Board OK's $1,220,000 Water District Loan

The Texas Water Development Board has approved the Aransas County Conservation and Reclamation District's loan application for $1,220,000 with interest rate not to exceed 3.7 per cent.

In commenting on this, Harold Picton, president of the Conservation District, said:

"This puts the Conservation District in a position to be able to finance half of the proposed project not covered by funds we are seeking from the Housing and Urban Development Board in the amount of $950,000."

Total costs of the Conservation District's proposed project to bring water to the Rockport-Fulton-Copano area from the San Patricio Water District, is estimated at $2,450,700.

The loan and grant will leave $280,000 still needed for the project. "Therefore," Picton said, "this amount will be financed on the commercial bond market. This is necessitated by the fact that federal funds and state loan money cannot be used for retail water lines or connections.

It is proposed that the City of Rockport be the operator of the entire system.

Picton pointed out that the project's possibility hinges on the Conservation District receiving the grant from the Housing and Urban Development agency.

Election June 17 On $400,000 Bond Issue For Sewers, Streets

Residents Asked For Information on Names Of Local Places

Residents of Aransas County were asked this week to help solve the mystery of the origins of several geographical names found on county maps. The information is needed for a dictionary of Texas place names, including Aransas and the other 253 counties, to be published soon by the East Texas State University press.

Before Dr. Fred Tarpley, professor of English at the university, submits his final manuscript, he is appealing to county residents for assistance in contributing information about several names with unexplained origins.

With the following exceptions, the reasons for the choice of approximately 200 names found on detailed maps of the county have already been determined:

Aransas Pass, Black Jack Oil Field, Blanco Creek, Burgentine Lake, Cavasso River, Estes, Mustang Lake, Salt Lake Oil Field and Zollar Oil Field.

Dr. Tarpley, who started his research on Texas geographical names five years ago, has exhausted material available to him in history books, newspaper files, student research, and interviews with county leaders. He is hoping that the story behind the naming of the communities, creeks, and other geographical sites listed above can be explained before his book goes to press.

Information will be welcomed by Dr. Fred Tarpley, Department of English, East Texas State University, Commerce, Texas 75428.

Wagley Lumber Co. Installs Neon Sign

A large and attractive neon sign has been installed by the Wagley Lumber Co. at their place of business on Highway 35 and Market Street.

This sign carries the company name in red neon, large space for messages, and the most eye-catching feature, a lighted replica of the company "WALCO" emblems revolving atop the structure.

This improvement was installed on the first anniversary of the company's move into their new building.

This installation is in keeping with the Chamber of Commerce's encouragement to all places of business to upgrade the appearance of Rockport's business section.

PUBLICITY is nothing new to Navy Capt. Walter M. Schirra, a veteran of previous Mercury and Gemini flights, back in the headlines as commander of the first Apollo space flight. Schirra, 44, will be accompanied on the flight early in 1968 by Air Force Maj. Donn F. Eisele, 36, and Walter Cunningham, 35, a civilian.

Baptists Honor Five Seniors

Members of the Intermediate II and Young Peoples Departments of the First Baptist Church, feted five graduating seniors, Linda McLester, Phyllis Ayers, Dora Lynn Wright, Karen Carr and Dean Griffin with a party at the Key Allegro swimming pool on Saturday night.

Upon arrival, the guests played games or took a dip in the pool.

The serving table was set up in the recreation room. The table was centered with a green cloth centered with a beautifully decorated white cake trimmed with green icing. The meal consisted of hickory smoked hamburgers, with all the trimmings, potato chips, iced tea and cake.

Entertainment for the evening was provided by college students from the University of Corpus Christi. A ministerial student provided the humor with a monologue, and Diana Jo Barton played the guitar and sang.

Sponsors for the occasion were Mr. and Mrs. Ben Howard, Mr. and Mrs. Freddie Geese, Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Watkins, Mrs. Eddie Bradley and Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Harper. Forty-five guests and sponsors were in attendance.

The bride wore a street length dress of embroidered lace over taffeta. Her veil of illusion fell from a pill box hat of taffeta and she carried a colonial bouquet of white roses and white carnations centered with a yellow rosebud.

Mrs. Daniel G. Simonton, Jr. of Oklahoma City, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Kenneth Hart of Freeport, brother-in-law of the groom, served as best man.

MEMORIAL STONE SET FOR MRS. R. B. SIPE

A beautiful pink granite stone has been set at the entrance of Copano Cove Subdivision in memory of Mrs. R. B. Sipe, well known real estate operator who died last July 3.

This memorial stone is inscribed "Loving Memory, Mrs. R. B. Sipe, Copano Cove, 1966" and is a tribute to her from friends in the subdivision she helped to pioneer and develop.

This stone is of matching granite and design to the memorial planter box at the foot of her grave in the Rockport Cemetery by friends in Oak Terrace, another subdivision she helped develop.

These tributes speak highly not only of Mrs. Sipe but of this community whose residents would demonstrate this much care and thoughtfulness.

GOOD NEIGHBOR CLUB WILL MEET MAY 31

The Good Neighbor Club will meet in the Odd Fellow Hall at 2 p.m., Wednesday, May 31, with Mrs. Ruth Bishop, Mrs. Alice Ballou and Mrs. J. F. Clobberdants as hostesses.

Rev. Fake Returns From Tokyo Trip

Rev. Charles Fake, pastor of First Baptist Church, left Rockport and flew to Los Angeles on April 27. He spent the night in Los Angeles and flew to Tokyo the next day. The flight took him through San Francisco and Anchorage, Alaska, where brief stops were made. It was cool on the West Coast, and very cool (41° and raining) in Anchorage. He touched down in Tokyo at dusk on April 29, having lost a day due to crossing the International Date Line. The clouds were thick over the world's largest city (population near 11 million), but Mt. Fujiyama's peak could be seen poking through the clouds one hundred and ten miles away.

The pastor's flight companion was a Mr. Onishi, who revealed an unknown historical event which prolonged World War II by 24 hours. Rev. Fake will tell the church about this interesting man and the part he played in bringing an end to hostilities between Japan and the United States.

Sunday morning found the pastor worshipping in the Tokoyo Baptist Church, an English-speaking congregation pastored by Marion Moorhead. The church is small, but every Sunday it registers visitors from all over the world. Rev. Fake worshiped with folks from London, New Zealand, Australia, Africa, and many other points across the globe. He met several missionaries at the worship service. A Japanese congregation utilizes the same buildings. While one congregation was worshipping, the other is having Sunday School.

After church, Rev. Fake decided to walk about the city to see how the people lived. He thought it but a small distance back to the heart of the city, but he found himself walking the remainder of the day! Tokyo is a fabulous city! One cannot help but be impressed with the tremendous numbers of people flooding the streets. Sunday in a Christless country the people doing "business as usual," with crowded shops and department stores.

Early Monday morning, he took a flight to Naha, where he was met by two laymen of the Central Baptist Church, members of the "Fishers of Men" group which sponsors the off-island trips. The "Fishers of Men" is an organization composed of men who pay dues on a monthly basis to support their work. It has the backing of the Foreign Mission Board and probably will soon be under the direct supervision of the board. Many men in this group are servicemen who have found a way to become "unofficial missionaries." Because of the experiences of sharing Christ through the Fishers of Men, some of these servicemen have become preachers, and plan to return to the United States to receive an education for the ministry. Some of them plan to return as missionaries.

The group's boat, "The Messenger," had already left Naha when Rev. Fake arrived, so he and Rev. Dudley, the missionary who issued the invitation, took a freighter the next day to join the group on the island of Izena, northwest of Okinawa. Here he became a member of a 15-person team, which included representatives of the Far East Broadcasting Company, a Japanese pastor, and several laymen. This group presented a program of films, music, and sermon to each village and school on the island. The Gospel was presented to people whose religion is a crude mixture of nature worship and spirit worship. Most of the people were hearing about God for the first time. The group went to a nearby island, called Ihaya, on Thursday and presented a similar program to one of the villages there. The crowds were so great that the meeting had to be moved into the street. At Ihaya, the group was warmly received. Two of the village leaders were invited to supper that evening on the boat's deck, where a "delicious" meal of Salami (raw fish and soy sauce) was served.

Friday's sunrise saw the Messenger pulling out of port at Ihaya for a two-hour voyage to Okinawa.

After a good lunch, a good bath, and a nice haircut, Rev. Fake joined about 40 young people and sponsors for a weekend youth retreat. Here he brought daily messages to the group, which included many young servicemen. Two of the servicemen accepted Christ during the weekend.

On Sunday night, the group returned to the Central Baptist Church of Naha, where they were in charge of the service at which Rev. Fake preached. In addition to the two young men, another joined the church by letter and a young lady accepted Christianity.

On Monday, Rev. Fake went to Taipei, and on to Hong Kong Tuesday. He returned home Wednesday, spending about 12 hours in Hawaii. He arrived back in Rockport tired but blessed, and more aware than ever before of the need of the world to know Jesus Christ.

MRS. BRYMER ATTENDS LIBRARY MEETING

The old building just south of Rockport Electric Co., which is being lowered and made ready for moving, has an interesting history.

It was our first courthouse back in the early 1870's. Later it served as a small hospital and medical office of the late

Dr. W. F. McMullen, father of Mrs. Henry Schmidt. Denver Agler is now lowering the building and getting ready to move it to the country home of Mr. and Mrs. Agler, southwest of the city. They are not sure what they will do with it, but may convert it into a recreation building. They will use the space vacated by the structure for parking for customers of Corky's Restaurant.

Our daughter Pam and her husband, Ken Herbolt of Victoria, went to Houston last weekend to see the Astros play the San Francisco Giants.

Pam got the thrill of her life when she caught a foul hit by Willie Mays. * * * A local lady competing in the recent ladies golf tournament at Victoria won one match in about the strangest way you ever heard of. At the end of 18 holes, she and her opponent were tied which meant that the match had to go into a "sudden death" playoff, with the lady winning the first extra hole to be declared winner of the match.

On the first tee both ladies got pretty long drives, but the Rockport golfer went to the right and the other lady hit hers quite a bit to the left.

The other lady said, "I got off to a better start than you did."

When the Rockport lady lined up for her second shot, the other lady said, "Where are you going? You're hitting down the wrong fairway," and finally convinced her that the green was to the left of the one she'd been aiming for. So, the Rockport player had to shoot through some trees to get over to the other fairway. Even so, she won the hole, six to seven.

After the hole was over and the ladies reached the clubhouse, they were informed by officials that they had played No. 10 green instead of No. 1. The officials said they had never heard of such a happening, but if the defeated golfer agreed that the Rockport lady deserved to win, then she would be declared the victor.

The defeated lady quickly agreed, saying "It was my fault that we shot for the wrong green and even with the advantage of my drive, I lost."

Incidentally, the local lady shot an eagle three on hole No. 7 at Live Oak Country Club a few days ago.

We Came . . . We Saw . . . We Stayed!

In fact we liked the Rockport area so much we built a brand new subdivision here for others like us. We selected a quiet wooded area west of town between Copano and Aransas bays—put in paved roads and city conveniences—added a large pool and tennis courts—and then programmed additional country club facilities for you to use when you're not on the bay fishing.

We named this exciting subdivision PENINSULA OAKS because of the many oak trees shading our homesites. We priced them low too, with prices starting at $750, and then made them easy to buy with only $25 down and $15 monthly. We believe that if you COME and SEE, you just might get like us and STAY too!

ELECTION JUNE 17—

er and Light Co. and Southwestern Bell Co.

In another action the Council reached an agreement with Key Allegro Development and Sales Co. in connection with the city supplying additional water to Key Allegro.

Under this agreement, Key Allegro will pay 50 cents per 1,000 gallons or 1½ times the city's cost, whichever is the greater. The city will participate in the cost of laying 2,875 feet of 10-inch pipe to a point near the Surfside Motel. Key Allegro will pay for the pipe from that point on.

The agreement also calls for Key Allegro to deed to the city within five years, at a time to be determined by Key Allegro, the balance of the new pipeline.

Charley Garrett was the only alderman who voted against this agreement.

Another matter was the presentation to the Council of the city's financial report for the period from last October through April.

The report showed that the city's financial condition is good in all accounts, Mayor Hiller commented, adding:

"For example, collections and unexpended surplus from the previous year for general fund accounts totaled $114,202; disbursements for the same period were $59,013, leaving cash available for these funds at $55,189.

"There is an accumulated surplus in the street improvement bond fund of $7,208. This surplus is being accumulated in anticipation of the storm sewer and street improvement project.

"The garbage fund account showed receipts at $20,661 and disbursements at $18,154, including purchase of a new garbage truck.

"The water and sewer revenue account showed receipts of $102,185 and disbursements of $59,587.

"All bond sinking fund balances were slightly greater than the amounts required.

"Through April, the city has earned $3,128 interest on investment from sewer plant construction money.

After studying the financial report, the Council voted to invest an additional $13,000: $7,000 from the street improvement bond fund; $3,000 transferred from corporation account for general fund investment; and $3,000 from water meter deposit fund.

PRIZE FISH CHAMP BATS ONLY .500%

The exciting experience of the first person to catch a striped bass in Texas coastal waters is giving the "I-told-you-so" buffs a great run right now.

The man, Paul Blunt, actually landed a two pounder when the historic catch was made near here. He was using a plain worm-jig, an inexpensive lure normally used for trout.

It was the next chapter in Blunt's precedent-setting fishing trip that shook up the troops. Because in exactly the same spot off the North Jetty at Port Aransas he had another strike but lost the ensuing battle because the fish broke his line.

The celebrated angler judged from the violent underwater antics it was another striper.

A line-snapping whopper! That was what made the fishing colony's collective eyes bulge. Because striped bass

Tiny Turtles Get New Start

Tiny green turtles have joined the fisheries restoration big parade on the Texas Gulf coast.

Texas Parks and Wildlife Department biologists released 48 of this highly desirable species at the waters edge about one mile north of Cedar Bayou. They hope that the ponderous youngsters will grow and mature for about four years, then return to the release site to lay their eggs.

About six months ago, the Rockport Sportsman's conservation Association negotiated with federal authorities for a shipment of the baby green sea turtles then about the size of silver dollars. They were captured on an island in the Caribbean and flown to Florida. Parks and Wildlife Department personnel brought them to Rockport.

When released, they were four to six inches in diameter. It is believed that this size will have much greater survival rate in the open sea than the smaller size.

A thriving turtle cannery industry once operating in the Rockport area, but the species became depleted until they no longer use Texas beaches for their egg laying.

Mrs. Glenn Mundine and children spent the week at Garner State Park. They were accompanied by Mrs. Annie Evans.

by Mrs. H. W. Batsel in the absence of the president Mrs. Robert Fleming.

Mrs. Fred Moss, program chairman, asked Mrs. John Luker to present and install the incoming officers of the club for the year May 1967-May 1968. Mrs. Luker had a beautiful and unique program by having each of the incoming officers stand and presenting them with an individual calendar marking the day they took office and with different color ribbons attached as a symbol of their duties for the next year.

Mrs. Edward Hall was installed as president and presented with a gavel. Mrs. Weldon Cabaniss was elected vice president and installed by proxy. Mrs. C. F. Hedrick was installed as secretary-treasurer, serving her second term in this office. Mrs. Fred Moss was installed as historian and given custody of the past records of the club's activities.

In closing, all members were asked to stand and hold hands and repeat a pledge to give their help and cooperation to the new officers for the coming year.

Mrs. Hall took office and after a brief business meeting where all the committees were appointed and the chairman of each named, the dues collected and new business discussed the meeting adjourned so that the members could enjoy the movies taken of their field trip on the vessel "Whooping Crane," to see the whoopers.

Also displayed for the members to see was a hand made sewing box of small wooden inlaid pieces, with numerous small compartments for buttons, pins, thread, thimble and even a secret drawer for valuables. This sewing box was made in 1850 by John Warnken and given to his wife Helen as a token of his affection. Framed in the lid is a picture of John Warnken on one side and Helen Warnken on the other. Mr. Warnken was the great-grandfather of Mrs. W. L. Morgan of Plum, Texas and Old Tassel Foot Village in Lamar.

Mrs. Marshall Whitcomb, formerly of Houston, but now living in Rockport was a guest. The 16 members attending were:

Mesdames H. W. Batsell, L. V. Clark, J. G. Eller, Edward Hall, C. F. Hedrick, John W. Luker, Harry L. Mills, Fred C. Moss, Pete C. Gibson, Albert Wofford, Walter D. Hel-denfels, J. B. Greeson, Lonnie A. Goodman, M. C. Merriman, James G. Boyd, D. L. Roberts.

Hostesses for the meeting were Mrs. L. V. Clark and Mrs. Lonnie A. Goodman.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Howard have as their guests his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Howard of Ada, Okla.
