Webb Copter
Plucks Man
Off A Tower

An unconscious man was rescued from the top of a 100 foot-high tower near Crane, Wednesday, by a helicopter from Webb AFB.

Capt. William F. Clark of Detachment 18, Western Air Rescue and Recovery Center (WARRC) at Webb, was relayed a call by the Big Spring Police Department shortly after noon from Crane sheriff Ray Weatherby, of the need for special help in rescuing a man overcome by gas atop an oil refinery tower.

The stricken worker, Tommy Ray Seward, was unconscious, making it impossible for fellow workers to carry him down the 100-foot ladder, with the necessary respirator in place. Thus, the "chopper" was the only hope for rescue.

The Webb helicopter had a crew of Capt. Clark, at the controls; Sgt. E. A. Dangel, S. Sgt. E. R. Acosta, and Sgt. C. K. McManus. At the tower, Sgt. Acosta was lowered to the unconscious man. He put a sling around Seward and he was hoisted to the helicopter.

In less than three minutes he was being transported to the nearby Crane Hospital. His condition has been reported as critical.

Capt. Clark noted that the rescue was the exact type of exercise practiced almost every day by members of the Webb WARRC detachment.

Cuban Refugees Fly In

HOMESTEAD, Fla. (AP) — Fourteen refugees fled Cuba today in a yellow, Russian-made cargo plane the pilot said skidded the waters of the Florida Straits to avoid radar detection.

"The pilot told me he came close to touching the waves more than once," said Rudolph Warden, Dade County Port Authority supervisor at Homestead Airport.

Some of the Cubans were armed, he said. He said the single-engine biplane landed at the airport, 25 miles south of Miami, shortly after 9 a.m.

"The people aboard immediately asked asylum," Warden said.

Challenges Fortas, Warren

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Dist. Atty. Jim Garrison has vowed to challenge the right of Chief Justice Earl Warren and Justice Abe Fortas to pass judgment on his presidential assassination plot case.

Garrison, who has charged Clay Shaw with conspiring to murder President John Kennedy in Dallas, declared his intent Wednesday and lashed out at a federal court order delaying Shaw's trial pending an appeal to the Supreme Court.

His utterance followed a federal three-judge panel's order for another delay in the trial, scheduled Sept. 10. Shaw is appealing to the high court the same panel's earlier refusal to grant a permanent injunction against further prosecution by Garrison.

The district attorney said he would challenge Warren's right to sit on the appeal because "He played corner linebacker and captain of the President's defensive unit back in 1964," as chairman of the Warren Commission which investigated Kennedy's assassination.

Describing Fortas as "a longtime personal friend of President Johnson," Garrison said both Fortas and Johnson worked to "conceal the truth from the American people."

Pueblo Crew Appeals

TOKYO (AP) — North Korea said today the 82 crewmen of the U.S. intelligence ship Pueblo have issued a second joint appeal for help to obtain their release.

The North Korean Central News Agency said the ship's captain, Cmdr. Lloyd M. Bucher of Lincoln, Neb., issued the appeal Tuesday at a news conference attended by 24 other crewmen.

The Pueblo's crew has been in captivity since Jan. 23, when the North Koreans seized the ship off Wonsan, a North Korean port.

The North Korean agency said Bucher explained the crew requested the news conference to "appeal to the people of the United States to urge our government to take appropriate action to enable us to return home."

'Is This A Signal?'

NEW YORK (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey said today there is an argument going on within the U.S. government over whether the lull in the fighting in Vietnam is a signal from Hanoi that the North Vietnamese are trying to de-escalate their side of the war.

"We are trying to really find out what is going on," Humphrey said. "Is this a political signal from Hanoi?"

Oil Allowable
Sliced Again
For September

AUSTIN (AP) — The Railroad Commission set the September state-wide oil production allowable today at 41.3 per cent of potential, the second straight reduction in the flow.

The September percentage factor will permit maximum production of 3,213,193 barrels daily, compared with 3,414,999 in August under a 44.8 per cent allowable.

ASK FOR LESS

Eight of the 14 major buyers of Texas crude oil asked for less oil next month than in August. Two asked for an increase, and four sought no change.

Both advance nominations by major purchasers and the Bureau of Mines forecast for September indicated reduced demand for Texas crude oil.

The September allowable will yield an estimated actual state-wide total calendar day production of 2,924,512 barrels, compared with 3,014,007 if the allowable were left the same.

September's flow is the lowest set by the commission since it held production to 40.8 per cent of capacity in December.

Several oil companies that presented nominations said their inventories are above normal or desired levels.

BELOW AUGUST

Commission Chairman James Langdon said purchasers' nominations are nearly 90,000 barrels per day below August nominations and the Bureau of Mines forecast a 50,000 barrels per day reduction in the demand for Texas crude oil.

"The commission expects imports of crude oil to continue in September," he said.

Veep List For South Drawn

ATLANTA (AP) — Southern Democratic party officials plan to support one of seven men for the Democratic vice presidential nomination, suggesting the South can unite behind a national ticket with one of the men in the second spot.

The list, announced Wednesday, includes Texas Gov. John Connally, Tennessee Gov. Buford Ellington, Louisiana Gov. John McKeithen, South Carolina Gov. Robert McInnis, former Gov. Carl Sanders of Georgia and Terry Sanford of North Carolina, and Sen. George Smathers of Florida.

In New York, Vice President Hubert Humphrey commented: "GOOD MEN"

"There are a lot of good men on the list. I welcome their recommendations and will consider what they have to say." Sen. Eugene McCarthy had no comment.

Announcement of the list came in Atlanta after the second meeting in a week of Southern party chairmen. Party officials from Georgia, Florida, Alabama, South Carolina, North Carolina and Mississippi were present at a news conference.

Pat Thomas of Florida, one spokesman for the group, said party chairmen in six other states are being kept informed of the coalition's action and are in agreement. These states are Texas, Louisiana, Virginia, Tennessee, Arkansas and Kentucky.

The group said they will present the list to candidates for the presidential nomination at the convention on the basis that the South can unite behind any one of the seven.

INTERVIEW

Thomas said the group hopes to interview all of those selected as potential vice presidential nominees to determine if they would accept.

Hinges Bombing Halt
To Some AgreementClifford Explains
Reason Still Holds

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Clark M. Clifford said today the United States will not cut back the bombing of North Vietnam until the administration can work out some arrangement with the North Vietnamese which would protect American servicemen near enemy territory.

Clifford said the bombing restriction authorized by President Johnson March 31 allowed for strikes against the enemy above the demilitarized zone so U.S. and allied forces in that area would not be jeopardized.

"I think that reason still holds," the defense chief told a news conference.

REASONABLE

Clifford said he felt that without some agreement with the North Vietnamese, the current bombing limitation is a "reasonable and logical approach."

At the same time, Clifford said the United States still awaits a "clear signal" from Hanoi that the recent lull in fighting in South Vietnam is North Vietnam's response to President Johnson's bombing cutback.

The United States has repeatedly called on North Vietnam to cut back its own warlike activity as a means of further de-escalating the war.

Clifford said U.S. intelligence information indicates the lull in fighting is merely a prelude to a third North Vietnamese offensive in South Vietnam.

If it is not, Clifford said, all the North Vietnamese have to do is "get the word to us."

But he also cautioned: "I am not sure that at this point we can dignify the present circumstances by suggesting that it constitutes a marked departure from the enemy's activities in the past."

Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey had indicated earlier there is argument within the administration over the significance of the lull, and the possibility it may signal a North Vietnamese willingness to de-escalate.

Despite the expected new round of attacks, Clifford said the United States will hold to the currently authorized ceiling on the number of U.S. troops in Vietnam, which is 549,500.

He disclosed that an additional 5,000 American troops have gone to South Vietnam in the past week, raising the total in the country to 543,900.

HIGH LOSSES

Clifford emphasized that despite the lull, the United States is still suffering relatively high combat losses.

In the seven-week period ending in mid-August, American combat deaths averaged 181 a week, Clifford said.

During the same period in 1967, weekly losses averaged 161 a week, he said.

Clifford also estimated that through July the North Vietnamese had sent 150,000 men—most of them replacements—into South Vietnam this year.

Bombers Zero In On Supply
Lines With Renewed Fury

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. fighter-bombers attacked North Vietnam's southern panhandle with renewed fury Wednesday after a day in which tropical storm Rose prevented American aircraft carriers from launching a single mission.

With the three 7th Fleet carriers in the Tonkin Gulf back in action, American pilots flew 105 missions against supply lines in North Vietnam, more than triple the 31 missions flown Tuesday by land-based planes. That had been the lowest number in more than two years.

BIGGEST BOMBERS

America's biggest bombers, the Air Force B52s, roared over North Vietnam today for the second time this week to attack troop concentrations, artillery and anti-aircraft sites. Two flights of the eight-jet Stratofortresses, with at least three bombers in each wave, struck from just above the demilitarized zone to 5½ miles inside North Vietnam.

The B52s have concentrated recently on trying to blunt the expected third Viet Cong offensive against Saigon and other South Vietnamese cities.

In maneuvering connected with the peace talks in Paris, qualified sources said today the French government has firmly declined South Vietnamese feelers for a resumption of full diplomatic relations between Paris and Saigon.

Vietnamese sources said their government would like to raise its Paris consulate back to embassy level so as to be better prepared if the talks are enlarged to include a South Vietnamese delegation. The sources said the French government reacted to unofficial approaches by declaring that as host to the peace talks it must avoid disturbing the diplomatic status quo in any way that might affect the negotiations.

South Vietnam's military junta reduced diplomatic relations with France in June 1965, saying the French government showed a pro-Communist bias in the Vietnam war. President Charles de Gaulle has consistently denounced American involvement in Vietnam, a French colony until 1953, and called for neutralization of South Vietnam.

For the second day in a row, no significant ground actions were reported in the war. But American reconnaissance pilots spotted a complex of deserted Viet Cong factories Wednesday, including munitions plants, in the Mekong Delta 73 miles west-southwest of Saigon. U.S. helicopters landed South Vietnamese ground troops who searched the area.

COMPLEX

U.S. headquarters said the complex included a metal melting shop, a chemical shop, a sheet metal shop, a booty trap plant and a blacksmith shop.

Earlier, South Vietnamese troops had swept through the same general area after B52 bombers dumped thousands of pounds of explosives on suspected enemy positions.

Second 'Copter Crash

Officials begin examining wreckage of a Los Angeles Airways helicopter, which crashed yesterday at Compton, Calif., the second such crash within three months. Twenty-one were killed. The big passenger craft was on a scheduled run, from Los Angeles International Airport to Disneyland.

Cause Of Fatal Copter
Crash Is Being Sought

COMPTON, Calif. (AP) — Twenty-one persons — many of them looking forward to a Disneyland visit — were killed Wednesday in a helicopter crash similar to one that took 23 lives in this area last May.

Among the passengers were a recently retired grandfather, his wife, and 8-year-old granddaughter, the 14-year-old grandson of the airline's president and three Denver businessmen. The Los Angeles Airway helicopter broke apart and crashed in flames in an empty section of playground on a flight from Los Angeles International Airport to Disneyland.

It was the second worst commercial helicopter disaster in the United States. The worst, the crash of another twin-turbine Sikorsky S61L copter owned by the Los Angeles firm, occurred at nearby Paramount in May, killing 23. The company suspended all flights. Witnesses told Federal Aviation Administration investigators they saw a tail rotor fly off, as preceded the May tragedy.

FAA experts began gathering the strewn wreckage to see if a reason for the crash could be determined. Cause of the May 22 disaster still remains a mystery.

Aboard the craft that crashed Wednesday were a crew of three men and 18 passengers.

Witnesses said they heard a "thump, thump, thump" as the helicopter fell earthward. Others described a loud "popping noise" followed by a rapid plunge and an explosion on impact.

The helicopter took off at 10:25 a.m. and was due at the Disneyland heliport at 10:41 a.m. It slammed to earth 12 minutes after takeoff while 30 children played about 200 feet away. No one on the ground was injured.

In the May tragedy, the copter went down 11 minutes after takeoff in a Paramount dairy farm 2½ miles east of Wednesday's crash. It was en route from Disneyland to Los Angeles.

Kenneth Hahn, a Los Angeles County supervisor, demanded that the FBI be called in. Similarities between Wednesday's crash and the May disaster, he said, suggested "this could be a man-made accident as well as or instead of mechanical failure."

HEARD PILOT

Just before the helicopter hit the ground, said Carl Shaw, 14, of Compton, Calif., he heard the pilot scream "help! . . . help!" There was no other human sound from the craft, he said. Steven Fuss of Hollywood, who was working nearby, said he saw the tail rotor fall off "as if it were sheared from the shaft."

JUDGE TO RULE FRIDAY ON CHILDREN'S FUTURE

Orphans Hope To Stay Together

MADERA, Calif. (AP) — The 10 Morris orphans will find out Friday if their wish to remain together in Madera as a family will be granted.

The children, who have received 100 offers of adoption and contributions of $50,000 from throughout the world, will be given a permanent guardian then by Madera County Superior Court Judge Jack Hammerberg. On Tuesday, he declared them wards of the court.

They were orphaned July 2 when their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert G. Morris, were killed in a head-on auto crash on US 99 near Fresno. He was a $480-a-month manager of a chain shoe store and she cooked in a convent for $20 a week.

"Don't let them separate us, don't let us be taken apart," Kathy, the eldest at 17, pleaded when informed of the crash.

"Why is everyone so shook up?" Linda, 15, asked later.

"God gave us a wonderful mother and father. What makes them think He has forgotten us now?"

An uncle, Eugene Lachawicz of Fresno, filed a $500,000 suit Wednesday on behalf of the children, naming the driver of the other car, Clifford Salmon of Porterville, Calif., as principal defendant.

Since the accident the children—six girls and four boys ranging in age from 3 to 17—have been cared for by their maternal grandparents, with the help of a priest.

The grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Bolis Lachawicz, in their 60s, have filed an application for guardianship. Another was filed by a paternal aunt, Mrs. Gertrude Graves of Concord, Calif.

Meanwhile, the Bank of America branch in Madera, which is holding the contributions, said it will ask court permission to set up a trust which it will administer without charge.

After their parents' death, the children turned to the Rev. Salvatore Bentivegna, known to his parishioners as Father Sam.

"Father Sam, don't let them separate us," Kathy pleaded. Neighbors provided food and money, and Madera County Welfare Director J. Gerald Mabey went to court requesting that the children be made court wards and a temporary guardian be appointed.

Humphrey Denies President Managing Demo Convention

NEW YORK (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey today denied the White House was managing the affairs of the Democratic National Convention. He said President Johnson was remaining neutral—and that he'd like to see a little neutrality in favor of his candidacy.

"The President's neutrality is a neutrality, may I say, that at times is a little difficult even for me. After all, I do have to carry some of the burden of presenting the administration's case and I'd kind of like a little extra help," Humphrey said.

YEAH, MAN

Asked if he would like the President to be a little more neutral in Humphrey's favor, the vice president replied:

"That would be fine. I mean, yes, I mean you've asked an honest question and I give you an honest answer."

In a news conference after appearing on the NBC "Today Show," Humphrey was asked to comment on reports that Johnson was managing arrangements for the convention, which convenes officially Aug. 28. Humphrey replied:

"Well, if I had evidence to prove that was true, I wouldn't counter it. After all, I would like to win. But, the truth is that Mr. Johnson is not managing this convention."

FOR EXAMPLE

The vice president emphasized he felt that the convention planners were giving equal treatment to all the candidates, with a slight edge for Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy.

Reavley Replaces Justice Norvell

AUSTIN (AP) — Supreme Court Associate Justice James R. Norvell has decided to end his career three months early. Gov. John Connally appointed Dist. Judge Tom Reavley Wednesday to take his place.

Norvell, whose term would have expired Jan. 1, resigned effective Oct. 10—eight days after the court comes back from its summer recess.

Reavley, currently judge of the 167th District Court here, is the unopposed Democratic nominee for Norvell's seat on the court. Norvell declined to seek re-election this year, and Reavley won the Democratic primary.

Reavley is a graduate of the University of Texas and the Harvard Law School. He was born in Quitman, reared in Nacogdoches and attended Stephen F. Austin State College before transferring to the University of Texas.

After serving as a Dallas assistant district attorney, he practiced law in Nacogdoches and was elected county attorney in 1950.

Gov. Allan Shivers named him secretary of state in 1955, a post in which he served two years.

Big Spring Wreck Sends 4 Persons To Hospital

Two accidents in Big Spring Wednesday caused heavy damage with one sending four persons to a local hospital.

Mrs. J. D. Snodgrass, Abilene, was in good condition Thursday morning in a local hospital with injuries suffered in a two-car collision at 8:20 p.m. Wednesday at Third and Birdwell.

J. D. Snodgrass, driver of the auto in which Mrs. Snodgrass was riding, was treated and released Wednesday night. Domingo Hernandez, Big Spring, driver of the other car involved, also was treated and released, and Cipriano Del Bosque, 411 N. Scurry, passenger in the Hernandez car, was released from a hospital Thursday morning.

Police said the Snodgrass car was traveling west on Third and the Hernandez vehicle was going north on Birdwell when the collision occurred. About $850 damage was done to the front of the Hernandez car and the Snodgrass car suffered $950 damage to the right front and side, police said.

Heavy damage was done to cars driven by Dorothy Miller, Burnet, Big Spring, and Allene Wilson Williams, Jal. N.M., when they collided in the 1300 block of East Fourth at 10:59 a.m. Wednesday.

Officers said both cars were going east. The Burnet auto had $500 damage to its right side and the Williams car had $600 damage to its left side, police said.

Minor damage was done when a car owned by Kathryn L. Hall, 2505 Lynn, rolled into a parked car owned by Terry Carter, No. 5 Highland Cove, at 10:50 in the Highland Shopping Center parking lot, police said. Damage to the left front fender of the Carter auto was $75.

Dr. Hunt Plans Insurance Talk

Dr. W. A. Hunt, president of Howard County Junior College, will discuss the need for life insurance men to continue their studies in the life insurance field at the regular monthly luncheon meeting of the Big Spring Life Underwriters at noon on Aug. 20. The insurance men emphasize more participation in the special extension studies and conferences on new trends in their profession at this time each year, according to Louis McKnight.

LBJ Sounds Little Like Candidate For Re-election

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — What ever doctors told President Johnson in their report on recent elaborate medical tests, it's causing him no apparent public concern.

Johnson, understood to have gotten the gist of the report in the last day or two, looked ruddy and rested and was in his bounciest form Wednesday when he made his first speech making appearance of the month.

At times he even sounded like the candidate for re-election he's vowed not to be.

BLACK JUDGES

Disclosure last week that Johnson is afflicted with a chronic intestinal ailment, diverticulosis, prompted some concern about the state of his health. Unease was not allayed when he went to San Antonio's Brooke Army Medical Center Monday for further tests or when the White House firmly refused to rule out surgery as a possibility.

Diverticulosis is not disabling and Johnson's doctors hastened to emphasize he was suffering no discomfort. However, the ailment can develop into something more serious—when inflammation occurs—and in that form sometimes requires surgery.

In his speech to the 73rd annual convention of the mostly Negro National Medical Association, Johnson departed from his text frequently to plug the accomplishments of his administration.

He noted the high federal positions—including cabinet secretary and Supreme Court justice—he filled with Negro appointees.

"We have appointed more black judges than all of the other 35 presidents combined," he said.

WARM RESPONSE

Later, Johnson removed his reading glasses and received a warm response from the audience when he ad libbed: "...as you emerge and make progress, as you open the sores and

Wallace Renews White House Bid

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — Former Alabama Gov. George Wallace renews his drive for the presidency Friday in Indiana.

The third-party candidate speaks at a fund-raising dinner and rally in Hammond Friday and at Fort Wayne Saturday. A petition drive to get his name on the Indiana ballot was launched recently.

TV COVERAGE

Wallace campaign headquarters said he will speak at a testimonial dinner in Los Angeles Aug. 24, and at a rally in Long Beach, Calif., Aug. 26. An aide said the Long Beach rally will be taped by NBC for a 30-minute show Sept. 3.

Wallace is scheduled to visit Little Rock Aug. 20; Oklahoma City Aug. 21; Phoenix Aug. 22; and Portland, Ore., Aug. 23.

Tom Turnipseed, who is leading Wallace petition drives to get on the ballots in 20 states, said about 5,000 signatures certified by voter registrars in Maine were filed Wednesday with Secretary of State Joseph Edgar.

Turnipseed told a news conference that volunteer workers collected about 8,000 signatures among Maine voters and only 3,239 signatures—one per cent of the 1966 vote in the gubernatorial election—are needed for a third party to get on the ballot.

HIDDEN VOTES

In Montgomery, Alabama, Gov. Albert Brewer predicted Wallace will win a majority of the "great silent vote" in the November election.

Brewer said "a great majority" of the hidden vote, which is not reflected in national polls, will be picked up by Wallace.

"Most if not all of what I call the Southern states," will be carried by Wallace, Brewer said. He was referring to 16 Southern and Border states.

Brewer also told reporters at his weekly news conference that the former Alabama governor has a good chance to win in Maryland despite Republican nominee Richard M. Nixon choosing Maryland Gov. Spiro Agnew as his vice presidential running mate.

Dr. Hernal Is Leaving

Dr. Peter L. Hernal, staff surgeon at the Veterans Administration Hospital here since 1961, is leaving Friday to enter private practice at the Santa Rosa Medical Arts Center in San Antonio.

Dr. Hernal, 2714 Rebecca and his wife, Mary Frances, have two children, Deborah, 10, and Charles, 6. They were active in the Big Spring Couples Klub, and he was a member of the Evening Lions Club.

Staff members of the hospital honored Dr. Hernal with a luncheon Wednesday at the Cosden Country Club with 35 attending.

The son of a Bureau of Public Schools official in Luzon, northern Philippines, Dr. Hernal completed his education in 1955 at the University of Santo Tomas, Manila, and was in general practice in the province of Isabela, Philippines until 1956.

He came to the United States for training as a surgeon in 1956, and served one year internship and two years as a resident surgeon in Cleveland, Ohio. He moved to Scott-White Clinic in Temple before coming here.

EMPEROR SELASSIE SEEKS CEASE-FIRE

Nigerian Troops Still Advance

ADDIS ABABA, Ethiopia (AP) — Emperor Haile Selassie has called on Nigeria's chief of state, Gen. Yakubu Gowon, to declare a cease-fire while peace talks with rebel Biafra are going on in the Ethiopian capital, diplomatic sources said today.

Selassie also invited Gowon and Lt. Col. Odumegwu Ojukwu, Biafra's chief of state, to come to Addis Ababa for a face-to-face session next Monday, the informants said. Ojukwu announced last week that Biafra would observe a truce during the talks.

The emperor made his proposals as Nigerian troops were reported advancing in a pincer movement toward Aba, the temporary Biafran capital.

The informants said Selassie also asked the other members of the consultative committee on Nigeria of the Organization of African Unity to come here for the meeting Monday. They are the heads of state of Niger, Ghana, Liberia and Congo-Kinshasa.

NO PROGRESS

The moves by the emperor, who is chairman of the OAU committee sponsoring the talks, came as the deadlocked parley entered its 11th day with no sign of progress toward an end to the war.

Both sides denied published reports that agreement has been reached on ways of speeding relief to starving Biafran civilians.

A high officer said a commando column led by Col. Benjamin Adekunle had crossed the Imo River 15 miles south of Aba and occupied Akwete, a settlement on the northern bank.

The lead column of the other pincer was believed across the river at the Imo railway station, 22 miles from the city.

The drive appeared aimed at bringing the 13-month-old secession of eastern Nigeria's Ibo tribesmen to a quick military end. But the Biafran leader, Lt. Col. Odumegwu Ojukwu, has pledged that his people will retreat into the bush and wage guerrilla warfare.

6,000 TROOPS

An estimated 6,000 troops from Nigeria's 3rd Marine Division were reported committed to the attack on Aba. The city some 40 miles inland is the largest of the three major towns still in rebel hands.

Ojukwu's secessionist army now holds only about one third of the 29,000 square miles he proclaimed independent in May 1967.

In Addis Ababa, the deadlocked peace talks switched to discussion of relief supplies to starving war refugees. There was no indication of any progress in the session Wednesday night, but various sources voiced expectation of a break soon.

Informed sources said Ethiopian Emperor Haile Selassie would sound out both sides on a compromise proposal for funneling in the supplies, Diallo Telli, Guinean secretary-general of the Organization of African Unity, said an agreement might be reached by the weekend.

Tiny Girl Fights Starvation

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
Associated Press Religion Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — "And a little child shall lead them." That phrase from Biblical prophecy—Isaiah 11:4—is the idea behind a trip planned today for a little girl in behalf of the starving children of embattled Biafra, in the eastern sector of Nigeria.

Melanie Nix, 9, is going to see the Archbishop of Canterbury, Dr. Michael Ramsey, in London, and then to Rome, to try to see Pope Paul VI, to urge their help sponsors said.

PLANS APPEAL

"She's going as a representative of all children, both the healthy and the dying," said Paul Connitt, chairman of the Committee to Keep Biafra Alive. "We hope that she'll be received and listened to."

He added that "too many leaders have been quiet" about the mass starvation of Biafran children "and we hope that the appeal of a child may be given some importance."

"If we've come to the time when a child isn't considered important, then it's a sad thing," he said.

The committee is a nonsectarian organization seeking to gather relief supplies to be channeled through facilities of church and other voluntary agencies.

NEW HOPE

It is urging observance this Sunday of an "International Day of Sorrow and Hope"—Sorrow for children who have died and hope for those still living.

Churches were urged to hold special services and ring their bells on the hours.

"If the bells ring now with new hope, then they won't have to toll later for death," Connitt said. A telegram was sent to President Johnson asking him to proclaim the day, and to order flags kept at half staff.

As part of the observance, the committee also appealed to Americans to keep a light burning in all apartments and homes throughout this Sunday night, symbolizing the motto: "Don't let the lights go out for Biafran children."

Melanie, of South Amboy, N.J., is scheduled to leave Kennedy airport for London by British Overseas Airline tonight, accompanied by a guardian, after a news conference.

OWN IDEA

Among her objectives is to enlist the support of the church leaders in observance to the day, and to persuade Pope Paul to visit the United Nations in behalf of the Biafran children as part of his trip to Bogota, Columbia, Aug. 22-24.

"It was her own idea to go to the Pope," Connitt said. "She comes from a very religious family and she's very articulate. We just picked her from a lot of little kids we have working around here."

She was among children active in a "Life Line" service near the United Nations about a week ago, in which people brought canned goods and foodstuffs for shipment to Biafra. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. William Nix, of South Amboy.

Eight Murder By Arson Raps Filed Against Texan

HOUSTON (AP) — Officers charged a Houston mechanic Wednesday with murder by arson in a rooming house fire which claimed eight lives March 6.

Previously the blaze had been described by investigators as accidental.

Eight counts were lodged against Donald R. Drennen, 51, the manager of the boarding house, David H. Thrallkill, 36, told firemen he fell asleep before the fire and was not sure he had put out a cigarette.

ARGUMENT

Fire Chief Jake Cook said he reassigned arson investigator M. E. Manos to the case July 29 because "there were too many loose ends."

"I've seen too many fires started by cigarettes and the speed with which the fire traveled in this one eliminated almost any chance of accidental origin," the chief said.

Manos said Drennen approached him at the post-midnight fire and told him his girl friend, Mildred Elizabeth Mickey Lloyd, 40, was in the burning two-story house.

On being reassigned to the case, Manos said he heard from people in the neighborhood that Drennen and Mrs. Lloyd had engaged in an argument.

FIVE ESCAPE

Drennen told reporters Wednesday that he was angry with Mrs. Lloyd for personal reasons when he went over to set fire to the building. He said that he did not intend to hurt anyone but her.

Drennen said he took a can containing 3 1/2 gallons of gasoline and poured gas up and down halls on the first and second floors and then on a porch.

He stepped back and lit the gasoline with a match, the statement said, and then ran away. He came back after fire-

West opened his fourth best diamond against South's three no trump contract and East put up the king which drove out declarer's ace. A club was led and, when West followed with the eight, the king was played from dummy.

The closed hand was reentered with the king of spades in order to play another club. It was declarer's intention to make a safety play in the suit by permitting the opponents to win the second trick as cheaply as possible. This protects against West's having four clubs for, if East shows out, declarer is able to run the balance of the suit by finishing dummy's jack on the next round, and then dropping West's queen under the ace.

When the second club was led, West anticipated his opponent very neatly by following suit with the queen. It now appeared to South that the safety play was unnecessary, inasmuch as the clubs were behaving so well. He accordingly covered the queen with North's ace. When East showed out a moment later, South regretted the greedy impulse that had induced him to alter his original plan.

With no side entry to the dummy, declarer found that he was limited to three club tricks, and he subsequently fell one short of his goal. If he sticks to his original campaign, he can take four clubs, two diamonds, one heart, and two spades for nine tricks.

Perhaps the best strategy is to lead a small club from the dummy at trick two. Inasmuch as declarer intends to duck the second club, there is no need to enter his hand to make the play, and temptation can thereby be avoided completely. When East shows out, West wins a cheap trick; however, there is no damaging return that he can make—and when South regains the lead, he picks up the remaining clubs by taking the delayed finesse against West's queen.

Cards, Pokes Are Involved In New Deals

By The Associated Press

Returning kickoffs in the National Football League isn't child's play, so the St. Louis Cardinals went out and acquired Clarence Childs, once one of the best in this important department.

The trade that brought Childs from the New York Giants to the Cardinals was one among several in professional football Wednesday.

In other transactions, the Cardinals traded veteran linebacker Jerry Hillebrand to the Pittsburgh Steelers for a high 1969 draft choice and sent Sam Silas, a defensive lineman, to the Giants for a 1970 draft choice.

The New Orleans Saints traded defensive back Simmons to the Dallas Cowboys for an undisclosed draft choice, and dealt second-string quarterback Gary Wood back to the Giants for two undisclosed draft choices.

Childs, also a defensive back, was among the NFL's leading kickoff return artists until he lost his starting spot last season to rookie Willie Williams. Childs was among the top ten in his specialty during his first four years in the circuit, but slipped to 21st in 1967 with a 20.8 yard average for 29 returns.

Hillebrand, acquired by St. Louis from the Giants in 1967 for Bill Triplett, had been traded to the Minnesota Vikings earlier. However, the Vikings sent him back to St. Louis, apparently dissatisfied with a knee condition which limited Hillebrand's training.

Simmons, a four-year veteran, played in 11 games for the Saints last season. New Orleans obtained him from St. Louis in the Saints' expansion draft.

New Orleans' expansion draft also was a factor in the deal that sent quarterback Wood back to the Giants. The Saints had acquired him from New York in the 1967 expansion draft and, under NFL rules, a team cannot trade a player to the club from which he was drafted.

"I put 'em all in my trophy room and got a new set. That's the ones I've been using since. But I couldn't find a putter like the one I had. Just found this one last week," he said, and gave it a gentle pat.

"I don't know what it is," he said on the practice green, running in putt after putt. "I just seem to have a better stroke with this one."

It's interesting to note that he hasn't won since the Open. In seven tournaments, his best finishes have been a couple of ties for sixth and he missed the cut at the PGA championship.

So is he going to be a one-shot champion?

Open Champion Caresses New-Old Part Of Arsenal

HARRISON, N.Y. (AP) — Lee Trevino, the laughing Latin who became an instant celebrity when he won the U.S. Open, had a new-old weapon in his arsenal today when he set out in the first round of $250,000 Westchester Classic golf tournament.

It's a second-hand putter, a thick, battered-looking piece of steel that is Lee's prize possession.

"It's just like the one I won the Open with," said the stocky, swarthy Mexican-American from the border country of El Paso, Tex. "Having this is like coming home again."

"The putter I had in the Open was cracked all around here," he said, running his finger around the steel near the blade. "I was afraid it was going to fall part any time."

"Finally it did. Right after the

Local Jack Tars Do Well In Meet At Fort Worth

By NATE MITCHELL

The Big Spring Sailing Club journeyed to Eagle Mountain Lake near Fort Worth last weekend to compete in a national sailing match sanctioned by the Starfish Class Association.

Thirty-one boats comprised the field which featured three races Saturday and two on Sunday. Sailors from around the nation entered the meet, with the local club boasting the largest representation.

Ron Matik, Ed Parker, Tom King, Bob Barker and Faye

Deibler — all of Webb AFB — bore the standards for Big Spring, with each collecting a place finish in the competition. Matik managed a 10th place to cop the locals' largest prize, while Tom Klausner of Fort Worth took first and Tim Pierce, Wichita, Kan., second.

Both Klausner and Pierce are teenagers.

YOUTHS PREVAIL

The youngsters walked away with the top five best finishes — no mean feat considering that this was the first year they had been allowed to compete in the national meet. Typical of the young winners were Pierce who had been sailing 10 years and racing for only four.

"Although we didn't finish very high in the running, we certainly profited from the experience gained," Matik said later. Having sailed many of the local and regional waters, Matik feels that Moss Creek Lake here is one of the best, although much smaller.

He attributes this to the fact that there are no power boats there to create the big wakes which hamper good sailing. The lake remains unusually smooth and the winds are good for the sport of sailing.

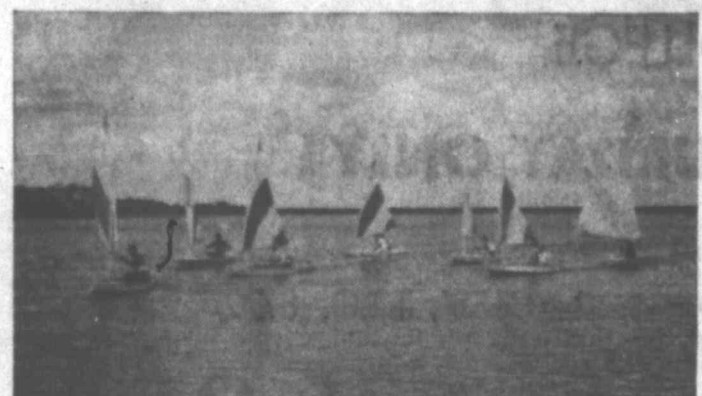

Next Sunday, the local aggregation will hold three races at Moss Creek, commencing at 3 p.m., and several of the Starfish Class boats will compete. Should enough of the Glasstown Alpha boats be in attendance, a race will be conducted using these.

PARKER PREXY

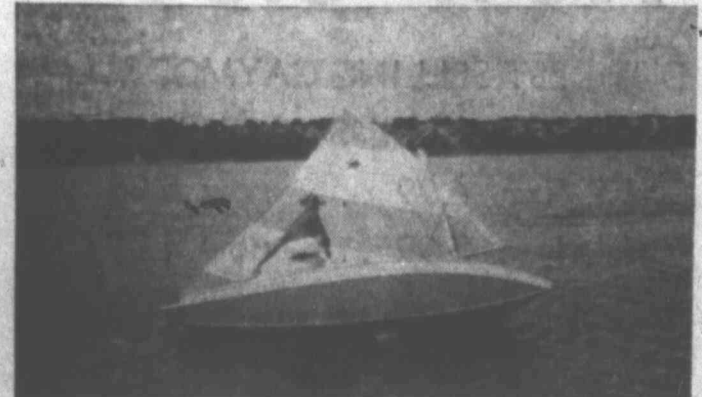

The local association consists of Parker, president; Barker, vice president; Deibler, secretary-treasurer; Tom King, chairman of the race committee; Big Spring's Ed Tyler, publicity chairman; Matik, special events chairman, and Fred Davis, Midland, in charge of trophies.

On the weekend of Aug. 31-Sept. 2, the Big Spring club will compete at San Angelo's Lake Nasworthy in a regatta which is expected to attract most of the sailors from within a 100 mile radius of that city.

Anyone interested in joining the local club should contact one of the officers for further information.

Howard Hits Two Homers

By The Associated Press

Mayo Smith has a perfect put-down for those American League die-hards who keep trying to twist his Tigers by the tail. The Detroit skipper simply reaches into his new bullpen bag and slips them a quick Mickey.

Mickey Lolich, who couldn't finish what he started a month ago, hurled 5-2-3 innings of scoreless relief Wednesday night and picked up his fourth victory in nine days as the first place Tigers flattened Cleveland 3-0.

The swift southpaw scattered three hits and struck out five in his longest relief stint since Smith sent him to the bullpen in late July. He has defeated Cleveland and Boston twice and each for an 11-7 season mark and has not given up a run in 13 innings, beginning Aug. 6.

REGAIN EDGE

In beating the Indians for the sixth time in seven games over a nine-day stretch, the Tigers regained a seven-game lead over the second place Baltimore Orioles, who bowed to Oakland 4-1.

Elsewhere, Washington topped Minnesota on two homers by Frank Howard; Boston split a day-night doubleheader with Chicago, winning the second game 7-5 on Ken Harrelson's slugging after losing 5-3 in the afternoon, and New York whipped California 5-2.

Lolich replaced Joe Spina in the fourth inning at Cleveland with the Tigers leading 1-0 on Bill Freehan's 18th homer. He stranded two runners and then stymied the Indians until the eighth, when a double play and center fielder Mickey Stanley's running, one-hand grab of a drive by Vern Fuller saved him from a possible knockout.

"I started walking to the dug-out," Lolich said. "When I looked up Stanley was still going back and the ball hadn't come down yet. I started to worry and kept right on walking, because if it's over the fence I'm out of the game anyway... and I might as well watch from the bench."

Freehan connected against Cleveland ace Luis Tiant, 18-8, in the second and the Tigers added two runs in the sixth on Al Kaline's double, Gates Brown's single and a triple by Norm Cash.

CLUBS 21st HOMER

Reggie Jackson smacked his 21st homer—a two-run sixth-inning shot—to power the Athletics past Baltimore. Bert Campaneris, who hit safely in his 12th straight game, capped a two-run wrapup burst with a sacrifice fly in the seventh.

Howard, who had homered earlier with the bases empty, drilled a 450-foot blast following two Minnesota errors in the ninth to carry the Senators from behind. Ron Clark booted Bernie Allen's grounder and Rod Carew made a wild throw to second on Ken McMillen's tap before Howard unloaded his 34th homer of the season.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Perhaps it is just as well that Big Spring won't be playing Lamesa on the football greensward this fall.

Coach Donald Jay of the Golden Tornadoes suggests the pollsters who are going with Sweetwater in the District 3-AAA race perhaps could be reading the wrong tea leaves, watching the wrong straws in the wind.

Lamesa has been placed no higher than sixth by some of the observers (who should know better than to try to pick the outcome of a league race which will take place 350 miles away) but Jay says that the Lamesans will do better than that.

The Golden Tornadoes limped to a 2-3 record last season but will have more depth and experience this season.

Like Chuck Moser believes, it usually takes two good back-to-back classes to produce a good football team — juniors trying to root out the seniors for regular jobs. Jay will have that sort of ideal setup when the Tornadoes launch workouts next Monday morning.

Both Lamesa's junior varsity and freshman teams prospered last year. Graduates of those teams, of course, feel they can play varsity ball.

Lettermen Terry Kinard and Larry Harris will contend for the quarterback job under Jay. Donald has few worries there, since junior Jim Harp and sophomore Rick Corley will be standing in the wings, awaiting the clarion call.

The Tornadoes had better be ready to hit the ground running. They open play with Sweetwater Sept. 13 on the road and play ten conference opponents without a respite. It will, no doubt, be an arduous campaign for the Lamesans, since they won't have a showdown with two of their three toughest opponents — Lubbock, Dunbar and Snyder — until the final three weeks of the campaign.

Television waits on some things, it can now be revealed. Main reason the Syracuse-Penn State football game has been rescheduled from Oct. 19 until Dec. 7 is that Sue Paterno, wife of the Penn State coach, is going to have a blessed event some time in October.

At this writing, Sue's doctor is predicting that the child will be ushered into this life Oct. 19. How would it look then, if Papa Joe were diagramming plays in the dirt alongside the stadium while the birth was taking place?

Sue herself called Roome Arledge, president of ABC Sports, told him about her dilemma and requested the change.

As a matter of fact, Joe might have begged off for the game, but Mrs. Paterno said:

"Baby or no baby, there is no way I am going to miss the Syracuse game."

Some observers feel that Penn State will have one of the top ten collegiate teams in the country. Syracuse is the arch rival of the Nittany Lions in the east.

If the baby is late, there could be an ambulance parked beside the playing field Dec. 7.

There'll be 8,000 seats available for the Sept. 14 game in Lubbock between Big Spring and Monterey, half of which will be available to students.

The contest likely won't attract 8,000 — unless an unusual number of local fans make the trip. Lubbock fans don't get very excited about high school football.

North Zone Dove Season Will Begin On Sept. 1

Mourning dove season for the North Zone will begin Sept. 1 and extend through Oct. 30, with hunting hours from 12 noon until sunset.

The North Zone embraces Val Verde, Kinney, Uvalde, Medina, Bexar, Comal, Hays, Travis, Williamson, Milam, Robertson, Leon, Houston, Cherokee, Nacogdoches and Sibley counties and counties north and west thereof.

The South Zone season begins Sept. 21 and ends Nov. 19 with one exception. In counties having an open season for white-winged doves the open season for mourning doves ends Nov. 15.

Bag limit is 12 and possession limit 24.

Season on white-winged doves will embrace Sept. 1-2 and Sept. 7-8 from 1 p.m. until sunset Central Daylight Time in the following counties:

Brewster, Brooks, Cameron, Culberson, Dimmit, El Paso, Hidalgo, Hudspeth, Jeff Davis, Jim Hogg, Kinney, Kinney, La Salle, Maverick, Presidio, Starr, Terrell, Val Verde, Webb, Wilbrey and Zapata—Sept. 1 and 2 and Sept. 7 and 8 from 1 p.m. Central Daylight Savings Time to Sunset.

Bag limit is 10, possession limit 20.

The retention of one fully feathered wing on dressed doves is required in those counties having a white-winged season when both Mourning and White-winged may be taken. This requirement also applies when doves are imported from Mexico or any foreign country.

Shotguns must be plugged permanently to three-shell capacity and may not be larger than 10 gauge. Hunting doves with rifles are prohibited.

There will be no early special teal season this year for Texas hunters, according to the Texas Parks & Wildlife Department.

The early teal season, which had been held for the past three years, was an experiment to determine if the small ducks could be managed on a species basis, since most teal migrate through Texas prior to the opening of the regular duck hunting season.

Department authorities said results of the three experimental hunts are still being tabulated by the U.S. Fish & Wildlife Service to determine if early teal seasons should be held in the future.

During the three year experimental seasons, 37,575 persons drew permits for the early hunts in Texas. Biologists estimate that as much as 85 per cent of the entire blue-winged teal population on, which averages four million breeding birds per year, are on the continental limits of the U.S. by the opening date of the regular fall duck hunting season.

The Texas Parks & Wildlife Department has shipped 1.9 million licenses for the 1968-69 season to more than 3,000 license dealers across the state and were to go on sale last Monday. However, the licenses will not become effective until Sept. 1.

Most of the registration for the Chamber of Commerce Golf tournament planned at the Country Club Saturday apparently is going to take place the morning of the meet.

C. G. Griffin, club pro, said late Wednesday he had not enrolled a player.

Chamber officials are holding out hopes that as many as 40 players will engage in the 18 holes of play. Winners will be determined in both open competition and through the Calloway system.

Entry fee is $3 per person. Any person affiliated with the Chamber is eligible to take part. Other prizes are in the offing in the tournament.

If this meet is a success, it probably will become an annual event. Winston Winkle heads the tournament committee, which is being sponsored by the Sports & Recreation committee of the Chamber.

Astros Lose To Phillies

Hurry up and unfold, Satchel. The Atlanta Braves' pitching staff needs help fast.

The Braves signed elderly Satchel Paige earlier this week and the club's pitchers haven't been the same since.

Cincinnati jolted the Braves 7-4 Wednesday night, collecting 11 hits. That gave the Reds 30 hits and 16 runs in two games against Atlanta and if ever a situation called for Satchel, the Braves have it.

"I don't know what I can do now," said Paige, who needs 158 days to qualify for baseball's pension plan. "I'll have to get out there and unfold first."

Paige's unfolding timetable calls for him to go on the Braves' active roster Aug. 23. The question is whether the Atlanta pitching staff can wait that long.

GIANTS WIN

Elsewhere in the National League Wednesday, New York trimmed Los Angeles 4-1, San Francisco nipped Pittsburgh 2-1 in 10 innings, Philadelphia took Houston 4-3 and St. Louis stopped Chicago 3-1.

Mack Jones' three-run homer started the Reds' assault against the Atlanta staff in the fourth inning. Pete Rose singled and Alex Johnson doubled before Jones connected. An error and Pat Corrales' double gave the Reds another run before the inning was over.

Singles by Johnson and Tony Perez and doubles by Fred Whitfield and Corrales led to three wrapup runs in the eighth. Felipe Alou homered for the Braves, extending his hitting streak to 19 games.

Jerry Kosman won his 16th game for the Mets, tying the club record established last year by Tom Seaver. The rookie left-hander scattered seven hits as New York beat Los Angeles for the 11th time this season.

Larry Stahl homered and Cleon Jones and Ed Kranepool laced two hits apiece leading a 10-hit Met attack against Bill Singer and two relievers.

LOCK RAMPAGES

Don Lock hammered a grand slam home run, accounting for all of Philadelphia's runs against Houston. John Bateman had a two-run shot and Jim Wynn a solo homer for the Astros.

Clark Blasts Nixon's Threat To Fire Him

WASHINGTON (AP) — Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark has responded to Richard M. Nixon's threat to fire him if elected president by challenging Nixon to say what he means by the phrase "law and order."

In his speech accepting the Republican nomination last week, Nixon said "if we are going to restore order and respect for law in this country, there is one place to begin. We are going to have to have a new attorney general."

CHALLENGE

"The question is," Clark responded in a news conference Wednesday, "What do we do to bring about order under the law?"

"I think for the people to just repeat the phrase 'law and order' is not to educate anyone on the issues or on what needs to be done," Clark added.

He said it was important for Nixon to make his stance known on these issues, rather than saying "whom he is against."

Within hours after Clark's comments, the Nixon camp fired back from its campaign strategy base in California.

Robert Ellsworth, Nixon's national political director, said Clark's "record of performance in office marks him down as a reluctant warrior in the battle against crime."

GUN CONTROL

Clark, meeting with newsmen in his oak paneled, red carpeted outer office, answered a wide variety of questions ranging from the nomination of Abe Fortas as chief justice of the United States—he defended it—to police pay—he thinks it should be increased.

But Clark dwelt on the acceptance speech by Nixon, publicly answering it for the first time.

Nixon, Clark said, attacked "personalities rather than principles."

The attorney general set forth some of his own principles and wondered aloud where Nixon stood on them.

He checked off his support of gun control legislation, including registration and licensing; stressed the need for a "professionalization" within police forces; voiced concern for mental health and alcoholism problems; remarked on the need for increased attention to juvenile delinquency; and urged a major boost in spending in the areas of prisons, probation and parole.

VIOLENCE

"I was interested in his (Nixon's) remarks about organized crime. It would seem that the Republicans are trying to make this their thing," Clark said.

He accused the most recent Republican administration during its eight years in power of "doing nothing" about organized crime.

In 1960, he said, 17 federal indictments were returned under GOP rule, while in 1967 he said there were 668 indictments, including 55 against members of the so-called Cosa Nostra.

Clark also said elaborate plans are being made to head off potential violence outside the Democratic National Convention in Chicago.

Clark emphasized, however, he did not expect any disorders. Nor, he said, would the Convention be held "in an atmosphere of an armed camp" when it opens Aug. 28.

But should violence break out, he said, law enforcement agencies, including the Secret Service, would be ready for it.

Personal Income Climbs In July

WASHINGTON (AP) — Personal income rose by $5.5 billion in July—helped along by a $2 billion income increase for federal, state and local government workers, the Commerce Department says.

The increase included a $1.5 billion raise for federal employees, the department said Wednesday.

It pegged the seasonally adjusted annual rate for personal income in July at $89.3 billion.

About the only areas showing no change during the month were wholesale and retail trade, transportation, communications and other public utilities, the department said.

Cyclist Killed

MOUNT PLEASANT, Tex. (AP)—Felix Armstrong 21, of Rt. 1, Mount Pleasant, was killed Wednesday night in a crash involving his motorcycle and a car. Officers said the motorcycle hit the automobile from behind as it was turning off Texas 49 about six miles east of here.

GENERAL TENDENCIES: You would be wise to take no chances with the material aspects of your life now. Try to save and economize. Instead of spending lavishly for what you really do not need, a deceptive condition can put you on the wrong track which could take you some time to get back to normal and build a new credit.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Making improvements to any real estate you may possess is wise just now. Think up new ideas for adding to present income as well. Have you paid your insurance, taxes, etc.? Be more prompt.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Do you think you can get more out of others by being forceful? More charm and kindness will do the trick much better. You can solve those problems very nicely now, so get busy instead of worrying about them.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Use your intuition and you get those problems solved out of the way. Ideally and in a very short time. Hesitating about assisting one in real trouble could be something you would regret later. Do it.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) You must go after your most intimate wishes yourself now. Stop looking to pals to get them from you. Avoid the social tonics. Such efforts are apt to be very disappointing.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Avoid doing anything that would endanger your reputation at this time or you would certainly regret it later on. Show consideration for others and you gain prestige. Why live unhappily. Cheer others and you do the same for yourself.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) You had better wait until another time before you pursue those new ideas you have or you could meet with much disappointment. Some letter you receive from a partner could be disturbing. Think positively, constructively.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Making certain to carry through with whatever kind of promise you have made to another is imperative, otherwise you get it in the neck later. Don't corner your partner either or you could get the kind of treatment you don't like. Be fair.

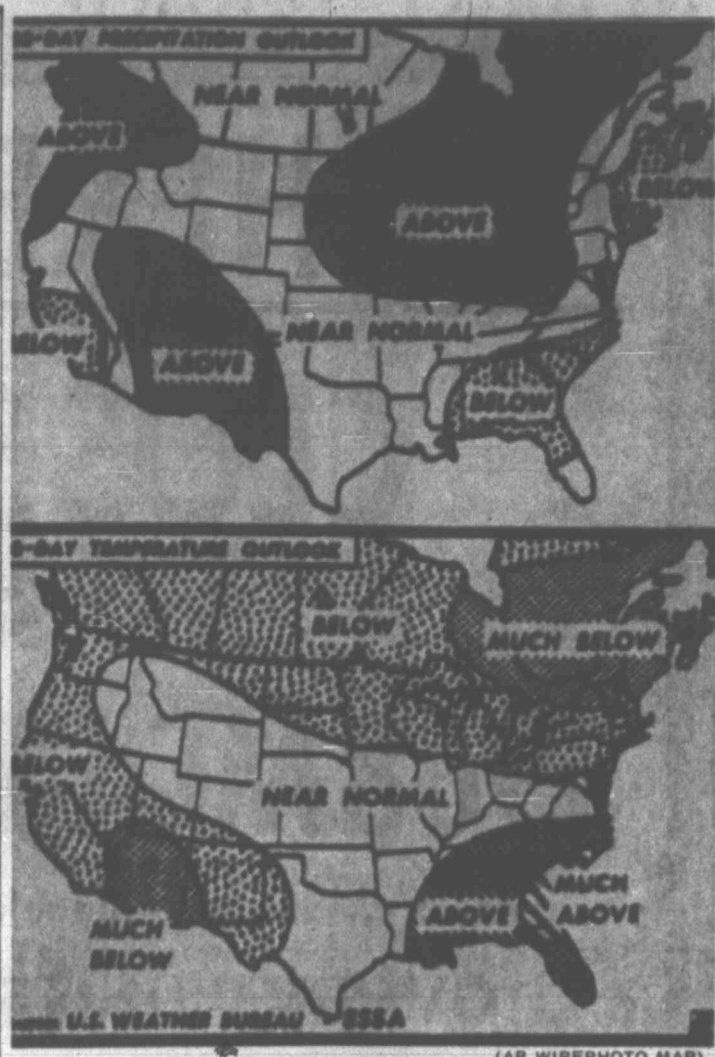

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Although you and partners have debatable points to go over, you had better do it amicably and avoid contentious remarks. Act in a circumspect way with everyone. Don't leave yourself wide open for harmful criticism.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) You must rectify by now that any type of work is subject to error and annoyance here and there, so be patient. Be poised no matter what. Using rough manners with co-workers only makes for trouble.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Be more willing to do of service to one who has proven to be a good friend. Instead of some overly domineering person who is ineffectual. Don't neglect the lighter side of your life. However, follow the golden rule, too.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Stop working all those little angles with others and be direct with them. Do your work in minute and careful manner. Why are you procrastinating where duty to kin is concerned? This is very important you do now.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20) Even while working you have to take particular care now, and driving could be very hazardous if you aren't careful. Conversation should be uplifting or you get into bad trouble. Think twice and then say nothing.

Took His Pants

CINCINNATI (AP)—Two Negro women robbed a Negro cab driver early today of $24 and his wallet but they also forced him to take off his trousers and stole those also.

One of the women who fled on foot toted a small caliber weapon and placed it to the man's head during the robbery.

Airport Officials Report Most Flight Delays Eased

NEW YORK (AP) — Airport officials around the country generally report flight delays have been eased with the notable exception of some Chicago and New York flights to and from their cities.

The congestion which had been especially heavy at Kennedy Airport began to clear this week due to a combination of excellent weather, some flight rescheduling and an apparently let-up of a flight controllers' campaign.

LOT BETTER

"The situation has become a lot better than a couple of weeks ago," one airline dispatcher at Kennedy said, and most officials contacted in a nationwide Associated Press survey agreed.

Few reported any locally caused flight delays but some said arrivals from New York and Chicago were up to several hours late at times and departures for the same points were sometimes held up awaiting route clearances.

Skies over Kennedy Airport began to get crowded in early July after an air traffic controllers' organization announced that it was going to "follow the book" and strictly enforce Federal Aviation Administration safety rules.

AIR HAZARDS

Declaring that its men were overworked but that it intended "to protect the public against unnecessary air hazards," the Professional Air Traffic Controllers Organization said it would carefully observe regulations that set minimum separation time between planes.

In the past, the rules had been bent from time to time during heavy congestion.

The safety campaign was nationwide, but its greatest impact was felt at Kennedy, where congestion delayed some flights as long as six hours.

Other airports began to feel the effects of the congestion at Kennedy as planes circled in the skies waiting to enter New York's traffic pattern.

This week, the situation began to improve. "Things are normal," an FAA spokesman at Kennedy said. "Flights are moving anywhere from on schedule to 30 minutes late."

The spokesman said the traffic controllers apparently were easing their safety campaign, but he said the campaign "was still a factor in the air traffic picture."

But Dale Langreht, an airline executive in Baltimore, commented: "I think the controllers in New York have proven their point."

There is one phase of county governmental functions which is anything but slow, however. That, according to Margaret Ray, chief deputy in the county clerk's office, deals with marriage licenses.

There have been 13 marriage licenses issued at the clerk's office since last Friday. This is not in line at all with the normal demand for such papers at this season of the year.

THINGS SLOW AT COURTHOUSE

As a general statement, it can truthfully be said that things are about the slowest at the Howard County courthouse they have been in many months.

Little activity of any kind is noticeable. For example, only two cases have been filed in the 118th District Court so far this week. Normally a dozen perhaps might have been filed in a like period.

Personal Income Climbs In July

WASHINGTON (AP) — Personal income rose by $5.5 billion in July—helped along by a $2 billion income increase for federal, state and local government workers, the Commerce Department says.

The increase included a $1.5 billion raise for federal employees, the department said Wednesday.

It pegged the seasonally adjusted annual rate for personal income in July at $89.3 billion.

About the only areas showing no change during the month were wholesale and retail trade, transportation, communications and other public utilities, the department said.

Cyclist Killed

MOUNT PLEASANT, Tex. (AP)—Felix Armstrong 21, of Rt. 1, Mount Pleasant, was killed Wednesday night in a crash involving his motorcycle and a car. Officers said the motorcycle hit the automobile from behind as it was turning off Texas 49 about six miles east of here.

Nixon's Selection Blunts Court Bids

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Republican bloc in the Senate thinks Richard M. Nixon's selection to head the GOP ticket struck a severe blow to President Johnson's Supreme Court nominations.

Basis for this is the belief that Nixon's selection blunted support of the nominations by Senate Minority Leader Everett M. Dirksen and other leading GOP senators.

'LAME DUCK'

Nixon has declared his opposition to letting Johnson make the nominations.

One member of the opposition bloc said in a series of telephone interviews Wednesday that Republican support "can be expected to go underground" when Congress reconvenes next month.

"Would Everett Dirksen be willing to lead the fight against his own party's nominee?" said another source.

Dirksen was outspoken in his support last month of Johnson's nominations of Abe Fortas to succeed Earl Warren as chief justice and Homer Thornberry to become an associate justice.

During one session of the Senate Judiciary Committee he criticized the term "lame duck" being applied to Johnson as "entirely improper and offensive." And he strongly took to task Sen. Robert P. Griffin of Michigan who heads the opposition forces.

But a Dirksen aide said Wednesday that the Republican leader does not plan to actively pursue support of Fortas and Thornberry.

"I'm sure he will not force the issue," said the aide, adding, however, that he did not regard this as a change in Dirksen's position.

QUESTION MARK

One question mark among Republicans backing the nominations is how Kentucky's Thurston B. Morton will vote now.

Morton was one of the original signers of a petition circulated by Griffin which declared Johnson was a "lame duck" president and had no right as such to make the nominations.

Morton later withdrew his name and declared he was for the nominations. Now he has announced he will join the Nixon campaign actively after Labor Day.

He could not be reached for comment.

Congress is to go back in session Sept. 4. With Griffin's forces indicating they are ready to filibuster confirmation of the nominations, it could be a long session.

Majority Leader Mike Mansfield has said he'll keep the Senate in session all year, if necessary, until the nominations are confirmed.

Youths Will Discuss: 'Man, Is God For Real?'

Activities have been announced for Youth Week at Wesley Methodist Church, according to Sue Pohl, program chairman.

"God's Real Is for Man . . . a way of perceiving and receiving the world," was the topic of the Rev. Tom Strother Wednesday when he spoke to the group.

Rev. Strother discussed the world and the changes in the world and presented a film "The Medium Is the Message." The theme for tonight is "Man, Is God For Real?" A panel of young people will discuss different gods that determine world value.

"Real Man Is for God," is the theme for Friday and young people will see a film, "The World, the Flesh and the Devil," starring Henry Belafonte, Inger Stevens and Mel Ferrer. A "happening" is planned for Saturday night with the theme "Man for God Is Real." Youth will present a contemporary form of worship Sunday with the theme "Real Man for God Is . . ." Modern worship service including communion and folk hymns will be at 6 p.m. with Mrs. Ernest Bauch, Westside Center, the speaker.

The young people may attend the activities dressed informally, Miss Pohl said. Programs will be held 7-9:30 p.m. nightly. Refreshments will be served Wednesday by the Dorcas Sunday school class; Thursday, Browder Sunday school; Friday, Women's Society Christian Service; Saturday, Youth Sunday school, and Sunday, the food committee.

Money has been contributed by the Men's Sunday School, Mary Martha Sunday School, and Friendship Sunday School Saturday night with the theme

New Gas Discovery Well Off England In North Sea

Phillips Petroleum Company and associates have a new field gas discovery on one of their licensed tracts comprising 119,000 acres in the United Kingdom portion of the North Sea, W. W. Keeler, president and chief executive officer of Phillips, has announced.

During initial tests, the well has flowed sweet gas at rates up to 26 million cubic feet a day from the Permian Rotundales sand.

The new field, named Deborah Field, is the third gas field discovered on this acreage which comprises two adjoining blocks approximately 20 miles off the Norfolk coast. The largest of these three fields is the Hewett field located about six miles south of the Deborah Field. Phillips and associates are preparing to supply British consumers with large amounts of natural gas from the Hewett field, starting in 1969. Plans are being considered for development of the new Deborah field.

In addition to Phillips, which holds 35 per cent interest and is the operator, the group consists of American Petrofina Exploration Company, AGIP Exploration (U.K.) Limited of the ENI group, and a U.K. group consisting of Imperial Continental Gas Association, Courtauld's Limited, Tarmac Limited, and Oil Exploration Limited (formed under the auspices of the Ionian Bank to represent a group of private investors).

The rig which drilled the new discovery well is especially adapted to exploratory drilling and will be moved soon to the Netherlands portion of the North Sea to begin exploratory drilling on more than 300,000 acres for a group consisting of Phillips, AGIP, and American Petrofina, with Phillips as operator.

The association will hear reports on peanut programs under way at the Oklahoma and Texas experiment stations.

Dear Abby

—ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

Rumor Makes Full Circle

DEAR ABBY: I wish I were a Catholic. Then I could go to a priest and confess the terrible thing I did, and he would give me his blessings and I could sleep again.

I got mad at my girl friend and started a terrible rumor about her (I said she got pregnant and had an abortion). I had no idea it would spread the way it did until my own mother heard it and told me I couldn't go around with her anymore.

Now the girl refuses to go back to school in September because everybody in town is talking about her. And some girls won't even speak to her.

If I confessed to my mother, she'd tell me to keep my mouth shut because she wouldn't want anyone to know what a stinker I am. I want to make it up to this girl because she really isn't a bad girl. Could I run an ad in the newspaper and say I lied?

CAN'T SLEEP
DEAR ABBY: Forget the ad, but do go to the girl and confess that you started the ugly rumor. And tell her you will also tell those who have unjustly ostracized her. You will never be able to undo the damage you've done, but I hope this will be a lesson to you.

DEAR ABBY: I agree with you 99 per cent of the time, but I couldn't go along with the advice you gave that father who told his 17-year-old son to either get a haircut or not to come home (The boy didn't come home.) You told the father to forget the hair for now and to emphasize the more permanent aspects of his son's character. Tell me, Abby, how can a father mold his son's character if he can't make him mind?

As a law enforcement officer I have found that the biggest cause of juvenile delinquency is the inability of parents to get their children to mind.

I have a 19-year-old son who would wear his hair too long if he had his own way. I don't tell him to either get a haircut or not to come home, but I do tell him if he doesn't cut his hair, I will cut it for him if I have to do it while he's asleep.

Abby, if I didn't love my son I wouldn't care how long he grew his hair. I know all boys like to rebel a little, but when you put your foot down I think the average boy respects you for it. I know mine does.

A FATHER
DEAR ABBY: Regarding CONCERNED's letter about her sister-in-law riding a motorcycle at age 61: I have a very lovable uncle in Denver who is 79 and HE rides a motorcycle.

There is one difference, he doesn't have a "sizable fortune," so we just love him and leave him alone.

Social Security Has Birthday

WASHINGTON (AP) — Social Security has passed its third-

a-century mark.

The first chairman of the Social Security Board was at the brief 33rd birthday ceremony Wednesday. So was Health, Education and Welfare Secretary

Wilbur J. Cohen.

President Johnson sent a telegram from Johnson City, Tex., recalling how the program's early opponents had called it a "cruel hoax."

Uruguay Mourners Paying Homage To Slain Student

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay (AP) — Thousands of Uruguayans paid homage today to a student slain in antigovernment riots, underlining growing opposition to President Jorge Pacheco Areco.

The 400,000-member National Convention of Labor called a nationwide 24-hour strike to honor Liber Arce, 29-year-old national university student who died Wednesday of bullet wounds suffered during a riot Monday. The stoppage was called in defiance of a presidential ban on strikes.

The administration, shaken by the mounting opposition, announced that it would permit a funeral demonstration today for Arce. The government closed high schools until further notice, and university students cut classes in preparation for the campus funeral for Arce, who they claimed was a victim of police bullets.

At least 10,000 mourners lined up outside the university's main hall Wednesday night as Arce's body was brought there to lie in state. Thousands more converged on the building during the night. Floral wreaths filled the hall.

Police did not interfere although they maintained a guard at a discreet distance.

Workers walked or bicycled to the campus in groups of 200 to 300, carrying Uruguayan flags and wreaths. About 1,000 bank clerks marched down the 13th of July Avenue. Montevideo's Chamber of Deputies observed a minute of silence in tribute to the dead student. All clerks and administrative personnel at the parliament building joined in.

The army reinforced its guard around Government House and other strategic posts in the capital, but there were no disturbances. Student leaders circulated orders to avoid disturbances until today.

Student riots erupted last Friday after police raided the university, seeking clues to the abduction by a pro-Peking group of Ulises Pereira Reverbel, a leading presidential adviser and head of the telephone and power company. Pereira was released unharmed Sunday, but student riots continued Monday and Tuesday, protesting alleged police brutality as well as the government's austerity program to combat inflation and the hard line it has adopted toward labor and student unrest.

Rumor Makes Full Circle

DEAR ABBY: I wish I were a Catholic. Then I could go to a priest and confess the terrible thing I did, and he would give me his blessings and I could sleep again.

I got mad at my girl friend and started a terrible rumor about her (I said she got pregnant and had an abortion). I had no idea it would spread the way it did until my own mother heard it and told me I couldn't go around with her anymore.

Now the girl refuses to go back to school in September because everybody in town is talking about her. And some girls won't even speak to her.

If I confessed to my mother, she'd tell me to keep my mouth shut because she wouldn't want anyone to know what a stinker I am. I want to make it up to this girl because she really isn't a bad girl. Could I run an ad in the newspaper and say I lied?

CAN'T SLEEP
DEAR ABBY: Forget the ad, but do go to the girl and confess that you started the ugly rumor. And tell her you will also tell those who have unjustly ostracized her. You will never be able to undo the damage you've done, but I hope this will be a lesson to you.

DEAR ABBY: I agree with you 99 per cent of the time, but I couldn't go along with the advice you gave that father who told his 17-year-old son to either get a haircut or not to come home (The boy didn't come home.) You told the father to forget the hair for now and to emphasize the more permanent aspects of his son's character. Tell me, Abby, how can a father mold his son's character if he can't make him mind?

As a law enforcement officer I have found that the biggest cause of juvenile delinquency is the inability of parents to get their children to mind.

I have a 19-year-old son who would wear his hair too long if he had his own way. I don't tell him to either get a haircut or not to come home, but I do tell him if he doesn't cut his hair, I will cut it for him if I have to do it while he's asleep.

Abby, if I didn't love my son I wouldn't care how long he grew his hair. I know all boys like to rebel a little, but when you put your foot down I think the average boy respects you for it. I know mine does.

A FATHER
DEAR ABBY: Regarding CONCERNED's letter about her sister-in-law riding a motorcycle at age 61: I have a very lovable uncle in Denver who is 79 and HE rides a motorcycle.

There is one difference, he doesn't have a "sizable fortune," so we just love him and leave him alone.

Romanian Chief Sides With Prague Liberals

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia (AP) — Prague gave an enthusiastic welcome today to Romanian Communist party chief Nicolae Ceausescu, the third man on the Soviet bloc's new Belgrade-Prague-Bucharest axis.

Ceausescu came to renew the treaty of friendship and mutual assistance between Romania and Czechoslovakia, a formality which took on special meaning because he has sided with the new liberal leaders of the Czechoslovak Communist party in their resistance to Moscow's pressure to reverse their course.

Ceausescu, who is also Romania's president, emphasized his support of Czechoslovak party chief Alexander Dubcek and his colleagues by bringing with him the most important members of his regime: Premier Ion Gheorghe Maurer; Deputy Premier Emil Bodnarus; Deputy President Gheorghe Apostol; Virgil Trofin, Trade Union Council chairman; Gheorghe Stolca, a secretary of the party's central committee, and Foreign Minister Corneliu Manescu.

The Romanian leader was Czechoslovakia's third major visitor within a week. First came Yugoslav President Tito, the other Communist chief executive who spoke out for the Czechoslovaks' right to decide their own course and the pioneer rebel against Kremlin domination. He was followed by Walter Ulbricht, East Germany's Stalinist party chief and one of the most militant opponents of the new leaders in Prague.

Ceausescu had another warning Wednesday for the Kremlin and its orthodox Communist allies, still carrying on military maneuvers in East Germany and elsewhere along their borders with Czechoslovakia.

The Romanian leader told graduates of the Bucharest Military School: "There can be no justification for the use of armed forces for intervention in the internal affairs of any of the Warsaw Treaty member countries."

Tooze Leads Booze Fight

ANDERSON, Ind. (AP) — The Woman's Christian Temperance Union, a prime mover behind the ill-fated prohibition law 49 years ago, will open its 49th national convention Friday with an attack upon beer, not liquor.

"Beer has become the country's major threat to temperance," the WCTU president, Mrs. Fred J. Tooze of Evanston, Ill., told her 120-woman executive committee today.

Mrs. Tooze also lashed out at what she called "concealed alcohol addiction," saying five times as much drinking is now done in the home as on streets and in "saloons called taverns and other public drink-selling places."

She suggested the WCTU continue to promote local option "dry laws" and combat alcoholic beverage advertisements which "depict women and young people drinking and in drinking scenes, including floating through the air holding vodka glasses."

Gov. Agnew Says: 'I Am Not A Racist'

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP) — Spiro T. Agnew, Maryland's governor and the Republican vice presidential nominee, says that "any kind of racism must be repudiated. My record speaks for itself. I am not a racist. I have never been a racist. I have done more for the Negro than anyone who has ever held this office."

Charges of racial prejudice were hurled at Agnew by 18 Negro leaders in Baltimore. They are forming the Ad Hoc Committee for Good Government to oppose the Nixon-Agnew ticket nationwide.

FEELS COMFORTABLE Agnew, who has been traveling with GOP presidential nominee Richard M. Nixon and campaigning on the West Coast since his nomination at Miami Beach, made the committee one of the first topics at the news conference that followed his arrival at Friendship International Airport.

"These people are actually endorsing violence. I feel very comfortable about being criticized by them," Agnew said. "I very clearly repudiated white racism and I have called on the Negroes to repudiate black racism," he said.

The governor said the Republican campaign would have a "back-to-moderation" theme "based on a desire of the American people for a return to the traditional principles of this country."

WRONG ACCENT "The accent should not be on tearing America down, but on building up what's right about America," Agnew said.

Agnew denied that he was chosen as Nixon's running mate solely to campaign for the Republican ticket in the South. He said he was leaving Maryland again Friday to meet with Nixon and campaign in California, Michigan, Ohio and New York.

Interest Up In Pig Show

Increased interest in production of swine in Howard County may be indicated by local breeders at the recent West Texas Duroc Sale held in Lubbock.

At least 10 head of high grade Durocs were bought by Howard Countians at the sale, according to Henry Parmenter. Parmenter himself bought one gilt.

He said that J. E. Peugh, of the Knott community, bought a gilt and a boar; Obie Kirby, Big Spring, two gilts and a boar; and Arvis James, Coahoma, three gilts and one boar.

The local buyers invested $1,500 or more in the pigs they acquired.

Some growth in the number of pigs on farms in the county has been shown each year for the past several years. The annual pig show for 4-H Club and FFA youngsters has tended to increase interest in swine. The pig show is held each October.

CZECH BACKLASH

Chilling Mood Emerges Again In Soviet Union

By WILLIAM L. RYAN

AP Special Correspondent

Stalinist habits, evidently durable among Soviet leaders, are emerging once again after the Soviet-Czechoslovak showdown. For Soviet citizens there is a chill in the air, reminiscent of cold war.

The palpable defeat of a Soviet effort to make reform-minded Czechoslovaks bend to Kremlin will seem to have provoked Communist party worries about its internal impact.

SPY SCARES The Kremlin's somber mood and its fright at what Czechoslovakia might mean in the future come through in the latest issue of Kommunist, the Soviet theoretical journal, to reach this country. An article, apparently written for the edification of the Soviet Communists themselves rather than for anybody abroad, deals with "Vigilance—Weapon Against the Intrigues of Imperialism." It pictures Soviet citizens in danger from spies and provocateurs lurking everywhere, ready to pounce on the unwary and use them to undermine the system.

Soviet spy scares have been familiar fixtures through the cold war years. Each "vigilance" campaign has reflected Politburo worries on the home front. Clearly the current campaign is linked with Czechoslovak events. Referring to a bloc meeting on Czechoslovakia, the article said it "underscored the necessity of strengthening by all means the unity of parties and peoples" to protect the ramparts of Marxism-Leninism.

Clearly the current campaign is linked with Czechoslovak events. Referring to a bloc meeting on Czechoslovakia, the article said it "underscored the necessity of strengthening by all means the unity of parties and peoples" to protect the ramparts of Marxism-Leninism.

SABOTEURS Kommunist warned against "ideological saboteurs" who were said to masquerade as "members of delegations, tourists, people traveling in our country on private business" and the like who, often, in reality, were out to propagandize the Western way of life. Such people, it said, can use international connections as "channels for infiltration into the U.S.S.R. of anti-Soviet and other hostile materials."

It pointed out that in recent years, Soviet contacts with the West expanded greatly, that many Soviet people now go abroad in various capacities: to conferences, to sport competitions, with tourists or theatrical groups. Foreign intelligence agents, notably Americans and West Germans, seek out Soviet citizens, it said, trying to play on human weakness and pry out state secrets, or enlist the unwary for ideological warfare.

ATTENTION "Special attention," it said, "is paid to scientists, engineers and other specialists taking part in scientific international congresses, symposia, expositions or conferences."

Today, the article instructed, the party must consider as one of its most important tasks a struggle against "ideological saboteurs," because "in the sphere of ideology there cannot be peaceful coexistence, as there cannot be class peace between the proletariat and the bourgeoisie." It added that "the security of the fatherland and the interests of the Soviet people constantly demand revolutionary vigilance."

Transplants Panel Named

AUSTIN (AP) — A special committee including a member of Dr. Denton Cooley's heart transplant team has been named by Speaker Ben Barnes to study the legal, ethical and moral questions involved in human organ transplants.

Rep. Jack Ogg, Houston, was appointed chairman of the committee, which will report to the 1969 Legislature.

Dr. Robert D. Bloodwell, Houston surgeon and member of Cooley's transplant group, was named to the committee, which has special significance because of the large number of transplant operations performed in Texas.

Other members are Philip R. Overton, legal counsel of the Texas Medical Association; Austin: Dr. Charles Le Maistre, University of Texas vice chancellor for health affairs; Wyatt Heard, Houston lawyer, and Reps. Lamine Holland, San Antonio; D. C. Howard, Uvalde; Fred Orr, DeSoto, and Carl Parker, Port Arthur.

Wang Wears Flag On Wrong Spot

NORTHFIELD, Vt. (AP) — An unemployed carpenter has been charged with publicly mutilating and defacing a U.S. flag by wearing it as patches on the seat of his pants.

Washington County Atty. Joseph Palmisano brought the charge Tuesday night against Lawrence Wang, 19, of Plainfield, who wears his long hair in a pigtail.

The charges said that by his alleged act Wang "cast contempt" upon the flag by "wearing said pants in public view."

Wang, learning that the county attorney had brought the charge, surrendered at the Northfield home of District Judge John P. Connors. He pleaded innocent and was released in $100 bail.

MPs Shoot Man

MINERAL WELLS, Tex. (AP) — Officials at Fort Wolters say that military policemen shot and killed a man today at the West Central Texas military installation.

A spokesman at the Army base said the man was discovered in a storage room of the post exchange about 2 a.m. The man was not identified.

Serve Easy To Make Mousse

Away with the humdrum, the hard-to-do, the hot-to-fix! Don't dish up summer in the same old way. Instead switch to a change of pace special.

Here for your eating and cooking pleasure is a cool refreshing summertime treat: lime cucumber mousse, crab meat on a divan of lettuce, and a variety of hot rolls that take only minutes to bake.

The mousse may be made ahead, in the cool of the morning. Crab meat comes from the freezer, and the work has been taken out of preparing your rolls. Sesame Crisp, Club, Golden Twist, Hearth and French Rolls . . . all may be found on the fresh bread racks at your grocer's . . . all require but a few minutes to bake.

The inviting aroma of hot rolls from the oven will set you apart as a hostess who cares enough to serve the best, even when temperatures are soaring and tempers become frayed. Ten minutes of oven heat can't possibly warm your kitchen, but hot rolls served to family or guests can do a lot to warm their hearts.

LIME CUCUMBER MOUSSE
3 pkgs. lime-flavor gelatin
1 tsp. salt
2 cups boiling water
One - third cup vinegar
1 tsp. grated onion
1 1/2 pints sour cream
3/4 cup mayonnaise or salad dressing
3 cups pared, drained, finely chopped cucumber
2 cucumbers, fluted, sliced
Put gelatin and salt in large bowl; pour on boiling water, stirring until gelatin is completely dissolved. Now stir in vinegar and onion; refrigerate until mixture has consistency of unbeaten egg white. Then, with egg beater, beat in sour cream and mayonnaise; stir in finely chopped cucumber. Pour into 2 1/2 quart mold; refrigerate three hours or until firm.

To serve, dip mold in and out of hot water. Invert serving plate on top of mold; invert both; gently shake cucumber mold until it slips out. Arrange fluted, sliced cucumbers around base of mousse. Nice served in wedges, with cooked frozen, chilled crab legs on salad greens and with assorted hot rolls. Makes 10 to 12 servings.

Serve New Pudding At Luncheon

A new version of a favorite old-fashioned pudding. Prepared a new way, this will become a family favorite.

BLUEBERRY MEDLEY
Blueberry Layer (see below)
1 cup sifted cake flour
1 tsp. double acting baking powder
1/4 tsp. salt
1/4 cup butter or margarine
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 tsp. vanilla
2 large eggs
1/4 cup milk

Prepare Blueberry Layer: On wax paper sift together flour, baking powder and salt. In a medium mixing bowl cream butter, sugar and vanilla. Thoroughly beat in eggs, one at a time. Add flour mixture, one-third at a time, alternately with milk, stirring just until smooth after each addition; begin and end with flour mixture. Spread over Blueberry Layer.

Bake in preheated 375-degree oven until cake tester inserted in center comes out without any batter clinging to it — about 40 minutes. Cut in squares and serve warm with whipped cream or vanilla ice cream. (The blueberries intertwine with the batter in this pudding.)

BLUEBERRY LAYER
In an 8 by 8 by 2 inch cake pan over low heat, melt one tablespoon butter; sprinkle with 1/2 cup firmly packed light brown sugar; spoon a one-pint basket of blueberries (two generous cups washed) over the sugar.

Treat Younger Set To Taste Delight

Serve these tidbits for a teenage party.

QUICKIES

1/2 cup butter
1/2 lb. miniature marshmallows
4 cups cornflakes
1 cup flaked coconut
1 pkg. (6 ozs.) semi-sweet chocolate pieces (one cup)

In a medium saucepan over low heat melt the butter; add marshmallows; cook, stirring occasionally, until melted. Remove from heat; let stand at room temperature for five minutes. Stir in cornflakes and coconut; stir in chocolate. Press into a buttered 13 by 9 by 2 inch pan. Cool until firm. Cut into one-inch squares. Makes about eight dozen.

Serve Duckling Soon

Either barbecue this duckling, or roast it in the oven, the result will be the same. It is especially good with the flavor of orange, so try this South American version for a delightful taste treat.

Try Duckling With Oranges

Among duckling fanciers the flavor of orange and duckling is a universal favorite the world over. For a special treat try this South American style duckling recipe featuring oranges poached in syrup.

Barbecued on your rotisserie or roasted in your oven, duckling is delightful. Available all in supermarket frozen meat display cases, duckling is easy to prepare and serve. For your convenience the National Duckling Council suggests that you always keep a brace of fresh frozen duckling in your freezer.

SOUTH AMERICAN ORANGE DUCKLING

1 duckling (4 1/2 to 5 pounds), defrosted
1 tsp. salt
1 1/2 cups chopped celery
1/4 cup chopped onion
2 tbsps. butter or margarine
4 cups 1/2-inch bread cubes
6 tbsps. sugar
4 tbsps. grated orange rind
1 cup diced orange sections with juice
1/2 cup light corn syrup
1/2 cup orange juice
1 medium orange, sliced and slices cut to center on one side

Wash and drain duckling; pat dry with paper toweling. Sprinkle neck and body cavities with salt, using one-half teaspoon salt. Saute celery and onion in butter or margarine until onion is soft. Add bread cubes, two tablespoons sugar, remaining one-half teaspoon salt, one teaspoon grated orange rind and orange sections; toss together. Fill neck and body cavities loosely with stuffing. Skewer neck skin to back.

Cover opening of body cavity with aluminum foil and tie legs together loosely. Place on rack in shallow roasting pan. Bake in slow oven (325 degrees) until meat on drumstick is tender, three to three and one-half hours. Combine corn syrup, remaining three tablespoons orange rind, orange juice and remaining one-fourth cup sugar. Bring to boil; boil gently two minutes.

Add orange slices and simmer five minutes. Brush glaze over duckling two or three times during last 30 minutes cooking time. Garnish duckling with curled orange slices and serve with glaze. Yield: Three to four servings.

Uses System To Take Boredom From Budget

By RHODA LEMONS

"When I economize, I make grocery lists, plan menus in advance and buy just what I need," said petite Mrs. Lanny Hamby, 3900 Melrose.

"Then, when I don't feel economical, I go to the store and buy everything that looks good," she said. She admits that this may not be the ideal way to shop for groceries, but it works for her, and takes the "boredom out of budget watching."

The Hambys have three children, Reina, eight, Wendy, seven, and Lanton, 2.

The Hambys have lived in their present home over two years, but have not been in a hurry to complete the furnishings. They still are working on the den and want to change the carpeting in the living room. Predominant colors throughout the attractive home are gold, green and white.

Mrs. Hamby prefers to mix the old and new. She has a handsome antique game table in the living room that belonged to her mother, Mrs. Cleo Thomas, combined with contemporary furnishings.

"I believe all young mothers must decide what is most important to them, and then not let other things interfere," said Mrs. Hamby. She has decided that she cannot participate in too wide an area and still properly care for her children, home and husband.

Mrs. Hamby sews clothing for herself and the girls. She finds knitting and crocheting relaxing, and recently crocheted a "cocktail dress," Mrs. Hamby said that when she sews, she lets everything else go and catches up on it later.

"I always hang the clothes for two or three weeks before wearing them," said Mrs. Hamby, "because I'm so thoroughly tired of the garment by the time it's finished." After a little time, she likes it again and it goes into her regular wardrobe.

Another hobby of Mrs. Hamby's is yard work. She says it takes a lot of time to do a good job, but it "sure is therapeutic" to work in the soil.

Mr. and Mrs. Hamby enjoy simple things like going out to dinner and attending movies, but recently returned from a holiday to the HemisFair and Red River, N.M. They always take the children on trips with them, however, when it is an evening with friends or local bridge once a month.

Try Spicy Cuisine For Treat

A sophisticated dish from Italian cuisine made with a thrifty cut of veal, try this spicy dish for a weekend supper.

VEAL WITH TUNA SAUCE

Cooked veal (see below)
1 cup fat-free veal stock (see below)
1 can (7 oz.) tuna in olive oil
1 cup commercial mayonnaise
Juice of 1/2 lemon (about 1 1/2 tbsps)
1 can (2 oz.) flat anchovy fillets, drained
1/4 cup drained capers
Remove strings from veal and any top surface white membrane; slice thin. Into an electric blender turn veal stock, tuna (including oil), mayonnaise, lemon juice and half the anchovy fillets; puree. Stir in two tablespoons of the capers. Spoon a little of the sauce into a serving dish — an 8 by 8 by 2 inch glass baking dish is fine. Add the veal, spooning the remaining sauce over the slices as you add them. Cover and refrigerate several hours or overnight. At serving time, cut the remaining anchovy fillets in half as a garnish; sprinkle with remaining capers. Makes six to eight servings.

VEAL AND STOCK

Into a saucepot place a boned tied neck of veal (about 2 1/4 pounds), two cups water, one teaspoon salt, one peeled carrot, one medium onion stuck with two cloves, tops of two celery ribs, several sprigs parsley and two bay leaves. Bring to a boil; cover and simmer until veal is tender when a fork inserted in center can be easily twisted — about two hours. Strain stock; chill stock and veal separately. Remove congealed fat from stock; use amount called for in above recipe and refrigerate remaining stock for another use.

Convert Cabbage To Centerpiece

A head of green or red cabbage converts to a centerpiece for an appetizer tray when the outer leaves are curled back and fastened with toothpicks downward toward the stem to form a base that balances the head.

Spear small cocktail sausages or weiners, pickled beets and onions, radishes or celery bits, shrimp or crab cheese. Stick the opposite ends of picks into the cabbage at random or in an improvised pattern.

Add Strawberries To Egg Custard

Frozen Strawberry Custard offers a delightful flavor and color combination. Select attractive molds for individual strawberry custards. Add strawberries to egg custard, and then fold in whipped cream. Turn into the molds and freeze. Delicious!

A Devotional For The Day

One of his disciples said to him, "Lord, teach us to pray."
(Luke 11:1, RSV)

PRAYER: Thou art here now with me, O Lord; and even as I talk with Thee, I am growing stronger. The darkness of doubt is clearing away and Thy light is making this day to shine for me. Thanks be to Thee, O Lord, most high. Amen.

Congestion In The Air

Events have a way of underscoring problems that are recurrent in the news of late, was startlingly dramatized by the recent collision of a light plane and an airliner over Wisconsin. The drama was intensified by what happened after the collision: The airliner, with the private plane jammed into its forward compartment between the starboard engine and the flight deck, flew 20 miles to a safe landing at Milwaukee.

Three persons, all aboard the smaller plane, died in that accident. Only luck or a quirk of fate averted death for the 11 passengers and crew on the airliner. And suppose it had been one of the giants, loaded to its capacity: Had such a plane been downed by the impact, a tragedy of awesome magnitude might have resulted.

It is this danger that brings out cold sweat on the brows of those who are responsible for controlling air traffic in the vicinity of such congested airports as those at New York, Chicago and other large cities. At a congressional hearing the other day a representative of the air traffic controllers testified that there are an average of five near-misses daily at Washington's National Airport, and that the situation is similar at other major airports.

Steps are being taken. Congress has authorized adding about 2,400 air traffic controllers. The Federal Aviation Administration is conferring with the industry to find solutions for the current emergency. But these are admittedly stopgap measures.

To handle rising air traffic safely, we need not only more control experts and facilities but also more runways and more airports. Unless we undertake a comprehensive, multi-faceted program to deal with both immediate and long-range problems, the danger seems sure to reach an intolerable level.

The Matter Of Tax Collections

Among problems brought before the Big Spring school board at its meeting this week was an issue, recurrent one — that of collecting delinquent taxes.

This is not unique with the school district, because other local agencies which depend upon ad valorem tax collections have the same problems.

Trustees studying the school problem estimated the district could collect some $110,000 if concentrated effort were put on collection. The city and county, undoubtedly, have proportionate sums outstanding.

Non-payment of taxes by some, of course, puts a heavier burden on those who do remit promptly, so the public has a major interest here. It is not too extreme to suggest that if collections were up to 100 per cent each year, there could be some rate reductions.

Naturally, there won't be such a record, and budgets are never based on 100 per cent tax revenues. But we feel that all taxing agencies could be more alert with a system of "flagging" those accounts which are behind (just as many businesses do), and take action before matters reach the stage of having to employ an attorney to file a law suit.

One of these days, if the public persists, a central tax collecting agency will handle these matters for school, city and county. A consolidation would permit the use of data processing machinery for more accurate, more prompt reports. This would be a saving to the taxpayer, and we recommend that the various boards and councils look at the matter.

Meanwhile, the public administrators themselves and their tax representatives, could do well to go over "the receivables" at regular intervals, and move for collection, not waiting until bills are two and more years old. This is good business.

Holmes Alexander Gathering Of The Kennedy Forces

WASHINGTON — The Senate session for eulogies to Robert Kennedy was solemn, sincere, succinct, disappointingly sparse in attendance on floor and in gallery to one who came in deference — and not without political shading, either.

Pell of Rhode Island reminded colleagues that he had been one of Bob's few senatorial endorers for the presidency. Pell had been a boyhood friend of the Kennedy family. But another Bob-backer was there, in the person of Tydings of Maryland. One day, early on, JFK asked me about Joe Tydings, whose school teacher I had been, and I had good reason to speak well of Joe. President Kennedy named him out of the Maryland Legislature to be a U.S. District Attorney, from which post Tydings made the Senate.

McGovern of South Dakota, now a favorite son-at-large for Kennedy delegates, was a President Kennedy appointment to be food-for-peace director — a leg up into the Senate. Birch Bayh of Indiana, solid in state politics, may not have needed help — but he's regarded as a Kennedy protégé.

Through friendship, through patronage, through appeal to ideals, through sheer force of personality, the Kennedys built up a tight little corps in the Senate. Its counterpart exists in the House of Representatives.

BOB KENNEDY had never been an inner sanctum senator. He was not close to the majority leader or to the committee chairmen who run the business of the upper chamber. Bob had his own clique, including his brother Edward, called Ted. As everybody knows, Ted became the hereditary successor to the cutoff careers of the late President and the late presidential candidate whose patronymic he shares.

WHEN SEN. Ted Kennedy declined to run for national office in 1968, he reserved his privilege to take positions on domestic and foreign affairs before the Democratic Convention. Under the circumstances, there was much more here than the declaration of one 36-year-old senator to have his say. Not only in the Senate and House, but also in the staffs that are quartered in the Senate and House office buildings, and in the press galleries and throughout the research, covers of the executive departments, and in the universities, the major publishing houses, the foundations and financial institutions — let us be expansive and say throughout all of American society — this Kennedy legion has its billets. When Ted Kennedy speaks, he speaks for the many and for the mighty.

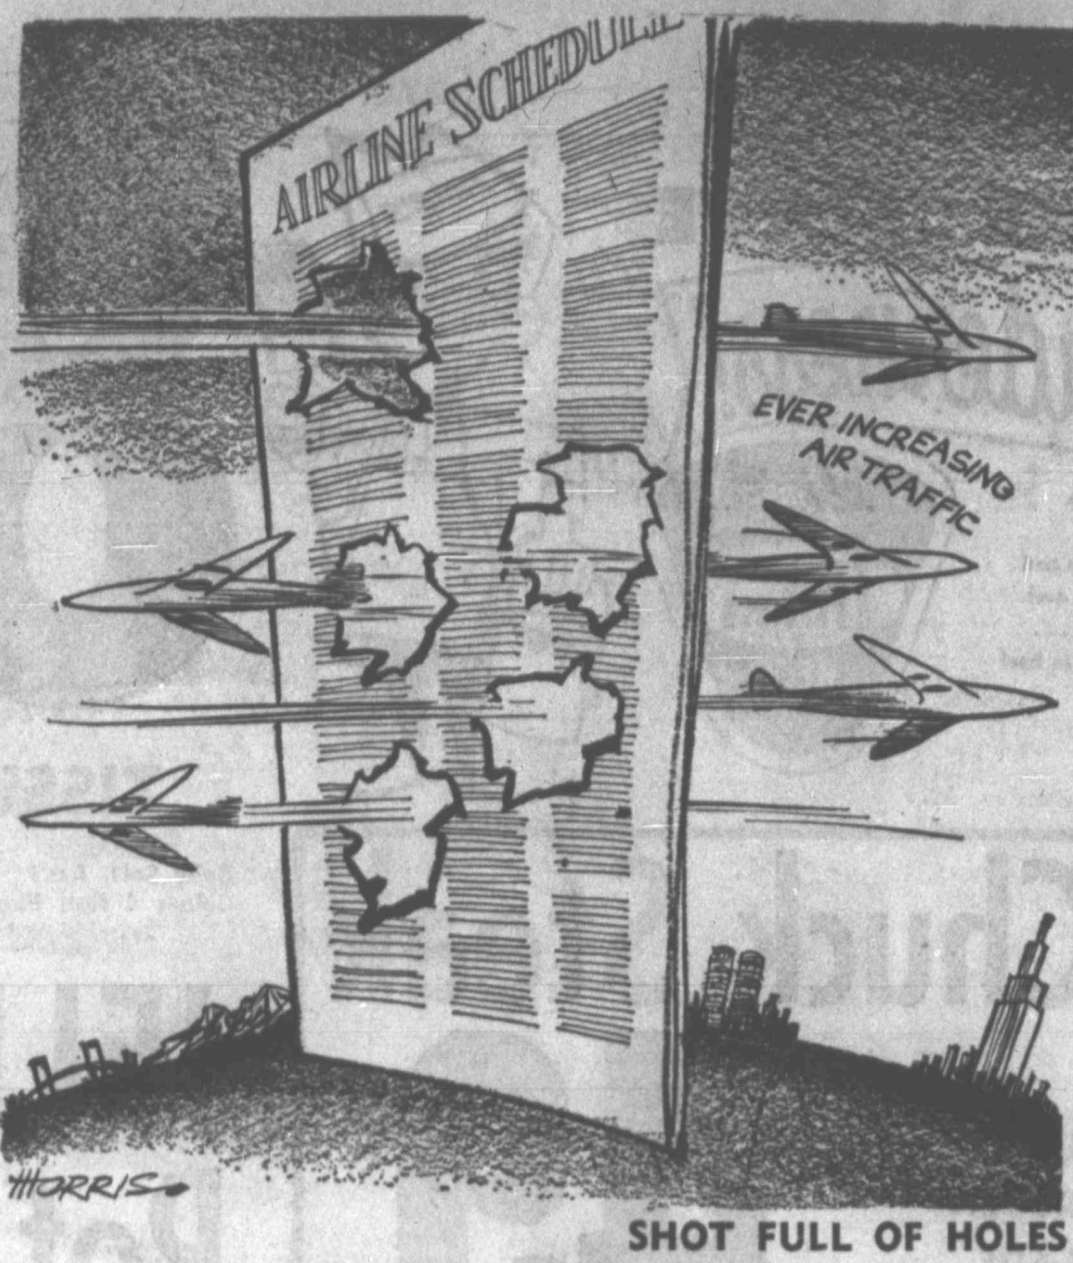

A SINISTER coalition? No, the Kennedys are for peace and share-the-wealth prosperity. And power, Regencies, dynasties, caucuses and establishments of the past often have been secretive and exclusive — thereby arousing suspicion and resentment. They have been non-democratic, thereby inviting charges of dictatorial intrigue. We'd better wait and see how the Edwardians move in on the Democratic Convention, the autumn campaigns and the incoming administration and 91st Congress. We should wait — but we should watch.

The eulogies for Bob Kennedy were not a convocation of his legionaries. They would have been inappropriate. But to one onlooker, who had come to pay respects and then allowed his mind to wander, the Senate session suggested a gathering of forces — about which we shall hear as time goes on.

One Good Turn . . .

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — There's a new way employees of the Kentucky state government can get a half-day holiday. Gov. Louie Nunn approved a time-off plan for those who donate blood to the Red Cross bloodmobile.

John Cuniff 'Inside' Information Hassle

NEW YORK (AP) — The decision this week by federal judges that some corporate officers violated the law by buying stock in their company before telling the public some awfully good news already is being called a landmark.

If this is so, then this landmark is liable to be thoroughly trampled or lost in the weeds for a while. It still will be difficult to measure misdeeds by it. And it may even confuse the confusing business of just what is "inside" information.

and misleading.

FOUR DAYS later, however, the company announced a major discovery at the site, a disclosure that naturally propelled upward the price of Texas Gulf stock, making it, in fact, one of the glamor holdings of the year.

Investigating, the Securities and Exchange Commission found that despite the cautious tone of the April 12 announcement, officers of the company had been acting very bullish. They had been buying stock and tipping friends to buy also.

This, said the SEC, was a violation of the securities laws because officers and friends had used for their own personal benefit information that everyone in the marketplace was entitled to know.

Hal Boyle Colorful TV Repairman Gigs

NEW YORK (AP) — Remarks that television repairmen get tired of hearing:

"The only difference between you and Jesse James is that Jesse rode a horse."

"What new trend pattern are you going to leave us with this time, Benji? I got kind of tired of the last one."

"I DON'T know what's wrong with it. I kicked it several times — and even that didn't seem to help."

"Why can't you fix our television set so it will stay fixed? Is that too much to ask?"

"I hear that Benji studied television repairing through a correspondence school. He must have run out of stamps after taking the second lesson."

"What! — You here again Benji? You spend more time in my living room than Walter Cronkite does."

"It was real eerie. We were just sitting there calmly watching an old Lucille Ball program, and then, instead of her voice, we heard Hubert Humphrey giving a political speech. How mixed up can a television set get?"

"I'M GIVING you one last warning, Benji. If you don't get this set in working condition in two days, I'll climb down your chimney with my next Christmas and leave it under your tree."

"What's wrong with it this time? Well, for one thing, the NBC peacock looks like a flamingo or a blushing chicken. Are peacocks supposed to have pale pink feathers?"

"Put away your screwdriver, Benji. I guess I won't need you after all. Just before you got here, I jiggled the machine a little and now it's doing fine again. Here's a quarter for your trouble."

"MY WIFE wastes whole days looking at soap operas, Benji. I'd like to make a secret deal with you. Whatever she says you to fix the set, I'll double the amount if you fix it so that it breaks down again ten minutes after you leave."

"Why is it that every television repairman, when he finds he can't make your old machine work anymore, can always refer you to an uncle or a cousin or a brother-in-law who is in the business of selling new sets? Isn't that against the antitrust laws — or something?"

"Well, Benji, if my television set has you stumped, how about looking at my laundry machine or my vacuum cleaner? They're not working either."

"Just do me one favor, Benji. Tell me who your wife calls for help when the set in your own house breaks down — and I'll give him a ring."

"I'M WARNING you Benji — my check for this job is post-dated 10 days. If our machine falls apart again in that time, I'll call the bank and tell them to stop payment."

"Well, the world can be grateful for one thing, Benji — at least you didn't take up brain surgery."

"Is this your bill — or just the federal debt?"

"We first suspected there was something wrong with it when we saw Richard Nixon addressing the Republican convention on the right side of the set, and on the left side we saw Kitty pouring Marshal Dillon a drink in the Long Branch Saloon."

To Your Good Health Care Of The Feet For A Diabetic

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: I am a woman 72 years old and I have diabetes. My feet are real tender and get sore at times. I am afraid they will get worse. What is the best way to care for my feet? — L.M.

A person with diabetes should be more careful of his feet than anyone else. The diabetic may not heal as readily in case some wound occurs. As the quality of circulation declines, there is a risk of gangrene, too. So it pays to be careful.

The tenderness you mention could be the result of disturbances in circulation, or it could be neuritis, which can occur in diabetics.

Whichever, strict control of the diabetes is important — which means sticking to your diet and being checked periodically by your doctor to make sure that you are keeping your blood sugar level under control. In addition, in his judgment, certain medications may be given to improve the circulation.

As for things you can and should do for yourself, the first rule is to keep the feet clean. And keep the feet dry. After washing, dry between the toes twice.

Cut toenails straight across, to avoid an ingrown toenail, which can be a much more serious matter if you have diabetes. For that reason, among others, wear well-fitted shoes.

Use slippers to protect your feet against stubbing a toe or stepping on anything that might penetrate the skin.

Use warm water, not hot, for washing. Avoid hot water bags or heating pads, because the diabetic is not always sensitive to heat, and there is a risk of burning or blistering the feet before you know it. Such injury is slow to heal.

Any skin disorder, excessive scaling, or so-called "athlete's foot" should be treated promptly so as to avoid cracking of the skin — and hence running the risk of an infection.

Dear Dr. Molner: My husband had about 50 per cent of his stomach removed for gastric ulcer. Every evening he drinks either three pints of beer or several shots of whisky, eats highly seasoned food, and smokes cigarettes.

He has a terrific amount of gas all the time, and I say it is caused by the above mentioned. Please comment. — Mrs. L.G.

What is there for me to say? He is ulcer-prone or wouldn't have developed that ulcer. He is (by smoking, drinking, and eating highly seasoned food) doing three of the four things he shouldn't be doing.

In short, he seems intent on bucking for another ulcer.

What are ulcers? How should they be treated? What can you do to help rid yourself of ulcers and stay rid of them? For answers, read Dr. Molner's helpful booklet, "How To Heal Peptic Ulcers and Keep Them Healed." For your copy write to Dr. Molner in care of The Herald, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 35 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Around The Rim The Perfect Prince — Until

It was quite a shock to find our five-year-old chasing about the house with a flowing cape, when the temperature outside was pushing 100 degrees. As usual, she had a succinct reply to my question.

"I'M SNOW WHITE." This, of course, came as no surprise, as her room is overflowing with books, records, paintings, and other articles of the characters made famous by Walt Disney. At bedtime, this is her favorite book for reading, and it is absolutely no use to try and turn two pages at once. She knows every page, and every word.

Next, our toddling lad of 16 months followed her through. Far as I can tell, he knows nothing of an escaping little girl, a wicked witch, and seven little men who protect her. But if his sister cavorts about with a flowing cape, he does too.

THIS, HOWEVER, fits into her plans very well. She immediately dubbed him as the prince, and bossy as only a little girl can be with a younger brother. She guides him through his paces. A stick becomes his white horse, and an old straw hat rounds out his costume.

To the more sophisticated eye, they might more aptly be prepared for an evening of "trick or treat." As it enables their elders to read a few lines of a book, who can complain, except when the chase gets a bit rowdy? So, the play has become a continuing activity.

THERE WAS ONCE, however, when the activity came to an abrupt end. Minus cape and Baby Brother, the daughter came to join me in the chair to share in my book.

"Why have you quit playing Snow White?" I asked.

With all of her indignation evident, she replied:

"The Prince wet his pants."

Who could blame a girl for giving up the game with a hero like that? — V. GLENN COOTES

David Lawrence Need For Narcotics Control

WASHINGTON — Many people may not have realized the significance of a certain pledge made by Richard M. Nixon in his speech accepting the Republican presidential nomination. He said that, if elected, he would have his attorney general "open a new front against the filth peddlers and the narcotics peddlers who are corrupting the lives of the children of this country."

IN ALL THE stories about crime — the mugging of people on the streets and the robbing of homes as well as the riots and disorders which have swept the land — prominence has been given to the racial issue or ordinary criminality as the cause of the disturbances. Much less emphasis has been placed upon the real motivation of some of the arsonists, looters and others guilty of lawlessness.

AGAIN AND again trouble has been started by what police chiefs have called "activists" or "outside agitators" of both races. Because of the confusion that has prevailed as a result of the controversy over the cause of crime and disorders, the American people have not been made conscious of just what stimulates so many teenagers to engage in acts of violence. Officials here blame much of it on the use of narcotics.

They say that all the poverty programs and appropriations to improve the cities will no do away with lawless acts by youngsters under the influence of drugs.

THERE IS ample evidence that LSD, marijuana, heroin and other drugs have been widely peddled in the United States in violation of state as well as of federal laws. A large part has been smuggled in across the Canadian and Mexican borders. In fact, customs officials estimate in their latest statistics that each year the amount imported illegally has doubled that of the preceding year.

Law-enforcement officials have for a long time been aware of the situation created by the illegal sale of narcotics. Little attention has been directed to it, however, because of a belief that riots and disturbances have been related only to a feeling of injustice on the part of what have been termed the "poor people."

BUT LOCAL police chiefs and those who have had contact with the hundreds of youngsters who have been arrested in connection with violations of law in the cities are beginning to get at the true cause — the unbalanced minds of young people who have come under the influence of narcotics. Instances of it have been noted when arrests of students have been made in campus rebellions.

Very little is said publicly about the bits of evidence that have been accumulated by law-enforcement officials which show that again and again youngsters who engage in sniping or looting or setting fire to stores or holdups in the streets to get a small amount of cash have been victims of the drug habit.

"DOPE" CONTROL has become as important in many ways as gun control. The Congress, however, has not investigated the subject thoroughly, and the whole problem has not been given the careful study it deserves by both the federal and state governments.

Art Buchwald The Humorists Pick Their Candidates

WASHINGTON — As soon as Richard Nixon and Spiro Agnew were nominated for the Republican presidential ticket, a caucus was called of all the humor columnists and political cartoonists attending the convention in Miami Beach. The purpose of the meeting was to discuss how the nominees would affect our jobs.

"I think it's an excellent choice," Russ Baker of the New York Times said. "I feel very comfortable with Nixon, and the choice of Agnew was a windfall. We would have been in real trouble if they had selected Percy or Lindsay as the running mate."

"I'M SATISFIED," said Art Hoppe of the San Francisco Chronicle. "Nixon's no Lyndon Johnson as far as humor is concerned, but then again Agnew is no Hubert Humphrey."

I agreed with both of them. "It's great to have Nixon to kick around again. I believe Rockefeller would have been tougher from our point of view, though Reagan from a humorous angle had many advantages over Nixon."

"It's all right for your columnists to talk," said cartoonist Bill Mauldin of the Chicago Sun-Times, "but we have to draw Agnew. How do you draw somebody whom nobody knows?"

HERB BLOCK, the Washington Post cartoonist, said, "We'll have an opportunity to use a Greek toga in our drawings. That's a plus."

"I like the ticket," said Paul Conrad of the Los Angeles Times. "You can't go wrong drawing Nixon in a cartoon. His nose alone is worth the whole campaign."

ART HOPPE SAID, "Are we talking about the new Nixon or the old Nixon? I've got some very funny stuff from previous campaigns on the old Nixon, but the new Nixon could give me trouble. Suppose he doesn't make any mistakes?"

"He selected Agnew as his running mate, didn't he?"

"I forgot that," Hoppe said. "Yeh, Nixon is the best the Republicans could have come up with, especially since he comes in a package with Pat, Julie and David Eisenhower."

"I move we pass a resolution thanking the Republicans on our behalf for nominating Nixon and Agnew on the Republican ticket."

"I second it," said Mauldin.

"THE NEXT business we have to take up is the Democrats. What do we do about George McGovern? He's even less known than Spiro Agnew."

"He's impossible to draw," Oliphant complained. "I say we ignore him."

"McCarthy isn't any easier," Conrad said. "The Democrats have made our lives pretty miserable."

"You can say that again. Hubert is only funny when he's got Johnson tied around his neck. What do you do with him when he becomes his own man?"

"I DON'T THINK we have to worry about that as long as Johnson's in the White House."

"All right, then we're agreed. The Democrats have let us down. I move we pass a resolution that unless they come up with somebody as funny as Lyndon Johnson or Richard Nixon we will ignore them completely and make all our space available to George Wallace."

"Second the motion."

"The ayes have it."

And that's why the Democrats decided to nominate Lester Maddox for President of the United States.

(Copyright, 1968, The Washington Post Co.)

What Others Say

How many troops on guard in Europe constitute security?

Two Democratic Senators, Stuart Symington and Mike Mansfield, have called for a prompt reduction of American troop strength in Europe, from the present 220,000 force to a mere 50,000. They say 50,000 men are sufficient as a trip wire and a warning to the Soviets to make no forward lunge.

An argument can surely be made for taking the initiative. It can be contended that, eventually, as the American reduction allayed tensions, the Soviets in turn would pull back their forces. And that an American initiative could save the Pentagon many millions of dollars.

But the administration strongly opposes a cutback at this time. Again, arguments can be made for this viewpoint. For instance: Why weaken Western strength at the precise moment when East bloc countries are in partial rebellion against Moscow?

We can see great value in approaching Moscow on the troop-reduction issue, but a unilateral withdrawal is another matter. Would it perjure Moscow to do likewise — or to plot new aggressions against the West? Before any such action, we would like to see closest consultation with NATO allies, and further soundings in Moscow regarding the prospects for mutuality. This would give better perspective, as to whether unilateral action was forewarned, or foolhardy.

U.S. EFFORTS TO FIND OUT BOGGED DOWN

Is Lull Peace Gesture?

PARIS (AP) — U.S. efforts to find out in some official way whether the lull in Communist attacks in South Vietnam is a peace gesture apparently have bogged down.

American officials at the Paris peace talks say that as far as they are concerned the question is still open. But they now put major emphasis on their contention that North Vietnam is preparing for an offensive by pouring troops and military supplies into the South at a high rate. "The disposition of the North Vietnamese forces indicates that major military attacks are in preparation," U.S. spokesman William J. Jordan told a news conference Wednesday after the weekly session of the talks.

NO INDICATION

"If North Vietnam wished to convey to us some meaning (about the purpose of the lull), they could do so readily, directly or indirectly, and so far we have had no indication whatsoever."

Jordan did not say whether U.S. Ambassador W. Averell Harriman has ever asked Ambassador Xuan Thuy or his deputies whether the lull has significance. U.S. officials say the question has not been put directly in any of the formal sessions, but they decline to say whether it has been raised in private conversation with the North Vietnamese during the coffee breaks at the meetings.

Nguyen Thanh Le, the North Vietnamese spokesman, declined to be drawn into discussion of the issue. When he was asked whether it came up in the 22-minute coffee break Wednesday, he said he only had time to drink tea. To another query on the same subject he said: "The United States continues to intensify the war in Vietnam."

Le at his news conference kept hammering at the point that "we are going to keep insisting" that the United States must stop bombing and "all other acts of war" against the territory of North Vietnam before anything else can be accomplished in the Paris talks.

BOMBING ISSUE

He seemed intent on stressing that his government's stand on the bombing issue, including its refusal to promise a parallel scale-down of military action, is absolutely firm.

The 17th session of the talks, now in their fourth month, lasted four hours Wednesday, and the statements by both Harriman and Thuy followed a hard line. Each accused the other's government of intensifying the war while talking peace. Each said the talks had made no progress because the other side was unwilling to move realistically toward peace.

Western diplomats in Paris generally believe that Hanoi's leaders may be convinced that domestic political consideration will compel Johnson to call off the bombing without any concessions from North Vietnam.

Looney Stays On Board

AUSTIN (AP) — Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin has held that J.C. Looney of Edinburg remains a member of the Texas Public Safety Commission although the Senate failed to act on his appointment this summer.

Martin told Gov. John Connally Wednesday that he must submit Looney's name or that of someone else to the Senate within 10 days after the start of the 1969 regular session in January. The senate neither confirmed nor rejected Looney's appointment during the June 4-July 3 special legislative session although Connally submitted it near the start of the session.

"Where the appointment is a recess appointment or one made to fill a vacancy in the office occurring while the Senate is not in session, the appointee is entitled to the office until the Senate acts adversely upon his nomination," Martin's opinion said. Looney was appointed Nov. 27, 1967, to fill a vacancy created on the three-man commission when Connally pulled John Peace off it and named him to the University of Texas Board of Regents.

The commission oversees the Department of Public Safety.

Kennedy Kin Paid For Info?

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Stephen Smith, a brother-in-law of the late President John F. Kennedy, has been named in a federal court petition as the man who provided $3,000 to get evidence against an attorney for James R. Hoffa.

Macin P. Davis, attorney for Z. T. Osborn Jr., filed a motion Wednesday asking that Smith of New York be required to testify at a federal court hearing here on Monday.

The motion for subpoena said Smith provided $3,000 which government investigator Walter Sheridan paid to a former Nashville policeman for information on Osborn. However, Sheridan took back the money a day later, the petition said.

Osborn was attorney for Teamsters President Hoffa when the latter went on trial here in 1962 on a conspiracy charge. A mistrial was declared and Hoffa and Osborn later were convicted of jury tampering.

Robert Vick, the former policeman, testified Osborn asked him to offer $10,000 to a prospective juror to vote for acquitting Hoffa.

The $3,000 payment to Vick allegedly was made in 1964 — after the late Robert F. Kennedy had resigned as U.S. attorney general. Sheridan was a special investigator when Kennedy headed the Justice Department.

Fugitive Gives Officers Case Containing $41,000

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Richard C. Palmer, wanted in his home state for embezzlement and purloining, surrendered to San Antonio police Wednesday night.

He gave officers a suit case containing $41,000, money he said he took from the Pittsfield, Mass., State Bank.

BAD MORNING

"One morning I just decided to hell with it, and I just grabbed the damn stuff," he told a reporter before his arraignment. "If I had had a truck, I could have gotten it all."

SPENT VERY LITTLE

"I just had to turn myself in," he related.

Police Inspector Jack Hutton said Palmer told him that he took the money from the Pittsfield bank on about July 28. The bank reported $60,000 was taken from its deposit section, Hutton said.

The police inspector said Palmer bought an automobile but left it in Springfield, Mass., and left some of the stolen money in the car.

"He said he spent very little of it," Hutton said. "I think most of it will be recovered."

"That's the only thing he doesn't want to talk about," Hutton said when asked about Palmer's family. He said the man went to Chicago from Springfield and then on to San Antonio.
