"TWO BITS WORTH"

BY JOHNNY VALENTINE

The Country Editor says talking to a farmer the day that he found out the extra hour of daylight under Daylight Savings burnt up some farmers last year.

And I've never let your down. My work has always been up to standard. "I realize that, Smedley. But $25. Wouldn't you be satisfied with a $15 cut? We have a budget right now. We're already below last year's salary figures. And I hear the union is furious, tax wise."

"Mr. Goodie, a $15 cut-back is better than none, but my wife and I had our hearts set on a $25 decrease."

"How about $20?" "If I made $25 less, we'd be eligible for an apartment in the city's new development, the one downtown with a pool, suana and tennis court. Besides my son would qualify for government scholarship and we would get his teeth fixed."

"You drive a hard bargain, Smedley. But you win. You get a $25 decrease on this condition. If your work slips, you'll take a $10 raise, no questions asked."

"Bless you, Mr. Goodie." "And Smedley, will you invite me over for tennis and a swim some night when you get into your new place?"

"Certainly, sir, I believe the poor should share with the less fortunate."

Sixty-three percent of last year's Tahoka High School graduating class enrolled in an accredited college in the fall of 1970. This continued a local tradition that has been the mode for some time.

For several years Tahoka High School has had a large number of graduates enrolling in college, and not only do a large number of Tahoka graduates go to college but a large percentage stay in school and graduate. Records show that 50 per cent of all Tahoka High School graduates since 1964 have finished or are still enrolled in college. This is much higher than the state average.

In an article last week, Lt. Governor Ben Barnes stated that only 60 percent of all students finish high school and that one-half (30 per cent of total) of these go to college and only one in four (8 per cent of all students) who start to college ever graduate.

Retention of students through high school in Tahoka Schools is only slightly above the state average. According to Mr. Barnes, 60 per cent of all students finish high school while statistics indicate that 70 per cent of all students entering the seventh grade of Tahoka Public Schools since the fall of 1962 have graduated from high are still enrolled. With 70 per cent of all students finishing high school and 50 per cent of these having finished college or being presently enrolled, we find that about one-third of all students who enter the seventh grade in Tahoka may expect to graduate from college. This college graduation rate of 33 per cent of all students is much higher than the state-wide figure of 8 per cent mentioned by Mr. Barnes.

We certainly do not mean to infer in this article that college graduation is a necessity for success in life. It is a well-known fact that many of our students prefer to go into vocational training or directly into their chosen vocation. Many girls choose to get married and raise a family and boys often go into the Armed Forces thus preventing their enrolling in college or pursuing a vocation.

The success that our local graduates have had in college is, however, quite commendable and is an accomplishment in which all concerned may take pride.

PRACTICALLY IMPREGNABLE

LABOR LAW REFORM NECESSARY

Strikes during 1970 accounted for more than 62 million man-days lost—the highest level in over a decade and up sharply over 1969, when 42.7 million man-days were lost.

Many of these strikes had substantial repercussions on society as a whole, especially in the areas of education, transportation, sanitation, and other essential services, and most of these strikes ended only after agreement on large wage settlements which will directly contribute to a continuance of inflation.

While we agree that third-party intervention rarely offers an amicable solution to this pressing problem, the Congress might well make a study of both management and unions at the bargaining table. But the real need is reform of our labor laws in order to regain a better balance in collective bargaining.

Here is a piece written by Bob Milburn, Sports Editor of the San Angelo Standard Times about a local product we thought we would pass on to you.

Have had several comments on the impressive and inspiring service carried on at the Sunday night's service of First Baptist Church by members of the Angelo State University chapter of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes.

Gary Kirksey of Lubbock, quarterback candidate for the 1970 season, gave the sermon while another quarterback hopeful, Terry Kinard of Lamesa served as song director and also sang a special. Thomas Williams, former Central High Bobcat and now a Ram linebacker, and Johnny Matthews, center from Colorado City, sang a duet, while Eddie Washington, another former Bobcat and fine Ram Linebacker, and Ben Bob Walker, Colorado City center, both gave moving testimonials on what Christ has meant in their life.

Head Ram football coach Grant Teaff, a prime mover in Optimist Club on the activities of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes, both at ASU and over the nation.

Teaff feels the organization is one of the finest groups existing for young athletes, that it provides thousands of young men something to hold onto during the sometimes rocky days of college life. Grant never lets an opportunity pass in which he can present the message of FCA to a group of people.

John Tyler, president of the ASU chapter of FCA, also spoke to the Optimists and told how the organization has touched and helped Ram athletes.

Tyler explained how the Rams get ready for a contest the day of the game, pointing out that at a home contest, the entire football team gathers at the fieldhouse around 2 or 2:30 p.m. and just quietly rests, reading, sleeping, thinking or just talking.

Then around 5:30 p.m., the team gathers together for devotional with a different team members each week conducting and taking part. Individuals stand before their teammates and give testimony of what part Christ has played in their lives.

Tyler, Tahoka junior who stands only 5-10 and weighs but 155 pounds, said most would think it's extremely difficult for a youngster his size to get up before a bunch of big, hulking football players and give testimony. But he says it isn't, that something seems to take hold when one gets up to testify.

John, who has won the Ram athletic academic award at the annual Nathan's Jewelers Banquet the past two years, is an extremely impressive young man and a fine speaker. He definitely has the ability to inspire.

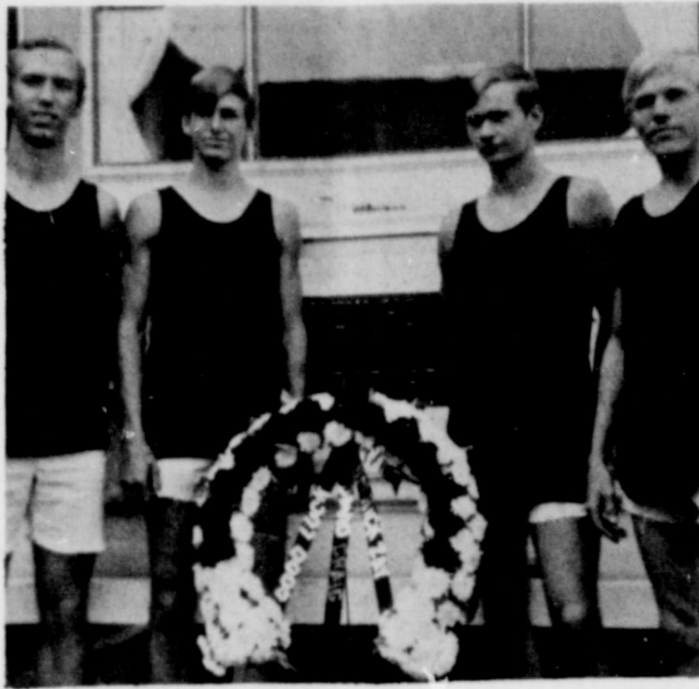

If he is an example of what FCA can do for a young man, it must be quite an organization.

John is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Graham Tyler of Tahoka.

About thirty of the progressive farmers of the Draw community staged two rabbit drives recently, one on May 1, and one on May 4th. In the two drives 275 rabbits were killed.

Killing these rabbits at this time will stop a large increase and will save the country many dollars in crops which they would otherwise had destroyed.

We must not fail to mention the able assistance of W. M. Thompson in both these drives, who joined in with his gun and his pack of grey hounds. The dogs caught 27 rabbits and Bill slew 23 with his gun, which was "high score."

This hunt furnished a good deal of amusement, as it was considered unsportsmanlike to shoot a rabbit without giving him a run for his life.

Could not other parts of Lynn county adopt this method of disposing of the jack rabbit pest, when its too wet to work in the fields.

The new camp house being erected by the Tahoka Chamber of Commerce on the grounds east of the public square, is nearing completion, and will soon be in readiness for the tourists who travel this route. The site for the camp grounds was donated the local chamber by G. W. Small district manager of the Higginbotham-Bartlett Co.

Tahoka again went down in defeat when Paul Miller took his fleet of ball tossers to the town of O'Donnell Wednesday afternoon, where they went up against "Shorty" Wright's strong line-up for a full nine inning rally. The score board showed O'Donnell the winner by the close score of 9 to 8.

The local club will journey to Post Snuday for a game with the Potex boys. Here's hopin.

The Connolly Motor Company are re-arranging the interior of their building this week, which when completed will be quite attractive as well as convenient. The new arrangement will give the firm a new supply room and new office quarters. The front of the enclosed area will be of glass and will be sealed overhead.

Chester Connolly, the manager of the company, is numbered among the live garage men of the city, and is always progressive when it comes to keeping abreast of the times. The Connolly Motor Company are the authorized Ford dealers in Lynn County.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Miller motored to O'Donnell Wednesday.

Sheriff Sanford made another trip to Lubbock the fore part of the week to have his ears doctored.

C. E. Brown, returned from a trip to Brownwood Wednesday.

Grandma Abshier is not very well at present.

Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Montgomery were passengers on the northbound train Monday for Lubbock.

Wm. Campbell of Abilene, was a business visitor in our city Tuesday and Wednesday. Sargeant James G. Carr and wife, of New Mexico, who are enroute to Denver, Colo., are spending a few days with Mrs. Carr's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Wyatt.

The News is informed by Superintendent H. P. Caveness, of the Tahoka schools, that he had just been advised by the State Board of Education that one-half unit had been granted in solid geometry taught in Tahoka High School. This progress forward in our school is something to be proud of, indeed, and speaks volumes for our splendid corps of teachers. There are a number of towns over the state that are not affiliated in any way with the State University, and this feature alone, places the Tahoka schools near the top among Texas' public schools. Locate in Lynn.

B. B. Holland, field representative of the Mistletoe Creameries, Amarillo, Texas spent Monday in Tahoka looking after the interests of his company. Mr. Holland stated to the News man that Lynn county had the best highways out of 12 counties he had traveled recently, and that he especially wanted the compliment the county commissioners in the matter, who look after their upkeep.

A colored jazz band will be one of the attractions employed by the local chamber of commerce during the West Texas Chamber of Commerce convention at Plainview next Monday and Tuesday. The band was secured out of Fort Worth, at an expense of several hundred dollars, and will be at the exclusive command of the Tahoka delegation who will attend the convention in a body, leaving here at 6 a.m. Monday.

The commencement exercises of the Tahoka High School was held in the District Court room last Friday evening, and a very interesting and instructive program was rendered.

The graduating class consisted of three young ladies and one young man as follows: Misses Mary and Montie Slater and Montie Draper, and Mr. Conrad Lam.

A large chorus under the direction of Mrs. Frank H. Weaver rendered several selections which was probably the best singing ever heard in Tahoka.

The Chorus spent several weeks making special preparations for this special occasion, and their services were indeed appreciated by the large audience that filled the court room and galleries to capacity.

Miss Montie Slater delivered the salutatory, entitled, "We are bout to Salute You."

Miss Montie Draper gave the class prophecy, and Miss Mary Slater the Class Will. A piano solo was rendered by Miss Lola Donaldson, teacher of music in the Close City school. Mr. Conrad Lam delivered the Valedictory on "The Value of a College Education."

The audience and graduating class were favored with a splendid address by Dr. W. W. Donald, of Wayland College, Plainview.

Dr. C. B. Townes of this city presented the diplomas. Dr. Townes was selected to take the place of Judge G. E. Lockhart, who was on the program for this part, but was unexpectedly called out of town

It is good for a man that he bear the yoke in his neck — Lamentations 3:18

Welfare May Bankrupt State

Steadily-rising welfare costs will "bankrupt" Texas government unless prompt braking is applied, believes Lt. Governor Ben Barnes. When one considers the fiscal responsibility Barnes' record, the warning becomes even more significant.

With a half-way budget, some $468 million in new welfare will be needed this year. Appropriating for welfare in a special session will require nearly $300 million more, and of course, the federal government steps in with additional aid.

Texas has, in the past, been noted for "balancing the books" on a much more level keel than most other states. But with the unbelievable escalation in welfare spending, how long can this remain true, we wonder along with the lieutenant governor?

Barnes' staff calculates Aid to Families with Dependent Children rolls are increasing at the alarming clip of 3.1 percent each month. This has to be the greatest concern to the fathers. Where 288,826 AFDC beneficiaries are anticipated by September 1 this year, 906,236 are seen by August 31, 1973. The latter figure would bring the AFDC cost to $1 billion a year — $16 million above the proposed new million annual ceiling to be voted on May 18.

The ceiling is hiked periodically. How long can Texas be expected to approve the increase? Funds must come from the taxpayers, since Santa Claus hasn't lately visited the treasury.

Barnes' thoughts closely parallel those publicly aired long ago by Ronald Reagan. But then, the California governor supposedly is a "hard core conservative" and is scoffed at his warnings.

Both Reagan and Barnes realize, as should each of us, that all too many families have found a "gravy train." Call it illegitimate welfare cases exist across the state as and the nation. We wonder whether their needs are adequately met due to massive abuses from unworthy individuals.

At the threat of appearing "cold" we must note that within the past week, we heard of an area farmer who came home to find a note from his employee stating that the family had moved to Abilene. They were being sent to welfare rolls. Why? The man, reportedly, had for many years been a conscientious "hand" and had been more than fairly compensated for his labors. This individual's family had no reason — or right — to seek a handout.

Another local example came to light when a labor service organization was screening applicants for free glasses. A list bearing names of 13 youngsters was presented. In the process of screening, a committee was organized with the responsibility of visiting the father's employer to determine whether a genuine need existed. The times the group was told by the employer that he would discuss the matter with the father "because he might get mad and quit. Good help is just not available." How can a situation exist when Uncle Sam's employment rolls are at their highest ebb in recent years?

Lieutenant Governor Barnes also notes that Medicaid costs have increased from $22 million in '67 to an estimated $144 million for next year. He says state medical services for the needy — financed through Blue Cross family insurance policies which will cost nearly $72 per family in '72 — is better than those received by all but the very wealthy.

"I am convinced we are going to have to reduce costs, or the state is going bankrupt," says Barnes, who doubtfully knows the condition as well as any man.

For too long Texas and the United States have been seized by radicals on the right who begrudge departing a nickel to assist a blind or crippled person, an elderly woman and a child with no provider — those with a genuine need — and radicals on the left who advocate dole benefits to anyone who chooses to stick forward his head regardless of the costs.

Somewhere in between must lie a solution, with responsible leaders such as Ben Barnes paving the way. In a land of plenty, the less fortunate must be cared for by the "gimme" people must be dismissed from the federal state welfare troughs . . . promptly!

RESOLUTION

WHEREAS the benefits of an educated citizenry are widely diffused; and,

WHEREAS the minimum quality educational opportunity guaranteed to every child in the state is controlled completely by the state legislature; and

WHEREAS the Sixty-first Legislature enacted changes in the Minimum Foundation Program which require the local school districts to raise ad valorem taxes every year from 1969 to 1979 at a minimum doubling the ad valorem taxes needed to support the local school district's share of the minimum program guaranteed by the state; and

WHEREAS public education is only one of the many functions of government financed through ad valorem taxation;

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED THAT the Tahoka ISD Board of Education actively supports the passage of S.B. 876 by Senator Connally which would provide that the state finance through Board-Based taxation 100 per cent of the Minimum Foundation School Program and thereby would relieve the regressive ad valorem tax by shifting approximately 25 percent of the present local school tax burden to broad-based state taxes.

Fund Started At Beaver For Cunningham's

Jesse and Jean Cunningham had finished their night shift at the Avalanche - Journal in Lubbock, Tex., at 1 a.m. on April 1, 1970 and had stopped off at a restaurant to have coffee with friends before driving home to Tahoka. Jean had just completed her first day on the job as a linotype operator at the newspaper where Jesse had worked for several weeks and she was happy, enthused, and excited about her job.

As they left and drove south down Texas Avenue, Jesse recalls his surprise when Jean strapped on her seat belt. "She hated seat belts," he said, "but she buckled up for the second time that day without me telling her to."

Jean continued to talk with enthusiasm about the first day back on the job, as they drove through town, taking the route which Jesse drove every night about that same time.

"I saw the car coming a half block away," Jesse recalls today with horror. "I sometimes still blame myself for not being able to get out of the way..."

Over 13 months have now lapsed since the accident and Mrs. Cunningham has remained hospitalized in a semi-conscious condition, requiring constant general nursing care. Every week her name is listed on the Beaver County Memorial Hospital patient list as "Jean Cunningham of Tahoka, Tex."

That early morning accident in Lubbock marked the beginning of long months of hopes for recovery by Jesse, her husband, and children Mike and Cindy. The Cunninghams were former residents of Beaver, but now reside in Tahoka.

Mrs. Cunningham, who is 40 now, suffered severe head injuries in the accident. She has been in a coma since that night and underwent extensive surgery for removal of a blood clot immediately after arriving at the Lubbock hospital. But the blood clot already had left its mark. Jean has not uttered a sound since that night although her physical condition had not noticeably deteriorated until a couple of months ago when she began to lose weight.

She no longer responds to the voices of those around her, but Jesse believes she was able to recognize the voices of her family although unable to comprehend their words.

"I have talked to doctors and neurosurgeons in four states and they all say the same thing," Jesse said. "They say to leave it alone - that the damage is permanent and that everything that can be done has been done already. They say it's just a matter of time."

Besides the main concern for

Jean, Cunningham, with the help of insurance, has been determined to avoid losing their home and continued education of the children due to the heavy expense incurred since the accident. She was moved to Beaver from Lubbock where hospital expenses were lower.

Total expense to date has neared the $40,000 mark, with insurance and personal funds taking care of around $30,000 of the total. Now that the insurance has been expended, the continued care of Mrs. Cunningham, financially falls upon the family.

"I don't really know how much longer this can last, or how much farther my salary will stretch in meeting the obligations of medical costs and keeping the home," Jesse Cunningham stated.

Concerned friends in Beaver received consent of the family to begin a special "Jean Cunningham Hospital Fund" to help with present and future medical expense now that insurance has been used up. In giving his consent, Jesse said, "There comes a time when you have to swallow pride and accept any help offered, especially after exhausting all sources in seeking assistance through governmental agencies." Donation boxes have been placed in several Beaver businesses and persons wanting to contribute can send donations to: "Jean Cunningham Hospital Fund," in care of the Bank of Beaver City, Beaver, Okla. 73932.

How Lynn Countians Voted May 18

Bill Griffin, County Agent, Says.....

With rain, growers in Lynn County will get into the swing planting. Planting requires careful planning, and weed control program should be planned just as carefully. Weeds rob a crop of water and nutrients and cost millions of dollars annually through reduced yields and quality, problems in harvesting and processing, and extra expenses in chemicals and cultivation.

An economical weed control program is made up of a combination of chemical use and timely cultivation. Herbicides cannot be expected to do the visible job alone. Several species of both annual and perennial (root-type) weeds complicate the job for the grower.

Herbicides must be selected for the specific weed problems that are expected on a particular field.

In cotton, Treflan or Planavin do an excellent job on careless weeds, volunteer sorghum, watergrass and seedling Johnsongrass. These chemicals must be thoroughly incorporated with soil to be effective. In furrow-planted cotton on sandy soils, Treflan, Planavin and Dacthal are safe when applied pre-emerge in a band at planting. However, chemicals generally tend to leach in these light soils, causing crop injury and poor weed control.

There are several excellent preemerge chemicals for low planting on fine sandy loam or heavier soils. Caparol, Karmex or Lasso have given consistent results when there is rainfall within a week to 10 days after application. These chemicals should be sprayed after planting, behind the covering drags. Light-weight tines or cable drags on the planter mix chemicals lightly in the upper one-fourth to one-half inch of soil. Cotran is also an effective preemerge weed killer but can injure cotton on sandy soils.

Postemerge directed treatments such as Darmex, MSMA or Caparol are effective but must be selected for specific weed problems. Information on the use of these materials is available at the county Extension office.

In grain sorghum, there are a variety of soil-applied weed killers. Milogard (propazine) can be applied three to four weeks before planting and incorporated lightly with a rolling cultivator. After this, the sorghum must be bed-planted. Care must be used to avoid knocking soil off the top of the bed or the chemical will be lost.

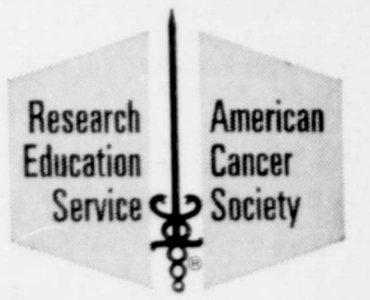

At planting, Milogard can be applied alone or in combination with Herban (21P) or Lorox (Prolin or LOP 64). These chemicals are primarily effective on broadleaf weeds such as carelessweed, morning glory or pie melon. Some grass may be controlled or suppressed when higher rates are used, but cultivation will still be needed. All of these preemerge treatments should be used with extreme caution on sandy soils and when the crop will be furrow-planted. Igran, a new herbicide, is available in limited amounts for use on sandy soils. The Herban 21P, LOP 64 or Prolin combinations will reduce chemical residues so weeds may develop late in the season.

If weeds develop after sorghum is up, AAtrex, Karmex, Banvel or 2,4-D can be used as post-emerge sprays. When applying 2,4-D near cotton, do not spray when the wind is greater than five miles per hour, in hot weather or with a spray pressure of more than 20 pounds per square inch (PSI). Banvel can be used more safely near cotton 10 to 25 days after cotton emerges. If AAtrex is used, only corn or sorghum can be grown on the same land next year.

Lynn County went to the polls Tuesday, May 18, and voted against three of the four Amendments on the ballot, with 652 votes being cast. For Amendment No. 1, Lynn County voted 148 for and 479 against; Amendment No. 2, 158 for and 463 against; Amendment No. 3, 284 for and 355 against; and Amendment No. 4 the only one Lynn County passed, 383 for and 247 against.

Lynn County voted to keep the Tax-Collectors and Sheriff's office separate. The ballots showed 504 for separate offices and 127 against.

Hog Cholera Strikes Two More Herds

The search for hog cholera outbreaks in Texas continued last week with the disclosure of two more infected herds; one in Tarrant County and the other in Williamson County. This raises the number of recent cases in the state to 15 and the total for the year to 38, reports W. W. Bailey, Extension livestock and meats specialist.

With 81 cases reported throughout the Texas since January 1, the 38 Texas cases represent nearly half the nation's total this year, he adds. The 15 infected herds comprising nearly 700 hogs were destroyed to prevent infection spread. Another 14 herds comprising about 450 hogs were destroyed because of exposure to hog cholera.

Indemnity is paid for animals which are alive on the first visit of a regulatory official, so it is in the best interest of the herd owners to promptly report any signs of sickness among their hogs, reminds Bailey. Sick animals may be reported to private veterinarians, county agricultural agents or to state or federal animal health officials. The hog cholera eradication headquarters for Texas is located at Waco, telephone number 817-799-0278.

Hog cholera is an infectious, highly contagious disease that affects swine only and is most often spread by movement of infected or exposed swine.

Wheat Estimates Lower For State

Texas wheat production, based on April 1 estimates, is forecast at 65,131,848 bushels. This figure is approximately seven percent below previous estimates, according to the Texas Employment Commission.

Crop prospects remain only fair, the TEC notes. Moisture received during April was of benefit to irrigated wheat. It was insufficient to improve greatly the dryland crop.

Many wheat fields are being grazed due to a shortage of grass and feed. Some counties in predominately dryland areas report the current crop is "almost a complete failure."

Last year, all John Benson saved was $54.32.

This year, he joined the Payroll Savings Plan.

Poor John. Money just seemed to slip right through his fingers. Every time he planned to stash something away, there wasn't anything left.

Then John decided to join the Payroll Savings Plan where he works. Now, an amount he specifies is automatically set aside from his check before he gets it. And invested in U.S. Savings Bonds.

Because John has become such a systematic saver, he's almost forgotten about it. When he gets around to remembering, he's going to have quite a nest egg laid away.

And now there's a bonus interest rate on all U.S. Savings Bonds—for E Bonds, 5 1/2% when held to maturity of 5 years, 10 months (4% the first year). That extra 1/2%, payable as a bonus at maturity, applies to all Bonds issued since June 1, 1970... with a comparable improvement for all older Bonds.

If you keep forgetting to save something out of your check, join the Payroll Savings Plan and let somebody else do the remembering for you.

Bonds are safe. If lost, stolen, or destroyed, we replace them. When needed, they can be cashed at your bank. Tax may be deferred until redemption. And always remember, Bonds are a smart way to save.

Take stock in America. Now Bonds pay a bonus at maturity.

Linda Huffaker, CHD Agent, Says....

Denim is no longer just the blue fabric that's rugged, course and dependable. For Spring 1971, it's been refined.

The fabric is now found in cotton or cotton-polyester blends or woven or knitted designs in a wide range of colors. And permanent press finishes make its care an easy job.

With its new personality, denim dresses, rainwear, shirts, jeans and pants all expresses the popular fashion moods of earthiness and naturalness.

The total denim look is sporty. So select patterns with topstitching flat felled seams, patch pockets and front closings to emphasize the denim look.

Denim is especially popular with home sewers because the fabric is easy to handle and requires no special sewing equipment. But a few sewing hints can be helpful.

Work from the right side of the garment when topstitching, lengthen the stitch to 8 stitches per inch, and sew about one-fourth inch away from the seam edge. Topstitching is best along side seams at the hem, around edges of collars, cuffs, pockets and down front openings.

An almost straight seam is required flat fell. To sew a flat felled finish, first reverse the normal seam by stitching it with the right sides out, wrong sides together. After pressing the seam open, press it again with both seams in one direction. Trim away the under seam allowance to one-eighth inch, then fold in the top seam allowance to half its width. Stitch to the garment along the folded edge. The flat felled seam is especially useful to prevent raveling.

Use other details to add interest to denim. At neck facings or under edges of hem, sleeves or pockets, face with one of the prairie prints. Select decorative zippers, sporty buttons, or decorative gripper snaps for closings. Or, add an Indian or peasant print braid.

RECIPE OF THE WEEK:
Instant Cheese Cake:
2 envelopes unflavored gelatin
1 8-ounce package cream cheese
1 tablespoon vanilla
2 1/2 cups graham cracker crumbs
3 Tablespoons lemon juice
1/2 cup hot water
2 egg yolks
1/2 cup whipping cream
10 to 12 ice cubes
8 tablespoons butter
1/4 cup dry milk
Put gelatin, lemon juice and hot water in blender and blend about 45 seconds. Add sugar, egg yolks, and cream cheese and fry milk and blend. Add whipping cream and blend a few seconds. Add ice cubes and blend until ice cubes are dissolved.

Have one layer baking dish with 2 cups of the graham cracker crumbs. As soon as cheese cake is blended, pour in crumb-lined dish and sprinkle remainder of crumbs over top. This congeals almost immediately and is ready to serve.
Serves 6-8.

Aged Lady Has Second Accident In Same Week

Roger Bell's mother, Mrs. J. R. Bell, 86, of Anson, fell last Thursday while in the hospital in that city and broke her right hip.

She had entered the hospital the previous Sunday, Mother's Day when she fell and broke her left shoulder. Naturally, she is doing on fairly well.

Two weeks before, Roger's father-in-law, G. C. Hines, died in the local hospital.

We sure did have a nice Mother's Day. Our friends and relatives were so very gracious.

The corsage and flowers sent us by Tahoka Church of Christ were beautiful, and appreciated very much.

The home received beautiful pot plants from Colonial nursing Home of Lubbock and the Grassland W.S.C.S. We are grateful to these people for thinking of us.

Miss Carrie Dillard's sister, Mrs. Carpenter, brought 2 delicious cakes for us and we sure enjoyed them.

It was nice of the L.W.M.L. of St. Paul's Church of Wilson to bring us the pretty plate favors for Mother's Day and they brought night shirts too. These we always need and use.

The worship service was nice Sunday afternoon. Members of the First Baptist Church of Tahoka with Rev. H. M. Farrington from San Angelo brought the sermon and Bobby Strait led the song service accompanied by Mrs. Windient who came with the ladies from St. Paul's Lutheran Church of Wilson, and worshiped with us.

We are sorry, our administrator took sick while vacationing in Germany. We wish him a speedy recovery and hope he will be able to be with us soon.

Mr. Walter Jones spent a few days visiting in Lubbock.

We welcome a new resident to our home, Mrs. Atta Z. Harter.

YOUR STATE REPRESENTATIVE REPORTS

BY E. L. SHORT

STATE REPRESENTATIVE, 73RD DISTRICT

Special Session possible with Tax Bill Vetoed. We are approaching the 9th inning with the people of Texas ahead by the score of 2 to 1. The 2 cent cigarette tax might be deleted. The 18 1/2 cent cigarette tax would be highest in nation. This one could also be dropped.

Redistricting - as per Federal Court Ruling must be passed during the regular Session of the Legislature. I believe the 73rd District will be left as it is and gain its 14,850 people from other counties. 1st phase is Congressional, 2nd - House and Senate setting their own districts respectively.

The House passed a Bill for volunteer firemen not to be liable individually in performing his duties.

We are still hopeful to get a Bill passed whereas the counties can retain a larger amount of money from license plate sales.

Because of the over supply of people with B.S. and Master Degrees, job opportunity is decreasing. Because of the high demand for people in vocational occupations, much legislation is needed for vocational training. To no avail, little has been done in this direction to correct the imbalances of the supply and demand in either category.

A good chance that the fine will be increased to $50 minimum on throwing trash on highways.

Proposed restrictions on medical might save as much as $20 to $30 Million.

A Bill passed the House to do away with the Jury Commission. This means that every county would use the jury wheel. This means the jury panel would be selected by his name being drawn out of all the names that are qualified in that county. We were able to amend the Bill where counties under 25 thousand would be left as they are.

A move is on to restrict certain elements from the ingredients in soap and detergents because of water pollution.

Our people should begin (before the end of this year) to plan and lobby for those things necessary for our area on legislative matters for the next Session in 1973. I will assist in researching any subject you choose.

The House has passed two increases for tuition. The Governor has recommended this a number of times. The Senate has refused to concur. Our crowded conditions warrant an increase in out-of-state tuition and the small Use Fee increase for resident students. A conference Committee is recommending an out-of-state rise from $200 to $600 increase. This will be $30 million.

HRS 466 by Short and Floyd is designed to make an in-depth study of all Commissions as to their necessity and their possible consolidation to better perform the duties they were originally set out to do. The Commissioners' salaries per diem, etc., and their attendance to their appointed positions will be looked at very closely.

Farm Bureau News

Items of interest to this area, which were brought before the House and Senate last week are as follows:

TAXES: H.B. 730 by Atli, a tax bill to provide revenue for operation of state government, was brought before the House of Representatives as amended and passed by the Senate. The House of Representatives gave the bill the necessary 100 votes to make it effective July 1, 1971. Estimated new revenue will be $690 million. As finally passed by the House of Representatives, H.B. 730 has the following major provisions: 1. Increases the selective sales tax use tax from 3.25 percent to 4.00 percent. Agricultural exemptions remain intact! 2. Increases the motor vehicle sales and rental tax from 3.00 percent to 4.00 percent. 3. Increases the franchise tax to $25 per $1,000. 4. Increases the beer tax from $4.30 per barrel to $6.00 per barrel. 5. Increases the gasoline tax cents per gallon, earmarks

SOIL CONSERVATION NEWS

By RICHARD L. CHRISTIE

A school is a beehive of activity from September until May. Some of the most popular activities for young students occur after the buzzer sounds for classes to break or to be out. They enjoy such things as music, vocational training and physical sports. These all broaden, expand and help to develop them.

But in many schools, another popular outdoor activity is to learn about nature. Grass and trees and the soil in which they grow are always interesting. So large a percent of the youngsters of this nation grow up in the city that their only contact with soils, plants and nature is the park. We have less than 10 percent of younger than adults in rural areas today. The need for conservation education as a part of the school curriculum, kindergarten through high school and college, becomes more imperative each year, particularly in view of the growing complexity of environmental and conservation decisions facing these students as adult citizens.

In some schools, the teachers and students have an outdoor classroom to study plants water and soil in their relations to nature. This is actual an applied science study that is needed by all individual in order that they may understand the world in which we live and be able to take better care of it. Even with just a group of trees, a clump of bushes, a few sprigs of grain, a stream - all these can help reveal nature's fantastic ways. In this day of growing concern among students about our environment and when the previously unknown work of "ecology" is in the vocabulary of grade schoolers let it be known that our natural resources of soil, water and plants is renewable and can be replenished.

The easiest way to provide these outdoor laboratories is to plan them before the school is built and before the trees and grasses are cleared. But it's never too late to start.

The Soil Conservation Service helps school officials plan outdoor classrooms. If your school, club or scout troops would like to develop one or study nature contact the Soil Conservation Service.

THE FAMILY LAWYER
Profit on Your Home?
Every five years, assuming you are an Average American, you will give up one residence and move to another. If this involves selling your home, and if you make a profit, do you have to pay income tax on the amount of the gain?
Generally, no—provided that you buy another house within one year. The federal government will usually allow you a tax deferral, on the theory that the sale is not an ordinary business deal but a matter of personal necessity.
But in order to qualify for the tax deferral, you must fully meet the conditions that the laws lay down. For example, your second house must be not only bought but actually occupied within the one-year limit.
In one case, a man moving to another city bought a house that needed remodeling. The work took considerable time, and his family was still living in a rented apartment by the time the year was up.
Nevertheless, he tried to get a tax deferral by arguing that at least his intentions were clear by the time of the deadline.
But a court turned him down. The judge said the law was based not on what a person intended to do but on what he did.
In another case, a man failed to buy a second house within the year solely because of a sudden illness. Was this an acceptable excuse? Again, a court said no. The court said the law "is unambiguous and leaves no room for interpretation because of unfortunate circumstances," adding: "We are powerless to rewrite the statute."
