Reds Concede Win To Hungarian Rebels

PRIME TARGET—This Stalin monument in the Hungarian capital city of Budapest filled with high-ranking Soviet and Hungarian Communists during the Red ceremonies in 1955, was the prime target of demonstrators as thousands of Hungarians demanded the ouster of Russian troops from the country. Budapest Radio today has reported that the troops are leaving. (NEA Telephoto)

Soviet Troops And Tanks Retreating From Budapest

By RUSSELL JONES
United Press Staff Correspondent

VIENNA, (UP)—Hungary's beaten Communist regime conceded "full victory" today to the rebels, and dispatches from Budapest said Soviet tanks and troops were retreating from the ruined city.

Departure of the Russians left the city open for the triumphal entry of victorious revolutionary forces now demanding negotiations for a Democratic government with the frightened premier, Imre Nagy.

Nagy's party mouthpiece, Szabad Nep, said the revolution was a "full victory" for the Hungarian people.

And it rejected Soviet charges that "American imperialist circles" were behind the uprising. Such a charge is an "insult to our people," it said. The revolution was a "national uprising directed by the free will of the Hungarian people."

It's Big Victory

The big victory was the withdrawal of the Soviets—a withdrawal promised by Nagy Sunday night when the rebels swore they would march on Budapest with seven Hungarian divisions if he did not capitulate.

But other Communist broadcasts told of smaller victories—the end of the hated Soviet Red Star on army uniforms; the banning of the Russian greeting "comrade" by the Hungarian armed forces.

United Press Correspondent Anthony J. Cavendish reached Budapest today from Warsaw and met the long line of Soviet men and machines returning to their bases.

Freedom Won

The Communist government had announced earlier that many Soviet tank units had withdrawn from Budapest and it appeared the rebels had won a major victory in their fight for freedom.

Budapest Radio today announced that all Hungarian soldiers had been authorized to remove the Soviet star from their uniforms and to replace it with the ancient Kossuth shield of Hungary.

That order was too late—most of the soldiers already had done so.

Joint Appeal made

The announcement came in a joint appeal of the ministries of defense and interior which also urged police and soldiers to "obey all orders of the peoples army command backed by the newly formed government."

It was clear that if the Soviets have pulled out and are awaiting their return to Russia, then the one-in-a-million chance would have been pulled off — the topping of absolute Communist rule in a Soviet satellite.

Szabad Nep, the official Communist Party newspaper, declared today:

The Hungarian youth, with the withdrawal of Soviet troops and with the abolition of the Hungarian secret police, have gained full victory."

Situation Clouded

The situation was still clouded.

Britain reported to the United Nations only Sunday that two "very strong" Russian armored units had crossed the border from Romania and were heading toward Budapest. Similar reports were received here.

But whether these troops had turned back was not known. Some rebels feared a Communist trick. Leaders were wary.

But otherwise there was every indication of a victory by the anti-Communist forces.

At one point radio Budapest pleaded with the rebels to stop fighting.

"Please, please stop," the broadcast said. "You have won Your demands will be fulfilled. Just stop the killing."

The announcement followed word that the high command of the Hungarian army had started negotiations for an armistice with the rebels — negotiations that failed at first.

Receives Ultimatum

Nagy made his announcement of the Soviet plans to pull back from Budapest after receiving an ultimatum from the revolutionary government ordering him to do so "or we shall march on Budapest."

Budapest, shattered and ruined, more dead than alive, is believed to be the last stronghold of the Red government in Hungary. The rebels are in command in 10 key

Breakfast Tomorrow Is United Fund Kickoff

A breakfast at 7 a.m. tomorrow in the Senior High Cafeteria will kick off the 1956 Pampa - Lefors United Fund campaign.

Dan Eddy, Salvation Army campaign organizer, will be the principal speaker for the occasion which is expected to attract 250 to 300 United Fund workers and leaders who will, immediately following the breakfast, get work on soliciting funds for the campaign. The goal this year is $51,500.

Eight divisions have been set up to solicit funds for the campaign which is planned to be short and hard - hitting. Clinton ... tion is ... complet...

The Pampa - Lefors United Fund covers the town of Pampa and Lefors and the area normally served by them.

As to how much to give, United Fund leaders have suggested that contributors remember that there are seven agencies and they should decide how much they would give to each agency, add it up and give that amount to the drive. Or, they suggest, judge yourself by a rule of thumb, such as some cities use for the average working man or woman. These plans include, (1) give a full day's pay; (2) Give a dollar a month) (3) Give one hour's pay per month. (In any circumstance, they urge contributors to give enough to do their full share.

This was the main objection ... of the agencies worried about when they came into the combined drive. In other words, six agencies suffer when there is an objection to one of the seven. United Fund leaders' answers to this objection are: (1) pledge cards are provided to give you a chance to say how your money will be divided; (2) appreciation of the sacrifices made by each of the agencies for the benefit of the United Fund should prompt each contributor to support the fund in spite of a single objection; (3) the agencies you like want you to give the united way.

United Fund leaders feel that the fund helps avoid duplication of efforts of ... and expense in seven drives.

United Fund leaders point out that there are other drives in the community because the United Fund is a voluntary association and some agencies have elected to conduct their own campaigns. Only area - wide fund raising agencies with general welfare purposes are eligible to join the United Fund. Civic, church fraternal and small district groups are omitted.

Also, only organizations that have consistently run successful campaigns are included. New agencies come into the area each year but United Fund leaders feel that they must demonstrate the strength of their appeal by conducting successful drives on their own.

Certain activities of the member organizations are continued. Girl Scout cookie sales, Junior Red Cross, and street collections of the Salvation Army are examples of a few of these activities. Concessions such as these were made because they are generally a part of the normal work of the agencies and are performed by their own organizations.

Senior and intermediate Girl Scouts will be calling United Fund workers and leaders this evening and in the morning to remind them of the breakfast. The Girl Scouts will call between six and seven this evening, and in the morning at approximately 6:30 a.m.

Hotel Group Hears Report On Progress

The New Hotel Executive Committee met at noon today in the Palm Room at City Hall for a luncheon meeting.

A report was made by members of the executive committee on progress made in contacting prospective subscribers in the modern community owned hotel.

Additional names of prospective subscribers for stock in amounts of $1,000 or over were passed out to the members present at the meeting. It is the aim of the executive committee to contact all of the people in this bracket before the general sales campaign starts.

It was announced that W. J. Smith, legal council for the hotel group, was in Austin today checking on the permit to sell stock in the corporation. He was authorized by the committee at the meeting Friday to go to Austin to see if the process of obtaining the permit could be speeded up.

Fred Neslage, general sales manager, reported that the group managers for Women's Section, headed by Mrs. Rufe Jordan who is assisted by Mrs. Lynn Boyd, have been named.

The four group managers in Division D under Miss Jean Chisholm are: Mrs. George Cree Jr., Mrs. D. A. Finkelstein, Mrs. Dudley Steele and Mrs. J. B. McCrery.

Mrs. Ervin Pursley, Mrs. Kirk Duncan, Mrs. Paul Crouch and Mrs. Frank Smith and Mrs. Johnny Hines as co - managers, have been named group managers of Division E, headed by Mrs. Bob Curry.

In Division F which is managed by Mrs. H. H. Hicks, assisted by Mrs. Louie P. Clarke, the group managers are Mrs. Lillian Snow, Mrs. R. A. Hankhouse, Mrs. H. O. Darby and Mrs. G. H. Anderson.

Neslage announced that all division managers, group managers and those salesmen that have been signed up were to attend a special meeting of the general sales campaign force this afternoon at 5 o'clock in the campaign headquarters. The purpose of the meeting was to check progress up to date and to make plans for the completion of the sales force so that the general sales can begin as the permit to sell stock is obtained.

American Families Will Leave Suez

JERUSALEM, (UP) — Families of American officials will be evacuated from Israel, officials announced today.

At the same time, the Israeli cabinet went into emergency session to consider President Eisenhower's second appeal in two days on Mideast peace.

There have been no serious clashes along the Arab-Israel borders in weeks. But tension here mounted in the face of Israel's partial mobilization order Sunday.

U.S. Sends Two Notes

President Eisenhower suddenly dispatched two notes to the Israeli government urging Premier David Ben-Gurion to do nothing "which would endanger Mideast peace."

Today officials of the U.S. State Department's International Co-operation Agency (Point Four) announced that families of their personnel would be evacuated.

(In Cairo, the American embassy "urgently advised" all Americans who had no compelling reason to remain to leave Egypt.)

Feeling Is Electric

Israel's decision to mobilize its armed forces partially sent an electric feeling of tension throughout this area, and already some Israeli troops were taking up positions at the front.

President Eisenhower's first note did not arrive until Sunday night. His second appeal came at 8 a.m.

Ben - Gurian then called the cabinet into emergency session to consider the second appeal.

But the mobilization already was underway.

An Israeli army spokesman reported two Egyptian "murder squads" were captured near the Gaza Strip early today and that a third escaped after a clash with Israeli patrols.

An Army spokesman said it was assumed the Egyptians had suffered some casualties. He said usually there are four or five men in the Egyptian commando squads.

Israel announced it was taking the action because Iraq was pouring troops into the border region, because of the generally unsettled political atmosphere among the Arab states and because Egyptian fedayeen (Commandos) had returned to action against Israel.

Scientist Isolates Hormone

NEW YORK (UP)—A University of California scientist reported today the first isolation of growth hormone from human and from monkey pituitary glands.

The scientist, Dr. C. H. Li, director of UC's hormone research laboratory, told of this achievement at the annual scientific sessions of the American Cancer Society.

Li's work could be a major breakthrough to the eventual use of pituitary growth hormone in human disease. In the past, growth hormone from cattle has not been consistently effective in humans.

Li said the way monkey growth hormone is already being tested for possible activity in man at the National Cancer Institute. He said it may eventually be useful in many diseases, including dwarfism, cancer and other metabolic conditions.

Li said preliminary work suggests that monkey and human hormones are more or less similar. There is a "great disparity" between them and the cattle hormone.

Li said cattle pituitary glands are easier to obtain. There is little possibility that enough hormone could be obtained from monkeys for any widespread use in treating disease, he said.

Murder Charge Filed Against 11-Year-Old

SUTHERLIN, Ore. (UP)— Oregon authorities prepared today to file a first degree murder charge against 11-year-old David Siems, who shot and killed his mother because she threatened to spank him.

David also shot and critically wounded his 15-year-old sister, Sandra Anne. She was taken to Roseburg community hospital.

Victim of the fatal shooting was Mrs. Jean Nevada Siems, about 50, the mother of six children. The slaying took place Sunday in the living room of the Siems' home.

Douglas county district attorney Robert Stults said he will charge David with first degree murder. He will file the charge directly in juvenile court, if possible. Otherwise, he will file it in district court and have the boy remanded to juvenile court.

Apparently sulking, the boy went into the kitchen where he picked up a .35 caliber deer rifle and some shells. His sister saw him with the gun and called her mother.

Moments later, he picked up the rifle, aimed it at his mother and pulled the trigger. The bullet passed through his mother's body and lodged in the wall. She died instantly.

$100 Reward Is Offered By Sheriff

A reward of $100 is being offered for information leading to the arrest of the person or persons responsible for the vandalism which occurred on the Phillpott Brothers farm, located about 10 miles northeast of Pampa, on the night of Oct. 16, Sheriff Rufe Jordan announced this morning.

Jordan stated that the vandalism caused about $2,500 worth of damage in destruction of property and tires stolen from farm machinery.

On Oct. 18 and 19 several of the wheels and tires taken from the farm were recovered from the city lake at Recreation Park.

Jordan stated, "We feel that so much time was taken in removing the wheels from the farm machinery and the fact that the vehicle used by the person or persons responsible had to travel approximately seven miles on the highway before dumping the wheels in the lake, that someone saw the person or persons responsible."

If anyone has any information that would lead to the arrest of those responsible, Jordan stated, they are requested to contact him at the sheriff's office in the Court House. If the information leads to the arrest of those responsible for the vandalism and theft they will be paid the $100 reward, he concluded.

Arabs Rebel Against French

CAIRO (UP) — Arab quarters said today Sunday's North Africa-wide demonstrations and strikes against the French government had solidified the 100-million strong Arab world against France.

A general strike throughout the Arab nations, riots in which Arabs burned the French consulate in old Jerusalem, and other actions against France were called in protest against the arrest by France of five Algerian nationalist leaders.

Ike In Florida; Adlai Hits H-Bomb Test Ban Refusal

By UNITED ...

President Eisenhower took off on a one-day campaign for Florida and Virginia vot... after a "routine" delay ... during which he received ... minute word on the tense Middle East situation.

The President had ... "grave concern" over Israel's mobilization Sunday. His departure today was postponed from 7 to 7:40 a. m. Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said the delay had nothing to do with developments in the Middle East but said the President had received a telephone report from Secretary of State John Foster Dulles before leaving for the airport.

Adlai E. Stevenson meanwhile hit again at the President's refusal to order an H-bomb test ban and issued an economic blueprint for a 10-year, $10 billion social welfare plan which he said could be financed without a tax increase.

He Issues Memo

The social welfare program, fourth in the Democratic nominee's "New America" papers, was issued as Stevenson left Phoenix, Ariz., Sunday night. He made public a 3,000-word memorandum on the H-bomb issue shortly after he arrived in Boston for a one and one-half day wind-up campaign in Massachusetts.

Stevenson will make two nationwide radio and television appearances today—a coffee-hour speech directed at women at 9:30 a. m. ... bring the income of elderly persons up to 75 per cent of the national average from its present 55 per cent, and programs for increased health and education aids. The entire program, he said, can be financed from the taxes expectable on a predicted $100 to $200 billion increase in national production. It should not interfere, Stevenson said, with a reduction of taxes, which we would propose to begin with the lower income taxpayers.

The President will speak at airport rallies in Miami and Jacksonville, Fla., and Richmond, Va., returning to the White House in time for dinner. He began the campaign wind-up with a clean bill of health after a 24-hour check up in Walter Reed hospital.

Nixon Predicts GOP Win

Vice President Richard M. Nixon, campaigning in his native southern California, predicted the Republicans would win control of the House of Representatives in an Eisenhower victory sweep and have "an even chance" to win back the Senate as well.

Democratic vice president candidate Sen. Estes Kefauver swung hard at President Eisenhower and Nixon in a campaign tour across Ohio. He charged the President "has exchanged a place of honor in history for a secondary role in politics—the role of front man for Richard Nixon."

Stevenson's social welfare blueprint envisioned a program to

Plane Crash Reported Near Canadian

CANADIAN, Tex. (UP)—A two-place crop-dusting plane crashed in rugged country 23 miles west of Canadian late Sunday, and one of the men aboard, Charles P. Langsdon, 46, of Guymon, Okla., died before rescuers could get him to a hospital.

Sheriff's officers said the plane crashed about 5 p.m., but they could not reach the scene until about 9:30 p.m. because of the rough terrain. A rancher saw the crash from several miles off and called authorities.

Langsdon died in an ambulance on the way to a hospital. The pilot, Leo K. Hiller, 33, of Guymon, suffered broken ankles and ...

Polish Reds Purge Anti-Titoists

By KONRAD OSTERLOFF
United Press Staff Correspondent

WARSAW, Poland (UP) — Poland's new Communist regime was reported purging its ranks today of men who opposed the new leader, one-time Titoist Wladyslaw Gomulka.

The new leadership Sunday night announced it had freed Stefan Cardinal Wyszynski and restored him to his post as Catholic primate of Poland. The announcement came 25 months to the day after he had been stripped of his religious office and placed under confinement.

Cardinal Wyszynski met freely with his bishops today for the first time since his arrest.

The cardinal told a United Press correspondent he felt unable for the time being to grant newspaper interviews.

The Zicie Warsawy, Poland's second largest newspaper, sharply criticized the Soviet Union for treating Poland as a "second class cousin." It said Poland's foreign policy "can be different from that of the Soviet Union."

Informed sources said Gomulka, the new Communist party leader, had been carrying out the purge for almost a week and that nine first secretaries had been fired in district branches for suspected antipathy toward the Gomulka regime.

Author To Speak Before Club Here

One of the finest all-round, educated man in the United States and one of the greatest thinkers in the world today, Dr. Will Durant, famous as the author of "The Story of Philosophy" and many other works, will be the guest speaker at the next meeting of the Knife and Fork Club at High School Cafeteria on Saturday, Nov. 3, according to Dr. Joe Donaldson president of the Club.

Outstanding in terms of scholarship, Dr. Durant, by the brilliance of his writing and the utter clarity of thinking, along with a touch of subtle homor that creeps into everything he writes or says, has lifted scholarly writing out of the "dull as ditch water" class for the average man and has made events long past or perhaps forgotten live in the minds of millions.

The "Story of Philosophy" has sold close to 4,000,000 copies and the end is not yet. Published about 30 years ago, it promises to hold a lasting place in American literature. Yet, strangely enough, this famous book was a by-product of Will Durant's major interest and life plan. As far back as 1915, he had conceived the hope of completing a comprehensive history and from that time he began to gather material for such work.

Two more books are scheduled: "The Age of the Reformation" and "The Age of Reason." In connection with the former work, Dr. Durant again went abroad last summer to gather material for the book. He visited Italy, Switzerland, Germany and France, along with other countries.

Dr. Durant received his formal education in North Adams, Massachusetts and St. Peter's College in Jersey City, and at Columbia University.

Perhaps the best way to sum up Will Durant's importance in the field of letters and philosophy is to quote the late Maurice Masterlink, who stated that "his pen seems to clarify, to light up, to simplify everything that it touches."

Deadline for the purchase of dinner tickets is 1 p.m., Friday, Nov. 2, Dr. Donaldson said.

The sheriff has been following the trail of Mills for some time and learned that he was in Las Vegas. Upon learning this information he notified the police department there and they located Mills yesterday.

DO YOU HAVE DIFFICULTY going to sleep at night? It may be that you're too smart or — perish the thought — not smart enough. In 1841, Dr. Edward Binns, of the Society of Antiquaries of Scotland, made a lengthy exploration of the sleep problem. His conclusion — the higher a creature is on the evolutionary table of organization, the less sleep he needs.

TURTLES, newts, crocodiles, serpents and other lethargic creatures, Dr. Binns noted, spend most of their lives just hibernating. Human beings, he theorized, require less sleep than any other animal. And, he carefully concluded, the more highly organized the human, the less sleep he needs.

Many scientists down through the years have heartily seconded Binns' observations. Geniuses like Edison, Steinmetz, and Napoleon, they cite, seemed to get along quite well on very little sleep. So, when you lie awake in bed — fitfully tossing and turning, maybe you can find solace in the thought that perhaps you're too intelligent to sleep.

But before your ego inflates to balloon-like proportions, try watching the insignificant little goldfish for a while. You'll have to sit up awfully late to catch him napping . . . and he's pretty low on the evolutionary ladder.

Although scientists have discovered how to split the atom, they're still pretty music in the dark when it comes to the anatomy, physiology, and mechanics of sleep. They don't really know exactly what it is. One thing seems to be definite, though: genius, dolt, or average (like the bulk of us), some slumber is essential.

To utilize the hours you do spend in bed by actually sleeping instead of wasting time trying to, here are a few tips:

Habit is a good sleep producer, so accustom yourself to turning in at approximately the same time every night.

Make sure that your bed is comfortable. Whether you prefer a firm or soft surface, your mattress and bedspring should be level and resilient. Lumps, bumps, or "hills and valleys" make sleep elusive.

You'll relax more quickly if you're a little tired physically. Perhaps you need a little exercise, a short walk before bedtime.

Laboratory tests show that sleep is 10 per cent more profound during light digestive processes, so try a bedtime snack.

Relax mentally as well as physically. Leave your problems at your bedroom door as if youu are physically dropping them.

Christmas Party Held By Women Of Moose

The Women of the Moose held their annual "Christmas in October" party during a recent meeting in the Moose Hall.

Fear Florida Lynching

WILDWOOD, Fla. (UP) — A Negro who allegedly said "hello baby" to a white schoolteacher apparently was removed forcibly from a small unattended jail and was the object today of a widespread search in this central Florida farming section.

There were fears he had been lynched.

Sheriff M. H. Bowman promised to find out the fate of the Negro, Jesse Woods, a 29-year-old farmhand.

A trail of blood led from the little jail where Woods was staying at his own request. The door had been forced.

The Negro was arrested on the spot following his alleged remark to the white woman Saturday at a Wildwood grocery. He was later released but he returned to the jail and asked to be locked up for his own protection.

A search all day Sunday and Sunday night failed to turn up a trace of the missing Negro. It was resumed at daylight today.

Wildwood is a small community only six miles from the scene of the Groveland rape case of 1949. In that case a posse killed one Negro and three others were convicted of raping a white woman.

Ike In 'Excellent Health'

WASHINGTON (UP)—President Eisenhower's weekend medical checkup turned out as he and his doctors expected—with the Chief Executive giving "every appearance of being in excellent health."

The President spent part of Saturday and most of Sunday at Walter Reed Army Hospital undergoing a "head-to-toe" physical examination.

After checking everything from his teeth and eyes to his colon and the pulse rate in his feet, a group of eight doctors came up with the "excellent" verdict. It was delivered not long before Mr. Eisenhower began a strenuous final round of reelection campaign speeches.

Has No Doubts

Dr. Paul Dudley White, the Boston specialist who treated the President after his heart attack, said that in view of the results of the weekend tests he had no doubts about Mr. Eisenhower's ability to stand up under the rigors of the political campaign.

White said that the results of his part of the examinations, the cardiovascular portion of the tests, provided "excellent news" on the President's condition, particularly "after a period in which the President was very busy."

Mr. Eisenhower himself was feeling demonstrably well as he left the hospital. He walked down the steps of Walter Reed Sunday afternoon with Maj. Gen. Leonard D. Heaton, commanding officer of the army medical center, and Maj. Gen. Howard McC. Snyder, the White House physician.

Asked how he felt, the President said, "fine, fine."

Feels Fine Physically

"At least, I feel physically fine," he added. "Now, if they could just get those other worries off my head."

Both Sides See Victory In Texas

By UNITED PRESS

Both sides in the presidential campaign predicted victory in Texas today, as preparations were completed for President Eisenhower's whirlwind visit to his native state.

The President flies to Dallas' Love Field at noon Wednesday. He will be greeted by Gov. Allan Shivers, who will introduce Mr. Eisenhower at a campaign rally at the field.

The Southern Methodist University and Texas Christian University bands will play before the President's Dallas speech.

Claud Gilmer of Rock Springs, state chairman of the Texas Democrats for Eisenhower four years ago and an assistant director this year, predicted the President will again receive the state's 24 electoral votes.

But Democrats Differ

But Warren Woodson, executive director of the campaign for Democratic presidential nominee Adlai E. Stevenson, said the "trend now favors the Democrats." He foresaw Democratic majorities in both farm areas and big cities.

Besides Mr. Eisenhower, this week's out-of-state campaigners in Texas included Harold Stassen, disarmament adviser to the President, on the Republican side, and Sens. Albert Gore (D-Tenn.), Mike Monroney (D-Okla.) and Clinton P. Anderson (D-N. M.) for the Stevenson ticket.

Eisenhower-Nixon headquarters arranged for special motorcades and buses from such points as Houston, Laredo and the lower Rio Grande Valley to carry Eisenhower backers to Dallas Wednesday.

Stassen Speaks In Waco

Stassen speaks in Wichita Falls Monday night and in Waco Tuesday night.

The three Democratic senators will travel together from McAllen, in the Valley, to Wichita Falls, in North Texas, and thence to Tyler and Del Rio.

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon Johnson and House Speaker Sam Rayburn will accompany them to a number of Stevenson rallies.

Troops Await Orders

First word that Soviet troops were withdrawing their tanks and heavy artillery came from Szabad Nep, the organ of the Communist Party. It reported the troops will remain in their quarters until ordered back to the Soviet Union.

Budapest radio, which broadcast the Szabad Nep dispatch, said the paper appeared without its traditional red star on the front page. In its place was the Hungarian kossuth coat of arms — a double cross and the red, white and green Hungarian colors that have become the symbol of the freedom army.

There were mounting indications Nagy will have to give in further to the revolutionaries who may not be satisfied until the premier himself is gone. Nagy is a "Titoite" but he is a Communist.

The uprising at first was purely anti-Stalinist and was expected to follow the pattern set in Poland. But it quickly grew into an anti-Communist, anti-Soviet rebellion and some rebels have broadcast demands for a return of capitalism.

'Gumption Island'

What are time and space? Chronologically and lineally, we have some conception. But what is time, in a cosmic sense? What is space when the immensity of a universe of universes is considered.

Take this as a fundamental hypothesis in question form, and leap between the covers of Felix Morley's new book, "Gumption Island" (Caxton, $5.00). If the movie makers in Hollywood don't snatch up this opus they are missing a sure bet. The book has everything.

The setting is a small island in Chesapeake Bay not far from Baltimore. The year is not clearly defined but something close to 1960. There are about 200 people involved in the titanic plot, which unfolds as Wing Commander Vladimir Polyvanov of the Russian air force drops a "time explosion" bomb neatly on the isthmus that separates the island from the mainland, thus opening the long expected war between the U. S. and the U.S.S.R.

The "subcrystal magma" which lies more than three miles below the earth's crust is shattered and "Gumption Island" is isolated from its mainland both in space and time. The inhabitants of the island are thrown back somewhere in the Jurassic age and left to struggle for their survival as best they can.

There are forces at work which wish to set up a dictatorial government. Other forces wish a limited, representative government, regardless of the "emergency." Still others place emphasis on free enterprise and demand that control must be exercised by each man and woman over his own individual affairs.

The inhabitants are but poorly equipped to handle the astonishing series of circumstances which confront them. There is the friendly and resourceful Dr. Adler, a Jew who finances the struggling islanders. There is the highly esteemed Ken Bryson, a banker who turns villain. There is Father Brown, the Catholic priest, and big Bill Jefferson, a Negro of discernment and patience.

The country club estates of Gumption Island, bomb ravaged, become the proving ground for a whole series of free enterprise and government control ideas. Add to this a roving antediluvian plesiosaur, a high flying pterodactyl and a two-ton tyrannsaurus rex, mixed up with an approaching comet, a young volcano and the necessity for building a dike to keep out sea water, and you have a setting in which anything at all could happen.

Loves and hates surge across the small world of Gumption Islanders, who struggle to produce charcoal, grow vegetables, make lamps, print a newspaper, make explosives and remain civilized. The problem of money is solved when a new currency, backed by Dr. Adler's gold pieces, is given an arbitrary value based on anticipated production for the year. The unit of value is called a "Gumption" and in fitting manner, change for Gumptions are made in "Adlers," which prove to be the caps from Adler beer bottles.

To those who support the idea of a government of limited powers, containing itself by means of a written Constitution, this book will have great appeal. Even those who fancy they have heard all the theories propounded by science fiction, will find the book tantalizing and thought provoking.

The problems men face in the complexities of modern civilization are frequently better analyzed if only the analyst can find perspective so that he can attain true objectivity. Daniel Defoe attained some manner of perspective with his classic, "Robinson Crusoe." Wyss gave us a sequel in his very readable and slightly unbelievable "Swiss Family Robinson." Now move those books over on the shelf and make room for another island story in modern dress. In its own way, "Gumption Island" by Morley is a classic designed particularly for the political cauldron of mid-twentieth century living.

We'll preserve your pleasure and not tell you how the tale ends.

Problem For Storks

It always behooves every government to do what it can to increase its country's population. Every new citizen is a future taxpayer, and the more of them the merrier for the men in power. And if, instead of being a productive citizen the individual becomes a financial liability and a dependent upon the state, this too is useful to the men who snatch at every excuse to hold immense power.

Thus, for many years, there has been considerable wear and tear on individuals who were unfortunate enough to be born while on shipboard, traveling between nations. And persons born of, say, American parents in a foreign land, like Governor Christian Herter, frequently operate under a cloud by reason of the various claims laid to his income by the nations which involve themselves.

It all reverts to a matter of ownership. Which government owns which persons? It is all very confusing. Especially in America, where we ideologically support the notion that individuals own their government, even while paying tribute to the very government which confiscates our incomes.

The place where the confusion mounts to chaotic proportions is in the air. Because of the speed of airplane flight, there has been considerable litigation over the nationality of babes born while supported on wings in the endless ozone.

For example, if a baby is born aboard a British or a Belgian plane, regardless of where the plane is flying, it is presumed by Britain or Belgium that the child is a native of the respective countries. However, if the plane is flying over France at the time, the Paris government says the child is a Frenchman since French law declares that being in the air above France is just the same as being on the ground in France. Thus, if American parents are in a British plane flying over the Rhone valley when the stork catches up with the aircraft, the babe belongs to three countries and let the infant beware.

Even while the various governments vie with one another on who shall grab off the most, these same governments go along with their own rules which simply add to the confusion.

For instance, if it should happen that the baby is born in a French aircraft which is flying over Great Britain, the French insist that the child is British, but the British insist that the child is French. And who cares most except the baby's mama and papa?

All of which goes to show the intense rivalry that exists between sovereigns to lay claim to the infant's future tax earning ability, even though they sometimes respect rival claims.

As things stand it might be wise for the airlines to insist that no storks come aboard during flight.

BETTER JOBS

By R. C. HOILES

Local Socialism Usually Unrecognized

In reading one of the editorials written by one of the editors of Freedom Newspapers at Brownsville, Tex., opposing a bond issue to increase the local light plant, the editor made an observation that seems to me is of importance.

The paper opposed the expansion of the municipally -owned light company on the ground that it was socialism; that socialism was the way to impoverish the people of the community. He wrote:

"We believe there is no acceptable substitute for free enterprise, not even socialism when it is done right here at home!)"

How true that is. Many people who oppose socialism when it is done in Washington, seem to think it is not socialism if it is in operation in their own city or county. And socialism is not necessarily the ownership of means of production. It may be simply the control of the means of production. In the case of the light company or schools or libraries or city parking lots even rented to private concerns, the means is controlled by the representatives of the majority. It is strange how people think they are not socialists and indorse these kinds of local socialistic activities.

A man does not need to lie to everyone he comes in contact with to become a liar, or steal from everyone he meets in order to be a thief, just as a man does not need to advocate everything being under the control of the government in order to be a socialist. If he advocates any means of production, including schools or libraries or electricity, to be under Control of the local government he is a socialist, just as a man who lies occasionally is a liar.

If we can get people to oppose all forms of socialism in our cities and counties, we would have no trouble with socialism in state capitols or Washington. Socialism is a mentality that exists in the minds of men and it makes no difference whether it is on a small scale in a city or in the Federal Government.

Sees Effect Of Socialism

Dr. Ludwig von Mises haas probably a clearer view of the results that are bound to follow the growth of socialism than any other man that I have ever read. He sees that the consumer loses control of what is produced under socialism; that he becomes a pawn of the state. He contends it would be impossible to even keep a set of books if every country was operated under the socialistic system; that the reason they can keep a set of books is because some nations are partially on a competitive basis. He makes this observation in his book, "What's Behind the War on Business," as published in the Oct. 19 issue of "U. S. News & World Report:"

"There is no need to stress the point that the essential argument advanced in favor of capitalism and against socialism is not the fact that socialism must necessarily abolish all vestiges of freedom and convert all people into slaves of those in power. Socialism is unrealizable as an economic system because a socialist society would not have any possibility of resorting to economic calculation. This is why it cannot be considered as a system of society's economic organization. It is a means to disintegrate social cooperation and to bring about poverty and chaos."

On Change

On change, Dr. von Mises writes:

"In the universe there is never and nowhere stability and immobility. Change and transformation are essential features of life. Each state of affairs is transient; each age is an age of transition. In human life there is never calm and repose. Life is a process, not a perseverance in a status quo. Yet the human mind has always been deluded by the image of an unchangeable existence. The avowed aim of all utopian movements is to put an end to history and to establish a final and permanent calm.

"The psychological reasons for this tendency are obvious. Every change alters the external conditions of life and wellbeing and forces people to adjust themselves anew to the modification of their environments. It hurts vested interests and threatens traditional ways of production and consumption. It annoys all those who are intellectually inert and shrink from revising their modes of thinking. Conservatism is contrary to the very nature of human acting. But it has always been the cherished program of the many, of the inert who dully resist every attempt to improve their own conditions which the minority of the alert initiate."

Dr. von Mises points out that there is plenty of literature that is harmful but these authors must have freedom. Then he observes:

". . . Freedom must be granted to all, even to base people, lest the few who can use it for the benefit of mankind be hindered."

The summary of this great book, which the writer is ordering, ends with this statement:

"What alone can prevent the civilized nations of western Europe, America and Australia from being enslaved by the barbarism of Moscow is open and unrestricted support of laissez-faire capitalism."

As stated before, if anyone wants to help change the trend towards local and state and federal socialism, he can do no better than to inform himself and add one unit advocating freedom; than to read this article in the "U. S. News and World Report", or better still, buy the book and read it.

City Bosses Can Offset Democrats Grass Roots

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON — Despite the Democrats' superior grass - roots work and organization, the big city - state machine bosses still show an extraordinary dislike for Senator Estes Kefauver that may rob Adlai E. Stevenson of a huge batch of electoral votes, as Vice President Nixon may cut into President Eisenhower's total.

In numerous sections, the local and state officials have given the brush - off to the Democrats' failing to meet him on arrival or to turn out large street crowds and hall audiences. They blame him for these delinquencies because he rarely arrives at the appointed time or place. But their neglect of him has been too persistent to be accidental.

The generally unknown reasons for the feud are set forth in vivid detail in a biography of Kefauver for which he obviously provided the material. Entitled "The Kefauver Story," it is an extremely sympathetic treatment by two friendly Washington newspaper reporters. But the Senator and Stevenson now find it to be an embarrassing revelation of inside Democratic dissension.

Kefauver's sensational televised crime expose disrupted many Democratic city and state machines, but his disclosures of tieups between politicians and criminals did the most damage in Harriman's New York, Truman's Missouri and Stevenson's Illinois. They defeated former Senator Scott Lucas in Illinois, and contributed to Eisenhower's sweep of the three states.

When Kefauver sought the nomination in 1952, and defeated Truman in the New Hampshire primary, the book relates how the organizations ganged against him. They entered what he called "stalking horses" against him — former Senator Robert J. Bulkey in Ohio, Senator Robert S. Kerr of Oklahoma in Nebraska, Attorney General Edmund Brown in California, and two anti-Kefauver delegate slates in Wisconsin.

The most vicious anti-Kefauver counterattack, however, was staged in Illinois.

"The Chicago Democratic machine," continues this eulogy of Kefauver, "promptly began a frantic campaign to promote write - in votes for Governor Adlai Stevenson. This Lucas-sparked campaign against Kefauver was endowed by the Democratic National Committee to the tune of $40,000. The money was quietly dumped into Illinois to cut down the Kefauver vote.

"Such shenanigans in a primary contest are strictly against political rules. The function of the National Committee is to back Democratic candidates in general elections, not to attempt to control the primaries."

Although Kefauver does not say so specifically, he virtually accuses his 1956 running mate of engaging in "Political shenanigans" and a violation of political ethics.

"The under-table contribution," continues "The Kefauver Story," "was brought to light when a national Democratic officer, William Bradley, resigned in protest over finances. But the money went down a rathole, Illinois primary oKs seeuh.l tuwdverserfa mary results showed. Kefauver polled nearly a half million votes, against 50,000 write - in ballots for Stevenson."

The volume than quotes numerous editorials which charged that a few "backroom bosses" had manipulated the convention so as to defeat "the people's choice, Estes Kefauver."

When Stevenson finally won the nomination, the Senator's father, Cooke Kefauver, snorted, and the outburst was relayed to Stevenson:

"They can take the nomination and go to hell with it!"

President Eisenhower carried Tennessee by 2,437 votes, although it is normally a Democratic stronghold.

James F. Byrnes, former Governor of South Carolina, former U. S. Secretary of State, and former U. S. Supreme Court Justice, in a recent address before the Vermont Bar Association, reportedly criticized the use of National Guard troops to escort Negro children to newly integrated schools in Tennessee and Kentucky, saying:

"The National Guard, which is not called out to escort a willing worker through a picket line in a labor controversy, cannot be called out to escort Negro students through a picket line in a school controversy without leaving scars."

I heartily agree. Why should a labor union picket line be more sacrosanct than a school picket line? If it is the Government's duty to escort pupils through a comparatively peaceful parents' picket line, is it not also its duty to escort willing workers through a violent labor union picket line? These may be embarrassing questions in some quarters; but Gov. Brynes deserves the gratitude of all who believe in justice for having raised them.

Fest Here, Fest There Everywhere There Is Fest

By HENRY McLEMORE

HEIDELBERG, GERMANY — Further Jottings From a Rhineland Diary: The young 'uns of our military forces have had a tremendous impact on the German teenagers, especially in the way of clothes. You see blue jeans, ponytail hair-dos, saddle shoes and sweat shirts everywhere. . Naming all the good buys in Germany would take a page, but among the best are clocks, china, leather, knives, ski equipment, and binoculars — not to mention antique furniture (chests, sofas, etc.) but by the time you pay to get these big things across the ocean your bargain is gone.

The Germans are crazy about Fests of any sort. There is a Fest of one kind or another going on in some little town all the time. If it isn't a wine Fest it's a beer Fest, and if it isn't either of these, it's a celebration in honor of cheese, sausages, or cows. . .There is a tremendous to-do about this time when the cows are brought down from the high country to winter at home. They are brought down garlanded with ribbons — and the whole town goes out to meet the bossies. I don't recall our giving our Georgia cows such VIP treatment when I was a boy!

There's a big opportunity here for an enterprising cosmetic salesman. Not one out of ten German women bother to use make-up — just leave their faces unadorned. No one seems to know the exact reason for this, although some say it is a hang-over from the Hitler days. Was Adolf against lipstick, too?. . .I had always thought that Holland was the flower - growingest country in the world, but it can't compare with Germany. Every house, no matter how mean, has its window boxes and garden, and the streets are dotted with flower stalls. Oddly enough, the prices are high despite the abundance of blooms.

Remembering how disappointed I was not to see a single Siamese cat when I was in Siam, I was pleased to find that the Germans dote on their national pet — the dachshund. Everybody and his brother has either a dachshund or a German shepherd. . .The Germans are great movie - goers. There is always a queue in front of their theaters, no matter if the picture is a Grade C. number. Every German has a camera. Film is sold in automatic machines just as chewing gum is peddled at home. The film vending machines are in subways, on street cars, and outside shops.

Clothing is high and food is cheap. The average price of a good meal in a good restaurant runs between eighty cents and a dollar and a quarter, including a couple of glasses of wine or a mug or two of beer. . .Leather britches are another good buy, if you are the type that looks good in leather britches. . .If I had the time, money and know-how I'd open a chain of five - minute car wash places in Germany. There isn't a single one in the country, there are tens of thousands of cars, and the Germans can't tolerate a dirty car. And as most of the cars are small ones, they could be washed in half the time and with half the soap needed for the job at home. Seriously, someone could make a fortune.

Never ask a German the distance to a hotel, restaurant, store, or any place else. They'll walk you to death with their directions. They'll tell you it's a few hundred meters, and that you can walk it in a few minutes. The place always turns out to be just on the county line, a good ten miles away. They seem to feel that taxis, busses, and street cars are for sissies. They'd rather walk than eat, which is saying a lot, because they surely do tuck away the food!

Nearly all the German men I have talked to about the war said that they were with Rommel. The Desert Fox is the only general they want to be associated with. . .Speaking of the war, there is little mention of it here in any fashion. The Germans have either forgotten about it, or are determined to forget it — and if they keep building the way they are building now, there soon won't be a scar left. Not visible ones, anyway.

NEGRO CONGRESSMAN'S 'SWITCH' SHOWS WHY SOUTH SHOULD VOTE INDEPENDENT

(The News And Courier South Carolina)

Rep. Adam Clayton Powell Jr., Harlem's Democratic congressman, is a minister of the gospel, owns Cadillacs and Italian sports cars, and lives in flamboyant splendor in the midst of the poverty of his constituents and parishioners.

A luxury - loving demagogue, he is the 20th Century embodiment of the colored lawmakers of Reconstruction Days, who lived in plush, stogey-smoking indulgence while other residents of the South were all but starving to death.

The Rev. and Rep. Powell now has announced that he will jump party lines and support Eisenhower for President. Powell gives as his reason that Adlai Stevenson has "snubbed" Negroes on civil rights.

The stated reason is nonsense—calculated nonsense. Stevenson has asserted "unequivocally" that he favors enforcement of the Supreme Court decision for integrated public schools. In Chicago, Stevenson went much further in demanding so-called civil rights than did the Democratic Platform Committee. In a recent appearance in the Negro section of New York, where he was given an ovation, Stevenson promised the Harlem Moon to colored citizens. Far from snubbing the Negroes, he embraced them.

Rep. Powell seldom has failed to feather his own nest in his various transactions, and it is in this light that his decision to support Eisenhower should be examined.

For a politician of integrity to jump party lines, there must be an important matter of principle. But Powell scarcely can be considered in that category. He says the principle is civil rights. But everyone knows that the Democrats and Republicans are practically Tweedledum and Tweeedledee on that. If anything, the Democrats are more "liberal" on civil rights than the Republicans.

Then why did Powell make his announcement from the White House that he intends to support Eisenhower? We can't answer that positively, for we have no proof. So we will merely say that it would not dumbfound us, if President Eisenhower is re-elected, to find that the Harlem congressman receives a lucrative appointment which will allow him to invest in additional Cadillacs and foreign sports cars.

Rep. Powell is nobody's fool. Apparently, he thinks the Republicans are going to win the election. So does The News and Courier — at this writing. We shall vote independent. We have no use for the party which elected Adam Clayton Powell to Congress or for the party which Adam Clayton Powell will support for the presidency.

Powell's switch is further proof that South Carolina should vote for political independence.

The Doctor Says

By Edwin J. Jordan, M. D.

Mrs. O. has asked for a discussion of the different kinds of pneumonia, particularly that kind known as broncho - pneumonia.

It is impossible to do this briefly, so I shall confine these remarks to bronchopneumonia. The two other most common varieties of pnuemonia are lobar pnuemonia and virus pneumonia.

BRONCHOPENEUMONIA is not as clear-cut a disease as lobar pneumonia. Bronchopneumonia can be caused by any one of several germs. Irritating gases or other substances breathed in may also produce an inflamed condition of the bronchi and surrounding lung tissue. The dividing line between bronchitis (an infection of the breathing tubes(and bronchopneumonia (involvement of the lung tissue proper) is not sharp, and simple bronchitis can easily lead to pneumonia.

The smaller breathing passages leading to the lungs are called bronchi. As they pass down toward the lung tissue itself, they divide and become smaller and smaller. Germs can attack the lining of these tubes and cause inflammation. When the smaller bronchi become infected, the lung tissue surrounding them is also likely to be involved, and in such cases bronchopneumonia is said to be present.

COUGH, with or without the bringing up of sputum, is suually present in bronchopneumonia. A little fever, but not as high as lobar pneumonia, is the rule. Pain in the chest, on the other hand, which is usually present in the early stages of lobar pneumonia, is often lacking in bronchopneumonia.

Bronchopneumonia, when left untreated, does not end with a sudden disappearance of symptoms and drop in temperature as lobar pneumonia does. It may hang on for a long time without definite change. The treatment of bronchopneumonia was once extremely difficult.

NOW PENICILLIN and its relatives and the sulfa drugs have brought much help. Since several kinds of germs may cause bronchopneumonia, the drugs given may not always bring about the hoped for results.

Bronchopneumonia is still a dangerous disease. The damage done to the lung tissue cannot always be repaired, and even in those who recover, symptons may persist for many weeks. The maintenance of good general health and the avoidance of unnecessary exposure to infection are the only steps which can be taken to avoid the disease.

Save Tire $$ With Tire Care At Hall & Pinson

FOR A BETTER AUTOMOBILE RIDE — Leymond Hall, owner and operator, adjusts the Tru-O-Matic Tire Truing Machine, at Hall & Pinson Tire Co., 700 Foster, MO 4-3521. One adjustment and this machine makes a tire perfectly round, shapes the crown perfectly, all in only 5 minutes! Tire truing and wheel balancing is a specialty at Hall & Pinson. These processes give you a better ride, add mileage to your tire, cut auto repair bills because irregular spots on your tires cause vibration damage to the front end of your car. Have your tires checked today

Perfectly round tires wear longer, ride better, give more motoring pleasure.

That's why it is important to have your tires made perfectly round at Hall and Pinson Tire Co., "Seat Cover Headquarters," at 700 W. Foster, telephone MO 4-3521.

How often have you noticed vibration, shimmy or tire slap? Those slap-happy tires cause vibration, bounce, shimmy and make motorists tired.

Tire truing and wheel balancing the Hall and Pinson way is the team that saves for you.

1. With longer tire mileage by thousands of miles.

2. With lower car repair bills because this team eliminates front end damage due to excessive vibration and shimmy.

3. With less driving fatigue, because of easier driving.

4. With more driving pleasure and a smoother ride.

5. With more safety.

Making tires perfectly round by tire truing is another great step forward in the search fo a perfect automobile ride. No amount of wheel balancing can give a smooth, vibration - free ride if the wheels are out-of round.

Tire truing and wheel balancing by Hall and Pinson takes just a few minutes because Hall and Pinson uses two automatic, precision machines: the Tru-O-Matic Tire Truing Machine and the Alemite Electronic Wheel Blanacer, which shows you, the driver, when our wheels are balanced. You can watch the dial yourself?

Your tires must be perfectly round to give you a smooth, vibration - free ride. Eight out of ten tires that have been driven more than 2,000 miles are out-of-round, although the same tires were within .125th of an inch of roundness when they left the factory.

Your tires stretch as the molecules of rubber align themselves with the stresses of the tire, causing high spots and dished areas in the tread. These irregularities vary from 1-64th of an inch to 3-16ths of an inch on passenger car tires, to over ½ inch on truck tires.

Tire irregularities cause immediate, excessive tie wear around the high - spots, a condition that increases vibration. Tire - life and car-life are shortened abnormally. Driver fatigue is greate.

Drive into Hall and Pinson Tire Co. soon, have tire tires made perfectly round. It takes only about five minutes to have a tire trued — made perfectly round — at Hall and Pinson. Have all four tires and your spare tire trued in only about 25 minutes.

While your tires are being trued for smoother riding, look at Hall and Pinson's large stock of seat covers, covers that fit your car! This firm has the largest stock of seat covers in the Panhandle and one of the largest stocks in the State of Texas. That means that you can select your covers from ones that fit your car.

Look over the seat covers, all in the latest patterns. They are made to add more beauty than ever to your car, to prolong the life and good appearance of the automobile interior.

Have Leymond Hall, owner and operator of Hall and Pinson Tire Co., show you the new seat covers designed to fit the make and model of your automobile.

Hall insists on the right fit for your seat covers. "If the covers are not fitted right, motorists do not get all the wear built in by the manufacturer," he said.

He supervises the installation of all seat covers at Hall and Pinson to make sure the job is done correctly.

The stock of used tires at Hall and Pinson, all in very good condition, is one of the largest in the Panhandle and includes those hard - to - get sizes, especially all sizes for 16 inch rims.

With these tires you save half and even more on the cost of new tires. Much of the stock is made up of nw car tak-offs. A large protion is made up of exceptionally clean tires of all types. You get just about new tire wear for about half price!

Come in, talk over tire and seat cover problems with Leymond Hall, and discuss your other motoring problems with him. You will like his suggestions. Drive in at Hall and Pinson, 700 W. Foster, MO 4-3521.

Andrews Hits Income Tax

NEW YORK, Oct. 27 (UP)— T. Coleman Andrews, state's rights candidate for president and former chief tax collector for President Eisenhower, said Saturday night the income tax "is the worst thing that ever happened to our country," but "precipitate" repeal would be ill-advised.

He said a new system of taxation should be sought so the "vicious and lethal" income tax could be discarded. He called for a "thorough-going and open-minded new look" at the income tax to see whether it can be replaced.

Andrews made the statement in a speech over the American Broadcasting Co. network.

He said the state's rights party of political "independents" want to return the federal government to its constitutional position as a government of limited powers. He said the federal government has "recklessly overstepped all constitutional grounds."

He called the federal government "a sprawling, illegal monster that has invaded the rights of the 48 sovereign states, has curtailed individual liberties of the people, and has arrogantly assumed authority which even emperors never dared to exercise."

"Our people do not believe that either of the two old political parties, or their candidates, offer a way out of this preposterous state of affairs," he said. "On the contrary, the federal colossus reaches out constantly to grab more power."

Students Storm Embassy

BUENOS AIRES, Oct. 27 (UP) —Hundreds of Hungarian and Argentine students stormed the Soviet embassy Saturday night shouting anti-Communist slogans.

They broke every window in the embassy, set fire to an embassy car, smashed through a garage door and damaged three more cars.

A riot squad of 50 policemen broke up the mob, but they reformed into a column carrying banners and marched to the Soviet commercial office on busy Cordoba Avenue.

There, they overturned and set fire to another Soviet vehicle and broke into the office. They dragged books, furniture and records into the street and made a huge bonfire.

Argentine bystanders applauded and cheered.

At the same time, the Rev. Jose Pestey, former secretary to Josef Cardinal Mindszenty of Hungary, announced a legion of Hungarian-Argentine youths would be formed to go to Hungary to join the rebels.

The Hungarian residents center said it would start receiving applications Sunday.

BLUE MONDAY

If every balloteer doesn't vote Oklahoma number one in the nation tomorrow, they're either crazy or drunk with the heat. Even I'm convinced. Saturday while watching the Big Red roll over Notre Dame, I began to realize that this was a great ball club. As I sat I saw the holes opened by the OU linemen big enough to drive a trailer truck through. The backs, fleet as deer, zipped through the line and into the secondary before anyone could say Fightin' Irish. And it's true, they are the Fightin' Irish, but when you are up against a team such as the one Oklahoma throws at you, what's the use. They can beat you nine different ways. Poor Paul Hornung. He had two of his tosses intercepted and run back for touchdowns. I had thought Michigan State was the number one team in the country, but after their defeat by the Fightin' Illini of Illinois, there is no other choice. If you're a dreamer, I guess you could put Georgia Tech on top by virtue of their 40-0 win over Tulane. Not in this corner though, not for anything.

On top of everything, I lost a bet which may cause much laughter through town this week. It's like this. I bet Joel Combs, our managing editor, that Notre Dame would lose by less than 24 points. I knew the Irish couldn't win, and that they were going to get plastered, but I figured 24 points would be enough because surely, ND would score. As a side bet, Joel and I bet on ND scoring a touchdown. Well, yeah, due to circumstances not under my control, the Irish couldn't hit pay dirt. The bet was that if ND scored Joel would have to wear his Hardin Simmons senior varsity blanket around his person all week. If ND didn't score, I would have to wear an OU hat around for a week, only taking it off when I was in a restaurant or a house.

So, as I meander through Pampa this week with my big OU rat cap on don't laugh, because you too might have been a disbeliever.

SMU, Aggies Share SWC Lead; But Not For Long

By ED FITE
United Press Sports Writer

As usual, every week end is a crucial one in Southwest Conference football play. And, the one coming up this Saturday is no exception.

The schedule finds the two unbeaten leaders—Texas A&M and Southern Methodist — squaring away against a pair of two-time losers who can throw caution to the winds and probably stop at nothing in an effort to duplicate last season's upsets of these front runners.

It also finds Baylor and Texas Christian, sad but wiser after feeling the fury of the aroused Aggies, locking horns in a do-or-die contest that will see one of them dropping out of sight as far as title glory is concerned.

The only club without any conference pressures will be Rice, which gets a so-called breather against invading Utah at Houston.

The Texas Aggies, riding high, wide and rather handsome after consecutive conquests of what were supposed to be their most formidable rivals—TCU and Baylor, entertain an angry Arkansas Razorback team that will be fresh from a rousing upset of Mississippi and bent on at least matching the 1955 feat of tying the title-hungry Aggies.

SMU, with a victory over Rice in its only league start but still a potentially - dangerous question mark darkhorse, goes to Austin against a Texas team that just doesn't seem able to reach the 60-minute peak expected of it. It was a similar Texas team that started the 1955 Methodists on the road to ruin with a 19-18 upset.

If both the Aggies and Mustangs win it would set the stage for a titanic struggle in Dallas between the two the following Saturday.

Bruises Seen in Frogland

The game in Fort Worth between the bruised Bears and faltering Frogs could well be a carbon copy of the rock-'em - sock-'em Aggie-Baylor tilt of last Saturday night. Both clubs will be going all out to stay in the title picture and the two big lines will be crunching away at each other in fierce combat.

Neither line was able to stand up to the tests of last week when the Aggies ripped out a 19-13 verdict over Baylor and Miami outplayed the Frogs by a wide margin in scoring a 14-0 upset.

Rice forsook its supposedly strongest weapon—the pass— and did all its damage to Texas on the ground in a come-from-behind 28 - 7 defeat of the Longhorns, while it was almost the same story for Arkansas as the Razorbacks stormed for two touchdowns on the ground to upset Mississippi 14-0. SMU was idle last week.

Cards Finally Lose One; Lions Start To Roar

By EARL WRIGHT
United Press Sports Writer

The Detroit Lions are trying to become the first National Football League team to leap from last to first and don't bet too much they won't pull the trick.

Detroit, which finished last in the Western Division in 1955, cleared one of its stiffest hurdles Sunday and emerged as the pro circuit's only perfect record team by whipping the Rams at Los Angeles, 16-7. The victory kept the Lions (5-0) a game ahead of the Chicago Bears (4-1), who overpowered the San Francisco Forty-Niners, 38-21.

The Eastern race tightened as the New York Giants moved into a first-place tie with the Chicago Cardinals (both 4-1). The Giants defeated the Philadelphia Eagles, 20-3, while the Washington Redskins upset the Cardinals, 17-14. It was the Cardinals' first loss after sweeping four games.

Cleveland Hopes Fade

The Pittsburgh Steelers virtually ended Cleveland's faint hope of keeping the Eastern title by rallying to down the Browns, 24-16. Both the Browns and the Rams, defending Western champions, are in last place with 1-4 records with only seven games to play.

Lenny Moore, Baltimore's candidate for rookie-of-the-year honors, made touchdown runs of 72 and 79 yards to lead the Colts to a 28-21 triumph over the Green Bay Packers in the other game.

The defensive platoons played vital roles in three of the key contests.

Bobby Layne scored Detroit's touchdown and also booted the extra point and two field goals. But Yale Lary, a defensive back, was the lad who frustrated the Rams before 76,758 fans. He set up a field goal with a 38-yard punt return and one of his three pass interceptions led to the Lion touchdown.

Casares Scores Four TDs

Burly Rick Casares plunged for four Bears touchdowns at San Francisco, but it was little Perry Jeter who kept the Forty-Niner defense in trouble. He proved one of the most elusive ball-carriers ever seen in Kezar Stadium and set up two Bear touchdowns.

The Cardinals took a 14-0 lead at Chicago but the Redskins rallied on Sam Baker's field goal and Al Dorow's 34-yard scoring pass to Dick James. Doros followed with a 40-yard toss to end Steve Meilinger for the decisive touchdown.

New York's defense shackled Philadelphia's offense at Yankee Stadium. Charley Conerly threw a 20-yard touchdown pass to Frank Gifford and set up Alex Webster's scoring plunge and one of Ben Agajanian's two field goals.

The Browns took a 13-0 lead at Cleveland but Pittsburgh's defensive unit blocked a field goal try and intercepted two passes in the second quarter. Quarterback Ted Marchibroda took advantage of each Brownie error. He followed them with touchdown passes to Elbie Nickel and Lowell Perry and set up a scoring plunge by Lynn Chandnois.

Nats Start Hot; NBA Play Opens

By UNITED PRESS

It's still early and maybe it won't last, but the Syracuse Nationals are causing plenty of red faces among the majority of experts who picked them to wind up at the bottom of the Eastern League heap in the National Basketball Association.

The Nationals won their second straight game, beating the Rochester Royals, 91-74, Sunday night to grab the top rung in the Eastern Division. The Nats scored 12 straight points to break the game open in the second half. Dolph Schayes led the scorers with 20 points while Jack Twyman was high man for the Royals with 15.

George Yardley scored 27 points to lead Fort Wayne to a 94-88 victory over Minneapolis. The Lakers rallied in the second half to narrow Fort Wayne's lead to 83-80 but the Pistons reeled off seven straight points to clinch the victory. Clyde Lovellette led the Lakers with 19 points.

SW Champ Wrestles Tonight

Pampa fans will be treated to Southwest States Junior Heavyweight Champion tonight when Dizzy Davis takes the ring against Big Bob Orton.

The popular psychologist from Houston won the belt from Bob Geigel Thursday night in Amarillo as he pinned Bob twice after losing the first fall in a best of three falls match. Before Dizzy could win the title from Geigel, he had to beat up Bob Orton who accosted him before he entered the ring. Ray Clements, the referee, who tried to break up the fight, got his licks too as these two big fellows drew blood from each other.

To top a sensational night in Amarillo, Orton and two fans got into a hassle at the base of the ring and before anyone knew what happened, Big Bob was escorted to the county jail where he spent the night and was fined $50 for his troubles.

In the final event of the evening, as if the semi-final between Orton and Davis won't be enough to placate the hungry crowd, John Tollas goes against Hans Schnable. Tollas, a very tough customer will have his hands full when he goes against the veteran Schnable. The Milwaukee burgermeister, as he is called by some, was banished from the Amarillo area for 60 days after losing a match in which he was part of a tag team. Hans can be either pleasant or unpleasant as the case may be. It is understood, though, that these two big men have had a feud simmering for quite some time, and tomorrow night will be the night for these two men to explode.

As an opener, Tito Carreon, the Elvis Presley of wrestling faces Tommy Phelps. This should be a good match with two fast men in the ring, both of whom know the painful holds and both of whom can fight rough. Phelps, the sentimental favorite here for his masterful beating of Ricki Starr some weeks ago, has always been a crowd pleaser in the Pampa ring.

The matches will start at 8:15 p.m. and tickets can be secured through late this afternoon from the Modern Drug store on Kingsmill Street. Afterwards, they will be on sale at the Top o' Texas Sportsman's Club at the gate. Tickets are priced from $1.50 for ringside, $1.25 for reserved seats, 90 cents for general admission and 50 cents for children under 12.

Monday Facts From Fraley

By OSCAR FRALEY
United Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (UP)— Fearless Fraley's facts and figures:

The Milwaukee Braves' brass already has forgotten its disappointment over blowing the 1956 National League pennant and has new reason for feeling that they will take the 1957 flag.

Chief basis of their revived optimism is Juan Pizarro, who won 23 games for Jacksonville of the Sally League, struck out 37 batters and had a 1.77 earned run average. Sally League President Bill Terry claims he "can be as great as Warren Spahn."

Add a successful Pizarro to such as Spahn, Bob Buhl, Lou Burdette, Gene Conley, Bob Trowbridge and Taylor Phillips and the high hopes are understandable. But the Braves still need power, second base help and a right handed hitting outfielder. Which is why they're eyeing the Pirates' Frank Thomas.

What's In Name?

Federal Hill, which went to the post at Camden, N.J., Saturday in richest horse race in history, the $319,210 Garden State at a mile and one-sixteenth, is an aptly named Kentucky colt. "Federal Hill" is the name of the site where the shrine stands to "My Old Kentucky Home." They'll be able to build a flock of new ones if he wins this gallop.

Don Larsen's perfect no-hit game in the World Series did more than ruin the Dodgers. It ruined Sal Maglie's winter financially. "Old Sal" had a good one coming up with outside offers flocking in after his no-hitter and then his opening game win in the Series. Then he bumped into Larsen's big zero and it made him a forgotten man who blew $50,000 in lucrative post-season offers.

Bucknell's Scholarly Fullback

Don't buy that malarkey that all football players are dopes. Don Koppes, Bucknell's fine fullback, also is on the Student-Faculty Congress, president of the Men's Student Assembly, Varsity "B" Club and Phi Gamma Delta fraternity, vice president of ODK, honorary scholarship frat, and a lieutenant-colonel battalion commander in the ROTC. Wonder what he does in his spare time?

Archie Moore has served warning that he's going to be in the best shape of his career when he fights Floyd Patterson at Chicago Nov. 30 for the vacant heavyweight title. Archie, who scaled 188 for his losing effort against Rocky Marciano, already is down to 185 and aiming to be whipped fast.

Claude (Buddy) Young, the former Illinois and Baltimore Colt gridder, likes the game much better from the press box.

Six Unbeatens Remain; But Only Three May Stay

By TIM MORIARTY
United Press Sports Writer

Only Oklahoma, Georgia Tech and Wyoming appear immune to "upsetitis," college football's dread disease, which started out as a minor scare this season and now has developed into a full scale epidemic.

Michigan State, Southern California, Yale and Baylor fell victim to the gridiron malady during the past weekend, leaving only six perfect record teams among the major colleges and at least three of the survivors — Tennessee, Princeton and Iowa — are in imminent danger of extinction.

Iowa has the toughest row to hoe. The Hawkeyes run into Michigan next Saturday and then must play Minnesota, Ohio State and Notre Dame. Tennessee has a date with Georgia Tech, Nov. 10, while Princeton still must face Yale, Nov. 17, in a game that undoubtedly will decide the Ivy League championship.

Face Easy Schedules

Now look at the comparatively easy schedules facing the other three perfect record teams:

If Wyoming, which has won its first seven games this season, can get by Utah State (6-1) next Saturday, the Cowboys will be home free. They then will close out their season against Montana (1-5) and Brigham Young (0-5).

Oklahoma has an important Big Seven conference date with Colorado (5-1) next weekend, then rus into such "patsies" as Iowa State (2-4) and Oklahoma A&M (2-3-1). In addition to Tennessee, Georgia Tech plays out the string against Duke (3-3), Alabama (1-4), Florida (4-1) and George (2-3-1).

Sooners Win "Big"

In surrendering its No. 1 spot to Michigan State last week, Oklahoma realized it would have to win "big against Notre Dame to reclaim the top rung. The Sooners did just that by handing the Irish their first shutout in 50 games, 40-0, but then got an unexpected assist from Illinois, which knocked off Michigan State, 20-13, in the season's biggest upset.

John Brodie accounted for three touchdowns as Stanford continued its march to the Rose Bowl by upending Southern California, 27-19; Texas A&M knocked Baylor out of the perfect record ranks, 19-13, and Colgate surprised Yale, 14-6.

In other major reversals, Minnesota, led by quarterback Bobby Cox, turned back Michigan, 20-7; Miami (Fla.) blanked Texas Christian, 14-0, and Arkansas surprised Mississippi, 14-0, as quarterback Don Christian scored twice.

Tech Catches Tulane

Georgia Tech caught up with Tulane's "upset kids," 40-0; Johnny Major's three touchdown tosses helped Tennessee whip Maryland, 34-7; Wyoming rallied for a 27-13 victory over Kansas State; Iowa edged Purdue, 21-20, when the Boilermakers' Len Dawson missed his third conversion, and Princeton trampled Cornell, 32-21.

George Washington took over undisputed possession of first place in the Southern Conference by downing William & Mary, 16-14, but now runs into West Virginia, league champions for the last three years.

The other major conference leaders include Skyline, Wyoming (4-0); Atlantic Coast, Clemson (3-0); Southwest, Texas A&M (2-0) Pacific Coast, Stanford (3-0); Southeastern, Georgia Tech (4-0); Big Seven, Colorado (4-0); Rocky Mountain, Montana State (5-0); Border, Texas Western (3-0); Big Ten, Iowa (3-0); Ivy, Princeton and Yale (each 3-0).

Harvesters Work Hard For Monterey Game Friday

The Pampa Harvesters get down to hard work this week in preparation for their game Friday night with Monterey of Lubbock. Last week, the Harvesters worked lightly, with Coach Lockett and his staff making a couple of changes in the line.

The main move was the switching around of the tackles, Bill Kirbie and Don Jonas. Jonas, the starting right tackle all season, was moved to the left side while Kirbie, the southpaw side tackle all year was swapped over to the right side. Also moved was Glen Howell, formerly an end, and now first team offensive right tackle. He will spell Kirbie during Pampa offensive stints. In Howell's place on the flanks, Coach Lockett and his staff moved Dale Lake, who had formerly seen action mostly as a defensive halfback.

To add to the varsity, a standout Shocker all season, Bill Fraser, was given the promotion. He will be one of the boys who will be counted on heavily in the years to come.

Things have been looking up on the medical front too for the Harvesters. Jim Hopkins, out for many weeks with a leg injury, has been given the green light by his doctors and will be ready for action on the field this afternoon. Robert Warren, who separated his shoulder two weeks ago, should be getting into action later this week.

All in all, things look far more rosy on the Harvester hill than in the last few weeks. The spirit is there and if the boys can keep up the spirit and develop the proper frame of mind for the game on Friday, Monterey should be in for a stiff evening.

Abilene Still Heads Class AAAA Schoolboys

By UNITED PRESS

Dumas and Andrews go scalp-hunting again among the state's top 20 Class AAA teams in two of the feature contests of an 80-game AAAA—AAA schedule that sees only six games not of title distinction.

Dumas, which bumped off fourth-rated Levelland last week, entertains Phillips, which was tied for No. 2 until it was battled to a 13-13 standstill by Littlefield last week for the first blot on its record.

Andrews, which knocked off seventh - rated Kermit 20-6 Saturday night, takes on Pecos, one of the state's few perfect record teams and rated 18th by the United Press football coaches board.

Littlefield, ranked 13th along with undefeated-untied El Campo, also figures in what may be a toughie this week when it takes on high-scoring Hereford.

There are some possible stumbling blocks in the path of some of the Class AAAA top 10 teams, too. San Angelo (No. 3) runs into rugged Midland; Highland Park (No. 4) plays up-and-down Dallas Wilson which could be doubly tough if it happened to be "up," Houston Lamar (No. 7) tackles Houston San Jacinto, only a one-time loser.

Abilene, the No. 1 team in the AAAA ranks and winner of 30 straight games, sits on the sidelines this week, but Snyder, the AAA No. 1 outfit, plays sometimes rugged Sweetwater.

None of the other top 10 members in either circuit seem to be in any particular danger.

In Class AAA, two of that group's perfect record teams may bump into trouble. El Campo plays La Marque, and San Marcos meets San Antonio Edison, rated No. 11 prior to last week's upset-wave which may boost the Bears' stock upward into the top 10 batch.

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (UP)—Bill Yorzyk, a member of the U.S. Olympic swimming team, set a new American long course mark of 1:02.1 for the 100-meter butterfly in Yale University's 50-meter practice pool Sunday. Yorzyk, a pre-medical student from Springfield, Mass., missed the listed world mark of 1:02.0 held by Gyorgy Tumpek of Hungary and Takashi Ishimoto of Japan.

Civic Club Golf Honors Go To Hasse And Elder

Although the day was windy, and not what one would call an ideal golf day, 55 men representing the civic clubs of Pampa went out to the Pampa Country Club yesterday and had themselves one whale of a good time.

Five clubs fielded teams with the Kiwanis Club the new champions. For four years in a row, Rotary was the host club, due to the fact that they were champions. It seems that all of the teams want to win, but none after winning want to serve as champ because they have to act as host club the next year.

A switch in the handicap system at the last moment threw many of the better players off guard. It was originally slated to be the Calloway system, but at the last moment the Blind Bogey was substituted and boy, there were some bogies too.

Low Gross laurels went to Dr. Raymond W. Laycock, of the Kiwanis A.C. who shot a 78 to edge Warren Hasse of the Kiwanis A.C. and Dr. Foster Elder of the Kiwanis A.C. each of whom shot 81's for the second honors. Low Net, although there was an air of suspicion cast upon this man's fair name, went to Warren Hasse, who shot 81-13-68.

In the high departments, honors there went to Dr. Bob Sypert of the Jaycee A.C. who shot a &:3 to cop High Gross. High Net went to Harold Anderson of the Optimist A.C. who shot a 109-15-94. He barely edged Jim Wall of the Lons A.C. who shot a 108-15-93.

There will be other prizes awarded for various things that haven't been decided upon as yet by the people that decided these various things. One prize which will be awarded goes to Elmer Wilson of the Optimist A.C. who carded a ten on the 6th hole. That's almost a sure winner for the duffer's award. Dapper Dan and Sloppy Joe awards will be decided by a poll of the judges, most of whom spent yesterday in bed reading a good book.

The Kiwanis A.C. really turned out yesterday and fielded 12 entries. They probably imposed a fine on anyone who failed to show up which accounted for their good attendance. They averaged a 76 for the 18 holes which made them civic club champ. They had some pretty fair golfers too. No one carded above an 88, that is, after the handicap was set up by Hart Warren, country club pro, who gave his services to the clubs yesterday. Second was the Rotary A. C. with a 78 average. No one carded above an 80 for this team while Fred Neslage led them with an 89-13-76. Third place went to the Jaycee A.C. with an 80 average and they were led by Jim Harvey who carded an 86-15-71 to finish second behind Hasse for Low Net honors. Fourth spot, just out of the money went to ahe Optimist A.C. whose four venerables ended with 83 average. Holding up the teams from the bottom was Lions A.C., whose roar wasn't too loud as they ended up with an 84 average.

Below, the scores of the men whose scores reached the appropriate hands for them to reach here:

Warren Hasse 81-13-68
Jim Harvey 86-15-71
Dick Stouras 116-44-72
Les Hart 95-22-73
George Thompson 87-13-74
Fred Thompson 88-13-75
Dr. Raymond Laycock 78-3-75
Joe Donaldson 101-25-76
Fred Neslage 89-13-76
James Lewis 110-34-76
E. L. Layne 92-15-77
Jeff Bearden 83-6-77
Floyd Watson 90-13-77
Don Cain 116-39-77
Dr. Foster Elder 81-3-78
Elmer Wilson 98-20-78
DeLea Vicars 88-10-78
Dr. Jones 99-20-79
Bob Mack 90-10-80
Dallas Bowsher 83-3-80
Horton Russell 102-22-80
Ken Ritan 105-25-80
Ham Luna 89-8-81
George Whitten 111-30-81
Bob Banks 109-27-82
Solon Blundell 108-25-83
Dr. Bob Sypert 136-49-87
Malcolm Hinkle 122-34-88

Jim Wall 108-15-94
Harold Anderson 109-15-94

Fullmer May Wind Up As Choice Against Robinson

By OSCAR FRALEY
United Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (UP)—Young Gene Fullmer had a surprising amount of backing today as he headed toward his middleweight title bout with Ray Robinson and most of it apparently was based on the question of how far the dancing man from Harlem can go.

Fullmer is no worse than a 6-5 underdog at the moment as he preps for the championship event at Madison Square Garden on Dec. 12. There are those who feel that, when the bell rings, he'll be even money or better.

It's somewhat akin to prejudging a race between an aging thoroughbred and a young claiming plater.

Not that Fullmer hasn't got his share of class. But there's no debating the fact that he is, in essence, merely a tough club fighter with plenty of stamina and courage. He is of the Rocky Marciano school, a relentless windmill oblivious of the boxing sciences, but without the Rock's paralyzing punch.

Robinson's Comeback Strong

Robinson, throughout his comeback has lost only one bout. That was an early reversal at the hands of Tiger Jones. In the important bouts since then he hasn't been called upon to go 15 rounds. In winning the crown back from Bobo Olson he knocked out the amorous one in two heats and then, in the rematch, put Bobo away in five rounds.

But, if he has to go 15 rounds against the young slugger who never has been knocked out, the theory is that Sugar Ray's 36 years—11 more than Fullmer's—might spell the difference between victory and defeat.

You can find a parallel between this bout and the first Jersey Joe Walcott - Rocky Marciano go in which the Rock—and Father Time—finally caught up to 38-year-old Jersey Joe in the 13th round.

Walcott, despite his years, was making a magnificent battle against the 28-year-old Marciano until he simply ran out of gas. The aging boxer-puncher was winning clearly against the bull-like rushes of his frustrated but ever-charging younger opponent. Then the reflexes started to go, Walcott was a bit slow trying to block a punch and his wide margin vanished under the toll of the referee's arm.

History May Repeat

This possibly, could be the script of the Robinson-Fullmer battle.

For Robinson today certainly isn't the fast-stepping dynamiter of a few years back, even though you couldn't get confirmation of this from Olson. That blinding speed and tremendous endurance of the past is gone, yet the intangible thing called "class" remains and so does his terrific punch.

Yet if the timing and the reflexes slip away, as they did in Walcott's first bout with Marciano, then in the late rounds Robinson could be in very hot water.

That's the basis on which the Fullmer backers are betting. But whether the bout lasts that long is another question.

Accidents, Violence Claim 18 Lives

By UNITED PRESS

Accidents and violence claimed at least 18 lives in Texas over the weekend, a United Press survey showed today.

Traffic, as usual, was the biggest single killer, but lives were also lost in plane crashes, a fire, a drowning and what appeared to be an ax murder.

The murder victim, an unidentified man about 55, was found in an abandoned well near North Concho Lake. Investigators said said he had been struck with an ax or some other blunt instrument.

His body was wrapped in a tent and shoved into the well. Campers called officers, who were still trying to identify the man today.

Crop-Duster Crashes

Charles P. Langsdon, 46, of Guymon, Okla., was fatally injured late Sunday in a plane crash 23 miles west of Canadian, Tex., in the Panhandle. The pilot, Leo K. Hiller, 33, of Guymon was hospitalized. The two-place crop-dusting plane crashed in a canyon.

Two Army officers were killed in another plane crash Saturday. They were 1st Lt. Darrell Mills and 1st Lt. John Marschitz, both stationed at Fort Hood. Their plane crashed on the Fort Hood military reservation.

George B. Henry was burned to death when fire swept his home in San Antonio.

Car Kills Four-Year-Old

Michael Robinson, four-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Robinson, was killed when struck by an automobile in Corpus Christi Sunday. The driver, Mrs. Billie E. Seldiege, said the boy ran in front of her.

George D. Leeth Sr., 66, of Hamilton was fatally injured late Sunday in a headon collision 10 miles east of Clifton, Tex. Two other persons were critically hurt.

The body of Aliver Wilcox, 56, of Bryan was recovered from the Brazos River near Bryan Sunday. Officers said he was drowned while trying to swim to shore from an overturned fishing boat.

Crash Kills One, Hurts Four

Josephine Salazar, 18, of Elgin, died Saturday night in a traffic smashup nine miles south of Taylor. Four other persons in a pickup truck that smashed off a farm road were injured.

James Lee Townsend, 82, of Dallas died Sunday of injuries he received last Wednesday when struck by an automobile near his home.

Eugene Espinosa, 67, was fatally injured Saturday when struck by an automobile in San Antonio.

Domingo Hernandez, 31, and Eusedio Hernandez, 26, two brothers from San Antonio, died Saturday when their automobile hit a truck on US 67 about 20 miles from the Alamo city.

US 80 Accident Fatal

Alton Foster, 18, of Mingus, Tex., was killed early Sunday when his automobile went out of control and turned over on US 80 about 38 miles west of Weatherford.

Vance Wear, a 22-year-old Navy veteran, was killed Saturday when his car turned over on the Gulf Freeway near Lamarque.

T. A. Gossett, 86, was the first weekend fatality. He died Friday night in Bryan of injuries received when struck by an automobile just inside the Bryan city limits.

The United Press tally started at 6 p. m. Friday.

Presidential Campaign Year Is The Year Of Eggheads

By LYLE C. WILSON

WASHINGTON (UP)—On the word of some of Adlai E. Stevenson's most enthusiastic supporters, this presidential campaign year is the year of the eggheads.

The current ADA World, monthly publication of an organization known as Americans for Democratic Action, says the eggheads can't lose in this election.

"The eggheads seem certain to come out ahead," the pamphlet asserts. "After years in which they were widely regarded as security risks, if not actual traitors, they (eggheads) are being assiduously courted by both sides.

"The big news for everyone who can read without moving their lips is the GOP (Republican) discovery that intelligent people also vote."

The President himself set the keynote by lifting a phrase from Ibsen for his acceptance speech and it is hardly possible to attend any cocktail party without being buttonholed by bright young men sporting 'CASE for Ike' pins. CASE is the 'Committee for the Arts and Sciences for Eisenhower.'"

CASE is familiarly called "egg-heads for Eisenhower." Egghead was a term applied to some elements among Stevenson's supporters in 1952 and to the candidate himself.

The word is related to the phrase brain truster, as applied to schoolmen and others who provided Franklin D. Roosevelt with many of the ideas activated in the 1933-36 New Deal. The Roosevelt brain trust was a super-cabinet, superior in most respects to the cabinet itself.

Such phrases usually are expressions of scorn, but often obtain new meaning through use until they become more expressions of approval than of disapproval. These plays upon the meanings of words and phrases are a part of the egghead art of semantics.

The best recent example was when young Estes Kefauver dared in Tennessee to challenge the political rule of the late boss Crump. Kefauver sought Democratic nomination for the U.S. Senate.

Capitalizes On Coonskin

Crump scornfully described Kefauver as a furtive and furry 'coon with a thieving paw exploring another's belongings. Kefauver promptly added to his platform properties a coonskin cap, tail aswing. The accessory got him some votes and raised a statewide guffaw in derision of Crump.

Laughter and derision are bad for political bosses. Kefauver was nominated and Crump's power was substantially reduced. President Andrew Jackson's informal White House advisers were ridiculed as a Kitchen Cabinet. The phrase soon lost its string.

Herbert Hoover increased from one to three the number of his White House secretaries, arousing accusations that the presidency had become a secretariat. Mr. Hoover's successors continued the three - secretary system, however, and it is accepted now as both necessary and efficient.

Egghead, in time, will be a word of praise if it has not already become so.

Proper trump management would have saved South from defeat in today's hand. The correct easy to find.

When the hand was played, West began with three rounds of diamonds, and South ruffed the third with the nine of spades. Hoping to get trumps out quickly, South continued with the ace of spades and led the queen of spades next.

West refused the second round of spades, thus dooming the contract. If South led his remaining trump, West could win and punch the last trump out of dummy with a fourth round of diamonds. West would then be sure of a trump and a diamond to defeat the comtract two tricks.

South could save one trick by switching away from trumps, but this allowed West to make two trump tricks, thus setting the contract one trick.

South made his mistake when he led the ace of spades at the fourth trick. South should lead the queen of spades, and should continue with the ten of spades if West refused the first trump.

If West refuses both trump tricks, South takes the ace of spades and then leads his high cards in the side suits. West can eventually get his king of spades, but he wins nothing else.

If West wins the second trump trick, he can do nothing to defeat the contract. A damond return allows South to ruff with the ace, after which South gets to dummy in dorder to draw trumps with the jack and eight. Any return other than a diamond makes the play even easier for declarer.

DEM SUPPORTS IKE—Democratic Rep. Adam Clayton Powell, of New York, has announced he'll support President Eisenhower for re-election because of Ike's stand on civil rights and because of his great prestige among the western powers. The Negro congressman, a leader of the House civil rights bloc, says also that he will seek aid of all "disillusioned" liberal Democrats in forming an "Independent Democrats for Eisenhower" group.
