Republican's Motion To Impeach Hoover Defeated 361 To 8

Buying Barbara

by Julia Cleft-Addams

Farrell Armitage knew his millions would not tempt Barbara Quentin—so he tried to win her by showering his wealth on the man Barbara thinks she will marry. Does Armitage succeed? The answer is in this new serial.

Sledding has its thrills, but motorists are accustomed to cutting in behind other cars—with danger for sled-riders behind cars. Better hitch sleds behind Old Dobbin.

When a bunch of marchers go to Washington and get what they seek, that will be top news of the day, mister.

Typical attitudes on law enforcement, reported at Berger after the state highway patrol "lagged" a hundred people for having faulty lights: 1. "Atta-boy!" 2. "That's a helluva note!"

Today's simile: As stubborn as a Berger city commission fighting a petition for an election to unseat itself.

RECALL A BIT

Less than a decade ago, well-informed West Texans were raising Cain about inequalities of state benefits as compared with taxes being paid into the state treasury. There was the example of dozens of downstate counties who annually received from the state many times what they paid into the coffers. West Texans were up in arms about it, and demanded a change.

The only state educational institution in the Panhandle at that time was West Texas State Teachers college at Canyon. This college was almost forgotten by law-

INDEPENDENTS' PLAN OPPOSES THAT OF OIL COMPANIES

OIL HEARING ENDS TODAY

A. P. I. WILL HOLD ITS YEARLY BANQUET THIS EVENING

AMARILLO, Dec. 13. (P)—A short time after a hearing on gas conservation rules for the West Panhandle field opened here today, the Texas Railroad commission had ordered checked immediately what it termed was wastage of 24,000,000 cubic feet a day. Testimony offered in the course of the hearing brought out that 20 wells producing "dry" gas had been connected with casing-head gasoline and carbon black plants.

AMARILLO, Dec. 13. (P)—Rules to govern the oil and gas ratio of oil wells and the use of natural gas in the manufacture of casing head gasoline, received attention today, the second day of a hearing before members of the Texas Railroad commission to work out problems confronting gas producers in the west Panhandle field.

Efforts were being made to conclude the hearing early enough for Commissioner Ernest O. Thompson

Indictments Are Accusations and Orders of Trial

(Editor's note: This is the last of a series of articles describing the duties and procedure of grand juries.)

After all testimony accessible to the grand jury concerning an offense has been heard, a vote is taken on whether the accused should be required to go to trial. If nine members believe that an indictment should be issued, the foreman of the jury makes a memorandum and furnishes the data with which the state's attorney can prepare an indictment.

With the indictment, signed by the attorney and foreman of the grand jury, are appended the names

Trunk Slayer's Execution Set For February 17

FLORENCE, Ariz., Dec. 13. (P)—Mrs. Winnie Ruth Judd, Arizona's trunk murderer, called her husband and attorneys into conference here today at the state prison to lay plans to prevent her execution, which the state supreme court has set for February 17.

Mrs. Judd's only hope for immediate delay in yesterday's court's orders is a formal petition to that body for a rehearing of the arguments presented when the new trial was sought. Arthur C. Verge, of Los Angeles, one of the condemned woman's attorneys, said the application for a rehearing would be filed immediately.

Three other possible avenues of escape from the death penalty also were open. She may appeal to the state board of pardons and parole; she may obtain a sanity hearing before a Pinal county jury but only at the request of the warden of the state prison; or she may appeal to the supreme court of the United States.

Attorney Verge said, in event a rehearing is denied by the state supreme court, a writ of error will be filed with the United States supreme court.

"We believe there were prejudicial errors in Mrs. Judd's trial," Verge stated, "and we will fight the thing through the highest tribunal in the land."

BOY IS SAVED

Police nabbed all three members of a kidnaping gang who tried to abduct John Berry Turpdy, above, four-year-old son of a wealthy Rome, Ga., family. Learning of the plot, police waited while two men escorted the child's nurse, seized the conspirators and a confederate in an auto nearby. The would-be kidnapers had planned to hold the child for $50,000 ransom.

Reports on Success of Santa Day Are Presented

W. T. Fraser, new president of the Junior chamber of commerce, presided at today's luncheon and appointed numerous committees after hearing reports on the success of Santa Day and commending all who helped stage the event.

Reports of Gilmore N. Nunn, chairman of the steering committee for Santa Day, and others were heard.

Captain Clyde Hollingsworth discussed the work of the Salvation Army and told of plans for the annual home service appeal. Dr. C. H. Schulkey made an inspiring talk on the work of the Junior chamber, basing his address on literature sent out by the national organization of which the Pampa group is a member.

Members of the membership committee appointed are H. L. Polley, chairman; Bob Fuller, Harry Walker, H. E. McCarley, and Reno Stinson. K. I. Dunn, Bob Gordon, John Osborne compose the committee to

Recommends City Be Entered in Contest

Directors of the Board of City Development yesterday recommended that the new board taking office soon affiliate with the West Texas chamber of commerce and enter Pampa in the regional organization's city beautification contest.

Another recommendation was that a business men's committee be formed to study public expenses. After a discussion of proposals to reduce West Texas Teachers college to a junior institution or abandon it, and to eliminate the technological subjects at Texas Tech—suggestions made by a legislative committee—the B. C. D. passed a resolution in opposition.

The resolution follows: Whereas, the Pampa Board of City Development believes that economies in state government at this time are vital and desirable, within the limits of good judgment and reason, but

Whereas, the Legislative Committee on Efficiency and Economy has, in our opinion, gone beyond these bounds in urging virtual abandonment of the West Texas State Teachers college of Canyon and of the specific functions for which Texas Technological college of Lubbock was founded, and

Whereas, we believe these institutions of higher learning have served the people of this vast area with efficiency and laudable effectiveness; that they represent a just return to our people based on the taxes which this section; that this region served by them is as big as many states and through its oil, natural gas, manufacturing, and agricultural resources is enjoying a population increase which demands a parallel expansion of its educational facilities; that these institutions are the only ones of higher learning situated so as to serve economically the young people of this section; that the West Texas Teachers college has brilliantly justified its existence since 1910 by reason of having furnished leadership, trained teachers, and graduates of general education; that Texas Technological college is enjoying exceptional growth since its establishment; that the standing and service of these institutions is a matter of pride and the source of

Amount of Bonds For Officials of County Are Set

County commissioners in session yesterday set the bonds which officials must make for the coming year.

The settings follow: County treasurer, $40,000; judge, $3,000; clerk, $4,000; attorney, $2,500; sheriff, $15,000; collector, $28,715 for county and $17,384 for state; assessor, $5,000 for county and $2,500 for state; superintendent of schools, $1,000; auditor, $5,000; justices of peace, $1,000; constable, $1,500; commissioners, $1,500; district clerk, $5,000.

The salary of the county auditor was fixed at $250 per month "on and after November 2, 1932."

Paul Kashishke was given a permit to operate a headlight testing station in connection with his filling station.

All members of the commission were present.

LOWER HOUSE HEARS CHARGE OF McFADDEN

PRESIDENT ACCUSED OF BETRAYING NATION ON WAR DEBTS

MEMBERS ARE SILENT

SAYS HOOVER 'USURPED THE POWERS OF CONGRESS'

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13. (P)—Pennsylvania republicans in the house today demanded the resignation of Representative McFadden as secretary of their delegation as a result of his impeachment resolution directed at President Hoover.

The house of representatives by 361 to eight votes this afternoon rejected a move by Representative McFadden, Pennsylvania republican, for the impeachment of President Hoover on the ground that he had betrayed the country on war debts.

The Pennsylvania, long a foe of the administration, made his move in the house of representatives. He presented a resolution saying that since President Hoover has "usurped the powers of congress" he should be impeached.

After McFadden had repeatedly quarrelled with administration officials and attacked the president, he was shorn of his patronage privileges by his fellow party members more than a year ago.

He especially opposed the moratorium. Today, he told the house the "usurpation" by the president to which he referred was in proclaiming the moratorium. He contended that action led to the present situation involving the United States and its foreign debt.

The house listened silently as the resolution charging President Hoover "with violating the laws and constitution of the United States" and with "high crimes and misdemeanors" was read by the clerk.

It said the president's actions had prevented "receipt of payment of money" owed the United States by foreign governments and charged him with conducting conversations with foreign representatives "ignominious to the United States."

Mrs. E. M. Ward Dies at Hospital

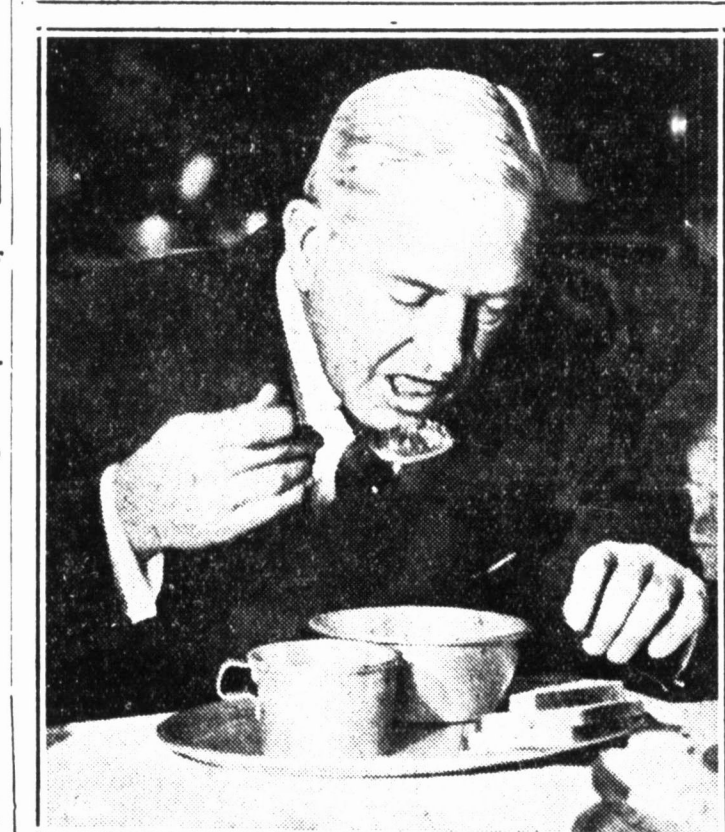

Mrs. Nina Kate Ward, 33, wife of E. M. Ward, died at a local hospital early this morning following a brief illness. The body is at rest at the Stephenson Mortuary. Funeral arrangements had not been completed early this afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Ward moved to Pampa eight months ago from Enid, Okla. Mr. Ward is a driller. Their former home was in Cyril, Okla.

Mrs. Ward is survived by her husband and two children, Wanda Lee Griffin, and Floyd Dean Griffin; her father, John McIlroy, of Cyril, two sisters, Mrs. R. D. McFarland of Cyril and Mrs. E. H. Brown of Detroit, Mich.; also two half-brothers, Rex McIlroy and Roy McIlroy of Cyril.

Mr. and Mrs. Ike Simpson of Canadian were among the Pampa shoppers yesterday.

CITY COMMISSION APPOINTS 7 NEW DIRECTORS FOR BOARD OF CITY DEVELOPMENT AT SESSION

Group Will Select Its Own Officers Soon

Seven new directors of the Board of City Development were appointed by the city commission last night.

They are: Jack Cunningham, Roy Bourland, Mack Graham, F. M. Culbertson, and G. C. Stark, for 3-year terms; H. D. Keys, one year; and P. O. Sanders, 2 years.

Hold-over directors are T. E. Rose, Carl Boston, R. G. Allen, I. E. Duncan, P. M. Foster, T. C. Lively, Paul Hill, and F. D. Keim. A meeting of hold-over and new directors will be held soon for the election of officers from within the group.

A new plumbing ordinance was passed by the city commission and several city problems discussed.

Rep. Garrett Dies Of Heart Ailment

HOUSTON, Dec. 13. (P)—Representative Daniel Edward Garrett, 63, of Houston, who died today in Washington of a heart ailment, first was elected to congress in 1912, from the state at large. In 1916, he again was chosen from the state at large. He first went to the national house from this, the eighth Texas district, in the sixty-second congress.

Mr. Garrett, a brother-in-law of Jesse H. Jones, of Houston, capitalist, newspaper publisher and member of the Reconstruction Finance corporation, was born on the old Garrett homestead near Springfield, Tenn., and studied law at night until he was entitled to practice in 1893.

UNITED STATES RECEIVES NEW BRITISH NOTE

HERRIOT'S PROPOSAL TO MAKE PAYMENT IS REJECTED

DEBT SITUATION ACUTE

ENGLAND AGAIN URGES IMPORTANCE OF CONFERENCE

PARIS, Dec. 13. (P)—The foreign affairs and finance committees of the chamber of deputies today rejected Premier Herriot's proposal to pay with reservations the debt installment due the United States on Thursday.

The vote in the foreign affairs committee was 29 to 9, in the finance committee, 22 to 9.

The premier, with the backing of his council of ministers, had prepared a note for transmission to Washington declaring the intention of paying the $10,261,438 and asking that the payment be counted as a part of an eventual accord.

The draft of the note asserted that unless a definite settlement of the debts issue can be made France will be unable "to support henceforth the burden of a regime which can only be justified by the payment of reparations."

He submitted it to a joint meeting of the foreign affairs and finance committees, emphasizing that the reservations possessed especially a political character.

Then the committees went into session separately. Meantime the premier's own chamber group, the radical party, met without definitely deciding its attitude on the government's policy. It was reported, however, that an important section of the group probably will vote against payment.

Several members threatened to resign if the group insisted the all must vote in favor of the government.

Great Britain has returned to the debate on the debts with another note to Washington, renewing the promise to pay the $95,550,000 due on Thursday, reiterating the British position as outlined in previous notes, and urging again the importance of a conference to reconsider the whole debt situation.

The government in London has made it clear that although the issue will be debated in the house of commons tomorrow, no action by parliament will affect the decision of the cabinet.

Fine Support Given Tree for Less Fortunate

"Santa is nearly here," declared Mrs. W. H. Davis yesterday in marveling at the splendid support which is being given the community Christmas tree project.

Plans for the tree are practically complete, but many gifts will be necessary in order to make the tree successful. Donations of candy will be particularly welcomed, as it is planned for every child to receive candy and a little fruit. Church, grocers, clubs, and lodges are donating toys, and the Salvation Army is cooperating in various capacities.

Parents of the less fortunate children are asked to call at the Welfare Board for tickets which will admit their children to the Christmas tree Friday evening, Dec. 23, at 6:30 o'clock. The tree will be held in the city auditorium.

A program of special interest to children will feature a home living room scene.

BOY ARRESTED
A Pampa youth under 17 years of age has been declared a juvenile delinquent. He was arrested on a charge of stealing a ladies' purse and fountain pen from a car. It was not his first offense, and County Attorney Sherman White pointed out that he habitually wandered about the streets at night and associated with tough characters.

OUR INSECURE ISOLATION

One of the things that is perplexing government leaders today is the slowly dawning realization that before the pressing problems connected with the restoration of prosperity can be solved, the American people are going to have to look intently across several oceans.

This may not mean that America must give up its old antipathy to taking an active part in European affairs, but it does indicate that we must make a radically new interpretation of our traditional position of isolation.

What is going on overseas that we must take an interest in?

Well, here are wars and rumors of wars. There is fighting in Manchuria and there may be a lot more. Germany and France are on a path that seems to lead directly toward war. Armaments everywhere are top-heavy. Suspicion, jealousy and misunderstanding are almost universal. That new map of Europe that the Versailles cartographers gave us is hardly a thing that the world can live peacefully with forever.

Yet all of that is only part of it. Debts are choking national governments and private businesses. Trade creeps along with the brakes on. A multitude of tariff walls add to the confusion. Currencies are collapsing.

Short of actual war, international affairs could hardly be more hopelessly tangled and confused than they are today.

So good an isolationist as Senator Borah warns that we shall never settle our farm problem, our unemployment problem, our unbalanced budget and our tax problem until these international mix-ups have been straightened out.

"Not until then," he asserts, "will trade revive, commerce flow in its accustomed channels and the monetary systems of the world again assume their normal operations. Not until then will commodity prices begin to rise in a permanent way and confidence in business generally be restored."

It begins to appear, in short, that we can't get well until the rest of the world gets well too. And this puts a profoundly new interpretation on the responsibilities and duties of the American statesman.

The defeated Socialist candidate for the governorship of Kansas spent 85 cents in his campaign—25 cents for car fare and 60 cents for a rubber stamp. Shrewd candidates frequently save the 60 cents and get into office to boot by agreeing to act as rubber stamps themselves.

Drivers of Chicago funeral cars have gone on a strike. And it will be hard in that town to find volunteer strike-breakers willing to go just for the ride.

"A large nose is a sign of brains," observes a writer. And a sharp nose, it is added, indicates perseverance and industry. Probably because it is kept close to the grindstone.

If you tire of turkey hash after holiday dinners, reflect on the plight of the African natives who kill an elephant now and then for a succulent chop.

The cry from overseas for a clean slate on war debts reminds us there's been a lot of sponging in that regard already.

OUT OUR WAY .. By WILLIAMS

The PEOPLES COLUMN

Editor, The NEWS:

As chairman of the local advisory board of the Salvation Army, serving on this board for some time and knowing its work as I do, and feeling the need of such an organization of its kind in Pampa, I want to call the attention of our good people and to endorse the campaign now being put on for funds to carry on its work.

The Salvation Army is an asset to our city, and to any city. It reaches a people no other reaches. Its methods are direct and practical. As a man who has his business in Pampa and one vitally interested in the welfare of his community, I want to ask every citizen to come forward and help us put this drive over the top, giving to this organization enough funds to carry on its work.

You men and women who have money on which to live remember those who have not, and remember there are those who would not hear the gospel preached, perhaps, if it were not for the Salvation Army message given on the street, or to those who do not attend any church or religious place of worship. Money invested in such organizations as the Salvation Army is tax exempt, and you will know you have made a good investment in your own community.

This is a special appeal to all citizens to give liberally to the Salvation Army. NOW.

Sincerely,
O. L. DOAK, chairman,
Advisory Board, Salvation Army.

Cars Damaged in Head-On Collision

Considerable damage to two cars resulted from a head-on collision on Cuyler street Sunday night. One car was driven by R. M. Sickle, according to justice of the peace records which show that he was released on $750 bond after arraignment on a charge of operating a motor vehicle while intoxicated.

In the other car were Mr. and Mrs. John Strange and Artie Cottrell, who suffered minor bruises.

J. L. Stroppe is doing well attended of Pampa hospital announced this morning.

Tips on CONTRACT

LESSONS IN PASSING

By TOM O'NEIL

Often the word "pass" during the auction in contract turns out very profitable. Especially is this so when a vulnerable side starts bidding suits in which opponents have strength.

Conversely, if no trump is bid by a vulnerable player after an opponent has offered a suit, there is danger of a double and a heavy penalty.

By judicious passing Mrs. Ely Culbertson and William J. Huske set the record for 100-0 in the Willard S. Karp five vulnerable doubled in the Vanderbilt cup tournament. Here was the hand:

WEST	NORTH	EAST	SOUTH
♠ 32	♠ A 10 7 6 4	♠ 9 8	♠ 5 3 2
♥ J 7	♥ K 4	♥ A 9	♥ K 5
♦ 8 5 5	♦ 10 6 4 3	♦ A 9 7	♦ K 5
♣ 10 6 4 3	♣ K 5	♣ 10 6 4 3	♣ 6 2
			♣ Q 2

Sims opened the auction with a spade, his cards affording possibilities of a part score or more if they fitted with partner's. Would Mrs. Culbertson, with her high spades, bid no trump? No; she passed to await developments. They came.

Karn denied the spades by bidding two hearts. Huske, with his high hearts, did as his partner, passed. Sims had to deny the hearts. He could not rebid spades. He offered two no trump. Mrs. Culbertson passed again.

Came three hearts from Karn, a pass from Huske, three no trump from Sims and then up spoke Mrs. Culbertson with a double. She led the queen of diamonds and the panic was on.

In contrast is a hand played at the Marine and Field club, Brooklyn, in which John Buel, an outstanding player, was set three doubled vulnerable on a bid of one when he over-called an original bid with a no trump.

New Chevrolet To Be Exhibited Here Saturday

The showroom of the Culbertson-Smalling Chevrolet company at the corner of Ballard and Francis will be the center of automobile interest Saturday, according to F. M. Culbertson. The occasion will be the arrival of the new Chevrolet car. Mr. Culbertson is enthusiastic about the new line and feels sure that the public will share his enthusiasm when they see the first car.

According to Mr. Culbertson, who has returned from Detroit where he visited the factory and proving ground and drove one of the new models, the car presents a distinctly new body styling which offers new features revolutionary in the low priced field. The car is larger, roomier, and more powerful than the last model. It has the appearance of a Buick, he says.

Mr. Culbertson drove one of the new cars over the proving ground at Milford, Mich., and was more than surprised at its performance. He declared that the car took rough roads and corners at surprising speed and with an ease which surpassed any performance he had ever seen.

Business conditions in the north are better, especially in the automobile industry, and a feeling of optimism prevails, Mr. Culbertson says.

Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Senter are the parents of a daughter, born at Worley hospital last night. Mr. Center is with the Phillips Petroleum company.

The Little Harvester

Vol. 2. PAMPA HIGH SCHOOL, DECEMBER 13, 1932 NO. 11

Harvesters Are Matched in Two Games in Week

Friday night the Harvester squad will journey to Panhandle to play the Panthers on their home grounds. The Canyon Eagles will come to Pampa Saturday night in a return game, and with an accompanying card the Harvestettes will play the Canyon girls.

The Panhandle Panthers are expected to offer formidable opposition to the Harvesters. They had had only three days of practice when they met the Pampa cagers last week.

The Harvesters will again be full strength with the return of Bob Woodward. Bill Kelley, substitute, has been playing some nice basketball in Captain Woodward's stead.

Last year the Canyon boys defeated the Harvesters but the Harvestettes won from the Canyon girls.

Coach Mitchell is trying to arrange games with class A teams in the section, as the Harvester district schedule does not begin until January 6, 1933.

Ag Students to Hear Professor

Frank Phillips, head of the agriculture department of Canyon Teachers college will be here and give a talk to the agriculture boys this afternoon in the agriculture building at 3 o'clock.

He will talk on "The Importance of Keeping Accurate and Complete Records on the boys' supervised projects."

The agriculture boys are completing their project record books now, and Mr. Lester is teaching the boys in the art of working.

WHY IMAGINE?

Third year history classes are going to have a trial next week. Some student will be tried for an imaginary offense to illustrate the functions of the different court officials. This is in connection with the study of the constitution of the United States.

CLASSES PLANNING ACTIVITY OF YEAR—CHRISTMAS PARTIES HOLDING INTEREST IN SCHOOL

Meetings of all classes were held last Friday afternoon to complete plans for the year's activities. Nearly all the classes are planning some social event before Christmas.

In the absence of President Jim Poole, Vice-President Berton Doucette presided at the senior meeting and made definite announcements concerning the class party to be held Friday evening. All seniors who plan to attend were urged to sign up in Miss May's room by Wednesday.

The year's program of social activities was the subject of discussion at the junior meeting, at which Lorraine Noel presided. The following calendar was adopted:

Dec. 15—Theater party.
Feb.—Junior party.
April—Picnic.
May—Junior-Senior banquet.

The sophomores began plans for a party to be held December 22. A complete calendar for the year has not yet been made.

Yells and pep were features of the freshman class meeting, held in the gym. Plans were also discussed for a picnic in the spring.

Graduate Makes Unusual Record

Eloise Lane, a graduate of Pampa high school, valedictorian of the class of 1932, and winner of the A. A. U. W. scholarship, has just made an unusual record in Baylor Belton college where she is enrolled as a freshman.

Mental tests were given to all freshmen at the beginning of the year for purpose of classification. The average scoring on these tests for the public at large is 100. High school graduates on the average score 105 and college graduates 115. Eloise made a score of 117.

Mrs. J. B. Massa and Miss Ethel Rice have been out of school on account of sickness.

SEA QUEEN ENDS MAIDEN TRIP

Majestically sweeping down New York harbor was the new Italian liner Conte de Savoia when the above view was taken and she gave little indication of the ill-luck and the heroics which accompanied her maiden voyage from Genoa. But mid-way at sea, with the waves splashing hard at her new surfaces, the big liner was halted and then Genaro Amatrudo (lower left) volunteered to go over the side and repair the damage. Passengers cheered as he worked in the night's blackness to equip the liner for the remainder of her voyage. Captain Lou (upper right) is skipper of the new liner which is equipped with a gyro-stabilizer to eliminate the ship's roll.

Glimmers of P. H. S. Sports

In three games so far this season the Harvesters have scored 93 points to their opponents' 38.

Coach Odus Mitchell is trying to arrange a schedule for basketball games with class A schools in the Panhandle before the conference season opens.

Dr. R. M. Johnson, Sherman White, and George Limerick will provide a Christmas program for next week. Today's entertainment included harmony duets by Miss Loulene Conklin and Miss Mildred Holt, accompanied by Emmitt Smith, and piano solos by Sig Merton.

That Pop wants Santa to bring every boy and girl a musical instrument?

That Helen Joan Woodrum made 34 words a minute in a speed contest in typing?

That the $20 reward Pop offered for the return of two band instruments still stands?

That Latin I classes are studying harder than the Latin II classes?

That Flora Dean Finley, Dorothy Ann York, and Helen Marie Jones didn't quite make 100 in Latin?

They made 99.

That Miss Cox's English II class is studying debate and that the girls managed to be tardy because of said debate?

That all the students in English IV wrote letters to Santa Claus and that Miss May would have had them published if the seniors hadn't made so many scandalous wishes for her?

That the entire shorthand class can take dictation at 35 words a minute and several can do 30?

Assembly for this week has been postponed until Friday on account of the weather.

The main feature of the program Friday will be the singing of popular songs by the Pep Squad chorus. The orchestra will play several numbers also.

The Gorillas will go to the Mexican tournaments Friday and Saturday if the weather clears up. They will be entered in the eighth and ninth grade section.

A ballot is being prepared by the State Teachers Association for the presenting of a repeal of the eighth semester rule in the faculty of P. H. S. is expected to be in favor of the application of the eighth semester rule for repeal.

The name, Harvestettes, has been chosen by the girls' squad in basketball to signify that team in the future.

A PATH TO PARADISE

by Coningsby DAWSON

SYNOPSIS: Santa is surprised by Dicky, her former husband, at her dreamers, and forced to go to lunch with him. It is his second high-handed capture in less than a week; Santa fears Clive, her successor, may see them, and finally escapes by telling Dicky the insulting truth about himself. But she cannot go home to face Clive, and wanders through the streets.

Chapter 48
UNDER A CLOUD

THE hour for dinner had struck, when Santa forced herself back to the apartment.

"Hello, gorgeous!"

The man whom she had dreaded was embracing her.

"Where have you been, little wanderer?"

"Forgot the time," she excused herself. "Guess you're hungry. I'll sit down as I am."

Slipping his arm about her, he guided her along the passage.

"Tidy first," he coaxed her.

"Don't I look tidy?"

Then she became aware that he was unwontedly excited.

There was nothing unusual in the aspect of the bedroom.

"On the dressing-table," he could no longer rein himself.

"She picked up a little box."

"Open it," he encouraged.

"She gazed at its contents as stunned as if it had contained the Kohinoor diamond instead of a modest brooch of sapphires."

"For me? But why?"

"Why not? He hugged her shoulder. 'Don't men give presents to the wives they love?'"

Her face crumpled. She dug herself into him.

"What's there to cry about, my darling?"

"Don't deserve it. Don't deserve you. So dear. So kind."

She sobbed as if her heart would break.

That evening they were lovers. She could tell him any time now that she was sure of him. At the moment she couldn't bring herself to bemoir her recovered peace with ugliness.

During the next few days she heard nothing from her ex-husband. At first she didn't hope too much from the respite; it might be no more than a deceptive lull. When a week had been completed, she grew optimistic.

But even with Dicky removed from the picture, she was still uncertain how she stood with Clive. Her conscience seared up ghosts. If he was pre-occupied, she at once suspected that he had heard a rumor. Against the evil day, she made a nervous effort to pile up goodwill in her own favor.

They had rid themselves of the physical Dicky, but his memory walked in both their minds. Into the quiet room he intruded, dusk lengthening, shaded lamplight falling. In an effort to ignore him Clive took to reading, Santa to sewing.

Clive flung down the paper through which he had been glancing.

"One lives and learns. When I look back, I'm amazed that I could have stood for such lunacy. I wouldn't again, whatever it cost."

She guessed to what he was referring.

"It's easy to be wise after the event, darling; but I don't see what else we could have done."

Reclaiming his paper, he made a wall of it, from behind which he spoke the truth.

"We dragged Dicky into our home! It wasn't so vastly different."

He'd said we out of politeness. Whatever happened now, she could never make a clean breast to him.

Clive racked his brains for remedies to correct this ghostly discord. Instinctively he felt that Dicky was still the cause of it. While he was fighting shadows, his wife was slipping from him.

"I see you're wearing my brooch tonight," he smiled. "Of course I've known right along that a good deal of your jewelry was your other husband's gift to you."

"Scarcely his gift, Clive. He inherited it from his mother. I paid for the re-setting. He never bought me anything."

"If it was his mother's, Santa, the more reason for returning it. You ought to have done it the day you divorced him."

"Guess I ought."

"Well, please do," he requested.

"And while we're on the subject, there's a heap more of his junk that must go. That bureau for instance, that he bought for you on your birthday."

Next evening the bureau had vanished from the drawing-room. The furniture had been rearranged.

Rabbits Stolen at Nichols Residence

W. L. Nichols, 604 South Reid street, reported to city officers this morning the loss of six rabbits, five white does, and one white buck. A single marauder broke into the rabbit pen and removed the rabbits during the night. Tracks were found.

City officers said the man wore low-cut shoes, badly worn on the heels. The man went south from Mr. Nichols' home, but his tracks were lost when he stepped into car tracks on the street.

ILL OF FLU

Archer Fullingim, city editor of The NEWS, who was confined to his home with flu Sunday and Monday, was able to return to work today.

Bulbous Plants Can Be Forced to Bloom in House in Winter Months

LUBBOCK, Dec. 13. (AP)—Bulbous plants like tulips, narcissus, hyacinths, and others, may be planted in pots and forced to bloom in the house during the winter months, according to George W. Woodbury, associate professor of horticulture at Texas Technological college.

"All bulbs, with the possible exception of paper-white narcissus, should be allowed to remain in a cool, dark place, for several weeks after being potted, before being removed inside," Woodbury said. "This will give the roots time to develop before the tops start to grow."

"Plant the bulbs in pots four or five inches deep. Paper-whites may be set close together, with several in a pot, but tulips and hyacinths need more room, a four-inch pot being suitable for one bulb. Water well. Place them in a cool location out of doors and cover with several inches of soil. A dark, cool cellar serves the same purpose as burying."

The narcissus may be brought inside at intervals from now until February for continuous bloom. When the pots are removed inside place the plant in a cooler part of the house for a few days in a not too sunny window until some good strong green growth is produced. Failure in forcing bulbs to bloom results from bringing them too rapidly from out of doors into a warm room."

Woodbury recommends the Darwin tulips, one of the most popular varieties for outdoor planting, for indoor forcing.

Man Kills Girl Then Himself

ORANGE, Dec. 13. (AP)—Miss Lily Gholson, 29, of Orange, was killed by her sweetheart, Henry Pachar, Jr., 34, who then committed suicide. Justice L. H. Paul Miller decided today after viewing the bodies, found near the highway 12 miles north of here.

It was believed the tragedy occurred last Friday. Pachar took the young woman into his automobile, ostensibly to teach her to drive it, and it was the last time they were seen alive.

When they failed to return friends hunted the countryside and a reward of $100 finally was offered.

Today the bodies were discovered. The girl's body was in the back seat of the car. One shot had pierced her head. Pachar's body was crouched on the front bumper, a shot gun between his knees. The car had been driven a short distance off the road and was concealed by trees and underbrush.

Both were members of well known families here. Pachar was in the grocery business with a brother. He suffered a nervous breakdown last summer and had been treated recently. Justice Miller said he believed the old malady attacked Pachar again when he killed the girl and himself.

Warm Sun Thawing Out Frozen Snow

Fifteen weather such as Panhandle winters produce is certain to reverse itself before many days—hence today's warm sun was not unexpected.

The temperature rose appreciably early last night, then took a nose dive to 4 above at 5 a. m. It had risen to 10 above at 7 a. m. and by noon the snow on shingled roofs had begun to melt.

SANTA AND THE MAGIC DOLL
by SIGRID ARNE

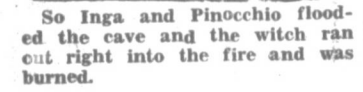

SYNOPSIS: Inga and Pinochio, two dolls from Toyland, are in search of a witch who has ruined Inga's beauty thru a gold mirror which then helps Inga. A woods fairy helps them by disguising them as red foxes.

Chapter VIII. THE WITCH'S CAVE.
Soon the woodland seemed to disappear and the two dolls, disguised as red foxes, came to the stony mountain that they knew was the location to the cave of the bats where the witch lived.

There wasn't a tree or a shrub to hide them as they started up the hill. There were just great, ugly rocks about them.

"Wait," said Inga, and she sat down and held up the little mirror in front of her.

"Little mirror, where is the witch now?" she asked.

So Inga and Pinochio flooded the cave and the witch ran out right into the fire and was burned.

Immediately the face of the mirror showed the door to the cave and then it showed a dark passage inside and finally a dark room lit only by a roaring fire. Next to it sat the old witch. All about her circled hundreds of huge bats.

"At least, she is inside," said Inga. "We must approach the cave without her seeing us."

So they started on again, creeping up the mountain and hiding behind rocks. Soon they were at the door of the cave. Quietly they slipped in and down the long passage. Just before they entered the room they hid the precious mirror and the little bottle of water the woods fairy had given them behind some rocks.

But when they looked into the witch's big room they were frightened. There were so many huge bats that they feared they would have to fight. And a bat has very sharp claws.

So they went back out into the corridor to lay plans.

"Let's spill that little bottle of water," said Pinochio. It will flood the whole room and they will be driven out."

"But it will also put out the fire."

Suddenly all about them the rocks changed form and there stood three or four hundred people and dolls and animals of the woods. They had all been bewitched at one time or another by the witch, and now Inga and Pinochio had freed them.

OFFICERS TO BE SELECTED NEXT SESSION

COMMITTEES CHOSEN BY TEMPORARY CHAIRMAN

Organization of a City Federation of Women's clubs progressed at a meeting of presidents or other representatives from various clubs yesterday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Raymond W. Harrah, president of the senior Twentieth Century club.

Mrs. Philip R. Pond, temporary chairman, presided and presented facts pertaining to such federations to the group. Each representative will report on the meeting at the next session of her club, at which time election of a federation delegate is to take place.

It was decided that the local group would not federate with the state organization this year.

Mrs. Pond appointed Mrs. A. B. Goldston, Mrs. Philip Wolfe, Mrs. O. H. Booth, and Mrs. F. Ewing Leech as a constitution and by-laws committee. She also appointed nominating committee composed of Mrs. J. M. McDonald, Mrs. Katie Vincent, Mrs. H. W. Johns, and Mrs. Raymond W. Harrah, which will report at the next meeting, slated for the second Friday in January.

Following are those who attended and the organizations they represented: Mrs. J. M. McDonald, El Progresso club; Mrs. E. C. Will, American Association of University Women; Mrs. E. M. Conley, Little Theater; Mrs. O. H. Booth, Arno Art club; Mrs. Raymond W. Harrah, senior Twentieth Century club; Mrs. F. Ewing Leech, Twentieth Century Culture club; Mrs. Philip R. Pond, temporary chairman; Mrs. A. B. Goldston, Junior Twentieth Century club; Mrs. A. N. Diley, Jr., Treble Clef club; Mrs. Katie Vincent, Clive Culture club; Mrs. Robert Gilchrist, Child Study club; Mrs. Olin E. Hinkle, the press.

and a witch can only be killed by burning," said Inga.

"That's right," said Pinochio, scratching his head. "I'll tell you what. I saw the embers of an old fire outside. We'll pile up wood for a huge fire in the passage. Then we'll spill water from our magic bottle into the witch's room. She will be running out this way, and just before she gets to our wood-pile we'll set fire to it and she will be caught."

That's just what they did. When the water started flooding the witch's room she and all her bats ran in terror out through the passage which was so dark and narrow that they did not see the fire until they ran right into it and burned. And that was the last of the witch.

"Now let's rub the coins the woods fairy gave us," said Inga.

They did and immediately they lost their disguise as red foxes and became two little dolls again.

But here is the wonderful part of it: Inga wasn't the old, gray wrinkled doll she had been, but the beautiful Inga in Santa's tophood. She and Pinochio were so happy that they clasped hands and danced right there.

So they went back out into the corridor to lay plans.

"Let's spill that little bottle of water," said Pinochio. It will flood the whole room and they will be driven out."

"But it will also put out the fire."

Suddenly all about them the rocks changed form and there stood three or four hundred people and dolls and animals of the woods. They had all been bewitched at one time or another by the witch, and now Inga and Pinochio had freed them.

BRAWN, BRAINS

Beauty, brains, and athletic and musical ability all are combined in Lucille Eising, University of Wisconsin senior medical student. Besides surpassing in hockey, basketball and baseball, Miss Eising stands in the first five in class work, and has paid almost her entire way through college by singing in a church choir.

Music Group Is To Rehearse at Church Tonight

Treble Clef club members will hold an important rehearsal this evening at 8:30 o'clock at the Methodist church.

The rehearsal is in preparation for the outstanding musical event of the Christmas season, the cantata which will be presented at the Methodist church Friday evening. The cantata, Kounze's "In Bethlehem," is directed by Mrs. W. A. Bratton. Mrs. J. P. Curtis is pianist, and Mrs. May F. Carr, organist. It is composed of both the full chorus and small choruses with incidental solos. A few other prominent musicians in addition to Treble Clef members will take part.

Mrs. R. B. Fisher To Tell Stories

Mrs. R. B. Fisher will tell stories at a Sam Houston chapel program Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock. Other numbers will include the following: Orchestra selections; song, Mrs. Harry A. Nelson; harmonica number, Sybil Osborne; piano selection, Betty Ann Culbertson.

Childress Women Paying for House

CHILDRESS, Dec. 13. (AP)—The Department club of Childress is struggling valiantly and successfully with the problem of paying for a beautiful club house which was built when "times were better." Two apartments which are rented help meet the obligations, and renting the entertaining rooms help; in addition each member club of the parent organization constantly devises ways and means to keep paying on the house. The Childress women are bound to be successful in the long run.

A large group gathered at the Central Baptist church last evening in spite of inclement weather to hear the Rev. Thomas J. Doss on "Walking With God."

Revival services are continuing each morning at 10 o'clock and each evening at 7:30.

LUNCHEON TO BE FOLLOWED BY SPEAKING

MRS. C. E. ROE TO BE LECTURER AT 2 O'CLOCK

North Plains parents, teachers, and others interested in Parent-Teacher association work are making plans to be at the First Methodist church, Pampa, Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock to hear an address by Mrs. C. E. Roe, field secretary for the National Congress of Parents and Teachers.

The meeting of the high school Parent-Teacher association here formerly slated for Thursday afternoon, has been postponed, and the president, Mrs. Harry Marbaugh, is asking that all of the school's patrons hear Mrs. Roe on Saturday.

Mrs. Roe also will be guest of honor at a luncheon to be served at 12:30 o'clock in the home economics room of the high school, with Mrs. H. G. Myers in charge of the program. Among other prominent guests will be Mrs. J. E. Griggs of Amarillo, district Parent-Teacher association president, and Mrs. W. D. Westby, also of Amarillo, district publicity chairman.

The speaker will be brought to Pampa under the sponsorship of the city council of Parent-Teacher associations, composed of associations from the following schools: Merten, Baker, Horace Mann, Woodrow Wilson, Sam Houston, Junior high, and high school.

HOW'S your HEALTH

Edited by Dr. Lago Goldston, Academy of Medicine

THE ALLERGIC CHILD

The expression "the allergic child" is used in describing a child suffering from an oversensitiveness to common substances with which the vast majority of children and adults can come in contact without any untoward effects.

Most persons both young and old breathe in a variety of organic and inorganic dusts, eat various kinds of foods and come into physical contact with various kinds of substances without reactions.

The allergic child, however, is oversensitive to certain substances and the oversensitiveness takes the form of skin eruptions, respiratory disturbances, such as asthma, bronchitis, and the like.

The precise constitutional mechanism involved in the allergic or oversensitive condition is not fully understood.

Appropriate symptomatic treatment is usually given to the child according to the nature of the reaction. Environmentally, we try as far as possible to keep the child out of contact with the offensive substances.

If the child is sensitive to egg, we delete it from its diet. If it is sensitive to goose feathers, we take care that its mattress, pillows and the furniture stuffings are of other substances.

However, much of a non-specific nature can be done to contribute to the comfort and welfare of the allergic child. Good hygienic surroundings are essential, while emotional and mental peace and harmony contribute much.

The child should be fed regularly and carefully. He should have a hot breakfast and a hot midday meal. Supper should be light and no food or drink should be given the patient after he gets into bed. Care should be taken that the diet

Methodists to Sing Christmas Numbers Sunday

The evening hour at the First Methodist church next Sunday will be devoted to Christmas music to be furnished by the choir under the direction of R. B. Fisher. Mrs. May Foreman Carr is organist.

Solos will be sung by Mr. Fisher and Norman Carr; and duets by Mrs. Earl Thomason and Mrs. Carl Sturgeon and Miss Helen Martin and Emmitt Smith. A male quartet composed of E. D. Zimmerman, R. B. Fisher, L. C. Walters, and Emmitt Smith also will have part on the program.

Numbers by the choir will include the following: Arise, Shine (Dr. Alfred Wooler); Come and Worship (John Ferris); The First Christmas Morn (E. L. Ashford); An Everlasting Light (Ira B. Wilson); Oh, Taste and See (Ekhyaser).

Empty Stocking Crusade Is Held

CANYON, Dec. 13. (AP)—The federated clubs of Canyon are again in charge of the empty stocking crusade for this city. This is an annual project through which an effort is made to provide a Santa Claus for every child in town.

Pottery Exhibits Find Popularity

Mrs. Frank Bain of Silverton, chairman of the American pottery division of the Fine Arts department of seventh district, Texas federation of women's clubs, reports that this district leads the state in its interest in the pottery art as shown by the number of exhibits held within its confines.

During this year this exhibit has been shown by the Travel Study club of Plainview; Les Beaux Arts club, Clarendon; 1925 Study club, Silverton; Woman's club, Frisco; Armo Art club, Pampa; and the Athenaeum club, Shamrock. With the exhibit is sent a lecture, which may be read during the exhibit.

Most of the six clubs brought the exhibit to their towns as an educational venture, free to all who would attend. Each club has paid five dollars for the exhibit and has kept it a full week. During that time the public is given an opportunity to become acquainted with typical examples of the potter's art from the leading potteries in America.

Mrs. Frank Bain, the chairman, states that our history may be read in our ceramics—an old plate suggests the panic of 1897, a book and from Marblehead, Mass., pictures our early shipping days and the designs of the Newcomb and Van Briggles have been developed from the beautiful flowers of the south and the rugged beauty of the Rockies.

Mrs. Bain will be glad to furnish detailed information concerning this exhibit to any club which wants to offer it to its community.

MEETINGS NOT HELD

Because of sickness among members, circles of the First Baptist W. M. S. postponed their meeting yesterday afternoon. The society will have a general business meeting next Monday.

It is balanced as fats, proteins and carbohydrates are concerned. If an essential food such as egg or milk must be eliminated, its nutritive equivalent should be substituted in the diet.

PAMPA'S CHILDREN DECLARE THEY HAVE BEEN GOOD THIS YEAR--AND THEY WANT GIFTS

VARIED DESIRES TOLD IN LETTERS TO OLD SANTA

"I have been very good this year. So declare Pampa children in writing to Santa Claus in the hope of being remembered with gifts on Christmas. And parents will attest the fact that the children are on their best behavior—if not during the entire year, at least during these first few weeks before Christmas. Some of the Santa letters follow:

Dear Santa: I was surprised to death when I heard you was coming to Pampa. I want you to bring me a pair of stockings and shoes. Also a pair of socks and a necktie. I am 10 years old and go to Baker school. Yours truly, CLORINE SMITH.

Dear Santa: I sure do welcome you here this year. Bring me a little doll, a truck, purse, and a pair of stockings and shoes. Also a pencil box and a necktie. I am 10 years old and go to Baker school. Your truly, CHRISTINE.

Dear Santa: I am a little boy 3 years old. I live at 509 East Short street. I want an airplane, a drum, and a gun. I have a little brother, Vernon. He is 2½ years old. He wants you to please bring him a horn and a car and train. We are hoping you will hurry and come to Pampa. With love, your little friends, DOYLE and VERNON HOLLER.

Dear Santa: I want you to bring me a pair of skates and a doll with yellow hair and a yellow dress and yellow bonnet. JERRY NEIL STINSON.

Dear Santa: I have tried to be a good boy. I want you to come to see all the boys and girls. I would like to have a bat and ball. Love, JACK ELLIS.

Dear Santa: How are you this year? I am a small boy. I would like to have a football. Love, RAYMOND KILLOUGH.

Dear Santa Claus: I am a little boy. I am 10 years old. I am going to Sam Houston school. Will you please bring me a pair of boots and boot pants? Bring me a tractor. I am a good boy. I have a little brother. He is 7 years old. Bring him the same as I want. J. Rockles.

Mrs. Bain will be glad to furnish detailed information concerning this exhibit to any club which wants to offer it to its community.

Beware of Colds NOW!

With Flu in the Air Colds Are Doubly Dangerous

Colds—always treacherous—are doubly dangerous now, with flu reported in many sections. They lower body strength and pave the way for flu and all its serious complications. Heed even the slightest sniffle as a danger signal. It's no time to take chances.

The safest course to follow is that outlined in Vicks Plan for better Control of Colds. In clinical tests last winter, Vicks Plan reduced the number and spread of colds by half!—cut their dangers and costs more than half! Full details of the plan are in each Vicks packages. Briefly, it is this:

TO PREVENT MANY COLDS: At that first feeling of stuffiness or nasal irritation, sniffle or sneeze—Nature's usual warning that a cold is coming on—use Vicks' Nose & Throat Drops, the new aid in preventing colds. Vicks Drops aid Nature in throwing off the infection that threatens. They prevent development of many colds.

TO END A COLD SOONER: If a cold has developed or strikes without warning, vigorous measures are necessary. At bedtime, apply Vicks VapoRub, its direct double action—continuing through the night—brings quicker relief. During the day, use the convenient Vicks' Nose Drops every few hours as needed. They add to comfort—help shorten the cold.

Follow Vicks Plan for Better CONTROL of Colds.

BEFORE the Ice Age, great forests of Magnolias flourished in the midcontinental plains of Europe and America, and even as far north as the Arctic Circle. The fossil remains of these ancient trees have been uncovered in this frigid zone. The magnolia is tropical in foliage, and holds the distinction of bearing the largest flowers of any trees in cultivation. The waxy, white blossoms are from six inches to one foot in diameter.

CHICAGO GRAIN. CHICAGO, Dec. 13. (AP)—A general downturn of Chicago grain values early today followed sharp setbacks both in Liverpool wheat quotations and in British exchange rates. Cables reported cheap offerings of Argentine and Australian wheat.

Open 1/2-3/4 down. Chicago wheat future deliveries weakened further afterward. Corn started 1/2-3/4 off and subsequently held near the initial limits.

Wheat closed unsteady at the day's bottom figures, 3-1/2 under yesterday's finish, corn 1/2-1/4 down, oats 1/2-3/4 off, and provisions unchanged to 7 cents decline.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON. NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 13. (AP)—Cotton had an easy opening today although Liverpool cables came in about as due. First trades here showed 2 to 4 point losses and the market continued to ease after the start on some hedge-selling, coupled with lack of buying support. March dropped to $5.97 and May to $5.97, down 5 to 6 points from the previous close. Near noon, prices eased one to two points on the more active months on a little realizing.

The market ruled quiet all morning, with frequent gaps between trades. Owing to the lack of heading, however, prices advanced on a very little trade buying, March trading up to $5.94 and May to $6.05, or 7 to 8 points above yesterday's close. Near noon, prices eased one to two points on the more active months on a little realizing.

Red Cross Given Last of Cotton

WASHINGTON, 13. (AP)—Legislation allotting to the Red Cross for relief distribution the remaining 324,000 bales of stabilization cotton was approved today by the house agriculture committee.

After an executive session of nearly one hour, Chairman Jones distributed the draft of the emergency bill he had prepared to members of the committee. It meets tomorrow to proceed with consideration.

"This is simply a tentative bill to be used wholly as the basis of the committee's work," Jones explained. The first section of the measure directs that within 30 days of enactment the secretary of agriculture shall estimate and proclaim the probable domestic consumption of the 1933 production of wheat, cotton, tobacco and hogs.

Each producer then would be entitled to an adjusted certificate "covering the domestic consumption percentage of each lot of the commodity of his own production which is marketed by or for him during the year."

The face amount of the adjusted certificates would be fixed at 43 cents a bushel for wheat, 5 cents a pound for cotton, 4 cents a pound for tobacco and 2 cents a pound for hogs, less administrative expenses.

PAMPA TOPICS OF OUR CITY

makers, and for years only the administration building graced the campus. Finally the girls' dormitory, Cousins hall, was allowed. Only after tremendous growth took place did the state expand the classroom facilities with an education building. Friends of college know how long and how hard they worked to secure these meager accommodations for the boys and girls of this section.

THEN TEXAS TECH

Less than a decade it has been since the tremendous fight for Texas Tech was made in behalf of the students of West Texas. The people of this section had almost to "rise up in arms" to secure a second educational institution for an area as big as New York state. We don't imagine that West Texans are ready to give up these colleges as a legislative committee proposes in the interest of economy or for any other reason.

The cause is simply that West Texas' tremendous expansion makes these schools vital and necessary, that West Texas' share of the tax benefits are limited almost solely to these institutions insofar as ad valorem levies are concerned.

ABOUT ECONOMY.

We do not believe the Texas constitution meant, when it guaranteed free opportunity of public education, that a boy living in Lipscomb county should go all the way to Austin or College Station to obtain a general education, or to Denton to become a teacher. We believe that the adjacency of an institution is as important as the subjects it teaches. We believe that in economies the welfare of the student should govern. It has been clearly shown that the per capita cost of giving a student a 4-year education is no greater at well located senior colleges than at some distant, mammoth institution.

LEAVE THE STATE

This writer knows something of what it means to be forced to leave the state because of a lack of opportunity to get what he desired. Seventy Texans joined him at Missouri university in 1925 because Texas university's journalism school was suspended by the legislature. Today other states have added non-resident fees to discourage such migrations. Yet if West Texas schools are emasculated and abandoned, there are colleges and universities in other states closer than Austin and College Station that will draw students from this section. . . . The student who goes to another state loses something never thereafter regained—the traditions of his state, the friendships of Texas students, the acquaintanceship with Texas problems and needs.

These are some of the reasons why the Pampa Board of City Development has joined the fight to keep West Texas institutions for West Texans.

THOMPSON--

and others to attend a banquet of the Panhandle chapter of the American Petroleum Institute at Pampa tonight. Thompson will be the principal speaker at the dinner. Chairman C. V. Terrell left last night for Fort Worth where he was to attend an oil hearing today.

Yesterday was devoted to the presentation of two proposed sets of regulations for controlling the production and purchase of natural gas under the new market demand law recently enacted by the legislature. The plans offered by operators in the field differed greatly in the methods of calculating the allowable per well and the acreage unit which should be assigned to each well.

One of the plans favored a minimum of drilling with a minimum of one well to each 2,560 acres of land, the allowable to be computed on average expected open flow, average expected rock pressure, and the size of the lease. The opposing group proposed to establish units of 160 acres each, which would permit the drilling of four wells to each section of land, and to calculate two-thirds of the allowable from the open flow and the other third from rock pressure and acreage.

The first plan was presented by the Continental Oil company, the Shamrock Oil and Gas company and J. D. Thompson, an independent geologist. The holdings of the oil companies are located principally in acreage which have not been extensively developed. The opposing plan was offered by Stanley Marsh and Lawrence Hagy, independent operators of Amarillo, whose holdings are located in the vicinity of White Deer where numerous wells have been drilled on comparatively small acreage units.

The Schneider hotel dining room will be the scene of the annual banquet of the Panhandle chapter of the American Petroleum Institute at 7 o'clock tonight following a business session in the city auditorium at 7 o'clock. Officers for the coming year will be elected at the business meeting.

The banquet will be open to the public on securing of tickets at 75 cents. Ernest O. Thompson, member of the Texas Railroad commission, and H. M. Stalcup, vice-president of the Skelly Oil company, with offices in Tulsa, will be the chief speakers on the program. Gene Howe of Amarillo will be toastmaster.

Many well known figures in the oil industry will be present from Dallas, Fort Worth, Wichita Falls, Tulsa, Oklahoma City, and other places, as well as from oil communities in the Panhandle field.

Mrs. Jouett Shouse, above, is the former Mrs. Catherine Filene Dodd, married in her Georgetown, D. A curious twist to the Shouse wedding is the fact that Kansas statutes indicate they may be technically guilty of bigamy in that state, which does not allow divorced persons to remarry until six months after their divorces have been granted.

Mercury Drop Forecast Again

By The Associated Press

Unrelenting, except in spits, premature winter kept up its assault on the nation today. Temperatures in the east were sagging, and mercury drops were forecast for states below the Mason and Dixon line.

The midwest, already blanketed by snow, was promised more, but with temperatures higher than those of yesterday when sub-zero readings brought suffering to the homeless. Chicago had 2.4 degrees above zero—the coldest December 12 on the city's records.

For the first time in history Sacramento, Calif., had ice skating on the natural lakes of the city's parks, and snow fell in Brawley, Calif., where there was no record of such weather before. Snow also covered the ground at Yuma, Ariz.

The Rocky mountain states, however, and Oklahoma, began enjoying milder temperatures. Air travel was resumed. Before the moderation started seven persons died in Oklahoma, as a result of the cold wave. At Lyons, Colo., Mrs. Ellen Dwyer, 76, a pioneer, was found frozen to death in bed. Beside her and also frozen to death, was her pet chicken.

An official low of 41 below zero was reported yesterday by Eden, Wyo., followed by a rise in temperatures.

Miss Anne Alsop of Skellytown was a Pampa shopper yesterday.

T. S. Skibinski of White Deer was in the city this morning.

Joe Doby of LePore was in the city last night.

Mrs. Fred McCann and two children are improving after an illness of "flu."

Babe Didrikson Suspended From Amateur Group

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 13. (AP)—Mildred Babe Didrikson, celebrated girl athlete of Dallas, Texas, was today declared suspended from further amateur competition by the registration committee of the Southern Amateur Athletic Union following an investigation into her alleged endorsement for advertising purposes of an automobile.

Lawrence Di Benedetto, head of the registration committee and secretary of the Southern A. A. U., who conducted the inquiry at the instance of National A. A. U. officials, said the suspension would remain in effect until Miss Didrikson had produced the original or a photostatic copy of a purported release authorizing the advertisement, for examination by his committee. He said the committee had been unable to procure the original release or a copy from the advertising agents.

Miss Didrikson, who has been called world champion of women's athletics as a result of victories in Olympic and other competition in varied branches of sport, recently denied that she had authorized the use of her photograph and endorsement in connection with an automobile advertisement which came to the attention of the National A. A. U.

Changes at P. O. To Aid Shoppers

Shops early and mail early, say postoffice officials, in order to avoid a last minute rush. Several changes are being made at the local office in an effort to handle the Christmas rush more satisfactorily. The changes will be effective tomorrow, Postmaster D. E. Cecil said this morning.

Stamps will be sold at the second window from the front of the building until after Christmas so that the rear windows will be available for packages. Changes will be made at other windows and will include:

Window 1—Money orders and postal savings in charge of Bob Morris. Window 2—Stamps and registry in charge of Mrs. Pauline Thurman. Window 3—General delivery in charge of Bob Wallace. Window 4—Box rent. Window 5—Incoming parcels in charge of J. M. Stewart. Window 6—Outgoing parcels in charge of E. A. Gillespie.

Christmas cards and booklets in unsealed envelopes may be mailed for 1 1/2 cents, but if sealed it will take a three-cent stamp. The unsealed cards will go under "circular" rules and must have return addresses and guarantee of return postage to get best service.

student at Tulane university.

Arthur B. Dugan, 22-year-old Aberdeen student and Ebb J. Floyd, Jr., 20-year-old Pascagoula student, are the entries from Mississippi. These four students were selected late yesterday.

Texas candidates are Wilson Hull Elkins, former football player of University of Texas and Howard Fletcher Brown, a graduate of Rice and law student at the university.

Eight Killed in Chicago in Day

CHICAGO, Dec. 13. (AP)—Metropolitan Chicago counted 8 deaths by violence today—six by guns cracking and rebarbering in near zero temperatures; one by suffocation when robbers left a woman victim to die after binding and gagging her, and another by stabbing.

Of the six, three were policemen, one a bandit, another an alleged automobile thief and another a former lightweight boxer.

The killings occurred within a few hours of an anti-crime ultimatum delivered by Mayor Anton J. Cermak to the city's police captains.

Mrs. Earl Hines of Canadian was a Pampa shopper yesterday.

S. L. Wilson of Dallas is visiting friends here today.

Mr. and Mrs. Vance Stiekley of Canadian were Pampa visitors yesterday afternoon.

Lloyd Bennett is ill.

"YOU CAN'T MARRY"

FARRELL ARMITAGE held no false illusions about his immense wealth; he was keenly aware his millions would not tempt BARBARA QUENTIN in the slightest.

Yet FARRELL was determined his riches could be used to convince BARBARA she should become his wife. An that was the beginning of as strange a courtship as man ever used to win a woman.

FARRELL did not try the unimaginative, prosaic tactics of lavishing his wealth on the girl. Instead he spent thousands on the man to whom BARBARA was engaged; to help him succeed in his profession, to heal his crippled body, to make him a more desirable husband, a more formidable rival for BARBARA's favor. An amazing, daring campaign! A thrilling serial!
