.

The victory earned Blancas $3,000 and the Seagram Cup. The Houston University graduate's total earnings since turning pro last April now are over $30,000.

Lee Trevino of Dallas, playing in his second pro tournament, was runnerup with a 288.

Billy Maxwell of Dallas, Dudley Wyson of McKinney, Tex., and Juan Neri of Mexico City tied for third with 292s.

You are hereby commanded to appear by filing a written answer to the Plaintiff's petition at or before 10 o'clock A.M. of the first Monday after the expiration of forty-two (42) days from the date of the issuance of this citation, same being the 20th day of December, 1965, at or before 10 o'clock A.M. before the Honorable District Court of Howard County, Texas, at the courthouse of said County, in Big Spring, Texas.

Said Plaintiff's Second Amended petition was filed in said Court on the 3rd day of November, 1965, in this Cause No. 15,539 on the docket of said Court and styled WEST TEXAS COMPRESS AND WAREHOUSE COMPANY vs. P. M. HUMBLE et al, Defendants.

A brief statement of the nature of this suit is as follows, to-wit:

Plaintiff is suing in Trespass to Try Title for the title and possession of the following described tract of land:

BEING a part of and out of the Southeast Quarter (SE-4) of Section Twenty-six (26), in Block Thirty-three (33), Township 1-North, T&P Ry. Co. Survey, in Howard County, Texas, and described by metes and bounds as follows:

BEGINNING at Iron Pipe set in Northwest corner of a certain 20 acre tract, described in deed of conveyance by M. M. Denton and wife, Mabel Denton to A. H. Bugg and L. L. Bugg dated March 1, 1930, and recorded in Deed Records of Howard County, Texas, in Vol. 80, at page 145.

THENCE S. 13 degrees E. 330 feet with west line of said 20 acre tract to point for S. W. corner of this 5 acre tract;

THENCE N. 13 degrees W. 330 feet to point in North line of said 20 acre tract for N.E. corner of this 5 acre tract;

THENCE S. 77 degrees W. 660 feet to the place of beginning, comprising 5 acres of land.

Plaintiff is further alleging that it holds the title and possession of the above described land and premises under and by virtue of the five (5) year statute of limitations of the State of Texas, which it is affirmatively pleading and seeking to recover said land for a period of five (5) consecutive years claiming same under deed duly registered, and paying all taxes thereon as same become due during said period.

Plaintiff further alleges that it holds the title to the above described tract of land under the ten (10) year statute of limitations of the State of Texas, which it is affirmatively pleading and seeking under allegations of peaceable, continuous and adverse possession of said land for twenty-five (25) years, and under claim of right and good faith, under deeds and instruments purporting to convey and vest title to said lands in Plaintiff, which said deeds and instruments have been duly recorded in the Deed Records of Howard County, Texas.

If this citation is not served within ninety (90) days after the date of this issuance, it shall be returned unserved.

The officer executing this process shall promptly execute the same according to law, and make due return as the law directs.

Storm Hits In California, Perils Boats

By The Associated Press

The first major storm of the rainy season hit California with gale-lashed winds and inclement weather swept down the Pacific Coast.

Gale warnings were posted for the California coast from Fort Bragg northward and small craft warnings were in effect on the rest of the California coast to Mexico.

Scores of accidents snarled traffic on southern California streets and freeways Sunday as the winds whipped heavy rains. Many athletic events were postponed. Power failures blacked out parts of West Los Angeles and Bloomington. Street lights failed in San Bernardino from short circuits.

ONE DROWNS

The Coast Guard reported an unidentified yachtsman drowned in heavy Pacific seas south of Monterey Saturday night in a collision of his sailboat and a California state research vessel, the Alaska.

Five men were rescued Saturday as their cabin cruiser smashed at the base of sheer ocean cliffs at Point Reyes north of San Francisco. Two other men abandoned a sailboat in heavy seas off San Simeon Sunday and were rescued.

Three San Francisco teenagers died Saturday night when their car smashed into a freeway abutment during heavy rains.

Up to 2 inches of rain over the weekend were reported in many communities. San Francisco had .94 inch in a 24-hour period and Red Bluff 1.09. Los Angeles had 1.37 inches for the same period.

INTENSE STORM

At Point Piedras Blancas, 1.17 inch fell in six hours.

The wind and rain were the offspring of a large, intense storm off the central Pacific Coast.

Military To Recheck Communication Lines

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara has ordered a meticulous recheck of all the military communications and power systems to make certain they cannot be knocked out by the kind of power breakdown which darkened much of the U.S. Northeast last week.

The military communications and power setup operated smoothly during that unprecedented blackout.

However, sources said McNamara and other defense officials had felt it advisable to recheck the systems worldwide to be sure they are as invulnerable to interruption as they are supposed to be.

BACKUP POWER

In the affected Northeast area, all U.S. Air, Navy and Army installations switched automatically to backup power last Tuesday night when the civilian community went dark and their commercial sources were broken off.

The Strategic Air Command and the North American Air Defense Command both found that their auxiliary systems worked effectively. In fact, military installations were in position to offer help to the civilian community.

Since the McNamara administration took over in the Pentagon nearly five years ago, there has been great emphasis on assuring uninterrupted communications which are essential in the atomic-nuclear age to effective defense and quick command reaction.

A system of redundancy has been built in everywhere. This means that there is never reliance on a single source of power or a single communications network. Everything has at least one and often several alternate arrangements.

$700 MILLION

This year alone the Defense Department is spending about $700 million on improving the intricate communications network.

Officials are reluctant to go on record as saying with complete assurance that the hot line between Washington and Moscow can never be knocked out. They have claimed such invulnerability to interruptions, but the Northeast blackout has made them more cautious, although they say they have no reason to believe there are any weak links in the line.

In last week's massive blackout the hot line was unaffecetd.

It is composed basically of two circuits, a land-cable connection and a radio circuit used only to replace the land line in service emergencies.

BRITISH CLERICS STIRRED

Book Claims Jesus Schemed Crucifixion

LONDON (AP) — A controversial new book claiming that Jesus planned his own crucifixion is disturbing many churchmen of all denominations in Britain.

The book—titled "The Passover Plot"—suggests that Jesus, believing himself to be the promised Messiah, schemed throughout his life to manipulate people so that the Old Testament prophecies would be fulfilled.

The writer is Dr. Hugh J. Schonfield, a Jewish scholar living in London, well-known for his modern translation of the New Testament and some 30 commentaries on Biblical history.

Published here by Hutchinson, the book will appear in the United States when negotiations over the rights are concluded.

TRUTH SEARCH

Schonfield, 64, says he subscribes to no religious creed himself though he believes in God as pure spirit. He insists he has written his book not to create a sensation but in an honest search for truth. His claims, he says, are the result of more than 40 years of objective research.

Writing of the events of Passion Week, Schonfield says:

"A conspiracy had to be organized of which the victim himself was the principal instigator. It was a nightmarish conception and undertaking, the outcome of the frightening logic of a sick mind or a genius. And it worked out."

According to Schonfield, Jesus knew the church had to be founded on fulfillment of prophecies, so he planned that fulfillment in the minutest detail.

"TIMED PLAN"

He timed the plan for his apparent death so that he would be crucified on Friday, knowing that because of the Jewish Sabbath he would be taken down from the cross within a few hours.

Schonfield claims:

— The vinegar passed to Jesus on a sponge was really a drug passed by an accomplice, enabling him to simulate death, so his legs would not be broken like those of the two thieves crucified with him. The blood that flowed from his side showed he was still living, Schonfield claims.

— The linens and spices used to wrap his body acted as dressings for his injuries. He probably briefly recovered consciousness after being laid in the tomb, but succumbed from the soldier's lance wound in his side. His body was secretly taken away and buried, leaving the mystery of the empty tomb.

"ELUDES ANSWERS"

Throughout, Schonfield seems anxious to avoid appearing an anti-Christian propagandist. He insists nothing can be proved either way. And, in arguing that Jesus did not die on the cross and that his resurrection was part of a prearranged plan, he insists there was no deliberate untruth in the witness of Christ's followers.

Neither was there any fraud on the part of Jesus himself, Schonfield says.

"He had schemed in faith for his physical recovery, and what he expected was frustrated by circumstances beyond his control," Schonfield writes.

Church leaders in Britain have thus far withheld public comment on the book. Two Church of England priests who read it said they took it seriously although they disapproved.

Scores of earnest churchgoers wrote to the newspapers, mostly in condemnation of the book.

Ike's Kin Encouraged By Progress

FT. GORDON, Ga. (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower has weathered what his son describes as the period of greatest danger after his heart attack.

Son John and younger brother, Dr. Milton S. Eisenhower, were sufficiently encouraged by Eisenhower's progress to head back to their homes Sunday night after observing Mrs. Eisenhower's 69th birthday.

John would not say they no longer felt any anxiety about the condition of the five-star general, now 75.

But, he explained to newsmen, when "the second set of chest pains occurred this last Wednesday, we were advised at that time the period of greatest danger would be four or five days from that point on.

"That time period has ended," John added. And, said the two Eisenhowers, the reports from physicians have been encouraging.

"MUCH BETTER"

"He seems to me to be really in excellent condition," said Milton Eisenhower, who observed that Ike "seems to me ever so much better" than he was at the same period after his 1955 heart attack in Denver.

He feels good enough, they said, to read "one Western story after another," and has had a record player installed so he can listen to music. He chatted with Milton about the musical, "The Sound of Music," and inspected his wife's birthday cakes from his bed.

MAMIE IN BED

Mrs. Eisenhower remained in bed Sunday for what son John called a "very modest birthday celebration."

He had described her condition Saturday as "not too hot" but said she had improved by Sunday.

"She seems to have some sort of respiratory congestion but nothing serious," John said.

Neither John nor Milton knew if there were any plans to transfer Eisenhower to Walter Reed Army Hospital. But John indicated he and his family hope to spend Thanksgiving with his father at the Washington hospital.

'Smart Eyeball' Claim Supported

WASHINGTON (AP) — Eye muscle surgery offers promise of a cure or at least great improvement for up to 15 per cent of all children who are retarded readers, a Cornell surgeon said today.

Dr. Edward Dunlap, describing the technique at a vision problem conference, said these were children whose reading problems spring from demonstrable periodic "small muscle imbalances" in the eyes.

Another eye specialist said American astronauts are telling the truth when they report they can "see" a railroad train from 100 miles up—because, he said, they have "smart eyeballs... (and)...higher I.Q. retinas" than most persons.

VISUAL CAPABILITY

Indeed, declared Dr. Bruce Clark of the Nicollet Clinic in Minneapolis, who helped train the original Mercury astronauts, "It is our belief that the limits of visual capability (in space) have not been reached"—both as regards scientific and possibly even military snooping by eagle eyed astronauts especially screened and trained for their visual jobs.

They spoke at the close of a conference sponsored by Research to Prevent Blindness, Inc., a voluntary health organization.

Dunlap said the eye muscle surgery involves such things as shortening a given muscle or repositioning it, depending upon the particular case.

Describing results in 43 cases, he said "there was invariably immediate or early improvement in measured reading performance."

BOY IMPROVED

One boy, he said, had to repeat first grade twice because of his reading problems, but improved so much after his operation that he was able to skip the second grade.

Another boy, long bedeviled by reading troubles, "made the honor roll in the sixth grade" after surgery.

Clark said the human eye does not have to resolve fine details of a distant object in order to recognize it — provided the eye had seen such an object in the past.

"Maj. Cooper (one of the Gemini astronauts) 'saw' things from orbit in this way," he said. "He utilized available clues on his retinas, added intellect and experience and thus 'saw' a railroad train, a vehicle on a dusty road, and other fascinating details.

"This should have been a shock to no one, but it was to many."

Soviet Shepherd Is Border Hero

MOSCOW (AP)—The head of the Soviet secret police has awarded a medal to a shepherd for protecting the nation's border against unidentified violators, apparently Chinese.

The Communist party newspaper Pravda said Rasul Ogli Hasretdina was watching his cattle when three persons crossed the Soviet border, threatened him with weapons and tried to kidnap him. Hasretdina, although unarmed, managed to capture one and drive off the other two.

Pravda did not say where or when the incident occurred. But the shepherd's name is Central Asian, indicating he was on the border with Iran, Afghanistan or China.
