SUSIE NOW DRINKS MILK—Two-year-old Susie Lynn Reuter holds glass of milk and struggles with Indianapolis police sergeant Maurice W. Fischer. Answering a "sick child" call last week, Sgt. Fischer found Susie, suffering from malnutrition, in a vacant storehouse used as living quarters by two families with seven children. Susie wasn't given any milk because the meager supply was needed by her 10-month-old brother. The tough cop was moved. Congo Foes Set To Talk

By PETER GROSE

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo (AP)—President Moise Tshombe of Katanga and Premier Cyrille Adoula of the central Congo government flew to the U.N. base at Kinshasa today for new talks on ending the secession of Tshombe's rich province.

Tshombe left Ndola, Northern Rhodesia, with U.S. Ambassador Edmund A. Gullion. Adoula flew from Leopoldville, accompanied by a team of his ministers and U.N. Undersecretary Ralph Bunche.

U.S. officials did not have much confidence that a reconciliation would result.

U.N. officials said the talks would be secret and "hushy," other U.N. aides and Gullion would sit in only if the Congolese asked them to. A U.S. diplomatic source insisted Gullion is not trying to act as mediator but only "facilitating" the talks.

U.N. troops were reported in control of Elisabethville, Tshombe's capital, and the defenders who had battled with U.N. troops there since Dec. 3 appeared to have moved away into the countryside. The Katangans and their white officers were reported planning guerrilla resistance in the bush.

A U.N. spokesman in New York announced that Acting Secretary-General U. Thant had ordered a cease-fire throughout Katanga for the duration of the talks between Tshombe and Adoula but that U.N. troops would shoot back if attacked.

Most diplomats in Leopoldville had little hope of a lasting agreement between Tshombe and Adoula. They said the two hold unalterably opposed positions and speculated that Tshombe might decide to continue his resistance to the central Congo government from exile abroad.

Kennedy Back In Washington Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy returned today from a Latin American trip extended by a day's stay in Palm Beach, Fla., to rest and fight a cold.

Nasty weather greeted the President in Washington, forcing him to postpone his plane to switch his landing plans from Andrews Air Force Base, where such big craft can be set down comfortably, to the Washington National Airport.

Jet landings at National are considered safe, though more difficult, but are usually barred because of noise.

The presidential plane landed at 11:12 a.m. EST and arrangements were made for Kennedy to go by automobile to the White House.

and to go to Bermuda Thursday for talks with British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan.

Salingers said the President spent part of Monday in bed and part outdoors in the sun at the oceanfront estate where he and his family are staying. The Palm Beach weather was balmy with temperature in the 80s.

The President left the cold coming on Friday at San Juan, Puerto Rico, the first stop on his 5,700-mile trip to Latin America. He developed an ear, nose specialist who has attended Kennedy's family for years.

Kennedy and his family are staying at the Palm Beach home of Col. and Mrs. Corbin Michael Paul, friends of his father.

India Claims Complete Victory

By R. SATAPATHY

BOMBAY, India (AP)—India today claimed complete victory in its lightning invasion of Portugal's three tiny territories on the Indian west coast.

Just 36 hours after Indian forces blitzed into the last footholds of European territory on the subcontinent, a Defense Ministry spokesman announced all fighting had ceased in Goa, Damão and Diu, three little Portuguese pockets totaling 1,337 square miles and about 650,000 people.

Portugal's Information Ministry, however, announced in Lisbon the receipt of an amateur radio message from Goa declaring heavy fighting persisted at Nova Goa, the capital, and the nearby port of Mormugao. The ministry said this message was broadcast several hours after the Indians made their victory claim.

Goa's governor general, Manuel Antonio Vassala e Silva, in a balcony speech from his office Monday had said the Portuguese defenders "will resist to the end."

Portuguese troops along the invasion route had boxes of dynamite to blow up all bridges.

The Indian Defense Ministry announced Indian forces lost only eight killed, and a ministry spokesman said he believed Portuguese casualties were also light. He said more than 1,000 Portuguese troops had surrendered.

A report from Belgium, the Indian command center just outside Goa, said the Indian commander, Lt. Gen. J. N. Chaudhury, hoisted the Indian flag in Nova Goa, the Portuguese colonial capital, about 9 a.m.

The report said a large crowd of Goans cheered as the flag went up and the town of 15,000 was wildly celebrating the end of centuries of Portuguese rule.

Nova Goa was the last reported pocket of resistance. An Indian spokesman said the invaders met only initial resistance there and after midnight the Portuguese dethandlers seemed to have fled. Datto and Diu, which together total only 33 square miles north of Bombay, fell Monday with little or no resistance.

In New York, a Soviet veto profoundly disturbing because they were trying to rewrite the U.N. Charter to sanction the use of force when it suited their own purposes.

This can only lead to chaos and disintegration of the United Nations," he declared.

Soviet Delegate Valerian A. Zorin not only blocked any U.N. intervention on behalf of Portugal but also rejected a resolution by Ceylon, Liberia and the United Arab Republic which rejected the charges of Indian aggression and called on Portugal to cooperate with India in liquidating the Portuguese territories on the Indian subcontinent.

India's defenders contended that the invasion was justified because the three Portuguese enclaves—Goa, Diu and Damão—were remnants of colonialism.

The Asian-African plan was rejected when the other seven members of the council voted against it. The vote on the Western plan, sponsored by the United States, Britain, France and Turkey, was 74. The negative votes were cast by the Soviet Union, Ceylon, Liberia and the United Arab Republic. The veto was the 99th cast by the Russians.

Western diplomats expressed dismay at the Soviet action, but there was no indication that they would seek action in the 104-nation General Assembly. Some said privately the strong Asian-African bloc in the assembly also would defeat any move to get Indian troops out of the Portuguese territories.

It appeared no further U.N. action was in sight. A U.S. spokesman said consultations were in progress, however.

The mildly worded Western proposal had deplored India's use of force and urged an immediate end to the hostilities, withdrawal of Indian forces and a solution of Indian-Portuguese differences by peaceful means.

After the vote, Zorin said the Soviet Union was proud of having prevented "the pushing through of a resolution defending Portugal and colonialism—the last shameful event of the 20th century."

Referring to Stevenson's remarks about the end of the United Nations, Zorin said: "I think that this dramatic utterance is out of keeping with the decisions taken here. There was no beginning of the end of the United Nations, but a beginning of the will to the defense of peoples and their freedom."

The growing preoccupation of the United Nations with colonialism also came under fire from the No. 2 Western member of the organization—Britain. Lord Hore, British foreign secretary, told the House of Lords the situation in the Congo could reach a point where Britain might have to withdraw its troops from the world organization.

Official sources in New Delhi said Defense Minister V. K. Krishna Menon would leave shortly for New York to participate in debates on India's action. But diplomats at the United Nations looked for no further action in the General Assembly. They said the strong Asian-African bloc would defeat any move to get Indian troops out of the enclaves.

Escape was cut off for the Portuguese in Goa. No more Portuguese planes were left on Goa's only major airport, and an Indian cruiser and a destroyer, in a 45-minute exchange of fire, drove the one Portuguese warship in the area aground.

The last refugee plane to escape from Nova Goa arrived in Karachi early today with 74 women and children, and a Portuguese crew of seven aboard and bullet holes in its wings and fuselage.

Nominating Panel Named By C-C Board

A nominating committee was named and plans for two major activities were discussed at a joint session of the Chamber of Commerce board yesterday.

A committee to nominate a slate of officers for 1962 is composed of Mark McLaughlin, Charles Hartman, Herbert Feather, James Rosser and Claude McCormick.

The July Fourth celebration, staged for this first time last summer, was discussed. Directors decided that once again no commercial activities will be associated with the Chamber-sponsored event. Local clubs and organizations will operate concessions stands, etc., as they did last July Fourth, but no commercial organizations will be involved.

Another committee was named to set up a program for the opening of the new Post Office building. Gene L. Dulaney was named to head the committee, and other members are Doug McGowan and Mel Gilbert.

The chamber board's next meeting is scheduled for Jan. 5.

United Fund Still Short Of Budget

The Searcy County United Fund campaign edged within $9,000 of its goal today, figures from a report session of workers revealed.

Contributions and pledges reported so far amount to $29,400, which represents approximately 90 percent of the goal.

William W. Williams, chairman, said that at least one more report meeting would be held. It has been set for 10 a.m. Friday at the Willard Restaurant.

Williams noted that a number of cards still had not been returned, and he urged workers to make these last contacts as rapidly as possible.

It was noted at today's report session that the last drive to kick off its drive is leading percentage-wise. That is the county division headed by Badger Robertson.

The county division has reported a total of $1,839, or 97.6 percent of its $1,900 quota.

Reports submitted by workers this morning also disclosed that ab-

Indonesian Force Set For Invasion

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP)—President Sukarno declared today that he has ordered the Indonesian armed forces to be prepared to invade Dutch-held West New Guinea at any time. He also ordered "total mobilization of the Indonesian people."

The spellbinding Indonesian president did not indicate when the invasion would come. Officials in the West fear he may be emboldened by Indian Prime Minister Nehru's easy success against Goa and the other two Portuguese enclaves Indian troops captured today after less than 36 hours of fighting.

Sukarno accused the Dutch of "cheating" Indonesia on West Irian, the name by which Indonesia refers to the big island, and ordered his people to smash efforts by the Netherlands to lead West New Guinea down the road of self-determination.

"I order you to attack the Dutch efforts to set up a 'Dutch puppet state' and to hold the red and white (Indonesian) flag in West Irian," Sukarno told a wildly cheering crowd estimated at one million, in a speech that was broadcast nationally.

"I order total mobilization of the Indonesian people to liberate West Irian from the grip of the Dutch," he said.

The Dutch-administered western half of New Guinea, the world's second-biggest island, changed its name to West Papua Dec. 1. The name stemmed from the 700,000 Papua tribesmen who inhabit the area.

The change was suggested by the 28-member New Guinea Council, a joint Dutch-Papuan governing council which Indonesia has taken a special interest in.

About 10,000 Dutch and Papuan troops are in the area.

The Dutch promised to recognize Indonesian sovereignty over the whole territory of the former Netherlands East Indies but they never did so.

Sukarno asserted, referring to the 1949 grant of independence to Indonesia.

West New Guinea was the only part of the Dutch East Indies retained by the Netherlands. The Dutch claim that West New Guinea was a part of the Indies only for administrative purposes and that there are strong ethnic dif-

Stacy's annual Goodfellows drive received its "kick point" this week end, when food, clothing and toys will be distributed to scores of needy families within Searcy County.

As of yesterday afternoon, some 210 families had made application for aid from the organization. Applications may still be submitted at the registration center located on the west side of the square, with the cutoff date for applying having been set at 4 p.m. tomorrow.

The Goodfellows expect to lead a helping Yuletide hand to well over 1,000 Searcy County residents this year, judging from the applications received to date.

Office Party Makes Story For Future

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—It was Christmas afternoon in the year 1991. Johnny and Sue were playing on the floor near their grandpa, who dozed on a sofa. Grandpa sat knitting in a nearby rocking chair.

"Wake up, Grandpa," said Johnny, shaking him, "and tell us a story."
"Yes," cried Sue. "Tell us a story about how Christmas was like long ago in the good old days."
Grandpa sat up and knuckled the sleep from his eyes.

"Well," he began, "once upon a time I went to my last office Christmas party, and—"
"But Christmas parties are held in houses, Grandpa," objected Sue. "They aren't held in offices."
"They used to be," interposed Grandpa, adding sternly, "by the Tiffani."

Grandpa grinned. "As I was saying, once upon a time I went to my last office Christmas party. The boss came out of his private office about 3:30 p.m. with a bottle of soda pop in his hand, and said, 'Okay, boys, let's get the show on the road.'"
"Well, it was payday and all of us fellows had bought some soda pop, too."
"Was it grape or cherry?" interrupted Sue.

"I forget," said Grandpa. "But we poured the bottles into the water cooler, and—my, it sure tasted good!"
"We went down to the delicatessen and got a dozen platters of sandwiches, and hung some of them from the office Christmas tree. Then a three-piece band showed up—that was arranged as a surprise by the boss."

"So we pushed the desks away, cleared a space and began to dance with the stenographers. It was a new dance they called 'the twist.'"
"Yes," nodded Sue. "I've seen pictures of it in a history book in the library."
"Well, anyway," continued Grandpa, "the boss got to feeling so good he decided to play a game of tag with his secretary. He chased her over the tops of the desks and finally caught her under the mistletoe. Wasn't that lucky?"

"Well, the boss kissed her, and she kissed him back, and he kissed her, and—"
"And that'll be enough of that!" broke in Grandma warningly. "So all of us surrounded the boss and asked him for a raise," went on Grandpa, "and he got mad and said, 'You're all fired!'—and he went home."

"By then the water cooler was empty. We went out for some more soda pop and poured it into the cooler—straight. Later, someone called the cops, but it was such a fine party they decided to stay and have some sandwiches and soda pop, too."
"Finally, one of our boys tripped and fell into the drum, and the band got mad and went home," and so did all the party. About midnight only Joe, a friend of mine, and I were left.

"We left too, but felt dizzy—from all that dancing. So we decided to take a little ride to clear our heads. We all asleep—and guess where we woke up?"
"Home," said Johnny. "No, in Bermuda," said Grandpa. "We didn't get back home until the second of January. And that was the last office Christmas party I went to, and Grandpa and I lived happily ever after."

Careless Smoker Is Blamed For Blaze

NEW YORK (AP)—The fire in the subbasement of the Times Tower that took three lives Nov. 22 probably was caused by careless smoking, Fire Commissioner Edward F. Cavanagh Jr. says. Cavanagh said Monday that investigation showed the blaze started in a toy store room. A woman employee, according to the investigation report, had been smoking while putting stuffed animals into cellophane bags.

Extremists Show Zeal That Threatens Own Destruction

BY INEZ ROBB

It has been pretty obvious in recent weeks that the radical or extreme right, by its unbridled behavior and intemperance, threatens to destroy itself more rapidly than any of its critics dared hope.

That this fact is even penetrating the councils of the far-out right is indicated by the pressure brought to bear on Col. Mitchell Paige (USMC, retired), to repudiate his statement to a Los Angeles audience that "Chief Justice Earl Warren deserves to be hanged."

After a W. Cleon Skousen, in charge of the meeting, declared, "I am appalled at the statement," Paige finally repented and said, "I want to apologize for stating that I would hang Earl Warren. Really, it isn't my feeling that he should be hanged."

In another instance, the extreme right has been repudiated by Sen. Everett McKinley Dickson, of Illinois, who has declared that the use of his name as a sponsor for the American Committee for Aid to Katanga Freedom Fighters was unauthorized. His name was used without his permission in a hysterical full-page advertisement run by this committee in the New York Times a few days ago.

is the Hungary of 1961!" the advertisement screamed in heavy type.

Even Marvin Liebman, the Madison Avenue advertising man or public relations expert in whose fertile mind the committee originated and in whose office the incontinent ad was written, told me, "Of course, that analogy is stretching it a bit. But the Hungarian thing was a matter of self-determination, and so is the case with Katanga and Tshombe."

Pravda Hails Indian Invasion Of Goa

LONDON (AP)—Pravda hailed the Indian invasion of Goa today as a campaign to liberate Goans from Portuguese colonial domination.

"Historic justice has triumphed," the Soviet official Communist party newspaper declared. "The Indian people are welcoming their brothers from Goa, Damão and Diu into their great family."

Quoted in a Tass dispatch, Pravda claimed the United States has been building Goa up as a base "for waging a struggle against the newly independent people of Asia."

(Liebman's office is also committee headquarters.)

So "stretching it a bit" posed no problem for Liebman, who also said, "If I have any talent, it is to take an idea and turn it into action." Such radical rights as William F. Buckley Jr. and James Burnham, with whom Liebman said he "kicked around the idea of a committee to aid Katanga," obviously found it futile to strain at gnats and nieces.

The sponsors—more than 50 of them—named in the advertisement were characterized by one of the signers, Victor Lasky, well-known writer, as "the usual right-wing list."

"I didn't see the ad before it was printed, and I'm not going to repudiate it," Lasky continued. "The only thing that disturbs me is the polarization of the issue into a conservative-liberal fight."

The situation in the Congo is tragic. Many Americans, myself included, are not happy about war in Katanga. But the government has been supporting the United Nations action. "My government, right or wrong, may be dishonest," he said.

But in a situation as dangerous as that in the Congo, it smacks of willful mischief, if not disloyalty, for the radical right to leap joyfully upon it as a political issue.

What the Republican New York Herald Tribune has to say in its editorial columns is to the point: "It is unfortunate, we believe, that the strife in the Congo has served as a rallying point for the extreme right wing in America, many of whose adherents have always opposed the United Nations, and wish now to see it destroyed."

"Of all the nonsense that has been spoken and written about the Congo—none is more blatant than to compare the Katanga of 1961 to the Hungary of 1956 or to depict the leader, Moise Tshombe, as a shining and sustained knight."

"To speak of Katanga-Freedom Fighters is not only to distort today's realities in the Congo but to demean the memory of those who have actually died fighting tyranny."

Between You And Me

BY JERRY JACKSON

A pat on the back goes out to Coach J. P. Ward and all his staff of helpers who did such a fine job of seeing that the Canyon Reef Tournament of Friday and Saturday came off "without a hitch".

Game times, which are sometimes allowed to lag behind schedule in tournaments of that sort, were adhered to closely. The timers, scorers, and scoreboard keepers were also "on the ball" throughout and added to the ease with which the tourney was conducted.

In Seminole, local fans were allowed a look-see at one of the finest schoolboy outfits in the state—regardless of classification. The Indians were truly the cream of the tournament crop, and proved their prowess by slapping down each opponent with methodical consistency. In only one game—the tourney final of Saturday night against Aspermont—did they even work up a lather. They led throughout in that one, with the final tally reading 53-70.

Suburb balance is Seminole's success secret. The team is blessed with a raft of capable boys, with there being no visible chinks in the Indian armor. For example, they scored 30 points against Snyder in the semi-finals, but no one boy came through to top the 20-point figure. Instead, Jim Vining topped the team with 18, while Bob Measles chipped in with 17 and Kenneth Huggins 16 to lead the way.

Seminole is of state championship caliber, and really gave the Canyon Reef fans their money's worth every time they took the court.

The top individual performance of the meet was turned in by Aspermont's John Godfrey during his team's semi-final duel with Midland Lee Saturday morning. Godfrey is a 6-2 junior forward, an all-star, who could do nothing wrong that morning in scoring 47 points to almost single-handedly bring his mates a 78-39 win.

He followed up his performance that night by meshing 25 points against Seminole, 18 of which were canned during the second half.

Locally, the tournament turn-out wasn't anything to harp about, and should have been much healthier. Only a sprinkling of Snyder's high schoolers were on hand Saturday night when the Tigers went up against Midland Lee for the sixth place trophy, and more local lung power and support might possibly have snatched victory from defeat that night.

The Bengals spurted out to a 20-13 quarter-end lead in that one, but ended up dropping the contest 59-55.

With the admission goes out a plea for greater team support in the future. The Tigers have a talented group making up the team this year, but one needs the support of their fellows in order to hike their endeavors and produce peak performances.

Snyder plays Graham and nemesis Midland Lee here Thursday and Friday. You—the fans—are invited to be on hand for both invasions.

Baugh 'Out'; Turner 'In'; Harry Happy

NEW YORK (AP) — Clyde (Building) Turner, a 230-pounder who used to lift bulls for photographers and laughs, today had another heavy hoisting job for his broad shoulders.

The former all-pro center of the Chicago Bears will spend next season trying to lift the New York Titans into a contending position in the American Football League.

Sammy Baugh, another former National Football League great, couldn't do it and Monday after weeks of open feuding with Titan owner Harry Wismer and his second straight 7-7 season, Baugh was dropped to a "consultant" and Turner was named to succeed him as head coach.

"Everybody's happy," claimed Wismer, who said Turner would be paid $20,000 a year under a two-year contract, the same amount Baugh was drawing as head coach.

Herneigh travels to Divide tonight. At that time the Cardinals will be looking for their fifth win in 13 outings.

Wichita Slips By Cincinnati, 52-51

By SHELDON SAKOWITZ
Associated Press Sports Writer

The ranks of collegiate basketball's unbeaten teams dwindled today as three of the nation's top five teams tested defeat for the first time and several other powers had their untarnished records spoiled.

Cincinnati, ranked second in the weekly Associated Press poll, lost to Wichita 52-51 Monday night to set the tempo for a night of form reversals.

Providence, No. 3 nationally, fell to unbeaten DePaul 66-63 and fifth-ranked West Virginia was spilled by Duke 69-65.

Arizona State, tied for 10th in the ratings, dropped its first game in six starts, to Indiana 94-88. Temple suffered its first setback, to Kentucky 78-55, after winning five.

Two of the top ten teams stayed undefeated. First-ranked Ohio State whipped St. Louis 61-49 for its sixth straight, and Kansas State, No. 4, breezed to its sixth in a row, 59-43, over Arizona.

New York University (6-0) beat Notre Dame 81-73. Utah State (7-0) rolled over San Francisco State and Illinois (5-0) upended Xavier of Ohio 81-69.

Lanny Van Eman's 15-foot jump shot with three seconds remaining gave Wichita its one-point squeaker over Cincinnati and snapped the defending NCAA champion Bearcats' 27-game winning streak—longest among major colleges. The victory was the Shockers' seventh in eight starts. The loss gave Cincinnati a 5-1 record.

Van Eman sank seven field goals in the last eight minutes. The 5-11 senior shared scoring honors with Cincinnati's big Paul Hogue, each with 19 points.

Providence, the National Invitation Tournament winner last March, lost for the first time in six outings as DePaul boosted its record to 15-1. Duke Cook and M. C. Thompson sparked the Demons to their 19th consecutive home court victory.

Duke, in extending its record to 7-1, handed West Virginia its first defeat after six triumphs.

'Reform' Policy Is Long Overdue

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP)—Reform

or reform—this is what President Kennedy has told Latin America—which has told Latin America—which wants American aid—where the rich stay rich and the poor stay poor. It is about the same thing he said in his inaugural address, the hope of saving the country from communism is American help. This policy of making American aid to reform is a tough one but long overdue. One main idea is to improve it for any backward country where the gap between rich and poor is wide.

Unless—through reforms in taxes, land redistribution and other things—the impoverished masses are given a share in the society and therefore a reason to preserve it, the door is open to revolution.

Just how long Kennedy really intends to be remains to be seen. No one can pass judgment on him now. He is just starting. Some of the answers should be available before his term is up.

He is going down a road, trying to undo the damage of centuries, where the results won't be apparent in a hurry.

His Alliance for Progress program for Latin America is a 10-year one with an estimated cost of $20 billion, a major share coming from the United States.

Florida Man Passes As Real Santa

PUNTA GORDA, Fla. (AP)—For little girls and boys in this southwest Florida town, Ralph Waldo Bailey is a real Santa Claus—even without a red cap and reindeer.

With his full, snow-white beard, apple cheeks and twinkling eyes, Bailey attracts more attention from adults than children most of the year.

But as Christmas approaches Santa Claus-conscious youngsters are quick to identify him as a real St. Nick although he never wears a costume.

"The little ones stop me everywhere I go now to tell me what they want for Christmas," says Bailey, 72.

He listens attentively, pats them on the head and smiles, leaving them happy and certain that their requests have been delivered to the proper party.

Bailey once owned a herd of 300 goats—no reindeer—but sold them eight years ago and began building a community of hogan for sale or rent on the outskirts of town.

He grew the beard as a joke nine years ago when he visited his son's bride when they visited him. Bailey liked it so much that he has worn it ever since.

"Whiskers keep me warm in winter—and, surprisingly, are cool in summer," he said.

Actually, New Year's Day is more significant to Bailey than Christmas. On that day he has a little ritual he has been performing for years. He stands on his head to prove that he is still young at heart.

He said his good health comes from "hard work, outdoor living and good habits."

What does Bailey want for Christmas? Some good homemade biscuits from some of my neighbor women.

Two Firms Set Merger

CLEVELAND (AP)—The firms' presidents Monday announced a merger of Iron Fireman Manufacturing Co. into Electronic Specialty Co., subject to shareholders' approval.

Electronic Specialty operates in Texas, California, Connecticut, Massachusetts, New Jersey, Alabama and Iowa. It manufactures micro-wave communications systems and components among other devices and classified products.

Iron Fireman, with facilities in Portland, Ore., Cleveland and Toronto, produces relays, gyroscopes, climate control equipment and other aircraft and missile components.

The firms' directors plan to submit a formal agreement to shareholders early next year.

They said Christmas short stop, struck out his first two times at bat against Whitley Ford in the World Series.

He has made several major talks about it, particularly on March 13 when he outlined his program; the next day in a message to Congress; and last Sunday on his visit to Bogota, Colombia.

The keynote in this program is cooperation by the Latin American countries and self-help in trying to improve themselves.

In his message to Congress he gave some figures on Latin American conditions: life expectancy, 46 years, compared with 70 in this country; almost half of all Latin American adults can't read; approximately 50 per cent of all the children have no schools to attend; in one country 80 per cent of the population lives in makeshift shacks and barracks.

He said: "Poverty, illiteracy, hopelessness and a sense of injustice—the conditions which breed political and social unrest—are almost universal in the Latin American countryside."

He emphasized that the help a country gets will depend not only on need but on its "demonstrated readiness" to put in the reforms which promise lasting social progress.

But it was at Bogota that he called his shots most bluntly. Pointing to the "leaders of Latin America"—the industrialists and the landowners—he said: "Unless they are willing to contribute resources to national development, to accept and even initiate basic land and tax reforms, take the lead in improving the welfare of the masses, then that leadership will be taken from them and the heritage of centuries of Western civilization will be consumed in a few months of violence."

His Alliance for Progress program for Latin America is a 10-year one with an estimated cost of $20 billion, a major share coming from the United States.

Foul Weather Prevails In Many Areas

By The Associated Press
Snow, rain, sleet, cold and floods plagued many parts of the nation again today in the spell of foul weather near the start of the winter season.

Rain and snow preceded the sweep of cold air from the northern Rockies and northern Plains into the north central region. Cold wave warnings in effect for the central Plains states were extended southward to include northern Texas and eastward to areas from Minnesota and Wisconsin to Indiana and western Kentucky.

Below zero weather stung Montana, the Dakotas and parts of Nebraska as the frigid air spread from the Rockies. In North Dakota, the mercury dropped to 18 below in Minot, 17 in Dickinson and 11 in Bismarck. In Montana, the readings were around 10 below in Great Falls, Miles City and Cut Bank.

Snow hit areas in the Midwest, West and Northeast. Freezing drizzle and rain dampened many sections while thundershowers were reported along the Carolina coast and central Florida.

Floods from rain-swollen rivers menaced sections of Mississippi, Alabama and Tennessee. Several hundred persons already have been evacuated from their homes, including 350 from along the Pearl River near Jackson, Miss., and the Tombigbee River near Columbus and Aberdeen, Miss. New floods threatened Chattanooga and other eastern Tennessee areas.

"The three-month winter season starts officially at 9:20 p.m. EST Thursday."

Letters To Santa

Dear Santa:
I am three months old, but my mother and daddy wanted me to send you a letter. You see, I don't have any brothers or sisters and they are looking forward to my first Christmas. We have a big Christmas tree and I really do like the lights on it. Some go on and off. So, Santa, if you have any toys for a boy that size, I'm sure my Mom and Pop would be as happy as I will be.
Kevin Lynn Newman
P. S. Remember all the boys and girls and remember this year to stop at my house.

Dear Santa:
I am 14 months old and I have heard much about you. I want to see you and to ride in your rocket, but I want to sleep before my number came up. Melissa Ann and John Robbie told you to bring me a little red wagon and maybe a stuffed toy. I would be so happy if you would.
Zane Todd Sterling
P. S. This is a little note to me this Christmas, but it sure sounds like fun.

Dear Santa:
I am 4 1/2 years old and I would like a Baby Bye Doll and some little odds and ends. Oh, yes, if my aunt doesn't get Sharon and I an electric blanket, if you have an extra one would you please bring it to us?
Rhonda Hardgrove
P. S. Mother said if you didn't have time to eat before you left the North Pole, she would have plenty of food fixed so you could eat.

Dear Santa:
I am 13 months old and I would like to have a Yogi Bear toy and maybe some little cuddly toys. I have two sisters. Remember them and all the rest of the boys and girls.
Kathy Hardgrove
P. S. I'll bet next year I will know you a lot better than I do this year.

Dear Santa:
I am a little girl age 5. I would like a jumping rope, doll, tea set and robe. We'll be looking for you.
Cresna Henderson
P. S. Please bring me a baton.

Dear Santa:
I am 3 years old and I would like for you to bring me a doll, tea set, clothes and baton. I love you and have been a good girl.
Kelly Henderson

Missionary Found Dead

NEW YORK (AP) — Reports reaching here Monday said the Rev. Murray Dickson had been found dead in his car high in the Andes Mountains of Bolivia.
Dickson, 46, was a Methodist missionary from Hillsboro, Tex.
A report to the Methodist Church Board of Missions said the body was found Saturday and he was presumed to have died from effects of high altitude. The board said Dickson suffered from a bronchial condition.
He was apparently on his way from La Paz, where he lived, to the Yungas Valley, where Methodist mission work recently had established.
The Texan had spent a missionary to Bolivia since 1943 and was executive secretary of Methodist work in Bolivia.

Christmas Tree Can Be Dangerous

CHICAGO (AP) — A Christmas tree brightens up a home in the winter season—but it also can be dangerous, says the American Medical Association.
The AMA issued these tips Monday for making the family Christmas tree less hazardous:
The tree should be placed at a safe distance from heat sources.
All lights should be checked for safety and placed so their heat doesn't burn decorations or gifts.
Lights should be turned off overnight or when no one is at home.
Evergreen trees are composed of combustible resins and pitch, the AMA said, and should be anchored in a water-filled pan or bucket.

Delaware Legalizes Capital Punishment

DOVER, Del. (AP) — Capital punishment is legal in Delaware today.
Gov. Charles W. Bulfinch, absent from Monday afternoon's voting which failed by one vote to override a veto by Gov. Elbert N. Carvel, staged an eleven-hour return and cast the deciding affirmative in the lower chamber.
The Senate had countermanded the veto by a 13-1 margin Friday. The day before, Carvel rejected the measure re-legalizing capital punishment after three years' suspension.

'Prosperous' Will Feel Tax Increase

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Minister of the Treasury Antonio Ortiz Mena said Monday night a tax hike scheduled next year, will be felt most by the prosperous.

He said the measure will change the income tax law by three main additions:

1. A 5 per cent tax on 70 per cent of income from urban buildings renting for more than 1,000 pesos ($80) a month. A 30 per cent deduction is allowed for taxes, depreciation and maintenance.

2. A progressive tax on profits from bonds, mortgage certificates, certificates of participation and shares yielding 8 per cent interest or more. This tax will take 2 per cent, when profits are 8 per cent a year, increasing up to 5 per cent when the profit is over 11 per cent.

3. An increased personal income tax when income exceeds 15,000 pesos ($1,200) a month. Here also a progressive rate will be applied, with 3 per cent for incomes up to 300,000 pesos ($24,000) yearly and reaching 15 per cent for those making up to 1,450,000 pesos ($116,000). In no case will taxpayers pay more than 30 per cent of their total taxable income.

Corporations will be allowed to claim "accelerated depreciation" for their assets, whether they consist of machinery, equipment or other properties. This would make them replaceable in one to five years instead of a 10-year period as in the past.

Ortiz Mena said President Adolfo Lopez Mateos already has signed the bill, which will be now sent to Congress for approval.

Negro Girl Coming Home For Holidays

NEWARK, N. J. (AP)—Hulda Clark, 14, the Negro girl whose father sent her to the Soviet Union in September to avoid what her father calls "Jim Crow schools" here, is coming home for the holidays.

The girl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Clark of Newark, will arrive later this week, according to Clarence Coggins of Jersey City, chairman of an organization called the Committee for the Promotion of the Education of Negroes in Russia. Clark is vice chairman of the group.

Coggins said Hulda will visit her parents for about two weeks before returning to the Soviet Union.

Clark's father, who is a member of the Communist Party, said he had no objection to her coming home for the holidays.

Blue Jeans Ruled Out As Attire

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—A mother of four has been dropped from unemployment compensation rolls because she showed up for her checks wearing blue jeans.

Mary Bell Turner, a meat packing plant worker, was informed Monday her check had been canceled because she continued to appear at the office in jeans.

Mrs. Turner, who had been drawing benefits for 11 weeks, reopened her claim Monday. She said loss of the compensation check means the family will have a slim Christmas. Her husband, W. C. Turner, works for the city street cleaning department.

"I was planning to use this week's check to buy groceries for a big Christmas dinner, since we don't celebrate with tree and presents," she said.

"I had been told not to come back in jeans, but I was in a hurry and it just slipped my mind because I had more blue jeans than dresses."

A 30-day-old ruling by the State Department of Employment Security says persons must be "suitably attired," James Cuff, district manager for the department, said the rule is based on the basic federal law requiring persons receiving payments to make themselves available for immediate employment.

He said women reduce their chances for employment when they appear in slacks or jeans.

Mrs. Turner said she has worked off and on since 1941 in meat packing plants. There jeans are worn by all women workers. But Cuff said that doesn't mean her next job would require jeans.

L. B. Jennings, state commissioner of employment security, backed up the dress ruling. He said the rule is a good one and part of the department's over-all effort to get people back to work.

Mrs. Turner didn't agree.

"I figure if a woman has to work like a man she might as well dress like one," she said.

'Crash' Only A Balloon

DALLAS (AP)—It turned out to be only a weather balloon, but for a time some Dallas area residents thought an airliner had disintegrated in flight.

Alarmed, householders hurried to telephone police and sheriff's offices Monday. Several shouted something about fragments of a plane falling.

Maj. Robert Ray of Goodfellow Air Force Base at San Angelo said the balloon, about the size of a football field, was one of 10 sent aloft with weather instruments each month.

Ordinarily the balloons blow away from Dallas. This time, a wind switch headed it squarely toward the city. At Ray's order, a helicopter crew set off an explosive charge by radio.

It blew the big bag to bits, freeing the weather instruments to float down by parachute.

Ray said the sudden release of 88,000 cubic feet of helium gas in the balloon probably shook a rural area south of Dallas and presumably sounded like a sharp sonic boom.

Virginia Still Believes In Santa

OLEAN, N.Y. (AP)—"Yes, Virginia there is a Santa Claus." The "Virginia" of that memorable Christmas letter is Laura Virginia Douglas, now 72 and a retired New York educator. She says she still believes in the spirit of Santa Claus.

"I believe what the Santa Claus spirit stands for—love and sharing. The joy of giving and the extension of it to all people," she told an interviewer.

On Dec. 21, 1957, the old New York Sun made its now-famous reply to a letter written by Virginia.

"Some of my little friends say there is no Santa Claus. Papa says, 'If you see it in the Sun, it's so.' Please tell me the truth. Is there a Santa Claus?"

Castro Losing His Grip As Ringmaster In Cuban Circus

EDITOR'S NOTE—The writer of this dispatch has just come out of Cuba after six months as the Associated Press correspondent in that Caribbean nation. This is his penetrating analysis of the temper of the people in Cuba and an insight into little known behind-the-scenes Communists who play an important role in the Castro revolution.

AN AP NEWS ANALYSIS

By JOSE MARIA ORLANDO

In the hectic first days of Fidel Castro's regime, Cuba was described by a French writer as a circus with a bearded prime minister as ring master.

Today the Caribbean island once known as the "Pearl of the Antilles" is far from being a circus but is becoming the first nation in the Western Hemisphere to fall under the iron grip of international Communism.

Castro seems to be losing his position as ring master. What Castro says still goes since the Communist clique acting behind him needs his popularity to stay on top. But the Reds have taken over control of government planning and are turning the former easy living in Cuba into a tightly organized Communist state.

Although there is some armed rebel activity the Castro regime's machine makes improbable any internal uprising or a large scale at the present time.

Anyone known to be out of sympathy with the government is either jailed or watched. The underground movement, smashed after April's abortive invasion, has not been able to reorganize itself, partly because of the differences among counterrevolutionary groups fighting one another for leadership.

Castro himself is a paradox. Either sincerely persuaded or forced because he has no other way to turn for help, he is going along with the Communist clique to the extent of proclaiming himself "a Marxist-Leninist to the day I die."

However, there are observers close to the Cuban prime minister who say he is not an indoctrinated Communist but a man dragged toward Moscow as the only source of support in his bitter feud with the United States.

These observers claim that Castro is incapable of adhering to the rigid discipline demanded of a member of the Communist party and can never be a real Communist. One Western diplomat in Havana told me: "Castro is a typical individualistic leader who believes only in himself. Castro used the Communists as a source of support in the first days after his two-year guerrilla revolution in the Sierra Maestra overthrew the Batista dictatorship Jan. 1, 1959."

As the break with the United States widened, he leaned more on the Communists until today they control all fields of Cuban life—political, economic and social.

Sometimes the Communist leaders bow before Castro—more often he goes along with them. Heading the Red clique are Fabio Grobart and Blas Roca. Both are Moscow-trained and toe the Kremlin line.

Grobart, in his 60s, is a mysterious East European who has been a Soviet agent in the Caribbean for 20 years. He is believed to be a Polish Jew whose real name is Abraham Zinowich. Blas Roca is reported to be his handpicked, head of the Cuban Communist party—an appointment made years ago.

Roca, whose real name is Francisco Caldero, has operated in the open since Castro seized power. Grobart remained in the background until four months ago when his name appeared as a director of "Cuba Socialist," a new monthly magazine of Marxist-Leninist philosophy.

Grobart is credited with creating the "School for Instructors of Art"—a huge program under

From me to you A DAILY VIEW

By Rev. R. Charles Spivey

"In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the Word became flesh and dwelt among us, full of grace and truth."

John 1:1, 14 (read verses 1-18) Imagine that! God, the sovereign, creator, master, Lord of all the Universe took time off from His myriad duties and became a flesh and blood, and bone, human being! And why would He do such and awe full thing? The scripture goes on to say, "grace and truth came through Jesus Christ." God wanted us to know his abounding love; He wanted us to know that He is a gracious God, full of compassion, slow to anger, ready to forgive; He wanted us to know the truth about Him, that he might no longer live in dread and fear. So He came—in the flesh—that was the only way we fleshy people would be able to understand.

First Presbyterian Church

miles southeast of the United States. Cuba is a Socialist country. The United States is a capitalist country. As long as the United States remains a capitalist country there can be no peace for Cuba. The instructor through the "Integrated Revolutionary Organizations" known as ORI, slated to become the lone and all-powerful political party in Cuba.

Ernesto Guevara, Argentine-born economic czar considered by many as the ablest figure in the Castro government, is a member of ORI. But there are growing doubts about Guevara's political influence.

Castro still retains the support of a large part of the Cuban people even though his popularity is not as high as when he first took over.

Food is scarce and there are other shortages in such key items as clothes, bathing soap, toothpaste, razor blades, brassieres. Castro's support comes largely from the interior where peasants particularly 200,000 distributed in 600 collective farms—live under better conditions than they ever did before.

But Cuba is an armed camp with 300,000 men and women out of a six million population in the militia or regular army.

Cuban government leaders have admitted they still need to attract the younger generation to the Marxist-Leninist line of thought to close the gap between themselves and the masses.

"The revolution is going ahead so fast that many people are left behind," Castro himself once said. "The big question mark in the all-out transformation of a Cuba known for gambling, drinking and dancing into a drab Communist state is the Cuban people themselves."

There are many who believe that the traditionally gay and hot-blooded Cubans will never accept the rigid discipline and austere life of a Communist country.

Burleson Urges JFK To Seek Settlement

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Omar Burleson, D-Tex., has asked the Kennedy administration to try for a settlement of the Congo problem.

Burleson, a delegate to the United Nations, made the plea Monday. He is also a member of the House Foreign Affairs Committee.

The Texan said he had also asked Ambassador to the U. N., Adlai Stevenson, to have the administration do all possible to halt military action in Katanga.

He said warfare between Adoula's Leopold government and Tshombe's Katanga government would open the door to a third force in the Congo.

Investment Firm's Appeal Is Rejected

AUSTIN (AP)—Securities Commissioner William King has upheld his order revoking the permit of Key Western Investment Corp. of Abilene to sell its stock in Texas.

A hearing was held Nov. 20 on Key Western's appeal of the commissioner's order.

King contended the stock was worth less than the securities firm was trying to get for it on the market. Officials of the company said the firm had to be built up for a period of years before the stock would be worth its listed value.

The investment corporation's only holding is the Key Western Insurance Co.

Porcelain Industry Views New Areas Of Development

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—Skyscrapers that glow in the dark for beauty and freight cars and trucks that glow for safety are already a gleam in the eye of the porcelain enamel industry.

It also is pushing the possibilities of using electroluminescence at airports, as borders for taxi strips or as low-level lighting of runway borders.

You may already have electroluminescence in your home in the form of small glowing night lights plugged into an electrical outlet. The glow is created by sending a small amount of electricity through a porcelain enamel panel, thereby energizing the phosphors that have been fused into the glass-on-metal panel.

Through another of its qualities porcelain enamel is getting into the auto business as coating for mufflers and tailpipes. It resists the heat, corrosion and rust that is estimated to take an annual toll of $500 million spent for replacements of these gadgets.

The same heat resistant quality makes for its use in special parts for rockets and in heat-sealed components in the after-burners of a number of jet planes.

In architecture porcelain enamel is gaining in usage as colorful panes sheathing of buildings. If architects add luminescence to make their buildings glow at night, as the industry hopes, a new field will open up.

The old uses of the ancient material, however, are giving the industry increasing sales volume. The Porcelain Enamel Institute estimates a record $500 million business was done this year.

Cooking and heating equipment accounted for 29 per cent of the sales. Refrigerators and freezers took 14 per cent of all porcelain enamel sales, home laundry equipment and dishwashers 16 per cent, plumbingware 9 per cent and water heaters 7 per cent, the balance for assorted other uses.

All of these lines could see volume increases this year if home building picks up as administration experts predict.

But the industry's engineers are thinking beyond this into the new fields opening up.

The safety factor of electroluminescence is being pushed as a sales point. One idea is to put a glowing stripe on the sides of railroad freight cars to make them more easily seen at grade crossings at night. Similar stripes on trucks and passenger cars would add safety on the highways, the engineers say. One car maker is using electroluminescent porcelain enamel on dashboards, for both convenience and safety.

Electroluminescent road signs are in use, some for advertising, others for giving directions.

The institute reports research is going on looking toward other technological advances in the ancient Egyptian art of porcelain enameling. Basically the process is the fusing of glass particles with metal under great heat. This forms a hard and lustrous finish that doesn't fade, doesn't peel and defies corrosion and rust.
