Spikes Day Plans Shaped

February 6 looms nearer and nearer for the Jack Spikes Appreciation Day festivities, with the Thursday noon ticket deadline closing in at even a speedier clip.

Everyone planning to attend the event is strongly urged to obtain their tickets prior to the deadline so that an accurate estimate may be made of the amount of food to be prepared and distributed that night. The National Guard Armory (Towle Park) is the site of the combination barbecue - program, with the serving of the food slated to get underway at 7 o'clock Saturday evening.

The program itself should prove to be of extreme interest to all local and area sports fans of any and all ages. Lined up for appearances on the agenda are Tiger coach John Conley, who coached Spikes while he starred as a Tiger high school halfback; Dutch Meyer, who is athletic director at TCU and a one-time head coach there; Lamar Hunt, owner of the Dallas Texans, the pro team with which Spikes has agreed to play; and Abe Martin, current head coach at TCU and the principal speaker for the evening.

In addition, a film on "TCU Highlights" will be shown prior to Martin's talk, which will be capped off by a response from Spikes himself.

Coach Conley's talk will have to do with Spikes' high school career, and he will also display a large picture of the former Tiger great which will be placed in the high school trophy room.

The tickets, priced at $1.75, are currently on sale at Texas Electric Service Co., the Chamber of Commerce office, Thompson's Shoe Store, and Bennett's Office Supply. Also, all members of the Quarterback Club have tickets which may be bought up until the tomorrow noon deadline.

Spring football training has stymied the efforts of several of the Southwest Conference coaches to attend the affair, as they had all been extended an invitation to be here as guests with air transportation furnished. However, several coaches will be in evidence, as TCU line coach Allie White has indicated that he will attend, while assistant Texas Tech coach Beattie Feathers will represent that school in the stead of head coach DeWitt Weaver, who had a previous committment for that date.

Bill Van Fleet, Fort Worth Star-Telegram sports writer; and Jim Brock, TCU sports publicity director, have also indicated that they will attend the function.

At least one chartered plane loaded down with Frog Club members will wing its way to Snyder, as it is slated to take off from Fort Worth Saturday afternoon and return the same night following the evening's activities.

Emphasis has been placed on the fact that the event has been geared along "family lines", and is an affair which should be enjoyed by people of all ages. Complimentary tickets have been sent out to all local football players and coaches—192 strong —who will be "guests of the house".

South Texas Is Hit Hard

By The Associated Press

Smashing winds struck from El Paso in far West Texas across the state to Beaumont Wednesday. They caused one injury and widespread damage.

Heaviest damage occurred in San Antonio, Houston and Beaumont. The roof of a grocery store tore off at Columbus in South Texas.

But highest reported wind was 77 m.p.h. in El Paso, where a gust smashed a window of the airport control tower, forcing the staff from the tower for three hours.

Cause of the violence was a disturbance centered in the Texas Panhandle which brought bad weather to many parts of the nation.

It accounted for rain in the south and central plains and into the Lower Mississippi Valley, freezing rain mixed with snow over the northern plains, snow in the Rockies and dust at some southwest points.

Heavy rains fell in many areas of the state, but in far West Texas at El Paso winds of 40 to 50 m.p.h. kicked up dust.

The Weather Bureau forecast snow flurries in the Texas Panhandle Wednesday afternoon and night.

Damage at San Antonio is expected to total thousands of dollars. Trees snapped, plate glass windows shattered and electrical service was disrupted.

The 10-minute storm caved in a vacant building "like a bomb" as one man described it.

Daniel Perez, 26, suffered head and face cuts when his car left U.S. 90 fifteen miles east of San Antonio during the height of the storm.

The El Charro Drive-in theater screen toppled and a brick wall was blown down. A flying piece of sheet iron wrapped itself around electrical wires, disrupting power.

A phone booth was picked up and tossed into the middle of an intersection and a parking lot shack was found in front of a fire station.

The violent weather struck Houston about 6:20 a.m., bringing light hail and rain. A half inch of rain fell in 30 minutes, then the downpour tapered off into a steady fall.

The winds knocked down trees, power lines and billboards. But no major damage occured. One barn was blown down.

Early morning traffic on Houston freeways was slowed to 15 m.p.h. from a normal 40 to 50 m.p.h.

At Beaumont gusty winds up to 67 m.p.h. blew out plate glass windows at stores in the downtown area and the Gateway Shopping Center and damaged trees and power lines. The Gulf States Utility Company said it has received more than 100 calls reporting power failures within two hours after the storm struck at 7 a.m.

A heavy rain accompanied the storm at Beaumont.

Strong gusty winds, measured officially as high as 77 m.p.h., struck El Paso. One gust knocked out a plate glass window in the traffic control tower at the El Paso International Airport.

Crewmen were forced to abandon the tower for about three hours. Control of the airport's traffic was switched to an approach control unit in a radar room until the winds died down. There were two flights in and out of the airport during the emergency.

Gen. Power's Plan Is Rejected By Ike

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower today called America's missile development record quite gratifying. He rejected proposals for an around-the-clock bomber alert.

At a news conference, the President sided vigorously with Secretary of Defense Thomas S. Gates Jr. and Gen. Nathan F. Twining, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, in their differences with Gen. Thomas S. Power, head of the Strategic Air Command.

Eisenhower rejected Power's call for a continuous airborne, bomber alert, and also the general's contention that the United State faces the danger of having its retaliatory striking force knocked out by Soviet missiles.

Eisenhower seemed to be a bit irritated when talking of Power's differences with Gates and the joint chiefs.

Too many of these generals have all sorts of ideas, he said.

The President warmly praised Gates and Twining and added that he has complete trust in both.

Eisenhower said further he believes he spent enough time in the military to know what he is talking about—and not to be disturbed by what he termed the parochial viewpoints of those who say the bosses know nothing about it.

A reporter asked whether Eisenhower feels there is a basic danger of defeatism developing among the American people.

He replied there is none in his soul, he would say that.

The news conference dealt also with these matters.

POLITICS — Eisenhower spoke warmly once more of Vice President Richard M. Nixon, but again withheld specific endorsement of Nixon for the Republican presidential nomination. However, the President added he wanted to make it perfectly clear that he is not dissatisfied with, as he put it, the individual who looks as though he has the nomination.

That was a clear allusion to Nixon, now regarded as a shoo-in for the GOP standard.

A reporter told Eisenhower that some California Republicans seemed to be rather surprised that he had made no mention of Nixon in his political speech in Los Angeles a week ago.

The newsman asked whether Eisenhower intended to stand by his announced policy of endorsing no one for the nomination prior to the party's July convention, even though Nixon apparently will have no opposition.

Eisenhower said the outcome now does appear to be academic, but he went on to say that actually there are a number of Republicans—big men, he called them—who could be considered for the nomination.

In view of that, he said, he has followed what he believes to be the correct course of endorsing no individual.

As for making no mention of Nixon in his Los Angeles talk, Eisenhower recalled that he has praised Nixon in the past. He said he is sure Nixon is not unaware of his sentiments about him.

Also in the political field, Eisenhower was asked whether he is concerned about the possibility the Republican party needs more vigor and more crusaders.

With a smile, Eisenhower replied he has no doubt the party needs more recruits. He said he would like to see the party tell its story more fully, more eloquently and more often.

CONSTITUTION — Eisenhower came out for amendment of the Constitution to provide for election of members of the House of Representatives to four-year terms instead of the present two years.

Change Is Urged In Nuclear Law

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower said today the law should be changed to make nuclear weapons available to responsible U.S. allies.

Eisenhower told his news conference he has always been of the belief that this country should not deny to its allies atomic information already possessed by its potential enemy.

The Atomic Energy Act now prohibits divulging certain information to any foreign country. Eisenhower said this law should be made more liberal so that nuclear information could be given to countries classified as competent to contribute substantially to free world defenses.

The President said U.S. allies should not be regarded merely as junior partners without a voice in defense decisions.

Eisenhower noted that under existing law the United States cannot give away nuclear bombs. He went on to say that, since we are allied with other nations in defense, we ought to arm them in the best possible manner to make the free world's defense more secure.

As matters stand, Eisenhower said, this country cannot even give away information that it knows the Soviet Union already has. He added it is hard for him to understand why we do not make this information available.

A reporter asked if Eisenhower intends to pursue efforts to get an effective ban on nuclear testing. The questioner suggested such a ban might prevent the spread of nuclear weaponry to smaller nations.

Eisenhower replied that he certainly is going to keep American representatives in Geneva as long as there is the slightest kind of chance the negotiations there will produce an effective agreement with the Russians banning tests.

If you get real test bans, he said, then the only way other nations could get nuclear weapons would be through sale or transfer by the powers which now hold them.

The President said the probability of the spread of weapons to smaller and other nations increases as the processes of manufacture become simpler and the know-how more widespread.

Contempt Order Is Ruled Illegal Here

The commitment order issued by City judge Arthur Blanchard holding Pat Beene, local attorney, in contempt of court and fining him $100 and 2 days jail was declared illegal in 132nd District court this morning by Judge Sterling Williams. The court room was crowded during the hearing on Beene's appeal.

In issuing the verdict, Judge Williams stated that a person "has to be then and there adjudged to be in contempt" and the judgment of contempt " must be pronounced in his presence".

When he (Beene) walked out of the courtroom with the consent of the court, regardless of his conduct in the courtroom, he was a free man, Judge Williams continued.

Court got underway with a small amount of confusion. City Attorney W. W. Park was confused as to what his capacity in court was. Judge Williams stated that he was in no capacity unless he was to represent Blanchard, whereupon, Blanchard secured his services.

Beene said he planned to give a statement in court and represent himself. Park objected to this.

"Well, if court will give me a few minutes, I'll go hire myself a lawyer", Beene said and started for the door. Spotting John Camp, attorney from Abilene (still sitting in his chair as attorney for the Texas Employers Inc. Assn. in a case that was recessed for 45 minutes) Beene asked, "Will you represent me?" After a five minute conference, court resumed with Park representing Blanchard and Camp spending his recess time representing Beene.

As his only witness, Beene declared that when he left the court room Judge Blanchard was saying to someone "I'm sick and tired." and to this day with all that has happened he could not tell of what he (Blanchard) was sick and tired. He stated that he was allowed to go home, and that the commitment papers were read to him as

Approval Due For DeGaulle Request

By HARVEY HUDSON

PARIS (AP)—The French Senate is expected to give quick approval today to the government's request for a free hand in dealing with the instigators of the Algiers settlers' revolt and to guard against new outbreaks.

The National Assembly earlier today voted 449-79 for the bill giving the government broad special powers.

Parliament was called back into extraordinary session to approve the special powers requested by the government and President Charles de Gaulle. They would enable the regime to legislate by decree for the next year in matters concerning maintenance or order, safeguarding the republic and pacification and administration of Algeria.

The decrees must be submitted to Parliament by April 1, 1961, for ratification or rejection. Meantime they will have the full force of law.

If the Senate should amend the bill passed by the deputies, another meeting of the Assembly would be necessary to consider the changes.

The deputies insisted on writing into the bill a provision that De Gaulle must approve all decrees. This was hardly necessary since De Gaulle presides over Cabinet meetings where decrees are adopted and commands the loyalty of the government.

The special powers bill will give De Gaulle and the government moral backing for any tough measures under consideration to punish extremist elements opposed to De Gaulle's Algerian policies.

Many deputies expressed the opinion the government already had enough authority to deal with the situation.

When it came time for the vote, however, they did not want to appear against the massive support rallied behind De Gaulle in a test of strength with the Algerian insurgents.

Most of the opposition came from Algerian deputies who feared their friends might be caught in a trap under these special powers. Communists and some right wing extremists also opposed the measure.

Summit Talks Set By Warsaw Group

By STANLEY JOHNSON

MOSCOW (AP) — Members of the Warsaw Pact — the Communist bloc's answer to NATO—will hold a summit conference in the Kremlin Thursday.

The subject matter has not been disclosed but there is speculation the Iron Curtain countries will follow the Soviet Union's lead of three weeks ago and announce sharp cuts in their armed forces.

Diplomatic circles say Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev also may announce a phased withdrawal of Soviet troops from East European countries. This would obviously mean greater dependence by those countries on Soviet rocket and nuclear strength.

Party and government chiefs of the Warsaw Pact nations, along with their foreign and defense ministers, will attend the conference.

Many of them have been meeting since Monday for what was officially described as a discussion of Soviet bloc agricultural problems. Experienced Moscow observers believe they dealt with many other matters, including the agenda for Thursday's policy session.

It was understood earlier that Red China would not participate but a report from Peiping today said observers would be on hand.

The delegates met under a total new blackout, not broken until Tuesday when Pravda, Izvestia and Trud carried front-page accounts of the gathering.

Aside from the reference to agricultural talks, no details of the discussions were carried in the Soviet press.

Spring-Like Rains Fall In Snyder Area

The groundhog saw his shadow and the elements followed up with some "unseasonal" capers in the Snyder area Tuesday.

Spring-like thundershowers dampened the area late in the day, following a period of intermittent sunshine which was fully adequate to cast shadows.

The showers brought an official .23 of an inch of moisture to Snyder while rains dotted most of the area. Rainfall totalling as much as half an inch was reported in the southwest part of the county.

A cooling trend followed the showers, with the mercury dipping to 37 degrees this morning, following a maximum reading of 67 degrees Tuesday.

James Daniel Johnson, 24, driver of the truck, and two other Johnson children, Deborah, 5; and Kenny, 2, were taken to a hospital. They were not believed seriously injured.

Syrians Say Firing Resumed

JERUSALEM (AP)—Syrians announced shooting resumed on the Syrian-Israeli frontier today.

A Damascus spokesman for the United Arab Republic's army said U.A.R. outposts had shot up a five-man Israeli patrol seen moving toward their positions and that Israeli machine gunners then opened fire.

The machine-gun fire possibly was intended to cover the operation of dragging away the killed or wounded members of the Israeli patrol, the spokesman said.

"The patrol was ambushed by our fire, and all its members fell down," he said.

At Tel Aviv, an Israeli Foreign Ministry spokesman said Syrian soldiers seemed to be clinging to fortified positions in the Tawafik area in defiance of a United Nations request that they withdraw.

Col. Raymond Pirlot, Belgian chairman of the Israeli-Syrian Mixed Armistice Commission, presented the request to the Syrians Tuesday, the spokesman said.

Israel had demanded that the U. N. "adopt all necessary measures to bring about the immediate removal of Syrian military units" from the area, in a demilitarized zone southeast of the Sea of Galilee where sporadic shooting broke out last Friday.

Premier David Ben-Gurion has warned that Israel would resort to force if the U. N. proved unable to clear out the Syrians.

From Syria, a partner with Egypt in the United Arab Republic, came a report that Syrian commanders expect an Israeli attack at any time. Col. Akram Deery of the U.A.R. declared Israeli troops are concentrating heavily south of the Sea of Galilee.

An uneasy cease-fire was observed along the frontier Tuesday but there were reports of scattered mortar and machinegun fire after nightfall.

A U.A.R. spokesman in Damascus said two Israeli patrols were driven out of the demilitarized zone near the Sea of Galilee.

There were unofficial reports of troop movements on both sides of the tense border.

Egypt — Syria's partner in the U.A.R.—also was reported massing troops on Israel's southern flank. U.N. officials, however, said they had no confirmation of any troop activity on the Egyptian—Israeli border.

A 5,000 man U.N. Emergency Force has been policing the Egyptian-Israeli frontier since Israel's invasion of Egypt in 1956.

Maj. Gen. Carl C. Von Horn, Swedish chief of the U.N. truce supervision organization in Palestine, was reported in almost constant communication on the situation with Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold.

Israel's withdrawal demand covered the Tawafik-Tel Kazier area southeast of the Sea of Galilee in the demilitarized zone.

The Israeli government has accused Syria of using Tawafik village as a military outpost and stationing soldiers there disguised as farmers. Israeli patrols raided the village over the weekend and destroyed most of the houses.

The Syrians claim Israel is using the charge as a pretext to block Arab farmers from exercising their rights to cultivate lands in the area.

College Head In Top Church Post

FORT WORTH — Dr. Tilford T. Swearingen, president of William Woods College in Fulton, Mo., has been named executive director [illegible] Churches.

His appointment to the top executive position among Texas Christian Churches was announced today by Dr. Dudley Strain, president of the state board and minister of the First Christian Church in Lubbock.

President of church-related William Woods College for the past nine years, Dr. Swearingen will assume duties at the Fort Worth [illegible] about March 15.

He will deliver an inaugural address in the opening session of the 73rd annual assembly of the Texas Convention of Christian Churches, April 27, in Lubbock.

A minister for 35 years, Dr. Swearingen has served as a national executive in Christian education for his communion and for an [illegible] agency and has held important pastorates among the Christian Churches.

He will head an organization that provides churches specialized services in areas ranging from Christian education to church development.

In announcing Dr. Swearingen's selection from a large group of leading churchmen suggested for the post of executive director, Dr. Strain said:

"Dr. Swearingen is a man of top stature among the leaders of the Christian Churches in our country.

"He is admirably qualified by experience and ability to serve as the chief executive of the TBCC."

Pointing out that the beginning of Dr. Swearingen's administration will coincide with the launching of the Christian Churches' "Decade of Decision," the 1960's, Dr. Strain said:

"I feel that he will lead the Christian Churches of Texas in a most aggressive program of advance in the decade of the Sixties. His coming is an event of great significance."

Dr. G. Nimmo Goldston, director of men's work for the TBCC, is serving as interim chief exective.

Before he became president of William Woods College, a two-year school for women, in 1951, Dr. Swearingen was minister for three years of Oak Park Christian Church in Kansas City, Mo.

He started his ministry in 1925 as pastor of the Christian Church at Lathrop, Mo.

he lay in bed the next morning. While he was dressing he called and had a writ of habeaus corpus prepared and served at the city jail. He said that the officers were polite while awaiting the writ but that he was kept in an office under surveillance until he was taken under the writ before Judge Williams to make bond. At that time he was released pending the hearing.

The case for Blanchard centered upon contention that a discussion concerning the contempteous behavior of Beene during court had papers were made out. Blanchard read the orders which stated that he (Beene) had with his loud contempteous manner and his attempted battery upon the court brought disrespect upon the court and thereby was adjudged to be in contempt of court and fined $100 and 2 days jail.

Police Chief T. L. Steel as the arresting officer testified that the order was given to him on Jan. 6 and that he served it on the morning of Jan. 7. Judge Williams at the opening of court had stated that the writ was obtained by Beene on sworn statements of Beene and Steele that the order was issued after Beene had left the courtroom.

The contempt order was issued following a heated trial of Jan. 6 in which Beene and six other men were charged with "gaming in a building other than a private residence." Two men pleaded guilty, paid a $10 fine and left. Beene and the others pleaded innocent with Beene representing them. All were found guilty and fined $10. Beene objected to the decision of the court.

Titan Firing Raises Hopes

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — This successful firing of an intercontinental range Titan has raised America's hopes of narrowing the missile gap between this nation and the Soviet Union.

It also may provide the United States with a powerful new space vehicle.

For the first time in nine months, a Titan flew successfully Tuesday. The 91-foot missile soared from its pad and two minute later its huge second stage ignited for the first time.

The 24-ton second stage, generating 80,000 pounds of thrust, is the largest and most powerful ever fired in flight by the United States.

When operational, it will be able to hurl a nuclear warhead 9,000 miles, maybe farther. The upper stage was not fully fueled Tuesday and traveled only 2,000 miles.

The firing of the Titan second stage at an altitude of about 27 miles demonstrated the feasibility of using large liquid-fuel engines for space exploration. This engine is five times more powerful than any previously ignited in flight by the free world.

Girl Found Delinquent

BOSTON, Tex. (AP) — A jury Tuesday found a 14-year-old girl guilty of juvenile delinquency in the shooting death of a younger boy who threw rocks and yelled at her brother, Billy, 8.

Frances Marie Kelley was tried for the death of 9-year-old Steve Fields last Dec. 22.

Members of the jury recommended that the girl be granted probation in custody of her father on some other competent person. Dist. Judge Robert Vance ordered a Feb. 15 hearing on her probation.

"I didn't mean to kill anyone—just to scare those boys away," she said.

The girl said she fired twice into the ground before firing the fatal shot.

After the Fields boy dropped, she said she dashed into her home and gulped a handful of sleeping tablets.

The victim was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Fields, Garland, Tex. He was at Whaley, five miles east of here in extreme Northeast Texas, for a Christmas vacation with relatives.

Lindsay Crosby To Marry A Showgirl

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Another Las Vegas showgirl is joining the Crosby family.

She and Lindsay met when he went to Las Vegas to attend brother Dennis' wedding. When the Crosby brothers brought their act to Las Vegas last fall, Lindsay renewed the acquaintance.

The only one of Bing's elder sons still unmarried is singer Gary Crosby.

Dr. Finch Is Due On Stand Today

By DIAL TORGERSON

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Dr. R. Bernard Finch, on trial for his life, takes the stand today to tell a story he has never before related in public—his account of the night his wife was shot to death.

Since Barbara Jean Finch was killed outside the couple's luxurious suburban home last July 18, the doctor has told authorities nothing of what happened that night.

The only indication of what he may say has come from an earlier suggestion by the defense that the 42-year-old doctor will maintain the shooting was accidental or in self-defense.

Finch's red-haired mistress, Carole Tregoff, accused with him of murder and conspiracy—has given her version three times, the last [illegible] preliminary hearing.

Tuesday, however, the defense won what it termed a major victory when the court ruled that Carole's sworn testimony may not be used against her. This means the prosecution cannot refer to what it calls damaging testimony by the 23-year-old ex-model.

Carole smiled with delight when Superior Court Judge Walter R. Evans made his ruling. At recess she kissed her attorney, Robert A. Neeb, on the cheek.

The court did rule, however, that two earlier statements Carole gave police may be admitted in evidence. The prosecution closed its case after reading these statements into the record.

In all three accounts, Carole said she and Finch drove from Las Vegas to the Finch home in West Covina July 18 so they could talk to the doctor's 36-year-old wife about the divorce she was seeking.

At the home, Carole said, Mrs. Finch pulled a gun, the doctor grabbed for it, and she, Carole, ran.

But in the first two statements, to detectives, Carole didn't say she carried an attache case belonging to Finch, which was found at the home after Mrs. Finch was killed.

In sworn testimony she said she had carried the case up the hill to the home. In the case—called a murder kit by the prosecution—were such items as sleep-inducing drugs, clothesline, a butcher knife and pistol bullets.

Carole was arrested as she left the stand at the doctor's preliminary hearing last July 29 because, said the state, she had changed her story. The defense argued her testimony at the hearing should not be admitted because she was not told beforehand it might be used against her.

Cage's Bondsmen Ante Up Again

DALLAS (AP) — Fugitive Ben-Jack Cage's bondsmen paid out another $5,000 in district court here Tuesday.

An attorney for one of the bondsmen said he never expects to see the insurace promotor again.

"I'll eat all the money Cage brings back from Brazil," said Charles Humphress as he handed over a $2,500 check for his late client's share of the bond.

Sureties on the bonds were Howard Phillips and the late M. K. Norton, who now have lost $13,500 on Cage forfeitures.

Cage, one-time head of the defunct ICT insurance empire, went to Brazil after a Dallas jury convicted him of embezzlement on another charge in 1957 and sentenced him to 10 years in prison.

She was taken to Cogdell Memorial Hospital in a Bolger ambulance and was admitted to the hospital after receiving emergency treatment for a compound fracture.

Her condition was reported as satifactory this morning.

Urge Wheat For Feed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The American Farm Bureau Federation said today there is only one thing left to do with wheat, and that's to feed extra supplies to livestock for meat and milk production.

Wheat is currently the nation's most troublesome surplus crop.

The big farm organization called for new legislation that would greatly reduce price supports for this grain. It said such action would channel much wheat to livestock and discourage surplus production in high cost areas.

Its stand was set forth in a statement prepared for the Senate Agriculture Committee today by Charles Mitchell, Lincoln, Neb., a Farm Bureau director.

The committee has before it a bill introduced by Chairman Allen J. Ellender (D-La) which would increase price supports, but limit them to growers who underplanted federal acreage allotments 20 per cent or more.

Get the quiet proof of Chevrolet's superior performance on the road

No other car in the low-priced three can match the borne-on-the-wind sensation you get from a ride in the 1960 Chevrolet. But that's not surprising when you consider to what lengths Chevy has gone to provide for your comfort at no extra cost to you. As you drive, count the ways Chevrolet has been thoughtful of your pleasure:

Supple Full Coil suspension—Dynamic coil springs at all four wheels melt bumps as no other suspension system can. Taking the punch out of the roughest of roads is their only function—they don't have to anchor the rear axle.

Butyl rubber body mounts—Thicker, newly designed body mounts of resilient butyl rubber further insulate you from road shock and noise.

Body by Fisher—Only Chevy in its field offers the polish and craftsmanship of Body by Fisher.

Foam cushioned seats—Chevy offers foam cushioned seats in both front and rear in all model series but one. Its nearest competitors do not.

Safety-Girder frame—X-built and not merely X-braced, the Safety-Girder frame affords greater rigidity to prevent twisting and minimize squeaks.

Hydraulic valve lifters—Oil hushed hydraulic valve lifters reduce engine noise to a whisper.

Cushioned steering shaft—A universal joint and cushioned coupling keep those annoying road tremors from the steering wheel.

Two-piece drive shaft—A neat way to a smoother, quieter flow of power. Chevy has it.

Precision balanced wheels and tires—Here again Chevy has shown concern for your comfort by eliminating vibration in this vital area—tire life is longer, too.

Easy steering ratio—Chevy's high ratio Ball Race steering takes the work out of steering for you.

Superior weight distribution—Chevy rides better, handles better and stops better because the car's weight is more equally divided between the front and rear wheels. The new Chevy also resists "diving" when you brake and resists squatting when you accelerate.

Wide choice of power teams—You can expect a better ride in Chevy because you can choose the engine and transmission best suited to your driving needs. In all, Chevy offers 24 different power combinations to satisfy the itchiest driving foot—more than any other car.

Life Members Of Texas P-TA Honored Here Monday Night

The High School Parent-Teachers Association met Monday evening at the school cafeteria for a short business meeting and to honor life members of the Texas P-TA.

Mrs. L. A. McClanahan presided over the business meeting in the absence of the president. A nominating committee was elected. They were: Mr. T. D. Wiman, chairman, Mrs. G. P. Gan, and Mrs. Fred Beaty.

A beautifully decorated cake bearing a large 50, commemorated the 50th anniversary of the Texas P-TA.

Mrs. Beaty gave an impressive talk titled "Down Memory Lane", and members holding life memberships were presented gold ribbon corsages, bearing the number of years they have held the membrship. In conclusion Mrs. Beaty said:

"We who have memories have substance for dreams. Like our co-workers of yesteryear, we have dreams that must come to pass, as long as we have memory we shall celebrate Founders Day and the ideals that hold together our vast membership and give unity, direction, and power to our mission. Let us make this year's Founders Day the solemn event it deserves to be. Let us illuminate the past so that it may indeed brighten the future. The fields Alice McLellan Birney and Phoebe Apperson Hearst tilled have been richly productive. Yet the greatest flowering is still to be, if we truly understand the content of our past and its challenge for the future.

"In knowing the beginning may well lie the essence of wisdom".

WHAT'S GOING ON

MR. AND MRS. JOHN BRUTON, Route 2, and MRS. S. E. KELLER Mrs. Bruton's mother, were to leave today to visit the Brutons' sons, WAYLAND BRUTON in Jal, N.M., and FORREST BRUTON in Barstow, Calif. They plan to be gone for about two weeks.

PIANO KEYS

Plastic Keys on pianos may be cleaned by rubbing with a damp cloth. Water should never be used on ivory keys for it will yellow them. A clean flannel cloth dampened with wood or denatured alcohol may be used to clean yellowed keys.

She's A Dynamo In A Wheel Chair

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP)—Take away the wheel chair, and Mrs. Dorothea Adamski would be just like thousands of other women who combine motherhood with civic work and an outside job.

Mrs. Adamski, paralyzed from the waist down by a polio attack in 1954, says "I had to accept the fact that wheels were the only legs I would have for a while, perhaps forever. But I also wanted to compete in the normal world, legs or no legs."

Compete, she does, and her success offers encouragement to others with handicaps.

Mrs. Adamski, mother of four children, spends much of her free time working with the P-TA, at a recreation center for handicapped teen-agers, and taking part in activities of the Wheel Chair Bowling League, which she formed. Each year she leads the wheel chair bowlers in the March of Dimes campaign.

She works at Hands, Inc., a Rochester firm dealing in light manufacturing and packaging. Her seven co-workers also are handicapped.

Though her day begins at 6 a.m. and ends at midnight, Mrs. Adamski doesn't see any special problems in bringing up her children.

Men Like Valentine Gifts Too

AP Newsfeatures

DOES THAT man expect a Valentine's Day gift?

The chances are that he doesn't, since a recent mail survey showed that only 65 per cent of the 100 men queried thought they would receive a gift, although 90 per cent expect to give a gift to their lady fair. But 95 per cent of these men said that they liked to receive gifts if they were the right kind.

Among the favorite Valentine gifts were these: Books, sports and leisure shirts, slippers, moccasins, cigars, cigarettes, smoking accessories such as a ashtray and humidors. Younger men preferred the new slim shapes in cigars. Phonograph albums, cognac and liqueurs, sports equipment ranging from skin diving, fishing, golf, and tennis to mountain climbing and skiing, leather goods such as wallets, cigarette cases, lighters. Neckties were acceptable with some misgivings. The men said they like to pick their own ties, complaining that some women buy ties that were to "stuffy," other women bought ties that were too loud.

The reaction to Valentine's Day cards was mixed, and those that received cards said that the cards were likely to be funny rather than the sentimental old-fashioned kind. But when it comes to gifts, they liked those that represent thought as well as affection.

Ham Sandwiches

Grind cooked ham and mix it with butter or margarine, mustard and orange marmalade. Spread the mixture between two slices of bread. Beat 2 eggs with a cup of milk and dip the sandwiches lightly on both sides into the mixture. Preheat an aluminum griddle or frypan over the top burner with the heat control on your range. Set the control at 300 degrees. Fry the sandwiches until golden brown. Serve with fruit salad and tea for a special luncheon.

Gen. Power Disagrees Again

By GEOFFREY GOULD

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gen. Thomas Sarsfield Power, who carries the awesome responsibility of running the Strategic Air Command, has found himself at odds with the top men in the Pentagon more than once.

The personality of this ramrod, stopwatch, spit-and-polish four-star general makes it a distinct possibility it could happen again.

Power's latest disagreement was with Secretary of Defense Thomas S. Gates Jr. in a New York speech last month. Power said that without an ample missile warning system, a surprise attack by 300 Soviet missiles could virtually wipe out in 30 minutes America's bomber and missile retaliatory force. This is the SAC which Power commands. He advocates keeping some bombers in the air at all times to avoid such a sneak attack.

Gates, justifying the administration's defense budget before a congressional committee, said he and the Joint Chiefs of Staff consider Power's estimate unrealistic. He carefully avoided any personal criticism of Power.

Tuesday Power had a chance to back down if he wished. His reply to a Senate committee was characteristic: "I still stand by my statements in that speech."

Power had a disagreement last year with Gates' predecessor Neil H. McElroy.

Power had written a book called "Design For Survival." Copies of the manuscript circulated on Capitol Hill. Some of it became public.

McElroy put a Pentagon lid on the book and refused permission for it to be published. His only explanation was that it was inappropriate for a major commander on active duty to write a book about his current area of command.

Power, 55, has been called "tense," "overly ambitious," "dour" and "grim."

He also was called exactly the right man to take over command of the Strategic Air Command in 1957 from Gen. Curtis LeMay.

Power had served as LeMay's right arm at SAC for almost six years, then took charge in 1954 of the Air Research and Development Command, which at that time was developing the Atlas and Tital long-range missiles.

Power hates to waste time or words. He despises sloppy dress and is always immaculate himself.

When he is scheduled to go somewhere in his staff plane, he pulls up in his command car at precisely one minute before departure time. When he steps from the car the starboard engine is started. As he climbs [illegible] the ramp the port engine is started. Exactly on time he slips into the pilot's seat and shoves off. If anyone in the party is 30 seconds late he gets left behind.

Power is said to have piloted every type of military plane from the trainers of the 1920s to the massive B58 bomber.

In World War II, he led the B29 fire raids on Tokyo and has won many [illegible]

He is an avid golfer and fisherman and enjoys reading history and biography. An expert in judo, the Japanese art of self defense, he holds the coveted "black belt" rating in the sport.

Power was born in New York and caught the flying fever at an early age around the primitive airports of Long Island. When he applied for air cadet training he found himself short of college credits. He made these up with an intensive course of night study.

He married the former Mae Ayre in 1936 while on duty in the Philippines.

Meaty Argument

PATERSON, N.J. (AP)—Jayne G. Dersch has won a divorce. She testified her husband, William, kicked a barbecued chicken along the street and later rubbed a pound of chopped meat in her face during an argument.

HANDED $100,000 AS GIFT—Carl W. Borge, 47-year-old steelworker, pictured with his wife, Ruth, and their pet Rinny, after Borge learned that a neighbor had willed him $100,000. Surprise gift came from Lewis A. Armstrong, 71, who lived across the street from the Borge's in the Detroit, Mich., suburb of Wyandotte. Armstrong was a bachelor and retired shipyard worker. Borge said he had no idea Armstrong had so much money. Another $100,000 was bequeathed to the University of Michigan. (AP Wirephoto)

Girl Found With Negro Boy Friend

NEW YORK (AP) — A university official's blonde daughter who skipped out on a Florida trip with her parents was found Tuesday night arm-in-arm with her Negro boy friend in a Times Square movie house.

Dorothy Lebohner, 18, disappeared Monday night from the Biltmore hotel suite of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward K. Lebohner.

Lebohner, treasurer of Alfred University at Alfred, N.Y., and his wife were en route to Florida with their daughter to help her forget an interracial campus romance with a former basketball star.

After police found them at the movie, Miss Lebohner and Warren Sutton, 21, of Chester, Pa., told officers they had walked all night, eaten at Automats, and spent the day in movie houses.

Miss Lebohner wore what appeared to be a wedding band, but she insisted she was not married. When the girl was asked about it, the 6-foot-2 Sutton snapped: "Don't answer that."

When a patrolman approached the couple in the movie, he asked: "Are you the girl we're looking for?"

Miss Lebohner burst into tears and whispered, "yes."

Sutton, once a top basketball player at Alfred, had dropped out of the university after what he described as "minor difficulties" with officials there. He said he came to New York City two weeks ago looking for work.

Young Sutton started dating Miss Lebohner when she was a high school student, the father said. He said Sutton agreed to stay away from his daughter, now a freshman at the university, but the girl disappeared with him during the Christmas holidays while pretending to visit a friend in Newark, N.J.

Sutton was released after questioning by police and said he planned to return to his home in Chester.

Bank Robber Surrenders; Feels Better

BELLFLOWER, Calif. (AP) — Joe Shellnut, who turned himself in and announced he had robbed a bank, says he feels better now.

Investigators say he may have company — bank teller James Johnson, who admits he once discussed the possibility of a robbery with Shellnut.

Shellnut, 30, and Johnson, 31, have known each other for 17 years.

Both were booked on suspicion of robbery Tuesday.

Shellnut disclosed this somewhat unorthodox timetable of crime: Friday he robbed a bank of $4,000. Monday he sent the money back to the bank in the mail. Tuesday, Shellnut, who said his conscience was driving him nuts, surrendered.

A few hours later, investigators found Johnson at Shellnut's house and arrested him. Detectives said Johnson admitted he and Shellnut once talked about robbing the bank where he worked but "not seriously."

Seriously or not, Shellnut said it was easy for him to rob the First Western Bank of Bellflower.

"I walked in and passed over a note to the teller and said, 'Snap it up, Jack.'

"He and I were buddies together at school. But he didn't recognize me, what with me false mustache, dyed hair, hoodlum hat and cigar."

Harmless Weapons Brought Into Play

HOLLIDAYSBURG, Pa. (AP)—A bandit wearing a red bandana mask entered the Laurel Inn here.

He met the owner, Ida Shaw, holding a rifle.

He dropped his gun and ran—so fast Mrs. Shaw couldn't catch him.

It turned out the bandit's gun was a toy pistol—and Mrs. Shaw's rifle wasn't loaded.

Fire Levels Buildings In Royse City

ROYSE CITY (AP) — A fiercely burning fire roared out of control for two hours this morning destroying a hotel and four other buildings in this small East Texas town.

There were no deaths and the only person injured, the Rev. Carroll Cole, broke an ankle when he fell fighting the fire.

The eight elderly residents of the hotel, one a blind man, were led to safety by persons who spotted the fire in a nearby building.

Flames leaped 300 to 400 feet in the air when the two-story hotel burned.

Firefighters from four nearby towns fought the flames as a strong easterly wind threatened to spread the fire. The fire was brought under control about 3 a.m.

Royse City Fire Chief C. R. Gentry said the damage would be close to $300,000.

The fire started at 1 a.m. in the Davis Manufacturing Co. building on Main Street. From there the flames spread east and Hardware and Furniture Store, the Taylor Cleaning and Pressing Shop and the two-story Cookston Hotel and Cafe. The buildings, except for the hotel and cafe, were one-story structures.

The flames were spotted in the Davis Building at 1 a.m. Cause of the fire wasn't known.

Royse City, a town of 2,000, is 25 miles northeast of Dallas.

Bank Held Up By Texan And Mexican

MORROW, Ohio (AP)—A Texan and a Mexican were captured shortly after they held up a bank here Tuesday.

They were Cosmo Carmine Capo, 49, of Brownsville, and James Collins, 32, Matamoros, Mexico.

One of the men held up the First National Bank and took $5,528. He and his companion, who were waiting in a car, were captured 15 minutes later at nearby Maineville.

The men offered no resistance when police caught up with them as they ran through a field after their car had broken down.

Jack Put Snyder On Athletic Map

Jack Spikes has carved himself a permanent niche in the athletic history of Snyder, as he has done more than any one person to "put the town on the map" by virtue of his football prowess and his down-to-earth attitude and outlook.

For Spikes, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Spikes of 2806 37th Street, is known not only for his athletic abilities, which are wide and varied, but also is recognized for his congenial personality. He's an All-American both on and off the playing field, which speaks doubly well for the stocky TCU gridiron great.

His feats at Snyder High are well-known and well-remembered by all those who saw him perform during his enrollment there. Not only was he a star Tiger halfback, but he also branched out and made a name for himself in a variety of other sports, including basketball and baseball.

Due in a great part to his talents, the Tigers waltzed through to a district championship in his senior year (1955), losing to always-tough Breckenridge by 14-7 in their season's opener, the loss marring an otherwise spotless regular season record.

The Benglas lost out in bi-district that year, as they were edged out by Garland, 18-13.

Following that school year Snyder's loss became TCU's most welcome gain, as he enrolled in that school and embarked on a grid crusade that would eventually place him in the national spotlight and earn him All-American acclaim.

His varsity years were "fat" ones for the Froggies, with much of their success reverting back directly to "The Big Panther", who not only ate up yardage and records on offense, but also branched out and became a stellar defensive specialist, as he worked from the corner linebacking spot.

During his tenure under the Purple banner the Frogs marched to a Southwest Conference championship in 1958 and a tri-championship along with Texas and Arkansas in '59. During that span TCU compiled an enviable 21-9-2 won-lost-tie record and journeyed to the Cotton and Bluebonnet Bowls following the two championship seasons.

His junior and senior seasons were unique, in that the Horned Frogs racked up identical 8-2 records in each. The only Frog losses registered in 1958 were to Iowa an SMU, while this past season found them dropping contests to LSU and Arkansas on consecutive early-season weekends.

The Frogs' defensive record during those two seasons borders on the phenomenal, as they averaged giving up only 7.8 points per game in '58, then lowered the mark to 5.2 in '59. The most points scored by any team during the past regular season against the Frogs was 10— that being in their 10-0 loss to defending national champ LSU.

The only individual who was able to adequately crack the Spikes defense was one who wore skirts, and in the summer of 1958 a pretty high school sweetheart by the name of Jane DeWald became Mrs. Jack Spikes.

They are currently making their home in Dallas, where Spikes will play professional ball for the Dallas Texans of the American Football League.

PROUD PARENTS—Mr. and Mrs. Sam Spikes, the parents of Jack, are pictured in their home above at 2806 37th Street here in Snyder. They are eagerly awaiting the arrival of their son from Fort Worth and the round of activities which will surround the Jack Spikes Appreciation Day festivities.

Rich Palm Springs Meet Starts Today

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP)—The world's richest golf tournament starts here today — the $100,000 Palm Springs Desert Classic — and some lucky pro conceivably could pocket $66,300.

All he would have to do is win the $12,000 first prize for the 90-hole tournament proper, $4,300 for first in the pro-amateur division — and shoot a hole-in-one, worth $50,000 by itself.

A favorite is Art Wall Jr., who has scored 35 aces in his career.

The first four rounds will be pro-amateur over the Tamarisk, Bermuda Dunes, Indian Wells and Thunderbird layouts. The fifth round — over Thunderbird — will be for the pros alone — the low 60 scorers.

The amateurs include some of Hollywood's most famous names — Bing Crosby, Buddy Roger, Jack (Maverick) Kelly, Zeppo Marx, Randolph Scott, Bob Hope, Arthur (Dagwood) Lake, Phil Harris, Danny Kaye and ex-home run slugger Ralph Kiner.

Border Patrolman's Action Saves Child

McALLEN, Tex. (AP)—Quick action of Border Patrolman Jack Ray of McAllen saved 5-year-old Randy Polofox from drowning Tuesday.

Randy fell into deep water of a canal as he and his 3-year-old brother, Mickey, played along the bank.

Ray, attracted by the screams of the smaller boy, jumped into the stream and pulled Randy's limp body from the water.

The patrolman applied artificial respiration and the small boy recovered.

The boys are sons of Mrs. Cecile Polofox of McAllen.

Card Mentor Quits Post At Hermleigh

HERMLEIGH — Bill McGuire, head football and track coach at Hermleigh High School, resigned his post here abruptly last night, stating that he was washing his hands of the profession for good.

His resignation was handed in to the school board and promptly accepted, with Superintendent O. B. Paty commenting that the action came as no surprise and that he had known that McGuire was looking for another job.

McGuire, 26, guided his '59 tracksters to a District 6-B championship, while his football teams had compiled an 11-9 record in his two seasons as head mentor at the school.

He is a 1956 graduate of Sul Ross College, and is a native of Weinert.

In giving up the post, he stated that, "I don't intend to stay in coaching. I'm retiring from the coaching field. I've had all of it I want. I've lost 30 pounds since September and you might just say ill health is the reason I'm quitting."

The resignation will go into effect at the end of the term unless McGuire sees fit to leave prior to that time. No replacement is in line for the vacated job, reports Paty.

California Team Upsets Texas A&M

By The Associated Press

Tenth-ranked Texas A&M, leader in the Southwest Conference basketball race, fell to Santa Clara, 66-55, Tuesday night in one of the season's biggest upsets.

The Aggies, boating a 13-1 season record before the game, dropped behind in the first half and never came close to winning.

The Santa Clara Broncs, with a 14-6 season mark and 3-1 in the West Coast Athletic Conference, built up a 29-24 halftime lead.

The Aggies' loss gives new hope to the Texas Tech Red Raiders, who looked like they would battle for the cellar at the start of the season, but now loom as contenders for the cha[illegible]

The Raiders, led by sensational sophomore Del Ray Mounts who scored 35 points, hurt Arkansas' chances with an 82-79 upset Tuesday night. It was Tech's second conference triumph in a row. The victory shot the Raiders into a tie for third place with Arkansas and Texas and put them only a game out of first.

Texas A&M leads with a 4-1 record only because the Aggies have played more conference games than second place Southern Methodist (3-1). The Methodists play Texas Christian at Fort Worth Wednesday night. A victory for SMU would put them into a tie with A&M for the top.

Texas meets North Texas State of the Missouri Valley Conference at Denton in a nonconference test.

Arkansas missed a chance of pulling into a tie for the lead with the Aggies when the Razorbacks lost at Lubbock Tuesday night. They led twice by nine points in the first half and were ahead 38-33 at intermission. But Tech went ahead midway of the last half and held it to the end.

The loss by Texas A&M gives the conference an intersectional season mark of 22 victories against 24 defeats.

Leading the Santa Clara attack were Frank Sobrero with 28 points and Jim Russi, with 17 points.

Carroll Broussard paced the Aggies with 14 points.

'HEART AND SOUL OF CLUB'

Spikes Rated As Finest Fullback In Frog Annals

By JIM BROCK
Publicity Director, TCU

Jack Spikes— who many believe was the heart and soul of the Frogs' 1959 championship club— undoubtedly is going down in Frog annals as the finest all-round fullback to ever play at TCU. The 6-2 208-pound Snyder, Texas native who was a first-round draft choice of the Pittsburgh Steelers had quite a year. Not only the Southwest Conference rushing champion (660 on 140), but the stocky youngster amazed all with his terrific defensive play from the cornerback slot.

For his outstanding performances, Spikes was a choice of the Football Writers of America for the LOOK all-America team. And nearly every A-A team in the nation had the powerful senior at least second-team behind the consensus choice Charles Flowers of Mississippi.

Spikes was called one of the finest fullbacks "I've ever seen" by Paul Dietzel of LSU. Frank Broyles of Arkansas, Darrell Royal of Texas, DeWitt Weaver of Texas Tech, Jess Neely of Rice, John Bridgers of Baylor and SMU's Bill Meek all had high praises for the work of the big fullback.

I think Jack is the best fullback in the country," said Coach Abe Martin. "He does everything well. He's the best runner, can block, and his defense has been out of this world. He's the outstanding boy on this team."

Jack's best day came in the 1959 opener against Kansas when he raced for 130 yards, including a 64-yard blast to set up the winning touchdown. Repeatedly during the year, on third and yardage situations, he would strike for the first down. Not only powerful, but coaches are amazed at the big fellow's work with his feet when bouncing away from a stack.

Spikes also has been involved in sportsmanship acts in several of the Frog games, always ready with a "pat" on the back for the opponent.

A fine student, Spikes is majoring in geology, and hopes to land a position with a oil firm after football. He's married and his wife, Jane, who is an avid sports fan, is a school-teacher.

Ingo, Floyd Still Working On Return

By ED CORRIGAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The off again - on - again, maybe - so-maybe-no Ingemar Johansson-Floyd Patterson return bout for the world heavyweight championship was practically a reality today.

Not quite, tough.

But it appeared that most of the major stumbling blocks had been cleared and that the new promoters, Feature Sports, Inc., merely had to sit out the required waiting period for a license to stage the bout.

Johansson, who lifted the crown from Patterson last year, and his adviser, Edwin Ahlquist, headed home for Sweden in a happy frame of mind Tuesday night.

"I'm confident the contract will be signed when I return to the U.S. later this month," beamed Johansson.

"I talked to the Feature Sports people and the contract is in the process of being written. Everything looks fine for the fight in June."

Ingo will be back by Feb. 20 for a TV show. He thinks the contracts will be signed a few days later.

While Ingo settles some European business matters, the wheels are grinding this side of the Atlantic to license Feature Sports, headed by Roy Cohn, former counsel for the late Sen. McCarthy's investigating committee.

A spokesman for the New York State Athletic Commission said the application for the license is being processed.

"It generally takes four to five weeks to complete," he said. "We now are in the third week."

While the promotional side is practically cleared up, there still is no definite site for the bout.

Ingo is on record as wanting it in New York. But Los Angeles, Milwaukee, Chicago, Dallas and Philadelphia all are bidding for it.

As for Ingo's much-publicized $153,000 he still has coming to him from the first fight last June, he left empty-handed. But he is going to come back armed with all records and expense accounts for tax purposes and figures that as soon as the new contract is signed, he'll get the swag.

Crazy, Mixed Up Kids Face A Pretty Judge In New York

By INEZ ROBB

Crazy, mixed-up kids who wind up in New York City's Domestic Relations Court before the court's new presiding justice are in for a surprise.

First, the presiding justice is pretty, real pretty, in fact. And second she speaks the kids' language.

"What really spooks me is that I don't know what causes the terrible physical violence that accompanies so much juvenile crime today," said Presiding Justice Florence M. Kelley, the first woman ever appointed to this position in New York.

The justice, a tall, slim women with a fashionable shock of dark blonde hair, snapping blue eyes and a glowing Irish skin and complexion, sat behind a big desk piled with papers. (I felt it wasn't accidental that her blue silk blouse, worn with a chic black suit, matched her eyes.)

"You know anything about a budget?" she asked briskly, gesturing at the papers in front of her. I shook my head in the negative. "All I've done in this job so far is work on the budget for the coming year. Double-talk!

"Gee!" continued this graduate, magna cum laude, of Smith College and later of Yale Law School. "I wish I had something nice and plain, simple and profound to say about juvenile delinquency, except that I hate that term. But I haven't.

"I don't think kids today who steal or throw rocks at street lights are any different from what they were in the past. And I don't believe there is any more juvenile delinquncy, per capita, than formerly.

"There is only one new element in juvenile delinquency. That is the terrible and senseless violence that accompanies so much of it. It isn't enough today to snatch a purse from an unresisting victim; the snatcher must beat the victim into a pulp.

"That's what spooks me! I wonder if this violence isn't a reaction to the general violence of the times in which we live, a revulsion to the H-bomb threat that hangs eternally over us.

"We have to face the fact that home ties are much looser today than ever before. Children no longer enjoy a cohesive, tight-knit family life. What is happening to the child in modern civilization is the increasing substitution of city and state authority for parental authority. It is not an equal substitution. In fact, it is deplorable."

Justice Kelly is herself the product of a cohesive, tightly knit, well-to-do Quaker home in New York. As a child, she planned to be the world's greatest pianist and she still plays a good bit for her own pleasure and that of her husband, David S. Worgan, also a lawyer.

"I am also a city gardener against great odds," she said. "When the people in the apartments above throw beer cans into my garden, I screem like Donald Duck!"

For 12 years before her appointment as head of the Court of Domestic Relations, the justice was the attorney in charge of the criminal branch of the Legal Aid society. So distinguished was her service in that job and in a dozen other civic fields that she was the choice of numbers of distinguished members of bench and bar for her new post.

She has no easy solutions for the problems of disturbed children and juvenile delinquents.

"I only know, from long experience," she concluded "that they have to have love. It isn't easy to love mean, nasty kids. But they have to have it."

50th Year Important Landmark

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Every year my life insurance agent sends me a congratulatory post card on my birthday.

This month I figure he ought to splurge a bit and send a "get well" telegram. For it marks the starting of my 50th year, a landmark a man passes only once in his life.

Technically, I will be only 49, but I can see 50 on the rim of the horizon, and already I am getting those who-said-50-was-nifty blues.

Years ago my birthdays were kind of fun. They gave me an excuse to go around and collect kisses from all the pretty girls in the office.

His 40th birthday is a major disaster in any man's life. He doesn't fall for that Pollyanna guff that life begins at 40. He knows better. Middle age hits him with the impact of an onrushing locomotive.

"When does the fun begin? he asks plaintively, and feels in his heart that for him the fun of living is mainly past.

I felt so low at 40 myself that almost every year since then my mother on my birthday has mailed me a note with these two same cautionary bits of advice: "Child, child, don't you know there'll be another day?" and "Sit loosely in the saddle of life."

But the 40s are a dark walk in a darkening forest, as you fight the thought each day carries you farther from the pogo stick and nearer to the wheel chair.

And what about the prospect of being 50? Well, strangely, as the half-century mark looms closer, you glimpse a patch of sunlight in the jungle. You know you have weathered being in the 40s, and you know that nothing can be worse than that.

You become more tolerant of the antics of teen-agers, and thank your stars you'll never have to be one again. You pity rather than envy youth.

Progress Is Made In Civil Rights

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—Progress in civil rights may seem nail-slow to Southern Negroes who have been denied them. But some progress is being made, in bits and pieces.

Tuesday the Senate, by a two-thirds vote and without a Southern filibuster, approved a constitutional amendment to outlaw any requirement for payment of a poll tax before a person can vote in federal elections. Only five Southern states still have a poll tax.

The ban won't become a reality unless two-thirds of the House, and after that three-fourths of the states, also approve. The state have seven years in which to act.

Perhaps the long delay before the tax can be banned explains in part why Southern opposition to it was less than all-out. The amendment was even sponsored by a Southerner, Sen. Spessard Holland (D-Fla).

Maybe a better explanation is that the poll tax as an issue has lost most of its significance. Negroes are better able to afford such a tax now than they were in the poverty-stricken years of the past.

Nowadays Southern whites who want to keep Negroes from voting use other means: intimidation or blocking them from registering. Yet, no longer ago than the 1940s, anti-poll tax proposals were a flaming issue.

Actually, in those days attempts to get through such a measure were the prelude to a political farce in Congress. Almost invariably the House would pass a bill but Southern Democrats in the Senate filibustered it to death.

This happened in 1942, 1943, 1945 and 1947. In 1949 the House, again approved but the anti-poll tax bill never reached the Senate floor.

Of course there was a great difference between the anti-poll tax bills which the House approved but the Senate blocked and the amendment approved Tuesday. A bill would have become law immediately after a simple majority vote in both houses.

It may be seven years before the states approve the constitutional amendment accepted by the Senate, provided two-thirds of the House members also go along. It is still questionable whether the states will approve.

Spikes Tabbed As 'One Of The Best'

(Printed in its entirety from the 1959 "Frog Facts", official TCU brochure)

Jack Spikes or "The Big Panther," as he's known by his TCU teammates, has established himself as one of the finest fullbacks in Horned Frog history.

The [illegible] plus Spikes was one of the keys to success in Coach Abe Martin's T-attack last fall. He roared to 580 yards in 124 carries, second in Southwest Conference rushing behind Baylor's Larry Hickman. For his sparkling 1958 performances, the big lad was a unanimous all-Conference selection and made many all-America honorable mentions.

Spikes loves football and the ex-Snyder high school halfback hits the opponent line with authority. His best afternoon of the season came in the Cotton Bowl, against the Air Force Academy. Time after time, he would bolt into the Falcon secondary for huge chunks of yardage. He wound up with 108 yards in 17 stabs and was named the Outstanding Back of the game.

"Jack is truly one of our all-time offensive fullbacks," explained Martin. "He has the size, speed and desire to make the great play for you."

Jack was tremendous as a halfback on TCU's freshman squad of 1956. But after an injury hit Buddy Dike, on the varsity the next season, he stepped into the fullback post for the first time and did a sparkling job. He picked up 315 yards on 71 carries during the year. His 1957 opener against Ohio State came as a surprise to all. He simply plowed his way for 66 yards on 11 trips, including a 16-yard TD beauty for the Frogs' final score in the 18-14 upset.

He led seven of the Purples' 10 games in rushing, in 1958, with the 110 yards against Arkansas his best single effort. Against the Hogs was included a nifty 39-yard blast up the middle to set up the winning TD.

Spikes' 1958 performance placed him tenth among all-time TCU individual rushing leaders. Also, the big fellow has come into his own as a cornerback on the defense.

Jack was married in the summer of 1958 to his high school sweetheart, Jane DeWald.

"One usually thinks a fullback is [illegible] yards," Spikes says. "But I like more than that." He usually does, too.

Gene Fullmer Is Rated As 'Contender'

NEW YORK (AP)—Sugar Ray Robinson and Gene Fullmer were ranked as co-holders of the No. 1 challenger's position to Champion Paul Pender in the latest middleweight ratings of Ring Magazine which also demoted ex-champion Floyd Patterson to No. 2 contender in the heavyweight class.

Ring recognized Pender as the new champion for his victory over Robinson in Boston and also honored the Brookline, Mass., boxer as "Fighter of the Month" for January.

For the first time since it paired Zora Folley and Eddie Machen as top contenders for the heavyweight crown two years ago, the magazine came up with a tie between challengers Robinson, the 39-year-old ex-champ, and Fullmer, the National Boxing Assn. champion from West Jordan, Utah, were given equal billing.

Patterson, still waiting for a return shot at Ingemar Johansson for the world heavy crown, was spotted No. 2 behind Zora Folley who defeated Eddie Machen recently.

Henry Hank of Detroit moved into the No. 4 position in the middleweight class by stopping Jesse Bowdry.

Benny Paret of Cuba took over the No. 4 spot in the welter class on the strength of his second victory over Charlie Scott.

Jarrin' Jack One Of Many TCU Greats

When Snyder's Jack Spikes was named to the All-American team not many weeks ago, he joined a most elite array of former TCU All-Americans who date all the way back to 1927.

The two Frogs receiving the most acclaim to date were both quarterbacks, as Sammy Baugh was [illegible] with Davey O'Brien following in his footsteps in 1938. Baugh, who has included ranching as a sideline during past years, recently took the job as head coach of the New York Titans of the brand new American Football League. Prior to that time he had been head mentor at Hardin-Simmons University for several years.

A repeater—Donald Floyd—also landed an All-America slot on this past season's mythical dream team as the big tackle also was placed on the team following the 1958 season.

Other Frog All-Americans follow: Raymond (Rags) Mathews, end (1927); Johnny Vaught, guard (1932); Darrell Lester, center (1934); Ki Aldrich, tackle, and I. B. Hale, tackle (1938); Derrell Palmer, tackle (1942); Clyde Flowers, tackle (1944); Lindy Berry, quarterback (1949); Keith Flowers, center, Doug Conaway, tackle, and Ray McKown, quarterback (1951); Jim Swink, halfback and Hugh Pitts, center (1955); and Norman Hamilton, tackle (1956).

Big Spring Nips Lincoln In Twin Bill

BIG SPRING— Lincoln High's Trojans and Trojanettes absorbed a double loss here last night, with the boys going under by 65-58 and the girls losing out by a 33-17 score.

The Trojans held an early commanding lead, but fell victim to big second and third quarters by Big Spring in taking the loss. Lincoln led by 13-9 at the end of the first stanza, but trailed by 29-31 and 37-44 following the next two cantos.

Randolph Williams topped the Trojan scoring effort with 19 points. He was followed by John Choyce with 15, Joe Phillips with 14, Beauford Thompson (5), and Charlie Archie (2).

Big Spring's Johnny Wright was high for the night with 20 points, followed by teammates Eddie Wright and Louis Brown with 16 and 15, respectively.

Louise Archie paced the Trojanette scoring effort in the girls contest, racking up 8 points.

Other Lincoln scoring was turned in by Emma Garrett (4), Louline Brooks and Mary Goosby (2 each), and Pearlie Scott (1).

Big Spring's Betty Scaggs topped all point makers with 14.

This coming Saturday finds the Trojans making the trek to Sudan for the district tournament, where they will meet Brownfield in their first game.

The girls will have their district meet there the Saturday following.

Surging Tigers Clip Wolves, 48-45

Skyrocket Into Tie For Second

By JERRY JACKSON

COLORADO CITY—In a see-saw District 3-AAA cage battle played here last night, Snyder's comeback Tigers slipped past the Colorado City Wolves, 48-45, and in the process bolted themselves into a three-way tie for second place in the district standings.

It was the second straight district victory for the Bengals and the third loss in a row for the faltering Wolves. Lamesa won handily over Sweetwater last night to clinch at least a tie for the play-off laurels, as that team now stands at 5-0 with three games left to play. Deadlocked for second are Snyder, Sweetwater, and Colorado City, each of whom possess 2-3 records. The remaining members of the district—Lake View— enjoyed an off-night last night, eyeing the whole business from the district dungeon, as they stand 1-3.

The Tiger victory was especially sweet, as it marks the second time in as many outings that the local quint has managed to stage a spine-tingling, come-from-behind win, and also avenges an earlier 62-66 defeat at the hands of the Wolves.

Both teams bounced back from a dull, lethargic first quarter in which neither was able to locate the basket, and went from there to stage an abrupt and welcome about-face in a second stanza which saw the Tigers making good on 6 of their attempted 11 field goal tries, and the Wolves hitting on 6 of 12 lofted.

Neither was able to muster up anywhere near that admirable percentage in any of the other cantos, with the final tabulations showing Snyder to have hit 17 of 45 (38 per cent), while Colorado City could do no better than 15 of 57 (26 per cent).

The contest was a see-saw affair all the way, with no more than 5 points separating either team at any stage of the game. The count was 10-all at the end of the first stanza, with the Tigers following up to take a squeaky 25-24 halftime advantage, and then fall behind by 34-37 as the buzzer sounded ending the third quarter. As still another measure of the closeness of the contest, the score was tied on 10 different occasions, with the lead changing hands 9 times.

The Tigers' two top district scorers showed the way once again for the local five, as Charlie Gladson and Mike Moffett each chipped in 13 points apiece.

However, the leading point producer for the game was the hard-to-stop Jerry Haley of C-City, who walked off with 26 points and undisputed scoring honors for the night. Haley, far and away the district's top scorer with 131 points in 5 games, dropped in 7 field goals and packaged 12 of 13 gratis tosses in running up his point total, those 26 points representing no more than his per-game average for the family frays engaged in thus far.

Jon Moore, a 6-2 junior, also hit in double figures for the Wolf cause, as he made good on 6 field goals for a total of 12 points.

As mentioned, the game started out with a thud, as Snyder took only 7 pot-shots from the field, sinking two of same, while Colorado City floundered with a successful 3 of 21. Soph speedster Steve Free drove in close and sank a jump shot with 30 seconds left in the initial canto to bring about the 10-10 deadlock as that quarter ended.

Moffett brought the Tigers out of the 10-12 deadlock in short order as the second quarter got underway, as he took a bounce pass from Free and banked in a two-pointer to knot the count at 12-all. Then he followed by pushing in a one-hander from 30 feet out and sank a drive-in jump shot from close in to put the Tigers out front by 16-12 with 5:50 left in the half.

Snyder left the court in possession of a scant 25-24 lead at halftime.

Moffett once again got the Tigers off on the right foot as the second half began, as he meshed a jump shot from 20 feet after only 8 seconds of playing time had elapsed, thus putting them into a 27-24 lead. The advantage was swapped on three occasions through the remainder of the quarter, with Snyder finding itself holding the bag and being on the short end of a 32-37 score as time was running out in the stanza.

But a welcome relief in the form of senior Lynn Herndon took over at that point and placed the Bengal boys back on the comeback trial with a close-in bank shot to cap off third quarter activities, and then followed it up with a 10-foot jump-bank with 7:21 left in the game to up the count to 36-37 and put the Snyderites in contention once again.

Free knotted the score at 40-40 on a drive-in layup with 3:12 left, after which Gladson hit a jump shot to put the local crew into a 42-40 "permanent-type" lead as only two minutes were left showing on the clock.

Following a free throw by Herndon, Gladson canned another jump shot at 1:44, Jimmy Don Robinson made good on a free throw, and Moffett found himself all alone under the basket and banked in the final Tiger goal of the night with 0:56 remaining.

Snyder's "B" team didn't fare quite so well as their big brothers, as they lost out by the identical 48-45 score by which the Tigers won in the varsity fest.

It developed into a frustrating evening for the young Tigers, who blew a big 24-14 halftime lead in dropping the contest.

Performing the most telling damage in that game for the Wolves were Larry Moser and John Johnson, each of whom had 16 points, while teammate Ronald Lyons contributed 12.

The only Tiger managing to hit in twin figures was Eddie Phy, who had 12.

Between You And Me

By Jerry Jackson

Few personalities have made as big a "splash" at the tender age of 27 as has one Lamar Hunt, the outright owner of the brand spanking new Dallas Texans of the equally brand spanking new American Football League.

Hunt will be one of the visiting dignitaries here this coming Saturday as the city of Snyder turns out to pay tribute to its first all-American football player— Jack Spikes.

Hunt's early skirmishes in the professional football wars haven't been confined to his Dallas Texan franchise exclusively. In fact, the greater amount of notoriety which he has received has been in the area of the American Football League itself, as he is considered to be the instigater and brainchild behind the inception of same. Many rivals, sympathizers, and just interested bodies of on-lookers have branded the attempt at the formation of a competitive league in pro football as dangerous, foolhardy, brazen, inconceivable, and even out and out ridiculous.

All of this criticism, name-calling, and threatened back-stabbing have slithered off young Hunt much as would water poured on a mallard's back. He refuses to back down before the ivy-covered, firmly-entrenched National Football League, which has heretofore been basking in a profitable monopolistic sun which it hoped would have no setting.

You see, Mr. Hunt strongly believes that he has a good thing going, but what is possibly even more important is that he has fifty million some-odd dollars which share the same thought. And he has intimated that if his brave venture fails and the new league folds, that it will be "over my dead bank account." Hunt watches his expenditures, however, and knows where it all goes seemingly. The story is told of his sloshing to lunch a while back in a cold, wet drizzle, decked out in a summer suit. His explanation? "I've been on a diet. My winter suits don't fit me any more."

Which is a good selling point, it would seem. For if money actually talks, then Hunt possesses one gosh-awfully garrulous gimmick to back up his vision of AFL grandeur.

NFL Gnashes Teeth

FANATICAL DIEHARD RUMBLINGS have come out of the NFL camp since the inception of the upstart loop. Clenched fists have been waved at Hunt and all of his "renegade cohorts", and recently a bit of action was taken during the infamous Battle of Miami Beach which the NFL biggies hope would develop into somewhat of a stopgap measure against Fearless Hunt and the entire AFL.

What the whole thing amounted to was that the Old Established League moved into territory which supposedly belonged to New Upstart League, namely Dallas—or, as it is sometimes affectionately referred to — "Big D".

As expected, retaliation was forth-coming in short order. Threats of lawsuits and congressional action erupted from the AFL camp, which charged that the rival league had no interest in the area until the Texan franchise came to be recognized, and that the new loop had acted on that assumption in its granting of the initial franchise. There were shudderings of fear on the part of those who can only too well remember a previous ill-fated Dallas pro grid team which never got out of its first season, losing its jersey in a matter of months.

Fearless Foss Never At Loss

JOE FOSS, the fearless and outspoken czar of New Upstart, branded the NFL's action as something short of a "kiss of love", and hinted that he might speak to Senator Kefauver about it if the NFL didn't hurry up and renege on their recently-granted Dallas franchise. It is reminiscent of the TV Westerns in which the gunslinger wearing the black hat "moves into the territory" of the downtrodden but struggling white-hatted feller with malice on the mind.

Needless to say, the NFL is planning to stick around and "shoot it out" if necessary. They argue that what's good for the goose is passable for the gander, and point to the fact that New Upstart clubs blossomed forth in Old Established cities—namely New York and Los Angeles—and that the AFL should thus have no cause for undue complaint.

Foss reacts to that charge with the opinion that New York and Los Angeles, with their human jungles of teeming millions, are able to support two pro teams whereas Greater Dallas with its paltry million will not be able to do so. Which may unfortunately prove to be true.

Ah, well, be that as it may, a certain given amount of "hand-writing on the wall" is offered in this past week's Sports Illustrated, which sums up the situation thusly: "How long the American Football League will last depends on the strength of the coaching and managerial organizations, the tenacity and financial staying power of the owners, and on how soon the AFL can bring its football up to an even rating with the NFL."

Probably the most "tenacious owner" of them all will be seen here in Snyder Saturday when Lamar Hunt drops into Scurry County. And as far as "bringing its football up to an even rating with the NFL", Hunt's Texans shouldn't be hurting to too great a degree. After all, he has managed to sign up a certain All-American named Jack Spikes, which should brighten the horizon somewhat.

Rambo Is Replaced By Bill Phillips

FORT WORTH (AP) — Texas Christian's Horned Frogs plan to throw the ball more next season and their first workout in spring training Tuesday indicated it.

Seventy-four candidates reported and Coach Abe Martin had his three quarterbacks, Don George, Guy Gibbs and sophomore Ben Nix moving immediately into the passing game. Gibbs is the 1959 sophomore who was ineligible.

Bill Phillips, 200-pound sophomore from Snyder, moved into the left guard spot replacing Roy Lee Rambo, two-year letterman who was found scholastically ineligible last week.

Brynner, Film Firms Face Suit

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—Actor Anthony Quinn has sued actor Yul Brymer and two film corporations for $1,150,000.

In a complaint filed Tuesday, Quinn alleged breach of an oral agreement. He said he and Brynner were to buy a literary property, "The Magnificent Seven," for a movie. Instead, Quinn claims, Brynner bought the literary rights through Alciona International Corp.

Quinn sued Brynner and Alciona for $500,000 each. He asked $150,000 from United Artists Corp. for loss of his services as an actor in the proposed production.

Costello's Daughter Is Seeking Divorce

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The oldest daughter of the late comedian Lou Costello is seeking divorce.

Patricia Mobley, 23, accused her husband James, 25, of extreme cruelty in a divorce petition Tuesday. She asked $85 a month for each of their three children and $1 a year for her own support. They were married Oct. 25, 1953, and separated last June 15.

Walt Proud But Mum On Flag Hopes

By WALTER ALSTON

OXFORD, Ohio (AP)—Spirit as much as batting power, pitching strength and fielding finesse helped us win the pennant in 1959. I am not predicting any pennants this year but I am looking for the same kind of spirit.

It was tremendous.

I've never had a club which fought back as often as this one did.

We had a very good team last year but it had its weaknesses. There was a lack of hitting power and there was also erratic pitching. However, we were fortunate in coming through with timely singles to score big runs at the right time.

A sound Duke Snider and Carl Furillo could correct some of the power problem. Don Demeter and Chuck Essegian showed signs of becoming good power hitters. I also believe that Johnny Roseboro has not reached his hitting potential.

Our pitching staff should be stronger with added experience for Don Drysdale, Sandy Koufax, Stan Williams, Larry Sherry and Danny McDevitt.

If we have a pitching problem, it may be in finding the strong man in the bullpen.

I look for a comeback by Johnny Klippstein whose ailing back seemed to have corrected itself late in the season. I'm hopeful we can establish five starters before the season gets under way and, with Johnny Podres and Roger Craig in addition to those I mentioned, we should be able to do it.

We have no infield worries. Gil Hodges, Charley Neal, Maury Wills and Junior Gilliam offer first-rate defense and a better-than-average punch.

Bobby Lillis, a shortstop, will be back for another chance. Don Zimmer may break into the lineup somewhere.

There will be plenty of competition for outfield spots. We are taking a dozen outfielders south. Besides Snider and Furillo, we'll have Wally Moon, who did a great job last year, Demeter, Essegian, Rip Repulski, Sandy Amoros, Norm Larker, and kids like Ron Fairly, Tommy Davis, Al Morris, Earl Robinson, Don Miles and Frank Howard.

Once again, it looks like the Giants and Dodgers will be the teams to beat in 1960.

Next—Bob Elliott, Kansas City.

New Baby Is A Surprise

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Richard Lewises' fourth child was a complete surprise—even to Mrs. Lewis, 32.

Her husband, Capt. Richard Lewis of the Los Angeles fire department said Monday: "We were just sitting around the house Sunday when Ellen said, 'I feel like I'm going to have a baby.' I thought she was kidding so I just grinned and said, 'That's fine—go ahead.'

"'I'm not fooling,' she told me. And by golly, she wasn't!"

Lewis teaches birth procedures to fire department emergency crews, but "Things got kind of fuzzy at one point and I couldn't remember all the details. But finally the baby was born — 7 pounds, 6½ ounces."

Mrs. Lewis said she thought nothing of her only indication of pregnancy—the need to change from a size 14 dress to a 15.

Slayings Are Blamed On Gossip Fears

By DON REEDER

HARTFORD CITY, Ind. (AP)— School Principal Leonard O. Redden, outwardly a placid man, is dead—driven by inner anguish to kill two women teachers and then himself.

Redden kept his private fears hidden behind a quiet smile until Tuesday. Then, before their fifth-grade pupils, he killed Harriet Robson, 52, and Minnie McFerren, 62. Finally, in the woods where he used to hunt, he fired his shotgun into his own chest.

Why?

His wife, Hazel, a school teacher and mother of their two children, thought she knew.

"He was just plain off his head," she said sorrowfully. "He thought he was the victim of gossip." The gossip linked him with Miss Robson—butl his wife said, it was al. in his own mind.

The 44-year-old educator had been principal of Hartford City's three grade schools for nearly nine years. A decorated combat veteran of World War II, twice wounded, he also was superintendent of the First Christian Church Sunday School.

Even after the shooting, teachers and friends of the principal in this neat little northern Indiana town couldn't conceive of Leonard Redden's doing such a monstrous thing.

A few recalled he had been irritable lately and quick to take offense. But he remained outwardly calm in chance meetings and had the same gentle smile.

They didn't know Redden had been growing increasingly depressed since last spring. He was convinced Miss Robson herself was spreading rumors linking them romantically.

"Of course there was nothing to this idea," said the principal's wife. "But he couldn't throw it off. He chose to believe it, and he couldn't be convinced it wasn't true."

Finally Redden agreed Monday to consult a psychiatrist in nearby Muncie. An appointment was made for Tuesday afternoon.

Still worried, Mrs. Redden hid every shotgun shell in the house. Then she sat up all Monday night, watching her husband in his fitful sleep.

"He was desperate," she explained. "He thought he had passed the point of usefulness."

Tuesday morning Redden arose and watched his wife drive off to consult the family doctor. Then he bought some more shells for his 12 guage shotgun, tidied up his desk and drove to the school.

Rapidly he strode into the first-floor classroom of Miss Robson. The 21 children stared at the shotgun.

"They aren't going to hang me," the principal shouted.

He fired a single shot, killing Miss Robson with a blast in the chest.

"All the kids thought it was a joke until we saw the blood," said Richard Monroe, 11. "Miss Robson was very nice to us. She didn't give us much homework."

Some of the pupils screamed. Others were too shocked to make a sound.

Waving the frantic youngsters back into the classroom with his gun, Redden climbed a concrete ramp to the classroom of Mrs. Minnie McFerrn, 62.

"Don't shoot me," she pleaded.

Redden killed her with a shot in the face. Blood spattered over a piano and on textbooks lying on nearby desks.

A janitor ran up, saw the principal with the gun and threw a crowbar at him. It missed, and Redden made for the floor. En route he pointed the shutgun at a male teacher and another janitor, but he drove off without firing another shot.

Word of the killings spread quickly among the town's 7,250 residents.

Parents dragged children indoors as all schools were dismissed. Police mounted guard over teachers, at the school, at Redden's home, the doctor's office, road intersections—everywhere a crazed man with a loaded shotgun might take a notion to go.

About four hours later a farmer spotted the principal's car, mired down in a thicket seven miles southwest of town. Several schoolbooks lay in the rear seat, and a few report cards were still neatly attached to a clipboard.

Shortly before dusk, officers found Redden.

Redden, who had changed his conservative business suit for worn hunting clothes, lay as if asleep near a pile of felled trees. The shotgun was cradled in his arms, and three cigarette butts showed he had sat there for some time.

The end of Leonard O. Redden—a kindly and quiet man.

Sea Lamprey Battle Is Near Victory

OTTAWA (AP) — Canadian and U.S. scientists feel confident they are winning their battle against the sea lamprey that has been killing off the trout in Lake Superior.

For four years the scientists have been teaming up in a crash program to exterminate Lake Superior's lamprey colony and preserve the trout's last refuge in the five Great Lakes.

Using underwater electric shocks and a powerful spawning ground poison, they have killed millions of the ugly bloodsuckers and now appear to have the upper hand. Ontario, Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota are cooperating in the restocking of the lake with hatchery-reared trout yearlings, about 700,000 of them last year.

The scientists of the Great Lakes Fisheries Commision plan this year to use their techniques in Lakes Huron and Michigan, where huge trout colonies were wiped out several years ago. They will also try them out in Georgian Bay, where the lampreys have virtually finished the trout population.

The lamprey, a primitive, eel-like fish, has been in the St. Lawrence River and Lake Ontario for centuries. Measuring 1 to 2 feet, it kills by fastening itself to a fish by the pointed teeth lining its circular mouth.

The opening of the Welland Canal in 1829 enabled the fast-swimming killers to bypass Niagara Falls. Because they prefer cold water, it took them 100 years to migrate across warm, shallow Lake Erie.

They were first spotted in Lake Huron in 1932. Within 12 years they had reduced the lake's annual trout catch from six million pounds to virtually nothing. They moved into Lake Michigan and by 1953 had wiped out a commercial trout fishery which had yielded 5½ million pounds a year. They have cut Lake Superior's trout catch from 4,700,000 pounds in 1950 to 1,500,000 last year.

Nixon Preparing To Draft Farm Program For Campaign

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon is quietly getting ready to draft his own farm program for his expected campaign as the Republican presidential nominee.

President Eisenhower plans to send to Congress this week a wide-ranging program constructed on the recommendations of Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson.

While Nixon was consulted on broad policies, he had almost no hand in refining these proposals. However, he is certain to support them in line with his established policy of publicly backing all of the administration's suggestions to Congress.

Nixon is well aware that Democrats intend to make a major issue in the election campaign of crop surpluses, declining prices and dwindling farm income. Democrats who now blame all of these on Benson's policies suspect the new program will be considerably less than satisfactory to them.

Anticipating a battle in Congress, Nixon is preparing to draft some proposals of his own. He will air them in later speeches, possibly before the Republican convention platform committee goes into action.

To get a cross-section of agricultural opinion, Nixon has been conferring quietly with a number of leaders in this field.

If this is regarded in some quarters as an effort by Nixon to draw away from Benson as a possible political liability, Democrats made it clear they intend to have a great deal to say about any such move.

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn.), a candidate for his party's top nomination, said in an interview Democrats "aren't going to let Vice President Nixon wiggle out of any responsibility for the administration's farm program."

"Mr. Nixon has to take the responsibility for the Benson program and its failures," Humphrey said. "Mr. Benson has many faults but we can rely on his word that the vice president is one of the architects of the administration's bumbling, fumbling program."

Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo.), who is available for his party's presidential nomination, already has accused Nixon of "trying to avoid his proper responsibility for the farm depression we now face."

Symington said he hopes Eisenhower submits a complete program "so that we will know what he wants."

"I give you my word, as a member of the Agriculture Committee who has heard Benson testify for years, I still don't know what this administration wants," he said.

Boys Decide Not To Run Away

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Three boys, 12 years old, stopped a motorist near the Dallas Zoo Tuesday and said "Take us to the police station, we want to give up."

They had run away from school. Two had received bad report cards and were afraid to go home. The third decided he'd go with his pals.

When they got as far as the Zoo they were hungry. They managed to open a can of French fried potatoes but found a can of sausage was too tough for the knife they had. So they decided not to run away after all.

The 150 canals of Venice, Italy, are each about 15 feet wide.

Detroit Cold To Compact Autos

DETROIT (AP) — This city is giving a cold shoulder to the smaller compact cars introduced this year by the automotive industry's Big Three.

Mayor Louis Miriani has ordered police to hold up taxi licenses for such cars until he receives a report about their convenience as public transportation.

General Motors, maker of the Corvair; Ford, maker of the Falcon, and Chrysler, maker of the Valiant, declined comment.

Chamber Budget Increased For '60

A $21,576.91 budget for 1960 has been adopted for the Snyder Chamber of Commerce.

Directors of the organization adopted the budget at their regular session Tuesday.

The budget, which is slightly higher than that of 1959, will increase funds in several areas of chamber work.

The program budget this year totals $5,550, compared to $3,266 last year.

The new program budget will include the following: $850 for the agriculture department, $900 for civic affairs, $1,500 for industrial, $800 for membership and $1,500 for retail trade.

The chamber directors also approved plans for the organization to issue a printed newsletter each month. The first issue is scheduled for early March.

President Gene Dulaney was authorized to appoint a committee to study and recommend any desirable changes in by-laws to bring them up to date.

The board also mapped plans for an extensive program in membership relations which will be carried out during the year.

ONLY RAMBLERS GET DEEP-DIP RUSTPROOFING
Most cars are merely sprayed . . . Some cars get only "tip-toe" dip

Rambler body being submerged in special rustproofing primer paint at Milwaukee body plant.

Rambler Tops All But 2 U.S. Cars In Production Because

Rambler Quality Runs Deep

NEVER BEFORE has an automobile had so many imitators as Rambler in this year of the BIG TURN, when every major competitor has turned about-face to build a smaller automobile.

But the imitators fail to achieve deep-down Rambler quality that extends even into every hidden part of the car.

That's the reason why Rambler has soared into the Top 3 in production for 1959, in the face of this new competition.

In the picture above, the commentator is depicted "riding" a Rambler as it goes through the 15,000 gallon rustproofing tank which is 91 feet long.

Since rust usually starts inside fenders, doors, pillars and sills, which cannot be reached effectively by spraying, Rambler bodies are submerged to the roof in a special rustproofing primer paint to cover hidden surfaces.

As the diagrams at top show, most cars get only spraying—no dip at all.

The few competitive cars which have taken even a "half step" toward copying Rambler's rust-prevention process, dip only the bottom 18 inches.

Too often, imitators lose sight of the basic concept and stop halfway.

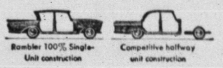
Another example—this year many of the American cars have simulated Rambler's aircraft-type Single-Unit* construction, because it is stronger, safer and lastingly free from body-bolt squeaks and rattles.

*Pioneered by American Motors

Rambler extends welded steel box-section girders forward, hood high to protect passengers and engine . . . add strength and rigidity.

Others Go Halfway in Unit Construction. Some cars copied Rambler only part way—ending the unit construction at the fire wall. Beyond this, a "stub frame" is bolted on, not welded, omitting Rambler's vital frontal protection and added strength.

SEE THE DIFFERENCE!



Rambler 100% Single-Unit construction
Competitive halfway unit construction

Others Go Halfway in Room and Comfort. Although the scaled-down cars claim six-passenger room, none matches Rambler's headroom, shoulder room, leg room, ease of entry and exit.

And Rambler has half again more luggage space than the average of the new foreign-size U. S. cars—more than double in one instance.

Others Go Halfway in Quality. Instead of big 15-inch tires like Rambler, its new imitators settle for small, foreign-size 13-inch wheels and tires. Small tires wear out faster, because they revolve nearly a million more times in an average year's driving.

Others Go Halfway in Model Choice. Most imitators offer only sedans. Rambler offers you 33 models, including 17 station wagons.

And there are scores more examples of Rambler's superiority, not only over the new economy cars, but over the large "low-priced cars"—examples ranging from individually adjustable front seats to bonded brake linings.

Because of Rambler's obvious superiorities . . . because it stands out with Basic Excellence . . . Rambler owners are the happiest and most satisfied owners of any American car at any price—according to all impartial surveys.

Visit your Rambler dealer today. Find out why millions are now saying: "My next car will be a Rambler."
