City Acquires Land for Marian Airport Extension

The City of Wellington has acquired 24.21 acres of land immediately south of Marian Airport to extend the present runway 1500 additional feet, City Manager Tiny Taylor and Mayor Bill Hatch announced Tuesday, January 27.

Of this, 15.48 acres was acquired from Louise Templeton and 8.73 acres from her brother, Henard Gray. The land is 500 feet in width through their property.

With the acquisition of this land, a dream of the City Council and of interested Wellington citizens can become reality. Work to enlarge the airport began around a decade ago, then lay in abeyance for several years.

Efforts were renewed and applications for funding were made from both federal and state agencies.

A few weeks ago the Texas Aeronautics Commission approved a $75,000 airport development grant for the fiscal year 1981, to begin the work.

The acquisition was a condemnation procedure agreed to by the parties.

Total cost of the land is $65,000 or $2,659 per acre.

An appraisal board consisting of Bobo Castleberry, Charley Caldwell and Lyman Daniel determined that this price was fair and all parties accepted the price, Taylor said.

The final condemnation hearing was held Tuesday, Mrs. Templeton and Gray signed quit-claim deeds made out to the city. These are being held by Richard Bird of Childress, attorney for both parties, until such time as the grant money is received. The hearing papers will go to 100th District Judge Robert Montgomery of Memphis for his signature.

Campbell, Frank Coleman, Jr., and Jim Ingram. Ingram replaced Jerol Morris, when the latter resigned. Holdover members are Carroll Nunneley, Harold Wayne Moore, Benson Long and William O'Rear whose terms are for 3 years.

Taking part in this election will be residents of the Wellington and Dodson, and the northeast part of Childress County in the Wellington ISD. There will be a box in both towns.

Samnorwood ISD voters will name three board members. Those whose

The airport extension and approval has been a No. 1 priority with this city council and with Mayor Bill Hatch. Its search for funding went through Federal Aeronautics Agency and Texas Aeronautics Commission channels until the latter agency made the funds available.

This cooperative effort of the council has included much individual work on the part of the members.

The TAC $75,000 is an 80-20 matching grant. The state funding is in money and the city's part will consist of work with city equipment using city employees.

Taylor spelled out how the $93,750 total will be spent:

- Land acquisition $65,000.
- Engineering $5,000.
- Contingencies $5,000
- City equipment and work, $18,750.

This money will take the work through the 1981 program, then the city will reapply for a grant to finish the work, Taylor said. The grant for the second year's work will be larger than this, although it is not known what the figure will be, Taylor said.

Initial work will be the extension of the present 2500-foot runway, and will include constructing a new base, sub grade and grade, to give 60-foot width the entire length.

New lights at the side and water ditches to improve drainage on the runway will probably extend it to 100 feet in width.

Work on the airport will begin as soon as the money gets here.

O.V. Johnson, who retired last year as resident engineer with the Texas Department of Highways and Public Transportation has been hired by the city to do the engineering work.

Autograph Party Honors R.L. Templeton Feb. 6

Judge R.L. Templeton will be honored at an autograph party Friday, February 6, on the publication of his latest book, "The Death of Jimmy Littlewolf" a story with its setting at Boys Ranch.

Friends of the Library are hosting the party at the Heritage Room. The hours are 1:30 to 3 p.m.

Judge Templeton will have his books for sale and will autograph them for the purchaser.

This is one of the Stories For Young Americans Series published by the Eakin Press at Burnet.

Templeton has arranged for Mark Baker, Amarillo television personality, to be present to interview him relating to his experiences as a World War II pilot for the Royal Air Force, as well as his career as a legislator, county judge, county attorney, attorney in private practice, and organic farmer.

Of the three books Lee Templeton (the Judge's pen name) has written, this one has a setting nearest home--an area which many of his readers know personally.

The idea for this story came not from history, as have his others, but from an incident that occurred as he was waiting one day at the ranch office. His errand was to deliver a check which one of Templeton's clients had bequeathed the ranch.

A young Indian boy caught his attention, and the story takes off from there.

Jimmy Littlewolf is an Indian boy from Oklahoma living at the Ranch, reluctantly, for he loves the openness and living next to nature that his forebears knew and coped with.

Leaning that he has tuberculosis, as did his Indian father, Littlewolf determines to leave the ranch to "die like an Indian." Three other boys go along.

Those who have watched Boys Ranch through the years will recall times when other, real boys have thought they, too, wanted to leave the ranch. Not all had honest motives. Neither does one of Littlewolf's companions.

Writing for readers who are beginning to notice that girls are pretty, Templeton introduces Laura Leathers, daughter of a rancher, deaf but capable.

Enters too, a rattlesnake, to Jimmy's sorrow. Again he knows he must die "an Indian death."

But that climax is premature, and the ending is a surprise.

There is much Indian lore in the book, for Templeton not only loves history, he has a keen interest in the way the Panhandle's first residents lived.

LEARNING TO BE LIFE SAVERS

These 12 to 14 year old junior high students are enrolled in an official Cardio-pulmonary Resuscitation course, taught at their school. John Brown, left, a certified instructor, coordinated the course. Marshall Peters, kneeling at right, president of Wellington Volunteer Ambulance Service, is assistant instructor. Here Patricia Fourmentin is learning the proper procedure for restoring heartbeat and breathing, using the practice mannequin Resusi Ann. Observing and waiting their turn to practice are Beverly Parks, kneeling, and at back, Betty Vernon, Tommy Cochran and Johnny Branch. Upon successfully completing the course and examination, these young teen agers will be certified by the American Heart Association. Boys and girls of this age have both the physical strength and ability to master the techniques that can save lives, says Peters.

TYING YELLOW RIBBONS

Wellington Elementary Students tie yellow ribbons in the shape of a giant "52" across the front fence of elementary school Tuesday morning, January 27, just as the 52 American hostages, freed last week after 444 days in captivity in Iran, were concluding their interview at West Point and preparing for a tumultuous "Welcome Home" parade in Washington and a reception at the White House. From left are Robert Watts, Reggie Jones, Sharon Henard, Juda Nash and April Hall.

Hospital, City and School Elections Due This Year

This will be an off election year as far as district, state and national elections are concerned, but there will be action on the local level.

County voters will be involved in two or more elections: city, hospital district and school. All will be held Saturday, April 4.

Wellington voters will chose a mayor and two members of city council. Bill Hatch is completing a term as mayor, while Tom Wilkins and Ralph Owens complete terms as council members.

Holdover members of the council are Willie Gragson, Lyndon Crelia and Gary Brewer. Terms of three Dodson council members expire: Tommy Hightower, Thurman Crownover and John Green. Mayor Lonnie Roberson and Council members Olan Farris and Raburn Hightower have another year to serve.

All qualified county residents will vote in the Collingsworth General Hospital board election. Three members whose terms expire are Mrs. H.H. Bowen, Dee Coleman and Elmer Feemster. Holdover members are Lyman Daniel, Mrs. Ed Henard, Robert Owens and Buddy Carter.

Members of the Wellington School Board whose terms expire are Kirby according to the chief deputy.

An 8-track stereo player, taken from the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leon McClendon, 1402 Dalhart, was recovered Monday, Jan. 26, about 7 p.m. in a car, officers reported.

In an unreleated burglary, a tote bag was taken from the unlocked car belonging to Ora Montgomery, 409 Dallas Street. Identified as a Wichita Falls resident, she was reported visiting at the Dallas Street address. The bag contained cosmetics, medicine, and clothes, valued at about $400, according to the report filed by the investigating officer, Deputy Billy Gilbert.

The bag with its contents were found later on a dirt street by Eddie Davis, city water superintendent, officers said.

Juvenile Arrests Solve Burglaries

Three recent burglaries were cleared after members of the sheriff's department took six juveniles in custody Friday, January 23, Chief Deputy Ray Akemon reported.

The six range in age from about 12 to 16 years.

Most of the items taken in the burglaries were recovered according to Akemon.

Three scanners and two pocket knives taken in the burglary of Lyman's Automotive were found, although $100 taken by the youths was spent by them, Akemon said.

A box of items was taken from the Pete Chandler home, 906 Corsicana. It contained pocket watches, wrist watches, knives and valuable papers. The family was not aware of the loss until the items were found,

'81 Little League Meeting Slated

A planning meeting for the 1981 Little League Baseball program has been called by the president, Bob Odle, for Monday, February 2, at 7:30 p.m. It will be in the Heritage Room.

Included in the meeting will be all members of the Little League Board, women's auxiliary, coaches and interested parents, Odle said.

Much of the time will be given over to discussion of fund raising to finance this year's Little League program.

Bob Fuller, a representative of National Fund

Raisers will present several fund raising programs, Odle said. These will be discussed and board members will decide which, if any, of the programs they want to consider.

All persons interested in the Little League program, and especially parents of boys who want to play this summer, are urged to attend.

It is hoped to have this year's program on a sound financial footing that will enable the board to purchase badly needed equipment.

Booker's Qualls Wins All-State

Ruben Qualls, a Booker grid star who formerly lived at Wellington, was named to the Class A All-State football team, and in the process became one of the few to be All-State in both Class B and A.

Qualls was a repeater, making the second team on both offense and defense last year, and this year was the only gridders from District 1-A to make the squad this year, being named to the first defensive unit.

Last year Booker was a Class B school, but with the abolition of that classification, it moved into the Class A category.

Booker Coach Rick Smith said he felt that Qualls had a good chance of making the team when he made the nomination.

"His size, coupled with his ability to move were big factors in his selection," Smith said. "His defensive stats for the year were 163 tackles, three fumble recoveries, three blocked passes, 14 quarterback sacks and he caused three fumbles."

Qualls, a 6-2 by 225, is a college prospect and a number of schools have expressed interest in him.

Square Dance Lessons Begin January 28

A new round of square dance lessons begins Wednesday, January 28 at 8 p.m. at the American Legion Hall, according to Texas Twisters square dance club officers.

Anyone interested in taking lessons may call 447-2067 after 5 p.m. or call 447-2843 for more information, or they may come to the American Legion Hall on Wednesday nights.

and wanted to see Booker-Kiowa game films, Smith said. Among these are Baylor, Texas Tech, Colorado, Oklahoma State, Eastern New Mexico University, West Texas State University and Northwestern Oklahoma State.

He plans to compete in track this spring and has been doing a little combination off-season weight program and conditioning for track.

The all-star is the son of Mrs. Vernell Qualls of Booker and of Stephen Qualls, and the grandson of the late Mrs. Roy Jeffrey, Sr., Allen Havens is an uncle.

Bank Names Officers and Directors

Officers and directors of Wellington State Bank were re-elected in the stockholders meeting held Saturday, January 10.

The announcement was made by Bill D. Beall, president.

Officers serving with Beall are Billy Moseley, executive vice president; Walter Clements III, vice president; Jack Neeley, vice president and cashier; Estellene Glenn, assistant vice president; and Janell Brown, assistant cashier.

Directors are James Sullivan, chairman of the board, Beall, Fred Cox, Jr., John Holton, John McDowell, Moseley and Dr. J.M. Orr.

Music Students In Region Band

Five members of That Skyrocket Band and the Junior High Band played in the Class AA regional band in Canyon Saturday, Jan. 26.

Playing were Renee Lacy, trumpet, second chair; Leslie Birkey, baritone, sixth chair; Susan Brooks, contra bass clarinet, second chair; Camille Smith, flute, third chair, all in the high school band. Vanda Wood, also sax, sixth chair, played in the junior high band.

The students were in Canyon for practice Friday and the concert Saturday afternoon, according to George Mills, band director.

Approximately 120 school musicians played in each of the 5 bands heard during the afternoon. Each concert was 45 minutes long.

runway will be retained as it is. Laid by Doc Barjenbruch when he was city manager, "it has stood up exceptionally well. It's in good shape and there is no reason why we shouldn't use it and overlay it," said Taylor.

In addition to the extended runway, a completely new north-south runway will be laid during the second year's program.

Completion of Marian Airport updating will enable most types of aircraft that come here to land safely.

It should likewise be a shot in the arm for the city's business community.

Wellington's short airport runway has been a source of complaint for both local and visiting flyers for many years.

"It's just long enough to be dangerous. The lights at the end of the runway have been knocked down two or three times when a plane couldn't stop," Taylor said.

In the past also there have been many instances when pilots flying twin engine or executive jets have had to land at Childress Airport and arrange for transportation to come the remainder of the way.

A few times with the Childress airport out of use temporarily, landings have been made 60 miles away at Altus.

ELECTIONS—

terms expire are Jim Ray, board president; Richard Bentley, vice-president; and Rudie Tate. Terms are for three years.

Holdover members are Monte McCloy, Gary Oldham, Doug Seale and Tommy Lindley.

In addition to these elections. Voters of the Hedley ISD in Collingsworth County in the Quail area and west part of the county will vote for Hedley ISD School trustees.

Three other school districts include small areas in Collingsworth County.

An area in the extreme northwest part of the county is in McLean ISD, a strip on the Collingsworth, Wheeler County line is in Shamrock ISD, and a small area in the southwest corner of the county is in Memphis ISD.

These voters will cast ballots in the Collingsworth General Hospital Board election, but they will vote in their respective school district elections.

W-2 Forms To Workers By Feb. 2

Employees who have not received their Wage and Tax Statements (Form W-2) from their employers must still file their tax returns by April 15, the Internal Revenue Service advises.

To avoid delays in receiving the W-2, employees should furnish their employers with a current address, the IRS says. If employees do not receive the statement by February 2, they should first contact their employer. After February 15, 1981, the employee should ask for help by calling the IRS toll-free number listed in the telephone directory.

The IRS reminds taxpayers that they must have a W-2 form from every employer they worked for during the year. Even if an employee is unable to get a W-2 before the filing deadline of April 15, a timely return must be filed. Report all income and attach a statement explaining the tax computations for the missing wage and tax information, the IRS says.

February Month to Set Out Trees SCD Reminds

February is the month to plant trees for both ornamentals around the farmstead and for windbreaks, reminds Tommy Powell, district conservationist with the Soil Conservation Service.

Salt Fork Soil and Water Conservation District will sponsor a windbreak tree planting program in 1981, according to Chairman Tommy Lewis.

Both potted species and bare root-species are available, but the Wellington men have some warnings about the latter:

"The people who planted these trees last spring lost a lot of them due to the record-setting summer heat and drought," says Powell. "1980 was not a good year to plant trees and many died even though they received the best of care. Even under normal conditions though, these little trees require a lot of attention for the first couple of years," continues Powell.

The trees must be watered regularly and protected from livestock, rodents, weed competition, high winds, insects, and even children. "If a person plans to plant these trees and then pretty well ignore them, they will be disappointed," says Powell.

Salt Fork SWCD Chairman Tommy Lewis says, "We feel that this is a worthwhile service that the District can provide to local people. If you want just a few ornamental trees you will probably do better to buy older stock from local nurseries. For those who want to make larger plantings in areas where the chances of survival are not as good, this program might be worth trying because of the cost factor."

Anyone who is interested in ordering trees should contact the Soil Conservation Service in Wellington for more detailed information. Orders will be sent to the Colorado State Forest Service around the first of February.

Cloud-seeding Project Proposed for All Counties of Western Oklahoma

A cloud-seeding project which would cost almost a million dollars annually has been proposed involving 22 western Oklahoma counties, including those lying along the Texas-Oklahoma state line. Among them are the two bordering Collingsworth County, Beckham and Harmon Counties.

This project is put together by Dr. Irving Krick, who directed a cloud-seeding project in Collingsworth County almost 30 years ago. This was not only one of the first, if not the first in the Panhandle of Texas, but also one of the pioneer projects seeking weather modification. Results were unsatisfactory and the project dropped.

A cloud-seeding project, put together on the South Plains and in the area around Swisher County during the last decade became embroiled in controversy and litigation resulted. Little has been heard of it for several years.

Cost of the proposed Western Oklahoma project is an eye-opening $937,500 per year, according to an article in the Hollis News for January 15.

The news story continued: "But it seems any action on the proposed cloud-seeding project may be a year in coming because Gov. Nigh did not include enough funds for a project of this type in his annual budget for 1981.

"Officials in the Governor's office feel that a careful and complete study should be made of cloud-seeding and its success before they will okay any money for the project. Area ranchers (western Oklahoma) and other legislators met with Nigh about the proposal but Nigh reportedly made no commitment.

"The Oklahoma Water Resources Board which issues modification licenses for the state is conducting its own study on the cloud-seeding project but it has not shown any commitment.

"Krick stated, 'that before he could carry out his plan he would have to get assurance from the state that any legal hurdles to the program would have to be eliminated.' Krick said the $937,500 estimated cost for the project during the first year was based on a fee of .9625 cents an acre for about 15 million acres that would be involved.

"Using silver iodide, Krick would seed the clouds to reproduce the needed moisture."

The area covered in the present western Oklahoma proposed project includes Texas and Beaver Counties in the Oklahoma Panhandle. It includes all land from the Kansas Border on the north to the Red River Texas-Oklahoma boundary on the south. It extends east to these counties: from north to south, Woods (Alva), Alfalfa which goes to within 15 miles of Enid; Dewey, Custer (Weatherford), Blaine, (Watonga); Caddo (Ft. Cobb and Anadarko); Comanche (Lawton); and bordering on Red River, Cotton County (Walters).

WHS FFA Judging Team Wins

Wellington FFA Judging Team took first place honors in the cattle judging division of the livestock judging contest held in conjunction with the Amarillo Livestock Show.

Team members, and their individual points were Chad Holland 97, Darvin Nix 93, Barry Long, 82, and Bill Reeves 49, all out of a possible 100.

Holland tied for second place individual high score, only one point behind the top contestant.

This team will compete in the regional FFA contest at West Texas State University, the Top of Texas

Contest in Pampa, Texas Tech contest, and the judging contest at the Houston Livestock Show.

A second team participated in the livestock judging contest, along with two boys who competed individually. Team members were Wade Williams, Paul Estes, Johnny Mote and Shane Cobb. Individuals were Tony Maxwell and Sidney Herring. "All of these did real well," said Keith Davis, vocational ag instructor.

All boys judged in three categories, swine, sheep and cattle.

The winning team overall was Moore County 4-H.

This was the first contest in which any of the Wellington FFA group had participated, Davis said.

Moore on 5 State Cotton Programs

Olan Moore of Dimmitt, an agricultural consultant who formerly lived in Wellington, will be on the program of the 5-state Western Cotton Production Conference to be held at Lubbock Tuesday through Thursday, February 17 to 19.

The challenges facing cotton producers in the 1980s will be examined.

These challenges will range from political policies and marketing opportunities to production techniques, financing and textile trends. Dr. James R. Supak, area cotton specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, said.

The program will draw cotton producers and industry representatives from Texas, Oklahoma, California, Arizona and New Mexico.

It is sponsored by the Southwest Five-State Cotton Growers Assn. and the cooperatives Extension Service of the 5 states.

Moore will appear on the panel discussing insect on the farm, beginning at 3:20 p.m. Wednesday, February 18.

Headquarters will be at the Lubbock Hilton Inn.

Moore is the son of Mr. and Mrs. D.C. Thomason and a graduate of Wellington High School.

As a part of the Confederate Heroes Week, January 18 to 24, Confederate flags were placed on the graves of confederate veterans buried in five cemeteries in Collingsworth County.

Placing the flags were three members of the Childress chapter of the United Daughters of the Confederacy, Mrs. Melvin Kiker of Wellington, Mrs. B.B. Martin of Dodson and Miss Tops Gilreath of Memphis. They made their tour of cemeteries Jan. 22.

Names of 17 Confederate veterans were furnished by James R. Bowen, county veterans service officer.

These included:

Fairview Cemetery: Oscar W. Alexander; Reese Bowen, J.J. Bowen, R.H. Cocke, Sr., J.L. Dickey, W.A. Watkins and John Winney.

Dodson Cemetery: William C. Scott, James Alfonza Scott and Benjamin J. Estes.

Memorial Gardens: Charles Duke and Julius Haralson.

Dozier Cemetery: Alexander Coleman.

Arlee Cemetery: Childress County: J.C. Alexander and Robert T. Payne.

The grave of H.E. Fuller could not be located by the trio.

Burglars Fail To Enter Fair

Burglars failed in their attempt to enter the Fair Store Tuesday night, January 20, according to George Shadid, owner.

A glass panel in the transom above the metal-covered back door was broken, but the burglars were still unable to get in.

Shadid said the transom has been boarded over and covered with a steel grill.

MRS. BERNICE SIMPSON

Mrs. Simpson Honored on 84th Birthday with Party

When Ava Nipper of Amarillo came down recently, her older sister, Mrs. Bernice Simpson, didn't think it was unusual. And neither was she suspicious when her daughter, Willie Wade, suggested she dress up so they could go somewhere.

But when she walked in the door of the Wade house, her friends began singing "Happy Birthday."

Mrs. Simpson celebrated her 84th birthday January 16, with the surprise birthday party, attended by a large group of her friends.

Mrs. Simpson has the distinction of being a native of Collingsworth County. The daughter of Pennie and William Tell (Uncle Billie) Obenhaus, she was born in a half dugout in the Shinnery community, near the east edge of the county, on January 16, 1897. Both her parents were born at Columbus, in the Gulf Coast area.

They came, Mrs Simpson remembers, to get away from typhoid fever. "They almost died with typhoid, the whole family," she said.

Mr. Obenhaus was still weak from typhoid when he made the trip to Collingsworth, in a covered wagon, lying on a mattress.

Within the next two years, other families, all relatives of Mrs. Obenhaus, moved into the east central part of the county: The Ingrams settled east of Wellington. John and Mittie Mae Willard settled at Needwood. A Pennsylvania, Willard was a scholarship student at the University of Pennsylvania before he came to Texas. Others were Billy Becks, who years later moved on to Mobeetie. And there were the Batchelers and the Hamiltons. They also moved from the county

Mrs. Simpson recalls she attended school at Shinnery. Her first teacher was a Mr. Craig.

The second was her cousin, Tommy Willard. Later he studied in Germany and for many years was the head of the science department of North Texas State University.

Later Mr. and Mrs. Obenhaus moved to Wellington, so that Mrs. Simpson could finish her education here.

When they lived at Shinnery, she remembers that there was nothing around them except the Rocking Chair Ranch--"and the wild boys." She can't recall their names, but she does remember they would steal steers from the Rocking Chair and butcher them. Once they left a large piece of meat hanging in a tree at the Obenhaus place (that was the accepted way of taking care of freshly slaughtered beef). Mrs. Obenhaus refused to cook it when she learned it had

Hand-wash wool sweaters at home to keep care costs down.

Although most woollens require dry cleaning, wool sweaters are an exception.

Before washing a sweater for the first time, trace an outline of it on heavy paper. Use a pencil or pen that will not fade or run when wet.

Label the paper pattern, and keep it to use each time the sweater is washed.

To wash a sweater, use lukewarm water and a mild detergent. Avoid using too much detergent--it's hard to rinse out of the sweater.

Coupon Savers Organize Storage

COLLEGE STATION--Organize to get the most from food coupons, says Linda McCormack, a family resource management specialist.

Develop a simple, concise storage system in order to locate coupons quickly, she suggests.

For example, arrange an expandable accordion file alphabetically by product categories -- bakery good, breakfast foods, frozen foods -- or use a series of envelopes kept in a shoe box or drawer.

Mrs. McCormack is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Once a week, sort coupons, circling expiration date with red ink, and arrange coupons in each compartment so the ones due to expire earlier in the month are in front.

Transfer this week's coupons to a coupon holder or put them with the shopping list, the specialist recommends.

been stolen.

Bernice Obenhaus and Joe S. Simpson were married July 20, 1912, in the parlor of her home. The officiating preacher was his brother, Rev. Henry Simpson.

Later the Simpsons lived on the South Plains 26 years, 10 at Muleshoe and 16 at Earth, where they operated the hotel and coffee shop.

Next, they cattle farmed at Rainbow Ranch in Arkansas, but the southeast Panhandle kept tugging. They returned, and farmed three years at Arlie before they moved to Wellington. Since Mr. Simpson's death, she has lived near her daughter, Mrs. Wade.

Her other daughter is Mrs. Clara Harrison, who lives near Springdale, Ark. She also has 9 grandchildren, 16 great grandchildren and one great great grandchild.

MISS WEST - MR. SCOTT

March Wedding Planned by Rene West and Gary Scott

Mr. and Mrs. David C. West, 22 Hunsley Boulevard, Canyon, are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Rene Lee, to Gary Lynn Scott. Parents of the prospective bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Dwane L. Scott of 104 Woodway Court, Longview, formerly of Wellington.

The date selected by the couple for their wedding is Saturday, March 14, and the ceremony will take place in First Presbyterian Church Canyon.

The bride is a graduate of Canyon High School and attended Texas Tech University and West Texas State University, where she was an ATO Little Sister. She majored in medical technology and presently is working at First National Bank in Amarillo.

A graduate of Wellington High School, the prospective bridegroom attended West Texas State University where he majored in industrial technology. He was a member of ATO fraternity. Mr. Scott is employed by T&R Construction.

Wild Game Dinner Given

A wild game supper entertained members of Wellington Country Club Saturday evening, January 24.

Club hosts were Mr. and Mrs. Don Lacy, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Saldana, Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Fulcher and Mr. and Mrs. Dick Pendleton.

Steve Davis donated the venison, which he and Sullivan barbecued, along with two turkeys.

Randy Cole and Willie Gragson donated pheasants, which Mrs. Gragson cooked with rice dressing.

Served with the game was a salad prepared especially to be eaten with wild game, and which included among the ingredients, peanuts, raisins and a variety of fruits.

After the dinner, members danced to recorded music.

Mrs. Wright Attends B&PW Scholarship Board Meeting

Mrs. Lynn Wright, state president of the Minnie L. Maffett Fellowship, Business and Professional Women's Clubs, attended a state board meeting Saturday and Sunday, January 24 and 25, in Ft. Worth.

The Minnie L. Maffett Fellowship under the Texas Federation, B&PW Clubs, offers scholarships to women medical students enrolled in Texas medical schools, to complete or further their education.

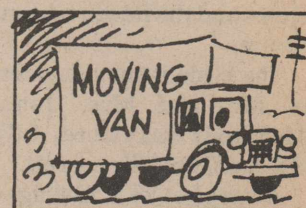

Mrs. Wright reported to board members that this year $7,200 was given in scholarships, the largest figure since the program was started.

There were two recipients, one attending the University of Texas Medical School at Galveston and the other at a medical school in Houston. There were 23 applicants.

Funds for the scholarship come from Donations by individual B&PW Clubs.

Mrs. Wright is a member and past president of Wellington B&PW Club.

After Alaska and Hawaii became States, the geographic center of the United shifted from Kansas to South Dakota.

Miss Bransford, Mr. Phillips Wed in Rites at Shreveport

Miss Elizabeth Ann Bransford and Frederick Mark Phillips were wed in a formal ceremony performed in First Methodist Church of Shreveport, Louisiana, Saturday, January 24, at seven in the evening. The officiants were Dr. D.L. Dykes and the Reverend Jim Moore.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John McKinnis Bransford, 610 Pelican Place, Shreveport.

A member of a Collingsworth County's pioneer ranching family, the bride's maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Tom Wilson of Quail. Paternal grandparents are Mrs. John Bransford of Lonoke, Arkansas, and the late Mr. Bransford.

The bridegroom is the son of Frederick Schneider Phillips of Route 2, Lake Providence, Louisiana and the late Mrs. Phillips. Maternal grandparents of the groom are Mrs. Louis B. Moseley and the late Mr. Moseley, while his paternal grandparents are Mrs. Nan Williams of Lake Providence and the late James E. Phillips.

Arrangements of carnations, asters, roses and miniature carnations, with candelabra and fern were used to decorate the church.

Presenting the wedding music were Mark Cook, organist, with John Parker and Susan Parker, who sang "Love Theme" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Mr. Bransford have his daughter in marriage.

Her wedding gown was of candlelight satin and re-embroidered Alencon lace. The fitted bodice featured a high neckline with sheer yoke and long fitted sleeves. Appliques of Alencon lace accented the full satin skirt, which swept to a chapel train. Her waltz length imported illusion veil fell from an Alencon lace Juliette cap covered with Alencon lace, edged in matching lace. Her all-white bouquet was of lilies, roses, stephanotis, carnations and lilies of the valley, touched with greenery.

Bridal attendants were Miss Heidi Wheeler, maid of honor, while bridesmaids were Miss Patricia Heinrichs, Miss Kathy Wolfe, Miss Brenda Goodwill, Mrs. Harold Black, and Miss Melissa Marvin.

Their softly draped gowns of huckleberry quiana were designed with cowl necklines at back and softly crossed in front to tie with bows at the side. A-line skirts were floor length.

MRS. FREDERICK MARK PHILLIPS

They carried bouquets of lavender asters, pink and cream carnations, miniature carnations tipped in huckleberry, with lilies and foliage.

Mr. Phillips was his son's best man.

Groomsmen were Dr. Doug Phillips, Trey Phillips, John Bransford, Bill Harbour, and Charles Brown, while the ushers were Frank House, Paul Rosenzweig, Randy Tolson and John Reisz.

Mrs. Bransford, the bride's mother, wore a royal blue floor length chiffon dress, with draped neck, fitted bodice and full cuffed sleeves. The full skirt was floor length. Her corsage was of pink roses and lilies.

After the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Bransford entertained with a reception at the Petroleum Club.

Arrangements of carnations, asters, roses and miniature carnations along with candelabrum, were used to decorate the reception rooms.

The same flowers were used on the bride's table, and an urn filled with fruit centered the groom's table.

Immediately after the ceremony, the couple left for their wedding trip to Hot Springs, Arkansas.

They will live in Arlington.

The bride was graduated from Captain Shreve High School in Shreveport, and from Louisiana Tech University at Ruston, Louisiana. Her social sorority was Sigma Kappa.

A graduate from Briar-field Academy at Lake Providence, the bridegroom also graduated from Louisiana Tech University where he belonged to Tau Kappa Epsilon social fraternity.

Out of town wedding guests were Mr. and Mrs. Lee Bransford, Bill Bransford and Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Coates of Little Rock, Arkansas; Dr. and Mrs. Robert Bransford of Texarkana, Texas; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Coleman, Jody Coleman, Mr. and Mrs. Denzil Lacy, with Dena, Angie and Dru of Wellington; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Barnes of Lubbock and Mr. and Mrs. James Duke of Ft. Worth.

Personal

Guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Bell from Monday through Saturday, January 19-24, were George O'Brian and Eddie Allen of Jacksonville, North Carolina. Also visiting on Friday was another friend, Victor McCarty of Indianola, Oklahoma. A weekend visitors were the Bell's son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. J.E. Bell of Canadian.

Four Young Homemakers To Attend State Meeting

Four members of the Wellington Young Homemakers of Texas will attend the 1981 state meeting of the association which serves almost 5,000 members across the state. "Making a Difference...It's Up to You" is the theme of the 1981 State Convention which will be held at the El Tropicano Hotel in San Antonio, January 30 and 31.

Attending from Wellington will be Mrs. Monte Ferguson and Mrs. Mike Barjenbruch, voting delegates; Mrs. George Porter, chapter vice president and Mrs. James Ingram, chapter president.

The two day meeting will feature speakers on a variety of subjects; "Stress and Burn Out" will be the topic of Betty Meyers, "Wylie Wingnut and the Energy Crisis" will be a humorous look at energy problems by Bob Jett, and "Positive Thinking and Communication" will be pursued by participants as directed by Judith Haubrich. A tour of historic San Antonio will be optional.

The business of the Association will be conducted Saturday morning. Also featured January 31 are awards presentations and Mrs. Haubrich's encounter.

Rev. Hughes YH Speaker

The Rev. Stanley Hughes discussed spiritual values in the home when Wellington Young Homemakers met Tuesday, January 6, in the Heritage Room. Rev. Hughes is pastor of First Baptist Church.

Hostesses were Debra Belew and Cheryl Tarver.

Members present were Julie Barjenbruch, Mrs. Belew, Laquita Bowen, Brenda Ferguson, Lonetta Ingram, Vickie Porter, Mary Lou Souder, Mrs. Tarver and Carol Campbell.

VFW and Auxiliary Toast Hostages on Freedom Day

The VFW and Auxiliary members met for their monthly social on Tuesday, January 20, in the VFW Dining Hall with host for the evening being Mr. and Mrs. Cal Hurst, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Adams and Mr. and Mrs. Barney Glenn.

This was a festive event and special for the members since it was the day of the release of the 52 American hostages from Iran as well as the inauguration day of a new President.

Prayer was given by Cal Hurst and Sam Adams proposed a toast to the hostages and the new administration.

On the buffet table was an arrangement of Star Spangled Banners which consisted of 27 designs of the Stars and Stripes that have been flown over the United States since 1776. Hurricane globes holding red votive candles, entwined with English ivy and miniature flags decorated the dining tables. The group was entertained with games after the dinner. There were approximately fifty members and guests attending:

Junior and Josephine Castillo; Jake and Alta Meadows, Raymond and Faye Horton, Babe Leach, John R. and Louise Henard; Don and Lavern Jones, Sim Goodall of Memphis, Others present were Sam and Jeanice Adams, Hubert and Iva Belle Mauldin, John and Ina Brown, Leamon and Nell Bawcom, Sam and Syble Thompson.

Also attending were A.J. and Helen Fires with their grandsons, Wiley and Jeff Fires, Jack and Mary Sanford, Maxie and Cheryl Tarver, Sam and Dorothy McGill, Buster Hughes.

Additional members registering were Erma Spillman, Camille Smith, Betty Smith, Bob and Verne Barton, Keith and Dora E. Smith, Ike and Jean Paschall, Rita Lowrie, Cal and Lyna Hurst, Barney and Esta Glenn, and Evelyn Tarver.

Hosts for the February social will be Mr. and Mrs. Jack Sanford, Mr. and Mrs. John Brown and Mr. and Mrs. Don Jones.

Mr. and Mrs. Gary Mike Gulley and their 7-months-old twins, Matthew and Miranda, of Rogers, Ark., visited recently with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Cicero Gulley.

MRS. JULIET BOYD AND MRS. ANNIE WORLEY

Mrs. Annie Worley Observes 96th Birthday on Jan. 20

Mrs. D.L. Worley, celebrated her 96th birthday on Tuesday, January 20, and her sister, Mrs. Juliet Boyd of Gruver was 100 years old on January 5.

Mrs. Worley is a resident of Thomas Nursing Center and will participate with other residents having January birthdays at a party later this week.

Both women were born at Cleburne, the daughters of Columbus and Jenettie Beasley Weir. Mrs. Worley, the former Annie Weir, came here in 1907 to make her home with an uncle, Joe Beasley. Mrs. Boyd lived in the area along Salt Fork for several years.

Also in 1907 Annie Weir was married to Dave L. Worley. For their wedding, the couple met at Salt Fork River, and the Rev. J.S. Aaron performed the ceremony as the wedding party stood in the dry bed of the river.

Mr. Worley built a home two miles west of Lutie, and the couple lived there for all of their married life. She remained for several years after his death, then lived in Wellington many years, and later in Shamrock. She returned here several months ago.

She was one of the early members of the Home Demonstration Clubs in the county and also belonged to Rebekah Lodge and First Baptist Church. She was active in the church throughout the time she was in Wellington.

She and Mr. Worley had two children, Mrs. Melvin (Oleta) Seale, of Wellington, and Buster Worley, who died about 12 years ago.

In addition to her daughter, Mrs. Worley has three grandchildren, David Worley, who recently moved to a new job in the Dean's office of the Extension Service, Texas A&M University; Joe Deger who teaches at Mansfield and lives in Grand Prairie; and Jack Deger, with the Shamrock Post Office. There are four great-grandchildren and one great great grandchild.

Juliet Weir and Jess Shackelford Boyd drove to Alvarado and were married as they sat in their buggy on September 25, 1904. She was 23 and he 24.

After coming here, they lived in the Salt Fork community, and later in the Hollis and Dodson areas before moving to Hansford County in 1926. They farmed until his death in 1939, then she moved to Gruver in 1943.

Of her six children, two survive, Mrs. Winner Vernon of Gruver and Mrs. Floy Roy of Paradise, Calif.

EHC Has Stress Study

Midway Extension Homemakers Club met in the home of Mrs. Charles Cason recently, with Mrs. Joe Terry presiding.

Miss Jean Chandler, extension agent, presented the program on stress, "Life in a Pressure Cooker."

She discussed the signs of stress, its effect, and way of coping with stress.

Roll call was answered by naming a community needs.

Refreshments were served to Miss Chandler, Mrs. Terry, Mrs. Annie Cason, Mrs. Herbert Duncan, Mrs. David Peters, Mrs. R.T. Savage, Mrs. Erma Faye Kersten, Mrs. Cecil Masten and the hostess, Mrs. Cason.

Pathfinder UMW Have Salad Supper, Program

The Pathfinders group of the United Methodist women met for a salad supper at the Heritage Room, Monday January 19.

New officers were hostess. They were Mitzie Killian, Sharon Covey, Norma Spillman, Katy Davis, Gwen Emmert and Pat Barnett.

A program was presented by Jean Chandler, entitled "A Gift of Love, Two Copper Coins." President Mitzie Killian presided over the business meeting. Secret pals for the past year were revealed and gifts exchanged.

Members attending were Julie Barjenbruch, Debra Belew, Connie Emmert, Connie Feemster, Nancy Henard, Shirley Henard, Mary Lou Kane, Phyllis Killian, Della Lewis, Carla Mills, Kitty Owens, Pat Pruitt, Robin Rainey, Frances Schmidt, Cheryl Tarver, Carol Thomson and

Belles Lettres Hears Of Indians in America

Belles Lettres Club met with Mrs. Dick Richards Tuesday, January 20. The president, Mrs. Charles Cason presided during the business meeting. The collect was read in unison, led by Mrs. W.F. Harbin.

Mrs. J.A. Graham had the program on the American Indian.

She opened her talk by saying that one usually thinks of the Indian as the Native American, but they are descendants of people who crossed from Siberia into Alaska, and eventually, immigrated southward into the United States.

This happened during the ice age, and when they arrived at the United States, it was such a lush country, with green grasses and animals, they thought they had found Heaven on Earth.

Mrs. Graham told the group there are about 13 million Indians in North and South America, and about a million in the United States. She said the Indian language is difficult, as almost every tribe of Indians has a different language and a different dialect. Because of this, they learned gestures to help overcome the language barrier.

The Indians were hunters and farmers, and they taught those who came from Europe how to plant and harvest their crops. Many of the vegetables we use today came from the Indians, continued the speaker.

They learned to grow tobacco, with the women and children doing the work in the fields and the men hunting.

The Homestead Act and the Railroad Act drove the Indians from their homes

Sanders-Young Wedding Set

Mr. and Mrs. Joe W. Sanders of Rockdale, formerly of Wellington, announce the engagement of their daughter, Tammie to Larry Eugene Young. The wedding is planned for February 7.

Young is the son of Evelyn and Graham Young of Rockdale.

Miss Sanders graduated from Rockdale High school in 1980.

Her fiancé graduated from Blinn Junior College in Brenham in 1976 and attended the University of Houston.

The baby carriage was invented, historians say, in 1848 by Charles Burton. It became popular when Queen Victoria of England ordered one for her babies.

and their land, as they were forced to leave these areas when white settlement began.

The Havasupai, who presently live on the floor of the Grand Canyon, has not lost their land to the white man because it is isolated. This is fertile land, and some of the tribal members have never been out of the Canyon.

Sisters See Chinese Bronze Exhibit at Kimbell Museum

A Wellington woman and her sisters were in Fort Worth recently to see the exhibition, "The Great Bronze Age of China" which will be at the Kimbell Art Museum through February 18.

They included Mrs. Boyd Derryberry and Miss Edyth Jackson of Pampa, who joined Mr. and Mrs. J.B. Clothier of Sayre and Mrs. Irene Readnour of Gage.

The Great Bronze Age of China began, they said, about the time that Stonehenge was rising in England, and the patriarch Abraham was tending his flocks in Israel.

Unlike other cultures, where bronze was first used chiefly for tools and weapons, the Chinese used bronze for ritual utensils and majestic vessels. China, by then, was a country with a strong centralized government, urban communities with social classes and palatial architecture.

The pieces which are on exhibit have come most commonly from tombs, although some were found in the modern period in storage pits, where they were hastily hidden by fleeing members of a defeated elite house.

These figures are individually modeled with great attention to facial features, details of dress, amor and coiffure.

This is the largest exhibition ever held at the Kimbell Art museum and includes 105 objects of bronze, jade and terra cotta that span the entire Bronze age of China, about 1800 to 200 B.C.

More TV

I often read that television has created many problems for children and students who spend so much time watching it. But I wish that students here had had the opportunity to watch more television during the past ten days.

The dramatic conclusion of the Carter presidency, the scenes of inaugural pomp as Ronald Reagan was sworn into office, the flight of the American hostages around the world, and the joyous and beautiful welcome they received in Washington, all as broadcast over television, were as good a civics lecture as I can think of.

Some students got to watch part of the events at their teachers' homes, but it was impossible for all of the students to see all of the events.

Good projects for us to work on in the coming year are giant screen television projectors and videotape recorders for elementary and junior high and high school. A complete set-up would cost several thousand dollars, but it could be purchased in stages, and even if they were used only a couple of times a year, the expanded horizons they could provide would be worth it. —Henry Wells

Paperwork

Senator Lloyd Bentsen thinks a bill he is pushing in Congress to bring about a mandatory 25 percent reduction in federal paper work over the next three years can save the American people more money than a tax cut...and a lot of American businessmen will agree and will join us in cheering him on.

The Office of Management and Budget, Senator Bentsen says, estimates that individuals and businesses in this country spend some 575 million hours a year filling out tax forms. At the bargain basement bookkeeping rate of $15 an hour, the Senator says, that figures out to be $8.6 billion a year.

There are 2,125 federal forms in addition to tax forms. The Internal Revenue Service accounts for 75 percent of all federal paper work. The Paperwork and Red Tape Reduction Act of 1980 won't end the problem, says the Senator, but it will put a pretty good dent in it...25 percent over the next three years, and it lays the groundwork for more cutbacks to follow.

The Act requires all federal agencies, including the Internal Revenue Service, to clear all proposed forms with the Office of Management and Budget.
For the first time, one agency...the OMB...will have control over federal forms and the authority to curb and cut back on needless paperwork demands.

We fervently hope it will work...but the first time we get a four-page questionnaire from the OMB on which we are asked to list and evaluate all the other government reports we have to fill out, we're going to forward it immediately to Senator Bentsen and let him fill it out for us.

FROM HIS WORD

The most alarming trend in the United States today is the breakdown of the home. We have even come to the point that to be divorced is accepted as a normal part of daily life. It is not just the young marriage but also the twenty and thirty year marriage that is falling apart. Why?

Let us look at God's word for insight into this problem that affects all of us. Here are a few facts of scripture: (1) God created "male and female", to "multiply, and replenish the earth." (Gen. 1:27-28);
(2) It was God's desire that men and women marry and "be one flesh" (Gen. 2:18-25); and that what "God has joined together, let no man separate."
(Matt. 19:4-6)

The reason most often slated for divorce by the media and to counselors is this: "We just do not love each other anymore. There is nothing there. It is over, I just do not feel anything for my mate any longer." This attitude is caused from a lack of clear direction, purpose, and understanding of what marriage is to be in the sight of God. A good marriage is not based on just physical and emotional attraction, but upon spiritual, emotional, and physical unity between God, man and woman with God as the head. (Part 1) REO

STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN — Republican
Gov. Bill Clements delivered his "State of the State" address to a primarily Democratic Legislature last week, beginning the second quarter of Texas' new political ballgame called "I can cut state spending better than you can."

The same governor who called the Legislature "a bunch of idiots" at an El Paso campaign blowout last spring was less caustic during his speech in the House chamber. He even went so far as to praise legislators for laying the groundwork for the present growth and prosperity.

Unfortunately for the taxpayers, Clements seems to have given up on providing any sort of tax relief to taxpayers . . . and he is by no means alone.

Clements did not say a single word about returning $1 billion to the taxpayers, a previous promise. And House Speaker Bill Clayton has also hinted there may not be much tax relief this session. Both Clements and Clayton want to use at least parts of state surplus funds to finance other state projects. Clayton wants money to find more water for Texas, particularly farmers and ranchers, and Clements wants to boost small businesses here.

Omitting any reference to reducing the number of state employees, Clements also called for:

- creation of a Texas Department of Commerce
 - initiative and referendum
 - guaranteed loans for small businesses
 - fuel tax exemption for gasohol
 - wiretapping
 - a regional presidential primary
- Clements also called for a state water trust fund, which is Clayton's brainchild project.

Battle of the Budget

Political trends come and go, but the basic legislative duty of providing a budget for spending tax money always remains. This season
it is a prime issue.

The battle of the budget has already begun.

It has, and will continue to make, strange political bedfellows.

The Legislative Budget Board which draws up the preliminary budget has gone too far, according to some unpleased state officials.

Clements last week submitted his own executive budget proposal which is some $500 million less than LBB.

And State Comptroller
Bob Bullock blew his stack at LBB, saying they went into the red by some $210 million.

Real conflict comes when the legislators begin to make the cuts, first in appropriations committees, then in floor fights.

Campaign Promises

It's in those heated hours that most campaign promises are forgotten, but a few legislators try to keep their word.

Ironically, almost every legislator now in Austin ran on a recent campaign pledge to provide tax relief, especially property tax relief. But if the Big Three leadership (Clements, Clayton and Lt.
Gov. Bill Hobby) set aside that priority, the lesser lawmakers are at a disadvantage to make tax relief a reality.
The next few months will tell.

Feds Step In

Two weeks ago the House made an historical first when it voted to void the election of Alan Schoolcraft versus Al Brown in a San Antonio district. Republican Schoolcraft won that race narrowly, and Democrat Brown charged absentee balloting fraud. By some 20 votes, the House agreed to hold a new election.

Now the U.S. Justice Department is looking into whether the Legislature must submit that decision to federal approval. Under the 1975 Voting Rights Act, any change in voting procedure or standards must be submitted to the Justice Department.

Other Events

In other action in the Legislature last week:

—The Senate Finance Committee approved a 6.8
percent pay hike for state employees following a plea
by Hobby and despite opposition from Clements. Clements' chief budget officer warned the measure may be vetoed unless it was dropped to 3.4 percent.

—Clayton named 31 committee chairmen, including seven Republicans. Blacks won two chairs, Mexican-Americans won none, and women received two.

—A group of House dissidents formed a Democratic party caucus, declaring political war on Republican members. Although apparently organized in opposition to Clayton's wishes, caucus spokesmen said they want Clayton to join their group.

—A resolution was introduced by a Houston member to make Houston Oiler running back Earl Campbell an official state hero. The political gimmick is aimed at keeping Big Earl from being traded to a pro football team in another state.
"If he's declared an official state monument, then he can't legally leave the state,"
one legislator explained.

(Editor's Note: Following is
State Representative Foster Whaley's first newsletter of the legislative season.)

On Tuesday, January 13, the Texas House of Representatives and the Senate had Swearing-In Ceremonies. Representative Bill Clayton was sworn in for the fourth time as Speaker.
No one has ever served more than two terms before
Speaker Clayton. About 45 Representatives out of the 150 would have voted for Representative John Bryant from Dallas but Bryant withdrew his name after several nominating speeches on his behalf.

There was a lengthy debate on revising the rules to give less power to the Speaker but the Clayton forces turned back any changes on a two-to-one basis.

On Thursday, January 15th, most of the day was spent hearing a contested election of a State Representative.

A three-time elected State Representative Al Brown, a Democrat from District 57C, San Antonio, had been defeated at the polls by a margin of 1,038 votes.
Brown, a conservative

Democrat, contested the election on the basis that many of the absentee ballots were from military personnel who were not actually residents of District 57C.
Allen Schoolcraft, a Republican, had a very able female lawyer representing him.

A majority report made up of 5 Democrats and 4
Republicans recommended that Republican Schoolcraft retain his seat. Schoolcraft had previously been sworn in. The Committee vote was 4 Republicans and 1
Democrat for letting Schoolcraft retain the seat.

But, when the House voted on the issue, they went against the majority report of the House by a vote of 74 to 55. This meant, in effect, that a new election would be called and that Brown will not be sworn in until the election is held.
There are 36 Republicans on the floor of the House. The vote was described by the news media as partisan since over 30 of the Republicans voted for Schoolcraft and only 20
Democrats voted for him.
All of the Panhandle delegation including Representatives Simpson, Buchanan, Staniswalis, and Whaley voted to retain Schoolcraft as the duly-elected representative. I was proud of our group because I believe we voted right.

If all of the mailed-in absentee votes were thrown out, Schoolcraft would have still won by 238 votes. I, personally, like Brown. He is a solid conservative and I had met Schoolcraft only one time, but it will be most difficult to determine, after a second election, who is eligible to vote based on residence. Military personnel have a great deal of liberty in claiming residence.

In a new election, public opinion will tend to go in favor of Schoolcraft in the San Antonio area. He had been declared the winner by over 1,000 votes and the Committee recommended a five-to-four decision that he retain his seat. By what the press described as a partisan vote, the members of the House of Representatives overturned
the decision of the voters and the Committee.

ROCKETS-CLARENDON

Wellington boys defeated Clarendon Broncos 71-57, in Rocket Gym Tuesday, January 20.

Both teams hit a dry spell in the second quarter, then in the third the Rockets made 18 points and held the Broncos to 12.

"We played good ball. I was pleased with the way we played for we knew we had to win that game to keep our chances of a district championship alive," said Coach Ray Bostick.

Wellington 20 28 46 71
Clarendon 14 21 33 57

Wellington points: Dale Thomas 23; Lennie Archie 21; Calvin Culpepper 15; Rand Johnson, 9; Willie Pennon 2; Tim Anderson 1. Clarendon: Brad Thompson

27; Randy White, 10; Gaines, Junior Crump 6 each; Drew Thornberry and Lancy Thornberry 2 and Hosea Hearn 2 each.

ROCKETS-CANADIAN

"We were a little intimidated by that place and Canadian has a very good team. All 5 of their starters shoot the ball extremely well," said Coach Ray Bostick of Wellington's 80-50 loss to the Wildcats Friday, January 23 at Canadian.

"They're one of the best shooting teams I've seen in a long time, but then this is just the first round."

Wellington 11 25 38 50
Canadian 21 41 68 80

Points: Wellington: Pennon 11; Anderson 20; Culpepper 9; Thomas and Archie 6; Wade Williams 4;

Rand Johnson and Tim Harris 2 each. Canadian: Eric Boyett 19; Donnie Rex 17; Bear Schafer 14; Craig Young and Van Morro 12 each; Lee Young 9; Bobby Cooper 1.

HEDLEY-LAKEVIEW BOYS

Hedley boys defeated Lakeview 62-38 Friday night, Jan. 23, on Hedley's court.

Lakeview 7 22 30 38
Hedley 14 30 47 62

Points, Hedley: John Scott 27; Andy Wheatly 8; Randy Langley 7; Kirk Dwight 6; Scott Doherty 11; and Tim Taylor 2. Shane Farris was the other player. Lakeview: Brent Molloy 19.

HEDLEY-ESTELLINE GIRLS

Hedley girls defeated Estelline 55-37 at Estelline Tuesday, January 20.

Estelline 7 17 29 37
Hedley 12 27 43 55

Points: Hedley: Sherrie Hill 20; Kay Guthrie 8; LaWun Ward and Debbie Kennedy 5 each; Linda Kennedy, Pam Sullivan, Cheryl Phelps, and Kim Taylor 4 each; Paula Needham 3. Estelline: Darci Johnson 12. Others playing for Hedley were Robbie Guthrie, Melanie Hansard and Twannah Woodard.

HEDLEY-ESTELLINE BOYS

Hedley boys scored 21 points and held their opponents to 13 to step ahead of Estelline and go on to win their game 67-47. This was played Tuesday, Jan. 20 at Estelline.

Estelline 12 25 35 47
Hedley 11 32 51 67

Points, Hedley: John Scott 21; Andy Weatherly 19; Scott Doherty 12; Randy Langley 10; Kirk Dwight 3;

Estelline: Joe Williams 17.

HEDLEY-LAKEVIEW GIRLS

Continuing their winning streak, Hedley girls defeated Lakeview 61-29 Friday, January 23, on the Hedley court.

Lakeview 8 19 23 29
Hedley 15 29 51 61

Points: Hedley: Sherrie Hill 20; Kay Guthrie 9; LaWun Ward, Pam Sullivan, 6 each; Cheryl Phelps and Kim Taylor 4 each; Linda Kennedy, Paula Needham and Twannah Woodard 2 each; other players: Robbie Guthrie and Debbie Kennedy. Lakeview: Pam Pate 10.

Associational meeting Thursday, February 5, with churches from 8 area towns attending, according to the Rev. Rick Smith, pastor.

The meeting will begin at 6 p.m. when the executive board convenes and the Baptist women meet.

A supper will be served at 6:45.

The program, beginning at 7:30, will feature Rev. David McDonald, evangelist from Hollis, preaching. The emphasis will be "Stewardship."

Charles Hollingsworth, music director of First Baptist Church, Wellington, will lead the congregational singing and provide special music.

Churches will be represented from Wheeler, McLean, Shamrock, Wellington, Memphis, Hedley, Estelline and Lefors.

Hedley Will Meet Groom, Silverton

Hedley Owls and Owlets have one game scheduled away from home and another on their own court during the next week.

Hedley meets Groom at Groom Friday night. This will be the second meeting for the teams in district play and in the first, Hedley won both games on their own court. Coach Gano Wilson believes Groom may have an advantage playing at home.

On Tuesday, Feb. 3, Hedley will host Silverton. "They have two good teams. They have beaten Hedley boys and Hedley girls have beaten them in district play, Wilson said.

At the weekend, Hedley girls led District 4-A with a 6-0 district record and a season record of 16-5.

"Right now they are playing well and we seem to be getting stronger with each game," Wilson said.

The weekend standing of

Leader Readers

Mark Sims, Albuquerque, N.M.; Mrs. the boys is 4-2 for district and an overall standing of 12-8.

"The boys are not out of it yet, and the home court could make a difference," commented Wilson.

CHAMPION SAILORS

Grand champion of the Cub Scout Raingutter Regatta Thursday, Feb. 22, was James Morgan, left. Second place winner was Rodney Weatherly, and Kevin McDanel was third.

WEBELOS

These three Webelos used lung power to propel their tiny boats, which they made, down a raingutter course to victory. From left, they are Kevin McDanel, first; Britt Schmidt, second; and Reggie Perez, third.

These Cub Scouts made their tiny boats, with their fathers' help, and by blowing on them at the right angle sent them down a raingutter filled with water. Den 3 winners, from left, are Robert Long, first; Lonnie Colson, second; and Jay Don McCann, third. Den 5 winners, from left are Rodney Weatherly, first, Eric Harvey, second and Lynn Bartlett third.

DWI Charge Filed Here

An Arlington man, identified by Chief Deputy Ray Akemon as Kirby Word, 703 Polk Drive, was arrested and charged with driving while intoxicated, first offense, Tuesday, January 27.

The arrest occurred at the intersection of Texas Highway 203 and FM 1035 three miles north of Wellington, officers said.

With him was Carroll Kennedy, Box 37, Clarendon, who appeared before Justice of the Peace Beatrice McKinney on two misdemeanor charges of public intoxication and disorderly conduct. Kennedy was fined $35 with cost of $10.80 on the first charge and $15 and $10.80 costs on the disorderly conduct charge.

Mrs. McKinney said the fines and costs, totaling $71.60 were paid by a friend working in Wellington and Kennedy was released.

Word is due to appear in county court.

Cub Raingutter Winners Named

Success of the Cub Scout Pack meeting Thursday, Feb. 22, was measured in lung-power, as the boys held their annual Raingutter Regatta.

Two water-filled rain gutters were set side by side in the American Legion Building, and every member of the various dens had a chance to blow his tiny hand-made sailing ship to victory along the course.

Champion of the entire pack was Jamie Morgan, while Rodney Weatherly was second and Kevin McDanel third.

Den winners who then competed for the championship were:

Den 5: 1st Rodney Weatherly; 2nd Eric Harvey; 3rd Joe Lynn Bartlett. Judy Clark, Lee Ann Popwell and Barbara Settle are leaders.

Den 3: 1st Robert Long; 2nd Lonnie Colson; 3rd Jay Don McCann. Jackie Maxwell is leader.

Den 1: 1st Brandon Porter; 2nd Bill Odle; 3rd Robert Watts. Pat Odle is leader.

Den 4: 1st Jamie Morgan; 2nd Ronny Mote; 3rd Rex Henard. The leader is Catherine Mote.

Webelos: 1st, Kevin McDanel; 2nd Britt Schmidt; 3rd Reggie Perez. Bob Odle is leader.

Wellington Students Get Assessment Tests Feb. 3 - 5

Third, fifth, and ninth grade students from the Wellington Independent School District will participate in the second Texas Assessment of Basic Skills test program scheduled for February 3, 4 and 5.

The Wellington ISD students will be among 700,000 expected to take the reading, writing composition, and mathematics tests during the February 2 - 20 statewide testing period. Each of the tests will require a maximum of 40 to 60 minutes to complete.

The Wellington ISD will report its district and campus aggregate score to the public at a May or June meeting of the board of trustees, according to Kenneth McKay, district superintendent. "However, individual student scores will be reported only to the student, parents or guardian, and the school personnel directly involved," McKay adds.

"This testing program is designed to help the student and the school improve achievement," McKay points out. "For this reason, results will be reported in a manner that will help everyone become more effective."

"Third grade students were added to the annual testing sequence for the first time this year. The three tests will make up an annual assessment effort designed to help both state and local school officials improve their services," McKay says.

Overall student performance, both by campus and by district, will be reported each year to the public by the local board of trustees.

CTB/McGraw-Hill of Monterey, California will help administer the 1981 test program and develop and field test new items for the 1981-82 series under contract to the State Board of Education. The California firm will also operate a computerized inventory of all test booklets to assure strict security at all times.

"Each test question will relate to a specific objective or skill students are expected to learn by the time they complete the particular grade," McKay points out.

"We use the term 'criterion-referenced' simply because it is a short way of saying the answer to each question must lead back to a specific objective," McKay explains.

Ninth grade students who do not make a satisfactory "exit level" score may re-take the test each year they remain in high school. However, they will not be required to take it more than once. Later attempts to improve scores and evaluate any remedial programs will be voluntary.

The annual test program will be administered by

Iona Reaves Rites Pend

Services are pending for an Amarillo woman who grew up in the Roundup community east of Lutie.

She is Iona Lee Johnson Reaves, 51, of 2702 B Westhaven, who died Monday, January 26. Boxwell Brothers Funeral Directors are in charge of arrangements.

Mrs. Reaves was born in Wheeler, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Johnson. She was a member of a pioneer county family, her grandparents, the late Mr. and Mrs. Warren Johnson having settled in the Roundup community in the 1890's.

Mrs. Reaves family returned here from Wheeler when she was a small girl.

She graduated from Samnorwood School in 1947. After moving to Amarillo, she worked for Southwestern Bell Telephone Co., for 11 years and for the Amarillo Globe News from 1967 until November 1980.

She was a Baptist.

Survivors include four sons, David Frank Reaves, Wayne Tracy Reaves and Carl Robert Reaves, all of Amarillo, and Clay Marion Reaves of Oklahoma City; four sisters, her twin, Ramona Schwartz, and Mildred McCune both of Amarillo, Waunetta Mays of Kansas and Florence Garrett of Colorado Springs, and one brother, Doug Johnson of Wellington.

Juniors Slate Spaghetti Meal

Everyone likes spaghetti, cooked with tangy tomato sauce and cheese and some special ingredients that only Wellington High School juniors know about.

It's a local tradition this time of year.

The Juniors have announced their spaghetti supper will be held Tuesday, February 3, in the cafeteria, beginning at 4:30 p.m.

This is the date Memphis Cyclones, both varsity and JV boys and girls, come to Wellington for the 4-game stand. In fact, the first game will be under way when the supper begins.

Class sponsors Linda Brewer and Lloyd Hays are in charge of the event.

All juniors have tickets and sales are under way.

Proceeds from this supper will be used to help finance the junior-senior banquet later in the year.

Food Sale Locations Announced

Four locations have been announced for the Business and Professional Women's bake sale on Friday, January 30, according to Mrs. Lynn Wright, one of those working on the projects. Food will be sold at two locations Saturday.

The booths Friday will be at Parsons Drug, C&H Pharmacy, Nancy's Place of Cosmetology and Montgomery Ward. The time will be 9:30 a.m. until all items are sold. Saturday's sales will be at Parsons Drug and C&H Pharmacy from 9:30 until 11 a.m.

This is a benefit sale, with money raised to be a memorial to Jeffrey Hiett and sent to M.D. Anderson Hospital and Tumor Institute, Houston.

Included in the sale will be Italian cream cakes, fruit pies, cream pies, cookies, brownies, and other foods.

Sarpalius on Major Senate Committees

State Senator Bill Sarpalius of District 31 has been assigned as chairman of the Subcommittee on Agriculture, one of major importance to the farming-ranching counties of his district.

He received three committee assignments, the Committees on Economic Development, Human Resources and Natural Resources.

He said his Austin office is located in the Capitol just outside the Senate Chamber in room 211.

His telephone number in Austin is 512-475-3111.

People once believed that pixies would gather the apples that fell from trees after harvesting.

Richardsons To Funeral

Mr. and Mrs. James Richardson attended the funeral of his brother, Grady Shaffer, which was held Tuesday, January 20 at Seagoville, where he formerly lived.

Mr. Shaffer, 72 died at Linden Sunday, January 18. He was born April 15, 1908 in Wise County. Since retiring, he had made his home at the Lake of the Pines near Linden. He had visited in the Richardson home here several times.

Nurse's Course Completes Study

Eleven members of the Nurse's Assistant Class have successfully completed the course of study and have been certified, the instructor, Dena Williams, R.N. announced this week.

The course was offered in Wellington through Clarendon College.

Included in the group was a mother-daughter team, Neva Kromer of Vinson and her daughter, Mary Kromer Rose of Hollis.

The third member from Hollis was Laquita Schlecht.

Qualifying from Wellington were Linda Brown, Dora Castor, Tammy Crytser, Christine Cummings, Susan Ford, Teena Johnson and Willie Souder.

The course included 80 hours of classroom time and 40 of clinical work in Collingsworth General Hospital, Mrs. Williams said. The class began November 1 and continued through January 7.

Plans are being made for another nurse's assistant course to be offered in the early spring. Those who completed the first course are now eligible to take licensed vocational nursing training at Clarendon College if they wish to, according to Mrs. Williams.

Firemen Study Spread of Blaze

Fire Chief Danny Gray said this week that firemen have tested insulation of the type in the Kenneth Foster Auto Supply building which was destroyed by fire, and the insulation may not have been as much a factor in the rapid spread of the blaze as was first thought.

The metal building, located at 200 Houston Street, outside the city limits, was completely destroyed in a fire January 15. Foster said at the time that sparks from a cutting torch ignited material and the fire spread rapidly.

Collingsworth has no county fire marshal who would legally have to make a determination on such questions as the rapid spread of a blaze.

Kay Coffee On ACU Dean's Honor Roll

ABILENE - Kay Coffee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Coffee of 1709 Ellison, was one of 586 Abilene Christian University students to be named to the Dean's Honor Roll for the fall semester.

Students named to the honor roll must earn at least a 3.45 grade point average and be enrolled in at least 12 hours during the semester.

Miss Coffee is a senior dietetics major at ACU and is a 1977 graduate of Wellington High School.

ACU is a four-year, liberal arts institution with an enrollment of 4,560 undergraduate and graduate students.

Miss Coffee completed the work for her bachelor's degree at ACU at the end of the first semester, and will take part in the commencement and receive her degree at the end of the school year.

At the beginning of the second semester she began work toward her master's degree in nutrition at Texas Tech University.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Coffee.

Memorial of $200 Given X-Ray Fund

Mrs. Robert Posey has made a donation of $200 to the Collingsworth General Hospital X-ray Fund in memory of friends, Mrs. Ernest Harwell, fund drive co-ordinator has announced.

Donations as memorials are a valued source of funds for the x-ray machine, which is due to be shipped within a short time.

Because of its age, repairs of the x-ray now in use are often not possible. Approximately 400 x-rays are made each month, according to Sut Braselton, hospital administrator.

NANCY LINDSEY

Mrs. Lindsey Employed by 1st Federal

Nancy Lindsey has been named Wellington branch manager for First Federal Savings and Loan Association of Childress.

Announcement of her appointment was made by Benny Foard, vice-president.

She succeeds Mrs. Jeanette Moore of Dodson, now employed by the Post Office in that town.

Mrs. Lindsey, the wife of Bill Lindsey, has been in business here for almost five years, and during the period when she lived away from Wellington, was employed by firms in Childress and Lubbock.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Zook Thomas, she graduated from Wellington High School in 1968, and attended Clarendon College two years.

She and her husband are active in the Church of Christ and the Eastern Star. She formerly belonged to B&PW Club and Wellington Young Homemakers.

The Lindseys have two daughters, DeJon, 11 and Diana, 6.

worship service. Visitors were Mrs. Danny Holder and Danna Lynn, Kathy Michael, Kent Wauer, and Mrs. Stella Hatcher. It was nice to see Mr. and Mrs. Reggie Lewis in church Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Thurman Crownover and Mr. and Mrs. Boley Tabor ate lunch in Altus Sunday.

There will be a Valentine banquet on February 7 at the American Legion Building for the young people of the Church of the Nazarene. Mrs. Lynvel Black is chairman.

Hartman Joins FB Insurance

Steve Hartman is now associated with the Wellington office of Farm Bureau Insurance as a special agent.

He joined the FB staff December 1, but spent much of that month attending a life insurance training school in Waco and a fire and casualty school in Arlington.

He has been in the office since January 1.

Hartman, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Hartman, was born and raised here. He graduated from Wellington High School in 1975 and attended Amarillo College for one year.

Before he joined the Farm Bureau staff, Hartman farmed west of town.

He is due to take his examination for his permanent license to sell life insurance Thursday in Amarillo and will take the examination for fire and casualty insurance in March.
