

On The BEAM

By J. W. King, Sr.

The paving project is about to get under way at last. Water pipes that cross the streets to be paved are being lowered. Gas pipes have already been lowered.

Mr. T. O. Riley of Snyder, who has the contract for the paving, including the curb and gutter, will have his equipment on the ground right away, if it is not already here, to start preparing the roadbed for paving and putting down the curb and gutter.

Most of us will be happy to see this project finished. When it is finished it may be possible that other streets can be paved too.

My term as City Councilman will expire in April and I will be glad to see someone else elected to the place. I am not like Gov. Daniel who wants a fourth term as Governor because he has some business that has not been attended to during the three terms he has served and he wants to see it finished. There are some things in the city that I would like to see done but if I haven't been able to get them done during two terms in office I probably couldn't in three or four.

One thing I would like to see the city do is to improve our City Park. It is a shame the way we have let it go. Most of the trees around it are dead because of the lack of attention. It would cost very little to put out new trees and keep them watered and the weeds cut around them. A nice park would be worth a lot to the town.

This is National FFA Week and the local chapter is observing the week with special activities. We want to take our hats off to Raymond Holt and his agriculture boys. He has done a fine job teaching them and they evidently have done a good job of learning for his department has been one of the consistent winners of honors in the county district and state. The FFA chapter has done a great deal in getting publicity for itself and the school and community it represents. Mr. Holt is on the ball and has been most cooperative in furnishing the local paper publicity about his department. We are grateful to him for it for nothing pleases us better than to give our news space to the activities of the boys and girls of the school. We wish that heads of the other departments in our school would keep us informed about their activities—the FFA, the Band, Athletics, etc.

LORAIN HIGH SCHOOL RECEIVES COLLEGE BOARD'S SCORES

A report on the College Entrance Examination Board's Scholastic Aptitude Test scores has been received for the Loraine High School seniors who were administered the test on January 13 at Abilene. The two seniors who took the test are Sandra Jo Cushing and Beth Shepherd.

These test scores are also sent to the colleges of the student's choice. In individual conferences the student receives a booklet which helps to explain the meaning of the scores made. These scores are printed on a presscore label which is applied to the booklet.

Comparison of scores can be made with high school seniors who took the Scholastic Aptitude Test (SAT) and with SAT scores of freshmen at three colleges: 1. College X highly selective in admissions, 2. College Y four-year college of excellent reputation, and 3. College Z represents the great majority of the country's colleges.

The simplest fact about SAT scores is that they are indicators of ability to do college work, according to the College Board. They are not perfect indicators but, considering that the test takes only three hours, they do a surprisingly good job of predicting how a student will fare in college.

Since the SAT helps predict college success, the test results can be used by the student and the school to assist in the evaluation of the student's college plans.

Masons Observe Washington Birthday

At 7 p.m. Tuesday evening at the high school cafeteria, the annual Masonic George Washington banquet of Loraine Lodge 1307 was held.

The Invocation was given by the Rev. H. M. Farrington and was followed by the meal.

Miss Joyetta Hall presented piano selections during the meal. Worshipful Master, George Mahoney gave the welcome and recognized and introduced widows of masons, then brother masons introduced their wives and other invited guests.

Mrs. Price Hall gave the response.

Woodrow Pratt introduced the speaker of the evening, the Rev. Frank Story who spoke on "The Washington Monument".

In his talk, Rev. Story told of the life of George Washington, our first President. He said the Washington monument in Washington, D. C. that pointed skyward and was a beautiful sight to the many visitors in that city, but it was the man to whom the monument was erected, and the things he believed in and did for his country that he wanted to leave with the audience.

In continuing, Rev. Story told of incidents in the life of Washington showing his kind, and consecrated nature and the high ideals for which he stood. His greatness grew because of his vision and he had a vision of right leadership of God and his love for his fellowman.

In an order he issued as General of the Army, Washington is quoted as saying "The General is sorry to be informed that the foolish and wicked practice of profane cursing and swearing, a vice heretofore little known in an American Army, is growing into fashion. He hopes the officers will, by example as well as influence, endeavor to check it, and that both they and the men will reflect, that we can have little hope of the blessing of Heaven on our arms, if we insult it by our impurity and folly. Added to this, it is a vice so mean and low, without any temptation, that every man of sense and character detests and despises it."

After the most inspiring address, Worshipful master Mahoney gave his appreciation to Miss Stafford and her home-making girls for the preparation of the decorations, the table settings, and the serving of the meals, and to Miss Hall for her music selections during the evening. Roy Linder gave the Benediction.

92 people enjoyed the lovely banquet setting of white cherry trees, with red cherries mounted on green styrofoam base emphasizing the patriotic colors. Hatchets were also a part of the decorations. Napkins were patriotic in color on white table covering.

The head table held an arrangement of red carnations, greenery and pussy willows.

OUTDOORS IN TEXAS

By Vern Sanford

Your local newspaper, a flip of the radio dial, or a call to the local weather station may be sufficient to get weather conditions of a local nature.

But in this day of modern travel, when outboarders think nothing of trailing their rigs 300 or 400 miles for a weekend on a major lake or the Gulf Coast, one needs more than just local predictions.

Weather conditions at home and 300 miles away can be quite the opposite on any given day.

The wise outboarder will plan for his weekend by reading the signs, properly using the barometer and by learning to visualize water conditions in terms of wind velocity.

Suppose an outboarder in Dallas decides to weekend at Port Aransas. He can get an idea of the weather for the weekend by getting a barometric reading and tendency, wind velocity and cloud conditions. But he should obtain that information from the place where he plans to fish, not his point of departure.

When you purchase a barometer, you'll get a chart with it. Use it—don't put the chart in file 13.

You can also obtain from the United States Weather Bureau a barometer-wind chart that is quite accurate in the forecasting of weather. Finally, learn to visualize water conditions in relation to wind speed.

A 25-mile-per-hour wind may sound slow in this jet speed age, but it can make open water much too rough for the average size outboard rig.

Now, getting back to the barometer and wind, there are some broad and general rules that will hold true. Here are some of the main ones:

1. A wind out of the easterly quadrant coupled with a falling barometer means foul weather is approaching.
2. A wind shift to the westward accompanied by a rising barometer means fair weather.
3. A steady, slowly rising barometer means settled weather.
4. A steady, slowly falling barometer means wet or unsettled weather.
5. A rapidly rising barometer indicates clear weather with wind.
6. A rapidly falling barometer means an approaching storm.

An outboarder, minus a barometer isn't a lost soul. He can look to the skies and the clouds for general weather hints. Here are a few of the more easily recognized ones:

Bright blue sky: fair weather.
Vivid red sunset: fair tomorrow.
Vivid red sunrise: likely foul weather later in the day.
Cloudless sunset: fair tomorrow.
Dull gray sunset: foul tomorrow.
Weak sun: probable rain, especially if wind is out of the east.
Moon with halo: approaching foul weather.
Sunrise from gray horizon: fair today.
Cirrostratus clouds: rain.
Fleecy, light-textured clouds: fair.
Dark, oily clouds: rain.
High and low clouds traveling in opposite directions: unsettled weather.

An outboarder who plans to navigate open waters never should pass a Coast Guard station without casting a glance at the flag signals.

Several years ago official storm warning flags and lights were reduced in number—and simplified—to cover the following types of warnings: small craft, gale, whole gale and hurricane.

The day flag signals are as follows:

Small craft: red pennant.
Gale: two red pennants.
Whole gale: red flag with black rectangle in center.
Hurricane: same as whole gale but with two red flags flying.

Light signals used at night are as follows:

Gale: white light above red light.
Whole gale: two red lights, one above the other.
Hurricane: three lights reading from top to bottom—red, white, red.

Most outboarders realize that gales, whole gales and hurricanes mean absolutely no boating. But many are in the dark about the meaning of small craft warnings.

"Small craft" generally refers to crafts up to 35 or 40 feet. A small craft warning quite obviously means for the outboarder to stay at home.

When you make up a weekend trip, be sure to check the weather signs at the lakeside or Gulf Coast resort. The price of the long distance phone call might save you the cost of being holed up in a motel for several days because of the weather. Motel rates are far more expensive than phone calls.

Today's competent outboarder is a man who knows more than the rules of the road and water safety. He also knows the weather and how to use it to his advantage.

Today's MEDITATION

The World's Most Widely Used
Devotional Guide

Read Isaiah 55:6-13; Psalm 24

Who shall ascend into the hill of the Lord? or who shall stand in his holy place? He that hath clean hands, and a pure heart; who hath not lifted up his soul unto vanity, nor sworn deceitfully. (Psalm 24:3-4)

We soon become like our daily companions. Since our thoughts are our closest companions, the only way to live a clean life is to cultivate purity of mind and heart. As a man "thinketh in his heart so is he." We read in Proverbs, "The thought of foolishness is sin." Isaiah holds out the hope to us that God will forgive the man who forsakes his sinful way and his unrighteous thoughts.

An air conditioner can change the air in a room by drawing out stale air and bringing in fresh, pure air. Thus the atmosphere of the room is changed.

Changing impure thoughts for pure thoughts can alter life. We can fill our minds with the teachings of Christ. Before we know it, our lives will be free from anxiety and worry. We know the peace which comes from inner confidence. We shall have the power that comes to those who are at peace with God, with man, and with themselves.

Prayer: Our Father, we pray that Thou wilt cleanse our thoughts of doubts, worries, and fears. Fill our minds with thoughts of Thee, that we may be pure in heart, clean in mind, and Christlike in our living. In Jesus' name. Amen.

Thought For The Day: Clean thoughts produce clean lives. Ada B. Hoelscher (New Mexico)

New Arthritis Test Developed By March of Dimes Research

A new and sensitive blood test for diagnosing rheumatoid arthritis in children was one of the medical achievements of 1961 highlighted by The National Foundation in a year-end review of progress by March of Dimes-supported scientists.

The report, by Dr. Thomas M. Rivers, vice president for medical affairs of The Foundation, cited accomplishments related to birth defects, virus diseases, polio and genetics as well as arthritis.

Dr. Rivers also noted that 1961 will be memorable because of the licensing by the U. S. Government of two of the three component types of Sabin oral polio vaccine which, like the Salk killed-virus vaccine, was developed with money given to the March of Dimes.

The new arthritis test was developed by Dr. Morris Ziff and his research associates at the University of Texas Southwestern Medical School in Dallas. In their studies, the test proved positive in 76 per cent of children with rheumatoid arthritis. By contrast, other tests currently in use seldom pinpoint the disease in more than 20 per cent of youngsters known to have it, according to Dr. Rivers.

Dr. Rivers pointed out that few people realize how very serious rheumatoid arthritis can be in children, or how common it is among them. It is estimated that there are about 30,000 children under 15 in the U. S. who have it, many of whom are severely crippled, he said.

It is also suspected many other youngsters may have the disease, with perhaps only minor or vague pains and no clear-cut symptoms to label arthritis as the culprit.

The arthritis test, which is particularly sensitive in detecting an unusual blood factor frequently found in persons with rheumatoid arthritis, may fill its greatest role in uncovering undiagnosed rheumatic disease in children.

This could be vitally important, because the earlier diagnosis is made and treatment started the better the chances for prevention of disability in young victims of the disease.

A second scientific achievement highlighted in The Foundation's year-end review was a special field study which disclosed that a great many birth defects are not detectable in early life but may remain hidden until infants reach the age of one or two.

This report was made by a research team headed by Dr. Frank R. Lock of the Bowman Gray School of Medicine, Winston-Salem, N. C.

Among the other developments singled out in the March of Dimes research progress report were the following:

1. Dr. Joseph L. Melnick of Baylor University has come up with two chemical discoveries that promise major improvements in the manufacture of oral polio vaccines. It had previously been necessary to keep such vaccines in deep freeze until just a few days before use. With the new chemical treatment, however, they can be kept at room temperature for as long as a month. The second chemical improvement removes undesirable viruses that contaminate the vaccine at certain stages of preparation.

2. A new radioactive method of detecting how viruses are formed inside cells was reported by Dr. Councilman Morgan and associates at Columbia University. Another group of workers at the University of Michigan described similar results with techniques involving use of fluorescent materials.

3. Additional evidence that one of the intestinal viruses may also cause an infectious heart disease, sometimes fatal in infants, has been obtained by Dr. George Dempster and colleagues at the University of Saskatchewan.

A man once said, "I can't see the wind but I can hoist a sail." The same is true of the rural electric systems of the state. You can't see the kilowatts but you can see the myriad things the pulsating current does, from pumping water to frying eggs. They are efficient, dependable electric systems owned by the members they serve. They were built to serve areas that had no electricity. Often the distances were great and the problems were many but it takes a rough sea to make a good sailor. With a wealth of experience and know how, with the modern tools and techniques, with advanced methods and materials, the rural electric of Texas are accomplishing miracles every day, building a brighter tomorrow.

MARCH 3-10 4-H WEEK
IN TEXAS AND NATION

College Station, Feb. 22-March 3-10 has been designated as 4-H Club Week in Texas. The same week will be observed across the nation as National 4-H Club Week.

In his official proclamation covering the weeklong observance, Governor Price Daniel said, "The development of citizens and leaders for America is a high purpose in 4-H Club work."

"The 4-H program stresses the development of head, heart, hands and health as well as teaching the latest practices in agriculture and home economics."

"Since the 4-H program was inaugurated by the United States government in 1914, the movement has spread across our nation and established bridges of understanding to more than 50 foreign countries. 4-H Club members learn by conducting result demonstrations and participating in 4-H activities. By putting into action what they learn, club members improve their homes and communities."

"Voluntary adult leaders working with the club members provide a key to the success of 4-H. Parents and friends of 4-H give support and encouragement to club members. The Agricultural Extension Service of the A&M College of Texas, through county extension agents, directs the 4-H Club program."

"Any boy or girl from ages nine to twenty-one can take part in 4-H Club work. The opportunities offered to 4-H members to grow in citizenship, leadership, and practical skills are especially valuable to them to the State and Nation. 4-H Clubs are a proving ground for the training of future leaders."

"Therefore, I, as Governor of Texas, do hereby designate the week of March 3-10, 1962, as 4-H Club Week in Texas."

Special events and programs are being planned by both community and county 4-H organizations throughout Texas and the nation, as practical demonstrations of 4-H in action. Interested persons, especially youth, have a special invitation to attend a 4-H meeting during the week in order to learn more about the organization.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Leach returned home Sunday night after visiting since Thursday in Midland with a son and family. Mr. and Mrs. Keith Lasater and in Crane with a daughter, Mrs. Georgia Corbell and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Davidson.

Mr. Jack Guiley and children of Big Spring visited her mother, Mrs. Fay McCollum Saturday.

Public Schools Week In Texas
Set For March 5 Through 9

The need for the public school never changes, but times and conditions may change or require to be changed methods and practices of public education. This is inherent with anything that grows, for growth is the result of change.

Our Texas public schools were created 108 years ago. In 1854 the first law was passed establishing the public school.

It is a healthy thing in our democratic way of life to have intelligent understanding of the important functions of our basic institutions. This is especially true of the schools. The initiative and resourcefulness and the wisdom and leadership that our schools are inculcating in the youth of today are the answer of the problems of citizenship in the years ahead.

Yes, "bring me men to match my mountains." That is the need of our times and must come from the public schools-schools that are strong in virtues required for building strong men and women.

We can be assured of this and do our part in understanding and helping the public schools to fulfill their great obligation to our times by being a participant in the annual Public Schools Week, March 5 through March 9, 1962. Schools will hold open house; accept their hospitality, and you will enjoy the experience of going back to school-if but for a day.

Bob Hendrick of Corpus Christi returned to his home Sunday after visiting since Wednesday with his mother, Mrs. G. W. Hendrick and sister, Mrs. Robert Miller who is here from New York visiting her mother.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Q. Members of the armed forces on active duty may be protected from lapse of commercial insurance policies by the VA under these terms, it will not and Sailors Civil Relief Act. Just what does it mean?

A. Once your commercial insurance policy is protected by the VA under these terms, it will not lapse or terminate for nonpayment of premiums while you are on active duty and for two years after your discharge, unless you request withdrawal of the protective provisions. If you do not pay the premiums and interest to your insurance company during the protective period, the amount due will be treated by the VA as a loan. If the cash surrender value of your policy at the end of the protective period is less than the amount guaranteed, the policy will terminate and the government will pay your insurance company the difference. Any sum paid the company by the VA will become your debt to the United States.

Q. I am a World War II veteran. Since I designated the beneficiary for my GI insurance, I have married and have two sons. How can I change my beneficiary and perhaps the option for payment to my beneficiary?

A. Write your VA Regional Office for form 9-336, "Change of Beneficiary and Election of Optional Settlement." Fill out the form and mail it to the insurance office to which you pay your GI insurance premiums.

Q. Will the VA guaranty a business loan whereby a veteran may purchase a boat to use in business, either fishing or the transportation of sightseeing tourists?

A. Yes, if a veteran can negotiate a loan to buy a boat as a business venture the VA is authorized to guarantee the lender against loss up to 50 percent of the loan with a maximum guaranty of $2,000 on non-real estate loans.

Q. Why does the government pay dividends on GI life insurance?

A. The annual GI insurance dividends are primarily a return to the policyholders of part of the premiums they have paid since the death rate of veterans continues to be less than estimated in the mortality tables upon which the premium rates were set by law.

YOUTH FOR CHRIST

The Youth Choir of the First Baptist Church met for rehearsal Sunday afternoon, February 18th, in the auditorium of the church. Thirty-four members were present. Following rehearsal, refreshments furnished by Mr. and Mrs. Earl Phillips were served to the group.

Carol Little led the responsive reading, "Saved By Grace". Don Small directed a song, "I Love Thee". Special music was by Carla Britton, Ann Dickenson, Thomas Vest, Harold Ray Preston, and Janet Sue Hall who sang "He Hideth My Soul". The choir joined in on the chorus.

Ushers were Harold Preston, Byron Mote, Keith Hamilton and Danny Tartt.

The Youth For Christ meets every Sunday afternoon at 5 p.m. for rehearsal and fellowship.

Young people won't you come and join us? We need your help!

BAPTIST W. M. U.

All circles of the Baptist WMU met in the Junior department Monday afternoon with the Lottie Moon Circle bringing the program from The Royal Service magazine.

Mrs. Dexter Taylor gave a "thank you" to the young women's circle for preparing the program, the song, Jesus Shall Reign was sung and Mrs. O. C. Lucas led in prayer to open the meeting.

Mrs. Mac Farrington was in charge of the program on the subject, "Migrants", with the theme, "Neither are your ways my ways, repeated by those bringing the program."

Mrs. Riden gave the Introduction and Mrs. Windell Banks read the prayer calendar followed with prayer by Mrs. Farrington and the song, Hark the voice of Jesus Calling.

In giving the testimony of a migrant worker Mrs. Riden told of what the presence of the living Christ in one woman's heart did for her, as she traveled from one place to another.

The program was presented as the group sat around a large table centered with a bowl of fruit, and given in the form of highway signs. Go, Yield Right of Way, Road Under construction, School Zone 15 MPH, Dead End, etc. In discussing the topics:

Mmes: Riden, Farrington, Billy Scarber, Gene Britton and James Hallmark brought out many facts about the life of migrants, who follow the crops across the U. S. as they are in season for harvesting. It was brought out that only a few children of migrant parents ever finish high school. The question was asked "Why does one choose to be a migrant?" Mostly because they are born into it, and that is the only skill they are prepared to do. Most of them are very hard workers.

Some ways that we might help the migrant is to sponsor Bible story film strips for the children, distribute milk for the babies, pack health kits for them. It was reported there were 192 conversions among the migrants in 1961.

As the program was closed the group repeated the theme together and Mrs. Dexter Taylor led in prayer.

Mrs. Taylor directed a short business meeting when it was voted to have an executive board meeting once each month and then have the monthly business meeting on the afternoon the program is given.

The next meeting will be the first meeting of the Annie Armstrong week of prayer for Home Missions.

Mrs. J. W. King led in closing prayer. There were 22 present.

Today's MEDITATION

The World's Most Widely Used Devotional Guide

Read Acts 1:1-8

That which we have seen and heard declare we unto you. (1 John 1:3)

Recently I read the story of Sardon Mash, a sweeper in one of the hotels of a hill city among the mountains of Kashmir. Every afternoon he gathers around him the servants and cooks of that hotel and holds a sort of Bible class with them. He tells them about Jesus, the Savior of mankind.

We, too, are called to witness to the love of God, and this is our great commission. When we have the divine light shining in our lives, we radiate it to others. We want to tell the story of what we have seen and known and experienced. We can tell what Christ has done for us. We experience overflowing joy when we witness about the redeeming love of the Son of God.

Prayer: Our heavenly Father, give us strength and insight to use our wisdom and experience not for ourselves, but for others. Help us that they may become stronger through our witness. Use us as witnesses to Thy Holy Word and to the redemptive power of Thy love. May Thy divine light shine on all who are still in darkness, that all men may accept Christ as their Redeemer and pray as He taught us, "Our Father who art in heaven, Amen."

Thought For The Day When we have the divine light shining in our hearts, our lives radiate it to others.

What is the Answer?

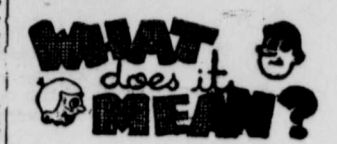

Q—Is Brooklyn, N. Y., a separate city in itself?

A—No, Brooklyn has been a part of New York City since 1898. Prior to that time Brooklyn had its own city charter. New York City consists of five boroughs, of which Brooklyn is one—and, as such, has its own borough president and its own postoffice.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Preston and Mr. and Mrs. Wade Preston visited Mr. and Mrs. O. O. Hill in Big Spring Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Florence Autry of Mountain Air, N. M. spent Sunday and Monday in the E. B. Hale home.

There is no guessing when you read it in the paper. If you fail to get the meaning the first time, you can read it again.

BUNNY

The bunny was so named because of the size of his tail. In Gaelic tongues a "bun" is a stump, so a "bunny" would be little stump. The rabbit's tail is only a "stump" of a tail and from this connection came his colloquial name of "bunny".
