Natural Gas Tax For Texas Proposed

Changes In State's Election Laws Asked

By MAC ROY RASOR
Associated Press Staff Writer

AUSTIN, Jan. 24.—A revamping for Texas' criticism-battered election laws was proposed in the legislature today.

Senator Jimmy Phillips of Angleton introduced in the senate a bill calling for a special study committee to advise the legislature on "complete revision and recodification of the election laws of the state of Texas."

It was one of 14 new bills presented in the Senate. The upper body also confirmed Gov. Beauford H. Jester's appointment of Robert S. Calvert of Austin as state comptroller.

Election Laws Criticized

Legislative machinery in the House — which met for only 12 minutes—was still stalled awaiting committee appointments. Two bills proposing natural gas taxes were among House bills in the waiting line, their authors announced.

Faults in present election laws came under criticism and study after both candidates for the U. S. Senate in last summer's runoff primary claimed irregularities at the polls. Phillips' bill wants three committeemen—one each appointed by the governor and the House and Senate presiding officers—to study and recommend whatever it will take to make the election laws "harmonious, concise and complete, and also make them more workable and effective."

Reps. Deno Tufares of Wichita Falls and C. S. McLellan of Eagle Lake are the gas tax proponents with bills waiting.

Gas Taxes Proposed

Tufares said his bill seeks a tax of 1 and ½ cents on each 1,000 cubic feet of gas produced at the well. An estimated income of $42,000,000 would be distributed equally among eleemosynary institutions, rural schools and rural roads.

McLellan said his plan would probably call for a 1-cent tax on 1,000 cubic feet. It would measure gas either at the well or after it

Seven Killed, 16 Hurt In Crash

BERLIN, Tuesday, Jan. 25. (AP)—At least seven persons were killed and 16 injured last night when a British airlift Dakota transport plane evacuating children from Russian-blockaded Berlin crashed in the Soviet zone of Germany, an Air Forces liaison officer said today.

The plane was flying from the RAF Gatow airport here to Luebeck, in the British occupation zone, carrying 22 passengers and a crew of three. Of the 22 passengers, 17 were children.

Two Escape Injury

The liaison officer said only two of the 25 aboard escaped injury.

The announcement said the crash occurred at 6:30 p. m. (11:30 a. m. CST) eight to 10 miles east of Schoenberg in the Russian zone. This is in the northermost corridor used by the airlift, in an area believed to be wooded.

Reports to Air Force officials said the Russians were sending medical aid to the crash scene.

A German farmer reported one of the plane's two engines was on fire before the crash.

Treason Trial Of 'Axis Sally' Gets Underway In Washington

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.— (INS) Mildred E. Gillars, "Axis Sally" of the Nazi radio, went on trial for her life today on charges of treason—and apparently found the proceedings amusing.

The blonde, 48-year-old former actress from Portland, Me., far from appearing downcast, frequently turned about and smiled at the spectators as the court encountered difficulty in selecting a jury.

Jury Selected

It was not until five hours after the proceedings got underway that a jury of six women and six men, including six negroes, was finally selected. Defense Attorney James J. Laughlin had used all of the challenges allotted him.

CBS GETS SKELTON

NEW YORK, Jan. 24 (AP) — The Columbia broadcasting system made another talent raid on the National Broadcasting Co., today, this time coming up with comedian Red Skelton. CBS said Skelton, now heard at 9:30 p.m., EST, Friday nights on NBC, would switch to CBS next fall and would be heard at 8:30 p.m., Sunday nights.

Reds Reach Last Barrier To Nanking

By JAMES D. WHITE
Associated Press Staff Writer

NANKING, Tuesday, Jan. 25 — Advance patrols of Chinese Communists armies have reached the north bank of the Yangtze—the last barrier before this tense capital.

The city awaited the arrival at the river barrier of the main body of the oncoming Red columns—aware that there is nothing to stop them. Nanking is on the south bank of the big river, just across from Pukow, the rail terminal for points to the north.

Informed military sources said the Communists captured Liuho, 10 miles northeast of here, yesterday. Red reconnaissance teams moved on southward to the banks of the Yangtze itself.

Troops Stream South

Pukow was virtually deserted. Railway personnel fled the railhead, but the communications ministry reported that its telegraph office there was functioning normally this morning.

Military sources said there is nothing to prevent the Reds from occupying Pukow. The Yangtze at that point is about a mile and a half in width.

Just before the Communists reached the Yangtze, "personal troops" of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek began streaming south out of the Shanghai-Nanking defenses, vastly complicating government efforts to beg acceptable surrender terms from the Chinese Reds.

Units Ordered To Nanking

Reliable sources in Nanking reported a short time later that acting President Li Tsung-Jen had ordered 50,000 troops personally loyal to him to hasten to Nanking from the Hankow area 300 miles to the west.

These significant troop movements came as the triumphant Reds marched within artillery range of Nanking. They were meeting no opposition.

Adding to the Chinese puzzle,

Levelland Man Is Killed In Crash

Claude Lee Gorden, 52-year-old Levelland carpenter and first traffic casualty within the city of Lubbock in 1949, was fatally injured Sunday night when the car in which he was a passenger crashed into the center section of the East Broadway underpass.

A charge of murder when driving a car while under influence of intoxicating liquor was filed against Everett Lester Fitzgerald, 31, Lubbock carpenter and driver of the car, who was in Lubbock Memorial hospital Monday with injuries not believed serious.

The accident happened at about 7:30 p. m., as the two men approached the underpass from the west. Police reports said the power of impact indicated that their car was traveling at a rapid rate, and that it was on the left side of the highway's center line for an unknown reason.

Car Badly Damaged

Gorden was taken by Rix ambulance to Lubbock Memorial hospital, where he died at about 9 p. m. of a severe injury to the back of his head.

Fitzgerald, carried to the hospital by McDonald ambulance, was given x-rays Monday to determine extent of his injuries. Hospital

Bandits Take $285 In Hijacking Here

Police at 2 a.m. today were alerted to be on the lookout for two men who reportedly hijacked Charles S. Fitch of 1406 Sixth street, of $285, a wrist watch, a wedding band, a turquoise ring a pair of gloves and batteries for a hearing aid. The armed holdup occurred at 1:35 a. m.

The holdup occurred on the corner of Eighth Street and Avenue M as Fitch was walking home from work, Fitch told police. Fitch is a member of the sports staff of The Morning Avalanche.

Police were told that one of two men in a green two-door, late model Chevrolet stopped Fitch at the Eighth street intersection, shoved a small automatic pistol into his side, forced him to raise his hands behind his head and then robbed him. Police were still investigating the case at 2:15 a. m.

GOP SCORES LATEST ACTION

Senate Committee Votes For Repeal Of Taft-Hartley Law

By ROSE McKEE
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—The Senate Labor committee despite heated protests of GOP members, voted today to repeal the Taft-Hartley labor act and conclude hearings Feb. 10 on changes in the old Wagner labor law.

Under a resolution approved by a straight party vote of eight-to-five, the changes decided upon as the result of hearings and the repeal of the Taft-Hartley act would be brought to the Senate floor in "one package" legislation.

Chairman Thomas, (D-Utah) explained the committee's action at a news conference.

Sen. Taft (R-Ohio) and other republicans who sat through the news conference followed up with one of their own in which they denounced the Democratic action.

Taft, leading off for the Republicans, declared that "this is a face-saving resolution. They (the Democrats) are trying to give the impression they are repealing the Taft-Hartley act when in reality they are only amending it."

Sen. Morse, (R-Ore.) cried that the action was a "political gesture

Legislation Would Curb Surplus Crops

Program Set To Limit Cotton, Wheat Yield

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24 — An administration plan to hold down this year's wheat and cotton crops was disclosed today by Chairman Elmer Thomas (D-Okla) of the Senate Agriculture committee.

Secretary of Agriculture Brannan outlined it to the committee at a closed session, and Thomas told reporters afterward that he would introduce legislation to back it up.

As announced by Thomas, Brannan's plan calls for serving notice on wheat and cotton farmers that the 1949 crops they plant will not be considered part of their average production in figuring any future acreage allotments.

Thomas said the purpose is to "discourage large plantings of wheat and cotton." He added that Brannan expressed fear that there may be rather large surpluses of both of those crops this year, and of corn also.

Under present law, if acreage controls are renewed, the average acreage planted by a farmer in the five previous years is the amount he is entitled to plant.

This, officials feel, may induce many farmers to plant as much as they can in order to have the maximum possible acreage when and if controls are clamped on.

Broader Controls On Rents Sought In New Legislation

By DON SANDERS
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.— An administration bill calling for broader and tougher federal controls over rents for another two years was handed Congress today, and leaders put a hurry-up tag on it.

The present law is scheduled to expire March 31, nine weeks from today.

The new bill was introduced by Senator Maybank (D-SC) and Rep. Spence (D-Ky), chairman of the Senate and House banking committees.

It would continue controls for 24 months, or through March 31, 1951, and would give the housing expediter—now Tighe E. Woods—powers he now lacks.

Given Top Priority

These would include authority to reimpose rental ceilings on previously decontrolled areas, on apartment hotels, and quarters which have been covered by so-called voluntary leases, and on some quarters newly converted to housing purposes.

All controls could be relaxed before March 31, 1951, however, by a presidential proclamation or by Congress, through a resolution to which both houses agreed. Such action could be taken only if the President or Congress found the housing emergency to have ended.

Rent control is one of the subjects which congressional leaders has given top priority, because of the early expiration of the present law.

Long Extension Opposed

Spence said the House committee probably will get around to hearings next week.

Senator Sparkman (D-Ala), chairman of a Senate subcommittee on rents, said he expects to open hearings shortly.

Although President Truman in his State of the Union message called for at least a two-year extension, some Democrats have questioned whether such a long continuation is advisable.

One of them is Sparkman, who told a reporter today he still favors a 15-month extension.

Would Restore Controls

The administration bill, drawn up by Woods' office, would restore controls to these types of

Israel Set For First General Election; 21 Parties In Campaign

TEL AVIV, Jan. 24 (INS) — Candidates of 21 Israeli parties closed their campaigns with mass meetings tonight in bids for the votes of 300,000 citizens, including 32,000 Arabs, in Israel's first general elections tomorrow.

The campaigning has created considerably more interest than the current difficulties in the Israeli-Egyptian peace talks on the island of Rhodes.

However, some sources say that the release of the Egyptian garrison at Faluja was delayed so that the ruling parties would not be subject to last minute charges of "softening" toward the Egyptians.

Truck Tire Blowout 'Shakes' Buildings In South Lubbock

A large explosion which "shook all the buildings" in the vicinity of 2800-block Ave. H had police worried for a brief time last night until they found out the cause.

An excited woman resident of the area phoned police headquarters about 9:20 p. m. and said the "explosion" sounded as if a banana warehouse nearby had blown up.

Police, who questioned the attendant at Ince Oil company next door to the warehouse, were soon set right. The man pointed to a large trailer truck setting in the drive with a badly blown tire. "It really did shake the buildings," he added.

Area Shivers In Season's Coldest Siege

ICE, sleet and snow covered the South Plains today, and residents were told to prepare to "wait out" the longest and coldest weather of the winter as a massive blanket of frigid air swept across the area early Monday morning and moved slowly toward to Gulf of Mexico.

No break in the cold wave is forecast before Thursday at the earliest, and Weather bureau forecasters said a definite upward trend may not come before Friday. Snow, and possible freezing rain is predicted for this morning, and up to early afternoon, but it is not expected to reach the proportions of the storm of two weeks ago, the Weather station north of Lubbock said.

Five-Degree Low Seen

The mercury was expected to plunge to the lowest reading of the season early today. At 1 a. m. today the reading was 16 degrees. The lowest previous reading was 11 degrees, recorded about two weeks ago.

Temperatures this morning probably will tumble to five degrees, the forecasters reported, with a high this afternoon of 15 degrees. Wednesday night may be even colder with a reading between zero and five degrees forecast. Wednesday's high may reach the low 20's, the station reported.

The center of the cold wave still was north and west of the Panhandle-South Plains late yesterday and is not expected to move over this area until this afternoon. Wednesday night's low readings are expected to come from this center.

Highway Travel Dangerous

Traffic over West Texas and northwestern East Texas was slowed down, and in some areas halted by ice coated highways and freezing sleet and snow covered windshields.

All roads in this area late last night were described as "very hazardous" by the Texas Highway patrol, which urged motorist to use "extreme caution" while travelling.

Youth Is Quizzed In Auto Thefts

The suspicions of a police patrolman "paid off" last night with the arrest of a 16-year-old boy who admittedly had stolen at least 14 cars, two of them on the South Plains, and who may have been implicated in at least one burglary here.

George Wilkes of the police department became suspicious of the boy when he noticed him driving a 1947 Studebaker sedan in a doubtful manner. When the boy turned down an alley and shut off the car lights while the police prowl car was following him, the boy was taken into custody for questioning.

At police headquarters, he readily admitted to stealing the car from in front of a Lorenzo theater last night. He then volunteered the information that he came originally from Akron, Ohio, where he said he had stolen at least 12 cars.

Story Is Checked

Paroled first to juvenile authorities there, he was later paroled into custody of his parents, he said, who sent him to live with an uncle in Lubbock. The boy said he had ridden to Lorenzo Sunday night "with some drunk," but said he didn't know the man's name.

The youth was turned over to the sheriff's office to be placed

Motley Pioneer Is Claimed By Death

MATADOR, Jan. 24. (Special)—Funeral services for William Richard Cammack, 70, resident of Motley county for 39 years and county judge there for 18 years, who died in Traweek hospital here about 7:50 p. m. Sunday, are pending arrival of relatives, Bryan McDonald & Son Funeral bome of this city reported tonight.

Services, which probably will be held Wednesday, are to be conducted in the Baptist church here, with Rev. S. C. Potts, pastor, officiating. Interment will be in Matador cemetery with McDonald directing.

Mr. Cammack, who retired from office as county judge Jan. 1, died in the hospital unexpectedly of a heart attack.

Survivors include the wife, three daughters, Mrs. W. G. Park of Uvalde, Mrs. William F. Cole of Houston, and Mrs. T. J. Baron of Seagraves, one son, Cecil Cammack of Houston; a step-son, Allen Tomlinson of Lubbock, three brothers, Bragg C. Cammack of Los Angeles, T. E. Cammack of Matador, and Webb Cammack of Lubbock; three sisters, Mrs. Vesti Teal of Dallas, Mrs. Ester Kliepschmidt of Canyon, and Mrs. Vera Rhodes of Los Angeles; and 10 grandchildren.

Pallbearers will be Bill Pipken, Elmer Stearns, Loyd Ladd, Pat Sheridan, Noble Graves, and John Hamilton.

TWO MEN IN CRASH

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—(AP)—Two men were killed and five injured late last night in a plane crash at Andrews Field, in nearby Maryland. The plane, a C-45, based at Bolling Field here, was returning from New York on a flight proficiency test.

Trinity River Over Banks Near Dallas

No Early Relief In Sight; Motorists Warned; Communication Lines Down

(By The Associated Press)

A VAST sheath of ice tightened a bitter grip on North and West Texas Monday night as the season's worst blizzard and blue norther raced toward the gulf.

The State Highway patrol radio station at Dallas warned all motorists against venturing on the highways west of Gainesville because they were slick with ice, sleet and snow. Its warning extended to the area below Highway 80, a main artery from the Fort Worth-Dallas area into the West Texas cities of Big Springs, Abilene and Midland.

The Southwestern Bell telephone company division manager, Clyde Stewart, reported that telephone service interruptions were occurring in some places because of ice. He reported considerable trouble west of Sweetwater, north of Denison and west and north of Gainesville. He said extent of the interruptions could not be determined until Tuesday morning.

Heavy Rains Hit Dallas

The norther, striking extremely warm, damp air, dumped more than six inches of rain on Bonham and five inches on Dallas.

A major flood on the east fork of the Trinity was caused by heavy rainfall in its watershed. The east fork was 2.16 feet above flood stage at Rockwell. At Dallas, the main stream was 1.27 feet above flood stage, but levees at Dallas were expected to control the water there.

But 8:30 p.m. Monday, the leading edge of the norther had moved below San Antonio. It had not reached deep East Texas or the far west El Paso section.

The Weather bureau said that the cold wave struck the Panhandle with blizzard intensity Sunday night, accompanied by winds up to 35 miles an hour in gusts. As it moved south, the Weather bureau said, it moderated and became a "blue" norther—a norther accompanied by rain.

No Immediate Relief Seen

Forecast was for sub-zero temperatures in the Panhandle Tuesday morning with below freezing readings deep in Central Texas.

The Weather bureau said that the cold wave could hover over the state for days if an opposing mass of air from southern New Mexico succeeds in stopping its movement south. No relief was foreseen beyond Thursday at the earliest.

Similar conditions last week isolated many Texas cities when ice broke telephone and telegraph lines and made highways impassable.

At 11:30 p.m. Monday, the Weather bureau reported the following temperatures:

Amarillo 8 above zero, Clarendon 11, Childress 14, Wichita Falls 17, Big Springs and Abilene 19, Midland 20, Mineral Wells 21, Fort Worth 24, Guadalupe Pass 22, Wink 26, Dallas 20; Waco 30 and Junction 30, Austin 36, Bryan 37, San Antonio 44, El Paso 44, Lufkin 67, and most coastal points in the upper 60s.

Freezing rain and sleet was falling at that time at Amarillo, Lubbock, Wichita Falls, Fort Worth, Guadalupe Pass, Wink, Midland, Big Springs, Abilene, Mineral Wells, and Dallas. Snow was falling along with the freezing rain at most of those points.

Heavy rainfall generally was confined to the Dallas and Fort

HST Sets Up Blizzard Emergency Fund

Planes Rush Hay To Snowbound Cattle

(By The Associated Press)

A NEW airlift and $100,000 in emergency funds were thrown Monday into the battle for relief of snowbound humans and cattle in the nation's hard-hit rangelands.

President Truman made immediately available $100,000 in emergency funds even as 17 Air Force C-82 flying boxcars began "operation haylift" to feed more than 2,000,000 snowbound sheep and cattle.

Fifty thousand dollars was allocated to the Bureau of Indian Affairs for use in relieving the hardships of thousands of Indians on western reservations. The other $50,000 was turned over to the Land Management bureau of the Interior department to help supply feed for the livestock.

Tons Of Hay Brought In

Tons of hay for starving livestock were brought into Ely, Nev., by "flying boxcars" of the Air Force. Most roads out of the snowbound area were still buried under snow and all available equipment and manpower was thrown into the battle to get fodder to the livestock.

The first consignment to reach Ely traveled in seven "flying boxcars," each carrying nearly five tons of hay, from around Fallon, Nev. Other emergency flights were to bring additional tons Monday night.

The Air Force has resumed a similar air lift started in the Nebraska-South Dakota region after the January 2 blizzard.

Nehru, chairman of the 19-nation Asia conference in the New Dehli, urged the Security council to give "due weight" to the conference recommendation that the council order a full Dutch withdrawal from Indonesia by March 15.

STAGE SET FOR FIGHT

Solons Open Study Of Plans To Impose Curbs On Filibusters

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24. — The battle of the filibuster opened with heavy verbal cannonading on Capitol hill today.

Marking the Truman administration's first move to ram a civil rights program through the new 81st Congress, the Senate Rules committee began hearings on anti-filibuster legislation designed to limit debate.

Chairman Hayden (D-Ariz) predicted the committee will recommend a rule permitting curbs on any Senate debate, thus eliminating a favorite weapon exploited down the years to talk bills to death.

Republicans have joined in a coalition with Democratic "regulars" to back such a change. But a bloc of 17 southern Senators is pledged to fight to preserve the filibuster, which they have used to block anti-poll tax, auti-lynch and anti-discrimination legislation

Seaboard Oil Completes Dawson Wildcat As New Area Producer

Seaboard Oil company of Delaware has completed a wildcat discovery for flowing commercial production in southeast Dawson county, about 15 miles southeast of Lamesa.

The new pay opener is Seaboard's No. 2 Lee, located adjacent to the Spraberry field, which produces from the San Andres-Permian at around 5,000 feet.

It is located 440 feet from north and east lines of section 47, block 34, TP survey, T-5-N.

No Water Noticed

The new well flowed 320 barrels of pipe line oil of approximately 35-gravity, in 24 hours, through a one-quarter inch tubing choke from pay at 6,455-6,635 feet, which had been shot with 650 quarts of nitro glycerin.

There was no water. Gas-oil ratio was approximately 1,000-1. Open flowing tubing pressure was 398 pounds. Open flowing casing pressure was 100 pounds. Flow during the last 60 minutes of the 24-hour completion test was 13.5 barrels of oil.

The production is coming from a lower Permian lime section which is similar to the Clear Fork pay in the Fullerton field of northwest Andrews county.

This new discovery, which is now on production drilled to a total depth of 11,060 feet in the Elenburger. That section made sulphur water.

Humble Oil and Refining company No. 1 L. N. Periman, North Central Scurry county wildcat, three miles east of Dermott, and 660 feet from north and east lines of section 438, block 97, H&TC survey, took a drillstem test in a Pennsylvanian formation at 6,531-6,629 feet.

The tool was open one and one-half hours. Recovery was 300 feet of drilling mud and 150 feet of salt water. There were no signs of oil or gas. The venture had reached 6,646 feet in shale and lime, and was making more hole.

Placid Oil company No. 1, Davis, six and one-half miles north and a little east of Snyder, in North-Central Scurry county and 660 feet from north and 1,980 feet from east lines of section 387, block 97, H&TC survey, swabbed 2 hours on perforated zone at 7,022-43 feet in the Canyon zone of the Pennsylvanian.

Recovery was 120 barrels of fluid, 20 per cent oil and 80 per cent salt water.

Those perforations have been squeezed off and a zone at 6,725-32 feet in sand is to be tested through perforations in the casing.

Magnolia Petroleum company was boring ahead with its No. 1 Hicks, slated Ellenburger wildcat in extreme southeast Gaines county, 14 miles southwest of the town of Lamesa.

This venture, located 660 feet from north and west lines of tract 16, league 273, Loving CSL survey, was under 11,886 feet, drilling lime and chert.

Iraq will open a new wireless station at Abu Ghurain.

Polio Contributions Lag As 'Dimes' Drive Enters Last Week; Letter Returns Slacken

Only 10 additional letters containing contributions to the Lubbock county March of Dimes drive had been received at campaign headquarters by late Monday afternoon, bringing the total number of letters received there since the drive opened to 313.

Campaign officials said the letters contained donations amounting to approximately $100, thus bringing the total of contributions received at the local campaign headquarters to $2,212.

The above total does not, of course, include contributions in coin collection containers throughout the city and county, those in the "Wishing Well" at the corner of Broadway and Ave. J in front of Bowen's drug, or money derived from the sale of tickets to the three President's Balls to be held here next Monday night at Lubbock Supper club, Cotton club, and Hotel Lubbock.

However, the bulk of the local county minimum goal of $12,000 is expected to come from individual cash donations, and such donations last week lagged far behind expectations. The drive ends Jan. 31.

Warlick Carr and Lester Grimes, co-chairmen of the Exchange club campaign collection committee, once again have urged prompt returns of donations to local March of Dimes headquarters, 612 Myrick building. They have emphasized that dollars, as well as dimes, will be needed to put the county over its goal.

Tickets for the forthcoming President's Balls are being sold at $1.20 each by members of the Exchange club, sponsor of the county drive, Business and Professional Women's club, Junior Welfare League, and Epsilon Sigma Alpha and Beta Sigma Phi sororities.

Damage Suit Filed Here Asks $50,000 For Injuries From Fall

A suit asking judgment of $50,000 in damages growing out of ar alleged fall of his wife when in scope of employment was filed Monday in Judge Dan Blair's 72nd district court by E. B. Hallmark against Sears Roebuck & Company.

Mrs. Hallmark fell May 28 when she tripped in an aisle leading to the telephone switchboard, where she was employed at the Lubbock store, the petition said, adding that she suffered permanent injuries.

The petition was filed by Carl M. Anderson, Sweetwater attorney, for the plaintiff.

BORDERLINE ANEMIA*
CAN ADD YEARS TO YOUR LOOKS!
Is your face too pale and worn-looking? Are you losing the sparkle and ambition of youth? Often such signs are caused not by age, but by faded, weak red blood cells. You may have a Borderline Anemia, due to a ferro-nutritional blood deficiency.
Medical studies show that up to 68% of women—many men and children—have this Borderline Anemia.
If you are a victim of this Borderline Anemia, you need Ironized Yeast Tablets! They are specially formulated to help build up faded, puny red blood cells to healthy redness and size, and thus permit your color and energy to come surging back. Of course, continuing tiredness and pallor may come from other causes—see your doctor regularly. But in this Borderline Anemia, take Ironized Yeast Tablets. Take them to reclaim your vitality, your healthy color, your enjoyment of life!
*Due to a ferro-nutritional blood deficiency, a condition for which Ironized Yeast is specially formulated.

What Life Insurance did in 1948
• For you...
• For 78 Million other policy owners...
• For America!

Four out of five families in 1948 faced our uncertain world with the peace of mind that comes from being protected by life insurance.

For you . . . for the 78 million other Americans owning life insurance in 1948, your policies "paid off" in the present, every day of the year.

Every day your life insurance brought you as head of your family the satisfaction—the peace of mind—that comes from your effort to "do right by the family," no matter what might happen to you.

To the extent of your insurance protection you and your family were relieved of major worries. And so you were free to use your efforts where they count most: To solve today's problems, to get ahead towards your goals.

Yes, life insurance provides three services: It provides now for protection against future risks. It brings peace of mind for the present. It consequently helps people get ahead! As a result, Americans believe in it, and continue to increase their ownership of life insurance.

All told, they owned more than $201 billion of life insurance last year—over $6,000 of protection per insured family. And they did this on their own initiative . . . in spite of high living costs.

Thus life insurance brought many benefits to many people in many ways . . .

Families kept together in time of need! In 1948 life insurance companies paid $1,430 million primarily to the beneficiaries of men and women who voluntarily built up funds through life insurance to help keep the family a "going concern." And keeping families together keeps the country strong.

Helped reach family goals! Last year again, more than half of the $3,170 million life insurance money paid out was paid during the lifetime of the policy owners themselves. These payments included money to put children through college . . . to help older folks retire. Other payments made realities of trips and other "someday" plans. They also helped families over unexpected emergencies. And there were substantial premium refunds, in the form of dividends to policy owners.

Significant highlights of a business which affects every American

1. Four out of five American families were protected by one or more life insurance policies
2. 78,000,000 people own them
3. These policies represent $201 billion of protection
4. Backing up this protection is $55 billion . . . invested, earning interest, and aiding the nation's growth
5. $1,430 million was paid out in death benefits
6. $1,740 million—more than half of all payments—were made during the life of the policy owner.

Money put to work for the benefit of all! The money needed for future payments to 78 million policy owners was working money! It was invested by 549 separate life insurance companies. It earned money for the policy owners . . . helped to reduce life insurance costs. It helped, too, to finance your government, to build factories, to make jobs, to provide housing . . . for everybody's benefit!

Thus in 1948 the average policy owner's part in the country's progress increased to $710. This was another new high. It was a testimonial to the American family's thrift and foresight and faith in the future.

Yes, through life insurance the people did much for themselves and for America in 1948! In this they were helped by their life insurance agents . . . trained men and women who are doing something far more than just "selling insurance." They are helping people to plan their protection according to their present needs . . . helping them provide for the future in the "do-it-yourself" spirit that is America!

For what this country amounts to depends upon what happens to its homes!

THE LIFE INSURANCE COMPANIES AND THEIR AGENTS

This report is based on the operations of 549 separate and competing legal reserve companies. This report to America is made again because their business, directly or indirectly, affects every American. The policies which these companies issue, and the benefits which they pay, and the investments which they make are important stabilizing forces in our national life. The fact that these companies are competitive in every detail keeps them serving the national interest best.

Rail Board Orders Hearing On Gas Waste In 26 Texas Fields

AUSTIN, Jan. 24.—(AP)—Operators of 26 oil fields, including the vast East Texas field, appear before the Railroad commission tomorrow to show cause why their fields should not be closed.

The commission intends to shut down the fields until the operators cease to waste an alleged 177,000,000 cubic feet of oil well gas daily incident to the production of crude oil.

Commission Chairman William J. Murray, jr., today said the state regulatory body is ready to proceed with tomorrow's hearing despite lack of a decision from the Supreme court on appeal of a shutdown order on the Heyser field of Calhoun and Victoria counties.

In November the commission included the Heyser field in orders closing 15 fields alleged to be wasting approximately 275,000,000 cubic feet of gas daily.

Heyser operators obtained a permanent injunction against the shutdown and commission made an appeal direct to the Supreme court. The operators contend the order unreasonable in that sufficient time and warning were not permitted for them to comply with the conservation order.

The commission contends state statutes directing them to prevent waste empowers them to order shutdowns until wasteful flaring or burning of oil well gas in the open field is stopped.

Fields involved in the show cause hearing tomorrow are producing approximately 400,000 barrels of crude oil daily. Complete shutdown of the fields would drop the state's daily production below the 2,000,000 barrel mark the first time in several years.

American Petroleum institute records place the state's production average as of Jan. 15 at 2,333,150 barrels.

The hearing is to begin at 10 a. m. in the auditorium of the state highway building.

Fields affected by the show cause order by the railroad commission districts:

1. Imogene, Jourdanton.
2. Lolita, Porter, Slick Wilcox, Francitas.
3. Amelia, North Katy, Oyster Bayou, Red Fish Reef, Thompson, North Thompson, South Thompson.
4. Concho Driscoll, Odem, Richard King, Sun, Sun North.
5. (Outside East Texas) Chapel Hill 937, Navarro Crossing.
6. East Texas.

7-C. Todd Deep (Ellen), Todd Deep (Crin).

8. Block 31 Devonian, Cowden South, Fuhrman-Mascho.

Pioneer Weatherford Residents Claimed

WEATHERFORD, Jan. 24.—(AP) Five pioneer residents of Weatherford, all in their nineties, have died during the past nine days.

Mrs. Z. T. Johnson died Jan. 15 at the age of 97. William Riley Smith, 92, died Jan. 20; John C. Curry, 95, died Jan. 22. Two more of the pioneers died yesterday; A. E. Graft, 97, and Mrs. Mallie Knight Barnes, 90.

The Weatherford Daily Herald commented: "The combined ages of these pioneers totaled 471 years. Had they lived consecutively, the first would have been born in 1478, 14 years before the discovery of America."

Burial Services Scheduled At Coleman For Mrs. C. A. Averett

Mrs. C. A. Averett, 74, died at 7:30 p. m. Sunday in the home of her daughter, Mrs. J. H. Dunn, near Shallowater. The body was taken Sunday night to Coleman for funeral and burial services there, Plains Funeral home reported.

Survivors, in addition to the daughter, include three sons, Calvin and Bob, both of Coleman, and W. O. of Forsan.

Sunday School Drive Scheduled

The Baptist churches of Lubbock will unite with other Baptist churches of 21 states comprising the Southern Baptist convention in an effort to increase Sunday school enrollment by 600,000 during 1949, Rev. D. A. Bryant, superintendent of Baptist Sunday school work for this area said Monday.

The 600,000 goal for 1949 represents an approximate 15 per cent increase, with many churches adopting goals of 30 to 50 per cent above their present enrollment.

Census Is Planned

Campaign methods will include the taking of a religious census by communities, starting of new classes, enlargement and improvement of church buildings, and an intensive program of visitation in the interest of Sunday school attendance.

The campaign in local Baptist churches will be under the general direction of Rev. Bryant, who is pastor of the First Baptist church of Post. He has announced these goals and plans:

1. A weekly meeting of teachers and officers of each Sunday school.

2. A special course of study in Sunday school work in each church quarter during 1949.

3. Participation by all churches of the Lubbock association in the central simultaneous training school in the First Baptist church, Lubbock, Feb. 21-25 at 7 p.m. daily, to be introduced by a rally Sunday, Feb. 20, at 2:30 p.m.

Mr. Bryant pointed out that there are an estimated 40 million white people in the 21 states of the Southern Baptist convention who are not now enrolled in any Sunday school. A primary aim of the drive will be to enroll as many of these people as possible in regular Sunday school attendance.

WARNING

THE piece below has already had a lot of public notice, but it is so well done that we think it should go on record locally for the good it may do.

The letter was written by Chester E. Beltz, Union Pacific engineer, who has two children of his own. His train almost crashed into a car and through the Omaha-World he wrote the following letter to the driver of the car:

"I don't know who you are, but I do know you were scared to death Sunday evening near 9 o'clock when you drove your car across directly in front of a speeding passenger train. It was so close that I, in the cab, could see the young girl (your sweetheart, I presume) throw her hands up in front of her face and cringe up against you in stark horror.

"If I were that young girl I'd pull away from you, fast. You don't have good sense, son. You probably say that you love her. I wonder. Those we love we try to protect. But not you.

"Wouldn't that have been a nice thing to have been taken home — broken and battered bodies? And how do you think that we in the cab of that engine would feel? We are human beings too. We have young ones waiting for us to return. We, too, could have been killed.

"You and your girl were one second from eternity Sunday, son.

"I hope you read this and know it means you, and that your girl will, too. Next time you go driving about, stop and look. We don't want to hit you but we are helpless, as we cannot swerve away from the given rail.

"If I were you, son, and you, too, sis, I would thank God for that split second He granted you Sunday evening.

"I said a prayer for all when I realized you were going across. Perhaps that's what saved us all.

"Now think it over, both of you. And I'll bet you are both still shaking in your shoes.

"And, please, don't ever try it again."

Plans For Camp Are Made By 4-H Group

Representatives of Lubbock county 4-H girls club's met in the extension office Saturday afternoon with Mrs. Peggy Fischer and discussed awards and electing delegates to the camp which will be held July 18-20.

Mrs. Fischer talked on proper diets.

Mrs. Will Russell, adult leader was elected a delegate to the camp

Doris Marie Prater was presented with an award and a check as the outstanding garden demonstrator.

Vegetables on the February plentiful list include cabbage, carrots, spinach, Irish potatoes, onions, dried peas and beans, and canned corn.

Missionary Groups Plan For Future Meetings

Plans for future meetings and programs were made by a number of missionary society groups at Monday afternoon meetings. Lessons were taught, business sessions were conducted and program series were initiated by the women.

MRS. TERRELL IS SPEAKER

A talk, "Budgeting Your Life for Christ," was presented by Mrs. Ethel Terrell for First Prebyterian Women of the Church at a Monday afternoon meeting. Mrs. A. W. Young brought a devotion on "Stewardship."

Mrs. O. L. Fredricks, president, presided.

Members of Circle 3 were hostesses for a tea hour which followed the program.

BUSINESS, PROGRAM MEETING CONDUCTED

"Christ the Answer for the Individual," topic of the first of a series of "Christ the Answer" programs, was discussed by First Baptist Missionary society Monday at the church.

Miss Marie Jackson and Mrs. Daulton Blevins spoke on ills of the world, including paganism, immorality and materialism. Their talks were followed by two discussions, "How People Can Live Together Today," by Mrs. George McCleskey and "Yet There Is Jesus Christ" by Mrs. Roy Bass.

Mrs. Bass was program leader and Mrs. A. E. Cook presided for business. Standing chairmen and the society treasurer made reports and messengers and alternates to the District WMU meeting to be held in Tahoka Feb. 1 were named.

Forty-one persons attended the afternoon meeting.

COOPERATION IS DISCUSSED

The program for First Methodist Woman's Society of Christian Service which was attended by 30 persons Monday at the church was on "Cooperation of Protestant Denominations in Building a Christian America."

Mrs. Marshall Howard, program leader, was assisted by Mesdames Raymond Anthis, Charles Cathey and Ben V. Smith. A devotion was brought by Mrs. Howard.

Miss Sue Tyson sang "Let the Lower Lights Be Burning."

Two WSCS committee secretaries, Mrs. Ben V. Smith and Mrs. Tom Toombs, spoke on "Literature and Publications" and "Supplies," respectively.

PARKDALE WMS AT MORNING MEETING

A Royal Service program was presented for Parkdale Baptist WMS Monday morning at the church with Mrs. C. H. Owen speaking on "Christ the Answer for the Individual."

Mrs. J. M. Hardin who presided announced plans for a covered dish luncheon to be given next Monday. The women will meet at 10 o'clock at the church to study a mission book, "Things We Should Know," to be taught by Mrs. Henry Heck of Idalou.

Eight members attended.

CALVARY BAPTIST WOMEN AT MEETING

Following a devotion given by Mrs. G. L. Schantz for Calvary Baptist WMS Monday afternoon, Mrs. C. D. Puckett spoke on the subject, "Christ the Answer for the Individual." Eight members and seven Sunbeams attended.

During a business session presided over by Mrs. Schantz, the District WMU meeting to be held in Tahoka Feb. 1 was discussed and a home missions study of "Cooperating Southern Baptists" for Feb. 21 was planned. A book to be studied later by the group is "This World's Goods."

Mrs. Puckett was made chairman of arrangements for an annual YWA Sweetheart banquet to be given sometime in February.

WSCS STUDY IS CONCLUDED

The last study in "Newness of Life," a Bible study, was conducted Monday afternoon in the Ladies parlor of the Asbury Methodist church by the Women's Society of Christian Service, and officers were appointed to fill vacancies during the business session of the meeting.

Filling the six offices vacated by resignation are Mrs. J. E. Walter, vice president; Mrs. Berta Insey, publications; Mrs. Arch Harper, local work; Mrs. Henry Brown, youth work; and Mrs. Bert Douglas, spiritual life. Mrs. J. W. Hendryx, president, was in charge of the business meeting, and the study was led by Mrs. C. A. Bickley.

At the piano for the opening song, "Guide Me Oh Thou Great Jehovah," was Mrs. L. D. Marshall. Mrs. E. L. Lansford led the singing. Others participating in the study were Mrs. Dewey Malone, Mrs. Bessie McCullough, and Mrs. Russell Denison.

The study was conducted from John 6, 15-21, and John 11, 18,44.

Move To Lubbock In 1892

Couple Observes Sixtieth Anniversary Of Wedding

SAN SABA, Jan. 24. (Special)—Mr. and Mrs. John Wesley Dalton, who reside on the Barnett Springs Ranch three miles east of San Saba, celebrated their 60th wedding anniversary Monday.

The couple was married in Mills county on Jan. 24, 1889 by a long-time family friend and a Baptist minister, the Rev. D. L. Haralson. They lived on a farm in Mills county for two years, moving to Crosby county later when Mr. Dalton was employed on the 2-Buckle Ranch outfit. In November, 1892, he moved his family to Lubbock county where he filed on 160 acres of land, 15 miles east of Lubbock, and where in later years he had increased his holdings to 15 sections, becoming one of the largest land owners in that area.

During the years he and Mrs. Dalton recall that all supplies were freighted from Amarillo. The individual families had to freight their own supplies and had to establish schools for themselves with the Dalton ranch the site of the Acuff school, which now has a Methodist church built to the memory of the Dalton daughter, and a Baptist church built to the memory of the Dalton son, both deceased.

Mr. and Mrs. Dalton have contributed liberally to these churches, to the Lubbock churches, to those in Lorenzo where he is still connected with a banking concern. He took an active part in getting the first railroad into Lubbock, helped finance the location of Texas Tech there. They have helped to educate many of the young sons and daughters of their friends, and have assisted many young men in getting established in business. Records in the San Saba county courthouse reveal that J. W. Dalton has aided dozens of San Sabans in getting land and businesses purchased in the county. They have contributed heavily to orphans' homes in Texas and to other worthwhile enterprises.

In the early 1920's grazing land in West Texas was being sold in small tracts to farmers to plow for farming. Farmers then wanted roads cut across large ranches to give them short cuts to markets. Naturally, says Mr. Dalton, this hurt the remaining cowmen and their lands. In 1924 the Daltons sold their ranch to various farmers in 160-acre and 320-acre blocks. They bought the Barnett Springs Ranch, one of the show places of San Saba county, moved there to raise Polled Herefords, using the Paddle brand which he bought from L. A. Wilson of Jacksboro and who started using the brand in Llano county before the Civil War.

Mr. Dalton made a collection of branding irons, spurs and stirrups of his pioneer cowmen of Texas. This collection grew to such an extent that he had to arrange for a place to store it. A life-long friend, the late J. Winford Hunt of Crosby county, who was president of McMurry college in Abilene, offered to house it in a stone building on a campus and there it is located. A large and varied collection of relics have been given to the Panhandle Plains Historical Society at Canyon.

The Daltons made a cattle-brand friendship quilt, embroidering the brands and initials of names of 200 early day ranchers of Central and West Texas.

Due to advanced age—he will be 85 on Jan. 28, and Mrs. Dalton was 80 on Jan. 15, and to his impaired hearing—Mr. and Mrs. Dalton sold their ranch on Barnett Spring to Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Tisdale in January, 1948.

Mrs. Dalton, who is the former Bessie Queen, was born in Georgia, and Mr. Dalton was born in San Saba county, his family later moving into Lampasas county to escape Indian depredations in this frontier section.

Fight For Water Rights Is Urged

ABILENE, Jan. 24. (Special)—Call for an organized united front of West Texas cities and towns to fight for protection of their prior water rights set up in existing laws has been sounded by Lawrence R. Hagy, mayor of Amarillo and co-chairman of the Municipal Water Rights committee of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

The WTCC committee held its first session Monday, January 17, at Amarillo. Following, Hagy dispatched, for the committee, an open letter to mayors of all West Texas towns warning them that a bill is about to be introduced in the 51st Legislature under leadership of the Texas Water Conservation Association seeking to repeal recovery provisions of the Wagstaff-Woodward bill enacted in 1931. Hagy termed the bill "a very acute threat and challenge" which would, he asserted, "wholly nullify, for your and my city, our prior rights for the use of water for domestic purposes."

The WTCC committee co-chairman's letter continued:

"This proposed law if enacted will under its Section 13, prohibit your city from building a dam across a stream or channel if that dam diminishes the water flow to any other dam or the previous appropriation of water. This dire provision could result in practically drying up the future water supplies of our West Texas municipalities. It behooves us as heads of our city governments to become awake on this matter and militantly stand together to defeat such legislation."

West Texas mayors and city commissioners were urged to at once affiliate with the WTCC's Municipal Water Rights committee, subscribing to its pledge to defend Articles 7471-72 of the 1931 water priority acts giving municipalities prior rights including that to recover water appropriated for inferior use; and second, to oppose the TWCA surface water code as long as it contains the clause in Section 13 reading: "The utilization of such channel and reclaiming of such waters turned into it must not diminish the waters already flowing therein to which others have acquired rights."

The WTCC committee's stand on this, sent on by Hagy to all mayors, is that "under this section our West Texas municipalities could be wholly prohibited from obtaining additional water supply where, if this were to be enacted, they would be interfering with previous appropriations of water being used for inferior purposes.

WINNERS IN RADIO LISTENING CONTEST—The six women pictured above are from a group of 16 winners in a radio listening contest conducted by Miss Kate Adele Hill, district home agent of the Texas A. & M. The women were honored in a two-day radio clinic for county home and agricultural agents which opened here Monday under sponsorship of the three local radio stations. (Staff Photo.)

Funeral Services Are Held Here For Clyde Cummings

Funeral services for Clyde Cummings, 48, who died Sunday morning in his East Broadway home, were held Monday afternoon in Rix Funeral home chapel.

Rev. L. F. Webb, pastor of the East Broadway Adventist church, officiated.

The body was taken to Ballinger for burial in Runnel's cemetery there.

Cummings, who had lived here eight years, had been in ill health for some time.

Survivors include the widow; the mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Cummings; two sisters, Mrs. Cora Morris of San Angelo and Mrs. Henry Fields of Prew, Tex.; two brothers, Andrew and Henry, both of San Angelo; two daughters, Mrs. E. W. Smith of Lubbock and Mrs. Lloyd Burt of Austin; a son, Leon, of Lubbock; and two grandchildren.

Jaycee Program Features Film Urging Prison System Reforms

A showing of the Texas Junior Chamber of Commerce film urging reform of the state prison system featured Monday's program at the weekly Jaycee luncheon in the Hilton hotel.

Members present voted unanimously to nominate L. D. Whiteley for one of the two posts of Jaycee national directors from Texas at the next state election.

Rolan Simpson, chairman of the club's Americanism committee, spoke briefly urging all members to pay their state poll tax before Jan. 31. Simpson said the current Jaycee campaign advocating payment of the tax by all qualified voters in the county is progressing satisfactorily.

Five guests were introduced. They were T. L. Sampson, jr., Harry Mayes, Al Legasse, Hugh Dryer, jr., and James Snyder.

Funeral Services Slated At Floydada For W. M. Massie

FLOYDADA, Jan. 24 (Special)—Funeral services for W. M. Massie, 83, pioneer Floyd county resident who died Saturday in a Lubbock hospital, have been tentatively scheduled for Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the First Methodist church.

Rev. A. C. Durrant, pastor of the Cumberland Presbyterian church at Garden City and Rev. Lloyd H. Jones, pastor of the First Methodist church, will officiate. G. E. Hamilton of Matador, long time friend of Mr. Massie, will deliver the funeral oration. The two men came to this area about the same time a half century ago.

A daughter, Mrs. Wm. L. Murray, arrived Monday from Harrisburg, Pa., to attend the funeral. Other survivors of the immediate family include his wife; a son, W. A. Massie, Floydada; three brothers and three sisters.

Washington Professors Protest Release For 'Red Activities'

SEATTLE, Jan. 24.—(U.P.)—Three professors today challenged the action of the University of Washington in firing them from the faculty because of Communist activity.

They were Ralph M. Gunlach, 46, associate professor of psychology; Herbert J. Phillips, 57, assistant professor of philosophy; and Josph Butterworth, 51, an associate professor of English.

The university's seven-man board of regents fired them Saturday for former membership in the Communist party.

In Washington, D. C., Ralph Himstead, executive secretary of the American Association of University Professors, said the case would be investigated by the association's standing committee, on academic freedom of tenure. Otherwise he had no comment to make.

If Your Eyes Should Hurt You, or Your Vision Is Poor....

See your doctor at once—of the common eye disorders which affect three out of every four persons, 95% can be corrected by glasses. In more serious and painful eye trouble, such as glaucoma, prompt treatment may be sight saving. So don't delay. At the first sign of eye trouble, go to your doctor.

Never neglect eye headaches, or watery eyes, inflamed lids, sties, flickers, flashes, spots, or images that are dim, blurred, or distorted, particularly if you keep on being bothered by these symptoms. They may not be serious, but if they are, give your doctor every chance to help you. Even in cases of cataract, 95% of operations are successful.

Follow your doctor's instructions when recovering from an eye ailment. If he tells you to rest your eyes, watch out for glare, or wear glasses; be sure to carry out all of his suggestions.

SMU's Russell Addresses SPOCA Winter Meeting Here

Athletes Need Four Qualities

Coach Rusty Russell of SMU told a full house at the annual winter meeting of the South Plains Officials and Coaches association last night in Luby's Cafeteria that there were four qualities that were necessary to make a successful athlete.

"One is intelligence and the second, which is so important that it is hard to tell whether it should be first or second, is character," Russell declared. "The third quality is love for the sport, no matter whether it is football, basketball, baseball or any other sport. This quality is the will to win, or any other thing you may call it."

"The fourth quality is natural ability," Russell stated, adding that you must have the other three qualities and not natural ability. "In fact," Russell avowed, "natural ability by itself is not enough, you must have intelligence, character and love of the sport."

Holmes Lauds Coaches

Prior to the main speech, Joe Holmes, president of the SPOCA, announced that he appreciated so many coaches and officials coming from out of town on such a bad night. He told the group that Coach Howard Lynch of Amarillo had wired him it would be impossible for him and End James Garner, Texas All-State grid star, to be present. Coach Joe Coleman of Odessa, and Coach F. O. Scroggins of Monahans also were unable to attend.

First to be introduced on the program was Clyde "Bulldog" Turner, All-American professional center for eight years with the Chicago Bears. Turner said that he was glad to be present.

Bobby Layne, All-American at Texas, quarterback for the Chicago Bears and a long-time buddy of Doak Walker, SMU backfield star and All-American, spoke next. He thanked the officials for inviting him and introduced Walker.

Walker, smiling modestly, received a fine hand from the crowd, saying that he was glad to be present.

Yancy Price was elected to succeed Holmes as president, W. C. O. "Dub" Harris of Plainview was elected vice president to succeed Jack Christian and Curtis Barrett was re-elected secretary-treasurer.

Russell Gets Clock

Dell Morgan, coach of Texas Tech, was called on to present Russell with a gift on behalf of SMU's opponents. Morgan said that he was "embarrassed to give this present," since it didn't apply to Texas Tech, but he urged Russell to "make sure Matty (Bell) gets this."

The "present" was an alarm clock with all but two minutes of the face blacked out. The two minutes indicated that SMU tradition for winning or tying up games in that period over the past two years. Russell said "isn't it a shame what two minutes can do to your hair, Dell?"

Members of the SPOCA also presented Holmes and Barrett with battery radio sets in appreciation of their work on behalf of the association. Stumpy Hamilton made the presentation.

Russell opened his talk with his droll humor, then launched into the serious portion. "We need more good officials," he declared. "You're doing a good job. You should have the support of the coaches and you always should be protected.

"But there are always two sides to everything. You should know the rules. Coaches and officials must work together, understand each other, so that there can be well-called games. Coaches must support and protect the officials, but they also must know what the officials are doing. Each game should be called uniformly. The officiating now is good, but it must be better."

Russell also declared that officials never make mistakes on purpose and that it took tolerance and understanding on the part of

Billikens Still Rate First Place

NEW YORK, Jan. 24. (AP)—Despite their loss to Oklahoma A&M, St. Louis' Billikens still are regarded as the top collegiate cagers in the country by the nation's sportswriters and sports casters.

The Billikens, rated first a week ago when they were unbeaten, nosed out Kentucky's once-beaten Wildcats in the second Associated Press basketball poll of the season.

While the 29-27 overtime defeat on the Oklahoma A&M court didn't drop the Billikens, it served to jump the Aggies from fifth to third place ahead of Western Kentucky.

Western Kentucky, one of the four major unbeaten teams left in the country dropped to fourth. Minnesota, fourth a week ago, is fifth, followed by Illinois, Hamline, Villanova, San Francisco and Utah.

The top ten teams (first place votes in brackets):

1.	St. Louis (39)	938
2.	Kentucky (33)	896
3.	Oklahoma A&M (15)	710
4.	Western Kentucky (9)	654
5.	Minnesota (8)	637
6.	Illinois	315
7.	Hamline	212
8.	Villanova	159
9.	San Francisco	146
10.	Utah	129

Baylor was No. 18 in the second ten with 36.

Cotton Bowl Will Be Greatly Enlarged

DALLAS, Jan. 24. (AP)—The Cotton Bowl will be enlarged again this year—by 8,000 to 12,000 seats—making a total of at least 75,000.

R. L. Thornton, president of the State Fair of Texas, said the additional seats will enable the huge bowl to seat upwards of 75,000 football fans.

The Cotton Bowl was enlarged from a seating capacity of 45,600 to 67,435 last year and the stadium became the first in Texas to be double decked.

Decision to expand the bowl again was disclosed today at a meeting of the board of directors of the State Fair of Texas.

Cotton Center Girls Will Meet New Deal Five Tonight

NEW DEAL, Jan. 24. (Special)—Cotton Center's smooth-working girls' basketball team will tangle with the high-scoring New Deal team in a feature clash here at 7:30 o'clock Tuesday night.

The two teams met earlier this season, with Cotton Center chalking up a 53-48 triumph, but the New Deal cagers will be bidding for revenge on their home court.

The New Deal and Cotton Center boys will clash at 8:30 o'clock.

Hank Beenders, of the Providence Steamrollers of the Basketball Association of America, was born in Holland.

Red Taking Over 'Grid Hot Spot'

Williamson Is Named Coach At Wisconsin

MILWAUKEE, Jan. 24. (INS) — Ivan "Red" Williamson, a pass-grabbing end in his college days at Michigan and more recently coach at little Lafayette college, moved into the $10,000-a-year big time today as head football coach at the University of Wisconsin.

Appointment of the 42-year-old Williamson to succeed "Good Bye Harry" Stuhldreher came late today following a hastily-called meeting of the state board of regents in Milwaukee.

In addition to receiving $10,000 a year in salary, Williamson, who takes over officially Feb. 1, will have the rank of a full professor and will be permitted full authority in naming his assistants.

His contract at Lafayette, where he won 13 of 18 games since taking over in 1947, had one more year to run, but it was stated the Easton, Pa., school had released Williamson from his obligations so that he could take over the Wisconsin job.

The appointment of Williamson today came as a surprise to many observers, but everyone agreed he is stepping into one of the "hot" spots of college football.

In his late seasons as coach at Wisconsin, Stuhldreher was under constant fire both from students and alumni, with the crescendo coming during the 1948 season with the raising of "Good Bye Harry" banners in the stands during the Badgers' game against Yale.

Wisconsin won only one Big Nine conference game in 1948 and only two games all season.

Williamson, a Michigan star during the early 1930's, captained the Wolverine varsity in 1932 and in 1934 became end coach at Yale, a position which he retained through 1946 with two years off for coaching the Pensacola Naval station team during the war.

He became head coach at Lafayette before the 1947 season.

AAC Club Owner Says Loop Will Fight NFL

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 24—(INS) Tony Morabito, owner of the San Francisco 49'ers, promised a tough fight today against the National Football league which has failed to recognize the All-America Conference.

Morabito told a San Francisco news conference after his arrival from the professional football wrangle in Chicago last week, that "we're in this fight to the finish." He added:

"The Natitonal league asked for a fight and we of the All-America are going to give it to them."

Morabito — undisturbed by schedule difficulties created by the dropping of the Brooklyn Dodgers—said the action has made the league financially stronger. He confidently declared:

"We are better off with seven good teams than we are with seven good ones and a weakie."

The clubowner flatly predicted that the Chicago Rockets — one of the Conference's worst teams last season — would be one of the strongest outfits in the league, both financially and in player quality.

Morabito explained that the Rockets and the New York Yankees would be permitted to select seven players each from the Dodger's 60 players and that the remaining 46 would go to the Rockets.

Six Premier Milers Are Named To Compete In Millrose Games

NEW YORK, Jan. 24 (AP) — Six premier milers, including two outstanding foreign threats, were named today to compete for the famed Wanamaker trophy in the Millrose Games Saturday at Madison Square Garden.

The small, select field was picked by the Millrose Games committee.

The foreign menaces to U. S. mile supremacy are Ingvar Bengtsson of Sweden and Willy Slykhuis of Holland.

Jerry Thompson of Texas will not compete because of a minor operation.

New York Yankees Announce Signing Of Charlie Keller

New York, Jan. 24. —(INS)— The New York Yankees announced today that outfielder Charlie Keller has signed his contract for next season.

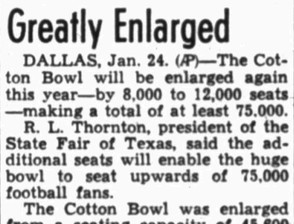

The veteran slugging star was out part of last season with a broken hand, but has recovered from the injury and is ready to go again.

The signing of Keller brought the total of Yankees in the fold up to eight.

Tech Must Dislodge Arizona's Wildcats If It Is To Win Border Conference Title

Raiders Will Meet Cowboys Friday

The Wildcats of Arizona university last week showed that they are going to be tough for Texas Tech to dislodge from first place in the Border Conference basketball race.

The Wildcats took advantage of Tech's idleness to win from Arizona State of Flagstaff and run the victory streak to four games without loss. That's still three games less than Tech's Red Raiders have played, but the 'Cats are doing it without the defeat that mars the Raider record.

Both To See Action

Both teams will get action this week, Arizona going to Tempe and Tech playing host to Hardin-Simmons Friday night. And the probable title winner in the conference still won't be known until later, probably, because Tech and Arizona don't meet until Feb. 2 at Tucson. The return game will be nine days later in Lubbock.

New Mexico played one of the two games on the schedule last week and improved its standing by moving into a fourth place tie with West Texas State Teachers college. The Lobos defeated hapless New Mexico A. & M.

Hardin-Simmons remained in third place by remaining idle and the Cowboys, along with New Mexico and WTSTC, give promise of being one of the teams that could cause trouble. All three teams still have a chance to win the title, especially if both Tech and Arizona stumble, and they might have a lot to do with which of those two teams could win.

Still Exam Time

It's still examination time at most of the Border loop schools and action won't become heavy until the first week in February, when all of the quintets swing back to the court.

Tech faces probably the biggest task of the two front-runners. The Cowboys are always tough and last year they handed Tech a scare in Lubbock when the Raiders had to hustle for a 51-41 victory. This year the Cowboy cagers are improved and they could upset the dope bucket Friday night.

Tex Hughson Will Join Red Sox Nine

BOSTON, Jan. 24. (AP)—Accompanied by a letter in which he wrote he was "confident of taking his regular turn" at pitching, the signed contract of Red Sox right hander Tex Hughson arrived at Fenway Park today.

Hughson, who dropped down to Austin, Tex., of the Class B Big State league last season after an elbow operation and then finished out the year with the Boston American league club, could be a factor in any Sox drive for the penant this summer.

Hughson, who operates a ranch, a wholesale meat business and rents freezing lockers in San Marcos, Tex., also wrote to general manager Joe Cronin:

"My elbow has given me no trouble whatsoever and I'm extremely happy the Sox indicated so much confidence in me as they did in the enclosed contract."

Cronin reflected "It would be nice to have the Hughson of old around again."

Westerners Return To Chapman Field Gym For Lengthy Drills

Lubbock High's Westerner cagers returned to the practice floor at the Chapman field gymnasium Monday afternoon, following an in-an-out weekend in which they defeated Borger and lost a non-conference tussle at Abilene, and went through a lengthy drill session in preparation for District 1-AA battles with Plainview and Amarillo Friday and Saturday.

The Westerners were at near full strength for the Monday workout, although Jimmy Sexton was still slowed as a result of the illness that kept him out of action last week. The Lubbock schoolboys came through the rough game with Abilene with a minimum of bruises, however, and Coach Roy Morris hopes to have his squad at full strength for the invasion of Plainview Friday night.

Work on play patterns and free throw accuracy was the chief feature of the workout, but Coach Morris gave the cagers some defensive work. The session was climaxed by a stiff scrimmage, with the regulars lined up against the scrubs.

Another lengthy workout will be held this afternoon, Morris reported, with offensive play being stressed.

Only one District 1-AA tilt is scheduled tonight, but the result could have a marked effect on the conference race. Amarillo's Golden Sandies will invade Borger tonight, and the Bulldogs are slated to give their traditional rivals a tough battle.

SMU, Kentucky To Meet In Fall

DALLAS, Jan. 24.—(U.P.)—Southern Methodist added an intersectional game with Kentucky to its 1949 football schedule today and immediately went shopping for another outside opponent to round out its slate for next fall.

SMU and Kentucky signed a one-year agreement to meet in the Cotton Bowl stadium Oct. 22, Dr. Edwin D. Mouzon, jr., faculty chairman of athletics, announced.

The Oct. 22 dates originally was offered to Vanderbilt, but that team turned it down in favor of a two-year agreement to meet the University of Arkansas next fall in Nashville and 1950 in Little Rock.

SMU's other intersectional foes for the coming season include Missouri and Notre Dame, both of which will be played on the Cotton Bowl gridiron.

An opponent now is being sought for the Sept. 24 season-opener.

Boudreau Expected To Sign $80,000 Contract With Tribe

CLEVELAND, Jan. 24.—(INS)—The signing of Lou Boudreau to an alleged $80,000 contract, originally scheduled for today, may take place tomorrow morning in the offices of the Cleveland Indians.

Boudreau, ace shortstop-manager for the world champion Indians, was scheduled to meet with Tribe president Bill Veeck today, but bad weather held up Veeck in his flight from New York, and he re-assigned the contract session for tomorrow.

DePaul Coach Lauds Officiating At Game

CHICAGO, Jan. 24 (INS) — Man bit dog at the weekly meeting of the Chicago Basketball Writers' Association today.

Ray Meyer, coach of De Paul, stood up and declared: "I want to say one thing about the officiating at our game with Oklahoma A. & M. in Stillwater, Okla., a couple of weeks ago.

"It was the finest job of officiating I've ever seen."

The names of the officials at that game, which De Paul won 39 to 32 after trailing by eight points at the half, were Ab Curtis and Ted O'Sullivan.

Paper Says Louis Will Defend Crown

CHICAGO, Jan. 24 (INS) — The Chicago Herald-American said today that heavyweight champion Joe Louis will defend his title against the winner of the Feb. 28 Joe Maxim-Ezzard Charles bout at Soldier Field, Chicago in June.

The newspaper declared that Joseph T. Plunkett, a ward committeeman representing the Cook County central committee of the Democratic party, had stated that terms and conditions of the title bout "have been settled."

Louis was said to have agreed on $400,000 or 50 per cent of the gate, plus 50 per cent of radio and movie rights and exclusive rights to the control of television.

No American has ever won an Olympic figure skating championship.

By Earl Scudday

Well, well, those District 3-AA teams are beginning to make it rough on the Lubbock Westerner cagers. The Westerners held wins over three 3-AA quints until a few weeks ago, following relatively easy triumphs over Lamesa, Midland and Abilene, but it has been a different story on the return games with Lamesa and Abilene. In fact, Abilene used the same style of play that Lamesa first used so successfully to beat the Westerners, and the scores of the two games were very similar. Maybe Abilene's Jake Bentley had a scout at the second Lubbock-Lamesa game.

On the subject of the Westerners' unsuccessful "second round" with District 3-AA teams, we'd just like to pass along a humorous statement by an enthusiastic Lubbock baseball fan. He remarked, "the Westerners are having about the same luck on their return games that Bill Macdonald, (Hub-ber pitcher of the 1947 season), had on his second round of the West Texas-New Mexico league."

* * *

The only good part of the situation is that the Abilene loss was in non-conference play, and had no effect on the Westerners' runner-up position in District 1-AA. And, although the boys naturally hate to get beat, they are the first to admit that they gained valuable experience in the game. The Abilene team, according to the Westerners, had several very good play patterns and used several offensive tactics that the Lubbock cagers had not played against this season. That experience should be of great value in the coming circuit encounters with Amarillo, Pampa and Borger, not to mention Plainview and Brownfield.

The worst angle of the situation is that several of the District 1-AA teams are likely to try the Lamesa-Abilene "freeze the ball" tactics in an effort to duplicate their wins over the Westerners. It would surprise no one if Plainview used the same strategy Friday night, and wily T. G. Hull at Amarillo might possibly have a little variation on the same lines. And, who knows, it might work again!

We have some "new news" for South Plains football fans on where area gridders will perform in college uniforms next fall. We've been told that the old fox from New Mexico, Berl Huffman, is covering a lot of territory these days, and has been talking to such boys as Jimmy Williams of Phillips, Bill Blair of Plainview and Junior Malouf of Post. Bob Rooker, Lubbock Westerner end, received a nice letter from a large Southwest conference school last weekend, but Bob has not made any definite plans on the subject as yet.

Green Bay, Giants Swap Tackles, Backs

GREEN BAY, Wis., Jan. 24.—(AP)—The Green Bay Packers announced today they have traded one veteran back and the draft rights to another to the New York Giants for the draft rights to two tackles.

Fullback Pat West and the draft rights to Halfback Jimmy Ford, University of Tulsa star, go to the Giants in exchange for the rights to Ed Kelley, University of Texas ace, and Jack Bush, big University of Georgetown lineman.

Packer coach Curly Lambeau said he made the swap with the Giant's vice president, Wellington Mara, in Chicago last night. He said he needed the linemen and Mara wanted backs. There was no cash involved.

SMU's Russell

coaches to appreciate that. But he also warned that coaches must know what the officials were going to do each Saturday.

He also said that the chief credit for coaches and officials must be given to the boys who made football possible, boys like Doak, Bobby and Turner. They had the qualities that made football what it is. He also told coaches, officials, fans, that they should boost the game every opportunity they had and tell other boys of the possibilities for them in the game.

Russell ended his talk by pointing out that in 1943, when he had Walker and Layne at Highland Park, the squad got together and decided they needed an objective to follow. He said that he didn't know how much of it was due to that, but both Walker and Layne went on to make all-America and Herman Morgan, the then assistant coach, went on to become high school coach of the year.

Pictures of the Oregon-SMU Cotton Bowl game brought the meeting to a close.

Winter sports were added to the Olympic program in 1924 — four have been held.

Golden Gloves Meet Set For Next Monday

Only a week from last night fists will be flying, but legally, as the regional Golden Gloves tournament gets underway in Tech gym, with some 116 or more ring aspirants battling for crowns in eight weight divisions of both a novice and an open division.

The winning eight in the open class will constitute the Lubbock team that will make the trip to Ft. Worth for the state Golden Gloves meet. That is the immediate goal of the 58 entrants in the open division. If any one of them, or more, is successful at Ft. Worth, they become state champions and will go on to Chicago to fight for Texas.

Goal For Winners

And if any one of the Texas fighters win in Chicago, they become eligible for the Chicago team that opposes a similar team from New York City. It is a great goal, but a long haul and most of the boys that battle through the tournament here will have to go back and wait for next year.

Only two more entries came in yesterday, with Charles Johnson of Texas Tech, a 20-year-old 174-pounder, and Jimmy Peden of 2316 15th street, a 21-year-old 119-pounder, both coming in the open class.

Johnson is an experienced fighter with two years in the ring behind him. He has fought nine time and won seven of his bouts, including Golden Gloves experience at Amarillo. Saturday night Johnson won the light-heavyweight division in the Tahoka Junior Chamber of Commerce fights.

Roswell Team Here

Peden is a less experienced boxer even though he is in his second year. He has had three bouts, gaining Golden Gloves experience at Big Spring. Friday night he showed promise at Plainview, but suffered a second round TKO at the hands of Ted Livesay, experienced Lockney fighter.

Joe F. Carpenter of the Co-Op club at Roswell, N. M., the organization that sponsored the Roswell district Golden Gloves, wrote again yesterday. Carpenter assured Lubbock Gloves promoters that he would have a team of eight fighters, one for each weight division in the open class, and possibly other boys, here for the tournament.

To prospective entrants: entries in the regional meet end at 5 p.m. next Monday. If you haven't sent in your entry blank yet, clip an entry blank from the paper and send it in at once.

Hogan, Demaret Lead In Tourney

LONG BEACH, Calif., Jan. 24 (AP) — Ben Hogan and Jimmy Demaret, finished in a tie for first place in the $10,000 Long Beach Open Golf Tournament today with 72-hole scores of 272.

Demaret shot a 66 today and Hogan followed with a 68 to knot the count and call for a playoff tomorrow.

Hogan came up to the 18th hole needing a birdie four to tie Demaret. As a gallery of some 5,000 watched, Hogan sank a 12-foot putt to gain the deadlock.

Hogan had previous rounds of 68-66-70. Demaret had rounds of 67-70-69.

Tied behind these two were Jack Burke, Jr., of White Plains, N. Y., who held a one-stroke lead starting out this morning, and Lloyd Mangrum of Chicago who blazed a 64 today. Par for the layout is 71.

Demaret, who was three strokes behind Burke starting out this morning, shot a 35-31-66 for the par 35-36 course. Demaret missed an Eagle on the 18th when his approach missed the cup by an inch or so and stopped six inches beyond it.

West Virginian Cops Cage Scoring Honors

NEW YORK, Jan. 24 (AP) — George King of Morris Harvey college at Charleston, W. Va., went on a scoring spree to come from nowhere and take over the individual scoring leadership among the nation's small college basketball teams.

A week ago King was not among the leading 10 in figures prepared by the National Collegiate Athletic Bureau. In vaulting to the top he ran his record to 292 points in 11 games for an average of 26.5 points per contest. The records include games of Jan. 15.

Running second, well back, is Evan Zlock of Susquehanna, with 120 points in five games for a 24-point average. John Wilson of Anderson (Ind.) college, the leader a week ago, fell to third place with a 23.8 average, representing 262 points in 11 games.

Completing the top 10 are:

Frank Keath, Elizabethtown, 234 points in 10 games for 23.4; Nate DeLong, River Falls, 279 in 12 for 23.3; Marv Johnson, Wheaton, 314 in 14 for 22.4; Jim Reilly, Swarthmore, 216 in 10 for 21.6; Francis Walsh, Northeastern, 123 in 6 for 20.5; John Donohue, Rochester, 182 in 9 for 20.2; and Jud Millhon, Ohio Wesleyan, 198 in 19 for 19.8.

Clynn Braden of West Texas State with 50 goals in 100 heaves for an even .500, was third in field goal percentage.

Sudan Drops Farwell, 31 To 24, In March Of Dimes Benefit Game

SUDAN, Jan. 24. (Special)—Dimmitt, Shallowater, Sudan and Farwell met here tonight in a basketball doubleheader for the benefit of the March of Dimes.

In the first encounter, Dimmitt swamped the Shallowater five, 60 to 37. High point man for Dimmitt was Carl Jones with 20 points. Murphy scored 18 baskets for the losers.

Sudan downed Farwell, 31 to 24, in the second tilt. Don Lance and Harlan Pickett scored 10 and eight points respectively for Sudan. Booth racked up eight tallies for the Farwell team.

HALAS AFTER McWILLIAMS

CHICAGO, Jan. 24.— (INS) — Owner-coach George Halas of the Chicago Bears today denied reports he had conferred with Shorty McWilliams, triple-threat Mississippi state football star, in Chicago. Halas did admit, however, that he intends to try to land McWilliams for the Bears.

Hale Center Slates Meet

HALE CENTER, Jan. 24 (Special) — Hale Center High school will be the scene of basketball activity Thursday through Saturday, with seven schools sending both boys and girls teams here for a three-day court tourney.

Trophies will be awarded to the winning teams in each bracket following the championship final games, which are set for Saturday night.

Teams entered in the tournament include Cotton Center, Happy, Hart, Olton, Wayside, Petersburg, Kress and Hale Center. All eight schools will have both boys and girls teams entered.

Hart probably will be favored to take the boys division title, having beaten Hale Center in the finals of the Kress High school tourney last week end.

Cotton Center, defending district 18 champs, will be the team to beat in the girls division, although the Hale Center girls won the Kress tournament by beating Quitaque in the finals.

Detroit, Cleveland Lay Claim To White Sox's Tony Lupien

CHICAGO, Jan. 24.—(INS)—The Chicago White Sox announced today that first baseman Tony Lupien, up for waivers for the third time, had been claimed by Detroit and Cleveland.

The Sox have 48 hours to decide whether to keep Lupien or to release him. In the latter instance, he would automatically go to Detroit, which has a prior claim, at the $10,000 waiver price.

HUB CITY TEAMS SEEK REVENGE

Boys Club Cage Loops To Meet Wichita Falls Quints Saturday

Four Lubbock Boys club basketball teams will leave by chartered bus Saturday morning for Wichita Falls, where the Hub City cagers will compete against Wichita Falls Boys club quintets. The inter-city games have been held for the past four years.

Approximately 40 boys, accompanied by Coaches Jerry Starkey and Glen White and Assistant Director V. L. Jackson, will make the trip. The games will get underway at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon with the group returning to Lubbock immediately following the tussles.

The Wichita Falls Senior and Junior quints hold a decisive margin in the four-year history of the matches, with the Wichita Falls boys chalking up six victories—as compared with two losses— in each of the two divisions. Lubbock has fared better in the Midget circuit, where the Hub city youngsters boast an undefeated mark of six wins.

Tough Battle Seen

The Pee Wees did not compete until last year, when the clubs split a two-game series.

Coach Chuck Lawler of the Wichita Falls boys club has indicated that he will field stronger teams this season and expects to give Lubbock teams a tough battle. The Lubbock Seniors, who have lost only one game this season, will bid for their third triumph in the annual series.

The Lubbock Boys club teams are paced by such players as Rodger Van Cleave, Jack McLarty and Gene Tollison, Seniors; Charles Rand, Sammy Adams and Don Washington, Juniors; Glen Akin, Jerry Shipp, Ira Owens and Dennis Calvert, Midgets; and Jerome Henderson, Roy Lee Tunnel and Paul Sikes, Pee Wees.

Teh Wichita Falls teams will return the games here later in the season.

Lubbock Boys Club Junior cage squad will meet the Cowhand five at 6:30 tonight at Chapman field gym, in an effort to recoup their last week's loss to the Punchers. In the second game, Boys Club Seniors will take to the hardwood against the Westerner B team.

Zapalac Replaces Dutch Flory As Coach At John Tarleton

STEPHENVILLE, Jan. 24. (AP)—C. M. (Dutch) Flory, at his own request, has been relieved of his duties as head football coach of John Tarleton college, effective Sept. 1. He will devote full time to his work as head of the physical education department.

Willie F. Zapalac, assistant grid mentor at Tarleton during the 1948 season, will succeed Flory as head coach. Zapalac is a former grid captain of the Texas Aggies, where he lettered three years in football and one year in track. He also played a year of professional football with the Pittsburgh Steelers.

During the last three years of horse racing at Delaware Park there have been only four fines and three disqualifications.

"It's a pleasure, Mrs. Gordon"*

said the hospital manager

Mrs. Gordon had gone to the desk to settle for her son's ten-day stay in the hospital following an operation—his first need for hospital care. The manager handed her a statement marked "Paid." Smiling, he said: "Your Blue Cross protection takes care of it, Mrs. Gordon. And nothing could make me happier than to hand you this paid statement. I know how much you and Mr. Gordon have been out in the past on hospital bills before you had such protection. This time you must pay but a few dollars, and I'm mighty happy about it."

Such protection is available to those in any business organization of five or more employees—for the individual and dependents. Instead of being faced with sudden heavy financial demands and the worry that goes with them, all or a major part of your hospital and medical care expenses are prepaid through participation in the Blue Cross-Blue Shield plan.

This is the democratic way to relieve yourself of burdensome expense and worry . . . through voluntary group action. That is what Blue Cross-Blue Shield is, the banding together of foresighted people to take care of hospital and medical care expenses by their own efforts, without regimentation, without being told, "Thou shalt!" You are invited to investigate.

Bitter Cold Wave Brings Floods, Ice And Snow To Much Of State

Worth areas although Waco reported 1.60 inches in the 24 hours ending at 6:30 p.m. Monday and Corpus Christi one inch.

Street cars at Dallas were slowed to a crawl early in the night when ice on their power lines prevented them from making good contact. The wires threw up great blue sparks.

Reaches Far Downstate

By mid-afternoon, the norther had reached Central Texas.

The Weather bureau said the flood on the east fork of the Trinity would be of major proportions. Deluges Sunday night and Monday dumped five or more inches of rain on the watershed. The river was out of banks north of Dallas Monday afternoon and still rising.

By Monday afternoon, Dallas had recorded four and one-half inches of rain and rains continued. The heavy downpour Sunday night and Monday was concentrated over the watershed of the east fork of the Trinity. McKinney had 4.10 inches; Anna, near Sherman, registered 3.14 inches; Greenville, 4.31 inches.

It was a real thunder and lightning drouth-buster, ending the dryest seven months period on record in the area. Lake Dallas, source of Dallas water supply was filling rapidly—it had reached an all-time low.

Bonham, in North Texas, reported an overnight rainfall of 2.77 inches, bringing the weekend total to 3.60 inches. The total catch was boosted to six inches for the weekend.

The cold front brought 1.98 inches of rain to Hillsboro.

A. M. Hamrick, chief of the Dallas Weather bureau, warned residents of the area to move their livestock to higher ground and to keep off roads in the lowlands.

Maj. W. J. Elliott, head of the State Highway patrol, warned motorists to "use extreme caution" in the Amarillo, Lubbock, Abilene and Wichita Falls district because of ice.

Highways 80 and 78 in the Dallas area were blocked by the Trinity flood.

Here was the weather bureau forecast:

West Texas: Cold wave, freezing rain or snow from the Pecos valley eastward Monday night, continuing Tuesday. Snow in the Panhandle and South Plains Tuesday and rain turning to freezing rain west of the Pecos valley. Minimum temperatures Tuesday minus 5 to zero in the Panhandle, zero to 10 above in the South Plains and 10-25 elsewhere

East Texas: Cold wave, freezing rain or snow in the northwest, West Central and North Central tonight, continuing Tuesday. Rain and much colder elsewhere with rain turning to freezing rain in the interior Monday night. Minimum temperatures Tuesday 5-20 in northwest and 15-30 in northeast and west central.

Planes Rush Hay

brought 40 below zero to Bozeman, Mont., and Casper Wyo. Scottsbluff, Neb., had 14 below; Rapid City, S. D., -19, and many other points between five and 10 degrees below zero.

No relief was forecast until Tuesday.

High winds whipped up snow into ground blizzards in southwestern Wyoming. Some rail and air traffic in Wyoming and Colorado was temporarily delayed, but service reinstated later.

In the frigid plains area, flights were limited by adverse weather. The Army employed a dozen "weasels" — track-equipped vehicles capable of plowing their way through deep snow—in the Wyoming, South Dakota-Nebraska area for use in livestock feed distribution and also re-establishment of communication with isolated communities.

Towns Cut Off

Among places snowlocked and in need of food and fuel Fifth Army headquarters listed O'Neill, Neb., and Philip and Martin, S. D.

Several other communities remained cut off by snow in the North Platte and Grand Island areas where subzero air hung over accumulated drifts. But progress was made by Army, state highway, National Guard and volunteer crews fighting to open blocked roads to stock camps and snowlocked communities.

Heavy rain which froze into two-inch sheaths on communication wires caused lines to snap, cutting phone contact with northwestern Kansas communities. Kansas and Missouri roads were glazed.

Streams Rise

In some areas of the middle Mississippi and Ohio valleys, streams rose swiftly and some went out of their banks. The lower Ohio river reaches were near flood stages, but forecasters said there was no immediate threat.

Heavy rains spread from Texas to the Atlantic coast. Parts of Missouri and Kansas were ice-laden in the winter's third severe freeze in that area. And Southern California still failed to get back its usual balmy winter weather.

The cold spreading into the midwest brought five below to Goodland, Kas., and zero mercury levels were predicted by Tuesday morning as far east as southeastern Wisconsin and as far south as northern Arkansas.

Cold Hits Southwest

The cold also dipped into the southwest where Flagstaff, Ariz., has had a total of 44 inches of snow this winter, and California has experienced its most severe weather on record.

Palmdale, on the southern California desert, had a low Monday morning of 22 degrees, but temperatures were not low enough in the citrus and vegetable growing areas for further crop danger.

There was some orchard firing in the San Bernardino-Riverside citrus areas where the mercury went two degrees below freezing. Los Angeles had a chill 37 and Newhall 29.

HST Asks Solons To Change Tariff Law

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24 (AP) — The old Democratic-Republican feud over tariffs was rekindled today as President Truman asked Congress to junk the 1948 GOP tariff act and restore the full powers of the old reciprocal trade law.

Republicans wrote in curbs on the administration's rate-changing powers last year, and today they signaled a fight to keep the restrictions alive.

Under the old law, the administration had authority to slash tariff rates as much as 50 percent when other countries made reductions favorable to American trade.

Secretary of Agriculture Brannan joined Mr. Truman in urging extension of the trade agreements program. Letters from the President and Brannan were read as the House Ways and Means committee began formal hearings on the administration trade bill.

Senate Committee to labor and one which also does a dis-service to labor."

Closing Date Set

The committee's action came on a resolution by Sen. Pepper (D-Fla.) which was seconded by Sen. Neely (D-W. Va.) approved by all eight Democrats and opposed by all five Republicans on the unit.

The unusually-worded resolution said:

"It is hereby resolved by this committee that the Taft-Hartley law be repealed and that . . . the Wagner act be restored; that hearings begin forthwith on amendments to the Wagner act consistent with the proposals made by the President."

The resolution added that hearings would close not later than Feb. 10 and that the bill for the repeal of the Taft-Hartley act be then reported to the Senate with amendments which the committee might propose to the Wagner act.

Tobin Plans Drafts

Republicans claimed that as worded, the resolution would limit changes in the Wagner act to the kind proposed by President Truman in his state of the Union message.

Mr. Truman asked for bans on jurisdictional strikes, unjustifiable secondary boycotts, and on strikes over interpretation of existing contracts. He also asked for legislation to deal with strikes affecting the national interests.

Labor Secretary Tobin, who spent about an hour with the committee, told newsmen he would have a draft of proposed labor law changes ready for presentation to House and Senate labor units by the end of the week.

Demo Denies Claims

Pepper, who addressed newsmen in "rebuttal" after Republican committeemen aired their protest against the resolution, denied that Democrats were "saving anybody's face." He said:

"We're keeping our word. We told the people that if the Democrats were elected we were going to rpeal the Taft-Hartley law."

He said that Democrats did not feel that prolonged hearings were needed.

Committee Democrats earlier at a meeting of their own decided to speed-up action on labor legislation. Their decision came after Democratic Senate leaders "turned on the heat" for early action.

Taft said he will demand at a later date that hearings be extended beyond Feb. 10.

Sen. Smith, (R-N.J.) charged that Democrats were trying to give the impression that they were "pro-labor" while Republicans were "anti-labor." He said it would be unfortunate if the country were to be divided into classes by such action.

U. S. Asks German Pianist To Leave Nation; Concert Halted

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24 (INS)— German pianist Walter Gieseking agreed tonight to leave the United States after the Immigration service halted his Carnegie hall concert scheduled for this evening.

Immigration service officials late this afternoon cancelled the concert by ordering Gieseking detained at Ellis Island, pending a hearing tomorrow morning by a board of inquiry.

The pianist then agreed to leave the U. S. no later than 11 a.m. tomorrow morning and was placed in custody of the Immigration service in New York. An Immigration service spokesman said that enough evidence was brought to its attention today to justify halting the concert.

HST May Need Billion Dollars To Develop 'Backward Areas'

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24. (AP)— High administration officials said today Congress may be asked for $1,000,000,000 to back up President Truman's "bold new program" to develop the world's backward areas.

This money would be available for loans by this government to foreign countries which join in a plan for coordinated development of their national resources.

The decision to seek this money is not definite. But it represents the thinking of high administration officials who are looking for a way to translate President Truman's plan into action.

Legion Objectives Are Discussed Here

Regular meeting of Allen Bros. Post, No. 148 of the American Legion Monday night at the Legion hall, 910 Texas Avenue, featured a barbecue supper, followed by talks on subjects of interest to veterans.

Fred E. Young, regional attorney for the Veterans administration spoke on the "Objectives of the American Legion," basing his talk on the "Preamble to the Constitution of the Legion" and its emphasis on service to God and country and devotion to mutual helpfulness among veterans. Carroll Smyers, executive assistant to the VA regional manager, and Sid Lowery, department service officer of the Legion also spoke.

Plans for formation and support of a Drum and Bugle corps for the post were discussed and a report heard from Harold H. Leith of Hermleigh, veteran band instructor, on possibilities for such a unit here.

Post Commander J. R. Eagan presided and Mess Sgt. Lee Echols was responsible for the barbecue. Regular business meetings of the American Legion are held on the second Monday of each month, and regular entertainment meetings are held on fourth Mondays at which time chow is served.

Chiang Calls Troops

highest sources disagreed anew whether Chiang Kai-Shek actually did quit the government when he flew away Friday to his ancestral village of Chikow, 210 miles southeast of Nanking.

Shen Chang-Huan, information minister who used to be Chiang's private secretary, asserted at a Nanking tea party that Chiang had not resigned and was still president of China. He insisted that Li Tsung-Jen was merely acting president because Chiang was absent from the capital.

However, Li's personal representative in Shanghai, Kan Chieh-Hou, held a press conference Monday night in which he repeatedly spoke of the "resignation" of Chiang.

Troops Clog Railways

(All this could be typically Chinese quibbling, but when coupled with the peculiar troop movements it could signify a possible fatal disagreement inside the remaining government structure.)

Movement of undetermined thousands of Nationalist units from the Shanghai, Nanking and Hangchow areas and from garrison points in between clogged the railways. Civilian trains sat on sidings for hours as the fully-equipped troops rolled south.

The most reliable sources described these forces as the generalissimo's "personal troops" and said their initial destination was Chekiang province, where Chiang now sits beside the tombs of his ancestors in debatable retirement.

New Stand Possible

(This business of "personal troops" and individual rather than patriotic attachment goes back to China's long period of warlord rule.

(Use of such terms now hints that the skeleton of the government may be rapidly becoming unjointed and raises a question whether a nationwide surrender deal could be made to stick even if the Communists agreed. An attempt to make a stand in the south may be in the making.)

The Nanking dispatches said that acting President Li's callup of his 50,000 followers could be either to defend Nanking in case the Communists attacked, or to try to prevent other troops in Nanking from disregarding any future cease-fire.

Kidnaper Released

(Li's men apparently had not yet arrived. How well they would heed the call was a question, since the Nanking Evening News said the Hankow commander had sent an agent north to find out how good Peiping's separate surrender of Saturday really was.)

Li meanwhile in a dramatic stroke ordered release of Marshal Chang Hsueh-Liang and others held in kid-glove imprisonment by Chiang Kai-Shek ever since the famous 1936 kidnaping.

Li sent a plane to Formosa to return the so-called "young marshal" to Nanking.

Negotiations Opposed

(Chang Hsueh-Liang kidnaped the generalissimo at Sian in December, 1936, and freed him after forcing him to agree on an anti-Japanese front with the Communists. Chiang Kai-Shek then arrested his kidnaper and has held him in house arrest ever since—an action the public always has regarded as not playing fair. The prisoner's brother is the Communist-appointed mayor of Mukden.)

Li Tsung-Jen's all-out attempts to get the Communists to negotiate was getting a cold shoulder from nom-Communist groups in Shanghai.

It was authoritatively reported that Li's emissary, Kan Chieh-Hou, was refused aid by the democratic league and by Mme. Sun Yat-Sen.

The democratic league long has been outlawed by the government, but Kan said his appeal amounted to legalization of the party.

Word Is Awaited

Shao Li-Tze and Gen Chang Chih-Chung, chiefs of a five-man peace mission named Saturday by the acting president, were in Shanghai to try to persuade the minority groups to help them.

Kan told a press conference the government still was awaiting word from the Reds for a meeting time and place. He said talks should take place "possibly very soon," as the government was ready to accept the Communists' eight-point surrender ultimatum of Jan. 14 as a basis.

The Communists, however, kept their own counsel and plodded inexorably on towards the Yangtze river—last barrier before Nanking.

News Briefs

An intensive Bible study of the book of Exodus, lead by Mrs. J. B. Jackson, will be conducted in meetings today through Friday at 9:30 a. m. daily in First Presbyterian church. All interested persons have been invited to attend, it was announced.

The annual managers' meeting of the Minnesota Mutual Life Insurance company will be attended by H. A. Stone, manager of the Lubbock office, who left Monday for St. Paul, Minn., where the company's home offices are located.

Al Townsend, local oil dealer who suffered a heart attack Sunday afternoon while playing golf at Lubbock Country club, was reported to be "improved and satisfactory" in condition Monday by West Texas hospital attendants. Townsend's residence is on Levelland highway.

William V. Stone of Lubbock was elected a director of the Texas Soft Water association this past weekend in San Antonio at the association's annual meeting there, the Associated Press reported last night. Stone resides at 3202 Twenty-eighth.

City firemen, who made a run about 8:55 p. m. Monday to Dunlap's department store, said that a connection on a gas heater had come uncoupled and was spraying a door with fire. Store personnel, who were present at the time had extinguished the fire before firemen arrived, it was reported. No damage was done.

Broader Controls

quarters not covered by the present act:

1. Hotel accommodations not rented for transient occupancy on June 30, 1947. This affects about 500,000 hotel apartments, the administration said in a statement.

2. Rental units which are now or have previously been covered by voluntary leases. The last two rent control bills passed by Congress permitted rent increases up to 15 per cent where landlord and tenant agreed to a long-term lease. The right to sign such leases would not be renewed.

3. Quarters which were not rented for 24 months during the period from February 1, 1945, to March 30, 1948. Such units, now exempt, would be brought back under controls.

Powers Would Be Restored

4. Converted housing accommodations, now automatically decontrolled, would be restored to controls until the housing expediter finds that the conversion provides additional family living units.

The expediter would also be given authority to control or re-control whole rental areas.

These powers which he had in some form under wartime laws and which Congress later took away would also be restored:

1. The right to sue for triple damages for rental overcharges. The existing law gives only the tenant the right to seek triple damages.

2. The right to control evictions, now governed by state laws.

3. The right to take criminal action against what Spence called "repeated and wilful violators who apparently have little respect for civil penalties."

To Continue Local Boards

The bill would continue the local advisory boards, appointed by the expediter from a list of representative citizens submitted by governors of the states.

These boards are authorized to make recommendations for general increases of ceilings or their complete lifting. The new bill would permit these boards to appeal to the emergency court of appeals if the housing expediter rejects their recommendations. Such appeals are now automatic.

The bill would also continue throughout the life of the act the preference given veterans to rent or buy new living quarters not built for owner occupancy.

Services For Robert Joe Irvin Scheduled At Ralls Today

RALLS, Jan. 24.— (Special) — Last rites for Robert Joe Irvin, 25, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. N. Irvin, of Ralls, will be held at 3 p. m. Tuesday at the First Baptist church here with C. M. Tuttleton, minister of the Emma Church of Christ, officiating.

Irvin died at 6:29 a. m. today in a Dallas hospital. Burial will be in Tech Memorial cemetery, Lubbock, with Marr Funeral home in charge of arrangements.

Survivors include his parents, and three sisters, Mrs. Jack Thomas, Matador; Mrs. Doris Dean, Ralls, and Miss Janice Ann Irvin, student at Texas Tech.

RAINS IMPERIL TOWN

SHREVEPORT, La., Jan. 24 (AP) —The small lumber town of Mena, Ark., 176 miles north of Shreveport, was in danger of being washed away today by torrential rains which began at noon Sunday and had not slackened late today. Mayor Albert Middleton of Mena told the Shreveport Times that a new dam at the south end of the lake, which is used as the town's water reservoir, may break if the downpour continues.

May Conviction Is Upheld By High Court

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24 (INS) — The U. S. court of appeals today upheld, 2-1, the wartime bribery and fraud convictions of former Rep. May (D-Ky.), and the Garsson brothers, Murray and Henry.

Counsel for May, chairman of the powerful House Military Affairs committee during the war, immediately announced a rehearing would be sought in the appeals court.

Counsel for the Garsson brothers asserted at Lewisburg, Pa., that he would file "an immediate petition for an appeal" to the Supreme court.

Andrew May and the Garssons were found guilty of conspiring to defraud the federal government through operations of a 78 million dollar munitions combine.

They were sentenced to serve from eight months to two years in prison, but now are at liberty under bail pending the outcome of their appeals.

Youth Questioned

in the juvenile ward of the county jail. Deputy Sheriff F. H. Bolen said the boy admitted to county authorities that he had stolen at least one other car, believed to be in Lubbock, and said he had burglarized an ice company here and stolen $24. Officials were checking his story on the burglary late last night, and questioning the youth further.

Forgery Case Probed

Another juvenile case had occupied police attention earlier in the day Monday. A 16-year-old negro girl was taken into custody by the manager of a local department store here and turned over to city detectives after she allegedly attempted to pass forged checks for $15 and $32.50 at the store. She told detectives she had also "passed" a forged $18 check at a food store here.

She was placed in the juvenile ward of county jail, and will be questioned further by juvenile authorities, it was indicated.

Willie Monroe, 22, Lubbock negro, was charged Monday with aggravated assault on complaint of his wife, and sheriff's deputies arrested him early Monday evening.

Sheriff Charlie Bullock of Hockley county made three arrests in connection with his investigation into theft about midnight Saturday of two cases of hams from a mired-down Keeton Packing company truck east of Crosbyton, it was announced Monday.

Six hams had been recovered from a vacant farm house in Hockley county, all that had been stolen from the truck.

Chief Dep. Sheriff George Eubank and Texas Ranger Razz Renfrow, both of Lubbock, went to Levelland Sunday to assist Sheriff Bullock in connection with the case.

Truck Was Locked

Jurisdiction of the case would lie in Crosby county. No charges had been announced filed in connection with the case.

The three suspects allegedly happened upon the truck after the driver had gone for assistance. The truck was locked, officials said they were informed.

Lubbock police said they were informed by E. E. Stevens that someone had broken and entered his residence at 2007 Ave. M and had taken his purse containing $43 in currency. The purse later was found on Stevens' front porch. The entry was in the night, the complainant said.

Negro Pleads Guilty

District Attorney Lloyd Croslin said L. C. Birdow, a 23-year-old negro, pleaded guilty, after waiving a jury Monday in 99th district court, of assault with intent to murder. He was placed under 10-year probation by Judge G. V. Pardue. The indictment charged that Birdow on Nov. 20 shot Edith Beatrice Watkins, a negro female.

Bond of $1,000 was posted by Shirley Roy Belt, 23, of Sweetwater, charged Jan. 15 with felony theft, the sheriff's department said.

Bond of $500 was posted by W. H. Metcalf, a 38-year-old negro charged in December with aggravated assault upon his wife, officials said. He pleaded innocent.

Theft Is Reported

Theft of $45 in receipts of his store at 1402 Ave. D was reported over the weekend to police by John C. Ford.

Ford said he laid a box containing the "change" on an oil barrel when closing the doors of his store and briefly forgot it.

He walked away from his store, then returned to find the box and the money gone.

A 1946 two-ton green Pontiac car, bearing Texas license number AP 954, was reported to police as stolen from 1100-block Ave. L about 8:20 p. m. Monday, allegedly while the owner had left it running while he went into a cafe for a cup of coffee.

Curbs On Filibusters

reaches the Senate floor.

Long declared that the minority has a right to "fight it out to the limit of its endurance" in explaining issues to the public.

But Senator Morse (R-Ore) disagreed. The westerner said the filibuster is a method to settle controversies "by physical endurance." A majority of the people, he said, want it stopped.

Morse said that even if filibuster tactics eventually collapse, the long-winded exponents sometimes force compromises, and he declared:

"I object to a compromise being forced down my throat by a filibuster gun."

Morse urged the committee to accept his resolution, which would permit the Senate to shut off all debate by a simple majority vote.

Two-Thirds Vote Required

Under present rules, the Senate can limit debate on a bill by a two-thirds vote of its members. But traditionally this rule does not apply to debate on motions and other business, and thus Senators may talk almost endlessly.

Chairman Hayden favors shutting off any debate by a two-thirds senate vote. It is likely that his resolution will be approved by the committee.

Rites Set Wednesday

Funeral services for Gorden, who had been a resident of Levelland for about 12 years, will be conducted at 2:30 p. m. Wednesday in the First Methodist church of Levelland, Plains Funeral home there reported. It had not been definitely determined late Monday whether burial would be in Levelland or in Lubbock.

Survivors include the widow; the father, E. L., of Corsicana; three sons, Earl of Corsicana, A. C. of Bell Garden, Calif., and C. L. jr., now in Alaska with the U. S. Army; two daughters, Mrs. H. D. Howard of Corsicana, and Mrs. Tommie Maroney of Bell, Calif.; four brothers, Fred of Lubbock, Ernest of Stamford, and Edwin and John, both of Corsicana; three sisters, Mrs. Fred Yates of San Angelo, Mrs. Bonnie Saunders of Frost, Tex., and Mrs. W. B. Dawson of Oklahma City; a half-sister; four half-brothers; and four grandchildren.

The complaint naming Fitzgerald was filed in the court of D. W. Robertson, justice of peace, who will refer it to the next grand jury. It was sworn to by Robert E. West, police patrolman, before assistant District Attorney E. G. Pharr, and charged that Fitzgerald, "while intoxicated and when in the execution of said unlawful act, through mistake and accident, (Fitzgerald) did kill Gorden . . ."

Crop Limit Planned

The plan announced today is designed to remove this incentive and thus curb surpluses.

Cotton Boost Seen

About as large a winter wheat crop as possible already has been planted, Thomas said. Cotton farmers, he added, are preparing to plant "an extra large crop" to get the benefit of present high support prices.

The committee failed to get from Brannan a statement on the administration's long range farm policy, but Thomas said Brannan did say that the Agriculture department is "considering remodeling the parity formula."

This is a method of determining "fair prices" for agricultural products in terms of what farmers have to pay for things they buy.

High Support Prices Favored

Brannan told reporters after the committee meeting that the department is not ready to state its long-range policy. He said it might be in a month or so.

In the last Republican controlled Congress legislation was passed providing for the continuation this year of the high wartime price support program at 90 per cent of parity.

But beginning next year, unless the law is changed, a sliding scale of price supports will cent of parity.

Thomas quoted Brannan as saying that "support prices are the basis of the whole agriculture program."

Thomas favors continuing the high wartime price supports for basic commodities and he predicted that Congress will pass such legislation.

HOUSE GROUP SCHEDULES IRRIGATED COTTON HEARING

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24. (Special)—Hearings on irrigated cotton will be held by the House Agriculture committee on Feb. 7, Rep. Ken Reagan, of the 16th Texas congressional district, announced today.

H said Texas, New Mexico, Arizona and California witnesses would be heard. Regan asked that J. C. Wilson, Pecos, be heard as representative of the West Texas irrigated cotton industry. Meanwhile, interests of the cotton industry of West Texas are being watched with great care by Congressman George Mahon, Colorado City, who conferred here today with Arch Underwood, Lubbock.

Acreage Interest Grows

Considerable interest is being shown by West Texas in the hearing on 1949 acreage which will start Tuesday. Rep. W. R. Poage, Waco, and Rep. Eugene Worley, Shamrock, members of the House committee will pay particular attention to these.

With acreage control on cotton assured in 1950 it now remains for the congressional committee to set the policy on how acreage limitation will be regulated and to announce this in 1949 so as to discourage so much planting in 1949 in face of the predicted large cotton crop. It was pointed out by committee experts and the Texas congressmen that it it now looks as if farmers will want to plant cotton to the door steps in 1949 to qualify the large acreage planting in 1950 unless something is done immediately to make such large 1949 planting unprofitable.

South Plains Shivers

homa Motor coaches cancelled all midnight schedules from Lubbock to Oklahoma City, to Fort Worth via Seymour, and to Waco via Eastland because of highway conditions.

The bus firm said that all the cancelled runs would be resumed at 7 a. m. unless road conditions became worse early today.

Moisture Not Heavy

The storm, forecast Saturday afternoon by the Weather station, moved into the South Plains shortly after 5 a. m. yesterday. The mercury tumbled from a 5:30 a. m. reading of 38 to 15 degrees at 11 p. m. and the slow downward trend was continuing, the Weather bureau said.

Light rains Sunday morning, and snow and sleet flurries yesterday afternoon and night upped the precipitation total at the Municipal airport for January to 3.40 inches.

Forecasters said that today's precipitation would not "amount to much." No danger to power lines, phone lines, was foreseen and heavy icing of highways was not expected to result from any precipitation that may fall today.

reaches transmission pipe lines. Three-fourths of the income would be for farm-to-market roads and the remainder for the public school fund.

Speaker of the House Durwood Manford said he expects to have committee assignments ready by Thursday or Friday to permit doors to swing open for House bills.

Highway Bill Offered

Early adjournment of the House today was in respect to the father of Rep. Jimmy P. Horany, who was killed in an automobile-pedestrian accident in Archer City.

Bills introduced in the Senate also included one by Senator W. A. Shofner which would set up a five-man highway commission in place of the present three-man setup. Shofner said there is need for widet representation of different sections of the state on the board. The bill would provide that the state be divided into five highway commission districts with a commissioner to head each district.

Juvenile Bills Introduced

Two new bills would affect the status of juveniles in state courts. One by Senator Keith Kelly of Fort Worth would raise the age for child support in divorce proceedings from 16 to 18 years. A bill by Senator Rogers Kelley of Edinburg would require that a district or county court in each county be named as a juvenile court to give preference to cases of annulment, divorce, dependency, neglect, support, custody and adoption matters.

Senator Carlos Ashley introduced a bill which would require that the county in which an executed convict was indicted pay the embalming fee if the convict's body is not claimed within 10 days after the execution. This is one of the series of nine bills to renovate the prison system.

The two proposals on natural gas taxes would boost the state's annual tax income from natural gas from a current estimated $8,500,000 to between $32,000,000 and $42,000,000.

Probable income is placed at from $32,000,000 to $34,000,000 annually, with three-fourths earmarked for farm-to-market roads and the remainder to the public school fund.

The state constitution provides that one-fourth of such a tax must go to public schools.

GUIDED MISSILE RACE SEEN

U. S. Pushes Study Of Rockets; Budget For Projects Boosted

By ELTON C. FAY
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—The race for supremacy in ocean-spanning rocket weapons may result by 1952 in the United States devoting 40 per cent or more of its military budget to research, much of it going to guided missile development and production.

This estimate comes from some military scientists who prefer to remain anonymous but who are in a position to know the trend of thinking in the arms research field.

Such an allocation would be a sharp increase over the present proportion of expenditures. President Truman's budget messages to Congress recommended a total national defense outlay for the next fiscal year of $15,900,000,000. Of this $534,000,000 would be for military research and development of all types, presumably with guided missiles only a part of that figure.

Research At Top

The President ranked research among the priority items of his military budget.

Overall direction and coordination of the military research program is by the research and development board, with the three armed forces carrying on most of the actual work. The Air Force and the Navy are allocated about 40 per cent each of the research budget funds, the Army, 20 per cent.

In mentioning the possibility that guided missiles might account for almost half of the military expenditures within the next few years, the scientists pointed out that did not necessarily mean rockets capable of pin-pointing a target on another continent would be perfected by then. But in that time the military scientists hope to have improved the propulsion and guiding equipment (particularly the latter) already in use.

Navy Also Experimenting

In addition to the spectacular experiments with the high altitude V-2 type rockets at White Sands, N. M., the military is working on improvement of shorter range missiles. Among them are experiments being conducted by the Navy off Pt. Mugu, Calif., with buzz bombs launched from a submarine. Although currently the missiles apparently are launched when the submarine is surfaced, the ultimate objective is to develop a method for launching the flying rockets while a submarine is concealed beneath the surface but able to track and steer the rocket by radar and radio.

The military scientists note that perfection of the rocket weapons is only a part of the whole research and development field. A vast amount of the work in that field is concerned with improvement of existing weapons and systems of using them, including mass-destruction weapons like the atomic bomb and bacteriological warfare.

While agreeing that for the present the weapons and tactics of World War II must be those used if war should come immediately, some of the more enthusiastic military scientists believe those planes, guns and ships will be "obsolescent if not obsolete" by 1952. Strategy then will begin to be geared to other weapons already known or still in the secret category.

The expanding importance of science-warfare has turned the spotlight on the scientists who have a hand in inventing the weapons.

Dr. Karl T. Compton, chairman of the Research and Development board left the presidency of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology to take the government job. A scientist by profession, he nevertheless has spent a large proportion of his career as an administrator.

Bad Weather Helps O'Donnell Boys Reap Rabbit Harvest

O'DONNELL, Jan. 24. (Special)—The bad weather now prevailing in the O'Donnell area has been working right into the hands of a group of colored boys who live here.

They have been making forays into the rabbit population in the ranch section northwest of town with good results.

On one day the past week, six boys killed 70 rabbits and another day came in with 80. They sneak up on the rabbits in clumps of mesquites and let go in a battery of shots.

The boys sold the rabbits for food. Thus they are working in a triple movement to better conditions here; they're providing more grass for livestock as the rabbits eatlots of grass, they're leaving more beef for the beef-eaters and they're making good wages with their guns.

HOME MOVIES TO TALK

CHICAGO (AP)—Home movie fans soon may be making talking pictures. Marvin Camras, youthful Armour Research Foundation inventor, announced the development of a sound track for eight-millimeter film. A magnetic coating is deposited on the film's edges, Camras said, and a running commentary may be added to the home movies.

1948 Cotton Ginnings Pass 14 Billion Mark

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24 (AP)—The census bureau reported today that 14,141,789 bales of cotton from the 1948 crop were ginned prior to Jan. 16.

The number compared with 11,384,700 bales from the 1947 crop ginned to the same date last year, and 8,165,034 to the same date two years ago.

The ginnings by states this year and last respectively, included: 3,056,978 and 3,267,623.

Do You Really Want to Take Off That Ugly Fat?

Recently there has been a number of new reducing preparations on the market, some of them based on the diet and vitamin "plan." It is obvious that vitamins will not reduce the body weight, so one must depend on diet to reduce. But it is also obvious that one cannot go on a strenuous diet over a protracted period, and any weight lost will be restored if the former eating habits are gone back to.

So what to do? Well, here is a tip to you "overweight gals" who want to fight "the Battle of the Bulges" in a different way. Ask any well stocked Texas druggist for four ounces of Barcentrate. Mix with 12 ounces of grapefruit juice and take two tablespoonsful twice a day.

This preparation contains nothing harmful and the makers agree to refund your money on the very first bottle if it does not show you the way to lose ugly fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves.

Barcentrate is low in cost and is not based on the diet and vitamin "plan." You need never know a hungry moment while reducing with Barcentrate.

Junior Fat Stock Show To Be Expanded

Editorials Comics Classified Section 2

LUBBOCK MORNING AVALANCHE

Lubbock, Texas, Tuesday, January 25, 1949

Cash Awards For Show To Be Hiked

Increased premiums and other expansions and improvements at the approaching 17th annual South Plains Junior Fat Stock show here were approved Monday at a meeting at which Homer E. Hunt, Lubbock grain dealer, was elected general chairman of the event.

Hunt succeeds Vernice Ford, implement dealer, general chairman of the past two shows.

Participants in the meeting, held in the Colonial room of the Hilton hotel, estimated the show will be worth $5,000 or more in prizes and premiums above market prices on livestock exhibited by and auctioned for 4-H club and FFA boys of 29 counties of this area.

To Be Held In March

The annual show, underwritten by the chamber of commerce with the participating sponsorship of Lubbock luncheon clubs, will be held at the fairgrounds Monday through Wednesday, March 21-23.

In competition will be fat calves, pigs and lambs raised by boys of the show area.

Expansions of the approaching show, as approved at the meeting, include the provision of a special class for Angus in the calf division and for Southdowns in the lamb department.

Premiums will be approximately 25 per cent larger than in any previous show, with a maximum of close to $1,000 being posted. The exact cash value, however, cannot be computed until entries actually are received and accepted. The value of prizes will vary according to the number of entries in particular divisions, ranging from first prize of $2.50 in classes in which five or fewer animals compete to $6 to those with 26 or more contenders.

Auction Sale Profitable

The most profitable feature of the show for the young exhibitors, however, will be the annual auction sale the final afternoon, at which substantial premiums above market prices traditionally are paid for animals sold. These premiums, underwritten by the chamber of commerce, are provided through contributions by Lubbock business men.

Plans also include more entertainment for exhibitors than at any previous show. The feature will be a barbecue the night of March 23 in the Texas Technological college livestock judging pavilion. It was agreed that the program there will stress fun, with a minimum of speech-making. The boys also will be guests at a downtown theater Monday afternoon or night.

The Lions club will handle arrangements for the barbecue, assisted in the financing by the Rotary, Kiwanis, Optimist, American Business and Exchange clubs and the Junior Chamber of Com-

Welfare Groups To Ask New Aid

Following reports from representatives of Lubbock welfare agencies at a noon luncheon of the Lubbock Welfare council Monday at the Hilton hotel, a committee was appointed to appear before city and county commissioners and to give a picture of the tense situation brought about by current unemployment problems. Appropriations will be asked for emergency funds to continue until the situation is eased.

On the committee are Mrs. J. H. Stiles, executive secretary, Lubbock county chapter, American Red Cross; Capt. W. T. Gregory, Salvation Army; Mrs. Nancy Green, acting secretary of the City-County Welfare association and Rev. John Moore of St. Joseph's church.

Weather Slows Work

Inclement weather during the last three weeks has slowed down or stopped outdoor work, it was pointed out at the council luncheon, and many families, especially Latin Americans, are suffering from hunger and the cold.

Budgets of Lubbock welfare agencies are strained to the breaking point, representatives reported. The Red Cross chapter is unable to take any greater case load, due to veterans unemployment problems, Mrs. Stiles said. Although the Salvation Army helps in every case possible, a curtailment of ten per cent in the allocation from the Community Chest and requests from transients are a heavy drain, Capt. Gregory explained. Rev. Moore reported St. Joseph's church has almost exhausted funds to meet the emergency.

Rev. Claude E. Canterbury, rector of St. Paul's Episcopal church, spoke on "What a welfare association should mean to a community." Mrs. Rosa A. Settle, chairman, presided.

3,400 Idled In Strike At Texas City Plant

TEXAS CITY, Jan. 24.—(AP)—A strike for higher wages idled 3,400 workers at the Carbide and Carbon Chemicals Corp. plant here today.

Fourteen hundred were employees of the plant and 2,000 were construction workers engaged on a $15,000,000 expansion project.

The chemical workers walked off the job Sunday after their demand for a 27-cent-an-hour wage increase was denied.

The other workers, employes of Ford, Bacon and Davis, New York construction firm, were kept away from the plant because of the danger involved.

Supt. H. M. Ross of the plant said live steam was still escaping from hot units.

The 1,400 on strike are maintenance and operation employes. They turned down an 18-cent an hour increase offered by the company. The union scale for operators is $1.82 an hour and for maintenance men $1.95.

Four hundred office workers and guards were not affected.

Judge, Commission To Attend Rural Road Meet In Austin

County Judge Walter Davies and members of Lubbock county Commissioners court left Monday afternoon for Austin, where they will appear at 9:30 a. m. today before a committee in the Driscol hotel for purpose of drafting a bill seeking to further the program of Texas Rural Roads association. The association is known more familiarly for its agency in promoting farm-to-market roads.

The judge and commissioners also will confer with State Sen. Kilmer B. Corbin of this district in regard to determining what effect is being made to influence legislation allowing counties of Lubbock's population bracket to pay more salaries to deputies of county officers.

Commissioners are R. O. Short, George G. Green, Ottis Isom and Pat Corley.

TO TAKE UP MISSION WORK

Rev. Jeff D. Welch Resigns As Central Baptist Church Pastor

Rev. Jeff D. Welch resigned Sunday as pastor of the First Central Baptist church.

Rev. Welch pastor of the church for more than 17 years, said his resignation becomes effective Feb. 27. He said he is leaving his post as minister here to devote his full time to stimulating interest in Baptist foreign missions.

The church Wednesday night will appoint a pulpit committee to select his successor here, Rev. Welch said.

"I plan to go to churches of our denomination throughout the United States in an attempt to stimulate interest in foreign mission work, in which I have been vitally interested for some years," Rev. Welch said in explaining his resignation.

He said he would spend at least a year on a nationwide tour to conduct mission revivals. At present, he has no definite plans beyond that time, he added.

Tours Were Made

Rev. Welch has been actively interested in foreign mission work since 1941, when he visited the northwest United States and western Canada on a tour similar to that which he will begin in March.

In 1944, 1945, 1946, and 1947 he made tours of Mexico, Central and South America in connection with his mission program interest.

Before coming to Lubbock in 1931, Rev. Welch was in the ministry at Leedey, Okla., and at Jacksonville Baptist college, in Jacksonville, Tex., for a total of eight years. Earlier, he had been in evangelistic musical work for seven years, after training in the Analytical School of Music in Ft. Worth.

Church Has Grown

When he became pastor of the First Central Baptist church here in 1931, there were 68 members. The church had 1209 members in September of last year, Rev. Welch said Monday.

Rev. Welch is area chaplain of the Texas National Guard, in which he holds the rank of lieutenant colonel. He has also been chaplain of the Allen brothers post of the American Legion for more than 14 years.

REV. AND MRS. WELCH

He and his wife, who has been church educational director and has taken part in all departments of church work, live at 1812 Ave. L. She will accompany him on his tour, Rev. Welch said.

SEALSKIN RUG WORTH $9,000

COPENHAGEN. (AP)—At the exhibition of Danish applied art and decorative arts in New York next spring will be shown a sealskin rug made by the Copenhagen furrier Kaj Sander. It has an estimated value of $9,000, and consists of 7,000 small pieces put together in a pattern taken from an old Italian marble mosaic. Kaj Sander started to work on it before World War II.

Crosby Farmers Plan New Setup

By D. E. MITCHELL
Special Correspondent

LORENZO, Jan. 24. — Crosby county farmers may soon be taking on a new crop . . . that of growing vegetables for the market, which is scheduled to be packed and graded at a packing shed near Lorenzo.

A few weeks ago a small number of farmers gathered into a crowded school room to hear Welborn Theil, of Monroe, Texas, and formerly of Idaho, tell of his experience and success in vegetable growing—a product that few farmers know anything about. These men who gathered there are the dirt farmers. The only crop they know is cotton, feed and wheat.

Pioneering New Crop

Now a new crop is beginning to take form in Crosby county. Eighteen men have signed up to devote 20 acres of their land to the production of potatoes and onions. They are pioneering a new crop on the South Plains which may mean a great future in this area; a crop which will produce or fail. Since none of the farmers are experienced in this line they must learn by experience.

Each man will plant his 20 acres, irrigate, fertilize and cultivate it. The buying will be done by an experienced man who will buy a carload of plants or seed at one time and deliver it to the farmers.

Planting will be done with two planting machines, purchased jointly by all the farmers. These two machines will plant all the acreages.

Dusting is to be done by a dusting service in Lubbock. The company will send out two airplanes fully loaded to fly over each farm and dust the plants for insects. A certain price has been set by the company which was suitable to all the farmers.

Machine Harvesting Planned

Harvesting will be done by machines; picked up by laborers and taken to the packing shed by truck in Lorenzo. This packing shed will be built soon according to Arthur Lay, Lubbock producer who recently stated:

"We are pleased to advise that we have secured sufficient interest in the growing of potatoes and onions to warrant construction of a grading and packing shed in Lorenzo."

Crosby county agent Bill Kimbrough stated, "I think is is a very good idea for the farmers to plant

Fort Worth Man Speaker At Dinner

Purposes Of Library Discussed At Meet

By ROGER SOUTHALL
Avalanche Staff Writer

An address by J. S. Ibbotson, librarian of the Fort Worth public library, highlighted the annual dinner meeting of the Lubbock Public Library association last night in the Yaqui room of Hilton hotel. Approximately 25 members of the association attended.

Ibbotson, a former librarian of the Rosenberg library in Galveston, stopped in Lubbock to address the group after attending a meeting of the American Library association in Chicago.

In planning for a local library, he pointed out, it is the local citizens who are responsible for it, for no outside agency is in existance that can give financial support to it.

Should Study Basic Plan

In planning a local public library, he said, there is no clear-cut pattern to follow. Local library-minded citizens should first agree as to basic principles, and make the embryo library a translation of these principles.

He stressed that great library service should be the guiding principle of any library. By this term, great library service, he said he meant useful or potentially valuable service.

"Library service is great if it aims to fulfill the needs of the people it serves," he declared.

One of the primary needs is education, Ibbotson said, and added that "education can hold before the people the true picture of greatness." Through libraries people can turn to the great books and enduring records of all times.

Aids In Education

Another primary need, the librarian said, is that of "political literacy," while a third basic need is "moral education," coupled with liberal education.

"We have reached the point where moral education has failed, and all education is wasted if moral education fails," he said.

He pointed out that a library must be equipped to stimulate moral education, make for political literacy, and provide liberal education. He warned that a public library must not be primarily a research library, for that should be left, in the main, to college and university libraries.

He suggested, however, that one research collection should be supplied and maintained by a public library, that being a collection of materials on and indigenous to local and area history.

Present-day trends in public libraries include extensions of areas of service, co-operation with all existing libraries and library facilities, maintenance of a strong public relations program to interpret the library to the public, and institution of adult education programs.

A library building itself should be so designed that it is flexible and adaptable to changing needs. Ibbotson also stressed that the building should be designed with an eye to future costs in staffing and maintaining it.

Mrs. H. F. Godeke, president of the association, presided. Floyd Honey, vice president, introduced Ibbotson.

Other special guests were Mayor and Mrs. W. H. Rodgers and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Whiteside.

At the business session which followed Ibbotson's talk, Mrs. Godeke made a brief presidential report, followed by reports from Marion T. Key, treasurer; and Mrs. A. W. Young, membership chairman. Mrs. A. F. Rasor, secretary, read the minutes from the previous meeting.

Three new members of the board of directors were elected, including Mrs. Ben Brewer, J. T. Carter, and Thord Dockray.

New York Plans Atomic Energy Education In Public Schools

NEW YORK, Jan. 24. (UP)—A plan to make New York's school children the "best informed boys and girls in the country" on atomic energy was announced today by Mayor William O'Dwyer.

He said that an intensive atomic energy training course for the city's school teachers, the first of its kind in the nation, will begin Feb. 17.

"We are going to help our children learn to live in the atomic age," O'Dwyer said. "They will grow up to enjoy the blessings it will bring, but they will also bear its grave responsibilities. They have to be prepared for their parts as citizens of our democracy in the atomic age."

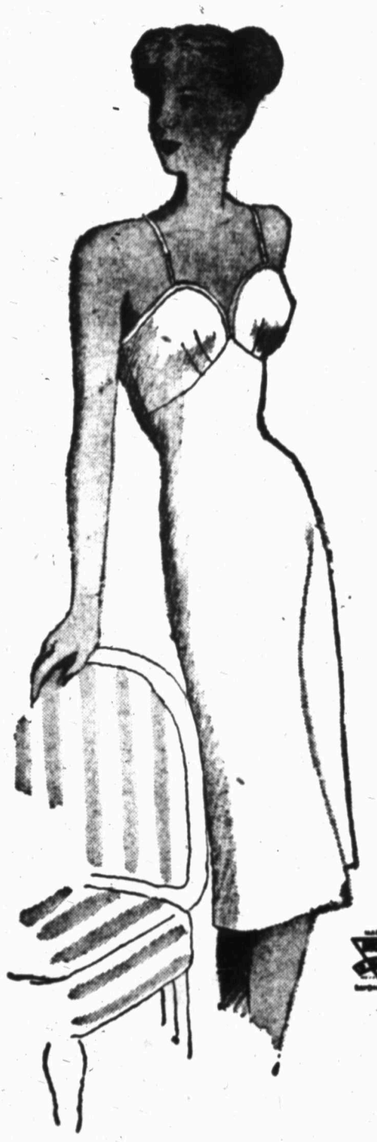

Funeral Services Set Today For Mrs. I. C. Gober In Memphis

MEMPHIS, Jan. 24 (Special)—Funeral services for Mrs. L. C. Gober, 86, former resident of Plainview, Matador and Memphis who died Sunday night in the home of a daughter in Kermit, will be conducted here at 3 p.m. Tuesday.

Burial will be in Memphis cemetery, beside the body of her husband, a pioneer blacksmith who died in 1929.

Survivors include a daughter, Mrs. Walter Seals of Kermit; a son, Charlie Gober of Kermit, and four grandchildren. Mrs. Jewel Young of 222 Uvalde, Lubbock, was a niece of Mrs. Gober.

25,000 Engineers Set To Strike On 15 Western Rail Lines Monday

CHICAGO, Jan. 24. (AP)—A strike of 25,000 engineers on 15 western railroads is set for next Monday but the government probably will step in to stop it.

The Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers announced today a strike deadline of 6 a. m. Jan. 31, in all time zones. The union wants a second engineer on diesel locomotives.

However, President Truman will be asked to appoint an emergency fact-finding board which would postpone a strike for 60 days. The board will have 30 days to investigate and make its reports. The law requires both sides to negotiate on the basis of the board's recommendations for at least 30 days.

President Truman probably will get the request for the emergency board within a few days.

"We'll get on it right away to see that the machinery of the railway labor act is put into effect," Francis A. O'Neill, a member of the national mediation board, said at Washington.

J. P. Shields, first assistant grand chief engineer of the brotherhood, in announcing the strike date, said, "We have exhausted our efforts under provisions of the national railway labor act."

Lines Score Act

A spokesman for the Association of Western Railways said the engineers are trying "to create a good, fat-paying job. The railroads have announced they will not arbitrate 'make work' programs."

The brotherhood previously said extra engineers are needed "to look after the machinery in the back end (of multiple unit diesels), while the first engineer operates the controls. Safety is a factor in our demands."

Railroads involved in the dispute are: The Great Northern, Northern Pacific; Chicago, Burlington and Quincy; Missouri Pacific; Texas and Pacific; Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe (lines east and west exclusive of the coast lines); the Union Pacific central district (the old Oregon short line); the Southern Pacific system; Illinois Central; Chicago and North Western; Western Pacific; Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific; St. Louis and San Francisco (the Frisco lines); International Great Northern and the Milwaukee road (east lines).

Testimony Heard In Accident Case

Judge Dan Blair and a 72nd district petit jury heard plaintiff's Monday afternoon in the civil action of O. C. Terrell against Trinity Universal Insurance company to set aside award of the state industrial accident board and for compensation for an alleged injury.

The plaintiff will continue to give testimony when court is reconvened at 9 a. m. today. Six witnesses had been called Monday.

Seeks Lump Sum

Terrell seeks compensation, in a lump sum, at the rate of $25 a week for 401 weeks, alleging total and permanent disability as outgrowth of a mishap Dec. 7, 1947. He said in his pleadings that he was injured near El Paso on that date, when within scope of employment as a truck driver for a grain company here. He said that lugs on a front wheel of the truck became loosened and that, in efforts to tighten them, he took a lug wrench and that it slipped on a lug, causing him to fall backward and down a 15-foot embankment.

He was examined Monday by Bob Huff of Lamesa, who is associated in the case with the firm of Boling, Smith and Allen as counsel for plaintiff.

Prior Injuries Claimed

Cross - examination was by George W. Dupree, of the firm of Crenshaw, Dupree, Milam and Crenshaw, counsel for the defense.

Dupree sought to prove that Terrell had suffered injuries prior to those alleged in the present case and, after the plaintiff had objected that alleged prior injuries had not been pleaded in the defendant's general denial, obtained permission of the court to file a trial amendment.

The jury is composed of Cloyce Knowles, A. J. Strawn, Lee Pierce, H. A. Franke, Ira Hollingsworth, Brian Hester, J. D. Collier, W. J. Hood, J. E. Massengale, Earl Bullock, J. D. McGinnis, and D. R. Rackley.

Judge Blair ordered that the remainder of the jury panel report to him at 9:30 o'clock this morning, when, he announced, there was a possibility it might be excused.

Senate Gets Bill To Increase Interest Rate On GI Loans

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24. (AP)—Senator Thomas (D-Utah) introduced today a bill to raise interest rates on veterans' home loans from 4 to 4½ per cent. The idea, he said, is to attract more investors.

Loan agencies and similar groups have been urging an increase in the interest which is now fixed at 4 per cent by the Veterans administration. Veterans Administrator Carl Gray, jr., has rejected proposals for a higher rate.

WAGE RAISES DUE

Deputies' Salaries

PUBLIC attention should be focused anew upon an almost incredible condition by a bill proposed in the Legislature by Sen. G. C. Morris, of Greenville, which would set a scale of salaries based upon populations for sheriffs and deputy sheriffs in Texas.

The existing condition as to such salaries defies intelligent understanding. For some reason and in some incomprehensible manner, past Legislatures have made provision for increased salaries for these officers in counties under 20,000 population and those over 145,000. Nothing has been done for the great majority of the counties of the state having populations between those figures.

The result is that deputies in many counties with less than 20,000 population are paid substantially more than those far more populous. In some of the sparsely settled South Plains counties, for example, deputies draw close to $300 a month.

In Lubbock county, with 51,000 people in 1940 and an estimated 85,000-plus now, the maximum is $187.50 for officers subject to call 24 hours a day and likely to be exposed without warning to deadly personal dangers. No one will be puzzled as to why Lubbock Sheriff Grady Harrist finds it diffjcult to obtain and almost impossible to hold competent deputies.

SENATOR MORRIS' bill undoubtedly would improve that condition. His proposed salary scale for counties of 40,000 to 60,000 population in 1940, which would include Lubbock, would be $4,800 to $7,500 a year for sheriffs and $2,400 to $4,800 for deputies. When the Lubbock county population climbs officially above 60,000, as it unquestionably will when 1950 census figures are announced, the scale for the sheriff would be $5,400 to $8,000 and for deputies from $2,750 to $5,000.

None of the figures proposed is excessive. The scales would allow county commissioners' court considerable latitude in determining exactly how much could and should be paid to such officers. They would not be compelled to pay the maximum amounts set up for the positions. Yet they could offer enough to attract, hold and compensate reasonably the type of men who are needed to enforce the law.

As of now, the commissioners' courts of Lubbock and most other counties of Texas cannot pay more than $187.50 a month for such jobs. When they get good men at such salaries—and usually they do get good men—it is in spite of, rather than because of, the wage.

Yet commissioners' courts in this and similarly situated counties cannot do anything to improve the condition unless and until the Legislature gives the authority.

SENATOR MORRIS' bill might be the answer to the problem. If not, the legislature assuredly can and should devote attention without unnecessary delay to the drafting and enacting of a law which in its opinion, will be more satisfactory.

The affected officers are entitled to more generous treatment without further prolonged waiting. The people in such counties as Lubbock are entitled to protection from the danger which inevitably results when the responsibilities and temptations of enforcing the law are reposed in men who are underpaid.

Down Memory Lane

(From the files of The Lubbock Morning Avalanche of Jan. 25, 1929.)

Election of officers for the district, and for the ladies auxiliary and selection of Amarillo as next convention host featured the closing session of the nineteenth annual convocation of the North Texas district of the Protestant Episcopal church here. Rev. L. G. H. Williams, rector of the host Lubbock church, was named trustee o the University of the South, at Sewanee, Tenn., his alma mater. District officers elected were W. H. Martin of Big Spring, secretary; Joseph B. Dooley of Amarillo, chancellor; C J. E. Edwards of Amarillo, treasurer; J. B. McClelland of Clarendon, treasurer of field department; W. W. Rix of Lubbock, treasurer of church pension fund.

Beware Of Romance

By ROBERTA COURTLAND
Distributed By NEA Service, Inc.

(THE STORY: When sixteen-year-old Merry Carson learns that her dashing father, Kin, has asked her selfish mother, Susan, for a divorce, her whole world turns topsy-turvy. Kin leaves home and Susan gets to pieces. Aunt Jane comes to look after things. The doctor tells Merry her mother needs a change and suggests they take her to St. Vincent's, an island resort. At the hotel in St. Vincent's, Susan keeps up her martyr attitude. Aunt Jane decides that renting a house might re-awaken Susan's interest in something outside herself.)

XI

THAT Aunt Jane had already taken steps about finding a cottage was made plain the next morning when she, Susan and Merry emerged from the dining room shortly before nine, and a plump, middle-aged, neatly brushed man came forward to greet them.

"I understand that you are looking for a cottage," he said pleasantly. "Permit me to introduce myself—I'm Carter Bagby, realtor. I have several properties, one of which I feel quite sure would interest you, if I could have the pleasure of showing them?"

Aunt Jane studied him sharply. Carter Bagby's faded blue eyes behind horn-rimmed spectacles were on Susan's face with a look of interest that made Susan's eyes widen and brought a faint trace of color to her cheeks.

"What sort of place did you have in mind, Mrs. Carson?" he addressed Aunt Jane politely.

"I'm Mrs. Carson," said Susan stiffly. "This is my cousin, Miss Jane Randall. And my daughter, Miss Carson."

Mr. Bagby shook hands all around and said in a tone of surprise, "Your daughter? Why, I would have taken her for your sister, Mrs. Carson."

"Of all the corny gags!" Merry told herself, amused and scornful, and saw, startled, that her mother loved it!

Mr. Bagby ushered them out into the brilliant sunshine and deposited them in a slightly shabby, but cheerfully cleaned station wagon. And Aunt Jane and Merry found themselves in the back seat while Susan occupied the driver's seat with Mr. Bagby.

THERE followed a fairly dreary morning, peering into cottages that were furnished with cast-off furniture from other, better places; cottages that were neat and clean and painfully comfortless; cottages that were grimy with use and cheerless and smelly. At last Susan said sharply, "Really, Mr. Bagby, if this is the best you have—"

"Reptals are quite difficult, Mrs. Carson, I admit," said Mr. Bagby. "If you would consider buying a place, now, I have something I should like very much for you to see."

Merry looked at Aunt Jane, startled.

"Buy a place? But, Mother, we've got the place at Marshallville," she protested.

"Which can easily be sold for a very good price," said Susan thinly over her shoulder. "I have very little desire to go back there, and if we could find something decent down here, why shouldn't we make this our home?"

Mr. Bagby barely managed to conceal his delight and sent the station wagon at a good clip along the paved road between great branched live-oaks, draped with curtains of Spanish moss stirring ever so faintly in the soft sun-drenched wind. Several miles above St. Vincent's, along the road that led to the neighboring island of Guale, he turned the station wagon in between tall oak gateposts, and paused before a long, low rambling white house. It was of stucco, with a patio, and a huge picture window that framed an enchanting view of surrounding woods, with the silver blue glimmer of the sea beyond. And azaleas were banked about the house, like soft flames against the creamy-white stucco.

Without a word he waited for their comments. And since the place was really enchanting, their comments were flattering and excited. Even Susan was eager as Mr. Bagby helped her gracefully out of the station wagon, brought our keys and unlocked the front door.

BEFORE they had more than peered into the huge living room, with its beautiful fireplace and carvel mantel, or glimpsed the three large bedrooms, each with its own bath, the compact yet superbly efficient kitchen, the long living room, with the glass wall that looked out over a walled-in garden and that could be pushed open to bring the garden inside, they knew they would take it.

Susan was bright-eyed, and there was a little color in her cheeks.

"I can't imagine anybody wanting to sell such a place, Mr. Bagby—it's simply lovely," said Susan eagerly.

Mr. Bagby looked sad.

"The owner doesn't want to sell, Mrs. Carson. Oh, I don't mean that the place isn't for sale. It is. I only mean that he is being forced to sell. He fell in love with the place while it was still in the blue-print stage, and—well, his money gave out and now he has to sell it."

Aunt Jane was watching him shrewdly, and suddenly she asked dryly, "Who is the owner, Mr. Bagby?"

And Mr. Bagby said quietly, "I am, Miss Randall."

"And what are you asking for it?" Aunt Jane's voice was dry.

Mr. Bagby stiffened ever so little and his gray eyes grew wary.

"Seventeen thousand five hundred," he answered, and his tone now was completely business like.

"Ouch!" said Aunt Jane, and whistled under her breath.

"I think it's very reasonable," said Susan crisply. "We'll take it, Mr. Bagby."

Looking At Life - - By Erich Brandeis

PARDON me if I feel a little nauseated. But I do feel sick to my stomach. It's not anything I ate. It's not any domestic or international trouble. It's a plain case of disgust.

I am disgusted with that actress who has traveled all over the globe with a married man and permitted herself to be publicized to a fare-ye-well. But she has the nerve to tell a newspaper reporter, who asks her whether she is going to marry the man "That's my private business."

BRANDEIS

I am disgusted with that other actress who shows herself in public at night clubs and theatres and hotels, loaded with diamonds and other precious jewels, and then raises the roof because a burglar likes the stuff as well as she does and robs her apartment.

I am disgusted with people who, as everybody knows, fight like cats and dogs and have drunken brawls, and then have their pictures taken at some swanky affair smiling at each other like a couple of moon-calves. Then a week or so later they sue each other for divorce and hang all their dirty wash out on the public line.

But above all, I am disgusted with the millions of people who scream to high heaven about immorality and juvenile delinquency, but who eat up every line of this filthy stuff that newspapers are forced to publish because every survey has shown that the public demands it.

Don't anybody ever talk to me about the press being sensational.

It isn't the press that is sensational, it's the public that wants its printer's ink in blood.

There isn't a good newspaperman or newspaper woman alive who would not much rather write worthwhile stories than a lot of that trash about movie actors and actresses, psuedo-society people and publicity hounds.

DO YOU think any reporter worth his salt likes to write about the New York night club that has taken down its red velvet rope, which is supposed to keep out "undesirables," and replaced that rope with a 14-carat chain of real gold?

Is that American? Is that Democratic?

It certainly isn't.

But the public of a half century ago loved those stories about Diamond Jim Brady drinking champagne out of Lillian Russell's slipper. It loved the stories about Anna Held's milk baths.

And the public of today loves the stories about that movie actress being pursued and wooed by an Indian prince, and about that other one who married a millionaire and now loses a couple of hundred thousand dollars' worth of diamonds.

What does all that prove? What I have said so often: Juvenile delinquency is not a child's affliction. It is a disease of adults with calves' brains.

Yes, I do feel nauseated today—don't you—kind of?

Rayburn Gains Power

By RAY TUCKER
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON — Sam Rayburn of Texas will possess more power and responsibility than any House Speaker since "Czar" Cannon as a result of the new legislative procedure adopted by the lower body in an attempt to break the Rules committee's authority to keep legislation from coming to a vote.

The good-natured Texan's appreciation of his new status makes him wonder whether he will have any friends in the chamber after the system begins to operate. Under the new arrangement, the chairman of any regular standing committee may demand recognition after a bill which his group has reported favorably has been held in Rules for twenty-one days.

TUCKER

There will be times, of course, when a chairman will use this method to obtain a showdown on legislation not wanted by the Administration. But, as Mr. Rayburn studies the new provision, he has no recourse except to give the nod to the man on his feet. Otherwise, the Speaker would be arrogating to himself the same czar-like code which the Rules committee once followed.

CHECK: Thus it will be necessary for Mr. Rayburn, Majority Leader McCormack of Massachusetts and Whip Percy Priest of Tennessee to know the sentiment of the House on every single bill which is likely to get on the legislative calendar in this way. They can never take a chance on being surprised or caught napping when an anti-Administration measure reaches the floor.

In the past the leadership has always known through contact with the Rules Committee Chairman, when the Committee planned to report out a bill.

It could postpone action by Rules until it canvassed the membership and manipulated votes for or against the proposed legislation. But now the bosses will have to maintain a continuous check at all times on every piece of legislative paper dropped into the hopper.

BLACKMAIL: The once powerful dairy lobby's recent brazen political threat to members of Congress on the issue of repeal of federal taxes on oleomargarine virtually insurs favorable action on that measure. Even legislators sympathetic to the idea of giving a preferred position over the substitute resent the attempt to frighten them on this question.

In a message to every member of House and Senate, the three large dairy organizations declared that their farm groups always reward their friends and punish their enemies.

It is doubtful if any lobby at Washington has ever engaged in such brutal blackmail. The memorandum was also accompanied by charts of the 1944 and 1948 presidential elections, showing that normally Republican states in the agricultural belt went for President Truman last fall.

CONCERN: The dairy people's concern is evident ir their new tactics, however. Mindful that the repeal bill passed the House in the last session, dying in the Senate, they now concede that federal luties on uncolored oleomargarine should be removed. But they insist that the pre colored product be banned entirely.

Bread-and-butter politicos will have a new argument in the current battle. They point out that butter has dropped almost thirty cents a pound since last year's engagement, and they predict that it will go still lower. But the oleo crowd counter with the contention that the drop was largely due to the prospect of repeal, and charge that the cost will rise again if and when their bill is defeated.

THREAT: Although organized labor still demands repeal of the Taft-Hartley Act, the growing threat of state legislation of a similar nature has inclined some leaders more favorably toward a federal statute, although they want milder legislation than the present law.

Should Congress weaken the present measure by substitution of the Wagner Act with amendments, it is probable that the state legislatures will act, especially in the great industrial commonwealths. Many already have placed such laws on the books, and recent Supreme Court decisions have tended to uphold their essentials.

PREFERENCE: Union labor experts figure that they can obtain a better break on Capitol Hill than from state legislators. They also prefer that a national board enforce any new law, in preference to forty-eight different officials or sets of officials. It is easier for them to exert pressure on a single group at Washington than on so many state organizations and individuals.

With a national law the "big three"—William Green of the A.F. of L., Philip Murray of the CIO and John L. Lewis of the United Mine Workers—can concentrate on Congress and the White House instead of delegating the task of high-pressuring state politicians to less able and less influential regional men.

HOUSE: "Is it true," asks M.O. of Los Angeles, "that President Truman and his family like living in the Blair House better than in the White House?"

Answer: So I am informed, and their preference is understandable. The Blair House is one of the loveliest and most historic at the Capital. Although a showplace, it is delightfully comfortable. The rooms are spacious, but they were arranged for gracious living. The antique furniture rivals some of the finest pieces in the colonial wing of the Metropolitan Museum.

As I have written many times in the past, the White House is dark, drafty and barnlike. Even the most gifted housekeeper cannot make it into a satisfactory home, and few of them try. The furnishings are a hodge-podge of stuff hanging over from the era of McKinley, Harding and Coolidge.

FOOD: Readers seem to show keener interest in the White House and the Trumans, since the head of the family startled the nation with his triumph over Governor Dewey in November. Quite a few, including T. P. of Charlotte, N. C., and O. R. of Haverhill, Mass., inquire about the quality of the presidential food.

"I have read Henrietta Nesbitt's book on housekeeping for the Roosevelts," writes O.R., "and her recipes don't seem so hot to me."

Answer: White House guests who ought to know, including the late Harry Hopkins, Robert Sherwood and Cordell Hull, report that the food ran "from medium to downright bad" during the Roosevelt regime. I understand that it has improved under the Trumans, who like simple, homey meals.

Save for game dishes and fish, F.D.R. had no interest in what he ate. Mrs. Roosevelt was too busy to supervise the kitchen. Nor are the culinary facilities too good for serving palatable and warm dishes, despite recent improvements. Most ordinary homes have better and handier arrangements.

HST URGES NEW RESPONSIBILITY

U. S. Now Facing New Challenge

By THOMAS L. STOKES
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON. — For one who watched President Truman deliver his inaugural address, and listened to his words, it was only natural for the memory to slip back 16 years to another man who stood there in the same place at the front of the capitol — he looked so young and buoyant then.

The shadow of Franklin D. Roosevelt still hangs so heavily over our times.

Some of the contrasts of that day with this show how far we have come—and how far we still must go.

Then we were looking inward, despairingly, upon ourselves, for it was a time to commiserate with ourselves. Long lines of discouraged men, weary from looking for jobs that did not exist, wound around windy street corners for a bowl of soup. Banks were crashing all around, so that you could almost hear the thunder of closing doors. Farmers were being evicted from their homes. And, bravely trying to keep up our spirits, we cracked jokes, wanly, about banks and bankers and tried to smile when some still employed song-and-dance man sang "Brother, Can You Spare a Dime?"

STOKES

U. S. Makes Recovery

That inauguration was fittingly bleak. The man who stood there then, his upraised head bare in the raw wind, suddenly lifted us up as he threw out this challenge: "The only thing to fear is fear itself."

And so, slowly, minding his words, we came out of it.

The sun shone on Harry Truman, so that people said to one another: "Still lucky—even the weather is for him." The sun shines on our land today. Not much to worry about here at home.

Where Franklin Roosevelt was compelled to concentrate his and our attention upon ourselves, for things were in such a mess, Harry Truman directed us outward to the rest of the world, where things are in such a mess.

We saved ourselves for that, and this is truly our hour in the world. President Truman assigned us the task, irrevocably, so there can be no turning back, and it is a thrilling mission to which he calls us.

What President Roosevelt promised — and achieved — for us here at home, Harry Truman has proposed to do for the rest of the world, to the end that everywhere in the world there shall be a self-reliant society of free and prosperous people—and on the patterns that we have made for ourselves here: The projection of the American dream.

"Our aim should be to help the free peoples of the world, through their own efforts, to produce more food, more clthing, more materials for housing, and more mechanical power to lighten their burdens," he said, using the design that we have followed since that other man stood there 16 years ago to awaken us to our own powers.

"Democracy," he said, "has proved that social justice can be achieved through peaceful change."

In short, what we have done for ourselves the rest of the world can do under our leadership and guidance.

Must Meet New Threat

The sort of society that Franklin Roosevelt also envisioned was, in time, threatened by another form, dictatorship and totalitarianism. To meet the threat of that we eventually had to go to war, and in that time it took war to rouse us to our responsibilities to the rest of the world and to unite us.

There is another totalitarian threat today. President Truman condemned Communism in terms as bitter as those once used to condemn Nazism. There was a striking echo that was not lost on those who hear him. It was ominous to hear. Yet it was a call to a different sort of contest than trial by arms of which the world is so sick, and the challenge really is greater, for the task is harder.

He proposes to fight the Communist idea with our democratic idea — peacefully. For that we must rally Allies. To do that and to hold Allies we must convince them that our idea is best. To prove that we must carry on what that other man started 16 years ago to make us the powerful, free, prosperous nation that we are today.

The circle comes back to where it started then. It comes back to us. If we believe, and work at what we believe, we can win. A war of ideas can't be won with guns and tanks and airplanes — or atomic bombs.

FOR SALE AT LOVINGTON, NEW MEXICO—COUNTY SEAT OF LEA COUNTY
193 Acres of good farm land—180 acres under cultivation—planted in cotton last year. Two irrigation wells on this tract. Land adjoins the town of Lovington, part of it within the town limits, main house situated ½ mile from the school. The house is one of the finest in Lea County. Has nine large rooms, beautiful hardwood floors, gas furnace, basement and wide porches. It is surrounded by evergreen and other trees. Water supply from two wind mills and an electric pump. Double garage with modern three-room house adjoining. Large poultry house and other outbuildings. Private swimming pool and two other pools. Am retaining oil lease but will give a small amount of royalty. Will sell house with improvements and ten acres for $30,000.00. House alone could not be built for less than $50,000.00. Remaining 183 farm acres at $250.00 per acre makes total price $75,750.00. Will take $70,000.00 with ¼ down. Rest in easy payments. Interest 5%. Formerly my home but interests in Hobbs demand my time. Address Mrs. Jennie A. Clinton, 318 North Turner, Hobbs, New Mexico, or phone Hobbs 41 for appointment.

Market Reports The Nation Over . . . .

Wall Street

NEW YORK, Jan. 24. (AP)—After wavering back and forth most of the day, the stock market tipped downward for moderate losses.

Buying strength in the steel group, particularly U. S. Steel, kept the list on the top side for considerable periods, but in the final hour selling pressure finally caught up with most of the leaders.

At the end, prices were spread a point in either direction with some going a little beyond.

As an indication of the closeness of the market, 374 issues advanced and 376 declined.

Rails, motors, oils, chemicals and airlines were lower, while metals, aircraft, utilities and merchandising shares were mixed.

Higher were U. S. Steel up 1½, Armco Steel 1, Firestone 1¼, Woolworth ½, Caterpillar 1, American Can ¼, Owens Illinois 1¼, and Chesapeake & Ohio ⅛.

The three most active stocks were U. S. Steel, Bethlehem and Armco, in that order.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks declined .3 of a point to 65.9.

The volume of trading was 850,000 shares as against 770,000 on Friday.

Cotton

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, Jan. 24 (AP) — Cotton futures were steady today in quiet trading. Short covering was induced by a statement of Senator Thomas, Democrat of Oklahoma, supporting a permanent 90 per cent of parity crop loan.

Reports that a large ECA credits will be released to Italy soon to purchase cotton also helped the market.

Futures closed 40 to 70 cents a bale higher than the previous close.

DRIVE TO OUST CHAIRMAN LOOMS

Major Party Fight Foreseen At GOP Committee Meet In Omaha

By LYLE C. WILSON
United Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—The Republican National committee meets this week in Omaha for a party ruckus in which a move is expected to depose Chairman Hugh D. Scott, jr.

Scott says he was elected last June for a four-year term and intends to serve it out. The basis for a real party row is well established. Scott was hand-picked for the party chairmanship by Gov. Thomas E. Dewey after he won the Republican presidential nomination.

Drive Aimed At Dewey

The cmapaign against Scott is partly an anti-Dewey movement. It reflects the angry mood of a party which has suffered five presidential lickings in a row. More propertly, the opposition to Scott is based on bitter feeling among some Republicans that Dewey threw the party's best chance away. Some Republican congressional leaders were disappointed or angry when the GOP national convention picked an all-governor 1948 ticket. Gov. Earl Warren of California was the vice presidential nominee.

Sen. Robert A. Taft (R-O.) and others feit that the party's candidates would have done better with an aggressive campaign based largely on the record of the 80th Congress which was the only national record the party had.

Ill Feeling Grows

Scott multiplied the bitterness against himself on the eve of the Omaha meeting by naming a national committee executive committee heavily salted with persons who were on the pre-convention Dewey bandwagon. Some of them vigorously assert that they are through with Dewey now. But they were big shots in the Dewey movement at one time and Scott is being accused of boosting the governor's political stock. He denies it.

Rep. Clarence Brown (R-O.), who was Taft's pre-convention campaign manager, was chairman of the party executive committee until Dewey was nominated. Brown and some other Taft stalwarts were eliminated from the committee by Scott. There was much ill feeling among Republicans before the new committee was named. There is more now.

Since Dewey has said he would not be a candidate for the presidency again, the new committee set-up could not be part of a Dewey - in - 1952 campaign. But any way you look at it, the committee deal is a blow to Taft and the party elements he represents. He and others had understood that the new committee would not be set up until the Omaha meeting and then only after discussion among all those interested.

In a weekend radio discussion [illegible] he thought the executive committee development added considerably to the chance that Scott would be deposed in Omaha. He also said the party chairman "ought to give full time" to the job.

Big Crowds Expected For Annual Show At Fort Worth Friday

FORT WORTH, Jan. 24 (Special) — The latch string is out and all is in readiness for the opening of the 53rd annual Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show in Fort Worth Friday, Jan. 28.

Almost half a million visitors from many parts of the nation are expected for the 10-day show, oldest and largest livestock exposition in the Southwest. More than 4,000 livestock entries have been made, and one of the most representative horse shows in history has been assured with entries from about 15 states.

Parade Is Planned

Two pre-show events will attract many. They are the judging of fat steers and lambs in both boys' and open classes Thursday, Jan. 27, and the annual sale of fat steers and lambs Friday morning, Jan. 28.

A number of out-of-town bands and mounted groups will participate in the Western parade starting at 2 p.m. Jan. 28. The downtown parade will consist almost entirely of horses and horse-drawn vehicles.

Nineteen rodeo performances are slated, including matinee shows each day except opening day. Some 300 top-ranking cowboys will compete in bareback and saddle bronc riding, calf roping, steer wrestling and bull riding events, with about $50,000 in prizes to be distributed. Trick riding, specialty and horse show events will round out the rodeo program.

A new Olsen and Johnson show, "Laffacade of 1949," will be presented in adjoining Will Rogers Memorial Auditorium each night and at matinees Jan. 29 and 30, and Feb. 2, 5, and 6. Farm and home exhibits and the usual midway rides and shows are among other attractions.

Hale Center Boy Scout Groups Plan Anniversary Observance

HALE CENTER, Jan. 24 (Special) — As a part of its observance of the 39th anniversary of the Boy Scouts of America, Hale Center Troop 118 of Boy Scouts and Cub Pack 118 of Cub Scouts here, have a full calendar for Boy Scout Week, Feb. 6 through 13.

The Scouts will be guests of the Hale Center Lions club in its regular Tuesday night supper session on Feb. 8; Scouts will be elected to various city offices for the job of "running the town" on Saturday, Feb. 12; they will attend church in a body on Scout Sunday, and will participate in other activities in the week, Scoutmaster Vic Lamb reported. Activities of the Cub Pack have not been outlined as yet, Cubmaster Joe Banks reported. Both the Scout troop members and Cub pack members are to wear uniforms of their organization throughout Boy Scout week.

LOCKSMITH LAUGHED AT

PEKIN, Ill. (U.P.)—Police Magistrate Julius Janssen ordered a change of locks on his store after losing his keys. The locksmith arrived at the store next day, shortly after burglars, who apparently used a key, took $15.50 from the cash register.

Hold-Up Nets $21,500 In San Antonio Store

SAN ANTONIO, Jan. 24 (AP)—A man held up and robbed an east side suburban H. E. Butt grocery store here early today and escaped with $21,500 in cash and checks, police reported.

As the store was opened for business, the man, who had been standing outside, entered. The manager, Robert S. Logan, was at the safe checking Saturday's receipts.

As the man held a small-calibre pistol on Logan he shouted; "if anyone in this store moves I am going to shoot."

The manager was ordered to put the cash, amounting to $12,500 and checks totaling $9,000 in three white money sacks. The man passed up an additional $5,000 in cash lying near the safe.

Outside he broke into a run and was chased three blocks by a milk deliveryman. He then jumped into a parked car and sped away.

Citrus Export Subsidy Cut At Ports In Non-Producing Areas

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24. (AP)—The Agriculture department today reduced its export subsidy date on citrus fruit.

The rate will be cut from 25 per cent of the price of the fruit, free at ship, to 20 per cent, effective Jan. 31.

This change in rate will apply to fruits exported through ports other than those in producing areas.

CO-ED MILITARY SCHOOL?

BRIGHAM CITY, Utah (U.P.) — Apparently they'd sooner give the country back to the Indians. The War Assets Administration delayed action on a petition for sale of the surplus Bushnell General Hospital to a group that planned to convert it to a co-educational military school. Instead, the WAA said the former hospital may become a hospital for Navajo Indians.
