Italy Plans Great Naval Show For Hitler

In Congress Or Circus, The Senator Is

A Natural-Born Showman

Perched high on a circus wagon, U. S. Senator Tom Connally of Texas proves in the picture above that his flair for showmanship is not confined to the halls of congress. The photo shows the veteran Texan as he drove a team of prancing horses in the Community Circus at Gainesville, Tex., of which he was honorary ringmaster. The circus, now in its ninth year, is composed entirely of non-professional performers. Riding with the senator is Mrs. Geraldine Murrell, department store milliner, who also can walk a tight wire.

German Leader Reveals Plans To Mussolini

Problem Of Colonies Is Main Subject For Discussion By Pair; Hitler Does Talking

(By The Associated Press)

ROME, May 4.—Adolf Hitler left Rome tonight to see a giant Italian naval display at Naples after telling Benito Mussolini of his vaulting colonial ambitions.

The visiting reichsfuehrer departed on the royal train without his host who plans to follow him by plane tomorrow for the demonstration of Italy's sea might.

Big Crowd On Hand

An enormous crowd milled around the railway station for a glimpse of Hitler and the other nazi chieftains whose visit called forth new protestations of firm friendship between the fascist nations.

The problems of colonies, a sore point with the Germans ever since they were stripped of foreign possessions in the World war settlement, was the main subject discussed by the two dictators in their initial talks.

Hitler Does Talking

With Hitler the speaker most of the time and his host an interested and sympathetic listener, the leaders of nazi Germany and fascist Italy sandwiched their intimate conversations between tightly-crammed events on the state program marking Hitler's visit.

Beyond the admission that Hitler eloquently pleaded the reich's claims to elbow room in the world and access to raw materials, nothing leaked out concerning the range of their discussions.

The crowded day included ceremonial visits to the Pantheon, the unknown soldier's tomb and a mighty demonstration of the facility with which young fascists can handle their war equipment.

Should Regain Place

Shortly after Mussolini's return from Berlin last fall he said, in a speech delivered in the presence of a German mission, that "it is necessary that a great people like the German people should regain the place which belongs to it and which it once had in the African sun."

Political sources said the conver-

Labor Makes Bid For Pact With Business; Plea For Cooperation Is Sounded

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, May 4.—The American Federation of Labor made a bid tonight for an accord with American business, many of whose representatives are gathered here at the annual meeting of the United States Chamber of Commerce.

In a manifesto considered markedly conciliatory, the A. F. of L. council called on labor and industry to pull together so unemployment may be cured by the absorption of workers in private industry.

"The A. F. of L. is committed to the principle of private ownership, private initiative and the protection of private property," the statement said. "The right to own and manage property must be conceded and safeguarded.

"Working people must be accorded the right to organize and bargain collectively. The highest wages which industry can accord should be paid and a fair return upon legitimate investments to those who own private property must be freely conceded."

Attaches at the chamber convention said the federation's statement created much interest among influential delegates to the convention. Whether the chamber would issue some response to it was not immediately known.

One Killed And Several Hurt In Tornadoes

Minor Property Damage Over Southwest Reported Last Night; Rain Also Falls

(By The Associated Press)

TORNADOES left one man dead and several persons injured last night as one of the heaviest rains in years soaked the southwestern wheat belt.

Centering in Kansas and Oklahoma, the storm extended into Colorado, Nebraska, Missouri and Iowa and weather forecasters predicted it would reach Arkansas, Tennessee and Kentucky Thursday.

Minor Property Damage

A series of small tornadoes left a trail of minor property damage in Kansas, Oklahoma and Missouri.

William J. Wilson, 66, was killed near Bluejacket, Okla., when he was pinned beneath the wreckage of a barn. Mrs. Ed Grider and her daughter, Marian Eddie, 11, were injured when a twister destroyed their home near Altus.

At Eudora, Kas., Al Powell, 27, was injured when struck by the wreckage of a farm building demolished by a small twister.

Other Storms Reported

Other tornadoes causing minor property damage but resulting in no injuries were reported near Labarpe, Kas., and in Allen and Franklin counties, Kas., and near Alva and Welch, Okla., and Warsaw, Mo.

The heaviest rainfall reported was a 5.35 inch downpour at Marion in central Kansas.

Wet snow, melting as it fell except in the mountains, was reported in Colorado.

Duster In Colorado

The southwestern Colorado "dust bowl" experienced a dust storm near Baca following a rain early yesterday.

While crops benefited generally, some damage was reported by the beating rain and hail which fell in many places.

Light rains were reported at Amarillo, Dalhart, and Shamrock in the Texas wheat country, with heavy rains in the southeastern portion of the Panhandle early Wednesday morning. A high north wind blowing in the Panhandle died about sunset. Dust over the area cut visibility to a mile at Amarillo.

James Huffman Is Winner In Tech Voting

James Huffman, agricultural student from Grapevine, was named president of the Texas Technological college student body Wednesday as the climax of a "none-too-exciting" campaign and election.

Huffman defeated Clytus Parris, engineering student from Wilson, by a vote of 861 to 605.

Wayne Vaughn Wins

Wayne Vaughn of Perryton defeated Miss Merle Haynes of Hobbs, N. M., 921 to 548 for the vice-presidency.

Miss Queenelle Sawyer of Brownfield was named secretary-treasurer from a field of four candidates. Other candidates and the order in which they ran were Eron Gafford of Panhandle; Lynn Bain of Plainview, and Mary Beth Whiteman of Brady.

A. B. Murphy of Caro was elected representative to the athletic council and Bill Bratton of Pampa, head yell leader. Both were unopposed.

Polls Closed At 5

Polls at the college closed at 5 o'clock Wednesday afternoon and votes were counted by eight members of the faculty and members of the student council.

This year's officers are: Maxine Fry, president; Hugh McCullough, vice-president; and Mary Howell, secretary-treasurer.

Approximately 1,465 votes were cast in the election Wednesday as compared with an estimated 1,500 last year.

Signatures Are On Petition To Bring Action

Almost 200 Pledges Received Of 218 Required; Organized Labor Is Supporting Move

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, May 4.—Members of an unofficial steering committee in charge of the wage-hour bill asserted tonight they had "almost 200" pledges to sign a petition forcing the measure to the house floor.

Representative Healey (D-Mass) chairman of the group, said they expected to have the petition signed shortly after it is placed in circulation Friday.

218 Signatures Required

Signatures of 218 members would be required to take the measure from the house rules committee which refused last week by an 8 to 6 vote to send it to the floor.

Healey said a member of state democratic delegations were pledged "solidly" to sign the petition. Among them, he listed those from New England, Pennsylvania, Michigan and the Chicago city delegation.

Healey said about 25 Republicans were in the 200 pledged and asserted the entire progressive and farm-labor delegations had announced they would sign.

Labor Backs Drive

Organized labor threw its influence behind the campaign to get the necessary signatures.

John L. Lewis, C. I. O. leader, sent every house member a telegram declaring enactment of the legislation at this session was "imperatively necessary." William Green, A. F. of L. president, previously had telegraphed each member.

Plan To Stabilize Franc Is Offered

(By The Associated Press)

PARIS, May 4.—Premier Edouard Daladier notified the nation tonight the French franc would be stabilized tomorrow at a rate which could be "effectively defended."

The premier delayed telling what the new rate of the franc would be until the level is fixed tomorrow in the third devaluation since the World war.

Franc Fluctuates

In today's foreign exchange dealings, the franc fluctuated around a point equal to about three United States cents, opening at 33.15 to the dollar and closing at 33.93.

Financial quarters were inclined to believe the new rate of the franc would be about 35 to the dollar, or 2.86 cents.

Present gold holdings of the Bank of France are being carried on the books at 22.96 francs to the dollar. Revaluation at about the existing market rate would give the government a paper profit of some 25 million francs.

Full Accord Given

Daladier said the new monetary move was taken in full accord with the United States and Great Britain, who joined France in the tri-partite monetary agreement of Sept. 25, 1936, for currency equilibrium.

He promised "no new variations in our money, no new expenditures, no new burdens," and announced a "coming national defense loan will give to all Frenchmen the opportunity, in full conscience, to take a plebiscite on their patriotism."

The government is expected to ask for about 15 billion francs (about $450,000,000). Some quarters said the first call might be for 5,000,000,000 francs, leaving the remainder to be offered later.

Economy Deeply Shaken

"The truth is that our economy is deeply shaken, legitimate profit is tending to disappear, partial unemployment is increasing in business, our commercial balance is impoverishing us, our production statistics remain a humiliation for all Frenchmen," Daladier said.

He said stabilization of the franc was decided upon because of unemployment, an unfavorable trade balance, and increasing danger of war.

Informed sources said one of the first uses would be in an attempt to double France's 1,400 first line fighting planes within two years.

Court Fight Is Being Planned By Methodists

(By The Associated Press)

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., May 4 — Backed by approval of its "supreme court", the general conference of the Methodist Episcopal church, South, turned to perfecting merger with the other two branches of Methodism today while a group of "secessionists" prepared to fight unification in civil courts.

The Southern Methodist judicial council upheld legality of the general conference's vote for union and delivered a blow to anti-unification-ists' efforts to prevent junction of North and South Methodists.

Will Go To Court

At Columbus, Miss., however, Dr. J. W. Lipscomb president of the Laymen's Organization for Preservation of the Southern Methodist church, announced his group would go to court "to save our beloved church."

John A. Manget, secretary of the laymen's group, communicated with an Atlanta attorney who he said was ready to file the necessary papers.

Swift Action Planned

As the general conference drew toward a close, Senior Bishop John M. Moore, Dallas, said machinery for completing union would begin to function immediately. Bishop Moore, who retires from active church work with the conference adjournment, will continue as head of a Southern Methodist commission which will confer on union with representatives of the other two divisions of the denomination, Methodist Episcopal (North) and Meth-

Pope Pius Deplores Display Of German Flag In Rome

VATICAN CITY, May 4. (AP)— Pope Pius, the Vatican newspaper L'Osservatore Romano said today, declared it was a "sad thing" that "it is not considered exceedingly out of place and untimely to hoist in Rome on Holy Cross day the insignia of another cross that is not the cross of Christ."

The pontiff made the statement, the newspaper said, at an audience at Castel Gandolfo, his summer palace 17 miles from Rome. Holy Cross day yesterday coincided with arrival in Rome of Adolf Hitler. The city was decorated with swastikas in his honor.

Methods Of Handling Cash In Old Age Benefits Get Okay Of Advisory Body

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, May 4. —Present methods of handling money collected for federal old age benefits won approval today of the social security board's advisory council.

In the face of criticism that use of the money to pay current expenses of government was wrong, the council said present provisions under which the treasury sells U.S. securities to the pension reserve account in exchange for cash do not "involve any misuse of these moneys or endanger" their safety.

Used For General Purposes

The money obtained by the treasury from the reserve account is expended for general governmental purposes.

The council, it was announced by the social security board, is opposed to reduction in the present 2 per cent pay roll tax paid jointly by employers and employes.

The board, appointed about a year ago, numbers among its membership some leading industrial and labor leaders. These include: Edward R. Stettinius, jr., chairman of the finance committee of U. S. Steel corporation; Gerard Swope, president of the General Electric company; Sidney Hillman president of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America (C. I. O.); and John P. Frey, president of the metal trades department of the A. F. of L.

Views Are Expressed

The council expressed its views in a communication to Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich), a leading advocate of lower payroll taxes. Vandenberg recently suggested that the council make a preliminary report as a basis for congressional action.

Vandenberg had declared taxes could be cut if the "needless" program of building up a huge reserve account be scrapped. In the place

Texans Seeking Contact Man

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, May 4.—Need of a "contact man" at Washington to aid in obtaining Works Progress administration funds for Texas river projects was discussed by officials of the Texas Watersheds association here today.

C. K. Debusk of Jacksonville, association vice president, said Texas was in danger of losing her share of new public works funds unless an "expediter" brought a $300,000,000 water development program to the attention of federal authorities.

Program Recommended

The program, worked out by the Texas planning board and adopted by the association, was recommended to congress through the national resources committee. It would erect dams and canals for water conservation, irrigation and flood control throughout the state.

The association, comprised of 19 river development district boards, passed a resolution asking the planning board to send a man to Washington and, should the board be unable to comply, to request an opinion from the attorney general on whether a share of the funds, allocated districts by the legislature, could be diverted for his salary.

Hijackers Fail To Get Money

(Special To The Avalanche)

MATADOR, May 4—It was an altogether unsuccessful series of events for a dark-skinned, middle-aged woman who this afternoon hijacked a Motley county farmer near here.

The brunette produced the rifle and did the talking, but the farmer had no money and the hijacking was without profit. She threw the gun on him after she and two male companions stopped near him in their large coach or sedan bearing a Lubbock county license. The farmer, whose name officers did not obtain immediately, was walking about three miles east of here when accosted.

Officers Are Informed

After their failure to obtain money, they sped eastward and the farmer came to Matador and informed H. H. Courtney, deputy sheriff who was confined in bed because of illness. Mrs. Courtney telephoned Cottle County Sheriff A. A. Payne at Paducah, but the brunette and her companions had pased through Paducah and were en route to Crowell.

Sheriff Payne gave chase and authorities at Crowell in Foard county arrested the trio.

Tonight officers were returning here with the persons.

German Prince And Bride Begin Honeymoon Bearing Blessing Of Ex-Kaiser Wilhelm

(By The Associated Press)

DOORN, The Netherlands, May 4.—Prince Louis Ferdinand of Germany and the Grand Duchess Kyra of Russia began their honeymoon today with the blessing of Ex-Kaiser Wilhelm, II.

Their bonds of marriage were completed with a Protestant ceremony at the Doorn residence of the exiled German emperor after two services—a civil ceremony and the ritual of the bride's orthodox Russian church —Monday at Potsdam Germany.

The fallen emperor, white haired but looking much the same as when he ruled Germany, welcomed the Romanoff Grand Duchess Kyra into his house—that of the proud Hohenzollerns—and gave a kindly word of advice to the bridegroom, his favorite grandson.

"My dear Louis Ferdinand," the 79-year-old former kaiser said, "you have a task to fulfill. You can fulfill it only with the help of God. Under his blessing and with strong belief in his son, our Master, I hope you will

Mystery Death Clear At Last

(By The Associated Press)

WALLA WALLA, Wash., May 4.— A few words murmured behind prison walls brought back into the spotlight tonight an asserted crime so nearly "perfect" it still puzzled authorities claiming a confession.

State Penitentiary Warden J. M. McCauley said an aged prisoner, Mrs. Mary Ellen Smith, had confessed she and her life-termer son, Earl De Casto Mayer, killed James Eugene Bassett, a former naval officer, ten years ago.

Used All Their Tricks

Police of two states used virtually all the scientific tricks available a decade ago in an unsuccessful attempt to extract a confession from the tight-lipped woman and her son.

Mrs. Smith and Mayer were caught in Oakland with Bassett's automobile, some of his personal property and a weird-looking "poison pistol"—one of the first such instruments designed to kill with lethal gas instead of bullets.

There was no corpus delicti—no proof that Bassett was killed. Mother and son held their tongues, and

Dear Charlie:—How I envy you,—
A nation's idol, through and through!
You're voted by the fans as tops
A rival to you surely flops.
Congratulations! How you shine.
Although you're only made of pine!
Do oil your joints and keep them limber!
You look like presidential timber.
At next election—should it rain—
I'll bet you'll even carry Maine!
And if to politics you'll cater
You may become our first dictator.
Well, should you run, of this take note—
I promise you will get my vote!

IN THE MAIL

FROM two widely separated water fronts came notes today from Lubbock residents.

Mesdames J. N. Nislar and R. A. McKinney sent a post card from Honolulu, Hawaii to tell us they docked April 21 via S. S. Lurline and were met by Mrs. J. F. Gregory and Mrs. Albert Mangelsdorf, the latter who will be remembered to her many Lubbock friends as the former Miss Celeste Ellis. The card shows a beach scene and bears real sand from the beach of Waikiki.

The mention of Hawaii reminds us that recently we innocently asked a man who had formerly lived on the islands how far Hawaii is from the United States. He gave us a quick glance and said rather shortly: "My dear young lady, Hawaii is a PART of the UNITED STATES."

FROM THE KNAPPS

FROM Corpus Christi came a letter from Mrs. Bradford Knapp who reports that Doctor Knapp is steadily improving. He looks better than he did when he left Lubbock several weeks ago she said, appears to be stronger and is in better spirits. If he continues his improvement they may return to Lubbock in two weeks. They are comfortably situated in a new cottage on Ocean Drive and have enjoyed visits from former Tech students and other friends.

LIQUID LIPTONE

AFTER all these years of applying lipstick several times through the day we receive word of a new lipcolor on the market, liquid liptone, that is guaranteed to stay on.

The very thought of a bloom that will not smear handkerchiefs, napkins or tea cups, that is a protection to lips guarding them against chapping and does away with grease and pasty coating, seems unbelievable.

The liquid is applied with a dauber after the lips are wiped dry. It comes in various shades for brunettes, blondes and redheads and can be purchased in Lubbock drug stores.

COMMENCEMENT GIFTS

YOU'VE been invited to attend the commencement exercises for some young friend. What most people immediately ask themselves is, "Does this mean I must send a present?"

No, it doesn't. Of course you'll sit down and write a friendly note of congratulation; commencement is a big day in the life of anyone. And a pleasant custom has grown up of late of sending a little remembrance along with the note—a gay handkerchief, for example. That will express your best wishes as well as an elaborate gift.

SPEED YOUR ANSWER

BUT it is important that you acknowledge a commencement invitation as soon as possible. Most graduation ceremonies are held in auditoriums where the seating accommodations are limited. Seniors seldom can invite as many persons as they would like to. So, if you have to decline, it is well to let your friend know in time to permit him to use your seat for someone else.

College commencements generally are spread over several days. The fact that you have been invited does not mean that the senior has arranged for a place for you to stop nights. Unless he tells you otherwise you are expected to look after those details yourself.

WHAT TO EXPECT

Most commencement weeks follow the same schedule. Saturday afternoon, for instance, class reunions and such events as the alumni-senior baseball game are held. Saturday evening the "senior dinner" is generally listed. (Unless you're especially invited for that don't plan on it.)

Sunday morning comes the baccalaureate services. In the afternoon, teas and get-togethers are scheduled at the halls of residence or fraternity and sorority houses. The commencement exercises themselves usually fall on Monday morning.

Don't be put out if your graduating host doesn't spend a great deal of time on you. Remember, he has lots of things to attend to—moving out of his four-year home, preparing to step out into the wide, wide world and saying his farewells to all his classmates. He is glad you're there, would miss you if you'd stayed away. But at commencement time, the senior is king.

PENINSULA, Calif., May 4. (Special)—The betrothal of Miss Leta Yvonne Ford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Claude L. Ford of Burlingame, Calif., and Hermon M. Lemons of Peninsula, son of Mrs. Ethel Lemons of Lubbock, Tex., was announced at a party given recently in the home of Mrs. George B. Phillips in Burlingame. The engagement notice, hidden in a bouquet of roses, came as a surprise to friends.

Miss Ford, a popular member of the younger set, attended the local public schools. She is an active member of the Burlingame Rebecca lodge. The bridegroom-elect lived in Lubbock until two years ago when he moved to Peninfula where he is associated with a wire and cloth company.

No date has been set for the wedding, although the rites probably will be solemnized in the fall.

Origin Of Tea Is Discussed And Sponge Cake Is Made

Tea and its origin was discussed by members of the Smyer home demonstration club which met recently in the home of Mrs. J. T. Gwin for a combination recreational and instructional program.

Mrs. DuWayne Taylor directed the 12 members and 5 visitors present in a recreation program.

When she demonstrated the making of a sponge cake, Miss Hazel Phipps, Hockley county home demonstrator, gave the following recipe:

Sponge Cake (Jelly-roll), 5 eggs, 1 cup sugar, 1 teaspoon lemon juice, 1 cup jelly, 1-2 cup grated lemond rind (lemon extract may be substituted), 1 cup flour.

Separate whites and yolks of eggs and beat yolks until thick and lemon colored. Add sugar gradually, then lemon juice and rind; cut and fold in sifted flour, and cut and fold in the stiffly beaten egg whites. Bake in an ungreased jelly-roll pan in a very moderate oven (250-325 degrees F.) about 15 minutes. Cut off the edges quickly after the cake has been baked and is still in pan. Then invert pan on a clean cloth which has been dusted with confectioner's sugar. Remove paper at once and spread jelly. Turn edge of cake about 1 inch; lift cloth up high enough to raise turned edge of cake off table. This starts cake rolling and continues as cloth is lifted higher.

"Yellow Stuff" Is Found And Gold Rush Being Started

NEW WESTMINSTER, B. C., May 4. (AP)—Road workers have started a "gold rush" near Point Roberts 24 miles south of here, after finding "flames of yellow stuff" in shovels of dirt.

Three hours before the mining recorder's office opened today, 13 members of the road crew were waiting to obtain licenses. Claims soon were staked off.

Saumel C. Cory, foreman of the crew, brought a small bag of the "yellow stuff" here and a jeweler described it as "probably gold", Cory said.

Geology students said they believed it washed down the Fraser river centuries ago. The point is near the international line.

Man Offers To Turn Over His Barber Shop To Anyone On Relief For Four Years

PHOENIX, Ariz., May 4. (AP)—A year ago E. B. Bridgewater, Phoenix barber, offered to turn over his shop to any man who had been on relief four years.

Bridgewater said today he hadn't had a single applicant, and concluded there must be "too much work" attached to his offer.

"My offer is still good," Bridgewater said as he kept busy in his little neighborhood shop. "I made it to prove that a man of initiative and energy can support himself and family in times like this. I still believe it."

The parthenon, finest example of ancient architecture, was ruined in 1687 by the explosion of a Turk powder magazine.

Tobacco Quotas Are Increased

WASHINGTON, May 4. (AP)—The senate voted today to speed up payment of subsidies on the 1937 cotton crop and to increase by two per cent the quotas for several types of tobacco under the crop control act.

The changes were approved as amendments to a bill providing for reallocation of unused 1938 cotton quotas.

An amendment by Senator Connally (D-Tex) would make possible early payment of $130,000,000 which congress provided as a bonus on the 1937 cotton crop for producers who complied with the 1938 quotas.

Basis Of Acreage Planted

The Connally amendment would enable the department of agriculture to determine compliance with the 1938 program on the basis of acreage planted instead of waiting until harvest time.

Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich) earlier told the senate "a rising tide of protest against the new farm program indicated the farmer is just beginning to realize what happened to him."

Chairman Smith (D-SC) of the senate agriculture committee charged the agriculture department had "misconstrued" the tobacco provisions by awarding quotas to individual farms on an acreage basis, instead of pounds as provided by the recently approved act.

DISTRICT PAYS BOND

O'DONNELL—The O'Donnell Independent school district has met a $5,000 claim for bonds and interest, on time, Miss Beverly Wells, tax collector-assessor, reported. The board refinanced its debt a year ago.

Co-Eds Tell Strange Stories Of How They Met Their Loves; Here Are Some Of Them

By MARGARET DEFENBAUGH

In the spring a young man's thoughts lightly turn to what the young woman has been thinking of all winter, so say the wags.

Anyhow, they're both at it, judging from a listening stroll over the campus.

The girls are talking of how they met their loves.

Kissed Her By Mistake

"I was at a party and the lights were turned out. We were playing Murder, a silly game. A boy who thought I was his fiancee kissed me. The lights went on. We still go together."

One co-ed admittedly trapped interest of the handsome fellow sitting across the aisle in a train. She went through the motions of hunting a match to light her cigaret, looking everywhere except where she knew she'd find it. Old stuff, but he obliged—and they're engaged.

A horse at a picnic pitched one lassie literally into the arms of the boy she "dates".

Another answered a buzz for her roommate. The roommate has been "almost cut out" since.

Was Almost Strangled

One naive girl said: "I was swimming in the river. Someone held me under until I almost strangled. When I came up the fellow was strange and he said, 'pardon me, I thought you were somebody else'."

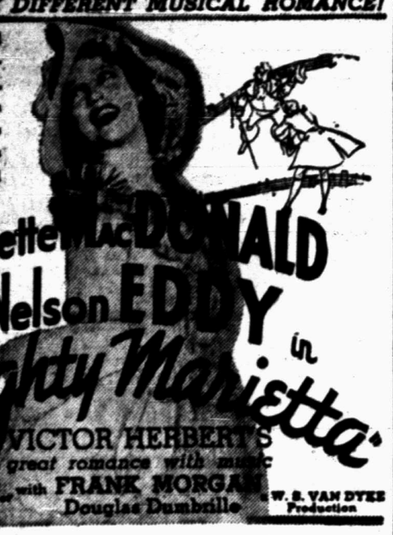

A choir singer decided the young man who had joined the church was "rather handsome." She had not been in the habit of going down and shaking hands with new members—but she did that time. They have been holding hands since.

At a football game a boy beat a girl on the back every time the going got exciting. He decided eventually he might as well introduce himself, and now he "may beat me the rest of my life." They're to be married this summer.

Ancient Chinese torturers discovered that a man becomes insane after the fifth or sixth day of sleeplessness and dies after 10 days of no sleep.

ONE MILLION DOLLARS VOLUNTEERED

Additional Fund Voluntarily Deposited with the State of Texas Gives Great American Policyholders Security Far in Excess of Legal Reserve Requirements

K. L. RIGGS
Agency Manager, West Texas
Member, Board of Directors

ON April 27th ONE MILLION DOLLARS was deposited with the Insurance Commissioner of the State of Texas by the Great American Life Insurance Company for the purpose of VOLUNTARILY providing its clients with the unsurpassed security of REGISTERED INSURANCE. This $1.000.000.00 is in addition to a Capital Deposit of $500.000.00 already being voluntarily maintained with the State Treasurer of Texas. The significance of this forward step is best found in the fact that the Great American becomes the ONLY old line legal reserve life insurance company in Texas maintaining a capital deposit in excess of legal reserve requirements.

STATE OF TEXAS
DEPARTMENT OF INSURANCE

Austin APR 27 1938

This policy is registered and approved securities equal in value to the legal reserve hereon are held in trust by the Commissioner of Insurance of the State of Texas.

A. H. David
LIFE INSURANCE COMMISSIONER

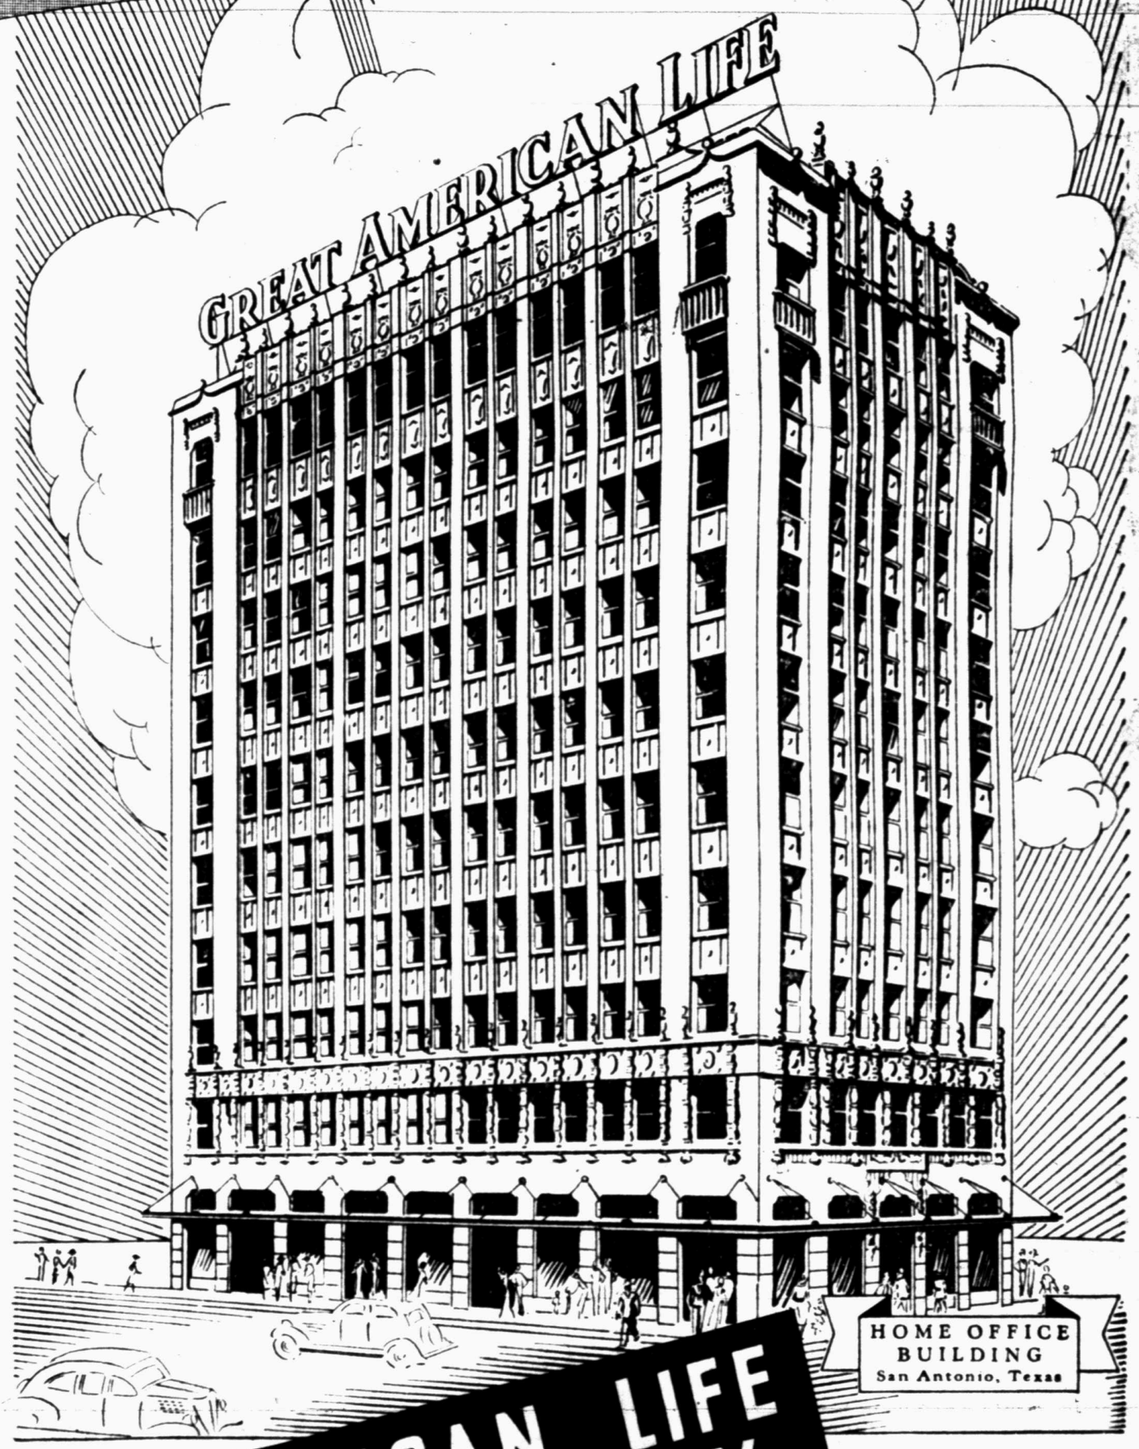

From this date forward Great American policies will display on their face the official seal and signature of the State of Texas Insurance Commissioner, a facsimile of which appears above, as testimony of the fact that policy owner protection and security are, and always have been, the foremost considerations of the Great American Life Insurance Company and its management. Policies now in force automatically share this added security.

The rewards of faultless trusteeship on the part of life insurance management is reflected in the extent to which American citizens have turned to this financial fortress for the protection and security that only old line legal reserve life insurance can guarantee. In this connection the Great American Life finds extreme gratification in having extended its sphere of service and protective guardianship to the point where it can now announce:

30 MILLIONS OF INSURANCE IN FORCE

Important emphasis is laid on this achievement when it is remembered that the Great American's first policy was issued February 2, 1931. In seven years, therefore, several of which witnessed severe national economic uncertainty, a financial institution has been raised from obscurity to a position of eminence and prestige not only among the great insurance organizations of the South but of the entire United States. Of even greater importance than the attainment of $30.000.000.00 insurance in force, from the policyholder's point of view, is the fact that among all old line legal reserve life insurance companies organized in the United States in the last 21 years only 7 possess today an amount of cash capital and surplus (policyholders' surplus) equal to or in excess of that of the Great American.

It is a tribute to the territory served by this Company that its record of advancement is one which many companies have not duplicated nor approached in twice or even three times as many years of operation. To all whom this Company has the privilege of serving now or in the future the Great American management renews its pledge of protective trusteeship, progressive advancement, and above every other consideration, SECURITY and SERVICE.

Indians Appear In Play Here

Lubbock High school students Wednesday became familiar with a new type of life, namely that of the Navajo Indians of Arizona. The Indian children will appear again in a play at the high school auditorium at 9:25 this morning, in which a Navajo wedding will be enacted.

The Indian children are from the Tuba City Vocational High school in Arizona where they are educated primarily to fit themselves for better living on the reservation. The children explained that the hardest thing for them to learn was to speak the "King's English." They also are taught regular academic work through the fourth grade and then are given vocational training.

Made Own Ornaments

Brilliant colors and ornamental work were expressed in the dress of the Indian students. Most of the silver ornaments were made by the Indian boys who worked in the silver shops of the school. Skirts of the girls contained seven yards of material with the primary colors. Many turquoise bracelets, ear rings, and necklaces were worn.

White pants were worn by the boys with velvet shirts, head bands of ribbon or cloth, and fancy belts. Both boys and girls wore leather moccasins. Most of the girls wore short hair but some few wound their hair into complicated knots.

Wedding Dramatized

In the play which they wrote, the students will dramatize the engagement of a Indian couple by their parents, the wedding in the couple's new home, and some Navajo dances. The words of the ceremony have been translated into English. All the stage settings were made by the students and the rugs were woven by the girls.

Students on the reservation publish a paper, the Ha-ni, meaning news or story telling. Rebecca Denetsosie is the editor and is a full-blooded Navajo.

The Navajo tribe is the largest tribe in the United States and is said to have adjusted itself more to modern life than any of the other Indians. It is the only tribe whose population is increasing.

The program is sponsored by the Lubbock public school faculty under direction of Miss Agnes True. Tickets are on sale for 15 cents for elementary students and 25 cents for Junior or Senior High school students.

Feeding The American Army From The Sky

How the U. S. Army can feed its men, even though they be far from sources of supply, is shown in these pictures, taken during maneuvers of the first cavalry division platoon near Fort Bliss, Tex. A big bombing plane is sent aloft loaded with provisions. Locating the platoon on the river, the flyers (1) release a parachute carrying food supplies. Drifting slowly earthward, (2) the parachute carries its burden to the cavalrymen. They remove the bundle (3) from the chute, find (4) that even eggs are not broken in the drop. This method of provisioning an army unit is especially effective where topography makes land travel difficult.

Baby Unwittingly Kidnaped As Thief Steals An Automobile

LOS ANGELES, Calif., May 4. (AP) Unwittingly kidnaped by an automobile thief, a 2-year-old baby girl was returned to the arms of its frantic mother today because a cafe cook listens to police radio calls at night while he works.

Pink-cheeked Sally Lea Tiesenga was left asleep in the back seat of the family automobile by her mother last night. When Herman Tiesenga returned the parked car and baby were gone.

William Tandrup, the cook, identified the car from police broadcasts, as he walked home from work this morning. By that time baby Sally Lea was objecting lustily to the whole situation.

WASHINGTON, May 4. (AP) — Senator Chavez (D-NM) said today he was encouraged over prospects the postoffice department would approved a request by the Continental Air Line to provide air mail service for Roswell and Carlsbad, N. M., on its El Paso-to-Denver route.

"I have conferred with all parties interested in this matter and I am very much encouraged over the prospects," Chavez said.

New Mexico Girl Singer Will Wed Movie Cowboy Star

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., May 4. (AP) —The engagement of Jane Clayton, Tularosa, N. M., singer and Russell Hayden, 25-year-old cowboy star, was disclosed by Hayden today.

Miss Clayton, daughter of a rancher, won a vocal contest as Miss Southwest in El Paso, Tex., a year ago and came here under contract to a film studio (M-G-M). She has given up picture work, however, and is continuing voice study.

Hayden, native of Chico, Calif., said no definite wedding date had been set, but it would be this summer. He is under contract at Paramount studios.

In its literal sense "Mikado" meant the Gate of the Imperial Palace, and then came to signify the emperor himself.

JACKIE TELLS REASON

LOS ANGELES, May 4. (AP) — Jackie Coogan said today his reason for filing a $4,000,000 suit against his mother and stepfather was his belief the latter was contemplating cashing, for the surrender value of $7,500, a $100,000 insurance policy on Coogan's life.

Endorsement Of FDR Claimed

WASHINGTON, May 4. (AP) — Chairman James A. Farley of the Democratic national committee, hailed the results of Tuesday's primary elections today as an endorsement of the Roosevelt administration, but such conservative Democratic senators as Copeland of New York and King of Utah professed to see no national significance in the returns.

Farley issued a statement saying the results showed "there exists no falling off in President Roosevelt's prestige and that the nation approves the legislation the president has advocated."

Congratulations Given

The president's son and secretary, James Roosevelt, sent congratulations by telephone to Senator Claude Pepper, a New Deal supporter, who piled up a long lead over Rep. J. Mark Wilcox and three other contestants in Florida's Democratic senatorial primary. Wilcox campaigned as a critic of some administration policies.

Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich.), recalling that Pepper had endorsed Dr. Francis E. Townsend's old age pension legislation during the Florida campaign, said:

"The president and Dr. Townsend will have to shake the dice to see who won."

No Issues Involved

Senator Austin (R-Vt.), like the Democratic conservation group, said he did not think any national issues were involved.

Secretary of Commerce Roper, viewing the results as Farley did, said the "outcome in Florida showed that the president's policies are very popular with the people."

He said he believed business and industrial leaders were aware that the trend "is distinctly and definitely progressive."

Three Democratic members of the senate up for renomination and reelection this year, Majority Leader Barkley of Kentucky; McAdoo of California and Duffy of Wisconsin, all viewed Tuesday's return as an endorsement of the Roosevelt administration. Barkley said it was "swell."

Senator Truman (D-Mo.) said the election results indicated "there will be a great many more coat-tail hangers from now on."

United States Army Has One Of Greatest Collections Of Race Horses In World

WASHINGTON, May 4. (AP)—The United States army has one of the most famous collections of race horses in the world.

This fact came to light today after filing of a suit in federal district court by Mrs. Agnes Allen of New York, seeking the return to her of the race horse Vanderpool, purchased five years ago by the war department.

Some Made Fortunes

Scattered at army posts and used for breeding purposes are thoroughbreds which once crashed the headlines of the nation's newspapers. Some made fortunes for their owners.

Now they serve to raise the standard of the army's cavalry horses.

The famous Aga Khan is in Texas. He won the Lawrence realization stake in 1924.

Pillory is in Nebraska musing on the great days when he won, in 1922 both the Preakness and the Belmont. In Oklahoma is Coventry, who won the Preakness in 1925.

Future Homemakers Of Texas Gathering For 19th Rally

SAN ANTONIO, May 4. (AP) — Nineteen years ago, 49 girls gathered in the basement of a church at Austin for a "girls' clothing contest."

Today, about 1,500 girls from all parts of the state were beginning to gather in San Antonio for the 19th annual future homemakers of Texas rally.

From farms, ranches and cities representatives of the 45,000 girls who are enrolled in home economic courses in 668 high schools are being sent to the rally, according to Miss Ruth Huey of Austin, state supervisor of home economics. The gathering is sponsored by the state department of education, and will continue through Saturday.

Most Brilliant Star In 40 Years Visible On Saturday

NEW YORK, May 4, (AP) — The most brilliant star in 40 years, formed by the palnets Venus and Mars standing apparently side by side, will be visible in the western sky at 6 p. m., central standard time, May 7.

This will be the first time since 1898 that two major planets have come so close together. Astronomers say that without the aid of glasses the pair will appear to be one star. The time to begin watching the unusual approach is tomorrow night.

The two stars then will be close together, noticeably closer on the sixth, and on the two nights after May 7 will separate at the same rate as their approach. Venus is moving up from the sun, Mars down toward the sun.

Actually, in the heavens, they will be 80,000,000 miles apart. Mars will pass, at that distance, almost directly behind Venus.

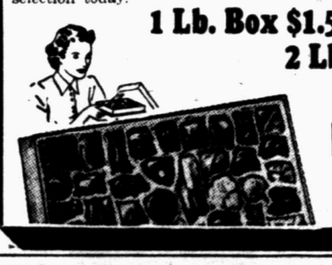

The first iron furnace in the United States was built in Virginia in 1619.

Banking Must Meet All Credit Needs If It Is To Remain In Private Hands

Business Needs Are Explained

WASHINGTON, May 4. (AP) — Jesse H. Jones, chairman of the Reconstruction Finance corporation, told business men and bankers today that "if banking is to remain in private hands, it must meet the credit needs of the country."

Jones spoke at a round table discussion on capital requirements of business before delegates to the 26th annual meeting of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce.

Is A Live Subject

"There is a bill now before congress to have the government take over the federal reserve banks," Jones said. "Whatever the outcome, it is a live subject, and if banking is to remain in private hands, it must meet the credit needs of the country."

Jones said there is a "widespread feeling that credit is not readily available at banks on the character of security that many businesses have to offer."

"I do not lay the responsibility for this feeling entirely to bank management," Jones declared, "although I am firmly of the opinion that banks generally have not been particularly wise or energetic in meeting the credit needs of the country.

"Upon the whole, the banker has not kept pace with changing credit requirements."

He said this was "probably due in part to bank supervision."

He added that since February 18, when the R.F.C. was authorized to resume lending to business and industry loans totaling $20,400,000 had been approved.

In addition, he said, "we have 2,600,000-odd applications, at our agencies, aggregating some $55,000,000."

Chinese Report Fast Progress

SHANGHAI, May 5 (Thursday) (AP) — Chinese today reported continued "rapid progress" in their counter-offensive on the center of the 30-mile Shantung front where fate of 100,000 Japanese troops daily becomes more uncertain.

In addition to the 12-mile gain previously reported northeast of Taierchwang, the Chinese asserted they had repulsed a Japanese attack at Nikow, ten miles to the northwest of that city.

Communications Cut

They also said a flying column had moved around the Japanese left flank and cut communications between Tancheng and their base at Linl.

Chinese sources estimated 34,000 Japanese soldiers had been killed or wounded in recent days around Tancheng and Pihsien.

To foreign military observers, it is now a puzzling question whether the Japanese attacking power really is spent or whether the invaders are merely recuperating and organizing for a final thrust.

Obviously aware of the latter possibility, the Chinese high command cautiously declared the "really decisive battle" was still to come. They said they expected an epochal Japanese defeat similar to that which humbled the invaders at Taierchwang a month ago.

In Precarious Position

Foreign military observers conceded the Japanese were in a precarious position and that if the Chinese drive continued vigorously it might end the threat to the vital Lunghai railway.

Foreign sources received a report that 2,000 communists of the Chinese eighth army had arrived in northwest Shantung to coordinate and intensify guerrilla activities behind the Japanese lines and threaten the bases of their whole Shantung campaign.

Meanwhile, the Japanese struck back with a furious air raid on Suchow, Chinese base and junction of the Lunghai and Tientsin-Pukow railways. Chinese reported 70 killed and wounded and 200 houses destroyed.

Tom Hunter To Make Opening Speech In About Two Weeks

DALLAS, May 4. (AP)—Tom Hunter said today he would make the opening speech in his campaign for governor in Dallas in about two weeks.

Arriving here to open state headquarters, Hunter said his platform would require only four minutes to read. "Voters," he said, "are weary of the constant flow of bilge handed out by politicians."

Chained To His Past

For seven years Dewey Terry of Passaic, N. J., has feared that he had not broken the last link with his past when he escaped from a North Carolina chain gang after serving less than a year of his murder sentence of 20 to 25 years. Police got the inevitable "tip" and now Terry is resigned to going back. He is shown above with his wife, Marie, whom he married after his escape, and Eugene, 10, his son by a former marriage.

Beauty School Is Winner In Court

AUSTIN, May 4. (AP)—The court of criminal appeals today held a beauty school or parlor need not be under direct supervision of a registered hairdresser or cosmetologist every minute of its operation.

It reversed and remanded a $5 fine assessed O. H. Bizzelle of San Antonio for violating a statute requiring his school to be under supervision of a hairdresser "at all times."

The court said a strictly literal construction of the law would make compliance impossible.

Absent Several Days

The state charged a supervisor employed by Bizzelle was absent from the school for several days last year. Testimony, however, showed the instructor left assignments with pupils before she absented herself.

"We do not wish to be understood as holding a supervisor might be absent for an unreasonable length of time," the opinion said, "but we think three or four days not unreasonable, especially in view of the preparations made by the teacher in giving assignments before leaving."

Slaying Terms Are Affirmed

AUSTIN, May 4. (AP)—The court of criminal appeals today agreed with a Nueces county jury that Eduardo Ramirez, alias Eduardo Hernadez, must serve a five-year penitentiary sentence for the 11-year-old slaying of Juan Pena.

Pena was slain with a pistol in 1927. Ramirez was indicted for the crime 10 years later. Defense attorneys had raised numerous objections to claimed identification of Ramirez as the slayer but the appellate court said it was evident he was "positively identified as the person doing the shooting by witnesses before the jury."

Another Is Affirmed

Also affirmed was a similar sentence given Gladys Trotti of Nacogdoches county for slaying Frankie Lee Bailey, a 14-year-old negro girl.

The court reversed and remanded conviction of Carl Stanley Anderson of McCulloch county, given two years and nine months for the death of Delores De La Garza whom the state charged was struck by an automobile driven by Anderson who was intoxicated. Two other persons struck by the automobile died of injuries. The appellate court said the trial court erred when it overruled a motion for a new trial.

Cleanup Drive Started Here

Lubbock's ninth annual cleanup-paintup campaign, which will be continued through May 17, was launched Wednesday.

Major portion of the work will fall upon the women's committee, members of which prepared for their activities at a meeting at the chamber of commerce that morning. Mrs. Clark M. Mullican is chairman and Mrs. Frank L. Winn vice chairman of the committee.

Divided Into Districts

For the purpose of inspections, the city was divided into 12 districts, each of which was assigned to a particular club. The individual club will be responsible for inspections of every piece of property within its district, Mrs. Mullican said. First inspection will be Monday and the second a week later.

Recommendations to individual property owners as to cleanup activities will follow the first inspection, it was explained. The second inspection will be to determine whether the recommendations have been filled.

Assignments Made

Clubs to which districts were assigned and members of committees of the individual clubs were announced as being:

Shakespeare — Mrs. J. D. Jones, Mrs. G. H. Pettigrew, and Mrs. L. R. Gamble; Junior 20th Century — Mrs. Tom Foster, Mrs. DeWitt Knapp and Mrs. George Gray; Sorosis — Mrs. G. W. McCleary and Mrs. Ed Tonn; A. A. U. W. — Mrs. N. H. Holt, Mrs. W. W. Yocum and Mrs. John W. Lynch; Forum — Mrs. H. J. Bingham, Mrs. C. J. Rollo and Mrs. G. H. Watkins; 1933 Study — Mrs. B. E. Needles, Mrs. John R. Hall and Mrs. E. M. McClure;

Athenaeum — Mrs. W. L. Hester, Mrs. W. B. Irvin and Mrs. S. T. Hodges; 20th Century — Mrs. Roscoe Wilson, Mrs. W. O. Stevens and Mrs. H. L. Allen; Woman's — Mrs. N. S. McBride, Mrs. J. E. Hamilton and Mrs. W. T. Raybon; Junior Sorosis — Mrs. Ben H. Jenkins, Mrs. Guy Wheatley and Mrs. Clarence Whiteside; Business and Professional —Miss Lavenia Williams, Mrs. Lottie Boles Hilton and Mrs. R. E. Wylie; Garden — Mrs. J. O. Ellsworth, Mrs. W. A. Jackson and Mrs. Altus Sansom.

One event which was to have signaled the formal start of campaign activities was blown out by the wind Wednesday. Eight airplanes were to have been flown over the city with screaming sirens at 9 a. m. The gale, however, made flying unsafe and plans were abandoned.

Funds For Weather Bureaus At 33 Points Being Asked

WASHINGTON, May 4. (AP) — Representative Maverick (D-Tex) urged the senate appropriations committee today to provide $449,951 for the establishment of 24-hour weather bureau stations at 33 important air route points in the country.

Included in the proposed sites were four Texas cities, San Antonio, Amarillo, Austin and Corpus Christi.

Maverick said he hoped the senate group would insert the item in the agriculture department bill. It was rejected by the house appropriations committee.

Pensions For War Veterans Will Be Raised To $40

WASHINGTON, May 4. (AP)—The house passed and sent to the senate today a bill to restore to $40 a month pensions for Spanish and World war veterans having permanent total non-service connected disability.

The pensions now are $30, having been reduced to that amount under an economic act.

The pensions committee estimated the bill, by Representative Gasque (D-SC), would affect 43,100 former soldiers and cost $5,182,000 a year.

Planting Rules Are Announced

Fallowing of but two rows of land in connection with the planting of feed crops on unallocated cotton acres will not be accepted as compliance with the 1938 agricultural conservation program, said Homer E. Thompson, assistant county agent, in a statement yesterday.

At least three rows must be left fallow, preferably four, on these acres, he said. Many farmers have been reported as claiming that two rows fallow was compliance, but they are in error, Thompson added. "Never less than 10 feet in the fallow strip," is the rule.

Acreage Is Increased

At the same time, Thompson said he had been advised by County Agent C. C. Jobson that an additional 4,000 acres had been allocated the county. This is about two per cent of the county's total, and will bring it up to over 163,000.

Many farmers have begun to plant feed or cotton, or both, on their acreages. The farm allocation of cotton acres has not been sent here from College Station. Jobson and Thompson are expecting the report shortly, but have no definite indications as to when it will reach here.

Quota Is Divided

In connection with additional allocation of acreage, Dawson county has been granted a 13,899 acre increase; Hockley county a 21,574 acre increase and others are expected to have substantial hikes in allocated acreages.

Jobson, in a letter received here, said he expected to be kept at College Station for at least two weeks.

Thompson said: "the practice of planting two rows of feed and two rows of fallow will not be accepted by the Agricultural Conservation association in the new farm program, as being two rows of depleting and two rows of conserving. On the fallow strips, in planting feed, the fallow strips should be three or four rows in width, and never less than 10 feet in the fallow strip.

Three Rows Of Fallow

"There should be at least three rows of fallow. Four rows of depleting crops planted is interpreted as strip cropping.

"The way the ruling stands today, without further amendments, four rows of cotton may be planted, and alternated with four rows of legumes or some conserving crop, but not fallow. An amendment has not come out yet designating fallow land as a conserving crop.

"This information is being given that the farmers may change their planting arrangements before it is too late."

Lubbock County Schools Are Invited To Enter Carnival

Six Lubbock county rural high schools and Lubbock and Slaton city schools have been sent invitations to send models to the sixth annual Cotton carnival to be conducted May 20 under auspices of the Kappa chapter of Phi Psi fraternity at Texas Technological college, said M. E. Heard, head of the college textile engineering department.

This week invitations to attend the carnival have been mailed to various persons in Lubbock and over the state.

Queen Cotton is to be elected Monday from among candidates entered by campus organizations. Defeated candidates will be members of her court. All appearing in the carnival will wear cotton apparel. Young women representing business firms will model cotton dresses.

The program will be presented in Senior High school auditorium.

Deadline for filing names of candidates for Queen Cotton will be 7 p. m. Thursday, said Maxine Fry, student president. Any campus organization may present a nominee for the position. The election will be conducted Monday.

BAILEY MAN HURT

MULESHOE—John S. Williams, West Camp, a county commissioner of Bailey county, was seriously injured in a fall from a windmill at his home and is in a Clovis, N. M., hospital. He with a brother and two employes were erecting a windmill tower and Williams was on the 20-foot tower when the wind whipped the tail around knocking him to the ground. He has a 50-50 chance to recover, his physician said.

GET SCHOLARSHIP HONORS

LITTLEFIELD — Miss Ruth Pumphrey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. Clay Pumphrey, with an average of 94.6 per cent, was named valedictorian of the 1938 graduating class of the high school. Reginald Harlan, with 93.3 was named salutatorian. Each will receive a scholarship in a Texas college, to be announced later. Honorable mention for high grades was accorded Ruth Griffin, Alma Walraven and Frank Barton.

Tech Netters Face Christians Today

Abilene Christian college racqueteers invade the Texas Tech courts today for return matches with the Red Raider tennis department.

For Tech it's a chance to get even for a licking the Raiders took in the wind-up matches of a mid-April tour of Texas, and for tennis fans it's one of the last chances to see the Techs in action this spring. They go to Tempe for the Border conference tournament later this month.

Coach Jimmy Allen announced yesterday he was switching his lineup a trifle, moving Wilson Chapman to the No. 1 place, Harry Jordan to the No. 2 slot, Sidney Moore and Aubrey McCarty fill the other slots. Jordan and Moore team for the double defense, Chapman with McCarty.

McCarty was the only one of the quartet victorious in singles when Tech and A. C. C. played at Abilene recently, winning from Hilling. McCarty and Chapman teamed to win a doubles match from Sellers and Taylor.

The A. C. C. lineup probably will consist of Jones, Taylor, Marshall and Hilling, with Sellers probably playing in the doubles with Taylor. The matches begin at 2 o'clock at the Tech courts, and the public is invited.

Hubbers Win Wild Contest Over Midland Under Arcs Wednesday Night, 17-11

(Special To The Avalanche)

MIDLAND, May 4. — After 3 hours and 20 minutes of play here tonight Lubbock had won the second game of the shortened series with Midland, 17 to 11.

A fistfight and plenty of baserunning featured the contest which saw four pitchers take turns on the mound for each club. J. C. Vincent, starting Hubber hurler passed the first four men to face him in the opening frame.

Five Homers Are Hit

The Cardinals piled up a 10 to 4 lead through the fourth inning but saw it fade before the eighth. Jimmy Morris, Ellsworth Suytar, and Ballinger of Midland and Manager Hack Miller and Joe Gedzius of Lubbock crashed home runs.

Boyd Watkins, Hubber centerfielder, was the leading hitter of the affray, banging out a double and three singles in five times at bat. Johnny Taylor and Pope Mize each collected three singles in six trips.

Bob Mosel, Lubbock firstsacker, was spiked in the second inning and gave way to Al Carr. In the fifth Ares Dosdoorian, Redbird keystone guardian, and Carr came to blows but were separated before much damage was done.

Manager Miller used Cashimir Kaliski, Vernon Wilson and Taylor on the hill after Vincent was sent to the showers. Hank Froschauer, Warren, Cliff Neighbors, and Clarence Beers toiled for the Cards.

Lubbock moves to Big Spring tomorrow for the three-game series with the Barons and Midland goes to Hobbs.

Barons Sweep Hobbs Series In Wednesday Slugfest

BIG SPRING, May 4. (Special)— Johnny Soden survived a belated Hobbs rally here this afternoon to give Big Spring a clean sweep of the three-game series. The locals retained the league leadership by winning, 11-9.

Soden surrendered 12 hits to the Boosters and was in a bad way in the eighth frame when the visitors tallied three runs and had runners on first and third. He was able to walk to safety when Douglass Harkey pulled Smyly's long fly out of the blue in centerfield for the final out.

The Barons collected 14 safeties off three Hobbs hurlers. Soden went the distance.

Al Berndt broke loose to pace the victors with the hickory, gamering a double and two singles in four trips. Hank Henderson and Dick Hobson clouted home runs for the Barons.

Lefty Jacot is due to get the pitching assignment in the opening game of the series with Lubbock Thursday.

Wink Takes Final Game To Even Series With Clovis

WINK, May 4. (Special)—An error in the fourth inning and a balk in the eighth allowed Wink to even the bobtailed series with Clovis winning here tonight, 6 to 5.

Clovis got off to a four-run lead in the third frame when Vic Wyss parked one of Raines' heaves for four bases with two aboard. The Spudder hurler, however, kept a dozen Clovis hits well scattered.

Jim McDonald, Pioneer first sacker, dropped a throw to his corner in the fourth to aid Wink in a three-run rally as the homelings forged ahead. Clovis tied the count in the fifth. A balk by Jones in the eighth put across the winning Spudder tally.

Nutt, Wink shortstop, muffed a made-to-order double play ball in the third to give Clovis three runs. The Spudders played loosely afield.

Thirdbaseman Spangler had a perfect night at the bat for the victors with a single, double and triple, coupled with two free passes in five trips. Barnhill and Cheeves hit for the circuit for Wink.

Malcolm Stevens Is Mace Leader For Hubber Nine

Young Malcolm Stevens, chunky second baseman, led the Hubbers in batting throhgh Monday's game at Midland, having lashed out 13 hits in 26 journeys to the platter for an even .500 average.

He supplanted Shortstop Joe Gedzius, who was over the .500 mark until the series opener at Midland. Manager Hack Miller is in third place, with Joe Carr only a few notches back in fourth slot.

A dozen hits off Miller's bats have gone for a total of 29 bases and have sent 13 runners across the plate. The Hubber helmsman has five two-baggers, a trio of triples, and two homers. Gedzius and Carr are tied with Miller for the home run lead.

Only two regulars are batting below the .300 clip and five are topping .400. Pope Mize is the fifth with .407. Notable in the big right-fielder string is the fact that his 11 base hits have all been singles.

Vernon Wilson's victory over the Cardinals Monday gave him the pitching lead after false starts Saturday and Sunday when he received credit for neither win nor loss. Marvin Gramly appears to be the workhorse of the crew having toiled 17 innings on the mound in three games. He has won two and lost one.

Jerry Blanchard has won one after pitching one ball for a loss in his first start at Clovis.

Bob Cummings Upsets Dope And Hartay For Main Event Victory Here Last Night

Bob Cummings beat George Hartay to the "kick" twice last night to hang up a neatly turned main event victory at Sled Allen's rassling arena.

Cummings, one of the most improved grapplers of the circuit, had his mind made up before he reached the ring last night, and he wouldn't quit even when he was down. Anticipating a drop-kick attack from the Hungarian, Cummings got his own long legs in the air, crashed them against the Hartay torso, followed up with three body slams—and won the first fall in something under fifteen seconds.

He lost the second to Hartay's high speared rolling headlock in about 17 minutes, and took the third with more drop kicks in seven minutes of the third spasm.

Bob's In A Hurry

After the introductions and instructions, a tthe start of the fracas, Cummings stood poised in his corner, his glittering eyes trained on the Hartay person. At the gong, he met Hartay with a crashing drop kick, and it was over almost as it started.

The Hartay headlock worked in the second fall, and after a couple of "rolls" around the ring, Cummings was through.

The semifinal of last night's show took the cake for hilarious action. It also introduced a newcomer who is pretty certain to make a hit with the folks if he hangs around. The name is Buzz Reynolds, and he hails from Ohio. He is a brother of Dave Reynolds, a nephew of the famous Jack Reynolds, and he appears to be well on his way to carrying out the old Reynolds tradition only in a saner, more gentlemanly way.

Davis The Villain

Dilly Davis, red-headed Houston villain, was Reynolds' opponent. Their fight went to a draw, but it was exciting all the way. With Rex O'Sullivan in charge as referee, and doing his customary question mark job, Davis got away with everything but murder, worked the ropes on offensive better than Sailor Moran, and had a staying power that surprised the customers. He was met by a clever, fast-moving Ohioan who took pretty good care of himself, in spite of the officiating, winding up by tying Davis' shoestrings together and setting him up for a perfect drop-kick attack. But Davis took one, and rowed for the ropes where he used up the remaining time trying to figure the thing out.

Andy Tremaine substituted for Carl Von Bromberg, the German newcomer who didn't get here from Abilene, and fought a draw with Soldier Thomas of Washington in the prelim.

Three Are Tied For Medal In TGA Tourney

By FELIX R. McKNIGHT
Associated Press Sports Writer

FORT WORTH, May 4. — Three wind snubbers—two of them virtually unknown, the other a seasoned campaigner — headed the fastest field in the Texas Golf association's 36-hole history today in a qualifying round made dangerous by brisk breezes.

Jack Munger, of Dallas, former Southern champion; Floyd Malone and Charles Moore, two Fort Worth youngsters with little tournament triumphs behind them, led the medal round with one-over-par 71's.

Has Disappointing Finish

A disappointing finish kept Munger, medalist of the Glen Lakes invitation tourney at Dallas last week, from bagging his second straight qualifying test. He needed pars on the seventeenth and eighteenth to finish with a subpar 69, but caught bogieswith rough and green trouble.

For Moore, former Tulane university student and now Fort Worth oil man, the round was one of his best in tournament play in recent years. He carded four birdies but five times fell out of step with par.

Malone Has 34-35

Malone, iron shot artist, blazed around the first nine holes in 34, one under par, but got lost in the wind on the homeward trip and gave away two shots to par 35.

None, however, suffered the disappointment of 17-year-old Norman Rowland, son of a Fort Worth professional and student of North Texas Agricultural college. A slender, 130 pound kid who stands six feet, one inch, he astounded the gallerylites clustered around the ninth green when he rammed down a birdie putt and shyly admitted his score at 31—four under par—for the first nine.

He teed off for the last nine and immediately gathered four consecutive bogies, lost his grip on par, and finally completed his blowup by taking a seven on the par four eighteenth hole that gave him an inward 45 and a 76 total.

Red thatched Morris Norton of Wichita Falls, West Texas champion was alone at 72, while bunched at 73 were such names as Walter Emery, 1935 National amateur finalist and current Houston invitation titlist; Billy Bob Coffey, Fort Worth; Spec Goldman, 1934 National amateur finalist; Reynolds Smith, Dallas Walker Cup star and defending champion, and O'Hara Watts, Dallas.

Harry Todd of Dallas, former champion who has never been known to lose on the Colonial course, site of his Texas Open triumph, scrambled in with a 76 after a bad start while Bobby Riegel of Beaumont, former Southern champion, carded a 74 and Dennis Lavender of Dallas, another former champion rallied for his 75.

Gabby Street Thinks Tribe Sure To Win

By GAYLE TALBOT
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, May 4.—The Cleveland Indians have made a firm believer out of your old friend Gabby Street, who limped in here with his St. Louis Browns. Barring injuries or tiffs among the players, he thinks Cleveland will win out in the American league.

The "Old Sarge" it might be pointed out, was not struck on the head by that ball dropped off the Washington monument back in 1908. He caught it in his big mitt, and he still has all his buttons.

They Are Terrific

"They're a terrific team as they stand now," he insisted. "They've nicked us four out five, and my boys are playing good ball, believe it or not. There's no reason in the world why they shouldn't beat the Yankees if they continue to play heads-up for Oscar Vitt.

"Yeah, I know. They've started like this before and then fallen apart, but they don't look like that to me this time. They're really hustling and their pitching is brutal. All my boys say Bob Feller is harder to hit than ever, and they can't wait him out, either. He'll throw three balls now and then zip three fast ones right down the middle."

Sullivan Did Right

Billy Sullivan, young Brown catcher, said he was sorry he ruined Feller's no-hitter on the second day of the season by beating out a bunt.

"No, don't feel that way," said the Sarge. "We were still in the ball game when you got that hit. Anyhow, a no-hitter doesn't mean anything unless every batter does his best right to the last out. Walt Johnson was absolutely right that time he sent in a pinch-hitter in the ninth and spoiled a no-hitter for Tommy Bridges."

Mustangs Meet Marquette On Soldier Field As First Slated

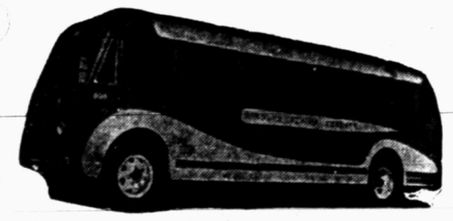

MILWAUKEE, May 4. (AP) — Marquette university athletic officials announced today the Marquette-Southern Methodist university football game Oct. 7 will be played at Soldier Field, Chicago, after all.

The game will be a charity affair, sponsored by the Chicago Catholic archdiocese.

Originally, the game was scheduled for Soldier Field, but the arrangements were cancelled and Marquette planned to bring the game to Milwaukee. Later the athletic directors of Marquette and S.M.U. arranged the new sponsorship with the Chicago archdiocesan leaders.

Theater Owners Protesting Top Salaries Paid Movie Stars Who Have Lost Appeal

HOLLYWOOD, May 4. (AP)—Sharp criticism of movie producers for paying top salaries to stars who have lost their draw at the box office is contained in a trade publication advertisement appearing today over the signature of the Independent Theater Owners Association, inc.

Representing many hundreds of "non-circuit" theaters throughout the United States, or theaters not controlled by the studios themselves, the independents said the practice was "not only burdensome to the studios and the stockholders, but to the exhibitors who, in the final analysis, suffered by the non-drawing power of these players."

Several Are Mentioned

"Among these players," the advertisement continued, "whose dramatic ability is unquestioned but whose box office draw is nil, can be numbered Mae West, Edward Arnold, Greta Garbo, Joan Crawford, Katharine Hepburn and many others.

"Garbo, for instance, is a tremendous draw in Europe, which does not help theater owners in the United States. Hepburn turned in excellent performances in 'Stage Door' and 'Wake Up Baby,' but both pictures died."

"Kay Francis, for instance, is still receiving many thousands a week from Warners on an old contract," continues the advertisement. "Yet, so far as her draw, she is now making 'B' pictures.

Title To Valuable Property Basis Of Court Battle

DICKENS, May 4. (Special)—Title to approximately $250,000 represented by northwest Kent county property near the Gulf No. 1 Swenson oil test was basis of a case that will be appealed from district court here to the seventh district court civil appeals at Amarillo.

Thad Bryant of Texarkana, Ark., was party plaintiff. He sought in his suit naming approximately 15 defendants title to mineral interests in about 10,000 acres. He asked specific performance in a purported contract delivering and assigning leases. He contended he had complied with an escrow agreement with one of the defendants.

Not in court here, the plaintiff was permitted to take a non-suit Monday.

W. D. Wilson of Lubbock and H. A. C. Brummett of Dickens represented Bryant.

Death of a Littlefield man and serious injury to another early Wednesday near Lockney was reported to Lubbock officials of Fort Worth and Denver City railway.

The Parking Meter Muddle

TO state that Lubbock's parking meter situation has been beclouded since its beginning would be triteness.

To say that today it is in a worse muddle than ever before is to recognize a condition apparent to all.

So involved is the issue that an attempt to deal even sketchily with its ramification in the limited space here would be an impossibility. To suggest whether the ordinance may or may not be valid, or whether the motorist should or should not deposit his nickel in the gadgets would be preposterous when the experts at law—even the judges—disagree on those points.

However, the consoling probability in connection with the recent unpleasantness in county court relative to parking meters is that it is almost certain to force, before very long, a final test of the question, so the motorist will know positively whether or not he must continue to feed the meter kitty.

The situation as it now stands briefly is this: Lubbock county court holds the meters are not constitutional; district courts and the court of civil appeals have held that they ARE constitutional; city officials say they will continue to attempt the enforcement of the ordinance by issuing corporation court warrants for those refusing to obey it; anyone for whom such a warrant is issued will have the privilege of appeal to county court; county court, to be consistent, must quash the complaint; and from that action, the city cannot appeal.

It, of course, is apparent that the motorist who does appeal to county court will go to a lot of inconvenience and some expense. Some, however, will do just that if only because of principle. It is from some such source that the final positive test likely will come, perhaps with the filing on behalf of the city of injunctive proceedings asking a district court to compel the owner of a vehicle parked at an idle meter to deposit his nickel.

Meanwhile, about the only advice that could be offered as to whether the individual motorist should continue feeding the gadgets is: Use your own judgment.

Our Attitude Toward China

THE intense sympathy of the overwhelming mass of the American people for the Chinese in the war with the Japs tends to blind us somewhat to the possibility that China might some day become infinitely more of a "yellow peril" to the white race than ever has been true of Japan.

In support of that seemingly preposterous statement need be cited only the modern history of the Japanese. Less than 90 years ago Japan was one of the most backward of nations. To have suggested then that the Japs might some day be regarded as a "peril" would have been to invite ridicule. Yet the fact is that they now are so regarded, with abundant reason.

Suppose something should happen to arouse China from her slumber. Suppose her more than 400,000,000 people—there are fewer than 70,000,000 Japs—should become imbued with an intense nationalistic spirit. Suppose the Chinese should begin to convert their immense national resources—the Japs have few—into tools of war. Suppose that China—which is almost as crowded as Japan—should demand more land for her immense population. If those things should happen—and the possibilities admittedly are remote almost to the point of non-existence—white peoples of the world then would be faced with a real yellow peril.

However, the fact that such a thing is possible is not likely to sway American sympathies in the present conflict. They will continue to hope that the Chinese succeed in their endeavor to drive the Japs into the sea.

Believe It Or Not---By Robert Ripley

EXPLANATION OF CARTOON

ARMLESS WINNER IN PENMANSHIP

Although, 10-year-old Edward Higgins, of Pueblo, Colorado, was born without arms, he not only can do practically everything with his toes that the average boy does with his fingers, but in some cases he does things even better. This was shown recently when he won a national award in penmanship against a field of skillful competition.

When Edward was very young, his parents, instead of pampering him, decided that the thing to do was to treat him just as they would a youngster who had both arms, so that he would not develop an inferiority complex and become shy and timid. He went in for the same activities and rough and tumble as any other healthy, growing youngster and had the average crop of bumps and bruises.

Besides being an expert penman, Edward shows artistic talent and enjoys sketching with his toes. He is also an adept with carpenter's tools and wants to be a mechanic when he grows up. He has his own set of tools which he uses in doing odd jobs around the house and in making useful objects.

* * *

Yesterday: Jackie tells Roger of her romantic predicament and Roger suggests he has a way to help her.

CHAPTER III

The field was not a large one, but it had two concrete runways, a radio tower, a revolving beam and floodlights. The days were getting longer, so now as Jackie and Roger watched the mechanics wheel the ship, that looked like an awkward big bug on the ground, out of the hangar, the sky was a soft gray in the east while in the west the horizon still held the last lingering rosy patches from the sun.

"I love this time of day!" Jackie said with a sort of awed reverence. "The world is so hushed and perfect, like a beautiful bubble holding all the rainbow colors."

"Wait till you see it all wrapped up in its dark blanket, Roger predicted. "With the stars popping through and the moon trailing behind us. Then those other stars below, little towns lighting their thousands of candles and the string of jewels along the highways, like a diamond necklace. No one has ever seen anything, until he's flown at night."

He helped Jackie into the cockpit, climbed in beside her. It was as luxuriant as any limousine with its leather upholstery and polished dashboards with so many shining instruments. The automatic starter sent the propeller whirling; they waited a few moments until the engine's hum was rhythmic and steady, then taxied across the field.

Now came the moment that never failed to thrill Jackie, that last rushing contact with the earth, and then that swift upward surge as they left it behind. It seemed to her as though it was the world below that was falling away, rather than the plane that was moving. There was always that other moment, too, when they had gained altitude and started flying on a level, in which the ship seemed to have stopped suddenly, held suspended by unseen hands high up in the heavens.

Jackie forget everything else for awhile, even Roger close beside her, as she looked down watching the miracle of night take place. She almost held her breath it was so beautiful, the gathering shadows growing darker and darker and then the little blinking lights turning on one by one in tiny toy villages until the world lay all glittering and dancing, like a lady's sequin shawl. The stars came out, too, myriads of them, and the moon, round and golden, trailed along behind, as Roger had promised.

Only after she had filled all her senses, as one might breathe deeply of some strange hypnotic fragrance, did Jackie remember, with a little start, that he had made her another promise as well.

"What was the idea you had, Roger?" she asked, turning toward him. "It will have to be a good one. You don't know Mother. And you do know now I feel about marriage and love and all that sort of thing."

Roger assured her he knew all about that. She had impressed it upon him often enough. "But your mother can't force you to marry him, or anyone," he reminded. "That just isn't being done in this enlightened age." They had only to raise their voices ever so slightly as the motor was not noisy. The air was very calm; they were at an altitude of 3000 so that only now and then, when they hit an air-pocket, was there much sensation of movement.

"You don't know Mother," Jackie repeated darkly.

"You'll have to get married sometime, won't you?"

"Not necessarily. . . . Oh, maybe, when I've done everything else I want to do and feel myself getting bored. I might get married just to keep from being too lonely in my old age—to whomever happened to be handy. But goodness, Roger, I thought you said you had an idea!"

"Don't rush me!" he cautioned. "Remember I have to keep my mind on a few other things, too." He banked the ship sharply, turning it almost on its side. But since he had given her "all the works," rolls, loops, spins, dives, and whip-stalls, in the open ship he used for stunting, Jackie did not let out so much as a murmur. She could take anything he could hand out, which may have been why he threw her a side-glance of silent admiration.

Or again perhaps the moon—which Jackie had assured Evelyn they never noticed—had had something to do with it. For now it shed its silvery sheen over Jackie's face bathing her in an almost ethereal beauty. Roger caught his breath—and looked away.

"I don't believe you have any plan at all!" Her voice held a tinge of impatience. It ought not take him this long to concoct one. Besides, she knew that this ship practically flew itself.

"Sure I have. Nothing to it." Roger snapped his fingers in illustration. "Simply tell your mother that we are going to get married."

"But we're not!"

"You never can tell. What I mean is, I might happen to be that guy who happened to be handy when you get old and bored and feeble. But that isn't the point." He kept her in suspense a minute, cleared his throat, leaned forward to pretend to adjust an instrument. He would have to watch his step or he might say something that would make Jackie reject his plan. This was a "fine" way to try to win a girl, he thought grimly. When he should have simply swept her into his arms and smothered her with kisses.

Still, even were such a proceeding possible—which it certainly would not be with Jackie—it might not be wise to attempt it at an altitude of three thousand feet and a speed of a hundred and forty miles an hour.

"We can pretend we're going to get married, can't we?" Roger said. "Pretend we're engaged. A sort of trial flight engagement—make believe. . . ."

"But I never heard of such a thing!"

"I promised you you hadn't. I never did, either. But if we can put it over, your mother can go ahead and marry her Mr. John Paul Scott and you can go ahead and do all the things you want to do with your life. . . ."

"You mean we wouldn't really have to be engaged at all—never get married, unless of course, as you say. . . . But Mother didn't say a thing about marriage! She simply said if she knew I was engaged she could accept Mr. Scott. Why, Roger, that's a perfectly swell idea! You're a perfect lamb to think of it, to help me carry it through. . . . You will help me, won't you?"

"To the bitter end," he vowed solemnly. He put out a hand. They shook on it gravely. A fine way to seal an engagement, Roger thought!

They were circling the field now; they could watch the wide arc made by the beacon as it switched this way and that, like a gigantic, illuminated eye. Roger adjusted the earphones. He plugged in another pair for Jackie. "Okey, Breckner," a thin squeakey voice burst suddenly on their ears. "Field all clear. Watch slight north-west wind . . . field all clear, watch slight north-west. . . ." They circled lower and lower as the message kept droning a repeat. Then the flood-lights blazed on, turning the landing mat into a brightly lighted stage, the ship sailed smoothly down and down, skimming over the roof of the hangar, shaking slightly, like a bird settling on its nest, as it made contact with solid ground again, lumbering, its huge wings stilled, toward the runway.

Would their plan, that had seemed as feasible and simple as flying, work out so smoothly now that they were no longer up in the clouds, but back to earth again?

The News Behind The News

WASHINGTON
By Ray Tucker

OLD-FASHIONED Democrats on Capitol Hill cupped their good ears in vain for a White House word deprecating or deploring all this "new"—not "third" party jabber. Their cloakroom conclusion has the President bestowing a left-handed blessing on the realignment movement.

Fact is that the LaGuardias, LaFollettes and Berles are simply echoing Mr. Roosevelt's private and public ideas. F.D.R. sincerely thought that the grand breakup had materialized with his reelection, but he now discovers that almost every party leader (Garner, Harrison, Glass, Farley, Hague, Lehman) has other views. They're looking backward, not forward, in presidential opinion. They still vote "Democratic," while he votes "New Deal."

Sub-Cabinet Member Berle, who attended the LaFollette powwow as a not so "unofficial observer," privately blueprints the 1940 layout. He has a homely remedy: Let reactionary Republicans line up with conservative Democrats either in a coalition or through endorsement of the latter's presidential nominee. Then, rallying around a Roosevelt heir, the nation's liberals (labor, farmers, Progressives, etc. will challenge the politicians to a test. The suggestion impresses wiseacres as a trial balloon with strings trailing into the White House.

OUTLOOK: An authentic review of a heaving diplomatic world reveals black areas here and there (Germany, Spain, China), but long-range prospects are looking up for the first time in many months. Well-informed statesmen see this picture:

WAR: Prospects for continued peace gloomy six months ago, now much more cheerful. Japanese reverses and Anglo-Italian treaty restoring European balance-of-power system are the chief cause for improvement. Outbreak once scheduled for 1939 or 1940 probably staved off for another decade. In any event, U. S. expects to stay out.

UNITED STATES: Administration advocates treaty observance, abstention from force, settlement of future disputes peacefully. Other nations don't—yet. Therefore we must arm pending spread of "good neighbor" idea.

SOUTH AMERICA: Relations vastly improved through scrapping of "dollar diplomacy" and Roosevelt's transformation of Monroe doctrine from patronizing into consultative document. South American republics now stoutly resisting economic, cultural, commercial penetration by fascist, communist, Japanese forces. Roosevelt-Hull restraint with respect to Mexico's oil expropriation convinces even Latin skeptics of our friendship and forbearance. Kindly Josephus Daniels is a better salesman than marines and machine guns.

DEVELOPMENTS: Here is the European and Far Eastern outlook:

PEACE: Washington hopes Chamberlain-Mussolini pact will be extended to include France and Germany, producing temporary "economic appeasement" and ending recurring crises between "democratic" and "dictator" nations.

GERMANY: Shaky on finances and raw materials but, as in 1914-1918, may carry on indefinitely under closely-knit, dictatorial control. Still moving toward Balkan suzerainty in old Berlin-Bagdad dream. Will probably obtain Sudeten strip of Czechoslovakia without provoking general war if demand for Anschluss can be made to seem a spontaneous home-town affair.

RUSSIA: Strict censorship veils plans and preparations, especially in Far East. Militarily strong defensively, not offensively. Army moral probably shaken by purge of old generals. Moscow wants no immediate showdown with Japan.

JAPAN: Recent military setback serious, damages prestige, but not necessarily fatal. Next few weeks may tell, when rains muddy fighting terrain. Finances strained (not much gold), necessitating Samurai insistence on vesting complete control over industrial, financial and economic resources in Tokyo.

SPAIN: Franco triumph inevitable, but loyalists will resist desperately—leaders would rather die on battlefield than before firing squads. Abandonment of loyalists is the price Britain pays for Italian rapprochement. Whether Il Duce will clear out after Franco conquest, including civilian engineers, etc., now vital question. Refusal would revive British and French suspicions of Rome's friendly aims, promises and purposes.

THUNDER: White House aides, including the highest, are raging over Henry Ford's disclosure of his face-to-face indictment of New Deal recovery moves. They're quietly spreading the word that the auto magnate turned up "tongue-tied" at the presidential conference, and assailed F.D.R.'s proposals only after he had boarded a train.

It all depends on whose version you choose to accept. Roughly, what happened is that the land's most famous household fatted the family calf, and Mr. Ford declined to eat—he's a light eater, anyway. The interview was arranged by G. Hall Roosevelt, Mrs. Roosevelt's brother, and publicized as a grand get-together. It was hoped, without any advance justification, that the Detroit man would utter an endorsement of the presidential program.

Night before the luncheon the White House called in a Detroit newspaperman who knows Mr. Ford well. The correspondent warned that what did happen would happen, but then it was too late to withdraw the ads from the papers, to sneak the guest in through a back door. Meanwhile, the automobile man arranged in advance for two Detroit newspaper cronies to ride to New York with him and publicize his disgust with New Deal policies he forgot to lambast at the White House luncheon. Mr. Ford even initialed the Detroit Free Press' straight-from-the-shoulder smash—proof that he meant what he said even if he didn't say it to his host. He also wired congratulations to a New York reporter whose report had him telling Marriner Eccles (author of the lend-spend program) he didn't know what he was talking about.

NEW YORK
By James McMullin

GOVERNOR Philip LaFollette of Wisconsin has bitten off two huge problems in launching his National Progressive Party of America at this juncture. One is the practical question of building a party machine on a national scale. No political army composed solely of generals and privates can get anywhere in this country. A large and competent staff of lieutenants and non-coms—local leaders—must be created, trained and coordinated. That's a task of heroic proportions when you have to start from scratch. Obviously the new party can't cut much ice in this year's election, and it will take a miracle of organization to bring it to the stature of a major party by 1940.

The second problem is an exceptionally delicate assignment in political diplomacy. The LaFollettes must capture the allegiance of a large proportion of Mr. Roosevelt's faithful followers if they are to make any kind of a showing. Therefore they cannot afford to attack the New Dealers' number one hero too sharply. At the same time, in order to disassociate themselves from the President's personal leadership, they do have to find fault with him. It will take superlative navigation to steer safely between these shoals.

Formation of a new LaFollette-LaGuardia liberal party was forecast exclusively in this column two months ago.

FINANCES: Contrary to popular impression, the new spending program will not impose a tremendous burden on the Treasury in the near future.

The desterilization of gold has made available a large supply of cash for which, paradoxically, it had no immediate use. These funds are being used to retire $50,000,000 of Treasury bills each week, thus making at least a small and temporary dent in the federal debt.

Actual government expenditures for the balance of 1938 will not run much higher than last fall's estimate. It will take months for the public works part of the program to get going. W.P.A. outlays will step up by degrees, not suddenly.

The Plainsman Says:

That Girl on Broadway says the average dream lasts only five seconds, which proves all over again what an unusual fellow Doc Townsend really is.

THE more a fellow sees of the world, the better home looks when he returns.

And the more we learn of conditions in other countries, the more we are convinced that ours is a pretty good one, after all.

Everybody knows about conditions in Germany and Italy, where everything is regimented from the cradle to the grave.

But what most of us haven't heard is how they're getting the regimentation job done in Japan.

Take a look. Here's the situation there:

1. All manufacturing is subject to strict government regulation.

2. Industries are compelled to work co-operatively through national associations. Each association plans production schedules for the industry it represents and allots specific amounts to each manufacturer.

3. All prices are fixed by the government.

4. Foreign trade is controlled by the government through exporting and importing guilds. No exporter may sell to a foreign buyer and no importer may buy from abroad without government permission.

5. Mines and manufacturing plants can be expropriated and run by the government.

6. The right to strike is taken from labor.

7. Profits are limited by government decree, or taxed to avoid profiteering.

As far as The Plainsman has been able to discover, however, there is no law which prevents a Jap from whistling while he works!

* * *

A psychologist tells us that short, thick, rotund persons are of an easily adjustable nature.

Bet he never tried fitting three of them into a front seat!

That Man on Avenue Q says even members of the humane society will have to admit that the Spaniards don't treat their bulls any worse than they do each other.

We are informed that the radio will be used more than ever before in the present Texas political campaigns.

Maybe so. And even if nobody listens to him, the candidate will be saved the trouble of listening to the 30-minute introductory speech of the local big shot.

SOMEBODY sent this in: "There is a clever maxim which tells us that unless wicked ideas take root in a naturally depraved mind, human nature in its normal, wholesome state and revolting at crime, will uproot the wrong and substitute the right."

NOT long ago The Plainsman printed in this column an article by Phil Braniff, former Oklahoma City newspaperman who is now in the insurance business.

Most readers will remember the article. In it, Mr. Braniff, who is a very fine writer, urged motorists to be careful and protect the lives of school children. He described his little girl and used her as an example of childish trust and told how much he would be hurt if anything happened to her.

The touching piece wound up "Please don't run over my little girl," and was signed "Phil."

* * *

Comes now Editor Ray Lanyan, of the Longmont, Col., Times-Call, who saw Mr. Braniff's touching appeal for safe driving and felt Mr. Braniff's heartthrobs over the wellbeing of his little daughter.

Editor Lanyan sat down to his typewriter and composed what The Plainsman thinks is a lulu of a piece.

It is called "Please, Mr. Pedestrian, Don't Get Run Over by My Little Girl."

Here goes:

"FOR our part," writes Editor Lanyan, "we do not propose to wait, breathless, to find out what Phil may write, say, ten years from now, if his soulful appeal to drivers is heeded and his little girl keeps out of their way. If little girls do not change much in that decade, we imagine it will be something like this:

"'Dear Pedestrian: Today my little daughter, who is 17 years old, is out with my car. What she is wearing I do not know, but it is not much and is designed to catch the attention of one or more boys slightly older than she and who may be in the car with her.

"'Before she took the car out, we talked about several things, but not about where she was going, with whom, or what they would be doing. She is reticent about such matters, and also she seemed to pay scant attention to several suggestions of mine about the care of the car, or to her mother's admonition to be careful.

"'My daughter is a nice kid and not addicted to worry. If I have taken the precaution to have the car in good mechanical condition, properly lubricated, the tires safe and the gas tank filled, she will have no trouble, barring accidents. She knows enough about the car to start it, steer it and stop it, and has heard there are men who make a business of fixing automobiles when things go wrong. She probably thinks that such persons inhabit filling stations, but she will be set right when she inquires.

"'But she knows that when she steps on a certain knob with her right foot the car will whiz along at 60 to 80 miles per hour, and she believes that the knob is placed there to make it do so. That is the only way she knows how to drive it, and that is as fast as it will go.

"'So, please Mr. Pedestrian, don't let my little girl run over you. You will know her by her happy look, her blonde hair and her red hat. She may be smoking a cigaret and the boy beside her may be hugging her, so that she may not give you her attention if you are in her line of driving. You had better wait 'til she gets by, or dodge.

"'If you get in her way and she runs over you, you may cause her to lose control of the car, she may go through the windshield and scar her pretty face, or she may get tangled up in the steering wheel and need to go to the hospital. Even though she escapes and you don't, she will come home and cry.

"'So, please, Mr. Pedestrian, do not get run over by my little girl.

"'Phil.'"

If you ask us, Editor Lanyan has got something there!

In fact, we saw, no less than a few hours ago, the exact counterpart of Phil's little girl of 1938, out on College avenue.

You can see 'em out there most any hour of the day — or night!

TARZAN THE MAGNIFICENT No. 94 By Edgar Rice Burroughs

Tarzan took hold of the girl's arm and started back along the trail. "Where are you taking me?" she demanded. "To Stanley Wood," the ape-man answered firmly. "No, no," Gonfala objected; "that would only mean unhappiness for us both. Let me go!"

Tarzan maintained his insistent grip. "Now that you are away from Mafka, I am sure his influence will no longer trouble you." Gonfala shook her head. "You forget that I am the goddess of the great diamond. Its mystic, sinister power is a vital part of me."

"I have seen many strange things in Africa," Tarzan declared; "but I do not believe the diamond has any mystic power. Mafka might be something of a hypnotist, nothing more. The power which he exercised over all of you was probably mental suggestion."

Gonfala's eyes lighted with hope, then faded again into melancholy. "There is something more—," she began, but Tarzan had no wish to pursue this useless exchange of words. With a sweeping swing he tossed her to a shoulder and set out along the trail.

19—Livestock For Sale

Auction Sale
TUESDAY AND FRIDAY

Our auction sales this week had plenty of ginger, pep and snap The market was so snappy there was practically no cattle passed out unsold

You may not know it, but there is not over 10% of the cattle we sell each week killed in Lubbock Practically 90% of all the cattle sold at our sales are purchased by out-of-town packers or order buyers for packers, and that is the reason we can hold the market as high as we do even in the face of lower markets all around us ractically none of the cattle we sell go to open market

Remember both the sale Tuesday and Friday will begin promptly at 10:00 a m

Hillsboro Woman Is Drowned As She Falls Into Creek

HILLSBORO, May 4. (AP)— Mrs. John I. Stirman, 37, drowned today when she lost her balance and fell into a creek near here while assisting her husband in repairing a fence broken by a drift during recent rains.

Stirman had gone for more wire, leaving his wife holding a broken strand. When he returned he found his wife floating face downward in 4 feet of water. Motorists passing on a nearby highway summoned an ambulance and an attempt at resuscitation was made.

of the big reserve, he suggested creation of a contingent fund only large enough to pay benefits as they come due. This is called the pay-as-you-go system.

"These pay roll taxes now constitute a major load on commerce," the senator wrote Arthur Altmeyer, chairman of the social security board. Reduction, he declared, "would clearly be a great and essential relief not only to business but also to labor."

The council said it recognized there were other ways of financing the old age insurance system than those in operation, but added this subject was "so complex" it was not ready to express final judgment "as to the method of financing which would be most desirable from a social and economic standpoint."

"Work with all your might to honor God, to the honor of our house and to the honor of our German fatherland, and be an example to your people."

The final phase of the wedding services was attended by many members of the Hohenzollern and Romanoff families. Crown Princess Juliana of The Netherlands and her consort, Prine Barnhard, were there.

Soon after the wedding and the ensuing dinner, Prince Louis and his bride, alone in their car and with the princess driving, departed for Germany.

They will spend a short time there preparing for a honeymoon trip around the world—a gift from the ex-kaiser. This trip will take them to the United States, which both have visited before.

Wall Street . .

NEW YORK, May 4. (AP)—Sharp bidding for gold shares imparted some life to the stock market today and helped turn a forenoon retreat into a further rally.

The gold stocks boomed on expectation of another devaluation of the French franc, announced by Premier Daladier, of France, after the New York stock exchange closed.

Copper and other industrial shares, following the golds, turned up in rather brisk late trading on what observers took to be a mild return of inflationary psychology.

Homestake, the leading domestic gold stock, sprinted 3 points to finish at 59. McIntyre Porcupine, Dome Mines and Alaska Juneau were boosted fractions to 3. In other groups earlier moderate losses largely were eliminated and gains of fractions to more than a point predominated at the finish.

Transactions totaled 550,600 shares against 472,470 yesterday. The Associated Press composite price of 60 stocks advanced .4 of a point to 39.1 on top of yesterday's gain of nearly a point.

United States government and most corporate bonds resumed the recent recovery trend despite the inflationary interpretation many put on monetary events.

Closing a point or more higher were American Smelting 38¼, J. I. Case 78, Cerro De Pasco 35¾, Consolidated Edison 23½, Douglas Aircraft 45¼, Du Pont 100⅝, Eastman Kodak 148¾, Standard Oil of New Jersey 48⅛, Westinghouse Electric 73½, U. S. Rubber Preferred 69¾, and Phillips Petroleum 34¾.

Cotton . .

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, May 4. (AP)—Cotton fluctuated quietly on both sides of the market today and final prices were steady, net unchanged to 3 points lower.

Inflationary rumors attributed to conversations looking toward devaluation of the franc, brought in good buying in late trading but recent purchasers took profits when the rumors were denied and closing prices were at or near the bottom.

May contracts were steady throughout the day because of absence of additional notices and the well liquidated condition of the option. The delivery closed at 8.70 bid, July at 8.78, Oct. at 8.83, Dec. at 8.84, Jan. at 8.85, and March at 8.93.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, May 4. (AP)—Early gains in cotton today in sympathy with foreign markets were lost later under local selling promoted by more favorable weather in the cotton belt. July sold off from 8.72 to 8.63 and closed at the low, with final prices 2 to 5 points net lower.

The market opened unchanged to 2 points higher in partial response to the action of Liverpool and Bombay, which was offset by a slow demand. Offerings were not large, however, and prices soon advanced to net gains of 4 to 7 points on Liverpool buying. Liquidation appeared when the weekly weather report revealed decidedly improved conditions. Toward the close, additional local and foreign selling appeared.

AVERAGE PRICE

NEW ORLEANS, May 4. (AP)—The average price of middling cotton today at ten southern spot markets was 8.65 cents a pound; average for the past thirty market days 8.77 cents a pound.

Mystery Death

the best the authorities could do was to convict them of automobile theft.

Became Major Mystery

The disappearance of Bassett became the Pacific northwest's major mystery. A member of a prominent Annapolis, Md., family, he was en route to Manila when he vanished. He had been dealing with Mayer to sell his automobile.

Broken and in tears, McCauley said, the aged Mrs. Smith confessed on the eve of her release from prison "to make herself right with her maker."

"She said she stood by," McCauley added, "while Mayer killed Bassett by hitting him over the head. The motive was robbery."

District VFW Convention Is Discussed At Meeting Here

A district convention to be held at Big Spring May 14-15 was discussed by approximately 35 members of Lubbock post No. 2466, Veterans of Foreign Wars Wednesday night at a regular semi-monthly meeting in the KP hall.

Members offered their services in welcoming to Lubbock May 21 Daniel J. Doherty, American Legion national commander. Final plans were made for the annual poppy sale May 28 in connection with the Memorial Day observance May 30.

Past commander pins were presented to Tom Carter, A. I. Glassman, and Robert J. Allen, the only members of that rank present.

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, May 4. (AP) — Influenced by likelihood of a spread of rust damage northward from Texas, Chicago wheat prices late today more than overcame earlier losses of 1¼ cents.

Rank growth was reported in Kansas and Nebraska, making crops susceptible to rust. Advices told of excessive rainfall at various points in Texas and Kansas, three to 5 inches, and anxiety was expressed should high temperatures ensue.

Another late stimulus was 16,000,000 bushels increase of world import estimated requirements, owing partly to British government purchasing. The Dutch government was also reported as preparing for a large war-time reserve stock of foodstuffs.

At the close, Chicago wheat futures were around the day's top level, unchanged to ⅜ higher compared with yesterday's finish, May 80⅜@80¾, July 78⅞@78⅞, corn ⅛ to ½ advanced, May 57⅛, July 58⅝@58¾, oats unchanged to ⅜ up, rye showing ½ cent bulge, and provisions varying from 7 cents setback to a gain of 3 cents.

sations eventually would swing into other world political problems, including absorption of Austria by Germany and the Italo-British pact.

The conferences will be spread through a week of fascist-nazi festivities, during which Hitler will be treated to honors such as Rome never before paid the visiting head of any state.

Effect Causes Wonder

But in everybody's mind, and completely overshadowing other political matters, was the effect deliberations may have on the fate of little Czechoslovakia, admittedly under the gun in central Europe.

"Does Mussolini agree to union of the Sudeten Germans in Czechoslovakia and Germany?" was the query heard from many lips.

Before Hitler left Germany all things pointed to an early test of strength in Czechoslovakia. Konrad Henlein, leader of the 3,500,000 Germans there was known to have had the approval of Hitler and General Herman Wilhelm Goering, the nazis' No. 2 man, in making his recent demands for political concessions.

Hitler can bank on Mussolini's sympathy when principles of self-determination are concerned and foreign observers believe Il Duce cannot object to union with Germany of those sections of Czechoslovakia which in communal elections during the ensuing week will prove to be overwhelmingly German.

WILLIAMSON, W. Va., May 4. (AP)—The nation's oldest oak tree, the 650-year-old great white oak of Mingo, apparently is dead, State Forester D. B. Griffin reported today.

Leaves failed to come out this year for the first time and Griffin said a fungus which grows only on dead or dying trees was noticed several months ago.

The Smithsonian institute determined from boring that the Mingo oak was the oldest of its species in the United States. The oak is 146 feet tall and has a girth of 30 feet at the base.

Forty-Five Anglers Listed On Register For Store Contest

Forty-five names comprise the early registration list of local and South Plains anglers competing for the annual Terry & Childress Hardware company prize this season.

Unofficial leader in the quest for the biggest game fish caught on artificial lure during May and June is Jake Hancock of Hilton hotel, who snagged a five-pound bass a few hours after the season opened. But Hancock had not registered at the time, and his entry nullified, leaving George Turner of 2211 9th street ahead of the field with a three-pound catch.

Prize Is Offered

The local sporting goods store offers a prize of $25 in fishing tackle to the person registered who catches the biggest game fish, within 100 miles of Lubbock.

A 52-pound yellow catfish caught by a Crosby county sportsman on a trotline from the Devil's River, therefore, did not count. This party brought home the 52-pounder and a "baby" 30-pounder.

Anyone planning to fish is invited to register at the store and become eligible for the prize.

Those who have registered are:

Dizzy Dean Ordered Out Of Cub Uniform For A Month

CHICAGO, May 4. (AP) — Dizzy Dean, the $185,000 addition to the pitching staff of the Chicago Cubs, will be lost to the team for at least four weeks.

For that period he must not pitch. For at least two weeks he must not even try to throw a ball.

These were the orders of Dr. John W. Davis, Cub physician, after an x-ray examination of the star's pitching arm which followed Dean's failure to complete the game against Philadelphia yesterday. Dean's trouble, according to Dr. Davis' diagnosis, is a lingering inflammation of the deltoid muscle at the point of insertion with the humerus—the bone of the upper arm.

Parking Meters Controversy Flares Again Here

City Officials To Continue In Prosecution Of All Violators

Lubbock was in the midst of another parking meter muddle Wednesday.

Despite a ruling by County Judge J. J. Dillard that the city parking meter ordinance is unconstitutional, police continued to issue tags to violators of the ordinance, and city officials announced that enforcement of the ordinance will continue.

Continue To Prosecute

"The city," said City Attorney Durwood H. Bradley, "will continue to enforce the ordinance by filing charges and prosecuting violators in corporation court until restrained by a court of competent jurisdiction."

To that statement, city officials heard the retort that some motorists will refuse to deposit their nickels in the meters and when corporation court warrants are issued, will appeal to county court. They will depend for a dismissal there, officials learned, on the precedent established by Dillard for his court Wednesday. From such a dismissal, officials admitted, the city will have no appeal.

No Official Quoted

No official would be quoted as to what the city's course in the controversy may be. Suggestion was, however, that developments will be awaited to determine if there is any extensive violation of the ordinance. Expressed belief was that, probably in the very near future, action of nature not yet determined will be taken in an attempt to force violators into line.

One suggested course was that the city might seek an injunction in district court against some particular motorist in an attempt to restrain him from the use of a metered space during hours specified in the ordinance unless he first deposits a nickel in the adjacent meter.

Judge Dillard's ruling was given in the case appealed by L. D. Thomas, local tailor, from corporation court, where he was fined $5 on a charge of violating the parking meter ordinance.

The judge brought an abrupt end to the trial which started Tuesday, when he sustained a defense motion to quash the complaint. That action took the case out of the hands of the jury, which was dismissed.

At the moment, Dillard confined himself to an oral judgment which, in substance, was that he did not think the meter ordinance constitutional.

Written Judgment Given

Later in the day, however, he signed a written judgment 16 typewritten pages long. The opinion reviewed the history of parking meter controversies at length and cited numerous cases in which rights of cities have been decided.

Closing paragraphs of the judgment were:

"It is apparent from the evidence presented in the trial of this (Thomas) case that the parking meter does not in any degree aid in the enforcement of the ordinance as written, and wholly fails in its purpose to enforce 120 minute regulation parking, as the testimony stands uncontradicted that no violation can be ascertained as long as the 'flag on the meter is up.'

"From the above, I conclude as a matter of law that said ordinance is unconstitutional and void, and for that reason the defendant is discharged."

Statement Is Quoted

One of the statements in the judgment was:

"I cannot see the difference in the city exacting a five-cent coin for the privilege of parking an automobile for a limited time on the streets than for the city to place a gate at the entrance of said street and require all people entering said street to pay a fee for the use thereof. It could charge the public a fee for making a left turn on a street where a left turn is prohibited. It could charge a fee for permission to drive one's car in the wrong direction on a boulevard street."

It was the contention of city officials, however, that all the various issues raised in the particular case previously had been submitted to district courts and a court of civil appeals in Texas. It was their further contention that Dillard's holdings were diametrically opposite to those of the higher courts.

In ordering dismissal of the complaint, Judge Dillard upheld a motion filed by W. D. Girand, jr., and W. D. Benson, jr., attorneys for Thomas, asking that the charge be quashed.

Allegations In Motion

Among the allegations contained in that motion were:

That the parking meter ordinance is "so vague, indefinite and uncertain" as to make it impossible to ascertain whether the law is being violated.

That the ordinance "violates the constitution of the United States and the state of Texas."

That the five-cent parking requirement constitutes "taking of private property without due process of law."

Meters Are Obstruction

That the placing of parking meters on sidewalks is "appropriating property without just compensation," that they deny the occupants of property egress and ingress into his place, and that they are an obstruction.

That parking meters are inaccurate as mechanical devices.

And that the ordinance attempts to levy an illegal tax.

Representing the prosecution in the case were Eugene Blair, assistant city attorney, and R. J. Allen, county attorney.

Librarians To Hold Session

The People's Library movement in Texas, which has received active interest in this vicinity, will be of primary interest at a meeting of the Texas Library association in Waco Thursday through Saturday. Purpose of the movement is to extend and improve Texas libraries.

Miss Elizabeth H. West, librarian at Texas Technological college, left last night for Waco. She will sit on the speaker's platform with other former presidents. Miss West was present at the library association's organization in 1902. She served as president from 1914 to 1916.

To Announce Chairmen

Mrs. H. F. Godeke of Lubbock is chairman of the movement in the 30th senatorial district and said she would announce county chairmen soon. Dr. Bradford Knapp, president of Tech, is a vice-chairman, along with presidents of various other Texas colleges and others.

The county Federation of Women's club and the seventh district Federation of Women's clubs have endorsed the movement and passed resolutions that they will send telegrams to senators and representatives asking their support of a bill to be submitted to the 46th legislature and asking appropriation for state aid to libraries. The 45th legislature considered a bill to appropriate $200,000 for state aid to libraries, to be administered through the Texas State library. The bill passed the senate and later was lost in a committee.

The legislative committee of the Texas Library association is drafting the library legislation to be submitted.

Objectives of the movement are to convince the public of the value of library service, obtain legislation for state support, obtain state-wide library service through county and regional libraries, and secure strong support of the State Library Extension service.

When motor-wise America hands the lion's share of the laurels to any one motor car, it's a sure bet that car is a better car.

And, for the past three years, America has preferred the Packard Eight (also known as the Packard 120) to all cars in the above price range. In fact, taking totals for the past three years, almost as many people bought Packard Eights as bought the next two cars combined in this price class.

If you'll drive and inspect the new Packard Eight, we believe you'll quickly agree with this majority verdict. We're anxious to show you how easy a Packard Eight is to own. Drop in tomorrow!
