Youths Speak To Rotary On Citizenship Seminar

George Mitchell had charge of the program at Rotary Tuesday and presented Marcus Puente and Donna Grimsley who spoke on the seminar they attended in Waco recently.

The two, plus George Allan Mitchell, attended the Citizenship Seminar that was hosted by the Texas Farm Bureau on the Baylor University campus. About 450 high school juniors and seniors attended the meeting to listen to speakers who spoke on the subject of government.

Guest speakers included Dr. Clifton Gonas, president of Hardin College in Searcy, Arkansas; Dr. C.L. Kay of Lubbock Christian College; Jerry Kirk former FBI agent who infiltrated the communist party in the U.S.; Rep. Price Daniel who spoke on Texas government; Judge Roland Curry, who spoke on local government and the judicial system; and Tim Hollingsworth, a former Green Beret in Vietnam who spoke on the behind the scenes action in Vietnam and the process in which we became involved.

Marcus Puente reported to the group of Rotarians that the Communist takeover is scheduled in the United States in 1973. The Communists have never missed a takeover schedule from the first one in 1919.

Puente stated that "If we have anything to do with it, this will be the first time."

He also reported that the Communists have been working on the United States since 1936.

Every Communist take over follows the same following rules:

1. To corrupt the youth.
2. To control publicity.
3. To divide the people, usually racial problems.
4. To destroy the people's faith in the government.
5. The formation of strikes and riots.
6. To cause a breakdown in moral ethics.
7. To bring about the legislation on gun control with confiscation in mind.

These rules have not been changed or altered since the beginning of the Communist Party.

Dr. Ganus reported to the group in Waco that trade relations are involved also. He said that trade with other countries is fine as long as we can defend ourselves. The Communists depend on the element of surprise. Out of all of the Russian agreements with the U.S., Russia has only kept one--to go to war with Japan in World War II. And then, Russian entered the war, only when she knew who the victor was going to be.

A quote from John F. Kennedy states "Russia and China have never given up on their goal to control the world."

Dr. Ganus gave the three ways he believes would stop communism: a thorough knowledge of the enemy; everyday patriotism; and the belief of God.

Puente also reported to the group that Gus Hall, a leader in the U.S. Communist Party, advocates that the American People should surrender themselves to the communists.

Puente quoted Pravda, the official Communist newspaper as printing a story of the United States claiming that all boys in the U.S., 8 to 14 years of age, were forced to participate in military action. This action being the Boy Scouts which Pravda reported to be learning different kinds of warfare. Pravda also reported that every woman in the U.S. was made to work 10 hours a day for 25¢ an hour.

Puente then pointed out the fact that the U.S. has seven per cent of the total world population, but produces 50 percent of the production in the world. That means that seven per cent of the population does 50 per cent of the total production.

He also reported that 53 per cent of the U.S. population has a yearly income of $10,000 and that America has the richest poor people in the world.

Puente then explained the four main systems of government he learned at the seminar which were Communitarism, Socialism, Communisum and Capitalism.

In explaining the differences between Socialism and Communism, Puente said that Socialism is a gradual change like evolution, but Communism comes into being by violent revolution.

He also learned that there is a proven curcuit to human life. Beginning with bondage, people find spiritual awareness which leads to freedom which brings about productivity, which brings about selfishness and apathy which eventually leads back to bondage.

America is now in the stage of selfishness and apathy, but the people must find a way to short curcuit the human curcuit and find a way back to productivity and being the first in the world.

Now the United States finds itself in second place in many world things including nuclear warfare.

Puente then talked about the youth of America and said that the nation believes what the youth believes. The majority of the youth are not pro-communist, but anti-communist. These youths love their country and most are ready to defend it.

Donna Grimsley then spoke to the Rotarians and presented them with the following basic facts:

She said that two-thirds of the world is now communists

HIGH WATER...After some heavy showers in the south and west parts of Bailey County Monday afternoon, this rural road that intersects with Farm Road 1760 about eight miles south of Muleshoe was a fast-moving river. Water ran across the highway about a foot deep, and the Texas Highway Department erected water on the road signs for passing motorists. A large amount of moisture was received in this part of the county and out near Progress, but only a trace was recorded within the Muleshoe City Limits.

Jackie Tate Drowns In Snyder Flooding

A longtime Muleshoe resident, Mrs. Cora (Jackie) Barrington Tate, 69, was drowned Sunday in flooding at Snyder when the car in which she was riding was swept into a normally dry creek 13 miles north of Snyder of SH 208.

Investigating officers said the driver of the car, Mrs. Lois Barrington, 69, of Lubbock, was able to crawl through a window of the sinking automobile and was rescued by another motorist.

Mrs. Tate was the sister-in-law of Mrs. Barrington. Mrs. Tate was trapped in the auto, which was pulled from about 15 feet of water by an oil company winch truck.

Mrs. Barrington told investigating officers that a bus and pickup truck traveling the opposite direction created waves, which swept the car off the road, Department of Public Safety records show.

Mrs. Tate lived in Muleshoe since 1929, moving here from Abilene. She was a native of Mills County and operated a kindergarten here for many

Farmers, Ranchers Project Good Image

AUSTIN-- Farmers and ranchers have a good image in the view of city people if public opinion research conducted in the Dallas metropolitan area holds true in other urban centers around the state and country.

The Texas Farm Bureau commissioned the farmer-rancher image study by Management Advisory Associates, a Dallas firm heded by Dr. James Makens who is on the faculty of the University of Dallas.

Results of the survey were made known here Thursday (Aug. 10) at a meeting of county Farm Bureau presidents. The study indicates that a "reservior of good will" toward farmers and ranchers exists in urban centers, Dr. Makens said.

A stratified random sampling procedure was used to select respondents from the city of Dallas. This insured the inclusion of various income brackets and minorities. The survey was conducted by both mail and personal interviews. Suburban respondents were selected through the use of a simple random sample. Stratification was not attempted in the suburbs.

The overall image of farmers and ranchers held by Dallas metropolitan residents was favorable, the study concluded. This was true for city and suburban residents, as well as for members of the minorities.

The farmer-rancher was believed to be politically conservative. Respondents tended to believe he was against welfare but did not know how he stood in the Vietnam War.

He was viewed as being efficient by a majority of the respondents. Comparative efficiency ratings revealed that the farmer-rancher is considered to be more efficient than auto workers, brick layers, fellow workers of the respondents, office workers, construction workers and general factory workers. Only accountants and enginneers were rated higher than farmers and ranchers in efficiency.

The majority opinion was that farmers and ranchers are not living off the American taxpayer. Respondents also expressed mixed feelings tending overall toward neutrality on the issue of whether or not farmers and ranchers receive large subsidies. In addition, it was somewhat felt that the farmer-rancher believes subsidies to be necessary but ineffective in serving their purpose.

The farmer-rancher is definitely not viewed as a major cause of inflation or as responsible for high food prices in the U.S. today. He is viewed, however, as believing that he is not getting his fair share of the purchase dollar.

The farmer-rancher is viewed as being opposed to welfare, but not as a person who is unfair to or against migrant workers and sharecroppers. However, nearly half the sample believed him to be somewhat prejudiced against minority groups. The minority community holds a better opinion of the farmer-rancher's relationship with sharecroppers than do residents living in the city or suburbs.

In terms of ecological issues, he was viewed as being interested in conservation. The majority of the respondents did not believe that the farmer-rancher uses insecticides and pesticides without concern for wildlife.

He was not viewed as being self-centered and interested in farm-ranch problems with no regard for the problems of the cities. However, respondents did feel that farmers and ranchers believe city dwellers are unaware of and uninterested in farm-ranch problems.

It is in the field of education that the image of the farmer-rancher somewhat slips. Respondents were divided in opinion as to whether or not the farmer-rancher is well educated.

The personal life of the farmer-rancher was also viewed in a favorable light. He was thought of as being opposed to divorce and as having better church attendance than others.

Farmers and ranchers were generally not viewed as having high annual incomes or as being in better or worse shape financially than the respondents.

With respect to organization and size, the farmer-rancher was not considered to be an employee of a big corporation or highly dependent upon them. Nevertheless, there was fairly general agreement that the farmer-rancher is highly mechanized in his farm-ranch operations.

There were mixed feelings concerning the power of the farmer-rancher in state and national politics in general, but moderate agreement that he is powerful in the state of Texas.

Dr. Makens, who has conducted market research studies for a number of nationally-known corporations, said that he believed similar studies in other metropolitan areas of Texas would reveal similar attitudes to those found in Dallas.

The Farm Bureau commissioned the study to find out if an aggressive advertising campaign was needed to improve the farmer-rancher's image. Dr. Makens advised that such a campaign now would be "unwarranted," but said the current image might change in the future.

"The city youth might hold different opinions than today's adults as they reach voting age," he said.

Congressman Bob Price

In testimony submitted to the House Judiciary Committee, Congressman Bob Price called for legislation to "help halt the soaring crime rate without jeopardizing the citizen's basic right to possess and use firearms for legitimate purposes."

In response to Committee hearings on gun control legislation, Price expressed opposition to legislation which would arbitrarily deprive citizens of their right to purchase or own firearms, calling such measures unworkable and unconstitutional. "We must instead place the burden of the law on those persons who deliberately and willingly abuse the privilege of owning firearms," Price said.

The Congressman called for enactment and strict enforcement of laws that would 1) prohibit fireamrs sales by dealers to persons under voting age; 2) require adequate adult supervision for use of firearms by juveniles; 3) control the importation of all fireamrs and their component parts; 4) control all machine guns and destructive devices; 5) require licensing of manufacturers, importers, dealers, and pawn brokers, and their keeping of suitable records; and 6) require, under reasonable and specific conditions, a license for the carrying of a handgun concealed on the person.

Price also urged the upgrading and better equipping of Stage and local police forces, the streamlining of the criminal justice and penal systems, and the stepping up of penalties for crimes committed with a gun.

with only 5 per cent having known freedom.

A poll taken of college students showed that 67% of them would rather surrender to the communists than fight.

For the United States to be even with Russia, the U.S. would have to cut living standards by three-fourths.

There are 12 stages of Communism: plan to conquer; organization which they call common form; infiltration into the country; subversion; agitation; demonstration; riots; selective incidents of violence against people who are against the communists to cause terror; guerella warfare; para-military activity where military leaders join revolutionaries; civil war; and communist intervension.

Miss Grimsley reported that the Communists can reproduce money to destroy the economy.

Engles, a leader in the Communist Party, says "we do not promise freedom or any type of democracy."

In Russia, she reported, the communist outlook is first given when a child is in the first grade. The teachers are to follow a communist guideline for teaching.

A child is not told anything of God except that religion is a fairy tale, not to be believed.

She also presented some surprising facts on the U.S. such as three out four kids are on drugs; the number one killer is mental illness; the number three killer is suicide; and Americans spend $9 million a year on "getting away from it all."

She also read the following quotes: "America is great because America is good; when America ceases to be good, America will cease to be great." Another quote was by J. Edgar Hoover, "A nation thrives and perishes on what it believes to be true."

She summed up her talk by saying, that if we ignore history, then we are bound to repeat it.

Some other basic facts that the three youths learned at the seminar were that the clenched fist, a symbol of black power in the U.S. is really the official communist salute. Also, the so-called peace sign is an anti-Christ symbol first used in ancient times by athiest and witches to show that they did not believe in God. This symbol also signifies a broken cross turned upside down and the communists have promised to break the arms of religion.

gram, guest speakar and drawing for prizes for Foundation members. This year there will be no speaker and the prizes will be awarded to everyone registering whether they are members of the Foundation or not, Dr. Longnecker said.

In addition, three $25 savings bonds donated by area businesses will be awarded at the conclusion of each of the field tours. These savings bonds will be awarded by drawing and everyone making the tour will be eligible to win.

The field tours will feature four research Scientists at two stops to discuss various facets of Foundation research activities and general agricultural conditions.

As in past Field Day and Open House, research facilities will be open for inspection and area agricultural agencies and commercial agricultural businesses will have displays. According to Jack Cloude, in charge of the display areas, more than 30 exhibit spaces have been reserved and that many more are expected.

Entertainment during the day will be provided by area musicians.

One special display will exhibit triticale foods and serve food samples throughout the day.

At the conclusion of activities, a drawing for a color television will be conducted. Anyone registering during Field Day and Open House is eligible to win.

The Sandhills Philosopher

Editor's note: The Sandhill Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm may be getting in the way of progress again, his letter this week indicates.

Dear editar:

Although it hasn't been established how high up a man owns space above his land, it is generally conceded that he owns as far down as you can go; however an item I read in a newspaper last night may unloose a legal bag of worms on that point that even the Supreme Court won't be able to handle.

According to this item, scientists, I suppose maybe having discovered that once you get a hundred thousand miles out in space, going any further is about as fascintating as adding another story on a hundred-story building, are now turning their thoughts to the inside of the earth.

They want to see how far down they can go, to see what's down there bring back rock samples, that sort of thing.

This is all right with me, a man can spend his time like he pleases, even devote his entire life to playing chess, so long as it's him doing it and not me, but here's the situation; if these earth-digging scientists go far enough down they're going to be trespassing on everybody in the world who owns as much as one city lot.

If a man owns everything under his land, all the way down to the center of the globe, then what he owns is a piece of the earth shaped like a pyramid turned upside down, and naturally at the very center everybody's land narrows down to something less than needle-point size.

This invites some of the worst squabbling the world has ever seen.

Say for example oil is discovered right at the center. Who could figure out what share goes to what individual, what share to what nation? Or say there's molten gold there and if everybody could get his share he'd never have to work again, or if it was divided among everybody nobody would ever have to work again, or if it was divided among everybody nobody would every have to work again?

There are times when it can argued that it's a pity the earth isn't flat and that Columbus didn't sail off the edge of it as he was warned instead of discovering America. Atleast it sure would have saved us a ot of money in foreign aid, foreign wars, etc.

Yours faithfully,
J.A.

COTTON TALKS

FROM PLAINS COTTON GROWERS, INC.

Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., Lubbock-based commodity organization with members in 25 High Plains counties, has budgeted $173,500 for 1972-73 activities in behalf of High Plains cotton and cotton producer interests, according to Ray Joe Riley of Hart, PCG President.

The July 1 to June 30 budget was reduced from the 1971-72 budget level of $199,450. Riley said "It is a lean budget designed to bring the organizatin's outgo more in line with its income without curtailing benefits to the membership more than is absolutely necessary." PCG is primarily supported by 15 cents-per-bale dues from cotton growers, and revenue was greatly reduced by the short crop of only 1,279,-000 bales harvested in 1971-72. Average annual production from the 25 PCG counties for the previous 10 years is over 1,-800,000 bales.

PCG money is spent to improve the conditions under which High Plains cotton is grown and marketed in a number of ways. Included are production research, legislative and administrative representation on cotton-related matters in Washington and Austin, advertising and promotion with domestic and foreign cotton spinners, fiber research and services to domestic and foreign textile mills.

Finance Committee Chairman Loyd Cline of Lamesa said "We believe we can operate in 1972-73 on this reduced budget without seriously impairing our long range objectives, and we hope to get back to normal with a bumper crop in 1972."

Biggest cuts in the budget from last year's figures came in two areas--agricultural research, and advertising and public relations. Considerable money is now coming to established research institutions in the are from Cotton Incorporated, the national producer arm of the cotton industry supported by the dollar-a-bale program. An estimated $175,000 is allocated by Cotton Incorporated for production and research relating primarily to High Plains eneeds.

"For this reason," Riley said, "our research grants-in-aid were reduced from $23,950 in 1971-72 to $16,000 this year. With limited funds available, we felt more of the producer's 15 cents per bale on the Plains could be used for other needs, and that the $1 per bale that goes to Cotton Incorporated from our producers here could carry a bigger share of the agricultural research load." What we spend for agricultural research now, he continued, will be "seed money" for promising research when funds can't be had from any other source.

The advertising and public relations budget was reduced even more, from $25,000 in 1971 to $16,000 this year. Officials explained that the primary purpose of PCG advertising has been to make and keep the U.S. and world textile industries aware of High Plains cotton developments and of PCG services. They expressed hope that past advertising would help carry the organization and the area through at least a year of reduced expenditures. About half the reduction in this item will be accomplished by printing and mailing the organization's membership newsletter, the "PCG Cotton Review", every other month instead of on a monthly basis.

Other major budget items include Salaries and Employee Retirement ($62,500, down from $65,000 last year). Travel ($17,500, unchanged), Fiber Research and Textile Services ($10,000, down from $12,000) Domestic and Export Market Development ($5,000 unchanged).

Remaining items in the budget consist of rent, legal and audit fees, insurance, payroll and property taxes, depreciation and other general costs of doing business.

Simple Picnic Dessert

Summer brings many outdoor activities which consume our energy so we must be on the alert always to include a high level of foods which supply food energy.

Picnics mean relaxation, fun, and probably a few games, too. To make the cook's role easy be sure and plan picnic menus that are portable with a minimum of time and work involved. For desserts bring along this simple cake with broiled frosting. Carry to the picnic right in the baking pan! Bake a 13x9 inch cake and while it's in the oven, combine 1/3 cup butter, softened, 3/4 cup firmly packed brown sugar, 3 tablespoons cream, 1-1/3 cups flaked coconut, and 1/3 cup chopped nuts. Spread it over the hot cake and broil, about 3 inches from the heat, for 3 minutes.

Miss Bowers, Mrs. Powell Selected As Outstanding Young Women

Dorothy Virginia Bowers and Mrs. Kenneth (Rosa Lee) Powell have been selected Outstanding Young Women of America for 1972, according to an announcement today by the Muleshoe Branch of the American Association of University Women. They were nominated by the organization earlier this year on the basis of their achievements.

Now in its eighth year, the Outstanding Young Women of America Program recognizes young women between the ages of 21 and 35 for their contributions to the betterment of their communities, professions and country.

More than 6,000 young women are nominated annually as Outstanding Young Women of America by civic organizations, churches and college alumni associations throughout the country. Complete biographical sketches of all nominees are featured in the annual awards publication, "Outstanding Young Women of America."

The women included in the 1972 edition are now in competition for further state and national awards. This fall, fifty of them--one from each state--will be named as their state's Outstanding Young Woman of the Year. From the fifty state winners, the national Ten Outstanding Young Women of America for 1972 will be selected.

The Outstanding Young Women of America Program was conceived--and is today guided--by leaders of the nation's major women's organizations. Serving on the program's Board of Advisors are the national presidents of women's clubs, headed by Mrs. Dexter otis Arnold, honorary president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs.

In November, the 1972 edition of "Outstanding Young Women of America" will be published. The volume, to be distributed nationally as a reference publication, will include special introductory messages by U.S. Rep. Martha Griffiths (D-Mich.) and Amy Vanderbilt, the nation's leading etiquette authority.

BOOK SERVICE...Cindy Harvey, left, and Rebecca Phelps, junior volunteers, assist members of the Muleshoe Hospital and Nursing Home Auxiliary in offering library books to residents of the Nursing Home and to Hospital patients in cooperation with the Muleshoe Area Public Library.

Library Books Offered To Nursing Home Residents

This summer a new service was started at the West Plains Memorial Hospital and Nursing Home through the cooperation of the Hospital Auxiliary and the Muleshoe Area Public Library.

Ann Camp, librarian, sorted out a selection of books which could be read by the patients in the hospital and Nursing Home considering such things as being comfortable to hold in bed, large enough print, length novel and interest.

The Auxiliary women added the books to the juice cart, which is run twice a day in the Nursing Home and every morning in the hospital. These books are offered on a loan basis. The Auxiliary appointed a chairman, Mrs. Max Bush, to be in charge and she keeps the cart supplied with books and also keeps a list of rooms where the books are loaned.

Mrs. Bush comments, "The patients seem to appreciate this thoughtful service, and certainly the Hospital Auxiliary appreciates the opportunity to circulate good books from our area library, and also appreciates the help and cooperation of Ann Camp and her staff at the Library."

Junior volunteers have helped with this service during the summer months.

Market Report

COLLEGE STATION--"Refreshing fruits and crisp vegetables team for perky salads during the warm days of August when appetites seem to lag," according to Mrs. Gwendolyne Clyatt, consumer marketing specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

"In good supply at the most economical prices this week are grapes, cantaloupe, watermelons, plums, nectarines, peaches and lemons," she noted.

So are pineapples, potatoes, carrots, cabbage, cucumbers, green peppers, celery, blackeye, purple hull and cream peas and dry yellow onions.

According to the Texas A&M University specialist, retail beef prices are generally the same for the past few weeks.

"Look for best beef values on chuck roasts and steaks, ground beef, round steaks and roasts and liver," she added.

Retail pork prices remain unchanged from prices for the past two weeks. Best pork values generally are found on hams and ham portions, picnics, shoulder roasts and steak plus end cut loin roasts and chops.

Mrs. Clyatt reported an economical buy on eggs for the season with Grade A large-size eggs showing the best value.

"Fryer chickens remain an excellent choice when you consider nutrition, quality and price," she said.

All Primary Expenses Will Not Be Funded

AUSTIN--The few remaining earmarked to pay for the 1972 primary elections will be sent to county officials on Friday, but not all of the primaries' expenses will have been paid.

That's the message today from Secretary of State Bob Bullock, the state's chief election official.

"By the weekend, we will have officially disbursed all the money that was originally appropriated to pay for the 1972 primary elections," said Bullock.

"But, we have flat run out of money before all the costs have been paid," he added.

"This has put many local county chairmen between a rock and a hard place. A lot of election workers, not to mention printers and other suppliers, have yet to be paid for their work."

Bullock said about $325,000 is needed to cover the remaining costs statewide.

"We believe the only fair way to disburse the remaining monies is on a pro-rata basis. This means that each county chairman who still has an outstanding expense for the primaries will receive a disbursement which amounts to 26.66 per cent of their remaining bilis."

"When we have paid all the county chairmen, we will not have one cent remaining of the 42,150,000 appropriated to pay for conducting the 1972 primary elections," Bullock said.

Bullock said that the remaining expenses "apparently will hava to ride" until the 63rd Legislature, which meets in January, can tke action on the situation. "I can find no other cource of funds available at this time."

Economic Stabilization Questions and Answers

This column of questions and answers on the President's Economic Stabilization Program is provided by the local office of the U.S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service. The column answers questions most frequently asked about wages and prices.

Q. My landlord has been charging me for cable TV service as part of my rent. He recently discontinued the service. Is this an increase in rent?

A. Yes. Any decrease in service by a landlord is an increase in rent. As a result he must either restore the service or reduce your rent by the amount the service had cost him.

Q. I know that a pay practice previously set forth and in existence before Nov. 14, 1971, is allowed to operate according to its terms, subject to challenge. Would the mere announcement of a proposed pay increase before Nov. 14, 1971, constitute a pay practice previously set forth?

A. No. The mere announcement of a proposed increase before Nov. 14, 1971, without specifying the amount of the increase, a method or formula for determining such amount, whether the increase would be applicable to certain or all employees of the company, or the dates such an increase would be put into effect, does not constitute a pay practice previously set forth.

Q. Where an individual controls two corporations and the two corporations have an average of 55 and 45 employees, respectively are either of the corporations exempt?

A. No. A firm is exempt from the Economic Stabilization Regulations, if it has an average of less than 60 employees. Since the two corporations are controlled by the same individual, they are considered to be a single firm. Consequently, the employees are combined and the corporations are not exempt.

Q. Is it a violation of Pay Board regulations to bargain for a wage increase in excess of stabilization regulations without paying or receiving the increase?

A. No. It is not a violation to bargain for, request, contract, or agree to a wage and salary increase above that permitted by stabilization regulations as contrasted with paying or receiving such an increase. However, such a situation would constitute a violation if the Pay Board has denied the party's appeal from a detemination by the IRS, or rendered a decision on a pay challenge or request for an exception. In addition, the Pay Board has made it clear that it is a violation to agree to increase wages and salaries upon the termination of controls by an amount necessary to restore wage increases denied by the Board.

Q. Does the IRS have a publication explaining how to apply for an economic stabilization ruling or interpretation?

A. Yes. IRS Publication S-3009, "IRS Rulings and Determinations," explains how to request a ruling or interpretation, how to appeal an interpretation and how to request a reconsideration of a ruling. It can be obtained free by dropping a postcard to your Internal Revenue district office.

Q. Which custom-made products and services are exempt from price controls?

A. The following products are exempt from price controls when custom made to individual order: leather goods, wigs and toupees, fur apparel and jewelry. These custom services are exempt when provided to individual order: tailoring of clothing, framing of pictures and mirrors and taxidermy.

Q. If an employee has increased duties and responsibilities which are not considered a promotion, may he receive a pay raise without regard to the 5.5 percant wage and salary standard?

A. No. All wage and salary increases are subject to the 5.5 percent standard unless specifically exempted of expected. Bona fide promotions have been exempted. However, increased duties and responsibilities which do not constitute an actual promotion are not exempt. Therefore, such increases are subject to the 5.5 percent standard.

Consider not pleasures as they come, but as they go.

Where any ad valorem tax has theretofore been pledged for the payment of any debt, the taxing officers of the political subdivision shall have authority to continue to levy and collect the tax against the homestead property at the same rate as the tax so pledged until the debt is discharged, if the cessation of the levy would impair the obligation of the contract by which the debt was created."

Editorial

Newsmen & Secrets

Congressman Charles Whalen (R-O) has introduced a bill which would legally establish the rights of newsmen to remain silent about their sources of news.

The idea is that newsmen must clearly be extended the unique privilege, even in court, of withholding the names of sources of news or information, because without this protection their sources will dry up. In effect, that would mean the people's sources of information had dried up.

Whalen points out that the courts have been somewhat ambiguous in defining reporters' rights and that only eighteen states have enacted laws doing so. The Supreme Court has indirectly suggested Congress do so.

Thus some form of federal legislation seems unquestionably desirable. Whalen himself admits changes might be found desirable in his bill, and ascertaining them, of course, is the purpose of committee hearings.

Such a law is desirable, in the public interest, though it should not give newspapers or self-centered news-sensationalists the right to steal confidential or secret government documents and print them. Too much damage has already been caused by unwise public disclosure of security data.

Aside from this exception, which should be clear, a law protecting newsmen's sources is highly desirable.

NEWS REPORT FROM WASHINGTON

Democrats & 1972
G.O.P. & 1972-
Kennedy, Rocky-
Connally, Spiro-

Washington, D. C. -- The strangest part of this year's presidential election is that more than half the candidates appear to be aiming for 1976, rather than 1972.

There is a rather widespread conviction the Democrats are sure to lose this year; in the view of some seasoned political observers that is why several top Democrats with national potential weren't interested in being Senator George McGovern's running mate. Among them, of course, is Senator Edward Kennedy, whose strategy is to get the top nomination in 1976.

If McGovern is defeated badly, he is not likely to be the party candidate in 1976 and there are few other Democrats in the running. One who would normally be considered is John Connally, who has been of so much help to President Nixon. But the latest rumor concerning Connally is that he might be more interested in running as the Republican candidate!

If he is to switch parties by 1976, and become a candidate for the G.O.P. nomination, he is likely to have much competition.

There are indications Governor Nelson Rockefeller may join the Nixon team during its last four years (if the President is re-elected) and he is then likely to be a contender.

Vice President Spiro Agnew, after serving eight years as Vice President, will have good credentials. He is highly popular with party leaders and state party organizations and is likely to be even more popular four years hence.

At one time Bob Finch was considered the man President Nixon would groom as his successor but little speculation currently concerns him. Instead, interest centers on several rising stars in the party, one of them being Senator Bob Taft, but he may be more than four years away. Governor Ronald Reagan is young enough to be in consideration four years hence. There are others.

If Connally, then, switches parties and makes a 1976 bid, he is likely to find himself up against Rockefeller, among others, the man many easterners feel can most handily defeat Edward Kennedy in 1976.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN, TEX.--Rep. Price Daniel Jr. of Liberty apparently will take over the House of Representatives speakership without opposition next January.

Withdrawal of Rep. Frank Calhoun of Abilene from the speaker's race last week, after concluding that Daniel was too far out front to catch, left the 31-year-old attorney from Liberty free of a major challenger.

Rep. James E. Nugent of Kerrville, who had planned to enter the contest earlier, endorsed Daniel.

Before Calhoun's withdrawal, Daniel claimed more than 100 commitments from House members or nominees.

"So many of the old and new members had committed to my opponent before I got into the race, that my continuance in the campaign would place a burden on my supporters that I do not fee justified in causing," said Calhoun.

Daniel, son of former Governor Price Daniel, came from a long way back to emerge as the shoo-in candidate for speaker.

When Rep. Rayford Price of Palestine won the post in special session last spring after resignation of former Speaker Gus Mutscher, he was considered a cinch to keep the job during the 63rd Legislature.

But Price was defeated for re-election to his House seat in the June 3 Democratic runoff primary by Rep. Fred Head of Troup.

Daniel, meanwhile, had been busy rounding up commitments from incumbent lawmakers and new nominees. He tries to dodge being labeled a liberal and prefers the term "progressive." He has emphasized need for legislative reform and is pledged to hold the speakership only one term.

"Safety Course Offered"--Texans who complete a new defensive driving course after September 1 can become eligible for a 10 percent reduction in their annual auto insurance policies.

Texas Safety Association has accepted responsibility for coordinating the National Safety Council course.

The course will cost about $10 or less per person, and the resulting credit is good for three years.

Individual savings over the three-year period are estimated at about $45-- or $43 million statewide. Duplications are not allowed for the new course in addition to the driver training course.

In families with two or more cars, the principal drivers of each car will have to take the course to qualify for credit on all vehicles. After the three-year period, the course must be repeated by drivers to continue qualification for the 10 per cent credit.

"Parties Certified"-- Two new political parties, La Raza Unida and the Social Workers Party, have been certified for places on the November 7 general election ballot in Texas.

Secretary of State Bob Bullock said it was his duty to certify the parties since they filed more than the required number of 22,365 signatures necessary for ballot position.

The American Party and the New Party, which did not file enough signatures, seek to get on the ballot anyway by federal court action.

La Raza Unida is waging an aggressive campaign for governor, with Ramsey Muniz of San Antonio as its candidate. Both parties also have candidates for U.S. senator, Lieutenant governor and most other major statewide offices.

"Special Session Cooling"--Governor Preston Smith may be cooling a little on the idea of a September special session on insurance reform, but he insists the idea is still alive.

"I'm pretty flexible," said Smith. "If somebody can bring me in some facts that would show me there would be no purpose served in calling a session, I would not even pretend to be in a mood to waste $33,000 a day (estimated session cost) of the taxpayer's money.

On the other hand, Smith said, if he could be shown that legislation to reduce insurance rates could be passed, he would not hesitate to summon lawmakers back to work.

Main business of the session, he indicated, would be a proposal for competitive insurance rates, which he said are in effect in 49 states. He seemed to be backing off his proposal to abolish the present insurance regulatory board.

"I don't know that we will attempt to abolish the board," he said. "If we come to the conclusion it would be helpful, we will. If we don't, we won't. We'll know something (about whether to call a special session) in a couple of weeks."

"To Build Or Not To Build"--The Highway Department, frustrated repeatedly in its plan to erect a new $20 million state headquarters near the capitol, has asked the attorney general to clarify whether it can legally proceed with construction.

After the department was ready to advertise for bids, the Legislature called for a re-evaluation of the site, which was made. Finding: the site was the best available. After that, the Legislature appropriated $1.5 million to the Parks and Wildlife Department to buy the building site (a barren city block which served a s a parking lot) and make a scenic park out of it. Governor Smith then vetoed the appropriation. That left the Highway Department confused as to what to do next. It can't desert the site without being paid for it.

"DDT Banned' --DDT registrations in Texas will be cancelled August 31 with few exceptions, Agriculture Commissioner John C. White announced.

White had banned DDT registration for household use earlier under Pesticide Advisory Committee recommendations. The Committee said the action would have little impact on Texas agriculture.

Exceptions will permit registration for DDT to use on stored sweet potatoes, disease control programs by public health officials, in prescription drugs and by the U.S. Department of Agriculture and the military in health quarantine programs.

"Appointments"--- Aubrey Edwards of Big Lake was named district attorney of the 83rd judicial district, to replace William H. Earney of Marfa who resigned.

H.E. Knox of New Braunfels was named by Smith to the board of directors of the Guadalupe-Blanco River Authority.

"Short Snorts"--The Governor has requested the federal pay board to approve a pay raise for state employees September 1.

Texas Conservation Foundation voted to buy three acres of the Big Thicket (a portion of the Marysee Prairie in Liberty County).

New state bank applications have been filed for Harlingen (two), Addicks (Harris county), and South Houston.

Federal health care grants sought by groups in Crystal City ($391,206) and Laredo ($18,968) met gubernatorial veto due to alleged lack of coordination.

A state regulation requiring catfish to be at least 11 inches long has been scrapped except in the northeast regulatory district.

Texas Rehabilitation Commission reported 2,998 Texans with mental health problems and 2,668 who are mentally retarded received rehabilitation services during the last year.

House and Senate members spent more than $1.9 million in expense funds allocated to them during the last fiscal year, according to a new state auditor's report.

'Come Home America'

The Drill

All those happy citizens who have suffered the grim terror and even cowardice from fear of a dentist's drill can--perhaps--take heart.

From the Tufts University school of dental medicine comes reports that two researchers have discovered a chemical compound which eats away decayed parts of teeth in a few minutes without harming the healthy parts. This may eventually largely eliminate drilling in decayed teeth.

The news is extremely premature and The American Dental Association warns that bright prospects now envisioned by some might not materialize or may be years in doing so,

Nevertheless, for faint hearts who would like to flee in utter terror from waiting rooms before called into the dentist's chair, the new compound, GK-101, is a ray of hope at the end of a long-drilled tunnel.

COMMITTEE ON ARMED SERVICES

The Rules Committee of the house of Representatives, in a bold action this week, removed from the House Judiciary Committee a proposed Constitutional Amendment which would prohibit forced massive busing in our public school systems. In so doing, the members of the Rules Committee exercised a power it seldom uses and moved in spite of the House leadership. But that action means that a vote in the House is now likely to come about on this very important issue.

In the Senate, I am sponsoring an identical Constitutional Amendment. It would state that "no public school student shall, because of his race, creed or color, be assigned to or required to attend a particular school.' "

The recent decision by the Courts in Detroit, Michigan, ordering busing for more than 350,000 students at a cost of 100 million dollars a year, shows the enormity and the absurdity of the current situation. In Texas, we have had numerous examples of court-ordered busing which serves to disrupt the educations of students at great cost.

The provision of a high quality education for all our young people, regardless of race or social background, should be the goal. But it is wrong to take action which lowers the quality of education in an effort to insure that all children receive an equal education. That is the result of too much of the federal court actions we have experienced. Compulsory busing lowers educational opportunities. It forces school districts to spend financial resources, already spread to thinly, on buses and drivers instead of books and teachers. It forces students to spend time on buses instead of with their studies or on the educationally- broadening extracurricular activities associated with school. We must not lose sight of the goal, as the courts seem to have done. We must provide a high quality education at every neighborhood school without requiring massive busing of children long distances from their homes.

When the Senate had before it this year's Higher Education Act, it ducked the busing issue. The bill did contain a provision to stay busing orders on appeal or new busing orders until all appeals are exhausted, or until the end of 1973, whichever is earlier; but it did not affect the great majority of busing already going on in this country. No actin was taken to prohibit federal judges from ordering still more busing and thus further disrupting the educational process.

This is why I am so very pleased with the recent action in the House. If that body can pass a Constitutional Amendment to prohibit forced massive busing, it will place increased pressure upon the Senate to follow suit. I do not know if my Senate colleagues will approve such a Constitutional Amendment, this time, but I shall continue my efforts to urge them to do so.

I am working for a Constitutional Amendment, because it is the surest method for effective prevention of court-ordered busing. The Supreme Court might rule un-Constitutional a law passed by the Congress. But it cannot rule-un-Constitutional a Constitutional Amendment passed by a two-thirds majority of both Houses of Congress and ratified by three-fourths of the States.

The Constitutional Amendment approach is admittedly cumbersome; but it is the surest method. Because it is cumbersome, I am also supporting legislative remedies for court-ordered busing.

The Administration has proposed a program that would prohibit further busing orders, coupled with a proposal that would end busing for all practical purposes within five years of enactment. I am supporting tat legislation as well as other proposals. Some kind of legislative remedy is difinitely required, because we need relief as quickly as possible and the Constitutional Amendment approach does take time. But the Constitutional Amendment is the goal to be sought over the long run.

Texans can take heart in the action this week of the House Rules Committee. I am hopeful that before the Congress adjourns that some kind of anti-busing legislation can be passed and hopefully some real and positive movement taken toward a Constitutional Amendment, if not the actual passage of such an amendment.

Among the legislative proposals before The Congress is a moratorium on new court orders requiring additional busing, and action to establish permanent restrictions and standards on the use of busing to achieve racial desegregation. Thses are needed pieces of legislation and they would have the effect at least or preventing or lessening court-ordered busing until such time as the Supreme Court might act to void those laws. I hope that the high court would not take such action; but the fact remains that such voidance is a possibility. To guard against that possibility, a Constitutional Amendment is required.

The Congress should be acting, actually on three levels at once.

It should be passing legislation to prevent racial busing; it should be acting on the proposed Constitutional Amendment to achieve the same end and it should be enacting constructive legislation to encourage the improvement of educational opportunities for all Americans.

"Section 2. (a) All occupation taxes shall be equal and uniform upon the same class of subjects within the limits of the authority levying the tax; but the legislature may, by general laws, exempt from taxation public property used for public purposes; actual places of religious worship, also any property owned by a church or by a strictly religious society for the exclusive use as a dwelling place for the ministry of such church or religious society, and which yields no revenue whatever to such church or religious society; provided that such exemption shall not extend to more property than is reasonably necessary for a dwelling place and in no event more than one acre of land; places of burial not held for private or corporate profit; all buildings used exclusively and owned by persons or associations of persons for school purposes and the necessary furniture of all schools and property used exclusively and reasonably necessary in conducting any association engaged in promoting the religious, educational and physical development of boys, girls, young men or young women operating under a State or National organization of like character; also the endowment funds of such institutions of learning and religion not used with a view to profit; and when the same are invested in bonds or mortgages, or in land or other property which has been and shall hereafter be bought in by such institutions under foreclosure sales made to satisfy or protect such bonds or mortgages, that such exemption of such land and property shall continue only for two years after the purchase of the same at such sale by such institutions and no longer, and institutions of purely public charity; and all laws exempting property from taxation other than the property mentioned in this Section shall be null and void.

"(b) The Legislature may, by general law, exempt property owned by a disabled veteran or by the surviving spouse and surviving minor children of a disabled veteran. A disabled veteran is a veteran of the armed services of the United States who is classified as disabled by the Veterans' Administration or by a successor to that agency; or the military service in which he served. The spouse and children of any member of the United States Armed Forces who loses his life while on active duty will be granted an exemption from taxation for property valued at up to $2,500. The legislature shall appropriate money to provide an adequate staff, office space, equipment, and supplies for the commission.

"(b) The commission shall study the need for constitutional change and shall report its recommendations to the members of the legislature not later than November 1, 1973.

$1,000 Cash Premium To Be Awarded At Fair

LUBBOCK--A cash premium of $1,000 will be awarded to the grand champion barrow in the new barrow show slated in conjunction with the 55th annual Panhandle South Plains Fair here September 25-30.

The terminal barrow show replaces the swine show of previous years and total premiums of $5,675 are offered in this event, up nearly $1,000 from last year. Fair officials are hopeful that this show will be the forerunner to one of the top events in the Southwest and nationally as well.

Only 750 barrows will be accepted for the inaugural, according to Lee Roy Colgan, Dawson County extension agent from Lamesa and the superintendent of the show. A nonreturnable $5 entry fee is required per barrow. Entries received after the 750 limit has been reached will be rejected.

There will be no "take home" barrows. All entries will be sold to the highest bidder at the conclusion of the fair. Barrows will be divided into three classes at weigh-in: light, 200-215 pounds; medium, 216 to 230 pounds; and heavy, 231 to 250 pounds.

The two breeds which have the largest number of barrows weighed in will be the two designated divisions. Competition is open to the world, and entries are being expected from throughout the Southwest and portions of the Midwest.

Champions in the breed with the largest number of barrows, the second largest number, crossbreds and all other purebreds will receive $100 cash award plus a banner. The reserve champions in each of the four divisions will receive $50 and a banner each.

A cash award of $25, plus a banner, will be offered as the herdsman award. The reserve grand champion will receive $750 in cash and a banner. The top award of $1,000 to the grand champion is the largest single cash award ever presented by the fair association.

Officials connected with the fair's swine shows over the years recommend the switch to the barrow show this year and keen competition is anticipated. Commercial breeders, 4-H and FFA members and others will be competing for the same awards.

A number of entries already Sept. 11 unless the maximum number have been received prior to that date.

The fair this year has several new innovations, including two stellar free attractions, plus the return of Charley Pride as the headliner in Fair Park Coliseum on Monday and Tuesday of fair week. Pride holds the two-day attendance record at rhe fair.

On Wednesday night The Blackwood Brothers and J.D. Sumner and the Stamps Quartet, plus the Blackwood Singes will step on the stage for an evening of gospel music. An all-star Mexican variety show is slated for Thursday night only.

Rounding out the week on Friday and Saturday will be the versatile country and western singer and musician, Roy Clark along with Tom T. Hall and the Story Tellers, and the Sound Generation.

TOURIST OF THE WEEK..Elzie Starks and his sister-in-law, Mrs. Margaret Starks of McPherson, Kansas were stopped Friday afternoon as Tourist of the Week. They were stopped at the Mule Memorial Site where they were presented with a free night's lodging, free meal and gas among other gifts from local merchants. Pictured left to right, Donna Howard, ambassadorette, Stark, Margaret Stark, Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Woodard and Kathy Pena, ambassadorette. The Ivan Woodards were the sponsoring family for that week.

WANTED: Typist, must type 50 words per minute at least. Inquire in person at Journal.

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:

Section 1. That Article IV, Section 4, Constitution of the State of Texas, be amended to read as follows:

"Section 4. The Governor elected at the general election in 1974, and thereafter, shall be installed on the first Tuesday after the organization of the Legislature, or as soon thereafter as practicable, and shall hold his office for the term of four years, or until his successor shall be duly installed. BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:

Section 1. That Article III, Section 24, of the Texas Constitution, be amended to read as follows:

"Section 24. Representatives shall receive from the Public Treasury an annual salary of not exceeding Eight Thousand, Four Hundred Dollars ($8,400). Senators shall receive from the Public Treasury an annual salary of not exceeding Eight Thousand, Four Hundred Dollars ($8,400). All Members of the Legislature, including the Lieutenant Governor and the Speaker of the House of Representatives, also shall receive from the Public Treasury a per diem of not exceeding Twelve Dollars ($12) per day for the first one hundred and twenty (120) days only of each Regular Session and for thirty (30) days of each Special Session of the Legislature.
