Two Shallow Testers Slated For Immediate Spudding In Midland

Locations for two wildcats in Midland County, both of which are to be drilled by the Spraberry sand of the lower Permian have been reported.

One of the prospectors will be 15 miles southeast of the city of Midland and the other will be 12 miles south of the municipality.

E. E. (Buddy) Fogelson of Dallas and Edwin W. Pauley of Los Angeles are to start operations by October 26 on their No. 1 K. S. Boone, the prospect which is located 15 miles southeast of Midland. It is to drill to 5,000 feet.

It will be at the center of the southwest quarter of the northwest quarter of section 12, block 37, T&P survey, T-3-S.

That makes it one and one-half miles north and three-quarters of a mile east of the nearest completed oil well from the Spraberry sand on the east side of the Tex-Harvey field.

The acreage on which the wildcat is to be drilled was secured by Fogelson and Pauley from R. L. York of Midland, and associates. They retained an over ride on the lease.

J. K. Dobbs of Memphis, Tenn., and associates No. 1 Wilson Bryant is to be an 8,500-foot prospect in Central Midland County, 12 miles south of Midland.

It is located 662.5 feet from south and 681.1 feet from east lines of the south half of the northwest quarter of section 24, block 39, T&P survey, T-3-S.

It is approximately one-half mile northeast of a dry hole to 6,104 feet, drilled several years ago by Broderick & Calvert.

The wildcat is being drilled as a result of a deal worked up by A. N. Hendrickson and G. E. Hall, both of Midland.

They secured a checkerboard spread of 2,730 acres in the Central Midland area, in return for a contract to drill the Spraberry wildcat.

Hendrickson and Hall secured the lease from Gulf Oil Corporation out of a large spread that concerns holds in that region.

York & Harper, Inc., of Midland, owner of a large amount of acreage in the district, is supporting the drilling of the wildcat.

Hendrickson and Hall turned a part of the 2,730 acres of lease to Dobbs in return for his assuming the obligation to drill the well. They retained interests in the deal.

Drilling at Dobbs No. 1 Bryant is slated to begin immediately.

NW Howard Wildcat Finds Petroleum In Pennsylvanian Lime

Operator was preparing to run pipe after recovering 7,260 feet of oil on a drillstem test at Brinkerhoff Drilling Company No. 1 E. Jones and others, wildcat 14 miles northwest of Big Spring in Northwest Howard County.

The drillstem test was taken in Pennsylvanian lime at 9,460-89 feet. That formation was topped at 9,300 feet, elevation 2,897 feet. That gives it a minus datum of 6,663 feet.

Gas To Surface
With tool open three hours, gas surfaced in 88 minutes. No fluid surfaced while the tool was open.

After one dry stand of drill pipe had been pulled, well started unloading the 1,800-foot water blanket and some oil.

When 38 stands of drill pipe was left in the hole, the project started unloading again. It continued to unload the rest of the way out of the hole.

Final Recovery
Final recovery was 330 feet of very heavy oil and gas out drilling mud. There was no formation water.

Total amount of oil recovered in the drillpipe during the test was 7,260 feet. Gravity of the petroleum is 41.5 degrees.

Open flowing bottomhole pressure was 3,550 pounds. Shut-in bottomhole pressure after 40 minutes was 4,100 pounds.

Drilling Break
The No. 1 Jones had a drilling break at 9,460 feet. First good shows of oil in the samples were at 9,423-84 feet.

Location of the indicated discovery is 660 feet from north and east lines of the northeast quarter of section 16, block 34, T-3-N, T&P survey.

The prospect is on acreage obtained by John Darden of Midland and turned to Brinkerhoff to drill. Darden retained an interest in some of the acreage.

Non-Defense Spending Cut By Half-Billion

WASHINGTON—(P)—The Budget Bureau Tuesday announced a $580,271,335 cut in non-defense appropriations—$30,271,335 more than the minimum cut Congress ordered after voting the funds.

The bureau's reductions, for the fiscal year ending next June 30, were approved by President Truman. They were spread over 31 agencies in the executive branch which shared in the $35,554,600,425 single-package appropriations act to which the cuts applied.

That act made up a large part of the almost $54,000,000,000 Congress appropriated this year before recessing until November 27.

The biggest slash of all whacked $75,000,000, or half, off the $150,000,000 total voted by Congress for the Federal Security Agency's grants for hospital construction.

Other cuts of $50,000,000 or more: rural electrification loans of the Agriculture Department, $46,427,000; reclamation and power marketing agencies of the Interior Department, $56,950,000; Army Engineers civil activities, European Recovery Program (Marshall Plan), and relief in occupied areas abroad, $50,000,000 each.

Limit New Hospitals
The bureau said, however, the cuts will not require stopping power project work already contracted for by the Army Engineers and will not cause any halt or slowdown in the Interior Department's current power projects.

Also, it said the cuts will "limit the number of new hospital projects which can be accepted" this fiscal year. (Continued On Page 11)

Greenwood Area Has School, Labor Problems To Solve

Greenwood community in Midland County is concerned about two problems.

One is over-crowding of the school; the other is getting the cotton crop harvested.

Both problems stem from the Federal Fair Labor Standards Act of 1949 which makes it "illegal to employ children under 16 years of age in agriculture during school hours."

Reportedly there has been a heavy enrollment of students in the Greenwood school since enforcement of the fair labor standards has been stressed. Many of the students are Latin Americans.

Greenwood citizens are seeking help with their problem. They are scheduled to confer with Midland County officials.

Meanwhile a big cotton crop in the community needs to be harvested. Greenwood community is east of Midland.

Texas Weather Is 'Just Plain Good'

By The Associated Press
About Tuesday's Texas weather: "It's good."

No rain was reported for the 24-hour period ended at 6:30 a.m. Tuesday, and none was expected Tuesday night or Wednesday.

Fair weather was the word, although high cloudiness was developing over Dallas, Wichita Falls, Lubbock, Childress, Abilene, Mineral Wells, El Paso and the Salt Flat Area.

A new cool front moved out of Central Kansas Monday night and early Tuesday was situated in the Panhandle between Childress and Clarendon. It was expected to be between Wichita Falls and Fort Worth by dawn Wednesday.

The cool front brought no inclement weather, mixing its cool dry air with similar current atmospheres in Texas.

Sell County Road Bonds

Midland County Commissioners Monday afternoon voted to accept the combined low bid of two Chicago investment firms and a Houston company for the purchase of $650,000 in county road bonds.

The firms, Harris Bank and Trust Company and Williams-Blaiz and Company, both of Chicago, and the Eddleman-Pollock Company of Houston, submitted the lowest of 12 bids for purchase of the bonds. The bonds are dated Nov. 19, 1950.

The bid calls for a net interest cost of $2,547 at an average interest rate of 1.59839 per cent. The bonds, to be issued for a period of 15 years, will begin maturing in 1952. Interest will be payable semi-annually with the first coupons due Nov. 15, 1951.

Under the accepted bid, the bonds maturing between 1952 and 1958 will draw an interest rate of two per cent. Bonds maturing between 1959 and 1968 will draw an interest rate of 1.5 per cent.

The low bidders also posted a cash premium of $565.50.

The low bid barely nosed out the bids of three Dallas firms, the First Southwest Company, The First National Bank and Moss-Moore and Company, who submitted a combined bid for a net interest cost of $6,898 at an average interest rate of 1.673540 per cent.

Man, Wife Given 10-Year Sentence For Rape Attempt

BROWNWOOD — (P)—A man and his wife Monday night were convicted by a district court jury here of assault with intent to rape a nine-year-old Brownwood girl. Each was sentenced to 10 years in the penitentiary.

Emery Horace Perdue, 26, and his 19-year-old wife, Edith, were tried jointly. The trial began Monday and the case went to the jury at 9 p.m. The jury returned its verdict at 10:30 p.m.

When the verdict was returned, Mrs. Perdue stormed at the jury: "I hate every one of you."

It was the first time a woman ever was convicted on such a charge at Brownwood. Attorneys for the Perdues gave notice of appeal.

The state charged the attempted rape of the child occurred at a Brownwood apartment house where the defendants operated a small store.

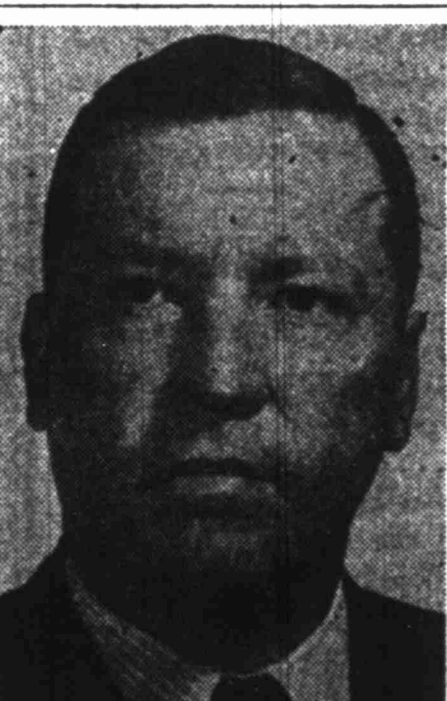

The case was tried in 35th District Court.

NO SAUCER—High Flying Jet Cut Vapor Trail; Did You See It?

Did you see it?

Many Midlanders Monday (ever alert against or for flying saucers) saw a high vapor trail cut in the sky by a jet aircraft—and there was much discussion and comment.

The telephone at The Reporter-Telegram jangled merrily for awhile. "Yes, we saw it," they were told. "But what is it?" they wanted to know.

It was a jet. It was caught in view by binoculars. Its vapor trail disappeared rapidly. The plane came over about 6:20 p.m. and was traveling southwest to southeast. It seemed to climb and hover west of here before leveling out to the east.

Persons even stopped trucks and cars to get out and look. Most persons laughed when "flying saucers" were mentioned.

The CAA station at Midland Air Terminal reported "jets stooping around over Midland Monday"—so that was your "flying saucer."

Storms Rush Toward Two Mexican Coasts

MEXICO CITY —(P)—Mexico's Pacific and Gulf coasts battered down Tuesday in the face of approaching storms. Gale warnings went up along the gulf coast from Vera Cruz north because of a blow the Weather Bureau said would strike within 12 hours. The Pacific coast disturbance drove five ships, including the U. S. fishing boat, Western King and the Panamanian ship Don Anselmo, into the port of Acapulco, and another sought refuge in Manzanillo.

At New Orleans, the Weather Bureau reported the gulf storm packed walling winds of 110 miles per hour and would move inland between Vera Cruz and Nautia late Tuesday.

First Draft Quotas For Doctors Set

WASHINGTON — (P)—The Defense Department Tuesday called for the drafting of 1,522 physicians, dentists and veterinarians for the Army during November, December and January.

The total includes 922 physicians, 500 dentists and 100 veterinarians. The department acted only four days after President Truman set in motion the machinery for the drafting of medical men. The first registration date is October 16.

The department's announcement said the Navy and the Air Force have indicated they do not plan presently to make similar requests to Selective Service for the induction of the physicians and others.

300 November 15

Induction quotas listed for the Army follow: 300 doctors of medicine by November 15; 300 doctors of medicine, 300 doctors of dental surgery or medical dentistry, and 50 doctors of veterinary medicine by December 15; 322 medical doctors, 200 doctors of dental surgery or medical dentistry, and 50 doctors of veterinary medicine by Jan. 15, 1951.

Those drafted are subject to 21 months of service.

Only a limited group of medical men are due to sign up for the draft at the first registration. They are the ones who were trained at government expense or deferred during World War II as students.

Eventually, however, all those under age 50 must register unless they are reserves or have had active service. In setting the date for the first registration, Truman said registration of the others should be completed by Jan. 16, 1951.

A fireman on an eastbound freight train spotted Moore's body about 9 a.m. Monday. He apparently had fallen from a freight sometime Sunday night.

South-West Coast Air Link Key Issue Before CAB Hearing

WASHINGTON —(P)—How best to link the South and West directly by air is the key issue in an airline case which reached the final public step before the Civil Aeronautics Board (CAB) Tuesday.

The case involves a possible fifth transcontinental air route—the first such decision the board has faced in more than five years. Attorneys for 47 parties, including 33 cities, were scheduled for the 12 hours of argument before the board. Half of the total time was allotted to six airlines involved in the applications for new routes or extension of old ones.

The big question before the board is how best to provide direct air service between the South and West. Except for a temporary and recent interchange between Delta and American Airlines, there is no through service. There was no indication when a final decision would be made.

Delta, which serves most of the South, has asked that its routes be extended westward from New Orleans and Fort Worth to Los Angeles. It and American also are asking for permanent approval of the interchange agreement by which planes of one airline continue along the routes of the other.

American asks extension eastward from El Paso and Dallas to Houston and New Orleans to improve its equipment interchange schedules.

Eastern Air Lines is the major contender for a new transcontinental route. The hearing examiner who took testimony in the case, J. Earl Cox, recommended that Eastern be granted a westward extension from San Antonio, Texas, to San Diego, Los Angeles and San Francisco. Eastern now serves most of the East and South.

Cox also proposed continuing the American-Delta interchange. Other applicants are National Air Lines, which flies along the east and gulf coasts; Braniff Airways, which operates from Dallas to Chicago, Denver and El Paso; and Continental, which flies through the Southwest. All seek extension to the west coast.

Cities taking an interest in the case include Amarillo, Austin, Dallas, Fort Worth, El Paso, Galveston, Houston, Lubbock and San Antonio.

TV Offers Don't Impress Garbo 'Wants To Be Alone'

By ERSKINE JOHNSON
NEA Staff Correspondent
HOLLYWOOD — Exclusively Yours:

The TV offers still are being tossed at Greta Garbo but her agent is saying "no dice."

Incidental information Errol Flynn's first look at Pat Wynne was in the Warner make-up department with Pat in curlers and cold cream. Fox is dangling a star contract in front of Gloria de Hava. . . . Frankie Carle, bookend solid for the next 14 months, says waitresses and romance music are what the kids now want in the nation's ballrooms.

Quick, saddle up the clothes horses, Nelly.

Lots of women are staying away from the movie palaces, Paramount costume designer Edith Head claims, because screen dolls aren't strutting around in the glad rags these days.

"Gloria Swanson was the last of the clothes horses," wails Edith. "It's not the fault of the stars or the designers, but the stories that are being made. Gangster movies and psychological dramas don't appeal to women as much as producers think. Clothes are a part of women's chemistry."

"Diana Lynn and Jan Sterling could be great clothes horses. But they have to do what the stories dictate."

The second Mrs. Mickey Rooney has agreed to shelve any ideas of launching Mickey Rooney, Jr., as a moppet star. Later maybe . . . Wayne Morris, set for Monogram "Trail Dust," is leaving Hollywood's dust and moving his family to a 40-acre avocado ranch near Ocean-side, Calif. He'll commute for his film work. . . . Tony Martin dances for the first time in his career in RKO's "Two Tickets to Broadway." He's been coached secretly by a Fred Astaire by Marge and Gower Champion. . . . Sidney Chaplin and Gussie Moran are a new romantic item. Leaving Shirley Winters where? . . . Barry Sullivan is getting the star buildup at MGM. "No Questions Asked," once earmarked for Kirk Douglas, now goes to Barry.

The idea mill on a Betty Hutton-

Red Skelton movie already is grinding at MGM as a result of the shenanigans pulled by the pair at the big party cooked up by Betty and Esther Williams for the benefit of the Visually Handicapped Children.

Among Skelton howlers:

"Mickey Rooney. There's a guy who's too tall to be a lover and too short to be a producer."

To a porter cleaning up the floor: "You don't know how much we appreciate this, Mr. Zanuck."

"Hey, Mike Romanoff, how about bidding $2,500 on this doll. You can make it up by selling three steaks tomorrow."

Over Betty's howls of protest, Red grabbed a Marlene Dietrich dummy loaned by Paramount as a decoration and proceeded to auction it off. In the process, the dummy's wig came off and Red cracked:

"Type. It's Cedie B. DeMille."

Although the critics didn't notice it, Ty Power's mother, Patia, was struck by the similarity of her son's acting style to his famous father's in his London performance of "Mr. Roberts."

"Ty," she says, "has more of Mr. Power's characteristics on the stage than on the screen."

The father of the bride is mixing all newspaper and magazine interviews. Francis Taylor, father of Elizabeth Taylor, is screaming that he was misquoted on the subject of his daughter's marriage in a recent press interview. . . . Joan Caulfield's family, once bitterly opposed to her marriage to Frank Ross, has given its blessings to the union. . . . Insiders insist that Ava Gardner's assignment to the Julie role in "Show Boat" means that MGM has decided it's okay for Ava to continue seeing Frank Sinatra.

Actor's Handicap. Librarian, the pianist, was telling Herbert Marshall that one or two critics were lukewarm about his key-lumping.

"Listen, my boy," counseled Marshall, "every actor walks out on the stage with the knowledge that no matter what he does, at least four people in the audience will hate him for no reason at all."

The Senior Scouts will help repair the clothing and shine the shoes after the drive is completed. Only clean, wearable clothing is wanted, Mrs. Robert Payne, chairman, announced.

Prizes have been established for the three ranks of Scouting: Brownie, Intermediate and Senior. The prize is based on the largest number of articles collected by a troop and judged to be in useable condition.

Mrs. Payne urges every Scout to participate in this community service. Anyone having articles to contribute may contact a Scout or telephone Mrs. Payne at 3180 and arrangements will be made to pick up the contributions.

Home Of U. S. Judge, Champion Of Negro Rights, Is Stoned

CHARLESTON, S. C. — The home of Federal Judge J. Waties Waring, champion of equal rights for negroes, was stoned Monday night by unidentified persons.

The judge and his Detroit-born wife, both of whom have been bitterly assailed by South Carolinians for their opposition to negro segregation, escaped the barrage unhurt.

Federal Bureau of Investigation agents who received the judge refused to comment on the incident, but Waring said one brick sailed through his living room window and another through a screen door. Local police, who also came to investigate, were ordered out of the house by the Waring.

The judge expressed belief "someone had fired at the house—either bullets or blank cartridges." No bullet holes were discovered on investigation, however.

The Waring has received numerous threatening letters and phone calls in the past, and the Ku Klux Klan once planted a burning cross on the judge's front lawn.

A resolution was proposed recently in the State Legislature that would have financed a one-way ticket for the Waring to any point outside the state of South Carolina. The Legislature also indicated during its last session that it would foot a bill up to $10,000 to start impeachment proceedings against the judge.

Judge Waring became the favorite target for South Carolina white-supremacy advocates when he handed down a ruling in 1947 permitting negroes to vote in state primary elections. Nomination in these primaries means election as far as the Democratic Party is concerned.

Shah Of Iran Will Take New Bride

TEHRAN, IRAN — (AP) — The 30-year-old shah of Iran announced Tuesday he is engaged to marry the European daughter of an Iranian tribal leader.

An official court communique announcing the engagement gave no date for the wedding.

Iran's young Shah Reza Pahlevi has been one of the world's most eligible prospective husbands since he was divorced two years ago from Empress Farah, the sister of King Farouk of Egypt. Farah, during the couple's nine-year marriage, had borne the shah a daughter but no sons.

His bride-to-be is the daughter of a German mother and of Khalil Esfandiari, son of the late chief of the Bakhtiari tribe.

$25,000,000 Loan To Iran Reported

TEHRAN, IRAN — (AP) — Premier Ali Razamara announced Tuesday the United States had agreed to lend $25,000,000 to help build up Iran's economy.

The premier told the Majlis (Parliament) also that negotiations were progressing "very successfully" for a $20,000,000 barter deal with Russia.

The U. S. loan, from the Export-Import Bank, will be used chiefly for agricultural and road building equipment. It gives the United States an edge in the propaganda war which has been growing here in this strategic oil-rich nation on the southern border of the Soviet Union.

While most of Korea's mineral wealth is in the northern part of the country, several minerals are found in large quantities only in the south.

If You Can't Afford Social Whirl, Drop Out Gracefully

By RUTH MILLETT
NEA Staff Writer

"Maybe you can help us solve this problem," writes a harassed husband.

"For five years we have been married, my wife and I have been going around with a crowd that has a lot more money to spend than we do.

"My wife doesn't complain because my job is small potatoes compared to the jobs of the other husbands in our crowd. But I know it makes her unhappy not to have as good a home as her friends have, not to be able to entertain the way the other girls do, or dress as well—or any of those things.

"I think we ought gradually to stop seeing so much of this crowd and look for friends more nearly on our economic level. But my wife thinks that for the sake of our two young daughters we should keep the friends we have, so that our children can grow up with theirs, etc., even though it is all we can do to try to keep up with the kind of social life they can afford. What do you think?"

I think that you're absolutely right. Evidently trying to keep up a social life with friends who have so much more to spend isn't making either of you happy. And what possible good can it do your children, as they grow older, to be shoved into a situation where all their friends have a lot more than they have?

No Hard Feelings

There's no need to drop out completely from the crowd you have been going around with—but you can do it gradually without causing any hard feelings.

Just start being honest about not being able to afford to do some of the things they like to do. Look around for a few couples who like to do the things you and your wife can afford.

If you do this you'll gradually replace one group of friends with another—yet remain on good terms with the first group.

Russian Peace Act Here Again

Now that their North Korean adventure has misfired, the Russians are going into their conciliatory act again. It was the same when it had become clear that the Berlin blockade was a failure.

Jacob Malik, Russia's representative on the UN Security Council, mutters something about East and West getting together to talk peace. Seasoned observers note that Andrei Vishinsky, Soviet foreign minister, is calmer
 this year at the UN General Assembly.

It's had to see how the West can contain itself for joy at this wonderful turn of events. But wait—think back over the last five years. Remember how many times the Russians have uttered that magic word "peace." Remember, too, that in every case they demonstrated by unmistakable word and action that they didn't mean it.

In conferences with the West, they made it painfully evident that their minimum terms for peace called for a surrender and sacrifice by the West that it could not possibly make in safety. And there was no proof that when Moscow won those terms, it would stop grabbing. You'd have only the Russians' word, which is like owning an acre of air.

Despite these many brutal disappointments, despite the fact that Soviet actions have a thousand times contradicted their professions of peaceful intent, there still are important men in this world who perk up in hopeful anticipation every time the Kremlin tosses out that word
 "peace."

Apparently there's always that feeling: "This time they really mean it." But how naive and simple can you get? How blind?

It makes one wonder whether even a major war engaged by Russia would be convincing. Obviously the Korean war didn't disturb the faith of these men in Moscow's intentions.

Fortunately for the free world, each time Russia puts on the "soft" act, a few less countries are taken in by it.
 Sympathy toward the Kremlin's dove-like gestures seems to be spreading. This time, France, which has as much to lose as any nation by another war, indicates it no longer will have any truck with this standard Russian fakery.

But the gullible still are with us. India, above all, seems bent on capturing the 1950 championship in the field of innocent bewilderment. Indian's men at the UN talk of another Big Four meeting to settle East-West differences. India still talks as if the West enjoys the Cold War and is merely being stubborn in refusing to compromise with the Soviet Union. Are the Indians talking about life on the planet Earth?

Naturally the West, which by now is only bored by the replaying of the same old Russian records, will ignore India's childlike pleading for a bright fairy world.

Unless its resolve should weaken anew, the West will devote itself to getting the kind of defense which will prevent the Russians from overrunning Europe and the rest of Asia. That's the only peace effort that means anything these days. If in so doing, we convince Russia she can't win a war, then real peace might ensue. But our own strength will be our guarantee. Nobody ought to put a penny on a Russian promise.

Airlift Cost

The airlift from the United States to Korea has proved one thing to the Pentagon's satisfaction:

In times of critical need, Army field commanders can fairly count upon receiving a substantial amount of military supplies by air. Though the Berlin airlift had been a resounding success, no one thought the same technique would be applied effectively under actual war conditions.

There's one major flaw in the picture, however. Military men confess they don't know the specific cost of moving particular weapons or men to the fighting front by air over long distances. They concede it's terrific. Before the future role of an airlift in war can be properly assayed, a real effort ought to be made to measure its cost.
 Otherwise we won't really know how widely we can afford to apply this remarkable supply system.

Lewis' Stubbornness

John L. Lewis, boss of the United Mine Workers, wrote AFL President William Green the other day that he wouldn't be bound by any no-strike pledge Green might make on labor's behalf.

It was a waste of stationery. Anyone who remembers Lewis' four major coal strikes during wartime 1943 doesn't need to be reminded that John L. is not deterred from harmful actions by either big or little wars.

The only word the American people would like to hear from Lewis is that he has decided to follow a new course.
 We don't need reassurances of his obstinacy.

If you're dissatisfied with your job, maybe it's too easy.

It Looks Like A Hard Winter, Mate!

DREW PEARSON ON 'The WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND'

(Copyright, 1950, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)
 Drew Pearson says: Fifty members of Mafia control big rackets in U. S.; Narcotics Bureau keeps close watch on Mafia, whose connections are intertwined like plate of spaghetti.

WASHINGTON — A total of 50 men control most of the big rack-ete in the United States. All are members of the mysterious Mafia, an all but one are either Italianborn or of Italian-American descent.

Various statements have been given by the Kefauver Crime Committee regarding the power of the Mafia, but few people realize its tremendous power or that its head, Lucky Luciano, directs its affairs from Italy, whither he was deported from Governor Dewey, for some strange reason, released him from Sing Sing during the war.

The history of these strange underground rulers goes back to the 18th century when the Mafia was organized in Sicily to oppose the tyranny of the Bourbons.

A similar secret society, called the Camorra, mushroomed in Naples for the same purpose, and expatriates
 from both emigrated to America.
 They reorganized, principally in New York, but spread out across the country, at first preying chiefly upon wealthy Italians. The Camorra became known as the "Black Hand" and the Mafia continued under its Sicilian name. Eventually the two organizations became identical.

Because the Mafia started out bootlegging and graduated to dope-smuggling, the U. S. Narcotics Bureau has kept a close watch on it,
 and has circulated among narcotics agents the following confidential instruction:

"Because of our belief that members of the Mafia constitute the most important and dangerous group engaged in the traffic of drugs, it is deemed essential that every narcotics agent be fully informed concerning this underground organization."

According to this confidential Narcotics Bureau report, Mafia members at first "lived according to the old traditions, and if they killed from time to time, it was to punish a member who had done something radically wrong or to avenge a non-favorable offense to a member.
 Pimps were looked upon with contempt and could not aspire to enter the ranks of the Mafia. . . . This shows how the association has degenerated (inasmuch as Lucky Luciano was king of the pimps and a prominent member of the Mafia in New York).

Mafia Civil War
 "The organization was originally for Sicilians exclusively, because the Sicilians were men of proven and proverbial secrecy and they were afraid to trust their secrets to men who talked too much. . . . This rule is no longer complied with strictly and Americans born of Sicilian extraction and even others are admitted."

"With the advent of prohibition
 the Mafia woke up to the realization that there was money to be made easily, and it worked hard in hand with the Jews who had the ready cash to start businesses. Furthermore, the Jew, who is seldom a killer, used the Mafia to great advantage to protect himself against intrusions and hijacking. . . .

"Those members who went into partnership with the Jews in bootlegging prospered financially by leaps and bounds. The undreamed of and sudden wealth went to their heads and they became rather mob-ish, independent and reactionary and did not live strictly within the dictates of the association. Men with wives and children took to running around with blonde con-cubines; promiscuous drinking was indulged in, with frequent drunkenness; which was alarming because members of the Mafia are not allowed to get drunk, lest they become too loquacious and talk.

"Then, again, those who weren't making easy money became jealous of those who did and a serious rift took place. It lasted some two years, during which many killings were perpetrated—brother plotting against brother, dollars spilling
 the original brotherly love. Finally, pacification was brought about.

In Legitimate Business
 "From that time, the Mafia has cornered every racket promising easy money—narcotics, pinball machines, slot machines, prostitution, gambling of every form and description.
 "The Mafia has also managed to monopolize legitimate industries.
 The fruit and produce market is controlled by the Mafia. Who has not heard of Terranova, the artichoke king? The 'M' Brothers in Pittsburgh were absolute and feared czars of the wholesale fruit and vegetable business and whenever someone tried to operate in competition with them, there was invariably a fruit store blown up. The olive oil business in California is controlled by the Mafia and so is most of the tomato paste industry."

"The fact that most members of the Mafia in this country are camouflaged by legitimate business makes it difficult to tell who is who. Take for instance 'B.L.' of Sacramento, California—an old man of ingratiating manners, soft-spoken, owner of an olive oil factory and vast olive fields, with a Summer home at one of the beaches near Santa Cruz. Who would ever suspect him of being a feared member of the Mafia? Of course he has a past criminal record, but in his community he donates a large sum of money to the churches and to charitable institutions. At Christmas time he has little presents for all the cops and is always smiling at everybody. The citizens of Sacramento, not knowing about his past crimes, look upon him as a legiti-mate businessman."

Buys Protection
 "The association in this country has enough money to buy whatever political protection it needs, and many murders have gone unpunished merely because of the political pressure put in motion by money."

Mafia members (Mafiosi) take a secret oath called the "omertà," and the confidential Narcotics Bureau document describes this as follows: "Newly initiated members take a solemn oath and obligation never to reveal the secrets of the sect under any circumstances and never to divulge the names of fellow members even under torture."

"Once a member, there is no alternative of withdrawing. The initiation fee is murder or some extremely act of violence such as dynam-iting. On the other hand, the

The Mafia does not appear to be a close-knit organization but rather a loose, fraternal society. Like a plate of spaghetti, the connections of the Mafia members are tangled and twined together. Lucky Luciano, the international head, still exercises a mysterious control over the American underworld from Italy, while Frankie Costello has succeeded Luciano as Mafia chief in this country.

 mysterious criminal society will be published shortly.)

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

By OSWALD JACOBY
 Written for NEA Service

Optimistic Oliver looked at the dummy, gulped a couple of times and started his play.

"Partner, I rather hoped you might have a little more. As it is, we will still make our contract with a little luck, provided that Old Dan has a good double for a change."

Doubling Dan said nothing but already he was sorry that he had doubled and he was going to be a lot sorer before the hand was over.

Before making his speech Oliver had decided to play Doubling Dan for all three of the missing kings.
 In that case he saw how to make the contract sure, provided that Dan's spade holding was not four or five to the king ten.

Oliver won the opening club lead with the ace and played a low spade toward the jack in dummy. Dan went right up with the king; it would have done him no good to play low; and led a second club.

Oliver won with the jack, ran three spade tricks discarding the deuce of diamonds from dummy, cashed his ace of hearts, and ran the club suit.

He discarded down to the ace queen of diamonds on the clubs and ace king of hearts. Dan was squeezed.
 He had to hold the king of hearts and hence was forced to blank his king of diamonds whereupon Oliver's ace and queen took the last two tricks.

Dan's double of the six-trump contract was a perfectly horrible bid. True, with three kings in back of an opening three-trump bid he was entitled to think that he would set the contract. On the other hand it was a lead pipe cinch that his partner would hold at absolute bust and the chances were that Dan would not make all three of his kings. Hence he was doubling in an effort to gain a mere fifty points. As against this possible fifty-point gain he was giving the declarer a line on how to play the hand.

Oliver might have made the hand without the double but the chances are he would have tried the simple play of an immediate heart finesse.
 If that finesse worked he would have his twelve tricks easily. If it failed he would be able to make the hand only if East held king and one spade.

RIGHT: She says, "I am Jane

WRONG: Tell him you think it's

Pentagon People Hope Marshall Won't Continue 'Musical Desks'

WASHINGTON (NEA)—What
 frightens most people in the Pentagon about getting a new secretary of defense is the possibility of starting all over again the mass game of "musical desks" which Johnson started when he came in.

Johnson's first order when he took office involved shifting practically every office in the Pentagon around to suit his convenience. The Johnson-inspired shift isn't finished yet.
 It cost about $4,000,000 for new partitions, changing phones and the general job of moving.

If General Marshall has his own ideas about office arrangements

it's probably cost another $4,000,000.
 That doesn't include the loss of time involved and the confusion of never being able to find an office from day to day.

Lowering Prices Would Help
 The Department of Agriculture has just completed a study aimed at finding out better ways to sell poultry and eggs. Among their recommendations are these:

For the psychological effect on customers the clerks should handle eggs "almost tenderly."

Use of a process called "thermostabilization," which helps eggs resist deterioration. It involves dipping eggs in boiling water for 20 seconds.

Display the eggs on counters between dark green vegetables so they will catch the customer's eye.

Navy Helps 'Voice' Expand
 Navy Department now is building
 one of the biggest and most powerful radio stations in the world at Tangier, North Africa. It's being built for the State Department and will be used for Voice of America propaganda broadcasts beamed at Russia.

Now It's Johnson's Turn Photographers and a handful of reporters who went to Louis Johnson's office the day he left got neither a picture nor a statement from him on his departure. But he talked to them for 15 minutes about some of his future plans.

He said he had kept a complete diary on everything that had happened while he was in office and planned to do a book on it. And although he wouldn't let the group
 see a wire he had just received from General MacArthur, it was learned later from the communications center that the general had high praise for the job Louis had done while in office.

Wire Wasn't Congratulatory
 General MacArthur himself got a wire from the Joint Chiefs of Staff
 the day after the Inchon landing in Korea.

It told him in no uncertain terms to stop talking about just what had planned the invasion.
 Stories out of Korea from members of the general's staff said that the invasion had been accomplished in spite of the joint chiefs not thinking much of the thing.

Who Says Is Unlikely?
 Able and friendly Thad Scott, Jr., from Houston, chairman of the National Mediation Board, is convinced that the thirteenth proposal made in connection with the railroad trouble will be the one that will solve the problem.

He's convinced that 13 is his lucky number. He was born on the thirteenth, got his law degree on the thirteenth, served exactly 13 months overseas in World War I,
 and got his appointment to the board on the thirteenth. He's been counting carefully the number of proposals which have been made so far and is convinced that the thirteenth will do the trick.

Lots Of Turkey
 Agriculture experts also predict that there will be a turkey for every household in America this Thanksgiving. A record crop of 44,500,000 turkeys is being fattened now.
 Price'll probably be up, though.

Next Year's Crop Yields Aside from advising farmers to market spring pigs at heavier weights this fall, there's nothing government can do to increase yields this year. But suggest yields of all 1951 crops may be encouraged. Department of Agriculture officially refuses to admit there's a war on.
 But recent announcement that there will be no marketing quotas for 1951 winter wheat indicates what the trend will be.

New Radio Announcers
 A Federal Communications commissioner estimates that there will be approximately 67,000 taxicabs in the United States equipped with two-way radio by the end of the year. The big problem, he says, is finding enough for them.

Is And Out Business
 U. S. Customs agents now have to watch efforts to "smuggle out" materials under export controls, as well as catching efforts to smuggle in. Not only munitions, but also scarce raw materials and drugs, are among the commodities which smarties try to ship out of the country in violation of law. Typical was a recent effort to conceal 1,900 pounds of a scarce alloy steel worth $5,500, in boxes of scrap rubber.

Most valuable catch made by Customs agent in last year was $9,000.
 European watch movements. They were carried in five trunks as personal baggage by a traveler trying to get them out of New Orleans and into various South American countries, on a pleasure cruise.

Cameras and jewels are still the favorite merchandise which people try to smuggle into the U. S. Most of these are small smugglers never learn anything. They try to slip the old favorite of a false-bottomed trunk or a canvas belt worn under clothing, and almost always get caught.

Canada Loses Money
 Expenditures in Canada by tourists coming from U. S. and other countries reached an all-time high last year of $286,000,000. But Canadians spent a record amount of money outside the province for travel. In the net balance, Canada dropped $51,000,000 for the year.

Faster Than Sound
 Intelligence reports out of Germany claim that the Russians are flying a new rocket fighter which goes faster than the speed of sound.
 It's supposed to be called the Yak-21.

The FORMER MISS FREY

GIL began, but she checked him with a movement of her hand.

"I think you've done all you could do, Gil. Of course"—in spite of herself sarcasm edged her tone—
 "I may underestimate you. I certainly did in the past. You're really quite astute. You demonstrated that when you became Lewis Northcott's silent partner."

"Oh!" said Gil. "So that's it."

"YES, that's it," she said furiously.
 "And it's enough I should know. I must say that you were very smooth about it, Gil. You knew I'd always considered you a friend, so it was easy for you to trade on that when you came back to New York, wasn't it? Easy for you to pay a lot of attention to me and get me to—to confide in you about things, about things to do with the agency. And all the time you were working with Northcott to get the agency away from me."

"For Heaven's sake, Ed. . . ."
 Gil almost shouted, his mouth twisted queerly.

But he had no chance. Words were cascading like a torrent from between her tight lips. "Yes, I see it all now. You knew that Jeff was the weak spot and the two of you,
 you and Northcott, hammered at him. You both saw, I suppose, a beautiful opportunity to make a lot of money when my father died and left me, an inexperienced woman, in charge of the business.
 Why you were willing to pay so much for it, I'll never know. But that's immaterial. The point is you tried to take advantage of my friendship. And I'll never forgive you, Gil Summerfield. Never."

"I see he is," said Ed. "Tell him Miss Frey is calling, please." Gil didn't keep her waiting. He came hurrying into the living room, a look of astonishment on his face. He was dressed in a black velvet house coat and the eternal cigaret was between the fingers of his right hand.

Antares, the red star seen in the constellation of Scorpion, is the largest of all stars whose diameters have been measured. It has a diameter of 390,000,000 miles.

Unwrap meat as soon as it comes from the market; never wash it before storing it in the refrigerator. Before you use it wipe it off with a damp cloth.

Nichols was head of the Art Department of the Hockaday School in Dallas for three and one half years.

Local artists and teachers have trained Nichols. He has lived in Dallas most of his life and has been painting steadily since the age of 12.

Awarded Major Prizes

His teachers have included Eleanor Benner, Alexandre Hogue and Frank Reaugh. He has exhibited in every Allied Arts show since their inception and was awarded major prizes in the 1936, 1939, 1945 and 1947 shows.

His future plans, the newspaper stated, in addition to free lance commissions include the opening of a shop and studio specializing in furniture, metalwork, wallpaper, fabrics and jewelry designed and executed by Nichols himself.

An article appearing in The Dallas News says: "One does not see enough of the work of Perry Nichols. He is a lover of mediums and mixes them with an abandon which would be confusing except that the results are clear, integrated and effective. Nichols does not make things easy for himself."

Difficult Materials

"He chooses to work with egg tempera, fresco, gouache and similar stuffs not in a less mature artist's kit."

His Dallas Morning News mural is 150 linear feet by 16 feet deep. It was executed in six weeks of night and day work after months of research and trial sketches. Nichols made full-size drawings on paper and transferred them to canvas by the punch wheel method. The mural was painted in Nichols' studio on 30 foot canvases with the aid of eight assistants.

President's Sister To Be Installed As OEA Grand Matron

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Quiet, friendly Miss Mary Jane Truman will be installed Wednesday night as Missouri's grand matron of the Order of Eastern Star, a Masonic auxiliary.

And her big brother, Harry, a 33rd degree Mason and a former grand master of the Missouri Lodge, will be on hand in St. Louis to help oversee the ceremony.

The President's plan to fly out for the ceremony was disclosed by the White House Monday.

The two have been very close since childhood days. He says he helped teach Mary Jane to play the piano. When their mother died at 94 at the old home in Grandview, Mary Jane was left all alone in the big house. The President encouraged her in her desire to concentrate on Eastern Star work.

Truman will leave for St. Louis at 3:30 p.m. (EST) Wednesday afternoon for the two hour and 45 minute flight.

First Since June

It will be his first trip to his home state since June. Then he interrupted a visit to Independence to fly back to Washington when the communists invaded South Korea.

While Missouri is the scene of a hot political campaign, the President's press secretary, Charles G. Ross, said Truman will confine his visit solely to honoring his sister.

Whether he will return for the November election has yet to be announced.

The White House said Monday Truman will speak to the United Nations General Assembly October 24 in New York but it labeled that talk "non-political."

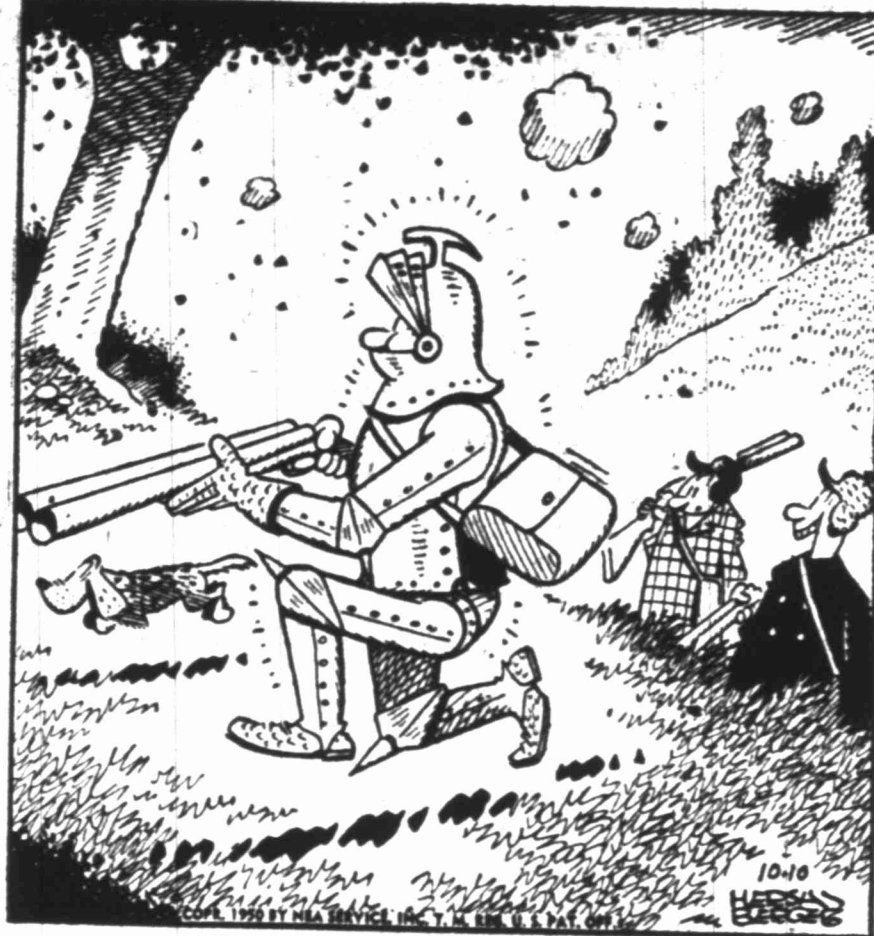

Ross said Truman has made no plans for any political speeches. The President gave his best wishes Monday to Thomas C. Hennings, Jr., Democratic candidate for the Senate against Senator Donnell (R-MO) when Hennings called at the White House.

Truman had picked a loser, Emory Allison, in the Missouri Democratic primary in August, but both he and Allison have thrown their support to Hennings, former member of the house from the St. Louis district.

News Of Korea: Soviet Version

MOSCOW —(AP)— Among the dispatches on the Korean war, Moscow's press Tuesday carried these two:

Pravda's correspondent said Koreans who escaped from Seoul told him the Americans there engaged in an orgy of rape and massacre of the population.

The Literary Gazette Observer reported there have been no successful crossings of the 38th parallel at any point by South Korean or American forces.

Rangers Are Asked To Assist In Probe Of Conroe Balloting

CONROE, TEXAS —(AP)— The Texas Rangers have been asked to help out in an investigation of alleged irregularities in the July and August Democratic primary elections here.

In a former preliminary report Monday, a Montgomery County grand jury said ballot tabulations had been handled fraudulently in Precinct No. 1.

The jury asked the report be made public and urged additional aid in continuing the investigation.

After reading the report, District Judge Ernest Coker sent letters to Gov. Allan Shivers and Texas Ranger headquarters in Austin asking help.

The jury's investigation resulted from an earlier probe that led to indictment of three Montgomery County residents on charges of tampering with absentee ballots filed for the August 23 primary.

British Government Enters Iron, Steel Business In February

LONDON —(AP)— Britain's government goes into the iron and steel business next February 15.

The labor government announced Tuesday it would take over 92 privately-owned companies from all branches of the giant industry on that date. Steel nationalization has been a major project in the government's program of state socialism.

Cost of the industry, which will be purchased from its private owners has not been announced.

In Spite Of Fight

The take-over authorized in 1949 in spite of a bitter parliamentary fight by both Conservative and Liberal opponents of the government, was challenged again September 19. Tory leader Winston Churchill's attempt to overthrow the government on a vote of confidence was defeated by the narrow margin of six votes.

Churchill contended nationalization of the industry would greatly hamper the country's rearmament program. The government's determination to go ahead with the take-over was interpreted as a confession to the labor party's left wing, which has been demanding increased Socialist activity from the government.

Britain already has nationalized its coal mines, railroads, electricity, gas, airplanes, the Bank of England, and much of the country's road transport.

Sentence Suspended On Vow To Join Unit

HOUSTON —(AP)— James H. Polk, 20, received a suspended sentence Monday on a cattle theft charge after he promised to join his Marine reserve outfit alerted for active duty.

Polk entered a plea of guilty before District Judge Langston G. King.

Marine Lieut. E. K. Baker told the judge that Polk could join his outfit, the First Amphibian Truck Company, if he received a suspended sentence.

And Here Is Another Successful Business Man Helped By HADACOL...

He Suffered Deficiencies Of Vitamins B1, B2, Niacin and Iron

Jacob Goldberg should have been a very happy man. At an age when most men are still struggling to make a living, he was able to retire from his Chicago metal business to his beautiful 150 acre estate at Music Mountain, near Hot Springs National Park, Ark.

But at a time when life should have showered its greatest blessings on him, he met with unhappiness. He became run down through a deficiency of Vitamins B1, B2, Niacin, and Iron and as a result food had no appeal to him and he tried many expensive ways of overcoming his discomfort.

Then he saw the blessings that inexpensive HADACOL had brought to his daughter and many of his friends, who had such deficiencies. Life is more pleasant for Mr. Goldberg today, but let him tell you about it, himself. Here is how he overcame these deficiencies:

"I was generally run down some time ago. I lost appetite and my food just did not digest. I knew I needed food but even the tastiest dishes had no appeal to me. I have been coming to Hot Springs since 1937 and now make my home in that city. Recently I just about gave up hope of feeling well and happy again. I had tried almost every thing. I decided on HADACOL because it had helped my daughter and many friends. I have never regretted the decision. I am hungry all the time after taking only four bottles of HADACOL. I have back my old pep and vigor and all food agrees with me. I have recommended HADACOL to many of my friends and see the good it is doing."

Yes, HADACOL Does Help

thousands and thousands of fine folks who are suffering from deficiencies of Vitamins B1, B2, Niacin, and Iron. HADACOL is wonderful in the way it builds up the hemoglobin content of your blood (when Iron is needed) to carry these precious Vitamins and Minerals to every organ, and every part of your body—to the heart, liver, kidneys and lungs. Today, even hundreds of doctors are recommending HADACOL to their patients.

You Owe It To Yourself

... to give HADACOL a chance. Refuse substitutes, don't let anyone tell you something else is "just as good." Insist on genuine HADACOL. You risk nothing because HADACOL is sold only on a strict money-back guarantee. You'll feel better with the first few bottles you take or your money back. Trial size only $1.25. Large Family or Hospital size, $3.50.

San Francisco Is War's Stepping-Off Place Again; Uniform's Making Streets Look Like World War II

SAN FRANCISCO — (NEA) — Postmen's bags are bulging these days in the San Francisco Bay Area, thanks to Korea and Formosa. Here's a typical letter:

"Dear Thelma: My husband is in the reserve, and has been called up for active duty. He expects to have a few days in San Francisco before going overseas. If we can't find any other accommodations, I wonder if we could use your couch for a few nights . . ."

The streets of San Francisco, almost devoid of any but police uniforms a few months ago, once again are dotted with Navy blues, Army khakis and Marine Corps greens reminiscent of World War II days, when the Golden Gate was the major funnel through which troops and supplies moved to the Pacific war fronts.

Proud of its global reputation for hospitality, the city has taken emergency action to assure the most accommodations possible for the thousands of servicemen and their families already here, and the additional influx expected.

Hotel men announced reactivation of their wartime Armed Forces Hotel Reservations Bureau. The bureau pledged that it will make as many as 50,000 hotel rooms a month available for military personnel and their families. To accomplish this, several downtown hotels notified permanent guests that they might have to move.

Conquering Hobby Now Conquers Him

LOS ANGELES —(P)—Frank L. Carlson conquered wartime boredom with a hobby. Now the hobby threatens to conquer him. A commercial artist, Carlson spent his spare time as a World War II GI decorating the envelopes he mailed home. He began with a series of cartoons to his wife and followed with rose decorations, domestic scenes and special birthday and Christmas illustrations.

Then he discovered that his hobby was a recognized one. There's even a magazine for enthusiasts. The word got around and soon Carlson was besieged by requests for decorated envelopes. Since the war he's begun an ambitious project—drawing the emblems of the squadrons of wartime air force on letters. He's made 100 so far, and accompanies each with an appropriate postmark. One, for example, is a picture of Uncle Sam riding a bolt of lightning with postmarks from Goodman, Wis., and Topmost, Ky.

Carlson says he now has hundreds of fans howling for his letters and has to work nights to keep up with demand. There's no money in it, but at least he's no longer bored.

The president of Scranton, Robert Merriman, said the sale of the 34-year-old company involved "almost $1,000,000" and was effective immediately.

get shooters on the Pacific Coast at this time," explained Major General M. A. Edson, rifle association president.

City officials noted San Francisco is much better prepared today to accommodate the expected influx of service families than it was nine years ago. The postwar building boom has provided thousands of additional housing units, including new projects in the Lake Merced section with accommodations for 20,000 families.

One immediate result of the city's resumption of its former role as the chief jumping off point for Pacific service has been a pickup in the previously lagging bar, restaurant and entertainment business.

The volume of long distance telephone calls has shown a marked increase, too.

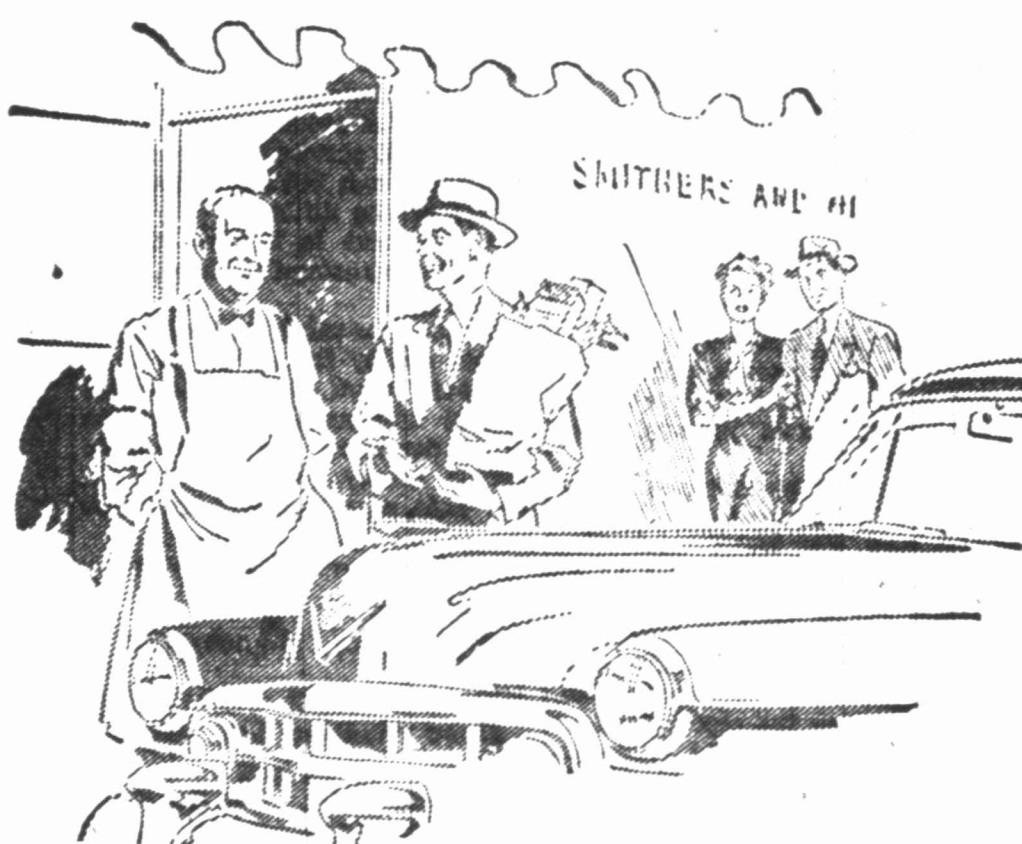

There is a story going the rounds about the taxi driver standing by a pay telephone, feeding in coins, while a sailor talked long distance to his girl friend in Kentucky.

"The kid's going out tomorrow," the cabbie explained, "and he wanted to talk to his girl, but couldn't afford it."

When passersby offered to chip in and help foot the bill, the cabbie shook his head.

"Nope," he said, "I've carried a bunch of slugs around for a situation like this ever since the last war."

Wanted—by Almost Half the People!

According to a recent widespread survey—almost half the motor car owners in the United States would choose a Cadillac, if they had their unrestricted choice.

Cadillac was voted the favorite by more than five to one over any other motor car built in America—a degree of leadership that is probably without parallel in the whole of American industry.

This is, of course, a tremendous tribute to Cadillac, and to those who have designed it so well and built it so soundly for so long a time. But we think it is, equally, a tribute to the American people themselves.

Only a small percentage of American motorists have ever owned or driven a Cadillac—or, for that matter, so much as enjoyed a ride in one.

But that has not hindered the public in general from sensing the soundness of the Cadillac ideal—or from giving its wholehearted approval to the Cadillac crusade for quality. Where the effort is worthy—the American people approve.

We regret exceedingly that not every one who wants a Cadillac can own one. But we believe, sincerely, that many have needlessly denied themselves the pleasure.

Cadillac cars are far more practical and economical to own than most people realize.

It costs less to buy the lower-priced Cadillacs than it costs to buy certain models of numerous other makes of cars.

Furthermore, under normal driving conditions, a single tankful of gasoline will usually suffice for a whole day's drive.

And, of course, when it comes to endurance, a Cadillac stands alone—for its life-span has never been fully measured.

Yes, for a very wide group of people, a Cadillac car is a sensible, practical buy. We hope sincerely that it is for you.

Birmingham Jail Puts Out Welcome Mat For Senator Taylor, Who Turns Down Invitation

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—The welcome mat was out in front of the Birmingham city jail for Idaho's Senator Glenn Taylor Tuesday. Taylor spurned the invitation.

The obstacles to his entering the jail to serve a 180-day sentence were matched only by the impatience of Police Commissioner E. C. Conner to have Taylor behind bars. "You can quote me as saying I'm going to leave no stones unturned," Conner said. "I'm going to get him."

Taylor was convicted of disorderly conduct following a scuffle with police outside a negro youth meeting in 1948. The U. S. Supreme Court refused to review the conviction.

Taylor came here as a Progressive Party candidate for vice president. Scheduled to address the meeting, he collided with police when he tried to go through a door marked, "negro entrance."

The senator said his trial would be a test of Birmingham's segregation laws. City counsel insisted the only issue was "a simple case of assault and battery" upon a police officer.

Conner said he would seek extradition of the senator to serve his sentence in the Birmingham jail. Taylor, out in Idaho, said he didn't plan to come near Alabama. The constitution grants members of Congress certain immunities from arrest while Congress is in session. Taylor's term expires in January.

A state's attorney said Taylor's extradition would depend upon the governor's of Alabama and Idaho. Must Ask Governor

He said Gov. James E. Folsom must ask the governor of Idaho to authorize extradition of Senator Taylor. Then the Idaho executive must agree to the request.

Governor Folsom was not available for comment Monday night. The question also was raised whether a misdemeanor, with which Taylor was charged, is an extraditable offense. One source said it was, but Thomas E. Huey, Jr., counsel for Birmingham in the Supreme Court arguments, said he wanted to investigate that angle further.

In Boise, Gov. C. A. Robins was asked if he would approve Taylor's extradition, and said: "I have nothing to say until I see the extradition papers. I will have to receive them before I can comment."

U. S. Officer Spends 69 Harrowing Days Isolated Behind Red Korean Lines

By HAL BOYLE

KOREA (AP)—A young American officer has returned safely after spending 69 incredible days alone behind Red lines.

With no weapon but his courage, Second Lt. Joseph Elbert Hicks, 25-year-old platoon leader from Cobden, Ill., stoically endured every hardship rather than surrender.

"I would rather have starved," he said grimly. And perhaps he would have starved except for a loyal young South Korean who brought him food and saved his life by moving him from one mountain hideaway to another whenever danger of capture grew near.

For security reasons this native patriot cannot be identified now. But he risked the lives of himself and his wife and six small children to help the American.

"He is the only reason I am alive today," said Hicks gratefully. "I had to depend on his thinking and initiative rather than by own. And we could talk to each other only by gestures and by drawing pictures on the ground with sticks."

Like Storybook Hermit Hicks, who served with the Marines in the last war, looked like a storybook hermit when he came down out of the hills after almost ten weeks. His black hair fell to his shoulders. He had a thick matted beard. And only thin tatters of his fatigue uniform still clung to his six-foot, one-inch frame.

The first six days of his ordeal he had nothing at all to eat. The rest of the time he had lived almost entirely on rice. But he made a rueful discovery:

"Why, I've gained weight!" But Hicks was far below his normal 175 pounds when his adventurous saga began. For more than three weeks he and his men had been fighting desperate delaying withdrawal actions with the rest of the remnants of the shattered American 24th Infantry Division.

In the early hours of July 29 Lieutenant Hicks and his platoon were in a pitifully small force assigned the impossible task of outposting Kochang, a city 50 miles southwest of Taegu, the provincial capital. In Water-Filled Culvert Hicks fell back to the river, divided his men into squads and waited until his own squad was almost over to the far bank before starting across the stream himself. On the other side they were caught in a rice paddy by Red machine gun fire and all were killed, wounded or captured except Hicks.

"I escaped by crawling into a small road culvert," he said. "It was almost filled with water and there were only four inches between the water and the ceiling of the culvert. I stayed there until dark with just my face out of the water so I could breathe."

A bright moon was shining when Hicks crawled out. And there were so many enemy moving through that he had gone only 200 feet before he had to hide again—this time under a roadside strawpile.

"It overhung a ditch," recalled Hicks, "and I sat hunched against the ditch wall under the straw without food for six or seven days. I kind of lost track of time."

Without Water Four Days He finally emerged when heavy enemy traffic slowed and there was no full moon to keep him from traveling at night. He was so weak he fell while trying to cross the road. He crawled to a stream and drank the first water he had since his canteen went dry four days before.

That revived him. He got a meal of rice from a peasant hut, then walked for two nights across the mountains. But he couldn't get through.

It was then that he met the young South Korean. On his advice Hicks hid out in the hills. The Korean brought him rice every few days and kept him posted on war developments by drawing maps on the ground.

Hicks donned a white robe and a peasant straw hat. He marched several miles with his friend past retreating enemy stragglers. Then he met some South Korean police who took him to an American command post.

A U. S. intelligence major took down his story and then said: "Gee, you're lucky—we're going to have a swell meal tonight."

"What is it?" asked Hicks, hungrily munching some canned rations.

"Rice," said the major. "It's the first we've had in a long time."

Abundant Living

By E. STANLEY JONES

Matt. 6:25-34; 1 Pet. 5:7

MEETING TODAY, TODAY

May I pause in this discussion

to add a personal word.

Besides living physically relaxed

I live mentally and spiritually relaxed. I am spiritually relaxed because I believe the central hypothesis of my life is right. Life is one long verification of that central hypothesis. This gives an inner sense of steadiness. This attitude toward life was tested in an airplane over St. Louis when we circled above the clouds for two hours, trying to land. The ceiling was so low that we could not get under. I had time to think. So I wrote down a life conclusion: "I am up in this plane and we have been circling over these clouds for about two hours. If we do not land safely I would like to leave

my last will and testament to my friends and followers of Christ:

There is peace, perfect peace.

Apart from my unfaithfulness to the highest, there are no regrets

about the general course of my life.

Life with Christ is the way to live. In this hour there is assurance

—there is God underneath all the uncertainties of human existence.

So I rest in God. God's best to you all. Living or dying I am His—

His alone. Glory! Signed, E.

Stanley Jones."

I try to take that central assurance into my work. The thing that is so centrally right will not let me down in the details. I meet these details in confidence. The word

"Comforter" means "brave together."

With Him I can be "brave together."

I meet today, today. I do not telescope all next week into today.

I clip off my engagements one by one as a person clips off coupons.

As Dr. William Osler, the great surgeon, said: "The load of Tomorrow, added to that of Yesterday, carried Today, makes the strongest faller. We must learn to shut off the future as tightly as the past."

A greater than Osler said: "Sufficient unto the day is the evil thereof." I sometimes have to put it, "Sufficient unto the hour is the evil thereof." I do not take any worries to bed with me. Bishop

Quayle tells of lying awake, trying to hold the world together by his worrying, when God said, "Now

William, you go to sleep and I'll sit up."

My Gracious Father, how can I worry and fret when Thou dost live and care? As Thy happy child

I play in Thy house, with no correcting care. Even my hardest work is play. I inwardly dance to my tasks, and amid them feel the gaiety

of Thy love. Thou hast taught me to laugh—I laugh with incredibly that I, even I, have found this treasure. Amen.

Reunited In Korea, Army Captain And Nurse Are Married

U. S. TENTH CORPS HEADQUARTERS, KOREA —(P)— Before an altar of packing crates in a shell-torn building, Capt. James F. King of Worcester, Mass., and Lt. Anna Jacobs of Muskogee, Okla., were married Sunday.
King is an Army Intelligence officer, his bride an army nurse.
They became engaged last summer. The Korean war interrupted their wedding plans. King was sent overseas almost immediately. Weeks later, Nurse Jacobs was assigned to Korea.
Each knew only generally where the other was stationed. Ten days ago they chanced to meet at headquarters. Then came the first U. S. Army wedding in Korea since the war.
Chaplain James M. Bragan of Birmingham, Ala., officiated. Cpl. Thomas Banks of Elk City, Okla., was best man.

The explosion apparently occurred during a transfer of oxygen from a tank to smaller containers. Teas was taken to Huntington Memorial Hospital, where his condition was reported fair.

Farming Is Termed Democracy Bulwark

KANSAS CITY. —(P)— Charles F. Brannan, secretary of agriculture, said Tuesday "communism cannot be crushed on the battlefields alone."
"We have learned by bitter experience that we must keep our eyes beyond mere victory of arms," he told some 7,000 delegates to the Future Farmers of America annual convention here. "x x x we must strike at the very causes of war and unrest, not just at the results those causes produce."
He told the delegates—rural youth from every state in the nation, Puerto Rico and Hawaii—that farmers would continue to play a vital part in the fight for a free world.
"There can be no secure peace in a hungry world," he said.
"But farming makes more than just a material contribution of abundant supplies of food and fiber toward the secure and peaceful kind of world that is our goal.
"Farming itself, as a way of life, can be a solid bulwark of democracy."

Child Actress, Center Of Court Fight, Going To Elementary School

SCHULENBURG, TEXAS. —(P)— Child actress Lora Lee Michel center of a Hollywood court fight last Spring, is a sixth grade pupil in the Schulemburg Elementary School.
The 10-year-old girl enrolled Monday. She had been attending a private school in San Antonio since the opening of the September term.
Her foster parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Michel, said that on weekend visits here Lora Lee had tearfully begged to remain with them instead of returning to San Antonio.
Last January the girl, a movie actress since she was six, ran away from Mrs. Michel in Hollywood and complained she had been starved and beaten.
Mrs. Michel was acquitted in a Los Angeles court after being charged with child cruelty.
The court recommended that the Michels return to Texas and give Lora Lee a normal life away from Hollywood.

Atlantic, Gulf Coast Seamen Get Pay Hike

NEW YORK —(P)— Representatives of 55,000 Atlantic and Gulf coast seamen have won a 6.38 percent wage boost for them in negotiations, and the agreements now will go to the members for a vote on acceptance.
The increase—announced Monday—affects 40,000 members of the CIO National Maritime Union (NMU) and 15,000 members of the AFL Seafarers International Union (SIU).
The percentage increase, an employer spokesman said, is the same as that granted recently to 45,000 east coast AFL longshoremen in an hourly wage hike from $1.88 to $2.

Two Youths Adrift For Month Relate Their Experience

PANAMA, PANAMA. —(P)— Adrift a month in the Caribbean, two youths were forced to push the lifeless body of their companion overboard only two hours before they were rescued.
The story of their experience was told here by Simon Maduro, 20, and Jose Weaver, 21, of Aruba Island, after they were rescued Friday by the United Fruit Company ship Morazan.
Their companion, John Arms, died Thursday night.
The trio left Aruba four weeks ago for a pleasure cruise along the coast in a small boat. Adverse currents and winds drove them into the open sea. When their mast broke, they drifted helplessly.
They had only rain water from occasional showers to drink. Their only food was a seagull and small fish they caught.
Maduro and Weaver were landed at Cristobal, in the Canal Zone, Sunday and treated for exposure.

Edgar Inaugurated As New School Chief

AUSTIN —(P)— Dr. J. W. Edgar, the first man appointed commissioner of education under the Gilmer-Alkin school laws, was inaugurated Monday night.
The ceremonies came a bit late, Edgar having taken over his duties as commissioner last Spring.

High tribute was paid him by R. B. Anderson of Vernon, chairman of the State Board of Education, who made the inaugural address.
"We believe he is charged with the largest single educational responsibility in America," Anderson said on behalf of the board which selected Edgar last February.

Edgar outlined a four-point program for meeting education's challenges: provide education opportunity for all, give realistic education for American citizenship, keep schools on a sound financial basis, improve teaching standards.

The inauguration climaxed two meetings on education here. One was the annual gathering of the Texas Association of School Administrators, the other the Citizens Advisory Conference on Education.

Invited to Austin from throughout the state to give their views on the new Gilmer-Alkin school program, laymen came up with a multitude of recommendations. However, there was a little criticism of the G-A laws.

School bus transportation was the greatest subject of discontent, a number of groups reported they felt the formula for determining the amount of state aid for transportation is too strict.

"I want to be completely dissociated from the Police Department except to maintain my pension rights under the law," Chief Payne wrote.

Chief Payne gave as his reason for resigning the fact that the police chief is held responsible for the operation of the department without having adequate authority over it.

Permian Basin Oil And Gas Log-

Brooks, Central-East Irion County wildcat, as a gas and distillate producer from the Wolfcamp sand of the lower Permian, and put it on regular production.

The project had tested for 10,000 cubic feet of gas per day, with an estimated distillate yield of 50 barrels each 24 hours from pay at 5,945-6,000 feet.

The flow was through a 22/64th inch tubing choke, and came after the pay section had been shot with 330 quarts of nitro glycerin and then washed with 500 gallons of mud acid.

There was no formation water in the fluid being recovered. Flowing tubing pressure during the testing was 300 pounds and pressure on the casing during the flowing was 600 pounds.

After a two hour shut-in the casing and tubing pressure equalized at 1,800 pounds, and both pressures were still increasing at the end of two hours.

Operator representatives expect the well to show a maximum shut-in pressure of around 2,000 pounds. Location is 600 feet from north and west lines of section 21, block 3, H&TC survey. That makes the discovery 13 miles north of the Tankersley pool and five miles southwest of the town of Tankersley.

This wildcat drilled to a little below 7,500 feet in the Ellenburger. That zone made water.

It had been plugged back and tested from the Ellenburger all the way to the present level of operations. Some of the zone investigated showed some slight signs of oil and gas, but none of them yielded any commercial petroleum until the 5,945-6,000 foot section in the Wolfcamp sand was reached.

Chaves Prospector Indicates Discovery

Gas-distillate discovery for East Chaves County, New Mexico, was indicated on a drillstem test in DeKalb Agricultural Association, Inc. No. 1 J. P. White, wildcat 14 miles southwest of the Lightcap-Devonian pool.

Production was indicated on a one-hour test of a lime, thought to be Pennsylvanian by some observers, from 8,004-8,022 feet.

Gas was at the surface in two minutes, a spray of distillate in 30 minutes. Gas gauged 6,000,000 cubic feet daily.

Recovery was 100 feet of distillate and 40 feet of heavily gas and distillate-cut mud. Top of the Pennsylvanian was called at 8,890 feet.

Operator is preparing to core ahead.

Location of the No. 1 White is 1,980 feet from south and east lines of section 7-108-29c.

Oil Is Reported In SE Garza Tester

No official, or verified information is available on testing that is supposed to be in progress at Tobe Foster and associates No. 1 Justice Heirs, Southeast Garza County wildcat, one and three-quarter miles southeast of Justiceburg.

Unofficial sources report that the project has perforated the casing at 7,452-56 feet and that interval is said to have been treated with 500 gallons of acid.

The well is credited with having kicked off after the swab had been pulled four times following the acid.

Some sources report it flowed an average of 20 barrels of oil per hour for two hours, after the kick off. Others say that some of the fluid flowed out was water.

This project is 680 feet from south and west lines of section 19, block 6, H&GN survey. It showed for free oil and no water in a drillstem test in the Pennsylvanian at 7,416-60 feet. It then made oil and water in a test at 7,460-92 feet.

It drilled on down into the Mississippian, and found no oil in that zone. Operator then plugged back and set casing to test the Pennsylvanian shows.

Outpost Scheduled In Tom Green Area

One mile east and slightly south of Ohio Oil Company No. 1 M. D. Bryant, indicated small straw discovery in West Tom Green County, Ohio has staked location for a 5,800-foot rotary outpost.

The wildcat will be that company's No. 1-A Howard H. Jones and will be drilled in section 756, C. Schobel survey, 660 feet south and 277 feet east of the southeast corner of section 255.

The project will be drilled into the Pennsylvanian.

Pegasus In Upton Gets New Project

Phillips Petroleum Company has spotted a 13,400-foot rotary test in the Pegasus-Ellenburger field in Northwest Upton County.

The company's No. 3-DD TXL will be 665 feet from north and 680 feet from east lines of section 31, block 40, T-4-S, T&P survey. It will be 1,319 feet east of Phillips No. 1-DD TXL, producing east offset to the discovery of the field.

SW Tom Green Is Site For Deep Test

John K. Dorrance, trustee, of Houston No. 1 C. D. Atkins and C. L. Atkins will be drilled as a 7,300-foot rotary wildcat five miles northwest of Christoval in Southwest Tom Green County.

Exact location for the proposed wildcat will be 468.6 feet south of the north line and 468.6 feet west of the west line of Robert Smith survey 98, but in section 949 1/2, P. H. Johnson survey.

Empire Drilling Company of Dallas has the rotary contract. Drilling will also be three-quarters of a mile west of American Republics No. 1 Atkins, a 7,329-foot Ellenburger failure.

E-C King Venture Planned By Humble

Humble Oil & Refining Company has staked a 6,800-foot wildcat in East-Central King County, midway between the Bateman Ranch and Rosa pools.

No. 69 Bateman Trust Estate is 2,640 feet from south and 660 feet from east lines of section 133, block A, J. B. Rector survey. It is 11 1/2 miles east of Guthrie.

Rotary tools will be used to drill this new prospect, beginning immediately.

Shallow Prospector Slated In Crockett

A shallow wildcat has been staked in the center of the northeast part of Crockett County as Texas Pacific Coal & Oil Company No. 1-H University.

It is located fifteen miles north of Ozona and 2,365 feet from west and 2,310 feet from south lines of section 30, block 45, University survey.

It is scheduled to go to 1,700 feet with cable tools.

Salt Water Found In Kent Explorer

Gulf Oil Corporation No. 1 A. C. Cairns, Central Kent County wildcat, two and one-half miles southwest of the two-well Clairemont-Pennsylvanian field, and at the center of the southwest quarter of the northwest quarter of section 50, block G, W&NW survey developed salt water in a drillstem test in the lower Permian at 5,984-6,030 feet.

The tool was open one and one-half hours. Recovery was 120 feet of drilling mud, cut with salt water, and 1,620 feet of salt water. There were no shows of oil or gas.

The prospector is now making hole below 6,243 feet in lime. It is slated to drill to at least 7,000 feet and may go deeper.

NE Ector Wildcat Is Plugged, Abandoned

Anderson-Prichard Oil Corporation and Stanolind Oil & Gas Company No. 1-E-32 Fasken, wildcat failure in Northeast Ector County, has been plugged and abandoned at total depth of 4,915 feet.

On the last reported drillstem test with packer set at 4,832 feet and pool open one hour, recovery was 4,900 feet of salt water. There was no trace of oil or gas.

This venture was one of eight such wildcats the two concerns contracted to drill by April 1, 1951.

Location of the abandoned hole is 1,980 feet from south and 660 feet from west lines of section 32, block 41, G&MMB&A survey, and 14 miles northeast of Odessa.

Prospect In Garza Is Quit As Failure

Aurora Gasoline Company and N. Appleman Company No. 1 Swenson, Northwest Garza County wildcat 12 miles northeast of Post, has been abandoned at total depth of 7,325 feet.

Location of the failure is 653 feet from north and 661 feet from west lines of section 7, block 7, H&GN survey.

It is located 2,006 feet from south and 2,867 feet from east lines of section 253, block 97, H&TC survey. Rotary tools will be used to drill to 7,000 feet. Operations will begin immediately.

Magnolia Petroleum Company will begin drilling at once on its No. 1-I McDonnell Estate, new project in the Kelley-Snyder field of Scurry County.

Rotary tools will be used to drill to projected depth of 7,050 feet. Location is 467 feet from south and west lines of northwest quarter of section 298, block 97, H&TC survey and six and one-half miles northwest of Snyder.

JACOBY ON CANASTA

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service
A letter from New Haven reads as follows:

"Recently both sides needed 50 only but the discard pile was frozen from the start, and no one melded at all for several rounds. Finally, I made an unfortunate discard and the next player took the discard pile and made several melds including one canasta.

"My partner failed to meld anything and the next player completed one more canasta, built a couple of melds up to six of a kind, and discarded. My hand was joker-ace-ace-ace-king-king-7-2-2-2. I drew another ace and promptly melded out concealed. My partner had nothing to say, but both opponents criticized me severely for melding out without giving my partner a chance to put some meld down.

"I contended that if I waited even one round, they would be likely to make one or two more canastas and that would cost us more than we could gain by my partner melding. What do you think?"

I think that my correspondent did exactly the right thing. Her opponents had melded but still had plenty of cards in their hands. The chances were that they could complete at least one more canasta if they had any way of suspecting someone was about to go out and get the hand over with. Hence, the correct play was to go right out and end the hand.

Of course, if the New Haven lady had some means of telling her partner to meld, without warning her opponents of the situation, then she should not have gone out. Unfortunately there was no such way available. If she asked, "Partner, may I go out?" her opponents would know the situation.

If she made the canasta in ace, melded the three kings, and held up one deuce, her opponents would not know that she was able to go out for sure, but they would know that she would surely have a chance to go right out. Hence, they would meld everything they could anyway.

Finally, I think things are getting into a pretty state of confusion when opponents start doing the criticizing. In a partnership game, there are plenty of instances where a player will criticize his partner. Such criticism may be given in such manner as not to disrupt the happy home, assuming the partners are married and may often prove constructive and valuable. However, when one side starts criticizing the other, it is time to call a halt.

Bloodhounds Trail Gun-Fight Slayer

TEXARKANA —(P)—John Haley, 70, retired farmer, was shot to death in a gun-fight at his home in Avery Monday night.

A man is being sought in connection with the shooting.

Red River County Sheriff Amos Beatty said Haley was shot several times with a .22 caliber pistol, adding that Haley managed to empty a .25 caliber automatic at his slayer.

The sheriff said the walls and woodwork in the room were "riddled" by stray bullets. Blood leading out of the house led officers to believe the slayer was wounded.

Bloodhounds are being used to trail the bloody footprints. Sheriff Beatty said the gunfight was witnessed by Mrs. Martin and a 14-year-old son.

Others Have Their Grid Seat Problems

MELBOURNE —(P)—One man died and 75 people collapsed in a huge crush at the grand final of Australian Rules football at the Melbourne Cricket Ground.

Big crowds stormed closed gates, 5,000 people spilled on to the field, and hundreds of others jumped fences. Most seats were taken four hours before the game began. The official attendance figure was 85,876.

In the grand final, Essendon Club beat North Melbourne 92 to 54.

West Skeptical Of Soviet Blessing On U. S. Peace Program

LAKE SUCCESS —(P)—Western diplomats were skeptical Tuesday of Russia's surprise acceptance of some parts of U. S. Secretary of State Dean Acheson's four-point anti-veto peace plans.

They speculated on the Soviet Union's motives.

Was it one of Russia's startling diplomatic shifts, they asked? Or was the tentative embrace which Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky gave the plan in the 60-nation Political Committee intended as the kiss of death?

Puzzled diplomats were waiting for a major Vishinsky policy speech, possibly late Tuesday, to clarify the situation.

swelled the Allied prisoner bag to more than 55,000.

The Reds made their first major stand Monday on ridges south of Wonsan. Allied warplanes strafed and rocketed ridgeline posts and the ROK's stormed over the airfield just south of Wonsan at 4 a.m. Tuesday.

They entered the city at 10 a.m. The Reds resisted bitterly, but AP Correspondent William Jordan, with the South Koreans, said the defense was not as strong as had been expected.

Prewar Defenses From Wonsan, the ROK's are in position to swing 95 miles straight west across the narrow waist of the peninsula to Pyongyang.

Organized Red Korean troops blocking the armored cavalry drive on the main road from Seoul toward Pyongyang and the South Korean thrusts in the center of the peninsula were showing no signs of giving up.

AP Correspondent Leif Erickson reported from Western Korea that Reds holed-up in their prewar "defense" chain forced American foot troopers to fight for every yard.

The Reds held mountain positions flanking the main highway. Defenses extended 25 miles in depth, an air observer reported.

Foot troopers, with Allied warplanes raining steel and fire-bombs on the Reds, slugged ahead two and one-half miles into Red Korea along the main highway, to the vicinity of Simchon.

Another Cavalry column crossed the Yesong River, 10 miles west of Kaesong, smashed three Red counterattacks, and drove ahead on a northwest tangent.

year but "will not necessitate delay or cancellation of any projects which already have received final approval of the surgeon general."

The cuts were specified according to the agencies and their activities to be affected, but the bureau left it to the agencies to disclose which projects they will tailor to fit the reductions.

These details were provided on some principal reductions:

For rural electrification loans, more than $300,000,000 will remain available for this fiscal year's program despite a $66,427,000 appropriations cut.

VA Cut $12,000,000. For the Army Corps of Engineers, despite a $50,000,000 cut, "power projects will proceed at a rate designed to bring in additional electrical generation in accordance with schedules contemplated in the 1951 budget. No going contracts are to be stopped. No new starts will be made in the 1951 fiscal year except those certified by the President as necessary to the defense program."

The Veterans Administration was given a $12,635,000 cut, of which $10,000,000 is to be against salaries and expenses. The cut was attributed to "lower patient loads than had previously been anticipated, most of which is possible because beds in military hospitals formerly allocated for use of veterans administration patients have been returned for military use."

the encircled force at "several battalions" in size. Tuesday a spokesman said they were outnumbered 10 to one by guerrillas numbering in the "several tens of thousands."

That, meanwhile, had been reinforced by fresh French troops. The garrison there had been depleted dangerously by the attack on the column sent to screen the withdrawing Cao Bang garrison, but observers said the reinforcements had eased the danger to the post—one of the few points still held by the French along the Chinese frontier.

Should the remainder of the encircled group not succeed in escaping the Vietminh trap, observers considered it would be a disastrous defeat to the French. Their troops already are spread thin along the Chinese border, while Vietminh forces—reportedly supplied and trained by the Chinese Communists—have been increasing steadily in numbers and fire power.

INTERSECTIONAL RIVALS—One of the hottest cross-country games, Oct. 14, sends Villanova, sparked by Pete D'Alonzo, left inset to Tulsa, where the Wildcats have to worry about the triple-threat tactics of Dub Graves, shown kicking. Injury Lists Cast Gloom Over SWC Gridiron Outlook

Southwest Conference football coaches tried to keep from looking at their injury lists Tuesday as they pushed training for one of the toughest Saturdays on the schedule.

At stake is the high prestige gained nationally last Saturday by victories—or near-wins—over top-ranking squads.

Topping the schedule is the football doubleheader in the Cotton Bowl at Dallas starting the second, third and fourth place college teams of the nation.

Southern Methodist, No. 2 in The Associated Press rankings, meets Oklahoma A&M in a night game, while Oklahoma, No. 3, and Texas, No. 4, play in the afternoon.

Bluest note of the training camps comes from the University of Texas. Byron Townsend, hard hitting fullback who gained more than 150 yards against Purdue, wrenched his knee in practice Monday. Coach Blair Cherry said Townsend may play Saturday but the full extent of his injury won't be known until Tuesday afternoon.

Brighter At SMU

Things look brighter at Southern Methodist. Dr. Robert Morgan, team physician, says Quarterback Rusty Russell Jr., with a torn cartilage near one of his ribs, and Halfback Johnny Champion, with a sprained ankle, may see action if needed against Oklahoma A&M. Both stars were injured in the Missouri game.

However, Henry Stollenwerk, a substitute back injured in the Missouri game, may be out a month with a broken leg bone.

Baylor Saturday accumulated the largest injury list of the season. The new injured include Bill Alt, Walter Bates, Gale Galloway, Jim

To the Midland Bulldogs: You have more to lose Friday night at Sweetwater than a ball game. You have more to lose than your three-game winning streak. You have more to lose than an unbeaten record.

You have everything to lose—and by the same token you have everything to gain.

Listen:—KR—

Bud Worsham, sports editor of the Sweetwater Reporter, spoke frankly Sunday about the Midland Bulldogs. That's you boys. And he spoke even more frankly about your coach, T. L. (Tugboat) Jones.

Here's what Mr. Worsham had to say: "Apparently, Coach T. L. (Tugboat) Jones, doesn't have too strong a team in his second year at Midland. Midland has never been noted for its strong ball clubs."

—KR—

"Coach Jones and Sweetwater's head mentor, Pat Gerald, are old enemies as far as coaching rivalry is concerned."

"A few years ago, Tugboat coached at Wichita Falls and Gerald was at Vernon. And Gerald was always on the defensive since Jones had so much material to pick from at Wichita Falls. However, Pat always gave the Coyotes a tough time."

"Last year, Jones became head coach at Midland."

—KR—

NOW SEE THIS, BULLDOGS: "That's when Gerald got even with Tugboat Jones. The Mustangs of Sweetwater blanked the Bulldogs 34-0 in 1949. But that isn't the whole story. Midland made only TWO first downs, one on a Sweetwater penalty. Midland made only TWO yards net rushing. The Mustangs intercepted SEVEN Midland passes."

—KR—

And that's not all Worsham wrote. He continued: "That probably was the worst shellacking that a Tugboat Jones-coached team ever suffered."

Mr. Worsham elaborates: "The last time Midland beat Sweetwater was in 1940—some 10 years ago. Since 1940, Midland has never come close."

—KR—

And then Worsham prints the humiliating 10-year record.

There you have it, Midland Bulldogs. If you need a spark to win, if you need a reason to win, other than to keep your unbeaten record and to gain a Midland win over Sweetwater, there it is.

You see how lightly Worsham holds you. That is the general attitude of Sweetwater, Texas, about the Midland ball club. They say you haven't even come close to beating them in 10 years. They say Midland hasn't been known for strong football teams—and they speak the truth.

—KR—

The question is: What are you going to do about it—YOU, the 1950 Bulldogs?

And what are you going to do about playing the Tugboat Jones type of football?

—KR—

Now what are you going to do about that? Are you going to relax and falter as you did in the first half against Mineral Wells? Are you going to take a "defeatist" attitude that Midland teams have carried in the past and say Sweetwater is the best team?

Or, are you going to be real Bulldogs? A fighting ball club, one with no individual bickerings and no individual stars; a ball team that will go onto the field with one purpose in mind:

To BEAT SWEETWATER, for a perfect record this far.

To BEAT SWEETWATER, for your fourth win.

To BEAT SWEETWATER, for the first time in 10 years.

To BEAT SWEETWATER, for Tugboat Jones.

This isn't just another ball game. It's one you MUST win!

Some Changes Made As Bulldogs Work

Midland's Bulldogs settled down to hard work and serious business Monday afternoon, pointing toward their clash with Sweetwater's Mustangs. The Midland-Sweetwater tilt will start at 8 p.m. Friday in the Mustang Bowl at Sweetwater.

Highlight of Monday's drill was the shifting of two Bulldogs to new positions.

Robert Keisling, a halfback thus far in the young season, was working under Assistant Coach F. D. (Red) Rutledge, learning the offensive left end assignments.

Assistant Coach Audrey Gill had Robert Burks running at offensive left guard. Burks has been a reserve center.

Keisling was getting good contact on his blocks, and with more time to acquire polish at his new position the rangy lad may be a real help to the Purple eleven. Burks, a 150-pound hustler, also was showing well at his new-found position.

Each department came in for some real hard work Monday. The Bulldogs worked on stopping the offense of the Mustangs and then polished the timing of their own offense. The Purple eleven performed with a lot of drive and fire. And they will need it Friday night.

Up To Strength

The Bulldogs are about up to full strength. Guards Jerry Culp and Pete English, hampered by sore legs last week, seem about up to par again. Barring injuries between now and Friday night, the entire team should be in good shape for the clash.

Coach Tugboat Jones gave the Bulldogs a real "pep" talk prior to practice Monday. "No one has a position made," Jones told the boys. "We have not been improving as we should from game to game. From now on, it will be different."

And from the way the Bulldogs worked, they took Jones' remarks to heart—and well they might. It will be rough, this Friday night.

Chisox Keep Mum On New Manager

CHICAGO —(AP)—The Chicago White Sox front office still is keeping the identity of the club's 1951 manager a secret.

General Manager Frank Lane and Vice President Chuck Comiskey, who have been given the green light by the board of directors for straightening out managerial problems, plan an announcement "within 48 hours."

There was plenty of unofficial word that the Sox' next pilot will be Paul Richards, former big league catcher and manager of Seattle in the Pacific Coast League. Richards almost had the job a year ago after Jack Onslow was fired.

In the meantime, John (Red) Corriden is still the skipper and the Sox front office will not confirm whether he will be out or in.

Texas-Purdue Game Film To Be Shown

The Texas Exes of Midland will show a film of the Texas-Purdue game at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday in the district courtroom.

No Further Word Received On Loss In Amboina Quake

JAKARTA, INDONESIA—(AP)—Fighting continued on the rebel stronghold of Amboina Tuesday but there was no further word on the island's plight from an earthquake and tidal wave Sunday.

Amboina radio broadcast news of the disaster Monday and appealed for Red Cross aid. The island is the seat of the South Moluccan Republic, which rebelled against Indonesia.

The very weak Amboina radio reported the tidal wave, as monitored here, and described it as 200 meters (656 feet) high, but the geophysical service said this was impossible. Later a monitor in a rural district of Java, where reception conditions are better, said the wave swept 200 meters inland.

COLUMBUS, O. H. I. O.—(AP)—Ladies, are you tired of seeing your husbands' old fishing clothes and other junk littering up the house? In Ohio you could burn them and get away with it—legally speaking, that is.

Common Pleas Judge Joseph M. Clifford dismissed a charge of burning personal property against a wife who admitted she set her husband's truck afire. Why? Because, she said, he wouldn't take her on a trip.

The legal principle behind the dismissal, Judge Clifford explained, is that under Ohio law personal property belonging to either husband or wife also belongs to the other.

France Prepares Request For U. S. Arms Aid Fund

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The French government has begun to lay the groundwork for a detailed request for American funds to help finance the first year of France's stepped-up rearmament program.

French financial experts have started presenting initial figures to the State Department in preparation for the arrival Thursday of French Finance Minister Maurice Petasche.

Petasche will sum up France's case during a round of conferences with top American officials including Secretary of the Treasury Snyder and Secretary of State Acheson.

The French request is reported to cover the amount of money France believes she will need during the 1951 fiscal year to start her on the self-imposed task of creating, equipping and maintaining 15 new army divisions.

The French government, responding to an American plea for increased defense spending, has announced its readiness to undertake a $3,710,000,000 rearmament program to strengthen Western Europe.

The French plan would add some 250,000 men to the 650,000 now in the French armed forces. A good part of this present army is tied up in Indochina fighting the Communists. What the United States is expected to contribute to make this expanded rearmament program possible has not yet been spelled out.

Officials Say Finance Rating To Save Interest

The City of Midland will open bids next Tuesday, October 17, for the purchase of $2,225,000 in revenue and tax bonds for several municipal improvements, and officials say the city's new financial rating may bring about a saving up to $150,000 on interest charges.

City Manager W. H. Oswalt Tuesday said the city's new financial structure picture has been improved to such an extent that as much as one-half of one per cent interest may be saved on the sale of bonds. This would amount to a saving of approximately $150,000 in interest charges over a period of 30 years.

The city manager said representatives from most leading investment firms are expected to be present for the bid opening next week. The bids will be opened in the City Council chamber. The bonds are a portion of a $3,800,000 bond program approved recently by city voters for several municipal improvements.

Complete information on the bond sale has been distributed for virtually every dealer in municipal bonds in the country. It is expected all the leading investors will submit bids.

Mexican Hitches Ride On Tail Of Passenger Plane

MEXICO CITY—(AP)—Lamsa Airline said Tuesday a young Mexican who "wanted an airplane ride" stowed away on the tail of a regular passenger plane and rode the right elevator 61 minutes.

The crewmen were not allowed to land, as no Japanese will be permitted here until a peace treaty is signed with Japan.

Lamsa, a subsidiary of United Airlines, said flight 202 took off from Torreón Monday night for Mexico City. The pilot noted a vibration in the rudder pedals and returned to Torreón 61 minutes later. On the ground the company said the crew found Cliserio Reyes Guerrero had made the trip on the elevator, the flat part of the tail surface. He rode flat on his face and holding on to the leading edge of the stabilizer.

Lamsa said Reyes Guerrero said he jumped on the tail as the pilot was warming the engines in the dark at the end of the runway. They said the man was cold but unharmed. After removing the strange hitchhiker, the plane took off again and arrived in Mexico City without incident.

Moscow Claims Two Yank Planes Strafed Russians' Airfield

MOSCOW—(AP)—Russia charged Tuesday that two American fighter planes strafed and damaged a Soviet airfield near the key Siberian seaport of Vladivostok last Sunday.

A Russian protest note was proffered to U. S. Minister-Counselor Walworth Barbour Monday night by Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko. The note placed the incident 62 miles north of the Soviet-Korean border.

It demanded "strict punishment" for the "responsible personnel" and American assurances against such incidents in the future.

The note said two F-80 Shooting Star jets machine gunned an airfield in the Sukhaya Rechka area at 4:17 p.m. Sunday. Sukhaya Rechka is across Novik Bay from Vladivostok and about 18 miles southwest of that important Siberian rail and shipping terminus.

"As a result of the firing, damage was inflicted on airfield equipment," the note declared. It made no mention of casualties.

Barbour declined to accept the note on the grounds the protest was a matter for the United Nations to handle.

Gromyko disagreed, arguing that since the note dealt with the firing by American planes on a Soviet installation, it was the sole concern of the two governments involved.

The note subsequently was sent by the Russians to the U. S. Embassy, U. S. Ambassador Alan G. Kirk, who had been in bed with a cold, went there early Tuesday to inform the State Department of the Soviet communication.

IT'S ANOTHER CASE OF GROWING PAINS!

PATIENT: Telephone service in Midland

DIAGNOSIS: "Growing Pains"

CAUSE: The almost unbelievable growth of Midland

CURE: A program for more and better telephone service and reasonable time to complete it.

Whew! It's an epidemic!

But that's what happens when a city grows as incredibly fast as Midland. Practically everybody develops a case of "growing pains" trying to match the dizzy pace.

Here at the telephone company, the demand for service has increased by leaps and bounds. Our present facilities are now taxed to the very limit, serving 9,200 telephones in Midland.

Growing Midland needs more and better telephone service. We're moving ahead with a program to convert the entire city to dial service and adding new facilities to furnish service to those waiting for telephones in Midland.

It's a big job and as much as we'd like to finish it overnight, it's going to take a little time.

In the meanwhile, your patience and understanding will help a lot if your order for service is delayed.

You can be sure that we're doing everything possible to keep your telephone service growing with Midland.

Axe Falls On Commie Chiefs Who Deserted To Tito's Camp

Maurice Thorez: A victim of Kremlin's axe.

PARIS —(NEA)— Fear of a new armed world conflict resulting from the war in Korea and Moscow's aggressive moves in Berlin, Yugoslavia, Iran and elsewhere has caused a new rift in the Western parties of the Cominform.

A ruthless purge of Communist officials now is under way in France, Italy, Belgium and Eastern Germany.

Communist sources in France report that not since the purge of Marshal Tito—followed by the executions of Traicho Kostov and Laslo Rajk, Bulgarian and Hungarian Party chieftains—have Stalin's secret agents waged such fierce warfare against key members of the Cominform.

The Kremlin's axe already has Laurenti Casanova: A leader in assassination.

fallen on Paul Meartens — until recently undisputed Communist dictator of Southern France — and on such Party faithfuls as Claude Aveline, Louis Martin — Chaffier and Clara Malraux.

Once the hard core of the Party's "intellectuals," these Reds have since deserted to Tito. Disappointed to the turn of events in Korea and by Soviet antics in the United Nations, they decided to follow in the footsteps of their American colleague, Lee Pressman.

Even Maurice Thorez and Jacques Duclos, the two oracles of French Communism, are said to be under fire. Whether they will suffer the fate of their comrades who were recently purged in Eastern Germany is not yet known. They may be retained as figureheads. But I am reliably informed that they have been stripped of all power.

The French Communist Party, the key organization in the Cominform, is run by a group of ruthless young men—Laurenti Casanova, Theodore Vial and Henri Laborde—appointed directly by Moscow and responsible only to the Russian Politburo. They are former leaders of the Cominform's secret shock troops and commando detachments.

Operates As Agents

It is these "leaders" who are said to be responsible for the recent brutal assassinations of a number of Spanish Communist rebels who had been operating as Soviet agents on the Franco-Spanish frontier.

Moscow, satellite diplomatic sources report, also is facing increasing political difficulties in the satellite countries.

More than 700 Hungarian Army officers including three high ranking generals—Laslo Solym, Imre Reval and Illi — have recently been arrested for attempted desertion to Tito.

The story of their arrest by the Russian M.V.D. is the most fantastic that has as yet come out of the Stalin-Tito conflict.

Last June, on the eve of the invasion of South Korea by the Reds, the Hungarian General Staff dispatched an army of 65,000 men to the Yugoslav border. But two weeks later most of the soldiers had to be disarmed and their officers arrested.

The Soviet M.V.D. discovered in the nick of time that many of the soldiers and officers were preparing to cross the Yugoslav border as deserters. It took three Soviet divisions, headed by Marshal Fedor Tolbukhin, to disarm and disperse the rebels.

General Laslo Solym, former Hungarian Chief of Staff, is reported to have been executed. The other officers are still awaiting trial.

Normally A Childhood Disease, Mumps May Hit At Any Age

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D.

Written for NEA Service

Practically everyone who has not already had it is susceptible to mumps. This disease, however, is most common between the ages of five and 15. Many cases are fairly severe but probably a large number of people have had the mumps virus without even knowing it. Mumps can be a very widespread and a serious disease. During the first World War there were almost one-quarter of a million cases among members of the United States Army.

The time between exposure and the development of the first symptoms is about eight days, though this may vary a good deal. At first, slight fever is present and there is some pain just below the ear, usually on one side. This same area is tender to the touch and soon a slight swelling can be noticed which increases gradually. About two-thirds of those affected have it on both sides.

The greatest inconvenience from mumps results from the difficulty in eating. Chewing usually is painful and even speech and swallowing may be difficult. Acid foods, such as strawberries, may be impossible to eat because of the pain which they produce.

The part involved in mumps is the parotid gland which is one of the glands producing saliva. Mumps is not a disease which can be ignored and serious complications can develop, especially those which involve the sexual glands, though this is rare before maturity. A recent study of this subject, however, concludes that involvement of the male sex glands from mumps is not an

Research Incomplete

Some research aimed at developing a vaccine which might prevent the disease entirely has been carried out. This has been tried on monkeys and small groups of children. It seems to give increased resistance in about half of those to whom it is given. Whether this will be of practical use on all children or in military service seems somewhat doubtful at the moment.

The patient with mumps should be kept in bed usually for about two weeks. Because the disease is so contagious, he should be kept away from others for some time. Special treatment is not necessary as a rule except to keep the mouth clean and give a diet which is easy to eat and digest.

New Military Field Wire Used In Korea

PORT MONMOUTH, N. J. —(AP)— A military field wire that can be laid at speeds up to 120 miles an hour has been used successfully in Korea, the Army Signal Corps announced here recently.

The wire was developed at Signal Corps Laboratories here. It can be laid by airplane, or by automatic dispensers fired from a bazooka or rifle.

It can thus be run quickly over lakes, cliffs, and other obstacles and eliminates the slow, laborious process of laying wire by hand or motor vehicle.
