$1000 REWARD

Lynn County Crime Line is offering a $1000 reward for information leading to the clearing of the following case: Theft of $8000 cash (mostly in new $100 bills) from a red 1995 Ford pickup parked in Thriftway Supermarket parking lot in Tahoka, at approximately 2:30 p.m. Tuesday afternoon, Dec. 10.

Callers with information on this case may remain anonymous.

THIS REALLY smart guy that I know who almost lives in Tahoka recently accepted an assignment which requires him to do research on plutonium, apparently a dangerous bunch of stuff which is stored near Amarillo, making a lot of folks in that part of the state uneasy.

Someone told me the other day that this Tech professor, who has so much gray matter in his brain that it shows through on his hair, was studying plutonium. "What is plutonium, anyway?" she asked me.

"The Plutonium is a really fancy place built for Mickey Mouse's dog," I told her.

"I thought it was an element," she muttered.

"It's a dog, not an elephant," I said. "You may be thinking of Dumbo, Disney's elephant. He probably lives in a Dumbonium."

Please don't call and suggest that there ought to be a room for me in any Dumbonium that might be built in this area.

TOMORROW is Friday the 13th, if you happen to be reading this on Thursday. Most people nowadays have no special fear of Friday the 13th; in fact, those who are off on weekends think any Friday is a good day. The scariest thing about Friday the 13th is that the TV stations probably will re-run all the really bad Friday the 13th movies (the original "Friday the 13th" plus parts 2 through 37).

I think these are the ones with Jason in the hockey mask, unkillable, who goes around murdering these really stupid teenagers who never seem to realize they are being hacked up one by one, until there are only two (or one) of them left.

You'd think these young folks would know they are in dire danger, just from the somber music that is played each time just before the fiend strikes. Boy, if I were out in the woods by myself and heard some of that scary music, I'd get out of there fast.

$8000 Cash Stolen From Pickup Here

A Lynn County man who left $8000 cash in his pickup Tuesday afternoon while going into Thriftway Supermarket in Tahoka for a gallon of milk came out five minutes later to discover that the money had been stolen.

Police said the money was mostly in new $100 bills the man had just obtained at the bank.

The theft occurred about 2:30 p.m. as the man had parked his red 1995 Ford pickup next to a van and a black car, both occupied.

Crime Line, 998-5145, is offering a $1000 reward for information leading to clearing of the case.

Two traffic accidents were investigated by Tahoka Police Dept. during the last one, the latest one on Wednesday morning, when a 1979 Chevrolet pickup driven by Anastacio Rodriguez Lopez, 74, of Tahoka and a 1987 Oldsmobile driven by Debbie Ann Hernandez, 20, of Lubbock collided at S. 3rd and Ave. K. There were no injuries.

In the 1500-block of N. 2nd St. in Tahoka Tuesday night, a 1988 GMC pickup driven by Donald Gene Williams, 56, of Tahoka, collided with a parked 1976 Plymouth owned by Marie Littrell of Tahoka. The driver was not injured.

On Sunday, it was discovered that burglars had broken into a trailer home of Ave. O in Tahoka recently. Owner Hortencia Gonzales of Slaton said that among items stolen were two 15-inch truck tires, roller blades, a shower curtain, blanket and towels, chrome vehicle rims and headlamps for a 1981 Monte Carlo, with the last two items stolen from the yard. Four trailer house windows had been broken. Total loss was estimated at about $850.

Sheriff's officers investigated a burglary of a 1980 Chevrolet Corvete owned by Manuel Gutierrez Jr. of O'Donnell. T-tops and a center cap from the steering wheel were stolen. The car had been parked at the owner's residence when the theft occurred Sunday.

In jail during the week was one woman on charges of securing documents by deception, one of three Tahoka women sought in Lubbock on such charges.

Tahoka Researcher Involved In Plutonium-Related Project

Two Texas Tech researchers are in the process of creating a design for a permanent Science Information and Resource Center as related to Pantex, a facility near Amarillo which has stored most of the nation's excess plutonium processed from the disassembling of U.S. nuclear arms.

The researchers are Dr. Marie Gentry and Dr. Zane Curry. Dr. Curry, who lives west of Tahoka, said part of their pre-design goals is to identify potential locations for the center, which is proposed as a facility to provide communication, education and training to the public regarding plutonium. Researchers from the University of Texas are responsible for environmental studies and Texas A&M will direct nuclear research.

Dr. Curry and Dr. Gentry have toured centers in three states to study the positive and negative characteristics of like centers.

Curry, an assistant professor of merchandising, environmental design and consumer economics, said the facility, if created, will house scientific and historic information about plutonium, material from Pantex, and details about possible future strategies for the use and disposal of plutonium.

"It's also very possible that the permanent center will provide a type of distance education. Thus, a classroom of students in Tahoka can log on to a computer system within the center and actually have a demonstration, a lecture or a look at individual displays," Curry said.

Senior Citizens To Have Party

The Lynn County Pioneer Senior Citizens Center will have a Christmas Party on Monday, Dec. 16, from 6-8 p.m. Area senior citizens are invited to attend, bringing finger foods to share at the party. Men are encouraged to bring a man's gift and women to bring a woman's gift for a gift exchange. Entertainment will be provided.

The center is located at 1600 South 3rd Street in Tahoka.

SPS Office Here Now Open Just Two Days A Week

The office of Southwestern Public Service Co. in Tahoka is now closed most of the time, and open just two days a week, on Tuesdays and Thursdays, according to SPS local manager Doyle Webb.

Webb said the decision to have the office open only during the hours of 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. on those two days was made by his company superiors because the other employee in the local office is taking a six-week leave of absence. "The new schedule is supposed to be temporary, but will last at least six weeks," Webb said.

He said that on the weekdays the office is closed he will be working outside the office in the Tahoka area. Customers now should call 765-2800 for service in Tahoka during regular weekday working hours, and should call 800-658-2070 for emergencies and service after regular working hours.

The cutback in office hours here and in other area cities apparently is related to the pending merger of SPS and Public Service Co. of Colorado, which moved a step further when a law judge for the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission last week certified a settlement agreement between the utilities and FERC intervenors, and said the merger application is ready for the federal commission's review.

Plans for the merger were announced in August 1995. Hearings on the merger have been concluded in Texas and New Mexico; the public utility commissions in those states have not announced their decisions.

Pending the federal and state approvals, approval by the Securities and Exchange Commission and other conditions not specified, the merger is targeted for completion in spring 1997.

Lynn Votes For Langston, But Duncan Wins

Lynn County residents voted in favor of David Langston, Democratic former mayor of Lubbock, but the race for the 28th District State Senate seat was won Tuesday by Republican Robert Duncan, also of Lubbock.

Tuesday's vote was a runoff of the special election to fill the seat vacated by John Montford to become Texas Tech chancellor.

Lynn County Tuesday gave Langston 441 votes and Duncan 331. Over the entire district, Duncan won by 32,425 votes to 24,661 for Langston, with Lubbock County giving Duncan a margin of more than 6,000 votes.

Tahoka Girl On International Volleyball Team

Chelsea White, 13, of Tahoka, has been invited to be a member of the 1997 traveling teams to represent the U.S. in the 12-14-year-old division of the Holland International Volleyball Cup July 21-28, 1997. This is a special international competition for girls age 12-14 and 15-18 and is by invitation only. The group will consist of about 150 girls from Texas and selected regional states.

Miss White was nominated by Holly Graham, an assistant coach at the University of Texas in Austin and former recruiter for UTA. Chelsea was spotted at the Lone Star National Qualifier Tournament last March in Dallas, where she was a member of the Texas Impact Club Volleyball "under 14" team, and was voted as the most improved player.

She is the daughter of Amy White of Arlington and Tracy White of Lubbock, and the granddaughter of Janet Porterfield of Tahoka, where she attends school.

The custom of decking the halls with holly probably dates back to the early Christians, who did so in imitation of the Romans in their celebration of the festival Saturnalia, which celebrates the birth of the sun.

Rotary Club News

The Tahoka Rotary Club met for their weekly meeting Thursday at noon at the Tahoka First United Methodist Church. John Krey, Rotary program chairman for December, introduced the speakers. Tahoka High School FHA students Rebekah Curry and Melissa Engle brought the club an informative program about their activities in the FHA/HERO program at the local school and as region vice-presidents.

Miss Curry related to the club that one way schools can be more accountable to the public is utilization of a vocational student organization such as FHA. Chapters concentrate on family and consumer sciences education - clothing design and textiles, food and nutrition, personal growth, family life education, child development, housing and home furnishings, consumerism and resource management.

Being the Region 1 Vice President of Public Relations, she explained that HERO chapters emphasize preparation for jobs and careers in family and consumer sciences and related occupations - culinary arts, food service, hospitality industry, restaurant management, catering, child care, clothing design and manufacturing and interior decorating. FHA/HERO lets students learn and develop practical, real-world skills and talents - keys to success whether they are entering the work force directly after high school or going on to college. Students grow into well-rounded young adults through exciting activities, and an emphasis on family and community service, she said.

Miss Engle, the Region 1 Vice President of the STAR Events program (Students Taking Action with Recognition), explained that this program recognizes members for efforts and achievement in chapter and individual projects, leadership skills and career preparation. Melissa said that STAR Events let students plan for their multiple roles as family member, wage earner and community member.

Before concluding their program, the students showed the club a videotape overview of the program and successful results from its implementation. Sponsors for the local chapter are Donna Stone, who was present for the meeting, and Patti Rambo.

Club President Haney Wells read a letter from District Governor Marvin Sentell congratulating the club's 60 years of service to the Tahoka community, and regretting that he was unable to attend the anniversary celebration held Nov. 21. His wife, Julie, was able to stand in for the governor on the special day.

Also visiting the club were Sam Hill and John McKinley, and Tahoka High School students Rebecca DeLeon and Brad Long.

Dear Editor,

I would like to thank those of you who volunteered to help me with Norma's hanging. However, this being Christmas and all, I have had a change of heart.

I thought about letting her off for good behavior, but knew that would never work. So if she will forfeit her Polaroid and promise never to take any more photographs to the newspapers, all will be forgiven.

I know many of you will be disappointed, and would like to take this opportunity to apologize. Also, I would like to wish everyone the gift of love, laughter, friends, family, and the joy, peace, and happiness from knowing Jesus is the reason for the season.

-Merry Christmas,

Pain may be eliminated for millions

(SPECIAL) — A drug that is exciting researchers in the treatment of pain has been formulated into a new product known as "Arthur Itis," and is being called a "Medical Miracle" by some, in the treatment of debilitating conditions such as arthritis, bursitis, rheumatism, painful muscle aches, joint aches, simple backache, hives, and more. Although the mechanism of action is unclear, experiments indicate that Arthur Itis, relieves pain by first selectively attracting, and then destroying the messenger chemical which carries pain sensations to the brain, thus eliminating pain in the affected area. Arthur Itis, is an odorless, greaseless, non-staining cream and is available immediately without a prescription and is guaranteed to work or your money back.

(Editor's Note: The following note was received from Henk and Toos Arendse, a couple from Holland who visited in Tahoka earlier this year with Harold and Bettye

Green. Henk is a former youth exchange student who lived with the Greens 35 years ago, and when he returned this year with his wife to visit, a feature article was written in the April 25, 1996 issue of The News.)

To The Editors of The Lynn County News:

We hope you both are well and still enjoying your interesting work for the Lynn County News!

Toos and I enjoyed immensely our vacation in the USA last spring. The visit to the people of Tahoka was one of the highlights! Thank you for the nice article you wrote about us in LCN #17 [April 25, 1996].

We want to thank everybody for the friendship we experienced during our stay and send our very best wishes for a blessed Christmas-time and a happy New Year for all!

Dear Editor:

On behalf of the THS Student Council, I would like to take this opportunity to thank the community for their overwhelming support regarding our 3rd annual Parade of Homes. Student Council is going to be able to donate $673 to "Christmas for Kids" and $100 to the jail ministries due to the attendance of over 150 people.

A special thanks to Andra and Jim Solomon, Kelly Owens, Della Clark, Lynn and Mike Lankford, Norma Wagner, Gena and Valton Stephens, and Karen and Ralph Huffaker for opening their beautiful homes. The churches of Tahoka are appreciated for announcing and supporting our project. The Methodist Church cancelled the reception following the Community Christmas Cantata in order to allow those attending to take part in the Parade of Homes.

Student Council would also like to thank The Lynn County News for their support of this project as well as our events throughout the school year. Again, the support was greatly appreciated.

Merry Christmas from Student Council!

CRP Program Benefits To Wildlife Explained

by KERI BILBO,
Tahoka NRCS Office

The Conservation Reserve Program (CRP) is a program that improves soil and water by taking highly erodible land out of crop production. CRP is not only beneficial to reduce soil erosion, it is also very beneficial for wildlife. It can provide wildlife with their most basic needs: food, cover, and diversity. It can also provide the owner with an optional source of income.

CRP reduces erosion by putting the highly erodible land into permanent grass. The permanent grass will be most beneficial to different types of bird species. The grasses supply a nesting and brood-rearing habitat for prairie chickens, quail, pheasants, turkeys, rabbits, and a wide variety of non-game species. The key to maximum wildlife production on CRP land is to have as diverse a habitat as possible. The ideal wildlife habitat will have the greatest variety of plant types and cover types all arranged as closely as possible.

Additionally, a CRP field is very beneficial to wildlife if it is located adjacent to rangeland or is next to, or encloses, a wetland or playa lake. The availability of water is very important to a wildlife habitat. If an adequate water source is not present on the CRP field, the owner should consider placing a water development on the land.

Another major limitation on CRP for upland game birds, especially quail, is the lack of woody vegetation. To remedy this situation, the owner can plant suitable trees or can improve brush species already present by maintaining and controlling them. Another substitution for woody vegetation is brush piles.

Prescribed burning is another management tool that may also be used to increase the value of the CRP for wildlife and better the grass stand already established. If using the fields for wildlife, owners should only burn one-third of the field at a time, to allow some remaining habitat for the birds and other wildlife while also producing an "edge" effect.

CRP can be beneficial to land owners as well as the wildlife. Since there is no haying or grazing allowed on CRP land, except in severe cases, there is one other alternative income on this land. If there is wildlife on the CRP, owners can sell hunting leases on the species that are found on the CRP land, if a season is available for hunting them. In Lynn County there are several species of birds and even an occasional deer sighting on CRP land. Just remember that any decision that CRP landowners make will have some effect on wildlife. The effects on the wildlife may also have an impact on the potential for additional income from CRP land.

Producers who have questions about CRP are encouraged to call the Natural Resources Conservation Service at 998-4507 or come by the office at 1647 Avenue J in Tahoka.

$1.4 Million In Tax Refunds Still Unclaimed

DALLAS—A total of 2,793 North Texas taxpayers have not claimed tax refunds due them, according to the Internal Revenue Service. The IRS has been unable to deliver $1,369,617 in tax refunds to North Texas residents. The smallest refund check is $1 and the largest undeliverable check is $23,378. Nationally, more than 96,400 taxpayers have yet to receive their 1995 refunds which total $62 million.

These refunds were returned by the post office because they were unable to deliver them. Many taxpayers move and do not give the IRS their new address or their returns have an incorrect name or address. Taxpayers who are due a refund may call 1-800-829-1040.

"Taxpayers can eliminate the possibility of lost, stolen or undeliverable refunds by electing Direct Deposit, said IRS district director Bobby Scott. Direct deposit may be implemented this year just by completing two extra lines on the tax form. In addition, taxpayers may send IRS their new addresses on Form 8822 when they move.

Pages From The Past...

by Vondell Elliott

The following excerpts were taken from past issues of The Lynn County News.

Hog Tries To Drive Car; Wreck Result

G.T. Brewer was the victim of a near-serious accident Monday afternoon when the car which he was driving went into the ditch about 8 miles south of town on the Highway. One of his legs was slightly hurt, one arm bruised, and a patch of skin taken from one of his hands. One of the front wheels of the car was wrecked, the radius rod broken, one fender bent up, and other minor damage done to the car.

It all happened when a shoat which Mr. Brewer bought and was bringing home with him in his car apparently didn't like the way Mr. Brewer was driving and undertook the job himself.

"I had put the hog in the back end of my car," Mr. Brewer states, "and had come about three miles when I stopped to see how the animal was doing. I found that he was hot and almost dead. I dragged him out of the car and let him cool off and revive. Then I placed him in the car just in front of the front seat. I had my foot under him and on the brake. As I was coming down a rather steep hill the shoat suddenly jumped up and climbed right upon the steering wheel. I grabbed him with my right hand and tried to pull him off while I guided the wheel with my left hand, but in spite of all I could do he stayed right upon the steering wheel and forced my car over into the ditch. The ditch was at least five feet deep at that point."

Some Mexicans came along and helped Mr. Brewer lift the car out of the ditch back into the road and a Tahoka garage man was sent to bring the car in. "I finally got home with my hog all right," Mr. Brewer concluded, "and this morning he was apparently happy and contented, just as if nothing had happened. But I lost almost a whole night's sleep as a result of that hog's deviltry, and no other shoat is ever going to get a chance to ride on the front seat with me."

Clint Inmon Is Electoral Representative

Clint Inmon, Social Studies and Tennis coach at O.L. Slaton Junior High in Lubbock and a resident of Lynn County, will travel to Austin on Dec. 16 to a meeting of the Electoral College in Texas. Inmon is one of 32

Electors elected this past summer at the Republican State Convention.

Although candidate Bob Dole did not win the presidential election, he did win the Texas vote. According to the Constitution, each state will meet on the second Monday after the first Wednesday in December, and cast their state's electoral votes for the presidency.

This is the second step in the election to the presidency. All Electoral College votes will then be counted by the Vice President during a joint session of Congress on Jan. 6, 1997, the final step in the presidential election process.

"This has been a special opportunity to participate in the election process and political system. As a teacher of the process, this has been a very rewarding experience," Inmon said.

Area Producers Offered 3 CEU's

Area pesticide license holders will have the opportunity to receive three CEU's on Wednesday, Dec. 18. The meeting will begin at 8:30 a.m. in the Lyntegar Meeting Room. Private, commercial and non-commercial license holders are eligible to receive the three hours of credit.

All persons attending must bring their license number to the training. For more information, contact Bryan Reynolds, Lynn County Extension Agent, at (806) 998-4562.

Tahoka Senior Receives National Commendation Award

Lee Rash, a senior at Tahoka High School and son of Rex and Jo Ella Rash, has received an Award of Commendation from the Youth Activities Division of the National Safety Council for his 1996 Business Professionals of America Safety Awareness Project. Rash, who was unable to attend the October 29 presentation at the Sheraton World Resort Hotel in Orlando, Florida, was one of two Texans to receive this national award. Thirty-one states were represented.

Last spring Rash wrote and submitted a Safety Project for Business Professionals of America (BPA) competition where he received a Safety Awareness Special Recognition Award during the Business Professionals of America National Leadership Conference in Phoenix, Ariz. in May. Following national competition, the BPA National Center forwarded his project to the National Safety Council to apply for their Youth Safety Awards.

This accomplishment by the Tahoka senior also received recognition in the National BPA advisor's September newsletter and the official national BPA student magazine, Communique.

Rash is a BPA student of Barbara Jaquess.
