

Republic Natural Stakes Wildcat In SE Midland Area

In the undeveloped area between the Driver-Spraberry and Midkiff-Spraberry fields of Southeast Midland County, Republic Natural Gas Company spotted location for a 7,000-foot Spraberry wildcat.

It will be drilled as the concern's No. 1 J. R. Bryant Estate, 660 feet from south and east lines of section 37, block 38, T-4-S, T&P survey.

Drill site falls one and one-half miles northeast of the Midkiff pool and the same distance southwest of the Driver field.

Operations are to start at once.

NE Midland Wildcat Logs Slight Shows In Top Of Spraberry

Greenbrier Oil Company and associates No. 1 O. H. McAllister, Northeast Midland County wildcat, five miles northwest of the Germania field, and two miles southeast of the town of Germania had some shows of oil and gas in a streak of sand in the top of the Spraberry and is now taking a drill-stem test.

After topping the Spraberry at 7,332 feet, on a datum of minus 4,610 feet, it cored at 7,347-53 feet.

Recovery was five feet of fractured sand. The top four feet was bleeding gas and the bottom one foot was bleeding a small amount of oil.

Operators then drilled from 7,353 feet to 7,390 feet. The samples through that interval did not show any appreciable indication of oil or gas.

A drill-stem test is now being taken to total depth of 7,390 feet.

Location is 960 feet from north and west lines of section 40, block 37, T-1-S, T&P survey.

Spraberry Trend Gets Oilier, Siter

Five more locations and one completion have been reported in the Spraberry Trend of Midland, Upton and Reagan Counties.

Phillips Petroleum Company No. 4-A Tippetts is to be dug as a 7,500-foot test in the North Pembroke field of Upton County. Drill site is 668 feet from north and 660 feet from east lines of section 27, block 38, T-4-S, T&P survey.

In the same field, Concho Petroleum Company No. 2-23 V. P. Tippetts will be 660 feet from north and west lines of section 23, block 38, T-4-S, T&P survey.

Aldwell Pool

One location south of the opener and long producer in the Aldwell-Spraberry field of Northwest Reagan County, American Republics No. 1 G. F. Wimberly and others will be drilled as a 7,500-foot test 660 feet from south and west lines of the north half of section 15, block C, L&SV survey.

Anderson-Prichard Oil Company No. 1 Smith Spradling will be dug as a 7,235-foot one mile west out-post to the recently completed Sohio Petroleum Company No. 1 Hill, three miles west of the Pembroke field of East-Central Upton County.

Drill site is 5,200 feet from south and 430 feet from east lines of section 9, block MC, M. C. Ulmer survey.

Midland Area

Cabot Carbon Company will drill its No. 2-A TXL as a one and one-quarter mile north out-post to the Weiner-Floyd field of Northeast Upton County. Location is 660 feet from south and east lines of section 7, block 37, T-4-S, T&P survey.

Drill site falls in Southeast Midland County, 1,575 feet north of the Upton County line.

The Blackwood & Nichols Company No. 4 Humble-Barnett is a new Spraberry producer in the Benedict-Multipay field of Central-East Upton County.

251 BOED

It was completed for a daily flowing potential of 251.08 barrels of 40-gravity oil and no water. Gas-oil ratio was 812-1.

Completion was on a 3/8-inch choke and from open hole at 6,615-7,222 feet. Pay was topped at 7,495 feet. Tubing pressure was 200 pounds.

Location is 1,900 feet from south and 660 feet from east lines of the lease in section 4, block Y, COB&RGNG survey.

Lion Drills Ahead At NE Scurry Wildcat

Lion Oil Company No. 1 C. O. Helms, Northeast Scurry County wildcat, 24 miles northwest of Snyder is making hole below 7,000 feet in lower Strawn lime.

The prospector has not logged any shows of possible production.

Operator took an electric log when total depth was 7,000 feet in lime and shale. The exploration is log geologically to the nearest points of control.

Oil Man Is Killed In Dallas

DALLAS —(P)— Thomas W. Dowell, 55, an oil operator with successful holdings in West Texas and New Mexico, was shot to death here Monday.

One shot from a .38 caliber snub-nosed revolver entered his right chest as he sat in his car with his wife.

Mrs. Dowell told police she had taken the gun from the glove compartment of the car and was about to hand it to her husband when it fired. The gun had been wrapped in a towel.

Shortly after the shooting, at a side entrance of the fashionable apartment hotel where the couple lived, Mrs. Dowell became hysterical and could not give complete details.

Verdict Withheld

Justice of the Peace W. E. Richburg withheld a verdict until she could be questioned again.

Richburg said he and police wanted one detail of the shooting cleared up. There were two empty cartridges in the revolver but officers could only find one bullet.

The couple had just returned from a trip to Colorado and New Mexico. Mrs. Dowell told officers she bought the gun Saturday, at Dowell's insistence, and took it with her when she went alone to Pueblo, Colo. Dowell later joined her in Pueblo and together they went to Clayton, N. M.

Dowell had been an oil operator and promoter in West Texas about 10 years. Much of that time he operated in Scurry County. He had an interest with Henry Ford III, and under Dowell's name, had drilled a successful three-quarter mile extension to the Sharn Ridge field.

He recently opened a new pay zone with a well strike in the San Juan Basin of Northwest New Mexico.

He also had production in Borden and Parker Counties.

Dowell first became known as a Texas oil man in the Borger boom in the 1920's. He reportedly had Rockefeller family financing, as well as Ford financing, in some of his ventures.

Navy To Call Up Reserve Chaplains

WASHINGTON —(P)— The Navy is ordering a number of reserve chaplains to active duty.

This is the first time chaplains have been called up in the present emergency on other than a voluntary basis. In all other naval reserve groups, some men already have been ordered involuntarily to active duty.

The Navy said Tuesday it is calling up chaplains because not enough have volunteered. They will serve the same periods of duty as other reserves—a maximum of 17 months for veterans and 24 months for others.

Wilson Names New Bottleneck Buster

WASHINGTON —(P)— Mobilization Chief Charles E. Wilson Tuesday installed a new bottleneck buster—Clay P. Bedford—to speed lagging output of tanks, jet engines and almost 100 other military items.

Bedford, executive vice president of Kaiser-Frazer Corporation, was sworn in by Wilson as chairman of the Production Executive Committee of the Defense Production Administration and deputy chief of DPA.

Britain Hands Iran Virtual Ultimatum

TEHRAN, IRAN —(P)— Britain's delegate Tuesday offered Iran a new proposal to settle the grave British-Iranian oil dispute and gave the Iranians until noon Wednesday to take it or leave it.

The new British move followed the abrupt withdrawal by British Delegate Richard R. Stokes of the previous British proposal revolving about a 50-50 split of Iranian oil profits.

Stokes announced he had offered compromise possibilities which concern the retention of British management at the Abadan Refinery and the oil fields. These had been rejected by Iranian Premier Mohammed Mossadegh. Stokes then withdrew Britain's proposals and substituted a new, overall one.

It included the problem of employment of British personnel. If the Tehran government rejects this, Stokes probably will return at once to London.

Stokes told reporters: "All my efforts have been concentrated on obtaining a fair, workable solution. That I believe to have failed. I regret to say, and I can only hope the government (of Iran) before noon Wednesday will reconsider and accept the abundance of help and good will which, in the interest of Iran, even at this late hour, is still available. If not, there is nothing left for me but to go home."

Previously, the city had discussed a bus franchise with Leroy Spinks, Monahans, who proposed to inaugurate a system here with three school-type buses and three pusher-type buses.

The Abilene man subsequently proposed to start operations with six used pusher-type buses, replacing them within 90 days with new buses of the latest metropolitan type.

Oswalt said Monday the Abilene man had offered to post a $5,000 performance bond to begin operations within 90 days at the latest, although he had assured the city he would try to have the buses operating by September 15.

Midland has been without a bus transportation system since last November.

Louisiana's Legion Baseball Champions Defy Replay Ruling

NEW ORLEANS —(P)— Milton Clavier, coach of the Holsum Bakers, said his team would not return to Baton Rouge Tuesday to replay part of the final game in the American Legion Junior Baseball Regional Tournament.

Holsum defeated the Austin, Texas Buddies 3-2 in 11 innings Monday night, but Dale Miller of Indianapolis, Ind., national administrator of the Legion baseball program, upheld a protest by Austin.

Miller ordered the game replayed at 2 p. m. Tuesday from the point of protest, with Austin leading 2-1.

"We won the ball game on the up and up and our boys were completely exhausted," Clavier said. "The game ended at 1:30 this morning and by the time we had our showers and ate, it was 3 a. m."

"I talked with the boys and all thought the same way as I did that we got a raw deal."

"Now they want us to go back to play the game from the eighth with Austin leading 2 to 1 and our rally broken up with two outs," Clavier said. "We're not going back to play under those conditions."

Warner To Head Patrol District

Capt. Glen Warner is the new commanding officer of the Pease district of the Texas Highway Patrol, which includes Midland.

Director Homer Garrison, Jr., of the Department of Public Safety Monday announced the appointment of Warner to succeed Captain George Morahan, who has been transferred to the Abilene district.

Warner, until his promotion and new assignment was a sergeant assigned to the Dallas district of the highway patrol.

Captain Morahan will report to his new assignment in Abilene September 1 and Captain Warner is expected in Pease at the same date.

Southerners Told More Exports Will Peg Cotton Prices

WASHINGTON —(P)— A delegation of Southern congressmen reported they were assured by Secretary of Agriculture Brannan Tuesday that the government will push exports of cotton as a major means of stabilizing declining prices.

Senator Russell (D-Ga.), spokesman for the group, said after an hour-long conference with Brannan that the government expects exports from this year's bumper crop to run between 5,000,000 and 6,000,000 bales.

This would be upwards of 2,000,000 bales more than was shipped last year under a rigid control program set up after last year's small crop led to fears of a shortage.

Russell said exports of the cotton would be reduced to a level which would have a strengthening effect on prices.

The delegation called on Brannan to report widespread grower dissatisfaction with the cotton price situation and to appeal for stronger government price support measures.

Cotton has dropped almost 12 cents a pound from a winter peak of 45 cents, largely under the influence of a crop of about 17,266,000 bales.

The lawmakers said they got no commitment from Brannan to raise the government price support for cotton or for government purchase of cotton for stockpiling purposes.

They said, however, that the secretary told them the government is exploring the stockpiling suggestion. The lawmakers said they had no doubt about the legal authority of the Munitions Board to buy and store cotton for future military use.

Russell said Brannan was opposed to raising the price support for cotton because producers of other crops likely would come in and demand similar treatment.

Three Odessa Men Injured Tuesday In Traffic Crash

Three Odessa men were injured early Tuesday when the two automobiles in which they were riding collided head on 12 miles west of Midland on U. S. Highway 80.

Injured were Jess L. Ashby, driver of one of the automobiles, Charles R. Hart, a passenger in his car, and Charles E. Weldon, driver of the other vehicle.

Extent of their injuries was not immediately determined at Medical Center Hospital in Odessa, where they were taken.

State Highway Patrolman F. D. Marshall said Ashby was attempting to pass a truck when his automobile collided with Weldon's.

Hawaii Island Feels Earthquake Shock

HONOLULU —(P)— An earthquake knocked down some buildings and cracked a highway in the Kona Coast area of volcanic Hawaii Island early Tuesday.

Police said first reports from the area indicated no one was injured. Hawaii Island, southeast of here, is the largest of the Hawaiian Island group.

13 Die As Blazing Jet Plane Plows Into Group Of Soldiers

FORT DIX, N. J. —(P)— A flame-enveloped jet plane—raining fiery death as it fought a losing battle for altitude—plowed into a group of soldiers Monday. Thirteen men, including twin brothers, were killed.

Twenty-one other soldiers were burned or injured as the T-33 Air Force trainer plane crashed moments after taking off from nearby McGuire Air Base. The plane's two-man crew died in the wreckage.

Among the dead soldiers were Priv. George W. and Robert W. Poole, 22-year-old twins from Camden, N. J., who were inducted into the Army about four months ago. George was killed instantly.

Their widowed mother, Mrs. Hazel Poole, was preparing to leave for the post hospital late Monday when word was received that the critically injured Robert also had died.

The rest of the dead were part of a 54-man Army detail that had just finished learning how to lay communications lines in a belt of scrub pines at the edge of the base.

Survivors said the plane bore down on them "like a ball of fire" through the trees, skidded over a truck partly-loaded with soldiers and crashed about 50 feet away.

Lt. Bertram Brinley, Fort Dix public information officer, said a blazing wing-tip fuel tank, apparently jarred loose by trees, dropped onto the truck, turning it and its passengers into flaming torches.

Cease-Fire Agreement No Nearer

MUNSAN, KOREA —(P)— Communist protests and anti-American propaganda were stepped up Tuesday as a joint Allied-Communist subcommittee held its fifth session trying to break the deadlock in Korean truce talks.

Red China's Peiping radio Tuesday night said the killing of a Chinese soldier in the Kaesong neutral zone "will rouse still greater hatred of American imperialism among Korean and Chinese peoples."

The Reds formally charged the Chinese was killed in an ambush by United Nations troops. The UN command denied this; said it probably was the work of guerrillas.

'American Ambush'

Tuesday's Peiping broadcast, quoting the Hsinhua New China News Agency, said "He was murdered in American ambush."

The broadcast quoted Maj. Gen. Hsieh Pang, a Chinese armistice delegate and member of the joint subcommittee, as saying the death of the soldier "will surely harden Chinese volunteers' determination to defend peace."

Hours before the broadcast, the subcommittee—two Allies and two Communists—met in Kaesong for two hours and four minutes. More than half that time they spent poring over a map trying to agree on a military dividing line for a cease-fire.

They scheduled another session at 11 a. m. Wednesday (7 p. m. Tuesday, CST). They made no report on progress.

But the UN spokesman, Air Force Brig. Gen. William P. Nuckolls, gave some indication little progress was being made.

He said the Communists at the "discussions were 'inimical' to military logic, 'obscure' in their politically colored demands, 'incomprehensible' in presenting them, and 'adamant' to adjustments."

Nuckolls drew no distinction between the attitude Red generals displayed in full negotiation sessions and in subcommittee meetings.

The UN spokesman made his comments after Peiping radio said Monday that:

"If the American side still stubbornly adheres to its unreasonable demand of plunder, and rejects the just and reasonable proposal of our side, an agreement will be impossible."

Truman Indicates New Fight Brewing For Control Powers

WASHINGTON —(P)— President Truman Tuesday indicated he is about to open a new fight to get from Congress the price and other control powers he says are needed to combat inflation.

At a White House meeting, the President asked his National Advisory Board on Mobilization Policy for advice on a message to Congress asking stronger control authority.

When Truman signed the present law on July 31, he denounced it as inadequate and served notice he would ask Congress later for changes.

Father Knows Whereof He Speaks

MISHAWAKA, IND. —(P)— "This is going to hurt me more than it hurts you," said Ellsworth B. Wilson as he started spanking his 10-year-old son, Ellsworth, Jr., for disobedience.

It did.

During the spanking Monday, the 43-year-old father knocked over a lamp and suffered a head cut. He was treated in a Mishawaka hospital.

Young Ellsworth's injuries were not visible.

Oil Fields, Port Expect Major Blow

MEXICO CITY —(P)— A tropical hurricane with winds up to 130 miles an hour stormed across the Southwest Gulf of Mexico Tuesday toward Mexico's oil port of Tampico and some of her richest oil fields.

Overnight it had regained most of the force with which it raked Jamaica last Friday and took 155 lives.

The U. S. Weather Bureau, in its 11:30 a. m. advisory, said present indications are the hurricane will move inland early Wednesday near Tampico.

Tampico, a modern city of almost 100,000 population, lies on a low, marshy plain some five miles from the gulf. It is approximately 270 miles south of the border between Mexico and Texas. At least four major oil fields are within 100 miles of Tampico.

Earlier Tuesday, the Weather Bureau had reported the hurricane headed toward the Tuxpan-Nautla area of the Central Mexican Gulf shore, between Tampico and Veracruz. But at 11:30 a. m. the bureau said the location appeared to be too far south and revised its advisory.

The bureau said strongest winds are about 130 miles an hour within 30 miles of the center; hurricane winds extend out about 75 miles in the northern semi-circle and gales 250 miles to the north.

Moving 12 Miles An Hour

At 11:30 a. m., the hurricane was about 240 miles east of Tampico and moving about 12 miles an hour in a direction between west and northwest.

It swept across Jamaica Friday, then hit the Yucatan Peninsula of Mexico Monday. It lost force over the sparsely settled land and headed across Campeche Bay, in the Southwest Gulf of Mexico. The Mexican Weather Bureau said it picked up new force Monday night.

A U. S. ship, the Ward Line ship Monterey, sailed at noon Monday from Tampico with a partial load of 1,000 tons of copper and lead. Its captain planned to go north around the storm center, enroute to Havana. Ward Line officers in Mexico City have had no word of the Monterey since it sailed. They said this probably indicated it was meeting no difficulty.

Earlier Tuesday, Tuxpan, an oil port of about 13,000 population, and the fishing village of Nautla, some 70 miles south of Tuxpan, had been warned they would take the full force of the big blow late Tuesday.

Navigation Dangerous

The Weather Bureau warned all shipping that navigation will be dangerous along the Tuxpan-Nautla stretch of coast. It also warned coastal dwellers to prepare for "torrential rains and high tides."

Tuxpan, some five miles up the Tuxpan River from the coast, has withstood previous hurricanes without damage. Behind the city lies the rich Poza Rica oil field. This, too, has withstood previous hurricanes without great damage except from flooding. On the inner edge of the plain lie high mountains which have broken up and dissipated previous storms before they reached Mexico City.

Nautla, a fishing village on the coast, is more vulnerable. Roberto Ortiz, captain of the port at Nautla, said there was nothing at the port now but small fishing boats and he had forbidden them to go to sea. He said a strong storm might do considerable damage to the corn and bananas now ripening along the coast to the south.

Squalls and heavy seas may extend to the lower Texas coast, the Weather Bureau said in cautioning small craft to take cover until the fury of the storm has passed.

1,172 Prisoners Still Holding Out In Oregon Strike

SALEM, ORE. —(P)— The second crack in the Oregon prison sit-down strike came Tuesday with 138 convicts joining 40 others who went back to work Monday. That left 1,172 who haven't had a meal since Thursday breakfast.

The strike entered its second week Tuesday. The food was shut off by Warden George Alexander on the second day of the strike in an effort to force the men back to work. The men said they would strike until Guard Lt. Morris Race was shifted outside the walls. They said he started the whole thing by brutality in halting a fight between convicts. The warden denied it, said Race would stay, and issued a work-or-don't eat ultimatum.

Midland Cooled By Light Shower

Midland had cooler temperatures and a light shower of rain early Tuesday and citizens didn't know whether to thank a scheduled "cool front" moving into Texas from the north or edge winds from a hurricane in the Gulf of Mexico.

A trace of rain was reported at the gauge of the City Shops and .07 inch was measured by Civil Aeronautics Administration at Midland Air Terminal.

Some Midlanders awoke Tuesday to the patter of rain drops and late sleepers got the best sleeping weather in quite a few days.

Nation's Crude Oil Production Slumps

TULSA, Okla. —(P)—With Illinois accounting for more than half the slump, the country's daily average crude oil production fell 14,360 barrels in the week ended August 18, The Oil and Gas Journal reported Tuesday.

The Journal figured the total daily average production for the week at 6,144,425 barrels.

Illinois' loss was 8,600 barrels to 162,000 barrels. Sizeable drops were reported also for the Eastern fields, down 3,950 barrels to 87,800; Mississippi, off 2,350 to 98,450; Kansas 1,900 to 321,050, and Indiana 1,800 to 31,100.

Oklahoma decreased 700 barrels to 506,700; Michigan fell 600 to 38,100; Montana declined 400 to 23,800; Alabama and Florida dropped 300 to 2,900 and 1,525 respectively, and Kentucky was down 100 to 30,300.

Colorado led the gainers, up 4,800 barrels to 76,900.

California was next, adding 600 barrels to 978,700, and Louisiana increased 500 to 611,725.

Others with gains were Wyoming, up 400 barrels to 196,500; Arkansas and Utah, each up 100 to 77,300 and 4,300, respectively, and Nebraska, 50 to 6,350.

Production was unchanged in Texas, 2,772,625 barrels, and New Mexico, 147,300.

Just Fishin', Not Divorcin', Says Gable

RENO, Nev. —(P)—Take Clark Gable's word for it, his presence in this divorce colony is purely that of a nimrod and angler.

The actor, staying at Lake Tahoe's Glenbrook Inn, told reporters Monday he has no thought of seeking a divorce from Lady Sylvia Ashley.

He pointed out that his wife filed for divorce June 20 in Santa Monica. He said he is quite willing to wait on the slower procedure of the California courts—which requires a year between the interdictory and final decrees.

Dope, Cage Scandals, West Point Cribbing Focus Eyes Of America On Youngsters

By RELMAN MORIN

NEW YORK —(P)—Three times within the last few months a startled nation suddenly has been confronted with some painful facts of life.

The facts were doubly painful because they all involved young people. First, a series of reports showed teen-agers and young adults in increasing numbers are regular users of dope. Many of them now are confirmed addicts, possibly beyond cure. To get the money for it, they resort to shop-lifting, burglary, robbery and prostitution. Narcotics officers say the practice exists in small towns as well as big cities, and that it is spreading.

At about the same time, detectives began unraveling a skein of crooked operations on college basketball. Athletes were charged with accepting bribes to control the scores of the games. Starting in New York City, the trail soon led to other basketball centers.

And finally, the story of a broken code of honor at West Point shocked America as nothing comparable ever has done.

In fact, no true parallels exist in American life for any of these phenomena. A narcotics officer would hoot at the suggestion that the gin-and-jazz age of the 'twenties was the equivalent of dope addiction by young people in 1961.

"You didn't find a high school kid pulling stickups to get the money for a bottle of gin," the officer says. "He didn't crave it that much."

A long generation ago, the "Black Sox" scandal saddened the baseball fans of that day. But the participants were older men and professional athletes in the official sense of the word.

Every generation worries about its children.

But today the professionals are worried too. Those men and women who deal with youngsters in the mass—teachers, clergymen, law enforcement officers, etc.—usually remain fairly detached and serene about recurring crises in manners and morals. They are deeply concerned now.

Four Main Dangers
Their concern focuses on the conditions in which young people have to live today. They cite four main sources of danger:

1. The parents themselves, and lack of discipline.

2. The fear of another great war, which will mean sudden death for many young people, and a totally uncertain future for all of them.

3. The examples of conduct set forth by persons of prestige in the eyes of youngsters.

4. The impact of more powerful channels of information, driving home these aspects of life more vividly and in greater volume than ever before.

Whether any of these conditions is subject to any remedy or control is a matter of debate. One of them, the possibility of war, apparently cannot be removed, and will haunt young people everywhere for years to come.

An expert probation officer, Doris Clarke of the Magistrate's Court of New York, says:

"I am less disturbed about the youngsters than I am about their parents. Too often, the origin of the trouble is right at home."

The experience and opinions of persons who are in daily contact with young people all add up to the same conclusion:

Youth, as always, is reacting to conditions, and conditions now are not so good.

Dale Robertson Draw To Stay, At Least For 'Lydia Bailey'

By ERSKINE JOHNSON
NEA Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD—I'm a-shivering in my boots over what's bound to happen to the new crop of burning-eyed lads around Scorsenow now that I've talked to Dale Robertson.

Dale's the six-foot package of husky manhood with the Tony Curtis-John Derek sweep of black hair who's been strapped into the space ship over at 20th Century-Fox for the excursion known as "Destination Stardom."

They're going to jet him up to those wild astral areas as the star of "Lydia Bailey" without bothering to comb the black-eyed peas and green corn pudding of Oklahoma out of his veins.

The lads who flash the white teeth, the cleft chins and the chiseled nostrils just aren't gonna take it lying down.

They're going to scuttle the Cary Grant head tones, the Jimmy Stewart stammer and the Clark Gable bark for the Robertson way-down-yonder drawl.

Instead of using the Ronald Colman technique in front of a tough casting director, some lad with a bloodhound sense of which way the wind's blowing will stick his thumb in his belt and say:

"Pardner, I gotta hankering to play opposite that there filly name of Joan Crawford."

Drug Store Cowboys
And around Schwab's drug store and Hamburger Hamlet on Sunset Strip, the would-be heart-flutterers will be talking about the smell of purple sage and spinning reels.

Come to think of it, I had to restrain myself from rushing over to Warner's to test for "The Life of Will Rogers" after being exposed to Dale's pure Oklahoma lingo.

"Polks are telling me to get rid of my accent," Dale grinned. "Just about everybody but that man up there, who's smart enough to know what he wants."

He pointed to a picture of Darryl F. Zanuck in a mural of flying cameras, curlicues of celluloid and swaying microphones. "The front office told me to just be myself and talk natural."

"That's what they bought and that's what they want, by heck. A lot of fellows around this town are six feet tall and have gray eyes and dark hair. But I'm the only one that talks like me."

Dale said he'd never thought of himself as a movie actor and wasn't too sure about it now.

Not that his acting career had been handed to him on a silver platter.

The first notion he had that anybody would even consider patting down the shine on his nose with a powder puff was when he had a photograph taken in his Army uniform by Hollywood lensman Ames Carr.

"He must have had the thing blown up and put it in his window or something," Dale shrugged. "Anyhow I started getting letters from movie agents. When the Army declared me a deserter, they sent me to the military academy."

He said he'd never thought of himself as a movie actor and wasn't too sure about it now.

Orders Issued For Modernization Of 101 Naval Vessels

WASHINGTON —(P)—The Navy Monday announced orders have been issued for the conversion or modernization of 101 Naval vessels, including three Essex class aircraft carriers.

The program also includes the construction of four minesweepers. No estimate of the cost was given, but in the past the cost of modernizing a single carrier has run into tens of millions of dollars.

The carrier Bon Homme Richard is scheduled for modernization at the Brooklyn Naval Yard, and the carrier Hancock and Lexington for modernization at the Puget Sound Naval Shipyard, Bremerton, Wash.

All the newly announced work is to be done at Naval shipyards except for the conversion of four submarines to "Guppy" (greater underwater propulsive power) snorkel-equipped submarines by the Electric Boat Company, Groton, Conn.

TOT HOSPITALIZED

CRUZ REYES, Jr., three-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Cruz Reyes, 606 East Michigan Street, suffered injuries requiring hospitalization Monday in a fall from his bed. He was admitted to Western Clinic-Hospital.

Britain's Princess Margaret Attains Majority Tuesday

BALLATER, SCOTLAND—P—Princess Margaret, vivacious sweetheart of the British Empire, came of age Tuesday. Her twenty-first birthday was greeted by Britons everywhere and the celebration at nearby Balmoral Castle was a quiet family affair.

Tourists and local folk in this neighboring Scottish town made it a festive occasion as friends of the royal family—including some who may be eligible for Margaret's hand—came to take part in the birthday party.

Scotsmen feel they have a special claim on Margaret Rose—the princess' full name—because she was born in this Northland's gloomy Glamis Castle.

The royal birthday sparked new speculation as to when the younger daughter of King George VI will announce her betrothal. Legend has it that girls born at Glamis Castle marry, or at least become engaged, by the time they are 20.

Two young men considered the most likely claimants to Margaret's hand were present for the birthday celebration. They are William (Billy) Wallace, 24-year-old polo-playing stepson of American writer Herbert Agar, and the 27-year-old Earl of Dalkeith.

Bitten Twice By Same Rattlesnake

AUSTIN—P—Ollie Crimm, 64, of Huntsville, is recovering from two bites inflicted by the same rattlesnake.

Crimm is assistant superintendent of the State Fish Hatchery at Huntsville. He was bitten once on the finger when he reached for a feed container in a dark corner of a supply building.

Thinking it was only an insect sting, he reached into the corner and was bitten again, said Marion Toole, chief aquatic biologist of the Game and Fish Commission.

Crimm and his wife administered first aid to the bites and drove to the hospital at Huntsville, Toole said.

Mrs. David C. George

Mr., Mrs. George To Live In Midland

Margery Belle Cuff of Tulsa became the bride of David Crockett George of Midland Saturday in the home of the bride's parents. The Rev. H. R. Hooten, assistant pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Cuff of Tulsa. George is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leland B. George of Tulsa.

The improvised altar was formed with woodwardia fern, rhododendron, delphinium and jade palms. Mrs. William Richardson played traditional wedding music and accompanied Mrs. Paul Havenstrite who sang "Ave Marie" and "Be-cause."

Bride Wears Blue
Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an auburn-blue nylon jersey dress fashioned with a sweetheart neckline and circled golden braid. Inserted rhinestones outlined the finely pleated skirt. Her accessories were navy blue and she wore a crown band of pleated blue lace with clusters of blue daisies. She carried a nosegay of blue asters and daisies.

Betty Jane Denton was maid of honor. She wore a brown nylon linen dress with matching accessories and her corsage was salmon colored gladiolus. After the ceremony a reception was held in the home. The bride's table was centered with a blue wedding cake garlanded at the base with blue daisies and asters. Members of the house party were Mrs. W. L. Rinaman, Marthann

The MATURE PARENT

Wise Brown Rabbit Has A Lesson For Youngsters

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

A day or so after the Selbys moved to a new town, 10-year-old Jake came to his mother and said, "I don't like this place. I want to go home."

She was arranging china in the kitchen cupboard. "What's the matter with it?" she asked.

"Ah, that kid next door's a jerk," Jake said. "He acts like he owns the street."

"Did you try to make friends with him?" his mother asked.

Jake was indignant. "Who wants to be friends with a guy that calls your bike a piece of junk?" he demanded.

"Maybe you tried to make friends too hard," said his mother, piling saucers carefully on a shelf. "Maybe you ought to behave for a while like a rabbit I know about."

"What rabbit?" asked Jake.

"He lives in the far north," his mother said, comfortably. He's very smart. Although he's a brown rabbit, when the snow comes he changes his brown fur to white. Why do you suppose he does that?"

"So his enemies won't see him?" asked her son interestedly.

"Yes," said his mother. "When it's cold and unfriendly, he just doesn't draw attention to himself. He waits until the Spring comes, and it's warmer and friendlier. Then he knows it's time to be himself again. So he changes his white fur back to brown."

"Then I shouldn't offer this jerk any more rides on my bike?" her son said slowly.

"No," said Mrs. Selby. "Wait till he asks for one. Wait till it's friendly around here."

A week later, as her child and the boy next door tore through the kitchen on the way to Jake's room, Jake yelled at his mother. "I'm a brown rabbit, now, ma. It's safe now."

Lambs Among Wolves

We should remember Mrs. Selby's story of the wise brown rabbit to tell our children when they are going through difficult adjustment periods in new neighborhoods and schools.

If their overtures of friendship have been rejected, we should not sympathize with them, nor condemn the unkindness of those who have hurt them. Our total effort should be directed to helping our young ones increase their own respect for the value of their friendship.

If we do a good job of persuading them that their friendship is not to be treated lightly, they will not feel a need to force it where it is not wanted. As they gain respect for what they have to offer, other children will soon gain respect for it, too.

I often marvel at our reluctance to prepare the young more realistically for unkindness and rejection by others. I marvel at it because I have read how a certain teacher briefed his students on the eve of their departure to spread his ideas about love.

"Behold," said their teacher. "I send you forth as lambs among wolves. Be ye therefore as wise as serpents and as harmless as doves. If the house be worthy, let your peace come upon it; but if it be not worthy, let your peace return unto you."

If the group of students who studied under Jesus Christ needed briefing on how to deal with slight and rejection, we should not be too disturbed by the idea that our little boys and girls may need some, too.

You and I know we are not always welcome. We know we cannot always be ourselves. We know that the heart worn upon the sleeve gets some hard pecks. Then let's not pretend that the wolves don't exist in this world. Let's tell the young about the brown rabbit.

Treatment Of Focal Infection Individual Case Must Decide

By EDWIN F. JORDAN, M.D.

Written for NEA Service

Can an abscessed tooth, infected tonsils, or a sinusitis cause symptoms of inflammations in other parts of the body? This question comes up every now and then and from an individual point of view is most difficult to answer. In medicine it is called the problem of focal infection.

The theory that chronic infection in one part of the body could cause difficulties elsewhere is quite old. However, about the turn of the century, work on this subject received a big push, largely through the studies and stimulating personality of the late Dr. Frank Billings of Chicago.

For a while a large number of ailments were attacked by instituting a careful search for some source of chronic infection in the body—gallbladder, tonsils, prostate, teeth or sinuses. If anything could be found these focal areas were removed, drained, or treated in any way possible.

Then, as so often happens in medicine, a reaction set in. Some patients had had all their teeth removed without any improvement in the condition for which this had been performed. Some had serious operations or treatments for focal infections and were worse than before.

The result was that many careful physicians swung away from the idea of focal infection altogether and almost all began to take a much more conservative attitude toward the subject.

But occasionally someone who was almost desperate with some form of neuritis, muscular rheumatism, arthritis or similar condition received relief from the removal of an infected tooth, bad tonsils or other "focus of infection." This cannot be ignored even though exactly how this happens is hard to figure out.

Change Attitude

At any rate there is now a pretty wholesome attitude toward the removal or treatment of these foci. No longer are they removed wholesale but neither do most physicians disregard really diseased and infected tissue.

The principles are fairly well agreed on now but it is no easy matter to decide what to do in an individual case. No one can guarantee that taking out an abscessed tooth will relieve the symptoms somewhere else in the body.

Both patient and physician have to add up the arguments for and against treatment of an infected focus and then take their chances on whether the treatment will accomplish the desired results. There will be disappointments as well as successes.

Nap Under Tractor Is Fatal To Texan

AMORY, MISS.—(AP)—The sun was hot and there was no nearby shade. So Carl Eddings crawled under a big tractor at lunchtime Monday for a quick snooze. He was crushed to death when the driver reported back and drove away.

Police said Eddings, a 40-year-old pipe line worker from Center, Texas, was the father of five children. He was employed by the Williams Brothers-Davis Company. The firm is laying a gas pipe line from Kosciusko, Miss., to Florence, Ala.

Two State Hospital Contracts Awarded

AUSTIN.—(AP)—Award of two construction projects Monday by State Board for Hospitals and Special Schools completed the first year's annual $5,000,000 hospital construction program.

The board also authorized its executive committee to proceed immediately with employment of a new Superintendent for the State Orphans' Home at Corsicana.

The present superintendent, M. E. Dumas, was relieved by the board as of September 1.

One of the final awards in the $5,000,000 construction program went to the Etze-Kitchens Construction Company of Austin on a low bid of $649,640 for ward buildings to house 300 patients at the Kerrville State Home.

The other award went to R. T. Collins of Dallas on a low bid of $136,528 and Huey and Phillips of Dallas on a low bid of $41,808 for construction and equipment, respectively, for a central kitchen, diet kitchens and dining halls at Rusk State Hospital.

Tribe Takes Double Bill From Dusters

VERNON — The Midland Indians knocked off the Vernon Dusters in both ends of a doubleheader here Monday night, 7-4 and 1-0.

The Indians rang up four tallies in the third inning of the opener to overcome a 1-0 Duster lead and then went on to collect three more in the sixth. Vernon's second tally came in the fourth inning and a threatened rally in the bottom of the seventh was good for two more runs.

The deciding blow of the second game was a pinch hit double by Manager Zeke Bonura scoring Gordon Tanner in the seventh inning.

The Indians and the Big Spring Bronchos open a two-game series at 8:15 p.m. Tuesday in Indian Park.

Two Hurlers In Loop Get Twentieth Wins

By The Associated Press

Two pitchers in the West Texas-New Mexico League posted their twentieth win Monday night. And that's quite a feat in the league where pitchers are looked upon as necessary evils.

Red Dial pitched the Pampa Oilers to an 18-5 win over Clovis for his twentieth of the season. Jim Melton scattered 10 Borger hits in pitching Abilene to a 14-4 win, his twentieth also.

Dial gave up eight hits and struck out six as the Oilers led all the way. The game was delayed 30 minutes because of rain.

Abilene lost to Borger, 17-3, Sunday but got sweet revenge as they unleashed a 16-hit attack off two Gasser pitchers to give Melton an easy win.

Amarillo and Lamesa split a doubleheader with Jim Reynolds, Gold Sox moundsman figuring in both. He lost the first as a starter, 6-2, then came back in a relief role in the second to win, 9-6.

Albuquerque jumped on Ray Faust and the Lubbock Hubbers for a 4-3 victory. It was Faust's tenth loss against 18 wins. Jerry Polkman was the winner, notching his third of the season. He has lost five.

Black Indians Down Florida Cubans, 12-8

The Midland Black Indians, behind the three-hit pitching of Johnnie Williams, downed the Florida Cubans, 12-8, Monday night in Indian Park. Williams struck out 13 men.

Gene Grant got two triples, driving five runs.

The Sandy Storks Post, American Legion, gave Williams $5 for a homer he hit Sunday afternoon and also $5 to the "Little Skeet" Appreciation Fund. Monday night was Appreciation Night for the little catcher.

The Black Indians move to Lubbock Sunday afternoon for a game.

Somebody Forgot To Let Oilers Know About 'Franks Night'

By The Associated Press

Monday night was "Dean Franks" Night in Rowell but somebody forgot to tell the Odessa Oilers about it. The fans honored the 27-game winner with an appreciation night but the Oilers spoiled the fun by handing him a 6-3 defeat.

The approximately $900 given him by the fans put Franks' nerves on edge. The three runs scored by the Oilers in the first inning and the two in the third didn't help much. He did settle down to go the distance, however, and held the victors to one run in the last six innings.

Big Spring blanked Sweetwater, 7-0, in the other single game. San Angelo at Artesia and Midland at Vernon were bargain bills.

San Angelo swept both games from Artesia, winning the first, 9-6, then enjoying a 13-0 romp in the afterpiece.

Indians Take Two

Midland also swept both games. The Indians took the opener, 7-4, then shaded the Swatters, 1-0, in a thriller in the second game. An error in the top of the seventh and final inning put a runner on base.

Manager Zeke Bonura doubled as a pinch hitter to drive in the lone run. Marshall Epperson, sold to Denver recently and due to report to Omaha at once, allowed only four hits in the pitchers' duel but lost his bill outting for the Dusters.

Bill Reed also gave up four hits as he won the decision.

Lou Lozano scattered seven hits to shut out Artesia in the second game of that twin-bill. Wayne Wallace got his thirtieth home run of the year. Don Petchow and Ken Kowalik also homered to help build up the score.

Buff Shortstop Is Polio Patient

PORT WORTH—(P)—Bill Costa, Houston Buff shortstop, is in the City-County Hospital here as a polio patient.

Hospital attendants said Monday night his condition was "fair."

Costa, 31, complained of a sore throat when the Houston team of the Texas League came here Saturday. He was held out of the game that night and was admitted to St. Joseph's Hospital Sunday.

He played against Port Worth at Houston Friday night.

Costa, a resident of New Orleans, played at Rochester, N. Y., and at Houston in 1946 and stayed at Houston through the 1947 season. He played with Columbus, Ohio, 1948 through 1950. The Columbus team won the Little World Series last year.

He rejoined the Buffs this season.

Texans Favored For Oil Bowl Tilt

WICHITA FALLS

The Texas squad appears the favorite over an all-star Oklahoma high school team for the Oil Bowl football game here Friday night.

Two-a-day drills began Monday. Texas worked from a "Y" with Duane Nutt of Corsicana, Frank Dismore of Port Arthur, Ed Beach of Wichita Falls, and James Self of Wichita Falls working as a unit.

Alternating in the backfield were Joe Boring of Sunset, Mac Taylor of Lubbock, Tommy Field of Wichita Falls, Ronald Clinkscale of Arlington Heights and Oliver Gradshaw of Austin.

The heavy Oklahoma line, averaging close to 200 pounds, shaped up good in practice.

King's Row

Not so very long ago, the Southwest Conference distributed a booklet giving the outstanding plays and performances recorded since the loop has been in existence.

It proved one thing: That statisticians can err, and that football followers have a memory like the proverbial elephant.

Fans stormed in with performances topping those listed as the best of all time, so the red-face statistician did the only thing he could—put out another release.

The booklet contains several sporting gems. For instance, did you know the longest touchdown run from scrimmage recorded was a 94-yard dash by Bohn Hilliard of Texas, against Texas Tech in 1934?

Milton Evans of Baylor returned a punt 97 yards to score against Oklahoma City U. in 1937. That's a record, too.

In 1942, when Cullen Rogers of Texas A&M ran an intercepted pass 99 yards for a TD against Arkansas, he set a record for that department. Charles Casper of TCU romped about as far as you can go on a kickoff for a six-pointer—105 yards, against Texas in 1933.

Bob Smith, the Aggies' "Masked Marvel," rushed 1,302 yards in 1950 to set a season's mark.

Davey O'Brien, TCU's 1938 all-American, tossed for 1,733 yards through the air for a record. His 110 completions were tied by Baylor's Adrian Burk in 1949.

Arkansas' slim Jim Benton caught 44 passes in 1937, for a total of 814 yards. Both are tops for receivers.

The leading scorer? No, not Doak Walker. It was Joel Hunt, who rambled for 128 Texas Aggie points in 1927. Walker's best was 87 in 1948.

Carl Knox—former TCU player and Midland grid coach—has the longest recorded punt on record. The kick boomed 94 yards against Oklahoma A&M in 1947.

The longest field goal—and from placement—was kicked in the days when the "foot" really was in football—in 1938. Joe Pasqua of SMU toed one 52-yards against the Aggies.

Darrow Hooper of A&M has the most conversions after touchdowns. He made 34 last season.

Now, settle all the arguments you want.

Two Texas League Twirlers Rack Up Twentieth Victory

The Associated Press

Two pitchers in the Texas League reached the 20-game winners circle Monday night. Al Papal, the Houston knuckleballer, was the first to hand up his twentieth win but only because his game against Dallas ended first.

Bob Turley, the San Antonio youngster, also hit the mark with a win over Fort Worth.

Papal pitched the Buffs to a 6-3 victory over the Dallas Eagles in the first game of the final series of the year between the two clubs. He gave up nine hits while his mates were raking Dallas pitchers for 13 safeties, including five doubles and two triples.

Turley gave up 10 hits but beat Fort Worth by the same score. The Missions banged out 14 bingles and ran up all their scores before the Cats could solve the offerings of the young right-hander.

Cats, Eagles Hang On

Despite their losses, the Eagles and Cats lost no ground in the fight for playoff berths. The Beaumont Roughnecks bowed to Tulsa, 4-2, to remain tied with Dallas for third place. The Cats continued to trail by four games.

Oklahoma City spanked the Shreveport Sports, 13-3, to round out the card.

Tulsa shaded Beaumont in a fast, tight ball game that kept the fans on edge. The Oilers scored two runs in the second and two in the third. Beaumont got its pair in the top of the third, and the last six innings were scoreless.

Bill Burgher hit a grand-slam home run to highlight the one-sided Indian-Sport game. Bob Martin, tied for the league batting crown, also homered.

Sixth Region Junior Legion Baseball Title Remains In Doubt

BATON ROUGE, LA.—(P)—The championship of the Sixth Region American Legion Junior Baseball Tourney remains in doubt after a protest in Monday night's final game was upheld Tuesday by Legion officials.

The game, in which the Holsum Bakers of New Orleans defeated the Austin, Texas, Buddies, 3-2, in 11 innings, was ordered replayed from the point of protest. The replay was scheduled here at 2 p.m. Tuesday.

The protest came with the Texas team leading, 2-1, and centered around an umpire's rule interpretation when a Holsum batter interfered with the Texas catcher on an attempted squeeze play.

The umpire called the batter out and sent the runner back to third, from where he later scored the tying run.

The Texans protested that under the rules, the runner should have been out. This protest was upheld by Dale Miller of Indianapolis, Ind., national administrator of the Legion baseball program.

Holsum had beaten Austin 5-3 in the first game of the double elimination tourney finals Monday night.

BELL HITS DODGERS

PITTSBURGH—(P)—Pirate outfielder Gus Bell does his best hitting against the Brooklyn Dodgers. In the first 13 games this year, Bell was hitting .422 against Dodger pitching. He drove out 19 hits, including eight for extra bases, in 45 trips to the plate.

Cotton Bowl Clash Pits Rote, Walker

Dale Mitchell Is Standout In Flag Drive

By RALPH BODEN

Associated Press Sports Writer

Dale Mitchell, a bench warmer every Spring, is one of the leading lights in Cleveland's stirring drive for the American League pennant.

Mitchell, who has never failed to hit .300 in the big top, sits on the sidelines down South while rookies battle for his left field job. But Mitchell doesn't worry. "I'll be in there before long," is his comment.

Sure enough, before the season is well underway Mitchell is the regular left fielder.

There was some doubt this year if Mitchell would come through again. He got off to a horrible start after all aspirants for his berth failed, but he finally started to click, and so did the Indians.

Mitchell reached the 300 mark in batting Monday night as the Indians opened a crucial 18-game home stand by beating the Washington Senators, 5-3.

Birthday Present

The triumph, a forty-third birthday present for Manager Al Lopez, enabled the Tribe to pull one game ahead of the runner-up New York Yankees, who divided a two-night doubleheader with the Tigers in Detroit. The Tigers won the opener, 6-3, but the Yanks grabbed the second, 12-5.

Mitchell opened the Indian half of the first inning with his ninth homer, only two shy of his output in four previous complete big league seasons. Before the inning ended, Al Rosen boomed his twenty-second homer with a mate on and the Indians never were headed. Home runs by Bob Avila in the third and Harry Simpson in the sixth accounted for the other Cleveland runs.

Husky Mike Garcia scattered 12 Washington hits in posting his seventeenth victory of the year compared to eight losses. Mickey Vernon, with a double and three singles, and Ed Yost, with a home run, featured Washington's attack.

The Indians meet every rival during their current stand. They collide with the Yanks in a three-game series beginning Thursday and clash in a doubleheader with the Boston Red Sox Sunday.

Leave On Road Trip

The Indians embark on a 17-game road trip after their current stay at home and then wind up the season with a pair of games in Cleveland with Detroit.

Virgil Trucks, with help from Dixie Trout, stopped the Yanks in the opener at Detroit. Trucks, leading, 4-0, left in the eighth when the Yanks tallied twice. The Tigers came back with two in their half to clinch the decision.

Jerry Priddy and Pat Mullin paced the Tigers' 11-hit attack against lefty Ed Lopat. Priddy drove in three runs on a triple, double and single. Mullin contributed his eleventh homer.

The Yanks tucked the nightcap away with an eight-run explosion in the eighth inning on five hits, three walks, an error and fly ball. Joe DIMaggio and Yogi Berra drove in three runs apiece. Berra homered in the ninth inning of each game to boost his home run output to 20.

Lefty Joe Ostrowski, making his second start of the season, scattered 10 Tiger hits, including a homer by Steve Souchock. The victory was his fifth of the season and his second complete game triumph over the Tigers.

The remaining American League clubs were not scheduled. In the National League, rain washed out a game between the Brooklyn Dodgers and the Braves at Boston. The other National League clubs were idle.

HAS RIGID SCHEDULE

MINNEAPOLIS—(P)—Jim Pollard, ace forward on the Minneapolis Lakers, is having a tough summer schedule. Jim is playing baseball in the Minnesota State Semi-Pro league for Jordan, Minn. He also is studying for his degree in Physical Education at the University of Minnesota. Each morning he teaches swimming at the University Farm School. When Pollard has some additional time he sells autos for a Minneapolis concern.

DALLAS

The weather wouldn't appear conducive to football talk, but one of the hottest summers in Texas history hasn't prevented interest reaching its peak a full month ahead.

Prospects are that at least 65,000 fans will be in the Cotton Bowl Friday night to see a National Football League exhibition game. That would be a record for professional football in the Southwest.

It isn't just an ordinary game, however, that is making the people buy tickets while mopping their brows from 100-plus temperatures. This is a natural-it matches, for the first time, two of the great gridiron heroes of Texas: Doak Walker and Kyle Rote.

Walker packed in the fans while playing three All-America seasons at Southern Methodist. Rote drew them in a like number of great campaigns at SMU although he made one of them without Walker as a teammate.

Outstanding Rookie

Doak already was in pro football and proved to be the outstanding rookie as he led the league in scoring while playing for the Detroit Lions.

Rote signed a contract with the New York Giants last Winter and will be playing his first game as a pro when the Giants and Lions clash Friday night.

The Giants already are in town and Steve Owen, their coach, is predicting Rote will outshine Walker. The Lions will arrive Wednesday and Coach Buddy Parker probably will make a similar forecast about Walker.

Odds Against It

"Rote is better equipped physically than Walker," said Owen. "He can take the hammering of pro football. Walker was fortunate last year in going through the season uninjured but the odds are against it."

Owen said Rote would run and do some passing in Friday night's game. Walker will be doing those same things.

In 35 games at Southern Methodist, Walker scored 303 points, gained 3,862 yards running and passing. In 31 games, Rote scored 198 points, gained 2,700 yards running and passing. Both also did some great punting and pass-receiving.

The largest crowd ever to see a professional game in Texas or the Southwest was last year when 63,000 turned out here to watch Walker play against Washington and its Sam Baugh, another Texas grid great. But Arthur Hale, ticket manager of the Cotton Bowl, thinks that will be broken easily here Friday night if the weather is good.

Search For Diamond Czar Is Renewed

NEW YORK—(P)—Big league baseball club owners met again Tuesday in their search for a new commissioner. The field of 11 has been cut by the withdrawal of some of the men.

Lou Perini, president of the Boston Braves and a member of the screening committee, revealed several of the men contacted by various club owners have eliminated themselves. He declined to give names but presumably they included Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower and Douglas MacArthur.

The 16 club owners two weeks ago pared down the list of men under consideration to 11.

"Maybe some new names will be mentioned, but as yet none have been presented," said Perini.

By the end of the summer, the twins can face the future with confidence derived from the right clothes, coiffures and cosmetics. Betsey (above) in bouffant evening gown of wool plaid and white organdy, lends a hand, with sisterly cooperation fastening bracelet for Barbara, who's wearing a sleek, gold, velveteen date dress. Clothes reflect difference in social life.

Betsey, who's toned down her eye make-up (upper center) and controlled her curls, is matched in grooming by Barbara, who's learned to use a lip brush (lower center) and sweep her hair back in soft waves. Betsey, in casual tweeds, greeting sister at dorm door, is as well turned out, collegiate style as Barbara, out for week end, in her smartly-styled town tweeds.

In Collegian And Career Girl Roles, Twins Make Most Of Different Types

BY ALICA HART
NEA Beauty Editor

A make-yourself-over project, whether for college or a career, can turn into quite an undertaking. Betsey and Barbara discovered as the days whizzed by. Their wardrobes were shaping up rather well, and already their hair was achieving a perfection they'd only dreamed about before.

But, they suddenly realized, they hadn't even tackled the problem of improving their make-up habits. The sooner they started the better, since they not only needed to learn what to do, but they also needed practice before they could really approach their dressing tables with a professional air.

They enlisted the aid of a well-known beauty firm which has done a great deal of work in teaching young women how to make the most of their looks. There they were taught a finger-blend make-up technique developed by this salon.

First, Betsey and Barbara were taught to spread a pastel-tint foundation all over their faces and throats, smoothing it lightly over their skin until it blended into a dull, mat finish.

To cover blemishes that hurry almost every adolescent at one time or another, they learned to apply a second coat over the crucial spots, feathering the edges to make this touch-up imperceptible.

Next a rouge tint, applied with a feather-light touch, was blended into their cheeks to produce a transparent glow, and after that, a dusting of powder was used to veil softly the under-cover work.

The eye make-up was of particular interest to Betsey. It was she who had tended to handle her mascara, eyebrow pencil and eye shadow with a touch more general feeling of closeness that comes of being a twin. Already their schedules for Fall were studded with week-ends they planned to spend together. They planned eagerly for that first Friday afternoon when Betsey would fling open the door of her dormitory to greet her career-girl sister, out from the city with her traveling case in hand.

Each was now, as they'd planned it, a person in her own right.

She learned that the perfect eye make-up doesn't look like make-up at all; its purpose is simply to add depth and flattering shadows. Now she begins by drawing a fine line, as close to the lashes of her upper lid as possible, with an eye crayon. This line ends in a slight upward curve toward the outer edge of her eye socket. Her eyebrows are enhanced with short feathery strokes of the crayon, but she's careful to keep the curve as wide and high as possible.

She uses eye tint to play up the color of her eyes. She dots on the center of her eyelids just above her lashes, then she fades it lightly toward the inner corner of her eye, allowing the color to deepen outward toward her temples.

Mascara is used only upon her upper lashes. After applying it, in upward, outward strokes, she separates her lashes with a dry brush to avoid a heavy, beaded look.

Barbara was shocked, upon learning the correct way to apply lipstick, to realize how badly she'd done it in the past. She'd always applied it right from the tube, widening the shape to imitate that of her favorite film star. Whenever she'd smeared it—which happened with disconcerting frequency—she wiped the excess off as best she could.

She'd always been a little afraid of using a lipstick brush; it seemed so complicated. After trying it, however, she wondered how she'd ever stumbled along without it before. Her strokes were now smooth and sure; her lipstick was no longer guesswork.

By the time autumn foliage began to blaze forth, Betsey and Barbara were ready to do a bit of glowing, too. Theirs, they felt had been a profitable summer.

Betsey dreamed happily ahead to the college proms when she would cut a fine figure in her new gown with the red-and-black wool plaid bodice and the floating white organdy skirt.

Barbara talked of evenings a little more sophisticated, when she would set forth in a short date dress of gold velveteen, her fur-collared matching coat across her arm in readiness for the chill of the ripening night.

Although their paths were diverging they were not losing that Nationalist China Fires Two Military Attaches In U. S. A.

TAIPEH, FORMOSA.—(P)—The Chinese Nationalist government fired two of its representatives in the United States Tuesday and ordered them home immediately.

First, Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek suspended Lt. Gen. Mao Pang-Chu as deputy commander of the Chinese Nationalist Air Force and delegate to the United Nations Military Staff Committee.

Chiang, in a mandate, accused Mao of "dereliction of duties and disobedience of orders." A government spokesman said Mao had failed to account for $19,440,000 of funds to buy equipment for the Air Force and to train its personnel.

Next, Air Force headquarters announced dismissal of Col. Hsiang Wei, executive assistant to Mao, and ordered him home to face charges of dereliction of duty and suspicion of being a Communist agent.

May Seek Extradition

It was doubted here that either would return voluntarily to Formosa. Observers said it is more likely they would seek to stay in the United States, in which case the government might try to obtain their extradition.

Mao, otherwise known as Lt. Gen. P. T. Mow, had been Nationalist Air Force representative in Washington since the Spring of 1943.

Government Spokesman Shen-Chang said Mao was accused of:

1. Failure to give a clear account of funds for purchase of air force equipment.

2. Dereliction of duties, causing loss of air force fighting power.

3. Espousal of the cause of disloyal staff members.

4. Refusal to hand over public funds.

5. Undermining the Nationalist government's prestige by spreading rumors.

A Little Wait—or a Big Compromise!

Standard equipment, accessories, and trim illustrated are subject to change without notice.

If you have a Cadillac on order—or if you are giving thought to placing your order for one—we want to talk frankly with you about the matter.

There is, of necessity, some delay in delivery of new Cadillacs. You have to wait a while to get one—the time depending somewhat upon the model you select.

Naturally, you are being urged to purchase other makes of cars—which can be had almost as soon as your signature is on an order blank.

For your own welfare, we hope you will turn a deaf ear to all this—and hold firm.

If your order for a Cadillac is already in—let it stand, and be patient until your car is ready.

If you want a Cadillac, but haven't yet ordered it, do so at once—so the delay may be as short as possible.

It is a simple choice you have to make. You must choose between a little wait—or a big compromise.

You must make this choice because there is no substitute for a Cadillac.

There is, for instance, no substitute for the deep world-wide respect in which it is held—

—there is no substitute for its marvelous over-all performance . . . so smooth, so quiet, so steady that to drive is to relax and to ride is to rest——and there is no substitute for the sheer joy of owning and driving it, so great that you will actually think up excuses for taking to the highway!

Yes, if you want a Cadillac—and you know that you do—stand firm until you get it.

There is nothing else like it—nothing in all the wide, wide world that can take its place!

Truman Asks Huge Sum For Rebuilding Flood-Stricken Area

WASHINGTON —(P)—President Truman has asked Congress for $400,000,000 to help the flood-battered Middle West and to finance a new national flood disaster insurance program.

He told Congress in a message Monday night the situation was a "grave emergency" and asked that the money be provided as quickly as possible.

Vice president Barkley promptly referred the request jointly to the Senate Public Works and Appropriations Committees to speed action. Ordinarily, each would study the matter separately.

The relief money would be used to pay flood victims of Kansas, Missouri and nearby states for part of what they lost in the July floods; to guarantee liberal loans for rebuilding homes, farms and factories; and to help states and cities participate in the rehabilitation activities.

Funds for the new insurance program will help fill "the lack of a national system of flood disaster insurance" which is now a major gap in the means by which a man can make his home, his farm, or his business secure against events beyond his control," Truman said.

White House aides said the $400,000,000—16 times more than the $25,000,000 already appropriated by Congress for Midwest flood relief—probably is the biggest in the history of American disaster relief.

But Truman said the flood is the biggest in that region's history, too, and this amount is needed to rebuild an area of vital importance to the nation as a whole.

Chinese Arrest Two Catholic Dignitaries

VATICAN CITY —(P)—Monsignor Antonio Ruberi, papal internuncio to China, has been under house arrest at Nanking since June 26, the Fides Agency, which specializes in Catholic Missionary news, reported Tuesday.

The agency said no one is allowed to leave Ruberi's house and no visitors are permitted. The telephone wires have been cut.

The agency also reported that Monsignor Cutbert Martin O'Hara, American Passionist and bishop of Yuanling (Hunan), recently was imprisoned by Chinese Communist authorities.

Woman Found Dead In Wood Near Austin

AUSTIN —(P)—A church notebook was the only clue as officers Tuesday sought to identify the body of a woman found dead by hunters near here Monday.

A notebook titled "Christian Education in the Local Church" and bearing the inked initials "F.B.P." was near the body.

The body of the woman was lying face downward in a wood patch. She apparently was middle-aged, had been dead more than a week, and there was no obvious evidence of foul play, said Sheriff Ernest Best.

Bodenman Named Service Officer By Midland VFW Post

Walter Bodenman

The Midland VFW post announced Tuesday the appointment of Walter Bodenman as service officer, taking the place of Joe Scholer, who moved to Odessa.

VFW officials said the announcement especially was significant in that the county now has no service officer. The new service officer will serve all veterans.

Bodenman, according to John Henderson, VFW commander, is well-qualified for the position. He is a Naval veteran of 11 years' service.

He was state service officer of West Virginia from 1945 to 1946. He was on the national VFW staff from May, 1946, to May, 1949, as appeals consultant in the national rehabilitation program.

Bodenman wrote the section on appeals for the VFW Service Manual.

He came to Midland in June 1949. Bodenman is associated with the real estate firm, Key, Wilson & Maxson at 112 West Wall Street. He may be contacted by veterans at that location.

Maceos Again Seek Change Of Venue In Injunction Hearing

AUSTIN —(P)—The Maceo Syndicate tried again Tuesday to change venue in a pending injunction suit from Travis County to Galveston County.

It appealed to the Third Court of Civil Appeals against a ruling by Judge Jack Roberts in 126th District Court on July 20, refusing to transfer the case.

Roberts had ruled Maceo and Company must make its defense in its court against the state's injunction suit to stop receipt of horse race gambling information by telephone in the Maceo clubs.

Former Beer Baron Faces Prospect Of Lifetime In Prison

NEW YORK —(P)—Waxey Gordon, the 63-year-old beer baron of prohibition days, lay very ill Tuesday in a federal jail with the possibility of remaining behind bars the rest of his life.

Gordon, who is being held on narcotics charges, will be turned over to New York State for prosecution on dope charges.

If convicted by the state, he would be subject to a life term as a fourth offender. Federal law has no such provision.

The decision to turn Gordon over to the state was revealed in Federal Court Monday when his attorney sought reduction in his $250,000 bail. The bail hearing was adjourned to August 27.

Gordon—whose real name is Irving Wexler—was arrested August 2 with three other men. Authorities said they had $180,000 worth of raw heroin with them.

A county grand jury heard witnesses Monday and is expected to hand up an indictment in the next few days, when Gordon will be taken out of federal custody and turned over to the state.

Texas Rains—

Corpus Christi, San Angelo and Midland.

The forecast was for scattered showers in West Texas and in the West and south portions of East Texas through Wednesday, with lower temperatures.

The Weather Bureau said temperatures still will be high—but at more normal levels than during the great heat wave of recent weeks.

Monday's high temperature was 105 at Presidio, Cotulla, with 100, and Corsicana, with 101, were the only other points with century readings. The low overnight Texas reading was a cool 59 at Dalhart.

Winds Freshen On Coast

Winds picked up along the Texas coast as the hurricane churned toward Mexico. At Brownsville, the wind rose from five to 13 miles per hour by mid-morning. It was expected to reach fresh to strong strength at Brownsville before midnight.

Texas coastal cities were ready to start immediately defensive measures in case the hurricane shifts its course.

At Corpus Christi and Kingsville, the Navy took no chances and ordered its planes flown inland. Emergency plans were put into operation at both Naval air stations.

Twenty-two multi-engine aircraft were flown from Corpus Christi to Connally Air Force Base at Waco. At Houston, the Air Force was ready to evacuate its planes from Ellington field if necessary. More than 50 planes based at the navigation school will be moved inland, probably to West Texas, if the storm shifts toward the Texas coast.

Oklahoma Accident Claims Third Victim

ARDMORE, OKLA. —(P)—A third member of a Fort Worth family of four died Sunday from injuries received Friday night in an auto mishap.

The latest victim was Emil Stutter, 38. His wife, Inez, 32, and son Robert, seven, died earlier. A daughter, Sue Ann, 11, is in critical condition.

WHERE MANPOWER SHORTAGES THREATEN—The Newsmag above shows six critical defense areas where actual or expected manpower shortages threaten to "impede essential activities," according to a survey by the Bureau of Employment Security. Booming aircraft production contributed to the shortage in four cities (indicated by aircraft symbols). Shortage in the Aiken-Augusta area is caused by "tremendous demand" for labor at the new Savannah River atomic plant, while workers are needed in the Davenport-Rock Island-Moline area for the machine industry and government arsenal. The bureau's survey showed a tighter labor supply in two-thirds of the nation's major production centers, resulting from bigger defense hiring and seasonal spurts in construction and agriculture.

AERIAL MESSENGER—Large meteorological balloons, like this one used for naval aviation research, can carry messages of hope behind the Iron Curtain. Made of polyethylene plastic, they rise into the stratosphere and can travel as far as 800 miles before gas seepage forces them down. Balloons aimed at Czechoslovakia, for instance, would have the Czech word "Svoboda"—"Freedom"—in large letters on their sides. They can be equipped to spill propaganda leaflets over a wide area.

Man Lucky To Get Off With Fine, Judge Figures

A 25-year-old Midland man appeared in Corporation Court Tuesday morning to answer a charge he was driving 80 miles an hour in a 30-mile zone.

"I had just gotten out of the hospital," he told Judge J. M. DeArmond, "and was worried about getting the money to pay my bill."

"I was just driving around trying to figure out how I was going to get the money."

"I didn't realize how fast I was driving," Judge DeArmond was not sufficiently impressed.

"It's just lucky you didn't wind up back in the hospital," said the judge.

"The fine will be $20."

Suez Temple Names Slate Of Officers

SAN ANGELO—Officers of the newly-chartered Suez Temple were elected here Monday.

They are Ray Thomason, Sr., Abilene, potentate; J. M. Clark, Abilene, chief rabban; J. M. McDonald, Midland, assistant rabban; Haoward E. Harlowe, Brownwood, high priest and prophet; M. L. Leddy, San Angelo, oriental guide; Virgil Musick, San Angelo, treasurer; Ben Godfrey, San Angelo, recorder.

Prior to the election Monday, temporary provincial officers had served the new temple. The officers elected Monday will serve until Jan. 1, 1952, as the first official leaders.

A charter will be presented to the Temple September 28 by Galloway Calhoun, imperial past potentate. Midland sent a caravan to the Monday election which included more than 60 Shriners. The group was led by Lester Short, president of the Midland Shrine Club. The Midland Shriners had police escort into San Angelo, arranged by Ed Darnell and A. L. Barr.

A representative of the National Production Authority due in Midland Tuesday to help businessmen in meeting NPA requirements postponed the trip until Wednesday, the Chamber of Commerce, was notified. The delay was due to plane trouble, he said.

Peanut Soda? Science Says It's The Nuts

Goobar Glamor: Technician at Southern Research Institute samples peanuts which have been ground up in a hopper in foreground for 'milk' shakes.

BIRMINGHAM, ALA. (NEA)—How about a cone of frozen peanut butter? Or a big creamy-like peanut shake?

Coming right up—perhaps in the near future!

Birmingham's Southern Research Institute has brought a promise of glamor for the lowly goober. After experiments involving a new means of keeping the oil intact with peanut butter and a new type of "free-flowing" nut product obtained by extremely fine grinding, the institute has come up with a formula for a delicious peanut beverage much like chocolate milk, as well as other items resembling milk-based foods such as ice cream.

Main objective of the new "free-flowing nut product," developed by Dr. Joseph E. Vincent and Dr. Wilbur A. Lader, is its adaptability to many uses never attained by the common nut butters. The free-flowing syrup is the result of grinding shelled nuts, either cooked or uncooked, until essentially all solid particles have been reduced to microscopic size, thus releasing a greater proportion of the nut oil.

Taking the peanut still a step farther, Dr. Jack H. Mitchell, former head of the biochemistry section of the institute, has produced a stable water emulsion of extremely finely ground peanuts, suited as bases for many nut food products. These emulsions, sweetened, flavored and frozen, produce a food rich in nutrition and of a texture similar to ice cream.

The product has characteristics ranging from those of milk to those of a thick custard. It can be a base for many easily prepared food variations and drinks. A desired nutritive balance can be achieved in the mentioned confections through supplementary vitamins, amino acids, minerals, etc. The minute size of the solid nut particles makes for more ready digestion than any other nut products and the emulsion may serve as a substitute for milk or cream in many cases.

May Be Added
As in real ice cream, egg yolk may be added to increase the whipping qualities when making frozen confections. The new product also will be used to make custard-like preparations for pies and other bakery products.

This new angle on the peanut looks promising not only to the gourmet, but to the peanut farmer and to the government, now faced with a peanut surplus.
And also possible is a dry concentrate which may be packaged, shipped and stored to be used as needed, without special process or refrigeration before the addition of the water.

Spark plug points set too close together will cause a car to backfire when coasting down a hill with the throttle closed.

Flying Errand Gets Apartment

NEW YORK (AP)—Hyman Kanter, comptroller of the Union of American Hebrew Congregations, which is moving its office from Cincinnati to New York, had to find an apartment. A friend suggested Glen Oaks Village, a large garden-apartment community.

Kanter telephoned at 10 a.m. found he could get an apartment and could sign a lease immediately. He boarded a plane, walked into the rental office at 3 p.m., signed the lease and a check and apologized for being in a hurry. He had one more business matter to take care of before he would catch a plane back to Cincinnati.

"My wife likes me to be on time for dinner," he said.

Friendship Train Is Daily Reminder

ORLEANS, FRANCE (AP)—Children of this ancient French city have a daily reminder of American friendship—a tiny steam train that puffs and whistles and rings a bell as it hauls excited little passengers.

The train, goal of a $4,500 drive in Sedwick County, in South Central Kansas, recently was presented to the children of Orleans by Edith Hedges, of Wichita, Kan.

Her father, Bert Hedges, Wichita businessman, is chairman of the Wichita-Orleans committee in UNESCO (United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization). The two cities are "sister cities" in UNESCO.

German Red Draft Is Expected Soon

BONN, GERMANY (AP)—West German socialists claim general military service will be introduced in the Soviet zone of Germany soon.

A review of East German re-armament, published by the headquarters of the Socialist Party here, says the "Volksarmee," a military cadre of approximately 55,000 officers and men, is ready to handle a flood of recruits.

Paper work for the large call-up has already been done, the review states, under the pretext of collecting workers for uranium mines. Mass medical examinations were given to determine fitness for underground work. This information, the review says, can now be used as the basis for the future draft.

The Bedford Place

Grace and substantial beauty are embodied in this new three bedroom home of El Paso brick, located just a stone's throw from the Country Club.

The recessed entrance leads through a hallway into the roomy, cheerful living room, complete with wood-burning fireplace. The living room opens into the dining room, which has access in turn to the large patio. The kitchen measures 12x15 feet, and its features include a 28-foot ceramic tile drainboard, a super-abundance of stained knotty pine cabinets. It is plumbed for dishwasher and disposal unit, with instantaneous hot water. An electrically-controlled vent is built over the range location. Breakfast room and laundry room are just off the kitchen.

The stained knotty pine den provides a lovely view of the quiet street and the grounds of the Country Club, may be used as the fourth bedroom. All three massive bedrooms have large, walk-in closets with sliding doors to facilitate easier furniture arrangement. Three storage closets in the long hall.

The two large, ceramic tile bathrooms include dressing table and glass-enclosed shower stall, and the best Crane colored fixtures are installed.

Phone jacks have been placed in the den, kitchen and the master bedroom. Central heating unit has been installed, and ducts to handle air conditioning. Recessed lighting and mahogany doors throughout. The double garage is completely finished inside, and has three enclosed storage closets.

Here is a home for the most discriminating family; one that will be a daily joy for the rest of your life. For appointment to see, at any time, call

East Texas Bootleg Corn Whisky Comes In For Nasty Panning By Federal 'Revenooers'

PALESTINE, TEXAS—(AP)—Bootleg corn whiskey from East Texas stills is no better than it used to be. And that's not very good.

Take the word of Clifford M. McMaster and Boyd Uzzell. They are veteran investigators for the Treasury Department's Alcohol Tax Unit.

While in Palestine "on business," McMaster and Boyd Uzzell said East Texas bootleg corn whisky:

1. Is made in old oil drums, or other similar containers.

2. Often is full of impurities, ranging from manure (put there deliberately) to rats, accidentally drowned.

Texas doesn't rate high in the matter of stills seized. In Georgia, revenueurs knocked over 3,962 stills. In Texas, it was only 81. But most of them were in East Texas.

"If the public knew the whole story about bootleg whisky, there would be less business for the bootleggers," said Uzzell.

Stills in East Texas, they said, always are located in the woods, or in barns or corn cribs. "People ought to see them."

"Sometimes it makes us downright sick to taste the mash in a barrel that has a dead rat floating in it. But we have to taste the stuff to find out when it's going to be ready to cook. So, since we have to taste it, we taste it, rat or not."

The agents are expert tasters. They know from experience the flavor of freshly-mixed corn mash and that which is ready to distill. They know how soon operators of a still will show up to run out their batch of illicit whisky.

The mash changes from sweet to sour during the process of fermentation.

District Governor To Address Midland Rotarians Thursday

Percy F. Bridgewater, governor of District 183, Rotary International, will pay his annual official visit to the Midland Rotary Club, his home club, Thursday, Dr. J. O. Shannon, president, announced Tuesday. The governor will visit each of the 27 Rotary Clubs in this West Texas district during his term of office.

P. F. Bridgewater

Governor Bridgewater will confer with Dr. Shannon, the Rev. W. R. Mann, secretary-treasurer, and other officers, directors and committee chairmen at a meeting scheduled at 7 p.m. Wednesday in the home of Dr. Shannon, 1002 North A Street. Rotary administration and service activities will be discussed during the session.

Thursday noon, the district governor will address the club at its regular meeting in the Crystal Ballroom of Hotel Scharbauer. Bridgewater is one of 203 Rotary district governors supervising the activities of approximately 7,300 Rotary Clubs, which have a membership of 330,000 business and professional executives in 83 countries and geographical regions throughout the world. Growth is cited.

Wherever Rotary Clubs are located, Dr. Shannon said, their activities are similar to those of the Rotary Club of Midland because they are based on the same general objectives—developing better understanding and fellowship among business and professional men, promoting community-betterment undertakings, raising the standards of business and professions, and fostering the advancement of good will, understanding and peace among all the peoples of the world.

Each year, this worldwide service organization continues to grow in numbers and in strength. During the last fiscal year, 237 new Rotary Clubs were organized in 35 countries of North, South and Central America, Europe, Asia, Africa and the islands of the Pacific.

Funeral Rites For Sgt. R. S. Holder To Be Held At Rankin

RANKIN—Military funeral services for Sgt. Ralph S. Holder, whose body arrived in the States from Korea last week, will be held at 4 p.m. Thursday in the auditorium of the Rankin Elementary School. The Rev. Don Cochran, Methodist pastor, will officiate. Interment will be in the Rankin Cemetery.

The son of Allen J. Holder, well-known Rankin resident, Sergeant Holder lost his life as a result of the fighting in Korea last December. The Rankin man received word of his son's death last January.

Sergeant Holder was a native of Rankin and was a graduate of Rankin High School.

The body of the Rankin hero will arrive in Odessa Thursday morning. It will be taken to Rankin by the Jacobson Funeral Home of McCamey, which has charge of funeral arrangements.

Heavy Rainstorms Paralyzes Tokyo

TOKYO—(AP)—One of the heaviest rainstorms in recent years hit Tokyo Tuesday.

It disrupted transportation and communications and ended a month-long heat wave.

Many sections of the teeming city were under several inches of water by nightfall. Automobiles, trolley cars and buses creaked at a snail's pace. Taxis were at a premium. Many persons were stranded at their offices.

Lightning struck a power plant and temporarily cut off radio transmission of news between Japan and San Francisco and within Tokyo itself.

Quadruplets Born To British Mother

BROMLEY, ENGLAND. — (AP)—Pettie Mrs. Muriel Brown gave birth to quadruplets—two boys and two girls—Monday night, but one of the boys died.

The three surviving babies, Denise, Georgina and Tony, were in oxygen tents. The boy who died was named Derek.

The 27-year-old mother is the wife of George Brown, 34, a $19.80-a-week mechanic. The Browns, already have a four-year-old son, live in a six-room flat.

CHURCH LEADER DIES
GLASGOW — (AP)—The right Rev. John White, 83, long the recognized leader of the Church of Scotland, died Monday night of a heart ailment.

Oil And Gas Log-

When the project was started its objective was 7,800 feet to test to the Ellenburger. It is possible that it will go on until it finds and explores that formation.

Location is 1,980 feet from south and 660 feet from east lines of section 631, block 97, H&TC survey. That makes it nine miles northwest of Hobbs, which is in Central-West Fisher County.

Pennsylvanian Test Spotted In NW Lea

Jackson, Douglas & Richie of Midland spotted location for an 11,000-foot Pennsylvanian wildcat in Northwest Lea County, N. M.

It is the firm's No. 1 State and will be drilled eight miles northwest of the Bagley field and 660 feet from north and 1,980 feet from west lines of section 27-108-32e.

It is to be drilled on a Vickers Petroleum Company farmout.

Keweenaw Reaches Mississippian In SW Kent Project

Keweenaw Oil Company No. 1-F Will (Connell) Southwest Kent County wildcat, 15 miles southwest of Claiborne and a one and one-quarter-mile north outpost to the East Polar-Pennsylvanian field, is bottomed at 7,545 feet in the top of the Mississippian. It is waiting on orders.

Top of the Mississippian was picked at 7,415 feet. Elevation is 2,206 feet. That gives the project a datum of minus 5,336 feet.

An electric log survey has been run to the current bottom.

Had Oil And Water

This prospect had some streaks in the Pennsylvanian line which showed some oil. Most of those oil shows were accompanied by salt water.

Operator may decide to run casing and try to complete the wildcat as an oil producer—in spite of the water intrusion.

Location is 660 feet from north and east lines of section 4, block 4, H&ON survey.

Crockett Has New Location, Dry Hole

Terrell Petroleum Company of Fort Worth has staked location for a 1,999-foot wildcat in North-Central Crockett County.

It is No. 1 J. F. Todd Estate and is located 330 feet from south and east lines of the northwest quarter of section 39, block WX, GC&SF survey.

Drillite is also five-eighths of a mile northeast of the C. S. Jones No. 1 University, shallow gas discovery completed from 1,079 to 1,180 feet, and three and one-half miles south of the Todd Deep field.

Cable tools will be moved in and drilling will begin in the near future.

Gulf To Plug 1 Bean

In Northeast Crockett County, Gulf Oil Corporation is preparing to plug and abandon its No. 1 Ed Bean, dry wildcat at 8,045 feet.

Operator took a drillstem test from 7,996 to 8,045 feet. Tool was open two hours. Recovery was 617 feet of black drilling mud, having a sulphur and 1,012 feet of salty sulphur water.

Electrical surveys were then run. The Ellenburger was topped at 7,945 feet.

Location was 660 feet from north and 1,980 feet from west lines of section 67, block OP, GC&SF survey and four and one-half miles southeast of the shallow Vaughn field.

Four West Texas Wildcats Plugged

Four West Texas wildcats have been plugged and abandoned.

Emperor Oil Company has plugged and abandoned its No. 2-H McCall-Cowden, wildcat in Central Winkler County, at total depth of 5,015 feet.

Location was 660 feet from north and 760 feet from east lines of section 39, block B-5, pd survey and two miles southwest of Kermit.

The failure was drilled to the Holt lime. It was a twin well to Emperor No. 1 McCall-Cowden, a Yates producer in the south part of the old Kermit shallow field.

Buffalo Oil Company of Dallas has quit its No. 1-2-C David Facklen, Southeast Andrews venture, at 4,957 feet.

Water In Grayburg

One a one and one-half-hour drillstem test of the Grayburg from 4,880 to 4,987 feet, recovery was 90 feet of drilling mud and 3,300 feet of salty sulphur water.

It was 660 feet from north and west lines of section 30, block 41, T-2-N, G&MMB&A survey and three miles northeast of the Midland Farms field.

In Concho County, Rock Hill Oil Company No. 1 E. L. Hartgrove has been plugged and abandoned. It was drilled to 3,795 feet in the Caddo lime which was topped at 3,042 feet. Elevation is 1,850 feet.

It was located in the T. F. Bengt survey No. 2.

Another dry wildcat is Brooks & Turner No. 1 Frank Krie, in Southeast Runnels County.

It was abandoned at total depth of 3,820 feet in the Canyon lime. Drillite was 518 feet from south and 4,850 feet from west lines of section 39, block 1, J. P. Kriets survey.

Stonewall To Get Ellenburger Test

An Ellenburger wildcat has been staked in extreme West-Central Stonewall County by Champlin Refining Company of Enid, Okla.

No. 1 C. H. Byrd is 660 feet from south and west lines of southeast quarter of section 406, block D, H&TC survey and five miles west of Peacock.

The wildcat is projected to 7,000 feet with rotary tools, beginning at once.

King Spots Wildcat In C-E Runnels Area

Richard King, Jr. of Edinburg has spotted his No. 1 Sara J. Allcorn as a wildcat in Central-East Runnels County.

Location is 1,200 feet from north and 330 feet from east lines of section 133, ET survey and three and one-half miles northwest of Talpa.

Projected depth is 4,000 feet. Rotary tools will be used to drill the test, beginning immediately.

Drillite is two and one-half miles west of the Odgen-Mabee pool.

Henderson Schedules Shallow Pecos Tester

Six and one-half miles northeast of the Fort Stockton-Yates field of Central Pecos County, R. H. Henderson of Midland No. 1 Bennett is to be drilled as a 3,000-foot wildcat.

Operator is moving in equipment 330 feet from north and 990 feet from west lines of section 2, block 108, Joseph Heller survey to spud. Hole will be started with cable tool and a rotary rig will be used to drill to contract depth.

Drillite is 17 miles southwest of Imperial.

NW Upton Pool Gets Explorer

Phillips Petroleum Company No. 4-D TXL is to be drilled as a 10,500-foot Pennsylvanian test in the Pegasus-multipay field of extreme Northwest Upton County.

Operator staked drillite 660 feet from east and 660 feet from south lines of the northeast quarter of section 31, block 40, T-4-S, T&P survey.

Schleicher Wildcat Plugged, Abandoned

E. E. Fletcher of Dallas No. 1 Mary O'Harrow Robinson, wildcat in Central-North Schleicher County, has been plugged and abandoned as failure on total depth of 6,050 feet in the Ellenburger.

The dry hole was drilled 660 feet from north and east lines of section 39, block I, GH&SA survey and 30 miles northeast of Eldorado.

Helpless Child Found Unharmed In Roadside Ditch

HOUSTON — (AP)—A 13-year-old girl who can't walk or talk was found apparently unharmed in a ditch Monday, 12 hours after disappearing from her parents' automobile.

The child, Margaret Louise Allison, was found eight miles from the spot where she was taken from her parents' car. The parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Allison, were in a cafe when the girl was taken from the vehicle.

Her sun suit was untorn but dirt stained and her blonde hair matted with mud. There was a small cut on her left foot.

Sheriff C. V. Kern said she appeared to be unharmed.

"It looks like someone took her out of the car, maybe thinking she was older and drunk," he said. "When they found out how helpless she was, they threw her out of their car."

Earlier, Mrs. Allison had appealed for the return of the child who is unable to care for herself in any way.

"My daughter cannot even feed herself," Mrs. Allison said. "She won't take food from anyone but me. Unless I am there to feed her she will starve to death."

Allison, 41, is a construction worker.

The couple stayed up all night helping search the area where the child disappeared. Six patrol cars and about 30 nearby residents scoured the neighborhood.

Pair Charged In Swindling To Be Returned To Texas

NEW YORK — (AP)—Two men charged with swindling a New Mexico widow of $45,000 waived removal proceedings Monday and will be taken by a federal marshal to El Paso to face trial.

The men, Emanuel Pereira, 35, of Columbus, Ohio, and Eugene H. Brading, 38, of Dallas, were arrested recently by Federal Bureau of Investigation agents.

They were held under $50,000 bail each by U. S. Commissioner Isaac Platt after the FBI charged they obtained the money under false pretenses from Mrs. Gertrude Joyce, 55, of Roswell.

The FBI said Pereira and Brading met Mrs. Joyce and her sister at a hotel in El Paso last April, and that in May Pereira married Mrs. Joyce in Kansas City.

Shortly thereafter, the FBI charged, the men obtained the money from the widow on the pretext they needed it for a business deal, and the men fled after cashing checks at an El Paso bank.

HOW BALLOON MESSAGES CAN PIERCE IRON CURTAIN—Map shows how balloons, loaded with anti-Communist propaganda, information on the Western way of life and instructions on how to listen to Radio Free Europe, located in Munich, are borne on prevailing west-to-east winds (arrows) across the Iron Curtain. Heavy arcs on map show ranges of balloons used. These are of two types—a small, rubber one, similar to those used by the U. S. Weather Bureau, with a range of about 180 miles. Inflated with oxygen, it rises to a height of 15,000 feet, expanding all the time. Eventually in extremely rarified atmosphere, it bursts, discharging its load of leaflets. The other kind, with a range of some 800 miles, is a plastic "pillow" type, much larger. It rises into the stratosphere and gradually, by seepage, loses gas to the point where it descends, bounces along the ground until somebody picks it up.

Here's Used Car That's Never Been Used

NEW YORK—(NEA)—Here's a friendly tip. If anybody ever offers you a used car, serial number 16012658, snap it up. Don't ask any questions. Pay cash. You've got a genuine bargain.

That's because old number 16012658 is a pampered baby. It's a 1951 model (Buick) that has well over 7,000 miles under its fan belt. For a practically-new car, that's a lot of mileage, but 16012658 has done it the easy way. The speedometer still registers a big fat zero.

It's done all its traveling as an automotive hitch-hiker. Every mile it travels it sits lazily in a carefully-padded van. It has yet to roll its dainty white-walls under its own power. It spends most of its time either in a van or in department store windows.

The car is an exhibition model, called the "Old Vienna." It's a two-tone job—rose and gray, no less—with needlepoint upholstery and gold-plated control knobs. It's being taken on a nation-wide tour, to show people how much they've always wanted a car with needlepoint upholstery and gold-plated control knobs.

Because of its value—which is listed as upwards of $15,000—it is treated with high-test care and no-knock loving kindness. At each of the 40 cities it will visit, a high local dignitary (the auto company's zone manager) meets it. He chaperones it during its stay in his zone.

It sometimes takes a lot of doing to get 't into the department stores where it is scheduled to be admired. In Washington, Tulsa and Houston, it was an engineering problem.

Ramps had to be built to take the dainty car from the van to the store.

In Tulsa, the ramp-building operations made it necessary to stop traffic on the city's main street for a few hours. Getting it into the store was another problem. It was solved by taking out a huge plate-glass show-window and then replacing it.

In Philadelphia, the car was Hitch-hiking auto: It had to go upstairs head-first.

scheduled for exhibition on an upper floor. It wouldn't fit on the escalator and the elevators weren't big enough, either. Then some unusual genius thought of turning the car on end, and it went upstairs head first.

Lure Of Lighter

One of the big problems facing the chaperones has been the lure of the gold-plated cigar lighters. People are supposed to admire them from a distance, free from temptation. But in several stops it's taken some fast driving to get them back from the grubby little fists of urchins with a yen for just such gadgets.

The car, because of that, carries a spare gold-plated cigar lighter, as well as a spare tire. So far, neither has been needed.

At every stop, it is given a careful washing and a mechanic looks at the motor. Just looks, that's all. No need to do anything else.

After its tour, the car will be donated as a prize in a charitable contest. From then on, keep your eyes on the used car lots for it. Remember the number—16012658, the most pampered car in the world.

Andrews News

ANDREWS—The Andrews High School and Junior High School band students began pre-school rehearsals Monday. Everett Maxwell, director, will be assisted by several band students and ex-students in the special classes.

Mrs. Bob Luck, school nurse, will be at the primary building next Monday to give the last pre-school inoculations for diphtheria and smallpox.

Alma Smith, Carolyn Morrison, Jeanette Hueghen, Connie Pruett, Jimmie Collins, Robert Lindville, and Wayne Beshears are in Abilene attending the annual band school conducted at Hardin-Simmons University.

Four delegates from the Andrews American Legion Post attended the annual Legion Convention in San Antonio. The post sent Charley Purkett, Russell Austin, Chic Gavit and Judge Milton Ramsey as delegates to the state event.

Oil Man Transferred

Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Reece were complimented with a barbecue and farewell party given by Stanolind employees at the Chick Campbell home. Reece has been transferred to Big Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hardaway, Sr., have as their guest, S. E. Thomas of Jackson, Miss. Thomas flew to Midland on business and was met there by the Hardaways.

M. O. Woolam, principal of Andrews High School, is recuperating from surgery in a Dallas hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Houston and Mr. and Mrs. Perry Morrison were in Brownfield Saturday evening to attend a farewell party honoring Wade G. Morority, district superintendent of Brownfield Magnolia area, who is moving to Houston.

New Phonograph Records For Old Is Magic Of Lab

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Editor
NEW YORK—The Phonograph voices of Caruso, Scotti, Farrar, Schuman-Heink and other early-century masters are being resurrected by a magnetic miracle that makes them clearer and truer today than when recorded.

Other old masterpieces of music are similarly resurrected. The source is records of 40 years ago. These records contained mechanical faults and occasionally shrill or unclear tones due to slips in singing or playing. All are corrected.

These new records are the Treasury of Immortal Performances, from old Victor and British records, by Victor-R. C. A. The project started less than two years ago, directed by Albert Pulley, the company's chief recording engineer, here in New York.

Six sound technicians were assigned to use microscopes on the old records. They followed each sound groove, looking for bumps, dents and other irregularities. Most of these were due to mechanical causes. With sharp instruments they smoothed all the imperfections they could see.

Next a sound expert listened to the music played from the smoothed record. He marked spots of imperfection that the microscopes missed. Records were re-examined and smoothed as much as six times.

After that the old record was played to the magnetic recording tape, a paper-thin, single strand half as wide as a postage stamp. The tape records by magnetism, a process that puts nothing visible on the record, and the strings the sound record out in a line hundreds of feet long.

The tape transfers the sound directly into electric current, which in turn runs a speaker that converts it into music. These sounds are perfect reproductions of what ever is on the record. They show up further faults. Some of these are tiny, popping sounds.

A pop may take up almost an inch length of tape. This inch is cut out with scissors and the remaining tape ends rejoined. The loss on tape is so small that the music is not affected.

There remain, finally, the faults in singing or in instrumental music that were originally recorded. This music as it comes from the speaker is a combination of many tones or sound frequencies. The speaker can select part of these sounds and make them either louder or softer, and this change corrects singing and playing faults.

If the voice lacks clearness, part of the frequencies, but not all of them, are made louder. If too shrill, part of the frequencies, but again not all of them, are made softer.

When all the faults have been corrected, the voice of the electrical speaker is recorded on a new master record, a reproduction of the old, but a better record than the original.

Mite Menace To Food Met With Poison

AP Science Report
NEW YORK—A new poison is ready for war on mites, just when the mite population is soaring upward.

Mites are tiny little bugs, some no bigger than pinpoints, others as large as pencil points. Some are red, some purple, some brownish, some gray, some have spots, and some are colorless.

They rank among the first half dozen major pests in this country. They attack apples, roses, beans, clover, cotton, alfalfa, grapes, peaches, oranges, grapefruit, lemons, almonds, walnuts, evergreens and shade trees.

These public enemies have been faring well lately, entomologists report, partly because of widespread use of DDT and other insect poisons. Those poisons don't do much to the mites, but do kill off many insects that like a feast of mites.

Mites are so tiny that rarely could you see a single one, or much less than a colony of them. A big clump may be noticeable on a close look. But one apple tree could have millions of mites.

Tiny as they are, the mites have spiny mouth parts and rasp on leaves or fruits, sucking up juices. Leaves may get a white, spotty effect, and the tree loses vigor, yielding poorer fruit. Mites feed directly on citrus fruits, but like only the leaves of late summer is usually a sign of mites at work.

Another class of mites affects humans and animals. They cause seven-year itch in humans, and mange in dogs, horses and cattle. And mites are one of the chief health hazards of chickens.

The new chemical to hit mites was developed by the Naugatuck Chemical Division of U. S. Rubber Co. Named Aramite, it has a chemical name of 47 letters and digits.

Yugoslavia Youth Proves Its Point

STRUGA, YUGOSLAVIA—(AP)—Here in the Yugoslav Republic of Macedonia, the people—like and aging rooster—grow tougher as they grow older.

Josif Belevski turned 100 years old recently, still proud of his vigor. Nikola Kratovski, an old crony, scoffed that Joe was getting old. Naturally, Joe was annoyed, so he challenged Nikola to a footrace at 800 meters.

Nikola won. But only by the length of Joe's whiskers carefully cultivated over the past century. It probably proves the old saying that a good young man is faster than an old one. For Nikola is just a youth—only 70 year old.

Movement Of Army Supplies Expected

BRUSSELS—(AP)—British Army supplies for occupation troops in Germany are expected to start moving through Belgium early in 1962. Work was begun recently on the construction of a traffic center for the British Army in the Campine area of Antwerp Province, 20 miles east of the port of Antwerp.

When completed, the center will cover 3,952 acres and include a gasoline dump and storage space for all types of army supplies. The installations will be dispersed in 26 locations. A few miles further east two new airfields are also under construction. They will not, however, be manned during peacetime.

At present most British supplies pass through the port of Hamburg. Military tacticians, however, have decided Hamburg is too close to Russian-controlled territory. A lunge at Hamburg could quickly cut off supplies for the British in Germany.

The British legation in Washington was raised to the rank of embassy in 1893.

It was here last week for a visit with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Lonis, and other relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Seay and sons are vacationing in Colorado.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Roberts, Jr., and children are vacationing in Colorado.

Urban Land Reform Program Approved

TAIPEH, FORMOSA—(AP)—From next year on, Chinese who own land in urban areas of Formosa are going to find themselves hard hit.

The Chinese Nationalist Cabinet has approved what it calls an urban land reform program. It will begin Jan. 1, 1952 and will form the pattern for the mainland if the Nationalists ever recover it. The program means that if the value of city land rises taxes will be increased. Land belonging to absentee landlords or on which there has been no building improvements also will be subject to heavy taxes.

The amount of land any individual may own within urban areas will be limited on a sliding scale, which is adjusted according to the locality in which the land is located. The government may buy at its own terms or requisition any land owned by an individual beyond these limits.

Inflation Liquidated In Minnesota Region

WINONA, MINN.—(AP)—A businessman had to make a rural trip after a recent heavy rain. He splashed through several big puddles, then came to a lake caused by an overflowing river. He knew the road across the flatlands well, so kept going.

Half way across his motor stalled. Water flowed in over the car floor. He sounded the horn until the battery died, but no help was in sight. He got up on the back of the seat and the water rose above his ankles on the cushion. Finally a farmer with a high-wheeled tractor came along and towed him out, standing in water up to his arm pits to hook a chain on the car.

"How much do I owe you?" asked the motorist on dry ground. "Oh, make it about a dollar," said the farmer.

Santiago, Chile is named for Saint James.

Kansas City Spirit Attracts Artist

KANSAS CITY—(AP)—Norman Rockwell, popular magazine cover artist and illustrator, arrived here recently to start on what he himself termed "his most challenging assignment"—to capture "the Kansas City spirit."

But it's no ghost hunt that's facing the 37-year-old artist. Instead it's the first attempt to portray in oils the courage of this city. It was this courage during the recent flood disaster that caught Rockwell's attention at his Arlington, Vt., home and caused him to offer his services to the city.

Armed with camera and sketchbook, the Vermont artist gathered impressions here for a painting to sum up this spirit. Rockwell will complete the painting in his Vermont studio but he declined to estimate how long it would take him.

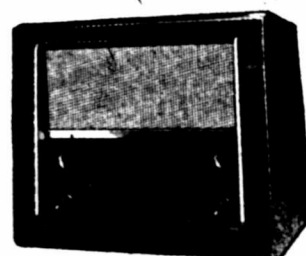

"The impressions came so fast that I haven't had time to assimilate them," he pointed out.

Daddy Ringtail :: By WESLEY DAVIS

Daddy Ringtail And Abracadabra

The Rainmaker (the mascot) came walking along the Elephant Path. How hot the day! How dusty the way! How dry and thirsty was the ground, and the grass, and the flowers and trees. The water was almost gone from the Duck Pond, and all the forest was wanting rain, rain, rain.

"Rainmaker," said Daddy Ringtail, "why don't you say your magic words to make the rain come raining down from the sky?"

"Yes sir, and yes indeed, and I am the Rainmaker!" the Rainmaker said in his Rainmaker voice.

Daddy Ringtail smiled. Said he: "Rainmaker, I did not ask who you are. I know who you are. I asked why you don't say the magic words to make rain come raining down from the sky."

The Rainmaker slapped the dust from the sleeve of his coat. He looked off his Rainmaker hat and fanned himself. He looked around in the bushes to be sure no one was listening. When he saw no one was hiding nearby, he said: "Daddy

Ringtail, all my Rainmaker magic words have lost their rainmaking

magic and will not have it again

until I say the magic word of 'abra-

cadabra."

"Hmmm," said Daddy Ringtail.

"So none of your magic words for making rain will make the rain until you say the magic word of 'abra-

"Yes sir, and yes indeed," said the Rainmaker.

"Well," said Daddy Ringtail, "then why don't you say the magic word of

'abra-cadabra'?"

But the Rainmaker shook his head. He turned pale even to think of saying the magic word of 'abracadabra," because it was such a dangerous word to say. "Why," said

the Rainmaker, "if anyone said the dangerous, magic word of 'abracadabra," down they would fall as though they were hit with a mighty club."

"Now, now, now," said Daddy

Ringtail, you said 'abra-cadabra'

just now yourself, and it didn't hurt

you at all."

But when the Rainmaker realized

how he had really said the danger-

Graf's Showplace Additions Attract Widespread Acclaim

Residential developers from many Texas cities have inspected the showplace additions by Barney Grafa, whose latest—The Bedford Place and Grafaland Second Section—have exceeded the high expectations of the Midland developer.

Through the years Grafa's firm has established a dozen Midland residential developments and points to a large clientele as testimony of the assurances carried out in all dealings.

Grafa's one-stop service—financing of the lot, the home, handling of abstracts, insurance, and the personal guidance of the experienced builder—has provided peace of mind and economy to Midland home purchasers and builders who have used this service.

"We are hoping to complete development of The Bedford Place and Grafaland Second Section in 1952," Grafa said. "These well-restricted additions have far exceeded our high expectations."

Next, he added, will be developments of additions north and northwest of these additions.

Due to the unusual architecture and development ideas, these have become widely known throughout Texas and are considered the outstanding additions between Fort Worth and El Paso, he said.

"Any home owner who has bought in either addition has been protected in every instance as to the kind of home, its size and quality of construction," Grafa said. "Plans are inspected before construction begins."

Too, no lots have been sold—nor will they be sold—for speculation purposes.

Grafa, in reviewing his years of residential development in Midland, said each of his dozen additions have been built up and completed from 90 to 100 per cent.

"We are looking optimistically to the continued growth of Midland to the extent that we will follow through on additions north and northwest of our present operations," Grafa said.

The Bedford Place, with 100 locations, joins the Midland Country Club on the west and North Park Hill on the north. Building is restricted to masonry.

Grafaland Second Section is situated ideally in Northwest Midland, only a few blocks from school, church and shopping facilities.

Both additions have been paved. Grafa said federal regulations on building materials will restrict the building of large homes after October 1, but homes up to 1,200 square feet will continue to be built, provided regulations are strictly adhered to.

Grafa's offices are in the Leggett Building and the telephone number is 4-6601.

Compacted Wallet Provides Space For Mirror, Cosmetics

By ALICIA HART
NEA Beauty Editor

The active woman who claims she just can't be bothered with gathering up and carting along her beauty makings every time she leaves the house is going to have to think up a new excuse for her outdoor dowdiness.

One well-known beauty firm has fixed things so that she automatically grabs her make-up necessities simply by reaching for her wallet. The trick is a new super-compartmented billfold which includes, in addition to the usual pockets for bills and change, space for a mirror, automatic rouge puff, automatic powder puff, and lipstick.

Despite the variety of cosmetics included, the new billfold is remarkably compact. It fits without bulging into the pocket of your slacks, shorts or golf dress, or, if you're carrying a purse, snugly like the good space-saver it is into one small corner.

This new wallet is virtually a portable dressing table, including, in addition to compartments for cash, pockets for make-up necessities.

Although the wallets themselves, which are made of fake pigskin, come in only one shade—red—the make-up is available in three assortments to suit the coloring of blondes, brunettes or redheads.

EXTRA SERVICE
SPARTANBURG, S. C. — (P) — When you break a bill at a hotel here, your change looks like it's fresh from the mint. But the coins may be several years old, despite their shiny finish.

The secret is an ingenious money-polishing machine that handles about $350 coins at a time. A revolving cylinder is filled with change, water, cleaning and polishing powder, buckshot and small steel spikes. After the mixture agitates a few minutes the coins look and feel like new.

Anti-Clot Drug Aids Pregnancy

AP Newsfeatures
NEW YORK — A blood-thinning drug can safely dissolve blood clots in veins that swell and pain the legs of pregnant women, a British physician reports.

The drug is tromexan. It's been used to help dissolve clots blocking heart arteries, but the use in pregnant women is new.

Dr. Helen Payling Wright describes the new work in the Journal of Obstetrics and Gynecology of the British Empire.

The vein clots in legs sometimes occur during or immediately after pregnancy. They block or slow circulation in the legs, causing cramps and swellings. While not common, the clot trouble can be serious.

Dr. Wright treated nine women with tromexan, with tablets given by mouth. Some women also received heparin, another anticoagulant.

Overcomes Pain
The drug overcame the pain and swelling and the women soon were able to walk again, she said. The treatment took from five to 18 days.

Dr. Wright said tromexan was used because it acts rapidly, but yet doesn't stay in the body as long as other anticoagulant drugs.

The amount of prothrombin, one of the clotting substances in blood, was not allowed to fall too low. If it had, there might have been danger of death for the unborn baby. The nine women received the treatment at various times during pregnancy, from early to late weeks.

The treatment should not be tried in the few days before a baby is due to be born, because of danger of hemorrhage, she said.

OPS Permits Hike In Stamped Envelopes

WASHINGTON — (P) — The government has given itself permission to pay a higher price for stamped government envelopes and the paper from which they are made.

The Office of Price Stabilization (OPS) issued an order Monday allowing the Post Office Department to rewrite its contract with the International Envelope Company of Dayton, Ohio. The firm is the only producer of such envelopes and makes nothing else.

The government sells the ready stamped envelopes to the public approximately at cost plus the value of the postage. Because the primary values is in the stamp, OPS said the cost to the public of any increase will not be great.

BOOSTS LAND VALUE
NEW YORK — (P) — The city of New York, which spent $25,000,000 helping the United Nations get established in its new Manhattan headquarters, reports land valuations in the vicinity of the building have risen almost $60,000,000 in about five years.

Salmon can easily smell the difference between waters of two streams, even though the streams are nearly similar in physical character, experimenters at the University of Wisconsin have found.

Self-Inspection Shows Changes Needed

After a careful look at her make-up methods, Betsy decides she's applying eye cosmetics far too lavishly.

By ALICIA HART
NEA Beauty Editor

It's easy, when you're in high school, to drift along as a part of the crowd, not giving much thought to developing yourself as an individual. Then it's the summer after graduation, and suddenly, with the tang of autumn in the air, you realize that phase of your life is over. From here on in, you're a person in your own right.

This is what happened to two girls we shall call Betsy and Barbara Baker, the summer they were eighteen. Quite abruptly it became apparent that change were in order if each was to fit successfully into the next stage of her life.

In Barbara's case, this meant a job. Typing and stenography had appealed to her as classroom subjects; she was anxious now to take a crack at the real world of business.

Betsy, however, had other ideas. College sounded to her like the perfect sequel to high school. Although the girls are identical twins, each has been encouraged since infancy to do her own thinking.

In making themselves over to fit their September plans, their first step was to take a good, long look at themselves.

What they saw was not to their liking. Without actually thinking about it, they'd just gone along with the high school fads. They jangled with charm bracelets and dog-leash belts, they dazzled the eye with the luminous beanie their club had adopted just for fun.

These things were not, in very good taste, they realized from the very beginning, but it was part of group-belonging to wear what everybody else was wearing.

There were other things wrong, too. They'd never worried too much about the fit of their clothes. Although they were petite, which meant that often their sleeves were too long and their shoulder lines drooping, they were inclined a bit to plumpness. If they were to look really well turned but from now on, both these factors would need consideration when they went shopping for clothes.

Like a great many other teenagers who feel themselves on the verge of maturity, they'd overdone the sophistication a bit on occasion. This consisted mostly of applying cosmetics with a hand more enthusiastic than skillful.

In considering their appearance faults frankly and honestly, both girls realized make-up was a major problem, one that would require both knowledge and experience to correct. Instead of looking sultry, as they'd fondly imagined, they came nearer to looking just plain-silly.

Their hair, too, was exposed to scrutiny. Although they had managed, by luck, to hit upon a style that was becoming, they had not realized the grooming fundamentals that add up to consistently lovely tresses.

They were likely to go too long between shampoos. They had set up an arbitrary rule that their hair was to be washed once a week. In deciding upon this particular period, they'd failed to take into consideration the individual needs of their type hair. Actually a shampoo every five days, they discovered upon experiment, was needed to keep their locks always in tip-top shape.

For styling, they consulted a New York hairdresser who's well known for his simple, easy-to-keep coiffures. Because their own arrangements were basically correct, he concentrated upon aiding them in setting up a long range program of hair care.

One of the most important factors in hair beauty, he told them, is a good hair cut. In the same way that a good dress depends for its appeal upon cut and natural, uncluttered lines, so too does the hair.

He also taught the twins how to set their own hair. Betsy, for whom he suggested soft but well-controlled curls as fitting for a college campus, learned to roll strands inward from the ends to make curls that would hold well without tightness or kinkiness.

A curl, Betsy learned, should be wound neatly around the fingers and then secured in a flat position against the head. When correctly made, a curl is not a bunched-up mass of hair, but rather a neat, hollow circle, appearing rather like an over-sized wedding ring.

Barbara, who wished to appear a bit more "grown-up" for her job-hunting, was given a coiffure in which her hair was waved softly back over her ears to give her a look of competent efficiency.

Three-Dimensional Movies Near Reality

MONTREAL — (P) — In the not far distant future, tanks may seem to roar right off theater screens, over the heads of audiences and disappear with a crash through balcony exits.

This far-fetched fantasy already is a reality to W. W. Wells Coates, British industrial designer, who explained in a recent interview here how he worked this and similar tricks for an experimental film at the Festival of Britain.

"We have designed and are operating 'Telecinema', a three-dimensional operation with three-dimensional pictures and three-dimensional sound," said Mr. Coates. "The images on the screen seem to come right off the surface and descend into the audience. Special sound devices follow the movement of the object."

IT'S SURE BEEN HOT!

"This summer, I have put in a great many extra hours of work for my customers every day.

"Air conditioners, attic fans, evaporative coolers, and portable fans have been going full blast around the clock — 24 hours a day practically every day. High temperatures, lack of rainfall and many nights without our usual cooling breeze have combined to make it an exceptionally hot summer. Electric refrigerators have had to call on their reserve power to keep food fresh and wholesome at constant temperatures under 40 degrees and to maintain ready supplies of ice cubes and cooling beverages.

"Some electric bills may be higher during such extreme hot weather because of this extra work but now — when you're able to stay cool and comfortable in spite of the heat — is when your electric service really proves to be the biggest bargain in your home."
