Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Cudd were in Dallas recently to attend the annual meeting of the Texas Motor Transportation Association of which he is a director.

Mr. Cudd was among the past presidents honored at a banquet, when each was presented a plaque in appreciation for service rendered.

Mr. Cudd was only 32 years old when he headed TMTA for two terms in 1952 and 1953, the youngest president the organization has had.

He has remained as a member of the advisory board of directors since then.

Business sessions related to problems, changes, and advances in the trucking and motor transportation field.

Mr. and Mrs. Cudd were joined at the meeting by Mr. and Mrs. Richard Nall and Mr. and Mrs. Edd Henard.

School Board to Study Budget, Tax Increase

An increase in the tax rate of the Wellington Independent School system will be discussed at the regular meeting of the board of trustees Monday, July 13, Supt. J. L. Harper announced. The session will be at the high school at 8 p.m.

A tentative budget for the 1970-71 school year will be presented at the same time.

Any interested person is invited to meet with the board and ask questions or discuss items in the budget and the possible tax increase, said Mr. Harper.

This meeting, like all meetings of the school board, is open to the public, he pointed out.

The school budget in its tentative form is not complete, the superintendent said.

Last year, it amounted to around $441,000. It will be more this year and Mr. Harper said it might be in the neighborhood of $450,000.

The present tax rate is $1.50 on the $100 property valuation. $1.00 of this is allotted to maintenance and operation of the school, and 50 cents to retirement of the bonded indebtedness.

If there is a tax increase, it will be in that part required for maintenance and operation of the school next year, according to the superintendent. Such an increase could amount to as much as 25 cents on the $100 valuation, although this is not a firm figure, he explained.

Mrs. Joe Henard Named Special Ed Teacher

Mrs. Joe Henard has been elected to teach special education in Wellington High School, Supt. J. L. Harper announced Tuesday, July 7.

Farm Program Payments Begin With $52,000 in Wheat Checks

Collingsworth County farmers have received $52,000 in payments under the 1970 wheat ACP program since distribution of the checks started Wednesday, July 1, according to Bob Weatherly, county executive director.

Other checks are being received in the office almost daily, and most payments should be completed by mid-August, if farmers who signed up will complete the necessary certification indicating they have complied with all of the program provisions.

Checks already distributed were to farmers who run wheat only, and to those with feed grain who diverted all their feed grain acres, Mr. Weatherly explained.

There should be some cotton checks in the next group received, and payment on them will probably start the last of this week.

Farmers who have contributed to stabilizing markets for food and fiber and to the conservation of soil and water resources by taking part in the 1970 wheat, feed grain and cotton programs are receiving their program payments earlier this year than ever before, according to Mr. Weatherly.

Additional payments will continue to be made as rapidly as farmers certify compliance with program requirements and as fast as individual farm records can be processed and the checks returned to ASCS county offices for distribution.

In recent years, the U.S. Department of Agriculture has advanced partial payments to farmers during the spring sign-up period for the feed grain program only. The balance of the feed grain payment, and cotton and wheat payments were generally made starting in late July and continuing through August and September, or later, explained Mr. Weatherly.

"Because of budget restraints partial payments could not be made this year. However the Department made a commitment to farmers that full payments would be made as early as possible. That commitment is now being fulfilled," he said.

Mr. Weatherly also announced

James Stavenhagen New Head of Quail School

James Stavenhagen was elected superintendent of the Quail Schools in a called meeting of the board of trustees Monday night, July 6.

Announcement of his election was made by the board Tuesday morning, adding that he was given a one-year contract.

He succeeds the late E. P. Haynie, superintendent of the Quail Schools four years before his death on June 24.

At the same time, Mr. Stavenhagen announced his resignation as coach and math instructor in the Wellington Schools and he began his work at Quail Tuesday.

A member of the Wellington faculty nine years, Mr. Stavenhagen was head basketball coach and B team football coach. He has taught 16 years and came here from Stratford.

His association with Quail has been close from the time he was a school boy. As a member of the Lelia Lake basketball team, he was a frequent opponent of the Quail Quails. In his first year of coaching, at Lelia Lake, he again was in competition with Quail.

James Stavenhagen

"I feel it presents a real challenge and it is an opportunity I cannot afford to pass up," he said concerning his new work.

"It is a goal I have been working toward since I started teaching. I really hated to leave Wellington because I have so many friends here. I have enjoyed my tenure with the Wellington Schools, and it has been a happy association.

"I appreciate the support for my ball teams, and without this we couldn't have been so successful.

Arnett Faculty Named School Plans Listed

The Arnett School Board met Monday night, July 6, to complete the 1970-71 faculty and to set up the school calendar, Supt. Bob Copeland announced. An enrollment of about 200 is expected.

Enrollment was set up for Aug. 20 and 21 and school will open Monday, Aug. 24.

Vocational agriculture has been added to the curriculum for the first time, and Bill Grubbs of Fletcher, Okla., was hired as instructor.

Mr. Grubbs was graduated only recently from Oklahoma State University, Stillwater.

"We are adding vocational agriculture primarily to benefit the students living at Westview Boys Home," said Mr. Copeland. "They count heavily on agriculture and they have so many livestock projects at the home that we feel we should have a full time instructor for them."

It is estimated that approximately 60 boys will be enrolled, the full complement for one vo ag instructor.

Last year was the first time that Arnett was eligible to apply for a vocational ag department, since average daily attendance is part of the criteria in Oklahoma and previously the enrollment was not large enough.

Ralph Word was hired by the board to teach mathematics and coach senior high school boys basketball.

Mr. Word has taught for a number of years in Wellington High School, also in the field of mathematics. He and Mrs. Word make their home in Hollis.

Other members of the faculty are: Mrs. Gladys Robertson, first and second grades; Mrs. Verda Anders, third and fourth; Mrs. Edith Carter, fifth and sixth; Mrs. Ann Hays, seventh and eighth, and junior high

Talent Find Set

Choose Farm Bureau Queen on August 1

A new Farm Bureau Queen for Collingsworth County will be chosen Saturday evening, Aug. 1, and two weeks later she will represent the county in District 1 competition.

Along with the Queen's contest, there will be a talent find, open to both boys and girls, with the aim of helping develop the talent of Texas farm youth.

The contests will be in the Wellington High School auditorium, beginning at 8 p.m.

Those wishing to enter should register at the Farm Bureau office, Highway 83 and 9th St., or with one of the committee members.

Plans were outlined this week by Mrs. G. N. Davis. The new queen will receive her crown from Janice White, 1969 County and District 1 Farm Bureau Queen who participated in the state contest.

Virgil Patterson of Loco is chairman of the Queen's contest committee. Members are Mrs. Patterson, Mr. and Mrs. Doug Coleman of Dazier, Mr. and Mrs. N. E. Childers of Quail, Mr. and Mrs. Selba Rainey, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Patterson, Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Motsenbocker of Dodson, Mr. and Mrs. Dee Coleman, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Null and Mrs. P. M. Scott.

The array of beauties will be presented in formals from the auditorium stage, and the queen will be picked by out of town judges.

4-H Riders Plan for District, State Shows

The State 4-H Club Horse Show will be held in Amarillo Friday and Saturday, July 24. The number of riders Collingsworth County will have in that show is not yet determined, according to County Agent Don Reeves.

Events will be at the Bill Cody Arena.

This year's events will include halter classes for registered mares and geldings, broken into age groups, and grade mares and geldings, shown according to size.

Other events will include western pleasure, reining, showmanship, barrel race, and pole bending.

For the second year, there will be a cutting contest.

New to the 4-H Horse Shows will be English pleasure riding and jumping, although none of the Collingsworth riders are competing in these divisions, according to Mr. Reeves, the Horse Club director.

County students who will compete in the district event will be named within a few days, he added.

Secretary of Agriculture Clifford M. Hardin on July 1, 1970, proclaimed July 27-31 as the dates for a mail referendum on 1971-crop wheat marketing quotas, according to Bob Weatherly, County ASC executive director.

By law, in the absence of new legislation, the 1971 wheat crop comes under the provisions of the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1938 as amended.

This Act requires that a marketing quota referendum applicable to the 1971 crop be conducted on or before Aug. 1, 1970.

The Agricultural Act of 1965, as amended, extended its voluntary wheat program through the 1970-crop year, and specifically suspended marketing quotas for wheat producers only for the duration of the Act.

Previously announced for the 1971 crop wheat was a national wheat marketing quota of 1,210 million bushels, along with a national allotment of 43.5 million acres.

To be announced in advance of the referendum will be the price-support loan rate for the 1971-crop wheat, estimated domestic certificate value, required acreage diversion percentages, and other program details. County ASCS offices about one week prior to the referendum will mail program information to wheat producers along with the ballot voting instructions and individual farm allotments. These individual allotments will be based on the 1971 national allotment of 43.5 million acres, as compared to the 45.5 million-acre allotment in effect for the current crop year.

When Shall I Baptize My Baby?

BY GAYLORD COOK

Many parents, desirous of doing all that they can for their children, ask in all sincerity, "When should we baptize our baby?" If you, as a parent, are faced with this question, why not let the Bible answer it? The proper time to baptize your baby is:

1. WHEN THE BABY SINS. For baptism is for sinners (Acts 22:16). But a baby is without sin, therefore can not be scripturally baptized (Matt. 18:3; 19:14).

2. WHEN THE BABY BELIEVES IN JESUS CHRIST. For baptism is for believers. The baby cannot believe and is therefore not a proper subject for baptism. (Mark 16:16).

3. WHEN THE BABY REPENTS OF SIN. For baptism is for the penitent. (Acts 2:38.) Since the baby does not sin he cannot repent of sin and is not therefore one who can be scripturally baptized.

4. WHEN THE BABY CONFESSES JESUS AS LORD. Baptism is for the confessor. (Acts 8:37) The baby cannot confess and is therefore not one who can be scripturally baptized.

Yes, the bible answers your questions, and it answers this one too. Let us use the Bible as our guide.

51st Annual Reunion of J. H. Young Family Held Recently at Arlington

Three sisters went from here to the 51st reunion of the J. H. Young family, held this year at Arlington on June 13 and 14.

They were Mrs. H. L. Lowry; Mrs. Jack Lowry, her daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Schaub, Di Anna, Lowry and Russell; and Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Sweat.

This reunion grew out of World War I, when the oldest son, the late Grover Young, was fighting in France. Mr. Young said that if he returned there would be a family reunion.

He did return, although seriously wounded, and in 1919 that reunion was held at the family home at Lutie.

The reunions were held at Lutie as long as Mr. and Mrs. Young were alive, and many of those since have been in Wellington. Some, however, were held in Arlington, where several of the Young children now live, and once the family went to California, where a daughter resides.

This year's reunion honored the memory of Grover Young, and his wife, and son, Mr. and Mrs. James W. Young of Arlington, were hosts.

The other Grover Young children are Dr. John Young of Athens, Bennie G. Young, Jr., of Roanoke, Va. One son, Maurice S. Young, is deceased.

Among the guests this year was Dr. M. S. Seeley of Midlothian, who attended Grover Young's wounds in France, and Mrs. Seeley.

The reunion opened with a lunch in the home of Mrs. Grover Young, with 64 attending.

That evening, Mr. and Mrs. James Young were hosts to 90 guests with a backyard barbecue.

The following day, the group got together at Woodland West Recreation Center with 80 attending.

Nine of the 12 children of the late Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Young are still living, and all attended the reunion.

In addition to the three from here, they were Dewey Young of Seagoville, Mrs. Frank Thompson of South Gate, Calif., Henry Young of Artesia, N.M., James Young of Irving, Mrs. Walter Taylor and Mrs. L. K. Vaughan of Arlington.

Present also were the widows of their deceased brothers: Mrs. Grover Young, Mrs. Ty Young of Muleshoe and Mrs. Jason Young of Arlington.

Besides the daughters- and sons-in-law, there were 19 grandchildren, 24 great-grandchildren, and three great-great-grandchildren present.

Friends, Mr. and Mrs. Vernon McGee of Greenwood, Ark., were present.

In 1971, the reunion will return to Wellington.

FROM SUNRISE TO SUNRISE

... we serve our area with dependable, low-cost electric power.

That's our job.

We're one of America's nearly 1,000 rural electric systems. Working together, we provide power for about 25 million people... many in remote, hard-to-reach spots. That takes almost half of the nation's power lines.

But we don't measure our progress by how far we string lines. We measure it by the growing number of thriving communities in rural America... where the quality of living is better... because we've helped make it that way.

We like our job. We'll keep working.

Fathers of Couple Officiate as Sandra Hankins Weds Robert Cole

The fathers of both the bride and bridegroom officiated Friday afternoon, July 3, at the wedding of Miss Sandra Sue Hankins and Robert Arnold Cole. The ceremony took place at four o'clock in the afternoon in Glen Davis Memorial Methodist Church at Dozier, where the Reverend C. R. Hankins is pastor.

The bride is the daughter of the Reverend and Mrs. Hankins of Route 6, Wellington. Parents of the bridegroom are the Reverend and Mrs. Leo Cole of Flomot.

The church decorations were an arch of foliage, with arrangements of white chrysanthemums and pompons.

Miss Cindy Dodgen of Shamrock presented wedding music and accompanied Mrs. Wendell Brown of Shamrock as she sang.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a full-length gown of candlelight peau de soie, accented with Venice lace and blue mist ribbon. Lace marked the empire waist, above a slim skirt.

Lace, run through with the ribbon, formed the standing collar accented with a bow at front. Her illusion veil was edged with matching Venice lace. She carried a bouquet of white carnations on a bride's Bible.

Miss Molly Clark of Lakeview was the maid of honor and Miss Odessa Stice of Sannorwood was bridesmaid. They wore short blue and white lace dresses and carried blue and white nosegays.

Frank Novak of Clarendon was the best man and ushers and groomsmen were Coy Franks and Jan Whitaker of Flomot and Stanley Oldham of Sannorwood.

Lori Cole, sister of the bridegroom, was the flower girl and James Hunter, also of Flomot, was ringbearer.

After the ceremony, the Reverend and Mrs. Hankins were hosts at a reception in the fellowship hall of the church.

The bride's table was laid with a white lace cloth over satin, and the bride's bouquet, with those of her attendants, were the floral decorations. Crystal appointments were used. Miss Clark and Miss Stice served.

Guests were registered by Miss Ruth Dwight at an antique table, almost 100 years old, belonging to a friend of the bride's family, Mrs. Lee Roark.

The bride was graduated from high school at Sannorwood and the bridegroom at Flomot. Both attended Clarendon College during the past year and they will continue their studies at Wayland College in Plainview.

After a short wedding trip, they will be at home at 900 Vernon Street, Goodpasture Apartment No. 7, in Plainview. The Lidegroom is employed by R. C. Hodges Electric Company in that city.

Financial Facts

By Jeff Wilson

FRACTIONAL CURRENCY

Did you know that we once used paper money in denominations less than one dollar?

Known as Fractional Currency, these small bills were first issued during the Civil War. There was a great financial crisis at the time so the banks suspended specie payments which put a premium on all coins. People began hoarding the metal currency and soon it all but vanished from circulation.

As you can imagine, the absence of coins for change created havoc for everyone, especially merchants. The situation became so bad that, for a time, we actually reverted somewhat to the barter system and exchanged goods instead of money!

To alleviate the situation, the government finally issued paper money in denominations of 5, 10, 25 and 50 cents. The Fractional Currency was printed from 1862 to 1876.

Texas Waterways: Playground for Some — Graveyard for Others

DALLAS.—With the summer sun and fair weather on hand, Texans by the thousands will be heading for the many state waterways for weekends and vacations of fun.

But the thrill of boating, enjoyed by so many on Texas' inland waterways, will be marred by a wake of minor heartbreaks and major tragedies for some, according to the Insurance Information Institute.

While the loss of or damage to the family boat can be at least somewhat offset by a comprehensive boatowners' policy, the I.I.I. said, there is no salvage, short of prudence and prevention, that can soothe the tragedy of body injury or loss of life.

Much of the $150,000 in property damage resulting from the 160 Texas boating accidents reported to the Coast Guard in 1968 was paid by insurance companies and many of the 190 boats involved were either repaired or replaced by them, but no form of financial reimbursement can repair the damage done by the 70 lives claimed by these summertime tragedies.

Common sense and caution are the keys to preventing of boating accidents.

In 1968, for instance, there were 5,427 boats in the United States reported to the Coast Guard to have been involved in accidents. In over half of these cases, it was ruled that the operators were at fault.

Over 45% of the 1,342 boating deaths in 1968 were the result of capsizing and almost 75% of these incidents were blamed on the operators. Over half of them involved outboard motorboats under 16 feet in length.

More boating accidents occur on Saturdays and Sundays during the month of July between two and four in the afternoon—the time when more boats are on the water—than at any other time of year or day.

It probably will be a long time before our waterways are as congested as our highways, and hopefully the boating death toll never will approach the number of lives claimed on the blacktop. But as the number of boats increases it is reasonable to expect that the number of accidents will increase, as was the case with the automobile.

So when the over 200,000 skippers of pleasure craft registered in Texas head to the waterways, they do so with the prospect of pleasure and, for some, the possibility of personal tragedy.

Post-Planting Important for Trees and Shrubs

COLLEGE STATION.— Post-planting techniques are as important in tree survival as any other feature.

"A bare rooted tree should be supported to prevent damage from prevailing winds," explains County Agent Don Reeves.

The most common method of staking is with two or more wooden stakes driven into the soil around the tree and about a foot from it.

Soft string may be used to tie the tree to the stakes. Wire or other hard materials are poor substitutes because they will injure the tree. Guy wires may be attached to large trees if a section of rubber hose is used to protect the tree.

"If rubber hose isn't used," Reeves says, "the wire will cut into the tree and possibly kill it."

A tree should remain supported for at least two years. Balled and burlapped shrubs usually do not need support.

Newly planted trees also need to be pruned. The amount of pruning is determined by the root system, the condition of the plant and its future use.

Usually one third of the top growth is removed, Reeves said.

Only secondary branches are cut back. Buds along a single shoot can be rubbed off.

Two Catfish Pair Prove Prolific

SAN ANGELO.— Two male and two female channel catfish at the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department Hatchery No. II at San Angelo should be in line for the Parents of the Year Award. They produced a total of 50,300 offspring.

Supt. Wallace Clary says the parent fish weighed about six pounds each, and were mated in June of 1969. When the pond was drained the offspring measured from 5 to 8 inches each, a new record for the hatchery in a 3/4 acre pond.

Micronized Grain Sorghum Shows Well in Test

COLLEGE STATION.— Preliminary evaluation of micronized grain sorghum, second cousin to popcorn, as a quality feedlot ration base has been completed recently at a Lubbock feedlot, an area livestock specialist has announced.

The term micronization was coined to describe the method of dry heating sorghum grain with gas fired generators, Dr. L. M. Schake explained.

"Originally, popping of the grain was thought to be essential to increase nutrient availability," he said. "However, data derived from feeding and digestion trials indicated that popping was not essential, and suggested that dry heat treatment reducing the grain to about 7% moisture followed by rolling may produce a feed grain with certain unique feeding qualities."

YOUNG DRIVERS
Although only 20.9% of the nation's motoring population is under age 25, drivers age 24 and younger were involved in 34.6% of fatal accidents in this country in 1968.

Chameleon Likes Great Outdoors

AUSTIN.—The Green Anole is a lizard of a different color. The little fellow can change his coloring to match his surroundings, even though he is not a true chameleon.

Spring usually finds this American version of the chameleon scurrying about on trees and shrubs in search of tiny insects.

But likely as not he will be seen clinging to curtains in someone's house—as an unwanted guest.

Many are kept as pets. But some find their way into residences on their own, while searching for food and favorable temperatures.

Maize Mosaic Most Damaging

COLLEGE STATION.—Texas A&M University researchers have found they can measure the degree of grain sorghum yield loss caused by Maize Dwarf Mosaic Virus and pinpoint it to the time of infection.

Dr. R. W. Toler, Texas A&M plant virologist, said the research was conducted to determine the effect of inoculation time of Maize Dwarf Mosaic Virus on crop characteristics of a tolerant and a susceptible grain sorghum.

The virus caused reduction in yield, delay in maturity, stunting and lowering of test weights of both hybrids. Additionally, the susceptible one showed reduction in head size, threshing percent and number of heads produced. Percent protein of the susceptible hybrid also increased, Toler said.

Seed size and weight of 1,000 seed (or specific gravity) were not affected by the virus. Toler said the effects of the virus were dependent upon the particular hybrid and the time of inoculation.

LEISURE TIME TO INCREASE: BEGIN PLANNING FOR IT

COLLEGE STATION.— The wise use of leisure time should get increased attention in the years ahead, said Reagan Brown, Texas A&M University Extension sociologist.

The average person 35 years from now, he noted, will have twice as much leisure time as the person of today. Either we start planning now for wise use of this time or we pay the consequences, he added.

Brown said that increasing concern for training of our citizens in wise use of leisure time is not just a desire to make people's lives more pleasant for them. Monotony in work and in off hours is a social danger no less than disease, disorder and illiteracy.

Our failure to embrace this belief is raising the crime rate, increasing population in mental hospitals, multiplying physical and moral weaklings rejected by the armed forces, and raising the percentages of youths who want security at the very onset of their careers, and who are afraid of trial and adventure, he stated.

Participation is most important and involves more than just being a spectator to a sport that offers only passive sideline involvement. In addition to what is commonly called physical recreation, participation may be in the form of civic affairs or social services which offer meaningful leisure time activity and satisfying personal experience, explained the sociologist.

He said this does not mean that one's work or profession will be neglected but that life will be looked upon as an entity and preparation for it will be treated as such.

American life in the future is going to be leisure time oriented in contrast to a work oriented past.

Freedom Pays

Has the boob tube convinced you America is primarily populated by bearded, unbathed beachcombers motorcycling aimlessly hither and yon with bare-breasted-broads-of-the-moment and saddle bags crammed with pot, LSD and bennies?

Do you fear our ballooning cities are Frankenstein monsters, destined soon to destroy their creators?

Are you afraid you're the only American left who really cares about God, country, family, kids, home and fellowman?

Relax, friend! You — not nuts from the looney fringe — are today's typical American. Take it from University of Chicago's Prof. William D. Wells. Wells has just made a large-scale survey of American attitudes which he says shattered the despairing illusion that the average American is worried, unhappy, violent, witless and hooked on booze, pot or drugs.

The true typical American, says Wells flatly, is "happy home-loving, clean and square." Moreover, the garish mod world visible in cities, on TV at celebrity spas really isn't "where it's at."

"For the housewife who pushes two loaded shopping carts past the checkout counter every week, home is where it's at, and happiness is what it's about," says Wells.

"The same goes for her husband who makes a monthly payment at the savings and loan, buys life insurance, says that his children are the most important things in his life, and thinks hippies should be drafted."

Feel better, friend? Good—welcome to the club, and a big club it is, in what still is the finest society on earth.

—The Daily Star, Hammond, La.

The Moon And The Poor

The never-ending fight of all too many groups for a larger share of the pie of federal spending reached the ultimate insanity with the charge that "The U. S. spent $24 billion to go to the moon, but Nixon wants to spend only $4 billion to help the poor."

A late issue of U. S. News & World Report paints a different picture, reporting that the U. S. is currently spending $19 billion a year in direct relief to aid the poor at all levels of government. And this does not include private charity. By contrast, the $24 billion spent to reach the moon was expended over a period of 10 years, just $2.4 billion a year.

Aside from the financial arithmetic of moon flights vs government spending for the poor, U. S. space exploration represents the progress of a nation still growing in stature and vitality. All of us, including the poor, are the beneficiaries of this growth. Instead of kicking, we should be proud. We have to progress to take care of the poor.

—Wellington Enterprise, Wellington, Ohio

Sharing Plan

Prince Charles, being a bachelor and unencumbered by the expenses of maintaining a married man's household, has volunteered to give half his pay back to the government when he turns 21 in November.

Interesting how the American way of doing things spreads. John Q. Taxpayer has been giving half of his pay to the government for years.

Progress

A mail-order house offers a lamp that gives "a gracious, intimate glow to your dinner table."

It comes complete with a windproof glass globe that keeps it lit, indoors or out. "Fills with kerosene at the base—just like those of the earlier era! No need for outlets—no cords to trip over!"

Wow! Ain't progress wonderful!

ROLLING AND SEALING a seam lap is final operation on rubber lining for Hawaii's Kualapuu Reservoir, largest rain-harvesting reservoir of its kind in the world. AUSTIN.—A blue-ribbon insurance study committee has recommended exploring Texas' compulsory auto liability coverage and a careful look at allegations that garages charge more for policy-covered repairs.

Report went to Gov. Preston Smith prior to the State Insurance Board hearing July 14 and 15 on inclusion of insurance company investment income in the auto rate-making formula.

Smith indicated that the Board may not be ready this soon to evaluate the full effect of the formula change which also is backed by the study committee he named last summer after an auto policy rate hike was recommended.

Most observers think motorists are in for another increase in their premiums after the main Aug. 17 rate hearing, regardless of whether the Board determines that investments should be figured in the base.

Study committee, headed by former Gov. Price Daniel, noted that North Carolina rates appear to be consistently low, although it also has mandatory liability coverage. Massachusetts and New York, other mandatory auto liability insurance states, have higher rates.

Committee recommended that the Legislature look into ways to stop "excessive charges being made on repairs of insured automobiles, which, in turn, lead to escalating rates year after year.

Insurance industry is expected to ask new increases as high as 15 to 20 percent at the August hearing.

Smith may ask Daniel's committee to examine the Board's final recommendation, as they did in 1969 (when rate adjustment was 9.9 percent upward instead of 11.4 as originally recommended by the Board.) However, the majority of the committee is cool toward going into more extended hearings like those required by their study last year.

Capitol Addition Asked

An important part of state government may be going underground if a Building Commission proposal is approved.

Commission, in new budget requests, laid out plan for a 45,000-square-foot $2.5 million underground addition to the capitol building, providing of space for legislators. Enlargement would be in a natural depression to the west of the present historic structure.

Commission also proposed these new projects:

—$1.26 million revamping of the north approaches to the capitol.

—$3 million parking facility for 320 cars.

—$215,000 renovation of the old Highway building for use by the Parks and Wildlife Department when Highway Department's new headquarters is completed.

—$200,000 face-lifting of old Parks and Wildlife offices in the virtually new John Reagan State Office Building — for use by the Welfare Department when P&W moves.

—$25,000 in repairs to the Governor's mansion.

Courts Speak

Court of Criminal Appeals upheld a Fort Worth trial court order blocking further civil suits under the Sunday closing law until 13 cases are finally adjudicated.

State officials have taken to the 10th U.S. Court of Appeals their fight to stop spraying of land in northeast New Mexico with pesticide Toxaphene (to control tent caterpillars). State claims Toxaphene would jeopardize the purity of Lake Meredith and thereby endanger water supplies of 11 Texas cities in the Panhandle and Great Plains.

Houston Court of Civil Appeals here held J. Weingarten Inc., of Houston, is entitled to recover $19,274 in chain store tax payments.

CROSSROADS REPORT

I see where a White House panel says 70,000,000 low-middle income Americans are coming to a political boil over government's passion for poofing them to pay for the votes of the career poor.

Political math has heretofore computed that snatching a third of the incomes of two or three worker type families and giving same to one non-worker family will always win elections.

But, judging from the panel's report, if this strategy is going to keep on electing and electing the same type of strategists, the Supreme Court may have to declare human nature unconstitutional.

D. E. SCOTT.

Charters Forfeited

Secretary of State Martin Dies, Jr., announced that his office is forfeiting charters of 10,907 corporations for failure to pay state franchise taxes.

Figure, says Dies, is almost double last year's and indicates to him "this is a barometer reflecting general economic decline throughout the nation."

Grants Approved

A large range of new federal grants were approved for Texas agencies and programs. Included are:

$531,286 for child development (Head Start) in Cameron County; $709,415 for emergency food and medical services; $150,605 for family planning programs; $50,135 for police and tactical squad experiment; $42,000 for youth opportunity and development program; and $30,000 for establishing uniform procedures for recording and reporting criminal justice information.

New Bollworm - Controls Sought

Work is well advanced on mass rearing of enormous numbers of insect enemies of boll worm and pink bollworm.

These will be turned loose in cotton fields as needed for control. Also showing progress is research on naturally resistant plants and on juvenile hormones that fatally disrupt the life cycle of worms.

This research is sponsored by the Cotton Producers Institute.

Abraham at Hearing on Election Code

Rep. Malouf Abraham of Canadian left for Houston today to attend a public hearing Friday of the Texas Election Code Committee. He is one of five members appointed by House Speaker Mutscher to study election laws and submit needed changes to the next session of the Legislature.

This interim committee will hold a series of meetings over the State to hear suggestions for changes in the present law. Abraham is a strong advocate for moving the primary elections back to August with run-offs in September prior to the General Election in November. He stated that people get tired of hearing politicians all year long.

Presently it is necessary to file the first part of February which is nine months before the General Election. A shorter election period would also cut down on campaign expenses. Anyone having suggestions for changes is urged to inform Rep. Abraham.

Teacher Aides in Foundation School Program

Teacher aides, non-professional helpers trained to take over the more routine tasks of class rooms, will be in the three Collingsworth schools in the 1970-71 year, and for the first time, the program will be supported under the State Foundation School Program.

Both Samnorwood and Quail have had the teacher aide program in the past, and are continuing it.

Mrs. Lois Simpson and Mrs. Paul Schaub were re-elected under the program at Samnorwood this year, and Mrs. E. P. Haynie, aide in the Quail school last year, was re-elected.

Along with the election of the Wellington faculty, Mrs. Dick Pendleton was hired as the first teacher-aide for Wellington.

"The decision to use aides rests primarily with teachers and administrators in individual school districts," Dr. J. W. Edwar, Texas commissioner of education, has pointed out.

"The aide is an extension of the teacher or other professional, performs routine and other duties under his direction but does not relieve him of any legal responsibility for the instructional program of the classroom," he continued.

Heretofore, teacher aides have been paid primarily out of federal grants or by the local school district.

State funds will help finance teacher aides for the general instruction programs and special education classes beginning Sept. 1, 1970. The Foundation School Program will reimburse local schools for each

CATTLE CAN TREAT SELVES FOR FLIES DURING SUMMER

COLLEGE STATION. — Beef and dairy cattle, including lactating cows, can treat themselves with safe, approved insecticides to control the troublesome horn flies that attack during warm weather.

All that is needed, advises Extension Entomologist Welton Newton, is a self-applier bag properly stocked with dust containing either three per cent Ciodrin or a one per cent coumaphos (Co-Ral) and located so the cattle will contact the bag as they go about their daily routine.

For dairy cattle, the most convenient location for the dust bag is in the exit chute leading from the milking parlor.

For beef cattle, it may be located in the gateway to a fenced off watering trough, a salt box or in the entrance to a resting area, says Newton. Commercial, ready-filled bags can be purchased from livestock supply outlets or they can be inexpensively made. All that is needed are a few medium to fine mesh burlap bags to hold the dust, some hardware, including hooks on which to hang the bags, and a few grommets to serve as hook eyes.

A roof to protect the device from rainy weather is strongly recommended. Newton suggests using double strength burlap by placing one bag within another to better hold the dust.

Stock each double-layer bag with 5 to 10 pounds of the selected insecticide and hang them in pairs in such a way the animals will be forced to walk between the pair.

For best results, Newton says the bags should overlap each other by four to six inches. The bottoms should be about 18 inches from the ground for small cattle and 24 inches for the larger breeds.

Each time an animal walks through the self-applier it will brush its head, neck and shoulders and back against the insecticide to keep the horn flies under control. Weekly maintenance is suggested.

Deck's DIDACTICS

—By Deskins Wells

As June drew to a close, President Nixon made a speech before the U.S. Jaycees on "What Is Right with America." And we quote in part:

"What is right about America? Look back over the 50 years that this organization has been in being. Our population has almost doubled. But putting it in other terms, while the population has only doubled, the production of the United States has gone up tenfold.

"The number of Americans who are in high school has gone up 10 times. The number of Americans in college has gone up twentyfold.

"We can summarize it very quickly by saying that never before in human history have more people shared more wealth and had more opportunity with better jobs in the United States of America. We should be proud of that, and I believe we are."

President Nixon concluded the address by saying:

"But let me leave you with one fundamental truth, and I believe this very deeply and unless we understand this we will fail to bridge this generation gap: Young America today, particularly those in college and high school years are not going to be satisfied simply by an absence of war and by having good jobs. Young Americans think in idealistic and spiritual terms, and that is to their credit . . .

"Let us tell young Americans, all Americans, that we should love America. But let us love her not because she is rich and not because she is strong, but because America is a good country and we are going to make her better."

Criticism has its place and is essential to healthy progress on either the national or community level; but there is also a need for constructive evaluation such as the President made before the Jaycees.

Up at Spearman the coyotes have become so numerous that the ranchers have sent out an appeal for a government trapper for the second year in a row. This week I saw one on the dirt road going south where the Kelley road turns north. The animal trotted down the road and casually slipped into the tall grass as I drew near. On the same short drive I saw two jackrabbits and one cottontail and Sunday we passed a coon that had been killed on the highway. Wildlife is increasing and at a rapid rate.

How would you like to buy a four door Ford car for $415.00? Don't ask how old the automobile is. I am writing about a brand new Ford that has never been off the floor of the Wellington Motor Company. That was what was listed in the June 24 issue of The Wellington Leader. In 1921. The entire list for Ford cars, trucks and tractors follows: Touring, $415; Runabout, $370; Coupe, $695; Sedan, $760; Chassis, $345; Truck chassis, $495; Tractor, $625.

The 1921 Ford Touring car with its cloth top was the second greatest automobile ever built. The greatest was the 1923 Ford Touring car and I owned a half interest in one for two years while attending the University of Texas. Another "student" and I bought this marvelous car with three pedals and a spark and key lever, on the installment plan, which we had never heard of before and which we considered a miracle. We paid $50 down which was $25 each which happened to be what each one of us had after paying out tuition fee for the first quarter of the 1923 term. The room and board payment was a month off and the fact that we were going to be charged probably 20% interest plus insurance did not bother us in the least. We owned an automobile. Everything considered this was the best investment I ever made.

Now let us return to the June 24, 1921 issue of The Wellington Leader. There was only one grocery advertisement in the paper and that was from the Alldredge Grocery on the east side of the square. Here are some of the items of interest: 15 lbs. of Head Rice, $1; 8 lbs. Prunes $1, 5 lbs. good strained honey $1, 7 lbs. ground bulk coffee $1, 20 bars of Swift pure laundry soap $1. There were some other juicy bargains; but the one that opened my eyes was: 8 cans Med. Salmon $1. This is bound to be Sockeye for the grocery had Chum Salmon listed at 9 cents for $1. Sockeye Salmon is now priced at 80¢ up in the 90¢ bracket per can and you

County Up-to-Date

1970 Farm Research Program Is Reviewed

Representatives of the Extension Service and Texas Experiment Station met in Wellington recently to analyze the work under way in the Northwest Texas Research Demonstration Program. These reviews are held periodically.

A major objective was to see if there is more duplication in the projects than there should be, and to determine if any are outmoded, County Agent Don Reeves said.

In the group were W. W. Greshman, Extension District 1 agent; J. G. Simmons, District 3 agent; Dr. James Mulkey, superintendent of the Chillicothe Experiment Station; Dwane Scott, Research Demonstration Assistant; and the agricultural agents of the three counties included in the program, Max Hatter of Wheeler, W. B. Hooser of Hall, and Mr. Reeves.

Collingsworth projects are up to date, the county agent reported.

Hall County projects emphasize various types of cotton studies.

Collingsworth and Wheeler counties have more devoted to livestock, grass, grain sorghums and small grains.

The only test on wilt resistant cotton varieties, however, is in Collingsworth, on Lewis Morris land at Quail.

Three varieties known to be wilt resistant are used, along with another variety that is less tolerant, but on which a fumigant is used. There is a check plot with this variety but without fumigant.

Results in both yield and quality will be compared.

Another test new to Collingsworth is a plot of Ermelo weeping love grass with supplemental irrigation on the Cliff Hartman farm.

Other tests in Collingsworth include forage sorghums on David Baumgardner's farm; cotton varieties, Troy Thomas; cotton and grain sorghum fertility, N. E. Childers of Quail.

Mr. Scott is conducting an off-station test in chemical weed control in cotton and grain sorghum with Dr. Alan Wiese of the Bushland Experiment Station.

Lefty Thomas, former county agent here, has a cotton fumigation plot south of Samnorwood.

Thomas, along with Dr. John G. Thomas, state entomologist, and Emory Boring, District 3 entomologist, Vernon, are doing work on alfalfa pollination with bees.

Paul Montgomery has a chemical brush control test on his ranch in the southwest part of the county.

Along with his work as farm demonstration assistant in the program, Scott has a test on introduced grasses, and with Norris Daniels of the Bushland Experiment Station he is carrying on an alfalfa aphid study.

Hall is a life member of Post 2466 and is a past post commander. He is past District 7 commander and a past national aide de camp.

He attended Clarendon College and received the bachelor of science degree from the University of Wichita, Wichita, Kan. He also received his master's degree and administrator's certificate from West Texas State University.

He is a member of the Texas State Teachers Association and the local teachers groups.

Open House Set at New Home Sunday

Open House will be held at the new home of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Martin, 2202 Graham, on Sunday, July 12, from 2:30 to 5:00 p.m.

Plans were announced by Garner Lee, builder.

This is Mr. Lee's initial construction job in Wellington.

The house, in Wellington's newest developmental area, is of red brick in contemporary style. It has a living room, den, kitchen, three bedrooms and two baths.

The interior decoration includes a deep gold wall to wall carpeting throughout, set off by white walls. Woodwork in all rooms is walnut lightened to a rich harmonizing brown.

The bathrooms feature dressing tables with the top and lavatory combined in a single piece of man-made marble.

This is one of many new homes going up this year in Wellington's southwestern area.

in effect, must be approved by two-thirds or more of those voting in the referendum.

If quotas are approved, producers will be limited to their allotment acreage beyond which they cannot harvest without a marketing quota penalty. Any excess acreage production would be subject to penalty unless it is stored under bond.

If they remain within their allotments and divert the required acreage, they will be eligible for price-support loans and domestic wheat marketing certificate payments. If the referendum fails to carry, producers staying within their 1971 allotments and complying with other terms and conditions which may be prescribed by the secretary, would be eligible for support loans at 50% of parity.

THE WELLINGTON (TEXAS) LEADER
Thursday, July 9, 1970

I Saw . . . by Virginia Robey

★ It happened on one of the 100-degree-plus days we've had.

As things started to cool off in the evening, the winter supply of fireplace wood at Drury and Nellie Lacy's home began to blaze. A trash fire that got out of hand was responsible, according to Fire Chief Jim Sikes.

The other fire Monday was a grass fire along the railroad track across from the old Cop Gin.

★ Charles Carter was explaining to a dejected Don Hood, who is having to move from one house to another, alone, since Elizabeth is working on her degree at Tech this summer:

"Things accumulate," said Charles. "When we married and came to live on Uncle Bob's (Copeland) farm for the summer, we brought everything we had in the car. When we went back to college that fall, we had to borrow a pickup."

"The next summer it took a grain truck to move us."

"When we moved here for good, it took two trucks and three pickups to bring everything."

★ A few days ago Doc Barjenbruch, who is getting things ready to move to Hereford, brought The Wellington Leader some pictures that date back a good many years. Several are of wagonloads of cotton waiting at the old Simmons Gin, which Ab Hutcherson, Doc's father-in-law, managed. There are some group pictures that no one can identify and probably date back to Mr. Hutcherson's years in Frederick, Oklahoma.

This week, a proud Doc has his Navy son, John Albert, home from Pensacola for a few days.

★ Beverly and Robert Junell are seeing Mexico as tourists seldom do, says her mother, Mag Slinkey.

The Mexican consul in San Angelo is a friend of Robert's parents, and also has a house near Mexico City, complete with servants. He has invited the Junell family to use it.

Beverly and Robert are doing that.
